6. The pastor-teacher is given a gift to teach God's Word and if he studies, then it is accurate. This is spiritual logistics, which is needed for the believer to fulfill the plan of God. God gives material, logistical grace, so that we can survive, so that we can get spiritual logistical grace. As you grow to maturity, you can apply the doctrine that you know to your life.
7. The availability of Bible doctrine is a logistical grace provision that can so easily be metabolized. You just walk into the building where it is being taught.

Fear is so endemic in a person's life. They do so many things. Drugs and alcohol; psychological counseling; a life filled with entertainment.

Luke 12:23 For life is more than food, and the body more than clothing.

There are 6 illustrations in all.

Luke 12:24 Consider the ravens: they neither sow nor reap, they have neither storehouse nor barn, and yet God feeds them. Of how much more value are you than the birds!

Ravens will eat anything. They are on the carrion on the road. They have no barns, no storerooms, they don't sow or reap; and yet God feeds them. See how this goes back to the storehouse of the illustration from before?

Whatever you have, God has provided for you. You do not get your eyes on yourself. Getting down on yourself is self-centeredness.

If God feeds those ravens, how much more valuable are you than the birds? Aviary illustrations have served Jesus on many occasions. There is nothing in the fridge for the raven. If the raven has logistical grace, how much more believers in the Lord?

Some Points on V. 24

1. The raven is more of our Lord's impeccable logic.

2. If the lesser is important to God, so that God takes care of it,...
3. ...then the believer, who is much more important, is also taken care of. We can hear the chirping of birds and think, how much more God takes care of me.

Luke 12:24 Consider the ravens: they neither sow nor reap, they have neither storehouse nor barn, and yet God feeds them. Of how much more value are you than the birds!

Easter Sunday this Sunday.

Lesson #01

Lev. 14:1–8 Easter Sunday

4/5/2015 1Sunday

We must not forget that this celebration is meaningful for our own lives. Because Jesus arose, believers are afforded eternal life. “I am the resurrection and the life; he who believes on Me shall live, even if he dies.”

Resurrection is not just a Christian event or just a Christian doctrine. This is just as much an Old Testament concept as well. As Christians we look back on the resurrection of our Lord as the gospel and the guarantee of our life; and we look forward to the rapture of the church and our own resurrection from the dead.

The rituals and sacrifices of Israel were laid out so that they would be able to look forward to these things. Ritual then was communication between the Divine and the human. Our Lord’s resurrection from the grave. For Israel, there were more rituals related to the resurrection.

Lev. 14:1–4 The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, "This shall be the law of the leprous person for the day of his cleansing. He shall be brought to the priest, and the priest shall go out of the camp, and the priest shall look. Then, if the case of leprous disease is healed in the leprous person, the priest shall command them to take for him who is to be cleansed two live clean birds and cedarwood and scarlet yarn and hyssop.

Lev 14:5–8 And the priest shall command them to kill one of the birds in an earthenware vessel over fresh water. He shall take the live bird with the cedarwood and the scarlet yarn and the hyssop, and dip them and the live bird in the blood of the bird that was killed over the fresh water. And he shall sprinkle it seven times on him who is to be cleansed of the leprous disease. Then he shall pronounce him clean and shall let the living bird go into the open field. And he who is to be cleansed shall wash his clothes and shave off all his hair and bathe himself in water, and he shall be clean. And after that he may come into the camp, but live outside his tent seven days.

This elaborate picture is of sin, resurrection, life, etc.

Today, cleansing is related to dirt and it is removed by bathing. Uncleaness in the Old Testament represented sin and that sin was caused by contact with dead bodies, and some bodily functions, or disease.

Leprosy was a common skin disease from the ancient world and it was feared. It was highly communicable and it could even be passed along with a cough. In those days, it was deadly and it had horrifyingly visible affects.

Bobby went to Molichai in Hawaii and there is a remaining leper colony and it is very hard to look at them as they conduct their tours. They are isolated. You cannot get there except by mule or helicopter. This represents the sin and the sin nature. This is sin for Israel and this is the hopelessness of spiritual death. The leper was separated from all else.

The cleansing of the leper is taking them from spiritual death to spiritual life.

In Lev. 13, there is an elaborate diagnosis of the leper. The priest is not a physician but he acts more like a public health official. Some argue that this is a skin disease that perhaps could be cured or not. Bobby prefers the leprosy interpretation; more instructive.

Symbolically, sin is the key issue. The leper must call out, "I am unclean" and he must tear his clothes." Crying out means he recognizes his need to be cleansed. Isa. 64:6 For all of us have become like one who is unclean and all our righteous deeds are like filthy rags in His sight. The garment is to be torn away as it is a symbol of uncleanness. No Jew could mistake the need for God's cleansing. God's salvation from the hopelessness of sin.

It is very difficult for man to recognize his need for salvation. Man is clothed in self-righteousness. Humanity is certainly unclean in the eyes of God, dead in trespasses and sins. So the leper must be first diagnosed. Man does not want to see himself or herself as hopeless or as dead. They have to be told; they have to recognize it. You are isolated and informed.

So the need of cleansing is needed for the sinner. By every possible inference; by every possible speech, the priest informs the leper that he is dead, just as we are informed by God that we are dead. We have a need to be cleansed.

The leper was unfit to live among God's people. He was separated from the people and therefore, he was separated from the presence of God, which was in the Tabernacle or in the Temple. He was denied a relationship with God because he was unclean and sinful. Therefore, the need to be cleansed to have a relationship with God.

Lev. 14:1–4 The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, "This shall be the law of the leprous person for the day of his cleansing. He shall be brought to the priest, and the priest shall go out of the camp, and the priest shall look. Then, if the case of leprous disease is healed in the leprous person, the priest shall command them to take for him who is to be cleansed two live clean birds and cedarwood and scarlet yarn and hyssop.

What part does the leper play in his cleansing? It is wholly passive. Everything is done for him. He is brought to the priest; he is examined by the priest; he is pronounced clean by the priest. Declared clean means declared righteous. Wonderful analogy. Jesus did everything on our behalf. He came to this earth, he endured this life, and He died for us.

The Exodus generation were not freedom fighters. They were solely delivered by God; they did nothing to effect their own deliverance. This is a picture of historical fact. The Red Sea parted and then came crashing down upon Israel's enemies. God freed Israel. God saves all mankind. We have nothing to do with His salvation. If the sinner is to be saved, it is because of what Jesus did for him.

Titus 3:5 He saved us, not on the basis of deeds which we have done in righteousness. We have only relative righteousness. Our righteousness can never meet the righteous standards of God. We are lepers before Him. He need to be cleansed; and we cannot do this on our own. He saved us according to His grace by the washing of regeneration and the renewing by the Holy Spirit. This is also known as being born again. We are the lepers, but we are washed.

Jesus cried out on the cross, It is finished! That was the end of our problems. We need only accept Him by faith alone. This all fits together in such a beautiful picture. It was a sacrifice. He came to this world to be a sacrifice.

There are many other rituals in the Old Testament, using many different kinds of animals, all of them representing the work of Jesus Christ. Bulls, goats, lambs and even birds. Their blood buys our righteousness. The shedding of blood is a symbolic representation.

The priest lays one hand on the lamb and one hand on the head of the person offering the lamb. Everyone going through this procedure knows that the sins of the offerer were transferred to that lamb. The throat of that little woolie was cut, and he became the substitute for the person who brought that lamb to the altar.

The Lord Jesus Christ died spiritually on the cross. Death means separation. Spiritual death is separation from God. Physical death is separating our souls from our bodies. We have a picture of Christ in His spiritual death. We are born spiritual death. We are in Adam and in Adam all die. We come into this world as spiritually dead. It takes a short time and we die physically.

Jesus becomes our substitute. He was judged for all of our sins. Our Lord died spiritually. If we have a dead Savior, then He died in vain. Jesus had to live again or His death is meaningless.

The death of Jesus Christ depicted by ritual. In the next service, we will see His resurrection depicted in this passage as well.

Lev 14:9 And on the seventh day he shall shave off all his hair from his head, his beard, and his eyebrows. He shall shave off all his hair, and then he shall wash his clothes and bathe his body in water, and he shall be clean.

Lev 14:10 "And on the eighth day he shall take two male lambs without blemish, and one ewe lamb a year old without blemish, and a grain offering of three tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil, and one log of oil.

Lev 14:11 And the priest who cleanses him shall set the man who is to be cleansed and these things before the LORD, at the entrance of the tent of meeting.

Lev 14:12 And the priest shall take one of the male lambs and offer it for a guilt offering, along with the log of oil, and wave them for a wave offering before the LORD.

Lev 14:13 And he shall kill the lamb in the place where they kill the sin offering and the burnt offering, in the place of the sanctuary. For the guilt offering, like the sin offering, belongs to the priest; it is most holy.

Lev 14:14 The priest shall take some of the blood of the guilt offering, and the priest shall put it on the lobe of the right ear of him who is to be cleansed and on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot.

Lev 14:15 Then the priest shall take some of the log of oil and pour it into the palm of his own left hand

Lev 14:16 and dip his right finger in the oil that is in his left hand and sprinkle some oil with his finger seven times before the LORD.

Lev 14:17 And some of the oil that remains in his hand the priest shall put on the lobe of the right ear of him who is to be cleansed and on the thumb of his right hand and on the big toe of his right foot, on top of the blood of the guilt offering.

Lesson #02

Lev. 14: Easter Special

4/5/2015 2Sunday

There is absolute continuity in the Bible. The same salvation exists across every book, in every dispensation. The literal blood and the animal sacrifice refers not to the literal blood of Jesus Christ. It is analogous to our Lord's spiritual death. Our Lord did not die due to a loss of blood. His spiritual death occurs before His physical death. Only His substitutionary death is efficacious.

Lev. 14:1–4 The LORD spoke to Moses, saying, "This shall be the law of the leprous person for the day of his cleansing. He shall be brought to the priest, and the priest shall go out of the camp, and the priest shall look. Then, if the case of leprous disease is healed in the leprous person, the priest shall command them to take for him who is to be cleansed two live clean birds and cedarwood and scarlet yarn and hyssop.

Two birds are used in the cleansing of the leper. They call to the attention that our Lord is sinless. That is why the birds must be clean. If our Lord's nature could be anything like ours, His death would not have been substitutionary.

The earthenware vessel represents our Lord's human body. The running water over which the bird is killed typifies the cleansing. The bird cleansed the leper. The blood of the bird was the cleansing agent. The clean water typified the cleansing. So the disease for which the bird died, it was not its own foulness, it was the leper's foulness.

Anyone could afford to bring a bird; that did not require the owner to be rich.

Lev 14:5–8 And the priest shall command them to kill one of the birds in an earthenware vessel over fresh water. He shall take the live bird with the cedarwood and the scarlet yarn and the hyssop, and dip them and the live bird in the blood of the bird that was killed over the fresh water. And he shall sprinkle it seven times on him who is to be cleansed of the leprous disease. Then he shall pronounce him clean and shall let the living bird go into the open field. And he who is to be cleansed shall wash his clothes and shave off all his hair and bathe himself in water, and he shall be clean. And after that he may come into the camp, but live outside his tent seven days.

Then there is the second bird, the living bird. This bird represents the resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ. The live bird was dipped in the blood of the sacrificed bird. This identifies both birds with one another. The bird of death with the bird of the resurrection. These birds gave us the symbol of salvation.

Christ died for our sins and He was buried and raised on the 3rd day; these are the two birds. So Christ dies once for the sins of the man; not to appear in the Presence of God for us. 1Peter 2:24 He Himself bore our sins in His Own body on the cross...Who is now on the right hand of God making intercession for us.

The blood of the dead bird was applied to the leper and he was declared to be clean. The picture of death to life. The blood of Jesus cleanses us from all sin. (1John 1:7)

The dead and live birds represent Jesus, and this is a representation of Easter. Why is this important that Israel has a representative Easter? This tells us that God's plan has been with us since the beginning, and it is consistent throughout. This God-man Savior Who dies for us and now lives to receive us; this is unique. A doctrine of security and comfort.

What security and comfort is there in a religion that proposes reincarnation into endless life. Should we look forward to returning to this veil of tears as a bug or beast? Or if we live a good enough life, we get a better status of humanity? But we have the same problems, the same pain, the same heartache; and then we get to die again. That is not what the Lord Jesus Christ offers us. Eternal life means eternal, bodily resurrection from the dead.

The Apostle Paul addressed this issue of an eternal future by asking two questions.

1Cor. 15:35 But someone will ask, "How are the dead raised? With what kind of body do they come?"

With what kind of body do we have? How are the dead raised up?

1Cor. 15:36 You foolish person! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies.

1Cor. 15:37 And what you sow is not the body that is to be, but a bare kernel, perhaps of wheat or of some other grain.

That new form of bodily existence. Sowing is like procreation. An agricultural analogy. Human and resurrection body. The human body is like the bare kernel of wheat or some other kind of grain. This is a perishable body. From this pops up a great plant.

In Adam, all die. Hence man is born separated from God. God sows the seed of a body that is entirely different. God gives a body that He designs and creates.

1Cor. 15:38 But God gives it a body as he has chosen, and to each kind of seed its own body.

The body which God designs springs from the seed of death. Ultimately, a new body for the believers in Christ.

The two seeds of man and God do have a connection. Both bodies created by God are bodies of flesh, but different in their composition. Both bodies have characteristics that are recognizable. There is a different kind of bodies.

1Cor. 15:39 For not all flesh is the same, but there is one kind for humans, another for animals, another for birds, and another for fish.

There are a variety of bodies found in nature. Each of these flesh represents different types of flesh. Different species varying. The point is, if God determines the form of all these species, why can't He make the form that is spiritual?

The new body and the old body are not the same. They have the same properties of life. One is temporal and one is eternal.

What will be look like?

1Cor. 15:40 There are heavenly bodies and earthly bodies, but the glory of the heavenly is of one kind, and the glory of the earthly is of another.

Paul compares two type of bodies. We can understand what Paul describes. There is perishable and there is the eternal. We are born with a perishable body, but we will be raised in a resurrection body as our Lord. We have the same characteristics that our Lord has.

Heavenly bodies are a confirmation of the resurrection body. There is a comparison here. Our bodies are incredible machines in every aspect of its working. Modern science will never fully understand how our bodies operate. There is an incredible complexity.

1Cor. 15:41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for star differs from star in glory.

Can Jesus not create a marvelous eternal body that we can have no conception of? Do not underestimate the power of God; infinite power.

There is one glory of the sun; another glory of the moon. They are all these light bearing bodies in our universe. All of these bodies give off varying amounts of light. There are endless distinctions of splendor.

Each believer will have a different glory, or a different shine inherent to his or her resurrection body. The sun, moon and stars are all glorious, but a different sort of radiance. The moon is obviously just a reflected glory, reflecting the light of the sun. The brightness is a part of our reward.

1Cor. 15:42 So is it with the resurrection of the dead. What is sown is perishable; what is raised is imperishable.

We are all guaranteed an eternal relationship in Christ. In Christ as in God's imperishable seed. We are not subject to death or to deterioration. Our new bodies do not deteriorate. The resurrection body is permanent. Nothing can change or destroy that body.

1Cor. 15:43 It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power.

There is an earthly body and an heavenly one. We are sown with a sin nature; but raised in power. We are raised up without a sin nature. There is a contrast between disgrace of the perishable body and the eternal one.

1Cor. 15:44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body.

The natural body is put into the ground; it is raised up a spiritual body. It is much different from the body that is sown, but related to the previous body. The new body has our soul and spirit, which do not die. We are not ghosts. We have a body, raised a spiritual body.

This new body will be designed to live with God forever. This is God's Easter for all of us. He lives, and He lives in us. And we will be raised as well.

1Cor. 15:45 Thus it is written, "The first man Adam became a living being"; the last Adam became a life-giving spirit. Gen. 2:7

1Cor. 15:46 But it is not the spiritual that is first but the natural, and then the spiritual.

1Cor. 15:47 The first man was from the earth, a man of dust; the second man is from heaven.

1Cor. 15:48 As was the man of dust, so also are those who are of the dust, and as is the man of heaven, so also are those who are of heaven.

1Cor. 15:49 Just as we have borne the image of the man of dust, we shall also bear the image of the man of heaven.

Lesson #0758

Luke 12: Life of Christ

4/8/2015 Wed

The Book of Esther is published now by Berachah Church. Story-style; designed for easy reading; lesson boxes. The book covers much of the history and the doctrine. This comes out of Berachah Church rather than R. B. Thieme, Jr. ministries.

Logistical grace is one of the great doctrines taught by the Lord Jesus Christ; and He taught it in many different ways. He provided for their physical needs in many ways; food, shelter, protection.

Our Lord demonstrated all of this, but He also gave a formal statement of this doctrine.

Luke 12:22 And he said to his disciples, "Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat, nor about your body, what you will put on."

We need to concentrate on staying within the plan of God for the rest of our life.

Jesus will give us 6 illustrations of the principles of logistical grace. First is in v. 23: life is more than food and the body is more than clothing. The humanist sees that life is nothing more than fulfilling needs and desires. Jesus says that a person is more than basic needs. Man has this immaterial side; a soul and a spirit. Those needs must be taken care of, both physical and spiritual.

We are receiving logistical grace right now. The spiritual life is so much more important than pursuing bodily needs or material goods. If this was not important, you would not have fought traffic to get to Berachah.

Some people come to Berachah every now and again. They do not understand the logistics which are provided.

You work, you have a job, you make money, and you have a car and gasoline. You probably had a bite to eat as well. Our spiritual nourishment centers on the mind of Christ. If you do not come for that, you are wasting your time. All believers need to eat and metabolize doctrine.

Luke 12:23 For life is more than food, and the body more than clothing.

2nd illustration. A raven is a common bird. They are a large crow.

Luke 12:24 Consider the ravens: they neither sow nor reap, they have neither storehouse nor barn, and yet God feeds them. Of how much more value are you than the birds!

Very common in the middle east. These are carrion eaters. They do not have a storeroom or a barn; they do not sow or reap. The raven has nothing to do but find the food that God provides. If a raven gets this kind of logistical care from God; then we should understand that God will take care of us. This is parallel to the rich fool; a follow-on parallel. He had a food storage issue. For him, this was all about him. He had no other purpose than to indulge in his own wants and needs. What good is his storage in the plan of God?

The raven cannot reap or sow; he cannot store provisions for the future.

The first thing the raven thinks about is food. That is what he is after. The raven becomes the recipient of logistical grace.

All of God's creatures are under His care and keeping. This certainly includes logistical grace toward a believer for his existence. Logistical grace does not skip a day. The raven must eat every day.

We need to eat every day. Maybe we should not just think about breakfast but about what else we need. We can get our spiritual needs met at some point.

A Little on Logistical Grace

1. God takes care of His Own. The raven is His; we are His.
2. The value that God places on every believer is the motive for logistical grace.
3. We are much greater than a raven to God; and God takes care of the raven.
4. How can we think that He does not take care of us on a daily basis. This is a guarantee of v. 24.
5. We have from the mouth of the Lord Jesus Christ God Himself the guarantee of logistical grace. God always gives us logistical grace. Sometimes when we are really hungry, we may think that we need God's logistical grace. We bless food to protect us from bacteria and more importantly, we thank God for His logistical grace.

Why should we worry about the extent of our lives? It is one day at a time. Logistical grace is present one-day at a time.

Logistical grace conquers the anxiety problem. We learn to depend upon the logistical grace of God. The future might look bleak; bad health may be a problem to us. Or we might have a quality of life and we could suddenly lose it.

Worry because of the problems of day to day needs. Worries about paying bills; taking care of aging relatives. All the various problems that weigh on people. And there are the long-term problems. What does the future look like? I am at loose ends? What will God provide? Because of the surety of doctrine, it is unnecessary to worry. It adds nothing to our lives.

The Exodus generation received complete support in the Sinai desert; but God took care of them. A confirmation of logistical grace. If that daily provision was forthcoming, would not the future also be provided for? The Jews were tired of the manna, so God sent them quail. They worried about water. How many times did they need to see logistical grace in order to get the doctrine. They wanted what they wanted when they wanted it.

Reject logistical grace and worry. Worry is the negative part of rejecting logistical grace. Many of us have no idea what our destiny is in life. As we begin to take in doctrine, we become grace oriented. We learn the Christian life and the destiny begins to take shape. Every believer will grow and serve the Lord without the drag of anxiety.

Second Angle

1. Jesus provides a logical reason not to fear, based upon logistical grace.
2. Worry is a pointless exercise in misery. Life will not be extended for a minute by worry. The biggest worry of people is death. The coward worries about it all the time. Fear will not prolong anyone's life for another minute. When it is time, you are going.
3. Life is extended by logistical grace.
4. Logistical grace will be forthcoming to the last hour/minute of our life. Dying grace and be subsumed under logistical grace. It is a part of the no-worry principle. Don't worry about it.
5. This is the logic of a doctrinal rationale; the rationale of logistical grace as presented by the Lord Jesus Christ.

Luke 12:25 And which of you by being anxious can add a single hour to his span of life?

A third angle of logistical grace. Anxiety concerning one's life span is unnecessary. Logistical grace is the safety net. Logistical grace is our divine welfare program. We are all aware of what the government thinks that they are doing about the government safety net. But God's safety net is uncorrupted. We are commanded to work. Logistical grace is provision for us to serve the Lord; not ourselves as the rich fool did. There is no comparison between divine logistical grace and some government welfare program.

Someone will always fall through the safety net. Wherever the welfare safety net operates, people will get caught in that net. There is no self-worth when they hit the net. Depending upon the government for welfare never satisfies the recipient nor does it quell fears. There is a loss of incentive and a reduced human self-esteem.

Austerity program. Attempted in Greece and the people are rioting. People would freak out if they suddenly lost what they consider to be their security.

Luke 12:26 If then you are not able to do as small a thing as that, why are you anxious about the rest?

Lesson #0759

Luke 12: Life of Christ

4/9/2015 Thurs

The Doctrine of logistical grace has been demonstrated many times by the Lord Jesus Christ during His earthly ministry, and the disciples could give testimony to the logistical grace aspect of their lives.

V. 22 is the general principle.

Luke 12:22 And he said to his disciples, "Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat, nor about your body, what you will put on."

Jesus gives some explanation and illustrations. God will take care of our needs. The believer needs more than our physical needs. The pastor-teacher and the local church is a part of our spiritual needs which the Lord sees to.

Luke 12:23 For life is more than food, and the body more than clothing.

V. 24 the Lord uses logic. Look at the ravens; they cannot reap, sow or store food, yet God provides for them. He is fed daily by God. Believers are assured that God will provide logistical grace on a daily basis. That is an immutable promise.

We might not see ravens here; but we do see a lot of crows. God provides for them.

Luke 12:24 Consider the ravens: they neither sow nor reap, they have neither storehouse nor barn, and yet God feeds them. Of how much more value are you than the birds!

The 3rd illustration. A logistical grace rationale for the faith rest life. Can you worry and add any amount of time to your life? God is control of the span of our lives. We live one day at a time.

Luke 12:25 And which of you by being anxious can add a single hour to his span of life?

Does this mean that we do not plan more than one day in advance? Of course not! We will live each day and each hour until our time is up, and then God will take us home. We can subtract from our lives. Suicide or bad habits.

So many want to live forever; or 80 or 90 or 100. If we cannot add a single day to our life, what is the point of being anxious about death? Why should any believer have any anxiety about life or death or anything else? It is all in the hands of the Lord. He has it provided for us. "Why worry; it doesn't add anything to your life."

Worry and Logistical Grace

1. The doctrine of logistical grace is the antidote to worry.
2. There is security like no other security in this world. There is security in knowing that we have divine life support for the remainder of our lives.
3. Logistical grace is the divine safety net. Man devises all sorts of ways to have a safety net for their lives. Government welfare safety nets are not. We all plan our safety nets. Don't worry about your 401k or the money you have in the stock market.
4. Worry will add nothing to the length of our lives. It may even take away.
5. Worry adds stress and worry impedes the progress of God's plan. You are out of fellowship; you lose sight of God's plan. When you worry, you get out there and hustle. You take charge. This is not a brief to become indolent, weak or dependent. Those who do not work are often bitter and lack self-esteem. There is a person who studied those who lived off of welfare and they were going nowhere; they had nothing.

The little thing is extending your life for one hour. Is there some way to do that? You read about people who seem tough and they don't seem ready to die ever.

Luke 12:26 If then you are not able to do as small a thing as that, why are you anxious about the rest?

So, if you cannot extent your own life by an hour (that small thing), then why are you anxious about everything else? The free will of man and the sovereignty of God co-exist and what we do and think has a great deal to do with our own lives. But, we cannot add anything to our lives via worry. There is nothing sinful that will increase our lives.

You do not abstain from exercise, health products or good diets or checkups, etc. All of those things will not add a single hour to your life. None of these things will take our life further than one hour.

Count all of these things as logistical grace; as life support.

Now, we know there have been incredible advances which have extended life in the era in which we live. We live longer than 50 years. But do not draw the conclusion that Jesus is wrong here. These things do not affect what He is saying. Our life span is related to our place in God's plan and what we do.

The greatest stupid decision is to get out of the plan of God in a big way and die the sin unto death. Our life expectancy is in the mid-70's. In a 3rd world country, their life expectancy might be 50 or so. Even if life expectancy in a society is 40 years, God can extend a person's life in that society; and where life expectancy is high, God may remove us sooner.

Those human activities, as beneficial as they might be, do not solve the anxiety problem. Bobby has been to many gyms where people are anxious and missed their gym the day before. The doctrine of logistical grace solves our problems. The faith rest life does.

If the believer cannot accomplish the extension of his life, it is determined by God; then why worry about it? The plan of God has a time for us to go; so why worry about anything. It is unnecessary stress. In the plan of God, we do not need to worry. The rationale is, if you cannot accomplish the most basic things of extending your life, how can you control other matters of life?

The more you try to control, the more anxious you will be. Anxiety is meant to be blunted in our lives because of logistical grace. Why should we worry about any of it? Depend only upon the welfare of God. The divine safety net is truly a safety net, because His logistical grace never fails and is never retracted. God sets the boundaries. He can do all of it. He guides the paths of every believer positive to His leading. Why be anxious about anything when God's grace takes care of everything. We have the ability to live the faith rest life; and we can live out our destiny in the plan of God.

We need a continuous flow of doctrine. That is our lifeline to the plan of God; to remind us on a daily basis of the logistical grace of God.

Then we come to the 4th illustration. Nothing in the existence of the lily depends upon what it does for itself. Jesus spoke of clothing oneself; and He compares the lily to Solomon's clothing.

The Lily and the Clothing of Solomon

1. Jesus uses one of the most beautiful flowers for this illustration. This is a very fragrant flower. There is a confirmation of divine logistical grace. The Lord could not find a better illustration than this.
2. This is the illustration of a very bountiful life. The lily does not toil or spin, and yet it is beautiful.
3. No matter how rich and beautiful a lifestyle, there is no greater life than what God provides.
4. This is not about mere human wealth; this illustration is about the beauty of the logistical grace provided by God. The Lord is reinforcing the doctrine of logistical grace.
5. God provides so much more than physical needs, even for a person who has an abundance of material things. "Look at the beauty of the lily; how does it spring from the earth with so much beauty and it does nothing for itself." It does not provide water or photosynthesis for itself. It comes into being through no effort of its own. Who designed it? Who gave it all of that beauty. Nature is God for the evolutionist. The big bang theory; the universe created itself, to the evolutionist. No life. Boom, it created itself. God creates the lily and sustains the lily.

Solomon was blessed and he built a fortune; and he was a great businessman and he had great trade and commerce in his nation; he made many decisions which were good. He amassed an incredible amount of wealth. There was gold and silver everywhere. With all of that wealth, Solomon was the best-dressed man of his day. He had an incredible wardrobe. But his beauty is second to that of the lily.

Now, some of us might looking at a bar of gold more. But there are great intricacies to a lily.

Luke 12:27 Consider the lilies, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin, yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

Lesson #0760

Luke 12: Life of Christ

4/12/2015 1Sunday

Communion Sunday April 12, 2015.

The communion ritual is a sharing in the blood of Christ. Blood of Christ is representative of the spiritual death of the Lord Jesus Christ. The time that He drank of the bitter cup of our sins is the great blessing of all mankind. He bore the penalty of our sins that were rightfully ours. Just as we are separated from God at birth because of our spiritual deaths, so was the Lord separate from God on the cross.

We now share in the blessings of His death; we share in the results of the cross. These results: expiation, redemption, propitiation, and reconciliation. He satisfied the just wrath of God directed toward us. We are reconciled to God; He paid for our sins; He took away our sins. We are one body; and the church itself is one body.

Sharing in the Greek means fellowship; this is fellowship with God because of the work of Jesus Christ. We recall the advantages that we have gained through the work of Christ. Sharing the blood or sharing in the blood of Christ, is epitomized by the Biblical concept of union with Christ, also called in Christ. Union with Christ takes place at the baptism of the Holy Spirit, where we are placed into Christ. This puts us in a permanent relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ. The believer has an inheritance with Christ; we share everything that Jesus Christ is and everything that He has. As sons of God, we share His Sonship; He is the Son of God; we are sons of God by being in Jesus Christ. We are heirs and joint-heirs by the Son of God. All of you who were baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ. Nothing can be closer to your body than the clothes that are wrapped around you. When we are in union with Christ, we are literally clothed with Him. It is the work of the Holy Spirit that secures eternal fellowship with Him. For by one Spirit we are all baptized into one body, the church, whether Jews or Greeks, slave or free; we have all been made to drink from one Spirit.

3 features define the total blessing of being in Christ.

1. A judicial union with Christ. He is counted as having God's righteousness. God requires righteousness from man for fellowship with Himself. God cannot fellowship with unrighteousness. Man cannot meet the standards of God. We are declared to have met all of God's requirements. We are made the righteousness of God. Christ has become righteousness for those who are in Him. He is the means for securing our righteousness even though we are unrighteous. To every one of us, God judicially accounts to us righteousness.
2. A second feature of union with Christ; we are identified with Christ in His death and resurrection. Rom. 6:3 Do you not know that all of us who have been baptized into Christ Jesus have been baptized into His death? This sounds foreboding, but it exactly the opposite. Even as believers, we still have a sin nature for as long as we live, until we live in Christ forever. Through Christ, the rulership of Satan is broken. We no longer are under the complete control of the sin nature. Identification with His death establishes the sovereignty in our lives.
3. We also share in His resurrection. We are in union with His death and we are also in union with His resurrection. We will all have the benefit of His resurrection. This is our newness of life; this is positional sanctification. This frees the believer from the tyranny of the sin nature. It does not have to control the life of the believer. Our of this identification with Christ arises some considerable benefits and blessings. These include sharing things with Christ that we could not before. Eternal life; righteousness, sonship; election and predestination; heirship; we share in His royal priesthood, in . We commemorate these with the communion.

4. We receive a personal union: Christ in you, the confidence of glory. He resides in us. This is the same spiritual life that was pioneered by Jesus Christ at the first advent. We live the same spiritual life as He has. We can, in this way, reflect His glory. This is an experiential result of our position in Christ.

For a mirror to reflect an image, that image must be present in front of the mirror. For the believer to reflect the image of the Shekinah Glory, that glory must be present in the believer. We can produce the reflected glory of the indwelling Christ. The unique indwelling presence of the Lord Jesus Christ emphasizes the potential that every believer has to experience this personal sanctification. We can glorify God in our bodies. That is the experience of sanctification. We have that the moment that we express faith in Christ.

Union with Christ becomes a pivotal concept in understanding the absolute status, the experiential life, and the eternal destiny of every believer. Without this, Christianity is just another religion. The substitutionary work of Christ on the cross provides release from the power of sin and death. That new life is the personal position and destiny of every believer. Our eternal future is secure.

Communion is for memorializing in our souls what we share in Him. We come to share in this cup, remembering these fundamental truths of our faith. Is not the cup of blessing that we bless a sharing of Christ? Is not the breaking of the bread a sharing of the body of Christ?

Union with Christ describes who we are and what we are in Christ.

We are also studying what we have in Christ. We will take off on a new portion of logistical grace, which is what Jesus Christ provides for us by way of logistical grace.

These disciples were rather new on this; but they saw it take place day by day. Jesus will now make a doctrinal statement of it:

Luke 12:22 And he said to his disciples, "Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat, nor about your body, what you will put on."

Jesus now gives 6 illustrations. Jesus tells us that our lives are more than our physical needs; and spiritual needs must be filled. They are more important than our physical needs. Do not worry about spiritual nourishment; it is available.

Luke 12:23 For life is more than food, and the body more than clothing.

Then Jesus speaks of the raven, who depends entirely upon the grace of God for survival. He represents physical logistical grace for believers. If a raven survives through God's grace, how much more will believers receive the logistical grace of God? God takes care of the raven.

Luke 12:24 Consider the ravens: they neither sow nor reap, they have neither storehouse nor barn, and yet God feeds them. Of how much more value are you than the birds!

A 3rd illustration, which covers a problem that we all have. How can us by worrying because it cannot add a single hour to our lifespan. It does not do anything for us. When it comes to worrying and the fear of death, it does not add a single hour to our lives. That little thing is death. If you cannot add a minute to your life, why worry about anything? Logistical grace is the antidote to fear and worry. These things plague the lives of human beings; but this worry is unnecessary for the believer in Jesus Christ. Life is extended by the logistical grace of God and by nothing else. Logistical grace will be forthcoming even in the last hour's of a believer's life. God never forgets; He never fails us. There is no point in anxiety.

Luke 12:25 And which of you by being anxious can add a single hour to his span of life?

Luke 12:26 If then you are not able to do as small a thing as that, why are you anxious about the rest?

We will pick up with the 4th illustration.

Lesson #0761

Luke 12: Life of Christ

4/12/2015 2Sunday

Bobby is going to tell us a story. A visitor; a retired pastor came on a Sunday morning, and sent a letter to Bobby and did an evaluation of the church. He decided to visit 100 churches and to give an evaluation. Each rating 1 through 5. He liked the service, the doctrine, the gospel presentation. He liked the landscaping. He did not like that Berachah is not friendly enough. No one greeted him. Bobby is proud of the congregation. Doctrine first; no invasion of privacy.

Berachah Church has a new book out. The editors are the same as R. B. Thieme, Jr. A children's book taken from the Esther series, designed for kids 8 to 14. Produced and composed in a very simplified manuscript. A woman in residence in another city. She did this for her daughter. Daughter has Down's Syndrome. She did this to teach her daughter with this. What she did was expanded upon. Esther, a Queen Who Changed History. That can be found in the library at the church.

We are studying the doctrine of logistical grace; and the disciples had seen it in their everyday lives. These disciples were worried about the next meal and what they would wear. What they need will be provided for them. We are on the 4th illustration of logistical grace.

Jesus uses this flower and compares it to the trappings of the fabulously wealthy Solomon. There was no court that had more wealth or opulence than Solomon. He accomplished much of this on his own effort. He accumulated all of this beauty that surrounded him. He made shrewd deals, wise decisions; and he collected a great deal of wealth. The queen of Sheba revealed how opulent his court was. Beautiful buildings and architecture designed by Solomon and assembled by his workforce.

But Jesus says that the lily is even greater in beauty. In contrast, it does nothing to supply its own beauty.

Luke 12:27 Consider the lilies, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin, yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

The Illustration of the Lily and Logistical Grace

1. The divinely inspired beauty of the lily tells us that God's logistical grace can provide more for us than any person can provide for himself. All those things that we strive for and work for; God provides these things in even great quantity and quality.
2. That is the value of logistical grace. It is God's provision. Does that mean that we will receive the wealth of Solomon if we are pleasing God?
3. What the logistical grace promise shows that, what we receive in grace fulfills our needs and is best for us in the plan of God. The plan of God is why believers are here on earth. Logistical grace is perfect because it is designed to fulfill God's plan. Logistics is the art and science of providing beans and bullets for the military. G4 is what it is called.
4. What God gives us is exactly what we need for the execution of His plan and service to the Lord Jesus Christ and the glorification of Him. It is exactly what we need. It is truly amazing. Bobby thinks of Rick Hughes. He would be called to this or that school to teach. He had an invitation without enough money to get there; not even for gas. And right before he would go, he would get a check in the mail for enough to provide.
5. Grace is greater than all man's ability and all man's successes; and all the honors and all the wealth. There has never been anyone who had more things.
6. Logistical grace is worth more than all the self-made fortunes, because it is God's fortune to us. It has the great security that so many people strive for.

Money is the source of much worry; where it will come from; will it be lost; how it will be maintained. We owe what we owe to the government. Do not cheat on our taxes. The faith rest life does not work without us understanding and applying logistical grace.

Luke 12:27 Consider the lilies, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin, yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

The 5th illustration. If God clothes the grass; how much more will He do for us? Bobby used this analogy in communion.

Luke 12:28 But if God so clothes the grass, which is alive in the field today, and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, how much more will he clothe you, O you of little faith!

Clothing the grass in the field means that God does several things for the grass. He gives it color; He gives it water, sunlight, reproduction; and there is great beauty in grass. It is great landscaping. Bobby watches Augusta National and the grass is perfectly manicured. It is a gorgeous place to play golf. This is logistical grace. Think of it in that way. The grass, like a flower, has a very temporary existence; here today and gone tomorrow. See how often it needs to be cut. The span of life does not matter. God gives attention to those things which do not live very long. Whether our lives are long or short, it does not matter. Every believer, for the complete duration of his life, receives the full measure of logistical grace every day. We get greater care than all other creation. Heb. 1:3 He upholds all things by the Word of His power. If God clothes all things with beauty, how much more will He clothe us with logistical grace? We can see that in the grass of the field.

But he completes this thought with a caution. "You of a little faith!" They worry about food and clothing and all the necessities of life. Jesus instructs them that they take nothing on their journey but a walking stick. No money, no bread. "You are going out for a number of days, and do not take anything with you." They were still provided for. They all received supplies every time. People in the various cities took care of them; they housed them and gave them food.

Luke 12:28 But if God so clothes the grass, which is alive in the field today, and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, how much more will he clothe you, O you of little faith!

Do not seek food and water; do not make going after material things as the priority. Do not be worried about it.

Luke 12:29 And do not seek what you are to eat and what you are to drink, nor be worried.

Worry can be so pervasive in the lives of so many people. If such things are the forefront of your mind, then everything else is a much greater hassle. So we trust in God for this. Cast your cares upon Him, for He cares for you.

There is not true contentment of soul when one worries about these things. Our anxieties multiply. Our life is always tenuous; we fear failure and its consequences. Or others do not meet our expectations of them.

Nothing may overcome my fear of this or that? God's provision overcomes every anxiety of life. God's logistical grace; the fulfillment of our needs. His care and keeping always works. The best of us fail; the best of us disappoint. If we don't have to worry about logistics in life, that is half of life out of the way. All the personal problems can be worked on next. It is a fleeting thing for the rest of the world. That is the way that God intends for believers to live. Like everything else, lack of worry requires renovated thinking from Bible doctrine. That is the only requirement. If you are in the worry mode; chances are you are not being consistent in learnt Bible doctrine. When you worry is where you are at your most vulnerable. In Christianity today, the emphasis is not on doctrine, it is on emotionalism. That breeds insecurity and discontent; that is what emotional Christianity does. This happens in hundreds of churches today. Emotions are too up and down. There is no stability in emotionalism. The believer's life is a straight line in advance.

The emotional believer is all over the place. The believer who does not live on his emotions is consistent, through good and bad circumstances. A straight line ability. Circumstances do not matter. For the emotional believer, circumstances are the only thing which matters. The emotional Christian who lives for worship and praise services has limited knowledge about Who he is worshiping. Such services have nothing to do with actual worship and praise or appreciation. Emotional Christianity is about feeling close to God. They want to feel the power; but they feel the emotions of everyone else feeling the power.

The filling of the Holy Spirit is not how we feel, but the power for consistently living the Christian way of life. This is a day by day, moment by moment life. We cannot love anyone without knowing them. Do not tell someone that you love them if you don't know them. Love is thinking; it is an attitude. Who is it that you worship? Who is it that provides logistical grace and daily provision?

Emotional Christianity is bereft of the knowledge that every believer has logistical grace. There is no second blessing. Most believers simply do not know how to keep the Holy Spirit.

There is a lot of feeling in those churches, but little knowledge. The believer in Jesus Christ has a straight line advance; and they are not affected by the circumstances of life. When you are able not to worry; that is when life gets great. When our life is lived that God has provided, there is none better. It does not matter how many cars you have, now many bf's or gf's, or how much money you have; you are better off with logistical grace. If we agree, we have logistical grace in our heads and we can apply it.

Luke 12:29 And do not seek what you are to eat and what you are to drink, nor be worried.

Lesson #0768	Luke 12: Life of Christ	4/29/2015 Wed

This servant is a special kind of servant; he was a house servant; a house manager. This would have been an exalted position. He made certain that the servant staff was taken care of; and that care included fitometrion, which means giving out a food allowance, rations.

He was a servant in total charge of other servants; but he was under the authority of his master. He is a leader in the household. It is easy to see what Jesus meant and what He wanted them to understand.

The disciples will put them in charge of others, just like this man with high authority. Yet they are still under the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Luke 12:42 And the Lord said, "Who then is the faithful and wise manager, whom his master will set over his household, to give them their portion of food at the proper time?"

The disciples are the same as this faithful and wise manager. The Lord looked at these disciples and taught them what their responsibilities would be; and this applies to pastor-teachers.

If you think you have a communication gift, consider, that if you reject operating with that gift, you have failed. And if you accept it, then neglect of teaching doctrine is also failure. There is only one way to be a servant leader. You are to feed the rations.

There is a consistency with feeding. When they do not feed other believers, they do not facilitate spiritual growth. They have a lot of responsibility.

Everyone will have his stewardship evaluated by the master. He comes home and says, "What condition are we in?" There is "well done, good and faithful servant" and much less than that. The master has to be faithful; and so must his servant be.

Blessing here is a reward. There is a great gulf between the slave and the master.

Luke 12:43 Blessed is that slave whom his master will find so doing when he comes.

Many times Paul called himself a slave, and yet he had more authority than anyone else in the church. We also have a responsibility and obligation before the Lord. Bobby has a responsibility to lead and we have one to respond. We are not left out of this.

There is a faithfulness, which involves a readiness for our Lord's return. "I'll be back." But His servants must carry on while the Lord is gone. There can be nothing greater than being a slave. We are under the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ. We take on His mind and we serve Him. The faithfulness indicates a readiness for His return.

Israel will look forward to the kingdom; the church will look forward to the rapture. In either case, rewards for faithfulness will follow. We have a promise of ruling in that kingdom. This is a promise of high position. Believers who return with Christ have that same opportunity.

We will all be there. Resurrected Old Testament believers. Those who survive the Tribulation. This pertains to all of us.

Not every servant-leader will carry out his responsibility.

Luke 12:44 Truly, I say to you, he will set him over all his possessions.

Let's say that slave decides to do whatever he wants to do. This describes the master as not returning any time soon. Every gift of communication carries some sort of leadership aspect. The rewards are great; and operating under Bible doctrine is the greatest slavery which has every existed. It is better than owning the entire world.

Shirking One's Duty

1. My master will be a long time coming means that the slaves have shirked their responsibilities.
2. They do not consider his return to be imminent. When the master is going to return tomorrow, we need to get on with his work with a sense of urgency.
3. They live as if he is never coming back.
4. They have no desire to follow the master's instructions. They are negative to Bible doctrine. If you are not faithful to your obligation, you will become self-serving. No honor or glory in this.

Luke 12:45 But if that servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed in coming,' and begins to beat the male and female servants, and to eat and drink and get drunk,

Lesson #0769

Luke 12:42–45 Life of Christ

4/30/2015 Thurs

Last night in Luke 12 for awhile. We're going off on a detour.

This is a slave under his master and over all the other slaves. The master owned the slaves as property; and they could dispose of these slaves in whatever way he saw fit.

He is a household master. He is a trusted slave; one that the master has handpicked to keep the household together. In the parable, Jesus is the master and the disciples are His slaves.

Luke 12:42 And the Lord said, "Who then is the faithful and wise manager, whom his master will set over his household, to give them their portion of food at the proper time?"

Most basic thing is to provide food for the other slaves. They need to eat in order to fulfill their obligations to the master. The pastor-teacher has the delegated authority to feed the congregation. His service is to communicate the mind of Christ to his congregation.

The disciples were to speak and write the words of truth. There is this chain of command. Jesus thought it; the Holy Spirit communicated it to the Apostles; the Apostles wrote it down; and pastors go to the Bible as their authority. The pastor-teacher will be held to account for his work in communicating and the spiritual growth of those under him.

Luke 12:43 Blessed is that servant whom his master will find so doing when he comes.

The slave is blessed if he is doing as the master has required.

Luke 12:44 Truly, I say to you, he will set him over all his possessions.

But the head slave can abuse his authority.

Luke 12:45 But if that servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed in coming,' and begins to beat the male and female servants, and to eat and drink and get drunk,

This is disrespect of and disobedience to the master.

The Derelict Head Servant

1. The servant leader has abdicated his responsibility.
2. They do not consider the return of the Lord to be imminent. No sense of urgency. No sense that there is a mission to accomplish.
3. They forget about his return and live as if he will never return.
4. Thus they have no desire to follow the master's instructions and be good slaves of the master. There is no greater life for the servant leader than to be a slave of the Lord Jesus Christ.
5. The unfaithful servant becomes self-serving rather than master-serving. They conclude that the master will not be coming back at all. There are pastorals epistles which define the mandates for the servant-leader. No pastor can afford to ignore or to reject these instructions. Unfaithfulness in serving Him is not rewardable; and can result in discipline.

This verse focuses on the servant-leader who fails his lord; and there will be dire consequences. You cannot forget your purpose on this earth. As you take in doctrine daily, you will be more and more able to think with divine viewpoint. There will be dire consequences for not serving the master who is gone.

It is entirely possible for servant leaders to make bad decisions; to misuse and abuse the authority given to them.

Failure of the Head Servant

1. The servant-leader will be a failure in his responsibility to properly manage the household of the Lord. We are in a house and Bobby is the head slave and we are the other slaves. Bobby is teaching us. He can fail in this be neglect.

2. The failure is a failure to teach and lead and spiritual matters. He is not here to inspect our lives or to find out what we do when we leave the church. He gives us the info that we need and to function on the basis of what we know.
3. But in failing the servant leader will become self-centered; he will ignore his instructions and mandates from the master. If this is not happening, there is the failure of the speaker-leader; how many leaders in churches have a lavish lifestyle based on the money they collect.
4. Such a person will ignore or shun his duty.

We will all be resurrected at the end, all pastors and we will all receive our just rewards or lack thereof.

This is not the disobedient unbeliever. Some commentators taking this verse as referring to unbelievers. Some have difficulties with those who have believed in Jesus Christ and then turn against Him, living life like an unbeliever. These people think that they must be unbelievers because they act like unbelievers. We know better.

What we are dealing with here is misbehaving authority; disoriented. They do not serve at all; they do not deserve anything. There is a consequence of their unfaithfulness when the Lord returns. No one is unfaithful without consequences.

Scare or shame the unfaithful into a hollow form of obedience. The activities are there, but the thinking is not. A facade of unfaithfulness.

The correct focus is to teach Bible doctrine. We would be the most focused believers that we could be. This means that we are fulfilling the mandates of the master while He is away. This is positive volition; this is not forced compliance; or socially enforced compliance.

Servant-leaders often emphasize things which are not important. We know what these are. The emotional brand of Christianity. The idea of personal accountability to other believers. If you mix the truth with false information or false actions; that is problematic.

Sounds like we will be studying false teachers and false teaching in the near future.

The slave loses sight of the return of his master. These types of servant leaders. Spiritual nourishment, as Jesus demands it. People can spout falsehood as believers or as unbelievers.

The fruit inspectors need to focus on their own spiritual lives, rather than on everyone else's life.

The Parable

1. Jesus' parable is a warning for the disciples to carry out their assigned mission.
2. The Lord states that some servant leaders will not be vigilant in awaiting His return. "Don't you fall into this category."

3. These servant leaders will have no sense of urgency to carry out their duties or responsibilities. Bobby always has a sense of urgency when he sits down to study to feed us. That is the responsibility being spoken of here.
4. These servant-leaders will not carry out their mission in the light of this imminent return and the light of their own future.
5. As a result, they will lose rewards in that future time of Christ's return, which is for all of us. We must serve equally well; to shirk is to lose reward at the bema seat of Christ. Earthly possessions sometimes become more important to believers. Many church officials have gone down that path.

More Points

1. When Jesus refers to the beating of the other slaves, the men and women, this is an illustration of abusing the master's authority that was delegated to them.
2. They are failures in the spiritual life. The best they can do is some nice works that they call the Christian life, but not backed up by Scripture.
3. Church leaders and pastor-teachers who decry Bible doctrine, and guilty for badly treating other Bible teachers. Other pastors have said some mean things about Berachah Church that there is too much teaching and not enough works. We are all servants, in whatever capacity we are designated to serve.

More Points

1. What are we supposed to do? Proclaim the Word.
2. That is the great responsibility in the Church Age.
3. It also means that servants listen to the mission orders of the leader and we respond to that.
4. 1Tim. 4:6 You will be a good servant of Jesus Christ, constantly nourished on the words of the faith and the sound doctrine with which we are entrusted.
5. This is the responsibility of the servant and the servant-leader.
6. 2Tim. 2:15 Be diligent to present yourselves approved unto God as a workman who is not ashamed, accurately handling the word of truth.
7. That is the unequivocal instruction set for every spiritual leader.
8. There is a necessity of service to listen and learn the Word of God. There will be shame at the Judgment Seat of Christ. This is because we have not followed the sound doctrine which we have been given.
9. We must be constantly nourished on the words of faith; on the words of doctrine. How often is that ignored?
10. Shame comes to those servants who fit the description of Luke 12:45, who beat other believers.

Eat and drink and get drunk. This is the antinomian trend.

1. These are those with the antinomian trend.

responsible over the household. Christ would not always be with them. They would have to be the servant leaders in His absence. The disciples do not understand this fully yet. They don't get what Jesus is teaching them.

6. So this was a charge to the disciples to take care of all believers at all times in God's household. After Christ departs at the conclusion of the ascension, the disciples would provide rations for believers. So they would become responsible to feed those under their care spiritual nourishment, just as the Lord fed them.

The entire time that Jesus was teaching them, He was feeding them. They are getting a crash course in being servant leaders. They would feed the household of God what they learned from the master.

More Review

1. In some ways, we are all slaves, and He provides us with the instructions that we need. Paul, the greatest believer who lived, called himself a slave. Paul will hear "Well done, good and faithful servant."
2. That duty was fulfilled by their preaching and teaching to the first generation of believers in the Church Age.
3. The legacy of the Apostles is the New Testament. Any servant-leader today is just as obligated and just as responsible to the Lord as they were. Bobby has an incredible obligation; but so do we. Bobby is responsible for facilitating our Christian life through teaching us. When it does not happen, the Lord calls them first on the carpet.

They are to act on behalf of the Lord on spiritual logistics. This was the final series taught by R. B. Thieme, Jr. He realized how important these were to us, as believers. We serve with knowledge and distinction. Bobby has some authority as the pastor; our obligation as a servant to the Lord as a slave to the Lord; and it is not all on him. We are to grow and advance and to think with the mind of Christ as well. We have no excuse. To whom much is given, much is expected. The same is true of the pastor-teacher who is to feed the flock. He is responsible for us, for our nourishment and instruction. Every time Bobby sits at his desk, he knows he is responsible for those under his authority. It is critical and sobering.

There are a variety of categories of servant-leaders. We are not left out of this. We have our own area of obligation. Some people in the congregation have the gift of pastor-teacher. If you have that gift, you must remember what you are responsible for. The evaluations range from faithfulness to several types of unpreparedness, disobedience and failure.

The first category is the faithful servant:

Luke 12:43 Blessed is that servant whom his master will find so doing when he comes.

The other servants are to follow his instructions. The master is coming back. He will be back. This was written in century 1 A.D. There are those who act as if He will never return.

It is clear that He will return. It is imminent. It may not be tomorrow or the next day; it may be 1000 years in the future; and He will return. Blessed is the one doing their duty when He returns. Many of us will be dead. Many will not be here, but we will be resurrected.

What will he be blessed for? To be totally trustworthy and faithful in carrying out his duties in the absence of the master. Day after day after day, the servant leader must consider what he must do. He must faithfully fulfill his duty; there is no excuse.

Luke 12:43 should be posted over the desk of every pastor. We have absolute subservience to God, even though we have some personal authority. There is the gift of pastor-teacher and the office, which are different.

We have responsibility when the master is not present. This is serious business.

A bulletin from a memorial service elsewhere. Not one mention of the Lord Jesus Christ. Humanist radicals were named, like Saul Alinsky. That is a problem in so many churches.

For the faithful, there is a reward.

Luke 12:44 Truly, I say to you, he will set him over all his possessions.

This is a promotion with greater authority and greater responsibility and greater rewards.

The Lesson

1. All servant leaders must be faithful and ready for the master's return. 2000 years have passed since He was ascended. How can we take His return seriously? Odds are, we may die before He returns.
2. In the context of Israel, Christ is referring to the 2nd Advent.
3. What does this mean? Israel will look forward to the second advent and the initiation of the promised kingdom. The disciples do not know about any other promises at this time. We look forward to the exit-resurrection.
4. Regardless of the dispensation, faithful service is rendered and rewards will follow when we stand in His presence. Will Bobby be evaluated in front of us, his congregation? There is the assurance of His return. The disciples will be hugely rewarded and in charge of all of His possessions. Authority along with the master. This put the disciples on equal footing, apart from being under the master. These men who are faithful will rule with Jesus Christ in the Millennium. That is a part of their reward.

Unfortunately, Jesus knew that not every servant-leader would properly utilize his authority. Therefore, there is the second servant, who is unfaithful, disobedient servant-leader.

Luke 12:45 But if that servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed in coming,' and begins to beat the male and female servants, and to eat and drink and get drunk,

Perfect view of lack of responsibility.

Next Sunday will be some pre-New Year's Eve Special on our personal destiny.

There is no equality in society and it is a myth.

Equality of opportunity at best. Some slaves had delegated authority from the master. Some slaves had authority over the other slaves; particularly when the master was gone. This was a position of authority and trust.

Luke 12:42 And the Lord said, "Who then is the faithful and wise manager, whom his master will set over his household, to give them their portion of food at the proper time?"

Jesus is making an analogy. He is the master; He is speaking to the disciples, who will be His designated authorities when He is gone.

The pastor-teacher is to be a faithful servant in expectation of the Master's return. Bobby is assigned to the congregation of Berachah Church as a servant-leader. He does not want to stand before the Lord and try to make excuses why he did not nourish or take care of the congregation. We will have to stand before Him and give an account. Have we fulfilled our responsibilities on earth? Bobby would hate to stand among those who have not completed their mission.

The disciples were to understand that God has given them a mission; and at the end of the 1st advent, they had a new responsibility. The Church Age would become the reality now because Israel rejected Jesus Christ and crucified Him.

The Church is now the household of God. The pastor-teacher is the servant-leader in this age. We are to look forward to the return of Jesus Christ.

The message to the disciples is an assurance of His return. He is standing right in front of them and the idea that He will leave and return, is quite confusing to them. However, when He ascends to heaven, they will realize that they are the servant-leaders left in charge, assigned to specific duties in His absence.

Luke 12:43 Blessed is that servant whom his master will find so doing when he comes.

As a result, they will be rewarded. They will be in charge of all His possessions. As Apostles in the Church Age, they will receive great rewards. There will be this place of honor, ruling with the Lord Jesus Christ.

Unfaithful, ill-prepared and those who fail to properly serve the Lord, they will have some answering to do.

Last week was a 4-part series regarding our personal destiny in Jesus Christ.

Some of us think that we are in retirement; and that it is time to enjoy life without responsibilities. However, we never retire from the spiritual life. Every day that we live on this earth is a part of our destiny. So recognize our responsibility lasts every single day of our life.

Bobby's mission is not to retire.

Luke 12:44 Truly, I say to you, he will set him over all his possessions.

Let's say that the slave begins to ponder his situation. He becomes a cruel, self-centered, arrogant party boy. Totally irresponsible. They have abdicated their leadership position when they do these things.

Luke 12:45 But if that servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed in coming,' and begins to beat the male and female servants, and to eat and drink and get drunk,

This servant is not worried about his responsibility.

The Believer's Attitude Awaiting the Lord's Return

1. They do not consider His return to be impending or imminent. Who knows when He is coming back?
2. They operate as if He will never return. At some point, Christians think like this. We are to live as believers as if He will return tomorrow. If He returns tomorrow, how do we view our responsibilities today? These people become self-serving rather than master-serving. This describes many people today. We are all slaves to the master. Being a slave to this master is the greatest thing that we can be. We think today that slavery is the worst situation ever; and there is some truth to that. But not in our case. We should be proud to be slaves; we are slaves to God Himself.

The grace of God is extended to all of His slaves. We are the wealthiest, freest people in history; and we are that as slaves to God.

Bobby would be abusing us if he did not feed us. The Lord will return and every pastor and servant leader needs to bear that in mind.

If we think the Lord is returning tomorrow, do we have a sense of urgency? If we don't think He is returning, do we still have this sense of urgency?

If Bobby does not supply us, we will not be nourished and we cannot fulfill our spiritual destiny. We don't know anything.

Too many Christians think, nothing matters except today.

So the servant begins to beat the slaves. This is a huge problem.

Luke 12:45 But if that servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed in coming,' and begins to beat the male and female servants, and to eat and drink and get drunk,

Lesson #0772 Luke 12:45–48 The Life of Christ 12/6/2015 2Sunday

We all have a place in this life; the pastor-teacher teaching, and we, as congregants, are to take in the Word of God. The servant leader acts as if he has all the time in the world to do whatever He feels like doing.

The return of Jesus Christ is imminent; very soon or off in the future. There is nothing to take place during the time awaiting Him.

The servant-leader begins to beat the slaves; this is great maltreatment. This is a master abusing the authority delegated to him. Those who suffer under abuse and neglect.

Bobby has the responsibility to study and teach; and not doing that is, in essence, abusing his authority. There is anger, hatred, revolt of the sin. That is not the environment for mission accomplished.

This responsibility belongs to parents who are to correctly parent their children. We are in the midst of one of the most relative societies ever. Parents abdicate their responsibility. They fail to raise their children up with doctrinal principles. Our responsibility is to bring them up in the Lord. When they are old, they will not depart from it.

Failure is to abuse children. For Bobby, teachers, parents; those under them are to be brought up in doctrine. Church leaders who do this are guilty of disregarding their charge; their responsibility. What does the master ask the servant-leader to do? What are the teachers charged to do?

2Tim. 4:2, Bobby saw this verse daily in chapel. Preach the Word. This is the great responsibility of the servant leader in this age.

Servants must listen; we must listen to and learn and apply the mission statement.

1Tim. 4:6 If you put these things before the brothers, you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus, being trained in the words of the faith and of the good doctrine that you have followed. (ESV)

(Wuest) 1Tim. 2:6 Constantly reminding the brethren of these things, you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus, continually nourishing yourself by means of the words of the Faith and of the good teaching which you have closely followed.

We are to be constantly nourished by the word of the faith.

2Tim. 2:15 Be diligent to present yourself approved to God, a worker who does not need to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth. (VW)

Believers are to be constantly nourished. This does not happen with a short 20 min. sermon. Many people leave the congregation malnourished. Some people show up on a limited basis. Would we miss a meal for a couple of days. None of you look like you have done that. But are you well-nourished spiritually? You do not get nourished by eating once a week or maybe twice. Or even once a month. You are malnourished.

Shame comes to those servants who fit the description of Luke 12:45

Luke 12:45 But if that servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed in coming,' and begins to beat the male and female servants, and to eat and drink and get drunk,

This servant-leader spends his time eating and drinking and getting drunk. He is an antinomian pleasure-seeker. Bobby does not need to go into the types of things going on in churches today; offering prayer for $5. The kinds of people constantly asking for more money. However, many times, the use of these funds involve living a lavish lifestyle. There are two ways for the servant-leader to go. Mission failure or mission accomplishment. You indulge yourself or you commit yourself to the plan of God.

All sorts of problems arise when the pastor-teacher fails to do his job. Let me suggest Obama is a result of such failure. Blacks voting 90% for Democrats; that is a spiritual failure.

Luke 12:46 the master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he does not know, and will cut him in pieces and put him with the unfaithful.

This servant leader does not realize when the true Master will return. Grim; Bobby wants no part of this.

Luke 12:47 And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready or act according to his will, will receive a severe beating.

The slave who does not get ready for the return of his master, he will get a severe beating.

Luke 12:48 But the one who did not know, and did what deserved a beating, will receive a light beating. Everyone to whom much was given, of him much will be required, and from him to whom they entrusted much, they will demand the more.

The pastor-teacher is someone who is more in the bulls eye than anyone. To whom much is given, much is expected. We are given much for our mission. These verses are still in the context of rewards or the lack thereof. Various categories of believers are faithful or unfaithful servants. There are degrees of punishment for these things. The categories here are based on rewards and punishments.

Servant Failures

1. One group who are oblivious to or reject the Master's return. They will not accomplish anything.
2. The second group are aware of His return, but they have no sense of urgency. They follow His instructions.
3. The totally ignorant group, who are not informed of the master's will and instructions from the servant-leader. The justice will come for all 3 groups.

We cannot fool God. He knows it all. His justice acts accordingly. His judgments occur to a greater or lesser degree, depending upon which category that we fall into.

Just because we die before the Master's return, this does not mean that we are free from the response of the Master. We have all the privileges that every believer has and all the resources that every believer receives at the moment of salvation. We have rebound; we have grace apparatus for perception. There are various types of recompense and rewards. At the end of our life, the end of the rainbow. There are descriptions of some of the rewards. Whatever we think is a reward, we can put that out of our mind. No correlation to what is waiting for us. It is beyond imagination. Does this not give us a sense of urgency? Bobby does not know them and he could not properly represent them. Our thinking is limited; His is perfect and eternal.

To whom much is given, much is expected. We have a lot of doctrine in our souls.

When we are in fellowship and growing, we can perform divine good. In the filling of the Holy Spirit and as a part of our spiritual destiny. We don't like to take a test; or a final exam; on the other side of that exam is spring break, Christmas vacation or summer vacation. Well, we all have a final exam coming up. We need to know what is in the course, what we need to know, and our life is the blue book. God will evaluate our life. Some will receive rewards; others will receive a big F.

The one good thing is, regardless of what happens, we will be accepted in the Lord's grace. We will enjoy that vacation (or whatever it is).

The unexpected return of the master. However, bear in mind, for the unfaithful servant, the master's return is always unexpected.

Knowing when that day is, is not God's plan. Some person on the radio telling us when the return of Christ will be is of no help to us.

We will be evaluated at the resurrection of the church. We will be resurrected as a body. Israel and Old Testament saints will not be resurrected until after the Tribulation.

Jesus will return; do not be derelict.

The context tells us that all the servants are believers. They are all a part of the household of the master.

The first category in v. 46, which is the second half.

Lesson #0773

Luke 12:45–46 The Life of Christ

12/9/2015 Wed

Devil's ace trump. Lot of vocabulary in the book from R. B. Thieme, Jr. After the murders in Paris in January, a celebrity Muslim, Hareem, "Terrorists is not about religion." Ridiculous viewpoint. Overriding all the multifarious...progressives demand that we fall to our knees...under the doctrine of political correctness. Those who exhibit the temerity to point out that the Koran encourages attacks against innocents. Strangely, those who commit crimes in the name of Allah, they are called, at worst, terrorists. Attempt to silence anyone who casts Islam in a negative way. They will not even call Jihadi acts a hate crime; that is reserved for right wing types.

Some simply censor themselves. How many times do they have to be smacked in the face? At the end of day, the issue is not whether Islam is intrinsically violent; how widespread is the problem? Islam is one of the great tactical successes of the devil today.

Tragically, too many Americans have fallen for magical thinking.

There is great lunacy that goes on in our country today. If we can't face the truth, we cannot win. As things heat up, we are protected by the power of God; Muslims will never rule the world. We are the solution to this problem. This is the epitome of a religious war.

Luke 12 is a warning to us. The parable of the stewards, the servants. They are servant leaders. In the context, the servant leaders are the disciples who will soon be the Apostles. We are servant leaders; we are out front teaching doctrine. We are to provide believers with nourishment and care. A good chef would not be called a slave perhaps; but that is what the calling is for a pastor-teacher.

Jesus has been absent from us from the ascension, but He will return, just as a master will return to his household after a long trip.

We could say today that Jesus has been a long time in coming. Since the servant leader thinks this way, as a derelict leader, who then begins to serve his own appetites. Those who do not pay attention to the inevitable return of the master. Some know he will come, but does not prepare for it. Or he is just an ignorant servant.

Luke 12:45 But if that servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed in coming,' and begins to beat the male and female servants, and to eat and drink and get drunk,

3 types of disobedient servants. A servant is unfaithful; he ignores any day of reckoning on the return of the Lord. There will be a reckoning. The uncaring, unknowing servant; oblivious to the consequences of his actions. They are entirely unprepared to face the master with a good report of fulfilled service. For this man, the hour is later than he realizes. Every hour, every day, every year matters. What we do matters. We must redeem the time as believers in Jesus Christ. We continue to advance and we serve the Lord as we advance. The time of the master's return should be considered imminent; but it will be a shock to the servant who is not prepared.

The pastor who does not prepare Bible doctrine for his congregation. All tribulational believers, including Old Testament saints, will be resurrected. They must all give an account. So it does not matter if we die before the coming of the Lord.

We as believers cannot afford to forget that this time is coming for us. We cannot afford not to be vigilant. We must live in the light of eternity. What's coming is what is important.

The master will do two things that are reserved for those who are not doing their job. One might beat the other slaves; and others are eating and drinking. V. 46 tells us what the Lord will do. He will cut such a one into pieces. The drawn and quartered punishment. They would tie each limb to a horse and then have the horse run in opposite directions.

What Does it Mean to Cut the Servant into Pieces?

1. Cut is a metaphor for the slicing of rewards. This is an eternal metaphor.
2. It is a metaphor for the slashing of promotion (vv. 42–45) We are promised rulership in the kingdom, to rule with Him.
3. It means not being seen next to Christ in His triumphant return. We will be with Him, but we will not recline at table with Him.
4. We could be separated as if an outcast. Not an eternal separation; but a status in the kingdom. Reward for the faithless ones will be nil.

Danny Ingraham is at Berachah this evening.

We want to hear, "Well done, my good and faithful servant." This will not be said of the faithless servants. Believers are accepted in the Beloved; but they will have a lesser status.

A problematic phrase. "Assign him a place with the unfaithful." Does this mean that we can lose our place with God? Does this mean a loss of salvation? Or does this mean he was always an outcast? Does this mean he will be separated forever? It does sound pretty grim. But that is not what this means. This is called Lordship salvation.

God's grace is truly free. That is what grace is. We cannot bend grace into any other direction. Lordship salvation distorts grace. Remember the context of Luke 12; it is about believers; it is about disciples and rewards; it is about servants. All retain eternal life.

Failure to fulfill our obligations is reversionism or backsliding. This is the failure to live the spiritual life. All believers will be in heaven. Now we are dealing with degrees of our existence in heaven.

Points on this Passage So Far

1. The failure here is not an unbeliever; and it is not a believer who has lost his salvation.
2. This is a believer who has been singled out and cut out of honor and reward. It may not sound like much to us now; but will our status be in eternity? Don't you want the maximum and not the minimum?
3. This person did not accept any instructions from the master. He completely ignored truth. He was without growth, care or service. Do you ever relate what you do today with eternity? This ought to be a motivation for you.
4. The carnal or reversionist believer lives just like an unbeliever who has no allegiance or obedience to God. Never in fellowship; fails in his charge to be a good servant.
5. Therefore, this failure cannot be blessed in the way that the faithful will be blessed.
6. As a result, this faithless one will be relegated to the category of unbeliever. An unbeliever in this case is a rejecter of Christ's instructions.
7. The result will be little or no responsibility or rule in the future kingdom. After the 2nd advent. We spend 7 years in heaven while the Tribulation is ongoing. But after that, we return with Jesus Christ and we rule with Him. The faithless ones will have little or no responsibility.
8. There will be divine discipline in life to redirect the faithless ones.
9. Believer's failures will be made entirely evident. Christ paid for our sins on the cross. Failure to grow and serve the Lord; that will be the issue.
10. There will be shame as never known before at the Judgment Seat of Christ for the faithless ones. There will be the lesser degree of reward or no reward.
11. The faithless ones will be given the lowest status that believers can receive. There will be more than a few.

There are rewards and they are described in terms of crowns and medals. This is a reflection of your service. Bobby's finite mind cannot understand the great things of eternity. If you are faithless, then enjoy life now.

Our lives will be anything but dull. Bobby spends a lot of time in his study. You may think that is dull, but it is anything but dull. Bobby knows that he will be able to share this with us. There is no better life. We cannot party for the rest of our lives and have a better life. Therefore, we need to get with the Christian life now. Have the best now and have the best in eternity.

Wherever there is a resurrection, there will be an evaluation. This will certainly be true of us. There might be a loss of prestige and place in the kingdom. All Church Age believers will be evaluated at the rapture. That will be the moment of recompense. It happens momentarily, but there are effects for eternity.

Not Realizing Our Spiritual Destiny

1. Their fault will be unbelief in God's Word. We are all servants; Bobby is a servant-leader.
2. This is the believer who is without spiritual advance or a spiritual life. How many people understand how to be filled with the Holy Spirit? Many do not. People cannot know anything if they are not taught God's Word. In theological circles, making up stuff about God is what they do.
3. These are the ones who fail to represent the master; they were out for themselves. They were out for their own materialistic desires. They are self-centered. Televangelists who are busted and go to jail for fraud. They need this or that program.
4. There spiritual destinies in Christ are never realized.

Luke 12:46 the master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he does not know, and will cut him in pieces and put him with the unfaithful.

Next, the slave who knew his master's will but did not take care of his business.

Luke 12:46–48 The Life of Christ

12/10/2015 Thurs

Bobby took a semester of the Life of Christ in seminary. He realized that he did not really cover it as extensively as he thought at first.

All of Scripture is the mind of Christ. As we place this into our souls, we begin to think like the Lord Jesus Christ.

Luke 12:46 the master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he does not know, and will cut him in pieces and put him with the unfaithful.

3 categories of unfaithful and disobedient servants. This is about believers in the Lord; how can anyone be unfaithful and disobedient to the God of the Universe. However, we look around and people have no clue what it means to be a Christian.

The master returns on a day that the slave does not expect his return. The Lord has made this clear. The first category does not expect the return. They are uncaring, oblivious to the instructions of the master. 3 lifetimes could not scratch the surface of the entire Bible. Yet we have an obligation to continue to scratch, to delve into, to dive into. Not doing so is unfaithfulness. Entirely unprepared to face the return of the master with a good report of fulfilled service.

Bobby has no idea what the Lord will say at the Judgment Seat of Christ. Perhaps it will be, "What did you do with all that I gave you?" For those growing in grace and knowledge, we don't even have to answer that question.

There will be a public exposee of what we have done. Pastor-teachers can certainly shirk their responsibilities and that can include terrible repercussions, like being cut into pieces. Remember, who is the Lord addressing? He is addressing believers at this time.

Cut in pieces is a metaphor for removing rewards from the believer's body. When we return with the Master, there will be those who He honors. We will return with Him. Will we be reclining at table with Him?

Those not reclining with Him, they will be assigned a place with other unbelievers. Not the same as those assigned to hell; that is a whole other category. This is a group of those who have expressed faith alone in Christ alone, and they have not lost their salvation. They were simple disobedient and uncaring.

Believers Assigned with Unbelievers

1. Assigned with unbelievers is a category of believers who failed to heed the instructions of the Master. Bible doctrine; the mind of Christ.
2. These assigned with unbelievers completely ignored truth; they ignored Bible doctrine. These are believers. They paid no attention to the mandates for growth and service.
3. Those assigned with unbelievers lived as if they would never have to face the return of Christ or the ramifications of His return. Don't worry about tomorrow. Do just a few years matter?
4. A few believers will be relegated to the category of unbelievers. These are those who rejected Christ's instructions. They are relegated to the category of unbelievers. For the servant-leader...
5. In this category of unbelievers, they will have no responsibility, no sharing of rulership, they will be in eternity; peons, street sweepers?
6. Rewards will not be forthcoming to those who fail to serve the Lord. Serving the Lord is simply the great prayer life. This is operating in your own spiritual gift. You fulfill the plan of God for your life. There are general categories of fulfillment and some specific categories of fulfillment.
7. Fulfilling their spiritual destinies in Christ was not a consideration in their lives.

The second category is in the first part of v. 47. He did not get ready or act in accord with God's Will.

Luke 12:47 And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready or act according to his will, will receive a severe beating.

Believers with Some Knowledge

1. These are believers who did have some knowledge and cared somewhat about their obligation to the Lord.
2. They failed to grow and to serve Him; to act on their spiritual life. They are not living in disregard of God's Word like the first group.
3. They live a peripheral spiritual life, and a great many fall into this category. Churches all over the world where the congregations know a little bit. They stumble through life, thinking that they are fulfilling the plan of God for their lives, but they are without a clue.
4. They live as if there is a long postponement until the Master's return. They do not live in the light of eternity.
5. They wasted their time on this earth with other pursuits. They focus on the details of life, giving lip service to the Lord and even some time; but they were not obedient to the Master's full directives and mandates.
6. During their lifetime, they never fully got with the program of God's will.
7. This is a metaphor for some form of punishment for failure.
8. It is clearly a lesser degree of punishment that was given to that first group.

Lashes are not desirable. No one wants to be lashed. Our time on earth won't last forever and the public shame will not last forever. This has a real sting from the Master. This is not the group that we want to be identified with.

Luke 12:47 And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready or act according to his will, will receive a severe beating.

The 3rd group is found in v. 48a. They just did not know what the master had instructed. They were in the dark when it comes to what the master said. The servant-leader failed to provide the instructions. So much apostasy, there was a failure to give instructions to the servants. No positive volition. Two sides of the same coin. A believer who wants to grow, it will be made available. God never leaves us in a position where we cannot grow.

What about These Ignorant Believers; What Is Their Recompense?

They may even hear the truth and they reject it. I want a church where they do other things.

1. Ignorance is no excuse; it never is. No excuse before the Lord. During the Dark Ages, there was very little Bible doctrine available because there was no positive volition.
2. Even though a believer is ignorant and immature, he still bears some consequences for his failure. It is a failure to remain ignorant. He is worth of some punishment.
3. However, he receives a lesser judgment for his failure to
4. Doctrine is available even when there are unfaithful servant-leaders. This believer did not seek it out.

He did not seek the master's will, so he is giving a light beating. The degree of knowledge and progress and spiritual advance determines a person's punishment and loss of rewards. These two things may be one and the same.

Luke 12:48 But the one who did not know, and did what deserved a beating, will receive a light beating. Everyone to whom much was given, of him much will be required, and from him to whom they entrusted much, they will demand the more.

To everyone who has been given much, much will be required.

God expects every believer to live by the techniques of the spiritual life.

We are what we think. Our life is not live and learn. Our life is to learn and live. It is the exact reverse. The Lord Jesus Christ expects good instructions by servant leaders and positive volition in servants so that we all grow together. If Bobby does not grow, we don't grow. Or we find someone else that we can grow under. No two believers are in the stage of growth. All stages of growth in the auditorium. God does not expect a certain type of modus operandi from a new baby. Expectations are lower for the spiritual baby. All are expected to advance. No one can hide behind immaturity or maturity. The immature get less lashes; that should be me. Bad conclusion.

Fulfilling these expectations can be great reward. Eternal reward.

Jesus is speaking to disciples who will carry much responsibility; they will be communicators and writers; and they will be mentors to the nascent church of the first century. They are the ones from whom much is required. They carry much responsibility. More recompense; more loss of rewards. They need to fulfill their mission. The disciples did. Without what the disciples did, we would not have the written instructions that we have.

There is an application here for us. As believers, we have been given much from the Word of God. We have logistical grace. We have opportunities to advance. We have great freedom to spiritually advance. God knew us in eternity past and He made plans for us.

Servant leaders have been specifically charged to take leadership. A private can get away with a lot; a leader can get away with nothing. If it does not happen in your unit, then it is your fault. It is the responsibility of a leader to straighten out his unit and to get results from them. Leaders will get an efficiency report.

Therefore, be careful what you wish for. Some of you think you might have the gift of pastor-teacher. But there is great responsibility that goes with it. Because of this position of leadership, there are more severe consequences for failure.

Bobby's authority is not a big stick or speaking with a loud voice; it all comes from communicating the Word of God. Those are his instructions. 2Tim. 4:2 Proclaim the Word. We all have our individual responsibilities. Failure can bring loss of rewards. It is the job of the disciples to provide information for all other believers in the Church Age.

Responsibility and Failure

1. God gives all believers responsibility; resources; privilege.

2. We also have an obligation. People seem to reject obligation in the age that we live. Limits their freedom. As a believer, we have an obligation and we must fulfill that obligation.
3. For the communicator, the pastor-teacher, who is responsible for the spiritual care of those under them, they have even a greater obligation. Those with the gift of communication, cannot afford to fail in communicating God's Word.
4. The corollary principle is, any communication gift cannot be denied. Some people fight all of their lives not to be in a position like being a pastor-teacher.
5. Those who receive such a gift are given much to do with great responsibility. But so are we. To whom much is given, much is expected.
6. By faithfully executing that responsibility, the rewards on earth and in heaven are great. There is our motivation and goal.
7. Failure is a personal disaster and can become a national disaster. When believers fail, a client nation will fail.

No one who accomplishes their mission will be unhappy with their rewards in heaven. We are going to like what we get. Our rewards will be beyond our finite understanding. Failure means lashes.

Conclusion

1. Rewards will not all be equal; and judgment will not be either. Inequality in heaven.
2. It is all dependent on each individual believer's growth.
3. Rewards or loss will always be appropriate and just. God is fair.
4. When the communicators fail to teach doctrine, the judgment for their congregation is not as great. Fewer lashes. There will always be some loss of reward if you fail to serve.
5. The failed servant leader will be cut into pieces and assigned with the losers.

We cannot afford to stop growing or to stop applying or to stop serving the Lord. No one retires from the Christian life. We all have our marching orders. We must be ready and prepared and act according to His plan and His will.

Lesson #0775

Luke 12:49–50 Life of Christ

12/13/2015 1Sunday

We cannot afford to be unfaithful as servants. The Lord will make an application of the parable of the stewards. Jesus knew the difficulties to come. The disciples must keep in mind who it is that we serve. The Lord Jesus Christ came to this earth. He probably was born in the month of Nisan, in April. We really celebrate why our Lord came, to die for our sins, to be judged for our sins. However, He will return as the Great Judge.

Luke 12:49 "I came to cast fire on the earth, and would that it were already kindled!"

Jesus Christ is well-aware of His future. He is following the will of God to the letter. All that He did was the will of the Father. He came to be judged; He is also one who will be judged. He will be the righteous judge, the one to do the evaluating.

“I have come to cast fire upon the earth.” And He wishes that it was already kindled, which I think means ready to go.

The Prince of Peace is not Jesus Christ of the 1st advent. He will be the Prince of Peace in the 2nd advent. He is still speaking to nation Israel as their King and future Judge. Malachi 3:1–6 must be fulfilled. His eagerness to judge reflects His Own will. This is what He wanted to do.

This would be one of the times that Jesus expressed something in His humanity different from the will of the Father (“Father, if it be Your will, let this cup pass from Me.”) his life and His death would be the basis for His judgment and this would project His judgment into the future. Like fire, when it did come, it would burn up the dross, purifying the nation for the Millennial kingdom.

Here is a proposed scenario of Satan: “Why not allow believers and unbelievers to live side-by-side?” And God allows that in the Age of Israel and in the Church Age and in the Millennium.

No unbeliever will enter the Millennial kingdom. However, unbelievers will crop up throughout the Millennium.

Luke 12:49 “I came to cast fire on the earth, and would that it were already kindled!”

Before this judgment could take place, other things must take place. Jesus is distressed about a baptism. What is so distressing about a baptism? The key is the nature of this baptism. The nature of the baptism is key. Jesus wants to get past the baptism to the judging.

Luke 12:50 I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how great is my distress until it is accomplished!

This will be the baptism of the cross. It is a baptism that the Jews must undergo. All of our personal sins will be poured out upon Him on the cross. Jesus Christ would be identified with our sins. He deserved nothing like this. No one else is qualified to undergo such a baptism.

This is the judgment of Jesus Christ on the cross whereas, v. 49 occurs later in time. Justification and positional sanctification.

We do not always understand what Jesus was thinking at any given point in time. He was contemplating this baptism. He had a very human response for these very difficult circumstances.

The Thinking of Jesus

1. Jesus was anticipating all of the sins which would be poured out upon Him. He did not deserve this. This is the plan of God for Him. He was thinking about what He was going through.
2. His thinking is understandable.
3. Jesus looked forward to the future baptism being accomplished. A terrible 6 hours on the cross. Judicial imputation. He was separated from God the Father.
4. Distress does not mean that Jesus was terrified, fearful or entertaining thoughts of escaping from this situation. Fear can be paralyzing; Jesus was not paralyzed in any way. He did not feel sorry for Himself.
5. Distressed is the present passive indicative of sunechô.
6. Sunecho in the passive means that Jesus receives the action of distress. This is an inner attitude of suffering, based upon coming circumstances. These circumstances are out of His hands.
7. This is His duty based upon the plan of God the Father. So, this is not the mental attitude sin of fear. He understood that He must suffer the ignominy and painful judgment on the cross.
8. Distress was an inner response of unpleasant anticipation for what He would endure for our benefit.

This vexation of soul did not strike fear in His soul. So He could not be fearful or that would remove Him from being able to die for our sins.

Cowardice is the inability to function under fear. Everyone has normal fear. Especially in military circumstances. No one is happy about going into war. When they desert in the face of the enemy; that is cowardice.

Jesus was thinking, "Won't it be great when this is all over." Never for a moment did Jesus ever entertain forgoing the cross.

Just hours before the 6 trials began, Jesus said, "If it be Your will, let this cup pass from Me." This is distress; it is not fear. "Yet not as I will, but Your will be done."

Adversity is inevitable; stress is optional. All you able to get past adversity and deal with your life? This passage tells us what His humanity was like. He was facing great adversity. Since it is God's will, Jesus would accept it. He was resigned to do it; but not fearful of it.

Like facing a very difficult final exam in the future. The studying and the exam are inevitable and there are no way to get by it. Friday is the exam; so you think about Saturday. You don't fear it; you are ready for it.

I will uphold you with the right hand of My righteousness. What is to fear if you apply that promise. Christ would undergo terrible moments of judgments. The sinless Son of God bearing our sins, sins which He did not deserve.

Jesus knew that this moment had to happen; He never had any doubt.

Luke 12:50 I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how great is my distress until it is accomplished!

Lesson #0776 Luke 12:51–53 Life of Christ 12/13/2015 2Sunday

Christmas is many things to many people; for many, it is about family. All the kids come home for Christmas break. The Lord will put a crimp in this. This is a difficult passage to swallow. This is something that we do not like to think about. The Lord reveals that His mission will cause divisions.

Some of the Lord's half-brothers did not believe in Him until after the resurrection. We know nothing about the family situations about the disciples, except that Peter was married and Paul was not.

Luke 12:51 Do you think that I have come to give peace on earth? No, I tell you, but rather division.

"Do you think that I came to bring peace on earth?" Jesus is called the Prince of Peace in Isa. 9:6; but He bring divisive conflict. Jesus will be the ruler in the Millennium. He will rule over the perfectly peaceful kingdom of the Millennium. But not now. Not in the 1st advent.

He did bring one type of peace; a current peace; man's most important peace, which is not negotiated over a table. You cannot negotiate peace in our time. Because of what Jesus did on the cross, man can be at peace with God. We can be reconciled to God. Reconciliation is peace with God. That is the peace that Jesus brings.

Sinful man is brought into a relationship with God; spiritual harmony with God. Hostility and enmity between us and God is changed to peace. We were born at war with God. This reconciliation is appropriated by man at the moment of faith alone in Christ alone. This places you at peace with God.

Jesus would never compromise with the religious leaders; He would not compromise with Satan. There is no reconciliation when it comes to a kingdom of peace. There will be dissension and division, even in the most intimate of human relationships.

Luke 12:52 For from now on in one house there will be five divided, three against two and two against three.

1 against 5, etc.

Luke 12:53 They will be divided, father against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law."

There are normal separations, even among the most intimate circles. Jesus came to bring separations and those divisions. These are spiritual separations that the Lord has brought.

Spiritual Separation

1. When one believes in the Lord Jesus Christ, there is an inherent separation between believers and unbelievers.
2. When a believer begins to grow and to think with divine viewpoint, there is a natural division from human viewpoint which others hold. This can even happen among believers. Those who grow up and those who do not. Relationships are mental; they are attitudes. No matter how great your physical relationship is, if you do not think the same way, there is a division.
3. Existential; it is just the way it is. It is inevitable. Where like-minded comparability especially in the spiritual realm; is severed. A natural divide between conservatism and liberalism.
4. As He says, these divisions will extend even to the break of the bonds of the family. As you advance, family ties are not stronger than your relationship with Jesus Christ. We have relationships with many people. There may be divisions. Your relationship with Me must be stronger than all other relationships.

Best of all worlds when a family advances spiritually together. There is no division then. Like-mindedness is the strongest bond that there is. Spiritual like-mindedness, then there is the bond that is not separate. When you are a mature and advancing believer, you develop impersonal love, and that allows you to love those who would normally seem antagonistic toward you. Capacity for personal love. So many definitions of love. I love you because you give me what I want; because you are pretty or handsome, because you take care of me, or because I want to say it just to see what happens. Believers with capacity for love develop it through spiritual growth. Impersonal love and integrity also grow. Very little integrity remains, from the highest to the lowest.

Trust is a bond that must not be broken.

There are certain extremes in divisions in other cultures and religions. In some cultures, even to become a believer in Jesus Christ, that separates you from the rest of the family. Certainly true in orthodox Jewish families and orthodox Muslim families, with the possibility of an honor killing of the family member who converts to Christianity. No believer in Jesus Christ is ever required to convert in order to marry; or vice versa. If it is not a choice on their part, put the gospel out there.

If a growing believer does not separate from an intimate personal relationship where like-mindedness is lacking, the effects can be devastating, to the spiritual life and then to the relationship life.

God told the Israelites not to marry the heathen from around them; and they went from there to heathen religious practices. You never affect those types to the good. At best there is a mental piece missing in the relationship.

If you were an unbeliever and you convert during the marriage, then that is not a reason for divorce.

Divisions of some kinds are good for a healthy, normal spiritual life. In this world, the disciples were to expect conflict and ordeal wherever these men would go. They would be Apostles. Wherever they would take Bible doctrine; some would accept it and others would reject it.

Christ died by crucifixion as a criminal. There would be divisions and conflicts and ordeal and persecutions. Human and divine viewpoint are mutually exclusive. When you try to compromise with human viewpoint, you have compromised your spiritual life. When a relationship that you have requires you to compromise divine viewpoint, it is a bad relationship. The tie binding believers together is regeneration and Bible doctrine. This is to be stronger than natural family relationships. To deny this axiom of Jesus Christ is to relegate your spiritual life to a lower priority.

This is a difficult dilemma for the believer in Jesus Christ. The drifting away from those you truly like; with those with whom you have compatibility and good times with. Loyalty to Jesus Christ must be placed above every other loyalty. The close ties you have cultivated; it must be above that.

The differences will become marked and a natural divide must open. It does not make it any easier. Bible doctrine and spiritual advance divides people; it divides family; it divides relationships.

Do not take this overboard. You should not snub others. You are not authorized to divorce an unbeliever because they have a different attitude. Separation of thinking, drifting apart is not a reason for divorce. You are not to foment antagonisms, anger. You are the one advancing and you have impersonal love. Human family divisions should not cause mental attitude sins. No mental attitude sins and no ill will, no obnoxious or argumentative behavior on your part. You cannot abandon them; you cannot curse them. Some times it happens with unbelievers who say, "You're a kook and you go to a cult." If there is spiritual division in a family, that does not entitle you to treat them badly. You may have the ability to present the gospel. Who wants their family to spend eternity in hell. You may be an example of stability and growth; family is a divine institution and the stability of a nation. We must adhere to these divine institutions more than anyone else. We have an obligation to family, to our parents and to our children. No matter what they do; no matter what they do to offend us, no matter how much they disappoint us. This is a very critical mission for them.

Do not be traumatized or deterred from your spiritual destiny because of a deteriorating relationship. Realize that this is a hard message. It is difficult.

He moves from family divisions to the divisions that will occur in Israel.

Lesson #0777

Luke 12: Life of Christ

12/16/2015 Wed

Luke 12:49–53. We think of Jesus as being a unifier, but He says here that He has come to divide people; to divide up families. The reason for this is spiritual. Believer versus unbeliever; or growing believer versus reversionist. We may view this in our own family. The Lord Jesus Christ does divide people. We must move on, we must continue to grow, and we must continue to pray for others; and to show what a great life the Christian life is.

In the next section, the crowds must understand their position in the 1st Advent.

These 3 verses are read.

Luke 12:54 He also said to the crowds, "When you see a cloud rising in the west, you say at once, 'A shower is coming.' And so it happens.

Luke 12:55 And when you see the south wind blowing, you say, 'There will be scorching heat,' and it happens.

Luke 12:56 You hypocrites! You know how to interpret the appearance of earth and sky, but why do you not know how to interpret the present time?

These crowds have seen Jesus, and they are yet unable to perceive who He is. To make His point, Jesus uses two simple meteorological phenomenon.

A cloud coming from the west is a crowd coming off the Mediterranean Sea; which is a major factor in weather. They do not need a meteorologist to tell them that it is going to rain.

Bobby likes weather and knowing what it is going to be. Doug Johnson said the Gulf Coast is one of the hardest places to predict weather because there are so many factors. If we see cumuli nimbus clouds, we can predict rain. Dark and piled up high on themselves. It can't be missed.

A second illustration, a southerly wind brings on a heat wave. Winds coming from the south are coming from the desert, and it will be a warm wind. A southerly flow of wind heats up temperatures in Houston; and a north wind brings cooler weather. The Jews of Jesus' time were able to forecast simple events of weather. This was common knowledge to everyone and they used these forecasts in order to guide their behavior.

They Should Have Been Able to Recognize the Signs of the Messiah

1. They could easily understand natural signs. We understand weather signs. They are obvious.

2. They could not understand his spiritual signs, which they should have been able to do. They were so obvious. No man could do what Jesus was doing.
3. They were well-versed in the signs of the Messiah prophesied in the Old Testament. The Old Testament laid out for them what Messiah would do. The pharisees particularly would have known this information. They did concentrate on the wrong books.
4. If they were able to watch and interpret the weather signs, they should have been able to interpret these signs of Messianic validation. They should have accepted Jesus for who He was.

Luke 12:56 You hypocrites! You know how to interpret the appearance of earth and sky, but why do you not know how to interpret the present time?

Jesus calls these men hypocrites. They could not interpret the signs of the times.

What Was Their Problem?

1. They were looking for a physical liberator from the Romans. They hate the Romans and they wanted to be freed.
2. Their viewpoint is tied up in the politics of that era. They are blinded with what is going on in that time.
3. However, on the other hand, Jesus' viewpoint is, the Messiah, Isa. 53, is the Suffering Servant. They understood the king part; but they did not understand the Suffering Servant part. Ide the
4. Only later would Jesus provide deliverance.
5. They did not want the Messiah for their souls.

What about Weather and These Hypocrites?

1. All the signs of Messiahship are right there in front of them.
2. They cannot analyze and interpret the Messianic age in which they live. People cannot understand the time in which they live. We cannot do that here in our own age either.
3. The hardened heart of religion makes it impossible for them to recognize their Messiah. That is Judaism. The religious power of the Jews. They particularly
4. Jesus had given them many signs to prove Who He was. The people should have seen the significance of the day in which they all lived. This was a central part of history. This was a pivotal time. They were there in the midst of it and they refused to recognize it.
5. Daniel 9:24–27 calculate the chronological time that Messiah would come, based upon the return to the land.
6. They were no ignorant of the time; but, like so many who saw Jesus, they simply said no.

7. The Lord held them responsible for knowing but failing to discern the spiritual signs. This had to make those people angry. Jesus talks about them as if they are children. Rain, heat; and here I am, the Messiah; and you don't know who I am?
8. They were blinded by their legalism. They were blinded by their political activism and their revolutionary plots. The Jews of Judea were always involved in some kind of a plot to undermine Roman rule and authority.

Hypocrites ignore the truth for their own viewpoint. They ignore the truth because it does not line up with what they believe. "I am stubborn as a mule; don't confuse me with the facts." It is called blind arrogance. It is the project of self-righteousness. Nothing worse than the self righteous person.

The worst of the worst are the self righteous types. From them comes the most basic sin of all sins, arrogance.

Bobby has already covered vv. 57–59 back in June of 2012 (I think; a passage in Matthew).

San Bernardino incident. They had hoped to kill those at work that they knew; and then they set traps to kill the first responders. In many terrorist cases, the targets are chosen purely by chance. The terrorists did not care who they killed; just so people died and suffered. All was done for Jihad. Holy war is the meaning. Jihad was the purpose for all of this terror. They hope to strike terror into the many so that fear is struck in the hearts of their enemies. That is what terror is all about.

Pilate slaughtered Galileans in the Temple. He just hauled them out and killed them. The same reason. These killings were used by Pilate for terror. Today, religion is the terror.

Professor Jeffrey Adicott. Part of the ministry of Berachah Church. He has a straight and correct viewpoint. He defines Jihad. Related to our study.

Jihad is a major component of Islam; and the most controversial aspect of Islam. Literal translation is, struggle, striving to achieve a goal. The primary meaning is holy war, a requirement that the Muslims take up arms to spread Islam. The main motif of Islam is death on the battleground, which leads to an immediate paradise. It is incontrovertible that aggressive war in Islamic history is a fact. The faithful to fight the infidels and to expand Islam. It is justified homicide, which is commanded and condoned by Islam. They will assert that their killings were justified.

This is a call to violent behavior to spread or protect Islam, and is found in all 4 schools of Shua and Shia. Common to all Islam. It is to strike terror in the hearts of those who oppose Islam.

We are immersed in a religious war, whether we admit to it or not.

Pontius Pilate found himself in the midst of a religious war as well.

Informational Points on Terrorism Today

1. This violence that we have in our nation today is rooted in authentic, Islamic theology. The Koran says on many occasions that the holy war is the duty of the Muslim. Mohammed was one of the most warlike people in human history. Radical Islam sees it in this way. They are fundamentalists; they believe in the fundamental concepts of their holy book.
2. They wage war on a purely religious belief.
3. The religious beliefs of radical Islam condones murder and war. This is a divine command.
4. It is their duty as good Muslims to bring in a worldwide caliphate. They want to rid the world of non-Muslims. Western leaders do not want to face this. Anyone who breaks this silence will be shouted down.

The Koran itself is filled with commands for the Muslim to fight non-Muslims. The Koran does promise Muslims that they will do well if they support Jihad with their property. But these are inferior Muslims. Those who speak these words are quashed.

The questions on the debate last night were designed to smoke out the candidates who might say the wrong thing. People want to censor the truth of Bible doctrine.

Why would moderate Muslims be offended by denouncing radical Islam. Jihadists kill far more Muslims than Christians or Jews. If we do not identify our enemy, we cannot have a strategy to defeat them (and we don't).

Pilate knew the enemy of Rome and he had a strategy to stop their revolutionary plotting. Kill some of those in the Temple, and strike terror in the hearts of all worshipers. It was done to send a message.

Pilate's true enemy turns out to be God and God's people.

There are those who want to execute Jesus. They were as rabid as the Jihadists. Radical Islam wants to destroy Christians as much as some Jews wanted to kill Jesus today.

Lesson #0778

Luke 12: Life of Christ

12/17/2015 Thurs

Two incidents where innocent people were randomly killed. Pontius Pilate killed some random people in the Temple; and several people also died in an accident.

There was some opposition to the Lord. The blood of some killed was mixed with the blood offered up at the Temple.

Galilee was quite far from the Temple; farthest of any of the districts. They had their own blood mixed with the blood of the sacrificial animals. On his word, worshipers were slaughtered in the Temple on the same altar where they were to offer up sacrifices. If they were not safe in the Temple, where were they safe? A parallel to today. Pilate was a very smart man. This was a message of terror by this evil act. In Pilate's mind, he was justified, as a necessary step for Roman hegemony. He was there to enforce Roman power.

Why did he slaughter these Galileans? He feared Jewish revolt during his governorship. The Jews were always hatching a plot there. They were known throughout as trouble-makers and treated accordingly. The Galileans were particularly involved in this sort of activity, which is why they were singled out.

Some religious leaders accepts Jesus Christ; and the majority rejected Him. They wanted a Messiah Who was a liberator. That was a fundamental desire of the Jews at that time. They overlooked Isa. 53 when it came to understanding Who the Messiah was. They did not realize that the cross came before the crown. There would be no immediate kingdom for the Jews unless they accepted the Lord, and they did not. They wanted someone who would wipe out their physical enemies. In the meantime, they plotted their revolution. So Pilate killed these worshipers in order to strike terror in the hearts of the Jews.

These sympathies might have led Jesus to say something negative about Pilate or about the Romans. If the Lord said anything negative about Pilate, He could be tried for sedition. He did not, but the Jewish religious types turned Him in anyway. Great irony here with the false religion.

There had been many phony messiahs at that time and before. To them, Jesus was just another phony, even though He fulfilled every prophecy of the Old Testament.

The Response of Jesus to the Dead of the Galileans

1. According to Jewish religious thought, any unusual tragedy was viewed as divine punishment for heinous sins.
2. On the other hand, anyone who was prospering, they were thought to have the favor of God. Prosperity is God's will if things are going well.
3. Under this viewpoint, the dead Galileans had committed some sin that God punished them for. Pilate was merely the arm of God killing these Galileans.
4. So, the kicker, for Jesus to speak at all sympathetically about the dead Galileans, even a note of sympathy, this would have been seen as making a seditious statement and he would be speaking against God. This is because these Galileans died and that must have been God's will.
5. Speaking against the will of God would be blasphemous.
6. Jesus' enemies could accuse Him, if He spoke, of religious apostasy, which was a serious, serious offense.
7. If he showed sympathy for the dead Galileans, He would be speaking against and impugning God's will. They will claim, "How can He speak against God and claim to be the Messiah.
8. The religious leaders were just waiting for Him to violate their faith.
9. If Jesus spoke, they would be justified before God to kill Jesus for blasphemy.

10. What they were doing is the epitome of cruel legalistic thinking. This is where vicious religion. What they proposed to do is just like Muslims today. They could justify killing the Lord because he was not kin to Islamic theology.

This sets up the following few verses.

Jesus opposed their sanctimonious viewpoint.

A woman put on Islamic garb, and she teaches at Wheaton College, and she put on Islamic garb to profess her solidarity. She said, "We all worship the same God." Islam sees us as heretics; we are seen as infidels; and they are justified in killing us. We are in a religious war. Another parallel to radical Islam today for radical Jews.

They have killed people for insulting the prophet Mohammed. No one is allowed to depict Mohammed. One Danish person killed for drawing a cartoon of him; and Charley Hebdo was attacked.

Luke 13:1 There were some present at that very time who told him about the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

How did Jesus respond to this trap? V. 2:

Luke 13:2 And he answered them, "Do you think that these Galileans were worse sinners than all the other Galileans, because they suffered in this way?"

Were these Galileans worse sinners? Jesus says no.

Opposition to Rome is never our Lord's purpose in His public ministry. He never spoke even once against Rome. Even though Herod tried to have Him killed as an infant. Jesus did not condemn him either.

Death does not come as a result of a multitude of sins. Do you suppose that Pilate sent soldiers into the Temple to inquire how had they are. Death is the common denominator of all mankind.

Jesus' Answer

1. The Galileans were not better or worse.
2. All men are equally condemned.
3. Jesus tells them that death comes to all. All men are spiritually dead.

We are made spiritually alive when regenerated.

People die for many reasons and in many ways. In any case, death comes to all, the good, the bad and everyone in between. The pharisaical theology was based upon self-righteousness. So Jesus deals with this doctrine, which deals

If this approach was correct, these pharisees should be at the top of the list for dying a miserable death. They were the worst sinners. What a door of phariscal.

“God smiles on me for my righteousness; and He rejects you for living wrong.”

After Jesus corrects them, they prayed in public constantly; they spend a lot of time in the Temple; they sacrificed many animals in the Temple.

These Legalists want to attack Jesus and He has to pick His battles.

The legalists were the most difficult of all at Bobby’s seminary. This is just what the Lord faced. So He gives them the gospel, which will solve their spiritual death.

Luke 13:3 No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish.

“Let’s worry about you; not about those Galileans. Those who tried to trap Him, charging Him with sedition now have the tables turned on them. They are in as much danger of death as the Galileans.

What is expected to occur under certain circumstances. A 3rd class condition; the more probable future condition. It is was may occur; to perish. “If you do not repent, you perish.” That is the contingency and the choice that they must make.

When they heard metanoieō, how does this not bring a question mark to their heads.

What does this word mean? Repent or perish. Still true today. Repent means to change one’s mind. There is a lot of baggage attached to most people. Repent and be saved, is too vague to say. This is okay to explain the gospel, but you must know what repent means.

Luke 13:4 Or those eighteen on whom the tower in Siloam fell and killed them: do you think that they were worse offenders than all the others who lived in Jerusalem?

Lesson #0779

Luke 12: Life of Christ

12/20/2015 1Sunday

Extreme violence is no stranger to this world. More horns honked in the vicinity of the church than anywhere else.

War is the most obvious and severe form of violence; and we are at war; we are in a religious war. This was true during the time of Jesus Christ as well. Pax Romana; and within the empire, there was anything but peace. Unfortunately, civilians caught in the middle are subject to all sorts of savagery.

Outside of war, there are many random acts of violence. We are becoming more and more attuned to such acts due to terrorism.

In the ancient near east, during the time that Jesus was born, there was plenty of violence. Random brutality was not at all unusual. Herod had heard that there was a king being born to the Jews, so he ordered all recently born Jewish children killed. There was some intense animosity between the Romans and the Jews as a result.

Some violence was well-known to the Lord, which was violence that was not really out of the ordinary. Found in v. 1:

Luke 13:1 There were some present at that very time who reported to Him about the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

There were apparently a group of worshipers who were killed when in the Temple offering up sacrifices. This act of violence was perpetrated by the authorities of Judæa. Like all terrorism, there was a purpose in what Pilate did. He was sending the Jews a message, who hated the Romans.

The Jews expected liberation by the Messiah to come. He would free them from what would be done. In the meantime, the Jews were always involved in some sort of sedition. Pilate used terror tactics to curb their sedition. He indicated that he would deal with any of their acts ruthlessly.

In the view of the Jews, tragedy was the fault of the victims, innocent as they might be. According to Jewish religious thought, any unusual misfortune was viewed as divine punishment for sins committed by those who are harmed (even though Pilate is the perpetrator).

The purpose behind it all was religion. There was going to be another attempt to remove Jesus was the scene. He was born in Bethlehem, but he grew up in Galilee.

Now, if He expressed sympathy for them, being fellow Galileans, He would be speaking against God and God's will for them. He claimed to be the Messiah and yet He would be speaking against God, according to their traditions.

Jesus then corrects their faulty theology.

Luke 13:2 And he answered them, "Do you think that these Galileans were worse sinners than all the other Galileans, because they suffered in this way?"

The massacre in the Temple was not about sins, this is what Jesus was telling them. The real problem was rejection of Himself. That is problem.

Luke 13:3 No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish.

The people who bring this report to the Lord are religious leaders, and they believed that they were okay and that Jesus was not. "If you do not repent, you will all perish like the Galileans did."

What is found here is the verb, metanoéō (μετανοέω) [pronounced meh-tah-noh-EH-oh], with the negative. “Your brothers have just been slaughtered by Pilate,” and Jesus responded, “If you do not change your minds, you will die just like they did.”

They have a choice, and the key to avoiding death is repentance. If this is for us to preclude perishing, then we might want to know the meaning of metanoéō (μετανοέω) [pronounced meh-tah-noh-EH-oh]. Literally in the Greek, it means to change one's mind (usually for the better). So we need to understand what this actually means. There may be feelings of remorse or emotions. Feelings are not the prerequisite for the change. Change comes from thinking, not from the emotion. Feelings are not a part of repentance; they do not keep a person from changing his mind and being saved. A pure change of mind is what metanoéō (μετανοέω) is all about.

Guilt and remorse are not key to changing one's mind about Jesus Christ.

These men came to Jesus in order to trip him up. That is the reason for this news being brought to Him. It was not a matter of providing Jesus with important information that He needed to know right then and there. They wanted a response from Him, so they could use His response against Him. This is why God tells them to repent.

An objective view of Jesus Christ is always the issue when it comes to changing one's mind. The issue is always, what do you think of Christ; not how do you feel about Him?

The issue is the wrong theological thinking of these men; they are filled with self-righteousness. They see no reason to change their minds. Self-righteousness sees oneself as not needing a change of mind. Why change my mind if I am as good as I can be? If I am already right, why change my mind? Self-righteousness does not convince a person to repent. You don't need anyone but yourself, because you believe that you are pleasing God through your own works. Self righteous thinking is the hardest mind to change.

The hell-raisers understand just how far they fall from righteousness. Arrogant thinking must change, to put their own self-righteousness aside and to believe in Jesus Christ. Sins are not the criteria for condemnation. His payment for sins are now the issue.

Change one's mind about what? Otherwise, punishment is coming your way. It won't be a random act of violence; it will be specific and deserved.

If Bobby had an altar call, he might say, “Repent, brother, and be saved.” But now this has meaning to us. We know what it means and to whom it is directed towards. But people do not need to come forward to repent. You can repent right where you are. The terrible problem with this view of sin is, it is a road block of self-righteousness. They just do not need to change, in their own thinking. It is for these other sinners, they think. It does not matter what a person thinks about his own sins or about the sins of others. Self-righteousness makes a comparison. My sins compare favorably to your sins.

Two classifications of those killed. Some killed by Pilate; and some died in a tragic accident.

Bobby does not like the word repent because it is misused today. Usually, the meaning is, you need to feel sorry about your sins; what you do and what you are. God requires us to feel a certain remorse in order to fit into His plan. So, how does Jesus fit into this approach? He is secondary, at best.

But Jesus said, “Unless you repent, you will likewise perish.” There was emotion involved in the description of those being killed by Pontius Pilate. The repentance that Jesus demands has nothing to do with emotion. There is a terrible perversion of the simple approach to salvation. Faith alone in Christ alone. Change your mind about the Person of Jesus Christ and His work. There is nothing like a head belief and a heart belief. How do you feel about the Lord? Does not matter.

After salvation, Christ also requires a change of thinking. A renovation of thinking. That change does mean a new way of life will become evident. It is a way of spiritual growth and production of divine good. That is the true fruit-bearing definition. Feeling any sort of guilt is not a prerequisite to living the Christian life.

A simple naming of your sins; and then you are cleansed from all unrighteousness. It does not matter how you feel about your sins, the worst and those you don't mind so much. You commit these sins after salvation. We may feel bad for the sins that we commit. Often times our remorse, our guilt keeps us from moving ahead in the Christian life. That guilt is a mental attitude sin; it is subjectivity. Sins are forgiven through rebound, no matter how you feel about them. Jesus Christ made our apologies to God, so to speak. Feelings are never a part of salvation or the Christian life.

The greatest punishment of all is the failure to believe in Jesus Christ, resulting in eternal punishment.

A great demonstration of this, is Jerusalem's failure to repent, and Jerusalem was destroyed by the Romans in A.D. 70.

metanoô (μετανοέω) [pronounced meh-tah-noh-EH-oh], which means to change one's thinking, to change one's mind. This is the word that we find repeatedly as a part of salvation. The key is whatever it is that we are to change our minds about, which is generally found in context. However, when we do not have an obvious target, then it means to either change one's mind about Jesus Christ (we all had preconceived ideas as to Who He was; and we are to change those to recognizing Him as our Savior) or we are to change our minds about our dead works—that is, the things that we have accumulated in order to get us into heaven (Heb. 6:1; spoken of, in that context, as being one of the fundamentals of the faith). Do we find this word associated with sin? Not really; in the gospels, it usually stands alone. One say, what about Luke 15:7, 10?, but only the kind of person who does not understand the difference between the subject of the verb and the object of the verb.¹

Strong's #3340

Now Jesus deals with another tragedy. This was a natural or construction accident.

Luke 13:4 Or those eighteen on whom the tower in Siloam fell and killed them: do you think that they were worse offenders than all the others who lived in Jerusalem?

Luke 13:5 No, I tell you; but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish."

Jesus uses another illustration; and this was probably a construction project by Pilate, who was constructing aqueducts at that time. He stole money from the Temple treasury in order to complete these projects. The Jews resented this. Because of this, those who worked on these construction projects were considered to be traitors who deserved such a death. But, these men are not greater sinners than anyone else.

Jesus may have been playing with words, because when Jerusalem fell, the walls fell on hundreds of Jews; and the walls of the Temple fell, killing all inside. But they perished because they refused to repent. Only one wall remained, which was the Wailing Wall of today.

The Doctrine of Repentance

1. The vocabulary:
 - a. Metanoéō (μετανοέω) [pronounced meh-tah-noh-EH-oh] is changing one's mind.
 - b. Metánoia (μετάνοια) [pronounced met-AHN-oy-ah], which means a change of mind. Context determines what this change of mind is about, although here it is not completely clear (we do not have all of John's quote). Now, given that this word means a change of mind, it shouldn't take a genius to figure out if it is a masculine, feminine, or neuter noun. It is rendered repentance in the Bible—the one which we hear the most often, which means to change one's mind (it is simply the combination of the words to change and mind). Strong's #3341.
 - c. Nacham is a Hebrew word that means a change of attitude.
2. When it comes to salvation, we all changed our minds at a point in time. Before being saved, we had an idea of who Jesus was; and many of these views were false. We changed our minds about Him. If Jesus was just a man who claimed to be Savior, then He could not have been a good man. At salvation, we accepted that Jesus died for us. His death was efficacious for our salvation. For all of us, there was one moment, a split second, where we change our minds.
3. In repentance, we accept the gospel of Jesus Christ as truth, not as a myth, a story of a good man, but as the truth.

¹ In those passages, it speaks of a sinner who repents. This does not mean that they are repenting of their sins.

4. Repentance is the theological concept. It is a doctrine that explains something very basic. It explains positive volition as a part of non-meritorious faith alone in Christ alone. When a person looks into the sky and wonders about God, that is an indication of an interest in God. They look up and think, 'Maybe I am not the most important thing in this universe.' Bobby speaking to a man who previously was an atheist. Because of things that occurred in his life, he prayed to a God he did not even believe existed. And, within a few days, he heard the gospel and he believed, and then got connected to Bobby's teaching.
5. Perception and understanding come first. Then comes a change or a decision. Before you make a decision, you must have some facts. You need the gospel. That is integral in your change of mind toward Jesus Christ. It does not take a lot of understanding to believe in Jesus Christ. Just the basics of His Person and work. Then we believe; and that is a moment of positive volition and the acceptance of Him as Savior.
6. The mechanics of repentance. The gospel is presented. Witnessing. The person hears, and the Holy Spirit makes this information truth, it is clear; it teaches this other person. The Holy Spirit acts as the person's human spirit. The Holy Spirit makes spiritual information real and understandable to that person. Then that person has to evaluate what he thinks about that information. Negative volition means that information goes nowhere. If he believes, that one moment means repentance. Does that give you salvation? Once again, the Holy Spirit acts to make this moment of salvation efficacious.
7. Bobby appears to have this also as point 6. Faith in Christ and repentance are two sides of the same coin. A change in mental attitude about the person and work of Jesus Christ equals repentance.
8. The end result is regeneration. Now we have doctrine; we are regenerated and we are a believer. At some point, you get with doctrine or you do not. God does desire our repentance. Not wishing for any to perish, but for all to come to repentance. Peter heard Jesus teach, repent or perish; and he remembered this. All to come to a change of mind.
9. Repentance is rational; it is a thought process; it is a response to information. We simply believe it or not. Just like going to a website or reading a news story, and sometimes we believe that information and sometimes we do not. There is no emotion required. Emotional repentance is not what Bobby likes at all.
10. Such emotion, regret is not included in the basic definition of metanoóō (μετανοόω). We all have an incredible spiritual life ahead of us. Do not waste your time being upset over the past. Emotion has nothing to do with the final product of repentance. You change your mind and then you may or may not feel good. Remember that you still must renovate your thinking. Emotion is worthless unless it is simply appreciation for what you have and where you are based upon the grace of God. Sorrow for past sin is not a qualification for past sins.
11. All that is necessary to repent is to recognize that we are all sinners and not to be sorry about it. We cannot reach God on our own; we need to recognize that. We cannot reach God apart from His grace.

12. Faith alone in Christ alone for salvation. Bobby trusts that everyone at Berachah will not perish because they have repented.
13. When witnessing, you only need to give gospel information. Bobby suggests not using the term repent. Do not use words that can confuse the issue. Give gospel information as per the person you are speaking to. You may have walked down an aisle, but did you believe in Jesus Christ?
14. A change of mind is God the Holy Spirit using the information provided to you. It is never about us, the hearer or the person giving the gospel. That is all a matter of God's grace. The Holy Spirit will encourage the unbeliever to change one's mind about Christ.

Lesson #0001

Special on Christ

12/23/2015 Wed

This might be a special tonite and New Year's Eve.

One of the great chapters about Jesus Christ is Heb. 1 and v. 5 addresses the heart of Christianity. The Lord was begotten of God through a woman. This is an event unparalleled in the history of the world. He is the central figure of the history of the world.

Every one of us has stood at the foot of the cross.

Heb. 1:5 For to which of the angels did God ever say, "You are my Son, today I have begotten you"? Or again, "I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son"?

The Son will represent us before the Father, before the Supreme Court of Heaven.

Jesus was a uniquely-born Son. No male took part in the conception. This has never happened before and it has never happened since.

John 1:1–3, 14 And the word was God; and the Word became flesh and lived among us.

This is the child Who was in the manger. His birth was not in the beginning. He was there at the creation of the world.

The Son was also the agent through Whom the world was created. He is the radiance of Him and the exact nature of God's being. Before there was anything, the Son always was eternal God, the 2nd Person of the Trinity. His birth had a supernatural characteristic. This unique-born Son was born of a virgin woman. He had a human beginning but also no beginning.

Millions have scoffed at the doctrine of the virgin birth. Alexander the Great entered the Temple Holy of Holies (it was still standing there at that time). He had heard of the God of Israel. He stood where God revealed Himself to Israel. All he saw was a bare room, and he was very disappointed. The significance of the birth of Christ is taught throughout the Bible.

Moses could not get past the 3rd chapter of Genesis without a reference to the coming Child, called there the Seed of the Woman.

Gen 3:15 I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and her offspring; he shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel."

Adam's seed is the nature of man; and the seed of the woman is opposed to this. So the woman's seed cannot be a part of human descent. A woman must conceive apart from a man in order to fulfill this verse. There cannot be the corrupted seed of Mary.

Isa 7:14 Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign. Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel.

This Son would be born and with eternal results.

Matt. 1:21–23 She will bear a son, and you shall call his name Jesus, for he will save his people from their sins." All this took place to fulfill what the Lord had spoken by the prophet: "Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and they shall call his name Immanuel" (which means, God with us).

The first 5 quotations in Matthew all go back to the birth of Jesus, as spoken of in the Old Testament. This is the fullness of time (= when the time was right).

Luke also teaches the historical fact of the virgin birth. Mark and John do not deal with the Lord's birth. The supernatural origin of Jesus is implied by Mark and it was clearly declared by John.

Of the 39 books, 35 of them make reference to the birth of the Messiah. Only the salvation work of the Lord Jesus Christ is found more often.

One question, is the virgin birth essential for salvation? Many view this as a myth or as a legend. Why should this be considered a test question. "Can't you be a Christian and skeptical of something which contradicts salvation."

Practically, if the virgin birth was false, then Jesus would be the result of a promiscuity woman's activity. Without the virgin birth, there is no salvation.

Some think that the Holy Spirit physically procreated with Mary, but that is ridiculous. It was a miracle. There was no male involved.

If the Lord was born naturally and had a father, Joseph or someone else, then He would have had a sin nature and God could not be present in him. Without the virgin birth, Christianity could not be true. That is how important Christmas is. Sinful man cannot bear the sins of other men. Jesus could not satisfy the righteousness of God apart from being separated out from mankind.

Without the virgin birth, Jesus cannot be the Mediator between God and man. This is as essential as the cross and as the resurrection.

What about the miraculous nature of this miracle? We must approach the subject based on faith, but not with blind faith.

Matthew introduces. The facts are laid before us. If we cannot accept these facts as true, then the miraculous nature of Christ and the inspiration of the Bible is false. The Holy Spirit used the body of a virgin of Jesus Christ to form Jesus Christ.

“Sacrifice and offering You have not desired, but a body, You have prepared for Me.” God prepared a body for the Lord.

We have no parallel in nature. This is outside the bounds of natural possibility. But with God, nothing is impossible.

What did Jesus think about Himself? Nowhere in the gospels did Jesus ever speak of His virgin birth or argue these facts.

In order to establish a fact, 2 or 3 must give testimony.

Jesus left the uniqueness of His virgin birth and let it up to God the Father. The humanity of Jesus Christ has seen God the Father? When was that? Was this a vision? No, He was with God and was God. We can logically assume His virgin birth; and the faith that we have is logical and no joy.

John 6:57 As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so whoever feeds on me, he also will live because of Me.

The result of faith in Him. He alone is salvation.

2 chapters later: “You are from below; I am from above.”

Jesus knew why He was there. He knew why He was born of a virgin. From the very beginning, the shadow of the cross was over Him.

His logic stirs up the faith in us.

Our world does not want to believe anything that is outside of nature. Nature did not create herself. God can do anything above and beyond nature.

Paul is the great writer of the New Testament. Did He believe in the virgin birth? Paul did not mention it directly.

Gal. 4:4–5 But when the fullness of time had come, God sent forth his Son, born of woman, born under the law, to redeem those who were under the law, so that we might receive adoption as sons.

Paul knew that, without this virgin birth.

Philip. 2:6–8 who, though he was in the form of God, did not count equality with God a thing to be grasped, but made himself nothing, taking the form of a servant, being born in the likeness of men. And being found in human form, he humbled himself by becoming obedient to the point of death, even death on a cross.

Jesus did not need to grasp for equality for God; He already had it. But He emptied Himself, taking the form of a bond-servant. He came to serve us. Salvation is His service to us.

What will Christianity do for me? What bearing will the virgin birth have on our lives?

We readily appreciate the practical nature of our Lord's atonement. We understood the rapture. What does this mean to us on a day to day basis.

"Behold a virgin will bear a child..." Religion makes gods out of man; but the gospel is, God became man.

The assurance that God is with us, every single day. This is our life.

He will be great and the Lord God will give Him the throne of His father David.

This world stands in desperate need for a ruler like Jesus Christ.

Today, in the city of David, there has been born to you a savior, Who is Christ the Lord." This is a fulfillment of the Old Testament prophecy.

What more practical notion can there be for our lives than the virgin birth?

Families often get together and read the Night before Christmas. Bill Purcell wrote this story, and he is from Las Vegas.

Lesson #0782

Luke 12: Life of Christ

12/27/2015 1Sunday

Going to cover the doctrine of Regret today. We look back on our lives and think, "I sure wish I had not done that; I sure made a mistake." Looking back is okay, as long as there is no guilt involved. Guilt is a sin. Some people do look back during New Year's. If there is a sin that really bothers you, you need to name that sin.

Luke 13:1–5 unless you repent, you will all likewise perish.

Jesus was warning the paragons of human virtue that their deeds were not enough. No salvation and no entry into the heavenly kingdom. Many believed that they would enter into God's kingdom because they were racial Jews. They could not believe the idea of an eternal separation.

About 40 years into the future, there would be the destruction of Jerusalem. There would no longer be a homeland for these Jews.

Repent is metanoéō (μετανοέω) [pronounced meh-tah-noh-EH-oh], which means to change one's thinking, to change one's mind. Strong's #3340. This requires analyzing, but it is an easy entry into the Kingdom of God.

Seriously thinking and analyzing of the past so as not to make mistakes in the future, but conjuring up guilt and the like, is unhelpful.

Once a long time ago you painted a room in your house white and you wish that you had painted it green. You realize that green would be a better color scheme. It fits your taste and your desire. And so you want that color. It is a simple decision to get to the next step. You go out and buy and paint and then you go paint. When the painting starts, the man steps in to paint. During this entirely process, you may have gotten upset, emotional, maybe even remorseful. Why didn't you start with the green paint? But that is the past; and you cannot change that. You can change things now. The green paint will cover the white paint. So, you have repented. You have changed your mind about that color. Once you repaint and see how it looks, you like it. You get a warm fuzzy feeling about being in the room. That is repentance. The repainting was a rational decision that you made is based upon the mistake of the white paint.

Just change your mind about the gospel. Do not feel guilt about your past sins in order to make God forgive you. We are already forgiven. Jesus painted over the white, as it were, and we have already been forgiven in that matter.

One guy came into Berachah Church with a hangover, heard the message, believed in Jesus Christ, and still felt pretty bad, but left saved.

The change of mind has nothing to do with how you feel then or how you feel later. The key is, what do you think about Jesus Christ? Before, He was just some good man in a religion, but now He is our Savior. His thinking will become out thinking; we model His spiritual life. You make an objective decision because you accepted that work. It makes no difference how you feel. It is not about how you feel or upon how you act. Do not try to add your emotional baggage to acceptance of Jesus Christ. You may be confused about the feeling part. I believed in Christ, but I did not feel it. They believe no emotion means that you are not saved.

We have God repented, which is a whole new kettle of fish. How does an immutable God repent? The scripture does tell us that He changes His mind. Ex. 32:12 Gen. 6:6. How can that be? Isn't it contradictory?

1Sam. 15:35 And Samuel did not see Saul again until the day of his death, but Samuel grieved over Saul. And the LORD regretted that he had made Saul king over Israel.

Saul had gone into complete reversionism, and God regretted/repented that He had made Saul king over Israel.

God and Repentance

1. Regret, when it refers to God, is anthropopathic terminology.
2. This is language of accommodation, which reflects a change in the situation; not a change in God, however.
3. We know that God knows all things. He is omniscience. He has always known all things. This is from eternity past. God allows for free will in man. The sovereign plan of God and the free will of man coexist in human history.
4. God allowed Saul the course that he would take. God did not predetermine that Saul would make some bad decisions. God knew that Saul would utterly fail as king. Nevertheless, God used Saul in his early years. Saul was a great king in his early years. He was an effective leader against the Ammonites and the Amalekites and the Philistines. He was a good leader. He inspired the 12 tribes to new courage and pride in their nation.
5. But Saul would also fail to follow the guidance and the mandates which God had laid out. Therefore, since he was the leader of God's client nation, he would have to be removed, so that God's immutable plan could continue.
6. God's plan has never changed throughout history, never. God has never had to back up and start over again. Whoops, let's try something new. That is what we do, but God does not do that.
7. God does not change His mind and adopt some other plan other than what He had originally conceived in eternity past. This is a place outside of time. God knew about us forever. He did not have to formulate a decree. God always knew what would happen. Things pop into our heads, but nothing pops into God's head.
8. God made allowances for failure of individuals in His plan. Which one of us has not failed in the plan of God? His plan marches on despite the failures of men. God allows us to make bad decisions and He factors that into His plan. He always knew where Saul would end up.
9. Saul had to be removed, but there was another reason besides his failure. Saul demanded a king. Saul was stately, strong, tall. He looked the part. God allowed Saul to be king. He was from the tribe of Benjamin, but not from the tribe of Judah. The permanent royal line would be from the tribe of Judah, as per Gen. 49. There was no doubt as to what God's choice would be. God did not want Saul to fail, but Saul did fail and David became king. Messiah was in David's line. Jesus Christ knows all of this because He is the Messiah. This is in His mind from eternity past. God's plan marches on, despite failure by many people or by any nation.

10. God in this verse indicates a new policy, but not a new plan. This is so that Israel could understand that God was unhappy with them violating His will.
11. God never says, "Oops, I did not see that coming." Nor does God get emotional and angry at us failures. There was a lot to play out in His plan. So God did not change His mind.
12. For God is not a man Who changes His mind. God in the verb repentance simply indicates that He has expectations. He wants the best for us. That is God's regret.
13. Saul was the one who changed. Saul disobeyed the Lord's instructions. God wants the best for all of us. God does not like it when He cannot give His highest and best to us.
14. Thus Israel understands the price of disobedience to God's plan. They saw the grace of God in giving them the greatest king in the history of Israel.
15. Repentance is the policy of God expressed in human terms so that we can understand Him.

1Sam. 15:35 And Samuel did not see Saul again until the day of his death, but Samuel grieved over Saul. And the LORD regretted that he had made Saul king over Israel.

Let's pray that God does not change His policy toward the United States.

Jer. 15:6 You have rejected me, declares the LORD; you keep going backward, so I have stretched out my hand against you and destroyed you-- I am weary of relenting.

Lesson #0783

Luke 12: Life of Christ

12/27/2015 2Sunday

Military communion Thursday; no class Wednesday.

Jesus uses a parable to explain why this generation of Jews were so worthy of punishment. It will highlight God's grace as well. Grace before judgment and after judgment.

Parable of the fig tree and we will go to Micah:

Micah 7:1 Woe is me! For I have become as when the summer fruit has been gathered, as when the grapes have been gleaned: there is no cluster to eat, no first-ripe fig that my soul desires.

The problem is with Israel. So much bloodshed.

Micah 7:2 The godly has perished from the earth, and there is no one upright among mankind; they all lie in wait for blood, and each hunts the other with a net.

There is so much financial corruption occurring, where someone looks to steal money from someone else. Israel's status before judgment. Micah is providing an image of being a fig harvester when there are no figs to harvest. The harvester is looking at nothing of value in his vineyard. Micah looks out at a barren Israel. No integrity; no divine establishment. No divine good is being done. Everyone is out to destroy someone else.

This is what the nation is like when Jesus came to this earth. The corrupt religious Jews. There is a lot of this going on in our nation today.

Micah 7:3 Their hands are on what is evil, to do it well; the prince and the judge ask for a bribe, and the great man utters the evil desire of his soul; thus they weave it together.

Micah 7:4 The best of them is like a brier, the most upright of them a thorn hedge. The day of your watchmen, of your punishment, has come; now their confusion is at hand.

Micah 7:5 Put no trust in a neighbor; have no confidence in a friend; guard the doors of your mouth from her who lies in your arms;

Micah 7:6 for the son treats the father with contempt, the daughter rises up against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house.

The parable of the man coming to his vineyard and there is no fruit on his fig trees.

Luke 13:6 And he told this parable: "A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it and found none.

The figless fruit tree only occupies space. Another good tree could be there to produce figs. The owner has no other approach than to cut these trees down. Every client nation in history must produce a certain kind of fruit. A client nation begins with a group of maturing believers. It was a great client nation. There were others in the past. Every other client nation in the past has gone the way of Israel.

If we go down, what is the next client nation? No idea. We look a lot like the fig tree.

Luke 13:7 And he said to the vinedresser, 'Look, for three years now I have come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and I find none. Cut it down. Why should it use up the ground?'

There is no fruit on this fig tree for 3 years. That is patience. Let's see if it will produce anything. But after 3 years, it is time to cut it down. Get rid of this tree. Israel is the tree to be chopped down. The nation had not responded positively to the Lord Jesus Christ. The preponderance of Israel from the religious class on down have rejected Him as Messiah. They have to remove Him.

After thousands of years of history, suddenly the Messiah is here. These men were seminarians. These men were teachers. They constantly explored the Scriptures. But they had a religious structure and they fit the Scriptures to their religious structure and not the other way around. That is the blindness of religion. They were camping on their own self-righteousness. They were betting on their own good works. They were working their way into the kingdom. That is the thinking of millions or billions of people. When a nation rejects grace, there is nothing left to do but chop it down.

Great Britain and Germany were both client nations, but no more.

Luke 13:8 And he answered him, 'Sir, let it alone this year also, until I dig around it and put on manure.

Let me work on this tree; let me give it some nourishment; some food. A request for a stay of execution. Now, another year. Just give us one more year.

The Analogy

1. God was the owner of the vineyard called Israel. He said, "Cut it down; get rid of it."
2. But this is a request for the longsuffering patience of God towards Israel to allow them just a little longer to respond.
3. Israel was God's client nation. There was no other client nation. They were God's chosen people, and God was saying, "Chop them down." The Chaldeans chopped down the northern kingdom in 586 B.C. God loved this people because of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. That is how the client nation began. Great men of faith. He loved them because of Moses, David and the prophets. These are His people. However, God's plan would march on.
4. His verdict was, they are fruitless and must be removed. They were not bearing fruit for the owner of the vineyard. God made Abraham a new spiritual species and there was an intended purpose. Throughout their history, they failed to meet this purpose.
5. The entire nation was fruitless; they were negative to the plan of God. They were unable to point out the Messiah to the people.
6. God's policy towards such apostasy was about to be exercised.
7. Who is the vineyard keeper? God is the owner? Who is the one requesting more time? That is the Lord Jesus Christ in the 1st advent. He is saying, "Give Me a little more time." God and the Lord Jesus Christ knew what Israel would do. This is an example for all of us. An example of God's grace and His mercy toward us as a client nation. He has given us a little more time.
8. But even after so much rejection, years of rejection, 3 years of having His Messiahship thrown back into His face. His life is in danger. He has been thrown out of every town from Galilee to Judah. He asked for a period of time during which they could repent.
9. Give them another year. There is about a year left in our Lord's ministry at this point in time. It fits.
10. If they would repent, then they could bear the intended fruit of a client nation. God had given Israel consideration throughout the centuries. When God puts a nation in a client status, He expects results.
11. Israel's time was running out. In those centuries and the 3 years of our Lord's ministry. God's long suffering, and no figs had been grown. Nothing like the expectation of God, and not meeting it at all.

12. At this point, Israel was wasting space for more productive trees. This would be a new dispensation. Israel would be set aside. It takes 3 years for a fig tree to mature. A tree might produce figs during this time, but it produces a maximum number of figs in year 4. If no fruit was produced, Israel would be removed. No improvement over the next year. They crucified the Lord of Glory.

Throughout its history, Israel was involved with Baal worship.

A.D. 70 Titus marched into Jerusalem and destroyed the people and the Temple, leaving up one wall, the Wailing Wall. Israel was scattered into all the gentile nations, which is still true today.

Israel today is not a client nation. Its population as a whole will not accept Jesus Christ as their God. It is a great and free nation; but it still is a false religious state. The Jews remain God's promised people.

The judgment of A.D. 70 does not mark the end of nation Israel. God's promises are immutable. These promises do not transfer over to the church today. God does not change, no matter what happens in our country in the future. The Jews remain God's people. They will receive the promised kingdom in the Millennium. The church will be in heaven. Then the 7 years of Tribulation. The culmination of the Age of Israel, that was cut off on the day of Pentecost.

Everyone that goes into that kingdom will enjoy the Millennium. They will all be included in God's new kingdom. They will see Jesus Christ as their Messiah and King; finally.

God will produce fruit for His glory through the church. God said this in Matt. 16:18 and elsewhere as well. A new dispensation when God would raise up the church. He would do it through the very disciples to whom He was speaking, ironically enough.

God began the church with them and we are still in that age.

Luke 13:9 Then if it should bear fruit next year, well and good; but if not, you can cut it down."

Jesus just smacked the religious types in the face by healing a woman in the synagogue on the Sabbath, using this as a platform. This will be the final time that Jesus is in a synagogue. 18 years like this. The religious Jews got mad that He did it.

He faces off with one of the worst batch of hypocrites in the synagogue.

Luke 13:10 Now he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath.

Lesson #none

Luke 12: Life of Christ

12/30/2015 Wed

No class tonite.

New Year's Eve service; possibly a special class.

Military Communion December 31, 2015: The trial was the most unjust in history because Jesus was the most innocent man in human history. He was the only perfect man who has ever lived.

Many had been healed and could have come forward.

Jesus said, "I and the Father are One." This had to be true or false, the latter making Him a liar and nullifying all that He claimed to be. Millions would have placed their claims of redemption upon a liar. But there is no doubt that He was innocent and that His claims were true. He is God and humanity in One Person.

I could say, "I can forgive your sins; I can cleanse you; I can give you eternal life."

Two of the great systems of justice of that era condemned Him: Roman law and the Mosaic Law. Because the sins of the world were imputed to the spotless God, we know that our sins are forgiven. The justice of God was satisfied. Every believer receives the imputed righteousness of God at the moment of faith alone in Christ alone. Only God can forgive sins; only God can say, "The Father has sent Me to do His will." Only God could say, "Before Abraham, I existed eternally."

The Word of God became flesh and lived among us.

In the final trial, Pontius Pilate began to understand the sham of the trial over which he presided. He knew that Jesus was innocent of all charges; yet he did nothing. He did not act to exonerate the Lord. He succumbed to the fear of the people. He would have needed moral courage, and he did not have that. He did not want to be seen as opposing Cæsar, which would have been the way that his actions would have been portrayed.

The Lord was on the cross from 9 am to about 3 pm. He suffered spiritual death in the final 3 hours. The Father hid the face of His Son from all those there. During that dark hours, the sins of the world were placed upon God the Son. The pain was excruciating. The pain of separation from God the Father was great. He paid the penalty for every sin. He was forsaken by God, because the Father made Him Who knew no sin, sin on our behalf.

This was the substitutionary spiritual death of the Lord Jesus Christ on our behalf.

When the final sins had been paid for, Jesus said, Tetelestai." His salvation work was finished then and forever. There would be eternal results. Propitiation. The wrath of God was turned from us. He accomplished redemption and reconciliation. Purchase us from the slave market of sin; and He reconciled us to God.

Since Jesus was still alive after the work of salvation was completed, His physical death could not be the payment for sin. The spiritual death was the true payment for our sin. His physical death was important, because then He could be resurrected. Our faith would be misplaced in a god who is dead. But the Lord lives evermore to make intercession on our behalf. The King of Kings is our Redeemer. Not even by the vilest sinful act or evil that we might perpetrate in our lives, to lose the salvation He provided for us. We are His because of the Lord Jesus Christ.

This ritual is a test to see if we have enough doctrine to concentrate on the work and Person of the Lord Jesus Christ. There is really only one purpose; the purpose of remembering.

New Year's Eve is a time to look back at wonderful memories of people in the past and to look forward to resolutions of the new year; and reflections. For some, parties.

As believers we always look back to the past to the cross through communion. We recognize the unique assets provided for us at salvation. And we look forward with confidence to the fulfillment of God's plan in our lives.

Bobby might awaken us, but we ought not to be disturbed, and our spiritual destiny are in the hands of Jesus Christ. A client nation long ago, whose history parallels our own. Old Testament Israel. They experienced devastating discipline. What caused God to bring so much judgment on a nation dedicated to Him. We know the result of apostasy of a nation. Deut. 28 and Lev. 26 give us the cycles of discipline.

2Chron. 36:11 is stunning, which passages speaks of nation Israel, but it could be about us today.

2Ch 36:11 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem.

Zedekiah was a vassal king after two invasions. Most of the Jewish nobility were taken back to Babylon. Then in the next invasion, he took a 3 month ruler and some prophets. Do not cross Nebuchadnezzar.

Zedekiah was left with a vacuum of advisors. But he had the prophet Jeremiah. What else do you need? Zedekiah did not listen; he did not follow Jeremiah's guidance. He refused to humble himself.

2Ch 36:12 He did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God. He did not humble himself before Jeremiah the prophet, who spoke from the mouth of the LORD.

הִנָּח is the verb. Zedekiah refused to humble himself. He was the agent of his own demise. He made really bad decisions. He refused to recognize the authority of God, His guidance or His Word. He disregarded Jeremiah's guidance. At no point did he submit to the authority of God's Word through Jeremiah. He had the malady of so many leaders: power arrogance and self-absorption. Israel's decline as a result was unmistakable.

Cults may make the claim that God speaks to them; but it is not true. But this was true in those days. God's guidance came through Jeremiah. Bad leadership ignores and rejects all divine principles.

Zedekiah's decline also manifested in another way. He disregarded the prowess of the greatest king in the world at that time. He gave his word to Nebuchadnezzar but he did not submit himself to Nebuchadnezzar. Leadership who sees himself as the ultimate authority is a leadership destined to fail. The destruction of authority-orientation from the top to the bottom. Exaction what we see in this country today. Self-absorption and no authority-orientation.

Our leadership badly underestimates the enemies which we have today.

Zedekiah had taken an oath in the name of God to Nebuchadnezzar; but he stiffened his neck against Nebuchadnezzar. He rebelled against the greatest and most powerful king of that time. He invited violent retribution. Military and national disaster overcame Israel in 586 B.C. A hardened heart against turned to the Lord.

Many of the inhabitants of Jerusalem were massacred in 586 B.C. Where leadership is arrogant and mocks God and divine establishment, the entire populace suffers. We are beginning to suffer that sort of violence and fear. Terrorism is our great fear at this moment.

We have an election coming this year. The real issue is not the economy or the foreign policy. It is the arrogance of our leaders in Washington. This arrogance has them out of control. They promote destructive policies and ideas. They are the biggest hypocrites. They are adept at telling the greatest lies. Leadership leads to arrogance. Unlawful arrogance leads to a lawless nation. The unteachable arrogant leaders refuse to listen to good counsel; they refuse to learn from their mistakes; and they show contempt for any authority other than their own. It is impossible for them to serve the nation. They cannot do it. They won't do it. The arrogance of our government mirrors the arrogance of Zedekiah then. Our leadership is filled with Zedekiah's.

If you want to figure out who not to vote for, vote for the candidate who most lines up with divine establishment and lacks arrogance. Their regulations and their actions show differently.

Evil leadership persecutes Christians, mocks the Bible and mocks Jesus Christ. This indicates that a client nation is on the way out.

Corruption and criminality in high places. Economic declines. Freedoms lost. Perversion and immorality of all kinds. The destruction of families, presided over by self-serving power-mad leadership. National leadership that persecutes Christians. We are more than halfway there.

A second problem is the people themselves. They too have an arrogance and a corruption problem.

Hosea 4:1–6 Hear the word of the LORD, O children of Israel, for the LORD has a controversy with the inhabitants of the land. There is no faithfulness or steadfast love, and no knowledge of God in the land; there is swearing, lying, murder, stealing, and committing adultery; they break all bounds, and bloodshed follows bloodshed. Therefore the land mourns, and all who dwell in it languish, and also the beasts of the field and the birds of the heavens, and even the fish of the sea are taken away. Yet let no one contend, and let none accuse, for with you is my contention, O priest. You shall stumble by day; the prophet also shall stumble with you by night; and I will destroy your mother. My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge; because you have rejected knowledge, I reject you from being a priest to me. And since you have forgotten the law of your God, I also will forget your children.

2Chron. 36:13–16 He also rebelled against King Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him swear by God. He stiffened his neck and hardened his heart against turning to the LORD, the God of Israel. All the officers of the priests and the people likewise were exceedingly unfaithful, following all the abominations of the nations. And they polluted the house of the LORD that he had made holy in Jerusalem. The LORD, the God of their fathers, sent persistently to them by His messengers, because He had compassion on His people and on His dwelling place. But they kept mocking the messengers of God, despising His words and scoffing at His prophets, until the wrath of the LORD rose against His people, until there was no remedy.

God will not be mocked. The people continued to mock His messengers. The people suffered spiritual deterioration.

What it means to be unfaithful and mocking. They followed all the abominations of the nations. Israel took the false religion path of all the heathen nations that surrounded them. They bought into all these false religions. They were involved in all sorts of illegal acts. We too have idolatry in our land. Secular ideology and false religions.

Defiled means polluted, unclean; defiling the sacred Temple with unauthorized evil sacrifices. There was child sacrifice; sexual activity with temple prostitutes. The worship of Baal and Molech. We see these people involved in religion opposed to God. There are people in the United States embracing a variety of religions and hedonism. Even Christians mock Bible doctrine.

God kept sending messengers because He had compassion upon His people and on His Temple. Compassion; a great word. Compassion is the Qal perfect of the verb נָחַם. He does not want to judge His Own people. The greatest thing He could do is to send His Word to His people. Regardless of all that rejection, He keeps providing His Word. He has no less compassion for his client nation today, which is the United States; and we have every opportunity for teaching. The message is heard throughout; the choices are clear. Believers must stop marginalizing doctrine. God's warnings to Israel were severe and threatening.

Jeremiah called it.

Jer 5:21–23 "Hear this, O foolish and senseless people, who have eyes, but see not, who have ears, but hear not. Do you not fear me? declares the LORD. Do you not tremble before me? I placed the sand as the boundary for the sea, a perpetual barrier that it cannot pass; though the waves toss, they cannot prevail; though they roar, they cannot pass over it. But this people has a stubborn and rebellious heart; they have turned aside and gone away.

I have the wrong passage here. But it is applicable.

Jeremiah was charged with treason and thrown into prison.

Jer 21:5–6 I myself will fight against you with outstretched hand and strong arm, in anger and in fury and in great wrath. And I will strike down the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast. They shall die of a great pestilence.

No remedy means that they have gone too far for too long. Compassion yes; judgment inevitable. Have we reached the point of no remedy? Have we fallen so deeply into judgment? If over a period of time, there will be nothing left but discipline. We get warnings; but only for so long.

We are already experiencing some of the cycles of discipline; but we have not reached the final one of what Jeremiah and Zedekiah experienced.

2Chron. 36:17–18 Therefore he brought up against them the king of the Chaldeans, who killed their young men with the sword in the house of their sanctuary and had no compassion on young man or virgin, old man or aged. He gave them all into his hand. And all the vessels of the house of God, great and small, and the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king and of his princes, all these he brought to Babylon.

God allowed all of this.

2Chron. 36:19–22 And they burned the house of God and broke down the wall of Jerusalem and burned all its palaces with fire and destroyed all its precious vessels. He took into exile in Babylon those who had escaped from the sword, and they became servants to him and to his sons until the establishment of the kingdom of Persia, to fulfill the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah, until the land had enjoyed its Sabbaths. All the days that it lay desolate it kept Sabbath, to fulfill seventy years.

People were slaughtered by the thousands and the rest hauled away into slavery. God does not spare even a client nation which has become apostate and mocks His Word. To whom much is given, much is expected. Failure is not an option. Israel is our example.

This is a very grim picture; and the violence could be great. Or we could face loss within; severe persecution of Christians. But do not forget that God protects and honors those who remain in His Word and honor His Word in their spiritual advance.

God's benevolence continues in adversity or in prosperity, no matter what the circumstances are around you. Israel has a future and we do too. God cares for the Jews, even in judgment and in slavery.

2Chron. 36:22–23 Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, that the word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah might be fulfilled, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, so that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom and also put it in writing: "Thus says Cyrus king of Persia, 'The LORD, the God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and he has charged me to build him a house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah. Whoever is among you of all his people, may the LORD his God be with him. Let him go up.'"

Cyrus recognized that God gave him all of this. God never leaves His people without opportunity. Cyrus became the instrument of God's restoration. You never know where help and deliverance might come from. Who ever thought that king of Persia would deliver the Jews? These were the children and grandchildren who suffered Nebuchadnezzar's wrath. Under Ezra was a great spiritual reformation. They learned a lesson.

Most of the kings of Israel and Judah failed to obey the Lord. So God raised up a pagan king to restore Israel. If we escape our Lord's judgment, who knows who God might raise up? In the case of Cyrus, the Jews were returned to Jerusalem. This led us to the 1st advent of Jesus Christ. From cursing comes blessing. It sometimes take catastrophe to work out the Lord's purposes.

First comes chaos of soul, then comes chaos of the nation. People have become so involved in works righteousness and then to other false systems of thought. The church today is being laughed at and mocked.

We just remain in His plan, and God will handle all that we must face.

What about tomorrow? Bobby sees 2016 as a year of decision and a window on the character of the people of the United States. Will we choose leaders based upon their race or gender? Will we choose leaders based upon their positions on divine establishment? Will we return to the fundamentals of Bible doctrine? Our election might tell us. These are the doctrines by which we grow and mature. We have a national impact for Christ and we preserve our nation. Do not fall apart if your candidate does not win. God's plan for us will continue and it will not fail, no matter what we face. These times are a national crossroad. Pray that we take the path of recovery and not judgment.

We have everything that we need to weather every storm.

This is a stiff-necked people, a very stubborn people. This is who they are; and Jesus is being barred from teaching in many synagogues by the religious types all over Galilee and Jerusalem.

The Jews were rejecting their Messiah, even though He revealed Himself as the Word; He was the Word of God. The Jews continued ignoring Him. The Jews would face destruction in A.D. 70, despite the 586 B.C. diaspora. They were regathered in the land 70 years later; but the Jews today have not been regathered to the land. One day, there will be a true regathering of Israel, with far more than 6 million being gathered there.

There is a parallel with the direction of client nation USA today. New Year's Eve was a grim warning, just like the one that Jesus would give to the Jews in His message. The Lord is about to do this with His miracles, to warn and to encourage.

He is moving about in the villages of Perea. The warning is very simple. If the Jews turn toward their Messiah, they will be saved. If not, if they refuse to believe in Jesus Christ, the non-productive fig tree (Israel) will be chopped down. Luke 13:6–9.

But the Lord is not finished describing the problems of Israel.

This will be the last time Jesus teaches in a synagogue. He will perform a miracle that will violate pharisaical laws. This sent them into great anger.

This person claiming to be the Messiah was breaking the Law (in their eyes), even though Jesus removes a demonic spirit from this woman, which had afflicted her for 18 years.

It will be a showdown between grace versus legalism. The laws of the pharisees have superceded the Mosaic Law. Jesus will give a scathing condemnation of their legalistic practices. Jesus will show them what He is willing to do for them if they would change their minds and accept Him as their Messiah.

Luke 13:10 Now he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath.

These are the circumstances.

Luke 13:11 And there was a woman who had had a disabling spirit for eighteen years. She was bent over and could not fully straighten herself.

This woman faced a disabling spirit; so this was more than a physical ailment. What did it do to her? She was bent over double and could not straighten herself up. Now, suffering from arthritis does not mean someone is demon-possessed.

Luke 13:12 When Jesus saw her, He called her over and said to her, "Woman, you are freed from your disability."

Jesus first makes her free or proclaims her free.

Luke 13:13 And He laid His hands on her, and immediately she was made straight, and she glorified God.

Then Jesus placed His hand upon her, so that everyone could see the source of the miracle.

The miracle is only found in Luke. No one else talks about it. Luke was a physician by trade, and he had a natural interest in healing miracles. They fascinated him. Now he was seeing something that could not be explained or cured. So, this would be a normal interest for him.

Luke gives this careful accounting so that no one could refute what Jesus did. This was not just a sickness that would have gone away. The miraculous aspect was undeniable. Her praise of God's grace was completely justified. This sets up what the Lord will do by way of doctrine. He never makes any direct statement about Satan. A demon was the immediate cause, but the reason for the torture of the demon is not explained. This woman is well-known. All in the synagogue knew her; all her neighbors knew about her. The demon is mentioned once; but the focus is upon the woman's malady. The focus will be upon the healing done on the Sabbath.

All of this is just background for the Lord revealing the purpose for this healing. This healing must be directly attributed to God. Jesus accomplished the miracle acting in concert with divine authority. This is Who the Messiah is. This Man is the Glory Israel had been seeking. He is the Glory of Israel. He is the dwelling presence of Israel. He is the Shekinah Glory. Everything that had been prophesied was standing right before them.

They worshipped the Lord, and yet did not realize Who He is.

People sit in churches, which are supposed to be places of worship and learning. And people go there for so many other reasons. Maybe they go for emotional reasons or for business contacts or for social life. It is the same for these synagogues. Many of them never developed a relationship with God. They were so near, yet so far away. Tragic.

Jesus heals and it immediately takes effect. This woman goes immediately from being bent over to be straightened up. Perfect posture. Cannot believe how good it feels to look out over the world. This is a picture for everyone in that synagogue to see. Israel's crippled condition and their need to accept the Lord. This is so that they can accept the glory of God before them.

The woman is physically healed and she begins to glorify God. She glorifies God, the Lord Jesus Christ. Hers is a glorifying that ought to be the response of everyone in the synagogue and of everyone in the nation. Jesus will do the same for the entire nation, if they only accept Him.

Just as this woman was made free from her maladies, so the United States could be freed from her maladies as a result of our rejection of Him.

Churches today have become centers of apostasy, rather than a place to grow in grace. The leader of the synagogue will make a comment on this whole scene. You would think he would say, "Wow, this is incredible! Jesus must be the Messiah. No one else could heal in this way."

Luke 13:14 But the ruler of the synagogue, indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath, said to the people, "There are six days in which work ought to be done. Come on those days and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day."

This rabbi will refute the miracle of Jesus by quoting the Sabbath. "There are 6 days during which you can be healed, so come on those days for healings." How dare this man violate the Law in his synagogue. He could only see the letter of the law; he missed the entire point. The whole scene confused him.

However, the synagogue did not meet every day of the week; they met on Saturday. How do you tell the woman, "Come back on another day to be healed. This is the wrong day for it." This is legalism. This is how blind they are. This is how arrogant they are.

Lesson #0785

Luke 13: Life of Christ

1/3/2016 2Sunday

The leader of the synagogue was apoplectic about what happened. "You could have done this on any other day of the week and this would have been okay. But you did this on the Sabbath." The people there had been brainwashed by the Sabbath-day regulations. By doing this miracle, Jesus violated this miracle on this day of rest. Why stir up a hornet's nest, which is what happened. Conventional wisdom would be, let's all just get along. How about some bipartisanship, how about live and let live here? Why make an issue of theology, which is the unpinning of all liberal approaches. On the surface, this sounds pretty good, logical and peaceful. This is not and cannot be true. How can there be something like bipartisan agreement when to do so would require compromise of principles? This would require compromising one's integrity for expediency. This is wrong, immoral and destructive. Tolerance and bipartisanship should never exceed the integrity. This should never require compromising of Bible doctrine. As believers, we can never compromise Christianity. How about this? All religions are pathways to God. Every religion but Biblical Christianity relies upon works for salvation. Jesus taught grace versus legalism.

Luke 13:14 But the ruler of the synagogue, indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath, said to the people, "There are six days in which work ought to be done. Come on those days and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day."

Might want to explore the question, why did Jesus so often, do miracles on the Sabbath?

We cannot compromise our doctrine in order to get along with other religions. This is not a call to go to war against other people. We cannot compromise the doctrine. Theology is a real issue. You cannot afford to chip away a little against truth. If you chip away a little bit, and before long, you are off further and further from the truth. A bit of time and what happens is a chipping away of the truth, and they lose completely grace in the process.

This is what Jesus was doing was setting boundaries between grace and legalism. He was laying a clear line of demarcation. Why didn't Jesus perform this miracle on another day? Everyone would be happy, right? Compromise never pleases everyone. Particularly when you have to compromise your principles. The religious types will still resent you, with whatever compromise you offer up.

Legalism versus grace requires healing on the Sabbath. So Jesus goes directly after the religious types who opposed believing in Him.

Religious Legalism and Jesus' Miracle

1. Religious legalism has so blinded the religious leaders that the work of the Messiah Himself on whatever day was banned. This did not occur only on the Sabbath. They did not want Him doing anything.
2. His divine power threatened their religious authority. True Bible doctrine threatens the religious authority of the kinds of leaders that we find even today; it cuts them to the knees.
3. The Sabbath has taken on such legalistic proportions to the point where even the Messiah Himself was banned from performing a miracle. "You cannot do this on Your day," is what is being said.
4. The Sabbath is dedicated to the grace of God; why is this not a day to work? This is to thank God for His grace. Now the person of the Messiah is the epitome of the grace of God. The miracle is a grace gift to this woman; and at every point, grace is stifled by this religious leader. This is a perfect example of what religion does.
5. The miracle represents God's grace. He was told, "You can't do that. You can't bring grace into this synagogue."
6. Human regulations have become more important than God's grace.
7. Application: silly government regulations have become more important than freedom. Legalism always obscures the grace of God. That is its purpose. Liberal churches cannot touch the grace of God. They would have to re-teach everything. It threatens them. So they do not touch it.

The pharisaical regulations to keep people from going anything on the Sabbath in order to please God. I am going this so that God will approve of me. Please God on human terms is impossible. This is what religion tries to do. Islam tries to perform all of these works acceptable to their god. Or you must worship your ancestors. All those Christian cults that require various works for salvation. The Jews of Jesus' day require strict Sabbath keeping.

The Sabbath Is All about Revealing Grace

1. Ironically, the Sabbath law was meant as a picture of man's inability to work for salvation. It is a picture of grace.

2. In other words, man's inability to provide salvation for himself. Yet, so much of the world believes that they can supply their own salvation.
3. Salvation is the realm of God's grace alone. By grace are you saved through faith. Salvation is not of yourselves; it is a gift of God, not of works, lest any man should boast. We have comparative goodness in our society. "God likes me better than He likes you because I am a better person." God is pleased with His grace. He is not pleased with our works.

Believers are easily led into this legalistic camp. They see their works as being proof of their salvation. Rather than God's provisions, they do great things for God. People think they are doing things for God that they do not realize that God is providing the opportunity. These religious types were not pleasing to God. They were abhorrent to Him.

Jesus knew the right thing to say.

Luke 13:15 Then the Lord answered him, "You hypocrites! Does not each of you on the Sabbath untie his ox or his donkey from the manger and lead it away to water it?"

Don't you water your animals on the Sabbath? Yes, they did this.

Luke 13:16 And ought not this woman, a daughter of Abraham whom Satan bound for eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?"

This woman has been bound by Satan for 18 years; should she not be released on the Sabbath? Is she not worth more than your animals? How can you approve watering your animals yet not accept what I have done for this woman?

Their rabbinical laws allowed for such things to be done on the Sabbath. Their animals were valuable; they could not be left without water. So the legalists allowed for this. This was a matter of money; this was a matter of dealing with one's assets. What about this woman? Isn't she valuable? Jesus was dealing here with a human being and not with an animal. This woman who believed in Jesus Christ and was healed became the picture to the crowd of grace versus legalism. The freedom of God versus oppression of man. How can such a thing not be allowed on the Sabbath? This is a blessing. The grace of God is never oppressive. If something is oppressive, then it is not of the grace of God.

In fact, would not releasing this woman from her oppression than on the Sabbath? What better day for it? It is not about the legalism for not working. It is about the work of Jesus Christ for the salvation of this woman. Logistical grace and dying grace and the eternal aspect of grace.

So what can these legalists counter His arguments with? They do not believe Him. They are against Him. They may view their donkeys as more valuable, but they cannot say that. So the pharisees are trapped here in their own hypocrisy. In these few words, Jesus Christ refuted and crushed their legalistic interpretation of the Sabbath law. Jesus tore the mask of hypocrisy. The people saw this and loved it. People willing to accept Jesus Christ as Savior see grace as a grace breath of fresh air.

Luke 13:17 As He said these things, all His adversaries were put to shame, and all the people rejoiced at all the glorious things that were done by Him.

Grace bring freedom. Jesus embarrassed these legalists and the people loved it. They were able to recognize His grace.

Next is the parable of the mustard seed, which we have already studied in Mark 4 Matthew.

We will move on past that. We will move into v. 22ff.

Lesson #0786

Luke 13:22– Life of Christ

1/6/2016 Wed

Bobby read a poem on Christmas and said the wrong person wrote it.

Jesus had healed a woman on the Sabbath who had been bent over for 18 years, making a synagogue head apoplectic. During this time, Jesus is moving through Perea and Luke gives the details here; he writes the travel itinerary.

Luke 13:22 He went on his way through towns and villages, teaching and journeying toward Jerusalem.

There are probably many stories here which are not told.

Luke 13:23 And someone said to him, "Lord, will those who are saved be few?" And he said to them,

This is a great question. It is apparent that not many are being saved. His disciples are quite disappointed about this. He was being rejected and the opposition of increasing as He moved toward Jerusalem. Jesus' life was now even being threatened.

There is a disconnect between what the Jews believed and what Jesus was said. Salvation to the Jews was simply entering into the kingdom. To them, just the entrance was salvation and this was based upon keeping the Law, doing works, and being Jewish. They figured being sons of Abraham was good enough.

When Messiah's kingdom comes, who will enter the kingdom? The disconnect between the Jews and the message of Christ. Many believed that Jesus is the Messiah.

When they saw this lack of acceptance, they saw the animosity, they wondered, "Who is going to enter into this kingdom, exactly?"

This man apparently understood that there was a difference between what the pharisees were teaching and what Jesus was teaching. This is the type of question which ought to be on our minds from time to time. There are so many people who think that being good gets them into heaven. Good and good deeds get people into heaven. Could they have ever believed before? They know Jesus' name. It is hard to miss grace if you know anything about Him. Did they just miss it or did they express faith or did they add works to that faith?

Certainly, we all wonder, how many people have expressed faith alone in Christ alone? Where is the line? Did a moment of faith preclude the idea that we need words for salvation? Will there just be a few because of grace and works? Do we belong to such an exclusive small club.

Luke 13:23 And someone said to him, "Lord, will those who are saved be few?" And he said to them,

Strive is ἀγωνίζομαι which means to strive, to struggle. It sounds like you have to push your way in; fight your way in. This struggle is your thinking. Jesus is telling them, do not fall into the trap of the thinking of the Jews when it comes to entering into the kingdom.

The Narrow Door

1. Jesus is saying, few will enter in through the narrow door.
2. This is an image. There is no real door. People are not shoving their way into the kingdom, and there is a door to go through. This precludes a mass entrance. This represents the way into the kingdom. Being narrow means not everyone will get through.
3. This narrow way is the way of salvation. How are you saved? The narrow door.
4. It is not narrow because it is hard for people to squeeze through. We don't have to lose weight to get through it.
5. It is narrow because it represents the only way to get into the Kingdom of God.
6. This narrow gate; this narrow entrance is Jesus Christ Himself.
7. The means of entry is the message of faith in Christ.
8. The answer to this man's question was, few were being saved in that generation. When the Lord Jesus Christ was present.

This was not happening; so this is why He uses this illustration.

What about this line between grace and works. Let's say you are worried about someone. There are those who profess to be Christians. If they only depend upon their works, then they do not fit the Biblical definition of a Christian. A single second of faith alone in Christ alone is enough. Whatever happens after this is wholly something else.

Luke 13:24 "Strive to enter through the narrow door. For many, I tell you, will seek to enter and will not be able.

John 14:5 Thomas said to him, "Lord, we do not know where you are going. How can we know the way?"

John 14:6–7 Jesus said to him, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. If you had known me, you would have known my Father also. From now on you do know him and have seen him."

This verse is the narrow door. Some people who claim to be Christians will get there sometimes; they will believe at some point. Thomas was doubting when he saw the nail prints in the Lord's hands. Then he got it.

Once the door is closed, there is no more entry. There are many who reject; and there are the few who believe. People so often who miss the narrow gate cannot see past their own goodness. They cannot see past their own righteousness.

Some people do believe and then never understand the Christian life after. Few are advancing. Once the Lord shuts this door, there is no more entrance.

When the salvation door slams, it stays slammed. Like a prison door. A great prison ministry at Berachah Church. They say there is no sound like the slamming shut of the prison doors.

Once the master of the house gets up and shuts the door for good, and you are outside knocking on the door. He answers, "I don't know where you are from."

Luke 13:25 When once the master of the house has risen and shut the door, and you begin to stand outside and to knock at the door, saying, 'Lord, open to us,' then he will answer you, 'I do not know where you come from.'

The Slamming of the Door

1. The man behind the door is the Lord Jesus Christ. It is imagery.
2. At a future time, Jesus will stand up and slam the door shut. When is that time?
3. The shutting of the door in general pictures His return at the 2nd advent.
4. At that time, when the door is shut, the rejecters of Him will seek entry. They will stand outside and pound on the door in desperation. This is both Israel that does not believe or unbelievers who have rejected the Lord.
5. Time is up; kingdom is closed.
6. It will only be populated by those who have already entered through the narrow door. That was the door slammed at His return.
7. There is only the forbidding voice from behind the doors.

Those outside are foreigners to the kingdom. He is denying immigration to the unbelievers; the borders are closed. Believers are an exclusive club with entry guarantee by means of faith alone in Christ alone. This instruction is still critical today. People have to seize the opportunity for salvation now and not later. The hour is later than you think. You have all of your life to enter in through the narrow gate. This is why the gospel for others is so important.

Jesus is not just answering a question, but He is revealing the importance of entering into the narrow gate.

Now we get a glimpse into the last judgment.

Luke 13:26 Then you will begin to say, 'We ate and drank in Your presence, and You taught in our streets.'

They claim to know Him, which could even be like pharisees.

Luke 13:27 But he will say, 'I tell you, I do not know where you come from. Depart from Me, all you workers of evil!'

The worst 3 words, Depart from Me. These are people who had contact with Jesus Christ, but they did not place their faith in Him. These are those who did not enter into through the narrow gate. People speak the Lord's name all the time; He is one of their icons; or they go through various rituals.

Some think that being a member of this or that church gives them salvation. They do not know Him, not really.

It is incumbent upon us to tell others how to enter into the kingdom. At best, some of them called Him Rabbi. Much of the time, they were His adversaries; and Jesus will refuse them admission. At the closing of this door, it is time for them to take responsibility for their actions. They are making excuses outside this door.

The teenager with the influenza excuse and killed 4 people. He did not know right from wrong because he was brought up by permissive, affluent parents. This gave him a privileged attitude. Not willing to take responsibility for what he did. This is a bogus defense.

All unbelievers will be without excuse. The door closes on them. For since the creation of the world, His invisible attributes are clearly seen by that which He has made.

Jesus has power over death; He demonstrated it. "Depart from Me, all you workers of evil."

Rejecting Jesus Christ is the definition of a true evil-doer.

Luke 13:28 In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God but you yourselves cast out.

This is the place where He has closed the door. Abraham, Isaac and Jacob will be in the kingdom, but you yourselves will be thrown out.

Luke 13:24 "Strive to enter through the narrow door. For many, I tell you, will seek to enter and will not be able.

Going through the door is the narrow door, which is faith in Christ.

Summation So Far

1. Many Jews in Christ's time, beginning with the pharisees, including many who followed them, they denied the simple plan of salvation, of entrance into the kingdom. They could not get it.
2. They could not accept entrance into the kingdom by grace through faith. This is a kingdom initiated by God.
3. In their legalism, they believed that God required several things from them. He required good works; He required good works; He required law-keeping; He required them to be Jews.
4. It is hard for those to whom Jesus presents the narrow door, to get over these preconceptions. These are things they have learned from their youth up. They must strive to change their thinking from legalism to grace.
5. They must accept Him in order to enter into the kingdom through the narrow door.
6. Many will seek to enter and they will not be able. They will strive, but they cannot overcome the legalism in their souls. This is something that people must overcome today. They believe that works are required in order to get there.

It is not hard to enter; you do not have to get on your hands and knees in order to enter. Then the Lord moves on and tells them that there is a time limit during which they can enter. Once the head of the house gets up, and they begin to bang on the door. The head of the house is Christ the King.

Luke 13:26 Then you will begin to say, 'We ate and drank in Your presence, and You taught in our streets.'

Luke 13:27 But he will say, 'I tell you, I do not know where you come from. Depart from Me, all you workers of evil!'

Luke 13:28 In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God but you yourselves cast out.

