3. Too often when the man is gallant and helps the woman in distress, he discovers that his noble deed is the bait for the trap.
4. The woman's trumped up story about her 2 sons is the bait. She is a magnificent actress and a raving beauty and children she does not have.
5. David took the bait as a noble gesture.
6. Now that same woman in distress will spring the trap.
7. A woman in distress is not always a woman in distress, but a carefully baited trap to destroy a sucker.
8. What appears to David to be a legal case, is to force the restoration of Absalom.
9. This is against David's better judgment, but he is now trapped, having helped this woman in distress. It now stands as the basis for pardoning Absalom.
10. His courtroom decision establishes a precedence. Absalom is the most qualified person in the first family of David. But interlocking systems of arrogance destroyed the great potential of Absalom and neutralized his abilities.

At this time, Absalom is only able to lead a revolution. As a born again believer, he has rejected the potter's wheel of authority.

Joab is inside interlocking systems of arrogance, it is crusader arrogance and blind arrogance. Joab is convinced that only Absalom can fulfill requirements of a king. Motivation is not justification for anti-establishment modus operandi. This does not justify the work of Joab. This does not justify the distortion of the law. The federal judge is causing crime to be unrestrained today. There is a movement to amend the constitution so that federal judges are elected rather than appointed. That would improve the situation.

All revolution leadership must become involved in criminal arrogance. Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution.

The woman gives David an out. His out is if he pardons Absalom. If David does not restore Absalom, then he has condemned himself.

Those who play god with the law, is subject to the law that he distorts. When judges distort the law with their play god with the law, crime is unrestrained. All of this got started when this woman said, "One word" and David said, "Speak."

2Sam. 14:12–13 Then the woman said, "Please let your servant speak a word to my lord the king." He said, "Speak." And the woman expatiated, "Why then have you planned [devised] such a [terrible] thing against the people of God? For in giving this decision the king convicts himself [since the king has rendered this judicial decision, the king has indicted himself], inasmuch as the king does not bring his banished one home again.

2Sam. 14:14 We must all die [for dying, we will die; we will definitely die]; we are like water spilled on the ground, which cannot be gathered up again. But God will not take away life, and he devises means so that the banished one will not remain an outcast.

Eisenhower: faith, humor and death; meaning of pardon; criminal abuse of and volition; distortion of crime issue to emotion re. death; voice of the people

I think this is from Eisenhower Declassified. Eisenhower was a River Brethren, not the same as the Plymouth Brethren. They have some of the most vigorous missionary organization. Good prophetic teachers and emphasize that. They do not believe in eternal security. From childhood, Ike was a believer in Jesus Christ. He also demonstrated a great sense of humor. Ike fell down after a speech, and they laughed. He stood up, smiled and saluted, and walked off. The cheers could be heard all the way to Berlin.

Truman and Ike were at JFK's funeral. Ike believe that Winston Churchill was the greatest man of those times, but he respected his mother, and wished her to be alive when he was in the White House.

Wherever Ike was quartered, there was always a Bible nearby, and it was a Bible well-used. He called the Bible stored wisdom. Ike prayed at night and in the morning. He started the Christian prayer sessions in the WH. He often had Billy Graham in and called him regularly for prayers, advice, etc.

For we will definitely die. David died in dying grace magnificently.

Stupidest thing for someone to be is a movie actress. Most everyone Bob knew was offered a movie contract (he was as well). When you are successful in the entertainment world, you have accomplished nothing but to entertain someone else. That is the most nothing thing in the world, to Bob. Every young woman that Bob dated back then, when they said, "I want to be an actress" that was the last time that Bob dated her. He was not interested in love or marriage with someone who is famous for being an actress or an entertainer. There is nothing permanent with actors or actresses. They make no worthwhile contributions to society and many are horrible off the screen. Jane Fonda should be tried and shot as a traitor.

A lot of people that Bob has loved in life have gone through death, so why shouldn't he? Half of his childhood friends were killed in combat. We look to Jesus Christ, not for an easy out on death; but the rapture is a personnel matter. We just need all the doctrine that we need. He need to be prepared for death as we are prepared for life.

These words all come together. We are definitely all going to die, which is a beautiful thought. Dying is no more of a problem than living. Death is an extension of life. You will die well if you have lived well. If you have lived under the application of Bible doctrine, you will die the same way. Cowards die many time; brave men die but once. So death should be no concern to us. Death should be of no problem to us. There is a good possibility that many of us will die this year. We will die and we will be surprised as to how many die. And we are often surprised as to the ones who survive.

One of the great objectives is to reach the point of death without regrets. The woman ignored the crime and the victims of the crime. She is saying, how terrible it would be to die tonite and die with the regret of not pardoning Absalom. The woman is appealing to David's emotion. Life is fleeting and death is inevitable, is her message.

The living must remember the living, but it must continue to honor its dead; part of integrity is to never forget that a lot of people died on a lot of battlefields so that we can be whatever we want to be. A lot of crewcuts died on the battlefield so that a lot of hippies could run around and look like scum.

For a criminal, a pardon means that a criminal can no longer be treated like a criminal.

If Bob were a criminal lawyer, he would study this passage, even as an unbeliever, because it has some of the best systems for getting a criminal off. There are tricks which are used here. Today, judges are emotionally involved with the criminal. The majority problem is their letting criminals go.

Anyone can understand water being poured out on the ground. Then the negative lo and asaph, which means to recover. There is a great deal of analysis required here. And we are like water being poured out on the ground which cannot be gathered up again, and we will certainly die. We cannot recover past time any more than recovering water which has been spilled out on the ground.

The Reasoning of the Woman from Tekoa

1. The woman from Tekoa is implying in her magnificent performance that failure in life cannot be recovered. All of us have made decisions in life which are erroneous. Life cannot be brought back to correct our erroneous decisions.

2. Every second that ticks off, brings us closer to death than the second before. Once we have passed the time phase where we failed, we cannot go back and reverse our decisions.
3. The true doctrine is to live every day as unto God. Or live every day in the light of death and eternity.
4. The distortion of this doctrine is presented by the woman in a script written by Joab and it cannot be recovered. She wants to make an analogy with something that is true in life, and apply this to the courts. She will reach a false application. This woman appeals to the judge to forget the dead victim, who cannot be recovered, and pardon the living, even though he is a criminal and ought to die.
5. Forget the law and remember the life of the criminal.
6. The implication is the David has not long to live and Absalom is the people's choice to succeed him.
7. But if David does not pardon Absalom and restore him to Israel, then Absalom cannot follow David.
8. This is the age old distortion of the liberals. Vox populi vox dei; the voice of the people is the voice of God. It is a false statement, but that is their philosophy. The voice of the people is not the voice of God.
9. Nothing implied by the woman could be more distorted or incorrect than the implication that Absalom is the people's choice. The idea, if Absalom is the people's choice, then he must be God's choice. This is why Nader got his foot in the door. You can breathe pure air. The air we breathe will be the courtesy of Jesus Christ and not of the federal government. They are arrogant to say that they will clean our atmosphere.
10. So, therefore, David must pardon Absalom, the people's choice.
11. Implied is, Absalom could die in exile. He is included in "we will all die." The woman takes a true doctrine and adds another true doctrine and she uses these to divert David from his responsibilities to the law and to ignore the law.

A Second Approach

1. The mind of the woman is subtle; she implies that Amnon is dead, he is like spilled water, and no matter what is done to Absalom, Amnon will not be brought back. This is a script that only a woman could play the part.
2. Like water spilled on the ground, the punishment of Absalom will not bring back Amnon.
3. This is a distortion of law and an appeal to David's emotion. This is thinking about people and forgetting all about principle. This is putting the welfare of people over the principles of life. We have followed this policy, and we turned over a third of the people on this earth to communism, destroying them. We are responsible for the suffering of millions of people all in the name of this concept.
4. Consequently, the woman from Tekoa, has distracted David David in 3 ways.

- a. If David dies before pardoning Absalom, he cannot come back from the dead to pardon him. In this way David cannot right a wrong, even though there is no wrong to be righted.
  - b. If Absalom dies before David can pardon him, then it will be too late to pardon him and to restore him. David will have to live out his life
  - c. Since Amnon is already dead and cannot be recovered from the dead, what good is it to kill Absalom? Lost life cannot be restored, but Absalom can be delivered.
5. The greatest distortion is to come. She will also say, this is what God would do.
  6. Since God is infinitely greater than David, how can David not do what God would do.
  7. She will distort doctrine by saying, "God would not act this way." This entire manuscript ignores that we are not dealing with human volition but we are dealing with criminality. This is a criminal trying to escape the consequences of his crime.

The ultimate distortion, is that pardon is God-like. The woman implies that God does not punish by death. The doctrine of capital punishment. Under Bible doctrine, the believer in Jesus Christ who gets out of line is punished with the sin unto death.

We have only studied half of this verse, and it is distortion piled upon distortion. She says that God would do the opposite of what David is doing.

Many believers are led astray from doctrine by applying grace principles where grace principles do not belong, like in criminal law. A criminal pardoned by the law is no longer a criminal. The law has pardoned him; he is no longer a criminal. David will fail here because he is tied up emotionally and he can no longer think.

2 ways to SNAFU. One way is, throw the book at them, and that means restraint on crime. But if you pardon someone, then they must receive a complete and full pardon. He has violated the most gracious principle of life, if he returns to crime. A pardoned criminal has rejected grace, if he goes back to crime. He uses his pardon to commit crime.

If you allow emotion to dominate reason, then you have distorted emotion. David, when he pardons Absalom, will not act with graciousness toward Absalom. The true purpose of a pardon is to allow a person to take his free will to remove himself from the criminal life. That is the whole point of the Angelic Conflict. It is the same thing as getting off of dope. Barney Ross, a fighter, broke out away from dope on his own. Pardon really means that the criminal is no longer treated like a criminal. He can enjoy freedom just as we do. All criminality comes from free will.

2Sam. 14:14 We must all die [for dying, we will die; we will definitely die]; we are like water spilled on the ground, which cannot be gathered up again. But God will not take away life, and He devises means so that the banished one will not remain an outcast.

04/09/1980 Doctrine of the five cycles of discipline; false claims re exile of Absalom; rebound vs. grace; no solicitation in Berachah

At one time, there were policies that were understood and did not have to be spoken; and now they need to be explained and written out. New announcements in the bulletin. Berachah Church does not endorse any political candidate, etc.; people may falsely represent themselves as being representatives of Berachah Church, but they are lying. Recognize that this is not sponsored by the church. We are not sponsoring any business or any candidate, etc. This is neutral ground for learning Bible doctrine.

Female GI in Germany received a month in prison and was busted back to E1 for sexually assaulting a male GI.

4000 people showed up to honor a cop killer. Some showed up because they believed the poor to be caught in a web; and others may have admired the killer as a John Wayne type with a great swagger.

Bob would rate those in the ministry about 85% goofy; but for the police, maybe only 4%. Bob is reading from an article, I believe.

Everywhere we look, we see degeneracy. Sexual arrogance in homosexuality. Degeneracy in mental arrogance. Historically, we are in for the cycles of discipline.

The cycles of discipline are based upon the fact that the Lord Jesus Christ controls history. Through the function of His Deity; indirectly through the laws of divine establishment, and permissively, in allowing the Angelic Conflict to be continued. Degeneracy from arrogance; evil and human good along with sin. Lev. 26 and Deut. 28. 3 cycles of discipline are used as a warning; and if this is ignored, the 4th cycle kicks in.

The 1st cycle, and the key is the word obey, which is related to authority. If your soul rejects my ordinances. I will appoint over you a sudden terror; consumption and fever. I will cause the eyes to fail and the soul... There is national hysteria and nation depression.

Clint Eastwood did an excellent Italian film called High Plains Drifter. The town is in a state of arrogance. Bob normally does not like Clint Eastwood. It is a magnificent movie.

I will set My face against you so that you will be struck down by your enemies; consequently, your enemies will rule over you.

Lev. 26:18–20 is the 2nd cycle with a 7-fold intensification. The sky is inflation. The terms refer to the economy. Channel 8 has done a great thing for this country; Milt Freedman; no conflict with Bible class.

Lev, 26:21–22 is the 3rd cycle of discipline. The animals which existed in the ancient world would be taken over and destroyed. We have our own animals who destroy stores; the Watts riots, which were glorified on television. There will be death by violence.

4th cycle Lev. 26:23–26 If, by these things, you are not corrected by Me, but go on in opposition to Me, then I will go into opposition to you, and I will strike you even 7 times more by the sword. For us, to be defeated by the RuskieComs and the ChiComs or even Libya. I will send pestilence to you. In the ancient world, often when they crowded behind the city walls, and sometimes, this would bring on pestilence.

The fifth cycle of discipline: the northern kingdom went out in 721 B.C. and the southern in 586 B.C. Chaldeans administered the fifth cycle to the southern kingdom. All of these various kings invaded the southern kingdom, so that they could see what was happening. These were warnings. Isaiah warned the northern kingdom; Jeremiah the southern. Jesus Christ Himself warned Judea; and Paul warned them as well (as did the writer of Hebrews).

There is warning about having their corpses laid upon their idols. Bob enjoys hearing the men there pray.

When a client nation is broken up, the refugees are persecuted around the world. It is a part of divine discipline. Lev. 26:27– And if you will not for all of this listen to Me, but will walk contrary to Me, then I will walk contrary to you also in fury. And I, even I, will chastise you seven times for your sins. And you shall eat the flesh of your sons, and the flesh of your daughters you shall eat. And I will destroy your high places and cut down your images, and throw your carcasses on the carcasses of your idols, and My soul shall despise you. And I will make your cities waste and cause your sanctuaries to be deserted. And I will not smell the savor of your sweet odors. And I will turn the land into wasteland. And your enemies who dwell in it shall be astonished at it. And I will scatter you among the nations, and will draw out a sword after you. And your land shall be waste, and your cities waste. Then shall the land enjoy its sabbaths, as long as it lies waste, and you are in your enemies' land; then shall the land rest and enjoy its sabbaths. As long as it lies waste it shall rest, because it did not rest in your sabbaths when you lived on it. And on those of you that are left I will send a faintness into their hearts in the lands of their enemies. And the sound of a driven leaf shall chase them, and they shall flee as if fleeing from a sword. And they shall fall when none pursues. And they shall fall on one another, as if it were before a sword, when none pursues. And you shall have no power to stand before your enemies. And you shall perish among the nations, and the land of your enemies shall eat you up. And they that are left of you shall putrefy in their iniquity in the lands of your enemies. And also they shall putrefy with them in the iniquities of their fathers. If they shall confess their wilfulness and the wilfulness of their fathers, with their sin which they sinned against Me, and that also they have walked contrary to Me, I also will walk contrary to them and will bring them into the land of their enemies. If then their uncircumcised hearts are humbled, and they then pay for their iniquity, then I will remember My covenant with Jacob, and also My covenant with Isaac, and also My covenant with Abraham I will remember. And I will remember the land. The land also shall be forsaken by them, and shall enjoy its sabbaths, while it lies waste without them. And they shall accept the punishment of their iniquities; because, even because they despised My judgments, and because their soul hated My statutes. And yet for all that, when they are in the land of their enemies, I will not cast them away, neither will I hate them, to destroy them utterly and to break My covenant with them. For I am Jehovah their God. But for their sakes, I will remember the covenant of their ancestors, whom I brought forth out of the land of Egypt in the sight of the heathen, so that I might be their God. I am Jehovah. These are the statutes and judgments and laws, which Jehovah made between Him and the sons of Israel in Mount Sinai by the hand of Moses.

Jer. 7:23–26 But I commanded them this thing, saying, Obey My voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be My people; and walk in all the ways that I have commanded you, so that it may be well with you. But they did not listen, nor bow their ear, but walked in their own plans, in the stubbornness of their evil heart, and went backward and not forward. Since the day that your fathers came out of the land of Egypt until this day I have even sent to you all My servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending. Yet they did not listen to Me, nor bow down their ear, but hardened their neck. They did worse than their fathers.

We are studying where this woman has asked for just one more word. David has all of this sympathy and empathy for this woman, and, all of a sudden, she turns on him. Joab knew just how to write for this woman. He knew his women.

She then says, “And we are like water poured out on the ground that cannot be recovered.” She tells David, God would pardon your son; why not you? Then she mentions doctrine. “He provides doctrines, so that he will not remain an outcast.”

She acts as if David drove this son away.

Principles on this

1. God does take away life. That God does not take away a life, is a totally erroneous idea.
2. What the woman says about God sounds very good. God does provide doctrine. However, she adds a purpose clause, that He will not drive away the banished.
3. God provides the gospel and eternal security of the believer in Christ.
4. This issue in the gospel is grace. The principle is true. We the banished are delivered through all of these doctrines. However, we are not talking about the gospel; we are talking about criminality. There were probably believers at that criminal's funeral in D.C.
5. The issue is not the gospel but the crime and punishment of a criminal.
6. Absalom is a believer in Jesus Christ. Absalom is the beneficiary of grace and God's plan of grace.
7. God has not yet taken the life of Absalom, and He has provided doctrines for Absalom's problems.
8. God has provided for Absalom's criminal arrogance, the same doctrines He provided for David's criminal arrogance. The issue is not grace but sin.

More Principles.

1. The punishment is discipline turned to blessing; that is for David. But Absalom did not utilize grace, so Absalom was not blessed. Absalom will die the sin unto death.
2. We are studying this in the life of David, where David's discipline had to come in 4 installments.
3. Because of rebound, God did not take David's life; but because of no rebound, Absalom will die the sin unto death.
4. There is a difference between David and Absalom. Both are guilty of homicide. The difference is, David utilized grace and Absalom did not. David rebounded and recovered but Absalom did not. He went on to an intensified arrogance that resulted in his death.

The woman from Tekoa is trying to apply doctrine that is only pertinent when a believer rebounds. Grace only applies from God when one gets out of interlocking systems of arrogance. She has a correct understanding of doctrine, but she misapplies it. Absalom did not rebound. The problem has been complicated and intensified due to his time outside of Israel. Interlocking systems of arrogance guarantees the sin unto death when rebound is not used.

This woman from Tekoa knows her doctrine but she is not distinguishing between grace and punishment. She is distorting doctrine. Another case of non-pertinence. God provides doctrines by which we can be blessed by Him. Grace blessing from the justice of God. Logistical grace comes down through the pipeline, and later, supergrace comes down through the pipeline. We begin minus capacity but soon with doctrine.

People think that grace means, you are getting away with something. The woman emphasizes one aspect of it, but she ignores cursing from God. Justice of God is the source of cursing and blessing.

This ends Act II, and we go to Act III tomorrow.

2Samuel 14:15

631_0342

04/10/1980 Eisenhower: Churchill; loyalty to the criminal; crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance toward revolution; fearing the people

We continue with act III

Some people are arrogant because they think they are great, they are great; or they have no excuse for it. No one gets into a psychosis or a neurosis apart from their own volition. Ike is one of the greatest people Bob has ever seen.

Churchill and Montgomery both gave Ike a lot of trouble. Ike often become exasperated when Churchill became too involved with his military movement. Churchill tried to revive his WWI campaign, which failed. There was a 7 hour argument with Churchill. He did not bother another general like Ike.

Ike had great humility, and this was the secret to his greatness. Arrogant tapers who were run out of town. Bob would never have another assistant pastor.

We've studied interlocking systems of arrogance 3 times and added another gate. It is the greatest enemy that has ever existed in the human race. It will exist until the last breath of the last person in the Tribulation.

There has been a lot of conspiracy going on in Berachah Church. It's easy to get in interlocking systems of arrogance, but hard to get out.

Arrogance always finds an excuse (this is about Ike quitting cigarettes). Ike never made a big deal out of all the problems which he had.

The woman asks to speak one word, but it is David who says one word, which is speak.

2Sam. 14:12–14 Then the woman said, "Please let your servant speak a word to my lord the king." He said, "Speak." And the woman expatiated, "Why then have you planned [devised] such a [terrible] thing against the people of God? For in giving this decision the king convicts himself [since the king has rendered this judicial decision, the king has indicted himself], inasmuch as the king does not bring his banished one home again. We must all die [for dying, we will die; we will definitely die]; we are like water spilled on the ground, which cannot be gathered up again. But God will not take away life, and he devises means so that the banished one will not remain an outcast.

Now she actually says why she is there. Everything else has been a set up. She returns to her personal problem. The king is beginning to catch on. David is concerned right now that he is a prize sucker. He is beginning to thinkng maybe he has made a serious mistake. She is not through yet with him. How can she go on this way? If she is clever, she can. Beware of the crusading woman.

She now needs to focus his attention away from the fact that he just pardoned Absalom. The woman will speak of fear of the people, of those who become public avengers.

Joab and the Revolution

1. This phrase expresses false motivation to distract the king from the real reason for her appearance in court.

2. Absalom has become somewhat of a folk hero at this time. If a criminal does something spectacular enough, he can gain support from those loyal and disloyal to the government both. The criminal mind is a manipulator and it will eventually destroy authority thinking and authority-orientation. When you would do anything for a criminal, you are in interlocking systems of arrogance. Your dear friend, the criminal, and you depart from your real friends. This is how revolutions are made. All you have to do is make heroes out of criminals, like Bonnie and Clyde.
3. Who is sponsoring the return of the criminal and his pardon? Joab, an honorable man, and he is doing this out of loyalty to David. Joab is trying to help David. In his own mind, the hope of the country is Absalom. You lose your honor and integrity when you glorify a criminal. This happens in fundy organizations as well. It happens whenever there are old sin natures in any kind of an organization. God makes war against the arrogant, but He gives grace to the humble.
4. Joab sponsors Absalom because he thinks that only Absalom can save the country. No criminal can save the country, or a business. Criminals are not saviors. They cannot deliver any organization.
5. The people desire the rule of Absalom, but they don't think that David is good any more. He was competent many years ago but not now. Revolution is in the air.
6. Take for example, the grandfather of Bathsheba, Ahithophel, head of department of state. Right now, while this woman is getting the decision which will clinch the pardon of Absalom, he is running a revolution behind the scenes, and needs a leader; so this will be Absalom.
7. Joab does not realize what is going on. He does not know he is setting up Israel for a revolution. When you are naturally sweet as a person, then you need to be extremely alert, because everyone will try to use you. All anyone has to do is say, "Praise the Lord" or "God willing" and you are in.
8. The principle of revolution is crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution. The crusader is pure; his motivation is pure. He wants things to be better. He is very sincere.
9. Joab will get so mad that he won't even speak to Absalom. Absalom the criminal sends someone over to burn Joab's barley field. That is the thinking of a criminal. No one knows better than Joab the mistake that he made. Good and kind people pay when they are used by a criminal. They wake up. When Joab pays the final installment in way into 2Sam. 18. Joab throws 3 javelins. He wanted to make sure the SOB is dead. It makes you feel good when you are helping a criminal. When you are helping a criminal, you are contributing to the destruction of your nation. 4000 people went to the funeral of the person who shot a police officer. But if you help a criminal, you are no better than those people. You can never help a criminal without contributing to the destruction of your nation.
10. Eventually, crusaders are used by cabals are used to start revolutions. There will be a revolution in the next 4 chapters. There will be a lot of people who get hurt because one decent, law-abiding person was involved.
11. Leaders of crusades are manipulated. Criminals use crusaders for the violent overthrow of authority. Menchevics were generally crusaders, like Trotsky and Alinsky; while the Bolchevics were the criminals. The better and nicer you are, the more easy it is for criminals to manipulate you. The Rockefeller Tri-lateral commission draws all kinds of conservatives and pulls them in; and communists push this conspiracy. These groups are anti-Jewish, so they are anti-God. And if you don't like these things, you can just get the hell out and stay out. This trilateral commission is a communist plot to turn conservatives into kooks. Joab and the woman from Tekoa are crusaders, who play into the hands of Ahithophel and Amasa.

"It is the people who have made me afraid." You want to balance the budget, cancel all welfare except for about 1% and dissolve all the bureaus. The politicians are afraid. This woman uses this same principle.

This woman now has David's attention because she says she is afraid of the people.

What Is She Afraid Of?

1. The woman of Tekoa is the voice of Joab who wrote the script.
2. Since Joab returned from the Ammonite war, he has a genuine concern about the country. He got David to come down to take credit for Rabbah falling. David was in trouble with the people, so Joab needs for David to be associated with this victory. He has observed potential revolution. He thinks Absalom can stop the revolution, but Absalom will be the revolution.
3. The people are unhappy and restless. Absalom is a local hero and he has been banished. It is made out that David is some kind of ogre. This is how conspiracies start functioning. So, this is how the revolution is generation.
4. Joab is concerned about this general unrest and he assumes the restoration of Absalom will solve the problem. It will bring on the revolution. After the civil war, many of those who needed to die, died. Crusaders and criminals died.
5. It is not the woman from Tekoa who fears the people. If anything, she loves the people. It is Joab who is afraid of the people. He is fearless in combat, but fearful politically. This can happen to anyone in arrogance. General Eisenhower had the greatest military courage in WWII. Ike is the only president in 60 years who has balanced the budget. He stopped Communism without the loss of a single American life. He is a man of phenomenal courage. He maintained his humility. He was one of the greatest generals in history. He never became arrogant. If you become successful in one field and then arrogant, you will fail in a new field. What you did that was great yesterday will make you an ass tomorrow. You can fail and be arrogant. You can get married and divorced 10 or 15 times. You walk into the same trap again. You failed again. All you need to fail is arrogance. It is easy to pick up.
6. Revolution means that Joab will have to turn the army against the revolutionists. He is afraid to turn his army against the people and shoot them down. There comes a time when greatness requires one to fire against the revolutionaries.

7. This simply reflects Joab's fear of conspiracy and revolution. The Civil War that follows is firing against your own people. That is tough to shoot down Americans. This disturbed Joab.

2Sam. 14:15 Now I have come to say this to my lord the king because the people have made me afraid, and your servant thought, 'I will speak to the king; it may be that the king will perform the request of his servant.

2Samuel 14:15

631_0343

04/11/1980 Eisenhower vs. Montgomery; crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance; revolution against David and hero of Absalom

Ike was totally tested by Monty. A lot of differences between them; "Is Monty fighting the Germans or Ike?" Ike was smoking, and Monty said, "I don't allow anyone to smoke in my presence." Ike admitted it, and said he was unaware of the rule. Montgomery would be a classic illustration of compensation of overcompensation for an inferiority complex. Several generals were like this. At his tactful best, Monty was tactless. He rarely executed military plans to his own predictions. He felt that he ought to be the supreme commander. He and someone else wanted to kick Ike upstairs to a meaningless desk job. However, the U.S. was supplying most of the troops.

Montgomery was not without ability; but he was filled with arrogance and he never had any authority-orientation. Bob thinks that Monty had great potential, but his arrogance would keep him from achievement. One of his great weaknesses was his insubordination. He never showed FDR any courtesy by coming to a meeting when called. He sent his chief-of-staff, who substituted for him. If Ike wanted to see him, he had to travel to wherever Monty was.

It is difficult to face unfair authority. To be on a team, and to have a coach who is unfair towards you. To be in school and blamed for something someone else did. We all get tested in something like this. All of our lives, we get tested like this. If we pass these tests, God will utilize us to the maximum.

The police officer who arrests you, but does not speak your language. The coach who pounds you on the helmet and uses this terrible language. All of our lives, we must be kicked.

This great authority-orientation is why Ike was one of the greatest men of that generation. God makes war on the arrogant and gives grace to the humble. God promoted him to President of the United States. He was under MacArthur for 6 years in the Philippines. Few people know much about Ike and his great humility. Ghengis Kahn was a man of great humility; and his troops murdered and destroyed and wiped out many cities, but he had no arrogance. It is the great man who comes to the top whos ability can be exploited without humility.

A prologue and 2 acts.

The Revolution and Absalom

1. The criminals are using the banishment of Absalom to form the conspiracy against David.
  - a. The revolutionaries are making a hero out of Absalom and a chump out of David and the people are beginning to believe this. Absalom has everything except for humility, or a sense of responsibility.
2. Since Absalom is a popular hero, his absence is used to foment revolution against the government.
3. Joab has discovered this trend through his G2 that he has become a crusader. Joab is convinced that only Absalom can save the nation.
4. In this way, the criminal conspiracy uses the crusader thing of Absalom to get the revolution on the ground.
5. Absalom will become the leader of a revolution.

The Conspiracy Traps David

1. If David continues to spurn Absalom, the agitators will be mad at him.
2. But if he brings Absalom back and executes him, it guarantees civil war.
3. By David's decision, the voice of the people becomes a tremendous power. The power leaves the authority and goes to the people he conspirators make us of this popover.
4. Joab and the rest to restore and pardon Absalom.
5. David will not like it and he will not see Absalom for 2 or 3 years
6. For once, David was right in sentencing Absalom to death, which meant the perpetuation of his banishment. The voice of the people will overrule david's judgement.
7. Public opinion will overrule him.
8. Absalom has been banished for 3 years. Revolution succeeds better if there is a front for it. There will be 4 more years where David is the active leader, and 9 years of conspiracy before the actual revolution.

One More Principle

1. Joab fears the people.
2. The people have been aroused by the crusaders.
3. The crusaders agitate the people. Criminals manipulate the people and the crusaders.
4. Both together = revolution.
5. The crusaders provide the motive for the revolution.
6. Criminals provide leadership and the crusaders provide the motivation and the people provide the power. The combination of these elements will guarantee revolution.

7. Joab, who seeks to avoid revolution, writes the script which will foment revolution.
8. The return of Absalom will provide a rallying point.
9. There are 3 stages to this revolution.
  - a. Stage 1 establishing Absalom as the popular hero during the 3 years of his banishment in Geshur.
  - b. The 2 years when David restored Absalom but refused to see him.
  - c. Then the 4 years of 2Sam. 15:7 it should be 4 and not 40 years. He is the active leader of the revolution at this point.
10. At this point, we note the power of public opinion. This is emotional without facts and without reason. It feeds on propaganda and lies rather than truth. Public opinion which operates on lies and strong delusion becomes a weapon for evil.

2Sam. 14:15 Now I have come to say this to my lord the king because the people have made me afraid, and your servant thought, 'I will speak to the king; it may be that the king will perform the request of his servant.

The doctrine of public opinion to be given to the nod to God crowd.

04/13/1980 Truth available before discipline; Doctrine of public opinion; law of posterity; conspiracy and revolution

National arrogance is always an issue. There is always a bit of truth, even in places you would never expect it. Time magazine as of late, which is a very liberal magazine.

When Bob thinks of Tiffany's, he thinks of exquisite, well-cut and understated jewelry. Extremely establishment ads. There is a separation of government and business. Government has no right to control business except to prosecute crime in business. This is a sign of our national arrogance. "Is inflation the real problem? No, it is not. It is the result of our follies. It is spending money by the government in excess. Inhibiting the initiative of people through bureaucratic regulations. Excessive taxing of investment capital. Government programs have created critical shortages. Giving away billions of dollars to foreign governments. Wasting untold money on foreign wars. Tinkering with money and unproven panaceas. Forsaking our religious heritage. This is Tiffany's in an ad.

Another ad called full employment.

Can Full Employment Be Accomplished by Government Action?

Yes it can; How can government create full employment? Here's how.

- 1) Begin winding down the bureaucracy.
- 2) Stop increasing taxes on people who work.
- 3) Stop spending the people's money irresponsibly.

- 4) Ban all price fixing and transportation rate fixing. [if we continue transportation rate fixing, Houston is going to starve; trucking is our lifeline].
- 5) Release vast quantities of capital funds by discontinuing double-taxing on dividends.
- 6) Take vigorous steps to encourage savings and capital formation.
- 7) Free the people from the poppa knows best policy.
- 8) Repeal government regulations that prevent corporations from competing with each other.
- 9) Cease deficit spending.
- 10) Stop persecuting God.

Another Tiffany ad.

Is Profit a Dirty Word?

No it is not, but it is very misunderstood. By profit, most people only think of net profit but net profit is only a tiny part of it. The profits generated by all economic activity pay for everything, including raw material, tools, rents, machinery, wages, union dues, interest, advertizing, pensions, dividends and all other costs associated with mines, farms, industry and commerce. Out of profits to come all taxes from corporations or individuals which pay the entire expense for federal, state and local government, including social security, welfare, public schools, and national defense. And every dollar you earn or receive comes out of profits, directly or indirectly, and pays for your food, clothing, shelter, education and all other living expenses. So let us stop damning profit and start defending it. Not only from government over-regulation but also from well-meaning people and some not so well-meaning, or we will end up seriously injuring our economy. Only by defending profit can we achieve more equitable wages, generate the capital needed to employ more people, create jobs for future generations, and gain prosperity for all.

One other ad that Bob thought was fascinating

The Nitty Gritty about Socialism:

socialism is the final result of the erosion of democracy and replacing it with ever-growing bureaucracy. More and more bureaucracy results in less and less freedom until finally, the multitude of decisions formerly made by free men and women are made by power-mad bureaucrats. So let's look at the record:

1. Bureaucracy is making it impossible to solve the energy crisis.
2. Bureaucracy has seriously crippled the automobile business.
3. Bureaucracy has ruined the railroad business.
4. Etc., etc. etc. So if we want to halt this juggernaut, we will have to stop frustrating the efforts of free Americans and begin to cut down on bureaucracy to more practical and sensible limits.

The next one:

The Truth about Capitalism

Some people think that there are many economic systems, namely socialism, communism, fascism, or capitalism; this however is not true. Socialism, communism and fascism are not economic systems; they are political system. There is only one economic system and that is capitalism. Russia, China and America and all others operate under the capitalistic system no matter what they call it. The difference is, in some countries, the capital is owned by the government and in others, by private individuals or groups of private individuals. Now when governments own, interfere with, or over-regulate private ownership of capital, they invariable destroy the initiative of the people and eventually get into trouble. The only capitalism which has produced prosperity in the long run is the one which promotes freedom for its citizens. It is hoped that the world will someday wake up to this important truth.

Who Owns the Capitalist System?

Do the big corporations own it? No. Does the government own it? No. Do the bureaucrats own it? No. Do the rich own it? No. Okay, who owns it? Here's who: farmers, businessmen, professionals, government employees, corporate employees, members of labor unions, and all the owners of government and corporate and government securities; in short, everyone owns the free enterprise system. So since we all own it, let's stop trying to beat it to death. Instead, let's treat it with the respect that it deserves.

These truths are being ignored because of interlocking systems of arrogance. The laws of divine establishment, which is for the believer and unbeliever. The gospel for the unbeliever. Doctrine for the believer.

All religion comes from rejection of the gospel. It has all been formed from the strong delusion of rejecting the gospel. Scar tissue of the soul is formed, and he believes the lie.

When they see the truth, they reject it. If every column of the NY Times and Time Magazine, the Washington Times, etc. if they printed nothing but the truth, there would be no aroused America and there would be no change. We are under the curse of negative volition.

Believers can come to the truth by advancing to maturity; or sometimes, great disaster can lead us to the truth, but then, it can be too late. Some of us have demonstrated great interest or great disinterest. Like the woman with her hand on her face and looking off into the distance. This adds up to a principle; we are destroying ourselves. Many people will try to blame it on things that have contributed to it. We are responsible for our own failure by rejection of the truth. You will know the truth and the truth will make you free. Most of us are interested in happiness. For many of us, happiness is a short sermon. For others, it is a lot of money or doing what you want to do; or finding a profession or a job that you enjoy. It can never be fulfilled with scar tissue on the soul; with strong delusion; with interlocking systems of arrogance. The narrative passage is not simple narrative; but God the Holy Spirit has given us the opportunity to look into the pages of the Word of God through the ministry of God the Holy Spirit to see how it gets started.

Every principle which will contribute to revolution. The 3rd act began back in v. 12.

2Sam. 14:12–14 Then the woman said, "Please let your servant speak a word to my lord the king." He said, "Speak." And the woman expatiated, "Why then have you planned [devised] such a [terrible] thing against the people of God? For in giving this decision the king convicts himself [since the king has rendered this judicial decision, the king has indicted himself], inasmuch as the king does not bring his banished one home again. We must all die [for dying, we will die; we will definitely die]; we are like water spilled on the ground, which cannot be gathered up again. But God will not take away life, and he devises means so that the banished one will not remain an outcast.

Absalom has become a hero to those of the land. Joab is taken in by Absalom, and he thinks he is the only reasonable crown prince. Absalom can save the government, insofar as Joab is concerned. Crusaders are invariably arrogant. Their arrogance increases with their sincerity. Crusaders are always used by the revolutionists. Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution. French Revolution. The nobility began to renounce themselves. Jacques Necker was a crusader. The revolution kicked into high gear with Marat and Robespierre.

Trotsky and Kerensky were the crusaders, but Stalin and Lenin were the criminals. This woman is the voice of Joab, and he has noted the unrest, and he notes the revolution is about to occur. Absalom has become extremely popular, with more potential, perhaps, than David. Now that I have come to speak this word, it is because I was afraid of the people. The arousing of the people against the government of David uses Absalom as the leader. Criminals use the crusader arrogance. Joab is a sincere crusader at this point. David's dilemma, if David continues to banish Absalom, that will be trouble. If he brings Absalom back, then he has a revolutionary leader on the scene. The voice of the people becomes a tremendous power. Public pressure will force David through the voice of Joab spoken by the woman of Tekoa. Joab is a very courageous man. He is a participant and a commander, with battle courage. However, he is now afraid of the people. Ahithophel agitates the people, providing the motive for revolution. Criminal arrogance provides leadership for the revolution. The people provide the power. All must come together for the revolution to gel. Absalom as the popular hero. You must have a leader. He was banished to Geshur and he was the leader. The organization of the revolution, and there were 2 years where David gave out a half-forgiveness. In those 2 years, there is the organization of the revolution. Then there are 4 years when Absalom is the active leader. So it take 9 years to get the revolution off the ground.

Public opinion is emotional and it feeds off propaganda and lies.

Public Opinion

1. This is only a force for good when related to truth in 3 categories.
2. The rise of news media as a propaganda agent means the public is constantly filled with false thinking. This is illustrated by our thinking about Rhodesian and South Africa.
3. The only protection the public has is positive volition toward the truth.
4. Truth is generally represented in the client nation through the pivot of believers. The client nation is saved by having a large pivot and a small arrogant spin off; and a small spin off of reversionists. However, if the spin off is large, the pivot can be saved.
5. So goes the client nation as the pivot goes.
6. A small or nonexistent pivot means public opinion is a force of evil.
7. A large pivot of mature believers means public opinion is influenced by the truth.
8. The secret to knowing the truth is the Lord Jesus Christ. John 1:14 undiminished Deity full of grace and doctrine. V. 17 the law was given through Moses, but grace and truth through the Lord Jesus Christ.
9. Public response to the claims of Christ + the response to doctrine provides some relief from evil and false doctrine.
10. Public opinion is used as a weapon in revolution. Rejection of truth is the basis of public opinion. It is never a weapon until truth has been rejected.
11. The other weapon is public or national arrogance. This results in public degeneration.
12. Once the general public is involved in interlocking systems of arrogance, degeneration destroys the nation. Ads as are read at the beginning, a person can read it, and it means nothing to them. Milton Freedman can go on channel 8 and speak the truth, but they will reject it. Bob used to speak with General Widemeyer. Bob used to give information about the communist brainwashing techniques. They would speak and occasionally have a conversation, and Bob would discover inside information as to why the communists took over China. General Widemeyer went to China to save China from communism. They would talk about this whole problem, and they were both rather optimistic, and they thought that America would wake up. Often they taught under the title of "wake up =, America" series. But

America is not going to wake up if they reject the truth. With strong delusion, you can only When people reject the truth, inevitably, they believe the lie. This is why women marry the wrong person. They look at a man and marry him because he looks good. They get married for a meal ticket; the chagrin of being a bridesmaid and never a bride.

13. One thing is never true: the voice of the people is never the voice of God.

Human life resides in the soul. All of our personal sins are never imputed to us for judgment, but they are imputed to Christ on the cross. We are not condemned on the basis of our personal sins, but based upon Adam's sin. It is imputed to us. The wages of sin is death, refers back to Adam's original sin. The justice of God imputed our personal sins to Christ on the cross. Life is imputed to the soul; and eternal life is imputed to the spirit. The manufacture of the human spirit is called being born again. The imputation of divine righteousness.

One of the bravest men of Israel said, "I am afraid of the people." speaking through the woman. Amer here means to think. We have a society where people want to be equal, but they cannot think or speak.

The king has been granting the requests of this female subject, one after another. She implies that, up until now, he hasn't done a thing for her. Joab uses the actress from Tekoa to state the case for the king to get a full pardon for Absalom.

2Sam. 14:15 Now I have come to say this to my lord the king because the people have made me afraid, and your servant [handmaid, female subject] thought, 'I will speak to the king; it may be that the king will perform the request of his servant.

He cannot really do anything for this woman or her son, because she is an actress and the son is fiction. Son 2 murdered son 1 and he was found guilty of murder and was to be executed by the nearest of kin. The woman went to the king and appealed, saying that under the law of posterity, her husband's name would be lost. The death of her 2nd son would cut off the woman's posterity in Israel.

Bob goes through some of the passages, e.g. the one where Jesus was asked the question about the various people a woman married. Then the one of Ruth and her kinsman-redeemer. So this was an important law. It was not some obscure law.

2Sam. 14:16 For the king will hear and deliver his servant from the hand of the man who would destroy me and my son together from the heritage of God.'

She uses flattery in order to get strength to a weak argument. The arrogant hangover. Flattery and an average argument ends up being public policy. "The lord my king is like a messenger from God."

She will bring God into the picture on her side. God will bless you. This is blasphemy, using the Lord's name in vain or as an unworthy project. Power is used in arrogance here. There are 3 categories of power, all of which are used by the woman.

She uses exploitative power, saying she is afraid of the people. She then uses manipulative power by flattery and promising divine blessing. Also, competitive power, by saying that David would be thought well of in the eyes of the people.

2Sam. 14:17 And your servant thought, 'The word of my lord the king will set me at rest,' for my lord the king is like the angel of God to discern good and evil. The LORD your God be with you!"

2Samuel 14

04/13/1980 David's suspicion; arrogant woman: accepts questions, flatters, blames and loses respect; F. Burnaby

Bob goes to gun shows all of the time. Picks up books from him. I think he is reading from one of these books. A little about Allah wills.

People during the time of David were taking a very religious attitude.

if you have to make a choice be suspicious first. It knocks out hindsight is better than foresight. David also recognizes the genius in others. This beautiful little actress is not a genius, but she is very talented. He begins to recognize the genius the script. He looks at his cabinet and there is only 1 resident genius. Joab. David's arrogance has driven away Ahithophel and others. It was denuded of genius. Only Joab could write such a scenario. Therefore, as the trial continues, David finally decides to cross empane the witness or the plaintiff.

2Sam. 14:17 And your servant thought, 'The word of my lord the king will set me at rest,' for my lord the king is like the angel of God to discern good and evil. The LORD your God be with you!"

The woman now agrees to testify against herself. There is a tremendous amount of staring on the part of David, intimidating through posture. David now gets a statement from her. She needs her permission in order to question her.

When she allows this, this means she is allowing herself to be questioned.

Points on These Verses

1. By her own consent, the woman has allowed herself to be questioned by the king; she has waved her 5th amendment right.
2. Her honesty and integrity will not be used against her as supreme court judge. He will not use her testimony against her.

3. It will help the king to make an additional decision, to remand Absalom into the custody of Joab.
4. David himself has not personally forgiven or pardoned Absalom, the prince.
5. Judicially, David has made a decision to remand his sentence of death. So he and his sons cannot punish Absalom for his crime.
6. The public executioners are called avengers of blood and they are David and his sons. Amnon was his favorite, who Absalom killed. His sons have the right to execute Absalom. The supreme court made the decision and Absalom will be allowed to return. David in effect has pardoned Absalom, but he has not determined in whose custody he ought be placed. Absalom cannot use David in what will occur. However, if he banishes him from the court, someone must be in charge of him. A pardon should mean forgive and forget; and he should no longer be considered a criminal. But Absalom should have someone to whom he is responsible. Not for past crimes, but for future ones.
7. Absalom will be placed into the custody of Joab. But if he returns to a life of crime, then he ought to be executed if he does not. The only way a criminal can stop being a criminal, he must reject criminal activity on his own. Criminals are not rehabilitated except by their own free will. Rehabilitation takes place in the soul of a criminal. You cannot be nice to a person and make him stop being a criminal. You cannot go through all of this sociology. The person must decide for himself. What he needs is freedom. The freedom to go out into society to stop being a criminal. Once he makes these decisions, he is rehabilitated. But this requires his own decision and motivation. The greatest thing which can happen to a criminal is for him to get out and have freedom. Even believing in Jesus Christ will not cure a person of being a criminal. People who are born again and learns doctrine, is motivated to avoid crime. A person can be born again and be criminal. Born again believers can be the worst criminals of all. You do not need doctrine in order to be a law-abiding citizen.
8. This anticipates. The woman grants the king the right to cross examine her. Conspiracy against the state.
9. The woman's testimony will incriminate Joab.

2Sam. 14:18 Then the king answered the woman, "Do not hide from me anything I ask you." And the woman said, "Let my lord the king speak."

Now we are in the interrogation of the witness, in vv. 19–20. David figures out that Joab has his hand in this. The Qal imperfect of amer. There is no verb.

2Sam. 14:19 The king said, "Is the hand of Joab with you in all this?"

Is the Hand of Joab in This?

1. This means, is Joab behind this entire matter? David has heard these arguments before. Joab as a scriptwriter is similar to his conversation.
2. Joab had already pleaded Absalom's case in staff meetings.

3. Being a genius in his own right, David began to see the hand of Joab in this drama.
4. David had failed to punish Amnon for rape, but he was determined to punish Absalom for murder. He tired Absalom in absentia, but the sentence was not carried out, because Absalom was in Geshur.
5. Joab wrote a scenario to frustrate this.
6. David sees Joab's hand, and asks her a question which incriminates her.
7. The woman could have refused to answer, but she did not. She respects David, even though she deceived him. Arrogant fear motivated an honest answer.

The woman answers, saying, "By the life of your soul, O king." She knows that David is brilliant and his thoughts penetrated her disguise. She has a great fear and respect for David. So she answers with complete honesty in the affirmative. Respect demands honesty and integrity. If you respect someone, then you must be honest in dealing with them. Generally, people deceive those that they do not respect. If you do respect someone but deceive them, then you really did not respect them.

By simply saying yes, she would not be giving David enough information. Cross examination reveals the truth. He gives Joab a decision which will be a headache for him. There will be no prosecution or execution of Absalom. The idiom means, "You are 100% correct."

We would probably say that, every time the king speaks, he is correct. The woman in becoming involved has managed to use flattery once again. What is so fascinating is, David is a genius. The producer, director and script writer is a genius. This woman is a beautiful woman with brains. She says in effect, "You are right about everything." She is smart here, and she is giving him a compliment. The men may not get this yet, but you women have used this before. She is caught in the act. Like being caught in the act of being unfaithful. The man says to the woman, "I caught you." And she said, "Yes, but you are right about everything." No honorable woman can do this; but a smart woman can. The woman from Tekoa did this magnificently.

The woman's reply is honest, and it is flattering. The cat has not let go of the mouse. It is honest, because the woman can no longer deceive the king. The woman hopes to get out of this situation without his anger being directed toward her. "The king is always right about everything" which includes all of the decisions which David has made, including the ones he just made. No one is always right. Flattery ignores the truth. The woman is now caught between Joab and David and she will walk out with respect from both. Very few women could pull this off. This woman did not cry and she did not use her magnificent beauty; she used her brain; her thoughts.

Her flattery is also in place for David to save face. For it to appear as if he knew what was going on all the time.

This woman owed Joab a favor. There was some kind of contact early on and this woman was more than willing to do a favor for Joab. Kiy im, which introduces a fascinating sentence. Kiy can be used as an affirmative. “Yes, it was your servant Joab; he ordered me to play this part. Furthermore, he put into my mouth all of these words.”

The Woman from Tekoa Says Joab Made Her Do it

1. The woman from Tekoa emphasizes Joab’s part as producer, director of this drama. She de-emphasizes her own cooperation by saying that she was ordered to do this.
2. She has decided that she is in trouble with the king, so it is time to blame Joab for the whole thing. This can be done in truth. He did produce and direct this and write the script, and he pulled together the cast and clothing.
3. The woman will repeat again that Joab is in charge of this drama.
4. Furthermore, in the next verse, she will end her confession on a strong note of flattery. She is in a state of panic.
5. It appears that the woman from Tekoa has been living in interlocking systems of arrogance, which is not unusual for those who choose to use their talents in drama. Arrogance is the only reason why Bob thinks people would want to be an actor. Listening to them off the stage is the dumbest thing in the world.
6. When arrogant people help you, and things go wrong, they will turn against you and destroy you to save their own skin. Beware of arrogant volunteers. Always inevitably, the old Baptism trick of daily vacation Bible school, and some of the volunteers will cause trouble for the next several years.

The Woman’s New Role

1. The woman is now playing a new role; the helpless tool in the hand of the conspirator.
2. She admits to complicity, but complicity under duress.
3. To avoid punishment from the king, she wants Joab to receive full credit for his part in this.
4. Becoming involved in this drama, the woman is willing to take the credit, but unwilling to take the blame.
5. Her beauty and talent are destroyed because she lacks integrity.
6. The beauty and integrity of people are revealed when it turns out that they are in trouble. This is the integrity test when they might be blamed rather than rewarded. There was a general fully to blame for something, and Ike relieved him from his command, but Ike took the blame himself. Honorable all the way. The old army term, pass the buck.
7. Integrity takes responsibility for failure as well as responsibility for success.
8. If the play had not terminated this way, the woman would have taken many curtain calls and enjoyed the applause. However, since this is not the case, she will let Joab take all of the credit.

This woman will exit the scene and never be mentioned by Joab or David ever again. She was dropped like a hot rock. You can only go down when you pull a caper like this one.

There are 2 or 3 more principles, so we will pick it up tomorrow.

2Sam. 14:19 The king said, "Is the hand of Joab with you in all this?" The woman answered and said, "As surely as you live, my lord the king, one cannot turn to the right hand or to the left from anything that my lord the king has said. It was your servant Joab who commanded me; it was he who put all these words in the mouth of your servant."

04/14/1980 Twilight of Rome; stupid opinion of arrogant actors' missions; implication of Joab; flattery to give David an out

The last 10 years have been phenomenal with respect to the understanding of the Old Testament. There is a reevaluation of the sea peoples, rediscovery of the Hyksos, the validation of the Hittites, etc. The Great Ages of Man from Time; some is pitiful and some isn't too bad.

The chapter the Twilight of Rome. In Cambridge Ancient History, there is no dramatic approach. They have gone out of their way to make fascinating material dry. But Time Life books appeals to the hoi polloi.

A.D. 406, bitter winter. About 15,000 barbarians walked into the imperial province of Gaul (these are the Vandals). The spread out for leisurely plunder and random destruction. These barbarians signal the closing phase of an incredible migration. Even today, the collapse of classical civilization seems impossible. How can this little band make a dent in the Roman Empire? How could they hold at their mercy 20 million people of Gaul.

The sacking of Rome in A.D. 410. This writer comes close to explaining the fall of the United States as he explains the fall of the Roman Empire as a client nation to God. This will begin the Dark Ages.

Several things characterize the times of the Gentiles, which includes, no one would use the gift of tongues again. Also, only gentile nations would be client nation to God. The Roman Empire has never been properly evaluated as a client nation to God. The Republic could never be this.

The Franks would form a client nation under the palace mayors (?) And the Merovingians and someone else. What is funny from Gaulic France is, it takes its name from a German empire. The Frankish empire was Germanic totally and had nothing to do with modern France.

The Huns were Mongolians and not Germanic at all. They came into this area because they reached positive volition at God consciousness and no one would send them missionaries. Missionaries must come from the client nation, and the client nation was Rome. However, Rome was in a period of interlocking systems of arrogance, which is our present-day malady. On the part of believers, Reversionism.

Since missionaries would not come to them, they went to the source for information. Bob shudders to think that we will be invaded in the future simply because we are not sending out missionaries.

These are fierce men, given to rages, but they are by no means savages. For all of their atrocities, they were not as brutal as the Romans themselves. They were more fidal to their wives. They were bewildered by the subtleties of Roman life. For the next several centuries, the Barbarian experience was a classical example of a timeless process, the merging of 2 peoples.

The Germanic invaders created a new and vital society and replaced the decadent one. Changed into a collection of principalities and the nucleus of modern Europe. The first modern-nation state, and led all others in progress, etc.

The Roman empire at the close of the 4th century, and voices everywhere predicting disaster. "The world has grown old and has lost its vigor." You would think that this was written about the United States, but this was written about Rome before its collapse.

We cannot even imagine ourselves being destroyed. "Few Romans paused to consider the future in terms of the past." Interlocking systems of arrogance would have explained the fall of any and all client nations.

Roman Empire stretched to Britain. Outside this boundary lay a hostile world. The Huns are not Germanic. In 330, Constnative moved his capital from Rome to Constantinople, putting the capital between Europe and the Middle East.

It is not a mission within our own borders. We need to thrust the missions out, or the armies of the world will come and settle in the U.S.

The taxes were crushing at that time. Some had to flee their homes. Even the tax collectors were described as more terrible than the enemy; and they had a lousy life as well. They had to bring in a fixed amount, and pay the loss from their own pocket. A huge and corrupt bureaucracy. They could not quit their jobs. One person said, "Those who live at the expense of the public funds are more numerous than those supplying the public funds."

Rome fell September 4, 476AD.

In the centuries preceding, Rome was overrun with illegal immigrants: Visigoths, Franks, Anglos, Saxons, Ostrogoths, Burgundians, Lombards and Vandals.

They first assimilated, many working as servants, but then came so fast they did not learn the Latin language.

Militarily superior Roman Legions marched rapidly on advanced roads but were strained fighting conflicts worldwide.

Rome had a trade deficit, having outsourced its grain production to North Africa, and when the Vandals captured that area, Rome did not have the resources to retaliate.

Attila the Hun committed terrorist attacks.

Rome was on welfare with citizens given free bread.

One Roman commented: "Those who live at the expense of the public funds are more numerous than those who provide them."

Tax collectors were "more terrible than the enemy."

Rome was in debt with huge government bureaucracies.

A history of court favoritism, infidelity, exposure of unwanted infants, perverted bathhouses, sexual immorality, as seen in Pompei's ruins, and violent entertainment by gladiators in the Coliseum, led 5th-Century historian Salvian to write: "O Roman people be ashamed. Let nobody think otherwise, the vices of our bad lives have alone conquered us."

Do we have a large enough pivot to survive? Some people think that the United States is in the Tribulation. Bob is delighted that they have these kinds of visions. No man knows the day or the hour for the rapture of the church. We could be destroyed tomorrow. We have even failed in missions. Everyone wants to be a missionary inside of this country. Bob is in the process of rethinking missions and we may have to change our attitude.

The woman admits that Joab caused her to play this part, and she is confessing complicity under duress. She wants Joab to receive all of the credit for this drama. She was willing to take the credit, but unwilling to take the blame. Integrity test in which they might be blamed rather than rewarded.

Itak is the sign of the direct object. This goes back to the first line of v. 19. The king is not going to let her off the hook.

The Lack of Integrity of the Woman from Tekoa

1. David implies that the woman's part in the drama was as comspratorial as Joab's.
2. The woman is quick to exclude herself from this conspiracy, and she wants to leave Joab holding the bag.

3. As long as there was something beneficial in this drama for the woman, but once she might be punished as a conspirator, the woman wants out.
4. To get out, the woman must shift all of the blame to Joab.
5. Without hesitation and without integrity, she is quick to cast the blame on Joab and to portray herself as an arrogant actress who gambled on the wrong part in the wrong drama.
6. The woman from Tekoa has no integrity; she did not refuse the part in the first place or accept any blame in the second place.
7. Here is a ship which passes in the night. An arrogant woman who is quick to betray her benefactor and quick to flatter her accuser.
8. Those who spend their time in histrionics rarely have any personal integrity.

We glorify these people as some sort of super people; but they are inferior people divorced from reality. They entertain us and we pay them well. Why would anyone take seriously any statement an actress makes when she is not reading her lines? Her talent lies in something that she is not. Such a person is not to be trusted. How can you take seriously anything that Jane Fonda says off stage? She has no patriotism and no integrity and she has rejected the laws of divine establishment. She ought to be classified as a traitor. For years, many of those who make their living through free enterprise, have glorified communism and Marxism. They pretend to be intellectuals, and they are simply playing another part. These people simply do not have it. They are totally arrogant. They play games with our national security off-stage. Most are not nearly as good as publicity has made them. We cannot distinguish between a good performance on the stage and the mouthing of a fluffy-headed actress off-stage. When we lived in humility, we read more books and paid less attention to off-stage chatter. Now, we read less and pay attention to them for serious ideas. This woman is an actress. When Bob was brought up, you would be disgraced to marry an actress. That was slumming. When an actress said "I love you" to a sugar daddy, they understood this was a horse after the sugar.

Glorifying people because they have talent is one thing; when we ought to appreciate this talent and ability and ignore what they have to say. The athletes are the last people have anything to say about going to the Olympics. In this Bob agrees with the president? Amazing.

This woman is an arrogant actress who has gambled on the wrong part.

Principle related to v. 19 a woman who makes her life in the entertainment industry, rarely has any sort of personal integrity. No actress has the capacity for love. She spends her entire life playing parts. Young people in the U.S. must find their heroes and heroines among those in the entertainment industry. A whole generation of English were destroyed because they went after the Beatles. These are unreliable and miserable people. Bob has personally known some rare and wonderful exceptions. He grew up in Beverly Hills and the exceptions stood out.

The woman is certain to make Joab the responsible party and to get out of the responsibility herself.

The less integrity you have, the greater is your capacity for flattery.

2Sam. 14:19 The king said, "Is the hand of Joab with you in all this?" The woman answered and said, "As surely as you live, my lord the king, one cannot turn to the right hand or to the left from anything that my lord the king has said [you are 100% right]. It was your servant Joab who commanded me; it was he who put all these words in the mouth of your servant.

Joab designed this to gain a full pardon for Absalom. The idea is the reversal of the Absalom decision, which indicates that Absalom had been tried in absentia. Joab has manufactured a drama to reverse the situation.

The woman from Tekoa ad libs. She assumes she is in serious trouble. She is going to continue with flattering David. "Joab is a fool to write this play, but my lord is wise." She is saying, "You knew what was going on all the time; you just wanted a way to pardon Absalom." She is an actress and she thinks quickly on her feet. It is as if David was an angel, sat in on it, watching over what happens, and lets it play through so that he can forgive Absalom.

What the Woman Is Really Saying

1. Since the time that the angels taught the Jews the law, angels are regarded as being wiser than people but also all-seeing. Det. 33:2 Psalm 68:17 Angels taught the Mosaic Law during the time of Moses. Acts 9:53 Heb. 2:2 many of the Jews were taught the Law through angels. David is also a great writer of psalms.
2. The purpose of this flattery is to remove all blame from the woman and transfer it all to Joab.
3. She seeks to flatter David into going along with his decision to pardon Absalom.
4. It is implied that David has the wisdom of angels. Excuse to pardon Absalom.
5. The woman's flattery offers David a way to save face from his stupidity. The woman gives David a cue to acquiesce to public opinion without losing face or popularity.

The woman says that David is not really deceived but uses her to backtrack on this decision.

2Sam. 14:20 In order to change the course of things [the face of the matter; for the purpose or reversing the Absalom decision] your servant Joab did this. But my lord has wisdom like the wisdom of the angel of God to know all things that are on the earth."

2Samuel 14:20–21

04/15/1980 David admits his bad decision; L. de Vega; suffering to turn subjectivity to objectivity to rebound from interlocking systems of arrogance

Berachah has lost a few people over the authority issue. One of these days, Bob is going to drop-kick a number of people right out of there.

Eisenhower decided alone not to go to Berlin. Allegedly, he was too sick to make it; I think Bob is referring to FDR. FDR and Woodrow Wilson would be in the running for the worst president.

The Russians will probably be even more difficult after the war. FDR said, "Don't worry about Joe Stalin; I have Joe in my hip pocket." Ike had a sinking feeling in his stomach. FDR was quite ill.

Ike warns that they need to do something now about the communists, otherwise, we would be dealing with them 10 years down the road and how much more difficult it would be then.

The base for moral courage is humility. Joab is a genius, but he fails because of arrogance. Absalom is a genius, but he fails because of arrogance.

The Interlude Principle

1. Generally, in interlocking systems of arrogance the believer is too arrogant to relate his problems to the right cause.
2. Since David has been in interlocking systems of arrogance before and has observed the results from it, he has developed an alertness. He has an alert to the destructive power of arrogance. This starts in the soul and works through every facet of life.
3. David failed with Bathsheba. It was not the fornication but the arrogance that was the problem.
4. Interlocking systems of arrogance completely neutralized all talent, ability, leadership and integrity, and honor and spiritual advance.
5. Arrogance is the key to Satan's fall. If arrogance can destroy Satan and corrupt him, then arrogance can corrupt any person. His beauty and talent and intelligence are far greater than any person.
6. This is predicated on the fact that homosapiens were created inferior to angelic creatures.
7. If arrogance can destroy the angels, it can also destroy the inferior creatures, mankind.
8. Arrogance produced in David a subjectivity which blinds us to the reality of the situation.
- 9.
10. Arrogance blinded David to the real purpose of the drama, called the woman of Tekoa. If you walk around in interlocking systems of arrogance, you are going to be taken to the cleaners time and time again. The inferior person outwits the superior person, always, when in arrogance. You have a total loss of discernment and a separation from reality.

11. It was only at the end of the third act that David realized that he had been taken. Subjectivity from interlocking systems of arrogance had destroyed his discernment.
12. Only suffering can destroy subjectivity and replace it with objectivity when one is involved in interlocking systems of arrogance. That is the interlude principle. This is why people suffer so much in life. It is impossible to stay in subjectivity and solve problems with your own volition. We are to make our own decisions. This is why people like counseling, because they are so subjective. Humility means objectivity. Ike was humble and he could make a decision and make it stick. With all of our doctrine, we have subjectivity from arrogance. God designed us to make our own decisions in the privacy of our own souls. You cannot make right decisions if your eyes are on other people.

The time is coming when Bob will use the authority that he does not like to use. He wants to teach doctrine, but some will not let him.

Only suffering can destroy subjectivity and replace it with objectivity. Arrogance means conspiracy. Arrogance means lack of authority-orientation.

Interlocking systems of arrogance and 13 gates. With arrogance and subjectivity, you have destroyed your free will. You make decisions to get into trouble using your own volition.

David's Rebound

1. Suffering for David is being deceived and trapped. He is being trapped in the blindness of his own subjective arrogance. If it can happen to David, it can happen to any of us.
2. The deceit alerted David to his arrogance and subjectivity.
3. Therefore, we must assume that, at some time, during the woman's ad-libbing, that she ad-libbed and it struck David. Lopey Devega is Bob's favorite playwright and he wrote 1800 successful plays and 300 short morality plays. He was banished from Italy or Spain for dueling. Liberals said his first acts were fantastic, but the 3rd act was not, but that is because libs hate honor and integrity. He always presented establishment truth in the 3rd act. Therefore, liberals did not like his plays. Rebound faces reality. I tell the Lord and I am forgiven.
4. Suffering increases until rebound changes subjectivity into objectivity for David. He rebounds much sooner this time around.
5. Once the believer becomes objective about his suffering for blessing, he rebounds and turns suffering into blessing. The issue is sin and failure and doctrine is used in reverse concentration. The essence of God rationale. Faith reaches out and forms a doctrinal conclusion. Whatever suffering is left becomes suffering for blessing and the issue is now grace; it is no longer sin. David will slide right back into a hangover.
6. Such rebound means restoration to fellowship, the filling of the Holy Spirit, and deliverance from interlocking systems of arrogance.

7. Once delivered from the arrogance complex, David now becomes objective. The David listening to the epilogue was the not the same David from first 3 acts.
8. He demonstrates an objectivity now. He rebound provides deliverance from the arrogance complex.
9. Once in a state of objectivity, David can easily
10. David ewill now remand Absalom to the custody of Joab. This explains why David would not see Absalom when he returned. This inconsistency and distortion of grace has become a major issue and this will lead ot the greatest arrogance hangover in his life.

David against will rebound, but he will suffer from a terrible arrogance hangover.

2Sam. 14:20 In order to change the course of things [the face of the matter; for the purpose or reversing the Absalom decision] your servant Joab did this. But my lord has wisdom like the wisdom of the angel of God to know all things that are on the earth."

Now we have the return of Absalom. The pardon of Absalom is confirmed. There is a scene change here and Joab and the king are probably in his private chamber. The king gives orders to Joab, who wrote this drama to get Absalom back into the land.

David has made this decision; it is like an oath to God.

David's Supreme Court Call

1. The king acknowledges his decision.
2. As supreme court judge, he agrees that this applies to Absalom
3. The pardon of the woman's surviving son simply applies to Absalom so that Absalom is pardoned and will now be remanded into the custody of Joab. David is wrong in the decision that he made.
4. Because David is the father of 2 criminals, one now dead and one still alive; and David is the potential avenger of blood, he wisely makes Absalom to be placed under the care of Joab.
5. Joab has a full pardon, but he is still remitted into custoy, for security reasons in par.t
6. David feels that this decision is wrong, but he made it and is backed into this corner. He must stick by this wrong decision.
7. David has been tricked into amking a wrong decision.
8. There are excellent reasons why David will not see Absalom on his return to the land. He learned from the Amnon case that he should have followed the law and executed Amnon. The result was more criminal activity. He was determined to punish Absalom for franticide and to stop this criminal activity. The case from the women of Tekoa caught him off guard and frustrated his plans.

David's failure will be tomorrow night.

2Sam. 14:21 Then [afterward] the king said to Joab, "Behold now, I grant this [yes, now I have done this]; go, bring back the young man Absalom."

2Samuel 14:21

04/16/1980 Athanasius vs. Arius; personal vs. national honor; David's failure and dilemma; principles of law; exuberance of Joab

Russian fleet is in the Indian Ocean and they have moved against Afghanistan. You will have to remember to apply everything that you know about logistical grace. Probably God does not want any of us to starve to death; or to be without clothing.

Bob gave out excerpts from the first chapter of the Time Life book on ancient history and Barbarians; and the 2nd chapter was as bad as the first chapter was good.

The Roman empire east and west were Catholic. Western became Roman Catholic and the others eastern catholic. And, at that time, they were quite orthodox. The famous missionaries who went out Bob calls Aryan missionaries. The Germanic tribes were used to discipline what was left of the Roman empire. As they became God's whip, they lost their humility, and they became arrogance against arrogance, but they did emerge as a client nation. The doctrinal controversies had to be settled, and they were in the Council of Nicea in A.D. 325. Time Life was inaccurate on this stuff.

David was strong and always growing more robust. The vices of our evil lives have alone conquered us. The Germanic kingdoms was the name of the 2nd chapter. He ignores the difference between the theologies, and Constantinople and Nicea decided in favor of orthodoxy.

They began to think of themselves as god, since they were pounding the Roman empire. The Visigoths. The Franks became the first major client nation to God after the collapse of the Roman empire. Being evangelized by the athanasian group rather than the arian group, made all the difference (the Arian group are quite similar to the tongue crowd). Anglo-Saxon fight in England is poorly known. The main body of Britain, King Arthur and the round table, fought hard in southwest (?) England. The wild Saxons came in, but they would be the basis for one of the greatest client nations in history. A misimpression given to Arius. 313 he picked up the idea that the Son was subordinate to the Father; and he distorted the Trinity and the Deity of Jesus Christ. He brought out Origen's orthodoxy with his false doctrine. In each generation, they became negative toward doctrine. They became extremely negative toward doctrine. They regarded doctrine as some sort of a trick. They had trouble understanding the hypostatic union. They were kind of stupid, not unlike people Bob has known. They decided to reject all doctrine, and they persecuted the orthodox Romans, and they were slaughtered by the 1000's. Arianism denied the Deity of Jesus Christ, and they pictured Him as a super-creature. So we do not know if these Germanic tribes were saved or not. 3rd chapter is okay. You cannot interpret history apart from Bible doctrine. That is what is wrong with the historian who could not figure out what happened over 3 centuries, and then he wrote beautifully about these 3 centuries.

So she says, just one more word.

2Sam. 14:12–20 Then the woman said, "Please, may your servant speak a word to my lord the king?" "Speak," he replied. The woman asked, "Why have you devised something similar against the people of God? When the king spoke as he did about this matter, he has pronounced his own guilt. The king has not brought back his own banished one. For we will certainly die and be like water poured out on the ground, which can't be recovered. But God would not take away a life; He would devise plans so that the one banished from Him does not remain banished. "Now therefore, I've come to present this matter to my lord the king because the people have made me afraid. Your servant thought: I must speak to the king. Perhaps the king will grant his servant's request. The king will surely listen in order to rescue his servant from the hand of this man who would eliminate both me and my son from God's inheritance. Your servant thought: May the word of my lord the king bring relief, for my lord the king is able to discern the good and the bad like the Angel of God. May the LORD your God be with you." Then the king answered the woman, "I'm going to ask you something; don't conceal it from me!" "Let my lord the king speak," the woman replied. The king asked, "Did Joab put you up to all this?" The woman answered. "As surely as you live, my lord the king, no one can turn to the right or left from all my lord the king says. Yes, your servant Joab is the one who gave orders to me; he told your servant exactly what to say. Joab your servant has done this to address the issue indirectly, but my lord has wisdom like the wisdom of the Angel of God, knowing everything on earth."

Summary of David and the Trial

1. Absalom was tried in absentia and convicted.
2. The law of posterity was civil law and not pertinent to the criminal case.
3. But David, as the supreme court judge, ruled in favor of the posterity law, and overruled the criminal law.
4. Both laws are in the code book, and David made both of them pertinent.
5. Because a judge cannot have emotion and must interpret the law; but David's emotion became a factor, and he trapped himself with his own volition.
6. This brings in crusader arrogance. David applied non-pertinent law to help the widow. He applied civil law in a criminal case. However, civil law is not pertinent to a case of homicide. The woman's surviving son was a murderer and should have been executed. However, David pardoned him, and left an evil unpunished. Furthermore, David add an evil of his own. Human good + arrogance = evil. David has added evil plus evil and made a bad situation worse. This way, Absalom will come back unpunished, unresolved, insofar as his case is concerned. Revolution is crusader arrogance. David is in crusader arrogance and his son is in criminal arrogance; and the result will be revolution and civil war. David made a mistake and this will leave alive a greater mistake. David is already in interlocking systems of arrogance through crusader arrogance. After pardoning Absalom,

David's Mistake

1. Like Absalom, the criminal son of the woman is guilty of murder.

2. David should have upheld the sentence of the woman's son and delivered him over to the public executioner. Jewish law always emphasizes the victim. The avenger of blood. When you feel sorry for a beautiful woman, it is like feeling sorry for a hurt dog.
3. David is emoting and therefore, not properly interpreting the law. There are places for emotion, but not in a courtroom. If you reject the authority of your parents, then you cannot control your emotions; you cannot figure out how to use them. You appear to be a great dear thing or an easy touch. Thought must precede emotion. You must think first. Sometimes you must stop going to parties and think for awhile. Sometimes you have to stop having fun and think now and again. David is distracted by his crusader arrogance which produced a mistaken way to deal with the law.
4. A true a pertinent point of law can be disregarded with a true and non-pertinent point of law. This happens a lot when felonies are overturned because of a technicality.
5. When a nation becomes arrogant, the judges tolerate sociology over justice. We have some judges with large percentages of reversals, and this puts the criminal out on the street, unrestrained. When criminals are given freedom, and they are inside of interlocking systems of arrogance, they are subjective. No matter how much their volition wants to turn over a new leaf, their subjectivity is trapped by their arrogance. Many criminals desire to go straight. It take objectivity to decide to go straight. They have to be punished to a point where they cannot bear it.

476–800 the Dark Ages is incorrectly interpreted. Judges put these criminals back on the street, and people do not get excited until they are victimized. There is no integrity for the unbeliever, as well as no integrity of the believer. Life privacy and property along with authority are the essentials of freedom.

Crime is the enemy of freedom; and unrestrained crime results in anarchy. David makes a decision which opens the door to unrestrained crime. He will find himself no longer ruling because he is not correctly upholding the law. David swore a solemn oath before the Lord to uphold this decision. That is his dilemma. He would put out a restraining order against the avengers of blood.

The woman got David all mixed up.

Now David Failed (From the Latin)

1. Judgment must be pronounced from the law, not from precedent. That is how our law ought to be. A very important principle.
2. Second reason David lost out (Bob is reading Latin); the judge is found guilty when the criminal is acquitted. David has been found guilty.
3. Thirdly, it is the duty of the judge to declare the law; and not to make the law. These are all taken from Lycinean law. Jewish and Roman law both failed at the cross, and these are the two greatest systems of law of all time.

Qal imperative of yalak. "Go" then the Hiphil infinitive absolute of Shûbv. "Bring back."

This will put Absalom in Joab's custody; and explains why they were together. Jesus Christ controls history. David wisely avoids calling Absalom prince or any other title of authority. He is called the young man. He is not officially recognized as crown prince or as heir to the throne.

Once outside the interlocking systems of arrogance, David stops making mistakes.

2Sam. 14:21 Then [afterward] the king said to Joab, "Behold now, I grant this [yes, now I have done this]; go, bring back the young man Absalom."

There is the exuberance of Joab now. He thinks he has saved the country.

How do you bow yourself after falling on your face? You get on your face, then how do you bow? There's no place to go. He brings in grace. Joab does not know where grace belongs.

Those who are promoted above their mentality are the ones who are really dangerous. Naphal is a take off of the formal bow. To go into the maximum salute, you unstiffen your leg and go down. You go down, go forward, and fall down. It does not mean to fall on one's face, I think is what Bob is saying.

Shakah indicates an official bow. Piel imperfect of Barak This is a salute? He honored and saluted the king.

Joab's Exuberance

1. Joab can afford this exuberance because he got his way and he thinks he fixed things for the nation.
2. People who get their way can afford to be enthusiastic. People who get their way too often lose their enthusiasm and lose their capacity for life.
3. Joab is on a wave of arrogance and he thinks that Absalom will deliver the nation.
4. Like so many in crusader arrogance, their human good activities complicate and intensify the problem. There are some situations in life that very few are qualified to help. The situation at present, Joab is not qualified to help. He is the 2nd greatest soldier of his age. Neither is the other genius. God still owes David another installment of discipline.
5. This will turn into a full-blown revolution with violence, theft, and civil war. Crusader arrogance and criminal arrogance = revolution. David and Joab, who got into this together, + Absalom, = the revolution. It takes 3 men of genius here in order to get a revolution going.
6. Only David, who for a second time, has rebounded and recovered from interlocking systems of arrogance, realizes the gravity of the situation; and he knows that the nation it is a jam.

7. David cannot reverse his supreme court decision because he made an oath before the Lord. His only solution, and it is a wrong one, is to refuse to see Absalom when he returns.

2Sam. 14:22 And Joab fell on his face to the ground and paid homage [honored] and blessed [saluted] the king. And Joab said, "Today your servant knows that I have found grace in your sight, my lord the king, in that the king has granted the request of his servant."

2Samuel 14:22 72David Critics of business 17April, 1980

631_0349

Distortion of grace; exuberance violating established authority

Big business day, and no nation survives without the celebration of big business.

Charlie Reese from 1 April, 1980. These guys are Fabian socialists; I like to call the sneak socialists. They won't debate socialism, because they cannot win. The game plan is to think, they claim that big oil is raping us, but they do not recognize the 70 years of cheap energy (or whatever time). The solution for all of these things, broken marriages, barking dogs; the answer is socialism.

There is a big difference between selling and enforcing. On the bright side, what generates jobs? Business? What generates wealth, that funds the government at every level? Business. What system brought millions of people out of poverty? Capitalism.

The exuberance of Joab. This means poor leadership and instability. Add genius and sincerity, and Joab is walk on air.

Bob has to deal with outside organizations because of some of the stupid things people do. He ends up handling it.

It was wrong to bring Absalom back; it was wrong to pardon a criminal. Joab has finally gain his objective, which is to pardon Absalom. He thinks that Absalom will save the country. He should have realized that the nation was saved through the military, and not by a good-looking young man.

Joab feels like, he has finally saved the nation. Everything is going to be alright with Absalom back. David and Absalom, and David will not even call him the crown prince. Absalom is going to undercut and undermine David's authority. Absalom is in criminal arrogance up to his ears. Joab is exuberant here but he won't even speak to him at the end of this chapter. Absalom thought that David was all over; he did not have his stuff together. Before it is all over, Jesus Christ will take care of one of the most attractive men who ever lives. Joab will learn a lesson and he will never again write a script. This was the only time that Joab tried to make policy (he will again before he dies).

The one making the policy is the leader; those who follow that policy are followers; and those who disagree, ought to get out of the way.

Never again will there be an assistance pastor at Berachah. You must learn to live with policy; otherwise, you are at the 14th gate of interlocking systems of arrogance.

There are those who set up the policy, the parents, and you have to live with that policy. If you reject your parents, then there is nowhere else you can go. You will be out of step all of your life. You must learn to reconcile your life with the fact that you are not a policy maker. God does not promote adolescent poor judgment things. If you really want to be a policy-maker, then you have no idea what God would put you through. Your concept of authority allows you to have a good relationship with your right number and to have friends. No one can use their freedom properly unless they are under a system of authority.

Some of you have made some of the dumbest decisions. The point is, you have made dumb decisions because you were not influenced doctrine. You have heard the saying, "Fecal matter rolls down hill." That is fallacious. It is actually that they are walking in fecal matter and it splashes on them on all of their friends. This is why nice people go wrong; why marriages don't work; why you can find the love of your life and be miserable. To be a policy maker requires a tremendous sense of responsibility for others. That is too hard of a burden for others.

Joab was the chief of staff and 2nd greatest soldier of his day. In arrogance, we see an entirely different person. Inside or outside the interlocking systems of arrogance, we can be entirely different people. Inside, we are simply no good. We are the Mr. Hyde; the evil side of Dorian Gray.

Upstairs Downstairs; the people downstairs were happy until they got out of their place. India would be better today if the British were still there. People were not unhappy because they dusted and made beds. Bob would rather be successful like that, then be a flop in some other profession.

With all of that debate, we come up with prison gray; that is how a committee decision is made. Right now we are dealing with Joab's exuberance. Bob has been glared out for 30 years, and he has to do his job whether we glare or not.

Be careful when you get together with your friends and you think you have won a great victory. Bob loves a good social life, although he does not get much of it. When you celebrate someone getting hurt or someone being pushed aside, generally that exuberance in celebration is the beginning of the end. Joab is exuberant. He is telling David how great he is. It is when you don't go along with them, when they become mad and opinionated and difficult to deal with.

Joab, who is loyal to David, is undermining David's authority. He has the solution, he thinks, in his own mind. Joab used his genius to undermine David's authority. Joab is sorry that he did but the precedent has been set and this is the basis for the revolution. You never let criminality get out of hand. David failed twice. He failed to execute Amnon; or even to bring him to trial. So he vows not to make that decision again.

People do not have the freedom to agree or to disagree. King Louis was a genius locksmith but not much of a king.

There is the principle of authority. This is the only basis for us to be free. How can you come in and listen to doctrine and go out. If you are in arrogance, then you are subjective. Only 2 ways to recover from subjectivity and the thought process of arrogance. Sometimes, you get out of the arrogance temporarily, but then you fall back into it; and it takes pain to get you out of it. Tyranny is a distortion of authority, but it is not the same thing.

Many come to Berachah for a number of different reasons; never asked for money. Some don't like doctrine if it knocks them, but Bob is hit first when he studies the Word.

There was a group who felt Bob was tyrannical, and they all went off, and they are all elders; no authority, including the pastor. One or two elders were tyrannical. You can only have a leader and followers; no leaders and follower.

Some think that leadership is popularity, but it is not popularity at all. Con artists come in, and they see the system of authority, and they realize that they are free to do their thing. However, the sheep are protected. Everyone has an old sin nature. Including those who are trying to sell you a left-handed toothbrush. There will be always someone in the congregation with an angle.

Joab fell on the ground and he was honored and exuberant about this. Unrest will be parlayed into a full-blown revolution. Joab ends up with a much bigger mess than he expects.

One thing about bad decisions, you get up to your ears in bad decisions. Let's say there was a switch under the podium to indicate people's thoughts on the ceiling.

People like the pastor's message when they agree with it. That is Joab here. He agrees with David right down the line, so now he is David's loyal subject. Here, he says he found grace, but it isn't grace. It is just what he wants. The king has fulfilled the request of his servant; David is great because he agrees with what Joab wanted. The king, against his better judgment, granted Absalom a pardon.

The return of Absalom will not solve national problems. Joab in this verse manifests blind arrogance and political arrogance. Believers inside the interlocking systems of arrogance must inevitably distort the grace of God.

Grace is always related to integrity. Grace is not letting a criminal off. It is related to justice and integrity. Some people who are let off the hook speak of being graced out when grace was never the issue. A conniving situation which undermines authority is not a matter of grace. What happened violated David's integrity and honor. Grace is the policy of the justice of God to bless sinful man.

Getting your own way is not always grace. The woman from Tekoa fades away. Because Joab distorts grace and Absalom abuses grace and because David failed to follow up on grace. Once Absalom has been pardoned, then that ends the persecution.

Absalom was a hero for killing his brother. Absalom abuses grace by going out and starting a revolution. Petty crime to a major crime. Joab talks about grace, but he has undermined the authority of David, the man he has served for years.

Pardon means, that person is no longer a criminal. It gives the criminal a change to stop using his volition to being a criminal. Under Bob's authority, we have been free, and we can remain anonymous, devoid of gossip; without being dunned for money, etc. However, you are still dissatisfied because of arrogance.

2Sam. 14:22 [And Joab fell on his face to the ground and paid homage \[honored\] and blessed \[saluted\] the king. And Joab said, "Today your servant \[loyal subject\] knows that I have found grace in your sight, my lord the king, in that the king has granted the request of his servant."](#)

This is a fertile field; no one has ever analyzed this before.

04/18/1980 News media re. USSR; distortion of grace; human good + self righteousness towards evil; impressive person steals authority

Bob gets the Officer Review, and quotes from the April 1980 issue. Russia's military threat. They preach peace through appeasement. Knowledgeable men who disagree are ridiculed. Communist advancing in Africa are barely noticed. The NY Times and Washington Post effectively blocks out all anti-SALT news. Mutually Assured Destruction dreamed up by Robert MacNamara, thinking that Soviets think the same way. Soviets are ready to fight to achieve world domination, but they find it easier to take parts of the world piecemeal. Brezhnev moved military planes into Cuba, but assured Carter that these were not there for military purposes. Orwellisms. Cronkite, "There are always those who express alarm; we do not carry those stories. Those who look to cut defense spending, we carry those stories." Brezhnev also said that he could do us in in 24 minutes; no one carried that story. A book which is out, which looks to cut our defenses and this got big play in the Washington Post. Leon Gore warns that President Carter's idea to move people during a war would still result in 75 million dead. The planes in Cuba can carry nuclear weapons. A Congressional critique of the SALT agreements was ignored by the news. There are a large number of news stories which are ignored by the news media.

We are in bad times, and Bob thinks that we will be in a war before year's end; and the U.S. appears to be in a depression, although it has not hit Houston. Some think the only solution is to go to war. Bob's history professor at the University of California, I think, predicted a number of things which would come to pass; WWII, how FDR would win the war, and then lose it when dealing with Stalin.

A legitimate authority has protections for a reason. Any personality can come along who is impressive to anyone else in the organization, and he can influence, motivate other people. When he begins to motivate others, he develops power.

David is the legitimate authority and Joab has done this. There is a conflict between them. Joab believes that only Absalom can save the country. Joab also generates a lot of power on his own, but he holds it in. However, he will depart at this point, and get his friend, the woman from Tekoa, to influence David's policy concerning Absalom.

Joab is enthusiastic, and he is David's loyal subject, because David is going along with Joab's program. It would be correct to execute Absalom upon his return to Jerusalem. However, Joab's genius got David to override this decision. We know this is a reversal of David's thinking, because such a grand production was needed.

Joab gets his way and he is wrong. He called getting his way grace. Absalom has great beauty and personality, and he is a genius, like his father David. He is already the hero of many people in the land for avenging the rape of his sister. Legitimate authority in the organization, someone has a motivating factor in the organization. So, that person gains some authority in that organization. That person inspires and motivates. That power and authority can detract from legitimate authority.

There needs to be a transfer of power and authority from David's legitimate authority to illegitimate authority of Absalom. Once you get this personality motivating people and inspiring people, you end up with 2 heads. This is why people with legitimate power are ripped to pieces. We have come from all over the United States. We came to Berachah because Bob has something for us: doctrine. However, we have become distracted and we are motivated by others in the congregation. If you think Bob will stand for that, you are in the wrong church. The days of Bob paying assistant pastors to rip the congregation apart are gone. In the military, Bob never made a personnel mistake. However, in the ministry, he has hardly ever made a correct choice.

Pleasing personalities often attempt to violate the policy of the church. The policy of Berachah Church is to make doctrine number one. The idea is to give us doctrine to go out and use it. There is only one leader in Berachah Church, and you are looking at him. "And I might drop dead tomorrow, but I don't think so. This is the most protected congregation in the world, and it is not easy." You get into jams because you are motivated and inspired by pleasing personalities. Bob can tell when we write notes back and forth. You don't find this problem in the Methodist church. They are in agreement of destroyed about Rhodesia and next South Africa. They get distracted all the time because they get one short sermon each week. If you want that kind of life, you are welcome to it. Bob is amazed that this passage came along at this time. Joab's loyalty is taking us to a revolution. A state chariot is gotten to move around; and once daddy kisses his son, then he can go wherever he wants, and it will appear as though he will follow after David. But, he is getting ready to revolt against David and rape all of his wives. You first make a lot of friends with your pleasing personality; then you motivate them. That gives you power and false authority. Get a picture of you with the big guy, shaking hands, or a job well done, or whatever, to transfer legitimate authority to you. This is how a revolution gets started. God the Holy Spirit put this chapter here. This is how organizations go to hell; this is how they fall apart; this is what happens to fundamentalism or to theological seminaries, etc.

Joab is not saying this in insincerity. But, in arrogance, a person is incapable of love. I have found grace, he said.

Joab's Enthusiasm

1. David has recovered for the 2nd time from interlocking systems of arrogance, and Joab is still involved.
2. At the moment, Joab is blinded through arrogance. He does not realize that the return of Absalom will intensify the national situation. It will not solve it. Human good + arrogance ] evil
3. Arrogance complex.
4. A far greater principle emerges. Believers inside the interlocking systems of arrogance always distort grace. Grace is a policy which belongs to God. It is not a policy which belongs to man. Grace is God's policy, not an alibi or escape group.
5. Distortion of grace leads to the
6. Grace is always related to the justice and integrity of God.
7. People who get their way or manipulate favorable decisions in life always talk about being graced out when grace is not an issue. Joab, when he realizes what happened, will have nothing more to do with Absalom. This pardon gets Absalom out of criminality. After being pardoned, and after having every chance from his own free will, Joab crosses Absalom. Absalom sends for him, and he would not come. Absalom burnt down his barley harvest, and that got Joab's attention. That is a criminal act and it tells us that Absalom is a criminal and that he had not changed. When you associate with those or sponsor those out of line people, they always come back to haunt you.

Joab becomes Absalom's advocate. He becomes so upset over his failure, that he was in the subtle arrogance system of self-pity. This subjectivity allowed him to be manipulated one more time. It only take one javelin to kill Absalom. But Joab used 3. Bob will figure out why.

Absalom is getting away with murder; that is not being graced out. No criminal has ever saved a nation. No criminal every saves any organization. "Pastor, I am going out to rob a bank to pay the building fund." It was not grace that forced David's decision. The grace label is too often put on things which are evil.

Grace in this Situation

1. A wrong decision will spare the life of Absalom. This is not an act of grace. This is not an extension of grace. Jewish law always remembers the victim. And eye for an eye means the victim is important. You take the victim's life, then your life is forfeited.

2. All grace must be related to integrity and honor in human beings, not to emotionalism.
3. It was a violation of David's integrity and honor to pardon Absalom. When Joab introduces grace into the conversation, he distorts a subject which must never be distorted. We have everything because of grace. Grace must not be used to justify evil.
4. It violated David's integrity and honor to pardon Absalom. He distorted a subject which ought not be distorted.
5. Grace can never be considered apart from the integrity of God. Integrity of God cannot be understood or appreciated apart from the essence of God. The source of God's grace is justice, not love.

The veil must not be deceived by anthropomorphisms. Getting your own way is not always grace. It is not wrong to get your way. If you get your way in such a way as to undermine authority, then it is not grace. With good or bad judgement, logistical grace continues for all 3 involved. They are all the beneficiaries of grace.

2Sam. 14:22 And Joab fell on his face to the ground and paid homage [honored] and blessed [saluted] the king. And Joab said, "Today your servant [loyal subject] knows that I have found grace in your sight, my lord the king, in that the king has granted the request of his servant."

Absalom is remanded into Joab's custody. There will be a lot of distorting grace. A pardoned criminal can use the environment of freedom to be an habitual criminal or to rehabilitate himself. The Absalom personality is so great that he inspires and motivates others.

Not much can be done with this verse. He got up and went. There is an enthusiasm with which Joab functions. Arrogance here is producing human good which will destroy the country.

Self righteousness is made into a front.

The press has become crusaders in our country.

Permission granted by the king springs Joab into action. It is remarkable to get one thing done and to think this solves everything. Hitler said, get rid of the Jews to save the world.

A Senator from Nebraska said the Soviets will conquer the U.S. and that Blacks will support the Soviets because they have not been given a fair shake in the United States. He is a perfect front for a revolution.

So Joab goes and gets Absalom to return, and convinces him that all is well. The pardon is legal, but it is not personal. Under the law, Absalom is free from punishment, but not from David's bitterness. While David gave overt adherence to the Law. While Joab and Absalom are waiting in the waiting room, David would meet with Joab, but not with Absalom. David made the announcement that would alienate Absalom and shock Joab; there would be custody of Absalom given over to Joab, and Absalom would not be allowed into the palace or allowed to see his father.

This is a pardon but without forgiveness. The letter of the law is followed, but the spirit of the law is not.

Holiness and love of God; co-equality of the Trinity; pertinency problems of David, pardon and half-forgiveness

Some of you may have been startled at the first hymn, particularly those of you who came out of heathen background.

Within a very short period of time, we are going to face great adversity. We may be at the beginning of a great depression. We were about to have the greatest depression until FDR cut the Japs off from their energy supply.

Holy denotes the best of 2 worlds; love and integrity. It is nice to be loved. Particularly when people stand by you during difficulty or heartache. It is a tragic time in which we live, when our vocabulary defeats us.

Bob is still talking about that hymn.

We use the word holy to speak of God's integrity as opposed to man's. Like all divine attributes, it is also related to love. God is love; God has always been love. Since God is eternal, God cannot fall in love.

To fall in love is, perhaps, a misnomer. People think falling, as falling through a manhole or into a sewer, and, in retrospect, perhaps it turns out that way. But, it happens. Formerly, this person was a stranger, but now, they are a person with whom we are falling in love. We cannot transfer our relationship and our thinking in terms of love. It is possible to distort the fact that God is love. Some of us will say, "How could a loving God let this happen to me?"

All of the members of the Trinity have integrity. Each member has the exact essence; they are all sovereign; they are all holy, they are all love. None of the members of the Godhead have any more of one attribute than does another.

No member of the Godhead can be born; they cannot have a beginning. But it reads uniquely-born Son. Each member of the Trinity loves the other. Objectively, they love each other.

Sex is brought in from the human body. Love is made up of the spiritual aspect, thinking and emotion as the soul parts; and when it is RM/RW, sex.

God does not love you because you give or because you are attractive. God does not love us until we get holy straightened out.

We are under obligation to give thanks to God. Divine righteousness is the principle of divine integrity; divine justice is the function of God's integrity. Whatever God does for us must be solid; it must depend upon Who and What God is.

Some of you look like you came right here from some joint that just closed. There is never a conflict between the justice of God and the righteousness of God. God's justice can only go in one direction favorably, toward His righteousness. God's love can only go toward His righteousness. God cannot love anything less than perfect righteousness. When we believed in Jesus Christ, the love of God, as a divine attribute is directed toward us; justice is the source of blessing as well as the source of discipline for all believers.

We all have a sin nature, even to the day that we die. God's blessing can go to His own righteousness without compromising his character. God cannot reduce His love to some form of bribery or compromise. The integrity of God is not impressed with human personality. Absalom has a great, attractive personality; but the integrity of God is not impressed with that. The integrity of God gains nothing from the function of any creature. We, therefore, must recognize the antithesis. Creatures gain from a proper relationship with God; but He gains nothing from us. Man cannot change or improve the righteousness of God. God's righteousness is the guardian of God's justice. The essence of God stands without any help from any help from any member of the human race. God does not need our help; we need His help. If we follow the principles of grace and receive His blessing under prosperity, then we do not flip out when we are under adversity. Logistical grace comes down the grace pipeline to the righteousness of God which we share with Jesus Christ. Every blessing we have as an immature believer, every success or any category, all comes from the justice of God imputed to the righteousness of God.

You may commit the worst sin you ever commit, and you may be blessed by God that very day. God has found a way to bless us. Man cannot change or improve the righteousness of God. God's righteousness is the secret to our blessing. The possession of divine righteousness guarantees divine blessing.

This is the principle that you need to apply, particularly when you are really down.

We must learn to distinguish between the anthropathism of love and the actual love of God. Justice is the key. The creature gains in his relationship with God insofar as, he gains God's righteousness. The justice of God only administers blessing where the righteousness of God exists.

Eternity means that God has always existed. God has fed into the computer of divine decrees. Omniscience relates to the divine decrees.

This is all review.

David refused to see Absalom, but he would see Joab. At no time, was Absalom allowed to return to the king's palace or see the king's face. David knew that he made a mistake and he is about to add another mistake to it.

2Sam. 14:23 [So Joab arose and went to Geshur and brought \[caused to bring back\] Absalom to Jerusalem.](#)

A pardon without forgiveness is not a true pardon.

Introductory Principles

1. In this policy, David is obeying the specifics of the law, but not the spirit of the law. In the letter of the law, there is no punishment. But the spirit of the law, there is no punishment. Once the spirit of the law says he is no longer a criminal, that gives him freedom to no longer be a criminal. Volition has a chance to recover. No criminal can become rehabilitated apart from his own volition. There is no system of counseling or psychiatry. Bible doctrine can influence and motivate the condition, and Bible doctrine can help; but you can remain a criminal even with doctrine. But you must have freedom to make these decisions and the freedom comes from the spirit of the pardon.
2. In the letter of the law, pardon demands a stay of execution; immunity from punishment. In the spirit of the law, pardon demands freedom and forgiveness. Freedom to use your volition.
3. Since the spirit of the law regards pardon as forgiveness, David does not actually forgive Absalom personally, because he will not give him an audience. This diminishes Absalom's chances of becoming rehabilitated.
4. Unless David changes his own mental attitude, the intent of the pardon is frustrated.
5. Absalom must be pardoned in order for his volition to function to recover.
6. Forgiving Absalom means to see Absalom. A pardon means forgiving past sins.
7. If Absalom is to be rescued from any future crime, then David must cooperate with the rest of society. He must follow the spirit and the letter of the law.
8. Otherwise, Absalom might use this as an excuse or be encouraged to live as a criminal. He will rationalize his aberrant behavior.
9. The policy of this verse indicates that David cannot forgive and forget. This emphasizes that 2 wrongs never make a right. David was wrong to pardon Absalom in the first place; but it is not a good thing to add wrong to wrong. He was wrong to pardon Absalom; and he was wrong not to follow through on the pardon and forgive and forget.

When the king speaks in an official capacity, then this is law. David will add wrong to wrong in his arrogance hangover. Just the very policy that is about to come.

Next Principle

1. David does not apply pertinent doctrine to this situation. David was talked into applying civil law in a criminal case. That was a mistake. Not applying doctrine was a bad idea. If there is anything David needs to straighten out in his mind is pertinence. As you grow in grace, you learn what is pertinent and what is not.
2. For the record, David failed to bring Amnon to trial and to execute him. In hindsight, David knew that he failed. He should have brought Amnon to trial and executed him. David knew that he made a mistake. When Absalom murders Amnon, David decides not to screw it up this time. There were over 50 witnesses, so Absalom can be easily tried in absentia. However, David leaned so much into the law, that he half-discarded his own pardon to Absalom. David failed to bring Amnon to trial and to execute him.
3. The result before was fraticide, so he tried Absalom.
4. Pertinent to this was criminal law and punishment.
5. Once David reversed his position and pardoned Absalom, criminal is no longer pertinent; civil law is no longer pertinent.
6. Pardon means that David must forgive and forget. The former criminal must be treated as a law-abiding citizen.
7. Pardon does not mean that you tolerate a criminal; but you absolve this criminal from the crime. The crime must be committed.
8. Therefore, the criminal is no longer thought of as a criminal and the punishment is no longer an issue.
9. Therefore, David no longer has the right from his own mouth he can no longer treat Absalom as a criminal.
10. David no longer has the right to penalize Absalom. He cannot subject him to house arrest. Pardon does not simply mean free from punishment, but freedom to live as a law-abiding citizen.
11. Pardon means that Absalom is restored to full privileges of the royal family.
12. To banish Absalom from court is tantamount to saying that a pardon is not really a pardon.

David has no right to banish Absalom from court. This whole policy comes after the pardon. Wrong + wrong intensifies evil. This is being inside interlocking systems of arrogance.

He will have to turn back to his own palace. We will begin to understand why David is facing revolution.

2Sam. 14:24 And the king said [commanded, pronounced, declared], "Let him dwell apart in his own house; he is not to come into my presence." So Absalom lived apart in his own house and did not come into the king's presence.

2Samuel 14:24

04/20/1980 Arrogance destroys the spirit of pardon; hazing; obedience is a cover for mental attitude sins; thought; history and Scripture

You can only go so far with doctrine in understanding these passages unless you know some of the background; so we study Rome and Greece; the Hyksos, etc. All of this will fall in place sooner or later, if we are interested. What we are in life is what we think and what we are capable of thinking.

What struck Bob with regards to the brainwashing techniques of the Koreans. They had to destroy the scholars; they had to destroy those who knew history. They learned this when the Germans went into Poland. They rounded up all of the college professors and those who were successful and they executed them. First objective was to destroy the thinking of the land. Russians figured that they must attack the spiritual side of a nation and the culture side as well. Wherever there was great drama, great music; anything that was truly romantic or emphasized integrity.

Communists found that there were a lot of homosexuals in high positions in the British government and they were easy to manipulate and to get info from them. Primary objective of communists is to keep us from thinking. Our capacity for life, our scale of values, is all related to thinking.

Dr. Davidjohn was from Iran, and he knew several languages, but not English, but he learned it while going to school here, and he became a pretty good doctor. If you can't think, then you can't love. "Great lover, my...uh..." Anyone can learn to think. You must learn vocabulary. Less time in disco joints. You can learn to think. Doctrine does this for a lot of people. You can establish in your soul an entire scale of values.

Bob believes that he has given us enough background to understand. Many want to go through the book of Revelation, but it is the simple book. "If all you can do is say, hey, man, what are you going to do when all of those creatures are crawling out of the earth....?"

Also, when Revelation is taught, then people start crawling out from out of the cracks to hear about it.

David's Lack of a Full Pardon

1. David's pardon is not complete. The punishment is set aside, but there is no real forgiveness from David. His crimes ought to be forgotten and he ought to be seen as a law-abiding citizen. Without this, the criminal cannot be rehabilitated. Privacy is so good in Berachah, that some can get divorced and both show up to church with their new opposite numbers and it works out okay. Freedom demands a certain amount of patrolling. This is the only way that freedom can continue to exist. As our own priest, we have the right to come and go. Policy is necessary, but policy can be overdone. Society forgave Absalom. Only the king did not forgive Absalom completely. Absalom ignored that society forgave him, and used David's inability to forgive against him.

2. When grace forgiveness is removed from the pardon, then the pardon is not truly a pardon. Society welcomed Absalom back as a hero. Society did not penalize Absalom. Only David. That was David's failure. Wrong + wrong = wrong. Society did it right. David pardoned him, and society went along with that.
3. David's lack of forgiveness, will provide the revolution with a leader.
4. There is also a principle. Half-forgiveness is no forgiveness. That is why some married couples never get along. Various fights that Bob referred. However, even though there were things they supposedly forgave the other person for, they just kept it to bring up at the next argument. They did not completely forgive their partner. They simply agreed not to talk about it until the next argument. David's refusal to forgive and forget will sew seeds of bitterness into Absalom's soul. Absalom has been a mature believer. So his bitterness is not an okay thing. David was wrong; but Absalom was wrong as well. Society forgave Absalom.
5. The pebble which drops David into the river becomes a tidal wave.

David and Forgiveness of Absalom

1. Once David has forgiven Absalom, Col. 3:13 he ought to have applied the Royal Family Honor Code. We are to graciously forgive others. We forgive as God has forgiven us.
2. We are to forgive and forget. We are to forget the crime. A person may be immune from punishment, but that is only half forgiveness.
3. The pattern is stated in Isa. 43:35.
4. Therefore, from our Lord's statement, forgiveness means to forgive and forget. You must separate a person from that person's failure and pardon and forgive.
5. David failed to do this. Absalom was now immune from punishment. He suffered from an arrogance hangover. He suffered from legalism and an arrogance hangover. His hangover came from his self righteousness. He is one person ought had the least right to be self righteous. How can he be self righteous about murder and rape, when he did both of these things? Bob likes, "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."
6. God cannot and will not use an unforgiving spirit. David had to learn this through facing a revolution. When an unforgiving spirit does not forgive someone, they are worn out and implacable. Pettiness is the result. There is no function of unforgiveness. So, they relax into their own sweet self, but they are petty, so they only take a vacation from being unforgiving.
7. The arrogant, the petty, the vindictive, etc. do not forgive and would rather stay out of fellowship than forgive.

Overtly, Absalom appears to be okay here. He is in complete obedience to the king's policy. Inside while obeying, he is angry. He went to his own palace and did not come before the king's face. You become your own worst enemy if you overtly obey authority, but then, in your soul, you stay bitter. We will all face unfair or unnecessary treatment. Some people, when they face this, they think they are terribly abused. Liberalism has tried to destroy hazing.

It is easy to learn the system of how to obey. You have overt obedience to authority, but in the soul, there is bitterness. In Absalom's soul, he is thinking, "You bastard."

There are 3 geniuses here; David, Joab and Absalom.

Bob was going to go down and line up the teens who are out of control behind the glass, and line them up and march them, and give a little talk about how they resent Bob and resent their parents. But someone told them; it leaked out. When Bob took off the harness and went down there, and the whole row was emptied, and filled with people with pious faces. It was beatific; it was cherubic. A perfect illustration. If they ever learn authority-orientation, it will carry them all the way through life. They will learn, at the very least, how to appear to cover, how to appear to be under authority, and all the time, resent it. It happens in business, in the military, in local churches. Had David taken his little lad, Absalom and trained him from the beginning in authority-orientation, maybe put him in a hazing situation, and to work with him. Part of the problem is, people have nothing in the soul. It is all weakness. To be hazed and to take it well is one of the best things in life. The Lord hazes us. He hazes us in disaster.

Absalom returned to his own palace and did not see the face of the king, and this planted a seed of bitterness which put Absalom permanently in the interlocking systems of arrogance; he will live in arrogance and die the sin unto death.

2Sam. 14:24 And the king said [commanded, pronounced, declared], "Let him dwell apart in his own house [he must go back to his own palace; he will go back to his own palace]; he is not to come into my presence." So Absalom lived apart in his own house and did not come into the king's presence.

Use of Berachah as a front; legal and grace function for pardon; male long hair; the beauty of Absalom and his Narcissus Syndrome

There are 2 guys in the back standing around gaping. Probably invited by some girl. That's not the end of it. I've never seen so many weird things happen in all my life.

Bob brings in parallel periods of time in history in order to provide some enjoyment to the listener and for application. Every day, some new testing seems to come our way and challenge our loyalty to Bible doctrine.

A female who used to work in the prep school and then went to a taper's group in another place, and she alleges to speak in tongues. We don't deny that anyone of us might get vertigo.

Whoever thought, 30 years ago, we would have to put in the bulletin we do not sponsor any political candidate, etc. Berachah Church does not take responsibility nor is it liable for the actions of various members. If anyone approaches you and wants to teach you about firearms, you ought to ask what is the liability here; who has insurance?

"If you do not know how to clear a piece, and by that, I mean a .45, you aren't ready to use a weapon." If you think you speak in tongues, then sign out and don't come back. Tongues people always have a gimmick; come here so-and-so's testimony.

Summary

1. Where grace function is commanded and rejected, there are devastating results in the field of human relations. David failed in the spirit of the law. Absalom came back and was not punished, so David kept the letter of the law but not the spirit. 3 men of genius who have all become confused.
2. The pardon of Absalom requires a grace function; forgive and forget.
3. But the bitterness in David's soul and the self righteous arrogance neutralized any grace attitude or grace function. David, who raped Bathsheba and who had her husband killed, suddenly becomes self righteous. The heat is off and he is no longer under the gun, he becomes self righteous. Remember what you were before you become what you are. David has no right to be self righteous. The bitterness in David's soul now neutralize the grace function in his soul.
4. The chain reaction will begin with Absalom and he will reenter the interlocking systems of arrogance.
5. Joab will become disillusioned and his eyes were on Absalom as the country's panacea. Now he has become disillusioned. Neither a president or a Congress will save our country. There are certain plus factors to which our Lord responds. He is embarrassed. Don't ever let your failures keep you from Bible doctrine. There was a kid who always wanted to cry after a game. Bob made him stand there until he would stop sniveling. "Walk out there with poise." Bob tried to teach poise, which is more important than teaching baseball. You're probably sitting next to someone who has failed; so what? We're all failures. When you fail, come in and plunk yourself down, and act as if nothing happened. Joab didn't do that. He would not even show up in court. He made such a bad decision, he just quit.
6. Joab will remain loyal to David as the king and commander-in-chief. Absalom will become the leader of the conspiracy. There are a lot of differences between Joab and Absalom. They are first cousins and men of great geniuses. Joab will fail and recover; Absalom will fail and he will not recover.
7. The difference is between the humility of Joab and the arrogance of Absalom. Prov. 3:33–35 The LORD's curse is on the household of the wicked, but He blesses the home of the righteous; He mocks those who mock [the arrogant soccer], but He gives grace to the humble. The wise will inherit honor, but He holds up fools to dishonor. arrogance is the house of evil. Righteousness and justice are the two halves of the holiness of God. One house has arrogance and the other has grace.

This Proverbs passage is quoted twice in the Bible. James 4:6 But He gives greater grace. Therefore He says: God resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble. 1Peter 5:5 Likewise, you younger men, be subject to the elders. And all of you clothe yourselves with humility toward one another, because God resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble.

The Legal and Personal Aspects of the Pardon

1. If you are consistent with taking in doctrine, then you will be consistent in your life pattern, with capacities for everything.
2. You will also have capacity for pertinent doctrine. You will avoid impertinent doctrine which results in distortion and failure.
3. As long as the law says Absalom is a criminal, the law applies; that was the status.
4. Once Absalom is pardoned, the grace principles apply. David treated Absalom as a criminal after he pardoned him. Pardon means, once it is pronounced, the criminal is no longer a criminal. There must be environment and the environment for rehabilitation is freedom. The victims are forgotten; the crime is forgotten.
5. The grace principle of pardon is forgive and forget. The legal principle of demanding of punishment. Both must apply. Pardon, from the grace standpoint, means forgive and forget. From a legal standpoint, it means no punishment.
6. The restored Absalom is no longer a criminal. Therefore, his crime must be forgiven; forgive as Christ forgave.
7. By applying the wrong principle, David is inconsistent.
8. David is treating Absalom as a criminal. A criminal is no longer a criminal the crime is never committed in the first place, is the idea.
9. Now that David pardons Absalom, he should forgive and forget. This means he should see Absalom face to face.
10. Once more, arrogance destroys the grace perspective.
11. Cursing will not be turned into blessing in this installment.

Once the rebound has occurred, as in David's case, there is still a lot of discipline to remain. However, before, the suffering was unbearable; but now, it must be bearable.

2Sam. 14:24 And the king said [commanded, pronounced, declared], "Let him dwell apart in his own house [he must go back to his own palace; he will go back to his own palace]; he is not to come into my presence." So Absalom lived apart in his own house and did not come into the king's presence.

2Sam. 14:25 Now in all Israel there was no one so much to be praised for his handsome appearance as Absalom. From the sole of his foot to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him.

Absalom cut his hair once a year. Absalom was a beautiful hippie. He weighed his hair and it was 5 lbs of hair. Long hair is a sign of rejection of authority. Bob is going to take a deep breath because he is not going to preach on long hair. Maybe you men with long hair are really cute.

Someone can walk in with long hair, and you do not have a right to razz him or meet him in the parking lot, etc. We have varying types of hairstyles among the men. There are varying controversies as to how long a man's hair can be.

The narcissist syndrom of Absalom. Can a man have long hair? No alcoholic beverage; no meat, no women, and wear a hair shirt and wear it inside out.

2Sam. 14:26 And when he cut the hair of his head \(for at the end of every year he used to cut it; when it was heavy on him, he cut it\), he weighed the hair of his head, two hundred shekels by the king's weight.

And like Absalom, there was not a man. In all Israel there was no man so handsome as Absalom.

Women are most more concerned about skin than men. Women examine another's woman's skin carefully before determining whether she is beautiful. Robert E. Lee died at the age of 65 with perfect skin. Ladies look for blemishes and for sags. Absalom had no blemishes anywhere.

Physical Beauty

1. Generally speaking, beauty of the face and body are gifts from God, over which we have no control. We are unable to go back and readjust the genes.
2. No person has control over the size and shape of his features. If you fight in the ring, they might change. Some of you act as if you had a great deal to do about this, but you do not. Bob is not just referring to the ladies.
3. Some are born beautiful and some are born without it. Bob is very opinionated about female beauty. Bob can tell you in a second a woman's best feature; her feet.
4. We do not earn or deserve human beauty. It is a matter of God's grace and sometimes his sense of humor. Beauty is in the soul; not in the face.
5. We do not have any right to pride or arrogance because we appear more attractive than others in the human race. We can take some pride and improve how we look, so that others do not shiek in terror to see u.
6. Arrogance is unreasonable. It erroneously assumes superiority on the basis of physical attractiveness or beauty. A lot of people cannot help the way that they look. You have no right to think, "Who opened up the zoo?"
7. There are certain things we can all do to enhance our appearance and improve our beautfy; take a bath or a shower before Bible class; use deodorant if necessary. A woman who refrains from makeup is not closer to God. Makeup is not the devil's tool. There is nothing in the Bible which says a woman cannot wear makeup. This does not make you spiritual or not spiritual. Up in Yankee country, walk in wearing lipstick and they think you're a prostitute or straight from the devil.

8. Being squeaky clean is much more attractive than nice features that are dirty.
9. The greatest beauty preparation is soap. God has blessed us all in a country where there is an abundance of soap and water.
10. Cleanliness, neatness and good grooming are things over which we have some control, and they are a sign of thoughtfulness toward others. The danger is possessing natural beauty. It is a mistake to think that natural beauty is some form of superiority. Rebecca was all overt beauty with an ugly soul. 2Tim. 2 we studied that in great and extensive detail. Mental arrogance + blind arrogance which is often parlayed off into psychotic arrogance.
11. Some people become more attractive as they get older; and some lose their attractiveness with age. Often this has nothing to do with genes, but often with the true beauty of the soul. The soul is the secret to beauty.

2Sam. 14:25 Now in all Israel there was no one so much to be praised for his handsome appearance as Absalom [so highly praised for his beauty as Absalom]. From the sole of his foot to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him.

04/22/1980 Narcissus syndrome; Narcissus and Echo; beauty: virtue and arrogance; flattery degeneracy of male long hair; long hair of Absalom

Bob discussed beauty last time, so Bob will start with a love story between Narcissus and Echo. Echo was a beautiful woman, called a nymph, which meant beautiful woman. She was an outdoors type. She was the daughter of Diana. She fell in love with a very handsome man. She was very conversational. She loved to talk. She offended the head of all the gods and goddesses. The wife of Jupiter was jealous, and made it so that she could only reply. She fell for Narcissus, the son of the river god Aphis. Narcissus saw her from across the mountain, and he said, "Let us join one another" but he only heard "Another." This is the only tragedy which Bob knows about where woman could only respond and not speak. Echo was broken hearted and she faded away, until there was nothing left but her voice, in the caves and mountains and valleys.

Narcissus like to play the field. One by one, he rejected all of the nymphs. He had no capacity for love. A nymph prayed that Narcissus love someone and not have that affection returned. He fell madly in love with his own image at a pool of water. He tried to hold it, but he could not; he talked to it, but it would not answer. He died of unrequited love. He actually was so much in love with himself, the problem of many people.

The Narcissus Syndrom

1. This is where arrogance destroys capacity for love. Like Absalom being carried away from his own beauty.

2. Attractiveness is noted by mirrors and arrogance comes from assuming superiority as a result of physical beauty. There is the possibility of self-improvement, if that does not detract from real beauty, which is of the soul.
3. Physical beauty without soul beauty is self-centeredness, egocentricity and no capacity for love.
4. Interlocking systems of arrogance destroy all abilities, potentials and talents for greatness. Absalom was neutralized by interlocking systems of arrogance. This also destroys all capacity for life for love for blessing for success. Interlocking systems of arrogance destroys the effectiveness of physical attractiveness and personality attractiveness.
5. While the narcissus complex is a preoccupation with oneself or one's body, we use this in relationship to the soul as a part of our detailed study of interlocking systems of arrogance. Absalom had physical beauty and a great personality and he was a genius. He was flattered for all of this. His true potential for greatness was perhaps compromised by this.
8. Absalom assumed, erroneously, that when inside the interlocking systems of arrogance, that physical beauty was virtue. A movie, Rebecca, with an ugly soul. You need to get beyond the facade of physical beauty. Today, divorce is the name of the game. Some marry once or twice because they are attracted to physical beauty, without ever noting what is in the soul. You cannot discover what a person has in their soul in 2 or 3 weeks. Absalom assumes that beauty is virtue.
9. The invention of the mirror, one of the great inventions of all time, whether the mirror is helpful or not depends upon the volition of your soul. Nothing wrong with muscle building. Bob is 62 and is still lifting weights (he has a gym in his own house). It has helped with his studying, but he does not walk by mirrors and pose. There is something about the female form that is magnificent. Bob does not like to share his appreciation with the person who has the form.
10. The woman is so attracted to her own beauty, that she needs to avoid interlocking systems of arrogance. In our passage, we are dealing with the man.
11. Humility + beauty is virtue, but arrogance + beauty is evil.
12. Humility + beauty = objectivity; arrogance + beauty = subjectivity. Such a person has no capacity for love.

There was no defect in Absalom's beauty.

2Sam. 14:25 Now in all Israel there was no one so much to be praised for his handsome appearance as Absalom [so highly praised for his beauty as Absalom]. From the sole of his foot to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him.

Why Does God the Holy Spirit Give Us an Entire Verse on the Beauty of Absalom?

1. Absalom was physically attractive to other people. He was a genius in reality. He listened to the flattery and neutralized his own potentiality. His very appearance on the street excited attention. People flattered him. It should not make any difference what the mirror says or what people say or if you know you are attractive. Your own volition takes that flattery and walk into interlocking systems of arrogance, that is when it becomes a problem. Bob is impressed with all the beautiful people in Berachah. That makes his job much easier. Being beautiful can be a source of great danger. Your beauty can be a help or a distraction to doctrine. It is based upon your volition. When Bob was in Beverly Hills, people would come there and make it, and then drop their less attractive spouses. An older woman helped coach her husband in acting, and he had no natural ability. And he had terrible breath. She did everything for him, and when he got famous, he could not divorce her fast enough. She was the person who made him. Beauty, virtue, and allowing your attractiveness to become a distraction.

3. Humility of soul protects the individual from the narcissist syndrom.
4. Through capacity for love, you are sensitive toward others. Narcissist type is preoccupied with himself and is hypersensitive. They are totally insensitive about the feelings of others. Humility of soul is being objective then physical beauty is not a distraction. Absalom was a genius with great leadership ability. He had a great combination of genes. He was half-Hurrian, with the Maryana code; and from the tribe of Judah. A breathtaking person. Behind that facade of almost perfect beauty was great potentiality. Behind the beauty was the potential of being the greatest king of all time. The potential of the soul is destroyed by the distraction of the physical beauty.
5. The principle, love does not compete with the object of love. Do not compete with the person you are in love with. That is a sign of arrogance. Some men are insecure in the presence of a beautiful woman. Some will follow this woman around to make sure she does not speak to anyone else. You can destroy anyone with jealousy. Jealousy takes away freedom in the same way the revolution takes away freedom. Or in the same way the federal government is taking away our freedom.
6. Absalom began to assume that the superiority of his body made him superior over others. He had a beauty of face and body, and he became narcissistic about this, and compromised his own potential. We would have liked Absalom. He would be an easy man to follow.
7. He had great potential which was destroyed by his narcissism. The Bible is called a mirror, because we can look into the Bible and see ourselves. You may think that you are unattractive, but your physicality is not a negative. Before you can learn doctrine, you need to be rid of your subjectivity. Your only concern should be getting Bible doctrine.
8. The possession of great physical beauty does not mean happiness or prosperity; or unhappiness either. Popularity is not happiness. You may have been striving all of your life for popularity and you find out, you are not happy because of it.
9. Those attracted to beauty only have no capacity for life and a poor scale of values. If you have nothing in your soul, then you have nothing. If a woman is attracted to you because of your attractiveness, then tomorrow, someone will come along who looks better, and it will attract her. There is always someone who is more attractive.

You have nothing if all you have is beauty. A one-night stand, yes; any port in the storm, yes; ships which pass in the night, yes. Some of you will take ugly if it is a guaranteed meal ticket. You can see how people are able to make themselves and everyone around them unhappy. Such people have no stability in life. Bob is in pain for ladies who are 40 and are trying to pass for 20. This does not mean you don't try to keep up your attractiveness. A woman does not start to think until age 30 or 40. Most women don't have a serious thought until age 30 or so. They look at these screaming rug rats and say, "Where am I? Who am I? What am I doing here?"

10. Only arrogance makes physical beauty a handicap. Physical beauty is not a problem in itself. Beauty is secondary to integrity, honor, capacity and doctrine. Those are the ingredients for happiness and success in life.

The Title of the Verse: the Degeneracy of Long Hair on a man. There are great barbers in Berachah. Sometimes, Bob misses his once/week haircut. The young set thinks you need it over your shoulders and down to your crotch. Bob found a way for us to have long hair. Don't make fun of someone with long hair. There is a reason for long hair, and it is the Nazarite vow. This vow does not exclude soap and water and other normal grooming habits. The Bible does not discuss how you dress, but it does teach one thing about grooming. While you cannot see a man's soul, when you see his hair on his collar, there are a number of things going on in his soul. Vissigoths, the lombards, the Franks, the Angles, the Saxons, the Jutes, had long hair. When the Romans began to grow long hair, there was the decline of SPQR. The transitional period of time, the Dark Ages. Hair has a great deal to do with civilization. These various peoples came from all kinds of degeneracy, but when they hooked up with doctrine, that changed. Long hair on a man is rejection of authority.

This verse tells us that there were barbers in the ancient world. The barber there cut his hair once a year, and it was too heavy for Absalom. The weight was about 5 lbs by the king's scales, means about a half-pound of hair. It should be 10% of 5 lbs. That is the purpose of referring to this as the king's weight. When Bob gets his haircut, they don't even sweep. The king's scales gives the correct weight, but there is a denotation of 10% because this was used for taxation.

This much hair means that Absalom had become a hippie. Absalom was arrogant. Absalom had lost his authority-orientation in life. Long hair has always been a sign of rejection of authority. It is the distortion and abuse of authority. He is rejecting and abusing and distorting his authority. Long hair on a man is anti-establishment. Revolutionaries are easy to tell; they are those with the long hair carrying a spear. David could have given the war call, "Kill the longhairs."

in some period of history, long hair can refer to a pristine society or a lack of barbers; but even in most ancient times, Africans kept their hair short. They fought each other, so they always kept their hair cut close to their head. They considered shaved heads a thing of beauty for a woman. For the African, a woman was not beautiful if you could see hair on her head.

Bob will not ask, "How are you fixed for blades?" Long hair on the male is hippie arrogance or the authority syndrom.

A new doctrine tomorrow night: the problem of long hair on the man. There will be a prize for the person with the longest hair, or the mother with most children for long hair.

2Sam. 14:26 And when he cut the hair of his head (for at the end of every year he used to cut it; when it was heavy on him, he cut it), he weighed the hair of his head, two hundred shekels by the king's weight.

The concept of long hair on males; the Nazarite vow in the Old Testament and the Church Age, beards and subservience; Dore Shary; arrogant actors

Rock stars are given more thought than and praise than Nobel prize winners (I think Bob is reading).

Arrogant people are totally ungrateful. You can beat your brains out helping them, and the first time that you turn away from them. Balderdash will let himself be pet, and when you stop, he bites your foot to tell you to get back to petting him.

The problem of longhair on the male. Bob does not care much for longhair, but this is not his own opinion here.

The Nazirite

1. Nazirite vow, which is an Old Testament vow that Paul takes. He is bound by a vow to be set apart from others as a special service to God. He is separate from the rest of society. How do you distinguish one man from another? You let your hair grow long. Israelites did not have long hair. There was the exception of the man with the Nazarite vow.
2. Nazirite comes from the Hebrew verb nazar. It means to separate oneself, to consecrate oneself; to abstain.
3. Nezer means crown or consecration.
4. The person who consecrates himself is called a nazir.
5. Num. 6:5 the Nazirite was not to cut his hair. Consecration is shown by your head, which is where your thinking occurs. You never go to the barber shop.
6. The growing of the long hair was a special crown of humility. That means, it is humiliation for a man to have long hair. Absalom wanted to give the impression that he was under some special vow and that he was holier than anyone else. Some join campus crusade to find a gf or to impress a young lady, or whatever. Bob tells us that San Bernardino is San Berdoo and San Francisco is Frisco.
7. The Nazirite how the crown of God on his head and could not cut his hair.

8. While this was a for a fixed period of time, the hair could not be cut. Samson could never cut his hair. Samson's parents made the vow for him, which meant that Samson was stuck with this. Judges 13:5, 14 1Sam. 1:11 Samuel as well. John the Baptizer was also a Nazirite. They were thought to be holy men.
9. Jewish society accepted those men whose long hair was a result of a vow made to God.
10. Num. 6:1-21 gives us the law of the Nazirite. Some did not shave, so that made them look like a man and it balanced things out. Bob makes it clear that we have a right to have a beard. If someone says something, report him, and Bob will deal with it.
  - a. No alcohol allowed to a Nazirite.
  - b. No contact with a corpse
  - c. You cannot touch a woman; no sex even with your wife.
  - d. Long hair means total subservience, in this case, to God.
11. When a client nation like ours become arrogant, then long hair is the rule. Jer. 7:29 all vows get cancelled when God is about to punish the client nation. Cut off your hair and start crying. Climb a mountain over the tree line (a bare mountain). This is as close as you can get to God, and then you cry. For the Lord has rejected and forsaken this generation of His wrath. All vows are cancelled.
12. John the Baptizer was probably the greatest nazirite; but Samson and Samuel were Nazarites as well. The Dutch army is out of control; with long hair tucked under their helmets.

Long Hair

The male of Christianity is faced with a passage that deals with long hair. 1Cor. 11:3 these Corinthians were in a state of degeneracy. The head of every man is Christ, and the man is the head of the woman and God is the head of the humanity of Christ. Our Lord had a beard and it was pulled out of his face. Jesus Christ was subservient to God the Father. Every man while praying or prophesying has something down over his head (long hair) dishonors his head. He says with his long hair that he is subservient to the women in the congregation. The woman's hair is her veil. She ought to cover her head with long hair. If she does not do that, then shave her. A man ought not to grow long hair, since he is the image and the glory of God; but the woman is the glory of the man. The man did not originate from the woman, but the woman from the man. Man was not created for the sake of the woman, but the woman for the sake of the man. The woman is not independent of the man and the man is not independent of the woman. Lesbianism and homosexuality distort this. As the woman came from the man, so the man is born from the woman; but all things originate from God. Be discerning for yourselves, is it proper for a woman to pray with her head uncovered? Does not nature herself teach you the long-hair on a man is ashame to him, but a glory to the woman. If anyone presumes to argue the matter, we have no such custom nor the churches of God. Absalom's hair was a cover; it was not a matter of his soul.

The king's weight is 10% of the weight here.

2Sam. 14:26 And when he cut the hair of his head (for at the end of every year he used to cut it; when it was heavy on him, he cut it), he weighed the hair of his head, two hundred shekels by the king's weight.

“Sir and Ma’am”; authority orientation and freedom; David’s arrogance hangover

It does not matter whether you can hear the music behind the glass there; just if you can hear Bob. The music is for him.

Houston Post of 24 April 1980 (today). Bob takes the Post and reads it every few months. It is a Lynn Ashbey column called, sir, ma’am. These have disappeared. Endangered species. “If I said anything other than sir to my father, I would not be here.” Sir is a form of respect without thought to social standing. Mostly what bothers him is his children and their creepy little friends. None of their peers do it. The last holdout for good manners is probably the military. Others almost gagged on the word sir. Perhaps we are living in the twilight of ma’am and sir. We will all be the poorer for it.

Ashbey did not mention that these words indicate respect and authority-orientation. They indicate a respect for the freedom of others. This simply is indicative of living in a free society. We have a right to be recognized as an individual.

The weight of the hair was about 5 lbs. by the king’s scale (which is 10% of that). Bob did say that Jesus on the cross had long hair and he said this last night. Bob notices that some have a beard started and no one has taken a drop.

The real problem is authority-orientation. Without authority-orientation, it is impossible to become a mature believer. It is impossible to fulfill the plan of God. You need respect for the Word of God, which would include respect for the communicator. In the city, there are a large number of churches. Those who live in the country have a greater problem, since there are fewer churches to choose from. Some evangelize each Sunday, which cannot be enough to help one to grow.

When you believe in Jesus Christ, you are said to be born again, and that is a spiritual birth. There is a new aspect of training. There will be great divine discipline if you do not develop the respect. Eventually, you should have respect for God’s Word, for those who teach God’s Word, and for various authorities in general. It is never demeaning to respect authority. Only interlocking systems of arrogance causes a person to think that respect for authority is demeaning. Perception of doctrine is an authority-orientation system. Doctrine is something which does not interest you in the moment. Concentration in the adult is the secret to authority-orientation. You listen even though it is dull, or the communicator offends you, etc. You set aside these factors which may waylay your intake of doctrine.

Spiritual advance means you learn and you do not blame your parents or your past for your decisions. Freedom is 4 interrelated concepts. Freedom as the principle; the umbrella, which makes it possible for the freedom to exist, which is the authority. The concept of privacy and the concept of authority. Freedom is the principle of divine establishment. The Royal Family Honor Code. Privacy is related to the honor code function and the priesthood. To respect the privacy of others is a part of authority-orientation. It recognizes that each person has a right to his privacy apart from criminal activity. No one can have capacity for life unless he respects the property and privacy of others. Free enterprise is motivated by profit and property (which includes lands and all that you own).

If you leave your raincoat, you ought to be able to come back and find it in the same place or in the lost and found. This is because you ought to respect another's property. If you should leave your purse behind; it should not be disturbed. You would not think of stealing someone's purse or money.

Now you say, the person who left a hundred dollar bill, he doesn't have any authority over me. He doesn't, but God does; and we are to respect other's property. That is a part of authority-orientation. You would never think of razzing your boss if he has hair down to his shoulders; but you might try to razz someone in Berachah Church. It is not your business. Objectivity is humility. God makes war on the arrogant but He gives grace to the humble. We can demand certain codes from those who work for us, but we do not have a right to superimpose our standards and customs on someone else.

We have a right over our own property and the personal standards which we have. There can never be freedom, privacy or property without the umbrella of authority. There must be the balance of the laws of divine establishment. There cannot be an attack on anyone through socialism or redistribution of wealth; slavery or gossip destroy freedom. Freedom is lost through demon possession; through drug addiction. There are the divine institutions like volition, where we must respect our individual authority. The others who antagonize have no right to their antagonism. But you are free to dress a certain way. You are free to dress as you want, but not without wearing clothing.

Robert Stack and Bob lived in the same apartments in the 1920's when their homes were being completed, the Brison apartments on Wilshire. Less weirdos at that time. California in those days was very aristocratic. Bob was reminded that in reading Bob's Stack's autobiography. It was not an apartment as you think of it; it has a full-fledged grocery in the basement. Only the top 7 or 8 floors were for dwelling; everything was available.

God has provided an umbrella of divine authority. God the Holy Spirit, the teaching of doctrine, and the personality of the pastor-teacher. The Royal Family Honor Code demands authority-orientation and academic discipline. Nothing which would break your concentration or distract you. This issue demands communication of doctrine. Keep obeying those pastors who themselves are ruling over you. There is more than one pastor and more than one local church. Submit to their authority. They keep watching for the benefit of your souls as those who must render an account. Some pastor will try to get into a communal living thing, since he has to give an account. That is weird. Several have done that, and that is a distortion. The pastor-teacher

We are to keep obeying the pastor-teacher so that he can do this with joy rather than with groaning. It is unprofitable for us. Our authority-orientation concept must relate to the spiritual as the last hope. The easiest and the best way to do it is in the home.

The sons are not named; the daughter is named. There is a reason that this is stated. It is related to Absalom's long hair. Absalom rejected authority; he was not a Nazirite. No Nazirite would have 4 children. This means, he is having sex. So his long hair is lack of authority-orientation. The reason for that is, David is a poor father. David was the world's worst father. He was in sexual arrogance; he had a very large harem. Sexual arrogance made him a very poor father.

David's Children

1. Absalom named his daughter after his sister, who had been raped by his half brother Amnon. David's 2nd family was with Bathsheba, like Bing Crosby. David was a terrible father with the first group and he became a great father with the second group. Only 2 children were really successful. Chilliab (Abigail's son) and Tamar. We took a couple weeks on Tamar and she made a fantastic recovery and was the greatest believer of David's first group of children.
2. Aunt Tamar took care of the family when Absalom was out of Israel.
4. The 3 sons of Absalom died in youth, 2Sam. 18:18 Absalom took a pillar and erected it as a monument to himself. He thought, "I have no son to carry on the memory of my name." He had no surviving sons, therefore. His name would be blotted out, so he erected a pillar to himself. He put it in the valley of the kings because it belongs to the kings. He named the pillar after himself and it is called Absalom's monument to this day. This is why his sons are not named. They do not survive him. His sons are never named. His name is perpetuated only through the names of his sons. She was a woman of fair countenance. There is the problem with a feminine singular suffix here or something like that. He here is actually Tamar, and apparently this was a flunking crime for Fineberg.

She was a woman of beautiful appearance. Maacah is the daughter of Tamar the II. This brings together the line of Solomon and the line of Absalom. Absalom had a lot of respect for Tamar and love for her, so he so names his daughter. She was a beautiful woman like her aunt.

2Sam. 14:27 [\[Incidentally\] There were born to Absalom three sons, and one daughter whose name was Tamar. She was a beautiful woman.](#)

Society pardoned Absalom, but David did not. He felt like he had been trapped here. It turns out that society will be wrong and David will be right; but David is wrong in not following up on the essence of the law.

Absalom lived for 2 years in Jerusalem, without seeing the king's face.

David and Absalom

1. David reacted with great implacability with Absalom.
2. His mental arrogance reaction produced an arrogance hangover.
3. David's arrogance was wrong under the principle that 2 wrongs do not make a right.
4. While David was trapped and deceived into pardoning Absalom, it was still a legal pardon according to the law. The letter of the law and the spirit of the law. Under the letter of the law, no punishment; under the spirit, no rancor; forgive and forget. The only criminal rehabilitation is freedom and the chance to use one's volition. It depends upon the criminal. Some criminals have gone in for criminal activity and some go straight. David was tricked into pardoning Absalom; but this needed to be fully.
5. David in pardoning Absalom followed the letter of the law, not the spirit.
6. In the letter of the law, there is a stay of execution and immunity from punishment; and spirit of pardoning is to fully forgive.
7. Absalom should have been restored therefore as a member of the family.
8. He should have been treated as though the crime had never been committed.
9. In the case of a pardon, the victim of the crime must be forgotten and the criminal completely forgiven. He must be regarded and treated as a law-abiding citizen.
10. By refusing to see Absalom, David demonstrated arrogance and not forgiveness.
11. David pardoned Absalom, but the purpose of the pardon and criminal rehabilitation never made it to David's mental attitude.
12. Pardon is tantamount to grace treatment of a criminal. He is forgiven his crime.
13. Absalom will continue to be a criminal because in arrogance David did not forgive him and Absalom used it as an excuse. Society treated him in perfect freedom; he will use David's half forgiveness as an excuse. As a weak sister, any excuse will do. David gave him an excuse. Forgiving Absalom means seeing him face to face in castle Zion. In David's thinking Absalom is still banished. He failed to forgive and forget. David was wrong in pardoning Absalom; but since he did, he should have followed through with the forgiveness.

Bob draws a map of the Arabian Sea and the Persian Gulf. Delta team is one of the most capable forces we have. Bob cannot believe the comments he has heard. Delta Force is specifically trained for this kind of a mission and they have been trained for several months on this mission. They are the highest and best trained force for this. This is a highly trained, specialized organization specifically trained for this. The planning for this operation was excellent. The weakness of the plan was letting the Navy into the copter plane. Someone decided the Navy would not get enough glory, and the Navy copters were not equipped for this, and that was the problem. Someone of flag rank probably had enough pull to change the plan. You never take a small cloak and dagger plan like this and bring in more services than you need to. All army or whatever. The Air Force did a remarkable job but the Navy copter was the wrong equipment. CYA will be the name of the game all over the place. The Navy had a job and an assignment. Jimmy Doolittle's attack on Japan was started off of carriers. All of you who think your organization should have done it, you're wrong. Delta Force is as well-trained as the Israelis. Except for the 130's, this should have been army all the way.

It is no secret that Bob is not a fan of Carter's foreign policy; and it is hard to figure out whose ideas these are. This was President Carter's finest hour. He should have ordered Delta Force in when it first happened. The president would have been elected had this been a success; and he will get beaten up for it now. In its initial form, this was a brilliant plan. Apparently a Berachah man was involved. The president made a decision which was admirable. Bob's been glued to the television and those people making comments are living in another world. The president took the responsibility for this, and Bob applauded him for that. The people who know the least about the military are making all of the noise. These were honorable men who went in there. His son died, and the father said he was glad that the president made that decision. Bob thinks our president in the past 24 hours has shown us what a president ought to be. The villains are the people of the United States. We have fed the scum and neglected the military. We have used our votes to vote in fools into Congress who are disoriented to reality. Reagan made an excellent statement and even Teddy Kennedy made an excellent statement.

Thieme would place Delta Force over even the Israelis that went into Entebbe. We vote in politicians who vote billions of dollars to Communist countries and billions of dollars to feed scum.

This is one of the toughest times in the world to be an officer. We are at fault. We have voted people who keep scum alive. The scum on the streets, those on the government dole; they could not have done this feat. There are legitimate needs situations; but we have gone far beyond that. The 16 is a farce, and we are about to get a lousy sidearm. We are getting a .9 mm rather than our Colt .45's.

Rhodesian has developed a better infantry system for carrying their equipment than we have. We have just neglected our military. We listen to all this emotional claptrap, which should not even be allowed on the air, because it is treason. There are times when you have to use force.

This country is so arrogant; and the people who have been critical of the president; that is arrogance. If Delta Force got into Tehran, there would have been street fighting techniques not known in the world today. Man-for-man no one can stand up to Delta Force. That is the kind of training they have had. The rest is classified. They could still necessitate the original plan; Bob would love for us to see how Delta Force would do against a million moslems. The French razz us, and if not for us, there would be no France. Where we work for 8 hours and complain about the traffic, these men work for 48 hours without a complaint. Don't be a sucker when this becomes a political football.

There is something wrong with the people of the United States when they are shocked that force is used. It is a pitiful state of affairs. Bob is almost ashamed of being an American, when people complain about that. That bunch of dope addicts who perform late on Saturday Night.

We are begging to be destroyed. Bob leaves us with 2 thoughts Psalm 33:12 Blessed is that nation whose God is Y<sup>e</sup>howah. All Islam thinks that Allah had something to do with this. Psalm 22:26 we could be at war before you turn around; we could fall into a depression. The humble will eat and be satisfied. They who seek Him will praise the Lord. Let your right lobe refresh itself forever. Things are going to get bad and things will get confusing. Make sure that your soul is refreshed with doctrine on a daily basis. We have another Delta force; didasko force. Berachah's delta force has not shown much discernment; everyone is ready to blame the executive branch of government when they make a good decision. It takes moral courage to make the decision, to stand by it and to take responsibility. Bob expects us to apply doctrine correctly.

Some of the media has been very restrained, as if they might actually know something.

Absalom lived 2 full years without seeing the king's face. In the letter of the law, the penalty is removed.

Bitterness makes it almost impossible for recovery from the interlocking systems of arrogance. We have been unfairly treated; if someone cheated us or lied about us, we enter into interlocking systems of arrogance. We were maltreated, so we even feel sorry for ourselves. We lose our capacity for love our capacity for happiness. Bitterness becomes something which destroys you and leads you down the path of divine discipline.

In the spirit of the law, a pardon requires complete forgiveness. David must truly pardon Absalom, which is forgive and forget. That provides the environment by which the criminal can use his own volition not to be a criminal again. The purpose of the pardon was to give Absalom a chance not to be a criminal.

The doctor gave Ike the information, and Ike stopped smoking right there. He decided he wanted to live more than a year, so he quit smoking and lived 21 more years. Alcoholics Anonymous if they have any faults, it is to not stress enough one's own person volition.

Absalom has committed a crime; he is no longer a criminal. This is grace treatment of a criminal. Absalom had 2 years and Absalom reacted with bitterness. David could also be faulted for something else. There is a political thing here. He will not see Absalom for political reasons. This fulfills an obligation of Bathsheba that Solomon will be the next king. We will see a lot of this sort of thing this year, and many making political hay of this Delta thing. The media will exploit this. The media has decided that they can take anyone and make them president and that the people of the United States don't have enough sense to discern when they are being manipulated.

Bob's hat is off to the husband or wife who lets their spouse come to Berachah even though they don't like the church. Some people who dislike Bob the most in this town have never seen him; they heard it from people in the congregation.

Just think what a little flexibility might have done for David here. Let's say you walk out in the parking lot and see a beard and you want to make a remark; that is inflexibility. Someone could have long hair down to his crotch, and he may or may not know the Scripture on long hair; you have no right to say anything to them. There was a committee which would wander about and tell people how they ought to dress, etc.

David's Arrogance Hangover

1. The arrogance hangover where David was guilty of mental arrogance, he is inflexible, guilty of the by-product self righteousness.
2. David adds wrong to wrong; malfunction of the 2nd stage of the faith rest drill.
3. David uttered the pardon with his mouth and reject the pardon with his mind. Forgiveness is pardon. Do not say "I forgive you" if you use that against them later. Forgive means to forget. It means to no longer penalize someone for something which they did.
4. David rendered a judicial decision in the Supreme Court of Heaven.
5. This was David's arrogance hangover. He tried Absalom in absentia, as a compensation for his previous failure.
6. Once Absalom had been convicted, his brothers could execute him. Even David, as the father, could have executed him.
7. David, by refusing to see Absalom, violated his own decision. He has mentally executed Absalom. He cannot touch him with punishment, but he violates the spirit of the pardon. Institutional and psychopathic arrogance.

Pardon and David's failure; Joab's disillusionment with Absalom; forgiveness; volition and rehabilitation of criminals

God has provided for mankind a perfect plan, when God imputes to each one of us our birth human life and the human soul. Life resides in the soul forever. We receive human life and spiritual death at birth; and Adam's original sin is imputed to us as well.

Salvation is an accomplished work, and we decide whether we want to spend eternity with God or not with God. Faith, as a non-meritorious perception. The first hope is salvation adjustment to the justice of God. Freedom is the status of human volition, which we call live and let live. It is a legitimate function of humanity. Freedom is the concept by which we are evangelized and the basis by which we believe in Jesus Christ. Authority is the umbrella for freedom. Freedom cannot guarantee or manufacture equality in the human race.

Absalom will use the myth of equality. The greater the freedom, the greater the inequalities in life. Some will use their freedom to glorify God and others will use their freedom to embarrass God. Enforced equality is the strategy of Satan. Freedom and equality cannot coexist. Authority as the protection of freedom; no authority means anarchy and no freedom means tyranny. The reason for David's failure is in the realm of arrogance. In Prov. 11:2 Pride precede destruction and before a fall, the arrogance of life. Ezek. 7:10

When there is a pardon, you must forgive the person who committed the crime as well.

The Pardon of Absalom

1. Pardon means that David must forgive and forget the homicide committed by Absalom.
2. Pardon does not mean to tolerate a criminal, but to forgive the criminal and you no longer think of him as a criminal. You think of him as a law abiding citizen.
3. This means the criminal is no longer a criminal. The crime is blotted out and the victim forgotten.
4. By decree from the judge's bench, David no longer can treat Absalom like a criminal.
5. David can no longer penalize Absalom for a crime for which he was pardoned; but his refusal to see Absalom is a vendetta of personal vengeance.
6. Pardon means that Absalom is restored to full privileges of the royal family.
7. To banish Absalom treats him like he is still a criminal.
8. Half-forgiveness is not forgiveness. If you forgive your spouse, and then bring it up later, that is arrogance. Once you have said that you have forgiven someone, you have no right to think about it again. When you, with your lover, have a spat, and you forgive the other of a wrong, but you bring it up again later, you are arrogant and in a state of no integrity. If you forgive someone and bring it up later, you are wrong. You have no right to bring it up ever again.
9. David is treating Absalom like a criminal. This is no excuse for Absalom. Most people think that Absalom had an excuse. David as the king and society in general. In the spirit of the law, Absalom should have been forgiven. There is no such thing as rehabilitation from counseling. It is a matter of free will. No counseling system will be of any help. Only David failed in this matter. Absalom will use David's half forgiveness as his excuse.

10. The revolutionist is what Absalom is headed for. Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution. Crusaders always front for the criminals. Absalom will be the criminal; the crusaders are already functioning in that regard. Ahithophel, the grandfather of Bathsheba, is the crusader (the useful idiot).
11. No criminal can be rehabilitated apart from his own motivation. David's arrogance will give him an excuse to remain a criminal. God will punish David for his failure. David's arrogance destroys the grace principle of pardon. This will give him the excuse to rebel. David's arrogance produced a half-forgiveness, and this puts David right back into interlocking systems of arrogance. Absalom's bitterness will put him back into the arrogance complex.

Absalom lived for 2 full years in Jerusalem without seeing the king's face.

David and Absalom and a Lack of Forgiveness

1. The principle of legal pardon is not different from the principle of personal pardon and forgiveness. Saying, "I forgive you" is no stronger than the person's personal integrity. If your integrity is based upon Bible doctrine, and you are loyal to Bible doctrine, and someone asks for your forgiveness, then integrity and loyalty to the Word demands that you forget what was done against you.
2. The pattern for such pardon and forgiveness was stated by Jesus Christ, "I am He Who blots out your transgressions for My Own sake." I think from Isaiah. The justice of God and the perfect righteousness of God combine to make up the holiness of God. God no longer penalizes us for our sins. Isa. 43:25
3. The pattern of forgiveness is applied by the believer in Jesus Christ as a part of the Royal Family Honor Code. It is a part of our lives. Putting up with one another, which means, some others will offend you; and you need to graciously forgive them. If anyone has a complaint against another, even as the Lord has graciously forgiven you, you also graciously forgive him.
4. Arrogance produces instability and inconsistency of life pattern. This is a self-pity of
5. This is one of David's darkest hours when he refused to see Absalom for 2 years.
6. As long as the law says that Absalom is a criminal, then criminal law applies. However, once he is pardoned, then there ought to be forgiveness.
7. Pardon means that Absalom is no longer a criminal. Pardon is more than the cancellation of punishment. Forgive the crime and forget the victims of crime. When we suffer because of testing, the issue is grace. The sin is unbearable. The cursing is turned to blessing. The basis of turning divine discipline into suffering for blessing is rebound.

David's discipline was so great, that it had to be put into installments. One of the factors in the revolution. However, after the 4th increment, he will be greater than he has been in his life.

2Sam. 14:28 So Absalom lived two full years in Jerusalem, without coming into the king's presence.

3 men of genius: Absalom, David and Joab.

Absalom needs to be publically greeted by the king in order to get the revolution going. That will give him approval so that people can be deceived. David accepting hiim in the court. Qal infinitive construct Absalom sends for Joab twice in order to get an audience with David. Absalom was still a criminal, involved with criminal arrogance, conspiratorial arrogance, with mental arrogance.

