Contact me here if you have additions, changes or suggestions. Also, since I have not heard the majority of these teachers, please let me know if are inaccurate in their teaching (my concern is with major stated doctrines and not with minor differences of opinion). Updated April 26, 2016. Most recently updated: the doctrinal churches and the online exegesis of the books of the Bible.

A lot of what you find on these 50+ pages are a result of L. S. Chafer and his founding of Dallas Theological Seminary, which was, at one time, the seminary in the United States. One of his students was Lieutenant Colonel R. B. Thieme, Jr., who took what he learned in Dallas Theological Seminary and developed a unique ministry founded upon the ICE approach to the teaching of Scripture (Isagogics, Categories and Exegesis). There are 3 areas in which the colonel made a fundamental impact upon Christianity in the 20th and 21st centuries: (1) he taught the mechanics of Christianity; (2) he developed an up-to-date Christian vocabulary; and (3) he emphasized the verse-by-verse teaching of the Word of God above all else in the assemblage of the local church. R. B. Thieme's Obituary. The comments of his quest book.

This first list will be a number of what I hope are Doctrinal Churches.

I have compiled these links from links given on doctrinal websites, and then from links of those links. I have not verified that each source provides accurate doctrine. For me, I look at two things: is salvation by faith alone in Christ alone; and do they explain rebound (1John 1:9) accurately (silently naming your sins to God in order to have your fellowship with Him restored). One of the sites which I came across, one started emphasizing repentance when it came to the naming of one's sins to God, despite the fact that there is nothing in the 1st chapter of John about repentance (nor is there anything about repentance in any rebound passage). I must admit to also being concerned when a church does not begin their service without rebounding (privately naming one's sins to God). There is at least one ministry listed below where that is not a part of their standard operating procedure (I personally attended the church when out of town). When considering putting yourself under the authority of this or that teacher, keep these things in mind.

Secondary, but absolutely important issues include: do they teach dispensationalism; is their ministry a grace ministry, which means, do they pester you for money (there is nothing wrong with providing a place on a website to give, as long as it is not tied to receiving doctrinal information). Obviously, a pastor-teacher and other church personnel will receive salaries, and there is nothing wrong with that. I am just saying that, you ought to be discerning and not assume that, just because someone is listed below, that they have been properly vetted by me.

I have a statement of faith at my website, and what they teach ought to be in agreement with that statement. Most of these churches have similar statements of faith posted on their websites.

I have just added to this list what appear to be 3 online churches, although one is properly more of an online ministry than a church. This list follows the list of doctrinal churches.

There are a lot of excellent doctrinal materials available online for kids, as this ought to be a focus for any parent with children (all parents need to teach their children the truth). I have also heard of some mothers having vacation Bible schools in their homes, and that is an excellent idea. I have placed these links under other ministries. There is nothing more important than the parent teach their children Bible doctrine.

God has made Bible doctrine easily available to all believers. In many cases, even if you are geographically isolated, you can locate your right pastor and get under his teaching ministry, even if his church is 2000 miles away. This is phenomenal grace which God has given us. Given the times which we are in, we need to avail ourselves of His grace.

The locations below are linked to a map. Exact addresses and phone numbers are generally available at their websites.

This list was compiled from links of various doctrinal churches, as well as suggestions from other believers, so I cannot guarantee that each and every church is doctrinally straight. Much of what these churches offer online will expand beyond what I have indicated as the years go on.

These churches are arranged in order of the state in which they are located. If the location is a link, that will lead you to directions to that church.

Please contact me if you believe that I ought to update any of the information below.

Buyer Beware: This information is presented as buyer-beware. Just because a pastor uses a familiar vocabulary does not mean that he teaches accurate doctrine nor does it mean that he is fulfilling his commission as a teacher of the Word of God. I recall hearing the teaching of a pastor, via MP3, and I would have sworn that he was teaching almost word-for-word from R. B. Thieme, Jr. (except that he was not as interesting). I have been to one of the churches in Little Rock, Arkansas, and, even though the people and the pastor seemed quite nice and friendly, I did not hear the rebound technique mentioned (restoration to fellowship; restoration to the spiritual life). This is quite important for spiritual growth, and was surprised that it was not mentioned by this pastor. R. B. Thieme, III mentioned one pastor (not by name) who came out of Berachah and is now teaching covenant theology. I have heard from one person that several churches in the east may be cults. An email that I got from one of those pastors read as follows: If you check the exegesis notes of Rev 18 you will see documentation that the United States of America will not recover spiritually, nor will there be a pivot generation. Sad to say, this once great nation has become Satan's premier example of a political entity, just as Catholicism is his premier example of a religion. Both are known as Babylon, and Babylon refuses to be healed. Jer 50 & 51 Our duty is to shine as lights in a dark place, but Babylon will fall due to her excesses and rebellion against God. Although many of us see the United States as a nation greatly blessed by God, we tend not to interpret the book of Revelation or Old Testament prophetic books as speaking of the United States prophetically. So, yes, on the one hand, you ought to be in a doctrinal church; however, on the other hand, be careful that you have not gotten into a cult. I have been told in an email that one of these churches is a cult, where you are separated from family and friends, where the pastor is very charismatic and overbearing. On the other hand, when I investigated this particular allegation, the person making the allegation seemed to ramble on a great deal and he did not convince me. Many have accused Berachah Church of being a cult, which it certainly is not.

It is not out of the question that someone would adopt the vocabulary developed by R. B. Thieme, Jr. and use this in order to exercise undue influence over his congregation. It is okay, within a church, particularly if you are just beginning there, to question what is being taught and to read material which asserts a different viewpoint. There are several sites which list the characteristics of a cult. Bear in mind that, having 1 or 2 or 3 of these characteristics does not a cult make. Here are some sites where cult characteristics are discussed:

<http://www.deceptionbytes.com/content/twenty-characteristics-cult>

<http://www.prem-rawat-talk.org/forum/uploads/CultCharacteristics.htm>

<http://www.apologeticsindex.org/268-characteristics-of-cults>

Another accusation which has been made against some of the pastors below is, they simply parrot what R. B. Thieme, Jr. taught. I have heard a lesson from one person (I don't think that he is listed below) where he sounded as if he was teaching word-for-word what Bob taught. Even though a pastor might have learned most of his doctrine in Berachah Church and uses the vocabulary that R. B. Thieme, Jr. developed, his study has to be based upon his own study of the Bible. If a pastor has done little but parrot Bob's teaching for a few years, it is questionable whether he is functioning properly as a pastor-teacher.