Jesus is still speaking to Jews and about the Jewish kingdom. However, today, we are in the Church Age, where the administration of the household is different. There will be the Tribulation and those will be horrible years. Those who survive the Tribulation will enter the kingdom. At the same time, the narrow door is closed to unbelievers. They fail to believe in Jesus Christ as Savior. They fail to get past their religiosity. They are on the outside looking in. They desperately are on the outside of the kingdom wanting to get in.

Evil-doers can be very nice people. The Jews could be very nice and they could be quite charitable. It was human good; but they were in to all these good deeds; yet Jesus said, “Depart from Me, you evil-doers.” They lacked the righteousness of God. They are nothing but evil-doers with sin natures that cannot be curbed. There is no excuse for them for not entering through the narrow gate.

Upon hearing this rejection, there will be a departure that takes them a long ways from where they want to be.

Luke 13:28 In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God but you yourselves cast out.

Gnashing of teeth is a great image; just grinding their teeth with frustration and anger and emotion. Now they are repenting; they are responding with all kinds of regret and sorrow at rejecting Jesus Christ. Now they know Who He is.

Bobby wonders about their anger and the gnashing of teeth. At whom are they angry? Probably at the Lord Jesus Christ, because they refuse to take responsibility for their decisions. We live in an age where taking responsibility for one's self is almost unknown. Every decision that you make, you are responsible for. You will have a tendency to blame others for your bad decisions. There is weeping, there is sorrow, and there is gnashing of teeth. No one is unfairly condemned; all condemnations are fair. The Jews of this generation had more chances than anyone else. They were able to see Jesus Christ in the flesh and hear His words in their own ears in the original languages.

Teeth-gnashing and weeping; and these Jews saw themselves as so righteous. They were puffed up so that they expect God will place them there at the first with the patriarchs.

Bobby is going to give us an unpleasant illustration. There you are looking at someone you thought was the worst person on earth. You are an unbeliever; and they are there. Family members and friends of yours are looking at you, and they are not there with you. They are on the wrong side of the wall.

The patriarchs and the prophets have believed in Christ and they have walked through that narrow door.

Bobby often thinks about Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and how they understood the Lord Jesus Christ. What did the Old Testament do? They have a real problem of thinking about Old Testament saints and how they were saved. They knew Jesus Christ, but not His 1st advent name. Some knew Immanuel, which means God with us. The prophets taught this; it was painfully clear. They knew and believed in the same Savior. They saw the Savior and what it meant for Him to die. How many lambs were slaughtered in the Temple depicting the Lamb of God. It was presented in many prophecies and by many other illustrations in the Old Testament.

The pharisees knew they were Jews and they were righteous; and they figured this is what they needed. But Abraham, instead, believed, and received the righteousness of God. Gen. 15:6 is that narrow door. Rom. 4:3 repeats this.

The Old Testament Salvation

1. Abraham, Isaac and Jacob entered into the narrow gate.
2. They all received the imputed righteousness of the Lord through imputation, just as we are.
3. Even though many of the ancient prophets were long dead, they had received God's righteousness during their lifetimes. This made them acceptable to God forever.
4. They would be resurrected at the end of the Tribulation along with the tribulational saints who survived. They will reside in the kingdom. The outsiders will see them and know who they are. The entire history of Israel will stand there, before the eyes of those on the outside.
5. On the other hand, the religious Jews depended upon their own righteousness for entry. The kingdom will not be populated by self-righteous people.

Have you heard, you're not sinning unless you hurt someone? Good nice people will populate hell. What if Hitler expressed faith in Christ one time? The principle still stands. What about the good nice people who you might think will be in heaven will be in hell (Gandhi). Similarly, there will be unexpected others in the kingdom. They may have seemed quite unworthy, but they will be there.

Luke 13:29 And people will come from east and west, and from north and south, and recline at table in the kingdom of God.

And know this:

Luke 13:30 And behold, some are last who will be first, and some are first who will be last."

These final two verses were real stunners to the religious audience of the Lord. "They are not Israel who are descended from Israel."

It Got Much Worse

1. The religious Jews assumed that only those of Israel would be in the kingdom.
2. Here Jesus informs them that gentiles will be involved. They did not like that.
3. They will not be left out of the kingdom while some Jews will be left out. It is still about the narrow door.
4. The gentiles who were last in the view of the Jews would be considered first in the kingdom. They themselves would be last; and the gentiles would be first.
5. These gentiles would be with the kingdom Messiah.
6. Jesus Christ is the Savior of all mankind; not just for Jews. They see gentiles go through that narrow door; no wonder they gnash their teeth.
7. The kingdom is for all those who enter through the narrow gate. The prophets frequently mentioned as much and Jesus Christ earlier made this fact clear. He taught Gentile inclusion. Gentiles will be there.

They will gnash their teeth for all eternity. At the time that the kingdom is instituted, they will watch gentiles enter into their kingdom. They will still hate the gentiles when the unbelieving Jews are on the outside. They see gentiles as being inferior. The Jews would be outcasts; the price of rejection of Jesus Christ. Those who were afraid because of so much rejection by their audience were encouraged by what Jesus said to them.

Theirs is a faith rest rationale. I will be there, no matter what others choose to do.

The Apostles taught this over and over again a decade or more after this. Peter, Paul and John will teach this in the future.

Lesson #0788

Luke 13:31–33 Life of Christ

1/10/2015 1Sunday

This will be our final time in Luke 13. This has been a series of warnings and judgments of the pharisees and of all the legalists who followed them. In vv. 1–9, Jesus warned the people to repent or to suffer the consequences. Then Jesus healed a woman on the Sabbath, and Jesus was charged with healing on the Sabbath Day. He would use this to expose the pharisees for the hypocrites that they were. They would take care of their own property on the Sabbath.

Salvation is not a matter of good works and not a matter of birth. They refused to enter in the narrow doorway. The pharisees were so angry, they were primed to kill they were ready to get rid of the pain in their rear. They kept their cool. Perfect look at the Cincinnati-Pittsburgh game of what happens when emotions get the best of someone (which lost one or the other the game).

You have to be crazy to hatch a plot against the Lord Jesus Christ. Some decided to give our Lord a travel itinerary. "Go away! For Herod wants to kill You." Nothing that they said about Jesus' welfare was ever genuine. This would have been Herod Antipas, the youngest son of Herod the Great.

This is Antipas the Fox, who would find Jesus innocent, but allow Him to remain in the judicial system. He would capture and imprison John the Baptizer and eventually kill him.

Luke 13:31 At that very hour some Pharisees came and said to him, "Get away from here, for Herod wants to kill you."

Why would the pharisees warn Jesus of this? They just wanted Him to leave Perea and enter into Judæa, which would put Him in the Sanhedrin's area. He would be in the jurisdiction of the Roman governor as well, Pontius Pilate, who was no friend of the Jews or of anyone who threatened Roman power. His life would be just as much in jeopardy in Judæa as He was in Perea.

Jesus read these men like a book, probably from His humanity. He knew what was in their hearts. It was not yet His time to go.

So Jesus tells them to tell the fox what He was doing, which was casting out demons and performing miracles. Now, these Jews did not hang out with Herod Antipas.

Luke 13:32 And he said to them, "Go and tell that fox, 'Behold, I cast out demons and perform cures today and tomorrow, and the third day I finish my course.

However, Jesus is going to Jerusalem; and He knows that He will be crucified there.

He saw the pharisees as co-conspirators with Herod. They have come to Him as if they want to save the Lord, but they actually want Him in Jerusalem to prosecute Him on religious grounds. They want to expose Him as a bogus Messiah, as there had been many false messiah's throughout the history of Israel.

They wanted to discredit the Lord Jesus Christ and all those related to Him. You can expect it. If you are a believer in Jesus Christ, you know that you will face opposition. You are under the same gun as the Lord is under. You can bank on opposition; but we also have all of His resources. We have our own mission in this world.

Herod Antipas had been wily and crafty in his dealings with John the Baptizer. He quietly beheaded John, justifying it on false grounds. He would also like to dispose of Jesus Christ as well. He knew that crowds followed the Lord Jesus Christ. He would want to dispose of the Lord quietly.

The Lord had no fear of Herod or of his plot. The real foxes were the pharisees, who would fight to see Him killed.

God's plan will run its course like it does for all of us.

The Answer of Jesus Christ

1. The Lord answers their scheme by saying He had a mission to perform (and so do we).
2. He had a timetable as set by the Father (as do we).
3. Our Lord followed that timetable throughout His ministry, never departing from God's plan even one inch. He could not be disobedient to God's plan even slightly. We must not depart from God's plan either. It is okay to have ideas; it is okay to want things in life—but all of it is a matter of priorities.
4. Christ would not be deterred by Herod or by the pharisees. We must never be stymied by opposition or by adversity. Don't let adversity get in your way of spiritual growth or of living the plan of God.

It was the Lord's plan to cast our demons and to cure individuals in Porea. His mission was incremental. He continued in the plan of God, one step at a time. We are often impatient; we want to read the last page of our own book. But we cannot. Do not worry about tomorrow and the next day and the next.

We oft times think and act as if our plan is better than God's. This is why we have rebound. We can plan ahead; this is certainly allowed. But, on a day to day basis, God's plan for our lives will be worked out. We are not promised a rose garden; we will face difficulties and problems. Jesus never had a day without opposition. Some people followed Him and some were there wanting Him dead.

God's grace never stops; Jesus Christ never for one instant stopped moving forward in the plan of God. What if you knew when your last day was, would you pull out your bucket list and start doing those. God already has a bucket list for us.

Interestingly enough, our Lord's goal was the same as that of the pharisee's: the cross. The cursing of man is a part of God's plan. There was an appointed time for Jesus to be in Jerusalem. Until that time, no one could touch Him. The same is true for us. As a believer in Jesus Christ, we have a mission, and nothing can touch us until it is God's plan for us to be removed from this life.

God's Plan for the Lord

1. Because the Lord's ministry to Porea must be completed, God guaranteed that nothing would happen to the Lord. Bobby will stand in the pulpit until it is God's plan for him to be removed.
2. The time of Christ's death was already determined by God; not by Herod and not by the pharisees, and not until He accomplished the will of the Father. All of this is true for us as well.
3. God's plan predetermined the time and place of His death. God's plan for R. B. Thieme, Jr. was 5 years past where his quality of life was good.
4. The fact of His death was prophesied in the Old Testament. The Messiah would die; Isa. 53–54 and it would be on a hill called Golgotha, the place of the skull. It makes Bobby cringe for Calvary to be mispronounced Cavalry.
5. Golgotha was outside the walls of Jerusalem. This would be as a sacrifice for the sins of the world. He would die for the sins of Herod and for the pharisees. No one knows exactly where this place is. It is not a place that we need to be; it is in our souls.
6. The pharisees are staring the grace of God in the face, trying to kill the Lord, while professing concern over His welfare. That is hypocrisy.
7. How blind is the Lord's arrogance; and how vicious when arrogance is crossed.

Jesus patiently walked to His destiny and to ours. With irony, Jesus tells them that their concern is unnecessary.

Luke 13:33 Nevertheless, I must go on my way today and tomorrow and the day following, for it cannot be that a prophet should perish away from Jerusalem.'

A prophet must die in Jerusalem.

Jesus essentially told them that He was going to go on His time and not on their time. Jesus knew that He would perish in Jerusalem.

Luke 13:33 Nevertheless, I must go on my way today and tomorrow and the day following, for it cannot be that a prophet should perish away from Jerusalem.'

Now Jesus laments Jerusalem. His is a prophet, a king and the Messiah.

This is not sorrow for Himself, but this is for Jerusalem, which city would suffer great pain because she rejected the prophets of God.

Luke 13:34 O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the city that kills the prophets and stones those who are sent to it! How often would I have gathered your children together as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, and you would not!

God in His grace had sent His Son. There were 6 trials and they began with the Jews dragging Him before the Sanhedrin and beating Him and finding Him guilty. But they knew that there could be problems if they just stoned Him to death. So, for formality, they place Him before Pontius Pilate, who proclaimed Jesus innocent, and then washed his hands before the people.

Some of the Jews who rejected Jesus Christ killed him. But the Romans are just as culpable as the Jews. It is the world that crucified Him. Jesus would die in the Roman way, which is crucifixion (the Jews would have stoned Him to death).

Jesus speaks of how often He wanted to gather His people under His wings, and yet, they would have none of it. He longed to embrace and to protect them. His ministry was an offer of them the Kingdom of God. They would have none of it. They are poster children for negative volition. Jerusalem and Israel are examples of great negative volition.

Look at the history of Christ, of God the Son with Israel. He created the universe. He was with Abraham, the father of the Jewish nation. He spoke to Moses from the burning bush. He was the Dwelling Presence in the Tabernacle. A great lament; a great sadness of His Own people rejecting Him, even though He was willing to do everything for them.

Is it any wonder that the world attacks and persecutes Christians, but gives all other religions a pass. There is no difference than what is happening right here with Jerusalem.

The Jews saw Him perform miracle after miracle and He fulfilled all of the Messianic prophecies. Many of them could recite from memory these passages. This is what is means for someone to say no to the gospel of Jesus Christ. They will say, "Let me do it my way; let me stand on my own two feet before God (if He exists)."

Luke 13:35 Behold, your house is forsaken. And I tell you, you will not see me until you say, 'Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord!'"

"Listen, your house is left desolate." He tells them.

The Use of Aphiêmi

1. This is what He is saying to the United States of America. This means to leave, to abandon; and after "abandon ship" the ship goes down.
2. Just so, the city of Jerusalem will be abandoned. Aphiêmi. All the miracles and all the prophecies which have come true.
3. The Messiah will continue to offer Himself right up to the end. The final rejection is inevitable.
4. The word desolate is added as a condition that will come to Jerusalem.
5. God's judgment and man's destruction are on the way. It is inevitable. When God pronounces judgment, it is going to happen. We can only pray that God does not destroy us. There are many countries destroyed in war. They are shells of their former selves; buildings burnt to the ground.
6. Desolate describes a city that is laid waste by God. Ruins and death. Hundreds of thousands of people were immolated in the bombing of Dresden; there was no escape.
7. The final destruction for Jerusalem came in A.D. 70. The Roman legions of Titus would come in and destroy hundreds of thousands of people. Many old landmarks were destroyed as well. This destruction is why we do not know where Golgotha is anymore.
8. There would not be another Jewish messenger. Not until Messiah returns a second time; and until then, Israel is set aside.

Bobby visited Dresden, and it was firebombed in WWII. The center of the city was left as a monument to desolation.

There is now a state of Israel, but this is not the regathering. We do not know the day or the time. The regathering will take place during the Tribulation. There will be no more messengers or prophets. The Age of Israel is suspended. It is their messengers and prophets which brings Israel the information that they need to know.

Luke 13:35 Behold, your house is forsaken. And I tell you, you will not see me until you say, 'Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord!'"

This time will not be good for them again until they say, "Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord." This is what they said when Jesus rode in on a donkey, and they said these words. Luke 19:37–38. They demanded that these words cease. These words would be repeated at the 2nd advent.

This is our Lord's lament. He is and will be rejected in this era.

Luke 14:1 One Sabbath, when He went to dine at the house of a ruler of the Pharisees, they were watching him carefully.

They did not take their eyes off of Him. They were ready to catch Him doing anything that was wrong. They hoped for a theological blunder. The aim of this dinner invitation was to catch the Lord doing something wrong. This would serve our Lord's purposes to a t.

This incident was for Perea. He could not contact every person and talk to every man there, but what happened would be reported all over.

There were many people there who would report what would happen. This would be a very interesting happening. Who is going to win, would be wondered.

On the periphery of this banquet was a man with dropsy. Adema, which is an accumulation of fluid beneath the skin, and it is very painful. He was in great pain, conspicuously so. This man would play a very large part in what would happen.

Luke 14:2 And behold, there was a man before him who had dropsy.

If you are a lawyer and litigator in court, you try to trap people in court. When the Lord asks a loaded question, this was one of them. This would show their hypocrisy in their zealotry for the Law. They had taken the basic Old Testament Law.

Once there is a passed law, people start tearing it apart in many cases changing the intention of the original law. They had written all sorts of regulations to explain what the Law already said. There were exceptions and there were regulations and often these things benefitted the pharisees and the rabbis.

They continually tried to trap the Lord; but then Jesus asks them a simple question of these law experts, and they are unable to answer His question.

Luke 14:3 And Jesus responded to the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath, or not?"

The Lord had just healed on the Sabbath, and they attacked him for it. So, now he puts the question before them before He does a healing. Tell me where it says this. Now, there is nothing in the Old Testament about doing or not doing a miracle on the Sabbath. Do they allow this suffering to continue? Do they okay the miracle?

Luke 14:4 But they remained silent. Then He took him and healed him and sent him away.

Luke 14:5 And he said to them, "Which of you, having a son or an ox that has fallen into a well on a Sabbath day, will not immediately pull him out?"

Lesson #0790

Luke 14:1-3 Life of Christ

1/17/2015 1Sunday

The Eucharist January 17, 2016

Between the cross and His return at the rapture stands a ritual table. The Lord introduced and commanded us to participate in remembrance of Him. A very short meal to make to representative analogies. Eating the bread and drinking from the cup. These are the only two activities by which we are to remember the Lord. We do not need a photograph, a visage of some sort, or a cross. We have not come to commemorate His birth, His features, etc. Our memories do not center upon anything but what He did on the cross for us. The Lord Jesus Christ is at the heart of our worship. He is our central focus.

First and foremost, He is the God-man Who died. His body, broken for us, is represented by the bread; and the juice represents His blood, which represents His death for our sins. We must look back upon what He has done with profound awe. The rituals and symbols in the Old Testament looked forward to the coming of the Messiah. The Lord's Table looks back at the work of our Lord.

This ritual commemorates our unbreakable association with the Lord Jesus Christ. Is not the cup of blessing by which we bless a sharing in the blood of Christ...and a sharing in the body of Christ...we who are many are one body, for we all partake of the one bread. United with Christ in His two deaths and His burial, we share in His victory on the cross, retroactively, of course. When we as believers in Christ, the sin nature is crucified with Him, retroactively. Rom. 6 Knowing this that our old self was crucified with Him, that our body of sin might be done away with. This places the believer for the first time to break free from the power of the sin nature. We are free to break away from a life of sin. The very fact that we can approach the Lord gives testimony to that which we have in union with Christ.

Our ritual commemorates a separation from sin and from the evil of Satan's cosmic system. That is the system that is all around us. Through death, the death of the cross, that He might render him powerless who has the power of death. We experience that separation when we possess and think with divine viewpoint.

Satan's realm is always in direct opposition to the thinking of Christ. Human viewpoint is taking part in the table of demons. There is tremendous danger to any believer approaching the Table in human viewpoint, in carnality, apart from the filling of the Holy Spirit. That openly mocks God's grace and the work of His Son. For this reason, many among you are weak or sick, and many among you have died. Out of fellowship and you are taking part in the table of demons. This can culminate in the sin unto death.

Like-mindedness is being on the same page with the Lord Jesus Christ. This requires us to be in fellowship. For God has not destined us for wrath, but for attaining salvation, so that, whether alive or dead, we are united with Him. We have a operational spiritual life.

Every moment that we are filled with the Holy Spirit is another moment of fellowship with Him in our souls. This communion lasts throughout our temporal lives; not just in this brief ritual but for all of our lives. In this ritual, we have complete concentration (ideally speaking). This is the most important aspect in our lives. We have an unbroken, face to face relationship with Jesus Christ in heaven. This is the future confidence of every believer reflected in this ritual. We make a statement in this ritual of our eternal condition. Because He lives eternally, we live eternally. We will love and worship Him for eternity.

We both look forward to eternity future as well as look back to the cross. Looking forward is living our lives in the light of eternity.

In our eating and drinking, we are giving a testimony to Him. As often as we eat the bread and drink this cup, we proclaim the death of the Lord until He comes. This is a memorial to His death. He died for all; unlimited atonement. This is our unity in Christ.

We noted that the pharisees, the enemies of the Lord, had a prohibition of Jesus healing on the Sabbath, even if this was beneficial. For centuries they had defined these regulations. Anything not covered would be put into a regulation of some sort.

Now, it is significant that these pharisees act as if there was a prohibition of miracles, when there clearly wasn't. This proves the truth of the miracle, because they would not accuse the Lord of doing a work if no one was actually cured.

They called the Lord over for dinner and they watched Him closely and they were plotting against Him, looking for anything that he would say that they could indict Him for.

Luke 14:1 One Sabbath, when He went to dine at the house of a ruler of the Pharisees, they were watching him carefully.

Luke 14:2 And behold, there was a man before Him who had dropsy.

He disregards their legal question, and asks them a direct question about healing on the Sabbath. Now, why was there no regulation about this? Because no one healed the sick. There was never a reason to have a regulation about this.

Luke 14:3 And Jesus responded to the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath, or not?"

“You all know the Law. So, can a man heal on the Sabbath?” No reason to have a regulation on this. It had not ever come up before.

Lesson #0791

Luke 14:1–4 Life of Christ

1/17/2016 2Sunday

Healing on the Sabbath had been discussed before. This discussion is unique; and it shows the legalism of the pharisees. It demonstrates God’s grace in comparison. The pharisees do not like healing on the Sabbath.

Luke 14:3 And Jesus responded to the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath, or not?"

This was a dinner party to which our Lord was invited. The Lord preempts all of their questions. He went right after the lawyers and the pharisees with this leading question. They lost the initiative. You have control of the situation. No one questioned them. The lawyers were not on trial. It was dangerous to put these men on the spot like this. At the heart of our Lord’s question was an interpretation of Sabbath regulations. These lawyers were legal experts on Sabbath regulations. The Lord asked them for a general ruling. “I really need to know, can I heal or not?” This is a very simple question with many implications. Can you ignore a person who is in trouble? Would a pharisee come to the rescue of a man or an ox falling into a well. Would he abstain from acting, based upon Sabbath regulations?

Keeping these regulations was their ticket into the kingdom. They depended upon these regulations rather than upon the Lord Jesus Christ. This kind of legalism continues in our world today.

Does the Old Testament Mosaic Law supercede the regulations or vice versa? Which carries the greater weight?

We face similar constitutional issues today. Do we continue to abide by the original constitution today or should it be reinterpreted to today’s norms and standards? When it is reinterpreted, the rule of law is threatened.

These legal minds were unable to provide a theoretical answer. They were classic religious and political animals. They did not weigh the issue based upon the case and the Bible, but upon what they wanted (not unlike what we see today).

The pharisees allowed for some exceptions on the Sabbath, like watering an animal. There were many exceptions in the regulations of the Law, and these exceptions always benefitted the pharisees. So these exceptions would involve their animals, which was wealth in that era. They had no interest in true law.

Would not rescuing a person in trouble be of great importance than preserving one’s livestock. They would rescue an animal, but they would balk at Jesus healing on the Sabbath. More importantly, the hypocrisy of the pharisee regulations was exposed. They knew that this question checkmated their position.

Healing on the Sabbath

1. If they defended their traditions and regulations and all the additions made over the years, and confirmed that rescuing animals and men were not forbidden, but that healing men was forbidden, this would be inconsistent.
2. Based upon their own legal precedent, there are no legal grounds upon which to stand. They would have to agree that it was legal to heal on the Sabbath.
3. It would mean that Jesus knew more about the Law than they did. There were many people watching here. They were standing before the Author of the Law.
4. Based upon their own legal interpretations, they could not forbid a cure for this man with dropsy.
5. If they did, they would lose credibility and authority as legal experts. That could not happen. Their entire existence depended upon their legal expertise. This would destroy them.
6. The people observing all of this would turn to the Lord Jesus Christ because He properly interpreted the Law and He made more sense than they did. There was a clear comparison that the people could make here.
7. The lawyers knew their own regulations. They knew that those regulations allowed for mercy to be shown on the Sabbath, toward men and animals on the Sabbath, without any violation of the Sabbath taking place. But they did not want to affirm any legal opinion from Jesus Christ, so they kept silent. They refused to show themselves to be wrong. That is the depth of their rejection of Him. It is not any different today when someone rejects the Lord Jesus Christ. Human salvation always trumps works. These pharisees were keeping and making regulations in order to please God.

God does not love for unrighteousness. He does not love us because we are good. He love us because we possess the righteous of Jesus Christ at salvation. He sees only the Lord's righteousness; and not the works of man.

Luke 14:4 But they remained silent. Then He took him and healed him and sent him away.

Speechless lawyers. Then the Lord heals the man with dropsy and sends him away. Another round to the Lord Jesus Christ.

When the pharisees could not answer a simple question of Law, it is clear that they were bested by the Lord. They were speechless lawyers. They were too arrogant to admit that they are wrong. Being wrong is the worst nightmare of these arrogant lawyers. They cannot afford to be wrong. It ruins their image, to the people and amongst themselves.

The Arrogant and the Inadequate

1. The arrogant person has an excessive preoccupation with himself. He thinks only of himself and his image to others. He only cares about how others perceives him.
2. They have an inflated self-admiration. They are their own admiration society.
3. The inadequate person has an excessive desire to be admired by others. If this is your whole reason for existence, you are inadequate.
4. To be wrong in thinking or in actions, would be tantamount to losing the respect of others; and even to lose self respect. That is unthinkable, for the arrogant and for the inadequate. They cannot lose respect from anyone. That is personal destruction.
5. The arrogant person must see himself as superior. One thing that Bob told Bobby, "There is always someone tougher; and there is always someone who is better." Arrogant people cannot think like this.
6. The arrogant person is hyper competitive. Nothing wrong with being competitive. They are win at all costs. Winning is the only thing to them. This might be true in football, but not true for life. We might run into more problems than imaginable in the spiritual life. The arrogant person is hyper competitive. He will stab anyone in the back to win. That is pure arrogance. There in inadequacy in that as well.
7. The arrogant also has an exaggerated estimate of his own abilities and attainments. If not, then he would see himself as inadequate. This is how he or she survives in this world. Our survival is simple; it is our spiritual life. It is our application of Bible doctrine. It is the perfect survival for a world that wants to tear us to pieces.

Every time the Lord ran into these people, He pulled them off their pedestal, and this challenged their self-image. He bested them in every argument and showed them that they were incompetent and arrogant; and they responded with anger and implacability. That is a major weakness of any person who lacks humility. There is a phony bravado for any person like this. There is never enough approbation in life for the inadequate person. They can never get enough. If you have friends that are like this, they have to reenforce their own egos.

You may want to pray that your friend or marriage partner gets doctrine and learns the way. A verbal battle with the arrogant and the inadequate is always a losing battle. If you win, they must admit that they are wrong, and they are unable to do that.

There is never any peace in the soul of the arrogant or the inadequate. I think Bobby is teaching this as being the same person? When people are arrogant and inadequate, they become hypersensitive. They are threatened by any challenge.

Need a test. Have someone say, "I think you're wrong about this," and see how you respond. The only antidote for this is humility from Bible doctrine.

Their mutual admiration society had to come to a halt when the Lord reproved them. They would be rejected and the Lord would be accepted. That is legalism, arrogance, and inadequacy. This is designed for us to evaluate ourselves.

There is a lot of narrative in Luke 14; many things that He did, much traveling, etc. Just the narrative itself is in fact a window into our own spiritual lives.

This chapter is a concentrated look at arrogance, inadequacy and the trouble with legalism. This is very applicable today; so that we can read legalism and understand how it works today. We see all manner and categories of people that we have to deal with.

Vv. 1–6 Jesus takes up the subject of healing on the Sabbath. The pharisees were quite legalistic about this. No greater legalism than that which the pharisee promoted in their era. The pharisees and the lawyers were incredibly arrogant concerning their own abilities, their mental acuity, and in their understanding of legal matters.

At the same time, these people were so inadequate when it came to discussing the law and the spiritual life with the Lord. He always crushed them. This angered these people to the point of forming killer conspiracies against the Lord Jesus Christ. These conspiracies were based upon mutual antagonism. There are giant egos involved with these pharisees. When their egos were crushed by the wisdom of Jesus Christ, they were able to unify in this area opposition to the Lord Jesus Christ.

What makes the greatest leaders, it is not bluster, but often it is the soft humility. The Lord Jesus Christ was always humble. But humility does not mean that you roll over like a whipped dog and take it.

Jesus found favor among so many people. Some of them began to reject pharisaical teaching. Some of these became attracted to the grace of God as taught by the Lord; some of them believed in His Messiahship; and that made most of the pharisees quite upset.

The pharisees developed many great conspiracies to go after the Lord Jesus Christ. They may have had smiles on their faces, they may have invited Him places, but it was always about a way to destroy Him. They were legalistic and implacable.

So he asks them about healing on the Sabbath.

Luke 14:3 And Jesus responded to the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath, or not?"

We have seen politicians skirt a simple yes or no question on many occasions; and this is what Jesus was doing. He offered the pharisees a simple, easy question. They refused to respond. They were inadequate here. These are an inadequate bunch who were experts in the Law.

They have to answer, You are right or You are wrong, indicating that they cared little for suffering. They would not admit to the latter, even though that was their feeling. If they answered, they would be subject to ridicule or a loss of respect; and they would lose their authority that they had developed.

The sick man there likely believed Jesus to be the Savior; and he went to Him as a helpless, hopeless case. No one could help him; only the Lord. He is the only One Who could heal mankind.

So Jesus healed the man and sent him away.

Luke 14:4 But they remained silent. Then He took him and healed him and sent him away.

So Jesus sends this man away. Now, Jesus explains His actions to all who are there. This is a great fear of the pharisees and lawyers, because His words would show them to be inadequate.

Luke 14:5 And he said to them, "Which of you, having a son or an ox that has fallen into a well on a Sabbath day, will not immediately pull him out?"

Rescue and care for a son and for a domestic animal. "How will you act when your own personal interests are at risk?" Everyone knows that they would rescue their son or ox, even on the Sabbath. And these are legitimate things. Yet they would condemn the Lord for healing this man with dropsy.

They would use the Law for their own personal benefit; and they would bend the Law for their own selves.

People in Washington set up rules and regulations, but they don't follow them. They do not even pretend to follow them.

This is the second time that the Lord slaps them around.

Luke 14:6 And they could not reply to these things.

Then Jesus cites a parable, which is a lesson in humility.

Luke 14:7 Now He told a parable to those who were invited, when he noticed how they chose the places of honor, saying to them,

Luke 14:8 "When you are invited by someone to a wedding feast, do not sit down in a place of honor, lest someone more distinguished than you be invited by him,

Luke 14:9 and he who invited you both will come and say to you, 'Give your place to this person,' and then you will begin with shame to take the lowest place.

Luke 14:10 But when you are invited, go and sit in the lowest place, so that when your host comes he may say to you, 'Friend, move up higher.' Then you will be honored in the presence of all who sit at table with you.

Jesus now cites the principle, which He does not always do. If you are arrogant, you will be humbled and vice versa.

Luke 14:11 For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted."

Bobby thought of this like musical chairs; and when the music stops, you grab a chair. The closer you are to the host, the more honored you were.

When someone shoots in a basketball game, everyone readies themselves for the rebound. When you watch a game, don't watch the ball; watch everyone else. These people were exercising their dishonor, like fighting for the best place at the table. The arrogant will get exposed. Ultimately, they will be exposed. Their arrogance will come out.

This parable is all about the host choosing the most prominent people to sit in the most prominent positions. In a wedding party, it is interesting who tries to get close to the bride and the groom.

There were invitees, some close, and some far away; and those far away would be observing all that was going on. They were moving the place cards around in order to get the best place. This suggests a person's own inadequacy.

Like those on a plane, who sneak into 1st class, and then they might be sent back to the back row, that does not even recline. However, sometimes you might have a normal ticket and you are given a 1st class seat.

Demanding the Best Spot

1. The person who demands preeminence (or who always demands his way).
2. But the one whom the host honors, he is the one truly honored. He sits in the back of the plane until called to the front. The host makes the call; to give a place of notoriety to whomever he chooses.
3. Another practical side to this. Don't show up at someone's house uninvited; the uninvited guest. It is rude and arrogant. You should always consider your actions with other people before you take them. Do not intrude on the privacy of others. Do not ever assume. You have the welcome mat.

The Wedding Feast and the Kingdom

1. Jesus often used the wedding feast to represent the Kingdom which He will establish on earth.
2. The arrogant pharisees were fighting for their place in the kingdom. That is what they were doing.

3. They were competing amongst themselves.
4. Upon these works and many others, the pharisees and the lawyers believed that these works would give them a prominent place in the kingdom.
5. The King will make the final determination of where everyone will sit.
6. Jesus will not seat anyone based upon their prominence on earth or based upon what they think their own prominence ought to be.
7. Christ is the King, so He is the host. He determines status in the kingdom; all based upon the criterion of humility. James 4:6 God is opposed to the arrogant but He gives grace to the humble. This is a real stunner to the pharisees. They understand exactly what Jesus is saying. These pharisees expect great rewards and notoriety in the Kingdom of God. They think they will take their seats next to the Messiah.

Loud self-promotion of those who want to show their own prominence. They are always promoting themselves. It is not every the Christian life.

True Success in the Plan of God

1. Humility is the attitude for success and promotion in the plan of God.
2. God promotes those who have developed the humility of grace orientation from spiritual growth. Grace orientation is the development of humility. This only comes from growing in grace and knowledge. This is developing humility. That is the attitude for the spiritual life.
3. Those who are humble are the ones who are exalted by God; the ones who do not exalt themselves.
4. You are not exalted until God exalts you; you are not blessed or honored or promoted until God blesses, honors or promotes you. It all depends upon the plan of God. All we do is utilize the grace of God and continue to grow. Humble yourselves under the might hand of God, that He may exalt you at His time.
5. A position of prominence depends strictly on humility and not on arrogance.

When they attempt to seat themselves in a place of prominence in the kingdom, they will be moved out. These are wedding crashers. They do not belong there and they will be escorted out the door. They might get a prominent position in hell. It will be filled with arrogant, self righteous do-gooders who reject the Lord Jesus Christ.

Lesson #0793

Luke 14: Life of Christ

1/21/2016 Thurs

The Lord is invited to a dinner party by the pharisees in Perea. There was a reason for this dinner party; to spend time with the Lord. But the pharisees wanted to trip Him up and destroy Him. Jesus has already spoken to the guests, He has healed this man, and He has presented the parable of the guests.

Doesn't someone have to do a lot of work for a dinner party?

Luke 14:12 He said also to the man who had invited him, "When you give a dinner or a banquet, do not invite your friends or your brothers or your relatives or rich neighbors, lest they also invite you in return and you be repaid.

If you invite guests, well, they will turn around and invite you to a dinner party, and thereby, you are repaid. What is wrong with being invited to a party in return? Isn't that a hard-and-fast rule of social life? However, that is not true in this illustration. There is a greater repayment than just social life. Each party impresses the other. Endless rounds of mutual entertainment and one-up-man-ship.

Now, this pharisee invited Jesus to denigrate Him. The pharisees hate the Lord Jesus Christ. So, this is a very odd way to treat a guest.

This pharisee is trying to impress other people to get something from them. All of this is just manipulation. This is not what a dinner party is supposed to be. This is downright malicious. You do not invite people because you want something from them.

The pharisee's motivation should have been much different, even though the Lord was not in his actual social circle. They should have had some actual interest in the Lord and there could have been an excellent interchange of conversation. This is the chance of a lifetime.

However, the pharisee invited Jesus there to dispute with Him religion. There are friends, relatives, rich neighbors, and other pharisees. These people are the usual acceptable crowd.

"Look how much I have done for you," and they want something from you as a return favor. The godfather attitude. The exact opposite of grace orientation. Do not ever use this line against your own children. The children learn, "People owe me, and I will call in that favor." So don't hold a dinner party in order to extract something from someone else.

A business lunch and dinner are different animals. We are not locked into the same principle in other areas. So, you do not have a social gathering in order to gain something; but in a business meeting, it is normal that you are there for mutual benefit in order to make a deal or to make something happen.

What about true graciousness? What about those who cannot give you something back? What about giving to those who cannot help you?

Dinner Parties, Charity and Hospitality

1. When Jesus commends hospitality, it becomes a legitimate and necessary part of Christian service. There is motivation and the filling of the Holy Spirit; and when you extend hospitality, and this is Christian service. Hospitality and gracious living are spiritual functions.
2. True charity and hospitality are the manifestation of grace orientation in the soul of the believer. The Lord is commending this. This is one great purpose of hospitality and charity. You cannot have ulterior motives here.

3. Hospitality and charity is not about currying favor. It is not about elevating one's status or for any other sort of reason.
4. Prov. 23:6–7 Do not eat the bread of a man who is stingy; do not desire his delicacies, for he is like one who is inwardly calculating. "Eat and drink!" he says to you, but his heart is not with you. If someone is trying to get something out of you, you can decline the invitation. His heart is not with you means that he is two-faced. He tells you one thing, but he is thinking something else entirely.
5. Help is extended to those in need. That is charity and hospitality. Sometimes, the person who providing, he might hate the person in need. He is doing it for show.
6. Charity begins with how a person thinks, not with what he does. What he does can be a cover for a user. Users are the lowest of the low. They do not like you; they just want to use you.
7. When a believer has no mental attitude of grace orientation, and no doctrinal orientation, there is no charity and no hospitality in his soul. Even the believer who thinks without grace and doctrinal orientation has no graciousness in his soul.
8. How a person thinks is what motivates him. If you think with integrity and doctrine, that is what motivates you. If you think like the pharisee, who is a user, that is your motivation. The person who is self-serving does not have a charitable motivation, despite what he says. There is a lot of charity in this world which is not charity at all.
9. Under all these conditions, charity is not a Christian service by a believer.
10. Here is the logic behind this. Unbelievers can feed the poor and they often do. The good part is alleviating hunger.
11. Without the correct mental attitude of grace orientation and the critical, all-important filling of the Holy Spirit, charity is like giving money to Christian work. All churches, all missionaries, etc. all need support. The money goes to them, but if there is no grace orientation and no filling of the Holy Spirit, what is given grudgingly and of necessity has no value. No unbeliever can produce divine good. It all depends upon the motivation. You cannot be properly motivated apart from the Holy Spirit. He is the critical underlining.
12. True hospitality and charity provide a demonstration of what the Lord provides for us in grace. The host initiates grace hospitality. That always depends upon the host and not on the guest. The Lord is our Host throughout our lives. We depend solely upon Him, earning nothing from Him. He provides undeserved blessing from Him. Living grace, dying grace, and eternity in heaven. Christian charity presents this picture of grace and it is not for only relatives, close associations or those who can repay you.

Christian Charity

1. Christian charity will never solve all the problems of the poor and the down-trodden.
2. Christian charity is not a war on poverty.
3. A certain amount of poverty is a natural circumstance in this fallen world. We will always have the poor with us. Matt. 26:11 But He commended charity for the poor.

4. Christian charity does help people in need and it does help to temporarily alleviate the suffering of the poor. That is not the overriding purpose of charity. It is an intermediate purpose.
5. The real purpose, whatever you do by way of charity, represents Christianity to others. Christianity is a relationship between God and man through the Lord Jesus Christ. Whatever you do, represents Christianity to others.
6. It is a witness to the grace of God. It is provided for the undeserving. It is given to those who cannot return your favor.
7. This is the picture of the benefits of grace. God does for us and we cannot pay Him back. We are undeserving.
8. When hospitality and charity is extended with no ulterior motive, it demonstrates what God has done for all mankind in grace and love. Hospitality in heaven.

Who are those that Jesus says should be invited? Those who cannot pay you back, either by favor or by a return invite.

Luke 14:13–14 But when you give a feast, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind, and you will be blessed, because they cannot repay you. For you will be repaid at the resurrection of the just."

This is the exact opposite of the thinking of the pharisees. They expected something back. Phony charity is a vehicle for self-promotion. Christian charity is never accomplished grudgingly or with the wrong motivation (or of necessity). Christian charity does not seek personal gain. Human charity and Christian charity may appear to be the same, but the motivation for these things is quite different.

This is why government socialism is not charity. It never falls into the category of true charity. It takes care of people who need it. Government welfare always seeks gain for itself. They want a payback. And it is not voluntary. It is legislated. It is taken from the productive and given to the unproductive.

God is not Robin Hood. Christian charity comes from the individual believer and is passed along to those in need. Socialism is the ultimate in welfare and benefits from the government. The purpose is not purely for the welfare of those who receive it. The payback is power. We give you money, but we give you power and control in return. The recipients lose incentive in life and become wards of the state. Puppets and pawns in the game of power politics. You get welfare, they get more power.

They nationalize everything; they control everything, all in the name of social and financial equality. It creates a new arrogant elite class. It impoverishes society as a whole. When socialism is tried, it does not meet its goals. It is a flawed system of governance. The socialists think that we have never tried it.

The European system of socialism is falling apart. And it is not charity. Capitalism provides the greatest amount of prosperity for the greatest number of people. The greatest incentive. It allows people to enjoy the fruits of their own labor.

Lesson #0794

Luke 14: Life of Christ

1/24/2015 1Sunday

Jesus is in a parable mood. Great teachers often teach in ways that help others to understand and remember these things. It is the mark of a good teacher who can communicate in more ways than just giving a recitation of the facts. Jesus taught eternal doctrine; and He taught the most important subjects every taught.

Jesus speaks to evil, legalistic, pharisaical, legalistic thinking. Jesus was invited to dinner and for entertainment as well. They had hoped to engage him in conversation and show Him to be wrong about the Law.

The principle is found in v. 11, where He interprets His parable.

Luke 14:11 For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted."

He turns to His host, and instructs him in entertaining. If they repay one another, then there is no graciousness involved; there is no love; this is a business exchange. The guests were the same and on the A-list. He had to have just the right people on his guest list. This man invited specific people so that he could use them.

This dinner party furthered the ambitions and the schemes of this pharisee. There was no hospitality. This one was all a facade. There was no graciousness at all. No charity to those who were in need. Ironically, the pharisees took great pride in their charity work; but no one was invited out of charity or out of grace. They had very self-serving motives here, which is typical of legalism and religion.

Jesus called for hospitality as a spiritual service, as something meaningful. Hospitality ought to be out of grace, not a means of social advance.

Luke 14:12 He said also to the man who had invited him, "When you give a dinner or a banquet, do not invite your friends or your brothers or your relatives or rich neighbors, lest they also invite you in return and you be repaid.

Have a different guest list.

Luke 14:13 But when you give a feast, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind,

Do this not to get something out of it. Despite the outward appearances of charity, there is no charity or grace in the souls of the pharisees holding this party.

We are not obligated to accept every invitation, especially when it is someone like the pharisees. There will be no relaxation at this event, as they are out to get the Lord Jesus Christ.

Do not eat the bread of a selfish man; or desire his delicacies. From Prov. 23, I believe. For as he thinks in his heart, so he is. No matter what the facade is, how a person thinks defines him. He says, "Eat and drink" but his heart is not with you. He has no motives of grace; this party is all about him.

The principle of Christian charity. A political dinner or rally is all about getting some money or some support. On a personal level, this is like what the pharisees are doing here.

You must not have any confusion about charity. Charity is not a war on poverty. The war on poverty will fail. Poverty in the world is a natural thing. Charity should represent Christianity to others. It should be extended to those who can give you nothing in return. This is a picture of the benefits of grace. God's grace is undeserved favor. It is extended to those who cannot do anything for themselves, because that is what the gospel is to the unbeliever. When there are no ulterior motives, this demonstrates what God has done for all mankind in grace and love.

Luke 14:14 and you will be blessed, because they cannot repay you. For you will be repaid at the resurrection of the just."

The recipients of God's grace cannot do anything for anyone, least of all, for God. All of the benefits goes in one direction, from God to the recipient. When you extend charity, you should do this without thinking that you are going to get anything in return. No expectations should be placed on repayment.

The believer will be repaid, but at the resurrection of the righteous. That will be the time of rewards from God. We are acceptable to God because of the imputed righteousness of Jesus Christ, which we do not deserve. After the resurrection of the church, every believer will stand before the LORD at the Bema Seat and be evaluated. Many of us have never thought much about this. Death is way out there; the resurrection is way out there; and the reward and evaluation time

What will be evaluated is the good that we have done, human good and divine good. The same will be true of Old Testament saints, and they will be rewarded on the same basis, properly motivated receives recompense from God.

We should extend grace to those who can give us nothing in return, just as God has done to us. What great picture of God's grace than this sort of hospitality.

Now a guest responds to what Jesus is saying. He believes that he will receive blessing in eternity based upon his works and his race. This guy stepped right into a buzz saw, with what he said to the Lord. It does not take much to be a fool. When you say, "Praise the Lord," this may not mean anything at all to God. This man does not have a clue.

Luke 14:15 When one of those who reclined at table with Him heard these things, he said to Him, "Blessed is everyone who will eat bread in the kingdom of God!"

Lesson #0795

Luke 14: Life of Christ

1/24/2016 2Sunday

Jesus points out to the pharisee that he is not really being charitable with this meal, but he has invited people who will return the favor. True charity would be to invite those who could not help you out.

"I'm in, blessed be everyone who is eating bread in the Kingdom of God." Some think that this is a good statement, but he is referring to the great feast of the Messiah in the future. When Jesus initiates the kingdom in the future; and he sees himself as one of the everyone there who will be blessed. Me and all my buddies are going to be there. There is no grace in this man's soul; he did not get it.

Luke 14:15 When one of those who reclined at table with Him heard these things, he said to Him, "Blessed is everyone who will eat bread in the kingdom of God!"

These people believed that they were in the Kingdom of God due to their racial status. They were automatically related to the God of the Scriptures. But how can they reject the King and still be in the kingdom? How will God fill this great banquet? This is a promised feast, and how can it be great if there are many pharisees who are not there.

So Jesus taught another parable. This is the parable of the great supper, or the great feast and this runs through v. 24. Our Lord will address what constitutes the gospel and what does it take to get into this banquet. How much gospel do you have to believe? How large is this mustard seed of faith? Rejection versus acceptance; and this is the heart of the parable.

Bobby will have to go through this parable verse by verse in order to understand it.

In this parable, there is a man of great wealth, a man who is going to hold a great banquet, and this is something that these pharisees understood. He invited people that he knew and liked. But no one outside of this man's class and stature was invited.

So there is this man who has a great banquet and many are invited. This is parallel to God holding the great banquet and inviting all of us on earth.

There is a lot that needs to be done; there must be a choosing of the food and the wine, and the list must be developed to get these people.

Luke 14:16 But He said to him, "A man once gave a great banquet and invited many.

So he sends out his servant to those who already accepted the invitation.

Luke 14:17 And at the time for the banquet he sent his servant to say to those who had been invited, 'Come, for everything is now ready.'

However, these guests all begin to make excuses. Right before the banquet, all the invited guests say, "Please accept my excuse, I must decline."

So there have been a lot of expenses and a lot of food is ready, and everyone said, "Sorry, we cannot make it."

Luke 14:18 But they all alike began to make excuses. The first said to him, 'I have bought a field, and I must go out and see it. Please have me excused.'

This excuse does not preclude one from attending.

Luke 14:19 And another said, 'I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to examine them. Please have me excused.'

The oxen would be there tomorrow.

Luke 14:20 And another said, 'I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.'

This is the best excuse, but he could have brought his wife along to the banquet.

These are pretty lame excuses. Putting on a party like this would make you mad.

The master cannot believe it. The servant tells him what has happened. The master becomes angry, and tells the slave to go out and get the poor, the blind and the lame. This is the same group as mentioned in v. 13. Invite these types instead of your buddies.

This is a picture of justice and grace. He sends out people to fill the justice hall.

Luke 14:21 So the servant came and reported these things to his master. Then the master of the house became angry and said to his servant, 'Go out quickly to the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in the poor and crippled and blind and lame.'

So the servant goes out and he gets these to come. All of these types were found and invited and brought in.

This is exactly what the Lord did during His ministry. He offers the gospel to all who would come to Him. He offered the banquet of salvation to the lame, the blind, the poor and the crippled.

Where can we go to give the gospel? People go out to many types of people; and there are the genuinely destitute. This is a parallel between the parable and to those that Jesus went to and offered the gospel to.

The servant found many to accept the invitation; but there was still room. There were a lot of chairs still to fill in the banquet hall.

Luke 14:22 And the servant said, 'Sir, what you commanded has been done, and still there is room.'

The slave is sent out once more, and he is sent to every stranger to bring them to the banquet. All a person needed was positive volition to accept the invitation. The invite is faith alone in Christ alone.

Luke 14:23 And the master said to the servant, 'Go out to the highways and hedges and compel people to come in, that my house may be filled.'

This is a universal invitation. No one is left out of the banquet. What about those who have not heard the gospel? What about the people of the dim past. God knows who would express positive volition upon hearing the gospel. No requirement to present the gospel to those who have no interest in it.

This one servant cannot cover every foot of ground and he cannot reach every single person. But the idea is, those who want to hear will hear.

The Banquet Invitation and its Parallel

1. The gospel has been rejected by some; but it is offered to these many others with great intensity.
2. They are compelled to come, which is avakaζω. It means to compel, to force, to make; to invite urgently, to invite with great encouragement. It is free.
3. This is a very compelling invitation.
4. It ought to be very hard to resist this wonderful invitation.
5. We need to present the gospel urgently and accurately.

In our terms, it is the invitation to eternal life; and to Jews of that era, this is an invitation to the Kingdom of God. This is how the gospel of Jesus Christ is presented, to everyone who will hear. Not one person should be excluded.

If you do not give the gospel, you are not fulfilling the mandate of the Lord Jesus Christ. You have no right to be embarrassed to speak the gospel. Maybe you don't want others to know, but that is no excuse. That is not your worry. This is life that you are presenting to others. This is their eternal future, and you have no idea what will happen when you speak to them about the Lord. Sometimes, people you would never think suddenly latch on to the gospel. One word from you and someone might get it. Do not ever be ashamed of the gospel; this is what has saved us. Offer it to all who will listen. When you speak the gospel from the highways and the hedges and the bridges, some will reject it. They do not have time for it. They reject it; they have excuses. They will not attend the kingdom.

There is so much here about the gospel of Jesus Christ here in this parable. This clearly delineates what the gospel is and what is required of man.

All of these people here heard the Lord speak, and some accepted what He was saying. The legalists however had souls of flint. A criminal recently executed in Huntsville. One of our guys visited this man and spoke to him about the gospel. The killer's response was, "My mother was Catholic and I went to church a few times." So he was asked, "Do you know the Lord Jesus Christ? Do you know about salvation?" And the man said, "I don't want to hear all of that stuff." He knows the date he will die and face God, and he turns against it.

Luke 14:24 For I tell you, none of those men who were invited shall taste my banquet."

Bobby knows that he has everyone's attention. When you speak the gospel of Jesus Christ to someone, they will either say, "Tell me more" or "I don't want to hear that stuff." They will respond or react; and Jesus saw both at that table. He continued to make this invitation up to the point of the cross and even extended this invitation to the two thieves on either side of Him. It is all about accepting the invitation.

Lesson #0796

Luke 14: Life of Christ

1/27/2016 Wed

Jesus had taught a parable that went right over his head; and this guy says something that is dumb.

Luke 14:15 When one of those who reclined at table with Him heard these things, he said to Him, "Blessed is everyone who will eat bread in the kingdom of God!"

Jesus explains why he is confused in another parable.

Luke 14:16 But He said to him, "A man once gave a great banquet and invited many.

A servant is sent out to those who were invited. So, the meal is ready and there is no one there.

Luke 14:17 And at the time for the banquet he sent his servant to say to those who had been invited, 'Come, for everything is now ready.'

Then many of them begin to make excuses.

Luke 14:18 But they all alike began to make excuses. The first said to him, 'I have bought a field, and I must go out and see it. Please have me excused.'

A number of excuses are given. I bought some land and I need to look at it. Please excuse me.

Luke 14:19 And another said, 'I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to examine them. Please have me excused.'

I bought some oxen. "What bull!"

Luke 14:20 And another said, 'I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.'

I married a wife and cannot come. "She is not allowing you to come? She runs the show already?"

Luke 14:21 So the servant came and reported these things to his master. Then the master of the house became angry and said to his servant, 'Go out quickly to the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in the poor and crippled and blind and lame.'

The host did not want this meal to be wasted. He has made an elaborate wonderful meal.

This group the host asks, this goes back to v. 13. Jesus told his host that he ought to have invited these.

Luke 14:22 And the servant said, 'Sir, what you commanded has been done, and still there is room.'

There is still room, so the host sends the servant out to say, "Come one, come all."

Luke 14:23 And the master said to the servant, 'Go out to the highways and hedges and compel people to come in, that my house may be filled.'

The slave is to travel even further out, outside of the city. Compel these people to come in, that my house might be filled. Everyone is given an urgent invitation.

"There are no strings attached to eating at my house. Just come and eat." It was a totally gracious proposition.

This is a marvelous presentation by the Lord Jesus Christ in this parable. It is a clear delineation of what constitutes the gospel of grace. The host has made preparation, which is the cross.

Laying out the Parable

1. The Master is Jesus Christ. He does the inviting.
2. He is the One to extend the gracious invitations for which He made all the preparation; His work.
3. The banquet is the future feast. Isa. 25:6 they should have understood that this is for all the peoples. Isaiah 25 is the great resurrection passage of Israel. Some would refuse this banquet. Great meal prepared; yet some said, "I don't want it." These people are overly concerned with earthly things.

4. Those who decline the banquet are the negative pharisees who represent negative Israel. Israel is rejecting their Messiah.
5. The Jews were the initial ones invited. They are the ones the Master invited first. And they were declining this invite.
6. Israel had the opportunity to accept the grace of God and to accept the great feast of the kingdom when it was prepared. The Lord offered the kingdom in the first advent and it was being refused.
7. Their refusal was the refusal of their Messiah. The Lord uses the imagery of the banquet to remind the Jews of the future coming feast. The Jews were fully aware that there would be a kingdom and that God would invite them and that a great banquet would be prepared. Yet they made excuses for not attending.

“Sorry, Messiah, we cannot accept your invitation because we have personal things going on.” They do not need grace. Things are just fine, in their own opinion.

Rejecting the Lord

1. They do not believe that Christ is the Messiah; today it is, “We do not believe that Jesus is the Savior; we do not believe that He is God.” He is just one prophet among many. Mohammed and Joseph Smith are prophets as well.
2. They refuse to accept Him as the God-man and the Savior.
3. They are doing good works that supercede the grace invitation. That is religion, which gets in their way. Religion thinks that it can earn their way into heaven. “I’m a good person and God will accept me. I don’t hurt anybody.” God is perfect, and He does not accept mistakes, any sin, or any wrongdoing.
4. They are too busy with their own lives to accept His grace. Wrong priorities. All the reasons to reject Jesus Christ are in this parable in this analogy. They heard, but did not follow out the invite all the way. “I’m a Christian; I go to church.” That is not grace and that is not the invitation of Jesus Christ. The excuses and the reasons are still with us. This is no different from the pharisees who refuse the grace of God.

Jesus Christ invites all humanity to His house for dinner. It is so easy to accept and so difficult to reject. So many people do that. So many prefer the impossible way, which is their own way. How many have sat by the Christmas tree and someone offers you a present and you say, “I don’t want it.” But that is what the person who rejects Jesus Christ did on your behalf. It is an expensive gift, not to you, but to Jesus Christ.

Two Sets of Invitees

1. These Jews have rejected Jesus Christ over and over again during His ministry. The invitation rejection was not surprising. It happens so many times.
2. The real shock of the parable is that this negative response appears to have been almost universal. Which of the original invitees said, “I’m on my way. Keep the dinner warm.” None of the original invitees attended the banquet. After all of the history of Israel, after all of the promises, etc.

3. Because of the rejection, the Master's invitation is widened to include many more. Everyone in town, everyone on the highway, everyone in the world. This invite is to everyone.
4. These new invitees who had no other invitations they did not have a Messiah promised to them. They had no invitation (the Word of God). They understood God's grace.
5. The blind, the lame and the crippled could not go to see the farms or oxen, or Mary; but they were positive towards the gospel.
- 6.
7. The new invitees are those with positive volition. They will attend the banquet in the kingdom. Those who were invited said no, so all the others were called up to respond, and they did and they will enjoy the great banquet.
8. The gospel is a great invitation to broken down barriers. Peace, grace and a thousand other blessings. It is all free; there is no charge.
9. Today, many men make flimsy excuses; they put everything else in the world first. These things are placed as barriers to grace. Self-delusion and arrogance are rampant. People have a difficult time seeing grace. They see everything in their own way.
10. Those who reject the gospel of Jesus Christ are they themselves rejected. They will not be in the kingdom. We will return with the Lord and we will be sitting in the banquet hall. Jew, Gentile, male or female.

Funerals are another great way to pitch the gospel.

Luke 14:24 For I tell you, none of those men who were invited shall taste my banquet."

This is a great parable to use for witnessing.

Jesus leaves the dinner party and goes to a new location and a new topic. Where did these crowds come from exactly? Bobby considers this because these are not just stories; this really happened.

Luke 14:25 Now great crowds accompanied Him, and He turned and said to them,

Now Jesus gives them a tall order. The focus is on being a disciple of Christ. The emphasis is not upon hating others.

Luke 14:26 "If anyone comes to Me and does not hate his own father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, yes, and even his own life, he cannot be My disciple.

We Are Disciples. What Is a Disciple?

1. This is the Greek noun μαθητης, which means a learner, a pupil, a person in a classroom. He is learning growing and being tested.

2. A disciple of Christ listens and learns from Christ and absorbs His thinking, which is called metabolizing doctrine.
3. There prerequisite, a person must first have believed in Jesus Christ. A disciple must first be saved.
4. A believer learns his doctrine in order to advance to Christian maturity. You learn his doctrine in order to pass testing. You learn to grow and apply in testing.
5. That's the way a believer follows Christ; how he becomes Christ-centered and is a disciple.
6. Becoming a disciple is a process a process by which a believers advances by growing in grace and knowledge and applies doctrine to his life. Bobby uses the words advance in Christian maturity; but it means the same as being a disciple of Jesus Christ. This is what we are.
7. This is the process of the life of the believer. This is growing and this is also testing. When we pass, we are also encouraged.

Jesus is not speaking of hatred. We can still go home and like our wives, mothers and brothers and sisters. We are still the Lord's disciples.

Lesson #0797

Luke 14: Life of Christ

1/28/2016 Thurs

The study tonite is not for the faint of heart. This goes right to the heart of who we are.

Vv. 1–24 was the big dinner party, with a Sabbath day question, a Sabbath day healing, and then two parables.

Jesus is once again on the move in Porea.

Luke 14:25–26 Now great crowds accompanied Him, and He turned and said to them, "If anyone comes to Me and does not hate his own father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, yes, and even his own life, he cannot be My disciple.

When Jesus turned and spoke to them, it was a time of instruction. They were learners; they were disciples. This was spiritual advance. They could grown in knowledge and thinking of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Discipleship is not Bobby's favorite word because of how it is misused today.

These disciples needed to know, what is the cost of being a disciple of the Lord's. The disciples with the Lord anticipated the great blessings of the kingdom. They expected these blessings if they believed in Christ. At some point, it would come to fruition. There would be a kingdom. The problem is, who would be in the kingdom? The original 12 were sailing along, expecting this.

However, the nation as a whole had rejected Him and the religious leaders hounded Him and they despised Him. So the kingdom blessings could not occur in the first advent; they would be postponed until the 2nd advent. The disciples, because of this postponement, were put into a slightly different position. However, they had a time of learning and enjoyment.

Now they are going to find out that they will be living in great danger. They were not yet aware of this. The early church would endure much hatred, persecution and martyrdom. So the Lord needed to define what it meant to be a disciple in the future during the time that He was gone. They would have to represent them and they needed to understand this and realize what the cost would be. They got a taste of this when the Lord was arrested (and they all deserted Him at this time).

They understood that there would be a great cost to discipleship; even their own lives. Their life must become less important than being a disciple; and they were not at that point. When the Lord was resurrected, then many of the disciples increased their nerve.

Jesus Teaches His Disciples to Count the Cost

Everything our Lord said during His ministry is also directed to us. Do not think, "I haven't signed on for this."

1. The Lord must now define the extent of the resolve needed to be a disciple because of the coming difficulties. It was time to clue them in.
2. This would require tremendous dedication to Him. This was not something that would be easy.
3. They needed to understand the kind of dedication that it would take to be His followers under these circumstances. The dedication needed could only be found by learning Bible doctrine.
4. Confidence in Jesus Christ in a maturing believer is the key to dedication to Him. As you grow, you become more confident in the Person of Jesus Christ. We can be more confident in every aspect of our life.
5. So what Christ was now commending would require spiritual maturity and doctrinal application. This is the aim of discipleship. The learner grows to spiritual maturity.
6. The disciple must come to love the Lord Jesus Christ more than any other person in life, including family and life itself. We are coming to the meaning of v. 26.
7. Christ must be the absolute center of life for the believer.

Jesus is speaking to males here, but it applies to females as well. We associate the greatest love in life with the categories of people listed here: mother, father, wife, children, brothers and sisters. There can also be great animosity between family members.

Hatred of Family Members

1. In the time that this was written, the Jewish family was a cohesive unit of unequivocal loyalty, despite their personal quarrels. The family loyalty remains. So for Jesus to commend hate would seem to comment estrangement from family members. This goes against the grain of the Jewish culture.
2. Hate of family was the very opposite of Jewish law and social custom.

3. Jewish social custom would define hate in the simple terms of neglect of family. If you neglected your family, then you hated your family.
4. More importantly, family hatred is the opposite of the divine institutions.
5. Hatred of family is prohibited by the Mosaic Law and by social customs. Hatred, in the way that our Lord is using it, is not the way that we ought to understand it.

Bobby wants us to make certain we know what is here. Hate is a very brutal word when it is used of people. It is the very opposite of love, which we are mandated as believers to have.

Love and Hate for Family Members

1. Love and hate are both in view here. Love is how most people think of other family members. This is a stark contrast. Jesus knows exactly what He is doing here.
2. This hate actually boils down to a choice of loyalties.
3. Top priority is either to God or it is the greatest of human relationships.

Μισέω does mean to hate, to detest, to abhor. This is a requirement to be a disciple of Christ. The Old Testament Law said to honor your father and mother; it was a part of the Ten Commandments. In making this statement about hate, Jesus Christ could not be contradicting the Law or His Own words elsewhere. He is incapable of contradiction. Why would we hate our own lives when He is teaching the greatest of all lives.

Love and Hate as Mandated by God

1. We often see love and hate as an expression of an emotion, of intense like or dislike. A great affinity or strong aversion. In God's vernacular, these words can express will or policy.
2. In this case, hating family expresses His will over His disciples. There ought to be absolute priority to Himself.
3. They do not literally express an emotion of hatred toward their own families. That is not what the Lord means here.
4. The stress here is on the priority of God's will and plan for discipleship. Hating someone else is relegating them to second place after God.
5. The priority is submission to the authority of God's will in order to be a disciple.
6. We must learn His will and execute His will; that is His policy and His priority. Learning His will is learning His mind.
7. The will and the plan of one's family and that closer relationship must always be superceded by the will of God for a believer's spiritual life. So this is all about a contrast.
8. Jesus uses hatred toward family or towards one's own life to put an emphasis upon the true priority of discipleship. Being His disciple even over family relationships. This is not so tough if we understand the entire scope.
9. The will and policy for God's disciples is absolute loyalty, love and obedience to Him first and foremost. Everything else in life is hated, in the sense of being in second place. This does not mean that family life and plans are ignored. Obedience to God comes before obedience to family. This does not mean that love for your family is diminished. This is not what the Lord is saying.

The wife and a husband is probably the closest thing to true love between two people. They should have the closest of relationships. They make plans for their future and the direction of their lives together. God's will and His plan for them is the first consideration. We may not know God's plan for us corporately as a couple, but it is still a matter of priority. That is the key to what is being taught here. First consideration is God's will and plan. God always makes provision and a destiny for these relationships. Marriage is a divine institution. God's plan includes couples and their lives together. That is Christian marriage.

When you put the priority on doctrine and growing together spiritually, the relationship can only be the best that human relationships can be. Hate is a contrast of loyalties. The cost of discipleship is absolute loyalty and love and obedience to the Lord.

Malachi is quoted in Rom 9:13 As it is written, "Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated." God's love is rational; it is not emotional. God's love is not sentimental; His love always functions in a dispassionate manner. His hate is His policy of dispassionate. This is His policy. This is not emotion.

What Was God Doing Here?

1. When it says that God loved Jacob, that means that Jacob believed in God.
2. This engendered God's favorable policy and plan for him. This is God's personal love.
3. Jacob had accepted the will and plan of God and he made it his priority.
4. God had a very beneficial policy for Jacob. It is love.
5. That policy would be the divine plan for Jacob's life, which is what Jacob placed as a priority.

Esau and Hatred

1. When God said He hated Esau, this meant that Esau did not believe.
2. Esau placed himself above God; arrogance. God makes war on the arrogant.
3. Esau refused to submit to the policy and plan of God and was therefore excluded.
4. So Esau in the story of Jacob and Esau was set aside as the firstborn and his birthright was withdrawn. His priority was himself; not God.
5. This was God's policy; His hate, as it were.
6. To love and to hate expresses God's will, perspective and policy; not how He feels about these two.

Some Final Points

1. After salvation what.

2. The believer must be under the authority of Christ and His Word with no greater authorities or commitments.
3. Discipleship is about a decisive and absolute commitment to the plan of God. This is even above family and one's own life. They might be getting an idea as to what they have gotten themselves into.
4. That is what it means to hate one's family.
5. This does not mean that the believer foments mental attitude sins against his family or neglects them or disowns them, in order to be a disciple of the Lord.

You may recall that the disciples, when they met the Lord, dropped their nets and followed the Lord. He became the priority. They are finding out that this road might be a very bumpy one. It means to understand His Word and to accept it.

Summary Points

1. Jesus is not giving anyone a green light to hate family members.
2. We must come to love Him by submitting to His authority and His Word. We always give Him the priority. Some will have a problem with you attending Bible class.
3. That is the point of this first criteria for discipleship. This is an explicit, decisive commitment to the Lord Jesus Christ first and foremost.

Luke 14:25–26 Now great crowds accompanied Him, and He turned and said to them, "If anyone comes to Me and does not hate his own father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, yes, and even his own life, he cannot be My disciple.

Lesson #0798

Luke 14:25– Life of Christ

1/31/2015 1Sunday

Long standing and long-neglected tradition, when someone returns from a place where Bible doctrine has made a great impact, there is often a testimony given.

Jim inducted into the Golf Hall of Fame. A long-time taper. Berachah Church and the teaching changed his life and his family's life. He grew up in Kansas and he went to a very liberal protestant church. A lot of good works and ritual. He rejected that; and rejected it even more in his teen years. He rejected God as a scorekeeper. "If I commit murder, can I still get into heaven?" "If you sincerely repent." "How much is that?"

Babe Reninsky (?) kept asking him to Bible class. He gave him a box eventually with a tape from Bob. He accepted it and never listened; and he moved always with this tape. Playing in a golf tournament in Houston. He moved there. In charge of their golf division. "You are in Houston to attend Berachah Church." His wife grew up in a very ritualistic and liberal church. They decided one night that maybe they made a decision based on inadequate information. They wanted to go to a place where God's thinking was taught.

He was golfing and another Berachah person was in that group.

He looked for a PGA official to drop out and to get his wife. Marty got a cart and drove him out to his car. And Marty was much different. And he asked, "Is he a believer." referring to his father-in-law. So Jim said he wanted to hear why. They met for dinner in Austin. And he told Jim about Berachah Church. Talked about the Colonel and he asked, "Is that guy still alive?" Toughest man he could imagine, but he knew that he would hear the unvarnished truth. If God can create the universe, then He is powerful enough to get His Word down the way that He wants it. Only a perfect God could come up with a perfect plan for salvation. He got all of the Colonel's books and got all the basics and stopped working for a few weeks and he took no calls.

He found that when he returned to teaching, doors opened; and he went elsewhere and doors closed. He wrote "The Plain Truth for Golfers."

He has been a teacher of many great names in golf.

In the final year of the public ministry of the Lord Jesus Christ. The people who followed Him became restless. Bobby has seen that; and has seen others become restless. They may think, doctrine does not work in my life. Bad to worse is God trying to get your attention.

Many followed Him, but they expected great blessings from Him. They were waiting on the Kingdom that Jesus was promising. But they became disappointed that the Kingdom did not seem any closer than before. They were all in the process of growing in the knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ; but they had their questions. It was time for the Lord to present some new material to them and He guided them into their future. He needed to prepare them for what would happen when He left. He needed to disciple them. The Kingdom would be postponed; and what would they do in the interim? This is what He would teach them. It would not be smooth sailing. This opposition that they observed against the Lord would not be directed at them.

Luke 14:25–26 Now great crowds accompanied Him, and He turned and said to them, "If anyone comes to Me and does not hate his own father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, yes, and even his own life, he cannot be My disciple.

He stuns them with the idea of effective discipleship. "If anyone comes to Me and does not hate his own mother and father..."

Hate is not an emotional abhorrence that once person feels for another. Jesus is not telling them to harbor mental attitude sin against their own family. We are told to honor our father and mother, which lets out hating them. It also says that we are mandated to have love for all of our neighbors. Jesus is not contradicting Scripture or His Own words. What is He saying?

Hating and Priorities

1. Hating family represents a policy, not an emotion.

2. The policy requires every disciple to correct
3. He uses family because of the closeness of the relationship.
4. The disciples just give first priority to the plan, policy and the will of God.
5. The will and policy of God is absolute loyalty, love toward God and obedience to Him first and foremost.
6. The plan and will of any other human being is secondary. The priority is learning doctrine. That is the priority of that period of time.
7. To be a disciple of Christ, the believer must accept the plan and policy of Christ above everything else.
8. We must hate the ascendancy of all other things and people. Our plans and family plans takes second place.
9. Discipleship is a decisive and absolute obligation to the plan of God. Above family and even above one's own life. The functioning disciple must submit to Christ by understanding His Word.

Advancing to spiritual maturity is a transfer of loyalty to His Word in all things. As you grow to spiritual maturity, your loyalty is transferred to Him. Strictly, in the figurative sense, you hate your family, but you do not hate them with a mental attitude sin.

In case you get the wrong idea or see a loophole, you are not being told here to have mental attitude sins against family members. Family members have priority in your life; but not top priority.

When husband and wife grow spiritually together, when they make the Lord Jesus Christ and Bible doctrine the center of their lives and they come to have personal love for Him, all their heart, soul and mind, then capacity for love is elevated above anything that is humanly achievable. When your priority is in the right place, everything else in life is enhanced. That still does not mean that there won't be problems. Bible doctrine enhances your personal relationships.

Luke 14:27 Whoever does not bear his own cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple.

A second priority is given here. Cross-carrying was not an unfamiliarity to the Jews at that time. It struck terror in the souls of the Jews at that time. It was brutal. That was the point of it. When capital punishment was brutal until the Supreme Court ruled against that. It was brutal then for a deterrent effect. The person executed then often were forced to carry their cross to the crucifixion spot. They were spit upon and reviled and sworn at. How many times have the Jews seen this? It happened in every town. Some had their friends crucified often due to their revolts against Rome.

Jesus foreshadowed His Own walk.

The Lord uses this very graphic illustration. The focus was on what happened on the cross. The cross became a symbol for the death and suffering of Jesus.

“Why are there no crosses in Berachah Church?” The cross is in our soul. Bible doctrine that comes from Scripture is the cross. The crosspiece, no matter what material, is just where He was crucified, for our sins. We must never forget that on that cross, paying for our sins, was the most difficult six hours of the Lord Jesus Christ. The symbol of the cross also represented the most difficult periods for our Lord. Therefore, the comparative price of discipleship would be high.

Stephen, an early disciple, was stoned to death. It happened over and over again. All the disciples were executed save John.

The image of Him carrying His cross was a picture of a complete rejection of the Lord by the Jews. His Own people rejected Him.

Those who are Muslim who convert to Christianity are often ostracized and sometimes murdered. Former Jews are ostracized by their own family members.

The Christian life is the greatest life a person can know on this earth.

Luke 14:27 Whoever does not bear his own cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple.

Lesson #0799

Luke 14: Life of Christ

1/31/2016 2Sunday

Luke 14:27 Whoever does not bear his own cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple.

Jesus has just said these things to a rather large crowd. They were restless; the kingdom had not materialized; the blessings were not happening. There was no throwing off of the Roman rule.

Jesus gave them a short parable to explain what He has been teaching.

Luke 14:28 For which of you, desiring to build a tower, does not first sit down and count the cost, whether he has enough to complete it?

Luke 14:29 Otherwise, when he has laid a foundation and is not able to finish, all who see it begin to mock him,

Luke 14:30 saying, 'This man began to build and was not able to finish.'

People had begun to peel off from the Lord's ministry. They were giving excuses, so the Lord begins to explain what their future holds. He is teaching the correct priorities in life.

“You need to be prepared for what is to come.”

Do not start such a major project without thinking about the future and anticipating what is going to come. Emotion will not build a tower. If the builder runs out of money, all the enthusiasm in the world will not move things forward. There was an abandoned 6 story construction off Westheimer near Midlane, and it was only a foundation and a steel interior. It has to be torn down for another building which was capitalized. This was a monument to a faulty calculation. That is what this parable represents.

Discipleship is building in the spiritual life. It is calculating the cost of that building. Family is not a priority next to Christ. That cost must be taken into consideration. Also the cost of carrying one's own cross, which is a great risk to Christians in that era. This cost is true today in some areas.

We do not see much of a high cost today apart from ridicule and ostracism on occasion. There is a lot of verbal persecution at most. But the cost of discipleship can increase dramatically. We appear to be headed in that direction. This is a passage to wake us up, the cost that we might think we would never pay. This is a gut-check. How much have you advanced in the realm of discipleship? It is certainly a possibility. What is your priority and how do you stand regarding all the uncertainty. What will the next election bring; we do not know.

In many ways we see the fabric of our society unraveling; and legislation appears to be working against Christianity. They do not mind our doctrine, as long as we keep it in the church on Sundays. In the Roman empire, people were imprisoned for their faith.

Jesus says, consider the cost; what are you willing to face? What are you willing to pay? Are you willing to risk everything? This is a wake-up call to the disciples who are with the Lord, as this and that one peels off.

We are not to have a lifestyle of fear. Paul wrote that to Timothy, who was timid. None of us should be fearful. We are given a plethora of blessings and assets to live in the devil's world. We also get personal protection as well.

If you have it all right, you will start and you will finish. The disciple who serves and honors the Lord by producing divine good even in the midst of adversity. We are given the faith rest drill for a relaxed mental attitude. The life of the believer in the Lord Jesus Christ is the greatest life for anyone. Bobby often wonders how can unbelievers get through this life and all its difficulties. Many rely only on money and material things and children and friends and so forth. How quickly they discover that it is not really happiness. We have the resources for the great life.

By believing in the Lord Jesus Christ, we lay the foundation for the tower; and the 39 irrevocable assets. The one revokable is the filling of the Holy Spirit. All of this is our foundation. We start out with this from the get-go. That is the foundation; but no tower has been constructed. Doctrine is the capital for construction.

A disciple has to write on his soul spiritual information. That is a part of the calculation and the cost determiner. The finished structure is application of Bible doctrine and service to the Lord.

The edification complex structure; and this is what the Lord is talking about. Bobby goes over some of the floors of the edification complex structure. That is what we are studying. The observation deck is sharing the happiness of God; and you understand all that is going on. You glorify Him.

There Are No Emotional Bricks in the Building of the Tower

1. An emotional life cannot be the Christian way of life. No tower is built upon emotion. Emotionalism as the criterion for life is an incomplete building. When you are emoting, you are not looking at the cost of anything.
2. Building the Christian life is related to building the mentality of the soul. This is the thought process, which includes the filling of the Holy Spirit. Emotion will never carry a believer through difficulties.
3. Emotional moments of praise and worship do not last; they do not move the ball forward. Various movements who push emotion as their worship, as their connection to God; and this is a misapplication of Bible doctrine and a confusion of the Person of Jesus Christ.
4. Emotion is not to be discarded as evil or useless. We do not divorce ourselves from our emotions. Jesus was not unemotional. "Jesus wept" is a display of emotion. Emotions appreciate what God has provided and relating it to your spiritual life. Emotionalism means you get all worked up because you hear the name Jesus in a certain tone and inflection, and it takes you nowhere.
5. Emotion is not a part of the construction of the spiritual life. It is not to be a consideration of the construction of the tower. What do you have and how do you use it? You need to know what it takes to build the building. The higher you go, the more complex it all gets.
6. Emotion will appreciate the construction, its beauty as it goes up; the advancing Christian life. People who construct some structure, as it goes up, you appreciate the beauty of it. You see the rooms and you begin to appreciate things. Feeling your way through the Christian life ends up with an abandoned Christian life. If your emotion plummets, then so does your focus on and dedication to the Lord Jesus Christ. This is not stability. Many Christians have become shipwrecked because there is nothing but emotion in their souls.
7. You are not living the spiritual life because you feel spiritual. So many connect the spiritual life with feeling good. Leading by emotion is a letdown. Emotionalism is a let down. It manufactures more problems. How many people get married on a wave of emotion. They say, "What have I done?"
8. Emotionalism causes people to act on impulse. They are not thinking or calculating; they are not constructing; they are just reacting. Impulse is just reactive behavior. Self-centered and not God-centered.
9. In the plan of God, emotions are not adequate guides for decisions and approach in the plan of God. Such a person is not counting the cost of the Christian life.

Then we have failure and/or ridicule.

Luke 14:28–30 For which of you, desiring to build a tower, does not first sit down and count the cost, whether he has enough to complete it? Otherwise, when he has laid a foundation and is not able to finish, all who see it begin to mock him, saying, 'This man began to build and was not able to finish.'

Empizô, which means to mock someone, to mock an endeavor. They look at you and say, "You are a terrible Christian and you are not living up to it. What a waste of time and effort."

A person who does not advance is like an unfinished building, with no promise of a completion date. An emotional derelict. Such a person makes no sense at all to those on the outside looking in. They laugh at emotional Christianity. It falls so short of the expected results. This describes much of Christianity today. Today, it is anything but doctrine. The construction material is being ridiculed. Christianity today is long on emotion and this is an unfinished tower. So many incomplete Christian towers all over the landscape. Skeleton Christians; there is no meat on their bone. There is nothing there.

Bobby loves William's Tower, which Bob called the foot of Berachah. Berachah, in one sense, is the larger building, because of what goes on here. The Williams Building is one of the most beautiful structures and it is visible from all over the city of Houston. And Bobby sees it and knows that is where Berachah Church is.

Our tower can be seen from wherever we go. We are constructed from the inside out. The effective discipleship. Just as that building is pleasing to look at, the tower that we build is pleasing to the Lord. And if you are on top of the tower, you can see Houston all over for miles.

Another parable for next time; an analogy for war.

Lesson #0800 2Kings 14:1–14 Luke 14:27–32 Life of Christ 2/3/2016 Wed

Discipleship is an important doctrine in the 1st advent. This term is not found outside of the 4 gospels and the book of Acts. The term drops out of the Bible after that point. Yet, this term is used heavily by Christians today. This term gets distorted today, often related to emotionalism. Even though the term is not found in the epistles, the concept certainly is. We need to know what it means to be a disciple and be involved in discipleship.

Rom. 12:1 I appeal to you therefore, brothers, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship.

Paul urges them, which is short of a mandate. Our bodies should be a living sacrifice to God.

Rom. 12:2 Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect.

This is what discipleship is; the renewing of our minds. Paul defines this term found throughout the gospels and acts.

Discipleship

These two verses are the guts of what we are.

1. The basis of discipleship is learning about God.
2. The result of renovating is spiritual advance and divine good.
3. No longer is the believer the prisoner of human viewpoint. He is no longer conformed to the thinking of this world.
4. Through the grace apparatus for perception, the disciples developed a renovated mind. That is divine viewpoint in the soul. That is the way that it is done.
5. To demonstrate the will of God in our life. God's will and plan that He has for us, we demonstrate this, as our spiritual service. The action of discipleship; so that we are no longer conformed to this world. We have to think with divine viewpoint.
6. Therefore, you as a believer glorify God in this life.

Paul's description is the underlying premise for the gospel of Luke that we have been studying. The cost of discipleship. We are told what it means to be a disciple and what that cost is.

We know what it means; we know how to get there. What does it take to get there? "If anyone comes to me and does not hate his own mother and father and brothers and sisters and even his own life, he cannot be My disciple." This is not about the emotion of hatred; this is about priorities.

The second criterion is Luke 14:27

Luke 14:27 Whoever does not bear his own cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple.

When our Lord went to the cross, that was obedience. Being a disciple also involves obedience. There are similar difficulties; bearing a cross; rejection, persecution and even martyrdom. Drive home the need for careful consideration.

The first example is building a tower, which is the renovation of our thinking. The cost is high, which is illustrated by hating family and carrying a cross. The point of the Christian life is often overcoming those difficulties, using those resources that the Lord has given us. The angels rejoice when these sorts of victories are won.

The second parable in approaching the difficulties of discipleship.

Luke 14:31 Or what king, going out to encounter another king in war, will not sit down first and deliberate whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him who comes against him with twenty thousand?

You consider what you have and what you expect to do.

Luke 14:32 And if not, while the other is yet a great way off, he sends a delegation and asks for terms of peace.

Think or consider; as this is life and death here. So you need to consider your options. You may want to sue for peace in order to preserve life.

Bobby has a great interest in the history of Germany; and many things led up to that war, which went back as far as a century before. Germany was not unified until the 19th century. Prince Albert married Queen Victoria, he was a German? All those who came from then, were descended from a German prince. They changed their name to Windsor to get rid of their German name.

Once Germany was unified, there was a man named Helmut von Moltke the elder. He was the great Prussian military strategist. Prussia was by far the most powerful; the state of Frederick the Great. For their size and population, they were the greatest military power of Europe.

Erica Mueller is from that area.

Van Moltke's professional career was based on a motto, which is quite similar to this passage. In 1857, we have the position of chief of the Prussian general staff for 34 years. He had an impact all the way to WWI and WWII. The concept of staff came from him. As soon as he took over the Great Prussian general staff, he made monumental revolutionary changes in the methods of the Prussian army. He made it greater. Wars of movement and maneuver. Up till then, the armies faced each other and blasted away. He also changed their armaments, means of communication, training, and the mobilization of civilians into a mass army, which transformed the whole concept of war and its practice.

He planned a strategy that defeated the French in 1871 that led to WWI. They annexed a part of France; and the French held a grudge and they wanted their land back. Von Moltke was so good, they wiped out the French in a short period of time. Motto: First way then venture. David Crockett had a similar motto: be sure you're right and then go ahead.

Consider all possibilities and probabilities before going into war. Once considering this, you can move forward in war or not. Bobby thinks Von Moltke was a believer. And this is the policy of any war.

How stupid to blunder into war without taking stock of his manpower, weaponry, preparation, etc. before proceeding forward. This makes perfect sense. Unfortunate, many have not, like Adolf Hitler and the staff under him also miscalculated.

This man blundered into northern Israel. He begins having defeated the Edomites.

2Kings 14:1–3 In the second year of Joash the son of Joahaz, king of Israel, Amaziah the son of Joash, king of Judah, began to reign. He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jehoaddin of Jerusalem. And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, yet not like David his father. He did in all things as Joash his father had done.

2Kings 14:4 But the high places were not removed; the people still sacrificed and made offerings on the high places.

2Kings 14:5 And as soon as the royal power was firmly in his hand, he struck down his servants who had struck down the king his father.

2Kings 14:6 But he did not put to death the children of the murderers, according to what is written in the Book of the Law of Moses, where the LORD commanded, "Fathers shall not be put to death because of their children, nor shall children be put to death because of their fathers. But each one shall die for his own sin."

2Kings 14:7 He struck down ten thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt and took Sela by storm, and called it Joktheel, which is its name to this day.

2Kings 14:8 Then Amaziah sent messengers to Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz, son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, "Come, let us look one another in the face."

2Kings 14:9 And Jehoash king of Israel sent word to Amaziah king of Judah, "A thistle on Lebanon sent to a cedar on Lebanon, saying, 'Give your daughter to my son for a wife,' and a wild beast of Lebanon passed by and trampled down the thistle.

Jehoash read the arrogance in Amaziah, and he gives him a way out. When you get into a big argument and you want to end it, give the other person a way out. It is called saving face. Then you can sue for peace.

2Kings 14:10 You have indeed struck down Edom, and your heart has lifted you up. Be content with your glory, and stay at home, for why should you provoke trouble so that you fall, you and Judah with you?"

What are you thinking? This is stupid for us to go to war. Jehoash gave him a way out. He offered up terms of peace.

2Kings 14:11 But Amaziah would not listen. So Jehoash king of Israel went up, and he and Amaziah king of Judah faced one another in battle at Beth-shemesh, which belongs to Judah.

Arrogance keeps a person from thinking through all the options. You must stop and consider the options and you must do this objectively. You have to hear and consider the options.

He butters him up. You defeated Edom, but now you have become arrogant. Enjoy your glory; so why not stay at home.

Jehoash gave him the reasonable options, but this flipped the switch to Amaziah's arrogance. He went into full reaction mode. He should have known that he could not defeat Israel but he would not listen. If you do not listen, you are not thinking or considering.

If you are talking, then you are not listening and you are not hearing. "What do you think I am doing up here? Do you think I am up here talking for my health? There's trouble back in the tv room, and that is coming to a halt." Amaziah is not listening.

2Kings 14:12 And Judah was defeated by Israel, and every man fled to his home.

The southern kingdom was defeated by Israel. The southern army broke up and ran, and everyone went home.

2Kings 14:13 And Jehoash king of Israel captured Amaziah king of Judah, the son of Jehoash, son of Ahaziah, at Beth-shemesh, and came to Jerusalem and broke down the wall of Jerusalem for four hundred cubits, from the Ephraim Gate to the Corner Gate.

Jehoash tears down the wall and he takes their gold and silver.

2Kings 14:14 And he seized all the gold and silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of the LORD and in the treasuries of the king's house, also hostages, and he returned to Samaria.

This was the cost to Amaziah. From that time on, Judah hated the Samaritans. But the problem was Amaziah. The cost was great. We must consider. You must consider your actions and what your results will be.

Being a Disciple

1. To be a disciple, you need knowledge, wisdom from Bible doctrine, and good decision making. We are analogous to the king who must decide which battle to fight. Bobby has seen people get into such trouble because they pick the wrong battles in life.
2. Not listening to doctrine means ineffectiveness, which means defeat

Counting the Cost

1. Becoming the disciple of Christ is no minor, short-term, minor course of action. People believe in Jesus Christ and then they go haywire, going off on emotional tangents. They lose momentum. The Christian life is a distant memory.
2. Becoming a disciples is not some emotional reflex. It is not an emotional or momentary dedication that is forgotten under pressure. One little dedication does not cut it, like promise keepers. These momentary dedications mean nothing. There is no consideration.

3. Discipleship is a far-reaching, life-changing decision. It is moment by moment decisions and thinking and it is the consistent operation of the Christian life. If you want to be a victorious king, you must think. There cannot be lag time.
4. It is the daily decision to renovate the mind with Bible doctrine. It is to use spiritual resources provided by God for the rest of your life. It is to serve the Lord and not yourself.

Too many Christians go into battle naked. Amazon women were a myth; Spartans were not (both fought naked). We fight that war in full armor in the Angelic Conflict. Good decisions are required for success. These parables are not about the building. Do we consistently look at the objectives of the spiritual life, or are we oblivious to them? Do we think about these things. We have got to know this; we need to make daily decisions to take us in the correct direction. We must keep our eyes on the objective. Count the cost of discipleship; do not go into the Christian life blind.

We do not come into Berachah Church for academic reasons only; this is not an academic exercise. This is the classroom for the spiritual life. In the classroom, we have tests; and we are going to have to pass tests, which require us to make good decisions.

Doctrine is not the end-all; it is the consistent fuel that drives our engine. Berachah Church is our gas station.

We hope to hear, "Well done, My good and faithful servant." We are fueling up in Berachah, but we do not do this emotionally. We consider all of the costs. We do not walk blindly into the wall thinking, God will get me through this wall. And when you smack into the wall, you say, what happened? Where's God? Why isn't he with me?

Lesson #0801

Luke 14:33 Life of Christ

2/4/2016 Thurs

Bobby enjoys European history from about 1870 forward. Kings can make a bad decision to go to war because they do not consider the cost.

4 illustrations of discipleship; carrying one's cross, hating one's family, building a tower and counting the cost before war. There is another illustration about money.

The Lord invited the Jews there at the banquet to His kingdom. All who desire to be there in His kingdom. But many were shocked that Jesus spoke of gentiles coming into the kingdom.

The Lord is not looking for freeloaders after salvation. He is looking for disciples who are grace orientated. He was disciples who know what is in front of them and are prepared for that. He is not seeking those who fail to consider the cost of discipleship. He does not want the deadbeats who cannot carry out the demands for discipleship. Growing in grace and knowledge. One ready to fight a war to the finish; and being able to discern which battle to fight and which one to make peace.

Sometimes picking your battles requires impersonal love on your part. You would love to go to war with someone, but you count the cost and decide not to. Despite all the other things, there are great victories in the spiritual life. It is not an emotional game, which so much of Christianity is. It is not a part-time activity. It is a continuous dedication to the plan of God. A series of good decisions in life. You must get combat ready to fight the battles placed in front of you. When you find yourself overwhelmed with adversities, you continue to grow; and you come to the point where you can handle and win those battles. Sometimes, you need more doctrine and more maturity before being able to fight this or that battle.

What follows is a cost that some people do not want to bear. The roadblocks. Every believer must face living the Christian life with objective calculation from doctrine. Final victory is guaranteed to the one who persists in learning and applying God's Word. There will be a lot of deserters along the way. They make rash and foolish decisions. What the Lord needs is a few dedicated builders and warriors. There is a decisiveness in pursuing the plan of God. You cannot be mushy. You must be hardened to the cost of victory yet dedicated to it. Your priority is to build the defenses of the Christian life. Metabolize Bible doctrine, become grace and doctrinally oriented, apply the doctrine to the little things and to the big things (the charge of the mosquito and the charge of the elephant). Using the faith rest drill in application in the little things.

When you are unable to do some things, then you leave it in the hands of the Lord. We run into brick walls; there are adversities and problems. When you cannot do it yourself, leave it in the hands of the Lord. For those who persevere, the rewards, the temporal rewards, there is nothing else like it.

You may think, is all this really true? Is it all what it proposes to be? Are we really in the hands of the Lord? Is what we are learning worth anything? What nails it down is when you realize the Lord working in your life. The more you grow and apply, and when things work out, it is truly amazing. This boosts your confidence. Passing these tests boosts your confidence. Further, there are eternal rewards.

There is a 3rd cost in v. 33.

Luke 14:33 So therefore, any one of you who does not renounce all that he has cannot be My disciple.

You must give away all of your possessions to the needy, then you can be His disciple. Many a hypocritical liberal has quoted this verse in his tax and spend schemes. This has nothing to do with this verse. In the Middle ages, many monks took vows of poverty based upon this verse. Give up all attachments and all personal ownership. They did all kinds of things to please God, to be a true disciple. Many a church has used this verse as a motivation for sacrificial giving. Give until it hurts. Give until you are bled dry.

Remember what giving is in the Christian life. It is always based upon attitude; on the attitude of grace orientation. You can give everything away; and this means absolutely nothing when it comes to the means of discipleship.

The key is your attitude toward possessions. How do you see them in relationship to the Christian way of life.

Explaining Luke 14:33

1. What does this verse not mean. It does not mean that the disciple must give up all possessions. You can retain your possessions and be a disciple; a functioning an effective disciple.
2. Material possession and money are not evil nor are they prohibited to the disciple. Wealth does not mean that you cannot be a good disciple. What does it mean to give up all one's possession?
3. The key word is the verb αποτασσω, and it means to give up, to take leave of, to renounce.
4. However, to take leave of, to say farewell, to renounce, does not mean to liquidate.
5. In this case, taking leave of, saying farewell or renouncing material things refers to an attitude of soul.
6. The believer must retain the right perspective concerning material things. You must be able to say farewell. Material things are not necessities for the Christian life. They are not wrong, but your attitude might be.
7. Philip. 4:12–13 I know how to be brought low, and I know how to abound. In any and every circumstance, I have learned the secret of facing plenty and hunger, abundance and need. I can do all things through him who strengthens me. Paul's emphasis is that he might have a great abundance of material things; or he might be without; and he is okay either way.
8. The focus of Paul's life is the Lord; not what he has or does not have. He is willing to live under any and all conditions. With a mindset on the objective of the Christian life. This is Paul's application of Luke 14:33.
9. People, even believers, are terribly afraid of losing what they have. They are so afraid that they lose the impetus of the spiritual life with a life of worry. Retaining wealth can be more difficult than attaining it in the first place.
10. Material things can be a great distraction. They mask what is really important in life.
11. Whether you have things or not is never the issue. The issue is your attitude toward things that matter. Are material things the driving force in your life? If they are, then you are a spiritual failure. It does not matter how many Bible classes you attend. What are your priorities? How do you learn doctrine? Even if you have a lot of money, you still end up spending it. Where are your priorities?

Money is not power in comparison to the power of the Holy Spirit. To many, money is God and that is seen as the greatest thing.

The pharisees were most concerned of the money that they were making at the Temple, like selling animals at the Temple entrance.

Your Attitude Toward Material Things

1. It is quite natural to think of possessions as property that belong only to us. I earned a lot and no one is going to take it from me. Life is over for those who lose large amounts of money.
2. That is so the wrong attitude for the believer in Jesus Christ. This does not mean that you don't think about making money.
3. It is always about viewpoint and emphasis. All of these things work when your priorities are straight.
4. You have to come to the point of understanding; the material things of life are not really ours. We do not own anything.
5. We do not own anything in this world. It is the devil's world. Those things are not worth having in comparison to the spiritual riches provided in Christ.
6. What Christ demands is giving up the attitude of materialism, rather than out right disposal of personal property or money; becoming a socialist rather than being a capitalist. Do the best you can making a living; just remember your priorities.
7. Your attitude then, like Paul, should be, live with what you have and do not lust for that which you do not have.
8. Just understand something; you really own nothing in this world. All that you have is temporary.
9. Your existence in this world depends on logistical grace, not on our ability or inability to make or have money or material things. Even if you have money, that is still a part of your logistical grace. You may have the golden touch, great. If you can't make a dollar, no matter what you do, what is the priority? Money provides for a temporal existence. It is a great convenience. But the priority is our spiritual life more than an excess of money.
10. God provides what is necessary for us to survive and to thrive and to serve; sometimes more and sometimes less.
11. What you have is, little or a lot, is not the priority. Therefore, it should not be the concern of your life. We are given temporary provisions under logistical grace. But these can be forfeited tomorrow under service to the Lord, or they might be increased dramatically. God provides wealth, in many cases, in service to the Lord.

The Priorities of V. 33

1. The meaning of v. 33 is all about priorities.
2. Possessions on this earth must never supercede priorities in this life for the believer, for the disciple.
3. The cost of discipleship is priority to the Lord.
4. So do not become attached to material things; it is one of the great distractions and traps that believers fall into. Jesus is not saying we have to give up all our money.

5. That which is ours in heaven is permanent, beyond whatever this world has to offer. The spiritual life lasts forever and how we live it is based upon being rewarded in heaven forever. So empty your head of materialism and fill it with Bible doctrine.

Lesson #0802

Luke 14: Life of Christ

2/7/2015 1Sunday

It is vogue to be very sensitive and to take offense at anything.

We will complete Luke 14. The Lord is calling for disciples; those who will stick to His plan regardless of their circumstances and what will happen to them. This is parallel to Rom 12:1–2. This is divesting oneself of human viewpoint.

The effective disciples understands what the will of God is and how to renovate their lives. It is impossible to be a spiritually mature believer without knowing Bible doctrine.

Jesus reveals in this passage the cost of effective discipleship in very graphic terms. They include hating family, carrying a cross, giving up all possessions. These are all metaphors for giving priority to God in embracing discipleship. Hating family means that you put discipleship in front of family; this does not mean that you work up animosity toward those in your family (even though this passage may have been a bright spot in the Bible for some of you). Family is not above the will of God. The challenges to discipleship will always be great, but they are not impossible for the believer.

The disciple must give up material things; that is, human possessions. We cannot be good disciples unless we are poverty stricken? This does not mean that the believer must divest himself of all money or personal property. This describes an attitude; it is what is in your soul; giving up the attitude of materialism.

God provides for some people as a result of dedication to Him. But the key is priority and attitude.

Jesus is not limiting this call to just the 12 disciples; but He is calling all of the disciples of the Church Age to be His effective disciples. He is calling all of us to discipleship. This demands right priorities in our thinking. The key is the willingness to give up all or many things. We need the right perspective; the attitude demanded of every believer. The mature believer is not distracted by having prosperity.

The disciples need to pay close attention to these lessons. This is very difficult for people to understand and to take in and to follow. The disciples will have to live priorities; and they will eventually have to give up their lives in martyrdom.

Let goods and kindred go, this mortal life also,... Martin Luther must have been thinking about Luke 14 when he wrote this. We owe a lot to Martin Luther in leading us out of the Dark Ages.

Now the Lord's conclusion, closing out Luke 14. This comes out of Matt. 5:13.

Matt. 5:13 "You are the salt of the earth, but if salt has lost its taste, how shall its saltiness be restored? It is no longer good for anything except to be thrown out and trampled under people's feet.

In a good restaurant, you will not see the salt.

Luke 14:34 "Salt is good, but if salt has lost its taste, how shall its saltiness be restored?"

V. 35 has some different material from the Matthew passage.

Salt in those days was a seasoning for food. By all rights, some of us should be dead from what we used to do (eating salt tablets after working out).

Luke 14:35 "It is of no use either for the soil or for the manure pile. It is thrown away. He who has ears to hear, let him hear."

Salt was used then in order to preserve things, like meat. Salt also represents judgment in the Bible.

The Believer and Salt

1. Disciples who are successful in advancing in the spiritual life are salt in a corrupt world.
2. We give to the world something it did not otherwise have.
3. We give the world a savor, a clear testimony of the gospel.
4. The disciple is a necessary preservative of the client nation. We should know about our own country; but more importantly, we should be advancing believers. Salt is a preservative in adversity.
5. On the judgment side, when salt becomes tasteless, it no longer preserves food. Tasteless salt is of no use to us. The failed disciples is not fit for the dirt or for the manure pile. a failed disciple wastes his Time on the dirt in this world.

All believers have eternal security. That is what Luke 15 is all about. This believer will have his rewards in heaven forfeited.

Don't get your priorities mixed up; listen to what I say. When the Lord says, listen and learn, that is the priority. This is what Bobby is a stickler for not talking.

Discipleship is about renovating the mind; it is about setting priorities. Not family, not money, not human life itself should stand in the way of our spiritual future. We are not to lose our savor as salt.

If we ever feel like we are off track, we return to this study to figure out how to get back on track.

The positive view is in the next chapter.

This follows Luke 14.

A new set of people are mentioned here; tax collectors and sinners. The tax collectors were some of the most hated of all the Jews. They were of the lower eschalon of society. The pharisees despised these people.

One question that we must ask ourselves, who do these outcasts of society represent? Parables always represent something else. Who is being described?

Are they a group of followers who represent those who were spiritual outcasts, regarding the pharisees.

Bobby calls this the eternal security chapter. There are the outcasts; the sinners. They come near to metabolize the doctrine that Jesus was teaching. They cared nothing for their past; only with their future with the Lord.

They are the picture of grace.

Jesus is spending time with these hated groups. These are the most significant of the outcasts. They are seen as outcasts by nearly everyone. Jesus will make clear illustrations, using these groups.

The truly lost (the pharisees) and the repentance sinners are being compared here. The changing of the mind of these repentant sinners.

Jesus has dinner with the sinners and the tax collectors; and this concerns the pharisees and others. The pharisees brought the Lord in for dinner, but that was in order to attack Him. Jesus represents the attitude of God the Father toward the lost.

Christians often exclude other Christians who do not measure up to their standards. They cannot see themselves objectively; but they see others quite judgementally.

Introducing Luke 15

1. These parables are not explanations of the redemption of sinners. This statement goes out on a limb. This disagrees with most commentators.
2. The outcasts are not sinners being redeemed from the slave market of sin; but this is what the pharisees need.
3. The lost sinners, the tax collectors, the prostitutes, do not represent the unsaved. These were not in association with the Lord, but now they are. That is key. Now they are close to Him. Seemingly they were outcasts, they were always a part of the Kingdom of God. Eternal security is one of the great concepts of Christian doctrine. You are already disciples, you have heard about the costs in the previous chapter; but now let's back up a step and make certain that you understand that you will remain a believer. Eternal security is one of the most disputed doctrines in Christianity today. People want to link their salvation to how good they are in time. The Jews rejected Him; but the outcasts have embraced Him

“If you have ears, listen,” is the last thing that Jesus said.

Luke 15:1 Now the tax collectors and sinners were all drawing near to hear him.

αγγιζω = to draw near. Ingressive aorist is talking about an action in progress at that very moment. These people are truly followers. These are outcasts to the Legalists, but not to Jesus Christ. They are His.

But the pharisees grumble. He receives sinners and He eats with them. He is a phony; look at the people that He associates with.

They were not separated from Christ; they were simply far away from Him. The pharisees were and are separated from the Lord.

Perhaps the cost of discipleship was too much for these types. They wanted the blessings of the kingdom; they wanted what is promised them. They do not want persecution and death. That was not what they bargained for.

This new group may be used to this in their personal lives. We are not to go out to find trouble for Jesus; but trouble will find the growing believer. It is a part of the Angelic Conflict. It is a part of the world that we live in. It is important for our spiritual growth. It accelerates our spiritual growth. Our growth is accelerated. The more we utilize our doctrine under pressure, the more we grow and move ahead.

There is the testing or the discipline which are a part of the growing and the spiritual advance. Adversity and opposition are the costs of discipleship. However, some will not make discipleship the priority of their lives. That is easy for anyone. Some do not want to persevere in Bible doctrine. The empty seats around us belong to those who do not want to persevere.

Don't think if you depart from discipleship, that you will be left alone in this life. Don't think that nothing will happen. As a believer in Jesus Christ, we will face adversity in this life or we face discipline. It is going to hurt either way; and the Lord always takes up the slack. This is nothing but training and testing; it all evens out. When your priorities are right, then everything else falls into place.

R. B. Thieme, Jr. ministries recently put out The Pursuit of Happiness. The greatness of the spiritual life. It does not matter if we are prosperous or in adversity.

Some pursue emotional experiences as new Christians. Some won't tell them that they are going to run into trouble. They seek excitement or mega church or community activities or some kind of a program; or some maverick cult.

A believer that Bobby knew. They went to different high schools; and he believed because of Young Life. Then his gf ditched him; and he was upset and said, "Christians are all hypocrites." He did not understand that Christians can be failures and live completely apart from the Christian way of life. Such a one can end up living a miserable life.

You can either stand for something or you can stand for nothing. The cost of discipleship as revealed by Christ; so they hide or they leave or they choose the realm of the unbeliever. They perhaps think that they should not face discomfort or they cannot set aside their human pursuits in life.

Or they see other Christians and say, "I don't want to be like them." Or they do not want the cost of discipleship in their lives.

The people to whom Jesus is speaking were spiritual outcasts before; but they are now considering the cost of discipleship and they are following Him, even though they are the low life of society.

Bobby is introducing us to ourselves.

Luke 15:2 And the Pharisees and the scribes grumbled, saying, "This man receives sinners and eats with them."

Lesson #0804

Luke 15: Life of Christ

2/10/2016 Wed

This is the eternal security chapter. It addresses the sinners, the tax collectors, those who were outcasts, but who are now associated with the Lord Jesus Christ. They are listening to His teaching. They are no longer outcasts. Those in Luke 15 are called lost, whom the Lord seeks. So we have to understand what it means for them to be lost. They are not unbelievers. Bobby got a better idea after getting into the context of this chapter.

Luke 15:1 Now the tax collectors and sinners were all drawing near to hear him.

Tax collectors were outcasts. Matthew was a tax collector. Many of them had come to the Lord. There were a number of sinners, and these are people who were obviously reprobates. They committed obvious sins. These are like the prostitutes and those who were a part of that group.

Luke 15:2 And the Pharisees and the scribes grumbled, saying, "This man receives sinners and eats with them."

"He has fellowship with these lowlifes." They had formerly been far away from Him previously. They had become believers, but they were, previously, far from the Lord. Eggizô, which means to approach, to draw near with a purpose. They were there to hear what Jesus had to say. These guys had ears. Progressive present; action in progress. A continuing action. This was not a one-shot deal. All the tax collectors and the sinners. They were continually coming near to Him. Their lives were characterized by separation.

They were public outcasts. They were hated and persecuted by the religious Jews and those who associated with the religious types. Associating with Christ meant even more persecution. The sinners and tax collectors did not care much about this, as they had been outcasts for awhile. They understood the costs of discipleship, to some degree. They might as well pay that price. They were not self-centered; and they were not self righteous. They were not living lives of hardship for the greatest of reasons. They were the epitome of what disciples were. They lived for the cause of Jesus Christ. Now that they had drawn near. They are very receptive to the message of doctrine. The grace oriented life that Jesus taught was very attractive to these who saw through the veneer of self-righteousness and self-importance.

Who has the hardest time understanding grace and accepting it? Those who have no need of anyone else. Those who recognize that they need grace latch onto it. That will be the point of Luke 15. Jesus is seeking those who latch on to grace. Jesus was attracting those who were seeking and finding Him. They were at Bible class every time that the Lord stood up to speak.

Theologians often break this down into 3 separate parables. However, these are not separate parables. Luke calls them this parable; one parable with 3 parts. The lost sheep (1–7); the lost silver coin (8–10), and the lost son or the prodigal son (11–32). These are 3 separate panels of one big picture.

Luke 15:3 So he told them this parable:

These parables are interconnected. Bobby thought of a group of paintings which he saw in London; reconstructed, and there was a famous panel of paintings in this house. The Rake's Progress. Hogarth is the artists. This is about someone who spends a lot of time partying. He drags himself from one debauch to another. He wastes his life on high living. Wine women and song. Each one of these panels follows from his habits to eventual debtor's prison, where you may be bought out or you might be left their to rot. Each panel was interconnected; and each showed a progress to the final pathetic outcome. Not sure if he was a believer; but what happened here indicates that he is a prodigal son. What we are studying here are 3 panels and one subject.

The Lord sets forth a supreme fact. God seeks and finds the outcasts and He brings them to Him.

Before we get into the separate study of them, we will examine them collectively. They are a grouping of parables. There is a repetition of the same doctrine in all 3 parables. This is a critical doctrine. 3x repetition.

The Prominent Theme of All Them:

1. Something of value to an owner is lost.
2. After a search, it is found by the owner.

3. There is great joy at the recovery of that which was lost to the owner.
4. The basic premise is, that which was lost already belonged to the owner. You cannot lose what you do not have. The owner is not seeking for something that he does not own.
5. What was lost was already the property or family of the one seeking them. The father and the prodigal son did not seek...
6. The finders in the parables, the woman, shepherd and the father, were owners of the coin, the sheep and the son. All 3 lost things, things which belonged to them.

Application of These Principles

1. These owners in all 3 parables represent the Lord Jesus Christ. The shepherd, the woman and the father.
2. Christ already owns the property that was lost; He is the parent of the lost son.
3. In this case, He is not seeking something that did not already belong to Him.
4. In these parables, the Lord is not seeking unbelievers. They are lost, but lost in a different way. Unbelievers do not belong to Christ. They are not family members as the prodigal was. This is a parable about those he owns and those who are lost.
5. Unbelievers, like the pharisees, are truly lost and they cannot be found. They will not come near to Christ because they have already reject Him by their legalism.
6. Salvation of the lost unbeliever is not the context of these 3 parables.
7. This is different than the approach of many other commentators.

These are parables about things which the Lord already owns; but somehow, they got lost, misplaced or wandered off. So these are carnal or reversionistic believers. There is also a progressive movement. None of these 3 parables can be omitted, without something being lost.

Hogart panels; each shows something about that man. He is looking bad, looking really bad, looking in prison. Take out some pictures and that is exactly ho

These parables are a parabolic masterpiece. The sheep, the coin and the son. At the time that this was written, it was serious to lose a sheep. You were losing some of your property. It was worse to lose actual money at any time. And catastrophic to lose a son, a family member. Each item is lost for a different reason. This is because believers are separated from God for various reasons.

The sheep strays off. Few animals are so easily distracted and misled as sheep. This sheep drifts off aimlessly away from the flock. This sheep probably had a vague idea that it was without companionship with the others; and there were no... Confused, clueless, and he was lost. He is the unthinking believer who just wanders away from the Lord.

Next is the coin, and a woman loses the coin. A coin is not a living thing like a sheep. No real consciousness of being lost. The coin feels no discomfort or anxiety at being lost. The woman cared that coin was lost. The coins just roll on for whomever finds them first.

Believers in a church where nothing is being taught. They leave with the concept of nothing being taught. They are bored. Does nothing for them. They fall in with whomever or whatever alls into their path. The person who the coin represents may be manipulated by whomever possesses them. Out of the hand of the rightful owner and into the hand of thieves or whatever.

Then we come to the prodigal son, who willfully, consciously is lost. He makes a choice. A declaration of independence. He wanted to go and find himself. He is the rake. He did not want to be bound to all his father required. He ran into everything that was troubling.

All were lost for different reasons and were still lost from their owner. The first two are actively sought by the owner. The 3rd is the father being patient; he does not seek his son. He let his son go he wrong...

Commonalities

1. These parables might be the parables of the 4 verbs: lose, seek, find and rejoice. That is the sequence.
2. That is the sequence of the owner who seeks and finds his lost property.
3. This is the attitude of the Lord Jesus Christ, even to His straying property or family.
4. After all had been spoken by Christ, these parables became a mirror for the religious leaders. They could see themselves as non seekers. They could not seem themselves as outcasts. They should have been... There is a security with being in the fold, in the pocket, in the house of the father.

This can have an affect on the unbeliever who would like this kind of security. The final parable has a partially unhappy ending. The brother, the good boy, does not take part in the celebration of his brother's return. He stayed and shouldered the responsibility.

The father is gracious; and he treats the son in grace. As if he did not blow off all this money. What a brilliant and penetrating picture of...the perseverance of the Lord. He never gives up.

Now we will take them apart. They will all reveal security.

Lesson #0805

Luke 15: Life of Christ

2/11/2016 Thurs

This is the eternal security chapter; and the 3 parables are a like a panel painting; and all taken together are required and they give a composite picture of what we are to know.

The parable of the shepherd, the parable of the silver coin, and the parable of the prodigal.

First parable:

Luke 15:4 "What man of you, having a hundred sheep, if he has lost one of them, does not leave the ninety-nine in the open country, and go after the one that is lost, until he finds it?"

A good shepherd would retrieve even one sheep, if they wander. Good shepherds do exactly what is described here—he will go after this one sheep. This is the duty of the shepherd. The emphasis is not upon the herd; the emphasis is upon the 1 lost sheep, and the extent to which the shepherd will go to recover his property. The sheep belongs to the shepherd. Even as a straying sheep, he still belongs to this shepherd. We are owned by the Lord Jesus Christ. He owns us even if we wander off. This parable reveals the logic of seeking the lost. Every single sheep has value. We are all sheep; and all that is being said about sheep is applied directly to us. Shouldn't they all be guarded? Whether in the right place or not. Logic says yes, they are all a part of the same flock. The shepherd takes the time to seek these sheep.

The tax collectors, sinners and pharisees are all hearing this. There will be a contrast between these groups. The pharisees despised the tax collectors and sinners. They have no room for anyone outside of their circle. They are not interested in that lost sheep. One wanders off, becomes a tax collector or a sinner, that is fine by them. Bye, bye.

Jesus always seeks the outcasts which are His.

The Straying Sheep

1. This is how great the concern of Jesus Christ is over the straying of just one of His Own sheep. We are His sheep and we can and do wander off. Some have gone out further than others. Some have gone way out.
2. He continues to search as v. 4b until He finds this missing sheep. There is no let up in this search.
3. He is concerned for the sheep's safety and welfare in the dangerous world around them. It is the devil's world.
4. He does whatever it takes to retrieve and to restore any sheep that strays. He does whatever it takes; this is for the sheep's benefit.
5. Being outside of the spiritual life for a sheep is not our normal status.
6. Sheep are not independent animals; they are very dependent. Nor are we independent. We must have that dependence upon the Lord.
7. Being close to the shepherd is the most favorable condition for any sheep. Being lost is not a favorable condition. The optimum status for any believer is fellowship with the shepherd.
8. The shepherd's persistence is a display of God's unfailing personal love toward all. His love never fails; it never ceases, it never wains. It is always directed toward those who are His Own.
9. The good shepherd is not satisfied with a favorable percentage of sheep. 99% is good enough for me; I am happy with that. The shepherd looks for that lost sheep.
10. His never-changing personal love extends to all who are His sheep. The sheep furthest away is the one sheep that the shepherd pursues the hardest.
11. His love does not stray. This is reversionism. God's love continues for even the reversionist.

12. This is a great representation of God's grace towards those of his sheep who stray, who leave the fold, who exit the spiritual life. Where does the Lord want us? He wants us in His fold.
13. This is a promise or security. We are members of His flock.

Can a sheep be so lost that he can never be recovered? This is a great controversy today.

Can Believers Stray and Be Lost Forever, and Never Found?

1. According to the pharisees, this is true of the outcasts; the tax collectors and sinners. But they are now associated with Christ.
2. Obviously, this is not the way that God approaches strays. He does not approach strays like legalists do.
3. God never gives up
4. Every believer is still His property; whether stray or His property. He is still seeking.
5. He cannot let any believer go. He holds us in His hand and He can never let go.
6. He wants His property to be restored to fellowship; and this is why He seeks. Even not restored to fellowship, they are still His sheep.

A sheep may have many masters, but it only has one owner.

More Points

1. Once a sheep, always a sheep.
2. The grace of God never gives up on someone who is a believer in Jesus Christ.
3. No one becomes too lost to be found; or has strayed too far to be returned to the fold of the Good Shepherd.

Some may use this analogy to say, "This sheep does not belong to the owner" or the owner gives up ownership if the sheep never returns. Some understanding eternal security will think that all sheep will just head off wandering about. The fold for the sheep is the best place to be; it is the only place to be. As a believer where we really want to be is the spiritual life. This is the only place for us to be. There is misery and problems everywhere else. There are sheep rustlers out there.

God goes to great lengths to recover the straying believer.

When the sheep is found, this is what happens. The shepherd lays the sheep on his shoulders and he rejoices. This is a very poignant image.

Bobby now suggests the western art, next door to a restaurant; and inevitably, there is a picture of a cowboy on a horse with a calf over the saddle. It depicts the rescue and care of the cowboy, even under the worse of conditions. He has been searching for that calf for a very long time. The sheep over the shoulder is the customary way of bringing the sheep back. There is great tenderness and joy. There is no anger in time and effort spent in finding this lost sheep. Parents finding the stray; they are overjoyed to find you, even if they spank you later.

Impersonal love is represented by the gift of His Son. We were unbelievers in that realm. When a believer, He extends personal love toward us. We are His family and His love never ceases. The Unfailing Love of God; that means security. That is how children view parents. It is security.

Even the stray believer has the righteousness of God. We are still justified even in reversionism. He is justified to the Lord. God continues to search for those who possess His perfect righteousness. He can do this without compromising His love. He always goes after the sheep out of fellowship. We are justified and He loves us. We need to recognize that we need to find our way back. From straying and all the way back and how to get there. The recovery of the sheep. We keep moving with the rest of the sheep. This is what we are doing right now. We keep moving by the intake of Bible doctrine.

Always think of His concern as personal love. However, recovery may involve discipline. Many a stray believer hurts so much, they come back and find a way not to hurt.

Luke 15:5 And when he has found it, he lays it on his shoulders, rejoicing.

The sinners and tax collectors are like the straying sheep. They were formerly outcasts, and now they are in front of the Lord Jesus Christ and now they are drawing near. The sinners and the tax collectors were rejected by the legalists, but God's grace is still there for them.

Straying people, I seek them; and the pharisees do not do this. They will not accept the outcasts. They reject them. This sheep rejects the shepherd; the unbeliever.

When a sheep is recovered, the shepherd's attitude is one of great joy. The straying believer is living in the fold. This is the natural state of the believer. The Lord is delighted that His search has paid off and there is recovery. He loves us and when we come back, He is delighted.

Who could be as happy as the shepherd to get this one sheep back?

Lesson #0806

Luke 15: Life of Christ

2/14/2015 1Sunday

The Eucharist February 14, 2016

These instructions were given before His trials. 1John 4:8 God is our ultimate valentine; God is love. The surpassing riches of His grace upon us for all eternity. God, being rich in mercy or grace, because of the great love with which He loved us, made us alive in Christ. By grace, you have been saved.

Central to our salvation is the divine attribute of love. John 3:16 Rom. 5:8 While we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. The Lord satisfied the just wrath of God by taking upon Himself our sins. He removed the penalty of sin for all mankind (expiation). God is eternal; He always existed and His love as an attribute has always existed. His love does not have a starting point. Love always existed toward us. It never changes or alters toward us. Our love must be generated and developed over time. Human love does not blossom by first learning the worst about a person. We do not find out on the first date, "Tell me what your worst qualities are." God knew us perfectly, even before we were created; and He still loved us. Given a choice, we would sin and rebel against Him. And, sure enough, Adam, made that choice against God. 1Cor. 15:52 In Adam, all die. We are our own worst enemies. Adam's disobedience did not affect God's love one bit.

A problem arises. God cannot love the sins of man or the sin nature which dominates us. He would provide atonement for those sins. Sin would no longer be a barrier. We as people might disappoint or fail; but divine love has never been disappointed, frustrated or diminished by what He knows or by what we do. His love does not increase even knowing about our relative righteousness. It is not affected by what we do or fail to do. Not affected by our imperfect activities.

God's love is dependable in all circumstances; and His love always functions in a rational and not irrational manner, with absolute integrity. His love is so much greater than human, romantic love. God's love brings the most deep and satisfying relationship to us that anyone can experience. Nothing in our experience to equal the love of God.

God could have left us in the condemnation that we deserve; and yet He did something about our condition, out of His love. Love could not act alone to save us. God's love cannot on its own be extended to sinful mankind. God cannot love sin; God cannot associate with any of us who sin. No matter how much God loves His creatures, sin cannot be in His Presence.

His love cannot simply overlook the sin problem. Love is not the total answer. God cannot simply dismiss man's sin or absolve man of his sins. God would not be God if He accepted man's sins. Love alone cannot reconcile man to God.

Divine righteousness, justice and love, dictate all of God's actions toward mankind; and especially His atonement on our behalf. How do these attributes work together to save mankind? Righteous demands that all the sins of human history be condemned. So everyone descended from Adam would be condemned. His faultless justice requires that sins be paid for.

Jesus was judged for us. His attitude of love placed Jesus in our midst. What other reason could there be for God the Father to place all the sins of man upon Jesus and judge them? All of this was done out of His love for us.

The sins imputed to the Lord Jesus Christ were not His sins. He wanted no part of these sins. They are as abhorrent to the Lord as they are to God the Father. What kind of love was this, that perfect God could direct a special kind of love. A love focused on the Lord Jesus Christ. God loves the sinner because of what God has done. God's love does not depend upon the merit of the object, which is us, but upon the grace and merit of the subject.

We begin life as His enemy. While we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of His Son. Grace is the overwhelming demonstration of God's love for us. This is the salvation that He has provided for us. God's grace in action. God graciously forgave us of all our pre-salvation sins. We have been reconciled to Him because Christ became sin for us. So we are justified in His sight. He no longer sees our sins as a barrier; He sees the righteous of Jesus Christ in us. He counts only His righteousness in us.

God is our benefactor; our friend; and because of this, and because of His provision, we can think like He does. God is no longer our enemy. He is no longer the judge of our sins. That judgment has been dealt with. There is no longer an impenetrable barrier between God and us.

The love of God is worth remembering on Valentine's Day.

We are in the first parable. This chapter deals with sinners, prostitutes, and tax collectors, the dregs of society in Palestine. These parables must be taken together; 3 parts and one parable.

The legalistic pharisees in v. 2 absolutely hated these groups. God's grace seeks the lost and associates with them. These outcasts do not represent unbelievers, but believers. Derelicts or outcasts are believers who have strayed. Sheep who have strayed. They are completely out of fellowship. But now they have drawn near to the Lord. They have removed the outcast status and they are now in association with Him. Accepted by Christ but the pharisees could not be accepted, as they rejected the Lord.

These parables might be the parables of the 4 verbs: lose, seek, find and rejoice.

The first parable to include these 4 verbs; and this teaches the absolute security that is in Him. We are absolutely secure, no matter where we are in life. What shepherd does not go after the lost sheep? Jesus never gives up seeking us or seeking our return.

Lesson #0807

Luke 15: Life of Christ

2/14/2016 2Sunday

Annual congregational meeting next week.

Luke 15:3 So he told them this parable:

Luke 15:4 "What man of you, having a hundred sheep, if he has lost one of them, does not leave the ninety-nine in the open country, and go after the one that is lost, until he finds it?"

Unbelievers are independent of the shepherd. Jesus wants each one who is lost back under His care. He continues to go back after the one that is lost until He finds it. God can find the sheep and will not give up until He finds the sheep. Those who express faith alone in Christ alone, the Lord will find and recover.

This is not to encourage us to meander off.

The shepherd does not allow us to wander and then whatever happens, happens. Once a member of His flock, always a member of His flock. Once we are given salvation, the Lord cannot take it back. Nor will He fail to seek those who are His. Heb. 12:6 fits in here.

Many people have hurt so much as to get them to return to Berachah Church. In Berachah, we have the wherewithal to withstand anything, inside the fold. The attitude of the shepherd is found in v. 5.

Luke 15:5 And when he has found it, he lays it on his shoulders, rejoicing.

This would be a scared sheep, a hungry sheep, and the Lord does not kick him back to the flock, but picks it up and brings it back. This is the natural state of the believer, being in fellowship and growing in grace. That is the caring of the Lord. The Lord is delighted that His journey has paid off and He has recovered the sheep.

The neighbors and friends rejoice as well. Just one sheep that is lost, and even the neighbors and friends celebrate.

Luke 15:6 And when he comes home, he calls together his friends and his neighbors, saying to them, 'Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep that was lost.'

Who are all these people in the parable?

Every sheep is valuable in an agrarian economy.

These are of course the ones who are closest to the shepherd and they are aware of the search and they greatly desire that this sheep be found. The scribes and pharisees should have rejoiced, but they did not. The outcasts of Israel being brought back into the fold ought to be important to them. The pharisees hate these outcasts and the Lord loves them. The pharisees should rejoice with the Lord; they should be the ones seeking. But they were not. The legalists do not rejoice over the reform rake.

The Rake's Progress a panel of pictures in the Soame House in England.

The pharisees and scribes complained about the association of the tax collectors and sinners. The complaint that they even ate with them.

If we are out of fellowship, then we are among the lost sheep. But such a one is never irretrievable to God. The legalist rejects these who they do not approve of. These legalists are the unbelievers.

This parable is a contrast between the grace of God toward His sheep and the legalists who reject His sheep.

These wandering sheep might be blamed for committing sins that the pharisees would never do. These outcasts will be a part of the kingdom. Those who reject Jesus Christ will never be there.

Man's view is never the same as God's view. We need to get this to understand just how secure that we are. The world is quite insecure. A whole group of people are scared to death over the death of one Supreme Court Justice. How many of us thought, this is interesting to see how the Lord takes care of this. We have security. The rest of the world has no security.

Who are the friends and neighbors of the shepherd? This is answered in v. 7:

Luke 15:7 Just so, I tell you, there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous persons who need no repentance.

The joy is in heaven. They rejoice when a lost sheep changes his mind. The Lord is opposed to the crowd. The sinners and tax collectors are out of fellowship believers; and they are availing themselves of God's grace in recovery, which results in great rejoicing.

We are back in action, moving ahead in the spiritual life. This is recovery. In contrast, the pharisees would not even see grace. They were acceptable to themselves. In their view, they did not need to change their minds about anything. They were fine. They failed to recognize the unrighteousness in themselves.

The self righteous in churches today will criticize anyone and everyone in the church, but themselves. They see no reason to evaluate themselves. They put all the responsibility on everyone else. Self righteous believers are just like that. They may not recover from their self-righteousness. They are still believers who have that option.

When do you use rebound? When you commit a sin that you recognize. The self righteous have a real problem seeing this. These self righteous see the sinners as lost forever. But exactly the opposite is true. They are sheep who have strayed in another direction. Their legalistic trend sends them off in the wrong direction.

In this parable, the Lord is contrasting legalism with antinomianism. The pharisees had palpable scorn for these other sinners. They could not fellowship as long as they remained in their self-righteousness.

The contrast was so marked. The legalists totally missed the point of this parable. The Lord was presenting exactly the opposite truth of what was being taught by the pharisees.

Closing Points

1. Because of the return of one stray sheep, one reversionist, there is universal joy in heaven. Joy in the ranks of angels. Rebound and the angels rejoice.
2. The angelic conflict is in full display here when it comes to grace versus legalism.
3. The elect angels rejoice at the salvation of one person. They also rejoice at the recovery of the straying believer.
4. So rebound is also a victory in the Angelic Conflict. It is the believer who turns away from being out of fellowship and returns to fellowship and the spiritual life that opposes this world.
5. Heaven is more excited about one profligate changing his mind and shouldering the costs of discipleship. Luke 14 is all about the cost of discipleship. No rejoicing when legalists celebrate their own piety. "Boy, are we righteous." They are all ready to hang the title of sinners on others; yet cannot look at themselves objectively.

Better to be a recovered sinner and tax collector than a pharisee filled with self-righteousness. There is no security in self-righteousness. The Lord will take a reformed wandering believer over a self righteous legalist any day of the week. He would glad bestow His grace on that one repentant believer.

A woman is the center of attention in the next parable. The woman will represent the Lord Jesus Christ in that parable.

Lesson #0808

Luke 15:8 Life of Christ

2/17/2016 Wed

No Bible class next week; Orlando.

Three parables; but one essential meaning.

The Scripture uses women many times. Women were not necessarily thought of as equal; but they played a very important part in His ministry.

Luke 15:8 "Or what woman, having ten silver coins, if she loses one coin, does not light a lamp and sweep the house and seek diligently until she finds it?"

This was a poor peasant woman who lived in a house; or more properly, a hovel. She probably had a reed covered dirt floor and no windows. And she has a silver coin missing. This was worth about 18 cents in today's value, because they are so small; but it was a tenth of what she owned. It was quite important to her. She could not afford to lose this one coin. Misplacing it or dropping it was devastating to this woman.

When we start to lose the paper, we begin to worry about where it has gone. She lost a tenth of her net worth; and this occurs at night and she has no windows. No flashlight; and a lamp does not provide much illumination. In the mind of this woman, it was very necessary. She searched every corner of the house. Looked under whatever piece of furniture that she had. She left no stone unturned. You cannot understand where it went. It has to be nearby and yet she cannot find it. Sometimes these things end up in strange places.

So she searches until she finds it. She is relieved and very elated. Like the shepherd, she never gave up looking.

Luke 15:9 And when she has found it, she calls together her friends and neighbors, saying, 'Rejoice with me, for I have found the coin that I had lost.'

She calls together her friends and neighbors to rejoice over finding these coins.

Luke 15:10 Just so, I tell you, there is joy before the angels of God over one sinner who repents."

This is what the rejoicing is all about. There is joy among the angels of God over one reversionist who changes his mind.

Similar Parables

1. The woman owned the coin that she lost; it was hers and she wanted it back; desperately. The shepherd wanted his sheep back.
2. Like the stray sheep, the coin was found after a long and arduous search. Same category of parable; different objects.
3. Once these things are found, there is rejoicing. It really amounts to the same thing. Angels or people rejoicing
4. There is a great similarity with the prodigal who will return in the next parable. The only difference is, the father will not seek his prodigal son.

The Meaning of These Parables.

1. The woman represents the Lord.
2. The coin is the believer in Christ.
3. Even though lost, the believer is of immense value to the Lord. The pharisees, it would have been nothing by way of value.
4. There is great joy at the recovery of even such a small coin of seemingly little value
5. So it is in heaven when one believer returns to the Lord. Just one. When we rebound, the angels rejoice. This is the importance of rebound.
6. even one believer returned to the owner, returned to fellowship with the Lord, is a great even in heaven. The angels rejoice when we name our sins.
7. When a believer returns from carnality or reversionism; there is an Angelic Conflict implication. .

This is another application of the love of God.

A Contrast

1. A contrast from the believer who recovers from sin and reversionism; changing the mind about the spiritual life. He returns to spiritual advance.
2. Compare this to the self righteous legalist, the pharisees who are listening to this parable.
 - a. The legalist believes that he is in the fold of the whatever; that he is not lost.
 - b. He does not recognize his own absence from the plan of God. That is the horrible part of being a legalist. You don't see that your unrighteousness keeps you out of fellowship.
 - c. Much harder for the legalist to recognize his moral degeneracy. He sees himself or herself as moral and upstanding; but is out of fellowship all of the time.
 - d. Even though the Lord continues to search, they refuse to return to Him. However, they are still His sheep who have not been sold; they are still His coin that has not been spent.

The Interpretation

1. The loss, the search and the recovery. He are not as unbelievers; we are lost as carnal or reversionist.
2. Jesus seeks all who are His, regardless of their worth to others.
3. God never lets go and He never stops searching for the reversionist. He does this by circumstances, by discipline, which is a wake up call. The Lord is seeking for his return.
4. Even if the Lord's property remains lost, the search continues until the time that the believer departs from this life.

Now, we have come to the 3rd parable, the parable of the prodigal son. We have studied a great many parables; and tired of them or not, this is how He taught.

Introduction

1. What is God's attitude toward a believer out of fellowship; who has strayed?
2. It is the same grace attitude as found in the previous parables.
3. This story touches the nerve of actual human circumstances. This is about human beings.
4. This parable is a piece of human history. It is a fact of human behavior.
5. This introduces the volition of the lost. We are certainly not talking about the volition of the coin; so that makes the parable more complex.
6. The parable is about a boy (actually grown up physically) who has messed up his life by his own choice. Believers do this. Testimonies is to what a mess we have made of our own lives.
7. The boy turned his life into a mess, but recovery is only as far away as a confession of wrongdoing to his father. That is the key.

8. This is every believer at one time or another. Every man or every woman.
9. This puts forward the means to return to fellowship; the fellowship of the house of the father. The father in the parable; and of God the Father.

Luke 15:11 And he said, "There was a man who had two sons.

We begin the parable.

Luke 15:12 And the younger of them said to his father, 'Father, give me the share of property that is coming to me.' And he divided his property between them.

Both sons are involved; so both sons will have something to teach us. This is a family parable; a father and two sons. God and His family. Right up front, the younger son expresses the desire to believe; an act of will contrary to his father. It is a demand. To give is the aorist active imperative of διδωμι. "Dad, give me my share; I want what is coming to me, and right now. I cannot wait until you die. You might live a long time." He rejects the father's plan and his authority.

This boy had his own plan; and his father was not included in this plan. He craved freedom from his father's house. The father's house was confinement to him. There was just too much too long. He was a teenager longing for independence, for which he was not prepared.

He had no gratitude for a father who had raised him and provided for his future. He knew that he had something coming. Apparently, he had been seduced by a world beyond his home; and this was a life that beckoned him that was different from how he had been brought up. This might be us; this boy is in rebellion. He is in the opposite direction of what his father intended for him. Why should he follow his father's path. "He is too old to understand me. He does not get me; he does not get my generation." This is not new; it is true in every generation. He knows the pitfalls and the results. He knows that his son does not get the limits of his freedom. His son is rejecting the responsibility that comes with freedom. This boy is in direct violation of Hebrew law just by asking for his inheritance using this aorist active imperative.

This is a rejection of one's authority; apart from his own authority. This has been the attitude of the younger generation for the last 50 years, and each one has gotten less responsible and has desired more freedom. We are reveling in an anti-authority attitude.

Degeneracy has become what is right and correct to each new generation; particularly now.

Some Application

1. What a delusion that man can destroy establishment truth; morality or the divine institutions by simply denying them. In other words, these are just old things that can be cast aside.
2. That is the primeval lie. Exchanging the truth for a lie.

3. God's truth is never outdated. It does not restrict freedom; it enhances freedom. A man can demonstrate his freedom by jumping from a 20 story building; but the truth of the law of gravity will not be destroyed; but the man will be.
4. Physical freedom has limits. Mental freedom is always within limits.
5. A proposition cannot be true and untrue at the same time. That is what people want today. I have my truth and you have your truth.
6. Not all pathways lead to success in life. This boy had a chance to look at his father and his father was very successful; he could provide his children with cash. But this kid wants to plot his own path to success.
7. Not all decisions are correct; based upon what is right for me.
8. Relativism is a contradiction to truth. Truth is whatever I make it to be, which contradicts truth.
9. Likewise, moral freedom is always within limits.
10. The truth is, sin is sin. It cannot be denied as an outdated convention. Today, sin is passe. There is no such thing as sin; "It's all good." It is not. There are only different paths; but they are not equal nor are they all successful. The primeval lie. Our culture is not great because we have embraced all cultures. Our culture is based upon divine establishment principles and Christian doctrine. Someone said that our nation was founded on inclusiveness; all cultures being equal. No it was not.
11. Multiculturalism and freedom without limits is a denial of truth and untruth.

The prodigal son sought liberty without consequence. He wanted to be a libertine. He wanted in his own mind based upon his desires. Truth is what I desire truth to be. Truth is what I want it to be; it is what I want to do.

The father knew better, but he allowed his son to make these choices. He had to let the son follow through on his own bad decisions. The boy makes some bad decisions; but the father makes no attempt to hold onto him. Physical adult, but mental, moral and spiritual children. This son had already departed from his father's house in his thinking. His body would follow.

The father knew that he must allow the son's plan to play out. This son was not about to be dissuaded. He had rejected the father-son talk. He had to learn the hard way about freedom and about his life. That would be a most difficult time for his own father.

Lesson #0809

Luke 15:11–14 Life of Christ

2/18/2016 Thurs

Luke 15:11 And he said, "There was a man who had two sons.

The parable begins with a son's demand. He's probably a teenager. And he is demanding from his father his portion; expecting everyone to jump when he speaks. This is an arbitrary act of will, which is contrary to the wishes of his father.

His father's house had become a place of restriction. He prayed for freedom. He wanted to spread his wings; he wanted freedom. He wanted freedom without restraint; and that is being a libertine. He does not understand the necessary limits of freedom; something that few teenagers understand.

Freedom and Responsibility

1. This son rejects the responsibility that comes with freedom. Freedom is not free without responsibility. We have a generation who want freedom with no responsibility. A woman walking her dog, and she let the dog loose to do his business on the front porch. "But I want my dog to be free." Why not having a bag to pick up your dog's freedom. Such a one infringes on the freedom of others.
2. This leads to bad decisions.
3. This boy's bad decisions multiply unrestrained. The decisions that he makes continue to narrow his options. He comes to a point where there are no options.
4. Morality is a human safeguard for freedom. Unfortunately, the degeneracy in our country has taken freedom beyond responsibility, and has dragged our country down.

After age 12, spankings no longer do any good. But you can still talk to them. Here, it is obvious that the boy has departed from the father in his mind. The father knew that it was time to let the boy go his own way. He would have to reach his own conclusions about freedom, responsibility and making his own way. He needs to make some good decisions, but it won't be without first making some really bad decisions.

Some people must learn the hard way. As difficult as it must have been for the father, he divided his wealth between the two sons. This father had tremendous integrity. He was completely just. If one son gets his inheritance, then the other son must receive it as well.

He shows no favoritism, just like God the Father. God's love does not change toward any of his children.

Understand this father and how he responds to his son. When this father gave his sons their inheritance, this was 2/3 of his wealth. He was willing to do this for his sons. Freedom and responsibility in balance.

This boy represents the worst of human viewpoint. Carnality. He will be in moral degeneracy.

When you look at this, it is a picture of the sovereign plan of God and the free will of man coinciding. The believer must accept the plan of God, which includes living the spiritual life. The only alternative is for the believer to go his own way, to stay outside the plan of God. To reject the plan of God. There is always a volitional way of recovery. There will be a recovery of right-thinking and right-living. He wants us to be in His plan; but many times, we decide not to be.

Who Are These Characters in this Parable?

1. The father represents God the Father. All of this represents how God treats us. He allows us our free will.

2. The two sons are members of God's household; they are believers. Bobby has read some commentaries who think the son is not a believer. But he is the father's son; he is a member of the household.
3. These are two believers with two different trends of the sin nature. Bobby's drawing of the sin nature. Trend toward legalism; trend toward antinomianism, lasciviousness; and the prodigal son is off the charts on this latter trend. There are cross-overs; who are on one side and then move to the other.
4. The older boy is the legalist; the young one was the antinomian.
5. Both represent believers who are out of fellowship, failing to live the spiritual life.
6. The key to this parable is the relationship between father and son. That is the key.
7. When the parable concludes, the same relationship still exists as when the parable began. That is eternal security relationship. No matter what two sons do, they are still members of the family.
8. Both remain sons in their human family, regardless of their thinking or their relationships. The prodigal son renounced his family. He went as far away as he could, but this never changed his status as son.
9. They both remain in God's family, despite their different trends; despite their different types of carnality.
10. One recovers in fellowship with the father; in synch with his plan.
11. The other remains in reversionism. That is the legalist. So we see which one returns. The partier returns; not the self righteous legalist. The latter has a tough time seeing himself objectively.

Luke 15:12 And the younger of them said to his father, 'Father, give me the share of property that is coming to me.' And he divided his property between them.

The father divides the money between them and they both have equal opportunity. Every time there is a verse, there is a parallel to our spiritual life. So, what will they do with this capital? We all have equal amounts of this. No one gets shorted. We all have equal resources in life. God made us that way. The capital is the means by which we live the Christian life. This capital can be squandered.

V. 13 describes the squandering of the young son's money.

Luke 15:13 Not many days later, the younger son gathered all he had and took a journey into a far country, and there he squandered his property in reckless living.

He spends all his money as a result of loose living. He did not wait. He did not think about investing the money. He got all the cash and then spent it. He wanted to take the money running. This is indicative of how bad decisions are made. Quickly, reactively. No thought is given to the consequences of that decision. With doctrine in the soul, the believer can determine what sort of way to go.

Amaziah went to war, but he did not have the manpower to win; and Jerusalem was pillaged and beat down. He did not count the cost; he made bad decisions. These decisions were made without thinking about the consequences. That is freedom without responsibility.

First, he gets away from his father's house. He wanted to feel no regret or guilt. He wanted to live his own life in his own way. That is how he made the decision. He lives the life of the unbeliever, fully indulging the trends of the sin nature. By his own bad decisions. Prodigal son equals reversionism. You can fall apart overnight. You can forget doctrine and move into the human viewpoint lifestyle. Any semblance to the plan of God is gone. In the rush of self-gratification, there is no sense of responsibility. There is no right or wrong when it comes to self-indulgence. It is just me and what I want. Bad decisions.

He represents the believer who is way out of fellowship. What did he do? He squandered his newly acquired wealth with loose living. Asotos is an adverb that means loosely, debauchery, heavy party. If Bobby misses your sin, then you are thinking from the legalistic side of your sin nature.

Let's not camp on this boy's lasciviousness. The emphasis is not upon the type of sin. Easy to say he was into drunkenness, drinking, carousing, chasing skirt. But that is not the focus of this parable. The emphasis is not on the type of sin but the result of the sin. Both boys will have a result.

No matter which way you go, you will fit one or the other trend described in this parable. We fit the pattern of the prodigal son or the other son.

The self righteous types do a really good job of keeping their sins all hidden, giving the impression of being very moral and pious people. They are arrogant, bitter, envious, implacable, they are filled with worry, fear. Legalism and self-righteousness are their sins of choice.

Without question, every believers sins to a lesser or greater degree. 1John 1:8 If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. This is a believer who is eternally saved; but no Christian achieves perfection in this life. Unfortunately, the idea of perfection can be a source of self-righteousness. Easy to understand the drunken lech; but not quite as easy to spot the self righteous person. If we think we have no sin, the truth is not in us. Westlayan doctrine of some kind allows for the believer to come to a point of not committing any sins. They allow a person to not count sins that he does not know are sins. But this is false. 1John 1:10 If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us. When we make such a claim, the truth is not in us. Self-righteousness can be precluded and humility can be regained by the use of 1John 1:9. This is how we handle the sins that we commit. This is not a license to sin, but a license to not be a prodigal son.

The purpose of rebound is to live in fellowship with God. The prodigal begins making continuously bad decisions. He exercises the trend of his lascivious sin nature to the max. Self-righteousness was not his problem.

Luke 15:14 And when he had spent everything, a severe famine arose in that country, and he began to be in need.

He experiences a total loss of wealth; he spends it all. Then there is a famine. The economy collapses in this distant country.

Lesson #0810

Luke 15:11–16 Life of Christ

2/21/2015 1Sunday

Annual business meeting during second half.

We are studying the prodigal son; and it is a parable; but this has happened many times in the past. We can easily identify with this story. We get out of fellowship; maybe not to the extent of the prodigal son. We certainly become removed from fellowship with God. Sin in our life and we can handle that.

Many say that the prodigal son is an unbeliever, through representation. Otherwise, he would not live in the manner herein found.

There is a difference between repentance about Jesus Christ and changing one's mind about living the Christian life. The prodigal son was one of those who changes his mind about living the Christian life. The younger son represents the destructive potential of the Christian life, but not the destruction of being a Christian. No one is immune to the trends of the sin nature.

The sin nature diagram. Area of strength and area of weakness and the lust pattern. The story of the prodigal is someone who has removed himself from the plan of God. Some people remain out of fellowship for a long time; even for a lifetime. Some find it hard to believe that Christians can stay out of fellowship for a lifetime.

Freedom and responsibility go together. The prodigal used his freedom to make completely bad decisions. The sovereignty of God is His plan and this plan coexists with the free will of man. We have a choice. The prodigal son has that choice in both directions.

The prodigal son also discovers that the security that he has in his father's house. This is tantamount to living the Christian life and having eternal security. Even when we are out of fellowship and out of the plan of God. We have eternal security for all this time. One moment of faith alone in Christ alone and we remain saved.

A parable is a representative analogy. The 3 main characters represent 2 believers and God the Father. All 3 of them are introduced in vv. 11–12:

Luke 15:11–12 And he said, "There was a man who had two sons. And the younger of them said to his father, 'Father, give me the share of property that is coming to me.' And he divided his property between them.

The father made the correct decision; he knew his son and knew that he could only learn the hard way. So he is given his inheritance.

Luke 15:13 Not many days later, the younger son gathered all he had and took a journey into a far country, and there he squandered his property in reckless living.

The son turns all of his inheritance into cash and then he gets far away from his father's house. He wanted no regrets, no guilt and no interference. He wanted to live his own way, apart from the influence of his father. He looks to fully indulge the trends of his sin nature. He moves as far away from the Lord as is possible. He causes his own misery and his own bankruptcy of soul.

He lives loosely; he parties without limits. Nothing that he did not try; nothing that he did not do. What he did resulted in the loss of inheritance. All circumstances are for his benefit, even the bad circumstances.

He has no right to say, "Why did God let this happen to me?" He made the decisions. No matter what he tried, none of it worked out. He lost all of his wealth.

Luke 15:14 And when he had spent everything, a severe famine arose in that country, and he began to be in need.

On top of all his bad decisions, a famine came upon the land. The famine represented the circumstances which would get this son's attention. Heb. 12:6 is always in effect. That is for the believer who is out of fellowship. This is for the believer's benefit.

God would not leave this boy alone to his own devices in order to destroy him. This young man was into vice and God is working to bring him to the realization of truth. He lives a lie and he needs to know some truth.

Luke 15:15 So he went and hired himself out to one of the citizens of that country, who sent him into his fields to feed pigs.

This son's new job was to feed pigs. This young man was arrogant and he wanted to have all restraints removed from him. What did he get? He lost his freedom and he got slavery; he was restrained in a pigpen; and this was great humiliation.

While feeding the swine, he has time to think about his life, to consider all of his decisions; and he knows that he does not want to spend the rest of his life in this pigpen.

There is nothing beyond the spiritual life apart from bondage. We can have other pursuits in life; but it is all about priorities. The reversionist is at odds with who he really is in the plan of God. He is spiritually poverty-stricken. This young man is self-centered. The grace of God in His plan provides true freedom.

Many people don't want to go to church because they think that everything is restraint. The greatest freedom; the difference between human viewpoint and divine viewpoint.

The plan of God is entirely grace. It is the greatest freedom that every believer can enjoy; it breeds humility and options. Bad decisions lead to bad and few options. Living according to the Christian life means more and more options.

There is restraint in the Christian life, but freedom requires restraint. Bobby's illustration of the dog who wanted to do his business on the porch. The prodigal here was very stubborn. He needed more prompting to pull it all together. This boy needs to reach the point of no hope, where he can look to no one else other than his father.

Luke 15:16 And he was longing to be fed with the pods that the pigs ate, and no one gave him anything.

He would be happy to eat the food of the pigs; but he was given no food. The swine at the genitive plural of κερσίου, which is the fruit of the carob tree; it is a bean pod. It was used as fodder for swine. It was not an appetizing and nutritious meal. What a picture of a believer without doctrine in the soul.

Επιθυμew means to desire, to long for. This means that his options were quite narrowed. All he had before him were bean pods; the food of the pigs.

To make matters worse, there was food right in front of him; on the hoof. The Mosaic Law forbid the eating of swine; and they were not his to eat. These pigs needed to be fed first. To say the least, this was not what he was used to. Living among hogs was a picture of a lack of options in life.

His many bad choices have led him to a point of very few options. His hunger continues unabated. No one is giving anything to him. The livestock foreman has no pity on him. Only the slop that he fed the hogs was available to him. He had sunk so low that the pigs were more important to the boss than this boy was.

This harsh world is in stark contrast to the provision of God. There is nothing compared to the dirt and misery. There is only one way out of this wretched place. He remains a member of his father's family. Where he lived was security, food and care. His father still love him. Returning to his father is the only option left to him; and this is so true of the Christian way of life.

You may think there is only one place of logistical grace. The only place where he is treated in grace and love, despite his stupidity. No matter what. Cast your cares upon Him for He cares for you.

The Believer out of Fellowship with Only One Option Remaining

1. When a believer gets out of fellowship, he sinks lower and lower.
2. He sinks lower in motivation and behavior patterns.

3. Such a person locks into various motivations.
4. When a believer gets out of fellowship and stays out of fellowship, he puts distance between himself and God.
5. Out of fellowship for a long time means that he acts like an unbeliever. Believers can be very dishonest.
6. This can occur in all areas of the Christian life and in divine establishment. Christians can become very confused about divine establishment.
7. At this point, with all human options exhausted, there is only one place to go for the believer; home to the father.

Luke 15: Life of Christ

2/21/2016 2Sunday

No class; annual business meeting for the church.

A quorum is 149 people? Seems small.

Last year's minutes reading waved.

New member of the board of deacons. Mark Tucker. Believed in Jesus Christ in grace school. Did a tour of duty in Vietnam. Eventually to Japan; and around this time heard Bob Thieme's tapes. Went to a variety of tapers' groups. Voting to approve him.

Facilities built along a gravel road 50 years ago. New generator for both facilities. Renovated restrooms and water fountains.

David Stewart will give a missionary report. Most of us are familiar with Rick Hughes speaking to young people in high schools, junior highs and sports group. Gary Horton, humor on the front end and truth on the back end. A small seminary in the Ukraine established by the Meyers. Mueller a part of translations for many different languages. Word pictures and they set down the first written language for some areas. They keep in touch from Houston by computer now.

Upper Amazon groups have no word for thank you. Youth camp or summer camp started, but not sure where. Someone in the Philippines; church, school, somewhere there. The Kates are reaching Muslim areas. Most Muslims have never heard the gospel or their name held up at the throne of grace.

Max Klein in Korea; a new liaison. A backup in Thailand. Tim. Nelson Rio continues his father's work in the Philippines. They translate books into their languages. Molinar in Africa. Bert in Mexico. Rick Henderson involved in the prison ministries. Someone else as well.

Chafer seminary emphasizes teaching from the original languages. All handouts must be first approved; most are denied, since they carry some kind of agenda. OGWM.org is a place with info. Heidi someone a healthcare worker on a mercy ship. Best time to give the gospel is when people are listening.

Luke 15:13 Not many days later, the younger son gathered all he had and took a journey into a far country, and there he squandered his property in reckless living.

The sin nature is in rebellion against God. We have the temptation to make bad decisions. There is also the area of strength, which is human good. There is no eternal life to these human good things.

There are lust patterns in the soul; and they are polar opposites. Trend toward legalism in the pharisees; and trend toward lasciviousness, which is herein described.

The prodigal son has removed himself from his father's home. The antinomian friend. His sinful lusts dominate his life. He is in total rebellion. We call this reversionism in the Christian life. Any believer can be prodigal. The legalist often thinks, "No way I could do that; so there is that possibility of every believer being a prodigal. The result of being the prodigal. Any prodigal can return to the father. Any prodigal can come back.

Luke 15:14 And when he had spent everything, a severe famine arose in that country, and he began to be in need.

The man we are studying has his life go from bad to worse. Not only did he have no money, but the economy where he was tanked. He had no hopes of improvement.

We have a tendency today to call victims those who have spent their lives making bad decisions. They got there through disease or because they have been mistreated. But the decisions that we make determine the life that we lead.

The downward spiral of his economic life reflects his many bad decisions. Your life is totally affected by bad decisions and your options in life are narrowed.

Luke 15:15 So he went and hired himself out to one of the citizens of that country, who sent him into his fields to feed pigs.

He hires himself out to the citizens of his country. He is sent out to feed pigs; to feed swine. He could not even get a job at McDonald's.

Luke 15:16 And he was longing to be fed with the pods that the pigs ate, and no one gave him anything.

He had exhausted all options except to return home, which is the road open to all of us. All of those things that we might call bad, evil, difficult; which occur in the life of the person out of fellowship; these things are for his benefit. God does not leave us alone. He has time to think in the pigpen. He considers his situation. He painfully analyzes his situation.

The first step to recovery is recognizing what has gotten him into this situation. For the believer in carnality, a choice must be made. There is always a choice. We never run out of choices, even though these choices may narrow. For this person, he can stay where he is or return home. A simple choice. Same is true of any believer out of fellowship. He can stay where he is out of fellowship; or he can return to God.

When in reversionism, we are starving spiritually. The longer we remain there, the hungrier we become until we die. The believer may die in reversionism, but he made one good decision in his life, and that is to believe in Jesus Christ.

The one good decision the believer out of fellowship has is first to rebound; and then to take in Bible doctrine. For this son, his only way back out of carnality is to return to his father.

Luke 15:17 "But when he came to himself, he said, 'How many of my father's hired servants have more than enough bread, but I perish here with hunger!'"

He comes to a very objective observation. I am starving and my father's hired servants are eating better than I do. There was so much more to enjoy in his life. He realizes that maybe his father was right and he has been wrong.

It is so hard for a person to admit that he was wrong. Difficult for a spouse to say, "Honey, I was wrong." Sometimes you can say you're sorry even when it is not your fault.

A little bit of doctrine and objectivity causes him to realize just how much better he had it at home. He realized that his bad decisions led him to where he was right then. He was thinking contrary to the Word of God. When you know that your thinking is off, you are halfway home.

He realizes that even his father's servants are better off than he is. He needs to be back in fellowship, living the life that he was meant to live. He was not meant to live this life of dissipation.

Luke 15:18 I will arise and go to my father, and I will say to him, "Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you."

He begins talking to himself. "I will return to my father. I will say to him, 'I have sinned against heaven and in your sight.'" this is the beginning point for him. This is a confession of sin.

Rebound of the Prodigal Son

1. This is a picture of the rebound technique.
2. This verse is an illustration of 1John 1:9.
3. There is an unparalleled security in this simple confession. He has rejected his home and his father and has pursued his own way; and he comes back just with a confession. That is great security.

He is in a obviously terrible circumstance. Most of us have not faced this kind of life, eating only slop. What is the real motive for the confession. This is a major contention about rebound and recovery. Does motive matter? Is the son's confession just some self-centered speech to make his mistakes go away? The question of confession; of what does it consist? What do you have to do to get back into the father's good graces. He needs to extricate himself from the excrement.

Is he just going to get a few dollars to get back on his feet to get on his way again? This is the question for the next service.

Lesson #0812

Luke 15:18 Life of Christ

2/28/2016 2Sunday

Review if what we have studied. His plan is listed below in v. 18.

Luke 15:18 I will arise and go to my father, and I will say to him, "Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you.

Rebound is something that really sets people off. There is something missing; don't you have a feel a certain way? Don't you have to feel guilty? Is that all there is to it? This boy just has to go home and say, "I was wrong," despite all the squandering of his money. For most people, there is an attitude that must go with it.

When someone names their sins, they are forgiven. If they feel like they must do this or that; they are forgiven. Some think that an emotion is necessary for forgiveness.

Hunger and deprivation drove this boy to making his confession. It drove him home. It required great motivation to get out of the pigpen. No question, he came to his senses and this is based upon his situation. Education the hard way is still education. Unfortunately, hardheads do not learn any other way. Much easier to learn the easy way. Much easier that standing back 10 paces and running headfirst into a wall.

Whatever his motive, the result is the same. He will be restored to his father; and this relationship is restored by the father. It is grace in action.

Rebound and Motivation

1. Whatever the son's motive is, in his confession, the result is the same. Critical point.
2. Therefore, the motive for confession is not the issue. Hundreds of theologians would disagree here. They would worry, "It is too easy." With the prodigal son, his motivation is not involved.
3. There is no pure motive in the human race. The sin nature precludes have a pure motive. We are a self-centered race. We think of ourselves; we don't like bad circumstances.
4. Our rebound may not have the purest of motives. Maybe we just want it to stop. We are still out of fellowship prior to rebounding.

We may have a hard time forgiving others. They may apologize to us, and we don't like them and do not want to accept this. But grace demands that we forgive and forget. If we harbor mental attitude sin, then we are the ones with problem.

The simple naming of sins removes the sins. The believer may not renounce what he did; he may not feel bad about it; and he may not be genuine in his repentance. But God accepts his rebound statement. God does not say, "Come back, only when you feel bad for what you did." Or, "You can come back, but you must pay back all the inheritance that you wasted away." None of this is grace. "You do not deserve my forgiveness." But the father says none of this. Who among us deserves restoration to fellowship with the Lord? None of us. There is no deserved forgiveness.

The Father Restores Fellowship Without Condition

1. The father's response is to accept the son's confession without strings or conditions. The father restores the son to fellowship in grace. He accepts the son's confession without adding anything to it.
2. The mindset of the son does not enter into the father's forgiveness. Parents need to remember this as well.
3. What the son promises to do is not the reason for restoration.

The son has a speech to offer his father; he has a confession speech. This shows that the son is thinking in terms of works-penance. He believed that he needed to earn his father's mercy. He's got to hate me for this.

The son adds a little emotion to his confession. He offers up some rehabilitation approaches. Let me act as a hired servant. But the father does not say, "Okay, you can be a hired servant on probation." His emotion and his promises could be quite genuine.

Bobby dealt with someone on an employment thing. And he had to make a decision on whether or not, he should be employed. The words came up, "I will never do that again;" but it happen hundreds of times that he did do it over and over again. Do you forgive that person? Yes, every time. Forgiveness and penance are two different things. What the boy says may be genuine or not; but it does not matter. That is not required for the son to return and to be restored. Forgiving and forgetting clears the decks. You torture yourself when it comes to mental attitude sins.

Certainly, this son did not deserve his father's forgiveness. He understood that his father might not be willing to offer forgiveness. Bob could not get rid of Bobby; he was still his son. That is the way it is.

The son has a desire to be there. Regardless of his motive, he is there and he recognizes that he is wrong. This is an admission of the sin; and an implied asking of forgiveness. Everything else after this is superfluous. There may be tears, hugs, emotions. And there may not be.

Bobby understands this grace in action, because his father lived grace. Rebound is one of the most basic aspects of grace. Bob showed Bobby that grace over and over again.

The Son Returns; Rebound

1. It is the mere return of the son to the father that engenders the father's consideration.
2. It is the father's thoughtful response to the son's appearance that is the motive for true forgiveness; not the son's emotional actions or penitent attitude. The son before he is able to speak his planned speech, his father runs to meet him.
3. Those emotions may or may not be present; but the father's gracious decision to forgive is based upon his son's return, not upon his attitude. The boy himself must work on his own attitude. Attitudes do not change because of tears but because thinking has been renovated.
4. The son's guilt; his lack of worthiness, his emotions, are not the issue in his father's response. Lest we go far in our analogies, discipline is sometimes called for when a father deals with his son. That may be necessary for the good of the child.
5. Forgiveness is given by the father by his own decision based upon the return of his son; not upon the son's penance or attitude. It is based upon love for his son.
6. The father moves past the sin. He never brings it up again. He does not pound the son over the sins he committed. You must forget the sin; you must wipe the slate clean. All the father sees is his son's return.
7. That is true forgiveness, based upon the father's gracious response.
8. No believer needs to feel a certain way in order to be forgiven by God the Father. All the believer needs to do is to show up; he must rebound. The feelings of the sinner are not germane at all.
9. There is no penance required in Scripture. There is not a specific position that he must be in. Personal fervor or repentance are not related at all to forgiveness. Promises for the future will not fix the problem or make it any better.

What is grace? It is defined in many quarters as doing something. Doing something in order to have grace bestowed upon you. A simple confession to God the Father is all that is required.

Our pure motives or lack thereof are no criteria for anything that we get by way of forgiveness or grace that we receive.

Lesson #0813

Luke 15:17–21 Life of Christ

3/2/2016 Wed

Vv. 17–19 takes us through the entire doctrine of rebound. It is an illustration of the entire process.

The Analogy of the Prodigal Son and Rebound

1. In the illustration of the prodigal son, he has departed his rightful home and his correct association with his father and has gone to a different country. This is analogous to being out of fellowship.

2. In that distant country, his carnality escalates
3. The prodigal gets himself into an impossible situations. Bad decisions and narrowed options.
4. The life that the prodigal son was meant to live can only begin when he returns to his proper place in the family; in a right relationship with his father.

The light goes on, and he realizes his situation.

Luke 15:17 "But when he came to himself, he said, 'How many of my father's hired servants have more than enough bread, but I perish here with hunger!'

He has an objective view of himself and his situation. This is his first objective analysis of his personal circumstance. He is swimming in heartache, misery. This leads him to a conclusion. He will make the following decision.

Luke 15:18 I will arise and go to my father, and I will say to him, "Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you.

The Thought Process of the Prodigal Son

1. This is what is in the mind of the prodigal. It is all he can do to get restored.
2. So he makes a simple statement of rebound. The principle of getting back to the starting point. He was in dad's house. He needs to get back to the starting point; and there is only one way back. This is getting back to the starting point before he left the confines of his home.
3. He makes a confession in his mind, directed toward his father. This is exactly what we do. For us, these 3 verses place rebound in the context of his sin and a simple confession. He does not deserve to be restored to fellowship. He admits that he is wrong and he returns to his father. His confession is all that is necessary.

He just goes a step too far. He shows us what is not necessary for fellowship. There are no additions. He offers some penance. He confesses then this:

Luke 15:19 I am no longer worthy to be called your son. Treat me as one of your hired servants."

The Son Adds to Rebound

1. This is more than confession or acknowledgment of sin.
2. This is a first-hand look at the prodigal's erroneous thinking concerning how to return to his father. Now he has something else going.
3. The prodigal plans a nice speech of repentance. This is his plan. What do I say to dad when I get back.
4. This indicates that he plans to do something to foster his father's good graces. He thinks that this will facilitate forgiveness from his father. He thinks that dad will like this.

5. He also decides to add some emotion to his confession. He is going to show that he is really sorry. He will show a pure heart of repentance. "Is your heart really in your repentance?"
6. What he feels or promises to do is not a part of the criteria for forgiveness.
7. The father accepts the son when he shows up, and for no other reason.
8. The prodigal is accepted before he is able to blurt out his speech of emotion and repentance. His return is his admission; the other stuff is unnecessary.
9. The prodigal is misguided in adding subjective emotion and self-punishment to his confession. "I want to be one of your hired men."

This has a great application for us.

What Is Not Required for Forgiveness?

1. Your emotion.
2. You may feel remorse, humiliation, regret, a desire to do better; but none of these things induce God's forgiveness. So many in Christianity are confused about these points. They cannot believe that there is not more involved.
3. God does not make His determination based upon how guilt-ridden or on how truly repentant you are.
4. If you want to change your ways, that is fine. You probably should.
5. A desire to do better has benefits for moving on after being restored to fellowship. This may indicate a desire to live the plan of the Father and to stay in fellowship. Once the prodigal son goes back home, he wonders, "Why did I ever leave this?"
6. Bottom line, God does not require a repentant heart or a rehab course. How would you know just how much groveling you would have to do in order to gain forgiveness? Have you sufficiently completed enough penance in order to please God? Under those kinds of circumstances, could you ever be certain of God's forgiveness. You would be fearful of not being in fellowship. Will God ultimately accept me for the sinner that I am? There is no security in this fear.

There have been basic attacks against rebound from some who have been in Berachah Church. The prodigal son is the perfect example. Once he returns home, his life and association with his father can resume.

Now, this prodigal has a plan which he can use to sway his father, so that his father might be more inclined to feel pity and compassion. He wants to cease being a son in order to achieve forgiveness.

Sonship for the Prodigal

1. Even if the father made him a servant of his estate, that would not make him a servant or a slave. Even if his father told him to work in the stables.
2. The prodigal son is his actual son.

3. He was not worthy; but sonship does not depend upon worthiness. Sonship depends upon birth.
4. In the case of believers, his rebirth, regeneration, that makes us a member of the family of God by birth. We are born into God's spiritual family.
5. Once born into a human family or God's family, there is no way to change that fact. God cannot change that fact. Even in the illustration, the father could say, "You are not my son," but he still would be his son.
6. Sonship cannot be nullified. God cannot disclaim the born again believer. There are many ways to describe eternal security; we are family.

This guy wants to earn his place as a son again. He wanted to feel better and earn his sonship. There was no need. He was family. His return re-associated him with the family. If there was ever a representation of the family of God, this is it.

Does the father give him some crap jobs in order to pay for what he has done. "He needs to pay back for all that wasted inheritance." His father had no intention of making his son a hired hand.

If the son said anything, the father ignored it. We recognize our sins and then we name them. God accepts our confession of sin without any preconditions. Every sin has been forgiven. No penance, no probation is necessary. Once a son, always a son. That cannot ever change.

The father constantly watched for the return of his prodigal son. It did not matter what he had been doing. What we say or think or do does not add one iota of forgiveness. God forgives us when we name our sins, every single time.

Luke 15:20 And he arose and came to his father. But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and felt compassion, and ran and embraced him and kissed him.

The Prodigal's Father Illustrates God the Father

1. The father sees him far away, and this illustrates divine omniscience. He knows our sins, our mistakes, He knows it all.
2. The father's compassion is analogous to the Father's love for us.
3. In the prodigal's absence, the fact that the father's love has not changed illustrates divine immutability.
4. In eternity past, the omniscience of God always knew about our sins, even before we commit them. He knew this back in eternity past.
5. In eternity past, His love provided a solution for our sin problem.
6. God's personal love for all His children insures His repeated and continued compassion toward us. So He provided the rebound technique to deal with sins.
7. God forgives us at the moment we rebound. Jesus Christ was judged for the sins that we commit. Forgiveness of post-salvation sins do not compromised God's righteousness.

8. The omnipotence of God guarantees that He has the power to provide forgiveness. When we confess our sins, it is just as though the Father runs to us, and puts His arm around us, and kisses us.