A verb of volition + a verb of action. This is a refusal to do anything more. Joab realizes that Absalom is a con-artist and a criminal, so Joab wants nothing to do with him. He knows that Absalom is going to try to use him in some evil way.

Principle Involved

1. Absalom therefore sent for Joab twice and twice Joab rejected his request.
2. Joab by now recognizes his terrible mistake in sponsoring Absalom's pardon and return to Jerusalem.
3. Absalom has abused the pardon, and now Joab is backing away from him.
4. When you back a wrong cause, like revolution or a wrong person like Absalom, disenchantment is inevitable. No one can afford to be in disenchantment. That is arrogance.
5. Joab should have trusted the judgment of David instead of undermining David with the woman of Tekoa.
6. Joab has disentangled himself from Absalom and has disassociated himself form Absalom. He is ignoring Absalom.
7. Behind the facade of Absalom's scintillating personality and great physical beauty is an arrogant revolutionists. Joab has seen through this facade and he will avoid him from thereon.

Absalom wants to manipulate Joab one more time.

A Second Principle

1. Unless Absalom can be associated with David the king, the revolution will not gain enough momentum to move forward. It is stalled. Intrigue has come to a dead end. But intrigue is not attracting the general public. In order to deceive the general public, David must smile upon Absalom. Bob wondered why conservatives were so feckless in the US. Conservatives were willing to panhandle from the government on their own things. They were anti-Semitic. They were as willing to cater to the government over free enterprise. We are in a depression because the government is playing God. Conservatives are just as much to blame as the liberal. Bob used to go to those things, and speak, he would find that the same crowd was there, the same hard-core conservatives. Last time Bob went, it was Lubbock, the health food crowd wanting apricot seeds into the United States and the anti-Semitic types. But they are nuts. They all have something personal. They are cocoo clocks. Trilateral conspiracy is radicalism. It is not conservatism. Conservatism is the separation of church and state. In Russia, there are as many as 45% in agriculture, and they cannot keep themselves alive. We will never have a conservative anything because we take our own personal things and tack them on to conservatism. Abortion is not an issue and becoming involved in that is stupid. Getting health food and such things involved is stupid. Anti-Semitism is a gross evil. Throw in all of these other things, and you are a nut. You can have them as a personal view, that is alright; but to bring them in as a conservative issue. To vote for Carter because the conservative said the wrong things about some of those issues, and you see what we have. We have a hardcore group of people. Conservatives try to avoid paying their income tax, and it is wrong. Anything over 10% of your income is wrong. Taxing the oil companies and giving it to their foreign competitors is evil. There was a hardcore revolution going on during the time of Absalom. The movie about the replacements going into the land. They wiped out their officers and then the hoi polloi joined in, and there was this magnificent finesse. The general public is the key. You get the man in the middle to go with you.

2. There are a large number of discontent in the land but still establishment oriented.
3. The middle of the road people would never dream of overthrowing the Davidic government. It will take several years to get them into the revolution. Once Absalom is seen as sponsored by David, then he will go out into the public.
4. The general public can be sucked into a revolution by deceit. If Absalom is accepted in the court, that will get their attention and they will give him their allegiance.
5. This is the analogy. Someone can be seen talking to Bob and they will use this to gain suckers for their own financial schemes. Bob talks to all kinds of people in public. This kind of stuff occurs all of the time inside Berachah Church.
- 6.
7. The purpose of the local church is to learn Bible doctrine, to worship Jesus Christ, to advance to spiritual maturity, and to glorify God in so doing.
8. The sheep are not an assembly to be fleeced, to be exploited by investors, to be cheated out of their savings.
9. This does not imply that there are not many honorable businessmen in Berachah Church. They have great honor and great integrity. But they do not go into Berachah in order to solcity business. A cause maybe good or bad, but Berachah is a play where your privacy is protected.

Berachah Church takes no responsibility for the decisions made by its parishioners.

Joab Wises up

1. Joab abused his influence in the first place to do something detrimental to Israel.

2. He has broken off all connection with Absalom.
3. With Joab, it was hero worship, which is always followed by disenchanted and disillusion. None of these things should ever distract anyone from the truth.
4. The teaching of Bible doctrine substitutes Christ worship for hero worship.
5. Never allow disenchantment and disillusion to distract you from learning doctrine. Do not allow anyone to use doctrine to exploit you. What you do on the outside is your business. A magnificent women who took garlic for cancer, and she got carried away with that. Berachah doesn't even ask for money. You will know Berachah is over when there is a notice on the door and it is closed. You must be motivated to give or you don't give at all. Do you think you are doing us a favor by giving? It is not. We don't make an issue of money.

Another Principle

1. Disenchantment with the person is a result of hero worship.
2. Suffering from an arrogance hangover. Jer. 17:5–8 do not depend upon the flesh for strength. Do not depend upon some gimmick or some personality. The roots of the tree go into the water and it grows, like growth by Bible doctrine. Its leaves will be green. We all have a choice, occupation with Christ or occupation with people. The latter means you will never get squared away.

Ingratitude and implacability of Absalom, criminal act—burning Joab's property

If you are over 50, you have helped out someone in need, and they turned on you or they used you. First off, do not be bitter toward the person who deceived you. Absalom had no gratitude. Some people have no capacity for happiness, success, etc.; and they lack the capacity for thanksgiving. When involved in the interlocking systems of arrogance, we lose that gratitude. Most of us can recall college professors who were helpful, parents, or others who were helpful, for whom we have tremendous gratitude. So many have contributed to what we are today. He have a principle called auld lang syn. These are the great memories of life. A person can be authority oriented but with grace orientation.

Absalom, having been pardoned, could choose never to be a criminal again. However, he speaks to his servants and has them check out Joab's barley field. The Hiphil indicates that the servants of Absalom were to set the field on fire.

Absalom the Criminal

1. Absalom is still in interlocking systems of arrogance. He is guilty of criminal arrogance; of conspiratorial arrogance; of blind arrogance; of mental attitude arrogance. He is still inside interlocking systems of arrogance. The true concept of pardon is the letter of the law and the spirit of the law. The victims of the crime are forgotten and the criminal is forgiven. There is more to this than removing the penalty for breaking the law. He has had 2 years to turn himself around, but he is still a criminal.

2. Burning down this field is a criminal act. Robbery is an attack upon property. The destruction of property.
3. While Absalom has been pardoned and is not regarded as a criminal by society, he is still a criminal in his soul. As a law-abiding citizen, which is what Absalom is now considered, he reverts to criminal behavior.

Joab's field is next to mine; go and set fire to it.

Absalom's Failure to Reform Himself

1. The pardon gave Absalom the chance to use his freedom to become a law-abiding citizen.
2. This was absolutely necessary for Absalom to succeed David as ruler of Israel.
3. Absalom was tested by the king's arrogance, but he failed that test. 2Sam. 14:28 he had 2 full years.
4. He has 2 years of opportunity to establish himself as a law-abiding citizen. Arrogant self-pity was a factor
5. Instead of being objective and learning the lesson that God provided, Absalom reacted with arrogance of his own. He reacted with bitterness. Absalom reacts with bitterness of his own. Bitterness is a guarantee of subjectivity.
6. Absalom failed to pass the test of David's half-forgiveness. Some people are never promoted by God for one reason; it is not that they lack ability or talent or the ingredients of success, but because they are arrogant. Absalom had great talent and great ability. If anyone was cut out to be a leader, it would be Absalom. Everything was in Absalom's favor when it comes to innate abilities. Arrogance destroys the greatest talent and abilities. Lucifer has the greatest potential and arrogance destroyed him. He demanded authority. Bitterness is one way for us to recognize that we are arrogant. It is easy to feel sorry for oneself and to think we have a rotten deal. Bitterness is that subtle part of arrogance. Against a former husband, a former wife; against your parents, toward some pastor, some boss, toward anyone who exercised authority over you. Bitterness is a discontented soul and destroys personal happiness. You will face those who will not forgive and forget. You will face unfairness. Do not react with bitterness. David could not forget the criminal the crime or the victim.
7. Absalom is not qualified to reign in David's stead. 2 tests must be passed: the volitional test, the test of honoring the pardon by using his own free will to renounce crime. He can use his own free will and separate from crime. There is a certain humiliation in being forgiven, but humility is a part of the road back. Absalom did not rebound; he was negative toward doctrine. The 2nd test was being unjustly and unfairly treated by David's arrogance hangover. David should have seen Absalom immediately.

8. Absalom flunked the first case by his failure to rebound. His failure to recover from reversionism from persistent negative volition toward doctrine.
9. Failure to ignore David's snub and his unjust treatment of him on his return from Geshur.
10. He instead reacted to David with his own bitterness. Absalom was also ungrateful to Joab. Absalom should be kissing the feet of Joab, and instead, he is destroying Joab's business. Arrogance and criminality are incapable of gratitude.

For those of you had to wade through Les Misera, Juan forgiven, but he was hounded, but he became of his own free will to rehabilitate himself. He became a law-abiding citizen. Arrogance has no capacity for love. Absalom is crossing the person who went to bat for him. Arrogant people have no capacity for love, whether they are law-abiding or criminal. There is a relationship between your capacity for gratitude or your capacity for love. The criminal in his arrogance is an animal. Once you cross the criminal, he forgets all past favors and all past help, and he will turn against you and destroy you. Today, he burns Joab's barley field and tomorrow, he will overthrow David's government. Bob can recount for an hour people he has gone all out to help and there has been little or not gratitude. Everyone will face such a thing sooner or later. Those we have helped in the past will turn against us. We will be shocked at the people we have helped. Even if we are going to the firing squad or to martyrdom, God still does not allow bitterness. You may be bitter over a bad marriage; or a bad love affair, or you were cheated in business. It is easy to be bitter in a service organization. Like the policeman who is protecting society. Our freedom has been won on the battlefields of this country. You may be jilted by a woman or a man; or your boss is unfair and unkind to you, but you have done so much for them. You cannot have bitterness and be truly alive. You can be a walking zombie with bitterness.

There is some milling crowd out in front of the church.

Bitterness toward the president, or toward the foolish woman over in Iran, bitterness over those who have died. A military man faces death. The remarkable statement of Mark Holmes and his son who died. We all have some reason to be bitter toward someone. It is inevitable that we can find a reason to be bitter. This is a great temptation of life. Anytime you have a bitter thought in your soul, you are arrogant. You help out someone, and overtly, they are so appreciative. But you cross them one time, and they turn against you.

Arrogance has no capacity for love. Criminal arrogance has no gratitude for help or favors from the past.

Principle

1. Under freedom, only those with integrity recognize the property and privacy of others.
2. Destruction of property is an attack upon human freedom. Part of freedom is the right to own property. A great sign of freedom is the right to hold and own property and to have it protected from the criminal and the federal government. The oil companies have had good management and government has had lousy management. It is immoral to tax profits and then to take that money and give it to their competitors. Redistribution of wealth is always evil.

3. Joab accumulated property through honest hard work. This is a criminal act to destroy this field of barley. With the criminal, his arrogance demands that he has his way. Absalom was unable to manipulate Joab, so he became frustrated and he commits a criminal act. It was an act of violence, a criminal act. Psalm 22:26

2Sam. 14:30 Then he said to his servants, "See, Joab's field is next to mine, and he has barley there; go and set it on fire." So Absalom's servants set the field on fire.

Irresponsibility of the U.S. press; freed slaves; 6 requirements for client nation function. The coercion and manipulation of Joab

A guy named Paul whom God took home. An expert on Bach and was going to give us a Bach concert, but that we will enjoy in heaven.

Review back to v. 22, and this is the last time we will go this way.

Paul did a paper on the Hurrians, although he was unable to get into it enough.

We will not be in David indefinitely; the New Testament before long. However, Bob is not very appreciative of our lack of appreciation for this passage.

2Sam. 14:22–30 Joab fell with his face to the ground in homage and praised [he both honored and saluted] the king. "Today," Joab said, "your servant knows I have found favor with you, my lord the king, because the king has granted the request of your servant." So Joab got up, went to Geshur, and brought Absalom to Jerusalem. However, the king added, "He may return to his house, but he may not see my face." So Absalom returned to his house, but he did not see the king. No man in all Israel was as handsome and highly praised as Absalom. From the sole of his foot to the top of his head, he did not have a single flaw. When he shaved his head--he shaved it every year because his hair got so heavy for him that he had to shave it off--he would weigh the hair from his head and it would be five pounds according to the royal standard [one-tenth that weight]. Three sons were born to Absalom, and a daughter named Tamar, who was a beautiful woman. Absalom resided in Jerusalem two years but never saw the king. Then Absalom sent for Joab in order to send him to the king, but Joab was unwilling to come. So he sent again, a second time, but he still wouldn't come. Then Absalom said to his servants, "See, Joab has a field right next to mine, and he has barley there. Go and set fire to it!" So Absalom's servants set the field on fire.

There are certain laws for believer and unbeliever which are for our freedom. The laws of divine establishment operate from the fall of man to the 2nd advent and Christ. Divine establishment provides freedom and privacy for those who do not violate the common law. While the laws of divine establishment recognize that we are not equal in this life; we are not born equal nor do we live our lives in equality. Being unequal does not mean that you have demeaned yourself. You have the right to live in a free society. This right and function is given to us by God.

Freedom is the basis of true evangelism; freedom of speech does not mean irresponsibility in maligning or judging others. The press has become arrogant, and have become king-makers and the wield their power in great irresponsibility.

The original plan called for an air head after neutralizing the air force. Some missiles control the gulf and Saudi Arabia? It is irresponsibility to reveal plans in the press. Disseminating certain news requires responsibility. One must have a sense of responsibility. Freedom of speech does not give a person the right to gossip, judge, backbite; or to reveal military operations.

Many things in life are political, and they make excellent illustrations, but it is wrong for a pastor to stand up and support any candidate or political cause. A segment of the national council of churches, and there were great pronouncements by them that had nothing to do with the gospel or with Bible doctrine.

Divine institutions are covered. Once a woman decides to marry, she is surrendering all of her own personal freedom. Some recognize that they have made a bad mistake. Monogamy is a relationship between one man and one woman. Bob might not ever teach it again if he lives another 100 years. All of the distortions. Everyone began looking for the RM/RW and after 48 hours were ready to get married. God created the woman because it is not good for man to be alone. Marriage is the 2nd divine institution. In innocence, man enjoyed volition and marriage, 2 divine institutions which existed before sin. When a man and a women live together, they intensify their sin factor. However, no children until man was a sinner.

You are under the illusion that you can fall in love with a woman and she with you and you are going to be happy. But it is a delusion that you will get married and live happily ever after. When there are 2 sin natures joined together, the possibilities for sin are multiplied. You compound the sin factor or you compound the human good factor. A great man allows his wife to go to Berachah Church, even if he hates the church. He has found the key of how to make the marriage good.

Integrity is the key to love. Sex is not the key to love. Almost anyone and anything can engage in sex; this does not make for a great marriage. The key is in the soul. If the soul of the man is right, the marriage will work.

Marriage for some women begins with marriage, and that means daddy did not do right by his daughter. Daddy's girl and moma's boy can never make a go of it. The Bible does not mean that you no longer see your in-laws, but the authority and institution has been changed. No such thing as a 50-50 marriage; it is 100%-0. Crusader arrogance gets started by there being no authority-orientation. Marriage rejects anarchy, revolution, promiscuous communal living or live-ins. Marriage is not a solution to anything and it is not a panacea.

Divine institution #3 is the family. The physical birth of the child is the basis for the orientation to life. Long before compulsory education, which was a mistake. People ought to be trained at a very early age in a skill. The idea that you are no good unless you go to high school and then college, and absent that, you are nothing. This hurts a great many people. You do need to prepare for something in life. There are a lot of things which do not require college, and you never look down your nose at those with very little education. We live in a day when most congregations are education but the pastor is not. Bob thinks that pastors ought to have all kinds of academic training and authority-orientation training as well. Even evangelists ought to be better schooled than they are.

Drop outs in high school or junior high are not better or worse than anyone else. Bob would rather have 20 years of preparation for just 1 good year in the ministry. In fact, college has often destroyed the training of the home. In that way, college has been ruinous.

The family is the stability for the protection, nourishment and training of the child. However, whereas spanking is reasonable, brutality never is. Even then, there is a time when you put away the paddle and begin to get to their minds. That may be 8 or 9. You have to transfer it to communication. Somewhere, you have to make a transition and you must make it early enough. Bob has seen fathers knock their sons down; that father has just declared to the world that he is a failure. You must transfer to their souls thought. There is only one system of compulsory education, and that is the family. There are some people who are so oriented to intimidating anyone, that they punch their wives and beat their children. Liberals react to such tyranny and say, there ought to be no spanking. If a father must use force on his children at age 18, then he has lost out. Communist conspiracies determined to determine how to reach the children before their parents can teach them about God. So there is a tremendous amount of dope, and that undermines parental authority.

Authority-orientation is a mental attitude. Adjustment to life requires authority training. The parent must act as a trainer and a teacher, so the child does not have to learn the hard way. David himself is a failure as a father with the first group of his children.

We say that Cyrus the Great conquered the world, but he just conquered a large portion of it. Same for Alexander the Great. He decided before he died to have a Navy. He built a fleet and did some traveling about. Great portions of the world must be punished and a conqueror is used in order to get this done. There are millions of black and brown men today who are in heaven today because of the British empire. History tells us that there must be national entities functioning under the laws of divine establishment.

It took slavery to get the Jews ready for freedom. You can never have people in slavery and keep them in that nation after they are free. It will damage those people and the ones who enslave them. If ever a nation manumits its slaves, then they must be allowed to form their own nation. They must not be related to the nation which freed them.

A National Pattern

1. Interior protection of freedom. Jurisprudence. This means that law enforcement and jurisprudence are 2 of our most honorable professions. A few people who are wrong does not mean there is anything wrong with the principle
2. Exterior protection of freedom, the honor of the military. Our freedom has never been purchased by Congress; it has been purchased on the battlefield. We have never had a coup d'état, yet politicians keep cutting back on the military, claiming to be worried about that.
3. Democracy is a thin veneer of anarchy. In business, all of the people do not make topside decisions. There are those who are qualified to make those decisions. We look down our nose at south Africa.
4. A nation must be based upon free enterprise. We believe in the separation of business and state. Nationalizing business is an infringement upon business and freedom.
5. Law must be objective. Subjective law reflects the arrogance of the people. Subjective law erodes freedom and steals from the population. It invades our privacy. It is wrong to take a census; it is immoral.
6. A common culture which reflects the spiritual life and esprit d'ecorp. It is immoral to print a ballot in anything but English. All need to understand English in order to understand freedom.
7. Literature, art and drama.
8. A system of government administration which functions under its power without abusing its power. An administrative body to represent taxing, the military, the enforcement of law and order. Why all of this? This is so we can have evangelism.

We need this firmly in mind to understand what revolution is and what it is not.

04/30/1980 Absalom rejects recovery from criminal arrogance; laws of divine establishment and freedom for evangelism; separation of Church and State; Establishment and authority (no revolution); Ten Commandments

Bob noticed the change in the Secretary of State, and we are in for a tremendous amount of discipline.

Bob said he did not give us anything you could take notes on last night. Revolution is always anti-God and anti-establishment. We could not have evangelism without the police officer.

Freedom gives us the opportunity to hear the gospel and to make a decision with regards to the gospel. It can be positive as well as negative. You ought to be free to go either way. You should not be penalized for going one way or the other.

Somme churches have all those who are saved to stand, and then, they take note of those who are still sitting, and after the service, there is operation pounce.

Billy Graham has the gift of evangelism. He is not a careful student of the Word, and Bob shudders when he stands up and makes some political observation.

We have the whole realm of spiritual gifts in Berachah.

Bob teaches doctrine first; then he tries to knock heads.

All the countries south of our border have had problems because they have combined church and state. That is also a problem with evangelism there. Missionaries can be persecuted by the state and by religion. Protestants also have a marvelous knack for persecution as well, as long as the state is behind them. The individual must be free to accept or reject the gospel. All religion should be free of taxation and not supported by taxes. A person's relationship with God or lack of relationship with God is a matter of free will and privacy.

Follow up is not an issue. Some will accept Christ and go no further with it. Others will accept Christ and still be positive toward doctrine.

Some people start in different ways, but there must be freedom with regards to these things. Rom. 13:1–7 are all about freedom and authority. We have a right to protect our own property and person, but we do not join organizations to help the law. These organizations are lawless and stay away from them. 1Peter 2:14–15 subordinate you to every human agency. National arrogance is ruinous. There is also the problem of establishment and authority whereby certain members of the human race have jurisdiction over other members of the human race. Authority is necessary for the function of divine establishment. Calvin was a great theologian, but many of his students distorted what he taught. Calvin's greatest mistake was to move to Geneva, Switzerland, and he parlayed his spiritual authority into temporal authority. So he started running a city, and he was wrong and evil to do that. He should have stayed out of temporal function.

It is better to vote for an unbeliever with integrity than a believer without integrity. There have been many examples in history, but Bob won't go into them, so he does not affect for whom we vote.

Bob's gifts do not lie in the field of repairing anything. People need to remember that they lack in certain fields. He is a dog lover but not a good dog trainer. That is too hard for Bob.

God is the expert on how the protection of the human race ought to be established.

Bob never understood why Jane Fonda was not tried for being a traitor. We seem to have stopped doing that. The military did not lose the Vietnam war; the people of the United States did; we stopped giving them our support. The immediate consequence is millions of Asians are dead or in slavery. We all must face a text of an authority which we do not like and does not treat us fairly. Freedom is the heritage of birth and the imputation of...

The Decalogue is a part of the principle of freedom. Gal. 5:1 In the sphere of freedom, Christ has freed us. John 8:32 you will know the truth and the truth will make you free. And, I will walk in freedom, for I seek Your doctrines.

Proving for the common defense and promote the general welfare. The constitution is one of the most marvelous documents in human history.

2Sam. 14:30 Then he said to his servants, "See, Joab's field is next to mine, and he has barley there; go and set it on fire." So Absalom's servants set the field on fire.

Joab goes into action. He did not like his barley crop burned down, any more than we would like to be burglarized or our car destroyed. Joab spent a lot of money buying this property and invested a lot in its success. He is concerned about the loss of his crop.

What would have happened if Joab prosecuted Absalom in the courts. Bob thinks there would have been a revolution anyway.

Joab and Absalom are 1st cousins.

Joab and Absalom

1. Even though pardoned by the king, Absalom has used his volition for a criminal act.
2. The pardon gave Absalom the opportunity to use his volition as a law-abiding citizen. Pardon is the remanding of punishment and forgiveness. Absalom was allowed to use his volition freely.
3. The modus operandi of the Angelic Conflict is a series of free will decisions related to arrogance or humility. This must be related
4. Absalom had 2 years during which to rebound.
5. Absalom used the 2 years to reject doctrine, to reject rebound, and to remain in interlocking systems of arrogance. He established a character of evil.
6. We must conclude that the grace provision of 2 years did nothing to change Absalom's mind. He remained a criminal. .

All Absalom had to do was do something simple, go to the Ten Commandments. You will not was learned by every child in Israel. Demonism is always involved where there is arrogance. Isa. 21:9 37:12–19 Prohibiting the use of God's name in an unworthy or trivial manner. It is not to be used to sponsor human projects, e.g., this is God's will to replace David. The Sabbath is a memorial to the grace of God. Man had been graced out by the Law. David was the exception to test him.

In all of our lives, there comes a time when we can do nothing. The human race has to learn this lesson about once every 7 days. However, this was distorted into a horrible system of legalism. The Sabbath was to teach that, no matter how much we have,, there will be a point at which we are out of human resources.

Respect for parents is the basis for authority-orientation. Prosperity is based upon authority-orientation and freedom.

You will not murder. But there are times when the Bible calls for killing; when it comes to war or using capital punishment.

You will not steal protect the property of individuals.

Objectivity in the function of law, which demands truth in the courtroom. Therefore, it is against God's Ten Commandments to be a false witness. No gossiping and maligning as well.

The final commandment tells us not to covet, which is the motivation for crime. Establishment is the source of morality, not Christianity. The moral unbeliever needs Jesus Christ just as much as the immoral unbeliever. Christianity is not anti-morality either. Morality is necessary for freedom.

04/30/1980 Environmentalists; Absalom coerces Joab and fails in the justice test to build responsibility. Absalom's demand to see David - Secondary Manipulation

A professor from UT (I think) about free enterprise. This is where a hippy stands out on an Arizona desert telling some company where they can and cannot put a pipeline because of environmental concerns. Zero pollution is impossible, even though the writer is in favor of clean air. The environmental movement was kept alive barely for many years with good motivation, but it is now turning into a monster. It has gone from Dr. Jekyll to Mr. Hyde. He predicts that the environmental movement will cause the electrical power to shut down, and this will change people's opinion of them. Laying a pipeline across involves 1000 government permits. Owner of shoreline property and pays taxes, but cannot use it. The miner who cannot mine; the logger who cannot be a logger. Even labor unions will question these standards. He predicts a revolution by 1985.

Bob thinks that war and revolution are inevitable this coming year.

We are going to study revolution in great detail. We are on the verge of completing chapter 14.

Absalom chose to make a decision to commit a crime, which leads him into criminality, and he will commit several acts of criminality before the revolution.

FBI stats for 1979 and we are up about 8%; Pasadena is up; New Orleans is way up (the police force is completely under the control of labor and they are on strike). Anytime these people are labor unions, there will be a rise in crime. Today, the labor unions hurt labor more than anyone else. They have power now, and they lack the responsibility to use it. There is also a tremendous criminal infiltration into labor. This means that criminality does exist and the cause of the laboring man is not helped. Many have tried to clean up their own unions, but generally, this has been unsuccessful.

If we commit ourselves to a foreign war, then a revolution can easily rise up and be unopposed by our military.

Absalom and Criminality

1. Absalom set fire to Joab's harley harvest as an act of revenge.
2. Joab sponsored Joab's return to Israel.
3. Joab has done more for his first cousin Absalom than anyone else in Israel.
4. But in his soul, Absalom is still a criminal. Criminals are not grateful people. They have no sense of thanksgiving toward those who have helped them. Cross a criminal and he will take revenge on you.
5. Joab was the first to discover that pardon and a new lease on life did not change Absalom. He was still inside interlocking systems of arrogance.
6. Absalom by his own free will choice was still a criminal. So Joab had separated himself from Absalom and would have nothing more to do with him.
7. When criminal Absalom wanted a favor, he went to law-abiding Joab. Joab had helped him more than anyone else in life. Absalom wanted this favor as a criminal rather than as a law-abiding citizen.
8. Joab refused to see him, which is crossing the criminal. The criminal is nice to those who do him favors. However, when one crosses him, he becomes vicious.
9. No matter what you do or have done to help a criminal, they will turn against you the moment that you cross them. Making a criminal frustrated makes you their enemy. The criminal has no sense of gratitude and no sense of appreciation.

Criminals have capacity for friendship, no capacity for life, no capacity for love. So they cannot be a true friend.

The purpose of going to Absalom is to bring Absalom to the realization that he has had 2 years to recover. 2 years of pardon and freedom have done nothing to rehabilitate Absalom. The criminal may use pardon and resultant freedom to continue his life of crime. He uses freedom to remain a criminal, the opposite of what he ought to do.

We all need to face the injustice test.

Absalom Flunked the Injustice Test

1. David wronged Absalom with a half-forgiveness and has allowed this to continue for 2 years. Absalom flunks it every day. Bitterness is the quickest trip inside interlocking systems of arrogance.
2. This was Absalom's injustice test.
3. Society has forgiven Absalom and forgotten his crime.
4. However, Absalom is the crown prince and he could be the next ruler. Therefore, he must pass this injustice test. No one advances without passing the justice test. One nice thing about the army and navy, is we have a chance to pass the injustice test. They have destroyed the injustice test in little league. You have not lived until you have sat on the bench all game. Bob used to love to lecture those who sat on the bench. He would tell them, as soon as they would develop the skills, they would be on back on the field. Many have come back to Bob and thanked him for this. Learn to sit on the bench with poise. Watch the game. Learn something. Sometimes they kid or their parents had a bad attitude. One of the parents took Bob behind the bleachers, and Bob liked that. Guy and his kid showed up to Berachah the next Sunday. Bob liked that. It is the restraint of the pulpit which is difficult for him.
5. Only the Lord can rehabilitate Absalom. He must be positive toward doctrine, positive toward rebound. Bitterness will ruin us as quickly as anything.
6. David's refusal to see Absalom gave the crown prince an extra opportunity to learn doctrine.
7. His refusal to see Absalom was Absalom's one chance to use doctrine.
8. Absalom had a chance, a free will choice between doctrine or bitterness and arrogance which would destroy him. When you face the injustice test, you must always choose between blessing testing or bitterness leading to destruction. Because David was wrong and Absalom was right, Absalom used this as justification for Absalom's life of crime.

Unfair circumstances to not allow for criminal behavior. Joikin Marietta someone became a criminal and he was a victim of the gringos. 2 wrongs never make a right. His trouble was, he tried to right the wrongs in a personal vendetta against the gringos. Maltreatment tests authority orientation.

2Sam. 14:31 Then Joab arose and went to Absalom at his house and said to him, "Why have your servants set my field on fire?"

Absalom's last manipulation of Joab. Joab says, "I need to send you to the king to inquire." Absalom says it would have been better for him to have stayed in Geshur. He asks to see the king, and saying, if he is guilty, then let him put me to death. Now Absalom has no intention of dying. So, how can he stand up and sound so manly. Does he mean it? Of course not. He knows David is not going to execute him. There is always some lawyer shyster always willing to sell his soul for a mess of pottage. Legally, Absalom cannot be executed; and emotionally, he knows that David cannot kill him. So, he is clever. He knows how to manipulate others.

Joab was not intimidated by Absalom. Absalom is manipulating Joab, and Joab graces him out for the last time. Joab knows the king is out of line. This is why we spent so much time on the concept of pardon. The pardon becomes breathing space. Free will choices rather than. For 2 years, Absalom could be advancing. He was treated unjustly by one person, his father.

Failure to get out of interlocking systems of arrogance or to pass the unfairness test, these things do not justify revolution, bitterness, conspiracy, criminality, or anything like that. 2 wrongs do not make a right.

Absalom has erroneous reasoning here. He would not be better off in Geshur. Pardon and restoration to Israel would be the best thing for him, if he is able to take it and apply it. With his self righteousness and self-pity, Absalom is totally self centered. He feels justified in destroying Joab's property. He rejects the overall principle of authority. He rejects his father's authority as king and father and demonstrates this by attacking free enterprise. Our attitude toward big business is often related to our authority-orientation. You hear all of these politicians talking about windfall profit taxes. When Teddy Kennedy was asked, "How would you stop inflation?" I would winch up the profits. His attitude is adding evil to evil. This determines his authority-orientation. Bob is holding no stock today and he has no involvement in any corporation. When you reject success, you reject your own chances for prosperity.

There must be separation between government and free enterprise. Government has no right to tax free enterprise. Government has done nothing to get those profits. The government does nothing to gain those profits and they have no reason to steal them.

The government can certainly crack down on any criminal organization. Why doesn't it crack down on gangsters, criminals, etc.? It is easy to crack down on free enterprise. The government is responsible for the energy crisis. But the government shifted the blame to free enterprise. That was immoral and evil. Bob was watching a little news, and he sees one of the Henry Ford's and some idiot female, some flopmop interviewing him. Ralph Nader was going out to make himself more famous than to protect the consumer.

An interview recently of Mrs. Reagan by an interviewer full of himself.

Not better for Absalom to still be in Geshur.

Maltreatment from others does not justify maltreatment to others. Injustice from others does not justify injustice to others. Being discriminated against does not mean it is okay for you to discriminate.

Absalom is far better off in Israel than in Geshur. However, being in interlocking systems of arrogance is his problem. That is his own problem and own mental attitude. Still a lot to cover in this verse.

2Sam. 14:32 Absalom answered Joab, "Behold [now look], I sent word to you, 'Come here, that I may send you to the king, to ask, "Why have I come from Geshur? It would be better for me to be there still." Now therefore let me go into the presence of the king, and if there is guilt in me, let him put me to death.'"

2Samuel 14:32–33    72David Absalom's pseudo humility 05/01/1980 631_0363

Development of the criminal personality and change; hard core revolutionaries; injustice; a leader is to think, not do. Absalom and David 'kiss and make up'

Vol. 2 of The Criminal Personality. It is as if they were studying Absalom. At an early age, the criminal-to-be makes a series of decisions. Even in poverty, the majority of his peers are law-abiding, and he still makes choices which are against that which is right. He scorns such social institutions as the school, the church and the law. To be a responsible child in school means nothing to him. Crime does not come to the criminal-to-be, he goes to it. He views himself as one-of-a-kind. He needs to be #1 and a unique #1. Throughout his life, the criminal is a sprinter and not a long-distance runner. Success at school or work does not satisfy him. The criminal never develops an accurate understanding of what family is, honesty is, etc. Lying is a way of life and lies of omission are more frequent than lies of commission. He breaks promises and never regards a promise as a promise, but as a stepping stone. He does not see things from another's viewpoint. He sees himself as living with his freedom. He puts others through worry and difficulties at their expense.

Criminals fear being put down by other people. Any inconvenience is considered a personal affront. The zero state is when the criminal goes to an extreme thinking. He is either a colossus or a nothing. When a non-criminal loses his temper, he does not disassociate from reality. The criminal approach to life is achievement at the expense of others. The world is his to deal with as he pleases. He expects the world to conform to his wants, even when apprehended and incarcerated.

He does not have long-range functions. Everything is short-term. If necessary, the criminal endures some hardships and difficulties in crime, but refuses any hardships related to responsible living. Others plead with him to change, and he puts the burden on them in order to convince him to change. If he miscalculates, he blames others. He is not a fact-finder, except when it involves a crime, and often not even then. He is fragmented in his thinking. He seems to be fearless and cowardly both.

He is subjective in the extreme. Whatever he wants to do he considers right. What society calls crime, the criminal regards as his work. He may even strive to prove to others he is right and others are wrong. When he talks, others think they can understand him, but the criminal has his own language. He avoids points of view that might rehabilitate him. Liberals ignore the volition of the criminal. Criminals have taken advantage of the rehab. programs. They exploit some of these. If they do not have enough excused before psychotherapy, they have plenty afterwards.

The criminal will take all of the favors, and then turn on his benefactor like an animal. The agent of change must deal with the inner man of the criminal and deal with his vulnerable time. At most, he has made token efforts when he is dissatisfied with self when the change agent needs to become involved. These states do not last. It is putting on new clothes over old ones. No one is never rehabilitated apart from their own free will. He must be taken from total irresponsibility to total integrity. Their view of him is presented and what he ought to be is also presented. That is the information and he is allowed to determine which way he jumps. We do not try to persuade him to change. It is his choice and it is his life. The criminal looks at this kook, a criminal psychiatry, and thinks, "If this is normal, I am fine the way I am." The criminal must desire change for its own sake. It requires effort and doing what one wants to do and refraining from that which you do not. We all have to do things in life that we don't want to do.

The callisthenics of change, which is a necessity for hundreds of decisions every day. You must use your own free will. There is a tremendous amount of repetition. Criminals habitual practice of cutting off what is disagreeable or uninteresting is automatic, so that hearing something once or twice is not enough. In their instruction, they do not solve problems for the criminal and they do not direct his decision making. The process of decision-making is far more important than making one good decision one time. Self-discipline involves learning to deal constructively with adversity.

This is the only man who has come up with anything regarding criminal rehabilitation. Crime is only stopped by self-determination. Because criminals marry mostly irresponsible women, and they have to be brought in because the criminal can be turned into a better person than his wife.

The program lasts 5–10 years, and some still meet with them after such a long time. It is emphasized continually that there is no room for complacency. Unless a criminal learns to make new decisions responsibly, they can always revert back to criminal patterns. Implementation over a period of time, there is less and less likelihood of these patterns returning.

Reciprocation

1. Maltreatment from others does not justify maltreatment to others. Absalom failed to pass the injustice test. We have all been victims of injustice.
2. Injustice from others does not justify injustice to others; nor does it justify retaliation to the source of injustice.

3. Being discriminated against does not give you the right to discriminate others.
4. Freedom demands a sense of responsibility. Otherwise, freedom is distorted into a system of tyranny. That is what happens when revolution occurs. It is as simple as live and let live.
5. The only way to avoid the retaliation trap is through authority-orientation.
6. Both the laws of divine establishment and the believer's honor code are truth derived from the Word of God.
7. Absalom's arrogance includes negative volition toward doctrine and therefore Absalom is degenerate from interlocking systems of arrogance and reversionistic from rejection of Bible doctrine. That David has rejected Absalom does not give him a free pass.

Absalom, in interlocking systems of arrogance, is not well off anywhere. He thinks like a criminal, no matter where he is. No environment will improve Absalom's situation.

Absalom's Silly Statement

1. Having flunked the injustice test, Absalom becomes arrogant. This arrogance deceives the simple-minded. His statement sounds good, but it is simple and designed to manipulate. This is pseudo heroics; it is phoney. There are people in Berachah Church who would think that this is a great statement. Absalom is not a hero; he is a stupid ass. He is an irresponsible criminal. This is a phoney statement. When people go in for heroics and these statements which sound magnificent, they are designed to make them sound magnificent, like, "I would never ask anyone in this platoon to do anything I can't do." That is stercoraceous, which means covered with dung. Bob would make his men shovel crap and clean docks, and he would no longer do that. Bob would not expect us to do what he does, and obviously, we would not expect him to do what we do. In Bob's wildest imagination, could not imagine sitting down and sharing with us. He can imagine enjoying a conversation with some of us or slugging us where it might do the most good, but not ever sitting around with vacuous smiles and sharing. Jimmy Doolittle said the MacArthur was the only man he knew who was as good as he thought he was.
2. This challenges the king's authority as the king, just as Absalom murdering Amnon challenged David as a parent. Criminality has lack of authority-orientation.
3. Absalom has run the full gamut of rejecting all types of authority.
4. Absalom arrogantly challenges his father to execute him when he knows that his father cannot.
5. David cancelled out his guilt and punishment both.
6. With guilt and punishment both cancelled through the judicial pardon from David, the king cannot execute Absalom for his past crimes. Absalom is a genius. David, Joab and Absalom are all brilliant men.
7. For the past 2 years, Absalom has committed only one crime, burning down Joab's property, and that is a offense he cannot be executed for.
8. He knows that Joab will not press charges, so he has the confidence of criminal arrogance in his defiance of the king's authority.

9. Absalom assumes that he has been the victim of discrimination, this does not justify lack of authority-orientation. This does not justify anything which Absalom has done or will do. He has the backing of the revolutionary party.

Criminal Arrogance in the Revolutionary

1. Arrogant criminal vengeance; a criminal vendetta.
2. The reason why the hard-core revolutionist is an injustice rather than a crime because they are criminals. They are criminals because they are anti-establishment. They are anti-God. The revolutionary calls crime justice, in French and Russian revolutions.
3. The hard core revolutionist approved of Absalom's murder of Amnon as the ends justifying the means.
4. Neither Absalom nor the revolutionary party in Israel were willing to leave the injustice to the Supreme Court of Heaven. God can apply His justice and righteousness. Revolutionary groups are always anti-God. The preparation occurs years before. Criminals use crusaders as a front, and then they walk all over them at the revolution.
5. The hard core revolutionists are anti-establishment and anti-God. Lenin and Stalin are criminals. We are very close to revolution in this country.
6. Instead of recognizing the guilt of his own crime and exploiting his pardon, Absalom uses the Satanic syndrome of arrogance and interlocking systems of arrogance.

2Sam. 14:32 Absalom answered Joab, "Behold [now look], I sent word to you, 'Come here,' that I may send you to the king, to ask, "Why have I come from Geshur? It would be better for me to be there still." Now therefore let me go into the presence of the king, and if there is guilt in me, let him put me to death."

Last verse is the termination. Joab goes to David, not because he thinks David is wrong and Absalom is right; he just does not want the country to erupt into revolution.

The king recognizes his failure and rebounds and summons Absalom. The king apparently lifts Absalom up, and he kisses and embraces Absalom.

Absalom has to reach the general public. He consolidates the hard core revolutionists, and then he will go after the general public. If they see Absalom going to court and being welcomed, and then they can assume that Absalom has the blessing of David.

There is a small, hard core revolutionary group. 100,000 Bolsheviks controlled millions of Russians. They formed the people as a weapon of the czar. The hard core had to forge the nice people into a force. The general public must be mobilized. They will try to use Berachah Church for their own objectives.

Many have received dear John letters, and this disturbed them and made them embittered. These are discontented people for the moment, but not revolutionists. Or maybe they got fired and they are unhappy about that. Having a bad day does not mean that you are ready to join the Communist party and march on May day. People, in general, are not ready to revolt against their government. It is easy to propagandize, particularly when there are dumb rulers.

There must be a visible sign to the people that David approves of Absalom. Some of you men will fall in love with a woman who is worthless.

David's power and authority has to be forged into power for Absalom, or pivoted. Absalom needs some recognition by David in order to do this. Friendship is used or an apparent endorsement of someone in authority. Assistant pastors are not authorized by the Word of God and that is suicide anyway.

Absalom was a criminal and he stole the hearts of the people. That takes some real criminality.

2Sam. 14:33 As a result, Joab went to the king and told him, and he summoned Absalom. So he came to the king and bowed himself on his face to the ground before the king, and the king kissed Absalom.

Arrogant David causes right and wrong decisions at the wrong time; doctrine of disciplinary timing; Professional prosperity after spiritual prosperity; God's Timing

The Doctrine of Disciplinary Timing

1. When David failed to punish Amnon for the rape of Tamar, he lost time that he never recovered and he spent years making the wrong decisions at the wrong time.
2. David made the wrong decision in not trying and executing Amnon for the rape of Tamar. The result of doing nothing, which is a miscarriage of justice, was Absalom executing Amnon at the ranch bbq.
- 3.
4. As a result of doing nothing about the first crime, David decided to do something about the 2nd crime in the royal family. He tried and sentence Absalom to death, in absentia.
5. Absalom was out of reach of Jewish law in Geshur.
6. As a result of the 3 act drama, the woman from Tekoa, David pardoned Absalom but refused to see him.
7. Pardon includes remanding the punishment and forgiving the crime.
8. Since Absalom did not pass the injustice test, David did something when he should have done nothing. After 2 full years, he agreed to see Absalom.
9. It was wrong on David's part to refuse to see Absalom when he pardoned him. That was a half-forgiveness which is no forgiveness.

10. Therefore, David did nothing when he should have done something; and then he did something when he should have done nothing.
11. While it was wrong to refuse to see Absalom for 2 full years, it was right to perpetuate this, because Absalom did not pass the pardoning test. Absalom is inside interlocking systems of arrogance, and he is the leader of the hardcore revolutionary party. This is all a matter of timing. David should have seen Absalom at the beginning; but 2 years later, David should not have seen him. It is clear because Absalom burned down Joab's field. He is obviously a criminal. It is all a matter of timing. You can marry the right man at the wrong time and it is wrong.
12. Absalom did not pass the reaction test and became a leader of the hardcore revolutionary party.
13. Since Absalom initiated the meeting. 3 kinds get involved in a revolution. Hardcore revolutionaries, the general public, and conservatives?
14. David is out of step. He is dancing a foxtrot instead of a waltz. At this point, David should be ignoring Absalom.
15. After 2 years, Absalom is the leader of the hardcore revolutionist.
16. Absalom will use David's forgiveness to undermine David's authority. This will be to lure the general public to his side. There is no revolution until the hardcore revolution is made into a weapon. The general public was used as a weapon in the French revolution.
17. With David's stamp of approval, Absalom advances the conspiracy;
18. The general public will become a weapon Propaganda can take one case and turn it into a policy fix.
19. There can be no revolution apart from governmental failure and crusader arrogance. Crusader arrogance provides the content for revolution. The Ralph Nader's of this world provide the propaganda.
20. Based up his previous failure, David was doing the right thing at the wrong time, and this has happened twice. David should have tried and executed Amnon for rape. David's timing is way off. Right to do it here, but not before. When he pardoned Absalom, it was right to see Absalom. He did nothing when he should have done something. There are a lot of people who live their lives this way.

The general public will never pay any attention to Absalom until David smiles and kisses Absalom. Until he does that, he hasn't got a Chinaman's chance. It is now wrong for David to see Absalom. Absalom will just look to perpetuate the conspiracy. Absalom will use this meeting. Absalom steals the heart of the public.

Timing is everything. Like the officer who cannot make up his mind or the police lieutenant who cannot make up his mind about personnel. We must remember, we are studying simple old narratives. Everything is on the surface. People assume that simple narrative is simple narrative.

Bob: "My job isn't to please you." Soon to be 30 years. It requires wisdom, humility and flexibility, and if you are missing any of those, your timing will be off. Wisdom is the application of Bible doctrine. When the revolution begins, David's timing will be impeccable. You will never survive unless you are flexible.

21. Arrogance destroys the power to make the right decision at the right time.
22. Arrogance guarantees making the wrong decision at the wrong time or the right decision but at the wrong time, which is the same as a wrong decision at the wrong time.
23. Good decisions become bad decisions when made at the wrong time. The classical illustration. Within 48 hours after the hostages were taken, the army had a 33 minute plan to neutralize the Iranian air force. Then fly copters to the embassy, and rescue the Americans there. That would have been the right decision at that time. Now, 5 months later, the plan has become more complicated. At this point, we have lost the surprise. The only way to deal with Muhammadans. The only thing they understand is force.
24. Hence, good decisions made at the wrong time destroy the God-given prosperity of good timing.

Eccl. 3:1 For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven:

There is a time to plant, but Bob does not know when that is.

Eccl. 3:2 a time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up what is planted;

The time to kill is not when you are sitting around talking with friends, you don't call out "Ranger" and start killing those around you. That would make them nervous. There is a time to kill the enemy in battle. But there is a time to heal well.

When you are playing football, you want to tear down the offensive line.

Eccl. 3:3 a time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down [demolish], and a time to build up;

When a man stands up to teach the Word of God in front of a congregation, there is no weeping. Bob does not tend to weep. Most preachers who do weep because they have no sermon.

There is also a time to laugh, and this is not all of the time.

Eccl. 3:4 a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance;

The time to throw stones is an execution and there is a time to gather stones. There is a time to embrace and there is a time to be far away from embracing (when you are away in war)

Eccl. 3:5 a time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

There is a time to be aggressive and a time to give up as lost. People don't throw away things anymore, they have a garage sale.

Eccl. 3:6 a time to seek, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away;

There is a time to rip apart; and a time to sew. You can make a wrong decision at the wrong time. Even the right decision at the wrong time comes out wrong.

Eccl. 3:7 a time to tear, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak; a time to love and a time to hate; a time for war and a time for peace (which time is almost up).

David learned his lesson during and after the revolution and tried to make certain his son Solomon understood these lessons.

Eccl. 3:8 a time to love, and a time to hate; a time for war, and a time for peace.

Monotonous and wearisome labor with the right mental attitude can be absolutely wonderful.

Eccl. 3:9 What gain has the worker from his toil?

The writer has studied this.

Eccl. 3:10 I have seen the business that God has given to the children of man to be busy with.

Without doctrine, your timing will be off.

Eccl. 3:11 He has made everything beautiful in its time. Also, he has put eternity into man's heart, yet so that he cannot find out what God has done from the beginning to the end.

Socialism destroys good timing; the welfare state destroys good timing.

Eccl. 3:12 I perceived that there is nothing better for them than to be joyful and to do good as long as they live [to manufacture out of doctrine];

Ways to enjoy oneself.

Eccl. 3:13 also that everyone should eat and drink and take pleasure in all his toil--this is God's gift to man.

Eccl. 3:14 I perceived that whatever God does endures forever; nothing can be added to it, nor anything taken from it. God has done it, so that people fear before him.

Those to whom timing is off

Eccl. 3:15 That which is, already has been; that which is to be, already has been; and God seeks what has been driven away.

God's Timing and Bad Decisions

1. David made a bad decision when he did not go to war
2. This was the Ammonite war.
3. David made a bad decision because of that. His timing was off when he saw Bathsheba and he wanted her.
4. If Bathsheba was David's RW, then God in His Own time would have gotten them together at the right time. This was a matter of timing.
5. God's timing is the best timing and the only timing.
6. When God works it out in His Own time, it is right; when man seeks to solve the problem, it becomes wrong added to wrong. Sin + arrogance = evil. Human good + arrogance = evil.
7. When man seeks to solve his own problems apart from God's will and God's timing, arrogance turns everything to disaster.
8. Man's panaceas are no substitute are no substitute for God's plan.
9. Once you make a wrong decision, you are out of time with God's timing.
10. Until God completes your punishment or discipline, you will have to listen to the dance of the wrong tune.
11. When your live is out of timing, only perception of Bible doctrine and divine discipline can put it altogether again.
12. To be in the right place and the right time is not luck. Bob became a major on his 23rd birthday. This is God's grace and God's blessing.
13. God has ordained right timing as a part of His tradition.
14. David's timing and his blessing resulting in prosperity will not exist until after the revolution.

Sin is the issue for divine discipline. Grace is the issue for suffering for blessings. Unbearable suffering under divine discipline. Suffering for blessing is bearable. Rebound and doctrine solves the first; rebound solves the second.

Eccl. 3:16 Moreover, I saw under the sun that in the place of justice, even there was wickedness, and in the place of righteousness, even there was wickedness.

David had so much discipline coming that it had to be divided up into installments. His faith would have to reach out and grab some promises. In the first 2 stages of discipline, curing was turned into blessing. Blessing which will last for years will come out of the revolution.

Major George Keengan Jr. and he is expecting a Soviet coup to free the hostages. The Soviets will try to set up their own puppet regime in the next few months. There were communists which staged the demonstrations in the streets in Iran. Our Navy has been cut in half and cannot discharge any of its missions. Carter is all rhetoric.

Russians will use anything to advance the competition and they do not have any amateur athletes and they have athletes supported by the government and are trained from infancy.

What Bob is teaching is being well-received elsewhere in the world.

Vv. 1–12 the conspiracy of Absalom

13– Beginning of the revolution

Revolution

1. Revolution is epitomized. Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution.
  - a. Motivation from the crusader arrogance.
  - b. Criminal arrogance provides the leadership.
  - c. Authority arrogance provides the power for revolution.
  - d. There is great power in public opinion, and when it is open, then it can be forged for revolution.
  - e. Therefore, public opinion becomes a power without facts and without reason, guided by emotion and a weapon in the hands of the leadership of the hardcore leadership.
  - f. Public opinion creates revolutionary power and there are 6 sources: blind arrogance, client nation arrogance, political arrogance, authority arrogance, institutional arrogance.
  - g. Revolution from public opinion is a weapon put together.
  - h. Truth is the only protection against public opinion which leans toward revolution
  - i. There are 3 categories of truth which can be rejected for strong delusion. The gospel, laws of divine establishment, and Bible doctrine. Those who reject truth are vulnerable to revolution. 2Thess. 2:9–12 The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. Therefore God sends them a strong delusion, so that they may believe what is false, in order that all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness. Many Christians in this country are under strong delusion. This will be further true when this election ramps up. The state department has been running the military for years and destroying it.
  - j. Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution. This is true in the Russian and the French revolution.
2. Revolution must be defined and described.

- a. This is the overthrow by violence of duly constituted authority resulting in fundamental change in political organization, constitution, or government.
  - b. Revolution is a form of conspiracy to overthrow establishment type government to remove the authority of establishment by means of violence.
  - c. Conspiracy is a combination of persons whose intent is evil.
  - d. The carefully designed plan is called a plot and the means of carrying out that plan is called intrigue.
  - e. Machination is a form of intrigue. 200 men will leave Jerusalem with Absalom and they do not know anything. They are following a personality.
  - f. Revolution is the antagonism of evil against the laws of divine establishment. They are designed to protect our freedom in the Angelic Conflict.
  - g. A rebellious man seeks only evil.
  - h. Therefore, revolution is related to evil; Psalm 64:4-5
  - i. Since evil is the plan, it is related to interlocking systems of arrogance.
  - j. Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution, and that is to overthrow the laws of divine establishment.
3. Example of the revolt against Moses and Aaron:
- a. The revolution against Moses and Aaron was against establishment.
  - b. One of the revolutionary leaders was Korah. Amasseh was an arrogant peacock; Joab was great. Ahithophel will be the great revolutionary leader. The sons of Korah and it is the grace of God that they survived the revolution.
  - c. Korah, as a cousin of Aaron, did not like to be excluded from the priesthood.
  - d. There were other conspirators: Dathan, Abiram and On. Arrogance robs a lot of people of nerve and courage.
  - e. There were 250 princes who formed the hardcore revolutionary party during the time of Moses.
  - f. One is not mentioned in Num. 16 because, according to tradition, his wife persuaded him to withdraw from the revolution.
  - g. The conspirators were caught up in an earthquake which took them down. However, the sons of Korah will be spared to become singers.
  - h. In the plague judgment that followed, 14,000 people died from the general public because they were sucked in. There is Korah, Dathan and Abiram and 250 princes; along with 14,000 of the general public. All of these people were destroyed. The Bible disapproves of revolution.
  - i. Since God is the author of the laws of divine establishment, revolution is always anti-God. Isa. 31:6 return to God from Whom you have
  - j. French and Russian revolutions. The basic idea is anti-God and anti-establishment.
4. The American revolution 1775-1783 is called a revolutionary war, but there was no anti-God movement. It was a fight for freedom and establishment in the name of liberty. You cannot simultaneously call for liberty and equality. Parliament rules England, and not the king. The government is vested in the House of Commons.

This is why Churchill would not accept the titles given to his family because it was the House of Commons which ruled over England. The 13 colonies were being taxed without their consent. This was, at first, a fight to gain seats in Parliament. If we were going to be taxed, we certainly needed representation.

5. The source of revolution is reversionism. This people have a calloused right lobe Isa. 1:2-5 Listen, heavens, and pay attention, earth, for the LORD has spoken: "I have raised children and brought them up, but they have rebelled against Me. The ox knows its owner, and the donkey its master's feeding-trough, but Israel does not know; My people do not understand." Oh--sinful nation, people weighed down with iniquity, brood of evildoers, depraved children! They have abandoned the LORD; they have despised the Holy One of Israel; they have turned their backs on Him. Why do you want more beatings? Why do you keep on rebelling? The whole head is hurt, and the whole heart is sick. Israel does not know Me; Israel did not understand doctrine. Revolution is called a mental illness. Revolution is always a lie and always deceit.
6. Revolution is anti-authority. The conspirator and revolutionist always suffer from a lack of authority-orientation. They cannot separate authority from the person who abuses authority. Lack of authority-orientation in the home replaces capacity for life with interlocking systems of arrogance. Authority is removed as the umbrella of authority.

David had a timing problem, and he should have recognized and met with Absalom after he pardoned him, but now, meeting Absalom was a mistake.

Asah here means to provide. Absalom provided for himself a chariot of state; in other words, he will capitalize on David's recognition of him. Rutz and it is the Qal active participle, and it means 50 men acting as couriers. Once David recognizes Absalom, he gets 50 men to support him, and they are completely taken in by Absalom.

Integrity + loyalty = honor. Loyalty as a virtue finds its loyalty to doctrine. Loyalty as an evil is loyalty to a person who is anti-authority or anti-doctrine. These 50 men have loyalty as an evil. These are 50 inside a country acting as couriers to undermine an organization. This is how labor unions have moved in and taken over. Bob is using courier in its Latin sense. This 50 men form his courtier or his clique.

People are motivated through friendship. Absalom has developed pseudo authority. When David kissed Absalom, that gave Absalom some credence. This gave him psueco authority. The person who motivates has the power, which is a pseudo power or authority.

Pseudo Authority

1. Psuedo authority is the concept of arrogant and criminal manipulation against establishment.
2. Such manipulation against establishment demands that a scintillating personality use his personality to motivate his followers. To manipulate them into his conspiracy.

3. This is pseudo authority over and against legitimate authority.
4. The authority is arrogant, even though it uses the verbiage of doctrine.
5. In Absalom's case, it was evil power resulting in revolutionary leadership. Absalom does not have David's approval, but that is what he is using. People have sat on the platform with Bob and have used that to form other churches.
6. The pattern is based on the word after this or it came to pass. After this is the key
7. People erroneously conclude that any form of sponsorship or association is sponsorship. It appears as if Absalom was restored to favor.
- 8.
9. Absalom then used David's authority and power and his reputation to gather a coterie, and who were inspired and motivated to accept the authority of Absalom. There was a woman in Berachah Church who did exactly the same thing.
10. This is a coterie of revolution.
11. Absalom and his 50 courtiers have formed a conspiracy while giving lip service to David's authority.
12. They are using David's authority to undermine his authority.
13. This is why authority does not stand alone in any group. It must be related to purpose and policy. 3 factors in an institution: authority, purpose and policy. Any organization has a certain number of person who inspire, motivate but they may not have any real authority in the organization. They may possess power and authority with no official authority in the government.
14. They are protected from getting out of line by the purpose and policy of that organization. If you understand the purpose of an organization, then you do not get out of line.

Absalom used David's authority and power in order to overthrow David's authority and power.

2Sam. 15:1 [After this Absalom got himself a \[state\] chariot and horses, and fifty men to run before him \[acting as his couriers\].](#)

2Samuel 15:1-2

The Doctrine of Revolution 72David

631_0366

Revolution

1. Criminal arrogance provides the leadership for revolution; arrogance provides the motivation. Public opinion can become the power of the revolution. Bob was looking through a book on the French Revolution. Women gathered because there was no bread in the bakery, despite all of the banquets held at the palace. The king was to suffer another humiliation before he was to sleep. The men wanted to escort him to Paris, but he was ex/haunted.
2. Revolution is the overthrow of government; the people who do this are a mob, and it cannot think or achieve.
3. The Bible condemns revolution.

4. The problem of the American revolution.
5. The source of revolution is the soul. He is called an ass.
6. Revolution is anti-authority and they always suffer from authority arrogance.

The People and Revolution

1. 3 categories of people in a revolution.
2. Hardcore revolutionist.
3. Category #2 is the general public, not motivated to revolt unless manipulated to do so.
4. They must be manipulated by hardcore revolutionists.
5. The incorruptible.
6. These are those who live and die by their convictions.
7. They have accepted some category of truth. The incorruptible are free from interlocking systems of arrogance and they can apply truth in whatever way that they possess it. Humility to correctly apply doctrine.
8. The success of revolution
  - a. This depends upon the strong delusion factor of 2Thess.
  - b. People must reject the truth in order to accept that which is false.
  - c. In a revolution, the problem is a maximum number of people rejecting the truth.
  - d. Furthermore, no revolution can gain momentum apart from its involvement with interlocking systems of arrogance. Interlocking systems of arrogance produces discontent in all types of people. Many of them are not starving; the key is, interlocking systems of arrogance. Why did Marshall Field, across the street, become interested in communism? Why do wealthy men become involved with communism? Interlocking systems of arrogance makes them open to discontent.
  - e. Arrogance and strong delusion are necessary for revolution to gain momentum with the general public.
  - f. The general public becomes the forced weapon to be used by the hardcore revolutionaries or by the incorruptible.
  - g. These will always be, but there must be arrogance and strong delusion for these to succeed.
9. Revolution is parlayed into civil war.
  - a. There can be battlefield function which turns into a civil war.
  - b. The Absalom revolution resulted in a civil war. So with the French and Russian revolutions. Num. 16 did not.
  - c. If revolution does not gain enough converts, then a civil war is the result.
  - d. When revolution starts a civil war, there are 2 opposing forces seeking to gain authority and control and power.
  - e. One group in the civil war is the revolutionary party. The other group is the establishment force led by incorruptible.

- f. Revolution is not the only cause of civil war. 2 causes of civil war: revolutionary and political.
- g. When politics starts a civil war, the issue is freedom. In our civil war, politics started it. The issue was the freedom of the sovereign states of the south. Slavery was not the issue.
- h. When politics starts a civil war, the issue is freedom.
- i. When revolution starts a civil war, the issue is truth.
- j. Conclusion, there is always a little of the other involved.
- k. In the context of 2 Samuel, the issue is truth.
- l. Those who believe in truth in any of the 3 categories will follow David, and others will follow Absalom.

Absalom undermines David's authority.

This becomes pseudo authority. After David gave audience to Absalom and kissed him. Civility toward someone is not necessarily approbation of that person. David was civil to Absalom, but he did not approve of Absalom.

This happens with men and women. A woman is civil to a guy, and he thinks she is madly in love with him. Absalom got a couple of state chariots to make it look more like David was sponsoring him. He got his 50 hardcore revolutionists.

It sounds like these men were chauffeurs, but they are a coterie of revolutionists. This gives us some protection instead of being sucked in by someone who can inspire and motivate others. Every movement has someone in the organization who can inspire others totally apart from the philosophy of the movement.

Absalom's Strategy

1. Absalom provided himself with transportation to get a round the country, and this gave the impression that he was going about as a representative of David. He used the accouterments of governmental authority.
2. Absalom gathered a clique of 50 men who were inspired and led. He has pseudo authority; revolutionary authority.
3. People have assumed that David meeting with Absalom constituted approval because he showed him some respect. Aristocracy under good manners is friendly and convivial. Civility is not approval; it is good manners. Good manners means they smile before killing us. There was nothing lo-brow about the royal family. The common people thought that David was sponsoring Absalom.
4. Absalom had great beauty and a greater personality. Absalom was not only a genius, but he used his attractiveness and great personality, and he will use his other talents to control and to motivate. He will eventually overthrow the entire government. This is because people do not know the difference between good manners and personal approval.

5. Absalom develops a coterie or a clique to undermine David's authority. Absalom used David's friendliness to make it appear as if David was sponsoring him. These
6. The hard core revolutionists could not be swayed until they saw David approve of Absalom.
7. Coterie conspiracy is the basis for undermining or overthrowing legitimate authority in any organization. Absalom need 3 things. The apparent approval of David. He got conviviality and civility. That is good manners. These are state chariots that Absalom is commandeering. He is impressing anyone who sees him. He is breathtakingly handsome. He needs a hardcore conspiracy. These men became the courtiers for a revolution.

Absalom and His Courtiers

1. Remember that Absalom has been pardoned, but he has been chosen for crime. This is illustrated by the burning of Joab's barley harvest.
2. As a criminal, Absalom must have illegal power and illegal authority in order to lead the malcontents. There are always those who are eloquent. We call the crusaders. They always front for the revolution.
3. To inspire and to motivate others, Absalom must possess a clique, but they must be so indoctrinated, so that if there is any conflict between David and Absalom, they must be loyal to Absalom. They have to be manipulated to carry out intrigue without realizing that they are being used.
4. The coterie operates under an existing authority which undermines true authority.
5. These 50 will carry out Absalom's policy and purpose and not even realize that they are overthrowing David's government.
6. However, the true weapon is the people. Absalom needs to undermine David's authority.

2Sam. 15:1 [After this Absalom got himself a \[state\] chariot and horses, and fifty men to run before him \[acting as his couriers\].](#)

Absalom could have used his volition to be a law-abiding citizen, but he will become a super criminal, the leader of a revolution. We have dealt with these types for a long time. The Chinks on the mainland of China and their heads and super criminals. Taiwan are the honorable people.

Absalom will contact those who gripe and complain. This is how you develop them into a revolutionary power. Some people are merely gripers. The assistant pastor worked too hard on gripers and then Bob began counter action.

Bob finds himself waking up at 3:30 or at 4 am because he is motivated. Some just get up early because they have to. He is motivated.

Absalom is strongly motivated to get up early here. He puts his motivation with his action. These are discontented people, so Absalom searches them out. He finds them dissatisfied right under the nose of his father. He stands there and is seen. He is at the castle-gate road.

Zion is a quadrangle. There are the barracks, the courtroom, and Absalom would stand along side the road. He would meet those going to court and those coming out. What is recorded here is those coming out of court. They would meet Absalom standing by the castle road. When they left, Absalom would find out how they made out. He was a brilliant person with a great psychological ploy. At this time, the courts were overtaxed, just as they are here.

Until David kissed Absalom, he had no access to castle Zion. Absalom has no honor; he has no integrity. Revolutionary leaders have no integrity. The movie on the Russian revolution, Dr. Zivago, and the one who survives everything, and the girl says, "Do they trust you?" And he says, "No, they trust no one." They have no integrity, they have no honor. We are playing footsie with the Russians and none of them have any integrity. David is going through a bad time in his life. He is under tremendous pressures. But Absalom has no real pressures, so he can lead those around him astray.

A person with power over others must have a sense of responsibility. Without that, they are potential conspirators. They need honor and integrity to go along with this influence.

Integrity must be the source of honor and loyalty a conflict, the result is dishonor, and that is where Absalom is at this time. How does one have a good personality without integrity?

How Can One Have a Good Personality Without Undermining Someone's Authority

1. Bob understood these things without being discussed. God provides humility to avoid this occupational hazard of the scientellating personality. Honor will help to avoid it. Poise and good manners.
2. In answer to the question, there is nothing wrong with the personality. Would that more of us have a pleasing personality. It is only when the pleasing personality and the friendly manner and linked to interlocking systems of arrogance where there is a danger.
3. Much of the danger is eliminated with honor.

Prov. 2:33–35 The LORD's curse is on the house of the wicked, but he blesses the dwelling of the righteous. Toward the scorners he is scornful, but to the humble he gives favor. The wise will inherit honor, but fools get disgrace. Humility is the clothing we have.

Humility and Loyalty

1. Humility means loyalty to doctrine. Standing around with your eyes at half-mast is not humility. It is stupidity. Humility means loyalty to Bible doctrine and arrogance is loyalty to self.
2. Jesus said He came to divide families. David's family is divided. He and Joab and honorable men. Assah and Amasah are dishonorable and criminals. There is stronger than genes. Having the same genes is not enough. Though is what brings a family together. Jesus said He came to divide families. Every believer will face the pleasing personality test.

3. This is an extremely difficult test for those who have a tendency toward hero worship.
4. Occupation with Christ comes from perception of Bible doctrine preoccupation with people comes from rejecting truth in any form.
5. Integrity loyalty, which is a virtue, ought to be toward Bible doctrine. In this way, we will not be moved from our norms and standards instilled by doctrine.
6. It is teaching and doctrine which must form the norms and standards of our souls.
7. With norms and standards we can penetrate the facade of the pleasing personality. No matter how much you are attracted to someone, you must listen to what they actually say. This is how you know what they think.

Many are led astray by Absalom. There will be a new doctrine, which is loyalty versus loyalty, or who dat say dat?

2Sam. 15:2 And Absalom used to rise early and stand beside the way of the gate. And when any man had a dispute to come before the king for judgment, Absalom would call to him and say, "From what city are you?" And when he said, "Your servant is of such and such a tribe in Israel,"

2Samuel 15:2

The Doctrine of Loyalty Versus Loyalty

1. There are 2 categories of loyalty; loyalty as a virtue is the first category, which is loyalty to Bible doctrine. This is perception, spiritual growth and the fulfillment of the Royal Family Honor Code. Loyalty as an evil is the 2nd category. Involved with the occupational hazards of degeneration, interlocking systems of arrogance, etc.
2. The difference between these 2 categories of loyalty is the difference between honor and dishonor.
3. Integrity + loyalty as a virtue = honor.
4. The other equation is integrity versus loyalty = dishonor.
5. In the second equation, which causes the believer to fail the Absalom test, it is this function which causes the believer to fail the Absalom test. This is being manipulated or undermined by people like Absalom.
6. Every believer at some time in his Christian life will be attracted to a pleasing personality, whose function is manipulation, the undermining of authority, and the exploitation of evil. Absalom failed the injustice test.
7. The believer with maximum doctrine resident in the soul has the norms and standards which give him discernment to become loyal against an evil cause. The Absalom test is a pleasing personality versus Biblical norms and standards.

The Application of Loyalty Versus Loyalty

1. Joab flunked this test when he agreed to assassinate Uriah the Hittite. He chose David over Bible doctrine.
2. The people on Mount Carmel failed the best when they killed the prophets at the order of Elijah.
3. Aaron failed this test when it came to making the golden calf.
4. Joab flunked this test when he wrote the scenario for the woman from Tekoa.
5. 1000's of Jewish citizens will flunk this test when they succumb to the couriers of the revolution.
6. The application to us:
  - a. In the local church. When a pleasing personality stands in the way of teaching doctrine, that is a failure.
  - b. In business organizations. Every business will have a certain number of pleasing personalities, and some have authority and some do not.
  - c. In social life, where a pleasing personality leads you into a clique, which undermines the authority of parents. There are a tremendous number of kids who are attracted to a personality, and they are experimenting and horsing around with dope. That is a flunking of this test. There was a woman around Berachah who used to attract other women, and she had other women revolting against their husbands.
  - d. In the military establishment.
  - e. The police force, the fire department, the medical center (and there is more arrogance in a medical center staff than you can imagine). You can have loyalty to some authority or principle of authority is superceded by loyalty to a clique. There is always someone with an extremely pleasing personality. Not all pleasing personalities do it. But those which do set up the Absalom test.
  - f. We will face this test just as we face the injustice test. When we face the injustices test, it comes from authority, often an unpleasing personality. The Absalom test is the pleasing personality without authority. It is impossible for the believer to advance to maturity apart from a certain number of Absalom and injustice tests. The injustice test comes from authority; and the Absalom test comes from a pleasing person not in authority; or an attractive personality. You follow the principles of Bible doctrine; you do not follow authority simply because they have a pleasing personality. What you think about those in authority over you, you will fail the injustice test every time. When motivated by a personality, that means you are distracted from the principles of Bible doctrine. You first discover this the first time you thought that your parents were unjust. If Bob had a daughter, "I hate my daddy, he doesn't understand me. Some of what you girls wear to church, I would not let them out in the back yard." Imagine, trying to gain the love of some 6 or 7 year old child. You train them correctly and they will come to respect and love you when they becomes adults and have some perspective. "I can't work for a man like that; he's mean; he shouts." Everyone ought to work for

The action continues. Absalom would turn on his charm when he would call out to these guys.

Absalom Standing by the Way

1. For the eldest prince to stand by the way and greet the commoners coming down the road by the gate. This road went to the supreme court building. The prince stood by road and called out to people. He was easily recognizable. They knew him by reputation. Those who think they have a beef, are always complimented by attention. He used his personality. Those with grievances and complaints are always complimented by attention by those with power influence and popularity.
2. Many malcontents returned home to say, "Guess who I saw on my way to the castle?" Or, for the more imaginative malcontent, "A funny thing happened to me on the way to the court."
3. This person would then give the account of meeting Absalom, and he might even embellish it. He has shaken hands with the greatest man in the land (because he shook hands with him).
- 4.
5. They would be proud to have conversed with such a hero, and man with such personality.
6. In modern language, they would say, "He is much better looking than his picture."
7. To enlist supporters, one must always exploit the malcontents and the dissatisfied. The malcontent love getting personal attention; it appeals to their arrogance. They feel equal to everyone. This makes them think they are as good as Absalom. It makes him feel wanted; it makes him feel important. The appeal to arrogance is the key to undermining authority and to fomenting revolution.

Absalom says, "And from what city you?" Then he talks about his favorite subject, which is himself. Absalom exploits this by being friendly. The malcontent is happy to talk to him. This friendliness is therapy to him. By standing there, Absalom appears to be a part of the government. Absalom is higher than all of them. "He speaks to me. He's friendly. He's nice to me. He's the king's son."

So, he would respond, "Your loyal subject, sir, is from Manasseh" or whatever. This is the gist of hundreds of conversations.

The Judgment Process

1. We must remember as a background, that the judicial process included a hearing from the judge who had a place nearby.
2. If the judge could not decide the case, he referred the matter to David.
3. Absalom has begun to undermine the authority of the judge.
4. Absalom concludes that, he is the victim of the injustice of the king, and therefore, he has that in common.

2Sam. 15:2 And Absalom used to rise early and stand beside the way of the gate. And when any man had a dispute [complaint, grievance] to come before the king for judgment [so that when anyone who had a grievance came to the king for justice], Absalom would call [out] to him and say, "From what city are you?" And when he said, "Your servant is of such and such a tribe in Israel,"

Can this be a parallel to Satan? Is this Satan speaking to various men saying, "You got a raw deal; if I was in charge, this justice system would be a helluva lot better."

Then Absalom would say to him. "Now look, your grievances are valid and legitimate."

Destroying Respect for the Law

1. You go to court to get the judge to agree with you.
2. Absalom would sympathize with them. "I am so sorry, we must do something about this," which is meaningless, whether said by a judge or by Absalom. Absalom is de-emphasizing the law.
3. Those with grievances and claims do not need sympathy; they need a judicial decisions.
4. Claims and grievances cannot be solved by sympathy or violence; only by the law.
5. It is the law which protects freedom; not emotion and not violence.
6. By sympathizing with those who had not yet entered the court, Absalom is undermining the authority of the law.
7. All revolution begins by successfully undermining the judicial system. One of Joe Stalin's original approaches was to undermine the law.
8. Respect for the law must be destroyed before revolution.
9. There are 2 attacks today on the authority of the law. The first is on the honorable profession of law enforcement because of an occasional case of police brutality. This is throwing out the baby with the bath water. Injustices simply mean that there are people with old sin natures in the system.

2Samuel 15:3-4a

631_0368

Time Magazine article The Rescue Mission Aftershocks. There is raging debate over a desert raid. What Arab women do to a body is unmentionable. This was warned against even in WWII. Surprise and speed was essential. They had automatic weapons, but they should have had disabling gas. Had we flown in at the beginning, it would have taken 33 minutes to neutralize the Iranian air force. The plan violated the KISS rule. Earlier plans called for 30 helicopters and 600 men, but some said Carter and the state department scaled it down, and it is for politics.

There are a lot of if's. God knows what he is doing. If this was successful, would Carter be reelected? So, that could be problematic. The general public is no more behind the military than the crime syndicate is behind the police. Freedom will only come through military victory.

2Sam. 15:1 After this Absalom got himself a [state] chariot and horses, and fifty men to run before him [acting as his couriers].

2Sam. 15:2 And Absalom used to rise early and stand beside the way of the gate. And when any man had a dispute [complaint, grievance] to come before the king for judgment [so that when anyone who had a grievance came to the king for justice], Absalom would call [out] to him and say, "From what city are you?" And when he said, "Your servant is of such and such a tribe in Israel,"

Principles

1. The law is based upon principle.
2. Absalom was appealing to the people with sympathy
3. People do not need sympathy.
4. You cannot settle claims and grievances except by the law
5. The law protects freedom.
6. Absalom was undermining the authority of the law
7. All revolution begins by successfully undermining the authority of the law.
8. Respect for the law must be destroyed before a revolution can be successful.
9. Today, there are 2 attacks on the authority of the law; attack on law enforcement because there is an occasional case of police brutality. This does not mean the system is no good. It just proves that police officers have old sin natures. Liberalism in the courts has destroyed the principle of the law. It gives more rights to criminals. Once again, even judges have sin natures. We all have sin natures.
10. There is nothing wrong with law enforcement as a principle and generally as a practice. The principle is good, even though the principle is distorted by some.
11. Both law enforcement and the legal profession are the guardians of our freedom; they protect our privacy, property and lives.
12. To set aside the police officer and the law is to destroy freedom. We have a tremendous brown invasion from Mexico and they are receiving more rights and benefits than we are. There is definitely something wrong with those in the principle.
13. When abuses within a system are used to abolish the system, then revolution destroys personal freedom and replaces it with tyranny. Some of you will look back and long for the police officer. But, you throw out the system because of the few abuses of it. They system itself or a better system must take care of the abuses.
14. When the system is right and the people in the system are wrong, those who abused the system need to be punished.
15. The system ought not be judged by the failure of those who administer it.

16. Punish those who abuse the system, but never destroy a system that protects our freedom. The destruction of any system of divine establishment means revolution, violence, civil war, and all that is evil.

Absalom tells them their grievances are valid and legitimate. "But to judge your case, you have no one for you." There is no one delegated by the king or authorized by the king.

Principles on the Latter Half of V. 3

1. Absalom says that there is a problem with the system. This is going to lead him to suggest revolution to take the system down. There are abuses in any system. Revolutionary propaganda destroys a system by going in and picking out an abuse and saying, "Because there is this abuse, the system is wrong." Absalom will find a few abuses, and say the system must come down.
2. Absalom does not directly malign the king but indirectly through legal procedure. The king's system is not working. He has not said it yet, but down with the king and up with Absalom.
3. Absalom refrains from directly accusing the king; but he puts doubt in the minds of those who hear him. When he says, "There's something wrong with the courts" people pay attention.
4. The dockets appear to be overcrowded and the judiciary system is overworked. When that occurs, there is often a miscarriage of justice. The answer is not to destroy jurisprudence.
5. In order to fix the system, Absalom will suggest revolution. Absalom will try their cases on the side of the road on the basis of hearsay. These people are so emotional, that they do not realize that this man is no judge at all. He is entertaining heresay. When people listen to gossip, there are problems.
- 6.
7. Evidence based on rumor is not acceptable in court.
8. So Absalom becomes a sidewalk judge, accepting heresay as evidence and rendering heresay as facts.
9. To make a judicial decision before a careful investigation is irresponsible and arrogant.
10. Absalom flattered criminals by implying that they were not getting a fare shake.
11. Absalom was a master of the art of political intrigue. He was a matter at flattering people. He knew how to subtly criticize a system.

David failed as a father. Absalom will fail as a son, with authority arrogance. David with sexual arrogance.

A Second Principle

1. You cannot wink at criminality without condoning crime.

2. Absalom's modus operandi is tantamount to winking at the criminal and gaining a following from the revolution. He appeals to their arrogance with flattery. Our strongest following in a revolution are criminals.
3. Inordinate ambition + interlocking systems of arrogance have neutralized Absalom's great potential. He was a great genius with talent and ability.
4. The deception and intrigue of Absalom is the conspiracy of self-deception. He is destroying himself and digging his own grave. He is growing his own end. A mistake for Samson to cut off his hair and a mistake for Absalom to not cut his hair. This long hair was who Absalom was, against authority, and that hurt him in life.
5. God is never on the side of revolution. Every conspiracy is another step toward the sin unto death. The press has never won a war. They have never stopped crime. The press has never changed life for the better at anytime. The military wins wars and they are the basis for our freedom. The press has been very critical of the military since this raid, as if there is something wrong with the military. However, they are the basis of our freedom. It is easy for the press to snipe at the pentagon. The press is dishonorable today. Their freedom is no good without responsibility. They report things they should not. They make criminals sound like heroes. They pick idiots off the street. The cop cannot speak back; he is a professional. The press in their total arrogance and irresponsibility, they are running loose today.
6. To the arrogant, the function of grace is seen as a sign of weakness and the humility of others intensifies the pride of the arrogant. Lack of immediate punishment from God or the state is regarded as consent to conspiracy. David will give Absalom enough rope to hang himself. Stupidest thing to say, "If this is not Your will, then strike me down." Or whatever. "If you don't want me to do this, you will really have to stop me." And when they are not stopped, they do it.
7. When led by interlocking systems of arrogance, no cause is just. The end of that cause is disaster.
8. Flattery, sympathy and attention, lure the arrogant populace away from truth, justice, etc. What did you think about Enco's great profits? Bob thought it was great; he thought of efficiency and establishment. Most people think there is something wrong. The Bible thinks it is good to make a profit. This principle applies to the American people. Some poor person does not make as much as an oil executive and they poor person does not feel equal. He is not getting a real chance at life. Freedom produces inequality. The worst arrogance in the world is on the wrong side of the tracks. Arrogance on the right side of the tracks will not cause a revolution, but on the other side it will. Rousseau was one of the biggest asses in the world; he was a fag and a jerk and arrogant.
9. Today, Absalom's insinuations are words to the people walking by him; but tomorrow, they will be weapons. What does it profit you if one thorn is removed out of many? If you have 100 thorns in your gluteus maximus, taking out one thorn does not help.

We are free to have children whether we are married or not; but, in this way we abuse this freedom and we do this with no responsibility. But when these kids get on mother's nerves, it all falls apart. The whole stability of the home requires the mother to be stable.

Freedom demands responsibility. You learn that in marriage and you should learn it in the home.

2Sam. 15:3 Absalom would say to him, "See [Now look], your claims are good and right [your grievances are valid and legitimate], but there is no man designated by the king to hear [judge] you [there is no one authorized by the king to judge your case]."

Next verse is how Absalom insinuates that he obtained justice for the people. He will say, "Who will appoint me a judge in the land?" Those who have no responsibility assume in arrogance that they can do a better job. They are not under any pressure, so they think they can do it better. However, given the same pressures, they would royally fail.

2Sam. 15:4 Then Absalom would say, "Oh that I were judge in the land! Then every man with a dispute or cause might come to me, and I would give him justice."

2Samuel 15:4      72David    May 7, 1980    30 Year Anniversary      631_0369

Bob answered the phone during prayer meeting, and someone who apparently knew very little wanted to know who was speaking tonight.

Col. 1:10 states the purpose of Berachah Church. That you might walk worthy... Where is the wise? Where is the scribe? Where is the debater of this age? Not many wise; God has chosen the foolish things of the world in order to discredit the wise. He has chosen for special privilege the weak things in the world in order to discredit the powerful. From Him, you keep on being in Christ Jesus, wisdom and sanctification. Even as it stands written, the one boasting, let him keep on boasting in the Lord. And when I came to you, brothers, I did not come with superiority of speech or of wisdom communicating the wisdom of God, except Jesus Christ and Him crucified.

Bob came to Berachah on May 7, 1950. Paul was a genius, but he came in weakness. Coming in any other way is coming in tyranny. The basis of a ministry ought to be teaching the Word of God. The greatest fear that any pastor should have is to teach a passage in such a way as to make its meaning inaccurate. Both my doctrine and my teaching were not in persuasive ways of eating. The demonstration of the Spirit goes back to power. For to us, God has revealed them in the Spirit. Melarky may have had his first bath today, and he has no odor as a dog. Remarkable. We have not received the spirit from the world (rationalism or empiricism), that we might have permanent knowledge of things given to us, which doctrine we might teach from the source of the Holy Spirit, coming to teach spiritual phenomenon to a spiritual apparatus. But the unbeliever, he does not acquire the Spirit of God. The spiritual appraises all things, but he himself is appraised of no man. This must be Bob's 30th anniversary at Berachah. No one can appraise all that doctrine does. Doctrine is going everywhere from Bob's pulpit. But we cannot appraise the tremendous power of His Word. Who has come to know the Lord's mind? Who would think of instructing Him? But we, who are instructed of the Lord, we keep on having the mind of Christ. Bob is going on record that this is strictly a matter of grace that we can meet every night year in and year out; and he is thanking them for their wonderful remembrances and appreciation and faithfulness in taking in the Word.

Absalom and Respect for the Law

1. Absalom's question raises a question as to David's competency as a ruler.
2. David is incompetent as a judge, yet it was David who pardoned Absalom.
3. No matter what side of the tracks the criminal originates, and Absalom was a criminal right out of the palace, you cannot treat a criminal with kindness and he takes advantage of gracious treatment.
4. This is criminal arrogance, not showing respect for David or for the courts. You would think, by the press, that the press has won all of our wars. But they did not win us any freedom, they have not defeated our enemies nor have they protected us from anyone or anything. Today, the freedom of the press is distorted because there is no respect for authority or law enforcement.
5. A judicial system that would pardon Absalom will not gain the respect of Absalom. How can he respect it? Criminals do not respect law enforcement or the judicial system? One record Bob saw of a criminal and all of the crimes he had committed, and with this long string of crimes, he spent 93 days in jail.
6. Those who have no respect for the law cannot serve the law. Here is Absalom who wants to be a judge, and yet he has no respect for the law.
7. Absalom would be a terrible judge. No dedication whatsoever to the law. Absalom has no honor, so he would make a terrible judge. The true meaning of a pardon is not the remanding of a sentence, but this is also freedom. Society forgives and forgets the sin; the victims of the crime and the crime itself. The criminal is now treated as if he has never committed a crime.

We see that Absalom was not suited to be a judge. Once pardoned, a criminal can use his freedom to become a law-abiding citizen. Absalom presents himself as someone who would right all of the wrongs.

This suggests that David jealous of David and trying to grab all of the glory; but exactly the opposite is true. Arrogant people always ascribe their own failures to others and they malign the authority of the others.

Absalom says, And I will give him justice.

Arrogance, Authority and Revolution

1. Authority arrogance is incompetence; always alleging to do a better job than anyone else who possesses authority.
2. There is a principle by which Absalom will become a successful revolutionary lead. There is truth in 3 categories and they are the incorruptible. The revolution is the conspiracy. The general public can be coopted or it is pointed toward the revolution. If the general public is divided, then you have one of the causes for civil war. When revolution causes a civil war, the issue is truth. There is propaganda coming from the conspiracy and truth coming from the 3 sources of truth. One or more of the 3 categories of truth protect the people. But if they reject the truth, they fall into strong delusion. There is a big communist conspiracy being thrown out to the general public and this religious thing, and the Iranians are in between these things.

3. When arrogance has been disciplined by authority, arrogance rejects that authority. The person seeks to make capital out of discontent.
4. Revolution is promoted in the environment of violence and discontent.
5. Without national arrogance, revolution is impossible. Revolution merely withdraws into conspiracy, where interlocking systems of arrogance exists.
6. National arrogance is national degeneration.
7. Absalom implies that David is incapable of rendering justice as the king. The malfunction of justice destroys freedom.

2Sam. 15:4 Then Absalom would say, "Oh that I were judge in the land! Then every man with a dispute or cause might come to me, and I would give him justice."

2Samuel 15:4

631_0370

God opens up production when it is the right time, but without any fanfare. Many of those at Berachah have come across open doors; and it can be done without ballyhooing it. So many other organizations that Bob has been involved in; they do a lot of good, but they let you know what they are doing. Our missionaries are all doing wonderful things, and we don't keep any charts or any data, and everyone does everything as unto the Lord.

Absalom was a believer and he was trying to impress both believer and unbeliever with how friendly he was. He appeared to take an interest in all others.

Absalom and His Lack of True Interest in Others

1. Absalom pretends to take a great interest in people, but like most arrogant people, he is really only interested in himself. Doctrine makes us sensitive to others, their triumphs, failures, etc. Most people who are fascinated by history are also fascinated by people. They want to know what they are doing, how they are thinking, etc. Absalom is arrogant preoccupied with himself, and he gives the impression of being interested in others.
2. Absalom in his interest in people is using people to promote himself. Only God can promote him.
3. If God does not promote us, then we are not promoted. The other side of the coin is, if God does not demote us, then we are not demoted. Had Absalom been truly interested in people, he would have been fascinated by his father David. Absalom is trying to demote David. There is no way that Absalom can demote David. God will spank David and Absalom is beating out his brains being nice to the general public.

When God promotes a person, there is nothing that we can do to demote them. God promoted Billy Graham all the way, and there are so many out there beating their brains out trying to demote him. They often fail to understand that Billy Graham is where he is because God promoted him. There is a lot of pettiness among the clergy, and Bob avoids them. He is not too much up on what they are doing. People have forgotten, or never learned, if God does not promote you, then you are not promoted; and if God does not demote you, then you are not demoted. Bob was amazed by some of the books and pamphlets written against him, and he was first interested in getting out there and grabbing some shirt and beating on them; and then he realized, that is God's business. His promotion or demotion depend upon God. If God decides to demote Bob, then we won't even see his smoke. That is how it is with anyone with a spiritual gift.

Our preparation is what counts. There will be a response and there will be criticism. However, we rise or fall on the basis of God. There is good criticism, and we can profit by that. If the Lord does not demote us, then we are not demoted.

Every day, Absalom is out there working his head off. He is trying to get David demoted, and he can't do that. Where Absalom made his great mistake is, he did not pass the injustice test. He is suffering from reversionism.

There is a big different between God demoting a person and God spanking a person, and we ought not to get them confused. You may limp through life because you have not rightly divided the Word of Truth. Only God can demote those with a spiritual gift.

After 40 years of being king over Israel, he continued to rule.

God punished David but he did not demote him. David received much greater discipline. God will demote a lot of people, but not of them will be on David's side. Do not every get on some bandwagon of running down someone. Usually, you do not have all of the facts.

Bob got the dogs out just in time, because one of the dogs was going to claim the pulpit. Absalom is beating his brains out trying to do something that he cannot even do. Do not waste your life trying to do the impossible; trying to demote someone. If you try on your own ability to demote someone, you will never make it. In the body of Christ, do not waste your time demoting anyone.

There have been a number of groups which have broken away from Berachah. One tried to build their group based upon demoting Bob. If you try to demote some other believer, God will demote you. Stay out of it. Don't get into the Absalom syndrom. Don't try to demote someone. Do not gossip, malign, etc.

3. If God does not promote you, you are not promoted; and if He does not demote you, you are not demoted.
4. Those
5. Only the humble can avoid being exploited by the ambitious. Humility keeps you off the arrogance bandwagon.

6. Note that Absalom persists in this form of sub version every day. He was involved in mental arrogance, impulsive arrogance, impulsive, criminal, crusader and conspiracy and political arrogance.
7. In addition, Absalom possesses the Satanic syndrome, or authority arrogance.
8. The malcontents are a fertile field for revolution. In times of unrest, there are 3 types of people involved in revolution. The incorruptible, the revolutionary criminal and the useful idiots. The general public must be forged into a weapon for the revolutionaries. Only part of the general public will go with Absalom. David will make 3 wise decisions, and he will pull out of Jerusalem and move up north, and civil war will be the result. When a civil war is caused by politics, the issue is always freedom; when revolution is the cause of civil war, the cause is truth.

The south was constitutional and the issue of freedom was state's rights. Slavery would have been gone in 30 to 50 years without the war. The north was infused with self righteous arrogance. They were trying to impose their will on the south. The issue here was freedom. If revolution was the cause, the issue would be truth. In the south, they believed in establishment. There was a tremendous response to the gospel and there were great believers in the south. The north had great immigration. 1000's and more came from Germany and many rejected establishment, and they left that area so they would not be drafted into an army. But they got drafted into the American army.

There were those who stuck their noses into politics. Harriet Beecher Stowe and her husband both had sermons which were out of line. Truth was north and south of the Mason Dixon line. There was truth on both sides. That was not the issue. The issue was freedom. The south said freedom was one thing. The north did not care and said, "We are going force you what we want you to do." The constitution was set aside at Appomadox.

Woodrow Wilson was a good example of one who distorted history; he was a disgrace as a professor and as a president.

There are malcontents all over. Once a group leaves Berachah, Bob prays for them to really advance. Once they have the responsibility of a local church, they must never try to build their congregation on dislike of Bob or anyone else. Some groups catch on to that.

You cannot build anything upon anything other than truth.

9. The malcontent...
10. Beware that your discontent or grievances are not exploited by some arrogant to overthrow establishment authority.
11. The state of discontent often turns those who are responsible into irresponsible people with evil ambition.
12. Beware of the condescending personality, for behind the facade of their personality is arrogance. They have alleged interest. Absalom is a phoney.

13. Discontented people are maladjusted to authority. Discontented people are vulnerable to exploitation through ruthless arrogance.
14. Inordinate ambition and arrogant ambition exploits discontent and encourages disorientation to authority in the general public.

2Sam. 15:1–4 After this Absalom got himself a chariot and horses, and fifty men to run before him. And Absalom used to rise early and stand beside the way of the gate. And when any man had a dispute to come before the king for judgment, Absalom would call to him and say, "From what city are you?" And when he said, "Your servant is of such and such a tribe in Israel," Absalom would say to him, "See, your claims are good and right, but there is no man designated by the king to hear you." Then Absalom would say, "Oh that I were judge in the land! Then every man with a dispute or cause might come to me, and I would give him justice."

Summary Points

1. Those who are malcontent dance to the tune of their sympathizers.
2. Today's flattery is tomorrow's exploitation.
3. National arrogance is molding material for revolution. Our country is filled with all forms of arrogance.
4. The revolutionist marches to the off-beat of the drum.
5. Remove the bad authority or establishment authority, and revolutionary catastrophe is inevitable.
6. Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution. Absalom is a criminal but he pretends to be a crusader. Madam Roulon of the French revolution. Absalom the crusader is used by Absalom the criminal to foment the Absalom revolution.
7. Such finesse requires maximum arrogance. This finesse leads to vulnerability to all categories of the interlocking systems of arrogance.
- 8.
9. For conspiracy to be parlayed into revolution, the masses of people must be taught to despise establishment authority. This is being done in our schools and our liberal churches and homes. This is easy where the pupils are arrogant. This does not deny the corruption in our government, but people can be dragged into revolution. It would be very easy for Bob to react to Carter. Carter is wrong; should I join this revolutionary group? They are wrong; much worse in fact. There are those out there who are far worse than Carter. Anarchy is far worse.
10. Liberal government cooperates by actually being wrong. They are wrong in socialism, which is evil. Redistribution of wealth is evil. Taxes on profits is evil. Attack upon the oil companies is immoral. Downgrading the military establishment is evil. Only the criminal has rights today.
11. Sin + arrogance = evil; human good + arrogance = evil. Add ambition to arrogance and the evil is intensified. The criminal gains the power and the dupes are destroyed.
12. The people are promises that they will gain from the revolution, but they always lose in a revolution. In the atmosphere of a revolution; revolution is the oligarchy of evil.

13. The people forged into the weapon of revolution are destroyed by the arrogant manipulation principle.

One More Principle

1. Humility recognizes the reality of life. Being good in what you do does not mean you are good in everything in life. Those who succeed in an area, are sometimes trapped because they think that, because they are good in what they do, that their judgement is good in other things. Someone can be an excellent doctor, but this does not mean that his pronouncements on politics mean anything. You cannot step out of your field and be necessarily right. You learn when to speak and when not to.
2. Arrogance rejects the reality of life. If you are good in what you do, you can maintain your happiness in your own field of endeavor. This does not make you an expert elsewhere.
3. The danger of success in one field of achievement means success in one place makes you vulnerable to the arrogance that you are successful elsewhere in other fields.
4. Absalom has succeeded as a rancher and as a farmer. This does not qualify him to be a political leader.
5. Arrogance made Absalom weak. He did not really hear all the evidence. He got hearsay on the sidewalk and renders judgment on the basis of it.
6. Absalom, therefore, would make a terrible judge. However, arrogance makes him think that he would do a better job. Arrogance divorces each one of us from reality.
7. Arrogant people always assume that they can do it better than someone else. If Absalom had humility, there would have been no problem with him. If Bob comes by to visit him as a pastor, and we are having a medical problem, then we would be smart to refuse. That is not Bob's field.
8. When Absalom comes marching into town, he rapes David's 10 mistresses before all Israel. He attacks the innocent. Once he replaces David, he will fail where David succeeded. His potential was destroyed through interlocking systems of arrogance.
9. Physical beauty and a scintillating personality do not qualify a person for leadership.
10. Once in power, Absalom's system of justice includes the rape of the women in David's harem. He is still a criminal and such a one is never qualified to rule or to lead.

2Sam. 15:4 Then Absalom would say, "Oh that I were judge in the land! Then every man with a dispute or cause might come to me, and I would give him justice."

2Samuel 15:4-6

631_0371

And it came to pass after this that Absalom provided for himself state chariots....that when anyone had a grievance and came to the king for justice....Absalom would say to him, "Your grievances are valid...I would see that he receives justice."

True and False Leadership

1. Leadership does not consist of a leader telling people what they want to hear.
2. You cannot gain the favor of the multitude by simply telling them what they want.
3. You cannot agree with the crowd and lead the crowd, which is why no dope addict is qualified to lead anything.
4. You cannot rule the public, and at the same time be ruled by public opinion.
5. Integrity, honor, justice and truth must rule the people; not flattery, arrogance and deception.
6. A leader will tell the people he leads when they are wrong; and arrogant t ambition will agree with the crowd whether they are right or wrong.
7. The arrogant ambitious demagogue is a flatterer; he always tells people what they want to hear, the humble and honorable leader tells the people what they need to hear, which is truth.
8. A good leader as moral courage; the pseudo leader is a coward who accepts bad advice from evil advisors.
9. Revolution was inevitable from national arrogance and distortion of authority. National arrogance will only accept an arrogant leader, and an arrogant leader is no leader. Through a system of interlocking arrogance, leaders are neutralized.
10. When blind leadership leads blind public, they all fall into the ditch of national disaster. Absalom has an overious characteristic of pbeing a pathological liar. He could not qualify as a judge. He is telling these litigants that he would just them fairly and he is one of the least qualified judges there is.

2Sam. 15:4 Then Absalom would say, "Oh that I were judge in the land! Then every man with a dispute or cause might come to me, and I would give him justice."

When we were going to invade North Africa for operation torch in WWII, and some were thought who would be involved got a pamphlet saying men do not shake hands. There is an explanation of how kissing occurs, do not laugh when they kiss. The custom comes down from Bible class. They did not shake hands in those days. We must interpret the Bible in those days.

There is no election, yet Absalom is still running for office. There is an arrogance abroad in the land called equality. We are not born equal, we do not live equally, and we do not die equal. Equality is evil. There is no such thing as equality. When people talk about and demand equality, it is evil.

The Difference Between Equality and Freedom

1. Every believer and every human being possesses, in principle, freedom and privacy. They go hand in hand. One cannot exist without the other. Add property to that. Deny privacy and that denies freedom. In Russia, the property belongs to the state and many family are in 1 room apartments. 8-15 families in 2 rooms. That means there is no freedom and no privacy. We have freedom as believers in a client nation to God. We have the freedom as believers to advance to spiritual maturity or to degenerate into reversionism. The mature believer goes out under dying grade and the reversionist goes out under the sin unto death. We can see the arrogance in our country by legislating equality.

2. Every believer is free to advance or to retrogress to a state of inequality with other believers. At salvation, God does 36 things for all of us. Even at salvation, we all have different spiritual gifts, which is inequality. We are born male or female, so that is inequality from the get-go. When a woman believes in Jesus Christ, there is immediate inequality; she cannot be a deacon, evangelist or pastor-teacher. Even a baby or an adolescent can be, temporarily, superior to a believer in interlocking systems of arrogance. We are never equal at any time. Inequality does not make any difference. It is our attitude toward doctrine which makes the difference. A mature believer who washes dishes is greater than a reversionist who is the VP of a large company. There is no such thing as race in this country. If there are enough people in one race who do not have integrity and they demand rights where rights already exist, then you are vulnerable to revolution. A Senator from Nebraska said this country will be mighty sorry when the Communists get here, the Blacks will side with the communists because the communists like them. Communism will use blacks, but they will despise them. Our founding fathers forgot that it takes integrity to live by the constitution. It never occurred to them that there would be a time when there is no integrity.
3. Freedom guarantees inequality. If freedom is functioning properly, then equality cannot exist. Some people use their freedom to get ahead, others to get in trouble, others to grow spiritually, others to gain capacity for life.
4. All believers who are given both freedom and time to advance toward maturity, some make it and some do not, because of their attitude toward doctrine. Some simply do not have the same motivation. Freedom cannot manufacture equality or guarantee equality. Some achieve and some will not; some will achieve in sports or culture and some will not. There is no such thing as equality. Every revolution promises the general public equality. How would you like to go to a football game where both teams are equal? The whole idea of competition is to show there is some inequality. Equality is a myth and some use freedom to reject doctrine and some use it to advance spiritually. Freedom is the motivation of those who are oriented to authority and to life.
5. Forced equality is the policy of Satan and grace freedom is the policy of God. Freedom is dogmatic and inflexible with regards to the essentials of life but pliable with regards to the nonessentials of life.
6. Freedom is the motivation for law and order; equality is the motivation for violence, crime and revolution.

And whenever anyone approached to salute him...

More Principles

1. This is known as condescension or politicking. It is the weapon of the arrogant to recruit the arrogant for the wrong thing.

2. In times of unrest, there are the hardcore revolutionists, the incorruptibles and the general public.
3. The arrogant population is vulnerable to Absalom's flattery.
4. Arrogance demands attention from others. It does not earn attention from others. Racism demands attention where attention is not warranted. It does not earn respect, it demands respect. Many women have stupidly married a woman and now they demand attention and affection from this woman. Arrogance demands attention from others. Absalom is a demagogue.
5. When anyone would greet the prince or bow down to them, he would lift them up and kiss them as an equal. This was reserved for royalty. They do this in order to make the hoi polloi think they are equal to royalty. Equality only produces arrogance of thinking.
6. Absalom did not really regard these people as his equals. He pretended that these people were his equals.
7. Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution.
8. The criminal gains adherents to the revolution by guaranteeing equality to all.
9. The idea of human equality always appeals to the arrogance of mankind and makes him vulnerable to Satanic systems.
10. Satan appealed to the woman in the garden on the same basis. "If you eat of the fruit, you will be as smart as God is."
11. It should be noted that equality is not necessary for blessing or happiness.
12. Therefore, freedom is the reality and equality is the myth.
13. Absalom lures the arrogant populace into the revolutionary trap by demonstrating equality. This is a trap. He has denied and rejected his own class in order to lead the revolution.
14. He uses the greeting of the aristocracy to the common people.
15. When a leader begins catering to you, then they are no longer a leader. This is the equality is the promise of a revolutionary. Lenin and Stalin did not see themselves as equal to the people. As communists, they do not believe in equality to the hoi polloi. They never say this to them, however. Instead, they say, "We are all equal."
16. You cannot have revolution without arrogance. There was arrogance in France, and therefore, there was revolution. Arrogance in the Stuart dynasty, and therefore, there was revolution. The potential becomes a reality.
17. With the false foundation of arrogance, revolution must be converted to some form of tyranny. There never was a revolution that was not tyrannical. Cromwell was part of the civil war that won and he became a tyrant. They were all tyrants.
18. Absalom's personality arrogance leads to Absalom's political arrogance. There must be the foundation of personality arrogance for political arrogance. Personality arrogance is where Absalom began.

2Sam. 15:5 And whenever a man came near to pay homage to him [And whenever anyone approached to salute him], he would put out his hand and take hold of him and kiss him.

The personality arrogance of v. 5 becomes political arrogance of v. 6:

There is the phrase, in this manner.

Flattery and Lack of Discernment

1. Flattery by condescension is the modus operandi of the revolutionary leader.
2. Absalom waves his privilege of rank to bestow courtesies on the common man in order to appeal to their arrogance.
3. An arrogance nation is vulnerable to revolution. There is no protection for the laws of divine establishment.
4. Therefore, we must always recognize the danger of human freedom. It is vulnerable to deception. As soon as you get away from home, you began to associate with creeps and scoundrels. Your parents can see right through these people but you get away from them and you are fooled by them.
5. Human freedom is vulnerable to deception. You are always open to deception under arrogance.
6. As long as the umbrella of the authority operates under divine establishment, human freedom is protect, beginning with your parents.
7. Absalom was undermining the authority of David.
8. The people who rejected David's authority had previously rejected truth in one of its 3 categories.

Consequently, Absalom behaved in this manner toward all Israel that came to the king for judgment.

Arrogance Deceives Arrogance

1. Arrogance appeals to arrogance so that arrogance is vulnerable to arrogance. Many of you girls get the wrong man, and it is because he is a scoundrel and he focuses his eyes on you and gives you the full attention. Arrogance appeals to arrogance.
2. Part of blind arrogance is to be deceived by arrogance in someone else. Those who are deceived by Absalom were also flattered.
3. Absalom's political arrogance was considered humility by those who were arrogant themselves.
4. Arrogant people will only accept an arrogant leader. David has recovered from interlocking systems of arrogance so that his humility is rejected by the malcontents.
5. Instead, the people accept the arrogant leadership of Absalom who leads them into revolution.
6. They are easily deceived by Absalom's hypocritical facade of condescension.
7. Arrogance destroys authority-orientation. Absalom only uses this political hypocrisy on those who are discontented.

So Absalom stole the hearts of the people.

Revolution

1. Revolution must occur in the mind before it can manifest itself in revolution. There must be a rejection of authority-orientation. In the French revolution Voltaire, Diderot, etc. prepared the French for revolution.
2. The pattern of revolution begins with a mental attitude and then moves toward historical reality. The mentality must come first. Look at how people drive; their arrogance and thoughtlessness; you deal with the general public anywhere, and you are looking at the revolution. Hitler's Mein Kampf prepared Germany for revolution. The Nazis and the Communists are the same; they are systems of violence and full government. We whipped the Nazis first and we should have then destroyed the Communists. History will show that Patton was right; we should go in and whip the bastards. Harry Truman was a feisty thing, but like a little dog nipping at your heels. It takes a George Patton or an Eisenhower to whip the communists.
3. Absalom's modus operandi of deceit was to steal their thinking and then get them motivated to revolt. Revolution is always stealing the thoughts of the people. The French liberty, equality, and fraternity. These are evil words; revolutionary. they would be equal to be slaves to a tyrant. DeGaul made the right decisions which kept them from going communist. He had moral courage.
4. Theft of thought precedes revolution.
5. As long as the crusader's control, the violence is minimal. When the criminal takes over, the violence is maximum.
6. No revolution is an accident of history. It is preceded by the thinking of the arrogant and their decision to reject truth and strong delusion. First comes strong delusion and then revolution.

2Sam. 15:6 Thus Absalom did to all of Israel who came to the king for judgment [Consequently, Absalom behaved in this manner toward all Israel that came to the king for judgment]. So Absalom stole the hearts of the men of Israel.

2Samuel 15:6-9

Criminality 72David

631_0372

The incorruptibles form the nucleus to oppose revolution. These revolutions all follow the same pattern. The public must be won over to the cause of the revolution; and if they cannot do that, a civil war is the result. Freedom is the issue of a civil war.

Conspiracy and Arrogance

1. All conspiracy against is theft and deceit and dishonor. Integrity versus loyalty as an evil.
2. Absalom undermined authority in Israel.
3. There is a verb ganab and it means to deceive; and it means to steal by deceit.
4. Therefore, Absalom was a thief. He stole the thinking of the people by deceit. All national crisis and all national disaster and any form of tyranny comes from stealing the thought patterns of individuals.

5. When a person steals thinking from
6. Some people start stealing early in life by undermining the authority of their parents and their contemporaries.
7. It is a great evil when parlayed into The oil shortage has been blamed on the companies, but that is false. God honors profit making.
8. Arrogance resident in the soul makes the soul weak and vulnerable to all kinds of deception. Hardcore revolutionist, who is the conspiracy. Incorruptibles are the true conscripts; they will be those who reject the revolution and stand by David;

Rejection of truth in 3 categories is the inevitable result. If those in authority fail to function with honor and integrity, then this fuels a revolution.

Incompetence and bureaucracy are synonymous terms in our day and age. Arrogance and corruption in government means that there is corruption in the land.

Spain's revolution did not succeed.

2Sam. 15:6 Thus Absalom did to all of Israel who came to the king for judgment [Consequently, Absalom behaved in this manner toward all Israel that came to the king for judgment]. So Absalom stole the hearts of the men of Israel.

There needs to be a response in Jerusalem.

Shalach means to infiltrate or to fulfill. When Absalom came back from his grandfather's kingdom, he developed his hardcore revolution group, they have to decide upon a rallying point. Absalom had to get permission from the king to travel. Hebron had been legitimately Ahithophel is the real leader of this conspiracy. He started this while Absalom was banished. Hebron would be the rallying point and to possibly start the revolution itself.

David transferred the kingdom from Hebron to Jerusalem, and some were dissatisfied about that. It is strategically close enough to take Jerusalem.

2Sam. 15:7 And at the end of four years Absalom said to the king, "Please let me go and pay my vow, which I have vowed to the LORD, in Hebron.

Absalom anticipates being restored

There is first of all crusader arrogance added to criminal arrogance resulting in revolution. The criminals will eventually take over. Absalom represents the criminal element. Not only does the criminal show a total disregard for the truth, but lying is the criminal's standard way of dealing with the world. It is part of their thought process. He forgets lies he told before and traps himself. He also lies to build himself up. The sacrifices are designed to impress his father. Absalom will be able to travel to Hebron without arousing any problems, because David gives him permission. The lie must make sense to David, and this gets David to give him permission.

2Sam. 15:8 For your servant vowed a vow while I lived at Geshur in Aram, saying, 'If the LORD will indeed bring me back to Jerusalem, then I will offer worship to the LORD.'

Then we have some criminal. Kum here refers to motivation. There is the false motivation which he gave to his father, but he has true motivation. David will never see Absalom again on earth. David is manipulated, but Absalom will be the loser. Those who gain by cheating are always the losers.

Concept of Criminality in the Word of God and Relate it to this Passage

1. The criminal is an irresponsible person. Absalom's punishment was remanded. The victims of the crime and the crime are supposed to be forgotten. All Absalom had to do was use his positive and negative volition and be a law-abiding citizen. The only true rehabilitation. Laws of divine establishment apply to believers and unbelievers.
  - 1) Irresponsibility is a basic part of the criminal.
  - 2) The responsible person has a lifestyle of hardwork and fulfillment of obligations and thoughtfulness of others. We works hard for a living and does not lean on the government or others. He recognizes the freedom, privacy and property of others.
  - 3) He gets self-respect from his own achievements.
  - 4) From perception of Bible doctrine, he
  - 5) In anger, he might violate someone's privacy or property, but this is not a way of life. An accident on the freeway does not make you a criminal.
  - 6) Criminality is sinful, all sinfulness is not criminality.
  - 7) The law-abiding citizen takes responsibility for his own actions and he avoids infringing the rights of others.
  - 8) The law abiding citizen might be irresponsible without violating the law.
  - 9) In such a case, the irresponsible liar and obligation defaulter and excuse offerer, is so slovenly at work, that he may be classified as unreliable rather than criminal.
  - 10) The criminal does not take responsibility for his own actions.
  - 11) Absalom's criminality is seen in his burning of Joab's barley harvest.
2. The criminal has no authority-orientation.
  - 1) This is generally authority arrogance by which the criminal rejects all delegated and legitimate authority from God, including parents who are the first authority in life. Many times, you may feel your parents are unfair, but they are the basic authority of life. Absalom failed the injustice test, since David refused to see him. We often feel that our parents are unfair, and the other parents are not like this. Believer's authority-orientation to his pastor-teacher, his manager or executive over him or wherever are all factors related to orientation to life. Without authority-orientation which begins in the home, there is no

- 2) The arrogance of rejection of parental authority results in disorientation to life in general. Freedom has
  - 3) The frustration of no capacity for life turns young people to criminal activity as an outlet for their energy.
  - 4) The criminal is guilty of authority-orientation which begins in the home and extends to every facet of life. Absalom has rejected all authorities in life.
  - 5) In this country, there is increased teenage crime, which is the rejection of parental authority. Disorientation to authority leads to criminality in adulthood. Absalom's aristocratic Hurian mother, all of them suffered from the problem of no authority-orientation. Only Tamar was an exception. She became a wonderful woman in her day.
3. The criminal has a basic sense of insecurity.
- 1) There are all kinds of insecurities. Fear of ridicule and put down. Far more extensive for the criminal.
  - 2) He has all of these fears; he fears being reduced to nothing; when his self-esteem brings him to a zero state, he gets a sense of failure to a great extreme. He must be the best or he is nothing. Absalom had to be the king or he was nothing. He fears zero state even when he is not in it.
  - 3) This insecurity leads the criminal to transparency and he thinks his worthlessness is obvious to everyone.
  - 4) When the criminal thinks he has succeeded in life, society regards him as a failure. Society sees him as a failure. The woman from Tekoa, society sees the criminal as a failure when he is seen in his own eyes as a success.
  - 5) The criminal can get very bored, and he falls into this zero state. Criminal thinking and the thinking of a free society are never on the same frequency.
  - 6) So the criminal's insecurity keeps him in a state of disorientation. This is what happened to Absalom after his pardon.
  - 7) In the criminal state, the criminal blames others for his failures or whatever. We will see great instability in Absalom in the future.
4. The criminal has no control over his temper or emotions.
- 1) This is true of some non-criminals as well. Ike had a bad temper, but he learned how to control it.
  - 2) Absalom also has a bad temper.
  - 3) Anger is a sin and criminality is characterized by chronic uncontrolled anger.
  - 4) Anger in the criminal can be outwardly suppressed for whatever reason, but inside, it is unrestrained. He never has control over his inner boiling point. He does not show it. Outwardly, he appears normal.
  - 5) It is the inner anger never expressed overtly which is expressed criminal and noncriminal.

- 6) Here we are noting the anger in the criminal. This is the anger reaction in the criminal related to interlocking systems of arrogance. He begins as an isolated episode and expands to interlocking systems of arrogance.
- 7) In 2 years of not seeing David, Absalom lost all common sense. He parlays this to criminal motivation. The criminal uses his anger and lack of control to get his own way.
5. Criminality is expressed by boredom. Some of you mothers will produce criminals.
  - 1) The criminal has no capacity for love for life or for happiness. He is unhappy even when things are going his way. The criminal is bored even when doing what they want to do.
  - 2) The criminal wants excitement and proof of his power. He is even unhappy when raping someone. He does things successfully but he is not happy. He is bored with the money and without it. The criminal wants excitement as proof of his power.
  - 3) They desire excitement and become jaded. He can get excited by the crime, but he becomes bored. Absalom is constantly motivated by revolution. This is the difference between Absalom and Tamar. Absalom rejected doctrine and had no capacity for life.
  - 4) To live without increasing excitement is a put down to the criminal. He therefore becomes involved in taking narcotics and he must get his kicks chemically.
  - 5) Only violence and criminal activity is the antidote for his boredom.
6. The criminal is also involved in interlocking systems of arrogance. Humility is the ability to perpetuate happiness and arrogance is failure to cope with failure or success. The lack of capacity for love life and happiness. God makes war against the arrogant and He gives grace to the humble.
  - 1) Arrogance is inflexible about self and criminal arrogance is totally preoccupied with self.
  - 2) Criminal pride is inflexible. I am powerful because I have decided to be.
  - 3) No reason, logic or truth can modify the criminal's arrogance or his inflexible subjectivity. He rejects all subjectivity in fear of being a zero.
  - 4) Criminal arrogance knows it all and he rejects all views to the contrary.
  - 5) Criminal arrogance is disorientation to establishment authority. \
  - 6) From this arrogance, the criminal becomes a sociopath who functions under mental attitude arrogance using a facade of hypocrisy to cover his evil thinking.
  - 7) The criminal has a colossal evil. Too superior to work at an ordinary job. They simply cannot make it. He can't be a dishwasher, a bus boy, cleaning floors, something ordinary, they cannot stand it. His mentality is totally opposed to it.
  - 8) The criminal expects to dominate every gathering and expects all to be impressed.
  - 9) He reasons that no woman can resist him.

- 10) He would rather get what he wants by manipulation or force. This is more important than getting something by asking for it or by earning it.
- 11) He cannot tolerate criticism and responds with anger and violence.
- 12) Arrogance is hypersensitive. Criminal arrogance takes hypersensitivity to an extreme. It lines up with his desire to establish his superiority. What may seem unreasonable to us, is normal to him.
- 13) The criminal who robbed the bank and discarded his clothing, and then came back and stood in line to hear the descriptions. He would laugh at this.
- 14) Arrogance is the motive for crime against property and sex crimes is not sex; he is motivated by arrogance. He is motivated by what he is thinking.
- 15) In both cases and the case of senseless violence, he is acting a control over his victim to make you scream or show fear. If he is bored, he might shoot you. Likes to exert authority, etc. Absalom provided the criminal leadership. The criminal feels superior when he hurts others. Arsonist said, "I made a lot of people scream." Mr. Big complex. Better to be under the sod than not to be God. I'd rather live one day as a lion than a hundred as a sheep. The criminal prayed to God to commit a crime and then prayed not to be caught. They will even wear a cross when committing a crime; it legitimized his crime and gave him a good opinion of himself.
- 16) Actions which seem perfectly normal

Communion service.

The battle in France was fought with words, and cowardice, opportunism, and treachery were the weapons of the revolutionists. Bob is reading a whole lot about the French Revolution??

Principles of Criminality

1. The criminal is irresponsible; that is a general characteristic. The average person has some thoughtfulness of others, a willingness to do hard work,
2. Occasionally, the law-abiding citizen may abuse another person, but this is sin and not criminality, as long as it is not a way of life. A law-abiding citizen may commit acts of criminality or sin without being a criminal. He might be unreliable.
3. Absalom's irresponsible criminal behavior is seen in his burning of Joab's field.
4. The criminal has no authority-orientation.
5. As a young person, they reject the authority of their parents. This begins in the home and extends to every part of life.

6. Personal insecurity which is a fear of many different things. These fears can cause the criminal to become a nothing. When he is reduced to such a state, it is called the zero state. The criminal is subject to extremes. He is great and he is nothing. His insecurity keeps him disoriented to correct norms and standards.
7. He has no real control over his temper or emotions. Anger is a sin and anyone can be guilty of that. The criminal often suppresses his anger, he keeps it back until he is ready.
8. Criminality is characterized by boredom, which is a lack of capacity for life. Easily bored by life, even when things are going his way. Arrogance is the failure to cope with success and lack of capacity for life, happiness or prosperity.
9. Arrogance is inflexible about self and criminal arrogance is completely subjective about self. Arrogance is the motivation of the criminal personality. Neither argument, persuasion, reason or truth cannot sway the criminal from his thinking. He is always right in his own mind.
10. All criminals are liars; they are habitual liars. Lying is their standard way of dealing with the world. He lies to build up himself. Conning is a way of life. Misrepresentation is the basis of most con games. Criminals tell so many lies that it seems like the truth. "You don't tell the truth unless it gets you what you want."

2Sam. 15:7 And at the end of four years Absalom said to the king, "Please let me go and pay my vow, which I have vowed to the LORD, in Hebron.

2Sam. 15:8 For your servant vowed a vow while I lived at Geshur in Aram, saying, 'If the LORD will indeed bring me back to Jerusalem, then I will offer worship to the LORD.'

2Sam. 15:9 The king said to him, "Go in peace [and prosperity]." So he got up and went to Hebron.

Absalom Sends in Propagandists

1. At a given signal, there will be violence, but the public sector must be won over.
2. His own people have been made hardcore.
3. The general public must be forged into a weapon by conspiracy to overthrow the government.
4. This defines the propagandists as slanderers. Slander must be first forthcoming. Under strong delusion, they believe the propaganda and slander.
5. There are half-truths in propaganda, and people often believe the lie and join the cause.

Propaganda, Lies and Slander

1. Slander and propaganda establishes pseudo authority in life.
2. Pseudo authority must be established so that public will follow the orders of the revolutionaries. The army joined the Nazis, which marked the solidification of Hitler's power.

3. Absalom never got out of pseudo leadership. A civil war, but he never gained real authority. Pseudo authority needs to be established to get the general public to follow.
4. The hardcore revolutionists deceive, manipulate and use the general public. Robes pierre saw the people as being honorable and good as long as they recognized him as authoritative. The general public is the dupe and pawn.
5. The revolution never starts with a majority of the people. It begins with a small dedicated group of crusaders fronting for a dedicated group of criminals.
6. The details of the slander against David is not given. The Bible does not waste time with the propaganda and slander.
7. Propaganda is always the same, whether this revolution or the French or the Russian. The rulers are maligned, the people are promised freedom and/or equality, etc.
8. Essentially the people are conned into the revolution they think that they will receive something without working for it. The people always buy the something for nothing propaganda.

Crowds shout slogans, and this gets them going.

The Principle of the Shouting

1. This fools the stupid; they think that David is dead and that Absalom is now the king. If there is enough shouting, some people are impressed. These are people shouting slogans. They think if someone makes enough noise, that is impressive. Some will join in and sing along with them, and they feel like they are a part of something. Often the stupid go along with this. The stupid have their arrogance appealed to, and this is easily and quickly turned into courage. One you join a shouting crowd and start to shout their slogans, the less thinking you are doing. This happens during elections. When you join a shouting crowd and to shout with them is to be stupid and to give up your intelligence. Who shouts the most during football games. Bob sometimes has to grab them by the collar and explain to them that there is no need for all the noise. At a football game, Bob got into a lot of fights and near fights, except at times, it would have been a fight, but he could not get enough response. Drunks identify with the noise of a crowd. The shouting of the mob drowns out the thinking of law-abiding citizens. Every day they could have food; they did not have to work. Some who shouted these things began to believe them.
2. Law-abiding citizens are often intimidated by the screaming and shouting of a loud crowd, and this sometimes keeps you from doing anything.
3. Revolution is a series of intimidations, beginning with hardcore conspiracy and spreading to the people, the general public.
4. The scum in the streets become commissars with great power and they use this power against others they do not like. Some groups get the restraints of their anger and bitterness removed. This always removes all restraint on implacability.
5. The mob is evil, it is destructive and it destroys the ability to think.

Equality cancels liberty and fraternity. But people are too stupid to realize that. Always, there is some key that any thinking person can reject this whole bunch.

“Absalom Is King in Hebron”

1. The content of this shout is a lie. There is always a set of lies in a revolution. There might be some little truth in it. He is in Hebron.
2. David is king in Jerusalem.
3. The people have a choice, however. They can choose between the truth or a lie. Absalom is the king in Hebron. David, one of the greatest rulers ever, has provided them with everything before all of this. Still, thousands will join the revolution. And they do it from their own free will. What sense does it make. Some of you ladies married a horse's ass. What made you choose? Many people have made decisions for the wrong thing. Why? When we are in a state of arrogance, we are often subjective and inflexible and even our friends cannot tell us what an ass we are. We close our ears to feilds who tell us the truth. We accept lies because we are ivolved in interlocking systems of arrogance. We enter in by one of the 14 gates and we become subjective and inflexible. Pseudo love is tenacious and imbecilic. Pseudo love is fanatical. The more people who run down the person you think you love, the more you love that person. People warn you, and you cling to them even more. There are 5 people in this congregation that Bob would not let them within 1000 yards of. Bob has their number and if they step out of line, he'll mop up the parking lot with them. Arrogance brings instant bad judgment. We have all done so. Interlocking systems of arrogance provides subjectivity and inflexibility. This is why there are so many bad marriages. So often when people can choose between the truth and a lie, they cannot figure it out. They have destroyed their ability to make a right decision. Reversionism givens them strong delusion. Arrogance and strong delusion always choose the false. What we call stubbornness is often arrogance and strong delusion.
4. In the revolution, the masses choose to believe the lie, because they are arrogant and under strong delusion.
5. Revolutions are constructed out of lies and half truths.
6. The truths and half-truths come from the crusaders. ; the criminals distort truth into lies to advance the revolution.
7. Legitimate grievance becomes motivation and the revolutionary leader emerges, when he was a criminal before.
8. The crusaders are set aside and the criminals emerge as as the leaderrs

2Sam. 15:10 But Absalom sent secret messengers [propagandists or slanderers] throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, "As soon as you hear the sound of the trumpet, then say, 'Absalom is king at Hebron!'"

Bob just came back from a conference; and there were a lot of people there who did not know anything about the arrogance complex.

Bob began reading a book called Hitler's Generals. He says that Rommel is an amateur in many ways, but some other unknowns were quite good. The displeasure with Hitler was one of the main reasons for a general leaving.

Hitler's mistakes included starting a war before his Navy was ready. Invading Russia caused him to be committed to a two-front war. He did not leave strategy to his officers. The Germans never caught up logistically, and neglected the military. However, the big problem was the arrogance of Hitler.

We are going to find a large number of people who fail because of arrogance. They had potential, but they lost out.

2Sam. 15:7–10 [And at the end of four years Absalom said to the king, "Please let me go and pay my vow, which I have vowed to the LORD, in Hebron. 2 causes of civil war; if it is a political cause, the issue is freedom.

We live in history and many of us will see revolution and war before we die. We need to understand that the Bible interprets history, so we need to understand the Biblical view of history.

Some of us, our attention depends upon social life, we all enjoy the opposite sex, at least I hope we do. However, we enjoy these things because doctrine is first. Revolution is constructed upon lies, and legitimate grievances becomes revolutionary propaganda.

There is nothing in this life which can take credit for stupidity; and some have great potential and blow it because of arrogance. Some of you have gotten into your social life too quickly here. You do not have the capacity for it.

There were people who came to Tulsa from all over the United States.

We start with the Qal perfect of Halak. It means to go, to march; to follow; to have fellowship with. Before you get too fatheaded, we all, in life, are influenced by someone else, and we all follow someone else.

Some guy named Clark from Tulsa. Bob doesn't like country music or rock music. He likes Tommy Dorsey, the Aggie band and Wagner. You shouldn't feel inferior because someone has influence over you. There were 200 aristocrats who made the wrong decision because of who influenced them.

If you are humble, flexible, you can learn something from the woman. However, there are other times when she is a fluffy headed idiot. If some woman tries to rise up over Bob, he may react differently. However, taking good advice from a woman does not mean your authority has been destroyed.

Bob loves dogs but he knows nothing about training them. He does not feel inferior because he learns from them. Some are so arrogant that they feel inferior when someone has to explain something to them. Balderdash is somewhat that way. There were 200 men who were invited followed Absalom. He had a marvelous personality and this attracts others; and this is because they are arrogant. What destroyed these 200 men is arrogance. The German army had a phenomenal number of generals at the beginning. These 200 men in Israel were great in the realm of potential, and it always remained potential. Sincerity is the way a lot of dumb people impress a lot of other dumb people. If you are attracted to sincerity, you have no ability to discern one from another. You are moved by con artists. If you like a mental attitude because he is cute, you haven't grown enough.

The Qal perfect of jada They knew nothing about the revolution.

The 200 Men

1. These people are dupes, simpletons and the real victims of the revolution. Many have been friends since grammar school days; they are his drinking buddies, his friends.
2. These 200 must be categorized as close friends of Absalom, sincere admirers of him, but totally stupid about the revolution. They could stop a revolution, but they are still playing in the palace. They still have their magnificent balls. They had no idea as to what was going on. Many demonstrated their capabilities by the way that they died. However, at this point, they knew nothing. Fiddling while Rome burns. Fiddling can mean a lot of things; it is playing the violin.
3. These 200 aristocrats were attracted to Absalom for a number of reasons. They wanted to be a prominent person in Jewish society. A genius IQ + arrogance is worthless.
4. They were so stupid in their emotional response to Absalom that they were led into the revolutionary track without knowing anything about the revolution. They had no clue about what was going on. They were completely taken in; completely deceived. They were not for a revolution. They were not down with David types. If Absalom made a toast, "Death to David" they would have been shocked.
5. There are all kinds in Berachah. Berachah Church has been composed of people from all over the country who wanted face to face teaching every night. But there are all kinds at Berachah. These 200 are not unlike people in any group. There are always those who are the real victims.

6. These are the dummies of life who do not have doctrine for discernment or they are exposed to doctrine or truth, but they never listen. They are thinking about all of these other things. If we are normal, we are attracted to some people. This congregation probably has the highest concentration of attractive people. Bob's been in congregations that would make you shudder.
7. In blind arrogance, the key to everything is arrogance. In blind arrogance, they follow a man and become entangled in Absalom's arrogance. They went there thinking that this was going to be a lark. It was a good town to have fun.
8. These 200 let Absalom make a decision for them. This is a case where they should be making their own decisions. They entered the revolution without understanding it. They let Absalom decide that they would be in the revolution. Once you accept a man as your husband, then when it comes to decisions, it is just about over. All of a sudden. If it is Bob, "Your day of jeans is over. You take those out and burn them." You marry a man to please him, not to throw him an occasional bone. Marriage is a lot more solemn than you realize. You like to make your own decisions and you enjoy your life. The idea of suddenly settling down is not really what you had in mind. With this kind of attitude, you need to wait for your right man. Between age 13 and whatever else, the woman lives to please herself. After that, when she gets married, you have to please him. Now he is making strange noises like, "Go into the kitchen and cook" and you have been used to going out to eat all the time. "You have already learned enough not to call me up and ask for anything." You will make decisions. Adulthood means taking the responsibility for your own decisions. "Cursed is the man who puts his trust in man."
9. Therefore, choose your friends wisely. If you are not as wise as you thought you were, good. Berachah is a good place to be burned. People will tolerate your failures in Berachah. We don't throw out the prostitute and the drunk; we throw out those who gossip about the prostitute and the drunk. Choose your friends wisely, because association with the wrong person turns innocence into guilt. If you let people make decisions for you, you must take responsibility for the decision that they make for you.
10. Cursing by association is one of the most neglected principles of Bible doctrine.
11. When you use your free will to make a friend and your friend starts making decisions for you, then your friend's judgment is your judgment and your friend's evil is your evil. Therefore, beware who makes decisions for you.

2Samuel 15:11

Bob is still reading about Hitler's generals. Von Monstein is someone that Bob and many others consider to be the most intelligent in all of WWII. Von Monstein was of the aristocrats from a very aristocratic family. The French were conquered in less than 30 days. They went in and wiped out all of the aristocrats in Poland.

None of the other generals had the nerve to protest this. He refused to cooperate with the SS and threatened to shoot the bastards if they came into his territory. Hitler had the greatest military in the world.

We have 1000's of the worst scum in the world sent to us from Cuba. He took all of those off of his welfare rolls and sent them all to the U.S. Wetbacks come in from Mexico. Bob thinks that we are looking at revolution shortly.

There are 200 men who followed Absalom in their sincerity and they knew nothing whatsoever about the revolution. They allowed Absalom to make decisions for them. When you use your free will to make a friend, then your friend's judgment is your judgment and your friend's evil is your evil.

This Takes Us to the Influential Men from Jerusalem

1. These men are aristocrats and mobility and they are typical of people who, in times of great prosperity, that they spend so much time in social life, that they don't enjoy their social life. They have a tendency to so emphasize their social life, that they tend to lose their capacity for life. Some of us are so involved in our social life that we neglect doctrine. When doctrine is #2, you begin to form associations and social life, and people wake up and realize that we are in a depression. Even if you went to class all the time, it became Berachah social club. So there are 200 high class men, with smarts, abilities, attractive men. Their association with Absalom blotted out the importance of doctrine. Absalom's parties took precedence. Bob enjoys parties. But if you let the good times turn your head from doctrine or association with attractive people, and some of you girls came down looking for a man, or you meet a man and he takes you away from doctrine, you will experience hell on earth. The people who make you happy now will make you miserable later.
2. These victims of their own stupidity and lack of discernment figured they were going to Hebron to offer up sacrifices and have a good time. This was ancient jet-setting. They expected a great party, since it is out of hearing of the palace.
3. Absalom in his conspiracy needed window dressing to hide the conspiracy. He figured the best way was to put up the window dressing of social life. Absalom partied with these people. They raised hell and they had a ball. Smart conspirators set up window dressing types. If Bob was a gangster, he would set up a bunch of people who had no idea what he was doing. They would have a good time together and they would have no idea. Had doctrine been first, they could not have been used in this way.
4. Many of these 200 started out doctrinally sound; they had great integrity and honor and in 4 years, they had lost this integrity. Absalom had the best parties at a time doctrine would be taught. Therefore, they started out with great integrity and honor but it was now severely compromised.
5. It is not how many of them remained with Absalom after the revolution. Bob thinks that all of them were stuck. Once his 200 friends were in the HQ of the revolution, but if they opposed it, Absalom would say, "Take them out and kill them." "I can't believe it, the Russians are coming...we are going to war."

6. Undoubtedly, many of these men had strong integrity, and they had enough left to try to break away from Absalom. But to escape, they had to be flexible and smart. You will be a sucker all of your life unless doctrine is first.
7. Others were too arrogant, too subjective and too weak. They went in for all of this. Even with muscles, if you are arrogant, then you are weak. Arrogance is weakness. These are the stupid victims of revolution. They are weak and arrogant and being inflexible means no survival. Bob used to swim a mile a day as a lifeguard and he has seen a lot of great swimmers cramp up. This is just what happens to arrogant people. Too arrogant and too weak to leave the revolution.
8. Most of those who stay with Absalom will die in the revolution. Those people shouting these slogans and attending these meetings are going to die and they will contribute to the fertility of the ground.
9. It would be safe to conclude that all of those involved in interlocking systems of arrogance would become victims of interlocking systems of arrogance. Those with humility and teachability will survive. Bob knew several people who became millionaires who were flexible enough to clean floor and scrub pots and pans for their flexibility. Too many of you have your and you expect to be a vice president, or whatever; unable to do something which is menial. Flexibility is the key. A bunch of Blacks hired to be vice presidents in the airlines, and one said, "I am not qualified to do this job." That is flexibility and humility. Arrogance is inflexible with whomever you find it. If God has to bring you down where you are hungry and starving, then maybe you will change your opinion about flexibility. It is a lot more fun to start from the bottom anyone and then when you go up to the top, you know what it was like at the bottom. The revolution will renounce Absalom or whatever.

Loyalty as a virtue versus loyalty as an evil. Humility and flexibility are the survival instincts.

So, into the Value of Death Road the 200

1. Those who have been consistent in the perception of doctrine will survive.
2. The daily function of gap produces loyalty as a virtue is more important than loyalty to people.
3. Apathy toward doctrine and antagonism toward doctrine produces loyalty as an evil.
4. Integrity (Bible doctrine in the soul) and loyalty as a virtue equal honor. David represents legitimate authority. Soon, there will be 2 kings in Israel. The defacto king and the dejuri king. These words are used today. A defacto criminal is someone who is committing a crime and shot by the police; he was found guilty on the scene. A criminal caught and tried and convicted is dejury. David will recognize Absalom as the defacto king. David will suggest that to Ittai the Gittite. He was humble and flexible. So some will survive. Absalom is the defacto king and the honorable will be loyal to David, as he is the king promoted by God. A lot of people may not like David personally, but they will still remain loyal to him. Absalom will be destroyed for what he has done. Those loyal to Absalom will die and those loyal to David will survive.

There was no revolution during Solomon's time. He will be safe, because the Revolutionaries are wiped out for an entire generation. Some people are discerning simply because they have humility. "The curse of the Lord is on the house of evil." God makes war against the arrogant but he gives grace to the humble. This will occur during the revolution.

Arrogance + loyalty as an evil = dishonor.

Just as we must all pass the injustice test, we must all pass the conspiracy test. This can be in business, in the military, in social life, even on of our own, Hal Lindsay, ran down Bill Bright, who was the leader of campus crusade. You do not undercut a leader. If you don't like it, you move out quietly. When you matriculate in Bob Jones University, then you go along with their policies. If you don't like it, go elsewhere. This is the authority test. When you are in an organization, then you must respect the authority in that organization. Sometimes, the boss will admire and respect you when you put up with so much. "What makes you tick? You know I don't like you and I have been riding you; how do you put up with it?" Outside of Bill Muderline, Bob's assistant pastors continued to undercut him. Bob would fire anyone of us for reading the Bible on the job. You can read it during your coffee break or your lunch hour, fine; but do not read any of these things, including Bob's books, while you are being paid to do a job. If you were reading Bob's books on the job, he would can you. You need to be authority oriented.

God has provided truth in 3 categories. Ignorance of the truth is arrogance and evil. Strong delusion will be the downfall of many of these 200.

2Sam. 15:11 With Absalom went 200 men from Jerusalem who were invited guests, and they went in their innocence and knew nothing.

2Samuel 15:12

631_0376

This is the weekend that we celebrate Armed Forces Day. The military is not a appreciated or understood. Jesus Christ controls history. Under the laws of divine establishment, the military protects our freedom. Our president has cancelled out the B1 bomber and has all but destroyed our army and has made it totally impossible for logistical support at this time. We do not have enough to fight for more than 10 days anywhere where our men are. It is almost ludicrous to celebrate an armed forces day since most people have low regard for the military. There are few professions where such sacrifice is necessary. We live in tragic times. For a short time, we will have armed forces day every day, and people will want to know why we are failing and why there is no clear victory. We will see the tragedies pile up. It is tragic to live in a time when no one understands the armed services.

Furthermore, we have great racial tensions, and yet the armed forces give the Black man and the Brown man a fair shake; the only place. People have no concept of what this country is all about. When people emigrate to this country, and those who take the course to find out what our country is all about, they learn to appreciate our country far more than those whose family has lived here since colonial times.

There is a lack of understanding in the Word of God.

The passage which Bob is going to cover has not been taught more than 10 or 15 times over the past few hundred years. This is fertile ground for interpretation. We are studying revolution and seeing how it began in a wonderful and prosperous nation. Even in the greatest of nations, revolution is a anger to us. If we go to war this year, there is a good chance that there will be a revolution as well. The United Rhodesia and dismantling it conspiratorial, attacking Rhodesia and dismantling their government.

The 200 men and they were upper crust and aristocratic, and they were men who, in normal times, would have made a great contribution to society. However, they had become indolent; they sought out social life. They were all affluent. They did not need to work for a living. They pursued pleasure in their lives. As believers in Jesus Christ, they neglected Bible doctrine. They had no capacity for life. They assumed that they were accompanying Absalom to a great religious party, and they became window dressing for Absalom's conspiracy. Many of them had integrity and honor at that time.

Arrogance produced subjectivity and inflexibility. Many of them would not survive because they are arrogant in their café society. They are name droppers and they are impressed with other people. Most of these will stay with Absalom and die with him during the civil war. These are stupid victims of the revolution. These men will be dishonorable and they will die because of this.

Prov. 3:33–35 The LORD's curse is on the house of the wicked, but he blesses the dwelling of the righteous. Toward the scorers he is scornful, but to the humble he gives favor. The wise will inherit honor, but fools get disgrace.

They followed him in their sincerity and new nothing.

200 Men, Arrogance and the Truth

1. Ignorance is not bliss; it is arrogance and dishonor.
2. One thing that God has done for the entire human race is to provide truth in 3 categories. Laws of divine establishment for believers and unbeliever. They come under strong delusion. Establishment has been abandoned. Some honesty and integrity in the police force and a few judges and a few pastors, a few governors, a few mayors. When either rejects the laws of divine establishment, they believe the lie, and this takes them off into falsehood. Category #2 is the gospel. Category #3 truth is Bible doctrine for the believer only. These 200 had reject Bible doctrine; it was not a big thing in their lives. Constantly seeking pleasure, they put pleasure first.
3. Man has freedom and volition to hear the truth.
4. Ignorance of the truth is arrogance and evil.

5. Rejection of the truth is arrogance and evil and the intensification of that arrogance and evil. They believe the lie. They believe what is false.
6. Strong delusion will be the downfall of these 200 prominent men.

The windfall profits tax is stealing. Castro was very smart. He got rid of all the welfare people, emptied the jails, and gave them all over to us. He deported his nonessential scum.

These 200 men used their own free will to accept Absalom's invite.

Taking Responsibility for Your Own Actions

1. They might blame Absalom for the dilemma, but they made their own decisions from their own free will. Do not blame your choices on God. You have made your decision, just like anyone else. The only thing which can save our lives is doctrine. There is no man and no group can save this country. We manufacture from our own free will our own failures. Some women come here and think they have walked into the right place to shop around. If there is no capacity for life and no capacity for love, then your marriage will be a mess. You may blame your parents, the opposite spouse, the pastor who married you; you will blame everyone but yourself. But once you get married, you give up your free will. You make your own decisions and then you must stand by them. These 200 men are very influential men. When you go to Absalom's parties, there is no more time for doctrine. There are certain people with whom you can associate and you are instantly distracted from doctrine. Young people come from all over the United States. They get distracted from doctrine and they lose their capacity for life and happiness.
- 2.
3. A person from his own free will will often commit a sin in ignorance, but he still wanted to do it. God holds him responsible for it. The issue is free will. We have self-determination in our souls. We can choose. We all make decisions, good and bad. The more doctrine the more good decisions, ideally speaking. When you decide to break away from Bible class, it is just like sleep; you'll never make it up. Residing in that same soul is free will. Happiness is not what you will do after church, but what you are thinking. "Look up or look down, but don't watch other people." We take the responsibility for our own volition. We wanted to commit a sin, so we did it, whether we knew it was a sin or not. Being involved in blind arrogance, you must take responsibility for your decisions in interlocking systems of arrogance. High Plains Drifter was the movie last night. Typical western town with a church, which they called Berachah east. The way they acted, they must have been believers. They showed this establishment person, the sheriff, being cut to pieces by whips, as the law was cut to pieces. All of these people fulfilled 13 of the 14 interlocking systems of arrogance. After that, there was a reign of terror by these 3 punks. They hired criminals because they were no longer establishment. They no longer had a veneer of establishment. Their interlocking systems of arrogance had destroyed them all. All of these people suffered from arrogance. They rejected establishment authority and then destroyed themselves from their own free will. Absalom was accepted as a leader and a ruler, but he had no real authority. These people were evil because they accepted pseudo-authority. Extrication is much more complicated than implication. It requires moral courage to break out. We can be evaluated by what we avoid as well as by what we accept. This would have been a good time to avoid Absalom. The would find it very difficult to do anything that would be of any help at all.

The conspiracy, the hardcore revolutionaries. The general public must be won to the revolution or there is no revolution. Some of the general public will stay with the incorruptibles.

Qal imperfect of shallach. He is sending for the brains behind the revolution. While offering sacrifices, he has the facade of worship. He attended church by putting on a hypocritical front. He continues to put on this front; to continue to deceive so many people.

Absalom used animal sacrifices as a cover for the last stage of the revolution. He seems to be interested in worship and Bible doctrine. Inwardly, he is reversionistic and evil. If you are in Berachah in a state of arrogance or evil, how much do you get out of the lesson? There are the 200 aristocrats and the couriers. The ladies in David's family produced some great military men. Amasah will replace Joab. If politics is the cause of civil war, the issue is freedom; if revolution is the cause of civil war, the issue is truth.

Ahithophel is the leader of this revolution conspiracy. Hebron was where David was crowned and this is where Absalom will be crowned. It is an ideal place for the revolution. Hebron was the original capital under David for 7.5 years. Some in Hebron never got of this move to Jerusalem.

you are open to propaganda if you despise someone that your formerly loved. The people of Hebron became arrogant when David moved to Jerusalem. As they became an arrogant population and this has built its way up.

Disenchantment with any sort of authority. If you are vulnerable to instant disenchantment and easily led to antagonism to someone you formerly loved, then you have an arrogance problem. You are extremely volatile, unstable, until you recover from rebound and get back to Bible doctrine on a regular basis. The people of Hebron are vulnerable to revolution.

Bob goes back to the movie. It was like Hebron. They were guilty of various categories of arrogance. Blind arrogance. Authority arrogance. They were vulnerable to revolutionary propaganda.

Ahithophel is David's counselor. When he gave advice, it was like the oracle of God. 2Sam. 16:23 Elaim was a great and he had a daughter Bathsheba. David gave Uriah a battlefield commission as an enemy. Uriah was in Eliam's brigade and probably introduced him to Bathsheba. Ahithophel and Eliam both resented this. He is the grandfather of Bathsheba and did not appreciate the way that David deal with her. He did not like his son in loaw being murdered by David. Absalom is the official revolutionary leader and he is too arrogant to take good advice. He rejects the only advice that could make the revolution succeed. He will go home, after his advice was rejected, and he kills himself.

2Sam. 15:12 [And while Absalom was offering the sacrifices, he sent for Ahithophel the Gilonite, David's counselor \[or, *advisor*\], from his city Giloh. And the conspiracy grew strong, and the people with Absalom kept increasing.](#)

Douglas MacArthur made many speeches, but the one which he made 26January 1955 gave the MacArthur Park speech. "I and this statue and this part are but selected reminders....men not dedicated to the profession of arms, men not skilled...but men animated, inspired, and ennobled by a sublime cause...the spirit and willingness to sacrifice...the dark majesty of fighting Ships...and all the stench and ghastly horror...they suffered hunger and thirst...the loneliness and absolute desolation of desert trails...

"I have listened with deep emotion to these solemn proceedings and my heart is too full for my lips to express adequately my thanks and appreciation for the extraordinary honor you do me. Even so, I understand full well that this memorial is intended to commemorate an epoch rather than an individual; an armed force rather than its commander; a nation rather than its servant; an ideal rather than a personality. This but increases my pride, that my name has been the one chosen as the symbol of an epic struggle and victory by millions of unnamed others. It is their heroism, their sacrifice, their success, that you have honored today in so unforgettable a manner. I, and this statue, and this park are but the selected reminders of their grandeur. Most of them were citizen soldiers, sailors and airmen--men from the farm, from the city, from the schoolroom, from the college campus--Men not dedicated to the profession of arms, men not primarily skilled in the arts of destruction--men amazingly like the men you see and meet and know each day of your lives--but men animated, inspired and ennobled by a sublime cause--the defense of their country, of their native land, of their very hearthstones. The most divine of all human sentiments and impulses guided them--the spirit and willingness to sacrifice. He who dares to die--to lay his life on the altar of his nations's need--is beyond doubt the noblest development of mankind. In this he comes closest to the image of his Creator who died on the cross that the human soul might live These men were my comrades-in-arms. With me they knew the far call of the bugles at reveille; the distant roll of the drums at nightfall; the endless tramp of marching feet; the incessant whine of sniper bullets; the ceaseless rattle of sputtering machine guns; the ominour roar of threatening cannon; the sinister wail of air sirens; the defening blasts of crashing bombs; the stealthy stroke of hidden torpedoes; the amphibious lurch over perilous waves; the dark majesty of fighting ships; the mad din of battle lines; and all the stench and ghastly horror and savage destruction of a stricken area of war. They suffered hunger and thirst; the broiling suns of relentless heat; the torrential rains of tropical storms; the lonliness and utter desolation of jungle trails; the bitterness of separation from those they loved and cherished. They went on, and on, and on, when everything within them seemed to stop and die. They grew old in youth. They burned out in searing minutes all that life owed them of tranquil years. When I think of their patience under adversity, of their courage under fire, and of their modesty in victory, I am filled with an emotion of admiration I cannot express. Many of them trod the tragic path of unknown fame that led to a stark white cross above a lonely grave. And from their tortured, dying lips, with the dreadful gurgle of the death rattle in their throats, always came the same gasping prayer that we who were left would go on to victory. I do not know the dignity of their birth, but I do know the glory of their death, and I am sure a merciful God has taken them unto Himself." General Douglas MacArthur, General of the Army, Los Angeles 26 January 1955.