Of the churches below, I can personally vouch for pastors Thieme, Griffin, Dean, McLaughlin, Perkins and Ingram. My guess is, Eubanks, Bumgardner and Mattox are also reliable. My guess is, most of the men below are honest teachers of the Word of God; however, I have not had the time to personally examine each and every one of them. Therefore, buyer beware.

If you are anywhere near one of these churches, that is probably where you need to be, even if it is a small congregation of 10 or 20 people (assuming the pastor is truly doctrinal). Having attended a taper's church for several years and knowing a variety of people who drifted in and out of this and other such churches, I have found that those who go off on their own, so to speak, tend to become a little (or a lot) more nutty than the rest. Look at going to a doctrinal church as placing you in God's geographical will at least 3 or 4 hours a week.

The following churches appear to be inactive, so they have been removed The Desert Valley Church, pastored by Chet Pittman (which may have morphed into Arizona Grace Bible Church?); Mills River Bible Church pastored by Stan Newton. If I cannot find this church through a google search and if it's link is no longer good, then I removed it. I looked over these churches again in 2015; if the links no longer worked, I sometimes left the church listed, but with that notation.

Many of these churches can be found here:

<http://www.bibledoctrinehealthmovement.com/pastor-teachers-and-churches.html> where the graphics are much cooler.

Chafer Theological Seminary also offers a list of churches. This will include churches not listed below (I have not had enough time to investigate them).

Many like-mind churches listed by Pleroma Bible Church.

The churches are listed in alphabetical order by states. Over 30 states are represented below.

Doctrinal Churches

Aletheia Bible Church		I don't know if this really exists. I called the number I got off the internet and it was not a church. There is no website.	1740 Faith Ct NE Albuquerque, NM 87112	I am listing this based upon the recommendation of someone
Chafer Theological Seminary	George Meissinger	http://www.chafer.edu/	New Mexico	New address is not listed; doctrinal studies and info available through a search engine ; a few pdf publications as well
Grace and Truth Bible Ministries	Mike Lemmon	http://www.gtbm.org/	Apalachin, NY	1½ years of audio lessons online; about 40 doctrines available as well
There is also a live video or audio feed for this church available at this site.
Faith Bible Church	James Allen	http://www.aliveandpowerful.com/	Long Island, NY	About 30 doctrines online, along with the notes to his sermons; I did not see any MP3 files; this site could stand some organization
Grace Bible Church	Donnie Preslar	http://www.gracebible-church.org/	Charlotte, NC	No MP3's online; the free literature took me to a generic Bible Gateway search page; looks like you can live stream classed here

Church	Pastor	Website	Location	Exegesis/Doctrines
Triangle Bible Church	Mark Newbold	http://www.trianglebiblechurch.org/index.htm	Raleigh, NC	Generous archive of class notes, class charts and audio lessons
Lake Erie Bible Church	Ken Reed	http://lakeeriebiblechurch.org/	Concord, OH	Generous archive of written doctrines and audio lessons (you have to download the index to know what's what)
Maranatha Church	Jack Ballinger	http://www.versebyverse.org/	Bethany, OK	many audio files and accompanying notes; and about 90 doctrines in note form; I did get an email from someone indicating that Ballinger teaches word-for-word from some commentaries; I have no idea myself, one way or the other
Trinity Bible Church	Drue Freeman	http://www.tbcokc.org/	Oklahoma City, OK	D Ray revved up (I did laugh out loud a few times); notes and wma lessons available
Countryside Baptist Church	JB Bond	http://www.countrysidebible.com/	Stillwater, OK	They seem to be fairly accurate when it comes to spirituality, so I have listened them here; they have a large MP3 library online. However, they do charge for some of their resources; they appear to have a live stream of their services
Southwood Bible Church	Eric Bush	http://southwoodbiblechurch.com/	Tulsa, OK	Several lessons online by various teachers; they are changing over to a new pastor March 2011
Manning Bible Church	Gordon Shearer	None yet	47200 NW Sell Rd. Banks, Oregon 96106
Trinity Bible Church	John Page, Pastor-Teacher	None yet	2645 S Stage Rd Medford, OR 97501	541-779-2179
Portland Bible Church	Gary Glenney	http://www.portlandbiblechurch.com/	Portland, OR	About 70 doctrines in pdf format and I believe all their lessons are now available online

Church	Pastor	Website	Location	Exegesis/Doctrines
Grace and Truth Ministries	Joseph P. Sugrue	http://www.cgtruth.org/	Salem, OR	About 500 MP3 lessons online
Fairview Bible Church	Mike Bryant	http://www.fairviewbiblechurch.org/	Fairview, PA	About a dozen lessons are available for downloading ; others may be ordered ; a couple publications and outlines also available. It is unclear whether this church is still functioning. They have a website still, but no lessons are archived now as of 2015.
Grace Chapel Bible Church	Pastor Bob Lauach	http://gracechapelbiblechurch.net	Lyman, South Carolina	about 60 audio and video files online; this church began in 2008; I don't see any lesson now in 2015 but church is still going
Pleroma Church	Clay Ward	http://www.pleromabiblechurch.org/	Tullahoma, TN	Audio lessons are not online and must be ordered; but there is a good selection available
Austin Bible Church	Bob Bolender	http://austinbiblechurch.com/	Austin, TX	All lessons available as MP3 files; it will take awhile to locate a particular book or study and download it; doctrines and exegesis listed together
Westbank Bible Church	L. G. Merritt	http://www.westbankbiblechurch.com/	Austin, TX	About 150 doctrines online; written exegesis of 3 books; about a year or so of audio lessons
Lost Pines Bible Church	Pastor Cliff Beveridge, Gary Stevens	http://www.lostpinesbiblechurch.org/	Bastrop, TX	This church appears to be quite new with few doctrines and studies online
Grace Bible Church of Baytown	Roy Cloudt (pastor) and John McReynolds (assistant pastor)	http://www.gracebiblechurchbaytown.org/	Baytown, TX	This church only meets thrice weekly, but I am guessing that is a matter of demand. Perhaps 150 doctrines online; MP3 available going back to 2002
Country Bible Church	Mike Smith	http://www.countrybiblechurch.us/	Brenham, TX	Notes and/or lessons available online; dvd's can be ordered
Church of the Servant King	Steve Ellis	http://www.cotsk.org/	Dallas, TX	audio lessons for Matthew and 1Corinthians (current series) and notes on several topics also available (I do not know about whether he teaches rebound, however)

At the Berachah website, there is also a list of study groups who meet (some listen to Bob's teachings via MP3 files or video), and some listen to Bobby's teaching live, or via MP3 and videos. Such groups meet in homes or in rented buildings studying the teaching of R. B. Thieme III or R. B. Thieme Jr. (the telephone hookup groups are live, and the others either listen to sermons on CD's or DVD's). Those groups who study under Bobby take place in nearly 50 different locations in about 20 different states. There are nearly 20 groups who still study the Colonel's teachings in 14 different states and in 3 countries (England, Germany and the Philippines).