How does He express His love? He does not make us grovel. He does not makes us say 50 hail Mary's. He restores us to fellowship and He blesses us inside His plan. We belong to Him and He always wants us near Him.

This father wanted his son back and he wanted him back in the house for fellowship.

God's omniscience knows if we will step out of line in 5 min., 5 hours or 5 days. The father knew that the prodigal son would waste all that money. Sometimes, you have to learn the hard way.

Confess your sin and move on and get back with the spiritual life. The unlimited extent of God's grace.

Psalm 51:4 is a parallel to this; David confesses his sin. "Against You, and You only, have I sinned."

Luke 15:21 And the son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son.'

Lesson #0814

Luke 15:21 Life of Christ

3/3/2016 Thurs

Interesting time to live; and see the Angelic Conflict in action.

Luke 15:21 And the son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son.'

Everything we have seen is related to rebound; and we will get the most out of this by thinking of the father as being God the Father.

The prodigal son makes a full confession of his sin to his father. He continues, "I am no longer worthy to be called your son." This is not necessary for the rebound technique.

What Is the Father Thinking

1. The father did not need to hear what his son did.
2. He did not need a demonstration by the son of throwing himself on his father's mercy by saying he was no longer worthy of being his son.
3. He was a son, worthy or not.
4. The prodigal did not need to make a promise of penance.
5. He was merely throwing a self-imposed punishment into the mix, which has no bearing on his father's forgiveness. You want to make yourself feel better after doing some heinous thing? You expect some more grace if you do penance. Human viewpoint thinking.

6. The boy had accomplished the criterion for the father's acceptance and restoration. All he had to do was return; he just had to show up. He admitted his wrongdoing. Showing up was indication of repentance.
7. Showing up acknowledged his sins to the father. That is how gracious the father is. He just wants his son to return.

The father sets up a celebration for his son's return. Representation of renewed fellowship; they will all have a meal together.

Luke 15:22 But the father said to his servants, 'Bring quickly the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet.

Luke 15:23 And bring the fattened calf and kill it, and let us eat and celebrate.

The Father's Response to the Son

1. In v. 22a, the father interrupted the son, ignoring his emotional response.
2. The fact that the father did not even consider the suggestions of the son, his repentant attitude, etc., shows how God forgives us.
3. God forgives based upon sinners returning. That return is defined as 1John 1:9. This is coming back from a distant country.
4. No promise of penance or any other admission of unworthiness is necessary. Dropping down to your knees and indicating great penance is just not necessary.
5. That is all that is required for God to immediately welcome a believer back into fellowship. It is just a blink of the eye.

The father is not requiring probation; repayment, a sentence of quarantine until the sin is defeated. Are you remorseful? Are you sorrowful? Are you still liable to sin.

There is the father's love and graciousness, followed by celebration. The father had always loved him. The father was waiting to extend his love and grace.

The son had not grown up prior to leaving. But now it is time for him to move on from his reversionism.

The father describes his son in 4 very expressive ways. The son deserved nothing of what he received from the father. Let's see what the father does for the son in his gracious acceptance.

He Brings out the Best Robe and Puts it on Him.

1. The best robe put on meant that the son's previous activities were not held against him.

2. How do we know this? His mistakes were now covered. The robe covered his rags.
3. This is just like the results of rebound for a carnal believer, whose acknowledged sins are covered. We do not have to feel guilty, as the Lord does not even see them.
4. Even if the son broke down in tears over this beautiful gesture of God the Father, the robe had already been put on. He is covered.
5. The robe represents the outward manifestation of restoration to fellowship as a family member, the son being a family member.
6. The son exchanged his rags for a family garment. This is his father's robe; he only had rags to wear.
7. The rags reflected his reversionism; the garment was his restoration to whole.
8. The old sins were behind him; the new association with the father was ahead of him. The prodigal could now move on in his life.
9. That is exactly what believers do. They rebound and move on in the Christian life.

There is a second set of points in the donning of the robe.

The Royal Robe

1. The prodigal's father does not make a servant out of his son. There's the stable, pick up a pitch fork.
2. He put on a robe of rank that no non-family member would be given. The father would not put a robe like this on one of the servants.
3. That signifies that the distance traveled by the prodigal away from his family did not remove him as a family member. That was always the case and it never would change. A picture of eternal security.
4. Carnality or reversionism does not remove a person from the family of God.
5. This is the picture of eternal security despite the reversionism of any believer.
6. The father's mark of favor is given when the son donned the robe. It is a mark of favor and grace. The son's return makes all his previous privileges available to him, as if he never had left. His reversionism is gone, past and forgotten. It is as if this son had never left.
7. These privileges represent divine operating assets for the restored believer in the plan of God.

He also put a signet ring on his son's hand.

The Signet Ring

1. The signet ring is the mark of the family. The ring would be put in hot wax and then stamped or affixed to something.
2. This is a form of identification.
3. With this ring on his finger, he prodigal is identified with his father.
4. He could now draw upon all of his father's wealth. He had the means to do so. No stolen identify here. This is full access to the father's analogy.

Now an analogy.

The Blank Check That Comes with Rebound

1. When we rebound, it is like having a blank check.
2. This is access to the father's unlimited wealth.
3. We can now move back into the invaluable, spiritual life.

Now a 3rd manifestation of grace. He puts sandals on his son's feet.

The Son Is Given a Pair of New Sandals

1. The son had long since worn out his old sandals. Bare feet in the ancient world was the sign of a slave.
2. His feet were bare and filthy.
3. His feet are now clean and with sandals; cleansed from all unrighteousness.
4. The bare feet are shod with new sandals. With the new sandals in place, the son walks with his father.

Now application:

Application of the New Sandals

1. Walking is living the Christian life.
2. When rebounding, we get new sandals on our carnal feet.
3. Then we are able to walk by means of the Spirit.
4. The filling of the Spirit and new sandals is the Christian life.
5. The shoes represent Christian service.
6. The restored believer has the renewed privilege to walk with the Lord in fellowship.

The father brings in the fatted calf to eat.

The Feast with the Fatted Calf

1. The feast with a fattened calf is a great bbq with everyone invited; household, neighbors, the whole bunch. A super bowl party.
2. Obviously, there is renewed fellowship in the celebration. This is with those from who he had been estranged.
3. The same joy that was present in the previous two parables; when the sheep and coin were found, the shepherd and the woman rejoiced; and neighbors and friends rejoiced with them; and so did heaven.
4. The impact of the returning believer to fellowship is an occasion for great celebration with other believers and with the angels. Every time we rebound, the Lord is rejoicing, killing the fattened calf, and rejoicing.

5. Eating refers to something more in the analogy. This is fellowship in the Word of God. That is what we are doing this evening. We feed upon divine truth. We metabolize doctrine.
6. When a believer is back in fellowship, it is possible to feed on the Word again and grow in grace in the Christian life. That is a cause for celebration.

Then we have a statement of the celebratory attitude of the father. "My son was dead and now he is alive again; lost, and now found." Death is not a cessation of life; death is separation. He did not see his son or hear from him. It is not stopping the breathing, etc. Spiritual death happens at birth; and can only be overcome with a new birth. This death is a believer separated from fellowship as described.

Then to come to life again, means the believer is back in fellowship again. A renewed relationship; the separation is over.

Lost is the Greek verb απολυμη, which means to be ruined, to be destroyed; the connotation is the son, the believer is out of the sphere of the Christian life. So, by analogy, the Christian life is in ruins. The believer was unable to live the Christian life. It was lost to him, as he was out of fellowship.

Aorist passive indicative of υρισκω which means to find, to find oneself. Culminative aorist. This is the attainment of the end of the process of finding oneself. The boy went through the process of being lost and now he has found himself. He has lived through the vagaries of reversionism. He has contemplated the high cost of reversionism in that situation.

The ring, sandals, feast. This brings an inner peace, joy and stability. All the blessings which come to the believer.

Luke 15:24 For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found.' And they began to celebrate.

The prodigal is now home and restored. We understand his return. The parable now will turn away from the prodigal to the brother who stayed home. That brother has a sin nature which is in the opposite direction. There is the trend: lasciviousness versus legalist. The second son is just as lost as the first son. His legalistic trend comes out and we see the other side of the sin nature.

Lesson #0815

Luke 15:25–30 Life of Christ

3/6/2015 1Sunday

We have seen the prodigal son restored to his home. After all of his loose living; and he has recognized that home and fellowship with his father is where he needs to be. This young man has discovered this and has returned.

Now, we will examine the older brother, who remained at home. However, he did not really stay at home. He has a sin nature trend which is just as virulent as his brother. There is this trend of lasciviousness versus the trend of antinomianism. The brothers have two different trends. His brother's sin nature tends toward legalism.

Sometimes a reformed rake can change his trend. The legalist is self righteous. The legalist often looks longingly to the lascivious side.

When the older brother makes himself known, the other side of the sin nature is revealed.

Bobby reads the remaining text in this parable with brief explanation.

Luke 15:25–27 "Now his older son was in the field, and as he came and drew near to the house, he heard music and dancing. And he called one of the servants and asked what these things meant. And he said to him, 'Your brother has come, and your father has killed the fattened calf, because he has received him back safe and sound.'

This is his father's house and his father's wishes ought to be respected, but he does not. He has mental attitude sins rather than overt, lascivious sins. This is how believers act out of fellowship when they lean toward legalism.

The younger brother is back in fellowship. But the older brother is no longer in fellowship. The father knows the only way to restore the older son to fellowship is to show grace. He does not go out and grab his eldest son and drag him into the house.

Judging is exactly the opposite of grace orientation. Legalism is a very unhappy way to live; grace orientation is the best way to live. You have no axes to grind.

When you extend grace toward someone who does not deserve it...

The father is concerned for his older son. Pleading is the imperfect active indicative of παρακαλεω, which means to appeal, to urge, to exhort. The father is making a strong case for the elder son to come to the party. This is not an emotional appeal. This is not designed to shame the elder to come or to force him to come. Forget the resentments and anger. The imperfect tense is tendential; which emphasizes that the desired end was happening. The desired affect has not been attained. He vigorously petitioned his elder son, but without the desired result. The father urges him, "Forget your brother's sins; they are all in the past. Enjoy this great celebration."

Luke 15:28–30 But he was angry and refused to go in. His father came out and entreated him, but he answered his father, 'Look, these many years I have served you, and I never disobeyed your command, yet you never gave me a young goat, that I might celebrate with my friends. But when this son of yours came, who has devoured your property with prostitutes, you killed the fattened calf for him!'

When the prodigal asked for his portion, the father gave each man his portion. The prodigal returns with a much better mental attitude. He returned safe and sound home.

The older brother becomes angry over this situation. He had a long-standing anger; and when he hears about this, he explodes with rage and he refuses to go into the house and fellowship with his father and brother. He is disassociated with them entirely. He did not appreciate the grace shown by his father toward his brother. He did not appreciate the grace at all. He was sulking; he was brooding. He was acting like a big baby.

Our salvation is the epitome of grace.

The 3 parables all merge right here. The father desires them to all enjoy fellowship with one another. He wants to restore both of his sons; and to have both sons restored to one another.

Some accept restoration and some will not. How sad to not understand grace at all; how easy it is to be restored to fellowship. Walk back into the house. The older son wants to do it the hard way, or not at all.

It should be personal love or impersonal love, as the situation dictates. The older brother has a problem with his younger brother; and with impersonal love, he could return to the house and enjoy one another.

The younger brother returned in rags and starving to the father accepted him; but the older brother would not. Legalism turns us against other people.

Showing Grace and Grace Orientation

1. Attending the celebration would have been an expression of personal love or of impersonal love. That is obviously the way that the father was. It could have been the exercise of impersonal love. You're home, dad wants you home, so we will pick it up from here.
2. This is a picture of grace and grace orientation.
3. That attitude illustrates an attitude of spiritual maturity. No better picture of how a spiritually mature believer can act under those conditions. You need to begin to grow. You too can show grace orientation.
4. This should be the attitude of the members of the body of Christ toward one another. Just as the Lord forgave you, so also should you. How many people have you never forgiven? You bear a grudge against them to this day. If anger and hatred reside with you still today, you are caught up in petty legalism. We need to temper our anger with grace orientation.

Lesson #0816

Luke 15:28–30 Life of Christ

3/6/2016 2Sunday

We are looking at two types of sin natures. The lascivious one who is moving ahead in his life; and the elder brother is the legalist and he has succumbed to his sin nature. He considers the prodigal as his project. It is not going to be pretty.

Bobby was watching all of the congregants. As we sit and listen, don't think about someone else's sin nature. This is designed for our soul alone. It is a great tendency among us to apply this doctrine to someone else.

Luke 15:28–30 But he was angry and refused to go in. His father came out and entreated him, but he answered his father, 'Look, these many years I have served you, and I never disobeyed your command, yet you never gave me a young goat, that I might celebrate with my friends. But when this son of yours came, who has devoured your property with prostitutes, you killed the fattened calf for him!'

He wants to go outside. What is the difference between the prodigal going to a distant country and this legalist wanting to go out with his friends? The elder will not even acknowledge his relationship with the prodigal. This is the epitome of legalism. Then he gets very personal and reveals his own personal animosity. "You killed the fattened calf for him."

The prodigal is restored. And the elder brother cannot fellowship with either his brother or father. What a picture this is of anti-grace legalism. You must recognize the trends in yourself. This is a picture of the pharisees and the Jews who have rejected Jesus Christ. This is why Jesus is teaching this to his disciples. Pharisees are listening as well. Some of the greatest legalism on earth resides in Washington D.C.; but they can be among the most lascivious at the same time.

One or the other of these brothers represents us and our sin nature. The elder son is mercenary. He is jealous and he has great animus toward his own father. He is filled with mental attitude sins toward his own father. This trend of lasciviousness and antinomianism are equally bad. The facade of righteousness in the legalist. The facade is peeled away.

You can recognize self-righteousness because you can never be wrong. That tweaks your own self-righteousness.

The elder brother speaks in the imperative mood in v. 29, beginning with the imperative particle ἰδοὺ, which is saying, "I know what is right around here." In spite of his different trend, his attitude is parallel. "Give me what I want."

How many of you before this class agreed with the elder brother, that he had been mistreated, or neglected? Grace is always on displace by the father. The elder son deserves the anger of his father directed toward him. The elder brother charges, "Listen to me, dad, he devoured your savings with prostitutes and you killed the fatted calf for him. What about me?"

The Rejection of Grace by the Elder Brother

1. It is now evident that the elder brother has rejected the grace extended toward the prodigal son.
2. He took offense of grace being given to someone that he disapproved of.

3. Another quality of this elder brother is hypersensitivity. He is concerned about his younger brother getting too much.
4. The elder brother did not understand that grace was equally his. God distributes grace to all.
5. No believer should get his eyes on what others receive from God. "They are not worthy of that; why do they get it?" Focus on God's plan for you; not for someone else. We need to live God's plan for our own life. If you are worried that God is smiling on Charley Brown more than you, then you are just making yourself miserable.
6. To envy others is defeat in the Christian life; and misery of soul. The most miserable people that you will ever meet are those who are envious, jealous. The elder brother believe grace should be related to personal worthiness. But that is not grace. That is the legalistic, self righteous trend in action. Grace is always extended to the unworthy. Grace is given to us because we are unworthy. There is no other way that we could live in heaven apart from the Word of God.

Grace is always demonstrated toward the unworthy. That is what God's grace is and what it does. All the elder son has to do is walked into the house and enjoy the celebration and celebrate grace along with his brother. He simply need not resent the grace given by the father. "You don't give me anything;" he's got is all.

The legalist only mentions one thing: prostitutes, probably rolling his eyes in total disgust. How could he know that his brother threw away his inheritance just on prostitutes? He has not even spoken to his brother. He knows that his brother came back broke, in rags and starving. Leave it to the legalist to pick out fornication as the big sin.

The inclination of the legalist is to judge the trend of the person with the opposite trend. This brother was, in effect, anti-rebound. He wanted to see some penance in the younger brother. He wanted to put a stop to his father's grace attitude and actions.

We began by noting the sins of the antinomian; and now we are focusing on the sins of the elder brother. The prodigal has seen the weakness of his position.

Jesus is making this point with the pharisees throughout his ministry. Example, the pharisees catch a prostitute in the act, but the man is not there. They want this woman stoned to death. That is the Law. The Law had to be carried out. It was so legalistic that execution of the Law became weakness.

"He who is without sin among you, let him be the first to throw the stone." The legalist can never seem to objectively evaluate himself. He sees himself only in a good light.

"I've never neglected a command of yours; look what I have done for you." That is complete and thorough legalism. If you are self righteous, you will always compare yourself to others and you will always find yourself in a superior position.

He might as well be saying, "You do not love me like you do my brother." But this is not true. The older brother is blind to the truth. Blind arrogance is in control of the older brother.

Blind Arrogance; the Payoff

1. Blind arrogance is irrational; it does not involve thought; it is a simple reaction.
2. It sees worthiness only in self; not in others.
3. The blindly arrogant person is full of self-importance; convinced that he is better than everyone else.
4. He is hypersensitive concerning that perception and that sensitive area cannot be challenged without a terrible reaction, as was the case with the older brother.
5. Consequently, blind arrogance is the superimposition of one's bogus standards over others.
6. Blind arrogance is personality arrogance that seeks to dominate others.
7. In blind arrogance, there is not self evaluation; only judging.

Luke 15:31–32 And he said to him, 'Son, you are always with me, and all that is mine is yours. It was fitting to celebrate and be glad, for this your brother was dead, and is alive; he was lost, and is found.'"

Lesson #none

Luke 15: Life of Christ

3/9/2016 Wed

Rained out. Bobby was under the weather.

Lesson #0817

Luke 15:25–32 Life of Christ

3/10/2016 Thurs

The immediate restoration to fellowship. Some do not believe that it ought to be that easy. You should not be able to really sin and then name it and you're a-okay. This is what some people believe. For some groups, you must truly repent to get back in. You need spiritual rehabilitation. God requires more emotional regret, real sorrow, more penance. Only then can the carnal believer be restored. This is particularly the case when adultery is the problem. Might be a boatload of steps to restore fellowship in some congregations when this happens.

However this notion is false, and that falsity is clarified by this parable. This wayward son was involved in all kinds of bad things, and yet, his return to his father ended all of the problems. He is back in fellowship with his father and family.

The other son hears about the celebration, and he became angry and was not willing to go in. All the neighbors know what the errant son has done and he is a disgrace.

Luke 15:25–28 "Now his older son was in the field, and as he came and drew near to the house, he heard music and dancing. And he called one of the servants and asked what these things meant. And he said to him, 'Your brother has come, and your father has killed the fattened calf, because he has received him back safe and sound.' But he was angry and refused to go in. His father came out and entreated him,...

The father tries to get the other son to join in the festivities. This celebration is all about the grace of the father toward the son who was gone.

Luke 15:29 but he answered his father, 'Look, these many years I have served you, and I never disobeyed your command, yet you never gave me a young goat, that I might celebrate with my friends.

Luke 15:30 But when this son of yours came, who has devoured your property with prostitutes, you killed the fattened calf for him!

You have done something for your other son that he does not deserve. This legalist son is self-absorbed and he is blind to the truth; and this is blind arrogance. The elder son is removed from reality. He is removed from the reality of his father's grace and love.

Note that the father is overjoyed at the return of the prodigal son; but the other son is not so thrilled. He rejects out of hand grace restoration; he rejects grace. The father has a right to treat his children as he sees best; particularly under his own roof.

"As long as you are under my roof, then you will do as I say." After the prodigal left, the elder son was not treated differently or poorly. Based upon the grace displayed toward the prodigal, it is certain that the elder son has enjoyed grace. When you want to see legalism in action, this passage is all about that.

Our eyes are opened here to the parsimony of the elder son. This boy is blindly arrogant and he is stingy and he uses economic matters as a mean to an end. This is another manifestation of his lack of grace orientation. There was a big party and he killed the fattened calf; and this was a lot of money. Money for the food and the wine; and the neighbors were called over; and the elder son does not believe his younger brother to be deserving. "Spent it on me; not on him!" He is tight with everyone but himself. Nothing brings out confusion about grace more than money. Imposing tight-fisted tyranny on others is a lack of grace. Bobby is concerned not just about maintaining the grace policy of the funds that they receive; that is a grace policy. There is another side to this. How these funds are distributed. As long as the Lord supplies, then Bobby will not condone parsimony. They are good stewards that is received; but there is no reason to be ungenerous at that point.

Bob always demonstrated how not to be parsimonious to others. Bob was a big tipper. This was an extension of grace. They have been in a restaurant with a bad waiter. "You don't deserve it, but I will give it to you anyway."

Mother and a child walking across their parking lot. He gave the child $100 bill and said, "Remember to take care of your mother as I have taken care of you." Bob also treated the employees of Berachah Church and always tried to take care of them as well. The people who distributed Bible doctrine; and he wanted them to understand God's grace. Grace was extended to them in the form of increased salaries whenever possible. Many start out making very little money, but they do not care, because of the importance of the ministry.

The legalist brother was the parsimonious one. He did not want to be generous with it.

People are stunned when they find out that Berachah Church never asks for money. A church that does not charge for their literature. That is teaching grace. So Berachah attempts to be generous to those working in foreign mission fields and for Berachah Church.

The brother should have gone in to enjoy fellowship with the father and the prodigal son. "Let's put that boy to work; make him pay back all that he wasted." The elder brother becomes a legalistic judge of the prodigal and of the father. And he is now a distanced son, without rebound. There will be repercussions. No difference. Just a different trend.

Both sons remained sons of the father.

Many a person has been driven away from Bible doctrine by legalism. They see no impersonal love; there is no tolerance, patience. Just judging, maligning, gossiping. Who wants to live under that tyranny? Attitude and activity of a grace oriented believer.

Legalism and Divine Discipline

1. When you began to judge and malign others, you get yourself out of fellowship and you affect others as well. You are taking them out of fellowship. They react to that kind of stuff. It takes a very mature believer not to react to this kind of legalism.
2. When you react, you become miserable; when you judge and malign, you become miserable. This is a constantly agitated soul.
3. On top of this, you become the recipient of divine discipline.
4. One of the most wonderful qualities in the Christian way of life is the ability to mind your own business; to not worry about whether another believer is stepping out of line or getting away with something. The elder son: "He's getting away with something. I don't like that." You do not have to step in and fix anyone. You might offer a doctrinal perspective, but you cannot fix other people.
5. God will take care of that other person when they are out of line. God's justice is always on; His justice is perfect and it is absolutely fair. Whatever discipline we face is absolutely fair and we should not worry about His discipline that he dishes out to others. So we can operate with a relaxed mental attitude. The problem for many people in this area is impatience. They want to see divine discipline applied right now. Such legalists try to impose a vengeful plan. Do not self righteous standards against others. Do not help God with some help in disciplining a person you believe to be out of line. Take care of your own house; your own attitude and your own actions. And rebound whatever mental attitude sins which have crept into your thinking.

Refocus your thinking. Your reaction is anger, hatred and other mental attitude sins. Refocus your thinking about from a reaction to focus on Bible doctrine and the Lord. Rebound and refocus. Live with a relaxed mental attitude. Apply Bible doctrine rather than react to people. The other son should have responded with, what's for dinner? Is there any beer in there?

1. The father represents God the Father.
- 2.
3. He cannot accept anything but his own worthiness. This other brother was a very moral guy. "I would never spend money on prostitutes." He was impressed with himself. He is the expert. He is always right. No one could tell me anything. That is intolerance.

Whatever the younger brother's sins were, they had been forgiven. He rebounded and is back in fellowship. The elder brother is now out of fellowship and in a far country. He has refused to return to fellowship with the father or with the brother.

He Is like the Believer Who....

1. Both sons were always sons of their father.
2. He has everything that the father has.
3. Out of fellowship with God the Father, not taking advantage of his position as a child of God; a believer squanders his own opportunity. He fails to utilize that which is his.
4. The principle is, we are never to penalize a believer for sins he has committed; even when the sin is directed toward us. That is where the real test comes.

The father now extends grace to the other son. Your place in the home is solid. This is what God the Father desires for us.

Luke 15:31–32 And he said to him, 'Son, you are always with me, and all that is mine is yours. It was fitting to celebrate and be glad, for this your brother was dead, and is alive; he was lost, and is found.'"

Lesson #0818

Luke 15:28–30 Life of Christ

3/13/2015 1Sunday

The Eucharist

The is the only ritual for Church Age believers. We must recall the doctrine that we know to focus upon the LORD. We must remember Who Christ is and what He has done on our behalf. The formation of an insurmountable barrier between us and God; and this separates us from God from birth. This brings fear, anguish and misery, even if the man does not understand why.

Hiding was Adam's first response to having sinned. He heard the sound of God, "I heard Your sound when I was in the garden, so I hid myself, for I was naked. His one sin of disobedience separated him from God. He became a man of spiritual death, cowering before God. He could not hide from God. He lost the only thing that truly mattered in this world. His eyes were suddenly open to the place where he was. He could see himself as he had become. Stripped bare of all goodness; feeling fear for the first time and guilt for the first time. He understood his own inadequacy. Without God, he was hopeless and helpless. He was fully cognizant that he no longer possessed divine favor. He experienced the full consequences of what he had done.

God revealed to him the full extent that he had separated himself from God. This separation became their nemesis. They were now opposed to God in the very nature that they had acquired; the very nature of sin.

As a consequence, Adam and the woman were removed from the garden. God could not associate with sin. A seraphim with a flaming sword stood at station before the tree of life.

Years later, Adam's body went into the grave; his body returning to the dust from which he was created. Death began the very moment that he sinned. Rom. 6:23a The wages of sin is death.

Because of Adam's disobedience, all men are born spiritually dead. Couldn't God simply overlook our sin because He loves us? God cannot accept sin nor can He have fellowship with us because we are sinners. God's righteousness makes this impossible. God cannot compromise His righteousness. His justice and His love working in tandem provide our solution. A price must be paid to satisfy God's perfect righteousness. We do not have the capital to present to him, to buy our freedom, to remove the shackles of sin that Adam placed upon us. Jesus Christ paid the price for our freedom from sin and death. The Lord Jesus Christ is the only One Who could buy us out from the slave market of sin. He was judged for our sins, that we might avoid this judgment. The sacrifice of Jesus Christ is the only way out for us from this death dilemma. No longer can Adam's sin or any personal sin continue to keep us separate from God.

During His time on earth, the LORD never committed a single sin, any crime, nor did He violate any law or did He make a mistake. At one of His trials, before Pontius Pilate, no fault was found in Him. Herod could find no charge with which to indict Him. Those who saw Him could not recall a single time that He sinned.

The sanhedrin accused Him of blasphemy and lying and demanded His execution. This moment had been prophesied in Isa. 53.

It was not these machinations of these evil men that brought him to the cross. God the Father made Him, God the Son, sin on our behalf. He Who knew no sin became sin on our behalf. He is called the 2nd Adam, Who did not fall, who is not spiritually dead. There is no one else like Him. On the cross, this sinless man died. He deserved none of this. And He credit out, "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?"

This is the reason why Jesus came to this earth, was to die for our sins. He was separated, just as we are separated from God at birth. God the Father no longer sees us as enemies because of God the Son. This was the means of freeing us from the judgment that we deserve.

On that day, a perfect spotless lamb would be brought to the High Priest of Israel, and he then took a bowl of blood from that lamb, and sprinkled it on the mercy seat above the Ark of God. The mercy seat covered in blood depicted the One Who knew no sin to become sin on our behalf. God looks to the mercy seat and sees the blood of His Son. He could see the blood in the Holy of Holies.

This is the same way the Son of God takes upon us the sins of the world. Jesus is a real substitution; not a ritual. The ritual of Israel depicts the reality of the cross.

If the blood of goats and bulls and the ashes of the heifer sanctify for the cleansing of the flesh, how much more will the blood of Christ, Who through the Eternal Spirit, cleanse us unto salvation and good works. We can now rest under the tree of eternal life. That is courtesy of the Lord Jesus Christ for us. We are here to pay homage to the death of the Lord on our behalf.

The second half of the prodigal son parable is about the 2nd brother, the legalist, who cannot abide by the lascivious sins of his brother. He is self-centered, and legalistic.

Luke 15:28–29 But he was angry and refused to go in. His father came out and entreated him, but he answered his father, 'Look, these many years I have served you, and I never disobeyed your command, yet you never gave me a young goat, that I might celebrate with my friends.

This brother was out of fellowship even before the return of the prodigal son. He was attempting to manipulate his father to get what he wants. He is not with the will of his father; and he reveals what he truly thinks about restoration to fellowship with his family. We as believers must be living the spiritual life with fellowship with God the Father, advancing spiritually as the body of Christ.

Luke 15:30 But when this son of yours came, who has devoured your property with prostitutes, you killed the fattened calf for him!

He overlooks his own sins of anger, jealousy, vindictiveness, resentment. He resented the use of his father's resources for his brother. This big party irritated him; and this fatted calf was a full-on bbq. His brother does not deserve this.

Fellowship with friends supercedes fellowship with the father? What a confusion of priorities. The elder son has much more to teach us. He is a mirror of our own souls.

Almost the last time in this chapter.

The older brother is not happy that the prodigal son has a feast thrown for him. “After all I have done, you have never thrown a party for me like this. Look what you are doing for him—you are throwing a bbq for him and sparing no expense.”

The father continues to extend grace to his older son that he might understand it and orient to it. The older son needs to understand the permanence of their family position. The younger son remains a part of the family. The father did not try to convince the older son that he was wrong in his assumptions. Instead, he uses a very personal acknowledgment. They are both sons with the same high regard and status.

Luke 15:31–32 And he said to him, 'Son, you are always with me, and all that is mine is yours. It was fitting to celebrate and be glad, for this your brother was dead, and is alive; he was lost, and is found.'

His objection that the father has never killed the fatted calf for him, that he does not get the point. His father urged him to come in and enjoy the party. He misses the point.

Luke 15:30 But when this son of yours came, who has devoured your property with prostitutes, you killed the fattened calf for him!

Bob called Bobby son very few times, but at the right time. He knew when Bobby needed his wisdom, advice and attention. He would sit Bobby down and say, “Son,…” This was a term that could not be applied to anyone else. These are words only for him. This meant that Bobby had a special position; a special relationship. An unbreakable connection.

Reassurance, position and love. “What is mine is yours.” This is the unbreakable bond; and this is the expressed view to both sons. He now has all the father’s wealth; he is the eldest son, the one who inherited the entire estate or the double-portion. Nothing is being withheld and the older son should have known all of this. It is all out there for him. What is a short-lived party for this complete assurance of care, love and relationship.

“You’re right, dad. I should have known this; I’m an idiot.” That should have been his response. All believers are born into a family; the family of God. To all those who have received Him, to those He has given the right to be called sons of God. We have legitimate entitlement to this position through faith in Christ.

The prodigal son is no longer a family; so they are going to move ahead. A perfect picture of rebound and keep moving. But the elder is not joining in.

The Family Status and Shared Wealth

1. As sons of God, in union with Christ (believers have everything that Christ is and all that He possesses); we are sons and we have everything. His spiritual life; all of His resources; they belong to us.
2. This is our inheritance in Christ as family members. We all have a family inheritance. This is much better than the inheritance of our billionaire parents. It is eternal.
3. We share His destiny; His spiritual wealth; His eternal life. All of this comes with union with Christ.
4. Nothing can remove that status or those gifts.

The father cannot say, "You lost out; you will never touch your inheritance."

The older son must now decide whether or not to use the assets which his father has given him. Will he remain angry or not? He would not acknowledge being out of fellowship. He would not show up at the party. God gave us all those resources. Everything that He has is ours. What does it require? Being in fellowship. Just as the Father exhorted the elder son to partake in the life of the family, God says, 'Take hold of the grace resources which I have provided for you as My spiritual family. Grab them.' That is grace and doctrinal orientation. Rebound is the ticket to those resources.

The inheritance of the prodigal did not depend upon him rebounding. But rebound restored him to the use of these assets in his temporal life. When the prodigal son returned, he got use of these resources.

Clearly, the elder brother can have whatever he desires from the father; it is his and it is always his. He cannot lose that. He could have gone to his father at anytime for a loan or for access to his inheritance. We do not know if he returned to his father's fellowship. Even if he never understood, he was still a member of that family. There was an extended invitation to return to the family and rejoin them and enjoy their fellowship.

Look in the mirror. "Are you using the resources of the spiritual life?" It is all ours. Same way with believers. We must utilize God's grace procedures. We must move secure with our position as a son or daughter. We must not squander these resources as the prodigal did when he was in reversionism. Nor should we miss the opportunity to enjoy the resources because we are filled with mental attitude sins, as it is with the older son.

Luke 15:32 It was fitting to celebrate and be glad, for this your brother was dead, and is alive; he was lost, and is found."

This is repeated from v. 24. It casts no aspersions upon the older brother. But he got hypersensitive anyway. He assumed that his father was disrespecting him. He assumed that the younger brother would get everything, and he did not deserve any of it. He perceived a slight. He is so far out of fellowship. He is in a far worse position than the prodigal son. He just does not understand the plan of God for his own life.

If we are filled with resentment, then God does not bless us. We are out of fellowship; even if we are better behaved than the people around us. Where is God when I need Him?

What a lousy mindset the elder brother has. No objectivity. He sees himself as righteous; his perception of himself is incorrect. He perceives himself in the unclear mirror. Arrogance is the most difficult thing to overcome in the Christian life; or in any life. Under that condition, no one can execute the plan of God for his or her life.

This is the most compelling parable in the Bible for the security that we have in the love and grace of God. All that is necessary to live the intended life for the son is to rebound and to keep moving forward, forgetting those things that are behind, taking no offense of the slights of mankind.

When someone does you wrong, how much energy do you waste stewing over that problem?

The final principle of this parable. Every time that we sin, we are out of fellowship. The big and the small sins, no matter what they are. Every time we confess that sin, we return back to the plan of God and to all the operating assets. Rebound, sin, rebound, sin; and for some people, that describes their Christian life. But as you grow, there is less time spent in sin. If you do not rebound, then your life is useless; and the trends of your sin nature are in control. The longer you are out of fellowship, the more your sin nature takes a hold of you.

Elder or younger; man or woman. Whatever your race or inclination, once you are in the family, you cannot get out.

Lesson #0819	Luke 15: Life of Christ	3/23/2016 Wed

We are at the end of the parable of the Prodigal Son. No parable and no portion of Scripture greater on rebound than this. What doctrine have we learned from this parable? All believers are divided into two categories. Spiritual or carnal; sinful or in fellowship. Sin is categorized as carnality, but never as a loss of salvation; never a loss of relationship.

Rom. 8:38–39. Our sins can follow the path of lawlessness or obvious carnality. Or, like the older brother, we can become self-righteous or legalistic. And it is possible for one type to cross over to the other side. Carnality is present in either case. The carnality of legalism is not quite as obvious to the observer. It can be covered up; but it is just as wrong as the lawlessness of the prodigal. This is because mental attitude sins are involved.

Self righteous people like other self righteous type; and it is the same for antinomian types. God no more approves of the elder brother's self righteous legalism than of the prodigal's antinomianism. All sin severs temporal fellowship. Each son broke fellowship with his father.

The two brothers are the parabolic illustrations of sin, and the need to restore fellowship with the father. The elder brother, the legalist, did not restore his fellowship with his father.

Rebound was not a way for the degenerate son to wheedle more money out of his father so return and raise more hell. He returned to the fellowship of his father and to his father's plan. The elder brother, mired in self righteous, saw no need to restore fellowship with either person. He saw himself as right and righteous. He has no motivation to restore fellowship. He had no humility. Those who are self righteous often do not see the need to rebound. At any time, both the prodigal or the elder son had the option to return to fellowship. They only needed to walk through the open door provided by their father. The prodigal was immediately accepted; and the father begged the elder son to join them. The door is opened by rebound.

No matter how far you get out in the hinderland, it is always open to you. The father never stops loving the believer despite wrong doing. God makes the decision to discipline those who choose not to rebound. 1John1:9, the principle of rebound, the prodigal being the illustration; but these are not the only expressions of rebound.

People Might Ask, Where Else Is Rebound Found in the Bible?

1. Judge yourself. 1Cor. 11:31 Evaluating yourself.
2. Rom. 6:13 Present yourself alive in temporal death; that is returning to fellowship.
3. Heb. 12:1 lay aside every encumbrance, which is sin. Another metaphor for rebound.
4. Heb. 12:9 Be in subjection to God the Father.
5. Heb. 12:12 Straighten the hands; make straight paths.
6. Arise from the dead; which Eph. 5:14 is rising up from temporal death.
7. Lay aside the old self. Eph. 4:23
8. Jer. 3:13 Acknowledge your iniquity. This is equivalent to 1John1:9 Psalm 32:5 38 51:3–4 this is too important a concept to be found in only one place.

It is never too late to rebound in the Christian life. Deut. 33:27a the eternal God is your refuge and underneath are the everlasting arms. He is always ready with open arms for our return.

There are two securities for believers. There is security in the rebound technique. The plan of God is at our fingertips at any moment. No matter how many times you have failed. Some people wake up and realize that they have been out in the woods and they no longer want to be there.

There Is Eternal Security for Every Believer

So many believers worry if they might lose their salvation; or how good they must be to keep God's favor.

1. Every child of God has an unbreakable family relationship and status in Christ. When you are in a family, you cannot get out of it, no matter how hard you try. John 1:12 Gal. 3:36
2. The believer is held in God's hands. He never lets us go. Psalm 37:4 John 10:28
3. Even if we become prodigal sons, God remains a faithful, immutable father; He is always faithful. 2Tim. 2:12-13
4. Every believer has an inheritance. Both sons had an inheritance. This inheritance cannot be rescinded. Eph. 1:11 1Peter 1:4-5 God is immutable; He does not change
5. Every believer is a member of the body of Christ. We are members of his body. He can never say to us, "I don't need you." He cannot say, "I do not need by ear."
6. The Holy Spirit at the moment of our rebirth into the family of God, seals us for eternity. 2Cor. 1:22 Eph. 4:30 2Tim. 2:19
7. The underlying fact of eternal security is this: God has decided to keep us and we are His for eternity. Jude 24

Now, we will move on to Luke 16 and two more parables. We do not know if there were more flourishes added. Bobby can picture Him going into more detail.

These next parables deal with money. For the self-centered, greedy; they will lie, cheat, steal and even kill for it. Some will gain it legitimately, and misuse it. This is the way of the world. Jesus will teach us the principles of wealth.

The first parable is ironic, because it is about a fraud. That fraud seems to be commended by the Lord Jesus Christ Himself. He does not blast the fraud, which may be shocking. He seems to okay the practice of a shyster. Ethics seems to take a back seat. This has confused many people. This is not a paradox if you understand that Jesus would not approve of fraud or sin of any kind. If He cannot do that, there must be another Jesus Recognized the Carnal View of Riches Held by the Pharisees.

1. The pharisees believed the accumulation of wealth demonstration righteousness. This indicates that God was blessing you. God was blessing you for being a great person. If you were poor, God was not smiling on you.

2. They thought that those in poverty were being punished.
3. Therefore, the pharisees could see themselves as righteous, for they had accumulated wealth (even though this was often through nefarious ways).

The pharisees used the Temple to accumulate wealth; and early on in His ministry, Jesus threw the disciples out of the Temple. Jesus will make a point to His disciples. He first says, "You pharisees think that making money is a blessing? Well here is a cheat, and he is making money."

Good steward means shrewdness. It means good sense in handling money. How wonderful when God uses someone who is fraudulent, but someone who is very, very good at it.

The first parable is primarily spoken to the disciples; and the second is primarily for the pharisees. Both sets of people are listening to both stories.

The parable of the crafty steward. Vv. 1–8a. We might identify with this story. We may have been bilked in the same way. A wealthy man calls his money manager to account for his activities. What are you doing with my money? He got an inkling that something was amiss. He is comparable to a modern-day financial planner. Ideally, that person is supposed to know what they are doing. He is a trustee who invests the finances of the master's estate to turn a profit. There are no checks like we have. People can be bilked during any time period.

The cagy activity is a part of the first parable.

Luke 16:1 He also said to the disciples, "There was a rich man who had a manager, and charges were brought to him that this man was wasting his possessions.

So he decides to check out the situation.

Luke 16:2 And he called him and said to him, 'What is this that I hear about you? Turn in the account of your management, for you can no longer be manager.'

There is a correct perception of the misuse of his money. He is making risky high investments; but the possibility of high returns; and also the possibility of a bust. The manager does not tell the investor about the risk. "Don't worry about it; I will get you better than a 10% return." If he makes the big killing, he can acquire money over and above what the investor expects. He can pay off the investor and keep a nice portion for himself.

They are both getting really good returns. The manager is overcharging for his services as well. Ironically, the modern-day pirate tries to pull this scheme and it backfires.

The manager in our parable must make up for the missing funds of the rich man which he has lost or stolen. He pays back the rich man while defrauding him at the same time.

You have to wonder, if the rich man is paying close attention; but probably not if he is in this position. The rich man did not have all of the facts. He had to call his money manager out; and he was going to fire him before. The money manager knew that he has gotten caught and the rich man does not recognize the extent of this. The investor wants to be seen as incompetent rather than a crook.

"I have to figure out how to account for this money in such a way to retain my job.

Lesson #0820

Luke 15: Life of Christ

3/24/2016 Thurs

This is the parable of the crafty steward. It is easy to get involved in the story; but we need to bear in mind who is teaching this parable and what the parable actually means. The disciples and the pharisees are both there listening. The pharisees are a foil for this parable. They are a background to this parable.

Luke 16:1 He also said to the disciples, "There was a rich man who had a manager, and charges were brought to him that this man was wasting his possessions.

His money manager is squandering his money.

Luke 16:2 And he called him and said to him, 'What is this that I hear about you? Turn in the account of your management, for you can no longer be manager.'

"What is going on here? Give me an accounting of your management of my money." It was not unusual for money managers to be hired by the wealthy. Very similar to a person today who buys and sells commodities. We do know that he is dishonest and that he has lost money for the rich man while lining his own pockets. It has been reported to the rich man that something is wrong.

"Give me a complete audit." So the money manager is in trouble. The only thing in his favor is, he will do the auditing. But, at the very least, he will be relieved of his responsibilities. So, the money manager needs to figure out how to deal with this problem. How he deals with the problem is the key to the parable. Jesus will commend his shrewdness to the disciples. The thievery and dishonesty are both incidental to the parable?

So now we have the despair of the manager.

Luke 16:3 And the manager said to himself, 'What shall I do, since my master is taking the management away from me? I am not strong enough to dig, and I am ashamed to beg.

He thinks about his own future. I am too old to dig and too young to beg. He was a high roller and he was embarrassed to be a high roller. This is the motivation for what comes next. He has to figure a way to secure a better future. He decides to use the same unscrupulous ways to get him out of trouble that actually got him into this mess in the first place.

Pay attention to the ingenuity in all of this, and not to the theft.

He comes up with a solution.

Luke 16:4 I have decided what to do, so that when I am removed from management, people may receive me into their houses.'

The manager figures out what to do. He decides to make some new friends to take him in when he loses his job. He needs new people who trust him; to welcome him into their homes. He needs to find some new suckers to bilk.

He calls in the loans in order to make up the loss.

Luke 16:5 So, summoning his master's debtors one by one, he said to the first, 'How much do you owe my master?'

He requires less of the debtors and they get a great discount. They do not recognize that fraud is involved. He will ingratiate himself to his master's debtors. They will see him as a real good guy who will make money for them.

He decides to cook the books. He can see a way out of this.

Luke 16:6 He said, 'A hundred measures of oil.' He said to him, 'Take your bill, and sit down quickly and write fifty.'

Don't think about it. Just pay me back 50 measures.

Luke 16:7 Then he said to another, 'And how much do you owe?' He said, 'A hundred measures of wheat.' He said to him, 'Take your bill, and write eighty.'

Just write me a check for 80. They both get discounts. They have just made money. It was a really good deal for the debtors.

These debtors really like this guy. The rich man does not really know just how much he is owed. So the rich man will get some money back; but he does not realize how much it is. The manager provides himself with a future. He escapes the evidence of the real fraud while engaging in another.

The pharisees believe that the accumulation of wealth is blessing from God; and that poverty was a demonstration of unrighteousness. That was their theological viewpoint. And the pharisees did evil stuff and got paid for it and believed that this was a result of blessing.

The money manager gets away with the scheme and the Lord praises him for his shrewdness.

Luke 16:8 The master commended the dishonest manager for his shrewdness. For the sons of this world are more shrewd in dealing with their own generation than the sons of light.

Even though the man is unrighteous, the master praises him for his shrewdness. He thought that the manager did well by him.

Jesus goes in an entirely different direction. His theme in this parable is shrewdness in handling money. The key word is shrewd. If the pharisees had thought that Jesus was dishonest, then they would have jumped all over Him for dishonesty.

The Lord will go into a length explanation so that they understand what He is teaching.

The Money Manager's Shrewdness

1. Jesus comments the manager's canny and shrewdness. Jesus is equivalent to the master.
2. How he used his managerial position and wit to win friends for himself.
3. These friends would provide for him when he loses his managerial position.
4. His conclusion: For the sons of this world are more shrewd in dealing with their own generation than the sons of light.

Sons of this Age

1. Sons of this age are those who follow this world and think with human viewpoint.
2. Sons of light are believers who are spiritually enlightened. They had the advantage of divine viewpoint.
3. But, those sons of this age, the unbelievers, the money manager, is more enlightened than the sons of light. Disciples, you cannot manage your way out of a paper bag. Believers should use divine perspective when dealing with this world and understand how to operate in this world.

Even with the worst crooks, there can be some shrewdness. Ever heard, "If he had only focused his mind on a legitimate occupation, he could have been a millionaire."

1. The managers sharp thinking is commendable.
2. He thought through his actions; he considered all options. He did not wait for God. He was not like the Christian who says, "I will just sit on this park bench and wait for God to take care of me." Many Christians stop thinking in a crisis.
3. The money manager made the best of a bad situation. As a believer, we ought to be the best at doing whatever.
4. The money manager used his time wisely, if not dishonestly, to prepare for the moment when he would no longer depend upon the master.
5. He is commendable because he has foresight. He looks ahead. The disciples must consider for the future

The money manager thought like those of his age. Believers were not thinking with the perspective of what to do. This is particularly true when it comes to money.

Some people are so heavenly minded that they are no earthly good. They get defeated by the world. This is an indictment of a person's naivete.

These believers are unable to think in terms of divine viewpoint. They cannot make good application.

Many denominations today have become socialistic. They do not see the benefits of capitalism as being a good.

A Few More Points

1. There is an evil in money.
2. There is good when money is used wisely. This money manager covered up the past and provided the future for himself. Making money is the priority rather than wisely using money wisely.
3. A believer cannot have two masters; only one. Money is very useable.
4. Believers can over think circumstances and situations. You do not have to become poverty stricken in order to fulfill the Word of God.
5. Money must not become your master. It is not an end in itself.
6. Used properly and with thoughtfulness, it is the means of service.

You must be smart about using your resources. Do not be stupid about it. You cannot just give everything away and still have a ministry. Do not call service to the Lord poverty. Christians who have no money today sometimes think that they are doing the right thing.

The Application

1. The disciples needed to learn a lesson from the successful of this world.
2. It does not matter if those from whom you learn are unbelievers who are greedy. That is not the point. You are not to learn greed; you are to learn savvy.
3. Such people can learn savvy. Use it; do not abuse it. Do not use it like the rest of the world uses it.
4. That is the meaning of being a good steward of money. The disciples might not understand about money.
5. God has provided those who can handle wealth wisely for his purposes.
6. Money is a great tool in the hands of a believer with foresight and ingenuity. It furthers the plan of God. You cannot overlook the genius in handling this money. Believers need to be wise about handling this money. The smart person in this world does that and so does the smart believer.

There is no talking about the thinking of the world that is successful in handling money.

Lesson #0821

John 2 1Cor. 15 The Resurrection 3/27/2015 1Sunday

Easter 2016:

A confessional box in a church is not Biblical. We spend a few moments at the beginning of any class confessing our sins. The bonus is, we are filled with God the Holy Spirit.

Shortly after the beginning of the ministry of the Lord Jesus Christ, after He was baptized by John the Baptizer. He entered into the Temple of Solomon, the center of worship. What happened next is John 2:13–17:

John 2:13 The Passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

John 2:14 In the temple he found those who were selling oxen and sheep and pigeons, and the money-changers sitting there.

John 2:15 And making a whip of cords, he drove them all out of the temple, with the sheep and oxen. And he poured out the coins of the money-changers and overturned their tables.

John 2:16 And he told those who sold the pigeons, "Take these things away; do not make my Father's house a house of trade."

John 2:17 His disciples remembered that it was written, "Zeal for your house will consume me."

He spoke of this being His Father's House, making Himself out to be the Messiah.

John 2:18 So the Jews said to him, "What sign do you show us for doing these things?"

John 2:19 Jesus answered them, "Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up."

This confused them. He just cleansed the Temple; why destroy it?

John 2:20 The Jews then said, "It has taken forty-six years to build this temple, and will you raise it up in three days?"

They think that He is a fool; a complete fraud. And saying weird things.

John 2:21 But he was speaking about the temple of his body.

Jesus was actually speaking of raising up His body. He came into this world completely human, in every respect like you and I. Housed in this body is undiminished Deity. This made Him the Unique Person in Human History.

If Jesus uttered these words and is not the Messiah, His whole case falls apart. How could He call the Temple His Father's house?

The pharisees, "How can this man intrude on our business enterprises?" Who is Jesus Christ? Still a question today. Almost everyone has an opinion on Him, even if they are completely ignorant. They think devotion or hatred, but rarely is there any neutrality.

No other person has ever been delivered from the grave to never return to it. He is the resurrection and the life.

This is the record of the divine inspiration of God the Holy Spirit. Raised from the dead; Jesus Christ our Lord. This is the key to His true identify and true significance.

John 2:22 When therefore he was raised from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this, and they believed the Scripture and the word that Jesus had spoken.

This verse is written from the perspective of after He had rose from the dead. The disciples completely understood Who He was.

Calling the Temple My Father's house had never been said before. To the religious leaders, this was blasphemy. He did not care that this bothered them. He was addressing others at that time; especially the disciples. He said the Temple would be destroyed; and in 3 days, He would raise it up. That was a claim of Deity.

They first understood this to be the material structure where they were standing. But the disciples later understood this.

1Cor. 3:16 6:19 this metaphor was used later on by the disciples.

This is only the first statement of John 2. The veracity of His entire message was based upon this. If this was not true, then everything else that He said meant nothing.

It is no great claim that His physical body would be destroyed; but that it would be raised up again, that was the amazing thing.

Matt. 16:21 From that time, Jesus began to show His disciples that He must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things and be killed and be raised up on the third day.

Matt. 17:22–23 Jesus said to them, "The Son of Man is going to be delivered into the hands of man and they will kill Him and it will be raised on the third day."

Jesus called His Own shots at the Temple. Resurrection means that everything about Him is true. Everything that He did and said was true; and it stood upon the resurrection. It is the truth of these words which changed the disciples from the frightened rabbits who deserted and denied Him; to men willing to die for Him.

Our Bible becomes our objective knowledge of Him. We can make God by our own thinking; but the Bible is the revelation of God. If He was not raised up, then we would have no reason to believe in Him.

An angel stood guard at His empty tomb. The angel made an announcement. What the angel did not do was very important. He did not point to the empty tomb as evidence. He simply said, "He is risen." That was all that was needed.

We believe that He is risen. We believe by faith in His Word of Truth. Because of that truth, we will never again know death upon our resurrection.

1Cor. 15:51 Behold! I tell you a mystery. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, 1Cor. 15:52 in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed.

Is their proof that His death was efficacious for our sins? Is our salvation assured through His sacrifice? Is our eternal future secured by His sacrifice?

Only one priest could enter the Holy of Holies one time a year; anyone else to enter would die. Everyone stood outside of the entrance. No one outside the entrance could enter. Just one man, appointed, could offer up the blood. The people waited for Him to emerge. Would his sacrifice be accepted by God, on their behalf. Every eye watched the door for his return. This was a critical moment for all their rituals; they had many.

Jesus Christ is called our Great High Priest in Hebrews.

At the empty tomb, the Lord appeared to Mary and she recognized Him. The Lord said to her, "Stop clinging to Me." This means that He had a physical body. He was not ethereal. She clung to Him. "Let Me go, for I have not yet ascended to the Father. Go to My brothers and tell them, 'I have ascended to your God and My God.'"

He would ascend to the Father, because He had been accepted. He is now seated at the right hand of the Father. We can depend upon this. The future is always a source of great concern for people. We think about the future in a number of ways. Where will I be next year? What happens after I die? What security do I have for the days to come?

Every promise hangs upon the resurrection. These promises are all empty unless He has been raised.

Acts 17:31 Because He has fixed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness through a Man He has appointed; furnishing proof by raising Him from the dead."

Man has always speculated about death and about immortality. Death is the greatest fear of all mankind; no greater fear than the end of life. But does life end? Is there any way out of this dilemma? It is the all-time disturbing and repeated question; which is answered in the risen Savior. But now has been revealed by the appearing of our Lord and Savior but has brought light through the gospel. Jesus has challenged death and He has won. We celebrate his resurrection and our salvation. The resurrection is not some worn-out dogma that has past; that is no longer believable in a time of science. Our salvation is truth and our eternal future is secure. Can we ever tire of our Lord's resurrection? Resurrection is in our soul, every day, our assurance of our eternal future.

Jesus Christ holds the key to our immortality. Even some who call themselves Christians deny this doctrine. If we leave our Savior buried in that tomb, we too are lost. Christianity becomes nothing more than a religious hoax. If Christ has not been raised, our preaching is in vain. We have confidence in our eternal future. He lives so we live.

Lesson #0822

Luke 15: Life of Christ

3/27/2016 2Sunday

Astronomers explore deeper and deeper into the space; oceanographers explore the deepest areas of the ocean; botanists spend a lifetime studying the fauna of our planet. Every scientist explores deeper and deeper into God's creation, whether they believe in Him or not.

Evolutionists continue in their discipline. God's search for knowledge never ceases in any generation. Who among us can say, "I know all the secrets and all the facts surrounding the universe, mankind, etc." Who can say, "I have no further need to research, to study"? It is no difference when it comes to the study of the Lord Jesus Christ. The Apostle Paul thought exactly this way. He expressed His continued longing. His desire was to know the Savior intimately; to participate in His life and death and His resurrection.

It is astounding that this communicator desired to be better acquainted with Christ, including his resurrection. I delivered to you; I preached to you, that Christ died according to the scriptures, and that He was buried and raised on the 3rd day; and that He appeared to Cephas and to the 12, and later to nearly 500 brothers at one time. Paul would give meaning to the resurrection of Christ. He wrote in vv. 10–11 that I may know Him and the power of His resurrection and the fellowship of His sufferings, being conformed to His death, in order that I may attain to the resurrection from the dead. Paul wanted to know Him and to partner with Him. I count all things to be loss in view of the surpassing value of knowing Jesus Christ my Lord, for Whom I have suffered the loss of all things. Paul is not worried about the loss in his life; he recognizes that life is suffering. Paul is living the spiritual life that our Lord lived; he participates. And count them but rubbish that I might gain Christ. The Apostle Paul never ceased His pursuit to know more and more about the Savior, his life and death. It is all part of his intimate relationship.

Can we reach a point where no further knowledge is necessary, if Paul desires a growth in his own knowledge? Spiritual knowledge or growth never ceases in our lifetime. No greater example can be found than the subject of resurrection.

Philip. 3:10 that I long to know Him. Paul was anxious to know about Christ; not to have a few facts here or there about Him. Paul had a desire to know the Lord.

A relational distinction. We had many facts about the president of the United States. Sometimes these are through hearsay, sometimes off the internet, sometimes from the news. Speculation of what he is thinking and what his policies are. Some have even met him and have spoken with him. But not many people know him personally, how he interacts with people on an individual basis. They do not have a direct relationship with the president. Likewise, there are many people who know something about the Lord Jesus Christ; some things true or false, and they know some things which have been written. They He performed miracles, that He was persecuted. They know all of these facts intellectually.

Unless they accept these facts by faith; they cannot know Him or how He thinks, in a personal way.

We come to know one another through personal interaction. There are all kinds of rumors, gossip, misunderstandings, and this is also true of the Lord Jesus Christ. People have opinions about the Lord, both pro and con. They know and they will give their opinion. Sometimes, this is a good way to begin a conversation about Him. It is fascinating to know their answers. They know superficial facts or they know what others have said about Him. They know nothing about His Words. Yet, they often have an opinion. But they do not have a personal relationship. They do not know that they can initiate a personal relationship with Him by any means. So many people think their relationship is based upon who they are. God cannot have an intimate, personal, eternal relationship with any of us. We are born separated. We are unable to reach God; we cannot find Him with both hands in the dark. We are all flawed in a state of total depravity. Our nature is not compatible with God's standards. His perfect justice must condemn us. Without a hope of reconciliation with God. His love motivated Him to save us. We cannot meet His righteous standards. John 3:16 God so loved the world that He gave His Own uniquely-born Son.

As perfect man and God in One Person, He is the only one qualified to make such a sacrifice on our behalf. He is the greater Mediator attorney that anyone has ever had. We can pay nothing to get out of the slave market of sin; we have not the capital. Man screams for peace; but there will always be war between men. Because of Christ, we are acceptable to God and are personally acceptable to Him. His bearing of our sins on His Own body. We are the ones who should die. To appropriate this salvation work, we should believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and we are saved (Acts 16:31). He must express faith alone in the Lord Jesus Christ alone. Then the believer gains a family relationship with God. As family, we know our parent. We begin to understand God the Father. We begin to understand the thinking of the Lord Jesus Christ. We have the mind of Christ. We have an eternal family relationship. Guaranteed. Yet, once we become a member of His family, building and growing that family relationship is necessary.

In families, when we are under 5, we are entirely dependent upon our family. As we grow up, we become less dependent; but our relationship gets better, because we understand how much our parents love us. We might be in rebellion. Then we become an adult and we begin to appreciate everything that our family has done to sacrifice to make us successful in life. We understand and have a much more intimate relationship because we understand.

Building and growing the relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ is growing in knowledge of Him. "I am the resurrection and the life; he who believes in Me will live, even if he dies." Death is not the end but the beginning. So what is to fear? So Paul writes, I long to know Him and the power of His resurrection and the fellowship of His suffering, being conformed to His death. Power and resurrection are dynamic words, and Paul combines these words. They have a momentum of their own. The only objective reference is the Bible, the inspired Word of God. We learn from the Bible that there is a power that raises us from the death.

O death, where is your victory; O death, where is your sting? But thanks be to God. And blessed by the God our Father, by the Lord Jesus Christ, Who has caused us to be born again, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

The celebration of Easter represents our assurance. The more Bobby knows, the more he finds himself in pure empathy with the Apostle Paul. The real reason for studying the Lord Jesus Christ as our Savior and the Living God. Paul wants to know the power that takes us beyond physical life and physical death. He was not obsessed with death. Paul himself had caused death. He was a murderer of Christians before he became one. He was imprisoned in Rome and was beheaded.

He wrote to the Corinthians, For indeed in this house, we groan, longing to be clothed with our dwelling from heaven. Paul was groaning for his eternal body. The unbelieving world knows nothing of this. What is this power of resurrection? It is the power of God for resurrection, for life; there is no one else who has this power over death. So by the power of God, every believer will have the same experience; the resurrection body. A body just like His. The same power that raised Him from the dead is the same power upon which He depended in his life. We have access to the same power, and that, Paul wants to know about and he wants us to know about it. “You shall receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you.” and 10 days later, it happened.

Jesus Christ gave them the same power by which He lived, died and was resurrected. This is the identical power that he utilized. Paul wants us to know about this same power. The power that resurrected Him is the same power that will resurrect us.

We are indeed blessed in the age in which we live. We are blessed to live in this age. This power is given to us. It was given to a very select group of people in the Old Testament. Moses longed to see our day. He knew that something greater was coming.

Lesson #0823

Luke 16:8–13 Life of Christ

3/30/2016 Wed

Missionary Armondo Garcia is in town. He'll be here after Bible class Thursday night. Has a ministry in Costa Rica and Nicaragua.

The parable of the crafty steward in vv. 1–9. It is a lesson from the unbelieving financial world. It is a story of a wealthy man that his money manager is misusing his funds (vv. 1–2) and the money manager knows that, if he cannot account for the money, he will be fired (at the very least). And he is too proud to beg and too old to dig ditches.

Therefore, he uses his very fertile mind to come up with a scheme to preclude these problems. Vv. 4–5a. We focus on two of the debtors of his master, but there may have been more. The idea is for him to have a fallback position from his current job. He wants to make certain that he has a place to fall.

He charges the debtors of his master a discounted amount, to get something for his master. He summoned each of the master's debtors.

Take your bill and write me a check for half the amount and we will call it even. And to a second, he says, write me a check for 80%, and we will call it even.

So the master sees all this and he thought that all of his money was lost. The master praises the unrighteous manager for acting shrewdly. He believed that the money manager did well to get some of this money back. Something is better. On the other side of the plan, the debtors came out ahead and they liked the money manager. These became his new friends.

Then comes a surprising revelation from Jesus Christ concerning this parable. He also praises this ingenuity. He makes an application to the disciples concerning the shrewdness of the money manager.

Believers need to take a lesson from the money managers shrewdness regarding the money that God gives to them.

Luke 16:8 The master commended the dishonest manager for his shrewdness. For the sons of this world are more shrewd in dealing with their own generation than the sons of light.

Application Set 1

1. The smart person in this world works, saves and insures himself for many circumstances until the time of his death. He plans for his reasonable future.
2. The Lord does not find fault with that. Nothing wrong with wealth.
3. Dull, clueless believers should learn to handle money with farsightedness and creativity. Jesus is not recommending being crooked.
4. It is not anti-Christian to accumulate wealth; but a lot of people think that it is. It is an issue as to how you think about wealth.
5. Jesus Christ will place limits on the principle of accumulating wealth; so that the accumulation of wealth will not be misunderstood. Many believers do abuse wealth. Look at the televangelists and how many have been arrested.

Set 2

1. Take a lesson from the world in matters of astuteness.
2. Use the wealth you have gained wisely. The grace of God is behind all of it. Don't think of yourself as being brilliant when it comes to the wealth that you have built up. The grace of God is always there. Christ will place limits on the principle of accumulating wealth.
3. There will be stipulations about accumulation. Wealth should not be gained just for personal reasons. There have been many times when the distortions about money and Christianity is that you cannot use it for personal things. Vows of poverty in the Middle Ages and this is goofy. Do not feel guilty about what you have. Not just personal accumulation or personal glory.
4. A believer is never to become a servant of money. Wealth should never be the master.

We get more application in v. 9. This is to the disciples. It sounds really weird at first. "Make friends by using means of unrighteous wealth;" it sounds as if you are going to bribe them.

Make friends so that they will receive you into their homes in the future. The disciples were to use the wealth of unrighteousness. He uses money to make friends wisely for himself. This does not mean to use the wealth of the world for your own priorities. This does mean to use the same shrewdness and ability.

The word in the Scripture is μαμωνας.

Mammon

1. We do not know the etymology of this word.
2. This has always been a symbol of wealth.
3. In Scripture, it definitely refers to riches that are the master. And even riches that are worshiped, in contrast to the money that is for God. It refers to riches that are contrasted with that due to God.
4. In this context, the mammon of unrighteousness does not refer to immoral or ill-begotten wealth.
5. It simply refers to the wealth of this world with no value judgment placed upon it. Usually, there is a value-judgement. The wealth of this world versus that due to God.
6. Money and wealth in itself not evil.
7. So much of the world idolizes mammon as a God. It is their God. We call it chasing the almighty dollar. It is a pretty common thing. Some will do anything to gain wealth. That is not shrewd and that is criminal. Some even think that it provides happiness. But if you are not happy without money; you will not be happy with it. It does not matter what your circumstances are for happiness. The circumstances in your soul is where happiness originates. Many believers are happy in the worst of circumstances. This is contentment.
8. As a god, mammon is deceptive. It is a cruel master. It never brings the desired result if you expect it to be the end-all. It never brings the end result for which it is sought so desperately.
9. It fails everyone at death. You cannot take it with you.

Next Set

1. Idolizing wealth is not for the believer. It was for the money manager.
2. Wealth can be used by the believer, but it should never be your master. It should never be your driving force. When you chase the almighty dollar, you are not grace oriented. This does not mean that you cannot work to become wealthy; but that should not be your focus. God gave us a brain; and we can make money with our brain and with our hard work.
3. Mammon should be harnessed as an effective tool to fulfill God's purposes, for one's own life and for the furthering of the disseminating of the gospel and Bible doctrine.

4. Wealth can be used of the furtherance of the gospel and of Bible doctrine.
5. This is the principle of wealth in the life of the believer, to be used wisely and to make friends.

What does it mean to make friends. Christ urges His disciples to make friends. This got him accepted into the homes of those he helped. He went from the rich man to this newly acquired friends. Jesus is speaking of landing in eternal dwellings. There is a connection between making friends and being received into eternal dwellings. What is this connection? The money manager made friends with the debtors. Jesus is not saying that we should buy friends like a shrewd politician spreading the pork around. The believer makes every effort to makes friends and to help others, to spread Bible doctrine and the gospel, spreading the wealth of Jesus Christ. This is spreading around heavenly wealth. Bringing a person to Christ is to make an eternal friend.

Application

1. The wealth of this world will fail. That is an absolute given fact. Hard and fast rule.
2. The wealth of this world will be swept away of no further use once a person departs this life.
3. But in making friends through the gospel and Bible doctrine, the heavenly wealth, conferring eternal riches to them.
4. For the believer who makes friends, there will remain an eternal wealth. Something that we can take with us. This is a little heavenly real estate.
5. Those friends that you have made utilize the wealth of the gospel in this life will greet and forever thank you in the next life. We have a friend for eternity.
6. Summation: there will be an eternal bond of friendship. You have ought friends using the wealth of unrighteousness. You can use wealth to further the gospel, to support the dissemination of the gospel; and this is buying friends eternally. And from those who grow spiritually from the doctrine that is disseminated. But we are not being called to spend all of our wealth on the church.

Just as this money manager could use ingenuity and foresight to provide for himself in the future; and we use our wealth in this life to further the gospel of Jesus Christ and Bible doctrine in this world.

Luke 16:9 And I tell you, make friends for yourselves by means of unrighteous wealth, so that when it fails they may receive you into the eternal dwellings.

Then we move on. Faithfulness in the little things is faithfulness in the big things. If you are unfaithful, who will be faithful to you?

Luke 16:10 "One who is faithful in a very little is also faithful in much, and one who is dishonest in a very little is also dishonest in much.

The person who embezzles small amounts of money, will eventually, if given the chance, embezzle large amounts of money. Dishonesty early on in a relationship translates to lies and unfaithfulness translates to much worse behavior in the future.

In the early part of a relationship, and they notice some dishonesty and unfaithfulness and they are blind to it; and it becomes the most important part of the future relationship.

Application from the Parable

1. If you have wealth in this world and you are unfaithful in using it, then...
2. You cannot be entrusted with the use of money period, for good things, like using it in the service to the Lord.
3. True riches refers to the riches that are being used in the service of the Lord.
4. Earthly wealth is given as a trust from God. And a manifestation of His grace, which we must faithfully use in our lifetime. That is our charge.
5. Therefore, the use of wealth by a believer as service should always reflect God's grace. It cannot be used parsimoniously. It is used to further the gospel as grace oriented. So much of this world uses money as a bribe. They use their money on others to get from them. The believer gives for the purpose of the dissemination of the gospel. That is spiritual wealth. Believers should always be grace oriented, so that they can be astute in the use of wealth.
6. That use of wealth is a test of grace orientation. How is a believer uses money is a test.
7. So the use of wealth is an application of grace. It does not matter...
8. Such a use of money brings satisfaction for the believer in this temporal life. This is called being a good steward of the Lord's money.
9. This is because this puts away wealth in eternity. Wealth in this life lasts as long as you live; but wealth used for divine good lasts eternally.
10. This wealth in eternity is built on the production of divine good in this life. This always includes the correct motive of grace orientation under the filling of the Holy Spirit.
11. No reward in heaven will be given for a misuse of one's trust from the Lord on earth.

Luke 16:11 If then you have not been faithful in the unrighteous wealth, who will entrust to you the true riches?

If you are not faithful with that which belong's to another.

Luke 16:12 And if you have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you that which is your own?

Final Points

1. If the believer does not use earthly wealth provided by God's plan, then...
2. The eternal reward in heaven will be forever lost. That reward remains in the hall of records as a monument to spiritual failure.

3. Convert earthly cash into heavenly currency. If you do not have the money in this regard, do not worry about it.

A final application of the parable is made in this verse.

Luke 16:13 No servant can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money."

Lesson #0824

Luke 16:13 Life of Christ

3/31/2016 Thurs

The reason for the parable was how to handle money shrewdly; to be good stewards. Money can be a blessing to those who use it for the furtherance of the gospel and Bible doctrine.

The disciples are still listening, but Jesus is speaking to the pharisees about money.

Luke 16:13 No servant can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money."

The pharisees placed money in front of everything else. They saw money as the ticked for everything. They heard what the Lord said and they were mocking Him. This is what they did throughout His ministry. They will continue this until He is on the cross.

What Jesus taught went against all the pharisees believed in. They were the epitome of legalism. They believed that God would bless the wealthy. It was blessing from God. Wealth indicated that they were receiving special favor from God. Because of their wealth, they believed that God looked upon them with special favor.

The pharisees were wealthy; they possessed power; and they were filled with themselves because of their wealth. As righteous as they were, how could the Kingdom be denied to them. However, they rejected the King; so there would be no Kingdom for them.

They cannot see grace; they cannot see the truth. What they said about money and blessing was certainly true about true in some ways. Abraham had a lot of gold, silver and cattle. There is no question that Abraham was blessed by God. The pharisees made application from that. They also considered Job, who was also very wealthy. He had everything that would be seen as blessing. In the end, Job passed the testing that God gave him and was blessed with double what he had lost. He was oriented to God's plan. He did not understand all that happened to him.

In God's plan, there is no question as to the legitimacy of wealth. So wealth can be a gift from God, representing a blessing on individuals. Israel was a very prosperous nation. Today, many Jews are very prosperous people.

The priority of the pharisees was money; and they chased after it. And they thought that they were being blessed by it. What does come to them is judgment.

Wealth can be quite deceptive and misunderstood by those who make it into the greatest good. Instead of money being a blessing by God for His purposes,... They lusted for wealth and they called it a blessing from God. They believed that their great righteousness was the key. But God does not bless self-righteousness.

They have neglected the fact that many righteous people in the Old Testament lacked wealth. Many unrighteous people had wealth, do many evil things to acquire it. In the pharisees scheme of things, anything that they did meant that God was pleased with their endeavor.

The pharisees probably exhibited the principle that the love of money was the root of all evil. It is clear that their wealth will ill-gotten and it was apart from grace orientation.

Luke 16:14 The Pharisees, who were lovers of money, heard all these things, and they ridiculed him.

What Jesus would say would separate the pharisees from their faulty philosophy. "That which is highly esteemed by men is abominable to God.

It is a major driving force today to make money. Often, people think in terms which are quite different from the way that God thinks. Very different from the pharisees thinking that wealth is equivalent to God's blessing. Therefore, the pharisees were unacceptable to God.

The pharisees used their money for nothing else but approbation. God is disgusted with that kind of maneuvering with wealth.

Luke 16:15 And he said to them, "You are those who justify yourselves before men, but God knows your hearts. For what is exalted among men is an abomination in the sight of God.

What Jesus says is something that we wish we could say to a lot of people. "What you like is detestable to God." Their anti-grace attitude was abhorrent to God.

What made the pharisees believe that they were so acceptable to God? What caused the blessing of wealth come to them? Was it their scrupulous observance of the Law? Was it the adherence to the many regulations written related to the Law.

If you want to ignore an existing law; you simply write a regulation. That regulation might violate law. The pharisees did this for their own benefit.

Their supposed adherence to the Law was an abomination to God. After John, the gospel and the kingdom were proclaimed. Everyone is forcing their way into it (the Kingdom).

The Pharisees, the Law and the Prophets, and the Gospel.

1. The pharisees had disregarded the basic teaching of the Law and the Prophets.
2. These guys disregarded it; especially regarding the coming Messiah and His kingdom.

3. Moses and the prophets all anticipated Messiah's arrival. Jesus arrived and John announced Him.
4. It was the Messiah, Jesus Christ, who would provide righteousness for those who would enter into the kingdom.
5. This is called justification by faith. You simply accept it. You are blessed by faith in Christ. Abraham was justified, not in the eyes of man, but in the eyes of God. We read that Abraham was justified because he believed God.
6. The pharisees were supplying their own righteousness in order gain the kingdom. This
7. The pharisees ignored the Law and the Prophets. They ignored the Lord Who stood in front of them.
8. John said, "Behold the King" and he called upon the people to repent; to change their minds.

Jesus was the total fulfillment of the Law and the Prophets; and yet the pharisees rejected Him.

It is not as if the pharisees were ignorant. They had studied the Law and they heard what Jesus was teaching.

The pharisees proclaimed that Jesus did not keep the Law; when He really just did not keep their regulations. His message did not meet their perverted human standards.

The religious leaders proclaimed that the people were the kingdom. They are children of Abraham and therefore, the kingdom belonged to them.

The pharisees refused the kingdom at every turn.

Luke 16:16 "The Law and the Prophets were until John; since then the good news of the kingdom of God is preached, and everyone forces his way into it.

They were all forcing their way into the kingdom by their own works-righteousness.

Luke 16:17 But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for one dot of the Law to become void.

It is easier for the entire heaven and earth to pass away than for one dot of the Law to disappear. The pharisees added to the words with their own thoughts and their own motives. This is what religious types do.

There are so many religious leaders today who do the exact same thing. Many of them do not believe that the Bible is the Word of God. Some even add pieces themselves; and they lift passages out of context to support their own beliefs.

Only the Lord Jesus Christ lacked a sin nature; so He could fulfill the Law. What the Law said about the Messiah and real righteousness was absolutely correct.

The Point

1. The legalistic law keeping of the pharisees did not provide them a way into the kingdom. They lacked the righteousness of God.
2. The righteousness of God as portray
3. The heaven and the earth will pass away; but the Word of God will stand forever. All your regulations are nothing. Heaven and earth could pass away; but the Law remains constant.
4. The Law is a look at perfect righteousness. One purpose of the Law is to show us how far short we fall from God.
5. No person with a sin nature could ever meet the standards of the Law. The disciples were learning about the pharisees and their view of money.

The Lord will punctuate this point. He will use another illustration of phoney law-keeping and covetousness. He will use the subject of divorce in marriage. And the pharisees perverted this greatly.

Luke 16:18 "Everyone who divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery, and he who marries a woman divorced from her husband commits adultery.

So what is the Lord talking about here? Is He negating all the legitimate reasons for divorce? The answer lies in the context of what Jesus is doing here.

Missionary Armondo Garcia. Attended Berachah for 30 years. He left Berachah to go to Central America and he took categorized doctrine to them. 17 years able to communicate the Word of God. Difficult because his other half has had trouble with her vehicle. They have been able to communicate by video conferencing.

He has used YouTube. He is teaching some nights on YouTube? God has provided a small congregation so the Word of God can be recorded from the original languages; so that it can be taken throughout. They teach theology and Greek to a number of pastors.

It is fun to see the divine decrees in action. It is the natives who are to teach their own people. Theology is made up of the doctrines of Thieme; only 520 doctrines. He needs to translate and communicate.

We look at life from the point of view of heaven.

Self-publications. About to complete the Angelic Conflict. Working with Rick Henderson and his crew in Tapes and Pubs. There is no marketing. He heard that from Bob's pulpit. You just study and teach and the Lord will provide the hearers.

Communicating 5 hours a week. There are no grades. The men who are truly interested will listen. One is translating the book of John. The language is now theirs. No degrees. A very smooth way to learn the language.

The most powerful thing that exists is the Word of God. We all have the opportunity to participate. Plan is perfect; the timing is perfect. What will happen with his wife is God's planning. Might be 10 more years or 8 months.

He likes to go on the street and grabs people. "Can I tell you something?" And he evangelizes. He will go to the parks and do the same thing. We are here to be a testimony to the power. When we live it and communicate it; then life has a purpose.

Men are responding to his teaching. They take it to their congregations.

Lesson #0825 Luke 16:18 Deut. 24:1–4 Life of Christ 4/3/2015 1Sunday

The subject is divorce and adultery. Reasons for divorce can include adultery. Some reasons for divorce can be frivolous, like, "I don't want to be married anymore" or cruel like, "I am going to trade you in for a better model." Those are self-centered or self-indulgent.

We don't consider such things as adulterous; but the Lord teaches that it is. Adultery is a normal, legitimate reason for divorce. But the Lord in this passage makes things a little different. The Lord teaches that divorce equals adultery.

Luke 16:18 "Everyone who divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery, and he who marries a woman divorced from her husband commits adultery."

Divorce is equivalent to adultery. Divorce and remarriage equals adultery. "Go chew on that one for awhile." Divorce is a common thing in our country, which includes many believers. This is the sort of thing that most people do not like to hear.

A husband who divorces his wife and marries another, that is adultery; and the husband who marries a divorced woman is committing adultery.

What the Lord has left out in this verse is that adultery is a legitimate reason for divorce and it is written that way in the Mosaic Law. 1Cor. 7 covers the divorce and remarriage issues.

What Jesus is teaching here does not negate other portions of Scripture. Bear in mind that Jesus is speaking to the pharisees. Both groups are listening, but the previous parable was directed toward the believers; and this one toward the pharisees.

Jesus is not looking to rewrite the Law of Moses here. It is our Lord Who dictated the Law to Moses. He is immutable God He cannot contradict himself. It was not the purpose of the Lord to emphasize adultery and divorce as among the greatest sins. However, in some congregations and some seminaries. You solve the marriage/divorce problems with rebound. Once that has been taken care of, it is over. Do not carry around a guilt complex because of it.

Adultery could be punished with the death penalty, indicating what God thinks of it. Divorce and remarriage was one of the perversions of the Law by the pharisees.

Deut. 24:1–2 "When a man takes a wife and marries her, if then she finds no favor in his eyes because he has found some indecency in her, and he writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out of his house, and she departs out of his house, and if she goes and becomes another man's wife...

We might immediately start assigning our concept of indecency here. The pharisees picked up on the word indecency. The pharisees distorted the Law of Moses. They used this to go after any wife that displeased them.

Bobby was stationed in Ft. Wachuka, Arizona; military intelligence. He was in school there; a senior captain and intelligence was his secondary interest. Two Muslims there; and Bobby liked them, and they were from Somalia; and they prepared a meal for him. You have to eat with your hands. They began to talk. "You need to come visit us in Somalia sometime." There is an advantage in Somalia, you can marry many wives."

The pharisees allowed for divorce for any indecency. The legitimate reason for divorce in the Bible were very limited. Regulations can expand or change a law. Deut. 24:1 required a limited meaning of indecency.

This is the basic context. To make their regulations on divorce to appear to be more legitimate. The pharisees defined indecency as she found no favor in his eyes. And the pharisees allowed for divorce here if there was no favor in the eyes of the man. This gave them the chance to divorce a woman for nearly any reason.

In the United States, same-sex marriage has been an addition.

In divorces, the children pay the price for the breakup.

The pharisees looked to find a way to distort the Mosaic Law in order to divorce the women they no longer wanted. Jesus was looking at men who used any pretext to divorce a woman. The pharisees widely interpreted this verse to their own advantage.

When this was originally written, they understood the parameters of the word indecency. We may not know all the meanings today; and this was used to distort that word.

Final Points

1. The pharisees wrote many dubious interpretations based upon the word indecency.
2. It was expanded to mean much more than adultery.

3. They also changed the definition of adultery. That is hard to changed. Is it very strange.
4. In that era, a man could divorce a woman for many reasons; so many chances to take advantage here.
5. The pharisees did not limit indecency to the tent
6. Any indecency of a wife became an excuse for a husband to take up with another woman.
7. This is the true definition of adultery. This is why the Lord is teaching that divorce is adultery. This would be a death sentence for them.
8. Another way to get around this.
9. How did they do this? They exempted the husband from adultery. If he found indecency in his wife for any reason, he could send her away and take up with another woman. This is certainly the abuse of women.
10. Therefore, Jesus was taking these people to taske of
- 11.

Deut. 24:3–4 ...and the latter man hates her and writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out of his house, or if the latter man dies, who took her to be his wife, then her former husband, who sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife, after she has been defiled, for that is an abomination before the LORD. And you shall not bring sin upon the land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance.

Lesson #0826 Deut. 24:1–4 Luke 16:14, 15, 18 Life of Christ 4/3/2016 2Sun.

Everyone has an opinion about divorce and it is connected to adultery.

Instead of discussing an issue, people use sarcasm and put down people for various reasons and in various ways. This way, they can avoid the issues. They can make a person seem like an idiot. The pharisees were no different.

So the pharisees mocked the Lord. He stared them down and then said:

Luke 16:14 The Pharisees, who were lovers of money, heard all these things, and they ridiculed him.

Luke 16:15 And he said to them, "You are those who justify yourselves before men, but God knows your hearts. For what is exalted among men is an abomination in the sight of God.

This shut them up immediately. Jesus has moved from their mockery to crushing them at their regulatory game.

Luke 16:18 "Everyone who divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery, and he who marries a woman divorced from her husband commits adultery.

There are repercussions to the destruction of marriage. It destroys families and harms children.

The pharisaical regulations had become absolutely ridiculous, and allowed them to get rid of a spouse that they no longer liked. They managed to do this by redefining indecent. They used this for their own wants and desires.

We have a similarity to today with the Constitution. It reflects divine establishment. The reinterpreting of the constitution today. Reinterpreting the original meaning to fit relative societal standards today. No longer seen as strict, unchangeable principles. The Constitution limits the government and encourages individual freedom. Reinterpretation does exactly the opposite.

The religious pharisees were the most self-centered of all people. What they did was truly tragic for the women who were being divorced. This is not what the Mosaic Law intended for women. If a woman was sent out of the house, she often had no options in life. Slavery, servitude, even prostitution might be their few options. But this was not considered by the pharisees. This is the epitome of tyranny of individuals. The pharisees made it tyrannical. Regulations are used today to favor those making the regulations (or those they like); for their mutual benefit; and they legalistically enforced those regulations.

The Mosaic Law protected women. This was one of the few documents in the ancient world that actually protected women from the whims of an angry, lusty or self-centered husband.

Deut. 24:1–2 "When a man takes a wife and marries her, if then she finds no favor in his eyes because he has found some indecency in her, and he writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out of his house, and she departs out of his house, and if she goes and becomes another man's wife...

The husband only had to give the woman a divorce decree. A certificate of divorce. It was a legal document designed for protection of the woman under the law. While this was being done, there was a cooling off period. Ideally speaking, reconciliation might occur.

God considers marriage critical for the human race. Divorce is tough on the children. Adultery is difficult; but there are other reasons not to divorce. If divorce occurs, the woman is protected; and she has a legal right to remarry.

Deut. 24:3–4 ...and the latter man hates her and writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out of his house, or if the latter man dies, who took her to be his wife, then her former husband, who sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife, after she has been defiled, for that is an abomination before the LORD. And you shall not bring sin upon the land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance.

Jesus is speaking to the perverters of the Law. This did allow the woman to remarry with this certificate of divorce. This was an important aspect of the protection of the woman in Israel. However, none of that was occurring; they were absolute hypocrites. Those right there listening to Jesus speak knew exactly what was happening and exactly what He was saying. These religious hypocrites cited the Law as their guide, and yet, they perverted it. They just redefined the law and decided, "I'm keeping it." And this goes on all the time today.

Jesus and the Pharisees

1. Jesus Christ understood the motives and the perversions of the pharisees in the time in which this was written. Jesus knew that Israel as a nation would be judged severely for many of these things.
2. Jesus Christ wrote the Law; it was His Law. He perfectly understood it and its intent. The pharisees and scribes were brilliant legal minds, but they used their brilliance to serve themselves.
3. So Jesus says, "Divorce is adultery." This refutes the actions of the pharisees.
4. If a man marries a divorced women, under these conditions, he is also committing adultery. Why do you think they wanted to write all of these regulations? They wanted other women. What Jesus said did not negate legitimate divorce.
5. Jesus was addressing the pharisees blatant disregard for their regulations on divorce and their misuse of the Law of Moses. "This is what you are doing; you are committing adultery by following your own regulations." No one fools God.
6. Our Lord was also reaffirming to the pharisees and everyone else listening there, the inviability of marriage.

Bobby is not saying, "You cannot divorce for any reason." We all have doctrine so that we can decide what to do. Our choices must be made based upon the doctrine in our souls. Doctrine is God's standards. Our standards do not meet divine standards.

The Pharisees and Divorce

1. The pharisees were purported to be righteous, the most righteous of all; and Jesus is showing them up for just how wrong they are.
2. The pharisees acknowledged the obvious. Adultery was wrong. The Mosaic Law says that it is wrong. This made them righteous in their own eyes.
3. Divorce not included under adultery?
4. If they wanted another man's wife, they would play the indecency card. They would divorce their present wife and marry a new woman. They have not committed adultery, in their own minds. They are utterly corrupt.
5. Divorce for these people was always placed outside the definition of adultery. It was never called adultery for them.
6. Divorce had become a legal and legitimate practice for almost any reason.
7. Christ points out when He said these words in Luke 16:18. As a result, they were not living according to the Mosaic Law as they claim. This is such a blatant corruption of the Mosaic Law. They were hypocritical about the Law and about wealth. They had no connection with God's Word and His Law.

is the superiority of God's grace. This grace stands out as the dominant note. The actual possession of the Bible is a matter of grace on the part of God. God has recorded it. For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation to all men. Sometimes sin is spoken of as the most terrible of all facts. Rom. 5:20 the Law came in so that the transgressions would increase (it revealed our hopelessness to meet God's standards) but, where sin increased, grace abounded all the more.

We can thank God that we need not live under the dominion of sin as long as Queen Grace reigns. The Christian life is totally dependent upon grace. My power is perfected in weakness. The real battle begins when we accept this grace by faith alone in Christ alone. It is by the grace of God that we are victorious in the spiritual life. By the grace of God, I am what I am. His grace toward me did not prove vain, but I labored more than all; yet not I, but the grace of God within me.

Queen Grace; there is none comparable to her, and yet, men assassinate her daily. If it is by grace, then it is dependable and as reliable as God Himself. Bobby would not risk his salvation on the best minute that he has lived.

So many are trying to keep the Mosaic Law, struggling to observe the divine rules given to Moses on Mount Sinai. Others try to live by the golden rule. They are conscientious in their desire to gain God's favor by meeting all of His requirements. The Law represents all that God demands; but no one, apart from Jesus Christ, has lived up to all the stringent standards of the Law. The Law demands perfection and perfection is required at every moment.

Rom. 4:5 But to the one who does not work but believes in Christ, his faith is credited as righteousness. Salvation by works is abhorrent to God. Man cannot work for salvation. That is an intense form of treason to Queen Grace. Titus 3:5 He saved us not based upon the deeds which we have done in righteousness, but by His Own mercy...

What a better illustration than a pharisee who went to the Temple. "I thank you that I am not like these others...I fast twice a week."

Every blessing of God is on the basis of faith. Our faith, made efficacious by the Holy Spirit.

A great preacher of the past, William Haddon Spurgeon talked about a Catholic who made a great journey, who was beheaded. He picked up his head and returned home to be buried. Spurgeon points out that his problem was that first step. Far more abundantly than we could ask or think.

In spite of all the assassination attempts, Queen Grace will not be de-throned.

We have arrived at the 2nd parable in Luke 16. The second parable is called the Rich Man and Lazarus. The first was the crafty steward. Wealth is not really the issue of these parables. Both of these parables complement one another. The pharisees thought that wealth was righteousness and blessing from God. But being rich cannot be equated with divine blessing. Pharisees did not always get their wealth through legitimate means.

We are aware of beggars, as we see them on street corners all the time. The wealthy man was a lover of money, just like the pharisees. Their theology of wealth was entirely a farce. Jesus addresses the pharisees and their philosophy. They regarded Jesus as ridiculous by declaring that you cannot serve God and mammon. This was their philosophy. They served God by serving mammon.

This is a very well known parable, even outside Christian circles. This lesson is so misunderstood and misapplied.

This parable is unique inasmuch as, in the second half, it gives us an illustration of the afterlife. No where else in the Bible is heaven described like this; the same for hell.

Lesson #0828 Rom. 6:6–7 Luke 16:19–21 Life of Christ 4/10/2016 2Sun.

Bobby is teaching four books in one study.

These parables are unique in Scripture. Two are the most unique and the most well-known in all Scripture. The rich man and Lazarus will go down in our thinking as a great doctrinal content narrative.

People love stories; and the people then understood perfectly the background to these stories. We have some trouble being so removed from that time period. The interpretation has been so incorrect. Those who think that the Bible is just a nice moral book; and they will use this parable and misapply it. They will find some meaning that is humanistic and socialistic. This is the classic rich man/poor man conflict; and this appears to come down on the side of the poor. Uplift the downtrodden and down with the evil rich.

Jesus did not arrive on this earth to initiate a war on poverty; or to sell socialism. Our Lord came to this world to removed spiritual poverty; to remove spiritual death by His death on the cross.

As a man, Jesus was not a rich man; and He was surrounded by poverty. It is the nature of man that is the core of poverty. It is the cause that Jesus came to deal with. It is not a symptom.

A great deal of medicine deals with symptoms only. Jesus, on the other hand, could deal with the fundamental problems, and cure them. He frees us from the sin nature as the ruler of our lives.

Rom 6:5 For if we have been united with Him in a death like his, we shall certainly be united with Him in a resurrection like His.

Rom. 6:6 We know that our old self was crucified with Him in order that the body of sin might be brought to nothing, so that we would no longer be enslaved to sin.

Our nature was crucified with Christ. It died with Him. There is a whole doctrine behind all of this. The baptism of water identifies us with Jesus Christ on the cross. The reason for this is that our human body of sin might be done away with.

As an unbeliever, our nature is in control. But as a believer, we have an entirely different perspective.

Rom. 6:7 For one who has died has been set free from sin.

We are free from the rule of the sin nature. We now have another option. We can break the power of the sin nature's control over our lives.

Freedom from the Sin Nature as Believers in Jesus Christ

1. Jesus Christ has manumitted believers from the tyranny of the sin nature over our lives. We can still fall back into it by not confessing our sins.
2. Positionally, the believer is free; experientially, that is not always the case.
3. So, through the power of the filling of the Holy Spirit and spiritual growth, we as believers are able to progressively lessen the experiential control of the sin nature.

If the wrong person wins the masters, Bobby might get out of fellowship.

Doctrinal facts are irrelevant to those with a social agenda. Such people want to sell socialism. This parable is often used often as support for socialism. They cite this parable to prove that even Jesus saw the rich as evil and oppressive. Such use distorted divine viewpoint in order to support their human viewpoint thinking.

Who does not want to see the defeat of poverty? But the socialist approach never fulfills his own promises. Man cannot eradicate poverty.

The old nature is crucified with Christ. The unbeliever cannot do anything. Socialism does not take into account the sin nature.

A perfect example today is the anti-Wall Street movement. The objection is, they are greedy; and, there is some greed in capitalism. But they leave out the fact of the indwelling sin nature. Greed is not limited to any economic strata. Socialism has not curbed that problem at any time. Greed for other people's money. No economic system can or will change the sin nature of man. The only solution is Rom. 6:6–7. Socialism often heightens the function of the sin nature.

Our bloated welfare system is an example. There is a certain amount of welfare that is necessary; but what we have today breeds indolence, stagnation, lack of personal initiative. Only motivated to get a larger screen tv.

No political system can defeat the sin nature.

The sin nature is like a whack-a-mole; you stuff part of it into the box, and it spring out somewhere else.

Capitalism provides the greatest opportunity for prosperity for the greatest amount of economic advance.

The current pope said something that made perfect sense, which surprised Bobby. "A certain amount of poverty is a part of this world." Jesus said the same thing. The poor you will always have with you.

Socialism as an economic system breeds great poverty in any people. This has been proven over and over again. A reduction of personal circumstances for all except the top tier in the government (or among their friends).

Dependence on the government crushes initiative.

Government welfare is not grace. Welfare is not charity either. That is by individuals and groups.

Jesus is speaking this parable. It is not His purpose to wipe out all poverty on this earth.

There are two scenes of contrast on this parable. Vv. 19–22 is the earthly state; vv. 23– is the heavenly state. The afterlife. The parable gives us a picture of the status of those who have died. The dead are not asleep; the death are not just in limbo.

This picture should not be mythologize because it is a parable. Many want to take this afterlife and treat it like a myth. Some want to get away from the torment found here. An afterlife like this is too much for anyone to contemplate.

By way of literature, a fictional story does not minimize true life aspects of the story. If this is a story, it is still about real things. What the Lord is telling us is real. Was this particular story real? It does not matter. It is representative of the truth. Jesus Christ opens the curtain of the afterlife. Such a doctrine is taught elsewhere; but only here is it described in detail.

We can see the fearful outcome of the rejection of Jesus Christ. The pharisees were very much rejecting Jesus Christ. We do not want the worst enemy to end up like the rich man.

Luke 16:19 "There was a rich man who was clothed in purple and fine linen and who feasted sumptuously every day.

Now the contrast.

Luke 16:20 And at his gate was laid a poor man named Lazarus, covered with sores, he has to be carried there; unable to get there himself.

Luke 16:21 who desired to be fed with what fell from the rich man's table. Moreover, even the dogs came and licked his sores.

He could hear the great feast occurring in this time. Even the dogs came and licked his sores. The rich man enjoyed all the splendor and the luxuries and all the things money could buy.

The rich man is never described as being some sort of a monster. He was not completely uncharitable. He allowed Lazarus to beg at his gate.

God had no place in this man's life. It was not how he treated others. That is never an issue. The unbelieving pharisee is described by the rich man in this parable. They loved their money as did these rulers. They rejected the Messiah and they served mammon.

Now the poor man, and an involved description of him. This tells us very much about poverty and what this man's life is like. Great stark contrast.

Then the circumstances will be reversed.

Lesson #0829

Luke 16:19–23 Life of Christ

4/13/2016 Wed

Bobby gets a lot of letters. Most of the scathing letters are theological and not personal. Found one recently that is encouraging. Very interesting person that he has never met.

Over the course of the past 46 years, I have been fairly consistent; and very consistent in the past 5 years. Listens on his/her iPhone on the train to work. A healthcare industry worker. Had no interest in starting his own business; but after many doors being closed, and walked away from a very good salary and bonus, etc. From the outset of starting this company, he has applied the doctrine that he knows. No one knows this, but they are very appreciative of the way his company is run. Principles are embraced. Adversity is inevitable; stress is optional. Make good decisions from a positional strength. Right things done in a wrong way are wrong. Humility is embraced as a core value. He had no idea that he would do this. He realizes that this is where the Lord wants him.

We never know where we will end up; but the intake of doctrine will get us there. Consistency of doctrine always brings results.

The main feature of this parable is a brief glimpse of life after death. It is a grim picture of an unimaginable eternity. But this is also a motivating description. Not to scare, not to make us feel horrible; but to motivate the pharisees, who listened to Jesus, to accept Him as the Messiah and Savior. This was their final disposition after death. They needed to understand that was coming. Their necessity depended upon them believing in the Messiah.

Jesus launches into the story of the two men, the rich and the poor. Their life circumstances were diametrically opposed; and in death, their final circumstances were diametrically opposed.

Luke 16:19–21 "There was a rich man who was clothed in purple and fine linen and who feasted sumptuously every day. And at his gate was laid a poor man named Lazarus, covered with sores, who desired to be fed with what fell from the rich man's table. Moreover, even the dogs came and licked his sores.

Why did the rich man need God? He had everything he could imagine. Today, people will do anything to have life. Today, it is get money any way that you can. If you have wealth, you have a great life, is the way some people think.

The rich man is very much like the pharisees, who are consumed by their own wealth, interests and power. They ignore the kingdom which has come to them in the Person of the Lord Jesus Christ. In short, the pharisees neglected the spiritual life of Israel. They were religious, but not spiritual. They depended solely upon themselves and their own righteousness for their acceptance.

This is a motivational parable. Jesus is warning them of the consequences of their thinking. If they are listening at all, they will understand. That is the lesson of the parable for all to hear. That is the lesson that resonates.

Christ gave this man the name Lazarus. There were thousands of beggars in the street. Lazarus was to symbolize a person who had no help but God. His name means God has helped. Grace is the factor involved in the life of Lazarus. It was only God's help that kept him alive.

For his survival, someone carried him daily to the gates of the rich man's mansion; and he spent his there before the gate. His only companions were half-fed, street scavenger dogs; mongrels. They were sickly and mean. Lazarus longed to have his stomach filled with the leftovers from the rich man's table. He had to compete with the dogs for food.

These dogs provided relief by licking his sores. These things kept him alive. God has a plan for every one of us; and it does not matter what our circumstances are.

So often today, people find wonderment in poverty and despise wealth; but the merit lies in what is in the soul; not in the body. Lazarus had that ability of soul.

As a believer who was dependent upon God, he came to know and took comfort in his future. He found his confidence in looking at his future. It was offset by having everything coming to him in eternity. The rich man had tremendous assets, but he believed in nothing but himself and his own resources. He has no need of divine resources.

Grace was the standard of the poor man; and this was much more than the rich man had.

Luke 16:22 The poor man died and was carried by the angels to Abraham's side. The rich man also died and was buried,

So they both die. It appears that they died at about the same time. In death, they still present a contrast to one another. The poor were carried out to the valley of Gehenna, and they were tossed on a fire and burned. Always a fire burning in Gehenna. It is a perfect description. It was a nasty place; probably a horrible smell.

The poor would be excluded from where God and Abraham were, the rich felt; because being poor meant that God did not bless them. There was no room to associate with Abraham if you were poor. Abraham was rich; so the wealthy felt that the poor were left out. This is what they believed. They live on the merit system. I am wealthy, I earned it; God has blessed me.

So, they saw no reason that the poor would associate with Abraham. But, what a surprise to this rich man.

Abraham's Bosom

1. Abraham's bosom is sometimes called paradise.
2. Paradise is where Old Testament believers reside after death.
3. Paradise was one of the compartments of Hades/Sheol.
4. Hades or Sheol usually means the underworld. It is the place where one goes down beneath the earth. At least, that is how it is presented.
5. Hades was the general description of the abode of the dead.
6. However, Hades as the abode of the dead, includes both believers and unbelievers. Every Old Testament believer resides there.

The First of 4 Compartments

1. The top compartment is paradise. Also called Abraham's bosom.
2. Paradise is derived from a Persian word meaning, garden of the king. We can surmise that this is a desirable place to reside and this is reserved for those of the highest status.
3. When Christ said to one of the criminals who was crucified next to Him, He said, "Today, you will be with Me in paradise." Obviously, if Jesus is going there, then it is a wonderful place. A thief, criminal, would be going with Him.
4. Paradise is where all Old Testament believers go in death. That is where Abraham resided. Adam through the time of Christ's resurrection.
5. Calling it Abraham's bosom, the Jews understood that they would be united with the father of the Jewish race. They knew that God favored Abraham.
6. Paradise is a temporary residence. Temporary for Christ until He was resurrected.
7. When the resurrected Christ ascended to heaven, He brought with Him the souls of all Old Testament believers who had died up to the time of the resurrection and ascension. Paradise was cleaned out.

8. He transferred them from the compartment of paradise to the abode of God. Eph. 4:8–10

The Second Compartment

1. Torments. Luke 16
2. Torments is also a temporary residence; and it is very different from paradise. This is basic background.
3. Torments is a temporary fire for the souls of Old Testament unbelievers. Between these two compartments is a great chasm fixed.
4. Once consigned to either place, there was no moving from one to the other. This precludes the idea of purgatory. There is no temporary punishment for sin.
5. The believer never visits a place of judgment, then you never leave. That is the first grim part of this.
6. Old Testament unbelievers still reside in torments today
7. The term Hades today refers only to that aspect of fire and punishment.
8. At the future time, Hades will be emptied. 3 compartments in Hades. Torments for unbelievers.
9. There is a final hell. Tophet, is this final hell. Also called Gehenna.
10. The Lake of Fire will supercede the term torments as the place of final judgment.
11. The Lake of Fire will not be occupied until the 2nd resurrection. All unbelievers who have died will be resurrected.
12. The one exception will be the Beast and the False Prophet. The dictators of the Revived Roman Empire and they will be the forerunners. They go to the Lake of Fire before the last judgment.
13. All unbelievers will be raised after the Millennium.

There is a great gulf fixed also between heaven and hell.

Rev. 20:1–15 we have now covered paradise and torments. There are two other compartments.

Luke 16:23 and in Hades, being in torment, he lifted up his eyes and saw Abraham far off and Lazarus at his side.

Lesson #0830

Luke 16:22–23 Life of Christ

4/14/2016 Thurs

Pretty much anyone who has ever lived has thought about death; and this is the greatest fear of mankind. Along with this comes the thought, what happens after death? All kinds of different approaches and theories given; but in only one place, is the afterlife known. God knows what happens to us after death and He tells us.

The deal is, we learn what happens to believers and unbelievers. Many places in scripture, it talks about eternal life. We hear that we need only believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and we are saved and we have then eternal life.

We have eternal life and we ought to be motivated to speak to those who do not have eternal life.

Luke 16:22 The poor man died and was carried by the angels to Abraham's side. The rich man also died and was buried,...

The poor man was a believer; and the rich man was not. The believing man ends up in Abraham's bosom. This was the compartment for Lazarus. Called Hades in the Greek. Called Sheol in the Hebrew. This is simply the underworld; where one goes beneath the earth (Gen. 42:48). This is the abode of the dead; and there is a place where they go. This includes all of the dead; believers as well as unbelievers. We tend to think of Hades as being hell, but context determines how to understand it. Until the death, resurrection and ascension of Jesus Christ, Hades held both believers and unbelievers.

Abraham's bosom is a Jewish name. This does not mean that only Jews reside here. Anyone who believed in the God of Israel resided in Abraham's bosom. Ruth was a gentile who believed in the God of Israel; Xerxes in Esther believed in her God and they will both be in Abraham's bosom.

After the resurrection and ascension, Jesus took the believers with Him. So there are 3 remaining compartments in Hades.

We have this pathetically destitute Lazarus and he has passed into Abraham's bosom, escorted by angels there. He is out of all that. Lazarus is in this upper compartment, also called Paradise (παραδισιος). Luke 23:43, Jesus had a 3-day layover in paradise between death and ascension. This was obviously the place to be.

There are 3 other compartments in Hades. There is a great chasm fixed between Paradise and the other 3. There is no movement between the other two. All Old Testament believers reside there.

Torments in the Greek is βασανος Luke 16:23–25 and this compartment is still in operation. All unbelievers, both then and now, reside in that compartment. At the Great White Throne, they will be taken out of there and judged. From this point to the end of history, every unbeliever is residing in torments. At the end of the Tribulation, all of them are resurrected out of there and they stand before the Lord Jesus Christ for the Great White Throne judgment. They will all be found guilty and they will be thrown into the Lake of Fire, forever, along with the devil and his angels. Torments is not hell; they are two separate areas of punishment. One is temporary; and the other is permanent.

There has been a great reversal of fortune. The rich man is now in torments and Lazarus is in paradise. Lazarus had nothing on this earth; and how he has it all.

Two other compartments of Hades.

3rd Compartment Is Called Τάρταρος

1. Tartaros is a prison; it is a dungeon, where the fallen angels, the demons involved in the Satanic conspiracy of Gen. 6 now reside.
2. Tartaros is mentioned in 2Peter 2:4 as a compartment for these fallen angels. For if God did not spare angels when they sinned, but cast them into hell and committed them to chains of gloomy darkness to be kept until the judgment;... The verb τάρταρω is used here. He casts them into hell in gloomy darkness with a future reservation of judgment.
3. Aorist active participle of τάρταρω here; it means to be imprisoned in Tartaros.
4. Then we have the phrase when they sinned; a temporal participle refers to a time in history, but not the prehistoric time of the Angelic Conflict, when Satan and a third of all the angels fell and were judged. Hell was prepared for the devil and His angels.
5. When they sinned, refers to those angels who mated with the daughters of men. They produced the nephaliim, half human and half demon. This was to pollute the human race.

Jude 6 and 2Peter 2:4 both give us a description.

Tartaros

1. We are given a description; a terrible place of imprisonment.
2. Further described in both passages by the Greek noun ζοφας which means darkness. That is one of the descriptions.
3. Darkness is an absence of light. It can also mean gloom. It means more than just being in the dark.
4. From this word ζοφας it is clear that darkness is a physical property of Tartaros; and it is also a psychological one as well.
5. It is a place of depressing gloominess; and of constant darkness. People are afraid of the dark. Some want lights on in the house when they sleep. These fallen angels spend thousands of years in this darkness.
6. We think of fire as true agony; darkness is also a type of agony where vision is entirely obscured. There is not adjusting to this place.
7. This is a place of complete banishment and segregation from everything that they have known before. They were in heaven; they fell to the earth, and had relations with the women; and now they are in utter darkness. Hanoi Hilton was a prison camp; torture and isolation; almost too much to imagine. Torments is this multiplied a million times.

Tartaros Description

1. These angels are in eternal bonds.
2. This is the Greek noun δεσμος. This is a band or a bond.

3. In this context, the word does not indicate that they are tied up with ropes or with chains.
4. They are restrained.
5. These angels are in custody. They are detained and restrained in a dark dungeon. These angels are in complete darkness and isolation; they have no idea what is going on in the earth. Truly an awful form of punishment.

They have a small hope because they know that the Angelic Conflict is ongoing. They are hoping that Satan will free them from this dungeon. They have no idea about the cross, but Jesus will reveal this to them. During His 3 days and 3 nights in the grave, Jesus went to Tartaros. "Satan has lost and I have won." They realize that their doom is certain. When they are removed from Tartaros, they are not going to a better place.

This is total defeat to these fallen angels and they still gnash their teeth, residing in darkness. God announced their judgement; God granted their appeal; and once human history has run its course, all fallen angels and all unbelievers will end up in the Lake of Fire.

Paradise and all believers there went to heaven; Jesus took them there. There is a great gulf fixed and there is no movement between torments and paradise. But there is Tartaros, where the angels are incarcerated.

3 groups will be gathered together at the Great White Throne and thrown into the Lake of Fire afterwards

The 4th Compartment Is Called the Abyss

1. Luke 8:31 this is also called the bottomless pit Rev. 9:1–2
2. This is another horrific jail for certain rebellious angels. Another compartment for fallen angels. This have been incarcerated since Gen. 6.
3. Proof of this place is when Jesus spoke to the demons in Luke 8:31; they ask for Jesus not to place them into the abyss.
4. There is another group of fallen angels no longer operating today who live in the abyss. They are a demon army.
5. During the Tribulation, they will be released from the pit to assist Satan in the Tribulation. There will be tremendous horror during the Tribulation; they will be a part of the punishment to unbelievers.
6. They are called grasshoppers or locusts in Rev. 9:3
7. They were the scourge of an agricultural economy. A cloud of locusts descended on the crops and wiped them out completely. This is a symbolic picture of utter destruction.
8. These destructive locusts represent this brutal and devastating fallen angel army released from the Abyss.
9. These demons would torment all who do not have the seal of God on their foreheads. You must have that seal in order to be safe. They can torment but they cannot kill.
10. However, the Abyss will be used one more time in history for temporary detention.

11. Following the Tribulation and the 2nd advent of Jesus Christ, Satan and all of his demons will be bound there for 1000 years in the Abyss. There will be no Satan or demons in the Millennium.

Let's get the whole picture of Hades. The 3 lower compartments. Paradise was where Lazarus lived. When our Lord dies, is resurrected and then ascends, He will take all those from paradise to that place.

Then there is a great chasm fixed and there is no movement between the two places. Below the chasm is torments, Tartaros and the Abyss. This is the whole picture of the afterlife. Hades; all the compartments are basically holding pens. Now the unbelievers and demons are in these places.

Paradise is not synonymous with heaven itself.

All the believing dead will be resurrected and find themselves face to face with Jesus Christ. All believers will return at the 2nd advent of Christ.

Once the Great White Throne is over, there will be a new heavens and a new earth; and it will be great.

Luke 16:23 ...and in Hades, being in torment, he lifted up his eyes and saw Abraham far off and Lazarus at his side.

Lesson #0831

Luke 16:22–25 Life of Christ

4/17/2015 1Sunday

A great contrast between the rich man and Lazarus and where they end up. This is a story, but it is a story that is true-to-life. The events and circumstances are reality. This is not mythology. The disposition of the rich man after death is all too real.

In temporal life, the rich man, had everything in life: wealth, pleasure, prestige, self-indulgence. But God had no part in his life. Why did he need God? He already had everything. He rejected God for salvation, and he had less than nothing after death.

He was not condemned for being rich; people today think that evil and rich go together. It is not because he was a bad man. He just focused on the things of this world. People who seem to have everything do not seem to understand their need for grace.

Lazarus had less than nothing in life. We do not know if this is a real person or not. This is not Lazarus that Jesus raised from the dead. The name means, God has helped. His life and afterlife depended solely on the grace of God. Everything that we are reading is a contrast between these two. Lazarus had a fantastic eternal future because of the grace of God. He was transferred to a paradise, a place of no more sorrow, no more tears, no more pain, no more poverty. The rich man's end would be abysmal.

Luke 16:22 The poor man died and was carried by the angels to Abraham's side. The rich man also died and was buried,...

Both men die and they are taken to Hades; Lazarus to paradise and the rich man to torments. There are two other compartments of Hades (Sheol). This is a temporary residence after death for believers and unbelievers both. Believers go to Abraham's bosom and the unbelievers go to torments. 3 out of 4 compartments are all about isolation and separation and incarceration. From Adam to Moses to Elijah are in Abraham's bosom. Also, believers who were not Jews are there as well.

Jesus spent 3 days in paradise. "Today, you will be with Me in paradise." He went there to make a proclamation to the fallen angels there. Then Jesus took all those in paradise to heaven. They will remain there. That is the believing side of Hades.

Then there are the 3 compartments; and there is the great gulf or great chasm between these places. Torments is where all unbelievers reside. People from the Church Age and from the Age of Israel all live in torments today. It is a retention facility; a holding pen, if you will.

At the end of the Millennium, there will be a last judgement, following the resurrection of the dead. They will stand before the Lord Jesus Christ. They will face the final judgment, which is the Lake of Fire.

In another compartment are those demons from Gen. 6. The Abyss is more obscure, but there is a demon army kept there. That is a brief look where people are and where they will end up.

This parable especially describes the first two compartments. Some that you know may be in torments or may be on their way to torments. This should be motivation to hold no grudge and to be willing to give the gospel to anyone willing to hear it. It may be that your testimony may be the only thing that stands between them and torments.

There is some confusion about paradise and Abraham's bosom; and some people think that this is purgatory. There is no such place as purgatory. That is a place of pain and suffering for believers where their sins must be burned away before they can go to heaven.

Believers go directly to heaven today, without any stopping at purgatory. This should be a relief that you do not have to spend a million years having your sins burned away.

Luke 16:22 The poor man died and was carried by the angels to Abraham's side. The rich man also died and was buried,...

This was probably a wonderful funeral with hundreds in attendance and with a great monument constructed in his honor.

The rich man was entirely alone in torments. The rich man is Jewish, but he is not residing with Abraham in Abraham's bosom. This parable negates the pharisaical theology that being Jewish is enough to get a person into heaven.

Who is Jesus speaking to? The pharisees. For all his wealth and lineage, the rich man resides in torments. He is awaiting consignment to the eternal Lake of Fire. Hades is not the Lake of Fire. The final judgement places them into the Lake of Fire. It is grim and terrible. What a reversal of circumstances for a man who had everything on earth that he wanted; and the beggar who had nothing.

If a person is burned up with nothing remaining, then it would be logical that he would therefore have to disappear from history.

Bobby cannot say what is different between the compartment of torments and the eventually Lake of Fire? What is the difference? Why don't men simply go to hell at the beginning?

The Lake of Fire is the eventual residence of unbelievers. There appears to be a consciousness of sorts for those in torments.

Luke 16:23 ...and in Hades, being in torment, he lifted up his eyes and saw Abraham far off and Lazarus at his side.

The man in Hades can see as far as paradise and he can see Abraham and Lazarus. According to the Lord Jesus Christ, this place of torments is real and it exists. This compartment is a place of pain, heat, judgment, separation, and those in the compartment are fully aware of their circumstances and pain and they fully are able to feel the pain and to see paradise. This is not just a party in another place.

Some might think that a loving God could not put people into hell. That is Satan's argument as well. This is the whole story of the beginning of the Angelic Conflict. The Bible makes it clear in many other places that unbelievers will join. God's love is presented to mankind so that we might never face living in such a place for all eternity.

This place of torments is real and it is forever, along with the Lake of Fire. Jesus confirms and describes this punishment. Bobby warned us that it would be grim today. You know that person you hate? That you cannot stand? I hope you have a different perspective on such a one.

Torments and the Unbeliever

1. This look at torments gives us an inkling of God's esteem for His Son and what His Son did for us on the cross.
2. Rejection of His Son is the cause for eternal condemnation.
3. So the unbeliever falls into the same category as Satan himself, who rejected God in God's very own throne room. The nicest unbeliever in the world is in the same category as Satan and will spend eternity with him.

4. Rejecting Jesus Christ in this life is not different from what Satan did. If you have every had an emotional tear in church, this should be it.

Luke 16:24 And he called out, 'Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus to dip the end of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am in anguish in this flame.'

All the rich man can do is scream out. He knows that this is impossible. He can see the great chasm fixed. Agony and flames. That is the reality of every unbeliever.

Lesson #0832

Luke 16:24–31 Life of Christ

4/17/2016 2Sunday

Jesus provided everything that we need. That is why we are here.

The rich man asks for Lazarus to bring him a small amount of water. He knew he could not leave torments. The interesting part of this is, this is a man who gave Lazarus some crumbs, and he asks for just a little bit of water for his tongue.

Luke 16:24 And he called out, 'Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus to dip the end of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am in anguish in this flame.'

The reality of torments is agony.

Jesus is speaking to religious Jews who think that their Jewishness gives them eternity with God. The rich man was in torments and this is where the pharisees were headed. They thought that their wealth indicated that God was blessing them, indicating that they had a relationship that they could depend upon.

Look at the rich man now. He was a Jew; and he forever lost the opportunity for God's kingdom. There is a message for all who reject Jesus Christ. Since the pharisees reject Jesus Christ, then they ought to be able to recognize themselves in the rich man. The rich man rejected Jesus Christ; so he was rejected. A justified Jew, like Abraham, and an unjustified Jew. Abraham had believed God and it was imputed to him as righteousness. It is the same for the human race; you either accept Jesus Christ or you reject Him. There is a great dividing line and there is no crossing this line. There is no such thing as absolute death where there is nothing but blackness. All people will end up in one place or the other.

The pharisees could see their own future here; but they simply got mad and offended by the Lord Jesus Christ. How foolish it is to be offended when an eternal future is at stake. There is no place for offense. Offense mean that your ego is greater than your humility. Jesus is teaching them that this is what will happen to them if they do not believe in Him.

So this man is screaming for just a moment of respite; for just a little coolness. It is not like living in Houston on a summer day and waiting for the slightest breeze at night.

There is Lazarus being comforted after all that he had endured, and he was very comfortable. It was a far cry from his life of misery. Wealth on this earth has nothing to do with eternal blessing. You can't take it with you. You are too miserable in torments to even think about what you have owned.

Some of the grimmest words ever spoken in Scripture.

Luke 16:25 But Abraham said, 'Child, remember that you in your lifetime received your good things, and Lazarus in like manner bad things; but now he is comforted here, and you are in anguish.

"Child" means that this rich man is a son of Abraham. Abraham recites to him the difference. You had everything in life and Lazarus had nothing.

Luke 16:26 And besides all this, between us and you a great chasm has been fixed, in order that those who would pass from here to you may not be able, and none may cross from there to us.'

There is this great chasm between us. There is no crossing over from one place to the other. The answer to the rich man's scream; "No way, no how." It is almost a cruel answer for Abraham to speak so pointedly and emphatically. This man did not need to be reminded of his agony. "You will never be relieved of your pain," is what Abraham is saying to him.

There is a good reason for Abraham's very precise response. These are the words of Jesus Christ Himself. This places emphasis on the consequences of putting one's faith on works, wealth or upon one's lineage. This is the living Word of God being spoken in the parable.

He will face torments forever, with no relief of any kind. This is the result of their decisions.

What do unbelievers do? They blow this stuff off. They call it a figment. Some pastors teach that there is no hell; and they allegorize everything that they cannot explain.

You would think that they might believe, just in case. Why not cover all your bases? These people have insurance policies. Why not take out the ultimate in insurance?

If what Bobby believes is true, then the gospel is for the benefit of those he speaks to.

On earth, the pharisees think they need no help. They are in the same predicament as the rich man in torments and they are headed for the same place.

Abraham's refuses the man's request for the most tiny taste of water. Why not a bucket of water? Why not a cold shower? That is how terrible it is. There is no relief whatsoever.

If you are wandering in a desert with great thirst, what would you not give for a little drink?

Interesting, the rich man can see into paradise; but he says nothing about seeing anyone with him in torments.

This Tells Us Something about Torments, Paradise, Heaven and Hell

1. In torments or hell, there is an acute consciousness. People there are very aware of their circumstances.
2. As with the rich man, behavioral, temperamental and thought processes continue. You are not blank or asleep.
3. Feelings, seeing, knowing, reasoning and remembering are all present with you in heaven or in hell.
4. Those faculties will be an asset to us in heaven. We will feel, see, know, hear, reason and remember. What a detriment in the horror of hell.

After the rich man receives the bad news of no waters, Abraham provides a bit of grim geographical news. The rich man has already had the opportunity to partake of the Living Water, but he chose not to. Jesus Christ is the Living Water and drinking of the Living Water is faith in Christ. He rejected it then, and it is no longer available to him. There is no cross-over and there is no relief. Those who are unbelievers, you will not have a cocktail party with them. We will never see them again. That is the meaning of a great chasm fixed. Once you reside in either place, there are no reversals; there is no one last chance for the dead. What happens to us in eternity depends upon what we do in this life. This is a grim picture of the repercussions of rejecting Jesus Christ in life. The rich man is stuck in torments.

So the rich man makes another request.

Luke 16:27 And he said, 'Then I beg you, father, to send him to my father's house--...

“Send someone to my brothers to keep them out of torments.” He is at least noble at this point. This is how immobile and how irreversible these circumstances are. Anyone in that place wants no one else to experience it. Not even in jest, never say, “Go to hell.”

Luke 16:28 ...for I have five brothers--so that he may warn them, lest they also come into this place of torment.'

He asks that his brothers be warned about coming to torments. “Warn everyone about this place! Demand and secure their place in Abraham’s bosom.”

“If my brothers get a warning from the grave, by sending Lazarus to them, they will believe.” This actually seems logical. Let’s say that people from the grave come back and tell you. Yet, the answer for this man is grim. The pharisees are hearing this truth through the parable. The pharisees who are listening are being warned, as if they are the 5 brothers. These words continue to warn us.

Luke 16:29 But Abraham said, 'They have Moses and the Prophets; let them hear them.'

The brothers have Moses and the prophets. “Let them hear them.” Lazarus is not going anywhere. He is not going to bring water into torments; he is not returning to earth to warn everyone of the hell to come. “Your brothers need to listen to that which has already been

If there is a God, it would make sense that He would leave us knowledge/information about Him. We do not invent our own God; He has provided us with objective knowledge, which is the Word of God. As believers, we need to know what God has left for us to guide us. The Bible is the revelation of eternity; what happens after death. A hellfire and brimstone sermon is coming up. There is information found here which is found nowhere else in the Bible.

We are in Luke 16, the parable of the rich man and Lazarus, which parable has been used in a myriad of ways. It is easy to translate, understand and explain.

The rich man has everything that there is to have in life, apart from the Lord Jesus Christ. He had nothing after death. He had a few years of wonderful prosperity; he rejected the Messiah and the pharisees match up with him; and to them is this parable addressed.

The long-term future for the rich man is the Lake of Fire.

Lazarus was the opposite. He had nothing in life. He was a poor beggar begging at the gates of the rich man. His greatest comfort was dogs that licked his sores. Lazarus was spiritually rich, despite the years of poverty that he endured. Clearly, God's grace does not always include monetary blessing. Even the pharisees thought that if they had material blessings, that they were being blessed by God.

The circumstance of every human being after death: paradise (aka Abraham's bosom); and the rich man went to torments. There will be a brief release of Satan and his demons at the end of the Millennium, and they will rebel against God and perfect environment.

The exchange between Lazarus and the rich man. The rich man is not in torments for being rich; and Lazarus is not in paradise because he was poor. It is a wonderful thing to end up in paradise; and it is easy to end up there.

Confirmation by the rich man of his conscious loss. He begs for a favor from Abraham, who he could see off in a distance. He calls to him, "Father Abraham, have mercy on me." He asks for a drop of water on the finger of Lazarus; and he was in agony.

This blows the lid off the theology of the pharisees, as this rich man was successful and rich in life; he was a Jew (he called Abraham father); and yet, he is living in torments.

Interestingly enough, he does not beg to be removed from that place, but he asks for just a drop of water for just a moment of relief.

Then the grimmest words spoken to any person:

Luke 16:25 But Abraham said, 'Child, remember that you in your lifetime received your good things, and Lazarus in like manner bad things; but now he is comforted here, and you are in anguish.

This speaks of a reversal of circumstances, but this in no way means that one circumstance led to the other.

Luke 16:26 And besides all this, between us and you a great chasm has been fixed, in order that those who would pass from here to you may not be able, and none may cross from there to us.'

Lazarus is unable to come to you; and there is not even a moment of respite.

Hell is never taught as an allegory. It does not stand in for something that does not exist but illustrates. This is a parable. This is not just made up to scare you into sitting in some church. No reason to sit in a church unless you have an actual interest in the Lord Who has saved you.

The consequences of rejecting the Lord are eternal horror. There is no holding pen, like purgatory. This is a state of acute consciousness, not one of oblivion. There is feeling, seeing, remembering, thinking, reasoning for those in torments.

Luke 16:27 And he said, 'Then I beg you, father, to send him to my father's house--

He makes another request. "Send Lazarus to my father's house so that my 5 brothers will not come to this place of torment."

Luke 16:28 for I have five brothers--so that he may warn them, lest they also come into this place of torment.'

If Lazarus cannot come to me here, send him to my brothers. Please tell them what to do.

This man is immobile. His circumstances cannot be reversed.

Luke 16:29 But Abraham said, 'They have Moses and the Prophets; let them hear them.'

Abraham's response is not being cruel or cynical. God has made provision for his brothers. They are given a chance. These message bearers are much greater than Lazarus. Moses and the prophets will not leave paradise, yet their legacy remains behind in the form of the Old Testament. The rich man's brothers have the greatest witness that there is.

Luke 16:30 And he said, 'No, father Abraham, but if someone goes to them from the dead, they will repent.'

The rich man disputes what Abraham says. "If someone goes to them from the dead, they will change their minds." He is telling Abraham that he is wrong; but Abraham and Lazarus are in paradise.

Future active indicative of μετανοεω, which means to change the mind. An imperative future request? That represents a future certainty. As long as the conditions of the rich man are met. Do you see what underlies this man's request? He has so much arrogance saying, "Do it my way in order to save my brothers." If only God would send testimony in this way, my brothers will be saved. He is simply wrong. He is blaming God for his circumstances in torments; he thinks that he has a handle on this, and his arrogance continues even in hell.

You would think that he would be remorseful, repentant, for the decisions that he has made. He has a soul filled with arrogance and anger and it is directed toward God. People so often blame God and not themselves for the decisions that they make. Arrogance does not cease even under the worse of circumstances. Think of this as an everlasting attitude of rejection of God's provision. They will continue doing this in hell. They will continue to blame others and blame God for their situation.

Lesson #0834

Luke 16: Life of Christ

4/24/2016 2Sunday

The Parable of the Rich Man and Lazarus. We are looking at the juxtaposition of torments and paradise. We can infer many things from the parable.

Churches are places where some people shed tears. But if you have ever gotten emotional in church and shed a tear, this parable is a good reason to do that. The dead do not return to speak to the living to guide them.

So many movies begin with the premise that people or angels come from heaven and guide and direct others; and it is fantasy.

God does intervene in our circumstances from time to time, but He does not use the departed, with only a few exceptions. There is the resurrection of Jesus Christ; and later, in the Tribulation, there will be Moses and Elijah. So many people are confused by this and they think that the dead are among us, guiding us. The unbelieving dead are already assigned to torments and they will remain there until the end of human history. They will all be brought before the judge at the Great White Throne, and then cast into the Lake of Fire.

Unbelievers will not return to tell their family. Believers will not return, other than Moses and Elijah, to testify as to our salvation. The Bible represents all that we need to know about eternity.

Ouija boards and mediums are not avenues to contact the dead. Most mediums are absolute fakes; but some do make real connections to demons. Demons are certain amongst us in the Angelic Conflict. That is what the conflict is all about. No believer should seek the voice of a demon for guidance. We have Moses and the prophets and all that they have written.

The great chasm fixed is particularly grim. There is consciousness, there is reasoning, there is feeling, there is sensory interaction with the environment.

Death is a great beginning for the believer; and a grim beginning for the unbeliever.

We will see our believing relatives and friends again; but we will never see unbelieving friends and relatives again.

Bobby when people miss Bible class miss out on the very best part of life; it is the only way to grow spiritually. There are times when this is difficult or impossible. Bobby will never call us individually and say, "Where the hell are you?" We need to take in the Word of God everyday.

This is very difficult to listen to the information in this parable/narrative.

Why would God not send someone back? Why would He not do that? It seems fair, even if one person would believe. Abraham answers this question for us.

Luke 16:31 He said to him, 'If they do not hear Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be convinced if someone should rise from the dead.'

The supernatural is not a catch all. The pharaoh saw all kinds of grand miracles and he did not believe. Israel saw great miracles in the desert wanderings, and, even though they believed, they were still recalcitrant toward the plan of God. King Ahab and Jezebel never responded to the miracles by Elijah. These great miracles did not persuade people.

Even more surprising, even the pharisees witnessed many miracles that they never disputed, and yet they did not believe.

John 11:53 when Jesus caused Lazarus to raise up from the dead, they pharisees still plotted His death. And when Jesus arose from the dead, and was seen by 500, this still left many unconvinced.

We have something in the Church Age which is so great—the convicting power of God the Holy Spirit.

Eschatological things. What happens at the rapture of the church. 1Thess. 4 tells us that the dead will be resurrected. The Lord Himself will descend from heaven; the dead in Christ will be resurrected. There will be no believers left on earth after the resurrection of the church.

After this event, will many people believe? The dead have come out of their graves and the believers have departed via the rapture? Still, many will not believe. Unbelief will be rampant; on earth. Only the power of God will keep things together.

So Jesus says, "It won't do any good to send Lazarus to your brothers. The power of God's Word is available to them." Is that so hard to fathom? The Bible speaks of its own power. The gospel of Jesus Christ is profitable for salvation. The message is the same, regardless of who gets it. God has spoken through Moses and through the prophets. And the pharisees are listening to Jesus speak, and they know the Scriptures, and they have rejected God's Word. They have rejected the Living Word of God Who fully understands the Word of God, even more than they do; and He proves this time and time again. They know this, they hear this, and yet they reject Him. Jesus stood before them, and they knew the Word of God, and yet they still rejected Him. Jesus performed many miracles, and these pharisees saw these miracles, and yet they rejected Him.

If they choose to believe in Jesus Christ, it will be through Moses and the prophets, not by their actual presence.

God uses a still, small voice; and this small voice is always God's Word. His Word lives and abides forever, and it speaks with greater power than a return from the grave.

Jesus Christ kept the Word of God; this was His Word. He used it; and it was powerful. Even His Own voice did not convince all in His audience. Heb. 1, by His Word, He created the universe. John 1 is a great Christological passage. The gospel, the spoken and written gospel, is the power of God for salvation. It is not Lazarus. That is what Abraham confirms to the rich man and to all of us.

What Do We Learn from Lazarus and the Rich Man?

There were more rich man stories than this.

1. Such stories often had very sad endings; and He stressed the concept of money and materialism as one's focus in life.
2. He spoke of riches and circumstances as not being the key to happiness.
3. The pharisees saw the rich as being blessed by God. Today, we often see the rich as idle, indolent, pleasure-seeking people.
4. The poor are glorified, so the rich are taxed more so that more money might be funneled to the poor. The poor are blessed by humanistic systems. This has never worked. Jesus tells us that the poor will be with us always. Poverty is a natural state in the world, and no matter what we do, there will always be poverty. The War on Poverty has increased poverty, both in conditions and in the soul.
5. Jesus warned against trusting in wealth. It is not a sign of acceptance or blessing. So many of the rich say, "Why do I need Christ?"
6. What does it profit a man if he gains the world and loses his soul?
7. When the poor see their poverty must be rectified by the state. Lazarus placed his faith in divine providence, despite the circumstances.
8. I know how to be abased and how to abound.

Putting one's dependence on the government for providence is a false hope. It is the same as the rich who place their dependence upon their own wealth.

If you understand that the plan of God is foremost in your life, and not circumstances, then you understand that it is all a part of the plan of God. That overrides even our bad decisions. He works all things together for good for those who love Him.

When we stray, we ignore our circumstances and just get back into His plan. The spiritual life perspective. The circumstances of our life are just a jumping off point for eternity. We worry so much about what will happen today or tomorrow. But worry about eternity.

The Lord makes poor and He makes rich. He brings low and He also exalts. The Lord can elevate the poor and He can bring down the rich.

Abraham had tremendous wealth, but it is the Lord who gave him blessing. Solomon has unimaginable wealth; as did Job, who had terrible impoverishment for a time; and that gloried God. The believer must become ever more focused on the plan of God.

The rich man now has less than nothing because he did not believe in Jesus Christ. Think on this when our problems overwhelm us.

Lesson #0835

Luke 16–17 Life of Christ

4/27/2016 Wed

We have just completed Lazarus. Several visitors were here and said, "I just can't believe that." It is hard to imagine that there is such a thing as torments for anyone.

Closing out the Narrative of the Rich Man and Lazarus

1. If the parables of Luke 15 speak of the grace and compassion of God, then this parable in Luke 16 speaks of the justice of God directed toward the unbeliever. Rom. 1:18. Such a contrast.
2. The full impact of that justice comes through loud and clear, in eternal condemnation and the subject of torments. Good questions in prayer meeting tonite.
3. Abraham made one of the most solemn declarations in Scripture; and torments is not described in much more detail anywhere else.
4. There is, through Abraham, we have the words of the Lord Jesus Christ. The rich man's lament.
5. There is a literal, permanent separation between God and the unbeliever. This is the great chasm fixed; an awful concept. This defines separation.
6. That unalterable separation involves literal and eternal pain; fire in a very undesirable place. Bobby has heard that fire is just an analogy, just an allegory. Parables are true to life; even though it is just a story, it is true to life.
7. There is not crossing over; no second chance after death, to leave that place. Luke 16:26.
8. Likewise, no assurance is ever given in the Bible that torments is just an intermediate stop to universal residence in heave for all humanity. That is the concept of purgatory. The idea that you go there to burn out the venial sins. That is absolutely untrue. There are those who studied under this ministry that believe in universal salvation. Those who do not believe in Christ are hell-bound.
9. The choices that we make on earth determine the life that we lead. Bad choices determine bad circumstances in life and vice versa. The choice that we make for or against Jesus Christ determines our final end.

10. We also learn that the grave contains no miracles. The dead do not return. Lazarus will not leave paradise; and no unbeliever will leave their residence.
11. All crossing between both spheres must be done in this life. That is the only way to stay out of torments.

This is what our Lord stressed in His final warning. There is a finality that attaches itself to death that seals one's destiny. This is a very sobering concept; devastating for those who we love. Bobby thanks God that all of his relatives are in heaven. It is very sad to think about those who have rejected Jesus Christ.

Many theologians do not like to teach this; they do not want to think about it. Let this be a motivation to speak the gospel to those who are unbelieving.

Bobby knew a man who is an unbeliever and he came out of a cult. Bobby looked at him and gave a long invitation just hoping that he heard it. Let this be a motivating imperative to speak to those who do not believe. The Messiah came as the Savior of the World, and He is the only means to save us from condemnation.

Now we move to Luke 17. This is intense training for the disciples.

Introduction to Luke 17

1. You cannot truly forgive without humility.
2. The ability to forgive others is humility. If you were to list the injuries against you by others, we could spend weeks on that.
3. You have to know how to forgive people.
4. Arrogance self-centeredness take offense at slights, at personal injury. Why are there so many personal injury lawyers around.
5. Humility is defined very simply as freedom from pride and arrogance. People give all sorts of definitions of humility; but most are incorrect. Humility is freedom from arrogance.
6. Forgiveness cannot be accomplished unless arrogance is banished from your soul.
7. Don't think that forgiveness is unnecessary. But be kind to one another, tender hearted, forgiving each other, just as God in Christ has forgiven you. That is a tall order. How many times have you done that?
8. To forgive others as Christ forgave demands having the attitude always displayed by Jesus Christ. That is the attitude of humility. Think of what our Lord endured; He lived with this every day. He never retaliated. He never was vengeful. When going to the cross, humility was demonstrated beyond our imagination. God demands forgiveness and humility for a very good reason. We cannot move through the Christian life without resolving personal conflicts. Unresolved conflicts continue to inflame emotions. These continue even into the distance future. All we need is a trigger. This consumes you.

All of that other stuff is a sure ticket to a recurring loss with God and to stunt your spiritual growth. If you cannot develop this skill, you will not mature. You will not forge ahead in the Christian life. The virtue of all believers in Jesus Christ is humility, so that we can let bygones be bygones. This is a skill.

To resolve all conflict in the soul, humility and forgiveness is the necessary skill. Success of the spiritual life is dependent upon that skill. It is no way to live to stay at war with those who have done you wrong. A believer cannot afford to get bogged down to ego. Or to hostility toward others.

This is a tall order, even for believers. Believers have all sorts of ways about thinking about this. Often there might be wrong definitions of humility. Some consider humiliation to be the same as humility. These are not the same. Self-effacement is not humility. The Middle Ages was filled with groveling monks who thought they were humble. Humility is being mortified. Humility and grace orientation always go together.

There is another problem in this drive to have humility and forgiveness. People have difficulty controlling their sin natures in the face of . Humility is the first thing to go when the believer gets out of fellowship. Arrogance will not forgive insults. Humility will forgive arrogance of any form. Importance of keeping short accounts. Arrogance must not dominate your soul. Attitude is so closely connected with spiritual growth that they are two sides of the same coin.

The sin nature can be brought under control by the filling of the Holy Spirit and by doctrine resident in your soul. Humility can be maintained; it does not need to be fleeting. Arrogance can progressively forced out of the soul. Passive-aggressive behavior or aggressive response.

How Is this Accomplished?

1. Humility in the spiritual life is the recognition of the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ; not our own authority; and submitting to that authority. Arrogance is so often looking at everyone else and never submitting to any other authority. There is no other authority greater than mine. No one can tell me what to do. Humility is synonymous with accepting the authority of the Lord Jesus Christ.
2. His authority and will must become greater than our own. We cannot ever get rid of our own will; we do have to make decisions in life. His authority must trump ours.
3. Submission to the authority of our Lord is tantamount to consistent perception, metabolizing, and the application of Bible doctrine. It is not hard to accept the authority of the Lord when you are positive toward doctrine. When you perceive it.
4. God has delegated all authority in the Church Age to the Word of God. Bobby has authority insofar as teaching the Word of God. This is a delegated authority in order to present the Word of God. The more we listen and apply, the better it is.
5. We submit to His authority by our daily intake of the Word of God. If you don't keep doctrine in mind in front of your face, it disappears. We are inundated with human viewpoint all of our life. An hour a day or even 10 min. a day, is this enough to offset the bombardment of human viewpoint. But without this, you will have a hard time of dealing with forgiveness. There is no peace and contentment in the soul if you lack humility.

6. Humility like everything else in the spiritual life is the product of renovated thinking. Rom. 12:1–2 is always the key to the spiritual life. Renovating your thinking; that is the key to the spiritual life.
7. With spiritual maturity comes the true attitude of humility and the genuine and consistent ability to forgive and to forget. Forgiving does not work without forgetting.

No matter how resolute you are to be humble, this will not last if you do this under human power. It is not an act of human will or positive human thinking. This does not involve the resources of the spiritual life. Human resolve fails here when it comes to consistent forgiveness.

More Points on Humility

1. Humility is the function of divine viewpoint in the soul. That is related to grace orientation and occupation with Christ. This includes submission to the authority of Jesus Christ.
2. The attitude of soul must already be presence in the soul in order for forgiveness to be consistently operational in life. Otherwise, forgiveness is temporary.
3. True humility is always a way of thinking; it expresses doctrine circulating in the soul.
4. Then the attitude of humility in the soul leads to actions reflecting that doctrinal thinking; the actions of humility.
5. That is when true and final forgiveness becomes possible. True humility must be in the soul in order to truly forgive. Our thinking and actions must conform to His thinking and attitudes and actions. Conflict is when the true person inside of us comes out. When you are in conflict with other people and humility breaks down, you are looking at a facade that cannot be maintained. As a believer, who is growing spiritually and implanting doctrine in the soul, the byproduct is the renovation of thinking. That is a change on the inside. We will leave the slavery of arrogance to the rest of the world and effecting a forgiveness that lasts. How long have you harbored an injury that happened a long time ago. How long have you hated a person for jilting you; or something else. How long have you hated that person who fired you? People today shoot their bosses; that is pure arrogance; arrogance out of control. We have the potential to get rid of all this. When we have this skill our life is so much better.

The byproduct of humility is being able to leave arrogance behind and effect the forgiveness that lasts. All doctrine moves from knowledge to application. Move from γνῶσις to ἐπίγνωσις.

Bobby wants to return to a diagram. Operation Z. There is γνῶσις, you believe it, and it become ἐπίγνωσις and you begin to apply it. Have you ever given serious thought to what this diagram truly represents? Have you gotten into the depth of this diagram as to how it works in your life? What does the transfer look like in everyday life? That is where we are headed with all of this. This is the real basic application. Bobby might put a whole new light on operation Z diagram.

Lesson #0836

Luke 17 intro Life of Christ

4/28/2016 Thurs

True humility is in the soul; and it is definitive for the Lord Jesus Christ. Forgiveness results from the humility in the soul. You need freedom from the mental attitude sins of pride and arrogance. Forgiveness of others when wronged is simply a result. Your attitude develops as your Christian life progresses. It is not a strain to have the mental attitude of humility. If you lack humility, then forgiveness is superficial.

If you lack humility, then your forgiveness is meaningless and the mental attitude sins come roaring back. Eph. 4:32 Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you. Our standard is God in Christ forgiving us. A very high standard.

There are some poignant moments in Scripture; and Jesus said, "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing."

Humility is a form of application of doctrine because it is a renovation of thinking. Doctrine moves from knowledge to application. It is moving from γνώσις to ἐπίγνωσις.

You have been disrespected by someone. The function of grace apparatus for perception is illustrated by the Operation Z diagram. All the action takes place in the soul. The whole system; the whole transfer by faith; it hits volition and you accept it/believe it; and it interacts with the rest of the doctrine in the soul and it becomes doctrinal wisdom. One of the results can be humility from doctrine in the stream of consciousness. This is taking a big bite of doctrine, chewing on it, and it becomes a part of your body. No doubt, you think that you understand this backwards and forwards. You should understand how doctrine is moved to a place in your soul.

Bobby wants to take us a little deeper into the practical results of grace apparatus for perception. We know the process, so let's focus on the results and application. When we take in this doctrine, humility is gained and forgiveness is possible.

How many times have I thought of Operation Z; and when Bob explained it, and it was like a light going on. A beautiful illustration. Now Bobby has to think about this. It is his job to bring us the γνώσις so that we can chew on it and assimilate it. Application to living the Christian life.

Are we truly humble? What does this look like? What is the end product? We need to get into depth in this right lobe. We need to be able to recognize; can we forgive as the way that God planned it to be; and be encouraged by the process and the progress. We know that we are gaining humility; and this is not happening overnight. It is an integral part of our life, the way that we think. This is mandated; it comes down to right where we live, every day. All those things which make us angry when dealing with other people. Bobby does not want us to be under a misapprehension. We do not study Bible doctrine for the sake of mere knowledge. It is not about having some information about our faith and the founder of our faith. But this is not why we study His life and what He has said. Bobby is giving us criteria; we need to look into our own souls and evaluate ourselves.

Bobby knows what he has taught, but then hears about the applications that we make, and it is quite removed from his teaching. At other times, there are applications which indicate great understanding.

Γνώσις does nothing for us in the spiritual life. So we might get a lot of γνώσις and we go nowhere with it. “Those who have ears, let them hear.”

Introductory Points to Luke 17

1. Γνώσις doctrine is not suitable for the Christian life.
2. Γνώσις doctrine has no applicational value. You can have doctrine which you cannot apply. Sometimes we scratch our heads in the midst of circumstances
3. Γνώσις is like any academic information that needs to be processed. When you study and assimilate that information, and then you are able to apply this information when you take the test. It must be studied and assimilated and digested. In the case of spiritual knowledge, it must be believed. How we deal with people affects the shape of our spiritual life. The metabolizing process makes this ἐπίγνωσις. Humility derives from ἐπίγνωσις and forgiveness is the application. The attitude to think with humility and the ability to put aside the ego and the injury. When we dredge it up, we have just cut off our spiritual life. Mental attitude sins are so difficult to overcome. You can stop doing certain things that are sins; but it is very tough to stop thinking them. With some doctrine, you are not constantly thinking about what someone else has done to you. Without application, there is no Christian life.
4. That application does not occur without the metabolizing or assimilation of γνώσις to ἐπίγνωσις.

More Introduction

1. We must listen to doctrine on a consistent basis.
2. You cannot skip Bible class and get the foundational γνώσις. Your knowledge is incomplete. If you are not consistent, your γνώσις is incomplete; which means that there is no ἐπίγνωσις.
3. The application and the thinking ends up being incomplete. You are up and you are down. The renovation is deficient. Therefore, you never fully escape arrogance. It is always looming back there. Bobby is not near as bad as his father about repeating. It is already in my brain.
4. You must get the full realm of doctrine. Doctrine, to begin with, is γνώσις. You hear a lot of stuff, and then you hear something that you stumble over. There you have γνώσις on a doctrine; and there you have a hole or a gap. Incomplete ἐπίγνωσις. You must get the full realm of doctrine. The test of which is the ability to forgive as Christ forgave. How well do you control the mental attitude sin of anger. You think back to high school and how you got bullied and you still remember it and are still mad about it.

5. You must have the full lecture before you have the complete application. If you don't get the γνώσις, you cannot get the ἐπίγνωσις.
6. Humility, the attitude, and forgiveness, the action, are not possible without the full range of γνώσις that becomes humility applied. That doctrine in the forefront of our thinking; that constant transfer keeps all of the human viewpoint garbage turned away. You fill your head with γνώσις and you are advancing, then you are able to counteract the minutes, hours, of constant bombardment of human viewpoint. Every aspect of your life is nothing but constant influx of human viewpoint. It is easy to move into that way of thinking. Inconsistency allows lapses into human viewpoint. That is malfunction of the Christian life and the attitude of humility and the ability to forgive. Academic knowledge is not the basis of your thinking. It is not what helps you to deal with the constant conflict with people. Without γνώσις, you still have no way to resolve conflict. ἐπίγνωσις that circulates in the right lobe of the soul is the product. You need the γνώσις in order to get to the ἐπίγνωσις. That requires consistency. Spiritual growth is a process. Growth comes from a long process.

Bobby taught a different book every night; 9x a week he did this. He was teaching John one night, and he taught Acts one night, and not many people showed up, but they were different people. So some did not show up consistency. The key is consistency. You must develop an attitude and it requires a good attitude and it requires consistency.

You must make time for the Lord in the consistent intake of doctrine. You do not take in doctrine when it is convenient or when you have time, but every day. Get something, even if it is just 10 min. a day. Get some kind of γνώσις. At least you are then giving doctrine a hearing. You cannot grow without that consistency. Doctrine must consistently influence your thinking and your actions.

Arrogance is never flushed out of your soul. We all live in arrogance. We are surrounded by arrogance and arrogance is normal human function. It is not the operational attitude of the Christian life. If it does not get flushed out, then permanent forgiveness is a facade. You can only apply a little doctrine if only doctrine is metabolized in your soul.

Lesson #0837 Eph. 4:32 Luke 17 intro Life of Christ 5/1/2016 1Sunday

This verse is a parallel to what is coming or a good introduction to what is coming.

Eph. 4:32 Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you.

There is humility and forgiveness in this verse. This is a subject that we cannot do without in our Christian life. The tendency in the Christian life is to focus on someone else rather than upon yourself. We know that person is not fulfilling this verse. If only they would develop this attitude, then they would not be a constant irritant in our life. However, this verse is directed toward us in our relationship to others. We cannot get our eyes on others and wish that they would change. Forgiveness and the attitude which precedes it is the instruction that the Lord gives to His disciples. The important ability to forgive and then to forget.

We do not think we can forgive as Christ forgave; but we are able to think as Jesus Christ thought. Not with His perfection and infallibility; but we can develop true humility. With us, this is an expression of the soul that has been renovated with Bible doctrine. This attitude of humility is developed from Bible doctrine. This needs to be the basis for interpersonal relationships between all believers.

If those qualities are important, then we must be gracious and forgiving; and we must be able to apply Bible doctrine to personal relationships. By this time, we should understand how doctrine is moved to the correct place in our soul in order to apply it. We get it where it needs to be is by means of grace apparatus for perception; aka operation Z. Spiritual information; and as a believer in Jesus Christ, we know this as spiritual information, and it automatically transfers to the left lobe of the soul, where it is known as γνῶσις, which we may call it academic knowledge. However, we need to understand it, exercise positive volition towards these things, and believe them, and this information enters into our soul, to our right lobes. This wisdom builds attitudes in our souls. Without this attitude in our soul, there is no application of Eph. 4:32 to our souls.

For growth, there must be consistency of hearing, constant intake; and there is the parallel to secular education. There is a process that occurs between hearing a lecture and taking a test. At a lecture, the student gets the basic information. If the student is smart, he studies in order to pass the course. He cements it into his mind for future use, knowing it will be used in the future, which immediately, that is passing a test.

Γνῶσις must be heard, assimilated, digested; inculcated for the application of same into the Christian life. That is what develops the attitude of humility. In order to live that way, we must have an attitude and an application. Everyone of us must pass people testing. And we cannot pass people testing by thinking only about ourselves. You must make time for the Lord for the consistent intake of Bible doctrine. 66 years this has been taught from the pulpit of Berachah Church. Consistency of intake is required; this process must continue all of the time. Without consistency, you do not get the γνῶσις in the first place, so there is nothing to metabolize. As a result, there is no spiritual growth.

Mental attitude sins destroy application and renovation of the mind. You need Bible doctrine to be your first thought every day of your life. Without Bible doctrine circulating in your soul, you cannot obey Eph. 4:32. If you have ever watched a football game and you have seen that the ball takes crazy bounces. A person with human viewpoint is chasing after that football. You cannot fulfill your obligation for forgiveness if you think human viewpoint. When you are out of fellowship, then this humility is completely gone; and your actions reflect this loss.

Bobby often begins teaching by saying, "This is a classroom for doctrine." If this were just a classroom with basic Bible information taught. People blow off lectures in college for all kinds of reasons. At some point, their lack of knowledge will come back to bite them. They do not do what is necessary to be successful. That is not the attitude for learning.

If you are a teacher, the most frustrating thing in the world is a class of students who are not listening. Bobby spends tremendous amounts of time preparing pneumatikos for his congregation.

Some people have excellent auditory skills and listening can get them through a test. But if the information is not inculcated, they will not be able to pass all subsequent tests, because they do not have the basis to understand what is going on.

There are circumstances or people who set us off; but Bible doctrine in the soul precludes this actions.

Doctrine is a perishable skill. If you take in a little doctrine and you are not consistent, then it does not stick. You do not have it being built up in your soul, and human viewpoint will intrude. You will spend much time in crisis mode, continually failing people tests. Bible doctrine becomes your thought process at all times, if you are growing.

Prosperity can be more dangerous than adversity. Adversity forces you to take in the Word of God. In every aspect of your life, you must be able to think doctrine.

Spiritual maturity is our objective. If we are inconsistent, and the thinking and application of Bible doctrine stalls and stagnates. Our life and attitudes will reflect this. We will be stable with a relaxed mental attitude in adversity or in prosperity. If you are growing, then you will be a testimony to others of the power of Bible doctrine in your soul. "What are you supposed to do with the doctrine I am giving you?" Make it your thinking and your attitude and then live it.

So mark well chapter 17; make ἐπίγνωσις your consistent objective. This is how Jesus Christ thinks and we must think the same way. When you can accomplish from your soul and in your actions those things which Ephesians presents to you, then you know that your spiritual life is on track. Your life will be content and happy beyond what you can imagine. Truly, this is the key.

Lesson #0838

Luke 17:1– Life of Christ

5/1/2016 2Sunday

18 hours a day, day in and day out, we get human viewpoint. And you say that Bible doctrine for an hour a day is too much? The Word of God is alive and powerful; and it is enough. But, we had better not let it lapse.

There are a new set of instructions to the disciples and it is all about interaction between ourselves and people. This is a very practical attitude check for the disciples and for us.

Our Lord's enemies will not stop in their attacks against Him and they will continue until they put Him on a cross. Luke 17 is critical; and this chapter presents a warning; this must not happen. They have every reason to despise the pharisees and to lash out against them, even after they crucify the Lord. So they must develop a forgiving mindset. They saw the beatings, the spitting, the crown of thorns driven into his head, and spikes were driven into his hands and feet. The weight of your own body causes you to suffocate over a long period of time. They will view this occur, and they know how awful this punishment is. Yet, they hear, "Father, forgive them for they do not know what they are doing." That is the correct attitude of forgiving and forgetting. Jesus is advocating love towards their worst enemies.

It was necessary for the Lord Jesus Christ to direct the disciples into the right attitude toward all people. They will receive a lot of opposition in the future; the hatred exhibited toward Jesus Christ will also be unleashed upon them. Pagans and religious types both will attack the disciples. All of them will be martyred and the Apostle John will be placed on a desert island to remove him from society, hoping to stop him there.

With all this, Christianity grows as never before. There is no other kind of religion in the world that develops this kind of attitude. The outlook we should have on the world is, "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing." The politicians think that they know everything and what is best for us.

They will be spreading the gospel, Bible doctrine, and they will be training and enabling new believers all over the Roman world. And they have to do this with the greatest opposition ever. And there is a lot of opposition out there right now, and it is very easy to think that we need to despise your enemy and desire his destruction.

Our Lord, in Effect, Will Inform the Disciples

1. They could hate the pharisees without hating the pharisees.
2. They can and should dislike or despise an evil attitude or evil actions, but without disliking or despising the persons themselves. You hate the action, but you love the person. By hate, it is not the mental attitude sin of hate, but it is an attitude that opposes that which is evil. We must distinguish between the evil that they do and think, from who they are as a person.
3. You oppose the thinking or activities of those who are anti-God, anti-doctrine, anti-divine establishment; but...
4. ...you do not perpetrate mental attitude sins or bring any harm against the persons themselves. That includes verbal sins, character assassination, etc. Mental attitude sins lead to verbal sins.

It is the evil of their thinking and actions that the disciples must oppose, by teaching the opposite. But there must not be vindictiveness, anger, revenge tactics, etc. against those you are opposed to.

Now, this does not mean that you must go out of your way to get close to those whose thinking you oppose, in order to show them that you do not hate them. You do not have to be best friends towards those who despise you. You must bear no malice in return. That is the thinking of the believer with humility.

The rich man and Lazarus. We do have the obligation to present to the gospel, to whomever will listen, whether an enemy or a good friend. No matter how much the wrong you suffer at their hands. No unbeliever should have to miss the opportunity to hear the gospel because we have unresolved conflict toward them. Our attitude should not be such, that we would refuse to give them the gospel.

You do not have to be intimate with those you have terrible conflict with; or those who think and do evil; but when there is contact, then you must be willing to give them the gospel. You must not indulge in mental attitude sins toward them.

Your mental attitude sins are destructive to you; but not to them. Now, if you turn that into revenge, that may harm them; or you may talk against them; that can affect them, but Eph. 4:32 is to preclude you from doing this to them in life.

Perpetrating personal conflict is never the Christian way of life.

Bobby is going to give us a test now, perhaps a final exam, about humility and forgiveness. Do you hate or despise some politician? If you do hate one or a certain class of them or a certain political party, that is the wrong attitude. You can oppose their political policies and even speak against those policies, but you may not despise the person and foster or harbor mental attitude sins against them. The same goes for personal relationships.

Bobby has almost given up watching the news because the temptation is too much. When you want to know whether doctrine is ἐπίγνωσις in your soul and being applied, there is a way. You are taking this just a little too far; just a little over the top. "After all, the country is being destroyed by bad policies, bad decisions, and even intentionally." But our mental attitude should not be filled with anger or any other set of mental attitude sins.

When you think about where the disciples are, maybe you can understand what Jesus is teaching them here. Can you pass that test? We will have a chance to exercise grace and Bible doctrine.

No matter what happens in November, Bobby is going to still be teaching Bible doctrine. Even though we would hate to see the direction of our nation, that cannot change our correct attitude toward these people that we do not like in politics. Humility and forgiveness is the name of the game in the Christian way of life.

In this chapter, remember the bad guys are the pharisees and they are truly bad people. Our politicians are nothing compared to the pharisees. They reject the Lord of Glory; they are persecuting and hating the followers of Christ. They will crucify our Lord. They will lead the people of Israel down to path to destruction. That is their thinking and theology. Therefore, the Lord must present the concepts of grace, humility and forgiveness.

The mission of the disciples would be disrupted or curbed if they exhibit the wrong attitudes. You can hate the policy and the activity, you cannot hate the person. You can despise evil. We are at war with evil. But we defeat evil with the Bible doctrine in our souls. It may seem hard to forgive and forget your worst enemies and overlook their actions; but this is the test placed before us. And we will as mature believers.

They cannot change unless their thinking is renovated, so we must have the spiritual life to handle them. We must be able to live according to the Word of God. We must not be offended or hypersensitive. We resolve the problem as best we can; without animosity and without rancor. Do not let some animosity toward stupid and evil people retard your spiritual growth. The result is the peace and tranquility of soul. You will amaze yourself; and there will be true conflict resolution in your soul, whether the conflict is over or not.

As believers in Jesus Christ, we have an obligation before the Lord, and it is not to terrorize the rest of the world with your hate, your mental attitude sins, your verbal sins or your overt sins. We are to represent the Lord Jesus Christ. The world does not know what it is doing; and we have to be willing to overlook their person. We should never fail to give such people what it would take to change them.

When you think only of your own injuries and that they would go away and drop off the end of the earth, you are self-centered. Bobby has people that he does not like; he has people who give him problems. He cannot be thinking about these people with anger and mental attitude sins. He must be able to handle confrontation and conflict.

Lesson #0839

Luke 17: Life of Christ

5/4/2016 Wednesday

It does not get much worse. These pharisees and others have rejected the Lord Jesus Christ. They are destroying the immediate hope of the kingdom of Israel. They persecute the followers of the Lord Jesus Christ. So, they are leading Israel down the path of destruction.

The pharisees are the most offensive people in Israel, to Christ, to the disciples and even to those who have some interest in Him.

Jesus begins by warning the disciples. The pharisees are the most offensive; and Jesus warns the disciples that they might offend others. This warning, which is for His disciples and also for us. This is a lesson that they must learn.

As a believer, we have no right to feel injured or to be insulted. It is a waste of our time and energy; and it is a break with fellowship with the Lord.

It is a waste of time and it is displeasing to the Lord. Your eyes are on people and they are not on the plan of God. The plan of God does not give us the option to react to people or to wallow in mental attitude sins. Neither do we have the right to forget impersonal love or to forget grace orientation. That is the antithesis of the attitude of the mature believer in Christ. Unfortunately, this resentment and dislike is something that we all fall victim to at one time or another.

This election season will be a test for us. We speak against policy and evil; but we do not make personal attacks on people. Politicians make vicious attacks on persons, families and personal failures. This coming season, they will show us exactly what we should not be doing. You do not have the right to hate the person. You don't have to love them; but you need to have impersonal love towards them.

Political campaigns are infamous for failing this test. This is a very important election coming up and it is a mystery at this point. We should be able to evaluate the candidates based upon establishment principles; but we don't look at Christianity. We compare their policies against divine establishment. Bobby will never endorse a candidate from the pulpit and he expects us to be discerning.

As we listen and metabolize the instructions of our Lord; and this is a great passage for this season. We will need this desperately in the days to come. The attitude of humility and forgiveness is actually possible, even in this season.

Introduction

1. Luke 17 is about change animosity to forgiveness and humility. This is what the spiritual life demands.
2. Christ would not be speaking or preferring this attitude if it were not a very necessary aspect of our spiritual lives. It takes a mature believer or an advancing believer to fulfill these instructions. Without doctrine, you will say, "This is not possible; I can't do this."
3. The attitude inherent in humility does not dwell on wrongs suffered. If you do, then you are self-centered. It does not dwell on malicious or recalcitrant people or upon difficult circumstances. We must be Christ-centered and not self-centered.
4. Humility demands a focus on those things described by Philip. 4:8. Finally, brothers, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things. Focus on these things, as distinguished from others, difficulties, the negatives, the people problems, etc.
5. Instead of dwelling all the other things, turn your thinking to whatever is true. Focus on the doctrines of the Word of God. Focus on or dwell on those things. Do not focus on circumstances and people; focus on what is true, which is Bible doctrine.
6. Focus on that which is honorable, which is divine establishment standards; rather than relative, immoral humanist people and their standards. Do not lose contentment over those who are diametrically opposed to that which is honorable.
7. Dwell on that which is right and just. Focus on that which is equitable or fair. Only the justice of God is fair in this world. Injustice is all around us. It means all sorts of things to all kinds of people; but the justice of God is true. Do not focus on the unfairness of people or on conflict in this life.

8. Focus on whatever is pure. Pure is the motivation and the function of standards of morality, rather than focusing upon immorality. If you have been watching the news, there is a huge conflict in our political system. A law was passed that mandated that if you are born a man, then you must go to them men's room. This is how people think today. There is nothing about denying rights; it is pure immorality. That is pure divine standards.
9. Whatever is lovely. That is not a reference to flowers, mountains and the sunset; this is the function of impersonal love. That is in our soul. Apply impersonal love.
10. Focus on whatever is of good repute; focus on anything that is praiseworthy and virtuous. This is so tough when there is so much despicable in this world. Focus on that which is correct. Keep your thinking on divine establishment. You might even find something praiseworthy in your antagonist.
11. Dwell on these things instead of the conflict or the person so that your soul is at peace and not at war. When you dwell on conflict, then you are constantly at war in your soul. This is what you are capable of with an attitude of humility. This is spiritual maturity territory. You need to put aside evil people or circumstances rather than being caught up in it.

Bobby spent a long time on stumbling blocks. It is inevitable that stumbling blocks come. "Woe to him through whom they come."

Luke 17:1 And He said to His disciples, "Temptations to sin are sure to come, but woe to the one through whom they come!"

It would be better that a millstone be hung around his neck and for him to be cast into the sea, than someone who would cause one of these little ones to sin.

Luke 17:2 It would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck and he were cast into the sea than that he should cause one of these little ones to sin.

The pharisees were very good at presenting legalism to others, which would cause them great confusion and problems. They understand the stumbling blocks and they need to; and they cannot afford the mental attitude sins of those in opposition.

The disciples could also give offense. They already know about the stumbling blocks of the pharisees; but believers can do this as well. We are not to fall into the trap of responding in kind.

The Lord begins by stating the obvious. Stumbling blocks will happen. Offenses are going to happen. Some people love to give offense. We will get offenses thrown in our face, constantly. We need to be prepared for it; and if we know it is coming, so we can be prepared for it.

How uncompassionate, to drown a stumbling block. Send them to the bottom. This statement ought to get their attention. He is not speaking literally. He is saying, "It would be better." It is not a good thing to be a stumbling block.

This "woe" is mainly against the pharisees, who were stumbling blocks to Israel, to the people and to the disciples. However, the disciples could fall into this group as well. Being a stumbling block is ultimate defeat. A stumbling block is not what people do, but what their attitude is. Their actions affect the attitude.

This has application to any disciples who is deluded with false doctrine. We may face stumbling blocks and we may do them.

1Cor. 10:32–33 Give no offense to Jews or to Greeks or to the church of God, just as I try to please everyone in everything I do, not seeking my own advantage, but that of many, that they may be saved. Paul is seeking the profit of the many, so that they might be saved.

Stumbling Blocks and 1corinthians

1. Paul means that the believer must be sensitive to other people's thinking; to those inside or outside the church. Even those who completely oppose us.
2. Do not let our attitude, a bad attitude, cause the unbeliever to stumble over the gospel. Do not cause a believer to stumble in spiritual advance. Some people will reject anything related to Christianity because they know Christians who are hypocrites. This is a stumbling block that causes others to reject the gospel.
3. You cannot forgive without humility. A friend whose gf in college who dumped him and he would have nothing to do with doctrine. He said the girl really handed things badly, seeing another guy at the same time. All Christians are hypocrites; I don't want to be one of those. He was a believer, but he rejected the Bible and doctrinal teaching because of that. You do not focus on the wrong done to you.
4. However, giving no offense does not connote trying to please everyone in every way. Didn't Paul said, "I also please all men in all things"? It is impossible to please everyone. You will never, in your lifetime, be so inoffensive that you will please everyone at every time.
- 5.
6. If you oppose negative volition or theological aberration, that does not fall under this category of stumbling block. What your attitude is right is one thing. You do not have to do this. That is not a stumbling block.
7. You can never compromise the gospel or doctrine simply because others don't like it.
8. Paul means to please all men means you seek a benefit or an advantage for all men. Render service to all men.
- 9.
10. Any believer who presents the gospel is a benefactor, regardless of whether it is accepted or rejected by the unbeliever. There is a large church in town that does not present the gospel because it may offend someone.

11. The presentation of the gospel is not a stumbling block, even though it will not please everyone.
12. Every person who gives divine viewpoint, is not a stumbling block, even if there is someone who disagrees. When you get into a bunch of pastors, confusion will reign.
13. Likewise, any believer who teaches divine viewpoint is not a stumbling block in the church. So the disciples must take care of their own attitudes, so that others are not put off from the gospel by their attitude.

Stumbling blocks are inevitable. Those bad attitudes could turn away anyone from doctrine and the gospel. Humility is important.

The little ones are the immature believers. This can be a problem for church leaders, evangelists, or for any believer. We have to deal with these things on a personal level.

Lesson #0840

Luke 17: Life of Christ

5/5/2016 Thursday

Some were having problems with our subjects. The examples. Road rage in Houston is good when it comes to the application.

Luke 17:1 And He said to His disciples, "Temptations to sin [= stumbling blocks] are sure to come, but woe to the one through whom they come!"

The pharisees were total hypocrites and they would do anything to obstruct the ministry of the Messiah.