Another quote pulled off the internet from Duty, Honor, Country, pages 204-206:

Great changes have taken place in our military establishment, some good, some not so good. Materially the improvement has been spectacular, psychologically yet to be proven. The men in the ranks are largely citizen soldiers, sailors or airmen—men from the farm, the city, from school, from the college campus—men not dedicated to the profession of arms; men not primarily skilled in the art of war; men most amazingly like the men you know and see and meet each day of your life.

If hostilities come these men will know the endless tramp of marching feet, the incessant whine of sniper bullets, the ceaseless rustle of sputtering machine guns, the sinister wail of air combat, the deafening blast of crashing bombs, the stealthy stroke of hidden torpedoes, the amphibious lurch over perilous waves, the dark majesty of fighting ships, the mad din of battle and all the tense and ghastly horror and savage destruction of a stricken area of war.

These men will suffer hunger and thirst, broiling suns and frozen reaches, but they must go on and on and on when everything within them seems to stop and die. They will grow old in youth burned out in searing minutes, even though life owes them tranquil years. In these troublesome times of confused and bewildered international sophistication, let no man misunderstand why they do that which they must do. These men will fight, and, perchance die, for one reason only—for their country—for America. No complex philosophies of world intrigue and conspiracy dominate their thoughts. No exploitation or extravagance of propaganda dims their sensibilities. Just the simple fact, their country called.

But now strange voices are heard across the land, decrying this old and proven concept of patriotism. Seductive murmurs are arising that it is now outmoded by some more comprehensive and all-embracing philosophy, that we are provincial and immature or reactionary and stupid when we idealize our own country; that there is a higher destiny for us under another and more general flag; that no longer when we send our sons and daughters to the battlefields must we see them through all the way to victory; that we can call upon them to fight and even to die in some half-hearted and indecisive war; that we can plunge them recklessly into war and then suddenly decide that it is a wrong war or in a wrong place or at a wrong time, or even that we can call it not a war at all by using some more euphemistic and gentler name; that we can treat them as expendable, although they are our own flesh and blood; that we, the strongest military nation in the world, have suddenly become dependent upon others for our security and even our welfare.

Listen not from these voices, be they from the one political party or from the other. Be they from the high and the mighty or the lowly and the forgotten. Heed them not. Visit upon them a righteous scorn, born of the past sacrifices of your fighting sons and daughters. Repudiate them in the market place, on platforms, from the pulpit. The highest encomium you can still receive is to be called a patriot, if it means you love your country above all else and will place your life, if need be, at the service of your Flag...

Once you settle the questions of death, then you can orient to life. We as believers orient to life through death. Prov. 14:27 the fear/respect for the Lord is the fountain of life, turning a man from the snares...

Psalm 33:16–19 The king is not saved by his great army; a warrior is not delivered by his great strength. The war horse is a false hope for salvation, and by its great might it cannot rescue.

Psalm 56:13 For you have delivered my soul from death, yes, my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of life.

When the believer is oriented to death, he is oriented to life by that same doctrine. The grave cannot praise you. The living praise you. So David was oriented to death, which means he was oriented to life.

National disaster can result in soul torment. I called to my allies, but they betrayed me. My priests perished in the streets of the city. Outside of the city, the sword bereaves. I think this is from Lamentations.

Rev. 21:4 God will wipe away all tears from their eyes. 1Cor. O death, where is your sting? Philip. 1:20–21 as our coming crisis descends upon us, we must understand death in order to orient to life.

“I am the resurrection and the life...”

We will find a very honorable gentile expressing this same sentiment.

The leadership of the revolution in v. 12. Absalom sends for Ahithophel. While people are being nonrespectable, they often hide it behind a sphere of respectability. Some people who do things which are inherently evil do things which they surround in a facade of religion.

Revolution

1. 3 categories of those in a revolution. The people in a revolution.
2. The hardcore must attract the general public and propagandize them and form them into a weapon.
3. There is the incorruptible. They cannot be propagandized. They have accepted truth in one of the 3 categories.
4. This demonstrates the importance of the pivot of mature believers in a time of national disaster.
5. A large pivot is the basis for the deliverance of a nation in historical crisis. All conspiratorial attempts to undermine the government.

Next Principle

1. A conspiracy depends upon strong delusion with which to work. They also need interlocking systems of arrogance.
2. People must reject the truth in order for a revolution to occur. There is the truth first and the delusion. It is amazing where truth is found.
3. Furthermore, no revolution can gain momentum apart from involvement in interlocking systems of arrogance. National disaster is a result of rejecting truth.
4. Therefore, arrogance and rejection of the truth and strong delusion. Even though there has been 30 years of prosperous rule under David, they still flock to the revolution. People follow a vain personality plus Absalom and reject David who has given them decades of prosperity. This was the greatest blessing Israel had been under, up to that point. But people get bored with prosperity and they cannot stand it unless they have the capacity to enjoy it. This comes from the acceptance of truth.
5. There will always be conspiracies. We have these in adversity. There will always exist hardcore revolutionists, but that requires arrogance and strong delusion for them to gain any traction.
6. If the revolution does not gain enough converts from the common people, civil war is inevitable.
7. Civil wars involve 2 sets of people: the revolutionaries and the establishment.
8. When politics starts a civil war, the issue is freedom; when revolution starts a civil war, the issue is truth.
9. Here, revolution began the civil war so truth is the issue.
10. Those who accept truth will follow David and those who suffer from arrogance and suffer from strong delusion will follow Absalom.

Had not this destruction been so strong, there would not have been the wonderful 40 years of prosperity under Solomon. National arrogance is always the catalytic agent for national disaster. No one can accomplish the will of God apart from the humility factor.

2Sam. 15:12 [And while Absalom was offering the sacrifices, he sent for Ahithophel the Gilonite, David's counselor \[or, advisor\], from his city Giloh. And the conspiracy grew strong \gained momentum], and the people with Absalom kept increasing [people kept coming to Absalom in increasing numbers].

There are 3 conspiracy psalms that David wrote about this conspiracy. Psalm 39 41 55 all which were written at this time before the revolution.

David knows that the revolution is going to break out and he cannot afford any mental attitude sins. He must think clearly. He must use his wits. There will be 3 magnificent decisions. This prayer indicates that he is clearing the decks for action.

All good leaders in a disaster think. He is avoiding the thinking of arrogance.

Psalm 39:1 To the choirmaster: to Jeduthun. A Psalm of David. I said, "I will guard my ways, that I may not sin with my tongue; I will guard my mouth with a muzzle [no verbal sins], so long as the wicked [evil] are in my presence."

David starts up a policy. To fulfill the previous verse, there must be great humility. "I was dumb with silence" is humility and objectivity. He will be thoughtful of those under his command. He will demonstrate great leadership characteristics.

Psalm 39:2 I was mute and silent; I held my peace to no avail, and my distress [pain, pressure] grew worse.

The prayer will begin after v. 3:

Psalm 39:3 My heart became hot within me. As I mused [meditated], the fire burned; then I spoke with my tongue:

He kneels down and begins to pray in his master bedroom. He must have some idea if he is going to survive. David was not concerned for his own life, but he needed to know if he has a good assistant to take up the mantle if he dies. He needs someone to take over in case he dies in the revolution.

Psalm 39:4 "O LORD, make me know my end and what is the measure of my days; let me know how fleeting I am!

As far as David could blow air, that is the length of his days. Some of you teens want to suddenly grow up; that is a typical thought to get out from under the restraint of parents. Life is just a breath, and it is all over. Inhale and exhale, and it is all over. This shortness of life reminds us that life is just a drop in the bucket compared to eternity. There is only one preparation for eternity; believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and you will be saved.

This wisp across the sky, this temporary vapor trail, had great significance if it is related to thought. Sustaining of the thought if by God Who provides truth and doctrine. How can you have a great love without thought or a good time without thought. Some will substitute drugs or drinking or something else for thought, which destroys thought, for stimulation.

We are here simply because God has provided our breath and everything needed in our life.

We might really fail, but, if at the end, you look around, you notice that you are still alive; and therefore, God has a plan for you going forward. There is the option of moving forward, of walking away from your sins and failures and moving out of interlocking systems of arrogance. Each man's life is a breath. You will never find happiness by rejecting truth. Doctrine must be first, which enables us to deal with disaster as well as with happiness.

Selah means, it is time for the singers to breathe while the orchestra plays on. Rest on that thought.

Psalm 39:5 Behold, You have made my days a few handbreadths, and my lifetime is as nothing before You. Surely all mankind stands as a mere breath! Selah

David continues in his prayer. Only arrogance makes us think that we are important. Arrogance says, pass a law and make them have seat belts and put a bag inside of your car. EPA and OSHA is arrogance. Man is a phantom; man is a shadow. That is the true perspective.

We are only shadows until we walk into the light.

You accumulate wealth and you do not know who will possess it in the end.

Psalm 39:6 Surely a man goes about as a shadow! Surely for nothing they are in turmoil; man heaps up wealth and does not know who will gather!

He then asks, what should I trust?

Psalm 39:7 "And now, O Lord, for what do I wait? My hope is in you.

He needs to make certain that he is absolutely in fellowship.

Psalm 39:8 Deliver me from all my transgressions. Do not make me the scorn of the fool!

Again, David is dumb. He recognizes that God has done all this.

Psalm 39:9 I am mute; I do not open my mouth, for it is You who have done it.

You may be wealthy and still have your wealth, but your wealth is no longer a source of blessing to you.

Psalm 39:10 Remove your stroke from me; I am spent by the hostility of your hand.

The garment is still there, but the moth has filled it with holes. Life is meaningless without thought. Life is meaningless without Bible doctrine.

Psalm 39:11 When you discipline a man with rebukes for sin, you consume like a moth what is dear to him; surely all mankind is a mere breath! Selah

God called out Israel as a special race pulled out of history. David has failed miserably.

Psalm 39:12 "Hear my prayer, O LORD, and give ear to my cry; hold not your peace at my tears! For I am a sojourner with you, a guest, like all my fathers.

The psalm just gives us the outline of his prayer for help. This psalm tells us that he needs to seek the Lord in prayer.

Psalm 39:13 Look away from me, that I may smile again, before I depart and am no more!"

Psalm 41 next time.

To Kill the Devil is all about the assassination of Hitler plans. 20 July 1944 would have been a successful assassination of Hitler, but the location of the meet was changed, so Hitler was not killed but just mused up.

Our passage brings out Absalom as an Adolf Hitler. The Absalom revolution took place in the time of David.

Hebron was a trouble spot during the time of David, and it is still a trouble spot today. There was an ambush today there.

2Sam. 15:7–12 And at the end of four years Absalom said to the king, "Please let me go and pay my vow, which I have vowed to the LORD, in Hebron. For your servant vowed a vow while I lived at Geshur in Aram, saying, 'If the LORD will indeed bring me back to Jerusalem, then I will offer worship to the LORD.'" The king said to him, "Go in peace." So he arose and went to Hebron. But Absalom sent secret messengers throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, "As soon as you hear the sound of the trumpet, then say, 'Absalom is king at Hebron!'" With Absalom went two hundred men from Jerusalem who were invited guests, and they went in their innocence and knew nothing. And while Absalom was offering the sacrifices, he sent for Ahithophel the Gilonite, David's counselor, from his city Giloh. And the conspiracy grew strong, and the people with Absalom kept increasing.

Now to Psalm 41:

Psalm 41:1 To the choirmaster. A Psalm of David. Blessed is the one who considers the poor! In the day of trouble the LORD delivers him;

Psalm 41:2 the LORD protects him and keeps him alive; he is called blessed in the land; you do not give him up to the will of his enemies.

David was confident that he would survive the revolution.

Psalm 41:3 The LORD sustains him on his sickbed; in his illness you restore him to full health.

David has sinned against God and he has rebounded.

Psalm 41:4 As for me, I said, "O LORD, be gracious to me; heal me, for I have sinned against you!"

His enemies speak of him.

Psalm 41:5 My enemies say of me in malice, "When will he die, and his name perish?"

Here, this one is Absalom. He offers up empty words; this is all deceit.

Psalm 41:6 And when one comes to see me, he utters empty words, while his heart gathers iniquity; when he goes out, he tells it abroad.

Psalm 41:7 All who hate me whisper together about me [they conspire against me]; they imagine the worst for me.

The incurable disease is evil; Absalom is involved in the interlocking systems of arrogance and it is incurable.

Psalm 41:8 They say, "A deadly thing is poured out on him; he will not rise again from where he lies."

Reference here to the secretary of state Ahithophel.

Psalm 41:9 Even my close friend in whom I trusted, who ate my bread, has lifted his heel against me.

Psalm 41:10 But you, O LORD, be gracious to me, and raise me up, that I may repay them!

Psalm 41:11 By this I know that you delight in me: my enemy will not shout in triumph over me.

Psalm 41:12 But you have upheld me because of my integrity, and set me [and You cause me to stand] in your presence forever.

Eternity past to eternity future.

Psalm 41:13 Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, from everlasting to everlasting! Amen and Amen.

Psalm 55:

Psalm 55:1 To the choirmaster: with stringed instruments. A Maskil of David. Give ear to my prayer, O God, and hide not yourself from my plea for mercy!

Psalm 55:2 Attend to me, and answer me; I am restless in my complaint and I moan, Psalm 55:3 because of the noise of the enemy, because of the oppression of the wicked. For they drop trouble upon me, and in anger they bear a grudge against me.

David's life is in great danger.

Psalm 55:4 My heart is in anguish within me; the terrors of death have fallen upon me.

This revolution is like a nightmare to David.

Psalm 55:5 Fear and trembling come upon me, and horror overwhelms me.

David wishes that he could fly away.

Psalm 55:6 And I say, "Oh, that I had wings like a dove! I would fly away and be at rest;

David wants to avoid his responsibilities.

Psalm 55:7 yes, I would wander far away; I would lodge in the wilderness; Selah Abnormal historical disaster.

Psalm 55:8 I would hurry to find a shelter from the raging wind and tempest."

David starts his prayer in v. 9, and he asks for them to argue among themselves. The city here refers to Jerusalem. There are destructive forces at work in Jerusalem. Unrestrained crime precedes revolution.

Psalm 55:9 Destroy, O Lord, divide their tongues; for I see violence and strife in the city.

Psalm 55:10 Day and night they go around it on its walls, and iniquity and trouble are within it;

Psalm 55:11 ruin is in its midst; oppression and fraud do not depart from its marketplace.

Psalm 55:12 For it is not an enemy who taunts me-- then I could bear it; it is not an adversary who deals insolently with me-- then I could hide from him.

This is a reference to Ahithophel, Absalom, and Amasa.

Psalm 55:13 But it is you, a man, my equal, my companion, my familiar friend.

Formerly, there was a better relationship.

Psalm 55:14 We used to take sweet counsel together; within God's house we walked in the throng.

A prayer in the jussive, because this is God's will. The revolutionary thinks he is invincible as the revolution and it is great if he is surprised by death.

In their souls they are revolutionists.

Psalm 55:15 Let death steal over them [let death surprise them]; let them go down to Sheol alive; for evil is in their dwelling place and in their heart.

Psalm 55:16 But I call to God, and the LORD will save me.

David cries under pressure.

Psalm 55:17 Evening and morning and at noon I utter my complaint and moan, and he hears my voice.

there was a multitude against David.

Psalm 55:18 He redeems my soul in safety from the battle that I wage, for many are arrayed against me.

If God does not demote you, you are not demoted. God who is sovereign. No respect for God means no respect for divine establishment.

Psalm 55:19 God will give ear and humble them, he who is enthroned from of old, Selah because they do not change and do not fear God.

He attacks those who are at peace with him. David pardons him.

Psalm 55:20 My companion stretched out his hand against his friends; he violated his covenant.

Absalom's conspiracy is described. His speech smooth as butt.

Psalm 55:21 His speech was smooth as butter, yet war [revolution] was in his heart; his words were softer than oil, yet they were drawn swords.

Advice given to all during a time of historical disaster.

Psalm 55:22 [Cast your burden on the LORD, and he will sustain you; he will never permit the righteous to be moved \[to fall\].](#)

The 6 categories of supergrace blessing.

Psalm 55:23 But you, O God, will cast them down into the pit of destruction; men of blood and treachery shall not live out half their days. But I will trust in you.

This brings us back to 2Sam. 15:13

David's 3 wise decisions in vv. 13–37 most people cannot think under pressure. However, David is able to do this. David could take Bible doctrine and apply it to the situation under the greatest pressure. David will be, in the next several chapters, at his absolute best. He will make 3 brilliant decisions. You can read this all day without catching how brilliant these decisions were.

David's G2 discovers the revolution. Articular Hiphil participle of nagad. It means to tell, to announce. It is used here as a noun to refer to an intelligence agent. This is someone from David's great G2 system. Joab is very suspicious of Absalom. David, at first, has no suspicion of Absalom; but Joab knows enough to wonder what he has planned.

The right lobes of the people have finally broken out and they are following Absalom, and Absalom has captured enough of them to start the revolution.

David can stay in Jerusalem and fight, or he can withdraw. If he fights, Jerusalem will be under siege and risk the lives of all of the citizens. If he retreats, then the revolution will appear to be over, without any bloodshed. One person on his own cannot put together all of the facts. All professions at the top need an assembling of the facts, and by more than one person. When you are the head of something, you might get to think that you are God and you do not need anyone to gather facts and to help you. No leader is an island to himself, and no one is smart enough to be able to get all of the facts without help. When you no longer think you need help, you are inside of interlocking systems of arrogance. If you are in charge of anything, then you have to recognize that you cannot get along without help. Bob could not function without deacons. The prep school has a whole organization going on. No one can truly function at the top of any organization without objective eyes and ears constantly assembling facts. No one is smart enough. No one can walk in the midst of his people and know what is going on. Our president is surrounded by a bunch of nincompoops, and Bob suggests that he would have made better decisions if he had better information. The president is not getting facts. No one can rule without good information. There needs to be facts. There is a chief of staff who constantly gathers facts about training, strategy, tactics and logistics. G3 deals with the condition of the troops. The best garrisons in the south have all gone over to Absalom. His loyal men are in the north, and they are better trained than Absalom's. G4 says there is a well-supplied garrison in Zion, but it is limited; and there are great supplied garrisons in the north. Joab suggests that they withdraw to the north, and there they could stretch out their logistical lines. The longer their supply lines are stretched out, the better it is. This also allows them to maneuver in the open. There is always at least one guy who says, "Those staff officers just sit up there and talk and we do all the fighting." Do not run down staff. The is the stupidest thing Bob has ever seen. Without staff, line is unable to fight. When line and staff get cattywampus, there is great destruction. Many of us will be arrogant and think that the staff is no good. If you get logistic, that is all about staff. The men in the barracks will have the best chance to win because staff work makes it all possible. Don't ever get arrogant and look down your nose at the others (line if you are staff and staff if you are line). Line requires greater leadership and staff requires greater intelligence. It is rare to have both of those characteristics in one man. That makes a great captain of history, like Hannibal, Ceasar, Alexander the Grat, Frederick the Great, Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson. There might be 50 people in all history who can combine staff and line in one mind.

Some of you have forgotten that this is the Word of God and Bob spends many hours preparing for this. The jackasses who do not appreciate this kind of stuff. Soon we will be on RM/RW or sweetness and light so that you can learn to love your pastor, etc. "Cover your mouth when you yawn." Bob wants to square him away. 2 pitiful, watered down sentences on some of these passages. And God the Holy Spirit has seen fit to put this information into the Word of God. You do not have to come here ever again, but as long as you are here, you might as well realize that Bob is not spending this many hours on this verse. There is something here. Every part of the Word of God is important.

Bob is quick on picking up on mustaches. No person can function in authority without facts. This begins in the home. Parents cannot rear their children without facts. They need coaches, teachers, police officers, etc. will give you objective information about your children. If you are arrogant, then you will never get it. You think your children can do no wrong. When your kid is busted for being a pothead, then it is your own fault. You will be the last to know. It will happen after the fact. So you need facts in order to rear children. You need facts to control anything, and you are helpless to do it all by yourself.

Bob used to think he was the smartest person about people that there ever was; and it took Berachah Church to make him realize that he was not. In 3 years of staff work of placing officers all over, Bob never made a mistake. He had the poorest selection of people. "Some of you probably think I know little about people from chewing you out." This is true of family, of coaching, of a team, etc. Reliable, humble, objective staff must exist.

Summary Points

1. The Qal perfect of hayah indicates that Joab or David were suspicious of Absalom and G2 was sent there in order to figure out.
2. The special agent reported the cnspiracy to Davie before the revolutionary forces could launch a surpipse attack against David and catch David in their net of intrigue.
3. The report says the revolution has already begun.
4. Absalom's object is to demote David, kill him, and promose himself.
5. However, if God does not promote you, you are not promoted.

6. Same, demote
7. Absalom cannot demote David since he did not promote David. From the outset, revolution is doomed to failure.

There are 3 chapters on revolution and civil war. There is a civil war in Miami right now. Some of you with smirking faces. We are seeing on a small scale what could happen on a large scale in this country. Watts was a miniature revolution and civil war. Little Rock during the Eisenhower regime was a miniature revolution.

In Campus Crusade for Christ, which has gone from small to extremely large, and Bill's biggest problem is collection of facts. There are little revolts here and there. One major revolt led by Hal Lindsay, from this church. That was not taught from this pulpit. If Hal did not agree with Bill, then he should have quietly stepped out. But it did not turn out that way. Fortunately, it was not a major revolution. The bigger the organization, the more efficient the staff needs to be. There were some Bob Jones people who undercut him and some tongues people who undercut him. His objectives could not be met with this undercutting. He has tried to imbue his staff with some doctrine. Any large organization must have an absolutely brilliant, objective humble staff, and they must constantly feed facts into hq.

The same is true for China Inland Missions, which was brilliant in its inception, but before the Communist revolution, there were alliances made with communists, because of the moral approach. When the communists came in, they came in and shut down prostitution and the opium dens, etc., and they cooperated with the communists 100%. The headquarters did not know this. Then communism swept through China quickly, partially because of this help of China Inland Missions. One you are on the top, you assemble facts, which you do every day. You use your brain. You don't go to the janitor and say, "I would never ask someone to do something I would not do" and then push his broom around. Same as a commander. You command them because you are smarter than they are and you are better trained. You need to be a cut above your men. You have to think while you work. Sheer, unadulterated stupidity to say, "I would never tell someone to do something I would not do." You can't be as strong as them, shoot as good, etc. That is inconsequential. One commanding officer rode in a vehicle while his men walked 30 miles drinking a lemonade. He said, "I think better when I am rested." He understood the issue of command. That is the issue, being able to think better.

Bob should have out-thought his troops rather than beat them down. Some guy called in Bob on this, "What are you doing? I thought you were there to think." Bob used to play footfall with them everyday. But that was stupid. Bob could have had his brains knocked out and then he could not out-think his men. Our concept of leadership is arrogance; I can outdo you in everything.

While David is under discipline, he might be removed from the throne, but he is still the king. He demonstrates his leadership by leading his men. His staff said, "You stay behind and we will do the fighting." His staff realized that he had a promotion from the Lord and the ability to think and that he was far more important in headquarters than leading them.

This strengthens the principle, the higher you go in authority, the more you use your mind. The body is just there to sustain the mind. Health is important and physical and nervous energy is important. You are not the president of the company because you are tougher than anyone else, and you don't go down 11 floors to the basement and beat up the janitor to show how tough you are. That is the wrong approach. David will only be removed from the throne by his own personal death.

3 categories in the revolution: the hardcore revolutionaries, the incorruptibles, conspires to overthrow the government. People of Israel are the general public. The general public must be vulnerable to a revolution, so they must reject truth in 3 categories. They have to be involved in interlocking systems of arrogance or in strong delusion.

To Kill the Devil book.

Final Principles

1. The incorruptibles live in a state of humility, meaning that they are outside the interlocking systems of arrogance.
2. They also retain a sense of humor, while the revolution is characterized by no humor at all. If you ever notice, those who are revolutionaries have no sense of humor. They are intense, arrogant, and subjective.
3. The incorruptibles live and die based on their convictions.
4. If the revolution does not gain enough converts from the general public, then there will be a war against the incorruptibles.
5. There are enough people from the general public which can now march on Hebron.
6. David does not know how much of the general public will follow the incorruptibles.
7. Leaving Jerusalem is one of David's wise decisions.

2Sam. 15:13 And a messenger [special agent; G2 messenger] came to David, saying [and gave a formal report to David], "The hearts of the men of Israel have gone after Absalom."

The general public includes a large group of squared-away believers. They are impervious to the charms of Absalom.

G2 recognizes that there will be enough of the general public which will follow after Absalom and cause a revolution.

There are 3 great decisions by David in this chapter. "Arise and let us flee,..." David is flexible and he does not mind ordering a retreat.

David's Retreat

1. David knows when to advance; he knows when to flee. Inflexible people never survive.
2. David is totally free from interlocking systems of arrogance. His judgment is therefore excellent. David is smart. He knows when to hold 'em and when to fold 'em. David moves out altogether. You do not win revolutions defending when you ought to be retreating. The greatest general of WWII was Von Monstein who defied Hitler and retreated. Hitler was inflexible and subjective. He did not realize that you have to maneuver backwards to defeat the enemy. He saved 3 German armies when he retreated. Hitler fired him. Arrogant people never give anyone else a free hand. They have no awareness of the feelings of others; no consideration for others.
3. Arrogance would have detained David in Jerusalem with disastrous results to David and the rest of the country.
4. Arrogance is inflexible. Grace is flexible. There is a Marine Corps Officer, and he drove when everyone else marched. He said, "I think better when I am refreshed." he was not arrogant. He was humble, flexible and smart. David and Joab are both geniuses and they are going to continue to maneuver
5. Humility has good judgment; arrogance has lousy judgment. Humility + genius always wins. God makes war against the arrogant.
6. The decision to flee was made in the good judgment of humility. Humility is flexible and humility is a survivor.
7. Arrogance is self-destructive and inflexible.

Kiy lo hayah means there will not be to us an escape with regards to Absalom. None of us will escape from Absalom.

These are points which follow: David and his loyal staff represent establishment government of Israel. The establishment government must be preserved intact and functional so that the loyal general public has legitimate authority that the people can turn to. The people need David about whom they can really. Jerusalem is about 20 miles from the revolution, they must move to a place where the loyalists can rally. Because of the momentum in Jerusalem, Jerusalem is too close for a rallying point. David's wise decision guarantees a civil war. For establishment government to triumph over the forces of evil, David has to get out where he can maneuver. His judgment is correct, for Jerusalem is too close to the revolution. David must surrender to the revolution in order to gain time to consolidate his forces. Ahithophel said, "Pursue immediately" and Absalom was too busy raping the father's wives; and this gave David time to organize. Only a man of great flexibility and humility could figure out to flee from Jerusalem. If you are weeded to your possessions, and they cannot be moved, then you are in trouble. You love your possessions too much to leave them. All of these things cannot be loaded up, and you suffer from possession arrogance. We have all known some sort of prosperity. It is difficult under these circumstances. Those who left with David left all kinds of possessions behind, including David. David was flexible. He did not take that attitude. It is more imperative that your life continues. You have to walk away from your possessions. Dr. Zivago faced walking away from lovely possessions. We all have to face the issue, what is more important, doing the will of God and doctrine or our possessions. Probably, we will face this test in Houston. You have to remember that the things you enjoy. Don't worry, there will be no offering or any super garage sale. A Baptist preacher who gets this will get the gold right out of your teeth. All that we get is given to us from the Lord, and we have to come to the point where we follow the giver and leave behind the gifts. What is most important, the One Who gave us these gifts or the gifts? When national disaster hits, you must be flexible. The key is to choose the giver and not the gift. You cannot be too preoccupied with the gift. We all have things which we possess which we enjoy. That is spiritual and it is okay. If you are doctrinal, you can enjoy your paintings, your silver, your antiques, or whatever. But there is nothing that we possess that we have that God cannot take from us in a second. Doctrine makes you appreciate the giver. Anything you have, if the Lord wants, He can replace it. He can do better by us. We follow the One Who is the source of our life and our possessions. We never lose the source. We may many times lose the possessions.

There is nothing that we have that we cannot lose. Our health, friends, loved ones and things. Bob recalls when some of us showed up, we have a change of underwear and a paper bag. One guy who used to show up to Berachah with nothing but a bag of things that he carried everywhere. People came from California, Oregon, Washington, etc. Many of you did not have a thing but you wanted face to face. Look at you today. You don't have to carry your belongings around in a paper bag any more. Doctrine has given you a capacity for things. You like the opera and the ballet or the night life in Houston. You have learned to enjoy yourself.

Bob spent 30 years in this church. Whatever we are, whatever blessing, we can be in our one room apartment with the small one closet where there was our entire wardrobe on a single hanger, and now things have changed. We are prosperous people.

Now, suppose the scene changes. We have to walk out of a burning, rioting Houston, or has prosperity made you spoiled. All that we have is because of the Lord. Only doctrine in the soul can make us recall the source, which is Jesus Christ. Has prosperity made you arrogant, so that you could not walk away from what you are given? First answer might be, "Yeah, I could do it." Bob appreciated the army, and you move from point to point, and every time you got comfortable and accumulated a lot of things, and the army moves you. And you know that some of these things will be broken in the move. Bob is enthusiastic about things he has accumulated. We accumulate junk too. When the chips are down, remember if the order is to move out, then you move out, even with just the shirt on your back. Remember that you have not lost the Giver; you have not lost the Source.

When the chips are down and if we face this issue as a national crisis, just remember that you have not lost the Giver. If He wants to replace, He can. But don't around crying and whining. "I left a bank account behind" and someone says, "You should have put it into gold coins" and he goes rattling by you. It is the Lord Who has graced us out.

What does it take to make this move? Flexibility, objectivity, application of the 3 rationales: plan of God rationale, essence of God rationale, . You need to be able to make the moral courage to stick with your decisions.

2Sam. 15:14 Then David said [issued orders] to all his servants [all his loyal staff] who were with him at Jerusalem, "Arise [rise up; let's get going], and let us flee [Red alert, let's get cracking; we must flee!], or else there will be no escape for us from Absalom. Go quickly, lest he overtake us quickly and bring down ruin on us and strike the city with the edge of the sword."

2Samuel 15:14

A book which deals with revolution, and Bob is all happy about it. Many judges acted only under the terror of Nazis. Hitler's revolution was based upon lies. It is a mistake for a government to think that it can lie just in order to achieve its own sets of objectives. Realities are hard, but those who cannot get them, are lost anyway.

2Sam. 15:14 Then David said [issued orders] to all his servants [all his loyal staff] who were with him at Jerusalem, "Arise [rise up; let's get going], and let us flee [Red alert, let's get cracking; we must flee!], or else there will be no escape for us from Absalom. Go quickly, lest he overtake us quickly and bring down ruin on us and strike the city with the edge of the sword."

David is at the place where he has issued his 1st command and has issued the first of his brilliant 3 commands. Arrogance would have kept David in Jerusalem, with disastrous results, both for him and those who lived in Jerusalem. The decision to flee, retreat and withdraw was one of humility.

There is are excellent reasons for David fleeing. David and his men represent establishment government. This authority must be preserved. Since this government is 20 miles from Hebron, they are too close. When revolution is the cause of civil war, truth is the issue. Only a man of great humility and wisdom could make this momentous decision of leaving Jerusalem. He will get a lot of criticism for this. David must have great courage, and we need such men in all of our cities this summer. There will be miniature revolutions in all of these cities. There will be communist conspiracies and many other kids, and many will succeed because we do not have moral courage.

David will be the last person to cross the River Kidron.

David's Approach

1. David assumes that Absalom will move very quickly, and he assumes that Absalom would do what he would do, if he was a revolutionist. It turns out that Absalom is not that quick. Absalom is not his father. Absalom is arrogance; David is humble. David assumes that Absalom would move as fast as he would.

2. David has assumed the worse, that Absalom was ready to march right there. Based on this assumption, David quickly moves out, to protect his loyal subjects.
3. It is David's responsibility to preserve his people alive. When a battle is fought out in a city, there are many innocents who die. David demonstrates integrity and thoughtfulness for his people. David has a tremendous sense of responsibility. He will do everything he can to preserve his people. There will be a rapid and well-organized retreat.

The final phrase is and he will bring evil upon us.

This is a red alert made by David.

David's Choice to Retreat

1. David knew without any shadow of a doubt that his cause was right. Revolution is always wrong. David is one of the great captains of history.
2. Since there revolution had the advantage of size and momentum.
3. The cause of establishment could not be defended in Jerusalem where .
4. Jerusalem was a large city and there was a lot of scum and criminals there. There were too many malcontents.
5. David needed an orderly retreat to gain time. He wanted to get time back onto his side. The strategic use of time has not been used significantly apart from, "We could only hold out for such and such a time."
6. While castle Zion was very well organized, the revolutionaries would take out their frustrations on the people.
7. To gain time and advantage, David ordered a retreat. This is a red alert.
8. The well disciplined and well trained army of David When Absalom arrived into Jerusalem and saw that David was already gone, he should have sent a delegation to David with orders to surrender, because David was too well-organized.

David's Thoughtfulness

1. David has thoughtfulness under pressure. He has a total sense of responsibility. This demonstrates his greatness as a ruler.
2. David was responsible and organized. David is paying his 4th installment of discipline.
3. David was thinking about his loyal subjects.
4. David's force in Jerusalem was relatively small. Mostly his brigade of guards and a few others, so his city was not defensible.
5. Castle Zion could be defended. However, this would mean the revolutionary army would be running lose in Jerusalem. David is thoughtful and concerned about his people, including those who oppose him.
6. Most revolutionary armies are uncontrollable. They are without discipline. In the manifesto, to be issued in the formation of a new government, those who followed the army were brutal to other countries. There was great brutality.

7. David realized that the innocent population would be victims of violence. Castle Zion was practically an impregnable fort.
8. The revolutionary army would be repulsed at the Zion walls.

If you are well-organized of mind, then you should be well-organized in your life. If you cannot organize your household or your children, or whatever, then perhaps you are not well-organized. Or, how about your hem and hawing husband. If you are not organized now, then you cannot get yourself organized during a pressure-charge environment. It is easy to be indolent to ramble along. You may get away with disorganization under normal prosperity and normal times, you will be incredibly off balance under pressure. By the time you get organized, Absalom will be knocking on your door.

David Is Able to Think with Doctrine

1. Doctrine resident in the soul causes David to think.
2. The order and the reason for the order it in the Word of God. All of the commentators have failed to comment on this verse. They mumble a little bit about here or there. It is not accident that God the Holy Spirit has recorded the orders and the thinking of David at this point. We therefore, ought to analyze this decision. Bob thinks that many of the great commentators do not really have a total respect for the Word of God. The problem seems to be in that they do not realize that every jot and tittle is important. Weights, measures, etc. are all significant. Most pastors cater to their congregations. They skip over this. That is disrespect for the Word of God. But none of us ought to show disrespect for the Word of God. Bob needs to analyze, study and do whatever it takes to pull things together. Bob spent 2 or 3 days on v. 14. He believes that every word in the Bible is important. His job is to analyze it, and to then communicate it to us.
3. We must learn the lessons of this verse. How a person handles his failures often determines how he handles his crisis. In other words, failure is one of the greatest tests of life. Failure is also testing. Inevitably, because none of us are perfect; we all have old sin natures, we are going to fail. Some here assume that is for everyone else, because they don't fail. As we face our failures, as we relate it to the rebound technique, and grit our teeth and move on, we are not discouraged. Stubborn like Harry Truman, not the president, but the one who refused to leave when Mount St. Helens exploded, and he is still there today, buried. Bob loves the country of Oregon. He has demonstrated some meager thought. Failure comes to all of us. When it does, failure is to be regarded as a test.
4. David has been disciplined like no one else in life and he is fine and he is at his best at this time. He is making the right decision at the time.
5. David had failed over interlocking systems of arrogance and he had endured punishment for the interlocking systems of arrogance for many years. He profited from his decisions. David's rebound is reflected by his great sense of responsibility, his great thoughtfulness.
6. A second lesson to be derived from v. 14: he knew that it was important to retain his administrative staff intact.

7. Therefore, establishment must have a rallying point; it must have leadership to put down the revolutionary leadership.
8. It is very hard to run away when you want to stay and fight. However, to fight properly in the future, David must run away at this time.
9. To retreat today means to win a battle tomorrow.
10. It takes moral courage to retreat; it takes wisdom to retreat and authority exercised properly, so that there is no panic.

The Third Lesson

1. There is a 3rd lesson to get from this. After this decision is made, it must be executed rapidly. Do not dawdle.
2. A decision, even a good decision, is no better than its rapid execution. It may be right, but the execution can drag and make it wrong. If the timing is wrong, then it is a wrong decision.
3. Timing after a decision is important; timing after an order is given is important. If the nucleus...
4. David gave a red alert command.
5. Evacuation of Jerusalem and castle Zion must be done rapidly and smoothly to
6. There must be no troops loitering in the city.
7. The innocent population must not become the victims of revolutionary madness.
8. They must not be negatively impacted. To keep the civilians from suffering, David has quick retreat from Jerusalem.

2Sam. 15:14 Then David said [issued a command] to all his servants [all his loyal staff] who were with him at Jerusalem, "Arise [rise up; let's get going], and let us flee [Red alert, let's get cracking; we must flee!], or else there will be no escape for us from Absalom. Go quickly [Be ready to move out quickly], lest he overtake us quickly and bring down ruin on us [and bring down disaster to our cause] and strike the city with the edge of the sword."

"Open the Bible to Rom. 8; I know what I am doing."

In spite of all Bob's warnings of chain letters, an usher brought in another one to Bob. Send this letter to 5 tired women that you know and send your husband to the top of the list. One woman broke the chain and got her own SOB back.

Bob had intended to study how to handle a revolution or any disaster.

The horrible approach of the justice department in Miami, who are down there attacking the police force rather than looking for the perpetrators of the crime. A WSJ article, with the Attorney General apologizing to the rioters in Florida. This helps to explain why so many people have no problem with taking the law into their hands. If you repeatedly tell people that society is screwing them over, then they will commit crimes themselves. Riots could allow for the president to take upon himself dictatorial powers. The outcome of the trial was interpreted by an acceptance of the rioters. It is little early to be talking about the perception of an injustice. To assume guilt without evidence is a miscarriage of justice. Many of the people who were killed or had their property destroyed were innocent and those who did it, were not innocent. To do anything else is to encourage injustice. The justice department ignores the victims of violence. They ignore the 370 people who were injured. Even if the law does fail, there is always a higher court, the Supreme Court of Heaven. The divine punishment is far greater than any punishment that can be brought about by people. For the government to go down and tell the mob that they did a good thing, is evil. This is the one person who ought to understand law and order. Blacks are captive to racial politics of the worst kind. They are being used by propagandists in a power struggle that they do not understand. No one in this society is owed anything other than fairness under the law. We as believers have a higher court of appeal. Pouring more money into conventional job and welfare problems is not going to solve anything; it simply fosters dependency more than social mobility. Instead, this is the time for all leaders, White and Black, to make it clear that those rioters are wrong.

Bob is constantly amazed at the sanity of the WSJ. The World Council of Churches has changed from a western-dominated group to a bunch of special interest groups throughout the world. They are actually aiding Marxist terrorists on the ground. This is a great evil of not founding your concepts of life. This is all about an activist minority, a more radical ideology. It embraces liberation theology. The World Council of Churches is going to be responsible for millions of people dying. Whenever you resort to violence, no matter how just you think your cause is, you have turned your cause into total evil.

The mob in Miami was arrogant; they were trying to solve by violence what cannot be solved by violence; and then the federal government comes in and says, "You've done good, boys."

We are looking at how to handle revolution, when our nation goes to war; how to handle national disaster. We will have national disasters; political disasters, social disasters. We have become so involved in interlocking systems of arrogance, that disaster is the only cleaning agent that we possess. The question is, what do you do as a Christian when disaster comes? Do you go out and riot? Do you go out and steal from others? Do you try to take vengeance on others?

We are in great prosperity and when we fall into disaster, we will look back on these times as the golden days. The problem is, how do you handle yourself in national disaster? In depression? In revolution?

The faith rest drill has 3 stages. When you learn to do something, you learn how to do the first part of it; and how to do the 2nd part of it. You learn it a bit at a time. You learn by degrees and you finally learn how to put it all together. This is exactly how we will be spiritually when we get into a disaster. We need to get this faith rest drill figured out before disaster. When you learn to shoot, the first thing you learn is how to hold a weapon.

Everyone who graduates from Moody Bible Institute, they think they can come out and do it all at once. You learn each stage separately, and you later figure out how to put it all together. You may even learn how to skip stage 1. Faith reaches out and claims a promise. Then stage 2 takes when you know.

Some think you can just read the Bible when you are disturbed. You cannot read the Bible when you are disturbed. Part of being disturbed is not reading. You can think and draw upon what you know. Faith applies what doctrine you have learned. You take an exam every time you face any kind of a situation where you are under pressure. The 3rd stage is your doctrinal conclusion. You come from your doctrine and once you make this conclusion, you are in control of the situation. Sometimes this is a decision, sometimes it is not. Since sins are named which have already been judged, then we can conclude that we are restored to fellowship. Rebound and the filling of the Holy Spirit gives us restored control. There is divine suffering and divine discipline. If you have discipline which carries over, that suffering is carried over as blessing. Faith can carry over many promises. Faith rationale, plan of God rationale, etc. when you have what Davie had, then he got installments of discipline over a period of 8 years. Only additional failures cause him to have additional discipline. However, here, he has recovered and he is moving forward.

Rom. 8:28 is a promise, like stage 1 of the faith rest drill. We are foreknown; and when we have believed in Jesus Christ, we are under the plan of God. We face the prospect of losing our prosperity. The plan still calls for prosperity as we advance. Adversity does not change the plan of God. The 3rd category is election to privilege, which is a part of the plan of God. We have a very definite purpose at this time, and that is the fulfill God's purpose for this time. We, as believers, from our own free will, are motivated to advance, and join the pivot and advance in times of disaster.

The 4th category is justification. God cannot bless us because of our works, sacrifice, morality, sincerity, or whatever it is that we use to impress God. Only the imputation of the righteousness of God provides any justification for any of us in God's sight.

The believer glorifies God of the a fortiori blessings in heaven. Control of the situation means that God has control of us.

We find ourselves in a spin, in a dive, and we have procedures for stall recovery. We learn the various stalls and how we recover from these stalls. No believers can use these procedures when they are frightened. Some of those flying get confused in clouds, they get vertigo; and they can be turned upside down, but they do not believe it. You have to trust your instruments more than your instincts. Use the procedures for the flying part of the aircraft. There are procedures, which are important.

Rom. 8:28–32 And we know that for those who love God all things work together for good, for those who are called according to his purpose. For those whom he foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, in order that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. And those whom he predestined he also called, and those whom he called he also justified, and those whom he justified he also glorified. What then shall we say to these things? If God is for us, who can be against us? He who did not spare his own Son but gave him up for us all, how will he not also with him graciously give us all things?

fear must be overcome before the faith rest technique can be started. At the time I am afraid, I will trust in You. The pilot who dies in an instrument crisis, uses instinct, and he does not feel inverted yet. Our temptation in disaster is to revert to human viewpoint. We walk by faith and not by sight. Trust in the Lord Jehovah, for the Lord Jehovah is a Rock of Ages. Heb. 4:1 Let us fear, so that no promise goes unclaimed. There are wonderful blessings to be claimed during times of great national upheaval.

The malfunction of the 2nd stage of the faith rest drill. 2 reasons that this fails; we do not have enough doctrine to come in out of the rain. There is interlocking systems of arrogance, which will hinder the 2nd stage of the drill. If we begin to become indifferent to doctrine and lose our concentration for doctrine, then failure of perception yesterday will be disaster tomorrow.

Applying doctrine is a concentration discipline. If you do not concentrate in learning, you will not concentrate in application. There is no benefit to those of Moses' generation because they did not mix these promises with faith.

Heb 4:1–2 Therefore, while the promise of entering his rest still stands, let us fear lest any of you should seem to have failed to reach it. For good news came to us just as to them, but the message they heard did not benefit them, because they were not united by faith with those who listened.

John S. C. Abbot was one of the better writers of that time. Madam Roulan was a crusader and not a criminal. He has some interesting comments about revolution. An instant tribunal to determine life or death. They stacked up bodies, including soldiers and priests. Life was a plaything and murder was a pastime. The innocent and the guilty fell alike. There was no time for defense. A frown from the judge meant death. Carts carried away many dead bodies and this occurred throughout Paris. Women came to watch this. The bodies were used as seats upon which to seat. A pretty horrid sounding scene concerning the French Revolution.

Marat and Danton urged on this merciless violence. Money was paid to these assassins. They presented their bloody weapons to the throats of their instigators and threatened to kill them. The mob headed by the Jacobins had completed its ascendancy. The crusader helps it start, and then they want it to stop. Madam Roulan realized that she faced death too? Crusaders are stupid; what they start, they cannot stop.

Robespierre and Danton no longer associated with Madame Roulan. The mob which now ruled Paris.

Some of you young people may someday be in the same boat. Wipe that smile off your face and you might learn something this evening. Revolutions begin with the crusaders but they always end with the criminals. Once the law is taken into one's own hand, it snowballs and keeps going and going. We may see this very thing in Houston. If we go to war, there will be a major revolution.

Our subject is how do we handle a revolution. We started last night with the first stage of the faith rest drill.

There is a learning by gap Bible doctrine. Concentration in application; concentration is imperative. The ability to concentrate and to learn, and to do this in times of pressure is courage. We listen in class, and there are little tests, like someone sitting near you who wants attention. Bob can pick out 10 people who could not apply doctrine in times of pressure. Under normal circumstances. If you cannot concentrate under normal circumstances, then you will not be able to apply doctrine when pressure is applied. Bob wanted to grab a little shirt of the kids who sat in the back of the tv room. He was thwarted in this desire, apparently.

When Bob had teen classes, he would call on people and put some pressure on them to regurgitate what he had been teaching. Some would completely fall apart and some were magnificent. All of your life, you need to be able to think under pressure. Cowardice is emoting under pressure; the inability to think under pressure. Concentration is one of the major secrets of life. It is applying thought to the situation. How do you handle a revolution? The same way you handle a war, a personal disaster, an economic disaster, etc. Paul is motivated to concentrate here. This is for those advancing up the hill to the high ground. This is a dogmatic fact (the declarative mood). Close order drill is a phenomenal invention. You learn to concentrate on something which is not interesting and obeying a person which you may or may not like. The drill prepares you for the battlefield. Once you learn to concentrate in Bible class, you learn to think. When you learn to think, you will never joining a mob for what appears to be a righteous cause. One of the problems of a mob is that they surrender their thought process to a leader who is trying to bring down establishment.

So it is important to know how to concentrate. Bob's eye picks up one guy who always sits up with perfect posture. If you are tired and you slump, it makes you even more fatigued. Bob is concerned with the movement and posture in Berachah. May Walker has been here for years and she sits up straighter than most of the people here tonite. Mental attitude has many ways of manifesting itself. Concentration reflects so many mental habits. Good motivation, alertness, integrity. Ever see a dog go on the alert? The dog's posture changes when he is on the alert.

There are believers in every generation which will catch on. One of the secrets to making love to a woman is concentration, because a woman is a responder. How many times have you ladies been on a date with someone, who looked promising; and did not concentrate on you. You gals have all heard of taxi money, haven't you? Taxi money is to get you from wherever you are back home because the guy does not concentrate on you. Concentration has a lot to do with a lot of things in this life.

Rom. 8:28–32 And we know that for those who love God all things work together for good, for those who are called according to his purpose.

Next is oidomin δε. There is another guy who also has good manners.

We know in fact... is dogmatism. How can anyone be dogmatic in this life? Doctrine is the mind of Christ. Once you know doctrine, you have the mind of Christ. Knowledge of doctrine is the greatest virtue in the Christian way of life. We must know doctrine before we can apply doctrine. Knowledge of Bible doctrine shapes the mental attitude for divine viewpoint. Category #1 love is one of the great factors in a time of disaster. Many of us have been in difficult situations and we were able to compensate for the difficulties of the situation by thinking of someone that we love.

Hoti tois ton theon. Hoti following a verb of perception merely indicates what is contained in that perception. We don't have to translate the God; the absence of the definite article emphasizes the quality of the noun. Fundamentalism is woefully lacking in scholarship. Some fundies criticized a translation from about 20 years, where the definite article was left out in front of God. But, this was an anarthrous construction. We do not need to render this the God. The definite article which does count is that which is in the dative. Tois. This is the dative plural indirect object. It is the most wonderful thing in the world to be able to love God. This is not some tittering phoney thing; anyone can learn to do this.

Agapao means that we are dealing with the essence of God rationale. This is the highest form of love; it is love which requires thought; it requires thinking. This is category #1 love. There is also obligatory love, like love the brothers. We ought to love all believers in Jesus Christ. This is a love which does not demand knowing the person or speaking to the person; it is a love which does not require any sign of friendship. There are all categories of believers in all stages of development and in various stages of reversionism. So, how can you walk into a church, and love all the brethren? This is a mental attitude, which is no vindictiveness, no bad mental attitude, no slander, maligning or judging.

There is also family love, but Jesus said, "I have come to divide families." There are several categories of love which supercede family love. A man will cleave to his wife and separate from his family (however, this means that you cannot see your family members again). Bob has to explain that there are a certain number of kooks at Berachah. They cannot apply doctrine. The key is superceding love. You do not love your mother and father more than your husband or wife. This is a superceding love. If you love your father more than the man you are about to marry, then do not marry him. This is the test; is it a superceding love?

Sometimes you have to navigate around doctrine in order to keep from getting into it with family members. The key to category #1 love is that. If you are not learning doctrine, you do not love God.

One guy gave a testimony of how he and his wife were fine because they always put the Lord first. They were divorced in 6 months. It takes the ability to concentrate of Jesus Christ. What you really love is what you think about. What you really love is what you concentrate on. Note or keep a log of those things you think about. Some things are a normal responsibility, like your job; but on whom do you concentrate?

Bob has a new young couple moved in next to him, and they are gone all the time, and they have a beautiful Irish setter puppy. Balderdash is a true viking dog and he barks at the thunder; he also barks at vapor trails. Malarkey does not. Bob got up and talked to the dog during the storm over the fence. Bob talked to him until he calmed down. He probably thought more about that dog than the owners did. That is tragic and cruel for the puppy to left 14 hours a day. So the dog yipes all throughout the day. The neighbors have a dog but they don't love dogs. They don't understand dogs. Bob looks over the congregation and pays attention and he knows how we will react when he goes to teach something. Bob loves the whole congregation, the kooks and the smart ones. Bob knows us more than we know him. He pays attention to where we sit. Love is concentration; the object of concentration is love. You can look at your diaries and figure out who you love and who you do not. Who do you write about?

None of us have capacity for love. We are born without it. We learn to love and to develop a capacity for love. We learn authority and how to respond to and respect certain people. Some of you went to a boy scout camp, and you bought a chocolate bar for one of your scout leaders because he was a good guy; that indicates respect. Love thinks and love gives. When that love is directed toward the Lord Jesus Christ, it is a different ball game. He cannot be seen. We cannot look somewhere and see what He looks like. Reuben probably has done the best work, but the artists are only guessing. How do we get to know the Lord? We learn to respect certain people; we admire their characteristics. We have the accurate, unerring Word of God, so we know who Jesus is through Bible doctrine. The more we know Bible doctrine, the more we love Jesus Christ; the less we know Bible doctrine, the less we know Jesus Christ.

Sometimes, the only way Jesus Christ can gain our attention and respect is through punishment, and if that doesn't work, more intense punishment.

Balderdash has incredible stubbornness. Controllable but untrainable. Mike Stribbling has shown how Balderdash can be trained. Every day, Stribbling had to hang Dash that way. Bob cannot get Dash's attention through love, but Mike gains Dash's attention through authority (discipline). You cannot love Balderdash into the kingdom; you have to hang him into the kingdom. You have a choice for God to get your attention via doctrine or through discipline. Concentration is the secret to love; reverse concentration. How many times have you used a doctrine or a rationale in reverse concentration?

Rom. 8:28 We know in fact that to those who love God

In connection with the survival of a revolution or any disaster, we have taken this detour. The first rationale is necessary in facing any type of a crisis. Essence of God rationale. The concentration with which we learn doctrine is reversed. The essence of God rationale and the plan of God rationale with a foritiori as the supercharger. These can be used in revolution or in any type of disaster, or personal loss or personal difficulty.

Those who love the God refers to believers only and those who have advanced. The means of category #1 love can only occur through the perception of Bible doctrine.

Heb. 6:10 For God is not unjust so as to overlook your work and the love that you have shown for his name in serving the saints, as you still do. And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness to have the full assurance of hope until the end, so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises. Psalm 119:32 1Cor. 2:9 Deut. 30:15–16 I have set life and prosperity before you, or death and crappy stuff. I command you today to love the Lord your God and keep His ways. The principle of love motivates many things in life. This is memorial day, originally a military holiday. Occupation with Christ is the key. Take heed to yourself that you love the Lord your God. Heb. 11:27 by doctrine in the soul, Moses gave up the throne of Egypt, inasmuch he was strong under pressure as long as he kept seeing the invisible one. Heb. 10:3 1Cor. 1j6:22 if you do not love the Lord, you are incapable of handling adversity. As He is, so are we in this world. There is no fear in this love. Perfect love casts out all fear. Revolution is national adversity. Love is not the sickening look that you just gave the girl sitting next to you; this refers to the highest category of love, which is thought. Love is what goes on in your soul; and love for the believer is thought. We love Him because He first loved us. We know in fact, to those who love the God, is equivalent to that. Bob thinks there will be war this year, and Bobby does not think that. Whatever happens, we will face very serious adversities. Maybe God will give us more time to prepare for was and adversity. Preparation must be individual. We must all be prepared for war in our own souls. War is a time of great personal suffering and personal sacrifice when the normal things of life are replaced by abnormal pressures. Are we prepared for war in our own soul?

We can enter into category #2 love or category #3 love. We have capacity for love and capacity for life and capacity for blessing. Many of you are prepared for war and for marriage; and Bob is not suggesting that marriage is war. God's plan is not affected by the circumstances of life; nor is the mature believer affected by circumstances. One of the great misapplications is, since God loves him, then how can He let us endure this or that.

When the Bible says, God is love, love is a part of His essence. There never was a time when God did not exist; there was never a time when God was not love. His love existed apart from us. God is love and always has been love. His love does not improve and God does not fall in love. God's love has objectivity and subjectivity. He is perfect righteousness and justice. He is perfect veracity. He is love. These attributes exist in 3 separate persons. All 3 have all of these characteristics of their essence. So God has always loved His Own holiness; that is perfect subjective love. The Son also loves His Own holiness. God the Holy Spirit also loves His Own holiness, his perfect righteousness and his perfect justice. God the Father, God the Son and the Holy Spirit are all righteous. They all love their own righteousness. It is perfect, incorruptible, eternal. Subjectively, he has always loved His Own righteousness.

We hear the phrase God is One, which refers to God's essence. In the Hebrew, we have Elohim, which is plural. When it refers to the Father, Son and the Spirit, there is identical essence throughout the Trinity. 3 separate and distinct personalities.

God does not fall in love. That is what human beings do. We fall in love with the Lord Jesus Christ. As we learn more doctrine, our love and capacity for love continues. One of the first characteristics is... No object is required. Human love requires thinking from the soul, the response to thinking, sex is a category and the spiritual is from the entire person.

If you can have only one type of love from someone, choose respect.

Misapplication someone saying, "Why does God let this happen to me?" We must distinguish between the essence love of God, which is a divine characteristic; and there is the anthropopathism of God's love. We must distinguish or rightly divide the Word of Truth at this point.

We possess old sin natures. So God cannot love us because He cannot love sin. People give to us of their time and possessions even though we are sinners. There is no way that God could love us and still be God. So love from God is an anthropopathism.

Dear old brother so-and-so never said anything about anthropopathisms. Rom. 9:13 what did God do with that passage, where God loves Jacob and hates Esau? So, therefore, he was unable to handle this. Dispensational teaching. There must be a distinguishing between Israel and the church. Sometimes rightly dividing the word of truth. One is a Jew and one is a Gentile, and we can understand love and hate. Jacob I love, means that Jacob is a believer. Esau was an unbeliever. This explains divine policy and frame of reference.

God loves a cheerful giver; but if anything, God does not love a cheerful giver. This is a human attitude. Giving is not an amount; giving is a mental attitude. Giving does not even involve money.

No matter how we sin, once we are saved, we are totally saved. What is the source of God's love? What is the basis of our contact with God? That is the integrity of God. To those who love God, means that we are dealing with His integrity. He provides for us on the basis of His integrity. The source of all blessing is God's integrity. There is justice and righteousness. Righteousness is the principle of divine integrity and justice is the function of divine integrity.

God's righteousness is perfect, and it is not subject to sin or failure. No one can establish or promote the integrity of God. God's justice imputes integrity to us. The integrity of God is composed of justice and righteousness. Righteousness is the principle and justice is the function of divine integrity. Righteousness demands righteousness and justice demands justice. This eliminates morality. Morality is important, but it does not bring blessing from God. There is no work that we can do in order to gain God's blessing. These functions do not bring us blessing. God's blessing comes from his righteousness to justice (or vice versa?). As our capacity for blessing, that increases with doctrine. Our thinking must be perfectly clear. Justice of God at one end and the righteousness of God at the other. This is the basis for understanding the plan of God and the essence of God.

Human life is imputed after birth; and Adam's original sin is imputed to us with the imputation of human life. We are born physically alive and spiritually dead. God does not wait for us to commit our first sin.

Our personal sins were all condemned at one time; gathered up and imputed to Jesus Christ on the cross. Our sins have never been imputed to us; they have all been imputed to our substitute. Because our sins were not imputed to us, we have our first potential.

Human life and Adam's original sin both imputed to us at birth; which sets us up for salvation as the potential. Absolute confidence that when we believe in Jesus Christ, we have eternal life.

Y radical is the immature believer. Judicial imputation #1 sins imputed on the cross and then the imputation of God's righteousness to us at salvation. That establishes the pipeline from heaven to us. Spiritual gift blessing in 6 categories. Z radical for the mature believer is where we begin to glorify God. 3rd potential is the great reward for blessing; and the 3rd hope, absolute confidence. Everyone will have a resurrection body, but not everyone will have rewards and medals.

God's love is not our point of reference. We possess His righteousness, so God loves us. Integrity of God has the integrity of God at one end and the righteousness of God at the other end. God loved His righteousness in eternity past, and He loves His righteousness in us right now. Justice and integrity are our point of reference. The righteousness of God takes precedence over the love of God. For God the Father to judge those sins, He has to set aside His love for the Son. He loves the humanity of the Son, because Jesus Christ was perfect in His humanity. Justice takes precedence over righteousness. God does not have as a point of reference His love, even though He loves us. God is also eternal life. Eternity means that God has always existed. God is outside of time because He invented and designed time. Although time and space are without substance, they are both parts of His creation. God created chronology for us, but He is not subject to chronology.

The earth will not be destroyed by nuclear warfare; the planet of the apes is total fiction; furthermore, it is stupid fiction. God cannot be more or less than He is. From Macnamara to Carter, we have seen complete idiocy. God has great knowledge and omnipotence, and all of these have great application.

There are 2 causes for civil war; there is revolution and the second is politics. When revolution causes civil war, the issue is truth; when politics causes a civil war, the issue is freedom.

God is veracity. He is without limitation or boundary; He cannot tempt nor can He sin. God may be self limited in the sense of the incarnation, but that is for the sake of fulfilling a grace policy. Infinity is characterized by all that God does. Divine motive is for His Own glory. God is true to Himself and true to His being. Man says he speaks the truth; God is the truth. Truth is not something which God acquires; He is truth and the source of truth. God honors doctrine resident in the soul of the believer with spiritual growth.

God provides logistical grace support to learn absolute truth. There is the gospel, which is for the believer. Then there is Bible doctrine for the believer only. Laws of divine establishment for believers and unbelievers. We are to use the essence of God rationale; many of us have used the essence of God rationale. God is faithful; the same today, yesterday and forever. This is the principle by which God administers.

Logistical grace keeps us alive, which is a part of His faithfulness. We should know enough to be aware of the existence of God. We know in face that to those who love the God... The accusative singular direct object and the definite article. This refers to God in essence. There is also a dative of advantage, and it is to our advantage to love God. There is the opportunity of concentration.

We may have stored some food or a hideout, and some of us have specific plans and others have hazy plans. God has an overall plan for our lives, moment by moment.

Rom 8:28 We know that all things work together for the good of those who love God-those whom he has called according to his plan.

Present active indicative of συνεργεω. God is the subject of the verb, and it is He Who works all things together for good. We must realize that God has a plan for our life. Whether encouraged or discouraged, God has a plan for our life.

accusative neuter plural of πας; all things includes all the blessings and all of the adversities. It includes everything. Εις + αὐθατος The quality of the noun is emphasized here; there is no definite article in front of the noun.

God can be glorified in time because He has a definite plan by which He is glorified. Working all things together for good is X + Y + Z.

It is to our advantage to be believers living in this life. This emphasizes the believer's relationship especially to his client nation, if he lives in one. This client nation is about to face great adversity; there is crime, revolution, natural adversities of one kind or another. There is a relationship between our presence on this earth and the plan of God.

Κλητος means called, elected to privilege. It is no accident that we reside in the United States of America. What happens to our country will be based upon our thinking toward Bible doctrine. We are elected to privilege. Είμι in a customary present, what a bal habitually attains. One final prepositional phrase: κατά + προθησις All of this has a purpose, to orient us to disaster. Rom. 12:2 we meet the good again. The good, the well-pleasing. Our love is to be non-critical. Rom. 13:4 human government is for the purpose of the good. They do not wear the sword for nothing. Let not the good attained by you be slandered or maligned.

Master the content of Rom. 8:28 is the key to dealing with revolution.

Rom 8:28 We know that all things work together for the good of those who love God-those whom he has called according to his plan.

2Samuel 15

Rom. 8:29 72David

How to handle revolution.

Suffering for divine discipline involves arrogance and subjectivity. Suffering for blessing involves humility and objectivity.

3 parts to the faith rest drill. You reach out and claim a promise. With the claiming of the promise, faith reaches out and uses reverse concentration. In the judicial imputation rationale, we have our sins being judged on the cross. We are forgiven our sins and restored to fellowship. Any more suffering which accrues is related to blessing, as we have seen in relationship to David. The purpose of his suffering was discipline meted out to him in installments. Plan of God rationale (Rom. 8:28), logistical grace rationale (Rom. 8:30–31).

Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution. Madame Roussan was a crusader and she was removed once the revolution had taken hold. Authority arrogance in the people provides the power of revolution. When the public loses authority orientation, they go for revolution. The conspiracy seeks to reach out and control the public. Public opinion arrogance has 6 sources: client nation arrogance, authority arrogance, etc. This is the power for revolution which is formed from strong delusion.

Laws of divine establishment for believer and unbeliever alike. Bible doctrine for believer only; gospel for the unbeliever only. Rejection of these things opens up the person to revolution. If politics is the cause, the issue is freedom; if civil war is being caused by revolution, then the issue is truth.

The law was given through Moses and truth is the great protection. Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution. Danton, Heber, Marat were the criminals of the French revolution. In Communism, the criminals included Stalin and Lenin. The idea is conspiracy to overthrow establishment government, to undermine it. We are pausing long enough to see how to handle revolution.

The all things are X + Y + Z. X is God's plan for the unbeliever. Human life is imputed after birth along with Adam's original sin, which is because condemnation must precede redemption. We are sustained as unbelievers in X radical by the laws of divine establishment.

Y radical is imputation of our sins to Christ on the cross followed by the imputation of His righteousness to us when we believe in Jesus Christ. We are sustained by laws of divine establishment and by logistical grace.

In Z radical, we have the mature believer. Eternal life + imputation of blessing in time because of maturity adjustment to the justice of God. + the pertinent doctrine of the absolute hope that we will receive blessing from God at the Judgment Seat of Christ.

We are elected to privilege. God's predetermined plan takes us through all kinds of disaster and all kinds of difficulties. Many revolutionaries are coming over with the Cubans, and they know English and Russian. They speak English as well as we do. They have been trained in a revolutionary school in Havana, and they have been trained to stir up revolution. They will be able to forge the setbacks coming across the borders into a revolution.

Rom. 8:28 We know in fact that to those who love God, He works all things together for good, for those who are called [or, elected] according to His purpose,...

ΟΤΙ ΟΥΣ ΤΟΤΙ here, hoti is a causal conjunction. Accusative masculine plural of hos. This is usually translated whom. There must be the insertion of a verb, since this is the accusative. So we go back to we know, giving us: Because we know that whom... When God is the subject of the verb, God's foreknowledge is a printout of the divine decrees. God produces the action of the verb. Foreknowledge is one of God's 3 categories of knowledge.

We have the feed in, along with 5 printouts. The omniscience of God does the programming. It feeds only facts into the computer. Omniscience and foreknowledge. Everything is known to Him. The plan of God rationale. Foreknowledge; the believer was in the mind of God, then the plan of God, then the purpose of God, believer can glorify God, and finally glorification. Foreknowledge is one of 3 categories of divine knowledge.

God knows Himself, He knows His creatures; and how this relates to the plan of God. God is Himself and He knows Himself to be without comparison to any other being. God existed eternally unsustained by Himself. His knowledge is as unalterable as Himself. His knowledge precedes time and space. All members of the Trinity know themselves. They all have the omniscience factor and the self knowledge factor.

Omniscience is all about God's creatures. Each member of the Trinity knows the other members. There are 2 basic concepts; omniscience is everything that we will think or decide. There was never a time when God did not know in detail every thought, word and act that we would do. God knew billions of years ago that we would be in Bible class. God entered reality into the computer and all that things could have been. Every probability is entered into the omniscience of God.

When you get down to foreknowledge, you are dealing with what is real only, and not with the possibilities. Under omniscience, God had the good sense to know every thought that we would have and every decision that we would make. God knows perfectly simultaneously all that is knowable, the actual and the possible. Omniscience sees the free as free, the necessary as necessary; omniscience is merely...

This brings us down to foreknowledge. Foreknowledge is a printout of the believer only. Election to privilege is for the believer only. Glorification is a printout for believers only. Nothing is foreknown until it is first of all decreed. Only the computer of divine decrees establishes reality. The foreknowledge of God makes nothing certain. God's self-knowledge, omniscience precedes divine decrees. The omniscience of God knows every action of history; the foreknowledge of God makes nothing certain; it merely recognizes that which is future.

Foreknowledge is the first stage of the omniscience of God? Every thought, decision and action is fed into the computer of divine decrees. In the printout comes foreknowledge, which tells us that there will never be on problem or tragedy or difficulty that God did not know about billions of years ago. There is no problem that God is not aware of.

This is Jeremiah speaking on the eve of a great revolution; and after that came the invasion of the Chaldeans and destruction of those in the land. Billions of years ago, we were in the mind of Christ. God knows all about us; every decision and every action.

The effectiveness of our life to God, to others and to ourself, is all based upon the thought pattern of our souls. Whether going down in a plane or suffering hunger or seeing a mob tear through a city, or seeing a tornado a couple miles away. The first thing you think is foreknowledge; God knew that we would face this situation and billions of years ago, God made provision for it. If you mind is structures on the granite of the thinking of Jesus Christ. Bob can look out and see those who are pouting.

You have no capacity for happiness because you have no doctrine in your soul. There are those who are upset, disturbed and anxious, it is only in the first 60 laps of the Indy 500 when there is only any action. That presents a serious problem. God knew about this billions of years ago, so that Bob would shut it down and let you see the first 60 laps with all the action.

Rom 8:29 For those whom he foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, in order that he might be the firstborn among many brothers.

2Samuel 15

72David

How to handle revolution.

Suffering for blessing is bearable and is converted to blessing; suffering for divine discipline is unbearable. Arrogance and subjectivity involved with divine discipline.

Faith rest technique. Various rationales related to rebound.

David did not do that well when it came to the 2nd and 3rd installments, but he will do great in #4.

The most basic rationale to use during a revolution is the essence of God rationale and the plan of God rationale. Bob likes Rom. 8:28–32 because this sums up everything quite nicely. We ought to use these during natural disasters. We might be overdue for a hurricane this year. Tornadoes, which are always fascinating. They are awesome things which have been recorded on camera. The whole purpose of life is to realize that God's plan goes right on for us, and His plan does not change because circumstances change. God's plan is not over because adversity occurs. War and economic depression does not change God's plan for our lives.

Rom. 8:28 We know in fact that to those who love God, He works all things together for good, for those who are called [or, elected] according to His purpose [pre-determined plan],...

6 imputations which all work for the good. Believers fail in X, Y and Z. David is in Z radical, even when he met Bathsheba. He maintained his perception of doctrine and finally got with the rebound technique, and this got him out of interlocking systems of arrogance. His son Absalom is different; he stayed in interlocking systems of arrogance. Only the humanity of Jesus Christ is perfect.

In vv. 29–30, we have the various printouts of the predetermined plan of God. The omniscience of God programs the divine decrees. There are 5 printouts for the believer. Last night was foreknowledge, today will be election to privilege, and then there will be justification and glorification.

We need to review the doctrine of divine decrees.

The decrees of God is His holy wise and eternal purpose and determining their certain futurity. The Divine Decree of God refers to his eternal [always existed], holy [having perfect integrity], wise [application of omniscience to creation] and sovereign purpose. God simultaneously comprehended all things that ever were or ever would be. He comprehended every event that would ever take place, along with its causes and interaction with other events, and he knew in eternity past every decision mankind would ever make.

Every contrasting thing in our life was foreknown to God. There will be things which occur in the sequence of time, as a result of your own decisions or the decisions of other.

The eternal decrees have always existed and they will never cease to exist. This is the chosen and adopted plan of God and of His eternal works. His Own glory will come to pass in the function of the human race.

Picture this as a giant computer. A computer is programmed. It is fed with the omniscience of God. God put all of these things into the computer of divine discipline. He knew what we would do from eternity past and He put this into the decrees. The decrees of God is the summation of God's plan. God feeds the computer.

Only the actual is fed into the computer. What would have happened if you chose this rather than that? God only enters what we actually did, but the potential is not. God knows what would have happened. We will all face a certain number of disasters in our lives. God works all of these things for our good. He knows all of our good and bad decisions are known and will work it all for good.

Foreordination establishes certainty. It is information in the computer which describes certainty. The omniscience of God knows certainty. In the printout is foreknowledge.

God does not influence our decisions or tamper with them. He allows us our free will. Various things will take us by surprise in the future, but they will not take God by surprise. The conscience are the norms and standards in our own soul. We get horrible guilt feelings for terrible things which we have done; and we assume that God is shocked and surprised, but he is not shocked and surprised. God never says, "That is such a gross sin that I will not allow that person even to be born." God knew about all of these things billions of years ago and yet, we are still here. This is where theology fouls up.

Predestination simply is God knowing what is going to happen. God takes cognizance of our decisions, thoughts and actions while we are alive. God knew you would scream, which is a total lack of thought. Bob screams a pathetic scream.

All predestination does is tell us that God has always known what is going to happen. Predestination is not fate. There is nothing wrong with God taking us when He does. There is a vast difference. Mohammedan never take responsibility for their own actions. They simply pass on their own cruel acts to God. They simply say, "Allah willed it." That is fatalism and that is evil and blasphemy.

Now, there is a time when we will leave this world, and that is the best time. That is predestination and that is His sovereign decision which is the end of predestination. You never say in a disaster, what will be will be. Predestination is merely God's side of our life. We know our life only as it unfolds a bit at the time; and some know your past. Some don't know your present, and we call you kooks. Predestination is God's side and history is what we recall. However, this is not fatalism. That is why foreknowledge is brought in. God expects us to think. If you scream "God help" and Bob has heard that in planes or in buildings. People who scream are not thinking. Women who lose the argument start screaming or get mad and they stop thinking. Those women are going to make you sorry that you won the argument.

It takes a few hours to do the decrees right. Προορίζω = predestined. This views the decrees of God in their entirety. It regards them from their existing results. God knew exactly what we will do after class. God knew billions of years ago what everyone was going to do after class. He provided whatever is necessary for us to meet the exigencies of life. We have learned to choose for doctrine a number of times in order for us to be prepared. God knew that many women would get married. It is very difficult to think for a long time. Little girls in prep school will someday get married; and God provides for all of it. They will use what they learn in prep school in their marriage. Bobby disagrees with Bob about war this year because he thinks that there will be more prep time needed. Maybe God will be gracious and give us that prep time.

Culminative aorist tense. Omniscience of God. He knows we will make certain decisions. Predestination relates the believer to the plan of God. This means that God is completely aware of everything that we think or do and He provides what is necessary for us to think or do. We possess God's righteousness. We have logistical grace support and sometimes supergrace blessing. The fact that we possess God's righteousness for the rest of our lives is how we stay alive in failure and in success. All of these things are interrelated in the plan of God rationale. We are always in union with Christ. We will never get out of union with Him. God knows that we will believe in Christ and He gives us the 36 things.

If you do not keep up with doctrine, then you will not be prepared for what happens in the future. There will be a certain amount of testing and we receive the doctrine now in order to deal with these things in the future. God provides doctrine now, today and the next day. God provides testing now. God provides disaster and we have passed the test here in order to succeed with the disaster test.

While you are single, you have a period of testing to precede your marriage. You must regard marriage as a divine institution ordained of God; and you also regard it as disaster. Then you will apply doctrine; you will learn it and apply it. You will take into marriage something wonderful. You will have capacity for love and for happiness and you will be able to make a go of it. If you are negative, then you will flunk your test as well as your perception of doctrine. God knows what is ahead and He provides for us now.

God's whole purpose in the Church Age is to take us and make us conform to the image of His Son. We can advance to maturity by means of Bible doctrine or we can go into reversionism. No matter what our volition does, in eternity, God's volition is all that counts. God will give those who succeed in this life a resurrection body and the same for those who fail. The decorations and awards glorify God forever. There is no such thing as equality in heaven.

It would take 8 hours to explain conformed to the image of His Son.

Rom 8:29 For we know that those whom he has foreknown he also predestined to be conformed to the image of His Son, in order that He might be the firstborn among many brothers.

They are wearing masks in Portland, so that Bible conference is off.

The royal family of God was formed in eternity past. Knowing who they would be, God provided salvation for those who would believe because they are royal family. As Church Age believers, we were predestined to be royal family members. To be conformed to His image requires some careful study of several doctrines.

Εἰς + the accusative and the second is ἐν + the dative. Προτατοκος = in order that He might be the image of the firstborn. Certain privileges accrued to the firstborn, the priesthood; at the second advent, He will inherit as a firstborn.

We are having a national disaster cured in many ways; we have natural disaster like Mount St. Helens and earthquakes in Southern California and, who knows, maybe an early hurricane in Houston? God gives us time to prepare for disaster, like war and revolution. There is already talk that Carter may get into war with the Russians to secure a reelection.

Cubans under 40, who speak English, Russian and Spanish, and they are in this country as a hardcore revolutionary conspiracy. Some legitimate immigrants with some of these thrown in. If you don't think that revolution is a pertinent subject, then stick around for awhile. The plan of God rationale is the basis for all applications. The more we know, the better off we are all the way around. The obvious factor is the believer's identify is never lost to God and the believer's dilemmas in time, God has provided us with preparation and with the disaster itself. All of these things are full blown disasters, and they do fulfill a simple principle; they are training for the big one; the charge of the elephant and the charge of the mosquito.

Rom 8:29 For we know that those whom he has foreknown he also predestined [= God's view of the plan] to be conformed to the image of His Son, in order that He might be the firstborn among many brothers.

If there is some accelerated testing coming your way, then you know that something else might be coming your way.

And those whom He has predestined In providing doctrine, you concentrate to learn; and in providing testing, you concentrate to apply. God knew what we were facing in eternity past. God knew that the tornado was going to happen, and we can say yes or no to the doctrine. Then we come to the application if we learn doctrine. If we do not learn doctrine, we cannot apply it. So God sends a test along, so that you can apply it to the next test and the test after that; and God knew this in the past. Remove free will and you are left with fatalism.

You must go into disaster sharp. You must be thinking. God provides doctrine and you can say yes or you can say no, but God still provides it. Those who say yes, can learn. Then they can apply the doctrine.

When you go in butt first, you are backing in. To put it mildly, you will take a hell of a beating. You will really be ripped to shreds. You chose not to learn doctrine, you chose not to concentrate.

The dear God stuff is a tragedy. Learn to do your praying out before the disaster occurs. That is a waste of energy. It is too late for that. When the men pray, Bob sometimes asks them to make a 1 sentence prayer, and this is for 16 men. You have to think in order to do this.

Bob remembers being in a plane filled with psychiatrists and an engine went out, and they kept saying, "Oh, God;" and they were not prepared. It was the funniest thing Bob and his uncle had ever seen. Predestination has tremendous application. These applications do not start in disaster. Predestination starts before disaster; the longer before disaster, the better. The longer before, the better, because Jesus Christ controls history.

Bob feels very humbled by many of us, and many of his congregation know this and he doesn't. He has to grit his teeth to go on.

Every believer is given time and opportunity to be prepared. That is what is so wonderful about predestination. This deals with the options of predetermination. Predestination is God's plan for our life. This is God knowing this plan millions of years ago. Down here, we call it the plan of God; up there, it is called predestination.

Kai is rendered also followed by καλεω which means called, elected to privilege. A gnomic aorist and regards it to be axiomatic from God's viewpoint. It is a fixed principle of the Church Age.

God does have a plan for our life and because He knew in eternity past what this would be, He made provision for these problems.

God invented time and space and eternity is outside of that. God is not limited by time and space. Billions of years ago, long before any creature existed, God knew our thoughts, decisions and actions. So He could anticipate every difficulty that we would have.

Knowledge and omniscience is related to us as creatures and to angels as well. Omniscience is God knowing all simultaneously all that is knowable, whether actual or possible. He knows the actual and the possible.

Omniscience perceives the free as free, therefore He provides so we can choose for the preparation. The necessary as necessary, together with all their causes and condition, every link is essential to the whole.

Foreknowledge is a printout; it is after the doctrine is in the compute of divine decrees. It must be first decreed in order to be foreknown. Foreknowledge is only about what is in the decrees; it has nothing to do with probability or possibility. This does not make anything certain, but recognizes that which is certain.

All of the events of the USA are fed into the computer, and the printout, we are in the mind of God and in the plan of God in eternity past. We are on a collision course with disaster right now. We are in the plan of God right now. God knew of our situation and He planned for our situation.

Doctrine we learn and testing we apply. Concentration intake and concentration output. Psalm 139:1–6 O LORD, you have searched me and known me! You know when I sit down and when I rise up; you discern my thoughts from afar. You search out my path and my lying down and are acquainted with all my ways. Even before a word is on my tongue, behold, O LORD, you know it altogether. You hem me in, behind and before, and lay your hand upon me. Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high; I cannot attain it.

David was so responsive to his concentration and the doctrine and all of these things, God knew. You have computed my journey and my lying down. David is unable to have this sort of knowledge which God has. The finite mind can understand what the infinite mind reveals. David is prepared for revolution and civil war.

David came to doctrinal conclusions and he enjoyed phenomenal prosperity. God has a plan for our life in war as well as in peace. In time of great disaster and in time of freedom from disaster. God's plan has not changed.

Bob would not deny us the freedom to disagree with him. What makes doctrine so wonderful, it is the mind of Christ, revelation from eternity past. We are as free to reject it as we are to accept it. No one, unless you are a kid, is forcing you to come to church.

Bob told Bobby that he had to come, to make certain he had an audience (this was a joke); he knew that Bobby would be there. The rest of it, Bob has no control over it. He can only warn us that we will need it.

Psalm 139:9 If I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea,

The doctrine of divine control of human history is.... It is impossible for God to impute blessing without His cancelling out His attributes. Each print out is significant. There are 3 elections to privilege in the Bible. The unique election pertains to the election of Jesus Christ. All history centers around the person of Jesus Christ. He was elected to special privilege.

Israel was the first client nation; many gentile client nations. The Church Age believer is elected to privilege. Every believer in Israel was elected to privilege. When Hezekiah sat on the throne and the Assyrians came down.

The Assyrians under Shalmanezar II destroyed Samaria. In 586, the Chaldeans administered the fifth cycle of discipline to the southern kingdom.

Election to privilege relates the believer to his national entity. We are saved with the purpose of being elected to privilege. We are alive because we live in the United States.

We are about to enter into a great national disaster. We will either be in the destruction, because the pivot is too small, or in the preservation, because the pivot is large enough. With a large enough pivot, disaster would be avoided in the U.S. As goes the believer in the client nation, so goes the client nation. Bob did not say, "As goes the election..."

Election is the believer's privilege to influence history indirectly. First election is of the Lord Jesus Christ. His resurrection, ascension and session are unique, as is His election.

Retroactive and the other anticipates the Church Age, which was done by our Lord on the cross. Behold My Servant Whom I have sustained. Acts 2:23 Jesus was delivered up according to the foreknowledge of God.

Psalms 139:10 even there your hand shall lead me, and your right hand shall hold me.

Rom 8:30 And those whom He predestined He also called [= elected to privilege], and those whom He called He also justified, and those whom He justified He also glorified.

2Samuel 15

Rom. 8:29 72David

This guy talking about his cowardliness when it came to dogs. But there was some change that came in his life. He is on board a ship to go to Hawaii from Manila and there was Gulliver the dog on board, biggest dog he ever saw. Gulliver was a great friend to the crew and the captain, but despised this man. The ship went down and only he and Gulliver survived. He saved the dog's life and the dog saved his. It made Bob think of Rom. 8:28. It could not have worked out any better. Little did he realize that dog would save his life. And little do we realize what will save our lives in the future.

Elected to privilege was in Rom. 8:28; the election of our Lord Jesus Christ is unique; there are 2 elections to privilege; each one is related to the client nation. Israel first became a client nation, and in the dispensation of Israel and Millennium, Isa. 45:4 Israel, My elected one to privilege; I have given you a title of honor. Rom. 9:6-7

The election in Rom. 8:30 elected to privilege to a holy station of life, in 1Tim. It is not according to our works but according to His Own predetermined plan.

As goes the believer, so goes the client nation to God. The believer must function under the Royal Family Honor Code.

Cubans have infiltrated us from Havana for the overthrow of divine establishment. In South Korea, the assassination of Parks. Keep watching Korean; North Korea has the 4th largest army in the world. We did not back Parks as we should have. He was an authoritarian. He was not a dictator in the evil sense; and we were behind his assassination? There is no longer a defense plan there, it went down with Parks. Once again, revolution; there are conspiracies in this country and all over.

Our national guard goes out and faces a mob without ammunition. The National Council of church is for mob violence. The only thing which will stop mob violence is our attitude toward Jesus Christ. Only God can deliver us from the mess that we have made.

Reagan doesn't have the power to deliver us; only God has the ability to deliver us. Do not pass out any pamphlets in here.

The ministry of Isaiah had been strong enough to establish a pivot, and the Assyrians and the Israelites woke up the next day, and there were 176,000 dead Assyrians out there.

Election to privilege for the royal family is advancing to maturity to be the salt which preserves the nation. God has a purpose for us, related to this wonderful nation, of which we are a part.

Bob has some sand there, which is from Mount St. Helens. The ash is all over Portland. There is tons of this in the air. Bob says nice things about Portland.

We have human life and Adam's original sin and our personal sins had already been collected in the mind of God to be imputed to Jesus Christ on the cross.

The predestination of God provided a perfect plan for us; His plan is perfect. Bob doesn't find too many driving too fast, but too many drive too slow. All of those people can be delivered simply on the basis of the fact that, every day, you love your Lord enough and your country enough to take in Bible doctrine.

No matter how great the disaster is, we can receive the imputation of supergrace blessing right in the middle of the disaster.

Rom. 8:28 We know in fact that to those who love God, He works all things together for good, for those who are called [or, elected] according to His purpose [pre-determined plan],...

Rom 8:29 For we know that those whom he has foreknown he also predestined [= God's view of the plan] to be conformed to the image of His Son, in order that He might be the firstborn among many brothers.

We are once again relating all of these things to the doctrine of divine decrees as printouts. The object of the verb to know has a multiplicity of objects. The accusative plural of nouns. This emphasizes positive believers in the plan of God from the standpoint of eternity past. Kai means and, also.

Aorist active indicative of δικαιω, which means to justify. Constative aorist is a momentary action at the time of salvation. It just takes a concept. The grace pipeline is constructed between heaven and us as a believer. Eternal life is imputed to a divinely prepared home and it is instantaneously prepared; eternal life enters into the human spirit forever. Eternal life is imputed to the divinely prepared home, the spirit. Your soul and spirit are in your body in almost every case. . This is one of the most significant factors.

The justice of God produces the action of the verb, and it occurs simultaneously with 35 other things. We are not justified based upon our morality and good works.

Rom 8:30 And those whom He predestined He also called [= elected to privilege], and those whom He called [elected to privilege] He also justified, and those whom He justified He also glorified.

2Samuel 15

3 verses review. 5 printouts.

Rom. 8:28–30 We know in fact that to those who love God, He works all things together for good, for those who are called [or, elected] according to His purpose [pre-determined plan],... For we know that those whom he has foreknown he also predestined to be conformed to the image of His Son, in order that He might be the firstborn among many brothers. And those whom He predestined He also called [= elected to privilege], and those whom He called [elected to privilege] He also justified, and those whom He justified He also glorified.

Justification and glorification are the human side of this. The application of justification is twofold. It is the possession of divine righteousness which qualifies us for blessing. It is the basis for logistical grace.

Our righteous nesses are like filthy rags in God's sight. When the arrogant believers attaches some importance to it, it is worthless.

Logistical grace concepts: when you find yourself in trouble or disaster and you are still alive, you need to immediately used the plan of God rationales. Reverse conception includes logistical grace. MacNamara wants to fight wars with computers. For a genius, he was extremely stupid and impractical. You can fight with scum. The Duke of Wellington proved that.

Our infantry is one of the most poorly armed today. The sniper rifle of the Russians is absolutely fantastic. Conventional warfare will resolve wars.

An article; a critical view of the military establishment. 100% readiness would be wasteful. But a certain number of planes ready to fly immediately. Many just sit around in the barracks because it is expensive to train them. This also gives them a morale and discipline problem. It is like we are trying to drive a very powerful car sideways.

Alternate approaches—every 18 year old male goes into the army; or a highly paid army with high standards, or you grab the dregs of society and throw them together (which requires great discipline). We have a mentality, motivation and manpower problem, as well as a logistical problem.

We face a disastrous problem with regards to logistics. Luckily, the logistics from heaven are fantastic. Having all sufficiency in everything, that we might have abundance. There is logistical grace which keeps us alive in order to reach the point of gospel hearing. Now, we may go bad after that as well, and God still keeps us alive, even though we are losers. Matt. 6:33. As long as we are alive, we are alive courtesy of the Lord Jesus Christ. Even carnal believers have some logistical support simply keeping us alive. That counts as blessing. There is nothing that the reversionist did to earn it.

For believers outside of maturity, there is logistical grace going from justice of God to the righteousness of God. Same for supergrace believers. Blessing is available and a reality during times of pressure and difficulty. Right now, we are studying this passage under relatively normal times. The grace functions of God do not stop because war has come. God does not take a vacation; He is not out to lunch. His gracious functions never cease; His blessings are new every morning. Many believers are still alive after great disaster and warfare. The compassion of the Lord are new every morning; great is Your faithfulness.

God is faithful in rebound; He is faithful in logistical grace.

What goes on in Washington is insignificant. The fact that we are assembled to hear the Word is.

2Tim. 2:13 God sustains us in this life, even in whatever stage of reversionism that we find ourselves. He keeps on being faithful.

Bob says something about Jeans and a tee shirt on some women. To him, blue denim is the lowest form of cloth. At least you are clothed, so God has paid attention to you.

The very fact that we have a Bible in our hands is testimony to logistical support. We have logistical support from the laws of divine establishment.

The only legitimate motivation for business is profit. The government does not control business, it controls people. Our government has demonstrated that it cannot deliver anyone in a large city in Iran or anywhere else. We cannot deliver or help anyone. We have become a government of controlling people. Freedom cannot guarantee equality.

People have a right to be failures. Guaranteed income for life. If you have failures and success in a country, then you have freedom.

Satan wants a welfare state to control the world. The Cubans unleashed thousands of Cuban spies in the United States and these Cubans are now in this country. They are well-trained, hardcore revolutionaries.

A lady in Bakersfield wrote, they were 5 minutes into the lesson when the first earthquake hit, and since Bob seemed impervious, so they just soldiered on.

This is a continuation of our study in 2Sam. 15 and this tells us how we are to deal with revolution.

Rom. 8:28–30 We know in fact that to those who love God, He works all things together for good, for those who are called [or, elected] according to His purpose [pre-determined plan],... For we know that those whom he has foreknown he also predestined to be conformed to the image of His Son, in order that He might be the firstborn among many brothers [the royal family of God]. And those whom He predestined He also called [= elected to privilege], and those whom He called [elected to privilege] He also justified, and those whom He justified He also glorified.

Justification is the imputation of divine righteousness. Logistical grace is the basis for advancing in the plan of God. Freedom is the policy of God in the creation of the human race in order to resolve the Angelic Conflict. Freedom is flexible and pliable with regards to the non-essentials of life.

Logistical grace includes the local church; it is where the believer assembles in order to learn Bible doctrine. This might be a home, church or office. Some idiot pastor is saying that you cannot grow without face to face, but then, he sends out tapes, which are warmed-over Thieme doctrines. The Bakersfield group listened through 2 earthquakes.

the focal point of the church ought to be doctrinal teaching. Spiritual gift is authority and ability to teach the Word of God. “Someone has a watch; now I don’t mind breaking your arm and busting your watch...apparently, you need to wake up.” To be able to teach doctrine requires great preparation. Most pastors are not qualified to teach because of the lack of preparation. You gain your authority by the teaching of the Word. The pastor throwing his weight around a church without teaching is a mistake.

Discussion of the ordination at Berachah to improve the quality of people going out. A lot of people can study for hours, but they have no way of going about it. The Church of Christ is famous for those who leave the business world and go into the ministry. Bob has never found anyone in that group who was ready to teach. At best, they teach a second-class system of morality. This reveals a terrible lack of preparation. Barnhouse said he would take 20 years of preparation for 1 year in the ministry.

Things may go well in a church for even years, but then the pastor says something, and there is this instantaneous personality problem. If you cannot listen to a pastor-teacher, then you shop around to find a teacher that you can listen to. Personality is not an issue in the communication of doctrine. You have to get away from the personality and get down to the content.

Why a woman would ever want to be equal to a man, if she is already superior to a man (in most ways). The only place where the woman is inferior to a man in authority. No male deserves the gift, and all personality types become pastors. Baptists bully their pastors and starve them and kick them around, and this is obviously by their calling them preacher-boys.

Spiritual growth is how you determine whether you have the gift or not. God the Holy Spirit bestows the gift, and you do not earn it or deserve it. Women do not have authority in the pulpit of the local church. However, women are born teachers. If you have a womb, you can teach. Bob has never understood that there is a shortage of teachers in prep school because women are natural teachers. Some of the greatest teachers Bob can remember are women. It is a natural talent or ability.

A woman who would go out on our parking lot and tell men that they could not smoke there, but she was out of line. She insisted on being Carrie nation to the smokers. She is probably carrying on this crusade elsewhere; however, she was able to offend almost anywhere.

A spiritual flasher, someone who tells everyone else their business.

The justification provides a target for God's logistical grace. It travels down the grace pipeline.

Supergrace blessing in time, a fortiori. This presupposes the rapture of the church.

29–30 give us the plan of God. This is the basic concept of the plan of God rationale. Every thought, action and decision was fed into the computer of divine decrees.

There is the printout, which is foreknowledge, which is based on reality. 5 printouts altogether. Foreknowledge means that God has us in mind in eternity past. God has us in His mind billions of years ago, and when we face privation and heartache, God provided for us.

As believers, we belong to client nation USA and we have the privilege and opportunity... The mature believer glorifies God and there is special blessing in time. The mature believer glorifies God throughout all eternity. Any 1 of these 5 printouts can be used in historical disaster. If we wind up in a prison camp, we can work our way mentally out of any situation in which we find ourselves.

Rom 8:30 And those whom He predestined He also called [= elected to privilege], and those whom He called [elected to privilege] He also justified, and those whom He justified He also glorified.

This is a classical Greek or an attic Greek idiom and it cannot be translated literally. Προς + ουτος. This is a debator's idiom. Therefore, face to face with these things, to what conclusion are we forced? The plan of God is far greater than any problem that we will have; any pain or any heartache. To reach maturity, the believer must pass many tests. No believer can grow in grace apart from knowledge of doctrine and a number of tests or examinations. That is the secret for growth. We develop muscles by testing. When you feel terrible, you go out there and you start your military presses.

We are daily tested first with the charge of the mosquito and then the charge of the elephant. Your girl has faked you out of your tennis shoes, and that becomes a test. Prep school is a test. If you can explain the doctrine of predestination to an 8 year old, then you can use that doctrine during a time of disaster.

The conclusion we are forced to is, if God is for us, who can be against us. Protasis of a 1st class condition. If the God is for us, then who can be against us?

Billions of years ago, God was on our side. An elliptical apodosis is what follows. Τίς καὶ ἡμῶν. Who against us? This doctrinal conclusion sets up the first judicial imputation. This sets up an advanced rationale. Judicial imputation #1 is all of our sins poured upon Jesus Christ. We are forgiven because of this, not because we feel emotional or beg God's forgiveness. We apply this doctrine every time that we rebound. Judicial imputation #2.

Rom 8:31 What then shall we say to these things? [idiomatically translate, Therefore, face to face with these things (election, predestination, etc.), to what conclusion are we forced?] If God is for us [or, for our sake], who can be against us?

This gives us the outline for v. 32, judicial imputations #1 and #2. Tomorrow, we conclude our study, and then move back into the revolution.

2Samuel 15 Psalm 43:1–5 Rom. 8:32 Isa. 53:4–5 72David 631_0390

Rom 8:31 What then shall we say to these things? [idiomatically translate, Therefore, face to face with these things (election, predestination, etc.), to what conclusion are we forced?] If God is for us [or, for our sake], who can be against us?

If you do without knowledge what you are doing, then you do not know what you are doing; that boils down this passage of Romans.

Few people know how to train a dog. Jack Allen too long have you concealed from your dog that he owns you. Great Dane that he buys.

3 stages to the faith rest drill. Faith claims a promise then faith applies doctrine to a situation by reverse concentration (one of the rationales); faith reaches doctrinal conclusions from this. This means, you must know what you are doing. The key to life is to know what you are doing before you do it. The key to life is not action but thinking.

The idea is to know what is required from us any time a disaster occurs.

Intensive use of ὄλε, which is strictly classical Greek. All human sins are gathered up into one entirety; into one bundle; this is reduced to a period of 3 hours when these sins were imputed by God the Father to His Son Jesus Christ and judged Him for these sins. This is the first judicial imputation. All sins that we have committed or will commit were gathered up and imputed to Jesus Christ on the cross. A real imputation has a target where there is an affinity between the thing imputed and what it is imputed to. Like human life being imputed to the soul. No matter what sin someone commits, human life is still in the soul. The human life is in the soul, whether you go to heaven or to hell. Eternal life is imputed to the human spirit, which is created by the Holy Spirit, which is what regeneration is.

Christ dying for our sins in judicial imputation #1. It is easy to be saved; it is difficult to understand salvation. Our memorial day is remembering what Christ did and applying it to adversity. The principle of logistical grace is, if Jesus Christ did the most for us on the cross, what will he do for us now that we are His friends, His children, His royal family. Can he do less for us now that we are family? That is the concept of this verse that David used when facing Absalom's revolution. Idios is someone who minded their own business.

The more old sin natures involved in government the worse that it is. So democracy is the worse form of government, and it is anarchy with a thin veneer. Too many people calling the shots and showing very little restraint. Those who did not participate in the democracy were called ἰδιος, which meant this person just kept to himself; he was his own private person.

Substitutionary phrase υπερ + πας which means on behalf of us all.

The Old Testament people understood the gospel as well.

Isa. 53:4 Therefore He carried our guilt of our sinful afflictions Jesus was spiritually dead but spiritually alive. Jesus Christ was alive when He said "Finished." He died physically after it was finished; after He had died for our sins. Consequently, we determined that He had been struck down by judgment. yet we esteemed him stricken, smitten by God, and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions; he was crushed for our iniquities; upon him was the chastisement that brought us peace, and with his stripes we are healed.

The justice of God judged all of our sins when they were laid upon Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ drank the bitter wine. The 2nd judicial imputation must be associated with the 1st judicial imputation, where His righteousness is imputed to us. God could not impute righteousness to us apart from Jesus Christ dying for our sins on the cross.

If the most has been done for us at salvation, then we know that He will do much more than the most for us after salvation. Until God takes us out, He must provide for our needs via logistical grace. Each one of us, no matter how rotten we are, we possess God's perfect righteousness.

Grace is the policy of the justice of God. It imputes righteousness to every believer at salvation. There is affinity between the blessings from the justice of God to the righteousness of God, which is in us. There is no compromise of divine attributes.

Χαρίζομαι you can walk into disaster and walk your way out of this by thinking.

Paul uses a debater's technique in order to set up an a fortiori argument.

Rom 8:32 He [God] who did not spare his own Son but gave [delivered] Him up for us all [on behalf of all of us], how will He not also with Him graciously give us the all things?

We need to bring this into the narrative on David. There is a psalm which deals with this, and Bob hopes to get to that psalm this evening. David has the ability to deal with disaster.

People in Houston today are better off than kings in castles of a century ago. But we can handle difficulties and disasters as well. We have the flexibility to handle disaster as we handled prosperity.

Prov. 8:17–18 I love those who love me, and those who seek me diligently find me. Riches and honor are with me, enduring wealth and righteousness.

David is a mature believer and many with him will be blessed by the revolution and by the civil war. There is loved one periphery and geographical periphery. Zadok is a favorite of Bob's, and he has been living with him for several nights. Itai the Gittite. Business, social and geographical periphery.

There is a heritage factor and there is blessing by association even in heritage. Adonijah will be blessed by association, but he will be cursed later on.

Fantastic undeserved suffering which will be turned into blessing. David died with the most beautiful woman in the land in his bed. Most young men would consider that dying grace.

We have been preparing for Psalm 43:

Bob wants us to understand David's thinking when retreating from Jerusalem. He prays a short prayer in 2 verses. David goes to the highest court, the Supreme Court of Heaven.

Psalm 43:1 Vindicate me, O God, and defend my cause against an ungodly people [Israel], from the deceitful and unjust man deliver me!

David asks God, why have You rejected me? 2Sam. 18:11–18 will answer this.

Psalm 43:2 For you are the God in whom I take refuge [my fortress]; why have you rejected me? Why do I go about mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

David asks to be brought back to Mount Zion.

Psalm 43:3 Send out your light and your truth; let them lead me; let them bring me to Your holy hill and to Your dwelling!

David says that he will go back to the altar of God.

Psalm 43:4 Then I will go to the altar of God, to God my exceeding joy, and I will praise You with the lyre, O God, my God.

The faith rest drill.

David's soul is upset, but he should be able to deal with this, despite circumstances all around him. Doctrinal conclusion for stage 3, and being in control of the situation.

Psalm 43:5 Why are you cast down [depressed], O my soul, and why are you in turmoil [disturbed] within me? Hope in God; for I shall again praise him, my salvation [triumph] and my God.

After v. 5, David begins to make wise decisions. He will make 3 wise decisions, which will be, apparently, next lesson.

Psalm 61–62 72David

San Antonio Fx person heard the statement "If you do not provide all people with reasonable housing, then we will not adhere to the law or standards of decency." Revolutions in minutia which may be turned into a full-blown revolution.

David is aware a revolution has broken out, and that his son Absalom is leading the revolution. Psalm 61 is the prayer which David utters at this realization.

Psalm 61:1 To the choirmaster: with stringed instruments. Of David. Hear my cry, O God, listen to my prayer; the 2nd stage of the faith rest drill.

Psalm 61:2 from the end of the earth [land] I call to You when my heart is faint. Lead me to the rock that is higher than I,

God has been David's refuge.

Psalm 61:3 for You have been my refuge, a strong tower against the enemy.

Shelter under God's wings is the 1st stage of the faith rest drill.

Psalm 61:4 Let me dwell in Your tent forever! Let me take refuge under the shelter of Your wings! Selah

Psalm 61:5 For you, O God, have heard my vows; you have given me the heritage of those who fear Your name.

David asks for additional years. I think this refers to Jesus Christ as well.

Psalm 61:6 Prolong the life of the King; may His years endure to all generations!

David's statement of eternal security. Laws of divine establishment, the gospel and Bible doctrine for the one who has believed in Jesus Christ.

Psalm 61:7 May He be enthroned forever before God; appoint grace and faithfulness [truth] to watch [guard or protect] over him!

David will have to make some decisions and all 3 parts of the faith rest drill.

Psalm 61:8 So [consequently] will I ever sing praises to your name, as I perform my vows day after day.

Psalm 62 is the fulfilment of this prayer.

Psalm 62:1 To the choirmaster: according to Jeduthun. A Psalm of David. For God alone my soul waits in silence; from him comes my salvation.

This is David faith-resting it.

Psalm 62:2 He only is my rock and my salvation, my fortress; I shall not be greatly shaken.

David addresses the revolutionists here.

Psalm 62:3 How long will all of you attack a man to batter him, like a leaning wall, a tottering fence?

V. 4 is the conspiracy of the revolution.

Psalm 62:4 They only plan to thrust him down from his high position. They take pleasure in falsehood. They bless with their mouths, but inwardly they curse. Selah

David repeats the first verse. Reaching out and claiming a promise; reverse concentration and applying a rationale.

Psalm 62:5 For God alone, O my soul, wait in silence, for my hope [my strong faith; my expectation] is from him.

The fortress is built up in David's soul. As a mature believer, David has maximum doctrine resident in the soul.

Psalm 62:6 He only is my rock and my salvation, my fortress; I shall not be shaken.

Psalm 62:7 On God rests my salvation and my glory; my mighty rock, my refuge is God.

Psalm 62:8 Trust in him at all times, O people; pour out your heart before him; God is a refuge for us. Selah this is the scum which are out during the revolution. They are used in a revolution. Men of rank are...

Psalm 62:9 Those of low estate are but a breath [only vanity]; those of high estate are a delusion; in the balances they go up [they weigh nothing]; they are together lighter than a breath [their weight is a breath].

Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution. Crusaders Jaques Necker, Madam Roulan, etc.

Psalm 62:10 Put no trust in extortion; set no vain hopes on robbery; if riches increase, set not your heart on them.

Power is either delegated or stolen.

Psalm 62:11 Once God has spoken; twice have I heard this: that power belongs to God, Grace is God's policy.

Psalm 62:12 and that to you, O Lord, belongs grace. For you will render [prosper] to a man according to his work.

Public opinion functions out there without reason.

The Shah tells of his anger toward the United States. We have overthrown an authoritarian government in Iran. He regrets following a policy of surrender to his opponents. There were conflicting signals from the White House and from Britain.

Terrorism is always a part of revolution. We have been seeking to deal with the Islamic regime in Iran. He calls them bloodthirsty savages. How can you shake hands with these people? He is currently working on a book on his downfall. Cyrus Vance gave no support to him during the revolution. The wrong advice he got was letting all the terrorists out of jail. The government was to surrender to the arsonists and the bandits.

Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution. Public opinion is formed from strong delusion. Truth is the only protection which they possess.

We have an established 5th column of revolutionaries in our country now, mostly from Cuba.

It is truth which allows us to see the Lord of Glory.

Thess. 2:9–11 The coming of the lawless one is by the activity of Satan with all power and false signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are perishing, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. Therefore God sends them a strong delusion, so that they may believe what is false,

We need to redefine revolution as an overthrow by violence resulting in a fundamental change of government. It is a form of conspiracy to remove establishment and by means of violence. Thought is the start, but it is replaced by terrorism. Satan sponsors revolution and God sponsors authority and establishment. Evil motivation for revolution, which often includes institutional arrogance, criminal, political, etc. arrogance. .

Revolution involves mobs which are led and guided and exploited by criminal and political arrogance. Revolution is total evil; it is never justified. Isa. 1:2–5 excoriates revolution. An ox may be a stupid animal, but he knows his owner.

Hard-core revolutionists, the public, and the incorruptibles. They are authority oriented. They see revolution for what it is. Strong delusion becomes an issue at this point. The people become vulnerable to the propaganda of the revolution.

We saw this as a problem in our country when people began to support Jane Fonda. There will always be conspiracies and revolutionaries in our country. But, this requires the general public to go along with it.

Civil war naturally follows a revolution and sometimes is used by the revolutionaries to take the power.

Authoritarian and the totalitarian. The revolutionaries are the totalitarians. 2 causes of civil war. The revolution, and politics. He separates them, although there is some merger. When politics starts the civil war, the issue is freedom. When revolution starts the civil war, the issue is truth.

Eventually, those who believe in truth will follow David and the others will follow Absalom.

Authoritarian Versus Totalitarian

Revolution is inevitable where there is no distinction made between authoritarian government and totalitarian government.

1. Many forms of government have monarchy, democracy, oligarchy, and any one of these can provide protection for freedom. We are under the false concept that only a democracy provides freedom.
2. Revolution usually results in totalitarian-type government. A highly-centralized form of government under the control of one particular political group. Like the communists in China and in Russia. Franco is excluded from this; he provided a system of authority which provided freedom for everyone. The best tourist spot for years has been Spain. It is the idiotic people here who glorify the Lincoln Brigade, which was a communist organization fighting for a communist cause.
3. It is imperative that we distinguish between authoritarian government and totalitarian government, which destroys personal and national freedom.
4. Authoritarian government provides a balance between authority and freedom, and the totalitarian party destroys freedom with the ascendancy of one authority which produces tyranny. Just because a few people from the national council of churches visits Russia and says there is freedom, that is a lie. Our policy has been immoral by supporting totalitarian governments, which overthrowing authoritarian governments, like Simosa in Nicaragua, like Ian Smith in Rhodesia, like Parks in South Korea. We have no ability to distinguish between authoritarian governments and totalitarian governments.

5. This produces a double standard. We are supportive of Kenya, which is an authoritarian type of government, but not friendly toward Rhodesia, which is a better authoritarian government.
6. Socialism is always totalitarian. We are trying to change our government into a totalitarian government. You just reject the constitution and make everyone dependent upon welfare.
7. In authoritarian type governments, there is a balance between authority and freedom. The laws of divine establishment as per Rom. 13. To protect our privacy and property.
8. Temporal freedom; the imputation of human life at birth. Spiritual freedom is the result of the imputation after spiritual birth. Laws of divine establishment and the Royal Family Honor Code. We are under both as believers in Jesus Christ. Bob does not counseling; we are free to apply doctrine to our own experience. Temporal freedom or spiritual freedom. The laws of divine establishment never divorce freedom, privacy and property from authority. A good government of any sort always provides a system of authority to protect our privacy and property. Revolution emphasizes the equality of man. Self-determination results in inequality in the human race.
9. Freedom guarantees inequality. There will be inequality in hell?
10. Forced equality is the function of tyrants and dictators and represents a complete loss of freedom.
11. Applying Rom. 13, no matter what form of government.
12. Absalom's government was totalitarian and David's was authoritarian. David's government will continue.

2Sa 15:14 Then David said to all his servants who were with him at Jerusalem, "Arise, and let us flee, or else there will be no escape for us from Absalom. Go quickly, lest he overtake us quickly and bring down ruin on us and strike the city with the edge of the sword."

The theology of terrorism. Part of a book. One guy who was anti-slavery, recognized the insanity of the abolitionists. He knew that crusader arrogance with tear the country apart (this was some guy named John Randolph). Calhoun was another who opposed the abolition of slavery. The abolitionist movement started in Boston and New York. Harriet Beecher Ward and someone else most influential in the destruction of our country.

John Brown was a scum revolutionist and not the great man that most people think. The daughters of the confederacy put a olacque up a time when John Brown was opposing slavery. His guerillas in Kansas murdered andm aimed the innocent and spawned a bunch of lies which were picked up by certain newspapers. He appears to be scum with criminal and crusader. arrogance. He knew no doctrine; and he ran about quoting Scripture.

The became judges and executioners. A pattern of revolution and insurrection. The core of the abolitionist kabar was complsed of radical clergymen and seminary professors. Ralph Waldo Emerson was one of them, and he was a pastor, but he became more interested in going his own way. It became clear that many causes could be furthered by their tactics. Mindless moralizing. Many a fool went down the passageways of murder.

Martin Luther King and someone else used similar approaches, and James Earl Carter Jr. hitched his wagon to ... The use of religion as a revolutionary movement, and this was used in Jonestown as well. Jerry Brown and Rosalyn Carter and Jonestown?

Slanted reporting on these abolitionists. This high a moral tone was a brief for the butchering of human beings. Few recognized this as a rationale for murder; it fit into a dozen causes, movements and dowsim. 1000's of farms in New England were left fallow. Afterward, this branched into prohibition, socialism, unionism, etc.

Some told Bob that what is happening in business with unionism is just like what he has described with the revolutionaries.

2Sam. 15:1–14 And it came to pass after this, that Absalom prepared him a chariot and horses, and fifty men to run before him. And Absalom used to rise up early, and stand beside the way of the gate; and it was so, that when any man had a suit which should come to the king for judgment, then Absalom called unto him, and said: 'Of what city art thou?' And he said: 'Thy servant is of one of the tribes of Israel.' And Absalom said unto him: 'See, thy matters are good and right; but there is no man deputed of the king to hear thee.' Absalom said moreover: 'Oh that I were made judge in the land, that every man who hath any suit or cause might come unto me, and I would do him justice!' And it was so, that when any man came nigh to prostrate himself before him, he put forth his hand, and took hold of him, and kissed him. And on this manner did Absalom to all Israel that came to the king for judgment; so Absalom stole the hearts of the men of Israel. And it came to pass at the end of forty years, that Absalom said unto the king: 'I pray thee, let me go and pay my vow, which I have vowed unto the LORD, in Hebron. For thy servant vowed a vow while I abode at Geshur in Aram, saying: If the LORD shall indeed bring me back to Jerusalem, then I will serve the LORD.' And the king said unto him: 'Go in peace.' So he arose, and went to Hebron. But Absalom sent spies throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying: 'As soon as ye hear the sound of the horn, then ye shall say: Absalom is king in Hebron.' And with Absalom went two hundred men out of Jerusalem, that were invited, and went in their simplicity; and they knew not any thing. And Absalom sent for Ahithophel the Gilonite, David's counsellor, from his city, even from Giloh, while he offered the sacrifices. And the conspiracy was strong; for the people increased continually with Absalom. And there came a messenger to David, saying: 'The hearts of the men of Israel are after Absalom.' And David said unto [Then David issued a command to his loyal staff] all his servants that were with him at Jerusalem: 'Arise [Red alert], and let us flee; or else none of us shall escape from Absalom; make speed to depart, lest he overtake us quickly, and bring down evil upon us, and smite the city with the edge of the sword.'

There comes a time when you have to be able to leave material things behind and move out into the unknown. This is what David needed to be able to do.

The civil war is necessary for the establishment government to win over the revolutionaries; but they cannot be destroyed by staying in Jerusalem. David's judgment is correct. He must surrender Jerusalem to the revolutionaries, so that he has time to maneuver in the open country in order to defeat these revolutionaries. This took great moral courage and David had to determine what he could do which was appropriate to the situation. He had to be able to set aside material possessions as non-essential. David will organize in Jerusalem a counter insurgency force. He will go to the other side of the Jordan, and he will be able to out-maneuver Absalom (and the evil Manasseh?).

David will leave behind his belongings to be looted by the revolutionaries. Capturing Jerusalem without the capture of Jerusalem is meaningless. Only Ahithophel has the good sense to tell Absalom to immediately pursue David. David will establish a counter-insurgency group under Hushai. I guess Absalom not going after him gives David enough time.

Absalom is not organized well enough to take good advice. David gives him the benefit of the doubt, thinking that Absalom would do the smartest thing (which Absalom does not). Interlocking systems of arrogance, once entered, by 1 of 15 gates, whatever talent, ability or genius which you possess is neutralized by where you stand. David knew his cause was right and that revolution was wrong. He needed to protect the cause of establishment, where there were too many malcontents. They would act as a 5th column. Just as the United States has been infiltrated by too many communists.

It takes a lot of courage and flexibility for David to retreat rather than to advance. Castle Zion was well fortified and it could withstand a siege, the revolutionaries, in frustration, would have killed many of the people in Jerusalem, which David could not defend.

Humility in leadership causes David to be a responsible leader. In the middle of this chapter, David is totally recovered and he is at his most magnificent. His force was small, compared to the revolutionary army.

Revolutionary armies are without discipline and you cannot protect the people from their evil and debauchery. There are horrid accounts of revolutionary armies and the evil which they do. They would have taken out their frustrations against the civilian population.

David's rule is authoritarian not totalitarian. The government of the revolutionists would be a democracy and totally totalitarian.

David has now completely recovered and he is humble. Humility is necessary for capacity for happiness, love and life. Arrogance destroys a successful nation. Our decline is not based upon our presidents, who keep enlarging our government; but it is more individuals and interlocking systems of arrogance and there is such a mass of arrogance that God must destroy many of us.

David has this tremendous sense of command in retreat. He will be under great pressure, with personal pressure; David will be ridiculed; people will be petty. David is in an historical disaster and in personal disaster.

Establishment needs to have a rallying point. David was the leadership and establishment force must have leadership. It takes flexibility to fight this battle, and David had the humility and flexibility to deal with this. It took moral courage for David to retreat.

3rd lesson; after a decision is made, it must be accomplished rapidly. A decision is no better than its execution. A decision may be right, but it would be a wrong decision if they dawdled. Once the decision was made, they had to get out. No hysteria. Everyone had to form up quietly and move out. It would be like moving out of Berachah Church during a fire; it would be quietly done and organized. The innocent population must not be protected. David will send Ittai the Gittite back into Jerusalem, but he will refuse.

Jerusalem will be saved a siege and wide destruction of the people.

2Sam. 15:14 And David said unto [Then David issued a command to his loyal staff] all his servants that were with him at Jerusalem: 'Arise [Red alert], and let us flee; or else none of us shall escape from Absalom; make speed to depart [be ready to move out immediately], lest he overtake us quickly, and bring down evil upon us, and smite the city with the edge of the sword.'

Someone who flew over Cuba to take photos; he was arrested as a CIA spy. He said the Russian brigade was more like a submarine force. We've played right into the hands of the Cubans, and Castro does whatever the Russians ask. Russian troops in civilian clothing are showing up on the other shore of Cuba. There are many signs of a Cuban counter-revolution. Coffee is rationed at 2 ounces a month. There is little incentive to work because there is very little to work with. For Cubans, only about 2 out of 40 seem to be legitimate. The others are criminals, insane or spies.

2Sam. 15:14 And David said unto [Then David issued a command to his loyal staff] all his servants that were with him at Jerusalem: 'Arise [Red alert], and let us flee; or else none of us shall escape from Absalom; make speed to depart [be ready to move out immediately], lest he overtake us quickly, and bring down evil upon us, and smite the city with the edge of the sword.'

His staff say, "You make the decisions and we will go along with you."

People are suckers for lying propaganda, if they are under strong delusion. Integrity + loyal = honor. These are the honorable people. The incorruptibles here are the military, the staff and the leaders. When people have truth and are positive toward it, they fulfill "You will know the truth and the truth will make you free." You have loyalty as a virtue toward establishment. Loyalty to Bible doctrine causes many people to stand firm during times of instability, revolution and civil war. The revolutionists are following a person and the general public are following a person. Great conflict is principle versus person.

Faith rest drill is reverse concentration. This makes the believer incorruptible. Not susceptible to revolution. He is faithful to the principles of establishment. The revolutionists are loyal to a personality, which is loyalty to evil, and they function under the dishonor equation. That is integrity versus loyalty as an evil equals dishonor.

David's Retreat

1. We have noticed David's decision to retreat; and this must be done so that there is no panic. If the people or the military panic, it's all over.
2. The result will be a civil war. Therefore, an orderly withdraw is required.
3. He can determine who is loyal and who is conniving in Jerusalem. He gets room and space for maneuvering and determines who is loyal to him.
4. Best decision to go east of the Jordan River and then to move north from there. He has complete control of his forces.
5. David accepts punishment from the Lord and moves on.

2Sam. 15:15 [And the king's servants \[staff\] said \[replied\] to the king, "Behold, your servants are ready to do whatever my lord the king decides."](#)

David leaves his mistresses behind under orders. David is still taking care of these women. He collected about 50 women. He kept these women. These women would have supervised those who do the work. 10 young female executives here. They will run the palace for about 6 months.

There is false teaching which suggests a good Christian does not have material things. When God blesses a person, then that involves material possessions. That makes sense, because these people have the capacity to enjoy these things. Then Bob talks about the boots someone owns. If he is going to walk off, he can carry 3 pairs at the most. By the time you decided you have not shifted gears. If your house is on fire, what 3 things would you take out? You can't survive a revolution if you are unable to make quick decisions which are appropriate.

In your adversity scale of values, you must abandon material things. You can't take your Hifi set with you. You must be flexible, humble and you have to apply one facet of the plan of God rationale. You need to move to your adversity scale of false.

Hushai the Archite kept Bob up for a couple nights. Bob wonders why Zadok the Priest is mentioned by God the Holy Spirit. Once he got Zadok squared away, but now there is Hushai the Archite. He was old, wealthy and honorable. He was a wealthy success man. Why did God the Holy Spirit mention the mudpack and his suit all ripped to pieces. It finally snapped early in the morning, so Bob gets up and began to work on it. If you do not have flexibility to have 2 standards, then you are not going to make it. Paul, "I know how to be abased and I know how to abound." Doctrine needs to be that which helps you differentiate.

You have all these gold coins and your only escape is to jump out your back balcony into the river. Hushai left behind all of his hobbies. He had an acre of trains? He knew the revolutionists would beat it to pieces. You just have to talk out and leave it. Some of us have developed an illustration of our 2 twos of value. If you have a nagging wife, you have developed a dual scale of values; one when you are in the house and one when you are out.

Survival demands flexibility. We need an adversity scale of values and a prosperity scale of values, and that must be in the mind. Those in the army must think under 2 scales completely. Combat leadership is shut down. Managers now and collectors of data. Those brown-nosers are absolutely useless in combat. A peacetime army has an officer corps which are not worth a damn. All they know is cya.

You must know what is important, and what is important in prosperity is not what is important under adversity. Water can be the most valuable thing in the world in adversity; ditto for food.

These women had great managerial skills and there was nothing for them to manage out in the desert, where he was going.

2Sam. 15:16 So the king went out [departed], and all his household [family] after him. And the king left ten concubines [mistresses] to keep [guard, maintain] the house.

Kitron River is a rushing river in the winter.

These 2 verses are almost identical; how come? They halt at the last outpost; this is the eastern port at the valley of the Kedron. They are all outside of the city gates and they can see the Jerusalem walls, and there is a small outpost at the brook of Kedron. He will review his troops and organize them into a column.

David will set up a marching order, so that the slower ones would be up in front, and be moved to one side or the other, just in case they have to stop and fight. The flank guard becomes a rear guard to protect his people.

David will have these 3 battalions pass in review. There will be a full battalion and be able to shut the gate, and everyone is protected.

The Kedron is a river part of the time and a brook part of the time. The outpost protects Jerusalem from here. David will establish column security to protect his men from ambush.

You move a large number of people with authority and organization. There must be a recognized authority, which is David's brigade of guards. David is a master of organization and security. He organizes civilian and military men together.

2Sam. 15:17 [And the king went out \[departed\], and all the people after him. And they halted at the last house \[the house at the distance\].](#)

600 refers to the Gittites only. 3 regiments. The Gittites acted as the police force of Jerusalem. There are 600 policemen there.

The 3 regiments are all gotten from the Greek sea peoples. Almost conquered by Ramses III. Some of the Cherethites were probably related to Ulysses and his company, coming back from the Trojan war. There are several famous names in these Cherethites. Cherethites probably came from Askelon and the Pelethites probably came from Ashdod and some other Philistine city.

They had conquered Troy and had defeated the Hittites. They had conquered in Babylon, Syria, Egypt. Most of them were believers in Jesus Christ.

When men stop thinking, the military must return their freedom to them.

A speech by Dan Kessler and apparently once from Berachah? When you run out of choices, you are no longer free. If you use your free will to drive over a cliff, you lose your freedom of choice. When you vote for candidates who will restrict the private sector, you will trade your number of choices and freedoms for someone who will keep you from buying inferior products, then you have surrendered a portion of your freedom. Terrorism is not new. Women are the gardens of humanity, and it is unthinkable that we would place them intentionally in harm's way. We would throw a fit if we had to immediately pay for the things which our government spends on; we would throw a fit, so the government deficit spends instead. Indirect taxation via inflation. How would you prefer to be motivated? Force, feudalism or gain? Those are the 3 forces which motivate people. We have found that it is best to give men their freedom, and they will prosper. Most politicians are critics and not doers. Regulation costs are placed at about $150 billion/year. Government does not regulate things or the economy; government can and only regulates people. Now there are more than 1000 federal programs and 80 regulatory agencies. We do nothing to enhance our future choice by these regulatory agencies. Washington said, freedom is like a bag of sand; ever so small a hole, and you will lose it all. Chairmen and president of Mountain View Supply Kessler, Mountain Fuel Supply co. of Salt Lake.

Achish, King of Gath who had a great sense of humor and apparently became a believer and a friend of David. He gave David a place in Ziklag for he and his men. Great Greek soldiers were a part of David's men, and he had a brigade of them.

They had a separate function and they were police officers in and around Jerusalem. Ittai was apparently the chief of police.

This dialogue will cover some very important ground. David will question a few people going with him. This is a top chief of police and a top law enforcement officer. He is also famous as a detective.

David is humble, thoughtful, and very wise. He knew his men and he realized that Ittai, as a foreigner, ought not be involved as a foreigner in a civil war. He thinks Ittai is needed in keeping order in Jerusalem; the honorable function of law enforcement. There is often unrestrained crime. David uses the Qal imperative here, twice.

"Go back and remain with the king." What has happened to David; why is he calling Absalom the king? The answer brings up the question, just who is thing king. The Bible says that David is the king and David says that Absalom is the king.

A police chief must always recognize authority above him, and this is unpleasant, because those over you are often stupid who are over you; this occurs often in the military and in law enforcement. Liberals, imbeciles, divorced from reality, politically correct. Mayor Welch gave the police complete backing. He shot some rioters and the rioters stopped. Welch backed his chief and his sergeant and this ended revolution and rioting in Houston.

When Absalom walked into the palace and sat on David's throne, he became the king. And David tells Ittai to go the Absalom and to do a pro's job, and protect the property and the privacy of the citizens.

Who Da King?

1. When David said, "Go back and remain with the king" we know that David is the legitimate king appointed by God. God did not demote David.
2. David however is practical. He has common sense. David is establishment oriented and authority oriented. The people left behind in Jerusalem, no matter what their politics, they have a right to protection from crime.
3. By retreating from Jerusalem, the capitol is now an open city run by the revolutionary party and that Absalom is the defacto king. This means from the fact. David is dejury king, which means from the law. The dejury king recognizes the defacto king, which tells us that David is humble, flexible and authority oriented. He is responsible and the recognizes that their property could be in danger. David recognizes what the situation really is. He could not do this if he was interlocking systems of arrogance. Even though there is a revolution, life must go on for a lot of people who are innocent bystanders. They cannot be protected without law and order.

2Sam. 15:19 Then the king said to Ittai the Gittite, "Why do you also go with us? Go back and stay with the king, for you are a foreigner and also an exile from your home.

David's Kingship Versus Absalom's Kingship

1. Absalom has assumed the king's position. David is the legitimate king.
2. A criminal caught at the scene of the murder he is guilty defacto. If he is later apprehended, he is guilty dejury.
3. A king is defacto when he is actually in possession of the throne, no matter how he obtained it.
4. A king is dejury when he has a legitimate right to the throne. However, he is about to go into the Judæan desert. David is smart and flexible enough to adjust to this. He gets this immediately. The national guard is called out in order to maintain order in time of disaster. Life must go on under establishment principles. If freedom cannot be maintain in disaster, then it cannot be maintained in prosperity. Freedom is a principle which is more valuable than life itself.
5. David's humility and objectivity and ability to think under pressure is manifest by his authority-orientation. He is the legitimate king appointed by God, he recognizes that Absalom through conspiracy and revolution occupies the throne.

Notice that David doesn't run Absalom down. He doesn't say, "Absalom, that rat, that revolutionist, that traitor." He simply calls him the king. That is objectivity and humility under pressure. This is greatness. David has no hangups about calling Absalom the king. If God doesn't promote you, then you are not promoted.

David has no hangups. You cannot accept authority and become petty. Your leadership is instant failure. Pettiness is something that leadership cannot afford. Some of you are naturally petty. Some are and some are not. If pettiness is your problem, that is not a big deal; only when you let it become your arrogance.

If you just got married, you have authority that you did not have before. Absalom's objective in the revolution was to demote David and to promote himself; and Absalom does not have that power. Only God has that power and God has not demoted David.

No matter what Absalom says, David is still out there. Absalom and his revolutionary forces cannot demote David. Jesus Christ controls history. No one has the power to promote or demote you. Those of you in law enforcement, the same principle applies. David accepts the revolution as the 4th installment of his discipline. He accepts reality. Absalom is the defacto king and David does not even choke on the words.

Nakri means foreigner. And there is nothing wrong with being a foreigner. There are good and bad foreigners. Ittai is a very famous person; he is much more honorable than most of those associated with Absalom. Ittai is much more honorable the Ahithophel.

Then galah is used as a substantive. As a foreigner and an immigrant, Ittai is able to return to town without being seen on anyone's side. David had some problems in Jerusalem with crime. Attah occurs twice in this verse.

2Sam. 15:19 Then the king said to Ittai the Gittite, "Why do you also go with us? Go back and stay with the king, for you are a foreigner and also an exile [an immigrant] from your home.

David's Honor and Integrity

1. David orders Ittai to return to his place of duty.
2. David has a tremendous sense of responsibility toward the people he formerly ruled. He does think, now they will find out what a real ass Absalom is; come along with us, Ittai. Arrogance produces pettiness which produces irresponsibility.
3. With the invasion of the revolutionary force, there must be those who can restore order and prevent crime.
4. Note that David is more concerned for the citizens of Jerusalem than for his own personal safety. Ittai is a great man to come along. This is security and one more brilliant mind added.
5. This is David's integrity and his loyalty to the doctrine of establishment. Integrity and loyalty as a virtue equals honor.
6. It would appear that Ittai was in law enforcement and would have fulfilled the responsibility of chief of police or something like that.
7. David states the principle the law enforcement must continue under all kinds of administrations. No nation can have any category of freedom without good law enforcement.

2Sam. 15:19 Then the king said to Ittai the Gittite, "Why do you also go with us? Go back and stay with the king, for you are a foreigner and also an exile [an immigrant] from your home.

George Mueller letter which Bob reads. Bob recommends this latest copy of Time Magazine 9 June 1980 rather than Playboy. G.I. on the cover. They said that we are missing manpower. 1972 was the last major pay boost. $448/month and these earnings are substantially less than minimum wage at that time (which was $3.80?). They moonlight or their spouses work elsewhere. During that same time, real earning increased for union and federal employees (12% jump in real income). The worst medical training in the world is in the VA. They are still giving our WWII pills. Guarding our nation is not just another job; it is a moral organization. Privileged Americans hiring unprivileged Americans to fight the war is wrong, according to Time Magazine.

Edward M. Ludwak, one of the more lucid men. He calls for national conscription. Every 18 year old should know that he will go into the service. You can get those who are trashy people, and apply iron discipline to whip them into line. Moral and skill of troops makes the difference in war. Men under fire don't fight for their country; they fight for their buddies. When you move a person around, you disrupt 2 organizations. There is a great deal of difference between efficiency and effectiveness. We were very efficient with fire power in Vietnam, but they refused to assemble in a convenient target area. Armies are wasteful and the armies which are tough are those which win. Armies have become managerial institutions, contemptuous of the art of war.

“We are in trouble.” “And you have been apathetic and stupid and you are missing material that will never be given again.” When the King’s brigade of guards are mentioned, then the Pelethites and the Cherethites are mentioned.

2Sa 15:17–19 And the king went forth, and all the people after him, and stayed in a place that was far off. And all his servants passed on beside him. And all the Cherethites, and all the Pelethites, and all the Gittites, six hundred men who came after him from Gath, passed on before the king. Then the king said to Ittai the Gittite, "Why do you also go with us? Go back and stay with the king, for you are a foreigner and also an exile [an immigrant] from your home.

Bob has known some beautiful dolls in the past, and he often wondered, “What did it say?”

How can you tell a man as smart as Ittai the Gittite to go back?

David tells him, “Yesterday you came.” There are 3 sentences in this verse. If you are a prepared person, you do not need to spend 100 years serving an organization in order for them to realize your value.

“You Can Only Yesterday”

1. Ittai has only been a short time in Israel but he has made a tremendous impact in a very short time. You may have your students for only 1 semester, so impact must be made in a very short time. Because of you, they will remember you forever. Bob’s geometry teacher will never forget him either.
2. Apparently David had recruit ittai in Gath because of a crime wave in Jerusalem. He showed up just s short time before the revolution. Impact in such a short time; doctrine helps and truth helps.
3. Unrestrained crime in the cities is characteristic of natural history prior to the breakout of a revolution.
4. Revolution is preceded by unrestrained criminal activity.
5. Ittai may have been a great criminal detective 1000 years before Christ.
6. He may be the real father of the military police.

Vacillation or shock. “Therefore, today, will I cause you to wander around marching around with us?”

A Few Points

1. Here is David’s marvelous integrity. This is a great soldier and David will suggest that he stay behind, concerned for the people of Jerusalem.

2. His humility and thoughtfulness for the people of Jerusalem. He is flexible in order to protect the people of Jerusalem.
3. Consequently, humility is always thoughtful of other. Arrogance is a bore.
4. Humility produces objective sensibilities.

Halak again + the relative pronoun asher. “And I am going toward which I am going?” With a baptist degree, you might be able to shout for a long time about this. This means “I do not know where I am going.” That is idiomatic. David admits he doesn’t know where he is going.

David’s Humility

1. Humility is grace orientation and thoughtfulness of others.
2. In the midst of his greatest pressures, David takes time to think about the problems of others; Ittai and the people of Jerusalem.
3. David’s dynamics of leadership only function well in a state of humility. They are cancelled by interlocking systems of arrogance.
4. Now that David is free from interlocking systems of arrogance, he will properly lead his people, even though he does not know which way he is going.
5. David needs to get far from Jerusalem. The farther he goes, the more difficult this will be for Absalom. He is not bright about moving line to column; he is a political general; he is a manager. MacNamara would give him all kinds of medals. So David will keep moving so that he can pick the battlefield. Sun Zu “Retreat until you can pick the battlefield.”

David is always thinking.

David will order this man to go back and lie to Absalom. You have to be really smart not to know where you are going, but you know what you are doing.

David tells him to go back. “Return and take back your countrymen. These are Greeks or Philistines. They also had their families with them. There is a 2nd person feminine singular suffix here. He is a man; so what is the deal? This is a problem in pause. This is used in pause to stand in for the 2nd person masculine singular suffix. This is an order that David gives to Ittai and everyone will obey it. There are channels. The first thing you learn as a 2nd Lieutenant that when you have a problem in the rear ranks; the problem comes in. He lets the sergeant deal with the problem.

2Sam. 15:20 You came only yesterday, and shall I today make you wander about with us, since I go I know not where? Go back and take your brothers with you, and may the LORD show grace and truth to you.”

The police officer provides a tremendous protection for freedom. There were 600 men brought in from Gath to handle the crime wave in Jerusalem. Perhaps this was to find someone who would be objective and not play favorites.

Closing Points

1. Ittai brought a number of people with him and their families from Gath, to participate in society.
2. He came because David requested him to. There was a serious crime problem there, and David was looking to control the crime.
3. Since David had failed to prosecute Amnon for the rape of Tamar, there had been an extensive crime wave. It had been going on for about 6 years. Crime waves often precede a revolution. Unrestrained crime precedes revolution.
4. When David lived in Philistia, in Gath and in Ziklag, he won over the hearts of many of the Philistines.
5. In the ancient world, the military often doubled as a police force. They worked in the field of criminology.
6. Ittai as a believer developed a tremendous law enforcement agency. If you took an English lit course in college, you may have come across Henry Fielding. Tom Jones was a flop then. He had a brother who came in to help him as his assistant. Henry died and John took over and was even better.

It was doctrinally correct for Ittai to return to Jerusalem. Ittai is a mature believer. He is telling him that it is alright for him to leave.

Bob has done some counseling, but he does not believe that is the minister's job. We are to use the doctrine in our own souls in order to move along. There can be requests placed before the throne of grace by the person involved. Bob won't pray for most people. They are usually whiners and mewers. They have failed to apply doctrine and they are losers.

There is a fine Bible teacher out in California and he is being sued for bad counseling. Bob doesn't intend to be our crutch. This guy spends a lot of time giving people bad advice. Is this still MacArthur? Most are trying to get customers for their church. Here, the customer is wrong and the counselor/pastor is wrong.

Bob isn't interested in counter insurgency. All of these organizations are set up to assassinated. Bob has betamax. "Sonny boy, why don't you get up and leave; front row behind the glass. You, wake up." You come to Berachah to listen, not to look around.

We carry doctrine around with you.

Knowing the will of God. There is a difference between the decree of God and His desire for us. Viewpoint will of God; what does God want me to think? Don't run around with hangups. There is the geographical will of God, which is where God wants us to be. The directive will of God means, God wants us to be in Bible class. Permissive will of God; and the overruling will of God.

David is trying to set up the will of God based on the laws of divine establishment. This will be overruled by Ittai's free will. He is one of the best general officers; a great military type. Psalm 32:8 Being in the will of God straightens out our relationships with others. Therefore, He will direct your paths. Rom. 12:2 Stop being conformed to this age but be transformed by the renewing of your thoughts, that you might prove what the will of God is, that it is good, well pleasing.

The only counseling we need is Bible doctrine in the soul.

2Sam. 15:20 You came only yesterday, and shall I today make you wander about with us, since I go I know not where? Go back and take your brothers with you, and may the LORD show grace and truth to you."

Ittai said, "Look, I am staying here with you." He is a citizen of the client nation now.

2 categories of authority; the life of Jehovah. Ittai recognizes 2 systems of authority. He knows that God's will must be done. David represents true establishment and Ittai will not serve as chief of police under a revolutionary. He does not want to be hamstrung by a revolutionary. He can only function under an establishment form of government.

The fact that David was alive, despite conspiracy and revolution, it was easy for Ittai to make application. David was alive, so logistical grace was applied. Ittai is under his authority and he has the right to claim the same logistical support. Ittai has a very simple life; he follows authority in adversity as well as during prosperity. David represents establishment authority, and so Ittai follows him. David is still de jure king, but not de facto. So Ittai follows him. Since David is still alive, God has a plan for his life. So Ittai applies the plan of God rationale and the logistical grace rationale. Under the laws of divine establishment related to the plan of God rationale, God has promoted David; he has not demoted him.

Ittai has common sense. The doctrines that we use are simple. Ittai was associated with David as a mature believer. The very important establishment rationale. When you hear truth and falsehood; you need to use the establishment rationale.

Hushai has the more difficult job. He is asked to do something which is against his own personal honor.

The prosperous life applies during historical adversity. Jerusalem represents prosperity. The desert represent adversity. Going out into the desert with David does not cancel the blessings from the justice of God. Supergrace isn't cancelled. If you are still alive during a revolution, you still have supergrace.

Ittai is taking all of these families into the desert. They will have no water and no food.

Kiy im means assuredly, with confidence. The Russian police system is simply a system of tyranny. Anywhere behind the iron curtain and the police officer there is not law enforcement, but he is the minion of tyranny. With the revolutionary government in Jerusalem, you are no longer a police chief; you are simply a servant of tyranny.

Law enforcement and police function in establishment government is necessary in defense of freedom. Even under Nazi occupation, the police of Paris protected human freedom.

We just completed a detailed analysis of law enforcement.

Counterinsurgency. "War in the Shadows" is probably the classic book which deals with counterinsurgency. As long as the peasants remained apathetic or hostile, victory would be impossible. This did not seem to sway the military; which combined arrogance of ignorance and arrogance of power. They had no flexibility and no understanding of the unconventional warfare in Vietnam.

Why did John Kennedy fail in Vietnam? There is no comforting image of American decision making process. The emphasize the theme of this book, which is the arrogance of ignorance. Ike never briefed JFK on Vietnam? This needed incautious policy and he instead remained wedded to what he inherited. They had no policy; only wishes. They did not deal with communism as an ideal, but as a tank. There is a description as to how stupid JFK and LBJ were with regards to Vietnam and refusal to face reality.

Kennedy's insistence on the role of a crusader. Rational thought disappeared and there were many mistakes. The CIA was operating in Laos, but it was neutralized in its function.

Guerilla warfare is more scientific than a...but you cannot have the same scale of values for counterinsurgency and for general warfare. They refused to respect adverse reports which contradicted information being fed to Washington.

If President Johnson expected his words to propel Ho Chi Minh to the peace table, he was sadly mistaken. A half million deaths in South Vietnam?

Ignorance of arrogance + the power of arrogance. Far too many of our military men can be accused of this. As far as troops are concerned, the middle class is paying its scum to protect them. If you hired someone to protect your house, would you hire someone from Berachah or some scum. There is no way a volunteer force can win a war. It represents the quintessence of arrogance.

The career officer needs dissenting voices to be heard without this interfering with your career promotion. Managerial and analytical systems analysis instead of military leadership, which is the death knell of our military. Great 2 volumes.

David won the war, and he asked men to lie and cheat in counterinsurgency. He believed in winning the war. He set aside the sweet and loving drawing room system of values. He developed a system where he asks a man with great integrity to lie and deceive in order to frustrate the enemy's plans. A small band of counterinsurgents can hold several divisions in a sector when they are needed elsewhere. We have been fighting shadows and the arrogance cannot win fighting shadows.

God honors Hushai's deception. The general public is crucifying 2 of our great agents and have blown the cover of 2 of our greatest agents. They gave their life in a way that most in this room could not do and survive spiritually. What has been done to our intelligence system is almost beyond description. MI5 and MI6 have lost an even greater battle. The CIA have been infiltrated by the KGB. There has been a war underneath our noses, and David was outnumbered, but that made no difference to him. Counterinsurgency is the greatest science for winning wars, from long before Jesus Christ until today.

David does not know where he is going, but he knows what he is doing. The KGB has infiltrated every major intelligence agency in the past 10 years.

2Sam. 15:20 You came only yesterday, and shall I today make you wander about with us, since I go I know not where? Go back and take your brothers with you, and may the LORD show grace and truth to you."

There is no place for law enforcement during a revolutionary government. The gendarmes not only controlled crime but also some of the SS. In a revolutionary government, law enforcement can become tyranny. David is the de jure king

Ittai lives by principle. MI5 and MI6 were proper systems and not tyrannical.

Hushai will go back and Ittai will not. Counterinsurgency is the only way to defeat a counterinsurgency. We do not have a scale of values where we can maintain our own integrity and lie and deceive. We need mature believers in counterinsurgency. There is no public recognition except to crucify you after doing a good job. They have opposite answers, and they are both men of great integrity. There is no place for establishment function when there is a revolutionary government. There are deceptions, cleverness and assassination. You can defeat even the greatest of armies with excellent counterinsurgency. It is the dirtiest kind of fighting that there is.

President Kennedy blue the Bay of Pigs and was the greatest farce ever. It was an abortion from start ot finish.

Life and death is in the hands of the Lord. Hushai will do one of the dirtiest jobs possible, and his scale of values must be entirely different than our own scale of values. Anything not worth dying for is not worth living for. The test of your life is, are you willing to die for it? Are you willing to take risks for your way of life? Are you willing to be flexible and adopt a new scale of values. We enjoy the blessings of Bible doctrine or blessing by association but we have no motivation to die for what we have. We are self-centered and selfish and we think only of ourselves. Some of us have no convictions and would not be willing to die for what we believe in.

Living is great for the supergrace believer, and even more dying. "Whether it means to me death or life, count on it, your loyal subject will be there."

2Sam. 15:21 But Ittai answered the king, "As the LORD lives, and as my lord the king lives, assuredly, wherever place my lord the king shall be, whether for death or for life, there also will your servant be [or, whether it means life or death to me, count on it, your loyal servant will be there]."

Psalms 118:17–18 I shall not die, but I shall live, and recount the deeds of the LORD. The LORD has disciplined me severely, but he has not given me over to death.
Psalms 33:16–19 The king is not saved by his great army; a warrior is not delivered by his great strength. The war horse is a false hope for salvation, and by its great might it cannot rescue. Behold, the eye of the LORD is on those who fear him, on those who hope in his steadfast love, that he may deliver their soul from death and keep them alive in famine.
Psalms 56:13 Psalms 113:8–9, 15 God does not let death touch us until it is time. The God Who daily bears our burdens. The believer needs to be oriented to death through Bible doctrine. And he is therefore oriented to life. The living praise you as I am doing today.

Lam. 1:18–19 "The LORD is in the right, for I have rebelled against his word; but hear, all you peoples, and see my suffering; my young women and my young men have gone into captivity. "I called to my lovers, but they deceived me; my priests and elders perished in the city, while they sought food to revive their strength. 2Cor. 5:8 Peter was oriented to death: 1Peter 1:4–5

Closing Points

1. Ittai was an honorable believer; he was a king's son. His could reconcile loyalty to doctrine and to David, the king de jure.
2. Doctrine prevented Ittai from being a false or fair weathered friend.
3. There is more than meets the eye here. Ittai has been David's friend for many years, according to tradition. He only came to help David because of the crime way in Jerusalem. He is the son of Achish?
4. David lost his son Absalom, he gains the son of his dear friend.
5. David's son Absalom turned against him; Ittai was faithful.
6. David had doctrine but failed to inculcate Absalom. Achish had doctrine and passed this along to Ittai. Achish had a marvelous sense of humor. He was monogamous and a great father. His son became one of the world's great criminologists.

7. Both Absalom and Ittai were princes. Absalom, the Jewish prince failed; the gentile prince succeeded. What was the difference? The reason is continued positive volition toward Bible doctrine.

8. It produced humility, objectivity, and honor. The opposite in Absalom.

2Sam. 15:21 But Ittai answered the king, "As the LORD lives, and as my lord the king lives, assuredly, wherever place my lord the king shall be, whether for death or for life, there also will your servant be [or, whether it means life or death to me, count on it, your loyal servant will be there]."

2 Qal imperatives. He is told to go or to march. Passing over refers to the Kedron.

If a family has doctrine, their moving about still maintains stability. Bible doctrine in the soul holds friends together.

2Sam. 15:22 And David said to Ittai, "Go then, pass on [Move out and cross over (the Kedron)]." So Ittai the Gittite passed on [crossed over the Kedron] with all his men and all the little ones who were with him.

If you are so rude as to talking during the teaching of the Word of God, then now is the time to leave. "I hope I make myself clear, gabby."

David suggested that Ittai go back, and he refused to.

KGB and CIA have been fighting a tremendous war since 1945, The KGB has penetrated every intelligence system except for outs. Human good + arrogance = evil.

Roots of Heaven last night's movie; we find ourselves being caught between criminal arrogance and crusader arrogance.

"You poor stupid people, what have I taught you?" Bob thought about those who walked out during the movie. The crusader wasn't the hero. Criminals use crusaders. The side which wins the intelligence war is the one that usually wins the conventional war.

However, you need to have 2 scales of values; some for normal times and others for abnormal times. David had no problem walking away from Jerusalem.

Today we have the worst product of car because of Nader.

Our police force operates under 2 standards. There is a conventional approach, and they go through procedures and functions which protect our privacy and property. However, there are undercover agents who lie and cheat and steal and solicit and these things are okay. Such things are sinful by normal standards, but in their situation, it is okay.

David will have Hushai go back to Jerusalem and lie and deceive. These things are right to do. Bob likes conventional warfare. He likes beating down his enemy and then walking over his dead body to get to the next enemy. He likes that.

Most of you do not have the flexibility to handle a flea circus. You cannot see that crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution and loss of freedom.

It says, "You will not murder" but during war, that is not a sin.