Tapes and Publications Church has finally broken down all of R. B. Thieme, Jr.'s lessons by book, series, lesson numbers; so that you can see what was taught and when during each series.

<http://www.rbthieme.org/lessonsummaries.html>

On the Syndein website, Bob's studies are broken down into books and series, lesson numbers, passage and topics covered. Berachah finally did this above. Although this is really a lesson index and not a bibliography, many will find this set of web pages to be quite helpful.

Columbia Bible Church	Bruce Einspahr	http://www.columbiabible.com/	Kennewick, WA	Just the most recent notes are available online. There does not appear to be a T&P ministry
Grace Bible Church of Pullman, WA	Ron McMurray	http://gracebiblechurchpullman.org/index.html	Pullman, WA	There does not appear to be a T&P ministry. There are many sets of notes online. Website not quite finished.
Grace Military Ministries	John Eichmann	http://www.bibledoctrineoutreach.org/	Shoreline, WA	There are a handful of lessons which can only be listened to online. There are a dozen or so written lessons also available
Evergreen Baptist Church	Paul Schmidtbleicher	http://www.evergreen-baptist.org/	Shoreline, WA	Several dozen MP3 lessons are available online.
Spokane Bible Church	Tod Kennedy	http://www.spokanebiblechurch.com/	Spokane, WA	Books, notes, presentations (pdf versions) available online; I did not see any audio lessons here. Excellent walk-through studies .
Word of Grace Bible Church	Tom Stegall	http://www.wogbc.org/	Milwaukee, WI	Some messages can be accessed online: http://www.wogbc.org/video.htm or http://www.wogbc.org/tape_sample.htm Most series will have to be ordered.

Let me add that these churches represent the deliverance of our nation. Believers who attend these churches and grow spiritually will form the pivot which will deliver our nation. Of all the ministries which I list, these are arguably the most important when it comes protecting and preserving the United States of America. It does not matter if the congregations number 50, 500 or 5000. God is not interested in numbers; He is interested in vindicating the doctrine in your soul.

Grace notes posts a list of doctrinal questions that believers ought to be able to answer; if you go to a doctrinal church, you ought to be able to answer most of these after 5 or so years:

<http://www.gracenotes.info/topics/test.html>

I have mixed feelings about online churches. I have known too many people who have made an attempt to grow spiritually apart from gathering together as a local church (Heb. 10:25), and the results have not always been good (possibly stemming from the lack of academic discipline). On the other hand, there certainly must be people out there who are unable to gather at a local church or do not live anywhere near a local church. Several of the men below study and post lessons regularly, and if you are unable to attend a brick and mortar church, then reading or listening to their lessons as they are posted would be your best approach.

My website is not a church. I try to provide a repository of doctrines and doctrinal teaching, and hope to produce a doctrinal exegesis of some Old Testament books (with God's grace, I might complete the books of Genesis, Exodus, Deuteronomy, Judges, Job, Kings and Proverbs in the next 10 or so years). I would hope that some pastors and students might use this site as reference material and that some believers might learn some things via this site as well. However, for the typical believer, you ought to be in a brick and mortar doctrinal church each and every time that they open up the doors.

I have not updated these for a couple years, with the exception of adding Pastor John to the list.

Online Churches/Ministries

The Christian Way of Life Church	Jim Brettell	http://www.tcwolc.org/bbn-streaming.html	If you subscribe, you can get a chance to hear Bible doctrine daily. Check under "more..." Some files can be downloaded; no DVD's or MP3's at this site.
Bible Doctrine Church, an online ministry	John Keating	http://www.bibledoctrinechurch.org/	John Keating is the pastor and he apparently puts a written sermon online each Sunday. Archives of previous lessons go back several lessons, but not to the beginning.
Biblical Answers To Man's Questions	Doug Laird	http://www.answers.highpower sites.com/homepage.html	Doug has a couple dozen sermons (youtube linked) and about a half dozen e-books all online.

However, the little which I looked at seemed accurate. Essentially you are looking at slides with Bible verses and points written out as he speaks, and some people prefer that visual contact with the material.
Pacific Rim Bible Studies	Mike Philips	http://www.pacificrimbible.com/index.htm	From what I can ascertain, Mike is/was pastoring Berean Bible Church in Redding, CA, which may or may not be a going concern. He is also related to some sort of a Bible camp in beautiful Mount Shasta City. There is a plethora of Bible studies and publications available online. He has the vocabulary which many of us know, but I did not hear him teach rebound in the lesson I heard.
Bible Doctrine Church (of Monterey)	Pastor John	http://www.bibledoctrinechurchmonterey.com/	I have not explored his site extensively, but my impression is, this is a pastor in search of a congregation.
Biblical Exegesis	Wayne...?	http://www.versebyverse.com/index.html	Wayne has translated and exegeted most of the epistles, all available as PDF downloads. There is no doctrinal statement that I could find, although he seems to adhere to 5 point Calvinism? He does acknowledge a great indebtedness to R. B. Thieme, Jr. Not to be confused with versebyverse.org

I have no idea whether these pastors are interested in a brick and mortar church ministry or not. I have contacted some of them to find out.

Exegesis

Verbal Exegetical Coverage of the Word of God

What I have done on my own webpage is extremely specialized, and not designed for the average Christian to read, although I would suppose that, now and again, in order to understand this or that passage, the average Christian might come to this site.

What most believers need is a pastor teacher to place themselves under. So there is no misunderstanding, despite the fact that I have put together some rather extensive exegetical studies, I also am under the authority of a pastor-teacher.