Introductory Points

1. It is inevitable that the disciples will have to content with stumbling blocks. The pharisees are good examples, but there would be many others. The Holy Spirit comes upon these men, 40 days after.
2. Because of this, Christ is warning the disciples not to become stumbling blocks themselves. This is where we can fall into the trap of becoming a stumbling block.
3. Do not give offense; and we would be the ones called the hypocrite.
4. The disciples are not to respond to hate and to persecution, which they will receive plenty of. The persecution will end with all of them being martyred. Responding with mental attitude sins is one of the easiest responses. Bobby was able to check himself at the last minute when driving last night.
5. The disciples must not react to the pharisees, or to those who resist Christ. The pharisees are the immediate difficulty; or unbelievers. They must not retaliate with mental attitude sins or in any other way.
6. Neither must they react to negative volition; the recalcitrant believers who are slow to catch on to the spiritual life. Or those who fail to metabolize doctrine or operate according to the mind of Christ. There are those who think they know everything about theology and they can hardly wait to tell you all about it. That is inevitable; and that becomes a stumbling block. Many times, people want to challenge with doctrine, and they are sure they know what it all means. Bobby has spent years studying Bible doctrine and learning the Word of God. It is his vocation, his calling, his gift. So you can see how that could be a stumbling block. "You got it all wrong, Thieme." They read a book. So easy to tell them where to get off. Spiritual knuckleheads. People grow at different rates; and they get it at different intervals.

7. Therefore, the disciples, the apostles, believers who are advancing to maturity must guard against becoming self righteous. "Why are you just sitting there listening to doctrine? It is a dead church." Spiritual life is a long way from being dead. Those of the Pentecostal bent call the church dead. You must guard against self-righteousness, intolerance, anger.
8. If the disciples display mental attitude sins, they will become stumbling blocks. That means that they will negate their mission to the world. They cannot do that. You cannot afford to get involved in all of this. It stops your spiritual growth. Where is the mission that God has for you?

There is a difference between becoming a stumbling block and trying to please everyone. You try not to give offense to the sensitivities of the world. If the gospel of Jesus Christ or the principles of the doctrine is offensive to someone; or living the spiritual life is offensive to them, then too bad. The truth of God's Word inherently offends those who oppose it. The Word of God offends them. It always offends the secular, religious or the politically correct people. They will viciously attack Christianity on a number of different grounds. Out of step or out. If Bible doctrine offends someone, you are not a stumbling block.

Theological liberalism, departing from Bible doctrine; setting aside doctrine, being overtly sensitive to the teaching of doctrine. It steps on too many toes. Berachah Church never tones it down. Someone walked into a memorial service and did not realize where they were; and a booklet was handed out. They handed back the booklet and said, "Oh, that person."

Largest church is right down the road, and they don't offend anyone. The pastor of that church had a chance to present the gospel beautifully and he passed it right up. Bible doctrine can divide and separate. It divides much of the world. Those who reject God's Word will be offended. You have the obligation to live the Christian life, regardless of what others think. Doctrine, if metabolized, also has the effect of toughening believers in the face of opposition.

It takes toughness to live the spiritual life. We will be opposed because we are in the Angelic Conflict.

It takes toughness of soul; it takes Bible doctrine; it takes dedication. There is no spiritual growth without Bible doctrine. There is no renovation of thinking without Bible doctrine. Bible doctrine is designed to make us tough. Not thin skinned; not sensitive to every little thing. Humility toughens you up. Easy to retaliate when someone is insulting.

If one becomes a stumbling block, the Lord has something to tell him in the next verse.

Luke 17:2 It would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck and he were cast into the sea than that he should cause one of these little ones to sin.

They disciples are to take special care so that they do not trip up these little ones. They become absolute failures. Put a heavy stone around the neck and get thrown into the ocean. This is not a green light for executing stumbling blocks or for suicide. There is a misapprehension of the meaning of little ones.

Little Ones

1. Μικρός means little. In relation to persons, it refers to stature.
2. This does not refer to age or to height, as in physical height or as in children.
3. Stature references to act...
4. The problem is, they are spiritual babies.
5. The opposite of little stature is to advance to the high ground of spiritual maturity. You had better watch out for the immature.
6. So the ones of little stature are unbelievers or spiritual babies who have very little standing in the spiritual life. You might as well throw yourself in the ocean if you cause one of these little ones to stumble.
7. This excludes being offended because of the gospel.

Paul mirrors the words of Christ and he elaborates in chapter 8. The words and mind of God the Holy Spirit from whom Paul writes. If you remember about meat being offered to idols, then you know exactly what is meant here. Even if food causes my brother to stumble, then I will never eat meat again. I think this is 1Cor. 8. The meat offered to idols; there were Jews who would not eat this meat; and Paul said,...

The law of love and the law of expediency.

God specifically covers these topics so that the disciples would be careful not to be out of line. This has been a reason which is used when one believer...

Forgiving is precisely the thing that needs to be.... The application that comes from that humility. The Lord has taught the 12 the importance of unlimited forgiveness...

“Be on your guard.” is what is then said. Be careful of spiritual attack. Do not let it happen. Guard against it. Be vigilant; beware. Maintain their guard so that they do not become a stumbling block. It is so important for them to be wary. That will be their job. They will teach truth. They must counter the falsehood; and they must be careful not to be stumbling blocks to the immature.

Don't drive the immature into the ground with things that they cannot handle. Some of us like a good glass of wine. But there are immature legalistic believers, and they see you drinking a glass of wine, and it would sent them off. Bobby likes a glass of wine.

One professor even taught that wine was a non-alcoholic beverage in the Bible.

The disciples must be of one mind and be very careful about all this. When someone attacks them; personal...

They must demonstrate a forgiving attitude when facing attacks against them.

Believers supporting believers with sound doctrine. Departure from sound doctrine can be a stumbling block.

When Bobby goes to conferences, many of these people are out there by themselves. When they face opposition, there is no support.

This is not a license to mind the business of others; or to mind other people from the pulpit. We lead by the example of the Christian life. Wisdom exhibited to the immature. Support for other believers is living the spiritual life.

Bobby really saw this pattern in his father. There was no one who was more grace oriented than his father. He was a model of grace orientation. For all the rejection he received, he never retaliated and he never complained. The false gossip about him; the things that were said about his theology. And most of it was wrong in what is said. But Bobby saw someone who was truly humble. We may not have seen that because we saw him teach truth, and he did not hedge on that. There was no gracious, humble person. A lot of legalistic parents have caused their children to stumble over Christianity and they are still somewhere else.

Bobby still had to grow himself; but he knew what the results would be; and he knew how to get there.

How many times have you heard a person with negative volition say, "I won't go to church because of all the hypocrites." It is always true; but that still means that there was someone who is arrogant and is a stumbling block. Churches are filled with those kinds of stumbling blocks.

There is gossip, and this can so adversely affect those who are recipients.

What do you mean you approach them to affect reconciliation? Do I have to meet up with these people face to face? We need to understand the principle first.

Luke 17:3 Pay attention to yourselves! If your brother sins, rebuke him, and if he repents, forgive him,

Lesson #0841

Luke 17:1-4 Life of Christ

5/8/2016 1Sunday

Eucharist May 8, 2016

In Canaan, Jesus showed His power by changing water into wine. He had attributes that only God could possess.

Performing a miracle is not the complete advantage that we think it would be. He was still rejected and despised by many. The pharisees and sadducees should have been most favorably impressed, as they knew about the Messiah from the Old Testament. Jesus lived the sinless life and performed the great miracles that we read about, but He was not universally accepted. With locked-in negative volition, not even God can change their minds. This is clearly seen by Pharaoh and his rejected of the message of Moses, despite what Moses did. Locked-in negative volition is an arrogance that rejects divine authority and divine claims, even when proof is entirely observable. Faith requires confidence in the veracity of God's promises, which are not visible. Faith is the evidence of the things not seen.

The only requirement of salvation is the expression of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. Which one of us has seen a miracle of Christ? Nevertheless, our faith is logical and real. In this scenario, the resurrection of Lazarus takes place. Jesus goes to challenge Porea with one final miracle. He will raise Lazarus from the dead. Christ shows dominion over the evidence of physical death. Even this miracle did not convince everyone. Lazarus had been dead for 4 days. There was no doubt of his death. And Jesus stood before his grave and said, "Come forth." Lazarus was wrapped in grave clothes and they had to unwrap him. They could touch him and see him move; and Jesus gave him the freedom to enjoy that life that he just bestowed.

Did everyone believe? Many of the Jews came to Mary and they believed what they saw. But some went away to the pharisees and told them what Jesus had done. These are the spies and the informers. News that Jesus raised a man from the tomb spread across Jerusalem like wildfire. People either believed or did not. There is no straddling the fence. Those hardened against Him reported this miracle to the pharisees. A special meeting of the council of the sanhedrin was called. They were afraid and angry. They were filled with mental attitude sins. Jesus gave solid proof that He was the Son of God. The sanhedrin worried, "If we let Him go on, everyone will believe in Him!"

This is all John 11. Rome would have to crush this new King; and the sanhedrin did not want the followers of Jesus Christ to put Him on the throne. They were fearful that they would lose their own positions of power; their religious authority.

John 11:47–48 So the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered the Council and said, "What are we to do? For this man performs many signs. If we let him go on like this, everyone will believe in him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation."

They rejected God's plan for their own plan. Jesus patiently waits for those who express faith in His plan. This miracle of life will seal the death warrant of the Lord Jesus Christ.

John 11:49–50 But one of them, Caiaphas, who was high priest that year, said to them, "You know nothing at all. Nor do you understand that it is better for you that one man should die for the people, not that the whole nation should perish."

There is great irony in this statement. The religious leaders had no understanding of the Lord's spiritual death. These words meant, that their desire to kill Christ was out in the open. Caiaphas proposes the death of Jesus is the solution to their immediate problems; and God the Father would use this to give life to all mankind.

The truth of Jesus Christ was right before them, and they completely and totally rejected the Lord. Jesus is the Giver of Life.

This is a perfect example of God working all things together for good, including all of this negative volition expressed by those in the sanhedrin. The gospel is the testimony of all that He has accomplished in His life. Confidence in things unseen but real.

The work of the Lord is just as effective today as it has ever been. The gospel is the power of God unto salvation, to everyone who believes, to the Jew first, but also to the Greek.

For Communion, we need to be in fellowship, so that we can concentrate on the Lord Jesus Christ, Who has provided for us.

Jesus Christ returns from lecturing the pharisees on the problems of greed to warning the disciples of potential problems for them. They spent all of this time with the Lord. They faced a pitfall. They had to be careful of their position with the Lord and the potential of arrogance; and they had to be careful of being stumbling blocks for others.

For the disciples, the great blessings could make them vulnerable to arrogance. They have great spiritual prosperity. They have had this privilege of being with the Lord in the flesh. There was conspicuous service to the Lord. They were not to become pharisaical. They were not to give nor take offense.

Luke 17:1 And He said to His disciples, "Temptations to sin are sure to come, but woe to the one through whom they come!"

Such a transgression would require the disciples to hang a millstone around their own necks and cast themselves into the sea.

Luke 17:2 It would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck and he were cast into the sea than that he should cause one of these little ones to sin.

Luke 17:3 Pay attention to yourselves! If your brother sins, rebuke him, and if he repents, forgive him,

We still have some details to work out here.

Luke 17:4 and if he sins against you seven times in the day, and turns to you seven times, saying, 'I repent,' you must forgive him."

Bobby is congratulating the mothers for making it through 18 years of raising a child. Bobby was set on the right road by his mother. She provided a direction that you get from no one else.

Jesus' mother showed up, and Jesus said, "I have more important things to deal with right now" than what she was thinking of.

Our concentration will be upon the Lord Jesus Christ, Who is more important than His mother. We continue with His message.

Bob said that he would never give a Mother's Day message; and Bobby for 5 min. has broken that tradition.

Luke 17:3 Pay attention to yourselves [= be on your guard]! If your brother sins, rebuke him, and if he repents, forgive him,...

Bobby receives some smiling comments on this passage. Usually a person is named, asking, do I really need to forgive this person? We can always think of someone that we would have trouble forgiving. But the Lord forgave His enemies from the cross—those who spat upon Him and beat Him and put Him on the cross.

You need to be concerned with those people who cause you problems. You need to consider those people that you despise and wish that they were not on this earth; or the lesser people that you simply do not like.

There are those who would speak against the disciples and revile them and, eventually, kill them (all but John).

This disciples have a prominent position with the Lord and they have been seen with Him everywhere. They are next to the Lord Himself. An empty pride could be something that they face.

They must not stumble over the perpetrators, despite their hateful and spiteful thoughts and actions. The disciples will be the early leaders of the church. Their mission is not to dislike people or to put people down or to put people down; their mission is to present the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ and to present Bible doctrine. Anything else takes others away from the focus on the Lord.

The Lord requires the proper interaction between the injured and the injuring parties. This is to maintain a unity in the church and individual progress to spiritual maturity. There needs to be an end to offense; a reconciliation between conflicted believers. Offenses should not simmer and fester in our souls. There should not be a stumbling block of mental attitude sins.

Some people do not like their mothers. Some have grown up in conflict with their mothers; or with their parents in general. Some have rebelled to the point of causing the greatest problems in themselves; and many times, their actions destroy their own lives. They may think that they are damaging their parents; but they are harming themselves.

Be careful when attempting reconciliation. No need to be a busybody and to make sure that you are correcting them. And do not precipitate confrontation. Confrontation is usually all about you. That is when retaliation occurs. You must refocus. When you are wrong, you do not take discipline upon yourself. Greater problems are caused by that kind of confrontation. Hostility is not the environment of edification.

Sometimes, when there is hostility, sometimes the church has to step in to solve the problem. There is never a problem between just two people. There are many more being dragged into the conflict. When you have a problem, do not let it fester. Do not exhibit passive aggressive behavior. What exactly does it mean, rebuke him? What does that mean if it does not mean, chastise him?

Aorist active imperative, επιτομῶ does mean to rebuke, to reprove, to censure. In this context, it is better translated, to warn in order to bring an action to an end. The imperative mood has the force of entreaty. This is an urgent request. Bring the problem to an end. This can mean a face to face talk with all civility. This is done so as not to inflame a conflict. This is to avoid confrontation, particularly that brings others into the fight. Rebuke is a grace oriented exchange on our part. It is sitting down with someone and discussing the situation. This is for you to deal with the circumstance without rancor. You discuss with the other person civilly. You are trying not to exacerbate the problem. This does not mean that the other person will stop.

This is the way that a husband and wife should come to solutions where there is hurt and anger. This should occur without recrimination. This causes more problems. More animosity. The object is reconciliation; not who has the upper hand or who is right and who is wrong.

Ruffled feelings are often assuaged by a grace oriented attitude, which includes often a simple apology. You might be married and you know you are right. Try something; apologize, whether it is your fault or not. It is an attitude that allows you to place problems in the past.

Problems often build up, and that causes them to build up. This tells us how to handle confrontation and what the solution is.

No duels at dawn at Berachah. Sometimes, you let things play out without expressing all of your anger and resentment. The other person may be unreconcilable. Sometimes, you just have to let things play out.

Forgetting or putting something behind you, is an important part of forgiveness. You must be able to do this. You must be able to put aside all of the injuries. This is where impersonal love and grace orientation must be in your soul. It is human nature to retaliate and to attack and to have hurt feelings. If you nurse mental attitude sins, then you will not be restored to fellowship; and you will be a stumbling block to everyone else. You will complain constantly, you will gossip about them.

Show some good judgement when it comes to handling people. The person with whom you attempt to reconcile, they may be intransigent to any reconciliation that you propose. They may dislike you, no matter what you do.

The pharisees were not sorry for crucifying the Lord (not all of them).

That person can always be a stumbling block to you, and this can end your spiritual life. You have to put personal injury behind you. How you feel about all of this is not the issue.

If the issue is grave, dangerous, harmful; then bring it to an officer in the church. If people become at odds with one another, and there is potential unlawful behavior; then take it to church officials.

You need to forgive, even if they make an apology. The believer has no other choice but to forgive. This is not a maybe you will. That is the principle of doctrine to be applied.

If you are to do any of this, some spiritual maturity is a requisite. Without doctrine, you have no way to follow this mandate. You must be able to focus upon doctrine rather than upon the injury.

You may forgive today, but it pops back into your head tomorrow. You must be able to comply with this divine mandate. You need peace and contentment in your own soul. If you harbor that kind of resentment and grudge.

Forgiveness needs to begin with an attitude which lends itself to the follow-on action of letting go. Anyone can say, "I forgive you;" but is it real? Forgiveness does not depend upon the use of that word. It is when it is in your soul.

Sadly, people say, "I forgive you, I apologize;" and yet nothing changes. They treat the one that they forgave.

Sometimes, the offense is kept alive by one or both parties. There is no grace.

Απινημι means to send away, to let go. This demands that you dismiss any offense, no matter what it is. How do you do that? It is not an option not to let it go. This is a mandate. No less than advance in the spiritual life is at stake.

Forgiveness is even for murder and mayhem. A mental attitude that sees divine viewpoint rather than human injury. Become a master of refocus. How do you get over this and let it go? How do you forgive them? There is more than just the words, I forgive you; it is a refocus of your thinking. You must be able to focus on God's thinking rather than upon

Do not try to punish such a person with passive-aggressive behavior. Arrogance is the greatest drawback to forgetting and moving on in life. "I have been insulted; people have trespassed against me." Arrogance does not forget and forgive insult and personal attacks. That is the secret between forgiveness and contentment in your soul.

Humility is grown; you don't just decide to have it. It must be developed just like muscle must be developed. You train, you listen, you work at it. Contentment does not just happen in your soul. You must be able to deal with people-testing.

Jesus warns them: "Be on your guard." Their own attitude must not become their worst enemy in persecution; they cannot be their own worst enemy.

"Rebuke him," to the one who disturbs you. This requires interaction between the two parties. What does it mean? It sounds like you grab them by the lapels and chew them out.

Rebuke is the aorist active imperative of the Greek verb επιτιμάω. The rebuking does not mean a confrontational exchange. This is a grace oriented exchange initiated by the injured party. This is a first step in solving this problem. Sometimes a nice little chat will solve the problem; but, then again, maybe it won't.

Verb: epitimaô (ἐπιτιμάω) [pronounced ep-ee-tee-MAH-oh], which means, 1) to show honour to, to honour; 2) to raise the price of; 3) to adjudge, award, in the sense of merited penalty; 4) to tax with fault, rate, chide, rebuke, reprove, censure severely; 4a) to admonish or charge sharply. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #2008.

Forgiving that person is a command from the Lord Jesus Christ. You cannot hold even the slightest resentment. You have no reason to continue with mental attitude sin against them, especially if the other party is willing to reconcile. You have no choice but to reconcile.

When Jesus forgave, He got no apologies from anyone. Forgive as Christ forgave means that we forgive, no matter what; they may meet us halfway and they may not. Jesus forgave those who were crucifying.

Bobby uses ay for an eta. It means to send away, to let go; to dismiss any offense.

Verb: aphîemi (ἀφίημι) [pronounced af-EE-ay-mee], which means, 1) to send away; 1a) to bid going away or depart; 1a1) of a husband divorcing his wife; 1b) to send forth, yield up, to expire; 1c) to let go, let alone, let be; 1c1) to disregard; 1c2) to leave, not to discuss now, (a topic); 1c2a) of teachers, writers and speakers; 1c3) to omit, neglect; 1d) to let go, give up a debt, forgive, to remit; 1e) to give up, keep no longer; 2) to permit, allow, not to hinder, to give up a thing to a person; 3) to leave, go way from one; 3a) in order to go to another place; 3b) to depart from any one; 3c) to depart from one and leave him to himself so that all mutual claims are abandoned; 3d) to desert wrongfully; 3e) to go away leaving something behind; 3f) to leave one by not taking him as a companion; 3g) to leave on dying, leave behind one; 3h) to leave so that what is left may remain, leave remaining; 3i) abandon, leave destitute. Thayer Definitions only. Strong's #863.

Once you have forgiven them, do not think about it again. Hold no resentment. Bob may have seemed tough and rough; but took so many hits and flack and he let it go. He was the most content man that Bobby knew. We saw him as a proponent of Bible doctrine. Bobby has seen this work; he knows that it works. You completely let it go; it is not an option.

Quick Points

1. The offense must no longer intrude upon your thoughts. We must develop the attitude where it no longer intrudes upon our thinking. Biggest problem is people who dwell on being harmed or insulted. It continues to smolder. You put a wildfire out, and it continues to burn, and sometimes the roots are burning and they pop up suddenly.
- 2.
3. That is the extent of forgiveness in your soul. You have to forgive all of it.
4. Here is the important one; you must grow a mental attitude that focuses on divine viewpoint rather than upon human injury. That is your line of defense. Human problems are going to be there. We must develop the divine viewpoint to focus away from that problem. One mechanic is the faith rest drill. We know a few promises; but there is more to the solution than just claiming that promise. Then you conjure up a rationale in your thinking. How about the love of God rationale? You refocus away from the problem and onto the solution. With a lot of doctrine in your soul, you can even skip the faith rest drill and go to its application. If someone is unfair or unjust to you, what do you do? What God can do to anyone is much better than what we can devise in our own small minds. Mental attitude sins bring on discipline.

Also, remember that, during this forgiveness, evil is not to be dismissed or to overlook. You can forgive and forget personal injury even when it is done from evil motives. That is a necessary step for forgiving and forgetting. There will be evil, evil attitude and evil actions. Do not surrender your contentment to insult or to injury; do not use the excuse that you cannot forgive evil. We do not condone evil, but we can forgive and forget its personal affects upon us. The same principle holds true, from the charge of the mosquito to the charge of the elephant. No repercussions; no retaliation; no phony facade of forgiveness when there is a batch of mental attitude sins simmering underneath.

Final Points

1. Forgive as Christ has forgiven us.
2. Forgiveness must be a constant offense. It does not begin with an action; it must have an attitude. It requires a consistent Christian life.
3. This is how God describes His forgiveness. Heb. 10:17 and their sins and their lawless deeds I will remember no more. There are a lot of sins to forgive; and there are many sins in our lives to forgive as well.
4. Forgiving is never a one-time occurrence.
5. It is on-going. It is a perpetual state of mind.

God has graciously forgiven us because of the work of Jesus Christ. Our sins are already forgiven even before we believe in Him. That barrier is removed. He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins; He let's them go. God forgives and forgets every time that we name a transgression. There is no type of sin or category of sin that God does not forgive and forget. Otherwise, the wrongs never leave us. This is what Jesus Christ demands; it is not an option. Nothing less when our spiritual life is at stake.

Lesson #0844 Luke 17:4 Lev. 17:18–19 Life of Christ 5/15/2016 2Sun

Substitute in this verse the name of your worst nemesis. Someone sins against you, and changes his mind 7 times, then forgive him. We are mandated to forgive those trespass against us, no matter how many times they sin against us.

Can you imagine God, having a limit on how many times He will forgive us?

Luke 17:4 ...and if he sins against you seven times in the day, and turns to you seven times, saying, 'I repent,' you must forgive him."

This verse does not establish a specific number of forgivenesses; this is times without number. Unlimited forgiveness. The principle of forgiving; unlimited forgiveness.

Forgiving People an Unlimited Number of Times

1. This unlimited figure of forgiveness follows the principle of Christ's forgiveness, found in Eph. 4:32 Col. 3:13
2. No matter how many times we are wronged, 7x a day, day after day; we forgive them. We must maintain an attitude of forgiveness.
3. This is not a suggestion; this is a mandate from the Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus is not simply saying that we will feel better to do this. This is our life that I have given you; use it. There are certain people...and this mandate seems impossible in many ways. Many people might think, there is no way that this is possible. If that is the case, then you need to reexamine your own spiritual life. This is not just possible; it is a mandate from God. There are people and circumstances that you just love to hate. You love to wallow in vituperation.

The spiritual solution is forgiveness by the application of doctrine. That is the application of ἐπιγνώσις and the soul filled with forgiveness. That is the Christian life. Do not make yourself frustrated and miserable, which does not help anything. Your attitude of frustration and anger and all the rest, what good does it do? It is better to spend some time in prayer. There is a lot of people-testing to come our way, and we may not even know all of them.

Let's go to Lev. 19:17

Lev. 19:17–18 "You shall not hate your brother in your heart, but you shall reason frankly with your neighbor, lest you incur sin because of him. You shall not take vengeance or bear a grudge against the sons of your own people, but you shall love your neighbor as yourself: I am the LORD.

There are people in this congregation who would love to do evil against some political figures. “You will not take vengeance nor bear any grudge against the sons of your own people.” This is a classic picture of impersonal love. “You will love your neighbor as yourself; I am the LORD.” There is no wiggle room here; there is no maybe here. The disciples must put this concept into action. You do not bear a mind filled with vengeance. You may think that it is just; you may think that it is just and correct. In spiritual terms, you must remember, what you think is just and fair might not be just and fair. Do not let the person interfere with your doctrinal application. If you are distracted from doctrine, you become your own worse enemy. A big part of the national problem by your bad decisions, you will dive into.

You might be taking on a righteous cause, but you might do it in a wrong way; and you can only do a right thing in a right way. This is right individually and for the nation as well. When we fail, we react to the evil and wrongs done to us, even when the only problems are mental attitude sins in your own mind. Fear and loathing become your standard outlook. That can very easily become your own outlook in the next few months. Politicians will bring that out in you. Divine establishment is a wonderful thing, but it is no substitute for Bible doctrine in your soul.

The Extent of Forgiveness and Humility

1. Jesus is explaining the extent of humility in the soul. 7x a day.
2. This is the application of forgiveness, which is common to believers who are growing spiritually.
3. There are believers who are focused not on themselves and upon their personal injury.
4. Not focused on anger and hatred toward the person or persons responsible for the injury.
5. They are not focused on their own personal disappointments. I am so disappointed with this person; they should have treated me differently.
6. We should focus on the principles of Bible doctrine in our souls. The Word of God is alive and powerful; and coming from our soul is that way it is.
7. This becomes our divine guidance; doctrine in the face of injustice; ability to deal with the conflicts of life. These approaches work every time. If you have the doctrine in your soul, you can apply this every time. Will you never have a moment of anger or resentment? Bobby is talking about recovery and restoration. The more mature that you are, the more quickly this happens. Control your own soul before another person controls your life.

A forgiving attitude does not mean that you agree, you acquiesce, or hide from the evil this is all around you. Speak the truth when confronted with evil, whether secular or religious evil. You must remove hatred or rancor against those who mean to do you harm. You must remove these mental attitude sins against those who want to harm you.

As a believer in Jesus Christ, we always have that obligation to fulfill that basic object of the Christian way of life.

When a person is evil; when they perpetrate evil and arrogance, they are headed for personal destruction without your help. God does not abide evil, either against society as a whole or against you. If you do not think that there is a lot of evil in this world, you are extrusient (hiding your head in the sand).

Some of the politicians acting against the country; the justice of God never ceases, it never departs. God is imminent in this world. That includes love for us; righteousness and justice. It never stops. God has all of the facts. Would that a courtroom or an attorney have all the facts; but God does and He is impartial. He knows all of the facts and His justice never fails. So, do not get caught up in malice that destroys your contentment. Why should you catch discipline as a result of your wrong reaction? Evil people do have their own problems. Do not think that, even if they are prosperous, that they are doing well. Do not be upset when some people get things that you don't think that they deserve. You do not need to take on a problem like this. They have their own problems. Do not add their problems into your own life. "They do not know Who it is they are persecuting." It is no different for us.

Union with Christ Rationale

1. You are, as a believer, in union with Jesus Christ. We share everything that Jesus is and all that He has. We can think with His mind, Bible doctrine.
2. In union with Christ, those who injure and oppose us are opposing Jesus Christ. We are a son or daughter of God. Anyone who opposes you opposes Jesus Christ and union with Him. The pharisees do not understand that they reject the Savior. What they are doing is the epitome of evil. God means that evil for good. What man means for evil, God means for good. Through the crucifixion, He brought eternal life to all mankind. Similar through what happened to Joseph, God meant this for good. The faith rest rationale. We stand on Rom. 8:28. Applying that principle is the key to forgiving and forgetting injuries against us. We need to have such an attitude even in elections. Even if your candidates fail; even if your representatives are snakes, saying one thing and doing another. We must apply Rom. 8:28. If we are believer, we are not excluded.
3. Other people do not get away with all manner of evil. We remember the rationale and understand that the justice of God is in full operation. The Supreme Court of Heaven is always in session dispensing true justice.
4. God will never let us go, no matter what His justice requires.

Lesson #0845

Luke 17: Life of Christ

5/18/2016 Wednesday

Continuing the doctrine of forgiveness. The application of this doctrine is one of the most important spiritual skills to develop. Great for curbing the mental attitude sins which keep us from living the spiritual life.

Luke 17:3–4 Pay attention to yourselves [= be on your guard]! If your brother sins, rebuke him, and if he repents, forgive him, and if he sins against you seven times in the day, and turns to you seven times, saying, 'I repent,' you must forgive him."

Rebuking Someone Who Has Offended You

1. Rebuking infers an interaction between conflicted parties. If you rebuke someone, you are having a conflict with that person.
2. What is this interaction? It is a face to face talk with all civility, taking great care so as not to further inflame the conflict.
3. This is a grace oriented exchange that must be initiated by the injured party for the purpose of bringing the matter to an end.
4. Care must be taken not to exhibit resentment, anger or to argue the merits of your case. You are not trying to win a case.
5. The hope in this meeting, which is not a confrontation, is that the injuring party will repent. They will change their mind; perhaps even apologize. That is the easy way to reconcile.
6. When that happens, both parties can move on with no lingering after effects. You can do this if you have this skill in your soul based upon humility.

And If They Do Not Repent...

1. To repent in this verse is conditional.
2. It is conditional upon the choice of the injuring party. In this case, the injuring party makes the decision.
3. Still the injured party must effect forgiveness. Forgive as Christ forgave.
4. That means that you may have to forgive without repentance on the part of the injuring party. There is a greater principle involved here than "I will forgive only if they repent."
5. That is the overarching principle to apply.
6. Repenting would be nice; but if not, the mature believer still lets it go and he moves on. There are no residual effects in the soul. With these residual effects, you hold onto to your anger or rancor, and that is not the way to live the spiritual life. You must be able to let go of the offense.

The action of forgiveness is a continuing action so that you can let go and move on from the offense. The believer must refocus off the injury and onto something else. You are injured and you focus on the person who did this to you. You must be able to take your eyes off this injury. If you cannot refocus, you must take your eyes off the injury. You focus on the doctrine in your soul. The amount of doctrine in your soul indicates how well you can fulfill this forgiveness aspect. This is the function of our beloved faith rest drill. A promise, an application. Once you get this drill down, it is close-order drill in the military. You do it so many times that this becomes second nature to you. This is the mode of your life. We all get bogged down with something in life. We need a mechanism to remove this from us. We need to focus on doctrine, otherwise the injury becomes perpetual.

There is a tremendous test coming up in our life; a tremendous opportunity to apply this principle. The political scene today gives us a change to apply the faith rest drill and to look toward spiritual solutions. This allows us to maintain a relaxed mental attitude. Some of us are already up in arms; we do not like our choices. We must use the faith rest drill to refocus and to maintain a forgiving attitude. You do not hate the person, but you learn to hate the evil. Individual politicians, bureaucrats and agencies appear to be getting away with everything. They ignore the law, the constitution; and they are tearing down the divine institution and divine establishment. Our secretary of state just mentioned that there will be a point at which there are no more borders. Look at Europe today; they removed all the borders. The things that man wants to do with great repercussions.

Today, regulations are being imposed upon us that are destructive to us and to the economy. And there appears to be no recourse to this. How easy it is to become resentful, to build up an anger against it all. God's justice still abides, no matter where our country goes; and we must apply this fact from our souls. We do not have to take matters into our own hands. We do not have to become the rabid political activist to save the nation. We cannot reverse the evil thinking rampant in this nation. Where there is injustice, there is incorrigible evil. Witness the pharisees. Nothing can change the evil in those who have rejected Jesus Christ. You must have confidence that the Lord is fully capable of protection, deliverance and rescue; and that He will not allow evil to overtake us or the nation, as long as He has plan for our lives. At some point in time, God will destroy the evil. Wait for the justice of God without rancor, without mental attitude sins, without verbal sins.

Bobby gave a message from Ex. 14:13 "Stand still and watch the deliverance of the Lord." always make room for the discipline, for the vengeance of the Lord.

Deut. 32:35 Vengeance is mine, and recompense, for the time when their foot shall slip; for the day of their calamity is at hand, and their doom comes swiftly.'

In due time, their foot will slip. The day of their calamity is near (which could be days, months or years). It is inevitable. The impending things are hastening upon them. Evil and sins have repercussions.

We might love this to happen tomorrow to those leading our nation today. If it is not tomorrow, this is a promise of God; and God is the perfect judge. His justice is perfect and His timing is perfect. He rights the wrongs with perfect justice. He has us and the national situation in mind. When the evil overtook them, they were scattered all over the world.

The client nation Israel in the Millennium is a believing nation.

Deut. 32:36 For the LORD will vindicate his people and have compassion on his servants, when he sees that their power is gone and there is none remaining, bond or free.

This all has a flavor of retribution against all those who are destroying the nation. Client nations always undergo discipline and guidance. God's promises are immutable promises.

God's justice is a promise to us. Therefore, we can relax and not call down the thunder from the sky. God's justice will abide in His right time.

We must be prepared to present the gospel, whether to a friend or the worst enemy that we have. All of your political machinations changes no one.

A little question about the person who has injured you. He says, "I repent." Does this mean we forgive him only when a person repents? No. We do not require an apology in order to forgive. We do not require an apology to forgive on multiple instances.

The principle of the forgiveness of wrongs, which reflects how God forgives sins. When we name our sins, there might not be any emotion involved. When we name our sins, we are back in fellowship with God. The one who has done the injury, he must do some soul searching and reach a conclusion about those they have harmed. Such a believer must apply some doctrine to the situation. If you are married, it is hard to admit that you are wrong. There seems to be a continued anger with unforgiven sins between a married couple. This is a perfect passage for marriage. The soul searching means that someone must reach a conclusion. This represents a change of mind toward the other person.

When an apology is made, it is easier for two to reconcile. But, in any case, forgiveness must come from the injured party. Forgiveness is often one-sided. Fellowship is rarely restored without an apology and forgiveness both. A verbal apology is not always necessary. They can apply doctrine by being mature believers.

More Points

1. A wedge must not be driven between members of a church. This happens when there are mental attitude sins between two people. A small fire between two people can erupt in a church. It has happened in Berachah Church.
2. Churches split when 2 parties bring others into the fray. Two of us are at odds, and we gossip and the anger expands and there are two cliques at war.
3. If no reconciliation, do not perpetrate injury by dwelling on it. Move on. Forgetting what is behind. Look forward to living the spiritual life. That is why forgiveness is commended by the Lord. Forward is the attitude of the Christian life.

"I repent" is the proper response for a person who is out of fellowship. Straighten out the attitude with spiritual growth. Act without guilt to the past. Just remember...

The Spiritual Life and Forgiveness

1. The principles of universal forgiveness is not affected by whether or not the person repents of their wrong to you. Your forgiveness does not depend upon that.
2. God forgave all of us and all of our trespasses when Jesus Christ died; unlimited atonement. So we must follow that principle.
3. The principle of forgiveness is likened to the grace of God, to which believers must orient and execute in their spiritual lives.

4. Forgiveness requires the attitude of humility, which is a product of grace orientation.
- 5.
6. That is the only way to have tranquility and peace of soul.
7. Being unforgiving over offenses causes a person to be constantly on edge. That is hypersensitivity. Then you just perceive everyone as being disrespectful.
8. Being unforgiving means that you are open to all kinds of mental attitude sins.
9. There is a weakness in that attitude; a weak spiritual life.
10. The believer's obligation is unlimited grace and forgiveness toward others; not personal satisfaction or vindication or justification when offended or injured.

This Is What Humility Looks like with Forgiveness

1. When the believer develops the attitude of forgiveness, he understands that people have sin natures just like he does.
2. So in no way does humility become self righteous. You must see yourself in the eyes of other people.
3. Where humility resides, self-righteousness is excluded.
4. Where arrogance and self-righteousness are excluded, the attitude of forgiveness is in operation. It will operate.
5. Forgiveness is the very essence of a mature believer's thought process.
6. Mental attitude sins after forgiveness are precluded by humility. Mental attitude sins are the killers.

A little caveat. We are not required by this passage to remain in the company of those believers who repeatedly cause pain to us. We do not need to do this to become a good spiritual Christian. You always forgive; but you do not have to put yourself in the way of continued abuse for the sake of fellowship. This is conducive to resentment. You do not need to embrace mental or verbal cruelty. When in that position, use the doctrine in your soul.

The enthusiastic disciples call out for Jesus to increase their faith. Here is the solution that they recognize for the attacks of the pharisees.

Lesson #0846

Luke 17:5-6 Life of Christ

5/22/2016 1Sunday

Many see religion as a pointless approach. Many think that, even if there is a God, He is not a good God. No other religion puts the emphasis on the grace of God like Christianity. Because of His love, He has provided us salvation through the grace of God. This represents the love of God, like no one else ever could. He provides us with the resources of a spiritual life. It is almost hard to imagine all that we have in Him.

Our subject has been forgiveness, how we are to forgive others as Christ forgave. Rebound gives us the empowerment to live the Christian life. We can live the life God has for us.

Every chapter in Luke appears to get better. Every line of Scripture has something to tell us that is great. Forgiveness and humility both go together. We are mandated to forgive and to forget. We realize the value of what Christ has mandated for us to do.

They will express in one line, which ought to be our cry as well; this should be what we want every single day. Why are the disciples able to make this 3 word cry? They are beginning to learn and to grow. They are in the presence of the Promised Messiah; they are in the presence of God Himself. They do want to guard and protect themselves from reacting against opposition, against reacting with anger or hatred toward those who oppose the Lord Jesus Christ and the disciples themselves. They want to be able to forgive and to maintain a relaxed mental attitude even in opposition and in persecution. They have seen Jesus face that worst opposition; and they see just how relaxed He is and how He is able to deal with those who hate Him.

Luke 17:5 The apostles said to the Lord, "Increase our faith!"

Jesus has just scored a touchdown with them and the disciples speak in the imperative. Προστιθιμι in the aorist active imperative. This is not an imperative of command; this is the imperative of urgent request. They want what the Lord can provide them. Provide this to us now. Provide more instruction so that we can fulfill this attitude of forgiveness throughout all of our lives. Whether they know it or not, they are calling for a mature, grace orientation. They are enthusiastic over the Lord. When we sit down in church, this ought to be our attitude. "Increase our faith." This is different from all that they knew.

Jesus challenged the pharisees; and the pharisees never forgave anything.

This urgent request is made to the Lord. It is His teaching that would add to their faith. This is their response to the teaching in vv. 1–4. This is an enthusiastic request to keep the doctrine coming. They want to increase their knowledge and their application of Bible doctrine.

Peter is one of those speaking. And he later writes, Grow in grace and knowledge of the Lord our Savior. They want the humility and they want the ability to forgive. This is operation Z. This is knowledge that moves us toward the right attitude and the action that we want. Build that excitement over spiritual growth and its results. That is the attitude that we ought to have entering into Berachah Church.

Luke 17:5 The apostles said to the Lord, "Increase our faith!"

This is what is imprinted in our soul. We can write it down in order to remember. But it needs to be in our souls.

The Lord says, "Let Me explain to you just how important this faith is and what it can do."

In human terms, the uprooting and replanting in the sea cannot happen. It is a ridiculous idea. Why would such a thing come out of the Lord's mouth? That is the point that Jesus is making. What is impossible can happen when faith is involved. This is not blind faith or faith in yourself; the faith needs to be directed towards Jesus Christ.

People place their faith in science, philosophy, psychology; in various drugs; in men who are smarter than they are. Only God can accomplish what in human terms is impossible.

Nothing will be impossible for God! Even a mulberry tree growing in the ocean.

Luke 17:6 And the Lord said, "If you had faith like a grain of mustard seed, you could say to this mulberry tree, 'Be uprooted and planted in the sea,' and it would obey you.

The virgin Mary. Having a child is impossible; it cannot happen. Just like the replanting of the Mulberry Tree cannot happen. Even with artificial insemination, both the man and woman are required. With people, this is impossible.

If even a small amount of faith in God is possible; this trumps all the faith that you have in mankind. Faith in what God can do is never wrong. Faith in God is never misplaced. The impossible is always possible for God. If He can create the universe, can He not grow a mulberry tree in the ocean? All it takes is faith like a mustard seed. Faith is confidence in the Lord; it is confidence in things unseen. When you turn circumstances over to the Lord that seem to be impossible to us are not impossible for God.

This small amount of faith is incredibly powerful; and no wonder the disciples want more of it. It can do things that are impossible to us. Great relaxation during pressure and problems. With God, everything is possible. We can have a relaxed mental attitude under any circumstance. So many people in this world could never be relaxed under the worst pressures of life. With a small amount of faith, and an increasing amount of faith, all things are possible.

We can have great appreciation in our souls for what is possible and impossible. The fulfillment of God's plan may seem impossible to us, but never for Him.

"Increase Our Faith."

1. This increase is the faith in which you can grow from metabolizing Bible doctrine resident in your soul. What do the disciples want? Increase in their faith.
2. The more faith that you have, the more that it increases, the greater is the confidence in what you can do. With the increase in confidence, you then know the power is there to fulfill His plan. That essence works for us.
3. The more you have the greater is your humility. Faith requires us to do this God's way.
4. In the application of that faith, there is no limit. Our life has no limits. Have you been in situations that seem hopeless and you are helpless? The things which are impossible for us get resolved by God, Who can work it all out for our best interests.

That is how the Lord works. The application of doctrine can do this under all circumstances. There will not always be resolution in the way that we want it to occur when we want it to happen. Whatever God affects is always the correct resolution. The necessary faith remains the same. With faith, you never give up, or doubt the fulfillment of God's plan.

Jesus has given His disciples the correct outlook. That is what this instruction is all about.

Lesson #0847

Luke 17: Life of Christ

5/22/2016 2Sunday

We have just completed vv. 5–6. Anything is possible with God, even though these things may seem impossible to us.

Luke 17:6 And the Lord said, "If you had faith like a grain of mustard seed, you could say to this mulberry tree, 'Be uprooted and planted in the sea,' and it would obey you.

A mustard seed is the smallest seed, just about. A small amount of faith makes things possible that are otherwise impossible. This allows us to have great trust in Jesus Christ.

Vv. 7–10 is all about humility. They are not to become arrogant when they exhibit faith and things go right and the impossible happens. They have a tendency to get a little arrogant. In the spiritual life there is the chance that one can become arrogant.

Some believers become upset when there is no recognition of what they have done. They have worked so hard to gain such noticeable results and their intention might be to be recognized. The real success in the spiritual life is the power of God the Holy Spirit. "I am good at what I do, and I want people to recognize me for being good; and they give me kudos for being good."

Strive for excellence in whatever you do. Use the talents, brain and gifts that God gave you; but do not forget who gets the glory. If you receive any glory, accept it with grace and humility. Just like the Roman slaves would speak into the ear of the ruler, "All human glory is fleeting." Sic gloriatur transit mundum or something like that.

A job well-done in the life has satisfaction, admiration, some monetary gain. Human success must not increase self-centeredness.

Sometimes, there is a burning desire for recognition; and the spiritual life gets restricted; and God's plan gets bypassed or forgotten. Preoccupation with self results in inordinate ambition and misery. All of your ambition is turned inward, and you are only concerned with what other people think about you. You never achieve a satisfying success unless it is part of God's plan. We need to wait on God; we are not to deviate and to run off on our own pathway to fame and fortune. Waiting on God's plan requires the consistent intake of Bible doctrine. An attitude of humility; an organized life. Organization in life means you set priorities. If you leave your room like a hurricane went through it, you do not have an organized life. What you prioritize is what is important to you. The very same thing in the spiritual life. You must develop humility and an organized life. You do not permit human ambition or personal lusts or desires to strip out the plan of God.

Why do I need God? I am doing just fine on my own. God's plan has escaped us and our priorities are wrong. We have no organized life; our life is disorganized. Fulfilling bêyth preposition should be our main ambition in life. God's plan may take us in different directions than we expected and different places than we wanted.

We are to strive for excellence, but we are to do everything as unto the Lord.

When all thing things we think we want appear to be impossible. We are to keep our priorities straight. Increase your faith. That is what the disciples want and that is what we want. That is the ticket in the spiritual life.

I want it and I want it now; I am good and I am destined to do this. Just remember the priority. It may not be your destiny. Our destiny was determined for us in eternity past. So be patient in life. Strive for excellence, but don't do it just so others think will of you. Some people want to tear you down; that is how they think.

Some people are no good; and they don't want you to be good, because it shows them up. You don't care what people think. God's plan comes to fruition when...?

If God's plan is not being fulfilled in the life of the believer, then the believer's life follows the pattern of the unbeliever. Under those circumstances, you cannot glorify God. You have opted for human power, human accolades, etc. If your priority is some sort of faith, you will miss out on eternal rewards.

Do not expect a pat on the back for every good service that you perform. God is fully aware of your outstanding achievements. God wants us to rely upon Him and not upon our self-promotion. We may not even like the way that we are promoted, if at all. Let God put us into whatever slot; and He knows what is best for us. So, self-promotion is not helpful. As a believer, we must maintain humility. Humility is the correct attitude for God's plan to come to fruition.

We must get over the idea that we are glorified for who we are or for what we do. We bring glory to God and not to ourselves. There is glory in eternity for us when we actually perform God's plan. That is humility in action. This is the true ability to forgive and to forget.

The rest of the world cannot have what we have; none of them. Many believers do not even have what we know to be true.

The service of the unprofitable servant comes next.

Luke 17:7 "Will any one of you who has a servant plowing or keeping sheep say to him when he has come in from the field, 'Come at once and recline at table'?"

We are dealing with a slave and a master. The servant comes in from the field. Do you tell the slave, “Come on in to have a bite to eat at my table”?

But, instead, you tell the servant, “Put on some decent clothes and then feed me.” Then you can eat and drink.

Luke 17:8 Will he not rather say to him, 'Prepare supper for me, and dress properly, and serve me while I eat and drink, and afterward you will eat and drink'?

Then, this is how you speak to your servant.

Luke 17:9 Does he thank the servant because he did what was commanded?

This parable seems to compare God to a slave-owner with minimal compassion for His servants. We do not related Him as a slave-driver.

So Many Teachers Skip this Section.

1. They also have problems because this parable seems to be out of context. It does not seem to fit into Luke 17.
2. Some suggest that Luke had a bunch of parables and he stuck them in where they fit; and he had no idea what to do with it, so he just stuck it into the chapter. But nothing is just stuck into the Scripture. How does this relate to humility and forgiveness?
3. The story of the servant who works long, long hours and then must work even more. This seems like such a lack of compassion.

Do not superimpose modern-labor laws on this parable. This is just normal stuff. Do not become upset over normal circumstances as found here. If you focus on labor laws, you will completely miss the point of this parable. This is the doctrine of Christian service in this short parable.

Today, we look at slavery as a horrible set of circumstances. Our country did not start slavery; and if it was bad in our country, it was horrific in other countries. The Lord understood that this was the culture of the time; and that this is the sin nature of man.

Remember the context in which this parable is found. The brief line about faith is the problem that Jesus Christ deals with in this parable. The problem of faith is available to the disciples. Faith relates to the content of faith; that which is believed. Doctrine by which they grow to spiritual maturity. Jesus Christ is the source of Bible doctrine. Jesus provides the faith necessary by His teaching. This is the context. True humility, success in the spiritual life, and the increase of faith in the spiritual life. What does that have to do with a slave who must continue to work and work?

A quick principle. The more the strength of faith grows, the greater the service to the Lord. What is their mission in life? They are to serve the Lord and they will become Apostles, and there will be no more important gift to begin the Church Age with. They must work, and their service may or may not be known.

Most of the Apostles, we have no idea about what they actually did. Paul, a slave of Jesus Christ; where do you think he got that from? This parable has tremendous application to us as a believer. It tells us what we owe to the Lord Jesus Christ.

Lesson #0848

Luke 17:7–10 Life of Christ 5/25/2016 Wednesday

This chapter contains but one parable, which is what we are studying in vv. 7–10. There is tremendous application to our everyday lives. The parable of the unprofitable servant.

This is addressed specifically to the disciples, but it is applicable to anyone who hears it.

Luke 17:7 "Will any one of you who has a servant plowing or keeping sheep say to him when he has come in from the field, 'Come at once and recline at table'?"

You have a servant working out in the field; do you ask him in the eat with you?

Luke 17:8 Will he not rather say to him, 'Prepare supper for me, and dress properly, and serve me while I eat and drink, and afterward you will eat and drink'?"

The servant comes in, and he is to butler the meal, and then he serves the master. Probably 3 sets of clothes.

Luke 17:9 Does he thank the servant because he did what was commanded?

There is no thanks given, because he has simply done what was commanded.

"Increase our faith," requested the disciples; so this is Jesus' answer.

Introductory Points

1. Faith is related to the content of faith. Content and increased faith go together.
2. Faith is what is believed. That is the content. It is the doctrine by which the believer is to grow to spiritual maturity. The disciples have said, "Give us some spiritual maturity."
3. It is Christ Who is the source of this doctrine.
4. Jesus is the one to supply the content of faith that faith.
5. Faith is that which is unseen.
6. Success in the spiritual life is completely dependent on an increase of faith. His disciples have been a part of His ministry for 3 years almost.
7. Spiritual maturity and increased faith and Christian service go hand in hand. God is the source of their doctrine.

There is a danger with the increase of faith. There is such a thing as arrogance of faith. That can give offense to those who are lacking in faith. That is the stumbling block principle early on in this chapter.

Samson was strong in faith; but he became arrogant. David was a great man of faith; but he went off the farm and was almost removed from office. The question is, how do successful servants of the Lord, how do they avoid arrogance and offensiveness and becoming stumbling blocks, particularly in the case of the disciples? How can they render proper service to the Lord when they have so much knowledge?

They could always say, "I was there with the Lord when He taught us." But they need to advance to spiritual maturity.

How could anyone be able to say, as in v. 10, after great success in the spiritual life, and these men would be Apostles, the greatest of the great, and how could they say, "We are unworthy slaves; we have only done what we ought to have done." What is your obligation as a servant of the Lord?

Jesus uses a parable here so that He could involve the disciples so that they do not become arrogant. Their special intimate relationship with the Lord could result in arrogance.

The servant in this case is not arrogant; he does not resent his master. He just does what he is expected to do. Jesus puts them in a scenario, a scenario of a land owner, who represents the Lord Jesus Christ. The master has a slave working for him, in the field, in the house, and in the kitchen and wherever else he is assigned. Full-time; no afternoon or evenings off. This servant represents the disciples.

This does not mean that the disciples never took a day off, never had a moment to his life, never had time for their family. Service to the Lord must be done consistently. We are never not a servant.

This master slave circumstance seems quite brutal to our ears, and to our way of thinking. This was not unusual for the ancient world; it was not unusual for Israel.

This is not about cruelty to the servant; slaves did not punch in and out; they only had jobs. Jesus uses this cultural fact to make His point about serving Him. A slave serves whenever and wherever he is needed.

The good servant is called to double the service; to double up the service when the situation called for it. That was just the expectation of the servant. None of them said, "We need to go on a march against slave-owners."

Bobby read this and it conjured thoughts of the old South and field hands being mistreated. We fought a war to remove slavery and it has since progressed. In our culture, this parable is difficult; and we try to hide anything like this from the past, like flags or statues. This is wrong, because we need to remember history; we need to ponder history; we need to consider history. When you do not study history, then you repeat all of the mistakes of history. Likewise, there is something here for the disciples to ponder. This particular illustration is great for them to listen to. When this worker is through. He could not sit down; he could not relax. He could not open up a Budweiser and enjoy himself. The servant could not revel in his great accomplishments in the field or in the kitchen.

The no rest left no time for him to dote on his success or on his personal triumphs. There is no time for him to develop arrogance. The old adage for raising teenagers, and keep them busy and keep them tired, and they won't get into trouble.

This is exactly this trouble problem. This is what Jesus did not want them to do; to spend time thinking about their success and their positions in the church. They would be Apostles and they would be great. "Do not rest on your laurels. Do not be self-glorifying when success comes. Always remember, there is more work to be done." This is always true. Out of the field and into the kitchen for us. The disciples are in full-time service. This is regardless of gift or God's plan. It is easy to see Bobby in full-time service. But we are no less in full-time Christian service.

There is no time to waste, patting oneself on the back. "Look at what I have done for You today. What do you think, God? How about some recognition and some reward?" We have simply done our job, which is speaking the truth of the gospel. We owe Him everything, without attaching any self-importance to ourselves.

We Continue as Servants until Our Lives Are Over.

1. As believers, we press on in service until our work is finished.
2. That means, until the plan of God has run its course for our lives.
3. That course, that finish does not occur during our lives; our service does not end during our lifetime. That is like the servant in the parable.
4. There is no retirement from the Christian life. You do not serve the Lord for 50 years and then retire and fish.
5. There is no form of respite in Christian service. You just keep going. You are tired and want a break? In life, we do not get breaks from the Christian life.
6. When one phase of service is ended, there is something else beginning. Count on it; look for it.
7. You do not rest on past laurels. We are always moving ahead. You do not count up your scalps and say, "Yep, I'm done."

Bobby has no plans to retire from Berachah Church. Now, if he has to, life in service goes on, no matter where he is in life. It is just a new phase. He hopes that this current phase never ends. It will go on and it will continue.

Then we may hear from the Lord, in heaven, "Well done, My good and faithful servant." And who cares about what people think about your job as a believer? The divine pat on the back is okay.

So let's not jump the gun on kudos or congratulations. At the end, that is when our reward comes.

Service to the Lord

1. The believer is not hired by the Lord as a day laborer or as a contract worker. He is hired for life.
2. The believer does not serve for approbation, for power, for personal glory
3. The believer is motivated to serve by humility and personal love for the master, as faith increases. As an immature believer, we are not going to catch on to this very well. As we gain humility, that is our motivation.
4. Paul describes himself as a slave, δουλος; Jude, James, John and Peter did as well. They all gladly served the Lord. James 1:1 2Peter 1:1 Rev. 1:1 Rom. 1:1 Jude 1:1
5. Servants of the Lord serve for the satisfaction of glorifying the Lord and fulfilling His plan. The greatest satisfaction in life is knowing that you have served your master well.
6. After completing one assignment, we move onto the next.
7. We do not abstain from or despise rewards in life. That is false humility. Our rewards are not primarily on this earth. If approbation and rewards come to us, that is fine; but think in terms of grace orientation.
8. If you do not receive the rewards that you think you deserve, you cannot become bitter, angry or vindictive. That is arrogance, self-centeredness. This destroys our spiritual life, our happiness and our contentment. The greatest contentment is to serve the Lord. Bobby is very content as he has found his niche at Berachah.
9. Abraham and other heroes of the faith, looked for the city which has foundations, whose architect and builder was God. Heb. 11:10. This city is called the New Jerusalem. This is the creation of God. So Abraham looks to the future for rewards. He is not looking for rewards on this earth. He is waiting for that which is unseen, and yet, so real.
10. If you receive the opposite of rewards in this life for service, that is okay. This is the devil's world and he does not appreciate us. Those who serve him do not appreciate us either. Despite all of his service, Paul ended up on the chopping block. Peter was crucified upside down (by his request). They thanked God for being able to serve Him.
11. Their service ended when their lives ended. Their rewards in eternity for divine good were beyond anything that they or we can imagine.

How do we handle success in our service to the Lord? What is our mindset in our service?

Luke 17:10 So you also, when you have done all that you were commanded, say, 'We are unworthy servants; we have only done what was our duty.'

Jesus is speaking to His disciples. "This is what you say: 'We are unworthy servants; we have only done what was our duty.' " There are no medals of honor for us in this life. Everything that we do is a matter of obligation. This is what ought to be done; this is the plan of God; it is simply our obligation. We are at war; we are warriors in the plan of God. However we fight our battles, it is just in a day's work.

The Lord's Application to the Disciples

1. Even when they have done the job well, Jesus calls them unworthy or good-for-nothing. Think of the most accomplished thing you have ever done and the boss says, "You are unworthy."
2. This title does not mean that they have done a bad job or that they are lazy or incompetent. It does not mean that they should be fired or reprimanded.
3. This is a way of describing the attitude of humility necessary for service. Even with great success, there is no back-slapping; no patting yourself on the back.
4. Do not look for medals in this life. That will come in the next life.
5. In this life, the disciples should not expect special praise for doing what is expected of them. They are to do their duty; they are to do the plan of God.
6. They are unworthy of excessive human praise, simply because they did their obliged duty to the Lord. See how Jesus is presenting humility to these guys? When you get out there and you are having all of these successes, do not expect some great reward in life. "You are just doing the job I have given to you."

Lesson #0849

Luke 17:10 Life of Christ

5/26/2016 Thursday

Over the past 12 years, Bobby has received compliments on the importance of this ministry to our lives. These are noticeable to him; and it happens even more often at those Bible conferences 7x a year. They get face to face teaching at least once a year. Most of these are compliments for the doctrine being taught to them. Bobby just happens to be the one who is teaching. He cannot afford to view himself as some great success story or deserving of great praise. That is not why he serves as our pastor. He does not do this for approbation; motivation is everything. He is obligated to serve in the capacity of the one who serves up doctrine to us. He is just doing what is expected of him by us and by the LORD. He is study-and-teach. We see the effects of doctrine on our lives. Heavenly rewards is what really counts. This is his job in relationship to Luke 17:10.

Luke 17:10 So you also, when you have done all that you were commanded, say, "We are unworthy servants; we have only done what was our duty."

You must say this, "We are unworthy slaves; we have only done what we are supposed to do." We have just done what is expected of us. Now, in the human realm, it might be different. We stay late in the office, we work harder, etc. But the spiritual work does not allow for any special praise during our time here on earth. We should not expect to get any praise during our time here. We are unworthy of praise, regardless of its success. It is simply an obligation; a requirement. We are just doing what we are supposed to do. What we accomplish is all about Him. It is God's grace that counts. When we see what we are supposed to do; it is just what we do; it is what is required. Service to God is a privilege. Who are we? We are nothing. We are serving the God of the Universe. We are slaves to God and we are unworthy of any praise, because we are only doing our job. Bobby's legacy is those that he leaves with doctrine in their soul, ready and willing to serve the Lord. It does not matter what the success rate is, as that is not up to him.

The Requirements of Our Service

1. Service to the Lord must always be done as He expects and as per His commands. His Word describes for us what He expects.
2. We are not independent of His will in the matter of our service. God has a plan for us. He has a plan for our service.
3. All that we may accomplish is to His glory, not our own. We are unworthy of glory before the Lord.
4. We must always do our service, our work as unto the Lord, to the best of our ability, filled with God the Holy Spirit. We must be motivated by doctrine in our souls.
5. The only respite that we get is death and heaven.
6. Paul says it in a beautiful way. 2Tim. 4:6–8 For I am already being poured out as a drink offering, and the time of my departure has come. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing. Paul had a very difficult life; every hardship that we could imagine; and he was privileged to serve the Lord. Here, at the end, he is still presenting the gospel and Bible doctrine. Paul has kept his eyes on the prize, the prize of the high calling of God. In the future, after his service is over, the crown of righteousness is waiting for him.
7. V. 8a is a description of the reward for which the believer strives; this is what we are looking for, by way of approbation. We look for that after death.
8. The accomplishment of service in this life is expected. God is not saying, “Wow, that is great.” Whatever God’s expectations are, ..
9. When the believer has completed his service, no matter how great and well his service, it is nothing more than his service on earth; it is what every believer is called to do. That is the attitude of humble service as we find in Luke 17:10.

We can be compared to soldiers, in front of us is another hill to take.

This continuous service does not mean that we do not have any time off. We are continually ready; we continually take in doctrine. We develop an attitude of humility and we learn to serve the Lord. When we are ready, we take the opportunities of service placed before us.

That is how the parable dips into the context of humility. We are now finished with the only parable of Luke 17; and now we return to the narrative.

Jesus is traveling this border, I think between Galilee and Samaria. There was danger everywhere that He went. Herod wanted to kill Him; the religious leaders were after Him as well. It is possible that He took this route, knowing that His time was growing short.

For certain, there was a purpose connected to His ministry along this route. He comes upon 10 lepers, whom He healed. Luke is the physician and he is a gentile; therefore, this would be an incident that interested him and so he recorded it. This is a special interest and the recovery of lepers just did not happen.

The miracle was designed to give witness to the priests and the leaders of Jesus' Messiahship. It was also an incident that presented the gospel as available to all, not just to Jews. The door is open for everyone, even the despised Samaritans.

Luke was a gentile; the Samaritans were half gentile; and Jesus welcomes the Samaritans to His kingdom. True then and true now. The gospel is available to all. No one is in a hopeless situation; we can always turn to Jesus Christ. There are the humanists in this world who think that they can wipe out all prejudice; but they do not understand the sin nature of man. The Lord Jesus Christ provides salvation to all without prejudice. All need to accept the Savior and then we become one body in Christ.

Luke 17:11 On the way to Jerusalem He was passing along between Samaria and Galilee.

He enters into a village, and 10 lepers met Him, but they keep their distance from Him.

Luke 17:12 And as He entered a village, He was met by ten lepers, who stood at a distance

They ask for mercy from the Lord. As lepers, they were doing what was right. They stood far away from everyone else. Being in the neighborhood made people nervous. From a distance, they yelled to the Lord.

Luke 17:13 and lifted up their voices, saying, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us."

They begged Him for mercy. They knew that He did not heal everyone, but that He could heal everyone. The imperative is one of an urgent request. They are urgently requesting for Him to have pity upon them and their condition.

These lepers were ravaged by this disease. They were the living dead. Bobby has been in a leper colony before. In Molochi in Hawaii. It was founded by a Jesuit priest; and he died of leprosy as well. They were banished to a very remote part of this island. It was hard to look at them. A drug today can arrest the disease. They were often disfigured.

The people that Bobby saw were probably in better shape than those who called out to Jesus. He was their only hope. No man or medicine could deliver these men from a death sentence.

They are recognized Jesus as the One Who could deliver them. He was their last and only hope. He knew that it was in His power to heal them. They knew of the leper in Galilee that Jesus healed. That healing depended upon the leper's faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

These 10 men begged for pity and Jesus healed them all.

Luke 17:14 When He saw them He said to them, "Go and show yourselves to the priests." And as they went they were cleansed.

It was an Old Testament mandate for a leper to present himself to the priest. The healing of this leper was very different from how Jesus healed lepers on other days. He healed other lepers on the spot. He gave them a command, and they were healed along the way. The priest was to inspect them and verify that they are clean. They were healed before they arrived for inspection.

Why Jesus Heals These Lepers

This is a picture of the deliverance of man, who is unclean, in sin and without hope.

1. It was not the obedience that was the basis for their healing. People misunderstand salvation. They think we must be obedient to be saved.
2. What saved them was the expression of faith in Jesus Christ. Jesus healed them because of their faith.
3. They went to the priests because of their confidence in Jesus Christ. They were confident that they would be healed. That is the point.
4. The faith was, they believed that He could heal. They believed in Whom He was.
5. They accepted His person as omnipotent God and the Messiah before He healed them.
6. Theirs was an expression of faith for healing.
7. They believed that Jesus was their deliverer or their Savior. The Lord showed that was exactly Who He was. They had not yet seen their healing, but they believed that the Lord could do it.
8. All 10 of these men went to the priests as an expression of faith in what they knew that Jesus could and would accomplish. When they got to the priests, they might have said, "We were lepers, Jesus told us to come to you, and now we are healed."
9. This healing was a picture of Old Testament type salvation. It looked forward to the sacrificial work of the Lamb of God. That is always the way of salvation. The only difference is what is revealed about the work of Jesus Christ.
10. They had expressed faith in Him based upon the revelation of the gospel that they understood and accepted. Did they know that Jesus was going to go to the cross? Unlikely. They just knew that this is the God-man sent from God and He is their salvation. It is the same faith that we express.
11. The act of faith alone in Christ alone, which is what these men expressed, was a gateway to the blessing of healing. The blessing is upon faith in the Person of Jesus Christ. They were delivered not just from leprosy but from sin that condemned them. That is what the Lord wanted to show. He did not just wave His hand and heal everyone because that was not His purpose. Jesus was not just a healer; healing was done to reveal.

Every time that the people saw the lamb being slaughtered, and they understood that there was a transfer of their sins to that lamb who was slaughtered. They only knew basic information. What is known about salvation was limited in the Old Testament. We have more knowledge about this today; but they had enough revelation in the Old Testament to make their faith in Him efficacious for salvation.

There was a method in what Jesus did.

Salvation Through Jesus Christ, the Great Physician

1. 9 lepers went to the priests.
2. Just as they had been delivered from leprosy, cleansed of this disease, they were also delivered from the pollution of sin by their faith in Christ. This was a visual of what happens on the inside.
3. They were justified, just as Abraham had been justified by his faith.
4. They demonstrated to the priests the truth of who Christ was.

One of the leper returns, and there is a tremendous lesson for us.

Lesson #0850

Luke 17:11–16 Life of Christ

5/29/2016 1Sunday

Nations pursue other lands want more land; or those of one faith look to subjugate those who worship another God. There is greed, hubris and lust as well. History unfortunately proves that many members of the human race are attracted to and thrive upon the calamity of war. Addicted to battle; such individuals go to war, many others find their motivations in nobler realms. Some may not be able to articulate. There is patriotism, a desire to perfect one's family, faith, way of life, to check an evil, or a sense of duty to a greater good; to uphold one's honor, to preserve a sacred oath. History teaches us that both sets of motivations will remain a part of our human nature, both the profane and the divine.

What we celebrate on Memorial Day is truly sacred; those who gave their lives for a sublime cause, which may remind us of the Lord who sacrificed Himself for us.

Medal of Honor Recipient Calvin Titus: Who can call such a one anything but noble. Calvin P. Titus, medal of honor, from 116 years ago. He was a musician by trade. Only one from West Point received this medal of honor while enrolled at the school. He was a self-taught musician for the violin and the coronet. He was a believer in Jesus Christ. The sinking of the battleship U.S.S. Maine, he joined the 1st Vermont volunteers and he was discharged due to illness (malaria). He reenlists. He ships out to Manila as a musician and a pastor's assistant. Then shipped to China at the height of the Boxer Rebellion. 1900 took heavy fire from Chinese Imperial troops from the 30' wall. Titus stepped forward to clear the wall of the enemy. He climbed the wall via the bricks of the wall. He was the first to scale the wall. The next year, he entered the military academy on a presidential thing. TR pinned the medal of honor on him, saying, "Don't let this give you a big head."

A young cadet approach him and said, "Mister, that's something." That was Douglas MacArthur. He also pursue Pancho Villa, fought in WWI, and died eventually in 1966. Laid to rest in the Hollywood Hills.

He is laid to rest among movie stars, who are often remembered for their roles portraying heroes; but Titus was a true hero.

There is a punch bowl made of silver taken from China when Titus scaled the wall; and it is taken out each year for that company (brigade?).

Luke 17:11 On the way to Jerusalem He was passing along between Samaria and Galilee.

Jesus is on the border of Galilee and Samaria, and Jesus is north of Judæa here. 10 lepers come to Jesus and beg Him to be healed. This would give witness to the priests and religious leaders of that vicinity. The Kingdom of God is presented at that time, as available to all, not just to Jews.

Luke 17:12–13 And as He entered a village, He was met by ten lepers, who stood at a distance and lifted up their voices, saying, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us."

The kingdom was never promised only to Jews. Israel presented God to the rest of the world. Those who did believe were grafted into Israel. As time went on, the Jews hated the outsiders and they particularly hated the Samaritans, who were half-Jew/half-gentile. The Kingdom of God would include some Samaritans. This is a great revelation.

Jesus did not heal these lepers immediately. They were healed upon their walking to the priests. They went to the priests out of confidence in Jesus' ability to heal them. They were cured along this walk. They exercised faith in what had not happened. Faith came first.

Luke 17:14 When He saw them He said to them, "Go and show yourselves to the priests." And as they went they were cleansed.

The 10 all believed that Jesus was their deliverer. Healing the lepers here was a visual of what happens to every believer at the moment of salvation.

Acts 15:9 God cleanses.

God healed all ten. Of the ten who are healed, only one returned to Jesus to thank Him. This return presents another picture of what Jesus wanted to show Israel.

Luke 17:15 Then one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, praising God with a loud voice;

Apparently, one of them turned back, even before going to the priests.

Luke 17:16 and he fell on his face at Jesus' feet, giving Him thanks. Now he was a Samaritan.

He fell on his face before Jesus, giving Him thanks. He could closely approach the Lord Jesus Christ, fall on his face and worship, knowing that God in the flesh had performed this miracle on him. All the praise and credit for this work went to the Lord Jesus Christ. No priest needed to verify that He had been healed. This is also a picture of how an unbeliever in Jesus Christ, who is far off from God, totally and utterly separated, can draw near to the Lord in faith. Those who are in union with Christ share everything that He is and all that He has. The blood of Christ is the substitutionary death of Christ for us.

This Samaritan was overwhelmed with gratitude. The other 9 do not appear to be so affected. With leprosy, there is no feeling in the nerves of the ends of the fingers and toes. They cannot feel the pain. This was all corrected. At this point, these men are overjoyed. All of the disfigurement is gone. They were overjoyed but, they became occupied with themselves and their new circumstances.

The other 9 lost sight of their Savior, their Deliverer. They had enough faith to be saved; but that is as far as it went. They just returned to catching up with their lives. This is the smallest amount of faith necessary for salvation. They showed the faith of the mustard seed and are delivered. They had no time to show gratitude; to grow, to mature. This is typical of so many people who have expressed faith in Jesus Christ. Responding with positive volition toward the Lord Jesus Christ, and glorifying God in their thinking and actions.

There are those who are saved, but then do not have time to grow in grace; to exploit the Christian life they are blessed with. But this Samaritan showed gratitude. He was on his way. He showed humility, grace orientation, and he was willing to present himself available for service to the Lord. This man gave thanks to the Lord, expressing gratitude for what he had received in his new life. When he fell on his face, he showed himself ready to grow.

This Samaritan wanted what the disciples wanted; to be near, to learn from the Lord Jesus Christ. That is the proper attitude. The result of the proper attitude for deliverance. We lose sight of this as our lives progress. This is an attitude that never forgets where our strength and salvation and spiritual advance comes from. This is what we are here for.

Lesson #0851

Luke 17:15–21 Life of Christ

5/29/2016 2Sunday

There are many other heroes in our country. The feats done by some are amazing. These who win the highest award, really represent so many who have served honorably.

Medal of Honor Recipient Inar Ingraham, Jr., 1951 in Korea. The two leading squads of the assault platoon while attacking a strongly held position. He located an enemy machine gun position and charged it alone, and threw a grenade into it, and then killed the remainder with rifle fire. Another group taken out. He went after the second position, and his by grenade fragments, and he used his rifle to kill the entire gun crew. The defense of the enemy was broken, and more than 100 troops fled in retreat.

A week later, he woke up in a Tokyo hospital, and he was blind in one ear and deaf in one year. His memory was gone of the incident. His memory would come and go. He worked 3 decades as a security guard and later as a mail clerk. His wife recalled in the Milwaukee Sentinel Journal, said he wore the medal for all those who did not return home. He repelled 100 troops and died at age 85.

We should look back on these sacrifices with great honor and appreciation. We should in the midst of bbq's and whatever else we do. We should take the time to remember our fallen heroes; a special day of salute and obligation. The fight for freedom goes on. It is not over. We must, as a nation, dedicate ourselves to preserving the freedom which was bought by previous generations at such a high cost. We need to look back to see where we have been, and we must be willing to secure the blessings of liberty for new generations.

Unlike we hear, that our freedom comes from government, but there is really one source of freedom, those who have won it on battlefields all over the world. Their tombstones are all over the world.

We have marvelous freedom, where we can enjoy the freedom to worship the Lord, and to learn His Word, something which is not found in all countries.

10 men were healed of leprosy, and they were sent back to the priests to tell them what happened. They were healed on the way to the priests. Off they went, their lives changed forever, healed of a dreaded disease, a disease that no one comes back from. Living dead essentially was their lives.

They are saved, but they appeared to care very little about the One Who had cured them.

One of them turns back, and praises God, falling on his feet before the Lord. He was a Samaritan, which many Jews would just as soon kill.

In the Muslim world, there are the Sunis and the Shea muslims, and they are at each other's throats constantly.

These other former lepers showed no gratitude. But this Samaritan recognized how he had been healed. How much gratitude is in our own souls? Tomorrow is a day of gratitude. The Samaritan is attuned to God's grace. He recognized the source of God's blessing.

In Berachah, we have eternal life; and how often do we think about this, with gratitude in our souls? Simply with an act of faith. No one was healed by the Lord Jesus Christ unless they expressed faith; that was the prerequisite; that was the picture. Do we have gratitude every day?

Ironically, the Jew of Jews, Paul, had to go to the gentiles. They were indebted to Jesus, all 10 of them, but only one showed true gratitude. Showing gratitude was easy and this would allow them all a long life after. They would not have sacrificed anything to show their gratitude to the Lord.

We are here to fulfill the plan of God. We can live our lives and enjoy it greatly. Our worship of the Lord is pursuing His Word. He is not here so that we can fall before Him. The Samaritan is a very loud witness. The other 9 did not get this. Are we a 9 or a 1? We need to be a 1.

The Samaritan represents something else as well. The one being the outcast returns with gratitude and he shows great respect and response to the Lord. Consistently serving God.

Luke 17:15–16 Then one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, praising God with a loud voice; and he fell on his face at Jesus' feet, giving Him thanks. Now he was a Samaritan.

The Lord responds to the gratitude of this Samaritan.

Luke 17:17 Then Jesus answered, "Were not ten cleansed? Where are the nine?"

Luke 17:18 Was no one found to return and give praise to God except this foreigner?"

Where are the others? Do they have no gratitude at all? Gratitude is critical to the Christian life. Believing Israel would be a part of the kingdom. David would have an heir sitting on the throne of Israel. This would be an heir forever. So would the outcast like the Samaritan. Paul called these Greeks, gentiles, who would be a part of the kingdom. This picture could not and should not be missed by the disciples.

The disciples were there; they saw the Lord, and they would continue to spread the message, throughout the earth, and they did. Much of it fell on deaf ears. That is the sad part. They had the opportunity. Everyone has the opportunity.

Plenty of people in this world. Here, a Samaritan has the opportunity.

The subject changes to the coming kingdom. The Samaritan is now a part of the coming kingdom. So the Lord describes the kingdom from here to the end of the chapter. This takes place in a village close to where these 10 lepers were healed.

Luke 17:19 And He said to him, "Rise and go your way; your faith has made you well."

Jesus had commended the Samaritan's faith and his part in the Kingdom. This was difficult for the religious types to digest.

Jesus on several occasions offered the kingdom, and He claimed to be the King. They understood what Jesus claimed.

Luke 17:20a Being asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God would come...

So, the pharisees ask, contemptuously, "If You are the King, where is the Kingdom?" Since John the Baptizer began to proclaim the Lord's coming, the religious leaders decided to ask, "Where is this kingdom?" having a particular and incorrect view of what that kingdom would be. The Jews wanted to kill Him in Judæa and Herod wanted to kill Him elsewhere.

Jesus answers with something that confuses many. Christian theology diverges based upon this one passage. We must rightly understand dispensational theology.

Luke 17:20b–21 ...He answered them, "The kingdom of God is not coming with signs to be observed, nor will they say, 'Look, here it is!' or 'There!' for behold, the kingdom of God is in the midst of you."

Within you versus in your Midst. That is what is questioned here in this passage. "Look here, right Here, I am standing in front of you, Jesus the Christ."

Jesus does not fit their version of a king; so the religious types do not get it. Jesus tells them that there is a Kingdom of God at this very time. Within them or in their midst.

What is the Kingdom of God within you or in your midst. Dispensational versus covenant theology. We face this divergence. It is a consistent concern. Will there ever be a nation Israel again as God promised to David? Will Jesus be sitting on that throne? Or is that all over because Israel rejected the Lord. Are we spiritual Israel. No.

Lesson #0852

Luke 17:20 Life of Christ

6/1/2016 Wednesday

No Bible class next Wednesday and Thursday.

Bob had a saying in the 1970's, "He who cancels and stays away, lives to study another day."

There are very important applications to be made. It is necessary for Bobby to introduce some heavyweight theology into the mix. Understanding the subject of vv. 20–37 is imperative. This particular theological question has been the source of a number of divisions within Berachah and many others. Bobby does not want us to be uninformed; or hoodwinked or confused. This has happened even among those who were formerly in the camp of Berachah Church.

We are dispensationalists. It has been taught in Berachah from the very beginning. There is a tremendous challenge to this approach today. Some pastors have changed their teaching regarding this. This theology is in direct opposition to what they metabolized in the past. Bobby does not want to see this happen to any of us. Bobby has been surprised by many pastors who have gone over; and some made the shift in a very short period of time, from dispensational teaching to covenant theology. There are critical fundamental differences between these approaches.

This subject has been argued for years. Some seminaries are one way; and others are another. Bobby is going to sort this out over the next few classes. It is so easy to be fooled and attracted to this other theology. It affects hermeneutics, which is the science of interpreting Scripture. These two theologies affect how we interpret various passages.

This also affects the relationships between the testaments and between Israel and the church. What is the relationship between the Old Testament and the New? What is the continuity and the discontinuity?

It is called Judeo-Christianity; so obviously, there is a connection between the testaments.

This affects eschatology, which is the theology of future things. Rapture, 2nd advent, Tribulation, Millennium. All of these are dependent upon covenant theology versus dispensationalism.

Many have said the Bobby is different from his father. Bob developed a great many illustrations; and Bobby gives a lot of application. We are here to grow up in the spiritual life. What does the doctrine mean for me? We are all a bit self-centered in that way.

Humanism will creep into your thinking; divine viewpoint will become more and more sparse in your own thinking. We are here on earth to fulfill the plan of God. "Wait a minute, I have a life; what do I do, think about the plan of God constantly?" It is okay to do whatever you want to do in life; but the overarching principle of the Christian life is Bible doctrine. What you have all planned out for yourself may not be what God has planned for you. If your life gets re-directed, your life is not over; you are just being guided by God to a better life.

Application is important. But this is not going to be application; it is going to be theology. This is foundational to how we learn and grow in the Christian life. Might be a lot of things where we question, "What good is this to me?"

Bobby must rightly interpret divine revelation. This is what the Bible reflects.

Some pastors from Berachah have made a 180 degree shift and they made this change so easily, that it stuns Bobby.

What starts us off is what kicks off this topic.

Luke 17:20a Being asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God would come...

If Jesus is the King and He is right here, then where is the kingdom?

Luke 17:20b–21 ...He answered them, "The kingdom of God is not coming with signs to be observed, nor will they say, 'Look, here it is!' or 'There!' for behold, the kingdom of God is in the midst of you."

But He says, instead, "Sorry, and people are going to claim the Kingdom of God is here or there."

Jesus is saying, "So, you want a kingdom; well, guess what, it is already here. It is standing right in front of you. Look right here into My eyes. I am the kingdom. These guys, along with a good portion of the nation are missing out on a lot because they are looking for all of these signs, but they are not looking for humility.

Jesus legitimately offered the kingdom, but He knows that they do not believe in Him, so He has to explain all this. There is a Kingdom of God at this very time. It is either in them or among them.

We are going to look at some bad interpretations of this passage.

One False Approach to the Kingdom of God

1. Some have taken this passage to mean that the Kingdom of God will never take on the form of an observable kingdom.
2. There will not be a king, according to these people, who will sit on the literal throne of David.
3. Even though God's promise to David was of a real tangible kingdom, they still deny it.
4. God promised David that his descendants would sit upon the throne. God promised Abraham that he would be the father of a great nation. The Davidic covenant adds to this,... Since Israel rejected Jesus Christ, does this mean that there is no promised kingdom to David? Have they forfeited that right to a physical, actual kingdom; and this gets transferred over to someone else.

So, is this kingdom a spiritual kingdom? Is it not so much a nation on earth ruled over by God, but something akin to that; a spiritualization of that. Amillennialism, which means not a Millennium. This is the view of covenant theology.

What Is this View Which Covenant Theology Has?

1. This theology begins with the premise that the church and Israel, two separate entities. From Adam to Abraham, we have the age of the Gentiles.
2. There is an actual physical kingdom with Moses in the Land of Promise. This continues to the day of Pentecost when the church comes into existence. Now, the church continues today.
3. The Age of Israel picks up again, during the Tribulation, at the end of the Church Age. 7 years, followed by the 2nd advent of Christ.

The False View of Covenant Theology

1. The view that the church and Israel have always been one thing, the people of God. Israel has always been a spiritual entity; not a national one. The question becomes, spiritual Israel. There is a continuity between believers in the Old Testament and the New; and it is all one entity.
- 2.
3. Therefore, members of the church are new Israel. We are just a follow on to Israel.
4. This is an unending continuity between Israel and the church.
5. All Israel was not Israel. There were Jews and there were believing Jews; God's charge was to the nation.

6. According to covenant theology, Old Testament Israel is superceded in History by this new entity called the church.
7. All the Old Testament prophecies concerning the nation of Israel must not be applied literally to a nation called Israel. See how weird this is? These promises are directed toward a spiritual Israel. Therefore, the promises to Israel are now the promises to the church. So Israel no longer has a future in the plan of God.
8. Instead, they are understood as applying to the spiritual people of God. This is the church both now and in the future. Everything promised to Abraham and to David now goes to the church. Not everyone under Moses was a believer; not everyone in David's kingdom was a believer. The church is the spiritual follow-on to Israel. The church only ends at the 2nd advent of Christ. The rapture is the same as the 2nd advent. There is no longer a physical kingdom that is promised to David. Today, Israel is in the great diaspora. This approach gives rise to antisemitism within the church, which is a very bad idea.
9. The church becomes the New Testament entity
10. Israel will never again be a client nation to God. They were a chosen people, but that mantle passes forever to the church.

At the seminary, one of them where Bobby went, he was the only dispensationalist.

All believers from Adam to the final believer in the Church Age are considered the same.

The Basic Teachings of Covenant Theology

1. Jesus Christ, your Greater Son, David, will sit upon your physical throne. This promise of the physical kingdom here is not to be taken literally. It is truly.
2. The promised physical kingdom has become a spiritual kingdom.
3. After the ascension of Jesus Christ, because Israel failed, rejected their own messiah, the church becomes what many in the covenant theology call spiritual Israel.
- 4.
5. The conclusion: the kingdom of Israel lives in us. The kingdom of God within you.
6. Israel represents not a national people of God, but a spiritual people.
7. The promise made to David will not ever be literally fulfilled because Israel rejected their Messiah.

There is nothing in the Bible to suggest that the church replaces Israel. The church is all believers everywhere, regardless of nation. It must be admitted that there are certain things commonly shared by the church and Israel. The separation is total and complete. Because there is commonality, it is easy to say, one is the same as the other.

Luke 17: Life of Christ

6/2/2016 Thursday

Rained out.

There are various historical periods; medieval history, renaissance, etc. In the study of history, people like to study the causes of effects; and one part of history is always obvious in its study. There is a divine perspective on history, and this is the only true perspective of history. This is God's perspective of history.

We are studying dispensations. We are in Luke 17, from 3 words, the Kingdom of God. That is the subject. We understand a kingdom to represent an era in history; and there are people who are being ruled at various times. We need to understand what happens when. When will this kingdom occur, who will reside there, and what form will it take? There are easy answers to these questions, but not by historians. We are a part of the kingdom.

What is our part in this kingdom and how are we ruled by God? This is a kingdom by God. Understanding these answers tells us who we are and our relationship to God.

The Kingdom of God represents God's sovereign rule. We know that one of His attributes is sovereignty. The kingdom of God has a territory and a people. In its broadest sense, this is God's eternal rule over His creation. The Lord has established His throne in the heavens and His sovereignty rules over all. The narrower sense; a rule over a particular people. There is a future physical Kingdom of God; a kingdom where God Himself sits on the throne, and this is the Messianic Kingdom aka the Millennium. There is a time framework, but we do not know when it will occur. There is a territory and a particular nation and a particular people.

The future kingdom is founded upon God's promises to Abraham and to David. He promised Abraham that Israel would become a great nation. Will there really be a literal, physical kingdom in the future? Kings are not very popular today. Given the great problems in the world, will we actually have a kingdom as in the past or is the true kingdom the church on this earth? Are we really a spiritual kingdom?

The Bible stands for millennia. We must be able to place various passages in their place. We need to know the divine outline of history.

Luke 17:20b–21 ...He answered them, "The kingdom of God is not coming with signs to be observed, nor will they say, 'Look, here it is!' or 'There!' for behold, the kingdom of God is in the midst of you."

Right from the beginning, the Lord was understood to be the King; but this will not occur in the 1st advent.

Either one of two things will happen regarding this kingdom: it is over, abrogated, whatever; or it is postponed.

Jesus is answering this question:

Luke 17:20a Being asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God would come...

Jesus did not gather an army to destroy the Romans, in order to take the throne. The Jews did not accept Jesus as their Messiah. Jesus would not perform more signs to try to convince them. They will look for a kingdom.

Jesus says, "Behold, the Kingdom of God is in your midst." Other places render this, the Kingdom of God is within you. So what kind of kingdom is the Lord referring to? Dispensational theology has been the only theology taught from the pulpit of Berachah Church at least since 1950. The kingdom of David is still valid for a future time.

Covenant theology disputes that David's kingdom is still valid. The Jews rejected it. Is a literal kingdom ruled by Christ still possible? What kind of kingdom is it?

The answer of covenant theology is, this is a spiritual kingdom. We are seen as spiritual Israel; and all of God's promises to the saints are inherited by us.

Wednesday night, we covered the basic concept of covenant theology.

Summary of Covenant Theology

1. According to covenant theology there is just people of God.
2. In the Church Age, these are believers, and they are the same as believers in Israel.
3. Israel is just an early form. Not all Israel is Israel.
4. Only believing Jews inside the nation are true citizens of Israel. God promised Abraham a nation; a group of people. That is a literal understanding. Taking that as a spiritual nation, we must understand this to be a figuratively.
5. Covenant theology interprets figuratively. Dispensational teaching interprets things literally for the most part.
6. So covenant theology promotes an unending continuity between Israel and the church.
7. The only difference between now and then is, that believing Jews of national Israel are enlarged to become a non-racial, multi-national
8. All prophecies involving Israel in the Old Testament must not be interpreted literally in covenant theology. This brings about antisemitism. If Jews are no longer a part of God's kingdom, then we do not treat them any differently. We understand them not to be true Israel.
9. Israel is un... There is no direct Biblical support for the church supplanting Israel. We are not spiritual Israel. We are not today fulfilling the promises of God given to David and to Abraham.
10. It needs to be admitted in all fairness, that there are areas of continuity between the church and Israel.

6 Areas of Continuity

1. There are areas of commonality.

2. This is a continuing timeline from Israel to the church. Church continues. When will the Church Age end? No one knows. At some point the church will be over, then there will be the Tribulation, then the Millennium.
3. Both entities are intimately connected as people of God; as believers. Some people belong to both dispensations. God rules His people.
4. However, salvation is the same in all eras of human history. The Old Testament looks forward to the cross; we look back on the cross.
5. Both entities share in the larger kingdom program of God as Bobby has defined it.
6. Both Israel and the church are designed to glorify God. That is why we are here. That is why Israel existed.

Lesson #0854

Luke 17: Life of Christ

6/5/2016 2Sunday

Kingdom refers to a people and a territory ruled by a king. When we speak of the Kingdom of God, this is an all-encompassing history. Covenant theology blurs the lines between Israel and the church. There is a continuity between the two entities, and both of them will meet in the Kingdom of God in the Millennium. But they are not one entity becoming the other. The church is not spiritual Israel.

What Does Dispensationalism Tell Us about All This?

1. There is a clear discontinuity, a separate progression, a march in salvation history. That is an all-encompassing term, which began with Adam and the fall, where there first declaration of salvation was made to Adam and the woman. This is the entire spectrum of what God does.
2. It is evident that the terms church and kingdom cannot be equated.
3. Nor can Israel and the church be completely separated from one another. There are many links between them.
4. Israel and the church must be distinguished in God's progressive purpose in history. Dispensational theology is what we are studying.

Definition of a Dispensation

1. A dispensation is a period in human history. It is defined in terms of divine revelation and people.
 - a. There was Adam to Abraham; which we called the Dispensation of the Gentiles.
 - b. Then the Age of Israel, where Abraham is the first Jew. Nation Israel was a result.
 - c. Then there is the hypostatic union, about the Jews.
 - d. Now the Church Age. Not a national entity.
2. A dispensation is a sequence of divine historical administrations for each of those peoples.
 - a. Began as a theocracy, ruled directly by God.

- b. Then Israel demanded a king, and they got Saul, who was a disaster. Then David, to whom God made a great set of promises.
3. These consecutive eras of history reflect the unfolding of mankind.
 4. Dispensations demand a divine viewpoint and a theological understanding.
 5. The doctrine of dispensations is the vehicle by which believers, living at a particular time, can orient to the specifics of God's will and His plan and His purpose for our life. Old Testament believers could orient to their life under the Law. But we have none of that today in this dispensation. We are empowered in this age differently than they were empowered in the Old Testament. A few Old Testament heroes were endued with the power of the Holy Spirit, but not all of them. In the Church Age, all believers are given the Holy Spirit.
 6. Different periods of human history involve different mechanics and procedures. The church is unique in this realm. There is no other age in divine history like ours. We are unique in everything. That is the divine viewpoint. We need to recognize what we have by divine perspective. Bobby saw the history of the world part I, but it was a comedy; and it was not at all like real history.
 7. There are similarities and there are differences.
 8. The main different inherent to dispensationalism manifest themselves in 3 ways:
 - a. How do we handle the interpretation of the Word of God; hermeneutics. This requires the original languages and knowing the original languages. All of that is necessary in order to rightly divide the Word of Truth.
 - b. The dispensations distinguish between Israel and the church.
 - c. The differences in eschatology, the doctrine of future things. At some point, Jesus Christ is to return. Dispensationalists call this the rapture of the church where we go to heaven with the Lord in resurrection body. After that, the Lord will return, and this is the 2nd advent. In covenant theology, there is only one return. That is a tremendous difference in how we are to understand the future.

We will spend more time distinguishing the church and Israel. What is the difference between the New and Old Testaments?

What Is the Connection Between the New and Old Testaments?

1. Relationship between Old and New Testaments. Dispensational emphasizes a discontinuity between Israel and the church, without discounting some continuity.
2. In dispensationalism, Israel and the church are distinct administrations in the progression of God's plan for human history. They are connected on the timelines. God has a different administration, king versus doctrine. A national circumstance; and today, we are not administrated by a king.
3. Since there is a progression of God's plan from one era to another, a certain amount of continuity exists; it has to. It is all part of God's plan.

4. That continuity cannot be overemphasized as a complete spiritual blending of Israel and the church. Israel is not just a spiritual entity. There is a spiritual aspect, but Israel is not all a spiritual aspect.
5. Nor is the church the new spiritual Kingdom of God. Israel still has a future. It does not have a future as spiritual Israel but as national Israel. The nation in the middle east is not the same nation. There are Jews there, but they are not believing Jews. The New Israel will begin with believing Jews.
6. The church is something new and unique in God's timetable of history.
7. National Israel does not disappear from history to become the church or to become the new Israel.
8. The means of salvation stays the same in all dispensations. We may not have all the information; but they had enough to exercise faith in the Revealed God. They did not know His name then as Jesus; but they knew Who He was; and they only needed to believe in Him, insofar as He revealed Himself. Regeneration is necessary in all dispensations. Those who rejected Jesus during the 1st century will not be a part of the Kingdom of God.
9. Both the church and the children of Israel will inhabit the Millennial kingdom. We will rule with Christ; Israel will be ruled by Christ.

Day of Pentecost began at the Church Age; and this continues until the church is removed from the earth. The first time to begin a dispensation with all unbelievers only.

The Jewish kingdom is being formed during the Tribulation. The book Armageddon describes what will happen during that period. That is when all unbelievers are removed from the earth; and then the Lord institutes the Millennium. The surviving Jews will all go into the Millennium. That is the kingdom; that is the physical kingdom. The 7 years of the Tribulation continue the final week of Age of Israel.

Some of us have known this in prep school; and for some, this is brand new.

The Hypostatic Union was a continuation of Israel; but there is an overlap to the Church Age as well. Jesus tells everyone what the Old Testament was all about, and He presents Himself as the fulfillment of the Old Testament; and then He presented the doctrines of the Church Age, which occurs mostly in the book of John. The term kingdom is essentially a national term and not a spiritual one (Rom. 9:6).

Throughout the history of Israel, many Jews rejected the Lord Jesus Christ. There will be a resurrection of Jews from the Old Testament; and some will go to hell and some to the Kingdom of Israel. That will take place at the end of the Millennium. Old Testament prophecies do not belong to the church today; they belong to nation Israel and to the Age of Israel.

Luke 17:20b–21 Life of Christ

6/12/2016 1Sunday

Communion Sunday June 12, 2016

The only ritual that Church Age believers are commanded to celebrate. The elements that we are about to partake are a memorial to the Person of Jesus Christ.

Through the baptism of the Spirit, we have been placed into Christ. This is called the anointing; His anointing teaches us all things, and we abide in Him. The Holy Spirit as our teacher and as our mentor. In this anointing, we have operation Z and how that is portrayed.

2Cor. 1:21 the One Who has established us in Christ and has anointed us in God the Holy Spirit. Some men were anointed to be prophets, others priests and still others kings. Generally speaking, there was just one man in each office; and rarely was a person an occupant of 2 offices. Jesus is anointed in all 3 offices.

Luke 24:19 the prophet Jesus. Heb. 9: Jesus is the High Priest, anointed... Rev. 1:5 Ruler of the kings of the earth (the King of Kings). Every Church Age believer anointed by God, in union with Christ, who positionally shares in everything that Christ is, also holds the office of prophet, priest and king; and we hold these offices as well. The anointing of God the Holy Spirit has given us this exalted position. This amazing condition that we all share.

1John 4:17 As He is, so also are we in this world. This defines who we are in Christ. Like Jesus, we are prophets, priests and kings.

So, how is our Lord a prophet, priest and king?

A prophet speaks for God to men. 14 centuries before the birth of Christ, God spoke to Moses, saying, "I will raise up a prophet like you and I will place words into His mouth." Peter said, in Acts 3:22, that this applied to the Lord Jesus Christ. As a prophet, the God-man was a proclaimer and a predictor. For He Whom God has said speaks the words of God; a proclaimer of God's Word. In that sense, Jesus did not speak of originality. He spoke compatible with the will of God. And His Words still ring down through the corridors of time to us. He revealed to us eternal life.

As a predictor, "Take heed, behold I have told you everything in advance." Jesus knew what was happening, and He knew what was in the future. He knew the future, near and far. The things of heaven and hell are all unfolded by Him. As believers, we are anointed as prophets. We cannot predict the future, although we can read historical trends; and we can proclaim His message. Spreading the gospel is the great purpose of our anointing as prophets. We live the truth of the gospel, fulfilling the office of prophet in this life. Just as the Lord Jesus Christ was faithful in proclaiming what was given to Him, so we must be faithful in the proclamation of what He has given to us.

Jesus commissioned every believer to go forth with the gospel message. We have been entrusted with His saving gospel. The sheer magnitude of its content should be our motivation.

Jesus as a priest:

“Consider Jesus as the Apostle and high Priest of our confession.” He is the only High Priest who has offered Himself as a sacrifice. His once and for all offering, unlike the Age of Israel, the Church Age is almost void of ritual. His death stopped all of those sacrifices, as He was the sacrifice. Having fulfilled His work as a prophet and Savior on earth; and now, He advocates for us. Heb. 9:24 For Christ did not enter the Holy of Holies made by hand, which is [only] a counterpart of the true one, but into heaven itself, where He now appears in God’s presence for us.

Possibly the most fantastic fact of His priesthood is His immutability. The priests in the past varied in quality. Because He abides forever, holds His priesthood forever; and He is able to save forever. He always lives to make intercession for them.

We continue to sin and we continue to have adversity. Jesus tasted even death without sinning. He can relate to our sinning. We are always in trouble; we are always asking God in prayer, asking Him for relief. He is always there to represent us. He also beseeches the Father that we might be protected.

As He is, so are we in this world. We are anointed as priests. You are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a people for God’s Own possession. 1Tim. 2:1–3 First of all, then, I urge you to offer [special] requests, prayers, intercessions [Note: “Intercessions” probably refers to praying on behalf of others], and thanksgivings for all people. [Offer them] for kings and for all people in prominent [governmental] positions, so that we can live a peaceful and quiet life in all reverence [toward God] and respectability [toward people]. This is good and acceptable [behavior] in the sight of God our Savior,... Some in our nation authority have been arrogant because we have not functioned as intercessors as we ought to have done. We are to leave a quiet life with all dignity

Jesus is a King.

By resurrection, He is the firstborn from the dead, the sovereign ruler of the church. He has dominion over His body, the body of Christ. He became the recipient of all things, including us as believers in Him. He has provided for our existence in life and in the future kingdom. He will return to us as King of Kings and Lord of Lords. God will fulfill His promise as reiterated to Mary. "He will be called the Most High and He will reign over the house of Jacob." Rom. 8:17 And if we are [His] children, then we have an inheritance from God [i.e., blessings here and hereafter] and are fellow-sharers with Christ [of such blessings], providing we [are willing to] suffer with Him, so we can also be honored with Him [i.e., in the future life. See verses 18-25].

We are moving toward the final hour of triumph, ruling with Him as kings. It has not appeared as of yet what we shall be; but we will be like Him, as we will see Him as He is.

We will judge the world with Him, which at one time judged us. These are a few of the benefits that we have in Christ.

We became immersed in the differences between covenant theology and dispensations. The difference between Israel and the church. This is not just abstract theology. This comparison allows us to correctly interpret one phrase in Luke 17. Sometimes, Bobby has to stop and give background information in order to understand this or that phrase. How are we a part of the kingdom?

Luke 17:20b–21 ...He answered them, "The kingdom of God is not coming with signs to be observed, nor will they say, 'Look, here it is!' or 'There!' for behold, the kingdom of God is in the midst of you."

They will not find a visible kingdom by looking for those signs that they have always been looking for. It is a future that is not forgotten.

Behold, the Kingdom of God is within your midst (or, within you).

Is the church now the heir to a physical kingdom? Or is that physical kingdom no longer and we are now a spiritual kingdom. Are we all just a spiritual people. How do we fit together, or do we? Has this kingdom become a spiritual kingdom? Israel failed to accept the Messiah; so does the church become what many in covenant theology call spiritual Israel? Are we now spiritual Israel? Or, are Israel and the church separate entities. Now, we have many things in common with Israel.

Remember what a dispensation is.

Lesson #0856

Luke 17: Life of Christ

6/12/2016 2Sunday

The very foundation for what we study in Berachah is dispensations. This is a way to interpret and understand the Scriptures. This helps us to understand the administration of God in this period of time. This dispensational theology comes into play in these 1.5 verses.

Luke 17:20b–21 ...He answered them, "The kingdom of God is not coming with signs to be observed, nor will they say, 'Look, here it is!' or 'There!' for behold, the kingdom of God is in the midst of you."

Is it in your midst or is it within you? The church and Israel are separate entities when it comes to divine progress and God's plan. The church and Israel must be kept separate, even though they have many things in common. A sequence of divine administrations for those peoples. These are consecutive eras of history. You cannot understand the history of Scripture in the context in which it was written. What does it mean to us? Should we still live under the Mosaic Law? The dispensational answer is, no. There are Christians today who think the Christian way of life is the Mosaic Law. It did have a specific use in the history of nation Israel.

These two dispensations uniquely move forward the plan of God. They constitute the history of our country. God has a plan in the whole sweep of history. How does the plan unfold? What is the sweep of history?

Bobby is going to make us write this am.

The Dispensational Viewpoint of the Church and Israel

1. National Israel is not negated in dispensationalism. It is not negated, but it has been postponed. There is a new phase in God's plan in history, and we are that new phase.
2. Old Testament Israel went on until the appearance of the Lord appeared. Sometimes we call this 30 years or so as a separate dispensation. After he ascended, and 40 days later, came another age, the day of Pentecost. We know that our age will end, but we do not know when.
3. Then we have the 7 year Tribulation. After the 7 years, we have the Millennial kingdom.
4. The postponement of the kingdom of Israel is the Church Age, sometimes called an intercalation. They debated this term for an hour in seminary. It is an insertion of a period of time into God's prophetic calendar. Israel just saw themselves as the nation and that this would be fulfilled by the Kingdom of God.
5. So the church is an intervening dispensation between the past Age of Israel and the Tribulation, which is the completion of the Age of Israel. When the Old Testament ends, about 7 or 8 centuries before the Lord came, there was a prophet. There was Daniel and he wrote many things that were future. Daniel 9:27 wrote about the 70 weeks of Israel, but only 69 transpired. So there is one week left, which has not played out. The Tribulation is this final week, the Age of Israel. It culminates in the fulfillment of the Kingdom of David, which is the Millennium.
6. There is a marked discontinuity between these two phrases, Israel and the church, as related to the plan of God and history. They are not entirely separate, but are separate in many respects.
7. The church will be a part of the future Jewish kingdom, because we, all of us in heaven during the Tribulation, we are resurrected. We do not go through these 7 years. We will rule here, in His kingdom; we will be a part of that. The 1000 reign of the Lord Jesus Christ changes a dispensation as a progress in God's plan is not a new occurrence. This has happened throughout history from Adam onward. There have been a number of dispensations whenever Satan appears to be winning a victory through the negative volition of man. God makes an adjustment, to foil up Satan's plan. There is a progression of divine viewpoint revelation, that outflanks and spoils Satan's schemes. In the church, we have mystery doctrine. That is doctrine that has never before been taught, anywhere in the Age of Israel. We have doctrines in the New Testament never before having been presented (some was presented by the Lord Jesus Christ). How are we supposed to operate in this life and how do we use it and what are the mechanics? This is all new doctrine. We are unlike national Israel. We have no prophecies in the Church Age. Israel knew about her future by prophecy; but we do not have that. The Old Testament is filled with books of prophecy and books with prophecy. Isaiah prophesied about the Lord Jesus Christ. We do not have crystal balls, we do not read Oiji boards. There is one prophecy for us, and that is about the rapture. We are a new administration. We are not Israel. In the changes of dispensation is a change in the way that believers operate in their spiritual lives. The baptism of the Holy Spirit; the indwelling and the filling of the Holy Spirit. Some Old Testament heroes had the indowment of the Holy Spirit; but the run-of-the-mill Jew did not have what we had. Israel had sacrifices and offerings which presented doctrine to them. They had offerings for salvation and for rebound. They had prophecy, but no mystery doctrine. God always thwarts Satan's attempt to win the Angelic Conflict at every turn. He introduces a new and greater phase of His plan; a new dispensation.

8. A quick list of dispensational changes from the beginning to end of history.
 - a. After Noah, and the great flood, that wiped out a Satanic scheme to pollute the human race with the sons of God who had cohabited with women. The origin of Greek mythology. Then the population began with 8 people who populated the earth.
 - b. As the population increased, they decided to build a tower which would go toward heaven, called the Tower of Babel. They constructed their own way to heaven. Is there anything different from today? They would find their way to heaven, based upon their own works.
 - c. God put a stop to this internationalism by separating men by different languages. People began speaking a variety of languages. This was the basis for nations, which started on the basis of language. At this point, national entities became a divine institution. A different kind of administration. This might be called a gentile age, as there were no Jews at this time. No detailed account of the spiritual life in that era. There were animal sacrifices.
 - d. Then from this new dispensation came one man, Abraham, who was given a promise in Gen. 12 by God. "I will make you a great nation." Through the line of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob is nation Israel. This nation comes into existence under Moses and the Jewish exodus in Egypt. This new Jewish client nation was a representative nation; a new way of administering God's plan. They were the sole nation through whom God would work. They would bring divine inspiration through the authors of the Bible. They preserved God's Word very well. The Old Testament plan of God is revealed by this.
 - e. The church is not one nation. There are client nations; but not everyone in that nation is a special nation to God. Israel failed to live up to this.

- f. Satan was strategically defeated by the cross; and that is the central point of human history. Then God instituted the church on the Day of Pentecost. We win tactical victories in the spiritual life of the Church Age. We are the vehicles for Satan's defeat. We are given the wherewithal to defeat Satan. The church and Israel share similar missions in this era. Salvation history means God's plan to save mankind, the overall theme of human history. The progress of salvation history. We also know that we are witnesses for Christ. There is a change in that continuity. The church is not the same as Israel. Many doctrines. We have the unique spiritual life after salvation, which markedly diverges from the spiritual life of believers in the Age of Israel. The focus passes from Adam to Noah, to Abraham to Israel, to Jesus, to the believers in the Church Age, to the believing remnant in the Tribulation. Finally to Jesus Christ in the Millennium.
- g. Each dispensation has its own set of mandates; but the means of salvation is exactly the same. Old Testament dispensations look forward to the cross; and we as believers in the Church Age look back to the cross. We know it through the history recorded and through the ceremony of the Eucharist.
- h. Salvation is constant in all dispensations.
- i. Scripture reveals the new believers' life and the transition between the nation Israel and the Church Age.

Bobby wants to list some of the discontinuities.

Lesson #0857

Luke 17: Life of Christ

6/15/2016 Wednesday

We are covering the theme of the subject of the Kingdom of God. This whole idea of a kingdom runs throughout the Bible. First a theocratic kingdom in Israel, later a kingdom with a king. Jesus spoke of the kingdom in the gospels; Paul writes about a kingdom in the epistles, and finally in Revelation.

He is the Living God and the Everlasting King. God's people in God's place and under God's rule. Concerning the progression... How does the church fit into the kingdom program? There are two options: covenant theology and dispensationalism. Covenant theology erases any real difference between Israel and the church. This approach suggests that there is a complete continuity between the church and Israel. The church inherits from Israel all of the promises of the Old Testament. The covenant viewpoint appears to be gaining traction in this day and age.

Some think that the covenant theology approach is more intellectual. Dispensationalism was developed more completely at a later time. The plan of God is centered around what He is doing for us. All of human history has been a progression of salvation for mankind. How does the church and Israel fit together in God's salvation plan for history? The dispensational view is that the place of Israel is still future, and all of those promises will be fulfilled at that time. The church becomes an intervening era.

At the end of the church, the exit-resurrection, the rest of the Age of Israel is fulfilled/completed. The church is an intervening era between Israel and the Tribulation.

Bobby is going to try to diagram this. Covenant theology has to admit to some limited dispensationalism because Israel began with Abraham. Prior to this, there was no kingdom program.

Covenant theology. As the church runs, it is not the 2nd advent that ends the church, but the rapture, the exit resurrection.

There are many discontinuities between Israel and the church.

What Makes the Church Unique from Israel.

1. Israel's head is Abraham. He is regenerate. He had the righteousness of God imputed to him. Promises were made to him as a believer.
2. The church's head is Jesus Christ. He is the Head of the church.
3. Abraham's seed is physical; the seed in the Church Age is spiritual.
4. Israel is one nation; and to be a part of the Kingdom of God, a gentile would join nation Israel. The church is from all nations and all races. We are all combined under the umbrella of the church.
5. Israel is a nation made up of individual believers. The church is individual only. The church is a spiritual body; it is not a nation.
6. Israel is a part of each dispensation, from Abraham on. The church only appears in the current dispensation.
7. The terms church (which is εκκλησια) and kingdom (which is βασιλεια), which are never equated in the Bible.
 - a. The word kingdom occurs many times in the gospels, and church only occurs 3 times.
 - b. In the book of Acts, which is a transition from the gospels into the Church Age. The attention of the disciples turns away from the kingdom. "Lord is it at this time that you are restoring the kingdom of Israel?" "It is not for you to know times and epochs."
 - c. Epistles are addressed to the church, but never to members of the kingdom.
 - d. The kingdom again becomes prominent in Revelation.
8. Christ makes a distinction between the two eras. He introduces them differently. The Kingdom is at hand, which began with the beginning of the Lord's ministry. However, the introduction of the church is the subject of prophecy later in His ministry, as He faced greater and greater rejection.
9. The coming of the kingdom is different. The kingdom is the instantaneous rule by Jesus Christ over the Land of Promise. It is not the product of growth and development as is the church. Israel is established in one event. That is the 2nd advent.
10. National Israel is embodied by the unconditional covenants and grace. Israel was a political entity. Israel had a king, it had laws; and it was ruled as a theocracy through the Mosaic Law. The church is not political but spiritual. The doctrine that we have in the New Testament is our guidance; not the Mosaic Law. Mandatory tithes; but our giving is not.

11. Israel had a specialized priesthood. It was a specialized group of men who were dedicated to worship in the Tabernacle and later, the Temple. The church is a priesthood. All believers are priests. We do not have a specialized priesthood.
12. Like all the other dispensations, the church has distinct qualities to accomplish its mission in the Angelic Conflict. The church has its own mission and distinct qualities. The church is a mystery with mystery doctrine. Universal baptism of God the Holy Spirit. We are unique in that we are indwelt by God the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit can be taken away from saints in the Old Testament, but not from believers in the New. We have unique responsibilities in Church Age.
13. The church cannot claim the promises of Israel for itself.
14. The church is not a denial of the literal fulfillment of nation Israel. Covenant theology sometimes takes this all the way to antisemitism.
15. The church is a postponement for national Israel in order to fulfill God's promises to Abraham and to David. The Davidic Covenant was a follow-on to the Abrahamic Covenant. God's promises to these men is immutable. God promises Abraham a nation, a national entity. God cannot change His promise to Israel. David's promise of a literal kingdom is not the same as the church's promise for a heavenly kingdom. Who will be Regathered at the 2nd advent? National Israel.

If the promises of Israel have now been reassigned to the church, because of the failure of the nation in past history, then, logically when believers fail in the Church Age, their security is questionable. If Israel can lose the promise, why can't we lose them? That is the basis of loss of salvation in covenant theology. So, human failure would affect divine change. There is not a chance of that with immutable God. If God does not fulfill His literal promise to Israel, why would the Jewish Gentile church be any more secure in God's promises to them? If the church fails, then it too can be replaced. We can lose our standing with God. Now, this will not happen. The church, regardless of individual failure, we will all be raptured at the exit resurrection. Israel will be delivered in the Tribulation, which is very well-defined as the worst time of the world. Israel will be delivered and it will be ruled by David's Greater Son, the Lord Jesus Christ.

How should we understand this Kingdom of God?

Did Christ mean that this has always been a spiritual kingdom? Was there to be no spiritual kingdom? Does this mean that the kingdom is within you or within your midst.

Luke 17:20b–21 ...He answered them, "The kingdom of God is not coming with signs to be observed, nor will they say, 'Look, here it is!' or 'There!' for behold, the kingdom of God is in the midst of you."

The pharisees and the disciples all expected a literal, physical kingdom. What about a son of David sitting on the throne?

You cannot see the Kingdom of God, for it is in your midst.

Christ was presented at one point in His ministry by John the Baptizer as Israel's Messiah. "The Kingdom of Heaven is at hand." Jesus makes the same statement in Matt. 4:17. The kingdom came with the Lord Jesus Christ. He was the King. At no time did people question what Jesus claimed for Himself; He claimed to be the Messiah.

Jesus Christ was legitimately offering that kingdom. "Here I am, accept Me." They instead called Him a blasphemous imposter, and many Jews rejected Him; and so He was crucified. There will be a time when Messiah will take the throne and fulfill the promises made to David.

It is true that all Israel is not Israel, as Paul said. As the Millennium moves along, the believers who enter that Millennium will procreate and have children, and some of them will reject Jesus Christ, even though He is on the throne.

Jesus was not signifying that the Kingdom of God was only a spiritual rule in the hearts of the people. He meant, because Israel rejected Him in the 1st advent, the kingdom would not come visually at that time.

So what did He mean, when He said, "The Kingdom of God is in your midst"?

Lesson #0858

Luke 17:20b–21 Life of Christ

6/16/2016 Thursday

Israel still has covenants to God. Bobby is going to complete this topic tonite.

Luke 17:20b–21 ...He answered them, "The kingdom of God is not coming with signs to be observed, nor will they say, 'Look, here it is!' or 'There!' for behold, the kingdom of God is in the midst of you [all]."

We are dealing with the phrase, in your midst. This is where there is a controversy. Many people understand this translation to mean within you.

What Does it Mean to Be Within You

1. Then it is part of you; it is what you think; it is how you understand. It could mean that there is only a spiritual reign of God in the souls of men. This negates how we think of the covenants of God in the Old Testament.
2. This describes a spiritual kingdom; whereas, the Bible sounded much more like an actual kingdom. This understanding suggests that God rules only in our hearts.
3. It is a kingdom within, not a kingdom without. Only a spiritual aspect to the kingdom. Not a physical; a spiritual kingdom.
4. Bobby is not going to say that there is no truth to the idea of a spiritual kingdom. That does exist. But not to the extent of removing nation Israel from the literal promises of God.

5. There is a discontinuity between the spiritual and the physical kingdoms. Both are true but the one does not become the other, which is the position of covenant theology.
6. The idea of a physical kingdom is not replaced by the reality of a spiritual kingdom within us.

The Greek word is αυτος, which is better translated within your midst. Why would Jesus, Who is addressing unbelieving pharisees, why would He tell them that the kingdom was within them? They rejected Him and they would support His crucifixion; so they would not have the Kingdom of God within them personally.

Preposition: entos (ἐντός) [pronounced ehn-TOSS], which means, 1) within, inside; 1a) within you, i.e. in the midst of you; 1b) within you, i.e. your soul. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #1787.

This is combined with the 2nd person masculine plural noun. This in itself indicates that this verse does not mean, within you.

God promised a kingdom to David. Israel is no longer a nation. There was national discipline for disobedience and rejection of Y^ehowah in the Old Testament. Israel, as a people of God, had become a very negative people. Always getting into idolatry. The national promise to David was unconditional. It is based upon God's immutable promise. In order to receive this promise, they must be a nation. But there is a spiritual kingdom in the hearts of believers, which does not negate the kingdom promised by God to David. God would write His Law upon their hearts.

Jer. 31:33 But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, declares the LORD: I will put my law within them, and I will write it on their hearts. And I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

This is a new covenant made to the people of Israel. This is not made to the church. Why was this renewal necessary? At the time of Jeremiah, Israel was totally apostate. They had violated God's Law in every possible way. They had rejected entirely the Word of God, and they were under the fifth cycle of discipline. Destruction upon destruction.

No one was left. The new covenant was given at a time when these Jews needed to be reminded that they were God's people. This reminds them that God had not forsaken them, despite being miserable failures.

In spite of Israel rejecting Messiah, Israel is not forever replaced by the church. They were renewed.

Fulfilling the New Covenant to Israel

1. The new covenant presages the final fulfillment of the promise to the regenerate people of Israel.

2. It was, at the time of Jeremiah, an encouraging reminder, to an enslaved people.
3. The final fulfillment. They were a nation then they weren't and then they were again. The new covenant guarantees a new nation at a future time. This is when Israel would once again turn toward God.
4. That future time is the Millennial reign of Christ. Israel had believers and unbelievers in it.
5. The new covenant is the direct promise to Israel of becoming a nation again.
6. The covenants of God are still in effect.
7. Yet, this promise of the New Covenant has aspects of a new kingdom. That is a spiritual aspect.
8. In the future, because the Law is written on their hearts, the Jews will have no trouble knowing the Lord. "I will put My law in their hearts and write it in their hearts."
9. The new covenant confirms that there will be a new spiritual kingdom that exists in Israel. Doesn't this prove that the church is now spiritual Israel? We are a spiritual people. The Law is already written in our hearts.

After the rapture, there is the 7 year period of time, which is the Tribulation. Then there is the Millennium, when Jesus sits on the physical throne of national Israel. Even in the Millennium, there will be some who reject Jesus Who is on the throne of New Israel.

Believers will survive in this age, despite various catastrophes. Some of us are thinking very hard about where we might go in the next 4 or 8 years. Don't look to politicians; look to ourselves.

There Are Overlapping Spiritual Characteristics Between the Church and Israel

1. The new covenant will give the believer the inner ability to...it is written in our hearts.
2. Israel and the church are both spiritually connected to God; Jesus is the Savior of all.
3. In other words, in every dispensation, and some get messed up in all of this. Salvation is always a matter of faith in Christ alone. They did not know His Name.
4. Each dispensation was given this redemption revelation in different ways.
 - a. Israel saw redemption through the blood sacrifices through a literal lamb or ram.
 - b. We look back at the Lamb of God dying for our sins.
5. Both Israel and the church are witnesses for God to the world. Individually as believers. The Church Age has client nations; many.
6. Both Israel and the church are called to be separate from the world. In the world but not of the world.
7. Both Israel and the church have common doctrines.
8. Both Israel and the church are called the elect of God. One is a nation and the other is made up of individual believers.
9. Both are recipients of eternal life.
10. Both are to be glorified in the future. That will take place at different times.

There Are Also Differences.

This is what is import to the dispensationalist.

1. The spiritual kingdom is manifest in a mystery form; not in a national form.
2. The church will prevail as such as a spiritual kingdom until the rule of God in the Messianic form of the kingdom is established in the 2nd advent.
3. This new mystery form, a spiritual form of the kingdom, is found in the church today.
4. The church is made up not of one nation or race, but of individuals from many races and kingdoms. In the Old Testament, gentiles were incorporated into nation Israel.
5. Every believer in the Church Age is indwelt by Jesus Christ, the King.
6. In that sense, He is the sovereign ruler within us. He is there. We should remember the doctrine that Bobby has been through.
7. The glory of Christ as king is in us. The Shekinah glory. Christ in you, the confidence of glory. He is sovereign over us personally; and He is also the ruler over the whole church through mystery doctrine. The church is a living organism made up of individual parts. Israel is a nation made up of individual citizens.

Heb. 8:8–10 is about the new covenant. Did we usurp this covenant or what?

Heb. 8:8 For he finds fault with them when he says: "Behold, the days are coming, declares the Lord, when I will establish a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah,

Heb 8:9 not like the covenant that I made with their fathers on the day when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt. For they did not continue in my covenant, and so I showed no concern for them, declares the Lord.

Heb 8:10 For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, declares the Lord: I will put my laws into their minds, and write them on their hearts, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

The Restatement of the New Covenant

1. This restatement of the new covenant in the New Testament is best explained from the dispensational viewpoint. It is best explained as the participation of the church in the spiritual promise of the covenant, rather than the fulfillment of national promises to Israel.
2. Participation in the new kingdom shows the continuum of God redemptive provisions for all dispensations. Israel and the church; and they are divided by the Hypostatic Union.
3. The center of the new covenant is Christ, of the spiritual aspect of the kingdom.
4. Unlike Israel, the urch does not fall under a literal throne government.
5. In the theocratic millennial kingdom of Israel, to which the new covenant expressly refers, the King will be in residence on the throne of Israel.
6. In that kingdom, all men will bow to His majesty.
7. Also in the millennial kingdom, Israel will have the Law written on their hearts.

8. This is where the spiritual and physical kingdoms come together for Israel. Therefore, the spiritual kingdom terminology does not override distinct Biblical

A Conclusion

1. There is a spiritual kingdom of Church Age believers.
2. There is a literal physical theocratic kingdom of the Messiah which has spiritual aspects to it.
3. The church will participate in that theocratic kingdom. We will return with Jesus Christ for the 2nd advent. We will rule with Christ.
4. The church and Israel are still different entities, a distinction found in the Millennium.

The Meaning of in Your midst

1. This refers to Christ Himself, Who is the central figure of every dispensation.
2. At that time when Jesus spoke, He was present among them in the 1st advent. He came as King and Redeemer, offering Himself as Messiah to Israel.
3. Since Israel rejected His Presence and His Kingdom, Jesus institutes a new phase kingdom.
4. The first phase is a postponement of the Jewish kingdom in the 1st advent, as was expected.
5. Then the Age of Israel will be completed with the Tribulation, where believing Israel will be regathered.
6. Regathered for
7. The kingdom for Israel is not the same and not to be equated with the church. The church has another purpose.

Gal. 3:29 we are heirs to the new promise. Christ is the Seed of Abraham; as believers in Jesus Christ, we are the spiritual seed of Abraham. We are heirs according to the promise; His spiritual heirs. Any reference to the seed of Abraham must take into account the natural seed. The issue is Jacob and the 12 tribes. Within this is a believing remnant of Jews. Rom. 9:6 Some Gentiles will inherit the promise of faith. Abraham was justified by faith; so the church participates in the spiritual aspect of salvation.

So the kingdom in their midst refers to the Present King Who is walking among them, Who is not yet on the Throne of Israel, but will be at that time.

Israel and the Church

1. Israel and the church are distinct in the plan of God for history.
2. Yet, both have a part to play in that plan. One is not negated for the other. They have parallel parts. There are distinct aspects of those plans.
3. God began His kingdom program.
4. But now, His program, His plan progress to the mysteries of the Church Age. National Israel has been temporarily set aside.

5. Today, God is calling a people from all nations. He is building His church.
6. The church now participates in the great promises of blessings in the new covenant.
7. This connection is not to replace Israel, or for the church to fulfill her specific promises. A literal throne.
8. None of the physical blessings of the new covenant that will be realized by Israel in the future are cited in the New Testament with regard to the church. Spiritual blessings, yes; physical or national blessings, no.
9. Both Israel and the church, in their distinctive phases, and as separate dispensations, will share in God's plan for history. As the people of God through whom He will be glorified.

We are a unique dispensation; a unique entity. All the privileges and opportunities given only to us.

Lesson #0859

Luke 17:22–25 Life of Christ

6/19/2016 1Sunday

Jesus has spoken to the pharisees and now He has turned to the disciples. The disciples wanted to see one of the days of the Son of Man, but they would not see it. The One that all of the Jews were seeking the disciples believed that to be Jesus.

Luke 17:22 And He said to the disciples, "The days are coming when you will desire to see one of the days of the Son of Man, and you will not see it.

Because of the rejection of the Messiah, the disciples would not see the Son of Man as the King of Kings. The promised national kingdom would not appear. "You will not see it."

There will be no kingdom, but there will be a lot of trouble to come. "I am leaving and there will be trouble." They will long to see the next advent, but trouble is amongst us.

Believers, when they see a lot of trouble, they decide they want to leave, they want the rapture, and they pray, "Come, Lord Jesus." But we live in the time when there is always trouble. With the rapture, there is no sign, no prophecy associated with it.

Jesus is now speaking about the 2nd advent. This passage is not talking about the rapture of the church, as some people take it to mean. The church is not in view in this passage at all. The context of Luke 17 is the kingdom of Christ on earth. The rapture of the church does not herald the Jewish kingdom. It is not the 2nd advent.

The rapture of the church and the 2nd advent are two separate events. The rapture of the church precedes the 7 year Tribulation. Covenant theology combines the rapture and the 2nd advent. Instead of us going up (the rapture), He comes down (2nd advent). The Tribulation is called Daniel's 70th week. The Tribulation precedes the 2nd advent and the millennial kingdom.

Daniel was a prophecy in the exile. He made a prophecy of 490 years while in exile; and Israel has this amount of time to get straightened out, and Israel has this amount of time to get straightened out.

The 483 runs from the decree of Artaxerxes to the time that the Messiah is cut off; and there still remains 7 more years. Daniel's 70th week will be the worst 7 years in the history of the world. At the end of this 7 years, Israel will be regathered, reformed, believing Israel, and the Lord will remove the unbelievers in the battle of Armageddon.

Bobby endures his tribulational mic.

70th week of Daniel is when the Millennium will begin. The Jews become subjects of Jesus Christ in that kingdom, the final fulfillment of the covenants to Abraham and David.

Daniel 9:24 "Seventy weeks are decreed about your people and your holy city, to finish the transgression, to put an end to sin, and to atone for iniquity, to bring in everlasting righteousness, to seal both vision and prophet, and to anoint a most holy place.

Daniel 9:25 Know therefore and understand that from the going out of the word to restore and build Jerusalem to the coming of an anointed one, a prince, there shall be seven weeks. Then for sixty-two weeks it shall be built again with squares and moat, but in a troubled time.

They can stop longing for the kingdom. The disciples have been longing for the kingdom, but they will not see it during their lifetimes. There will be many who come and claim to be the Messiah, and Jesus says, "Do not believe it; do not chase after them. They will have all kinds of phony claims."

Luke 17:23 And they will say to you, 'Look, there!' or 'Look, here!' Do not go out or follow them.

The Lord is telling His disciples, "Do not sweat the kingdom; you will not see it." For us, ignore those who claim that the rapture is going to occur in a few hours (days, months). There are no signs or prophecies to be fulfilled before the prophecy of the church. "I have given you a mission, and you need to proceed in that direction."

There are gullible people looking for any kind of hope to bail them out. They are hoping that the right candidate will come along. The key is, enough believers and enough believers with doctrine. God has a mission for us as long as we are alive.

There will such an outlay of power that, the coming of the kingdom will be unmistakable. The disciples in these times will be comforted by the thought.

Luke 17:24 For as the lightning flashes and lights up the sky from one side to the other, so will the Son of Man be in His day.

Incredible light will be displayed when the Lord comes; this will be sudden and very clear. There is a different initiation for the rapture. 1Thess. 2:16–17. The 2nd advent will be like a bolt of electricity which goes from one side of the sky to the other.

You never know where lightning will strike or when. It will happen during a storm and you get to see and enjoy it. The day of the Lord will be very much like this. It will be spectacular. "Now, you disciples won't see this, but the day of My return will be unmistakable."

The lightning bolt, or that which is like the lightning bolt, that will be the final sign, seen from all over. During the 7 years, there will be other signs, in Matt. 24:4–14, which Bobby will cover in the future. The time of Jacob's Trouble, Jer. 30:7, this will indicate just how troubling the Tribulation will be. There are all kinds of judgments described in Revelation.

Jer. 30:7–8 Alas! That day is so great there is none like it; it is a time of distress for Jacob; yet he shall be saved out of it. And it shall come to pass in that day, declares the LORD of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off your neck, and I will burst your bonds, and foreigners shall no more make a servant of him.

In the near future, the Messiah would suffer many things.

Luke 17:25 But first He must suffer many things and be rejected by this generation.

On any occasions, the Lord prophesied suffering; but they had not really heard Him at this time. His suffering was foretold in the Old Testament. The suffering Servant prophecy, found in Isa. 53. This describes the Lord in the week of His crucifixion.

There is no kingdom before the cross. There will be a 2nd advent, but you will not see it. But I will suffer greatly during the 1st advent.

The unprepared world will be judged. He talks about judgement in the 2nd advent. Judgment for some and deliverance for others. There will be judgment and the Lord will now describe that judgment.

Lesson #0860

Luke 17:26– Life of Christ

6/19/2016 2Sunday

We have all been so angry at someone that we have wished someone dead. The disciples probably felt this way. The religious leaders have dogged the Lord Jesus Christ and the disciples for several years. Now Jesus tells them that they will not see the coming of the Lord in His 2nd advent. Jesus tells them what will happen to His opposition in the 2nd advent.

Luke 17:26 Just as it was in the days of Noah, so will it be in the days of the Son of Man.

The days of the Son of Man is the 2nd advent. The disciples will not see this day, but there will be a time coming like this, and it will be like the days of Noah.

Luke 17:27 They were eating and drinking and marrying and being given in marriage, until the day when Noah entered the ark, and the flood came and destroyed them all.

These verses should remind us of normal, human activity. This stuff happens every day, all over the world. That is exactly the point of this illustration. This is the unending stream of human activity. This occupied the attention of the people during the time of Noah. They had no interest in spiritual things during that time period.

Those who opposed the plan of God during that time were more sinister; and it was related to marriage and children. Marriage in this context has a special meaning when it comes to judgment.

Let's check Gen. 6:2:

Gen. 6:2–3 the sons of God saw that the daughters of man were attractive. And they took as their wives any they chose. Then the LORD said, "My Spirit shall not abide in man forever, for he is flesh: his days shall be 120 years."

The sons of God are demons in that era. This is the infamous time of the Nephaliim. They are the offspring of human women and angels. "How can that be true?" There is a literal interpretation to the Bible; and this actually took place. This whole thing was a diabolical scheme from the mind of Satan to pollute the human race. The human race would no longer be fully human. The human race would become half-human/half-angel. This is likely the source of mythology. It is quite easy to understand that these stories became mythologize. There is a reality behind this.

Satan constantly tries to defeat the plan of God. This is a major attack on the plan of God. If the human race is completely corrupted, Jesus Christ cannot enter into the world. Adam and the woman were created human; they were not a mixture. No salvation for mankind, if there is no Christ. God promised that mankind would be redeemed.

This was Satanic and destructive and perverted; and worthy of the Lord's judgment. Judgment of those who tried to thwart the first advent.

Gen. 6:8 But Noah found favor in the eyes of the LORD.

Noah's focus was on the Lord.

Gen 6:9b Noah was a righteous man, blameless in his generation. Noah walked with God.

There was no pollution in the family of Noah. Very few people had been polluted by this time. There is a parallel. The Lord connects it to the 2nd advent. The world would become a mass of antisemitism prior to the 2nd advent.

The rapture followed by the 70th week of Daniel. At the end is the 2nd advent, which leads into the Millennium. The forces during the Tribulation are led by Satan and they are bent on the destruction of Israel, just as Satan was hoping to destroy the human race. Satan, if he destroys all Jews, means that there can be no nation Israel. To say the least, it will be a horrible time of evil on the earth.

The flood judgment during the days of Noah will be like the judgment in Daniel's 70th week. Those destroyed are those who have scoffed. This is a picture of negative atheism throughout the ages. They deny judgment until it happens, and then, there is nothing that they can do about it. In Noah's flood, the people were negative and they denied a coming judgment, up until the time that they drowned.

Also, there is a parallel illustration found in Sodom, in the days of Lot.

Luke 17:28 Likewise, just as it was in the days of Lot--they were eating and drinking, buying and selling, planting and building,

Gen. 19:24 is this destruction. These judgments are parallels to what will happen in the 2nd advent. The degeneracy was rampant.

The homophobic claims make Bobby realize that they want to call us believers full of hate. We say that marriage is designed for a man and a woman; but the only hate is actually on the side of those supporting everything homosexual.

Paul describes such degeneracy in Gen. 1:26–27. Yet, even during such degeneracy, there is a plethora of normal activity. It is often a facade of normal activity, occurring side-by-side corruption and degeneracy. The same corruption and the same attitudes exist today in our country. The normalcy of marriage has been perverted today to think that it is between a man and a man, and a woman and a woman. Homosexuality stands at the door of Christianity demanding that they be accepted or else.

So the men of Sodom could claim, "We are normal, just buying, selling, planting, building. We just have a different sexual orientation. We are not hurting you." Homophobic, bigoted, all of the words that are being used. To them, it makes no difference what the Bible pronounces against them. This is a very common approach about making a degenerate lifestyle appear normal.

What should be our response to this? We despise the practices of degeneracy, but not the people. Those who are in this lifestyle are souls for whom Christ died. We never do them bodily harm. What happened to the victims of Islamic terrorism in Florida was evil. All judgment belongs to God and to God alone. We can make that application right here.

The normal males of the town wanted to rape the visitors to Lot. They are partaking of normal human activities, yet evil permeates their souls. They are setting themselves up for divine judgment. Parallels with today and then; and what will happen at the 2nd advent.

As terrible as it is, there are reasons for God's justice. Preparation would have required for the people of Sodom.

Gen. 19:24 Then the LORD rained on Sodom and Gomorrah sulfur and fire from the LORD out of heaven.

Do not buy into the idea that war is evil and God is against all war. Jesus is the greatest warrior of all human history.

Lot saw two men at the gate of the city, and he welcomed them with open arms and he brought them into his house; and they turned out to be angels. They came to bring a message; but the men of Sodom saw them and looked to rape them. They charged the house, beat on the door; and Lot offered up his daughters. But they rejected the daughters. Then these angels told Lot and company, "Get out of town immediately; and do not look back."

In the moment before Lot leaves, he tries to convince his sons-in-law to go with him. Apparently, these young men could not take it in. They thought that he was joking. They paid the price for not believing the message of Lot. Every person in that city was consumed.

Jesus applies this same judgment to the 2nd advent. Believers are saved and unbelievers are judged; and what will happen is much greater during the 2nd advent. Those who mock God's Word will face great judgment.

Lesson #0861 Luke 17:22–32 Life of Christ 6/29/2016 Wednesday

In Luke 17:22 Jesus explains why the kingdom would be postponed.

Luke 17:22 And He said to the disciples, "The days are coming when you will desire to see one of the days of the Son of Man, and you will not see it.

In the meantime, there will be plenty of trouble in this world. The disciples will be in the middle of as many problems as anyone could face. Jesus also warns them about following false messiahs who will imitate the Lord, claiming that they will lead the people into the kingdom. Even though the kingdom is postponed, the final kingdom is not defunct.

Luke 17:23 And they will say to you, 'Look, there!' or 'Look, here!' Do not go out or follow them.

This future kingdom, that the Lord refers to, does not belong to our age; it does not belong to the church. We have a different promise from the Lord. We have the promise of the exit-resurrection. The 2nd advent and the rapture are not the same events. The 2nd advent will be Christ's return to set up the national kingdom of Israel. At the end of the Tribulation, the Lord returns to this earth and he begins a new dispensation. As proof of His future 2nd advent, which is what He is discussing, there are certain signs that the Lord that must take place.

2 sets of people in the end times, believers and unbelievers. The final tumultuous 7 years of the Tribulation. What will that sign be?

Luke 17:24 For as the lightning flashes and lights up the sky from one side to the other, so will the Son of Man be in His day.

But there will be an event that occurs, way before the Lord's return; and Jesus speaks of the 1st advent, which is v. 25.

Luke 17:25 But first He must suffer many things and be rejected by this generation.

This is a very near prophecy. Jesus knows exactly where He is going. He came for this great suffering that is coming up. He will experience this at the hands of the contemporary religious leaders. The disciples will see their Lord suffer and die.

Then He leaves the present and moves into the future.

Luke 17:26 Just as it was in the days of Noah, so will it be in the days of the Son of Man.

In the day of Lot, people were living normal everyday lives. And they were judged; one of the greatest judgments in history. There is a parallel judgment that will change the course of human history forever. There is nothing compared to what is coming.

Luke 17:27 They were eating and drinking and marrying and being given in marriage, until the day when Noah entered the ark, and the flood came and destroyed them all.

Luke 17:28 Likewise, just as it was in the days of Lot--they were eating and drinking, buying and selling, planting and building,

Luke 17:29 but on the day when Lot went out from Sodom, fire and sulfur rained from heaven and destroyed them all--

There will be 7 years of tribulation, and then the Lord will return.

The Great White Throne, where the Lord will sit on a throne and oversee the separation of the peoples. After the 7 year period, there will be that one big sign of the flash of light where the Lord is known throughout the world. However, there are other judgments which will come to pass, those named in Revelation.

Luke 17:30 so will it be on the day when the Son of Man is revealed.

However, before these things come to pass, people will be involved in normal day to day activity and they will ignore the horrible things happening all around them. They will ignore the evangelism, they will ignore the signs taking place.

God will also give instructions to believers for the 2nd advent. These instructions have nothing to do with us; they are all about what will happen after we have been raptured.

The Tribulation will be the worst 7 years of human history. When the Lord returns, we will be in the midst of that flash of light.

Luke 17:31 On that day, let the one who is on the housetop, with his goods in the house, not come down to take them away, and likewise let the one who is in the field not turn back.

When this stuff begins, do not return to your home for anything. Leave and go without any delay. They cannot become attached to the material things which they have in their homes. Their focus must be on eternity, not on time. "Do not become attached to material things." There will be such a time of trouble during these 7 years, these are instructions when things get really dicey.

Have you ever gone through the exercise of facing a house fire and you have about 20 seconds. In this circumstance, you do not go back to get anything. You cannot afford to be attached to any material goods.

Luke 17:32 Remember Lot's wife.

Lot's wife is an example of screwing this up. Self-preservation is the message at the end of the Tribulation. When these terrible signs of Revelation begin to occur, then you need to make a run for it.

There are great signs after Rev. 5 that will occur. When those signs begin, you have your instructions.

One of these signs will be the king of the revived Roman empire will put his image up in the Temple. That statue in the Temple, the Temple that is build during the Tribulation. It is called the abomination of desolation. It portends of a great holocaust on the way. When it happens, run for the hills.

Could this be a double prophecy, for the 5th cycle of discipline and the destruction of Jerusalem?

- Matt. 24:15–16 "So when you see the abomination of desolation spoken of by the prophet Daniel, standing in the holy place (let the reader understand), then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains.
- Matt. 24:17–18 Let the one who is on the housetop not go down to take what is in his house, and let the one who is in the field not turn back to take his cloak.
- Matt. 24:19 And alas for women who are pregnant and for those who are nursing infants in those days!
- Matt. 24:20 Pray that your flight may not be in winter or on a Sabbath.
- Matt. 24:21 For then there will be great tribulation, such as has not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, and never will be.
- Matt. 24:22 And if those days had not been cut short, no human being would be saved. But for the sake of the elect those days will be cut short.
- Matt. 24:23 Then if anyone says to you, 'Look, here is the Christ!' or 'There he is!' do not believe it.
- Matt. 24:24 For false christs and false prophets will arise and perform great signs and wonders, so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect.
- Matt. 24:25 See, I have told you beforehand.
- Matt. 24:26 So, if they say to you, 'Look, he is in the wilderness,' do not go out. If they say, 'Look, he is in the inner rooms,' do not believe it.
- Matt. 24:27 For as the lightning comes from the east and shines as far as the west, so will be the coming of the Son of Man.
- Matt. 24:28 Wherever the corpse is, there the vultures will gather.
- Matt. 24:29 "Immediately after the tribulation of those days the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light, and the stars will fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken.
- Matt. 24:30 Then will appear in heaven the sign of the Son of Man, and then all the tribes of the earth will mourn, and they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.
- Matt. 24:31 And he will send out his angels with a loud trumpet call, and they will gather his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.
- Matt. 24:32 "From the fig tree learn its lesson: as soon as its branch becomes tender and puts out its leaves, you know that summer is near.
- Matt. 24:33 So also, when you see all these things, you know that he is near, at the very gates.

Luke 17:32 Remember Lot's wife.

Lot's wife was really attached to Sodom. She had friends and social life and a very fine house there. Lot was once a rich man, and she had a very nice lifestyle and she did not want to let it go. Her eyes were on the world; they were not on God's Word. She only saw the things of man. She saw a lot of evil and corruption; but she was able to see past all of that.

When she got on top of the hill, she had to look back just once more. She failed to listen to the warnings of the angels.

Gen. 19:24–26 Then the LORD rained on Sodom and Gomorrah sulfur and fire from the LORD out of heaven. And he overthrew those cities, and all the valley, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and what grew on the ground. But Lot's wife, behind him, looked back, and she became a pillar of salt.

Our rules of engagement are so careful today; but Jesus overthrows everything in the city, including all of the plants. Lot's wife looked back. This is the favorite verse of all divorce attorneys. She became a big pile of salt.

Some of these stories are difficult to believe; and the great God of Love destroying everything in that city, every man, woman and child. It is speculated that the Dead Sea was the judgment that came upon them. Heavily salted water is just dead; fish don't live in it.

That Lot's wife turns to a pillar of salt might be hard to believe, but there are explanations and even proofs of some of these things.

In the study of time and astronomy, there is a gap. Some of these things do not occur in a natural world, but we have a supernatural God. He is sovereign and omnipotent and can do anything within His character.

If Jesus created the earth, can He not change any aspect of it?

Bobby is tempted to make an application to today. Things are bad today. Maybe we should flee. Maybe to Australia. Find a safe locale. The disciples were not given instructions like this. We face great troubles in this world; but we are not in the Tribulation. Do not rest your mind upon fleeing. No Australia, no New Zealand, no South Pacific island.

Some Closing Points

1. Speaking of v. 33a, this means to lose one's life like Lot's wife did. She wanted to return to her life before; she could not let go of it.
2. The signs of judgment are clear from the book of Revelation. When the times comes, the Scripture will be available and understandable.
3. If they know the signs, they will understand the urgency to leave.
4. They should not even descend from a flat rooftop, do not even go down below. Jump off the roof and start running. That is urgency. These instructions are to be understood and followed. There is no equivocation with the Lord.
5. This is the urgency, when the signs of the coming of the 2nd advent are apparent.

The flip side, whoever loses his life will gain it. He will lose the life that he had before. His life will be preserved his human life.

Lesson #0862

Luke 17: Life of Christ

6/30/2016 Thursday

Last evening on Luke 17.

Judgement and the end times are interconnected. Those who reject the Lord will be judged. Jesus is giving instructions to tribulational believers as to what to do to escape the horror of the times (actually, to escape death).

These disciples are to become the Apostles of the Church Age. These things are irrelevant to the disciples. No believer in the Church Age will take any part in the Tribulation. The disciples and the believers of that era will return with the Lord at the 2nd advent.

So, why does the Lord speak to the disciples about these signs. Jesus is reassuring His followers at this time. The Jewish disciples who have anticipated the promised kingdom, that kingdom has been postponed because of the king's future. These promises have been postponed, but not abrogated. Israel has not been abandoned. These promises will not be transferred over to the church. These men will be the new foundation of the church. They are connected to the Lord Jesus Christ. They need to go into that age assured that, even though they are a part of this new dispensation, that Israel has not been deserted.

A time of great judgment is necessary to fulfill Daniel's prophecy of the 70th week. At the end of the Tribulation, a sign is given to set up the kingdom. But also the sign is to bring judgment with that return. That has some modicum of comfort, as these men will be the brunt of so much persecution. It will cost most of them their lives. They must understand that the justice of God is still in operation. This stands true, even though their Messiah will die on the cross.

The Lord's sign will be like a bolt of lightning flashing across the sky and then they must flee or die (vv. 27–30). The 2nd advent will be the regathering of Israel. In v. 32, Jesus illustrates His point of judgment. All of those great material things, Lot's house and friends, this woman could not let it go, and she had to turn around and look one more time. She was turned into a pillar of salt, which was her judgment

Then the explanation of the judgment of Lot's wife. She wanted to retain her old life in Sodom. She just wanted to stay there.

Luke 17:33 Whoever seeks to preserve his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life will keep it.

Whoever seeks to keep that old way of life, they will lose it. Believers, at any point, must follow instructions. The people in the Tribulation must follow instructions just like Noah and Lot did. When believers see the signs from Scripture, they are not to reenter their homes, even if they are right there at the house, they must flee for the hills immediately, or die. Otherwise, they suffer the consequences.

There is a flip side. Whoever loses his life will preserve it.

Explaining, Whoever Loses His Life Will Preserve it

1. When they follow instructions to leave immediately, upon recognizing the sign of the Lord's return. Jesus warns that people will be engaged in normal day to day things. They are not focused upon spiritual things. Everything that you have collected over the years, it is gone. The material possessions that they have must be left behind, just like Noah and Lot. All their possessions were gone. They left with nothing.

2. They will preserve their temporal lives in fleeing the divine holocaust to come.
3. That was exactly what was demanded of Noah and Lot; just follow instructions.
4. Noah and Lot complied, even though they lost their past lucrative material way of life, they did as ordered.
5. Their lives were preserved, in order to continue the human race.

Heeding the Call of the Lord

1. They further the plan of God by following the instructions, so that the disciples get it. Sometimes, it is hard for them to get the instructions.
2. They must heed His words and live them. They will have to use those instructions.
3. Therefore, they must not become wrapped up in their old, temporal way of life. They cannot afford to do that.
4. They must entirely invest their lives for God's purposes.
5. They must not get their eyes on people or on things. Even failure cannot be right in their vision.
6. If they get their eyes on people, it would be comparable to Lot's wife. She is looking back on the things that she left behind. They must look forward to the plan of God.
7. The disciples must move out of all former attachments of life and look ahead toward the mission to which they had been called. They do not leave their families behind; but they still focus on the instructions for their near futures.
8. Their lives will be intense. They must carry on, no matter what. If the Tribulation saints are told to get out and leave everything behind, the disciples get the message.
9. The disciples get it and they will get the reward.
10. In the future, mission complete would require even more dedication from them. They do not realize the dedication that they will need. The full force of Satan will be directed toward the disciples when the Lord is gone.
11. They will receive greater privileges and reward.
- 12.
13. They know something else that is encouraging; they will return and rule with Christ. They will see the kingdom at that time, but not during their lifetimes.

There Is an Application for Us in All of this

1. We have instructions for the plan of God in our lives through Bible doctrine. We apply this to living our spiritual lives.
2. We are not to get wrapped up or inundated in the temporal lives that we must live on this earth. We must do this well, but it is not our primary goal or duty in life.
3. We must follow our instructions well.
4. We must not let personal disappointments stand in our way.
5. Our focus is always forward, never backward. We do not need to focus on our mistakes and past sins.

6. We are to accomplish whatever our mission is in His plan. We will receive those future rewards in heaven, where we will reside. This will take place when we return with Him in the 2nd advent. This is just for following instructions. Sometimes, it is very hard for children to follow instructions. But we as believers must follow instructions.
7. We may lose certain things in our temporal lives and we may suffer and might even lose our life, but we gain so much more in our eternal life to come by following instructions.

Jesus continues His description in the final verses.

Luke 17:34 I tell you, in that night there will be two in one bed. One will be taken and the other left.

This is at night.

Luke 17:35 There will be two women grinding together. One will be taken and the other left."

This takes place during the daytime.

Luke 17:36 [Two men will be in the field; one will be taken and the other left.]

The Return of the Lord

1. These verses deal with the very moment of His return; the moment the lightning flashes and he returns. You would think the disciples might be interested here. What happens when the Lord returns.
2. What will happen to those who have accepted Him and rejected Him.
3. Both will be taken in that moment. Something will happen to both. One will be taken to judgment and one will enter into the Kingdom of God.
4. So the theme is judgment and reward at the 2nd advent.

Jesus uses the illustration of two people who are close to each other. The first illustration cannot get any closer. Family members; especially husband and wife. Husband and wife in bed, so it is night time. How about being sound asleep and waking up to judgment or to entering into the kingdom. Two in the same bed, and one goes one way, and one goes the other. One family member, the unbeliever will be taken away to judgment. The believer will remain to enter into the Millennial kingdom on earth.

This is not the rapture. This is the opposite of the rapture. Believer will be taken in the rapture; in the 2nd advent, it is the unbeliever who is taken.

In v. 35 is daytime.

Luke 17:35 There will be two women grinding together. One will be taken and the other left."

This takes place during the daytime, whereas, v. 34 was at night. This daylight timing shows that this 2nd advent moment will be worldwide; it will not just happen in Jerusalem.

There are brackets around v. 36, meaning that this is a suspect reading, and this was probably inserted later by a copyist. This is not a part of the original manuscript. It was likely inserted to harmonize with v. 18 in this chapter. That was the farmer who was not to return to get his overcoat.

Whether or not v. 36 is in the text does not change the meaning of this passage at all.

Luke 17:36 [Two men will be in the field; one will be taken and the other left.]

Now the disciples ask, "Where?"

Luke 17:37 And they said to Him, "Where, Lord?" He said to them, "Where the corpse is, there the vultures will gather."

So, how does the Lord go from judgment and the final days with this question. At the end of this teaching the disciples have a questions. Where will these people go? This is a pertinent question.

Unbelievers being taken wherever they reside on earth, experience an horrendous judgment. You want to know where they go?

Vultures are the garbage collectors. They see a dead animal and they want to eat that which is dead. What a perfect picture this is. We cannot misunderstand this illustration. Unbelievers are the walking dead, lifeless corpses. They are walking insofar as they are spiritually dead. There will be horrendous destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70 and vultures will have a field day.

The diaspora will continue until the end of time, and then the Jews will be regathered to Jerusalem. The Millennium will begin with believers only. They will be ruled as a physical nation by the Lord Jesus Christ.

Luke 18 coming up on Sunday or a special.

Lesson #0863 Luke 18:1 2Chron. 7:12–14 Life of Christ 7/3/2016 1Sun.

Freedom is won or lost; it must be bought at a very high price, mostly with blood. We are currently in the process of losing the freedoms that were gained over the centuries of our history. That loss is recognizable in many areas of government encroachment of our life, liberty and property. Which way will this process go?

With the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776, but that document did not consummate freedom. That process was just beginning. The high prose and lofty ideas cannot complete the freedom of a people. The Constitution and the Bill of Rights would have been worthless without the 6½ years of our fight for freedom. We as a people have the right of self-determination because of the fighting of our military over the centuries. As believers, we have great freedom as a result of military victory.

There is a forcing out of Christianity from public life today. We owe an immeasurable debt to our military men and women. All of those crosses in American cemeteries all over the world attest to that.

1st Lieutenant Alonzo Cushing; who was a pivotal figure in the fight for freedom. His moment during the War Between the States, reveals how freedom can hinge on one person in one moment of time. July 1–3, 1863 the Battle of Appomattox. It is ironic that this pivotal battle and the signing of the Declaration of Independence took place only a few miles apart.

He was raised in Freedonia, NY. Commissioned a 1st Lt. Artillery corps. He fought at Bull Run, Frecricksburg, Chancellorsville, and Gettysburg. He was killed in action on July 3, 1863, receiving a temporary promotion after his death, no other award was giving to Cushing for his amazing efforts. He was buried with full honors beneath a headstone faithful unto death. He was on the 7th of November awarded the Medal of Honor.

He distinguished himself by acts of bravery above and beyond the call of duty. Confederate forces led by Robt. E. Lee and cemetery ridge was the place where he was, and this was a key place in this battle. He was struck twice, in the arm, then the abdomen; and he would not leave his command. He stood anyway during Picket's charge. Struck in the mouth eventually by an enemy bullet and killed. What he did made it possible for the union to repel Picket's charge.

At the moment of Cushing's heroism and his death, the fate of an entire nation was in the balance. The confederacy had scored many successes in the war. This battle of Gettysburg was the moment the tide turned. Picket's charge was considered the highest point in the confederacy. He stood at the turning point of an entire war, and what he did then still affects us today. His stand was instrumental in preserving the union and providing emancipation for slaves. In a narrow sense, he is responsible for the freedom of millions of slaves.

After this, the confederacy was on the defensive. This was their last full offensive attack, culminating in Picket's charge, where the war turned.

Victory in battle and the death of gallant soldiers but this can be squandered. We are in another war, a war on two fronts. A religious war and there is a war for the soul of the United States. The religious war is the worst kind of external war, a war of fanatics dedicated to Satan. This front isn't the balance. The other war is equally destructive. Americans have lost sight this July 4th of freedom and its source. God and Christianity have departed from mainstream American life, it is squelched by Satanic voices, and there is strident humanism in its many forms. The future of client nation USA is in the balance, and this is a right for freedom to the finish. Will we capitulate to terrorism? Will we continue to reject the foundation of the doctrines of the Lord, upon which this nation was founded?

Regardless of the outcome, we as believers are kept by the power of God and sustained by the Bible doctrine in our souls. We have the greatest weapon, the power of prayer, and that power is the subject of Luke 18, which is our next study.

The disciples placed their faith in Jesus Christ, and they believed that He is the Messiah, but now, after all of this, they are down in the dumps. The kingdom would come, but far, far into the future. These disciples wanted to be a part of the coming kingdom, but they would not.

Jesus tried to pick up the disciples, to help them along, not to lose heart.

Jesus returns to teaching parables to bolster their spirits. The unrighteous judge and the persistent widow. These are critical to guide these disciples. The lesson they must hear and learn is the lesson of persistence. Why does a believer need persistence in prayer? Isn't just one prayer enough? Jesus answers prayers and He never neglects out requests.

It is normal to have a delay between your prayer and its answer. Jesus is teaching the disciples and us the quality of persistence, which is indispensable for the Christian life. Prayer and persistence are necessary to the Christian life.

Luke 18:1 And He told them a parable to the effect that they ought always to pray and not lose heart.

Pray without ceasing and on the other side, Teach the Word. We are never to lose heart; we are never to give up. We must persistently pray. And we must persistently pray for our nation, our President, for Congress, and for the Supreme Court justices. We must even pray for the religious understanding of our enemies. Pray for the economy, for law enforcement, for order and peace in our land, as we approach the season of the conventions. Pray for the persecution of believers; pray for unbelievers who might become positive toward the gospel.

We must not lose heart when there are bad leaders and bad decisions. Persistent prayer is extremely powerful and always effective; but so is negative volition and evil in this world. Prayer for a client nation and for those caught up in corruption and evil; we must pray daily for this nation.

2Ch 7:12 Then the LORD appeared to Solomon in the night and said to him: "I have heard your prayer and have chosen this place for myself as a house of sacrifice.

2Ch 7:13–14 When I shut up the heavens so that there is no rain, or command the locust to devour the land, or send pestilence among my people, if my people who are called by my name humble themselves, and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land.

Our national hope is centered on the power of prayer.

Lesson #0864

Prayer Luke 18:1 Life of Christ

7/3/2016 2Sunday

That last song was from To Hell and Back, and it has become the theme of the army infantry, the queen of battle. Those involved in the infantry from any service stand for that one.

Our subject in Luke 18 is even more powerful. Bobby reads the 3 verses which are fundamental to freedom.

Jesus will speak of the persistence of prayer, and you never need to worry about what is around you. You do not have to get down, to get depressed, to get into the dumps.

We understand also that our nation is greatly in need of prayer. We need to pray for our nation on a daily basis. Our only national hope is centered in the power of prayer. What is coming in the next few months, we will hardly believe it. It will be a 3 ring circus. Our government is encroaching on so much of our lives, but our national hope centers on our national persistence and prayer. Bobby is not saying don't vote; but please pray for the wisdom to select the best of the two candidates and which expresses divine establishment the most. There are churches and pastors telling you who to vote for and why. We should be able to take principles of Bible doctrine and make our own decision. The application ought to be very easy. Pray that, what the truth is, is so clear, that even unbelievers will recognize it. Pray that degeneracy and dishonesty be recognized by the electorate.

There is the function of prayer itself. We must maintain a faithful prayer life as a part of our Christian service. Faithful prayer is consistent and persistent. Persistent means that prayer is frequent, consistent, spontaneous, when necessary. One of the best ways to pray is on the spot. If you are driving, keep your eyes open or you are at a meeting; and you might wait. Prayer is critical. Persistent prayer is critical. Many prayers have been sent up on extraordinary circumstances or from tight places or for any person in need of prayer. Do not wait. Do not forget to pray. Use your most powerful weapon in combat. Use your weapon; return fire. This is the powerful instrument provided by and demanded by God. It is the means by which believers can uphold the throne of grace. The adversities of life may be beyond specific commands, exhortations and doctrines. Sometimes these situations are beyond what you have metabolized from the Word of God. Sometimes, there is not a 1, 2, 3 step answer. What do I do first, second; how do I get out of this.

Bobby may make applications from Bible doctrine, and give points on them. These are designed for when we are in trouble; but we still need to bring this situation to the Lord in prayer. What God expects is consistent prayer. He answers our requests. That is a guarantee.

Some don't pray and say, "He doesn't answer my prayers." Prayer is not a replacement for doctrine in the soul. Some people use prayer in that way. Some think that all problems can be solved by prayer, which is not necessarily true. God delays His answers from time to time, so that we receive training in the spiritual life, to use the doctrine that we have metabolized. You cannot separate the two; they go together. When you pray for yourself, you will get an answer.

God will fit our prayer to His plan, and sometimes, we won't even know He has answered our prayer. Sometimes, God may simply delay. This is not a replacement for doctrine. It is certainly a failsafe avenue for resolution. These prayers bring about developments that no one else realize would happen.

Bobby looks back at some things in his life, and he sees that his prayers were answered. That is what we can expect from God. The prevailing power of persistent prayer is the principle.

There is another reason why Jesus is mandating prayer is, He is mandating confidence in the Lord. His Word is true and all-encompassing. It also develops confidence in His care and keeping; logistical grace. Sometimes, we do not have total confidence. As we develop confidence, divine viewpoint stays in the forefront of our consciousness. We do not become confident in the Lord's care and keeping in that moment. The process of spiritual advance is what brings confidence; total confidence.

Prayer is our communication. When we are in fellowship, God hears our prayers, always, and He gives an answer to them. You do not have to be spiritual maturity in order to be effective in prayer. You can pray for the nation and every other category, and it will be effective. Do not ever overlook it.

God does not always answer prayers immediately. We will come to know that He faithfully answers. We will learn as we continue to grow from Scripture. But also by experiencing the answers to prayer in our lives. Know that he has us in mind always. We never leave His mind; we are never out of His mind. He knows all; he knows us and everything about Him. Prayer becomes a confidence builder and a necessity. We must gain knowledge of the power of prayer and use it.

We may not always be cognizant of His answers. When we grow, we will see how His answers and our growth intersect. We learn the futility of impatience when it comes to God's plan. People seek out emotional Christianity because they want to feel something. It begins and ends with what is in our soul so that we can learn something. We must learn the futility of impatience; the quality of persistence. Prayer does not have value in itself for building up confidence. Do not get ahead of yourself or ahead of God. And God always answers our prayer.

He answers us positively, negatively, or wait and see. He will always answer and it will always be to our best interest. So patience is absolutely necessary. By persistence in doctrine and prayer, we will gain faith rest and confidence, even when the answers are not exactly what we asked for or within the time frame that we wanted.

Some people do not like persistence or repetition; that is our society today. People cannot concentrate for very long. They lose concentration; they lose focus. This is to lose your momentum. Luke 18 is the fundamental teaching of the Word of God. Learn doctrine and pray. A microcosm of the Christian life.

Delays in the answers to prayer shows even more how the Lord is looking out for us. The longer you are patient with God for an answer, the more you know that He does not ever forget you. We cannot see God; we do not hear His voice. But when our prayers are answered, we realize that He did not forget us. Persistence in prayer backed by doctrine in your soul, elicits that growling reliance on the Lord.

The Lord knows that the disciples will need confidence and ability to rely upon Him; and they will bear the brunt of attacks when He is gone. They can no longer ask Him face to face; they can no longer get explanations for what they are in the middle of.

They should pray and never give up in their lives. People get enthused about something, and for awhile, they become very enthused. Sometimes, without getting answers, they lose some of this enthusiasm. Endurance is rare. That takes maturity. That is the lesson that we will learn from the first parable.

Lesson #0865

Luke 18:1–8 Life of Christ

7/6/2016 Wednesday

Technical problems; lost about first 20 minutes.

Luke 18:1 And He told them a parable to the effect that they ought always to pray and not lose heart.

Luke 18:2 He said, "In a certain city there was a judge who neither feared God nor respected man.

Traitors to Israel; traitors to the Jewish religion. We are supposed to render a judgment based upon the law and not based upon the people before them. A judge who is out for himself and out to gain a fortune for himself. How similar to the times during which we live. Injustice is rampant among us. There is the manipulations of social justice and social engineers who have their own ideas how society should function and they legislate it.

Socialism and its socialism adherents are really tyrannical. They must impose their injustice on others. They must dictate their regulations and laws in order to determine the lives of the people. Everyone has an idea about how you should live and they are imposing their ideas on you as to how you are to live.

Some judges do lean toward certain ideologies; and particularly in appellate courts. The Supreme Court is 4-4 conservative versus liberal. Some judges are filled with greed and/or ideology; so they abuse their power. That is who this widow is dealing with.

Luke 18:3 And there was a widow in that city who kept coming to him and saying, 'Give me justice against my adversary.'

Her pleas were falling on deaf ears. Injustice was prevailing. This judge was abusing Roman law for his own purposes. Widows were often targeted by corrupt men. Or there were people who did not look out for the widows. "You devour widow's houses." For pretense, they make long prayers. They pretend to be great paragons of virtue, but without respect for man or God.

This widow became the match for this judge. She would not take no for an answer. She was relentless with plaguing this judge for a ruling. She put up with no barriers. So this judge kept trying to turn her away.

Luke 18:4 For a while he refused, but afterward he said to himself, 'Though I neither fear God nor respect man,...

He has just defined himself as corrupt.

Luke 18:5 ...yet because this widow keeps bothering me, I will give her justice, so that she will not beat me down by her continual coming."

She kept pestering him. She is the constant dripping of water.

Hupopiazô with the pronoun με. To strike one beneath the eye, to beat black and blue. This woman could have been a cage fighter. She was formidable. She was just persistent. That is the key to this illustration. She never quit; she never backed down. She never got discouraged.

So, the judge wanted to be rid of this pest. She was taking up too much of his time. She was highlighting his lack of justice and this exposed him for his faults and unjust judgments. She was becoming famous in that city; and the judge was getting nervous. He could make a martyr out of her or he could give in to her.

There is no profit from giving her, her way, but it would be worth it to get her out of his hair. She won her case through nagging persistence.

She is not an activist standing up for some cause, standing up against something that she thought was tyrannical. She was not attacking people and destroying property. She is not a protestor; she was simply using the law. It was about her and her need.

This is parallel to prayer. She has a situation that she cannot ignore. There is a practical urgency in her persistence, just as there is in prayer.

Now the moral of the story.

Luke 18:6 And the Lord said, "Hear what the unrighteous judge says.

The judge gives in to her. I will give you protection; just get out of my court.

Luke 18:7 And will not God give justice to His elect, who cry to Him day and night? Will He delay long over them?

Luke 18:8 I tell you, He will give justice to them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will He find faith on earth?"

The Meaning of this Parable

1. What a great example about the adversity of prayer. Won't God bring about results for those who pester Him day and night?

2. This is a rhetorical question. Something we must ask ourselves; and a positive answer is expected.
3. Of course God will bring His absolute justice to bear on this situation.
4. And God will not delay very long over them without answering them.
5. The result: the elect believers should have confidence; persistence means confidence.
6. The justice of God is always in operation, regardless of the extend of time that He takes to wield that justice. The justice of God is always in operation.
7. The assurance is the fact that God's justice will prevail. It is a foregone conclusion which we never need to question. When injustice is rampant, the justice of God is always in operation. No one gets away with anything. Do you think that the leaders of this country are getting away with it? Lying, cheating, corruption. God's justice is always in operation.

Certain people in this country are going nuts over what the FBI has just announced. What do you mean there is no intent? We do not need to worry about it. The justice of God is still operative. No one gets away with anything.

There does seem to be a disconnect between justice without delay and swiftly or quickly; and crying to Him day and night. Answers to prayer are not instantaneous. This is not like making wishes to a genie. That is not the way that prayer works. Prayer might be answered the next day or in short order; nor are they forthcoming in an acceptable time frame for us. Prayers are not always answered when we want them to be answered. Persistence and swiftness are not antithetical.

There is a necessity for persistence. This is even if God's response appears to be long delayed. God's method of answering is not always understood by those in prayer. When God delays, even a short time, people become impatient at that delay.

What Believers must Understand

1. The delay in answering a prayer is a lesson in God's longsuffering and His faithfulness.
2. In due time, He will answer and even reward patient, persistent prayer. That is His method in answering prayer. He delays. Persistence is the method.
3. So the swiftness of the answer is an incentive to get to praying. If you want an answer anytime soon, start praying and don't stop.
4. When you make a request, the ball gets rolling, and persistence means that you can expect an answer.
5. Time is not the issue in answers to prayer. Persistence is. You can pray for yourself; you can pray for others; you can pray for your country.

The parable of the unjust judge lives up to its name.

Luke 18:2 He said, "In a certain city there was a judge who neither feared God nor respected man.

This man had no regard for justice towards mankind.

Luke 18:3 And there was a widow in that city who kept coming to him and saying, 'Give me justice against my adversary.' Or, "Give me legal protection from my opponent."

The woman was receiving unjust treatment from this judge. It did not matter to this judge; he was a tough nut to crack. He was not going to dispense any justice verdict.

The woman keeps returning to his court to get legal remedy. She refused to take no for an answer. She was relentless in plaguing this judge for a favorable ruling. Widows did need protection in that era.