There are no commentaries on this portion of Scripture. Bob lives on this night and day and works on this. He can't listen to someone else's tapes and save a few thousand hours.

Murder is a sin; killing the enemy in war is not. That is 2 sets of standards. Amazing, isn't it?

Because of the imbeciles we have had in the White House and because we allowed the press to reveal men in the CIA, we have destroyed our intelligence. Because the KGB is winning, we will lose thousands in the next war.

Our middle class is paying our scum to defend us. The draft brought the middle class into the military for a little time. But now, we are screwed.

David switched to his disaster scale of values and left Jerusalem immediately.

The Kidron valley was populated with many farms. David has departed from southern Israel and all establishment has departed.

The weeping in Num. 14:1 represented a rejection of authority. The arrogance rich had only one scale of values; they had no objectivity and no ability to walk away from their wealth. James 5:1 speaks to this.

Esau lost out because he had one scale of values and he wept. Losing something of value and not having another scale of values to go to. They need to be able to walk away without regrets.

Ezra 3:12–13 had those weeping with regrets. These old timers had seen the old temple and were upset over the new temple. Bob can't weep for the good old days. They could not distinguish between the shout for joy and those who wept.

Bob gives the illustration of women who have recently gotten married. You need a man and you want to flirt, but you can't because your husband is glaring at you.

Most of the disasters of life come from having one scale of values only. The arrogant scale of values. Lying is a part of the right scale of values in counterinsurgency. A CID guy could not function in his job unless he lies well.

Joel 1:5–6 the nation has been invaded and the drunks are crying. Alcoholics have one scale of values. They lost out in unconventional warfare.

Isaiah wept for the fall of client nation Israel. The same is true for Jeremiah. There was a loss of so many men because there was no counter intelligence.

Lam. 1:16 water runs down my eyes because there is no comforter for me, and the enemy has prevailed. The ChaiComs and the Russians have both prevailed against us in clandestine warfare.

David is apparently the last person to cross over the Kidron. Bob reads some other version? David will go east.

Revolution and a Change of Scale of Values

1. Revolution can only bring sorrow and misery to the client nation of God.
2. Revolution is often divine punishment to a client nation. Often the people are involved in the 15 categories of interlocking systems of arrogance. They reject truth in all 3 categories of truth.
3. There is no way a client nation can benefit or profit from revolution. The Christian attitude is, this is the quintessence of evil. There is no such thing as a good revolution. We had a war for independence.
4. The loud weeping of the people portrays the inevitable suffering which would befall them. They were in the arrogance complex.
5. Such rejection of doctrine leads to strong delusion. Acceptance of and dependence in the lying propaganda of revolution.
6. Involvement with the interlocking systems of arrogance.
7. Arrogance is contagious. Once it spreads throughout the population, revolution and other forms of national disaster are inevitable. Depression, loss of the secret war, national disaster, unrestrained criminal activity
8. All of these disasters are punishment from God to there client nation.
9. Thousands of people follow David out of Jerusalem. They leave their homes, their wealth and their human security to endure the privations of the desert. In reality, they have lost nothing, as they needed to change to a new scale of values.

There are things which are sinful under one scale of values which are not sinful under another scale of values. Thousands followed him. They left a lot behind. They did not whine and mew about what they left behind. Revolutionary types have no respect for property or privacy. There is no whining for what they have lost. They have shifted gears into an adversity scale of values.

David crossed with a rear guard. David's line of march is column. He has a rear guard, flank guard and a point. David has a good military establishment. He has a rear guard which can go from column to line immediately, and they protect the retreating civilians. Going from column to line requires great training. This will be a withdrawal with minimum casualties.

David goes east and then he will move north parallel to the Jordan. David can think in terms of strategy. He needs to be out of the Judæan area. He needs to hold the Jordan ford until he gets intelligence back. He will keep his column on one side of the river. He is luring Absalom away from Jerusalem. No revolutionary army is capable at the beginning of a revolution. They cannot handle logistics or strategy and tactics. The farther they are gotten from their headquarters, the worse will be their function. Long before Sun Zu, David will create problems at Absalom's HQ through counterinsurgency.

They will fight where David puts them, at David's time in David's place. There is not glorious combat without logistics. David will use every system of warfare and demonstrate a genius, which qualifies him as one of the great generals of history. Ghengis Khan was one of the great generals. We have Lee, Jackson, MacArthur and Eisenhower, but it is too recent to make such a call right now.

Our government has a mail-out procedure, and all of our diagrams and procedures are mailed to the Kremlin library. They know how to jam communications of those in Germany, so that we no longer have any contact with them.

We had great officers in WWII, there was great leadership.

The desert is between the Mount of Olives and Jericho, and in our Lord's day, this highway is called the road to Jericho.

the finest book that Bob has read in a long time is a recent book called a wilderness of mirrors. Best account of CIA and the KGB. Complexity and perplexity. The CIA's defeat has been resounding. What the KGB has not done, the CIA has done to itself. Example of a CIA guy who had defected from Russia to us.

We have no ability or stomach for the intrigue part of war, we are trying to fight an intelligence war with the Ten Commandments. We have so many irresponsible people on Congress and the executive branch. CIA have to fight under an entirely different set of values. Determining that we will only fight a war in the CIA is ludicrous. These same people took the bayonet away from our guns. Even Gerald Ford opened his mouth and blew the cover of certain CIA agents. Churchill was remarkable and was one of the greatest leaders of clandestine war.

We are sending army technical books and all kinds of other military books to Russia. This is being shipped free of charge. 20,000 publications sent to the Soviet Union and similar ones to Cuba. "You don't think we are stupid, imbecilic and dumb?"

Arrogant people have only one standard of values; they have only one scale of values. The stupidity of it is beyond belief.

David's wise decisions are related to clandestine warfare. There is a minimal loss of life. David won the intelligence war. He had men of great honor. Abiathar was an aristocrat. These were men of great honor and flexibility.

On the British and American on this field, where you are up to your elbow in filth, only aristocrats are in places of leadership. Aristocracy has a tendency to be humble, flexible and objective. Scum are arrogant.

Hushai is one of the greatest counterinsurgency men in ancient history. David developed this in 967 B.C. and Sun Zhu did not come along for another few centuries. David developed a set of standards for conventional warfare and for clandestine warfare.

The greatest spy system we have ever had is the Berlin tunnel. Digging out the KGB moles; unbelievable things. People are just downright stupid about these things. Where people are ignorant, arrogant, stupid people; ignorant, inflexible and self righteous.

2Sam. 15:20 You came only yesterday, and shall I today make you wander about with us, since I go I know not where? Go back and take your brothers with you, and may the LORD show grace and truth to you."

2Sam. 15:21 But Ittai answered the king, "As the LORD lives, and as my lord the king lives, assuredly, wherever place my lord the king shall be, whether for death or for life, there also will your servant be."

2Sam. 15:22 And David said to Ittai, "Go then, pass on [Move out and cross over (the Kedron)]." So Ittai the Gittite passed on [crossed over the Kedron] with all his men and all the little ones who were with him.

2Sam. 15:23 And all the land wept aloud as all the people passed by, and the king crossed the brook Kidron, and all the people passed on toward the desert-wilderness.

Zadok is going to be the special agent here. Hên + a paragogic something. Zadok is the 11th from. This was a dual high priesthood. They are both high priests. Each man represents a different son of Aaron. Zadok from Eleazar and Abiathar came from .

Adonijah plotted. In the civil war between Saul and David, Zadok served as a military type in 1Chron. 12:28, bringing in several warriors with him.

Levi and Zadok

1. The descendants of Levi handled the priesthood.
2. Aaron married Elisheba, who was a Judahite. You never hear much about her. He crossed over the Levite line. Bob gives her line, which id's her as a Judahite. They are all half-Judahite, and it explains why so many priests were great warriors as well.

3. Nadab and Abihu were the first 2 sons. These 2 joined the revolution with the tribe of Judah and were wiped out. Zadok is descended from the house of Eleazar. During David's reign, both lines were priests. These are 2 separate and different houses and sometimes quite competitive. Priests had to look perfect; no spot or blemish or sagging muscles. They were bred brilliant. They had to be perfect physically and mentally before they could function as priests. Typical fundy thinking; that you go into Christianity because you are ugly. But, this was not so of the Levitical priests. God did not allow the priesthood to be run by ugly, repulsive people.

God looks on the inner man; man looks on the outer appearance.

The children of Moses are Arabs today; his wife was persona non grata. What you can't do without in marriage is doctrine. You can do without children. It is not every woman's duty to lie down, say for God and country, and get pregnant.

All of these surviving lines were half Judah and half Levite. Zadok was a great warrior and that is because it was in his blood.

Levi had 3 sons, Gershon, Merarai and Kohath. These are all in spiritual services; and the Gershonites were great singers, due to a hollow place in their mouth? Breeding produced this. A spiritual factor built into this.

Kohathites in charge of certain furniture, etc. Gershon dealt with the hangings of the Tabernacle and the Meraraites dealt with something else. None of the Levites got any of the land in Canaan. In every tribe, there were 4 cities set aside for the Levites. They were singers, doorkeepers, judges, teachers of the Old Testament, they provided the music and they were tax collectors. The priests did not do manual labor except to offer up sacrifices. This included bulls. They were strong, brilliant, and spiritual leaders.

Zadok is a very special person, but so is Abiathar.

They are taking the Ark of God with them. Zadok walks along side them thinking; he is the officer in charge. Those in charge do not do office boy work. Zadok was a thinker; he was the brains of the organization.

The Ark represented the uniqueness of the Person and work of Jesus Christ.

2Sam. 15:24 And Abiathar came up, and behold, Zadok came also with all the Levites, bearing the ark of the covenant of God. And they set down the ark of God until the people had all passed out of the city.

We have been dealing with counterintelligence and insurgency.

Bob reads over the previous passage for most of 2Sam. 15:1–24

Dual high priests during David's reign, and each comes from a different son of Aaron. They are different from all of the sons of Levi.

They are carrying the Ark of the Covenant. The wood is the humanity of Jesus Christ and the gold is the deity of Jesus Christ. Undiminished deity and true humanity in One Person forever.

This is honorable work, and there is a parallel to modern times. David organized one of the greatest secret services in the ancient world. Many of his concepts were superior to Sun Zhu's of centuries later.

When you are going into espionage and counterinsurgency, it requires great flexibility, great humility and an alternate scale of values. Occupation with Christ is necessary for the best results.

The Ten Commandments were in the Ark of the Covenant.

They are going over the Mount of Olives and eastward.

Freedom is necessary in order to glorify the Lord Jesus Christ. There must be enough freedom for people to be evangelized. Enough freedom for people to choose Bible doctrine and to Abimelech taught Bible doctrine.

Then there is the urn of manna and Aaron's rod which budded. There is always a separation of temporal authority and civil authority. When the two are brought together, there is always some tyranny of one form or another. The same is true of government and business; they must be kept separate.

There is a throne and on each side of it is a cherub, and they look down upon it. Underneath is the Ten Commandments, the pot of manna and Aaron's rod that budded. This is called justice and righteousness of God for the 2 cherubs, which together represent the holiness of God.

There is no talent and no sacrifice that can bring one bit of blessing to man. There is the indwelling righteousness of God. There is no work and no function and nothing which we can do to gain divine blessing. The idea is to motivate rather than to bribe. Most people think that God bribes us. He offers up this or that when we tithe.

With righteousness demands, justice must execute. These 2 cherubs combine to portray the integrity of God. Divine justice can only bless divine righteousness.

Propitiation

1. Propitiation is the God-ward side of salvation. It relates to the integrity of God.
2. Propitiation connotes satisfaction; divine satisfaction with the work of Christ on the cross.
3. Concept propitiation includes the fact that the justice of God judges the sins of the world when Jesus is on the cross. God is so perfect and so incorruptible, that it is impossible for God to bless man with his old sin nature and still maintain His integrity. Blessing man's old sin nature compromises God's essence.
4. This is removed by imputed God's righteousness to us, and that way, His blessing can be given to His righteousness. We are born physically alive and simultaneously spiritually dead. This eliminates the basic arrogance of the human race. All of our personal sins were collected and imputed to Jesus Christ on the cross.

Going undercover as a police officer and doing things that would shock the Baptists, they glorify the Lord in so doing (assuming that they are believers).

6 categories of supergrace blessing which glorify God. Many believers, including Zadok, were mature believers. There is no accident that the Ark is on the hill at that time. Many of these will fight in a civil war; many will be involved in counterinsurgency, and certain things which are sins under normal conditions are not sins at all under those conditions. The lies which must be told, the entire concept; all of this is not sin. It is honoring to the Lord (like killing the enemy glorifies God).

Zadok lying to Absalom is not a sin. These are things which do not need to be confessed. You must learn that you are under a different scale of values and modus operandi. Just like, under disaster, getting up and walking out of your old life onto a new life.

4. Propitiation frees the justice of God to impute righteousness to all who believe.
5. The imputation of divine righteousness implies immediate justification. At the same time justification has phenomenal application to time and implications to last throughout all eternity. That is the basis of 2 categories of blessing. In the Y radical, we are supported by logistical grace. There are 3 categories of support in Z radical. The mature believer has a 3-fold support, in contrast to the unbeliever who has only a singular support. In revolution, establishment disappears. The unbeliever looks to establishment for support. There are a few unbelievers who survive. The born again believer has logistical grace and supergrace blessing for the mature believer.
6. Divine justice must judge sinful man before divine justice is free to bless sinful man.
7. The mercy seat on the Ark portrays that the efficacious death of Christ integrity of God is satisfied by the work of Christ on the cross.
8. The cherubs look down at the mercy seat and are propitiated. Therefore, propitiation is the God-ward side. Redemption is the sin-ward side and reconciliation is the man-ward side.

Rebellion against the authority of God and His delegated authority. Rom. 3:25–26. For God set him before the world, to be, by the shedding of his blood, a means of reconciliation through faith. And this God did to prove his righteousness, and because, in his forbearance, he had passed over the sins that men had previously committed; As a proof, I repeat, at the present time, of his own righteousness, that he might be righteous in our eyes, and might pronounce righteous the man who takes his stand on faith in Jesus. Ex. 25:21–22. Propitiation, imputation and justification are the basis for our relationship with God. This is a wonderful reminder of them marching out to the desert.

Always in inevitably, the principle of reverse concentration, using the essence of God rationale and the plan of God rationale. The ark has a history from the time that it was constructed to the time it was...

God's presence is definitely a part of any client nation. That includes SPQR, the United States, England. The Ark indicates God's presence with the client nation. It is with the establishment force. It becomes obvious with whom God is.

The movement of the Ark. It was removed this time from Jerusalem by Zadok. The other half of the priesthood, Abiathar, remains behind. The Ark had been removed and was now on the western slope of the Mount of Olives.

2Sam. 15:24 And Abiathar came up, and behold, Zadok came also with all the Levites, bearing the ark of the covenant of God. And they set down the ark of God until the people had all passed out of the city.

In the next phrase, they put the Ark down. They put this Ark down in a place where all could see it. It is halted on the Jerusalem slope of the Mount of Olives. Abiathar is in Jerusalem offering up sacrifices and performing various things. The Tabernacle is also in the Jerusalem area?

The KJV sounds as if Abiathar is heading out with them. There is a continuation of offering up sacrifices.

2Sam. 15:24 And Abiathar came up, and behold, Zadok came also with all the Levites, bearing the ark of the covenant of God. And they set down the ark of God until the people had all passed out of the city.

There is practically no commentary here. Believers loyal to David fall into 2 categories, and one is not to criticize the other. Those leaving Jerusalem with David are doing the right thing and those who stay behind are also doing the right thing. Our job is to live our life as unto the Lord. There is a High Priest on both ends. Does this mean they were out of God's will? No.

There are 2 categories of those who are loyal to establishment government. It is the principle of God's guidance.

One High Priest in Jerusalem and one on the Mount of Olives. God's will is not the same for each believer in a crisis. Some flee the hills and some stay behind. No one will be tested beyond what they have learned prior to the disaster. In the Ftx's of the faith rest drill. The will of God for one believer is not the same as the will of God for another.

2Sam. 15:24 [And, behold, Zadok also came, and all the Levites with him, bearing the ark of the covenant of God. And they set the ark of God down. And Abiathar went up \[offered up sacrifices in Jerusalem\] until all the people finished passing on out of the city.](#)

2Samuel 15:24–25

72David

631_0401

There are different standards when it comes to normal prosperity and for national disaster. Human life is in our souls from birth, which is the spark of life. Adam's original sin was also imputed to us, so that we are condemned from birth.

Our first hope is faith in Christ results in salvation. Salvation adjustment to the justice of God. God commended David's function in counterinsurgency. Murder is forbidden under normal circumstances; but killing, in war, is the order of the day. This has its counterpart in the great unseen war in the U.S. which began in 1945, our war with the KGB, a war that we are losing.

In counterinsurgency, lying is the order of the day and God sponsors lying. Some who heard this a few nights ago have not been back yet.

Y radical begins with judicial imputation #1, which was our sins imputed to Jesus Christ. All of our sins were collected and imputed to Jesus Christ on the cross. This is the basis for judicial imputation #2, which is God's righteousness imputed to us at faith in Christ. We possess divine righteousness from that point on. There is nothing that we can do to gain blessing from God. Our system of morality and our good deeds do not gain God's blessing. We get logistical grace in Y radical and in Z radical, we get supergrace blessings.

We are supported by logistical grace and the laws of divine establishment. In Z radical, we have Hushai the Archite and Zadok, etc. and they will lie and commit acts of counterinsurgency, and they do not rebound any of these things because they are not out of fellowship. To person who does not lie and deceive the enemy, he is a poor believer.

Eternal life is imputed at salvation + blessing in time = great reward at the Judgment Seat of Christ. The Angelic Conflict is resolved; this goes on in civil war and in revolution and in every category.

We suffer divine discipline and we suffer for divine blessing. In the former, the issue is sin; and the second the issue is grace. There are 15 categories of interlocking systems of arrogance which produce subjectivity and inflexibility. Humility which produce objectivity and flexibility. We switch from our prosperity code to our adversity code, so we can walk right out of our house without any whining and mewling. Certain things change.

The old faith rest book is pitiful. There are 3 categories of faith rest. It reaches out and removes the panic ploy. Fear is the inability to claim promises under pressure. We use this in rebound, faith reaches out and names out sins and expects to be forgiven by God and we receive the filling of the Holy Spirit.

David went from sexual arrogance to criminal arrogance and then to political arrogance and several others. When he finally came out of it, he was suffering for divine discipline. Faith reaches out and uses the judicial imputation. Faith reaches out and uses logistical grace rationale and the plan of God rationale with the a fortiori supercharger.

God never gives us more than we can bear. Suffering for discipline can be unbearable; and in David's case, it was divided into 4 categories, and it was suffering for blessing.

Installment Discipline

1. Installment discipline is the alternative to the sin unto death. Because of involvement with interlocking systems of arrogance because of carnality reversionism or both, justice of God is the source of punishment and the source of blessing. The love of God is the source of nothing in this regard. The unknown sins. Arrogance produces subjectivity. Grace of God changes unbearable suffering into suffering for blessing. The remaining punishment or divine discipline is never more than he can bear. The suffering can cease entirely; it can be diminished, or it can continue at the same intensity. So great was this suffering that it had to be given in installments. The problems of rape and murder and the laws of evidence.
2. 1Cor. 10:13 testing has not caught up to you except the human kind. With the testing, He will also provide for you a way out. Suffering for discipline is converted into blessing. Installment discipline is cursing turned into blessing and it is bearable suffering. Nathan told David that he would not die, but he would be subjected to tremendous discipline.
3. Degeneration is entering into one of the 15 gates of interlocking systems of arrogance. Then there is reversionism which is negative volition toward doctrine which results in discipline. God provides the doctrine and provides the breathing time during which to take in doctrine. The narrative accounts are not to be read rapidly; they need to be taken with great seriousness and concentration. We may see miniature revolutions in our large cities this year. It is much better to have an occasional arrogance hangover than to stay out of fellowship. Strong delusion and 9 areas in which negative volition is expressed? Psalm 32 38 51 The child of adultery dies, as part of his discipline. Second installment, Amnon rapes Tamar; and David failed in this installment. He did not bring in the divine establishment rationale. 3rd installment is Absalom assassinates Amnon. This is where we become acquainted with some amazing people. The gentile part of Absalom was aristocracy all the way through. The 4th installment of discipline is the eabs revolution, where cursing will be turned into blessing.

Revolution is crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance. The crusader provides the motivation for revolution. The criminals use the crusaders to further the revolution. There are the incorruptibles, who remained so because of Bible doctrine. There are those who succumb to the propaganda and lying of the conspiratorial politics. Maximum doctrine in the soul and another scale of values which are able to be used under other circumstances.

3 categories of truth: the laws of divine establishment, the gospel of Jesus Christ, and there is Bible doctrine for the believer. Believer and unbelievers can both be seduced by revolution. Strong delusion always goes for the lie. You cannot trust every Christian. 2Thess. 2. Crusaders in the Russian revolution and criminals at the end.

The Bible always condemns revolution, as Num. 16. The American Revolution had nothing to do with revolution. Revolution is anti-authority and conspirators always suffer from rejection of authority. Freedom and authority must coexist. Remove one or the other, and you have tyranny or anarchy. Many revolutions are not successful; and the result is civil war. If politics causes civil war, then the issue is freedom; when truth is the issue in the civil war, then this is related to rejection of truth.

We have learned how to distinguish between totalitarian governments; some are okay and some are not.

3 categories of divine knowledge: God's self knowledge; God's knows of His creation where the future as perspicuous as the past. God knows Himself. Since God is infinite, His knowledge is without bounds. God existed eternally unsustained by Himself or any other person or thing. God's knowledge precedes time and place, and therefore, is not restricted by time or space.

Each member of the Godhead has exactly the same essence. He recognizes His perfection and His existence. God's knowledge is related not only to Himself but to the identical characteristics that each member of the Trinity possesses. God loves His righteousness and therefore loves Himself. He also loves the Son because this is a part of His person. God's self-knowledge relates to His Own attributes;

Omniscience is the 2nd category of divine knowledge and is related to God's creation. Foreknowledge and predestination and election to privilege are all printouts. There is a difference between omniscience and foreknowledge.

Omniscience knows all of the alternatives. God knows what would have happened if you went to a different college, married a different person, etc. Omniscience feeds the computer of divine decrees. You marry the right person or the wrong person and your choices are limited. Do not confuse omniscience with foreknowledge. Nothing can be foreknown unless it is first decreed. Jesus Christ controls history and it must be distinguished from omniscience. All of this will come back into view very shortly.

Essence of God rationale will be on deck for coming to v. 26.

David tells Ittai to go back; when establishment government left Jerusalem, then there was the problem with the police. Ittai is at least establishment oriented. Ittai crosses over the Kidron. Then the king crosses over, over the Mount of Olives after the Brook Kidron. There are flanking guards and rear guards. When you have a 10–20 mile column, you need security. David was a military genius. This is why, you do a lot of close-order drill when you train. David needs to be able to move his column to line and back to line again.

2Sam. 15:24 And, behold, Zadok also came, and all the Levites with him, bearing the Ark of the covenant of God. And they set the Ark of God down. And Abiathar went up [offered up sacrifices in Jerusalem] until all the people finished passing on out of the city.

The king does not speak to Abiathar and to Zadok; only to Zadok. The verb is the 3rd person masculine singular here, so he is speaking only to Zadok. This does not explain Abiathar in v. 29. Zadok, because of Abiathar, returns the Ark to Jerusalem; and they both return.

David tells Zadok only to return the Ark. The Hiphil often expresses motivation. One is spiritual and the other has to do with clandestine warfare.

Establishment function and spiritual life must continue, no matter who is the king and no matter what the circumstances are.

David has rebounded and he uses reverse concentration. The logistical grace rationale is based upon David still being alive; the plan of God rationale means that God still has a plan for David's life. Reverse concentration. David has learned the doctrine and has put it into rationales. You have to concentrate to learn doctrine and then you reverse this concentration to apply it. You do your own counseling. Courage is the ability to concentrate under pressure.

David knows that he is dealing with the justice of God. The pipeline from the justice of God to the righteousness of God. Jesus Christ controls history, and If God sees fit to offer him a... David will return to Jerusalem to see the Ark and the Tabernacle. It is no longer David's sin but it is grace at this point. Suffering for blessing is a matter of grace.

God has not demoted David; but He is punishing him at this time. Only God can restore David at this time. There is the essence of God rationale + the plan of God rationale. Faith applies logistical grace as a rationale and the essence of God rationale, emphasized by this if...then... statement below.

Essence of God rationale. Love is not our point of contact with the essence of God. God has always been love and always will be love. Objective love toward the other members of the Trinity and subjectively toward Himself. Love does not require an object for its perpetuation. The worst is to superimpose human love on God's modus operandi. A believer too often says, "How can a loving God let this happen to me?" This is the distortion of the essence of God rationale.

Rom. 9:13 Jacob I love and Esau I hate. This introduces love as an anthropopathism.
2Cor. 9:7 God loves a cheerful giver. God does not love you because you have a charming personality.

David's first statement has to do with...

Integrity of God gains nothing from the function with His creatures. We gain by our relationship to His justice and righteousness. God's righteousness is the guardian of His justice. Divine attributes stand without help from angels or man. God does not need our help; we need His help.

God does not bless us because we give or help in prep school. God blesses us because His righteousness is indwelling us. Divine justice can only bless perfect righteousness. Righteousness is the principle of divine integrity and justice is the function of divine integrity. The indwelling righteousness in David will be the basis for him returning. Mechanically, this is logistical blessing. David is sustained by all 3 categories of support. The true application of love must be understood. Because we have the imputed righteousness of God, the Son with His righteousness and the Holy Spirit with His righteousness. We have a double divine righteousness, because it has been imputed to us and because we are in Christ and we share His righteousness. The love of God is not our frame of reference. God loves us and God's righteousness takes precedence over His love.

We are punished because we are sinful; but God loves us because we possess His righteousness. God still loves the +R. When we are under pressure; how can God let this happen to me? Stand by for the 3 categories of punishment. Bob wants to be around and say, "I told you so, dummy" why you are writhing around in pain. "Alright, so much for love."

Eternal life can be applied. God is not subject to time; He invented time. He is logical so he does not have to be chronological.

David's 3 wise decisions under pressure.

We will not be subject to the destruction of the earth through nuclear warfare.

2Sam. 15:25 Then the king said to [commanded] Zadok, "Carry the Ark of God back into the city. If I find grace in the eyes of the LORD, He will bring me back and let me see both it and His dwelling place.

2Samuel 15

The military consensus is that we will not fight a war for 5 years and there could be a war of the US and Russia against China. The hot spot seems to be Korea and North Korea has the 4th or 5th largest army in the world.

We are too dependent upon computers. If you get a bill from Joske's or Dillard's for $157,000, then you know how much trouble can result from a computer glitch in relation to troop levels and movement.

Bob is going to read from Sun Tzu. He wrote about 500 years after David. Many of the things he wrote about, David used in warfare. We should win war before going to war. The real secret to winning a war is to have great intelligence. The Russians understand this and the KGB has waged a very successful war against the United States since then. They have penetrated the French, Dutch, West German and Belgium secret services.

Maxwell Taylor and MacNamara policies which prevailed in Vietnam, which has been our downfall there. We have lost track of the fact that we do not lead a large army if we have an excellent intelligence system. Robert E. Lee had a tremendous spy systems. One of the greatest ladies in the south worked as a spy for Lee.

Pinkerton began as a spy service to the North. No one understood how to deal with this until Grant came along. Hannibal recognized the economic repercussions of war. He destroyed SPQR using economics stress against them.

Sun Tzu was one of the first to recognize the importance of weather. Only when there was clear superiority did Tzu determine to move forward. One division with brains = 5 without. Training was also quite important.

He said all warfare is based upon deception. This has caused the western world to lose many wars.

We went over to Vietnam with superior forces and equipment and lost.

We fought a conventional war in Vietnam and it cannot win against a clandestine warfare and guerilla warfare. A lot of Americans died because we were too stupid to recognize what a dirty business war was. We used helicopters to chase platoons and companies of the VC.

No country has ever benefitted by a protracted war.

Native, inside, double-agents, expendable and dirty agents are the 5 kind of secret agents. If you discover a good double-agent, then don't kill him; employ him. Expendable agents are those who will leak information to the enemies when captured. So they are given false information. The living agents who come and go and file valid reports. Recruit those who are intelligent but appear to be stupid. Appear to be dull but are strong of heart. You have to know all of the names of the men under the enemy. Double agents do know to what extent the enemy can be deceived. An army without secret agents is like a man without eyes and ears. A large business without secret agents is a bad idea as well. Clandestine warfare is legitimate. Clandestine business?

David is the top dog as king. Zadok and Abiathar are under him in the spiritual realm. He has Joab under him.

It is not true to say, anything is fair in love and war. It is true with war.

David has not been demoted because he is still alive. Only Absalom has demoted David, so he is absolutely confident of his position.

Closing Points

1. David's later rule will be marked by honor and greater consistency in his worship. He will go to Bible class every night. Some merely say this and some say it and mean it. When you take vows and out in the sticks and miserable, it means little. When everything is normal, then you take your vow. Out in the sticks and miserable, there is no distraction then.
2. The Ark and the Tabernacle are teaching agents. It is normal to reach for doctrine when you are under great pressure; less likely to do this when you have many options. David became careless during times of prosperity. Divine establishment rationale is important. You have to accept authority which you may not like.
3. David himself does not need the training aides. He understands what they mean and stand for. But he needs doctrine every day. So he goes to the place of the training aides, the Tabernacle. David realizes that he has failed the prosperity test. In prosperity, we have from doctrine, we have capacity for life and capacity for happiness and for whatever God gives us materially. Only doctrine will make you happy and give you +H. In time of adversity, like warfare, you kill; whereas, in peacetime, you do not murder. If we go to war and Houston is nuked, we have to make the decision to walk out. We need to be able to not whine or cry and just deal with it. Tornadoes are ftx's. Bob did a miserable woman's voice. As soon as people have trouble, they want to go to Uncle Sugar for help. The theory is, money solves everything. Some of you brightened up there; that was the first thing you understood. The more money you accumulate the less freedom you have. The government says, "Lean on us." When we are all losers and lean on government, the communists step in to take over.
4. In Jerusalem the headquarters for the client nation, the training aides must be kept together and the teachers of doctrine, the priests, Levites and some of the prophets stay there. These things must be left where they will be needed and David will return to them.
5. David will have doctrine in the soul.
6. In the time of disaster, ritual cannot carry the believer. Ritual is as useful as the believer only doctrine in the soul carries the believer.
7. It was a wise decision for David to sent the Ark, Zadok and the Levites back to Jerusalem.

2Sam. 15:25 Then the king said to [commanded] Zadok, "Carry the Ark of God back into the city. If I find grace in the eyes of the LORD, He will bring me back [restore me] and let me see [cause me to see] both it and His [its?] dwelling place.

Bob says the habitation for the Ark is the Holy of Holies, but I suspect that it is the tent which David had constructed for the Ark. No believer merits or deserves blessing from God.

No leader is indispensable; David is still maintaining his great humility and objectivity.

David's previous statement of confidence in the plan of God and essence of God and logistical grace does not mean he is trying to override the decisions of God. Bob is interpreting this as though, this is God speaking to David. His promotion or demotion is out of Absalom's and out of David's hand. God can demote or promote us at any time.

God promotes you on the basis of His merit. Some of the worst people you have ever met have been promoted. Why are they successful? It does not depend upon them and their morality or immorality. God promotes based upon doctrine. The church is involved only insofar as the doctrine it teaches. God just chewed him up and blew him into the wall. But if God does not demote you, then you are not demoted. No matter how all of us have failed, and we have.

Production in the spiritual life is the result of the perception of doctrine and motivated by grace. There are a lot of people motivated to work in the prep school. God's blessing comes to us from spiritual growth. You cannot be demoted by people but you can be demoted by God. Only God can promote David and only God can demote him.

An anthropopathism to explain David's demotion. If God is dissatisfied, in the revolution or civil war, he will die. David says he is ready for whatever.

There is a jussive of permission or resignation. Let God do whatever is good in His eyes. David uses the essence of God rationale and reverse concentration.

2Sam. 15:26 But if He says [communicates in this manner:], 'I have no pleasure in you [I have not been pleased with you, I have been dissatisfied with you], ' behold, here I am, let Him do to me what seems good to him.'

2 standards for the believer; for normal times and one for times of adversity. There are 2 standards for peacetime and for wartime.

Honor and integrity are of absolute necessity. Deceit and dishonesty are the order of the day for clandestine warfare. Lying and deceiving as a part of intelligence function is not sinful. The simplest illustration; it is a sin to murder in civilian life; but you are to kill in war. That means, there are 2 standards. Almost anyone can understand that, except when June is too hot. Only Ahimaaz is actually his son. This is an apparent contradiction. The KJV is poorly translated here. It is pitiful. Through lower criticism, we can establish the correct text.

We begin with amer. Priests has been descended from the 2 surviving sons of Aaron. They began with a family priesthood; Adam and Noah were priests; Abraham, Isaac and Joseph were as well. All of the priests came from these 2 sons and they had to be perfect physically. The high priesthood remained with the older line. But it went to the ithamar line because Eli's sons were evil. Abiathar was the 4th generation and he was the only one to escape Saul's killing of the priests. He came from Ithamar? Zadok came from the other line. Both High Priests remain faithful to David. Right before David dies, Abiathar joins a conspiracy; so Solomon makes him retire; and Zadok was the High Priest during the time of Solomon.

Levites and priests supported by tithing. In the Church Age, every believer is a priest who represents himself before God. We make our own decisions and represent ourselves before God.

There are 3 different words for prophet and seer is an old fashioned name. Nabi is the first word for a prophet. This is a communicator of God's message. The prophet's primary job is to teach doctrine. He is comparable to a pastor in the Church Age. Ex. 7:1 Aaron would be Moses' brother. Moses was supposed to speak for God, but he said, "I am a poor public speaker." So God punished him and put in Aaron, who does not compared to Moses in public-speaking ability. It is forth-telling. The priest took what was in the Scripture and in the Tabernacle and the function of the holy days, and he taught doctrine with this to the people. But there was doctrine not found in the Bible, and the Nabi taught doctrine which was not yet recorded in Scripture. Zadok was also a prophet, but not a Nabi prophet.

Chazah is the 2nd name; this is a participle and this means to see a vision. This is how God revealed some doctrine. Moses received his by direct conversation. One communicates his vision. He spoke to the people. There is a nabi and a chozah.

Roah is someone who gets their message from God. Zadok wrote 1 and 2Samuel after he died. This is a prophet who writes Scripture. David was also a road as well. He is called Zadok a writer of Scripture here. We have clarified one of the great mystery of the ages; who wrote Samuel after Samuel died?

Defective verb here as well. David tells him, "Return to the city in peace." Intelligence will win the civil war. Counter intelligence as well. The next great hero we will meet is Hushai the Archite.

Zadok is told to return in good confidence.

2Sam. 15:27 [The king also said to Zadok the priest, "Are you not a seer? \[You are a prophet\] Go back to the city in peace \[with a good conscience\], these two sons \[are to go\] with you, Ahimaaz your son, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar.](#)

Raah in a different form this time; it means observe, note, take note. David sets up a meeting place. They both understood where this was. This was a famous crossroads of the ancient world. A famous intersection. There are 2 of these fords. David will wait there to get information about whatever is going on. This is what David is asking for is intelligence. Our nation has destroyed our out of the nation intelligence-gathering system. Some topside idiot thinks that it is a sin to deceive someone or to shoot someone or to lie. They are idiots. Anyone who understands warfare knows you can be brilliant in strategy and tactics, but you need information about your enemy. How can you handle deals with other organizations if you have no information or incorrect information. It is stupid to reject the intelligence community of this country. We lost the Vietnam war because of what went on in the WH and those who rejected our intelligence services. Maxwell Taylor never understood the Vietnam war. He is a marvelous tennis player. But he is very conventional.

They knew where he meant; but we do not. The fords are the shallow places where the Jordan River can be crossed. This is one of the main highways of the Middle East. David needs to have intelligence. He will wait for information.

Why did the Holy Spirit make this a part of the Word of God? Why do we mess around at the ford of the Jordan. We are at the fords of the Jordan and we don't know what the hell to do. You have to have information. The plan of God operates based upon thought and information. There is a certain type of thought called truth. We are all at the fords of the Jordan. We all need information. What we need are, pastor-teachers. We face in the very near future, historical catastrophe. Some of you, during times of crisis, will find out what your friends are doing and you will go with them. You need to know what you are doing and you must make decisions based upon your application of Bible doctrine. You must know it for yourself. David is a brilliant man. He is a great military man. A great tactician; he is good in every aspect of war. However, he needs information. Bob has never put a tape on a tape recorder. Everyone knows how to put a reel on a tape recorded at T&P but Bob. He is an executive; he is in charge. He makes policy and he needs to know that they are doing their job. He just needs information. He just needs to supervise them. If he sees something he likes, then he will ask the supervisors. He depends upon others for information. He has a lot of information and he knows that T&P is run very well. We live by thought; we live by information.

Some of you women may be dating the worst cad in town. You need information. David had no intention of moving beyond this point. This puts the entire north Judæan desert between him and Absalom. If they begin to pursue, David can quickly cross the desert and it is perfect terrain for rear guard action. He will move quickly across this desert. But he will stay right here waiting for information.

He has set up an intelligence network. The Shah of Iran lost touch with what was happening; he became more indifferent to what was going on. He was fed incorrect information. He was no better than his information. He found himself in a jam. He did not keep up what was going on, and he did not know what his subordinates were doing, and he found himself out in the cold. He was a brilliant ruler and a very capable man. However, you are no better than the facts that you accumulate.

2Sam. 15:28 See, I will wait at the fords of the desert wilderness until word [an intelligence report] comes from you to inform me."

2Samuel 15:29–30

631_0404

Long before Sun Tzu, David set up a counterinsurgency system. There are 2 excellent books, The Bodyguard of Lies and The War in the Shadows.

Winston Churchill was one of the greatest men in this field of covert warfare. He was a man of honor and great integrity. When you are in clandestine warfare, it is not a sin to lie and deceive and to cheat. "Truth is so precious, that she ought to be protected by a bodyguard of lies."

There is a standard for secret war and where it is traitor ship to tell the truth and patriotic to tell a lie. Some of you are stupid jackasses and this is too much for you. There is a singular verb, so only one person can be the subject. Abiathar remained in Jerusalem.

Spirituality in a Client Nation

1. The doctrinal concepts of the capital city belong to Jerusalem.
2. The principle: establishment function and the spiritual life of the client nation must continue no matter who is king and who is ruler. No matter who is president.
3. A change in administration in the client nation must not change establishment operandi. Even with revolution that cause of civil war, the issue will be truth. Political and revolution cause civil wars. When it is politics, the issue is freedom. When revolution causes a civil war, then te issue is truth. Absalom's government is not an establishment government. If politics was the cause of this civil war, then David would ot send Zadok back. The ChiComs used the missionaries and they got them to go on the radio and tell the people that they are doing a good thing. They were even told to come in and surrender their weapons. They closed down the whore houses and the opium dens so the missionaries assumed everything was cool.

Inferential waw and a causal waw. There is a 3rd person plural here next, they remained there. Zadok and Abiathar have a change to function as David's intelligence agents. There will be a penetration of Absalom's staff by a mole.

Bob reviews some previous verses: 2Sam. 15:26–28 But if He says [communicates in this manner:], 'I have no pleasure in you [I have not been pleased with you, I have been dissatisfied with you], 'behold, here I am, let Him do to me what seems good to him.' The king also said to Zadok the priest, "Are you not a seer? [You are a prophet] Go back to the city in peace [with a good conscience], these two sons [are to go] with you, Ahimaa your son, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar. See, I will wait at the fords of the desert wilderness until word [an intelligence report] comes from you to inform me."

2Sam. 15:29 So Zadok and Abiathar [Because of Abiathar, Zadok returned] carried the ark of God back to Jerusalem, and they remained there.

David kept climbing and he kept crying. Those who stop to weep are arrogance; those who weep and continue to do what they are doing are humble. Humility versus arrogance. When you stop and cry, that includes the arrogance factor. David marched and cried. There is a lot of difference there.

Marching barefooted is a sign of humility. David may be dispossessed and marching across the desert, but he could not be in better shape. Humility and helplessness are the two prerequisites for God's solutions. David's problem has been interlocking systems of arrogance. He has been totally free of them and he will never be a greater man.

Walking barefooted is like a pilot saying, "Mayday, mayday, mayday." High-ranking people in the past wore shoes with jewels; they were opulent. This is a distress signal. Bobby knew a very wealthy man in Dallas wore cheap and shoddy clothes so that he appeared to be on everyone else's level. He was arrogant. What David is doing here is calling out to God. There are 2 barefooted psalms that we will look at later.

Erroneous in our attitude toward the Shah of Iran and Somosa.

Authoritarianism Verses Totalitarianism.

1. True humility sheds its hypocrisy and does not seek to steal credit from God.
2. David, by walking barefooted but with his head covered, is making the issue clear. This had great significance then. This was an overt action to explain how to think during disaster.
3. Revolution has removed establishment government from portions of Israel. David is only qualified to rule under establishment principles.
4. No national government is legitimate unless its leadership functions under the laws of divine establishment.
5. We therefore, as believers, must learn to distinguish between authoritarian government and totalitarian government which is evil and non-establishment. Rhodesian and South Africa had legitimate establishment governments. Same for Samosa.
6. Authoritarian government follows the principles of establishment striking
7. The United States of America has been evil in its foreign policy. It has overthrown authoritarian governments. It is all the same to the National Council of churches; in fact, they usually support totalitarian governments and they are against authoritarian rule.
8. Democracy is the most evil form of government because it has the least amount of establishment function which guarantees freedom. We have a republic and not a democracy. 2 signers of the Declaration of Independence are ancestors of Bob. The federal government is the servant of the people.
9. Democracy is anarchy with a veneer of hypocrisy. Client nation USA in the welfare state, if you do not employ everyone, you have revolution.

The Legitimacy of Authoritarian Government.

1. The laws of divine establishment provide authority and freedom in correct balance, with one another. They must coexist.
2. Freedom without authority is anarchy and authority without freedom is tyranny.
3. Freedom is the heritage of birth and the imputation of human life to the soul.
4. 2 categories of freedom exist in life: human freedom and spiritual freedom. 2 imputations; divine righteousness and eternal life. The righteousness establishes a home or target for blessings from God. Spiritual freedom is guaranteed by the Bible.
5. Both categories of freedom can only be protected with authority as a protection; both categories of freedom are protected under the umbrella of God.
6. The laws of divine establishment protect privacy, property and self-determination.
7. The laws of divine establishment sponsor freedom in the human race.
8. The laws of divine establishment never divorce freedom, privacy and property from authority.
9. All revolution is anti-authority and anti-establishment as well.
10. Privacy is the environment for the function of freedom.
11. Justice of God of God in the plan of God.
12. Freedom guarantees inequality in the human race.
13. Freedom is the invention of God to resolve the Angelic Conflict. Invention of Satan to counter God's freedom.
14. Equality is arrogance. Freedom is humility. God makes war against the arrogant and gives grace to the humble.
15. Freedom does not manufacture or guarantee equality. Freedom and equality cannot coexist.
16. Revolution uses freedom to destroy freedom. Authoritarianism is attack and replaced with totalitarianism. This is why we have sponsored so many Russian coup de tats. Woodrow Wilson wne tdown and destroyed good government in Mexico. He was a history professor in Princeton and a jackass. Many a country is better off with a single man rulership.
17. Freedom is the reality of life, equality is the myth of life.
18. Freedom guarantees inequality in time and in eternity.
19. Equality is the device of the arrogant; revolutionists seeking to gain power and control with lying propaganda.
20. Forced equality is the policy of totalitarianism. Those tyrants and dictators producing sin and evil.

2Sam. 15:30 But David went up the ascent of the Mount of Olives, weeping as he went, barefoot and with his head covered. And all the people who were with him covered their heads, and they went up, weeping as they went.

We have studies arrogance as a labyrinth of sins, like self-pity, self-righteousness, etc. Negative volition arrogance and scar tissue of the soul k so there is no confusion there. Institutional arrogance, which is rejecting the policy and purpose of an organization. Conspiracy arrogance, which is the result of institutional arrogance, the attempt to overthrow authority. Criminal arrogance, which is the rejection of freedom, establishment, and crusader arrogance. Psychopathic arrogance, which is divorced from the realities of life. Sexual arrogance.

The Arrogance of Ignorance

1. Arrogance of ignorance is the result of negative volition arrogance.
2. The arrogance of ignorance is defined as living in life without truth.
3. The arrogance of ignorance means to function under policies based upon the law under strong delusion.
4. The arrogance of ignorance is also closely related to crusader arrogance. The civil rights movement is one of the greatest attacks on human freedom. It is the political and arrogant exploitation of the downtrodden and minorities.
5. The arrogance of ignorance is the abolitionist movement before the civil war. One of the famous crusaders was Wm Lloyd Garrison. He would tear up the constitution after fiery speeches. The constitution was frustrating what he wanted to do.
6. The civil rights movement is arrogant to the core. Criminals and crusaders after often attracted to a cause that they can both support. Criminals, it is the arrogance of power. The arrogance of ignorance is often combined with the arrogance of power. The civil rights movement follows the abolitionist movement, which attacks freedom and property.
7. Violence totally destroys freedom. John Brown, the fanatic from Connecticut. He murdered 5 slavery adherents. He started a revolution and when he moved into Harper's Ferry, he killed a freed slave from Virginia, a state in the process of freeing its slaves. He was a freed slave; he was a freed man, and John Brown shot him dead; he blew him away. He is a typical illustration of everything that is wrong with the USA. John Brown was a criminal who died a criminal's death; he was a vile, evil, phoney man. A lot of people believed in him. The Yankees thought he died a martyr's death. Shooting and killing the very ones he thought he ought to free. The national council of churches reflects exactly what this movement was. This inevitably led to civil war, which was a national admission that we cannot solve our problems apart from violence. The south was fighting for freedom; to the north was fighting to prove, if you can't get your way in Congress, then shoot 'em. God overruled everything for manifest destiny.
8. The reign of terror in the French Revolution is arrogance of ignorance and using violence to gain power. Wm Lloyd Garrison, and a bunch of others, jackass sister Harriet Beecher Stowe.
9. The arrogance of ignorance creates terror and it uses violence to gain power.

About 800 pages on the Vietnam war. Bob suggests that we read War in the Shadows while he is gone. He reads a section from the Vietnam War. Maxwell Taylor tried to use the rules of war that he learned in school, which do not apply when fighting communists under this circumstance. Kennedy never recovered from an initial ignorance to go Indo-China the attention it deserved. He remained wedded to what he inherited. Militarily going into Vietnam was the greatest mistakes that we could have made, according to this author. A great military power was humbled by a few organized guerillas. If you combine the arrogance of ignorance + the arrogance of power, the result is national disaster.

Gate 15

1. The arrogance of ignorance is based upon the fact that God is truth and veracity is an essential characteristic of the essence of God. God has always been truth.
2. God is infinite; without boundary and without limitation. One perfection that belongs to His character is veracity.
3. God cannot sin; God cannot solicit to sin. Parts or all of 3 chapters deal with counterinsurgency. God the Holy Spirit must consider this to be important.
4. Because God is veracity, he cannot be complicated by ignorance. Our lives are constantly complicated by ignorance. No matter how great your IQ, you can be complicated by ignorance. This makes you complicated by absurdities as well.
5. Therefore, God makes war against the arrogance of ignorance and the absurdity of power. James 4:6 1Peter 5:5 God also makes war against the arrogance of power.
6. Essentially, then, the arrogance of ignorance is strong delusion; reversionism. These are results of gate 2. The Vietnam disaster; and antebellum disaster. When those in power seek to impose their power over others. The arrogance of ignorance and the ignorance of power = disaster.
7. The arrogance of ignorance rejects truth and results in all of the categories of arrogance becoming involved. Once you are inside the system, you are vulnerable to all. Once you are inside, David went into all different forms of arrogance.
8. It is used to gain power and to destroy freedom.
- 9.
10. Obviously God is motivated. The divine motive is for His Own glory. That glory is always related to absolute truth.
11. Man says He speaks the truth; God says he is the truth.
12. God does not hold the truth as something to be learned or acquired. He is the truth; He is eternal and veracity is eternal.
13. In God, every truth and every form of knowledge dwells in absolute perfection. Our system of electing representatives in government is fine, as long as you limit the franchise. Otherwise, you get the ignorance of arrogance and the ignorance of power

The Truth of God and History

1. We must distinguished between the facts of history, which are not always true; and the truth of God, which stands forever. We must distinguish between that and divine truth. This is very important because we will see things which happen that are false and evil, so that these things can teach truth.

2. With regards to the facts of history and their causes, the omniscience of God has always known those facts. Thought, motivation, He has always known the truth about history in 4 categories: motivation, action, thought and decisions throughout all history. God has placed some facts of history into the Bible and not others.
3. The omniscience of God fed the facts of history into the divine decrees of history. There was a lot of sin, human good and evil. God knew how every volition would act in every situation. Honorable deeds and evil deeds. True and false motivation. Only the truth originates from God. The rest comes from the father of lies.
- 4.
5. God is truth; He is the source of truth.
6. This means that God always honors any truth in history. Many unbelievers are blessed because they follow the laws of divine establishment.
7. God also punishes the false, which explains the 5 cycles of discipline to the client nation and national disaster in general.
8. Only divine truth can advance the believer
9. Therefore, the arrogance of ignorance is any system of thought which hinders the believer from advancing under the plan of God.
10. The arrogance of ignorance hinders the believer from glorifying God.

You have a right to privacy in Berachah. You have nothing to give us; I have something to give you. This is why some of you will not be back, and that is fine. That is your business. We haven't even gotten to the passage yet.

A Third Principle on the Arrogance of Ignorance

1. The arrogance of ignorance is related to the arrogance of power. They must go together. When the ignorant seek power, that results are disastrous. Power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely.
2. This is true because of arrogance. That is why the epigram is true.
3. Before human history, Satan had great power as the anointed angel, which resulted in the Angelic Conflict. The combination of arrogance + power is why we are here, to resolve the Angelic Conflict.
4. Now that Satan is the ruler of this world, arrogance still corrupts. This corruption is spread throughout the world to be countered by Bible doctrine.
5. Because arrogance corrupts, humility is man's only protection against the corrupting influence of power; same for fame and success.
6. The epigram does not explain the entire problem. It is arrogance which actually corrupts; arrogance corrupts those with power.
7. Arrogance corrupts power and authority and success. Arrogance corrupts physical beauty, sexual life, business life, professional life, and spiritual life.

8. The ignorance of arrogance combines with the power of arrogance to attack and destroy the truth of God in every category. This is how we have our freedom. It attacks the gospel so that the gospel is corrupted, and people add stuff to faith.
9. It is really arrogance with corrupts; interlocking systems of arrogance. It corrupts every facet of life.
10. The only antidote is the acceptance of truth.
11. Humility becomes the greatest virtue in life.

Psalm 25 will be covered upon Bob's return related to that gate; it is an acrostic. This is the prayer and meditations as David goes up the mountain barefooted.

Bob reviews some previous verses: 2Sam. 15:27–29 The king also said to Zadok the priest, "Are you not a seer? [You are a prophet] Go back to the city in peace [with a good conscience], these two sons [are to go] with you, Ahimaaz your son, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar. See, I will wait at the fords of the desert wilderness until word [an intelligence report] comes from you to inform me." So Zadok and Abiathar [Because of Abiathar, Zadok returned] carried the ark of God back to Jerusalem, and they remained there.

2Sam. 15:30 Then David ascended the slope of the Mount of Olives, weeping as he went, barefoot and with his head covered. And all the people who were with him covered their heads, and they went up, weeping as they went.

Final Points

1. The weeping of patriotism.
2. Self-determination to resolve the Angelic Conflict.
3. Freedom is dogmatic about the essentials of life and flexible and pliable about the non-essentials of life. You always make decisions which increase your options.
- 4.
5. Freedom without authority is anarchy.
6. In the spiritual realm, freedom without authority is antinomianism; the opposite is legalism.
- 7.
8. Long before revolution, the seeds are planted by the public in interlocking systems of arrogance and the arrogance of ignorance. Which is mass strong delusion based upon the rejection of truth.
9. This is why David ascends the slope with Jerusalem behind him. He is weeping the tears of patriotism.

2Samuel 15:30–31

Psalm 3 63 64 72David

631_0406

Inferential waw followed by those with David who did what he did. Qal perfect + Qal infinitive absolute of to go up.

This begins David's 4th installment of his discipline. There are a number of psalms recording what David thought at the time.

2Sam. 15:30 Then David ascended the slope of the Mount of Olives, weeping as he went up, barefoot and with his head covered. And [therefore] all the people who were with him covered their heads, and they went up, weeping as they went.

The first of these is Psalm 3: Then there is psalm 63

If you are in authority, then you will have enemies. The general public has been captured by the revolution.

Psalm 3:1 A Psalm of David, when he fled from his son Absalom. O Lord, how my enemies have increased! Many are the ones who rise up against me.

There are those who do not appreciate what David has done and how he has provided for his people. This is an example of taking the Lord in vain; using God for your own advantage and for your own interests.

Psalm 3:2 Many are saying of my soul, There is no deliverance for him in God. Selah.

Plan of God rationale. He recognizes in the plan of God rationale its obvious application. If God does not promote you, you are not promoted. God has not demoted David. Those in Jerusalem are saying things which are false. It is Absalom who has demoted David.

David was not crying from being in interlocking systems of arrogance.

Psalm 3:3 But You, O Jehovah, are a shield for me; my glory, the One who lifts up my head.

The holy mountain is Mountain of God in heaven; sometimes it refers to Mount Zion.

Psalm 3:4 I cried to Jehovah with my voice, and He heard me out of His holy mountain. Selah.

David has been in jams before. He goes to sleep and wakes up, still in logistical grace.

Psalm 3:5 I laid down and slept. I awoke, for Jehovah sustains me.

It does not matter how many people have turned on David.

Psalm 3:6 I am not afraid of ten thousands of people who have set against me all around.

The essence of God rationale, very briefly.

Psalm 3:7 Arise, O Jehovah; save me, O my God; for You have struck all my enemies on the cheekbone. You have broken the teeth of the ungodly.

David anticipated winning the war.

Psalm 3:8 Salvation [Deliverance] belongs to Jehovah. Your blessing is on Your people. Selah.

Psalm 63 is the next psalm which is related to this time period.

Psalm 63:1 A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah. O God, You are my God; I will seek You earnestly; my soul thirsts for You; my flesh longs for You, as in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is;

Psalm 63:2 so I have seen You in the holy place, seeing Your power and Your glory.

God's policy is grace and it is more important than the rest of his life.

Psalm 63:3 Because Your loving-kindness is better than life, my lips shall praise You.

David knows exactly what he is going to do.

Psalm 63:4 So I will bless You while I live; I will lift up my hands in Your name.

Marrow and fatness refers to excellent food. He is thinking about food and banquets and parties, but his soul is satisfied with Bible doctrine there. Spiritually it is not hungry. David is not a compulsive eater.

Praising God is David's capacity for life and expression of the doctrine in his soul. While he is short of physical food, he is well-stocked with spiritual food.

Psalm 63:5 My soul shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness; and my mouth shall praise You with joyful lips,

He still has doctrine even though he is hungry. Every 2 hours

Psalm 63:6 when I remember You on my bed and think of You in the night watches.

David sets up normal precautions; but he recognizes that divine protection is the most important thing.

Psalm 63:7 Because You have been my help, therefore in the shadow of Your wings I will rejoice.

David applies various facets of the various rationales. David is guarded and protected by the Lord.

David is not so divorced from reality that he does not take common sense precaution. David has the whole realm of doctrine, and David is still practical. He has posted guards. He does not say, "No guards; the Lord is our security." This separates the coo-coo clock and the great believer.

Berachah used to be across the street from the public library, so he would sit on a bench and not work and said he would faith rest it. He ignored the true meaning of the principle. Maybe he sat there until he starved to death?

Psalm 63:8 [My soul follows hard after \[clings to\] You; Your right hand upholds me.](#)

Psalm 63:9 But those who seek my soul, to destroy it, shall go into the depths of the earth.

He anticipates beating them in battle.

Psalm 63:10 They shall fall by the sword; they shall be a serving for jackals.

The establishment force will praise God.

Psalm 63:11 But the king shall rejoice in God; everyone who swears by Him shall glory; but the mouth of those who speak lies shall be stopped.

Ahithophel is the smarted man in the field of political science and conspiracy. Eliam was a general in David's army.

There is a family divided. Eliam is a general in David's army and he did not join his father, Ahithophel, in this conspiracy. He became disenchanted with David. Maybe it had to do with the rape of Bathsheba. We do not know. Eliam and Ahithophel both probably like Uriah and recognized his bravery. If there is going to be stability in the military, then the general staff needs to stay out of politics. Too often, the civilians in the military overseeing the military have little or no experience.

We have some brilliant Lieutenant colonels and majors. But flag rank and general officer rank have succumbed to political bullying or they have been forced out. The same thing seems to be true in David's day. His son remains with David during this revolution.

Ahithophel is famous for his sagacity, but his advice to Absalom would be subverted by David's counterinsurgency.

Sakal in the Piel imperative. It means to render foolish; to frustrate.

David will meet Hushai the Archite, who is the perfect person to be in counterinsurgency.

2Sam. 17 will answer this prayer.

2Sam. 15:31 [And it was told David \[this is an intelligence report\], "Ahithophel is among the conspirators with Absalom." And David said \[then David prayed\], "O LORD, please turn the counsel of Ahithophel into foolishness \[frustrate the counsel of Ahithophel\]."](#)

David gives a detailed counterinsurgency prayer.

Psalm 64:1 To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David. Hear my voice, O God, in my complaint; guard my life from fear of the enemy [preserve my life from the terror of the enemy].

The is Ahithophel, Absalom and David's nephew Amasah. David had 2 sisters, and all of their sons were great military leaders.

Psalm 64:2 Hide me from the council of those who injure, from the rebelling [mob] of the workers of iniquity,

The leadership, particularly Ahithophel. They have been very effective in the revolution.

Psalm 64:3 who sharpen their tongue like a sword, they tread their arrows, even a bitter word,

He is shot at without fear.

Psalm 64:4 so that they may shoot at the blameless one from a lurking place; suddenly they shoot at him, and fear not.

They act in secret?

Psalm 64:5 They encourage themselves in an evil plan; they talk of laying snares secretly; they say, Who shall see them?

They believe they have devised the perfect plan.

Psalm 64:6 They search out injustice, saying, We have finished hiding a hidden [devious] plot. Yea, the inward part of man and the heart are deep.

God gets them.

Psalm 64:7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly they shall be wounded.

God will bring them to ruin.

Psalm 64:8 So they shall be confounded; their tongue falls on themselves; everyone seeing them shall flee.

Psalm 64:9 And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God; for they shall in wisdom think of His doing.

David is making doctrinal application.

Psalm 64:10 The righteous [the person with imputed righteousness] shall be glad in Jehovah, and shall trust in Him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

David's 3rd wise decision next time.

Bob has 3 books on clandestine warfare. The Spike by Robert Moss and someone else. It is about a newspaper man has found that the KGB has infiltrated Washington D.C. This is really all true; it has been moved forward to a future president and Congress, but it is true now. P. 357 talks about the different types of spies. Some do not even realize that they are sources; the 3rd type is the unconscious source; they do not even know what they are doing. They were called by Lenin useful idiots, and they do far more than the other types of spies.

Jack Higgins Solo, and it just came out. It is a perfect illustration of what has to be the mental attitude of those dealing with terrorism. God punishes, men only take revenge.

Another book called Mayday. Change of flight pattern; the Navy decides to test a missile, and they are going to use the same quadrant. The rocket selects the plane rather than the drone. Description of how the people died. Great description, apparently. The Navy discovers what happens, so they try to get rid of the plane. Some of these people writing fiction are pretty impressive. "He doesn't command men; he uses them."

Bob figures that we can grasp all of this in the time he is gone.

One of David's former counselors, Ahithophel, is one of the counterinsurgents. He became disenchanted with David, possibly when he raped his granddaughter. There was a division in this family over this revolution.

When David gets to the top of the Mount of Olives, he will meet the answer to his prayer. This prayer is answered in 2Sam. 17:1–23

Psalm 64 is the counterinsurgency prayer.

Psalm 64:1–64 To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David. Hear my voice, O God, in my complaint; guard my life from fear of the enemy. Hide me from the council of those who injure, from the rebelling of the workers of iniquity, who sharpen their tongue like a sword, they tread their arrows [the picture of a mob], even a bitter word, so that they may shoot at the blameless one from a lurking place; suddenly they shoot at him, and fear not. They encourage themselves in an evil plan; they talk of laying snares secretly; they say, Who shall see them? They search out injustice, saying, We have finished hiding a hidden plot. Yea, the inward part of man and the heart are deep. But God shall shoot at them with an arrow [a turnabout of v. 3]; suddenly they shall be wounded. So they shall be confounded; their tongue falls on themselves; everyone seeing them shall flee. And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God; for they shall in wisdom think of His doing. The righteous shall be glad in Jehovah, and shall trust in Him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

2Sam. 15:31 And it was told David [this is an intelligence report], "Ahithophel is among the conspirators with Absalom." And David said [then David prayed], "O LORD, please turn the counsel of Ahithophel into foolishness [frustrate the counsel of Ahithophel]."

1Chron. 27:3 to introduce Hushai the Archite. He was a man who served David well until he went sour. He became disillusioned with David and is the true architect of the revolution. Hushai is an aristocrat, and he also served David.

Hushai had a scale of values for normal times and for abnormal times. Doctrine was at the top of both scales of value. He was very honorable out in the open and undercover, when he is lying and assassinating.

You can never be successful if you are looking for general and normal fame from the public. The press has not seen fit to do so. What the press has not done, the president has.

In 1945, we were on a par with the KGB. In 1960, we were ahead. Now, because of Kennedy, we are behind. The FBI and CIA have had their teeth pulled. There are 2 chapters on this in the Word of God.

1Chron 27:33 And Ahithophel was the king's counselor. And Hushai the Archite was the king's companion [friend].

Hushai just pulled out of the brush; David didn't see him. Erech is Hushai's hometown? Near Bethel, I believe. He is the answer to David's brief prayer here and the longer prayer in Psalm 64.

Hushai under Different Scales of Value

1. The dress of Hushai was significant. He is indicating his concern. His robe is torn and there is dust on his head.
2. David was driven out of Jerusalem and the approach of Hushai is the indication that there is national disaster.
3. Every mature believer possesses max doctrine in the soul, but humility and flexibility to face disaster. Objectivity too.
4. The mature believer who has been materially prospered must instantly set aside his scale of values for times of material prosperity. Every mature believer will be blessed materially and they will possess things of value. But such a one must be able to set aside immediately the scale of values for prosperity for difficult times. It is normal to enjoy material things and this glorifies God if this is the result of God's blessing. Rags and riches do not go together. If God gives you riches, then shed the rags. Hushai could walk out on his riches and put dusts on his head and be ready to deal with adversity under a different scale of values. He must immediately adept this new scale of values.

5. Material things which we have enjoyed in prosperity must be abandoned physically when we leave Jerusalem. They must be abandoned and forgotten. You cannot whine and mew about your valuables and bank account and all of the trappings of this material blessing. If you are in a column of people, complaining about those things that they have had to leave behind. You see those kinds of people in their normal intercourse. They loose this and they have hard times, etc. So they whine. They cannot make in adversity. You must be able to put that stuff behind you mentally.
6. Flexibility which comes from humility and objectivity demands that your clothes, home, possessions, a lifetime of blessing, must be left behind. You still have the source. You cannot take doctrine out of your soul. You have the source, but you must forget the blessings.
7. Hushai comes with all of these torn clothes. He has abandoned and set aside all of these material possessions and he is ready to follow David. Hushai was there before anyone else. He is alert. He is there waiting for David. David is probably near in end of this column. Hushai was 24 hours before anyone else. Hushai has climbed the forward slope and he did not know who was coming out of Jerusalem. He made his decision. He withdrew. He looked down there and he saw that this was David coming up. He knew that this was the establishment crowd; not the revolutionary crowd. This man is made for clandestine warfare. He knows how to blend in to the surroundings. No one picks him up. He moves through all of David's security. Hushai moves out ahead of the rest.
8. Every believer must have 2 scales of values; one for prosperity and one for adversity; and doctrine must be on the top of both scales of value.
9. The believer must recognize adversity and be ready to weather the storm of civil war.

1Chron 27:33 [And Ahithophel was the king's counselor. And Hushai the Archite was the king's companion \[friend\].](#)

Hushai the Archite

1. Hushai is applying reverse concentration.
2. Plan of God rationale and the logistical grace rationale is being applied; and he has abandoned his worldly goods. He switched gears.
3. By ripping his robe to shreds, Hushai demonstrates the flexibility of youth, even though he is an old man.
4. He reached the summit of the mount of olives long before the rest did. This was a place where Jews did not go.
5. The locale had no significance to Hushai. It made no difference to Hushai. He was alert. This was a place of demon activity; but he was not concerned. Phallic worship chapel here. This indicates his great flexibility. Heathen place.

6. Hushai is aware of the wall of fire around him. He is just as secure there as anywhere else.
7. While Hushai, a wealthy and successful old man, has abandoned his estate in Jerusalem and a lifetime of accumulated riches, he has not abandoned the source of his blessing.
8. The material blessings and gifts were gone, abandoned to the pillaging of revolution. Hushai has switched over to his emergency generator. You need the maximum doctrine in the soul. Bob learned how to drive on a stick shift. You cannot shift gears without a clutch. He understood the concept of the two scales of value. He could identify either prosperity or adversity. Doctrine should be able to give you the ability to ready the times. You need humility, flexibility and maximum doctrine in the soul. Hushai reminds Bob of the Apostle Paul and his ability to endure all kinds of circumstances and to be content within those circumstances. 2 sets of values and 2 sets of circumstances. He has learned the secret of being content in any situation. Whether well-fed or hungry.

Paul, David and Hushai all possess the ability to deal with varying circumstances. Changing circumstances do not change blessings from the justice of God. The changing blessings are compatible with the changing historical situation.

Doctrine must be a part of both scales of values.

Being old does not mean you are unable to change your scale of values. He did not come to David and tell him about everything that he has given up.

2Sam. 15:32 [While David was coming to \[approached\] the summit, where God was worshiped \[where people were accustomed to worshipping God\], behold, Hushai the Archite came to meet him with his coat torn and dirt on his head.](#)

2Samuel 15:33–34 17:14

631_0408

We will conclude the chapter? The subject will be continued, however. That narrative is, for those who are humble, objective, flexible and have a sense of humor. There is a small percentage in Berachah, and they are kooks and weirdos. There is one who came out of Berachah and he is an arrogant, psychopathic criminal. He takes doctrines from Bob's ministries, teaches them as a breakthrough, and, at the same time, distorts the information. He has a very strange hold over the people in his congregation. Those people under him are completely blinded, and they are his slaves. There are all kinds of freak cults.

Many of you have been confused by a dual set of values. It has shocked you. You have found a set of sins which are not sins under a different circumstance. Killing in war is not murder; that ought to be obvious. There will be some misapplication here, and often on the part of the kooks and the arrogant.

2Sam. 15:30–32 Then David ascended the slope of the Mount of Olives, weeping as he went up, barefoot and with his head covered. And [therefore] all the people who were with him covered their heads, and they went up, weeping as they went. And it was told David [this is an intelligence report], "Ahithophel is among the conspirators with Absalom." And David said [then David prayed], "O LORD, please turn the counsel of Ahithophel into foolishness [frustrate the counsel of Ahithophel]." While David was coming to [approached] the summit, where God was worshiped [where people were accustomed to worshiping God], behold, Hushai the Archite came to meet him with his coat torn and dirt on his head.

Ahithophel is a genius; he is the smartest man on the other side and his advice might outwit David on the other side.

Hushai picked a place where there had been all of this demon activity and false worship, but that did not concern him. It was a good hiding place. Hushai is smarter than everyone else, so he left a day earlier and he was there waiting for David. He steps out of the heathen chapel and says, hey.

While David approached the summit, where people were accustomed to worshiping God, behold, Hushai the Archite came to meet him with his rope ripped to shreds and dirt on his head.

Doctrine must be first. Hushai has a large home and estate with blessings from God. But, in times of historical disaster, he must leave it all behind. He is able to walk out on material prosperity without whining or mewing or falling apart. He was wearing a valuable robe that he had ripped to shreds. He was able to walk away from all this in an instant. He switched to his adversity scale of values. He has abandoned and set aside and has walked away from all of these things. You need maximum doctrine in your soul in order to shift gears like this. Philip. 4:11 I have learned to be content in whatever circumstances. There are 2 categorical circumstances; normal times with material prosperity; and historical adversity and difficult times. Paul knew how to live in adversity and in prosperity. I have come to know what it means to be in need. We need to be able to move forward, never looking back and never complaining about it. I can do everything through Him Who keeps pouring the power into me. This is what makes Hushai so great. He has 2 scales of values and he knows when to shift gears. There is a definite place for a dual scale of values. There is integrity and honor in both sets of values. Hushai is a man of honor, even though he will lie and deceive under counterinsurgency. There are police in Berachah who look like hippies and they are in CID. They are lying and deceiving and cheating in their function of apprehending criminals. People with the greatest integrity have to go underground and do things we would consider sin, but is not.

Where Hushai stayed would have seemed to many to be a place of danger, but it was a great hideout for him. The dust on his head indicates this shift to a different scale of values. It represents Hushai's flexibility in abandoning his prosperity.

The KJV is totally without any merit; it is #1 in this regard. It is filled with anachronisms and mistranslations.

Hushai could not keep up with the column and he might be killed, and David has another idea. Hushai has great flexibility and great intelligence. This gives David an idea; he is going to form a counterinsurgency corps.

2Sam. 15:33 David said to him, "If you go [march] on with me, you will become a burden to me.

So David then states an alternative to having Hushai traveling with him. Hushai needs to be well-motivated.

David recognizes the loyalty of Hushai. We do not appreciate that the CIA and the FBI need to remain as hidden organizations. There were 8 KGB moles in the highest echelons in British government.

The enemy Absalom must be understood, and David knows him and he knows that he is involved in interlocking systems of arrogance. Absalom is a genius; a brilliant man; a fantastic person. All of his abilities are neutralized. David provides the format.

Hushai as a Counterinsurgent

1. This is the format for intrigue. Lying and deceit to gain the confidence of Absalom. This is not sinful; this is legitimate weapon of war, 500 years before Sun Zu. You cannot win a war without information and proper intelligence. This is also a matter of giving false info to the enemy.
2. Lying and deceit is strategic deceit of counterinsurgency.
3. At best, counterinsurgency is a dirty business; it involves murder, assassination, lying, deceit and the exploitation of human weaknesses and vanity. There are people in Berachah Church who have been in this field. A very famous CIA agent in Berachah Church. It is every bit as honorable as conventional warfare.
4. Counterinsurgency is valid and it requires flexibility and it requires total ruthlessness.
5. Contradiction of prerequisites of results in a person becoming a double-agent.
6. To avoid becoming a double agent and a traitor to one's country, the agent needs honor and integrity. Hushai is one of the greatest men in this field. Hushai is one of the best in this area.
7. Insurgency is the function of revolution; and counterinsurgency is to fight against the revolution.
8. There can be violence, murder, assassination, as in the murder of Marat, crusader arrogance destroying criminal arrogance.
9. Counterinsurgency can be duplicity and ruses, to block the wise moves by the revolutionary. Here, we need to neutralize Ahithophel.

10. An excellent description The Wilderness of Mirrors. To many they were heroes, 2 of the fiercest warriors against Russia's KGB. To others, they were villains, involved in illegal actions and deception. What is heroic in combat is wrong in peace.

The United States accepts only one standard of warfare. The Holy Spirit has seen to it that we would understand that there is a place for counterinsurgency in warfare. The weirdos are always the ones who take this wrong.

Everything in the Bible has a reason and a purpose. David has just told this man to lie, and lying is a sin. However, this is legitimate. David is not telling him to sin even though he is telling him to lie.

David fought a conventional war against Absalom, but he needed intelligence, and Hushai is the key here. The arrogance of the United States can only take one standard of warfare. We are stupid in this regard.

2Sam. 17:14 And Absalom and all the men of Israel said, The counsel [advice] of Hushai the Archite is better than the counsel of Ahithophel. For Jehovah had appointed to defeat the good counsel of Ahithophel, to the intent that Jehovah might bring disaster on Absalom.

He gains the ear of Absalom, and Absalom believes that Hushai's advice is the best. This was done so that Jehovah can bring disaster upon Absalom. This is the Word of God. Bob's job is to interpret the Word of God. All of the commentaries have absolutely zero on these 3 chapters. Some of the brethren commentators think this reminds them about something in Ephesians and they talk about that. Those police officers in CID would do things that would shock Berachahans. You would fall in the aisles with shock.

Are you so arrogant that you go into shock before getting the whole subject? So you leave and say, "I'm going out to one of our nice churches." it is very difficult to tell the truth about a passage like this.

God the Holy Spirit did not put this passage here for all of the great commentators to skip over.

Parar means to break in pieces; to frustrate. Your assignment is to frustrate the counsel of Ahithophel for me.

MI5 was their intelligence and MI6 was their secret service. Special Operations Executive was organized to frustrate the Germans. He did many things to mess them up. After the war, he was tried by the French. He was a very honorable man. You often end up in the courts rather than being decorated and honored.

Though fraud and other activities in detestable, in the management of war, circumstances demand it. David will overcome the enemy by fraud and force. You cannot overcome the force without the fraud.

This is simply a description of the dating tactics of the female. Ahah; you see what I mean. How many of you decided, "I am going to show this man the real me; I am not going to hide my worst features." Bob is certain that he has the majority of the women in his congregation understand this now.

It is arrogance which prevents people in the United States from understanding the importance and honor of counterinsurgency. Just as killing in warfare is legit, so is lying and subterfuge.

2Sam. 15:34 But if you return to the city and say to Absalom, 'I will be your servant, O king; as I have been your father's servant in time past, so now I will be your servant,' then you will frustrate for me the counsel of Ahithophel.

2Samuel 15:34–37

631_0409

Back to Bodyguard of Lies. Prosper was the leader of special ops in France. A guy acting as a double agent, and both sides tried to kill him. This is one of the fascinating chapters and it takes great intelligence and humility to undergo this kind of thing (he was put on trial 3 times).

The Arrogance of Unhappiness

1. Happiness is a state of the soul and not something which someone does for you. No one can make you happy but God.
2. A person may do something nice for you. If you are happy in your soul, you are fine. If you are unhappy in your soul, then you will be unhappy in general. Preoccupied with self.
3. They give nothing and they expect everything.
4. No one can make you happy.
5. One of the myths of life is, there is someone out there who can make you happy. This is the myth of arrogance. Happiness is the state of the soul.
6. For the believer, only doctrine in the soul can make you happy and give you capacity for life and capacity for love.
7. The arrogance of unhappiness gives nothing and demands everything.
8. For the unbeliever, happiness is his honor, integrity, capacity for love, capacity for life in the status of establishment and humility.
9. For the believer, happiness is all of this and Bible doctrine resident in the soul of the believer. Hushai the Arkite.
10. Because you already possess happiness in your soul, means people can enhance your happiness; and you can enjoy your possessions. But they cannot give you that happiness or take it from you.
11. Only the arrogance of unhappiness assumes that people and possessions can make you unhappy. Many times, you said if you could just go with a certain gal or a certain gentleman; if you could just have this or that, you could be happy. Any assumption that something you possess can make you happy is erroneous.

12. Humility is the secret of happiness; arrogance is the basic cause for unapphyness.
13. Arrogant people are unhappy people.
14. Therefore, you can spend your lifetime trying to make them happy.
15. Some people just hang around just waiting for others to make them happy. Like those who think it is an unfriendly church because people don't come right up to you to greet you. The arrogance of unhappiness is the misery of.... Those who go from gate 16 to interlocking systems of arrogance... The program in the baptist church is designed for arrogant people and baptist pastors.

We are still in v. 34. David asks Hushai to help him frustrate the counsel of Ahithophel. Intelligence and counterintelligence agent on the one hand must have honor and integrity in his soul. Insurgency is revolt against establishment government and is a synonym for revolution.

A quote from the Wilderness of Mirrors. What passed for virtue there sometimes was grotesque in the light of day. What is moral in warfare is much different in the light of day.

We are in the process of losing the war against KGB because. The UN is the headquarters for spies in the United States.

Is God behind the lying, the murdering, the assassination? 2Sam. 17:14 tells us this. The Lord ordained the frustrate the good advice of Ahithophel.

2Sam. 15:34 But if you return to the city and say to Absalom, 'I will be your servant, O king; as I have been your father's servant in time past, so now I will be your servant,' then you will frustrate for me the counsel of Ahithophel.

David and Counterinsurgency

1. Long before Sun Tzu, MI5 and MI6, David was not just a master of conventional warfare, but a genius of counterinsurgency.
2. David is requesting an honorable mature believer function under another standard to help defeat the revolution.
3. Hushai's infiltration of Absalom's staff as a mole is a part of counterinsurgency. That is risking your life every time that you breathe.
4. Hushai's use of fabrication and deception is the antithesis of his life of honor and integrity.
5. Therefore, since the revolutionists believe the lie, God will judge them and destroy them with their own weapons. God will destroy them with the lie in the mouth of the honorable man.
6. The revolutionist loves the lie and functions by the lie. He lives by the lie; and he dies by the lie.
7. Those who live by the lie, die by the lie, just as in conventional warfare, those who function under the principles of violence may die under violence. Those who live by the lie, die by the lie. Those who are pathological liars or use the lie to make a living, the very God and His justice will destroy you with the same system. The lie is a system of arrogance. No matter how great a liar you are, someone is better.

8. The revolution has rejected the truth and has accepted the lie. Lies and deceit will defeat the revolution.
9. The revolution is arrogant and they will be ruined by their arrogance. They will be sabotaged by the greatest counterinsurgency agent.

2Sam. 15:34 But if you return to the city and say to Absalom, 'I will be your servant, O king; as I have been your father's servant in time past, so now I will be your servant,' then you will frustrate for me the counsel of Ahithophel.

Hushai and Absalom

1. Hushai the humble will defeat Absalom the arrogance.
2. Hushai will use the arrogance of Absalom and his lying and deceit against him. He will destroy him with his own weakness.
3. Arrogance creates its own system of destruction regardless of what gate you use; those who live by the lie, die by the lie. Those who demand that others make them happy will never be happy.
4. This is how God uses counterinsurgency.
5. Hushai's counterinsurgency function is that part of warfare which neutralizes the genius of the enemy. What he did in lying and deceit is not sin but a part of clandestine warfare.
6. Hushai is a part of David's clandestine network. In the soldier's handbook, we are bred up to think that it is a disgrace to win by falsehood. These sentiments do well or a child's copybook or a normal life. The man who acts on them ought to sheath his sword forever. Telling the enemy the truth in war makes you a traitor.
7. The greatest epigram of clandestine warfare. In warfare, truth is so precious that she should be protected by a bodyguard of lies.
8. Lies and deceptions and strategical of clandestine warfare; the self righteous arrogance of the American people has destroyed any possible success against the Russians. Carter from his White House issued a memorandum to the CIA fulfills the
9. Hushai is the establishment mole. He infiltrates at the highest level of leadership. In modern intelligence language, Hushai is David's mole. Hushai was motivated by freedom of country. Courageously an honorably served David.

Bob keeps using a lot of Latin. Hushai will become obsequious so that he can penetrate Absalom's inner circle. God knew that David knew that he could trust Hushai. Counterinsurgency was in existence 500 years before Sun Zu and Klasovitz. God uses the wrath of man to praise Him James 4:6 revolution is constructed on falsehood and is destroyed with these very same weapons. This exploits the arrogance of the revolutionists. Arrogance inevitably destroys arrogance and lies destroy lies. People often go to church so that God will give them some happiness, but God cannot make us happy and people cannot make us happy. Happiness must reside in you soul. People and things cannot make you happy.

Bob has been trying to get people to behave all of his life, and he has been unsuccessful, even with his own dogs. But he is not as bad as we are; he realizes it is a failure and he ceases and desists.

A good night to bring in the 16th gate, the arrogance of unhappiness. David and Hushai learned to be content. It is the Word inside of your soul which makes you happy. What will make you happy? If we could produce those things, those people would be just as unhappy as before. So many ladies think, if I could just have a husband; you would end up with a whole new set of problems. "Marry me and I will make you happy" is a guaranteed mess. You might be able to stimulate her temporarily. You might stimulate one another with compliments. But that means nothing.

Many of you grew up reading extensively. And you could identify with the hero or the heroin. The book made you happy because you have a capacity for truth and integrity and who can applaud honor. The only person who is happy is the one who applauded because he has just been entertained. The one on stage is arrogant and that is a part of his makeup.

Patton loved it, Churchill used it and loved it; Montgomery would not use it. It is what defeated Romel in Africa. No one has ever given the credit to enigma and ultra that they deserved. It was a great thing. The hidden talent of Churchill was the clandestine part of war. He is one of the greatest men in the field of intelligence, counterintelligence and the whole realm of clandestine warfare. He was so far ahead of everyone else.

For Communists, there is no dual standard, and it is all evil. We have one standard as well, which is arrogant self righteousness.

We are going to go through these verses quickly and cover them in more depth in the 4th of July Conference. This is David briefing Hushai the Archite about his contacts. As a spy, he works for Zadok and Abiathar. Hushai will function in counterinsurgency and he will also know about the secret plans of Absalom and A.

2Sam. 15:35 Are not Zadok and Abiathar the priests with you there? So whatever you hear from the king's house, tell it to Zadok and Abiathar the priests.

Then we have the couriers in this verse. The sons of to the High Priests.

2Sam. 15:36 Behold, their two sons are with them there, Ahimaaz, Zadok's son, and Jonathan, Abiathar's son, and by them you shall send to me everything you hear."

Now, here, we have a coincidence. Hushai and Absalom enter into Jerusalem at the same time. There is a lot of noise and shouting, and Hushai entering into the city will not be noticed. Two people, one arrogant and one humble. One will build his life on lies and the other upon truth.

Those who live by lies will die by lies.

2Sam. 15:37 So Hushai, David's friend, came into the city, just as Absalom was entering Jerusalem.

2Samuel 15    Psalm 25:1    72David (Not yet July 4th Conf. 1980)    631_0410

Self-centeredness, self righteousness, implacability, etc. for the first gate. Scar tissue is the result of negative volition arrogance. The people are involved in interlocking systems of arrogance. Political arrogance emphasizes the arrogance of the national leaders. Satanic syndrom of authority-arrogance. Volition coalescing with authority is the issue. The teenager rebelling is arrogant. All systems of rejection of authority begin in the home. Arrogance was the rejection of the authority of the parents. Dishonor or disorientation to life.

Even as an adult, there is carryover because of your rebelling against the authority of your parents. The most basic authority in life is parents. To pass the test of authority-orientation is humility and to fail the test is arrogance. By rejecting establishment authority and establishment truth, you will not make it. Rejecting establishment truth means a person is a vessel of dishonor. They resent anyone who works hard and succeeds in life.

Gate 14 legitimate authority from above. It is almost impossible for the average teen to overcome the rejection of authority as a child. One the biggest criminal syndicates today is made up of kids under 12 in Houston (I guess?).

Maybe you grew up in the slums and you say, "My mother was a slut and my father was a drunk." God gave us the choice of Bible doctrine. After you have been led to the Lord, then you deal with the teaching and the authority of your pastor-teacher.

Basic story: we are born and the first authority we have is our parents. Then you are born again and your new authority is doctrine and the pastor who communicates. You can leave a church if you want to. It is wrong to malign the authority in that local church.

Every woman, at some time or another, shops for a husband. They figure if it doesn't work, then they will just change husbands. The husband holds 100% of the stock and the woman holds 0%. What offsets that is when the woman loves the one who holds all the stock. Problem #1 is authority arrogance.

Let's say you find out that your husband is not as smart as you. Whose mistake was that? What were you thinking before getting married? Just as parental authority provides orientation to temporal life, there is the pastoral authority for our spiritual life.

Doctrine is the mind of Christ and the Word of God is the authority. Just as there is authority in the home, there is authority in the local church. You learn things in a home just as a dog learns. Bob believes in dogs in the home. When you come to Berachah, you need to be housebroken.

Gate 15 is the arrogance of ignorance, closely related to negative volition arrogance. It is the result of negative volition arrogance.

Harriet Beecher Stowe had no concept of state's rights. Massachusetts is a difficult state in which to understand anything. Arrogance of union armies singing John Brown's body. He murdered and killed and used violence; and it would have been much better to simply let the states come to this of their own accord. Lee let his slaves go. One of them, Stowe or Brown would speak and tear up the constitution. A freed slave came up and told him that he was free without violence, and John Brown shot him dead. Rev. Beecher Stowe was a radical hippy and they did more to set back freedom. The Black man could be brought into a free society with a sense of responsibility.

The French Revolution was also the arrogance of ignorance at that time. God is truth and veracity. He is infinite without limit. God cannot sin or solicit to sin or sponsor sin; He is veracity. He cannot be complicated by ignorance or by what results from ignorance, like absurdities. The arrogance of ignorance rejects truth and believes the lie. Then gets into many other forms of arrogance. They will use violence to gain power and to destroy the freedom of others simultaneously.

Infinity also characterizes God and all that He does. In God, every truth dwells in absolute form. The Russian Revolution of 1917 and we must distinguish between the facts of history and absolute truth.

Gate 16 the arrogance of unhappiness. Happiness, as we have learned, is a state of the soul. We also learned this in the book of Philippians. Happiness is not something which someone does for us; nor is there someone who makes us happy. A person may give you attention, a present or love and affection, but that does not make you happy.

People often get married because their partner says they will love them forever and make them happy. However, no one can do this. Only doctrine in the soul can make a person happy. Neither people nor possessions can make you happy. If you have happiness in your soul, you can enjoy your possession.

Arrogance in the soul produces subjectivity. Arrogant people are always unhappy people. If you work for an arrogant person, they are never satisfied. There is never a well-done. If you obey every command of every point of nagging, the nagger will not be made happy. It is impossible to make someone of an arrogant soul happy.

Psalm 89:15–17 war does not change and make a person unhappy. Happiness belongs to the people who keep on knowing the sound of the trumpet. So you can be at war and happy.

At this point, there is revolution in Israel. Does this mean that David and everyone else will be unhappy? Does this mean that they have no opportunity for enjoyment of life during war? There is just as much happiness in adversity as in peace. Prov. 3:13 Luke 11:27–28 this woman breaks into the middle of our Lord's teaching, and she said, "Happy is the woman who bore you and whose breasts gave you suck." Sort of, "You turned out so well, your mother must be happy." Happiness is a state of the soul. The person who is arrogant always puts pressure on children, wife, husband, dogs, friends because unhappiness in the soul becomes cursing by association. How your children do can't make you happy. You can get everything that you want in life, get your way with everything, and still be totally unhappy. "On the contrary; happinesses to those who keep hearing and retaining the Word of God."

Here is David in a jam, and in he has wept, but he is not unhappy. We will pick up Shimmei in the future when we know more. He is a perfect illustration of the arrogance of unhappiness. He razzes and jeers David and then he gets down in the dust. Why all of these various postures? What is wrong with him? He suffers from the arrogance of unhappiness.

Psalm 25 is what David was thinking about.

There are 22 letters in the Hebrew alphabet. He organizes his psalm acrostically. Each letter begins each verse. So this is a walking file; he organizes this acrostically. V. 18 is an exception. Koph is the back of the head. It has to be up in the frontal lobe in order to use it. It has to be in the frontal lobe; it has to be on the launching pad. It is important to have doctrine in the frontal lobe. Only doctrine in the frontal lobe can be used in concentration. The problem in marriage and in any relationship is the arrogance of unhappiness. No person or thing will make you happy.

John Brown has been discussed recently; there are 2 movies this Saturday Night with some stuff about John Brown. The other is Operation Burma, Errol Flynn's WWII movie.

Arrogance of unhappiness often leads to having a guilt complex. The martyr complex and the guilt complex is the arrogance of unhappiness. It seeks to dominate its environment and enslave those in its environment.

Bob had 3 meetings. Scientology was asked about it. Usually, other religions are not discussed except when they illustrate certain things. Separation of church and state means that churches need to remain separate from politics; and that counterinsurgency needs to be left to a national entity.

An article on scientology. He figured that, if he wanted to be rich, then he ought to start a new religion. It is one of the oldest and most dangerous of cults of the modern religions. Berachah, by the way, is not a cult; but orthodox. They hid behind religious liberties and did all kinds of evil as well. A hard-core of about 3000 full-time staff and 300,000 adherents. Hubbards lives quite well in a huge mansion in England. He has young women who are called his messengers. They see after to all of his needs. Former members say that he erupts angrily if he smells soap on his clothes. He tells them he is a nuclear physicist who was wounded in WWII. The actual truth is something else entirely. Excellent article from Reader's Digest.

This organization has its own intelligence organization. "To sweep aside opposition to create a vacuum in which scientology may expand." Anonymous death threat to a newsman, and the people were taught how to use harassing techniques; calls to the IRS against their enemies, etc. Lies to the press, etc. A book on scientology was kept out of public; and the author had her stationary stolen and bomb threats were sent on it, and she spent 2 years defending herself.

9 officials were arrested by the government on conspiracy charges. They call this the Guardian wing of their church. Such collectives need watching even though it masquerades as a religion and claims protection under our constitution. Our constitution is not a suicide pact.

Psalm 25 inscription A Psalm of David.

This is an acrostic psalm. Aleph is the first letter of the Hebrew alphabet; it signifies an ox or a bullock and is the sign of agricultural prosperity. It signifies the number 1000. Alaph a verb.

'El starts the verse. Nasa' is used in many ways. Soul or life is what is being lifted up. Prayer is one of the greatest weapons which God has given to us. To fail in prayer is failing in disaster. Success in disaster depends upon your soul and what is in it.

When revolution causes a civil war, the issue is truth. The individual using the doctrine in his soul to send a barrage of prayers to heaven. If we have inner happiness, if we are basically a happy person, we do not have to solve all of our problems. We learn to cope with our problems. That is coping rather than solving. Doctrine gives us the ability to cope with our problems.

Psalm 25:1 To You, O Jehovah, I lift up my soul.

Beth file, which refers to a house, palace, residence, home. David had been forced out of his home from the southeast corner of the Jerusalem, the Zion plateau. A castle, fort, barracks, a building for supreme court function. Originally, his home was in Hebron, but he moved north when he was made king over all Israel. These new HQ's was Jerusalem and Zion is in the southeast corner. He has a new scale of values and he will walk out on a wonderful place to live. David withdrew because of his flexibility, objectivity. This demands great wisdom and he needs to use his effective weapon of prayer. His soul lives in the house of his body.

David is going back to that day when he faced Goliath and he recognizes that the battle is for the Lord's.

Then we have a negative + bosh, the imperfect tense is used as a cohortative. This usually means to be ashamed; but it also means to become confused. David must have a clear head with which to face the revolution. He cannot deal with confusion or perplexity.

Alatz in the Qal imperfect. It means to gloat over; to triumph over. Again a cohortative. David's enemies include Ahithophel and Absalom.

While David moves across the Judæan desert, he is content in his soul.

We have been studying gate 16, which is the arrogance of unhappiness. You can have all the wealth in the world and have a martyr complex. Your complex is designed to make all those around you miserable. Some marriages are a martyr complex combined with a guilt complex on the part of the other person. Even though David walked into the desert with only a robe, he still has his own home, because he carries it with him in his own soul. There is no way to pillage or steal or rob that which David carries in his own soul. There, he carries Bible doctrine. This is tremendous wealth that he carries with him. Bob titles this psalm wealth of humility.

Psalm 25:2 O my God, I trust in You; do not let me be ashamed [confused], let not my enemies triumph [gloat] over me.

Gimel verse is next and this is a camel, a side view. He represents travel, trade, prosperity from travel and trade. He has his own form of prosperity under these circumstances. He have our own home. Our home is where we wear our hat. Our head is our home. We are a wealthy person in adversity. He needs this doctrine which he has. He carries this in his head. The strongest word for faith rest is kawah. This is the small piece of string wound in with a rope, and it takes on the strength of that rope. We are weak and helpless in time of disaster, but we are woven into that whole pattern of doctrine. We can remove the doctrine from ourselves, but no one else can take it from us.

Ittai the Gittite, the former chief of police, refused to return to Jerusalem under revolutionary control. He will become one of David's corps commanders. Hushai will be like CID. He retains his honor and integrity while performing nefarious deeds. This can also refer to Zadok and Abiathar, the dual high priests who are David's spies in Jerusalem.

Participle and definite article to refer to a subordinate clause.

There are masses who succumb to the propaganda of the Absalom's revolution. Those who are treacherous without a cause will be put to shame (or will be confused). Those who are treacherous without a cause will be put to shame.

Psalm 25:3 Yea, let none who wait on You be ashamed [all of those who have confidence in You will not be put to shame]; let them be ashamed who sin without cause [they will be confused, those who are treacherous without a cause].

Then we move to the 2nd paragraph. Daleth is a door. The name signifies the ancient Phœnician door. He must know the will of God and this door is compatible with disaster. David is free and he must go with decisions that make others free. Ittai goes with him but he sends back Hushai. He makes additional decisions. The more decisions that he makes, the closer to moves toward victory. Good decisions open up options in other directions.

You have knowledge upon which you build knowledge. Like mathematics. You build upon knowledge, which is what David is doing. David will know the unknowable. The plan of God rationale. David will know what the will of God is, which is X. He can put together this other stuff. These rationales are known factors. From these factors in our soul, we know what the will of God is. You cannot figure out what X is unless you know what is around it. You start with the known, which you break down everything in terms of what you know. When it comes to disaster, there is no substitute for doctrine in your soul. You will not survive without doctrine in your soul. Your wealth is not what you accumulate by hard word, but what you get through hard thought. Bob has been thinking so much that he has lost weight and his pants keep falling off.

Cause me to know Your ways is not the initial doctrine but to apply the doctrine in the circumstances that you are in. You apply what you know from your vast wealth of the soul.

Lamad, in the Piel, means to train while in the field; you must be trained to take the doctrine in your soul and use it. You have testing in prosperity. You deal with the charge of the mosquito and you learn later how to deal with the charge of the elephant. David will be able to lead the establishment forces because he has had a lot of training in his past. Concentration and learning and then reverse concentration.

Psalm 25:4 Make me know Your ways, O Jehovah; teach me Your paths.

Time magazine still has a liberal editorial staff, along with the NY Times and others. There was a picture of a tennis player on the front (Bjon Bjord). Large picture of the tennis player; small picture of Carter.

The U.S. is no longer #1 is one of the stories. The U.S. that has emerged from the 1970's no longer has the same leadership without the ability to command respect of its own allies.

Reference to Carter's ineptness on the international scene.

Bob could probably sue Hal for a $1 million, but truth is truth, no matter who steals it. It is argued that the U.S. can no longer act alone. The Europeans say, "It is time for Americans to listen to them."

Psychiatrist and how he does not go looking for something that happened in your past. Happiness is related to one's choices in life. The essence of greatness is choosing personal fulfillment where others choose madness. You can fear your death ineffectually or you can use it. The mistake that intelligence is measured by ability to deal with complex problems. That brings on a snobbishness. A true barometer of intelligence is an effective happy life lived each day. Essentially said, if you can avoid gate 16, you are intelligent.

No such thing as a nervous breakdown; nerves do not break down. Intelligent people can choose happiness over other things. We are brought up in a culture that tells us that we are not responsible for our own feelings and that we cannot control them. Stuff like, "You hurt my feelings." "I just feel angry; don't ask me to defend it." This is around 30 min. into it. I need to get this name.

It is important, under stress, to be a basically happy person. If you are an unhappy person, then you cannot survive in a disaster.

Doctrine in the soul produces the rationales. Doctrine in the soul produces +H. Doctrine resident in the soul has many functions. It is the basis of spiritual growth.

We are in the dalet h file, which represents a door. By facing an FTX (field training exercise), the believer is prepared for a disaster. David faced a hot FTX here; that is where live ammo is used; people step on real mines and die.

David has made great decisions under great pressure. As the leader of the establishment forces, he had to think. He used Abiathar and Zadok as his intelligence agents who use their sons as couriers.

You must develop the habit of reverse concentration under pressure.

Psalms 25:4 Make me know [Teach me] Your ways, O Jehovah; teach [train] me Your paths.

Hê file and it denotes a window. This file deal with perspective; how you look at life. Darak in the Hiphil stem; it means to trample or to tread; to cause to walk.

The perception of doctrine is the key. Your perception of life depends upon the doctrine in your soul. Perspective is the answer to life. This is a moment by moment perspective. It is doctrine or no doctrine. Application of doctrine or failure of application.

Wâw file, refers to a peg which you hang something on. You take a coat off a peg and you wear it; and the coats stay there until you need it. If you are an unhappy person, no one can make you happy; nothing can make you happy.

It is very difficult to challenge the tenacity of the arrogance which we have not removed. The woman chose for arrogance; she was going to be better than man.

In the prep school, you get to apply doctrines all the time.

A Day at a Time.

1. Time is a logistical grace condition. They are new every morning; great is Your faithfulness.
2. Psalm 102:3 we are issued one day at a time and we can lose days. In the course of my life, He cuts my strength. Psalm 89:49 you have cut short the days of my youth.

3. Days are meaningful and prosperous with spiritual growth. Teach us to number our days correctly that we may gain a right lobe of doctrine. Satisfy us in the morning with your unfailing love so that we can be happy all of our days.
4. Therefore, the importance of purchasing each day. Eph. 5:14–18
5. The days provided by logistical grace to the believer only have meaning as related to the plan of God. Psalm 34:11–14 Prov. 3:1–2
6. Therefore, the day by day life of the believer only has meaning. How basically happy is the person who finds doctrine. The profit is greater than the profit from silver or gold. She is more precious than jewels and nothing you desire can compare to her.
7. Arrogance destroys capacity for the divine provision of a day at a time. Do not boast about tomorrow because you do not know what a day brings forth.
8. The dynamics of daily living are related to Bible doctrine. . guide me with your doctrine and train me. Psalm 119:27 I love your doctrine; I think about it all day long. 2Cor. 4:16 our outer man is decaying and the inner man is being renewed day by day.

David has recovered from interlocking systems of arrogance, so now he can do well and enjoy his life. He will use his discipline as a series of ftx's. David has installment discipline which was turned into ftx's.

Psalm 25:5 Lead me in Your truth [Guide me with your doctrine], and teach me; for You are the God of my salvation; on You I wait all the day long [all day long, I have confidence in You].

Dyer "Your erroneous zones" You can feel what you choose to feel; you are not subject to your own emotions. You will see a given emotion as a choice rather than an unalterable condition of life.

The syllogism. The premise "I can control my thoughts. My feelings come from my thoughts; therefore, I can control my feelings." You have the power to think of whatever is in your head; and you have the power to make it go away. If you don't control your thoughts, who does? If someone else controls your thoughts, then send them out for therapy so that you can get better. Every feeling that you have is preceded by a thought; and without a brain, there is no feeling or emotion.

Cal, spends much of his time agonizing that his boss thinks he is stupid. So, what if you don't know about something? You cannot be unhappy when someone dies, if you don't know about it. It is only when you think about this. Why should I choose depression, after a hurricane?

Zayin file, and it is a sword; it is the sword of the policy of the Lord. When the Phœnicians wrote it, they changed it. Slightly.

Remember Your compassion, O Jehovah. Compassion is an emotion based upon the situation of another; so it is an anthropopathism. The revolution is successful. This is a prayer for sympathy. An Anthropopathism is taking a human characteristic which we understand and ascribing it to God. It explains to us and our thinking God's thoughts and actions.

If you try to get people to feel sorry for you in order to get their attention, then you are completely divorced from reality. You dress, or you do something idiotic to get attention, which is a sign of your own arrogant weakness. Sympathy is the worst type of attention; it has no merit to us. It is based upon demerit. People recognize in us demerit.

Divine policies: God helps the helpless and the humble; He gives grace to the humble. When you pray, you pray to God; some ignoramuses pray to the Holy Spirit or to Jesus Christ. In the faith rest drill, faith reaches out and claims promises. It reaches out in reverse concentration, which is the plan of God rationale. It reaches doctrinal conclusions, which means you are in control of the situation. Emotions are not involved in the function of the faith rest drill. You may emote as a result; but it is not necessarily a part of the faith rest drill.

David standing on the mount of Olives has made some marvelous decisions. He can look out and see a column of people stretched out into the horizon. He is responsible for all of these people. Humanly speaking, he is their leader. He must command them. He must provide some kind of logistical system so that thousands can have food and shelter. He is responsible for establishing their security for bringing them back to Jerusalem. As he has made decisions, he realizes that he will make hundreds and even thousands of decisions under pressure. Logistical decisions; government decisions, and it is a tremendous responsibility. He can only assume, in total humility. He is a man of great honor and integrity. We see him at his greatest and he depends upon his genius and he depends upon who and what God is.

Compassions are logistical grace provisions; they are dependent entirely upon who and what God is. Disaster is great pressure on us. It forces emotional weaknesses on us.

David cannot control anything if he sits down on the Mount of Olives and has a nervous breakdown. This is what his prayer is saying in the zayin file; he must fall back upon the Word of God. The link between David in disaster and God in heaven is what resides in David's soul.

This brings up a question; just Who is God? Who is this God Who can do it.

God is 3 real supreme persons Who have always existed and they have always had substance. 1 in essence, 3 in person. They all have the same characteristics in the same amount. This is illustrated with light, which is 1 in essence, but 3 in parts. Luminiferous, calorific, and . David is thinking of God in terms of personality. Man is made in the image of God. The invisible part of us is made in God's image. We have a vocabulary storage. We cannot communicate without thought. If we communicate by feeling, we cannot really communicate. You must be able to think. We all have a place to store vocabulary. If we can utter a word of two, we have vocabulary storage. Our heads do not grow bigger when our vocabulary increases. It is invisible; not real. We choose to sin whether we know it is a sin or not.

Man is 1 and man is many.

To say, O God in prayer is to name the person you are addressing. “The Man upstairs? There is no man; He is not upstairs. Where do you get that stuff? Leave it to a Baptist pastor. What horrible, blasphemous, ignoramus stupidity.”

Berachah is not political, paramilitary, counterinsurgency; we are an orthodox church. Our rule of faith and practice is the Word of God. We follow the Nicene creed; the Apostle’s creed. We do have kooks and we give a false impression with these people and our own mistakes, but we are an orthodox body of believers. Man is material; God is immaterial. All living creatures have a body to house the soul. We possess life but God is life. The man upstairs is not theistic or deistic. And even Voltaire did not use such imbecilic language, even though he was deistic and is in hell right now. God does not possess life; He is life.

God recognizes Himself to be a Person and He acts rationally. Animals have determination but they do not have self-determination as we have it.

Infinity is a word of theology. It unites in His Person all of His perfections. This is the basis of the essence of God rationale. God cannot be complicated with absurdities. He may be self-limited, but God’s infinity is intensive rather? God’s holiness is infinite. God is veracity and He is infinite truth. The divine motive of God’s creating man and angels and the universe; every motivation in a creation by God is for God’s glory. If God created man and the world, and man pollutes it, that pollution will never destroy it. The environmentalist assumes that he must ride herd over the resources on this earth and he figures he needs power in order keep the earth under control. That is arrogance beyond description. The universe cannot be destroyed by nuclear or any other force. Only God will destroy the universe, and we will be there to see it. The world will be intact for the rapture and for the Tribulation and all the gruesome things that will take place then. At the end of all that, planet earth will still be here and it will not be destroyed.

“Remember Your compassions, O Lord.” God is not sustained. He does not require a meal to stay alive or oxygen in order to breathe. God does not have to go through that. His existence is unalterable. We change from time to time; we get fat, thin, older, wrinkled. We alter here there and everywhere. Immutability is another part of infinity. His existence cannot be changed. God does not improve and He does not get worse. God does not change His mind. When man changes, God seems to change. When we are in interlocking systems of arrogance, we are disciplined and we think that God has changed, but He has not. 3rd characteristic of self-existence is unity. Our Elohim is One Elohim. There is a difference between tritheist and trinitarianism.

Psalm 25:6 Remember, O Jehovah, Your tender mercies [compassions] and Your loving-kindnesses; for they are from eternity.

More from the book "Your Erroneous Zones.". Your choice is your ultimate freedom. Let's say you were tortured until you chose to take control of your feelings, and most would simply take control of them. A mind-blowing notion, to choose to be happy. Rejecting the idea that someone else is in charge of you. There is some human viewpoint in this book as well, of course.

Ahithophel is the genius of the revolution. Amasseh is his enemy; Absalom is his enemy. Shimei who runs along side him and heckles him, is his enemy.

With what God knows about us, there is really nothing there for Him to love. Most of us are very attractive; and superficially, it may seem as if we have some nice personalities; but God is too wise to love us. The biggest myth is God loves everyone. God loving the world is an anthropopathism.

God cannot sin; God cannot sponsor sin; God cannot tempt to sin. God can only judge it. God's love is not our point of reference, not now and not ever. God does love; He does have love as a part of His essence. He is love and He has always been love. To infinity, God's love is infinite as well as eternal and it is based upon His omniscience and His perfection. Because God the Father is perfect, He is +R. From the standpoint of their righteousness, God is One. Each has identical, eternal righteousness. God the Father has 2 directions for His love; toward His Own righteousness; which is His subjective love. To the same point of infinity, God the Father loves God the Son and ditto for God the Holy Spirit. That is objective love. This has always been true.

God's righteousness is the key to everything and the love of God is the key to nothing. You can apply the former but you cannot apply the latter.

We love Him because He first loved us applies to some mature believers who have cracked the maturity barrier. David wants God to be sympathetic in the human sense and He wants God to do something about it. However, he avoids the word love.

Happiness has nothing to do with love. There are people in love who are happy, but most people in love are unhappy. That is a major theme in drama. The woman you marry will blame you for not making her happy.

This love thing is where everyone gets fouled up. God doesn't love a cheerful giver, if they are cheerful or not. God cannot commend more love to us while we are yet sinners. Jacob I loved and Esau I have hated. All anthropopathisms.

Marriage depends upon compatability, not doctrine. Unbelievers can have good marriages.

Love is thinking. Emotions originate from your thinking. Every emotion that you have is born of a thought. The thought makes you pregnant and when you give birth, it is an emotion.

Bob warns that it has probably gotten out that you're a cad and you will have to go to another church where the women are ugly.

Sex without love is ritual without reality. Legitimate sex is what you think and what goes on in the soul.

There is also the spiritual factor in love, which is a combination of everything. Awe, respect, capacity, fulfillment of norms and standards. When the anthropopathism is used, that means that God is favorably disposed toward us or He has given us something. Love gives.

David, in v. 6, appeals to the integrity and to the honor of God.

We tend to superimpose our own concepts upon God, and that confuses us. However, David did not do that. We must discard the anthropopathisms. Otherwise, we must apply I love Jacob but I hate Esau. You cannot apply that—a small percentage of you can, because you are weirdos.

David looks out over this 14 mile long column and he is responsible for each one of these people in this column. The purpose of the anthropopathism is to help us understand God's thinking.

There is a real love of God which is applied to some believers. An anthropopathism does not appeal to the...?

Holiness combines 2 characteristics of God, His righteousness and justice. Righteousness is the principle of divine integrity. Our relationship with God until the day that we die, God deals directly with us by His justice.

There is nothing that man can do to change the integrity of God. Compassion is not what David wants; he does not want sympathy. That is a human emotion. Maybe by 2 hours, we will get this.

Something about fundies looking down their nose at us because of something that they no longer do. Man's sinfulness nor his pleasing personality. They develop their personalities more than anything else.

David understood all of this. The integrity of God receives nothing from any function that we have. "Like the idiot who is looking at someone else. You, if you want to look around, get up and go out."

so, why use the word compassion here? He is demanding that the grace pipeline be open to the full. In the computer of his own mind, he will instantly have available what he needs to make decisions. God does not need our help; we need His help.

The mind is like a computer, but it needs to be programmed to the situation, for what we need in that moment. David is so thoroughly saturated with doctrine, that there is no problem. This is not the prayer of someone who is ignorant and vain.

Being in fellowship and have doctrine in the soul is the best way to go. We possess God's righteousness; not self righteousness. God is logical; He does not have to be chronological. There was never a time that God was not logical. David's words are chosen very carefully here.

David intends for this to be the work of God. Grace is the policy of the righteousness of God. David will receive the greatest imputation of blessing in his entire lifetime. David's magnificence is based upon his humility and his total dependence upon the Lord.

What is behind God's compassion and grace is eternity past.

God's Grace and His Eternal Nature

1. God's grace policy has always existed; just as God is eternal, so His policies are eternal.
2. God is eternal and His plan is eternal. God is eternal; His policy is eternal. We are temporal. But we have the backing of eternal God. David wraps himself in the mantle of the essence of God. In a time of uncertainty, you must go to that which is absolute.
3. Compassion views the policy of God from the viewpoint of the doctrinal rationales. Grace views this from eternal and infinite God existing in 3 persons.
4. You cannot extend God's love to mankind until a person individually has believed in Jesus Christ, at which time he receives God's righteousness.
5. Once in possession of God's righteousness, the believer is the recipient. Of blessing and become the object of God's essence love.
6. Both blessing and love from God is only possible because we possess the imputed righteousness of God.
7. There is perfect affinity between God's love and God's righteousness. God is not compromised by blessing us. The originating point is the justice of God.
8. All of this, David knew and applied as he faced revolution and civil war.
9. David's flexibility. He left behind his great material wealth, but he carried with him categories of Bible doctrine synthesized into rationales.
10. Doctrine was on David's launching pad ready to be used in catastrophe. He changed from his prosperity scale of values to an adversity scale of values.

Psalm 25:6 Remember, O Jehovah, Your tender mercies [compassions] and Your loving-kindnesses [grace]; for they are from eternity past.

Cheth is the next letter. God has the ability to keep us. David's degeneracy has resulted in installment discipline. He has to pray the prayer of the cheth file.

This is a special request; a negative command of petition. This requires boldness in prayer, tremendous courage, and the application of the rationales. David appeals to God to not remember David for who he is and what he has done. "Remember me not on the basis of who I am or what I have done." "Remember what You are; do not remember who I am."

We know that David has rebounded, so that we know it isn't that. David has is a student of life and he has an insatiable desire; a great curiosity as to how it will all turn out.

There is counterinsurgency, but not petty revenge here. David wants God to take this year he has no interest in personal revenge.

David is making an appeal to return to his position of authority and to see how it all turns out. David does not want the failures of the past to affect his difficult future.

Psalm 25:7 [Do not remember the sins of my youth, or my rebellings \[my defection\]; according to Your mercy remember me for Your goodness' sake, O Jehovah.](#)

2Samuel 15

Psalm 25:(1-6), 7 72David

631_0415

"You men can get up and leave right now or shut up."

5 chapters in the Word of God are devoted to counterinsurgency, war, revolution, etc. We have a war right now between the CIA and KGB and other such organizations, which warfare determines how we will do on the battlefield.

Installment Discipline

1. Installment discipline is the alternative to the sin unto death for the believer. When David got out of fellowship, the option was the sin unto death or to continue with his discipline long enough to be effective. The issue in divine discipline is sin; in suffering for blessing, the issue is the grace plan of God. The status of the person who is under divine discipline is arrogance, subjectivity and . Humility and objectivity for the believer in fellowship with doctrine. The solution is the rebound technique in 3 stages. There is the confessing or naming of sins to God. Then all of the sins are imputed to Jesus Christ on the cross. Whenever we name any sin to God, that sin has already been judged, and we are forgiven in time and in eternity.
2. Because of involvement with interlocking systems of arrogance, during his carnality and reversionism or both, David had accumulated unbearable suffering from the justice of God. Suffering for blessing is bearable; for discipline is unbearable.
3. David's rebound caused him to be forgiven his known sins and unknown sins.

4. Rebound then results in a restoration to fellowship and a forgiveness of sin.
5. Rebound results in release from the interlocking systems of arrogance. It depends upon the volition of the believer as related to his objectivity.
6. Arrogance produces subjectivity which hinders the true function of free will in the Angelic Conflict. Man has volition to choose for or against the plan of God.
7. Before rebound, David endured terrible suffering. After rebound, the grace of God converted his unbearable suffering from cursing into blessing.
8. David was restored to fellowship with God through rebound. Before, there was a lot of discipline, and David was given about a year to prepare to pass the test. Rebound always results in suffering ceasing (1Cor. 11:31); divine discipline is diminished and the intensification is removed; or it continues at its present amount, which is broken up into installments, which explains 2Sam. 12–20
- 9.

1Cor. 10:13 Testing has not caught up to you, except the human kind; and God has provided a way out for you so that you can endure it.

Second Principle

1. Installment discipline converted to suffering for blessing.
2. So installment discipline is cursing turned to blessing.
3. The discipline is so great it must be divided into installments.
4. There are 2 causes for discipline be divided up into increments.
  - a. Believer gets involved in the interlocking systems of arrogance. Arrogance involvement intensifies discipline.
  - b. Reversionism which results in strong delusion. Generally, interlocking systems of arrogance and strong delusion go together.
5. Justice of God turns cursing into blessing. David's acrostic thoughts help to explain this.
6. By breaking the discipline into increments, cursing is turned to blessing after rebound and the believer has some breathing space. He can learn pertinent doctrine to prepare him for the next increment. By this and using reverse concentration, he converts cursing to blessing.
7. Rebound frees the believer from interlocking systems of arrogance. Installment discipline gives the believer time to exercise his own free will
8. Installment discipline establishes the conclusion that it is better to have an occasional arrogance hangover rather than to be trapped by all 16 gates.

Third Principle

1. Involvement in the interlocking systems of arrogance converts sin and human good into evil. Hu + arrogance = evil.

2. When David prolongs his residence in interlocking systems of arrogance, and then rebounds, God will deliver him from the sin unto death. Nathan said, "you will not die." The justice of God always makes the punishment fit the crime.
3. So discipline must be administered in installments. There were 4 installments.
  - a. Son of adultery dies. His staff was shocked when David got up and was fine, after his child died. David had to explain the plan of God rationale. Then an interval and David had to go through some FTX's.
  - b. Amnon rapes Tamar. Tamar ends up well and Absalom, her bro, does not recover.
  - c. Absalom assassinates Amnon. 2Sam. 13 David was in interlocking systems of arrogance when he raped Bathsheba and killed her husband. He was in interlocking systems of arrogance by that time. The revolution was postponed. Ahithophel was the most brilliant man in all the land.
  - d. The 4th is 2Sam. 14–20, which is the Absalom revolution. Hushai the was ahead of David, because he got it right away. God will honor his lying and deceiving, just as He did Rahab the prostitute. We should be the best killer in our outfit.

Lying can be honorable in clandestine warfare and telling the truth can be a betrayal and sin if this is to an enemy. David has set up an intelligence system with their couriers. Hushai will be one of the greatest agents of all time. Wilderness of Mirror is about 2 great CIA agents.

Psalm 25:1 To You, O Jehovah, I lift up my soul.

Psalm 25:2 O my God, I trust in You; do not let me be ashamed [confused], let not my enemies triumph [gloat] over me.

Psalm 25:3 Yea, let none who wait on You be ashamed [all of those who have confidence in You will not be put to shame]; let them be ashamed who sin without cause [they will be confused, those who are treacherous without a cause].

Psalm 25:4 Make me know [Teach me] Your ways, O Jehovah; teach [train] me Your paths.

V. 5 is the key to all of this.

Psalm 25:5 Lead me in Your truth [Guide me with your doctrine], and teach me; for You are the God of my salvation; on You I wait all the day long [all day long, I have confidence in You].

Disaster have been avoided and put off for several years here because Jesus Christ controls history. All day long, I have confidence in you.

Psalm 25:6 Remember, O Jehovah, Your tender mercies [compassions] and Your loving-kindnesses [grace]; for they are from eternity.

All of the alternatives are right here, and God can tell us what the results would have been from other decisions which we made. We can see the alternatives and all of these other things which could have happened. We were all in the mind of Christ billions of years ago. Then we were in the plan of God. That is the basis of logistical grace. Then election to privilege and justification.

Cheth is a fence. That is in the Phœnician. David has been fenced in and limited in his modus operandi. The interlocking systems of arrogance is the fence. These are the concepts of installment discipline. Qal imperfect of zachary + the negative.

My rebellion is David being inside the interlocking systems of arrogance. David appealed to God on the basis of Who God is; and says, don't think about who I am. David is saying, "It is time to forget about my past sins." He has come to the place where David can ask God to terminate the discipline. Prayer is a weapon. Boldness of doctrinal application. For everything that he did in interlocking systems of arrogance, he has paid.

David has failed in many ways. No one is perfect; we all have an old sin nature. The failures of a man; the sins of an individual do not keep a person from being competent in some form of authority or greatness. The sins of Gaius Julius Caesar did not keep him from being quite organized and forward looking, despite his sins. Paul could travel all over, all because of this unbeliever who was so competent that his sins did not interfere with his ability.

Bob suspects that Carter is kind and moral. Just because he is nice and sweet does not mean that he can handle authority. Napoleon Bonaparte saved France from the revolution. He was highly immoral. He would fornicate without taking off his clothes or his sword; that is gross immorality. No standard by which he could be made acceptable to the fundy community.

Military leadership and political leadership, and others, the nice and sweet types are often those who fail. The Baptists would not vote for David. They would vote for anyone before David. He was immoral. Many wives and mistresses. David is immoral; and Carter is moral. Best Playboy could get out of Carter was that he thought some immorality. David would have made great copy for the muckrakers; and David is God's man. Carter is not. No question; hands down. Can David continue to rule after failing as he has.

David's sins have been forgiven; but the divine discipline is the key; the divine discipline in time. The installments of discipline. This 4th installment has gotten David concerned about being removed from this life. People who are curious are generally very good students. They are fascinated by the past and curious about the future. David has tremendous problems that he can handle. Military logistics and tactics. He is responsible for all of these people and he has tremendous personal problems on top of that. These sins and his rebellion have been confessed and forgiven by God. David is not alive because of who and what David is, but because of Who and What God is.

Grace is the function of God's integrity. The righteousness of God in us is the target for all divine blessing.

Negative command; imperative is used for the positive command. Reverse concentration and David will march off the Mount of Olives, with poise and confidence. He will make it through and he will do well leading.

Because of. Law came to the bush from Britain. Client nation Britain sent missionaries there. The Blacks were vulnerable to being enslaved by the Arab slave traders because they had no laws of divine establishment. All blessing goes from the justice of God to the righteousness of God.

Not only are we sustained but blessed.

God's plan for our life is not hindered by disaster or extreme circumstances.

Psalm 25:7 [Do not remember the sins of my youth, or my rebellings \[my defection\]; according to Your mercy \[grace\] remember me for Your goodness' sake \[because of Your good; because of Your plan\], O Jehovah.](#)

2Samuel 15

Psalm 25:8 72David

631_0416

Basic Principles of Our Study

1. Knowledge is the environment of thinking.
2. You can only have thoughts which you personally understand; you must have the vocabulary and knowledge of truth to think truth, to apply truth and to use truth.
3. Psalm 25 is the basis for the interpretation of 2Sam. 15–20
4. What David is thinking is revealed in Psalm 61–64 and 25

You are the God of my deliverance; all day long, I have confidence in You. Remember me because of Your good, O Lord.

Têth file something rolled together or that which is interrelated. The plan of God and the integrity of God. David will be kept alive without compromising God's essence.

Tob we jashar The plan of God depends upon the integrity of God. Once God's integrity is compromised, then there is no more plan of God. Good and honorable is the Lord.

There is perfect affinity between God's blessing and His righteousness. God is perfect and His plan is perfect. The holiness or the integrity of God is the basis for His blessing of mankind. All blessing to the believer, logistical or supergrace originates from the justice of God and flows to the righteousness of God, which the believer possesses as of salvation.

Qal stem of yarah; this stem means to teach, to instruct. He instructs sinners in His ways.

Sinners is chata technically, God cannot encourage sin, bless sin, there is a great breach between God and sin. If He is to get around the problem of sin, He must do so apart from compromise to His character. The integrity of God and the plan of God cannot be separated. Therefore, sinner does not refer to someone committing personal sins.

Possessing 3 categories of sin means that God cannot bless mankind apart from compromising His character...if not for the death of Jesus Christ.

Principles of Psalm 25:8

1. The way of God is the plan of God combined with the policy of God and the revelation of the Person of God. Person, plan, policy and definition of authority clearly related to Bible doctrine principles. A person, a plan a policy. This is true whether it is disaster or a time a great blessing. We are not denied happiness in a time of adversity; nor are we denied blessing; nor does God deny us difficulties as a training method.
2. Since man is a sinner and not qualified for blessing, it is important that we learn His modus operandi and the policy by which we are blessed. Policy is grace, plan is  $X + Y + Z$ .
- 3.
4. Blessing without compromise of His essence.
5. Plan of God by which He blesses man from His integrity.
6. Believer cannot orient to life apart from the essence of God and knowledge of the plan of God. He needs the plan of God rationale. Solutions belong to God; coping belongs to us; solutions belong to God. Socialism tries to solve man's problems. Most philosophical systems attempt to solve man's problems.

God instructs us in His modus operandi.

Psalm 25:8 Good and honorable is Jehovah; therefore He will instruct sinners in the way.

This next verse is David standing on the Mount of Olives and he puts these other things together. The yohd file. This is a hand; it represents the hand. As the hand, we begin with He guides the humble by means of His justice.

You follow a path that people have walked before; that is the idea of guiding. God teaches the grace oriented His way.

Institutional arrogance is where you reject the purpose or policy of one's organization.

Blind arrogance, the plan of God has failed because we have failed. We superimpose our standards on others and then we are critical of them, because they do not follow our standards.

Conspiracy arrogance, and David is the victim of conspiracy arrogance.

Psychopathic arrogance and these people do not survive any disaster. Loss of intellectual control of the soul. Neurotic or psychotic. Disarrangement of his thinking. Imposed stress and acquired inadequacy and no one will survive when divorced from reality. All it takes to get you nutty is national disaster.

Abandoning love in sex. Sex without love is arrogance.

Greatness is not related to genes.

Political arrogance, and delegated power is used in order to solve man's problems. Human panaceas and liberal crusades. Man was designed to cope with problems that he has made; and God would solve them. Profit is still one of the greatest words in the world. Marriage of power and arrogance.

Client nation arrogance the government of a client nation without obedience to the laws of divine establishment. It is not what kind of government you have; it is how that government functions. A monarchy depends upon one great man. A democracy depends upon the integrity of all. Political arrogance involves leaders; client nation arrogance involves the citizens. Client nation deals with the citizens. Without honor and integrity from the people, the US does not function correctly. Separation of church and state; missionary activity. Client nation arrogance is degeneracy of the client nation and being involved in strong delusion.

The Satanic syndrome or authority arrogance. When we have faith in Jesus Christ, we are called children, for all authority is related to childhood. Our arrogance goes back to authority in the home. This is legitimate authority from God and rejecting authority results in disorientation to authority in life. Good parents allow you to be unfair and unreasonable rather than wise. There is nothing fair in life at all. You only get fairness from God; you do not find fairness elsewhere. Our ability to orient to authority is the basis for our happiness or unhappiness in life. If authority arrogance is an issue in the home, it becomes even more critical with orientation to life. We start out spiritually as children, except this time, we have different parents. It is a myth that the person leading us to the Lord as being our spiritual parent. It is like saying the doctor who brings you into the world is your parent.

We can choose to listen and respect the teaching of our pastor or we can quietly slip away. The pastor is the parent. This may be why the Catholic priests began to use the term father. The pastor does not tell you how to run your life; he does not set up a code of any kind. He teaches you doctrine.

Once you are inside of the interlocking systems of arrogance, you are vulnerable to the other gates. When you separate from a local church, do not criticize the pastor, no matter how wrong he is. Leave him directly to the Lord. A pastor gets double discipline; and Bob would be happy to share his discipline.

Gate 15: the arrogance of ignorance is closely related to negative volition arrogance or reversionism. It is a result of negative volition arrogance. Truth is found in the laws of divine establishment. It also involves the gospel and Bible doctrine. The arrogance of ignorance means to function under the lie. This can be closely related to crusader arrogance. The arrogance of ignorance; the abolitionists before the war between the states. Hollywood did a good job of portraying him as a religious do-gooder.

Jane Fonda is an example of one of the new John Brown's. God is truth and God is veracity. God is truth. He cannot sin; he cannot sponsor sin. Sin, like all kinds of false activities, God cannot be complicated with absurdities. We are constantly relating our lives to those things which are absurd. The arrogance of ignorance rejects truth and they believe the lie. Mental, impulsive, blind. Arrogance of ignorance combines with the arrogance of power to destroy freedom.

The divine motive is for God's own glory. We can speak the truth or think the truth; but God is the truth. Knowledge is the environment for thinking. We must distinguish between the facts of history, which are not always true; to the truth of Jesus Christ. The facts of history may be sinful or evil; but they are not condoned by God. Because something is a fact of history does not make it true. The war between the states demonstrated arrogance. You can cope with the problem with state's rights and in 15 years, slavery would have disappeared. We have never recouped from that war. Jesus Christ controls history and manifest destiny was the overriding principle.

The emancipation proclamation did not actually free any slave; apparently, they were freed by something after the war? Lincoln did not mind violating the constitution. Lincoln did not consider the Black man his equal.

If man solves a problem, he creates other problems. Man was not told to solve problems; man was told to cope.

Arrogance corrupts power; power in itself does not corrupt.

Happiness is a state of the soul. Happiness does not come from the outside to stimulate. A person might do something nice for you and you may appreciate it and respond. People who have an unhappy soul cannot be made happy.

Compatibility is always a major issue. 2 people who have inner happiness getting married; that is being compatible. If you marry an unhappy woman, count on it, she will make you miserable. Women who are basically unhappy love to nag. She can marry the greatest guy in the world. He can promise to make her happy and she can think that he will make her happy. They cannot cope with marriage.

Now, 2 people who are happy can marry and make it. If 1 of the 2 is unhappy, it is all over, but the screaming and shouting, the tearing the door off the hinges, etc.

If she nags and screams and belongs in an asylum, then you need to cope; you cannot solve this problem. Marriage counselors ought not to be allowed to collect money for their services; maybe it is okay to get paid for listening to those 2.

Gate 16 put half of practical theology in place. The arrogance of unhappiness gives nothing and demands everything. The answer to this is, cope. Learn doctrine and cope. For the unbeliever, it is his honor.

David is about to go down to the eastern slope of the Mount of Olives, and he will be vulnerable to attack at that time. Ahithophel will request to make a night attack, and then he promised to only go into the camp and kill David. David here, is vulnerable to a night attack. This is a brilliant attack of Ahithophel.

All of this time, David is happy. Disaster comes and the absence of things does not make you unhappy. The loss of whatever it is does not make you unhappy. When you are minus these things, you still have the Lord.

David was back in Jerusalem and he had great prosperity. But this change does not affect his happiness. The opposition does not make him unhappy on the Mount of Olives.

Happiness is in your soul.

Humility and Advancement in the Plan of God

1. You have to be humble to take in doctrine. No matter how hard Bob studies and delivers, his ministry is of no benefit to those who are arrogant. Concentration is focused on the content of doctrine, and not on the personality of the communicator.
2. Without advancing in the plan of God, there is no happiness.
3. Humility is required to advance in the plan of God. God teaches the humble His way. Humility and happiness go together.
4. The greatest talent and ability is neutralized by interlocking systems of arrogance.
5. The mechanics of prosperity are inevitably related to humility and happiness.
6. Under God's plan only the humble and happy succeed.

Psalm 25:9 The humble [grace orientated] He will guide by means of justice; and the humble [grace oriented] He will teach His way.

631_0417

Article which quotes John Stewart Mill on liberty. Our society is moving toward plunder. Those who have worked hard are being exploited and plundered by an immoral bureaucracy and government. Men can impose artificial structures upon society, but there are laws which function, no matter what man does. 4 axioms: (1) we live in a world of scarcity. (2) Man's insatiable appetite. There are never enough resources to supply all of our wants; only limited means for satisfying them. (3) we must constantly make choices; that is the freedom factor and the Angelic Conflict factor. (4) We all want more for less.

Allocating limited resources to many groups. Rapid growth of socialist societies. Our loss freedoms have been the destruction of private property. Private property determines whether man will be free or enslaved.

Contrasting the socialistic society with the capitalistic society. The socialistic idea has never been defined by the very ones who defined it. There have been glimpses of socialism but no careful rendering of it has been laid out. Many Russians have money to spend, but there is nothing on the shelves. Their option is to steal it from those who produce stuff, like Japan or the U.S.

Socialist fantasy, which is the cause of many wars. A political elite which establishes itself as sovereign over all. Problems of production; they cannot produce.

Psalm 25:1 To You, O Jehovah, I lift up my soul.

Psalm 25:2 O my God, I trust in You; do not let me be ashamed [confused], let not my enemies triumph [gloat] over me.

Psalm 25:3 Yea, let none who wait on You be ashamed [all of those who have confidence in You will not be put to shame]; let them be ashamed who sin without cause [they will be confused, those who are treacherous without a cause].

Psalm 25:4 Make me know [Teach me] Your ways, O Jehovah; teach [train] me Your paths.

Psalm 25:5 Lead me in Your truth [Guide me with your doctrine], and teach me; for You are the God of my salvation; on You I wait all the day long [all day long, I have confidence in You].

Psalm 25:6 Remember, O Jehovah, Your tender mercies [compassions] and Your loving-kindnesses [grace]; for they are from eternity.

Psalm 25:7 Do not remember the sins of my youth, or my rebellings [my defection]; according to Your mercy [grace] remember me for Your goodness' sake [because of Your good; because of Your plan], O Jehovah.

Psalm 25:8 Good and honorable is Jehovah; therefore He will instruct sinners in the way.

Psalm 25:9 The humble [grace orientated] He will guide by means of justice; and the humble [grace oriented] He will teach His way.

David has gone up the Mount of Olives and he is looking back, and thinking the words of this psalm.

This is the kaph file. A new scale of values is necessary for new circumstances or counterinsurgency. It is related to eternal security. Neither shall anyone pluck them out of my hand. Our ability to perceive, categorize and to organized are all a part of the picture.

God and Truth

1. God's plan
2. God's policy is related to God's plan.
3. God's truth exists in 3 categories.

4. God is infinite without boundary or imperfection. The infinity of God includes all of the essence of God, united in the Person of the Godhead. In order for infinite God to communicate to finite minds, truth has to be reduced to categories.
5. God cannot sin, tempt, solicit to sin or sponsor sin.
6. Since God is veracity, He cannot be complicated by ignorance. The arrogance of ignorance results in the rejection of truth.
7. Rejection of divine truth in 3 categories builds scar tissue on the soul so the arrogant and the ignorant always believe the lie.
8. This is why David's opposition in the revolution accepted lies as truth. If the general public rejects the truth and the laws of divine establishment, then scar tissue produces strong delusion, and they automatically believe the lie. Those who reject truth immediately believe the propaganda lie. They are under strong delusion and they have entered into the arrogance of ignorance.
9. God has infinite power. The divine motive is for His Own glory, and He claims this for His ultimate glory.

More Points on God and Truth

1. Man can say he speaks the truth; God can say He is the truth.
- 2.
3. Every truth and every form of knowledge eternally dwells.
4. With regards to human history, God knows every thought and action.
5. God fed the facts of history into divine decrees.
6. These facts include lies and truth; honorable deeds and evil deeds, true and false decisions, only truth originates from God.
7. God is the source of truth. God punishes the false.
8. Only divine truth can advance the believer
9. and that which is false hinders the believer.
10. Therefore the arrogance of ignorance is that false system of thought which is detrimental to the believer.

We are eternally grateful to Israel for the Mosaic Law; and to God for giving them the Mosaic Law. Israel had a phenomenal heritage in law and civilization, when many of our ancestors were hanging out worshiping trees.

The Mosaic Law

1. The decalogue is designed to define freedom. Murdering someone deprives someone else of their volition. You will not covet deprives a person of his property and privacy.
2. Codex #2 is the spiritual law. Soteriology and Christology. All of the training aides point toward Jesus Christ and the reveal various aspects of the work of Jesus Christ. The Levitical offerings, the Holy days, the Tabernacle, etc.

3. Codex #3 is the establishment code. The laws of divine establishment and they run the gammed from social life to political life to authority. It is a proper balance of freedom and authority. Legitimate taxation. Criminal law; law enforcement; laws of evidence; principles of punishment; free enterprise and business, rejecting socialism. It rejects equality and equality of outcomes. No equality even in heaven. We are free to accept or to reject doctrine. There will be rewards for some and only a resurrection body for others. Equality can only exist in an oppressive socialist state, and the political elite are never as low as the rest. If you cannot resolve the problem, then you cope.

Guarding the doctrines of the Lord is perception and concentration.

As goes the pivot, so goes the nation. If the fifth cycle of discipline is administered, then the spin off is wiped out. If the pivot is large enough, it will act as a stabilizer.

Psalm 25:10 All the paths of Jehovah are grace and truth [3 categories of \[3 categories of truth\]](#) to those who keep His covenant and His testimonies.

Lamed file, and the original letter was an oxgoad, which is discipline. David is still alive because God has pardoned him. Because of Your name, O Lords. Security is settled; now it is a part of handling the revolution.

To forgive; to pardon. David was involved with many of the 16 interlocking systems of arrogance. Guilt complex is a sign of arrogance.

There Is an Elliptical Structure

1. David is grateful, indicating great capacity for love and life.
2. David is explaining the fact that he has failed. David cannot go into a guilt complex or sulk just because he has failed. A general may fail. A guilt complex is inability to think under pressure. Courage is the ability to think under pressure. Guilt complex is a series of sins related to arrogance. As long as you are alive, there is no reason to quit. Admiral Stockdale is a good example of this. 8 years in a Vietnam POW camp. He had far greater moral courage under pressure. He is one of our greatest Americans at this time. God does not deal in absurdities, so a guilt complex is an absurdity to God. It would be stupid for a surgeon to put down his instruments and say, "I have sinned; I am not worthy of being a surgeon."

God has forgiven David his sin. David emphasizes the fact of a doctrinal conclusion. He is in control of the situation. The leader who is not in control of himself is not in control of his battalion.

David's sin and failure is great; and God's integrity is far greater and His plan is far more important. No believer can continue in phrase 2 when out of fellowship with God.

Psalm 25:11 For Your name's sake, O Jehovah, pardon my iniquity [forgive my sin; or, You have forgiven my sin]; for it is great.

Paragraph 4 is turning cursing into blessing, vv. 12–15.

Mem file. The demonstrative pronoun refers to a specific category. Ha ish. Who is that person fearing/respecting the Lord.

David began by respecting doctrine. He developed capacity for love. Categories of love. Some of these areas became his undoing due to arrogance. Doctrine has caused him to understand who and what Christ is. Fear is used here with the idea of occupation with Christ.

The question is rhetorical; David is the one saying that he is that person.

We are in the main file of v. 12.

July 1980 Reader's Digest "Have Astronomers Found God?" The writer is an agnostic in religious matters. The universe had a sharply defined beginning. The Big Bang theory is, we live in an expanding universe, and galaxies are moving away from us at enormous speeds. Everything is moving away from a center. If we trace these galaxies, we find that they go back 20 million years? I may have the time wrong. Might be 20 billion. In Genesis, the events described are sudden. Some scientists are unhappy that there was a beginning for the universe. Astronomical evidence suggests that the Big Bang Theory is the most accurate. Galaxies moving away at a million miles per hour. Red shift indicates a dramatic movement of these galaxies. When one guy presented this early on, the members stood up and cheered, which is quite rare. 2 years later, Albert Einstein published his equations of relativity. Einstein did not realize that his equations suggested an expanding universe; and he made a school boy's error, dividing by zero, which kept him from moving further. Friedmont discovered his mistake, who sent him a new solution. 1923, Einstein acknowledged his double error. Signs of irritation began to reappear among the scientists. Einstein did not like a universe which blew up. It irritated him, which was a curious reaction to mathematical formulas. It has theological ramifications. There is order in the universe and man could discover it.

"For the scientist who has lived by his faith in the power of reason, the story ends like a bad dream. He has scaled the mountains of ignorance; he is about to conquer the highest peak; as he pulls himself over the final rock, he is greeted by a band of theologians who have been sitting there for centuries." - Robert Jastrow (1925 - 2008)

Hubble is in all of this, and he built a huge telescope and he measured speeds and locations of various galaxies; some were moving at 100 million mph. In 1929, he discovered Hubble's law. The farther away a galaxy is, the faster it is moving.

Some scientists asked, what came before the beginning? Others asked, who is the prime mover? "Understanding the universe is incomplete without the first mover."

There is this faint glow of radiation. The entire universe appears to be the source. They seem to have stumbled across one of the mysteries of the universe. It began as a fireball, and the radiation would never dissipate.

The Big Bang Theory is the opposite of evolution. There has been a response of the scientific mind. One scientist, "I would like to reject the Big Bang Theory, but I have to accept the evidence." Science does not like the idea that there is something which they cannot explain something with the known laws of physics. That means that science has lost control. Science has proven that the universe started all at one. Now they are hard-pressed to explain this.

The theologians always accept, In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth. As science is about to scale that great mountain, he finds, sitting there, already, the theologians.

You can only have thoughts that you personally understand.

Psalm 25:1 To You, O Jehovah, I lift up my soul.

Psalm 25:2 O my God, I trust in You; do not let me be ashamed [confused], let not my enemies triumph [gloat] over me.

Psalm 25:3 Yea, let none who wait on You be ashamed [all of those who have confidence in You will not be put to shame]; let them be ashamed who sin without cause [they will be confused, those who are treacherous without a cause].

Psalm 25:4 Make me know [Teach me] Your ways, O Jehovah; teach [train] me Your paths.

Psalm 25:5 Lead me in Your truth [Guide me with your doctrine], and teach me; for You are the God of my salvation; on You I wait all the day long [all day long, I have confidence in You].

Psalm 25:6 Remember, O Jehovah, Your tender mercies [compassions] and Your loving-kindnesses [grace]; for they are from eternity.

Psalm 25:7 Do not remember the sins of my youth, or my rebellings [my defection]; according to Your mercy [grace] remember me for Your goodness' sake [because of Your good; because of Your plan], O Jehovah.

Psalm 25:8 Good and honorable is Jehovah; therefore He will instruct sinners in the way.

Psalm 25:9 The humble [grace orientated] He will guide by means of justice; and the humble [grace oriented] He will teach His way.

Psalm 25:10 All the paths of Jehovah are grace and truth 3 categories of [3 categories of truth] to those who keep His covenant and His testimonies.

Psalm 25:11 For Your name's sake, O Jehovah, pardon my iniquity [forgive my sin; or, You have forgiven my sin]; for it is great.

The status quo of those suffering for blessing is humility. General status quo is very important. The status quo is unbearable. However, so much suffering was due David, that God had to break it down into installments. There are 4 installments to David's discipline. There is an interim, or special doctrinal training needed for this or that.

Faith reaches doctrinal conclusions so that faith is in control of the situation. We will see the greatest leadership under David. Logistical administration is put upon the revolution, and revolutionaries are generally incompetent.

David has a large number of options, once he crosses the fords of the Jordan. David will be able to pick his own place for strategical decisions.

Ittai the Gittite will join him and become one of his key commanders.

2Sam. 15–18 will be easier to understand once we go through David's thinking. God has given us narrative in order to understand what if we have war this year, we will have revolution. Our colossal national arrogance demands it. Those in our White House could not get there unless there were a lot of stupid people and arrogant people voting for them.

Authority-orientation is necessary. And the authority of Bible doctrine must be recognized. Eventually, you will come to recognize the authority of God. Bible doctrine is the mind of Christ and the revelation of Who and What the Lord is. We develop our capacities from this.

The authority of doctrine is a primary motivation. Persistent motivation results in persistent perception of Bible doctrine. And that leads to the various capacities.

You begin with humility but you end with prosperity. Humble Hushai will overcome the arrogance of Absalom. Arrogance comes in many forms; of unhappiness, boredom (passive unhappiness). Raising hell, finding the right people, etc. is a part of the lust pattern.

Yara means to show, to instruct. Knowledge is the environment for thinking.

We all have free will and we make our own bed. Some use our volition to make the wrong choices. The more we make bad choices, the more we limit our choices.

James 4:6 God makes war on the arrogant and he gives grace to the humble. Once you are in interlocking systems of arrogance, you run out of choices. In the arrogance of ignorance, you run out of choices.

We have chosen over and over again to vote for stupid men to run our government, and they, in arrogance, say, "We will solve your problems." They pass laws and destroy our choices. We will discover that our entire personality is in a computer holding our entire personality. Freedom is only self-perpetuating when we made choices, good or bad. When you run out of choices.

Knowledge is the environment for thinking. There will be a reign of terror and our choices will be limited. We will be subject to arrogance greater than our own. Like a woman about to be raped by 10 soldiers in her home.

Knowledge of doctrine give syou an environment for thinking. You will be destroyed by the next national crisis. When people make choices which limit their choices, they bring out the death of the client nation.

These chapters are recorded in the canon so that we can recognize the time in which we live, even before the situation breaks.

Even in the middle of a revolution; with doctrine in the soul, you can make some good choices. The opposite of "Better red than dead;" which puts you under a self-imposed tyranny.

Psalm 25:12 [What man is he who fears Jehovah? He shall teach \[instruct\] him in the way that he shall choose.](#)

Nun file. 14th letter. The concept of logistical grace blessing, which is exploited. The holiness and integrity of God. Logistical grace blessing and supergrace blessing are imputed from the justice of God to the indwelling righteousness of God.

The great myth is tithing for blessing. For 10% of your income, God will bless you. The righteousness of God is the home or target for all logistical grace blessing. If you are positive toward Bible doctrine, then logistical grace blessing turns into supergrace blessing. Knowledge is the environment for thinking.

We must have an environment for our thinking. Logistical grace is very important. Even in an environment of no freedom, thinking is the best way to deal with it.

What will follow is a great period of prosperity, in the reign of Solomon.

Our economy is beginning to get worse and the government will step in and try to solve it. If we do not solve it, the government tells us, it will get worse. But things have to get worse in order for us to go back to free enterprise. Ability is no longer developed; people can get by today without hard work, which limits productivity. David is in the midst of the greatest disaster in his life. He is in the 4th installment of his discipline. He has lost every possession which he ever owned. Right now, he is broke. He is in the basement of a basement. So, is David unhappy? He is under maximum pressure; Qal imperfect of lun. This means to spend the night, to continue followed by in prosperity.

David is a believer in [Y] and he has just made a momentous decision by shifting into his other scale of values. A mature believer has a alternate scale of values. There is a scale of values for prosperity. Category #2 blessing. He walks out on millions of dollars of possession, wardrobe, wine cellar, castle; gifts from all over the world. Walked out and did not look back. David walks out on this scale of values. In the transition, he is now in operation abased. David is still alive under logistical grace, and that is the environment for choosing. This is why Bob does not counsel any more. The worse thing Bob can do is counsel us; best thing he can do is teach us. We are to take doctrine in our souls into adversity. We must be able to operate on what we think, not upon what Bob thinks.

God honors His Word in us. He will give us the logistical support to take this word and make choices.

Psalm 25:13 His soul shall dwell at ease; and his seed shall inherit the earth.

David Is in Supergrace

1. David is in [z]
2. The believer in [z] receives blessing.
3. The believer enjoys prosperity in time of blessing and in time of historical disaster. The flexibility of being able to shift from one scale of values to another. Doctrine must be at the top of the scale of values in prosperity and in adversity. Ahithophel during time of prosperity was one of the great men of the land. There is loyalty as a virtue and honor and a man of great integrity. He will shift gears to his adversity scale of values. He will do things, in prosperity, would be considered sin. Knowledge is the environment for thinking. David carries his prosperity in his soul. Doctrine does not add any weight to one's pact.
4. Some categories of historical disaster involve the loss of some things.
5. The believer must have 2 sets of values. Perception of doctrine is spiritual growth and 2 scales of values. A friend of Bob's has set up a bunker around his wine cellar. We have to be very flexible when it comes to disaster. In an instant, we must make a choice.

David will have 2 sons by Bathsheba. Both the legal and the real lines are involves in the humanity of our Lord. Ahithophel is the prime leader and the only one with a good plan for the revolution.

Samek file. This connotes a fulcrum or a support. Originally, this looked. A fulcrum girls us leverage. The connotation is that doctrine provides a fulcrum by which we have several for adversity.

We begin with the counsel of the Lord. It takes a good cool wave to cool down the ardor. When they say, "I love you" then a decision must be made. If you make the wrong choice, you run out of freedom. You cannot make anyone happy. The handsomest and most personal, etc. cannot make another happy. You must have happiness in your own soul. You make yourself happy by your own soul.

The counsel of the Lord belongs to those who respect Him. True love is respect; not emotion, but respect. Emotion is a byproduct and an expression of legitimate or illegitimate whatever.