What I have arranged below are links to teachings by a variety of doctrinal teachings of various books of the Bible. Most of these will be oral teachings and most will be available for direct download without charge. As time goes on, many of these pastors will teach additional books, which I may not have included below.

These are teachers who, for the most part, have ongoing ministries, so the links above will lead to more lessons than I have listed here.

Sonic Light Bible study: http://www.soniclight.com/study\_cd/audio\_bible\_study\_lessons.htm It appears as though we have an audio study of every book of the Bible. The teacher tends to cover one chapter per lesson. I have not heard any of these yet.

There is a guy, Les Feldick, whom I do not know from Adam, but who have verbally exegeted most of the books of the Bible at: <http://www.lesfeldick.org/> (There is also a transcript of these lessons available online). His doctrinal statement is short, but accurate. What is problematic, is, he understands 1John 1:9 to require us to repent of our sins. For this reason, I do not recommend his site.

It is important to be discerning when it comes to studying under this or that pastor. If a pastor has turned to Covenant Theology or they have reject salvation by grace or restoration to fellowship by grace, then these significant inaccuracies are going to bleed into their studies. If you aware of any of these pastors going down the wrong road, please contact me and give me some specifics.

Titus put together a list sometime ago of books which have been exegeted on the internet; I have decided to continue that tradition. This is a list of written exegesis.

Exegeted Books from the Internet

Some of what is found below is incomplete. My notes from the Bible classes of R. B. Thieme, Jr. and Bobby Thieme have been removed by request. Grace notes has been reorganized, so the links there may not be correct. There are also additional books on Grace Notes as well (Grace Notes), some of which are put together by other pastors listed below. Access to all the books he has done is found here. Todd Kennedy of Spokane, Washington has covered a number of books here, which I will try to add book by book at a future date.

In many cases, the teachers below also have audio lessons on these books.

See Benjamin W. Brodie's website for some well translated books (mostly New Testament).

Dr. Henry Ironside has exegeted many books of the Bible, and this work can be found here: http://www.plymouthbrethren.org/byauthor/44/henry\_allen\_ironside (Make certain that you click on "Show/Hide more" under Series).

This site has a huge number of authors posted online: <http://www.plymouthbrethren.org/authors> (I assume of varying quality).

Dr. Constable Study Notes <http://www.soniclight.com/constable/notes.htm> This appears to be a verse by verse study of every book in the Bible. Although Constable seems to have salvation and rebound straight, I ran into some minor interpretation problems with the first passage I examined (1Chron. 16).

My primary concern with Wayne Binnicker (Benjamin Brodie?) is, he says he is a 5-point Calvinist. One should bear that in mind when examining his notes.

The books list for Syndein is here: <http://syndein.com/books.htm>

Robby Dean's notes: <http://phrasearch.com/Trans/DBM/Index.html>

Some of the grace notes are a course and they have to be signed up for (I assume this is free).

Robert Sonnet has a website of exegesis and doctrines. The doctrines are pretty good. The exegesis covers about a half dozen New Testament books, and mostly looks at them word-by-word without then explaining the information found there. <http://www.swordofthespiritbibleministries.com>

Links to Doctrines

In case you want information on a particular topic, these are some links to get you there; these should all be in written form.

Adema: Basic Bible Study Series online; 50 Things Received at Salvation; a half dozen online studies (marriage, family, children, etc.).

Charlie Clough's Notes: Charlie Clough Notes.

End times and prophecy: <http://bibleprophecyfortoday.wordpress.com/> There are doctrines here which are almost word-for-word from R. B. Thieme Jr. as well as several articles by reputable theologians like H. A. Ironside. It is possible this is the work of Thomas Ice, which is the one name that I do not recognize. On the negative side, one of his links is a church which, in its basics doctrinal worksheets does not speak of confession of sin for spirituality (rebound) and there are several lessons on Marks of a True Believer, which smacks of the infusion of grace as opposed to the imputation of grace (which is the primary difference between Protestant and Catholic theology).

Gallagher's Abiding in the Word homepage: <http://members.aol.com/abidingitw/contents.html>

Genealogies: Adam to Israel; Abraham to David; David to Jesus \(through Solomon; the line of Joseph\); David to Jesus \(through Nathan; the line of Mary\).

Grace Notes: http://www.gracenotes.info/GN\_Topics\_FrameSet.htm There is a list of about 250 doctrines at this site.

Griffin: On line topics. I listed these, even though they are audio studies, primarily because they are easy to download and they are reasonably well-organized.

Ichthys Bible Study: <http://www.ichthys.com/> Although I was first concerned about the organization, he lists an index of topics and where they might be found. <http://www.ichthys.com/subject%20index.htm> I am fairly certain that all of the material was put together by Dr. Robert D. Luginbill, who, like most of us, apparently learned a great deal from R. B. Thieme Jr.

Institute for Creation Research: Topics pertaining to Evolution versus Creationism.

James Modlish Bible study page, which has no links to Berachah Church, but uses a lot of the same language. Study materials.

Todd Kennedy has an ever-growing list of doctrines that he has taught (well over 100). His doctrines tend to be concise, well-organized, and with Scriptural references.

Kukis: Complete Doctrines; a complete list of doctrines as well as discussions of specific topics (this latter list is rather extensive, and is not hyperlinked for the most part; you would first use your browser search function to find a doctrine, which will tell you which book and chapter the doctrine is found in. You can then go to that book for further information on that topic). PDF version. Charts.

J. R. Cherreguine Bible Doctrine Ministries: <http://jrcbdm.com/> Under his doctrinal index, he lists hundreds of doctrines. Many of these doctrines are set up in chart form. My only problem with this site is, his doctrines are not all set up in alphabetical order. Apart from this, JRC probably lists more doctrines than I have seen anywhere else (other than on my own site). He even touches on unusual topics, e.g., feng shui and karma. He has an extensive list of various cults and cult teachers, including a watch list for non-doctrinal teachers with sort of a rating system. My only problem with this site is, it could be organized better. Apart from that, there is a lot of material here. I must admit to having some reservations, however, when I found Billy and Franklin Graham's names on his list of Cum Laude of Apostasy, where he uses the phrase easy believism in conjunction to Billy Graham. He also has a list of backslidden and apostate believers, including several prominent politicians. I'm not sure that these things have any place at a doctrinal website, and it makes me a little concerned about the other material which he has "authored."