Luke 18:4 For a while he refused, but afterward he said to himself, 'Though I neither fear God nor respect man,...

He was unwilling to give her justice. It is amazing that he put up with her at all.

The judge was in a quandary. Her persistence revealed his unjust actions to others. His corruption became obvious to all around him. He could not punish this woman in front of everyone. That would have caused a revolt.

The man is thinking, "Even though I do not fear God or respect man,..." he admits to himself.

Luke 18:5 ...yet because this widow keeps bothering me, I will give her justice, so that she will not beat me down by her continual coming."

She beats me down, so I will give her justice; she wins her case through persistence. The believer must be persistent in prayer, even though the answer from God may be delayed for a short time.

The disciples need this instruction. They are very down after the revelations of Luke 17; because what they were looking forward to would not happen. Furthermore, the Lord would no longer be with them. Jesus needs to bolster their confidence. They will receive assurance of the Lord's care and guidance, even though He will not be present with them.

There is assurance that He cares for us and He gives us guidance. We, as believers, will have a lifeline. The line that we have is a direct line through prayer through the throne of grace. The disciples must be relentless when it comes to the use of this lifeline.

The instruction of this parable is for the disciples to continually use this line to God through prayer.

People have problems with prayer because of impatience. They pray and they get no immediate answer. Bobby heard through the grapevine, someone said, "Why do we pray anyway, as God's plan is going to happen no matter what." First, we pray because we are told to pray. Do not take the deterministic viewpoint that what will be will be. Islam is like that; Islam seems to ignore all manner of free will in man.

Luke 18:6 And the Lord said, "Hear what the unrighteous judge says.

Jesus tells what has happened, and now the Lord talks about what the judge said. What he said was, "Get out of here; you get the ruling that you want."

Luke 18:7 And will not God give justice to his elect, who cry to Him day and night? Will He delay long over them?

If God's elect cry to Him day and night? Won't he, the just Judge, do it willingly?

Luke 18:8 I tell you, He will give justice to them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will He find faith on earth?"

God's Response to Persistent Prayer

1. God will bring His absolute justice to bear, especially if His saints pray to Him.
2. He will not wait long to provide a just solution for us. This is a promise. You will get an answer. It might not be what you expected or asked for.
3. This is a guarantee of an answer. "I have the worst boss ever; kill him, Lord." Won't get that answered, but you can pray for relief.
4. So the elect believers should have confidence for the justice of God never fails; it is always in operation. Therefore, ask for it. God is waiting to exercise His justice.
5. You should have confidence regardless of the extent of time that He takes to wield His justice. If God's answers to prayer are swift and just, why does it require persistent prayer from us? Won't answers come without persistent prayer? Because of certain delays in answers, persistence is needed from us.

Let me suggest that this is all a part of the Angelic Conflict.

Prayer and Persistence

1. In His timing, God will reward patient and persistent prayer, in His timing. The timing is quickly. Justice will be forthcoming. It may not be obvious to us. Justice still abides. Whatever we ask for, we will get an answer. If we face injustice, then God wants prayer from us. It can also be a learning experience. God in His justice will work against injustice. Bobby has often told those being unjustly treated, and they say, "Nothing ever happens; things just get worse and worse." But you do not know what is happening behind the scenes, what pressures are brought to bear against them.
2. That is God's method for answering prayer.
3. Time is not the issue in answers to prayer. Persistence is the issue.

4. Swift justice and persistence go together. They are two sides of the same coin. God did not give us a number of days or weeks during which this will all come to pass. The understanding of persistence on our part. The woman's just need was taken care of because of her persistence. She got what she wanted. The judge was not necessarily harmed over it. The idea of swift justice means a guarantee that God will bring it, based upon His timetable. God's justice may seem to be slow because He has His Own timetable. There is no reluctance or disregard or forgetfulness on His part. It is His desire to fulfill all His purposes for all believers. In that sense, God's answers are not slow, but swift, but they are based on His timing. 2Peter 3:9 The Lord is not slow to fulfill his promise as some count slowness, but is patient toward you, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should reach repentance. What we think might be slow is not slow by God's timetable. Time is nothing to God; He is eternal. Time is a moment to work His will.

Our Requests to God

1. There may be more involved than just our personal request and our own timing. We make requests to the Lord and He will answer. There is more involved than just our own request.
2. Our request might be part of a bigger picture in God's plan, and that takes time to develop. There are more people in God's plan than just us.
3. If there is a delay, others are likely involved in God's answer to us. We are not isolated; God does not put you in front of everyone else. There is no preference in God. He takes care of everyone of us equally.
4. God will answer us while taking into account the best interest of others. Two people can pray for opposing things. God takes all that into account.
5. God's plan overall must come to fruition. It will come to pass at the right time in the right way. Don't forget that we are not alone in the plan of God.
6. God never forgets us or our requests.
7. It all works out in God's time in the way that God has designed it. This is why persistence is necessary.

Sometimes God delays and answer to someone else when it conflicts with His best will for us.

Taking Everyone Who Prays into Account

1. Takes everyone into account when answering your prayers.
2. He takes into account the best answers for all.
3. Truly with God, no one is left behind, overlooked or forgotten.
4. A delay by God often means, He is planning something better than we have requested, but it must be developed. God knows how everything fits together by means of His Own omniscience, and how to take into account everyone's prayers.

5. God allows time and He expects our patience and perseverance. He fits them altogether and He makes them work out the way that they should. This is so He can fulfill His perfect will in each of our lives.

For those who do not seem to have any recourse in life, God allows our persistence in prayer to alleviate evil in our lives. Do not give up, do not lose heart, even if God's justice does not immediately kick in. The Supreme Court of Heaven is always in session. The justice of God is never misplaced. This includes prayer for our great country which is losing its greatness.

Some Summary Points

1. God's justice is available when we persistently ask for it.
2. It may not happen just the way we want it to happen.
3. Justice might include divine judgment toward a person or toward a client nation. God abides evil for only so long. We pray for our nation and our national leaders and our economy. We may be so far gone that the justice of God has another plan. Pray that it does not happen, but it might.
4. God's judgments of evil and justice may include discomfort or pain for us, especially when it is national judgment, because we are a part of the nation.
5. That does not preclude His personal care and keeping of us in every circumstance. Justice towards us regarding the bigger picture.
6. Persistence in prayer is necessary in times of injustice or injury, particularly when there is injury suffered by us.

Jesus argument here is a natural argument. The judge final gives in to the widow, he relents, not because he likes her or because he become good and just. His motives are still self-centered. He wants her to go away and get off his back.

The prevailing power of persistence in prayer. God uses this parable to point out to the disciples that little phrase. What is meant for harm, God turns for good, aided by persistence in prayer. That is what His justice does. The Lord applies this principle to His disciples in a very memorable way. He uses inescapable a fortiori logic in this case. It means, if the lesser then the greater.

The A Fortiori Argument

1. What is the lesser? The lesser is the unrighteous judge who gives in to the persistence of the widow. This is what makes our Lord such a great teacher. She is delivered.
2. What is the greater? How much more will God, Who is absolute justice and always responsive to the persistent prayer; how much more will God, Who is absolute justice, respond to persistent prayer from the elect? God is the greater; this judge is the lesser.
3. A fortiori; of course God will respond with great compassion.

Why can't I get this kind of response from God? It just takes doctrine and some practice at application to improve our confidence. Some of us may have not done this or done it so rarely, to get the hang of it.

In this way, a fortiori is worked out in our soul

The Term Elect

1. This is a rare use of the term elect by our Lord. This use opens a contrast. He uses it for a very important reason to make a contrast.
2. It would be hard to make a greater contrast. This is a great contrast.
3. Why does God make this comparison? This is God's indignation toward adversaries who would oppress the elect.
4. So the term elect emphasizes God's unlimited care for believers.
5. God can use human evil, sin and oppression for our benefit. God's justice still and always abides. Even if enemies seem to prosper, we still need to be persistent in prayer. He still works all things out together for good. The enemies of Jesus Christ will not prosper forever. They will not prosper over a long period of time. God will handle them. That is the faith rest rationale. The unfailing justice of God. So the importance of persistence in prayer.

What is happening in our country today may seem hopeless. We are headed in the direction where people believe things that are evil and wrong. Good has become evil and evil has become good.

God can do anything, and we must be persistent in our prayer for this nation, no matter how much judgment falls upon us. Throughout it all, God's justice will take care of us. He delivers through persistence in prayer.

Lesson #0867

Luke 18: Life of Christ

7/10/2016 1Sunday

The Eucharist July 10, 2016

We must remember Who Christ is and what He accomplished for us.

Being alone is quite difficult for most people. Companionship is a common human need; most people are not reclusive. At one time or another, all of us have been isolated. If we have experienced strong isolation, this gives us an idea as to the work of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Psalm 102:6–7 I am like a desert owl of the wilderness, like an owl of the waste places; I lie awake; I am like a lonely sparrow on the housetop.

This psalm is a psalm of isolation.

Psalm 102:8 All the day my enemies taunt me; those who deride me use my name for a curse.

He continues in v. 10:

Psalm 102:9–10 For I eat ashes like bread and mingle tears with my drink, because of your indignation and anger; for you have taken me up and thrown me down.

God is never against us. He is always for us.

Psalm 102:11–12 My days are like an evening shadow; I wither away like grass. But you, O LORD, are enthroned forever; you are remembered throughout all generations.

Our consideration of Him always brings hope and rescue. This is a Messianic psalm, that foretells to Israel about her Messiah. It unfolds the depths of His anguish and humiliation. This is the story of the suffering of the Lord Jesus Christ and of the exaltation of His accomplishment. From the beginning, Israel understood that the Lord would establish a great kingdom of Israel and deliver them from her enemies. But they rejected His sufferings and . They saw the crown, but did not expect the cross. But this psalm speaks of his suffering on our behalf.

The Lord here is likened to the imagery of isolated animals. Two of the birds are unclean. The unclean indicates something which is rejected. This is the lengths to which He would go to redeem the progeny of Adam.

The pelican is a misshapen, ugly bird. The owl is an oddity among the avian clan. Nocturnal staring wide-eyed over looking a barren landscape. Who has not seen a sparrow appearing lonely and forlorn. The Lord is likened to these creatures. He is not compared here to a dove bring peace, or a bird with a lovely song, or the powerful, majestic eagle. But these birds do not speak of His majesty, but of His humanity.

Most of us have spent time in a strange airport, not knowing a single soul there, watching hundreds of people wanting to get to their destination. A place bursting with life, and no one cares about a solitary figure. Bobby never sees any smiles in an airport. This was the existence of our Savior during His time on this earth. He was surrounded by family and later by His disciples who accompanied Him everywhere. Yet He was isolated by misunderstanding. He was the loneliness of greatness. He was solely equipped as the Savior of mankind, and He stands as a Mediator between heaven and earth.

George Bernard Shaw: "Yes, I am alone on earth, I have always been alone. Do not think that you can frighten me by telling me I am alone. France is alone; God is alone; and what is my loneliness before my country...the loneliness of God is His strength. It is better to be alone with God. In His strength, I will dare until I die." the words of Joan of Ark written by Shaw.

We cannot study the 4 gospels without seeing how Jesus loved people and was with them often, and enjoying companionship. Mark 3:14 He appointed 12 that they might be with Him. Even though He surrounded Himself with the 12, there was always this gap. They failed to understand Him, they misinterpreted Him; they were filled with doubt and self-centeredness. They had little faith, even though they were with the Lord. They had such meager cognizance of His mission or sufferings to come. It is no different with us. We are isolated while with people who lack understanding.

Following the virgin birth, Mary bore other children by Joseph. In His early life, Jesus was in the company of half-brothers and sisters. Mention was made of this relationship. Matt. 13:55–57 Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary? And are not his brothers James and Joseph and Simon and Judas? And are not all his sisters with us? Where then did this man get all these things?" And they took offense at him. But Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown and in his own household."

Jesus was born in loneliness and He lived in loneliness. He experienced loneliness in His home. "The foxes have holes and the birds have nests, but the Son of Man has no place to lay His head." He owned no property; He carried no money. He had a borrowed grave to be buried in.

Jesus warned His disciples of His upcoming suffering, and the disciples disparaged these things. The disciples should have understood that the mission of the Lord was about to be consummated.

Matt. 26:39 "My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass from Me. Yet, not as I will, but as You will." He was separate from all other people and even from God the Father. He was instantly reminded of that isolation. "You men could not even keep watch with Me even for one hour?" If ever He needed comfort, support and love, it was this moment. He just had no human support. But He could only accomplish reconciliation for us all alone.

All that Jesus did was for the purpose of blessing others. He sacrificed everything for us, who deserve absolutely nothing. He accepted the limitations of a human body and the limitations of human life. He would become the redeemer of all mankind. Jesus Christ walked the winepress alone, and of the people, there were none with Me.

At the end of His life, one disciple forsook Him, another betrayed Him, and most of them would not remain for His crucifixion. His total abandonment was all too apparent when He called out, "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?" The Lord was disowned by God the Father. All of that isolation and deprivation was for us.

Therefore, do not panic if you are alone or despised.

Bobby will be gone this week in TN. No class this week, Wed/Thurs.

There are two parables in this chapter. The first was about the unjust judge. The disciples are depressed because they will not see the Great Kingdom. This is a Jewish appointed judge by Rome. He was cruel and corrupt, as so many of them were. He revealed this in his treatment of a poor widow who needed help. In a certain city, there was a certain judge who did not fear God or man. There is a widow in the city who kept coming to him. She kept this up, asking for legal protection from her opponent. The judge would not hear her appeals; and this is the opposition that the disciples would face in the future. The key is persistence. The widow wins the day against the injustice that she faced. Just as the disciples would face the injustice in the future.

Lesson #0868

Luke 18: Life of Christ

7/10/2016 2Sunday

This unjust judge will give her protection because she wears him out. It is persistence that gets this woman justice. Persistence that the Lord highlights in this parable

Luke 18:4 For a while he refused, but afterward he said to himself, 'Though I neither fear God nor respect man,

The kind of man that you do not want judging your case.

Luke 18:5 yet because this widow keeps bothering me, I will give her justice, so that she will not beat me down by her continual coming.'"

Persistence is what is being taught.

Luke 18:6 And the Lord said, "Hear what the unrighteous judge says.

Luke 18:7 And will not God give justice to his elect, who cry to him day and night? Will he delay long over them?

They cry to him day and night. This is logic of the a fortiori kind. From the lesser to the greater. He uses that to indicate that if a crooked judge answers to persistent requests, how much more will God not answer to persistent requests. If this judge responds to persistence, how much more a just God?

In His timing, God will reward and respect consistent and persistent prayer. A prayer unleashes the power of God. Some believers take prayer for granted.

"Look, God's plan is already set; why do I need to pray?" That prayer is related to you and anyone else that you pray for. The free will of man continues even side-by-side the plan of God.

Luke 18:8a I tell you, he will give justice to them speedily.

The judge did not bring justice to the woman quickly; but the Lord will, on His time schedule. We think of quickly as hours or days. God counts quickness based upon time and the fruition of His plan. What we consider a delay is not slowness when it comes to God. Time is just a moment for God to work His will. There will always be an answer forthcoming for our prayers. Sometimes, it takes longer than others. Sometimes we have prayers answered fairly quickly, and sometimes it takes years. We might recall, "Oh, I did request something like that in the far distance past." God always has our best interest at heart.

God is not a genie; we do not get 3 wishes that happen suddenly. Time in answering prayer is not the issue. Don't give up; do not lose heart. So many times God promotes consistent prayer as the solution. Sometimes there is no other recourse in life, like this widow before the unjust judge. Sometimes, the only way is to God. Do not give up, do not lose heart; and do not be concerned that justice is not delivered when you think it ought to be. Pray for your national leaders whether you vote for them or not.

Make your requests known to God and He will direct your paths.

There are times coming of injustice and persecution. We know about this coming from a mile away. There will be persecution all the way to His return at the 2nd Advent. Sin natures are rampant. The world is filled with injustice and hatred toward Christians. Evil ideologies and deniers of God; they always hate the truth and they always oppose it.

When we suffer injustice, then we need to be persistent in our prayers to God. Also relax with confidence in utilizing the faith rest drill. Prayer is a spiritual refuge for us. It also requires application of doctrine in every circumstance. Prayer and doctrine; unbeatable combination in a world of injustice.

People think that injustice can be eradicated, but it cannot. There are those who want social justice, and they will tyrannize one group to get it for another group. There is only one Supreme Court of Heaven and the Lord is justice.

If God's answers seems delayed and if He seems delayed to respond, in all probability, it is us who are impatient. God is preparing a greater blessing while we, as a believer, build trust and maturity. There is a faith rest rationale, the justice of God rationale. It never fails and it never quits. Never too great for the justice of God.

No one gets away with anything. You may think that they are; you may think there are people in high places who get away with everything that you don't know.

God's answers are never late; they are perfectly on time, just at the right time. There are times when injustice appears to be winning. Bobby speaks against Christian activism, when believers try to impose a Christian solution upon a secular world. Relying on the justice of God is what we should do.

Bobby is not saying that believers should withdraw from society. We are in this world; we are just not of this world. We must never fail to stand for what is right and what is truth. There is a big difference between activism and doctrinal application. The latter takes place in our souls. It is a natural inclination for those with integrity to do something. When good men fail to do something, evil results. The difference between Christian activism and Bible doctrine. Corruption is always all around us. We are going to hear so many promises. We are going to correct this and that, and justice will be preserved. But no person can do that. That justice of God is in operation. Do not depend upon man to fix injustice in this world. The world is filled with sin natures, and they cannot be harnessed by the plans of men. There is only one way to change a sin nature. It comes down to the failure of man, as over against the success of the plans of man. Remember that during this political season.

So many believers are immersed in having Christian standards be upheld by the state. At best, the state will uphold laws of divine establishment. Activism will not change peoples core thinking about divine establishment.

The LGBT crowd will never accept the Biblical definition of marriage. Christians are so upset. It is pure degeneracy; let's have a law about marriage. Humanists will never accept divine solutions. If they accepted the authority of the Bible, they would not be that way (full time).

If the believer opposes these things; you are called homophobe, racist, bigot. Real hate is not in the believer; the hate comes from these groups who despise the standards of Scripture and believers.

Christian activism does not change their thinking. Only the gospel and Bible doctrine can change the thinking of others. Our time is better spend in prayer and growing to spiritual maturity. Bobby is not discouraging anyone from voting; whether you agree with every position that they espouse or not. As a result, the worst of the worst becomes the leadership. How dumb and inflexible is that? There will never be a political candidate who agrees with everything that you agree with. They can't, or they wouldn't be a politician. You do not violate doctrinal standards when voting for the candidate who will best preserve the client nation. This is Satan's world and many serve him, including many politicians.

God's justice never fails and He will use opposition for His Own purposes. God uses opposition for His Own purposes is revealed in the cross.

If the election does not turn out as you want it to, don't move to Australia. There are two rationales given to us for this year from Bobby. When we panic during this election cycle, because evil is proliferating. We are called to persistent prayer, between now and the election. That is the best approach.

Know for certain, as Gen. 18:25b Shall not the Judge of all the earth do justly?

So Jesus makes a conclusion.

Luke 18:8b Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will he find faith on earth?"

Faith prior to some of these episodes will be nearly gone and injustice will be rampant. The Tribulation will reveal great injustice. Like the remnant of Jewish believers during the 2nd nothing to recommend them at all. They knew that they needed a pardon outside of religion. They did not have anything that could be seen as worthy to God.

Matthew just dropped everything that he was doing and followed the Lord. He had nothing good to offer the Lord.

Religion persecutes. Islam today is following the Koran. This is a religion and they are in a war of faith. The Apostle Paul killed Christians. He was a terrorist. When he showed up, people began to die. Paul became the Apostle of grace when he finally left religion behind.

The self righteous pharisees saw no need for God's grace. They could see the sins of everyone else, but they could not see their own. That is a quality of legalistic religion. This haughty attitude in the pharisee reveals itself in its prayer. The pharisee stood and was praying and he was praying this to himself.

Luke 18:11 The Pharisee, standing by himself, prayed thus: 'God, I thank you that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector.

Luke 18:12 I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I get.'

What a prayer of self praise! The pharisees were very greedy; and Bobby guarantees that he did not tithe of all his income. The religious person sees himself as righteous. Everyone else is unrighteous. They compare themselves to some sinner as if they themselves have no sin. This sort of prayer is them presenting their own credentials to God. That is the evil of religion.

The God-bless me prayer. I have dropped a couple of C-notes in the offertory so now You should bless me. At a memorial service that Bobby went to, the money given by the deceased was noted; but the gospel and the grace of God were not.

Every legalist is self-centered. They see themselves as morally and religiously superior. They do this while they condescend to be around others. They are very impressed with their own holiness and service and dedication. They see themselves as worthy of God's grace. This is how they think. They do not understand grace. The more doctrine that you have, the more grace oriented you become. Legalists are so impressed with themselves.

Comparative righteousness. Their legalism compared to anyone else; like antinomians.

There are trends to a sin nature. There is legalism, antinomianism; immoral versus moral. The legalist is beyond reproach. There is no sin in the moral man. This is totally blind arrogance. The pharisee and the tax collector both have different sin nature trends. One is not any better than the other.

The pharisees do not see their own sins; but they readily identify the sins of the tax collector. They are moral and legalistic; yet they spend their time judging others. He is not without sin, but he sees himself as being without sin.

They set up this comparison, and then they form a pompous facade.

Rom. 2:1 is coming up.

Lesson #0870

Luke 18: Life of Christ

7/17/2016 2Sunday

The legalist mentality see themselves as moral and righteous; because their sins are more refined and hidden. They legalists judge the antinomians and they verbalize it.

Luke 18:11–12 The Pharisee, standing by himself, prayed thus: 'God, I thank you that I am not like other men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week; I give tithes of all that I get.'

He berates others and talks himself up. It is easy to see what the pharisee trends are.

Introduced by...

Rom 1:18 For God's extreme anger is being revealed from heaven against all the godlessness and wickedness of people who restrain the truth [from being known and obeyed] by their wickedness.

Rom 1:19 For what is known about God is plain to these people [i.e., to the Gentiles], because God has made it clear to them.

Rom 1:20 For since the creation of the world, God's invisible qualities of eternal power and divine nature have been clearly seen, [capable of] being perceived through the things that He has made. So, these people have no excuse [i.e., for not believing in Him].

Rom 1:21 Now they knew who God was, but they did not honor Him as God or thank Him [for their blessings]. Instead they engaged in their useless speculations and their foolish minds were filled with [spiritual] darkness.

Rom 1:22 They claimed to be wise, but became fools,

Rom 1:23 and exchanged the honor belonging to the immortal God for the statues of mortal men, and birds, and animals and reptiles.

Rom 1:24 So, God allowed [or, abandoned] them to have the impure desires of their hearts, and to [practice] degrading behavior with their bodies among themselves.

Rom 1:25 For they exchanged God's truth for the [devil's] lie, and worshiped and served what was created instead of the Creator, who is to be praised forever. May it be so.

Rom 1:26 For this reason God allowed [or, abandoned] them to [practice] degrading passions; for their women exchanged the natural function [i.e., of sex] for what is against nature [i.e., lesbianism].

Rom 1:27 And men did the same thing, leaving the natural function [i.e., of sex] with women, and burning in their desire for each other. Men committed indecent [sexual] acts with other men [i.e., homosexuality], and [so] brought on themselves the penalty they deserved for this perversion.

Rom 1:28 And since these people refused to acknowledge God, He has allowed [or, abandoned] them to have degraded minds and to practice those things which they should not do.

Rom 1:29 They are full of all kinds of wickedness, evil, greed, and maliciousness. They are full of envy, murder, strife, deceit and malice. They are gossips,

Rom 1:30 slanderers, hateful toward God, arrogant, proud and boastful. They think up evil things to do; they disobey their parents;

Rom 1:31 they do not have any sense; they do not keep their promises; they fail to show natural affection; and they are merciless.

Rom 1:32 These people know that God's decrees require that those who practice such things deserve to die [i.e., either spiritual or temporal punishment], yet they not only do the same things [themselves], but even approve of other people who practice them.

Every person has their own set of excuses. Paul says, there is no excuse.

Rom 2:1 So, whoever you are, you people do not have any excuse for judging people [Note: At this point Paul begins addressing the Jews. See verse 17]. For in a matter where you judge someone else [to be wrong] you [actually] condemn yourselves, because you are practicing the same things [you condemn them for doing].

Those of you who judge practice the same things. Terrible immoralities, which includes homosexuality and lesbianism as an overt sin. The fact that this is in Rom. 1:26 and that we must accept that these are sins, and this is why we will be persecuted, because we believe it. These are sins; they are overt sins; it is a sexual sin. But there are all kinds of other sins. The only problem is, there is more to this sin than with others. The problems with Sodom and Gomorrah. We have seen what proliferation of homosexuality within a nation brings on discipline from God. There is a degeneracy attached to it. That is what makes it so insidious. No need to be self righteous about this. "I would never do that; they are horrible people." There are the depths of human depravity. Those who are judging are judging the immoral people are judging those in the previous chapter. Yet, they practice the same things. This does not mean that the legalists are practicing the same sins of Rom. 1, but that legalists are no more righteous than the sinners of Rom. 1. Your sins are the same, even though they are different. Their sin is equally bad. It is just a different category of sin. When you say, "I would never do that," you have become self righteous just as those who are self righteous about anything else. Ironically, the religious person is only better in his own mind; but we are all unworthy. We all have sinful trends.

The legalist looks over here and says, "Gosh, that looks like fun," and maybe they drift into that area. Sometimes the antinomian is a reform rake, and they become self righteous. Trends can change. Nevertheless, there is a dominant trend in your life.

The Lord hears our prayers. When we are in fellowship, then God hears us, regardless of our sinful trends. No matter what our trend is. This puts the believer in the mode of prayer.

Always begin a prayer with a prayer of rebound. Bobby appreciates the prayers of others; but make your prayers effective. Follow the protocol. God has given us a fantastic grace technique of rebound to insure our ability to pray effectively. Self-righteousness excludes those who are not approved of by the self righteous. You unleash the omnipotence of God through a grace prayer. The power of persistent prayer.

This parable is a classic put down of Christ by self righteous religiosity. This can affect all or most of us. There are certain types of prayers and prayers for self and then there is another category of prayer that we do not hear about too much. This is a prayer offered to God in which the believer is praying who wants justice or retribution.

The Imprecatory prayer is so often misused by the self righteous. Someone has injured you, gossiped about you, or has harmed you. So you pray, "Kill them; hurt them. Show me what You can do to these unjust people." This is a valid type of prayer, but it must be directed toward God's justice, to the Supreme Court of Heaven, which then leaves everything to the justice of God. You do not need to name those who you do not like. You simply leave it in the hands of God. Any Imprecatory prayer must be directed toward God's justice.

God has a plan for others which does not include those cursing them. We sometimes want God to do something for us, which is a legitimate request. When we do not get the answer to that prayer, we fail to recognize that God takes into account everyone's prayer. Life is not just about you. Our prayers should not include a request for the demise of your enemies. You are too focused on the faults and sins of others. That way, you are constantly out of fellowship, and God will not answer that prayer. God will not discipline someone simply because you want Him to. God knows how and when to discipline others and He does not necessarily need our help in that regard. If we want to judge someone, it comes back on our heads. Be careful about your imprecatory prayers. You may get the discipline yourself.

In this political system, do not call for the wrath of God to come upon some politician or upon some national leader. Such wrath may include the entire nation. Even if they are a socialist or a liberal, remember that God's justice is justice. If our nation deserves judgment, then it will come upon us. It will not be simply upon one person, even if there are many things that they do that you do not like. Bobby is not talking about other churches. Jesus was not just talking about the pharisees; there is a more universal application. He was speaking to some self righteous pharisees and to others, including His followers. His Own disciples might lean toward arrogance.

The growing believer can become confused and lean toward judgmental legalism. A verse from the Psalms. A haughty look. The intercessory prayer is not a judgmental prayer. Some believers pray in public to get the respect or interest of others.

Jesus was teaching to head off a developing arrogance in His Own disciples. Examine yourself every once and awhile. When you do that, you are judging. Let the Lord handle other people and other churches.

Luke 18:13 But the tax collector, standing far off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, 'God, be merciful to me, a sinner!'

These men are in the Temple praying. Body position and exaggerated movement and a loud holy voice, none of these things are special approaches to God. Lifting up your hands toward heaven do not get the prayer there any faster.

The crying out of amen, brother breaks the concentration of those who are there. Loud, conspicuous prayers.

We often think of prayer as being on your knees. This is started that we come before the King of Kings with bowed knees. However, there are some who cannot do this. It does not add or detract from one's prayer. It does not speed up a response from God. Even bowing one's head, even done in respect, does not increase one's prayer effectiveness. Your place of prayer or bodily position does not matter. Be in fellowship; concentrate on what you are doing so that it comes to mind who you should pray for. Sometimes, it is good to even write it down. Or pray when you think of something.

You should not say, amen, praise God or anything else like that in a public prayer meeting or during church. It breaks the concentration of others. This happened in a prayer meeting recently. It disturbs others; he did not return. He may not like the way things are done in Berachah.

The pharisees prayed to be noticed, applauded, congratulating. Do not forget that the mode or prayer is centered in the mental attitude of the one praying, which is one of humility in approaching the throne of grace.

Do not ever make an issue of yourself in prayer. You are not the issue. You can make personal requests; but God and His justice are what are key. The difference between grace and self centeredness.

Luke 18: Life of Christ

7/20/2016 Wednesday

In California

Rom 2:2 Now we [Jews] know that God's judgment against people who practice such things [i.e., the Gentiles] is according to truth. [Note: Some use "You say," at the beginning of the sentence, making it an assertion of the Jews which Paul sets about to answer].

Rom 2:3 But consider this, you people who judge others for practicing the same things you [yourselves] practice; do you think you will escape God's judgment [for this]?

Luke 18:14 I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted."

Luke 18:15 Now they were bringing even infants to him that he might touch them. And when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

Combo translation: And they were bringing their young children to Him, so that He might lay His hands on them and pray. But when the disciples saw it, they began rebuking those who brought them.

Why would children be brought and why would the disciples object to what was going on? Should the Lord pay attention to them? The why is related to entrance into the Kingdom of Heaven. As far as the disciples objecting to the situation, they have misunderstood its purpose. They see this entertainment of children as a total waste of time.

They cannot reason or exercise faith in Christ. Previously studied, the age of accountability.

Age of Accountability

1. When a child reaches a point of God consciousness; or recognizes the possibility of the existence of a Supreme Being. A baby recognizes only their own needs.
2. If this person who has reached God consciousness desires to have further knowledge about this unknown God, or to have some personal connection with Him, but they might want some kind of relationship with Him.
3. If the person has positive signals, then God will provide them with the gospel, the only means of having a relationship with God. They can make a decision for and against Christ. God is bound by His Own Word.
4. It is also clear that babies have not reached God consciousness where they can understand the gospel. Until they do, they are not culpable for any decision. If they die before reaching that age, they are automatically saved. David lost his firstborn child with Bathsheba. David said, “He will not come back to me, but I will go to him.”
5. Therefore, thought and reasoning are necessary abilities in order to reach God consciousness. People reach that age at different times.

6. The specific age that this occurs varies, based upon the individual and it depends upon several factors. IQ, geographical location, education and other factors.
7. The mechanics of God consciousness, based on the 3 systems of perception. Empiricism (use of the senses); then there is rationalism, the process of thinking or logic; and finally, there is faith.
8. For the child, faith is the fundamental system of perception. The child determines reality by the confidence he has in the authority of others. You can tell them falsehoods and you can give them the gospel. As a parent, you are their authority. When you give them the gospel, they will believe. Very young children can make such a decision.
9. That faith process of perception does not always hold true for those who hold more reasoning power as their age increases. Once you get past a certain point.
10. There are logical ways that God consciousness can express itself in a person later in life. It requires the ability to reason formed at the age of accountability. It is beyond the ability of a child.

There are rational, logical approaches whereby the human mind can understand the concept of God and the reality of God. These are called theistic arguments. Does God exist, which is a major consideration in the human race. These arguments move past the range of human experience and beyond human knowledge, to consider the infinite, which is the realm of a Supreme Being. These approaches may be avenues. Who else is out there? Who is the Designer and the Creator? With this approach, you can receive gospel information; but faith is the closer. You must express faith in the end. What are some of the rational evidences which contribute a theoretical basis for the existence of God. We are about to enter into the branch of apologetics. These are the basic logical reasons that people use to defend Christianity; to defend the existence of God. People argue today between Christians and evolutionists or with humanists.

Arguments for the Existence of God

1. The religious argument.
 - a. God exists because men universally believe in Him.
 - b. Among all peoples and all tribes, there is a concept of the divine. It manifests itself in some form of worship. This is true even of tribes that worship the sun or the moon.
 - c. Man's religious intuition indicates the possibility of a Supreme Being.
2. Moral or anthropological argument. The logic of man.
 - a. This argument is related directly to man.
 - b. The soul of man contains volition and conscience. Man has the ability to distinguish right from wrong.
 - c. The very existence of man's moral nature, his will or conscience for good, suggests a need of a Higher Being, the ultimate standard of good. How is there good without some standard of good?

- d. Such a being sets the standards for right and wrong. A material, ungoverned universe cannot have standards. Humanism has only relative standards.
3. The ontological argument or the existential (being) argument.
- This is related to the essential qualities of a being.
 - Since the human mind possesses the idea of a perfect and absolute being, such a being must exist. We do have in mind that there is something greater.
 - The existence of God is a necessary part of the human thinking. We seek something beyond ourselves.
 - Beyond the relative, which man measures, there is the absolute that gives character or value to the relative.
4. The teleological argument.
- This argument is related to design or purpose.
 - Since there is purpose and design in this world, then there must be a designer.
 - The observation of the structure of the universe indicates the need for a designer, which is the crux of the creationist argument. This is the great argument which is related to our textbooks. Microscopic and microscopic evidence. Display, order, design, arrangement, purpose, adaption, and an obedience to law.
 - Order and design also suggest intelligence.
 - Intelligence and will constitute personality. We have intelligence and will. If God is the designer, then He had intelligence and will.
 - Since we see design, order and purpose everywhere in the universe, there must be an origin for all of this.
 - Therefore, there must be some Person behind this; not just some random selection. Physics works because someone designed it. Evolution said it just randomly happened. Order does not proceed from chaos, the postulate of evolution. Could you pour a gallon of alphabet soup on the ground and end up with a great novel?
5. Cosmological argument.
- Cause or existence.
 - Everything has a cause. Things do not just sort of appear. God is the very First Cause.
 - The intuitive law of cause and effect suggests God as the initial cause. What caused the very first thing to happen.
 - Every new thing or every change must have a cause.
 - In no sense can the universe be its own cause. In evolution, the universe created itself.
 - The universe must have a cause external to itself, which ultimately must be un-caused. There must be a beginning where there is an un-caused Cause.
 - Inanimate matter cannot create itself. God is a force that created something from nothing. This is looking up at the stars and saying, "Where did they come from? Someone must have created all of it."
6. Some conclusions

- a. These arguments are inconclusive. They only call for a finite being greater than oneself. Nothing more is required.
- b. These reasons for God, that He probably exists, they all leave room for the opposite, which is atheism. No matter how well-reasoned all of this is, in the end, faith is still required.
- c. These arguments lead us to faith, but we still must believe in Jesus Christ. We can do this at any point in our lifetimes. We can reach the age of accountability and still not be at the age of God consciousness.
- d. We always have to reach a point of faith. A desire to know Him is expressed, which includes faith.
- e. Missionaries have reached the deep recesses of humanity, and they go there because God has sent them there.

The disciples were told to evangelize.

Let's return to the disciples and the babies coming to the Lord Jesus Christ. The disciples have entirely missed the point. He provided information to those who needed instruction. Children became a new vehicle for a new doctrine.

The disciples: "Let the poor Guy get a nap; get these kids out of here."

Luke 18:16 But Jesus called them to him, saying, "Let the children come to me, and do not hinder them, for to such belongs the kingdom of God.

Luke 18:17 Truly, I say to you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God like a child shall not enter it."

Is the Kingdom of Heaven reserved just for children? Heaven is reserved for those who are like children. This is all about simple faith. It is in the realm of faith.

There was empirical knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ in the 1st advent; but they still had to exercise faith in Him.

The first phrase is, "Leave them alone." This is where we see Jesus Christ like a father. It may be difficult to picture the Lord with a baby on His lap, but that might be what is going on. He may have simply liked kids. Jesus wanted to hoist these children into the faces of the disciples. He wanted to teach them the principles for Luke. Babies have nothing to give, nothing to boast about. They are pictures of dependence, grace and humility. This expresses the bedrock of the kingdom. No child can boast of their upbringing. They have nothing to do with it. Dependence of the child upon their parents is like the believers dependence upon God. This was directed to the pharisees, who worked hard to get into the kingdom.

“Whoever does not enter into the Kingdom of Heaven like a child will not get into the Kingdom of God.” The children illustration proves that works are no good; they are not adequate.

Mark 10:16 He took them into His arms and began to bless them. Complete dependence upon the Lord. The faith expressed must refer to the parents; and they had to hear and believe the veracity of the Lord Jesus Christ. This was a lesson of God consciousness and the type of faith necessary to enter into the kingdom.

Lesson #0877

John 11: 1–4 Life of Christ

7/31/2016 1Sunday

This will be a final miracle and our Lord’s final visit to Jerusalem. We are going to focus on the resurrection. Jesus performs one of His greatest miracles; it profoundly affects everyone who witnesses it. The people are aware of this doctrine, but it was not in the forefront of their minds.

This set the pharisee’s teeth on edge.

There were many miracles in the life of Christ. His most famous miracles are found in the first 9 chapters of John.

Great Miracles of John’s Book

1. Turning water into wine.
2. Healed nobleman’s son.
3. Healed a crippled man.
4. John 6 He fed the 5000. Great meaning for logistical grace.
5. Walking on water. Mastery over nature.
6. John 9 He heals congenital blindness.

This next miracle is the raising of Lazarus from the dead.

Resurrection Versus Resuscitation.

1. Resurrection means we are raised from the dead and our bodies have changed.
2. Jesus will be the first raised from the dead.
3. At the rapture, believers in the grave will be raised; and those raptured will have a changed body.
4. Resuscitation is bringing a dead person back from the dead. This is a truly dead body where all bodily functions have stopped working. The person resuscitated from death will die again. Only Jesus was resurrected. Everyone else was resuscitated.
5. Lazarus’ resuscitation has resurrection overtones.
6. The resurrection of Jesus Christ was not too far away. The disciples needed to have this doctrine in their minds; they needed to be fixed upon it.
7. The resuscitation was the final proof that Jesus had mastery of life and death.

The greatest fear of mankind is death. People do not like to think about death. Jesus Christ has the solution. If He can overcome death, then He can overcome anything. After this miracle, there can be no doubt that He is God and Savior. Jesus said, “I am the resurrection and the life,” before He brought Lazarus back to life.

After this miracle, the pharisees came up with the final solution, if you will. They were utterly committed to His death. They were afraid that their nation might be destroyed. A concern for their own power and preservation. People wave flags and say how much they love America, but what they really want is power. They were afraid that their religious leadership would dissolve. They were worried that Rome would become involved and destroy them.

Rome did become overbearing 40 years later.

John 11:1 Now a certain man was ill, Lazarus of Bethany, the village of Mary and her sister Martha.
John 11:2 It was Mary who anointed the Lord with ointment and wiped His feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was ill.

They called upon Jesus, because He had healed the sick and the lame. Would He not drop everything and come to save Lazarus? The sisters were in desperate straights and He was family. Jesus was fulfilling a mission and one person was dying, a great friend.

Many pharisees had tried to kill the Lord already. Still, the sisters thought He should drop everything and come to Jerusalem.

What is the priority. Many become angry with those who attend Bible class and they think that Bible class is more important than they are. They do not see that it is to their benefit to be associated with a person who is spiritually growing.

Mary, Martha and Lazarus will take center stage in this narrative. One will die and the other two will be in panic palace.

Luke 10 gives us an expanded understanding of these sisters. These verses reveal just who they are. Martha was probably the older sister and she was a great hostess. She was a wonderful hostess. She prepared a feast when Jesus was teaching in her home. At the same time, it is Mary who sat at His feet, listening to Him. This made Martha mad; she saw her preparations as being more important than Bible class. She was spinning plates in trying to pull it all together.

Mary is totally absorbed with His message; Martha is running about the kitchen. Martha interrupts the Lord Jesus Christ in mid-sentence to bring Mary into the kitchen. Martha wanted her to leave the kitchen and to get to cooking. Martha was positive toward doctrine, but she did not catch on to the immediacy and the necessity of taking in Bible doctrine.

Mary would also use expensive perfume on the Lord's feet.

Because Lazarus was dying, the sisters assumed that He would respond immediately. He loved Lazarus, His very good friend. There is a priority beyond saving a person's life.

For those who have lost a loved one, there is a priority nothing greater than that person's life. To Mary and Martha, healing Lazarus was the top priority. Everything that happens has to fit into the plan of God for everyone. So God does not always give people what they want and when they want it. In human terms, it may seem that this and the other thing are important, but even the relieving of suffering is not always the priority.

Now, at times, relieving suffering is important. Mary and Martha did not expect the Lord to tarry. But God always has the right perspective.

There is a great doctrine to emerge here dealing with death, and the Lord always knows better in life and death. This will be a teaching moment. The priority is doctrine. Jesus would not be an emergency doctor.

John 11:3 So the sisters sent to Him, saying, "Lord, he whom you love is ill."

John 11:4 But when Jesus heard it he said, "This illness does not lead to death. It is for the glory of God, so that the Son of God may be glorified through it."

Do not worry about sickness or death; it is for the glory of God. Why are we here? To glorify God.

I would guess that the illness of Lazarus does not lead to the final death of Lazarus.

Lesson #0878

John 11:4–7 Life of Christ

7/31/2016 2Sunday

Our Lord is in Perea and an urgent message is sent to Jesus about Lazarus. He got the message; however, He did not drop everything and rush to the bedside of Lazarus. This takes place in Bethany, which is a suburb of Jerusalem.

John 11:4 But when Jesus heard it he said, "This illness does not lead to death. It is for the glory of God, so that the Son of God may be glorified through it."

"Do not worry about what happens; it is all for the glory of God." What is about to happen will be first and foremost to the glory of God. He gives us assurances. Sickness will not end in death. We already know that the sickness of Lazarus will lead to his death. He was alive when the message was sent, but he will die before Jesus comes to him. What occurs will be to the glory of the Lord Jesus Christ.

In the death of Lazarus, not only was God glorified, but so was the Lord. Just as Lazarus died it was not final, so the death of our Lord will not be final; and so will the death of us not be final. Physical death is not the end. When they die, we may not think in this way; but that should always be in the forefront of our minds. Bobby was thinking this when Bob died. The separation is only temporary. This is only true for the believer in Jesus Christ.

This verse also contains a clear declaration of the deity of Jesus Christ. He knew the end-game of this circumstance, but He also calls Himself the Son of God. He knew that God would be glorified by this miracle. Jesus is the Son of God; He is the God-man.

Some claim that Jesus never called Himself God. Here, He is calling Himself deity. Calling Himself the Son of God is not some idle boast; it is not a flippant phrase. God's omniscience is in full display here. The Lord emptied Himself of the independent use of His deity. Here, He calls Himself the Son of God and He will prove that. There is a great purpose in this crisis; and, in human terms, the death of Lazarus is the worst possible outcome; but this is the greatest possible outcome.

Crises and Tragedies Glorify God

1. Every crisis in the life of a believer is a chance to glorify God. How about all of the problem solving devices; sharing the happiness of God? You must have spiritual maturity in order to utilize those assets.
2. There is always a greater purpose to be found in the death or tragedy situation. People often have no idea why problems are occurring, but there is always a greater purpose.
3. Cursing is turned to blessing. This is what the spiritual life is designed to accomplish. Every time that you have adversity, a tragedy, a crisis, your spiritual life is what overcomes that problem.
4. The believer glorifies God by using doctrine in the soul. Bobby has known many people who have died various illnesses or face difficult operations. Those who live the spiritual life have a tremendous ability to face such difficulties. In death, a person leaves this vale of tears for a much greater place. We must learn to apply doctrine in bad circumstances, to relax and to have confidence in His plan. What we do with a little problem helps us to deal with great problems in life. We get some practice in using the skills that we develop. This is how athletics work. We practice these mechanics and moves, and then we apply them for the big game. We all have adversities. If you cannot handle the small things, then you will fall apart when it comes to the big things.

Lazarus' sickness was a big problem for Mary and Martha. Would either of them pass this most difficult of tests. Many believers fail initially, but this does not mean that we are total failures. At some point, we recover. This is a test for Martha and Mary, which would impact the spiritual lives for many years to come. Why didn't Jesus show up in time and deal with this problem? They needed to trust in His plan and to await His will. This is like being in combat and never knowing where the next bullet is coming from. Are they able to see the higher purpose in life?

There are some very miserable people in prosperity; they have all of these riches and blessing, and they have no place to go from there; and what they have is not satisfying. Do we, as believers, understand that there is a higher purpose in life. Jesus Christ delivers through difficulties and not always from difficulties. Deliverance through difficulties shows the true value of the problem solving devices. God does not always lift difficult circumstances from off believers. People seem to think that God will remove suffering from our lives, and that is not always true. Difficulties and suffering often are very beneficial. We learn to depend upon the Lord. Bobby recommends Christian Suffering.

We are prepared to represent God to the world by using these spiritual skills. The women must wait on the Lord. When you are in this circumstances and you are impatient, those who wait for the Lord will gain new strength, they will run and not get weary, they will gain strength. (Isa. 43:) We must live at the discretion of our Lord and His timing. That is the key to life in general. We are set apart from what this world has to offer. In all of this, the Lord's power is seen. This entire incident, which makes Jesus look a bit callous at first, the purpose is to show us that death is never the winner. For the rest of the world, it is. Christ has power over death. We are not Islamic in that we think everything is predetermined. Our volition, our failures and successes, is figured into God's plan. God's plan will happen with or without us. Our mission is to glorify God and we are to be a part of that plan. Contentment, peace and joy, all fruits of the Spirit. By these things, we glorify God. We show our faith in the worst of situations.

With Lazarus, death will not be the victor; it will not be the final issue. Jesus is not there to remove the grief and pain of Mary and Martha. Their faith is tested by death in order to apply it in life. 1Peter 1:6–7 tells us all about this.

1Peter 1:6–7 In this you rejoice, though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been grieved by various trials, so that the tested genuineness of your faith--more precious than gold that perishes though it is tested by fire--may be found to result in praise and glory and honor at the revelation of Jesus Christ.

The spiritual is not aspirin nor is it a narcotic. The believer waits on the Lord through the grief; then that difficulty is beneficial. Applying the plan of God in the faith rest drill gives us a relaxation.

Bobby can relate to all of this in the death of his own parents; there were spiritual life lessons to be learned in those deaths could not be learned in any other way. The purpose and plan of God may be death. The plan of God runs out for all of us on earth. We have done (or not) what God placed us here to do. Even in that situation, there are spiritual life lessons to learn.

This is why Jesus waited to go to the house of Mary and Martha.

John 11:5 Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus.

John 11:6 So, when he heard that Lazarus was ill, he stayed two days longer in the place where he was.

Jesus intentionally stays were He is for an additional two days.

John 11:7 Then after this he said to the disciples, "Let us go to Judea again."

Jesus could have done something here. But not even the crisis moved Him. God's timing is the focus here. Jesus could have healed the sickness without even leaving Perea. Even loved ones to make them temporarily well, He could have removed the pain and illness of Lazarus. The Lord's mission came first. He healed people to make a point about Himself.

Jesus could have healed every person in Palestine. He did not come to heal every person physically. Healing their bodies was incidental. His miracles always had a plan. The only miracle that He would give is the sign of Jonah. There was one miracle that was critical for believers to see right now. He delayed because Lazarus had to die. The lesson was in the death of Lazarus.

Believers often pray for healing miracles. Even when Jesus does heal someone, we don't always know it. Do not look for some charlatan healer. When we are very ill, we call upon a doctor. We don't go to Benny Hin. That is phony. There is nothing wrong with seeing a doctor. Prayer for healing may not be answered with a healing. Loved ones die; everyone dies. People become bitter and angry. That is a sign of no spiritual life.

Lesson #0879

John 11:4–16 Life of Christ

8/3/2016 Wednesday

Many different doctrines that we could study here.

What is the right attitude when a believer faces death, or a loved one or friend is about to die; or someone has just died? Many people, including believers, just want to put it out of their minds, until it is forced upon them. This is because they fear it. You are not prepared for death when it happens. People who fear death also fear life; and they live often as cowards, and they try to prolong their lives as long as possible. For the unbeliever, there is nothing certain after the last breath. As a believer in life, your problems are simpler in life. They become black and white; the right way to go and the wrong way to go. Your life might be measured by running and hiding from the inevitable.

A brave man dies but once; a coward dies many times. For a believer, it is a guarantee of spending a lot of time out of fellowship under certain conditions. There is a purpose in death; and Bible doctrine removes the fear from our souls. Bible doctrine removes the greatest fear in our life. It will all happen in our lives as part of His plan.

When someone you love goes home, you will go home as well. And it won't be the much longer. In the scope of eternity, it is not a long time. When someone goes home, you, as a believer, are still on the clock. That is redeeming the time.

This is an application of the plan of God rationale of the faith rest drill. There is a great peace in the plan of God rationale, even in suffering, which is associated with loss, and anything which is associated with the end of life. This is what Jesus was hoping to convey to His disciples. God's purpose and His plan in death; and Christ's victory in death. It may seem simple, so this may even seem like old hat to us. It is always easy to lose sight of those things which we believe to be solid in our thinking. So it better be planted well into our souls, as we will all have to draw from this doctrine.

We begin with two women, Mary and Martha, and they are very distraught over the medical condition of their brother Lazarus.

John 11:4 But when Jesus heard it he said, "This illness does not lead to death. It is for the glory of God, so that the Son of God may be glorified through it."

Death is never the end; it is the beginning. It is either the beginning of life in heaven or of something unspeakably horrible. There are many aspects to the Christian life.

In general, our job is to glorify God in this life. We glorify God in only one way; by sitting in Bible class and taking in doctrine. It is not about you; it never is. Self-centered arrogance is the inability to glorify God. That is the end game of the Christian life. Even death glorifies God (potentially). On your deathbed, you may have the greatest witness of your life.

Having said this, Jesus continues for two days in Perea. His disciples are very puzzled by this whole thing. Why is Jesus stalling?

John 11:5–6 Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus. So, when he heard that Lazarus was ill, he stayed two days longer in the place where he was.

The Lord's purpose was to deliver Lazarus through death and not from death. What will God do for us in death? We all want to be delivered from death; and ultimately, we will all die. We do not have to fear death because God will deliver us through death. We will be delivered from the vale of tears that we are in. Where will you be? In death, we pass from life to eternity; so there is no reason to fear it. Jesus waits for the opportunity to give a doctrinal lesson.

John 11:7 Then after this he said to the disciples, "Let us go to Judea again."

The disciples were watching the plan of God in the flesh. The disciples woke up with the plan of God right in their sight. The Lord was visible to them; and His time was not yet up. Nothing can keep Him from death; but at this point, nothing can remove Him.

John 11:8 The disciples said to Him, "Rabbi, the Jews were just now seeking to stone you, and are you going there again?"

His disciples are concerned about what is going on. He is going to Judæa, and the Jews there were ready to stone Him there. Who can touch the Lord unless He allows it?

Now, they know that Jesus has healed from a distance, so that is an option in the minds of the disciples. The disciples were making assumptions apart from good doctrinal application. His death will not occur until the right time.

The disciples do not imagine a resurrection to follow the death of their Lord. His death will be the greatest blessing that mankind would ever know. Without His death, we have no future in eternity.

The Assured Future of the Disciples with Jesus Christ

1. All the disciples needed to do is await God's timing. How can they say with certainty that returning to Judæa will result in His death.
2. They should know that Jesus' life will play out just as God has willed. They have followed out the Lord up to this point; why not follow Him out all the way.
3. Here they are with the Lord Jesus Christ in person; they should cherish this time with Him will being mindful of their future mission. Do you cherish the moments that we have in the auditorium of Berachah Church. We do not know where we will be in 5 years from now or 10.
4. This is how we must look at life and death.

This Lazarus miracle will show Christ's power over death, even though He will die. All this must be firmly implanted in the minds of the disciples. Until the time of the cross, nothing can touch the Lord. There is no evil force that can harm Him. His disciple share in this security. They should not fear Jerusalem or His death.

Jesus gives them an oblique answer.

John 11:9 Jesus answered, "Are there not twelve hours in the day? If anyone walks in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world.

So we ought to walk in the light instead.

John 11:10 But if anyone walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him."

Jesus as the Light of the World

1. The theme of these two verses is light. There is light in the day; and dark in the night. When it is light, we walk.
2. Elsewhere in the gospel of John, he refers to Jesus as the Light of the World. John 8 and 9.
3. Jesus illuminates the world. There will be a time when His glory shines through His humanity. What is it that illuminates? The world is enlightened by His truth; by His Word by His doctrine by His thinking. This is why He is the light of the world.
- 4.
5. Light is an analogy to the Lord Jesus Christ but especially His truth, His Word and His thinking.
6. Jesus has given them many miracles and much teaching.
7. Light is given in two ways: the light which allows you to see; but also the light which is in within that guides you as well.
8. The light that is seen is the Lord Jesus Christ. Stop stumbling around.
9. As long as the disciples walk with Him and in the light of His path, they do not have to fear death in Judæa.
10. Jesus walks in the full light of the plan of God.

11. Being with Him, the disciples are illuminated. They are kept from stumbling; they are kept from the persecution of the religious leaders.
12. The light must also be in them, or they will stumble in the night.
13. Without an illumination that comes from within, they will fear and they will fall. "We are about to go to Bethany and you are afraid."
14. The disciples needed to apprehend the Lord and His light.
15. This illumination must be in them; it must be in their souls; especially after the Light of the World has departed for heaven.
16. Only the light of doctrine in their souls will remain to illuminate their way in the spiritual life. They would be walking a rocky road.

The Lord would ascend into heaven, but He would first tell them, "I will be with you always. I want you to be illuminated by the light in you." They must move in the sphere of God's truth, which is His doctrine in them.

Walking in Darkness or Walking in Light

1. Walking in darkness is outside of the bounds of God's plan. That means doctrine is not in you. There is no light.
2. Darkness is the place of stumbling in the Christian life. No mission accomplished. You will flounder in all aspects of life. When you as a believer fail in the Christian life, do not expect that you will have a great temporal life. You will fall for the darkness of human viewpoint. You will fall for the darkness of a politician who promises everything but cannot deliver.
3. That is why the light in us is so important. There is no substitute. You can have nothing less. Those who stumble are not filled with the Spirit. Those who stumble are not living in the light of God's Word. There is no application of that truth for the stumbling believer. These verses encompass the entire spectrum of the spiritual life.

Time for them to depart for Jerusalem. Then Jesus says, "Lazarus has fallen asleep."

John 11:11 After saying these things, He said to them, "Our friend Lazarus has fallen asleep, but I go to awaken him."

So the disciples wonder, why does Jesus make this difficult trip if Lazarus is asleep.

John 11:12 The disciples said to Him, "Lord, if he has fallen asleep, he will recover."

John 11:13 Now Jesus had spoken of his death, but they thought that He meant taking rest in sleep.

"Metaphors are just not your thing, are they?" So Jesus tells them plainly what has happened.

John 11:14 Then Jesus told them plainly, "Lazarus has died,

John 11:15 and for your sake I am glad that I was not there, so that you may believe. But let us go to him."

Them not being there is to help the disciples to believe. When Jesus takes someone home, there is a reason for it; and there is a reason that we need to understand and come up with it. When you start thinking that way, you stop thinking in terms of self-pity. Am I glorifying Him when I cry and cry?

Bobby will teach us about grief. Not tonite.

Lazarus is dead, so Jesus says, "Let's go to him." And the disciples are in the dark about why they should go. Jesus is going to perform a miracle for His disciples as believers.

The dumbest of the dumb speaks up. The disciples are the dumb, and Thomas is the dumber; and he is still stumbling.

John 11:16 So Thomas, called the Twin, said to his fellow disciples, "Let us also go, that we may die with him."

Thomas does not get the point.

Lesson #0880

John 11:5–16 Life of Christ

8/4/2016 Thursday

Kansas City conference this next week.

John 11:5–6 Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus. So, when he heard that Lazarus was ill, he stayed two days longer in the place where he was.

Even though Jesus loved them, we stayed an additional two days before leaving. There was a purpose to this, to teach that He is the resurrection and the life. This was a lesson for the disciples. This would be a very difficult doctrine to understand and follow. So Lazarus was necessary as a teaching aide.

John 11:7 Then after this he said to the disciples, "Let us go to Judea again."

John 11:8 The disciples said to Him, "Rabbi, the Jews were just now seeking to stone you, and are you going there again?"

The disciples were concerned about this. This is the point where they absolutely decide that He must go.

John 11:9 Jesus answered, "Are there not twelve hours in the day? If anyone walks in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world.

Jesus approaches their concerns with an analogy. This was a lesson. He had to teach in everything that He did. He only had a short time to teach doctrine. These guys had thick heads. So Jesus asks them, "Aren't there 12 hours in the day?" This answered the question about their fears. Light is an analogy, and Jesus is the light.

John 11:10 But if anyone walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him."

The truth of the Lord's teaching would illuminate their way in the darkness. They will have to navigate a lot of this. We need divine viewpoint in order to navigate the world in front of us. "Don't worry, guys, you have the light in front of you and it guides you to keep you from stumbling in the dark."

John 11:12 The disciples said to Him, "Lord, if he has fallen asleep, he will recover."

John 11:13 Now Jesus had spoken of his death, but they thought that He meant taking rest in sleep.

The disciples clear the cobwebs and they figure out that Lazarus is not sleeping but alive.

They would see the divinity of the Lord Jesus Christ. They did it in the power of God. No Apostle and no one since has raised anyone from the dead. But, didn't Peter do this in the book of Acts?

John 11:14–15 Then Jesus told them plainly, "Lazarus has died, and for your sake I am glad that I was not there, so that you may believe. But let us go to him."

Then, Jesus says, "We will go to Lazarus;" who is dead.

John 11:16 So Thomas, called the Twin, said to his fellow disciples, "Let us also go, that we may die with him."

We will live as long as we can glorify God.

Thomas has been called doubting Thomas; he had difficulty believing some things. He needed to see the nail prints in the Lord's hands. He needed empirical evidence. His faith was weak. He caught on to the resurrection. He had a lot of human viewpoint that needed to be removed from his soul.

How amazing that Thomas would see this miracle and still doubt the validity of the resurrection. Bobby thought about this. Sometimes, Bobby can teach a doctrine over and over again, and Christians cannot get out of their own way.

He taught a doctrine at a conference; and inevitably, someone comes up and asks a question that was covered in the teaching. They superimpose what they think about the doctrine over the doctrine itself. "What on earth are you listening to?"

In any case, Thomas is willing to die with the Lord. He is a brave, albeit confused, man.

Later, these disciples would die in service to the Lord.

John 11:17 Now when Jesus came, He found that Lazarus had already been in the tomb four days.

The Lord arrives at the vicinity of Lazarus. Martha does not apply Bible doctrine properly. Her brother was dead; and she is upset. You can cry, but you don't forget doctrine. What she says is unbelievable.

Positive volition always responds to Bible doctrine when it is given. When things are not going the way they ought to go, sit down and listen to doctrine. Get some perspective. Bible doctrine gives them some perspective on their lives.

John 11:18–19 Bethany was near Jerusalem, about two miles off, and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary to console them concerning their brother.

There were many friends who came to console Mary and Martha. There is danger here. Someone approaches the Lord and tells him that Lazarus is dead.

It turns out, looking at the time sequence, that Lazarus was dead at the time that Jesus was told he was going to die.

The rhetorical question is, why are you here? What are you doing? But it is never too late for God to work His purposes. There is always a purpose. When a loved one passes, bear in mind that God is here and He has His purposes.

You must move on to fulfill the great purpose that God has, even during grief. Mary and Martha are experiencing tremendous grief. The road of God's plan often runs right through the middle of grief.

Bobby carries a great sorrow in his soul for his parents and other loved ones. He has great memories of them; and he sees them in his mind's eye.

Mr. Bojangles who grieved over his dog after 20 years; that is a distraction in life. Bobby's responsibility is to study and to teach and to present to us the doctrines of the Bible, straight from the Word of God. Bobby is a long ways from an actual chef, but he does produce food for hungry believers. He cannot afford to dwell upon past pain. He cannot spend his time upset over those who passed from this life. Some people are like this; they cannot get over it; they cannot get past it. It would be dishonoring to the memory of his parents, if Bobby spent his time mourning him past a reasonable time.

Bob lost many great friends throughout his life.

We have no right to impose our sorrow upon others. We cannot function under the arrogance of demand. Others cannot share this intensity of your personal grief. You cannot put that off on others. You move on in life. You cannot allow grief or mourning to be turned into revenge or self-pity, etc.

There is something about having your parents around, even if you don't see them. Sometimes you do not realize that until they are gone. You cannot get distracted by what you did or did not do. This ruins your spiritual life. This puts you out of fellowship.

There is a danger in grief to blame others for your pain. You may be in pain, but you see others moving on with their lives. You may resent it. You cannot afford to enter into mental attitude sins of reaction. Life must go on. Especially for the advanced believer.

Bobby, in the office, is preparing food for us. Of course, he thinks about his father. Grief is one thing; but stopping your life is something else. Our sorrow must be tempered with a perfect happiness in heaven. Dying is comforting.

Bobby says, what is tough about losing your pet, is you might not see them again. Nothing in the Bible guarantees that we will see them again. However, our friends and loved one will. Bobby sat by his father's bedside when he passed. We will all see our loved ones again.

We do not grieve as those who have no hope. We are never hopeless, even in grief.

If your attitude is, life must go on, even when there is grief. You might seem callous to your loved ones, but you just keep the right perspective. Don't be put on a guilt trip. You were not thinking in the way that they are thinking. Forget it and move on.

Summary Principles

1. You cannot stop normal living because people that you love have died and gone to heaven. If you do, then you are not fulfilling the plan of God. You cannot stop living because someone else has; you cannot fulfill the plan of God if grieving shuts you down.
2. You cannot resent others who seem to have a good time when you are in a state of sorrow. If they are a believer, then we know that they are in a better place. No more sorrow, no more tears, no more pain, no more death. There will be a reunion. When we cross the river, they will be waiting on the other side.
3. You cannot demand from your circle of friends or from fellow believers that they join you in sustained grief. That is truly arrogance. Let them live their lives. Do not demand of them things that they cannot deliver. In the ancient world, there were professional mourners who would howl to represent the grief of the family.

A company commander was murdered on his barracks. The funeral was in Besermer, AL. No ac in the church in August. They shut the doors and it was hot. 200 people there. Open casket. On the front row; there were professionals mourning. They were very worked up. Bobby was quite sad. The mother was worked up and tried to get into the coffin with her daughter. This was to work up emotion.

There was an assembly of professionals. They would all witness what happens next. Since there were so many people assembled here, it is clear that this is a prominent family in the area. Even some of Jesus' enemies were present. They would be witnesses to something very profound and miraculous. The story had to be told by them, and they essentially confirmed the story. They had to say what they saw. God uses even His enemies as a part of His plan. We see people who are enemies of this country and they are our leaders. We know what is going on in our country who are the enemies of freedom. There are persecutions of believers in Jesus Christ. But God uses even His enemies and ours for His purposes.

The message of this miracle was specifically to those present. Death is not the end, which is what we ought to take from this. A memorial service from someone is not the end. The beginning of his graveyard service is from this part, that a resurrection will occur.

That is an entirely different perspective from, "There they are; just a plot and a stone at the head." Death is not the end, and Jesus will teach that to everyone. There is no greater encouragement in life than death. Death is a picture of the grace of God. Someone, as a believer, is now face to face with the Lord Jesus Christ.

Lesson #0881

John 11:17–22 Life of Christ

8/7/2016 1Sunday

Berachah has been mistaken for a synagogue, for a Catholic church, for a Baptist church; never confused with the large church that is in the summit.

John has been called the gospel of belief. Great passages of John have the word believe and they require the reader to exercise faith.

This is the story of Lazarus, who is now dead; and of Mary and Martha, who are grief-stricken. They all arrive in Bethany too late to heal Lazarus; and there is the revelation of the greatest doctrine of comfort for our lives. It is proof of life after death; what happens after that final moment of breath, and after which, our body shuts down. How can it be doubted after what the Lord says. This is one of the great Easter messages.

John 11:17 Now when Jesus came, He found that Lazarus had already been in the tomb four days.

Jesus and His disciples come from Perea to Bethany.

John 11:18–19 Bethany was near Jerusalem, about two miles off, and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary to console them concerning their brother.

It would appear that Jesus is coming to pay His respects. Some of the Jews who are gathering here have tried to stone Jesus in the past. This would be like preaching in a Christian church in the middle of Syria.

The Lord stops short and there is a reason for Him stopping. He wanted to speak to Mary and Martha alone apart from the crowd. Martha is the first to respond.

John 11:20 So when Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went and met him, but Mary remained seated in the house.

Martha is the great hostess of the house; she prepared the great feast for the Lord Jesus Christ. These mourners are present at this time in their home. She drops everything and she runs out to meet Him. Everything was not rosy.

She has a bit of a temper, and she is apparently grief-stricken. She is mad because the Lord is late. She blurts out her feelings.

John 11:21 Martha said to Jesus, "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died.

She blames the Lord for the death of Lazarus. She knows that He could have healed him.

John 11:22 But even now I know that whatever you ask from God, God will give you."

If a person who is grief-stricken, overlook it, consider the situation, cut them some slack. Consider how the Lord will handle this situation. Our Lord did not take offense. Jesus shows her compassion, even though she is way out of line. She is saying that Jesus made a mistake, and she says, "You should have been here; You could have saved my brother." She is speaking with emotion. She is not applying the doctrine that is resident in her soul. She can only focus upon what God should have done at that moment. Jesus should have been there to do what she believes is the right thing to do.

It was not unreasonable for her to want her brother back; to want him healed. We can sympathize with this. She does not give the Lord the chance to speak. She launches into her disappointment in Him. She knew that Jesus could have asked God to heal her brother, and he would have been healed.

People who recognize that God can heal their loved ones might become bitter and angry with God, not comprehending that there is the greater plan. God always has a greater purpose than we are aware of. God is with us in prosperity and in suffering. We need to be objective.

When we are in difficulty and disaster, we need to understand that there are no tragedies in the life of the believer, even when loved ones die. Her grief is not an excuse to doubt the plan of God. Why aren't things working out as I want them to? Can't God see what is best for me? You might not use those words, but you might think something very similar to this. Do not ever think that God's plan is to harm you; His plan is for our blessing. When we lose loved ones, we too often forget that God's plan includes death as well as life. Even in death, God's plan is still in operation. There was a longer death for Bobby's father. Why did he have to go that way, having had a great ministry. Bob wanted to drop dead in the pulpit. But instead, he had a lingering death for a reason. Similarly, Lazarus has died for a reason.

Summation So Far

1. Grief is normal in life. We do not have to be stoic in life. "No tears for me." When you miss someone, you can miss them. Tears are not wrong; you just do not blubber and
2. Blaming God for life's events is a rejection of God's plan.

3. Our desires, no matter how legitimate, do not supercede God's plan. However, our desires, may not be compatible with God's plan. However He takes us out is God's plan and ppos
4. God's plan takes priority. Secondly, God's plan is for our own best interests...even if we do not understand it. Why don't you explain it to us? However, once we...
5. How many times have your parents limited you or grounded you and said, "This is for your own best good;" and you disagreed with that. God may not pull you out of the suffering and pain. Brief, but do not kindle bitterness.

The Plan of God Rationale

1. Instead of unreasonable despondency, apply the plan of God rationale. It is a great comfort in grief.
2. Always fall back on the certainty of God's plan for you. Circumstances may not make sense to you. All things do work together for good to those who love God.
3. That is the real comfort in great sorrow. The comfort of...
4. We might be left behind in this vale of tears.

People on tv who say, our thoughts and prayers are with you; and they don't mean it; it is just something that they say.

Martha is in subjective miserable pain and she is mad at everyone, including the Lord Jesus Christ. One thing pulls us out of that. Faith in God's plan. Confidence in hip.

Lesson #0882

John 11:21– Life of Christ

8/7/2016 2Sunday

We do not endorse candidates at Berachah; we are not here to endorse a candidate or tell you who to vote for. With doctrine, you should have no trouble discerning who to vote for.

Lazarus is dead and his two sisters believe that he should not have died. Martha is in terrible grief and she is mad that the Lord did not keep her from such grief.

John 11:21–22 Martha said to Jesus, "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died. But even now I know that whatever you ask from God, God will give you."

All anyone had to do is wait and watch to see what the Lord would do. Bobby finds it amazing that anyone could confront the Lord in this way. This teaches us that we, even as believers, are capable of anything, when we get emotional or irrational. We do not think and we do not apply Bible doctrine. Jesus will do something that will yank Martha up short.

Our Lord will do what it takes for all of us to remove ourselves from this sort of an attitude. He tells her one simple thing:

John 11:23 Jesus said to her, "Your brother will rise again."

Lazarus would be resuscitated. He will rise from the dead, but retain the body that he had. Lazarus' body would go back to his state pre-death; in fact, in a better state of affairs.

She could stop the tirade and now trust in Him. God does not always inform us as to the reason for this or that act that He does. How many of us get the Lord's plan directly from the mouth of Christ? But Martha does not understand His plan in that way. Her subjectivity is not placated. Her emotions have not entirely subsided.

At this point, Martha is drained with all of her emotion. She must think about what the Lord has just said. He gave her some doctrine. She is thinking, if only a little.

John 11:24 Martha said to Him, "I know that he will rise again in the resurrection on the last day."

She still might have a little tone here. "I know that Lazarus will rise up someday." She understood and believed in the doctrine of the resurrection. When the Messiah returned to (Isa.. 26 and Daniel) the land, then the Jews would be raised up again.

Bible doctrine is designed to be used in the present. Martha is not thinking in the proper direction. "I am not concerned with the future; I am concerned with what has just happened and what should have happened." Emotionalism keeps you from moving on. You are caught up to some past event or some series of events. Emotionalism always looks backwards. It becomes a habit when anything goes wrong. You adopt a victim mentality. That is a bitterness or vindictiveness that gets rolling in your soul. That is a life of destructive misery. Emotion can lead us into disaster when it is out of control. In the plan of God, we look forward, not backward. Time travels only in one direction for us. The road of God's plan often runs through grief. We grieve not as those who have no hope. We have hope. The trumpet will sound, the voice of the archangel will be heard, and the dead in Christ will rise first. How can we sorrow as those who have no hope. Doctrine must come to mind even in heavily emotional circumstances. You cannot allow your emotions to take control. Emotion is a part of the human experience. If there are problems, you cannot recover unless you outflank your emotions with Bible doctrine.

Martha still thinks that Jesus should not have allowed Lazarus to die. She is still looking back. She should have said, "What do you mean? Do I not understand You?" The Lord spoke and His Word is out in front of her. She misunderstands His words. She has too many presuppositions, which is what we often do. I need a plan of God rationale here. What can I apply? It must become something more than an abstract future occurrence. She is not using doctrine at this point. It should be at the forefront of her conscience.

In grief, when we lose loved ones, in the present, Martha speaks correct doctrine, and she is not applying it in her soul.

She is wondering, why a future resurrection, when his sickness could have been cured just a few days ago.

Obviously, this is something that we consider at any time that someone dies prematurely. We know that God could have healed this person; God could have prevented this series of actions taking place.

Doctrine is in the present; it is for today; it is moment by moment and we should wake up in the morning facing something. The plan of God is still running; it runs through adversity. That is an application in the present. What happens when you lose someone that you love? Can you apply Bible doctrine in the present?

We know that there will be a resurrection sometime in the future; but we will see an example of it right now.

Jesus gives one of the remarkable quotations from the Word of God.

John 11:25 Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in Me, though he die, yet shall he live,

Now Jesus asks her to think about this and apply it to herself.

John 11:26 and everyone who lives and believes in Me shall never die. Do you believe this?"

These two verses are about the resurrection.

Jesus Is the Resurrection and the Life

1. What is Jesus doing here? He is applying the doctrine of the resurrection to Himself. Look at Me; I am the resurrection. I am standing in front of you."
2. These are some of the most important verses; and we should think this when losing a loved one.
3. Besides salvation, Jesus says, "He is the One in Whom that life resides." He is life; He is the epitome of life. The Lord's human body will be resurrected. In Him, is life. What an amazing thing. Martha does not realize that He will die soon. When she realizes that the tomb could not hold Him, it clicked; for all of them, it clicked. This is the doctrine that they will remember.
4. Resurrection is in His Person.
5. We partake of that life, by means of faith alone in Christ alone. We share everything that He is and everything that He has. In order for the Lord to rise, He must die first. "If I am the life, then Lazarus too has life."
6. Jesus Christ is the firstfruits of resurrection. He will rise before anyone else.
7. In that resurrection, the Lord is the life, eternal life. He is the first one, the first human being to have eternal life. He is our guarantee of that life.
8. Those who believe in Him will have eternal life. This is why He is the object of faith and trust.

In one word, death is separation. People define death as the end, in that it is over. But all death is, is the separation of body from soul. Separation of the soul from God, that is spiritual death. We will never have to experience the 2nd death. We will die physically, but we will never die in Christ. The one who believes in Christ receives eternal life, as a present possession. This is how we must think. It is never to be lost. It is yours. Death is just a phase of life. We have that eternal future; and it is in the present. Forget about the time frame.

Lazarus is physically dead, but Jesus had the power to bring him to life. That is the focus here. He will not simply heal Lazarus, Jesus will bring Him back from the dead. Lazarus resuscitation is a guarantee of the Lord's power over death. Resurrection is about the present; it is about our confidence about who you are in Christ.

Jesus Christ is the Agent of Creation, so He is the life, the resurrection.

The iron-clad doctrine of our future; Lazarus will be resurrected and also in the future. That doctrine tempers grief; it becomes grief with hope and with confidence.

Jesus Christ is not speaking of far off, future events. The Lord puts Martha's faith to the test. She may not understand all the nuances of eternal life. No one can understand the full meaning of this in life.

So He asks her, "Do you believe this?"

Lesson #0883	John 11:25–27 Life of Christ	8/14/2016 1Sunday

Communion Sunday August 14, 2016:

Forgiveness of sins by God is essential to our relationship with Him.

Can any man have the authority to either condemn or pronounce another man free from sin. Is this some power given to the church? Does any person or institution carry that authority? John 20:23 the pity is, so many people are the victims of such claims. They are content that another human being has forgiven them, and that God will accept them because of it. Someday they will discover that they have trusted in the doctrines of men rather than in the Living God.

John 20:22–23 And when he had said this, he breathed on them and said to them, "Receive the Holy Spirit. If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven them; if you withhold forgiveness from any, it is withheld."

Jesus appears to be giving the power to forgive sins to his disciples, which is the discussion here.

After Jesus showed his holes, etc., then He commissions them to a monumental mission. Then he provides the power to make this possible. When He had said this, He breathed upon them and said, "Receive the Holy Spirit." After this, came the power regarding sins. Is this really their power and is there any passage in Scripture which passes this authority to others? Is there anyone today who can claim Apostolic succession? What does the Bible teach regarding the forgiveness of sins?

First, the Bible teaches that forgiveness of sins is a miracle. The healing of the paralytic man who was lowered through the roof by his friends. "Son, your sins are forgiven," which sparks a controversy. "Who can forgive sins, except God alone?" Their presupposition was wrong, even though their meaning was not. The healing of this man's body was supernatural like the healing of sins. He made him whole in all respects. Whatever forgiveness that we receive is singularly miraculous in character.

It was a great miracle by our Lord when He spoke and the universe came into existence; He also caused the sun to stand still, He caused the waters before Moses to part; but the forgiveness of sins eclipses them all. How can such a thing be performed by any sinful man? Only can be done by a sinless man.

Secondly, forgiveness of sin entails suffering. There must first be punishment for the transgression.

We may feel sorrow or pity for those who have harmed us, but it is not that way for God. The reasons that we forgive is not the same as the reasons for God to forgive. God must maintain his righteousness and justice. He cannot wink at sin or look at it as unimportant. His integrity can have no association with sin. Sin is rebellion against God and therefore, God must crush it. It was forgiven in the Person of His Son. Isa. 53. God had to crush His Own Son, to watch His Son suffer and to turn away from Him as He suffered the agony of the penalty for our sins. Sin requires suffering; it requires blood. All things are cleansed with blood. Without the shedding of blood, there is no forgiveness. In human terms, this is ridiculous. Bloodshed leads to bloodshed. How can bloodshed bring forgiveness of sins? God demands it for His forgiveness. Blood sacrifice is a necessary thing to satisfy the perfect righteousness of God. This persuades the wrath of God to not come upon man.

It is that shed blood which protects against the sins of the people. God sought to teach this central and dominant theme. The Lord's shed blood satisfied the outraged justice of God. No greater suffering has ever been endured than the imputation of our sins to His body on the cross. Through the suffering, the war between God and man ended. His sacrifice reconciled God with man. Nothing else could bring God and man together.

Jesus pointed to His suffering and death when instituting the Eucharist. Although many dislike this done by God, this is the ultimate truth that eliminates all human merit and human effort to gain the forgiveness of God.

Therefore, the forgiveness of sin can come only from God.

David's confession, "Against You and You only have I sinned." Many people acknowledge that they have sinned against others; but all sin is ultimately against God. The matter of David's sins could not be dealt with until God forgave David for those sins. Since sin is against God alone, then He alone has the right to forgive sins and to retain sins.

In the light of David's acknowledgement, how can any person presume to have the power to forgive sins or to retain sins? People must come to the true source of forgiveness in order to be forgiven. Is there any greater moment than to obtain forgiveness from God, to bring a soul to a peace that passes all understanding. God never remembers the sins that we commit. The believer comes before God wearing the righteousness of God.

Luke 24:45–48 Then he opened their minds to understand the Scriptures, and said to them, "Thus it is written, that the Christ should suffer and on the third day rise from the dead, and that repentance and forgiveness of sins should be proclaimed in his name to all nations, beginning from Jerusalem. You are witnesses of these things.

Acts 13:38–39 Let it be known to you therefore, brothers, that through this man forgiveness of sins is proclaimed to you, and by him everyone who believes is freed from everything from which you could not be freed by the law of Moses.

These sins can be retained by no man.

So, what does it mean, the disciples will have the authority to forgive or retain sins of men?

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Blankenberg.

John 11:27 is the same profession of faith. Lazarus has died 4 days before; her profession of faith was made face to face with the Lord Jesus Christ. Our Lord has just given an amazing revelation to Martha. This is the greatest comfort for Martha and Mary:

John 11:25–26 Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in Me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in Me shall never die. Do you believe this?"

She responds with.

John 11:27 She said to him, "Yes, Lord; I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, Who is coming into the world."

There is a recognition that Jesus is God, the Son of God, and will resurrect the dead on the last day. There is one who will bring in the Kingdom of Heaven; One Who will do as He says He will do. But now she goes a step further by asserting her conviction in the present. This is not just something to look at in the future; this is a present reality. This is a present reality in our souls, something that we live every day. We have eternal life. Resurrection is therefore a part of our thinking; it is a part of our comfort. That is what Martha is asserting at this moment. She is asserting the power of the Lord Jesus Christ to raise men from the dead. Her fears are now at rest; she gets it. She passes the test. Before, she was in a terrible state of emotion. She has applied Bible doctrine to her present circumstances, she has listened to the Word of God and she has correctly responded. So, when we apply the mind of Christ from metabolized doctrine in our souls...Martha metabolized doctrine instantly and it became the application of doctrine to that very moment. She passed the test and we can pass that test.

We sorrow, not as those who have no hope, but we have confidence in the Lord Jesus Christ in the fact that He has power over death. Death is merely a transition point; not a terminal point. Eternity is on the other side. We must never forget this in our grief and bereavement in what we have lost.

Lesson #0884

John 11:28–36 Life of Christ

8/14/2016 2Sunday

All of us will lose that we love from time to time; but we know that believers in Jesus Christ are alive and well and much better off than we are. We too will join them, when we cross over that river, when we pass through death into life, there will be a wonderful communion.

Martha has lost her brother and the Lord did not go soon enough to heal him. Jesus could have healed him from afar. But the Lord did not come right away; so when Martha approached the Lord, Martha voiced the fact that she was upset.

Martha's desire was for her sister Mary to share in her confidence.

Interestingly, Martha speaks to Mary in private.

John 11:28 When she had said this, she went and called her sister Mary, saying in private, "The Teacher is here and is calling for you."

You need to talk to Him; He is waiting there for you.

Mary was on the move when she heard that Jesus was there.

John 11:29 And when she heard it, she rose quickly and went to Him.

"This is the greatest thing I have ever heard; go hear Him."

Jesus was not in the village yet; He had not yet come to the village and He chose to speak to the sisters alone, apart from the mourners.

John 11:30 Now Jesus had not yet come into the village, but was still in the place where Martha had met Him.

Mary, in her grief, now has her time with the Lord.

John 11:31 When the Jews who were with her in the house, consoling her, saw Mary rise quickly and go out, they followed her, supposing that she was going to the tomb to weep there.

Others believed that Mary was going to go to the tomb of Lazarus.

John 11:32 Now when Mary came to where Jesus was and saw Him, she fell at his feet, saying to him, "Lord, if You had been here, my brother would not have died."

Previously, Martha was cooking and Mary was at the feet of Jesus. But she tells the Lord, "If You had been here, my brother would not have died." This is what Martha told Jesus. Same presumptive, irrational attitude as Martha. "Why did You not get here on time?"

Mary was more oriented to Jesus Christ, but this is a failure on her part. She knew better because she had listened carefully to the Lord teach. Martha needed Bible doctrine, and Jesus gave that doctrine to her, and she heard it and understood it and believed it.

Jesus is always with us, failing or not. Sometimes, Jesus recognized that all a person needs is a little doctrine.

John 11:33 When Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews who had come with her also weeping, He was deeply moved in his spirit and greatly troubled.

Two different responses: He is moved in spirit but He is also greatly troubled. This is the Greek word tarassô. He was mentally agitated. He was stirred up to the point of anger.

Verb: tarassô (ταράσσω) [pronounced], which means, 1) to agitate, trouble (a thing, by the movement of its parts to and fro); 1a) to cause one inward commotion, take away his calmness of mind, disturb his equanimity; 1b) to disquiet, make restless; 1c) to stir up; 1d) to trouble; 1d1) to strike one's spirit with fear and dread; 1e) to render anxious or distressed; 1f) to perplex the mind of one by suggesting scruples or doubts. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #5015.

There were professional mourners; they just made the rounds. There was no real compassion or encouragement in their souls. They had nothing to offer the living. They simply mourned and cried along with everyone else.

Occasionally, there is someone there during a funeral who has no respect, they wander about and pay no attention. Bobby is so tempted to stop and say, "What are you doing?" But Bobby has never done this. It is for the same reason that the Lord did not do this. There is a more important doctrine to be known. If Bobby said, "Sit down and be quiet," then everyone in the auditorium would lose concentration and possibly engage in mental attitude sin.

Jesus does not repeat to Mary what He told Martha. He was moved by her grief, but agitated that she did not learn to trust Him at this point. He keeps silent. He does not say, "Mary, what are you doing? What is wrong with you?" Jesus read Mary very well and His compassion toward her was paramount. Therefore, He would jolt her memory in a much more graphic way. This incident would be something that she and these phony mourners would all experience.

John 11:34 And He said, "Where have you laid him?" They said to Him, "Lord, come and see."

Where is his tomb? So, there is this entourage of people walking toward the tomb.

John 11:35 Jesus wept.

Jesus affirms to us the validity of human grieving, those who bear the loss of a loved one. The grieving varies from person to person. It is okay to grieve. In fact, we should grieve. So v. 35 should not come with any surprise. Jesus is a man with great strength and objectivity. He never opens His mouth to cry out. He is like us in every way and Jesus had emotion. Emotion can be denigrated from the Berachah pulpit because it is misused. This is a bonafide response to the death of Lazarus.

These are not tears of sorrow for Lazarus. Many weep for the loved ones in the grave. Jesus knew that Lazarus was a believer; and He knew that Lazarus would be returned to life. Lazarus had to die in order for this lesson to be taken. Jesus' true compassion was directed toward Mary and Martha. He knew God's plan, but He wept for living loved ones who felt great pain in their loss.

Bobby's grandfather, "Bury the dead and speak to the living." No reason to sorrow for the dead; they are so much better off. Because we are still alive, we know that God has a plan for us. Bobby rarely does a service for unbelievers; that is much more difficult. Jesus sympathized with the sorrow of Mary and Martha. He had true compassion for those who were hurting, and He physically responded with tears.

Aorist active indicative of What about this Weeping Moment?

1. This is very much a Man of true compassion. He is not just a God of justice and righteousness. This includes sympathy for our suffering and pain.
2. This was a part of the unparalleled beauty of His humanity. He did have emotion. He probably laughed, He responded to those who loved Him.
3. He was very conscious and solicitous to the sensitivities of humanity when they were valid. They were not misusing their emotion; this is a legitimate grief.

4. Jesus had these same human responses showing to us that grief and sympathy is normal. Sometimes Christians think that they should not grieve. Jesus knew that Lazarus would be raised from the dead. It is alright to grieve because you miss that person. Grief is good, it is healthy, it is find.
5. Jesus had those responses, but at the same time, He maintained absolute objectivity and perspective. He knew His mission and purpose. He did not lose His perspective. His grief was not overwhelming where He could not think. The plan of God goes on; our lives go on. The plan of God cannot be superceded by our grief.
6. His sympathy was real, and His expressed emotion was in its proper place.
7. Emotion is directed for a specific object for a specific time; it is not an emotion that is vague and unknown. Some people who grieve have no idea what they are grieving about. They are helpless because they have no hope. We must put life into perspective. We cannot affect those around us adversely. There must be some emotional equilibrium even in grief.

The mind of Christ, which is Bible doctrine, is objective, is reasoned, it is thinking, it is divine viewpoint for a crisis. We are what we think. We are not what we emote. What we think as a believer in Jesus Christ must be divine viewpoint. Where we get out of line is when emotion takes over our thinking. We cannot allow emotion to overtake and to supercede Bible doctrine. Jesus had great emotion and He expressed it overtly. His mind always works in the sphere of divine viewpoint. Even though the Lord is emotional, He still moves forward in His objective, to perform one of the greatest miracles in His life.

The Lord is more powerful than death; and yet, He weeps over their sadness. The Lord will grieve with us, but life goes on. We will see our loved ones again when we cross the river. In the meantime, follow through with My plan.

John 11:36 So the Jews said, "See how He loved him!"

Lesson #0845

John 11:35 Life of Christ

8/17/2016 Wednesday

We are not far from the last several months of Christ. We strive to look at life from the divine viewpoint.

John 11:35 Jesus wept.

The shortest verse in the English Bible. This is not the shortest verse in the Bible; there are 3 words in the Greek. Etakrusen ho Iêsus. The article makes this 3 words; and this is a particular reference to Jesus Christ as Savior and Messiah. Very few places in Scripture have such great impact. The construct verb is dakruô, which means to weep. This is not to simply shed a few tears; this means to burst into tears.

The Weeping of Jesus Christ

1. The weeping of Jesus Christ was spontaneous, uncontrived and the tears flowed.

2. This was a moment of pure, genuine release of emotion by the Lord Jesus Christ. That is what makes this such an important verse.
3. Sympathy for the loss and grief for the two sisters was the occasion for the weeping.
4. This was a very human response from a man of absolute capacity for tenderheartedness and compassion. This is a peek into the humanity of Jesus Christ, and it is apart from sin. He was very conscious of the sensitivities of humanity. He did not walk through this life with a stiff upper lip. He was not always stern and stoic.
5. His grief was not a grief that was all-encompassing.
6. Even in tears, the Lord maintains His absolute objectivity and perspective. We can lose our way in emotion; his emotion was in its proper place.
7. His emotion was directed toward a specific object for a specific period of time. It was not emotion for emotion's sake. Sometimes, our emotions just carry on. Emotion is dangerous when it supercedes our ability to think.
8. From His example, we understand emotion, grief, sorrow and application of Bible doctrine are not incompatible. You can apply Bible doctrine even when grieving. The Lord never lost sight of what He was doing. His emotions did not overrule His thinking. We cannot allow ourselves to become lost in subjectivity.

Emotion turns us to human resources. We try to recover from emotionalism but we do not apply doctrine. The alternative is Christ's mind in us. His objective even in sorrow. Metabolizing doctrine so that we might overcome the trap of emotionalism. Many things make us emotional. There are good and bad emotions. What Jesus expresses here is good; grief and sorrow are normal when there is loss; but when it overtakes us to take us out of fellowship, that is a whole other thing.

Doctrine must Overrule Emotion

1. Doctrine must be applied through the emotion. You have a loss of a loved one and you are grief-stricken.
2. Doctrine must take precedence despite our feelings.
3. It will when doctrine is firmly implanted in our soul. When you are grace oriented or doctrinally oriented; you can be emotional and still utilize problem solving devices. Problem solving devices are for when we are deep in grief and difficulty.

During the suffering on the cross, there was no doubt emotion involved. He showed compassion on the very ones who crucified them. He asked the Father to forgive them because they were ignorant.

The True Emotion of Jesus Christ

1. There can be no doubt about the Lord's compassion and emotional responses.
2. He maintains stability and objectivity the same way that we do, through doctrinal application.
3. Don't ever think that Jesus was detached from the pain and suffering of those whom He loved.

4. He felt it. He felt their pain and it affect Him physically in the form of weeping.
5. It did not supercede the flow of doctrine out of His soul. Grief is good; desolation is the loss of Bible doctrine during a personal loss.

The Lord's priority is always the plan of God. He was still on His way; He was weeping on His way to fulfill the plan of God. His emotion does not interfere with His divine mission, which would be to raise Lazarus from the dead. He has never been disengaged from His humanity.

His humanity and deity combined in one person, and operating in their own sphere. He was about to do something that only God could do, raise Lazarus from the dead. In this, we must understand that God is not impervious to human suffering. He is always aware of our suffering. He is always aware of how much we hurt and He takes that into consideration, but all to the furtherance of His plan. This is how we maintain objectivity in the Christian life. He uses suffering in His plan.

How do we approach suffering? What do we do about it? All of that, whether we bring it on ourselves, whether we have no say or whatever, God uses that suffering.

Exodus 3:7–8 Then the LORD said, "I have surely seen the affliction of my people who are in Egypt and have heard their cry because of their taskmasters. I know their sufferings, and I have come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians and to bring them up out of that land to a good and broad land, a land flowing with milk and honey, to the place of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites. (ESV)

If we can utilize divine provision, then we can utilize suffering. God relieves the sufferings of the Jews and takes them out from Egypt. He removes them from adversity. When we are in adversity, we want God to fix it. Get this person out of my hair. This is a great emotional lift for Israel. That lift of the adversity was not His main purpose. It fit into His plan. He did not free Israel simply to make them feel better. He had a purpose for them. They were in slavery in Egypt for 200 years. The #1 reason to removing them was not to alleviate suffering. His plan came first and the great thing is, it is always to our advantage. It is always to the advantage of the believer even in suffering. We are to learn and endure and advance. Book in the library Christian Suffering. We advance through suffering; and that is one of the fastest ways to grow up. His plan comes first.

Suffering has a place in God's plan. Emotion has a place in the life of the believer; but not as the major criteria for life. For many, emotion is the basis for their decisions and actions in life, and this so often leads to bad decisions and to more suffering. Do not make emotion your criteria in life. Bobby's bad decisions are related most often to emotions taking the lead. Emotion is a false echo many times.

The fountainhead of all emotion is love relationships. When emotion drives the relationship, then bad decisions will result.

God's Plan and Emotion

1. As with Jesus Christ, God's plan is always our priority in the Christian life. However, it does not have to be detached from emotion.
2. Emotion is part of human nature. Bobby has come down on emotions from time to time because it can confuse believers in their lives.
3. It is the result of cognition and a response to circumstances, either good or bad. When it is not the result of cognition, look out.
4. Emotion is the appreciatory of things in life.
5. It is a reasonable response to pain and suffering, short of mental attitude sins, like temper, self-pity, wide emotional swings, retaliation against a cause of suffering. Inability to forgive and forget. That is never part of God's will for us.
6. Emotional domination of life can cause two great problems: apostasy and sublimation and hypersensitivity. Emotions in charge can lead to degeneracy; that is the extreme.
7. A sorrowful emotion is a legitimate response to a loss, as long as it does not get out of control in hopelessness, instability, or in soul revolution (you blame God or you blame other people for your loss). You lose sight of the plan of God rationale. If the plan of God comes before your emotional circumstance or how you react with emotion, then emotion will not drag you into the pit of emotionalism. The plan of God requires cognition.

There is a fine balance in emotions producing a happiness spectrum and emotions producing a misery spectrum. The balance tips to happiness with Bible doctrine.

John 11:35 Jesus wept.

The professional mourners observed that the Lord loved Lazarus.

John 11:36 So the Jews said, "See how He loved him!"

However, others questioned the Lord. "He opened the eyes of the blind man; could He have not done something here? They know that Jesus can perform miracles, yet they still reject Him. He is God; there is no doubt about it.

There were others who were obviously hostile to the Lord Jesus Christ. They sought to discredit Him right here. They tried to discredit Him over and over again, taking advantage of every opportunity.

John 11:37 But some of them said, "Could not He who opened the eyes of the blind man also have kept this man from dying?"

Jesus is deeply moved with emotion. It was not His motivating factor.

John 11:38 Then Jesus, deeply moved again, came to the tomb. It was a cave, and a stone lay against it.

Caves were often used as tombs, and they would be sealed with a large stone. Jesus noticed the callousness of these phonyies, these hypocrites. This displayed it. What are they doing? They made charges against the Lord Jesus Christ, emphasizing that He did not perform a miracle. They never missed an opportunity to attack Him. Politicians use personal or national crises for their own benefit. They criticize and blame the other party, based upon this or that tragedy.

They were using this opportunity to indicate that Jesus was not all that He seemed to claim that He was. The Lord demonstrates no emotional response to these accusations. He will use objective truth to prove them all wrong. He will show them why Jesus did not cure Lazarus at the first. "It's all phony," they allege.

Now He stands before the tomb and He gives instructions. He stands in front of the tomb and says, "Remove the stone." This would be like lifting up a coffin lid after a few days here. There would be a rotting smell.

John 11:39 Jesus said, "Take away the stone." Martha, the sister of the dead man, said to Him, "Lord, by this time there will be an odor, for he has been dead four days."

There would be a stench; He has been dead for four days. Martha has no idea what Jesus is going to do. Jesus is on earth to provide victory over death. He will use a dead and stinking corpse to make this point. He wants everyone there to understand what He is doing.

This is not a wake. People come and hang out but that was not a wake early on. In rural areas, people would sit with the deceased for 2 or 3 days to make sure that the person is really dead. That is the original idea of a wake. He was dead.

What happens next is an amazing miracle.

Lesson #0846

John 11: Life of Christ

8/18/2016 Thursday

Beginning with v. 39, the Lord shocks Mary and Martha. He gives a command that makes no sense to them. They think that He is going to the tomb to mourn with all of them; perhaps say a few words. Then the Lord shocks them. He commands them, "Remove the stone." There is a mouldering body behind the stone.

John 11:39 Jesus said, "Take away the stone." Martha, the sister of the dead man, said to Him, "Lord, by this time there will be an odor, for he has been dead four days."

Martha worries of the terrible odor. This is not a horror show nor is this exhuming a body to know the cause of death. Jesus wants everyone to know that there is a body in that tomb. He wants there to be no doubt that Lazarus is dead. No one who sees this will be able to deny that Lazarus was deceased.

Some of His enemies were there, and they might lie about this. Jesus has the stone rolled away so that everyone can see and even smell the decomposing body of Lazarus.

Martha would be horrified by the decomposing body of Lazarus. And she is wondering, why would the Lord do this? Why is He requiring this?

Jesus already gave her the pertinent doctrine. He spoke of raising Lazarus, but she only understood this as occurring on the last day. She gets emotional and she stops thinking about doctrine. Her faith rest was shaken.

We should recall, in any service, "I am the resurrection and the life." This is encouragement and comfort. But Martha forgot. This was very bad, very destructive emotion for Martha. She forgot what the Lord said.

Sometimes, it takes very little time to forget doctrine. It just seems to leave our consciousness. Particularly when there are emotional events occurring (like the death of Lazarus). Sometimes, it is later that you think of the pertinent doctrine to apply.

Bobby has often heard ex-Berachah people say one of two things, "I learned everything that I know from your father;" but where are you now? Some claim to have enough doctrine to live the Christian life. They no longer have the need (in their own minds) to take in more doctrine. As you advance to maturity, you may hear a doctrine that you heard before, but you get something new out of it. Bobby might listen to the same message of Bob's 3 or 4 times, and he often hears new things. "How did I miss that first time around?" Spiritual advance never stops. People who leave Bible doctrine behind stop growing. When you stop growing, then you stop applying Bible doctrine.

Martha is an example of this. She has stopped thinking Bible doctrine.

John 11:40 Jesus said to her, "Did I not tell you that if you believed you would see the glory of God?"

Then Jesus reminds her. "Did I not tell you that, if you believed, you will see the glory of God. She is not to stop thinking about what Jesus said to her. She is to think about it and apply it. Emotion under these conditions is normal. Don't let emotions take over. If you believe, you will see the glory.

"Now, did you not tell me earlier, 'I believe'?" And she answers in the affirmative. "Okay, then, think about it and believe."

Sometimes at a conference, someone will say to him, "How did you know that is exactly what I needed?" You need to make application. "Have a little faith."

She needs to stand back, calm down, and hold on to the promise given her by Jesus Christ. What could be more comforting or a greater thing to apply than recognizing that everything that goes on in our life is part of the plan of God for us.

Martha knew this doctrine before. It is to calm and reassure her. "What do I do in this crisis?" Bobby would give a stock answer. Go home, shut the door, offer a word of prayer, and then sit down and listen to some doctrine. When it hits the fan this weekend, keep a dvd or two aside to hear. Once you listen, your perspective will be different. You will begin to get it. It is the best solution to problems. Bobby does not have to know anything about our problems. Bobby cannot fix our problems anyway. He can only fix his own problems. This is where Bible doctrine comes into play.

Saying, "I have enough doctrine" is usually an excuse for being lazy or finding something that you would rather do.

Jesus gave the command and someone hopped to and moved the stone. Now, why didn't Jesus move it with His power?

No one wants to remember Lazarus like this, dead and decaying. He will do something that is entirely unexpected. He offers a prayer of thanksgiving to God.

There Are No Tragedies in the Plan of God

1. There are no tragedies in the plan of God for believers. There are none. What about this or that? None.
2. There are difficulties and adversities and grief and heartache; there are accidents, personal disasters, historical upheavals, but there is no tragedy for the believer in Jesus Christ.
3. Why can Bobby say that? It seems crazy. Tragedy means that there was no purpose for the terrible event.
4. Therefore, tragedy cannot occur in the Christian life. God has a purpose and a plan in everything. Nothing is random.
5. If this like Lazarus's death or any death or disaster for a believer is labeled as a tragedy; and all of us will face at some point the loss of a loved one. If anything could be called a tragedy, then God's plan is flawed. He has no purpose through suffering. However, a lot of believers think this and they blame God for suffering. The world blames God for suffering and when it does not go away, it is God's fault. There is a purpose for the believer suffering. The purpose is to get us back on track.
6. If there is tragedy in the Christian life, then it would mean there was a problem that God could not see. He did not realize that it happened. It caught Him by surprise. His power, love and justice is somehow lacking.
7. When you understand that God uses all personal events and He uses human history in general to inevitably move a person or mankind toward the fruition of His great plan, and to victory in the Angelic Conflict. We need to go along with God's plan no matter what it is. No matter what happens, a personal difficult or a great historical event? What happens in the next election? Even if the worst happens, God is still in control, even if the US becomes a communist nation. All personal events move a person or mankind to the fruition of the plan of God in the Angelic Conflict. This includes the evils that men and Satan perpetrate. We see the results of evil and Satan all of the time. It is all around us. But the plan of God marches on. We stop seeing the plan of God as a series of difficulties and heartaches. Doctrine points to that rationale. People are mourning the loss of this wonderful person; the plan of God will come to pass, in spite of this.

8. We have feelings and emotions about difficult circumstances; that is fine.
9. Those events, the difficulties, the pains. God uses these things to work together for the good of believers. This furthers spiritual advance. This brings about the glorification of God. This fulfill God's big picture in His plan.
10. The doctrinal principle. There is no pain and no sorrow and no disaster greater than the doctrine resident in your soul. If you have doctrine there, then you can take comfort in the application of the plan of God rationale. There are no tragedies because the plan of God marches on. We are to stay in fellowship and we keep advancing and we keep applying Bible doctrine.

Jesus does not see the death of Lazarus as a tragedy. Is it an opportunity. Everything is an opportunity for us. The center of God's plan. His is a prayer of Thanksgiving.

John 11:41 So they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up His eyes and said, "Father, I thank you that you have heard Me.

Everyone is around the tomb and everyone is crying, and the stone has been rolled away. Jesus says, "I thank You that You have heard Me. I know that You always hear Me."

Martha said, "You could have healed Him because God hears You." Jesus sated that this is the purpose.

The Plan of God and the Tomb of Lazarus

1. Jesus prays publically over the tomb of Lazarus, over the symbol of death. He does this for the benefit of the people standing around in mourning. Whenever Bobby begins a grave side service, he says, "From this spot, this person will rise up in the resurrection in a new body." People are emotional when they see their loved ones being placed into the earth. We need to be reminded of this. Bobby wants people to leave a memorial service uplifted; and not an emotional downer. It is pure doctrine that the believers need to hear.
2. His prayer of thanksgiving indicates that God's plan is unfolding at this tomb right at this time. Mary and Martha and the rest are reminded that something will happen here.
3. This place, this tomb, this place of fear and loathing and of high emotions and death is involved in the plan of God. That is the way for us to think.
4. When God's purposes are realized and he is glorified, it is always a cause for thanksgiving, even when sorrowful. This sets the Christian life apart as unique. This is grief that is not overwhelming. Our souls have faith and confidence. The Lord is fulfilling the plan of God. In this prayer, He will be seen as the Father's obedient Son, He is the Messiah, the Son of God. This will cause many at this tomb to believe in Him. Out from death comes the opportunity for eternal life. That is what memorial services are for. Bury the dead and speak to the living. The dead are already taken care of.

John 11:42 I knew that you always hear Me, but I said this on account of the people standing around, that they may believe that you sent Me."

He calls out with a loud voice, shakes down the thunder from the skies. "Lazarus, here, outside."

John 11:43 When He had said these things, He cried out with a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out."

Ever see the movie the mummy? This is the real one. Jesus calls Lazarus by name. If He said, "Come forth," every dead person would have risen up.

This is resuscitation. Lazarus would later die and then be risen.

John 11:44 The man who had died came out, his hands and feet bound with linen strips, and his face wrapped with a cloth. Jesus said to them, "Unbind him, and let him go."

He is wrapped in grave clothes and He sudden emerges from the tomb. This must have stunned everyone there.

We have so many who have hope that medical science will extend our lives greatly. But there is only One Who brings the dead to life. They stare in disbelief, and the Lord gives them another command. They will need to touch him.

Lesson #0847 John 11:25–26, 38–44 Life of Christ 8/21/2016 1Sunday

We will complete or nearly complete John 11 today. This is one of the great miracles in the life of our Lord. He once again pronounces His Deity from His Own mouth.

John 11:25–26 Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live, and everyone who lives and believes in me shall never die. Do you believe this?"

Jesus had normal emotions; He wept. But He never allowed emotions to rule His thinking. This is the model of how the advancing believer handles the same type of situations. In spite of tremendous emotion or hurt or heartbreak, the advancing believer applies the plan of God rationale. The plan of God includes death. There is a purpose in death for the living. Death itself has a purpose for us, the living. Emotions are wonderful; they are the appreciatory of the soul; they heighten our enjoyment; but emotionalism is a bastardization of having emotions, so that, in this case, the grief becomes blame. That becomes a habit. The victim mentality; the blame game. This is how bitterness, vindictiveness and implacability get rolling along in our lives.

Jesus presents the plan of God rationale to Martha, saying, "Your brother will rise again."

Now it is time for the Lord to prove that this is true, that this is not just an empty platitude.

There are Mary and Martha, other friends, and the professional mourners. Then Jesus tells them, "Remove the stone."

John 11:38 Then Jesus, deeply moved again, came to the tomb. It was a cave, and a stone lay against it.

Jesus tells them to act.

John 11:39 Jesus said, "Take away the stone." Martha, the sister of the dead man, said to Him, "Lord, by this time there will be an odor, for he has been dead four days."

The people there must be absolutely certain that Lazarus is dead.

John 11:40 Jesus said to her, "Did I not tell you that if you believed you would see the glory of God?"

Jesus reveals His purpose once again. In this place of fear and loathing and death; God's purposes are always a cause for thanksgiving, even in sorrow and death.

John 11:41 So they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up His eyes and said, "Father, I thank you that you have heard Me.

Sorrow and death, and yet the Lord is thanking God. We thank God in sorrow. Emotion is there; and so it thinking doctrine. Comfort in loss.

The purpose in the plan of God. We may not get it; and the people there did not get it yet; but God would be glorified. Many people there know that the Lord could have prevented this death, and yet, He did not.

There are no tragedies in the plan of God, despite the difficulties of life. This is a part of the plan of God rationale. There is difficulty, grief and heartache. There are no tragedies. There is a terrible event in the life of a believer; but is it fate, bad luck, is it random? There is no luck, fate or randomness in the plan of God. We have sorrow, but there are no tragedies. So if this or any death or any disaster occurs, that it is bad luck or fate or simply a random event, that would indicate that God's timing is off, that His sovereignty is lacking, that there was something that He did not plan for.

God's great plan is not random; things do not occur that were not foreseen. God also uses the evils that men and Satan perpetrate in order to further His plan. This does not mean that God is the Author of evil. Evil is present in this world; but this does not mean that God's plan is not working. He is working with that evil to bring His plan to fruition. Knowing that, you can see life as something other than a series of difficulties and heartaches. These are events that we realize that God uses for the good of believers to further our spiritual advance. This fulfills His big picture plan. This is the reason for Thanksgiving, even in death. We can have grief and, at the same time, apply the plan of God rationale.

John 11:42 I knew that you always hear Me, but I said this on account of the people standing around, that they may believe that you sent Me."

Jesus uses Lazarus' name. Had He not done that, everyone would have been raised from the dead.

John 11:43 When He had said these things, He cried out with a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out."

The body of Lazarus was laying in the grave. He is dead, and Jesus speaks to Him. This is a unique moment. The stunned look on the face of every person there. They are staring in disbelief.

John 11:44 The man who had died came out, his hands and feet bound with linen strips, and his face wrapped with a cloth. Jesus said to them, "Unbind him, and let him go."

Jesus gives another command, and this shocks them out of their shock. This moment would be told over and over and over again. Since He is alive, you need to remove his grave clothes. People will touch his now-living body. We do not know who does this. His sisters? They quickly discover that he is flesh and blood. This is no illusion; it is no magic trick. Lazarus, a few minutes ago, was a stinking corpse. The decay process was completely reversed and he was moving about with all of his faculties working normally.

Many people are skeptical of this miracle. This sort of thing never occurs in the natural world. This was a supernatural event. Only God could have done something like this. People sometimes use miracles like this to reject God. In their minds, the natural world cannot be changed; all the processes of this world are constant and in action. By definition, God is above and beyond nature. God placed the laws of nature into motion; can He not reverse or modify these laws at any given time.

What did Lazarus think and say. Where was he during these 4 days? What was he doing? Bobby thinks that, because he was dead, that he actually went to paradise (as the Lord told the gangster on the cross).

What did he say about the others, if anything?

What is important here? Jesus Christ, the Son of God, was, the resurrection and the life, just as He said he was. That is the doctrine that must be understood here. That is the point of the narrative. Jesus Christ can do that; He is God. Death cannot hold us, any more than it can hold Lazarus.

Some try to portray Jesus as unsympathetic when He did not come to Mary and Martha immediately. But He is there and He weeps.

Before His horrified enemies, what can they now say to refute the irrefutable? This miracle was done to support the faith of His disciples, who would face tremendous opposition. All of the disciples would be martyred; all of them save one.

There is another important revelation at this point. Because the Lord is life, nothing could kill Him without His consent. He had to allow it. When he went to the cross, this was of His Own volition. This was a part of the plan of God. He allowed Himself to be nailed to the cross, to be abused, to be physically harmed. Jesus did this for the disciples and for us. He gave Himself up for our salvation.

Death is nothing. It is passing from life through death into eternity. Lazarus is the lesson for this; thanksgiving at the grave. Difficulties and all sorts of problems hold no fear. Never forget the plan of God rationale. We are all given a plan and all of this is within the plan of God. It continues to march and we with it. From the moment that we are born again to the moment of passing from this life, there are no tragedies in this life.

Lesson #0848

John 11:45– Life of Christ

8/21/2016 2Sunday

The repetition of the 3 verses, the Word of God is alive and powerful. There are no words more powerful or potent. Bobby uses those words at his conferences as well. They look at him and respond; it means a great deal to them, as they do not hear them with the same frequency.

We have Lazarus raised from the death. He is the solution for death. Death here is an opportunity for the Lord Jesus Christ. It is an opportunity many times for Bobby in giving the memorial service and giving the gospel and a clear understanding of death. Bury the dead and speak to the living. Jesus had an opportunity and He took it. Bobby has had many reactions. Many memorials were given by Bobby; Bob handed them off to him in his later years. Some unbelievers are there in rapt attention; believers concentrating. And then, there are some others...

The fountain and the bringer of eternal life. Never again did those ladies or the disciples doubt their ultimate end. They no longer doubted what the Lord told them about death.

The news spread rather rapidly. How could this be contained? Many would have spoken to the nearest person. No one will believe what I just saw. The religious leaders had to evaluate what they saw. They could not cover it up. When politicians cannot cover something up, then how can they present it in a different light? The Jews have this problem. There are these options in the face of the work of the Lord Jesus Christ. This is such a microcosm of mankind. When presented with the opportunity to believe in Jesus Christ, they will either accept or reject.

So many people today demand proof, in the form of empirical knowledge. They claim that they demand proof for everything, but they really don't. They take evolution of faith. Unbelievers there saw Lazarus risen from the dead; they saw the many miracles of the Lord, but ultimately, the faith decision must be made. At any point in this process, people choose to accept or to reject; but that is the aftermath. Some Jews opposed to Him changed their minds; but others had their negative volition hardened against Him. Such negative volition is incredibly self-centered.

All negative volition essentially chooses for the here and the now; and refuse to accept the Lord by faith. This is the last drama in the entire Lazarus miracle.

John 11:45–46 Many of the Jews therefore, who had come with Mary and had seen what he did, believed in him, but some of them went to the Pharisees and told them what Jesus had done.

These people love meetings. What are we to do? They ask themselves.

John 11:47 So the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered the Council and said, "What are we to do? For this Man performs many signs.

If we allow this to continue, all men will believe in Him.

John 11:48 If we let Him go on like this, everyone will believe in Him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation."

"If this continues, the Romans will step in and take away our place and nation," they say. A counsel of the religious leaders was called by the chief priests. The recuscitation of Lazarus proves that Jesus Christ is the Messiah. But that is ignored, and they find other reasons to express their negative volition. Their power and position was more important than their own salvation and the salvation of everyone else. No wonder, they are called a stiff-necked people, who refused to believe.

The Jews in the time of Moses saw the Red Sea parted, and yet, a few weeks later, they were casting a golden calf. They have a history of negative volition.

Their power and position here was more important than anything else. "What are we going to do about this Man?" They were panicked over this miracle. The fear of the Lord Jesus Christ in this conversation is powerful. They are afraid. The pharisees who seem to want freedom for Israel, who were anti-Roman; still, after such a display of this divine power, they fear a movement that would proclaim Jesus as the Lord of Lords. This is emotional irrationality. They are very smart men of Israel. They are completely deluded. In their warped minds, the people that they see, would want Jesus Christ to free them from the yoke of Rome. This is exactly what the pharisees wanted. They wanted political freedom; yet they reject the very King Who could do that. They feared the results.

They are worried that the wrath of Rome would be brought down upon them, and that this would end their power. Also, their power would be deferred to the LORD. They fancied themselves as protectors of the nation, but they really only wanted to protect their own power and interests.

The pharisees were real politicians. They hated Jesus Christ, and they plotted their hateful, vicious ends. The final solution. They are coming up with the final solution, which is what the Nazis called the murder of all the Jews.

John 11:49 But one of them, Caiaphas, who was high priest that year, said to them, "You know nothing at all.

Caiaphas was the High Priest that year. He tells them that, "You know nothing at all."

John 11:50 Nor do you understand that it is better for you that one man should die for the people, not that the whole nation should perish."

This is a statement dripping with irony and arrogance. This was a decision for the Jewish high priest to kill the true High Priest. The most evil of men called it. He was talking about the death of Christ, to keep Rome from destroying them.

This is evil versus all things work together for good. He tells everyone that he has the solution and everyone else is confused on the issue of Jesus Christ. This man is no doubt indwelt by demons or strongly influenced by demons.

He plots the death of our Lord, and he will execute this plot. He wants to kill Jesus to preserve Israel; but Jesus will die for all mankind.

Caiaphas was the Jewish leader for 12 years by this time, the successor of Annas in A.D. 18. He owed his position to Rome putting him in charge. He was thoroughly identified with the ideals and objectives of the Romans. His advice would be accepted by the Sanhedrin to keep everyone off the negative radar of the Romans. What he said was law. He worked both sides of the fence.

Caiaphas is proposing that the LORD be put to death because He showed Himself to be God; that gives us a little perspective. Satan said, "I will be like the Most High." This man is zealous to keep the nation from Jesus Christ. Better that they kill Jesus Christ than the Romans come in and kill them all. He is appealing to the self-interest of all those there; and Jesus Christ challenged their authority and the authority of everyone in this meeting.

Do not underestimate the power of self-centeredness. Caiaphas is the epitome of a greedy politician. He claims to be interest in the people. "We will do great things for the people; it is all done for you." But he is just using the good of the people ploy. He is a sell-out to the devil. You could reasonably attach his name to politicians today. Either power-man, ideologues or both.

They will sacrifice anyone or anything, including the entire nation, to further their own interests. The death of Jesus Christ is formally presented to the Sanhedrin. They are the body that handles such matters. Thumbs up or down? Just like Caesar.

John 11:51 He did not say this of his own accord, but being high priest that year he prophesied that Jesus would die for the nation,...

As the High Priest, Caiaphas prophesied this of Jesus, not realizing what he had said. He prophesies the eternal plan of God even though he opposes it.

Jesus would die as a substitute for them; but not just for the Jewish people, but for the gentiles as well. Jesus will gather believers from all the tribes and nations on earth.

Caiaphas, without meaning to, advances God's plan in his words. This is the ultimate in cursing being turned to blessing. God meant for our salvation, which is using whatever is happening to further His plan. As terrible as this final solution is, as evil as Caiaphas is and his thinking, as closely this is connected to the thinking of Satan; it is still all within the parameters of the plan of God. Caiaphas is just a pawn here. God's plan begins with our salvation.

We have words used by Caiaphas, where he means them in one way; yet God the Holy Spirit, mean these words to be understood in a different way. Caiaphas, the villain of villains, presents to us the ultimate in negative volition.

On Wednesday, we will sum all of this up.

John 11:52 ...and not for the nation only, but also to gather into one the children of God who are scattered abroad.

John 11:53 So from that day on they made plans to put him to death.

Lesson #0849

John 11: Life of Christ

8/24/2016 Wednesday

Missionary Jim Meyers in the Ukraine

The miracle of the raising of Lazarus occurs only a few months before the crucifixion.

Some Results of the Resurrection of Lazarus

1. This foreshadowed the resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ Himself.
2. This is the guarantee of our resurrection to eternal life. The disciples now understand that Jesus Christ is the source of eternal life; He is the victor over death. When His disciples understand this, their faith is strengthened.
3. Some of the religious Jews who were at the funeral became followers. They came and saw and believed. Some of the mourners believed in the Lord.

Ironically, because of the miracle, Jesus Christ was slated to die. This was the final solution by the Jews of the Sanhedrin. Jesus would fulfill the prophecy of Caiaphas that Jesus Christ would die for the people.

John 11:49 But one of them, Caiaphas, who was high priest that year, said to them, "You know nothing at all.

John 11:50 Nor do you understand that it is better for you that one man should die for the people, not that the whole nation should perish."

John 11:51 He did not say this of his own accord, but being high priest that year he prophesied that Jesus would die for the nation,...

John 11:52 ...and not for the nation only, but also to gather into one the children of God who are scattered abroad.

This Jesus would therefore have to die for the world; this was a tremendous step forward in the plan of God.

John 11:53 So from that day on they made plans to put him to death.

When Lazarus was raised from the dead, the Sanhedrin decided that it was time to kill Him. This was the decision of the Sanhedrin. Their problem was, how do they kill Him and make it all legal? How can they get rid of Him under these conditions. His death would lead to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ. Because of that, the faith of these Jewish religious leaders would be sealed.

Because of their negative volition, Jerusalem was crushed and the Sanhedrin was destroyed. The scheme of Caiaphas did not work too well.

When it comes to persecution, fear should not be a part of it. Our life is in the hands of Jesus Christ. If it is not our time to go, then no one can touch us. When it is our time, then nothing can keep us in this world.

Jesus is aware of the plans of the very powerful Sanhedrin. But after this time, His ministry was no longer public. He still had a ministry which must be continued.

John 11:54 Jesus therefore no longer walked openly among the Jews, but went from there to the region near the wilderness, to a town called Ephraim, and there he stayed with the disciples.

Next we go to Matt. 19, where all 3 synoptic gospel writers record these incidents.

Mark 10:17 And as he was setting out on his journey, a man ran up and knelt before him and asked him, "Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?"

He runs up to Jesus and he prostrated himself before Jesus. He calls Jesus, good teacher. No rabbi was accustomed to being called good. First he is running, now he is on his knees, and then he gives the Lord an unusual title.

Who has not wondered about life after death? Is there nothing? Is there something? For Jews, inheriting the kingdom was equivalent to having eternal life.

Matt. 19:16 And behold, a man came up to Him, saying, "Teacher, what good deed must I do to have eternal life?"

He seems to be uncertain about his ability to enter into the Kingdom of God. "Do I have what it takes to gain the favor of God? Have I done enough good deeds? Where is the line to cross?" This man wanted another opinion, and it is ironic that he is asking Jesus, as Jesus is the One to grant eternal life.

Jesus Christ is not just a good teacher. He was the Person, the Messiah, the source of eternal life. This man could see that there is something in Jesus; but this ruler did not consider Jesus for Whom He was. Jesus had the power over death. He provided the way into the Kingdom; He is the answer.

Jesus could have answered, "I am eternal life; you need to believe in Me."

Why Did Jesus Approach this Man in a Different Way?

1. This ruler believed that his deeds provided the means of entrance into heaven. He wanted to know what many religious leaders wanted to know. Are his deeds enough? And which ones are the most important and would please God the most.
2. The young ruler's idea of reaching the kingdom was entirely wrong and it was the approach of legalism.
3. The ruler thought that his deeds would please God and provide him with eternal life. Remember what he asked the Lord. "What can I do?"
4. The young ruler had no concept of grace; none. He was strictly a legalist. What must I do? Grace is not a part of Judaism.
5. Therefore, Jesus' answer to the young ruler about inheriting eternal life is not a straightforward approach.
6. At that time, the young ruler would not have believed in Jesus; he would not have accepted the simple explanation of Jesus outright. He expects that his deeds will get him into heaven. This, in a nutshell, is religion. Religion is earning a relationship; it is earning through good works the grace of God.
7. Our Lord had to answer his question by demonstrating the fallacy of his legalistic conception. He was not ready to hear the grace answer.

Jesus answers his question with a question. The question that he asks is very unexpected and quite puzzling—particularly for the disciples. They had heard this many times before. Nicodemus was also a ruler of the Jews. He sought answers from the teacher sent from God. Nicodemus heard the answer to his question as a simple phrase: Nicodemus, you must be born again. Then this was explained to him. And Nicodemus was ready for this answer and he believed.

He was seeking; no doubt about it. He already knew what the answer was; he just wanted it confirmed. He sought an answer that he already knew. So Jesus hits him where he lives to show him the error of his legalistic thinking. He had to see something else. This is how we all should witness for Jesus Christ.

Consider the audience and consider the questions, beliefs and presuppositions. This is why we should ask questions. Ask questions in order to find out this information. People cannot wait to tell you what they believe.

You must know what they believe in order to speak to them about the gospel. Muslims love to talk about religion. We might say, "That's private; we don't talk about that;" but the Muslim wants to talk about it.

Bobby was sent off to a different type of religion as one of his assignments. They watched, listened and ate with them. Fascinating to hear what they thought. They wanted to know the difference. Being there was the chance to explain the difference. So they hear the gospel clearly in a context that they understand. Often the choice is understood by explaining their faulty beliefs and the gospel.

For the Muslims, it is pure legalism; but as it is for the Jews. If you can present the differences, then you have done a good job in witnessing.

Do not water down the gospel; do not reduce it to being compromised or garbled. Make it clear always. Do not pussyfoot around.

There are Christian movies today and they are very popular. Bobby has noticed that they never make the gospel clear. Faith alone in Christ alone is never presented. They always lack the pure gospel. Christians get very enthused about these movies, and there are good principles; but they lack the unadulterated gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. Do not back off; do not apologize.

Bobby saw a pastor from Houston speak on a panel, and came close to giving the gospel, but did not.

Jim and Phyllis Meyers, missionary to the Ukraine.

50 years ago this month that he first walked into Berachah Church. Some familiar faces still here. Ordained in 1971. He learned the great doctrine of grace. One of the things that he heard 50 years ago, that there is only one appropriate response to grace, and that is to say, thank you. He went to the prayer meeting and thrilled to hear them praying for the pastor and for the missionaries who are out there.

They are in Ukraine. Wasn't it the Ukraine? It was called the borderland, and the people do not like to hear it called the Ukraine, as an appendage to Russia. A surge in patriotism, a surge in nationalism that is unprecedented. They never saw Ukrainian flags 10 or so years ago; except at government buildings or on holidays. Now, these flags are all over.

Propaganda is Ukrainian people want to be annexed to Russia. Not true. Russians have taken over the city of Ugask.

Is it safe to be in Ukraine? Well, is it safe to be in Chicago? A million and a half Ukrainians are refugees, but they do not go to Europe. They do not go to Russia. They are staying in Ukraine.

150 short-range missiles moved into the Crimea peninsula. There is just as much cause for fear in America as Ukraine. As long as God makes it possible for them to do so. They can go out on the streets and proclaim Jesus. They can print spiritual literature; they can plant churches. This is possibly why Ukraine is under attack.

People are not flocking to them, but there is a response to the gospel message. Planted a church years ago called the Word of God Church. They believe in the indigenous church principle; so the missionary is to get out of the way. They do not need American churches or American pastors teaching there. He is no longer the pastor of that church. He has plenty to do; now the men they have been working with, who have gone through their Bible college and are well-grounded, they are now doing it. They are now teaching the Bible classes and they are taking care of the administration. This is in Kiev. Word of God college designed to train people for the ministry. And their graduates have planted churches throughout.

Lugansk. There was a church there; but that church got shut down. 65 or 75 people for awhile, but got down to 3. Russians might decide they like your building and they just take it. The Russian army came to one campus and liked it, and took it over.

Training more people to take the Word of God out to the countryside to prepare the people for whatever may come.

Meyers has been able to travel around and teach in various churches and in the college. Graduates who are missionaries; and a family has gone to southern Turkey; and now 25 or 30 meet in their home to study the Bible. A missionary family from Siberia. A Bible teaching church in Siberia. A brilliant young man who came out of their seminary.

Pray for Ukraine.

Also, the opportunity to teach the Word of God in other countries. He goes to Zambia. They have a president Edgar Lungu and reelected for a second 5 year term. He stood up to the United Nations. They tried to blackmail him. "If you do not legalize same-sex marriage, we will withdraw our troops." He said, "We are a Christian nation." He holds a worship service every Sunday there and a prayer session (I think). He has courage and Christian convictions.

They have conferences and teach 6 hours a day, and the people are hungry for the Word of God; and there are pastors who are hungry for the Word of God. Amazing to watch these men as they have grown. There are men developing a reputation of able to teach the Word of God.

Also they go to Brazil. Two doing an amazing job in the Amazon jungle. The pope said, last year, that we need to get the evangelicals out of Brazil, because, apparently, too many Catholics were being saved.

Lesson #0850

Matt. 19:16–18 Life of Christ

8/25/2016 Thursday

Jesus is asked this question:

Matt. 19:16 And behold, a man came up to Him, saying, "Teacher, what good deed must I do to have eternal life?"

This was a rich young man, and probably a legalist to the top. He is a true blue Jewish legalist. He would not have been a ruler in the Jewish hierarchy if he were not a legalist. He was seeking something that was important. How do we enter into the Kingdom of God. Do good things; keep the Mosaic Law.

But this man has some doubts whether he is doing enough for salvation. A fear of the religious is, am I doing enough? Can I get's God's approval based upon my life? Relative righteousness is never good enough for God. As a legalist, the ruler understood nothing about grace. The answer to his question was centered in grace. God has to move this man from his legalistic presuppositions to seeing and understanding grace. This is sometimes a step-by-step process. He needed to go through a process first. He needed to recognize his own shortcomings first. What was going on in his head?

Let's Figure out What He Is Thinking

1. He reveals himself when the Lord asks him a question, along the lines of what he believed would be the answer to inheriting eternal life. A good technique for witnessing is asking questions.
2. The ruler will clearly state that he has certain expectations concerning the way to eternal life. He already knows what needs to be done. We can probably compare this young ruler to Saul of Tarsus before he rode off on a donkey down the Damascus Road. He was intensely focused on the Mosaic Law; he concentrated on the Mosaic Law.
3. He was attempting to keep all of the commandments and traditions of his Jewish fathers. He was inline with all of the Jewish traditions.
4. We must give him his due. He had a longing to measure up to the highest standards of the law. If he meets those standards, he earns his way into the Kingdom of God. He is serious about this. He wants eternal life. Most people want a life after death.
5. Yet he was afraid that there was something somewhere lacking in his thinking or in his life. There is some sort of problem with works righteousness, but he could not seem to put his finger on it.

6. So he came to Jesus Christ hoping for some insight. He wanted to know what kind and how much righteousness that the Great Teacher thinks would be required to enter into the Kingdom. This is the loose end he wants to tie up.
7. He also wants to know if his righteousness is enough to get him through the door. If not, what should he do.
8. He was a moral, religious person; yet he sensed a need beyond himself. That is the first step towards grace. He thinks he needs some kind of confirmation outside of himself.

Matt. 19:16 And behold, a man came up to Him, saying, "Teacher, what good deed must I do to have eternal life?"

Jesus does not come straight out with the answer, but He could not do that with this guy. He knew that this would be a turn-off to this religious zealot. He would have rejected the calling of grace; he would have refused faith alone in Christ alone. So, Jesus is trying to take him in that direction. This is our purpose, to take a person to faith alone in Christ alone.

What Does the Lord Do?

1. Jesus takes a roundabout approach to answering him. He comes up around him and beside him.
2. First, He must confirm who he is.
3. How does he do this? He uses the ruler's salutation to define himself. If the ruler calls Jesus that, what does he really mean? Jesus wants to lead this ruler toward grace, salvation, and this man needs to understand Who Jesus is.
4. The idea is to get this man to the place where Nicodemus is. This will be typical of negative volition in the world today. The only true socialist is God; He gives it to us truly for free. Where is good truly found? It is to be found only in God. And this religious leader would have to agree with Jesus here. To the relative, non-religious person, this is a question which has no answer. There are no absolutes for the humanist other than there are no absolutes. The relative person may not see any evil at all in this world.

At the Judgment Seat of Christ, what decisions we make to perform divine good, will be examined; and there will be no excuses. We are a victim society, where always someone else is blamed. Victims can blame anyone for anything; and they never take into account their own decisions, their own actions or their own thoughts. For the relative humanist. There is only what society defines as good and not as good. What was wrong before is now called right; and there are many examples of that today. What was morality in the past, is no longer moral; and immoral before is moral today. That is because of humanist relativism.

What is truly good in the eye of the humanist makes no sense. So Jesus pursues the question, "What is good?" This interests this man. So when the Lord asks him a simple question like this, it is a real challenge. Who is the true, absolute standard? Where does that come from? If the humanist is truly logical, he would say, there is no reason for good.

So Jesus takes this man to the basic standard, God is good; and no person meets that standard. This rich young ruler thinks that he is great; but Jesus is going to show him that he is wrong.

The grace of God is our only hope; not our good works. Our good works are meaningless. This man is positioned to find Christ. But he is still not ready to find out what it takes to obtain eternal life.

Jesus poses the simple question. "Why do you call Me good? No one can be good but God alone." It sounds as if Jesus is excluding Himself, but He is not doing that.

Mark 10:18 And Jesus said to him, "Why do you call me good? No one is good except God alone.

This man uses αγαθος in a relative way. But Jesus does not use αγαθος in the relative sense.

Jesus Defines God Alone as Being Good

1. Jesus states an all-encompassing view of good. He does not use it as a relative term. "Only God is absolute good."
2. He reminds this religious man that only God is intrinsically good.
3. Jesus defines God. People attribute evil to God; and often they do this when something bad happens to them. All that God does is good. God can be nothing less since His whole Person is good. There is no sin in God.
4. The ruler has to agree.

Where Is Jesus Taking this Man

1. What had Christ been claiming for Himself? He calls Himself the Son of God.
2. If that is so, then intrinsic goodness also belongs to Jesus Christ, as He is God. God alone is good; I am God, because you recognize that I am good.
3. The wheels of this man are turning.
4. This is one more claim of deity by the Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus is claiming goodness and, therefore, Godhood.
5. You call me αγαθος, and that is correct.

There Is Another Conclusion this Ruler Can Come to

1. If God is absolute good, then absolute righteousness is possible only for God. This man is intelligent, so Jesus carefully guides him here. God and good and righteousness are also closely connected.
2. Jesus, being God, is also absolute righteousness. The only righteous man is standing before this young ruler. Jesus is acceptable to God because He is good (He is perfect righteousness). These are things that this man needs to catch on to.
3. God will accept nothing less than perfect righteousness. "How righteous do I have to be?"

4. This is a comparison that the young ruler must make. The absolute righteousness of God and Jesus Christ as God versus the relative good works of this young man.
5. He must come to a conclusion. He does not measure up; but Jesus Christ does. If God only accepts perfect righteousness, then this man is unacceptable. This is a beautiful way for people to come to God and God's righteousness. This is to convince the rich young ruler of his own weakness.

The question is, if the young ruler calls Jesus a good teacher, is this a reference to absolute good? Is that what is in the eye of the young ruler? No, it is not. He does not recognize the true nature of Jesus Christ. True unadulterated humanity and perfect undiminished Deity. The rich young ruler needs to come to the point of exercising faith in Jesus Christ.

If the ruler understands and accepts Christ, then Jesus could tell him, "You are righteous enough to enter into the kingdom." This comes without the Law of Moses. This is known as justification; being admitted into the eternal kingdom.

This was not the answer coming from this young ruler. He did not catch on or he did not want to catch on. It is very tough for a legalist to understand grace. They must give up all their good works that they have accumulated as righteousness (in their own eyes). It is hard for them to let go of these good works.

The young ruler means good in the relative sense; and Jesus means it in the absolute sense. He tries to convince him not to keep the Law for eternal life; and now approaches this in the legalistic approach. "Okay, keep this laws."

Matt. 19:17 And He said to him, "Why do you ask Me about what is good? There is only One Who is good. If you would enter life, keep the commandments."

So, let's do it your way. "Keep the commandments."

Matt. 19:18 He said to Him, "Which ones?" And Jesus said, "You shall not murder, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not steal, You shall not bear false witness,

"Now You are talking. Which ones should I keep?" Jesus gives 4 commandments; and then Jesus gives him one more commandment, along with an additional commandment. This is more or less what this young ruler expected to hear.

"Here's the ticket to eternal life." And the young ruler seems to be reassured of his own righteousness. Rightly understood, the Law shows that we cannot earn the blessing of God only if we keep them all.

"Have you always honored your parents? Do you have impersonal love down perfectly?" So, in hearing these commandments, the young ruler is very happy about what he is hearing. But if this man is objective, he will come to a point where he realizes that he is not really keeping the Law. Jesus is leading him to the true means of getting eternal life.

What a symbol Berachah is; there is a nucleus of Bible doctrine and this is here; and this is what holds this country together. It is the center of the Post Oak universe. This has been the dedication of Berachah Church. Berachah used to be in the midst of prairie and there were a few farms nearby.

The Ten Commandments are a topic that most people think they know about. Given by God on Mount Sinai early on in the exodus. Known as the decalogue, which means the ten laws. These establish the guidelines of freedom for national Israel under the theocracy. This code is somewhat of a preface to the Mosaic Law.

This is somehow thought to be foundational as the spiritual life for the Christian believer. This is a good starting point for the laws of divine establishment; they are the basis of morality. The decalogue does nothing to advance the spiritual life of the believer.

We see these commandments posted on public buildings and there are constant lawsuits to remove them. Some see these as extremely dangerous, as a threat of theocracy. If the opponents understood the decalogue correctly, that they provide freedom for a nation; they should be a constant reminder to us of freedom and justice. These are the standards of liberty for all; they have never diminished freedom, nor have they imposed Christianity or Judaism on anyone. Today, secularism and atheism is being imposed by the state, and that is certainly problematic.

No god before Me is the first commandment. No code of the United States demands this sort of obeisance. This is a warning to the client nation. Materialism for people today often takes first place in their thinking. National exclusion of morality and establishment principles embodied by the decalogue.

The Ten Commandments are seen by some as a means of salvation; a way of eternal life. This is a works righteous. They think that this provides entrance into eternal life. Excluding grace should never be understood as the means of salvation.

The rich young ruler is related to the decalogue. The ruler is a pharisaical legalist who knows nothing about the grace of God. That is a foreign concept to this man. This man is wondering if keeping the law is all there is. So he goes to Jesus, this great rabbi. Maybe Jesus has some insight in this area. Matt. 19 Mark 10 Luke 18.

Matt. 19:16 And behold, a man came up to Him, saying, "Teacher, what good deed must I do to have eternal life?"

The rich young ruler runs up to the Lord and asks him.

Matt. 19:17 And He said to him, "Why do you ask me about what is good? There is only one who is good. If you would enter life, keep the commandments."

We know that no one is saved by keeping the Ten Commandments.

Jesus chose very specific commandments, those which are directed toward a man's relationship to society. These are divine establishment commands.

Matt. 19:18 He said to Him, "Which ones?" And Jesus said, "You shall not murder, You shall not commit adultery, You shall not steal, You shall not bear false witness,..."

Murder removes another person's freedom. Marriage and family are at the heart of freedom and the stability of a nation. Stealing is criminality, which destabilizes a nation. Bearing false witness is the destruction of justice.

Matt. 19:19 Honor your father and mother, and, You shall love your neighbor as yourself."

Honoring your father and mother is a part of family association. The epitome of relationship with others is love your neighbor as yourself.

These commandments have nothing to do with a man's relationship with God. These fit the false perceptions of the man himself. He sees himself as following these mandates, particularly the 5th. He knows loving one's neighbor is very important.

Jesus sums up the whole law and prophets on this and loving the Lord your God. The young ruler is in total agreement.

"Thank you; now I know I am getting there." People think that if they don't get into scuffles with their neighbors; they don't backstab or gossip; this is the epitome of relationship righteousness. Relationships with people has nothing to do with our relationship with God. How God treats us in grace is the basis for our relationship with God.

Some people think that praying is a relationship with God. It has to start with God. Christianity is not a religion but a relationship with God through Jesus Christ. The Christian life is advancing spiritually from there.

Matt. 19:20 The young man said to him, "All these I have kept. What do I still lack?"

The young man is delighted. I have kept all these things from my youth up. So, what do I still lack? Are you sure that is everything?

Does he slip sometimes? Has he been perfect? "If I try, it must be enough." All of his life, he has strived to keep the Ten Commandments. They are always trying to please God based upon what they do. As a religious man, he is still uncertain. He comes to the Lord with having some uncertainty. The question remains on his mind, "Isn't there something else? What else do I need to do?" A religious person with any sense at all strives to meet the requirements of God, and many realize that there is something else required. He has always been seeking the answer to this question. "I've done this; what else?" That is exactly where the Lord wants this man—knowing in his own mind that he is lacking something.

Sometimes, people do not even know that they are searching. Some need to be prompted with questions. What do you believe? Is there life after death? This often gives this person a starting point. Start here and think about this. Jesus answers this young man with the limitations of the Law. The law is good, but it does not achieve what this man requires. Jesus wants to free him from the chains of legalism. Jesus has come to free us from the chains. Jesus wants this young man to think beyond Jewish traditions, where he was bogged down. He must come to this thought process. "How can I be saved when I cannot completely keep the Law?" He moves right past this, so Jesus needs to get him to thinking. "What you actually need is standing right in front of you."

So, the rich young ruler is happy; he thinks that he is on the right track. So Jesus will make a demand of him, setting him up. Jesus will give him a law, and this will stop him in his tracks. The final law, based upon the Ex. 20:17b is the basis for what Jesus is saying to him. "You will not covet."

Matt. 19:21 Jesus said to him, "If you would be perfect, go, sell what you possess and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow Me."

Lesson #0852

Matt. 19:21 Life of Christ

8/28/2016 2Sunday

Bobby would say that religion is the scourge of the earth. Christianity is not a religion. Religion is man by man's efforts trying to gain salvation. "Since I am a good person, God must be smiling on me." Many conflicts have begun based on religion. Grace is all about what God has done for us, and it all begins at the cross with the Lord Jesus Christ. Here is a very religious man called a ruler, a leader, a religious man, a member of the Sanhedrin; and he is wealthy. "What else do I need?" Being religious, he needs good works in order to please God.

Here is a good teacher who may have some insight on what God requires. "What must I do to be saved?" He already has a presupposition or two. "I already know that I should be keeping these commandments; is there something more?" Jesus will show him that his idea of salvation is utterly impossible. He cannot keep these laws. There are hundreds of laws.

Purpose of the Law

1. The decalogue is a freedom code.
2. The body of the law is to govern Old Testament Israel, a theocracy.
3. How many people today could keep the United States code perfectly? Try to keep the law and all the regulations as well. Impossible to keep track of them, let alone obey them all.

What am I still lacking?" so the Lord shows him where he is lacking. He still asks, what more can I do? Jesus Christ has come to offer this answer for all mankind. It could not be any clearer than it is here. Man can do nothing by way of works and keeping the law. Jesus is trying to take him towards faith in Christ.

Some time, ask someone, what is Christianity? This is a setup, obviously; but that is what the Lord is doing right here. People are unfortunately ignorant of the Bible in this way. Christ's next instructions will reveal to the rich young ruler his lack. This is the way that the Lord Jesus Christ looks at all unbelievers. He gives some instructions; he wants this man to find real righteousness in Him. Righteousness imputed at the moment of salvation.

Mark 10:21 And Jesus, looking at him, loved him, and said to him, "You lack one thing: go, sell all that you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me."

Jesus is speaking to this man in the context of the presupposition of works-righteousness. Taking the plunge into poverty is a work that cannot provide salvation. Giving to others is charity and that is a good thing. What the unbeliever can do is not the Christian life. Whatever the unbeliever can do, outside of faith in Christ, is not salvation. But many base their hopes on these works. Charity is commended in Scripture, but not in the way of salvation. Some think that an excess of money is evil. Denying such excess becomes a necessary condition to gain the approbation of God. But money is not evil; it is the love of money that is evil. Materialism is not right; but abandoning material things is not the route for salvation.

Jesus will give the explanation of the eye of a needle and salvation; and this is related and we will study this in the future. Here, it sounds like the Lord is telling this man to give up his money. If the disciples just sold everything and gotten rid of everything, it was not the basis of their salvation. Their salvation resulted from exercising faith in Christ. Following the Lord requires faith in Christ first.

"Get rid of your human security and then follow Me." Or "Your security is actually in Me." This rich young ruler has placed his faith in the wrong object, and that is what kept him from salvation. They have faith in something, but it is not in the Lord Jesus Christ. He has placed money before God, which violates the 1st commandment. He has to trust in the Lord for salvation and that true wealth and security resides in the Lord. What we possess on earth is fleeing. Money is fleeing; friends a fleeting. It is here and it is gone. The one thing that is stable and steady and never fails.

The Rich Young Ruler and True Righteousness

1. This man needed to understand that true righteous is qualitative. It has to match the character of God; true righteousness is the character of God. Everything else is relative. Everything else that we see apart from this is relative. It changes. Morality changes. What was good yesterday is evil today, and vice versa. True righteousness is absolute righteousness. The quality of righteousness comes from God Himself.
2. His righteousness is qualitative not quantitative. He needs a quality of righteousness beyond himself. To pharisees, wealth was a sign of God's blessing and a sign of their path into the Kingdom of God. Giving up their wealth would have been in direct opposition to the thinking of this rich young ruler. Does he have the positive volition to eventually look to the Lord for eternal life. See how the Lord did this, He lays out these laws, which the legalist agrees with; and then Jesus gives him some commands that the young man knows, but has not thought about.

3. If he does not sell his stuff, he will be placing money in front of God. He is serving mammon rather than God. Money is his security. It is more important than anything else.
4. He would also fail in his relationship to his neighbors, and loving them is taking care of them in poverty. They see this as charity. The Lord says, "Let's go all the way with this and love your neighbor truly."
5. So this man has not, in fact, kept the commandments which he knows.

Matt. 19:21 Jesus said to him, "If you would be perfect, go, sell what you possess and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow Me."

The Lord has made him think. Witnessing to a person should cause a person to think. Where are they right now? Where do they want to go?

If He Clings to His Material Goods, Then He Is Rejecting the Grace of God. Secondly, If He sold his material goods, he would be admitting that law keeping was not the means of salvation, but grace is the means of salvation. Jesus places him in the position to see a very clear choice.

Misunderstandings about this Passage

1. It is not the selling of those goods that will commend him to God.
2. Obedience to this command would indicate that he has expressed faith in Christ. He is following the Lord.
3. That is the evil of the love of money. Trust is in the wrong thing. Liking money, liking what money buys, using money is all legitimate. But you cannot trust in it; you cannot place it in front of God.
4. Only through faith alone can this ruler get what he is striving for. Only faith in Christ provides him with the righteousness that is acceptable to God. He understands that righteousness before God is necessary. He now sees, he cannot attain to that righteousness. He is willing to do works; but will he go all the way?

Money is the perfect vehicle to understand grace. Bob gave Bobby money when he did not deserve it. He used money to teach grace. People use money in such a way to spoil a child. But Bobby understood the principle that Bob was teaching him.

Here, money is anti-grace for this man. He will not be saved by giving up his money but by exercising faith in Christ. What does the rich young ruler do as a result? This man recognizes that he is not saved; that he lacks favor with God.

Our subject is a young man who is rich; and often, that combination means arrogance. He is steeped in Jewish tradition and law keeping. He thinks that his personal righteousness pleases God.

He asks, how can I attain to eternal life? And he thinks maybe the Lord has knowledge that he needs. Of course, the Lord answers. Jesus says you must keep these commandments of the decalogue for life. He is happy with that answer. It is not the truth, but it is what the rich young ruler wanted to hear. This was a tactic. He is truly incapable of keeping the Law perfectly. Certainly the Mosaic Law was a civil code for governing Israel as a theocratic kingdom. It defined the way of life of the Jews; but all of those laws were indicators that God's standards were way beyond what any person could fulfill.

Law keeping is merely relative righteousness. Jesus needed to guide him to understand that, he is unable to keep the law. The viewpoint of the religious hierarchy was damaged. Jesus could not say, "Believe in Me, and you are saved;" as that man is not there yet.

There is an irony to this conversation. He came to the right place and he heard the answer that he wanted to hear. And the young ruler began to pat himself on the back for his obedience of the Law.

There was a shadow of doubt. He was still not quite satisfied. What Jesus said was not his real concern.

Matt. 19:20 The young man said to him, "All these I have kept. What do I still lack?"

Matt. 19:21 Jesus said to him, "If you would be perfect, go, sell what you possess and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow Me."

"So let me get this straight; I sell everything, I end up with nothing, and then I start to follow you like these other guys are doing?" And Jesus essentially says, "Yes."

The result is...

Matt. 19:22 When the young man heard this he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions.

He was extremely rich.

The Response of the Rich Young Ruler

1. His wealth stood in the way of faith alone in Christ alone. It was a block. In his mind, he did not need grace; he had everything that he needed.
2. He could not handle such a radical change in his whole life. Following Christ demanded this. This made him sad.
3. He got his answer and he rejected it and he was sad. Did he recognize this fact? Perhaps he knew right then that he could not keep the law.

4. He realized that he was not really keeping all those commandments, but he could not let go of his wealth. Salvation does not require us to do anything but accept the gift. This is why we give gifts at Christmas; it is a reflection of the grace of God. It is not just a smile that you see; but this reflects the grace of God; it is Christmas.
5. This ruler is more attached to his wealth than the idea of obtaining eternal grace. One of the great problems for some people is materialism. They like what they have now, but life is over before we know it. Why not believe in Christ, but he could not. This is actually point 3.
6. His seeking of eternal life had material limits. I will not go past the loss of my material possessions, was what he was thinking. This narrative is not about how much money the ruler has or how much he gives up. He could still have wealth and be a believer. All of this indicates that wealth was first in his life.
7. However, the love of money kept him from becoming a believer. It is the love of money that is the root of many types of evil.
8. This represents the hangup of security that this man preferred to cling to. He was hung up on what is security in life. He could not let it go, not even for eternal life; not even to hold on to the greatest security in life. He would not give up temporal benefits for eternal benefits. They are good people. How can the Lord reject relative righteousness.
9. Money was just more important than anything else in his life. A secular society is always a materialist society. Socialism is materialism because it focuses on wealth and the redistribution of wealth. They are the epitome of materialists.
10. The ruler's response is, he rejected what Jesus offered him. This man is a hypocrite because he was keeping the Law for eternal life. He is still hanging his hat on that.
11. Even though this man now understood that he did not have the prerequisite righteousness through law keeping. He rejected law keeping when he rejected what Jesus required him to do. He could not bring himself to accept the only alternative. It turns out that law keeping was a ruse. Materialism was his god. He only kept the Law when it suited his purpose. The humanist only keeps the law when it suits his purposes.

The people in our government are the most lawless people we have ever known, yet they demand that we keep the regulations that they inflict us with. Faith alone in Christ alone and then living the Christian life; these are what are important.

Do you think that wealthy people are happy? They have their moments and everything around them is beautiful and wonderful; but they cannot be happy when materialism is their god. Human nature is the same, with or without money. Chasing the almighty dollar is an unhappy pursuit.

Matt. 19:23 And Jesus said to his disciples, "Truly, I say to you, only with difficulty will a rich person enter the kingdom of heaven."

Many people have looked at this and thought that rich people cannot get to heaven.

The Difficulty of Entering into the Kingdom of God by the Rich

1. Jesus is not saying that wealthy people cannot go to heaven. Wealth is not a disqualifier.
2. Wealth makes it harder and the disciples just saw an example of that.
3. Impossible for those who trust in riches rather than in Christ to enter into the Kingdom of God. He had everything important to man. He had wealth, power, an inquiring man, and he was reasonably perception. He was closed to grace and close to faith alone in Christ alone.

Then Jesus gives an illustration. Camels are huge animals and nasty. Here's the gate, the camel cannot go through it.

Matt. 19:24 Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God."

Explaining the Illustration

1. This reference is not to a gate; this reference is to a sewing needle. A little opening at the top.
2. This indicates that the Lord refers to a literal sewing needle and not a gate. This is even a better illustration.
3. The illustration of entering the kingdom in the way of the rich young ruler becomes even more impossible. When you compare the sewing needle to a camel. Have you tried to thread a needle. It is not pleasant.
4. This is an illustration that it is impossible to get the largest object through the tiniest object. What an illustration this is. The camel does represent the rich young ruler, who is trusting in his wealth. His only means of entry into the kingdom. He is trying to get through they eye of the needle. He cannot force his body through that opening. Only Jesus Christ can bring him through it. Salvation is a narrow way. There is only one way through it. The thread is faith alone in Christ alone. All other legalisms are huge objects trying to get through impossibly small openings. The Lord uses this illustration for the disciples to see it.

Giving money is a necessary service to further the gospel and evangelism; but it is not the means of salvation.

What Jesus Is Teaching

1. Jesus was not teaching that it is difficult for one with riches to enter into the kingdom.
2. He was showing that it was completely impossible.
3. No one who trusts in riches or anything else can enter into the kingdom. The disciples have missed the point.
4. The disciples are still thick-headed about salvation. They were even more astonished over the eye of the needle illustration. They ask then, "Well, who can be saved?"

The disciples were saved, but they still had legalism in their souls. They thought that being rich was a clear sign of divine blessing. What chance was there for anyone else who lacked money?

Having Riches as a Jew

1. Blessing was associated with money.
2. If God blesses them with money in this life, how can He turn them away eternally? Some people give money to gain favor. They are to grab some blessing by means of contributions. I will give a little and then God will bless me because of that. You cannot move forward with the wrong motivation. These givers are reversionistic camels.
3. Jesus is correcting their misconceptions.

Matt. 19:25 When the disciples heard this, they were greatly astonished, saying, "Who then can be saved?"

so Jesus looks at them, and tells them, "This is impossible for man; but with God, all things are possible."

How impossible the sacrifice of the Lord Jesus Christ seems. God became man, lived for 30 years, took all of this guff, and then died for us. The wealthy can be saved when this monied ruler is not.

Matt. 19:26 But Jesus looked at them and said, "With man this is impossible, but with God all things are possible."

Now they have it; but Peter has something to say about everything.

Matt. 19:27 Then Peter said in reply, "See, we have left everything and followed you. What then will we have?"

Peter's mind is now on what they have in heaven.

Peter and the boys have followed Him, so what is their treasure? Out of this question, the Lord provides an important doctrine for their future and ours.

We have asked about this and we don't know what it is.

Lesson #0854 Matt. 19:27–28 Isa. 11:6–9 Life of Christ 9/1/2016 Thurs

Bobby has been thinking about negative volition and about the rich young ruler, and his volition is not different from others with negative volition. He needed to understand that keeping the Law would not save him. He needed to understand that this was not a valid route to the favor of God. No one can reach heaven that way and he demonstrated that fact to himself, after hearing the Lord Jesus Christ. He put his money in front of God. He violated the first commandment of the decalogue that he swore he kept. He did not love his neighbor enough to give to the poor. This indicates his inability to keep the Law, and he is illustrative of all those trying to gain God's approbation by keeping His law.

Faith alone in Christ alone is grace; and this is the only way to receive the perfect righteousness in order to receive the justice of God. Justification is imputed righteousness at salvation. He turned his back on it, even though he knew what he was doing was unacceptable.

The rich young ruler had no intention of changing his modus operandi. The mode of good works salvation; but he could not let go of his Jewish training. That is so hard for so many people. "I cannot accept Christ because that means that granny is in hell, so I have to be with her." He needed to turn away from the Law. He could not accept the gospel because his soul was blocked out by legalism.

The disciples heard this back and forth between the rich young ruler and the Lord Jesus Christ. They were processing this; and they needed to hear it so that Jesus could teach them a great lesson in grace.

A camel cannot force himself through the eye of a sewing needle. Nor can man work his way into the Kingdom of God. The rich young ruler was brought to the point of realizing this, but he could not take that additional step. No legalistic camel can thread the needle of salvation. Truly they understood that entry into the kingdom is a very narrow way.

However, with God, all things are possible; with man, no way does the camel go through a sewing needle eye. Man goes through that impossibly small opening by faith in Christ. Only God can make this possible.

The disciples are listening to this. The disciples have already passed through the eye of the needle and this made them happy. Peter, the usual spokesman, is very quick to point out that they have done this.

A new thought pops into their minds.

Matt. 19:27 Then Peter said in reply, "See, we have left everything and followed you. What then will we have?"

We're in; we know it. What's our share? What is our treasure in heaven? You promised the rich young ruler this treasure; what is it? We are there; what do we get? What is in it for us?

Peter is on a treasure hunt; what's in it for me, he asks.

Peter wants to negotiate a really good deal. His bargaining chip is that he chose to follow Christ. Jesus takes this self-serving question and provides an important doctrine for their future. This is a doctrine we have wondered about; what's in it for us? We know that there is a connection between the Christian life and rewards.

So, Jesus now gives Peter the answer.

Matt. 19:28 Jesus said to them, "Truly, I say to you, in the new world, when the Son of Man will sit on his glorious throne, you who have followed Me will also sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

What they do not have on earth, they will have a superabundance in heaven.

There is a term regeneration used in the verse above. We normally think of this word in terms of individual regeneration; being born again.

Regeneration

1. In the regeneration signals a time frame. This is a renewing; a time frame during which this happens.
2. In the time or the regeneration.
3. Regeneration has a very specific meaning in this context. This is a future meaning; not a personal salvation meaning.
4. Used here and in Titus 3:5, which refers to the individual washing of regeneration, which is being born again. Nicodemus was reborn from spiritual death to spiritual life. A human spirit is created within the believer. This occurs in the moment when a person believes in the Lord Jesus Christ. Understand in this case, the disciples have already believed in Jesus Christ. They are spiritually alive. So their time of personal regeneration is already done. The Lord is speaking of the future. What future? Whose future?
5. The Lord is speaking of regeneration in terms of the time of the event of the Son of Man. This cannot mean to be personally born again. What does this mean in this context? This is an eschatological meaning; it is concerned with future things. That is an event.

Feminine_noun: paliggenesia (παλιγγενεσία) [pronounced pal-ing-ghen-es-ee'-ah], which means, 1) new birth, reproduction, renewal, recreation, regeneration; 1a) hence renovation, regeneration, the production of a new life consecrated to God, a radical change of mind for the better. The word often used to denote the restoration of a thing to its pristine state, its renovation, as a renewal or restoration of life after death; 1b) the renovation of the earth after the deluge; 1c) the renewal of the world to take place after its destruction by fire, as the Stoics taught; 1d) the signal and glorious change of all things (in heaven and earth) for the better, that restoration of the primal and perfect condition of things which existed before the fall of our first parents, which the Jews looked for in connection with the advent of the Messiah, and which Christians expected in connection with the visible return of Jesus from heaven.; 1e) other uses; 1e1) of Cicero's restoration to rank and fortune on his recall from exile; 1e2) of the restoration of the Jewish nation after exile; 1e3) of the recovery of knowledge by recollection. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #3824.

Regeneration Is the State of the Earth in the 2nd Advent

1. The event is Christ anticipating His return to earth; the 2nd advent, when He will sit on His glorious throne.
2. At that time He will fulfill the covenant that God made with Israel, the promise of the Messianic kingdom. He is the Messiah; He is the king. When He returns at the 2nd advent, He will sit on His throne.
3. He will sit on the throne of His kingdom, on the throne of King David, as the King of Kings and Lord of Lords.
4. This event here is call the regeneration.
5. This is the renewing of the world in the time of the returning of Jesus Christ. This takes place during the dispensation of the Millennium. This is what the disciples will be doing as leading citizens of the kingdom. This describe the environment of the time; the world is in a renewed condition; very different from the world today.

A description of the millennial kingdom. There will not be hurting or a destruction. Sometimes called a perfect environment. But there will be some in the Millennium with sin natures.

Isa. 11:6–9 The wolf shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the young goat, and the calf and the lion and the fattened calf together; and a little child shall lead them. The cow and the bear shall graze; their young shall lie down together; and the lion shall eat straw like the ox. The nursing child shall play over the hole of the cobra, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the adder's den. They shall not hurt or destroy in all my holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD as the waters cover the sea.

Isa 2:3b–5 For out of Zion shall go the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. He shall judge between the nations, and shall decide disputes for many peoples; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore. O house of Jacob, come, let us walk in the light of the LORD

Because of His justice and because of His perfect decisions, there will no longer be conflict. Their swords will be changed into non-weapons.

The Millennium

1. The Lord will be the perfect arbiter.
2. No more bad court decisions; no false justice.
3. Armies will not longer train for war.
4. War will no longer be a part of the human experience. This has been a part of the human experience forever. There will be no UN in the Millennium. Jesus is the true United Nations.
5. Peace and prosperity will descend upon the earth and all of its people. No longer a need for a war on poverty. There will be no more ghettos; no social welfare crowd.

6. The disciples will get to live in this environment.
7. This is a new environment called regeneration. Everything that will happen in the millennial kingdom.

The disciples will have a great part in the kingdom.

Matt. 19:28 Jesus said to them, "Truly, I say to you, in the new world, when the Son of Man will sit on his glorious throne, you who have followed Me will also sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

12 guys, 12 thrones, 12 tribes of Israel. Each of the 12 will rule over one of the 12 tribes of Israel. Rulers have wealth and authority. Rulers have prestige. Rulers have subjects. The disciples have been and will be in the near future, persecuted, hated, spit upon, as followers of Jesus Christ; but things will change radically in the Kingdom of Heaven. Those who are hated and downtrodden will become rulers. What you get in this life is treasure in heaven.

Peter's Question Will Have a Spectacular Answer

1. They will have a share in the millennial kingdom. But then the sound went bad.
2. They may be Jews in the Age of Israel; but they will become Apostles in the age of the church, and later rulers in the Millennium.
3. They will be resurrected at the rapture of the church. They will die as Church Age believers; so they have the promise of the rapture. They will return and they will take a leadership role over regenerate Israel. They will be regathered and rescued by the Lord at Armageddon.
4. These disciples will be seated on a throne, ruling along side the Lord Jesus Christ. What does Peter need to negotiate? He has it all.
5. The Lord Himself will be seated on the throne of Israel as their promised king.
6. The disciples will of course be subordinate to Christ. They will rule, but they will be subordinate to the King of Kings.
7. Being in Christ, they are in union with the Lord and they will share in His rule just as we will. It is a great honor. As resurrected Church Age believers, we will have some kind of a part in that new kingdom rule. We will return with the Lord Jesus Christ right along with those 12 apostles. Part of our rewards will be ruling.

So, do we ask, what is in it for me? What will we get?

Lesson #0855

Matt. 19:27–28 Life of Christ

9/4/2016 1Sunday

Often, Bobby's studies end up paralleling events in the world. Next session, we will study a parable that coincides with Labor Day. The point of the parable, even though it is about labor, is also about grace.

This service is all about rewards in heaven. What will happen to us in heaven.

If you are in the midst of a business deal and the person across from you, blurts out, what's in this for me? Besides being crass and obvious, he is asking, what do I gain if I make this deal? Is there a reward for me, if we come to terms? And negotiations continue so that both sides are satisfied. These are standard practices when both deals are being closed.

Matt. 19:27 Then Peter said in reply, "See, we have left everything and followed you. What then will we have?"

Jesus just finished with the rich young ruler, so now Peter says, "Okay, we are with You, what will we receive for serving You in this life?"

This is not the attitude for the one serving God; but this does reveal just how patient the Lord is with us. Jesus gives an answer which overlooks Peter's attitude. So, Jesus presents the doctrine of rewards in heaven.

Have you ever thought or wondered about what you might get in heaven? We know that there is housing and that there are great blessings.

Matt. 19:28 Jesus said to them, "Truly, I say to you, in the new world, when the Son of Man will sit on His glorious throne, you who have followed Me will also sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

When Jesus says, truly, I say to you, Jesus is giving a doctrine that needs to be remembered. There will be 12 thrones for these disciples to sit upon to judge the 12 tribes of Israel. These are Jews, and He is speaking of the Jewish nation. He gives them the time frame, which is when the Son of Man sits on His glorious throne. This is a promise that the future kingdom will literally exist, and that these 12 disciples will be a part of that reign. This is the Millennial kingdom. There will be a phenomenal occurrence at that time.

En + polygenasia, which means in the regeneration. A time when the renewing happens. This is a world that has been renewed, a world unlike anything that we have experienced. This is given in the Old Testament in terms of environment, the environment of the Millennium. We have the Age of Israel followed by the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ; followed by the hypostatic union, then the crucifixion, the resurrection; and that completes the 1st advent.

Jesus is speaking of the future millennial kingdom.

Isa. 11:6–9 The wolf shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the young goat, and the calf and the lion and the fattened calf together; and a little child shall lead them. The cow and the bear shall graze; their young shall lie down together; and the lion shall eat straw like the ox. The nursing child shall play over the hole of the cobra, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the adder's den. They shall not hurt or destroy in all my holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD as the waters cover the sea.

A fatling is a calf being fattened up to be eaten.

Mothers today constantly watch their children to make sure that they do not harm themselves. In the Millennium, this will not be an issue. Then, carnivores will become herbivores. This is the environment that all environmentalists have always longed for.

Isa 2:3b–5 For out of Zion shall go the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. He shall judge between the nations, and shall decide disputes for many peoples; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore. O house of Jacob, come, let us walk in the light of the LORD.

The Lord will rule from Israel and He will judge the nations. The courts today are very political. They render decisions on the basis of ideology rather than on the basis of law. The Lord is the perfect judge; no one will have reason to complain.

In this era, armies will no longer train for war.

I need to add Isa. 2 to the doctrine of intercalation.

This is the incredible environment in which we will all live during the Millennium. No more hard times. The lives that the disciples had were very difficult. They faced great persecution.

Matt. 19:28b ...you who have followed Me will also sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

Now, we cannot distinguish between the 12 tribes today, and how can this be literal because no one knows. However, the Lord can make this determination. He is able to make such a distinction. The disciples have to look forward to martyrdom in their lifetimes.

So Peter's question has a truly spectacular answer. They will have a share of the throne of Jesus Christ. That is what He is telling them. The disciples will return after the 2nd advent and rejoin the Lord Jesus Christ on this earth. The disciples will be subordinate to Jesus Christ. They will be in union with Jesus Christ and they will share in His reign.

So, what about the rest of us? The gentile and Jewish believers from the Church Age? What about us? Where do we fit into this picture? Especially those who are growing in grace and producing divine good. They too will have a marvelous future.

How do we find out? From where do we find out about these rewards? 1Peter 5:4 what does it mean to have these crowns? There is the crown of righteousness and the crown of life in James 1:12. Crowns indicate rulership; kings wear crowns. Some believers will wear crowns at the return of the Lord. It appears that they will share in the Lord's rulership in the millennial kingdom.

Rev. 2:26–28 The one who conquers and who keeps my works until the end, to him I will give authority over the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron, as when earthen pots are broken in pieces, even as I myself have received authority from my Father. And I will give him the morning star.

The believer producing divine good is herein linked to the Lord's millennial reign.

Closing Points

1. Ruling with Christ will be a certainty for crown resurrected Church Age believers.
2. It will be an honor for those who have served, sacrificed and produced divine good in the Church Age
3. This person will receive the order of the morning star, another reward. Rev. 2:28
4. That person will be in the presence of the grace of God in Christ attached to His throne.
5. He will have a privilege in the kingly destiny of the Lord.

Lesson #0856

Mark 10:29–30 Life of Christ

9/4/2016 2Sunday

The topics is rewards in heaven; rewards for Christian service. “We are doing a good job, so what’s in it for us?”