Fear, here, means respect. It is far better to be respect by a woman than to be loved by one. Emotion is like quicksilver; the more you squeeze it, the more rapidly it disappears.

The establishment segment of the Jewish pivot.

Psalm 25:14 [The secret of Jehovah is with those who fear Him; and He will show \[teach\] them His covenant.](#)

David has a right to expect deliverance; the ayin file which is a reference to the eye; it refers to David's perspective. Now David is away from his normal circumstances of blessing. He does not even have shoes on his feet.

David no longer has his castle, his wealth his fame; but there is one thing which he has on the Mount of Olives. Jesus Christ is the God of Israel.

There is no historical disaster or any problem too great for the plan of God. We cope and God solves. Sometimes God removes difficulties and sometimes He perpetuates it. Because of rebound, the cursing is turned to blessing, but he had so much discipline saved up that God needed to break it up into installments.

God promises that nothing will be unbearable. The purpose is blessing.

Psalm 25:15 [My eyes are ever \[continually\] toward Jehovah; for He shall pluck my feet out of the net.](#)

2Samuel 15 Psalm 25:16–17 July 4th 1980 Conference 72David 631_0420

Who knew before Sun Zu? The answer is David.

We are going to be dealing with all of the counterinsurgency groups today.

Revision of the schedule. This study will help us to understand why we lost the war in Vietnam, which failure can be placed up some people in very high places.

15 medals of honor to the 36th division (?).

Medal of Honor James Logan from Texas. Medals are given out unfairly, and often for Texans, who are given medals inferior to that which they should have received.

There are 5 psalms which help us to determine how to understand several difficult passages in the Word of God. We have noted Psalm 61–64.

Amer is translated to say but it has about 25 different meanings, which include to interrogate, to think.

You can only have thoughts which you personally understand. Doctrine resident in the soul is the environment for good decisions. Some things are solvable within the laws of divine establishment. However, many things cannot be solved; we are to learn how to cope and God solves.

Reading the translation does not mean anything until you have it explained. Bob tells us to get Romans and to get David. Without those 2 studies, you are not up to date.

Ittai made the decision to go with David and David said okay. Hushai the Archite popped out of the bushes and David sent him back, setting up a spy system.

Many of us have peculiar ideas about what is right and what is wrong.

Under historical disaster, you sometimes must walk out on great prosperity and material blessings.

Also, there are circumstances where you do undercover and spy work.

Pe is the mouth. This marks the beginning of David's prayer. It will begin the revolution.

Koph is the back of the head, and this letter is omitted. It represents ignorance.

The arrogance of ignorance is the great problem. This is gate 15 and it is closely related to the arrogance gate 2.

Crusader movements, like the abolitionists. There are some great villains in American history like Wm Lloyd Garrison, who would tear up the constitution. The arrogance of ignorance caused us to love the war in Vietnam.

God cannot be complicated by sin or by absurdities. God cannot bless sinners. God has found a way to bless sinners. God makes war against the arrogance of ignorance. This is why client nation USA is in jeopardy today.

Strong delusion, ignorance are all a part of the arrogance of ignorance. They would believe the lie before they would believe the truth.

The arrogance of ignorance is combined with the arrogance of power. Infinity marks all that God is and all that He does. There is never a time, billions of years ago, that God was not absolute truth and perfectly motivated.

Rightly dividing the Word of Truth requires us to distinguish between a true fact of history and the truth of God. God honors truth in history. Mature believers have the truth. Deliverance comes through truth. You will know the truth and the truth will set you free.

Arrogance is the corrupting factor of power and authority. Satan is the ruler of this world and power is still subject to great corruption. The arrogance of ignorance which rejects truth.

The Qal imperative of turn. The son, Absalom, is the defacto king; David is the dejury king. He is responsible for thousands of people who are following him. They will need food and protection.

Winston Churchill is probably the main reason we have not lost entirely in the unseen war. The President of the United States has put out a CIA policy which demands that we will lose the unseen war. The nation which wins the unseen war, sabotage, espionage, etc. wins the conventional war.

Humility + objectivity + flexibility = David

This prayer begins now and moves all the way to the end of this psalm. Hushai the Archite, who says he is lonely and under pressure. Jesus Christ controls history. If David is successful in his withdrawal from Jerusalem and can maneuver in Gilead, then he can win. But he needs information in order to make the decisions which will allow him to move this way.

Lee, with all of his genius, did not have facts. Winfield Scott Hancock was a great union soldier who kept Lee in the dark. No matter how great the mind, the mind is no better than the information it has. The same is true of the believer in Jesus Christ. We may be no better than the content of doctrine in our souls. David was great because of humility. He was great, not because of being a mature believer, but because he was able to apply the various rationales. I assume that would indicate that you are a mature believer.

Right now, David is blind. He does not know the situation. David has no way of knowing where he is going to go. He needs information in order to determine where to go next. David will lure Absalom and his forces into this terrain.

All of the doctrine in his soul is useless until he has the information in order by which to make decisions. People think that Sun Zu figured this all out, but David knew this 500 years before Sun Zu.

Our mercies, which is logistical grace support, are renewed every day. Being lonely in the high echelon of command is normal.

There are those who go into the ministry because someone else who makes it look easy, and they have no real preparation. What the ministry lacks today is academics. Any seminary which places emphasis upon Christian Ed is dead. Talbot Seminary is probably the best and Berachah's friend in Tulsa.

Chafer said he would rather spend 20 years preparing for 1 good year in the ministry; rather than 1 year of predation for 20 lousy years in the ministry.

Success means loneliness. And some of us want to enjoy life too much to be successful. It is still a lonely life. David's need to learn Bible doctrine and to apply it is apparent in this passage. Now he needs to apply it. If the Lord does not provide victory, then there is no victory. You can lose a lot of battles and yet win the war. You can win many battles and still lose the war. Jesus Christ controls history. The Russians are ready for war, right now, right this moment, and far more prepared than we are.

Jesus Christ controls history and if the Lord does not provide victory, there is no victory. If God does not deliver, there is no deliverance. This describes David leaving Jerusalem, climbing over the Mount of Olives, and going over the Ford of the Jordan. If the Lord does not give you victory, then you are defeated.

Put a .44 in the hands of someone who is untrained, and they can't hit the sky with it. However, but it in the hand of trained expert, and he can use it; one of the finest handguns in the world.

David must use the weapon of prayer and use it properly.

Psalm 25:16 [Turn to me, and be gracious to me, for I am wasted and afflicted \[lonely\].](#)

Tsadeh file, which is the 18th letter. There is a handle and a sickle to cut down something. This refers to David reaping what he has sown during the days enmeshed in 4 installments of discipline. Faith reached out and claimed a promise. The sins he confessed have already forgiven. He is now in control of the situation through the control of the spirit through operation Bathsheba. So great is that discipline, that He had to divide it up into 4 increments. He handled increment 1 fine, did not so good with 2, failed 3 and then 4 was his finest hour. He will enjoy the greatest prosperity that he has ever known. The 10 years of his life will be great. A half century of great blessing to follow. The word profit is an honorable word. People conduct business honorably.

David is reaping what he sows and, he will reap blessing out of disaster. Only God can turn disaster into blessing. Cursing is turned to blessing.

The troubles of my heart have expanded; the pressures of my right lobe have increased. David is facing national disaster. He is dealing with 15 years of discipline. David has doctrine and he is thinking.

David has recovered from interlocking systems of arrogance and he is humble. He then adds yatsa, which means to go out. Here, it is the Hiphil.

David asks to be brought out with greater blessing than he has known in all of his life. This is his prayer request as a mature believer. This tells us that David is ready to go with this disaster. The thoughts of one man will change history.

David is looking for more than simple deliverance. This prayer request is compatible with logistical grace rationale and divine establishment rationale. David is petitioning for God to turn his cursing into blessing. Blessing on top of deliverance is the ultimate function of deliverance. The prosperity of humility always begins in great disaster and it manifests the wisdom and glory of God.

Psalm 25:17 The troubles of my heart are enlarged [the pressures on my right lobe have increased]; bring me out of my distresses [disasters].

The red chart of confusion, which Bob asks everyone to haul out, so that he can correct it. 2 Saturday sessions followed by a military communion rehearsal.

The principle is, problems created by arrogance and ignorance can only be solved by God. You assume because you can solve problems in your profession, social life or business, that you can solve national disaster problems. You are wrong. Problem solving belongs to God. David will cope, but God will solve the problems. You might be able to solve problems within the framework of your business, etc., it does not follow that you can solve the problem of disaster. God has given a certain amount of personal problems to alert us to this principle.

Interlocking systems of arrogance, which is degeneracy, and the rejection of 3 categories of truth, which is strong delusion. We cope; God solves. Success does not start on the battlefield; it ends there. Winning a battle does not mean winning the war or solving a national crisis. God solves national problems; not people. It is arrogance to think otherwise. We may think that we have a solution, but we have simply entered into interlocking systems of arrogance. Man copes with disaster; God solves.

You must think spiritually and you must think doctrinally. We get so wrapped up in the problem and figuring out the solution, that we do not help. If you are not familiar with the plan of God rationale or the essence of God rationale, you are not qualified to face disaster; you are, at best, qualified to fail. Your personal problems are designed to be an FTX—a field training exercise—for national disaster.

Jesus Christ controls history. Loneliness does not mean the absence of people. The greater the responsibilities, the greater the pressures. There may have only been 50 people who think like David thought, and if you think straight, you can be lonely. It is not the absence of people; it is the uniqueness of responsibility and the uniqueness of thinking.

Jesus Christ controls history. David was alone because of his authority and because of his thinking.

It is your thinking which makes or breaks you. David did not think as many of us think. He thinks in terms of doctrine.

I will do my best and think doctrine, no matter who is president, no matter what is going on. We are looking for a deliverer; we are looking for a messiah. The Jews had the messiah and they missed it because they were looking for someone to deliver them from the Romans. No human being is going to deliver.

The federal government has all but destroyed free enterprise. Being a police officer today is a nightmare; same for being in the military. There is no clarity of thinking in the military. Everyone thinks in a little department and no one sees in the big picture. Every man who is great in a profession overcomes all of it by his thinking; and sometimes by rejecting esprit de corp.

We used to say, "If you walk to a war, you will never get there." is what the calvary would say.

You may start out with  $2x = 10$  and therefore  $x = 5$ ; but you don't stay there all of your life if you are going to be a mathematician. There are other great nesses in other areas, and they must be all brought together. No war is won by one unit or by one type or an organization.

Some of you are making bad decisions because your thinking is wrong to begin with. With all of David's greatness, it is ultimately the Lord's greatness that delivered him. It is almost ludicrous for someone to say, "This thing can save or that thing can save."

Admiral Stockdale coped with almost hopeless situations. He had something in his soul called thought. That is what brought Stockdale through all of this.

During the next month, we will pick up information that we have never been privy to before and this is because no one has ever studied this material. It will take us a month to cover this material, and the greatest commentators give it a few sentences.

We have one crisis, and economic one. There is another crisis going on; not much rain is coming down. Drought is always a beginning of God speaking to us. And if we can't cope with hot weather; then we cannot cope with any real disaster.

There is nothing fair about any of the military organizations or the police force. There is nothing fair about business. There is nothing fair in life.

You must advance in the atmosphere of incompetence, injustice, and isolated from your preconceived human prejudices.

David stood on the battlements of a fort; and everyone passes in review. You cannot lead resistance to the revolution with 1 corps. He had 3 corps.

The sons of the priests would be the spy couriers. David, before the sun goes down, will think in terms of 4 psalms. He thought acrostically. Later on, he brought this back into his mind, and reproduced it.

Bob reviews the passage:

Psalm 25:1 To You, O Jehovah, I lift up my soul.

Psalm 25:2 O my God, I trust in You; do not let me be ashamed [confused], let not my enemies triumph [gloat] over me.

Psalm 25:3 Yea, let none who wait on You be ashamed [all of those who have confidence in You will not be put to shame]; let them be ashamed who sin without cause [they will be confused, those who are treacherous without a cause].

Psalm 25:4 Make me know [Teach me] Your ways, O Jehovah; teach [train] me Your paths.

Psalm 25:5 Lead me in Your truth [Guide me with your doctrine], and teach me; for You are the God of my salvation; on You I wait all the day long [all day long, I have confidence in You].

Psalm 25:6 Remember, O Jehovah, Your tender mercies [compassions] and Your loving-kindnesses [grace]; for they are from eternity.

Psalm 25:7 Do not remember the sins of my youth, or my rebellings [my defection]; according to Your mercy [grace] remember me for Your goodness' sake [because of Your good; because of Your plan], O Jehovah.

Psalm 25:8 Good and honorable is Jehovah; therefore He will instruct sinners in the way [His modus operandi].

Psalm 25:9 The humble [grace orientated] He will guide by means of justice; and the humble [grace oriented] He will teach His way.

Psalm 25:10 All the paths of Jehovah are grace and truth [3 categories of truth] to those who keep His covenant and His testimonies.

Psalm 25:11 For Your name's sake [Because of Your person], O Jehovah, pardon my iniquity [forgive my sin; or, You have forgiven my sin]; for it is great. Prosperity continues in disaster. We must be able to walk away from possessions and material things.

Psalm 25:12 What man is he who fears Jehovah? He shall teach [instruct] him in the way that he shall choose.

Psalm 25:13 His soul shall dwell at ease [shall continue in prosperity]; and his seed shall inherit the land.

Psalm 25:14 The counsel of Jehovah is with those who respect Him; and He will show [teach] them His covenant.

It is right to kill in warfare. So, there is a different set of values in war. The greatest and most honorable people are those in counterinsurgency. What is ordinarily a sin, under counterinsurgency, is not a sin at all.

We have some clucks. "I'm in counterinsurgency" and they will use this line to justify everything that they do.

Psalm 25:15 My eyes are ever [continually] toward Jehovah; for He shall pluck my feet out of the net.

Psalm 25:16 Turn to me, and be gracious to me, for I am wasted and afflicted [lonely].

Psalm 25:17 The troubles of my heart are enlarged [the pressures on my right lobe have increased]; bring me out of my distresses [disasters].

Koph is the back of the head; the emotion; and there is nothing there for us. Don't let your pituitary ruin your thinking. Think with your frontal lobes; not with your pituitary.

Letter #20 is resh.

Qal imperative of ra'ah, which means look, see. The distress is the 4 installments of discipline. David has so much pressure from national adversity, that the discipline is over. He is where he declares this. His whole function; his greatest hour, is all out from under the end of his discipline. It took almost 15 years to get out from all of this discipline.

Qal imperative of nasa' and it means take way the punishment for all my sins.

David confessed his sins a long time ago. He is at a point where installment discipline is over and he needs absolute clarity in thinking. Lâmed means all of the punishment is completed, but the melody lingers on.

Cursing has been turned into blessing, and we are moving into David's finest hour.

Psalm 25:18 Look on my affliction [pressure] and my pain [distress], and forgive [take away the punishment for] all my sins.

Now David asks God to look at his enemies. Shimmei is the petty type. He is typical of an arrogant person who is incompetent and inefficient. He is totally inferior to David and he would probably run around crowing that he put David down.

Ahithophel and Absalom are 2 of David's enemies, and these are great men.

When a great man is down, his enemies increase and advance against him, like jackals against a wounded animal. People had nursed jealousy and hatred toward David for years and his enemies multiplied for many years, but they come out of the woodwork here.

The majority of people in this country are involved in interlocking systems of arrogance, and we, as a client nation, will pay for it. It is easy to blame the president, particular the one we have now; and the press because they have no morals; and to blame the Congress because they are arrogant; etc. It easy to find a patsy; a scapegoat. But we ought not to do this because we lose our humility, flexibility and objectivity. We can go "Damn this and damn that; damn the traffic." When you think that way, you are not thinking.

Bobby was following Bob home, and someone cut him off, and Bobby said, “you just have to realize, these people are arrogant.” Those involved in the arrogance complex have no capacity for life and no capacity for David’s good government.

Look at my pressure and my distress; take away the punishment for my sins. Look at my enemies, who have multiplied.

the word for trust is the rabbit fleeing into the cleft of the rock so that something larger cannot get it.

Bob is going to read an article from Mademoiselle. I still think that it will take a man to make me happy. Although I know it’s foolishness, it has taken control of my life and I cannot get rid of this feeling of incompleteness. I think you know that no one can make you happy.

The woman who says, a man can make me happy is an idiot. Happiness is something that we weave for ourselves. As a psychiatrist, she says one thing which is right.

This Introduces Gate 16, the Gate of Arrogance of Unhappiness

1. Happiness is a state of soul.
2. A person might do something nice for us; and if we have happiness in our soul, we will be happy. Arrogance or self-centeredness or preoccupation with self.
3. People unhappy of soul stand around and expect everyone to make them happy.
4. No one or no thing can make you happy. People get married because their mate promises to make them happy.
5. One of the myths of life is that someone can make you happy.
6. For the believer in the Lord Jesus Christ, only doctrine resident in the soul can make you happy. This is through capacity for life, capacity for love, etc. When 2 believers are happy and married, they can make a go of it, even if they do not love one another. The idea that you must have some emotion is not necessarily true. If one is unhappy in his or her soul, their marriage can be miserable. The happy of soul needs to dominate the situation. You are either happy or unhappy because of what is in your soul, not because of who you married. RM/RW is the most distorted doctrine that Bob ever taught. If it’s your wife or gf, then just say so; don’t say, “This is my right woman.”

7. Arrogance gives nothing and demands everything. One of the great principles of leadership is sensitivity. Arrogant unhappiness gives nothing and demands everything.
8. For the unbeliever,
9. For the believer, happiness is all of this + Bible doctrine in the soul.
10. Because you already have doctrine in the soul, people can make you happy, because you respond to compatibility. You can enjoy people and you can enjoy your possessions. A new house, an old house, or any kind of a house can make you happy. The aristocrats spent 2000 years collecting things in a castle; and then we go over and buy all of it and haul it over to the US.
11. Only the arrogance of unhappiness erroneously assumes that people and possessions can make you happy.
12. Humility is the secret to happiness; arrogance is the basic cause for unhappiness. Arrogant people are unhappy people. Nothing makes them happy. Some have worked for a senior officer who was a workaholic and he spent all of his time making everyone unhappy. Lieutenants want to work 8 or 9 hours and go out and expend their youth. The man is a monster, but he is not a great leader. This is different than a dedicated person who works long hours.
13. "Let's remove that mule." Not sure what that is all about, but I guess it is a sound. You can spend a lifetime trying to make an arrogant wife happy (or husband), but nothing will make them happy. They stand around waiting for others to come to them to make them happy. Happinesses to those who keep knowing the sound of the trumpet (which is war).

Imputed righteousness or the home of imputed blessing. Psalm 31:7 John 17:13, 17 sanctify them in doctrine. Luke 11:27 is one of Bob's favorite women's lib passages. This is an arrogant woman who interrupts him with a few words of her own. "Happinesses to those who keep hearing and retaining the Word of God." Those with the arrogance of unhappiness generally have a guilt complex. Or a martyr complex. One tiny woman in the arrogance of unhappiness can cause great unhappiness to everyone around her. The arrogance of unhappiness. Humility of soul and a state of knowledge and thought. Knowledge is the environment for thinking. Poverty and wealth are perceived to be unequal. Suppose that all of the wealth was taken and split up. Would people be happy? Of course not. No one will make you happy. Happiness is what you know. I have come to know what it is to be in need. The power poured in is Bible doctrine.

When David was inside of interlocking systems of arrogance, he had a great castle and a great amount of wealth and a harem of beautiful women with 10 wives and twice that in mistresses. He had everything that you could associate with happiness.

You may think that this or that choice is the key, but nothing will make you happy; nothing. No travel, wealth, greatness, sex, etc. None of it will make you happy.

Psalm 25:20 Keep my soul [You have guarded my life], and deliver me [now, deliver me]; let me not be ashamed [do not let me become confused (in my mind)], for I put my trust in You [do not let me become disturbed in my thinking because I have placed my trust in You].

Next, we have the tau file, which is the last letter of the alphabet and it is signature. Or, the bottom line. Coat of arms. David has honor and integrity. He starts out with the word integrity. Tôm, which means integrity. Integrity + loyalty as a virtue is loyalty to doctrine. Integrity versus loyalty as an evil. This is loyalty to a person. This is dishonor.

Jashar is the next word, and it means upright, honor. David recognizes that he will cope through the faith rest drill.

There is confidence in the big rope, and a small strand put into this rope takes on the strength of the rope. This is the strongest word for faith rest.

Psalm 25:21 Let integrity and uprightness [honor] keep me; for I wait on You.

The enemies of Israel are its own people. The same is true of the US. The real enemy is the arrogant American, under strong delusion.

Knowledge is the environment for thinking. Doctrine resident in the soul. David will make decisions based upon doctrine, which will continue to open up doors for more and more decisions. If your decisions are based upon doctrine, then you have the freedom for many other decisions. What David is thinking of will result in 50 years of great blessing to Israel.

Psalm 25:22 Redeem Israel, O God, out of all his troubles [enemies].

Military communion.

Sun Tzu is considered to be the greatest military geniuses. Also Ghengis Khan, the most underrated military commander of all time. He understood Europe and had a great network of spies. The Chinese were great cartographers. Great and accurate maps from the medieval times.

Sun Tzu 5 Points of Offensive Strategy.

1. Human moral
2. Weather
3. Military doctrine and counsel
4. The calculation of numerical strength
5. Equity in the administration in rewards and punishment and training.

He who succeeds in conquering his enemies succeeds before they even meet to do battle. The worst policy is to attack cities, which was the medieval concept of war. Attack cities only when there is no alternative.

When 10x the enemy's strength, surround him; 5x attack. 2x, divide them up; equally match, engage him. If your troops do not equal his, then avoid direct contact, and wait to find a soft spot. If I am weak and my enemy is weak, then I do not engage. This is what David did, 500 years before Sun Tzu.

No evil is greater than commands from the civilian sovereign from the court. Let the general in command handle it. Benevolence and righteousness may be used to govern a state but not to rule an army. The sweeter the politician, the worse he is as a military leader he is. The discipline used for the military is not the same as that used for civilians.

5 Circumstances to Predict Victory

1. If you know when to fight and when not to, that
2. If you understand how to use large and small forces. Sometimes the weak can master the strong. Napoleon did not lose the war in Russia; he lost in Spain.
3. If Sun Tzu analyzed David, he and David would have made a great team. Create an invincible army and waits for the right time to attack. A bad general, who maneuvers enough will make a mistake.
4. To rely on rustics and do not prepare is the greatest of crimes.
5. To be prepared for any contingency is the greatest of virtues.
6. Put a reign on an able general and then ordering him to win is ridiculous.
7. Know the enemy and know yourself and you will win.

There are 5 sorts of secret agents who are employed the native (someone who is a citizen of the other country that you employ); the inside man, the double agent (enemy agents that we employ); the expendable agent (your own spies that you give false information; he is captured, tortured, and finally give it all up), the living agent (they seem to be dull, but they are strong of heart; able to endure hunger, cold, filth and humiliation; an agent who cannot handle humiliation is no good). There is no place where espionage cannot be used. You must know the name of the garrison commander and the entire staff. You must know all of those employed by the enemy.

Some Principles to Prepare Us for Samuel

1. National degeneracy invites national disaster. This is another sign of an unhealthy country.
2. Groups of rioting people. Authority arrogance provides the power for the revolution. Public opinion becomes a power without facts and without reason.
3. The principle of sin+arrogance = evil; human good + arrogance = evil.
4. Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution.

Revolution is the overthrow by violence of a duly constituted authority or an establishment and to replace the rulers in place and the type of government. Plot, machination, evil is the concept behind all revolutions. A revolutionary man seeks only evil. Psalm 64:4–5

Our revolution was not really a revolution. Seats in the House of Commons was denied. Therefore, this was a war for liberty. "Israel does not know me." Revolution is mental illness. The whole head is sick. Those involved in revolution are mentally ill.

Isaiah has many descriptions of it. If the general public is susceptible to the propaganda, then revolution occurs. If they are authority oriented, then they stay the revolution. General public has to be arrogant and under strong delusion. The incorruptibles are those who not taken in. When revolution starts a civil war, the issue is truth. Revolution is inevitable. Authoritarian government is different from a totalitarian government. The first is compatible with the laws of divine establishment.

Our treatment of the Shah of Iran, Ian Smith of Rhodesia, and Bob mentions others, is shabby. These are authoritarian figures and they are good men.

The 2nd Principle Is, God Has a Plan for the Believer in National Disaster.

1. National disaster does not change God's plan for the believer.
2. God's plan goes right on, though certain changes must occur in the believer's scale of values.
3. Therefore, the believer must have a scale of values for historical adversity just as he has one for normal times.
4. Every believer must have 2 scales of values. One for adversity and one for normal times. Believer must be in the state of humility. We must learn, if we are to be effective in an historical crisis, is flexibility. First approach in a crisis is survival. The Russians have millions after the 5 you want to take out. The idea of charge is stupid. When you have lost the initial advantage, you do not find the enemy and charge. You start thinking. There are so many Berachah types who want to take their .45 and get 7 (not unless they stand still for you). We need people with doctrine; not emotional jackasses needlessly sacrificing your lives. Ladies, why sacrifice your lives when you might live to kill a commissar.
5. Doctrine must be first in both scales of value. Need objectivity and flexibility.
6. Every believer must have maximum doctrine in the soul and he must avoid interlocking systems of arrogance so that he possesses humility and flexibility. When you choke up, you are inflexible and no good. It isn't the person who gets emotion and charges the enemy, but the person who thinks and stocks the enemy.
7. There are prosperity blessings and it is normal to have things and to enjoy them. That is normal times and a normal scale of values.
8. Once a disaster occurs, the believer must instantly move into a scale of values for a disaster. So you don't have to decide, what do you do with the yaucht.
9. The material things must be abandoned physically and abandoned mentally.

10. You may have to leave behind great material blessings just as David did. He left behind more than we will ever see. Remember, you have not lost the source of those blessings.
11. The flexibility demands that homes, cars, etc. must be abandoned to looting and destruction.
12. Many people are destroyed in catastrophe because people cannot shift gears to an adversity scale of values.
13. Biblical documentation is found in Philip. 4:17 I know how to live in prosperity and in difficulty. I can do all things through Christ Who keeps on pouring power into me.
14. Lying, cheating, fornicating, and killing are all parts of counterinsurgency.

Bob is going to give us one verse, and dedicate it to the hotshots and the arrogant. 2Sam. 17:14 we are about to launch into Hushai the Archite; "The advice of Hushai the Archite is better than the advice of Ahithophel." Absalom was thrown off by David's mole. The Lord sought to frustrate the counsel of Ahithophel. Hushai the Archite was a mature believer and he walked in and lied and deceived and he cheated, and it was not sinful.

It is a sin to lie, but Hushai deceived Absalom and it was not wrong. It is wrong to cause a person to commit suicide, but Hushai did it and it was not wrong. Absalom could not be beaten until Ahithophel was removed; and Ahithophel committed suicide. Hushai maneuvered him into suicide.

The Outline

1. The activation of the counterintelligence corps.
2. Hushai the establishment mole penetrates the Absalom staff.
3. The success the victory of counterinsurgency. 2Sam. 17:1-14
4. The ultimate victory of clandestine warfare. 2Sam. 17:15ff

2Samuel 15:31

72David

631_0424

We gave so little thought to the military, and yet put together an incredible army. The only thought here may have been, a large army can result in the overthrow of the government. Democracy often borders on anarchy.

The walls were painted a prison grey because too many people gave their input. Now, changes take about 3 minutes. Suppose the army ran based upon the opinion of everyone in the United States? It would be chaos. People successful in business or science cannot run an army. Whiz kids like McNamara are brilliant and know nothing about the military.

No large organization succeeds beyond the integrity and the honor of those who compose it. The problem is self righteous arrogance. In self righteousness, we have set up a stupid code, and we have eliminated any chance of developing intelligence. The CIA was founded in 1945 because we recognized that the KGB had declared war upon us. The Baptists do not understand this; the self righteous people in Washington do not understand it; the clandestine war

Once an attack is launched, you only have a few minutes to go with the computers or not. What saved us from a major war at that moment was a human being. We depend too much upon science. The very idea of lying and terror and deception confuse some; but these are valid under counterinsurgency. That is just as honorable to fight the dirty war behind the scenes as the up-front war. It just takes more character in order to wage such a war. When a liberal magazine prints the truth, it is time to notice. KGB is watching every minute (I think this is from Time?). KGB is not only fighting us, but it is used to keep watch over its own citizens. FBI is our internal organization; CIA is the external security.

Bob recommends A Wilderness of Mirrors. Some are villains guilty of this or that; and that is the problem for most people. We do not grasp this, but the Bible does. Lying is a sin to us and deception is wrong for us; lying is right for a CIA agent and deception is a good thing and honorable for a CIA agent. What is heroic in combat is criminal in peace.

Soviet spies in 1951 were thick in Washington D.C. The CIA failed to penetrate the Soviet Union. Jimmy Doolittle provided Ike with a 69 page report which told him that we were losing on the covert front. Doolittle suggested the intensification of CIA counterintelligence efforts. They are certain that there are KGB moles in the CIA. The CIA needs to become more ruthless. Doolittle is a fine, sweet gentleman and a former boxer in college.

The secret war remains as deceptive and as devious as ever.

2Sam. 15:31 And it was told David [this is an intelligence report], "Ahithophel is among the conspirators with Absalom." And David said [then David prayed], "O LORD, please turn the counsel of Ahithophel into foolishness [frustrate the counsel of Ahithophel]."

Ahithophel was David's secretary of state. He had a son named Eliam, who was a great general and David knighted him. He was a successful general in a successful army. Ahithophel became disenchanted with David when his granddaughter Bathsheba was raped and/or seduced and brought into his palace. He admired Uriah the Hittite, so that Ahithophel turned against David. He became the real leader of the Absalom revolution. His genius was never greater than planning, setting up, and moving the revolution forward.

His duty and oath as an officer (Eliam's) was greater than that of his father. He was a professional above all else. Freedom and security of this client nation depends upon the military.

Ahithophel was famous for his sagacity. David knew that Ahithophel could make or break the revolution. He was a brilliant man, a secretary of state, under Saul first and then under David. He knew the military as well as he knew the state department.

David prays to God to subvert Ahithophel's counsel. Bob hates hearing, "Yeah." He straightened out one kid at a conference, "It's yes, sir; not yeah." Dear Jesus is as blasphemous as the man upstairs; and O, Holy Ghost, that isn't prayer, that is insanity.

Go back to the concept of building. God the Father is the builder. Jesus Christ does the work. The Holy Spirit provides the energy. You might see something you don't like, but you don't speak to the electricity to fix it. You may or may not speak to the one doing the work; but, you will clear everything through the builder directly, the one who planned it and oversees the project.

Ahithophel wanted to pursue David immediately; and Hushai talked Absalom out of it.

Psalm 64 is the entire prayer of David and this is the first record of counterinsurgency, circa 1000 B.C.

Psalm 64:1 Listen to me, O God, as I offer my lament! /Protect my life from the enemy's terrifying attacks.

Psalm 64:2 Hide me from the plots of evil men, from the crowd of evildoers.

Psalm 64:3 They sharpen their tongues like a sword; they aim their arrow, a slanderous charge, Psalm 64:4 in order to shoot down the innocent<sup>8</sup> in secluded places. They shoot at him suddenly and are unafraid of retaliation.

Psalm 64:5 They encourage one another to carry out their evil deed. They plan how to hide snares, and boast, "Who will see them?"

Psalm 64:6 They devise unjust schemes; they disguise a well-conceived plot. Man's inner thoughts cannot be discovered.

Psalm 64:7 But God will shoot<sup>18</sup> at them; suddenly they will be<sup>19</sup> wounded by an arrow.

Psalm 64:8 Their slander will bring about their demise All who see them will shudder, Psalm 64:9 and all people will fear. They will proclaim<sup>24</sup> what God has done, and reflect on his deeds.

Psalm 64:10 The godly will rejoice in the LORD and take shelter in him. All the morally upright<sup>25</sup> will boast. We left David at the top of the Mount of Olives.

Hushai the Archite was out there 24 hours in advance; he knew what was going to happen. He was hidden from David. He knew how to blend with his environment. David moves up the summit and he does not even see his answer. This was a place where Canaanites used to worship. He picks a place where no one is going to look for him. Every person going over that hill did not see Hushai. No one spotted him. The organization went right by him and no one saw him.

Often the place of pressure becomes the place of blessing.

2Sam. 15:32 While David was coming to [approached] the summit, where God was worshiped [where people were accustomed to worshiping God], behold, Hushai the Archite came to meet him with his coat torn and dirt on his head.

1Chron 27:33 And Ahithophel was the king's counselor. And Hushai the Archite was the king's companion [friend].

These are the 2 more brilliant men in the kingdom, next to David and Joab, and one will side with David and one against him. Hushai is a personal friend of David's. Hushai was an aristocrat. Hushai will become the leader of the insurgency corps.

There is the humility and the flexibility to deal with this national disaster. Now, he is clearly David's friend because he has dust on his head and he has torn his robe in order to indicate his sympathy with David and with Israel. They have both walked out on their great wealth and prosperity.

Your wealth often must be instantly abandoned as you flee during a time of national disaster. Hushai has come away from Jerusalem with torn clothes, representing his change of scale of values. Every believer must have 2 scales of values. Some of you have gone out and bought some land and a farm and you carry weapons there; but just remember, that is a hobby and nothing more. The best laid plans of mice and men. It is okay if you want to do that, but that is not your deliverance. Your deliverance is the doctrine in your soul. It is the lightest package you can carry. It does not weigh anything. Even if you lose your life to the commies, you carry doctrine with you to heaven.

Hushai

1. Hushai is humble and flexible. You need the doctrine in your soul and you must be flexible. You must be free of the 16 gates of interlocking systems of arrogance. You may enter by one gate and they interlock with the others.
2. He has applied the logistical grace, plan of God rationales and has abandoned all of his worldly goods. He went from his prosperity scale of values to his adversity scale of values.
3. By ripping his robe and putting dust on his head, he demonstrates the flexibility of youth (and he is an old man).
4. Hushai had reached the summit long before David. He blended in so well that David's security and bodyguard did not catch him. There is no rear guard or front guard which caught Hushai. It takes an old man to skin the kids.
5. The local had no significance to Hushai. They allowed prejudice to make them inefficient. They do not go over into the heathen worship area and they miss Hushai the Archite.
- 6.
7. He is a wealthy and successful old man who abandoned all of his accumulated things, he has a greater capacity to appreciate the situation. The same capacity by which he enjoyed his wealth is the same capacity he applies to shift gears. He still had the source of his blessing. The material blessings are left behind, but the One

Who gave it is with Hushai. Little does he know, but he will return to his house. And he will become the first recorded mole in history.

You cannot shift gears to an emergency scale of values unless you have the doctrine in your soul. The content of your thought must be doctrine. Hushai understood the 2 scales of values. Every now and again, he would take out this scale of values. Why do you think that you have disasters divorced from the rest of your life. This gives you a chance to rev up the generator to see if everything is still working. You can use the faith rest drill to put everything into working order.

Hushai could identify prosperity or adversity. Very few know adversity when they see it and many imagine it when it is not really there.

Hushai waits in a place of danger, a place that is usually avoided, and this place of danger is as safe as his drawing room in Jerusalem.

David has been thinking and praying; and Hushai has been thinking and not praying. Hushai is the most alert guy you will ever meet. He causes the leader of the revolution to commit suicide. Now, don't you drive anyone to suicide.

Dust on his head is not for a party in Jerusalem, but it represents his discarding the superficial possessions of prosperity.

Normally courageous people in disaster have a tendency to be impulsive and that sometimes leads to arrogance. As long as God gives us life, and as long as we can think, we must be flexible. Flexibility means that we might even have to cater to the revolutionaries in order to move up the ladder and to take out those who are more important.

Remember, ladies, the advice you got on rape? Bob took up a whole week on rape, but I don't know which study.

If God gives you life then survival is the issue.

Hushai does not approach David saying, "look at me, David, I have a torn last suit. And the revolutionists are tearing up all of my possessions back home." He does not whine.

Bob will stop and explains about covering one's mouth when yawning.

2Samuel 15

72David

631_0425

Bob reads back from v. 31:

2Sam. 15:31 And it was told David [this is an intelligence report], "Ahithophel is among the conspirators with Absalom." And David said [then David prayed], "O LORD, please turn the counsel of Ahithophel into foolishness [frustrate the counsel of Ahithophel]."

2Sam. 15:32 While David was coming to [approached] the summit, where God was worshiped [where people were accustomed to worshipping God], behold, Hushai the Archite came to meet him with his coat torn and dirt on his head.

Bob cannot recommend a beginning Hebrew or Greek text because he began these studies in 1940 and 1936; so Bob tells everyone to go to Glenn Carangie.

Hushai might be David's closest personal friend, and David tells him that he will be a burden to him.

David Keeps Hushai Behind

1. Hushai is not ready to march across the desert without hardly any food and to march with a flying column might even kill him.
2. Hushai unable to keep up with his flying column.
3. Therefore, David would not allow Hushai to join in with him. David is not being cruel, he is being thoughtful. Great leadership has to take cognizance of the needs of others. Bob has many times disagreed with something said at a party, so he keeps his mouth shut or he asks questions to see if he is wrong about something.
4. Think in terms of your circumstances. In a debate, think in terms of a debate; in a social situation, think in terms of a social situation. Think in terms of your environment. This is known as being alert. We think of that in a specific environment, but the concept of security needs to be reasonable. Bob recalls Chafer speaking in England and there are several thousand there, and the person who spoke before him gave every heresy about the Holy Spirit. He said you could lose the Holy Spirit if you sin, and he had a weepy ghastly devotion, very much like Pentecostals today. Chafer was a guest of Chesic, and because of that, Chafer changed his topic from teaching about the Holy Spirit and taught about Jesus Christ instead. You have to be alert to your own circumstances. When in Rome, do as the Romans do is the epigram. Any form of leadership, social life, etc., requires that you be alert. It requires you to pay attention to what is going on. David notes that Hushai is in bad physical condition.
5. David has a better idea to take into consideration Hushai's ability and talent. He could also appear stupid or naive when he is really brilliant. Arrogant people are impressed with sincerity. There are tons of KGB moles, like Alger Hiss and others.
6. The appearance of Hushai is recognized by David who is alert was answered by prayer. David is so alert and sharp that he figures this out immediately. He figures that hushai is worth 3 divisions.
7. David gave an honest estimate of the situation which takes consideration of Hushai's old age. By sending him back to Jerusalem, Hushai can be David's most effective agent.

It takes maximum courage and ability to be a counterinsurgency agent. There was no book written on this. If you are a counterinsurgency agent; you do not have a book by which to go by. No one you can ask. You are on your own. So you have to be sharp. This is not for everyone; it is for those with great courage and mentality. There are non-compos mentis types (not being of a sound mind). They might think they are in counterinsurgency; and they think they are in the CIA or FBI agents. Counterinsurgency demands the maximum. Hushai is going into counterinsurgency work, which requires a radical change of his values.

2Sam. 15:33 David said to him, "If you go [march] on with me, you will become a burden to me.

David issues the first recorded orders for counterinsurgency. Hushai is to supplant Ahithophel under Absalom. Hushai is a genius and he is loyal to David; but Absalom is so arrogant, he does not realize this.

Bob goes into the waw conversative here, saying this ought to be a consecutive or an imperfect or some damn thing.

Format for Intrigue

1. This involves lying. Hushai will claim to be a servant of Absalom. David is asking his dear friend to go to Jerusalem and lie. He is asking him to be deceitful.
2. Lying and deceit is the strategic environment for counterinsurgency.
3. At best, counterinsurgency is dirty work. It can involve murder, lying, deceit and the exploitation of every human weakness to neutralize enemy strength.
4. Therefore, counterinsurgency requires a contrast of inner values and outer behavior. It requires lying, deceit, intrigue and total ruthlessness.
5. Contradiction of prerequisites often results in the occupational hazard of becoming a double agent. He has his own areas where he can be destroyed. Therefore he can be a traitor to the country which trained him. David martins has a good chapter on this.
6. To avoid becoming a double agent and a traitor, he must have integrity and honor so that the believer with maximum doctrine in the soul so that Hushai is the best qualified person for this kind of dirty work. The greater your integrity the better your application of ruthlessness.
7. Counter-revolutionary activity is called counterinsurgency.
8. Counterinsurgency can take the form of violence, murder, assassination, intimidation

Ghengis Khan was a genius in the field of intimidation, although he was personally a very sweet man. Counterinsurgency can take the form of murder, or whatever. Charlotte Corda guilty of crusader arrogance who became a criminal. Crusader arrogance is the fascinating part of her history and she murdered Marat so this is crusader arrogance destroying criminal arrogance. She was a beautiful peasant woman who came to Paris and she vamped Marat and she got him up to his apartment, got him into a tub without any clothes and then she took a knife and stabbed him a few dozen times. The entire story of counter insurgency is not known. She should have written an account of her life. They had her body examined after her death and she was still a virgin. So how did she get Marat into that apartment, get him undressed, and still maintain her virginity? It is the same way counterinsurgency maintains its honor will killing and assassinating others.

9. This can take the form of ruse and it is Hushai exploiting Absalom's weakness.
10. An excellent description of counterintelligence in the wilderness of Mirrors. What passed for virtue there sometimes is grotesque in the light of day. The U.S. only accepts one standard for warfare. We play the game fairly. One standard system. Interlocking systems of arrogance makes us very vulnerable to destruction. We did not lose the Vietnam War because of our soldiers but because of the arrogance of the civilian population. Also because arrogance produces self righteousness and the self righteous standard of arrogance is totally inflexible. War in the Shadows also a must read. History of guerilla warfare and it starts with Ho Chi Minh.

every time we have gone to Asia to stop communism, we have not stopped communism but have made a void communism. As long as peasants remained apathetic or hostile, the military efforts could not succeed. The arrogance of ignorance with the arrogance of power; and that is why we ended up being there. Another chapter, why did JFK fail in Vietnam? The arrogance of ignorance. All those who warned him, nothing could be gained by moving troops into Vietnam. MacNamara has a phenomenal memory but he has done more to sabotage the American military than anyone other than our direct enemies. They did not understand the complexities of insurgency. They accepted false reports that continued to come in from the field. They gave a dangerously inaccurate picture. We have only been good in the CIA. We tried to solve a political problem with the military, and there is no way to do it apart from counterinsurgency. The arrogance of ignorance began to assert itself with... Saturation of a battle area contains a number of built-in booby traps in an insurgency situation. The more targets available to the enemy. The Vietcong got the bulk of their arms from ARVN (army of South Vietnam). Our problem is, we have only one standard for fighting.

They accepted quiet areas, and this is where insurgency was needed. They refused to accept adverse reports from subordinates filed from the field. If President Johnson expected his words to get Ho Chi Minh to the peace table, he was mistaken. The enemy never thought they were defeated even if they lost battles. It never occurred to them that they lost anything.

We killed over 190,000 deaths in one year alone; a half million in all? Spending $14 million per day.

this is an historian who understands why this civil war was lost by Absalom. If the U.S. continues to function internationally as before, disaster will result.

This guy was able to look at us objectively. He was able to scrap all the views and to be objective about it. We are fighting only with one standard.

More on Counterinsurgency

1. David had the good sense to operate under a different standard for non-conventional warfare. In conventional warfare, you have certain standards, like Napoleon, not to send in infantry without support. You need the function of genius on both sides of the fence. We do not engage in serious clandestine warfare and that is a mistake.

2. We have one standard only.
3. For this reason, we have been defeated by the communists in unconventional warfare. They are ruthless; and they are evil as well. Ruthless warfare in non-conventional warfare is the only way to go.
4. Flexibility necessary.
5. Intelligence, counterintelligence and counterinsurgency demand humility of knowledge and power and norms and standards in that field of warfare. God used counterinsurgency, intelligence, lying, cheating, bribing, intimidating. 2Sam. 17:14

Hiphil perfect of parar. It means to frustrate. David orders Hushai to act as a spy. The British had a counterintelligence agency. Another one is named. MI5 and 6 under Sir Colln McBain Cummins (McCummins?). He was very low key. A great fighter pilot. Legion of Honor. The British gave him the DSO, that is a significant medal. He is a strikingly handsome Frenchman. He had to appear as a double agent. He was a courier between SOE and London. He got this medal to indicate that he did honorable work, even though many did not recognize what he was doing. French tried him first in a military court, and then in a civil court, and he was acquitted with honor. This tells you how stupid the western mind is.

Bob said we dropped a bomb in the wrong place in Japan due to bad intelligence. They are all gripers, whiners and mewers in Nagasaki. We try to make our men feel guilty for that. We ought to dump this stuff in communist areas where it would do some good.

Humility, flexibility and objectivity necessary for counterinsurgency. To be great in the nasty business of intelligence, one must combine counterintelligence with lying, deceit, bribery and exploiting weaknesses.

David here is specifically asking Hushai to lie. This is legitimate. This is not for those who just came out of the Baptist church; nor is this something which is for those who have Rebecca of Sunny brook farm thinking. The application belongs to us. Do not make the choice to resist the doctrine so that you lose options when the balloon goes up.

10 minutes for those to see the movie.

2Sam. 15:34 [But if you return to the city and say to Absalom, 'I will be your servant, O king; as I have been your father's servant in time past, so now I will be your servant,' then you will \[help me\] frustrate for me the counsel of Ahithophel.](#)

2Samuel 15:34–37 16:14–17

72David

631_0426

Something from across the channel and it is about the raid on Iran. We had a good plan here run by only the army; and then the others wanted to go in and insist that they all have a part. That was why it failed. This was the type of a thing where you do not mix the services. There is another problem, but that is not for public information. There was a public leadership factor as well. Israeli experts; one suggested that US attack several places and take several counter hostages. Few people in Washington can explain the many ways this all failed. Bob knows why and several others know why. But this is not public information. The Israelis point to a weakness of the U.S., that we are not equipped for unconventional warfare.

2Sam. 15:31 And it was told David [this is an intelligence report], "Ahithophel is among the conspirators with Absalom." And David said [then David prayed], "O LORD, please turn the counsel of Ahithophel into foolishness [frustrate the counsel of Ahithophel]."

2Sam. 15:32 While David was coming to [approached] the summit, where God was worshiped [where people were accustomed to worshipping God], behold, Hushai the Archite came to meet him with his coat torn and dirt on his head.

2Sam. 15:33 David said to him, "If you go [march] on with me, you will become a burden to me.

2Sam. 15:34 But if you return to the city and say to Absalom, 'I will be your servant, O king; as I have been your father's servant in time past, so now I will be your servant,' then you will [help me] frustrate for me the counsel of Ahithophel.

David was a genius with unconventional warfare. The nasty business of spying, deceiving, collecting information and frustrating enemy plans, with assassinations and other such things. Hushai will infiltrate Absalom's staff at the highest level. The KGB has been the most successful organization in the world in place moles in the highest levels of government in every western European nation, with the exception, possible of England.

Revolutions are always based on falsehood and lied. Revolutionists live by the lie, so it is fitting that they die by the lie as well. Those who live by the lie should die by the lie. Same as conventional warfare; those who live by violence are destroyed by greater violence.

Introductory Concepts

1. Hushai the humble with defeat Absalom the arrogant.
2. Absalom had built his life on arrogance and lies and Hushai will use his arrogance against him. Therefore, Absalom will be destroyed by his own weakness. Absalom destroyed himself by his own arrogance.
3. Therefore, arrogance creates its own system of destruction so that those involved in interlocking systems of arrogance destroyed themselves and those involved are not the source of the downfall of the arrogant; they are used to exploit the weakness of the arrogant. He can blame himself and only himself.
4. This is how God uses counterinsurgency. 2Sam. 17:14 God is perfect and cannot approve of sin or sponsor sin. Dual systems
5. Hushai's counterinsurgency is that part of warfare which neutralizes the genius of the enemy.
6. Hushai is a member of David's intelligence network.
7. Quotation this has been observed by men in the past. From Lord Wolseley's "Soldier's Pocket-book": "As a nation, we are brought up to feel it a disgrace to succeed by falsehood; the word 'spy' conveys in it something as repulsive as slave.

We will keep hammering away with the conviction that honesty is the best policy, and that truth always wins in the long run. These pretty little sentences do well enough for a child's copybook, but the man who acts upon them in war had better sheathe his sword for ever."

Winston Churchill is one of the great men of his time, but not just as a leader or a commander; but it is the genius and imagination by which he developed one of the great systems of counterinsurgency during the cold war. He authored the classic epigram of Ruddigore. "In wartime, truth is so precious, that she should always be protected by a bodyguard of lies." The actual quote of Churchill: "In war-time, truth is so precious that she should always be attended by a bodyguard of lies."

9. Success often depends upon clandestine warfare, but there are too many in the United States are too self-righteous to deal with this. For the kooks, you are not in clandestine warfare.
10. David had no problem with using lies and deceit to defeat Absalom.
11. Hushai infiltrates to the highest levels.
12. Hushai is a mole in Absalom's organization. Hushai was motivated by freedom and country. We have to conclude that Hushai performed his duties courageously and honorably. A quote from the Romans.

2Sam. 15:34 [But if you return to the city and say to Absalom, 'I will be your servant, O king; as I have been your father's servant in time past, so now I will be your servant,' then you will \[help me\] frustrate for me the counsel of Ahithophel.](#)

Additional Principles

1. Hushai walks the narrow line between honor and counterinsurgency. The same tunnel vision which has led to a rise in crime is the same that has us stymied in counterinsurgency. The Russians say that they can conquer us without firing a shot on the battlefield. We are too easy to infiltrate. We have tunnel vision.
2. Billions of years ago, God knew that David would ask Hushai to do this. Hushai is the answer to David's prayer.
3. God entered the result into the computer of divine decrees.
4. All of this in the doctrine of divine decrees, and this is an excellent illustration of how God uses the wrath of man to praise Him. God uses counterinsurgency to punish client nations.
5. This illustrates James 4:6
6. Revolution is founded on falsehood.
7. God often turns the enemy's best weapon against him. Arrogance destroys arrogance; lies destroy lies. The intelligence war is the major contributor to the civil war which follows.

Each part of counterinsurgency depends upon other parts of counterinsurgency.

David now sets up his intelligence network. David has an insurgency assignment and a straight intelligence assignment. Hushai has already agreed to enter David's service as an intelligence agent. Hushai works by himself, but he will transmit information to Zadok and Abiathar. They are David's chief agents in Jerusalem.

2Sam. 15:35 [Are not Zadok and Abiathar the priests with you there? So whatever you hear from the king's house \[palace\], tell it to Zadok and Abiathar the priests.](#)

David explains what the network will be. The 2 sons of the high priests will be David's couriers. They will provide all of the information by which David will make his decisions. There will be some exciting adventures including going down a well and a woman lying for them. Women are very good at this; they are very naturally deceptive.

2Sam. 15:36 Behold, their two sons are with them there, Ahimaaz, Zadok's son, and Jonathan, Abiathar's son, and by them you shall send to me everything you hear."

They arrive at the city just as Absalom does. Hushai enters in from the west and Absalom from the south. Two imperfects mean contemporaneous events. Absalom has a triumphal entry from the south and Hushai, sent by David, to undo Absalom's evil. This means, God controls history. One arrogant and one is humble. They are both believers. Absalom built his life on lies and Hushai will use the same system to destroy Absalom. The arrogant must always fear the humble because God makes war on the arrogant, but he gives grace to the humble.

2Sam. 15:37 So Hushai, David's friend, came into the city, just as Absalom was entering Jerusalem.

This brings us to our second increment. The first paragraph of operation Hushai is, who knew before Sun Tzu.

The 2nd paragraph is Hushai penetrating the upper echelon.

2Sam. 16:15 And Absalom and all the people, the men of Israel, had come into Jerusalem, and Ahithophel with him.

Hushai comes to Absalom. Hayah gives us some historical sequencing. Absalom and his retinue coming down the street, and right there is Hushai. David's mole. Here is a man humbling himself before Absalom, an arrogant leader. This means to have the king live in great prosperity. It is Hushai's intention to wipe out David's opposition. Some people are liars. Some are just habitual liars. For a normal man, lying is abnormal. Here, this requires tremendous flexibility. He is deceiving as a great patriot; as a great man. The arrogant are weak. Whatever that natural strength or abilities, Absalom will be destroyed through the very thing which he used...lying. Absalom was a dishonorable sinful liar and Hushai is an honorable un sinful liar. To the kooks, you are not in counterinsurgency.

This word for friend can be honorable and dishonorable (e.g., a prostitute). Ken Philbey is perhaps the greatest mole in history. "May the king have a prosperous reign; I am here to see that he does." Or, "May the king have a prosperous reign (I have to make you think that I am sincere)."

A mole is an agent of one country attempting to infiltrate the highest echelon. More successful spies were recruited out of Cambridge and Harvard both. There is an attempt to plant false information. The objective is to neutralize genius. Absalom lives inside interlocking systems of arrogance so that arrogance neutralizes his ability and talent.

This is flattery of obeisance. Absalom in arrogance was very vulnerable. Absalom accepts these words as homage to a genius. This satisfies Absalom's ego, and Absalom does not suspect him.

2Sam. 16:16 [And it happened, when Hushai the Archite, David's friend \[mole\], had come to Absalom, Hushai said to Absalom, Let the king live! Let the king live!](#)

Absalom gives Hushai a top-secret clearance with a poor interrogation. He is not really suspicious. Arrogant people lean toward pettiness. Since Hushai was recognized as David's close friend, Absalom is rubbing this in, in pettiness. Like the gf who comes crawling back to a man, and he asked, "Where's your boyfriend?" He is saying this out of arrogance and pettiness.

Arrogant people are not objective or flexible; he is vulnerable to flattery and vulnerable to his own failure. Then Absalom is sarcastic. Why did you not go with your friend? Pettiness wants to see Hushai crawl a little bit. He wants to reduce all of those around him to a piece of obsequiousness. Absalom superficially investigates Hushai's relationship with David, but not from the standpoint of good interrogation, but more from arrogance. Absalom's intelligence is not existent or poorly informed. Arrogance produces incompetence. Prejudice guarantees incompetence.

You must be flexible in order to be devious. The deviousness of arrogance is failure. Absalom's intelligence constantly breaks down. It is commanded by those who are arrogant in the top echelon. They neutralize their own ability and the ability of the agents under them. You must be flexible to be devious.

Nobody reported to Absalom that Hushai sneaked in one gate when Absalom came through the other. No one tells Absalom so Absalom does not ask Hushai, "Where did you just come from?"

- | Application of These Principles to the United States of America |  |
|--|--|
| 1.   | The political arrogance of the United States guarantees disaster. Vietnam has no real strategic value to the United States.  |
| 2.   | By identifying ourselves with those whom God has chosen to punish (the people of Vietnam); their system of demonism and idolatry which was overdo for this people. God is punishing a whole segment of the world. There have been many | missionaries in there. There has been a rejection of truth. Thailand, Cambodia, and all of Vietnam, and God has used the communists to punish them. When we went into Vietnam, we were interfering with God's discipline of this area. For the same reason we should not gossip, we should not have gone into Vietnam.

3. The misuse of our military establishment once committed. We used systems of war which worked before, but not in this war. We are fighting a flexible force, so when we hit this or that place heavily, they moved out. General Giap was a genius in this field. He was a brilliant genius and possibly the greatest modern genius in guerilla warfare.

Only the British were able to deal with this system in Malaya. A Brit could walk into Malaya and torture someone until they give up the information. We do not know how to fight a war; we do not know how to fight dirty. The British are able to do this. The greatest missionary movement is in Korea. The Presbyterian missions went in and did a tremendous job. However, the Koreans went negative toward the truth. Then we got in the way. We cross seas in our self righteousness. We don't even know what we are doing. It isn't that we are not smart; we are simply arrogant. Arrogance makes us stupid. Never go in to defend a people whom God has decided to destroy. Any half-baked theologian can figure it out. How have these people responded to missionaries? God punishes for rejection of the truth.

We have done more to advance communism than anyone else. We are personally responsible for a third of the people being given over to communism. Nader gets away with what he does because we are self righteous crusaders. We will be judged for everything that we have done since 1945. If God wants to use the communists to slap down people who are negative and covered with scar tissue of the soul, that is His business. We have become so arrogant that Bob wonders if we will survive as a nation. God may have to knock us down to our knees, and kill millions of Americans, and we might understand where we are.

Don't you dare scream out in your pain; why did the justice of God allow this to happen to me?

2Sam. 16:17 [And Absalom said to \[interrogates\] Hushai, Is this your kindness \[grace, loyalty\] with \[to\] your friend? Why have you not gone with your friend?](#)

2Samuel 15

72David

631_0427

We will need a lot of great men in the future. The citizen soldier and the professional soldier fought side-by-side and you could not tell the difference between them.

2Sam. 15:37 So Hushai, David's friend, came into the city, just as Absalom was entering Jerusalem.

2Sam. 16:15 And Absalom and all the people, the men of Israel, had come into Jerusalem, and Ahithophel with him.

2Sam. 16:16 And it happened, when Hushai the Archite, David's friend [mole], had come to Absalom, Hushai said to Absalom, Let the king live! Let the king live!

The Application

1. Political arrogance and general arrogance have increased in the population of the United States. We can no longer blame our leaders for what is happening. Interlocking systems of arrogance has made a tremendous difference. Now we find arrogance in every facet of American life. Elected representatives that you blame are still elected representatives. You are the coward if you blame them; you are the confused, mixed-up person. Bob does not admire Mark Clark, but never thought that he professionally had the moral courage to command a corps.
2. We have failed in Korea and Vietnam, not because we have failed in lower echelons of command, but in higher echelons. We did not win either of these wars, but the men who fought these wars were magnificent. In the overall picture, we were interfering with divine punishment for southeast Asia and we were fighting against God. Our policy makers had tunnel vision. It never occurred to them that we had no business there tactically or strategically. From our highest echelons we made nothing but mistakes. Richard Nixon was a genius; his IQ was way up there according to the scores in CA. We did not lose at the conference table; we lost way before that. When God destroys a people, He destroys them. Just like us, when we gossip and malign others; we get triple compound discipline. We did not enter the war with truth.
3. If God chooses to use the communists to punish China and southeast Asia, it is wrong for the United States to interfere with divine punishment. We do not want to be on the wrong side of God. We have stuck our noses into other's affairs because we are arrogant. We stuck our nose into Rhodesia and South Africa, and they run their business much better than we do. We got involved with Nicaragua and we destroyed a great system. God will not let us get away with that. Our job is to take the gospel and the Word to the rest of the world. We have become apostles of evil. We are responsible for the enslavement of a third of the world.
4. Look at the record; we have not stopped communism in southeast Asia; we have aided them. North Vietnam is one of the best-armed force in the world. North Korea is one of the strongest armies in the world as well.
5. As a result, we have already been disciplined. The Vietnam war introduced a bunch of false issues. However, once committed to war, you go. We are a multi-racial nation; we are held together by being a client nation to God.
6. Once involved in the Vietnam war, our warfare was conventional.
7. We fought the wrong kind of war in Vietnam and some did not fight at all. During the war, some were persona non grata. Some could not even get on planes to go home when they hit stateside.
8. Vietnam was our chance to develop and refine clandestine warfare. This is necessary in order to deal with communism anywhere. The perfect field exercise. This would have been a new concept. We needed to learn dirty warfare; deception, intimidation, torture, killing key personnel. There was some of this, but it was never organized into a system and still is not. We still do not have a system or a policy.

Ask 25 high echelon men and you'll get 25 answers. We have a small force, Delta force. No missionary effort is any good unless it is indigenous. You train the natives to reach their own. The same ought to be true of our counterinsurgency. Train the natives. We did not bring Vietnamese over here for training. We don't gather 40,000 Poles here and train them to fight communists. We have not learned a thing. The arrogance of ignorance. Indigenous strategy; train people how to fight for their own freedom. We fought for the freedom of South Vietnam and we still don't understand their country. One day, we sent in a medical crew to fix up a village and the next day, we would sent in bombs. We train and equip the South Vietnamese and train them to resist communism. No one knows the Vietnamese better than the Vietnamese. We put them with American equipment out in the rice paddies so they could be identified; but we ought to put them into black pajamas and give them Russian equipment.

2Sam. 16:17 And Absalom said to [interrogates] Hushai, "Is this your kindness [grace, loyalty] with [to] your friend? Why have you not gone with your friend?"

When Hushai said no, he won over Absalom. However, Absalom's interrogation was lame. Absalom was a genius like his father David, but he is stupid because of arrogance. He is a genius with arrogance.

Hushai is lying, but he does not confess this lie. He is not there to be honest to Absalom. He is not going to tell Absalom, "David did not want me to go with him because I am too old, so here I am; but I wish David was here and not you." Lying is a sin for you and I, but not for Hushai; lying is honorable in counterinsurgency; it is great.

In a revolution, you can count on the Lord and the people being on opposite sides. Hushai throws them together. They are a mob, who are about to rape, torture, steal and kill.

Absalom and Hushai

1. Had Absalom not been blinded by arrogance, he would have recognized that Hushai was shining him on. God is never on the side of a revolutionary force.
2. Maximum doctrine does not describe the revolutionary party. They are anti-doctrine.
3. So the revolutionary party is better described by interlocking systems of arrogance and strong delusion.
4. Arrogance is weak and vulnerable to deception. Any deceptive approach.
5. The flatter of deception overcomes and defeats the arrogance of ignorance.
6. God has not chosen Absalom, only the scum and rabble have chosen him. There are arrogant like Absalom.
7. We must distinguish between the people and the men of Israel.
8. A large segment have defected to the Absalom revolution. The Lord promoted David to king. David is still king de jure. Interlocking systems of arrogance combined with strong delusion and result in violence and evil. Hushai the archite must lie and deceive and appeal to Absalom's vulnerability to flatter.

2Sam. 16:18 And Hushai said to Absalom, "No, for he whom Jehovah and this people have chosen, even all the men of Israel, his I shall be, and I shall remain with him.

2Samuel 16:18–20

72David

631_0428

A citation read. A guy takes out 2 machine gun nests and almost a 3rd. 7th medal of honor for this division. He did survive the war and was taken as a prisoner.

Dallas Morning News is one of the best newspapers of Texas, according to Bob.

2Sam. 16:15 And Absalom and all the people, the men of Israel, had come into Jerusalem, and Ahithophel with him.

2Sam. 16:16 And it happened, when Hushai the Archite, David's friend [mole], had come to Absalom, Hushai said to Absalom, Let the king live! Let the king live!

2Sam. 16:17 And Absalom said to [interrogates] Hushai, "Is this your kindness [grace, loyalty] with [to] your friend? Why have you not gone with your friend?"

Hushai says, "The voice of the people is the voice of God." The flattery of deception always succeeds against arrogance. Absalom sees himself as the only person in the world worth serving, so he believes this.

2Sam. 16:18 And Hushai said to Absalom, "No, for he whom Jehovah and this people have chosen, even all the men of Israel, his I shall be, and I shall remain with him.

Hushai makes a bid to be on Absalom's staff. I was fidel to David and I will be fidel to you as well. Absalom falls for the flattery of Hushai. Once you accept this system of arrogance, you are easily manipulated.

Hushai offers up illogical logic. "You are God's man, just as your father used to be God's man before the revolution. I served him well and I will serve you well. The voice of the people is the voice of God."

A verb is not actually repeated, but ought to be, as per the Hebrew. The best lies always have some truth in them. A person picks up the truth he knows and your smiling sincere face, and buys into the lie.

He asks a question with a question. He just needs a sincere expression.

Appealing to Arrogance

1. He is telling lies to gain the confidence of Absalom. These are legitimate lies. This attack is based upon vox populi vox dei. The voice of the people is the voice of God. This is a lie, which has caused all kinds of trouble in history. Past success and greatness in the U.S., but arrogance can make us vulnerable to this. "You are the people; we want to give you what you want and need; you have been victimized by big business, you have been pushed around, and this candidate will save you from that." This is one of the oldest systems of exploitation.
2. Vox populi vox dei is false. Being elected by the people does not make you God's choice.
3. The truth of the principle is found in vox et praea nihil "It is a voice and nothing else."
4. Hushai's fabrication is now implying that Absalom is ruling by the will of God; but he is there because of strong delusion, arrogance and violence. Hushai perpetuates the lies.
5. Hushai implies self righteousness. "I have come to serve you, because it is obviously God's will that you are the king." Doing this means, Hushai entered into a role of a self righteous arrogant ass. He put on his best pompous face and gave his best pompous speech, and Absalom buys into this. Absalom is impressed by self-righteousness. You must be arrogant, reversionistic and under strong delusion to be impressed by self-righteousness. "Have you ever been to a party where it got a little rough?" self-righteousness and arrogance is what is going on in the government; and presidents of oil companies are cast as villains.
6. While David was in the will of God, Hushai served him faithfully; and now, Hushai is lying about Absalom being in the will of God.

The real hero of this civil war is Hushai the Archite (and he is worth all 3 corps of David's army at this time). Fidelity to David is the will of God. That is true; fidelity to Absalom is a lie. Absalom thinks that Hushai is fidel to him now. Absalom will be destroyed by these lies. Absalom will here some approaches and put together a plan; and then Absalom will call Hushai in, and change his plans, based upon what Hushai says.

Dolittle's 69 page report to Eisenhower, and how the KGB was winning against our CIA at that time. Bob quotes from this report. He urges the CIA to become more ruthless than the KGB. We must learn to subvert, sabotage our enemies with more effective methods than those used against us.

2Sam. 16:19 [And a second time \[Furthermore\], Whom should I serve? Should I not serve before the face of his son. As I served before the face of your father, so shall I be before your face.](#)

Hushai Has Penetrated the Highest Echelon of Absalom's Staff.

1. Ahithophel is the genius of the Absalom staff. Ahithophel organized the revolution when Absalom was in exile.
2. David prayed to frustrate the counsel of Ahithophel.

3. Results in Psalm 64
4. Hushai is the answer to David's prayer.
5. At the moment, the staff is dominated by Ahithophel but, Hushai will soon dominate the staff. Absalom will go from one disaster to another.
6. Hushai sits on the revolutionary staff, but Ahithophel's opinion is dominate.
7. Counterinsurgency will neutralize the genius of Ahithophel.

So Absalom asks Ahithophel for advice. This indicates who dominates the staff. Ahithophel is a genius. He has used violence and tremendous thinking powers to make the revolution a going concern. He is neutralized by interlocking systems of arrogance. Absalom is no good without Ahithophel. Absalom's ability is destroyed by arrogance. He is not good apart from Ahithophel.

Here's the key: 2Sam. 16:23 And the counsel of Ahithophel which he counseled in those days was as one who had inquired at the Word of God. So was all the counsel of Ahithophel, both to David and to Absalom. Absalom is a pretty boy with a great mind, but arrogance has neutralized his thinking.

Because of arrogance, Absalom does not know what to do next. There is no battle in Jerusalem; there is no siege of castle Zion. He did not expect this. He had no idea this would happen. Absalom is arrogant and has the ability of Ahithophel. So, the revolution is on the back of Ahithophel. Ahithophel is a humble man. No matter how much doctrine you have learned, you walk into interlocking systems of arrogance, and you become instantly a dummy. All that doctrine stored up, and yet you fail because you are arrogant. You cannot use the doctrine that you have learned when inside the interlocking systems of arrogance.

Genghis Kahn was a great man of history, but his sons were filled with arrogance. His son Batu Kahn was, in many ways, a greater man, but inferior due to his arrogance.

It is Ahithophel who has all of the answers. Absalom is asking for advice and Ahithophel is the wisdom of Absalom. Arrogant people cannot use their own talent and ability to get through life. Vanity has destroyed their personal assets.

He will order the rape of the 10 mistresses that David left behind. Also, a plan to assassinate David.

2Sam. 16:20 [And Absalom said to Ahithophel, Give your counsel \[advice\], what we shall do.](#)

2Samuel 16

72David

631_0429

We are not quite to the civil war yet. We have left out some of the details so far. Why did Ahithophel become the evil genius behind the revolution? Also, why did the general public join the general revolution even though they had great government.

Gate 17 Iconoclastic Arrogance.

Disenchantment

1. Arrogant thinking creates an image of perfection which is superimposed upon a person or an organization, thus creating an image of perfect, and it superimposes it upon and creates an idol of illusion and enchantment.
2. This is self-deception through arrogance.
3. It is an unreal and misleading image created by arrogant volition and thinking by a person who is arrogant but may not realize that he is arrogant. He does not have normal illusions but he has abnormal illusions.
4. Accompanying this is the state of being enchanted by illusion and subjective thinking.
5. Once the illusion disappoints its creator, real or imagined failure; the person is disillusioned and/or disenchanting. This is the feet of clay syndrome.
6. The arrogance of disillusion or disenchantment ignores the reality of human sin and failure and creates an image apart from sin and failure.
7. That same arrogance reacts to what it creates and destroys what it created. The same arrogance that created the image reacts to the image and destroys.
8. This is the quintessence of subjectivity and arrogant thought.
9. Arrogant subjective people in their preoccupation with self spend their lives following this pattern of ignoring reality and the doctrine of Hamartiology.
10. Love, respect admiration related to humility and reality are normal and not to be included in the concept that we are studying. The secret to capacity for love, capacity for life, capacity for happiness is humility. Picks an object, creates an image and then becomes disillusioned with the image, without any awareness from the image.
11. Humility never destroys romance and true love. Romance fantichizes true love which does not exist in the devil's world.
12. Gate 17 is the arrogance of creating out of unreality your own idol, creating your own unreality, reacting to it and destroying it.
13. Arrogance creates an idol of perfection. The greater the arrogance the greater the self-righteousness. The greater the demand for perfection in others.
14. Arrogance is the discovery of someone else's feet of clay, someone else that you have constructed into an idol of perfection. Anyone can be a victim, then you discover the feet of clay and you become disillusioned with what you have created in arrogance.
15. In other words, you create in arrogance your own idol, react in arrogance with disillusion and then destroy this idol. That is what Ahithophel did with David.
16. This is the vanity of blaming someone else for the fantasizing from your own arrogance. Yet, you did the fantasizing, you created the idol of perfection and then you destroyed it. You cannot have any sort of happiness with this in your soul.
17. This is also the function of creating out of arrogant thinking and idol and then worshipping this idol in the sphere of unreality and then blaming the idol for not being God.

18. Only God is perfect; man is depraved. The quintessence of sinfulness is arrogant thinking. Such degeneracy is associated with some form of arrogance rather than with vulgarity. The person creates with his arrogant thinking an idol or an image which exists in his own thinking; and then he reacts and destroys that idol with his arrogant thinking.

Arrogance disassociates with reality. If you are arrogant, then you are disassociated from the reality of life.

Disassociation Arrogance

1. Disenchantment arrogance begins with an object of attraction or image created by your own arrogance and terminates with preoccupation with self.
2. Long or short subjectivity; the insanity blames the idol for what you yourself have created. That is recycling subjectivity; the worst kind.
3. The arrogant person never blames himself for his own arrogance. He transfers the blame to others for his arrogance.
4. He creates a concept of perfection where none exists. So you become disillusioned and disenchanting. In disillusion, they blame that someone for an opinion which you created.
5. In this category of arrogance, the idol is really innocent, whether the idol is sinful or not. The arrogant idol-maker is guilty of the most heinous form of subjectivity.
6. The pronouncements made about another person's feet of clay. They are recycling subjectivity. This destroys them. They are advertising their entire boyd is clay.
7. It takes clay to recognize clay. It takes arrogance to make an image
8. Preoccupation with self leads to such admiration from one's own opinion that love is turned into hatred and admiration into bitterness, respect into maligning.
9. Personal opinion is placed above Bible doctrine. None of us are perfect. We all sin. The idea that one sets himself above another follows the principle, let he who is without sin, cast the first stone.
10. Disillusion arrogance rejects the doctrine of imputed sin and the sin nature in all of us. All classifications of personal sin in self, while overemphasizing these things in one's self.
11. This is the arrogance of presuming the prerogatives of God
12. This assumption assigns perfection to self; the recycling of subjectivity. You are implying a superior perfection to self.
13. This assumption assigns perfection to self and imperfection to your idol.
14. Disillusion follows illusion and arrogance reacts and belittles and maligns and destroys the image your own arrogance created.

Third concept

The Feet of Clay Syndrom

1. The feet of clay syndrom is the arrogance of rearranging the doctrine of Hamartiology to your own convenience. suit your own life, social life,
2. It is arrogant to be idolatrous about people. It is just as arrogant to be iconoclastic about people. That is one who breaks idols or destroys them. It is the witch-hunt for someone else's feet of clay.
3. Admiration is normal but parlaying this into an idol of perfection is abnormal and sinful; arrogance is a sin, evil and self destructive. You may find the feet of clay in someone else, but when you find it, you are destroying yourself.
4. Blends over to iconoclastic arrogance.
5. To admire, to love, to honor, to respect, to revere, to adore, to approve, to applaud are normal functions of humility and objectivity.
6. Construction and then destruction of idols.
7. God is perfect and God is to be worshiped. People are to be respected, honored, loved, approved, even with all of their imperfections. They can be objects of adoration; that is normal in life. What is abnormal is to transfer the worship of perfect God to the worship of imperfect man.
8. The believer who is humble will never be disenchanting with God. Of course, that is blasphemous.
9. The believer who is humbled will never be disillusioned with people. Arrogance of iconoclasm.
10. Disappointment with people is normal. It is normal to be disappointed. Disillusion and disenchantment to an idol you have created is abnormal and sinful in the way that Satan sinned.
- 11.
12. The feet of clay syndrom is arrogant and it assigned the idol to the lowest hell of disenchantment.
13. When you recycle subjectivity, you are doing it all. You assign perfection to the idol, then find imperfections in it, etc.
14. You have created the image and you destroy the very image that you created. Man, being imperfect, cannot create a perfect thing.
15. Doctrine resident in the soul produces the esteem, adoration, love, etc., but these things are flexible. Adoration is not wrong in such a situation.
16. Therefore, humility never assigns perfection and never reacts to imperfection when humility loves, admires, respects, and even adores. Only arrogant thinking can produce iconoclastic arrogance of disillusion and disenchantment.

The Interlocking Aspect of Iconoclastic Arrogance

1. The 17th date interacts with the instability of the arrogance complex; and oscillation between self-righteousness and self-pity.
2. Since the idol created by this arrogance, is associated to authority, this makes the believer open to institutional arrogance. You find yourself in institutional arrogance and you find yourself looking to undermine your boss or company. You created an idol, so then you reacted with disenchantment and disillusion.

3. Since the person involved in disillusionment arrogance is basically unhappy. It is also associated with the arrogance of unhappiness. You cannot go through one without going through the other. It is very difficult to go through gate 17 without being in the arrogance of unhappiness. One contributes to the other. They interlock.
4. The arrogance of disillusion and disenchantment, there is nothing that can make them happy. They are reacting to the target which can make them happy. They always react when they discover real or imagined faults in the idol that they themselves created. They create their own trap and walk into it.
5. This also results in crusader arrogance. A crusader is a frustrated self righteous person. He goes from individuals to groups.
6. The object of the crusade is to punish the idol for being human or the idol group for being human. Like the person who throws his medals on the White House lawn.

The 17th gate is the greatest distraction to Bible teaching, since all pastor-teacher and missionaries and evangelists have sin natures and some discover it too soon. Bob wanted to dedicate this to those who come every single night to class.

Disorientation to Life

1. It should be emphasized that the arrogance of unhappiness always interlocks with gate 17 and when they interlock, they produce disorientation to life.
2. The basically unhappy person is vulnerable to disillusion.
3. Generally, happy people are realistic and flexible and can distinguish between love and perfection. We have never loved any person who was perfect. None of us have loved anyone who is perfect and when we react to that, we are in trouble. You are disoriented until doctrine gets you out of it. You need to be able to separate love and perfection. "I love you" is dependent upon the character of the person. We can distinguish between admiration, love, respect, esteem and perfection. Generally happy people are objective and flexible. Only the person disoriented to life cannot make this distinction.
4. Doctrine insulates the believer against turning the object of his admiration, love, esteem into perfection.
5. Admiration and respect cannot be turned into disillusion or disenchantment without the arrogance complex in your soul.
6. In other words, you are arrogant, not the person you are destroying through your feet of clay syndrom.
7. This forces the conclusion that basic disorientation to life and basic unhappiness have the same source: arrogance. It is your arrogance, not that you are the only arrogant person around. It is the greatest molding instrument in the world.
8. Gate 16 with this divorces the believer from life. This is what threw Ahithophel off. This is why so many believers can be neurotic or psychotic under circumstances of adversity.

The First Word Is Pomposity as an Illustration of Arrogant Disorientation to Life

1. Only God should be the true object of worship.
2. Perception of doctrine leads to true occupation with Christ.
3. Again, it is normal to love people and to honor people and to respect them .
4. Pomposity is the characteristic of self-importance or disorientation to life through arrogance.
5. The discovery of the feet of clay in a self-created idol is the pomposity of arrogance and preoccupation with self to exclude reality.
6. Disenchantment is self-produced through arrogance.
7. You have no one to blame except for yourself; disenchantment is the abnormality of arrogance. You need to get back to yourself to come out of this spin.
8. The rebound marriage; the woman creates an image of the man she marries first, reacts to that image, and then marries the next man who asks her. Ahithophel is the perfect illustration of the feet of clay syndrome.
9. He was the most brilliant officer in David's cabinet and he idolized David, as only one genius could appreciate the genius of another.

David seduced Ahithophel's granddaughter and made her pregnant. And Ahithophel reacted to this like you cannot believe. Bathsheba had a father, General Eliam, and he remained faithful to David throughout the entire revolution and civil war. He was a humble man with doctrine and his father was an arrogant man with an arrogant image. General Eliam never once wavered in his loyalty because he had humility. He admired David and respected him and understood his position as establishment. This will help some of us to orient to military life. Some might even make up with their bf and say, "I've been a fool" and that'll get his attention.

9. It takes arrogance to create the idol. Ahithophel became disenchanted and disillusioned. He discovered David's feet of clay and went from conspiracy to criminal arrogance. The great genius of Ahithophel was turned into the evil genius of Ahithophel. He resigned from David's cabinet and joined the revolution.

Ahithophel the Pompous

1. The arrogant self-righteous person loses any life or happiness.
2. Apathy for love and happiness. The confusion comes from creating from arrogance and his own volition the entire situation. You recycle subjectivity.
3. You can't divorce the arrogance of unhappiness from the arrogance of disillusion.
4. Ahithophel served God and his country under the authority and policy of David.
5. The administrative policy of David was not changed through his involvement with Bathsheba. That was his personal life and it did not change his domestic or foreign policy. The administrative functions continued the same. Even though David was involved with Bathsheba, his policies had not changed. Good government continued. His personal life did not interfere with the function of good government.

6. David is not off the hook with God. A man like David can fail in his personal life through sin and yet be a good administrator. Gaius Julius Caesar had a rugged personal life, but his administrative genius was phenomenal.
7. Therefore, the father of Bathsheba, Amiel or Eliam, remained loyal to David because the policy had not changed. He understood that his job was to go right on. No matter what David had done to his daughter. And Bathsheba is in love with David. That might be a factor as well. He carries right on professionally. He does not allow his personal feelings to interfere. It is tough for fundies to be professional in anything.
8. David's feet of clay did not disturb the function of General Eliam, but they did destroy Ahithophel because it created an image.

2Samuel 16

72David

More from Dyer's Erroneous Zones. All blame is a waste of time. No matter how much blame you find or how accurate it is, it will not change you. It does not matter even if blame has some effect, but it will not be upon you.

Feet of clay syndrom. Arrogance creates an image of a person, and then it discovers a flaw in that person, and you then smash the image you have created. Whether you are normal in creating an image of a person or abnormal, all depends upon whether you are inside or outside of gate 17. You discover your idol has feet of clay and you then react and destroy your idol. Disappointment is normal; disillusion is abnormal. We create a monster and we did not like how the monster behaved so we destroy the monster.

You have no capacity for anything which God has given to you, so you get barely minimal logistical grace. The arrogant person is shocked to see the feet of clay and they then react and destroy the idol. Subjective people always transfer the blame. This assuages their arrogance. This creates an opinion about someone else. In this opinion, the idol is innocent. The idol did not create himself as an idol; the person did.

Preoccupation with self places personal opinion above Bible doctrine. This ignores the universal implications of Hamartiology. Watch out for this kind of person. They will make you very unhappy. This is the illusion of assuming that anyone is perfect. Then they will seek to malign and destroy anyone who suddenly is discovered not to be perfect.

Only arrogance takes these normal characteristics and makes them into an idol. The believer who is humble would never take these people and make them into something that they are not.

The interlocking aspect of iconoclastic arrogance. This interacts with the instability of the arrogance complex. The idol created by arrogance makes believer open to disillusionment arrogance and disenchantment. Such people cannot be made happy. The object is to punish the person for their flaws. Every person has an old sin nature.

Disorientation to life was the next principle. Mild to total disorientation to life. Happy people can generally distinguish between admiration, love, respect and perfection. Admiration and respect cannot be turned into disillusion or disenchantment in your own soul. You are the arrogant one, not the image you are trying to destroy. The person who is this image may be terrible, but it is your arrogance which destroys this person. When you create an image, you take that and put it out there. Bob admires Eisenhower. Gate 16 and 17 always move a person away from reality.

You cannot respect and you cannot admire if you have a soul filled with arrogance. You can never knock it out when you are filled with arrogance. There are a lot of things Bob would like to do, but he finds doctrine to be important. Those who claim that they will make it up on tape rarely do. Taking in doctrine is a way of life. However, we are going into a national disaster period and we will look back on these day when we are so exhausted and we will wish that they could be reduplicated.

How could a great man like Ahithophel fall apart and fail? How could anyone be dissatisfied to the point of getting into a revolution? Pomposity. Only God should be the true object of worship. Perception of doctrine leads to perception of Jesus Christ. It is normal to love and to honor people and to admire them. There is nothing wrong with it. It is abnormal and arrogant others to blames others. Pomposity is the characteristic of self importance. The discovery of the feet of clay in a self-created idol is pomposity. Disenchantment is produced through arrogance. Anyone or any organization. Many of us have changed jobs or churches or number of things. Ahithophel is the perfect illustration of the feet of clay syndrom. He must have idolized David. It take arrogance to create an idol and it also takes arrogance to destroy one. Ahithophel discovers David's feet of clay. His son admired David, but he idolized David and he reacted to David doing wrong. His very own granddaughter raped and seduced and her husband murdered. Ahithophel reacted. The difference between Ahithophel and his son is arrogance. From worshiping David, Ahithophel became the genius of the Absalom revolution.

Ahithophel the Pompous

1. The arrogant pompous, self righteous person has no capacity for happiness. In reacting to someone's divorce, you always forget that you have created your own idol. The divine institution of marriage is sometimes made into an idol. They get divorced or they have an argument and you think everything is perfect. God cannot bless you with arrogance in the soul. We have God's righteousness. All blessing comes to God's righteousness. There will be no supergrace blessing flowing down that pipe if you are filled with arrogance. You need capacity for these things.
2. In this creation of idols, you also develop a false concept of people. This is why the little girl who is upset over her ex bf and she goes out to get married in reaction. People are not perfect. If we are arrogant, we will idolize people. The family who prays together stays together is false. This ignores what doctrine teaches. We respect what God has created.
3. You cannot divorce the arrogance of unhappiness from the arrogance of disillusion.
4. Ahithophel served David as his advisor and this was serving his nation as well.

5. The administrative policy of David was not changed despite his sin.
6. The father of Bathsheba remained loyal to David. General Eliam remained loyal. He applied doctrine and he was a great professional soldier. Do not every be hindered from your duties because your superiors are imperfect.

The Seduction of the General Public in the Absalom Revolution

1. There was a fabulous government. The people combine the arrogance of ignorance with iconoclastic arrogance.
2. The general public of Israel was divided in several ways; criminal and law-abiding, liberal and conservative, the arrogant and the humble, believing and unbelieving.
3. Humility of the general population tested when David raped and seduced Bathsheba and then murdered her husband.
4. The arrogant put David on a pedestal.
5. Humility is normal. Arrogance is abnormal. Sometimes it takes a revolution to see it. It is easier to learn in class than during a revolution. There are a lot who are disappointed and it did not change anything.
- 6.
7. David was the idol of the arrogant. He was created by their arrogance. Now that his feet of clay was showing, they smashed that idol.
8. No one but Absalom there to take his place.
9. So upset with their own feelings, they ignored. They created an angle and destroyed it.
10. They created an illusion of their own perfection and then used this illusion to destroy David. They look at themselves and decide, "I would never do that." No person can smash an idol in arrogance and retrain sanity without setting himself up as perfect. The "I would never do that" syndrom. Self-righteousness protects the arrogance of iconoclasm from destroying the individual who does it. You must be self righteous to stay alive. You will be start raving made when you fall into this. You fall into this illusion of perfection.
11. Arrogance destroyed their discernment. The more self righteous they become the more they lack in discernment. Self righteous people cannot discern anything. Self righteous women always pick the wrong man and vice versa. Self-righteousness is your enemy. They truned to Absalom to join the revolution
12. Iconoclastic arrogance gave fodder to the revolution.

2Samuel 16

72David

631_0431

This explains why this people who live under a great government and why they are dissatisfied with it. Why are people dissatisfied with ideal conditions?

We need to avoid blaming others for our own arrogance.

Someone correctly observed that these gates of arrogance describe the entirety of the old sin nature.

The feet of clay syndrom. The arrogance of disillusion. The idol is an illusioni created by our arrogance. You create the idol, and then you see its feet of clay and you blame it for not meeting your expectations.

We all have imperfections and it is normal to be disillusioned by someone, but we are not to take this too far. Humility never destroys true love and romance, but arrogance always does that. Arrogance is always the discovery of someone else's feet of clay. This does not keep us from loving people with their imperfections. The strongest love can break through all of these imperfections.

Disenchantment arrogance begins with an object of one's fascination, but it ends with one being preoccupied with one's self. It is transferring the blame to the object. This often becomes and insanity factor. The idol is often innocent, whether his feet of clay are real or imagined. Every person has feet of clay. But that is not even the issue. With David, it is not imagined. There were thousands of people still loyal to David, despite his failure.

Bathsheba's father was able to work under David, and Bathsheba was his daughter. Admiration is normal; creating an idol is not. You create your own psychosis; not your environment. Psychology often gives you the chance to blame something outside of yourself for something you have done. In fact, psychology often finds us an image with which we can react. We can shift the blame from our volition to something which is not at fault.

It is fine to applaud an ballerina, a great actor, etc.; but not to idolize that person.

Bob knows people's imperfections; he can still admire them. This has nothing to do with anything. They try to do this to evangelists or to preachers; some people do this at the polls. The humble believer will never be disenchantd. Disappointment with people is normal, but disenchantment and disillusion is not.

Gate 16 and 17 will help to explain the general public. Arrogant people are either on a self righteous kick or a self-pity kick, or they oscillate between the two. The 17th gate becomes a great distraction to the teaching of Bible doctrine.

We then moved on from the basic disorientation to life.

Feet of clay syndrom is whey Ahithophel became the great strategist for the revolution. Normality stops with disappointment.

Pomposity is the characteristic of self-importance, and discovering the feet of clay in an idol which you have discovered yourself is an arrogant reaction. Ahithophel will resign from David's cabinet and he will spend the rest of his life trying to bring David down. He probably fulfilled all but 3 gates of the 17 interlocking systems of arrogance. His son, Eliam, remained faithful to David. He was not hindered from his duty despite David's failure, even though this involved his own daughter. He was his great professional self.

The Seduction of the General Public and the Absalom Revolution

After 3 nights of gate 17, there will be large numbers in Berachah who will not even know about it.

1. How can a people with the best government at the best time in the world, turn against it? The arrogance of ignorance combines with iconoclastic arrogance.
2. Believer and unbeliever, criminal and citizen, humble and arrogant.
3. Everyone was tested when operation Bathsheba became public domain. The entire general public was tested and a large number of them passed the test. Any time you sin against God, God will deal with us personally. It is arrogant to try to punish others for what they have done to us, real or imagined. Do not try to punish others. Now, if you are part of an organization, and people must meet specifications. Then that is fine to fire such people. Bob confesses for all of us that we all have old sin natures. If we dislike a sin, and we find others who dislike that sin, we have a mutual admiration society. Compatibility of old sin natures can be part of the basis of a marriage, particularly between unbelievers. But never confuse in arrogance the obvious failure of someone else with your own alleged, imagined rationalized arrogance.
4. The arrogant segment of the Jewish population worshiped David and they did this by arrogance. Then David's administration looked much better than Saul's. There was brilliant domestic policy as foreign policy. The arrogant segment of the Jewish population placed David on a pedestal; the humble segment of the population just thought of David normally.
5. Humility is normal; arrogance is abnormal. David did not just take a mistress; he raped another man's wife. There was pregnancy and then the murder of the husband. This was different from the normal function of polygamy. A man who practices polygamy has to be a little mad. And he is asking for more pressure than he can actually take. Everyone knew and no one was shocked that David had all of these wives and mistresses. No image is shattered because of that. Operation Bathsheba shattered the image. We must remember that God punished David for this, and we might want to get right in there and help God. David had 4 big installments of discipline.
6. Many of the people being involved in the arrogance complex reacted with disillusion and disenchantment. When David was crowned, they created him as an idol.
7. They smashed the idol with the same arrogance that created the idol.
8. Many stood in line with a comment. They began to look for someone else to fill the vacuum.
9. They were so preoccupied with their own feelings and their own disenchantment that they followed a fool; David's son, Absalom. Arrogance destroyed their discernment; they joined there revolution. Iconoclastic arrogance.

The Stability of Humility.

1. Thousands did not accept Absalom.
2. They had the good sense to realize that no one is perfect and they used the 2nd stage of the faith rest drill to conclude that no one is perfect and David is God's man. They decided to be loyal to God's man.
3. They understood the depravity of man and divine discipline from God. They knew that God would discipline David. They only had to be faithful to God.
4. They began to understand as the years past installment discipline. If God promotes you, you are promoted, and if God does not demote you, then you are still promoted. There was still prosperity and the foreign policy was still good.
5. They understood David's promotion to king. Nathan made it clear that he would not die the sin unto death. David was still king.
6. By combining the essence of God rationale and the plan of God rationale and the logistical grace rationale, they concluded that David was God's man and the true king.
7. Their loyalty to David was based upon the dynamics of humility, not the arrogance of disillusion. They were flexible and objective. They concluded that David was their true king.
8. David was one of the greatest rulers in all of history and the greatest ruler in Jewish history. Absalom will be intimidate by Hushai.
- 9.
10. Those who are arrogant are ....
11. Absalom could not steal the hearts of the people apart from their arrogance.

The Instability of Arrogance

1. 2Sam. 15:6 consequently, Absalom behaved in this manner and so stole the hearts of the men of Israel. You can only steal an arrogant heart.
2. Absalom stole the hearts of the citizens of Israel who were in interlocking systems of arrogance.
3. Those who joined the revolution were basically unhappy people.
4. No matter what personal or collective blessings they possessed, nothing could make them happy.
5. Their involvement with the arrogance complex guaranteed their unhappiness.
6. Good government could not make them happy. Good government would not make people happy now.
7. In their unhappiness, they rejected good government for bad government and terror of revolution.
8. Free enterprise and business could not make them happy. They rejected free enterprise and they lost their prosperity.
9. Their fantastic social life could not make them happy. They turned their back on a great society and mingled with the scum. The most arrogant people are scum. That is where the heaviest arrogance comes from.

10. Furthermore, these same unhappy people reacted to the idol that they constructed in David. They created him in arrogance and destroyed him in arrogance.
11. David was their idol maintained by that arrogance. They joined the revolution I reaction to what they had one.
12. In the Bathsheba incident, they discovered his feet of clay.
13. There are the people whose hearts were stolen by Absalom. He could steal at the gate of unhappiness; at the gate of ignorance. But he could not steal from any sphere of humility. The theft of revolution was easy.

What Is the Application?

1. God may provide a local church with a right pastor-teacher, but these will not make you happy when involved with the arrogance complex.
2. God may provide a rm or rw but you will ot be happy in interlocking systems of arrogance.
3. God may provide for us the right job or the right profession as long as you lost in interlocking systems of arrogance, it will not make you happy.
4. You might have a perfect set of friends and an ideal social life but no happiness with interlocking systems of arrogance.
5. Therefore, you will change churches, you will change friends, you will change geographical locations, but you will not be happy because you have interlocking systems of arrogance in your soul.
6. The believer in arrogance can never appreciate or have capacity for God's blessings because arrogance is the basic enemy of happiness.

The woman worships a man, but then, one day, she discovers that her idol has feet of clay, and she blames the image which she has created. Then marriage on the rebound; marrying a man who is the antithesis of her former idol. She snaps this man up immediately. There is the supercharger there because she is getting revenge on her idol.

Let's go to an institution. A young man joins the marine corps. He has a fantasy view of them and then becomes disillusioned with them. He winds up section 8; he grows his hair long, marches with the services.

the same thing can be true of a church. This can be the church, a business, even the coast guard, even though Bob says he is not too familiar with them. We are in an organization designed by God, but we ought not assign perfection to someone in any church.

This is why people vote for the wrong man, or women marry the wrong man; this is why people join the revolution. The blame someone else and end up in a straight jacket.

Victory in thinking precedes victory in battle. This same principle applies to many facets of life. There is success in thinking and success in planning and success in marketing. The passage we are studying requires that we understand that, victory in thinking precedes victory in battle.

David has activated an intelligence force and will have a mole in the higher echelon of Absalom's cabinet. He will become victorious because of this.

Hushai is the establishment mole. No one in Absalom's organization apparently noticed that Hushai left town and then returned. The vanity of Absalom will think that Hushai has deserted his friend David.

Bob believes that the people of southeast Asia were due for great divine discipline, and they were involved in demonism and we made the mistake of stepping in front of this punishment. Once committed, we misused our armed forces there, not engaging in guerilla warfare, but in conventional warfare instead.

In better days, Jane Fonda would be tried as a traitor. So he is not on her side about anything. Many false issues were revealed in the Vietnam War. We have had warning discipline and we will get it very shortly.

We have a weakness which is anti-Biblical; it is a conventional one-standard for fighting wars; and we ought to have 2 standards in war. Killing on the battlefield is never a sin; and we do not confess it as a sin. To rob and steal helpless civilians is something else. However, in clandestine warfare, lying, stealing, intimidating, etc. are legitimate. We learn that our nation failed miserably trying to operate on a single-standard system. We fought the wrong kind of war in Vietnam, which a needless sacrifice of material, etc. Clandestine warfare, dirty warfare, are all a part of the picture, and it is not sin.

Victory in thinking must precede victory in battle. This was last true in WWII and we have not won a war since then. We have given absolutely no thought to clandestine warfare, except that our president has sent a letter to the CIA forbidding anything but cricket.

We need to learn some principles from Communism. We need a worldwide indigenous population movement. Our work with the population to turn them from Communism was a failure; and they are to turn their comrades against communism.

China inland missions made a mistake of trying to beat the bush in order to find a convert here or there; they did not train these people to reach their own people. There is an indigenous strategy of life. In missionary activity, we have been a total failure.

Our standards today are limited by our lack of knowledge of Bible doctrine.

We need to use indigenous strategy in our own military efforts; and that has been a tremendous failure. Contact must be established and the indigenous population must be engaged and trained.

Absalom was blinded by his own arrogance and he did not recognize Hushai's deceptiveness. God's choice is not the people's choice. The revolutionary party is better described by interlocking systems of arrogance. Arrogance is weak and vulnerable to deception. This is the flattery approach and the lying approach by Hushai.

The revolution gained initial success because a large segment of the Jewish army had defected to the revolutionary army. Absalom now controls the capitol. He also has the most fighting men. God has chosen David to rule; and the people have chosen Absalom.

When the communists went into China. A well-dressed ChaiCom officer would speak to the missionaries and they would say, without an accept, "You have done great work here and we have come to help you. There is a whore house nearby, and a few opium dens, etc.; and we are going to help you and get rid of these. In turn, we want you to help us." And the missionary is thrilled that there is cooperation here. And they would have the missionary get on the radio and call for cooperation. He would beg the general public to cooperate. So, they would close down the whore houses, the opium dens, and there are criminals who are killed; and for a short time, as one missionary described it, "I thought I was in the Millennium." Then, suddenly, the reign of terror. Revolution cannot divorce itself from violence.

The flatter of deception always succeeds over...

Hushai uses deceit to get the trust of Absalom. The noble and honorable Hushai is uttering lies and he is exploiting Absalom's arrogance. This is the same way that a flirtatious woman manipulates an arrogant male.

Hushai implies that he can only serve a man of honor, because he is a man of honor, mixing the true and the false. Saying that Absalom is the true king is the lie. Absalom will be completely wiped out by counter-insurgency.

In July 1954 that great American Eisenhower directed General Doolittle to examine the covert activities of the CIA. His report confirmed all that Ike suspected. Since the U.S. is relatively new at the game, the useable information that we are obtaining is still short of our needs. He urges the CIA to become more ruthless than the KGB. We must develop effective counterespionage services. We must learn to subvert and defeat our enemies with more effective than those of our enemies.

Ahithophel is the dominant person in staff meeting #1; and in the next staff meeting, Hushai is the dominant person. As a result, Ahithophel will disappear from history. What Hushai advises Absalom will brilliantly use his arrogance against him.

Bob gets concerned when Berachah gets overpopulated. He wonders, "Why are you here, sister? Why are you here, idiot? And then I start my own counterinsurgency."

Psalm 64 was an amplification of "Frustrate the counsel of Ahithophel." Ahithophel is a genius and he has parlayed conspiracy into full-blown revolution. However, Absalom is neutralized by interlocking systems of arrogance and Absalom has been taken by surprise. He did not expect to take Jerusalem without a shot. Ahithophel has the wisdom, as if from God Himself. Arrogant people do not have the ability to get through life, and revolutions are easy to start, but difficult to perpetuate.

There is only one economic system in life, and that is free enterprise capitalism. There has never been a revolution that can survive without help from free enterprise capitalism. Socialism is not an economic system; it is a system of evil by which Satan seeks to control the world. If it were not for American industrial might that Russia has survived. It has been free enterprise business which saved Russia under Hoover.

Socialism and the welfare state is not a system of economics; it is evil on its way to disaster.

2Sam. 16:15–20 Now Absalom and all the people, the men of Israel, came to Jerusalem, and Ahithophel with him. And when Hushai the Archite, David's friend, came to Absalom, Hushai said to Absalom, "Long live the king! Long live the king!" And Absalom said to Hushai, "Is this your loyalty to your friend? Why did you not go with your friend?" And Hushai said to Absalom, "No, for whom the LORD and this people and all the men of Israel have chosen, his I will be, and with him I will remain. And again, whom should I serve? Should it not be his son? As I have served your father, so I will serve you." Then Absalom said to Ahithophel, "Give your counsel. What shall we do?"

Bob wants everyone to stand up and give a 5 minute dissertation of what this next verse means. Even the great commentators of Scripture have not seen fit to do anything other than breeze through narrative and offer up a 1 or 2 sentence comment here and there.

Ahithophel gives advice and counsel in the imperative mood. This indicates who is really in charge of the revolution. Absalom is a front, a pretty boy front, even though he is a genius. He has been neutralized with interlocking systems of arrogance. Ahithophel just tells Absalom what to do. There is none of this, "Here is my opinion; here is what I think you ought to do." Ahithophel dominates in this staff meeting. In the next staff meeting, it will appear as if Ahithophel is in charge, but it will be Hushai who takes over mid-meeting and guides Absalom to make the wrong decisions.

In the previous chapter, the king left behind 10 mistresses to keep the palace. So these other mistresses are still housed in the harem. He chose those who were administratively the most capable. They were to make certain that everything was kept as neat as possible.

Pilgish is the word used here; some women think they are pills and others think they are geishas.

This has to be done in such a way that all Israel will know about this. There will be an announcement throughout all the streets, and then Absalom will be brought to the tent which will be set up on the wall battlements and the tent flaps will be lifted and Absalom will rape each of these 10 women.

That great administrator and the police were all gone, and some of the people are becoming concerned for their law and order; they are uneasy. They liked these Philistine police officers. So, the wavering people must be gotten to stay with the revolution. It had to be clear that there will be no reconciliation. The people do not want to be caught in the middle if there is a reconciliation between Absalom and his father. Raping these 10 mistresses is saying, "My father is dead" and there is no way for Absalom and David could be reconciled.

Raping these women indicates that Absalom has taken all that belongs to David. Behind this, Ahithophel doesn't tell this to Absalom, when each woman is raped, that is violence; and this will sound the bell to rape any woman that you see; and the reign of terror is on. The people must be intimidated. The greatest intimidation in the world will arouse the lust of the revolutionists. And Ittai and his police for are gone, so every woman is fair game.

Ahithophel's Counsel to Absalom

1. Ahithophel's advice is genius. He knows that revolution will not work unless the people are intimidated. The city which does not open its gates and surrender, they will only have to be reminded of this series of rapes. Sin, evil will be perpetuated here. Revolution will slaughter the innocent. Rape, slaughter, torture, killing. Bob promises to put a .45 in the mouth of anyone from Berachah who joins a revolution. Revolutions are always anti-God and always evil. Bob would hope that even the worst person from Berachah would never want to join on.
2. The counsel is for Absalom to rape 10 of David's mistresses which are left behind. He is advising violence against 10 helpless women. They will be tied down and raped in front of the entire city. These women will never be able to show themselves in public again. They will be held down or tied down and Absalom will rape them one by one. And people will want to watch through voyeurism. Arrogance produces degeneracy. And no one comes to the rescue of these women.
3. The advice urges Absalom to sinful behavior as the defacto king of the country and the leader of the revolution. Any advice that urges sin (except in counterinsurgency) is evil. When the president is counseled to go into another country and interfere with that country which has good government, that counsel is evil. Why give this advice?
4. It also follows the natural course of revolution that it condones the crime of rape and encourages the revolutionist to any crime of violence compatible with their unrestrained lusts. Anti-establishment behavior is compatible with criminal activity. Also, it is compatible with terror and with ruthlessness. Those willing to stand there and witness the rape of someone, obviously, they are in a state of uncontrollable lust. Voyeurism arouses that lust to a peak. Ahithophel is a genius. This would yield to unbridled lust, which would result in rapes throughout the city. Men who tried to protect their women would be killed. There would be stealing and torture to get the things of private citizens. In Afghanistan, the Russians rounded up the anti-Communists. They took the women and children and too a large pool filled with sewage and they drowned the women and children in this pool of fecal matter. They saved some women. Then the women fished out some of the men who were also drowned. Islam realizes that contact with that is bad for their religion. This is completely offensive to their religion. They do this for intimidation. The communists study the people and their culture, and then use that to intimidate them. It follows a principle, where the revolution goes, intimidate is there as well.

5. Ahithophel's reason for the advice is to persuade Absalom to follow his counsel. The motive behind this advice was intimidation and personal revenge. He was able to combine his revenge with the principle of intimidation. David will pay 10 to 1 for what he did to Bathsheba. Revolutions must intimidate the general public. Revolution always contains a great deal of revenge as a manifestation of their arrogance.
6. Personal revenge is sought against David for seducing and raping his granddaughter. It is a non-issue that she is married to David now. It is set aside in his twisted evil.
7. Ahithophel never forgave David for this, even though Bathsheba is now queen. He has never recovered from this shock or hatred.
8. The advice is not just evil but degenerate. Every revolution in history includes personal revenge. Detailed studies of the French Revolution show that the scum were offended by the presence of their betters. A coach maker was hired to build a coach, and he was paid for it; but he disliked this man's good language, and the man who bought this coach from him was executed. Those coming into power in a coupe detat revolution is always used for revenge. General Eliam, Bathsheba's father, remained loyal to David throughout this ordeal.
9. Ahithophel had become a criminal. He is no better than David when David seduced his granddaughter. If you ever go out to revenge yourself against anyone, you lower yourself even below their level, whether they were right or wrong in what they did. Revenge is self-destructive always. Both Absalom and Ahithophel are involved in criminal arrogance. Ahithophel did this for another reason. To get rid of the crusaders. They will protest and they need to be wiped out.
10. Both Absalom and Ahithophel are involved in criminal arrogance. The function of revolution will fulfill its natural movement.

There are 7 principles to come, and all on Sunday morning.

2Sam. 16:21 [And \[Then, Consequently\] Ahithophel said \[advised\] to Absalom, "Go in to your father's mistresses, those he left to keep the house \[take care of the palace\]. And all Israel shall hear that you have become odious \[you have made yourself a stench to\] with your father. And \[Therefore\] the hands of all who are with you will be strong.](#)

2Samuel 16:21

72David

631_0433

We are still analyzing v. 21. Ahithophel is the genius behind the Absalom revolution.

2Sam. 16:15–20 Now Absalom and all the people, the men of Israel, came to Jerusalem, and Ahithophel with him. And when Hushai the Archite, David's friend, came to Absalom, Hushai said to Absalom, "Long live the king! Long live the king!" And Absalom said to Hushai, "Is this your loyalty to your friend? Why did you not go with your friend?" And Hushai said to Absalom, "No, for whom the LORD and this people and all the men of Israel have chosen, his I will be, and with him I will remain. Furthermore, whom should I serve? Should it not be his son? As I have served your father, so I will serve you." Then Absalom said to Ahithophel, "Give your counsel. What shall we do?"

David's mole will neutralize the plan of Absalom. This is a plan to take 10 helpless women and rape them. This also reveals the arrogance of Ahithophel, who does not mind 10 women being raped, as long as they are not his granddaughter.

A review of the points above and an additional point added (above).

Absalom, Arrogance and the Revolution

1. As the revolution progress guarantees a civil war and a reign of terror; that is what the revolution is parlayed into.
2. The transfer of power to an establishment government to a revolutionary government means violence.
3. Revolution is used to replace establishment government. Establishment is always better than revolution.
4. The irresponsibility of revolutionary leadership will be manifest; they will be totally involved in the arrogance complex.
5. In the last verse, Ahithophel is wise and sagacious in his counsel to Absalom.
6. The advice was inspired by revenge motivation. It is arrogant and degenerate.
7. The smart part of the advice that Absalom's rape of his father's mistresses guarantees civil war. There can be no reconciliation.
8. Ahithophel is motivated by personal revenge, but in his arrogant preoccupation with self, he is making certain that David will not forgive Absalom this time.
9. Should David forgive Absalom, then Ahithophel will be left holding the bag, and father and son would turn on him with disastrous results.
10. Ahithophel knows David's weaknesses toward his children, so he has to have Absalom do something which is unforgivable and will make it impossible for them to be reconciled.

Ahithophel made an idol out of David and had this idol destroyed by disillusion.

Most of us don't come to church enough. So we end up having no idea what Bob is talking about. If we do not understand all of these kinds of arrogance, then we are lost; we have no background for what is studied. Bob's ministry is not designed for once-a-week-ers. This ministry is designed for day-in and day-out teaching. This may be, for you, a test in poise.

All revolutions follow the same pattern. Revolution is anti-God. The people in southeast Asia were under great discipline and they were about to be destroyed. We had no tactical or strategic reason to be involved in a ground war in Asia. Entering into the Vietnam was has us opposed to God, and standing in front of divine justice. However, once we were in there, the liberals came out of the woodwork and opposed it. Loyalty to the civilian population is important. So, this does not condone the Jane Fonda's, hippies or yellow bellies. Once we are at war, we are to move forward with that, and remain loyal to the establishment administration, regardless of how many bad decisions are made.

The protestors are cowards, arrogant, and liberals. Because we went to war against God, where He was punishing people, and the communists were used as the whip, we were confused in this country, based on arrogance. We were in the wrong war at the wrong time. This same arrogance by which we maltreated the Shah of Iran and destroyed the honorable government of Somoza in Nicaragua. Woodrow Wilson was guilty of iconoclastic arrogance and he was the worst jackass that ever lived. Gate 17 was his destruction.

The Black man is not capable of governing himself or establishing establishment principles. So there are handful of people who can put together an establishment government. They do not have the ability to rule themselves. The Arabs were able to attack, exploit and enslave them.

White trash doesn't do any better. Government by white trash in the French Revolution and the same is true in the Russian revolution. It is a spiritual issue. Some races just make good illustration.

4 Concepts Involved in Ahithophel's Advice

We do not advocate rape; we recognize it as evil and criminal arrogance. Rape is not to satisfy lust but to dominate and to intimidate.

1. Terror
2. Power
3. Security of the revolution
4. To parlay the revolution into a civil war.

Terror

1. What is started by violence and terror and intimidation must be perpetuated in violence, terror and intimidate. French and Russian revolutions.
2. Since they have intimidated the population of Jerusalem. Something must be done to reveal Absalom's domination of Israel and something to separate him from his father.
3. Absalom must demonstrate total contempt for his father, and he will do this by encouraging the revolutionists. Capitalism is the only true economic system in the world. The Russian revolution brings about socialism and the welfare state; it is sinful and pure evil, dishonorable and immoral. It implies redistribution of wealth and of land; taking from the competent and giving to the incompetent. There would have been no communist revolution, had it not been for Herbert Hoover feeding the communists. From 1921 to this day, the Russians have depended upon free enterprise in order to survive. One of the most immoral acts was the profits tax against Exxon. Because you are profitable and intelligent, we are going to punish you for being competent and successful. That is evil and immoral. We will be punished for these concepts. You enforce legitimate laws. You do not pass laws to take money from those who make profits, punishing them for being good businessmen.

4. Absalom acts as if his father is dead. This is psychological murder. In this way, by raping this mistresses in castle Zion, Absalom is killing his father.
5. Revolution starts with violence. It removes freedom. No matter what these people say who go to Russia, it is a police state. They do not use the honorable profession of police officers for law enforcement to punish law-offenders, but it is used to punish law-abiding people. Terror eliminates freedom and takes control of the population.
6. Establishment rules from freedom and self-determination. That formerly marvelous country of Rhodesia, a small group used rape and terror to gain adherents going from one bush village to another. They took by force and power. White men came in and established a free enterprise economy. The Rhodesians have been a great and freedom loving people. Instead of supporting law enforcement there to put down these terrorists, we send out people like Andy Young to support the terrorists. These people encourage terrorism, not the honorable government of Ian Smith. The National Council of Churches bought weapons and sent them to the revolutionists so that they could revolt. We are taking high ranking evil men of Zaire and training them and paying them to be here with wives and children and parents and anyone else they want to bring along. We are so bound up in arrogance.
7. Violence, terror, torture is the authority of revolution, while freedom, law, justice, privacy, property and free enterprise is the signature of establishment government.
  - a. Bob does not encourage any overthrow over government, competent or incompetent; we are not a paramilitary church. We recognize freedom under the laws of capitalism. We are encouraged to think, not to act impulsively. If anyone in this church is involved in a conspiracy against the government, Bob will turn them over to the police. We have an incompetent government and we disagree, but we are the loyal opposition; we do not involve ourselves in revolution. Paramilitary is illegitimate and evil.
8. Absalom's first act of terror is the psychological murder of his father through the rape of his mistresses; this is the beginning of the reign of terror and the beginning of the civil war. All those who watch will enter into voyeurism and they will perpetuate this throughout the land.

Power

1. The rape of David's mistresses was the formal transfer of ruling power from David to Absalom.

2. This is a revolutionary ceremony where 10 helpless women are the victims of public rape.
3. Absalom raped these 10 women before a large crowd, in the same spot where it all began. David looks down from this same place and saw Bathsheba down below. He looked down with lust; the people of Jerusalem will look up with lust.
4. David had not the power to deliver them or the authority to protect them from the terror of the revolution. Terror does not recognize authority or morality. Terror rejects all authority but its own, violence, torture, intimidate.
5. Absalom was saying that David created an obligation that he cannot fulfill; he cannot even protect his own wives.
6. Therefore, the rape became a national message to all the people that there is no security in the land unless they join the revolution. This is public intimidation.
7. This was a public declaration that David had neither power nor authority. The population is no longer under the laws of divine establishment.
8. Revolution builds its arrogance on the humiliation of others. It is criminal activity in the name of crusading, it is one of the most basic violations of freedom.

The propaganda of all revolution is, we will provide security. We will give you land, food and equality. This is always what the revolution offers. Your security lies with us.

Security

1. The rape of David's mistresses tells us that there is no security apart from the revolution .
2. There are only victims and survivors in reality.
3. No one is secure in a nation involved in revolution.
4. The revolution appeals to the arrogant; arrogant people only think about themselves.
5. By raping David's mistresses, Absalom is saying that David lacks the power and authority to provide security for anyone.

Civil War

1. Irreparable breach between Absalom and his father.
2. Irreparable breach between establishment and their revolutionists.
3. Everyone will conclude that such an evil and immoral act by Absalom will result in war on the battlefield. There is no other way around that.
4. Only greater violence of military establishment to stop this.
5. The rape is tantamount to a revolutionary war. All hope for peace and settlement is gone. Battles must be fought before peace.
6. Battle will decide the issues; and rape is the opening act in this civil war; violence must be met with greater violence.
7. Terror, violence directed toward all, a guarantee of civil war.

Advice of Ahithophel

1. It is true that Absalom raping these women would make him odious in the eyes of David.
2. This will not strengthen the revolution. With all of his great genius, Ahithophel is personally involved with revenge. The weakness of his advice is revenge. Thousands use revolution to take revenge on others. A study of the reign of terror in Paris brings this out.
3. Therefore, we must recognize that revolution involves revenge and the weakening of whatever cause revolution espouses.
4. Doctrine in the soul provides the environment. For national decisions as well as personal ones.
5. Absalom rejects all forums for doctrine.
6. If decisions are based on doctrine, the environment of doctrine is provided for the nation but revolution is handicapped by the degeneracy of arrogance and strong delusion.
7. Knowledge is the environment for thinking. The thinking of a genius or a moron is no better than the vocabulary with which he thinks.
8. If that knowledge and vocabulary is based on 3 categories of truth, then our Lord's statement is fulfilled, "You will know the truth and the truth will make you free."

Victory in Thinking Precedes Victory on the Battlefield

1. The road to freedom is constructed with the military victory of the indigenous population.
2. Once the indigenous people have won their land, they must respond to truth.
3. A client nation cannot exist without believers in Jesus Christ. Therefore, evangelism is important.
4. Freedom must be followed by evangelism. Certain ones will respond positively to evangelism.
5. Among believers, some will respond to doctrine and some will not.
6. These who are positive will advance in the plan of God producing the pivot; a nucleus of believers.
7. The function of the laws of divine establishment is the environment for freedom.
8. In this environment of freedom, the pursuit of happiness is possible; but revolution in that nation is the arrogance of unhappiness and the guarantee of national misery.
9. Reign of terror is accumulation of unhappiness coming to a head in the boil of unhappiness.
10. Establishment forces must lance the boil.
11. This boil will be lanced by clandestine and conventional warfare, by which David will win.
12. Let by Hushai's clandestine function and Joab's battle, the revolution will be destroyed, and freedom and client nation function will be resumed.

13. Revolution reflects the failure of client nation to carry out its mission. So a revolution must be destroyed before the client nation can be continued. It is thinking of Hushai and the thinking of Joab which will advance David. It is thinking. We admire groups which are capable of great military action, but it is thinking that does it.

David will have excellent subordinates; Joab for conventional warfare and Hushai in undercover.

Bob and one of the heroes of Delta force who came and heard doctrine and left. He has the ability to blend into his surroundings. CIA is interested in him. You would never know that someone went through the whole thing, in the plane when the copter blew up, and he never lost his cool. You can have the best training in the world and still not make it. Delta force turns down 98% of those who imply. They look first for someone who can think. You can physically train anyone. The normal body will respond to muscle building. But the normal soul does not realize that the key to life is thinking. This is why many of you will never be happy in love or anywhere else. The whole purpose of Bible doctrine is to make you think. The plan of God requires thought. Concentration and perception; concentration and application. Some of you are so emotional, you cannot think. So many did not understand MacArthur, because he could think. Same with Eisenhower.

He thought circles around Montgomery, who was a jackass. The greatest hindrance to learning doctrine and being able to think is arrogance.

2Sam. 16:21 [And \[Then, Consequently\] Ahithophel said \[advised\] to Absalom, "Go in to your father's mistresses, those he left to keep the house \[take care of the palace\]. And all Israel shall hear that you have become odious \[you have made yourself a stench to\] with your father. And \[Therefore\] the hands of all who are with you will be strong.](#)

72David

631_0434

Stanley Loomis is an expert on the French Revolution. Most people think he would just document the terror. This is probably the best treatise on terror related to revenge and revolution. It confirms what we have studied in the past 2 sessions. Charlotte Corda murdered Marat. Once you remove establishment, a reign of terror is there. Marat removes 22 people from the rulers? The heroes of one day became the villains of the next. Louise XVI executed, and then those who wanted that, they were removed next.

It is ironic that, all of all the countries in Europe, only France could have a revolution, because they were hospitable to every form of thinking in their country. They tolerated every conceivable group, and the revolution were the fruits of idleness and leisure, not of poverty. Paris was a storm tossed sea driven by perpetual winds. It was not a single, self-contained uprising, but a series of uprisings, and each time, one swept away by a revolution stronger than them. Were the French Revolution to be depicted on canvas, the point of unity, the reign of terror beginning with Marat. He goes on for 400 pages on this.

Anarchy, represented by Marat, brought to pass the insurrection; bitterest enemies of the Jurandice? Marat enters the hall and demands the arrest of the 22 representatives of the people. Such was Marat's power. Jurandins then led, and put under house arrest; then convicted. Some escaped but hunted down.

Filled with principles and concepts. Scar tissue of the soul principle; arrogance of ignorance related to the arrogance of power, and they represent the irresponsibility of the revolution?

Victory in thinking precedes victory in battle.

Bob was amazed by the Berachah boy who was in the attempt to rescue the hostages. He made it out.

The best raining and weapons and best elite for... they were no better than the thinking of the 3-star general, and because of the poor thinking of him, they were destroyed. No one wants to be on general staff; they all want to lead a battalion or a brigade. The secret of every success comes from staff and not from line. Line is not better than the thinking of staff. Bible doctrine should give us the ability to think; it is our capacity for life, capacity for happiness, capacity for love. As we begin to think doctrine, it will provide tremendous changes in our life.

The Client Nation and Freedom

1. Military victory of the indigenous people.
2. Once they win victory, they must respond to truth. Freedom becomes the environment for evangelism.
3. A client nation cannot exist without believers in Jesus Christ.
4. Freedom must be followed by evangelism.
5. Some will be positive toward doctrine; out of 1000 evangelized, 40 or 50 might advance spiritually. Maybe 5 or 6 will reach spiritual maturity.
6. They will advance in the plan of God and become the nation's pivot.
7. The function of the laws of divine establishment is the environment for freedom.
8. In this environment of freedom, the pursuit of happiness is possible. This is a legitimate statement. It takes the freedom guaranteed by our constitution. Can you use freedom to make yourself happy. Bob has always been intrigued by the free spirit female and they are never happy. People do not know how to use freedom to be happy. Happiness is a state of the soul; of the mind. If you are basically unhappy, there is nothing in the world which can make you happy. Freedom will not make you happy. The possession of freedom is not happiness. Freedom is merely one of several environments by which happiness can be pursued. But you do not need freedom for happiness.
9. It is possible. Revolution is the arrogance of unhappiness and the
10. Accumulated arrogance of unhappiness coming to a head.
11. The boil must be lanced if establishment is to be maintained.

12. There are 2 great heroes: Hushai and Joab. Both are heroes in the true sense of the word. Both Joab and Hushai are 2 of the most remarkable men in history. They could think under pressure.

It is the thinking of Hushai and Joab which defeated Ahithophel and Amasa. He was brilliant, but arrogantly brilliant, but out-thought by Joab on the battlefield. They are first-cousins who oppose one another in battle.

Vv. 15–21 read.

2Sam. 16:15–21 Now Absalom and all the people, the men of Israel, came to Jerusalem, and Ahithophel with him. And when Hushai the Archite, David's friend, came to Absalom, Hushai said to Absalom, "Long live the king! Long live the king!" And Absalom said to Hushai, "Is this your loyalty to your friend? Why did you not go with your friend?" And Hushai said to Absalom, "No, for whom the LORD and this people and all the men of Israel have chosen, his I will be, and with him I will remain. Furthermore, whom should I serve? Should it not be his son? As I have served your father, so I will serve you." Then Absalom said to Ahithophel, "Give your counsel. What shall we do?" And [Then, Consequently] Ahithophel said [advised] to Absalom, "Go in to your father's mistresses, those he left to keep the house [take care of the palace]. And all Israel shall hear that you have become odious [you have made yourself a stench to] with your father. And [Therefore] the hands of all who are with you will be strengthened."

Now we begin the reign of terror. Hiphil imperfect of natah, which means to stretch out; but there is the concept of motivation. There are the battlements of castle Zion. This is the place from which David first saw Bathsheba. This was the Ahithophel touch of genius. They pitch the tent for Absalom on the battlements. There is a motivation in mind for this tent.

The pitching of a tent often attracted people; particularly right where it was pitched.

Purpose of this Raping

1. It is to encourage the revolutionists.
2. It makes it clear that they are committed to this cause.
3. It gets the population going the voyeurism.

Bob says this tent was pitched often there in the summer. Absalom knew this tent had enjoyed this use before as the royal family enjoying the summer. It was a well-known sight to the people. It is for the king's pleasure. Absalom will use it for his pleasure; and all of the people will see the tent sides rolled up so that they can view David's mistresses all being raped. That which began here some 7 years before will end here. This will be the last act of discipline.

Qal imperfect of bo. This is Absalom's rape of David's mistresses. They carried great authority. It took 10 of them to take care of the entire castle complex. It is not a house. Absalom raped these women in the sight of all Israel.

Fulfillment of Nathan's Prophecy

1. This is the last installment of David's punishment. As he sinned against the house of Uriah the Hittite, he was punished in the same place. This is psychological murder and he has no power or ability to protect his mistresses. This is part of the genius of Ahithophel to suggest this. The plan was not disgusting to Absalom. Absalom has no honor.
2. This fulfills the prophecy of Nathan, "Thus says the Lord, behold, from your own family, I will cause evil to rise up against you and publically, I will take your women and give them to a loved one, and he will rape them in broad daylight. You did this in secret, so I will do this in broad daylight." This is 7 years later.
3. The 4th installment of discipline includes this and civil war and the fulfillment of Nathan's prophecy. This fulfills the broad daylight phrase.
4. This reign of terror begins with unrestrained violence.
5. The reign of terror is the transfer of power from the establishment of freedom to tyranny. A revolution has the terror itself. Those who's highest motivation is revenge; the terror gives the power group the chance to be the dictatorship. They are unhinged by revenge. They go in to slaughter and to kill. There is a revenge group and a dictator group, and it all depends upon which one wins as to what happens.

The African countries glorified by the National Council of churches and you have revenge groups and power groups in charge; so there is either tyranny or continued attacks upon others.

The Revolution and its Violence

1. The public demonstration of rape was the signal for the revolution. The people could not wait to pillage, rape, torture and intimidate.
2. Revolution is always the master crime. Therefore, revolution encourages crime. The rape, torture and slaughter of innocent people. Revolution is the greatest crime against a nation.
3. Absalom's coronation is a coronation of violence that will end in violence. Those who live by violence will die by violence. Those who perpetuate a revolution will die by a revolution. You cannot control people indefinitely by violence. You must have a policy or law or something to control the people. There were 4 systems of violence in the French Revolution; each one replace by the next. After the murder of Robespierre, there was the mobs which were stopped by military genius, Napoleon, who could out think anyone. He stretched out a battery and shot down a mob to end the violence. He brought order out of chaos and terminated the revolution with an enlightened dictatorship.

4. Unrestrained violence produces a madness in the human race and this demands the demands the destruction of those so contaminated.
5. This contamination includes criminal arrogance interlocked with impulsive arrogance interlocked with conspiracy arrogance interlocked with criminal arrogance, and terminating with psychopathic arrogance.
6. This interlocking system of arrogance can only exist where client nation arrogance exists in the people. The revenge factor comes in with gate 17, reacting to it.
7. Revolution and attendant violence and the people enter one of the 17 gates of the complex. Through interlocking with the other gates, there is degeneration motivated by the others.

2Sam. 16:22 And they spread out a tent for Absalom on the roof. And Absalom went in to his father's concubines before the eyes of all Israel.

The transfer of power through violence interferes with man's ability to enjoy freedom by the laws of divine establishment. Immediately, you cater to the lusts of man. This is why law enforcement is so important. Liberals have the basic connotation of the dignity of man, whereas laws of divine establishment function on the premise of total depravity. Man must be controlled by law and order. The liberal destruction of our police forces will prove to be one of the most disastrous things in our nation. The contamination will become quite clear.

Bob heard on the radio that the CIA has been accused by the KGB of printing up in all languages propaganda against communism to be circulated during the Olympic games. This ought to remind us that our study is current. What disturbs communism today and what they cannot get around, even though they have defeated us in diplomatic warfare, in clandestine warfare and propaganda; but they are disturbed by a thought. The concept of being establishment oriented from childhood; the concept of respecting the principle of authority. This concept exists only in this country today and in England, and it disturbs them. KGB is launching a new phase to clandestine warfare, and they will look to discredit every category of authority. They will look to discredit anyone who has any sort of legitimate authority. They are doing this in part by the peddling of dope. They use organized crime in this way to reach the teenager. The KGB is disturbed

Well-dressed politician today? Not sure who Bob is talking about.

Revolution and Transfer of Power

1. The transfer of power through violence interferes with man's ability to enjoy freedom by the laws of divine establishment. Immediately, you cater to the lusts of man. This is why law enforcement is so important. Behind establishment is a thought and KGB looks to eradicate that thought. The KGB starts all kinds of things to destroy or ridicule and form of establishment. Man can only enjoy freedom through the laws of divine establishment. They are the environment for freedom.
2. Properly defined, legitimate authority, distinguishing between authoritarian and totalitarian governments. Totalitarianism is much different from authoritarianism.

3. Totalitarian government eliminates freedom through violence, torture and suppression of freedom.
4. Authoritarian government uses the laws of divine establishment in order to preserve freedom and law and order.
5. This act of Absalom in the rape of David's harem is the opening event of the civil war.
6. Absalom's arrogant implacability and vindictiveness for the settlement of differences are a conference table. When Absalom returned to the land, Joab was in charge of him, and this order was not remanded. So Joab will take advantage of this.

We have not even mentioned these women yet who are being raped. We assume that these women survived. General Sherman was coming, and rebels asked to take the woman; but 7 yanks came and raped the girl until she died, men from Sherman's outfit. The rape was unbelievable. A new book which documents was Sherman said in the memoirs. It came to his attention that hsi men were raping the women of the south. He first shot them, then he sent them to an island off of Florida. In conventional warfare, there is a system of morality. If Bob was Sherman, he would have shot these men and had a march by. If you lose control of your troops and permit them to pillage, rob and rape, then you lose the people. General Lee had good control of his troops. You do not destroy the civilian population.

You cannot rule people by intimidation. You must use establishment principles. By raping these 10 mistresses, Absalom was advertising that he was unable to lead the revolution and that he had no ability to rule. No one every receives anything apart from the justice of God. These 10 ladies had it coming; they survived it; nothing more is said of them. Maybe the broke the spiritual maturity border. Violence soul not suppress you if you are the victim. You have to overcome your emotions in life, or you will never make it. You cannot react emotionally if violence is done to you.

These 10 women had one of the great opportunities to make it in life. They knew about Tamar and her rape and now they have the same opportunity to see cursing turned to blessing. But the one thing which will destroy them is their mental attitude; sulking, being depressed, feeling sorry for themselves. Ladies have souls. They have capability of thought as well. And many times, they out-think us, whether we like it or not. The man has the authority in the home, but this does not mean that he is smarter or better than the woman. The woman is often much more defenseless than the man. She cannot use her volition and make it stick.

Women in the military is one of the most imbecilic things he has ever heard. This man is an imbecile. They are much more helpless than the man and they demand protection; and those 10 women were a message to all the women in the land that there was no protection for them. A woman is not even regarded properly in life. We glorify the woman and we believe she is to be respected and honored; she is our motivation; we fight for her and we die for her; we honor her, we respect her and love her. When we reduce the woman to be used as a political system to institute terror, then you have abused one of the finest keys to life. These women were used. There is nothing to indicate that Absalom enjoyed raping them; this was just part of a plan. When women are used, the society is degenerate. They are to be respect and honored and their volition needs to be respected. All a woman has to do is say, no. That should end the seduction, the rape the violence or whatever. Absalom and his whole system of revolution is incapable of rule.

That cap on the statue of liberty that some women wear, looks crappy; and Bob wants to knock that cap off the statue of liberty. It comes from the Jacobin mentality.

Bob reads "W" (used to be "Women's Wear"). Then they began to start watching all of these defeminizing styles, and it is typical of what the revolution produces. It does not produce anything which is stylish for the woman. If that is true, how much more so the raping and degrading of womanhood under that tent.

Absalom's arrogance The doom of Absalom and Ahithophel was sealed. Both were believers, and they both probably reached maturity. However, Ahithophel was ruined by the feet of clay syndrom; they ignored the Jesus Christ controls history. God promoted David and He also punished David. Only God could demote David, and David had not been demoted. You can never rightly divide the Worth of Truth unless you distinguish between punishment and testing. This is as important as distinguishing dispensations. It is part of dividing the Word of Truth which eludes us. If God does not promote us, we are not promoted.

If God does not demote us, then we are not demoted. We might be punished, but not demoted.

Stanley someone about Paris to the revolution.

Politicians have never found it difficult to sacrificing their friends. The Gerandins were idealists, not statesmen. They did not hesitate to call upon the mob when it served their purpose. The worst part of the revolution is the discord, even between friends and lovers; the hatred will always carry the day in hearts carried by politics and farewell to the charm of life. The smallest crime can be the beginning for an infinity of disasters.

The screams of day and night which permeated the air. The circumstances to France at that day are almost identical to what we have now. Right now, our revolution is a volcano, rumbling, but not yet exploding.

The revolutionists will be using a lot of wetbacks and Cubans and expect it to be well-organized. Establishment of a commune. They chose hired assassins. Many were chosen from the Marcelano, a scum of criminal vomited out of the prisons? Cannibalism and acts which are unbelievable occurred.

Robespierre, Danton, and Marat arose from the dust.

The genius of Ahithophel, which indicates why David needed counter insurgency. Ahithophel is able to manipulate everyone in order to get his own ends.

Jaatz which means to counsel, to give advice. This is an analogy. It does not mean that Ahithophel was inquiring in the Word of God. It indicates that Ahithophel's advice was spot on.

Ahithophel and His Genius

1. Ahithophel was a genius he was the smartest man in the land, including David. He was a genius for evil and David was a genius for good government.
2. Ahithophel's advice was evil. It was distorted by personal lust for power; a person lust for revenge. It was unsound in connection with sound government.
3. The basis for the advice that Ahithophel gave was his own arrogance and his desire to have revenge against David. It was the genius of arrogance and strong delusion.
4. It was Bathsheba with David and loved him and saw him as her rm, made no difference to Ahithophel.
5. The advice was incompatible with Ahithophel's common sense. Absalom would lose control of all the people in the revolution, which would result in the reign of terror. There is leadership, hardcore conspiracy; civilians, who will now rape murder and intimidate. He will lose control of the military when they ought to be advancing in pursuit of David.

Absalom will be unable to gain the support of the undecided. When you lose control of the people you lead, you have lost whatever cause you represent. So, Bob would have no qualms about shooting a man who ran away, or executing a criminal in the military (rape or robbery).

If Americans go into Communist countries and rape and steal and murder, what makes them any different from the communists in that country? The greater the cause the greater the discipline. Napoleon could control everyone. If the coach cannot control his players, then winning will be impossible.

Labor unions control labor, not management, and when management does not control labor, then it is all over. When legitimate authority no longer controls its responsibility, no matter what, it is all over.

The elected representatives of the United States do not control the federal government; the president does not control it; it is bureaucracy which controls; and that guarantees inefficiency. It takes 100 people to do what one smart person can do. The same thing is true in a church.

Bob will not referee lovers' quarrels or marriage battles; and they do not tolerate gossiping. Those are the first to be thrown out of Berachah. Gossiping destroys the privacy of others. Bob will be ruthless in stamping out such ones.

Other pastors may not do that, because they want a lot of people in their church. Bob looks to protect our privacy in a public setting. Gossip, maligning is like revolution.

Typical today to write one's memoirs and telling all. The tenor of society is sharing.

6. The revolutionary army's lust for rape and murder and stealing is encouraged by watching Absalom.
7. During the reign of terror, the revolutionaries had their way with the helpless population. They lose the courage because they become used to raping and stealing and torturing those they felt superior to. Divine judgment; a pillaging army is a defeated army. An unrestrained army is a disciplined army. This will be a hippy camp going through the countryside.
8. Once the revolution comes, there will be no police force to protect the privacy, property and lives of the civilians. We should have great respect for those who are in the police force. Society is antagonistic to the police officer. Pick any city with a Black mayor and I will show you a police force that is barely holding it together under great pressure. Philadelphia mayor, and he maintained in Philadelphia unlike most major cities. Same for Houston. We finally have a police chief who came up through the ranks; from patrolling the streets. NYC is famous for being poor in this area. If there is anything that needs to stay out of crime counsels is civilians. Task forces.
9. Ahithophel in his genius will note the need for instant pursuit of David, while he is weak and disorganized, and unable to fight a civil war. However, a reign of terror was simultaneously neutralizing the revolutionary army. This rape advice is bad advice in that way. His counsel was pure genius in most cases.

This is as if someone is inquiring in the Word of God. What is being said here as well is, you can go to the Word of God for military advice. Ahithophel's counsel in the past was great for David and also for Absalom now. He was David's vizier Now he is Absalom's.

Hushai will come into the picture and attempt to neutralize Ahithophel's advice.

Psalm 64 will give us the answer to David's prayer. There must be effective clandestine warfare in order for David to defeat Absalom on the battlefield.

2Sam. 16:23 And the counsel of Ahithophel which he counseled in those days was as one who had inquired in the Word of God. So was all the counsel of Ahithophel, both to David and to Absalom.

On to the first 14 verses of 2Sam. 17.

Combine something along with neurosis and you have the Welsh. We are a small people with... What opera is to some, a funeral is to the Welsh.

Bob read this because the Welsh are a race of Celts; but they have a sense of humor about themselves. Whenever race rears its ugly head as an issue, it does so because the ones involved are arrogant. The Welsh have a tremendous sense of humor about themselves. He can laugh at himself and he can understand his history in terms of objectivity, flexibility and humor.

When a race takes themselves seriously and pushing themselves as a race and demanding for themselves as a race, you are looking at arrogance. The race which makes an issue out of itself as a race, is an arrogant bunch of people ready to be exploited for revolution. Many a revolution is started on the basis of race or religion. Muslims start revolution based on religion and at least a million Muslims died within 30 days. The demanded their rights and they got them. People who are arrogant about their race or religion, and the first loudmouthed rabble rouser will sweep you off your feet. If we go to war this year, there will be race rioting and revolution. It will be, we are a race being discriminated against; we will not accept your system; you must accept ours. Establishment must react with a greater force to put down such arrogance.

We also must look at this from the standpoint of the justice of God. Bahurim is where there is a man who will razz David; who will ridicule him. However, there is a knight, order of the 3rd class, and they will join David and leave the aristocratic woman in charge of the chatot. Her presence will save future high priests of Israel. Courageous in action and courageous in thought.

We suffer from many forms of national arrogance. We do not have just one group or one race suffering from arrogance; we have many; so we are a tinderbox just waiting for someone to strike a match and throw it in the right place. We may end up with a revolution, a civil war, and we may be fighting a war on the outside as well. We have lost the ability to laugh at ourselves. The British have this ability, and, therefore, they survive. The arrogant sits back and screams and complains. Hard word is always respected.

Ahithophel goes before Absalom's council and presents a plan. He is going to select an elite force. Cohortative imperfect; and cohortative of request.

Ahithophel has correct ascertained the situation, and he knows he needs to attack David before he is organized. He is on the run right now and this is a good idea. Ahithophel is the only revolutionary leader who understand that he needs to exploit the revolution's initial victory.

Ahithophel's Plan

1. The waw indicates that Ahithophel made this request to Absalom immediately after the rape of the mistresses.
2. Now that the dye was cast, the next item should be immediate pursuit; David has a column strung out over the north Judæan desert, and he is at his weakest and most disorganized.
3. So far, Absalom has prospered greatly. Revolution has gained momentum.
4. The revolutionary army has a large force of undisciplined troops. There are some well-trained men, portions of David's army which defected to the Absalom. David is a great soldier and he might shrink back to fight on interior lines. Bob talks about an over and over which is excellent for shooting. It is a .375 HandH magnum; you will get a kill, you will drop the animal, but not destroy the meat. Bob can use this to take on a grizzly bear or an elephant, if necessary. David's army is spread out too thin and Ahithophel knows this. The revolutionary army would be outnumbered. This suggests to Bob that there are maybe 100,000 troops who have gone over the Absalom's side.
5. The troops of the revolution are about to become involved in a reign of terror. They are all worked up. Before they can riot and follow Absalom's example in raping and pillaging, Ahithophel wants to get the 12,000 best and form a flying column. He knows that this column will have a great many stragglers (David's column); and it will be disorganized. The idea is, hit David while he has all of these problems. Civilians who cannot go any further. Women who want to sit down and not walk another step. David is weak and vulnerable. Hit him before he gets organized, hit him while he is on the run, hit him before others join him (after the reign of terror).
6. David is the brains of his own force. Joab is his chief of staff; Abishai, and a number of others. Every moment that David is free to function gives David a greater advantage.

The enemy force this time is small. A brigade of guards and a battalion of military police. Napoleon lost Waterloo 2 days before. He had the Prussians coming in from one way. He was on interior lines, and had control of the situation. Napoleon had defeated a Prussian army. A battle is not won until the pursuit destroys the enemy. Hushai will keep Absalom from pursuing David, and this will save David's bacon. Ahithophel wants instant pursuit. Jesus Christ controls history and He has not demoted David. If God promotes us, we are promoted; and if God does not demote us, we are not demoted. Operation Hushai will halt the momentum of the revolution. David must be destroyed immediately for the revolution to work. David will keep maneuvering until he is in the right place. Ahithophel knows the revolution will be defeated on the right battlefield; and he knows that David has not been involved directly in a campaign for a long time. Ahithophel knows only select troops can be effective. Even then, night fighting and a night pursuit requires great training and apt troops.

2Sam. 17:1 Ahithophel said to Absalom, "Please, let me choose 12,000 men, and I will set out in pursuit of David tonight.

Bo' here means to attack, to surprise. Thinking is exhausting. It requires more energy to think than to exercise. Ahithophel knows that David is worn out. Ahithophel uses two words to indicate David's nervous energy and that David has had a hectic day. David has probably exhausted his supply of energy.

Weary of hands means nervous energy. Some men can go for days without sleep and are still alert mentally and on top of the situation. Such men are able to function and they are never ruffled. Ahithophel rightly estimates a principle in life. David's resources of doctrine and he has tremendous resources which go far beyond his nervous energy. Tired people are vulnerable to any weakness. A tired person is weak and irritable; irritability is merely a sign of weakness and loss of poise.

Bob has an excellent illustration but, because of security, he cannot share it with us.

Ahithophel knows the death of David will cause his force to crash. The death of David will guarantee the collapse of the establishment army. Ahithophel understands this. He gets that this is the key. The revolution had numerical superiority.

Assessing David's Spiritual Strengths

1. The plan is brilliant. It may seem unrealistic to us. David is exhausted. He has had it.
2. David and his flying column are demoralized and exhausted. Many are complaining about what they have left behind. At this moment, they are not very well organized.
3. The concept is correct. Except for the psalms we have studied, Ahithophel's assessment of the situation is excellent.
4. However, he has underestimated the power of doctrine and the fact that Jesus Christ controls history. The pivot of mature believers are with David. He does not know that David has reverse concentration with doctrine under pressure. The greater the pressure, the greater the application of Bible doctrine. The more pressure put on David, the greater his use of doctrine. This means, the greater his inevitable success.
5. We are familiar with his masculine singular. We noted it in Psalm 25, 61–65. Ahithophel's weakness is just that he does not know the current David. He knows David from the interlocking systems of arrogance. However, David is out of those gates and a greater man than ever before. David only has one pressure; the pressure of the revolution. Greater He than is in us rather than he who is against us. Ahithophel sees David as he was in operation Bathsheba.
6. This is a great plan and the only plan that this revolution has. Ahithophel, by the time the civil war kicks in, will die by his own hand.
7. To perpetuate the revolution; David must be killed.
8. The violence of the revolution has only intimidated a portion of the people. Violence will cause a reaction; and when that reaction takes hold, there will be no revolution left.
9. David is the leader who must be the target for the revolution's destruction. David, therefore, must be killed; the sooner, the better. Ahithophel can think strategically, and he knows the further away David is from Jerusalem, the more difficult it will be to kill him or to defeat his army. they can move into position in the night, and then strike while David's column is spread out. The Holy Spirit will later tell us that this was the perfect plan. The revolution would have defeated David and Absalom would be king.

2Sam. 17:2 I will attack him while he is weak and weary of hands, throw him into a panic, and all the people with him will scatter. Consequently, I will strike down only the king [Bob says, I will assassinate the king while he is alone]

2Samuel 17:3

Bob's retired many of the ancient tapes into the vaults. He's made about 1000 hours unavailable.

Several books have come Bob's ways. Dobson and Payne on Terrorists. The terrorists try to make their enemies seem unfair and in the wrong. Idealists + criminal types belong to these guerilla armies. Also psychopaths. They all share a common heritage and under the influence of those who teach that violence is involved making good changes in the world. They believe that the money of the wealthy needs to be spread around; and they are against imperialism. Inspiration came from Latin America and showed how a small army could defeat the army of a dictator.

A book that catalogues the terrorist organization in the world? Stalin began clandestine warfare against the United States, even while we were delivering them supplies. The Tribune revealed that the United States had cracked the Japanese code, something which could have changed the war, if they read the Tribune.

2Sam. 17:1–2 Ahithophel said to Absalom, "Please, let me choose 12,000 men, and I will set out in pursuit of David tonight. Consequently, I will attack him while he is weak and weary of hands, throw him into a panic, and all the people with him will scatter. Consequently, I will strike down only the king [Bob says, I will assassinate the king while he is alone]

David will set up his command post until he hears from Hushai. Ahithophel has underestimated the power of doctrine in David's soul. This is the quick solution to the civil war, which calls for the immediately assassination of David. Once David can drop his civilians somewhere and organize his army, then there is no way that the revolutionaries can defeat him. Amasah is full of his own self-importance. Absalom chooses him because he has complained for years that his other cousins were not very good, so they were promoted and he was not. All of the choice jobs were given to Joab and Abishai.

Marat, Ropespierre and Danton, in the French Revolution; and Absalom, Amasah and Ahithophel were their corresponding parts in the Absalom revolution.

David wants to get up to the top of the Mount of Olives and determine what to do next.

Ahithophel has ignored that Jesus Christ controls history. All the people will be in peace.

This is what would indicate a win for the revolutionists; the restoration of the people to Absalom.

The Idiom of V. 3

1. So far, this has been a literal translation; but it does not necessarily make sense. You do not give an idiom a literal translation. There is a lot of idiom in this passage. The KJV has completely ignored idiom of the Hebrew.
2. In the English, the ellipsis is must be amplified for a correct understanding. "The death of the man, whom you are desiring to destroy, is tantamount to the return of all the people."
3. Ahithophel has correctly analyzed the situation. He understand this. He knows that with David dead, Absalom is the logical replacement.
4. If David is killed, the opposition will be removed.
5. Furthermore, Ahithophel sounds humanitarian in his suggestion; one man dies on behalf of all the people. Ahithophel may be thinking to get rid of David and then get rid of Absalom, and he can take over.
6. This is compatible with Ahithophel's desire to assassinate David when he is isolated.
7. Obviously, David is not dead. Every day, David is putting more and more distance between himself and Jerusalem.
8. David, if isolated, could be easily assassinated.
9. This was the only good plan given to Absalom. Ahithophel must die in order for David's force ot succeed.

2Sam. 17:3 and I will bring [back] all [restore] the people back to you. When everyone returns except the man [David] you're [Absalom] seeking, all the people will be at peace."

Now to the 2nd sentence. The key to the plan. Ellipsis indicates that Ahithophel is very excited about this plan. When a person is excited, as Paul was in Romans, he becomes very elliptical, leaving out verbs and subordinate clauses. He should be excited because God the Holy Spirit indicates that this is the only plan by which David can be defeated.

Arrogance has made Absalom stupid. Arrogance will neutralize any talent and any ability, inherent or acquired.

Ahithophel's Plan

1. The objective of Ahithophel's plan is peace; but behind it, Ahithophel has even greater plans for Ahithophel. He knows that Absalom is arrogant and a dummy. So he will be the man behind the throne, and he can either use Absalom or he can overthrow Absalom. Insurgency, which means assassination. Ahithophel proposes to demote him by violence.
- 2.