Rev. Robert C. Lewis's Quick notes (about 50 doctrines + 100+ presentations and handouts and another 100 extended studies). QuickNotes are ideal for use in personal Bible study, Sunday school lessons, home Bible studies, and church worship services. I use them in my teaching ministry and I hope they will be of help to you.

McLaughlin: online booklets.

Don Samdahl: Has about 40 doctrines and book introductions at <http://www.doctrine.org/> more specifically, at: http://www.doctrine.org/alphabetical\_index.html

R. B. Thieme Jr.: A list of doctrines and discussions of particular topics found in booklets from T&P. This list of doctrines is incomplete. PDF version.

R. B. Thieme Jr. All of Bob's books in an rtf format available here:

<http://www.mustseethisone.com/books.html> (these will open in WordPad, but can be opened in Word or WordPerfect as well; I did not see any Greek or Hebrew characters, as the books were originally printed; which, for most people, is not a loss. All of these words are transliterated into English.)

Wholesome Words—Christian Resources & Links has about 40 traditional Christian doctrines linked here, with authors e.g. C. I. Scofield and L. S. Chafer. <http://www.wholesomewords.org/doctrine.html> Some are good and some are just okay.

Since I am in the midst of thinking about a Bible dictionary, let me suggest some others which may be found online:

Lists of Bible Doctrines Online

If you are in search of a particular doctrine, chances are, you will find it in the first 4 links below:

Bible Doctrine Resource lists approximately 500 or more doctrines from their Bible class notes under R. B. Thieme, Jr. and others. Locating the doctrines is quite easy, as they are listed in a long column on the side. This is probably the most complete set of doctrines available. The only drawback is, the site does not give authorship credit. Sometimes this can be determined by taking a 4 or 5 word phrase and searching for that exact same phrase in google.

<http://gracebiblechurchwichita.org/>

Grace notes. About 400 doctrines and sets of notes (these appear to be notes based partially or fully upon Bob Thieme's teaching). This is probably the most complete set of doctrines available.

http://www.gracenotes.info/GN\_Topics\_FrameSet.htm

Several hundred doctrines are found here, at the Online International School of Practical ministries (the ones I checked opened up in Word or WP):

Doctrine Alive Online by Tom Elseroad. Site includes perhaps 100 doctrines/charts and a thorough theological dictionary. Includes a lot of definitions culled from McLaughlin and Kennedy.

<http://bible.dyndns-web.com/index.htm>

A list of about 50 doctrines; although I have not perused these carefully yet, they appear to be notes, in part, from Colonel Thieme's teachings, and in part, from the experiences and studies of this particular person. I recently examined the Angelic Conflict in these doctrines, and it was quite good, and it was filled with examples of the good that Satan does.

Online Theological Dictionaries

If you simply want to know the meaning of a specific term, you will find it in the links below:

Doctrinal Terms and Concepts (HTML) (PDF) (WPD). This is a glossary of Biblical terms. This list goes beyond the excellent vocabulary developed by R. B. Thieme, Jr. and includes historical terms, linguistic terms, and some new terms. It also contains extensive links to more thorough examinations of the doctrinal terms defined. 34 pages as of 2015.

Doctrinal dictionary from Pastor John:

Bible Doctrine Teaching Terms (from Robert McLaughlin); this is an excellent place to get a short definition for the technical terms and phrases, many of which were developed at Dallas Theological Seminary by L. S. Chafer as well as terms and phrases developed by R. B. Thieme Jr.

This is an excellent tool to search through many of 5 famous Bible dictionaries (like Smith's, ISBE, etc):

<http://net.bible.org/dictionary.php>

Bible Topics has hundreds of subjects and where these topics are covered in Scripture. Commentary is helpful but minimum.

<http://www.bible-topics.com/>

You may also download e-sword and these same dictionaries and search them from your own computer:

<http://e-sword.net/downloads.html> (I highly recommend this free computer Bible/Bible resource tool)

Bobby Thieme has mentioned publishing a dictionary of sorts online, but that has not come to pass yet (however, I can confirm that is a real work in progress).

Online Christian Blogs

I have some misgivings about Christian blogs; and do not expect for this one to be very extensive:

THE WORD on The Word of Faith (a GroupBlog)

<http://thewordonthewordoffaithinfoblog.com/>

My biggest problem with this site is the attacks on specific pastors. I believe that should be removed entirely. If Pastor X teaches a doctrine which is anti-Biblical, post that doctrine, a summary of that doctrine, and then evaluate that doctrine.

R. B. Thieme, Jr. provided us with a good example of this. The charismatic movement is spiritually corrupt. I cannot recall Bob going after specific pastors in that movement. He dealt with the gift of tongues, what it was, what it wasn't, and how it is not a gift for today.

TYPES OF TRANSLATIONS

Graphic from:
<http://www.biblica.com/bibles/translating/index.php>

Bible Translations and Other Resource Material

Basic Bible Doctrine

<http://www.basicbibledoctrine.org/home>

This appears to be a brand new site, with many of R. B. Thieme Jr.'s books and messages posted.

The Bible and Technology

<http://bibleandtech.blogspot.com/>

This looks to be an excellent resource, where you see how technology has given us additional ways and means to study the Bible. These periodic posts can be searched topically.

Bible.org

<http://www.bible.org/>

The NET Bible, Bible dictionaries, blogs, forums and communities.

Biblos.com

<http://biblos.com/>

Many Bible translations, commentaries, dictionaries, atlases, encyclopedias, etc. The interlinear Bible is quite impressive. Most of this can be found in e-sword (but you do have to search out the modules and set it all up).

Bible Versions Resource	http://life-equals-jesus.org/Church/DST/libBible.html	This is a list of nearly every English Bible and where it may be found online.
Charts	http://www.archaeologicalstudies.com/oldtest.htm	This is a fascinating page of photos and charts. The charts include unusual ones like the distance between cities in Israel to helpful ones like, other countries prophesied about in the Bible.

Comparing Bible Translations

<http://rockhay.tripod.com/worship/translat.htm>

The online location of about 100 different English translations, as well as other versions (Greek, Hebrew, etc.).

<http://www.christianarmory.com/biblecomp.htm>

About 30 specific published versions of the Bible and how they compare. These are broken down into Adult Study Bibles, Youth Study Bibles and Children's Study Bibles.