Jesus does this in such a way as to answer Peter’s question. There will be a perfect environment. There will also be crowns, and we will be there as believers in Jesus Christ, standing before the Judgment Seat of Christ. There we will receive our rewards. This is heaven; will we all have the same thing?

Bobby looks at the military; and his basic career is pinned to his chest. All sorts of badges they wear, and it depends upon what schools they attend. Ribbons tell where you have been and what you have done. Some men have silver stars because they have been valorous in combat. Some get a bronze star or a distinguished service cross. There are many service types.

This is similar to the reward in heaven; not all rewards in heaven will be equal. Not even heaven promotes socialism. The rewards at the bema seat is about works and grace. We cannot produce divine good without the grace of God. What is the difference between good deeds and divine good deeds? Anyone can do good deeds. Do those count for rewards or for anything? The believer who does good deeds, is that different? The believer and an unbeliever can do the same thing; give money, help others, etc. What is the difference? When you do something with the filling of the Holy Spirit, that is where it counts.

Now, Peter appears to have bad motivation. Soldiers wear ribbons very proudly, as they have done something valorous. But not everyone has those kinds of rewards. It is the same regarding the lack of equality in heaven. Our crown for divine good will not be shared with someone else. Divine good will not be produced in equality; and not everyone will do it. Not everyone will win a crown by producing divine good. Some will have crowns rewarded to them; the production of divine good in the service. Not everyone gets a crown or a morning star simply because they showed up. Very few medals of honor distributed, despite millions being in the service.

Some will have crowns, based upon the production of divine good. We return with the Lord to rule; so what will we rule? Who knows? Other planets? Houston? Baytown? The United States? The mature believer will rule with Jesus Christ to various degrees. For the faithful servant, this represents the unequivocal support of the Master; and the great authority of a ruler. What will this entail? We will rule under the auspices of the Lord Jesus Christ, in perfect fairness. The Lord will render perfect judgment. We will rule with a perfect set of circumstances. Bobby cannot tell us much else, apart from it being incredible.

There will be benefits that will make up for the losses. The disciples took a paycut when they followed the Lord; some separated from families; and some faced persecution.

Mark 10:29–30 Jesus said, "Truly, I say to you, there is no one who has left house or brothers or sisters or mother or father or children or lands, for my sake and for the gospel, who will not receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses and brothers and sisters and mothers and children and lands, with persecutions, and in the age to come eternal life. (ESV)

This is not a passage for the health and wealth gospel. There is no promise of health and wealth blessing. The world says that we should have cars in the garage, perfect kids, a great mother-in-law. Blessing comes to those who are advancing to spiritual maturity. There are blessings of the spiritual life that others cannot understand unless they have experienced it themselves. The disciples have given up so much. Peter and John has a great fishing business that they left behind to follow Jesus Christ. They left a lot behind. They were ostracized by the nation. It is like being a Muslim accepting Christ; you receive all kinds of grief.

Those who expect to be admitted into the kingdom. The ones who have given up so much for Christ would be the masters. There is that blessing in life. Some of the greatest blessings in life have been people that we get to associate with. There is no other association like that in life.

Mar 10:31 But many who are first will be last, and the last first."

This is a reference to those in authority. The disciples were last in the kingdom of Israel, and they would be first in the new kingdom.

Then Jesus will tell another parable, and there will be a lot of information in a parable. The principle of rewards to the believer.

The parable in Matt. 20 is connected with the last 4 verses of Matt. 19.

Many different interpretations of Matt. 20, and that has confused things. This is known as the most...of the parables, because there are so many interpretations.

Many people take various passages out of context and apply to them completely wrong interpretations. My interpretation is as good as yours is nonsense. Bobby varies from his father from time to time; but the theology is the same.

The advice, just read your Bible, you don't need any pastoral guidance. The likelihood of misinterpretation is exponentially higher and confusion can result without correct interpretation and wrong results for the Christian life.

When the first part of grace apparatus for perception is not engaged, what does the Holy Spirit teach you? Does the Holy Spirit teach incorrect doctrine? Of course not! "The Holy Spirit will guide me into interpretation" carried a great deal of mysticism and subjectivity. You reconcile it by saying, "But the Holy Spirit taught me that."

There is a lot of falsehood in the Christian world. The proper way is the prepared pastor-teacher teaching the Word of God being made understandable to the believer in the pew. There is a context, there are the original languages, the historical context; and this is what the pastor-teacher ideally understands.

The full spectrum of Bible doctrine cannot be gleaned by the one who simply reads the Bible. You can get something out of it, of course. The gift of pastor-teacher should be about explaining the Word of God to his congregation.

A few facts on this interpretation: This is a parable for Labor Day; the Lord was concerned about the working stiff. He was a carpenter and He identified with them. This is a perfect example. Many of His illustrations were for the working man.

Lesson #0857 Mark 10:31 Matt. 20:1–11 Life of Christ 9/7/2016 Wed.

Peter notes that they have left many things behind; those were losses; they followed the Lord and they were glad that they did, but Peter asks, what's in it for me? The Lord could have slapped Peter around a bit, but He graciously answers this very self-centered question.

Jesus' followers are reviled by the religious community.

Jesus gives a caution

Mar 10:31 But many who are first will be last, and the last first."

Jesus looks into that future time; and He notes that some who think that they are first in line may find out that they may be last in reward. The future rewards may not result from their self-serving attitudes. "What's in it for me? Do I really want this job? Do I really want this limited remuneration?"

Those who seem so boastfully prominent in the Lord's service may not be all that prominent at the Judgment Seat of Christ. Those who are first in the production of human good may find themselves last in line for rewards.

Divine good are deeds done under the filling of the Spirit. Divine good is what places the believer first in line. It is never produced with a self-serving arrogance.

This passage is sometimes neglected as a definitive source of information about rewards because it is a difficult passage to grasp. So many pastors and theologians don't want to get into it.

What Are Some of the Sticking Points That We Would Find in this Parable?

1. What did Jesus mean to convey when, in the parable, all who work in the vineyard receive the same pay, but it is regardless of the time worked.
2. The payment seems wildly generous on the one hand and harshly unfair on the other. Which is it? How can that be reconciled and interpreted? This is what generates so many interpretations. These are broad, general interpretations:
 - a. The parable teaches the equality of all believers in receiving eternal life (which is a true statement). In salvation, we are born again and we get an equal amount of eternal life. But, is that what this context is all about? Is it a huge mistake to yank a passage out of context. When you do this, you can find nearly any interpretation of it.
 - b. Some say that it teaches that there are no degrees of reward in heaven. All rewards are equal for all believers, regardless of what happens on this earth. That is not, by the way, what Matt. 19 teaches, so how can this be the conclusion of Matt. 20? Context matters.
 - c. Some say that strenuous effort for a short time in the Christian life makes up for the abbreviated time that one might serve the Lord. The latecomers to the party.
3. Some of the interpretations are true, but not from this parable. Some of them have elements of truth.

Let's get to the parable and find out what it is all about.

Matt. 20:1 "For the kingdom of heaven is like a master of a house [possibly, a landowner] who went out early in the morning to hire laborers for his vineyard.

This guy gets some laborers and brings them to work for him.

Matt. 20:2 After agreeing with the laborers for a denarius a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

They agree to a denarius for a day, which is not much money. This is a simile, comparing two objects which are unlike one another. This is a story of a landowner in a vineyard. This is a very common scene in Jerusalem. Easy for this to be understood.

Once again, we find the Lord dealing with employee-employer relations. On the surface and beneath the surface, that is what this is about.

The Lord is always concerned with the little guy. It does not matter that we are in the political system with so many promises.

The human vocation of the Lord is, He is a carpenter. This is no exception. Our Lord, unlike what people might say; He is not a union organizer or a community organizer. This is not about striking for higher wages or producing a workers paradise.

Wages are important to workers. Monetary wages in this life are important; but future remuneration is more important. At the end of the day (at the end of our physical lives), what is our pay? Peter and the others are simply concerned about the rewards. Peter is almost mercenary in his questioning. What do we get for our effort? The characters and the elements of the parable always represent certain truths.

Basic Questions and Points

1. Who resides in the Kingdom of Heaven according to the parable? All the believers after the resurrection.
2. Who is the landowner? That is the Lord Jesus Christ.
3. The laborers? These are believers on earth in life whose labor will be rewarded after their work has been completed...in heaven.
4. Peter will ask about the rewards for his service.
5. This answers the question about all believers and their rewards in heaven.

The landowner goes out and hires some people for seasonal work. He gets to the market early and he selects some workers and he contracts a wage and agreement with them. He has not finished hiring after daybreak. So, he goes out again, at the 3rd hour, and he needs more workers, and he sees some standing about.

Matt. 20:3 And going out about the third hour he saw others standing idle in the marketplace,
Matt. 20:4 and to them he said, 'You go into the vineyard too, and whatever is right I will give you.'

And, without negotiation; "I will pay you whatever is right."

He needs more people; 2 more times out.

Matt. 20:5 So they went. Going out again about the sixth hour and the ninth hour, he did the same.

And he goes out even at the 11th hour. Why are you all standing around idle all day long? I have needed you; where have you been?

Matt. 20:6 And about the eleventh hour he went out and found others standing. And he said to them, 'Why do you stand here idle all day?'

The landowner hires various workers, and He hires workers are various times and at various wages. There is not enough getting picked, so He goes out and gets some more workers. This is the 4th time, and He is in a great hurry. The grapes need to be picked before the sun goes down, and they will work for just one hour. With this later group, he offers them whatever.

Additional Considerations

1. The landowner promised to be fair in his remuneration. The landowner will determine what is fair and right.
2. Likewise, the Lord will always be fair in giving us rewards. He always knows what is right and He always gives what is right. That is His justice, grace and sovereignty. That is a basic principle of the parable. If we do the job, Jesus will give us what is fair.
3. He asks the final group, "Why have you been standing here all day long? Where have you been? I could have used you early on."

Matt. 20:7 They said to him, 'Because no one has hired us.' He said to them, 'You go into the vineyard too.'

Now he has a workforce to do the job. He may have undervalued the workers that he got in the beginning. He needed to secure more workers. Construction is always looking for good workers. The workers are not working the same number of hours.

Doctrinal Principle

1. The Lord is anxious to secure believers for His service. He needs workers; He needs servants.
2. Those who serve the Lord will not be doing so for the same amount of time.
3. Some will have a short time to serve the Lord; others will have a long service time. Not all believers will have equal time to serve; and it is not necessarily their fault.
4. Jesus is perfectly fair and He takes this into account. It is when people refuse to serve is when there is nothing given by way of reward. Being a skilled worker requires some training. You must know how to do it. You cannot frame a house if you have never done this before. No different in the Christian life. We are being trained as workers; as laborers.
5. The laborers who come later must simply trust the Lord to be fair and just in His rewards, regardless of how long they have served. Interestingly enough, Jesus is speaking to disciples. But what about the rest of us? Can we possibly receive a reward like these guys? The answer is forthcoming.
6. Quality not quantity is the principle for receiving rewards. There are people who have been serving the Lord for years and have not been trained to do it. Quality work. Our spiritual gift is related to that.
7. Quality of production is divine good. There is no divine good without the filling of the Holy Spirit. Keep short accounts; keep moving in the Christian life. The quality of production increased with spiritual growth. You cannot produce divine good on your own. You can do good deeds and good things; but it is the quality of what you do.

Legalism is the production of human good and the loss of rewards. It is related to one's arrogance and attitude. "I am doing this and everyone sees me doing it."

Workers are paid off at the evening. At the end of the day, each person gets a denarius.

Matt. 20:8 And when evening came, the owner of the vineyard said to his foreman, 'Call the laborers and pay them their wages, beginning with the last, up to the first.'

Matt. 20:9 And when those hired about the eleventh hour came, each of them received a denarius.

The first hired figured, I'll get a denarius because I worked long. But, they are wrong.

Matt. 20:10 Now when those hired first came, they thought they would receive more, but each of them also received a denarius.

The order of payment is in reverse order of being hired. Those in the field for an hour are paid first. Now, why this order? It is a necessary condition for the Lord to make His point. The first laborers paid first would have taken their money and left. They would not have known what the other groups were paid. They needed to hear and know about this for the parable.

Matt. 20:11 And on receiving it they grumbled at the master of the house,

So, the first hired have objections.

The disciples were picked at like the workers at daybreak. They work longer and harder than anyone. This is in part about the disciples. Do not get arrogant about this. They have to learn the lesson here; the lesson of humility and grace. Maybe they were too reward conscious. They may not have been properly motivated. They may be doing the same thing, but what is their motivation? Do they do this, what is in it for us? Or do they do this because they look to glorify God.

Why do you serve the Lord? What is your motive? What is in this for me?

The attitude should be, get the job done, do it right, and depend upon the Lord to be fairly remunerated. The issue for the believer in this life is glorifying God and not glorifying self.

Don't get the wrong idea. Do not give grudgingly or of necessity. Do not give to get something out of it. You give so that the gospel ministry can be furthered.

The Blessings of God and this Parable.

1. How long you have been a Christian; or when you entered into service, is not the issue when it comes to reward.
2. The issue is how grace is appropriated.

3. Your faithfulness and the production of divine good in the time available to you. Do not compare yourself someone who has been a believer for 30 years and you've been around for 5.
4. Take the full advantage of the opportunities given you. Jesus is looking for workers. Some around all day, some around half a day, and some around for an hour. Jesus was pleased with their work.

Rewards do motivate for service. In the Christian life, the filling of the Holy Spirit, grace and doctrinal orientation, divine good production, and glorifying God are more what your focus ought to be.

Lesson #0858

Matt. 20:12– Life of Christ

9/8/2016 Thursday

Rewards in the kingdom (or, in heaven). These reward will be for eternity; and for the near heavens and earth.

Peter is concerned that he is sacrificing so much and that he needs to know that he will be compensated for it. What do I get out of this? Peter was looking for some kind of tangible gain.

Jesus answers with a parable about a landowner hiring workers. The hired hands of the Lord doing His work. When He is gone, He will continue this work.

We must be growing spiritually and filled with the Holy Spirit. The laborers who were hired have been producing results. They were hired at different times and there were different agreements made.

Matt. 20:8 And when evening came, the owner of the vineyard said to his foreman, 'Call the laborers and pay them their wages, beginning with the last, up to the first.'

Matt. 20:9 And when those hired about the eleventh hour came, each of them received a denarius.

The first workers work all day and for a denarius. The last group works for only an hour; and the last group, he told them, he would give them what is fair. The last hired got in the pay line and they got a denarius for an hour's work, which is quite generous. A denarius was usually the amount given for a complete day's work.

Matt. 20:10 Now when those hired first came, they thought they would receive more, but each of them also received a denarius.

This did not seem right to them. If an hour was worth a denarius, then what do they get? They have worked all day. But, that is not what they had agreed to. If he gave the final group a denarius, why not bump up the pay the those at the end?

Matt. 20:11 And on receiving it they grumbled at the master of the house,...

This does not seem fair to them; and they expected to be paid a greater portion. Why would they get less? You can just hear them grumbling. They wanted to rebargain their salary which they had agreed to.

Matt. 20:12 ...saying, 'These last worked only one hour, and you have made them equal to us who have borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat.'

God's Rewards; and Believer's Sensibilities

1. Divine sovereignty determines rewards rather than what the believer thinks that he deserves. We may have expectations; "Now, we need rewards; we deserve rewards."
2. God is omniscient. He knows what each one should have. He knows divine good and our attitudes and motives. He knows all of that. He knows exactly what our reward is.
3. God is perfect justice and perfect fairness; so every believer will receive a just and fair reward; no exceptions.
4. There will be no negotiations. The criteria for reward has been set, and it is not going to be changed.
5. Longevity of service, length of service, does not trump the quality of divine good production. Many of these servants will have a lifetime of service. You can be a believer since childhood and lack spiritual growth. That means, your rewards are meager.
6. They must produce divine good regardless of position. There are those in churches who are in leadership positions; and they seem to be quite conspicuous in the church. Everyone and anyone is capable of producing divine good. Divine good is the key.
7. You will not receive more than a believer who accepts Jesus Christ late in life. You do not receive more than a believer who's life was cut short. Longevity is not the main criteria for reward.
8. God is utterly correct in His evaluation of all divine good production; nothing slips by Him. No human good is considered rewardable.
9. God is utterly correct in evaluating divine good production that is rendered within the limits of time available. Your time is limited on this earth. You are evaluated on production rendered within those limits.
10. We are evaluated on how we take advantage of opportunities that are presented to us.
11. We are evaluated based upon our faithfulness in glorifying God by living the Christian life. There is an aspect of sacrifice in all of this.
12. Some believers who are not faithful and produce very little will receive less or no reward at all. 1Cor. 3:15
13. This parable does not tell us that all believers are given exactly the same pay. They got the same in this parable, but they worked different hours.
14. Sovereignty, justice and the grace of God in distributing rewards to believers.
15. God's judgments are perfect and He is always true to His Word. There will be rewards and there are criteria for these rewards.

Precise and concise answer to a particular worker. He seems to be a spokesman for those who are critical.

Matt. 20:13 But he replied to one of them, 'Friend, I am doing you no wrong. Did you not agree with me for a denarius?

“This as our agreement.”

Matt. 20:14 Take what belongs to you and go. I choose to give to this last worker as I give to you.

Matt. 20:15 Am I not allowed to do what I choose with what belongs to me? Or do you begrudge my generosity?'

Can't I pay as I think is good and proper. Some people are envious. He made up for what he saw the workers miss.

God is sovereign and gracious; and He always determines correctly what is fair. His justice demands this. No negotiations is necessary here. Nothing to negotiate.

The Wages

1. The wages for the later workers just agreed to be gracefully rewarded.
2. They worked faithfully and diligently. They made use of their time.
3. They trusted the landowner to do what is fair, as He said He would. An element of trust here. They trusted what he would pay them.
4. These workers were happy to be employed. They may have worked better and more efficiently than those struggling in the heat.
5. It was up to the landowner to set their wages.
- 6.
7. The landowner had every right to be generous to those who worked only the last hour. He has that right.
8. It was his sovereign choice as the landowner.

Principles from the Doctrine above

1. This does not teach that there were no degrees of reward in heaven. Other passages in Scripture make it plain that there is inequality of rewards for a variety of reasons. No production, no filling of the Spirit. No fellowship. People will have a variety of crowns.
2. The point that is made here is, the matter of rewards is a matter of the sovereign control of God, based upon His evaluation.
- 3.
4. In actuality, heavenly reward is based solely on the evaluation of our production of divine good and the sovereign choice of our divine employer.

5. God is the One Who determines the payment; not a Christian bargainer. Many believers think that they are properly bargaining for rewards from God. They are self-serving; serving their own glory. "I must be great; look at what I am doing." I

v. 27 What's in it for us? So they must understand just like us, they will only get what they bargained for under those conditions. We are provided by God's grace everything that we need in order to accomplish His mission for us. If we don't grow up, we never become a part of this mission in a big way.

Serving the Lord and Our Rewards

1. In order to serve the Lord in His way, the disciples must emulate the attitude of those later hires. The one-hour guys. They did their job in the time allotted and they trusted the outcome to the Lord. Did I earn my crown today? Wrong thinking.
2. Just focus on getting the job done. Right motivation and trust in the Lord and producing divine good, rather than keeping track of your time card.
3. The Lord teaches them that He would be just to give them what they had bargained for. They also have a beaming for
4. Serve the LORD under the auspices of His plan.

Do not be concerned what your rewards are or what someone else might get. If you glorify yourself, then why do you need someone else to do that for you? We will know our rewards at the Judgment Seat of Christ.

We must depend upon God's justice and God's grace and not get wrapped up with the concern about what we might receive; or we should not get involved with competition. Trying to position ourselves as self-serving paragons of a church. That is another way that people think that they will gain their rewards.

This Is a Legalistic, Competitive Approach

1. We are all on the same team. We have different positions and a different mission. We are all given the ability to produce divine good.
2. We are not producing to serve ourselves or simply to gain rewards. We serve to glorify God.
3. Rewards will come in due time for the quality of the production of divine good. It is quality and not quantity. You may not have the same time to produce divine good, but you use the time given you by God.
4. Our job is to faithfully produce the divine good for rewards, and the Lord will justly and fairly reward us. Rewards take care of themselves, being in the just and gracious hands of God.

The landowner came to an agreement with the first group. But he was able to show grace to the later groups. The same lesson goes out to us tonight. If we learn it and apply it, our rewards will be great, for eternity. Not for a few days or not for the time you are in a job.

A Corollary Principle

1. A believer must not be envious of another believer's position. You cannot say, "I like that service better. God has a plan for each of us.
2. Do not envy the spiritual gifts of others, who seem to serve and produce on a greater stage; a more prominent stage.
3. Each of us has a spiritual gift. How we serve in that gift is the issue; comparing production is not what we should worry about.
4. God knows our production and He will reward us according to our individual production. We are not compared to someone else. The one-hour guys produced and they were rewarded. The 8 hour guys produced and they were rewarded.
5. No one gets less rewards simply because they have a different spiritual gift. No one who produces divine good, regardless of their gift, will not be rewarded. A pastor teacher may get a reward; but someone in the pew can get the same reward, if we exploit our spiritual gift. It is about the sovereignty of God.

Matt. 20:16 So the last will be first, and the first last."

Lesson #0859 Communion Matt. 20:16 Life of Christ 9/11/2016 1Sunday

Communion Sunday September 11, 2016

We need to understand the reality behind the ritual.

Jesus is the central figure of Christianity. But this word has been loosely applied to people who attend church or to people do something that is seen as good (as in, that was a good thing to do). This puts Christianity in the realm of morality, where we are earning the approbation of God.

We are not to confused morality with the Christian faith. Some believe in God, but know nothing of the Lord Jesus Christ; they do not understand the crucifixion or the resurrection. The substitutionary death of Christ providing us with our hope. No one is a Christian apart from faith alone in Christ alone. Without Jesus Christ, there is no Christianity. Without Christ as Savior, the ritual of the Eucharist would be meaningless.

So many are concerned with political activism; and believers ought not to be uninterested in evil in high places.

Christianity does not cure all ills in all places; but it cures us from the inside. Putting nice clothes on a homeless person and cleaning him up does not actually change him. Christianity is not an external facade of good deeds. The change occurs within; Jesus Christ solves the homeless and hopeless condition of a dying world; and we are all dying without Him.

Another mistaken conception of Christianity is, our faith is a dramatic experience to where we feel the presence of Christ. We may have an emotional response to the Lord, but how we feel is not the key.

To live Christianity is to internalize the doctrine of God in our own souls. This is the only way that we can reflect Christ in this world. It is a mistake to take external clean up, emotional experience or do-goodish as Christianity. When these things leave out the saving work of Jesus Christ, that is a long way from Christianity. We are here to celebrate what He has done. Since Jesus Christ is eternal, so is Christianity. Ever since the fall of Adam, since there was a need for salvation, Jesus Christ has been our only hope. His future was decreed even before the universe was created. Because of His resurrection, comes the assurance of eternal life for those who believe in Him.

Who has saved us and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works...which has not been revealed by the appearing of our Savior. Jesus Christ descended from heaven and took upon Himself humanity and then He bore the penalty of sin. Gal. 3:13 Christ redeemed us from the curse of the Law, having become a curse for us; as it is written, cursed is everyone hanging from a tree.

3 essential features of Christianity: death, life and immortality. To the believer, death takes on different meanings because its power has been broken by Christ. Philip. 1:21 to live is Christ; and to die is profit. Only Christianity can say this. It is spiritual life to become a believer in Jesus Christ.

2Cor. 5:8 I prefer to be absent from the body and at home with the Lord. Death is not so bleak to those who have life in Christ. Death is a mere transition; it is one last breath in this life and face to face with the Lord forever. The Christian can face death without fear or trepidation. Because of the Lord Jesus Christ, death has no sting. Death can never sin.

Physical death in the Bible is called sleep; sleep is temporary. When we fall asleep in the arms of the Lord, we awaken to a morning that never ends. Until we are saved by the grace of God in Christ, we are...

No one can pluck us out of the hand of God. We are immortal. Not like the Greek heroes of mythology; we have been made immortal by the resurrection of Jesus Christ. A resurrection body has been promised to us. We will possess a body just like that of the Lord Jesus Christ. Philip. 3:20–21. Our citizenship is in heaven, for which we eagerly await our Savior. Even death is subjected to Him.

If we desire to know what we will look like on the day of resurrection, look no further than the perfect body of the Lord Jesus Christ. It was recognizable, but it was different, with different properties and abilities. Our assurance of eternal life that the grave cannot hold us centers in the promise of Jesus Christ. So what do we have to fear from death?

1John 3:2 beloved, we are children of God...and we will be Like Him. We will mirror Him. Eternity and all future blessings for us are provided by means of His work on the cross.

The religious aspect of the 09/11 attacks. It was based upon the fundamentalists of Islam and they follow the teachings of the Koran more carefully and closely than any other Islamic group. They are commanded to kill non-Muslims. They are told to crucify or otherwise mutilate non-Muslims.

Incredibly, they believe that they will be rewarded for killing. They believe that they will be rewarded with women, wives; what the women get is unknown.

This is such a contrast to the rewards described by the Lord Jesus Christ for the believer. The concept of heavenly rewards, which is unique to Christianity. Rewards in heaven for the Christian are based upon the production of divine good; those deeds done by a believer under certain conditions. These are not deeds that an unbeliever can replicate. We know to remain filled with the Holy Spirit. The mature have an attitude of humility and grace orientation. They are not self-serving. Peter asks, "What is in all of this for us?" The believer trusts in God's sovereignty. The Bible describes some of the rewards, not all. Mansions, no more tears, sorrow, death; there are crowns; order of the morning star. We cannot get wrapped up in all of these rewards nor can we live the Christian life thinking, "My rewards will be greater than others because of what I do." We are not in the business of being concerned about relative rewards; we are here to glorify Jesus Christ. The focus is upon God; not upon us. Men and women can receive equal rewards in heaven.

Matt. 20:16 So the last will be first, and the first last."

God dispenses rewards. Those who appear to be unimportant; those you pay no attention to; and they may be the ones producing the greatest amount of divine good. What God has for us in the mission; in the plan that He has for us. The first who will be last are those believers who fail to be grace oriented. They are legalistic, critical of grace. No believer can afford this. We are all saved by grace. Many veer into legalism for their spiritual life. Many do not continue in grace, to whom grace is not always paramount. Far too many believers focus on their prominent positions in the church. They tout their myriad of good deeds. Sometimes it can be the occupational hazard of my spiritual gifts. They are essentially negotiating with God, depending upon what they are doing for Him. They are focused on themselves; they are concerned with touting one's own goodness.

The grace oriented who are humble will be first in line for rewards. They are not competing with others. Witnessing must be done with the right attitude, with the desire to glorify God in your witness. Those may seem the least likely for rewards; and not for place or spiritual rank, will surprise those in line for reward. Some in prominent places in life may have been neglectful. They may find themselves demoted or at the end of the line. All will be in heaven, eternally secure, but without much to show.

A concern with how long one has served; or prominence in the Christian life.

People who worked for a single hour got the same pay as those who worked all day long. This is a parable about rewards. The key to this is Matt. 20:7

Matt. 20:6 And about the eleventh hour he went out and found others standing. And he said to them, 'Why do you stand here idle all day?'

It sounds, at first, as if this is an excuse. So, where were they, if they really wanted to be hired to work? The story does not focus on their location.

Matt. 20:7 They said to him, 'Because no one has hired us.' He said to them, 'You go into the vineyard too.'

Jesus accepts their excuse; He does not ask, "Where have you been?" The late hires worked faithfully and just as hard for that one hour as did the others who worked their entire lives. What happened before that is of no consequence. The latecomers got the same pay as those who worked all day long. This was a gift of the landowner's grace. Their faithful service for one hour is rewarded just as the person who work all day.

Rewards are not given on a comparative basis. It does not matter what we do; this is based upon what we do onsite that matters, and the evaluation of the landlord. The other workers complained. They contracted for; and that is what the landlord gave them out of justice.

So it is with God's evaluation of our service. Clearly, God amply rewards for the production of divine good, even to the late-comers who got a late start. Some believers will have a different amount of time in their Christian life. Others may become believers late in life. They may have begun to live the spiritual life later.

Remember, that God will be justice in rewarding service, longevity notwithstanding. God certainly rewards, as with the Apostles, based upon their long production of divine good. There will be much; and God rewards on the basis of divine good. There were varying periods of time. Some disciples lived shorter lives and were martyred early. And John outlived them all, but in seclusion, on the Isle of Patmos.

The same fair judgment is proportionally applied to others; and we have equal opportunity to produce divine good under whatever circumstances.

Combat awards given in the military are not based upon length of service, but upon deeds of valor; going above and beyond during a specific period of time. An officer may have many awards that a private may not have; but a private, in the foxhole, may gain rewards that the officer over him may not be open to simply because of their proximity to the battle. Medal of Honor recipients gain this medal based upon a few minutes or hours here or there. Sometimes, what may seem like brief instances.

Rewards are not given for length of time or because of position. We must be faithful to God's opportunities.

We all have that opportunity. There are rewards in that production. Many believers are limited in the time or circumstances of their lives; but never forget, a just and sovereign God takes this into account when it comes to rewards.

What did you do with the opportunities that presented themselves in the time during which you had to serve. Under that criteria, every believer has the opportunity for great rewards. We are all a part of the same team, of the body of Christ, and we each have a specific mission and set of tasks to accomplish. We produce according to what is placed before us, during the time during which we serve.

Those who are latecomers in the spiritual life, or those who lack the flashy spiritual gifts have just as much chance of great rewards as any other set of believers. The Lord disseminates based upon His Own sovereign decision. It is not up to Bobby evaluating our lives. This is related to our spiritual growth and to the application of Bible doctrine to our life and circumstances.

Even growing spiritually is the production of divine good. So here we are accumulating divine rewards.

There are no more apostles in this life like Peter or Paul; but there are still opportunities for great rewards in this life. Do you think that God will let us go on our merry way without any opportunity to serve Him? Eternal rewards for a few moments of service in this life. We are talking about pinning a medal of honor on our chests as over against nothing. So we must never neglect the opportunity to grow and to apply God's Word.

Redeem the time that we have for glorifying God, whether that time is short or long. Take the time and the rewards will be great. We may think that we are last in line for whatever reason, we will be surprised to be among the first. Those in Berachah have every advantage; we have the tools and we are aware of the tools and we can put ourselves in the position of applying Bible doctrine. There will be no envy but there will be some regrets at the Bema Seat of Jesus Christ. We will be there; but will we be asking, "What did we do with our opportunities?"

A just and gracious God always takes faithfulness and opportunity into account, regardless of the time frame.

A quick example. We will study, in the near future, the cross. There were two others with the Lord crucified with the Lord. One was a thief; and on the cross, next to the Lord Jesus Christ, He accepted Jesus Christ. These were his last few moments on earth. What chance did he have to produce divine good? After believing in Jesus Christ, this man has an incredible opportunity in just a few moments of time before he died. He presented the way of salvation and the Person Who provided it. "I believe that You are the Son of God; and remember me when You come into Your kingdom." It does not matter what you have done;

Jesus will clue them in as to why they are going there. He can no longer avoid the inevitable. It is time for God's plan for Him to be fulfilled. Therefore, the disciples should not be fearful; and they need to recognize that God has a plan for them.

People fear the unknown. We have given thoughts to what has happened in our country and we don't know what is going to happen; we don't know their policies; and we think that may have the solution at the ballot box. Bobby has his opinions but does not endorse from the pulpit. We have no right to be afraid of the future. Everything that we need is provided for. There are opportunities open for us. We simply take in the Word of God and move ahead step by step.

Matt. 20:17 And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, He took the twelve disciples aside, and on the way He said to them,...

Jesus takes the disciples aside and tells them what will happen. Despite their misgivings, the disciples followed Jesus. They knew that following Him is the right direction, no matter what else is going on. He will tell them how brutal the remainder of the journey would be for Him.

Jesus knew exactly what would happen to Him in Jerusalem. There would be no surprises. He tells them exactly what would happen.

Matt. 20:18–19 ... "See, we are going up to Jerusalem. And the Son of Man will be delivered over to the chief priests and scribes, and they will condemn Him to death and deliver Him over to the Gentiles to be mocked and flogged and crucified, and He will be raised on the third day."

It made sense that He would rise again, as Jesus had just raised up Lazarus. The main message to them was shocking. Jesus had twice before prophesied His death; but this time, He gives much greater detail. The disciples could not even think about it. They could not consider it.

Those involved would be the Jews, the chief priests and scribes, and the gentiles as well, which is the rest of the world. People have a tendency to see the Jews, chief priests and other religious types as those who killed Him. This is the charge of antisemitism. This verse makes it clear that the Jews were not guilty, as a people, of deicide. We should never be antisemitic. There are plenty of Christians who are. There are a myriad of arguments for antisemitism; and it is very clear who the Jews are today. The Abrahamic covenant is still in effect. "I will curse those who curse you and I will bless them who bless you."

Today, the Jews are surrounded by Islam and it appears that the Muslims are winning; and soon the Muslims will have nuclear weapons. The curse remains in effect. Do not ever think Islam is winning. Take a look at any of what is going on in the Middle East. There is no peace there; there is only war, death and misery. God's promises stand.

Many Jews did reject Jesus as the Messiah, and they would pay the ultimate price in Jerusalem, where they were killed and scattered. But this is not all the Jews. A small percentage plotted the death of the Lord.

John 10:11, 17–18 I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep...For this reason the Father loves Me, because I lay down my life that I may take it up again. No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of my own accord. I have authority to lay it down, and I have authority to take it up again. This charge I have received from My Father."

Who Is Responsible for the Cross?

1. No one group should be held responsible for the cross. If you are unsure about antisemitism, then get the book on antisemitism from the library.
2. Who is guilty? The whole world was guilty of His death. Not just a few. Not the Romans nailing Him to the cross, not those who spit on Him. The whole world is responsible.
3. That is true from the moment that Adam first sinned.
4. The world was in Adam. We were seminally present in Adam when he first sinned.
5. We are all guilty; we are all condemned; we are born condemned.
6. And so the cross was promised as early as Gen. 3:15. This is the only solution promised to mankind. The promise was given to Adam. He fell and was thrown out of the garden. The whole world requires His sacrifice on the cross.

Jesus had briefly warned them of this day which was coming. Then He adds to this, the betrayal of Judas. Then we unfolded the whole drama of His death. Taking on Himself the sins of the world for 6 hours, that was agony. This is our salvation; and the salvation of the Apostles, as horrible as it was. Jesus did this to encourage the shell-shocked disciples. They had a 1000 yard stare. They could barely believe His words.

Luke 18:34 is an editorial comment. But they understood none of these things. This saying was hidden from them, and they did not grasp what was said.

Why the Disciples Did Not Get it

1. The disciples were thinking in terms of a near fulfillment.
2. The time of the institution of the kingdom had to be near in time, since Jesus is right there with them.
3. 2nd advent and rewards did not get into their brains.
4. They did not know where the resurrection fit into the time frame.
5. If He would rise again, 3 days later; would He not then bring in the kingdom?
6. They did not understand the intervening dispensation of the church; this was hidden from their thinking. It had not yet been presented to them. It was nothing but words.
7. They had trouble with the treatment of Jesus, their King. What Jesus described to them just could not be true. This did not makes sense.

8. How could the religious leaders not get it? Why would they want to kill their own King? It was power, position, prestige and wealth—all the things that the religious leaders wanted.

Jesus is implanting the doctrine in them right now. It made little sense to them; they did not get it; but it would eventually sink into their thinking.

Lesson #0862 Luke 18:34–35 Matt. 20:18–21 Life of Christ 9/18/2016 2Sun

Luke 18:34 But they understood none of these things. This saying was hidden from them, and they did not grasp what was said.

Jesus was going to be mocked, crucified, scourged, etc. The disciples did not get it. After 3 years, you would think that the disciples would get what He is saying, but they did not get it at all. The meaning of the statement was hidden from them.

At the time of the resurrection and ascension, the Apostles had been fully prepared...as long as they receive God the Holy Spirit.

This one prophecy is laid out for them; but now they have been dumbfounded.

Peter has doubts again. He got the rewards thing more or less understood; but now, he had doubts again. He was the spokesperson for the disciples. The disciples were told that they would all sit on 12 thrones. Set up the golden chairs, Peter said, we are ready to rule. They were ready for the preeminence of their new positions. Their focus was wrong; their focus had jumped way ahead. The Apostles had a long ways to go. They pass over this prophecy of His death, not able at this point to let go of their dreams of immediate glory and royalty. They knew that the religious types were not doing a great job of it.

Matt. 20:18–19 ..."See, we are going up to Jerusalem. And the Son of Man will be delivered over to the chief priests and scribes, and they will condemn Him to death and deliver Him over to the Gentiles to be mocked and flogged and crucified, and He will be raised on the third day."

Instead of asking questions of what Jesus has told them, they go off. They do not ask, "What does this mean for us, when You are crucified and we are just here. What happens next? The disciples are inflexible. They know they are going to sit on a throne; and they do not quite understand what is going on. You would think that they would want to know how they fit into this picture of His death. In a certain way, Jesus was asked for this information, even though it was not the way to ask.

Notice that the questioner is not even concerned for the Lord Himself or why He must go through this. None of them can figure out what is going on. What they were concerned about is their place in the kingdom.

James and John, two men who would become great Apostles, many speak of them as great Apostles later. But their ambitious mother wants to know where her sons will occupy the most prominent place in the Kingdom. Her question is based entirely upon ignorance.

Luke 18:34 is an editorial comment. But they understood none of these things. This saying was hidden from them, and they did not grasp what was said.

This is where their thinking is. This woman has yet to apply the doctrine that she has heard; and what she heard 2 minutes ago, is not sinking in.

There is a competitive streak. That is exactly what the disciples are demonstrating. They are like kids, elbowing each other for a rebound. Some give a lot of money to have a say in the church. They want to be noticed. They want people to think that they are spiritual and holy. Plenty of competition in that age. They were acting like kids. Jesus just taught them, "The first will be last and the last will be first;" that is not in their thinking at all.

Salome was probably the sister of Mary and she probably had some standing amongst this group; but no great standing before the Lord.

Matt. 20:20 Then the mother of the sons of Zebedee came up to Him with her sons, and kneeling before Him she asked Him for something.

She comes to Jesus, with her sons, and they bow down to Jesus, giving Him some deference. And they make a request of Him.

Mark 10:35 And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came up to him and said to him, "Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we ask of you."

We want You to do what we want You to do. "We are going to make a request. You will grant it, won't you?"

Politicians are not following; they are dishonest. "I will make your life better if you vote for me." Have their promises ever come to fruition? What were the repercussions? That is why our election comes down to insider and outsiders. People are flawed; people are people. A change of thinking comes about by many ways. The foolproof way is being a believer and taking on divine viewpoint. Do not expect much change from the outside in.

All that Salome and James and John can think of is, "Before You go, will You do something for us?" What is the difference between what they are asking and what Peter asks? It appears that the mother of James and John is instrumental in the question. However, the boys are involved. They are right there involved in the process. Are they thinking, "He is going to go? Let's find out about this first"?

They still believe that the 12 thrones would come soon; the Lord might die, but wouldn't the Lord come back immediately and set up the Kingdom? The woman wants her boys in the place of honor. Is there a place of honor? Is there a place for Salome's boys up front? She fancies herself a French term for decision maker or deviser who operates behind the scenes, but more or less runs the show. Amanoff grease. Not the correct spelling. The mother thinks, "I am behind these boys; I have pushed them along to this place."

This is the ultimate in bargaining for rewards. Peter just wanted to know what the rewards were; but she wants to know the rewards and position over the body of the Lord. Humility is a casualty. There is a practical principle here. Inordinate ambition on the part of parents can ruin the lives of their children. Good training is necessary for children and they sometimes need a good push or a shove, based upon knowing their children. Stage mothers and fathers can be destructful. Pushy, overly demanding, even brutal parents. They shove their children into places they should not be or do not want to go. A parent's duty is to aide their children standing on their own two feet, preparing them for life. The greatest preparation is giving them a spiritual two feet to stand on. Train them in the way that they should go.

Children can see your priorities; and they pick up on what you do. If you put everything in front of doctrine, then they do that same thing. Children are very malleable. They seem to remain empty-headed; but not for parents who train them in the way that they should go.

Bobby knows about several people. An actor in Hollywood, a believer, getting off track, but has done a lot of acting in Hollywood. Once he got there, his mother showed up, and she went with him to every party, and went wherever she could. Now, he cut the coattails and is going into the SEALS. Stage mother. Salome is trying to further their position.

Jesus will supply an answer, but it is mostly directed towards His disciples in order to give them doctrinal instruction. She asks for a place of honor for her two boys.

Matt. 20:21 And He said to her, "What do you want?" She said to Him, "Say that these two sons of mine are to sit, one at Your right hand and one at Your left, in Your kingdom."

Where people are seated informs us as to their position in the court. They are closest to the throne, and therefore, have the ear of the King. This is what she wants; she is a demanding woman. She wants Jesus to command what she wants done. It is not what You want; it is what I want. The boys were in the background here. There was, likely, some discussion that took place previously. Peter wanted an answer; well, they want an answer as well. She is bargaining just as Peter did. You can only think to yourself, "What jerks these people are." They bypass the prophecy of the Lord, and say, "What is our standing in the Kingdom?"

Without doctrine, decisions made are bad decisions.

Lesson #0863

Matt. 20:20 Life of Christ

9/21/2016 Wednesday

Jesus is now headed toward His main mission for His time on earth. He suddenly announces, "Let's go back to Jerusalem." The Lord's disciples are stunned and somewhat fearful, for themselves and for the Lord Jesus Christ. The Lord is wanted dead or alive in Judæa. He knows this, and yet, He leads them to Jerusalem. The disciples uncertainly follow Him. The disciples drop back and are perhaps mumbling to one another. The Lord proceeds to tell them what will happen in the near future. The prophecy is about a day coming very soon in that city, when He would be scourged, mocked and spit upon. The disciples heard this, but it confused them even more. Their minds were still on the kingdom and rewards, and they were trying to figure that out, and the 12 golden thrones over the 12 tribes of Israel. So, they think that following Him is definitely worthwhile.

Jesus speaks of dying and then rising again. So the disciples figure that the Kingdom will occur after the resurrection. That is when the Lord will defeat all of His enemies and reign. But they did not really put the time frame together.

The mother of James and John sort of speaks to them of what the others are thinking of.

Matt. 20:20 Then the mother of the sons of Zebedee came up to Him with her sons, and kneeling before Him she asked Him for something.

And then she asks the Lord for a blank check. The Lord Jesus Christ has just informed them of His upcoming brutal death; but James and John want Him to commit to whatever they want.

Mark 10:35 And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came up to him and said to him, "Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we ask of you."

Mark 10:36 And he said to them, "What do you want me to do for you?"

The Lord is gracious and He plays along.

Matt. 20:21 And He said to her, "What do you want?" She said to Him, "Say that these two sons of mine are to sit, one at Your right hand and one at Your left, in Your kingdom."

This is about as presumptuous as you can get. The Lord has just given them that parable about the first being last, etc. They wanted to be first. They are pushy; they are not grace oriented.

They see this very much as an earthly kingdom. They have heard a lot of doctrine, but they have not put all of this information together. To them, Jesus is like the next Cæsar.

It is up to us to listen and metabolize all the various doctrines and then put them all together. The more that we can do this, the more growth we enjoy. These disciples who have followed the Lord around for 3 years cannot put it all together. Yet, they still hang in there and some of them will show great doctrinal orientation.

Right now, they are trying to get their doctrinal heads screwed on straight. Salome is trying to negotiate on behalf of her sons. They are just like the laborers hired at the beginning. Did she hear or understand anything about that parable?

Peter asked what's in it for me; and Salome has to step in for her sons and speak up for them. She is simply wrong about her approach. Rather than encourage her sons to continue to listen, she runs interference for her sons, possibly the sister of Mary, the Lord's mother. She is trying to increase her sons' fortunes and their fortunes as well.

Up to this point in time, this woman was a failure. What do you translate to your children by way of priorities? If doctrine is top priority, your children will be well-served. Will this guarantee the future of every child? They all have their own volition. Parents must transfer priorities to your children.

Salome is pushy. She is prepared to gloss right over the cross of Jesus Christ. She has heard what will happen to the Lord Jesus Christ. She wants to bypass the cross for the crown. She is ready to move right into the palace with her elevated sons. She is an ambitious Christian; there are many ambitious Christians today. A lot of believers producing all kinds of human good in the power of the flesh; and this will make a lovely bonfire in heaven.

Series about Elizabeth trying to gain her favor; brutal, nasty, crawling over dead bodies to get there.

Salome is using her influence to try to gain divine favor. If she listened, she might understand divine favor.

Believers out there thinking that they are Christ-centered and they do all of these things, but they have no clue. What are the disciples doing right now? They are disciples; they are students; and that is required in order to be a follower of Christ.

The Lord reemphasizes His death.

Matt. 20:22 Jesus answered, "You do not know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I am to drink?" They said to Him, "We are able."

Jesus asks a rhetorical question that begs for a negative answer. But, she does not get that. Jesus does not repeat what He has taught before. He does not even say, "You are an arrogant scheming woman." He addresses James and John, who need to get their heads on straight. The Lord sticks to what is important. He sticks to doctrine. The brothers are not able to understand that the Messiah had come to die in the 1st Advent. They knew of a struggle between Christ and the religious leaders; and they expected Him to be victorious. But they did not fully understand how it would happen.

The disciples, at this point, do not understand the cross. They have no real idea what it is about. Jesus says, "I am going to the cross" and they are all concerned about their own rewards.

What do you focus on? What in your daily life gets your focus the most? We have jobs, children, obligations. These are givens. When you get out of line in those areas, or you get into trouble, or you begin to have problems in those areas or work; what is your focus. Where do you go? It is so easy to get distracted in this life. When you implant Bible doctrine in your soul, then you do think doctrine all of the time. You have divine viewpoint in your soul. You are relaxed you have contentment. You can still focus on life as well.

Jesus Explains the Baptism and the Cup

1. The Lord is talking here about baptism and a cup. What is all that about? The baptism of the cup is a reference to the cross and to the suffering of the Lord. That is His answer to the question. He is redirecting them to the cross; to what is important. It is indeed a bitter cup.
2. What is baptism; we hear about it all the time. This is an identification; you are identified with something.
3. In this case, the cup baptism is an identification; a real identification and not a ritual baptism (like water baptism).
4. The cup baptism is the Lord Jesus Christ being identified with our sins. This really happens.
5. So the cup refers to the judicial imputation of personal sins of Christ on the cross. That is the bitter cup.
6. Sins are poured out on Him and He will bear them in His body on the tree.
7. By drinking from the cup, He will become our substitute; He will die for our sins.

Matt. 20:23 He said to them, "You will drink My cup, but to sit at My right hand and at My left is not Mine to grant, but it is for those for whom it has been prepared by My Father."

No problem; we can do this. They were ready to suffer with Christ for awhile, which they had done to some extent with the Lord for a short time. They are suffering to bring in the kingdom in order to bring in rewards. They are unable to die the death that the Lord will die. They are now carried away. They thought their suffering was somewhat of a heroism. They thought that, if they are suffering, this will bring God's favor to them. If they are persecuted, this must bring on God's favor. Have you seen a believer who acts holy? There is not witness in turning people off for Jesus Christ.

At this point, they do not really understand the true nature of the cross. They do not know what Jesus is even talking about. They do not get what Jesus would accomplish on the cross. If they did get it, they would not be saying this stuff. They did not get it.

It is not often addressed what the disciples know and don't know. The heart of the gospel is what Jesus did on the cross. At this moment, the disciples believed in Jesus Christ as Messiah and king; and they knew He was the Savior as promised; but they were muddled insofar as His work on the cross.

This passage mainly looks at their ignorance at this moment. This is an indication that it does not take a full understanding of soteriology to be saved. The content of faith for salvation is like a mustard seed. You may not get all of it. The content of the doctrine of salvation is wide and deep.

The disciples were regenerated at this time, but without knowing the full meaning of the cross. It takes faith to be saved, but not very much, because these idiots were saved.

Lesson #0864 Mark 10:35–36, 39–40 Mt. 20:20–24 Life of Christ 9/22/16 Thurs

Rewards, awards, accumulation of wealth; all of these are powerful incentives of human life. For some, this is the driving force of their existence. In our very materialistic society, wealth and reward are the making of a person. We no longer have inherited royalty; we do not have kings, princes or nobles. Very few countries remaining with that.

There is a new royalty in our country, the wealthy, those who have achieved, those who have been highly rewarded for their achievement. They are often the objects of great envy. This is the same thinking and same motivation of the disciples in this final journey to Jerusalem. They were expecting these rewards for their following Jesus Christ; and they have been through some very difficult moments, with very difficult things to come.

When the Lord comes to Jerusalem, and these disciples see themselves seated in their exalted positions. Had they been thinking of their own motivation, they would be still sitting on their own inordinate ambition. Their transfer from being the persecuted followers of the Lord Jesus Christ to rulers of Israel, right below the Lord Jesus Christ. They were ready for that. They were tired of taking it in the teeth from the religious leaders.

Two were so enthused, that they determined to get an even better distinction. Matt. 20:20
Mark 10:35

Matt. 20:20 Then the mother of the sons of Zebedee came up to Him with her sons, and kneeling before Him she asked Him for something.

What Jesus had promised was not enough for them.

Mark 10:35 And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came up to him and said to him, "Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we ask of you."

Mark 10:36 And he said to them, "What do you want me to do for you?"

Jesus allows this, "I'll bite; what do you want?"

Matt. 20:21 And He said to her, "What do you want?" She said to Him, "Say that these two sons of mine are to sit, one at Your right hand and one at Your left, in Your kingdom."

She is negotiating with the Lord Jesus Christ. In essence, what He will now say, "It is impossible; I cannot grant your demand." It was beyond his ability. God has the ability to do anything and everything, except that which would violate the will of the Father. He cannot compromise His essence. God cannot do some things, as they violate his essence.

There is a tremendous lesson for all of us. We want certain things. Some of them are legitimate and some are not. We want and we pray, but some of these things do not come to us. This is the plan of God rationale. He has something else for us.

Salome has her plan for herself and for her sons. The problem is attitude and motivation. It is how they have approached the Lord. It would come to them, but mission first.

He is grooming these men for their mission when He departs from this earth. All of these things, He is preparing them for. Salome does not matter at this point, but the sons do.

Matt. 20:22 Jesus answered, "You do not know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I am to drink?" They said to Him, "We are able."

They cannot drink the cup He is about to drink. They have no idea. They are ignorant of what they are asking for; and they were ignorant of great aspects of the Lord's mission on this earth. The baptism of the cup is a reference to the cross and the Lord's suffering on the cross. They certainly could be crucified, but they would not be taking on themselves the sins of the world. The identification that the Lord would have would be different from them.

The sins would be poured out upon Him as a cup and He would be judged by God the Father for our sins. He is the sinless man; He is the Lamb of God. It is that Lamb Who is the only One Who can offer Himself for our sins. He provides what no one else could provide. He would reconcile the enmity between us and God.

He satisfies God's righteous demand. Had the disciples understood what drinking of this cup really meant, they would have answered Christ's question in the negative. They could have nothing to do with the salvation of all mankind. They are clueless, muddled in their thinking.

They only see one need for having the throne. They only see the need for suffering, which anyone can experience. We all experience suffering. They were followers of the Lord Jesus Christ and they were suffering from following Him; but they were willing to do this in order to get rewarded. These dedicated followers of Christ, who have heard all of his messages and doctrines, they would have understood that only the Lord could make atonement for all mankind. Yet they say, "We are able." They would be the earliest and greatest witnesses to the gospel of Jesus Christ. And they all proclaimed this.

So, we ought to be with the gospel ourselves. We need to make the atonement completely clear in all of its aspects. We must be able to explain Who Christ is.

Some people want to be missionaries; and it is a great and necessary calling. It is a part of the pivot of the United States as a client nation.

A missions class in seminary; and a professor had been on the mission field for many years. He said, "So you want to be missionaries? Can you walk across the street and present the Lord Jesus Christ? If you can't do that, why do you think you can do more in Haiti or Syria?"

Bobby asked the other night, "What is enough faith to be saved?" Bobby cannot tell us exactly what it takes, but it does not take very much. These men are regenerate and justified, and they do not fully understand the cross.

When giving the gospel, present as much as you possibly can. It just takes a little bit of faith. For those who hear the gospel, faith must be exercised in order to be saved. The disciples had believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, and they were saved. They would fully understand the cross, but not right at this moment. They expressed faith and they had appropriated salvation. The cross was a very inconvenient truth to them at this point in time.

In any case, they were not able to drink that same cup as the Lord would. But they would suffer for Him; but they did not know the full extent of it.

Man's Contribute to God's Plan of Salvation

1. If man has anything to do with God's plan of salvation, like the disciples thought, then the plan of salvation is no stronger than man. That is weak and ineffective.
2. God the Father devised the salvation plan and God the Son executed it by His atoning death. The baptism of the cup.
3. God's plan is not something that man can help with. Humanists today think that they are able to make things all better. They believe that they can save mankind.
4. Interview of Izides who have suffered all kinds of harm by ISIS. The last line of the observer is, "I cannot believe that people do these things in the 21st century." Humanism cannot save mankind from himself.
5. No sinner can be identified with the sins of others and make atonement for those sins. Humanism does not even recognize the sins of man.
6. None to whom Christ spoke could drink from the same cup that He drank from.

So Jesus has to correct all of this confuses thinking.

Matt. 20:23 He said to them, "You will drink My cup, but to sit at My right hand and at My left is not Mine to grant, but it is for those for whom it has been prepared by My Father."

Their bargaining chip was suffering. We are suffering for you, and this is what we bring to the table.

Mark 10:39 And they said to him, "We are able." And Jesus said to them, "The cup that I drink you will drink, and with the baptism with which I am baptized, you will be baptized,

Mark 10:40 but to sit at my right hand or at my left is not mine to grant, but it is for those for whom it has been prepared."

The identification of the Lord with our sins is not something that the disciples can participate in. Jesus does somewhat of a play on words.

The Disciples and the Suffering of Jesus

1. The disciples would be identified with His suffering; not with the sins of the world. And they understood it in this way.
2. Theirs will be a sacrifice, but for a different purpose.
3. These 12 are His workers; they are His servants. They are His soldiers. That will be their mission.
4. They will suffer and die for Him as His witnesses, as His representatives; but not for the salvation of this world. James was beheaded early on Acts 12:1–2 Peter was put in jail. Herod found out that this made him popular. Then he thought about executing Peter. He grabbed him up but it was Passover, but they would not execute him then. An angel of the Lord took him out of there. Why James and not Peter? James and Peter both suffered. It is a bit of a legend, but Peter is said to have been crucified, but he said he was not worthy to die as the Lord. The world would not love the disciples in their lifetime. They would face bitter suffering. But they would have great advantages in their lives.

It was not up to Jesus to seat His disciples in the Kingdom; that is the prerogative of God the Father. This was not the time for Jesus to initiate a kingdom and place his disciples on a throne. The Church Age must come to an end, but only God knows when this will occur. Bobby thought it was Christ Who distributes rewards, and that is exactly what He will do during the Tribulation for Church Age believers. But these are rewards in the Millennial kingdom, which God the Father set up. He will determine that.

Rewards had become a distraction to the disciples; it was impairing their progress in the spiritual life. This is not a problem limited to these disciples. All of us are easily distracted. Often it is the rewards that are offered to us in time. The prestige, the wealth, all the things that people seek, that distracts them.

Now they get emotional; they get mad. They react to James, John and Salome, but for the wrong reasons. They also want rewards. They think that they should be sitting in the places of honor.

There problem is envy. They want these great things that Salome is after.

Matt. 20:24 And when the ten heard it, they were indignant at the two brothers.

Lesson #0865 Mark 10:35–40 Matt. 20:23 Life of Christ 9/25/2016 1Sun

God is not going to change His plan, even if we have the thought that things need to get turned around. God's plan is going ahead, no matter what we do. Demanding from God shows a lack of grace orientation and doctrinal thinking in general. This demand is a severe hazard to the spiritual life, especially when it comes to your prayer life.

We make requests of God; and we even ask for legitimate things (and God will not answer illegitimate requests, for the most part). We may ask it with the mindset, if God really has my best interests at heart, He will answer my requests, which is a superimposition of your thinking over God's. You must not demand of God; you must stick with the plan of God.

James and John and Salome have made a strong request of the Lord.

Mark 10:35 And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came up to him and said to him, "Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we ask of you."

Mark 10:36 And he said to them, "What do you want me to do for you?"

All of the disciples have a cup of suffering for the rest of their lives. What did they demand?

Mark 10:37 And they said to him, "Grant us to sit, one at your right hand and one at your left, in your glory."

Jesus tells them that He does not have the right to answer this request. The seating chart for the future is based upon future actions, not upon demands made here.

Matt. 20:23 He said to them, "You will drink My cup, but to sit at My right hand and at My left is not Mine to grant, but it is for those for whom it has been prepared by My Father."

Escrow is something of value delivered to a third person, to be delivered by him to the grantee of this valuable item, based upon the fulfillment of conditions met by the grantee. 3 parties enter into this agreement. The grantor, the grantee and the escrow agent. The illustration is God the Father, us, and the custodian or the escrow officer is Jesus Christ. This spiritual escrow agreement is for the purpose of transferring specific rewards; but they are kept in escrow, which will be delivered to them in the future under specified conditions. The time of the distribution is the initiation of the kingdom. The Lord has made this totally clear. James and John want this right now.

The disciples think that this is all coming up quite soon.

Escrow Blessings from God

1. The agreement of God the Father as the Grantor of rewards with the believer, the grantee, is contingent upon the occurrence of the event or the required act of the believer. What do we have to do to receive the escrow? The production of divine good during our lifetimes.
2. When the event has taken place or the grantee has met the requirements, the grantor delivers to the depository to be held in escrow.
3. The depository or the custodian, Jesus Christ in this illustration, is allowed no discretion. He must follow the terms of the agreement exactly, regarding the terms between the other two parties.

4. The date of our escrow agreement of escrow blessings is eternity past. That is when the agreement was made between God and the believer. But we were not there to sign off on this. God knew each one of us in advance.
5. The distribution of the escrow rewards are in the future kingdom, if the specified actions of met or completed. That is for the disciples. Our rewards come in with the Judgment Seat of Christ.
6. The conditions of the escrow are fulfilled by the believer in the execution of the unique spiritual life in the Church Age.
7. If the believer does not fulfill this agreement, that does not mean that the believer will miss out on heaven. The rewards will remain in escrow if we do not execute the plan of God in our lives. If we do not meet the requirements of the escrow agreement, then we do not get the escrow blessings.

Jesus Christ is the Escrow Officer, and when we meet our conditions, and then we are taken out of this life, to be awarded these blessings in a future hour. Christ will distribute those thrones as specified. It was not up to the Lord Jesus Christ. This is always the prerogative of the Father. The escrow agreement must still be fulfilled. They have to this moment not performed this mission. That is a future event that will bring distribution of rewards. These disciples have a long way to go. They are learning Bible doctrine. Their mission has not even begun. We have the rest of our lives to fulfill the service defined for us in order to receive these rewards for eternity.

Jesus does not distribute any of these rewards Himself, and definitely not during the 1st advent. So what, that is there problem. This problem is not limited to these disciples; believers today are just as easily distracted. We focus on awards, accumulation of wealth, etc. Some opt for the material gains of the world today, rather than fulfilling the escrow agreement. Eternal rewards are out there; it is off in the distant future.

A poor analogy. Saving for retirement. Having money stored up in order to have a wonderful retirement; but you now have plans to use all that money right now. Or we fulfill the plan of God and await the rewards in our lives after death.

Now, we produce divine good when the opportunity presents itself. The escrow agreement is for the future. How many of you neglect to pray or neglect to give the gospel? These are momentary opportunities.

There is some jealousy going on; and they are jealous of another's successes or possessions.

Mark 10:38 Jesus said to them, "You do not know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I drink, or to be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized?"

Mark 10:39 And they said to him, "We are able." And Jesus said to them, "The cup that I drink you will drink, and with the baptism with which I am baptized, you will be baptized,

Mark 10:40 but to sit at my right hand or at my left is not mine to grant, but it is for those for whom it has been prepared."

They should have been saddened to hear all of this; but they are going with their emotions. Two of them have not understood the rewards and the parable of the laborers in the vineyard; and neither did the other ten. They all want the distribution of their escrow blessings right now.

Doctrine in the Life of the Believer

1. We get caught up in our own thinking, desires, problems and fears. They come crashing down around us. It motivates. We think about ourselves. I can't believe that things are turning out the way that they are and others have such advantages.
2. When we hear a doctrine, it does not always penetrate the fog of our distractions. You need a balance of doctrine in your soul. Doctrine in your soul applies only to you and not to the rest of the world.
3. Without listening to God's Word, we cannot see the bigger picture of the plan of God through the eyes of divine viewpoint. This is how we must look at our lives and God's plan for us. We so often stay confused in our lives. We want our conditions improved or enhanced; being self-centered.
4. Those who do not suffer as much rebound, get back to doctrine, and focus on God.
5. Only the repetition of doctrine overcomes the lack of comprehension. Sometimes, you do not catch this the first time it is taught. Sometimes, you can be preoccupied. Sometimes you do not hear what is being taught.
6. Doctrine must be hammered through the barrier through our self-centered preoccupation. Through our human viewpoint preconceptions. It is so easy to fall right into the preconceptions. Your mind needs to be rehabilitation; renovated; refocused. Repetition implants the doctrine in our souls. We cannot sit in for doctrine and get it. It is impossible. It is like sitting in a college classroom a couple times in the semester and expect to get an A.
7. God's Word becomes applicable with repetition. We can all use some doctrine that we know under some circumstances and other circumstances that we cannot get past.
8. Doctrine has to rule our lives. It cannot be just a stop gap for trouble or suffering. This means that we must be able to consistently think of the mind of Christ.

Some may think they will listen to doctrine, but then there are these priorities that come up. There is always something. Or, I don't have time or I am tired. There is always something that you can put in front of it. Once you get into the mode, it is so easy to continue in this way. This puts you into a mode of rebellion. You are angry or upset or you cannot get out of this cycle. The cycle goes on and on; and there is only one way to break it, and that is with Bible doctrine. You must break out of it with a renovated mind. No other way for the believer to live the Christian life. There is no other way for us to serve the Lord apart from application of divine viewpoint and taking advantage of the opportunities that we have. This is a picture of the Christian life, the pitfalls of the Christian life and success in the Christian life. It is straightforward. With consistency comes renovation and with renovation comes the thinking of divine viewpoint. Then we begin to produce divine good leading to the distribution of escrow blessings in eternity.

Lesson #0866

Matt. 20:24–28 Life of Christ

9/25/2016 2Sunday

Matt. 20:24 And when the ten heard it, they were indignant at the two brothers.

The rest of the disciples were right there and they were all thinking in terms of the 12 thrones of the 12 tribes of Israel. They have only heard what they wanted to hear. They have only heard about sitting over the 12 tribes of Israel. They did not hear what was required by them in order to receive their escrow blessings

Envy and Arrogance

1. The anger that came from the 10 was envy and ambition. They were angry that James and John beat them to the punch. "This is what we wanted." They all wanted to be in the seats of honor.
2. Envy is a brutal sin with incredibly damaging results; it truly is. Envy and jealousy go hand in hand. Envy is jealousy over something that someone else has.
3. Envy is related to great arrogance.
4. The fall of arrogant Satan was prompted by envy. He was envious of God's superiority. He wanted to be like the Most High; he wanted it for himself.
5. The woman in the garden was lured by Satan into envy, to the knowledge of good and evil. "God has this view of good and evil that you lack." He followed her; it is backwards.
6. Envy from the very beginning was foundational for all the evil. Envy will destroy your soul. You will keep thinking of ways to destroy those of whom you are envious.

This envy needed to be stopped. There can be no envy and teamwork. A football team that is not doing well; someone on that team wants a position, and this throws the team out of whack. You have more than anyone else in this world. The spiritual resources that God has provided for you.

God did not provide any one person with better or more spiritual resources than anyone else. We have equal opportunity to live the Christian life. We have equal opportunity for escrow blessings. Why be envious of anyone else in this world. Why be envious of the billionaire who has yachts, planes and property. Envy is ubiquitous; and it is found among pastor-teachers. Some pastor-teachers envy others, what they have and their congregations and notoriety.

There are some among the disciples who are related to the Lord; so they were objects of envy as well. Human kings show favoritism toward relatives (some kill relatives). Preferential treatment for family members. Rom. 2:11 there is no partiality with God. God is always fair and always just. Jesus Christ is God; and He is sinless mankind. James and John did not get primo seats for being family. The Lord can only condemn that attitudes of all 12 of them. They need to examine their own motivations. Why are they following Him? What is their motivation? Suffered all, sacrificed all, all and died.

These disciples cannot serve right now; they cannot even straighten out their own lives. Bobby has liked football since he was a kid. A football team coming out of the tunnel high as a kite and all emotional and the first bit of adversity hits; fumble on the 1 yard line. And this deflates them. They are flat and they play that way. We cannot get emotionally pumped up and expect to function in the Christian life. We do not have to be deflated in adversity. When we conflate adversity with the opportunity to live the Christian life. We try to avoid adversity. It will always be there; it will smack us in the face from time to time. We should use, this is my opportunity to live the Christian life. Do not get emotional about it. For the believer, doctrine is the never-failing motivation; not reward, place or rank. Understanding, grace orientation, unswerving loyalty; and these disciples will live that life when they understand what Jesus Christ has done. They would sacrifice their own lives for Him; that is reciprocal love. Doctrine makes the Lord real in our souls. We need to know Him like a family member.

Inability to recognize the historical significance of various events.

Millions willing to die for Jesus Christ. Persecution is beginning for Christians. We are out of vogue because we do not fit into humanism. We are out of vogue for being absolutists. We have no idea where this is going. We either stand of Jesus Christ or we fall for anything. We must stand with Him or we do not glorify Him. Their driving desire would be to glorify the Lord. At this point, they are envying one another. They are climbing over one another to gain a reward advantage. "Now we want the payoff." That thinking should not be a part of the Christian life. That is being out of fellowship. Any rewards that we might have will take care of themselves in the future. Their concern is the plan of God now. We must continue in the plan of God right now. That is our mission now.

But the disciples are not thinking in that way. 10 of them are envious and emotional; and the other 2 are scheming to further their own advance. The Lord corrects their attitudes, teaching them the spiritual kingdom and contrast it with the Roman empire. They were oppressed by the Romans, taxed by the Romans and conquered by the Romans.

So a contrast is drawn. They have been arguing about their place in the New Kingdom.

Matt. 20:25 But Jesus called them to Him and said, "You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them.

It was characteristic that the rulers of the gentiles, the Romans, would promote themselves; they place themselves in authority over others, particularly in authority over the Jews. And the Jews were constantly stirring up revolution and trying to free themselves. Herod Agrippa would crush them. The 12 were acting just like the Romans, competing with one another, at the expense of the others. They lacked the brutality of the others. The disciples had the same human viewpoint mindset. They wanted to exercise dominion and authority. There is a lot of misuse in the Christian world. They enjoyed their power without recognizing the reason for it. They needed to understand the power and authority that they would have and what makes them great authorities.

Their authority would work because they were willing to serve those under them. Is our leadership interested in serving us? They are, for the most part, as self-serving as they can be.

So the Lord corrects their thinking.

Matt. 20:26 It shall not be so among you. But whoever would be great among you must be your servant,

Do not emulate the Roman rulers. This is what makes true leadership great. Those who desire to be greatest among you, they will be your servant.

Matt. 20:27 and whoever would be first among you must be your slave,

The Son of Man is their example.

Matt. 20:28 even as the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many."

Jesus did not come to be served but to serve. This is the secret to wielding authority. People follow when they know you have their best interests at heart. The disciples seek to lord it over one another. This is how the Romans and pharisees operate. But the Lord says, "It is not that way over you." Whatever it is, that is not the spiritual life. They must become diakonos διακονος servants, slaves. Greatness and rewards are not based upon arrogance but upon humility. Grace orientation; humble service. Leadership in the military is great; but you are taught that those in your command must be taken care of. The leader is not self-centered; he does not take care of himself first. The mission is not accomplished unless the people follow. You take care of them; and they will do anything for you.

We must serve those we lead. The true leader demonstrates slavery to the Lord Jesus Christ. Bobby does not always think of himself in this way. His existence is to serve his congregation. He spends hours studying the Word of God so that we might learn it and live it.

The disciples are not leaders right now; they are not servants. But they will learn how to be and they will be great. This is contrary to the magistrates of the Roman empire. Their advance was based upon birth, military conquests, politics, etc.

Then we have δουλος, which means a bond slave, the word that Paul uses all the time.

The Servant Leader

1. The one who wants to be prominent in the kingdom occurs by becoming a bond servant to those he is over.
2. This is the principle of reward in the spiritual kingdom, becoming a servant. Servanthood is the concept of humility.
3. Reward is based upon a lot of things; but not upon arrogance or misused authority. We are disciples, we are learning, and we need to think beyond our own arrogance. Our sin nature leads us in the opposite direction from God. We must learn this lesson right along with the disciples. We must learn in life, especially as a leader.

Lesson #0867

Matt. 20:24–28 Life of Christ 9/28/2016 Wednesday

It is difficult to keep up with all of the antics that the disciples are up to. Their lives are somewhat of a microcosm of what our lives are like. These men were tight; they were the nucleus of the church, and yet here they are, near the end of the life's ministry of Jesus Christ, and they are divided into two camps. One camp is quite mad at the other camp.

Matt. 20:24 And when the ten heard it, they were indignant at the two brothers.

They were concerned with who would reign over what; that was uppermost in all of their minds, it appears. All of them are in that situation. They thought that the kingdom would be initiated very soon in the 1st advent, so they needed to get the good seats in the kingdom. That is their concern.

James and John make an attempt to undercut the other disciples. They want to sit on the thrones closest to the Lord Jesus Christ. They saw themselves as worthy of the highest honor and they mother agreed. They wanted to rule over more people; and have superiority over the other disciples. It was underhanded and self-serving.

The other ten are up in arms. They were upset as they had the same things in mind, but James and John got there ahead of them. The Lord condemns their envy and inordinate ambition; so He needs to get them to refocus on what they ought to be thinking. So Jesus compares His kingdom to the Roman empire. This is where the disciples minds were; so Jesus needed to reach them there.

There was a lot of politicking and even murder which occurred. The disciples would all know about Herod the Great, and his sons. The various Herod's were fighting for power.

Matt. 20:25 But Jesus called them to Him and said, "You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them.

Jesus tells them, you are just like the gentiles and how they think and act. The great ones exercise authority over them. The disciples know that they had failed, they were busted, and the Lord would explain where they are wrong and confused.

Matt. 20:26 It shall not be so among you. But whoever would be great among you must be your servant,

“You should not be like this. This should not be you.”

Matt. 20:27 and whoever would be first among you must be your slave,

The one who thinks he should be first, he should be the servant to the others.

Matt. 20:28 even as the Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many."

Jesus did not come to be served, but to serve; and He came to give His life as a ransom for many. The disciples do not need to be worried about being kings. Jesus sets Himself up as an example. He calls Himself the Son of Man, which is a title that emphasizes His humanity. He is the greatest man who has ever lived.

Jesus is royalty; He is the Greater Son of David. Yet, He calls Himself the Son of Man. He was great in the 1st advent, but not by virtue of His human greatness. He became the servant or Savior of all. He was destined to rule over the earth in the millennial kingdom.

Isa. 52:12–53:13 is all about the Lord, the Suffering Servant, and this describes perfectly what He was. This is what He is talking about now; the Suffering Servant. Unless He is a servant, the disciples would not sit on the 12 thrones.

The Lord's example: "I am your Servant; I will sacrifice My life for yours." The pharisees and all of the Jews should have seen the Lord and understood it when Jesus was suffering at their hands. Jesus is the Suffering Servant of Isaiah.

Ransom is lutron, which means a price for release, a price paid for freedom. The Lord would give Himself for them.

We are all born condemned; we are all born into the slave market of sin. We have a sin nature inherited from Adam. No slave can buy his own freedom; freedom for the slave must be purchased from outside of the slave market.

1Peter 1:18–19 ...knowing that you were ransomed from the futile ways inherited from your forefathers, not with perishable things such as silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ, like that of a lamb without blemish or spot.

Our redemption are at the very heart of the gospel of Jesus Christ. He gave His life as a ransom for all. That is the atonement of Christ for all mankind. He promises right here to give His life for the many.

His blood is not literal blood. Many people have gotten all up in arms because Bob taught that we are not talking about literal blood, but about His substitutionary spiritual death.

The blood sacrifice of an animal in the Old Testament was a picture of the substitutionary death. The lamb is actually killed and literal blood is spilled; and the sins of the person are transferred to the slaughtered animal.

The Lord died physically after paying for our sins.

First a preposition αντι+πολον, which means a substitute for the many.

The Blood of Christ and Our Salvation

1. The blood of Christ was the unlimited atonement for the human race. He is our ransom; the only one Who could pay the price for our freedom.
2. That is the price for His service to mankind.
3. How does He do it? He condescends to become a man and He goes to the cross and offers Himself. He is obedient to this plan even unto death.
4. Therefore, man is purchased from the slavery of sin.

This is what the Lord's ransom did; and that is a true picture of servant-hood. So Jesus explains to them just what He is as Servant. As a servant, He was obedient to the Father's will. He is on the way to Jerusalem. The Lord shows His complete submission to the Father by executing the plan of God.

The disciples thought that the Lord would make a triumphant entry into His city, but by the end of the week, He was put on the cross. He was obedient to the Father in order to provide redemption for us.

Jesus expresses His servanthood with great humility. The greatest man Who has ever lived is simultaneously the man of the greatest humility in all the world. "To be great, you must become a servant to all." It would be nice if many of the leaders of our country had that same humility.

Our fundamental mission is serving the Lord Jesus Christ. The Lord has given His disciples this wonderful lesson. He has told them that He would die; and they got concerned over their rewards; and Jesus explains that they need to change their attitudes.

Next we come to another section of our Lord's ministry as continues to Jerusalem; where the Lord heals two blind men.

Jericho is a very ancient city, the first city conquered by Joshua. It is a very famous city. Luke 18:35 and two other places. Mat_20:29-34 Mark Luke_18:35-43

Jericho was situated in such a way that it would be a natural stopping point on the way of the disciples going to Jerusalem.

The Lord stayed in Bethany, which is where He raised Lazarus; but then He left because they decided to kill Him. He went up to Ephraim and met the rich young ruler there. Then He went to Perea; and all of the rewards and the ransom all happened in Perea.

Then the Lord says, "We are going to Jerusalem now." The disciples were confused by this.

Jericho is about 600 ft. above sea level. And they go through a gorge, which is mostly an uphill walk, to go up 3000 ft. above sea level. A continual ascent for about 6 hours.

There is a textual problem and there are variations between the 3 passages. These variations have caused some to say that the Bible contains error. This is why we need to address this.

The doctrine of divine inspiration is important to us. We need to harmonize these verses. There are no errors in the Word of God. We are going the academic route now. We will see how Scripture works and how scholars reconcile these things. We must harmonize these 3 passages, as they all deal with the same incident. Also, there are no real contradictions here in these passages.

The gospel writers did not sit down in the same room and write their gospels. They wrote in different locations at different times; and there was no collaboration; but their writings do harmonize throughout.

We will look at all 3 views of the 3 authors.

What Is the Problem?

1. In the account of Matt. 20:29–30 we are dealing with the disciples and Jesus leaving Jericho, at which time He is appealed to by two blind men on the road.
2. Mark agrees that the healing occurs when leaving the city, but he only speaks of one man.
3. Mark gives the name of this man, Bartameus. Mark 10:46 And they came to Jericho. And as he was leaving Jericho with his disciples and a great crowd, Bartimaeus, a blind beggar, the son of Timaeus, was sitting by the roadside.
4. Luke 18:35–36 gives only one blind man, but with no formal name given.
5. There is an approach to Jericho spoken of in Luke 18:35–37 As he drew near to Jericho, a blind man was sitting by the roadside begging. And hearing a crowd going by, he inquired what this meant. They told him, "Jesus of Nazareth is passing by."
6. Matthew names 2 blind men approaching Jesus as He leaves Jericho.
7. Mark names one man by name and he interacts with the Lord as the Lord leaves Jericho.
8. Luke mentions just one man when Jesus enters Jericho.
9. Without a doubt, this is the same incident at Jericho, recording in all 3 synoptic gospels. How do we fix this?

Many claim, as a result, that this proves that at least one man was not inspired. But all 3 men approach this narrative with different approaches. They are thinking of different things. Putting together a time frame of events. Jesus will do this, and we will have a complete picture of the Lord's entering and exiting Jericho.

Mark and Luke only name a single blind man, but that does not preclude a second blind man being there.

Lesson #0868 Matt. 20:29(29–34) Life of Christ 9/29/2016 Thursday

Luke 18:35–37 Mark 10:46 This is not going to be the normal sort of lesson given in any church. We take a look at God the Holy Spirit first-hand.

Skeptics of Christianity and those who reject the gospel attempt to base their objections. How do we know that God exists? Aren't there many pathways to God? They reject exclusivity. Is a miracle really possible? Have you ever seen a miracle? Isn't believing just too simple? Don't we need some good deeds to be saved? Psychologist, Christianity is just a psychological crutch; I don't need that. What about hypocritical Christians? This means, Christians are just like me, what should I change? People reject the idea that there is a hell; most like the thought of heaven; they just reject hell in some way or another.

Is the Bible reliable? How do you know what it says it is true? Wasn't it written by bias people who want to support their beliefs? It's been translated so many times; text must be corrupted. The authors could have made mistakes just like anyone else; so how could this book be divinely inspired. There are mistakes in the Bible.

There are excellent answers to all of these objections. But no matter what answer you give, it will not solve negative volition. These are just covers for, I don't want anything that you have to say.

Before you become an apologist; stick to the gospel, defining grace and the Person of Jesus Christ. Apologetics might be mentioned, but it is the Word of God that does your real arguing.

Not everyone hears what you say and then remarks, oh, I'll believe in Jesus now. It does not hurt to have some facts about objections. We are about to deal with some problems in 3 texts. Matt. 20:29–34 Mark Luke 18:35–43

All 3 authors write about the same incident, but their narratives do not agree exactly. What happened to the Holy Spirit in this regard? Doesn't the Holy Spirit guarantee that the Bible is without error? Should be question divine inspiration? There are explanations to every passage to put together these narratives. In doing so, it is fascinating to understand.

These 3 authors wrote in different places at different times without collaboration with one another. They wrote; and it is amazing that these synoptic passages came out without error. We will reconcile these 3 accounts.

What's the Problem?

It is the sequence of events

1. The Lord was in Bethany and He raised Lazarus from the dead; some threatened His life; and then he spoke to the rich young ruler. Then we got caught up in the rewards. Then He says, "Let's go to Jerusalem." They are on the road to Jerusalem; and they are maybe 10 miles from there.
2. The Matthew passage Matt. 20:29–30 there are two men who approach the Lord as He is leaving Jericho. And as they went out of Jericho, a great crowd followed Him. And behold, there were two blind men sitting by the roadside, and when they heard that Jesus was passing by, they cried out, "Lord, have mercy on us, Son of David!"
3. Mark only speaks of one man, named Bartimarus, who interacts with Jesus when leaving Jericho. Mark :46
4. Luke has a single beggar mentioned when Jesus is entering Jericho. Luke 18:38–40a And he cried out, "Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!" And those who were in front rebuked him, telling him to be silent. But he cried out all the more, "Son of David, have mercy on me!" And Jesus stopped and commanded him to be brought to him.
5. Too many parallels here for this not to be the same incident.

We will examine each record more thoroughly.

Some Info about this

1. This incident is about 2 men.
2. There are 3 different perspectives from 3 authors. These authors do not have the exact same purpose.
3. It also recorded two different moments when the Lord visits Jericho; once at the beginning and once at the end.

From the Luke Passage

1. From Luke we learn that Bartimarus hears about the Lord Jesus Christ when they enter into the town.
2. As the crowd passes by Bartimarus, and he calls out to the Lord directly from where he is seating along the road. He yells out, "Son of David, have mercy on me."
3. He does not gain the Lord's attention at that time
4. Jesus was pretty much a rock star wherever He went. It was so loud, this man may not have been heard.
5. He comes into Jericho; Bartimarus will call out to Jesus, but Jesus interacts with Zachius. Then He teaches a parable. All of this is in Luke. When Jesus leaves Jericho, Bartimarus gets the Lord's attention on the road.
6. When Jesus is leaving Jericho, He hears Bartimarus and calls to have him brought over.

Mark 10:46

Summary

1. Arriving and leaving are important in this incident. Both are important.
2. A blind beggar is sitting by the road.
3. He was present on the road when the Lord entered and left.
4. When he hears that it is Jesus, he calls out, "Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me." This cry may have been made when Jesus came into Jericho.
5. Many told him to shut up
6. This cry may have been heard at the exit or both entry and exit.
7. When leaving Jericho, Jesus did hear the call of Bartimaeus.
8. Matt. 20:29 we know that this cry happened when Jesus was departing from the city. When Jesus was leaving, he heard this cry.
9. Matthew mentions in v. 30 that there is a second blind man with him. There is an explanation. Bartimaeus, who was by himself when Jesus entered Jericho; and he cried out to Jesus, but he was unable to get the Lord's attention. He was ignored or could not be heard.
10. Bartimaeus would try again once Jesus was exiting the city. He just would go to the gate, same gate, walled city;
11. He has a blind buddy and he tells him about Jesus being in town.
12. So, at Jesus' exit, both men combine to get the attention of the Lord. "Lord, we want our eyes to be open now."
13. But since Bartimaeus had been the most persistent and the most aggressive in pursuing the Lord, Jesus addresses him alone. Confirmed by Matthew and Luke.
14. In the end, the Lord healed both men.

These Accounts Are Supplementary

1. Bartimaeus is the major character in all of this; he was
2. He wanted to speak to the Lord for a good reason.
3. The second blind man was more passive and he simply concurred with Bartimaeus.
4. Bartimaeus was not put off by the complainers in the crowd. He was persistent; and that is part of understanding.
5. Bartimaeus demonstrates great positive volition. He knows where his healing is.
6. Bartimaeus sought a second opportunity, knowing that the Lord would have to exist here.
7. When Jesus was leaving, Bartimaeus cried out, "Son of David, have mercy on me."

So how do we combine this into one incident?

As Jesus was nearing Jericho, a blind beggar named Bartimaeus was sitting by the road. He could not see it; but he knew it was a big commotion, and he asks what is going on. They tell him that Jesus of Nazareth was passing by. He is told that Jesus is coming by, and he calls out. He is sternly told to shut up. So he was unable to get the Lord's attention. Now they are leaving Jericho and there is a large crowd following him and two blind men sitting by the road, hearing that Jesus was passing by. The crowd sternly tells them to be quiet. But the men cry out all the more. He was not giving up; he did not care what they said.

The entry and exits are quite similar. Same disciples and a big crowd and along the same road. Bartimaeus says the same thing upon entry and exit. Jesus hears Bartimaeus and He is moved with compassion and He demands that Bartimaeus come to Him. "Take courage, stand up; Jesus is calling for you." He jumps up, throws off his robe, and Jesus asks him, "What do you want me to do for you?"

Jesus touches their eyes and heals them.

There Are Some Tremendous Lessons to Be Taken from Them.

1. This man recognizes royal humanity; he recognizes the Messiah. Many people with the Lord did not know this.
2. The blind men recognized Who the Lord is.
3. They understood that giving them sight was a great miraculous reaction and they knew that the Lord would do it.
4. These two men recognized their need for healing.
5. They needed a Savior to see through the darkness of sin; and they knew this. This is why they are yelling on this road, crying for salvation.

The Principle

1. Recognition of the need of salvation which these men had precedes the faith that heals from the blindness of the sin nature. They were blind and needed light.
2. Only through the expression of faith could they gain the light of divine viewpoint. This closes with them following the light.
3. These two men had acknowledged their need when crying out to the Lord. They simply turned to the Lord to be healed.
4. In that needs, their faith was evident to the Lord. That mustard seed of faith is always evident to God. Hence they are healed; saved; eyes opened.
5. Also, the compassion of the Lord on these two men is a beautiful representation of God's grace toward all men. The blindness of the world of unbelievers. Compassion is the thinking of God toward these two men.

This led to God's grace in action towards them. That grace has a particular target. The two men are simply the demonstration. The incident is designed to be a lesson to the 12 disciples. This is another one.

What this Incident Was Teaching

1. These men represent positive volition and negative volition. Nation Israel was blind and did not want to believe in their Messiah.

2. Christ could not remove the blindness of the nation concerning His work and position. The people were still blind.
3. They were blind and they refused to see their own Messiah.
4. But the Lord did save those Jews who expressed faith in Him. The Lord was going to the cross in a very short time. This is a final witness of His Messiahship. This demonstrates to this crowd the lesson to be understood. The disciples could not be discouraged. They were about to see and should not be discouraged the rejection that they witness in the world. They would soon see the Lord Jesus Christ beaten, mocked, spit upon and crucified. He prophesied this already. And through all of this, they must not lose heart. They must carry on their mission. That mission is presenting Christ to the Jews and gentiles who sought to be saved and healed. There were always some in the nation who wanted to be saved and healed.

Matt. 20:29 And as they went out of Jericho, a great crowd followed Him.

Matt. 20:30 And behold, there were two blind men sitting by the roadside, and when they heard that Jesus was passing by, they cried out, "Lord, have mercy on us, Son of David!"

Matt. 20:31 The crowd rebuked them, telling them to be silent, but they cried out all the more, "Lord, have mercy on us, Son of David!"

Matt. 20:32 And stopping, Jesus called them and said, "What do you want Me to do for you?"

Matt. 20:33 They said to Him, "Lord, let our eyes be opened."

Matt. 20:34 And Jesus in pity touched their eyes, and immediately they recovered their sight and followed Him.

Lesson #0869

Luke 19:1–4 Life of Christ

10/2/2016 1Sunday

Jesus had been near to Jerusalem, but it was not yet time for Him to go to Jerusalem. He still had things which He needed to do. Primarily, He needed to give His disciples more training; better training. His disciples needed to learn His thinking, His way of teaching; and they would carry this forward. They would also be writing the divinely inspired Word of God. This is where we get our doctrine from.

Bethany is where Jesus raised Lazarus, and the death warrant was issued. He left Bethany and went due north. All of these places are close. He goes to Ephraim and he spoke to the rich young ruler there. He rejected the Lord because of his money.

He goes due east across the Jordan River to Perea; and this is His final time with the disciples, teaching and preparing them for all they needed to do. These were the lessons on reward which were given. Suddenly He says, "Let's go back to Jerusalem." Then He explained why they were returning to Jerusalem. And He told His disciples, "I will be mocked, spit upon, crucified, and then I will rise again."

In Jericho, He heals the two blind men. This was a final, incontestable witness. This was a good place for a good lesson for the disciples, that they are not discouraged by what would happen in the near future, and the attack upon our Lord.

The two blind men being healed was not the only thing which took place in Jericho. Jesus also met Zacharius, one of the last people that the Lord meets with. He will give a picture of Who He is and what He is doing.

Jericho is a very productive area; and it is a Levitical city with many priests. A trade station for east and west of the Jordan River. Overtly, a very religious town. There was a lot of money passing through the area, there were many bandits on the road who held up many people. There were also customs collectors, publicans; the tax collectors. They robbed the people as well; and they were a hated class of people. These men enforced a system of oppressive and unrestrained taxation. It was getting worse by the moment. They enforced the Roman tax code. They were as bad or worse than the Romans. The local head of the tax collectors is a Jew named Zacharius, and he is extremely hated and an outcast.

Luke 19:1 He entered Jericho and was passing through.

The Lord is passing through Jericho; and this is before Jesus heals Bartimaeus and his friend. Enters Jericho, sees Bartimaeus, spends time there, and then leaves, healing Bartimaeus.

While in Jericho, Jesus was a famous, controversial rabbi, and it was expected that He might stay at the home of some priestly, righteous Jew; someone fit to receive Him. At sundown, the Lord needed to be placed somewhere; and this began the Sabbath. So, Jesus needed to be in a specific home. Surely, He would celebrate the Sabbath with His Own kind, people would have thought. They expect the Lord to follow the rituals of that day.

However, there were more circumstances there. Jesus is the true, spotless Lamb of the Passover; and He had been represented for centuries by the Passover Lamb.

Jesus and what He does points out to how He was rejected. People were so close and yet, so far from salvation.

Jericho is a microcosm of Israel itself. But the Lord would fellowship with those who would receive righteousness. There were plenty who would receive righteousness; and plenty who thought that they were already righteous.

Self-righteousness versus justification by grace. People who are relative see religion in a relative way. They think it can go this or that way; and the worst are those who think that there are many pathways to God. Christianity is absolute; there are no gray areas in Christianity.

Luke 19:2 And there was a man named Zacchæus. He was a chief tax collector and was rich.

This is not a person that people would have seen as spiritual.

Luke 19:3 And he was seeking to see who Jesus was, but on account of the crowd he could not, because he was small of stature.

Bobby did go to Christian camps and he enjoyed them. For a young person, it is not always a bad thing. Many people became believers, having heard the gospel in these camps. They should not take the place of good Bible study. Apparently, there is a song sung about Zacchæus at these camps.

He did not want to be caught up with all the self righteous crowd, who would beat him up and leave him behind. There is no tolerance in the religious types; and Zacchæus was not fond of them either.

Zacchæus had built up a dislike of religion and he enjoyed taking their money; it was his way to get back at them. Some have been soured on Christianity because of its intolerance and hypocrisy. Those who would castigate or embarrass. They will attack those they do not like and cannot control. Filled with mental attitude sins. That is how Zacchæus felt about the priestly religious class; and he could see right through the religious types. Small in stature, hated by all of them, and yet, he was above them. He thought that maybe Jesus might be different.

Jesus sees Zacchæus wedged into the branches; and staring down in total interest. Then a surprising thing happened. The Lord, surrounded by he religious types, and He told Zacchæus, "Today, I will stay at your house." He made the effort to find out about this self-proclaimed Messiah. If the religious types are negative toward the Lord, then Zacchæus had better be positive. Zacchæus was eager to be redeemed from his many sins. He knew that he was no good. He had positive volition, and the Lord chose to hang with him.

The self righteous types hear that the Lord is going to hang out with Zacchæus, and they cannot believe it. They no doubt question Him about it.

We should be thankful that the Lord chooses to fellowship with outcasts as we are. We are in the same position as Zacchæus, unable to initiated a relationship with Jesus Christ. You, when you found the Lord, were an outcast, and then you found the Lord. No matter what you were, you can believe in Jesus Christ. This is a picture of positive volition. He was not the outcast from the Lord; but the religious types were the ones who are outcasts.

Luke 19:4 So he ran on ahead and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see Him, for He was about to pass that way.

Zacchæus was very child-like about his interest. His small stature mirrors his simple interest in the Lord.

He was a bad boy, a publican, a sinner; and he knew this. He was looking for some redemption from the Lord.

What is positive volition; how do we know it, recognize it, see it? We have a witness to those who are positive as well.

Lesson #0870

Luke 19:5–8 Life of Christ

10/2/2016 2Sunday

In all the is found in the gospels are not just stories, but these are doctrinal lessons for all of us. If we get tired of these stories, concentrate a little harder. The story of Zacchæus presents a great contrast; a positive Jew as over-against the religious types. He is one of the most hated men in town. He makes more money off these self righteous Jews than anyone else. But he knows that there is something missing in him and he knows it. There is something wrong with him, and he recognizes it. Some of us might identify with him. This may give us some insight as to where we were, where we are going.

Zacchæus is up in a tree. Jesus tells him, I must come and stay at your house.

Luke 19:5 And when Jesus came to the place, He looked up and said to him, "Zacchæus, hurry and come down, for I must stay at your house today."

Jesus invites Himself to Zacchæus's home. Without even an invite, Jesus announces that He will stay at his house; and this will occur during the Passover, the greatest celebration to occur in Israel. The blood of the Lamb saved the Jews from death and from the Death Angel. There is great import here. Zacchæus recognized who and what he was; but the self righteous did not understand this. They could not see it. He was a cheating, heartless SOA (son of Abraham).

Our Lord understood that spark of positive volition. It is a moment that every believer in Jesus Christ has experienced. This moment of recognition. That is why the Lord stopped and addressed Zacchæus. It did not matter how the world saw Zacchæus; what mattered was his interest in the Lord Jesus Christ. He did not fully understand why he was there, but he was. You do not have to even know how to be positive. The Holy Spirit convincing Zacchæus of his need without even knowing it.

The Lord takes us with positive volition and He leads us toward water. Quite often, the worst people are the ones who have to clearest understanding of their own unworthiness and their need of grace. Grace was his only hope, and they knew it. This is the way that the Lord sees each one of us. Zacchæus is us.

The Lord and Zacchæus

1. The Lord sought Zacchæus not because he climbed a tree and was conspicuous, not because he gave up his evil ways, but because of his positive volition; he was curious.
2. We want what we do not have, even if we don't know that we want it, until we heard of the grace of God toward us in the Person and Work of Jesus Christ. Then it clicked. "I heard the message, it made sense, and I latched onto it immediately." Some recognize the need, hear it and take it.

3. Jesus looks up at Zacchæus with eyes of infinite compassion for a loser and an outcast. This is the Lord's approach to the entire world. That is part of love; it is a compassion on our inability; on our condemnation; on our lack of ability.
4. He looked at Zacchæus with eyes of welcome, in a place where Zacchæus was unwelcome. How does the world see you?
5. Jesus demonstrated love toward Zacchæus which could be found nowhere else in that city. There was no compassion in that city for Zacchæus. Zacchæus also recognized this.
6. Then Zacchæus looked beyond himself; he did not focus on himself, but he saw what he had been looking for. We don't know what we are looking for but we recognize it when we see it.
7. Christ's words electrified Zacchæus, just as one who responds to the gospel message. When we heard the gospel message and recognized it, our feeling has nothing to do with our salvation, but what did we think? "You are saved; you have eternal life." And it is so easy. You recognize how easy it was. Zacchæus was electrified, and that is the end game of positive volition. Amidst all of the hatred of Zacchæus, Zacchæus crossed over the barrier of ostracism. The Lord showed love and compassion to this outcast. That is the wonder of grace offered without strings. Jesus extended to Zacchæus a welcoming invitation; just as He did to someone else, to Matthew, also a tax collector; and he heard this message of grace, and he believed in Jesus. Matthew understood what was going on in the thinking of Zacchæus.

Luke 19:6 So he hurried and came down and received Him joyfully.

Zacchæus was not worthy of anything that the Lord had to offer, but that is grace. That is what the Lord does for all of us. We do not know what Jesus said to Zacchæus; how they enjoyed Passover; or what was explained; but it must have been impressive.

Zacchæus is certain that Jesus is the One he has been waiting for. He is the One to believe in. Zacchæus will demonstrate faith that the self righteous could not muster. He receives Christ with $\chi\rho\iota\sigma\upsilon$, an adverbial participle. It is a model participle, which indicates the manner in which the manner of the receiving of Christ took place. This is the answer to everything; and Zacchæus found exactly what he was looking for. An important discovery; and salvation is the greatest moment of your life. Nothing greater than this. No matter what it is that we want, no matter what it is that we get in life, it is nothing compared to this one moment.

We may not have recognized this moment for all that it was. All of the things we receive at salvation; the tremendous assets; our eternal life in heaven forever. Maybe you did get it. Recognize what you have. This little man has figured it all out; or, at least the basic salvation of it. He recognizes his own need. We recently studied Bartimaeus who acted on his need based upon faith. Two blind men and a tax collector. These 3 losers got Christ. The pharisees believed that blindness indicates God's disapprobation for a person due to whatever defects he had. These 3 men expressed faith alone in Christ alone, nothing else, and this changed everything. This is self-righteousness versus real righteousness. Even as an outcast, Zacchæus was more righteous than even the most religious types in that city.

Recall the study of the rich young ruler. Zacchæus was also rich; and he is the camel who will enter through the eye of the needle. He is a rich man. The eye of the needle is the narrow of the most narrow way.

Never think that the rich cannot be saved. Zacchæus is an example of a rich man who received the Lord. The self righteous religious types are exposed as those who will not enter into the Kingdom by faith alone in Christ alone.

When they, the religious crowd saw this, they all began to grumble.

Luke 19:7 And when they saw it, they all grumbled, "He has gone in to be the guest of a man who is a sinner."

"Don't they know that this man is a sinner?" Bartimæus got it; he believed and was saved and healed. The religious types were all concerned about the sin committed by Zacchæus. The pharisees are as blind as the blind men; and just as much sinners as Zacchæus.

The Contrast Between Zacchæus (And the Blind Men) and the Pharisees

1. The religious types saw their self-righteousness as strength. That was their ace-in-the-hole with God.
2. They saw self-righteousness as pleasing to God. They saw their sin as gaining God's grace. I am a mental attitude sinner, but I am so overtly good, that God loves me.
3. That is the blindness of legalism and religion. It is very blind.
4. These men who hated Zacchæus were the real sinners. They are the real blind ones; they could not see Who Jesus is. They could not see the solution to their sin.
5. The self righteous miss out on the wonderful salvation offered by the Lord. Righteousness versus righteousness. Human righteousness versus divine righteousness. God's righteousness versus self righteousness. Which one wins? Who is righteous? By virtue of that moment of faith in Christ.

Jesus is demonstrating His policy of seeking outcasts; the outcasts were the ones who sought inclusion into the Kingdom of God. They were right for the grace of God. This is who Christ is; He is the grace of God. Zacchæus gives expression to that faith. He would not allow materialism to keep him from the grace of God. He was not saved because he would not be very charitable. The Lord will make this completely clear.

We will stop with v. 8.

Luke 19:8 And Zacchæus stood and said to the Lord, "Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor. And if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I restore it fourfold."

Bobby is presenting this as if this is what Zacchæus would do in the future. This is not to be interpreted it in this way. The point is, it is not because Zacchæus decided to give away his money to others. This does not make him saved.

Worst outcast would be someone who works for the Romans and takes money from his brothers, gave it to the Romans, and kept his cut. This was, no doubt, like being a legal bandit. Jericho was the center of trade; it was a wealthy town, agrarian wealth, and there was a lot of taxing that took place. Jesus entered Jericho shortly before the beginning of the Sabbath on that day.

There is a mixed crowd, including the legalistic Jews. We are studying the Lord's time in Jericho, which is a day or two at most. There is an interaction between the Lord and Zacheus. This was meant for the 12 disciples who followed the Lord. Their education was a long ways from...?

We are to rebound and concentrate on the Word of God. The disciples were doing the same thing? As they move through this period of instruction, and they will recall the intense teaching of these lessons in the final days. There are things that will be unforgettable for them. They are like us in this way. We hear doctrine and we do not apply it until we are in the pertinent situation. What is that doctrine that we need? What fits our circumstance right now? Hard to apply from that which is not in your soul. It must be implanted in your soul. Otherwise, not useable.

Zacheus and the Lord

1. Zacheus is an illustration of the kind of person that the Lord was seeking for His kingdom. The religious types figured that they would have been the ones God would want. Zacheus was ready to receive the kingdom.
2. The religious leaders were not ready to receive the Messiah.
3. This incident with Zacheus...
4. Jesus Christ pays attention to Zacheus because he was on positive signals.
5. Some points missed.

Jesus chooses this man as his host for the great holy day of the week, spending the day with the most unholy person in town. Zacheus all too happy to entertain Him.

Luke 19:5 And when Jesus came to the place, He looked up and said to him, "Zacchæus, hurry and come down, for I must stay at your house today."

Luke 19:6 So he hurried and came down and received Him joyfully.

Zacheus has been healed from sin; and he is not an outcast to God. He has a relationship that the rest of the self righteous people do not have. Once this happens, the religious crowd would have none of it. The religious types only recognized their own self-righteousness and believed that God should recognize it as well.

All the legalists remain dead in their sins. The obvious sinner had a new birth by the grace of God. An unassailable relationship with God.

Why do we have the worst guy in town receiving the Lord and being considered righteous. He demonstrates this new status to everyone in town.

Luke 19:7 And when they saw it, they all grumbled, "He has gone in to be the guest of a man who is a sinner."

Luke 19:8 And Zacchæus stood and said to the Lord, "Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor. And if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I restore it fourfold."

Then Zacchæus makes some promises. This is not a follow up work for salvation for Zacchæus. He received Christ, but this is what else he did. Not what is going on. Zacchæus is just following the Mosaic Law; and restoring the property 4x. Zacchæus was restoring that which he had wrongly taken.

Zacchæus and His New Status

1. Zacchæus was responding to his new status. This was his testimony as to who he was at this time. Not unlike water baptism. Not a means of salvation; but a response to baptism.
2. This was not a work done to gain the favor of Christ.
3. Jesus sought him. He called Zacchæus down from the tree. It did not matter that Zacchæus was an outcast. He had already believed in the Lord (v. 6).
4. What Zacchæus did with his money was above and beyond the requirement of the Mosaic Law. The Law requires that he give a fifth to the poor; he gave a half. For stealing, he normally was required the amount stolen and a fifth more.
5. Zacchæus offered more than was required. This whole restitution represents grace. He gave over and above. He gave 4x the amount back. He must have denuded his own treasury to get through this.
6. Grace is above and beyond all that we can imagine or expect. The Jews got more; 4x more. We get unlimited amounts from grace.
7. This is a beautiful picture of the transition of Zacchæus going from the old life as an unbeliever to a new life as a believer in the Lord. He was now a new creature; a new spiritual species in the Lord. This is his witness. This is his response for being a different person.
8. He could not wait to follow the grace path. He stopped; and said, "I am going to give back 4x of what I have taken.
9. This is an expression of gratitude for what God has given to him. We do not give because we think that we will get something back for it. This is an expression of gratitude of God's grace. Zacchæus was ready to live a grace life.
10. His faith had already taken root in his soul. That is what grace does when discovered. He did not know all that it entailed at this point. He is ready to go learn, to move out of his old state and into the new state of grace.
11. The demonstration of that faith, which was giving back that money, was not a necessary work to consummate his salvation. No faith plus works. This is a big deal in Christianity.

Luke 19:9 And Jesus said to him, "Today salvation has come to this house, since he also is a son of Abraham.

Jesus says that salvation has come to this house, the house of Zacchæus. No doubt those of his family accepted the Lord as well. Then Jesus adds, "Because he too is a son of Abraham." Zacchæus had faith and this was noted back in Genesis.

What Did the Lord Mean?

1. Jesus says that Zacchæus is a true Jew, a son in the true sense. Zacchæus is a son of Abraham.
2. He is a regenerate Jew; a justified Jew, just like Abraham. Gen. 15:6 He is in the physical and spiritual line of Abraham.
3. A true Jew has believed in Jesus Christ. He demonstrates faith alone in Christ alone. He is no longer an outcast because he now expressed faith.
4. Zacchæus is now a citizen of the promised kingdom of Israel by grace through faith. He is a son of Abraham. Who will be in the kingdom? Regenerate sons. The religious leaders won't be there. They are not the true sons of Abraham. This whole idea confuses the religious types or is denied by the religious types.

Zacchæus Is a Son of Abraham; What Does That Mean?

1. This brings up a larger issue; a true Jew versus a Jew by birth.
2. Zacchæus becomes a symbol of the believing nation; those who would be in the kingdom; a distinction to be made. The Lord reveals there is more to it than being in the line of Abraham.
3. Where was the Lord headed after his visit to Jericho? Directly to Jerusalem.
4. The reception he receives will be much different in Jerusalem than in the house of Zacchæus. Jesus would be rejected by the Jews in Jerusalem, even though some in Jerusalem had believed in Him.
5. The house of Israel should have given the Lord the reception given by Zacchæus, a total welcome to their kingdom.
6. The kingdom would have to be postponed. This is very important, something for the disciples to understand. They do not get it yet.
7. Those who were true Jews would have guaranteed citizenship in that kingdom. Zacchæus, the worst, the outcast.

Luke 19:9 And Jesus said to him, "Today salvation has come to this house, since he also is a son of Abraham.

The final words on this narrative. This sums up the Zacchæus incident:

Luke 19:10 For the Son of Man came to seek and to save the lost."

1. This statement explains why the Lord chose to stay with Zacchæus. In the view of the religious types, there was no need for the sacrifice of the Lord. They did not understand the suffering Servant.
2. This verse mirrors the who purpose of the Lord Jesus Christ mission on earth. This sums up this mission.
3. Man was lost and hopeless in sin. Man lacked a relationship with God. We are all like Zacchæus; we are all outcasts. Zacchæus was singled out because he was the worst; but he is not worse than anyone else. We are all citizens of a lost and dying world.
4. Christ in coming to seek and save us is the epitome of grace. This is why when we witness for the Lord, it is not us, but the Lord seeking to save those who are lost. The issue is always grace. Keep your mind focused on grace. That is the point of it all. This differentiates Christianity from everything else.
5. The Jews must be forewarned that through His death and subsequent resurrection, the kingdom is secure for all true Jews. Heaven is secure for all of us. Here, we are dealing with the Millennial kingdom here.

Zacchæus was one picture; and Bartimæus is another picture.

Now the Lord leaves Jericho. The 12 needed to understand God's grace entirely, but there were those who witnessed this and latched onto grace immediately because they saw the truth.

One problem, the disciples still thought that Jesus was going to Jerusalem to receive the crown. Jesus was chased out of town before. The disciples missed the point because they were self-centered at this time.

The parable of a rejected King. The disciples understood in an academic way what He had said, but it never really penetrated their souls. He already told them that He was going to die. They still expect the Jews to accept Him and crown Him King.

The Jews will receive the Lord in Jerusalem with a crown of thorns.

The Problems of the Disciples in Their Thinking

1. John the Baptizer had proclaimed that the Kingdom of Heaven was here; when the Lord appeared and was baptized.
2. Jesus communicated this same message at the beginning of His ministry. The disciples were still thinking back at the beginning of His ministry. Maybe they followed Him because they were expecting the kingdom to come. They now how the wrong application regarding what would happen in the 1st advent.
3. Jesus offered a Kingdom to Israel, but they rejected Him. The nation should have received Him as their sovereign Savior, but they did not. The kingdom was postponed to the 2nd advent. It was necessary that they understand this. Jesus is now repeating it.

4. Jesus will not teach them this information by means of a parable. This postponement was not in their brains yet.

Jesus Preparing the Disciples

1. Jesus was preparing the disciples for what was coming.
2. He was bringing reality to their lives. They were not being objective; they were removed from reality.
3. Our Lord just reminded them of God's rewards program, He would not move away from that thought by emphasizing this immense difficulty.
4. "Let me tell you what is really going to happen," is what this parable is all about.
5. The disciples ignored His teaching on the crucifixion. They were not taking it in. They were intent on immediate glory.
6. They had blinded themselves to the obvious facts of the situation. Jesus Christ was rejected by the nation. He would not be crowned King at this time, and this was in front of them to see.
7. The disciples would not see that which conflicted with their personal desires. They would not consider whatever conflicted with their preconceptions. That is such an easy way to find trouble and to make bad decisions.
8. The Lord had to correct this tendency and that thinking.

A little application to us. We will stand in their shoes in our life right now?

Lesson #0872

Review Luke 19 Life of Christ

10/6/2016 Thursday

The disciples were confusing doctrines or leaving some doctrines out. Jesus came to save outcasts; and Zacchæus is an example of an outcast. The disciples were a part of the kingdom, and the Lord proves this with the encounter with Zacchæus. The disciples accepted Jesus as the King as the Messiah, the One to bring the promise to Israel. Their conclusion, that seems obvious, is the kingdom is at hand. The disciples failed to face the facts that the religious types had utterly rejected them. The disciples did not consider this as a problem in their calculations. They only saw a part of this. They heard the Lord speak concerning rewards. They were interested in rewards; so that is where their heads were at. They wanted the kingdom and all of the blessings that entailed. That is what their eyes were on. They were very much kingdom oriented.

The Lord taught them that He would be mocked and crucified; and He would be resurrected; and they only thought about the resurrection. Then they expected the crowning. They are putting aside one thing that they ought to be hearing.

The Messianic Kingdom would be postponed, but they did not really grasp that. They did not want to think about things that conflicted with their desires.

The Confusion of the Disciples

1. The disciples would not consider whatever conflicted with their preconceptions. Sometimes he just hear the doctrines that we want to hear. Maybe it is something we do not want to apply.
2. The disciples were being subjective and unreal and they ignored obvious facts.
3. They were picking and choosing what they would apply and think about.
4. They failed to consider the meaning and all of the ramifications of all that the Lord had taught them. They would hear even more doctrine in the near future and it would be concentrated. So they have a lot of learning to do; and they are not in a learning mode. They want what they want.
5. They heard what they wanted to hear; and they wanted what they wanted—immediately. We hear a doctrine and it is not what we want to hear; and we are waiting for the doctrine to solve our problems. I will apply this doctrine, and other doctrines slip right by us. People have selective hearing; they only hear what they want to hear and they only apply what they want to apply. They hear one or two things and the rest eludes them.

We also quite often employ the same distorted thinking just like the disciples. We will put blinders on. This may be us now, in the future; or this has been us to some degree.

Our Problem with Not Fully Applying Bible Doctrine

1. When we are out of fellowship, that is the first problem. Particularly when we are out of fellowship for an extended period of time. "You should rebound often; I know you are not lily white all the time."
2. If all this is happening, we fail to be objective and contemplative about our daily surrounding circumstances. Every day we have new circumstances and new doctrine to deal with them. We get caught up in our daily concerns and we forget the plan of God rationale. We cannot seem to fit our circumstances into the plan of God; but our situation and life is always involved with the plan of God.
3. When we are not taking in doctrine, we end up twisting the facts of our on-going situations. The disciples are confusing and twisting the facts. We become one-sided in our viewpoints and blind to spiritual truth. How can you apply the full realm of doctrine when you are only looking at one side of the equation.
4. We fail when we are out of fellowship, when we are not metabolizing doctrine. We do not thoroughly apply doctrine to our circumstances.
5. We fail to see some of the consequences of our decisions; we miss the possible consequences and the unintended consequences. In the plan of God, when we move forward, we just take unintended consequences in stride. It is like the proverbial jack-in-the-box.
6. Then we apply human viewpoint which exacerbates the problems. Once we move away from divine viewpoint, where we cannot apply the full realm of doctrine, what takes its place. When you split divine viewpoint and human viewpoint, our human viewpoint will take over every time. Twisted facts, subjectivity.
7. Then we dive right into our own reactive solutions of human viewpoint. Ever reacted in life? When you react to circumstances, you are not applying Bible doctrine. As you move ahead, you share the happiness of God. You have spiritual self esteem; your esteem is not based upon the circumstances of your life being good or not. Human self-esteem is often related to how others see you; but with spiritual self esteem, only God's opinion matters.

8. Believers can let emotions, personal desires, and subjectivity overcome the application of doctrine. That is the bottom line. That is the danger of being out of fellowship for extended periods. That is when you become emotional; your personal desires become overpowering; and you do not see life from divine viewpoint.

This is the current problem for the disciples. How many bad decisions have been made under one or more of the conditions that we have just outlined. The Christian thinks that facts are irrelevant. How many people get married ignoring obvious difficulties in their courtship; turning a blind eye to problem areas, not considering the effects of some problems. Intent only on feelings and the glory of romance. They is a point of failure before the marriage even starts. It will take a lot of doctrinal orientation to overcome such premarital subjectivity. With doctrine, it can be done; but it becomes much more challenging; particularly when it is one-sided. Throw in premarital sex, and you really have a problem.

How many of us have made a bad decision, but the signs of the problem were right there obviously. We must continue to apply divine viewpoint and wait for His guidance when we get impatient. When we are subjective, we are blind; we overlook obvious facts. We twist facts; we are mistaken in our analysis of what is going on. This subjectivity is sometimes known as taking leave of your senses. You are intent on your own plans and dreams without making an objective analysis of the facts.

If you become subjective, you continue with human viewpoint, and you neglect spiritual growth, then you have messed up.

How does the relative viewpoint believer act? He often convinces himself, God led me to do this; God told me to do this. The latter was the favorite in seminary. That person has no idea what it means for God to lead them. No idea how God's guidance is discerned apart from some set of subjective set of standards.

Divine guidance is a great asset, but it requires divine viewpoint. Divine guidance for these people is just a feeling, an intuition, something magical that just appears. God whispering into their ear, metaphorically speaking. Often this is just a personal desire or the desire of a confused person. Sometimes you used a phony vocabulary to cover yourself.

In seminary, Bobby did not use the typical vocabulary that he heard in seminary. It was cacophonous in his ear; it did not ring true.

God leads and guides by an objective process.

Divine Guidance

1. First pray. Use prayer to ask for guidance. Just say, "Father, what is Your will in all of this?"
2. If we trust that an answer will be supplied, sometimes people pray just as an exercise, not thinking that a prayer will be answered. Sometimes a door opens and another door closes; and you just be patient and recognize what is going on. You evaluate the circumstances around you. Doors open and doors close. Bobby can give all kinds of illustrations from his own life. He has never had a plan for the future. His life has been mostly stumbling through a door, going to the school, the seminary, the military and Berachah Church were all open doors.
3. Answers to prayer are often found in the march of circumstances. No blinding subjective flash of emotional disaster; no speaking by God to us in a dream. We have the canon of Scripture; use it. We get so impatient; we want it now or awhile ago. The disciples did not get what they wanted in their lifetimes.
4. How is this guidance discovered? Ponder circumstances and events in your life; and you weigh and consider objectively through the grid of the Word of God. Bobby had to decide about staying in the military or getting out and going to seminary. He thought about his career and where it was going. And the door opened so easily.
5. That is when circumstances became providential. This is not used much any more. This is a word that simply stands for the will of God.
6. Never forget, God always leads in compliance with His Word. He does not act contrary to His Word. People who hear voices pay no attention to doctrine. They pay attention to some subjective criteria.
7. We must have knowledge in our souls upon which to focus. How can we know if it violates His Word or not? We need to have this knowledge in our souls in order to figure it out. Be then patient for an answer. The disciples wanted things immediately, but that was not God's plan for them.
8. This is all part of a spiritual maturation process. It is growing up.
9. God always expects us to evaluate circumstances using the divine viewpoint that we have; that is definitely God's will.
10. God does not expect the believer to take leave of his common sense. So many believers completely lack common sense. They do not have any divine viewpoint. It is hard to be scatterbrained with divine viewpoint.
11. God never expects any believer to rely upon subjective human viewpoint.
12. God supplies for ever believer the Holy Spirit. People often blind themselves to the obvious outcomes of their subjective feelings and decisions. Have you ever made a decision based upon your feelings? Maybe you will get lucky; but as a believer, do not make your decisions based upon human emotion. We see that everywhere today; the epitome of human viewpoint. They become victims of their own emotional and distorted decision making. They lack spiritual growth.

Believers like this are those who take a blind leap off a tall building and hope that a cloud will catch them. This is metaphorical.

This does not mean that we can never take a chance; nor does this mean that we operate life without feelings. We can be frivolous or emotional; but we need to limit it and we never lead with our emotions. You can be assured of God's Word and His plan. It is the objective aspect of our life. It keeps us from going off the deep end. Human viewpoint takes us right off the cliff when a problem comes along. Human viewpoint means that you rely upon humans. What is the difference between us using human viewpoint to figure out our life or going to a human viewpoint psychiatrists.

Before making a big decision, consider all of the angles. It is okay to feel good about it. Let's hope in marriage that there is an emotional and an attraction side to it. Decisions that we make are important. In the Christian life, we have the absolute criterion for marriage in the principles of marriage. Objective evaluation of the prospective partner; and then we apply these principles in marriage. That does not mean that there is no romance or physical attraction.

There must be love in marriage, which is more than emotion and attraction. If you lead with attraction, attraction lasts only as long as expectations are met. If that is the only reason that you see anything good in that person. When that is the criterion, subjectively speaking, when the person loses attractiveness, then the basis for the marriage is just sand. As a foundation, it just goes away. Love must be first and foremost thought. Love is from the mentality of the soul. These are principles of Bible doctrine. Sex is a response to love in the soul. Sex, unlike Hollywood, is not love itself. It is subjective, emotional and sometimes unstable. If you do not understand love, then you should get that series. The world does not get it at all. Otherwise, you experience a fading attraction and then the light goes out. It is not really love but subjective attraction. Just read any magazine which tells about the divorces of the famous couples.

The disciples were being subjective about the King and the Kingdom, and this led them to come to wrong conclusions about what was coming. They needed to understand the future. To counter this self-centered thinking, this subjective thinking in the disciples, the Lord now will teach them with a parable, about a certain nobleman.

Lesson #0873

Luke 19: Life of Christ

10/16/2016 1Sunday

The Eucharist October 16, 2016

4 great passages on the Lord's preeminence. Heb. 1 John 1 Col. 1:13–19 Philip.

Col. 1:13–14 He has delivered us from the domain of darkness and transferred us to the kingdom of his beloved Son, in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins.

Col 1:15–17 He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation. For by him all things were created, in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities--all things were created through him and for him. And he is before all things, and in him all things hold together.

Col 1:18–20 And He is the head of the body, the church. He is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, that in everything he might be preeminent. For in him all the fullness of God was pleased to dwell, and through him to reconcile to himself all things, whether on earth or in heaven, making peace by the blood of his cross.

Psalm 45:2 is another exaltation of His grandeur: Why are you cast down, O my soul, and why are you in turmoil within me? Hope in God; for I shall again praise him, my salvation

Isa. 52:13 Behold, my servant shall act wisely; he shall be high and lifted up, and shall be exalted.

Song 5:16 His mouth is most sweet, and he is altogether desirable. This is my beloved and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

Song 1:16 Behold, you are beautiful, my beloved, truly delightful.

My beloved...is altogether lovely.

Abraham, as great as he was, was lower. "Before Abraham was born, I existed eternally."

Jesus counted Himself as greater than Jacob, where He would be a well of everlasting life. He was worthy of more glory than even Moses, the most revered person in Jewish history.

John the Baptist believed Him to be far greater; He is David's Greater Son.

Paul commends Jesus as the celebrity of celebrities. Believers are liberated from the oppression of Satan's cosmic system.

Slaves cannot emancipate themselves. We cannot be removed from the slave market of sin. The redemptive work of Christ, the redemptive solution. When a person believes in Jesus Christ, he steps out of the slave market of sin, a free man, but eternally indebted to the Lord for his freedom. Apart from the redemptive work of Jesus Christ, there is no other freedom or salvation.

Paul cannot hide his enthusiasm for the Lord Jesus Christ, writing words of praise of Him Who condescended to provide us with eternal life. He is the first God,... His relationship to God is unique among men. Jesus is the image of the invisible God; He is not an impression of God, but He is that God. The image of God, He is God in human form. God is Spirit, unseen by human eyes. He is revealed through nature (Rom. 1:19–20—for since the creation of the world, His invisible attributes and His eternal nature is clearly seen, being understood through that which is made, so that mankind is without excuse).

There is no such thing as a natural world apart from God. God the Son is the Creator; and all things are upheld by the Word of His power. The truth of His reality has always been accessible by what He has made.

We see the Lord through His Word as well as through His creative work. Man can understand God and His ways. He speaks to us of Himself, just as He does in Col. 1. Psalm 19:7 The Law of the Lord is certain, making...

The supreme revelation of God to us is through His Son. No man has seen God at any time. The Uniquely Born God, He has explained Him. Col. 1:15 declares the remarkable nature of the Lord Jesus Christ. He is the image of the invisible God; He is the exact image of the invisible God, exactly the same in essence.

The firstborn of all creation is the expression of His rank in the human family. Jesus retains the highest rank of all creation. The brothers were to take their commands from the eldest son, the Head of the new generation. He has provided a new birth for all of us. He is the firstborn and we are His subordinate family.

Firstborn is His preeminence among believers. This status has been misunderstood. This does not mean that He was created. He was in the beginning with God.

John 1:2 takes us to before the time of creation, beyond the beginning, focusing on that which was already in existence.

His true humanity is foremost in rank over all human beings. Col. 1:16 He is the creator of the universe, because by Him are all things. All things were created by Him and for Him. Jesus is omnipotent and omniscient. When I consider Your heavens and the work of Your fingers...

Not only were all things created by Him, but also for Him. It is all for His glory and His pleasure. You are worth to receive all things...

Isa. 59:16 tells us that creation was His finger work; and salvation is the work of His arm. The universe is an exhibit of God's power. If He is able to wave His finger and the universe is created; then we must accept His great power in salvation.

Paul goes even further to strengthen the case for His preeminence. He is creation's cohesive power. In this realm, He is utterly supreme; He is before all things; and in Him, all things are held together. Things do not go wrong in the universe, because He cannot go wrong.

He keeps the traffic pattern of the universe on its proper course, no matter what man does.

The universe continues on its course, so that God's plan for mankind might run its full course. He rules over the universe and he rules over the church. Just as the head controls the body and regulates its every move, so it is with Lord.

He is also the head of the body and the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, that He might come to have first place in everything.

He is the conqueror of death, which is the enemy of His body, the church. Because I live, you will live also. By resurrection, the firstborn of the dead, the humanity of Christ becomes the sovereign ruler of the church. He is the heir to the throne of David with absolute dominion over us all. He became the recipient of us all and has provided for our eternal existence as a kingdom of believers.

He was at Alamo church for a conference. There are 7 conferences each year; the unseen congregation. They are a streaming live video there.

Charles Paulson passed away, listened from 1972 and listened to the final day of his life.

Lesson #0874

Luke 19:11– Life of Christ

10/16/2016 2Sunday

Luke 19:11 As they heard these things, he proceeded to tell a parable, because he was near to Jerusalem, and because they supposed that the kingdom of God was to appear immediately.

There were rewards, Baritmaus and Acius and all of the teaching that took place during this time frame. Now they are in Jericho. Jesus is teaching through a parable. He must have been an incredible story-teller; and this is truly a skill to be able to teach in this was.

The reason for this is geographical; He is near Jerusalem and time is short and the 1st advent is coming to an end; the shadow of the cross loomed large. Jericho was a 6 hour walk from Jerusalem. The disciples believed that the Kingdom of God would arrive immediately, soon after entering into Jerusalem. Jesus has already told them exactly what would happen. However, they did not really get all of it. Jesus was going to Jerusalem to die. The Jews would receive Him in Jerusalem; with a crown of thorns, a whip, the cross.

He would ascend to the right hand of the Father, but with the kingdom still pending. The disciples did not realize that the kingdom would begin soon. James and John had already been vying for being on the left or right hand of the Lord. Always jockeying for positions in the kingdom. They were concerned about their place in the kingdom. It was critical that the disciples figure out what their part would be in the Church Age which was about to begin. Their lives began in the Age of Israel; proceeded through the Age of the Hypostatic Union; yet they would be the founders of the Church Age.

The nobleman is Jesus Christ; and the far country is heaven, and He would receive for Himself a kingdom, and then He would return. This is the unvarnished truth and it is coming to the disciples.

Teaching of the Parable

1. This is an historical parable, beginning with the rejection of Jesus Christ.
2. He would be gone during the Church Age.
3. His return to reward His Own and judge His enemies.

Bear in mind, the disciples were very concerned about their rewards in heaven and in the new Kingdom.

You must be noble to rule, and Jesus is a son of David, the eligible and able ruler over Jerusalem.

Luke 19:12 He said therefore, "A nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom and then return.

The disciples expected the kingdom immediately; but the citizenry did not want him to reign; and the Jews did not want Jesus to rule. (V. 14). The son of Herod the Great, Archilaus, was appointed to the throne in 4 B.C., the year of the very birth of the Lord Jesus Christ. His palace was in the neighborhood of Jericho. After his kingly appoint, he had to go to Rome to get it confirm. He traveled to Rome. He needed to be sanctioned by Augustus Cæsar. Archilaus was hated by the Jews; he was brutal a killer.

He was trailed by a large delegation by Judea, and they would ask that they be converted to a Roman province. That is how much they wanted to be rid of the Herodian dynasty. The Judæan petitioners stalled him with many lawsuits. If you want to stop something from happening, you file a lawsuit. After all of this, they convinced the empower to deny the kingship. Archilaus was put on probation and he ruled only for 10 years and removed from office in A.D. 16. No doubt this sordid bit of Jewish history was well-known and lingered in the thinking of the Jews. All of this happened within the past 30 years. The Jews would recall all of this. This would have occurred recently in their thinking. Rome ruled over the Jews because of all this.

The Historical Context and this Parable

1. Jesus uses this historical incident to remind His disciples that a greater change would take place, and this historical fact is known by His audience.
2. He would be rejected as king just as Archilauus was rejected.
3. So there would be a monumental change in the kingdom program for Israel, just as Rome made a big change in Israel. The king would depart for a far country.
4. There would be a change of dispensation. The disciples would not be sitting on thrones enjoying the benefits of their properly placed allegiance.

The religious leaders wanted Jesus dead; Jerusalem was a dangerous place for Him. They fled Jerusalem, being only a couple steps ahead of the religious leaders. The disciples were suppressing these dark thoughts. They found the Lord's recent talk about a parable end to be quite depressing. This was unthinkable to them. They did not sign on to be disciples like this. They could only hope against the facts that somehow all of the problems would be put aside and the kingdom would come. Great subjectivity; they wanted to believe only what they wanted to believe. They were rejecting common sense. Typical. People love to dismiss difficult things in Scripture. We can still deny it; we do not want to deal with it. We can put it out of our minds. Denial is common for all people; it is a mental or emotional thing that we all have or do. We reject some aspect of certain realities. What is real is blocked. People are unprepared when reality closes in; when disaster hits. People panic. The signs were there and people rejected it.

"I don't want you to be unprepared." There are monumental signs of problems in our country. We have festering rot in our country and we are in trouble. Some people do not want to look at it or do not have the common sense to look at it, or they are in denial. "As long as I am doing okay, I don't care." No matter who gets elected, there is great rot in the United States just below the surface.

A new president will not change how people think. Bobby does not want us to be unprepared for what is coming. He is not a prophet. 2018 the power grid will be shut down; and the economy will fail; and what do you do, gather up food and water and ammunition?

It is all about how we think. Are we prepared as a believer in Jesus Christ? If we are depending upon this election for things to be straightened out, we are not there. We are not ready if that is what we think.

The disciples needed to get ready for what is to come. The disciples cannot deny the obvious outcome of the rejection of Him. This is designed to bring them to the reality.

The disciples don't ask, "What do we do when You are gone? What should our lives be?" They knew what the future held, but rejected it.

We know today that things are messed up. Your head is so far...in the sand. We know the future of the disciples; we know what happened to them historically; and we know how they provided for us the Word of God. They were the beginnings of the church and they were the recipients of those beginnings.

Our obligation is to fulfill God's plan. Once we catch on to this, what comes is okay. Bobby does not want to see our country go down in flames; and we might be preserved. In the next month, things may not be okay, of the next month or year or whatever.

The nobleman as a ruler was able to determine who would rule. The Lord would return and rule for 1000 years.

Ten of the nobleman's servants are called in, giving them specific instructions. He gives each 10 minas and told them to conduct business with this money and to use these resources.

The Parallel of the Parable

1. The ten slaves represent all the servants of the king. This also refers to us.
2. These servants represent all believers during the present age while the Lord is absent. He is in that distant country. He is gone but he will return.
3. Doing business was the instruction to these servants. You have the capital, so go out and make some investments.
4. Their business would be to fulfill the king's productive plan for them.
5. The ten minas represent the resources given to the ten for that production. We have a mina or two ourselves.
6. They must invest this capital in various ways in order to produce. You cannot just set this money aside or squander it; it is not ours to squander.
7. So must the disciples be in the plan of God, producing a profit for the King in His absence.

An applicational approach.

Applying this Parable to Our Own Lives

1. First point.
2. The Lord would go on a journey to a distant place, which is heaven.
3. Before He leaves, He would give exact, clear instructions to the disciples from His Own mouth.
4. He outlines His expectations for many; including our instructions. He is imparting His thinking; His confidence. "While I am gone, here is what I want you to do." Money to invest is normal; that is making a living. That is investing your spiritual resources.

5. We are expected to produce divine good. That is exactly what the disciples did and that is what we are instructed to do.

Tremendous application to us. Here are the instructions.

Luke 19:13 Calling ten of his servants, he gave them ten minas, and said to them, 'Engage in business until I come.'

Lesson #0875

Luke 19:12–17 Life of Christ 10/19/2016 Wednesday

Luke 19:12 He said therefore, "A nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom and then return.

This return tells us something about the distant country. They must discover that the kingdom will not be instituted in a short time. God's plan or program will take a new direction; it will be a new dispensation. They will be a critical part of the new dispensation.

The Lord will leave and He will ascend to heaven. There will be a postponement of the Messianic Kingdom. His return, when the kingdom would be received by Him, as the legitimate ruler of Israel. Luke 19:14 represents the rejection; the citizens hate Him. They said, "We do not want this Man to reign over us."

Luke 19:13 Calling ten of his servants, he gave them ten minas, and said to them, 'Engage in business until I come.'

He calls in 10 of his slaves and tells them to do business until he returns. Watch over my resources and make a profit for me while I am gone.

The Representations of Parable

1. These servants are the disciples.
2. Doing business is their mandate.
3. Their business would be to fulfill the king's productive plan for them while he (He) is away. This parable begins to open up quickly.
4. The 10 minas is the investment, which is production.
5. They must invest the capital in various ways for the purpose of producing the expected result for the king. The king, the nobleman is the Lord Jesus Christ. The disciples are getting direct instructions in this parable.
6. The disciples must be productive in the plan of God producing a profit for the King, for the Lord Jesus Christ, in His absence. They will be doing more than sitting on their arse's on the 12 thrones.

Jesus would be reject by nation Israel; He would leave for a distant country, which is heaven. But before He leaves, He outlines His expectations for the disciples while He is away and until He returns. The instructions for the disciples will carry on beyond their lifetime. Those instructions He was giving to them came through all the teaching taking place. He has taught them by direct teaching, parables, narratives, etc. These instructions are also the expectation of Christ for all believers for the Church Age.

How many minas do you have jingling in your pocket? We have resources; the Lord has given us minas. We could exemplify these resources as the problem solving devices beginning with the filling of the Holy Spirit, faith rest, doctrinal orientation, spiritual growth and all the rest. The profit is our service to Him; we are to multiply the minas.

The Application of the Parable to the Disciples

1. Those resources must be utilized in service to the Lord throughout the Church Age until He returns. When will He return.
2. They must produce dividends for the Lord, fulfilling His instructions, expectations, and for His profit and glory. We have a boss; we are in a company; and we all take part in this company.
3. And believers will be rewarded at Judgment Seat of Christ based upon their divine good service.
- 4.
5. There are minas to be has in His service. There is profit in this for us as well. This profit works both ways; we get a profit as well. The Lord is speaking to the disciples who are expecting the kingdom; but they will do business until the 2nd advent. They will leave the dispensation of the Hypostatic Union and move into the dispensation of the Church Age.

The rewards He has promised them are related to their service. We too will be in that kingdom; we will be raptured or we will join Jesus in death.

More of What the Parable Teaches

1. Jesus will depart but He will return.
2. In the meantime, the disciples need to produce for Him; and they will do so. They will catch on. They will preach the mind of Christ and they will write the mind of Christ which we learn.
3. Jesus was teaching them, if they remain faithful, their reward will be to rule with Him in the Messianic Kingdom. They expected this kingdom right now, but He is reassuring them.
4. This is what the whole parable points out. He has enumerated these rewards.
5. Christ would rule over the whole Kingdom at His return. The disciples would have positions of authority within the kingdom. Cities within the kingdom.

Luke 19:14 But his citizens hated him and sent a delegation after him, saying, 'We do not want this man to reign over us.'

When the king returns, things happen.

The Parable Continues

1. When the king returns, there must be a full accounting of what they have done.
2. There is a large gathering; we are going to Him.
3. Each person stands before the king to answer for their production with the resources that He has provided.
- 4.
5. The accounting; what have they done with the resources given to them? Everyone has to answer.

Recall the parable of the laborers in the vineyard. This accounting is at the heart of this parable. Every believer will face this; we will all account for our time.

We need to account for wise investing; services for the king and the rewards. The foolishness of neglect and failure. You have all the resources and the time to use them and the opportunity to use them. Did you grow and serve the Lord? Did you neglect those resources. These servants will be called to accounting and will be asked, how many, how much did you produce? The return of the King to set up for the 2nd advent. All believers at this time will be gathered. There will be an evaluation, each person accounting for himself or herself.

Luke 19:15 When he returned, having received the kingdom, he ordered these servants to whom he had given the money to be called to him, that he might know what they had gained by doing business.

We now get a look at the evaluation of each servant; and we need to pay attention to this.

Luke 19:16 The first came before him, saying, 'Lord, your mina has made ten minas more.'

This man made the most of his resources and gains a great return and a good service report.

Luke 19:17 And he said to him, 'Well done, good servant! Because you have been faithful in a very little, you shall have authority over ten cities.'

Because of his faithfulness, he will be given authority over 10 cities. The resources that you have; you have been faithful with these resources.

The first reward for the faithful servant is verbal. "Well done, My good and faithful servant. Success in the evaluation by the Lord Jesus Christ. This statement at the Bema Seat of Christ. This is our Christian life. These words confirm exceptional faithfulness in the life of the believer. Faithful even in small things. A mina is a very small amount of money. 10 minas is an increase, but not a lot of money. The great and consistent production of divine good. This is based upon the spiritual maturity of the believer. Divine good can be produced by immature believers; but the more we know and grow, the greater our spiritual skills and production. As you grow, you are much more able to produce. You have developed the spiritual skills. Divine good requires that we do deeds under the filling of the Holy Spirit. All the success that Jesus is asking of the disciples is singled out in this phrase that pays. Everything that He is asking them to do; He will say, "Mission accomplished; well done." These will be the sweetest words that we have ever heard. We want to hear them. Most commentators pass over this verbal congratulations and focus on the more tangible reward of authority over 10 cities. Passing over this reflects human thinking.

The Commendation of the Lord/the Tangible Reward

1. The tangible reward, sitting on a throne, is preceded by the words, "Well done, My good and faithful servant."
2. The tangible reward of cities is the reward of well done, mission accomplished.
3. The well done is the true focus. We all have these rewards; they are promised to us. They can be found in the hall of records in heaven. They will remain there if we do not accomplish the mission. We won't be wearing them. We are not experiencing them. Production and rewards.
4. Never the less, bestowal of authority is a great reward for services rendered.
5. What is this reward? It is an everlasting monument to the "well done" given by the Lord.
6. So the two rewards are very closely connected; they are part and parcel of the same coin. Get the number of recruits you need, and you get promoted, is what Bobby heard.

There will be this loud and clear kudo from the Lord. Rulers rule over people; it is not just property. The greater the service, the larger the area a person rules over. John and James were fighting over the left and right seat, but they did not understand it. Gentiles will also rule in the kingdom. It makes us wonder, who will get NY, Paris, Venice, Brawley, CA?

Some Concluding Principles

1. We see from this passage, there is a hierarchy of rewards in the kingdom based upon service.
2. No doubt the greater the spiritual maturity and spiritual skills the greater the production the greater the rewards. Utilize your spiritual gift; there is a payoff for eternity.

We need to understand what it means for us to rule. What is in this for us? What is the ruling aspect for Church Age believers? We are not going to get the promises already given to nation Israel. We are not spiritual Israel. There seems to be a continuity of rewards, and we are involved. It is a long discussion.

Lesson #0876

Luke 19:13–17 Life of Christ

10/20/2016 Thursday

The disciples are concerned about the timing of the coming kingdom. The rejected king is the Lord Jesus Christ. The Lord is not going to bring in the kingdom as a rejected king. The Lord reveals the timeline for the kingdom. There will be no more confusion in their minds. After His 1st advent, there will be an extended absence, because the country has rejected Him. The Messianic Kingdom will not take place immediately because the Messiah has been rejected. The legitimate rule of Israel is the Lord Jesus Christ.

This advent, His return, to assume the throne of the kingdom, does not refer to the rapture of the church. There are two returns of Christ. We are in the dispensation of Israel. The Lord remained on earth for 40 days after His death and resurrection.

We are at a few weeks before the cross. There will be a time when the church ends; and there will be the rapture, followed by the Tribulation. That final seven years of the Age of Israel. When Jesus returns is the 2nd advent. Then the 1000 years of the Millennial kingdom. This is the return of the Lord for the Millennium. Since Christ is addressing the disciples who are still looking for the future kingdom, which has been delayed because He is rejected as king.

Jesus reveals what the disciples ought to be doing during His absence. They will become Apostles. Jesus explains to them what they are to be doing.

Luke 19:13 Calling ten of his servants, he gave them ten minas, and said to them, 'Engage in business until I come.'

The Lord would return, but a long time in the future. There is bit of a mix here; but the Lord is speaking about His 2nd advent return; and the disciples know nothing about the Church Age.

Bobby has mentioned divine good many times. What is this divine good? It is critical, as we are supposed to produce divine good.

Divine Good

1. It is any Christian service or deed performed by a believer under the control of the Holy Spirit.
2. Only divine good is acceptable to the perfect standards of God, which are, "Be filled with the Holy Spirit."
3. This production is divinely motivated and retains intrinsic value.

Luke 19:14 But his citizens hated him and sent a delegation after him, saying, 'We do not want this man to reign over us.'

The king returns and he orders his slaves be called to him so that he might know what business has been done. Jesus Christ gives us all the resources of the spiritual life. This accounting represents what every believer will experience at the Bema Seat of Christ.

The reward for the disciples will be the 12 thrones.

Luke 19:15 When he returned, having received the kingdom, he ordered these servants to whom he had given the money to be called to him, that he might know what they had gained by doing business.

V. 16 is a believer who has utilized his resources in a wonderful way.

Luke 19:16 The first came before him, saying, 'Lord, your mina has made ten minas more.'

The disciple is rewarded with 10 cities. The greatest reward that a believer can receive is, "Well done, good servant." In the Millennium, there will be control over a particular geographical area.

We are not spiritual Israel; all of Israel's promises are retained by Israel. The one who produces divine good will rule over cities. The greater the service, the greater the reward.

Luke 19:17 And he said to him, 'Well done, good servant! Because you have been faithful in a very little, you shall have authority over ten cities.'

Let's Consider this Ruling Aspect for Us as Believers in the Kingdom.

1. We are born again to rule. We are regenerate and we will rule.
2. Ruling is a part of our God-given purpose and destiny.
3. We are in Christ so we share His royalty. 2Peter 1:11.
4. Royalty is born to rule.
5. We have that ruling promise when in father's throne.
6. Of everyone is one a throne. Faithful believers will sit on Throne.
7. Even ruling families, everyone sits on throne. The Prince of Wales won't rule over anything. 2Tim. 2:11-12 The saying is trustworthy, for: If we have died with him, we will also live with him; if we endure, we will also reign with him; if we deny him, he also will deny us;...

Application

1. Our goal and criteria is to endure so that we may reign. So it might be important to know just how we actually endure.
2. We endure by being persistent in our pursuit of spiritual growth and living the mature Christian life. No matter what adversity we encounter in this life. We persist by growing up.
3. We may have to endure persecution; the disciples certainly would. They will understand this very well in the very near future.
4. Endurance carries the basic meaning of following through until the end. 2Tim. 4:7-8 I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing. Paul kept the faith no matter what. That is the criterion for ruling for a reward. The rewards will come from our production; and Church Age believers will reign too, those who accomplish their mission. They fight the good fight, who has kept the faith.

Application #2

1. We want to reign on an eternal throne.
2. Our climb to spiritual maturity is training for ruling with Christ. We are in training.
3. Keeping the faith, the doctrine, keep on growing, do not stop. This life is training time for reigning time. Corry but it communicates.

If we grow to spiritual maturity and accomplish our goals in spiritual adulthood, we will be blessed and given eternal rewards.

If we deny Him, He will deny us. This is not a denial of salvation. All believers have eternal security. Future middle indicative of arneomai.

If We Deny Him, Then He Will Deny us

1. It means that we deny by neglecting doctrine and not producing; or by lack of rebound because as we grow to maturity, we are more and more filled with the Spirit; but if we deny by neglect of doctrine, we are arneomai. It can connote reversionism.
2. The Lord denies us; we will not be rewarded. No rewards that are on file for us; they are in escrow in heaven, already given to us. We receive them when we produce divine good.
3. Those who do not produce divine good or accomplish their mission will be denied eternal rewards from Jesus Christ. Divine good is rewarded in heaven. Wood, hay and stubble is burned in heaven. Gold and precious stones endure.

We have already studied His doctrine of rewards.

What Believers in the Church Age Are Promised

1. The disciples will become Apostles of the Church Age; and they will also rule over the 12 tribes in heaven. Their rewards here are announced.
2. Their promise of ruling over occurs when we return with the Lord at the 2nd advent.
3. The mature believer who receives this reward and rule; the believer in the Church Age will not rule over Israel
4. We will rule over someone, somewhere; gentiles in the Millennium. Do not forget the ss...persecution may be coming. We have had to endure an election season.

What better way to present our faithfulness than to obey the command, endure. This ruling idea for man and for believers is also a part of God's plan from the very beginning.

Gen 1:26 Then God said, "Let us make man in our image, after our likeness. And let them have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the birds of the heavens and over the livestock and over all the earth and over every creeping thing that creeps on the earth." The sense of ruling is set up for us in the very beginning. God created us to rule. This verse makes it clear that animals and human beings are not on the same plane. Animals are for our use; but it is not okay to be cruel to them.

Man Was Created to Rule

1. God created man to rule.
2. Man will not rule over God or even on the same level as God.
3. We rule as subordinate rulers to God, under...we are not God.
4. This is the first human instruction.
5. This followed man throughout, but it was more difficult in a fallen world.
6. Ishmael went from banishment from Abraham's house to the progenitor of the Arab nations.
7. Joseph went from being a slave to becoming the prime minister of Egypt.
8. Moses went from slavery to prince of Egypt and then leader over Israel.
9. Esther went from orphan to Queen of Babylon.
10. David went from being a neglected shepherd boy to the greatest warrior king of Israel's history.
11. Daniel went from being a hostage to ruler.

These believers who are ruling at mature believers. We go from difficulty and suffering to ruling with the Lord, which has a decisive moment at the end of human history.

Future Eternity and Rewards and Ruling

1. At the end of the Millennium, after the Gog and Magog revolution, Satan will be released from the pit, and he will lead a revolution against perfect environment. After this, Jesus will have rulership over all things. Rules over a renewed Garden of Eden.
2. This is the eternal state when human history has been complete. Rev. 22:5 no more will we need the light of a lamp or from the sun. They will reign forever and ever. There will be no darkness, which is the realm of Satan; none of that in the eternal state.
3. This means, the eternal rule of believers who have endured and received well-done, My good and faithful servant; they will be those reigning forever and ever. For a few years of producing divine good, it is almost unfathomable. We simply utilize the assets given us in grace; nothing more.

There will be first and seconds.

Lesson #08

Luke 19: Life of Christ

10/23/2016 1 Sunday

What will it be like after the resurrection of the church? What will the resurrection body be like? Several of Bobby's friends are ready to wear swim suits to show off their new bodies. We will have a body like Christ, which will be a spiritual body.

What will we see and what will we do? The Scriptures talk about this at the beginning. There will be a gathering of all Church Age believers for the purpose of evaluation by the Lord Jesus Christ of the Christian life that we have lived. He will be judging the deeds of every believer in life. What is the evaluation criteria?

Luke 19:11–38 covers this material and it has application to us; the parable is directed to the disciples. Because the Lord is speaking to the disciples in that dispensation, He is describing in context rewards that will be bestowed after the 2nd advent. He has provided information for us to indicate that believers will rule with Him in that kingdom. The 12 disciples will rule from 12 thrones. It is an all-Jewish rule at that point. They represent true Israel. There is that defining criteria for receiving rewards. The Age of Israel is temporarily brought to a halt. The Lord goes to the cross and He is speaking to the disciples about going to the cross. When the Lord ascends, then the church begins. The Lord returns at the rapture, although He will not land on planet earth in the rapture. He will put His feet on the ground at the end of the Tribulation.

The return of Christ, which is known as the 2nd advent; and then begins the 1000 year reign. His return at the 2nd advent and the Millennium and during this time the disciples will be sitting on the 12 thrones. Their mission is defined as glorifying God.

His instructions are related to the disciples; what they must do to accomplish their mission during that 1st advent. The instructions are simple. Keep it simple, stupid. There is certainly an application to you and me; as to these instructions and the criteria for rewards at the Bema Seat of Christ. The Tribulation is the final 7 years of Israel; and we will be evaluated during the Tribulation. That is when we will assemble.

We will individually be evaluated. He gives them 10 minas, one each. “Do business with this until I return.” So, what exactly is their vocation?

What Exactly Is Their Vocation?

1. They must fulfill the king's plan. They have capital and must use that capital until He returns.
2. He has given them all of the instructions and information needed. We are not left without. The Lord will ascend to heaven and He will leave the disciples behind to complete His mission.
3. This is accomplishing divine good.
4. That production is the basis for their rewards. What they invest the return is divine good.
5. They will receive those rewards when they return with Christ at the 2nd advent. As members of the Church Age, the disciples will be resurrected. Their rewards were promised to them during the Jewish Age, and when they return with us and the Lord, they will be placed on their thrones at that time.

What is divine good? What do they have to produce? This is any Christian service or deed done under the filling of God the Holy Spirit. Only this divine good is acceptable to the standards of God because we are using His resources; and this good is rewardable. It is called gold silver and precious stones. Wood hay and stubble also mentioned is burned.

The gathering and the evaluation itself. Vv. 16–17.

Luke 19:16 The first came before him, saying, 'Lord, your mina has made ten minas more.'

Luke 19:17 And he said to him, 'Well done, good servant! Because you have been faithful in a very little, you shall have authority over ten cities.'

Summary

1. The first reward are those words from Jesus Christ.
2. There is also a tangible reward of ruling over 10 cities. His production is great. There is authority involved here; there is rule involved here. Cities contain people. There is also application for us in the Church Age. We will rule along side the Lord Jesus Christ in the Millennium. We are born again as believers to rule; this is a part of our God-given purpose and destiny. We share all that He is and all that He has. We share His royalty, as Peter tells us. Royalty is born to rule. What is the criteria for ruling? 2Tim. 2:11–13 The saying is trustworthy, for: If we have died with him, we will also live with him; if we endure, we will also reign with him; if we deny him, he also will deny us; if we are faithless, he remains faithful-- for he cannot deny himself.

How Do We Endure?

1. We endure by being consistent and persistent in our pursuit of spiritual growth.
2. We endure by consistently living the Christian life, by utilizing the resources that He has given to us.
3. We endure by producing divine good all along the way.
4. This is all part of living the Christian life under the filling of the Holy Spirit and producing divine good. 1Tim. 4:7–8 I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing.
 - a. Paul has produced divine good.
 - b. He has endured; he has finished the race. He never gave up.
 - c. He has never waived from God's Word. He has kept the faith.

Crown means reigning; it is ruling. The Lord, the righteous Judge, the evaluator will reward Paul on that day. He has said to me and all who have loved at His appearing. We will all anticipate His appearing.

What about those who produce less or no divine good whatsoever? That is what the next two verses tell us about. There is a hierarchy of rule.

Luke 19:18 And the second came, saying, 'Lord, your mina has made five minas.'

What about the Person Who Produces Only 5 Minas?

1. The reward is commensurate with his work.
2. A lesser production so a lesser reward.
3. It is clearly the responsibility of the servant for production.
4. Less production means less recognition in life. Fewer rewards.

How does this fit into grace? God graciously provides the capital for our use completely. In salvation, we all have heaven; but God has given us a mission. We are not given these resources to simply sit on our spiritual butts. The Lord provides each of us the spiritual gift to produce. Whatever spiritual service God wants us to completely, we are given all of the gifts and means to do it. We have to take advantage of the resources and serve according to His standards.

5 cities is still a substantial reward. No one will be disappointed on this. There is a good resource to production. But notice, he does not receive, "Well done, my good and faithful servant." He does not make the most of his spiritual capital. It is easy to get distracted from this primary distraction. We have a temporal life to live and we are in the middle of it right now. We do it as unto the Lord. That temporal life is the vehicle for divine good. What we receive in eternity is proportional to what we do. "Well done" is reserved for the highest honor.

10 and 5 minas are representative of production and do not reveal an exact amount of anything. More production is more valuable than less. We are given a different plan and we have to fulfill it; no matter what the plan is. The key is faithfulness and the production of divine good. You just do your spiritual job and let God work out the rest.

Luke 19:19 And he said to him, 'And you are to be over five cities.'

Lesson #08

Luke 19:20–24 Life of Christ

10/23/2016 2Sunday

Next person is the one with no cities. The parable of the rejected king. We have had the instructions to produce; to take a mina and produce more minas. In the context of the parable, when the Lord leaves, He will leave behind a mina for each person to invest. In that day and age, it was not much; it was something. Regarding the spiritual life, what He has left is quite amazing for us. He has given us spiritual gifts by which we can operate. Even if we do not know what that gift is, we can still operate in it. That is ours; and we produce divine good based upon what God has given us. This divine good is rewardable in heaven and it retains intrinsic value. There is also endurance; keeping the faith; never quitting. Being consistent; continuing the grow, up to the very end. We see how the Lord rewards divine good. One servant produces divine good. One receives a mina and builds this into 10 minas. Another builds that into 5 minas.

Now there is the other side of the coin. The believer who does not grow, does not serve and, possibly, does not care. Some produce the maximum; others produce, but to a limited degree. But then there are others who do not produce. The 3rd man. "Here is your mina" and he hands it back to his lord.

This is a warning for us to keep our eyes on the obligation; the Christian life; the plan of God. There is no motivation. The resources; the glorification of God. Just follow the instructions of the Lord and the rest will take care of itself.

Some believers think that they are not doing enough. Do not worry about it. All you have to do is grow up and keep moving forward. Keep using the rebound technique. It is not difficult to produce divine good. Just operate in the realm of the Christian life.

So, he hands it back, saying, "Here is your mina." There is no production. It counted for nothing in the eyes of his master. We can step into this at any time that we want. We are given spiritual resources to utilize.

Luke 19:20–21 Then another came, saying, 'Lord, here is your mina, which I kept laid away in a handkerchief; for I was afraid of you, because you are a severe man. You take what you did not deposit, and reap what you did not sow.'

The consistent utilization of the 10 problem solving devices. Every day we can use the faith rest drill; that is the production of divine good. As we move along, we begin to realize what we have. Spiritual self esteem; sharing the happiness of God. Personal love for the Lord.

We must use our resources in divine service; we are not to wrap them up and hide them. What was this servant's excuse for his negligent actions? How did he explain it? Why did he fail to unwrap the mina to unwrap the mina and bring it to light. Why did he fail to invest this capital. He gives a very lame excuse. "I was afraid of you, for you are a severe man. You take up what you did not deposit and reap what you did not sow." What is the point? He uses fear as his overall excuse. It is a mental attitude sin. He was timid; afraid. This is what he says. But, bear in mind, he is also accusing the Lord of taking his work for granted. I would be doing the work and you would reap from what I sow? "If I make money for you, you are just going to take it away from me." He claims to have insight into the character of his master. He claims that he is a cruel, unjust master; but using careful language. "You will just take it from me; so why should I do it?"

The Herodian dynasty just took whatever they wanted; more taxes and they took it; some land, they just took it. He de-emphasizes grace. What do we do to glorify God? We produce; we used His gracious resources to do what He has asked us to do. This excuse is a cover for this servant's disobedience.

In essence, he is saying, "This is really your fault. You are the king; you don't need me to make your money for you. In the end, it just does not matter. It will all be accomplished, whether I am in it or not." So he is saying, "Let's just forget about it. This money was yours to begin with and now you can have it back." Deterministic, uncaring, ungracious is what he is calling his master. "Why would he involve the master at all?"

The master has given him great opportunity to use this for himself. But he was neglectful and distracted; and he was interested in other things instead. He is just making excuses.

The Lord is not to blame for failure in the Christian life. Do people blame the Lord for many things? They blame Him for lack of prosperity or they blame Him for adversity. We are blessed by God in adversity or in prosperity. We can produce something much greater than material things in this life.

There are no excuses in this life. God is not impressed with human reasons for no production; and God does not care for disobedience to His instructions.

What distresses God? Our lack of spiritual growth. That means, you are not even hearing His instructions. You don't know what you are doing in the Christian life. If you are not consistent in your spiritual life, then you can only regress.

The Lord condemns the servant who excuses himself. He cites God's ability to do it all without any help from any of us. Kind of like Judah and Tamar. God's plan was carried out, despite the actions of those two.

"I go to church and do things that are very Christian." The idea is superficiality.

He did not even try to use the divine resources. He wrapped them in a cloth and put them aside, out of his life, out from his thinking.

We are all cogs in God's plan; and our free will can play a part in moving His plan along. We have the responsibility for what God has given to us.

We are all a part of the Angelic Conflict. We must do our part in the service of the Lord.

Luke 19:20–21 Then another came, saying, 'Lord, here is your mina, which I kept laid away in a handkerchief; for I was afraid of you, because you are a severe man. You take what you did not deposit, and reap what you did not sow.'

The master condemns the servant. "You worthless slave." He condemns him using his own words against him.

Luke 19:22 He said to him, 'I will condemn you with your own words, you wicked servant! You knew that I was a severe man, taking what I did not deposit and reaping what I did not sow?'

"If I am such an exacting person, what did you think would happen when you did nothing with the mina that I gave you?" Some people have no other way to go. They have no other excuse.

Why didn't you simply put the money in the bank? You could not do just a little bit?

Luke 19:23 Why then did you not put my money in the bank, and at my coming I might have collected it with interest?'

Why did you not put your money in bank? He is worthless to the Lord in every respect. He is a believer; he is in heaven. But he is worthless to the Lord. This is so far from, "Well done, my good and faithful servant." He will reside in heaven as part of the royal household.

No rewards for eternity for this guy. His rewards will remain in escrow for eternity.

The disciples want their thrones and their rewards; so the Lord tells them how it will go. The promise is still there; the promise is in escrow. It is there for any of us to view and see what could have been.

There will be a net loss for those who do nothing. He loses his mina. The master took it from him and gave it to the wealthy believer. Breaking even is equivalent to no production; no divine good. That is not what God told him to do; not what his master told him to do when he was gone. There is a penalty for no-production. It is not the Lake of Fire and it is not purgatory. We do not have to burn off the bad part and come into heaven. There will be a reprimand from the Lord at the Great Evaluation in Heaven.

"You were worthless to Me, so you will have nothing in eternity, beyond the basics." Some will be rebuked and rule over nothing. This will be embarrassing.

We have to learn the instructions of doctrine and then learn and apply them. So great, some good, and some worthless.

The master describes the penalty:

Luke 19:24 And he said to those who stood by, 'Take the mina from him, and give it to the one who has the ten minas.'

His master tells everyone who is there. He does not speak to the loser-believer, but to everyone else. Less-than-zero to the negligent servant.

Lesson #08

Luke 19:24–27 Life of Christ 10/26/2016 Wednesday

We live in fascinating times; great time to apply Bible doctrine. Never have a greater opportunity to apply the faith rest drill. Tyranny is all around us in this country. We are the proverbial frogs in the pot of water being brought slowly to a boil. Whenever things get bad; when they discredit Christianity, we have the greatest opportunity to do what this parable speaks of.

The second half of the parable of the rejected king or the parable of the minas. Some of the headings vary on this. The 2nd half is all about the minas. This is an illustration of an evaluation by the Lord Jesus Christ. The evaluation taking place is the on the earth.

There is great application to us concerning the Bema Seat of Christ after the rapture of the church. That will be our evaluation. The moments when we will face the Lord. We will be evaluated.

The business that they are charged to conduct must continue until the Lord returns. The disciples will not continue this that long, as they will not be alive when the Lord returns.

The first servant being evaluated was vv. 16–17. He was given a single mina and he multiplied it into 10 minas. He accomplished his mission. Highly satisfactory and greatly pleasing. He hears the words, well done, faithful servant. Then the tangible part, where he reigned over 12 cities.

Bobby is very sensitive to our questions and our confusion. The question, what if I don't want to rule anything? What we desire on this earth will not be the same in heaven in a resurrection body. Even if you are happy the way that things are, don't worry about it. Do not 2nd guess the Lord. The lack of rewards indicates failure in the Christian life. Also, ruling is not the only reward. Whether or not we are ruling is not the issue. The key is production. What are we doing here on earth?

The 12 disciples are being promised ruling positions in the Millennium. They as Apostles of the church will be resurrected with the church and return with the Lord Jesus Christ. Production of divine good is the mission of every believer. It must be carried out using the resources of the things which we have. The basic resources of the spiritual life. It is our concern; not whether or not we will like the rewards that we will receive.

The 2nd servant produces half as much and he receives half the reward. Nothing wrong with ruling over 5 cities; it is just less than the other servant. More rewards for greater production; and there may be some embarrassment at the Judgment Seat of Christ.

Another question. If there will be no more mourning, pain, tears or death in heaven, how could we suffer embarrassment at the Judgment Seat of Christ? A momentary recognition of certain failures in your life. How can you not recognize this, as it is an evaluation. There is less or lack of reward. Some get less; some get more. By virtue of the fact that there are 10, 5 and no minas, we have a recognition of not having done our job.

No more tears, mourning, tears or death is a comparative description of our earthly existence in eternity. The eternal state.

No Pain, Tears, Mourning in Eternity

1. In the comparison, there will be no more pain in the resurrection body.
2. There will be no more mourning of that lost on earth. The sorrow of losing those we love, losing our favorite pet, no sense of loss then.
3. No emotional tears of regret or about failures in our earthly life. There will be perhaps the momentary regret or recognition of failure; but that is where it ends. In the eternal state, we no longer ponder bad decisions in life. There may be the thought, they are ruling and I am not.

4. An eternal future is an eternal existence. No spiritual or physical death.

One is about evaluation; and one is about comparative notions. There are things that we cannot know until we get to heaven. So, until, relax and trust the Lord. Sometimes, questions are about things that Bobby has not been clear about; and some he never thought about.

Now we have the man who put the one mina aside and saved it for when the Lord returned. The master did not. Sometimes, it is our area of weakness. We do not like being wrong; some find that to be very threatening. We will have to take complete responsibility for our failures in life; that will come to us. Humility means that we are able to take responsibility for our life, what we do right and for what we do wrong.

Luke 19:24 And he said to those who stood by, 'Take the mina from him, and give it to the one who has the ten minas.'

This is the opposite of reward. There is loss for the lack of production. When we do not produce... There are angelic observers. The angels might be distributing the rewards and honors as our name is called; and they might come and take away from you.

This guy does not even get to keep his one mina. He is left with less than nothing. The great blessings of production; it is an illustration of the consequences of no production.

What does this redistribution of wealth mean? This is not socialism in heaven. Those who produce get more; those who do not produce get less. What is important here is, what our mission is.

Luke 19:25 And they said to him, 'Lord, he has ten minas!'

The people react. He's already got 10 minas; why does he need more? For those who have more, more will be given; and to those who do not have any divine good production, what he does have will be taken away.

This is the escrow illustration/concept. What was in escrow, the rewards for production, for the accomplishment of the mission; they will not be distributed to the non-producer.

Luke 19:26 'I tell you that to everyone who has, more will be given, but from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away.'

What about the Person Who Did Not Produce?

1. In v. 26. the one who does not have, refers to the potential gain that the non-producer will not get. He did not produce based on what was given him.

2. What he does have refers to the initial resources given to him. He mistakenly thinks that he can retain this. He was the one sitting on his spiritual rear end all day long. No divine good.
3. So, even the initial amount of was going away.
4. This is the believer who is saved, but leaves the Christian life in the dust.

What a viewpoint on the Judgment Seat of Christ. From well done, to substantial reward to less reward. Not everyone gets the same thing. It is all based upon our production here and now.

Luke 19:27 But as for these enemies of mine, who did not want me to reign over them, bring them here and slaughter them before me."

This verse has been misinterpreted.

Interpreting V. 27

1. The LORD is not longer addressing his servants in v. 27.
2. These are not his disobedient servants; these are those who have rejected the king.
3. This verse refers back to the citizens in v. 14 who hated the king and did not want him to reign over them.
4. Because of them, the king goes to a distant contry.
5. In the analogy, these or the the Jews who rejected the Lord are in view here. But this also takes in all unbelievers. They will find themselves eternally separated from the King.

At the Great White Throne, every person will be rejected or accepted by the Lord. The pharisees of that era will find them separated forever.

Summary

1. We each are responsible for what we do in this life.
2. The resources that we are given to live this life are so abundant and so easy to use, like the filling of the Holy Spirit, rebound, metabolizing Bible doctrine, etc. The more that we grow spiritually, the more we are able to
3. This is a matter of education and then putting the spiritual life into operation
4. What you do by way of production of divine good has eternal repercussions. A few hours in our spiritual life can have eternal repercussions.

So, how do we witness for Christ? Some of us may be unsure about giving a clear presentation of the gospel. There is also fear, for some people. Armondo Garcia used to go in Costa Rica in the town square just to witness to people. He now lives in Houston and just goes to walmart and witnesses to them. He does not care if someone rejects him or not.

So how can a believer reject his place in life?

There are times when certain obligations in life might supercede Bible class; but you never neglect regular inculcation. Especially today. That is what DVD's and MP3's are for. No matter what your life obligations are. You can set priorities and keep them. That is the highest obligation to God.

Have you ever asked yourself, what are my spiritual priorities? Do you think that legitimate excuses will cover you at the Judgment Seat of Christ? There are no excuses. There will be that time of evaluation.

Just set priorities in life and never be indifferent.

The laborer parable stresses faithfulness. This parable that we just covered commends productive service and divine good, even in the face of hostility. Not even a climate of hate and belligerence should squelch the believer's pursuit of divine good. Persecution is the norm of the devil's world. Soon, this will be the reward for these disciples. Persecution allows a great opportunity to apply Bible doctrine in life. The importance of divine good and production.

Luke 19:28 And when he had said these things, he went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem.

Lesson #08 Luke 22:1–2 John 11:55–56 Life of Christ 10/27/2016 Thurs

Jesus spoke the parable of the mina. We are moving towards the final week of the Lord Jesus Christ. There might be more packed into the final 6 days than in the entire rest of the gospels.

We are the point where the Lord will soon enter into Jerusalem. That is his stated objective. The disciples had not yet come to terms with the reality of His death. This is the final destination of His incarnation. The road from Jericho to Jerusalem is about a 6 hour walk.

There has been a zig-zag pattern in this final walk. Jericho was the latest stop, a typical stop and here he brought sight to the blind, salvation to a rich tax collector, and He welcomed the outcasts into the kingdom. Entrance into the kingdom required faith in Him. This is what He demanded and what He taught.

In the meantime, large crowds continued to follow Him; and He was the celebrity of all of Palestine. They had all heard of Him, His miracles, His doctrines, Who He claimed to be, etc.

The key was learning His way, His life and His doctrine. So many followed him for all of these reasons. Bobby has taught many times about God's plan and the timing of God's plan. It was not time for the Lord to die; but now God's plan is moving the Lord towards Jerusalem. This would be a very important time of the year, Passover. The deliverance of Israel from Egypt. Passover was celebrated from the point on with the Passover lamb and the meal. In the first Passover, the Lord threw out the moneychangers from the Temple; and He will do this again. When He returns.

The great Galilean ministry, He apparently did not attend the Passover, even though the Law was that all come to the Temple and celebrate it. But attendance was not necessary for the Lord, because He was the true Passover Lamb. It was all a part of the salvation plan of God.