3. Therefore, the plan of Ahithophel is actually in opposition to the plan of God.
- 4.
5. The means for accomplishing the objective is criminal violence. He rejects establishment.
6. The plan of criminal arrogance are compatible with the status quo of the planner. The plan is brilliant. Humility produces thinking. Arrogance gives ascendancy in the soul; humility gives ascendancy to thinking in the soul.
7. Ahithophel is a criminal. His plans call for criminal activity in order to bring about peace in the land. Criminal activity never brings anything worthwhile to anyone. Peace in the land is a guarantee of tyranny. What is gained by criminality destroys freedom in the land.
8. The fact that Ahithophel suggests assassination of David, indicates that the revolution has run out of gas.
9. The use of revolutionary violence. The reign of terror is on and the proposal to extend criminality beyond the walls of Jerusalem to kill David.

There is a proposal, a plan and the objective, which is v. 3. The return of all the people.

Ahithophel's Plan and Suggestion

1. Operation Ahithophel means insurgency.
2. The answer to the violence of revolution and the reign of terror is greater violence by men of integrity.
3. This greater violence to defeat revolution will include clandestine and unconventional warfare.
4. In clandestine warfare, honorable men must change to the ruthless strategy of counterinsurgency.
5. For the revolutionists, the principle is, those who live by revolutionary violence will die by revolutionary violence. What counterinsurgency does not destroy, conventional warfare will destroy on the field of battle.

Back to Psalm 61. Grace is the policy of God. Deliverance in revolution. David will make great decisions and he will use all 3 stages of the faith rest drill. He will have complete control of the situation. Bob reads it and applies it.

Now David looks back and speaks to the revolutionists. They have plotted; they have determined to topple him. They delight in lies; with their mouth they bless, but they curse in their right lobes. My soul finds rest in God alone. My absolute confidence comes from Him. He is my Rock and my Deliverance. The Rock of my defense; my refuge is in God. Scum are always arrogant, men of rank are liars. If they are weighed on a balance, they are nothing. They are no more than a breath. Do not trust in terror or become arrogant because you can rob the helpless. Do not become arrogant. Power belongs to God. And grace is Your policy; for You prosper each person according to his modus operandi. Those who trust in terror, running through Jerusalem, are having their me moment, but they will pay severely.

2Sam. 17:3 and I will bring all [restore] the people back to you. When everyone returns except the man [David] you're [Absalom] seeking, all the people will be at peace."

2Samuel 17:(1-3) 4-5

72David

It is only in the past few years that counterinsurgency has become important to the military and the doctrine of such. Some guy named Furnace and his discussion of this. God is punishing those in SE Asia and still is.

We will see intelligence and counterinsurgency as a great thing; as successful. Couriers, double-agents, and in all of this cloak and dagger meandering, there will be a magnificent woman become a great heroine. A beautiful chateau outside of Bahurim. She has no training at all, and did not learn 5 ways to kill a man outside of bed, 10 in; but who was prepared for her finest hour. She was just a wonderful woman; not equal with men but superior. She knew how to keep her mouth shut. She has great capacity for life and capacity for love. She is the kind of a woman that Bob really appreciates. Great plans and bad plans.

There is a simple straightforward narrative.

2Sam. 17:1-3 Ahithophel said to Absalom, "Please, let me choose 12,000 men, and I will set out in pursuit of David tonight. Consequently, I will attack him while he is weak and weary of hands, throw him into a panic [I will immobilize him with fear], and all the people with him will scatter. Consequently, I will strike down only the king [Bob says, I will assassinate the king while he is alone] and I will bring [back] all [restore] the people back to you. When everyone returns except the man [David] you're [Absalom] seeking, all the people will be at peace."

Qal imperfect of jashar which means to be straight, level right. It means to seem good, to be pleasing. This is a plan presented to the revolutionary council.

A number of princes had gone over to be with Absalom and had joined the revolution. Most were related to the 17 gates. There were many kinds of arrogance at work here and many were exactly like Ahithophel.

Operation Ahithophel

1. This plan is operation Ahithophel. Both Absalom and the Jewish princes were pleased with the plan. They see it as excellent. God the Holy Spirit rates it as excellent.
2. Only Ahithophel has a plan to present.
3. None of the princes or Absalom have a plan of their own.
4. Arrogance is the environment of mediocrity and the passive debilitation of thought.
5. Thought and decision require humility, objectivity, flexibility combined with maximum doctrine in the soul. At some time in their lives,

6. It is not that the revolutionary staff lacks talent, ability, but their potential wisdom is neutralized by the arrogance of wisdom and the arrogance of power. Many of them reacted to David by the feet of clay syndrom. Fame cannot make them happy; the satisfaction of their lusts cannot make them happy. They are basically unhappy from arrogance and nothing can make them happy.
7. Knowledge is the environment for thinking. Knowledge of doctrine is important for the thinking of any of these men. Knowledge of doctrine is vital for any thinking.
8. You can only have thoughts which you personally understand. You need doctrine and planning and decision.
9. Doctrine is the environment for decisions. If you make choices on the basis of doctrine or truth, then you possess the freedom to make more and more choices.
10. If you make decisions on the basis of arrogance in the environment of arrogance, then you limit your choices; you reject good plans. This can destroy a business; a person in arrogance can make decisions and make changes, reaction, feet of clay syndrom or whatever; change all the policies and destroy the business. A gossip destroys its choices in life.
11. Decisions based upon the arrogance of ignorance results in running out of choices, so nothing is left but the sin unto death.
12. Ahithophel will be reduced to one decision, suicide.
13. Absalom will be reduced to one choice; to flee the battlefield; and his hair will get caught up in a tree.
14. Those involved in the use of conspiracy, violence and revolution eventually run out of decisions. They destroy their freedom of choice and they destroy themselves. A person may be free to choose to drink. The stuff that Bob takes is about 25% alcohol. First sip, you'd think 80%. Emotional wrecks and they are not worth a damn. They choose from their free will to malign others, and in Berachah, that means, they are going to go. People who drink alcohol except for social reasons are in a jam before they know it. Everywhere you turn, there are choices.
15. Those involved in conspiracy violence and revolution will destroy their own free will choices.
16. For those who abandon honor and Bible doctrine, their future is grim and foreboding. Bob loves that word.

“But they were such a nice person.” That is how they cheat you out of your money.

Next Principle

the plan called for David's assassination. Ahithophel and Absalom are both geniuses. Amasa comes from a line of genius people. However, they cannot slug it out with David thought for thought.

1. T
2. Everyone wants to kill David, who think this is the solution for their problems. Some think if someone would die and leave them money; or people with domestic problems; sweet Christians think this way; Baptists are famous for it. We make our own problems with our very own volition. We are definitely lacking in maturity and poise when we do not take the responsibility for our own decisions. You have forgotten that there was this period of time, and you have 5 plans to get him to the altar. Maybe, you thought he needed to be revamped. Your own volition determined that you wanted him. No one forced you; in fact, several people warned you. But now you want to blame him and everyone else. The very one you want to die will outlive you and write your biography. This kind of thinking will kill you. There will be a suicide; all of them will die. First they will suffer horribly. What intensifies suffering is failure to take responsibility for your own decisions. These people are blaming someone else for their own decisions.

3. They have created their own problems with their own volition. David sinned, but everyone has a sin nature. It is arrogant to be disenchanted; to be disappointed is normal. Who gave you the right to be concerned over someone else's feet of clay. They think that David's death is the solution for everything.
4. David represents the authority, the honor and the integrity that all resent. Those who manufacture from their own volition always resent someone else.
5. They assume the death of David will make them happy, when nothing will make them happy.
6. These men of the revolution have made themselves unhappy through the arrogance of unhappiness and iconoclastic arrogance.
7. The fulfillment of their desires will not make them happy.
8. There is no way and no person and no circumstance that can make the unhappy happy. Unhappiness is a state of soul inside interlocking systems of arrogance.
9. They have chosen to enter and are unhappy by choice. Beware of those unhappy by choice.

He will take a plan that does not work instead of a plan that does.

Insurgency is revolution; counterinsurgency is counter-revolution. Insurgency is anti-God; counter-insurgency is serving God.

2Sam. 17:4 This proposal [word, plan, idea] seemed good to Absalom and all the elders [princes] of Israel.

The function of counterinsurgency. Absalom then calls for Hushai to hear his opinion. Then Absalom commented. He had cold feet. He began to think, "Ahithophel leads the troops and this makes him a hero. He waits for the sun to go down and he will be a hero. David may be guarded by 25 or 30 men. Hmm, good plan, but Ahithophel has the plan; so Absalom cannot take credit for it. Then he wonders if Ahithophel is out to get him. It could be that Absalom just cannot make a decision. He has never had to make a quick decision before. He has not had to make many life and death decisions. He's done one move to kill his brother, but nothing other than that.

Particle of polite entreaty; "Please summon also Hushai the Archite." He was not there. Now, Absalom seems smart here, to listen to others, but he is having trouble making this decision. He has known Hushai all of his life and knows he can get to the root of a problem. His integrity makes him the ideal mole.

Hushai's Strategy

1. It would appear that Hushai is one of the most respected men of Israel and a perfect mole for counterinsurgency. He has poise and magnificent deceit.
2. Absalom may be testing Hushai's loyalty.
3. What Hushai will have to present a plan that is brilliant and destined to fail. And he has to do it without arousing suspicion.
4. The unseen war between Ahithophel and Hushai has just begun. Hushai is David's mole. This is a war of thinking.
5. Ahithophel and Hushai will fight to the death in warfare.
6. Equal mentality of enemies will then be determined by humility. The humble person will win.
7. Who knew before Sun Tzu, before he had a thought, David became the father of counterinsurgency. He ought to receive credit for this.
8. God the Holy Spirit linked Hushai to Ahithophel. 1Chron. 27:33 Ahithophel was the king's counselor; but Hushai was the king's friend. Ahithophel was the greatest counselor; and Hushai was his greatest friend. They are both men of genius. When you have men of equal ability, then the man with humility will defeat the man who is arrogant. Humility thinks under pressure; arrogance emotes under pressure. Arrogance under pressure is emotion. Courage is thought under pressure. The one who thinks under the greatest pressure will defeat the person who emotes under pressure. Cowardice is emotion. Cowardly people can be great fighters when cornered; in a moment of emotion, they do some incredible things, but they are actually cowards. It is an emotional reaction. Courage is thought and cowardice is emotion. The man who thinks under pressure.

We Americans have a great failure, in that we attribute great merit to emotion, and emotion does not deserve that. We see something wonderful or beautiful and we respond emotionally. The coward always emotes. When you corner a coyote, he is a coward, but he will bite.

These are men of equal ability and thought; but Hushai is courageous and he can think under pressure. He must manufacture a plan that sounds great, but will fail; and a plan that he can sell. Hushai will give David the best advice of his life; cross the Jordan and put the river between you and your enemies.

The clandestine war had not only begun, but it will be a victory for David. The outcome of the unseen war will determine the outcome of the civil war. "The advice of Hushai is better than the advice of Ahithophel, for the Lor had ordained to frustrate the good advice of Ahithophel in order to bring disaster upon Absalom."

2Sam. 17:5 Then Absalom said, "Summon Hushai the Archite also. Let's hear what he has to say as well."

Book by a psychiatrist, Frederick J. Hacker. Crusaders, Criminals, Crazyies; and it is a study in terrorism. We permit terrorists to obtain machine guns and bombs, with which they blow us to pieces, and are amazed by the spectacle of our own reactions. We are participating in our own destruction. Terror and terrorism want to dominate and to impress. Their appearances and disappearances are carefully staged. Terrorists and mass media are made for each other; if one did not exist, the other would have to invest it. There is apparently a lot of human viewpoint.

3 varieties: crazyies, crusaders and criminals. Their motives are understood by everybody (Thieme says, it ought to be everyone).

The Wilderness of Mirrors is the best book on terrorism.

The original reaction to this plan was quite favorable. There are many people in history are famous for clandestine warfare; and David precedes them all historically. Sun Tsu, Genghis Kahn, Machiavelli, etc. Bob notes very carefully who is here in Bible class. He has given this information to the smallest group of people for a long time.

The dog that does most of the biting is a coward. They do this because they are afraid.

Teams which are great, are those that can think through their season, rather than emote in order to win. If you live by your emotions, you are the coward who will fall apart under emotion and disaster.

If someone in traffic gives you the usual sign, just smile, nod or wave.

You don't need to emulate a personality. Doctrine in the soul is the environment for thinking.

Hushai is David's mole and he has broken in Absalom's higher echelon. Hushai is not just trying to infiltrate Absalom's organization but to neutralize him as well. Hushai needs to present a brilliant plan but which will not work. He will sell a plan which is guaranteed to fail.

2Sam. 17:1–5 Ahithophel said to Absalom, "Please, let me choose 12,000 men, and I will set out in pursuit of David tonight. Consequently, I will attack him while he is weak and weary of hands, throw him into a panic [I will immobilize him with fear], and all the people with him will scatter. Consequently, I will strike down only the king [R. B. Thieme, Jr. says, I will assassinate the king while he is alone] and I will bring [back] all [restore] the people back to you. When everyone returns except the man [David] you're [Absalom] seeking, all the people will be at peace." This proposal [word, plan, idea] seemed good to Absalom and all the elders [princes] of Israel. Then Absalom said, "Summon Hushai the Archite also. Let's hear what he has to say as well."

This is exactly what David wants; Hushai evaluates the plan that could destroy David. There are people you trust, which is important; but there is more going on here than just trust. His opinion was valued. Also, there is a magnificent lady of the manor, at a chateau in Bahurim. These 2 will wipe out this revolution. They will do it all for the same reason. There is not reason to believe that this woman had some secret weapon. What wins here is thinking. If you want to be a winner, you must learn to think.

Absalom trusts Hushai and respects his opinion. Ahithophel has submitted this plan. Should we execute this plan? This is an ideal situation for David. Absalom has asked Hushai to do a very difficult thing; rain on Ahithophel's plan, and then present an alternative which is in David's best interest. He has to make this look so good, they they will snap at it. Now, Hushai is quite old, and not able to keep up with David. The body can wear out, but the brain may continue to function. If you use your brain instead of emotion, and brain instead of brawn, you get better all the time. If you run around, loud mouth flapping trying to push your way through, you will end up a total coward and failure. Doctrine is designed to give you God's perspective of life. It is your thinking that does the living. It is a place we rent until God calls us home.

There are 2 great people in this passage; Hushai and the wife of Asmaveth; they will be the basis for the defeat of Absalom. She was magnificent. The more you choose for doctrine, the more choices you have in this life. The worst thing is to run out of choices in this life.

2Sam. 17:6 [So Hushai came to Absalom, and Absalom told him \[confided to him\]: "Ahithophel offered this proposal \[has submitted the following plan\]. Should we carry out his proposal \[execute his plan\]? If not, what do you say \[state your own opinion\]?"](#)

Absalom has just invited Hushai to sabotage the plan of Ahithophel. However, Hushai is smart here. He does not insult Ahithophel. He doesn't say, "Ahithophel is an ass; he has no idea what he is saying." But Hushai is sharp. He compliments Ahithophel. .

So here Hushai is clever. He says, "The plan is not good at this time." That is the truth. It is not good for David. Here, he is speaking the truth. The best disguise for a lie is truth. Bob thought that would get us thinking.

David needs to buy time and that is what Hushai is trying to do here. He does not knock this plan; the timing is just wrong. He does not directly oppose the plan, but he brings in the time element. Hushai does not appear to oppose Ahithophel. He is showing real zeal for the revolution. When you dress up a lie with some deception, you have a lie + truth and it equals deception.

Hushai will destroy the good advice of Ahithophel but replace it with bad advice that Absalom will follow. Arrogance has no discernment and arrogance becomes vulnerable to following weakness instead of strength. It replaces thought with prejudice. Absalom is smart; an IQ of genius. Prejudice produces incompetence and inefficiency. Hushai will stimulate arrogance and inculcate

2Sam. 17:7 Then Hushai replied to Absalom, "The advice Ahithophel has given this time is not good."

Medal of honor recipient read. Bob feels that this has been some of the greatest stuff he has covered in the past couple months.

Most people assume that a narrative passage needs to be covered very lightly, maybe in one message, a shout here or there where appropriate.

We have noted that the Bible has a great deal to say about military doctrine and that killing the enemy is honorable; and a person who kills the enemy is doing an honorable thing and serving the Lord Jesus Christ.

There is a scale of values for life and a different one for counterinsurgency.

David knows he needs to remove Ahithophel from Absalom's state department. We have seen that the French Revolution and the Russian Revolution were illustrative of all that is wrong with revolution; and that the U.S. war for independence was not a revolution.

We have only one standard by which we function, a self righteous above board war, which ignores Doolittle's report. We are losing the clandestine war, and as goes the conventional war.

2Sam. 17:1–7 Ahithophel said to Absalom, "Please, let me choose 12,000 men, and I will set out in pursuit of David tonight. Consequently, I will attack him while he is weak and weary of hands, throw him into a panic [I will immobilize him with fear], and all the people with him will scatter. Consequently, I will strike down only the king [Bob says, I will assassinate the king while he is alone] and I will bring [back] all [restore] the people to you. When everyone returns except the man [David] you're [Absalom] seeking, all the people will be at peace." This proposal [word, plan, idea] seemed good to Absalom and all the elders [princes] of Israel. Then Absalom said, "Summon Hushai the Archite also. Let's hear what he has to say as well." So Hushai came to Absalom, and Absalom told him [confided to him]: "Ahithophel offered this proposal [has submitted the following plan]. Should we carry out his proposal [execute his plan]? If not, what do you say [state your own opinion]?" Then Hushai replied to Absalom, "The advice Ahithophel has given this time is not good."

Hushai takes a lie and covers it with a little truth. Truth is so valuable, that it must be protected with a bodyguard of lies.

Arrogance has no discernment. Arrogance substitutes prejudice for thought.

Insurgency is revolution and counterinsurgency opposes the revolution. The revolution must use violence and terror; counterinsurgency is counter-terror. There must be thinking.

Hushai then continues and tries to keep Absalom with him. He has to use flattery, in order to keep him in agreement. "You know." He is appealing to Absalom's arrogance. He is weak and vulnerable to flattery.

Hushai is able to penetrate the inner staff of Absalom. They will reject a good plan out of emotion. Arrogance allows emotion to control the soul; and they cannot discern Hushai's brilliance.

Hushai's Plan Pulling Ahithophel's Apart

1. The brigade of guards will weigh heavily on Absalom's mind. Ahithophel knows that David is a man of great responsibility, and he has dispersed his troops. The lie behind this is, David is at his weakest moment at this time. They are now strung out over 80 miles of desert. David is responsible for civilians who are not accustomed to these kinds of difficulties. We have studied David's thinking in these psalms. Ahithophel wants to bring his men down upon David, who has maybe 400 men.
2. By mixing truth with error, Hushai will frustrate a great plan. Truth will frustrate a great plan.
3. David is surrounded by great soldiers. Plan Ahithophel is not without merit; it is the only plan with merit. Rejecting this plan means there is no good approach.
4. Deception involves weaving the truth into the false.
5. In raping 10 helpless women, there was no risk to Absalom or his army. However, Absalom is beginning to face some real risk if he takes his airborne rangers;
6. While Absalom was smart, his involvement in interlocking systems of arrogance guarantees that Hushai would out wit him by revealing flaws in a plan; flaws that really do not exist. Thought is courage; cowardice is emotion. Those who survive will do so because they have learned to apply doctrine to the situation. We learned how to apply faith rest to the situation. We know how to take a rationale and apply them instantly to an adverse situation. Thought is the key. When you cannot think, you are not even in the running.

We are a client nation to God.

The 4th estate cannot think and analyze; they revealed that in their coverage of the Republican convention. Carter sent 10 representatives to celebrate the revolution there. We are officially celebrating a communist revolution. He cannot distinguish between tyranny and an authoritarian rule. Communism wants to put a steel curtain between us and South America. We are supposed to have integrity and we have supported communist takeovers all over. We have helped the communists in every where. State department stupidity and policy.

Missionary function ought to be our foreign policy. We sent missionaries to Africa, and the Arabs were exploiting the Africans. The missionary went out from England, Livingston and Moffatt and Mary Slessor.

Empire is a bad word today, at one time, no one would go near the American flag. That is no more.

Hushai says that David will not be vulnerable to a night attack because he is a professional soldier.

He also says that David will not lodge with the people.

Hushai and Absalom

1. Hushai emphasizes David's professionalism and says that he will not panic.
2. David operates on thought. Hushai is not presenting exactly the true picture of David.
3. False information will convince Absalom that this Ahithophel's attack idea is a bad one.
4. The plan of Ahithophel is excellent and the best chance for the revolution to succeed.
5. But Hushai is giving false information supposedly knowing the habits of David. Absalom assumes that he is getting great advice here. He assume he is getting the truth and he is getting a barrage of lies.

Hushai will tell Absalom that David is with his soldiers, but not with the people (the civilians).

Hushai's Approach and the Facts

1. David is too good of a soldier to get tangled up with civilians. The army is calm, however; and the people are calm. There is no problem there at all. In his lying deception; in his beautiful finesse.
2. Ahithophel attacking will find only civilians. "You won't find David there." The communists planted a mole, Ken Philby, and he got into MI6 and into the CIA as well (or some intelligence service of ours). We almost put an agent into their higher echelons, but people through a fit over that.
3. If Ahithophel ran into David, says Hushai, his soldiers will not panic, but they will fight back fiercely. "You cannot afford to let David beat you even once." That is true advice; but Ahithophel's idea is the most intelligent.

Exploiting the weaknesses of others is the way to win wars. David will think; he will give orders. His men will fight magnificently. They will fight effectually as a unit. An example of one place where individuals who achieved too much and to stand out, they would be examined, because he is no longer behaving like part of a unit (the is the Prussian army). The medal of honor readings are quite the opposite. It is one man doing this or that; what is going on with the rest of them? Logistics are just as important as the fighting. Soldiers need food and equipment. They are no good without these things. There are a lot of heroes in logistics. The infantry is the queen of the services, although the cavalry was the king to Bob. The same thing is true in football; the most consistent team is the team where everyone functions as a team. This is why you do not win baseball with only a pitcher. You need it all. You need everyone to do his job. The plan of Ahithophel is good; but Hushai will make it sound worthless. He has finessed Absalom by saying, "Your rather is not going to be caught in a field with civilians." This sort of thing happens in business as well. There might be a great marketing plan, but it is rejected by others who are not so alert of forward thinking. It takes humility, flexibility and objectivity in order to accept good ideas. Have you noticed that our new police chief is putting everyone out on patrol. His policy is to fight crime. More patrols on the streets today than in the past 20 years. Ticket revenue is down and PR is down; but he is putting patrols on the street and CID is functioning again. Born again believers lie, deceive, cheat in order to get the criminal.

It is assumed the presidents know something when it comes to the military. Harry Truman did not understand strategy and tactics. Many of these secretaries of the Navy and Army are political appointments and they do not know enough to come in out of the rain. We invite people to leave Berachah, not to come here. Civilian interference with the function of the military is problematic, both today and in the ancient world.

That cracked bell in Philadelphia is not a sign of our freedom; the military and the police preserve our freedom.

Hushai suggests that David would never become entangled with civilians. Humble Hushai will defeat an arrogant Ahithophel and arrogant Absalom.

2Sam. 17:8 Hushai continued [Furthermore, Hushai advised], "You know your father and his men. They are warriors and are desperate like a wild bear robbed of her cubs. Your father is an experienced soldier who won't spend the night with the people [frightened civilians].

Bob Woodward and Scott Armstrong write The Brethren, about the Supreme Court.

The Wilderness of Mirrors next. Bobby read the paper and brought it to Bob's attention; it was about Ken Philby, in which he received another Soviet award.

The Kennedy brothers messed things up. Bobby almost headed up the CIA. The Kennedy's are to blame for the Cuban missile crisis, although they blame the CIA. It was vintage Kennedy to take a bureaucracy and turn it upside down. Not good for the CIA.

We had a great agent and Carter turned against him. Presidents need to be kept away from the CIA.

A leak from Gerald Ford about CIA being involved in assassinations. The only person who handled clandestine warfare well was Ike.

The one plan that could have destroyed David came from Ahithophel. Evil can plan, when evil involved in arrogance confines itself to one of the areas where evil can still think. Thought and decision always involved humility.

The environment for decision is true thought. Arrogant people always allow their pettiness to show. They will reject even a good plan, if it endangers their security, power, or influence. Knowledge is the environment for thinking in any counsel. We must learn to be able to think in terms of sentences..

Ahithophel takes himself to a point where he just has one decision; the decision to kill himself. Everyone wants to kill David, assuming that this is the solution to their problems. People always blame someone else for problems they have created with their own volition. 90% we created from our own volition.

Trilateral conspiracy is one of the most pitiful things we have ever had. There are criminal conspiracies, communist conspiracies, the infiltration of aliens that you can use; labor union. That which creates trouble is a system; not an individual. Both Kennedy's were assassinated and things are unchanged. Things are not better.

Insurgency is anti-God and revolution; counterinsurgency is counter-revolution and, in most cases, pro-God.

Hushai is David's friend, and he has integrity and honor. When you find a person who has the stability to remain loyal through all the years, then this is also a front for counterinsurgency. Hushai has to do nothing to cause Absalom to become suspicious. Ahithophel was the king's counselor and Hushai was the king's friend. Absalom does not realize that his command to summon Hushai is the beginning of clandestine warfare.

One smidgeon of a lie. The plan was not good at that time, because it would be disastrous for David. The best approach is to be able to wrap out the fatal lie with so much truth, so that it is accepted by the enemy. You do not stop the plan by shooting the author of the plan; you stop the plan with thought. There are 2 men of genius; Hushai is humble and Ahithophel is arrogant. Absalom assumes all that Hushai says is true.

Hushai says, "You know." Absalom knows nothing. He does not know this. But, he seems smart by acting that he does know this. What Hushai says makes sense to Absalom, because he would desert the people, if it insured his own safety.

Sherman was one of the greatest louses; his men raped woman in South Carolina or North Carolina. Bob would put a .45 between your eyes and shoot you. You lose control when you allow your troops to steal, rob and rape. In time of pressure when you need these troops fighting, they do not have the ability to fight.

2Sam. 17:4–8 This proposal [word, plan, idea] seemed good to Absalom and all the elders [princes] of Israel. Then Absalom said, "Summon Hushai the Archite also. Let's hear what he has to say as well." So Hushai came to Absalom, and Absalom told him [confided to him]: "Ahithophel offered this proposal [has submitted the following plan]. Should we carry out his proposal [execute his plan]? If not, what do you say [state your own opinion]?" Then Hushai replied to Absalom, "The advice Ahithophel has given this time is not good." Hushai continued [Furthermore, Hushai advised], "You know your father and his men. They are warriors and are desperate like a wild bear robbed of her cubs. Your father is an experienced soldier who won't spend the night with the people [frightened civilians]."

Hushai looks at Absalom, and sees that he is buying this. So he amplifies his story. Hushai implies that David anticipates an attack by Absalom, and is setting up an ambush right then. "Sonny boy, you get out there and start fighting your father that you will get cut off at the knees." Emotion means that arrogance dominates the out.

It will come to pass according to a falling that will come between them; but this means, "So that, it will come to pass, when he ambushes them in the first attack."

People have come to Berachah to get even with someone else, even though they did not like it here. You'll change jobs, churches, husbands or bf's, because you are an unstable person. Cheap trash joins the revolution. The revolution always gets a lot of unstable cheap trash. Clobber the revolution and those people are immediate conservatives. They are suddenly with you.

Parents and children got into a squabble, and they got into a battle that had nothing to do with Christianity; and to get revenge, the adult children came to Berachah Church. They were highly unstable. You never change churches or jobs to get revenge.

Hushai, the People and David

1. Hushai
- 2.
3. Hushai is right about the fickleness of the public. They joined the revolution because of iconoclastic arrogance. When stuck with the feet of clay syndrom, you are miserable, and you will not find happiness with any organization.
4. The general public with arrogance of disillusion have joined the revolution.
5. When David raped, seduced and took Bathsheba, the general public faced disillusionment with David.
6. David's feet of clay were well-publicized.
7. Then came the test; the humble, the spiritual, the doctrinal, remained faithful to David. His authority and administration was the greatest that Israel would ever have. Concern about someone's personality in power is meaningless. You are just advertising that you are arrogant.
8. The humble also recognize that no one is perfect, including David and including themselves they left the administration of David's punishment to the justice of God.

9. The arrogant segment of client nation Israel placed David on a pedestal and they were therefore shocked by operation Bathsheba. They had no right to be shocked. They viewed David's sins from the standpoint of their own arrogance. Arrogance produces self-righteousness when viewing others' sins. The most critical of David were probably reform rakes. They are always self righteous.

David had been placed on a pedestal and the feet of clay syndrom was the key.

Bob has a betamax now. The temptation is gone. It is Monday night, and he will untangle the stain of counterinsurgency.

2Sam. 17:9 He's probably already hiding [with the intention of spring out later] in one of the caves or some other place. If some of our troops fall first, someone is sure to hear and say, 'There's been a slaughter among the people who follow Absalom.'

There are constant references to counterintelligence news. A guy arrested by the French where he was meeting with his soviet contact. He was a journalist from Russia spreading disinformation. CIA has been beaten up with because disinformation is so popular in our own news culture. Pathay is his name. He apparently did a lot of writing, including 100 articles and his hand in many more. These were disseminated to trusted people in the media, which indicates that they are a part of this disinformation campaign. This is only the tip of the iceberg in the disinformation media.

The communists are way ahead of us in the realm of spying.

The Art of War is one of the older treatises on war by Sun Tsu. It is used by most military operations in the world. He is the native of China.

It is no wonder that doctrine is not taught. If you are interested in the ministry, then follow the procedures required. Do not talk to those around you; sit in a position and stay there. If you cannot conform to these, then go back to your pastor in some other church. If Bob spends a whole day on half a verse, then we need to understand that this is God's Word, and we need to respect it.

Bob asks us about the following verse. What is it all about? Who are these people; who is related to whom? What, is the Bible a social registry?

2Sam. 17:25 Now Absalom had appointed Amasa over the army in Joab's place. Amasa was the son of a man named Ithra the Israelite; Ithra had married Abigail daughter of Nahash. Abigail was a sister to Zeruah, Joab's mother.

Bob reads a few of the previous verses.

2Sam. 17:6–8 So Hushai came to Absalom, and Absalom told him [confided to him]: "Ahithophel offered this proposal [has submitted the following plan]. Should we carry out his proposal [execute his plan]? If not, what do you say [state your own opinion]?" Then Hushai replied to Absalom, "The advice Ahithophel has given this time is not good." Hushai continued [Furthermore, Hushai advised], "You know your father and his men. They are warriors and are desperate like a wild bear robbed of her cubs. Your father is an experienced soldier who won't spend the night with the people [frightened civilians]."

David has a point, an advance guard, a rear guard, a flank; and he has done this before an enemy with superior forces. Most of the army joined the revolution. Plan Ahithophel calls for only 12,000 chosen men to look them over and attack David. David has maybe 200 men with him. The objective is to kill David.

Suppose that Ahithophel comes down this mountain with a column of civilians. So Hushai says that these civilians are staked out as bait. David will come out with his own soldiers and attack any attacking force. David cannot actually handle a full-on attack at this time. If it were not for Hushai here, David would be destroyed.

The general public is fickle. They will support Absalom and then they will support David.

The public is idiotic, simply because they have found a sin in David. This is a problem everywhere; with congregations, organizations or businesses. You do not evaluate people on the basis of personal life, although it can be related. David's good government will continue for another 10 years after the revolution and then for 40 years under Solomon, who simply perpetuated what David did.

God must be tempted to give a people what they ask for. Bob would have been tempted to give them Absalom as their ruler.

Russian has no prosperity. It is the thought of a man and the policy of the man which is important. What they do in their personal life is not an issue. Every person in public life is a low-down skunk (we already knew this about Bob). The greatness of a corporation and a military organization and of anything depends upon thought. It does not depend upon self-righteousness and all of its priggish legalism. Morality is required by any society. Good officers in the military are not popular. MacArthur and Patton were both despised in their time. They are popular now. Read about Stonewall Jackson.

Popularity is not greatness, and greatness is not popularity. Greatness comes from thought. All great action is preceded by great thinking.

Older executives want to be brown-nosed; they do not want to be bombarded with good thinking. If good ideas are discouraged, that is arrogance. These executives are lousy. This has occurred in the advertising business. It is no longer clever; it does not make you laugh; you do not hear a diddy that you can't forget. Advertising is beginning to appeal more to the arrogance of the general public rather than to extol the greatness of the product. This is true in every facet of life. The army no longer functions as the army. They are a public relations group. Policy comes from thought; and we are running out of people who can think. The general public then could no longer think. They could not appreciate the excellent government that they had under David. They got too big for their own freedom.

The People, David and Absalom

1. Those inside of the arrogance complex reaction with disillusionment. Disappointment is normal and this is not surprising. It is disillusion that is not normal, as per gate 17.
2. David was their idol created by their own arrogance created in their own mind. They used their arrogance to smash this idol. When David's feet of clay become obvious, they forgot that David provided them with great government. The arrogance that they used to create the idol was the same arrogance which they used to smash the idol. God disciplined David; God did not demote David. Discipline is not demotion (depends on how one responds to the discipline). Only the general public demoted David. They demoted David and promoted Absalom. They are not with God or God's will. This general public will die in the revolution for their failure and lack of discernment. There were 4 installments of discipline for David. He has organized a column of frightened civilians and he will get them all to the fords of the Jordan without a single casualty or straggler. These are not accustomed to march discipline or to taking orders. He will move up the mountains of Gilead to Mahanaim. He will put all of the civilians in the fort. David gets up into Mahanaim and now he can watch from there. He'll have perhaps 100,000 men (David or Absalom?). And in one day, 20,000 men will die. David will choose the battlefield David will stay at the headquarters. Joab will fact his bastard cousin Amasa. He knows his bastard cousin well. Ishmael is half Egyptian and a very unstable person; and so will be Amasa. His mother was a Jewess. Lee understood McClellan because they went to school together.
3. Just as when a woman reacts to her lover and marries on the rebound, the first sweet man that comes along, so the people reacted to David and through in with Absalom. They changed their allegiance to Absalom. A woman always chooses a sweet guy when her lover's feet of clay are showing. More sweet guys get ruined by a woman reacting to someone that they truly love. Sweet guys can get hurt easily.
4. Superficially, Absalom seemed to be everything that David was not. Absalom did all of his raping in public; he began his reign of terror with it. It was a beautiful public image. Some people spend their whole life time hunting new idols. This is the story of some people's lives.
5. Absalom had not raped or done anything to offend public sensibilities prior to this. Later, they would realize their own stupidity. However, they had run out of choices. This is what happened to Absalom when he was dangling from the tree.
6. In his murder of Amnon, Absalom was admired for doing what David should have done. People admired Absalom for taking revenge. This was arrogance, weakness; and not strength. Those involved in interlocking systems of arrogance, in gate 17, admire people for the wrong things. Being old does not make you nice.

This is why they are a drain upon their children, grandchildren or anyone else who is around. They admired Absalom for the wrong thing.

7. Absalom was handsome with a magnificent personality. The ignorance of arrogance judged him to be a greater man than David. People are misled by good personalities. Absalom had a great personality. He seemed to be the man of the hour. David, by contrast, was persona non grata.
8. God looks on the inside. David was and would be the greatest king in all of Jewish history. There will be no other king close to David.
9. The arrogant never look beyond their self righteous probisis. They replace David with the evil, arrogant, lightweight Absalom.
10. With the comment that David had feet of clay, they began to look for someone else to fill the vacuum. They used this illusion to reject David and accept Absalom with the revolution. In their minds, arrogance crowned Absalom. That same arrogance despised David. The great danger to the revolution was a defeat that would shatter the illusion of the arrogant.

Qal perfect of shamah, to hear. Then it is repeated as a Qal active participle.

2Sam. 17:9 He's probably already hiding [with the intention of spring out later] [in one of the caves or some other \[strategic\] place](#). If some of our troops fall first, someone is sure to hear and say, 'There's been a slaughter among the people who follow Absalom.'

Whoever Hears the News Will Say

1. Absalom is interested in what the people are saying. What do the people say? Hushai appeals to Absalom's arrogance.
2. Weak men in power and authority always depend upon public opinion rather than upon their own ability and wisdom.
3. Public opinion does not have wisdom, discernment or judgment; it is the worst thing in the world.
4. Public opinion is the sum total. Or arrogance, prejudice and stupidity.
5. Prejudice is the environment for incompetence. Public prejudice is the guaranteed failure of
6. The public created an idol out of David and destroyed David as the momentum of the revolution.
7. They have blamed for their own arrogance and began another idol Absalom. They use the same arrogance to blame David and the new idol.

What will they say? "There has been a great slaughter among the troops of Absalom."

2Sam. 17:9 He's probably already hiding [with the intention of spring out later] [in one of the caves or some other \[strategic\] place](#). If some of our troops fall first, someone is sure to hear and say, 'There's been a slaughter among the people who follow Absalom.'

Kansas City and Longview added to the list of FX groups.

Hushai implies that David expected such a thing, and is using the people as bait to draw them in. Absalom can buy into this because this is what he would do.

In reality, David is in a serious jam and he could be destroyed if attacked in the next couple days.

Bob gave the analogy of a woman reacting to her lover and marries an idiot on the rebound (a sweet man), so the people of Israel changed their allegiance from David to Absalom. Hushai has finessed Absalom by setting aside Ahithophel's plan.

2Sam. 17:6–8 So Hushai came to Absalom, and Absalom told him [confided to him]: "Ahithophel offered this proposal [has submitted the following plan]. Should we carry out his proposal [execute his plan]? If not, what do you say [state your own opinion]?" Then Hushai replied to Absalom, "The advice Ahithophel has given this time is not good." Hushai continued [Furthermore, Hushai advised], "You know your father and his men. They are warriors and are desperate [have a ferocious disposition] like a wild bear robbed of her cubs. Your father is an experienced soldier who won't spend the night with the people [frightened civilians]."

Hushai's Approach

1. Hushai is using a good doctrinal principle, but reversing it to make the revolutionaries panic. Their hierarchy is unstable. It is easy to take an arrogant person and start a panic in their thinking. Hushai is going to make them overly-cautious, which is not the best idea for a revolutionary army. Hushai will give David time to organize and plan a real move.
2. David must regroup and this takes time. He has thousands of civilians scattered along 20 miles of roadway, and his troops are also scattered. He needs to protect the civilians, but he also needs to organize his troops. Hushai is providing David with that time.
3. Hushai has introduced caution into the revolution. It has been bold up until now.
4. Knowledge is the environment for thinking.
5. False knowledge is the environment for false thinking. It is the function of a mole to introduce false thinking. The best illustration of this is Ken Philby, discovered by Harvey King, the great CIA agent, who was kicked around until he died as a reward. We stupidly hold to one system of values. We have almost a psychopathic attitude by our President and Congress. That is arrogant self-righteousness. KGB is not winning against MI5 and MI6. They have enough humility in high places to be able to operate under a dual standard. They lie, they steal, they intimidate, they torture, they hold their own; they kill and they assassinate.
6. Hushai has introduced false knowledge to introduce false thinking. Absalom will never recover from this. Hushai's comments here will lead to Absalom's death.

7. False thinking will lead to false decisions and the cancellation of plan Ahithophel. When you make false decisions, you limit your options for future decisions. Then you run out of decisions and you are destroyed. When Carter cancelled the B1 bomber, he reduced his decisions for the future. Every day, Carter makes some idiotic decision, to cut back this or that, to give less money to weaponry. He adopts a 9mm which is imbecilic. A .45 is the best sidearm in the world. Colt is tooling up to manufactory a bunch of 9 mm, good for nothing except plinking at birds.

By making a wrong decision, you begin to run out of options. Socialism is a horrible evil and it limits our options. Our social security system is robbing and stealing. Tax on corporations and our government by making decisions for more socialism limits its options. We have an immoral government supported by an immoral people. We will be punished by God. The little drought this year is nothing. You make decisions for crime, you will run out of options; you make decisions to go into interlocking systems of arrogance, you limit your options; you goes against establishment, you limit your options.

All of these things will come to us, because God has given us so many grace periods. We are still alive and God has a plan for our life. This also includes the fact that, when we continue to make bad decisions, brother, you are going to run out of options. You have had it.

8. Absalom will become cautious and limit his decisions further in the civil war and he, with caution, will lose this civil war. With false information, Absalom will make bad decisions.

If we use our free will to make decisions which are counter to doctrine, then we will be able to use this to make good decisions. The decision to get in to interlocking systems of arrogance; to do something which is dishonorable. The #1 sin if Berachah is gossip. You decide to do it. The motivation to gossip is always bad. You gossip and you get discipline for it. So you rebound. And you decide to keep your mouth shut. Now, you have more options before you; options which mean blessing. Suppose the warning goes unheeded and you persist in your implacability of thinking. The more you gossip, the more you reduce your options for decisions in life. Finally, you will run out of options. So you are removed from Berachah Church. However, you may not have the option to do so, because you have persisted in gossip. Bob will illustrate with a woman who gossips; and she meets a guy, and he despised gossip; and he cuts her off at the pass when he realizes it.

Making decisions by which you lose your options. Illustration of stealing a little money; you are in the gym, you need money, you see some, and you steal it. And others fight over this, and you walk through the whole thing with an innocent expression. Bob would like to be loved, although there's not much hope. There are at least 25 things that you can do to keep from having any friends. This happens because of your decisions. The vice president or the president has a son who is a dummy, but he will be promoted over you. This is because the boss is arrogant. But if you stick it out with doctrine, you open up more and more options; and you find options you had no idea existed. You make the right decision with regards to a lifetime partner, then you open up all kinds of options. You make the wrong kind of decisions and you limit your options. When you believed in Jesus Christ, you opened up options with regards to eternity. Those who have rejected Jesus Christ have limited their options only to time; nothing open for eternity.

In the United States, there are those who make great decisions like J. P. Morgan and Carnegie, and they gave them opportunities to make more decisions. But then, the government stepped in, and began to destroy those who were making wealth and prosperity. Only we are able to make ourselves happy or miserable. Absalom is a classical illustration as the leader of the revolution.

Absalom has limited his decisions and Joab will put 3 javelins into his body.

9. Absalom will run out of decisions. He will reach a point where he has no more options because of the decisions which he makes.
10. Inglorious thinking guarantees an inglorious end to that thinking.
11. Falsehood begets falsehood; bumbling begets bumbling. We would not be here unless God took up much of the slack for our bumbling.
12. Hushai the mole will change the thinking of Absalom and the revolutionary staff so that the plan of Ahithophel will be sabotaged.

2Sam. 17:9 He's probably already hiding [with the intention of springing out later] in one of the caves or some other [strategic] place. If some of our troops fall first, someone is sure to hear and say, 'There's been a slaughter among the people who follow Absalom.'

Begins with the 3rd person singular pronoun. This refers to the revolutionists who began with courage and were the greatest asset to the revolution. Hushai here will conclude his case to Absalom.

Niphal stem to become paralyzed with fear. A victory for David in the first battle will convert fear into courage. "You follow Ahithophel's plan right now, and David is going to win.

Arrogance and the Revolution

1. Arrogance is instantly vulnerable to fear. Often the arrogant are weak without knowing that they are weak. That is the blind side of arrogance. An arrogant person thinks that he is strong, it never occurs to him that he is weak; and it suddenly hits him.
2. In arrogance, the people of the revolution have flaws in their character. They cannot function under pressure. Whatever they seem to be, pressure will turn that around.
3. Defeat is pressure; threat of defeat is pressure. Absalom stole the hearts of the people in the revolution because they are arrogant. This is the same reason that many have become revolutionaries. Those in interlocking systems of arrogance are unhappy. It means that no one can make them happy. The fulfillment of every desire cannot make them happy. Feet of clay syndrom; David's feet of clay.

Arrogant people only saw his feet of clay; and they missed all the other stuff; his great leadership, etc. They were disillusioned and they reacted to David. This was the best government that they ever had. Arrogance is greater in its effect than perfect environment. This is why there will be the Gog Magog revolution. Arrogance will reject perfect environment. Jesus Christ could go to the WH tomorrow and straighten everything out and people would still not like it. Arrogance means people cannot appreciate anything. "I know you think that Reagan in going to get in and he is going to fix everything. You think you can get rid of the Trilateral commission; get rid of the Jews; this is why the conservative movement is not going anywhere. So many conservatives have a Jacobin mentality. Maybe you don't like Berachah now and again because you are arrogant. If you were humble, flexible and objective, then perhaps you would not get all huffed up. You are your own worst enemy. Many of you resist the doctrine. I don't believe that. Why do you say it? Because you are smarter about the Bible than I am? You aren't even in the running. If you were flexible, objective and humble, you might think, "I ought to give that a thought."

4. Only the arrogant of the general public are vulnerable to being recruited for the revolution.
5. In other words, Absalom stole the hearts of the people who were involved in interlocking systems of arrogance. Absalom could not steal the hearts of the people if they were not arrogant. Bathsheba's father was humble and objective; he went with David.
6. Arrogant unhappy people joined the revolution.
7. No matter what personal or collective blessing these people possessed, nothing could make them happy. They just reject what is good because they are arrogant. Some of these people joined the revolution to get revenge on others. They can use this as an excuse to attack those they do not like. This is why revolution thinks this way. This is arrogance and revenge.
8. Their involvement in the arrogance complex is a guarantee of unhappiness and dissatisfaction with the prosperity of David's reign. He was fair and objective and this was the greatest rule in Israel's history, and they were against it.
9. David gave them good government and good government did not make them happy. Perfect freedom did not make them happy.

2Sam. 17:10 Then, even a brave man with the heart of a lion will melt because all Israel knows that your father and the valiant men with him are warriors.

2Samuel 17:10–11

72David

631_0444

Two generals: Stilwell and Wingate. Stilwell was a flawed character.

Arrogance is vulnerable to fear just as it is to flattery. No positive attributes can exist under pressure. Arrogance is far more powerful than perfect environment, and there are 2 demonstrations of this. Garden of Eden and in the millennial reign of Jesus Christ. In both cases, there is perfect environment, and it was rejected.

David's fantastic system of free enterprise is going to benefit him when he arrives in Mahanaim. They will arrive with no provisions. Free enterprise will come to his rescue. Free enterprise rejects the revolution.

2Sam. 17:6–9 So Hushai came to Absalom, and Absalom told him [confided to him]: "Ahithophel offered this proposal [has submitted the following plan]. Should we carry out his proposal [execute his plan]? If not, what do you say [state your own opinion]?" Then Hushai replied to Absalom, "The advice Ahithophel has given this time is not good." Hushai continued [Furthermore, Hushai advised], "You know your father and his men. They are warriors and are desperate [have a ferocious disposition] like a wild bear robbed of her cubs. Your father is an experienced soldier who won't spend the night with the people [frightened civilians]. He's probably already hiding [with the intention of springing out later] in one of the caves or some other [strategic] place. If some of our troops fall first, someone is sure to hear and say, 'There's been a slaughter among the people who follow Absalom.'

Shobak is the younger brother of Hanun, and he supports David, whereas his brother was the cause of the Ammonite war. David's mother was once the wife of the King of Ammon; and this is why he was always safe in that area.

David and the Arrogant Population of Israel

1. David provides the people with great environment, but with all of this, their arrogance of unhappiness made it impossible for them to enjoy it. Great Britain, Australia, _____, and the United States are the only places where there is great freedom anymore. Freedom is a part of capacity for life. People knew in WWII knew they were fighting for freedom; however, today, people have no concept of freedom, and we cannot even get them to register for the draft. We have great prosperity in the slums than we have in some palaces in eastern Europe. What appears to be courage will end up being just a flawed character. In one day, 20,000 will die in the battle because of a flawed character.
2. David was the greatest king in all of Israel's history and provided the greatest period of freedom in his nation; and his people did not appreciate this. The people revolted against him.
3. The arrogant part of the public from their very volition created an idol out of David. They maintained him in this same sphere of interlocking systems of arrogance. They discovered his feet of clay and they destroyed him in their souls.
4. The general public who were humble, objective and flexible, they admired and respected and obeyed David as king. These are the loyal ones integrity the civil war.
5. David was still their king and God would handle all of his discipline.
6. On the other hand, those with flawed character, all people sin, but not all have a flawed character. The flawed character failed under pressure. It takes a revolution to bring this all out. God punishes flawed character. The arrogance of the Nazis, Japs and Russians; and God punishes them for it. Any field, today, the Japanese has met the challenge and has produced greater products. However, they had the same potential problem of arrogance.

7. They found their man in Absalom whose superficial beauty and attractive personality was converted into an idol for their worship. Absalom had everything. He was startlingly beautiful. He was that kind of a person. This was how Rudolf Valentino had such an effect on women. Absalom had flawless features; thick red hair that he cut once a year. He was a muscle man and flawed so that anyone who had anything to do with Absalom would be twice as miserable as anyone who made contact with him. "Ladies, muscles do not mean a damned thing." Bob's muscles have allowed him to be able to sit at a typewriter for 8 hours without getting a backache. Muscles have nothing to do with anything except perhaps with arrogance. When you admire a person for his muscles, you are too dumb to live. Football players do not always have muscles. The weight lifter kind. Bob grew up on the CA beaches and you would not go to the beach unless you could flex a bit. Suzie Q follows men around and drools; it comes from her brain. Until you know what a man is like in his soul, you do not know the man. We used to have courtship, which gave us time to make a good estimate of the whole thing. Don't let anyone tell you that the French kiss is a soul kiss. This is all point 7. It is the soul that counts.
8. Those who joined the revolution will be destroyed by the flaw of their arrogance. About 1000 people die in a riot. That is not terrible. When the general public is involved with interlocking systems of arrogance, revolution and civil war are punishment from God.

All Israel knows... No one is more subject to public opinion than someone who is in power but should not be there. Absalom is very sensitive to what the public thinks. Hushai now warns Absalom and the revolutionary leadership that their courage will melt away.

The prejudice of arrogance; prejudice produces instability.

Hushai is putting pressure on Absalom and appealing to his fear.

2Sam. 17:10 Then, even a brave man with the heart of a lion will melt [be paralyzed with fear] because all Israel knows that your father and the valiant men with him are warriors [is a great soldier and those with him are great men].

Hushai shares his advice now. Hushai knows that Absalom is on the ropes. He is afraid. He is now going to follow up with the negative side of counterinsurgency. He will develop a plan that will seem workable, but will be the defeat of David. Only blind arrogance would see how fallacious it is. Asaph means to gather, to collect; to mobilize, to concentrate.

Also, these men have to be under your command. Complete mobilize all Israel.

Hushai is creating a vision; an army like the sand of the seashore. Hushai knows that Absalom is a flawed character and that his cowardly streak can be shown. This will give David more time to mobilize. Absalom will get a sense of security with a large army about him. It will stimulate his arrogance and his vanity. Absalom is not a military man.

Halak means to march. This is a military idiom, meaning personally led by Absalom.

2Sam. 17:11 Instead, I advise that all Israel from Dan to Beer-sheba--as numerous as the sand by the sea--be gathered [mobilize] to you and that you personally go into battle [idiom for personally led by you].

2Samuel 17:11–12

72David

631_0445

Bob stumbled across the Johnny Carson show and the author of the Spike was on. Bob cannot understand how a man can wear jewelry. An old convert of Bob's, Dianne Cannon.

2Sam. 17:11 Instead, I advise that all Israel from Dan to Beer-sheba--as numerous as the sand by the sea--be gathered [mobilize] to you and that you personally go into battle [idiom for personally led by you].

Hushai's Implication

1. Nothing appeals to arrogance so much as the innuendo that someone else is arrogant.
2. Hushai implies that Ahithophel wants all the glory by making an immediate night attack upon David. Hushai would not say it.
3. Hushai implies that Absalom needs a much larger army. Don't trust anyone else, which appeals to arrogance. He should personally lead this army
4. This is the effectiveness of counterinsurgency; it appeals to the vanity of the arrogant and guarantees victory for David in the civil war. It is easy to make an arrogant person suspicious. He will set Ahithophel aside as a planner
5. With Absalom leading the army he will fail. He will put Amasa in charge; he is a bastard in the literal sense. Illegitimate. Those who are born bastards ought not to be discouraged, the self-made bastards is a different story.
6. With Ahithophel leading his army, he would be a good match-up for David. David would be in trouble. Napoleon seen to be equal to a corp or an army.
7. Counterinsurgency is undermining the best leadership and guarantees the appointment of incompetent leadership.
8. Like so many arrogant people, Absalom possesses the feminine quality of intense jealousy. It is difficult for anyone of genius category to have genius under him and near him.
9. Hushai implies that Ahithophel is not a servant but someone glory grabbing and competing with Absalom.
10. Arrogance cannot assign pure motivation to others. We all have old sin natures, but even those can be honorable and trustworthy. Absalom is an arrogant leader. When he has good people working for him, he doubts them because he is arrogant. In the 1920's a crime syndicate was broken up. The brilliant leader. He got rid of some of his best people, a CPA.

Arrogance Is Absalom's Foil

1. They are weak and extend themselves beyond their ability. In arrogance, you extend yourself beyond your ability. Humility increases one's ability
2. Absalom is not qualified to be a field commander or even to be a chief of staff or a commander. David is great; Absalom is not. Absalom is a rancher. He is not a soldier. His arrogance makes him think he can do this. Ahithophel is qualified in both fields.
3. The insinuations of Hushai reflect the genius of David's mole. Absalom has lost his discernment. All people in arrogance have a blind side. You can be very talented in some field of entertainment; acting, script writing, etc.' but with arrogance, you will lose out. Anyone inside of interlocking systems of arrogance, no matter how smart, they have a blind side. This blind side can be exploited to the disaster of that person.
4. Hushai will set aside brilliant leadership and a fantastic soldier; Ahithophel can do this and Hushai gets Absalom to set him aside in arrogance. Absalom is incompetent and will bring disaster by his strategy, tactics, logistics; he has no staff or field capability.
5. With a numerically superior army, Hushai will convince Absalom that he can defeat David. This will divorce him from the situation. He will dream the impossible dream. Arrogance dreams; humility faces reality.
6. The implication that victory goes to the largest army is ridiculous to anyone who knows anything about strategy and tactics; but Absalom will swallow the bait hook, line and sinker.
7. Arrogance is vulnerable to manipulation. Arrogant people are vulnerable to flattery. Those who do not think flattery can move them are the ones most easily moved.
8. Absalom and his pettiness and vindictiveness. Vindictive people cannot be successful in command. Stilwell was petty and it destroyed him and he was a lousy commander.
9. Arrogance destroys ability mentality talent, and any potential for greatness.
10. His arrogance is his downfall. Once you are dead, you are no longer subject to arrogance.

Absalom Making Decisions Which Require Moral Courage

1. When Absalom followed the advice of Ahithophel, he was in no personal danger. He had his personal bodyguard there and 10 helpless women, so his life was not in danger.
2. But to risk a vigorous pursuit and a night attack was too great for the flawed character of Absalom. Plan Ahithophel, says that God the Holy Spirit, is the only plan that could destroy David. This was the only plan that could have worked. It requires moral courage to put this plan into action.
3. Absalom did not have the moral courage or wisdom to follow Ahithophel. All arrogant people are cowards; it may not be clear on the surface. They may not be very strong or they may be strong, but they may be tough; but only if they have the initial upper hand. Some people do not look cowardly until they are put under pressure. Moral courage is the greatest asset in your life. Marry a man with moral courage, you are going to make it. It is the flawed character that does not work. Arrogance destroys capacity for life, capacity for happiness, capacity for love. Arrogance destroys any form of success and any form of greatness. Arrogance is more powerful than perfect environment. So powerful is the evil of arrogance that it causes us to make the wrong choice that it limits our choice. This is even true in perfect environment. Environmentalism is the quintessence of human arrogance.

4. Absalom consulted Hushai, who exploited and confirmed his fears and flaws; he brought these flaws of character out. Wrong decisions destroys decisions and options. In business, marriage, personal life, social life. True of spiritual life as well, which means you might go out under the sin unto death.
5. Hushai also directed suspicion toward Ahithophel, which reached Absalom. Ahithophel was an effective leader with sound ideas and now he is under suspicion. He will be permanently discredited.
6. Hushai's mission was to discredit Ahithophel. 2Sam. 15:31 David's prayer.
7. God answers this prayer through counterinsurgency.
8. The larger Absalom's army, the greater will become his difficulties. No one but Ahithophel can administer a large army. You cannot win wars without logistics. Tactically and strategically, the south was much better but the north had better logistics. Confederate army had terrible logistics. Yankee logistics were incredible. So there was a possibility of destroying the Yankees in the Potomac, but they could be easily and quickly replaced. No military can work without logistics. We are in the worst shape we have ever been in. Logistically, we are behind the 8ball. Hushai convinces Absalom to surround himself with a huge army, but the problem is, Absalom has no idea how to deal with this many people or how to provide logistics for them. Hushai will paint a dream of victory for Absalom.

An army is no better than its logistics. Ahithophel is very well-organized, and he knew what was going on, and he would lose the revolution.

Now, Hushai will paint this wonderful picture of defeat of David. They will just stumble across David, wherever he happens to be, in one of those places, and he will defeat him.

Right now, there needs to be a reconnaissance force out there determining where David is and where he is going. But David will get away and he will choose the battlefield. He will not find David until David wants to be found, which means, he will have chosen the battlefield. Strategically and tactically, you cannot handle it if you do not know where your enemy is.

Where he may be found? We don't know where he is right now! However, Absalom does not have this kind of training. He may be smart, attractive and personable, but if you are arrogant, you are a flawed character. You would think Bob is talking about Obama. Arrogance means, when the pressure is applied, you will crack open.

With these revolutionary armies, they often like to stop and have fun; rape, steal, pillage. Only plan Ahithophel would have worked. 12,000 airborne rangers could have gone over the river, found David, waited for night, and then attacked and beaten David. David has civilians stretched out 20 miles or so and he is vulnerable. Absalom just needed to make one good decision here, and this would have opened up his options. Absalom is running out of decisions. If you go into interlocking systems of arrogance, then you will run out of decisions. You will know this as you die horribly and miserably.

Arrogance is a funny thing. So many things look easy. However, arrogance, makes you think it is easy when it is not; arrogance makes you think that you can do things that you cannot.

Bob recalls seeing a golfer, and Bob thought, that looks easy; and he swung and took a big chunk of dirt out and the ball was still there. Bob had a cousin Freddy.

David for all of these years has made military look easy. Arrogance assumes that everything is easy. You just step up to the plate and do it. It looked easy should be some people's epitaph. Bob gives the example of the guy who took a bomber into the air after taxiing it around for awhile. It looked easy. He had to bail out, he could not land it.

Then Hushai makes an analogy. We will fall upon him like dew falls on the ground. It always looks easy. No gravity; no dew. Hushai makes it sound easy. You just get 1000's of men together, go find David, fall upon him, and that will handle David. Dew falls at night. Fall on him at night, and you will take care of him. However, the larger the force at night, the greater the confusion, the more difficult it is to organize them.

Absalom's arrogance will turn Hushai's vision into a dream. Victory in thinking precedes victory in battle. Someone has to actually work all of this out into a plan of action. This idea that Hushai comes up with is designed to confound a person who knows nothing about warfare. Absalom has no technical military knowledge, and he cannot see through Hushai's screen of deception. There is a lot of difference between hallucination and military science. Absalom cannot function under pressure and he has no technical knowledge whatsoever.

2Sam. 17:12 [Then we will attack David wherever \[one of those places\] we find him, and we will descend on him like dew on the ground. Not even one will be left of all the men with him.](#)

2Samuel 17:12–13

72David

631_0446

Bob caught a male yawning without covering his mouth.

Major Tom Phillips translation of Sun Tzu. Victory is won by indirect methods. All warfare is based on deception; when ready for attack, he must appear unable. The skillful opponent must not be judged on appearances but upon information from spies. Fighting is really the final result. It all goes back to thinking.

Victory in Thinking Precedes Victory in Battle

1. Hushai has created illusion and suspicion. Absalom has been turned into an instant megalomaniac.
2. Hushai inculcates a vision of superior army. Arrogance finds reality in the nebulous content of dreams.
3. Knowledge is the environment for thinking; humility is the servant of that knowledge.
4. Absalom does not have the technical military knowledge or the humility to see the fallacy of Hushai's screen of fabrication.
5. Absalom can only fall back on his emotions. He visualizes a large army. He has a dream of getting this great army and attacking David.
6. Arrogance has destroyed Absalom's thinking, his emotions are in charge.
7. You can only have thoughts which you personally understand. Absalom knows no military science. Knowledge is power used to be in the preface of every military book. There are 2 things which Absalom fails to note: his father's doctrine and the 2nd is his father's technical military skill. What made David great are the things which his son ignores.
8. Even if Absalom had been trained in military science, he would have failed because of his arrogance. Knowledge is the environment for thinking.
9. Interlocking systems of arrogance have destroyed Absalom's thinking as well as his ability to make correct decisions.
10. Absalom will soon discover that if you make decisions when in interlocking systems of arrogance, so that nothing is left but punishment from God in divine discipline.
11. Absalom will experience intensity of suffering which will only be intensified more by his scar tissue and the sin unto death.
12. Absalom may be the leader of the revolution, but each decision reduces the number of decisions left in his life.
13. Absalom's great revolutionary power will be frustrated by incompetence. Indecisiveness in the function of his volition.

The Niphal of athar means to remain. Absalom is in this dream of defeating David. Hushai has Absalom thinking that no one on David's side will survive this battle.

Hushai continues to say we will do this; we will do that.

2Sam. 17:12 Then we will attack David wherever [one of those places] we find him, and we will descend on him like dew on the ground. Not even one will be left [or, remain in his presence] of all the men with him [neither he nor any or his men will survive the battle].

Absalom and His Hallucinations

1. The pronoun we is used by Hushai to indicate his loyalty to the revolution. It takes a monster to beget a monster. It takes you to destroy you. The only help you need are interlocking systems of arrogance.
2. The entire series of lies is designed to buy time for David. He has the megalomaniac vision.

3. Arrogance converts the lies of anyone into hallucination. The arrogance of Absalom converts the lies of Hushai into the hallucination of victory. It is easy to dream about defeating David.
4. Absalom visualizes a victory which will never occur. Emotion + arrogance = hallucination. Arrogance dominates his life and his soul.
5. Arrogance blinds to reality. Instead of destroying David, Absalom will destroy himself.
6. Being arrogant, Absalom will take the revolution down with himself.
7. Hushai the humble has already defeated Absalom the arrogant on a greater battlefield; the greatest battlefield of human thinking. Arrogance introduces subjectivity and inflexibility.
8. The victory of counterinsurgency is Absalom's first defeat. The battlefield of human thinking.
9. Hushai defeated Absalom in the palace and now David will defeat him on the battlefield. In other words, victory in clandestine warfare means victory in conventional warfare. Hushai defeated Absalom on the field of battle, in the field of thought. David will later defeat him on the conventional field of battle. Two of David's subordinates will defeat Absalom.

2Sam. 17:12 Then we will attack David wherever [one of those places] we find him, and we will descend on him like dew on the ground. Not even one will be left [or, remain in his presence] of all the men with him [neither he nor any or his men will survive the battle].

If Hushai began with mere illusion, this is complete disillusion. This tells you what a jackass any arrogant person is. There will not be one small stone left in a city, if David tries to hide in a city. The arrogant is taken from illusion to hallucination in one easy step.

Asaph. There is a military use of the word which means to withdraw. The nasah in the Hiphil. It is as if everyone in Israel is in illusion??

People comes from hundreds of miles away dragging the stones of a city into the river. And Hushai says, we will drag every stone into the valley. Absalom never stopped to think, what if the city is in the valley (well, it wouldn't be). When you start in arrogance, you go from the silly to the ridiculous. Arrogant people are fools. No one but a fool would buy this vision.

Hushai knows that the arrogant fantasize. Hushai has merely taken Absalom's arrogance and has used it against him. He has used thousands and hundreds of thousands of troops going with Absalom and wiping out David and his army. And if they are in a city, then they will drag the stones of the city away.

Ahithophel had a good plan; an efficient plan; a plan that would work.

Also, notice, Ahithophel's plan does not involve Absalom; Hushai's plan does. Absalom likes this, because he is arrogant.

2Sam. 17:13 If he retreats [withdraws] to some city, all Israel will bring ropes to that city, and we will drag its stones into the valley until not even a pebble can be found there."

Absalom's Arrogance and Hallucination

1. Hushai as a mole is a creator of many fascinating things. He has created false pressure. He creates all of this false pressure. Arrogant people are plagued with pressures which do not exist. Stupid, arrogant imbeciles. He begins will illusion and builds this into an hallucination. Hushai has created pressure that does not exist, unwarranted suspicion, and then an illusion that cannot be.
2. The illusion and hallucination appeals to the vanity of Absalom, whose arrogance has removed him from reality and whose thinking has been replaced by emotion. Absalom is a total wreck now. His arrogance is divorced from reality and thinking has been replaced by emotion.
3. In the arrogance of ignorance, Absalom has lost his sense of responsibility when it comes to responsible government and responsible authority.
4. The domination of his emotional power excludes thought and the ability to think. Absalom will turn against the only man who could help him and turn to the man who will destroy him.
5. Absalom the arrogant is already defeated by Hushai the humble. He is unable to discern between truth and fiction. There is no system of thinking at all. There is no real thinking here at all. Emotion without thought. We all heave ears, and we hear this jungle music and we want to get up and dance. There are wonderful things that you hear and see. Arrogance wipes out thought and replaces it with emotion; such negative emotions as cowardice; Cowardice is lack of thought. Absalom's arrogance has blinded him. He does not realize that he has to first out think David. The battlefield is a tremendous amount of thinking. If you go into a battlefield with all preparations done, knowing you will win, then you will. If you don't know, then you will die. Honorable men are squandered because of stupidity and arrogance. We have so much stupidity and arrogance, you would be amazed. There are divisional commanders today who are solid stupid from stem to stern.
6. The thinking conflict involves a few while the battlefield conflict involves large numbers. The system of authority from staff to line and line to staff has been good; nitty gritty detail thinking; and there is obedience at every point.
7. The outcome of a conflict between large forces depends upon the thinking of a few. Patton was not just a loud-mouthed officer with brains; he could think. MacArthur and Patton were able to think in terms of aggressive warfare. Patton could use armor almost anywhere.
8. Never let arrogance or prejudice in the line debunk the importance of staff. Do not let them debunk the policy-makers of that company. Likewise, the staff should never sell short the importance of staff.
9. The staff thinks and decides; the staff planning. Both are necessary. Prejudice makes the line or combat arms suspicious of staff. The pride of prejudice guarantees inefficiency and incompetence. God the Holy Spirit expresses this thinking efficiency of David and Joab.

We will meet a little girl who is really on her toes for thinking; and an aristocratic lady who owns a chateau. But Hushai represents clandestine warfare. It always takes teamwork. Sometimes we get gung ho about our own outfit and we forget what else it takes to be involved. The more Bob learns about each branch of service, the more he is convinced that there is just one service which can take part for any victory. You have to sit in those uncomfortable pews (they were a great buy at the time). You listen under the principle of enforced humility; discipline enforces the humility.

Hushai and Freedom

1. Hushai's counterinsurgency plan must neutralize the excellent plan of Ahithophel.
2. Hushai must persuade Absalom to reject plan Ahithophel. He must create suspicion about the plan and the author.
3. Hushai must right the revolution with thought.
4. Hushai's thoughts must be expressed in words, which create the illusion of victory without the reality of victory.
5. Because of the vanity of Absalom, hyperbole is effective in creating this illusion. The dew falling on the ground; the ropes dragging the stones into the valley.
6. Victory in thinking precedes victory in battle. Good thinking precedes good marketing.
7. The nation's freedom is at stake. The road to freedom is at stake. Once freedom has been attained by the armed forces, the freedom must be retained by divine establishment.
8. Freedom for business to make profit without interference from government. Government is to protect business from the crusader and from the attack. Let a business fail if it does not work.
9. Capitalism is the only economic system of life. Socialism is an evil system designed to destroy human freedom. In peace time, thinking wins in free enterprise. In wartime, thinking wins in warfare. All kinds of capitalists will come through to help the civilian refugees, which would be impossible without a free enterprise system. When government has bullies to the free enterprise system in peacetime. The magnificent things which were done here, the building of ships and tanks and the weapons of war; it is all amazing. No one wanted supplies for our soldiers in Vietnam, by the evil agitators.

Once the military has provided freedom for a nation, then there is a responsibility to carry this out.

Only the believer can provide the function of the client nation. An unbeliever can be a patriot and give us freedom as a warrior; but he cannot fulfill client nation function. Missionary activity depends upon believers.

The missing link must be brought in at this point. Once freedom is attained on the battlefield, the rest is up to the believers. No client nation can function without its believers. The honorable profession of law enforcement keeps freedom and suppresses criminality. The spiritual realm begins then.

Evangelism in the client nation provides the choice to believe or not in Jesus Christ. Collective evangelism. The choice of believing in Christ opens up additional decisions and options. The spiritual function is the most important. Believers have a dual role; there is the resultant function of...

There are only 2 nations in Africa which are client nations. None of them are client nations except for Rhodesia and South Africa (which status, they will lose).

Revolution is anti-God and anti-establishment.

2Sam. 17:13 If he retreats [withdraws] to some city, all Israel will bring ropes to that city, and we will drag its stones into the valley until not even a pebble can be found there."

2Samuel 17

72David

631_0447

David ought to be ranked with Gaius Julius Caesar, Napoleon, Alexander the Great. 500 years after David initiated counterinsurgency in warfare, Sun Tzu wrote about it. General Giap is one of the foremost students of Sun Tzu, and he is the genius behind Ho Chi Minh.

So they will follow their leaders without any thought to danger. Earth, distances, great a small; terrain, narrow passages. He stands for wisdom, courage,... In your deliberation, when seeking to determine. Which has the most ability? Who has the advantages of heaven and earth? Which side is there the greatest discipline? Which army is the stronger? On which side are the officers the best trained. In which army is there the greatest constancy in reward and punishment? The army out of control which intimidates the civilians, these armies destroy.

When we are near, we make our enemy think we are far away; if we are far away, we must think we are close; the arrogant always lose. If he is taking his ease, give him no rest. Attack him where he is unprepared; attack where you are not expected.

2Sam. 17:11–13 Instead, I advise that all Israel from Dan to Beer-sheba--as numerous as the sand by the sea--be gathered [mobilize] to you and that you personally go into battle [idiom for personally led by you]. Then we will attack David wherever [one of those places] we find him, and we will descend on him like dew on the ground. Not even one will be left [or, remain in his presence] of all the men with him [neither he nor any or his men will survive the battle]. If he retreats [withdraws] to some city, all Israel will bring ropes to that city, and we will drag its stones into the valley until not even a pebble can be found there."

Thinking is always the greatest virtue. The government must protect free enterprise business from the criminal. The government is not to go along with the crusader and destroy big business. The crusader is as dangerous to big business as the criminal.

Absalom in arrogance has come to believe the absurd.

Client Nation Function

1. Once military victory secures freedom, then it is the function of the spiritual realm to perpetuate this freedom. As goes the believer so goes the client nation. If the believer fails to advance then the client nation retrogresses. Freedom gives born-again believers the ability to fulfill their calling in life.
2. Military is used in times of peace to guarantee peace. Some have trouble seeing the value of the military in peace, but this keeps the peace.
3. Law and order keeps peace as well. A client nation cannot enjoy its freedom without good law enforcement.
4. The separation of church and state opens the door for client nation function in the spiritual realm. It is the governments responsibility to protect human freedom. People have used religion in order to cheat; the person who has a church in hsi garage as a tax dodge, or someone selling degrees in the mail, abuses tax privileges. There are quite a few religious paramilitary organizations in the U.S. today. The National Council of Churches is sponsoring several revolutionary organizations, even though they are in support of peace (supposedly). No church has a right to become a paramilitary organization. Bob would shoot some of us down like dogs in a military situation. But Bob's authority ends at the door. God is not going to keep you alive because you can shoot; he will keep you alive because you can think.
5. Separation of church and state opens the door for client nation function in the spiritual realm.
6. We have the option to accept or reject Jesus Christ. This is what we find in evangelization.
7. Those who express positive volition toward Jesus Christ form the nucleus of those who will preserve the nation. They are the nucleus of client nation spiritual function. You must decide what you will do about doctrine. How you are supported in logistical grace is related to Bible doctrine. Without divine viewpoint in life, you have had it. Your only purpose for being here is to make more and more good decisions.
8. The choice of believers in Christ opens up other choices; as you develop this spiritual growth from Bible doctrine, then you reach the pivot. As goes the pivot, so goes the nation.
9. The daily function of gap results in spiritual growth and it advances the plan of God and it brings blessing to the client nation. As goes the pivot, so goes the prosperity of a nation and so goes its security.
10. In comes missionary activity; and missionaries are sent to countries where local churches do not exist. We are to take Bible teaching and the gospel to nations which are not client nations. Korea was not a client nation and they had not the benefits of it; same for India and Africa; Persia (Iran now); we went all over the world with the gospel. We always went where client nation status did not exist. People from all over the world are in heaven today because of missionary activity.
11. Indigenous missionary activity includes evangelism of natives; the training of those with the right gifts to reach out to their own. The indigenous foreign mission approach.

12. Revolution destroys client nation function under the environment of freedom. Revolution is always anti-God and anti-establishment. It creates the illusion of freedom and yet freedom is destroyed.

We continue in v. 14. Good is the advice of Hushai the Archite; the word for good can also use to mean better. God the Holy Spirit tells us that the plan of Ahithophel was a better plan than Hushai's.

Victory and Humility

1. Victory in clandestine warfare results in victory in standard warfare.
2. Victory in thinking precedes victory in fighting.
3. This applies to the thinking of counterinsurgency as well as staff in conventional warfare.
4. Knowledge is the environment for thinking. Those in secret service and in staff must have professional knowledge. There is a dearth today of professional thinking in almost every field of life.
5. Hushai has succeeded in counterinsurgency. He sized up Absalom in his arrogance and was able to outwit him. The humble person always wins; the arrogant person always loses.
6. Thinking requires humility, which is the objectivity and flexibility utilized which results in victory.
7. A dual scale of values is necessary in clandestine warfare.

The first part of this verse apparently reads: Absalom and all the men of Israel said, "The advice of Hushai the Archite is better than Ahithophel's advice."

God ordains or decrees. Parar is a support verb. This means to frustrate. For the Lord had ordained to frustrate Ahithophel's good advice. The Lord Jesus Christ approves and sponsors client nation counterinsurgency. He does not approve this for a police state, like any communist country. If it is a moral nation, its secret service is legitimate; if it is an immoral nation, then its secret service is illegitimate. The Lord approves counterinsurgency function in police work. The larger the city, the larger the CID. Some can only be apprehended by CID. Conventional law enforcement will not be enough.

For the Lord had ordained to frustrate the better plan of Ahithophel. Ahithophel proposed leaving the gates of Jerusalem and crossing the Kidron valley. God the Holy Spirit tells us that Ahithophel's plan was the better plan by far and it would have worked. David would have been assassinated and the revolution would be victorious.

Recently, we studied divine omniscience and that we understand divine essence and that we can distinguish between divine love and the function of God's justice.

Divine Decrees and the 4 Men

1. In frustrating the better plan of Ahithophel, God had to use a believer with great integrity, great spiritually, whose reputation was beyond reproach.
2. The method used to frustrate the better plan of Ahithophel was lying, deceit, exploitation, delusion in the mind of Ahithophel. With Absalom it was illusion and hallucination.
3. Forcing Absalom to adopt the wrong plan and forcing Ahithophel to suicide, when you have equal genius on both side, humility wins; humility is flexible. Humility is objective.
4. All of this was known in eternity past. The thoughts, motives actions which are involved.
5. Furthermore, the thought in David's prayer in 2Sam. 31. Hushai could lie and make it sound like the truth. He could take the measure of Absalom in the interlocking systems of arrogance and he could exploit the weaknesses of Absalom and defeat him.
6. Everything thought, motive and decision of 4 men was entered into the computer of divine decrees so that their convergence in human history resulted in divine approval of counterinsurgency in defeating the revolution.

particle al + eth one is the dative and the other the accusative. The particles indicate the cases. In order that the Lord might bring disaster upon Absalom.

2Sam. 17:14 Since the LORD had decreed that Ahithophel's good advice [better plan] be undermined in order to bring about Absalom's ruin, Absalom and all the men of Israel said, "The advice of Hushai the Archite is better than Ahithophel's advice."

Conspiracy and Revolution

1. The Lord does not approve of conspiracy or revolution.
2. God use the revolutionary leaders to destroy the leaders and the revolution. Arrogance destroys itself. A person who is arrogant can only blame himself, but he rarely does.
3. The system that one adopts, arrogance, inevitably results in evil.
4. The justice of God administers punishment in the environment of evil created by evil men in arrogance.
5. So the evil men create the means of destroying themselves. In other words, evil men create their own destruction. Arrogance destroys arrogance and evil destroys evil. It is self-destructive to become involved in arrogance and therefore, evil.
6. No one becomes involved in revolution apart from his own volition. No one seeks revenge apart from his own volition being involved.
7. Volition makes choices for evil. Ahithophel has one choice left and he will kill himself. The alternative to choices is no choice.
8. The last choice for Absalom was to run for his life and Ahithophel to kill himself.

9. Ahithophel dies from the same volition which brought him to suicide. Absalom decided not to cut his hair and he let it grow for a year. This long hair got caught in the trees.
10. Those who create disaster for others inevitably bring disaster upon themselves. Absalom created misery for others; disaster for others; and he brought disaster upon himself.
11. This principle is true of other factors. It is true of gossip, maligning, revenge, etc. it is true of conspiracy; it is true of revolution. Revolution eats her own children.

2Sam. 17:14 Absalom and all the men of Israel said, "The advice of Hushai the Archite is better than Ahithophel's advice." Since the LORD had decreed that Ahithophel's good advice [better plan] be undermined in order to bring about Absalom's ruin,

Warfare and Counterinsurgency Values

1. Victory in thinking precedes victory in battle. This is true in business as well. Thinking and marketing, thinking and planning. Victory in clandestine warfare precede victory in conventional warfare.
2. There is a set of standards necessary for success.
3. Conventional warfare also has a set of standards.
4. The standards of clandestine warfare are not the same as those for conventional warfare. There is some overlap.
5. There is honor, integrity and morality related to killing the enemy. The functions in clandestine warfare are classified generally as sin and immorality.
6. However, in the context of clandestine warfare, counterinsurgency must be reclassified as necessary, and not in conflict with integrity or the spiritual life of the believer. When Hushai lied, it was not a sin,; it was justified. For the 1% idiots, you are not in counterinsurgency.
7. Killing the enemy in warfare is not sin.
8. In conventional warfare, it is the responsibility of the unit commander to maintain discipline on and off the battlefield. He determines the time at which the enemy is to be killed. There is no murder here.
9. While it is the soldier's job to kill the enemy in warfare, soldiers are not to commit crimes and sin against civilians. Confederates gave money to those in Pennsylvania for their goods and services. Sherman let his men rape and pillage as they marched through Georgia. The difference between him and Lee is theh difference between day and night. Sherman's memoirs admitted to these things. Someone went back into all the records to prove this occurred. Just released a book. Old sin natures must be controlled in the military. Strict discipline demands that these sin natures be controlled. Or you put them to death right then and there. You protect the population while doing your job. That is conventional warfare and a standard for conventional warfare. In clandestine warfare, you can intimidate civilians; you kill, you lie, you cheat, in order to gain information and to neutralize the enemy.

2Sam. 17:14 Absalom and all the men of Israel said, "The advice of Hushai the Archite is better than Ahithophel's advice." Since the LORD had decreed that Ahithophel's good advice [better plan] be undermined in order to bring about Absalom's ruin,

2Samuel 17:(11–13), 14–17

72David

631_0448

Sun Tzu says, attack by strategy. Take the enemy's country whole and intact. Better not to destroy and mess it up. The same is true of an opposing army. The worst tactic is to besiege a walled city. It will take all kinds of time and casualties to make such a siege. The skilled leader captures cities without laying siege to them. He will win if he knows when to fight and not to fight; if he knows how to fight larger and smaller forces; he will win if he prepared himself to take his enemy unprepared. Not interfered with by the sovereign.

Numerical weakness from having to prepare for some attacks.

David will have a smaller, disciplined army. Absalom will have a larger, undisciplined army.

Recklessness, cowardice, a hasty temper, a delicacy of honor sensitive to shame; and being over solicitous for his men—the 5 besetting sins of a general.

2Sam. 17:11–13 Instead, I advise that all Israel from Dan to Beer-sheba--as numerous as the sand by the sea--be gathered [mobilize] to you and that you personally go into battle [idiom for personally led by you]. Then we will attack David wherever [one of those places] we find him, and we will descend on him like dew on the ground. Not even one will be left [or, remain in his presence] of all the men with him [neither he nor any or his men will survive the battle]. If he retreats [withdraws] to some city, all Israel will bring ropes to that city, and we will drag its stones into the valley until not even a pebble can be found there."

2Sam. 17:14 Absalom and all the men of Israel said, "The advice of Hushai the Archite is better than Ahithophel's advice." Since the LORD had decreed that Ahithophel's good advice [better plan] be undermined in order to bring about Absalom's ruin, victory in thinking precedes victory in battle; conventional warfare has a set standard for success, as does clandestine warfare, but they are different. In clandestine warfare, counterinsurgency function must be seen as honorable, etc. it is the responsibility for the unit commander to keep control of his troops. The standards of discipline demand that soldiers not commit crimes against civilians.

Some Closing Points

1. Conventional warfare demands a strict code of morality toward the civilians in a warzone.
2. This is a part of discipline like fire control against the enemy. This should never be overlooked by a commander.
3. In clandestine warfare, a different standard is necessary.

4. While Hushai the Archite was lying and misrepresenting the truth, here, this is patriotic. There is no loss of fellowship.
5. Hushai was being patriotic.
6. Divine approval is confirmed by the last sentence in v. 14: Since the LORD had decreed that Ahithophel's good advice [better plan] be undermined in order to bring about Absalom's ruin,
7. God is perfect; he cannot solicit to sin; He cannot approve of sin as a means to anything. God used Hushai's lying to defeat Absalom, so we may conclude that counterinsurgency is legitimate. *********

2Sam. 17:14 Absalom and all the men of Israel said, "The advice of Hushai the Archite is better than Ahithophel's advice." Since the LORD had decreed that Ahithophel's good advice [better plan] be undermined in order to bring about Absalom's ruin,

So now Hushai goes to the priests and tells the priests what he did. It is not explained here precisely; it is what we have just studied. What is going on needs to get back to David.

2Sam. 17:15 Hushai then told the priests Zadok and Abiathar, "This is what Ahithophel advised Absalom and the elders of Israel, and this is what I advised.

It appears as if David is being ordered to do something. It sounds here as if the counterinsurgency agent is running the show. The advice is changed from the imperative to the imperfect. This becomes a negative command of expediency.

Then he will say why it is important.

As long as David remains on the west bank of the Jordan, he is in danger of being attacked. Absalom is arrogant and might change his mind at any moment; so Hushai warns David to get across the Jordan.

These couriers later when they got older taught Bible doctrine and also told all about what happened behind the scenes in the revolution. That flexibility and that doctrine and the courage of these 2 ladies is phenomenal. Which ladies are these?

2Sam. 17:16 Now send someone [couriers] immediately and tell [advise as follows] David, 'Don't spend the night at the wilderness ford of the Jordan, but be sure to cross over [the Jordan River without delay], or the king and all the people with him will be destroyed.'"

Hushai's Report

1. Once David is in the east, he is in familiar country; he has fought the Ammonites and Syrians here.
2. David has made many friends on the east bank of the Jordan. He will have maneuverability from interior lines. He can concentrate in a hurry. There is no substitute for interior lines.

3. This will force Absalom to take the initiative and extend his supply lines and make mistakes. He must pursue with a large army. Extending his supply lines will create logistical problems he cannot solve.
4. David can deny Absalom the fords of the Jordan, if he wants. Of, David allows him to cross over and he is facing all kinds of problems supplying his troops.
5. Putting the Jordan between the revolutionary army gives David every advantage in strategy, tactics and logistic.
6. Because Absalom is unstable and arrogant, this increases the problems. Absalom and the man he appoints, Amasa, they are so locked in to the arrogance complex, that they haven't a chance. Hushai gives some additional instructions, making a correct estimate of the situation. He is looking for David to gain the advantage. Counterinsurgency, advice, and Hushai's counter plan, which has no merit, but buys time for David.

2Sam. 17:16 Now send someone [couriers] immediately and tell [advise as follows] David, 'Don't spend the night at the wilderness ford of the Jordan, but be sure to cross over [the Jordan River without delay], or the king and all the people with him will be destroyed.'"

David East of the Jordan

1. Hushai knows that Absalom could change his own mind at any time. Arrogance means indecisiveness.
2. Hushai must leave no possibility of a night attack.
3. This will guarantee that David will not be surprised and annihilated.
4. Before David can campaign against the army of Absalom, he must separate out his army for maneuver. The civilians must be separated from the army. When Xerxes was at Thermopoles, he gave his men a night of revelry before the attack. Then all of the women were to be executed at dawn.
5. The civilians are untrained and need to be gotten out of there. The army cannot become entangled with civilians.
6. David must establish a headquarters east of the Jordan, where he can house the civilians and organize his army. If you read the Bible through, you remember Asmabeth, right?

This must all be done from a headquarters where David can get organized. Hushai provides excellent intelligence, counterinsurgency and good advice.

2Sam. 17:16 Now send someone [couriers] immediately and tell [advise as follows] David, 'Don't spend the night at the wilderness ford of the Jordan, but be sure to cross over [the Jordan River without delay], or the king and all the people with him will be destroyed.'" the woman in v. 17, this is a young gal, maybe 16, and she thinks 30 but looks 16. Jonathan Ahimaaz are the sons of the high priests.

Anticipating v. 17

because they could not risk being seen entering the city, Jonathan and Ahimaaz stayed in En-rogel, and a servant girl was supposed to come...

The priests relayed the information to a young girl. There is a male teenaged hippy. He was arrogant, as all hippies are. He spied on the couriers and he betrays them to Absalom, so there will be this big chase. However, this very smart lady hides them in a cistern. She tells the soldiers who come, that they just crossed a stream going the other way.

There will be a race between a black man. Ahimaaz will give the news gently. The black man is not going to be so gentle about this. The black man was fast on his feet, and slow in the head. He ran down David's sensitivity at this point. He had no sensitivity at all.

The Cushite was fast, but this other person was very well-motivated. We will see the battle and the race in the next chapter.

Jonathan and Ahimaaz were both on a standby basis. Shipchah is the girl, which means a domestic; a teenage girl, a peasant girl. This is an honorable profession. She is not bothered with that. She has humility. She is a young girl who was not yet in her 20's. She had to go and inform them.

En-rogel is a very nice little town. There is a valley where the wall of Jerusalem takes a turn; and there is a little town near the water; a dry cleaner city. Much of the cleaning is done here. They were hanging out here. They can take a road which crosses the Kidron, and they will have a shorter route and one which is not as complicated.

The end of this sentence belongs in the middle, for a better understanding. Or, even at the beginning. Clandestine warfare must be clandestine. They must blend into the background, as the servant girl does; or be able to hide out. Or go in deep, like Hushai.

Therefore, the system of intelligence has to be clandestine.

In the CIA, there was a loss of friendship among some heads, and that hurt the organization. There must be teamwork. Teamwork is caused by several factors, whether patriotism or doctrine or both. Some of the greatest people in our country are patriotic. If the little servant girl fails or the servants do not deliver the message, then this failure in intelligence could bring down David's army. Genius in warfare requires information upon which to base decisions. Lee was great until Gettysburg, because Jeb Stuart provide the eyes for Lee. Genius in leadership is no better than the execution by the man in the ranks.

Arrogance means able to succumb to temptation. All double agents are arrogant? Ken Philbey did a tremendous job for the KGB. The arrogant and the stupid will be eliminated from clandestine warfare. Discipline becomes enforced humility.

2Sam. 17:17 Jonathan and Ahimaaz were staying [on standby in] En-rogel, where a servant girl would come and pass along information to them [was supposed to go and report to them].

(for they were not able to be seen entering the city) [because they could not be seen entering the city]. They in turn would go and inform King David, because they dared not be seen entering the city.

Go out and find some pap smearing idiot who will let you do just about anything. Do not move while the teaching of the Word of God is going on.

Eisenhower Declassified was about 1200 pages but it got reduced to about 200 by request of the publisher.

Article by Ernie Pyle that Bob likes a lot.

Inside the interlocking systems of arrogance, these revolutionaries have become vulnerable to all the other arrogance gates. We have lost the ability to appreciate freedom and establishment. We have lost capacity for love, life and happiness.

These things are pertinent now, and no one is teaching these things. Look for some testing. Look for those places where you must apply doctrine.

Bob could hear them gasp when they heard Bob read off v. 14. Ahithophel had great wisdom; he was a genius; this was the wisdom of evil. He had a plan that would work. God had chosen to frustrate the better plan of Ahithophel in order to bring about Absalom's ruin. There was a gasp when they heard this verse. Bob thought someone let lose a snake in the building. They concluded from their heavy concentration that the lies of Hushai were not sin.

Victory in thinking precedes victory in battle. Hushai uses Absalom's arrogance against him. He will end the revolution by lying to Absalom, who began the revolution by lying to David. Absalom will be destroyed by lies and arrogance. Absalom used violence and he will die by violence the sin unto death.

Under normal conditions, stealing and rape and lying and murdering are sins; but they are not sins under clandestine warfare; these are honorable acts. Jesus Christ controls history and He ordained to frustrate the plan of Ahithophel.

God never approves of revolution; those who live by evil, die by evil; ditto for crime and violence. Killing the enemy in battle is not violence.

Revolution eats her own children. Clandestine warfare has a set of standards which are necessary for success.

Some woman left the other day, and Bob asked for her to be helped out. When someone met her and asked her to give her help, she said, "Oh, no, the Lord never would have me hear anything like this." So the fundies are still with us.

There is a strict code or morality and that is toward the civilian population in enemy territory.

For Hushai, counterinsurgency was a matter of the Lord's will. This is divine approval of clandestine warfare.

Bob also began to put some things together, and has 2 more gates; and 3 are coming.

The ladies have been taking a beating lately; the rape of David's mistresses (they did not really know that these are mistresses in the first place). This has not been the favorite passage for many of you, like Romans, where you can feel close to God again, rather than wanting to go home and take a shower. If you are shocked by these things, what will you do with the reality of all this.

The rape passage was very important. It is always a temptation for Bob to see these charming ladies and want to back off a little.

David must cross the river in order to organize.

2Sam. 17:14 Absalom and all the men of Israel said, "The advice of Hushai the Archite is better than Ahithophel's advice." Since the LORD had decreed that Ahithophel's good advice [better plan] be undermined in order to bring about Absalom's ruin,

There is the transmission of intelligence information in the next 2 verses.

2Sam. 17:15 Hushai then told the priests Zadok and Abiathar, "This is what Ahithophel advised Absalom and the elders of Israel, and this is what I advised.

Hushai wants the information to get to David; and also gives his advice on what David ought to do. We will see the lady of the manor who will have the type of courage that will make it possible for David to win. These people are just as important as the men in battle. We will look at this from the standpoint of the ladies.

2Sam. 17:16 Now send someone [couriers] immediately and tell [advise as follows] David, 'Don't spend the night at the wilderness ford of the Jordan, but be sure to cross over [the Jordan River without delay], or the king and all the people with him will be destroyed.'

These two young men are the sons of the 2 high priests. They are going to carry important information to David. In any system, there must be teamwork; an organization which does it right must make it look easy. Teamwork is what makes it look easy. Each contribution is significant. Jealousy, arrogance and bitterness should not hinder clandestine warfare.

Discipline is enforced humility to overcome arrogance.

2Sam. 17:17 Jonathan and Ahimaaz were staying [on standby in] En-rogel, where a servant girl would come and pass along information to them [was supposed to go and report to them].

(for they were not able to be seen entering the city) [because they could not be seen entering the city]. They in turn would go and inform King David, because they dared not be seen entering the city.

There is a hippy teenager spying on the preachers's kids. He was looking to get even, for a chance to advance himself. It is obvious he is involved in interlocking systems of arrogance. He wants, first of all, to advance himself. Those who advance themselves at the expense of others have lost ground and they pave the way for their own discipline.

This hippy makes a decision to loaf and find easy money, to steal, cheat and con someone. Each one is the son of a high priest and each one will succeed his father.

The hippy quickly hotfooted it to Jerusalem, which gave the high priest sons a head start. Consequently, both of them quickly took off. Absalom sent out a patrol.

Bahurim is a very important place. About halfway to the fords of the Jordan, from the Mount of Olives, is a city where there are wells. This is Bahurim.

All of David's flying column has gone through Bahurim. So it is clear of all of David's column. The rear guard is 5 or 6 miles away. Two famous people live in Bahurim. There is Shimei, who hates David (we have skipped past him) and General Asmaveth, in 1Chron. 11:33. Asmaveth is going to teach us some great lessons.

Father of 2 elite. He is called the man, but he is not named in this passage. The couriers were about to be overtaken. By the time they hit the chateau.

The hippy who betrayed David is responsible for this patrol. Asmaveth is mentioned in David's great soldier list. He has 2 sons: Jesiel and Pellet, who are elite infantry officers. They first join David in his battalion. He is called a Barhumite in Chronicles and 2Samuel.

These couriers were briefed to go to his cabin, if they get into a jam. After the civil war, Asmaveth becomes a member of David's cabinet. He will become a part of David's treasury cabinet.

This is a dry cistern in his courtyard. It is not a well, but it is used for storage. He is one of the old guard in Ziklag, this courtyard is a part of his defense. Azmaveth leaves his wife behind, and goes with David, and he carries off all of his supplies.

His wife has to start all over from scratch. She is preparing food for herself and the women and the old men left behind.

The well here is a cistern. This is a hide-out storage place. We live in a time when the ladies want to be equal with men, which is an impossibility. Women are generally better than men; and some are worse; but there is no equality.

This woman is going to magnificent and she will save David's army. She will make it possible for the revolution to be defeated. She has doctrine in her soul. Great femininity.

A dry cistern will be an excellent hiding place for couriers. This will depend upon the flexibility and thinking of the woman. Only a chateau would have a courtyard and only a courtyard would have a dry cistern. It is a bad hideout. With the woman's courage and application of doctrine, she will turn that obvious place of hiding into the perfect hideout.

The same thing that makes her a great mother and a great wife.

2Sam. 17:18 However, a young man did see them [a hippie spied on them] and informed Absalom. So the two left quickly and came to the house of the man in Bahurim. He had a well in his courtyard, and they climbed down into it.

2Samuel 17

Gate 18 the Arrogance of Morality 72David

631_0450

Interlocking Systems of Arrogance

1. Mental arrogance. Most of the mental attitude sins; pride, self-pity, guilt complex;
2. Negative volition arrogance; rejection of truth in 3 categories (believers and unbelievers can reject the laws of divine establishment). Strong delusion is a result.
3. Impulsive arrogance.
4. Institutional arrogance; rejecting the policy or an organization. 2 types: those who succeed and distort their success into some form of pride; or those who fail and think they have been discriminated against or their talent was not recognized.
5. Blind arrogance. Self righteous arrogance parlayed into legalism. God cannot get along without me. Pride syndrom. Superimposition of your own standards upon others.
6. Conspiracy arrogance. Institutional arrogance taken one step farther. Overthrow of authority via intrigue.
7. Criminal arrogance. The result of institutional arrogance; society is rejected. Sociopathic and pathological.
8. Crusader arrogance; superimposing one's standards over o
9. Client nation arrogance.
14. Authority arrogance.
15. Arrogance of ignorance; living without truth.
16. Arrogance of unhappiness. Happiness is a state of the soul; this is not something that someone does for us or some recognition that someone gives us. If we are unhappy in our souls, then we will not be happy. No one and no thing can make you happy. People often get married because promises are made. Marriage is often a state of unhappiness because many people think that marriage is happiness. Arrogance, self-centeredness. Once you acquiesce to that arrogance, you are unhappy forever. The one who is served is not really happy; and he simply becomes more demanding as he gets older. Only doctrine resident in the soul can make you happy. The arrogance of unhappiness gives nothing and demands everything. For the believer in the Lord Jesus Christ, happiness is all of this + Bible doctrine resident in the soul. Because we already have happiness in our souls, people can be enjoyable and we can even have happiness in the soul. Sex will not make us happy. Only one way to have happiness; doctrine resident in the soul. It is not what we possess; nor is it our circumstances. Some who are married think being single will make us happy. Arrogant people are unhappy people. Some wander into Berachah and stand around waiting for people to recognize them. The unhappiest of all churches are those which are lonely hearts clubs and everyone shakes your hand and they are friendly; and that will not make you happy. You can spend a lifetime trying to make an arrogant wife happy. You can meet all of a woman's demands. She might fake illnesses in order to keep your attention. God blesses us because we possess His righteousness. Doctrine is the key to happiness. The unbeliever can be happy by marrying his rw. In fact we write these things so that your happiness might be complete. Then Bob talks about the rude woman, who interrupts Jesus Christ. "You are happy because some woman raised you." Some people do not come on Sunday because they think it will be just milk.

17. The feet of clay syndrom. Arrogant thinking creates an image of perfection. Arrogant people have a tendency to create from those they admire an image, or an idol. The feet of clay are hidden behind a pedestal. Iconoclastic arrogance is creating an image of someone. It is alright to respect and even admire some people; but the problem is having an illusionary view of someone. Then you discover the feet of clay and you are bitter and disturbed. You discover this in a boss or a politician. Conservatives mess up because they find a great candidate, but he doesn't agree with them on point 99. Bob recalls when that jackass McCarthy, who blew the lid off of CIA's cover and FBI's cover. He was a loud-mouthed yapping politician, and he did this for his own sake; he was an arrogant loudmouth. He used communism to get people behind him. Ike put him under the sod politically, and did it magnificently without making a public statement. Liberals are in because conservatives are arrogant and confused. Along comes a great conservative, but he states one position you don't like. Bob discusses dogs defecating. He still loves Dash and Malarkey. And Bob doesn't put them on the front porch and send them on their way. Arrogant people can be smart and still be stupid. Arrogant people discover the pastor's feet of clay and they move to another church. People can walk away from wonderful friendships and from marriage, etc. because they are preoccupied with themselves. In arrogance, you create your own idol, then you discover the feet of clay, and then you destroy what you have found. Ahithophel came into the revolution in this way. Many people did not accept the Absalom revolution because they recognized in their humility that no one is perfect.

Gate 18 the Arrogance of Morality

1. Morality arrogance is a preoccupation with a false standards of morality to the exclusion of true morality and its purpose in the modus vivendi of the human race.

2. It is the arrogant function of self-righteousness a preoccupation with false standards as a result of negative volition arrogance. For the unbeliever, negative volition toward the laws of divine establishment.
3. This is the superimposition of a false and personal standard of morality over a true and collective standards of morality for the human race. This is closely related to blind and crusader arrogance.
4. Believer and unbeliever function in this in their own pertinent spheres. There is true establishment morality, and they function apart from that.
5. The unbeliever substitutes in pride a personal and false standard of morality for a true standard of morality. All morality for the unbeliever is related to the laws of divine establishment.
6. It rejects establishment morality including patriotism.
7. Unbeliever morality arrogance is illustrated by the individual who, on the basis of false standards of morality, refuses to sign up for the draft and for military service. He calls himself a conscientious objector. Unbeliever morality arrogance, on the basis of a false system of morality, refuse to sign up for the draft, etc.
8. For the believer, all legalism is arrogance. Morality is not the means for establishment function, but it is the result of establishment function. Serving in government honorably; recognition and respect for the property of others.
9. Many believers are like this. They enjoy their freedom without taking responsibility for their freedom. The believer substitutes a true or false morality and replaces spirituality. These always reject spirituality by grace. They always have spirituality by works.

More Points on Morality Arrogance

1. When a system of morality created by some true or false standards, and they substitute this for spirituality, or over divine establishment morality, the result it the arrogance of morality.
2. Morality is not the means of establishment function; it is the result of establishment function. Pay your taxes, serve in the military, respect for law enforcement, being honorable in marriage and parenthood, and respecting the rights of others.
3. Crusader arrogance rejects the morality of establishment freedom.
4. Mental arrogance rejects the morality of the respect for the privacy of others.
5. Criminal arrogance rejects the morality of property and the right of others to pursue happiness.
6. Psychopathic h arrogance is totally divorced from reality. There is psychopathic and sociopathic behavior.
7. Negative volition arrogance institutional arrogance, crusader and conspiracy arrogance, client nation arrogance, authority, political arrogance, iconoclastic arrogance, all distort morality by being eclectic by using self-centeredness to make up a system of morality. They add a system of evil to morality, and morality is destroyed.

8. When the believer substitutes morality for spirituality, and he rejects the grace policy of the plan of God and accepts his own preconceived prejudice as the plan of God.
9. Morality is not the means of Christianity. It is the result of a spiritual life. True morality goes with establishment truth.
10. Establishment authority, legitimate authority, all of these are systems of enforced humility. There is only one other system of enforced humility and that is the You cannot learn Bible doctrine without humility or enforced humility. Some of you reacted because you had a preconceived notion as to what Christianity was. In enforced humility, you resisted the doctrine. When the believer substitutes morality for spirituality.

The 3rd Principle

1. Spirituality and establishment truth are designed to produce morality in believers and unbelievers. Believers and unbelievers must both be moral. Morality belongs to the human race. This is the basis for human freedom. No system of morality which involves arrogance is a true system of morality. Morality + arrogance = evil. When you have the arrogance of Congress passing laws, which are options in a person's life.
2. This means that the believer or unbeliever can be patriotic, moral and honorable. The unbeliever can have more integrity than the fundy.
3. Morality is not spirituality. Whatever the unbeliever can do is not the Christian way of life.
4. The Christian way of life demands a supernatural execution.
5. Morality is conformity to the laws of divine establishment, including its authority, ethics, motivation, character, motivation, conduct and integrity.
6. Christianity is not a morality. It is a relationship with God through Jesus Christ. Old things have passed away; behold, new things have come about.
7. The dynamics of Christianity are related to the filling of the Holy Spirit; spirituality is higher than morality.
8. Morality has limitations which are ignored by arrogance. Morality cannot provide salvation. Arrogance seeks spirituality by morality. Service organizations set up acts which they say makes you spiritual. Production is the result of spirituality, not the means.

Last Principle

1. Morality protects human freedom and allows for evangelization. Morality protects human freedom. Morality is not a substitute for salvation or spiritual growth.
2. Marriage, family and the client nation.
3. The interlocking systems of arrogance distort morality into a system of unreality which opposes the plan of God.
4. Arrogance opposes establishment morality and the Christian way of life.
5. Only arrogant self-righteousness uses morality as a means of spirituality. Or substitutes personal ego for the honor and integrity of establishment morality.

6. There is no such thing as morality apart from humility. Establishment is the norm for humility. Once you sin and are out of fellowship, you are no longer humble. Those who cheat on their income tax have no morality.
7. All true morality is based upon self-discipline or enforced humility. Morality demands that the believer and the unbeliever be law-abiding citizens. Jehovah Witnesses are very immoral because they are anti-government, anti-military and some are anti-medicine. Their whole system is based upon arrogance. They might be sweet and nice on the surface.

there is one more gate, gate 19.

2Samuel 17    Gate 19: The arrogance of unhappiness    72David    631_0451

There was a story they saw called G.I. Joe. He apparently had a premonition that we would be killed. Last will and testament tread (portions of it).

This is the great principle of freedom through military victory.

Gate 18, the arrogance of morality. Some points put into the previous lesson.

Negative volition arrogance, crusader arrogance, client nation arrogance, political arrogance, the arrogance of unhappiness, are a distortion of morality via eclecticism; choosing norms and standards from here and there.

Morality is not the means of spirituality, but the result. Morality is for the believer and unbeliever. Unbelievers can be patriotic, moral, and have integrity. What unbelievers can do is not the spiritual life; so morality is not the spiritual life. Christianity is not a morality; it is a relationship of God through Christ. Morality cannot advance the believer in the spiritual life. Morality protects human freedom. Morality is no substitute for salvation or spiritual growth in the plan of God. Morality is the fulfillment of the function of the divine institutions.

Humility in life is the key to morality. The filling of the Spirit is the status for the humility of the believer. Self-discipline is our personal decision to conform to authority which may not be pleasant to us. Self-imposed or enforced humility. Morality demands that the believer and unbeliever be patriotic citizens.

True Morality Cannot Exist Without Humility

There is no such thing as true morality without it.

1. The authority of divine establishment and of the local church are systems of enforced humility. These authorities are systems of enforced humility. Will I accept the authority of someone I dislike, disagree with, or whatever; or will I choose in arrogance to make an issue of his personality. That is something which you decide. That decision will either increase or decrease your options. You can destroy your options until you run out of options. There is the false issue, that the mayor ought to make the decision concerning the salary of the police officers. We are a large city and cannot get along without the police officer. His existence in the city is important. If the mayor cannot make this decision, then he has failed in his duty. When anyone in authority throws a decision back on the people that he should make, then he is a coward. A platoon leader does not take any votes. Every president except Ike has failed in this respect.

2. No one can learn anything apart from humility. If you walk into a classroom without any humility, then you cannot learn. Fineberg dealt harshly with such types, and Fineberg put some of these men down in the dust. He stood up on his false system of morality, when he said, "No man can speak to me this way and call himself a Christian." You never ask a student what he thinks. Bob refused to evaluate professors as a student; he had opinions, but he refused to turn in a paper on any of his professors. A woman is under the authority of her husband, and she chose him. Granted he is not the best in the world, but he is all you have. That kind of trouble means that you will rear ugly children. Ugly souls. Some of you wonder what happened to your kids, it is from the rejection of the authority of the husband. She has prepared her children to enter into interlocking systems of arrogance. This is why every man needs military training, because it may be the only time they put themselves under enforced humility. You say yes sir and do what they tell you to do, even though you hate your drill sergeant's guts. This is why some of you women are unhappy and have ugly souls; and Bob won't put up with you. You do not understand authority. Take your arrogance elsewhere. It is arrogant to malign and judge and gossip about other people.
3. Humility accepts the authority of the teacher to learn doctrine. Arrogance resists the teacher and the doctrine.
4. Legitimate authority enforces humility for perception. The best professors Bob had demanded respect in class. One professor kicked about 20 people out of his class in the first few days.
5. The filling of the Spirit is the only way for the believer to learn doctrine. That is enforced humility.
6. Self-discipline is the basis for concentration in life in anything. Self-discipline means a man can be a great lover. He can concentrate on his woman rather than upon himself. He has learned to concentrate because he has decided to concentrate. A lot of you have had radical personality changes because humility objectivity and flexibility won out over subjectivity, inflexibility and arrogance. Self-discipline is the enforced humility for concentration.
7. The same self-discipline is the enforced humility of doctrine.
8. Courage is that self-discipline combined with enforced humility which allows for us to think under pressure. Arrogance cannot think under pressure.

Gate 19, the Arrogance of Unhappiness

Why did they move out and leave these women behind apparently helpless?

1. Negative emotion is that form of emotion which dominates the soul and replaces truth of doctrine and any form of establishment. We have freedom to make decisions. Wise decisions open up options for future decisions. This is that form of abnormal emotion; emotion which dominates the soul and replaces thinking and any form of establishment thinking. Property holders do not want their taxes raised, and they have good reason for this, as they are educating non-citizens. However, law enforcement is something that we cannot do without. This is a profession which has a right to live substandardly. Imagine throwing that out equal to the people? That is an evil. We will pay for that through the nose.

2. Emotion is normal. It is only normal when, under the authority of thought, just as your volition must be under human authorities and establishment, emotion is only normal when subordinate to thinking.
3. Under these conditions, emotion dominates the soul. This is why everyone wants a counselor. They turn around to others and say, "What should I do?"
4. When emotions dominate the soul, the individual is divorced from reality and generally involved with the arrogance complex. This is why no man or woman should marry their high school sweetheart or the first person they kissed. You are not prepared for love until thinking dominates the soul.
5. Fear is a negative emotion which will dominate the soul.
6. Courage is thinking under pressure; cowardice makes thought impossible.
7. When the believer becomes entangled in interlocking systems of arrogance, emotion automatically dominates the soul. The believer is vulnerable to sociopathic behavior.
8. Humility is that state of soul where the believer is oriented to reality through thinking.
9. The 2nd stage of the faith rest drill is thinking; and this finds the believer using the essence of God rationale; the plan of God rationale, or the logistical grace rationale or the rebound rationale. To use any of these, one must be able to think doctrine. This is not possible with negative emotion running the soul.
10. In each case of a rationale being applied, the believer is oriented to reality, whether his own sinfulness or the greatness of God is involved in his thinking. Guilt complex is a part of negative emotion and it can be much stronger than the Word of God. We are not to run around and try to do a bunch of good deeds and this means we are using no thought but just functioning under emotion.
11. Illustration of the arrogance of emotion; the tongues movement of the present day is the arrogance of the emotion. Negative emotion controls the soul. Arrogant and emotional. If you are in the tongue movement, you are an evil jackass.

Emotional Arrogance

1. Emotional arrogance is subject to flattery; vulnerable to flattery. It encourages unreality with respect to one's self.
2. Emotional arrogance is vulnerable to cowardice, because emotion so dominates the soul that the individual cannot think under cowardice.
3. Psychopathic arrogance call neurosis. All neurotics are involved in gate 19.

4. Emotional arrogance is the status of mankind where emotion dominates the soul rather than the thinking related to reality. Hushai was on that mountain a day early. He was thinking. All neurotics are previously involved in emotional arrogance.
5. The cure for emotional arrogance is discipline and authority, resulting in enforced humility. Greatest thing is for a person to be born under parents who force you to respect them. Your parents keep you related to reality. The key is discipline and authority. Some of you are headed to a bad start because you have not had discipline. This is how you train a dog. Mike Stribbling is training Bob's dogs.
6. Accepting the teaching authority of the pastor is enforced humility. Real humility means you will get a maximum amount of doctrine. Bob looks at some people and thinks, "Where are you going to find your right pastor; certainly not here." Stonewall Jackson was so tough and mean and his brigade did not like him. He found someone stealing a loaf of bread and he nearly had them killed. He was despised, but respected. You can get much more out of men with enforced and genuine humility.
7. Emotional arrogance eliminates rational thinking in the soul. It produces arrogant preoccupation with the insignificant.
8. Arrogant preoccupation with the insignificant not only destroys any true scale of values, but it also destroys any capacity for life, love and happiness.
9. Details of life are the means of living. They are neither the motivation for the capacity for living. Food, shelter and clothing must be seen as details. You have made your happiness depend upon having so many sq ft in your home. The details of life are a means of living; but they are not the means of motivation and they are not capacity for life. This is why a new house or a great car do not make you happy.
10. When you are motivated for living and you are motivated by things, you have used arrogance to destroy your capacity for life. Arrogance emphasizes details; humility emphasizes capacity. Without the capacity of thought, details will make you miserable.
11. Knowledge is the environment for thinking; not emotion.
12. Emotion cannot produce vocabulary or rationale for application for life. You may live and have all the things you ever wanted and just sit there and be miserable with them. You are not prepared for civil war, revolution, for a world war, or any other difficult circumstance. You could not walk away from it all. You would be unhappy for what you have lost if you had to walk away from it.
13. Doctrine is the environment for decision; not emotion. Emotions are wonderful when they are the result of thinking. They are the nerve extensions of thought in the soul.
14. If you make decisions based upon emotions, you will limit your options until you run out of options. The sin unto death will end your misery.

Bob on chain letters and about those who invest other people's money; they don't invest their own money. They buy houses. One man bought a whole shopping center with a bunch of gems. This is a pyramid system like you have never seen. Some sort of an income tax dodge. If you are emotional about this, you can wear these things. Apparently, there is something to do with gems there. You are just an emotional sucker, recruited for the bottom line of the pyramid. This is because you cannot think. This has not yet hit Houston; it is in L.A. now.

If you make decisions based upon emotion, you will limit your options until you run out of options.

Emotional Arrogance Makes People Believe the Absurd and the Ridiculous

1. Emotional arrogance converts reality into illusion and hallucination.
2. Emotional arrogance fantasizes and collapses under pressure. Pressure destroys such people.
3. In time of disaster, emotion faces no capability for disaster.
4. Emotional arrogance inevitably interlocks with psychotic arrogance.
5. This is why arrogance is stronger than good and why arrogance is stronger than good environment and even perfect environment. David had great government and still faced 2 revolutions. Arrogance rejects perfect environment.
6. Arrogance rejected the perfect environment of the garden. Each faced the issue. The man looked at the woman outside of the garden and chose the woman outside of perfect environment; therefore, the fall of man. We have had good environment in our history. And it has been rejected because of interlocking systems of arrogance.
7. Eschatologically, the GogMagog revolution rejects the perfect environment of the reign of Christ.
8. All revolution is the arrogance of rejecting good environment of establishment government and substituting the evil government of tyranny.
9. Revolution could not exist without crusader, criminal, conspiracy, client nation, power arrogance, iconoclasm arrogance, and negative emotion arrogance.
10. Negative emotion arrogance always rejects legitimate authority in life.
11. Total confusion and disorientation to life. People believe the absurd and the ridiculous.

How could anyone vote for Absalom over David? They were filled with emotion and they had no ability to think.

Bob missed the gun show for study, so no review.

Stuart someone in intelligence. The feckless stature of the west in the face of barbarism. 63 nations pick no issue with holding the Olympics in Iran? It is not just naked force that triumphs, but trumpeted justification. Seizing hostages; and the obverse of the lie. We should not have any relationship to a soviet backed Afghan government. After years of soviet buildup, that invasion came as a shock. Muskie wanted to know who is to blame for the degenerative state of our military. Democracy goes from high concepts of the people and degenerates to the mob. Only intermittently, have we even found an approach to a coherent foreign policy. It is time to stop overselling detente or human's rights as some sort of means of keeping the peace. No army succeeds under a debating society. Our record with the Soviet Union is so bad, every time they take another country, we make a lot of noise and do nothing about it. They want to capture our free enterprise brains and to retain them intact. They even have plans to smoothly capture American brains in the United States and take them back to Russia. They are ready to launch any one of a hundred teams. The soviets did everything that they could to get to our one helicopter in order to get the technology aboard. There is one thing that they do not know; that Jesus Christ controls history. They do not understand the pivot either.

"You do not talk during the teaching of the Word of God; that is rude and out of line. If you want to leave now, and you can leave. You never talk to other people in church, you understand?" Respect for the Word of God is enforced from this pulpit.

2Sam. 17:17–18 Jonathan and Ahimaaz were staying [on standby in] En-rogel, where a servant girl would come and pass along information to them [was supposed to go and report to them]. (for they were not able to be seen entering the city) [because they could not be seen entering the city]. They in turn would go and inform King David, because they dared not be seen entering the city. However, a young man did see them [a hippie spied on them] and informed Absalom. So the two left quickly and came to the house of the man in Bahurim. He had a well in his courtyard, and they climbed down into it.

A woman is left in her chateau. The woman has a blanket; and this is not a well, but a storage place in the middle of the courtyard.

David's army and the civilians are gone with all of the barley and wheat. The cereals at the chateau are wheat, barley and oats. She is drying peeled barley there on the ground with a covering laying nearby. She covered the dry cistern with this tarp and then spread out the groats, which are the peeled barley, so that they can be dried out. She is making a great contribution to the ultimate victory of David. The couriers must get to David and she must save their lives. She is called a noble woman.

So that nothing was noticed by the pursuer. These soldiers were intimidating, but the woman was not intimidated.

Asmaveth left his wife unprotected; and he left all of his material blessings behind. He had a dual scale of values; one for normal times and one for abnormal times. He left behind one magnificent woman. She was left behind to handle the chateau. This woman is going to lie and to deceive. She has switched from normal to abnormal. She shifted gears, as any mature believer would. There are no complaints; food and material were given over to the establishment army. There is no talk about sacrifice. When it happened, they were ready. They were organized; they were ready to go. By the time the civilians were herded along, Asmaveth all had their parts figured out. The plan called for this magnificent woman to stay behind. The chateau would be left behind in the hands of this woman; it was their only reasonable choice. They knew that this choice was difficult. You cannot be worried about civilians at home. You cannot constantly think about those at home. Tokyo Rose and Axis Sally did all that they could to distract the men in the American army. Asmaveth left and committed everything to the Lord. He will later get news from the couriers as to what happened. Had the husband been there, he might not have been able to deal with all of this correctly. He might have fought the soldiers to the death.

Hushai, David's mole, suggested an alternate plan, guaranteed not to work. Absalom will gather an army of maybe a quarter of a million men. That is a good thing, because Absalom cannot control an army that large. He has no concept of how he ought to administer an army in the first place; let alone, a large army. Meanwhile, David will select the battlefield, the time of engagement (to some degree) and surprise. Absalom's troops will suffer a complete slaughter.

As a mature believer, General Asmaveth left his wife in the hands of the Lord. The chateau in the moment is in more danger. David is retreating in a column. It is a very difficult terrain, and David will get it under control once he gets on the other side of the Jordan.

David has shifted gears to the disaster scale of values. Courage is thinking and cowardice and fear is emotion.

2Sam. 17:19 Then his wife [the wife of Asmaveth] [took the cover, placed \[spread\] it over the mouth of the well, and scattered grain on it so nobody would know anything.](#)

This could not have worked out better for the couriers. The soldiers know the names of the couriers. This chateau is built by a ford. South of the chateau is this wandering stream. It goes under a bridge of some sort. The woman will direct them out of the courtyard. She will direct them to the south, and they will go off to the east. All of this would not be possible apart from this woman uttering an intentional lie.

This woman goes from her normal scale of values to her disaster scale of values. She is helpless, she stands up under the test and has the ability to think. She uses the plan of God rationale and the essence of God rationale. Even being arrogant, she could have still succumbed to the pressure. This woman tells a lie without any qualms. There is no reason to rebound. There is no self righteous prig approach. Bob would not trust fundies as far as he could slobber. This one woman did more than anyone else when it came to the revolution. That magnificent woman met the challenge with thinking. She does not try to vamp them out the gate. She does not make a martyr of herself. She doesn't lie down and allow herself to be raped. Many women because martyrs because they cannot think.

Fear is just emotion controlling the soul. If you are frightened, you are going to be a martyr. This woman could think; she was magnificent. She had a magnificent chateau. When you get a wife who can think, which is not that common, you will have great children. This woman makes a great mother. She doesn't ring her hands and wonder what is going on. She is not filled with emotion and fear.

Mrs. Miniver was tremendous in WWII.

She does not threatened Asmaveth and say, "Leave me, and I am gone." There is nothing spiritual about such a woman and there is no magnificence about her.

Robert Mitcham looks just the right part for Captain Wasco (Walker). Men have a tendency to see a patrol coming, and they will clobber them. That is a man; they want to do something. This is no time for an incident. That will bring the entire revolutionary army down this road. He wants this road clear, so he can fight a civil war. The last thing that David needs is to be pursued.

A woman who can think is beyond any price. This idea of equality is ridiculous. Bob's father was teaching Bob about women (he had just been jilted by a woman in the 4th grade). "There are 2 kinds of women; those who are better than you are, and those who are worse. Always avoid those who are worse than you. Choose to spend as much time as possible with those who are better." That was his philosophy between his 2nd and 3rd scotch and water.

Bob, in a woman-less world, would be out in space somewhere looking to find women. A humble woman who can think; there is nothing greater than that. Anglo Celtic culture is built around a woman who can think. They have always revered womanhood. The Jewish culture does exactly the same thing. This woman saved David's army just as much as Hushai.

Ladies in combat is a horrid thought. This woman will distract these men with her thinking; not with her beauty.

2Sam. 17:20 [Absalom's servants \[patrol\] came to the woman at the house and asked, "Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?" "They passed by toward the water," the woman replied to them. The men searched but did not find them, so they returned to Jerusalem.](#)

Last night, there was an incident; and Bob warns about this. Everyone has a right to hear the teaching of the Word of God apart from rudeness.

The more we see the public involved in interlocking systems of arrogance, the more we see how people and groups of people become totally divorced from reality. We have lost track of the fact that we are surrounded by hosts of evil nations. As the majority of people enter into interlocking systems of arrogance, there are possibly millions of people in this country who get away with stealing and rape. You have no idea how it is to be hit with a natural disaster and then to be plundered by criminal types.

During the Galveston storm, people came from all over just to plunder. 200 of them had to be shot down like dogs to protect the rights of individuals. Today, they no longer arm the national guard. Worst paid and lowest paid people are often fundy ministers. We don't have a mayor or a council willing to do what is right.

You see it in theaters. A few years ago, Bob wanted to go back and pop someone, but he was restrained. When criminals have rights, thinking appears to have disappeared.

The liberals with their utopian thinking are on the lunatic fringe today.

People oriented to David have rallied to establishment.

2Sam. 17:17–20 Jonathan and Ahimaaz were staying [on standby in] En-rogel, where a servant girl would come and pass along information to them [was supposed to go and report to them]. (for they were not able to be seen entering the city) [because they could not be seen entering the city]. They in turn would go and inform King David, because they dared not be seen entering the city. However, a young man did see them [a hippie spied on them] and informed Absalom. So the two left quickly and came to the house of the man in Bahurim. He had a well in his courtyard, and they climbed down into it. Then his wife [the wife of Asmaveth] took the cover, placed [spread] it over the mouth of the well, and scattered grain on it so nobody would know anything. Absalom's servants [patrol] came to the woman at the house and asked, "Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?" "They passed by toward the water," the woman replied to them. The men searched but did not find them, so they returned to Jerusalem.

This Woman Can Think under Pressure

1. This woman demonstrates great courage and application of doctrine by hiding these couriers. This woman going into action and hiding the couriers and looking at the revolutionaries and lying straight to their faces, is an application of doctrine. This woman is not crazy when her husband leaves. She does not put additional pressure upon him. "I saw you slip in there; next time drop down a little sooner and crawl."
2. It is possible to learn doctrine and still fail.
3. Adversity, pressure, catastrophe, etc. A believer becomes a coward when they are unable to apply doctrine. Many a believer can be a coward, confused and disorganized. When pressure comes on the outside, emotion fills up the inside. Bob gives a few examples; like when he chews out those hippies, how did you react? When you take conservatives who roll their eyes about the Trilateral group, or are hyped up about abortion, or antisemitism; they are nuttier than liberals. There is a labor conspiracy today; and other conspiracies which are designed to throw conservatives off (plants are put into conservative groups to talk about this stuff). The trilateral conspiracy is a big deal because it involves rich people and poor people. Add sour grapes to what appears to be a conspiracy, and you have sloppy thinking. Greed is a sin and an emotion and it blocks thinking. This woman is magnificent; she can think.
4. The difference between fear and courage is the ability to think under pressure, provided that someone has something with which to think under pressure.

5. Courage is thinking under pressure; fear is lack of thought under pressure. People who hate cannot think with regards to the object of their hatred.
6. Love is thinking under pressure or no pressure; hatred is emotion blotting out thought under pressure.
7. No believer can think, concentrate and apply doctrine under pressure when negative emotion dominates the soul. All of these negative emotions are a part of living inside of interlocking systems of arrogance. This is why love is not even understood.
8. The courage of thought under pressure is the modus operandi of the 3 stages of the faith rest drill
  - a. Faith claims promises recorded in the Bible. This results in setting aside negative fear. This is the sump pump that removes negative emotion from the soul so that thought can resume. The first stage of the faith rest drill is designed so that you can start up that sump pump. All of the mental sins of gate 1 of interlocking systems of arrogance. We all have emotion; we do not look to get rid of positive emotions; positive emotions are always subordinate to thinking. This woman lies honorably to these minions of Absalom.
  - b. Faith uses reverse concentration to use one or more of the rationales for coping. This is the dual scale of values rationale. When do you shift gears from a normal scale of values to an abnormal scale of value. She hides the couriers and lies magnificently. The dynamics of the 2nd stage of the faith rest drill is the application of thought.
  - c. The result of the application of doctrine to the situation is coming to a doctrinal conclusion. The believer is in control of the situation, based upon the application of doctrine.

2Sam. 17:20 Absalom's servants [patrol] came to the woman at the house and asked, "Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?" "They passed by toward the water," the woman replied to them. The men searched but did not find them, so they returned to Jerusalem.

The Woman Is Able to Think

1. Knowledge is the environment for thinking.
2. This woman was able to save David's couriers and future spiritual leaders of Israel.
3. Doctrine is the environment for decisions. The lady of the manor made a lot of decisions. Doctrine is the environment for decisions.
4. The lady of the manor could think and apply doctrine.
5. Her noble act of courage. This is recorded forever in the Word of God as one of the great abilities to think under pressure. This woman is superior to thousands of men. A woman with doctrine who can think; there is no greater thing in the world. Both the woman and her husband operated under an alternate scale of values.

This lady did not belong in the battlefield; she was in the right place at the right time. She did not even belong in the flying column. She remained at home, where she belonged. She is the kind of a woman that we need in the United States today. She knows her place and she knows doctrine and she is superior to any man. Courage is thinking; fear is emotion. Under pressure, emotion must be under the control of thinking. Prov. 29:25 He who puts his trust in the Lord will be promoted. This woman illustrates what a woman of thought can be. Psalm 56:3 In the day I am afraid, I will put my trust in You. Heb. 11:27 By faith, Moses gave up the throne of Egypt, not being afraid of the anger of the king, because he became strong under pressure, as long as He kept seeing that Invisible One. Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid nor tremble because of them. The woman was perfectly composed. She did not act like someone hiding fugitives. She did not act fidgety. It makes you sloppy emotionally like a knee-walking drunk. When you have doctrine in the soul, the Lord goes with you.

“Out, move her out. They’re coming from everywhere. What a marvelous contrast with the lady in the passage. Her little emotion was welling throughout, and when her cellar was flooding, she had to stand up for Jesus. These people are born again and they have no doctrine. When tragedy comes, they fall apart. She has no establishment doctrine and no manners; or maybe she has manners, but once emotion takes control, the manners go. You might act this way; next thing you know, you might be jumping up in some audience.”

Deut. 31:8 Now the Lord is the One Who advances ahead of you. This woman did a phenomenal thing; and she did it all by thinking. This is the application of divine decrees. Isa. 41:10 Do not fear, for I am with you; do not be anxiously looking around for help. This woman was alone here. She did not have her men there to help her. For I am your God; I will strengthen you and I will help you; and most emphatically, I will sustain you with the right hand of My righteousness.

2Sam. 17:20 Absalom's servants [patrol] came to the woman at the house and asked, "Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?" "They passed by toward the water," the woman replied to them. The men searched but did not find them, so they returned to Jerusalem.

This woman functions under her disaster scale of values. Her faith stood in the wisdom of God. For we walk by faith and not by sight. Col. 2:6 For just as you have received Him, Keep on walking in Him.

2Samuel 17:21–23

72David

631_0454

8September 1900 hurricane that struck Galveston. 20 ft. tidal wave. Winds up to 120 miles. The city was obliterated. It was the 4th wealthiest city in the US at that time. 2nd largest grain shipping port. 6 mile square island. It is only 5' above sea level. 3 leading citizens toasting the storm on strand street. Those who stayed could not shift gears and sealed their own fate. Looters were shot in their tracts. Some were simply lined up against a wall and executed.

Bob would hate to have a storm named Allen hit Houston. A ship is a female and a storm is a female, and things on the sea change rapidly; therefore, that is a clear reference to a woman.

3 ladies were so enthusiastic that they had to get up make a little noise. It was ladies night. And it was a great time had by all.

There was a detailed report that Ahimaaz and Jonathan were carrying. They warned that Ahithophel had advised an immediate attack, so David has to be prepared of that. There are no details recorded here as to what was in the report. However, they probably gave details of Ahithophel's plan and of Hushai's plan. They probably told David that his 10 mistresses had been raped.

2Sam. 17:21 After they had gone [marched on], Ahimaaz and Jonathan climbed out [ascended] of the well and went and informed King David. They told him, "Get up and immediately ford the river, for Ahithophel has given this advice against you."

David moves out rapidly. He makes an instant decision, which means thousands of civilians + a battalion and a brigade are gotten over the Jordan. Not a single person left on the other side of the Jordan. This was a successful night operation. This takes a lot of organization and humility (the recognition of authority). Humility, real and enforced, was the order of the day. Such discipline speaks well of command structure and leadership. The refugees handled this magnificently. They were herded across the river for safety.

David's Ability to Make Good Decisions

1. Knowledge is the environment for thinking.
2. David's information comes from his couriers. He has correct information.
3. Doctrine resident in the soul of David + the intelligence information brings David to the point of decision. His decision had to be immediate.
4. This decision to cross the Jordan was a good one. He will develop a system for thousands of civilians in this column. He will set up a HQ and he will set up the terrain where this war would be fought. Good decisions mean more options. David is making all kinds of decisions opening up options for more; but Ahithophel is reducing all of his decisions.
5. A good decisions multiplies future options.
6. For David, the options for this decision are many; Ahithophel has run out of decisions.
7. Just as knowledge is the environment for thinking, so doctrine becomes the environment decisions.

Bob is not going to walk around with us and hold our hands (apparently Hurricane Allen is about to hit?). You need to have 2 standards and you must be able to walk away from everything you ever considered to be important. This is not a column of complaining of what they are losing. Every believer is supposed to be spiritually self-sustaining. This means, we must be able to think under pressure. Those who clung to their money and such, they drown.

A study was made of it, when the Germans invaded France, in May of 1940, and they bombed all of the cities; and some of the citizens tried to take their whole households.

Some even discarded their children. Men left their wives. You must think. Panic is emotion and panic is cowardice. These are negative emotions. If emotion dominates your soul, then you cannot think. When a submarine dives, it must blow the air out of its tanks.

If you make wrong decisions, then you are going to die. How do you commit a sin? You decide to do it. It is a part of your thinking process. Volition is involved in every sin that you commit. You are held responsible for your ignorance.

If someone is crazy, verify it, and then take them out and shoot them. It is a sick society that permits this kind of thing. You are responsible for your actions whether you know what you are doing or not.

Bob will preach at our funerals if we are quite stupid and die because of it.

2Sam. 17:22 So David and all the people with him got up and crossed the Jordan. By daybreak, there was no one who had not crossed the Jordan.

Ahithophel realizes that his plan wasn't followed. "I didn't say he put his ass in the saddle; I said he saddled his ass."

Bob used to grab wild asses and ride them. Grab their ears and jump on. Great fun.

In a battle of wits, when two men are equal, the one who is humble will win out. Arrogance neutralizes your beauty, talent, intelligence and your spiritual assets. Arrogance will neutralize it every time.

He gave charge to his house, which means he put his affairs in order. He was meticulous, well-organized, and even down to the end, he maintained the habits of good administration. He had a will and he set up his vast estates and wealth. This is how a person can be rational and yet, he turns to suicide. He drafts all of the legal documents necessary for his heirs. He is able to do all of this, which indicates that he has a lucid, clear mind about normal things in life. Yet, with this genius, with this thoughtfulness for his family, he will draw up all of these papers, and then he will commit suicide.

2Sam. 17:23 [When Ahithophel realized \[saw, made an estimate of the situation\] that his advice had not been followed, he saddled his donkey and set out for his house in his hometown. He set his affairs in order and hanged himself. So he died and was buried in his father's tomb.](#)

The hurricane in the gulf, is quite a serious one. The one on 2 September 1935 was the worst, where winds were 250 mph. 279 locals killed. The problem with the hurricane was, they did not have much warning. The barometer went down to 26.35 inches, which is a record for this hemisphere. It moved at about 10 mph. The center was about 9 miles in diameter. One wall of water 40 ft high. One wave hitting a lighthouse was estimated to be 100 ft or more in height. Some of the glass was carried 10 miles away. This was one of the greatest earthquakes (?) of the century. We may or may not get much of Allen. There are apparently all kinds of boards and bricks nearby, and they act as bullets. Terrible to call a hurricane by a man's name. Use common sense. If you are told to stay off the roads and highways, then stay in, or retreat wherever you plan to retreat. We will not put up with those conditions for church. "I have no intention of speaking with 170 mph winds outside."

our subject is a believer who commits suicide; Ahithophel. This is a clear cut case of suicide.

Ahithophel and Arrogance

1. This is an answer to David's prayer, "Please frustrate the counsel of Ahithophel."
2. Not only had Hushai discredited Ahithophel's plan, but he substituted a plan which was guaranteed to fail.
3. Arrogance is weakness and for all of his greatness, Ahithophel had become weak.
4. It was the weakness of arrogant self pity which caused Ahithophel to go home and commit suicide.
5. Ahithophel had entered into interlocking systems of arrogance, gate 17. It was easy for him to move to gate 16 (unhappiness), and conspiracy arrogance and negative volition arrogance. He was probably very close to maturity when he entered into these gates.

Introductory Principles on Suicide

1. Suicide always combines the functions of interlocking systems of arrogance with one's own volition. Psychosis does not eliminate the function of the volition of the soul.
2. Suicide is the last choice of anyone involved in interlocking systems of arrogance. This is degeneracy and evil.
3. Suicide means that a person has run out of choices and uses his volition to make one last choice; the wrong choice. He takes his own life without divine permission.
4. Just as knowledge is the environment for thinking, so doctrine is the environment for good decisions, which provide greater options for greater decisions.
5. If you make decisions based upon doctrine, then you will be allowed to make more decisions. This allows for advance in the plan of God.
6. The greatness of decisions is the function of reverse concentration, the 2nd stage of the faith rest drill. The environment for more and greater decisions is Bible doctrine in the soul.
7. The decisions of doctrine provide more opportunity for more decisions. Decisions which place doctrine in the soul are the most important daily decisions that you can make. Generally speaking, the more doctrine you learn, the great insulation from walking into interlocking systems of arrogance.

8. If you make decisions based upon arrogance and strong delusion, you reduce your choices and you imprison the environment for thinking to interlocking systems of arrogance. This leaves you with divine discipline and the sin unto death.
9. In arrogance, you blame others for your own bad decisions. You pass along the reason for your evil on others.
10. You use the excuse that God is testing you, you lock yourself inside the arrogance complex and throw away the key.
11. When inside, you continue to reduce your volitional options. Suicide is emotional cowardice. The person who commits suicide may or may not be psychotic, but he is arrogant.

More Points on Emotional Arrogance and Suicide

1. Suicide is a form of cowardice, and expression emotional arrogance.
2. Cowardice is negative volition or negative emotion which blots out thinking and divorces the person from reality. As thinking is removed and replaced by emotion, so is reality removed. Emotion that is negative is defined here as cowardice.
3. Courage is thinking under pressure. Cowardice is lack of thinking under pressure. Thinking for such a one is impossible.
4. When the believer commits suicide, he is under the emotion of cowardice and that is under the principle of knowledge is the environment for thinking.
5. Knowledge of doctrine may reside in your soul, but negative emotion frustrates the application under reverse concentration.
6. Doctrine is the environment for good decisions and emotion controlling the soul is the environment for bad decisions.
7. When emotion controls the soul, the believer is in emotional arrogance.
8. Emotional arrogance + psychotic arrogance also leads to suicide. That is irrational behavior.
9. The cowardice of emotional arrogance + and interaction with psychotic arrogance, there can be suicide.
10. A person under intense pain, it is possible that emotion will dominate the soul, and one may contemplate suicide.
11. Ahithophel was a believer entered into interlocking systems of arrogance through iconoclastic arrogance. He volition and arrogance created an idol out of David.
12. When Ahithophel's excellent plan was rejected, he went over to authority arrogance.
13. From there Ahithophel went into emotional arrogance, and they all interlocked.
14. Suicide is a form of cowardice and it interacts with other gates.
15. Arrogant people are irrational, emotional, unstable and unhappy. Such types put a period on the end of their lives.

Suicide and Eternal Security

1. Does the believer who commits suicide go to heaven? Is suicide so terrible that it eliminates someone from going to heaven. The believer who commits suicide definitely goes to heaven.
2. No believer gets into heaven by works and no one is kept from heaven by works.
3. The one act of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ guarantees that the believers goes to heaven.
4. But, of course, after resurrection, there are no rewards or decorations for suicide.
5. Even though Ahithophel was at one time probably a mature believer, his involvement in interlocking systems of arrogance and perpetuation of that status without rebound, guaranteed him a loss of reward in eternity.
6. Loss of reward does not mean a loss of salvation.
7. Suicide is the end of an arrogant life, but it does not cancel the work of God in salvation. It just terminates an arrogant life.
8. Therefore, the believer who takes his life is obviously guilty of a sin; and he is guilty of evil related to the arrogance complex. However, no sin or evil can cancel anyone's salvation.
9. For all suicide, it is still no more sorrow, no more tears; the old things have passed ways. You cannot cancel the work of Jesus Christ on the cross.
10. Many believers have terminated a life of failure by suicide.
11. The grace of God is greater than the failure of man.

2Sam. 17:23 When Ahithophel realized [saw, made an estimate of the situation] that his advice had not been followed [his plan had not been adopted], he saddled his donkey and set out for his house in his hometown. He set his affairs in order and hanged himself. So he died and was buried in his father's tomb [in the family mausoleum].

Interlocking Systems of Arrogance and Which Way They Went

1. Intensified discipline is a horrible experience. However, as long as you are alive, you can still rebound. This can be broken down into increments. Rebound takes you outside interlocking systems of arrogance and gives you enough space to recover the doctrine necessary for the next installment.
2. Suicide is a coward's way out. As long as they are alive, they can still get out of interlocking systems of arrogance. It is possible for you to come to a place where you cannot even put together the rebound rationale. Emotional arrogance and psychotic arrogance both do the same thing. Psychotic arrogance wipes out thinking of any kind. The woman who walked out the other time, after a conversation, this woman might be in psychotic arrogance as well. She is a good illustration. It is impossible for people to keep making decisions and then to reverse all of that by rebound.
3. By involvement in interlocking systems of arrogance, you have a guarantee of failure, unless you break out using rebound. David was magnificent in the civil war, but not in the revolution. "Deal gently with my son, Absalom" and he was therefore, out of it. Joab had to straighten him out. He made great decisions until the army marched out. David almost did not recover from this. He was running toward gate 9 before Joab grabbed him by the scruff of the neck and brought him back.

4. If you are determined to break out and make it, and want to take in doctrine on a daily basis, under logistical grace, God gives you extra time for recovery. Ahithophel could have broken out. Ahithophel took his own life and destroyed all of his options. He lost any option of his own life.
5. Through rebound, David recovered from the arrogance complex. He got tremendous blessing from his installment discipline. Once he was clear, he went right back in again in 2Sam. 18.
6. Ahithophel and Absalom had the same potential, did not break out.
7. The result is inevitable. They both received intensified discipline, which was to motivate them.
8. Just as arrogance creates its own problems and blames them on someone else
9. Arrogance refuses to take responsibility for its own decisions. Arrogance is totally inconsistent.
10. Suicide is a monument to man's own incompetence and evil self-centeredness. A believer who commits suicide is under great pressures from being under interlocking systems of arrogance. This pushes a person to suicide. The arrogance of emotion.

Ahithophel's Failure

1. While Ahithophel came to this point, Eliam, his son, is with David. He expands his options of life by faithfulness to David. He was professional and he recognized authority.
2. Eliam has distinguished career and a long life. He made choices which give him greater and greater options. He is never distracted from his father's erroneous decisions.
3. Here is also the daughter of Elaim, the granddaughter of Ahithophel. Bob is unsure whether RM/RW was more of a problem than what it taught. Bathsheba was probably David's rw. Abigail was a great woman, but that does not make her David's rw. This rape and seduction affected Ahithophel more than it did Bathsheba. She was able to forgive David and she had tremendous resonance. She became the queen in our Lord's genealogy. If Ahithophel needed any illustrations, he could simply look to his own family we can only recognize the tremendous power of emotional arrogance.

The family mausoleum means that this was a distinguished family in Israel.

2Sam. 17:23 When Ahithophel realized [saw, made an estimate of the situation] that his advice had not been followed [his plan had not been adopted], he saddled his donkey and set out for his house in his hometown. He set his affairs in order and hanged himself. So he died and was buried in his father's tomb [in the family mausoleum].

Bob leaves it to our judgment about the hurricane. If the hurricane goes through Corpus and Brownsville, then we'll get a little rain. Bob has been in hurricanes and earthquakes that were quite exciting. There is a particular one that Bob experienced when he was a child in Florida. 1925 boom in Florida, which was greater than any gold rush or any other boom. The hurricane destroyed any rejuvenation of the Florida boom. 138 mph and the cheap subdivision houses began to crumble and a shoreline was established 100 yards inland.

Discipline produces enforced humility. The revolutionary army will march in the reign of terror in Jerusalem. They will annoy the citizens along the route of their march. There will develop a hostile citizenry, which is very difficult to supply.

When David crossed over into Mahanaim, he had every advantage at that point. The revolutionary army will be called Israel. About a half million men will leave Shechem. They will cross and then move up to this large valley. The cliffs will be too high.

It became apparent that Absalom decided to go with plan Hushai, which was a plan guaranteed to fail. Once a large army is concentrated,....

2Sam. 17:24 David had arrived at Mahanaim by the time Absalom crossed the Jordan with all the men of Israel.

Bob loves this v. 25. It makes him angry. Some of the words are completely out of line.

Qal perfect of sum, which means to appoint, to commission. The revolutionary army has its field commander, and his name is Amasa. The greater portion of the Jewish army went over to the revolution. Most of David's army was now with the revolution.

Amasa is the bastard cousin of Joab. 1Chron. 2:17 Amasa's mother was Abigail, and his father was Jether the Ishmaelite. Some of the greatest people in history have been bastards. You cannot blame your bad disposition and your evil modus operandi upon being born a bastard. Being a bastard by birth; there is nothing wrong with that. It is being a bastard by practice.

Lets begin with Yether the Ishamelite, who is the father of Amasa. He is a handsome Arab like Rudolf Valentino in the son of the shiek. He was passing through a foreign country and he spied a beautiful woman, and that is where we get Amasa from. Here, it is a corruption; Ithra the Israelite. Sometimes, when a name is brought into our language, it is anglicized. Ithra is the Jewish version of Yether. This is not Abigail, the wife of David.

Sexual intercourse is implied here. So, he seduced Abigail, the daughter of Nahash. Nahash was a friend of David's, and we never really established why. Hanun has a sister. Nahash had 3 children: Hanun, Abigail, and a younger brother Shobai.

Nahash was the king of Ammon, one of the great kings of his day. He had 2 wives. Wife1 had a daughter, Abigail. Kings want sons. This is why Hanun got rid of wife1. She went over and married a Jew named Jesse, David's father. Nahash had her first, and then she became Jesse's wife. By Nahash, she had Abigail. Zeruah would have been a step-sister, more than likely. This is why Nahash liked David. David's mother was once the wife of Nahash. She just gave Nahash a daughter. It is the male sperm that determines the gender. Nahash got rid of her. So then Jesse has 7 boys by this mother and also Zeruah.

Nahash has a second wife with 2 sons, 1 good and 1 evil. Hanun and Shobai. One is an evil unbeliever and the other is a mature believer. David had Absalom. So they are all first cousins, giving us the war of the first cousins.

Relativity

1. While Nahash was the king of Ammon, he was very friendly toward David. They were always good friends.
2. The reason is found in this context, and David was given some relief in Ammon, under the protection of Nahash, while Saul was after him. There was a friendship between Nahash and Jesse because they married the same woman.
3. Nahash king of Ammon was the first husband of Jesse's wife and the father of Abigail. So Abigail is the half-sister of David and the half-sister of Zeruah.
4. For some unknown and unstated reason, since Abigail could only give birth to girls. She went off on her settlement to marry Jesse, which might explain why Jesse was rich. She did well in the divorce settlement.
5. David's mother was the first wife of Nahash, and therefore, Nahash was friendly to David. This was a civilized divorce. No bitterness.
6. By his second wife, King Nahash had Hanun, who provided David, resulting in the Ammonite war; and a younger son, Prince Shobai, who brings supplies to David in Mahanaim.
7. Hanun's antagonism toward David resulted in Ammon's loss of independence. Joab brought David over to take credit for this defeat. There was a loss of the kingdom, which became the property of Israel.
8. When David took over Ammon, Hanun's brother was friendly with David. Hanun was antagonistic toward David and ruined by this.
9. David appointed Shobai to handle Ammon as the king of the conquered Ammon (Transjordanian today).
10. Here we meet Abigail. She is the half-sister of Zeruah and the mother of an Arab passing through.
11. She is the half-sister of David as well.
12. Traditions of the rabbis equates Jesse and Nahash, but that is not the case. This is imbecilic. This is why the Jews have had so many problems. It makes no sense to equate a king of Ammon with Jesse. They shared the same wife.

2Sam. 17:25 In the meantime, Absalom had appointed Amasa over the army in Joab's place. Amasa was [a bastard] the son of a man named Ithra the Israelite; Ithra had married [seduced] Abigail daughter of Nahash. Abigail was a sister to Zeruiah, Joab's mother.

Bob thinks we will meet on Sunday morning, despite Hurricane Allen.

2Samuel 17:25–27

72David

631_0457

Family relationships often have a lot to do with life. Jesse and Nahash both shared a wife, at different time. This wife had Abigail as a daughter, and sometimes wives are set aside by kings if they do not produce a son. They apparently had an amicable divorce. She marries Jesse and bears him 7 sons. Abigail has a bastard son named Amasa. Nahash by his 2nd wife has 2 sons, one who is good and sensible and the other who is an ass.