<http://www.biblica.com/bibles/translations/index.php>

A couple paragraphs on 15 different translations, along with their reading level.

<http://www.bible-researcher.com/versions.html>

You can get a blurb on each version or go further and view side-by-side comparisons of various Bibles.

<http://bible-translation.110mb.com/compare.htm>

A blurb about each of 18 modern translations. There are also many links to similar web pages.

<http://www.apbrown2.net/web/TranslationComparisonChart.htm>

A couple of comparison charts along with some commentary.

<http://www.zondervan.com/Cultures/en-US/Product/Bible/Translations/Translation+Comparison.htm?QueryString=Zondervan>

Zondervan compares about 15 different translations side-by-side. Each of these translations can be clicked on for statistics, history, and additional information about each translation.

15 different Bibles briefly commented on.

<http://www.bibletranslation.ws/comp.html>

David Robert Palmer compared several different translations with respect to the original languages, comparing them on specific verses (he has also translated a handful of New Testament books, free to download from his site).

http://www.anchoryourlife.com/bible/study\_bible.htm

10 translations are compared, with reading level (which seemed surprisingly low to me for some of them) and comments. Translations are broken down into 3 types: literal, dynamic equivalent and paraphrased (free translation).

http://www.anchoryourlife.com/bible/b\_compare.htm

<http://www.biblestudy101.org/hbgen/transtest1.html>

9 Bibles are compared by particular verses, and the actual words that they use are graded.

<http://www.seekgod.ca/chart.htm>

6 translations are compared, but with respect to 18 important doctrines and translations.

<http://www.cob-net.org/compare.htm>

Comparing translations from the standpoint of the manuscripts used.

http://www.cob-net.org/compare\_bibles.htm

39 different English translations of the Bible compared. This author has a scoring system, which is quite interesting, and it compares these translations based upon 3 passages and how they scored on the passages. Despite the small sampling of verses, this is one of the most interesting comparisons. The links throughout are important.

E-Sword Resources

e-sword

<http://e-sword.net/>

If you supplement your Bible study with computer tools, this is the best free tool out there which I have seen. There are over 30 different translations, and a myriad of dictionaries, lexicons and commentaries that you can download to your computer. Don't miss the user modules which are available.

E-Sword

<http://e-sword-users.org/users/node/28>

This is a new source of e-sword modules and information. They have a collection of Bibles and commentaries which I have never seen before.

E-Sword

<http://www.davidcox.com.mx/e-swordmodules/bibles.html>

This is one of the most extensive list of Bibles available for e-sword.

E-Sword

<http://www.davidcox.com.mx/e-swordmodules/commentaries.html>

Probably the most extensive list of Commentaries available for e-sword.

E-Sword

<http://www.davidcox.com.mx/e-swordmodules/dictionaries.html>

Probably the most extensive list of dictionaries available for e-sword (which includes lexicons).

E-Sword

http://www.davidcox.com.mx/e-swordmodules/module\_creation.html

Module creation for e-sword.

E-sword	http://e-sword-users.org	Another outstanding resource for e-sword modules. This is very well-organized but you will need to set up a (free) login account to download these modules. This site clearly distinguishes between e-sword 8x and 9x modules, and provides links to modules for both.
History—Kings of Israel chart:	http://www.noothergospel.com/kings%20of%20Israel.gif	The chart is quite helpful; I do not know anything about the mother-site.
History—Kings of Judah chart:	http://www.noothergospel.com/kings%20of%20Judah.gif	The chart is quite helpful; I do not know anything about the mother-site.
History—Jesus, Herod and Cæsar	http://www.year-by-year.com/	This is a very readable recording/blending of the events of history around the time of our Lord. There are a lot of names and places, so one at times is confused by all of them; and I have not verified the accuracy of this site; but it seems to be good for integrating what we find in the Bible with extra-Biblical history. The author of this site attempts to go month-by-month whenever possible.
Internet Jewish History Sourcebook	http://www.fordham.edu/halsall/jewish/jewishsbok.html	This appears to be the source page of the link below. This is an phenomenal page of links for those who have any interest in Jewish history.
Jewish History	http://kspark.kaist.ac.kr/old%20testament/jewish%20history.htm	This is a short date and basic history of the Jews from Abraham to the present. It is basic incidents and dates, as well as a list of kings and prophets.
Jewish History	http://www.jewishvirtuallibrary.org/jsource/History/timeline.html	This is related to the links above; it is a half page listing periods of time (linked) in Jewish History.
Dr. S. Lewis Johnson	http://www.sljinstitute.net/index.asp	Dr. Lewis was a graduate of Dallas Theological seminary 1946; be forewarned that he was a Calvinist. This is a collection of his extensive work.

Online Bible Translations	http://www.geocities.com/onlinebibletranslations/	I can guarantee you that you have not heard of at least a third of these translations (e.g., the Ancient Roots Bible, The Alternate Translation Bible, The Catholic Public Domain Version, Fred Miller's Revised King James' Version, Laughing Bird Scripture Paraphrases, Modern American English Vernacular, or The Purified New Testament).
Old Testament word search	http://www.info.com/old%20testament%20words?cb=27&amp;cmp=4311	This uses 10 specific search engines to find out information about individual Old Testament words.
Bill Puryear	http://www.amadorbiblestudies.org/Translations/index.html	A doctrinal Bible teacher who has translated much of the New Testament (from Acts to Revelation, along with a little of the OT)
Search God's Word	http://www.searchgodsword.org/	You can search about 20 different translations for words and phrases. There are also commentaries, concordances, dictionaries and encyclopedias.
Wikipedias for Christianity, the Bible, etc.
Wiki-Christian	http://www.wikichristian.org/index.php/Main_Page
Zion Ministry	http://www.zionministry.com/graphs.html	These are some great charts to help you to put the kings and prophets in order. This site seems to have an emphasis on the end times, and I do not know how accurate they are in this regard.

Hebrew verb endings	http://www.pbcc.org/dc/hebrew/HebVerbCharts.pdf	A morphological chart of how to recognize the various stem, person and number of a Hebrew verb

E-Sword Greek and Hebrew Lexicons

<http://www.davidcox.com.mx/e-swordmodules/dictionaries.html>

Probably the most extensive list of dictionaries available for e-sword (which includes lexicons).