The Lord at the Passover

1. The Lord will arrive for the Passover. The Passover was particularly relevant at this time for the Lord. Bobby will spend some time on the Passover and give an exact time schedule. There is so much prophecy fulfilled at this time. His Messiahship was demonstrated in such a concentrated manner. The argument, when was the Lord crucified? Friday, Thursday, Wednesday? Bobby will present the argument about when the crucifixion took place. There is the Olivet discourse, which is pure eschatology. This is exactly what would happen to Israel in the future. Matt. 24–25, so it will take some time.
2. From the time of Israel's inception as a nation, the first Passover, when Israel assembled as a nation and left Egypt, the annual slaying of a Passover lamb pointed to the true Passover Lamb.
3. Jesus is arriving as the Passover Lamb to be slaughtered.
4. This is why the Lord would attend during this Passover, to make this the true Passover sacrifice.
5. From that moment there is no more ritual; it is all reality.
6. What would happen in this final week would be the final ; this week is the center of all of human history.

The objective of the religious leaders is to get rid of the Lord, as He has been a thorn in their sides for these past few years. He is hailed as the Messiah as He enters, but He will weep because of His ultimate rejection.

The Feast of the Passover lasts a full week.

The Lord's Schedule

1. Jesus arrives on the 8th day of Nissan.
2. The Passover supper was always held on the 14th of Nissan at twilight.
3. Jesus arrived 6 days before the actual day of Passover. He had much to do during that week. Several things needed to take place

Matt. 26 Mark 14 Luke 22 John 11 and all of them have their own views.

Luke 22:1 Now the Feast of Unleavened Bread drew near, which is called the Passover.

John 11:55–56 Now the Passover of the Jews was at hand, and many went up from the country to Jerusalem before the Passover to purify themselves. They were looking for Jesus and saying to one another as they stood in the temple, "What do you think? That he will not come to the feast at all?"

People came from all over. Increase of several million people during the Passover. Much of their talk was about the Lord this time, appropriately enough. This was the culmination of His ministry and of the 1st advent.

The people enjoyed seeing the Lord best the religious types.

They remind Bobby of fans right before a football game. All the discussion; all of the buildup and speculation. The only question is, would the opposing team show up? Would they come out of the tunnel? Would the Lord come back, because His life was being threatened.

The home team, the Jerusalem Jews, were getting their game plan together just in case He showed up.

Luke 22:2 And the chief priests and the scribes were seeking how to put him to death, for they feared the people.

The religious types had a game plan, to take the Lord out quickly and early. But they were concerned about the people of Jerusalem who showed interest in the Lord. They feared the population. They wanted to take the crowd out of the game. The pharisees did not want the people involved.

They were concerned that this false messiah (their thinking) would support the Lord to lead a Jewish revolution. This would upset their well-oiled power structure; and this would mess things up.

The Sanhedrin felt that it was time to shut Him down; and they had to do it quickly and quietly. If they did not do it now. Things could really get out of hand if they did not go after Him soon. So, they needed to set up a phony trial and get the Lord during this visit. That was their plan; and this is all a part of God's plan as well.

John 12:1–2 Six days before the Passover, Jesus therefore came to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus had raised from the dead. So they gave a dinner for him there. Martha served, and Lazarus was one of those reclining with him at table.

The Lord has advanced to Bethany, about 2 miles outside of Bethany.

Simon the leper; he may have been the husband of Martha or the father of Lazarus. He no longer had leprosy; so the Lord must have healed him. Jesus is back with his old friends, relaxing in a very familiar setting. Jesus would remain there for the day of rest, the Sabbath.

This appearance started the events rolling that would culminate at the cross. Someone alerted the enemies of the Lord. They were alerted, but they decided not to arrest Him. They were afraid of the people. He was in the company of a large group from Galilee; and they would have been protective of Him; and the disciples were there and other followers. Some came out of Jerusalem to see Him. There were many people in Bethany and headed to Bethany. It was too public for their taste. Arresting Him could cause a large backlash. Matt. 21:17 Mark 11:11 Luke 24:50

There would be 6 trials in 24 hours when the Lord was arrested.

A very important incident occurred at this dinner. His time at the Sabbath with His close friends.

Then Mary took an alabaster pure nard and came up to Him while dining and he broke it open and poured it over His head. She anointed the feet of Jesus and wiped His feet with her hair. The house was filled with the fragrance of this ointment.

Matthew and Mark record this out of order as a contrast Mary's viewpoint on the Lord with Judas' viewpoint of Him.

John recorded the precise date in 12:1. Because of this, we can calculate the event to the exact date.

The anointing of a guest's head and feet was a great honor. She recognized His purpose; contrasting this with Judas.

The gospel writers came at the same event, but they note different things. Two authors note the anointing of His head; and John notes the anointing of His feet. Same event; and both things happened.

The nard is an oily perfume imported from India. It was very expensive. Estimated of having the value of a year and a half's wages for a worker. This is great high honor coming from the soul of Mary. This would cause a stir among the disciples, which is truly surprising, but not regarding Judas.

The disciples had other agendas going on; but Mary's focus was on the Lord.

Mark 14:4–5 There were some who said to themselves indignantly, "Why was the ointment wasted like that? For this ointment could have been sold for more than three hundred denarii and given to the poor." And they scolded her.

Mary got it; this other disciples did not. Great symbolism here, but only Mary seemed to be in tune with the Lord. The others only saw this very expensive vial of perfume. The distorted values and blindness of the other disciples. Mary revealed the event to come; she got it; they did not for the most part understand it.

The reason that they called this a waste was, they could sell the perfume and give the money to the poor. What a high-minded thought. What could be better than to settle up and give to the poor. Doctrine of the poor next time.

Lesson #08 Luke 22:1–2 John 11:55–56 Life of Christ 10/30/2016 1Sun

Daylight Savings Time ends next week.

The list of happenings in this final week are long and involved with great important information. All 4 gospel writers give this final week extensive coverage.

Luke 22:1 Now the Feast of Unleavened Bread drew near, which is called the Passover.

John 11:55–56 Now the Passover of the Jews was at hand, and many went up from the country to Jerusalem before the Passover to purify themselves. They were looking for Jesus and saying to one another as they stood in the temple, "What do you think? That he will not come to the feast at all?"

Speculation and interest in the Lord was very high. About 2 million people were there for the Passover from elsewhere. They could not be held by all of Jerusalem. More people than city. The Lord's appearance at Passover was critical. Symbolism and the Old Testament prophecy aspect.

The Passover was celebrated by the slaughtering of a lamb. The ritual had always pointed to the Lamb of God, Who is salvation. All of these centuries pointed to this particular Passover and to the Lord. The reality would now replace the ritual of centuries. However, no one knew for certain that the Lord would attend. He did not attend several of them because He was the Passover Lamb. The religious leaders were prepared for Him; they did not want Him to leave Jerusalem alive.

John 11:57 Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given orders that if anyone knew where he was, he should let them know, so that they might arrest him.

Luke 22:2 And the chief priests and the scribes were seeking how to put him to death, for they feared the people.

The religious types feared the Lord and His followers. They had to be careful how they killed Him, so they plotted a quick and quiet demise of the Messiah.

John 12:1 Six days before the Passover, Jesus therefore came to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus had raised from the dead.

The time factor is important.

There at Bethany (a short walk from Jerusalem) they prepared dinner for Him at the home of Simon the leper (previously a leper). Martha was serving and Lazarus was reclining at the table with Him...the time was right.

The Lord relaxes for a quiet dinner among friends.

Then Mary took an alabaster vial, very costly perfume, she broke the vial and poured it over His head, and then she poured it on the feet of Jesus and wiped His feet with her hair.

Wiping His feet clean with her hair is a show of great humility. That is not normal. However, this was a show of the highest honor to the Lord Jesus Christ. She recognized Him as her Lord. She recognized Him, and He would be anointed with an embalming oil similar to this.

Instead, the disciples were upset over this. Many of them talked about it and one had a different agenda.

When they saw what Mary did, some became indignant, and said to themselves, "Why has this perfume been wasted?" How can anything be wasted that celebrates the Lord? Why would they call this a waste? They wanted to sell this perfume for a high price and the money given to the poor. What a high-minded thought! And there were thousands of poor people nearby. However, that was not the actual reason for the objection.

As is so often true for the protest, the true reason was hidden behind the deed. Self-centered and arrogant motives. An immediate example, how often we have heard politicians today speak a message to their constituents based upon promises to take care of the poor; wars on poverty, eradicating poverty, massive welfare programs, which is a standard platform for one party, a big brother taking care of all those in need. They offer this up as the best solution. All have equal benefits and no one goes hungry. But many of them do this because they control the purse strings; they have the power to do this or that. They must tax the working population heavily and they always need to increase the tax. They need to take this tax money and distribute it as they see fit. They set guidelines for the needy; poverty lines; and these become national projects. What we have worked for belongs to others, based upon what government believes we should have and what they should have. Isn't this a sacrifice little for the poor? A redistribution of wealth. All under the auspices of fighting poverty and making things equal.

This provide a temporary relief, but it never has and never will improve poverty. It destroys incentive and self-reliance, and it forms a trap for those who depend upon government. What these greedy politicians want is plenty of tax money for their own use and power. They use this money to buy votes to gain and maintain power. They say this is the only way to help people, and they label their opposition as heartless.

Once this welfare cycle is in place, there is no end to it. It must continually be fed in order to be maintained. The nation continues to be impoverished and the people remain without the self-reliance to get themselves out of poverty. This brings people down to a lower common denominator; and this will eventually collapse on itself.

In the Roman empire, they demanded food and entertainment, bread and circus. If they did not get bread and circus, there was a threat of violence and riots in the air. The Roman mob essentially ruled Rome; they intimidated government to get what they wanted.

This works today. Demands of the mob are being met; because the system of national blackmail is working. Today the poor are caught in a never-ending cycle of need and being used as power stepping stones. Many prefer to be dependent rather than free and self-sufficient.

The welfare state becomes a monster that devours rich, poor and middle class. The poor become pawns in a political power game. Socialism impoverishes everyone, and it makes the poor poorer. They are manipulated by cynical people who have no regard for anyone but themselves. Useless attempts to help the poor; they know that it does not work, but they still try it.

Lest we call Bobby an ogre, government welfare is the problem. Charity is something different entirely.

Jesus will make an issue of the poor, which our government does not understand. We all should have empathy for the poor (or we should). It is not government that should be anything about it. We do not want to be part of a false motive system; nor do we want to destroy our nation in an attempt to help the poor.

As believers in Jesus Christ, beyond voting (which we should do), we are the pivot of mature believers advancing in this world, providing blessing to the nation. God honors those who advance. The more we advance, the more the Lord will preserve us.

Lesson #08

John 12:4–6 Life of Christ

10/30/2016 2Sunday

Review of what has occurred at the house of Simon the leper. The price of the perfume was the wages of one worker for a year and a half. Several disciples were upset by what they saw. “Why did you do that? If you sold that perfume, all the money could have gone to the poor.” But that was not the true motivation for Judas, who has another agenda going on.

Bobby’s speech about those who use altruistic speeches for their own purposes.

Some people left, and perhaps they were offended, thinking of Bobby as cruel and heartless. A true Biblical perspective on the poor.

The Biblical View of Poverty

1. There is a curse on those who take advantage of the poor. The welfare system today takes advantage of the poor. Prov. 22:16 he who oppresses the poor to make more for himself. This is true on an individual level and on a national level. The loss of general integrity in all strata of society as a result.

2. This does not mean that charity is futile or unnecessary. Charity is a bonafide expression of the establishment, for organizations apart from government. Those who use charity to cover power-seeking. To truly help the poor, there must be true compassion. Government has no true compassion.
3. Bureaucracy does not have our interest at heart. Government has no compassion. Private, nonprofit charities, apart from tax and welfare schemes, does not have the same stuff going on as godless socialism. True charity helps people back onto their feet. Private charity is for the helpless poor. Government welfare makes the poor helpless. Gal. 2:10
4. Private and personal charity is commended to us as believers. He who oppresses the poor taunts his Maker; but he who is gracious to the needy honors Him. People give less when the government takes over charity. A massive government does not administer charity well.
5. Charity to the poor is a necessary function of the believer in the Christian life. This is a means of producing divine good. As our Lord will make clear, poverty will never be eradicated, not by charity or by government welfare.
 - a. What does it mean, the poor you will have with you always? The sin nature is rampant among men and women. Some poverty will always exist.
 - b. There is no such thing as a utopian system that can eradicate poverty. No such thing can exist.
 - c. Only the Lord in the Millennium will eradicate poverty. Perfect environment.
 - d. Even that unique environment will not solve the problems of mankind. Environment is not the solution for man's basic problems. Those who go into the Millennium will continue to have sin natures. Those who are alive at the end of the Tribulation who have believed in Jesus Christ. Perfect environment will not solve the problems of man's old sin nature.
 - e. There will still be a poverty of soul in some. Our Lord will be present here on earth; we will see Him and understand Him; and there will still be those who reject His reign. There will be a revolution against the Lord in the end. There is that poverty of soul.
 - f. Poverty of soul leads to poverty of circumstances. You can lead a horse to water but you cannot make it drink. You can alleviate poverty, but that does not solve the condition of the soul. Poverty of the soul is rejecting God and His Son.
6. God has personal care for the poor. So many regulations for the Mosaic Law. Deut. 24:14–15 God punishes the oppressors of the poor. He is on the side of the poor and those who oppress them. He rewards those who are kind to the poor. Those who oppress the poor use the poor for less than altruistic motives. The mandate and motivation of believers regarding charity. We are never to give grudgingly or of necessity. That is the wrong motivation. It is no different in this charity situation. You are filled with the Holy Spirit when you give. Conned into doing this at the office; that is the wrong motivation. The correct motivation is having compassion.

7. God is the protector and the Savior of the poor. Ex. 22:23 1Sam. 2:8 Psalm remember the lessons of Jericho. The Lord came to seek and save the outcasts; those who were outside the mainstream of society. Pictures of those in those needy circumstances. The Jews were to be aware of self-deception. Deut. 15:7, 9–10
8. This wrong and evil motive concerning charity was true of one disciple, Judas. Matt. 26:7 John 12:3

Judas uses the poor as a cover for his own nefarious purposes. He is the primary voice of angry criticism of Mary's act of great honor. He demanded that the perfume be sold and the money given to the poor.

John 12:4–6 But Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples (he who was about to betray him), said, "Why was this ointment not sold for three hundred denarii and given to the poor?" He said this, not because he cared about the poor, but because he was a thief, and having charge of the moneybag he used to help himself to what was put into it.

Judas must have been a very persuasive man, who protested the loudest. This act was uncalled for, wasteful, and an unnecessary extravagance. He put people on guilt-trips; he makes people feel guilty; that is his approach. He led others in the dissatisfaction over this use of the perfume nard on the feet of the LORD. His evil motives.

Application of Judas' Unjust Criticism

1. Beware of parroting the criticisms of others without knowing their motives.
2. If you parrot, you may be expressing the bitterness or frustration of another person, without realizing it.
3. Think for yourself. Use the doctrine in your soul. Think for yourself out in the real world. Doctrine in the soul makes you independent of the cosmic system. You can think separately from Satan's domain. Without doctrine in your soul, you will fall for anything. We have several generations today who have fallen for good-sounding lies because they have no divine viewpoint in their souls.
4. Do not be a blind follower of someone who sounds high-minded, but is filled with mental attitude sins. How many drawn into seemingly worthy protests, but duped. Christians want to be activists. Suddenly, you are blindly following and not thinking Bible doctrine. Christians are usually moral people and they fall for some things which are out there.
5. Do not be a follower because someone seems to be spiritual or prominent in the church or in the world. Your evaluator has to come from your own soul; which should have its foundation in truth. Otherwise, you cannot tell truth from lies.
6. Develop discernment of motives and the mental attitude sins of complainers through spiritual growth; then you will not be taken in by Judas's. This has happened in the past in Berachah Church, in the distant past. A certain prominent person who represented himself as carrying the authority of the pastor thinking that he spoke for the pastor. He used this to garner a following; and he way overstepped the propriety of his position. He interfered with families in the church. Ultimately stopped; but there were repercussions in the church. Truly false motives and gullibility can be found among believers. With the discernment of common sense can keep us being fooled by those who are after authority and power. There are great people in Berachah Church and who can be trusted and worthy of friendship. When a person has Bible doctrine in their souls, you will not find a better person anywhere. Occasionally those with agendas; it is just human nature. They use doctrine as a cover.

The disciples became very critical of Mary; and Jesus has communicated the fact of His near-future death and resurrection. This failed to register with many of the disciples. They missed the significance of what Mary was doing.

Superficial criticism. Bob got a lot of criticism. He had his faults, as we all do. But criticizing because you do not like a personality; almost everything offends us in this country. People in Portland, Or had some mean things to say about Bob, based upon what they heard about him. The principle is having or not having doctrine in the soul. Some had other agendas; to go to Jerusalem to be crowned. We know a little doctrine and we know how to move ahead and how to think. You cannot have a poverty of spiritual life. You cannot let it go; you cannot stop taking in Bible doctrine, thinking that you know what the Christian life is all about. Not me, I know what is going on. People often show up to Berachah is not Bible doctrine. There are great places in Houston for entertainment.

John makes an editorial comment about Judas, about his character and intent.

John 12:6 He said this, not because he cared about the poor, but because he was a thief, and having charge of the moneybag he used to help himself to what was put into it.

Judas used the poor for his own benefit. He was the treasurer. He dept all the money and he would pilfer from the treasury. This is like the motivation of government types.

Lesson #08

Luke 22: Life of Christ

11/2/2016 Wednesday

A chronology tomorrow for this final week. We can pinpoint the date and time of His death on the cross. We are at the home of Simon the Leper in Bethany, 6 days out from the cross. A super-expensive perfume has been used for the feet of the Lord. This was done to honor the Lord. This also foreshadowed His death and burial. Mary seemed to truly understand what would occur in the immediate future of the LORD. With this anointing, she presented Him as the Lord and our Savior.

Certain disciples present there took offense at the use of this expensive perfume. It appears that others besides Judas was involved in this criticism of Mary. This is just another example; and this is an example of the teaching method of the Lord. They may not recall exactly when they heard these lessons; and this information is rattling around in their brains; and at some point, they will put much of it together. If we continue taking in doctrine, we will get it; it will come together.

Mark 14:3 And while he was at Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, as he was reclining at table, a woman came with an alabaster flask of ointment of pure nard, very costly, and she broke the flask and poured it over his head.

Mark 14:4–5 There were some who said to themselves indignantly, "Why was the ointment wasted like that? For this ointment could have been sold for more than three hundred denarii and given to the poor." And they scolded her.

Things often turn ugly when there are large sums of money involved.

Matt. 26:9 For this could have been sold for a large sum and given to the poor."

This is all about greed for Judas. He was the treasurer and he was probably the leader of this opposition to Mary.

John 12:4–6 But Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples (he who was about to betray him), said, "Why was this ointment not sold for three hundred denarii and given to the poor?" He said this, not because he cared about the poor, but because he was a thief, and having charge of the moneybag he used to help himself to what was put into it.

Judas was already planning to betray the Lord at this time. Judas said this openly, the great villain of villains, was all about getting this money for himself. He was not concerned about the poor; he was concerned about himself.

Mary's motives are pure; and Judas impugnes her motives.

John adds an editorial content:

John 12:6 He said this, not because he cared about the poor, but because he was a thief, and having charge of the moneybag he used to help himself to what was put into it.

Judas is not unlike a certain segment of our society today. Politicians are great examples here, but not the only examples. Many politicians have accused the other side of doing some evil thing, often that which was not done. They do this often because they are the guilty party. He charges someone else with the wrongdoing, and it deflects attention from himself.

This is a window into the motive of Judas; and Judas would betray the Lord for money.

Certainly the Lord knew about this. People came up with ingenious ways to skim money from the top. No doubt, he kept the books as well. John points out that Judas was a thief, filled with monetary lust. Judas' greed was the basis for his betrayal of the Lord.

There are those who have investment schemes which are designed to take money away from the investors. The love of money is the root of all kinds of evil.

Judas and the Motivation Behind His Betrayal of the Lord

1. Judas was the only disciple not from Galilee. He may not be quite as loyal to the Lord, having come from a different place; and he may have been added later in the Lord's ministry.
2. "If you know this man's whereabouts, let us know," was a call to find the Lord.
3. Judas could have been disillusioned. The Lord was not going to bring in the Kingdom; and the religious leaders appear to have won. They have been trekking throughout for a couple of years, but without producing the results they had hoped for. His dreams of wealth and position may have become dashed.
4. He may have decided to salvage some profit from this wasted time. He may have come to the conclusion that he was wasting his time with the Lord and he ought to make it pay off in some way. He suffered monetary reversionism.

Back to the objection and the response of the Lord.

Matt. 26:10 But Jesus, aware of this, said to them, "Why do you trouble the woman? For she has done a beautiful thing to me.

The disciples were apparently bullying Mary for what she had done. They might have even pulled her aside and chewed her out. The Lord knew what was happening. He knew it and put an immediate stop to it. He protected Mary. He was very protective of Mary. What they called a waste, Jesus called this a beautiful thing. Mary got it; she was a remarkable woman. She was listening and metabolizing this doctrine.

Why did Jesus point this out as a good deed. The criticism was the neglect of the poor.

Jesus Presents Information on the Poor

1. The disciples opened this door; so He can explain the poor.
2. This is a chance to explain His preeminence.
3. There is a chance to communicate the fact that His time on earth was short.
4. Mark 14:7 For you always have the poor with you, and whenever you want, you can do good for them. But you will not always have me.
 - a. The contrast is between two words here, not between the Lord and the poor. The contrast is between always and not always. "I won't be here much longer; the poor will always be here."
 - b. Opportunities to give to the poor will always be available. Charity is mandated because there will always be the poor. That was the Lord's viewpoint. In this comparison allows us to extrapolate that the poor will always be with us.
 - c. A certain amount of poverty is the natural order of the natural world. We can make it worse, and we have by the way that the government has handled this. The war on poverty has increased it.
 - d. The disciples should be charitable towards the poor. Charity, as we have seen, is commended by the Lord and by the Bible. The Lord is summing it up here.

- e. Jesus Christ would not be in their company much longer. The Lord will remind them of what He has already taught them. Death, burial, resurrection, ascension.
- f. So they do not have much time remaining to love and worship the Lord in His presence; or to understand all that He must teach them.
- g. The disciples must get their priorities straight, so this is the reason for what He said. His teaching takes precedence even over charity to the poor. We all ought to have empathy for the poor. The poverty in Rio is horrible and we ought to have great sympathy for their plight. If we could help all those in poverty, would that take precedence over the Lord? Not for a second.

Mary and Her Savior

1. Mary anointed the Lord as a sign of His coming death and burial which was very near.
2. This was a fact that they all needed to be cognizant of. The Lord used Mark 14:7 to get through to them.
3. Mary believed what Jesus said about their coming death.
4. The disciples had not yet gotten it. The truth did not yet come to them. They were interested in the thrones; but Judas did not see that happening any time soon.
5. This was a testimony to the devotion of Mary to her Savior. This appreciation is why Bobby is teaching this.
6. Mary provided this teaching moment in correcting the disciples and their understanding as to what would happen in the next week. They will remember this.
7. Twofold: Mary is one of the few who sensed the impending death of the Lord. She is truly a remarkable woman. She is lightyears ahead of the other disciples. She is a picture of the believer who has advanced in the spiritual life. Remarkable in their attitudes and actions.
8. Symbolically, she was anointing Him for His burial, bringing reality to His death. They needed to understand the anointing.
9. She recognizes the Lord as the Great High Priest.

Matt. 26:11 For you always have the poor with you, but you will not always have me.

Matt. 26:12 In pouring this ointment on my body, she has done it to prepare me for burial.

Bodies begin to rot immediately. Perfumes are used to disguise this.

Jesus is not discouraging giving to the poor. It can certainly be more than giving money to the poor. How many times have these charities not given money to the poor? Money is not the only thing that we can do. It can be accomplished as divine good. Much better than the nefarious intentions of Judas.

Nonprofits run to be profitable for those in the foundation. Heard any of that lately?

Jesus and the Plight of the Poor

1. Jesus says, do not be fooled; the plight of the poor will not ever be eradicated. Most people who are liberals cannot accept this.
2. There will always be poor people. Some poverty is the natural order in the fallen world. The sin nature means corruption and poverty. Poverty of soul as well.
3. According to the Lord, no human thinking, plans or actions will change poverty.
4. Private charity is the best way to help the poor; government charity is not.
5. Charity may alleviate suffering among the poor, but it will never permanently improve humanity's condition of poverty.
6. The world is filled with poverty; and it is a reminder of what mankind needs.
7. Poverty of circumstances does not mean poverty of soul or hopelessness for the believer in Jesus Christ. In the end, it is all about the Christian life; it is all about Christ.

So Mary's costly anointing of the Lord does not negate giving to the poor. If the Lord is going to be buried, then this means He is going to die. Repetition in order for the disciples to get this.

Matt. 26:13 Truly, I say to you, wherever this gospel is proclaimed in the whole world, what she has done will also be told in memory of her."

She honored Him; He honored her. We who are growing to spiritual maturity and honoring the Lord; He will honor us. That is the whole concept of the pivot and of the nation. That is the picture here. This is, well done My good and faithful servant. She is hearing a well-done while she is here on earth. This passage has been taught for thousands of years, and every time it is taught, Mary is honored.

The Lord had great respect for womanhood; and the Lord elevated her above the 12 idios.

Mary

1. Mary was the epitome of love and worship of the Lord.
2. Her declaration includes the death and burial of the Lord; this honored Him. She gets it.
3. She understood His death even before it took place. She gave careful attention to what He has been teaching. She understood Who He was.
4. So the true memorial to Mary is a memorial to her faithfulness and perseverance and to the doctrine resident in her soul. She is a remarkable woman of doctrine. Always to be honored. She does not make an issue of her gender. Her singular focus is on the Lord Jesus Christ. She is a person to emulate.
5. This memorial to Mary's love looks beyond the death, burial and resurrection to the present, to this moment.
6. How? Whenever and wherever the gospel is proclaimed, it is an echo of Mary's witness to the Lord Jesus Christ. She is memorialized for her witness of the Lord.

What she proclaims in her anointing is what is proclaimed in the gospel. She will be remembered in eternity for this moment.

Lesson #08

John 12:9–11 Life of Christ

11/3/2016 Thursday

A chronology of the last week, including dates and times. This will be the outline for the rest of our study. We leave the last moments of time with His intimate friends. People have a lot of different expectations of what will happen among the Lord's followers and the others as well. The 12 disciples had no idea what would happen; but the religious leaders of that time had it all planned out.

John 12:9–11 When the large crowd of the Jews learned that Jesus was there, they came, not only on account of him but also to see Lazarus, whom he had raised from the dead. So the chief priests made plans to put Lazarus to death as well, because on account of him many of the Jews were going away and believing in Jesus.

The religious types wanted to put Jesus and Lazarus to death, because many believed in Jesus and had left their Jewish religion for the Lord.

John 11:56 They were looking for Jesus and saying to one another as they stood in the temple, "What do you think? That he will not come to the feast at all?"

People were converging on Jerusalem for the holy days; and many sought and found the Lord Jesus Christ in Bethany. It was a huge crowd. Lazarus was the result of the Lord's great miracle; and people knew that he had been raised from the dead. This word spread throughout the city and even into the countryside.

Many of them wanted to see and talk to Lazarus; he was an object of great, great interest. What question would you have asked him? Certainly, there would have been many questions. Others who were there could also give testimony to him rising from the dead. Lazarus became quite a witness to the deity of the Lord. The Passion Week, the last week. What had happened was very convincing.

Obviously, many others did not believe. Every negative volition reason was present in this crowd as well; particularly the power and money angle among the religious leaders. It was all here. Acceptance, rejection, curiosity and everything else. Typical of the modus operandi of persecution, wherever it is found. Silence, any voice where the Lord Jesus Christ is found. Many martyrs had died; they speak the truth and they died for the truth. Their voices will never be silenced. The greatest of human history have tried to silence the voices of Jesus Christ. The Roman Empire tried to do it; the Catholic Church tried to do it; many have attempted to silence Christianity. Islam would love to destroy Christianity. It is one of their objectives. Utopian socialists would like to do that as well. They are becoming quite bold. It will turn to absolute hatred. They believe that Christianity stands in the way of their humanistic schemes. Very dark times and very dark ages; but the light of truth will always shine through. The heroes of the faith will shine in the forefront.

The more Satan tries to wipe it out, the more people believe in the Lord.

The stage is now set for the final act of the first advent. The time is at hand; all is ready for Passover. 2 million or more people came to Jerusalem during this time and stayed in Jerusalem or they lived in tents all around Jerusalem. They were all there to celebrate Passover. His entry would be noticed. It is said that half of Palestine was in Jerusalem at this time.

The Entry of the Lord Jesus Christ

1. This entry of Christ represents the official presentation of the Lord to all Jerusalem; the prophetic presentation.
2. This was the triumphant day of Israel long ago prophesied. The day of days. Every thing pointed to this moment. Zech. 9:9 Rejoice greatly, o daughter of Zion; behold, your King is coming to you; He is endowed with justice and salvation. Humble, mounted on a colt; even on the foal of a donkey.
3. This triumph was the beginning of it; but it ended with salvation. The greatest in human unjust cursing, the God-man Christ became the greatest blessing to all mankind. A lot of cursing; a lot of politics at this time. Stand fast and watch the deliverance of the Lord. Nothing is hopeless and nothing is impossible with God. Maybe we are in for discipline; there is so little of divine establishment remaining in the United States. Our freedoms are narrowing all of the time. Healthcare is a great example of that; family and marriage are being destroyed. We are in the midst of a great period of internationalism. Nationalism may never return. The world we grew up in is gone.

All 4 gospel writers speak to His entry. They wrote 30 or 40 years after these events. The next few days not only culminated in our salvation; but that was the impetus for believing in Him.

The Chronology of each day; the final increment of our study. We will end this with the next few days following the crucifixion and resurrection and ascension.

There is a controversy over the actual day when the Lord was crucified. Called Good Friday; but could it be Thursday or Wednesday? This outline will lead to the correct determination of that day.

Introduction

1. This verifies prophecies which are applicable to this week.
2. This will reenforce the accuracy of Scripture. Correct to the hour.
3. Once again, this supplies confidence in the Lord Jesus Christ as our Messiah.

A Chronology—Day One

1. Jesus came to Jerusalem 14/15 Nissan, which is our month of March. This is very important. Our day begins at midnight. Their days began at dusk. Sundown to sundown, 6pm to 6pm.
2. So Jesus had to arrive in Bethany before sundown on Friday. He must arrive before the Sabbath because he cannot travel on the Sabbath. 6 days before the Passover.
3. From Friday evening to sundown is the Sabbath day.
4. Jesus arrived shortly before the Jewish Sabbath on Saturday. That was the night of the feast, the dinner party, Lazarus is in attendance; the same evening that Mary anointed the Lord.
5. Then begins Sunday at that Sabbath sundown. Sunday is the 1st day of the Jewish week. That is when things really got rolling. John 12:12
 - a. Sunday was the triumphal entry of the Lord into Jerusalem.
 - b. Before He entered the city, He wept over it. He knew the blindness of the people of Jerusalem. He knew about the rejection that was coming.
 - c. The triumphal entry was the presentation of the King of the Jews; and Israel's true Passover Lamb.
 - d. After entry, Jesus visited the Temple. Mark 11:11

The Second Day Monday

1. Two works of judgment; He cursed the fig tree and the fig tree withered. This is a curse on Israel. This symbolizes hypocrisy.
2. He returned to the Temple in Jerusalem and just like the beginning of His ministry, He cleansed the Temple. Matt. 21:12–15
3. The religious leaders reacted by seeking His death; they were on His trail.
4. Jesus left Jerusalem and returned to Bethany, 2 miles out of town.

Tuesday, the Third Day

1. The disciples saw the withered fig tree and the future of Israel.
- 2.
3. At the Temple in Jerusalem, Jesus had a day of confrontation with the religious leaders. Mark 11:27–12:12
4. They challenged His authority in cleansing the Temple
5. 3 parables of the dereliction of duty. The two sons; Matt. 21; parable of the householder renting his vineyard to wicked farmers; Mark 12 Luke 20; the parable of the marriage feast.
6. Several other controversies on that day. Jesus met with 3 groups of Jewish rulers and interacted with their hostile questions. Pharisees and the Herodians, who ask him about politics and religion; then he had a doctrinal discussion with the Sadducees (they do not believe in the resurrection); and he meets with the pharisees and they discuss another area of religion.
7. Jesus cuts these 3 groups to ribbons. Mark 12 Luke 20

8. He also denounces the scribes and pharisees Mark 12 Luke 22 He calls them hypocrites and lists a series of woes, which came true in A.D. 70. This is the final public discourse in the life of the Lord.
9. He further comments a poor widow for her gift; the mite.
10. The Lord gives a private discourse on the necessity of His death to gentiles.

Wednesday the 4th Day

1. Prophetic discourses.
2. Olivet discourse.
3. Several sections; the end time; the last half of the Tribulation; second advent of the Lord; the regathering of Israel at the end of the Tribulation; instructions about the 2nd advents. Then He covers the section of faithfulness. Judgement of Israel. Matt. 25 followed by the judgment of Gentiles.
4. Jesus predicted that he would be crucified in two days. Matt. 26:1–5
5. Judas plans his betrayal with the religious leaders. Matt. 26 Luke 22:3–6

Thursday the 5th Day

1. The Passover lamp is prepared for the final Passover. Matt. 26 first day of the feast of the unleavened bread. 14th day of Nissan to be eaten after sundown that day, with would be the 15th of Nissan. They are on Galilean time; and there are differences regarding the exact time of the slaying of the pashal lamb. Galilean time and Judæan time.
- 2.
3. They ate the Passover meal in the upper room.
4. There was a foot washing which was symbolic. John 13
5. The betrayal and denials announced.
6. He instituted the Lord's supper at that time.
7. The final discourse called the upper room discourse. John 1–417
8. Got up; and the Lord suffered in the garden of Gethsemne, but the disciples fell asleep.

The 6th Day the Day of Suffering

1. Some day after midnight, the Lord was arrested in the garden. Mark 14
2. For the rest of that night from midnight on, there were 3 trials that night. Matt. 26 John 18
3. Peter denies the Lord 3 times.
4. The Jews give a verdict of condemnation after 6am. Matt. 27 Luke 22
5. Christ was tried before the Roman rulers; 3 more trials; before Pilate, before the cruel Herod antipas; and then returned to Pilate.
6. Our Lord was led to the cross, crucified at 9 am and He died at 3 pm on that Friday. So Good Friday is the day of the crucifixion.

7. Christ, the True Passover Lamb, was slaughtered the same time as the ritual Passover Lamb by the Judæans. When they slaughtered their pascal lamb, the Lord went to the cross.
8. Jesus and the disciples slaughtered their lamb and had already eaten the Passover Meal. He still died while the Passover Lamb was being slaughtered. Both occurred on the 14th.
 - a. Jesus and the disciples slaughtered and ate the Passover lamb according to the Galilean time.
 - b. The Judæans were eating their Passover lambs at a different time. This is apparently in the blood of Christ booklet.
9. Jesus was buried later that day, before sunset, before the beginning of the Sabbath on Saturday. He had to be down from the cross before the Sabbath day.

The 7th Day the Sabbath Day

1. A sad day for the disciples and a great day for the religious types. Jesus was in the grave beginning on Friday; in the grave all day Saturday and arose sometime on Sunday.
2. The gospels record 7 times that the Lord will arise on the 3rd day.
3. This cannot mean after 72 hours. No one calculated time like that.
4. 3 days in the tomb meant, one whole central day and 2 partial days. Dies on Friday; into the tomb before sundown; in the tomb all day Saturday; out of the tomb Sunday.
- 5.
6. Jesus did rise on the 3rd day according to prophecy after being crucified on Friday.

Lesson #08

Mark 11:1 Zech. 9:9 Life of Christ 11/6/2016 1Sunday

Bobby prefers going in a chronological order. More important to understand the chronology of the final few days. He will help us understand what the Lord went through during action week, and what we can learn from that week.

It all begins when the Lord arrives from Jericho to Bethany, which is 2 miles outside of Jerusalem. He arrives there 6 days before Passover. John 11:55 this arrival begins the countdown for that final week. The Passover is an extremely important milestone in the Jewish calendar. This commemorates the beginning of Israel and the passing over of the death angel that fateful night.

Even more importantly a celebration of salvation. The Passover lamb was slain before sundown on the 14th day of Nissan.

Did we all change our clocks, giving us an extra hour. At midnight, the day changed. That is when our days end/begin. Not true of a Jewish day. Sundown to sundown. 6pm to 6pm. Shortly before the end of the day, 14th of Nissan, the lamb is slaughtered and it is eaten on the evening of the 15th. This is a 7 day feast; a very important celebratory time. Knowing this start time, we can know the sequential events; we can know day by day and even hour by hour. The Lord's arrival had to be on Friday shortly before sundown, which turned almost immediately to the next day, Saturday. He would not have traveled on Saturday, the Sabbath.

10th of Nissan is Saturday? He arrives on Friday in the late day; and that becomes the Sabbath. A quiet day spent on the Sabbath. They went to a dinner party at Simon the Leper's house.

The 2nd day, which is Sunday. It began at Sunday. John 12:12, which is the day of the Lord coming from Bethany into Jerusalem, called Palm Sunday. He rides into Jerusalem as the King of the Jews. He is also the paschal lamb.

After the entry, later that day, the Lord went to the Temple.

Day 3 is Monday, the Lord performs 2 works of judgment: a curse on a fig tree. This symbolized judgment on Israel. He went into the Temple and cleared it out of the filth; the money changers and the like.

Day 4, 13th of Nissan, Tuesday, a day of controversy. A day of confrontation with the religious leaders at the Temple. They lit into Him as soon as He came to the Temple. The Lord responded with 3 parables, and He ripped them to shreds with the parables. So ended Tuesday and now into Wednesday, the 14th of Nissan, a very important day of Passover week. This was a day of prophecy where He went to the Mount of Olives and delivered a discourse on eschatology. This was all about the last 7 years of the history of Israel. There would be a necessity, based upon the prophecy of Daniel, after the Church Age.

In 2 days, the Lord would be crucified on the day of the Passover. He was slaughtered at the same time when the Judæan lambs were slaughtered. A living ritual. This is a bit of a conundrum or a problem.

Jesus and the disciples had already slaughtered their lambs on the 14th and they had eaten their Passover meal on the 15th. The Lord was crucified on a different place.

The Lord cannot slaughter the ritual lamb and be on the cross at the same time. Jesus and the disciples slaughtered and ate the lamb according to Galilean time, which fell earlier than the way it was done, as per Galilean time. The Galileans had a different day. Their 14th days were not the same day.

Thursday, the 6th day, prepared the lamb for their Passover and they ate the meal in the upper room. The betrayal. This was also the final discourse, the upper room discourse. They went to the garden of Gethsemene after this. The Lord asked for that cup to pass Him by, but there is no other way.

Tried by Annas, then Caiaphas, and then by the Sanhedrin; and while these were going on, Peter denied the Lord 3x.

After 6am in the morning, 6 hours on the cross and the Lord was buried in the tomb before the Sabbath began. All day Saturday He is in the tomb. Sunday is resurrection day.

There is some controversy. What about 3 days and 3 nights? But at that time, according to Jewish, Greek and Roman calculation, a part of a day was considered a whole day.

In Bobby's research, a part of Friday, all of Saturday and a part of Sunday, the Lord is in the grave. Result, Good Friday is the day He was crucified.

Our study will end with the disciples receiving the Holy Spirit and they become the Apostles.

We are ready for Sunday, the 1st day, the triumphal entry.

Mark 11:1 Now when they drew near to Jerusalem, to Bethphage and Bethany, at the Mount of Olives, Jesus sent two of his disciples

Once arriving in Bethphage, the Lord fulfills a great many prophecies. These prophecies were made centuries before any of these things happened.

Zech. 9:9 Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion! Shout aloud, O daughter of Jerusalem! Behold, your king is coming to you; righteous and having salvation is He, humble and mounted on a donkey, even on a colt, the foal of a donkey.

The foal of a donkey must be found in order to get his disciples.

Before the Lord sends the disciples out, He gives them instructions. He is showing those who witness this, exactly Who He is.

Lesson #08

Luke 22: Life of Christ

11/6/2016 2Sunday

2nd day of Passion Week, the triumphal entry of the Lord into Jerusalem.

They have advanced to Bethage, and He gives instructions about finding a donkey and a colt tied up; and the colt was unbroken; which had never had a saddle on its back and never ridden. If anyone asks you about this, say, "The Lord needs them."

Mat 21:2 saying to them, "Go into the village in front of you, and immediately you will find a donkey tied, and a colt with her. Untie them and bring them to me.

This fulfills Zech. 9:9 Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion! Shout aloud, O daughter of Jerusalem! Behold, your king is coming to you; righteous and having salvation is he, humble and mounted on a donkey, on a colt, the foal of a donkey.

How does the Lord know that this colt is out there in Bethage. How did He know all of this and describe this in so much detail? How does He know facts about the colt itself. He even knows that the taking of these two animals would be challenged. Someone would say, "Why are they taking my property?" The disciples only needed to say, "The Lord needs it."

Mark 11:2 and said to them, "Go into the village in front of you, and immediately as you enter it you will find a colt tied, on which no one has ever sat. Untie it and bring it."

Mark 11:3 If anyone says to you, 'Why are you doing this?' say, 'The Lord has need of it and will send it back here immediately.'"

The Lord knows this via His omniscience; expressed from the Deity of Christ. Could He know this from the prophecy? The Lord is David's descendant, David's Greater Son. What He tells the two disciples could only be known by the Deity of Christ.

The Lord's name was authority enough to take the donkey and its colt.

Mat 21:3–4 If anyone says anything to you, you shall say, 'The Lord needs them,' and he will send them at once." And they went away and found a colt tied at a door outside in the street, and they untied it.

The crowds understood the message here; and the owner did as well. This is another demonstration shortly before the entering of Jerusalem both of His Deity and of His Messiahship. What he said was heard by the entire crowd.

From the time of Solomon, kings and men of rank rode horses for official parades; rank, prestige and conquering character. They rode a powerful horse commensurate with their power. But the Lord does not ride into Jerusalem as a conquering king, but as a servant. He brought salvation, not rule.

Contrast this humble entry with His entry into this world at the 2nd advent, when He is on a white horse. He will destroy the enemies of Israel and enter into the millennial kingdom.

Now it is the cross before the crown.

Riding an unbroken colt represents His kingly authority; He created the universe and was sovereign over all. This colt was entirely docile. Normally, a colt like this would be bucking and snorting, trying to get rid of the rider. Nothing like that occurred. Even animals obeyed Him when confronted with their sovereign Creator. Animals obey Him; people did not.

Baalim, who rode a donkey into town; and he was unable to control the donkey. The donkey did what the Lord had it do; but Baalim could not control it. They came upon the Angel of the Lord, and He was visible to the donkey, not to Baalim. The ass obeyed the Lord even if the Ass on the donkey did not.

Creation, including all animals, are subject to the authority of man, according to God's design. There is no excuse for cruelty to animals; but animals are our servants. The Lord, in His total authority, had complete authority over His creation, including this animal. Psalm 8:4–8.

These happenings are symbols of the Savior. This was coming to fruition the salvation plan of God. Jesus entering into the city on a docile colt, which is according to Scripture, a humble servant (like Isa. 53). In every detail, the Lord fulfilled what had been written of Him.

The Lord is our Passover; He is the anointed Messiah. He is heralded as the King. Isa. 62:11. All of these happen at this one moment.

Now to the actual entry into Jerusalem.

Luke 19:36–38 And as he rode along, they spread their cloaks on the road. As he was drawing near--already on the way down the Mount of Olives--the whole multitude of his disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen, saying, "Blessed is the King who comes in the name of the Lord! Peace in heaven and glory in the highest!" This is a triumphal procession into Jerusalem.

Matthew, Mark and Luke speak of a crowd of disciples. John in his gospel refers to another crowd, who came out of Jerusalem. Two crowds are converging on one another. The crowds are getting larger and larger.

Those spreading out garments were paying homage to the King; but He is no ordinary king. He is the Greater Son of David. This fulfills Messianic prophecy and they respond with great gusto. They shout what they know to be true. They were convinced that the King would now be crowned in Jerusalem. This is what the disciples expected.

Editorial comment, they did not quite understand what is going on. The Lord is not going to be crowned. They should know He is the King, yet the Servant.

The people began to shout Hosanna, which is a transliteration, save now! This is a cry for the king to save them. Certainly, we understand this to be an announcement of the Savior for the salvation of the world.

Some must have understood to some degree, like Mary and Lazarus. This is a microcosm of the 1st advent. Rejection by many others at the same time. This chorus of voices attracted thousands of people from the city and the hills. The size of the crowd has increased exponentially.

John 12:12–13 The next day the large crowd that had come to the feast heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem. So they took branches of palm trees and went out to meet him, crying out, "Hosanna! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord, even the King of Israel!"

Jerusalem is hilly; and this large crowd is converging on this one place. 2 million or more people in this vicinity in a fairly small area. This would be half the population of Galilee and Judæa combined. So every inch of the land right there was covered with people. They were everywhere. They had erected tents and temporary structures. And every space was taken. There was no more room in that city. An untold number of people were witnesses to this entry. They can hear this shout. Instead of spreading their coats, they used palm branches, which is why this is called Palm Sunday. They took the branches of the palm trees and they went out to meet Him. They understood the symbolism. They knew what this meant, to some degree or another. The noise was deafening. This was not just a little entry. How ironic that so many would make this cry, would know the prophecy, see all this symbolism, and still reject the Lord at this time. Many of them did. Many rejected Him, even some of those crying out Hosanna, which occurs with a herd-bound crowd. Someone may have been excited for a liberator. Some were completely ignorant of many major parts of Messiah's ministry. How much greater was this entry? He came as our Savior.

Even though this ends in what many see as a great tragedy, this is the greatest event of human history (insofar as we are concerned). Many in the crowd find this ludicrous; and they hated the Lord all the more for His reception of the adoration. This is the makeup of any crowd.

We have been in massive crowds before, and this is a large crowd; and we know how different people can be in a crowd. But we can say hosanna and know what it means.

Lesson #08

Luke 22: Life of Christ

11/9/2016 Wednesday

Our nation is still at a crossroads—divine discipline or divine blessing. No election determines this. We as believers growing spiritually do this. The preservation of His client nation.

Apropos study this evening. The subject is uncertainty; what now and what next? We seem to have things which give us a bright future; and such is true in the time of our Lord when He made the triumphal entry into Jerusalem. The disciples were confused about it. They were unclear about the future events.

John 12:16 His disciples did not understand these things at first, but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things had been written about Him and had been done to Him.

The disciples were confused about what was going to happen; and the people of Israel were confused about their future and the future of their nation.

It was tumultuous when the Lord entered into Jerusalem. The disciples were looking forward to being on the 12 thrones. No one person, no Congress, can change the thinking of this country, even though we have seen a change of thinking, but the votes were evenly divided.

Here are the disciples and they do not understand at this point. How will be look back on yesterday in a few years? Was our optimism warranted? The disciples will understand what is coming with regards to the Lord; and we must understand what is coming with regards to the Lord and with what we have.

It is important to remember who you are in Christ; and there does appear to be a new direction in the country, at least for a moment.

When the Lord was glorified, they remembered what had been written about Him. They are seeing prophecy fulfilled before their eyes, from Zech. 9:9

Zech. 9:9 Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion! Shout aloud, O daughter of Jerusalem! Behold, your king is coming to you; righteous and having salvation is He, humble and mounted on a donkey, even on a colt, the foal of a donkey.

He does not come yet as a King, but as a Savior. He would be crucified for the salvation of the world. What we think is one thing; but it can turn to something else suddenly. Pray for your nation everyday; and it is powerful. Our spiritual growth has even a greater affect on God's acts. Sometimes, we may not have things work out as we want them to, but in retrospect, we can see how they have come out for the best. Our hope is not there in politics but in the Lord.

We always have the Holy Spirit; and we have understanding because we have the Holy Spirit.

Last nigh was fun for Bobby as he thought about the people at Berachah as he thought about the disciples. They saw the triumphal entry of the Lord Jesus Christ; and they were ignorant of what was going on. It is easy to be critical of the disciples to catch on to the Lord's teaching when in their presence. They could not see the whole picture as Christ presented it to them. Sometimes we hear doctrine many times, we do not catch onto it. Clarity comes from repetition and...

Bobby has received a number of enthusiastic and happy letters; as more doctrine is inculcated. The doctrine takes on a perspective in people that it did not have before. They see doctrine from more mature eyes and can apply it with greater effectiveness. We see things differently.

People are learning and growing, no matter what circumstances are in their lives. We hear doctrine night after night.

John 12:17–18 The crowd that had been with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb and raised him from the dead continued to bear witness. The reason why the crowd went to meet him was that they heard he had done this sign.

There was a large crowd because the Lord had raised Lazarus from the dead. So people were there and they were still talking about it.

There were so many people there because they wanted to see what had happened with the Lord. Would we not want to talk to Lazarus about what death was like; where he was, what he saw and felt. A miracle that only God could accomplish.

The very presence of Lazarus was a testimony to his being raised from the dead and many witnesses of that event were there as well. So, no wonder there were all these Hosanna's and other praises directed toward the Lord.

Who else could it be than the pharisees and this was messing up their plans to kill the Lord. How could they kill the Lord if the people followed Him? They feared the people and they feared the Romans. Those in opposition had a human, vested interest in their candidate; humanism was rampant last night and we heard a lot of it.

John 12:19 So the Pharisees said to one another, "You see that you are gaining nothing. Look, the world has gone after Him."

They knew His power and magnetism; and this caused them to despair. They wanted to enact their various purposes; and they blamed one another. Finger-pointed had just begun with the pharisees as it is happening today in the Democratic party.

The pharisees appealed to the Lord to shut them up.

Luke 19:39 And some of the Pharisees in the crowd said to him, "Teacher, rebuke your disciples."

They want to kill Him, but first they want Him to do a favor for them. They knew that the Lord could subdue this crowd. Then they could carry out their evil schemes. The Lord was getting the hosannas; he had the power.

How could they be so stupid. Rejection of the obvious truth is happening right now in our country. There are many people in this nation who will oppose Trump in every way possible. No evil method will be off-limit. Lies will profusely circulate.

We just arrived at this point; and it occurs just at the time of this election. The pharisees knew that they were perpetrating lies, even to themselves; all the signs and miracles of the Lord. Many of them knew it; and they still denied the truth. Their objective was to destroy; and the truth was suppressed by the lie. That is always they way of Satan. He opposes the plan of God with every fiber of his genius, despite his end being already determined.

People perpetrate and live a lie. Modern-day pharisees following the plan of the devil himself.

Luke 19:40 He answered, "I tell you, if these were silent, the very stones would cry out."

Luke 19:40

1. This was such an important occasion that the very rocks that they stood on knew this.
2. This is a metaphor that the Lord is using for the fact that this time is occurring..
3. If the crowd did not express their recognition of Him, then God would give the stones a voice.
4. "No, I will not shut them up. If I did, the stones would cry it these people are negative and they will have their day.

Luke 19:41–42 And when he drew near and saw the city, he wept over it, saying, "Would that you, even you, had known on this day the things that make for peace! But now they are hidden from your eyes.

The pharisees wanted peace from the Romans; Jesus understood what He was witnessing in the rejection by the religious leaders and by the people the Lord knew what was coming. It was not peace. In A.D. 70, Jerusalem would be destroyed and the great diaspora began.

The Lord looked at this city with some judgment. They were so close to the Millennial kingdom. They knew that the Prince of Peace would come; and they rejects Him; so there would be no peace.

This was a full lament over judgment and destruction. This was not weeping being with friends. This was a lament.

Two things we will do. We will see what the Lord will say about Jerusalem. We will look at a prophecy and foretells about the 2nd advent.

Luke 19:43–44 For the days will come upon you, when your enemies will set up a barricade around you and surround you and hem you in on every side and tear you down to the ground, you and your children within you. And they will not leave one stone upon another in you, because you did not know the time of your visitation."

The problem is, you did not recognize the time.

Lesson #08

Luke 22: Life of Christ

11/10/2016 Thursday

241 years today for the Marine corps.

Our nation is still at the crossroads; we are a divided nation still. It is not possible to be united; we are divided by integrity and by our beliefs. How do we unify with those who believe antithetically to the absolutes of Bible doctrine. There are political viewpoints which are diametrically opposed.

We should approach the election as a part of the plan of God. God works in mysterious ways; and this election gives us a second chance to see where we go; or a reprieve from a downward slide.

There will be opposition, as we have already seen.

The Lord is in Bethany and He has moved on a Sunday morning on Palm Sunday to Jerusalem on possibly a beautiful crisp day. The crowd of course was shouting, Hosanna, blessed is He Who comes in the Name of the LORD! So, these people are conferring the office of Messiah upon the Lord. Many who were saying this had the wrong outcome in mind; they did not fully understand what was going to happen, even though the Lord had already told them what He was going to do.

All was not well, as it would seem in this very enthusiastic crowd. The religious types were unsure what to do, other than to blame one another. They were afraid of the crowds.

John 12:19 So the Pharisees said to one another, "You see that you are gaining nothing. Look, the world has gone after him."

The pharisees were quite upset; they could see nothing going in their favor. What could they do to gain the initiative. They came up with a final desperate scheme.

"Teacher, rebuke Your disciples!"

Luke 19:39 And some of the Pharisees in the crowd said to him, "Teacher, rebuke your disciples."

Luke 19:40 He answered, "I tell you, if these were silent, the very stones would cry out."

There could be no silence at this moment. You cannot obliterate the truth.

The Lord was complete aware of the rejection of Himself; and He understood what would happen in Jerusalem. He was not weeping for Himself.

Luke 19:41–44 And when he drew near and saw the city, he wept over it, saying, "Would that you, even you, had known on this day the things that make for peace! But now they are hidden from your eyes. For the days will come upon you, when your enemies will set up a barricade around you and surround you and hem you in on every side and tear you down to the ground, you and your children within you. And they will not leave one stone upon another in you, because you did not know the time of your visitation."

The promised kingdom; and Jesus is the Greater Son of David; but the people would reject Him. The people were blindly rejecting Him.

This would be a terrible conclusion and the religious leaders will lead the people away from the Messiah.

Jesus looks at the pharisees and takes in the hill of Jerusalem. "For the days will come upon you, when your enemies will set up a barricade around you and surround you and hem you in on every side and tear you down to the ground, you and your children within you. And they will not leave one stone upon another in you, because you did not know the time of your visitation."

27 years later, Jerusalem would be destroyed. Pregnant women would not be given any mercy. There is only a wall left of that destruction. The rest of the city is leveled. "You did not recognize the time of your visitation" which is the visitation in their day by the Messiah. This probably angered the pharisees greatly. This prophecy should have struck fear into their souls. The pharisees allowed Jesus the title of prophet, and these words of prophecy should have struck fear into their souls, but they refused to hear the truth. They would not hear the prophecy of the Lord about Whom was the prophecy of Daniel.

1. Israel had completely and totally rejected their Messiah. "If you had known in this day..." which is the day of Messiah's advent.
2. Luke 19:44 "It is because you did not recognize the time of your visitation." The time of the Messiah had been prophesied in the Old Testament; and they were aware of this prophecy.

What the Pharisees Missed

1. The Jews who rejected the Lord were missing something.
2. They were missing something concerning the timetable; a timetable from time's past.
3. They were missing something that should have been in their thinking and teaching. They were Old Testament experts.
4. This was something that they were very capable of understanding and calculating based upon Daniel's prophecy. We will be astounded. It told a time and it can be calculated to the very day of the entrance of Messiah.
5. They did not recognize the time of His visitation when they could have done so. They were blind and they already rejected Him.
6. What they did not recognize was the subject of Daniel's great prophecy of the 70 weeks. That was the key; and it cost them dearly in terms of earthly destruction.
7. God had revealed an Old Testament prophecy the specific time to the day of the Messiah entering into Jerusalem, presenting Himself to nation Israel. How is that possible? This day was the exact day that Daniel's prophecy was fulfilled.

There is a chronology of the 70 weeks; and there are 69 weeks which have just occurred. Their conclusion should have been, that Jesus is the Messiah, the Prince, that Daniel foretold. This is Daniel's eschatology.

Bobby has given this chronology in the 1Cor. 11; but it is most appropriate to study it here, the day of days, the day that Daniel spoke of. The reign of Cyrus of Persia in to March of A.D. 33.

Daniel 9:25 Know therefore and understand that from the going out of the word to restore and build Jerusalem to the coming of an anointed one, a prince, there shall be seven weeks. Then for sixty-two weeks it shall be built again with squares and moat, but in a troubled time.

There is some decree and an entrance. 69 weeks. So, how do we get a timetable going from this prophecy to the Lord entering into Jerusalem?

We need some historical background.

The Time Table and Daniel

1. Daniel lived during the Chaldean empire and the replacement empire, which was Persia.
2. Judah went into captivity in 586 B.C., which was divine discipline, the fifth cycle of discipline for Israel's unfaithfulness to God.

3. This time of captivity was attributed by the prophets...
4. Israel had cheated the Lord out of 70 Sabbatic years, Jubilee years. Lev. 24:9 a loud trumpet proclaimed something, it proclaimed liberty throughout Israel.
5. There is a lapse of 49 years; and the 50th year is the Year of Jubilee, where liberty is proclaimed to all the land. All slaves were freed. A remembrance that God gave them freedom. A remembrance of what God did for Israel in Egypt. Restitution was made of all real property. People would have difficulties with that today, where property went back to the original owner. This celebrated God's grace to Israel. Grace was given to the original owner.
6. But Israel had disregarded the Sabbatical and Jubilee years. About 500 years of disobedience to the Lord. This is how recalcitrant that the Lord has been. 2Chron. 36:15–21 the destruction of a nation. Nebuchadnezzar leveled Jerusalem. He took everyone in Jerusalem back to Babylon to begin the 70 years of captivity.
7. Jeremiah predicted that they would be in Babylon for 70 years.
8. Following this time, they would be returned to the land. Jer. 29:10 another
9. When Daniel receives his prophecy, the 70 years of captivity was nearly over.
10. There was a problem; the Jews were not ready to return. Their attitude had not changed yet. It had gotten worse in Babylon. Many just settled in to enjoy the good life in Babylon. They became prosperous there. So they were a long way from desiring to return to the land, as was God's will. Why should we return to this foreign land? A reference to Israel. They considered themselves citizens of the Chaldean empire.
11. They became vulnerable again to divine discipline. Proof of this came through in the Persian empire. The Jews were in the middle of this; and Daniel was in a high position. The Jews were in danger of a holocaust. Some of them got the message and they returned to the land.
12. This history leads to the prophecy itself. There were those who believed in the promises of God. They did not waiver. That should be our attitude no matter what and no matter where we go. No matter what crossroads we take, that should be our attitude. Daniel was a very wise man that the Persian king depended upon. But that could not hold him there.

More on the Prophecy of Daniel

1. Daniel recognized that the people had lost interest in the return to the Land of Promise. He knew how they were thinking.
2. They had not changed from blasphemies and problems.
3. It was a problem that would temporarily negate the return to the land after 70 years. Daniel and others were ready to go; but many were not.
4. God would not send the people back in that spiritual condition.
5. Daniel knew all of this and he called upon God in prayer, calling for mercy and compassion. Prayer and God answered him.
6. God set up a new timetable. You are not ready in 70 years, here is a new timetable. This became the prophecy of the 69 weeks given to Daniel. Daniel 9:20–23; and this also looked forward to a future time of the Messiah. Time of the institution of the Kingdom and the Messiah. And they are not the same. That is the odd thing about this prophecy. To receive this Messianic prophecy, the Jews needed to be in the land. The Jews were still not ready for the Lord.

Bobby will take us through the prophecy and we will exactly what happened year-by-year. And he will explain what the 70th week of Daniel is all about. Messiah the prince comes in year 69; and the return of the Messiah at the end of the Tribulation. That is what this prophecy tells us. Perfect timing.

Days and interpolations and add in leap years. From the decree to the Lord presenting Himself is the terminus point. "If you had known the day of visitation," but they did know it. That is the power of negative volition. They have the truth right before them and they would not listen. There was power, money, position, fear of the Romans which guided them.

Lesson #08

Luke 22: Life of Christ

11/13/2016 1Sunday

The Eucharist November 13, 2016:

This requires concentration and meditation on the Lord Jesus Christ.

The Lord asks a curious question and makes an interesting statement. "Who is the one who touched me?" Peter suggests that it is someone anonymous in the crowd. "Someone touched Me, for I was aware of the power going out of Me." This incident took place in a large crowd. The Lord was frequently surrounded by a large group of people. Many wanted to hear His message and to watch what He did.

There was always a contingent of religious leaders among these people; and they tried to dispute and discredit Him. Great multitudes found and followed Him. Matt. 8:1. The crowds even increased; some had adulation and others hatred.

"Every day, I was in the Temple, and you did not seize Me then." Jesus, throughout His ministry, He so often dealt with large groups of people.

We often think today in terms of mass demonstrations; or those immigrating from foreign shores. Even the crowds, the Lord paid great attention to the individuals. No person was too small or too inconsequential for the Lord Jesus Christ. No one escaped His attention. No one was a vague face or a blur in the crowd.

A woman stretched out her hand just to touch the hem of His garment. When she touched His robe, He knew it. Even in the press of that huge crowd, He asked, who did that? He felt His divine power utilized to heal her. She had, by this, expressed faith in Him. This was not an autonomous miracle. There was a specific purpose in this miracle. This one woman had a central part of play. The Lord wanted her to identify herself and to express her faith in Him publicly. Luke 8:47

The Lord never overlooked an individual among those in the crowd. What is important is the impact of His words on the individual believers in that crowd; and their response, which is growth. In great evangelistic meetings like the Billy Graham crusades. A great number may have been saved at any one time during these crusades. But even the salvation of one person would have been worth it.

The second chapter of Acts is how 3000 people were saved as a result of Peter's message. Each person in the crowd had to choose to believe in the Lord. Faith alone in Christ alone for eternal life. There is no corporate salvation. Individual volition is always required, but often in a corporate setting.

Sitting in a church amongst a bunch of Christians does not make you a Christian, any more than standing in the field makes you a cow.

Most people fear public speaking; and a deacon spoke poorly and nervously in the place of the regular pastor. One man just happened to hear this message. Charles Haddon Spurgeon heard this man's message and believed; and then became one of the greatest pastors and evangelists of the 19th century. He spoke often 10x a week to 10's of millions of people, before mass communication.

A Sunday school teacher, after teaching a lesson to the whole class, took a young man aside and gave him the gospel. He could tell that he was confused. That boy was Dwight L. Moody. His presentation of the gospel impacted two continents. Our nation needs believers like them. Do not ever think that you are extraneous in God's plan. There is an individual plan for every believer.

Jesus presented to Nicodemus the gospel; and this message has been used millions upon millions of times to reach unbelievers.

Jesus is alone speaking to an Samaritan woman, a hated woman. He taught her about Himself as the living water. The atonement of our Lord on the cross was unlimited; an act of substitution for the whole world. He gave Himself as a ransom for all.

John 12:32–33 "If I be lifted up from the earth, I will draw all men to Myself;" indicating the kind of death by which He would die.

The grace of God appearing to all men. Rom. 5:18 there resulted condemnation to all men, even so through one act of righteousness there was life provided for all men.

God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself. He removed the enmity between God and man. Corporate and individual.

1John 2:2 He is the propitiation for our sins and for those of the whole world. Individual and corporate.

1Peter 3:9 the Lord is not slow about His promise as some count slowness, but He is patient toward us, not wishing for any to perish, but for all men to come to a point of a change of mind.

The provision of salvation has been made for all on the cross; but it is only effective when claimed individually. Only whosoever will.

Nothing about the individual escapes the notice of the Lord Jesus Christ. Every careless word that men will speak, they will render an account for it in the day of judgement. By your words, you will be justified; and by your word.

“This Man casts out demons only by Beelzebub.” This is clearly negative volition toward the Lord Jesus Christ. No excuse like, everyone else was doing it; or, everyone else was not doing it. No one is able to hide from God in a crowd. We are responsible for an individual choice.

The human race is not universally saved by Christ’s work on the cross. It is potentially available for all, but it is an individual choice. We are a corporate entity as the local church. We are a living organism designed by God.

Our individual lives have such great meaning, whether or not others do. We are not excused because others have failed. We are not rewarded because others have been rewarded. He each stand on our condemnation or justification. For we must all appear before the Judgment Seat of Christ that each one according to what he has done.

Human good is burned worth nothing and it is gone and forgotten. We cannot lean on the strength of someone else in the spiritual life. We stand on our own two spiritual feet in spiritual autonomy. Get off the bench, grow up, get in the game. 1Peter 4:16 if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not feel ashamed, but let him glorify God.

No time remaining.

Lesson #08

Luke 22: Life of Christ

11/13/2016 2Sunday

In spite of the many things going on in our nation today; and the rejection of divine establishment of God and of Christ and the things that we see, and confusion, Bobby looks out in the auditorium, where there is no confusion. We should be encouraged by the positive volition toward the Word of God. We are the salt of the nation and as we go, so goes the nation.

On the first day after the Sabbath, the Lord entered into Jerusalem, called Palm Sunday, because palm leaves were thrown in front of Him. It had been prophesied centuries before. In Zechariah's prophecy, the King, the Messiah, would be presented to His city; presented as a humble person riding on the back of a donkey, a picture of His humility and sacrifice.

That morning, as He rode on that donkey, the crowds showered Him with accolades. The crowds shouted, "Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest!"

Luke 19:39 And some of the Pharisees in the crowd said to him, "Teacher, rebuke your disciples."

Essentially the pharisees are saying, "Shut them up!" referring to the disciples of the Lord. The pharisees were ready right then, but would not because of the popular acclaim.

Luke 19:40 He answered, "I tell you, if these were silent, the very stones would cry out." We do not think of the Prince of Peace warning of death and Destruction.

Luke 19:41–44 And when he drew near and saw the city, he wept over it, saying, "Would that you, even you, had known on this day the things that make for peace! But now they are hidden from your eyes. For the days will come upon you, when your enemies will set up a barricade around you and surround you and hem you in on every side and tear you down to the ground, you and your children within you. And they will not leave one stone upon another in you, because you did not know the time of your visitation."

They would pay a terrible price for their negative attitude toward the Lord. The Lord wept over this beautiful city, the city of David that would be destroyed. His people who would be scattered throughout the earth; and enslaved.

The people did not recognize the time of His visitation. The pharisees were experts in the Old Testament; they knew the prophecies of Daniel. They knew the time and place; but they refused this prophecy of timing.

Daniel 9:24–25 "Seventy weeks are decreed about your people and your holy city, to finish the transgression, to put an end to sin, and to atone for iniquity, to bring in everlasting righteousness, to seal both vision and prophet, and to anoint a most holy place. Know therefore and understand that from the going out of the word to restore and build Jerusalem to the coming of an anointed one, a prince, there shall be seven weeks. Then for sixty-two weeks it shall be built again with squares and moat, but in a troubled time.

The final 6 chapters of Daniel are prophecies. Israel is to know these things. There would be the issuing of a decree. The decree is about restoring and building Jerusalem.

Jesus Christ is Messiah the Prince. He has not yet been crowned, so He is the Prince and not yet the King. There will be seven weeks and 62 weeks. This was given to Daniel during the Babylonian captivity. The Jews still alive were brought back to Babylon as slaves.

Jeremiah predicted that they would be in Babylon for 70 years; and then they would return to the land as a restored nation. At the time that Daniel received this prophecy, these 70 years were nearly over. But Israel was not quite ready to return. The Jews in Babylon considered themselves citizens of the Chaldean empire. They were completely disobedient to the will of God. Captivity was over; time to go back. Things were going quite well for them in Babylon; that was the home of many of them. That was their attitude; and they were vulnerable to divine discipline.

Daniel was the one man who kept his eyes on the Lord. One believer in the plan of God; one believer praying can have a dramatic impact. Daniel began to pray. He called upon the Lord, begging for God's compassion upon the Jews.

God bought out a new prophecy to Daniel through angel Gabriel. It was a prophecy that reiterated the promise of a return to Jerusalem. This was a fulfillment of an even greater promise made to Israel. God promised that kingdom to David at 1000 B.C.; and it would come to fruition, just not right then at that moment. It would be fulfilled by a future generation of Jews who would serve the land. In the time of the Persian empire; the Jews would be decreed to return to the land. 3 groups would go back under Zerubbabel, Ezra and Nehemiah. They returned according to the will of God.

According to Daniel's prophecy, according to the Messianic fulfillment would take place, there would be another period of 70 facing Israel.

There 70 has a different meaning in terms of time passing.

Daniel 9:24–25 "Seventy weeks are decreed about your people and your holy city, to finish the transgression, to put an end to sin, and to atone for iniquity, to bring in everlasting righteousness, to seal both vision and prophet, and to anoint a most holy place. Know therefore and understand that from the going out of the word to restore and build Jerusalem to the coming of an anointed one, a prince, there shall be seven weeks. Then for sixty-two weeks it shall be built again with squares and moat, but in a troubled time.

The transgression was begun in 586 B.C. to make an atonement for iniquity.

This is not the client nation to God in Israel today. There is no Temple in Israel today, but an Islamic holy site.

Seventy heptad; which means seventy sevens, which is 490 years. It would take that long before a kingdom would be instituted for a Jewish king to sit upon the throne. That is how long until the fulfillment of the promise. How do we know that weeks represents years? Daniel's entire prophecy depends upon understanding the interpreting this.

Bobby will show us how weeks become years. This is a literal unit of time; and expanse of time. In the Hebrew, heptad simply means seven. How do we know that these are years rather than weeks.

Gen. 28:37 he serves a heptad in order to receive Rachel as his wife. This time frame refers to literal years. Reasonable to have them mean the same thing in both passages.

This is the time that the Lord is presented to Israel as the King; which ought to be

What about the 483 years and the 490 years? A critical differentiation.

Daniel 9:25 Know therefore and understand that from the going out of the word to restore and build Jerusalem to the coming of an anointed one, a prince, there shall be seven weeks. Then for sixty-two weeks it shall be built again with squares and moat, but in a troubled time.

This is the time prior to the coming of the Prince; not the king. We need a starting point. A decree issued; whatever it is, reveals when the clock begins to tick.

That unaccounted for week is critical.

Daniel's Eschatology

This is the most amazing prophecy ever fulfilled in the books of Daniel. The pharisees should have looked at these prophecies and calculated the time out. Maybe they did it and maybe the

1. Two sets of weeks in vv. 24 and 25.
2. The 490 years is until the Millennium kingdom
3. The other is until Messiah comes as the Prince.
4. So, what about those 7 years differentiating the Prince from the Kingdom?

This is the Tribulation; from the time the nation is formed to the ascension of Christ to the beginning of the Church Age. Then the Millennium will begin after the Church Age and after the Tribulation. The prophecy that he has is moved forward to a decree.

Messiah the Prince will be cut off one week short.

The conclusion of the Age of Israel is the 483 years + 7. The Messiah will come dated according to the decree, with a week of 7.

The Decrees

1. The decree that demands the restoring and rebuilding of Jerusalem. Dan. 9:25
2. The decree is to initiated the building of the streets and walls of Jerusalem.
3. There are three decrees.
 - a. 538 B.C. the decree of Zerubbabel.
 - b. 458 B.C.

c. 444 B.C. is for Nehemiah.

4. Only one of these decrees fits Daniel's prophetic description; the one in Neh. 2, where the walls of Jerusalem were to be rebuilt.
5. Neh. 2 is the decree of the Persian emperor Artaxerxes Longimanus.
6. During the 20th years of his reign in the month of Nisan. Remember the Passover, which was celebrated on 14 and 15 Nisan. This is very precise.
7. The decree of Artaxerxes which will begin the time clock for the 483 and the 490 years.

Lesson #08

Luke 22: Life of Christ

11/16/2016 Wednesday

On Sunday, the Lord Jesus Christ made His way for the grand triumphal entry into Jerusalem. He was being presented as the long-promised King/Messiah to Israel. Several pharisees could not stand what was going on and they spoke to Him. He was not their King and they would see to it that He did not take the throne.

He stops on a hill overlooking Jerusalem, and he gazes out over this beautiful city; and He could hear all of the accolades, He knew that Israel had rejected Him; and that He would be crucified in a few days because they rejected Him and for the salvation of all mankind.

He spoke a prophecy to these religious leaders.

Luke 19:41 And when he drew near and saw the city, he wept over it,

Luke 19:42 saying, "Would that you, even you, had known on this day the things that make for peace! But now they are hidden from your eyes."

Luke 19:43 For the days will come upon you, when your enemies will set up a barricade around you and surround you and hem you in on every side

Luke 19:44 and tear you down to the ground, you and your children within you. And they will not leave one stone upon another in you, because you did not know the time of your visitation."

This is a picture of the destruction of Jerusalem. It would be horrible. You did not recognize the time of your visitation. This was not the first time that this devastation was visited on Israel. It occurred previously in 586 B.C. (actually twice before that). Nebuchadnezzar returned and leveled the city. Nebuchadnezzar killed or took captive the entire population.

Daniel was a part of those who went into captivity. He rose to the rank of prime minister under the Chaldeans and later under the Persians.

These religious leaders should have been reminded of this terrible time of destruction from their past; and they were well aware of the history of their nation. It was prophecy of hope and restoration and salvation. These were a people who went into captivity.

Daniel 9:24 "Seventy weeks are decreed about your people and your holy city, to finish the transgression, to put an end to sin, and to atone for iniquity, to bring in everlasting righteousness, to seal both vision and prophet, and to anoint a most holy place.

The Most Holy Place is the Temple.

The 490 years was going from the decree to the establishment of the Millennial kingdom.

This is a prophecy of the exact time of the kingdom. Also of the Prince.

The 69 weeks should have been calculated out—and maybe some of them did calculate it out. To do this requires a start point. You know when the end would occur; what would be the start point?

Daniel 9:25 Know therefore and understand that from the going out of the word to restore and build Jerusalem to the coming of an anointed one, a prince, there shall be seven weeks. Then for sixty-two weeks it shall be built again with squares and moat, but in a troubled time.

When Daniel delivered this prophecy, Jerusalem was still a wasteland. They had been promised a return and a restored nation. Jer. 29:10

Neh.

Points on the Timing of this

1. The 20th year of Artaxerxes Longimanus was 444 B.C. (this is disputed). Two returns prior to this time.
2. It is this decree that is the starting point of Daniel's prophecy. This begins the 69 weeks.
3. This constitutes the first terminus point of the prophecy. The coming of Messiah the Prince in 483 years.
4. The other terminus point is the Daniel 9:24; but why the difference between the two dates? Two different figures are given.
5. The time difference is because of Jesus' rejection. The Messiah was cut off at 69 weeks.
6. This is why the unaccounted for week seems lost
- 7.
8. So that extra 7 years, for the full 490 years, is the time of the Tribulation.
9. After these 7 years, Messiah will return.
10. This timing takes us to the triumphal entry of the Lord into Jerusalem.

This was to date from the issue of a decree, coming from a gentile ruler of the Persian empire.

That 70th week is the week of the Tribulation. A.D. 32.

The coming of Messiah the Prince is the first focal point.

This is a more appropriate place. 2 scholars reduced these years to days, hours, minutes secondo

Sir Robert Anderson The Coming Prince; and he calculated the exact number of days.

1. He used the Biblical norm of every years being 360 as was the custom 173,889 days.
2. If we adjust our calendar to reflect the correct telling of time, that takes u to
3. According to his calculations, the year was
4. Harold Horner recognized a problem with Anderson's start date; which was 445 B.C.; and there was additional evidence that this should have neen Horner made his own calculations.

1. Horner begins with Neh. 2:1;
2. But that verse does not specify which day of Nissan was pereed. We need the correct beginning point. That is important for an accurate prophecy. It could not have occurred
3. He gets creative or brilliant here. 1Nissan in 444 B.C. is March 4 or 5.
4. Based upon some calculations on the new moon du on that date.
5. Making this assumption is what he basis his calculations upon.
6. We determined that the Lord dies on Fridaykl
7. The true right date...
8. Our of enjoyment, Bobby has the numerical calculations of Honer

1. Horner used the 360 day year.
2. 173, 800 days.
3. The difference between 444 B.C. and our day was A.D. 33.... solar years.
4. Multiply solar years by 365.248
5. With all of this calculation, there are 25 days unaccounted for.
6. One comes to March 30 444 B.C., which in the time of Christ, was 10 Nissan 33, to the day.
7. This is the exact date. This is the terminus point for the 69 weeks.

1. The kingdom would not be instituted in the Church Age.
2. The final 7 years of Daniel's Old Testament prophecy, directed toward Israel specifically must remain a part of the Age of Israel. The church is not spiritual Israel. The Age of Israel will resume after the rapture of the church. The 7 years would be the Tribulation. S
3. The King returns and the kingdom is restored.
4. Thus the terminus point of the 70 years prophecy of Daniel.

Messiah the Prince came on the appointed dates to bring peace to Israel until He is crowned. Then peace will reign for the Millennium. This will be the day; the official presentation of Christ to Israel.

Israel should have known that Jesus was Messiah. Authenticated as the Messiah at His temple. His rejection negated the acceptance of his kingdom.

The people opted for war against their very own Messiah, and the results would be destruction. The light shines in the darkness, but the darkness.

Darkness is still over Israel; they have still rejected

So thorough was the destruction that one stone did not sit. There was a terrific slaughter; and the Jews were dispersed what would happen to Israel is still happening to Israel.

Antisemitism books

the 3rd Reich was all about exterminating the Jews.

Regathered Israel would be true.

The kingdom will be for Israel, but we will have a share in the rule of Israel.

Lesson #08

Luke 22: Life of Christ

11/17/2016 Thursday

Daniel's prophecy of the 490 years (the 70 weeks). This is all found in Daniel 9:24–25. It begins with the issue of Artaxerxes Longimanus. The calculation was covered last night. We came up with a total number of days and changed them into the Gregorian calendar; and we looked at leap years and solar years.

10 Nissan A.D. 33 is the day that we arrive upon. The angel Gabriel gave this to Daniel. The accuracy of Daniel's prophecy was so striking, which should have impressed everyone. Daniel had no idea what he was actually prophesying. Our Lord was rejected by Israel, however, at this time.

After 62 weeks Messiah would be cut off and have nothing. That gives us a problem. There are 7 weeks left off.

Dan 9:26 And after the sixty-two weeks, an anointed one shall be cut off and shall have nothing. And the people of the prince who is to come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary. Its end shall come with a flood, and to the end there shall be war. Desolations are decreed.

Is there a conflict here? Did Daniel get confused or lazy? The missing 7 weeks, which is 49 years.

The Missing 49 Years

1. The 70 weeks; the 7 weeks that began with the decree of Artaxerxes began when Nehemiah returned to Jerusalem.
2. Those 7 weeks are called the troublesome times. These are the times that Nehemiah completed a defensive perimeter and trench line in Jerusalem.
3. They totally rebuilt the walls and the streets of Jerusalem. Previously, Jerusalem had been leveled. Ezra rebuilt the Temple, but there was no wall for protection. Nehemiah needed the green light to go back and defend the Jews who were there. This rebuilding took 49 years.
4. They were troublesome times because of the opposition of the people surrounding Jerusalem.
5. This accounts for those 7 missing weeks.
6. The 62 weeks was a continuation of the finished 7 weeks. It was not necessary to write those 7 weeks down again.
7. The 69 weeks are continuing. Hence, the 7 weeks + the 62 weeks gives us the 69 weeks.
8. After the 7 weeks, the rebuilding of Jerusalem, the timetable picks up again. This continues to the time of Jesus entering into Jerusalem.
9. The cutting off in v. 26 refers to the time of our Lord's crucifixion a few days later. He will have nothing at that time. No friends, no material wealth, no resources.

But we still have one more week to account for. The 70th week. To understand this, a dispensational explanation is required.

What about That Final 7 Year Gap?

1. The fact of the rejection of the cross and the fulfillment of Jesus' prophecy; there is the destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70. First, the rejection of Christ on the cross. There requires a need to recognize a gap between the 69th and 70th weeks.
2. The kingdom was not instituted at the end of the 1st advent; and it has not been instituted to this moment. It will happen; but not yet.
3. The Messiah was cut off from His kingdom and from His people because of their rejection of Him in the 1st advent.
4. Then he returned to heaven; yet He promised to return.
5. Thus a dispensational interpretation is required for the entire prophecy to be understood.
6. A dispensational interpretation confirms a distinction between the church and Israel as separate dispensations.
7. The dispensational interpretation confirms that the Millennium is for national Israel.

8. It was not Daniel's prophecy that necessitated the gap between the 69th and 70th weeks. This prophecy just reflected the coming events. Prophecy does not drive the train. It reflects what will happen.
- 9.
10. The events of history show that a gap was introduced because of the Lord's rejection. So there is a week remaining; but that is postponed.
11. Hence 7 more years required until the kingdom. This would fulfill God's promises to David.

There Are 3 Considerations That Make this an Obvious Conclusion

1. There was not an immediate destruction of Jerusalem after the crucifixion. That is a gap of 37 years. Then there is no reason to understand that a longer gap might be involved. That gap is the Church Age. This is before the beginning of the 70th week. Logically, there is no reason to reject the gap.
2. If the 70th week followed immediately then the Messianic kingdom should have been set up 7 years later. It would be a mirage, a lie, or still yet future. No evidence that the Messianic kingdom has taken place. It is still pending.
3. Jesus made reference to the central point of the 70th week which will be the Olivet discourse. He indicates in this discourse that it would occur just prior to His return. It would announce His 2nd coming.

Stopping the Clock

1. It is essential to recognize that the time clock of the Age of Israel has stopped. It just stopped.
2. It stopped when Messiah was cut off.
3. It will be reactivated at a future time. After the completion of the Church Age.
4. As of yet, the final 7th week has not yet begun. It is still pending. That is a dispensational interpretation.

Dan 9:27 And he shall make a strong covenant with many for one week, and for half of the week he shall put an end to sacrifice and offering. And on the wing of abominations shall come one who makes desolate, until the decreed end is poured out on the desolator."

Jesus is standing over Jerusalem, and the pharisees are telling Him to shut up his followers. The Lord is weeping over Jerusalem. When He ceases, the crowd will go silent. The great vision that they had; the great prophecy vanished.

There is no temporal salvation. The people say, "Who is He?"

Matt 21:10 And when he entered Jerusalem, the whole city was stirred up, saying, "Who is this?"

The people were shaken. Bobby has been in an earthquake on Hawaii. Only lasted a minute, but the earth became like water. Land is not supposed to move like that. The world of these people was rocked; violently shaken. They went from elation to deflation in seconds. The burning question, who is this, if not the king to be crowned at this time? There was a radical change in attitude. Some became derisive. The Lord elicited all kinds of reactions. This was probably the most directly

Some understood what was going on, like Mary and Martha. But, for the most part, the others were stunned. Some of them rejected the Lord and returned to their rituals.

The people began searching for the Lord's true identity. How many times did He had to show Who He was? The nice answer to this question:

Matt. 21:11 And the crowds said, "This is the prophet Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee."

They call Him merely a prophet. Many were afraid of the religious leaders and of their power. They decide that they need to tone it down. This was a dangerous move for these people and now there was a little fear in them. They knew of Jesus' reputation. He was obviously someone; they knew of the miracles.

Prophets were men from God with a message. The Old Testament is filled with prophets. The Lord was making a prophecy of destruction right at this moment, so why not call Him a prophet?

Many others became highly incensed. The people believed that everything was a mess; and before them is Jesus; and they demote Him to a prophet. Crowds are fickle. You are only as good as your last good thing for a crowd. Any sports figure could confirm this. People love their sports heroes, but if they screw up, then they are booed.

The Lord being called a prophet was a demotion in the eyes of the people. Jesus on many occasions proved that he was the Messiah; and he had performed hundreds or thousands of times. The problem is not with the Lord; it is about ho they also said that He was from Galilee, which is an insure. The the Lord was born in Bethlehem/Jerusalem. The Jesus had just been screaming His name.

The people were quite amazed and who else had the power over death. So at His resurrection, great lovoo

Their religious leaders gave them noting but darkness.

The crowd had turned against the Lord; it would crucify Him.

This would be like the president elect not doing what he says he is going to do.

The Lord has been officially rejected and we have much more to learn.

Luke 19:41 And when he drew near and saw the city, he wept over it,

Luke 19:42 saying, "Would that you, even you, had known on this day the things that make for peace! But now they are hidden from your eyes.

Luke 19:43 For the days will come upon you, when your enemies will set up a barricade around you and surround you and hem you in on every side

Luke 19:44 and tear you down to the ground, you and your children within you. And they will not leave one stone upon another in you, because you did not know the time of your visitation."

Jesus does not sound like the Prince of Peace by His prophecies. He gazes at His beautiful city, which will be His capitol city; and here He weeps over the city. According to His prophecy, Jerusalem would be surrounded, besieged, starved, and the city level; and the survivors spread out over the world. Jesus knew all too well that this prophecy would occur 37 years later (He is speaking 10 Nissan A.D. 33).

Israel refused to recognize Him as Messiah; and on this particular day, many of them were calling out, "Hosanna, save us now." They were overwhelmed with emotion. The people overall rejected Him. In just a few days, the people would be calling out, crucify Him!

By the time He entered into the city, the attitude of the people had changed.

Matt 21:10 And when he entered Jerusalem, the whole city was stirred up, saying, "Who is this?"

Matt. 21:11 And the crowds said, "This is the prophet Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee."

They were altogether knocked off kilter based upon the Lord's prophecies. In their disappointment, they began to question His identity. "He's nothing more than a prophet." "Isn't He from Galilee? Should He come from Judah?"

Crows are notoriously fickle. The pro-athlete knows this well. The crowd had been impressed by His miracles. The raising of Lazarus. This should have revealed to them that He was God in the flesh. But nothing that they saw or experienced could break through this religious film over their eyes. Their tone became critical and mocking. Who is this? Oh, He's from Galilee.

People are still blinded by religion even today. Religion is all about works to please God; works that is pleasing to God. Everything that we do is what God wants, according to religion.

Biblical Christianity is quite different from those steeped in religion. There are many world religions who work hard at salvation. The most obvious religion which most epitomizes this is radical Islam. In some quarters of the White House, they will not call the actions of these religious types religion. But they have a political thought stream. People are terrorized and slaughtered. If it is evil, how could it be religion? That is the logic. Christianity today is often denigrated today and Islam celebrated. That which is good is touted as evil and vice versa today.

Is Bobby being racist? Is he speaking hate speech? But he is none of these things. Evil is evil and should be identified as such. Even religion; especially religion.

All people should hear the gospel of Jesus Christ; that should be our objective. We must oppose evil in every possible way. The Person of Jesus Christ is rejected outright and He will be crucified. He is hailed as the King; and 4 days later, He will be put on the cross.

Let's go back to the entry of the Lord. Emotions have gone from elation to deflation. The first thing the Lord did was go to the Temple.

Mark 11:11 And he entered Jerusalem and went into the temple. And when he had looked around at everything, as it was already late, he went out to Bethany with the twelve.

This first day is over. He returns to Bethany. He sleeps in Bethany that night and wakes up Monday, where He would perform two works of great judgment.

Mark 11:12–14 On the following day, when they came from Bethany, he was hungry. And seeing in the distance a fig tree in leaf, he went to see if he could find anything on it. When he came to it, he found nothing but leaves, for it was not the season for figs. And he said to it, "May no one ever eat fruit from you again." And his disciples heard it.

So Jesus gets up in the morning and He is walking back to Jerusalem. These are fig trees and the fruit of the trees was considered to be community.

A fig tree normally has figs first, and then leaves. So, there are leaves, and it might be true that there are figs.

The Metaphor of the Fig Tree

1. This fig tree is a metaphor which demands a literal interpretation. There is much by way of metaphor in the Bible, but these things must be interpreted literally.
2. This fig tree represents Israel. It suggests that there should be fruit on it.
3. Israel was an empty religious tree. The Lord was speaking to Israel through the tree.
4. The fault with this tree lay in its appearance. The Lord picked this tree out; it looked great. The outward appearance of growth belied the lack of it.
5. The fig tree characterized a hypocrite. Beautiful on the outside; empty on the inside. It was a symbol of Israel. The Jews showed such great promise; they overtly demonstrated their piety. But they were anything but righteous beneath the surface.

Many times during the Lord's ministry, these religious types were called hypocrites. They made a great show of religion on the exterior. The pharisees wanted power and money. A similarity to the hypocrisy present in Christianity today.

There are Christian activists who think that they are doing mountains of good works. They have no idea how to be regenerate. Being good in the human sense is not Christianity. The reason for their failure in production is pure religion; trying to impress and please God through one's own efforts apart from the Lord.

A Cursed Fig Tree as Apostate Israel

1. Many leaves on the fig tree usually means an early crop of figs.
2. The fig tree advertised the fact that
3. Israel had the leaves of religion but no fruit of spiritual production.
4. Israel had the Word of God; the Old Testament; the Temple. But they never put it all together. They opted for legalism instead of grace.
5. The presence of the leaves should have resulted in fruit
6. The result of no fruit was the rejection of Jesus Christ by the religious leaders of Israel.
7. Instead of a great harvest of souls, the chief priests and scribes
8. Therefore, only a remnant of Jews would be saved out of Christ's ministry on earth.
9. The curse of the fig tree was Christ's curse on Israel His people. This happened before in their history in 722 B.C. and in 586 B.C. as well.
10. Israel would not longer be the custodian of divine truth; or the chief priests. Are we as a nation opting for religion or worse? Gentile believers would preserve the Word of God.
11. With this curse, they will understand that they are on the brink of a new dispensation.

There was another judgment on this day.

Lesson #08

Luke 22: Life of Christ

11/20/2016 2Sunday

The Lord woke up on a Monday morning for passion week in Bethany and He walks to Jerusalem. This would be a day of judgment. He pronounced death on Jerusalem; which would be performed by the Roman legion.

Then the Lord punctuates this prophecy by a curse on a fig tree.

Mark 11:12–14 On the following day, when they came from Bethany, he was hungry. And seeing in the distance a fig tree in leaf, he went to see if he could find anything on it. When he came to it, he found nothing but leaves, for it was not the season for figs. And he said to it, "May no one ever eat fruit from you again." And his disciples heard it.

The fig tree was a symbol of Israel; and Israel would not usher in the Kingdom of God. The religious leaders and the people were cursed for their negative volition and their hypocrisy.

"May no one eat fruit from you again," the Lord said, because Israel would become a barren wasteland. This fig tree would never produce again; likewise nation Israel.

There is an important theological point to be made. Israel is finished; it will never again be involved in the historical plan of God.

Amillennialism believes that there is no millennium, even though they believe in a 2nd advent.

How to Properly Understand this Metaphor

1. The curse was not upon future generations of nation Israel. It was not on Israel in its future incarnation.
2. God does not mean that He will abandon the Jews from hereon. He would not replace His chosen people with others. This has been the foundation of antisemitism. We have replaced Israel, is a false doctrine.
3. This cursing is not the end of national Israel or of God's promises made to this nation.
4. He certainly cursed that generation of Jews as fruitless fig trees. The Lord cursed one fig tree; and it was the tree with lush leaves. That should have indicated fig production, but there were no figs.
5. He did not replace this ethnic people as a nation in His plan.
6. He did not substitute the church as spiritual Israel. The great prophecy of Daniel deals with the future of Israel. Messiah would be cut off at 69 weeks. The decree of 444 B.C. was the starting point. There is one remaining week. That is the dispensational understanding of that prophecy.
7. This was only a curse on this generation of Jews who rejected their Messiah; and it was a curse for a very specific period of time. Would this curse carry over to a later time? Yes.
8. God's promises to the nation concerning an earthly kingdom under the Messiah; but the Jews rejected this kingdom. God's promises were unilateral and unconditional. God cannot change. God never changes. God's Word cannot be altered. If God's Word could be altered, then we have nothing to depend upon; and God would be flawed. God made promises to Abraham and to David, his greater son; and Abraham's Greater Son as well. We cannot challenge God's immutability.
9. They would be superceded for a period of time by the church; but there would not be a disappearance of the Jews. The Lord referred to this generation as vipers; sneaky people who would sneak up and bite you.

So, nation Israel is being temporarily set aside, awaiting for a generation of Jews who would accept the Lord.

If this curse of the fig tree represents Israel, constituted the permanent judgement of God, which appears to repudiate the promises to David, then all of the prophets would be liars. All of this would have been deceptions to deceive Israel for many generations.

Luke 19:43–44 For the days will come upon you, when your enemies will set up a barricade around you and surround you and hem you in on every side and tear you down to the ground, you and your children within you. And they will not leave one stone upon another in you, because you did not know the time of your visitation."

Regardless of the new administration; our nation is still at a crossroads.

Maybe we will be disciplined in the future. Maybe Christians will be persecuted. We do not know. But as individuals, we have nothing to worry about.

All of this was done within the earshot of the disciples so they could put everything together. The fig tree would disappear for awhile. The disciples of the Lord would be preserved for awhile; and they would introduce the Church Age. They had a purpose; and we have a purpose on this earth as well.

They move on toward Jerusalem on the 2nd day. They go to the Temple and the Lord would cleanse the Temple later on in the day.

Mark 11:15–16 And they came to Jerusalem. And he entered the temple and began to drive out those who sold and those who bought in the temple, and he overturned the tables of the money-changers and the seats of those who sold pigeons. And he would not allow anyone to carry anything through the temple.

Jesus did this earlier in His ministry, removing all merchant activities from His Temple. He threw the money changers out of the Temple.

Mark has the most complete coverage of this cleansing. He enters the Temple and casts out those buying and selling in the Temple. The Lord threw everyone out and then stood at the door, daring anyone to come back. The Lord was strong. He was not the weakling portrayed in all of these paintings and illustrations. He had tremendous natural strength in His humanity. He was not a sissy. This is a man to be reckoned with. A man you do not want to challenge to a fight.

The Temple was designed for the prayer and to teach by means of the sacrifices; but it had become a place of merchandising. Passover lambs were in high demand; and therefore, fetched a massive price. A lot of mutton to be sold. The Temple was a central market. The place of worship had become a place of business. The Temple had become corrupted.

Annas was in charge of this very lucrative business. Annas was the high priest of Israel. He was virtually in charge of the priestly cast in that day. Annas and Caiaphas are both involved in the crucifixion of the LORD. Annas was super wealthy; he was a political animal with much power and wealth as a result. He represented all that was evil.

When the Lord entered into the Temple, He immediately began to clean it out.

All of these people with money stacked on the tables. People were running everywhere to recapture their animals. Pandemonium in the Temple.

Jesus cleaned them out and then stationed Himself to prevent further desecration. The money changers were thrown out and not allowed to return. This did not endear the Lord Jesus Christ to the priests and religious types.

This nation still has a future.

Jesus in returning to Jerusalem went directly to the debased Temple. The Lord was incensed by what He saw. He carried out a cleansing of the sewer that the Temple had become. He enters into the Temple and He drives out those who fouled the Temple. The Temple had become a place of merchandising. Annas was the man in charge; and it was called the bizarre of Annas, and he was virtually in charge of the priestly cast. He had great political power, which he very much relished. We see in this man the epitome of hypocritical religion. He used his position to gain power and wealth, at the expense of the truth, and without thought to the needs of the people.

When Jesus came into the Temple, He overturned the tables of the money changers. Our peaceful, loving Jesus Christ was quite violent. He walked up to the money changers' tables and He flipped them over with great strength. Doves and lambs were cut loose and running all over the place. The religious businessmen were horrified. They were very afraid of this Person Who was destroying their business.

Mark 11:15 And they came to Jerusalem. And he entered the temple and began to drive out those who sold and those who bought in the temple, and he overturned the tables of the money-changers and the seats of those who sold pigeons.

The common people were enjoying this scene.

After the Lord Jesus Christ cleared them out, He stationed Himself at the gate of the Temple, to forbid any further desecration of the Temple. He exercised divine power and no one would cross the threshold with Him standing there.

Mark 11:16 And he would not allow anyone to carry anything through the temple.

The beautiful juxtaposition of the Lord cleansing the Temple and later as the Lamb on the cross.

Mark 11:17 And he was teaching them and saying to them, "Is it not written, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations'? But you have made it a den of robbers."

This was a racket. The sellers had animals which the people had to buy.

These types of rackets exist today. Scam artists on television asking you to send money in. Some of these men have been caught and prosecuted for these sorts of actions.

People in Berachah Church have been bilked out of money by scamming Christians. If some wonderful believer comes to you with a scheme too good to be true, it probably is. Remarkable increase of your income promised. They prey on the gullible and greedy.

These people in the Temple held a monopoly on the selling of holy animals; so they could charge a lot of money for them. People must have cheered when the animals of the moneychangers were thrown out.

The Lord Is the Shekinah Glory

1. The Lord looked these people in the eye and pronounced them judgment.
2. What authority did He want to convey as Israel's God. The Temple was His house.
3. The Lord had the authority from the Father to possess and to safeguard His Own house. He was God, but He acted with the authority from God the Father.
4. He pointed to Himself as the God of Israel. "I am the God of Israel."
5. This is the Presence of God that led Israel throughout all the centuries. By cleansing this Temple, He is proclaiming it His; where He has lived all this time.
6. This is the One Israel had worshiped all these centuries.
7. Christ was the presence of God Who lived with His people since they became a nation. It was His nation.
8. This was a statement that the Lord was none other than the Shekinah Glory of Israel. Jesus Christ is the One dwelling with His people. He was the Shekinah Glory residing in the Tabernacle and then in the Temple.

The Lord is the 2nd Person of the Trinity and He is standing before the people. "Who are you praying to? Who are you sacrificing to? Me!"

The cursing of the fig tree belongs with the cleansing of the Temple. He claimed to be the omnipresent God of Israel's history.

God is everywhere. To show His people how much He loved them, He deemed to localize His Presence with them.

Where Else Had He Been as the Shekinah Glory?

1. He was with Israel during the exodus; He was in the cloud by day and in the pillar of fire by night. The visible presence of the 2nd Person of the Trinity.
2. The voice speaking to Moses from the burning bush.
3. He was the voice telling Moses how to build.
4. Also true with the theophanies and the Angel of the Lord appearances.
5. He came to Abraham's tent.
6. He wrestled with Jacob.
7. He had always been God dwelling on earth with His people.

The people knew exactly what He meant.

This is a week where the drama builds. All of His ministry is condensed here. The Lord Jesus Christ shows something abundantly clear in His ministry. He pronounces clearly Who He is. He tells the people and the religious leaders exactly Who He is.

He quotes an Old Testament Scripture.

Mark 11:17 And He was teaching them and saying to them, "Is it not written, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations'? But you have made it a den of robbers."

He says, "My house will be called a house of prayer." He says this 11 Nissan A.D. 33. He has demonstrated His dwelling Presence in many instances, with Moses, in the Temple, with His people. He localized His Presence with them.

When the Temple was destroyed in 586 B.C., so did the Presence of the Lord. The preincarnate Shekinah Glory was there in His house and He needed to clear up the house. There is no question as to Whom the Temple belonged. He claimed His right to that building on that day. That is what made this day so dramatic. They all understood exactly what He was saying.

"Are you claiming that this is Your house?" Unequivocally, Jesus had authority over His house. It was clear. No one would dare come near Him. No one would dare try to enter into that gate. He stood there guarding His house.

He adds the words all the nations. Mark wrote his gospel many years later and he lived among many gentiles and they are included here in a place that no longer existed. They would also worship with Israel when a Temple is in existence. Ezekiel tells us when that Temple would come into existence. Nation Israel would receive their promised kingdom at that time; and they would worship the 2nd Person of the Trinity; and we will as well. Gentiles and Jews will worship the same Lord.

The religious authorities were incensed. The pharisees hated the gentiles and they hated their half-brothers, the Samaritans. These people were smoking mad. By this cleansing, Jesus was claiming higher authority than the pharisees of the Temple.

Mark 11:18 And the scribes and the chief priests heard. And they sought how they might destroy Him, for they feared Him, because all the crowd was astonished at His doctrine.

The scribes and chief priests heard all about this and they were incensed.

They did not haul Him out of the Temple right then. They were afraid of Him and of the people. His power was evident and the people were enthralled by this Man. He exposed the scribes and chief priests as religious thieves.

If they grabbed Him and took Him out, that would have made them appear defensive. These are calculating evil men. These men were the picture of legalistic religious types. There are plenty like them today. These murderous people were looking just for the right moment to strike. Islamic terrorists are the most core Islamic believers that there are. They are fanatically religious. They are dedicated to destroying Christianity and taking the world for Islam. There is not a lot of difference between them and the scribes and chief priests here. This Man was cutting into their profits and power. It was not the right moment to kill Him while all the people are listening to Him.

The people are astonished at His teaching.

Verb: ἐκπλήσσω (ἐκπλήσσω) [pronounced ehk-PLACE-so], which means, 1) to strike out, expel by a blow, drive out or away; 2) to cast off by a blow, to drive out; 2a) commonly, to strike one out of self-possession, to strike with panic, shock, astonish; 3) to be struck with amazement, astonished, amazed. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #1605.

The content of His teaching is not revealed. No one had anyone teach like Him.

Mark 11:19 And when evening came, He went outside the city.

This takes us to a day of greater controversy. 12Nissan A.D. 33, Tuesday. The disciples will catch sight of the fig tree that was cursed the day before.

Mark 11:20 And passing along early, they saw the fig tree withered from the roots.

This had been a beautiful tree and it was filled with foliage. And the next day, it is dead. How often do we see a tree die overnight? This fig tree died overnight.

Mark 11:21 And remembering, Peter said to Him, Rabbi, behold, the fig tree which You cursed has withered.

They see the fig tree dead from the roots on up. There was nothing left. Being reminded of this, they said, "Rabbi, check out the tree that you cursed."

This is failed client nation Israel. From the roots on up. The religious leaders should have been the fruit of this tree. The tree itself, the nation itself; the common people, it was all gone. The religious leaders. A rejecting generation. This generation would produce no fruit. No fruit for many generations to come.

The Disciples Standing at the Cursed Fig Tree

1. Here are the disciples staring at this fig tree and it is dead and they are stunned. They are standing there as the remnant of that generation. Israel is cursed; they are not.
2. They will constitute the first of all believing Jews brought into the Church Age. This fig tree tells them about the future.
3. They will be excluded from the concept of the withered fig tree. Not all Israel has been cursed. The fig tree represents unbelieving rejecting Israel.
4. The disciples will be productive, unlike the fig tree, unlike the nation. They will realize what an advantage for the disciples. They would not be a part of the withered fig tree generation. We live today in a generation that is degenerate. The US no longer has a coming generation of greatness. Where are we going as a nation? We are not a part of this generation curse. We are exactly like those disciples standing looking at the fig tree.

5. The fig tree of Israel held such promise and they would, in the future, hold great promise for what is to follow. The generation of the regathered nation; and they will produce fruit at that time.

The Lord uses the fig tree as an object lesson.

Mark 11:22 And answering, Jesus said to them, Have faith of God.

This is the critical message for the disciples at that time. Faith sums it up. Their faith is the basis of their strength. They must have faith in God no matter what. They are looking at a curse on the nation. It would be destroyed in A.D. 70. No matter what happens, have faith in God. This is not saving faith. That has already happened to the disciples, once and for all time.

What about faith, what does it mean in this context?

Heb. 11:1 Now faith is the reality of what is hoped for, the proof of what is not seen.

This is not a definition of faith but a description of what faith does. They are to express faith towards God. How easily this word is thrown around. What does it mean?

Faith in the Christian Life

1. Faith is the assurance, the confidence in, the conviction of things unseen. Humanists laugh at faith.
2. Faith produces confidence in things which are not visible. Everyone at one time or another uses faith as a system of perception. We have all believed in something we have never seen before. No one has ever seen the beginning of the universe or an instance of macro evolution. It is a system of faith. It is based on facts that can change and which have many interpretations.
3. With faith, there can be no doubt; there is no room for doubt where faith exists.
4. When there is doubt, it is not the faith the Jesus Christ commends right here. If you have doubts about the Christian life? Do you question God and His plan? Do you ever say, why did God let this happen to me?
5. So many Christians do not understand the concept of faith and they have no confidence in the Christian life. They may have some confidence in their salvation, but little else. Christian faith is not some unreasonable assumption which lacks any basis in reality. Faith is not an illogical set of facts pulled together without questioning their reality or basis. Christian faith contains evidence of reality. It is religion that has faith that lacks any connection to reality. People brought up chanting certain words from their youth on up. But they are unable to give you a coherent account of what they believe or why they believe it. Have you asked someone, "What do you actually believe?" So many times, this is blind faith. When these questions cannot be answered, then it is blind faith. Who and what is the unseen God? That requires some faith and some confidence. What happens in so many churches is not the faith to be found here.

Bobby read a fascinating story about George Whitfield. An amazing person who spoke to millions of people on two continents. "What do you believe," he asked a Christian. The man said, "I believe what the church believes." "What does the church believe?" "The church believes what I believe." "What do you both believe?" "The same as each other." This is the type of circular reasoning of blind faith. This is the unreasoning drivel that passes for Christian faith today. No knowledge of what or why they have faith. So there is no real reliance on God. Truly; that is religious emptiness. So many believers are filled with religious emptiness.

Lesson #08

Mark 11: Life of Christ

11/30/2016 Wednesday

The condition of nation USA. We may think that Bobby is very pessimistic about our nation. Divine establishment has disappeared in many places. But he has great hope in our nation. The spiritual growth is important.

A short letter from upstate NY. We have no idea who is positive and who is not; and what the impact is. Claudia Penny's victory. His son is on the church prayer list. They both have the pamphlet In Harm's Way. The grey-heads came out to vote. She begins each meeting with the pledge of allegiance and a prayer in Christ's name. One little enclave of blessing by association. How many towns and cities and places are like this?

Mark 11:19 And when evening came, He went outside the city.

The Lord and His disciples have spent the night in Bethany and now on Tuesday, they return to Jerusalem. They pass that same fig tree that the Lord had cursed. As they pass it, an alert Peter noticed that it was entirely withered.

Mark 11:20 And passing along early, they saw the fig tree withered from the roots.

Mark 11:21 And remembering, Peter said to Him, Rabbi, behold, the fig tree which You cursed has withered.

The disciples were not going to be judged like the nation. They would begin the Church Age as apostles, something that they had only an inkling of understanding. So they needed faith to take them through.

So Jesus begins to teach them.

Mark 11:22 And answering, Jesus said to them, Have faith of God.

The faith expressed is assurance; confidence in God's plan and in their place in it. It is easy to have confidence in Him. They had to have confidence in the invisible Jesus Christ. The disciples would be left to their own devices. Their faith must never waiver.

When there is doubt, it is not the faith being commended here. He is saying, "You cannot doubt what He has in store for you."

What is the faith that the Lord is speaking of here?

Faith and a Personal God

1. Christian faith has an object; in this case, it is a real and living person. That is fundamental.
2. Such faith is not some unreasoning assumption concerning vague unseen things, which is what so many people think of God. They think of Him as a vague, unseen force. We have a personal God with tangible attributes.
3. Faith is not grounded in an illogical set of facts. The eastern religions. They are pointless; they go nowhere. And there is no evidence of reality. Where is the evidence of transmigration of souls? Still, they believe it.
4. Faith rests on divine testimony of a personal God. We believe in a personal living God; Who has given us His testimony. Much different from pantheism.
5. The conviction of faith is held on grounds of testimony. In a court of law, you may have a number of things that you think about a case. You believe this or that. You hear the facts; you hear testimony.
6. The Bible views faith convictions as certainties; and equates them with knowledge. Faith is connected to knowledge, to truth.
7. Faith does not spring from self-authenticating mystical experience, like in eastern religions and religion in general. Religious faith is believing that your works will somehow commend you to God. That is faith and its object is false.
8. Belief rests on the testimony of a God Who cannot lie.
9. The testimony of Jesus Christ; the Old Testament prophets. The Church Age Apostles. There is the testimony of God Himself. Acts 10:39–43
10. This divinely inspired testimony (the Bible) is God's Own witness to us. 1Cor. 2:10–13 1Thess. 2:–13
11. To receive this testimony is to certify that God is true. When you have faith in truth; then the witness is worthy of being believed.
12. To reject it is to make God a liar. 1John 5:10

Another Set of Points

1. Faith is not just a matter of believing certain divinely inspired facts or even doctrines.
2. Although these things must certainly be present as a foundation for faith in the Person of God.
3. We believe in a real Person; we have faith in God Who is.

4. So faith is confidence in Him. The reality of His Person. This is what gets to some people—God cannot be seen or touched or taken in by the senses. Do you believe that someone loves you? They might and you might see evidence of it; but you cannot see the love itself.
5. Faith is confidence in him; the reality of His person. When we express doubt, you have doubted the Person of God.
6. The Person of God stands behind all truth and all reality. Sometimes, we have a tendency to personify doctrine. But doctrine is our understanding of the Person of God. But at the base of it all is God Himself.
7. All the promises and doctrines that we believe by faith are His promises; His doctrines, personally guaranteed by Him.
8. He personally is the object of our faith. Our faith is ironclad because of Who it is that we place our faith in.
9. To believe in God means that we place our confidence and trust in Whom He claims to be. How much do you trust that person you think you love? We can place our trust in God because of Who He is. We place confidence in God; we trust that the Lord provides our salvation. We trust in Him for that salvation. We trust that we are assured of eternal security. The Holy Spirit is our infallible Teacher. There is trust placed in the pastor-teacher; and that is a huge responsibility that Bobby takes very seriously. We can put our trust that we can know the doctrine. We know that God is our master. We confidently place our life in His care. We know that God is our guide in everything. We know that we can follow wherever He leads. We can rely upon Him for the satisfactory outcomes of our circumstances.

When you invest your money, you have faith in the investor.

More Points on Faith

1. Faith presupposes a certain amount of the object of that faith. You must have some idea about what you have faith in.
2. The more knowledge of God, of God the Son and God the Holy Spirit, the more belief, the more trust, the more confidence; and their functions within the Godhead.
3. So knowledge is definitely necessary; facts are invaluable to orient to reality.
4. Without knowledge, trust may be easily undermined.
5. Through a growing panoply of truth from the Scripture, the infallible Word of God resident in our souls, we come to accept facts about the Person of God.
6. Real facts; a real Person. We have these things. We know a real Person. Confidence in things unseen that work out in our Christian lives. Our faith is not misplaced when it is in the Living God.
7. This act of relying upon the facts and truths and promises in the Bible centers on the truth of God Himself. We trust in the foundation of all Bible doctrine, God Himself. So faith rests upon the Person of God, Who gives us the doctrine to trust.

There is that particular type of faith; faith rest. When you claim a promise and come up with a doctrinal rationale. Why do you have faith that it will work? Because it is God's promise. God works it all together. It is a fantastic system. Every believer must develop.

God is in control of all circumstances; and we trust in that fact. Adversity and prosperity can lead us in all sorts of directions in the Christian life.

This faith is necessary in order for them to complete their work. For whatever is born of God overcomes the world.

Faith rest and being false doctrine with the Spirit is how the believer lives in the world as a believer. They are looking at a nation that is going to die; but they have something great to present to the world. There are no doubts of the plan of God; no doubts of God's power to accomplish the impossible. With such faith, Jesus Christ says, the disciples would be able to do miraculous things. They would be able to do the greater than just a few miracles. They would be able to move mountains. It may seem impossible, even with the greatest earth movers.

Mountains can be removed through the active use of faith rest. These are obstacles in their lives. And there is one additional resource.

Mark 11:23 I assure you: If anyone says to this mountain, 'Be lifted up and thrown into the sea,' and does not doubt in his heart, but believes that what he says will happen, it will be done for him.

This does not mean that we can become faith healers; and this does not mean that we can decide to win a million dollars. We can be in His plan or maybe not. There is God's plan and His will for our lives. We move forward in the Christian walk. We just need to keep growing; keep moving forward. It will happen. The problem is, people do not have this faith.

Faith rest is the way of confidence in the Christian way of life. Believing it will be granted. The believer has the ability to apply faith rest and to move mountains. This is not merely some miraculous thing. This is removing the obstacles which stand in our way of the plan of God in our life.

Lesson #08

Mark 11: Life of Christ

12/1/2016 Thursday

The curse of the fig tree represents the curse on Israel. The disciples would not be caught up in client nation Israel and its destruction. They were not fully aware that Israel, as a nation, would be destroyed, while they are teaching Christ.

Jesus encourages them as they stand in front of the tree. We do not always realize what we have at our fingertips when it comes to prayer.

Mark 11:22–23 And answering, Jesus said to them, "Have faith of God. I assure you: If anyone says to this mountain, 'Be lifted up and thrown into the sea,' and does not doubt in his heart, but believes that what he says will happen, it will be done for him.

So Jesus brings this to a conclusion.

Mark 11:24 Therefore, I tell you, all the things you pray and ask for--believe that you have received them, and you will have them.

People often understand this to mean, If I am going to pray, then I am going to get what I want. They make it personal, which is not the context here. This is not a personal request here. The key is, have faith in God. The context is the plan of God as related to nation Israel. There are obstacles here; huge mountains. This is much greater than some personal request. It is not some miraculous event; this is even greater than some miracle. People are always impressed with the idea of miracles. The power to change things that seemingly cannot be changed.

Christ performed miracles as a presentation of....

People now crave the fantastic thing of the miracle. People go personal immediately; the 10 million dollar bank account or marrying the perfect woman. They see in mountain moving a quick fix to problems in their lives.

Moving Mountains

1. Moving mountains is metaphorical for us.
2. It is not the capability to produce a miraculous event, like tossing a mountain into the sea.
3. Or, it is not expecting everything to turn out as we expect or want it to turn out. If I pray for it, it will turn out the way I want; isn't that the meaning of this prayer?
4. Our faith must always be balanced with God's plan. Mountains will not move simply because we want them to move. The disciples understood, to some degree, that they had a mission.
5. The disciples performed miracles as their credentials showed. They must rely in their lives in the faith rest commended to them.

Moving Mountains Part ii

1. Moving mountains represents faith in the plan of God.
2. It is the attitude that, with God, nothing is impossible.
3. We have faith rest to carry through with this doctrinal promise. When you have faith rest and the object is God, how can you be pessimistic?
4. Without faith rest, there is no basis for confidence that the plan of God will come to fruition. Without faith rest, you have no confidence. Terrible for the believer to be right here with the plan of God, and yet we doubt it. God is not doing what we think He should be doing; so we have our doubts. Bobby will have a lot to say about stuff on the national level.
5. With faith rest, you will not doubt the plan of God. Faith rest is developed as we developed spiritually. The more faith that we develop, the more that can be utilized.

Bobby has watched a lot of football in his life. He has watched many games a minute or so before the end; and it turns out that it is far from over in those final couple minutes.

Faith in God can move mountains, producing great things.

In Scripture, mountains often signify obstacles in the plan of God. Removing them is the removal of obstacles to the plan of God. Nothing can stop the plan of God. But we must be a part of it. God's plan marches on; it always will, it never stops. What a great moment when you realize that you are a cog in God's great plan.

Bobby wonders how many people listened to the election, praying and using faith rest?

When the mountain goes into the sea, you no longer see it. Israel was now under God's curse to be destroyed; just as the fig tree withered overnight. That represented the plan of God moving forward without Israel for a period of time.

Israel will be destroyed because they became an obstacle to the plan of God rather than a facilitator. God would provide a new direction in His plan once this obstacle was removed.

Jesus tells the disciples that nation would be set aside; and have faith in God. What about our own nation?

Moving mountains sometimes means moving the opposition out of the way. Faith rest does not preclude hardship; it does not preclude difficulties, in your life or in the lives of those in your nation. The solution is found in the plan of God.

The Plan of God and the Disciples

1. Here, moving the mountain of this generation of Jews out of the way was a necessity for the plan of God to move forward. They had become an obstacle.
2. When the mountain was moved, it would
3. The disciples, soon to be Apostles, would not see the scope of God's plan for the new dispensation.
4. They would move many mountains, just as the Lord said, "Have faith in God."

The Lord has made this mountain-moving statement before. We studied it in Matt. 17:20. Casting out demons was the context. The ongoing confrontation of the Angelic Conflict presents the greatest of the mountains to move.

As we apply Bible doctrine, we move mountains. This is as big as it gets. Our mission is to fight as angelic warriors.

More Moving Mountains

1. In our context, faith rest and moving mountains are connected to the subject of prayer.
2. This is the method of moving mountains.

3. We make requests of God to use His power to do the heavy lifting and remove the obstacles in HIS way.
4. Prayer and faith rest. This connection is very...

What we are seeing in this country is no doubt an answer to prayer.

Confidence in His faith and doctrines. What we have together; and altogether, they solve the big problems. Matt. 21:22 all things you ask believing, you will receive.

You must discern that a mountain

More Mountain Points

1. A mountain, an obstacle, is discerned by understanding and applying knowledge from Bible doctrine. It all seems You may know that something is wrong in our country and not be able to pinpoint it. If you understand the laws of divine establishment, then we get what is going on.
2. And then, once discerned, directing prayer under the filling of the Holy Spirit toward the removal of that obstacle. Sometimes, that you pray to move may not move out of the way in a generation.
3. And then faith rest provides the confidence that God will answer your prayer. You must have the patience to wait for the answer.
4. God's answer will be commensurate with your ideas? His answer will actually be commensurate with His plan.
5. You may not even realize just which mountain was removed. We have been praying for a very long time for a change in this country. Well, that has come to pass.
6. Nothing is impossible inside of God's plan. What may seem impossible to us is not impossible for Him. Prayer is His trigger mechanism.
7. This goes without saying, the power of prayer is awesome; it is named here as an earth mover.
8. The focus is on utilizing God's power to move mountains. Too many believers want to get out there and move a mountain with a shovel.

That is the meaning of the phrase, have faith in God. That is how obstacles are cleared out of the way. This is why prayer is so critical for our client nation. We must never be discouraged by what is happening around us; or take our eyes off of God when things are going well.

We must pray for the removal of this opposition to the progress of our nation; even though this may seem impossible. The encouragement is, it is not; prayer can still be answered. The results may be divine discipline. We pray for the deliverance of the nation and maybe the answer is divine discipline.

Strategy was a book that many had to read. The WWI involved the slaughter of many enemies. However, we need pray for the deliverance of our nation.

We have a great opportunity to apply this verse in our national life. We can see anti-divine establishment thinking all around us. If we can read the trends, this election exposed some very discouraging trends. Just because of the election, not everything is going to be great.

Notice the anti-establishment backlash to the election result. Notice the large population negative toward the Christian community. We are heading down the road of socialism, ignoring the rule of law. This can be reversed. Bobby is not pessimistic; he is confident that God can turn this nation around. There must be a return to establishment principles.

2Chron. 30:9b is a promise for any client nation. We always have the opportunity to turn around. We do not know; but as believers, we can preserve our nation. There will always be problems and wrong thinking. That does not lessen the fact that we are a client nation. Bobby tries to facilitate the solutions through the teaching of Bible doctrine. There were those in Israel who were faithful; but there were many who were not. There was a lot of negative volition at the same time.

Bobby needs to report to us what is going on in our nation; and report the trends of history. Whatever happens, we are still under God's plan. We should believe that which we ask to be granted in order for it to be realized.

Lesson #08

Mark 11: Life of Christ

12/4/2016 1Sunday

Jesus cursed the fig tree, and that tree represents national Israel. Israel had been cursed by her Messiah. Israel was a failed client nation to God because of her negative volition and her rejection of the Messiah. The curse would destroy that generation in A.D. 70 and Israel would be removed as a client nation. Also, a new age would be ushered in, the Church Age. During the Church Age, many gentiles client nations would come and go. The US is one of those client nations.

The disciples were distressed about the events which were in front of them. They would be founders of this new dispensation. There would be great obstacles in the way of the disciples for these upcoming years, like at no other time.

Christianity is just a name given to principles and doctrines related to God and Jesus Christ.

There would be great obstacles before the disciples in this time. Moving mountains requires faith rest; and that is related to prayer as well. Mountains are moved in one sole and circumstance of the faith rest drill. There is nothing which can stand in the way of believers in the Church Age.

Mark 11:23 I assure you: If anyone says to this mountain, 'Be lifted up and thrown into the sea,' and does not doubt in his heart, but believes that what he says will happen, it will be done for him.

These prayers are not personal circumstance prayers, for our own lives personally. We use prayer in our daily lives for personal requests; but this metaphor is better applied to the purpose of the disciples in the Church Age. The disciples would face many obstacles in the Church Age when it comes to faith rest and the power of prayer. Today, believers have a great opportunity to use this verse in our own national life. The obstacles to the plan of God are many in this client nation to God. We easily observe the mountain of anti divine establishment thinking that is all around us. The anti-establishment backlash, the lawlessness, the threats, the riots. The divisions between Christians in this country and those who believe in the divine establishment thinking and the people who think socialism is the answer.

We are a nation today in trouble. We are ignoring the rule of law in so many areas; and the solution to this is found in this passage. Maybe prayer has been answered in a tangible way; but we will see what the results are.

A great obstacle threatening our client nation status. There is a war between the concept of nationalism, a divine institution, instituted by God, at the tower of Babel; and internationalism which is a Satanic concept begun at the tower of Babel. This has resulted in a tremendous battle for the soul of this nation. Nationalism and internationalism are mutually exclusive.

All around the world and exemplified by Europe, there has been a concerted drive toward internationalism and globalism. Sovereign nations are under attack. Borders there are under attack. The 28 states have surrendered their national interests. This began as a national economic union but is now devolved into anti-nationalism in all respects. There are no controls of traveling from country to country. They have coined a word inclusive; and they have called this a great value. Internationalism is designed to blur national identities.

There are other aspects to this. Economic internationalism. The EU has its own currency. This further blurs the sovereignty of the individual nations. Banks are no longer tied to national interests but to internationalism. Internationalism is a form of socialism and it lowers the standard of living.

The old nations of the European union; and the tide of immigration refuses to assimilate into Europe and they bite the hand that feeds them with regards to their national interests. They look to destroy the national fabric.

All international efforts are doomed to fail. The underlying reason for this scourge is, Europe has rejected Christianity in favor of man and humanism. They do not recognize the evil that is man. They are reaping the consequences of the evil of man.

Unfortunately, we see this trend of internationalism in our country and we have been placing the interests of others. We think of all cultures as equal and should be treated as such; which is a mistake. The laws of immigration have been lax and unenforced. This was a huge issue in the recent presidential election. The internationalists opposed all the nationalism.

Evangelism is fine; spreading socialism and humanism is not. They mock divine institutions. And God will not be mocked. Many Christians have abandoned spiritual growth and have dedicated their lives to good works. Grace is the bedrock of Christianity. So the laws of divine establishment have been replaced by the false doctrines of internationalism and inclusiveness.

Diversity and inclusiveness are buzzwords for internationalism. This is not racial. Race is not an issue. Culture and economics are the issues. Diversity is not what it seems on the surface. It is the latest scheme of internationalism. In the name of internationalism, there is a push of massive immigration. Also, maximum tax income to support the influx of all these people. Our own monies are used against us.

The influx is welcomed by a party which gains power through their votes.

The Problems

Christians do not understand the divine institution of nationalism very well.

1. Diversity includes the concept of an international citizenship. Diversity is the buzzword to sell internationalism. It includes the concept of a global citizenship.
2. The surrender of national sovereignty to extra-national concerns.
3. That is essentially the surrender of the social compact of a national entity.
4. This social compact is the agreement by which people choose to live together for mutual benefit. To secure mutual benefits and to regulate relationships among citizens. This is the very basis of nationalism, the agreement by which people choose to live together, so seek mutual protection and welfare.
5. That compact is being submerged by those who refuse to assimilate. They become a part of that social compact. There is an influx of millions of those who have not and will not assimilate into the American culture.

This is the key to nationalism.

Lesson #08

Mark 11: Life of Christ

12/4/2016 2Sunday

How did Bobby go from mountain moving to the great obstacle and problem in our nation today, which is internationalism. One, we have faith in God, faith rest, and the other is prayer, for the removal of the obstacles that we have as a nation today. The context of this passage deals with great obstacles.

The example is the 4th divine institution, nationalism. All of these divine institutions are under great attack in our nation. They are all under attack particularly in this past election.

The divine institution designed by God for client nations to function in this world, as the center of evangelism. Nationalism is critical because it is under attack. Bobby is not finished with this.

The points above are repeated and then added to.

6. What we see is the attempt at a border less world; an international world; without citizens and without a national compact.
7. The world of diverse ideas that do not mix, which are diametrically opposed on religious and ideological and economic grounds
8. So under those conditions a social contract is not possible. What is the name of a recent series. Divergence.
9. In order to govern such diversity on a massive scale, must take into account their massively differing ideas.
10. Even when these groups are absolutely and violently opposed to one another.
11. There is not melding under those circumstances into a social compact where there is no common ground. Diversity is how nationalism is under attack. And when you find anything wrong with diversity, you will be called a great many names.
12. Each new group is holding on to its old culture, developing into enclaves that refuse to become part of the fabric of national solidarity.
13. The breakup of a national solidarity, and WWII was the last time we witnessed such solidarity in the United States. They don't try to band together with us, even when we give them a free ride on our tax dollars. The solution to internationalism, is current citizens must be forced to accommodate diversity, which results in tyranny. You must be forced to accept things that you do not believe, which is the hallmark of internationalism. The old citizens are forced to accept things which are antithetical to their customs and laws; and terrorism is used to force us to accept these antithetical views upon us.

Nationalism Versus Internationalism

1. The rights and privileges of citizenship are exclusive to the nation contract. God separated the parties in the
2. Constitutional government succeeds only in a nation with a social compact where the just powers are derived from the consent of the governed. This is who we are; but the diverse group does not want this.
3. This can only occur where the governed give mutual consent and have mutual interests.
4. Be definition and by actions, the diverse do not give mutual consent. They consent to nothing but self-interest. They will even act to destroy national interests. Each new group seeks only its own benefits. The government makes exemptions for the groups that it likes. The expanding influence of Sharia law. If this continues, we will degenerate to chaos and anarchy. That state of affairs is most true in an internationalist state ruled by unelected bureaucrats. This is the model of EU. It is internationalism; it is a mess. God does not allow internationalism to destroy nationalism.

How many people want to reinterpret the Constitution and make it change with the culture to take into account all of the diversity. It is ingenious, which is Satanic.

Another buzzword of multi-culturalism, another tenet of internationalism. Diversity of culture is valued over a single national culture and ideals. Even though many of those cultures of tyrannical, impoverished, and are anti-God. Yet they are all equal in the eyes of the internationalist.

Those who immigrate no longer do so in order to enjoy the American dream based upon our common values. Our nation depends upon the principles of divine establishment. The Mosaic Law is not our law; and there are principles which reflect divine establishment. There are principles of law which are a part of divine establishment. We have a system of law which depends upon divine establishment. But they want to get rid of it. The false concept of globalism.

A further problem of globalism. It demands a philosophy of relativism. Relativism is a morality which is free of values. There is no true standard of morality in diversity. Only what individuals determine what their own morality is to be. Moral relativism. All moral values are equal. No one set of standards is superior to or more beneficial than another. That is in direct opposition to the standards of Christianity. The only morality allowed is tolerance.

The truth sometimes sounds hateful to those who oppose it. Any objection to diversity is classified as hate speech.

Technically, this is not a bad word: for the diversity opponent, the only real standard of behavior is tolerance of everything and anything, carried so far as to accept even those who are pledged to destroy our nation and our way of life, those dedicated to the destruction of our nation and our Christian values.

So we must bring in people from terrorist countries, which results in increased domestic terrorism. But we must endure this in order to accept tolerance and diversity. This irrational tolerance is the highest good for the internationalist. They want the destruction of nations. This will ultimately lead to national and cultural destruction. But it will never destroy Christianity; not ever. We are on the winning side. All of this stuff that is going on around us cannot defeat us.

Many politicians are willing to sacrifice the nation for their own power. They are willing to commit national suicide for power. Always antagonistic to Christianity. The fundamentalists goal. Islam is not a religion of peace. They conquered the Middle East after the death of Mohammed and they are still at it. That is still their internationalist goal. These same voices of inclusiveness do not want to bring in Christians from the Middle East. To their thinking, we have enough Christians in this country. They do not add to our diversity. Christians are being murdered in the name of diversity. Hence the blessing of the nation and the ultimate social compact; Christianity is denigrated and they are persecuted; and that is where God steps in with divine discipline.

The election might be an answer to prayer. If this trend continues, divine discipline is on its way. That would be an object of prayer for us. Prayer would be in order. We can step in with faith in God and prayer. There is such an irony with diversity and inclusiveness and

4. The social compact of a national entity must be surrendered to accommodate such diversity. A social compact is the agreement by which a people agree to live together, and this regulates relations among its citizens. This compact is not possible where there is no common ground. Our nationalism is being torn apart by these many cultures that do not mix. One-worldism believes that they do mix.
5. Without the nation state, proliferation of evil ideas and religion permeate the world of globalization. From the very beginning, nationalism was the order of God's plan for this world. Different languages provide a common ground for a set of people.

a second tenet called multi-culturalism.

A Few Points on Multi-culturalism

1. All cultures are seen as equally valuable; and must be treated as such, even if clearly they are not.
2. Hence, diversity is valued above all other cultural and political ideals and goals.
3. Even though, many of those cultures operating in the world today are lawless, anti-God, purely evil, destructive of their own people. The problem is, we are expected to give up our own beliefs in order to accommodate all of this other stuff; and give it up to those who know best.

A third tenet, which demands a philosophy of relativism. A morality which is value-free, despite being antithetical words. Morality has value; there are tenets to morality; but relativism makes it value free.

Relativism

1. In diversity relativism; there are no true standards of morality. They do not exist.
2. So, what are the standards? These are the standards that individuals decide for their morality to be. Whatever their reality is, we must accept them.
3. Direct opposition to the standards of morality and establishment principles of Christianity.
4. For the diversity proponent, the only real standard of thought and behavior, which is the tolerance of anything and everything. No value judgements; often considered not judging.
5. The extreme of tolerance is happening right now in the United States. This is carried so far as to be accepting even of those who are pledged to kill or destroy our nation and way of life. They want to destroy Christian and western values.
6. In this way, the social compact is removed. The rule of law is subverted. The outcome is usually Christian persecution.
7. In other words, the tolerance of everything except Christianity. The tolerance of everything degenerates to tolerance only of what the tolerant tolerate. So, this usually comes down to tolerating everything but Christian thought. A generation needs to hear the gospel of Jesus Christ. This is the singular and unifying factor of civilization.

Without it, there is no civilization. It is the ultimate social contract. But it is volitional; it cannot be forced upon anyone. Internationalism forces tolerance of everything.

The humanist must force humanity to bow, and to abominate religion. That is the international attempt to remove mountains. The obstacle of divine establishment is what stands in front of Satan. If a Christian opposes on Biblical ground, the tolerance of everything, immorality, gay marriage, and all of those things, he is called homophobic or Islamophobic. It is nothing more than pressure on Christians to capitulate to these diverse moralities. We as believers are being pressured or shamed or forced to accept a set of values which violate the values of marriage, family and nationalism.

Diversity Versus the Bible

1. We cannot accept today's concept of diversity without giving up Biblical Christianity and doctrine. It is antithetical to the Bible.
2. So, as believers in Jesus Christ, we must oppose internationalism in all of its forms.
3. For this reason, Christianity cannot be tolerated.
4. The only thing intolerable to the diversity adherent is what opposes their concept of tolerance and internationalism.
5. This idea of diversity and tolerance is at the very root of Christian persecution. Internationalism is a Satanic concept.
6. We can now see the Satanic evil of these concepts and truly this is a mountain spoken of in our passage. And we know to do about it.

We are to use faith rest and prayer as our weapons against this.

It seems nowadays that the 1st amendment does not apply to Christianity. Speak against gay marriage on a college campus today, and see how hard they will come down on you. The foundation of this nation, based on the principles of divine establishment and Christianity have become an anathema to so many. What the Christian thinks and says is hate speech. Biblical viewpoints must be destroyed in the name of tolerance.

Sadly, there are no more places for the dissenting doctrines and principles of the Bible; or for political persuasions other than diversity, atheism, and tolerance. Everything else is mocked and even opposed with violence.

No idea if the recent election is the answer to prayer; but it appears to be a reprieve from the direction of our nation in the last 50 years.

Those who oppose diversity, unchecked immigration; we are called fascists, because we oppose diversity. Who is marching in the streets screaming at those who oppose them, using thuggery. It is not Bible-believer Christians.

The brown shirts in the 1930's are the best example of fascists. Who have taken to the streets in the same way? Geat irony and evil. You can be called all of these names, and we are the opposite of these names.

Christians are the ones being accused of hatred and racism. These words really belong at the doorstep of the diversity group. They call us what they actually are. Intolerance in the name of tolerance and diversity.

The 4th great tenet of diversity.

Political Correctness

1. The diversity groups demand political correctness.
2. This means that anyone who does not speak as they demand is immediately verbally and sometimes physically attacked. We see this in so many areas of our lives today. We can offend someone with anything that we say.
3. When you speak impolitcly against the diversity group, they denounce and use intimidating epithets. Racist, intolerant. It is all manipulation to scare us to falling in line. When you are on biblical grounds, you are on the only solid grounds that there is. Diversity is so relative.
4. This is another area where the policy of tolerance (hey don't want anyone to be offended); and this is the ideal of the internationalist, but it breaks down right here.
5. There is no tolerance for those who do not fit their speech patterns of the relative, the diverse humanist or the internationalist. Especially no tolerance for Christian viewpoints or doctrines. The truth of Bible doctrine is not relative. So the diverse crowd must oppose it in their tolerance.
6. Hence there is a suppression of freedom of speech who speak of doctrine of divine establishment principles.
7. Pope John Paul II made a succinct statement on these principles. Individual freedom can be exercised only in a democracy operating in a sovereign state.
8. This is the definition of nationalism. Freedom for the practice of Christianity. John Paul grew up in Poland. Bobby has been in his Polish church. He lived under the internationalist, communist regime. He saw the destructiveness of it. The force the tyranny. He understood the evil of internationalism. This is in direct opposition to Christianity in the client nation today.

The most powerful of all weapons; faith and prayer. Faith rest in the lives we lead; and prayer about the nation, that we move from our Satanic roots. Prayer for the freedom to continue for us to grow spiritually without persecution. All valid prayers to move that mountain. Faith rest attitude. I have done my part; now come what may, the plan of God will march on with me. In every other circumstance, He is in charge.

It has been true on many historical occasions that internationalism will lead to the loss of freedom. Mountains do move. But if this nation is too far down that road of internationalism, diversity, the mountain will have to be removed by divine discipline, as it was on many occasions with Israel, the first client nation. Our prayers do not guarantee that we can avoid divine discipline. Prayer is the great weapon. We request of God that He preserve this client nation. One way or another, deliverance will be granted to us. God will not allow evil to destroy Christianity. We are on the winning side. Our prayers have an affect. We do not know what will happen with out nation.

Our mission is the same. It does not change. God answers prayer; and sometimes not in a way that we understand. Sometimes our prayers are answered and we don't even know it.

Now we ought to understand better what Mark 11:23 means.

Mark 11:22–23 And answering, Jesus said to them, “Have faith of God. I assure you: If anyone says to this mountain, 'Be lifted up and thrown into the sea,' and does not doubt in his heart, but believes that what he says will happen, it will be done for him.

God many not answer our prayers as we think He ought. He will answer our prayers based upon the situation on the ground. Our prayers will be effective and the best for us and the nation, even when these prayers may end up in situations which are painful for us or for this nation. We need to be able to think faith rest, no matter what else happens.

God may have to get the principles of the nation.

Jesus will make a final statement about prayer, which is in v. 25.

Mark 11:24 Therefore, I tell you, all the things you pray and ask for--believe that you have received them, and you will have them.

Lesson #08

Mark 11:25 Life of Christ

12/8/2016 Thursday

Communion will be New Year's Eve.

The Lord makes a final statement about prayer in v. 25:

Any position is legitimate for prayer; standing here; or kneeling in our society. Stand here could simply mean steadfastly praying.

Mark 11:25 And whenever you stand praying, if you have anything against anyone, forgive [or, dismiss] him, so that your Father in heaven will also forgive you your wrongdoing.

The word forgive is legitimate; but it is better to understand this to mean dismiss, let it go. If you have anything against anyone; if you are holding anything against anyone. You must dismiss it. Let it go.

If You Are Going to Move a Mountain, Your Prayer Needs to Be Effective

1. Prayer is necessary.

2. A forgiving attitude is also necessary in prayers. You must let it go; you must dismiss whatever you have against someone else.
3. Without that attitude, prayer can be nullified.
4. Why? A lack of forgiveness, a lack of dismissing something against someone else, is a mental attitude sin. Those are the worst.
5. This lack of forgiveness is basically here holding a grudge; failing to dismiss the sin, of someone who has done you wrong. They have done something against you. You cannot hold a grudge.

The Lord has told them that they will move mountains. They cannot hold grudges. They will be given a hard time by many people; so we have to be able to let grudges go. We have to be ready to use 1 John 1:9 at any time. All sins require confession for forgiveness; that is how we handle sin in our lives. The Lord does not fill believers with the Spirit if they have sin in their lives. This forgiveness includes unknown and forgotten sins. This includes the unforgiving mental attitude that a believer might have against anyone else.

Forgiveness; and the filling of the Holy Spirit is necessary for an effective prayer life.

The specific sin of Mark 11:25 is having an unforgiving attitude; holding a grudge against someone who has done you wrong. This is a 1st class condition, which means this will be done. The believer who holds onto this grudge will not be moving any mountains.

If a believer is in that condition, then something is amiss. If you cannot forgive or retire a grudge, then it is God Who does not forgive. The importance of using rebound in making prayer requests. Remember rebound, confession or naming of sins, is the solution to sin.

When you rebound this sin, God forgives you. Divine forgiveness toward us is inseparably linked to our forgiveness of others. Rebound forgives the sin; but the mental attitude must also be dealt with. If the grudge continues, then the sin continues as well.

Sometimes, you cannot seem to get over the wrong done to you. Rebound covers this, but the mental attitude sin comes up again and puts you back out of fellowship. Recurring sin gets you out of fellowship. A continuing sin means you are not in fellowship until you name your sins to God.

You are out of fellowship as soon as your resentment reappears, because you cannot seem to let it go. You think about the person that you resent and you go off. The grudge is not always on your mind; it is recurring, not constant; and when it recurs, you are knocked out of the top circle.

You have not forgiven; and all it takes is a set of circumstances for more mental attitude sins. There will be a great temptation for the Apostles to get mad at someone and stay mad at them. It can be a huge problem when it comes to maintaining effective prayer. Every believer, every one of us, encounters this problem in some area.

You may have consistent anxiety or fear in your soul. The more mature a believer is, the more he stays in fellowship, and the less mental attitude sinning that he does. Therefore, he has a more effective prayer life.

What about someone who has stolen your bf or gf; bilked you out of a lot of money; but you have to let that go; you must dismiss it; you must let it go. This includes even criminal acts committed against you.

What about this recurring sin. Simple principle and technique of isolation of sin. Isolation of that sin is what we must understand and learn. What is it and how is it accomplished in our lives? Bobby will use an illustration.

A person who fails to forgive. A pot of boiling water. Some people are boiling pots of water in their souls, and they are just waiting for that sin to set them off. At any moment, that sin recurs. The sin may not always present itself; but it is ready to leap out under the right circumstances.

The believer rebounds a recurrent sin, that came spitting out of the pot. But, the believer rebounds that current sin. But he lights up the sin, and the heat is turned on the pot again. The boiling pot believer still represents not forgiving someone and thinking about it again and getting out of fellowship. God never fails to forgive us; and therefore, we ought not hold our grudges.

If you get out of fellowship because of a sin already forgiven, you have relit the water pot. This will keep you continually out of fellowship.

It is amazing what a long-term memory that we have of people who have wronged us, where we have held a grudge. We remember problems and injustices for years and even decades; and these, God has forgiven. Self-centered attitude, God has forgiven this, but I haven't. You quickly return to carnality after being in fellowship.

We know how important and powerful prayer is. It is critical for our spiritual life. Therefore, we need to get over various sins and having them crop up again. As soon as we confess a sin, we must learn to forget it and move on. It is a process of learning. There is no power of positive thinking. You cannot say, "I will never commit this sin again." You don't know. How do you learn to forgive and forget. This is a trait of the maturing believer. We must learn how to dismiss; learn how to isolate sins. As we continue to grow, we can put any sort of sin aside and leave it there.

It is in your mind, a great injustice; but as your grow, you can utilize the faith rest drill. Let God handle the injustice. A grudge is, how can you revenge yourself. How can you make them feel as bad as you feel? This is no good for the Christian life. You must let the Lord handle the injustice and focus on God's plan for you. Your injury fades and eventually disappears. You have isolated the sin and dismissed it. Spiritual growth removes the injury so that it no longer belongs to us. What right do we have to look back and to continue to hold a grudge? The object of your grudge does not care. Holding this grudge is so much futility.

Don't pray to the Lord to do something really bad to them. When you return to the mental attitude sin, you only create self-induced misery. This is what the Lord is mandating the disciples in Mark 11:25. The greater challenge is to stay in fellowship after.

Mark 11:25 And whenever you stand praying, if you have anything against anyone, forgive [or, dismiss] him, so that your Father in heaven will also forgive you your wrongdoing.

If you hold a grudge and let it boil, then other sins come from it. Sins of the tongue; you will gossip about that person and malign them. You may try to do something physically against them. So, instead, try to pray for that person. Only by isolating sins, can the believer do that. Only by that, he can move on.

Philip. 3:13 Brothers, I do not consider myself to have taken hold of it. But one thing I do: forgetting what is behind and reaching forward to what is ahead,...

There is no end to spiritual growth. There can always be movement upward. But one thing that Paul knows to do, forgetting that which is behind and moving ahead. Assign your sin to oblivion and never look back; always look forward. The plan of God only moves forward. When you dwell in the past, you are dwelling upon your own failures and mental attitude sins. Paul knows that he has not reached the pinnacle.

We all know this problem because we have all been done wrong by someone. As we grow spiritually in the Christian life, isolation of sin gets easier. Sins become less of a problem. That is a by-product of spiritual growth. The more you grow, the more you stay in fellowship; the less that sin is a problem. Even the worst sins against you become forgivable. You apply to others, forgive as Christ forgave. We have been forgiven ultimately and we are forgiven temporally by the Lord; so why can't we do the same for others.

Why do you take in Bible doctrine? What are you here?

You need to develop the all-important skill of impersonal love. But can you do that as an immature believer. There is always someone out there who is worth despising; who has done something which is despicable.

True tolerance and true forgiveness. The believer who is grace orientated keeps his focus on the Lord Jesus Christ and upon Bible doctrine. They are able to fulfill Mark 11:25. There is a true change of attitude in the believer. Spiritual advance truly isolates the sin and forgives wrongs suffered. Then the spiritual life and prayer can be most effective. That is how forgiving others is connected. There is a bond, a connection.

Lesson #08

Mark 11: Life of Christ

12/11/2016 1Sunday

There is a standard uniform for communion which is a dark suit. Bobby once forgot and wore a light sport coat. 3 people assigned to remind him. He may need 3 people to help him with the song selection.

Mark 11:25 And whenever you stand praying, if you have anything against anyone, forgive [or, dismiss] him, so that your Father in heaven will also forgive you your wrongdoing.

There would be many mountains for the disciples to move when the Lord is gone. V. 25 is about being steadfast or consistent in praying, you are to forgive. If you have anything against anyone, you must forgive. Having anything against anyone is holding a grudge. Someone has offended you, caused you a problem, etc. But you must forgive them as Your Father has forgiven you. You cannot have the mental attitude sin of holding a grudge plaguing you. This is not an exception. The beginning principle is, God's forgiveness of any sin is not based upon one forgiving others, which is a way that this passage could be misunderstood. You cannot divorce this verse from 1John 1:9. This forgiveness happens every time that we name our sins. God forgives any and every sin that we name to God.

Holding a grudge is admittedly a difficult problem. Even after rebound, the grudge might not be forgotten. That is the scope that Jesus is demanding. That forgiveness is not so easy for most people. Especially difficult for immature believers.

V. 25 is all about fellowship with God. Without it, there is no effective prayer or spiritual growth. You must be in fellowship with God; you must be filled with the Spirit. The inability of us to forgive does not mean that we are never in fellowship. That would mean that rebound does not work. Your attitude. The residual mental attitude means that you spend less time in fellowship because this sin frequently recurs. But we are not always thinking about a resentment or a hurt all day every day. During a period between rebound and our focus. With the right circumstances, coming into contact with the subject for instance, the mental attitude sins come roaring back. Without forgiving and moving on, it continues to plague the believer and it causes frequent breaks in fellowship.

There is no long-term period of time that you spend in fellowship. The disciples cannot afford not to forgive. Rebound is crucial and so it the follow-on attitude. We might remember incidents for years, so why do we continually go back and revisit these episodes in our lives?

This is particularly a problem when there are things like a criminal action against you. There is too often an inability to forgive.

What Is the Solution to this Problem?

1. The key is learning to forgive and to forget.
2. Therefore, forgiving others is intimately connected to spiritual growth and metabolic learning an thinking with the mind of Christ.
3. The believer must be in fellowship long enough to metabolize some doctrine.
4. As you grow, the grudge attitude gradually abates as the believer develops some spiritual skills to counter it, the solution to all sins.
5. As you continue to grow, you learn to put the situation in the hands of the LORD.
6. That means that the faith rest drill must be in operation. We need to use the justice of God rationale. You put the responsibility
7. You put the justice with God. A hard lesson to learn.

8. You focus upon His plan for you; moving forward. God's plan always moves forward. Philip. 3:13
9. Spiritual growth means you reach a place where you no longer have that mental attitude; and you are utilizing it. It just goes away.
10. So the injuries to you no longer belongs to you. God has blotted out your hateful attitude in your soul. You think with His mind, Bible doctrine, which is the counter.

The only unforgivable sin in the Bible is not believing in Jesus Christ. Our sins are paid for because the Lord died for us. That is the basis for His forgiveness. That is a rationale. One rationale begins with the face that he. You also develop impersonal love and with that, you learn how to forgive. This is how the believer can divest himself of the wrongs that he has suffered at the hands of others.

Then the spiritual life moves ahead and prayer is affected. This is how our forgiving of others is connected to the Father forgiving us. The Bible and the New Testament is filled with places where the Apostles were personally attacked or harmed or persecuted. Paul could not spend this time holding a grudge. You must forgive those who oppose you. You must have tolerance for them.

The gentiles are those that the Jews could not despise; but the Apostles had to get over their anti-gentile stance.

As the Father does when we rebound; consistent rebound before prayer is necessary; and before Bible class as well.

Mark 11:26 [But if you don't forgive, neither will your Father in heaven forgive your wrongdoing.]"

This verse is skipped over.

Now there is a very critical lesson to be taught next. All of this took place at the withered fig tree; but now the Lord is going to move on.

The religious leaders had become very upset. Jesus has upstaged them in their own domain and He has shut down some of their activities. They want to make money and to have status and Jesus removed both of these.

It was clear Who Jesus was; and why He had come. He took control of the territory of the religious leaders by means of His Own authority. This will be the final conflict that the Lord launches. He walks into the Temple on the next day.

Mark 11:27 They came again to Jerusalem. As He was walking in the temple complex, the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders came and asked Him,

There is an art form to arguments; and afterwards, we think back and realize, "We should have said that. I could have won the argument!"

It is wonderful to follow the Lord around, as He always had exactly the right thing to say. Whatever He said was the Word of God. The Lord will do exactly that, saying the perfect thing at the perfect time.

Mark 11:27 They came again to Jerusalem. As He was walking in the temple complex, the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders came and asked Him,

Jesus has commandeered the Temple; and they began to question Him, after considering this for the entire evening.

Mark 11:28 "By what authority are You doing these things? Who gave You this authority to do these things?"

"Who gave You the right to do what You did? This is our Temple, not Yours."

Jesus was teaching the doctrine that they should have been teaching all along; He taught it, but pharisees did not. A public speaker knows when you have your audience and you know when you don't. You can watch them and tell. They want to know what is going to be said; and they want the next thing explained and after that.

He was winning over this crowd by the simple force of His teaching. In the minds of the religious leaders, something had to be done, before He ruined them. The people were turning away from them and towards the Lord.

They decided to take away His authority by discrediting Him. If they could discredit Him, then they might get the people back. They could reassert their religious power and resume their lucrative business practices. They were going to challenge Him on the basis of religious authority, which they believed to have, and believed that Jesus did not really possess.

They were the tenured professors of the Old Testament; and they were of the tribe of Levi; and they had been trained from a young age on up. They called into question His credentials in order to teach in the Temple. The Lord had not been authorized by these religious leaders to teach in the Temple. He was an interloper, in their thinking. He should have the proper credentials and He did not. This is the kind of teacher that we find so often in the ivory towers of academia today. Intellectual snobs.

They wanted to point out to everyone that the Lord did not have the academic credentials. "By what authority do You keep on doing these things?"

The interesting part of all this, if the Lord was not so convincing, they would have just hauled Him out of there and harmed Him and/or sent Him away. But the people listened to Him and paid attention to Him. The Lord scared them, because His teaching was too effective.

This brought great recognition and acknowledgment to the Lord Jesus Christ; and they sought to challenge the most basic aspects of the Lord's teaching. "Can you really teach here?"

Mark 11:28 "By what authority are You doing these things? Who gave You this authority to do these things?"

So Jesus brings up a name from the past. "Answer a simple question," Jesus says, "and I will give you a straight answer for your question."

Mark 11:29 Jesus said to them, "I will ask you one question; then answer Me, and I will tell you by what authority I am doing these things.

Mark 11:30 Was John's baptism from heaven or from men? Answer Me."

From what source was John's baptism? From heaven means divine authority; from men indicates that John just went out there on his own, without any authority, and began to baptize men.

The Lord was not intimidated by the Pharisees. They have rejected Jesus Christ; so how could they learn anything. The Lord's truth always trumped their religious hypocrisy. That is the power of God's truth. It can be rejected, but it cannot be defeated. You do not have to fear those who reject it. God's truth has not been defeated at any time in history, but it has been rejected.

These slap-downs occurred again and again; yet these religious leaders never believed. They heard irrefutable truth, yet they never demonstrated anything but negative volition toward the Lord.

They are just like Satan in this. Satan saw and knew God in His very throne room; and that is where Satan fell. These pharisees will do the same thing that Satan did before the fall. Satan still has the objective to defeat the Lord; and this is the same thinking as the pharisees. The religious leaders would never admit that Jesus' authority is from God, despite demonstrating this time after time.

So Jesus asks them, "Where did John's authority come from?" Their response shows how their minds work. They did not consider the truth; they were only concerned about their own power and what was good for them. The truth is what is good for them. Truth is what I want it to be; truth is what is good for me.

Mark 11:31 They began to argue among themselves: "If we say, 'From heaven,' He will say, 'Then why didn't you believe him?'

They tried to reason this out amongst one another. They knew if they said A, what Jesus would say. If they said B, they knew the response of the people.

Mark 11:32 But if we say, 'From men'"--they were afraid of the crowd, because everyone thought that John was a genuine prophet.

They always thought in terms of expediency. They could only think in terms of what was good for them. They were in a trap of their own making. They had become very quiet. They waited for the answer of the religious leaders. This revealed their thinking. The people were somewhat on the fence, so they wanted to understand what the issues were here. They wanted to hear the religious leaders and compare this to what Jesus said.

John the Baptizer Was the Key to it All

1. The people believed that John the Baptizer was a prophet with authority from God.
2. They had flocked by the thousands to hear John teach in the wilderness. They wanted to know about the kingdom.
3. When Jesus Christ approached John the Baptizer at the beginning of the Lord's ministry. John said, "The Kingdom has come." Then he baptized the Lord.
4. The people were aware that John had vouched for the divine authority from Christ. The Kingdom has come, and John baptized Jesus.
5. This baptism indicated that John approved of the Lord's Person and work.
6. John characterized Jesus was One greater than Himself and with greater authority. One question, the exact right question. Everyone knew exactly what he was talking about.
7. According to John, Jesus had every right to teach in the Temple because of Who He was. The people agreed with this.
8. The dilemma for the religious leaders was the comparison between the authority of John the Baptizer and Jesus Christ. The pharisees could deny John's authority; and this would deny the Lord authority. But they stood in front of people who recognized the authority of John. How could they call John an apostate?

The Alternative Response

1. The religious leaders also realized that, if they acknowledged John's authority, as divinely commissioned, then...
2. They have to acknowledge the authority of the Lord as commissioned to teach, which they refused to do. This is how they reasoned their way through this.
3. They plead the fifth. "We don't know," they claim, which suggests that they do not really have any true authority.
4. By not answering, the religious leaders tacitly rejected the authority of Christ. So Jesus returned the favor of silence.

They say they don't know the answer; therefore, Jesus says, "I won't tell you by what authority I am teaching." Jesus refuses to declare His authority to them. Jesus' meaning was undeniable here.

Mark 11:33 So they answered Jesus, "We don't know." And Jesus said to them, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things."

The people and the pharisees should have recognized the Lord's divine mission years ago, based upon His teaching and His credentials. After Jesus deflects the criticisms; and He proceeds to teach 3 hard-hitting parables.

He has the pharisees on the ropes and He will now pound on them a little bit. The Lord will crush them. These are some of the most revealing parables. They are all designed to show the men as derelict of their duties.

The parable of the two sons. Can you figure out what it is all about?

Lesson #08 Mark 11:28–33 Matt. 21:28–32 Life of Christ 12/14/2016 Wed

Jesus took control of the territory which had belonged to the religious leaders, which was the Temple. He challenged their authority as Messiah. He taught the truth and what He taught revealed just how little truth the religious leaders were teaching.

He enters the Temple for the second time and His authority was challenged by the religious leaders.

Mark 11:28 "By what authority are You doing these things? Who gave You this authority to do these things?"

This is what they questioned of the Lord.

Mark 11:29 Jesus said to them, "I will ask you one question; then answer Me, and I will tell you by what authority I am doing these things.

Mark 11:30 Was John's baptism from heaven or from men? Answer Me."

Jesus gives them a question, which is a debater's technique.

Mark 11:31 They began to argue among themselves: "If we say, 'From heaven,' He will say, 'Then why didn't you believe him?'

Mark 11:32 But if we say, 'From men'"--they were afraid of the crowd, because everyone thought that John was a genuine prophet.

They were unable to answer this question. They know that, no matter what answer they give, they are placed in a difficult position. Not believing in John the Baptizer threatened them. They did not like him, but they feared the people who liked John. They believed John to be from God, as a prophet; so they could not attack John.

Before his death, John vouched for the authority of Jesus. He characterized Jesus as being greater than himself. He said, "The Kingdom of God is here; it has come;" because the Lord was there.

The pharisees were boxed in by the Lord's question.

Mark 11:33 So they answered Jesus, "We don't know." And Jesus said to them, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things."

Jesus then gives them 3 parables which shines a spotlight on these religious types. These parables would rip the veneer off of these guys. Their authority was not from God, as they had claimed. These parables addressed authority and responsibility.

Matt. 21:28 "But what do you think? A man had two sons. He went to the first and said, 'My son, go, work in the vineyard today.'

Matt. 21:29 "He answered, 'I don't want to!' Yet later he changed his mind and went.

Matt. 21:30 Then the man went to the other and said the same thing. "'I will, sir,' he answered. But he didn't go.

Matt. 21:31 "Which of the two did his father's will?" "The first," they said. Jesus said to them, "I assure you: Tax collectors and prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God before you!

Jesus will use their response against them. Jesus will identify these religious types as being like the 2nd son; and that there would be judgment for them.

At some point, they figured out that the parables were about them.

Matt. 21:32 For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you didn't believe him. Tax collectors and prostitutes did believe him, but you, when you saw it, didn't even change your minds then and believe him.

The first son says, "I don't want to do it." He represents the sinner, the fallen man, who hears the question and then says, "No, I am not going to do this." Afterwards, he regrets it. Μεταμελομαι, which carries the connotation of regret with feelings or emotions; and it leads to a change of mind. Then he does απερχομαι, and did what he had been asked to do.

Interpreting the Parable

1. The first son recognized his own rebellion; but he felt bad about it. He changed his mind and he went to the field.
2. First he regretted his refusal and that led to a change of mind.
3. Because of that, he obeyed the will of the Father and went to work. This is a picture of someone who says no at first and then changes his mind. The key is not regret but the change of mind that propelled him into the vineyard.
4. That is also true in faith in Christ. No matter how we feel sheen this occurs.

Next Set of Points

1. This boy represents and unbeliever whoh totally recognizes that he is a sinner who falls short.
2. He comes to a point of realization of who he is; and he regrets it. Regret is not always a bad thing.

3. As long as he is not suffering from guilt. The regret that leads to a change of mind, that can be a believer as well. After changing his mind, he follows the instructions of his father, which is following the instructions of the gospel. He changes his mind.
4. By analogy, he believes in Christ, and then goes to work in the Lord's vineyard.
5. There is no salvation by works here.

How Do We Know this Is Not Salvation by Works

1. Two distinct verbs.
2. Regretting and changing one's mind
3. As a believer who expresses faith and changes his mind. He goes to serve the Father.
4. The going up always hinges on the changing of the mind first.
5. Faith alone in Christ alone is the means of salvation. Related to the word μετμελομαι. Grace all the way.
6. What follows is serving Him, which is απερχομαι, which is not a means or a proof of salvation.

The analogy of the first son. In a moment, Jesus will tell the religious leaders who the first person represents in the crowd.

The second son appears to accept the Lord's authority and he. Second boy, there was a contradiction between the boy's words and deeds. "Sure, dad, I'm going" but he won't go and he knows his dad will not check on him. He knew all along that he had separate plans.

This reminds Bobby of Eddie Haskal; and he was yes, sir all the way until he was out of the house and then no more. He was a cold-blooded calculator. Sweet on the outside and calculating on the inside. At some point it suddenly comes out. No intention of obeying; so he is the classic hypocrite. He was cowardly and false. He was completely untrustworthy. Could not trust him out of our sight.

Both sons represent different kinds of sinners; antinomian versus legalists. They are both sinners, disobedient, albeit in different ways. The point here is, there is no real advantage in preferring one to the other, as did the religious leaders, who understood immediately. They both fall short of the will of their father.

The religious leaders that their choice was the right answer; and they picked the first son. That son ultimately followed their father's will. They saw themselves as following God the Father's will. Yet they were nothing like the first son. They had the facade of obedience; but they were not even slightly obedient to God the Father. They were out for themselves; they did not do the Father's will.

Religion does not qualify as service to God; not ever. Even though this is how some see it. All of this depends upon a person's actual obedience to God and most were not.

The first son fell into the category of unbeliever, to believer, to worker of the will of the father. We all began as unbelievers somewhere along the lines. We did change; and as we grow, we had the opportunity. The second son fell into the category of religious hypocrisy.

The Lord reveals what the two types of sinners are.

Matt. 21:31 "Which of the two did his father's will?" "The first," they said. Jesus said to them, "I assure you: Tax collectors and prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God before you!"

The tax collectors were ostracized in society and they were so low that the prostitutes were the only ones who would hang out with them.

The pharisees chose the correct son; but they are not the first son themselves. They have indicted themselves.

The pharisees did not believe that they needed to change their minds.

The religious leaders saw themselves as being righteous from the very beginning. This is like the second son. How could they be servants of the Lord when they rejected the Lord themselves.

Matt. 21:32 For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you didn't believe him. Tax collectors and prostitutes did believe him, but you, when you saw it, didn't even change your minds then and believe him.

It is easier for a sinner to find Christ than the self righteous hypocrite. Any category of people can believe in Jesus. The self righteous one is less likely to do so. This parable is the parable of the two sons; and it is parallel to the prodigal son. There were two sons there as well. The 1st and the 2nd son.

This could be understood as hate speech and why did the Lord do this? Why is he waving a red flag in front of a bull? The leaders had gone so far as to be dead to repentance. This indicted the leaders of Israel in front of everyone in the Temple during Passover weeks. How could they shepherd the people. They needed to admit the authority of John and follow his words in the parable. No way, no how would they do this.

Perhaps the people heard this and liked what they heard.

Lesson #08

Matt. 21:28–32 Life of Christ

12/15/2016 Thursday

Bobby had many questions.

Matt. 21:28 "But what do you think? A man had two sons. He went to the first and said, 'My son, go, work in the vineyard today.'

Matt. 21:29 "He answered, 'I don't want to!' Yet later he changed his mind and went.

Matt. 21:30 Then the man went to the other and said the same thing. "I will, sir," he answered. But he didn't go.

Matt. 21:31 "Which of the two did his father's will?" "The first," they said. Jesus said to them, "I assure you: Tax collectors and prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God before you!"

After completing this study, Bobby heard that there was a discrepancy. Why are those verses correctly translated, even though your Bible may be different.

A NASB, the first son is the one who answers his father, "I will sir, but he did not go." So the second son, in that version was the one who did the right thing.

The NKJV and NIV are both close to the original; and the Word version of the NASB, the order of the sons is correct. So, how did the scholars screw some of this up and have some different versions. The end result comes out to the same interpretation.

Problem solved? Not quite. There is that Greek problem; and it is not the problem just expressed. There is another Greek problem. The textual transmission is confused; how the copyist saw the text. There are 3 different readings, variants, which have to be analyzed, and a choice of the best reading must be made.

The Apostle writes an autograph; and this would be something that he personally writes. As soon as Paul wrote it, he sent it to a church; and they made copies to spread around. They were very meticulous, copying the epistles letter for letter.

However, as these copies are sent around, there are more and more copies made and copies of copies; and errors creep in. This goes on for 1000 years to medieval times. Once you have copied 30x, there will be differences from the original.

In this particular verse, we have thousands of manuscripts and fragments; and as a result, there are 3 readings of this passage. It is important to understand which of the readings is closest to the autograph. How do we determine the best copy? Age of the copy is important; and the older of course is the best.

All of these copies are compared. They are dated; and they are compared; and the various readings are examined, telling us that there are only 3 major readings.

Even if we held an autograph in our hands, we would not know it. How could we?

Groups of New Testament scholars do a careful analysis of all the manuscripts available. This is a meticulous and intense job. None of these manuscripts are infallible. Infallibility belongs only to the autograph. What they wrote originally was divinely inspired. A Greek text perfectly accurate. God so utilized all of these people to preserve His actual word right down to us today. That is what He has guaranteed.

The Jews were very meticulous about preserving the Old Testament. The translation that we use is dependent upon the Greek and are excellent translations. Whichever translation is used, there is no effect on this parable's interpretation.

There are very good helps for the exegete in understanding all of these variants. 3 primary readings of this passage, vv. 28–32. (1) The first son says yes and he goes; and he is seen as the one doing the will of the Father. (2) The last son follows the father's word. The B reading is rejected because it makes no sense. Either a copying error or sometimes the copyist made changes for whatever reason. (3) First son says yes and does nothing; 2nd says no and he goes. The religious leaders choose #2. Ho usteros, which means the second one. Also ho deuterios, which means the second. The C reading is way too complex; and several reasons for rejecting it.

Logically, if the first son says yes, then there is no reason to summon the second son. So, that would destroy the sensibility of it all. Furthermore, this breaks down to many different endings, suggesting that this is a bad translation. There is no conformity here.

Matt. 21:31 "Which of the two did his father's will?" "The first," they said. Jesus said to them, "I assure you: Tax collectors and prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God before you!"

They say yes, but they mean no; subterfuge and they are out for themselves. So they disputed the Lord's authority to teach in the Temple, as He challenged their authority. He was in their domain taking their authority from them.

The Lord made them reconsider, recognize?