Hanun was just eliminated around the time of the Ammonite war, and Ammon is a part of the country of Israel, and Shobai is the governor ruling under David. All of these people are involved in this civil war.

Summary

1. Absalom, Joab and Amasa are all 1st cousins.
2. The civil war in its leadership is a war of first cousins. Joab and right for David.
3. Abigail is the step-sister or half-sister for David and Zeruiah.
4. This explains Nahash's famous friendship with David. David was the son of his first wife. David was almost like a nephew to him.
5. King Nahash divorced his wife because she had daughters instead of sons; although he continued to love her. She became the wife of Jesse, father of David.

2Sam. 17:25 In the meantime, Absalom had appointed Amasa over the army in Joab's place. Amasa was [a bastard] the son of a man named Ithra the Israelite [actually, Ishmael]; Ithra had married [seduced] Abigail daughter of Nahash. Abigail was a (half) sister to Zeruiah, Joab's mother.

David will not execute Amasa after the civil war. David, in his declining years, had a tendency to get back into interlocking systems of arrogance. He was in emotional arrogance. He recovers from that. He should not have appointed Amasa as his chief-of-staff.

Zeruiah had 3 magnificent sons, and 2 are still alive at the time of this civil war; Joab and Abishai. Asahel died previously. Joab is the field commander, so he is named here.

The Jewish army has been split by this civil war. Amasa has been appointed the field commander of the revolutionary troops. Absalom apparently liked Amasa, his bastard cousin. He will lose a battle here. He did not have even the most common knowledge of war here. You always choose your own battlefield. He violated every principle. Joab follows the correct principles of military tactics.

Amasa comes from am jesse and it means people of Jesse. Abigail wanted her son to be identified with the royal line of Israel, and therefore, she gave him this name. Joab will kill Absalom and he will kill Amasa as well. Joab is one of the most underrated men in the Word of God.

2Sam. 17:25 In the meantime, Absalom had appointed Amasa over the army in Joab's place. Amasa was [a bastard] the son of a man named Ithra the Israelite [actually, Ishmael]; Ithra had married [seduced] Abigail daughter of Nahash. Abigail was a (half) sister to Zeruiah, Joab's mother.

Ishmael was Abraham's bastard son and Ammon was Lot's son via one of his daughters. There is a wild strain of Ishmael. 1Chron. 12:17–18 David went out to meet them and said to them, "If you have come in peace to help me, my heart will be united with you, but if you have come to betray me to my enemies even though my hands have done no wrong, may the God of our ancestors look on it and judge." Then the Spirit took control of Amasai, chief of the Thirty, and he said: We are yours, David, we are with you, son of Jesse! Peace, peace to you, and peace to him who helps you, for your God helps you. So David received them and made them leaders of his troops.

David tried to give Amasa Joab's job when Joab retired, and he really had no ability in the field in which he chose to operate. Some of these kinds become malcontents. So many times, these people lack the ability and they shout discrimination and they are not willing to work to make up for their lack.

Amasa joins the revolution. Asmaveth remains loyal to David. His wife gets the men of Absalom mixed up so that the messengers can get through to David.

Often, men who have fought together in the past, find themselves pitted against one another. There are those who knew each other in West Point before the civil war, and they often took advantage of this information. Lee and McClellan knew one another in West Point and tried to date the same girl at one time.

When men have known each other in the regular army, then they can have information on one another in the field against one another. Amasa was good as a company commander, but he is not good as a field commander. When you reach your peak, being ambitious beyond your own abilities is problematic. Maybe you are dissatisfied. You want to go up to the next rung. This is what happens in bureaucracies. People are ruined when they advance beyond their abilities. Arrogant people move up the ladder, particularly in a bureaucracy; and that bureaucracy ends up being a failure. It is a system of interlocking systems of arrogance. This is the one great thing of England's class system in the past. This gave people a contentment within the framework of their own custom; and they could break out if they wanted to. Evangelism works well there too. Such people are not looking to move up some ladder and are distracted by this.

Most capacity for playing comes from hard work. Julius Cæsar developed a system for great administration. He took people from all levels and had them run the country as knights, which kept the empire stable. They essentially ran the Roman empire.

People become dissatisfied with their lot in life, and they can work hard to make up for their deficiencies. That is success by humility. Hard work is self-discipline going into action; self-discipline is enforced humility. Enforced humility will make the same gains as well true humility. When people work hard, they instinctively enjoy their leisure time. However, even better if they simply enjoy their work. Arrogance has caused people to focus on time off as opposed to their responsibility. They have more leisure time, more money, and they have no capacity for their leisure time.

Had it not been for Joab, David would never have become king again. Joab rebuked David as no one had ever done before. He chewed him out for insulting the army. This took extreme measures to get David's attention.

Blood is not thicker than water; arrogance is stronger than a blood relationship. Families which are one for all and all for one are destroyed by arrogance. And Jesus said, "I have come to destroy family relationships."

You lose capacity for love in arrogance. Arrogance is stronger than perfect environment. Environment is not an issue in our lives. It is not an issue in happiness. Some think moving to a better climate would be nice. Or they think they have been abused by their parents and blame them for their failures.

Historically, we have good environment when the laws of divine establishment dominate a client nation or an area. Then freedom becomes a great virtue, rather than some nightmare. The greatness of freedom comes out. Great evangelism; great missionary function. All of these things make for good environment.

Some families are close and there are great relationships within the family. This is based upon humility. If the children or parents are arrogant or try to please the other; or there is arrogance introduced, then the family relationship is destroyed. Arrogance destroys the best of environment. It destroys the best of relationships.

Be content with such things as you have. You cannot obey this verse with arrogance in your soul. Arrogance, like cowardice, is an emotion, and it destroys human relationships. Principle should be placed above emotion. Arrogance causes division, and even a client nation is destroyed by arrogance.

V. 26 establishes the geographical location of this work. This establishes the fact, which is actually rejected by commentators. Gilead is east of the Jordan, so David fought on the east side of the Jordan; not on the west side as some idiotic commentators say. They have nothing to offer in chapters 15–18. They might have a sentence about one chapter and then offer up several pages to say that this war was fought on the west side, which is incorrect.

Gilead is east of the Jordan. Bob reads these commentators and he is appalled by what he reads. They idiotically spend 5–15 pages to give some point which is wrong.

Israel here stands for the revolutionary army. For several chapters, Israel will stand for the revolutionary army which joins up with Absalom. All of the tribes of Israel join in with Absalom. Most of the military types were in revolt against David.

There is a large contingent of foreigners in David's army. David will have 10 more prosperous years and Solomon will have 40 great years. After Solomon, there will be a split which will break up David's empire. The northern kingdom will be called Israel and the southern kingdom will be called Judah.

God does not recognize revolution or those who try to seize power via a revolution. Gilead is mountainous and heavily forested and goes from the Sea of Galilee down to the Dead Sea. 60 miles long and 20 miles wide. It is here called Gilead, but this name will fade out in history. Manasseh and Reuben took this land. Down below is Ammon, Moab and Edom. Very heavily forested and mountainous and very rugged country.

Absalom has now crossed the river.

2Sam. 17:26 [And Israel and Absalom camped \[bivouacked\] in the land of Gilead.](#)

Bob reads the next verse. The Russians won on the eastern side against Germany because they were supported by free enterprise Americans. The industry of the United States that made it possible for all of the allies to defeat their enemies. One industrial complex in WWII sustained the victory.

2Sam. 17:27 When David came to Mahanaim, Shobi son of Nahash from Rabbah of the Ammonites, Machir son of Ammiel from Lo-debar, and Barzillai the Gileadite from Rogelim

Thanksgiving is coming up soon, so this would be 1980.

Thanksgiving involves memory. These things would be meaningless apart from some eternal consequence. Whereas, we appreciate to the maximum all of the doctrine which has been extended to us, we must be able to relate them, which is one of the purposes of the communion table. It is because of the Lord Jesus Christ that our life has purpose, meaning and definition.

Roy Hurst is starting a church in Meridian, Miss.

After Bob covers some of David's post-war problems, he will return to the New Testament.

Shobi is the younger son of Nahash. His first wife later becomes the wife of Jesse. Abigail. Jesse has 7 sons by this woman and then David. Nahash, by his second wife, has 2 boys.

Hanun is the first son who starts the Ammonite War with Israel. Prince Shobai is David's first cousin in law. Shobai had apparently disagreed with his brother and did not participate in the Ammonite war. David made Shobai governor of Ammon, which became a province of Israel. Shobi remained faithful to David for a great deal of time. He was faithful to David during this civil war and supported him logistically.

Machir is not a correct transliteration and it should be Makir is the correct transliteration. He is a descendant of the eldest son of Manasseh. He provided for Jonathan's lame son Mephibosheth.

There is the Jordan River. To the south is Ammon and from Lodebar, there was a wealthy landowner also coming to him. Bob recalls Dan when he was a strong conservative, and Bob used to be on his program. Dan went upstairs to Washington and he no longer demonstrates any of his former beliefs. He is a believer in Jesus Christ. His background is Lutheran. He has apparently been disillusioned with Carter. Carter said, "I haven't done these things yet, but I plan to do them with the windfall taxes." No nation can survive the downfall of its industrial complex under free enterprise. Government is to protect big and little business and any form of free enterprise from criminality and crusaders both.

We have studied the deeds of many men in WWII. These are men who rose to the occasion in a magnificent way. There are no heroes in war without greater heroes in the industrial complex of free enterprise. Russia had heroes against the Nazis, but it required American industry. There are millions of tons of material that went to Russia and we fed the Russians for 3 years at the end of the war.

We have a false film about Russian industrialism, but they have no industry. Our industry supplied England, the freed French, China, and many other countries which fought against the Axis powers. The free enterprise system must rise to the occasion. There was humility, flexibility and objectivity of big business, which is what saved us.

David is here with his back to the wall and he lives under an agricultural economy. On the west side of the Jordan the economy is in the hands of the revolutionary army. There is very little on the eastern side of Jordan.

David just fought a war here with Joab against the Aramæans. Little did the Reubenites and the Gadites realize that, when they wanted to get into this cattle country, and they did not want to go in with Joshua, some day their great grandchildren would be the means of supplying David.

Makir is from the tribe of Manasseh, and they are glorified because they are supplying David and his army and the civilians. There may be several hundred thousands refugees as well.

Barzillai was an 80 year old landowner. He is an industrial genius during this time. He would have put together a complex comparable to anything we have today. He is now 80 years old and vigorous. A lot of scum would say, he just used his money to stay alive. But it was not just the money, but it was the possession of Bible doctrine and its application to the business-industrial complex to the time that he lived. He had great moral courage. He was able to take responsibility for the people whom he employed. He spent his money in supporting David during David's darkest hour. David wore a suit that he tore off and a set of sandals that he kicked off when in the desert. David was a man of great moral courage. Some of the scum in organized labor today. They are gangsters and criminals. This is a capitalist who has developed a great sense of responsibility. This is how capitalists act. They make marvelous contributions to their societies. No army can function effectively without material.

The greatest sense of responsibility has not resided in our political leadership. It has resided with our men of industry; with capitalism. They daily face payrolls and they have responsibility for the lives of others.

The people of this country failed in the Vietnam war. When our people are in another country and there is no support for them, the army develops some animal characteristics that the army in Europe in WWII did not have.

When there have been some dine outs. There is one man Bob loves to hear stand up and give a toast. People who cannot make it in industry then go into government. They have no moral courage; they have no sense of responsibility. There are very few armies which have been successful without the home folks.

Alexander died because he started a UN and God took him out. He developed an international army, which was a mistake. All of his officers were supposed to take a Persian wife.

Manasseh is good for men in business but not known for its military men. Barzillai escorted him to the Jordan. David wanted him to live with him in the palace. However, he recommended his son, and Solomon was charged to show kindness to all of the sons of Barzillai. These are men of humility and success. Bob has seen more and greater humility in truly wealthy people. He grew up in Beverly Hills, CA, and it was the wealthiest city per capita before WWII. Shaker Heights in Ohio was close. It is not true that the rich are arrogant and the poor are humble. These are men of doctrine and men of advanced spiritual life. They understand the industrial complex. They related freedom to military victory. You have to feed and supply troops in the field.

Shobi put truth and Bible doctrine ahead of his national identity.

2Sam. 17:27 [When David came to Mahanaim, Shobi son of Nahash from Rabbah \[king\] of the Ammonites, Machir son of Ammiel from Lo-debar, and Barzillai the Gileadite from Rogelim](#)

Success on the battlefield depends upon supplies and material. There needs to be citizen support for any army. Logistical support is necessary for freedom through military victory. All the heroes are not on the battlefield.

2Sam. 17:28 brought beds, basins, and pottery items. They also brought wheat, barley, flour, roasted grain, beans, lentils,

The rest of the list that was brought to David. They figured out that David and his men would be worn out and hungry. This means to be exhausted. This is having no food.

Hungry, exhausted people in the desert. Curds which is like Mazoom, which was one of the toughest things Bob every tried to drink.

2Sam. 17:29 honey, curds, sheep, and cheese from the herd for David and the people with him to eat. They had reasoned [concluded], "The people must be hungry, exhausted, and thirsty in the desert."

We are about to complete this chapter. .

The Chicago Fire of 1871 illustrates what is in a person's soul, because that determines how they react. Apparently this did not occur at the O'Leary's farm, but the McLaughlin's? A lot of history on this fire. There was a widespread lawlessness within a greater catastrophe. Bob covers a lot of stories of people who fail under pressure.

These 3 men think of someone other than themselves. They saw David as the legitimate ruler of Israel. Most of those named in this Chicago fire could not think under pressure.

The Dynamics of Thinking Under Pressure

1. These men functioned under Bible doctrine in their souls. This application resulted in incredible generosity and fantastic support.
2. This is the industrial complex which supports this army. No army in the field can be successful apart from logistic. These men were truly generous.
3. True generosity; there was no way that these men could be repaid. No purchasing of influence. They did not think in terms of profit. Great industrialist generally think in terms of profit. Flexibility and humility, however, would keep them from losing everything.
4. True generosity does not seek to gain by giving. David was broke; he could not reward them. He was dependent upon the kindness of strangers.
5. Each gives, separately, concluded that David and his army all needed immediate help. They were under pressure and under this pressure they responded. The supplied maybe 100,000 people with necessities.
6. They did not give as a marketing gimmick; they gave from grace motivation.
7. Loyalty as a virtue

8. If you make your choices on the basis of Bible doctrine, you can be successful in business without loss of integrity. You can go broke in business, but that is no tragedy, if you have not lost your integrity or honor.
9. If you make your decisions on the basis of arrogance then you will run out of options and choices. They took their tremendous profits and helped sustain David and these people. They were strapped at this moment for giving everything that they could. If you make decisions on the basis of arrogance, eventually, you have nothing left. You do not have options even for recovery. When divine discipline hits, about all you can do is make a decision to rebound.
10. There is no substitute for the motivation of grace in spiritual modus vivendi.

If you make money and simultaneously lose your integrity, then you have already failed the test. God will punish you because you have rejected the one providing your prosperity.

The Memorial to Grace Orientation

1. This is a memorial to grace believers and they make decisions which could have destroyed their businesses. They could have gone into the camp and trading property for food. However, they did not do that. They did not take advantage of this situation. Their motivation was not profit but grace orientation.
2. To help David is to invite death and possible persecution. They were sticking their necks out.
3. This decision was sacrificial. This is because these men are giving of their wealth and abundance and when the smoke of battle clears, they will be broke.
4. Arrogance is stronger than perfect environment.
5. Love does not make the world go round; arrogance makes the world go round. This is the devil's world.
6. But there is something stronger than arrogance. Doctrine in the soul with the environment of grace humility which is stronger than arrogance which is stronger than the devil's world.
7. In the perfect environment, interlocking systems of arrogance will challenge 1000 years of perfect environment.
8. The result will be the GogMagog revolution.
9. Because of his involvement in interlocking systems of arrogance, man is never satisfied with good government or good environment.
10. Revolution is a manifestation of arrogance.
11. These 3 men are happy with David's reign, but they have also succeeded in life with free enterprise; they began with little businesses and they parlay this into big business. They have the honor and integrity to continue to support David. They combine courage with integrity.

Shobi could have taken this instance and declared his independence from Israel.

The Third Principle

1. Prince Shobi is as honorable as Hanun was dishonorable. Appointing him over Ammon was a great decision by David.
2. Makir and Barzillai. These are multimillionaires. They are the industrial complex of free enterprise. They are successful businessmen under David's rule. There was no OSHA, no EPA, no bureaucrat running around shutting down businesses. No attacks upon profit.
3. The 3 musketeers should never turn against David and join the revolution. Since they had honor, they could not remain neutral.
4. Such honor and integrity existed throughout the land. These men could engage in free enterprise function.
5. The result will be phenomenal. There is no substitute for the laws of divine establishment in national government. There would be other revolts against this great government in the future.

Man is depraved; in his soul, he has not the capacity to be happy. So he blames his environment and he rejects even good and perfect environment.

2Sam. 17:27–29 When David came to Mahanaim, Shobi son of Nahash from Rabbah [king] of the Ammonites, Machir son of Ammiel from Lo-debar, and Barzillai the Gileadite from Rogelim brought beds, basins, and pottery items. They also brought wheat, barley, flour, roasted grain, beans, lentils, honey, curds, sheep, and cheese from the herd for David and the people with him to eat. They had reasoned [concluded], "The people must be hungry, exhausted, and thirsty in the desert."

No idea if any time has passed between this and the previous lesson. Turns out, it is one day.

Excellent writer Eric Ladene? An Intelligent American's Guide to Europe. Well-written and understand divine establishment. We have it from scriptures that Christ loved some of His disciples more than others. The opposite view would indicate that the sinner was equal to the saint. Where it is easy to compare bank accounts; it is much more difficult to compare spiritual lives. Perfect equality is only possible under complete slavery. Once you use force to establish equality, then there is not more equality.

Introductory Principles

1. Counterinsurgency is the destruction of your enemy's talent and intelligence and leadership and thinking and planning.
2. Every believer must have 2 scales of values; one for prosperity and one for adversity. We learn this from David.
3. The transition from the prosperity scale of values to the historical scale of values demands the status quo of humility. That means objectivity and flexibility.

4. The material things the believer enjoys in prosperity must be written off or abandoned or ignored under adversity.
5. Once you get into adversity; it is not what you have that counts but it is what you think that counts. You ignore all that you possess and attain; however you are ranked or recognized, this no longer counts.
6. One must be humble, objective, flexible and honorable in the 2nd stage of the faith rest drill. We will see Joab in his greatness and we will also see him fail. He will reprimand a junior officer for not killing Absalom, and he heard David's general command not to kill Absalom. Joab would tell him, "I would have recognized you and decorated you and promoted you as well." The principle must be a part of your thinking when disaster comes. Joab is wrong but he is flexible enough to see it. Killing Absalom is something that only he could do. Only Joab could violate this order; so he goes and kills Absalom. In time of pressure and of disaster, you have to have this in your soul.
7. To shift gears into the adversity scale of values, the believer must be able to shift gears and get into the adversity mode; you must have the plan of God rationale, rebound rationale, etc. You need to learn the doctrine and to organize it categorically. You must be able to make instant application.
8. Without reverse concentration, the believer cannot adapt to adversity. We learn to concentrate and we learn poise under Bible doctrine. This very concentration is the way we apply it as well in adversity. If you start a prayer or your mind wanders after a few sentences, you will not do well in adversity. Prayer is a tremendous weapon. Changing circumstances do not change blessing from God. Philip. 4 not because I am speaking with reference to poverty, for I have learned to be content in whatever circumstances I am in. You happiness does not depend upon success or finding your rw or whatever. Happiness is a state of mind. In fact, I have come to know what it means to be in need; I have learned how to get along in humble circumstances and in prosperity; whether well-fed or hungry; I can do all things through Christ Who keeps on pouring the power into me.

It takes thought to survive under great difficulties.

Second Principle

1. Doctrine must be first and foremost on one's mind. Those who go into counterinsurgency must not lose their honor or integrity. They must learn to function under a different scale of values.
- 2.
3. We have noted also that conventional standards may not be applied to clandestine warfare any more than normal standards to normal welfare.
4. Fabrication, bribing, etc. including the exploitation of the weaknesses of others.
5. Just as killing is not sinful in battle, so lying is not sinful in clandestine warfare.
6. Insurgency is a synonym for revolution; it therefore connotes evil. Counterinsurgency preserves establishment government and has an honorable connotation.

Third Principle

1. God attacks revolution with their own weapons; lying, deceit, counter-violence.
2. Revolution lives by the lie and will be destroyed by the lie.
3. Revolution succeeds by the use of violence. So revolution should be destroyed by counter violence
4. Revolution is the result of maximum arrogance and interlocking systems of arrogance. Therefore, it should be defeated by that same arrogance complex.
5. Revolution and arrogance creates its own system of destruction. God therefore authorizes and approves counterinsurgency to destroy revolution.
6. God used humble Hushai to defeat and to destroy Absalom. God uses man's wrath to praise Him.
7. Part of the principle is that Jesus Christ controls history and God uses man's wrath to praise Him.
8. We must remember James 4:6 God makes war against the arrogant but he gives grace to the humble.

David founded a counterinsurgency group. Hushai penetrated the highest level of Absalom's staff.

Fourth Principle

1. God's plan is not changed by disaster.
2. Often the material things which the believer has enjoyed must be forgotten or ignored. However, that is not the loss of God.
3. The goal to penetrate the highest echelon of enemy command and to plant disinformation. Blackmail, flattery, deception and violence.
4. Being inside the interlocking systems of arrogance guarantees weakness and vulnerability to counterinsurgency as well as to conventional warfare. We will see David go back into interlocking systems of arrogance and he will be under emotional arrogance, and he will grieve which will create confusion and it could have tipped over his leadership.
5. The revolution Israel gained an initial success because of interlocking systems of arrogance. There was a rejection of truth in all 3 categories. The same thing is happening in our own country today.
6. The Lord's choice and the people's choice are never the same.
7. Whatever Absalom's potential is as a leader and Ahithophel's genius, their involvement in the arrogance complex destroyed their ability and potential.
8. Hushai infiltrated the highest echelon of the enemy forces through flattery.
9. Crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance = revolution. The reign of terror reveals the incompetency of the revolution to provide a decent environment in which to live.

Bob is not watching the Democratic convention.

A Third Principle

1. Missed point 1
2. Revolutions reign of terror manifest lack of good leadership.
3. Revolution always involves those who are in for revenge and they use the coup d'etat to get their revenge.
4. Revolutionary arrogance produces subjectivity of thinking which results in great violence and injustice.
5. Knowledge is the environment for thinking; and doctrine is the environment for making good decisions.
6. The ignorance of arrogance includes ignorance of doctrine and results in making bad decisions.
7. If you make a good decision, you increase your options and your freedom to do so; but bad decisions limit your options. Eventually, you lose your freedom and destroy your choices and only divine discipline remains. Absalom will hang by his hippy hair caught up in the branches of a tree when Joab puts out his little light.
8. Arrogance is stronger than perfect environment for any good environment for establishment government. Arrogance in authority often becomes inflexible about the wrong things. There is a type of thinking that, when you teach in prep school, you should not teach the little ones from a pulpit or a stand. You tower over them and frighten them. But that is not the issue. You go with the way that makes you comfortable. Before prep school there was an inflexible arrogant woman in charge and she had to be removed in order to move prep school forward. Don't take a person's ability to teach away from them; or their reasonable comfort level. Now, inflexible in the use of 4 letter words; nor would Bob even encourage them a hell or a damn. You have to have certain rules. Bob asked one kid where he heard that word "hell." He heard it in prep school.

If you want to see poor leadership, look at the Democratic convention. The sin nature rejected the perfect environment of the garden and it will reject perfect environment under Jesus Christ. Satan will but put in prison for 1000 years. There will be malcontent people at that time. Satan will be loosed and he will have hundreds of thousands of followers, even though they are in perfect environment. There is excellent administratino in Berachah Church. Bob has protected our privacy.

There were rules which prevented certain kinds of people from becoming members of Berachah Church. Many baptist churches did not allow people who worked in a store that sold liquor or as a waitress where liquor is sold, they could not become members.

Bob has all kinds of his own ideas about grooming, etc. but that is not his job. Even though Berachah has the perfect environment, people still leave. You may have the ideal job, and you still gripe and complain. You may have a good husband or wife bit you are always complaining. It is a sin complex. 19 categories. Arrogance is more than a sin; it is the major system of evil and the greatest power of evil in the world.

9. Revolutionary arrogance rejected the greatest reign of Israel; and yet, people revolted against David's government.
10. Revolutionary arrogance rejects the laws of divine establishment. Arrogance is stronger than environment. Arrogance is stronger than true love. Arrogance takes magnificent love and turns it into hatred. Arrogance is strong than love; it is stronger than great environment.

Final Principles

1. The transfer of power through violence and revolution testifies to man's inability to enjoy or appreciate authority and good government. Therefore, you should always appreciate the police officer, the fire department, etc. If you want to resent a mayor or a governor etc., that is your business, but you do not throw out the baby with the bath water. We have establishment government, which is, admittedly, getting very wobbly. When violence comes in, in the form of violence and revolution. We still have freedom to comment negatively. Most of us make money. That is freedom; that is establishment. We can call 911 and get a police out to our homes. God gave us the laws of divine establishment to perpetuate man.
2. We have legitimate authorities and legitimate freedom and we have it right now. No one has taken over this government by violence.
3. Revolution sought to demote David from being a king, but it ignored that, if God does not promote you, then you are not promoted.

More introduction tomorrow.

Erik Von Leddihn on Leftism. He developed a chart to describe human government. Good forms of government and bad forms of government. Good forms includes a monarchy, aristocracy, republic (sometimes called in Europe a polity). Tyranny, Oligarchy and democracy are the bad forms.

Monarchy: the rule of one man in the interest of the common good. Aristocracy is the rule of a group in the interest of common good. Republic is the rule of the better part of the people in the interest of common good.

The rule of a person or a group for their own benefit; and the rule of the worst part of a people for their own benefit. He analyzes the evils of democracy. Conservatives and liberals chapter. The Christian is a priest and king and he participates in the royal priesthood of all believers. He is not a slave nor an IBM machine; he is not a reactionary. There are conservatives who only react and only negatively toward existing trends. They do not react on cold reason. It is more rational than a person who clings to the existing foundation than the man who climbs roofs on nonexistent buildings. God created man in such a way that his head is above his heart. Most conservatives today are nothing more than opportunists. They can only state their own personal desires for life rather than what conservatism is.

Arrogance is stronger than good environment and even stronger than perfect environment.

The more people who vote, the worse the outcome. You hear, "Get out and vote." If Bob had his way, about 2500 in the country would be allowed to vote. The idea that the more people who vote, the better the government is a myth and the lie of arrogance. The larger the committee, the more ineffective it is. If you want to destroy something without appearing to do so, put an issue in the hands of a large committee.

Our government was not designed to regulate social life. Our government was not designed to solve social problems; that is a manifestation of arrogance.

In 2sam. 17 Principles

1. A victory is never exploited until the enemy is pursued and destroyed. Ahithophel was ready to do this and this was cancelled by Hushai. The United States of America never exploited its victory. We stepped aside and allowed the Soviets to exploit out victory. We kept their army alive, fed and equipped.
2. David recognized the genius of Ahithophel and offered a prayer. He prayed for the frustration of the counsel of Ahithophel.
3. The Lord answered the prayer through operation Hushai. This is legitimate to practice counterinsurgency...in the military and in law enforcement.
4. The arrogance of unhappiness has a tendency to oversimplify solutions, as in the case of Absalom and Ahithophel. They thought the death of David would make them happy.
5. No person and no thing can make us happy when we are involved in interlocking systems of arrogance.
6. Unhappiness is the state of soul inside of interlocking systems of arrogance. Specifically, it is relationship with gate 16. The arrogant are unhappy by choice. Unhappiness is a decision as well as a status of the soul. If we are unhappy, it is because we choose to be unhappy. None of us has a right to unhappiness.
7. Insurgency is revolution; counterinsurgency is counter-revolution. Insurgency is anti-God and counterinsurgency is serving God. 2Sam. 17:14

Next Principle

1. Hushai frustrates the better plan of Ahithophel by mixing truth with lie. He puts a bodyguard of truth around the lie. This is lying in counterinsurgency. He deceives arrogant Absalom and his staff.
2. David is most vulnerable to attack at this point in time.
3. Hushai appealed to the arrogance of cowardice. He used the flawed character of Absalom against him. He had a lot of good points, but it is the flaw which is the key to his destruction.
4. Ahithophel had a flawed character; Absalom has a flawed character, and Amasa did as well. Some of us will have authority over others and we must be able to recognize flawed characters and to be very alert around flawed characters. If someone gets on your board and you discover their flaws, you must be alert so that their flaws do not interfere with what they do.

5. Arrogance is vulnerable to public opinion. The last 4 years of Carter. He alleges to be a born-again believer, and a lot of people voted for him because they wanted a born-again believer in the White House. Worst thing in the world is to have a believer in interlocking systems of arrogance in government. This is government, and not onward Christian soldiers. Ike was one of the greatest presidents and he was humble. He did not care what the public thought or wanted. There is no perfect person and no ideal ruler. However, Joab, later, will be totally unfair to a junior officer coming up. No person has perfect judgment. The batting average of perfect human judgment is pretty close to that of baseball batting averages. Hushai right infers that any defeat of David of Absalom's army would destroy Absalom's chances to be king.
6. Hushai, as David's mole, introduces doubt into Absalom's thinking and kept him from exercising the better plan. Some of you have obviously not been here the past month.
7. Knowledge is the environment for thinking. You must know the meaning of words in order to think. Education today is in bad shape. You are not being taught to think any more. False knowledge is the environment for false thinking. False thinking is the best that you can do. If all you have is emotion, all you can do is emote.
8. Hushai provides Absalom with false knowledge which will result in false thinking and false decisions.
9. The creation of false pressure; arrogance can quickly allow you to put another person under false pressure. The arrogant never have to deal with true pressures because they are being broken apart by false pressures. Othello is the story of an arrogant ruler being destroyed by pressures that do not exist.

It chaffs Bob to pray for those who have on self-inflicted pressures. So we pause to pray, lower the boom on this jackass.

The next Principle

1. The revolution and its leaders are arrogant. It is true of all revolutionists. Our first war for independence was not a revolutionary war. Flawed characters always have an area where they are vulnerable to fear. Somewhere in the variety of circumstances of life, there is somewhere they will be caused to fear.
2. A flawed character cannot be satisfied by anything in life, including a successful revolution or getting revenge.
3. The people in revolt reacted to David in his feet of clay and were in the arrogance of unhappiness. They were unhappy people. They are always reacting. The businessman who fails in business but hides his failure in revolution, saying down with free enterprise.
4. David provided maximum freedom and privacy and law and order and good government. Those in revolt were not made happy even though they were under good government. Good government protects the freedom of free enterprise from crusaders and criminality. If the government becomes the crusader, then all is lost. Arrogance is stronger than good environment and good government. It is stronger than freedom.

5. When the general public of the client nation to God becomes involved in interlocking systems of arrogance, inevitably, national disaster and punishment follow. We are overdue for national punishment. We are a client nation. We are overdue for punishment. God has given us a grace period so we can prepare for disaster.
6. If a nation is to survive national disaster, God must destroy and root out those who have flawed characters and are involved in the arrogance complex.
7. Hushai's plan is one that will fail, and so he recommended it. It sounded workable. It sounded good. This is a plan that definitely would fail.
8. Hushai could present a bad plan and make it sound plausible because those who adopted the plan were arrogant. They were irresponsible. Hushai suggests that Absalom command the army, Absalom was so vulnerable to flattery, he extended himself beyond his ability. It is the worst thing for a person to get involved in something which is beyond his ability or over his head. Victory in thinking precedes profit in business.

Next Principle

1. Knowledge is the environment for thinking and humility is the servant of that knowledge.
2. Absalom had neither professional military knowledge to see the fallacy of plan Hushai and he did not have the humility to seek the facts. Without knowledge and humility, Absalom becomes the #1 sucker of his generation.
3. Arrogance ignores reality. Absalom's arrogance converts the deceit into victory, in his own mind. He sees the greatest victory in plan Hushai and is gloating over that in his head. That is arrogance divorced from reality. Hushai defeated Absalom in the palace so Joab could defeat him on the battlefield.
- 4.
5. Victory in clandestine warfare means victory on the battlefield.
6. Hushai developed a false pressure to move Absalom away from plan Ahithophel.
7. God never approves of revolution and He will destroy revolutionary leaders. Evil men create their own destruction. All those associated with them are punished with them. Arrogance gravitates to arrogance. This is why revolution is said to eat her own children. Revolution creates an environment of arrogance. The exploitation of weakness is the approved standard for defeating our enemies.

Bob wants to speed through chapter 18 to get back into the New Testament

Principle

1. Teamwork is needed for conventional and unconventional warfare. Teamwork based upon discipline; discipline is enforced humility. Humility is the source of team success. Teamwork must exist between all branches of military. There must be teamwork in business. Genius in warfare of military science is no better than the information upon which they base decisions. Decisions must be based upon accurate information. Therefore, a person in the military is prone to listen to gossip will never make a good general. He has a flawed character. He will never seek truth; he will simply listen to fake information. Many good men have been forced out by flawed characters. Douglas MacArthur was hurt by this and Robert E. Lee in the 3 days of Gettysburg. He had bad information. The greatest of men had setbacks because they had genius, but they did not have the facts. You must have a well-defined system of authority and you must have enforced humility. One arrogant person disobeying orders can destroy the best plans devised. Absalom was not subject to discipline and he was not under anyone else's authority. When a government tries to take over the social life of his people, it become childish and absurd. No form of government when it is involved in arrogance can ever do anything for its people. Emotion can control the soul and this is why someone can open up their blue book and draw a complete blank. The humble will always defeat the arrogant in any sort of a battle.

2. Through knowledge of doctrine and Bible doctrine, the lady of the manor was able to misdirect the search of the troops from Absalom. She advanced David's cause and provided the next generation with 2 great Bible teachers.
3. Doctrine is the environment for decisions.
4. Her decision to hide the couriers opened up many options for her. She had many more decisions which she could make. This opened up many options for the couriers. Her courage and action provided freedom and the option of decision for many thousands of people. Thousands would be saved and advance to maturity. This was because of one woman's decision, opening up options for the people of Israel.
- 5.
6. Courage is thinking. Fear is emotion. Under pressure, emotion must be subordinated to emotion. This is why you have football practice. Practice is always a part of humility and it guarantees success or greatness when with humility.
7. The lady of the manor subordinated emotion to thinking. She was a genuinely humbel person. For a moment, she operated under true humility and enforced humility simultaneously. This is why Bob teaches poise to those he coached.

Final Principle of the Night

1. A good decision multiplies future options. A bad decision reduces the options. This is true in business, warfare, the spiritual life, in a profession. This is true even in social life. Ahithophel and Absalom would run out of decisions. God got in every bit of punishment before Ahithophel hung himself.
2. Psychopathic arrogance is the final stage of Ahithophel's end. Suicide is arrogance; it is running out of decisions. In revolution people are still able to maintain their honor and integrity.

3 paragraphs in 18: death of Absalom, race to headquarters.

Bob is reading Omni Magazine, which he knows nothing about; and this is an article about Russian space program. Only a few times is their space program mentioned, and even these stories are riddled with errors. The Russians are moving aggressively into space. In many ways, this space program is enshrouded in mystery. Many are unmanned missions. All of the data is being encoded, so that Americans cannot interpret it. Prior to this, all space transmissions have not been coded. There is a large new runway under construction in Kasinstan. 87 space missions in 1979 and we did 16 during that same time. This was the first time Bob has seen any article which tells us anything about what is going on. The Russians are willing to sacrifice personnel, which we are not; and they are probably doing things which weapons that we are not even considering.

No one has ever bothered to analyze in depth this particular narrative. He began this increment around Christmas time of the previous year.

Outline of 2sam. 18

|----|-----------|---|
| 1. | Vv. 1–8   | Civil war campaign  |
| 2. | Vv. 9–18  | death of Absalom  |
| 3. | Vv. 19–33 | are devoted to a race on two people to a headquarters. Why? |

The Cushite will be about 500 yards behind and it is not designed to have racial overtones. No one has ever bothered to do anything with this passage. Bob has looked up the many great commentators on this and he is really disgusted with commentaries. Frankly, these people are pitiful. Some of these great commentators are trying to analyze the text, and even there, they have not done much. Bob cannot see anyone glossing over this. The book of numbers is the book of drafting an army. They ought to call it universal military training. They are not numbering the people; they are determining who are being inducted into the armed forces.

David has perhaps 30,000 men, but they are no longer identified with their old units. The thousands are divisions or brigades and the hundreds are battalions.

Beginning Principles

- |    |   |
|----|---|
| 1. | Authority must be defined and established in order for discipline to be enforced.. You get to maintain privacy in Berachah Church. You might resent hearing your problems, but then you realize that it is a matter of doctrine and you have privacy. Discipline puts you in the position of enforced humility. People who come into Berachah are confused at first and even angry. 1 and 2Timothy define authority in the local church. The pastor-teacher is the commanding officer. The various staff positions and administrative functions and commands. Ken Wise to the top authority in prep school. David, in this chapter, doesn't even go to war. Business today has one great weakness, and it is that authority is not clearly defined. Part of the problem is labor demanding to put in its oar to say how business is done. |
|----|---|

Marriage is problematic today in terms of well-defined authority. It is defined in the Bible, but not in society. A 50-50 marriage is laughable. The husband holds 100% of the authority stock in marriage. The key to the woman is, do you respect him? If you don't, things will get worse, and never better. Assume that you are oversexed and spend 3% of your time having sex. Marriage is not clearly defined in terms of authority. Then you bring these little children into it with no clear definition. It becomes business or a corporation in a state of confusion. Authority is the key to freedom. Our ability to use our freedom to subordinate ourselves to authority. Authority and Houston streets. And Koreans and Vietnamese and Iranians with new cars. True love is respect for authority. If you men are ever given the chance to choose between a woman's respect or her love, you choose her respect. When you are in a home, you have a host and/or a hostess. You respect their wishes. This authority is protocol and the observation of protocol is called good manners. Bob is amazed all those converted to Christianity and have never heard of Emily Post.

2. No army can be successful or survive its collective arrogance. Therefore, they need systems of authority.
3. *Discipline is enforced humility. If you are on the wrong side of discipline, enjoy it; humility is good for the soul. Bob used to love it that, when you came to a new college, you got hazed. When you lose hazing, you lose something. You need some time in humility. Some people have never logged a minute in humility. Being spoiled is not buying a lot of things for a child. Being spoiled is no enforced humility. The book of Numbers, or the book of Mobilization or the book of Universal military training, teaches the restraints of life. Christian schools put you under restraints, many of which are unfair, and you need that. Dallas Theological Seminary required short hair when Bob was there. However, now there is long hair and beards there. Missionaries, pastors and evangelists must learn self-restraint and self-discipline. They can respond to this in orientation to life. You cannot have orientation to life without truth humility. Arrogance is always disorientation to life, always. This is why the military is such a great teacher. Where there is tough discipline.
4. Enforced humility is necessary for teamwork in military function. Pro teams do not hold together sometimes because these people have never had military discipline. They need to be in beast barracks and take away their salaries and all of their privileges. When you get all of these people running to the polls, what do you expect to get in the White House?
5. Without authority and discipline, victory on the battlefield is the illusion of arrogance.. It is wonderful to notice how you can use your freedom for establishment.
6. Arrogance changes illusion into humiliation and defeat on the battlefield. They will be destroyed and humiliated. The whole tongues movement is psychosis, illusion
7. Knowledge is the environment for military thinking.
8. The senior officers and the staff must have superior knowledge and planning to make the right decisions.
9. No matter how great the thinking and the decisions, failure of execution means defeat on the battlefield. This happened in Vietnam.
10. Only humility in ranks can overcome failure of execution.

11. Authority must be defined in terms of rank and discipline. The result is enforced humility. This is true for the military, a business, a social organization.
12. Failure to obey orders neutralizes plans and great leadership. Strict discipline and enforced humility is necessary.

Whenever you do something, organize it first. Authority is one of the most basic aspects to life. Organization defines authority. Organization is necessary for victory in a military conflict. Arrogance is stronger than perfect environment; good environment; and stronger than the environment of the battlefield. When people start shooting at you, then will you execute orders and do your job? Arrogance is stronger than the environment of the battlefield. Arrogance is how Satan broke away from God. Satan said, "I will be like the Most High God." If you are arrogant, then you cannot have capacity for love or capacity for life. This is why childhood comes before marriage, for most people.

When it comes to song leading, there is no nonsense. He does not tell stories about old blind Fannie Crosby.

2Sam. 18:1 Then David reviewed [mobilized] his troops and appointed commanders of hundreds and of thousands over them.

2Samuel 18: (1) 2

72David

631_0463

Krakatoa was an island that blew up in 1883? It was a 6 mi. sq island and the stump of an old volcano. Between Sumatra and Java. 49 other volcanoes in this area. People could hear booming sounds like artillery. Dust and steam column went about 36,000 ft in the air. 20 inches of dust covered the Island and the jungle was leveled. The subterranean rumblings kept people awake all night. Water 60 degrees hotter. Dust vapor etc filled the region and it was pitch darkness in the middle of the night. Heard in Burma and even Perth, Australia (1900 ;miles away). Smallest title wave estimated at 50 ft high and some as high as 135 moving at 650 mph; these are called tsunamis. A huge Buddhist temple in the east and when the island blew up, a wave hit the 140 platform and took out the temple. A nearby island covered with lava. About a quarter of a million died in this thing. The straight near here was a great pirate area. Hudson Taylor sailed through here. There were going to be pirates and the captain did not like Hudson Taylor. Hudson said, "I won't pray." After a bunch of obscenities. Hudson told the captain he would pray when the captain believed. And a wind came and they raced the pirates through the straight.

We don't have the fascinating details of the battle. We have causes, situations, etc. which explain a great deal of what has happened. Victory on the battlefield for Absalom is arrogance and illusion.

A guy who came out of the service and shot up a bunch of things, and he should have been section 8-ed out of the military. It is the liberal assertion that military men cannot re-acclimate to civilian live.

Army of North Virginia broken down into 3 corps. Robert E. Lee was a genius on the battlefield and on organizational ability. He was the first man to think in terms of 2 corps. It worked well because he had Longstreet and Jackson as heads of each corps. A 2 corps army is almost unheard of as being successful. The 2 corps system requires more genius. Than anything else.

Abishai is good, but nothing like his brother. He is taking a lot of chances here, and using a 3 corps system indicates that David is unsure of one of his officers. He perhaps had 60,000 facing a quarter of a million, so to split into 3 corps indicates some doubts. A 3 corps army is designed to have one corps as a reserve corps.

Most of David's army is on the side of the revolution. Only a small number who made the right decision to follow David, are with him. There was no intermediate organization in between the battalions and divisions. 10 squads or 10 centuries is a Roman system, but David used this way back then.

Zeruiah is that marvelous sister of David. Joab will become the field commander over the entire army after a bit. Ittai the Gittite was head of police.

David announces to the army that he definitely plans to march out with them, as commander over all of them.

2Sam. 18:1 [Then David reviewed \[mobilized\] his troops and appointed commanders of hundreds and of thousands over them.](#)

2Sam. 18:2 [He then sent out the troops \[David then organized his soldiers as follows:\], one third under Joab \[the first corps under the command of Joab\], one third under Joab's brother Abishai son of Zeruiah, and one third under Ittai the Gittite. The king said to the troops, "I will also march out with you." \[And I myself will assume command over the entire army\]](#)

There will be a junior officer who will disobey Joab in order to obey David's order; which was wrong. There needs to be humility so that there can be objectivity and flexibility. What we have here is a secret to capacity for life and capacity for happiness and capacity for blessing. If you are not authority oriented, then you do not have capacity for love. Freedom is highly overrated unless you have self-discipline. Freedom never functions properly unless it is under self-restraint from the volition of your soul and under the restraint of principles of doctrine.

Satan was the highest angel in the perfect environment of heaven. Why did he sin? Arrogance is more powerful than the perfect environment of heaven. His fall is in Isa. 14 and Ezek. 28. Everyone has a dream or 2. If all of your dreams were fulfilled right now and you do not have the self-discipline and the poise to use your volition in relation to doctrine, means that giving you any of these things would simply be a ticket to misery. Why give you love without the capacity for love?

The Forsythe, a BBC show being shown in the middle of the night on public tv. Bob is telling all about it. Some is the real hero, and he turns out to be very kindhearted and wonderful; but he does not have a scintillating personality.

The Irish blew up Lord Monbatten, who is a far greater man than any of the Irish. They use their freedom to violently attack the British who give them freedom.

There has not been a responsible election since Herbert Hoover was elected. The only exception was Eisenhower. People do not know how to use their freedom in driving, in marriage or in anything. The solution is truth. Bible doctrine is the solution. The secret to life is not freedom but the proper use of freedom. You cannot use freedom properly. Tongues is a lie from start to finish. The holy roller who had to speak out, and most in Berachah had a sense of humor about it; with some compassion. She was under emotional revolt of the soul and thinking that she was close to God. Bound a few people, healed Reese and blessed a few as well on her way out. She had no authority. She was low on the totem pole. She only had the authority of arrogance. So people are using their freedom erroneously.

Thinking is the environment for decision. Knowledge of doctrine is the environment for thinking and thinking is the basis for knowledge.

Bob goes back to the Forsythe show; these are wealthy people who have no real restraints apart from self-restraint. Some kid who was a genius at Berachah who chose to use drugs. When you put restraint upon yourself, you have gone to higher principles. Be restraining yourself by not gossiping or not gloating, you are developing a capacity for life and happiness.

When you reject some point that Bob teaches because you don't like it, you are taking away from your happiness. When you reject authority here, you reject authority in business and in the home and your capacity for life and love are gone. The doctrine of the Hypostatic union does you no good if you reject the authority of the police officer, your parents, your teacher, etc. You need to be able to control your thoughts and emotions when you begin to resent someone in authority for this or that; like the geology teacher. And the people who envy the free spirit who trips through life. Joab puts 3 javelins through the heart of Absalom. He died miserably because he was dying the sin unto death. The sin unto death is not pleasant, even when it is short.

Obviously, people have no restraint. You can tell that by the way that people dress.

Some of us will be shocked in heaven to find out all that God has for us, that we did not enjoy because we rejected authority.

David organizes his men and defines authority. Learn to define authority before you use your freedom. There are other factors here.

The men whom David appointed had great leadership ability, insofar as David knew.

2Sam. 18:2 He then sent out the troops [David then organized his soldiers as follows:], one third under Joab [the first corps under the command of Joab], one third under Joab's brother Abishai son of Zeruiah, and one third under Ittai the Gittite. The king said to the troops, "I will also march out with you." [And I myself will assume command over the entire army]

Do not be jealous of evil men. Jealousy destroys respect for authority. And do not desire to be with them. They disorient you to life through rejection of authority. Their right lobe is obsessed with tyranny. By means of wisdom, a house is constructed; by means of the act of knowledge, the compartments will be filled with all wealth. A wise soldier lives in the power of Bible doctrine and a man of knowledge strengthens his professional ability. Through the art of leadership, you will...victory resides in the one in command.

2Samuel 18:(1–2), 3

Prov. 24:1–6 72David

631_0464

Arrogance destroys all capacities. It is the most destructive factor in life. It is more powerful than perfect environment or even good environment. It produces self-pity. They can become so preoccupied with self that they lose track of life.

Those in leadership have even greater responsibility. In business or in a profession, they must be in control of themselves and their thinking, but they are also responsible for those around them. David has to be able to think and to continue to make excellent decisions.

God the Holy Spirit gave us the organization of his army in vv. 1–2

2Sam. 18:1 Then David reviewed [mobilized] his troops and appointed commanders of hundreds and of thousands over them.

David defines authority in his army so that they can be successful.

We make decisions every day, and these decisions either limit our freedom or they extend our freedom. We must make our own decisions. If we constantly make decisions which limit future decisions; like those related to arrogance, emotional or iconoclastic, then we are destroying our capacity for life and for love and our lives will be one of great discipline.

Government is to protect free enterprise. Our government failure in this which will produce so many failures in the future.

Sexual arrogance which abuses the divine gift of sex into satiating lust. Political arrogance and client nation arrogance. Authority arrogance and the Satanic syndrome. The arrogance of ignorance and of unhappiness, which is a state of soul. Unhappiness is not what others do to you. When someone says I want to make you happy forever, it simply is not true.

Iconoclastic arrogance, where an image is created from your own volition and you become disillusioned with that idol. The arrogance of morality and the arrogance of emotion.

The first corps was under Joab, and 2nd under Abishai and the 3rd under Itai the Gittite. David then says, I will personally lead all of you.

2Sam. 18:2 He then sent out the troops [David then organized his soldiers as follows:], one third under Joab [the first corps under the command of Joab], one third under Joab's brother Abishai son of Zeruiah, and one third under Ittai the Gittite. The king said to the troops, "I will also march out with you." [And I myself will assume command over the entire army]

Faith rest drill reviewed. Arrogance destroys any success or any achievement in life.

David is going to face a force which dramatically outnumbers it.

Prov. 24:1 is a desire to be with arrogant men. Achievement often brings on arrogance.

Prov. 24:1 Do not envy evil people, do not desire [to crave, to desire] to be with them;

Prov. 24:2 for their hearts contemplate violence, and their lips speak harm.<sup>3</sup>

The avoidance of evil is stated in v. 3.

Prov. 24:3 By<sup>4</sup> wisdom a house is built,<sup>5</sup> and through understanding it is established;

Prov. 24:4 by knowledge its rooms are filled with all kinds of precious and pleasing treasures.

The second line is using your own volition in order to have control of yourself.

The intellect here is important, as knowledge is the environment of thinking.

Jesus Christ and the centurion. This man understood authority. Therefore, he understood that Jesus was able to execute such power.

The supergrace believer in the military has a greater shot at being successful in battle, because he can develop the ability to think and operate under great pressure, like a battle.

Though an army surrounds me, I will not be afraid.

When a man marries a woman, he takes responsibility for her and for their children. In fact, his responsibility increases as he sires children. He must also now think in terms of leadership. You cannot be responsible for others if you harbor arrogance in your soul.

Your personal and business life demands self-discipline and you cannot harbor mental attitude sins and still succeed in life. Strong character + a strong sense of responsibility is important. Objectivity is the humility of life and subjectivity is the arrogance of life.

Prov. 24:5 A wise soldier is strong [lives in the power of Bible doctrine], and a man of knowledge makes his strength stronger;

Prov. 24:6 for with guidance you wage your war, and with numerous advisers there is victory.<sup>8</sup>

David informs his troops that he is going to march out with them. A military magazine covering leadership.

2 write an article about leadership and turning away from management. There is no doubt that we have leaders who are equal to those at any other time in history. The problem is not so much the quality of leadership, but the environment within which this leadership must be exercised. Our government has done the same thing to big business. Once you destroy big business, you destroy the economy of a nation.

Bureaucracy has always been a great evil. It has a tendency to destroy our ability to think under pressure. It is vital to locate those environmental assists.

There must be a code of appropriate values for every situation. You must have a scale of values for prosperity and one for adversity.

Interlocking systems of arrogance producing national degeneracy, which is clear from our attitude toward the police. That is the deparation of the scale of values.

The authors say a formal code of ethics must be developed; otherwise, the commanders who rise up will be fit for the board room but not for the battlefield.

2Sam. 18:2 He then sent out the troops [David then organized his soldiers as follows:], one third under Joab [the first corps under the command of Joab], one third under Joab's brother Abishai son of Zeruiah, and one third under Ittai the Gittite. The king said to the troops, "I will also march out with you." [And I myself will assume command over the entire army]

David will fail completely in the middle of this chapter. He is not qualified to field command an army.

The army is adamant about this. "You will not march out with us." They will give one set of reasons; God will have another set of reasons. Effective military operations requires good staff work.

Christianity takes all kinds of people; leaders and followers; those who think for a living and those who do not. Christianity brings them all together and gives them a system of thought. In times of national tragedy, regardless of your status in life, you can rise up to the occasion and think.

The secret to love is not sex; the secret to love is thought. Anyone who is bored is unhappy. What really counts is what is in your soul. You need to have something in your soul to control these things.

2Sam. 18:3 "You must not go!" the people [= the army] pleaded. "If we have to flee, they will not pay any attention to us. Even if half of us die, they will not pay any attention to us because you are worth 10,000 of us. Therefore, it is better if you support us from the city."

2Samuel 18:(1–2), 3

72David

631_0465

There was someone who died in the parking lot recently. Friday night and this is possibly Sunday? Even the crowd was helpful. No morbid curiosity seekers. Some from the hotel of the Galleria came over. Missy is the girl's name. The best of this ministry is how people handle themselves in a crisis. There was no panic and no hysteria.

We are dealing with a civil war; the revolutionary army of Absalom and the establishment army of David.

2Sam. 18:1–2 Then David reviewed [mobilized] his troops and appointed commanders of hundreds and of thousands over them. He then sent out the troops [David then organized his soldiers as follows:], one third under Joab [the first corps under the command of Joab], one third under Joab's brother Abishai son of Zeruiah, and one third under Ittai the Gittite. The king said to the troops, "I will also march out with you." [And I myself will assume command over the entire army]

There is a large army here, but these people have not trained together, and they are a mixture of army and civilian.

2Sam. 18:3 "You must not go!" the people [= the army] pleaded. "If we have to flee [If we are forced to retreat], they [David's officers] will not pay any attention to us [they will not take us to heart; they will not concentrate on our situation]. Even if half of us die, they will not pay any attention to us because you are worth 10,000 of us. Therefore, it is better if you support us from the city."

Points on V. 3

1. There is no stable situation. The people are concerned about the officers and whether they will actually look after them in a difficult situation.
- 2.
3. This is an army suddenly thrown together. These men have never been gathered as one unit. This is a scratch army. When people become suspicious of those over them, then interlocking systems of arrogance is right around the corner. The army is thinking of retreating and they have not even advanced as of yet. They are thinking about themselves; they are not thinking about David so much. You cannot think about yourself when it comes to a group situation. Arrogance destroys the talent of a team. This happens in sports of all kinds. Above all, it happens spiritually. When you begin to think about yourself, you have put one foot in the door for interlocking systems of arrogance. It happens in drama; they miss cues, lose their momentum. It happens in the symphony, and it destroys the synchronization and interpretation of a piece.

Knowledge is the environment for thinking. Courage is the environment for correct decisions on the battlefield. Whether advancing or retreating, courage is the correct environment for decisions. Courage is the correct environment to apply knowledge. The army knows that David has courage.

Some people look at the scrubs and all of the upper clansmen are leaving, and they look and think that the new team is going to suck. Bob's team looked down on their scrubs and they became the state champions. The kid who took Bob's place looked like nothing and this kid surpassed Bob's record and every other record. We are often shocked by the generation coming up.

Joab is more qualified even than David, spiritually and professionally. Asmaveth will do well and his 2 sons will be generals. People assume that when they leave this or that organization, that the kids coming up will not do nearly as good of a job. There are some in prep school who may become our greatest soldiers, businessmen, engineers and pastors of the next generation.

They assume that they will be so poorly led by their leaders, that half of them will die. "Even if half of us die..." The men in ranks know David as a commander, but they are quite unclear about the new officers over them. They want David to be there to save the remnants, if their officers fail (which they expect to be the case).

The Inexperience of David's New Army

1. This general statement does not imply that the officers of David's army are incompetent. Training is the most important peacetime function for an army. This is so men go into combat having confidence in their officers. These men have no confidence in their officers and these men are wrong. These new officers are going to be exceptional. Their officers will discipline them so that they will have enforced humility.
2. The newly formed battalions, brigades, companies, etc. have not been trained. This is an army without confidence. Napoleon was sent off to a rag tag army in northern Italy with the idea of getting rid of him. David here is saying, "I will lead you men;" and they say, no thanks.
3. These men have not been in battles, campaign or training. They had the best officers in that day. Out of this will come an esprit de corps unparalleled.
4. What the officers lacked in experience they made up for it in leadership qualities, and flexibility, objectivity, etc. Combat experience is meaningless in leadership. It is honor, leadership, flexibility, etc. that makes the difference. People Friday night were under unfamiliar pressures and they did fine with it. The United States no longer has officers with experience as officers in Vietnam. They are now field grade or above, and this has caused a great deal of concern. There ought to be no concern at all with this. Honor, integrity, flexibility are the things which we need in leadership; it is not a lack of combat experience. Lack of thought in the soul will destroy us. The greatest officer in WWII had no combat experience at all. He was professional and he could think. Dwight David Eisenhower. He was ridiculed by British and American officers. However, this was George Marshall's greatest decision putting Ike in charge, and Ike took a lot of lousy men out of there. His humility and genius in the field turned the tide, time after time after time. It is not combat experience; it is what goes on in the mind. Experience can make you an inferior employee; you learn how to loaf, how to hang back, how to look busy when you are not. Those who have what it takes, give them some experience and they become great. In prep school, they do everything they can to make the kids comfortable. It has been wonderful to have a system where the teacher and student are emphasized. It is wonderful that we will have young people brought up in the church with doctrine at a very young age. Bob anticipates that our children will become great. What the officer corps lacked in experience it made up for in honor, integrity, and flexibility.

5. Those officers who joined the revolution will fail. They had great talent and combat experience, but that will not help them because they joined the revolution from the motivation of arrogance. They will fail and die on the battlefield. '
6. Those who defected from their oaths and joined the Jewish army destroyed their potential.
7. The fears expressed by the rank and file army are understandable; but their concern is misguided and it does not apply. The officers of the revolutionary army will fail.
8. Many officers deserted David and defected to the revolution because of interlocking systems of arrogance. They will make wrong decisions under pressure. They have the preponderance of experience, but they will fail completely.

They tell David that he is worth 10,000 of them. "It is better that you support us with reserves from the city." They are telling David how to run this war. They want a reserve force set aside from the city.

2Sam. 18:3 "You must not go!" the people [= the army] pleaded. "If we have to flee [If we are forced to retreat], they [David's officers] will not pay any attention to us [they will not take us to heart; they will not concentrate on our situation]. Even if half of us die, they will not pay any attention to us because you are worth 10,000 of us. Therefore, it is better if you support us from the city."

The Request of David's Men

1. It was the desire of the army that David remain at the hq at Mahanaim with a reserve army.
2. To the army, David is their ace in the hole; he is their security. To their thinking, the principle is obvious; the men in the ranks will equip themselves honorably. It is not for the men in the ranks to think, but to obey. There will be a time for thinking if the officers are lot. It is not their responsibility to plan. It takes teamwork. Someone has to fight and someone has to think. God uses the wrath of man to praise Him. December of 2044? Everyone in the army seems to understand the basic principle of having a reserve and he have abandoned this as a principle. We are so extensively outnumbered. Bob began under the old system, American ingenuity has decided that there are no reserves. Bad idea. That David is worth 10,000 of them is accurate. The soldiers recognize that someone needs to do the thinking and not to become involved in the fight.

Joab will be the field commander.

Napoleon lost the battle of Waterloo way in advance. The brains of an army must be isolated at some nearby headquarters. There must be thinking, planning and deciding in warfare.

David made good appointments. He organized the army. The men are concerned with what is going on above them.

2Sam. 18:1–3 Then David reviewed [mobilized] his troops and appointed commanders of hundreds and of thousands over them. He then sent out the troops [David then organized his soldiers as follows:], one third under Joab [the first corps under the command of Joab], one third under Joab's brother Abishai son of Zeruiah, and one third under Ittai the Gittite. The king said to the troops, "I will also march out with you." [And I myself will assume command over the entire army] "You must not go!" the people [= the army] pleaded. "If we have to flee [If we are forced to retreat], they [David's officers] will not pay any attention to us [they will not take us to heart; they will not concentrate on our situation]. Even if half of us die, they will not pay any attention to us because you are worth 10,000 of us. Therefore, it is better if you support us from the city."

2Samuel 18:(1–3), 4

72David

631_0466

2Sam. 18:1–3 Then David reviewed [mobilized, mustered] his troops and appointed commanders of hundreds and of thousands over them. He then sent out the troops [David then organized his soldiers as follows:], one third under Joab [the first corps under the command of Joab], one third under Joab's brother Abishai son of Zeruiah, and one third under Ittai the Gittite. The king said to the troops, "I will also march out with you." [And I myself will assume command over the entire army] "You must not go!" the people [= the army] pleaded. "If we have to flee [If we are forced to retreat], they [David's officers] will not pay any attention to us [they will not take us to heart; they will not concentrate (or take cognizance) on our situation]. Even if half of us die, they will not pay any attention to us because you are worth 10,000 of us. Therefore, it is better if you support us from the city [as a reserve force]."

David agrees to this. He acquiesces to remain behind in his headquarters. He is beginning to feel his inadequacy as he has possibly already entered into interlocking systems of arrogance. Agreeing to this is certainly not the David of old.

David will not recover from interlocking systems of arrogance until he is braced by Joab. This is his last decision of humility. From hereon, he will change.

David's Last Humble Decision

1. Humility produces the objectivity and flexibility to see that the army's request is reasonable.
2. Humility can recognize a good idea and spot wisdom from any source. This is why any leader or executive needs humility. So there is an important characteristic of leadership: the humility to recognize wisdom.
3. Humility is the basis for the application of knowledge.
4. David did not pull rank or behave like a stubborn marionette. He will be more valuable at headquarters than in the field.
5. Little does David realize how important this decision will be for Israel. Without this decision, Israel's army could have been defeated.
6. The decision to remain at headquarters in Mahanaim will give him more options in the future and allow him to make great post-war decisions which will allow for great prosperity.
7. Problems will arise out of the civil war and they demand great wisdom. David will have to make the most important decisions of his life in this postwar era.
8. The wisdom of David will bring a new prosperity to Israel. This will be the golden age of Jewish history.

The Pattern of Good Decisions

1. Establishment, gospel and Bible doctrine are the categories of knowledge.
2. You can only have thoughts which you personally understand.
3. You can reduce your thinking by reducing your ability to think and your vocabulary. You must be willing to accept another's authority and allow them a hearing. If you let pettiness short-circuit your thinking, then it is over. People do not understand love today. Most people relate love to 3 or 4 4-letter words, and therefore, pornography exists. If love is just sex to you, then you are all washed up. This is why the tremendous surge in the direction of drugs. Sex is not designed for a lot of people. It is to be confined to one and only as an expression of love. Not simply for self-gratification. Inability to think or apply has led us to some very serious social problems. These social problems are not the cause but merely the symptoms. This is why prep school is so important, so that these kids are exposed to truth on a daily basis, to counteracts all that they get in a public and private education.
4. From understanding comes doctrine, which is the environment for decisions.
5. If decisions are based on an application of doctrine and reverse concentration, you continue to possess the freedom to make other and greater decisions. The administration of punishment is the result of divine laws where you bring the consequences upon yourself.
6. Good decisions cannot be made inside of interlocking systems of arrogance.
7. Arrogance neutralizes genius, talent and great wisdom. Absalom was once a man of great wisdom; a mature believer. Ahithophel had great wisdom, like the oracles of God. Ahithophel will run out of decisions and that same will be true of Absalom in this chapter. Arrogance neutralizes the genius, talent, etc. of any individual.

8. Good decisions are made in humility accompanied by thoughtfulness to others. When you become spiritually self-sustaining, you take the responsibility for your decisions.
9. David personally wanted to lead his troops into battle in the revolution, but he personally constrains himself. In this restraint, we see enforced humility from his own self-discipline.
10. From humility and self-discipline, he allowed the army to overrule his personal desires. The standards of Bible doctrine and the filling of the Holy Spirit always produce an enforced humility. Arrogance creates unreality which is parlayed into hallucination. Humility faces reality and makes good decisions.

Therefore, David says, "I will do whatever you think is best."

You may ask, why can a person be so great one moment and such a loser the next? There are many reasons. We are most vulnerable to defeat after a great victory. Interlocking systems of arrogance are just around the corner. The majority of our temptations in life are related to these gates.

David, in an hour, will go from greatness to failure. This is why there are no details about the civil war and what transpires on the battlefield.

Morality arrogance is preoccupation with false standards of morality to the exclusion of true morality. It is amazing how morality can be such a great thing or how it can be such a trap. Morality was a trap to the Jews, as they distorted it into a system of self-righteousness. This is the superimposition of a false system of morality over a true system of morality. The believer and unbeliever both function in this category of arrogance. The unbeliever in pride substitutes a false standard of morality over a true. This is the federal government trying to intrude and enforce various types of social problem solving laws. Or this is the conscientious objector who superimposes his morality over true morality. A true or a false morality over the filling of the Holy Spirit.

There has never been a percentage attached to spiritual giving. A government is moral when it has 2 systems of 10% and it does not make a bad word out of profit, as long as it is legitimate profit. The unbeliever may have his problems in relation to the draft. Tithing is not a spiritual issue to the believer. It is an inculcated system of morality. For many churches, they feel very strongly about the matter of tithing. Otherwise, they will have to close their doors. If there are no funds to Berachah, then God will shut them down. Bob will just close the doors and it is all over. God has always provided for their needs. They are on a manna basis, never too much and never too little. Bob would rather starve than ask for money; to be a medicate (?).

Morality Arrogance

1. When a system of morality is created by self-righteousness and substituted for or superimposed upon establishment morality the result is arrogance morality.

2. Morality is not the means to establishment function, but the result of establishment function. It is paying one's taxes. Respect for the property of others and the respect for our mutual and common rights.
3. Crusader arrogance rejects the morality of establishment freedom.
4. Mental arrogance disregards the rights of others. The Ten Commandments does not forbid a sin; the subject is freedom and the morality of freedom.
5. Criminal arrogance rejects property rights.
6. Psychopathic arrogance is totally divorced from reality and from establishment morality.
7. Negative volition arrogance, institutional, crusader, all use self-centeredness as the norm rather than true morality.
8. When the believer substitutes morality for true morality, he loses capacity for life. Establishment authority and are systems of enforced humility.

We will see the revolutionary army defeated in battle. Then we will see a very strange statement, mistranslated in the KJV. They will flee to their own homes. This retreat to home is a fascinating thing. The home to which we are born. Human life is imputed to the soul and life will always be in the soul. Adam's original sin is also imputed to the genetically formed old sin nature. Our own personal sins are imputed to Jesus Christ on the cross. Human life cannot be separated from the soul. There is not sin or evil that we can perform to lose our salvation. When we are physically born into this world, the system begins with authority in terms of the laws of divine establishment. Parents are the first type of freedom. They use their free will to reject the authority of their parents. This is where they get off-base and how they destroy their lives. You can have a genius IQ and learn nothing. This enforced humility provided by the parents. All the other kids are doing it so why can't I go to such and such a place. The parents are teaching you how to control your own life. This will give you restraint in life.

Government is responsible in enforcing freedom. If you have freedom without authority, then you have anarchy; and authority without freedom is tyranny. When a parent teaches manners, he is teaching his child how to get along in society. Good manners includes thoughtfulness for others and disregarding your own personal feelings. Bob encountered many unbelievers in Beverly Hills because they had good manners and enforced humility. They were the products of environmental discipline.

Salvation is being born again. Eternal life is imputed to the human spirit. We have to be as good as God is, so He imputes His divine righteousness. The grace pipeline is thereby established. God cannot bless the old sin nature. Blessing should be related to capacity. Why give you your rm or rw if you are not ready for them? When capacity is there, God gives you the blessing.

There is an authority factor. When eternal life is imputed to the human spirit and divine righteousness is imputed, there must be an increased capacity from Bible doctrine in the soul. As we learn doctrine, the minus becomes a plus. But someone has to teach doctrine, so God provided the gift of pastor-teacher. Doctrine is the absolute authority. It is communicated to believers without doctrine and the authority of the pastor has to be accepted.

The pastor is not to tell anyone how to run their lives. His real job is to communicate doctrine. So you have to come and listen to things with which you disagree and to things you do not like or things you will say, "What good is that?" Bob got calls at all hours of the night asking, "What was that doctrine you taught?" because now they can use it.

A pastor must be mealy mouthed or humble. Everyone is a casting director. They expect that no matter how obnoxious they are and how unattractive they are, the pastor has to meet their standards of attractiveness, attentiveness and empathy. But God has given almost every conceivable type of personality to the church as pastor-teachers.

First there is self-discipline. You accept the authority of a pastor even if you hate his personality or you are offended by what he says. Sometimes you take something personally, even though it was just right there in the passage. This takes objectivity or humility instead of "That jackass doesn't know anything." If you cannot deal with the pastor, then move on, but "...you need to find out someone else who is teaching doctrine. And they never raise their voice and never chew out anyone publically, that is fine, and I say, God bless you."

Your spiritual parent is the one who teaches you doctrine. That is the system of authority. Some are unable to overcome this hurdle. Interlocking systems of arrogance. They will accept no authority. They are anti authority. Arrogance is so subtle. People have assumed on the basis of their own eclectic standards. You might take a few standards that you like and they fit your personality. Then you rate yourself as 100% and you are better than those who go to Berachah.

The place of strength is authority. Children who love their parents as adults because they followed their authority.

The revolutionaries will run back home and take off their bands and pretend that they were never a part of the revolutionary army.

Anything the unbeliever can accomplish is not the Christian way of life. The Christian way of life requires supernatural way of life. Christianity is not a morality but a relationship with God through Jesus Christ. Behold, new things have come along. That does not mean that you quit drinking. Bob has been a member of many Baptist churches, and these various things which have been given up are seen as the new things. Morality cannot provide salvation. Salvation by joining a church; salvation by baptism; salvation by raising your hand and walking down an aisle. All of these are salvation by works.

Some may compare their morality with a Christian and they say, I am better than the Christian; therefore, I am going to heaven as well.

What is the purpose of morality? Morality protects human freedom. Morality is not a substitute for salvation nor is it a substitute for spirituality. The interlocking systems of arrogance takes a good thing, morality, and distorts it into a system of self-righteousness.

Humility in life is the key to true morality. Almost everything by way of truth Morality demands that believers be patriotic. True morality requires some form of humility; genuine or enforced. Teaching doctrine in the church are forms of enforced humility. Bob faced this as an unbeliever when he first encountered geometry. His first day in class was a bust because he was an arrogant fool. He resisted the subject because he did not like the teacher. Bob threw an eraser filled with chalk dust at the pulling guard. Principal called in the coach who was going to bar him from football. He returned to class on the 3rd day under the concept of enforced humility.

By 3 weeks, Bob was hooked on geometry, even though they had not made a decision on his football. Bob later became fascinated by logic and math after that. The geometry teacher was an outstanding teacher. Humility opened up a whole new area for him. Bob is thankful to this day for enforced humility, which opened up this new arena of thought. David will suddenly go right inside interlocking systems of arrogance. He will pick up a false system of morality.

2Sam. 18:4 "I will do whatever you think is best," the king replied to them. So he stood beside the gate while all the troops marched out by hundreds and thousands.

631_0467

A reading of the first few verses.

2Sam. 18:1–3 Then David reviewed [mobilized, mustered] his troops and appointed commanders of hundreds and of thousands over them. He then sent out the troops [David then organized his soldiers as follows:], one third under Joab [the first corps under the command of Joab], one third under Joab's brother Abishai son of Zeruiah, and one third under Ittai the Gittite. The king said to the troops, "Even I myself will also march out with you." [And I myself will assume command over the entire army] "You must not go!" the people [= the army] pleaded. "If we have to flee [If we are forced to retreat], they [David's officers] will not pay any attention to us [they will not take us to heart; they will not concentrate (or take cognizance) on our situation]. Even if half of us die, they will not pay any attention to us because you are worth 10,000 of us. Therefore, it is better if you support us from the city [as a reserve force]."

Humility is the environment for making good decisions. Good decisions expand our options; bad decisions destroy our future options. Knowledge is the environment for thinking. Truth in all 3 categories. Arrogance will neutralize any wisdom that we have acquired in life.

David personally wanted to lead Israel in the field. Absalom was given a traitor's grave, and there would be a pile of rocks placed upon him. Any organization is made up of people and every person has an old sin nature.

Bob is back talking about the Forsythe Saga from Public television. Solmes becomes the hero of the family. Arrogance creates unreality and converts it into hallucination.

David's last general order in v. 5? He asks for the army to deal kindly with Absalom, which begins arrogance again in the life of David.

Negative Emotion

1. Negative emotion replaces the truth of doctrine and any form of establishment thinking. Good emotions are the result of being subordinate to thought. All bad emotions
2. Any emotion that blots out thought is negative arrogance.
3. Thinking is suppressed by emotion so that emotion dominates the soul. Negative emotion is emotion which dominates the soul.
4. When emotions dominate the soul and exclude any form of thinking, the individual is divorced from reality and generally involved with the arrogance complex.
5. Fear and cowardice is a negative emotion which dominates the soul. It will not be David's failure in this chapter, but Absalom's in previous.
6. Courage is thinking under pressure.
7. When the believer is entangled in interlocking systems of arrogance, believer is vulnerable to flattery, fear, irresponsibility, sociopathic behavior.
8. Humility is that state of soul where the individual is related to reality through thinking.
9. The 2nd stage of the faith rest drill, which reverse concentration, the believer uses the various rationales. In each case, the believer is oriented to reality, whether it is his own sinfulness or the greatness of God.
10. The tongues movement is arrogance, where negative emotion dominates the soul.

Emotional arrogance is always vulnerable to flattery. A pattern of arrogance; the narcissus complex. They are vulnerable to cowardice so that individual cannot think under pressure. There is neurosis where all neurotics are previously involved arrogance of the soul. The cure for arrogance is discipline, which we will see in the middle of our passage. To accept the authority of the pastor-teacher, he must be teaching Bible doctrine. Because all pastors and all locales are not teaching doctrine, there are some who found the tape recorder to be an excellent substitute. If a pastor assumes that only face to face is legitimate, then why are they making tapes? Hope you are still with me; you might have to get this on tape.

Arrogant preoccupation with self. The details of life are the means of living, but not the motivation or the capacity for living. We cannot make the details of life our capacity for living. If you live to eat, or you have to have that cool car. If you use arrogance to eliminate capacity for life. You will destroy your capacity for love and happiness.

Love is a condition of the soul. If emotion dominates your soul, you will have Channel 2 provides us with the example of psychedelic music. Someone must like it, although Bob does know anyone who likes it. Emotion has no vocabulary. Bob listens careful for a message, but he does not get a message.

The greater the retreat, the closer you come to psychoses. Even those on tapes end up on psycho wards. Even some from Berachah who go into the armed forces is section 8-ed.

You cannot be arrogant and be a good lover. You cannot be arrogant and have capacity for anything—love, life, happiness. With your arrogance, you create unhappiness with your own free will.

All revolution is arrogance. Revolution could not exist without crusader arrogance. Negative emotional arrogance always rejects authority in life. Counseling is a bust. Counseling is only good when there is objectivity. Emotional arrogance results with people believing the ridiculous.

2Sam. 18:4 "I will do whatever you think is best," the king replied to them. So he stood beside the gate while all the troops marched out by hundreds and thousands [by battalions and by divisions].

The king's decision gives the field command of David's army to Joab, the most qualified man in all the world. Joab will also be the commander of the first corps. He will make 2 personnel mistakes. He permits a strong runner the Cushite to take the news instead of letting a man of great wisdom take the news. He also chews out a noncom when he did not need to. There is no racial overtones to this at all. Half of the chapter is devoted to the race between them. However, it is what they thought is the key. Ahimaaz, the one who won the race, will illustrate every element of grace. He will do his job in a state of humility. At first, Joab refused to let Ahimaaz follow the Cushite. He will be forced to change his mind. Joab makes 2 mistakes in this chapter, but this does not detract from his greatness. All great men make mistakes.

There is not a greater field commander in the world. The battle will be won and won efficiently with a small force. At this time, Joab is more qualified than David to leave the army in the field. There is the opportunity of eyes right. When they did their eyes right, they were looking at one of the greatest military commanders in history. He is one of the greatest believers who ever lived.

We are forced to analyze the sins and failures of David. We are not being critical of David like a little dog nipping at the heels of a stranger. Bob loves dogs, but he never appreciates dogs with bad manners. He does not appreciate people who are insignificant who could not think there way out of a paper bag, barking and snarling at the heels of a great man.

David is 60 and he will step into arrogance very shortly. Bob is reminded of Eisenhower on 7 May 1945 when he sends Beetle Smith to accept the surrender. Ike sent him because he worked so hard and made so many good decisions, that he deserved to take the surrender. Bob did not think much of Ike because he was stupid.

2Sam. 18:4 "I will do whatever you think is best," the king replied to them. So he stood beside the gate while all the troops marched out by hundreds and thousands [by battalions and by divisions].

This brings us to officer's call, with is v. 5. Once the army passed in review at the main gate, they are in column. They are going to go from column to line. We will get the gist of the order, what God the Holy Spirit wants us to know.

David asks that Absalom be treated gently. It is idiomatic. Deal with the young man Absalom gently for my sake. This begins the general order. All the people heard the king's orders.

This reveals a very intense love for Absalom. In spite of all that Absalom had done, David is still very tender with Absalom. David had no right to issue such an order. Absalom had been rescinded into the custody of Absalom. David instantly entered into interlocking systems of arrogance. He is selfish, weak, guilty of impulsive arrogance, blind arrogance and emotional arrogance. He is abusing his authority. He has no right to give such an order to his army. He is superimposing his own personal standards over those of his staff to the extent that he may be jeopardizing their mission. He has no right to make this personal dealing to be the standard operating procedure. From this point on, every function of David will be in emotional arrogance. This is a blackout of his responsibility to his people. He has no right to put his son over the military. His standards are wiped out immediately. Yet he is a mature believer. This is what arrogance will do to anyone at any time.

2Sam. 18:5 The king commanded Joab, Abishai, and Ittai, "Treat the young man Absalom gently for my sake." All the people heard the king's orders to all the commanders about Absalom.

Joab gives a remarkable speech, as good as the Woman from Tekoa. Joab braces David like few others. This is a lucid rebuke from Joab. 2Sam. 19:8 David will recover from his arrogance fall.

2Sam. 19:4–7 The king covered his face, and the king cried with a loud voice, "O my son Absalom, O Absalom, my son, my son!" Then Joab came into the house to the king and said, "You have today covered with shame the faces of all your servants [you have humiliated all of your troops], who have this day saved your life and the lives of your sons and your daughters and the lives of your wives and your concubines, because you love those who hate you and hate those who love you. For you have made it clear today that commanders and servants are nothing to you, for today I know that if Absalom were alive and all of us were dead today, then you would be pleased. Now therefore arise, go out and speak kindly to your servants, for I swear by the LORD, if you do not go, not a man will stay with you this night [all of the army will desert you by sundown], and this will be worse for you than all the evil that has come upon you from your youth until now."

So David reenters into interlocking systems of arrogance. A full chapter until he recovers. David will be useless until this time. Being locked up at HQ was the best thing for him. He would have been defeated because he was in arrogance. He is not the hero of the revolution at this point. Many heroes and many heroines; but David is still being disciplined. It is almost a divine sense of humor here. He is being discipline for interlocking systems of arrogance and he is right back into it again.

There is something to this. That is, David needs all of this discipline in order to get him straight. Other heroes include civilians and military. The 2 high priests, their sons the couriers, the young servant girl, the lady of the manor, the Ammonite prince Shobai, the wealthy businessmen, Abishai, Ittai and the entire army. His ability was neutralized completely. He cannot even comfort his family. He is through; he is wiped out. He was not just crying; he was insane.

If any of you attain greatness, just remember David. No matter how great you are, you have no greatness in the eyes of God, without humility. Jesus Christ controls history. During the entire civil war, David is, in effect, locked up in the closet until it is all over.

2 great principles to be covered tomorrow night.

2Sam. 18:5 The king commanded Joab, Abishai, and Ittai, "Treat the young man Absalom gently for my sake." All the people heard the king's orders to all the commanders about Absalom.

There was booing of the American flag at the Great Lakes Naval Station. There are those with no concept of America's institutions and freedoms. Officers, instead of disciplining these people, has become intimidated. So no one can go out at night on the base and the MP's do not patrol outside of their perimeter. An officer was attacked by a gang of recruits. This has become quite critical. Opinions are divided as to who is responsible. The commanding officer might need to be relieved of duties; others are sympathetic to him. Those who are booing the national anthem happen to live in conditions which are superior than some of the greatest periods of time in history. They live better than kings and principles in other great countries in the past. They do not recognize our spiritual heritage and the application through the laws of divine establishment. We are headed for very tragic times.

No politicking is allowed on premises; we do not have opinions as to current elections. We reject all attempts of the church to get involved in politics like the National Council of Churches, which even supports violence. The local church is to guide you to become spiritually self-sustaining.

A dam burst in Johnstown, Pennsylvania. Bob is talking about damming this up by some millionaires who wanted a fishing place. This site was purchased and sold to a country club. There was a very poor dam constructed, apparently. One man saddled a horse and warned one community. He also wired ahead. Some just moved up to their second floors. They just did not think. Must be from awhile ago, as the telegraph is mentioned several times. Wall of water 120 ft high going 50 mph. One city was evacuated. When one city was destroyed, tons of driftwood became a part of the water movement.

One man saved his entire family, by having them stand next to the correct window upstairs, so that when the water trashed his home, they could crawl out of the window and float. Examples of others who were thinking and saved many lives.

This is a reminder to being able to think under pressure and that God has a plan for the believer under personal and national disaster. National disaster does not change God's plan for the believer. Every believer must have 2 scales of value, one for normal times and one for abnormal times (adversity).

In times of prosperity, the believer receives many blessings from the justice of God. However, once disaster occurs, the believer must change instantly to deal with disaster. Many had to leave behind material things. They had capacity for life and were able to move out without looking back. They need the flexibility of humility in order to move out without taking everything with them. Philip. 4:11–17 Paul has learned to be happy under whatever circumstances in which he finds himself.

We are dealing with revolution and civil war. Revolution is crusader arrogance + criminal arrogance. The crusader arrogance provides the motive or justification; criminal arrogance provides the leadership. Great power in public opinion. If the revolution is persuasive. Stalin and Lenin eventually took over the revolution as leaders; they are the criminals.

Prov. 17:11 a rebellious man seeks only evil. They shoot without concealment. Evil is related to the interlocking systems of arrogance. We have also noticed how the Bible condemns revolution. Revolution is anti-authority. The people fall into 3 categories: the hardcore conspiracy, the general public and the incorruptibles. The latter group will not succumb to any sort of propaganda. The success of a revolution depends upon the general public being under strong delusion.

When revolution starts a civil war, there are two opposing forces in the war. The establishment is one. When politics starts a civil war, the issue is always freedom.

The final general order puts David back into interlocking systems of arrogance.

David Goes Astray

1. Up until this point, David has many excellent decisions. He has functioned under the 2nd stage of the faith rest drill.
2. The revolution had won the first round. The momentum required David to reply with great moral courage. He abandoned everything that he had in years of great prosperity.
3. Subsequent decisions were excellent like his ignoring of Shinai, his decision to cross the Jordan, his decision to set up a spy organization,
4. His emotional involvement with Absalom caused him to make a bad decision regarding Absalom. His last general order was arrogant and evil. Joab had enough moral courage to ignore this order.

2Sam. 18:5 The king commanded Joab, Abishai, and Ittai, "Treat the young man Absalom gently for my sake." All the people heard the king's orders to all the commanders about Absalom.

David's Bad Decision

1. Absalom is the acknowledged leader of the revolution. It is just and righteous for him to be executed for the revolution and crimes committed before.
2. To spare Absalom in effect condones revolution and evil. The establishment of God rationale prohibits any condoning of revolution. So emotion floods his soul and he issues a command which is as arrogant as it is wrong.
  - a. We do not follow the example of someone else. That is for boy scouts, but not for serious Christians. All great believers experienced phenomenal failure.
  - b. Stick with the principles of do which are in your own soul. The reason that God the Holy Spirit has seen fit to record David's failures is so that we as believers will not fall into these traps. David has gone before us to keep us out of these traps. When David fails, we do not emulate his failures. We use people as lessons. The whole purpose of the Christian life is to follow the Lord, not people. We follow doctrine. Since we have a sin nature, we get to see the failures of other great believers who preceded us.
3. Honor and integrity demands the death of Absalom. When David gives this bad order, he goes back into interlocking systems of arrogance.
4. As long as Absalom lives, there will be conspiracy and revolution brewing among the malcontents.
5. The authority of establishment government is the enforced humility. Bob hopes that the money he gives to government in taxes goes to the military. We would have no government without taxes and no government would mean anarchy. Bob is not an admirer of our present president and has not been since Ike. He still pays his taxes and he does not even take normal deductions. He resents cheating. He would rather pay more taxes. Bad government is always better than no government. Do not every associate with Berachah Church and say that so-and-so ought to be killed.
6. Without the execution of revolutionary leaders, there would be no evangelism, no freedom, no fulfillment of the plan of God,

7. Israel cannot function as a client nation to God when revolution exists in the land. The United States cannot exist in the client nation with revolution in the air.
8. No client nation can serve God when revolution exists in the nation.
9. Revolution is the quintessence of human arrogance and evil. We must remember that arrogance is not only stronger than good environment, but stronger than perfect environment.

Vv. 6–8 the battle of the forests of Ephraim.

2Samuel 18:6–8

Principles of War 72David

631_0469

The campaign of Ephraim. An army of stags led by a lion is more to be feared than an army of lions led by a stag.

A clever general avoids an army while it is keen, but will wait.

Recklessness which leads to destruction. Cowardice that leads to capture. A hasty empter that can be exploited. An over solicitousness toward one's men. This are the 5 weaknesses of a general, according to Sun Tzu.

This was strictly an infantry battle. Joab notices that the enemy is in a vulnerable position.

When the soldiers are strong and the leaders are weak, then there is insubordination. When officers are strong and people are weak, the result is collapse.

We have the failure of a few police officers, and people react against the police force. A failure of a few in the local church, and people reject the local church.

We will always have wars and rumors of wars because that is the inevitable result of men with sin natures.

The spiritual factor in the military is a very important one. One of the most inspiring motives in war is love of a woman and willingness to fight for her freedom.

Ex. 14:14 the Lord of the Armies will fight for you today.

Jesus Christ holds the record for killing the enemy in battle. 185,000 Assyrians. Isa. 37:36 That will stand as a record until the end of the Tribulation, when Jesus Christ destroys the enemy armies.

Exception to send to war; those who have just gotten married.

Luke 14:21 the leader needs a capable staff. There must always be brilliant men devoted to the honorable profession of the military.

God trained David's hands for battle. There has always been a relationship between manning weapons and physical conditioning.

Enforced humility from discipline. Victory does not depend upon the number or mere courage, but training is the key. Hannibal, the Greeks superior in many ways; Romans superior in their military training. Strict in punishing idleness and sloth.

Slackers and draft dodgers were condemned in the Bible. Moses carefully speaks to them about this. "Be sure that your sin will find you out." Psalm 46:7-9 8

David says, "I am for peace, but when I speak, they are for war. Preserve me from the violent men, who are continually stirring up war."

Poise is a great indicator of knowledge+humility.

The Bible has a great deal to say about the Bible.

Israel is used to refer revolutionary army. Those in the revolutionary ranks will be mostly from the northern tribes. We will even find out that there are some Africans in David's army.

Information about this War

1. David's field army is under Joab. Joab becomes the aggressor and he takes the initiative against an army 10x his. Joab has maybe 30,000 against 250,000. The plain is the flat strip which run along side of the Jordan on the east side. There is this fortress on Mahanaim. There are cliffs so high, an army cannot get up there. The revolutionary army is moving north and they are looking for a way to get to David. They want to go up some mountains and come down on him. Joab put his army into a rugged terrain, and decided where the battle would be, and lure the other army onto this rugged terrain. The idea is to get out of the plains where it is easy to maneuver. Individual quality counts in the more rugged areas. Luring him into the forest is Joab choosing the battlefield. The one selecting the battlefield often wins the battle. Napoleon and Russians battle when Napoleon chooses the battle. The first objective of warfare is the neutralization or destruction of the enemy force.
2. The mission must be compatible with the destruction of the army.
3. Offensive action is the only modus operandi by which that objective can be accomplished.
4. Offensive brings victory and defensive can only avoid defeat.
5. Offensive defeats and destroys an enemy force but it also destroys the effectiveness and the efficiency of the enemy force.
  - a. Raises morale, gives freedom of action and increases concentration of effort.

- b. Defensive should be used to assist offensive action elsewhere or to hold off the enemy during a period of weakness.
  - c. Offensive should be used whenever there is a reasonable chance for success.
6. The main effort in the forest of Ephraim will be the principle of mass.

Joab is going to lure the people into the hills of Ephraim. Very steep mountains. Joab had the advantage of line. The opposing army was exposed and destroyed.

2Sam. 18:6 Then David's forces marched into the field to engage Israel in battle, which took place in the forest of Ephraim.

There is very little about the actual battle here. When people are not disciplined and there is no self-discipline and no group discipline, a lot of people die. This is true with traffic. There must be self-discipline for any capacity for life or love and you must impose it upon yourself. Some of us will enjoy great love and happiness and social life. To impose upon ourselves.

The revolutionary troops were defeated by David's troops. Victory would have required an excellent plan and the proper use of terrain and personnel. Amasah was no match for Joab, who was 2nd only to his Uncle David in military ability.

There were only 20,000 killed that day; which would have been the hard-core revolutionaries. Freedom can only exist under an establishment government. The rest of them fled to their homes and they will receive amnesty.

They retreated, bumped into column reserves behind them, and panic spread. They could not think. They were killed for no other reason.

2Sam. 18:7 The people of Israel were defeated by David's soldiers, and the slaughter there was vast that day--20,000 casualties.

The explanation is given in v. 8. The battle was spread out across the entire countryside. They run without thinking. They are running because they are in panic. Many were killed in combat, but more were killed because of the terrain and their panic. This is mountainous forest. There would have been species of poisonous snakes. Wild animals lived at that time, including bears and lions. Some were destroyed by disturbing wild creatures in their habitats. The terrain is treacherous and there are cliffs. In panic they run and fall in cliffs, marshes, quicksand, etc. they are mobs running through there, which means some caused problems for the others.

Victory in battle does not resolve problems.

2Sam. 18:8 The battle spread over the entire region, and that day the forest claimed more people than the sword.

Today was a record hot day in Houston. 106°, which is the hottest Bob every recalls. It is amazing, even though we have no control over the weather or over the varying environment in which we live. So it was with Absalom, who grew up in the palace with all the privileges of royalty pertained. Yet, with all of these opportunities, Absalom made bad decisions. We all learn, as we continue in life, every bad decision destroys options for future decisions. Therefore, there resides inside of our soul a factor that is far more important than any factor of our environment or circumstances. Some of us will make decisions which will reduce our options in the future.

We are moving into a new subject, and all of the military stuff prepares us for 2 great principles in this chapter and why Absalom died as a young man. There is also an unnamed junior officer whose honor and integrity was so fantastic, that he would not touch a hair of Absalom's head.

This is the death of Absalom. Death is always a shock to us, whether our own or that of a loved one.

We begin with qara in the Niphal perfect. It can mean to call, to call out; and also to meet, to happen, to occur. Absalom bumped into one of David's patrols. He is mounted on a mule and he will try to escape on this mule. Absalom was far enough behind enemy lines to feel comfortable, behind the lines of battle, and he probably felt that he was quite safe. Joab had sent out reconnaissance patrols. Amasa had given no thought to reserves. He was a very poor general. Absalom thought that he would go behind enemy lines and see if he could discover any reserve forces. He is doing recon. Or perhaps this is a recon by David's patrol? Apparently that is it. They come across Absalom on his own mule. Being involved in interlocking systems of arrogance, Absalom did not stop to do much thinking. He thought he could escape by heading toward the nearest cover.

The mule goes under the branches of a thick oak tree. His head is stuck fast or held fast in the oak tree. We already know that Absalom has long hair. He looks like a hippie; and longhair represents dissension from authority.

Absalom was immediately overwhelmed by emotion, so he spurred her mule into action and he panicked. Nothing worse than to panic on a mule. When they feel that panic, it is all over. Mules are big, strong, sure-footed and very fast.

Bob recalls a panic among the men and the mules just took off. They ran through a fence, which apparently slowed them down. They are not one of the easier quadrupeds to control.

You can pull his neck around to where it is almost facing you and that will just about slow them down.

The ranch bbq and the execution and all of the king's sons raced back on their mules.

Absalom was caught in the tree, and he did not have a boot knife to cut himself loose. This was all because of Absalom's long hair, which represents arrogance and authority rebellion. He was caught between heaven and earth, and nowhere to go. This represents his running out of options.

God provided us with parents and He has not condemned us based upon our personal sins. Instead, our personal sins were all collected and imputed to Christ while He hung on the cross. And God the Father judged them while He was on the cross.

By condemning us with the imputation of Adam's sin, that means that, because we are potentially open to salvation. If we never reach accountability and die, then we go to heaven. We noticed this when David lost his first son by Bathsheba.

Authority is given to us and condemnation at birth. Both of these are blessings. There is the potential for salvation. The authority is necessary to orient to life. We are covered with regard to life and with regard to death.

Judicial imputations + the potentials. In Z we have the imputation of blessing in time and the blessing in eternity.

When you sneak out and violate parental authority, you are limiting your future options. Your greatest time to learn discipline and to learn orientation to life.

Absalom, with long hair, rejected the authority of his father. He came from a father with short hair; and his long hair was a rejection of David's authority. His long hair was a sign of his rejection of authority. This was his narcissus complex. His decision to grow long hair was a bad decision.

Knowledge is the environment for thinking and doctrine is the environment for good decisions. Manliness is a state of the soul. It is really not the length of the hair but the attitude of soul.

Jer. 7:29 indicates that long hair on a man is a sign of lack of authority-orientation. 1Cor. 11:3 every man praying or prophesying with long hair dishonors his head (the authority by which he preaches). But every woman who prophesies with her hair uncovered, dishonors herself. Does not nature herself teach you that long hair on a male is a shame to him? All things originate from God. Is it proper to pray to God with short hair? Does not even nature itself teach you that if a man has long hair, it is a shame to him. Long hair is a sign of a woman's submission to the man.

When a believer makes a lot of bad decisions, these decisions will reduce a person's options. They will go all the way to the sin unto death. The royal mule and the long hair took away Absalom's last option. He is hanging from a tree and he has run out of options.

2Sam. 18:9 [Absalom was riding on his mule when he happened to meet David's soldiers \[unexpectedly happened to meet\]. When the mule went under the tangled branches of a](#) large oak tree, Absalom's head was caught fast in the tree. The mule under him kept going, so he was suspended in midair.

The patrol leader will refuse to kill Absalom. He will report to Joab that he sees Absalom hanging from an oak tree. The patrol leader followed as quickly as he could and he went into the thicket after Absalom. Then he came across a very strange sight, Absalom suspended from branches, completely helpless. Nothing he could do.

This officer is cool and honorable here. He follows Absalom into the thicket; but he takes no personal action. He leaves his patrol behind to guard Absalom. No one is to touch him, as David told to spare this man. This is a very smart move. He will get an official reprimand from Joab in the next few verses.

2Sam. 18:10 One of the men [when a certain officer] saw him and informed [made an official report to] Joab. He said, "Listen, I just saw Absalom hanging in [suspended from] an oak tree!"

Gary North in AZ writes the Remnant Review. The Economics of Envy is the title. We normally think of envy as jealousy; but that is covetousness. Maybe I can get Congress to confiscate it and give it to me. Another kind of envy, he has something I want, but I will never get it, so I will make certain that no one else has it. Terrorism is another envy-related invention. Terrorists will not bring peace on earth. They use terrorism not to build up. It is not that the terrorist sees his acts of terror as making things better; he sees a burned out society as a legitimate goal.

Slogans like, FDR saved capitalism from itself. Every business needs a safety net. There is no satisfaction in envy; it is never satiated. It gnaws and it rankles. Endless self-mortification. The idea that we are identical.

Socialism is another outworking as envy. The only one that gets the good in the redistribution of wealth is the state; they get the jobs and the wealth. Budget of Indian affairs would be equivalent to giving all Indians $30,000/year. Intellectuals have created modern socialism. They want to destroy the present social order and their motive is envy. It is their envy against the rich and the successful that motivates them. The problem will not go away; it will get a lot worse when the market begins to slide. That the free market makes more men richer, will not impress the socialist. They do not want to raise everyone's income unless that can wipe out any sign of success.

Joab is part of a righteous cause, but he will take this out on a man when he should not. This leader will not kill Absalom.

2Sam. 18:6–9 And the people went out into the field against Israel. And the battle was in the forest of Ephraim. And the people of Israel were killed there before the servants of David. And there was a great slaughter that day of twenty thousand. For the battle was scattered there over the face of all the country. And the forest devoured more people that day than the sword devoured. And Absalom met the servants of David. And Absalom rode on a mule, and the mule went under the thick branches of a great oak tree. And his head caught hold of the oak, and he was taken up between the heavens and the earth. And the mule under him went away.

2Sam. 18:10 One of the men [when a certain officer] saw him and informed [made an official report to] Joab. He said, "Listen, I just saw Absalom hanging in [suspended from] an oak tree!"

2Sam. 18:11a Then Joab had reprimanded the officer who reported to him: "Now, look here, you just saw him. Why didn't you strike him to the ground right there?"

The fault is not with this junior officer, but with David's ridiculous order and Joab not challenging this order from the get-go. Joab could have pointed out to David that this order needed to be rescinded immediately. The king was so totally removed from reality, that he might not have listened to reason, which is a reasonable position to take. However, Joab is out of line reprimanding this officer, as he is simply obeying what David said. Joab had rightly intended for Absalom to die. However, he should not have placed the burden on this junior officer. This simply proves that the greatest of men have sin natures as well.

General officers can often become very petty about many things. General Eisenhower dealt with his own temptation better than any other man in history.

What Joab tells this young man is, he would have decorated him for killing Absalom. The belt is a military belt which indicates promotion to the next rank.

2Sam. 18:11 "You just saw him!" Joab exclaimed. "Why didn't you strike him to the ground right there? I would have given you 10 silver pieces and a belt!" [Furthermore, I would have given you a monetary reward (a decoration) as well as a promotion].

David's order was idiotic and subjective, but it is still the order from the king. Joab is the only man who can disobey this order. This is obviously an excellent junior officer. He would not take it upon himself to disobey an order from the king. The patrol leader put honor and integrity over personal advancement and decorations. This separates him from many officers in our armed forces today. He emerges as an honorable person, whose integrity is not intimidated by an unfair redressing by Joab.

Some have left the service because they could not be critical. However, there are officers looking to pass their peers and they are willing to do anything in order to get it. When you compromise honor and integrity, you destroy moral courage. When moral courage is lost, then all is lost for us.

We have fought 2 wars without civilian support. It is impossible to win wars unless the public supports them. The public was against them in Korea and even more so in Vietnam.

We lost these wars by the crass cowardice of our politicians and the thinking of the general public. Politicians place their careers over and above any sort of integrity.

This young officer will not back down and he will demonstrate poise under pressure. Joab will later realize that only he himself can execute Absalom. Joab will also demonstrate that moral courage. Humility will not cause him to be tempted to abandon his honor and integrity.

This man represents great honor in what he chose to do.

Individual missionary, under the evil leadership of his missionary organization, is intimidated into certain actions. There are false standards in every profession today. Many doctors have abandoned their honor and integrity and have succumbed to the evils of socialized medicine. People in medical schools are totally incompetent today. This is the great tragedy in the day that we live. This officer would be a success in any place. He had something that he used under the greatest pressure. He could have been promoted and decorated, if he just abandoned his honor and his integrity and kill Absalom. He stood up in such a magnificent way that God the Holy Spirit gave him 3 verses.

The Junior Officer Spares Absalom's Life

1. Integrity and honor are more important than anything else. More than promotion and reward in life.
2. The junior officer recognizes the value of doctrine in the soul. This was over any success or any promotion or the attaining of anything else in life.
3. This young man had a scale of values that indicated he was a mature believer. He did not abandon doing a right thing in a right way. If you intrude and say the means justify the end, then you are doing a right thing in a wrong way. For him to kill Absalom, would have been wrong, even though killing the enemy is right. This is because this is a violation of the order of the king.
4. Therefore, if you are going to have a wonderful life, capacity for life, capacity for love, honor and integrity are far more important than wealth and promotion.
5. If God does not promote you, you are not promoted. If He does not bless you with wealth, for the believer unless He can bless His Own righteousness. We receive His indwelling righteousness, which becomes the home and the target for all blessing. God cannot condone or sponsor sin, or bless it. We possess an old sin nature. We also possess personal sins. God must bless us without compromising His Own character. We begin with logistical grace support. Then there is capacity for blessing and capacity for life. As we have maximum doctrine resident in the soul, God made Abraham a very wealthy man. As he moved forward spiritually, God blessed him.
6. The name of the junior officer is withheld by God the Holy Spirit because he represents any believer in a myriad of circumstances. His name to us is not important; it is the principle that his life illustrates is what is important.

7. You can deal without recognition; you cannot live without doctrine, honor, integrity, humility, capacity for life, love, happiness. These things fulfill the plan of God. We can be very happy without wealth or promotion or without public recognition.
8. Just as Joab was right in killing Absalom, so this junior officer is right to refuse to kill Absalom. As believers, we are in constant contact with other believers; many do not have the doctrines which we have; they are spiritual babies. They have certain standards in which they are right. We must learn the principle that no two believers have attained the same stage of spiritual blessings. You must remember that something must be absolutely right for a baby but be wrong for a mature believer. We must be careful not to superimpose our high standards on others. The standards of maturity cannot be imposed upon the baby and the adolescent. He must be careful not to be critical of believers who have not reached the same stage of growth. They did different things but they are both right.
9. The patrol leader's integrity demanded that he restrain himself from killing Absalom. Undoubtedly, this young officer had great esprit de corps, but he restrained himself, because he was an honorable person. What you think is more important than what you feel.
10. His restraint was enforced humility, moral courage, and the essence of honor. You cannot lower yourself to the standards of others. He has the basis of doctrine in our souls.
11. Joab's integrity demanded that he disobey David's order and kill Absalom. So Joab was not wrong in killing Absalom himself. He was wrong in reprimanding anyone else for not doing it.

If David had not issued that order, then anyone could have killed Absalom in battle. None of us have identical standards. There are many reasons that we do not have identical standards. Bob grew up in Beverly Hills as an unbeliever, but he learned many wonderful standards of that day. There was the cinema crowd that lived there who had much different standards. You do not become critical of those who have different standards. You learn to eliminate that hypercritical attitude of the intermediate believer who has enough doctrine to be dangerous.

Tongues crowd people can become very pushy; but you must allow them some space and tolerate them to some degree. Someone in Berea told another young man that he can't come to Bible class with long hair. You don't get the chance to tell them what to do. Doctrine is the issue.

Bob hoped that we all caught the example of integrity in Virginia.

2Sam. 18:11 "You just saw him!" Joab exclaimed. "Why didn't you strike him to the ground right there? I would have given you 10 silver pieces and a belt!" [Furthermore, I would have given you a monetary reward (a decoration) as well as a promotion].

The junior officer replies to Joab. God the Holy Spirit promotes him; he is called ha ish, which is the man. This marks out this person as unique among his contemporaries. He stands right up to Joab.

The officer states a hypothetical case. He will not be corrupted. Incorruptible individuals become blessings to others and he is without arrogance.

The Young Officer's Reply

1. The young officer's reply is recorded here. This demonstrates something we ought to remember. Bob is 62 years old and he notices a gap of communication between himself and the younger crowd. Still, there is always hope in the next generation. A reminder to the older generation who sees only the negative aspects of the younger generation. We often compare our best with their worst. There will be those in every generation who succeed because of doctrine and others who fail because they lack doctrine and are under negative volition. There is a lot of hope in the prep school. They are getting doctrine night after night. They are seeing American history apart from the contamination of our schools. There is hope in every generation. This is so we remember that there are those with great integrity in the younger generation.
2. This tells us that, as great as Joab is, with his impeccable judgment, as a believer and as a field commander, there is no such thing as a perfect person. We all have sin natures.
3. Joab was wrong and the junior officer was right. This young officer controlled himself, which demonstrated great moral courage under pressure. He commanded his patrol under pressure as well. His men are all restrained by the same order, and they are restrained by the chain of command. He is able to think in terms of honor and integrity. He demonstrates that rare quality of doctrine and loyalty as a virtue. If Bob had been Joab, he would have placed this man on his staff. Joab probably called him back to his office sometime later and promoted him and put him on his own personal staff.

He heard every word that David said, and he will restate the command; so we need to figure out tonite why he rephrased David's command.

2Sam. 18:12 The man replied to Joab, "Even if I had the weight of 1,000 pieces of silver in my hand, I would not raise my hand against the king's son. For we heard the king command you, Abishai, and Ittai, 'Protect the young man Absalom for me.'

2Samuel 18:(11), 12–14

72David

631_0472

This must be Sunday night, as Bob refers back to what was taught this morning.

2Sam. 18:11 "You just saw him!" Joab exclaimed. "Why didn't you strike him to the ground right there? I would have given you 10 silver pieces and a belt!" [Furthermore, I would have given you a monetary reward (a decoration) as well as a promotion].

He heard David's command, "Deal gently with the young man for my sake." (From v. 5). This is more than just dealing with him, but the idea is to guard his life; to protect him in every way. David's order was wrong and idiotic and it is questionable whether or not he could really make such an order, given that he put Absalom under the care of Joab.

The junior officer obeyed this order, had his men stand guard over Absalom, while he returned to camp to submit his report.

Notice that this officer does not cut Absalom down.

2Sam. 18:12 The man replied to Joab, "Even if I had the weight of 1,000 pieces of silver in my hand, I would not raise my hand against the king's son. For we heard the king command you, Abishai, and Ittai, 'Protect the young man Absalom for me.'

The Junior Officer's Good Decision

1. In this verse, we see the integrity of the patrol leader who correctly applied doctrine to this situation. He is being reprimanded for being honorable and making the correct decision. He is able to think under pressure.
2. David was commander-in-chief and he out-ranked Joab, so what he said demanded obedience.
3. Since the command was not an immoral one or in conflict with the junior officer's standards of honor, there was no reason for him to disobey this order.
4. The young officer gives David's order.
5. Knowledge is the environment for thinking and doctrine is the environment for good decisions. This officer was thinking under pressure.
6. He made a good decision to leave Absalom there.

2Sam. 18:12 The man replied to Joab, "Even if I had the weight of 1,000 pieces of silver in my hand, I would not raise my hand against the king's son. For we heard the king command you, Abishai, and Ittai, 'Protect the young man Absalom for me.'

This verse is quite pertinent to our military today.

The Junior Officer and Loyalty

1. A distinction must be made between integrity of the young officer and his honor in the previous verse. V. 12 is the integrity of the patrol leader and v. 13 is the honor of the leader.
2. Integrity + loyalty as a virtue = honor. The other side of the picture is integrity + loyalty as an evil = dishonor. Integrity is hearing doctrine as it is taught by a communicator, getting it into the left lobe at first and then transferring it into the right lobe.
3. We must distinguish between loyalty as a virtue and loyalty as an evil. Integrity must be the source of loyalty. The loyalty that applies doctrine is loyalty as a virtue.

This uses that same concentration to apply doctrine. This is reverse concentration; the 2nd stage of the faith rest drill. The patrol leader knows that Joab wants to kill Absalom. When you have loyalty to a person, then this integrity + loyalty is an evil. This young officer has a great test at this point.

4. There are 2 categories of loyalty; loyalty as a virtue, like loyalty to Bible doctrine in the status of humility. Loyalty as an evil; loyalty to persons who are evil or in a state of arrogance, propose evil.
5. For the junior officer, the suggestion that he kill Absalom is loyalty to Joab as an evil. To obey him and kill him for decoration and reward would be loyalty as an evil.
- 6.
7. He would have placed loyalty to Joab over loyalties to David and loyalty to evil over loyalty to doctrine. Every young person (under 45) faces this temptation.

Maximum doctrine in the soul is the result of positive volition. Application of doctrine to the situation. This requires humility and its objectivity and flexibility. They all avoid David's order was absurd, but that was not the issue with the junior officer.

Whatever the problem is, it is in his soul. Alternative volitional conjunction o. the second word means to make, to manufacture. We have the noun sheqer, which is lie, deceit, falsehood. He would not raise his hand against the king's anointed. You are not aware of life unless you recognize that you have a soul. What people think and how they function in the soul is what a person really is. In this officer's soul, he retains honor, despite all of the pressure Joab brings on him.

2Sam. 18:13 If I had jeopardized my own life [otherwise, I would have acted deceitfully in my own soul]--and nothing is hidden from the king--you would have abandoned me."

The Junior Officer's Explanation

1. He is tempted.
2. Killing Absalom would be instant honor and decoration. It would have place him above his peers instantly and it would have set him apart from all of his peers. This would have marked him for future promotion. Bob cannot figure out anymore what people are after any more. You do not lead with your body in life, you lead with your soul. Thought orients the soul.
3. The patrol leader was a real professional constrained by a general order of the commander-in-chief. His honor remains intact. Joab is wrong to rebuke the officer.

Furthermore, something like this could not be kept hidden from the king. And he recognizes that Joab would be the first one to abandon him. He says, "You would be reprimanding me for disobeying David's order." That would be the official response. This young man has learned a lot. He has some doctrine. He is perceptive. The people in authority often want to circumvent company policy, so he gets his underlings to do his dirty work. However, he claims innocence if they are caught and he fires the whole lot of them.

“Joab, you are a hypocrite and you would have court-martialed me.” There are more officers today who are phony as a lead nickel and they are bowing and scraping and acting like politicians. There is not one out of 25 senior officers who knows as much about combat as a second lieutenant.

There is an organization today which gathers up successful men and it plays footsie with the government. We are in for great disaster. We almost need a disaster to perpetuate client nation USA. When young men learn doctrine, they can maintain their honor and their integrity under the greatest pressure.

This man has watched Joab and he is aware that Joab has a flaw. He is a magnificent officer. Joab would bend and stoop to politick. This is hypocrisy. He would have gone to David and said, “One of the junior officers disobeyed your orders, and he will now rue the day for what he did.” He would have been court-martialed and disgraced. This man is both honorable and smart. There would have been no decorations or honor. He knows that by living his life as unto the Lord, he is doing the only thing that he can. Doing anything else would be to violate something in his soul.

He has been in the army long enough to suspect the worst. He knows that there is a great deal of hypocrisy in any large organization, whether the officer's corps or any other large operation.

When God questioned Adam, Adam practiced CYA. Political conventions where women want equal rights rather than their exalted position. Some of these women were probably wonderful women at one time, but in the hands of a jackass male, they have been ruined.

Joab was put in custody of Absalom 3 years ago and this order was never rescinded. The courage of this junior officer reminds Joab that he needs to retain his own personal integrity. And Joab takes this to heart. And he decides, what does my integrity demand? I must kill Absalom. He knows that David will not touch him. He realized that if David does not judge and punish him this time, David is through as a ruler.

It takes great flexibility to have all of this authority, to hear this from a junior officer, and to do that which is right.

2Sam. 18:13 If I had jeopardized my own life [otherwise, I would have acted deceitfully in my own soul]--and nothing is hidden from the king--you would have abandoned me. You yourself would have taken a stand against me.

Then Joab retorted. He is unable to meet this argument with reason. Long before this lad was born, Joab had great integrity. He waves his hands and says, “Loqên.” He is saying, “I will not waste any more time with you.” That is the idiom for what he is saying.

So Joab now goes to where the other part of the patrol goes over to where Absalom is dangling. The junior officer is probably not with him at this point.

The integrity and the honor of the junior officer who led the patrol was a barrier that Joab could not go through. He could not have used this junior officer to do his job. Joab forgot doctrine and the principle of integrity. Why should Joab tamper with loyalty and integrity here? Do not every tamper with anyone's loyalty or integrity. Jealousy makes you resent someone's loyalty to someone else. Envy would cause you to seek to destroy this integrity. You will get triple compound discipline for this. Only Joab can directly do something about Absalom. No one else has this authority. Absalom was remanded into Joab's custody, a custody order which was never rescinded. Not everyone who opposes you is your enemy and not everyone who is for you is your friend.

2Sam. 18:14 Joab said, "I'm not going to waste time with you!" He then took three spears in his hand and thrust them into Absalom's heart while he was still alive in the oak tree,

August issue of 1980 talks about terrorism as the world's deadliest plague. Government taking wealth from one person and giving it to another. In a free society, each productive person has the right to determine the direction of his own wealth. Totalitarian governments take what they want and give it to wherever they believe it ought to go. It does not matter to whom the money is given. To each, according to his ability; to each according to his need; Marxist evil. This relates to terrorism today. The use of force to achieve common ends; causing the abandonment of morality, to purchase murder is lawlessness whether the suction catheter of the abortionist or another in Africa. They assume the rule of force and abandon the rule of justice, when they... Day after day, sacraments of violence are presented in our home. The culture becomes insensitive to evil. They are accorded a glamorous...

Bob's first group of young people had parents who did not like them coming to Berachah every single night and they ran Bob down because he represented strong authority that they did not approve of. Just because you are in Berachah Church does not mean you think like Berachah Church. Some of you mothers will be shocked to find out that your children are drunk all the time or they get pregnant. They did not learn the one thing they should have learned at home: restraint. Personal discipline. Their contemporaries are going crazy. They go in for Hedonism. If you do not put restraints on yourself, you will never have capacity for life. If you do not have standards that you recognize or appreciate, then there will be a problem. In growing up, you eventually get away from authority and you will not be worth a damn.

Bob was asked if he had a young people's program, and he said no, they have their own program. They make it up as they go along. Do we supervise it? Of course not! Bob stopped supervising Bobby when he was 14. The whole purpose of having parents is to properly raise these so that they can regulate their own lives.

Bob has been in David for 9 months; the only New Testament passage is Monday morning.

We should be able to take the honor code from 3 years in Romans and putting it together with our own lives. Here is the doctrine, our experience, and it needs to be transferred. The hypostatic union must have an effect on our modus operandi.

Some of you girls have learned to avoid guys who are just chasing. The purpose of doctrine is to make you spiritually self-sustaining. The idea is to have happiness in your life.

Christianity is not permissive; it is self-restraining. It is not societal-restraining. You should have doctrine and you know not to do some things because they are wrong.

We have seen people like David make magnificent decisions and we also see him fail. Too much David at one time and the congregation gets a little dicey. The greatness of the great is the application of doctrine.

2Sam. 18:11 "You just saw him!" Joab exclaimed. "Why didn't you strike him to the ground right there? I would have given you 10 silver pieces and a belt!" [Furthermore, I would have given you a monetary reward (a decoration) as well as a promotion].

The sinfulness of deceit. Some do not realize that they are involving themselves in interlocking systems of arrogance.

2Sam. 18:12 The man replied to Joab, "Even if I had the weight of 1,000 pieces of silver in my hand, I would not raise my hand against the king's son. For we heard the king command you, Abishai, and Ittai, 'Protect the young man Absalom for me.'

he even throws in a bit of sarcasm.

2Sam. 18:13 If I had jeopardized my own life [otherwise, I would have acted deceitfully in my own soul]--and nothing is hidden from the king--you would have abandoned me." You yourself would have taken a stand against me.

Joab is frustrated, but he realizes that this young man is right. Joab cannot just send some other junior officer out to kill Absalom. Absalom is Joab's responsibility, and that is a correct decision.

Not everyone who opposes you is your enemy; and not everyone who is for you is your friend.

Joab grabs 3 javelins and carries them in his hand. Those who caught Absalom did not kill him, but his life was miserable. He was still alive, hanging in the oak tree.

2Sam. 18:14 Joab said, "I'm not going to waste time with you!" He then took three spears in his hand and thrust them into Absalom's heart while he was still alive in [and suspended from] the oak tree, very thick leather and bits of horn sewn onto it. Joab throws 3 javelins into Absalom, but he is not dead. So there were 10 young men with Joab. Joab apparently cuts Absalom out of the tree. Joab steps back and 10 young soldiers went in for the kill. They were 10 elite soldiers; all airborne ranger types.

They hack Absalom to pieces and then he dies. Absalom was dying slowly with the javelins in the chest. People can continue to live after something like that. These young men are willing to face court marshal over this. Joab demonstrates his great moral courage in doing this.

2Sam. 18:15 [and 10 young men who were Joab's armor-bearers surrounded Absalom, struck him \[they hacked him to pieces\], and killed him.](#)

Joab was not going to continue in the slaughter. He killed Absalom, and that end the revolution.

Joab has used great restraint and he is entirely under his own personal control and that he controlled his men. He probably did not personally sound the recall, but this would be done with a number of trumpets.

Joab's Professionalism

1. Here we have the restraint of humility in victory. Watch a football team when the back scores a touchdown, if they hand the ball to the ref or walk away, this is a good, well-disciplined team. Those doing a dance show no personal restraint. Bob has noticed Campbell as being restrained. A great virtue of victory is the restraint of humility.
2. One thing is important in war. One must be professional in the military and never take anything personally. One must avoid having vengeance as a motivation. We are out there to defeat the enemy; not to take revenge on them for what they have done. Vengeance means a loss of professionalism.
3. Joab was a truly great professional because he demonstrated objectivity of humility. With this, and with flexibility, shows great professionalism. In the revolutionary army, there are a lot of soldiers who are great in combat, but now they are running for their lives because they are led by non-thinking generals. Americans do not appreciate MacArthur and a lot of combat people maligned him. You must be able to think, something that many of us are just discovering.
4. The Holy Spirit includes this verse in the Bible to indicate that Joab's slaying of Absalom was not vengeance. He was not settling a personal vendetta. Calling back the other troops prove this. There is nothing personal in it. He then sounds recall.
5. Too often, Joab's motivation has been attributed to revenge or the settlement of a personal grudge. Joab did not like Absalom in the 2nd half of his life. This execution is impersonal and professional. Absalom had once been his best friend. He was thinking all the time. He realizes that, if Absalom does not die, the revolution will be perpetuated. As soon as Absalom was dead, Joab continues to think professionally. The enemy will be a part of the nation again. An emotional man would have had a big blood surge. If you have to fight and kill in the future, fight professionally. There are a lot of talent boxers today, but with their great talent, they are not consistent. Sugar Ray Leonard got whipped by an ally cat from Panama. He fought professionally and Sugar Ray fought emotionally.

6. The revolution could not be defeated while Absalom was alive.
7. To save additional battles and the needless squandering of human lives, Joab killed Absalom.
8. David's general order regarding his son was arrogance, inflexibility and subjective thinking.
9. Joab was right to ignore that order. Joab's great moral courage. Like Eisenhower, with Churchill screaming at him, refused to go to Berlin. There were exceptions in Joab's life, like obeying the order with regard to Uriah the Hittite; that was the worst.

2Sam. 18:16 Afterwards, Joab blew the ram's horn [Joab is giving the order here to blow the ram's horn], and the troops broke off their pursuit of Israel because Joab restrained them.

2Samuel 18:(11–15), 16–17

72David

631_0474

There was good leadership and good discipline. Joab was able to call of his troops, and they stopped pursuing the revolutionary enemy.

Leftism classification:

Good Government	Bad Government
Monarchy the rule of one man in the interest of the common good	Tyranny the rule one man for his own advantage
Aristocracy the rule of a particular group in the interest of the common good	Oligarchy is the rule of a group for their own advantage.
Republic is the rule of many for the advantage of the common good.	Democracy is mob rule for their own advantage.

David had a monarchy which fulfilled the laws of divine establishment. This provided the perfect balance between legitimate authority and freedom. Joab exercised personal and professional restraint.

Joab has freedom here, but he chooses to restrain himself. Having freedom and still restraining himself.

Joab's Restraint

1. The restraint of a victorious army is a sign of its tremendous discipline and ; setting aside one's feeling in the interest of the company, army, whatever.

2. This wise decision will mean that there will be more wise decisions on the part of Joab and David. Good decisions provide more options in the future.
3. Because of Joab's wisdom and the application of doctrine, David will be able to objectively resolve the problems of reuniting Israel.
4. This sets the pattern for gracious reconstruction rather than vindictiveness and bitterness.

2Sam. 18:11 "You just saw him!" Joab exclaimed. "Why didn't you strike him to the ground right there? I would have given you 10 silver pieces and a belt!" [Furthermore, I would have given you a monetary reward (a decoration) as well as a promotion].

2Sam. 18:12 The man replied to Joab, "Even if I had the weight of 1,000 pieces of silver in my hand, I would not raise my hand against the king's son. For we heard the king command you, Abishai, and Ittai, 'Protect the young man Absalom for me.'

2Sam. 18:13 If I had jeopardized my own life [otherwise, I would have acted deceitfully in my own soul]--and nothing is hidden from the king--you would have abandoned me." You yourself would have taken a stand against me.

2Sam. 18:14 Joab said, "I'm not going to waste time with you!" He then took three spears in his hand and thrust them into Absalom's heart while he was still alive in [and suspended from] the oak tree, Joab's 10 elite surround Absalom. Restrain is a great manifestation of humility and capacity for life.

2Sam. 18:15 and 10 young men who were Joab's armor-bearers surrounded Absalom, struck him [they hacked him to pieces], and killed him.

These verses illustrate consistency of doctrine; this is not inconsistency. Application of doctrine is what he does, even though these decisions appear to contradict one another. These are consistent decisions. It was important to kill the ring leader but to spare the revolutionary army (as many as possible).

The nation will enter into 10 years of great prosperity. Joab's 2 great decisions: to kill Absalom and to allow the revolutionaries to retreat and escape.

Joab's wisdom and decisions have multiplied David's decisions for reconstruction after the civil war. As the field commander, Joab made some great decisions. David, staying off the battlefield, is a great decision.

The death of one man allows for the rest to be spared. David would have decided to do exactly the opposite here.

Joab was a professional soldier and he had to give orders which would result in people dying. The more you use your head, the less you use your emotion. The result is, more lives are saved. These 2 wise decisions will pave the way for a wonderful 10 years of blessing followed by 40 years of Solomon's reign.

We live in a time of terrorism. Unrestrained violence must be destroyed and controlled by an organized violence. Shooting down the students in Ohio was a good, establishment decision. Our government did not back them up, and the officer who gave the order was prosecuted.

We saw on tv a kidnapper being kicked by a detective. We have a great police chief and he investigated this instead of getting emotional. Channel 13 wanted to destroy this detective. These kidnappers are criminals who use violence all of the time. They resent controlled violence being used against them.

Criminals have sin natures which are out of control, and this is used against us.

In revolution and the reign of terror, there was no stopping this violence until the army stopped it, using greater and organized violence. Napoleon gave the order to fire, and he wiped out these criminals. When criminals use violence in prison, then you destroy them. Organized and humble violence must destroy arrogant violence. This is the principle of a soldier killing on the battlefield or a police officer shooting a criminal when committing a crime.

This woman in front has her mind wandering. Don't let someone invite you to Berachah. My heart bleeds for you, but we are not going to stop so that you can readjust from your maladjustment.

2Sam. 18:16 Afterwards, Joab blew the ram's horn [Joab is giving the order here to blow the ram's horn; then Joab sounded recall on the trumpet], and the troops broke off their pursuit of Israel because Joab restrained them.

Two verses on a burial. There were a lot of honorable dead on the battleground, having died. Yet we will examine Absalom's death. So, why do we even study this? Why is this covered.

These 2 verses will deal with the living and the dead. The mutilated corpse of Absalom is not fit for the public eye.

Joab and Absalom's Burial

1. It would be a difficult thing for David to see the corpse.
2. Joab disobeyed for higher motives. His general order did not apply to Joab, as Absalom was still in his custody.
3. Joab had the authority to kill Absalom.
4. As long as Absalom was alive, malcontent and arrogant people would rally to him and the revolution would continue. The malcontents we will have will us always.

No matter how good an organization is it, there are always the malcontents. If there are more than 2 people, someone is malcontent, some of the time or all of the time.

5. The junior office was right to refuse to kill Absalom and Joab was right to kill him.
6. The junior officer did not have the right to refuse to obey David's order.
7. The rank of Joab and that Joab had been remanded into Absalom's custody, gave him the right and privilege to kill Absalom.
8. This was an excellent decision on Joab's part. He does not bring the corpse back and flaunt it before David.
9. Absalom's burial was ignominious and obscure. Arrogance led Absalom to criminality and he had a criminal burial.

They dug a very deep hole and then they threw the body into the hole. There is a deep pit and then rocks will be stacked on him along with a few rocks above the ground. This is the sign of a criminal; of a traitor. There is a large, unmarked ground in which Absalom is buried. This is so there would not be a future rallying point for malcontents.

And erected over him was a piling of rocks. No grave could be exactly like this in Israel without disgrace being applied. This was customary for the burial of traitors. Achin was treated the same way in Joshua. Over his corpse was erected a huge pile of rocks. Achin was a traitor and a criminal. He stole. Absalom was a criminal and a traitor. Joab, without David's consent, judged Absalom, executed him, and gave him a traitor's burial. This pile of rocks is a monument to a traitor. This is his disorientation to life as a criminal. This is related to authority arrogance.

This principle is stated for humanity in general in Rom. 9:21 does not the potter possess authority over the clay? From the same lump to make a vessel for the purpose of honor and another vessel for the purpose of dishonor. The potter's wheel is divine authority delegated under the laws of divine establishment. Divine authority relegated in the spiritual realm via Bible doctrine. The most basic authority delegated in the human race is the authority of parents over their children. Col. 3:20 Children, obey your parents in everything, for in this, you glorify the Lord.

In that lump of clay is volition, on positive and negative signals. How you respond to your parents is a matter of honor or dishonor. A great majority of the human race never get over their failure at the potter's wheel of authority. In some cases, the parents are too dumb to exercise their authority. And in others, free will is the greatest issue of life. This is why children do not have freedom.

A woman hauled off and slapped her child who was impudent, and her mother went to apologize, and Bob told her, no reason to do that. David was a lousy father to Absalom. The child like Absalom rejected parental authority. This was disorientation to life which limited his future decisions. The lump of clay is very important. This is the child's volition and his decision maker. The decision to reject parental authority places the child inside of the arrogance complex. Disorientation to life always begins in childhood. The child in the home might be resentful, even though the child might have great parents. Such children start out and may never recover. The environment of evil, volitional entrance into interlocking systems of arrogance. The discipline of the home is enforced humility, which prepares the child for freedom. This prepares the child for necessary restraints. Such negative volition causes a person to run out of options until they find themselves under a pile of stones as an executed criminal.

The child who obeys his parents opens up future options. Eventually, the arrogant and the disoriented are...

Legitimate Authority and the Potter's Wheel

1. Ahithophel, Absalom and Amasa, are all vessels of dishonor. They have made their own decisions. The potter's wheel represents discipline and authority in life. As a result, they ran out of options and all of them died the sin unto death.
2. While knowledge of doctrine is the environment for thinking and humility + doctrine is the environment for good decisions, these who reject authority create their own evil and their own destruction. Absalom made every decision which put Absalom under this pile of rocks. For some of you, a pile of rocks is awaiting your corpse.
3. Therefore, you are just as liable for failure as Absalom. Not because, as you look back, you fail in the home; but because you have rejected spiritual authority. Your spiritual authority is the one who communicates Bible doctrine to you. It is not the person who led you to Jesus Christ. Once you start resisting doctrine, it is all over. That is the last call. You made your last negative decision.
4. You use your volition to be molded into a vessel of honor, like Jonathan, Abiathar, Zadok, Ittai the Gittite and Joab himself.
5. Self-determined dishonor is rejecting parental authority. So is rejection of Bible doctrine. Parental authority is the original potter's wheel. When you say "No" to parental authority, this is tantamount to the believer saying no to doctrinal authority. This is called the doctrine of the sin unto death.

The pile of stones over the grave of Absalom spells out a vessel of dishonor. Absalom made his own bad decisions and he ends up in a traitor's grave.

Meanwhile, all of the revolutionary army fled each one to his tent. This refers to one's home; habitat, dwelling place. Each one had his own home. They did not go back to their bivouac. They went home.

Absalom, Ahithophel and Their Arrogance

1. These fleeing troops had made their own decisions from interlocking systems of arrogance.
2. This arrogance was first developed in the home; now they flee to their home.
3. Just like arrogant and reversionistic believers, they flee back to some coach, counselor or back to where discipline and enforced humility was a reality. Every now and again, you will see someone creeping back into our pews someone who has been disciplined. Now they have no clue as to what is being taught.

4. Therefore, humble persons become the refuge for arrogant persons under divine discipline and punishment. What does this army think of now? Going home.
5. Often, it is too late to help the arrogant who have caused their own problems they have created their own misery and they are beyond help. The road back is so difficult, that they are unwilling to take it. Most of them want a one-shot, instant solution. They want a magic wand to make it stop hurting.
6. Recovery begins with humility, which can only exist through rebound; getting outside of interlocking systems of arrogance. Using one's volition and disciplining oneself to come back on a daily basis. The one-shot solution does not exist. It takes a lot of decisions to get you into a jam and now you want one decision to get you back. Baptist church, and coming forward, and all of your friends throw their arms around you, and that works for about 5 hours.
7. The enforced humility of becoming a student of Bible doctrine under the authority of someone who is teaching the Bible.
8. But the pile of stones over the corpse of Absalom reminds us that Ahithophel and Absalom were once mature believers. Ahithophel committed suicide and Absalom died and his corpse is placed under a pile of rocks.

2Sam. 18:17 [Furthermore, they took Absalom, threw him into a large pit in the forest, and piled a huge mound of stones over him. And all Israel fled, each to his tent \[his own home\].](#)

2Samuel 18:18

You must gather together information in order to make decisions. The more doctrine that you learn, day by day, the better your decisions will be..

A magazine which Bob about jewelry which has been bought overseas and there has been some dishonesty. How to buy sapphires. The moral of the story is, knowledge must precede decision.

Absalom with his final setting; his monument to arrogance. This is designed for those who speculate about being remembered. If you get a lot of doctrine, more will remember you in times of great adversity. What is not perpetuated in humility is a monument to arrogance.

Enforced Humility

1. Humility and arrogance cannot coexist in one's life, except in the case of enforced humility.
2. When the believer uses his volition in the form of self-discipline and self-control, which includes poise, he is using his volition to enforced humility. That is all the arrogant person has going for him.
3. Self-discipline is enforced humility. Self-discipline is your volition deciding to place yourself under legitimate authority.

4. The virtue of any organization is measured by its discipline, for discipline is enforced humility. Organizations can be formed very quickly and then terminated. We tried something new in prayer meeting. We prayed for all but one name on the prayer list. Just once, Bob wanted a public prayer meeting where every man was covered. This was somewhat of an enforced prayer meeting. A tremendous comradery of forced humility in this prayer meeting.
5. The organization may possess many arrogant people; but the inculcation of discipline results in dignity and discipline and poise and efficiency in the organization. Discipline prepares for efficiency.
6. Military, law enforcement, an athletic team, and academic organization; a social organization.
7. No organization is composed entirely of virtuous people. Some are humble and some are honorable and some are not. An organization is composed of x number of old sin natures.
8. Inculcated discipline enforced humility and discipline. So the organization is virtuous.
9. The same principle applies to the individual. Every believer with eternal life has an old sin nature and they use it. The individual who is self controlled imposed on himself self-discipline.
10. Joab is a good illustration of greatness through self-discipline. Even when Joab sinned and was out of fellowship, he could control and discipline himself to the point of poise. When he forced humility on himself as commander of the establishment army, then he was at his best.

Absalom lacked poise, self-restraint.

This stone represented the inflexibility of his arrogance. He succeeded in perpetuating his memory in stone, but as the heap of stones over the traitor's grave.

Absalom's arrogant motivation is expressed with this monument. There is not to me means I have not.

Absalom names the monolith after his own name. It is called Absalom's monument to this very day.

Monuments

1. What is not perpetuated in humility is a monument to human arrogance.
2. So much of history is a monument to man's arrogance.
3. Life is meaningless without eternal salvation, and for the saved one, life is meaningless without the possession of Bible doctrine in the soul.
4. Life is meaningless without the plan of God. There is no purpose or plan.
5. God is truth and God is the source of all truth. The only monument to be perpetuated is the monument of Bible doctrine and Bible doctrine in the soul.

There are many people whose names are on stone, and, for awhile, there are some who can remember them personally. Some of you young people are trying to eke out a little fun in between Bible class. But you forget that you will move through life and you will be a fragrance of memory or not. How much of a fragrance of memory have you left behind in your contacts in life. Arrogance will only be thought of in terms of hatred and being despised.

To completely forget the wonderful army that had delivered him, David became overly concerned for the dead, without recognizing the living. The only monument you need is the fragrance of memories.

Bob has found out that the seats of the congregation are uncomfortable.

2Sam. 18:18 When he was alive [but, during his lifetime], Absalom had erected for himself a pillar [obelisk, monument] in the King's Valley, for he had said, "I have no son to preserve the memory of my name." So he gave the pillar his name. It is still called Absalom's Monument today.

2Sam. 18:18 When he was alive [but, during his lifetime], Absalom had erected for himself a pillar [obelisk, monument] in the King's Valley, for he had said, "I have no son to preserve the memory of my name." So he gave the pillar his name. Nearly half a chapter will be devoted to a race back to headquarters. This goes through 19:8.

Organizational humility precedes genuine humility and motivates the individual to carry on despite his failures.

Organizational Humility

1. All enforced humility begins with some form of organization or some system of authority involved with that organization.
2. Enforced humility precedes genuine humility. There can be no genuine humility apart from enforced humility. No person is naturally humble.
3. Enforced humility precedes genuine humility; genuine humility must be learned in the atmosphere of organizational humility.
4. Enforced humility begins in the home with the parents, providing the basis for genuine humility. We are all born into an organization called a family. This begins in the home with the parents acting as the authorities.
5. The home is the first system of organizational humility which precedes genuine humility.

6. Remember that humility is not the same as an inferiority complex. It is not a person who stands round shouldered, stares at the ground a lot and utters dulcet phrases. Humility is not the same as an inferiority complex.
7. The parents become the first teachers and the first trainers in life. This is why the Bible commands, Children, obey your parents in everything, for this pleases the Lord.
8. The parents train their children restraint by volition. The children learn to govern themselves, to restrain themselves. When a person is on his own, humility demands that you use your own volition to restrain yourself. Self-discipline or self-restraint is one of the most virtuous aspects of life.
9. The result of genuine humility is good manners, respect for others, respect for their property and privacy; and all the capacities.
10. Such organizational humility is found in the authority of the home, which self-discipline is inculcated. When you are stopped by the police, a few "yes, sirs" are in order. Or the policeman who brings home little Johnny, who never did anything wrong in his life.
11. This becomes compliance to the laws of divine establishment and it results in genuine humility. Genuine humility is learned, acquired, developed. Arrogance can be overcome by humility. You do not go from arrogance to humility. You go from arrogance to organizational humility to enforced humility to genuine humility. The compliance with the laws of divine establishment. In effect, rendering unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's.
12. The result for the believer and unbeliever alike in a client nation to God is compatibility with the organization. Genuine humility is the supreme trait.

Organizational Virtue

1. The virtue of any organization is measured by its inculcation of discipline.
2. An organization may possess many arrogant people but they are capable of functioning efficiently in that organization because of organizational humility, which leaves to enforced humility.
3. The virtue of any organization is measured by its discipline which makes the organization function efficiently. All divine institutions are organizations.

Public education today is a farce. It is not the quality or the content of the curriculum; it is because there is no enforced humility. You cannot be educated apart from enforced humility. When organizational humility is dropped, then there is no enforced humility, which means no education. No organization can accomplish the purpose for which it is formed without enforced humility, which is discipline. The church cannot accomplish its purpose, without enforced humility. The local church is designed to gather believers together in order to learn doctrine. You must respect the communicator of doctrine in order for you to learn anything. They are not to organize a paramilitary organization. If the church even considers organizing anything like this. That is a failure of the church. Bob is constantly in touch with reporters. The local church ought not to be a source of news. It does not call for us to be in contact with the 4th estate. There is the Dallas Morning News and the new syndicates. There is some rumor that we take you out in the woods and train you. Frankly, I am not in favor of taking any of you out into the woods. You would be dumb enough to start a fire in your tent. If you want to learn how to shoot, that is your business, not ours. There are those who came into this congregation, scooped up a lot of people, left town with a lot of debts and bad feelings, and started a Jones type of church; a cult. They steal Berachah Church tapes or someone sends those idiots tapes and they distort it. We repudiate any group of people who have left this church and have started a cult. These people are completely out of line. A news organization will go out to one of these places, find a tape, and think that we are in league together. The whole virtue of an organization is lost when people fail to realize its importance. Bob may have to constantly live with members of the 4th estate trying to hook Berachah up with cults and with terrorism, which we repudiate; with those who want to go out and camp. We are for the military. We do not try to do their job for them. We are for police officers; but we don't think we ought to do this job. One reporter said we are the strongest arm of the John Birch Society. I don't even know that John Birch Society. I am not here to push the Ku Klux Klan or the John Birch or anything else. We may have unkind things to say about our leadership, but it is merely to illustrate something. We have authority in the church, so that you can sit down there, and, humble or not, you can still function. You can be in psychotic arrogance in your job, but you are still able to function. You can be the most arrogant jackass who ever lived and still do your job. Organizational humility is the most basic humility in life. People are able to function in an organization because they respect the authority of the organization with which they are affiliated.

When you have a tragedy in your life, a heartache, a disaster; you go to work the next day because you have self-discipline.

4. No organization is filled with only virtuous people. Not all are competent.
5. Inculcated discipline and results in enforced humility and efficiency.

Spiritual Humility

1. The local church provides organizational humility which precede genuine humility in the spiritual realm.
2. Genuine humility comes from growing to the filling of the Holy Spirit.
3. The self-discipline necessary to be consistently positive toward any given pastor.
4. The combination of results in academic discipline.
5. From the function of academic discipline comes the development of genuine humility. And for some of you girls, genuine humility is the only way that you are going to have a love life.
6. This genuine humility is absolutely necessary for the plan of God in phase II. The home is where you first learn any sort of humility. This trains you to regulate your own life. Your parents train you how to regulate your life so that you are able to regulate your life in the future. The curse of the Lord is on the house of evil, but He blesses the home of imputed righteousness. He makes war against the arrogant but gives grace to the humble. Fools carry away dishonor. None of us can afford to go to war with God. Clothe yourselves with humility towards one another.

Therefore, humble yourselves under the might hand of God, that He may promote you in due time.

More Points

1. Every believer possesses a sin nature and he uses it.
2. The rebound technique is designed by God to provide instant victory over the old sin nature. It provides restoration of the Spirit.
3. Both enforced and genuine humility are designed by man to function in spite of sin or evil.
4. Self-control or self-discipline is a matter of personal training and volition. You find yourself having failed here or there, and yet you are still able to function in life.
5. Joab is a good illustration of greatness under enforced humility leading to genuine humility. In spite of his sins and failures, Joab continues to function as the field commander of the establishment army, even when he failed. This is because of enforced humility.
- 6.
7. Joab is the greatness of enforced humility. He had great poise.
8. In 2Sam. 19, we will see enforced and genuine humility required in Joab to reprimand David. Only Joab and Nathan were able to do this. He straightened his uncle David out.
9. We also note the complete failure of David in the arrogance complex. He had no real humility. He was involved with emotional arrogance and psychopathic arrogance. He was completely removed from reality. He did not function as a king in any way. He loses his poise because of his son Absalom. In so doing, he reveals a complete lack of humility in all 3 categories: org, enf, and gen. He interlocked with psychopathic arrogance and it resulted in the arrogance of unhappiness. He thought he could still be happy if Absalom was still alive. However, this is false. David assumed in arrogance that his very happiness depended upon Absalom being alive. What is it in life that you think you need to have in order to be happy? The issue in happiness is Bible doctrine. He functions in spite of his sins and failures.

Ahimaaz starts out with a term of politeness. If someone is in authority over you, then you respect their authority. You go with sir or mam. Their personality is not your business. Ahimaaz has some genuine humility here.

The victory is good news; the death of Absalom is bad news. Ahimaaz was a mature believer, so he therefore had great wisdom. In fact, he had no intention of mentioning Absalom. Ahimaaz was one of the intelligence couriers, which allowed David to determine what to do.

Joab knows this young man personally, and he is concerned that, if Absalom's name is brought up, that David might take it out on Ahimaaz. Joab apparently seeks to shield Ahimaaz from David's anger. Ahimaaz has correctly interpreted the outcome. He has applied the plan of God rationale and the essence of God rationale and logistical grace as a rationale; and Ahimaaz understands their relationship between the love of God and the justice of God.

2Sam. 18:19 Ahimaaz son of Zadok said, "Please let me run and tell [announce to] the king the good news that the LORD has delivered [vindicated] him from his enemies."

The other runner will be brutal. There is no skin component here; it has nothing to do with one having light skin or another having dark skin. The African has not learned any doctrine; he may not even be a believer. The problem is in the person's soul. We will have some unkind things to say about the African, but there is no racial issue here. This issue is what is in the soul.

David's psychopathic arrogance will come out.

The African is called a Cushite. The African has a strong body, but no doctrine in his soul. No ability to think under pressure. This is not a Jew versus a Negro here.

Joab tells him that he will not be the one to carry the good news to David. The reason is, the king's son is dead. That bit of news will overshadow the good news. David has been known to kill a courier? We have studied that? Anyway, Joab is not sending Ahimaaz for that reason.

2Sam. 18:20 Joab replied to him, "You are not the man to take good news today. You may do it another day [on another occasion], but today you aren't taking good news, because the king's son is dead."

2Samuel 18:21–23

72David

631_0477

Joab sends the Cushite out to tell the king what he had seen. This is a word for African. Cush used to stand for the entire Sudan, at one time. The African is often rewarded for doing this. He takes off over the mountains.

2Sam. 18:21 Joab then said to the Cushite, "Go tell the king what you have seen." The Cushite bowed [saluted] to Joab and took off running.

Ahimaaz asks again in order to run and report this to David. Ahimaaz persisted at this point. He knew the African and did not believe that he would be thoughtful about giving him the news. He was going to give David the victory information apart from the death of his son. There is organizational humility. Organizational humility is the only way that someone gets to genuine humility. No one is born with genuine humility. The filling of the Holy Spirit can only be maintained when the person has genuine humility.

The parents represent authority and policy. They represent policy in life and they teach policy and principle in life and represent authority in the lives of their children. We learn through orientation to authority. The key is, how do you use your freedom when you get away from your parents? If you fail to learn policy and principle of life, then you will fail out in the real world. You will never be happy in a man-woman relationship; you will never have any friends who last. You must learn as an adult to regulate your own life. You must be able as an adult to take your freedom and use it properly. Your parents do you a great service by setting up a policy and making you stick to it. They set up principles and punish you when they do not meet your standards or hold to those principles. There are a lot of arrogant sinful people who will go to work and do effective work at their job, in spite of the fact that they are liberals, confused, sinful, evil and arrogant. Organizational humility allows them to do a good job, a great job or even an efficient job. It is basically organizational humility.

What comes first, the chicken or the egg? The chicken, because you have to have one chicken at the head of the pecking order. Human life is imputed to the soul and human life resides in the house. Your whole life depended upon obeying your parents. And you whined around the house saying, "Everyone else is doing it, why can't I?" This was enforcing humility.

People without this either rejected their parent's authority. Or the parents did not enforce any rules.

Bob's had different standards. He had to always get home before his father left. Once, Bob was the only sober one at the party, and he drove all the girls home. Bob learned to accept his authority, when there was a disagreement.

A lot of you are twitching in your seats. I know why. You ran away from home. You sneaked out. Your parents would not let you do what the other kids did. Happiness, blessing in life for unbelievers under the laws of divine establishment demand that you have enforced or genuine humility.

Your spiritual authority is the pastor-teacher; he is your spiritual parent. You can accept or reject the authority. The purpose of acceptance of his authority is to learn Bible doctrine.

David failed. Arrogance of emotion. He had abnormal grief for Absalom. He could not function. He ought to be giving out decorations for what the army has done, but he cannot even function. He goes back to HQ in Mahanaim and covers his head and cries. He became psychopathic. As you get into this and interlock with arrogance, you stop functioning. The problem is, you cannot function. Arrogant people can function in their job and in other areas. They can still brush their teeth. They can carry on with the routine. Arrogant people are brought under organizational humility. This produces a system of authority. This produces enforced humility which overcomes the arrogance factor.

There are a lot of people who play football who are totally arrogant. They are under a system of discipline. Many will lose out when they lose out the enforced humility factor.

They will go out and take cocaine or some drug. Their volition is tied into interlocking systems of arrogance. There is no such thing as a person who is always humble. You can be consistently humble. This is why military service is something that every young man should be in. This puts you under a system of authority that you resent. You learn to carry on, in spite of your feelings.

2 men will race to headquarters and Ahimaaz will not go unless he is ordered to. The African is able to run and to do a good job of running, and his salute was his enforced humility.

We already saw one of Joab's mistakes—the reprimand of the junior officer. Enforced humility carried him along. When you are in psychopathic arrogance, you are too divorced from the reality of life. You have an authority in your soul; your volition. You restrain yourself when some idiot goes by and makes gestures. You keep yourself together at other times when people are falling apart.