Perseus Digital Library (studies in Greek)

<http://www.perseus.tufts.edu/hopper/>

This has consistently been one of the best research tools for Greek words. In searching out one particular word, I was given 4 sets of lexicons to choose from (4 which I do not own), with extensive information on where this word was found (this was for a Koine Greek word not found in the New Testament).

Doctrinal Discussions

Delphi Forums Bible doctrine study group

<http://forums.delphiforums.com/bdsg/>

This is an excellent group, especially good for those who are spread out and not near a doctrinal church.

Bene Diction blogs on

<http://www.benedictionblogson.com/2009/08/06/pittsburgh-woman-killer-george-sodinis-fundamentalist-faith/>

This is pretty insane. A nutcase attends a church listed in here for 13 years, kills 3 women in an aerobics class, and that church and R. B. Thieme, Jr. are all blamed, even though the most precursory reading of this guy's crime indicates that he mentally unbalanced from the get go. It is a fascinating read and discussion.

Bible Works Forum

<http://www.bibleworks.com/forums/showthread.php?4072-I-Thank-God-for-Col.-R.B.-Thieme-Jr.&s=7f9a4066a468b7787cce9f74c48e0115>

This is a 9 page discussion I Thank God for Col. R.B. Thieme Jr.

City Data's forum

<http://www.city-data.com/forum/christianity/>

There is at least one doctrinal believer who posts to this group (Mike555), and all topics of the Christian faith are fair game.

Classmates Western Religions

<http://www.classmates.com/community/groups/groupHome?communityId=137>

Discussions with people who are rational and with those who are teetering off the edge. I believe I first got drawn into a discussion here with someone who proposed that Jesus was teaching socialism (a liberation theology adherent).

Cult Education Forum

This is a fascinating forum, discussing R. B. Thieme Jr. and why his church is a cult. There were even questions as to, what happens to you when you leave this church? There seems to be one logical and intelligent voice in all of this, at the very beginning (Ephesians 1:3). SisterSoap goes on and on and on and on. I have included this forum more as a matter of interest rather than as a recommended forum.

The Free Thought and Rationalism Discussion Board

<http://www.freeratio.org/>

Previously the Internet Infidels Discussion Board. There are believers who post here as well but, be forewarned, these are mostly unbelieving liberals who post here.

Simply Bible

<http://members.net-tech.com.au/sggram/dhome.htm>

What caught my eye was their Isaiah page: <http://members.net-tech.com.au/sggram/f591.htm> These are called Churches of Christ; I do not think that they are related to the Church of Christ denomination here.

Yahoo Groups

<http://groups.yahoo.com/group/rbthiemepark/>

A very small discussion group, mostly of those who do not like Bob Thieme Jr's teaching, but with a smattering of those who do. It is a small group, also included as more of a matter of interest than anything else.

Evangelical Ministries

American Freedom
Assemblies

<http://www.youthontrack.org/>

“American Freedom Assembly is a non-profit organization dedicated to presenting the principles of true freedom through the assembly format. We help young people understand that the solution must come from within. Only through their good decisions on a day by day basis will they be able to take control of their lives.” Gary Horton spoke at our school on 3 occasions, each of them quite memorable. One time, he gave the gospel—it was clear and unmistakable—but without mentioning the name of Jesus Christ.

Evangelical Ministries

Free Gift Ministries	http://www.christsavesministries.org/	Scott Grande is associated with the church of Robert R. McLaughlin and has apparently studied under Colonel R.B. Thieme Jr. He is an evangelist and a missionary. There are about 20 doctrines and a few sermons (video and MP3) available on his site.
Grace Evangelical Society	http://www.faithalone.org/	“It has been amazing to watch what God has allowed us to do for these last 19 years. The years have been filled with great ministry opportunities indeed. With the distribution of over 100,000 You Can Be Sure! booklets, countless books and audio tapes, and tens of thousands of hits on our website each year, many have come to faith in Christ, gained assurance of their eternal life, and now walk in the knowledge of the grace of God. For this great opportunity to impact the world for Christ, we thank God first, but also all those that have partnered with us.”
Grace Gospel Missions	http://www.ggmissions.org/	“Our mission is to train missionaries and to support mission activity around the world. Rick Hughes Evangelical Ministries	http://www.bigrick.org/	“Rick Hughes Evangelistic Ministries, Inc. was founded for the purpose of communicating the Word of God to students and administrators in private schools and churches across the United States. Bible Doctrine Page	http://dbrents.wordpress.com/	Quite frankly, this is a disorganized blog which at first appears to deal primarily with salvation. However, there is a lot of material here (over 100 doctrines) which appears to be accurate. Most of the doctrines are accessible on the right hand side of each page. It is unclear whether these are notes which this person takes or whether he has done these studies himself (he does use a Thieme vocabulary and presents salvation and rebound correctly). There is a bit of Campus Crusade thrown in here as well. I am pretty certain that this is the work of one guy.
Bible Food	http://www.biblefood.com/index.html	This site is put together by Bob Jones, retired assistant pastor of Northside Bible Church, Jacksonville Florida. However, I cannot find this church or its website. Although he is clearly influenced by R. B. Thieme Jr., I do not find any links to any related ministry. He lists over 50 doctrines and the couple I glanced at seemed to be quite accurate.
Bible News	http://biblenews1.com/	Larry Wood's website. I recommend this with a grain of salt. The homepage has the United States broken up into various tribes of Israel (the same is true of Europe and other continents). I do not quite get that. He also has something about the four horses of the apocalypse running parallel in current world history. His presentation of the gospel and of rebound are accurate; but some of the website is just flat-out weird.
Bible Training Centre for Pastors	http://www.bibletraining.com/	"Our Mission: To extend non-formal theological training to the world's untrained pastors and church leaders."
brainout's Lord Pages	http://www.brainout.net/index.html	"The purpose of these sites for a reader, is abnormal. The sites are to encourage thinking OUT Doctrine, not teach or parrot it. Thinking out, not selling someone that 'my' pastor or 'my' idea of Bible is right; hence the sites are nonsectarian in orientation. Therefore, the sites 'do' a lot of thinking out (which I personally needed anyway). The reader is presumed to already know enough MD to play with the material: like it, lump it, rage at it, smile at it, whatever, before the Lord. [I am having the same reaction to this as you are— huh? —but there are some good things to be found at this website."

Brother Bob Kleinschmidt's Sermon Notes	http://members.cox.net/brother-bob/	These are notes on 50–100 different doctrines based upon the R. B. Thieme Jr.'s teachings.
Camp Tetelestai	http://www.camptetelestai.org/	They are looking to build a Christian camp in Greenbrier, Arkansas
Faith Comes by Hearing	http://www.faithcomesbyhearing.com/features/link-to-us	Several versions of the Bible, read aloud. Also a way here for you to add their player to your webpage.
L. S. Chafer sermons	http://www.archangelbibleministries.org/dl_hi_chafer.htm	13 audio lessons by Chafer
L. S. Chafer sermons	http://www.austinbiblechurch.com/dhaa_dts.asp	25 more audio lessons by Chafer (easy to download)
Charlie Clough's Bible Framework Course	http://www.bibleframework.com/course/study-online/	From the site: Rather than reading the Bible through the eyes of modern secularism this provocative six-part course teaches you to read the Bible through its own eyes-as a record of God's dealing with the human race. When you read it at this level, you will discover reasons to worship God in areas of life you probably never before associated with "religion." All lessons can be downloaded or listened to online; and course notes in pdf format can be downloaded from this site.
Dictionary of Doctrine	http://dictionaryofdoctrine.com/Dictionary-Contents.html	The doctrines came directly from Thieme notes (I could not find this stated anywhere). Some of the lessons are computer-read lessons (word for word from the notes; how the computer pronounces the word happiness is somewhat humorous). There are some normal sermons, but this site is not clearly associated with a church, and I am uncertain about some of them.
East Texas Bible Conference	http://www.joegriffin.org/OtherMins/etbc.asp
E-Sword	http://www.e-sword.net/downloads.html	E-Sword is a free computer Bible. I have used 4 or 5 different computer Bibles, and this is, of those I have used, the best. Drop-down box at website will give many of the modules which are available for e-sword.
E-Sword	http://www.davidcox.com.mx/e-swordmodules/bibles.html	This is probably the most extensive list of Bibles available for e-sword.

E-Sword	http://www.davidcox.com.mx/e-swordmodules/commentaries.html	Probably the most extensive list of Commentaries available for e-sword.
E-Sword	http://www.davidcox.com.mx/e-swordmodules/dictionaries.html	Probably the most extensive list of dictionaries available for e-sword (which includes lexicons).
E-Sword	http://www.davidcox.com.mx/e-swordmodules/module_creation.html	Module creation for e-sword.
E-sword	http://e-sword-users.org	Another resource for e-sword modules. This is very well-organized but you will need to set up a login account to download these modules.
Eternal Productions 101 Scientific Facts and Foreknowledge	http://www.eternal-productions.org/101science.html	This is a Catholic website; however, this is a fairly good list of scientific truths found in the Bible centuries before science discovered them.
Evangelical Bible College of Western Australia	http://www.ebcwa.org.au/	The doctrine seems quite sound; although it is unclear whether this is a brick and mortar college.

The Fisher's Net	http://www.thefishersnet.com/Doctrinal_Learning_Cente.html	There are several men named Reeves who have entitled themselves pastors (of various sorts) and there are lessons under Ben Reeves' name, which seem to be good. This is not a brick and mortar church and I have no idea where these men are located or if they are looking to establish a church.

Other Ministries

Free Bible Studies on the Net	http://www.free-bible-study.org/index.html	Sort of a guided study. The biggest problem is, I do not see the spiritual life or rebound explained. The lessons seem reasonable and the linkw, for the most part, are pretty good.
Get to Know Your Bible	http://www.gettoknowyourbible.org/	A [doctrinal] Bible Study Web Site for Children, Teens and College Students
Glenn's Christian Blog	http://wisdomknowledge.wordpress.com/	1. Over the last ten years I have slowly but surely found resources on the internet that were not easy to find so I have decided to make some of them available on this blog through links and posts. I would have loved to have found a site like this when I started searching the internet. 2. There are doctrines that I grew up with (I am a what many would call a classic dispensationalist) that are pertinent to things going on in the United States and the world today but very few in mainstream Christianity are discussing them from a perspective that I recognize as being solidly grounded in scripture. This should be a great forum to post these doctrines and give them a bit more visibility. 3. Then, building on item 2, occasionally make applications of these doctrines to current events.

Grace Prison Ministries <http://www.graceprisons.org/> This is an evangelical ministry with some teaching; and they provide a transition home for some prisoners reentering society. Keithian L. Starling teaches weekly at 2 Nashville prisons and ministers to prisons in Georgia, Tennessee, Louisiana, and Florida.

James Brettell <http://www.brettell.org/> This will lead you to links of his various websites and his online presence.

Junto Society <http://juntosociety.com/index.html> This appears to be mostly a political and historical website with an intent to teach government. It is a bit difficult to navigate, but there appears to be a lot of material here. Monty Rainey, who wrote much of the material at this site, did apparently learn from R. B. Thieme Jr.

The book review section is quite interesting. Rainey and crew do a lot of reading.

Although there is a lot of interesting stuff on this site, including some American history information, it does not appear to be updated for the past several years.

Kids Love God <http://kidslovegod.org/> “Just like adults, children must learn to live their lives in the PLAN that GOD has created for them! We want you to have fun learning about GOD's PLAN at www.KidsLoveGod.org by SEEING, HEARING and SINGING about some of the things found in GOD's WORD, The Bible!”

Lifelike Pundits, Christian page	http://www.lifelikepundits.com/index.php/category/Christianity/	What seems to be the case is, Aaron has posted his Thieme notes on Israel in Conflict from 1991. It is likely that he is going through this study right now and posts his notes as he take them. This appears to begin with lesson 200: http://www.lifelikepundits.com/index.php/site/bible_study_200/ The main page is a mixture of political commentary and doctrinal notes, posted on most days by what appears to be 3 or more authors.

On-Line International School of Practical Ministry	http://www.olispm.com/index.html	This appears to be, to some degree, a free online seminary. Syndein (Bible notes and translation)

www.syndein.com/

These are mostly notes from R. B. Thieme's teaching over the years, including an expanded translation of most books of the Bible. Ken, the guy who took these notes, also made an attempt to provide a translation for the books that Bob did not exegete. Ken is his real name (I don't know his last name) and his pen name Joshua Sozo; aka Mr. Syndein