You are born and you are given parents. You are born into organizational humility. You are in a very humble state as a baby, helpless and powerless. At the same time you learn enforced humility. You learn how to take your own volition and limit your own volition. You learn not to go beyond your own limitations. But when you try to compete with everyone or to be tougher than everyone and you go beyond your capabilities, and you put on airs and want to begin at the top, that is arrogant.

There were a lot of young people from this church, and the parents would run Bob down. The kids all went to college together and the ones who busted out were the ones on negative volition. The ones with humility did fine. There was no enforced humility. "You may not like his personality, but listen." In life, freedom is not the issue, authority is the issue. Can you regulate your life? Can you go somewhere that know one knows you? Do you go bananas? What happens when you are out from under the restraining eye.

"I'm a free spirit." Free spirits do not last 3 minutes. They have no self-discipline, no control over their own lives.

Worst problem today is dope.

Everyone has to start out with enforced humility. The kid who sneaks behind his parent's back, the kid who ridicules his teacher, tomorrow, he is scum, dead, a druggie, a suicide.

You see it in the music that the kids listen to. Give them a tail and a tree and they would hang from it. We all will have a certain number of tragedies in our lives. We will have great moments and some difficulties, individually or collectively.

In the competition of life, in the function of life, in the development of your life, all of these things are determined by your volition. People tend to blame God for what their own volition does. You never respect and understand your own volition until you put yourself under the authority of someone else. A woman married to a lousy guy. Putting your volition under a drill sergeant. If you wipe out authority, you have anarchy; you do not have freedom. If you wife our freedom, it is anarchy.

This is not a race between a white man and a black man; or 2 from different strata of life. This is a matter of the function of the soul.

Every one of us has some talent. This is why fundies have preachers meetings because they get all confused.

In a local church, there is some kind of a board; there are officers and deacons. Bob thinks they have the best administration of anyone that he has known. Personality is not an issue. Natural attraction or natural dislike are never the issue with your pastor. Whether you like him or not is not the issue.

Everything in life must come from the principle of authority. Perhaps you have a high IQ, but it never does you any good. The same thing is true of many criminals. Many of them have high IQ's but they are not willing to place themselves under authority. People with low IQ's can learn more than those with high IQ's because they are willing to place themselves under authority in order to learn. Before the blessing, there is acceptance of authority.

There are many church tramps that go from one church to another, one organization to another, and they reject the principle of authority. Unbelievers can be moral and so, that is not the Christian way of life. The Royal Family Honor Code is the key to our life.

Some people choose a dress code. Others set up some system of works or a church loyalty thing, or an observation of taboos. All of these a pseudo systems. All systems of pseudo spiritually lack subordination. The minister who gets out of line gets double discipline from God.

You never have to worry about pastors. You might have to worry about your company commander or the coach or the principal at your school. You never have to worry about the pastor, because he will get it so horribly.

Ahimaaz is aggressive, but his aggression recognizes authority. He will be tactful at David's HQ but aggressive with Joab. In both cases, he recognizes authority. It is controlled aggressiveness. This recognizes the authority of his superior, who is Joab. Objectivity, flexibility and the ability to think under pressure. He is persistent in submitting his request to go. He is persisted but respectful.

"But, please, sir, come what may, let me run after the African." What one may lack in great athletic ability can be made up by thinking, motivation and determination.

Bob noticed that coaches took kids with the strong arm. Bob wanted a person with balance, and could stand on one leg. He learns to always hold the ball the same way for a fast ball. He learns and he hides it. Bob taught them to do all of the correction with their stride foot. They learn a system. Bob can make a kid with normal ability into a pitcher. He just has to be willing to learn a whole system before he gets out and pitches his first ball.

You can't cut it without poise. All of these things relate.

This young man has something in his soul. His enforced humility has become genuine humility. He may know that once the runner gets out of the routine system, can he be tactful; will he consider the feelings of the king.

Why a half a chapter on a race? Therefore, we are going to tackle it.

A lot of young men think it is unmanly to be tactful. Or to be polite. Some of this must have been in the thinking of Ahimaaz. While all of this talking is going on, the African is running.

Zeh + lama together mean why? It means on account of this. He is motivated to carry out these orders. "Why are you motivated? Why do you want to run? You will have no reward for going." You have no chance to beating the African.

Joab tries to check and restrain Ahimaaz. He persists, and therefore makes an issue out of his own motivation. His motivation is still virtuous. He is concerned about David. He wants to spare his feelings, and it is true respect.

2Sam. 18:22 [However, Ahimaaz son of Zadok persisted and said to Joab, "No matter what \[come what may be\], please let me run too behind the Cushite!" Joab replied, "My son, why do you want to run since you won't get a reward?"](#)

He makes his last plea. He requests permission one more time. Joab thinks about this and tells him to run. He outruns the African. There are steep cliffs. Absalom was lured into the rugged terrain and he was defeated in the forests of Ephraim. Most of this is very rugged country. The African took the short route; Ahimaaz when straight down to the valley and ran in the plain. He thought through this. He took the easier running, which was a longer distance. The Cushite took a direct, shorter route that was difficult running. He thinks when he is under pressure. The greatest thing we can do is to take the doctrine which we learned and to apply it when under pressure.

2Sam. 18:23 "No matter what I want to run!" "Then run!" Joab said to him. So Ahimaaz ran by way of the plain and outran the Cushite.

A tremendous amount of talent in Berachah Church. Even though many of you listen to doctrine every day, at least once; these talents are of little meaning apart from doctrine.

The African has great natural talent as a runner.

In the past century, the Arabs exploited Africans to the maximum, using them as slaves. The British went into some nations at this time and established law and order. Mary Slessher traveled all over Africa as a missionary, leading many to Jesus Christ. What fascinated Bob is that no African threatened her, apart from witch doctors. Africans ruled by Africans is generally a tyranny. Rhodesia has now been destroyed and it was a wonderful nation at one time. It is now a communist system; there is one radio station and one television station. 2000 white people are leaving Rhodesia every month.

Going back to the New Testament this fall. They are racing toward headquarters. This is not a racial issue. This is all about doctrine. There is no reason that African countries cannot be prosperous or Southeast Asia, except a rejection of the truth and the gospel and establishment truth. This is all related to the truth; not to the color of one's skin. The issue is the soul; not the race; not the color of the skin.

The battle of Ephraim takes place in a rugged area. High country, a little plain, and David's headquarters is in Mahanaim. The African takes the shortest rout over very difficult terrain. Ahimaaz is taking a longer distance but much of it over plain.

David is sitting between the 2 gates. There is the tower gate and a guard room over the top of the gate. It is a double gate and double walled system. There are 2 walls and 2 gates in this one area. Guards on each gate. David is sitting between these two gates. This is the gate courtyard. David is preoccupied with Absalom. He is in interlocking systems of arrogance. So, this is the inner and outer gate with a courtyard between them. David cannot see over the gate. There are staff with him. He can see the high tower called the gate tower.

The officer of the day or a sentry is meant by tsapha. There is an observation tower to observe the terrain for any signs of a hostile force and this was a routine function for the officer of the day. As he made his observation, he looked up and saw. He sees one runner approaching the gates. Ahimaaz is the one he sees.

David was probably saved by this young man, who will give David the important information, which is that they had won. David hears that there is one man, which would be good news, that they had won. A bunch of men would indicate a wide scale retreat.

2Sam. 18:24 David was sitting between the two gates when the watchman went up to the roof of the gate and over to the wall. The watchman looked out and saw a man running alone.

David was able to think professionally. Since there are not a number of men running, David assumes that there is good news. The runner is sprinting and he can see the tape ahead and he knows he is ahead of the African. The African would have won, if they ran side-by-side. However, this man had doctrine and ran a smarter route.

2Sam. 18:25 He called out and told the king. The king said, "If he's alone, he bears good news." As the first runner came closer,

The watchman is really the officer of the day. The gatekeeper here is the sentry.

David is coming up the steps, but the officer of the day calls to the sentry, because he will have to keep the gate open for this second man.

2Sam. 18:26 the watchman [the officer of the day] saw another man running. He called out to the gatekeeper [sentry], "Look! Another man is running alone!" "This one is also bringing good news," said the king.

The king is able to reach correct conclusions on the insignificant things of life. Normal people, even when psychopathic, can come to good conclusions about routine procedures. However, interlocking systems of arrogance have him confused.

The officer of the day says, "I am the one seeing" but this is an idiom which means "in my opinion." He recognizes the running style of the first man. His features could not be distinguished, but his running style was known.

No one is instantly humble. This takes time, authority and discipline, until a person is able to control themselves.

2Sam. 18:27 The watchman [the officer of the day] said [commented], "The way the first man runs looks to me like the way Ahimaaz son of Zadok runs." "This is a good man [that one is an honorable man]; he comes with good news [the better good news]," the king commented.

Ahimaaz thinks and speaks like an aristocrat. Most aristocracy starts with achievers. They rule because they have great ability. Charles Martel. All achievement in life is meaningless unless it is related to the soul or related to thought. The poor arrogant person who builds up muscles. Those who just build muscle to build muscle often do so in their souls as well. You cannot even be a good lover unless you can think.

Bob has noticed that some of the most beautiful women go out with the strangest guys. There is no problem with muscles; but it cannot take the place of thought.

Ahimaaz is a great athlete in his own right, although the African is a greater runner.

Aristocracy always gets its start with thought; the ability to think. The ability to take responsibility for others. We in effect are trying to appear like macho men. The jean era. The running around and looking sloppy. This represents a mentality. This is the believer who lacks doctrine and the unbeliever who lacks truth. These are all symptoms. Same as the hippies on tv late Saturday Night. Bob sees men who cannot be made into good soldiers in a few months. They have no humility or respect for authority. They have no ability to learn under authority. Hippies do not win wars. The whole hippie aspect; a gypsy is a whole attitude of mind. Reflected by a kind of living.

The report is given to Ahimaaz. He addressed himself to the king by hailing him. He says, "Shalom." He takes a moment to catch his breath. He makes his message in one word, all he is able to get out.

All peace comes through military victory. With one word, he can convey everything to David. If you have learned to think and you have thousands of words in your vocabulary, you can often communicate everything in one word. Ahimaaz announces the news with respect for David's thinking. Ahimaaz will become one of the greatest of the high priests.

He is in the presence of the king for the second sentence. David comes down from the tower over the wall. The messenger bows down, as per protocol. The African will show no good manners. The African will bow to Joab, but he will not bow down to David. He expects someone to earn his respect. The African doesn't like David; Joab has earned the African's respect. When you look to authority and expect them to earn your respect, then you are in trouble.

In the case of Ahimaaz, his soul has doctrine and he has true humility; the African has no doctrine and no respect for authority. The African has a soul kink. "I will only respect the one who has earned my respect." That person will never have any happiness in life. There will be a lack of capacity for life and a lack of capacity for love.

The African suffers from authority arrogance. He rejects authority, which is the environment for freedom.

The Problem of the African

1. Authority arrogance is that egocentricity whereby legitimate authority from God is rejected resulting in disorientation to life.
2. The laws of divine establishment define legitimate authorities delegated by God to human beings. No such thing as a perfect person. Some have authority and some do not; and people on both sides have sin natures. When you reject authority, you are suffering from interlocking systems of arrogance.
3. Since all people possess the old sin nature, humility orients to the principle of authority. Arrogance rejects authority by emphasizing the personality. Arrogance says, "I need rapport to obey the authority. I must respect the authority." This is why universal military training is necessary. Bob chews out a redheaded boy.
4. This begins with human life at birth. The authority of the parents is key to life. It is not who your parents are or anything else; it is just their authority. Particularly when they are being unreasonable. You face the real issues at this point. Upon this hangs your whole life. Most of you think of happiness as a boy or a girl; prosperity, wealth, etc. You never realize that the real issue is the authority of your parents. When you are born again, then it is the authority of your pastor. All of us receive the imputation of human life. Human life is imputation to the soul. With human life and a sin nature, what keeps you in line? The authority of your parents.

Zeruiah did a tremendous job raising her 3 sons. Joab will demonstrate his parental training very shortly in this passage. Mankind needs orientation to life. A petty person is someone who is so arrogant that he thinks he is always right and thinks that anyone who offends him is wrong. There are a lot of pleasing things in life, but without respect for authority. Like the wonderful dog you love, but as soon as a stranger comes into the run, he jumps all over him and gets hair all over him. Dr. Armading said, "Either this dog goes or I go." This dog has not been trained, like Mike Stribbling trains. Be concentrating on them who are ruling over you (Heb. 13). You do not emulate the pastor, his personality or his sin nature; you emulate his doctrine; you emulate what he teaches. Children, obey your parents in everything because this pleases the Lord (Col.3:20).

2Sam. 18:28 Ahimaaz called out to the king, "All is well [shalom = peace, prosperity, victory]," and then bowed down to the king with his face to the ground. He continued, "May the LORD your God be praised! He delivered up the men who rebelled against my lord the king."

2Samuel 18:(26–27), 28–32

72David

631_0479

Got a good copy of this lesson. A lot of people miss what is taught because they are so busy trying to have an opinion about what is being taught.

2Sam. 18:26 the watchman [the officer of the day] saw another man running. He called out to the gatekeeper [sentry], "Look! Another man is running alone!" "This one is also bringing good news," said the king.

2Sam. 18:27 The watchman [the officer of the day] said [commented], "The way the first man runs looks to me like the way Ahimaaz son of Zadok runs." "This is a good man [that one is an honorable man]; he comes with good news [the better good news]," the king commented.

Doctrine is the mind of Christ. Bible doctrine is the absolute authority and standard for faith and practice for every believer who fulfills the plan of God for his life. You must be taught the Bible doctrine to exercise your spiritual freedom.

The child who reject parental authority will also reject pastoral authority. This results in disorientation to spiritual life. This rejects God's perfect plan for our life.

The African, as we have already noted, is disoriented to life through rejecting authority. He is arrogant. He will not submit to anyone's authority unless their earn his respect. The great flaw of leadership today is the leader who feels that he must earn the respect of those who are under his command. The leader fulfills his function, whether you are respect or not. Arrogance demands to have their respect earned.

When you feel that your opinion is more important than military life, you desert. If you think your opinion is more important than what is being taught, you get up and leave; or you talk; or you look around. Some are so preoccupied with what they think that they lose track of reality. They are disoriented to life. The African is such an illustration. Everyone is tested with someone in authority.

Many people have promotion and success, but they have no happiness. Ahimaaz has passed the test and the African has failed the test. All self-righteous people are arrogant and they value their own opinion over circumstances around them.

This hiss is by far the greatest noise factor. This is the arrogance of people. Bob has not been to a movie for sometime, but he understands that they are quite noisy now. American people are no longer functioning like American people. They are self-centered arrogance.

Barak is what he says next. The verb means to bless. The passive participle means being blessed, praised. Sagar in the Piel means to deliver, to shut down; to close down an opposing power. Throughout, notice that he respects the king and his position.

Ahimaaz recognizes that Jesus Christ controls history, for he calls Him Jehovah Elohim. This reflects his own application of doctrine, as well as his courtesy. There is no reference to Absalom. This expresses his own humility and his own orientation to life. He is occupied with the Person of Christ. Also the establishment rationale as well. He is occupied with the Person of Christ as the source of the victory. David is not, due to his emotional arrogance. This was the perfect report. It was brief, doctrinal, and it eliminated any reference to Absalom. He is obviously a great believer and he will be the High Priest under King Solomon.

2Sam. 18:28 Ahimaaz called out to the king, "All is well [shalom = peace, prosperity, victory]," and then bowed down to the king with his face to the ground. He continued, "May the LORD your God be praised! He delivered up [shut down] the men who rebelled against my lord the king."

The king wants to know about Absalom. Ahimaaz is going to allow Joab to deal with this. Hamown means noise, sound, a crowd, a commotion.

Ahimaaz refuses to be the messenger about Absalom. He is thoughtful, tactful and he has good manners.

2Sam. 18:29 The king asked, "Is the young man Absalom all right?" Ahimaaz replied, "When Joab sent the king's servant [the African] and your servant, I saw a big disturbance [commotion, a large crowd], but I don't know what it was [what was happening]."

Then we will get the brutal report of the African. The king was satisfied with that report and did not pursue the matter further. Ahimaaz demonstrates great honor and appreciation for David's authority.

2Sam. 18:30 The king said, "Move aside and stand here." So he stood to one side.

Ahimaaz is now in the presence of the king.

Now we have the report of the African. "Let my lord, the king, receive the good news." This is official protocol. The African was the official runner. There is no saluting, no bowing down. When he left Joab, he bowed himself down. So, here, he only uses the official language.

Joab apparently instructed the African to not mention Absalom. Now, when he is asked, perhaps the African will determine to act on his own, and determine that he can break the news to David in a reasonable way.

The African says exactly what Joab told him to say. Revolution is tyranny and God blesses the establishment power.

2Sam. 18:31 [Just then the Cushite came and said, "May my lord the king hear the good news: today the LORD has delivered \[vindicated\] you from all those rising up against you!"](#)

The African will get his oar in. He is looking for a reward. His arrogance will catch up with him. He will end up humiliating an entire army, because of what the African says. He was told to keep his mouth shut about Absalom. He could not resist it. Ahimaaz kept his mouth shut. The African could not hold back.

Joab needs to explain all of this to David, and he would have done this right.

Bob learned in seminary how to look up all the good commentators and how to tell them from the lousy commentators. Every single conservative commentator will lambast Joab, and they are all wrong. They will criticize Joab's harsh and cruel words. These jackasses never bother to look at the context. Joab demonstrates great moral courage. He will be most spiritual.

This African is arrogant and he is probably mad at Ahimaaz for stealing his thunder, and it is possible the Ahimaaz got some money from David for this report. So, he thinks that he can get a reward if he speaks up and tells everything.

Ahimaaz won the race because he figured out the easier route.

This African is a very smart person. He is able to say that Absalom is dead, without appearing to offend the king. And, this makes him the first to reveal this information to the king.

God the Holy Spirit devotes half a chapter to this. The imperfect is really the jussive of wish, and it means, "Let the enemies of my Lord the King, become as that young man." He does not name Absalom by name. So he follows the letter of the law. Joab said, "Don't mention his name" and so he doesn't mention his name. Don't say, that Absalom is dead. So, this African does not use the word "dead" nor does he mention Absalom's name.

He makes an attempt to flatter the king. He is a very ambitious man. He is looking for a reward. Inordinate ambition related to arrogance. He thinks that he can play Joab by following his command to the word, but he could get a reward from David at the same time for filling out the report.

The African mentions the principle of evil as well. He lacks honor. There are a lot of people who will flatter us. A lot of people have figured out some way to make themselves useful to us.

Many times, people who despise you flatter you. Being arrogant, you are subject to flattery. There are those who will turn against you at the first provocation. David was a sucker and he is involved in interlocking systems of arrogance.

2Sam. 18:32 The king asked the Cushite, "Is the young man Absalom all right?" The Cushite replied, "May what has become of the young man happen to the enemies of my lord the king and to all who rise up against you with evil intent."

There is one more verse to go, but we will not explain it. 2Sam. 19 will explain it.

2Sam. 18:33 The king was deeply moved [emotionally disturbed] and went up to the gate chamber and wept. As he walked, he cried, "My son Absalom! My son, my son Absalom! If only I had died instead of you, Absalom, my son, my son!"

He mentions dying himself. He cannot think. He is out of it emotionally. He should be gathering up his army and going back to Jerusalem, and he cannot get it together.

Job 5:19–

As a believer, you have a wall of fire around you.

Job 5:19 He will rescue you from six calamities; no harm will touch you in seven.

In economics calamity, you have to be able to eat. Every professional soldier needs to have a relationship with God so that he is not killed.

Job 5:20 In famine He will redeem you from death, and in battle, from the power of the sword.

He is to be hidden in a place of security. Not fearing means, he will be able to think under pressure.

The believer will be safe from slander which is social attacks.

Job 5:21 You will be safe from slander and you will not fear destruction [death] when it comes.

Protection is what is being taught. We will take 2 things out of the 4. Take depression from v. 20 and then death from v. 21. They are both extreme disasters.

Saqach which means to laugh. This is not nervous laughter, but enjoyable laughter. Animals represent danger at that time, and it is something that is often unexpected and sudden. It might be cars, transportation problem, or something which puts your life in danger.

God provides a wall of fire, and in that wall of fire, you are able to think. Bible doctrine is greater than anything in life. But Bible doctrine in the Bible is useless. It must be Bible doctrine in your soul. It must be the plan of God rationale. Imputation rationale. Establishment rationale.

The person who thinks under pressure must be relaxed. If you are uptight, you cannot think. The laugh here indicates that you are relaxed and able to think.

Job 5:22 You will laugh at destruction and hunger and not fear the animals of the earth.

The stones of the field are the weapons of the battlefield. The wall of fire is a guaranteed contract of protection. Only the integrity of God can transfer a person from time into eternity. Once he is called home, nothing can remove him from earth. Historical or natural disaster cannot destroy the believer.

Job 5:23 For you will have a covenant with the stones of the field, and the wild animals will be at peace with you.

The human soul and the human body are contained in the tent. The tent is in a state of prosperity. In dying, you will have dying grace. There will be minimum or no pain and blessing in dying. You will not forfeit blessing or reward. You will then visit your home, which is in heaven. You will not forfeit blessing or reward. This moves you into a greater sphere of blessing.

Job 5:24 You will know that your tent is secure, and nothing will be missing when you inspect your home.

Blessing by association. Your family will be looked over by God after you die. Loved ones will continue to enjoy the benefit of your spiritual status when you were on earth.

Job 5:25 You will also know that your offspring will be many and your descendants like the grass of the earth.

Here is what is pertinent to David with respect to Absalom. You will come to death at a full age. This is where David should have been applying the dying rationale of the believer. In all matters of life and death, the most important thing is timing. God's timing is perfect. This is what David should have applied. That is the right time. We do not always have explanations why loved ones have died. Bob has wondered why this or that person died; a common question. God knows what He is doing. What is necessary, is for us to know what He knows. It is an essence of God rationale. When David's first son by Bathsheba dies, David recovers and moves right on. Here, he should have done the same thing. It was God's time to take Absalom. His abnormal grief has him questioning the wisdom of God. David is arrogant and his opinion as to how long Absalom ought to live is more important to him than anything else in life. Having normal grief is wonderful. Because David is so preoccupied with his own opinion, he is about to destroy the client nation of Israel. He is in psychopathic arrogance as well as in emotional arrogance. No one has the right to put their personal opinions and feelings above the will of God.

The illustration is taken from agriculture. There is a right and a wrong time to pick corn. A farmer who knows his business knows when the time is. God knows best and He must decide the manner in which we die. All corn does not ripen at the same time. God knows when it is time to harvest us. When the right time comes, the integrity of God removes the soul and spirit from the body. Since God knows the best time, God knows perfectly what he is doing. When Job lost his sons and daughters, he said, "The Lord gave and the Lord took away; blessed be the name of the Lord.

Job 5:26 You will approach the grave in full vigor, as a stack of sheaves is gathered in its season.

Now we come to the conclusion. All of us will have the opportunity to apply this doctrine. Here is and apply this to yourself. As a result, this is the beginning of the explanation as to why Joab did a great thing; a courageous thing. This only happened once in the life of the king.

Job 5:27 We have investigated this, and it is true! Hear it and understand it for yourself.

2Samuel 18:(31–32), 33

72David

631_0480

We're getting out of David in a week or two.

The number of people who have been offended and have left has been gratifying. Every time there seems to be too many people the herd thins itself.

Bob has been reading commentators on Joab and they tear him apart and say he is totally out of line and one commentator said, "Joab wasn't even Christian." Many of these men were brilliant commentators, but they had nothing to say about these passages.

2Sam. 18:31 Just then the Cushite came and said, "May my lord the king hear the good news: today the LORD has delivered you from all those rising up against you!"

The African was brutal in his response to David. Joab apparently gave very strict orders about this, that he would report directly to David about Absalom.

2Sam. 18:32 The king asked the Cushite, "Is the young man Absalom all right?" The Cushite replied, "May what has become of the young man happen to the enemies of my lord the king and to all who rise up against you with evil intent."

David is out of line now, emotionally. Bob read this. "You may have noticed that I did not put my heart and soul into that." People have to really think a great deal about himself in order to say these things.

Aircraft view. 1st and 2nd gate. Officer of the day stays in the first tower. David is between the 2 walls. Now, the king weeping, that is normal. Weeping as the appreciation of drama is simple appreciation for life.

David goes up to the guard room above the gate and he went up there crying as we went, saying, "Absalom, Absalom." And then he makes a statement that is completely divorced from reality. If there is anything the king needs to be is, alive. If the country is to be delivered, David must make a series of absolutely great decisions. The pressure is not off; the battle gives him the opportunity to enter into a time of reconstruction.

David needs to be completely alert and he is out of it. He has gone from emotional arrogance to psychopathic arrogance. His statement speaks against every major ration late by which crisis is met is pushed to the background, and he makes the dumbest statements of his life. They are as stupid and dumb as his comments before Goliath were great. David is as occupied with David as Satan was when he said, "I will be like the Most High God."

Tragically, David is not thinking about the woman he loves, including children. That is true love, ladies. Your children are never as important to your husband, under true love. David is so preoccupied with his son that he now has a totally abnormal life divorced from reality.

How do you know when you are becoming so arrogant? David, a normal family man, at this point would be glad to know that Bathsheba is safe. David is a mature believer in a psychopathic, psychotic condition. If mature believers can do this, then look out for the 12. Arrogance is stronger than love.

13. David has been a lousy father to his children.

For awhile, David is totally disqualified from ruling in Israel. Until he recovers from interlocking systems of arrogance, he is not fit to rule over Israel.

What about the woman in interlocking systems of arrogance? If her husband is weak, her ambition will push him beyond his capabilities; beyond God's will for his life. If it was Bathsheba who was arrogant, it might have been good for David to say, "Would that I were dead."

if you are getting married to push the man upstairs, you should remain in spinsterhood and contemplate infinity for many hours.

David's greatest hour will happen in 2Sam. 19.

2Sam. 18:33 The king was deeply moved and went up to the gate chamber and wept. As he walked, he cried, "My son Absalom! My son, my son Absalom! If only I had died instead of you, Absalom, my son, my son!"

We first need to fix interlocking systems of arrogance in our minds. In almost every case, sin is related to arrogance, in some way or another. The whole purpose of arrogance is to divorce the individual from reality, just as it did in the case of Satan.

If Lucifer the son of the morning walked in here tonight, you women would all swoon. He is the most beautiful creature to come from the hand of God. Beauty and physical symmetry would be all found in him.

Cherubs were apparently all male, and when they came to earth, they turned the world of women all upside down. Women were absolutely floors; their breath was taken away by all of these angels.

There has never been a creature like Lucifer. He had it all; beauty, brain, brawn, personality, talent greatness, all in one creature. Why did this one creature have so much? He was the creature above all angelic creatures in heaven. One day, in his super genius, he had a thought. "I believe we can improve the efficiency of heaven." He was going to eliminate God, his objective. The very moment that this thought occurred, it was the birth of sin and arrogance. He said, "I will be like the most high God" and that was the fall of Satan.

There was perfect environment in the Garden of Eden, and there was a tree of knowledge of good and evil; information that man did not need in innocence. Adam and the woman had fantastic beauty and they were both geniuses. The one category of knowledge, they did not need to know the difference between good and evil. They were in a state of perfection. They had a relationship with God. They had everything that Satan had. The greatest creatures in the human realm—in the natural realm of the earth.

With all of that, they had to be tested, because they were put on one planet only, with the same accouterments as Satan, in order to face the same test. The great trial of heaven had been completed.

Environmentalists are always talking about improving the environment; and yet, it was perfect at this time. The woman had a pet, a snake, and Satan used the snake in order to engage the woman in conversation. "God won't let you eat from that tree because it would make you as smart as He is." There are always some ladies somewhere; sometimes everywhere, still trying to prove that original point. They are trying to prove it to us now. Satan knew he could win his appeal if the woman would eat from that tree. He knew that he had to get to the woman the same way that he sinned. He employed arrogance. That is why arrogance is almost a synonym for the sin nature. There are some areas of the sin nature not related to arrogance, but very few. A woman cannot stand a perfect man, which is why we all have to practice weakness.

The woman gives Adam the forbidden fruit, with one bite missing, and he took it. No matter how smart a person is, he is never too smart for arrogance. Arrogance is always smarter than he is. To show you how arrogant the man was, when God interrogated the first sinners, in man's arrogance, he blamed God. He began to blame God immediately. Sheer arrogance. What was reality if you eat from that tree? Dying, you will die. Spiritual death and then physical death. Spiritual death manifests itself in arrogance.

Arrogance is not only a sin, a series of sins, the modus operandi of the old sin nature, but arrogance is much more than that. It is a way of life under the control of the old sin nature. It is stronger than love. You think your bf loves you? How arrogant is he?

Adam chose to go out for the woman because he was mad for her, and then he blames her. Arrogance is highly inconsistent.

The first parents knew what it was like to be in perfect environment. They both chose the environment to go from death to death. Spiritual death to physical death. The first sin was negative volition. But Jesus then offered them another tree, the cross.

From arrogance comes the whole realm of sins and human good comes from arrogance. Not only human good, but degeneracy and evil stems from that same arrogance.

Psalm 25:8–9 God and honorable is the Lord; totally free from arrogance; therefore, He instructs sinners in the way.

Arrogance is more powerful than human love. Whatever is greater is arrogance must be thought, since arrogance is thought. Truth in 3 categories. To keep the human race from being wiped out, the laws of divine establishment. If arrogance is to be defeated, then it must be defeated on the battleground, which is thinking. It is not surprising that the #1 category of arrogance is the sin of pride. We think of pride and egocentricity, but such is not the case. When you are vindictive, implacable, jealous, etc; you are thinking about yourself. Your hyper sensitivities are functioning. Jealousy is arrogance. Vindictiveness is arrogance. Guilt complex is arrogance. You want to make things up to God because you are arrogant and filled with yourself. Pride and arrogance covers the verbal sins. Why do you malign and judge? You build yourself up and you tear others down. This moves on to overt sins. In some cases, this is why people fornicate. They are not interested in their partner, they are thinking of themselves; it is high time they are gratified. Nearly every sin in life has an arrogance connotation. This means that all members of the human race live in one of 2 places. You are either inside interlocking systems of arrogance or you are outside. If you are outside, you are outside due to organizational humility, enforced humility and genuine humility.

Tomorrow night, we examine interlocking systems of arrogance.

Matt. 20:1–16      interlocking Systems of Arrogance    72David      631_0481

We are between 2Sam. 18 and 19. Emergency meeting 7September 1980 in order to comply with the IRS. There are a lot of dishonest, dishonorable churches, and some are not even churches, but they are operating out of their garages as a tax dodge. This is related, to some degree, to Fx groups?

Gate 1 the battlefield of the Angelic Conflict, which is the individual soul of the believer, and arrogance is a great factor in that battle. As a man thinks in his right lobe, so he is. Most of the mental attitude sins are related to arrogance.

James 4:6 He gives greater grace to the grace oriented; but He makes war on the arrogant.

When we believe in Jesus Christ, we had the imputation of logistical grace. There is something beyond logistical grace, which is called greater grace. This is the issue. This is greater grace; the blessings of life. He gives supergrace. Arrogance is a way of thinking which manifests its power in many ways. It is greater than true love, greater than perfect environment.

In the same way, but under the command of your pastor elders.

Bob Covers the 4 Words for Pastor-teachers:

1. poimê + didaskolos. That indicates the primary function of the pastor: teaching and shepherding his flock.
2. Then the word episkopos (over + looking; overseer). The intensive study of the Word of God leads to policy-making which is appropriate.
3. The third designation is διακονος. The concept of administration. It can be used for those who help the pastor but for the pastor as well.
4. Πρεσβυτερος which is translated elder, which is anachronistic. Commander, the chief authority. 1Peter 5:5 recruits, be under the authority of your elders. And all of you clothe yourselves with humility toward one another, because God resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble. Once a believer learns doctrine and become spiritually self-sustaining, he uses the doctrine in his soul to make great decisions and he uses his soul to make proper decisions.

1Tim. 6:4–6 he is conceited, understanding nothing, but having a sick interest in disputes and arguments over words. From these come envy, quarreling, slanders, evil suspicions, and constant disagreement among men whose minds are depraved and deprived of the truth, who imagine that godliness is a way to material gain. But godliness with contentment is a great gain. Proverbs Arrogance precedes destruction. Before a fall, arrogance of life.

There is an organizational humility involved with education and with most any vocation. A man's arrogance will bring him low, but a spirit of humility will... Job: He opens the ears of men, which seals instruction. He may turn aside from his discipline and protect man from the arrogance complex. Isa. 13:11 I will punish the world for its evil, and I will humble the pride tyranny.

Psalm 10:2–4 is a great summary of gate 1: In arrogance the wicked relentlessly pursue the afflicted; let them be caught in the schemes they have devised. For the wicked one boasts about his own cravings; the one who is greedy curses and despises the LORD. In all his scheming, the wicked arrogantly thinks: "There is no accountability, since God does not exist."

be informed by the truth; do not be distracted by the truth. Truth must be the area in which the human mind functions. Rejection of truth. Arrogance distracts those who have rejected truth.

Arrogance produces a whole series of mental attitude sins. Hatred, guilt complex.

The second gate is negative volition arrogance, which naturally follows.

If arrogance reject the communicator and the content of what he communicates, then arrogance produces negative volition. Mental arrogance, negative volition arrogance is a natural consequence. There is thought or lack of thought. You cannot even receive information without having a basic vocabulary.

You cannot get through this life like a dog, always expressing your feelings. Every time you hear truth and reject it, you are like Pharaoh Amenhotep II before Moses.

There are a lot of people in this country who will vote in this country. They have a history of building up scar tissue in their souls. They want to vote for the person who offers them the biggest handout. They want to receive without any reason to work or achieve.

If you are irresponsible, you will get an irresponsible government. Once you say no to establishment truth, it is like a believer saying no toward Bible doctrine. Emotion eventually takes over with the build up of scar tissue. The end result is the destruction of freedom.

The personality means nothing when it comes to the teacher. The destructive function that destroys the client nation to God. There is an oscillation between self-righteousness and self-pity.

The third gate is impulsive arrogance.

this is the abuse of authority when one possesses it. This occurs when the believer cannot handle authority because he is arrogant. Elijah abused his spiritual authority when he ordered the execution of the prophets of Baal. That was not in God's plan.

Fourth gate: Institutional arrogance, which is disorientation to life.

There are legitimate organizations everywhere we go; stop lights, etc. We can go from point A to point B because we respect traffic laws. Those who think they are greater than an organization or institution. There must be an organization and a policy and a purpose.

The first institution that we encounter is in the home. The person who falls into arrogance does so because he succeeds in an organization and distorts his success into presumption.

Both systems have an arrogance in thinking. Home or business or school all have organizational rules and laws. Even fraternities and sororities. Civic organizations; the local church. We are all a part of organizations.

Fifth gate is blind arrogance. God's qualifications for blessing. These all require cognizance of doctrine. Blind arrogance demands that one thinks he can achieve something in the spiritual life because he has a unique experience.

Legalism is the principle by which this functions. It includes sincerity, the emphasis upon experience. The gift of tongues is often distorted into blind arrogance. The plan of God stands or falls based upon what you do and how you behave. Man is emphasized. He forms false conclusions and establishes false standards. Any sign of friendliness implies that person is madly in love with you. This is a part of personality arrogance.

Conspiracy or trouble-maker in a church, rebels against a church and a pastor. If this is accomplished in arrogance, and the church can be destroyed by such persons. The person who is dissatisfied with the pastor should move on. Conspiracy has a way of distracting those who are positive. Personal opinion is established over church policy.

Matt. 20 talks to a labor union about this.

Mat 20:1–10 "For the kingdom of heaven is like a landowner who went out early in the morning to hire workers for his vineyard. After agreeing with the workers on one denarius for the day, he sent them into his vineyard. When he went out about nine in the morning, he saw others standing in the marketplace doing nothing. To those men he said, 'You also go to my vineyard, and I'll give you whatever is right.' So off they went. About noon and at three, he went out again and did the same thing. Then about five he went and found others standing around, and said to them, 'Why have you been standing here all day doing nothing?' "Because no one hired us,' they said to him. "'You also go to my vineyard,' he told them. When evening came, the owner of the vineyard told his foreman, 'Call the workers and give them their pay, starting with the last and ending with the first.' "When those who were hired about five came, they each received one denarius. So when the first ones came, they assumed they would get more, but they also received a denarius each.

Management has fulfilled its contract to the union, but the union complains anyway. They received contract wages and they still complain.

Mat 20:11–16 When they received it, they began to complain to the landowner: 'These last men put in one hour, and you made them equal to us who bore the burden of the day and the burning heat!' "He replied to one of them, 'Friend, I'm doing you no wrong. Didn't you agree with me on a denarius? Take what's yours and go. I want to give this last man the same as I gave you. Don't I have the right to do what I want with my business? Are you jealous because I'm generous?' "So the last will be first, and the first last."

They were thinking in terms of mental arrogance. They think that it is their right to get some kind of remuneration more than what they had agreed to. The business owner had no contract with these others, and he is allowed to give them whatever he wants. Management points out that this is lawful. And you jealous because I am generous? The labor union tries to place their own values over management.

Blind arrogance rejects live and let live.

Gate 6 is conspiracy arrogance. Arrogant people always seem to discover each other. You hear an amen or a God willing and you are instant buddies. Arrogance attracts arrogance. The mutual admiration society is formed by 2 categories of arrogance. The arrogant and the inadequate. They simply both seek together to destroy legitimate authority. A conspiracy is formed between them. Psalm 12:2–4 gives an example of this.

Psalm 12:2 They lie to one another; they speak with flattering lips and deceptive hearts.

Psalm 12:3 May the LORD cut off all flattering lips and the tongue that speaks boastfully.

Psalm 12:4 They say, "Through our tongues we have power; our lips are our own--who can be our master?"

Criminal arrogance and Bob dealt a lot of Yokelson and Samsonov. The criminal mind has rejected all authority but his own. In his soul, he despises true authority. The criminal pretends to accept spiritual authority, but he uses this as a facade. Whether a person is changed or not after believing in Jesus Christ depends upon their attitude toward Bible doctrine.

Psychotherapy produced criminals with insight, but criminals just the same.

Crusader arrogance is the 8th gate. Self-righteousness in thinking becomes righteous indignation. This immediately arouses your crusader-hood. Even churches have been known to become paramilitary groups, like Elijah ordering the killing of those prophets.

Some movie called Obsession? Bob mentions Death Wish. John Calvin is the perfect illustration of criminal arrogance and crusader arrogance combined. He was really a french man. He tried to enforce his own morals on the entire populace. The result was, he became a tyrant, and even persecuted believers for not following his mandates to the letter (he even executed believers for having fun on the Sabbath).

Arrogance bypasses. We have no right to vengeance.

Psychopathic arrogance is the volitional drive toward unreality. Most people become psychopathic because of their own decisions in life. The normal person; their emotional life blends with the intellectual life. However, with the psychopath, his intellect is subservient to one's emotion.

They cannot realistically evaluate his relationship with others. They often lose all objectivity. They are completely divorced from reality. Unreality and unpredictability. They often become preoccupied with self and hedonism. Their arrogance relates everything to themselves and divorces everything from reality.

Someone knocked on Bob's door and said, "I'm Elijah and let's go."

All of these gates interlock. Once you are inside, you are vulnerable to the other gates.

2Samuel 19 intro

72David

631_0482

We need to distinguish between what is normal and what is abnormal. Grief is extremely normal. For a person to be indifferent is abnormal. The problem is the status of the individual soul. If the individual is in the state of humility, his reaction is normal. His ability to cope and carry on in normal living. If ever David needed to have all of his faculties and all of his wisdom as a king, it is after the civil war, which required great wisdom on his part, in order to put all of the pieces back together. There is normal and abnormal grief. Because a person who is in a state of humility (in any of the 3 categories), in any of these, you can still carry on and do your job. However, if you are in a state of arrogance, you cannot function.

When prosperity or tragedy occurs, this can throw you off your game. David is weeping and wailing and he has become emotionally psychopathic. It is very important to keep right on with normal function, which means you need to move through disaster with normal grief. Without any disrespect or dishonor to any loved one which you have lost, or whatever has happen (you have been jilted). We all have areas where we are very vulnerable and areas where it is very easy to be hurt. We have a variety of areas of vulnerability and they will be tested at some point in time. Sometimes you have been robbed or something. You have lost friends or loved ones; you have lost something important to you.

If under adversity, you find yourself under interlocking systems of arrogance, you go from self-righteousness to self-pity. This is where people develop habits and it is the beginning of the end for them. The state of the soul must have humility.

David comes closer to losing it in 2Sam. 19 than even with Bathsheba.

It is the arrogance of unhappiness. If you are unhappy in your soul, you will be unappreciative. Arrogance must be defined in terms of its self-centeredness. The arrogance of unhappiness starts right there.

Attention demanders. They give nothing and they demand everything. It is a false concept of life that so and so can make you happy. Children think in these terms. Bob had this thought. One of Bob's friend's dads gave him a plan, and Bob wished to have that parent. This kid buzzed the field when they were playing football. Bob's thought at the moment; I wish his father was my father. But that was wrong. There were times when Bob did not like his father as being his father.

People often get married because their mate promises to make them happy and love them. This is inspiring to some young people. When they promise to make you happy, that is where you look out. Such a thing is almost a guarantee of unhappiness. This is the myth of arrogance. Doctrine resident in the soul can make a person happy. That is the key for the capacities. The arrogance of unhappiness gives nothing and expects everything.

Responding to the laws of divine establishment is one way of attaining happiness. We have all of the freedom in the world, but we are not happy with freedom. Here we are a free country, and yet we are very unhappy. Those even who live in slums live better than kings and queens in past history, but are not happy. We have goods and services and all kinds of things which other countries do not; even those things which royalty in the past has never had. We are not any happier than those Polacks that we have seen on tv. Bob noticed that they are good looking with good haircuts, etc. Some look a lot happier than we do. Believer can only be happy through residence of Bible doctrine in the soul. Because we already possess happiness in our souls, people can make us happy. And with doctrine in your soul, people cannot make you unhappy.

Unbelievers happiness is his honor, integrity and the laws of divine establishment. Because you posses happiness in your soul, you can be happy. This advantage of doctrine in the soul means, people can make you happy but they cannot make you unhappy. If you still lean upon the possession of things; if you still lean upon people. You think marriage is the key or that, if you are married, you think that being single is the key, and it is not a set of circumstances which is the key. Happiness is not the state of marriage or of single bliss. You can be happy with things or without. If you already possess happiness in your soul, then people can make you happy. Only arrogance of unhappiness makes you think that people and possessions can make you happy. You can spend your lifetime making an arrogant happy, but it won't happen. If the other person is arrogant, then it is not going to happen.

Psalm 89:15 happiness toward those hearing the sound of the trumpet. This is universal military training. This is a way of describing a system of universal military training, which requires organizational humility, which causes those under these various authorities, this will allow a person to by happy.

Drinking is not a sin. Drunkenness is s sin, however. The person who disciplines himself never gets to that point. One of the basic reasons it is a sin is, it reveals a lack of self-discipline. You divorce yourself from reality. You say things like, "Did I really say that last night?" But you pretend not to remember. You came to a point where your volition should have said, stop. That illustrates the principle.

Psalm 89:15–18 [happiness toward those hearing the sound of the trumpet, they walk in the light of Your presence \[the doctrine of Your reality\]. They rejoice in Your name all day long, and they are exalted by Your \[imputed\] righteousness. For You are their magnificent strength; by Your favor our horn is exalted..](#) All this keeps it within the holiness of God.

Happiness to the people whose God is the Lord. I will rejoice in the sphere of Your grace. Responding to the gospel contributes to +H. Those are 2 verses. Happiness is a system of thought resident in the soul. Now I come face to face with you and these doctrines I am communicating in the world so that they can have My happiness fulfilled in themselves. Doctrine will be resident in the souls of the hearers. Happiness is a system of thought resident in the soul. We write these things that your happiness might be completed. Happiness cannot be divorced from doctrine.

Jesus is teaching the Word of God, and a woman interrupts him; a certain woman from the audience. She interrupts Him with a loud voice, and is totally occupied with herself, and she is deeply involved in the women's lib movement. "Happy is the woman whose womb carried you and whose breasts gave you suck." Women are not happy because they bear children. Women are happy because they have doctrine in the soul; just like a guy. This woman was so arrogant that she was disturbed that the crowd was giving Jesus Christ so much attention, and she wanted to call attention to His human mother. He says, "You're wrong; on the contrary." What she said was a lie. "Happiness belongs to those who keep on retaining the Word of God." Arrogance of unhappiness always does one thing; they can only compensate for their unhappiness by attempting to dominate their environment. They are miserable, and they are going to dominate, and that is how they compensate for their arrogance. The inner happiness of Bible doctrine is a state of humility.

David is involved in the arrogance of unhappiness. The death of Absalom has made him so that he has moved from reality to unreality. He is now wherever his temporary headquarters are. He goes up to the office of the officer of the day; but he eventually moves to his headquarters in Mahanaim. The inner happiness of Bible doctrine is humility of the soul. All of us face tragedy.

Philip. 4:11–15 repeat the verb I have learned. I don't say this out of need, for I have learned to be content in whatever circumstances I am. I know both how to have a little, and I know how to have a lot. In any and all circumstances I have learned the secret of being content--whether well-fed or hungry, whether in abundance or in need. I am able to do all things through Him who strengthens me. Still, you did well by sharing with me in my hardship. And you, Philippians, know that in the early days of the gospel, when I left Macedonia, no church shared with me in the matter of giving and receiving except you alone. Everything important in life is related to learning. Paul was a student without portfolio when he learned this. He learned what it was to be in poverty. Paul is happy in prosperity and he is happy when under pressure or when poor.

The arrogance of unhappiness inevitably goes in for idolizing people. That person is always looking for someone to make them happy. Men looking for a woman; women looking for a man. When someone comes along who appears to fill the bill, that person is idolized. Sooner or later, the person you think will make you happy is going to make you very unhappy. One day, they will do something which shocks you or disgusts you. You discover their feet of clay and you smash your idol, and you go off looking for new idols to worship.

An image of perfection is superimposed on a person or an organization. Bob used to see Rice play in '44 and '45 and they wore an ugly gray sweatshirt with tiny numerals. They were good. Bob says some of them were Berachah types? So maybe he is off by a few years? An idol of illusion or enchantment is created. When you overrate someone, it is a sign of your own arrogance. You create this image of this person or thing yourself. It has nothing to do with reality. You see a man and you think that he is perfect. Then you see the feet of clay, and you are shocked. The arrogance of disillusion or disenchantment. It creates an image which does not exist.

The fascinating thing is that David creates an image and this image dies before David can really see his feet of clay.

Joab had obviously ordered Ahimaaz not to say anything about Absalom. Joab was going to tell David himself directly. But to David, Absalom had no feet of clay. He never had a normal view of Absalom. Bob has seen people like this. There was a woman who lost her husband early in life, so she never had time to get to know him as he really was. But she then compared all men to him and there was never anyone like him. With regard to this one person, all of the woman's life, there was this divorcement from reality. True love is always a love based upon what the person really is. Arrogant subjective people spend their lives confused about the sin nature and hamartiology. This is a part of David's problem for the first nine verses of 2Sam. 19.

Gate 17 is making an idol out of a person, and then destroying that idol. If the image is around long enough, the feet of clay is discovered and the reacting bitterly.

Arrogance is basic divorcement from reality. It overshadows reality. Disenchantment arrogance is being preoccupied with yourself, and then with someone who you create an image, and then, when you see their feet of clay, then you destroy them.

The instability of arrogance we have noticed in great detail, so now we move to the arrogance of morality. David once again faces the problem of self-righteousness. This is a setup for the final gate 19, the arrogance of emotion.

Self-righteousness. Preoccupied with a false standard of morality as opposed to a true standard of righteousness. A person who is an eclectic, and takes a number of things from a variety of standards, and makes up a set of standards for himself. He has selected what he likes, ignoring the context of the standards.

David in his arrogance has not only created an idol out of Absalom, but he has determined that Absalom can do no wrong. Absalom raped 10 of his mistresses, Absalom has started a revolution, and Absalom has chased David out of the country, and yet, Absalom can do no wrong in David's eyes.

the believer in the Lord Jesus Christ substitutes in the arrogance complex the system of true spirituality. When a system of morality is superimposed over true morality, the result is arrogance. We will get back to David's status quo after one more introductory bit of material.

2Samuel 19:1-3

72David

631_0483

Ken Wise is in a hospital in Chicago.

A guy writing about being a rookie cop; and how he made enough mistakes to get a dozen men killed. Assumption is a luxury a cop cannot afford.

Joab's G2 is in town, and they are making official reports to him. The idea that, this is abnormal weeping. In 2Sam. 12, David was functioning in humility.

David's Involvement with Interlocking Systems of Arrogance

1. David here is involved in interlocking systems of arrogance. Back in 2Sam. 12, he was humble.
2. Because of this, David had no control of himself. He had lost control of his authority over a divided nation.

3. He finds himself as an arrogant person during a very critical time.
4. Arrogance then destroys the function of the rationales, which means that arrogance hinders reverse concentration.
5. The believer can have a lot of doctrine resident in his soul by which he attains spiritual maturity, but once he steps inside interlocking systems of arrogance, he is unable to apply that doctrine to his circumstances.
6. Arrogance is the enemy of reverse concentration.
7. David must follow up his victory on the battlefield, exploit this, and bring his nation back into unity and harmony.
8. David's Lamentation for Absalom insulted an army which served him so well. Responsibility to the living always takes precedence over mourning for the dead.

2Sam. 19:1 It was reported to Joab, "The king is weeping. He's mourning over Absalom."

David is involved in great grief. When emotion responds to thinking, that is positive emotion.

When emotion dominates the soul, the believer becomes divorced from reality and involved in the arrogance complex. There was some discussion about shopkeepers who have shot robbers. The man got mad and had been robbed a number of times. However, he did all of this in emotion, and he reacted. Once he looked at the reality of the dead man on the floor, he reacted.

The person is not only involved in emotional arrogance, but in psychopathic arrogance. Cowardice is emotion dominating the soul. Sometimes a coward who is cornered might do the same things a hero might do. However, he does them under emotion. He does them without clearly thinking things through.

David, when he faced Goliath, was in a state of humility. However, here in Mahanaim, he is in a state of arrogance.

Flattery encourages unreality with regards to self. Emotional arrogance is vulnerable to cowardice. Being divorced from reality, the person often does that which appears to be heroic. In David's case, it is psychopathic arrogance.

All kinds of commentators criticize Joab, and one even says, "It was a very unChristian thing to do." Absalom is no longer an issue; the revolution is quelled; they have no leadership. David falls into the category of preoccupation with the insignificant. It destroys thinking and a certain kind of thinking.

The details of life are the means of living, but not... Pettiness is preoccupation with something which is totally irrelevant. Reagan made a comment a few days ago about the antecedents of the president. It was not a significant statement. Where he was born is of no significance whatsoever. What is significant is how he thinks and acts as a president. So we need a thorough discussion of the policy of the president. To major in the insignificant is the order of the day. What is important is, what does Reagan believe. Apparently, there was a gaff in what Reagan said. People are overcome by their own self-importance and make remarks which are meaningless.

Emotion cannot produce thought. So far, David has made no decisions, and that is good. It is better than him making decisions right after Absalom is dead. Arrogance becomes stronger than perfect environment; stronger than good; stronger than personal responsibility. One of David's great pluses was that he was taking care of sheep. He had a sense of responsibility at a very young age. David had a marvelous sense of responsibility, but he changes here, in what seems to be almost overnight. This is a change that can happen to anyone at anytime. David isn't spending his time taking care of the nation; he hasn't talked to his family.

There are several types of arrogance necessary for revolution to occur. Absalom is dead but it is as just as if the emotional arrogance which died on the battlefield, but now David is acting like a revolutionist. We find David at the lowest spot of his life. What David is doing has a reaction among the people and the army in particular.

The victory that the troops felt turned into mourning for the troops, because they heard of David grieving for his son. There is no joy in Mahanaim so many of them slinked back into town, some taking off their weapons and removing their uniforms, and the entire army feels a guilt complex. They oscillated between self-centeredness and something else, and stopping upon a guilt complex. The army heard about David's mourning; so there is no triumphal procession. David's arrogance robbed the army of the privilege and the right of celebrating their victory. They were ashamed to be soldiers. David's arrogance does what arrogance always does. His arrogance spread a pall of gloom over the entire army.

Shamar this news spreads around quickly. This is a very special day. In the future, this day would be remembered and celebrated, but at the moment, it is destroyed by the king and his self-absorption. Like the person in your family who is a pall of gloom. David put a pall of gloom over this entire day and over the army. They purchased the nation's freedom on the battlefield. This is typical of our government. Our army has won our freedom back in so many wars, and as soon as the peace treaty is signed, the army is ignored, the military is rejected. There is this tragic arrogance; the despising of the uniform. The lack of regard of those who risked their lives. Arrogant people are so preoccupied with themselves and their lives. Suddenly, the army is ashamed of themselves.

2Sam. 19:2 Consequently, that day's victory was turned into mourning for all the troops because on that day the troops heard, "The king is grieving over his son."

In v. 3, on this great day of victory, the army sneaks its way into the city. As the people of the United States, we have snubbed our military. We ought to be ashamed. Gallant men who have served well are ignored or despised and the long-haired hippies are catered to. We will suffer for our arrogance. We will have national disaster as we have never seen before. The next time we have disaster, it will come to us.

For a professional soldier like David, this is inexcusable. There should be praise and decorations, rewards and promotions. For doing the honorable thing, they are disgraced. They sneak back into town as if they were humiliated for deserting in battle. This is an analogy of a defeated army, and David was making them feel ashamed. This is a most unusual situation in history when the reality of victory receives an antithetical response from government. If they had done the wrong thing, it would be understandable; but they did the right thing.

It is no wonder that the men in the armed forces are poorly paid. People trained in missiles and computers, and they are starved in the armed forces. An arrogant evil government is giving all of its millions of dollars to scum from Cuba, scum from all over the world, and those who are American citizens. Cut out the money to scum and up the salaries of the military, and you have solved one of the morale problems of the armed forces.

Disaster often shocks people into humility. Joab will walk integrity David's headquarters and he will shock him into humility. Joab could have been executed for what he said to David, but laying it on the line was more important to him than his life. The doctrine in his soul was much more important than his life.

After the Vietnam war, some soldiers would not wear their uniforms feared attack.

The Army of Freedom in Israel

1. The army returning to the city of Mahanaim has just saved the nation. Never was a victory celebration more appropriate.
2. This means that, in principle, the freedom, the privacy rotary and function of the client nation is now perpetuated.
3. They received the welcome of those who ran away as cowards. It was as if they lost the war.
4. This is the true manifestation of arrogance. This is great degeneracy.
5. Arrogance is abroad in the land when the military profession and its cousin, law enforcement, are rejected. You cannot reject the provider of your freedom and property enjoy your freedom.

2Sam. 19:3 So they returned to the city quietly that day like people come in when they are humiliated after fleeing in battle.

David has no courtesy toward his army or thanksgiving toward his God.

2Samuel 19:4

72David

631_0484

Bob makes announcements; meeting for prep school and congregational meeting. "Being in a hospital is bad enough, but a hospital in Chicago is the worst." Bob reminds us that he does not close down the church for tropical storms; only for hurricanes.

This army had just saved the country; the civil war was over; and normalcy had been returned. The arrogance of emotion related to psychopathic arrogance. In peace time, the establishment of law enforcement is sometimes not appreciated, as the military is rarely appreciated.

David has subordinated his governing ability to his self pity. Joab and his army have done a remarkable job against incredible odds.

2Sam. 19:3 So they returned to the city quietly that day like people come in when they are humiliated after fleeing in battle.

We move to the arrogant and abnormal grief of the king in v. 4:

there is all of this wonderful activity going on, and David is functioning in interlocking systems of arrogance. Maybe these men are recognized in Scripture because, in part, of this war. We are actually studying the Davidic age of the world.

David is now sidelined by his own involvement in interlocking systems of arrogance. David has had nearly a half century as a great soldier and a supergrace believer. 3 decades as an incredible ruler. However, all a great believer has to do is walk through one of those gates, and he is just another dumb John wandering about.

There are some in Berachah who are not going to make it. They are sitting at home warming their wet toes. Or they have other pleasures which lure them away from doctrine. If you are distracted from doctrine, your old age will be hell on earth until God takes you by the sin unto death.

The circus maximus of history; the interlocking systems of arrogance. They just want to spend a day in there, but they are trapped. While David gets into interlocking systems of arrogance, his recovery has been rapid. He has stabilized his situation. The last 10 years of his life have been the greatest. He trapped himself in interlocking systems of arrogance by his own volition. He has the ability to quickly recognize and recover. Beyond this civil war, David will have 10 years. This will be the greatest period of time in all of Israel's history; this final 10 years of David and the 40 years of Solomon.

The castle or chateau or manor is not mentioned specifically.

David is now back to Jerusalem, but he is not with any of his family members. He is by himself, even though he is in the midst of some of the finest people in the world. Nathan and Solomon are both mentioned in the line of Jesus Christ, and they are in castle Zion.

David is so preoccupied with his grief, that he no longer has any interest in running the affairs of state.

The veil is often used as a sign of mystery. The veil over the king means something different. So the king covers his face, and then David screams out; he is having a tantrum.

This is not normal grief. This is strictly an arrogance function. The king was no longer functioning. He was divorced from reality. He had no poise. He has lost organizational humility. We find him under organizational humility. He is out of action at a critical moment here. There can be no exploitation of this victory. Revolution and civil war have been terminated. The king covered his face; my son, Absalom, Absalom, my son.

David's Failures at this Time

1. David had requested that his son Absalom be spared. David issued this order at an officer's call, in the presence of all the officers. The troops were thrown into immediately confusion. David should not have been in the field in the first place and he almost handicapped his army from the start.
2. David has entered gate 19, which is emotional arrogance, and this interlocked with gate 2 and gate 16 (the arrogance of unhappiness) and psychopathic arrogance.
3. David in psychopathic arrogance cannot continue to function as a king when he is needed the most.
4. Only enforced and genuine humility could help David at this point. Neither could rescue David at this time.
5. Therefore, enforced and genuine humility and self control are needed for David, and he does not have this. Because of this, he completely collapse. He has not of the 3 areas of humility.
6. Instead of using his volition in self-control and using poise in his grief, David uses his free will to get into various parts of interlocking systems of arrogance. This demoralized all the army in Mahanaim. The nation is very close to anarchy. Joab has sinned and failed during this very period of time. However, he is able to function as commander of the army. As the field commander, he can get into his work's routing. People manage to drive to work, to work, and to go to Bible class even, despite having sin natures and having failed. This is Joab. David is also a man of great genius and ability, he has completely collapsed. In a sense, there is a withdraw from reality and a draw from life, the discipline is intensified by a loss of poise. When we are punished for our wrongdoing, if we are able to carry on, there is a certain intensity of discipline; but, if we fail to carry on, that discipline is intensified. There are millions of failures at any give time of day in Houston. Yet, people are carrying on; they are doing their jobs. There are those who lose their poise and make their decisions no matter what. Those who carry on, make it in life.

If we make Mutiny on the Bounty today, it is ridiculous. But BBC has tremendous direction; they did War and Peace in about 25 installments. The Forsyth Sagas is one of the best. A man who appears to be the villain for about 15 chapters. He has really TARFU'ed his life. He goofs in youth and he goofs in old age. However, he emerges as some sort of a hero. No matter how many horrible things have happened to you, you just get right back up and carry on. There are unbelievers who fail. It is one of those principles that applies to life in general. To be able to carry on, to continue with a routine. People who work hard do not have the problem. It is the loafer, the bum, the secretary who spends all other time in the coffee bar. Those who have no integrity in their jobs. These kind of people hate routine in the first place. By despising routing, they have nothing upon which to lean.

Military men for centuries have taken all kinds of tragedies, and still carry on with close order drill or the morning report, getting the duty rosters together, etc. able to get to routine. It is a great thing. Some of you have never realized that you are best at your work and you are far better person at work than anywhere else because you are thinking about something other than yourself. Many of us don't punch a time clock, because that is an insult to you. We need time clocks, alright. There was a time when they did not exist, back when so many people had honor and integrity. It did not matter if someone watched them or not. They learned by their own volition to regulate themselves. The person who takes his volition and be able to enter into a routine of life honorably not only builds up integrity, but he is a wonderful person to work with. He has built up the habit to think of someone other than themselves. Some of you girls are frustrated because you date men who want you along with them because you can do something for them. They aren't good lovers. They never think about you; or doing something for you. They are not interested in making you happy.

Here is a man who has been driven out of his routine of office. David is completely away from routine. One of the first cracks in your armor is worry. David started to worry. Until he got to Mahanaim, he was fine. David began to think about himself and Absalom, and he was out of a routine. And he began to think about Absalom, and he was not handling anything. Joab was handling everything that was important. Because he was preoccupied with Absalom, he gave that horrible evil order. He did not do a thing after that. He asked if his son Absalom was safe. In psychopathic arrogance, totally separated from reality. He has the greatest challenge of his kingdom now, and he cannot even stop out and congratulate his army. He sits with his face veiled, screaming the name of Absalom. Where is Tamar? Where is Bathsheba. He thinks only about himself.

2Sam. 19:4 But the king hid his face and cried out at the top of his voice, "My son Absalom! Absalom, my son, my son!"

The battle was fought by men who failed and sinned, but they still won the battle. They functioned within enforced and genuine humility, as Joab did as well. Joab rebounded and he used his volition to place himself under self-discipline and poise. Even though Joab had failed. He will go in and brace the king. He is going to straighten David out. Joab is the hero of this chapter. Joab can still brush his teeth and David cannot. A person in arrogance thinks only about himself. By covering his face, the king demonstrates abnormal grief and a total divorcement from reality. This is psychopathic arrogance. The obvious conclusion that arrogance has replaced organizational humility. Only Nathan reprimanded David in a greater way. Nathan for a year let all this go. However, Joab has no command from God, yet he makes this decision on his own.

Knowledge is the environment for thinking. Joab's decision saved Israel from the anarchy and self-destruction of the king. There is no sermon or parable. Joab will stand up nose to nose with David and call the shots. It will be done with clarity of language and courage of soul.

This will take place in Mahanaim. He is staying here, continuing with his arrogance and his abnormal grief. For this reason, Joab reports now to the king's headquarters. Then Joab came to the king's headquarters.

Joab lays this on the line. You have humiliated all of your soldiers. Peni. You have caused shame to the face. Liberals have humiliated our armed forces. We do not have our ace trump, which is our military establishment. For 30 years, it has been humiliated. Just as law enforcement has been humiliated.

These are soldiers who saved David's life. Absalom would have executed him.

2Sam. 19:5 Then Joab went into the house [headquarters] to the king and said, "Today you have shamed all your soldiers--those who rescued your life and the lives of your sons and daughters, your wives, and your concubines.

David's Lack of Appreciation and Thanksgiving

1. Arrogance involvement destroys the capacity to be thankful grateful and considerate of others.
2. Capacity for life and happiness and love. Must include capacity to appreciate what others have done.
3. Lack of appreciation and ungratefulness indicates the interlocking systems of arrogance.
4. Arrogance involvement becomes degeneracy, which is totally lacking in thanksgiving and gratitude. David has not thanked the Lord or worshiped the Lord. But he will write a psalm that we will study. He has never said "Thank you, Father." No gratitude to his military or his officers. Just this crybaby crap. No word of comfort for those who have been lost in battle. He thinks of nothing but himself.
5. The arrogant person is ungrateful, insensible to the courtesies and kindnesses of others. By way of contrast we will study someone who could be grateful and pushed missions in the early centuries.
6. Ingratitude is insensitive and is preoccupied with the inconsequential, like the aliens in Arkansas who are suing the government for not getting enough help. They want more help from the government.
7. In arrogance, David lost track of the big picture and was disorganized of mind, preoccupied with self.
8. David was alive because of the military victory, and yet he does not thank God for this victory. Arrogance has no gratitude toward God or man. Arrogance destroys capacity for love. David has many sons, daughters, wives and mistresses and has no gratitude that his way of life will be perpetuated. He is too preoccupied with the dead, so he cannot appreciate what the living have done for him.

2Sam. 19:5 Then Joab went into the house [headquarters] to the king and said, "Today you have shamed all your soldiers--those who rescued your life and the lives of your sons and daughters, your wives, and your concubines.

David is involved in emotional arrogance, asking that his son be spared. He interlocks with gate 2 and 16 and 9. In psychopathic arrogance, David cannot function as king. David uses his free will to function in the arrogance complex. The victory of the establishment army is now in jeopardy, and there could be a resurgence of the revolution because of David's demoralized troops.

David and Joab and both men of genius and both have been very successful. Both Joab and David have failed. Even though Joab failed, he was able to rebound and carry on. David did not rebound and could not carry on in life. Our arrogance should not keep us from our function in life. David has other sons and daughters and he is not thinking about them at all.

Under enforced and genuine humility, Joab will be the hero. David, because of arrogance, cannot carry on and function as the king. Joab continued to function in a normal way.

The book of Numbers ought to be the book of compulsory military service. There is no such thing as genuine humility until enforced and organizational humility have become a part of a person's life. Joab can still brush his teeth, but David cannot.

Self-determination is behind the wrong use of human freedom. Poise in times of adversity is a characteristic of a gentleman in past generations.

The king represents government and Joab tearing him a new one showed great courage and wisdom. Nathan did this under the Lord's dictum. You do not learn doctrine one-on-one. The process of teaching one-on-one is confusion today. The navigator system?

2Sam. 19:4 But the king hid his face and cried out at the top of his voice, "My son Absalom! Absalom, my son, my son!"

David became monogamous when he met Bathsheba. Many missionaries manage to get the chief to stay with one wife, and that meant that the other wives could be treated mercilessly. David did not fall into that trap. He was now monogamous but he still took responsibility for all of these other wives and children. They were well-cared for; they were pensioned; they were under his protection. When the king left Jerusalem, they came along with him.

Arrogance involvement destroys our ability to be appreciative.

Lack of appreciation means involvement in interlocking systems of arrogance. The arrogant person is ungrateful and insensible to the courtesies, kindnesses of others. Without gratitude, you cannot truly love others. Whenever David gets into interlocking systems of arrogance, he loses track of the big picture. He was totally preoccupied with himself.

David has some 20 sons but that is of no consequence to him at the death of Absalom. David reveals no gratefulness for this military victory. He has not expressed appreciation to the army. Anyone who has responsibility for others, must always set aside his own personal problems and interact with them

Those who reach the top of leadership must have all 3 categories of humility. David is veiled, screaming and isolated from those to whom he is responsible. In the past, David has revealed great honor and integrity. Arrogance is the instant destroyer of everything that is important to us in life.

“Today, you have humiliated all of your soldiers who, this day, have saved your life; and the lives of your sons and daughters and wives and mistresses.” David is so preoccupied with the inconsequential, that he does not see the big picture. He ignored the living and his preoccupied with Absalom, his dead son.

Contracts this to 2Sam. 12, where he accepts the death of his young son.

2Sam. 19:5 Then Joab went into the house [headquarters] to the king and said, "Today you have shamed [humiliated] all your soldiers--those who rescued your life and the lives of your sons and daughters, your wives, and your concubines.

Then Joab tells David that he loves his enemies and hates his friends. This has an excellent application to today, where liberals seem to love our enemies and hate our friends.

David, when wooing a woman, would concentrate on that person. When we love someone, we tend to concentrate on them. This appears to be in conflict with the many passages found in 1John and other epistles about loving the brothers. There is a more general aspect of love, which is not pouring out attention on them. There are those we do not know; however, we refrain from evil thinking. We do not hate them; we do not judge them; we do not scorn them. This love is strictly the mentality of the soul. Loving the brothers does not mean that we speak to everyone in the church. That is a personality of some individual. That is different than the command to love the brothers.

People, ostensibly, come to church in order to experience spiritual growth and learn Who and What God is. People often come with their own personal problems and hangups and we demonstrate our love for the brethren by letting them alone.

There was a pastor who used to reprimand his congregation. “You cannot wait on tables where alcohol is served and be living the Christian life.” What people do for a living is not the business of a pastor. He is not the monitor of what his congregation does for a living. It is his business to teach them doctrine. By making such blanket statements, he abuses the privacy of his congregation.

In Berachah, there is no visitor’s card to fill out; we do not contact you and tell you how nice it was that you showed up. This is often the means of dunning people for money; and money is not the issue; doctrine is the issue. Whatever you do with your money or time is not the business of Berachah. We are commanded to live our lives before the Lord. Love is not intruding upon the privacy of others.

If you are a single man and you concentrate on a woman, and you will inevitably intrude on the privacy of that woman; and this woman must decide whether or not she wants you as her authority. Personal and impersonal love are expressed here.

Here, is not the virtue of loving your enemies. This means to love them in the sense of sponsoring them or aiding them in.

Joab is saying that David has a great love for his enemies, but he continually hates his friends. Absalom hated his father and died hating his father. He died in revolution hating his father.

By loving those who hate you and hating those who love you....”

The army loved David, and this was a very small army. This showed great love and respect on their part. We have seen a great deal of love directed toward David. This explains how David has humiliated the entire army. There is a subjective preoccupation with self. David’s modus operandi is expressed by the hating those who loved him and vice versa.

David does not need sympathy; he is in a dangerous position, spiritually speaking. His arrogance is intensified.

Hiphil perfect of nagath, which means to demonstrate. Commanders and troops mean nothing to you.

David has failed as commander-in-chief of the army because arrogance has neutralized his great leadership ability. There is no genius. Freedom is gotten through military victory. All freedom has come to us by means of military victory. The professional function of law enforcement is what preserves our freedom. You cannot have one without the other. You cannot have the positive virtues without humility of soul. None of the positive virtues operate under interlocking systems of arrogance.

Just as David represents the government of the client nation, so we have a similar situation today. We have a republic here, but it is degenerating into a democracy. In times of peace, law enforcement; in times of war, military. Even after great victories, the military is almost instantly snubbed by the federal government. Socialism and communism and the redistribution of wealth are great evils. These are things which spend the tax payer’s money. Charity is disappearing when the government attempts to control lives and redistribute wealth.

Bob finds out through correspondence about what is happening in the military. There are those who leave the service often do so because of a difference in pay. He went from 50 grand a year to 400 grand a year. There is no attempt on the part of the federal government to keep up with this.

The Navy does not have the manpower to run a ship taken out of mothballs. Navy offers men nothing compared to the private industry. One told Bob he was going into industry because his family was starving.

The federal government snubs and rejects the very basis of our freedom. We continue as voters and taxpayers; and there are those whose liberal concepts have them try to play God. They reject freedom through military victory and freedom maintained through law enforcement. These are tragedies that indicate the arrogance of the government and the arrogance of the American people. We are in grave danger.

The purpose for which God keeps the U.S. going is evangelism, and missionary activity. After that, comes spiritual growth to maintain a pivot which will maintain our client nation status.

Joab is drawing conclusions from the doctrine in his soul and the observations which he has made. There is a structure here, which indicates Joab's lucid thinking.

We are all Dr. Jekyll's and Mr. Hyde's, depending upon whether or not we are in the arrogance complex. Joab has aroused the antagonism of nearly all of the commentators. They condemn him for being harsh and one commentator said "That is a very harsh thing for a Christian to say."

This is the one thing that shocked David out of interlocking systems of arrogance. He had to speak in a very strong manner and this got David's attention. What he said was a clear delineation of the situation.

2Sam. 19:6 [You love your enemies and hate those who love you! Today you have made it clear \[demonstrated\] that the commanders and soldiers mean nothing to you. In fact, today I know \[conclude\] that if Absalom were alive and all of us were dead, it would be fine \[right in your eyes; you would have been pleased\] with you!](#)

Bob enjoys reading the King James. It keeps him in practice. Bob uses There and Thou in his prayers out of habit.

Field Marshall Joab is ordering David around. He uses a bunch of imperatives; 3 of them. Harshness of language does not mean that someone does not care for you. Often, it is the exact opposite.

David is the king and Joab is under him as the chief of staff. How can he use the imperative mood to the king? This is the imperative of threat. He guarantees him that he will have no army in the morning if he continues in his arrogance. This is advice, and it is stated in the imperative in order to get David's attention. David is so deep into the arrogance complex, he cannot function normally.

Through rebound, David will be delivered from the arrogance complex. Knowledge of doctrine is the environment for making good decisions.

Joab uses no violence here. There is thinking; there is persuasion; but there is no use of violence. We encourage the military and we are for the police officer. But we do not take the place of the police officer or the military. Berachah is misrepresented as a paramilitary group. So many times, Bob was on the front page of the Dallas Morning News, and you cannot believe the misrepresentation. He was called a short, barrel chested, Marine colonel. Well, 6' is short in Texas. Because of this terrible Jones thing, the 4th estate has been trying to dig up similar organizations. Publicity is shunned in Berachah. It attracts people who are a little bit weird. There were no references to Bob's views on the hypostatic union or the things developed in orthodox theology. There have been wonderful things that we have developed in Berachah. If they had to mention the military, and Bob's major was Armageddon, and a member of this church took that material and made a million dollars off of it.

Why don't you sue? Bob would not sue anyone, no matter what they say. Bob has been maligned before. There have been a number of books written about Bob, which lowers himself to their level if he sued them. Knowledge of doctrine is the environment for thinking.

Application requires the environment of humility. These are necessary to heal the wounds of client nation United States. While Joab is subordinated to the king, only he has the nerve to use imperatives with the king. He hopes to bring his Uncle David back to his sense and back to reality. This is the time of revolution. This was a civil war. And David needs to lead those who saved him.

2 Hebrew words for God: Elohim, which is in the plural, which refers to the Father, Son and the Holy Spirit. They all have identical characteristics.

David knows that Joab would not swear solemnly before the Lord, unless he was serious about this. Joab does not simply use God's name frivolously here.

No one can indefinitely follow a weak ruler. David's troubles are the worst they could be if he did not get behind his own army. David forgave many revolutionists. Recall that Joab blew the recall on the trumpet. That was his wisdom. Once you have won the victory, you do not continue to slaughter. Joab stopped. Joab is the only wise and intelligent ruler at this time. Joab never sought the crown for himself and he was one person who could have possibly taken it. Joab resisted the desire to rule over all Israel. He was fully subordinate.

Joab is a great tribute to his mother, David's sister.

2Sam. 19:7 "Now get up! Go out and encourage [speak to the heart of] your soldiers, for I swear by the LORD [I take a solemn oath by the Lord] that if you don't go out, not a man will remain with you tonight [your soldiers will desert you]. This will be worse for you than all the trouble that has come to you from your youth until now!"

Bob asks for a congregational meeting to deal with IRS requirements.

Bob goes back to read vv. 1–7:

2Sam. 19:1–6 It was reported to Joab, "The king is weeping. He's mourning over Absalom." That day's victory was turned into mourning for all the troops because on that day the troops heard, "The king is grieving over his son." So they returned to the city quietly that day like people come in when they are humiliated after fleeing in battle. But the king hid his face and cried out at the top of his voice, "My son Absalom! Absalom, my son, my son!" Then Joab went into the house to the king and said, "Today you have shamed all your soldiers--those who rescued your life and the lives of your sons and daughters, your wives, and your concubines. You love your enemies and hate those who love you! Today you have made it clear that the commanders and soldiers mean nothing to you. In fact, today I know that if Absalom were alive and all of us were dead, it would be fine with you!

Joab had great humility and he never tried to step beyond the bounds from God's plan for his life and he never tried to steal the crown from his uncle David. Joab came from enforced humility to a point of genuine humility. He is one of the great underrated men of the Old Testament.

Joab attempts to snap David out of his psychopathic arrogance. Every commentator suggests that Joab is out of line in this passage, but dulcet tones and kind words would not be the key to reaching David.

2Sam. 19:7 "Now get up! Go out and encourage [speak to the heart of] your soldiers, for I swear by the LORD [I take a solemn oath by the Lord] that if you don't go out, not a man will remain with you tonight [your soldiers will desert you]. This will be worse for you than all the trouble that has come to you from your youth until now!"

This shock treatment reaches David. He realizes that Joab is right here. The first sign of David's recovery is flexibility. He recognizes that a subordinate is right and he himself is wrong.

David uses the rebound technique, and David sets up a place for him at the gate, which is the customary place for the king to meet his victorious troops, possibly to greet them separately. Joab's shock treatment was successful, and David now needs to go from here to unify his country.

2Sam. 19:8 So the king got up and sat in the gate, and all the people were told: "Look, the king is sitting in the gate." Then they all came into the king's presence. Meanwhile, each Israelite had fled to his tent.

David's first command to his troops, as they assembled before him. Righteous ones refers to the mature believers and to the men of integrity, those of the army who just defeated the revolution.

There will be 50 years of great blessing and prosperity which will follow, which is also dependent upon the believers who are mature at this point in time. Only a pivot delivers a client nation in a point of crisis in a nation.

There will be implications for the next 50 years. Doctrine in the soul is integrity. Doctrine is the principle by which integrity is preserved in the soul. David will honor the nation and all of the people in this psalm. David recognizes all of those who are a part of the deliverance of nation Israel's deliverance. This ought to be front page news each and every day. That same factor will deliver the United States. The mature believer who learns doctrine. Some of these mature believers were fighting in the army; some were children and women, who also had doctrine in their souls. There is also loyalty which is not a virtue. Loyalty as an evil is dishonor. What David is saying is, "We have something to shout about." There is no conflict between loyalty and integrity until ignorance enters in.

David is saying that this is the beginning of a new era. The greatest period of prosperity that Israel would ever know. The army is not alone. God has honored the existence of a large pivot of mature believers in the client nation Israel.

2Sam. 19:8 So the king got up and sat in the gate, and all the people were told: "Look, the king is sitting in the gate." Then they all came into the king's presence. Meanwhile, each Israelite had fled to his tent.

The marks the end of the exegesis of Samuel. Bob will not return to it ever again. :(

The verses which follow will not be covered at all in this study: .

2Sam. 19:9 All the people among all the tribes of Israel were arguing: "The king delivered us from the grasp of our enemies, and he rescued us from the grasp of the Philistines, but now he has fled from the land because of Absalom.

2Sam. 19:10 But Absalom, the man we anointed over us, has died in battle. So why do you say nothing about restoring the king?"

2Sam. 19:11 King David sent word to the priests, Zadok and Abiathar: "Say to the elders of Judah, 'Why should you be the last to restore the king to his palace? The talk of all Israel has reached the king at his house.

2Sam. 19:12 You are my brothers, my flesh and blood. So why should you be the last to restore the king?"

2Sam. 19:13 And tell Amasa, 'Aren't you my flesh and blood? May God punish me and do so severely if you don't become commander of the army from now on instead of Joab!'"

2Sam. 19:14 So he won over all the men of Judah, and they sent word to the king: "Come back, you and all your servants."

2Sam. 19:15 Then the king returned. When he arrived at the Jordan, Judah came to Gilgal to meet the king and escort him across the Jordan.

2Sam. 19:16 Shimei son of Gera, a Benjaminite from Bahurim, hurried down with the men of Judah to meet King David.

2Sam. 19:17 There were 1,000 men from Benjamin with him. Ziba, an attendant from the house of Saul, with his 15 sons and 20 servants also rushed down to the Jordan ahead of the king.

2Sam. 19:18 They forded the Jordan to bring the king's household across and do whatever the king desired. When Shimei son of Gera crossed the Jordan, he fell down before the king 2Sam. 19:19 and said to him, "My lord, don't hold me guilty, and don't remember your servant's wrongdoing on the day my lord the king left Jerusalem. May the king not take it to heart.

2Sam. 19:20 For your servant knows that I have sinned. But look! Today I am the first one of the entire house of Joseph to come down to meet my lord the king."

2Sam. 19:21 Abishai son of Zeruiah asked, "Shouldn't Shimei be put to death for this, because he ridiculed the LORD's anointed?"

2Sam. 19:22 David answered, "Sons of Zeruiah, do we agree on anything? Have you become my adversary today? Should any man be killed in Israel today? Am I not aware that today I'm king over Israel?"

2Sam. 19:23 So the king said to Shimei, "You will not die." Then the king gave him his oath.

2Sam. 19:24 Mephibosheth, Saul's grandson, also went down to meet the king. He had not taken care of his feet, trimmed his moustache, or washed his clothes from the day the king left until the day he returned safely.

2Sam. 19:25 When he came from Jerusalem to meet the king, the king asked him, "Mephibosheth, why didn't you come with me?"

2Sam. 19:26 "My lord the king," he replied, "my servant Ziba betrayed me. Actually your servant said: 'I'll saddle the donkey for myself so that I may ride it and go with the king'--for your servant is lame.

- 2Sam. 19:27 Ziba slandered your servant to my lord the king. But my lord the king is like the Angel of God, so do whatever you think best.
- 2Sam. 19:28 For my grandfather's entire family deserves death from my lord the king, but you set your servant among those who eat at your table. So what further right do I have to keep on making appeals to the king?"
- 2Sam. 19:29 The king said to him, "Why keep on speaking about these matters of yours? I hereby declare: you and Ziba are to divide the land."
- 2Sam. 19:30 Mephibosheth said to the king, "Instead, since my lord the king has come to his palace safely, let Ziba take it all!"
- 2Sam. 19:31 Barzillai the Gileadite had come down from Rogelim and accompanied the king to the Jordan River to see him off at the Jordan.
- 2Sam. 19:32 Barzillai was a very old man--80 years old--and since he was a very wealthy man, he had provided for the needs of the king while he stayed in Mahanaim.
- 2Sam. 19:33 The king said to Barzillai, "Cross over with me, and I'll provide for you at my side in Jerusalem."
- 2Sam. 19:34 Barzillai replied to the king, "How many years of my life are left that I should go up to Jerusalem with the king?"
- 2Sam. 19:35 I'm now 80 years old. Can I discern what is pleasant and what is not? Can your servant taste what he eats or drinks? Can I still hear the voice of male and female singers? Why should your servant be an added burden to my lord the king?"
- 2Sam. 19:36 Since your servant is only going with the king a little way across the Jordan, why should the king repay me with such a reward?"
- 2Sam. 19:37 Please let your servant return so that I may die in my own city near the tomb of my father and mother. But here is your servant Chimham: let him cross over with my lord the king. Do for him what seems good to you."
- 2Sam. 19:38 The king replied, "Chimham will cross over with me, and I will do for him what seems good to you, and whatever you desire from me I will do for you."
- 2Sam. 19:39 So all the people crossed the Jordan, and then the king crossed. The king kissed Barzillai and blessed him, and Barzillai returned to his home.
- 2Sam. 19:40 The king went on to Gilgal, and Chimham went with him. All the troops of Judah and half of Israel's escorted the king.

2Sam. 19:41 Suddenly, all the men of Israel came to the king. They asked him, "Why did our brothers, the men of Judah, take you away secretly and transport the king and his household across the Jordan, along with all of David's men?"

2Sam. 19:42 All the men of Judah responded to the men of Israel, "Because the king is our relative. Why does this make you angry? Have we ever eaten anything of the king's or been honored at all?"

2Sam. 19:43 The men of Israel answered the men of Judah: "We have 10 shares in the king, so we have a greater claim to David than you. Why then do you despise us? Weren't we the first to speak of restoring our king?" But the words of the men of Judah were harsher than those of the men of Israel.

At this point we go to Psalm 33, the completing of which will mark the end of the study of David.

This is the only thing that will deliver us. The disaster about to fall on our country is of the magnitude of the disaster which fell upon the Houston Oilers. We are not going to be delivered by our system of government, which has abysmal failure in everything it has done. We have shown a fanatical idiocy. Some judge will sit on the bench and make pronouncements about those from Cuba, when they ought to be sent back home. There is very little by way of establishment concepts. What will save our country is not the election of someone who seems to have the right policies or the election of many conservative Congressmen or even the appointment of a bunch of Supreme Court justices who are conservatives. The key is the pivot.

This psalm will indicate the basis of what will be the greatest period of time in Israel's history. This recognizes every believer in the nation who has attained maturity. This is quite a change of David's thinking since his involvement in interlocking systems of arrogance, studied this morning.

Tapes require a lot more positive volition than even attendance; particularly when people miss class. As we close in on disaster, there are those who are no longer faithful at all. Nothing is more important than Bible doctrine.

Integrity for the believer is loyalty to God. When people become careless about their devotion to the Word of God, that is problematic. There are several hundred in this church who are key people who fail to make their time up.

There will be testing as we grow in grace and become a part of the pivot. There is no conflict between integrity and loyalty, unless loyalty is to the wrong thing. As disaster looms, there is more and more things to keep us from doctrine.

Psalm 33:1 Rejoice in the LORD [Sing with happiness to the Lord], you righteous ones; praise from the upright is beautiful.

We are now introduced to the actual music. Kinowr is like our piano or organ today. There are strings stretched over a sounding board and the performer played the strings with one hand, and deadened strings with the other.

Related to this is emotion. However, drunkenness destroys social life. All good social life connects thought to emotion. Drunkenness destroys the thought.

There is a spiritual hangover which gets us into interlocking systems of arrogance. The combination then is very wonderful. The soldiers had to think, and they subordinated their emotion. However, after they won the victory, they allowed their emotions to enjoy. All great times of culture, thought and emotion are allowed to intermingle, which preeminence given to thinking. Great music and patriotic music, the kind of music the Souza wrote, is a combination of music and thought in the way that emotion and thought are combined. Good drama is the proper connection of emotion and thought.

There is work and the routine of work; and compromise brings together the best concepts of work and play. That is good culture. Here, we are relating our lives to Jesus Christ; and the history of nation Israel is tied to doctrine and to the Lord Jesus Christ. We have to think and concentrate and blot out emotion when on the battlefield. We have to concentrate on the message and the meaning of the psalm.

Good drama is a correct mixture of thinking and emotion. There is always this balance. Comedy balances these things in a non-serious way. The English people have gone horribly into socialism, but they have the ability to still laugh at themselves. That will give them a lot of flexibility when it comes to their future.

We can get into arrogance through drunkenness. Social life becomes degeneracy. We are accepting all of the fags and all of the degeneracy which is found in sexuality, drugs and drinking. The original culture of our country rejected these things. We need to balance out thought and relate thinking to our emotion. On the other hand, there are those who watch football only by their emotions. Bob never missed a game at Rice for 15 years. You can even learn to be alone and to entertain yourself. Some of you, unless you are with someone, you are unable to cope. Emotion itself will not sustain you.

People no longer know how to live. They are unable to think doctrine and the gospel and to build upon this. You learn this first and then you can allow your emotions to respond to these things. If you cannot understand this, then you have to have a little dope or a little acid or you have to get skunk drunk. There are literally thousands of people in the city who know nothing about living.

The tongues movement is just like taking dope. Client nation USA does not know how to live. If you do not know how to live, you do not know how to work. People are unwilling to take menial jobs and work. Arrogance says, "I am as good as the president of GM or or this or that oil company" and the culture no longer comes in. People can no longer enjoy culture and great thought. The greatest cultures are based upon Christianity.

It is right and good and lawful to have a party and to have a celebration.

Psalm 33:2 [Be motivative to] Praise the LORD with the lyre; make music to Him with a ten-stringed harp.

It takes skill to play this instrument.

Psalm 33:3 Sing a new song to Him; play skillfully on the strings, with a joyful shout.

The Word of God is integrity. That is the key. This means great social life. This begins a new song and new culture. We started this in December of 1979 with Bathsheba, and now we are in September of 1980. David has been the ruler of Israel for 30 years, but with many failures. We must always, in the final analysis, say that, as long as we are alive, there is still hope. This is based on the overall evaluation that David is still in arrogance. The thoughts presented by Joab caused David to think again, to think doctrine. And he recovered, and he set up his throne at the gate. There is a song fitting for integrity.

A new song means there is a new day dawning. This indicates a new start, a new beginning. 1Kings 15:5 David did what was right in the LORD's eyes, and he did not turn aside from anything He had commanded him all the days of his life, except in the matter of Uriah the Hittite. Also, in this chapter, Asa is compared to David and so is Abijam. 2Kings 14:3 16:2 18:3 22:2 are examples of comparison to David. David is the greatest king ever, and he became the measuring rod, the standard, for all of the kings of Israel.

A new song is a new culture which is pro-God, pro-law enforcement, pro-establishment, anti-revolution, anti-chaos.

To play skillfully, you must practice in order to play that instrument. It is a system of organizational humility. You subordinate yourself to a teacher of that instrument. You then practice, and subordinate yourself to the teacher of that instrument, which is enforced humility. Culture must be related to humility, as humility is related to thought. From a system of culture comes a great social life. Labor today has lost its capacity for life. People do not need more time for leisure; they need more doctrine to enjoy whatever leisure time it is that they have, and to balance this out with their work.

You can only be loyal to doctrine that you know. You cannot be loyal to doctrine that you do not know. The Word of the Lord is integrity.

There is a rejection of truth in social life and the realm of work life and in the realm of living in general.

Psalm 33:4 For the word of the LORD is right [integrity], and all His work [provision] is trustworthy [in faithfulness].

God loves righteousness and justice. This is the concept of the essence of God rationale. The greatest period of Israel's history will be based upon this.

Psalm 33:5 He loves righteousness and justice; the earth is full of the LORD's unfailing love.

2Samuel 19 Psalm 33:(1-4), 5- 72David

631_0487

Bob stops midway through the verses and says, "Forget it." People came from all over to the last conference. The manners and attention were perfect.

Prep school is going great guns. The little people pivot.

This is the first time since the reformation since there has been a strong, sane doctrinal approach for young people. Most young people programs are a farce.

David is still sitting on the throne.

Bob know Bill Yeoman, who is a coach. I think of the Cougars? His father told him, "You will not use me as an excuse to do something wrong." Apparently, this is a write up on Bill, but not sure where. Dave McCain is Wisconsin coach.

Genuine humility comes from first being subordinated to a system of authority. David never became a great father until Bathsheba, and he was a fantastic father to all of them. Proverbs was the training which David gave 2 of his sons.

David is sitting at the gate on the throne. He has now recovered. He had the flexibility to recover. Humility is great poise and great manners. It is not an inferiority complex.

The book of Numbers is the book of universal military training.

Psalm 33 was given under great lamentation and grief.

Psalm 33:1 Rejoice in the LORD [Sing with happiness to the Lord], you righteous ones; praise from the upright is beautiful.

There were many well-motivated people during the revolution.

Psalm 33:2 [Be motivative to] Praise the LORD with the lyre; make music to Him with a ten-stringed harp.

There is a mental attitude of gratitude to the Lord. If you are not grateful to the Lord, you have no gratitude to the people.

Motivation here means they must have thought. You cannot just go through life.

Psalm 33:3 Sing a new song to Him; play skillfully on the strings, with a joyful shout.

Psalm 33:4 For the word of the LORD is right [integrity], and all His work [provision] is trustworthy [in faithfulness].

God loves His Own attributes. This is combined under the heading holiness, which, in modern English, is integrity. These are emphasized by David, David has made a remarkable recovery and doctrine is flowing from his lips. God's love is not the point of contact. It does not say, "God loves people;" He loves his righteousness and justice. As long as God loves His integrity, we will get a fair shake from Him. God's own attributes cannot be changed or corrupted. God's love is not our point of contact with God. God does not love us under the conditions of us being sinful. Love is a part of the essence of God, but this is not His only characteristic.

Each member of the Trinity is righteous. At salvation, God amputated righteousness to all believers, in the Old or New Testaments. God does not fall in love; God is love. There never is a time when God is not love. Bob wants to move his church into the time zone where football games begin at 9.

God is love and He always has been love. You do not love someone that you have never seen or heard of. That is kooksville. That is like being in love with a movie star. We all have come to know people and to appreciate them. Category #2 love and category #3 love. We have to start with love. Even though David failed them, God has never failed them. God's love does not grow or improve. God's love has 2 directions. The first direction is the faithfulness of God to this army. God's love is objective and legitimately subjective. God loves His Own righteousness and justice. He also loves God the Son and God the Holy Spirit, each of Whom has the exact same essence. Each member of the Trinity loves His Own integrity. Integrity is stronger than love and it is His integrity which makes His love strong. In contrast to human love, God's love does not have to be sustained by emotion. Human love is sustained for 4 interrelated concepts. Emotion, which originates from the soul; sex which originates from the body; spiritual factor which comes from the entire person. Mankind tends to superimpose his own concepts of love upon God.

Many believers will say to themselves, "How could God do this to me? Or, how could God let this happen to me?" This is a distortion of the love of God. God's love is not the frame of reference for the Christian life. God's love is mentioned in 2 ways in the Scripture. It is a part of His essence and it is named as an anthropopathism. "God hates Esau" is a sin; so God does not really hate Esau. It says, "God repents" but God cannot change His mind. This helps to explain God's policy.

Love gives; that is a human characteristic. God gives His uniquely-born Son.

God loves a cheerful giver? We love cheerful people; but God doesn't love cheerful people. It explains that love there is an Anthropopathism. Esau I loved and Jacob I hate. We draw our conclusions based upon essence passages. All of our anthropopathisms often give some false ideas. Love is used to explain divine policy, but it is not the source of our blessing. Justice and integrity are the source of our blessing. While God's love is a reality to the believer, it is not the source of our discipline or our blessing. For generations, the Thieme household was, "This hurts me much more than it will hurt you."

it is impossible for God to be unfair. That is outside of His essence. We know that God deals with us fairly because of the cross. The deity and the humanity of Christ are imputed to one person forever. The sins are imputed to His humanity and judged by the justice of God. The cross was a function of the justice of God.

Bob warns the woman, when a man says I love you, does that man have integrity? That is the important factor. The integrity of that person is made up of his righteousness and justice. Maximum doctrine in the soul + loyalty to that doctrine.

These men will have many reunions based upon this war and the defeat of the revolutionaries. Love is really a very secondary thing. Woodrow Wilson knew we must love the world, but he had no idea what that meant.

We need God's help; He does not need our help. God's perfect integrity is composed of His justice and righteousness. We may not get a fair shake from our contemporaries in life, we always get a fair shake from God.

God is just and He is fair, so the world is filled with His grace.

Psalm 33:5 He loves righteousness and justice; the earth is full of the LORD's unfailing grace.

2Samuel 19 Psalm 33:(1-5), 6 72David 631_0488

David issued the general order not to kill Absalom, and then Joab came and braced him. King David was totally a casualty of the war itself.

Psalm 33:1-5 [Rejoice in the LORD \[Sing with happiness to the Lord\], you righteous ones; praise from the upright is beautiful. \[Be motivative to\] Praise the LORD with the lyre; make music to Him with a ten-stringed harp. He loves righteousness and justice; the earth is full of the LORD's unfailing grace.](#)

David now has the responsibility of healing a nation after a civil war.

The home is the first organization in life, so that is the first place that we learn organizational humility. From authority comes enforced humility, which, ideally speaking, results in genuine humility. David, because he is involved in interlocking systems of arrogance, who entered by way of gate 19, and this led to psychopathic arrogance.

God made or constructed the heavens from the word of the Lord. There was great order in the original creation of the universe. There must be authority in communication and subordination to authority. All of the celestial bodies move incredibly fast.

The relationship between freedom and authority is very important. Such freedom without authority is absolutely useless. Many of you teens are looking forward to be without parental discipline. You will turn your freedom into license.

Psalm 33:6 The heavens were made by the word of the LORD, and all the stars, by the breath of His mouth.

The relationship between water and mass is such that life is sustained on this earth. God determines the ratio of water and land. He puts the depths into storehouses.

Just as certain the nations stay within their boundaries, so the oceans stay within their boundaries.

Socialism is a mass narcissism complex. It is destroying England as a client nation and it is destroying us as a client nation. Jesus Christ is in control of history and sustaining the universe. The continuation of the universe and the scientific laws is a misnomer. Science is a myth of anthropocentric egotism. Science cannot guarantee any of these laws, science cannot enforce them and science did not originate these laws.

Hydrochloric acid + Sodium hydroxide = salt + water. This is because Jesus Christ is faithful in guaranteeing the exact same reaction. Calling these scientific laws is the arrogance of man. Jesus Christ controls history and He is the one Who keeps us here. The reason we are seated and the reason why will get up and walk out of there is because of the laws of gravity. Some of you are looking forward to the football games today; but if Jesus cancelled the laws of gravity in Tempe, things may have gone better for Texas (I guess there was a game then?).

The universe operates according to a fixed norm which God guarantees. There will come a time when God will cancel His Own laws with regards to nature. Jesus Christ controls through His omnipotence and veracity.

Happiness does not come through wealth or promotion or sex etc.; but through Bible doctrine. However, some of us can be so close, and yet so easily distracted, particularly by 1 of the 19 gates of interlocking systems of arrogance.

Psalm 33:7 He gathers the waters of the sea into a heap; He puts the depths into storehouses.

God did not create the universe just to be doing something. He continues to have us in mind. On the worst day, God does not cancel out some of His laws in order to mess with us. God will discipline us, but He will not change His laws. No one has come close to tempting God to be unfaithful.

The basis for this is in the next 2 verses.

Humility is refusing to enter in any of the interlocking systems of arrogance.

A husband maintains his authority over his wife through love. This means to be wise and judicious in the function of authority. There are a certain number of ladies who are really mules, but that isn't your wife, who is a charming young thing who has wondering about life since she married you.

You do not fall in love because of attraction; you fall in love because you have respect in the mentality of your soul. Respect. In the realm of love, there is no such thing as instant love. There must be respect in your soul. The object of your love must meet the standards of your right lobe. Respect becomes the great issue.

Bob talks about those who are mentally disorganized. First illustration is a woman without organization; the second is a woman. You might as well face it and write yourself off until you are able to get organized.

"How dare he speak to me like that." That is arrogance and horsiness. "How dare he say something like that to me in church?" What do you want Bob to do; follow you to work and tell you this?

You should be more impressed with the source of science and math rather than science and math itself. Being late to work means being disorganized. This also means being preoccupied with self. This is arrogance.

There is something about being a guest; which means you have something to learn about those who are sustaining you. We have to learn how a country functions. When you go to a country, you learn to try their foods.

Psalm 33:8 [Let the whole earth tremble before the LORD; let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of \[reverence\] Him.](#)

Grace is the great hospitality of the Lord.

V. 9 refers to original creation. Jesus Christ as the Creator and the One providing for us His so-great salvation. Jesus Christ cannot give an erroneous command; David has just given an erroneous command.

What endured is the dry land. This is the faithfulness of God. The Word of the Lord which holds all things together, also provides for us. Human government, angelic rulers, and other authorities are all created for His purpose.

Psalms 33:9 For He spoke, and it came into being [endured]; He commanded, and it came into existence.

The believer is the guest in the devil's world and only our own volition will keep us from enjoying the benefits.

The people died because that was their volition. Humility is always related to worship.

Lam. 3:21–25 But this I call to mind, and therefore I have hope: The steadfast love of the LORD never ceases; his mercies never come to an end; they are new every morning; great is your faithfulness. "The LORD is my portion," says my soul, "therefore I will hope in him." The LORD is good to those who wait for him, to the soul who seeks him. It is good that one should wait quietly for the salvation of the LORD.

There will be no deliverance for our country through election. When there is national degeneracy, only great catastrophe can rectify the situation.

No testing has overtaken us, as such is common to man; but God is faithful, not to test us beyond our capacity. That daily decision is positive toward Bible doctrine. Many have escaped tornadoes, because they would dig a cellar and that is where they would go during the hurricane. The key to a disaster is preparing for that disaster in advance. This time, it was unknown to David... David, in effect, is saying, "Now, what will you do with your freedom."

Many of the men would find wives and have families and prosper and succeed. David will face his final test under dying grace.

Bob is always interested in football season when there is a saturation. We have seen a lot of football, and in all of this, there has been a certain amount of a letdown.

The bars are filling up because people want to forget what happened this weekend.

If your happiness depends upon a team winning or losing, then it is too bad. The one enthusiastic about sports is simply capacity for life. However, being depressed over the outcome of sports is problematic.

The millions of Africans who are won to the Lord is, the most important thing to them was not some game, but believing in Jesus Christ and entering into the plan of God.

God is faithful and He never allows us to be tested beyond our capabilities. The faithfulness of the Lord is the basis of logistical grace. Even when we are faithless, God provides another day and another day; even in the times of our life when we are at our worst, God still provides for us. When we believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, that is it; there is nothing that can destroy our salvation. The one thing that cannot be done is, thinking that we can do something which would cancel out the grace of God or the plan of God. God remains faithful; He cannot deny Himself.

Sarah concluded faithful the One who promised. She concluded, via the rationale.

Apparently, Psalm 33 is what David is presenting to his troops.

Pur means to frustrate. We cannot be destroyed as long as there is a pivot of believers. The pivot comes doctrine resident in the soul. People run around in some sort of fear that the world will be destroyed. Christ cannot come the 2nd time until the church is resurrected.

The Tribulation and the 2nd advent the Millennium and then the destruction of the entire universe. All the propaganda that we see, the last on the beach, the planet of the apes, because God frustrates the plans of nations. We plan to give away everything we can, so we can feel like we are nice to everyone. China and Russia look to advance and destroy; but God frustrates the plans of nations.

The plans of the Russian, the Chinese look to take over everywhere and control the economy. Many have discovered the conquest of the earth is ridiculous. Capitalism provides stores where there are lots of things to buy. But you go into a Russian store, and there is nothing on the shelves, and the Russians do not know how to make shoes or knives and forks and spoons. This is why all liberals are arrogant.

Liberalism when Bob went to college was toleration of other viewpoints. It does not mean that anymore. The dominance of liberalism in any nation results in tremendous degeneracy when it comes to crime and homosexuality. So Fidel and his brother decided, "Send them to the US." Wisconsin is a liberal state, and now they have all of these Cubans who are liberals.

Degeneration is living inside of interlocking systems of arrogance. Rejection of authority is arrogance and lack of humility.

If the communists paratrooper in and took over all of our industries, they would not know what to do with it all.

The 4 concepts include freedom itself the function of human freedom in human history. There is also the concept of privacy. The right to possess integrity and to make mistakes. Then there is property; the right to excel and to attain. Finally, there is authority. God's order and God's power to insure the function of freedom.

Under God's law, profit is legitimate. There will never be equality in the human race. Some use all of their resources to build businesses and it is the purpose of government to protect them from crime and crusaders. In Russia, even with money, there is very little to buy.

Freedom and equality cannot exist. David is implying that there will be other conspiracies in his reign and in Solomon's. The liberal, by his plans, seeks the equality of man; he attacks freedom. Freedom cannot guarantee or manufacture equality in the human race. Freedom is a reality and equality is a myth. The greater the freedom, the greater the inequality. Once you believe in Jesus Christ, your attitude toward doctrine is the key. There is a lot of difference between a baby, adolescent, mature believer, or a reversionist (and there are 9 stages of reversionism?). There is also ultra supergrace.

There is no equality in heaven and heaven is perfect. Everyone has a resurrection body, and that is where it ends. Perfect happiness and all the rest of it, but there is no equality in heaven. The greater the function of mentality and motivation the greater the inequality.

Forced equality is the policy of tyrants. Freedom and authority are 2 sides of the same coin. These have learned the principle of authority in a hurry. They learned that their officers, who they will never see again, that obeying them is the way to go. They did not know these people and yet, this taught them a great deal.

Military success depends upon the thinking of the officers not the men. Noncommissioned officer are important, but not nearly as important as the officers. Only arrogance thinks otherwise. This does not detract from the sergeants or the seamen or the privates. It is simply a principle. A lot of rank and file people hate their officers simply because they are officers. They will never make it in business, marriage, in their social life, because they have reject the principle of authority.

You do not have to love someone in order to obey them. You do not have to love your supervisor, etc. to do your job. You need only respect their authority.

Freedom and authority must go together. David is teachingn that they learned how to obey someone that they did not necessarily like. You can have a boss or a pastor that you cannot stand, but if you put yourself under their authority, you can move to the top and succeed. You will many times have the test of very poor authority over you. Because you learn genuine humility, you will never let a bad football weekend get you down. Arrogance is childish and immature.

We may cut down the authority of someone in a quiet place, but you do not realize that you are also destroying freedom; and this destroys freedom in a nation. Competent or incompetent authority protects freedom. Always in life, we will be under authority. There is always the danger of rejecting the divine plan.

Psalm 33:10 [The LORD frustrates the counsel \[plans\] of the nations; He thwarts \[neutralizes or nullifies\] the plans of the peoples.](#)

2Samuel 18

Psalm 33:11 Prov. 8:1–36 72David

631_0490

David's message in the gate. He is preparing this army for demobilization and preparing them for civilian ranks. They have done a phenomenal job. God is perfect and His plan is perfect; and God's plan is for our lives, tailor made for each of us. You can only lose out on God's plan by using your own negative volition. When you first hear Bible doctrine taught, it goes into your left lobe, and there you understand it. Faith transfers it to the right lobe. This is not the faith rest drill. This is not application. All knowledge is built upon the perceptive system of faith.

It is tragic when he live during a time when only idiots think up things for education.

We must distinguish between the 3 stages of the faith rest drill and faith as perfection. The latter is saving faith. Faith rest has nothing to do with the transfer in gap. Faith rest is just the transfer of Γνώσις to ἐπίγνωσις. Some people have been around Berachah for ages and cannot tell the difference between faith rest technique and faith as a system of perception.

A rationale must be based upon ἐπίγνωσις. That is faith as a system of perception and you have it in your soul. You need it for application. You can claim 100 promises and not go anywhere in the Christian life. The original faith rest book is useless because it does not have the 2nd stage of the faith rest technique.

I believe it and I use it. Once you can apply doctrine, you have muscle in your soul, because you can come to a doctrinal conclusion. The little idiot running around claiming promises is barely holding on.

If you cannot think, you are going nowhere as a believer. Bob mentions a recent session; people all over the place in Michigan, and this is a beautiful state which has been destroyed like you cannot believe by labor unions. And the conference was all yankees.

Etsah means plan and it our life. That is what God has for us. Qal imperfect of amad, which means to stand; total stability; something which is always there. God's plan is only available to us. God has a plan for our life and we have a plan for our life. There is this inevitable conflict. The only way we will miss God's plan is to use our volition against it. We use our volition against the plan of God when we say no to Bible doctrine.

When David came to what we have, he came to the crux of the whole matter. The plan of the Lord stands forever. The only way to glorify the Lord Jesus Christ, is doctrine in the soul; which is faith perception. Faith-rest is applying it.

God is perfect and His plan is perfect. David rejected the plan of God when he issued that ridiculous order. Preoccupation becomes distraction, and we cannot afford to be distracted from doctrine. A perfect plan can only originate from a perfect God. It can be no stronger than its weakest link.

No one grows spiritually by works; works are the result of spiritual growth, not the means. The most unused portion of our anatomy is the brain. We have to learn to think. It is painful. It is like recovering from frostbite.

There are no weak links in the plan of God. Man can do nothing for blessing just like he can do nothing for salvation. There are Christian works and Christian production. But our advancement is a matter of grace. There is no place for God to honor or to bless us.

Each of us possesses half of God's integrity at salvation, which is righteousness.

Common grace takes the gospel; it is presented to us. We hear the gospel and faith-perception understands it. When we exhale faith in Christ, that is faith-action, which Bob calls faith rest. When you say, "I believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, you are saved." A distinction is made because one is learning and the other is application.

We will get to see God's perfect plan for our life, maybe 90% unused. God's plan for us, perfect, but there is so much negative volition that we did not do much of it. All we did is claim a few promises. But, we had nothing to think.

Bob does not know if there will be much of this plan floating around and he would hate to see that he did not do much of it. The reason that we do not fulfill God's plan for our life is, we choose not to. I don't believe that; γνώσις. We have free will in our souls, and this means there is no build up of ἐπίγνωσις. The plan of the Lord stands forever. This has to be, because we have eternal life. The nice thing about the plan is, in time, we are under a test called the Angelic Conflict. We can choose for God's plan under the most stringent circumstances. God put all of this together for us, but there is one hitch; God gave us free will.

Machashabah is the plan of God in one word. That is thoughts; the plural of think. There is a difference between perception and application. You hear the doctrine, you listen to it; you understand what is being said. Then you choose to believe it or not. However, the γνώσις is no good. ἐπίγνωσις is what makes you grow. That develops rationales. You understand and you do it. David is now giving this great speech to his army after being chewed out by Joab. He just used the imputation rationale. Many of us are in a crisis period of our life. We say doctrine works or doesn't work; and we are missing the boat. We either believe doctrine or we do not.

Psalm 33:11 [The counsel \[plan\] of the LORD stands forever, the plans of His heart from generation to generation.](#)

God is going to share His thoughts. He does not share them through holy rollers; He does not share them through singing "Do Lord." Faith has a system of perception and a system of application. Gap and all stages of the faith-rest technique.

The New Believer and Gap

1. Gap finds the believer in a state of ignorance at the beginning of their Christian life. They know a tiny portion of the gospel.
2. As the Christian life progresses, ignorance may continue with it. After salvation, the issue is doctrine and the individual has negative volition toward doctrine. There are many reasons why the believer does not understand and remains in a state of ignorance.
3. There are 2 categories of faith in learning the mind of Christ. Faith perception and faith application. Faith has a system of perception and a system of application.
4. In learning doctrine, only faith perception applies. In applying the rationales, faith application applies. Obviously, one is intake and the other is the output of doctrine.
5. The first stage of going from ignorance to cognizance is γνῶσις. You hear teaching from the pulpit and you understand it under the ministry of the Holy Spirit.
6. Γνῶσις is knowledge of doctrine, but only that which resides in the left lobe, and it cannot be applied or used in spiritual growth.
7. This can only be used when it is transferred to the right lobe. Γνῶσις must become ἐπίγνωσις. The only way to grow or advance is through ἐπίγνωσις. Faith perception is twofold here. Negative and positive. Faith translates γνῶσις into ἐπίγνωσις.

Stage 2 of Faith Rest

1. Next category is faith-application. Applying doctrine to experience.
2. Faith perception converts Γνῶσις doctrine into ἐπίγνωσις doctrine.
3. Faith application is the 2nd stage of the faith rest drill.
4. This is the basic of Christo-centric thinking.
5. The dynamics of the faith rest drill depend upon the 2nd stage of the faith rest drill. There is nothing dynamic about claiming promises. That is a means to an end.
6. The ultimate is reverse concentration, which is the 2nd stage of the faith rest drill, which is the muscle of the faith rest life. Logistical grace rationale; the rebound rationale, etc.
7. The first stage of the faith rest drill is the dynamics of the Christian life. A lot of people left Berachah before they learned the 2nd stage.
8. Stage 1 is the means of faith rest concentration. Stage 2 is the dynamics; stage 3 is the results.
9. The real issue is reverse concentration. That application of faith to your environment. Just claiming promises will not get the job done. It puts you in the driver's seat so that you can think. The believer must learn to think in terms of divine viewpoint.

The Steps in Gap

1. ICE the pastor-teacher.
2. Spiritual humility involves the filling of the Holy Spirit and the existence of the humility factor, which comes in 3 categories: organized humility, enforced humility and genuine humility. This is found in the church, the home, the military, any business, etc.
3. The believer must be motivated. Some can lose motivation when they think they have learned more doctrine than they really have. You need a steady flow of ἐπίγνωσις. This requires positive volition toward doctrine. This means concentration, whether you are interested or not.
4. Therefore, the importance of learning the rebound rationale and applying the technique to the academic function. Doctrine hits your left lobe. If you have rebounded and if you are under the authority of the pastor-teacher, then you will profit and your will persist in profiting from the teaching of Bible doctrine.
5. The I in ICE is for isagogics. This is interpreting the Bible in its historical framework. Also involved is the language in which it is written.
6. There is also the categories. This fulfills the hermanuetical approach.
7. The analysis of each verse in its context to determine its exact meaning of each verse as related to the whole. This involves all the different original languages. Stage 2 is the believer listening.

Stage 2

1. With enough frame of reference you understand the concept being taught and the passage being taught.
2. When you understand, the doctrine goes to the first of the 2 lobes that make up the mentality of the soul.
3. The believer approaches doctrinal teaching in ignorance. The objective of doctrinal teaching is turning ignorance into cognizance.
4. If ignorance persists or continues, it is because the believer is negative toward doctrine.
5. If it is negative in attending class, like being in interlocking systems of arrogance, there are a number of doors that could cause the problem.
6. Other reasons for ignorance include a lack of frame of reference. Your ignorance may come from sporadic attendance. It may come from distraction; too interested in a member of the opposite sex. It might be a lack of concentration. Christianity is thought and not emotion. The plan of God stands forever; the thoughts of His right lobe are for all generations.
7. Apart from ignorance, the believer under the ministry of the Holy Spirit, the believer can and does learn doctrine. He learns this from his right pastor-teacher, whether it is face to face or from a distance. Non-face to face teaching is based upon the New Testament epistles. Every New Testament church involved some non-face to face teaching.

8. Γνώσις is receptive comprehension. Simple Γνώσις cannot be applied to spiritual growth. It can never be applied to experience. Bob may have implied that faith rest turned γνώσις into ἐπίγνωσις, but that is not true. Faith perception is what converts it. You cannot use γνώσις for anything. You are born as a baby pink and fat without any definition. Just a lot of fat. That is γνώσις. That must be converted to muscle.

Stage 3 the Function of Faith Perception

1. There are 2 kinds of faith; faith perception and faith application. Both are related to the plan of God.
2. Faith perception is used in learning doctrine. It converts γνώσις into ἐπίγνωσις.
3. In stage 3, γνώσις is converted to ἐπίγνωσις thought. You might understand what is being taught and you say, "I believe it." That is ἐπίγνωσις. You must start with a premise and believe that premise; and you must define it.
4. Stage 3 is critical to fulfilling the plan of God. Only ἐπίγνωσις doctrine causes spiritual growth. It is critical to Christian experience because only ἐπίγνωσις doctrine can cause you to grow. Claiming a promise is the means, not the end. It is called the grace apparatus for perception because it is a grace system. It does not depend upon IQ, rationalism or empiricism. It is communicated, understood, and then you believe it or not.
5. Stage 4 is faith application. It converts ἐπίγνωσις doctrine into experience. That is the rationales of the Christian life. You can know a lot of doctrine and if it is all γνώσις, that is anthropocentric thinking. There are new standards of the Christian life; Christo-centric standards.
6. Stage 5 is spiritual growth in the fulfillment of the plan of God. Only ἐπίγνωσις doctrine results in spiritual growth.

2Samuel 18

Psalm 33:12– 72David

631_0492

That God has a plan for our lives has been taught in many contexts. David, sitting on the throne at Mahanaim, gives a message to his soldiers who are about to return from a civil war. Few of us appreciate what it is like to live in a nation that is no nation; like a 3rd world nation. God's plan for us is inside client nation USA. Just like it was God's plan for this army to live inside of client nation Israel. There is only one way to grow in grace, which is the perception of doctrine under γνώσις. From this comes the pivot. The pivot determines the general characteristics of the nation.

As a nation, we are suffering from the great tragedy of interlocking systems of arrogance. Those who are dealing with the problem are involved in interlocking systems of arrogance.

If you are looking to organize some kind of secret army or guerilla organization, because such an organization automatically falls into terrorism, which is an attempt to solve one evil with another evil.

There is an idiot out in Phoenix who takes the tapes and he polly parrots the tapes back to his people. The rest of the time, he takes his people out into the mountains. He could not give a sermon without one of Bob's tapes. The man is a fool. The problem is a spiritual problem; not a political problem.

A person can be cool and collected on the battlefield; but when he returns, he is a good citizen. Organizational humility.

Any time you are in a client nation, you are among the chosen people. As gentiles, we can be just as much chosen people as Israel.

There are 2 kinds of happiness in a client nation; those who break the maturity barrier and those who receive blessing by association. Such a nation is a happy nation.

Evangelism must be the presentation of the gospel, so that these must be received under privacy. An evangelist which calls people to come forward invades a person's privacy. You don't follow up; follow up is an evil. If someone, of their own free will, want doctrine, they will eventually find it. They might start with a neighborhood church on the corner and eventually find doctrine somewhere. The function of the client nation to God includes evangelism; but there is no right to infringe upon the new believer's privacy. It is like the government infringing on your privacy. Or like the church that gets your name and phone number, which is an intrusion upon your privacy.

The client nation is defined as that country whose God is Y<sup>e</sup>howah. Israel will later be divided into 2 nations. The client nation is that country whose God is the LORD. This means there is a pivot. When you believe in Christ, Jesus becomes your Lord. There is evangelism in that nation and people in each generation believe.

Bachar means to select, to elect to privilege, chosen for His inheritance. When you live in a client nation, God's personal plan is to the individual.

Psalm 33:12 Happy [Happinesses] is the nation [the Gentile] whose God is the LORD--the people He has chosen to be His own possession!

Omniscience is one of 3 categories of God's knowledge. Self-knowledge and foreknowledge are the other 2. We acquire knowledge through learning; God never has to learn. God knows Himself and He knows himself to be beyond all other creatures. Because God is immutable, His knowledge cannot change. God never forgets anything. His knowledge cannot change. God has absolute knowledge and God is never confused. His self-knowledge is related to the other members of the Trinity as well. Each member of the Trinity has perfect self-knowledge. God has absolute and total knowledge of everything that will occur. His knowledge is perfect and God cannot be faked out. You can never deceive God. Therefore, save a little time and never try to fake out God.

Marriages are not made in heaven. They are made on earth to propagate the earth.

If there is anything which God cannot stand outside of arrogance is absurdity. The tongues movement; the function of the holy rollers; the begging for money; the concepts of sharing; these are absurdities. Salvation by works or spiritually by works. God cannot tolerate the absurd.

How can you avoid the absurdities in your life? Doctrine and more doctrine. With 1000% saturation of doctrine, you can get something out of it. You can't get enough doctrine. The more doctrine you have, the straighter will be your thinking.

ἐπίγνωσις comes from faith application. Faith application is believing in the Lord Jesus Christ. That γνῶσις gospel that you heard becomes ἐπίγνωσις.

There is a certain portion of God's knowledge which is separate from everything else. God has always known about every creature in their totality. We can His knowledge the divine decrees.

Omniscience of God has fed these facts into the computer and the printout is election to privilege, which is related to those who are chosen.

Believers in Israel determine the direction of that client nation. In the dispensation of Israel, there was the united kingdom; and later on, it was a split with David's grandson Rehoboam. We determine, by our daily attitude, whether this client nation will be blessed or disciplined. On the surface, there is degeneracy among the people.

If you have a small pivot, then you have national degeneracy. David is telling them to go back and fulfill the plan of God. As go the believers, so goes the nation. If the believer fails to grow up through Bible doctrine, then there is likely to be discipline toward the nation.

Jesus Christ controls history, and if He is going to destroy a nation, then He allows their free will to function, and lets them function. If we are permitted to go unchecked, we will destroy ourselves. People were far better dressed and groomed in the past. People have degenerated in their standards of grooming and dress. If they have degenerated standards in one place, then the often indicates a degeneration elsewhere.

How we look often reflects how we think. What we say reflects how we think; what we do reflects how we think. We are not living because we breath. We live because we think. It is no longer the EKG but the EEG which determines whether we are still alive. We are alive because of what we think. Failing to think means that we are walking death. When you have mass degeneracy, you really have mass psychosis.

Right now, we could go in either direction as a nation. Discipline is certain. If people respond to divine discipline and divine warning and the nation goes back to establishment, there is evangelism and, often, a positive response. A nation is unhealthy with a small pivot and a large spinoff. What David is saying, when you are mobilized, get going.

Election is defined as the believer's privilege to influence history in their advance to spiritual maturity.

Psalm 33:12 Happy [Happinesses] is the nation [the Gentile] whose God is the LORD--the people He has chosen to be His own possession!

2Samuel 18

Psalm 33:12–15 72David

631_0493

Bridgewater, NJ has a telephone hookup for Bible classes every night. 50–60 Fx's by the end of the year.

All the New Testament epistles are the result of non-face to face teaching. 2 other Corinth epistles and apparently more of John's writing. Bob has never invited anyone to church.

The virgin pregnancy is the true issue. That is the means by which Jesus Christ came into the world without the imputation of a sin nature or of Adam's original sin. The issue was the same to Jesus as it was to Adam.

1Peter 2:24 elected to privilege and precious in the sight of the Lord. Chosen in the Hebrew means elect. Jews in Israel were believers and unbelievers; but Israel was a client nation. This was a mixture of believers and unbelievers; no nation is all believers. In this country, we have Jew and Gentile believers, one body in Christ.

If you don't study, you will make some stupid statements. Bob lived in Dallas for many yeas, although it was not his favorite city. The seminary was there. Bob wrote a column for a tiny paper. He was never in the Dallas Morning news when he lived there. Now, front page, lead story recently. Inaccurate and worthless. There seems to be a weird idea that, if you are for something the press is not, like the military and the police force, then you must be some kind of cult.

To be a politician, if you are smart, you have to check your brains somewhere. There is nothing that any politician can do or that we can do with all of our good ideas. We are loaded with conspiracies. Whenever things are not running under the laws of divine establishment and freedom is being destroyed by tyranny, then you have a lot of conspiracies. We are the only thing that will save this country. God elected us billions of years ago; and so were a lot of Jews elected.

Astros are in a penant race and someone says, "We can drop a game now and again" means that these are not penant material.

We are elected as a believer to advance to maturity. The prosperity of our nation depends upon our attitude toward Bible doctrine. I have given you a title of honor, which is Israel, though you have not known Me. God's plan is the same, even though there are unbelievers.

This is not to imply that the Word of God has failed; all who have descended from Israel are not true Jews. Neither because they are Abraham's posterity are they children; in Isaac your posterity will be elected to privilege.

There is always an individual plan from God to us. Rom. 11:1–7 For I too am an Israelite, from the tribe of Benjamin. God has not rejected His people He foreknew. "I have reserved for Myself 7000 who have now bowed the knee to Baal" we still have elect Jews and we are delighted to have Jewish by race in the congregation who are also Jews by the regeneration.

Matt. 24 has the Jewish elect. Because of the elected ones, who have advanced to maturity.

Do not ever forget God's wonderful plan for your life; you have been elected to privilege. This demands Royal Family Honor Code function. Put on the affections of grace compassions. This One, having saved us and having elected us to a holy station of life, according to a predetermined plan. God's plan for our lives was designed long before human history.

It is God Who justifies. There is a doctrine of God's elected ones. It is the Lord Jesus Christ Who controls history, and we have the privilege and honor of delivering this client nation in our day.

Since the believer is elected to privilege, he is under the Royal Family Honor Code. We are always obligated to give thanks to God concerning you (those who have cracked the maturity barrier; thank God for those in the pivot right now). These are the ones who are protecting our country. We have failed in every possible way, and we have blessing right now.

We have failed as a nation. We are a nation of cowards, a nation of panics, and yet we are blessed. What have we earned or deserved from God?

Psalm 33:12 Happy [Happinesses] is the nation [the Gentile] whose God is the LORD--the people He has chosen to be His own possession!

Then David changes the subject. In vv. 13–22, David gets back to his favorite subject; Jesus Christ controls history. David begins with the computer of divine decrees.

Bob would be described as naval, someone who wants to see what is going on. The Lord does not have to look. He sees without human eyes.

God has seen all mankind. There is nothing by way of decision, action in all of history which is not known to the Lord.

God has always had the power of observation, and He has known from eternity all that we would do, as well as observe them in time.

Psalm 33:13 The LORD looks down from heaven; He observes everyone.

David continues with this in v. 14. The soldiers have begun to celebrate their great victory and God sees all of this from His place. God has focused His attention on something specific, which is client nation Israel. No one lives and no one dies apart from God.

Psalm 33:14 He gazes on all the inhabitants of the earth from His dwelling place [from his place of sitting].

Crafting here is like a sculptor taking a bit of granite and working with it. God knows all the souls, as He has formed all the right lobes in the human race.

There is a relationship between the divine decrees and the fact that Jesus Christ controls human history.

Psalm 33:15 He alone crafts their hearts; He considers [perceives] all their works.

2Samuel 18

Psalm 33:13–16 72David

631_0494

People are always concerned that they are the only ones who understand their problems, which means that they do not understand their problems at all. God made provision for these problems in eternity past. Once you get a lot of people involved in your life and your business, it is not pleasant or good; it destroys your freedom.

Psalm 33:13 The LORD looks down from the heavens; He observes everyone.

Psalm 33:14 He gazes on all the inhabitants of the earth from His dwelling place.

Psalm 33:15 [He alone forms their hearts; \[it is\] He \[who\] considers all their works.](#)

Psalm 33:16 A king is not saved by a large army; a warrior will not be delivered by great strength.

From eternity past, God has known everything about us. It is hard to take the finite mind and relate it to the infinite. Every over-simplification demands the use of Anthropopathism. It uses human characteristics in order to explain God.

We need to discuss 2 doctrines at this point. David has brought in as an application and as a rationale the doctrine of divine decrees.

God does not have eyes to see; but this is given to explain God on our level.

Admiral Stockdale, who recently got the medal of honor, where he demonstrated the highest form of moral courage, including 7 years of prison and torture from the North Vietnamese. The ability to use the rationales that he had accumulated in his lifetime; his ability to think under pressure, all reveals his moral courage. This was moral courage in isolation, without any encouragement. It would have been easy to say, "God has forgotten me; God has let these horrible things happen to me."

Bob, on a bad night, walks off the pulpit, saying, "What does God let this happen to me?" Some of our problems comes from our association with other people.

From time to time, you will say, "Everyone in this world is nuts and I am the only person with a bit of sanity who is left." It is easy to get this way. You get acquainted with a few people in one way or another, and this thought comes to you.

Then it all falls down upon you; doesn't God know you are still here? God knows what you are thinking and what you would say billions of years ago. Our basis for faith and practice, we go back to essential theological terms.

Billions of years ago, God knew all about us and at that time, He provided everything that it is that we need. That God has a plan and purpose for us is limited by by our humanity. We see a little bit at a time. We begin to put things together.

With all of Satan's genius, he is unable to rule, function, so that man has a fair shake. You begin to hurt in life when you discover that it is an unfair world. We hear all about fairness in various sorts of philosophies and in academia, etc.; but it does not exist and it will never exist, until the 2nd advent (and still, even then, there will be inequality).

The issue of the Angelic Conflict inevitable involves free will, so Satan has relatively little control over large portions of the population. Satan seeks to control and set up a philosophy of control.

We will discover that, when you have any sort of an organization; inevitably, there is some sort of defined authority. When it becomes distorted and to gain the objective or to control, that violence is used, that authority is no longer legitimate authority.

The decrees of God are eternal because God is eternal. They are related to God's knowledge. God has known everything perfectly from eternity. Ignorance complicates our lives, but God is not complicated by absurdities or ignorance.

Bob's policy from the beginning has been a no-nonsense government, and he has tried to conform to the principles of Timothy and Titus.

It is very difficult for us to realize that God's plan is not complicated by absurdities. The decrees of God are perfect and eternal. They take our thoughts and motives and decisions and actions and relate them to God's perfect provisions and decrees.

His decrees are His wisdom and His will for our lives. The decrees of God are pictured as a giant computer where God's omniscience feeds the computer, since God knows all of the facts of history. God has omniscience, one of His 3 types of knowledge. The omniscience of God feeds the actions and thoughts and motivations of every person into the computer. At the same time the omniscience of God knew all of the alternatives. Suppose you had chosen another university or profession or husband or wife; or another geographical location. Life has a lot of probabilities. God can show us to the last generation of history what these different choices would have done and how they would have affected every generation down to the Millennium.

The plan of God stands forever.

Psalm 33:11 [The counsel \[plan\] of the LORD stands forever, the plans of His heart from generation to generation.](#)

Psalm 33:12 [Happy \[Happinesses\] is the nation \[the Gentile\] whose God is the LORD--the people He has chosen to be His own possession!](#)

The computer of divine decrees. Election deals with the fact that we have a relationship to the client nation Israel. Election has to do with our privilege. Foreknowledge is a printout and the difference between this and omniscience is, this is a printout.

We are in the mind of God since eternity past. He has always been there to help us. He has given us free will to resolve the Angelic Conflict.

Predestination is not fatalism; we were in the mind of God in eternity past and in the plan of God in eternity past. Having +R means that God has a way to bless us. There is a plan and a purpose.

David had all of these things in mind as he wrote this. This all relates to time and to every category of history. There is a mechanical function. God knows perfectly and eternally and simultaneously all that is knowable; both the actual and the possible, which are the alternatives.

God's knowledge is infinitely superior to the knowledge of all creatures. This knowledge is available to all of us through the nonmeritorious system of perception which is gap. Certain aspects are available to unbelievers (salvation). You can be a genius and know nothing about God's plan; and you can have an IQ slightly above a moron and know much about God's plan.

David gives the gist of this by indicating that God knows all about you and has seen you from heaven. However, there is more to this than simply the battlefield victory. No government is delivered by a great army. With all of the planning, organization and weaponry is no good without having the Lord Jesus Christ on your side.

Jesus Christ is still controlling history. If you don't have doctrine, then you don't have anything going for you.

Some of you men are quite handsome and smart and you have great personalities; but what good is it having any positive asset in life without doctrine, without knowing the plan of God? And what good is this in a marriage if you have no personal character. Without doctrine, life has no meaning, no purpose, no definition. Life may give you a temporary stimulation, but life is meaningless without doctrine. These men have known something of adversity, and now they have it all ahead of them. Will they now go back a fail? Will some end up as the town drunks? Will they ruin their lives or what? David is challenging them with this thing. He wants them to realize that there is only one coin of the realm. We have won a great victory here, but without doctrine, what good is it? There will be cheering and celebration; but what good is this apart from doctrine in your soul?

Bob will lose his gift of prophecy if the Astros win the penant. It is okay to drop a game or two. In that thinking, you are already a loser. They have developed a thought pattern of loser ship. Bob warns us against leaning toward the World Series occurring in Houston.

Did you notice that several of our Texas aggies were missing Sunday? There are a lot of disappointments in life. Life has its disappointments. We all have things and teams that we root for. We all want to win. What will happen after the election? Will we walk around in a pall of gloom as losers?

David is saying that it is possible to win a battle, to win a great campaign, and then to go home and to be a loser.

Omniscience perceives the free as free and the necessary as necessary. There is that variation of that scale of values. Whatever it is that we want to do more than learn doctrine and the mind of Christ. When you learn doctrine, you increase your capacity for life. You increase your ability to enjoy things. Some people have learned doctrine and have developed capacity for the ballet or for opera or for symphony. The greater your capacity the greater the intensity of your decisions.

Time has nothing to do with God's knowledge. God knows all that would have been involved in every case where your decision may have been different. God knows Himself. It is His omniscience where He knows all the possibilities. God's decrees relate to all future events.

Foreordination is the act of an infinitely wise God the certain futurition of all events. How do we know some things dogmatically that we will be the last person on the beach after an A bomb war; or that we will not be destroyed by nuclear fuel. Or that we will destroy ourselves in this way or that. There will always be a populated earth. This will be true in the Tribulation, in the Millennium, and throughout the history of the world.

We had to realize that our thinking is influence and coerced by the fear syndrom. We cannot afford to let the mad Huskies do this or that. There will be warfare in the Tribulation; the last period of warfare, and the infantry is still the queen of the services in the Tribulation at Armageddon, even with all of the wild stuff that we have developed.

Charleton Heston starred in a weird movie, and everyone was diseased or something and only he is left and he goes out to Death Valley or something. It is propaganda. It is guaranteed to destroy our nation. No nation can abandon its institutions. It is amazing how many of the applications of Bible doctrine are related to the divine decrees.

God's decrees were simultaneously decreed. The decrees did not occur in stages. All events shall be consistent with causes and effects. There is no such thing as fatalism in the plan of God. Everything is related to everything in your life. God knows how the free agent will function in every case. The antecedents will act in every case. All present conditions of an act shall be what they are and all acts will be spontaneous. We may make decisions that will limit our free will. We limit our volition by some of the things that we do.

The decrees have the whole picture; the printout. The application of the decrees is what we find in this passage.

The decrees are related to the plan of God. Bob wants to get to a point where he can go back to this topic. One day, Bob is going to take about 3 nights out and handle this.

David says, "Look, God is perfect and His plan is perfect; but many of you have rejected God's plan. However, when you reject God's plan, you are still in God's plan. So, you begin reducing your options. You abuse your freedom so that you begin to lose your freedom."

No government can do anything for you. The local government can't do anything for you; if you are dead, they will investigate the situation. There comes a kind of disaster in the life of every person when government can't do everything for you. When the government tries to do everything, that is called socialism. The principle of disaster is helplessness. The government may have 100 laws on the books, but the enforcement of these laws do nothing for you. If Russians paratrooper into Houston, our government could do nothing. The Russians have 10 divisions of paratroopers. The government is not designed to help you. There is no such thing as equality. When you need government, government cannot help you. Government is designed to give you freedom to allow you to make decisions; but they cannot fix everything for you. Before the disaster comes, you must have God's thinking in your soul. In an historical disaster, only God can deliver a national entity. The large number of liberal concepts causes a government to enter into great degeneracy. The idea that man by man's efforts can solve man's problems is political arrogance. We have become an arrogant nation because we think that we can solve our problems. The God Who invented government to preserve freedom is completely left out of it.

Interlocking systems of arrogance means degeneracy; degeneracy means the Lord Jesus Christ will allow such a nation to go down. Jesus Christ functions often based upon the size of the pivot. When you reject the authority of the police officer, you are rejecting freedom. God makes war against the arrogant, but He gives grace to the humble.

Psalm 33:16 A king is not saved by a large army; a warrior will not be delivered by great strength.

We will have perfect environment. Apart from capital punishment, there will be no death. However, there will be a revolt against perfect environment and perfect government.

The various gates of arrogance which cause revolution. The arrogance of thinking, including all of the mental attitude sins. Pride, jealousy, hatred, etc.

When we were born into this life, human life was imputed to us. At salvation, we have eternal life imputed to us. As believers in Jesus Christ, we have human life and eternal life. As goes our attitude toward our parents so goes our attitude in life. Our parents may seem mean or unfair, but they are the first authority that we face. When we reject the authority of our parents, we reject organizational humility. We are born with physical life and spiritual death. We are condemned at birth by having Adam's original sin imputed to us. This is just like President Carter taking us to war tomorrow; we may or may not agree with the decision, but we are still at war.

All of our personal sins were collected by God and held up for the cross, and imputed to Jesus Christ on the cross, hanging between heaven and earth. Salvation is the work of God. We are not condemned by personal sins.

David is related God's perfect plan to the function of the client nation. The revolution is over and the civil war is won by the establishment forces.

Psalm 33:11 [The counsel \[plan\] of the LORD stands forever, the plans of His heart from generation to generation.](#)

Psalm 33:12 [Happy \[Happinesses\] is the nation \[the Gentile\] whose God is the LORD--the people He has chosen to be His own possession!](#)

Psalm 33:13 The LORD looks down from the heavens; He observes everyone.

Psalm 33:14 He gazes on all the inhabitants of the earth from His dwelling place.

Psalm 33:15 [He alone forms their hearts; \[it is\] He \[who\] considers all their works.](#)

Psalm 33:16 A king is not saved by a large army; a warrior will not be delivered by great strength.

The arrogance of our foreign policy is only exceeded by the arrogance of our domestic policy.

Absalom had about 300,000 in his army; David had maybe 30,000 in his. The odds were against the establishment army, and yet they won the victory. Absalom was destroyed so that the client nation function could be preserved. If we had to go to war today and we suddenly had to draft from the farms and the cities, we would be unable to fight a war. We are dealing with a degenerate, worthless people. Those who came out of the depression were people with integrity and they could be turned into citizen-soldiers. We do not have the same category of people today. We have a generation of hippies with no concept of authority; we have a whole generation of drug addicts.

God will protect the believer no matter where he is found; there is the principle of the wall of fire. We will need to have total dependence upon the Lord Jesus Christ. The importance of the spiritual advance of the pivot. Such deliverance no longer depends upon the function and the principles of the establishment even; but upon God.

There is organizational humility, submission to the parents in the home. In a state of humility, crime goes down. In arrogance, it goes up.

God makes war against the arrogant but is gracious toward the humble. A man with great power and muscle, apparently is what Bob is drawing on the board. He begins to depend upon his strength and muscle. Bob finds muscle to be very helpful in allowing him to sit for hours in study.

Once we are inside of the interlocking systems of arrogance, we are weak; we are weak because of our arrogance. A woman can be beautiful; but with arrogance, her arrogance can cause her to be very ugly. Because a woman is beautiful, she can become very arrogant about this beauty. Some of the greatest arrogance is found among the hippies. They demand that the government feed them and clothe them and cause them to survive. They are demanding equality when there is no such thing. There is no equality even in heaven. The more freedom you have, the greater the inequality. Some use this freedom to regress. A strong man is not delivered by his strength; and a king is not delivered by a great army. Arrogance neutralizes an army. Our young people have become so frustrated in our society today. Preoccupied with self. Those taking acid or angel dust; that person is preoccupied with himself. He finds that he has no talent left and he feels sorry for himself, and he destroys himself by his own volition. Whatever your greatness is in life, you cannot deliver yourself with this. There are those who take martial arts so that they can go anywhere and hold their own. Arrogance gives the concept of a false security.

Arrogance can only intensify insecurity. We often think of Presidents as being safer because they are guarded by secret service; but the only true security is Jesus Christ. The weak mind is simply a proud person who trust in his own power.

Napoleon's armies in Spain and Russia; great armies, but they did not deliver their nation.

Psalm 33:16 A king is not saved by a large army; a warrior will not be delivered by great strength.

Then David talks about horses. The Bible must be interpreted in the time that it was written. The horse and the mule are transportation of that day.

Absalom was on his mule, but his longhair got caught in the branches. Absalom ran out of decisions, because he kept making bad decisions. Without the Lord Jesus Christ, no deliverance can be genuine. Now we have come to the warhorse. The warhorse is a vain thing for safety. The victory resides in the Lord. The warhorse represents military equipment. An army can have great equipment and still lose the battle. There is no security unless we are properly related to the Lord Jesus Christ. Our souls ought to be filled with Bible doctrine.

We need a strong military for the laws of divine establishment; however, we also need Jesus Christ, Who controls history. If there is arrogance and degeneracy, the best equipment is delusion. The strength of the army cannot deliver; the strength of the armored force cannot deliver.

Strong delusion is always preceded by negative volition arrogance. When we say no to the truth, this adds scar tissue to our souls. Self-righteousness is a substitute for truth in prosperity. Self-pity is a substitute for doctrine in prosperity.

The great factor is, Jesus Christ controls history. The true stability and victory is in the pivot. A small pivot and a spin off of apostasy results in divine punishment. We, the people of the United States, are a client nation to God. The Lord Jesus Christ in delivering a nation must take cognizance of the pivot. During the time of Jeremiah, this was true. Much of the population was arrogant.

We cannot depend upon the 1980 election.

The national deliverance is related to the pivot.

Faith reaches out and comes to a doctrinal conclusion. Faith must reach out and claim a promise. However, even better if faith reaches out and uses a rationale, e.g., the judicial imputation of our sins to Jesus Christ. When we name or confess our sins to God, we are forgiven these sins and cleansed from all unrighteousness.

Psalm 33:17 [The \[war\] horse is a false hope \[strong delusion\] for safety \[victory\]; it provides no escape by its great power.](#)

The local church is the classroom for teaching humility. When we listen and hear doctrine, this produces genuine humility. The eye of the Lord refers to the 3 categories of divine knowledge. God the Father knows Himself and all of His attributes. These characteristics have always existed perfectly in all 3 Persons of the Trinity. God also knows the other members of the Trinity Who have identical characteristics. God the Father knows Himself, but He also knows the Son and the Spirit. This is why God is often said to be One, which refers to His essence.

Every thought, motives, and action that we will take. Omniscience knows everything that we have ever thought or will think. He also knows the alternatives, which God can follow out to the final days of human history.

Foreknowledge recognizes what is in the computer of divine decrees; it does not recognize the alternatives. This means that we are in the mind of God in eternity past. God imputed to us perfect righteousness, which is why He is able to bless us.

Here, God's knowledge refers to omniscience in particular. There is nothing unknown to God. The Piel stem means to trust in time of pain or pressure. This is a reference to the 3 stages of the faith rest drill. It takes concentration to learn doctrine. The ability to think under pressure is what David is talking about here. You learn to think under pressure on the battlefield; and then, after war, you will have to be able to think when it comes to civilian life and the pressures which we face as civilians. God cannot bless us without this amputated righteousness. Grace is the policy of the justice of God imputing His righteousness to us.

Legitimate works or illegitimate works will not get you blessing. God does not bless you because you give money or join a church. Or God does not bless you because you stand up as a result of some emotional activity.

Psalm 33:18 [Now the eye of the LORD is on those who fear \[-respect\] Him--those who depend on \[trust in\] His grace](#)

2Samuel 18

Psalm 33:19–22 72David

631_0496

The final lesson of the 1972 David series.

Sometime in a person's life, he finds himself strapped for money; and sometimes, we think that having money is the answer to our fondest dreams. Money is handy, but it is certainly not the answer to everything. Best to have enough doctrine to have capacity for life. We find ourselves completely strapped, and we cannot pped. Today, we call this a depression; in previous times, we called it a famine. We can never have a civilized society where there is religion; religion in Africa, Asia and India slow down their growth. It is even worse when everyone else is broke; then you cannot ever borrow.

David was concerned of this occurring in his time, although it did not. When it comes time to die, you die all by yourself. That is something nice about dying in the battlefield and there are people all around you dying. In civilian life, you die alone. You must go through the valley of the shadow all by yourself. No one is going with you.

Have you ever had to entertain yourself because you were all alone and feeling blue? You check your breath, your deodorant. We all have the chance to be alone. We find out the condition of our own soul.

Being alone is no problem; being in a crowd is okay. The first alone situation is to be dying and the 2nd is to be broke. In the latter, you find out who your fiends really are. Who likes you.

It is the soul which is rescued from death; not the body. It is the soul that has the capacity for life and capacity for happiness. Without the capacity, you cannot enjoy life alone or with others. Bible doctrine is the coin of the realm. Bible doctrine gives you the capacity for happiness in this life and when you are departing from this life.

Bob, if dying from cancer, would claw his way out because he'd rather die on the hospital lawn than in the hospital. Worse thing hospitals have done is put tv's in them. TV's in hospitals means that people are going to go to hell because they are not making their preparation for heaven or eternity.

Our life is divided into the living part and the dying part. In the time of dying, there is support. The perpetuation of the life until we can die properly.

Famine deprives you from some of the necessities of life. There would be wars, famines, and various disasters. As long as there is life on this earth, there will be all of these things. Since the Bible advocates free enterprise, when the laws of divine establishment are set aside by liberalism, there will also be recessions and depressions. The more the government interferes with the economy, the more often there are economic disasters.

Job. 5:20 In an economic depression, He will redeem you from death. God provided for Elijah by ravens and then by this woman, and by a brook. In a famine, he was redeemed from death.

God knows the days of the mature believer. Politicians and false teachers promise no famine, according to Jer. 5:12 Misfortune will not come on us; we will not see war or famine. These are 2 things they cannot do. Jer. 14:13 Behold the prophets who tell them, you will not see the sword and you will not see famine; Gen. 12 famine is used as a test for believers when it comes to logistical grace. This is a testing point to see if Bible doctrine is great enough to carry you. Isa. 51:17,19 Rouse yourselves, you who have drunk from His cup of anger. These things will happen to you. Who will mourn for you? You will have famine and the sword. Another: Even if Moses and Samuel stood before the people, they would not listen to them. An analogy to rotten figs. "I will make them a horror to all the kingdoms of the earth." The name Jews has become a curse, a horror in many places. They were once the most glorious client nation on earth. "I will have to intensify your depression and take away even your bread."

Sometimes, in a depression, people seek for truth. Time magazine this past year have been printed the truth. It makes you fall down in shock. But people still ignore it and reject it, then you are seeing the inevitable results of strong delusion.

Psalm 20:7-8 Some trust in battle chariots but we trust in the Lord.

Psalm 33:19 to deliver [rescue] them from death and to keep them alive in famine.

David gives the 3 stages of the faith rest drill. Faith here claims a promise. In v. 21, it is the 2nd stage. In v. 22, it is the 3rd stage.

Even though we have these rationales, we do not always have the chance to apply them. God is our aid and He is our shield. We also have a procedure. The shield is all of the promises that we have accumulated.

Psalm 33:20 We [Our soul will] wait for the LORD; He is our help and shield.

Our right lobes have great happiness, and this is based upon thought.

Rationate means to be thinking clearly and logically so that you come to good conclusions. This is reverse concentration. It applies something greater to something which is less.

Psalm 33:21 For our hearts rejoice in Him, because we trust [body slam our troubles on the Lord] in His holy name.

Supergrace blessings which are in the soul. God is constantly blessing us; and the greater our capacity, the greater our happiness.

“Though He slay me, I will still trust in Him.”

Psalm 33:22 May Your grace rest on us, LORD, for we put our hope in You. Concerning David, when he pretended to be insane in the presence of Abimelech, who drove him out, and he departed.

Therefore, we are going to stop at this point in David.