The people believed John's authority. But John vouched for the Lord.

Looking at the verse below. John was not a liar. He came in the way; the prostitutes and tax collectors did recognize the Lord; and the pharisees did not. Μεταμελομαι. Remorse, regret.

The pharisees had no remorse; they did not regret their position; they did not back down.

What should the pharisees do? John spoke the truth to them; and he presented the Lord and they should have accepted Him, but they did not. They now followed the oral traditions of the rabbis and all the stuff which was added to the Scriptures.

Religion cannot find the Savior. They are works-oriented. You cannot find the Savior through religion; only through grace. Any bias religion diversion is a disaster, for salvation or for the spiritual life. This diversion describes religion at any time in history. Persecutors or wimps.

A priest in Italy and he took down the nativity scene so that he would not offend his Muslim neighbors. Focused on subjectivity and not upon truth. This religion disappears from history. Over thousands of years. It will continue forever.

Matt. 21:32 For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you didn't believe him. Tax collectors and prostitutes did believe him, but you, when you saw it, didn't even change your minds then and believe him.

Interpreting this Parable

1. Received and believed the authoritative message of John the Baptizer. John's message was true; they believed it; and the prostitutes and the tax collectors. Their lives now reflected the change of mind. They were now servants of the Lord rather than of themselves.
2. The religious leaders served themselves; that is a hallmark of religion. Not the Lord Jesus Christ. This is the 2nd son. They serve themselves.
3. The religious leaders showed no such faith or change as did the first son. They should have been the agent of change as the purveyors of Bible doctrine. But they were anything but. There was no change as with the first son.
4. Thus they stood condemned for their rejection, the religious leaders. They were hypocrites, in contrast to the great overt sinners. They gnashed their teeth on this one. Their religious self-righteousness.
5. The tax collectors and prostitutes possessed something that no religious person can possess, the righteousness of God Himself based upon their faith in Christ. That is justification. The religious leaders expected to enter the Kingdom based upon their own righteousness; tax collectors and prostitutes only by the righteousness of God.
6. Then there was building of spiritual growth resulting in the production of divine good.
7. All the religious leaders had was their own flawed self-righteousness. They could never serve the Lord. They were unacceptable to God. They were looked up to by everyone. These hypocrites were fulfilling parts of Old Testament Scripture. The Lord will purify the sons of Levi like gold and silver. This is the priestly tribe. They will be purged of their sins and unfaithfulness. This tribe needed to be purged. They became the religious leaders. This very afternoon, they would stand before the Lord in the Temple and they will experience some of the fire of His Word. The tax collectors and prostitutes would find redemption in His words.

Jesus left the door open just a little bit for these religious leaders. All of them could; and some of them would follow after the antinomians. Those religious types would change their minds about the Lord. After the crucifixion and the resurrection, some of them changed their minds.

After this parable, the religious leaders were irate. They had suffered a loss of reputation and authority. This was totally unacceptable. This was the very worst and it happened right there in the Temple and they reacted viciously and murderously. But they could not carry out their evil intent right now.

Luke 19:47–48 should be added here. Luke 19:47–48 Every day He was teaching in the temple complex. The chief priests, the scribes, and the leaders of the people were looking for a way to destroy Him, but they could not find a way to do it, because all the people were captivated by what they heard.

Luke 19:47–48 Every day He was teaching in the temple complex. The chief priests, the scribes, and the leaders of the people were looking for a way to destroy Him, but they could not find a way to do it, because all the people were captivated by what they heard.

This ought to be shocking, but it is not. These religious types were always trying to destroy the Lord throughout His ministry. The Lord was teaching heresy in the Temple, they believed; and even more importantly, He was exposing them for the failures that they were. Throughout the ages, this has always been the aim, when faced with opposition, to attempt to destroy their opposition. They react with vicious and murderous attitudes. There is no tolerance and there is no pity. Plenty of injustice and cruelty in their souls.

This is the devil's world; and this has been since the fall of man. He must struggle and kill in order to bring about his own plan. Hell was created for Satan and his angels. Satan's final disposition will be confirmed when Jesus goes to the cross, 3 days hence. The chief priests and the scribes are the pawns in this historic event.

The Scriptures are filled with Satan's schemes going awry. He exists in total frustration and in a complete state of anger. His hatred and desperation blinded Satan to the purpose of the cross. Justice and love was meted out toward all mankind via the cross. These are the very same qualities...

At the cross, Satan was strategically defeated for all time, his doom being sealed. He struggles on with scheme after scheme. Attempts to destroy Christianity have been ongoing from the very beginning. Satan wants to stamp out translations of Scripture in the current vernacular. Many examples of this in the Middle Ages. John Wycliffe, 1330 to 1384, who was a proponent of translating the Latin Vulgate into the language of the day. He was condemned by Rome for this. This is how religion persecutes Christianity.

How many attempts have been made to exterminate Christianity? To wipe this truth from the face of the earth. The Roman empire attempted to do this at the very beginning of the 1st century A.D. Islam has attempted to destroy Christianity.

Many have stood for the truth of Bible doctrine. Another attempt is being made today by humanists, relativists, atheists, etc., who wish to purge all things Christian. Lies and even violence are the tools. If Christianity is suppressed and obliterated, then humanism can step in to cure all the ills of mankind. Bible-believing Christians stand in the way of this humanist utopia. If they would just give in and go away. Instead, we cling to the truth of Bible doctrine.

The humanist goal is a hopeless goal; they stand against the plan of God. Man can never overcome the sin nature that resides in all man. This is our nature; it is the nature of all of us. Only Jesus Christ and spiritual growth can do this. The humanists are doomed to failure.

What set off this group of religious leaders who are right in there with so many persecutors of Christianity? This time, it was a simple parable, the parable of the two sons, which we have already studied. The Lord strips the facade of self-righteousness of religion off the religious types. All of this was accomplished by the Lord in public before a vast crowd of people in the Temple square. The pharisees could not figure out what to do, as the people were hanging onto His every word. There was no greater purveyor of the truth than the Lord; and the people were spellbound. They would not allow the Lord to be interrupted by the religious leaders.

The chief priests and the scribes did not want Him there; they wanted to destroy them there. Απολυμι = to destroy, to kill, to bring about his ruin. The religious types wanted to destroy Him and His entire message. There was a clear choice between His mission of truth and the lies taught by the pharisees. But they ran into the same problem over and over again—the people wanted to hear Him. In 3 days, they would have their way. They would try anything because the people might turn against them.

The Jews in that era loved a good riot.

The Lord continued to hammer them with good teaching; and He never backed off an inch to preserve His life. He would soon sacrifice His life for His Own free will. The plan of God and the reason for His appearance; he had these. What ever time than the Passover week to speak the truth? There were those religious leaders who heard this who would later believe in the Lord. Even religion does not block the grace of God. You would think that the Lord had taught enough to destroy the reputation of all the religious groups; but there were still unbelievers. The Lord wanted to make certain that no one could reject His message not having enough information.

We need to speak the clear message of the gospel. The Lord was giving a clear message and He was about to give another clear message. The parables.

This 2nd parable provides no let up against the religious leaders.

The parable of the householder who rented his vineyard to evil custodians; or parable of the all 3 synoptic gospels record this. Mark 12:1–11. Included in all 3 gospels shows just how central this was to us. The son sent to the evil religious leaders who would kill the son. The religious types would reveal the accuracy of this parable. The Lord will reveal His place as the chief cornerstone. It begins with a command.

Lesson #08

Luke 22: Life of Christ

12/18/2016 2Sunday

Matt. 21 and Luke 20

We have the ability to deal with difficulties and pressure; it is at our fingertips. How would you handle knowing that you will die in 3 days, to die a horrible death. The Lord was not thinking about Himself; He was thinking about the people who were listening to Him.

Parable of the Tenants; or Parable of the Bad Tenants.

The Lord tells the people what the religious leaders would do. The Lord often used humor and sarcasm, used against those who despise the Lord. Humor disarms people; and the Lord looked at these religious leaders and these parables were scathing. They had heard enough already. Tuesday was turning out to be a very difficult day of defeat. Why would the Lord give such a knife-turn here? They could see that the Lord had turned the tables against the pharisees. He was rubbing salt into their wounds. This further exposed their evil. This parable condemns them as vicious, evil killers. They were the most self righteous of people.

The pharisees were the epitome of self-righteousness; everyone was beneath them. It was not a happy day when the Lord exposed them. The Lord spared them nothing and He did this with a smile, exposing the evil underside of religion for all time. Christianity is not a religion; it is a relationship with God through Jesus Christ. A relationship with God through every Word in the Scriptures. We can know Him like no one else. We can know exactly what the Lord Jesus Christ expects of us. We can know exactly what He would do in any situation. We can know the answer to what would Jesus do? in any situation.

Religion is all about men, women and about what we can do for God (in our own minds). This is a condemning parable.

Mark 12:1 And he began to speak to them in parables. "A man planted a vineyard and put a fence around it and dug a pit for the winepress and built a tower, and leased it to tenants and went into another country. (ESV)

This is a first-class vineyard. This person knows what he is doing. The tower is for security. There is every provision made for the vineyard and the production. All of this would have been very familiar to the people. This was normal. Grape vines covered the hillside of Palestine.

Isa. 5:1, 2 is being quoted here.

There is a conscious plot designed to take the land away from the owner. If they kill the son, there is no person who can inherit the land; and the tenants can take it.

Mark 12:2 When the season came, he sent a servant to the tenants to get from them some of the fruit of the vineyard.

Mark 12:3 And they took him and beat him and sent him away empty-handed.

This was a brutal beating; and this was a message that the tenants were sending to the owner. The end result was a bloody mess.

Luke 20:11 He sent yet another slave, but they beat that one too, treated him shamefully, and sent him away empty-handed.

This time, the second slave was treated shamefully, atimazo, dishonored, degraded and insulted. Verbal assaults and physical degradation and possibly torture. They escalate their brutality. They were not going to give up any produce to the owner.

Luke 20:12 And he sent yet a third, but they wounded this one too and threw him out.

There is a 3rd which is sent, and he is wounded and thrown out. Wounded is τραυμιζω. The word trauma comes from this Greek word. The vineyard growers hoped that this would end the parade of servants.

Matt. 21:35 And the vinedressers, taking his slaves, they beat this one, and they killed one, and they stoned another.

Matt. 21:36 Again he sent other slaves, more than the first. And they did the same to them.

The owner did not want to give up the land.

Luke 20:13 "Then the owner of the vineyard said, 'What should I do? I will send my beloved son. Perhaps they will respect him.'

The owner decides to send his son, hoping that he would be respected. The landowner shows great patience. He has not returned violence with violence. It may appear as if the landowner is going way overboard with his patience.

Why would the landowner send his son? This would be the final chance. The landowner's last chance for his vineyard. His son would be the heir of the land. The landowner is willing to risk his son's life for this land. He was sent to confront the vine growers.

Unlike the owner of the vineyard, God would never be naive to assume that the religious leaders would not respect His Son. Why would He think that these religious leaders were accept Him any more than these growers would respect the son of the owner.

This is a perfect analogy to the history of Israel. They would not accept His Son. God had immense patience with the people.

Matt. 21:37–38 And at last he sent his son to them, saying, They will respect my son. But seeing the son, the vinedressers said among themselves, This is the heir. Come, let us kill him and possess his inheritance.

The religious leaders wanted to seize the land from God.

Matt. 21:39 And taking him, they threw him out of the vineyard and killed him.

The owner had yet to bring his power to bear against these tenants.

This parable is all about the religious leaders.

Matt. 21:40 Therefore, when the lord of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those vinedressers?

And the pharisees will respond quickly; simple question and answer.

Matt. 21:41 They said to Him, Bad men! He will miserably destroy them, and he will rent out the vineyard to other vinedressers who will give to him the fruits in their seasons.

The son of the landowner is Jesus Christ:

the servants who are sent are the prophets;

the workers on the land are the Jewish religious types.

The landowner is God the Father.

The other vine growers, after the murderous ones are gone, represent the believers of the Church Age and future joint-heirs with Christ.

Mat 21:42 Jesus said to them, Did you never read in the Scriptures, "A Stone which the builders rejected, this One became the Head of the Corner? This was from the Lord, and it is a wonder in our eyes?" Psalm 118:22, 23

Mark 12:4 Again he sent to them another servant, and they struck him on the head and treated him shamefully.

Mark 12:5 And he sent another, and him they killed. And so with many others: some they beat, and some they killed.

Mark 12:6 He had still one other, a beloved son. Finally he sent him to them, saying, 'They will respect my son.'

Mark 12:7 But those tenants said to one another, 'This is the heir. Come, let us kill him, and the inheritance will be ours.'

Mark 12:8 And they took him and killed him and threw him out of the vineyard.

Mark 12:9 What will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the tenants and give the vineyard to others.

Mark 12:10 Have you not read this Scripture: "The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone;

Mark 12:11 this was the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes'?"

Mark 12:12 And they were seeking to arrest him but feared the people, for they perceived that he had told the parable against them. So they left him and went away.

Luke 20:9 Then He began to tell the people this parable: "A man planted a vineyard, leased it to tenant farmers, and went away for a long time. (HCSB)

Luke 20:10 At harvest time he sent a slave to the farmers so that they might give him some fruit from the vineyard. But the farmers beat him and sent him away empty-handed.

Luke 20:11 He sent yet another slave, but they beat that one too, treated him shamefully, and sent him away empty-handed.

Luke 20:12 And he sent yet a third, but they wounded this one too and threw him out.

Luke 20:13 "Then the owner of the vineyard said, 'What should I do? I will send my beloved son. Perhaps they will respect him.'

Luke 20:14 "But when the tenant farmers saw him, they discussed it among themselves and said, 'This is the heir. Let's kill him, so the inheritance will be ours!'

Luke 20:15 So they threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. "Therefore, what will the owner of the vineyard do to them?

Luke 20:16 He will come and destroy those farmers and give the vineyard to others." But when they heard this they said, "No--never!"

Luke 20:17 But He looked at them and said, "Then what is the meaning of this Scripture: The stone that the builders rejected--this has become the cornerstone?

Matt. 22:3 and sent forth his bondservants to call to those who have been invited to the marriage feast, and they were not willing to come.

His slaves are sent out to invite others to this wedding. However, the people were unwilling to come.

Matt. 22:4 Again he sent forth other bondservants, saying, Tell those who have been invited, Behold, I prepared my meal; my oxen and my fattened calves have been sacrificed, and all things are prepared. Come-here to the marriage feast.

The king has gone to great preparation. And the people were too busy for this. This was a very important banquet.

Most kings would have been quite disturbed here. The slaves were sent out again. The food has already been prepared. The king did not withdraw his gracious invitation. He gave the invited guests another chance. There was an added enticement.

The slaves present a menu as well. You would think that they would attend just to enjoy the food. This second invitation is representative of the invitation of John the Baptizer. The kingdom feast had been prepared and it was ready to begin at the 1st advent. The Jews only needed to accept the offer of their king; their Messiah.

Business interests were more important to those invited than the king's feast itself. This is unheard of; and this insults their king.

Rejecting the King's Invitation

1. There is nothing wrong with farming; or with business. It is a part of everyday life.
2. These people who were invited took something normal and proper, like farming, things that were normal and proper, and they made them wrong.
3. They were preoccupied with things that should have never taken priority. Their priorities were messed up.
4. They were too intent on their own paltry lives to take some time to please. That which is normal and proper in itself; but these things can be wrong if they are put in place of Jesus Christ; of spiritual growth, then they become wrong, even though they are okay. Life is filled with excuses.

The summoning slaves to the feast were beaten and even killed. These people did not really want to come to the party. They are rejecting pure grace; this is the perfect picture of grace being rejected. There is nothing which stands in the way, other than accepting the invitation.

These believers are negative to the obvious advantages of accepting the invitation. This carries some urgency. Jesus is going to die; He will go to the cross. The religious leaders will make that happen. But Jesus is speaking to a very large group of Jews at the Passover. There are many people there who need to understand the priority. Some of those invited were indifferent and many were overtly antagonistic. Jesus was speaking to all the Jews in the Temple.

All of the sacrifices pointed toward the Messiah. Their history was filled with prophecy about the Messiah. Every prophetic book in the Old Testament prophesies about the Messiah. It is all obvious; not but, the kingdom had
The people rejected the kingdom; so there is no kingdom. The doors are wide open; all they have to do is go. This is the history of Israel. It is truly amazing.

The Parallels; Who represents what?
the King	God the Father
the groom	Jesus Christ
the slaves	Men like John the Baptizer
the guests	the unbelievers of Judah

Hosea is one of the books filled with information about Israel. Despite Hosea 4:1–6 is the result of what would happen.

6. This generation rejected the offer of Jesus Christ. They have had all of this history
7. Those with power envied the Lord's popularity. That is one reason that they wanted power. The opposition thought that the Lord had political aspirations as they did. He clashed with their ideas and He was a political rival. A loss of power. They were self righteous; they were law keepers. Just because they were Jews and religious types, they expected that their current range of power would bring them into heaven.

So many people think in these same terms. How good do you have to be? Where do you draw the line, if we are saved on the basis of works.

What about the Religious Types?
1.	The religious leaders gave no thought to the kingdom.
2.	They also played a part in the death of Jesus' embassy, John the Baptizer.
3.	They masterminded the crucifixion. They then endorsed and participated in the persecution. They might say, "I am not against Christ; I am just not interested." They are only concerned with the here and the now.
4.	They went their own way, one to his farm; the other to his business. They became persecutors in many different ways.

Both groups of people did not attend the kingdom.

Heb. 2:3 ...how shall we flee away from him, if we neglect so-great a salvation, having received it in the beginning when spoken through the Lord, which was confirmed to us by those who heard it?

You do not have to be actively in opposition to the leaders do. The kingdom is lost; they reject or neglect the invitation of the Lord. They do not have to show outright rejection. The time for rejection occurs in this life.

The message is lost. The believer avoids the spiritual life. The time is wasted; the mandate is a revealing of the time.

Matt. 22:5 But they neglecting it, went away, one to his own field, another to his merchandise;

Matt. 22:6 and the rest took-hold of his bondservants, and abused them and killed them.

Matt. 22:7 And that king, having heard it, was angry, and he having sent his armies, destroyed those murderers and incinerated their city.

The parable covers the entire waterfront.

The Invitations Sent out
1.	This describes graphically the destruction of Jerusalem by the legion of Titus in A.D. 70
2.	The religious leaders also perish in the holocaust. Where the Lord would stand would be reduced to rubble.
3.	It is the right of the king to want everyone there.
4.	Even though the first invitees shunned the feast, his son was still to be honored and celebrate
5.	The city was on fire.
6.	3 rd invitation by the king made to a different king.

So it was time to send out the invite to a wider audience.

Matt. 22:8 Then he says to his bondservants, The wedding is prepared, but those who have been invited were not worthy.

This takes us through the Church Age.

Lesson #08

Luke 22: Life of Christ

12/29/2016 Thursday

No Bible class.

8:00 pm New Year's Eve service

Military Communion Service

We are celebrating a new year; but also to participate in a day by day worship. This is the only ritual that Church Age believers are mandated to participate in. This is a meaningless practice if we do not know the meaning of it. Thought is required. "This do in remembrance of Me." This is a memorial to Christ; and we call upon the doctrines in our soul.

A memorial stands for something; a hero or heroic deeds. Leadership, valor, victory. You may see a statue in a park and you may wonder, what did they do to get a statue in the park? Similarly we ask, who is Jesus Christ? What has He done? He has done one of the most valorous acts in all human history. But this is only a part of Who He is. We understand His Person when we begin to understand the union of His two natures. Even as a newborn baby in a filthy barn laying in a feeding trough, he was still full humanity and complete Deity; the Unique Person of all human history. Those two natures are inseparably united, without loss or mingling of attributes. If there was any sort of mingling, then He could not die for our sins.

The Lord was born from a virgin pregnancy, and therefore, did not possess a sin nature. In Adam, all humanity is spiritually dead. The Lord is the only person born spiritually alive. He also lived a sinless life during the 33 years that He lived on earth. He could not be a sinner and go to the cross and die for our sins. He was the reality of all the animal sacrifices which occurred prior to this time.

He was slaughtered in our place and took upon Himself the judgment that we deserve. Because He had no sins, He could die for our sins. He was the most innocent man to have lived.

The justice and righteousness of God was placated by the Lord's work on the cross.

Non poci pocar which mean not able to sin. He cannot solicit to sin or sponsor sin; He can only condemn sin. God cannot be tempted by evil; and He himself does not tempt anyone. In His humanity, He was poci non pocar. He lived without sin; He never succumbed to sin. He made consistent decisions not to sin. His human strength.

He had no inherent sin nature; so all tests came from the outside. These tests came from Satan. Satan offered great temptations to the Lord throughout His lifetime. He was tempted far beyond anything that we could imagine. Despite all temptation, He remained without sin. He is the only person acceptable to God. He received the penalty for sin that we deserved. He accomplished mediatorship because He was one-of-a-kind; and He was a go-between between two parties. He could represent the interest of both parties.

He could not intercede for us, if He had sinned. He would be fallen just as we are. He would have been incapable of dying for our sins. He could reconcile man to God.

Reconciliation is the function of His mediatorship. Reconciliation is peace between two parties; and the Lord mediated this reconciliation. This is appropriated by man when he accepts the work of the Mediator on His behalf.

We can have no association with God because we are sinners. We do not have to spend eternity in hell for our sins. John 3:16 gives us the gospel. One simple act of nonmeritorious faith in Christ and salvation is assured. We share everything that the Lord is and everything that He has. We have the indwelling and filling of the Holy Spirit. We have access to the unique spiritual life. We have the problem solving devices that develop as we grow spiritually. We also have a reservation in heaven.

When you take the high ground, you become a mature believer, occupation with Christ. We have a storehouse of thought and memories of the person that we love. Occupation with the Person of Jesus Christ is not different; only that we have never seen Him. There are so many doctrines to choose from; and it is all from this doctrine that is stored up in our souls. That is what it means to be occupation with Christ.

It is doctrine in our soul which makes Communion so wonderful and important. There is nothing grand about it.

The New Year is often spent looking back, thinking about things in the past year. We as believers must always look forward; and who we are and what we are is always bound up in our service to the Lord Jesus Christ. The world around us is an entirely different place.

Everyone seems to resent something or someone. People are all unhappy about how they have been treated. They cry racism, persecution; they demand that their grievances be dealt with. Many think that if their demands are met, there will be a great world or utopia. They use law or authorities to bring about various utopias. This is the view of socialism, communism, environmentalists, various atheist, homosexuals, the politically correct; but not Biblical Christianity. None of those ideologies or philosophies can result in greater justice or fairness. Even in their victories, they are never satisfied. They do not recognize injustice as being inherent in man. They cannot provide a world with justice, without racism, with equality.

The unintended consequences are more injustice. Social engineering is tyranny. Reaching the goals of these people requires edict. When engineering fails, they make even more demands or threats and cry fall in the media. They pompously and viciously deny any opposing viewpoint. Freedom of speech is replaced with politically correct speech. Opposition must be suppressed. This cannot produce freedom and justice for all.

A standard method employed by the social justice crowd is to ignore existing law; and injustice proliferates when courts become the lawmakers. Justice becomes the tool of tyrannical ones. The symbol of law is a woman holding scales and a sword and she is blindfolded. Justice must be dispensed without regards to ideologies and prejudices. But the law cannot be blind when it is involved in social justice or social engineering. It no longer serves a true justice. That is the law of the land in which we live.

This sort of corruption is inevitable because humans are flawed; even in the best systems, injustice creeps in. Juries are swayed by emotionalism. Legalism confuses the original intent of the law. Today, the very basis of objective law, which is the Constitution, is being reinterpreted, calling it a living document. Social justice for some is promoted rather than justice for all.

When the demands for social justice is not met, people fill the streets and riot and burn and steal. The rule of law is replaced by criminal behavior. Injustice to correct injustice results in more injustice. In essence, it becomes vengeance. That is the weakness of human justice. That is the corruption of the sin nature.

Human justice is necessary for social order and to curb criminality and to provide equitable solutions for disagreeing parties.

There is an absolute justice that is never wrong, which is always fair, based upon perfect standards, which is divine justice. This is a recurring subject of Scripture. Only God's justice is justice for all. Totally correct and totally incorruptible. This is the only hope for justice for mankind.

Let's define the attribute of justice, which is possessed only by God.

God's Justice

1. God's justice is unconditional fairness. Nobody gets a raw deal with God. "I get raw deals all the time."
2. God treats all of His creatures alike, without bias and without playing favorites. "You are not His favorite." For there is no partiality with God. God deals with us perfectly and we get so much more from His grace. Human justice is inherently impartial. Human justice never has all of the facts. No court of law has all of the facts. Those facts often do not agree; eyewitnesses do not agree; and facts are presented in various ways with various spins. God knows all of the facts, so He is inherently just.
3. Only God's omniscience has total knowledge, so His justice and decisions are never wrong.
4. Therefore, God alone judges mankind with perfect fairness. None of us have been judged unfairly.
5. Even where man's injustice is present, God's justice is still in action. In the midst of injustice, God's justice is still in action. Rom. 8:28 This is the promise of God's justice in every believer in His plan.
6. Divine justice can never fail; it always functions according to God's perfect righteousness.
7. So His righteousness guarantees no mistakes. Deut. 32:4b a God of faithfulness and without injustice. We will face injustice this year as we did last year; on every level.

We can depend assuredly upon God's justice. Do not forget that God's justice cannot be separated from His absolute righteousness. Righteousness is the foundation of His perfect justice. God is love and God is just and He is righteous. The justice of God will meet us where it hurts. His justice and decisions always conform to flawless standards. If God's righteousness were compromise, His justice would be perverted. The Lord is righteous in all His ways. The Lord Jesus Christ is sinless; He is God; He is righteous in all His ways.

God's Integrity

1. God's justice and righteousness blend to form His holiness or His integrity. God always deals with man from perfect integrity. Isn't that what you want from friends and spouses and relatives? How much of that do you find? Integrity is a rare commodity. But not with God. His righteousness and justice form His integrity.
2. His integrity is the synchronized operation of righteousness and justice.
3. Righteousness and justice always work together to prevent compromise of God's essence. If God is compromised even one time, to even just one person in one instance, then He is not God.
4. Righteousness and justice always work together to prevent any compromise of His essence.
5. Righteousness is the principle of God's integrity; justice is the function of God's integrity. Righteousness is the standard and justice is the carrying out of that standard. What the righteousness of God requires, the justice of God evaluates and takes to a just result. Psalm 19:9
6. What the justice of God rejects, the righteousness of God must condemn. We must be condemned therefore by God.
7. What the righteousness of God accepts, the justice of God acquits. To save us, God had to find a way to meet His perfect demands. So God the Father sent His perfectly righteous Son to this earth. He would solve the integrity problem. On the cross, all of our sins were imputed to the Lord, past, present and future.

Bobby was judged a long time ago a Miss Teen Texas. Bobby asked for the definition of integrity and only one could do that.

How many sins have you committed? You would probably be unable to name every single one of them that you committed today. The Righteous One took the place of the unrighteous ones. "Do you understand what God did to save us?" Sins are no longer an issue between us and God. We are released from all of our sins. But we must exercise faith alone in Christ alone.

Saved, we meet the righteous standards of God. We are saved. That is what God's integrity does for us.

Many believers think that the Christian way of life is just morality; that it is doing good; participating in obscure rituals. This leads to self-centeredness. You think you are doing things which please God. Self-centeredness cannot please God. The narcissist has not capacity to love. He become malicious, petty.

This is an opening. Tomorrow, two services, Bobby will continue what he began tonight. We will look at one of the great passages in Rom. 2 in God's justice.

Bobby's coming year prediction. We seem to be entering a year of hope. Last year was a long season of political promises. The execution of those promises has yet to begin. They will not all come to fruition. They never do. No politician; no political party; no legislative body; no political party can please all citizens. This is particularly true of us as believers, because we have absolute standards in our souls. The world cannot meet our standards. Do not expect it, or you will be frustrated and disappointed. We will be vulnerable to unhappiness in the coming year.

National leadership can move the country toward morality, toward economic prosperity, toward military strength. This could be our direction in the coming years. There is certainly a hope of that.

We are more important than the incoming administration; than the legislative body. We are. That is the challenge of the New Year. We are far more important to the client nation status. It is in our spiritual hands. It cannot happen through political activism or self-righteousness. It comes from thinking a with renovated soul.

A new problem may loom in the horizon; nonetheless dangerous to the client nation; prosperity. It sounds great; but it is not as good as we think it is. It can distract us even more than adversity.

Lesson #02 Luke 22: New Year's Eve Message 1/1/2017 1Sunday

No one is shortchanged in this life. God's righteousness and justice see to that. Many believers today ignore God's perfect righteousness; and they depend instead upon good works and morality. These things are essential for the interactions of the human race, but they lack spiritual dynamics. Anything that the unbeliever can do is not the Christian way of life; even if what they do is laudable.

Morality is a result of the Christian life; but it is not the criterion for living the Christian life. Eph. 5:3 morality can be the result of the Christian life; but this can be the product of a righteous soul in the unbeliever.

Self-righteousness rather than renovated thinking is the incorrect way to think of the Christian life. Subtle forms of anger and bitterness. There is no question that the other person is having a good time; and a twinge of jealousy is formed. "I wish I was having fun like that person is..." and yet, condemning them at the same time. That is self-righteousness.

The same believer may have the same kind of sins in his own life, but he refuses to recognize them. The believer who builds the Christian life apart from the Holy Spirit and Bible doctrine in the soul. Grace extended to the sinner by God is not extended by this believer to other sinners. That is a lack of grace orientation. This self righteous believer adds to his self-righteousness a cluster of mental attitude sins and verbal sins. He refuses to take the responsibility for his own failures. The self righteous one will judge everyone else's failures; but he will never see himself as sinful. He does not realize that he is no better than the person that he is judging. Self-righteousness is the basis of their own self-esteem, which is self-esteem built upon sand. A self righteous person like this will not renovate the self righteous thinking in his soul.

This is also the profile of the Christian activist. That is a self righteous person; he wants to change the world to fit into Christian standards. Only the spiritual life changes people. Christian activism is doomed to frustration because they cannot attain their goals. Christian activism is meaningless; it is Christian evangelism and Bible teaching which are important. No one has a righteousness equal to that of God.

The self righteous Christian acts as if he has a corner on righteousness. Capacity for happiness disappears because self-righteousness resents grace. Grace and doctrinal orientation. Such a believer becomes the worst kind of a person; a monster of legalism. An unjust judge of others. That kind of person inevitably will want to play God. He will try to squeeze those around them into the same arrogant mode. "Be like me; be miserable." Self righteous people are generally miserable people.

No believer can build a spiritual life by comparing his relative good with someone else's unrighteousness; yet, that is what legalism does. You cannot build the Christian life apart from anything other than the Bible doctrine in your soul. Self-judgment comes from God's standards. If doctrine is not implanted in your soul, then you do not have those standards in your soul. It is so easy for the believer in Jesus Christ, because of what they understand Christianity to be, it is so easy for them to become self righteous. They experience a change on their behavior and they think that this is the Christian life.

Understanding God's perfect righteousness, you can see yourself as God sees you. That is what we must be able to do as believers. We are imperfect. God sees us through the grid of perfect righteousness.

The Believer and True Righteousness and Justice

1. The believer must comprehend the righteousness and justice of God to have the correct perspective of himself. Otherwise, you do not see yourself correctly.
2. He must observe himself in the light of the righteousness of God. Then you can see your own inadequacies. You need a true standard to look up to.
3. Thus is gained an attitude of humility rather than self-centered arrogance. That is the enemy of the Christian life. Humility is the attitude of the Christian life.
4. The believer must also understand the justice of God, so as not to judge others in self-righteousness. If you understand absolute justice then you know how far you have fallen. "Judge not lest you be judged."

5. This is why God's integrity is so important to understand. This is the synchronized operation of His justice and righteousness.
6. Understanding His integrity results in understanding humility, which is the attitude of the Christian way of life.

Romans 2 is where we are going.

Rom. 1:32 Who, having fully known the ordinance of God, (that those who practice such things are worthy of death), are not only doing the same things, but also are consenting with those who practice them. (MLV)

What has been committed here are the acts previously listed acts of sin and immorality. This shows the depths of the depravity of the human race. The sins named are those worthy of His judgment. Rom. 1:20 tells us that these people have no defense.

Adjective: anapologêtos (ἀναπολόγητος) [pronounced an-ap-ol-OG-ay-tos], which means, 1) without defense or excuse; 2) that which cannot be defended, inexcusable. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #379.

What Same Things?

1. Those who judge in Rom. 2 are judging those in chapter 1.
2. In Rom. 2, Paul is judging the self righteous ones.
3. It says that they practice the same things—sin. They just fall into different categories of sin. Immorality and judging are seen as equal sins. He is not sticking his nose into the air saying, "I am better than you are." There is no difference.
- 4.
5. Sin is sin. Sometimes, you just don't like such a person and avoid them. Christians often think that this self-righteousness is the Christian way of life. "I am righteous compared to other people." Every member of the human race has an old sin nature. He has a lust pattern, trends.

Rom. 2:1 Hence you are without defense, O man, who judges; for* in what you are judging the other, you are condemning yourself; for* you who judge are practicing the same things. (MLV)

God knows the depravity of sin; and He says, they practice the same things. When you have doctrine, you realize how far you are from His standards and you know that you have no self righteous act to stand upon. The self righteous type has only his own morality to stand upon. Krino means to judge.

Gossiping and maligning is where self-righteousness goes. He builds himself up and he may be thinking the same thing that the immoral person is doing. That is hypocrisy. Judging is the antithesis of impersonal love toward all. This is the mandate for all believers.

Ironically, judging the sins of others is a sign or moral decline. It is meant to show uprightness, but it is moral decline.

The Self Righteous Believer

1. The growing believer develops a strong sense of righteousness.
2. He understands his own culpability.
3. As his attitude changes toward himself and he grows spiritually, he gains maturity; and his attitude towards others change.
4. His sense of justice recognizes that sins are the same as his thinking them.
5. That is the spiritual comparison that dissolves self-righteousness.
6. From humility comes an attitude of humility, fairness and impersonal love. Morality is now the Christian way of life.
7. These qualities preclude judging the sins of others.
8. Humility and impersonal love overcome self-righteousness, arrogance and being judgmental. This is an occupational hazard.

The Christian world is inundated in this kind of stuff.

Another aspect of judging. When self righteous judging is practiced in personal love relationships. It is very destructive. Personal love is at its best when it includes a strong sense of justice and fairness. Your love interest, your spouse, your best friend; you put other weaknesses in the same category as your own weaknesses. When you have a strong sense of justice and fairness, your attitude changes. You gain capacity for love. That is important in building trust in a personal love relationship. You cannot be hypercritical of those you love and look down on them because they do not meet your standards. Love is not expressed by criticism, nitpicking, and self-righteousness. This drives those you love away. It alienates those who are friends or acquaintances. When you judge those whom you supposedly love, you are trying to make them fit your mold and your expectations. Instead, both of you need to take in doctrine and deal with each other with integrity. Personal love does not try to change a person to your own self righteous standards.

Lesson #03 Luke 22: New Year's Eve Message 1/1/2017 2Sunday

No booze sermon this New Year's day. If you think someone else needs to hear this sermon, then you need it, because you are self righteous.

Rom. 2:1 Hence you are without defense, O man, who judges; for* in what you are judging the other, you are condemning yourself; for* you who judge are practicing the same things. (MLV)

You are without excuse. Moral degenerates.

Adjective: anapologêtos (ἀναπολόγητος) [pronounced an-ap-ol-OG-ay-tos], which means, 1) without defense or excuse; 2) that which cannot be defended, inexcusable. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #379.

Self-righteousness thrives on self-rationalization.

Without humility, there is that tendency for morality to become arrogant self-righteousness. Morality is necessary for a society to function to fulfill divine establishment principles which preserve a nation. However, we do not have the superimposition of standards. The LGBT are self righteous about their immorality. Scripture calls it a sin; and they are self righteous about it. The self righteous believer is just as evil and just as sinful as the immoral believer.

The moral man is not the obvious sinner, like his immoral counterpart. He hides his sins behind a facade of self-righteousness; and is seen as a pillar of Christianity. The self righteous person finds security in constantly judging and slandering others. It makes them feel better about their own failures and weaknesses. They feel better if they can find someone worse than they are. A false perception of the Christian life. The Christian life does not depend upon how moral or righteous we think we are. That is a believer without humility. This manifests itself with insecurity in life. When you are insecure, you need the reinforcement that you are okay. There is never enough approbation to please and insecure and self righteous person. There is no contentment, no happiness, no sharing the happiness of God.

These people are also hypersensitive; and they are threatened by any challenge to their self-image. They lose their sense of humor. This simply means that you are so hypersensitive that you cannot grasp humor that is directed toward you. Uptight and insecure. No instincts for love. You must choose wisely those with whom you spend intimate time. Hypersensitivity; self-righteousness. Such people have no tolerance; they are so easily offended. They cannot get along with other people in life. They cannot promote anyone or anything besides themselves.

There are those who can only talk about themselves. The conversation comes to them and they can only talk about themselves.

Self-righteousness

1. Judging, slandering, maligning others is not only a sin, it is a defense mechanism on which self-righteousness is built on someone else's unrighteousness. You feel better when you compare yourself to someone else's faults and weaknesses.
2. The criterion for the Christian life becomes comparative righteousness. We ignore the principle of the integrity of God. How far do I fall from God's righteousness?
3. God's integrity of thinking must become our integrity of soul. In no other way can be gain such great integrity of soul. The Christian should have the greatest integrity. The mind of Christ of absolute integrity.
4. However, the one who rationalizes away his own sins, based upon evaluating someone else's sins, sets himself up as the supreme judge of character. They judge the character of someone else rather than examining the character of someone else.
5. Such a judge becomes an arbiter of the lives of other Christians. They superimpose their own standards rather than allowing others to evaluate themselves.

6. Other believers must become accountable to the self righteous judge, rather than being accountable to God. Some churches talk about being accountable to each other. That is confused. God is our guide and judge; His standards are meaningful.
7. Gossips, maligners, judges are evil people; they seek to superimpose their self righteous standards over others. That is a spiritual bully. They act as if we should be accountable to one another. Evaluate such bullies with doctrinal standards. Legalism obscures and corrupts the spiritual life. Your evaluation just not devolve into mental attitude sins or into verbal sins. You are not the one to warn everyone else about their flaws, even if they are judging you. Those who practice such things...

Rom. 2:2 Now we have known that the judgment of God is according to truth upon those who practice such things.

Rom. 2:3 Now O man, who is judging those who practice such things and you are practicing the same yourself. Are you reasoning that you will flee away from the judgment of God?

Do not bring judgment upon yourself. That is the quickest way to bring judgment to yourself. Katakrito down, against judging; this means to judge against, to judge down. You bring judgment upon yourself when you judge others. This phrase finishes with the accusative singular, direct object of seauton. When an action expressed by the verb refers back to itself, that is the reflexive. You are doing something to yourself. You judge and nitpick and by this, you judge yourself.

Self-righteousness

1. The self righteous judge is as sinful as the objects of his condemnation. The person being condemned might deserve it. You may have spent the last year condemning everyone in the United States. They have flaws; some are dastardly flaws. Who made you the arbiter? Can you decide who you want to vote for. Personal judging and personal character is not your prerogative.
2. In these judgements, the person judges himself you have just brought judgement on yourself.
3. Sin is sin; it is just a matter of categories. That is how sin should be viewed in your thinking. There are different categories and they are all handled by rebound. An example and two houses, one next door to the other. One has dirt and the other has dust in it. One is not cleaner than the other. My dust does not look as bad as dirty. Dust judges the dirt and downplays the dust. Only God has a clean house.

The Justice of God

1. Only the justice of God can correctly judge the life of the believer or any unbeliever. We know the judgment of the unbeliever.
2. Only the justice of God is allowed to judge His creatures. His justice particularly falls on those who see no dirt in their house. They see it in everyone else's house.
3. When a believer understands that judging is God prerogative, he will not try to usurp that perfect justice with his own relative righteousness.

4. The Supreme Court of Heaven is never on recess. It dispenses justice day and night. Only a perfect judge can produce perfect judgment.
5. That disqualifies believers as the final arbiters of sin. Leave it alone; turn it over to the Supreme Court of Heaven. You may not recognize how justice is dispensed. Just make sure that it does not come down on your head.
6. We must always allow for the judgment and discipline of the Lord.

Let's find an example of this. The pharisees on John 8:3–11 how did they know about this woman? They charged this woman with immorality; but not the man.

John 8:3–5 Now the scribes and the Pharisees lead a woman having been overtaken in adultery, and having stood her in the middle of them, they say to him, testing him, Teacher, this woman was overtaken in the very-act of committing adultery. Now Moses commanded us in the law to stone such people. Then* what do you say of her?

They think that they have the Lord here; that they can find a problem with either way that he answers.

John 8:6–8 But they were saying this, testing him, that* they may have something to accuse him. But Jesus stooped downward and with his finger was writing in the soil and making-like nothing was happening. Now as they were remaining; asking him, he stood-erect and said to them, He who is sinless among you*, let him cast a stone at her first. And again he stooped downward and was writing on the soil.

Sometimes they use the criterion that it hurts other people. But their judging and maligning also harms other people. This always enhances their hypocritical judgment of others. A whole group of pharisees got all worked up over this woman; they had more sin in their own souls than this woman had in her entire person.

They did not mind their own business. Pious legalists pry into every aspect of those in the church. When they discover some trespass, they strike like rattlesnakes. Grace and rebound are not considerations of the legalist. These are the solutions for all sins. Look at your own culpability. See your own sins. Take care of your own sins. Leave the sins of others to God.

No one is saying that immorality is correct. This is another kind of sin, other than self-righteousness. Look to yourself first; see your own faults in the light of divine integrity.

There are parallels here to the passage of Paul's. Which is perfect and which is flawed? No stones were tossed. This is a rationale for humility and dependence upon divine judgment. Always leave judgment in God's perfect hands. The lesson here; you must preclude those holier than thou actions. Imperfect people are not qualified to judge imperfect people. Do not worry about the immorality of others.

People like to judge those whose area of weakness make them look good. Mark those whose sins are in their area of strength. For the self righteous, there is nothing to be gained by exposing those with the same self righteous trend. The sins of our nation are so overt.

Divine establishment has gone out of the window in so many areas. We may have some hope of it coming back. We have no right to become self righteous any more than we have the right to become immoral.

God's justice never fails. No one ever escapes it.

John 8:9–10 Now when* they heard it, being convicted by their conscience, they were going out one by one, beginning from the elders to the last one and Jesus and the woman was left alone, being in his midst. Now Jesus stood-erect and said to her, Where are those men, your accusers? Did no one condemn you?

John 8:11 Now she said, No one, Lord.
Now Jesus said, Neither do I judge you. Go-onward. Sin no longer.

Just pray that divine establishment is furthered and that our nation survives as a client nation. That all depends upon us.

Lesson #0950 Matt. 22:4–12 Life of Christ 1/4/2017 Wednesday

The Lord would prove that these are murderers; and that He is the Messiah.

The Wedding Feast Parable.

Two invitations were sent. One was sent way before the wedding. This is so that they can know well in advance. The idea is to get an RSVP. The first invitation was like this. This allowed the wedding guests to prepare; and it could last for 7 days.

The second invite is to inform everyone that it is time.

Matt. 22:4 Again he sent forth other bondservants, saying, Tell those who have been invited, Behold, I prepared my meal; my oxen and my fattened calves have been sacrificed, and all things are prepared. Come-here to the marriage feast. (MLV and throughout)

The king sends his slaves to make the invitations and he was being slighted by his own people. The people were rejecting his invite; everyone was refusing to come.

The slaves calling the guests refer to many sets of people: the Old Testament prophets, John the Baptizer, Jesus Himself. Very interesting that the Lord would be one of these. Isa. 53 calls Him a suffering servant.

The guests who rejected the invitations were the religious leaders during the 1st advent along with the rest of the unbelieving people of Israel.

Matt. 22:5 But they neglecting it, went away, one to his own field, another to his merchandise;
Matt. 22:6 and the rest took-hold of his bondservants, and abused them and killed them.

The Antagonistic Ones Did Not Want to Attend; They Did Not Even Want to Hear the Invitation.

The rejection of the wedding invite

1. Christ was speaking to all of the Jews in the Temple, which included the religious leaders in the Temple.
2. They were called to attend the feast of their great king; to accept the Lord as King. "Just come, everything is ready." He offered it to them; all they had to do is accept the invitation.
3. They rejected the Messiah and His offer; and they crucified Him.
4. Thus they lost the kingdom blessings. They rejected them. They did not want them. They could have easily obtained them.
5. Instead, they said no, and the result would be terrible times for them. This was a command performance, but they refused in their negative volition.
6. God the Father would bring horrendous discipline upon them. They could have had a great time, yet they rejected Him. They played a part in the killing of John the Baptizer; and they masterminded the crucifixion. In the not too distant future, they would endorse the persecution of the early church.

Matt. 22:7 was the result. The king set their city on fire. The holocaust of A.D. 66–70 is very common knowledge.

Matt. 22:7 And that king, having heard it, was angry, and he having sent his armies, destroyed those murderers and incinerated their city.

This destruction is not the end of the parable. The king still wants to have guests at his wedding feast. The king sends out a 3rd invitation; and this goes out to a different group.

Matt. 22:8 Then he says to his bondservants, The wedding is prepared, but those who have been invited were not worthy.

They refused such a simple gracious offer.

The Church Age Break

1. This parable moves ahead past A.D. 70. The dispensational character of this parable is marked.
2. There is a dispensational break between vv. 7 and 8. There is the Age of Israel; the Hypostatic Union dispensation; and the Church Age. The kingdom was offered during the Hypostatic Union. Now, there is the dispensational break, which is the Church Age. Between the destruction of Jerusalem and the next invitation to the Jews, there is this break or intercalation.
3. This break encompasses the Church Age.
4. Beginning on the day of Pentecost, the beginning of the Church Age, when God the Holy Spirit descended upon the disciples, making them Apostles. They are then sent out As many who would attend; there is no limit here.

5. Many were invited; many believed and many continued to do so in the Church Age.
6. This parable foreshadows a great deal more than the previous parables. It goes beyond the parable; and even gentiles are invited to this wedding.
7. It is clear that the gentiles will come to the wedding.
8. Israel comes back on the scene in vv. 9–10. They went out to the streets and offered this wedding to anyone.

Those Who Are Invited.

1. In this context, Jesus is addressing the Jews in the Temple and the kingdom and the invitation to the kingdom.
2. No gentiles heard this message; this took place in the Temple.
3. It was slow information about gentiles.
4. The kingdom of national Israel was still in view at this point.
5. But it is now a kingdom which has been expanded to include a whole new...
6. The king says, "If you don't want the kingdom; I will invite a larger audience.
7. The problem is, they did not accept the kingdom and they killed the king. But this offer was never abrogated. God's promise to national Israel. The group invited has now expanded.
8. Many generations of Jews in the history of Israel have failed in the past; and...starting with the Exodus generation.
9. God had continued to preserve them as a people to offer them the kingdom, even in the 1st advent, after all of their many failure.
10. This new offer came to a future generation of the nation with an addition; now an added group of gentiles would be a new generation was coming up.

The Lord continued to preserve them making the invitation with the Messiah. No need for things to change with the Lord's...

What Else Is Coming Up?

1. The scene in v. 9 moves away from all of this.
2. It moves to a new invitation. The final act of the Age of Israel.
3. This wedding invitation has special emphasis on the time of the 2nd advent which will initiate the kingdom.
4. The invitation of v. 9 refers to the final evangelistic movement in human history. Matt. 22:10.
5. Who are these slaves? They are the 144,000 Jewish evangelists.
6. These evangelists invited everyone that they could find—the good and the bad, the moral and the immoral.
7. These people will be salvaged from the horrors of the Tribulation. They are obviously not a part of the church.

8. They enter the kingdom in mortal bodies. They have to repopulate the earth after the great slaughter.

Two classes of people to be found, classified by their sin natures. Present the gospel to them; and if the servants came across anyone who accepted this; then they were in. Righteous or unrighteous in the eyes of the world.

Matt. 22:9 Therefore, travel on the thoroughfares of the roads, and as many as you* may find, invite to the marriage feast.

When we invite people to a. The only ones who attend have said yes. They are in the banquet hall (this is the 2nd advent). They are true. They were from all walks of life. They would be included in the kingdom. "I know that you will reject Me; this will be proven in 3 days."

1. Rejected in the 1st advent.
2. The kingdom is initiated in the 2nd advent. Not Church Age believers here. The wedding hall is not heaven. Beginning in v. 11, the parable illustration moves back. The Jewish leaders believed that they would reside in the kingdom. They believed themselves to have already been accepted. They are also descendants of Abraham. The k

Jesus reveals the conditions that must be met by the invited guests. They must accept the invitation. The first group would not accept the invitation or the preparation. But the next group would accept the invite.

Matt. 22:10 And those bondservants, having gone out into the roads, gathered together all things, as many people as they found, both evil and good and the wedding was filled with people reclining at the table.

What do you do before going to a party. What is the condition. You first put on the appropriate clothes. You must be dressed in the proper attire in the feast of a kn...a dress code is required in order to go to the feast.

It seems like an attendee at the feast was not wearing wedding clothes. Everyone there needed to be properly covered. The man could not offer any excuse; he was speechless.

What Is the Permissible Garment?

1. This is the proper clothing to be presentable before the king.
2. The arrogant guest did not think that he needed such a garment to be in attendance. He saw himself as being acceptable upon arrival. His dress did not meet the kingdom criteria. The pharisees thought that they were in.
3. The picture is of the righteousness needed in order to be added. We need to be clothed in white, clear garments.

4. The clothing of righteousness comes from faith in Christ. This is the righteousness imputed by God Himself.
5. So that is the garment to be worn to be acceptable in the kingdom. Clothed in the righteousness of God.
6. The
7. His inappropriate garment is his own works; unacceptable; wrong uniform.
8. This was the view of the religious leaders. Only the righteousness of God is acceptable.
9. Their self-righteousness was they thought. They failed to accept the king's gracious terms and they refused.

Matt. 22:11 But when* the king came in to look at those reclining at the table, he saw a man there who has not clothed himself in wedding attire;

Matt. 22:12 and he says to him, Comrade, how did you come in here not having on your wedding attire? Now he was dumbfounded. (MLV)

So here is what the king has the man seized and thrown out.

Lesson #0951

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

1/5/2017 Thursday

There is appropriate attire for various events. Sometimes, a certain dress is understood. The styles are so casual that no specific sort of style is noted on the invitation. Generally, women tend to dress better than men, which is fine with Bobby. Some dress for comfort exclusively. Wearing the proper clothes for the occasion or the event is simply respectful. No telling what people will wear when nothing is specified.

Bobby has done a few weddings; and people do dress in a number of different ways.

To accept the invitation and to celebrate the wedding is the most important. Bobby has done a ton of weddings prior to Berachah. Stand up weddings, beach wedding, destination weddings, etc. In a wedding, they often end up looking at the person who is speaking, but not at each other. All kinds of things happen at weddings.

Weddings for royalty require a very specific attire, a protocol that cannot be ignored. You don't go in a tee-shirt and ragged jeans. The wrong clothing shows tremendous disrespect for the couple, and the nation and the royal family. That disrespect stands out. Bobby is trying to set us up for the wedding parable and one invited guest was not appropriately dressed. The invitees must be properly dressed to attend.

Matt. 22:12 "He said to him, 'Friend, how did you get in here without having wedding clothes?' [The man] was speechless. (The Welcome Bible)

The word friend does not really mean friend here. The person who came there thought that he was dressed appropriately; and he stood out.

The Garment Worn

1. The clothing worn represents the righteousness.
2. Must be righteous clothing, or no entry.
3. The righteous clothing is only thing which is allowed. Faith alone in Christ alone.
4. The clothing is put on only through faith in Christ. We are made righteous.
5. The one who did not have this garment was an unbeliever.
6. He believed that he was good enough to be there. He arrogantly believes that he is the best dressed person there.
7. His inappropriate garment is his own good works. Nothing to do with following the protocol of the king.
8. This was exactly the view of the religious leaders, who had rejected the Lord. They believed that their self righteous covering was the right dress to wear. They were in the tribe of Levi, descended from Abraham. But it was not appropriate. They rejected the king's grace terms.

The king appears to overreact here. "Bind him up and throw him out.

Matt. 22:13 "Then the king said to his servants, 'Tie him up hand and foot and take him away, throw him into outer darkness; there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.'

He was caught in a web of his own making. He was about to be rejected and ejected from the feast. There was on simple grace condition. He did not meet that condition. The kingdom is initiated at the 2nd advent. This is at the end of the Tribulation when Satan and the fallen angels are bound and tossed into the pit. They are bound and cast into outer darkness. They are separated from the Light of the World. This is characterized by weeping and gnashing of teeth. An incessant misery and grief; and it is not pleasant; it is torturous. It was not designed to be a pretty picture.

Jesus Christ is speaking to the religious leaders. These religious leaders think that they are going into the kingdom.

Matt. 22:14 "For many are invited but few are chosen."

Points of V. 14

1. God invites all people to salvation. Through the proclamation of the gospel.
2. This way, they can be prepared and clothed with righteousness.
3. The chosen ones, the few, are those who have free will and positive volition.
4. They are the ones who respond to the call of the gospel. They respond with faith alone in Christ alone.
5. Thus by faith, the few have demonstrated what God promises. By faith, a few demonstrate what God knew in eternity past. He knew who would respond to His call. He did not predetermine who would be saved, He knew their free will choices, and decreed it to happen.

6. The free will of man and the sovereignty of man coexist in the plan of salvation. God makes certain in His decrees...
7. In contrast, those who reject the Lord's invitation to be saved remain lost; they are the ones tossed out of the kingdom.
8. And, if that seems harsh to you; what did they do that was so wrong? The outcome is perfectly just; they willfully rejected the righteousness of God and stood upon their own righteousness. Rejecting the Son of God is the greatest insult of all. But you say, "I don't care; doesn't mean anything to me."

Looking back over the parable of the wedding feast, the first part continues the theme of the previous parables. The original intended heirs, the Jews, finally and completely rejected the Lord Jesus Christ in the 1st advent; so the invite went out to others (the gentiles). The disciples went forth and they invited everyone, every Jew and gentile in the land of Israel. The Apostle Paul became the Apostle to the gentiles. He was probably the most brilliant Christian of that era. Today, we all have the invite.

Rejection is one of the most difficult things for a person to handle. The most difficult one comes from those we are close to: a friend, a spouse, a relative. You have to realize that one of the greatest rejections of all is that of the Lord Jesus Christ. Do not be discouraged. "Many are called; few are chosen." It is our responsibility to call; their responsibility to respond.

Offering the Kingdom to the Gentiles

1. Jesus will offer the kingdom to a new, wider group.
2. With the immutable promise to national Israel in mind. The Jews rejected Him throughout their history and now in person. But the nation of Israel is still in view here. The promise cannot change.
3. At the 2nd advent, the institution of the promised kingdom, there will be a new, regathered Israel. Here, in these 7 years, the time of Jacob's trouble, so that when the Tribulation is finished and the Lord returns at the 2nd advent, Israel has been regathered. Until then, there is no national Israel as promised in Scripture. It is still a nation of Jews and a nation to be honored; and God will curse those who curse the Jews. If we depart from that, look out.
4. Now the gentiles are included in the kingdom, those who have accepted Christ.
5. Then Christ defines the conditions for those who enter into the kingdom and are seated at the banquet. How are you dressed? How are your clothes?
6. No self righteous garment is acceptable. Rev. 3:18 19:7-8 He made Him Who no sin to be sin on our behalf, with the result that we might become the righteousness of God in Him. We are the righteousness of God; that is justification.

We have completed the 3 parables.

Notice how the Lord teaches. It is brilliant. We may want to consider these methods.

There Are 6 Ways the Lord Teaches.

1. He uses very common situations to teach truth. Something people know and understand.
2. He challenges His audience to think. He often does this by asking provocative questions so that they must consider and answer.
3. He aroused their sense of justice and outrage to make His point. We hear this on the news very often. They get us worked up.
4. He allowed people to pass their own judgment; to make their own decisions. He did not make those decisions Himself for them. They drew their own conclusions.
5. He did not insult their intelligence by interpreting every detail. Bobby has done a lot of interpreting; but many times, the congregation is way ahead of him. The teaching method is there.
6. Christ used these parables to objectify truths that were unpalatable to the audience. He gave a very practical view, something that they could sink their teeth into. It was difficult for the pharisees to accept the justification by grace; because they justified themselves.

If you can use just one of those, you will be doing fine.

We will move on from the parables, which were given that morning. After these scathing parables in the Temple, the religious leaders will attempt to discredit the Lord just one more time. They will be provocative and make Him give conclusions and answers.

They start out with politics and religion. This will be a very practical study. The Biblical view. God's view. Then there will be a question about resurrection. The wrong and the right side of it. Thirdly, the pharisees were generally concerned with a 3rd area of religion, that we will get to.

The pharisees were bested in their very place of power and influence. They are not going to give up. They are madder than ever. After this latest crush, they have a meeting; and the idea is to be rid of Him and to kill Him and to wipe out any semblance of His teaching.

The pharisees did not accept grace. They had to get at the Lord, but without riling up the people. They had to trap Him with His words, so that they can use them against Him. They had a new plot here; and it is quite clever. They want to lure Him into making a seditious statement. This is a new idea. Before, everything was confined to their religion and what was right and wrong. If it became a Roman matter, then they could wash their hands of it. They were religious politicians. A sneaky underhanded method by which they could attack their enemy. This was against their own Messiah, against the God of the Universe. The end justified the means.

There is murder at the seat of power. Murder has gotten people to the top time after time. In the Middle Ages, there was a massive amount of murdering going on to advance various careers. Some murdered their wives. Along with this philosophy was the arrogant self-righteousness of the pharisees. They were unable to look at themselves as they truly were; they could not see themselves objectively; they could not see themselves as God saw them. Those who cannot see themselves for what they are; who hide their true self; not just to the rest of the world, but to themselves. They will always reject God's grace. They cannot get past themselves. They trip over themselves. They see themselves as much greater than they are.

The Cook up Something That They Think Might Work

1. They turn to a brilliant strategy that involved the hated tyrants of Palestine.
2. They would use an enemy to destroy an enemy.
3. They would use a classic, political question as it related to a legal matter connected to religion.
4. The question went to the old argument about the allegiance to religion and state.
5. Is it necessary for the Jews to give tribute to Rome. Is it necessary to pay taxes to the state when God must be paid first. Is it legal for Jews to give money first to the tyrant who ruled them.
6. This hinged on the politics of Jewish independence from Rome. There will be two factions sent, to set this up.

Matt 22:15–18 Then the Pharisees went and took counsel how they could trip him up in his words. They sent out their disciples along with the Herodians to him saying, "Master, we know that you are true and teach God's way in truth, neither do you give special care to any, for you don't regard the status of people. "Tell us therefore, 'What do you think? Is it lawful to give tribute money to Caesar or not?'" But Jesus knew their wickedness and said, "Why do you tempt me, you hypocrites? (Welcome Bible)

Lesson #0952

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

1/8/2017 1Sunday

Bobby read an article in the paper with a normal service and then a nontraditional, weird service for atheists and the like.

Sometimes, Bobby has moved slowly; but there is an underlying purpose for all that time spent. Bobby has taught through Jude, Esther, 1Corinthians and Philemon.

We have listened to and observed the very source of all Bible doctrine, which is God the Son. We have learned doctrine just as His disciples learned it, from His sermons and private talks and teachings. If you have been consistent and your life will begin to reflect His life. You are what you think. When you think with His mind and follow the pattern of His life, you are living the Christian life. This has been a study of Bible doctrine in action. Together we have learned how Jesus Christ approached life and how everything is oriented to grace. How He handled opposition and how He treated those that He loved.

This helps us to understand God's love for us. Apparently anger and hatred that could only originate outside of the physical realm. We face this same opposition as we continue to advance to maturity. This last week, before the crucifixion, there was a peak of hostility.

On Tuesday of this final week, a day of intense controversy. We see that tremendous opposition. He is showing them the problems with religion with these parables. The parable of the two sons, the householder leasing his vineyard; and the parable of the wedding feast.

The pharisees were not happy under these circumstances; they are filled with hate and anger in this days. Luke 20:19 the chief scribes and priests would have wanted to seize Jesus, but they feared the people. The only avenue left to them is to devise a new plot. They will attempt to get the Lord to make a seditious statement. They will use an enemy (the roman leaders)

Today in our country, the concern is church and state. All kinds of factions involved. to destroy an enemy (Jesus).

They send spies pretending to be righteous. They send out their understudies, their students, to ask a question to tie up the Lord. What did they do this? They wanted to catch the Lord off-guard. Send someone else to catch the Lord unawares. Jesus knew what was going on. If they hear the professor give an opinion, they often believe what he says. Or in seminary, too many views were given. They believed that Jesus was public enemy #1.

Mark 12:13 They sent to him certain Pharisees and the Herodians to catch him in his words.

Constant conflict between the Jews and their Roman oppressors. They are God's people; not the Roman subjects. So they try to address this issue.

Many and Joseph left where they were to pay taxes.

The Romans took what they wanted and the Jews hated them. This was a common question and the Lord would reasonably have to answer this. This is a natural question.

Bobby was sent to a mosque to see what was going on.

Mark 12:14 When they had come, they said to him, "Master, we know that you are true and not preferential about anyone, for you do not pay special attention to anyone's appearance but teach the way of God in truth. Is it lawful to give taxes to Caesar or not?"

There is a doubtful emphasis upon truth. They say this, with the intent to trip Him up. He was always level headed. The spies tried to butter him with compliments.

Strange bedfellows, which is not uncommon in plots for power. Hall of Congress. Two disparate groups. They are young theologians. They are so dogmatic; they know so much. Two famous Rabbinical schools, Harvard and Yale, Hillel and . They were closer followers of the pharisees and they were religious purists.

They want this authority so that they could rule. The young wanted to rule the authority of religion of the pharisees.

Going on to the doctrine of church and state next time.

Lesson #0953

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

1/8/2017 2Sunday

Mark 12:14 When they had come, they said to him, "Master, we know that you are true and not preferential about anyone, for you do not pay special attention to anyone's appearance but teach the way of God in truth. Is it lawful to give taxes to Caesar or not?"

Matt. 22:16 They sent out their disciples along with the Herodians to him saying, "Master, we know that you are true and teach God's way in truth, neither do you give special care to any, for you don't regard the status of people.

This is the setup. The Pharisees send their disciples and they send some Herodians as well, those who support Herod, who is the one in charge and representing the Roman government.

They are hoping to trap the Lord with their questions. One group wanted independence from Rome, and from the Herodian dynasty. They wanted autonomy in Palestine. The second group are the Herodians and they were students, but in any school, you have different schools of thought.

Bobby could not believe the range of theologies in his seminary.

Here we have 2 schools of thought, mostly in opposition to one another. The Herodians were pro-Herod. Sympathy with that dynasty, and they preferred the rule of Herod, rather than the rule of Rome; and they wanted the Romans out. They felt that they would have more autonomy under Herod than under Cæsar.

The Herodians were very pragmatic about politics. They wanted the best deal that they could get, which was not under Rome. The Herodians wanted some independence from Rome, but they would not push for complete autonomy. The pharisaical party wanted complete separate, particularly when it comes to taxes.

Historical Background

1. The pharisees were a religious party with some political parties.
2. The Herodians were chiefly a political party with religious overtones.
3. We see in this unholy alliance the concept of the union of religion and state.
4. In the minds of both parties, the two issues could not be separated. Whenever these two come together, the actual government will be aggressive, violent, and they will persecute and enslave.

History is filled with oppression and violence when religion and state unite. It may happen in the name of Christ, it is all apostate. One of the greatest unions of religion and state. Today is the problem of union of church and state. A problem over and over again on so many occasions. During the period of the absolute union of church and state, there are massive examples. The Roman Catholic church was tyrannical over all Europe. In Spain, during the inquisition, persecution and torture were pursued. Toquemada trying to convert Jews to Christianity. England, under the church of England persecuted Protestants. France rescinded the treaty of Nance and persecution began in earnest. These things still occur in South America. Likewise, Islam is a union of Mosque and state with horrific results. The conquest of North Africa and the Balkins area and most of the Middle East. In nations run by mullahs, to deny Islam is a crime. The exception is Israel, the theocracy of client nation Israel in the Old Testament. Everything else since then has been a poor counterfeit.

What Is a Theocracy and What Does it Mean?

1. A theocracy is where God ruled Israel directly. When Moses went into the Holy of Holies, he received guidance by God.
2. God developed a unique relationship with nation Israel, which has never been duplicated. We have individual relationship.
3. Israel is the first client nation in all of history.
4. Israel was God's specially protected nation; directly responsible to God, for the custodianship of His Word. Israel was to be the source of evangelism. This was known throughout the world.
5. Under the theocracy, taxes were paid to the state for specific purposes, the state being Israel; and this was specified in the Old Testament. Civil monies which were taxes, over and above simple giving.
6. Taxes paid were for the maintenance of Israel; and they were divinely sanctioned. The support of the priests in the Temple and all of those things involved in the theocracy. It was the government structure in Israel.
7. So the principle of taxes to maintain the state is still sanctioned. It is a part of divine establishment. Today, not to maintain the power of the church in the state of theocratic Israel. In more recent history, our founding fathers desired a degree of separation between church and state; but what they actually meant is still a hot debate today. How much influence should the church have on government, if any? For the atheists, total separation is the answer, with no influence of the church over the state. They want to remove Christianity completely from life; and they try to get this in the courts. They go way beyond the bias and equal rights that they espouse.

The Christian Answer to this Question

1. Both separation and influence
2. The separation of church and state as declared by the founding fathers is not as complete and as total as it is taken by many today. The interpretation today does not match up with the founding fathers.
3. The ff wanted the church and state to both survive, but separately. This is true of all religion that imposes its power over the state.
4. But they did not want to remove the influence of Christianity on the government or the removal of all things Christian from the public forum.
5. The fundamental document written by the founding fathers and the Bill of Rights were based upon divine establishment principles. These principles can be traced throughout these documents.

6. So Christianity was very much the thinking of the founding fathers; it was the basis of what they were thinking. Our nation has been a client nation throughout its history. The advance to spiritual maturity maintains the vibrancy of the client nation. They promote the greatest amount of freedom in a nation. Immorality in a nation, demands acceptance of relative. If a Christian questions the morality of homosexuality, they will be criticized, mocked, and sometimes the object of violence in one form or another.

Total Separation and Influence

1. Total separation from the influence of the church is destructive. Many of the excuses are, it offends someone else if there is a manger scene.
2. This is a Satanic attempt to deny the influence of Christianity in a client nation. If they can remove Christianity from the public forum, then we no longer have a client nation. This would mean that the believer no longer has any real influence. This is an indicator that there is no spiritual growth.
3. Promoted by atheism and secular humanism, the doctrine of demons.
4. The loss of influence of divine establishment and Christianity within the state, has terrible repercussions in many ways.
5. When the influence fades, Deut. 12:8, then everyone does what is right in their own eyes. This means, that Israel was no longer following the tenets of divine establishment as prescribed in the Mosaic Law and applicable for all time. It got so bad and the people became so relative in their thinking, and they removed themselves so far from God's Word, that their mission was set aside and removed. Israel became degenerate and suffered intensely for it. The cycles of discipline which came upon them.

The Mosaic Law is filled with divine establishment. That is the basis of our laws. It reflects divine establishment; and today, divine establishment is the reflection of the influence of God over the state. The politically correct atheists and humanists, and they oppose Christianity in every possible way, are driving the United States down the road of degeneracy.

The laws of divine establishment are so narrowing. Today, everything that is wrong. All lives are marked with degeneracy, but it is called something else. Let's bring every activity into our culture and say that it is okay. The laws of divine establishment define our freedoms. When everyone can do everything they want, they impost on other people's freedoms. If you don't like it, they will be all over your freedom. That is not freedom; that is tyranny. The laws of divine establishment are the underpinning of freedom in any nation. Remove that influence, the nation degenerates into a morass of confused thinking and degeneracy. The humanist can offer no solution for rising violence and hatred.

So, they must embrace degeneration as a normal progression of human evolution. What is evil becomes good; and what is good becomes evil. Perfect definition of the doctrine of demons. The protections afforded to a client nation are removed. Israel is the perfect example of this.

What Is the Role of Christianity in the State?

1. It is the spiritual influence of believers, including individual believers who are a part of the government. There are many believers in government today.
2. They are not trying to impose Christianity by fiat or activism.
3. They must represent divine establishment in law and governance. Everything else is relative.
4. The church as an institution should never be the state nor should it superimpose itself upon the state nor should it every rule the state.
5. There is room for both church and state to...
6. The state is blessed through the laws of divine establishment found in Scripture and the spiritual influence of Bible doctrine in the souls of advancing believers. That is the relationship.

Bobby will prove to us all of this stuff. These things are taught from the Lord Jesus Christ Himself. The Lord is the source of any doctrine. This doctrine is critical to understand.

Matt. 22:17 "Tell us therefore, 'What do you think? Is it lawful to give tribute money to Caesar or not?'"

Bobby did tell a story, but that was to set up an all-important doctrine. The impact of His answer will be all that much greater.

Lesson #0954

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

1/11/2017 Wednesday

Matt. 22:15 Then the Pharisees went and took counsel how they could trip Him up in His words.

What would these men do, if they were not promoting themselves and their own power or looking to destroy the Lord Jesus Christ? We are in the final week and there is a great deal of conflict occurring at this time. The Lord, as a rabbi, is cleansing the Temple. They sold animals at an exorbitant price; which animals were required for a proper sacrifice.

Then the Lord gave them 3 parables; so the religious leaders looked to remove the Lord from the scene.

Matt. 22:16 They sent out their disciples along with the Herodians to him saying, "Master, we know that you are true and teach God's way in truth, neither do you give special care to any, for you don't regard the status of people. (The Welcome Bible)

The pharisees sent out disciples and Herodians to spy in the Lord, to attempt to catch the Lord saying something wrong or seditious.

Luke 20:19–20 And the chief priests and the scribes sought to lay hands on Him in that very hour, and they were afraid, for they knew that He spoke this allegory against them. And having watched [Him] closely, they sent spies, pretending themselves to be righteous, so that they should seize on His word [fig., catch Him in some statement] in order to hand Him over to the rule and the authority of the governor.

Two groups of theological students are sent; and they are those who often are stuck with a particular point of view. They wanted separation from Rome and from the Herodian dynasty. But the Herodians wanted independence from Rome, but they did not mind Herod Antipas. Both parties did agree at this point to be rid of Roman rule; and they wanted to see if they could get the Lord to agree with that point of view. It was their own viewpoint that they wanted the Lord to say; and then they would use this against Him.

The theological students were posing there; and this was their cover. They came to Him with a difficult moral and legal problem. Their case hinged on the politics of Jewish independence from Rome. This was a very touchy political matter. They were always at odds with the Roman government and half of them were at odds with the Herodian government.

A politician who is asked a simple yes or no question, and they are able to talk for a very long period of time without saying the words yes or no.

Matt. 22:16 They sent out their disciples along with the Herodians to him saying, "Master, we know that you are true and teach God's way in truth, neither do you give special care to any, for you don't regard the status of people. (The Welcome Bible)

"If You are teaching God's truth; then you do not bend to anyone; and you are not partial to anyone. They are setting the Lord up. "Answer this question without prejudice." This was done in front of many Jews and they wanted a lot of people to hear His answer. "Speak before all of the crowd here; give us Your wisdom here," which was going to include a statement of sedition. Once a seditious statement is all they need.

The Sparticus revolt is one of the many revolts that we know. During the Spatacus rebellion, it was expected that the Lord would say the wrong thing.

Matt. 22:17 "Tell us therefore, 'What do you think? Is it lawful to give tribute money to Caesar or not?'"

"You are the great Man of truth; so tell us your opinion here." Then they ask, "Is it legal" do we support the state with our taxes or not?

Is there a conflict between the 4th divine institution and the spiritual kingdom. The bone of contention is the payment of taxes. What is the interaction? Two aspects to the church and state here.

Divine establishment should be the proper influence. There is supposed to be personal, spiritual growth. The answer is the trap set by the students.

What Is the Trap?

1. If the Lord says pay the taxes, then he could be branded as a Roman sympathizer.

2. If He said yes, that is contrary to being free of...
3. How could He be the Messiah if He gives credence to Rome?
4. He would alienate the sympathies of many Jews if
5. They expect the Lord to say no.

What Befalls Him If He Says No?

1. He would not be the Messiah
2. He would be placing
3. This would play him at odds with
4. Later there would be a death sentence on the people.

This is all about vying for power with Rome.

They will prove themselves to be exactly what the Lord claims to be.

A politician will assign an evil motive to another politician; but this often occurs they would make certain that the Romans or

What Did the Lord Do to Escape Their Untruth?

1. The Lord presented the proper balance between nationalism and civil government.
2. He presented the allegiance of the believer to God. Both can exist side-by-side.
3. Both do exist; and it is Biblical. The Lord knows their thinking.

And the Lord asks, "Why are you telling."

This approach places the disciples on the defensive.

Mention of the press conference of the president-elect is men. The president-elect put them on the defensive. He put up with no guff and is a perfect example of what is happening right here. They thought that they had him

Jesus perceived their malice. He understands that they are just pawns; and that they oppose Him.

Mat 22:18 But Jesus having known their wickedness, said, "Why do you(p) test Me, [you(p)] hypocrites?"

The Lord is looking to get their attention away from their one-sided mind. The Lord was going to give them the truth. "I know who you are; hypocrites." They were going to get Him to say the wrong thing and then get Him killed for it.

They were hypocrites. They were ponêria; they were wicked. Their motives were evil and duplicitous. Countless times, the Lord has said, "You hypocrites!" They were not doing the right thing; they were testing Him.

Παιροζω means to put on trial (to discover what they think). They are not kidding the Lord. He did not answer the question and He throws them off balance.

Matt. 22:19 "Show to Me the coin [used] for the tribute [or, the tax]." So they brought to Him a denarius [i.e., a Roman, silver coin].

A genius explanation. The denarius would be used to pay taxes with.

Matt. 22:20 And He says to them, "Whose image [is] this, and the inscription?"

Maybe they start to get a little concerned at this point.

Matt. 22:21 They say to Him, "Caesar's." Then He says to them, "So render the [things] of Caesar to Caesar, and the [things] of God to God."

The Answer of the Lord

1. The very coin of the realm had the head of Tiberius on it; minted by the covenant theology. It came from Cæsar.
2. This represented with the Jews brought to Palestine. They hated the Romans and did not consider this.
3. Jesus used this coin.
4. The coin of the realm paid for some autonomy.
5. The Romans allowed them to have some semblance of their own government.
6. They got protection from the Roman government. The Jews were in constant fear
7. The people paid for military protection. This is legitimate.
8. The coin represented the 4th divine institution.

This benefitted the Jews. So they should have been. They did not want to be taxed, but they did want the benefits. They profited from Roman providence.

They wanted the autonomy to do anything that they wanted to do; but this destroyed the divine institution. They called this freedom. It was freedom for them to do with ever they wanted. Their freedoms imposed themselves on the freed.

People come here all the time to try to enjoy our benefits here. Taxes go to all kinds of things; even things that we do not like; and we have to accept them.

People today take the free benefits, but give their allegiance to the nation of their origin; or to the flag of another they want to take advantage of all that is offered them, without taking any plla freedom without responsibility is chaos and anarchy.

They did not get what they wanted; they get the opposite; the direct iron rule of Rome and the destruction of the Jewish nation. In their hypocrisy, they will bring down the wrath of Rome. They will go out under the fifth cycle of discipline.

Matt. 22:21 They say to Him, "Caesar's." Then He says to them, "So render the [things] of Caesar to Caesar, and the [things] of God to God."

Matt. 22:22 And having heard, they were amazed, and having left Him, they went away.

Lesson #0955

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

1/12/2017 Thursday

Matt. 22 Mark 12 Luke 20 the question is, do we pay taxes or not? Students spies were sent to try to trip up the Lord.

Matt. 22:17 "Tell us therefore, 'What do you think? Is it lawful to give tribute money to Caesar or not?'"

What Is Being Asked Here

1. The issue is between the secular state or religious authority. Which rules?
2. Should the Jews be separate from Roman governing or not?
3. It is a political-religious issue.
4. Should the two be separate or not? Which one receives priority?
5. They should be independent of Rome. Taxes should be paid to the priests as per the Old Testament; that is what the theocracy of Israel required. So this was a real issue to the religious leaders. They believed that they should govern Judæa according to the Mosaic Law and the rabbinical writings.

They expected to hear, "Judaism ought to be separate and independent of Rome." But that is not what the Lord told them. They were expecting a political savior. Now, if Jesus says this, He will be accused of being a revolutionary and He will be executed. This is what the plot was.

How did the Lord handle this trap? He spoke doctrine.

Instead of political correct answers, Mad Dog Mathis gave the correct answers, unfiltered. All they could do is talk about the LGBT community. This is what we need to hear is the truth and bluntly spoken; and this is what Jesus was doing to these student spies. What He does is normative for all time.

Mat 22:18 But Jesus having known their wickedness, said, "Why do you(p) test Me, [you(p)] hypocrites?"

Then Jesus says, "Does anyone here have a little money? Give it to Me."

Matt. 22:19 "Show to Me the coin [used] for the tribute [or, the tax]." So they brought to Him a denarius [i.e., a Roman, silver coin].

So they bring Him a Roman coin.

Before every football game, the captains of the football team go to the middle of the field to flip the coin, and he says, "Here is the coin and this is the head's side." Jesus does the same thing. The coin is the symbol of Roman authority.

These people denied Cæsar his portion. The taxes of the Jews paid for a certain, protected autonomy. But they wanted to be rid of it all.

You cannot separate nationalism from the governing of civil government. The students believed that they were setting the Lord up; but He set them up.

Matt. 22:20 And He says to them, "Whose image [is] this, and the inscription?"

Jesus Settles this Argument

1. Jesus settled this subject for all time; with one line.
2. This is the statement of the relationship between church and state. In this case, it was Judaism and state.
3. What Jesus said, was, man has a duty to civil government under the 4th divine establishment institution. The tax is the price that the individual pays.
4. This is most pertinent to most Christians, as the Lord manddaeted this doctrine. Cæsar and God meet here.

Matt. 22:21 They say to Him, "Caesar's." Then He says to them, "So render the [things] of Caesar to Caesar, and the [things] of God to God."

What Does Apodidmi Mean?

1. Give it up; fulfill your duty to someone else.
2. The duty is to pay a debt owed; that debt is called taxes.
3. The police on the street are paid for by our tax money; the military are paid by our taxes. So is Congress and the Senate.
4. People most certainly owed taxes that must be paid based upon the 4th divine institution. There are Christians who do not think they should pay taxes. They forget about rendering to Cæsar.
5. Payment includes everyone; believers and unbelievers both. The IRS should not need to enforce this law of believers, is it is required.
6. Many Jews did not see this as necessary.

The imperative of command; pay up, shell it out. That is your obligation.

Pay Your Taxes

1. The principle of taxation is a bona fide operation of government; and the believer must support this.
2. The government must provide money for basic operations. That is why order rules and not anarchy.
3. How about the practical question? The Romans were tyrannical and unfair.

Government is indispensable.

Purpose of Government

1. God ordained government for stability, protection and perpetuation of the human race. All of this fall under nationalism.
2. The 2nd divine institution is nationalism; the norm for human existence in this world. Separation into nations occurs at Babel.
3. A nation cannot operate without government. It was an anarchist who started WWI. This was the match that lit the fire. He wanted to do away with government; and look at what happen.

Failed states all over the world today. Libya is like this. An evil dictator was deposed by revolution, which the United States supported. A worse condition occurred.

Keeping a Got Intact

1. Destroying an existing government can destroy the stability and sometimes even the existence of that nation.
2. Without the authority of a government, nation states degenerate into chaos, crime and civil war. His worl is fill with chaos. Many middle eastern nations fulfill this principle.
3. Even when a government is not good or even oppressive, it is still a functioning government.
4. Rome was not a perfect governing power. Necessary for people to survive and even to thrive. The Jewish people did not like the Roman government.
- 5.
6. The government works for good as a divine institution. There is no caveat
7. Government is ordained by God, even though it can lend itself tothe abuse of man's sin nature.
8. Therefore, no believer should demand the dissolution of government; or take part in a revolutionary endeavor. Wo

MacArthur set up a government to be in operation immediately in Japan. So this was done throughout Jesus spoke to the Jews; and Paul was writing to the Roman believers.

Rom. 13:1 Let every soul be submitting to higher [or, governing] authorities, for [there] is no authority except from God, but the existing authorities have been appointed by God.

Governments are established by God.

Authority in Government

1. There are no qualifications given here. This authority is not qualified.
2. Paul's Biblical doctrine of civil order and authority does not distinguish between types of gov. It does not differ from today. Bad authority is not an exception.
3. The government that Paul was under in which he lived and wrote, and which ultimately ordered his death,
- 4.
- 5.
6. Taxation to preserve and allow government to function. If it is a government, then it has authority. That authority comes from God. The worst government you can think of still has legitimate authority and authority from God, ordained by God. It keeps order. There were social benefits; there were many things that were not beneficial to some. Rome killed hundreds of thousands of people and Rome was a client nation to God. The roads were good; and believers could walk those roads to the far corners of the empire and... Suppose we come under great authority? Do we take arms and revolt to take the government down? The American revolution is not the same.
7. The people of a government owe allegiance to their government.
8. This is what God has ordained.

The Roman Empire looked out for Rome and Romans; but some were slaves and some were slaughtered in the colosseum.

There are many points to come and things that we need to consider. It is a lot to swallow and a lot to understand. You may have to rebound.

True revolution is an internal revolt against an existing government within the nation. From the inside they destroy the governing authority. In Russia, they wiped out the czars and ended up with 50 years of murder.

The American Revolution did not destroy a nation or a government but it built one.

Lesson #0956

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

1/15/2017 1Sunday

The relationship between church and state is debated and a divisive issue. An apropos time for this message. Church and state is highly debated today; and this was addressed by the founding fathers. Humanists want every visage of religion removed from anything related to government. Other ideas include the influence of divine establishment as the legal code of the nation. The Mosaic Law was the legal code of the theocratic kingdom of Israel in the Old Testament. It was a nation ruled directly by God; but that is not true today. The Mosaic Law should not be the legal code for our nation today.

Divine establishment influences the legal code.

Divine establishment? What is that? The laws of divine establishment are principles ordained by God for the morality, survival, protection and the increase of the human race throughout human history. These laws of divine establishment are certainly reflected in the United States legal code. Divine establishment was written into the Bill of Rights; and it works admirably because it is from God. These laws are good for believers and unbelievers alike. The benefit is good and fair governance. Christianity cannot be imposed on people or the state. Many monarchs of Europe did attempt to force Christianity on Jews and pagans through torture, etc. that does not work.

The final idea is, individual believers, who make up the church as a body of believers, should have spiritual influence through spiritual growth and individual participation in the government by voting and holding office. That growth and participation is always necessary in order for the United States to retain its client nation status. Input and influence of believers; which are mostly divine establishment influence. Divine principles as well.

Jesus has provided the true and definitive approach to government and the Christian. Should taxes be paid to the ruling empire?

Jesus said, "Render to Caesar the things which are Caesar's and to God the things which are God's."

Aorist active imperative of ἀποδίδομι, which means to fulfill one's duty to someone; to fulfill one's duty; to pay a debt. We are paying a debt to the state for a functioning and running government.

Jesus tells them, "Pay your taxes," which is the 4th divine institution. All men have a duty towards Cæsar.

Divine Institution #4

1. The 4th divine institution is nationalism; the Biblical norm for human existence in this world. This concept is under attack today.
2. We are divided into nations, beginning with the Tower of Babel. God sanctioned Israel as a nation when He brought them out of Egypt.
3. Therefore, internationalism is not God's design for the human race. It is destructive; and we can see it in our midst today.
4. A nation cannot operate without government as a part of divine establishment. There are those who do not want government. There is a point where government exceeds its boundaries and overreaches.
5. Government provides a nation state with protection and stability.

6. Without governmental authority, nation-states degenerate into failed states. Many states in the middle east and Africa are failed states.

There is no perfect government. Some think that the solution is more and more government. The more the government intrudes, the more the sin nature intrudes.

How do we distinguish?

Rom. 13:1 Let every soul be submitting to higher [or, governing] authorities, for [there] is no authority except from God, but the existing authorities have been appointed by God.

The authorities which exist have been established. There are no qualifications in Rom. 13:1. He does not call dictatorships are wrong. All govts are allowed. The issue is not the type of government. We are to submit to the authority of government as it is ordained by God. Being anti-authority is anti-God. Rom. 13:1. God is the source of all authority. Even under the tyranny of Rome, of brutal Rome, the Jews still were to obey them. They receive much.

Basic Concepts about Government.

1. Being a Christian does not exclude the believer from responsibility to the civil government. You cannot claim your Christianity as a reason for not supporting government.
2. Anarchy and revolution is not sanctioned by the Lord or by the Scriptures.

Too many thought that Jesus

Liberation theology is quite Marxist in its viewpoints. Jesus first came to save us from our sins.

Revolution and Divine Establishment

1. A physical revolution is never called for. When people say, "Jesus is a revolutionary, they know nothing."
2. Government is divinely established and ordained.
3. So the intent to overthrow one's own government, either through plots and intrigue. There are many trying to stop what happens on Friday.
4. What about the American Revolution? Fomenting revolution and the lawless usurping of power. We may see senseless mob violence soon. That is simply auni
5. Whatever is gained in revolution, which is nothing, could have been accomplished without revolution.
6. The ends to not justify the means. Crime does not breed a good new government.
7. Problems require divine establishment solution

Revolution is to destroy the government within the nation. Our War for Independence was not the classic destruction of an internal government. Nothing like the Russian or the Chinese revolution. We did not eliminate the land-owning aristocracy or the rich.

We have a republic which allows for the full-throated support of freedom. Our army fought for freedom; it did not fight to destroy the interior government. Every government. What about the oppressive and degenerate government. When Paul wrote Rom. 13:1, Nero was the worst Antonine Cæsar and possibly the worst Cæsar; and Paul. Paul did not abrogate a divine institution despite the degeneracy of Nero. Nero represented this divine institution, render to Cæsar what is Cæsar's and to God what is God's.

Closing principle: Do not get upset by what goes on around you in government. Put it in the Lord's hand and faith-rest it. The Jews refused these divine establishment principles. Claudius later banished the Jews from his area.

Rom. 13:2 Accordingly, the one setting himself in opposition to the [governing] authority has resisted God's ordinance, and the ones having resisted will receive judgment to themselves.

Rom. 13:3 For the ones ruling are not a terror of good works, but of evil [works]. So do you want to not be fearing the [governing] authority? Be doing good, and you will have praise [or, approval] from it [i.e. the ruling authority].

Rom. 13:4 For it is a servant of God to you for good. But if you are doing evil, be fearing, for it does not bear the sword without reason. For it is a servant of God, an avenger for wrath to the one doing evil.

Rom. 13:5 For this reason, it is necessary to be subjecting oneself, not only because of wrath, but also because of your conscience.

Lesson #0957

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

1/15/2017 2Sunday

Matt. 22 is where we are going back to?

Government is authority ordained by God. What kind of government ordained by God. "Render to Cæsar the things which are Cæsar's and to God the things which are God's."

Rom. 13:1 Let every soul be submitting to higher [or, governing] authorities, for [there] is no authority except from God, but the existing authorities have been appointed by God.

Did God ordain Adolf Hitler? The principle is authority, regardless of the leader, regardless of the type of government. Paul lived under one of the great tyrannies of the ancient world; Nero killed Christians just for fun. He put Christians in the coliseum and lit them up like torches; he beheaded them. This was written to believers who received the brunt of Nero's tyranny.

The religious leaders who listened to Jesus did not expect this. They expected Him to speak toward separating from the Roman empire. He could have said that; He claimed to be Messiah. Why did He not say, "Render to Me" rather than to Cæsar.

The Jews refused these establishment principles. They rejected the authority of Rome based upon a doctrine that they would cite. Christians would do this too. I will not for anyone who is not a Christian; or for anyone who does not agree with me.

This is how the Jews were: hard-headed. They Jews believed their allegiance belonged to the coming Messiah. The problem is, they missed the real Messiah; they looked forward to another messiah. Their anti-authority attitude was anti-God. So many Christians are like this: I don't like this government, or this or that policy; and I will do anything to pull that government down. There is a lot of garbage that comes out of government. This is what the Lord was teaching on that particular Tuesday.

There was a tremendous siege by Rome against these anti-authority Jews. They were punished for violating the Lord's instructions regarding the 4th divine institution. The Jews hated paying taxes to the Romans. This is why the question was asked. Now, if Jesus agreed with them, then they would turn Him in. Such hypocrites!

Too many expect government to promote their ideas and ideology. We will see that on Friday for the inauguration. If they don't get what they want, they will march, riot and burn.

Basic Principles

1. Always respect the authority of government, even when that authority is being abused. Whenever you see government abusing authority, remember Rom. 13:1; God ordained that government for a good reason.
2. Always respect the office of authority of a leader, even though that leader may lack character and perpetrate bad policy.
3. You can oppose the policy of the actions of the government, but never the institution of the government. You have no right to overthrow and destroy government.

The Second Basic Principle

1. Government authority does not derive its power from the people.
2. Rom. 13:1 this authority comes from God. Those governments which exist are established by God.
3. That is the underlying premise of nationalism.
4. X
5. God uses human government to wield necessary authority as a buffer against anarchy and chaos. Good or bad government; social order is kept by the divinely ordained government.
6. Anti-authority thinking is anti-God. Bobby learned that principle in college. He learned this first hand in college. Bobby went to college in the 60's and there was nothing but protest. He walked by a building and he started to cry; he had just been tear gassed.

Kids took over a building and the police were gassing them. Bobby then went and joined the ROTC as his own protest.

7. What God has ordained, the believer must not contradict or oppose. The institution of government.
8. Leave the abuse of governmental authority up to God. Leave this abuse in the hands of the Lord, as the early church did. Do not foment revolution against government. There are fine lines here. Government should NEVER be brought down through revolution. You can oppose governmental policies; but your actions can be incorrect or anti-God.
9. God's justice will prevail. Never forget that. Even though government may persecute and abuse its power, God's justice will prevail. God brought down Nero shortly after he beheaded Paul. Your life could be taken in persecution.
10. The institution of government is divinely ordained; therefore, it must not be destroyed. Under Mao, the church had to go underground; and the church had to do this under Rome. Regardless of the circumstances; the justice of God is still there; and the institution of government is still divinely ordained.

God's Justice

1. All rulers at all levels are responsible before God for the abuse of their divinely delegated authority and power. Rulers, governors, presidents.
2. God does not sponsor human revolution to tear down His Own institution of authority. Their authority is not ours to remove.
3. Yet God may permit revolution as punishment for abuse of power; not from us, but from others. God can permit other evils to foment revolution.
4. That punishment may be directed toward a degenerate nation; in which case the whole nation is affected. Everyone gets a bad deal. The oppression of the czars of Russia was replaced by a more violent communist dictatorship. The ruling class in France was replaced by rabble in the streets; and the 20 years of war with Napoleon. Revolution can remove a bad person; but it is replaced with a worse government or a worse person. Adolf Hitler replaced a corrupt government; but he was even worse. Revolution is not where we want to go.

When leaders abuses their civil power, this contradicts the divinely given power of government under the 4th divine institution. Human arrogance and the rejection of divine authority always leads us in the wrong direction. The 1960's was not a marvelous time of burgeoning rule by the people. This goes on even today. All authority is useless apart from human volition. This divine institution affects all other divine institutions. Always view the first divine institution first and you will see the rest.

God's Authority Will Not Be Mocked

1. God's authority will not be mocked by anyone, whether by the rabble or by bad rulers. When those rulers abuse the authority, they are evil and they mock the divine institution.

The believer must also fulfill his duty to God while residing within the state. To be an ambassador for Christ and to pray; and there is no other choice for a believer in Jesus Christ. Divine authority in the life of the believer must never be compromise. Authority has been delegated. What happens when the state illegitimately imposes its authority on the believer's obligation to God. What happens when the state persecutes or disallows the worship of God. The government authority become tyrannical, as did the Roman empire to the early church. They outlawed Christianity, especially in Middle Eastern countries today. When that occurs, we have to choose God. But we do not cite God for simple civil disobedience.

At no time is the believer authorized to initiate or to take part in revolutionary activities. To profess Christ in the face of government tyranny can be very costly; as it was for the Apostle Paul. Many martyrs since then in the history of the church. That is included in fulfilling one's responsibility to God. The believer is under the protection of the justice and the power of God. No one and nothing including a tyrannical government can remove us from this life until it is God's time for us to go home. We need not fear death; we are not going anywhere.

God did not guarantee that it would be smooth sailing in this life. Our issue is with the authority of God and what we render to Him. We focus on accomplishing God's will for our lives, while still rendering to Cæsar what is Cæsar's. One is the authority of God; the other has the authority given by God. Bobby believes tomorrow's inauguration ought to have the Bible open to Rom. 13:1.

Legitimate Authority in Government

1. Government authority does not derive its power from the people; it comes from God.
2. God sanctioned government for the survival, stability and perpetuation of the human race. This is why there is authority given to government.
3. Otherwise the anti-authority arrogance of the sin nature would drive people to anarchy and destruction. That is what the authority of government is supposed to do.
4. Therefore, being anti-authority is being anti-God. Our country is very anti-authority at this moment. Those perpetrating this will be in full view tomorrow. The new president represents the institution of divinely instituted authority.
5. God uses government to wield necessary authority. As a buffer against confusion, chaos and the very base nature of humanity. How many disaster movies have you seen, where it is total chaos and every man and woman for himself. No authority and that is no government. Silly movie.
6. This is the underlying premise of the 4th divine institution. What God has ordained, the believer must not contradict or superimpose. Leave governmental authority in the hands of God. If God has divinely designated authority in government and that authority is abused, then God will deal with it. All leaders and rulers and responsible before God. Divine establishment is in play here.

God's ultimate authority will not be mocked by perverse or immoral human activity; nor will He be mocked by the alternative anti-authority revolutionaries. The leaders who are illegitimate authorities who have seized it. Who delegates authority to the one who abuses it? That would be Satan. He corrupts the 4th divine institution; and he does a great job of it; and that is supported by human arrogance. Power lust is a motivating factor in arrogance abuse of government.

God makes war on the arrogant. Those people who mock God are destroyed in history.

How does authority abuse and the rise of dictatorships work? People use their own free will to gravitate toward an evil system of power and authority. It is all around us; especially in times of historical disaster or upheaval. They turn toward any strong man who promises them whatever.

Germany after WWI was out of control. Their government was inept and out of control. Along comes a strong man who promises stability and prosperity; and who is evil to the core.

Nazis took power because Hitler was voted into power; and Christians supported him who had no doctrine and could not recognize evil. When believers gravitate to Bible doctrine; they use good decisions.

When believers gravitate toward anti-authority systems, they are using their volition to make bad decisions from a position of weakness. Nothing is more stupid than anti-authority people. They might be smart people in their IQ's. But they buy into a system sponsored by Satan. When you oppose God, you are a fool. Evil has no authority apart from human consent. Inevitably, they will give their allegiance to bad human leaders with disastrous results. This explains the rise of great wicked men like Castro, Hitler, Stalin, Lenin. An Islamic president in Ghana; he simply grabbed the power.

Anti-authority thinking is not for people or for government. The very seat of divinely appointed people. Our government is jammed with power-mad people.

Satan constantly does everything in his power to pvertrow authority.

Government Abusing Freedom

1. Government is divinely ordained if it provides freedom.
2. Freedom and authority must coexist; there must be a balance. Freedom without authority is anarchy; authority without freedom is tyranny.
3. Even in abuse, the principle of authority in government remains in effect. Inaugurations are a test to see if we can be authority oriented.
4. What is freedom? The right of privacy, the right of self-determination, the right to hold your own opinions. The sacredness of life and property; and the evangelism and worship of God.
5. In spite of the form of government authority, authority oriented or tyrannical, christian spiritual growth and the obedience provides the civil order.

Rome was a client nation which persecuted believers.

1. The elevation of establishment and morality in compliance with the divine laws of establishment by believers accomplishes more than human race ever could. Divine authority respected with always accomplish more than Satanic authority. God's justice is always in operation.
2. It does not matter how justifiable revolution appears to be in the face of the abuse of power. We see the abuse of power and tyranny, and we want to tear that government down.
3. The application of doctrine in the face of bad government is the Christian's great line of defense.
4. The divine principle of governmental authority for people in government.

Klassen Staffenberg who tried to assassinate Hitler. Bonhoffer opposed Hitler and he is still remembered as an ambassador for Jesus Christ.

The Apostle Paul was protected from tyranny and from his enemies because he was a Roman citizen. God's sovereignty was the ultimate decider of Paul's destiny; not Rome. Paul was to render to God rather than to Cæsar. Paul lived by Rom. 13:1

the principel of render to Cæsar are the principles that we just learned. Our Lord does not let the Jews off the hook because the taxes are too high.

There are those today who dispute God's established authority. They used the excuse of immorality or governmental abuse. This is anti-authority.

Paying taxes is a mandate for believers. Jesus did not set up a percentage that was acceptable and one that was not.

1. Matt. 22:21, the Lord confirms the legitimacy of the Christian supporing the state.
2. It is the believer's responsibility to o
3. Christ confirms the legitimacy of both entities. National authority and God's will and purpose, operating side-by-side.
4. Believers' duties to the state are compatible with their duties...
5. They both have a place.
6. Under the Biblical doctrine, they should have a conflict. There is the conflict...both from God.
7. Christian is to carry out the will of God for his life; even if the state kills us.
8. Part of the obligation....

A Summary

1. Jesus makes a clear distinction between church and state.
2. Christ gives great emphasis to the state. The Romans were the state or the government; yet they allowed the freedom of worship. They asked for taxes, but...The Jews revolted and Jerusalem was destroyed.

3. Until Christ returns, church and state will remain, operating separately.
4. The state provides the maintenance of law and order and stability, which insures freedom
5. The church however provides a spiritual kingdom for believers. This is spiritual growth and Bible doctrine.
6. The Christian supports the state in the maintenance of law and order and freedom. When we become anti-authority, we have violated that principle.
7. In essence, both render to Cæsar and render to God meet in the preservation and operation of freedom in the client nation. That is the picture of the history of the United States of America.
8. Humanism, relativism, and the persecution of Christians. The believer must place his loyalty in Jesus Christ.
9. Influencing the state to define and to maintain freedom; and let the LORD handle the outcome. That is what the Apostle Paul did in the face of Roman opposition. He rendered to the state and he rendered to God and with exactly the right outcome.

Rom. 13:1 Let every soul be submitting to higher [or, governing] authorities, for [there] is no authority except from God, but the existing authorities have been appointed by God.

Lesson #0959

Matt. 22:21b–22 Life of Christ

1/22/2017 1Sunday

Eucharist

Man is purchased and redeemed. Christ bought us out of our spiritual death.

“If it dies, it bears much fruit.”

For while we were still helpless, at the right time, Christ died for the ungodly.

God redeem Israel by payment of value assessed. This payment delivered Israel from the chains of Pharaoh; thus they were saved.

Ex. 13:13 Every firstborn of a donkey you shall redeem with a lamb, or if you will not redeem it you shall break its neck. Every firstborn of man among your sons you shall redeem.

Very unusual verse. God teaches profound truth by analogies to animals. If you are an animal lover, you have already discovered this. So many comparisons in the Bible to animals, our sin is like a sow wallowing in its own filth.

The donkey needs cleansing, just as man requires cleansing from sin. Only a pure animal could be used as a redemptive sacrifice. The corrupted donkey could not redeem itself. Sin cannot be a substitute for sin. A clean animal is necessary. A donkey cannot change his own unclean status. Man's nature is compared to a wild donkey; confirmed by Hosea 8:9. Ephraim has hired lovers. Isaiah warned against this with the sign of foreign tongues. The donkey is a picture of sin and depravity.

The donkey will be redeemed by a lamb; has to be a clean and spotless lamb. Scripture has many things to say about the donkey. A whip is for the horse; a bridle is for a donkey. They are stubborn animals and often compared to natural man. Man is a wild ass who needs the restraint of the bridle and he does not like it.

If you do not redeem it, then you must break its neck. What a graphic description. The donkey by nature is recalcitrant and hard-headed. The designated redeemer is the lamb. This is linked to the redemption of Israel from slavery. Israel was delivered from Egypt when there were 10 plagues. The 10th plague was the death of the firstborn from every household. Death passed over the houses. This consecration of the firstborn is a symbol.

The firstborn of the animals included. Devote to the Lord the first offspring of every womb. The males belong to the Lord.

By law, the firstborn donkey must die. Possibly some Jewish owner might complain that the donkey cannot help his own nature. He was condemned by the Law anyway. Those who are men who claim, "It is not our fault that we are born sinners." They claim that they cannot help but have a sin nature. They had no choice in the matter; and they therefore, blame God.

People are always ready to lay blame upon God, and they charge God as the source of their sinfulness. Because of God's love, our condemnation is turned to salvation. God sent His Son into the world, that we won't all die from a broken neck. The work must be done by the Creator on behalf of man.

Foolish people who think that they can redeem themselves. They think that they can be a good beast of burden; and that they can achieve great things in God's sight.

Jesus and the rich young ruler. All the merit can be found in God's Son; none is found in us.

Ex. 13:13 a lamb for a donkey; and when the lamb was sacrificed, the donkey was freed. Then the donkey could be used by its master without fear of being destroyed. The donkey changes from unclean to clean. This sinful believer now becomes sanctified; justified. Christ's death becomes the medium of our blessing. The price that staggers the imagination. To make the payment, God the Son took on the suffering of man. He became a curse for the very ones that He created. The Lord was made sin for us; the very thing that He most hates.

The life and service of the donkey belongs to the master, who redeemed this animal. The donkey is now free to live his life. Our life belongs to our master; we serve Him in whatever way pleases Him. This passage illustrates our only escape from death.

The next time we see a donkey in a field, think about our redemption.

The Battle Hymn of the Republic was sung by the United States Army Choir. There on the steps of the Lincoln memorial, the words were sung, "God's truth is marching on..." along the mention of the Lord Jesus Christ was also sung. This symbolizes a new day for this country, when the name of Jesus Christ will be spoken out loud, without shame or condemnation.

Matt. 22:21 Render to Cæsar the things which are Cæsar's, and to God the things which are God's. The church must support good government, but it must never become the government. Christian influence in government is allowed. We have an influence because we are growing spiritually and we stand for the truth. We are responsible to pay taxes; for military service, to obey leadership. Rom. 13:1. It is hard to think that you do not resist tyranny. Government is ordained by God as the ruling authority; regardless of what type and regardless of the abuses. Paul did not call for the destruction of the Roman empire, even though that empire had called for his death.

The believer does not stand for these Biblical viewpoints legalistically. To be personally ridiculed for speaking the truth requires moral courage; we are so mandated. To be some wide-eyed fanatic is not productive. Jesus did not call for withholding taxes from Rome; he condoned the principle of the 4th divine institution, despite all of the abuses. The sin nature cannot be removed from any institution where humanity is involved.

The administration at this point may be good and it may not be. There is an emphasis upon the Person of Jesus Christ. But we do not know what direction this will go, at this point. If our hope is in this government, we have made a mistake.

Matt. 22:22 When they heard it, they marveled. And they left him and went away.

Order and stability of the empire allowed Christians to spread the gospel. The Lord upheld the divine institution while giving the correct point of view. All these students could do is ponder the wisdom of Jesus Christ, and return to the pharisees and report their failure.

There would be another confrontation almost immediately, and it would come from the sadducees.

Lesson #0960

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

1/22/2017 2Sunday

Same day, but a new set of questions. These are sadducees. They are very different in their class, theology and their views on the Old Testament. They were the aristocratic party of the Sanhedrin. The sadducees were primarily a political party, many of whom were priests; but there were many from the general population. There were 70 members, a number that they took from the Old Testament, for the 70 elders that Moses chose to help him out.

They sometimes took the pattern of the Old Testament; and sometimes they ignored the Old Testament. The Sanhedrin were ruled by the High Priests. The High Priest was chosen from this group, like the pope is chosen from a group of cardinals.

Such a one claimed authority like Moses did, the first leader. This is how these men saw themselves as having Moses' authority. They also were very strong nationalists, and they opposed the Romans. They were pragmatists and not opposed to the Herodian dynasty. The sadducees were willing to give the Herodian ruling class their due. They are academic elites and power brokers, many filled with arrogance. This is what goes on in government in some places. This is what they were like. They looked down on anyone who did not hold their views. This is true in much of government. "If you do not believe what we believe, we are going to castigate you." That is how the sadducees worked.

In the future, this same group would be against the early Apostles and their followers.

Usually, such a group would ask questions based upon their own theology; the sadducees did not here. They did not believe in angels, the immortality of the soul, or in unseen powers. They were empiricists and rationalists. They were very partial to the Pentateuch rather than the prophets. They were lawyers and lawyers love debate. The sadducees loved to argue politics and theology. They revered the law, but as the basis of human government. The Mosaic Law was not absolute doctrine, as criterion from God. It was not divinely inspired. They spent hours debating the Old Testament Law.

We might compare them to liberal theologians today. Such have a very skewed view of Scripture. They debate human machinations. They approach God's Word from a very different view than we do. They do not believe in the resurrection. Yet, they would debate the resurrection with the Lord. They did not proclaim Easter messages. They did not believe this. They repelled by the implications of a doctrine of resurrection. It could not be proven by logic. It was too mystical to them. They were skeptical of the immaterial world; and of anything related to God. They opposed the resurrection; they did not believe it.

Resurrection is often presented in ways that are popular; and in those days, there was a way of presenting it them, that men were restored to their former bodies. Some people believed that there would be a body of lusts and passions, and they believed that marriage was a part of this. Now, the sadducees thought this to be ridiculous. They reject God, they reject Christianity; and they believe that eternal life is just an emotional crutch.

They express their derisive attitude toward the Lord. The resurrection presented an unsolvable problem. No one could prove resurrection; how ridiculous is that idea?

When Jesus returned into Jerusalem and was with him all this time? Lazarus. Here he is standing around the Lord Jesus Christ. The sadducees claim, "It cannot be proven;" and they refuse to believe that Lazarus was really raised from the dead.

They will present an imaginary case to the Lord, with the intention of laughing him out of the Temple. They did not expect to lose this argument/debate. Their plan was to discredit the Lord Jesus Christ, and to show how ridiculous the resurrection is. The pharisees failed, but where they failed, the sadducees would win.

In 3 or 4 days time, this same Jesus Christ would die and rise again. Many people would see Him. The sadducees themselves were discredited.

Matt. 22:23 The same day Sadducees came to him, who say that there is no resurrection, and they asked him a question,

They are going to quote Deut. 25:5–6. They took the Mosaic Law and they distorted it.

Deut. 25:5–6 "If brothers dwell together, and one of them dies and has no son, the wife of the dead man shall not be married outside the family to a stranger. Her husband's brother shall go in to her and take her as his wife and perform the duty of a husband's brother to her. And the first son whom she bears shall succeed to the name of his dead brother, that his name may not be blotted out of Israel. (ESV)

The idea is to preserve the person's name, the Levirate law.

The Levirate Marriage

1. Under the law, an unmarried man must marry the widow of a dead brother.
2. This was a concept which elevated women to a high status in the ancient world. We think of woman in the ancient world as being 2nd class citizens. They were not to be forgotten or set aside. This is one law that presented this. Israel's law stood out for women's rights. It protected and stood up for women.
3. Taking a brother's wife also preserved the name, the memory and the interests of the dead brother. The family was a very important unit in the ancient world; at least in family. Breaking up a family was a disaster.
4. If the second marriage produced children, then the dead brother would be acknowledged as the legal father of the firstborn son of that marriage.
5. That son would receive all the inheritance due to the first brother and he would be responsible for the family, including the mother and the estate.

The sadducees present a pretend case. There were 7 brothers; not just one. The first marries and dies; and the next brother marries. This continues. They are really going to get weird. The 2nd brother dies; and the 3rd brother dies.

Matt. 22:24 saying, "Teacher, Moses said, 'If a man dies having no children, his brother must marry the widow and raise up offspring for his brother.'

Mark lists some of the stuff which is said.

Matt. 22:25 Now there were seven brothers among us. The first married and died, and having no offspring left his wife to his brother.

So, the sadducees present this absurd situation. And this is how they can show that the resurrection is just silly; because their illustration is silly.

Matt. 22:26 So too the second and third, down to the seventh.

The postpositive conjunction δε is used. It indicates an addition; an hypothetical case being added into the Levirate Law.

They used Scripture to discredit Scripture. The sadducees were adept at such arguments. This had become a very common practice. The misuse of Scripture in order to prove a point. Today, this is proof texting. Taking a passage out of context and to make the passage to mean what he wants it to mean.

Lesson #0961

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

1/25/2017 Wednesday

Many pharisees, but only 70 sadducees. They think that they are the best and the brightest. Many of the Jews bow down to them. The present Jesus with a theological question, even though they are primarily political. They believe their question to be unsolvable. They think that this is an unanswerable question. They did not believe that this question could be answered. They were always skeptical.

They also wanted it in writing; and if not, then they would debate it.

Many claimed that the Lord had raised people from the dead. The sadducees believed that could not be true. So they must refute His claims, and they figured this would be quite easy. Others had trouble with the Lord; but they were smart enough to tie Him up with logic. Disprove the resurrection, then that would make Jesus a phony. They mocked and derided anyone who held to the belief in resurrection. They were derisive toward anyone who did not agree with them.

We see this constantly today. This type of derision is nearly always in view if you watch the media. The media does not report the news; they simply give their opinion about it. When Hollywood goes political; it gets weird.

The sadducees were ready to mock and deride. Once they got their kicks in, then they could bray like the asses that they are.

The Levirate Law

1. The Levirate law, when a man died without a male heir, the nearest relative (usually his brother), was to marry her.
2. The objective was to produce a male heir.
3. The firstborn son of this new marriage would perpetuate the line and the name of the deceased father. Why was this so important?
4. The family name in Israel would be preserved, and that was very important. That was the intent of the legal statute. God promised them land; so their sons would inherit the law.

The sadducees enhanced the Law; but they did believe in it and they followed it. But they were good at taking God's law and reinterpreting it. Their abuse here of the law was just done to make a point. They did this in order to attack the Lord.

Matt. 22:24–26 saying, "Teacher, Moses said, 'If a man dies having no children, his brother must marry the widow and raise up offspring for his brother.' Now there were seven brothers among us. The first married and died, and having no offspring left his wife to his brother. So too the second and third, down to the seventh.

So they have put together an absurd way of looking at this. This is how the sadducees minds worked, and they split hairs and removed the whole point of the Mosaic Law. This illustrates how they would corrupt and rewrite the Law.

Matt. 22:27 After them all, the woman died.

So now we come to the absurd punch line.

Matt. 22:28 In the resurrection, therefore, of the seven, whose wife will she be? For they all had her."

They think that this question cannot be answered. The Levirate Law was completely misunderstood and misapplied here. This was an inane example in order to ridicule the concept of resurrection. That was their point. To their minds, this illustration would discredit the Levirate law; and the Lord Jesus Christ as well.

Their idea is, the resurrection cannot exist because of an example like this. It was such an absurd example that they could not disprove anything. They are trying to disprove God's existence; which makes them fools anyway.

Syllogism. Major premise, if a woman is married 7 times, and husbands all die; and then the wife dies. Minor premise, who is married to whom in the resurrection? Conclusion: this is ridiculous.

When the Lord entered Jerusalem, who was by His side? Lazarus, who had been resuscitated, and plenty of people observed this. The more that people think they are smart, the more foolish they really are.

People in this country today think they are so smart; and what is best for the country, and they know everything. And they become fools. Millions of them in the streets acting like fools. What they were doing was foolish. Whether you agree with the administration in power or not; but at the time that they were marching, the president had not done anything.

Right in front of these sadducees was proof of the resurrection: Lazarus.

They are only 3 days out from the crucifixion. Caiaphas the priest will drag the Lord out in front of the Romans. He is the High Priest and the head of the sadducees. But 3 days after that, the Lord would be resurrected.

We will see the same sort of lunacy coming our way. The atheists, the agnostics, the empiricists today. These people are materialists; and to them, all life is materialism.

The skeptics had never seen a resurrection; and therefore, it could not happen. It's not very scientific. Science does not show this.

The religious leaders did believe in God. Logically, they should have considered that resurrection was a real possibility. If the Lord can create life, then He can raise anyone from the dead. This is true and logical. They refuse to entertain this rational thought of divinity.

What was the Lord's answer? He provided scorn for the scornful. He calls them out in no uncertain terms.

Matt. 22:29 But Jesus answered them, "You are wrong, because you know neither the Scriptures nor the power of God.

"You are wrong because you don't understand the Scriptures or the power of God." This is where He hits them, where it hurts. "You are ignorant."

plumnaho is the word used. This should be stronger than a misunderstanding. The sadducees did not want to be corrected. Provide any unbeliever with the truth and they will reject it. They deceived themselves; they were self-deluded. This would describe the hysteria occurring in this nation today. Some are flat out psychotic.

They were deluded about the power of God. The subject is resurrection. They should have understood that power.

Oida mê, which means not understanding. This means they are ignorant of they have a deficient view of Scripture.

The Logic of God's Power and the Resurrection

1. How could an omnipotent God not be able to raise men from the dead? If God is God, then He can raise you from the dead.
2. The answer to that question is, yes, God can raise man from the dead; God gave us all life! That is the power of God, which they reject.
3. God is the master over life and death. That is a basic understand of His power.
4. The Scripture, which the sadducees often questioned, "I am the Maker of all things," God said.
5. God created without any construction crew or help; and it did not take Him millions of years.

6. Who but God could make this vast universe. Bobby first understood this just by looking up at the night sky and wondering what it is all about. You do not have to wonder; that is the power of God.
7. Who but God could make this vast universe which stretches to infinity.
8. What are God's limits? How could resurrection be impossible for a limitless God?
9. The sadducees had an entirely inadequate view of God and His power.

The Sadducees and Their Views of God

1. They represent an age-old power. They do not know who God is. The Lord is just talking about one aspect of our Lord.
2. Why is He limited?
3. They confine God to activities that humans understand; they give Him human characteristics. They only are willing to ascribe human activities to God. They refuse to understand God except through their own experience.
4. The unlimited omnipotence of God is crystal clear from Scripture. But as Jesus just said, they were ignorant of Scripture.

What about this Scripture?

1. Scripture confirms that God is all-powerful. Job 37:23 He is exalted in power. 1Chron. 29:11–12 By His infinite power, He rules and upholds all things. Isa. 43:14 Even from eternity, I am. The only way to describe the Lord; He just is. "I am He and there is none other. I act and who can reverse it?" How unscientific are these 3 verses.
2. The proof is all around them.
3. The Apostle Paul would define that truth and expose their negative thinking. Rom. 1:20–21 For his invisible attributes, namely, his eternal power and divine nature, have been clearly perceived, ever since the creation of the world, in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse. For although they knew God, they did not honor him as God or give thanks to him, but they became futile in their thinking, and their foolish hearts were darkened. The universe is empirical evidence of the Person of God. All of it. We would be derided for being a Creationist to believe that everything came into being from chaos. No one has an excuse for rejecting the power of God. And Jesus tells them, "You don't understand." The religious leaders thought that they knew God. They did not honor Him for Who He was. "If you do not believe in the resurrection, then you do not believe that God is omnipotent." Climate change is not going to wipe out the world; so do not be afraid. Don't be upset if the EPA is not as strong as it used to be.
4. The fact of the case is this: God's omnipotence guarantees that nothing is impossible with God.
5. God can do all that He purposes to do, like resurrection. There are things that He purposes not to do. He does not do things which are against His Own will. He set the earth in motion because there are things still to come. There will still be a Tribulation following the rapture. God will not destroy the earth because it is not time for that yet. God will destroy the earth in the future, but that will be in His time.

6. His omnipotence made the universe and He will continue to hold it together. Even though such a fact is beyond the rational and empirical capability of man's full comprehension. We will not ever understand God fully until we behold Him face to face. These guys know nothing of His power or they would not limit Him. It is God Who upholds the scientific laws.

Nevertheless, the sadducees were unconvinced.

Matt. 22:30 For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven.

Lesson #0962

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

1/26/2017 Thursday

This is Tuesday prior to the crucifixion. Now we are dealing with the sadducees. Always nice to see how the Lord deals with this opposition. The Angelic Conflict is getting more and more intense; and Satan concentrates and focuses upon these final few days.

This confrontation is a reflection of our own lives. We deal with these confrontations as well; and we get to see how he handles it. Our Lord counters this feeble attempt to counter Him. They distort the Levirate law in order to make a point.

Matt. 22:23–28 The same day Sadducees came to him, who say that there is no resurrection, and they asked him a question, saying, "Teacher, Moses said, 'If a man dies having no children, his brother must marry the widow and raise up offspring for his brother.' Now there were seven brothers among us. The first married and died, and having no offspring left his wife to his brother. So too the second and third, down to the seventh. After them all, the woman died. In the resurrection, therefore, of the seven, whose wife will she be? For they all had her."

Law has intent, and this goes way beyond the intent of the law into absurdity. I guess they could go back and refer to Judah's sons, where two sons die. Yet they start with a big what if; and they really parsed the law. They used the minutia of the law to try to govern every single circumstance. They try to cover every possible angle with every law. They are also laying a trap for the Lord Jesus Christ.

So they ask, whose wife is this woman in eternity future? The real purpose of this question is to disprove the resurrection, as they did not believe in it. They can mock the Lord as a phony, which is their intent here.

What was the reason for speaking about the resurrection? People were talking about the Lord performing miracles, like the raising up of Lazarus. They ignored the evidence which is in front of them.

The Lord calls them deficient. They believed themselves to be the best of the best.

Matt. 22:29 But Jesus answered them, "You are wrong, because you know neither the Scriptures nor the power of God.

They know the Scriptures and this is a pretty rugged thing for the Lord to say to them. In their logical minds, they should have reasoned that, if God created the universe, then He could give and take life at any point. If God could create, then could He not raise from the dead? Simple a fortiori logic. If Christ raised some people from the dead, is He not God and the Messiah. The logical answer is, yes, the Lord is the Messiah. However, the sadducees rejected what they did not like, which was the supernatural.

These same sadducees esteemed the 5 books of the Law. They believed the first 5 books to carry most of the weight. The writings of the prophets were debatable and untrustworthy to these add.

They revere the Mosaic Law; but they were confused about just what the Mosaic Law taught. The Lord speaking of the resurrection in the future simply assumed its truth.

Jesus never addresses which man is legitimately her husband.

Luke 20:34 And Jesus said to them, "The sons of this age marry and are given in marriage,...

Mark 12:25 For when they rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven.

Because they are like angels, they sons of God. It is true, the God-man, the King of Kings has spoken.

Jesus Addressing the Question

1. Jesus has just provided the status of resurrected believers concerning marriage in eternity.
2. The underlying assumption is that there is an eternity. None of this makes sense without an eternity to follow.
3. Jesus ignores the question, but answers it in an answer that matters.
4. He refutes their scenario while stating that
5. The woman with 7 husbands will have no husband in the resurrection.
6. Thus Jesus sets up a description of one aspect of existence. The Lord is answering their question, despite their scenario is ridiculous.

Mark 12:25 For when they rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven.

This is a statement about angels and their relationships. The Gen. 6 incident. After that, they no longer have the ability to marry or to procreate. They became like people in eternity.

Matt. 22:30 For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven.

Angels and Man in Eternity

1. The angels will not marry in eternity and we won't.
2. Resurrection gets some
3. It can be concluded that the marital bonds on earth will not carry over into heaven. Marriage is for this temporal. Islam claims that there will be a number of wives; a selling point. Jesus disputes Islam right here
4. Since angels live in a different mode of existence, we
5. Being immortal, angels do not need to reproduce; their numbers do not change. Exactly the same number of angels from eternity past
6. Their lives center totally around God; not around wives and children. So it will be
7. This verse does not say that resurrection man will become angels.
8. The verse says that we are like angels, as we cannot die once we are resurrected.
9. This is a comparison of immortal existence only. It is not a facsimile of being. Some of you may be fretting.
10. This does not mean that believers will not resurrection family from earth; or friends.
11. Family will not be unimportant. 1Thess. 4:1-17
12. All believers will be family. We will be known as the family of God.
13. We will live in a mode of existence of absolute happiness and bliss far beyond anything that we have ever known or imagined. God provide marriage as it is necessary for the survival of the human race; but this is not necessary in eternity.
14. Companionship and love will be found in heaven. If you equate love and sex, forget it.
15. What God has planned for us in eternity is the greatest existence imaginable. We cannot fully understand.

Next in His proof, Jesus quotes what God said to Moses. We are coming to the proof section of resurrection. Christ appeals to Moses and Moses is nearly God to the sadducees. They see Moses as their great predecessor.

Matt. 22:31 And as for the resurrection of the dead, have you not read what was said to you by God:

Matt. 22:32 'I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob'? He is not God of the dead, but of the living."

{Mk 12:13-17 & Mt 22:15-22 & Lk 20:20-26 Courtyard of the Temple, Tues.}

Christ later challenges them on their understanding of the Law. Haven't you read with is said in the book of Moses?

Points on the next Thing the Lord Says

1. The passage quoted, Ex. 3:6, has the strongest case for resurrection.
2. This is borne out by the fact that He uses the present tense of the verb I am. If the patriarchs had died and were gone, they He was the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.
3. "I am the God of Abraham means, they are still exist?"
4. Their souls are very much alive, awaiting the resurrection.
5. There can be no doubt that the patriarchs had died physically and their bodies were buried and had gone to just.
6. If God is not to be the God of the dead but of the living, then the patriarchs must rise from physical death. Otherwise God is a lying at the w
7. God continues to be their God after physical death.
8. God is their God after death because of the resurrection of the body and soul.
9. "For all are alive to Him." This can only be true if the soul is immortal and there is a resurrection of the dead. No one truly dies. Our bodies stop; but our souls continue to live. No soul sleep and no soul death.

Matt. 22:32 'I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob'? He is not God of the dead, but of the living."

Luke 20:34–38 And Jesus said to them, "The sons of this age marry and are given in marriage, but those who are considered worthy to attain to that age and to the resurrection from the dead neither marry nor are given in marriage, for they cannot die anymore, because they are equal to angels and are sons of God, being sons of the resurrection. But that the dead are raised, even Moses showed, in the passage about the bush, where he calls the Lord the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob. Now he is not God of the dead, but of the living, for all live to him."

Matt. 22:33 And when the crowd heard it, they were astonished at his teaching.

Matt. 22:34 But when the Pharisees heard that he had silenced the Sadducees, they gathered together.

Some were in the background happy that Jesus straightened them all out. The crowd appreciated this.

The Lord presented proof of the resurrection in a clear, air-tight way. This is one aspect of our future. We will be resurrected no question.

The people were astonished. They did believe in the resurrection (the people did); but they expected being resurrected to their original bodies; and His interpretation as...

It was not just a mortal body that they expected to receive.

A lawyer will come up with a great legal question. The arrogant lawyer thinks that he has the best question to stump the Lord.

New set of specials. 48 lessons chosen on the riches of God's grace that Bob has taught.

Next Sunday is Superbowl Sunday...

This final week of the Lord's life seems to go on forever; there seems to be a day of confrontation. A question about resurrection, which is something that the sadducees did not believe.

Now, there is another controversy and it is initiated by a lawyer; and this is one of the greatest controversies begun by a lawyer.

Matt. 22:34 But when the Pharisees heard that he had silenced the Sadducees, they gathered together.

The sadducees were the cream of the crop; and they were unable to trap the Lord with a difficult question.

The pharisees were fine with what the Lord said about resurrection. The Lord supported one of their theological positions; and most of the time, they were in conflict with Him. There was a good answer given to the sadducees.

They were arguing about the next confrontation that was taking place. A scribe is walking by and he takes this in; and he is a lawyer; and he is apparently stimulated by this.

This question will get everyone's interest.

Mark 12:28 And one of the scribes came up and heard them disputing with one another, and seeing that he answered them well, asked him, "Which commandment is the most important of all?"

This is a question which had been debated over and over again. The pharisees loved to argue about the Law; this was a Supreme Court level case. What made this question a potential trap for the Lord Jesus Christ? This was a legal hair-splitting question. They spent so much time splitting hairs there.

613 commandments in the Mosaic Law. 248 affirmative precepts; 365 negative precepts. Truly silly minutia. They made their categorization of the Law of primary importance; making this sort of thing more important than the Law itself. Many ongoing discussions about them. They acted as if this was what God wanted them to do. "Tell us, O Rabbi; which of these commandments is the most important."

They were trying to give human takes on the laws from God. The pharisees in general did not like the you will not type commandments.

They loved ritual. They make high churches today appear as though they have no ritual at all. The magnification of ritual over reality; the reality for them were the additional laws and rulings which the superimposed over the Mosaic Law. There was also the matter of the ritual. They would pick and choose which of the laws needed to be followed no matter what; which could be modified, etc.

The correct view of Scripture is what we have heard over and over again. All Scripture is God-breathed and profitable for doctrine. Any other view is incorrect. The Scriptures are infallible. Those who think that some Scripture is unimportant, they are in agreement with the scribes and pharisees. Such a view completely denigrates the Law. This reduces or negates some of the lesser or lighter commandments.

In our own law code, we have thousands of them; and so many are ignored and many are contradictory. If they did not like a particular law, they just made it a lesser commandment.

Their legalistic hair-splitting was serious business. Their views were not to be taken lightly; and that is power. The scribes and pharisees had a...

In the time of Jesus, this kind of stuff was rampant.

The pharisees had confronted the Lord many times, as He did not...

Many of the regulations pointed toward the Lord; the sacrifices spoke of Him. The blood of the Lamb being spilled on the altar. He did not keep the sacrificial laws. The Lord did not have to keep some of these laws.

This is where the legal question just posed; and this question was designed to trip of he...

If this lawyer could get Jesus caught up in a theological argument and made a statement. The Lord was an outsider and they wanted to get Him to say something against the Law so that they could get Him. "Just let Him try to answer this question, and we will..."

The Temple Court becomes an outdoor courtyard. Silence will descend upon this crowd...

One of the toughest questions from the Mosaic Law. His answer would be definitive. His answer would be completely correct.

Matt. 22:35 And one of them, a lawyer, asked him a question to test Him.

So He gives His answer. He gives two laws.

Matt. 22:36 "Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law?"

the Lord begins with a reference to Himself. Israel must listen to Messiah.

Mark 12:29 Jesus answered, "The most important is, 'Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one.

This will be one of the most important answers that the Lord will give; and this is the heart of our relationship with God.

Lesson #0964 Mark 12:29–30 Deut. 6:3–4 Life of Christ 1/29/2017 2Sun.

Bobby is curious about the habits of people on Sunday morning. He notices that some people come for the first service or second service only.

The first session was a set up for the second service. The pharisees figured, "He cannot answer this question because we cannot answer this question." We will wait for him to say the wrong thing while trying to answer this question, and we will use that against Him.

Mark 12:29 Jesus answered, "The most important is, 'Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one.

Jesus opens with the shemah, and leads this to the primary commandment.

Deut. 6:4–5 "Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God, the LORD is one. You shall love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might.

Jesus makes an announcement that is earth-shaking. This is the basic confession of faith in Judaism. Unfortunately, this meaning has been all but lost. It has become quite ritualistic. We may tune out the introduction to Bible class, but it points to the importance of Bible class.

Their ears are so tightly plugged because they hear nothing. The Old Testament Scriptures have become distorted or ignored.

The sacred Tetragrammaton is found here. YHWH, the God of Israel. The second word is Elohênu. YHWH echad.

1. The Lord Jesus Christ cites the shemah, the sacred Tetragrammaton. Most often the Jews would not pronounce this. This is a ritual understanding.
2. Ironically, Y^ehowah refers to Him as the God of Israel. He is speaking of Himself.
3. The first line means Y^ehowah is our God. He is actually saying to them, "I am your God."

1. He
2. He is the Shekinah Glory; He is the dwelling God with His people. This is Jesus, Who has been with His people throughout history. He is the God with them.
3. The visible manifestation of this God is the 2nd Person of the Trinity.
4. The Shekinah Glory, the same God Who have lived with Israel, from the beginning of her history; Abraham was to be a great nation. The Shekinah Glory was with Israel in the exodus; He was the presence in the cloud by day; in the pillar of fire at night. He spoke to Moses directly; He was the burning bush. He is the dwelling presence of God with Israel. That is Who is standing right in front of them. The Lord revealed Himself in His glory to James, John and Peter.

5. The Shekinah Glory now dwells with Israel in the flesh. He is the Lord Jesus Christ; He is their God. See the significance of the Shemah?
6. It was this Person to Whom the shemah referred; and He would be the One to answer this lawyer's question. They could not trip Him up. The Lord was always able to answer these questions from the Old Testament. Here He is in the flesh to answer this question, and they must listen, and hear what He says.

The Lord Is God; the Lord Is One (Unique).

1. This pronouncement is the Lord as the Person of the Trinity Who is unique.
2. Judaism rejects the Trinity because of this verse. God is One God, but in 3 persons. Each of those in the Godhead are equally God. This refers to the One God standing in front of them. Jesus is the totally Unique God of Israel. The people around them were polytheistic. Each one had meanings; the Lord is unique, set apart from all these others so-called gods.
3. He is the Member of the Trinity, One God Who is Theistic; a member of the Trinity. But now, He is the uniquely born-one in their presence; the unique God-man in all human history. Everytime the Jews cite the shemah, they are speaking of the Lord Jesus Christ. They hear this, but they do not hear and understand.

So, citing Deut. 6:4, Jesus is simply citing the truth that they agree to. "I've told you this before and I will tell you this again." They are gazing at the One Who gave these commands to Moses in the first place. This is no nitpicking answer to some ritualistic law. So many laws that they argued about for centuries. The foremost command requires something that these scribes had not considered.

This is the foremost commandment, right up front. Love God and have a personal relationship with Him. It does not get any more relational than that. As a believer, it is our responsibility to love God. We must develop a personal love for God.

The pharisees love themselves; they do not love the Lord. Think of someone that you love; did you love them at first sight? That is just visual. But you get to love them by spending time with them and evaluating that person; the way that they think and act toward you. That is the development of love. Many people say they love, but they do not have a clue as to how that is done.

Love must grow based upon a number of factors. You cannot get away from love and knowledge going together.

Mark 12:30 And you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength.'

the unbeliever does not have the capacity to love God.

1. These things are all invisible; heart, soul and mind; they are spiritual as opposed to material. The very nature of a person.
2. So, this love mandate must come from within; it is a characteristic of a person's nature.
3. This is the real you. You are what you think. The brain is translating thinking from your thinking to words or actions.

Let's begin with the word καρδία; these 3 words do not all mean the same thing.

The Heart and What it Means

1. Καρδία a general reference to the source of the real life.
2. In our context, heart is the ability to assimilate knowledge of God.
3. The sea of information the faculty to assimilate this knowledge and to accept it.
4. It is the place where knowledge is collected, which forms the basis for love.
5. That knowledge comes from what is taught; it is not innate. Bobby gives us information; and as believers, we have the Holy Spirit Who teaches us all things. This does not leave out emotion as a response to what is learned by God. Some believe in Jesus in no time at all and have a great emotional response; some just get over their hangover and move on. There is a marvelous response to learning Bible doctrine. This is what God has done for us. There is nothing physical in love for God. Hollywood tells us that love is in the body; when people have sex, then that is love. This is not true. The heart is the collection point for love and thinking.

Lesson #0965

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

2/1/2017 Wednesday

Beginning of a superbowl blitz in Houston. A lot of traffic.

This is the final public verbal assault on the Lord, taking place at the Temple. The pharisees are considering their next move. They hire a scribe, a brilliant lawyer; and they hire him to go after the Lord with a dicey legal question, which was about a debated subject of the Mosaic Law.

Matt. 22:35 And one of them, a lawyer, asked him a question to test Him.

Matt. 22:36 "Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law?"

This was something that they had debated for quite awhile; and how could the Lord answer this question satisfactorily when no one else could? So, the idea is to get Him all caught up in this theological hair-splitting, He could be easily shown to be ignorant of these weighty issues.

Further, they could pronounce the death penalty, if He was teaching heresy. But Jesus teaches absolute truth, answering quickly. Jesus knew the Law, as He had communicate this Law to Israel. Jesus knew the Law absolutely.

Mark 12:29 Jesus answered, "The most important is, 'Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one.

Mark 12:30 And you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength.'

Jesus begins with this all important statement from Deuteronomy 6; He states the shimei.

Deut. 6:4–5 "Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God, the LORD is one. You shall love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might.

The Preamble to the Great Commandment

1. This phrase was the expression of Israel's faith in the One, Unique God. He initiated a personal relationship with Abraham and then with Israel. The shemah was a reminder of that.
2. He is speaking the most sacred of phrases in Jewish liturgy. He used this as a preamble to the authoritative answer on the foremost commandment. He was introducing the foremost commandment.
3. He was the Unique God of Israel. He was the Second Person of the Trinity. He was the dwelling Presence of God in Israel. He was Y^ehowah; the Revealed Member of the Trinity. "I know this is the foremost commandment because I gave it to you."
4. He meant, listen to your God. He is the Author and originator of the Law.
5. The answer he was about to receive was the answer to their debate. They had been debating this for years. This would encompass the whole law in these statements.

The Foremost Commandment

1. The first and foremost command is a relational command; the relationship they ought have with the Lord speaking to them.
2. This is the relationship that the Jews must have with their God.
3. He defines that relationship in terms of volition, thought and feelings. Volition, you must choose to have a relationship; thought—you must actually put thought into your relationship. "You will love the Lord your God." They must develop personal love towards God.

Mark 12:31 The second is this: 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.' There is no other commandment greater than these."

Then the Lord tells them where the love must be derived from.

Matt. 22:37 And he said to him, "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.

So now we must determine what this means. So we have to understand the heart:

Understand the Καρδια.

1. Καρδια is the immaterial part of us: thinking, volition and emotion.
2. In our context, heart is especially the faculty to assimilate knowledge of God.
3. There in the heart is the seat of volition, which is important.
4. This is accepting knowledge, which is the basis of love.

This does not leave out emotion. Fantastic to know love for God. We may have some emotion. Bobby has known pastors and there was chapel everyday. You got to see a whole spectrum of theological opinion and how they taught. Most unforgettable pastors could weep whenever it was needed. The word love often brought the tears out. Our response to God's love might be emotional.

Understanding Ψυχῆ

1. This is the apparatus for building love. Love is built; it is not spontaneous. Bobby said this on Sunday and some understood it and some did not.
2. Soul is a general reference to the immaterial, spiritual apparatus through which knowledge of God through Scripture is processed.
3. This is where doctrine is metabolized, based upon positive volition and the power of God the Holy Spirit.
4. This is the source from which the understanding of God develops. This is a part of the process; our understanding of God develops, in order to acquire love for God. What we are doing right now is building love. The more we know, the more we love.
5. You cannot love without knowledge and insight into a person's qualities and character. What happens too often in a premature marriage, one or both of them wake up and think, "What have I done?" No character; no compatibility.
6. The same is true of God; we must love God in our souls.
7. The more knowledge of God is metabolized, the greater our love will be.

Third word is διανοια, which means thought, understanding.

What Is Διανοια

1. This is the stream of consciousness; where the doctrine flows. Here is where doctrine is stored and applied.
2. Doctrine metabolized now flows through the stream of consciousness, culminating in a maximum expression of personal love for God. You know God and understand Him, but now there is an expression of it.
3. In 3 words we have the process of loving God. It is not that hard, but it takes time.

Iskis means strength, power, might.

The Meaning and Use of ισχύς

1. The stronger the spiritual life, the greater the love for God. It is so clear that our love for God and our relationship with Him is based upon spiritual strength emanating from our hearts, soul and mind. This is a picture of a believer in Jesus Christ growing spiritually. This is a real process with a real result.

This is the foremost relationship of all believers; this has to be first and foremost. This is the very definition of Christianity. It is a relationship with God through Jesus Christ. This is a personal love relationship.

The foremost command encompasses the entirety of the Law. This is not what the pharisees were doing.

Matt. 22:38 This is the great and first commandment.

This is it, He says. "Do you get it?" There is no rebuttal here; there is no reply.

Then, without being asked He spoke of the next great commandment.

Matt. 22:39 And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself.

The thrust of the pharisees is following the legal minutia of the law developed in their traditions. They stuck their noses in other people's business to see if they were keeping the Law properly. This precludes the quality of love and compassion toward others, something that their theology lacked. They were without mercy for the weaknesses of the sin nature of others. They loved no one other than themselves and the few that they approved of. This was a system of favoritism. They acted as if they themselves lacked a sin nature.

Jesus countered this view with the 2nd foremost commandment. They could not play favorites; it is their neighbor. This does not mean someone living next door or acquaintances or those in the immediate vicinity; this refers to all the people of Israel and wider to all mankind.

We cannot develop a personal relationship with someone that we do not know; or they are barely on our radar screen. The second greatest commandment cannot be personal love because it is directed towards all people. Personal love is impossible towards all people. Personal love requires something. It requires some attraction or some merit. Personal love is conditional. It is based upon the condition of the other person. This is required for friendship or for falling in love. This is not personal love towards all mankind. We know this as impersonal love. It is the greatest kind of love in human relationships. It also applies to those we know personally. This is the strongest and greatest love of human relationships.

Strength of Impersonal Love

1. Being the second most important commandment makes impersonal love the foremost love between people. This is all about relationships.

2. Personal love has weaknesses because it depends upon other people and their merits. If they lack merit, then there is no personal love.
3. Impersonal love is much stronger because it depends only upon the strength of the spiritual life of the one who is the subject.
4. A bonus of impersonal love is it provides the capacity for personal love.
5. When personal love fails, impersonal love kicks in.
6. Therefore, impersonal love receives priority as a mandate for human relationships.
7. It is impersonal love that fulfills the 2nd greatest commandment, which is love for all people.

A Summary of Impersonal Love

1. Impersonal love is unconditional with regards to the object. Love requires a subject and an object. With personal love, the emphasis is on us, the attractiveness on the object. With impersonal love, the emphasis is upon the subject.
2. No merit is assigned to the object of love by the subject.
3. The object of impersonal love can be known or unknown; friend or foe; attractive or repulsive; honorable or dishonorable; good or evil; believer or unbeliever. That is the definition of neighbor.
4. All the merit and integrity reside in the mature believer who has developed the spiritual skill. Impersonal love is a developed spiritual skill. It is developed in order to express impersonal love.
5. The motivation for impersonal love is not attractiveness; it is not rapport; it is not compatibility; it is motivated by the believer's own virtue and the integrity of the believer with a mature spiritual life.
6. Characterized by tolerance, unprejudice, objective,
7. Impersonal love was a skill demonstrated by Jesus Christ toward His antagonists constantly always. No one revealed more impersonal love than Him. That is the ultimate in impersonal love, Him dying for us.
8. Therefore, the defining characteristic of impersonal love is integrity of soul based upon the application of doctrine that takes precedence over the flaws and faults of others. Regardless of the sin nature, violations of the law, or any other human weakness; even wrongs committed by them against you. This is an amazing skill; a critical skill; at the heart of our relationship with the world.
9. This is developed from spiritual growth. We develop personal love every time we listen to do. Personal love toward God and impersonal love towards man. This is a part of your spiritual skill from maturity.

Rom. 13:10 Love does no wrong to a neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.

Impersonal love excludes evil done to another. This was the exact opposite of the thinking of the pharisees toward others. When we have impersonal love, we fulfill the commands of the Law. This is why love summarizes the entire law. Jesus said this and Paul said this.

Tomorrow, love your neighbor as yourself.

Lesson #0966

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

2/2/2017 Thursday

There have been a million poems and even more songs written about love. All you need is love; or Endless Love. How Deep is Your Love is a good question. Love defines the greatest of relationships. Marriage, for children, platonic, etc. Bobby is skeptical about the subject that is so little understood. Love is so often solely dependent upon the physical. You cannot have personal love apart from actually knowing the other person. Without developing that knowledge, which is the real basis for love. People find frustration and they find failure in love; and for many, they find out that it is not the panacea that they are expecting. But love must begin from the inside and radiate from there. An outward expression alone is not love. Love must begin from the inner being.

The believer in Jesus Christ has a corner on the market of real love. Why is that? The greatness of love and what it is and how to find it and how to maintain it is revealed in the Bible. Mark 12:30–31 is where it can be found.

Matt. 22:36 "Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law?"

Our only source about God is from Bible doctrine.

Mark 12:29 Jesus answered, "The most important is, 'Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God, the Lord is one.

Mark 12:30 And you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength.'

Heart, soul and mind. Heart is that inner faculty to assimilate knowledge of God; thought of as the inner you. The soul is the immaterial, spiritual apparatus through which knowledge of God from Scripture and teaching is processed. Do you believe it or not; do you understand it? Then we have mind, which is the stream of consciousness, where knowledge and understanding of God has been metabolized and stored in the soul. None of this is physical; it is all immaterial.

Personal love for God is the process and action of loving God based upon the metabolized doctrine which emanates from the inner thinking of man. This fulfills executing the foremost part of the Law. There is another asset for developing personal love for God. There is a connection and capacity for all other kinds of love comes out of this. With God, He is utterly worthy of our love. But we have the key to developing personal love relationships.

Matt. 22:37 And he said to him, "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.

Matt. 22:38 This is the great and first commandment.

The next foremost command is:

Matt. 22:39 And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself.

Neighbor is anyone else; good or evil, believer or unbeliever, attractive or not; they are all your neighbors. This love is impersonal love.

Impersonal Love Summary Points

1. Impersonal love is unconditional with regards to its object. That seems impossible. There are always conditions on love; that is human. That is why personal love is so strong.
2. To fulfill unconditional love, no merit is assigned to or required of the object of love by the subject. The spirit of unconditional love is best illustrated by dogs. This is their nature. They are born with impersonal love. That is the nature of impersonal love. Might be the only impersonal love that you will ever know.
3. It is not attractiveness, it is not rapport, it is now how someone else treats you; so how do you love someone under those conditions.
4. This love must come from the believer's own integrity. This comes from the inner spiritual life.
5. So that kind of love is the nature of the mature believer. This develops as the believer matures. More tolerance, non-prejudicial attitude, by objectivity. You are being lambasted by someone; and they send you an email attacking you or chewing you out; and you read this and think, "How can they say this about me?" Impersonal love takes care of this. Impersonal love is in operation. You are not disturbed by people who are antagonistic towards you.

Matt. 22:39 And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself.

This is the epitome of impersonal love. You give yourself priority. You care for and nurture yourself; you are tolerant and forgiving of yourself. So you have the same attitude towards other people. The phrase as yourself is very well understood in Eph. 5:28, which is in the context of husband and wife.

Eph. 5:28 In the same way husbands should love their wives as their own bodies. He who loves his wife loves himself.

Here is the concept; you love your wife as you love yourself. There is personal love involved in marriage; but there must also be that skill of impersonal love. When there are problems, disagreements, conflicts, pain and even disgust; and at that time, impersonal love must take over. Always, some of that is present in marriage. You can be as attractive as anything to your mate. How far does that attractiveness take you? This is why impersonal love is so critical.

There are times when impersonal love is the most important characteristic in the soul of either spous.

Dogs and Mates

1. Impersonal love is defined in v. 28 by treating your wife as you treat yourself.
2. You place your wife on an equal footing with yourself. In the midst of an argument.
3. Self-centeredness cannot think and act like that. It cannot fulfill v. 28.
4. When impersonal love takes over, the criteria comes into play: you treat your wife as yourself. You have to always consider that.
5. You treat yourself with great respect and tolerance and care. You think very highly of yourself.
6. Impersonal love transfers that attitude towards self to her in times of difficulty. This is not easy when you are mad and in a big conflict to the argument is getting heated. How about arguments involving children. You must place her in the place of yourself; and this works both ways.
7. Thus, you love her as you would love yourself. Not easy but it can be done. This must be developed. This does not just happen naturally.
8. Impersonal love toward her is not based upon her merit; it is based on your integrity of soul.
9. The result: you put her best interests along side of your own, which has great affect when you are in conflict. But to be fair and objective her interests and argument must be placed on the same level as you. Listen to their criticisms, because those criticisms are real to them, whether you believe them to be valid or not.
10. Taking care of her as you would take care of yourself is impersonal love. Nourishing and cherishing her as you would your own person. Eph. 5 is part of your wedding ceremony.
11. In fact, this describes placing her interests above your own. That is what impersonal love does.
12. That is a love that contains virtue in the face of adversity. How long did we study virtue love?
13. Impersonal love is the love that solves problems; it solves relational problems. You can use this to solve any relationship problem. Impersonal love requires a renovation of your thinking. Impersonal love does not just appear. It is modeled after the Lord Jesus Christ throughout His life and in His application of doctrine.

Bobby has had friends who have asked, "Are you still there back in Berachah?" They moved past Bible doctrine; and expected him to do that as well. How do you renovate your thinking without Bible doctrine?

The difficult circumstances what require the most of you. You cut yourself some slack, even when you fail; so cut other people some slack when they fail your expectations.

Before developing impersonal love, you always put your interests first. The best interest of others, no matter the circumstances, fulfills the mandate of impersonal love. The most valuable is your relationship with God. But, when it comes to people, this is the foremost mandate.

Not Sure

1. With those qualities you are not threatened by other people, when you has spiritual self esteem and humility.
2. That means you have a relaxed mental attitude under pressure. Very critical skill to relax under pressure. You cannot function under pressure when your mind is going in 20 different directions.
3. With spiritual self esteem and humility you do not give in to the desire to retaliate, to hate, for vengeance anger hate or lying. How important is that in today's political climate?

Here is a tough example. You can spend your entire life hating and being angry at a politician you have never shaken hands with. You have not put the interests of the nation first. Constructive criticism is okay; but spitting on others or destroying property is the epitome of no impersonal love. With impersonal love you can relax even when you watch the news, 24/7. Addicted to it. Stirs them up or makes them angry or happy. Impersonal love allows us to listen to the news and not to become upset. With impersonal love, you do not have to be upset at all these other people.

How Do this Interact to Fulfill this Command

1. Spiritual self esteem first and foremost generates confidence in God. Human self-esteem is having a favorable opinion of yourself. This can easily deteriorate. Spiritual self esteem gives you confidence in God.
2. You do not gain spiritual self esteem through who you are or what you do. Your self-esteem is often up and down.
3. Spiritual self esteem comes from who God is and what He has done for you. You are never down when you recognize that.
4. Spiritual self esteem is the produce of who and what you are in Christ. You have everything in Him. You share all that He is and has as a believer in Him.
5. Your self-esteem derives from your spiritual life and not from your human life. Not coming from others and how they think of you. There is someone out there who does not like us; so, boom, there goes your spiritual self esteem.
6. Spiritual self esteem and confidence in God overshadows inordinate expectations in people. People are no damn good.
7. With your confidence placed in God; confidence in His justice and in His omnipotence, it just does not matter about people and their problems and antagonisms. So you are not surprised or discouraged by others.
8. With spiritual self esteem, you do not react to people, even when they do not meet your expectations. In marriage, spiritual self esteem is critical.
9. You treat your mate as you would treat yourself, even when they are antagonistic toward you.
10. In spiritual self esteem your focus is on your relationship with God and not with people. Your self-esteem cannot fail when it is based upon your relationship with God.

11. Your self-esteem derives from that relationship and that thinking and it carries over to all aspects of relationships in your life. No person can undermine your spiritual self esteem. How does God view you? God has given us everything; His grace towards us is unmeasured. We are considered by God as a family member; He gave us eternal life through the death of His Son. No matter how worthless we are, we have value to God. He saved us, despite our negativism.
12. When you realize this, it is an humbling experience. You must come to this realization, which is what spiritual self esteem is. You begin to understand how grace works and you develop true humility.

Finish this up

1. You do not look down on other people as inferior when you have spiritual self esteem and impersonal love. You do not dwell on their obnoxiousness.
2. Your integrity is the focus, not their lack of it. That is spiritual self esteem.
3. Spiritual self esteem and humility eliminate emotion and arrogance as a criteria for the treatment of others. Nothing wrong with emotion as a criteria for you.
4. So you no longer become disappointed, hurt, angry, revenge motivated, when they hurt you or despise you.
5. You are now showing impersonal love based upon your spiritual self esteem and your humility. You cannot be arrogant and have impersonal love. You are now fulfilling the command of Jesus Christ.
6. Your self worth is directly related to how God sees you in grace and in unfailing love, even though you are unworthy of it.
7. God's grace counters your failures and weaknesses. You know it so your gain humility. You know your weaknesses and your own sin nature. God gives you rebound and spiritual growth. You apply this same gracious attitude toward others. It is not about them; it is about you.
8. Spiritual self esteem humility grace orientation are the attitudes for the effective function of the believer's impersonal love toward the entire human race.

Lesson #0967

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

2/5/2017 1Sunday

Love is probably the most confusing subject and many seem to think that love is the key to everything and the essence of Christianity.

There has not been much love in the streets lately; a breakdown of the rule of law. Love is not the overpowering motivation of man. Love is fleeting and ethereal. It is still an oft-stated goal of people.

Love is a paramount quality; love for the Trinity is mandated; it is central to Christianity. The Lord has provided the unique spiritual life. He has provided the mind of Christ and the Bible for our study and spiritual growth. We have an eternal home in heaven prepared by God. There is no substitute for love in the Christian life.

The Lord made love towards God as the foremost commandment. Personal love for God is central to the life of His people. We cannot get around it. The more we know about Jesus Christ, the more that personal love for Him grows.

Matt. 22:39 And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself.

The thorny problem of love for other people. We can understand loving God; loving people is a whole different thing. Love for people is the second foremost law in the Mosaic Law.

Neighbor in this context applies to all people, regardless of their status in any way.

Impersonal love is all about the subject; not the object. In personal love, there are things in the object that make him or her loveable. But, with impersonal love, there is nothing which recommends it. Impersonal love survives the onslaught and shortcomings of people.

The defining characteristic of impersonal love: it is integrity of soul based upon knowledge and application of Bible doctrine that takes precedent over the faults and shortcomings of others.

Impersonal love does not mean you let everyone walk all over you. But impersonal love precludes many problems. It turns conflict over to the Lord. Impersonal love is the greatest love possible in the human race. Personal love is easy; impersonal love is difficult. Personal love is easy to find; not easy to maintain. Impersonal love is the greatest love of all.

Great personal love in marriage; but it is held together with personal love. It is easy to speak conceptually. What does it mean in practice?

The Criterion Is, “You Will Love Your Neighbor as Yourself.”

1. What does it mean?
2. Just as you give yourself priority; you are tolerant and giving of yourself. Just so that you have the attitude toward others as you have towards yourself.
3. When impersonal love takes over, the criteria for any con
4. Impersonal love transfers that love towards self to others during times of difficulty.

You put the best interests of your antagonist along side your own. Sometimes I marag...what does it take to have this kind of love? This sort of love requires you to remove arrogance and self-centeredness from your own soul. Not easy if you have a reactive and controlling sin nature. This requires a renovation of your thinking. We are not born with impersonal love. For the believer in Jesus Christ, our model is a renovated attitude, which is acquired from spiritual growth. This is why the study of the life of Christ is so important. Impersonal love is the product of the growing believer's soul. The relaxed mental attitude is an asset that you cannot miss in the Christian life. Without the spiritual life, you are constantly agitated.

Impersonal love give us a relaxed mental attitude throughout all of this. It is a great asset of life for the believer in Jesus Christ. You can take someone speaking you in terms which are very unpleasant.

You don't want to retaliate; you don't want vengeance. This is the most miserable way to live life. That is why there is no substitute for it.

Matt. 22:40 On these two commandments depend all the Law and the Prophets."

"There is no other commandment greater than these two. On these two commandments depends the entire Law and the prophets" This would have been quite an incredible statement.

Personal love for God and impersonal love towards all mankind is the

The prophets were tough guys. So often the prophets spoke just by themselves. They spoke great.

Jesus would give His people information and motive; and He conin

Present middle indicative of κρμανηνυμι When a door depends upon the hinges, it is these hinges which hold up that door. The entire Old Testament hangs upon these 2 mandates. So then our spiritual life also hangs on it. These are the greatest, most important commandments. You cannot fulfill the Christian life unless you fulfill these two mandates.

Our Lord's answer strikes a responsive cord. He likes this and like what he just heard.

Mark 12:32 And the scribe said to him, "You are right, Teacher. You have truly said that He is one, and there is no other besides him.

This scribe is endorsing the words of Jesus.

Mark 12:33 And to love him with all the heart and with all the understanding and with all the strength, and to love one's neighbor as oneself, is much more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices."

This is truly an amazing statement. This man has some positive volition. He is beginning to see through the legalism that he has learned all of his life. It is not about me; it is not about how many rituals I perform; it is not about the good deeds that I do every week. This guy is starting to get it.

He is beginning to understand that he cannot keep all of the laws and regulations taught. He was thinking about this. He is weighing the reasonableness of the Lord's answer.

Jesus tells him that he is close to the Kingdom of God. He understands the concept; he understands the teacher. He just needs to flip into the right direction. Grace is making inroads to legalism here. That is the power of understandings God's love toward us.

Mark 12:34 And when Jesus saw that he answered wisely, He said to him, "You are not far from the kingdom of God." And after that no one dared to ask Him any more questions.

They got on the Lord right away with their questions to trip Him up; but He goes in with a set of questions. Jesus is giving this question for a purpose. He is both God and man. This must be known and accepted in order for anyone to understand the Lord.

Lesson #0968 Matt. 22:41–45 Psalm 110:1 Life of Christ 2/5/2017 2Sun.

The Lord did not pull any punches; He went right to the heart of all their questions about the Messiah. He is the God-man and He is talking to these men about Himself. The commandment to love God; and they are to love Him. And impersonal love towards man Jesus is showing that Himself.

So now Jesus goes to the heart of their faith.

Matt. 22:41–42 Now while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question, saying, "What do you think about the Christ? Whose Son is He?" They said to Him, "The Son of David."

He asks them simply about the concept of the Messiah. They all believe in the Messiah. They know that the Messiah is coming. Now Jesus asks them about Who do they think the Messiah is.

Prior to this, Jesus aggressively asks questions. The first question, they think they know. "He's the Son of David," they respond, not realizing that they have just fallen into the trap. The lineage of the Messiah is clearly given in the Old Testament. He is clearly from the house of David. Their emphasis is upon the humanity of Jesus. He is the human Son of David; and that is as far as they take it.

They expect a conquering king to take them out from under the heel of Rome. They knew He would sit on the throne of Israel; but they leave out that He will sit upon the throne of God. The Messiah is the Greater Son of David.

The pharisees have essentially excluded the Deity of Messiah. We understand that He is God and man in One Person. He took on the form of man, for one reason, to provide our salvation.

Jesus will correct them, and point them in the correct direction. They study the Messiah; they know Him, but they miss this point. So much of religion makes this mistake today. The truth is, Christ is God and man; and so many see Him as just a man. The divine part confuses them. He is a good man, a unique man. How can a mere man be a mediator between God and man? How can a man have standing with God? How can He be a true mediator?

If Jesus is only a good man, then we believe in nothing; we have been deceived. The liberal wing of Christianity confuses Jesus Christ as being simply human. We are Christian if we follow His human example; that is what they believe Christianity to be. So many denominations are like that today.

What is the difference between Islam and Christianity is Jesus is just a man?

Matt. 22:43 He said to them, "How is it then that David, in the Spirit, calls Him Lord, saying,...

David wrote Scripture; therefore, he is in the Spirit.

Jesus quotes Psalm 110, which is understood even by the pharisees to be Messianic.

Psalm 110:1 A Psalm of David. The LORD says to my Lord: "Sit at my right hand, until I make your enemies your footstool."

In this passage, Jesus will claim to be God.

"If the teachers of the Law say that Messiah is David's Son; then how can David, through the Spirit, call Him Lord?" How can this man be David's Son and David calls Him Lord?

Matt. 22:44 "The Lord said to my Lord, "Sit at My right hand, until I put Your enemies under Your feet"?"

David, through the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, calls his own Son, LORD. There is no argument here; that is what the Scriptures say. So Messiah is far more than a human king.

The first LORD is Y^ehowah; which is a reference to God the Father in this context. My Lord is Adonai, which is a variation of Adoni, and this means He is God.

How Do We Know That Both Terms Refer to God?

1. We know that this is true because this is how Jesus interprets the passage.
2. Both words in the Hebrew are translated by the same Greek word, Κύριος.
3. Κύριος is most definitely the word for Deity in the context.
4. It is used in both cases for Lord.
5. So, there are two divine Lord's.
6. Both Lord's refer to God; therefore, we are speaking of two Members of the Trinity.

This is very confusing to the pharisees, because they have no Trinity in their religion. This is a new concept to them. My Lord is invited to sit at the right hand of My Lord. So the Messiah is also God; and He will be seated on the Throne at the right hand of God. The Messiah, Christ, and now this says this same Messiah is also God, because that is what David calls Him. He will sit on the throne of Israel but He will also sit on the right hand of God the Father.

Now, they understand the first seating; they do not quite believe the second. David was considered to be God's man; and the new Messiah would also be considered to be God's man. But they did not recognize this Messiah as God. They did not consider it; they did not believe it.

Christ's Point

1. These would be the same words of the Father towards Jesus Christ. This takes place in heaven.
2. This is when Jesus will be seated next to the Father. The pharisees had not reasoned this out before.
3. The Messiah would be seated next to the Father as His enemies are utterly defeated.
4. This is when His enemies would be a footstool for His feet; an image of conquest.
5. It would be Jesus Christ, the Messiah, Who would accomplish this conquest. Then and only then, He would sit upon the throne of Israel.

David's psalm indicated that the Messiah would be exalted on the right hand of the Lord. It is airtight here. It is weird for a king to call his son LORD. Jesus will hammer this home.

Matt. 22:45 If then David calls Him Lord, how is He his son?"

How many of these pharisees will consider what Jesus is telling them. There were many proofs of Who the Lord is. Many of them failed to believe.

Lesson #0969

Matt. 22: Life of Christ

2/8/2017 Wednesday

In these verbal confrontations, which the Lord has had to endure; we have found to be quite continual. The pharisees and scribes want to trap the Lord and disparage them.

But the Lord asks them a question, but not out of spite, not out of payback, but He presents the kingdom. He counterattacks so that they have a true vision. He will prove from the Old Testament that He is not just a rabbi, priest or prophet (names affixed to Him throughout His ministry), but He is going to teach that He is God as well.

Matt. 22:41–42 Now while the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question, saying, "What do you think about the Christ? Whose Son is He?" They said to Him, "The Son of David."

Matt. 22:43–44 He said to them, "How is it then that David, in the Spirit, calls Him Lord, saying,..."
"The Lord said to my Lord, "Sit at My right hand, until I put Your enemies under Your feet"?"

Jesus gives His infallible interpretation of Psalm 110:1:

Psalm 110:1 A Psalm of David. The LORD says to my Lord: "Sit at my right hand, until I make your enemies your footstool."

There are parallel passages. Luke 20.

An expanded translation. Jesus says, "If the teachers of the Law say that the Messiah is the son of David, then how can David through the Spirit call Him Lord?" This is the steel trap that they have gone into.

Now the Lord will interpret Psalm 110:1. David was inspired by God the Holy Spirit.

Luke 20:42–43 For David himself says in the Book of Psalms, "The Lord said to my Lord, "Sit at my right hand, until I make your enemies your footstool."

Interpreting Psalm 110:1

1. In the Hebrew of Psalm 110:1, the first Lord is Y^ehowah, the sacred Tetragrammaton.
2. The second Lord is the Hebrew word Adoni, which is a derivation of Adonai. Both words are translated Lord.
3. The phrase, as interpreted by Christ, the LORD [Deity] said to my Lord [Adonai; Deity].
4. Jesus interprets these two words using the Greek word Κύριος each time.
5. Κύριος is most definitely Deity.
6. This is Christ's interpretation of Psalm 110:1. Jesus associates Messiah here, in the Old Testament, is Deity.
7. Why would David call his own son Lord?
8. His son must be greater than David. So Jesus has linked Messiah with a man; but also with God. And Jesus has claimed on a number of occasions to be Messiah.
9. God the Father would make the Lord's enemies His footstool; and then He would sit on the right hand of God the Father.

Jesus Christ is in the physical line of David. If that is true, how is it that David, speaking through the Holy Spirit, calls Him, Deity? The answer is, the Messiah is God. Jesus is teaching the doctrine of the hypostatic union. "I am God and I am man."

The Lord is telling the pharisees, "Well, now, ponder that one, pharisee."

First Christ came to liberate them physically, that they might enter into the spiritual kingdom.

More Interpretation of Psalm 110:1

1. With the footstool reference, Jesus indicated the Messiah's throne was heavenly and earthly.
2. There was an equality in both Y^ehowah and Adonai, God the Son. That is what is being represented in Psalm 110:1.

3. This then is a reference to two Members of the Trinity by David in this Messianic psalm. Remember when Jesus said, The Lord is One; and Jesus is telling them, "There is One God (in essence); but at least two in Person.
4. The fact that Messiah is in the line of David testifies to His true humanity.
5. The fact that the Lord calls Him my Lord, testifies that the Messiah is True Deity. They are one in essence; at least Two in Person.
6. This was the claim foretold by the psalmist about the Messiah that Jesus claimed for Himself.
7. He claimed to be the Messiah—no question about that.

Their true King was standing right before them. After the resurrection, Who Jesus was began to click with a few people. Over 500 people saw Him in a resurrection body. They were not all hallucinating. They saw the same thing. And they described various things that He did. He was God and He ascended to heaven, just as David said He would.

Matt. 22:45 If then David calls Him Lord, how is He his son?"

Matt. 22:46 And no one was able to answer him a word, nor from that day did anyone dare to ask him any more questions.

The pharisees are exasperated. They cannot answer any of the Lord's questions and He can answer all of theirs. They cannot accept what they just heard or recognize that Jesus is right; because then they must accept that Jesus, the man before them, is Messiah and God.

Jesus showed Himself over and over again to be the Messiah. Necessitating Lazarus is something that they have no answer for. How can you not say that He is God?

Once again, they were defeated in arena of Scripture.

Mark 12:37b ...and the large crowd enjoyed His teaching.

Jesus will give His last public discourse to this crowd. This is His final indictment of the scribes and the pharisees. It was scathing. He pulls no punches.

We are still on Tuesday, but this is a new increment. Mark 12 Luke 21

Luke 21:38 And early in the morning all the people came to him in the temple to hear him.

Jesus now teaches His disciples, but He teaches them so that everyone could hear what He was teaching. Jesus warns them about the pharisees. Everyone in the Temple got the benefit of these words.

Jesus denounces these people and He will give the reason that they will be judged; and this is a vivid portrait. "These men in front of you are no damn good, and you had better heed My words."

Mark 12:38 And in his teaching he said, "Beware of the scribes, who like to walk around in long robes and like greetings in the marketplaces

Mark 12:39 and have the best seats in the synagogues and the places of honor at feasts,

Using Moses here indicates a blatant misuse of Scripture by these men. They all claim to have a high possession; and they claim to be Moses' follow on. Moses was the liberator of the Jews. He was the father of nation Israel. He was also the one through whom God gave the Law.

Moses received instructions from God in the Tent of Meeting. Moses was the only one who could go into the Holy of Holies; and when he exited, his face would be glowing like the sun.

Moses did not describe the Lord's features; Moses was there to get the Law. That was authority. By virtue of this divinely appointed position, Moses had tremendous authority. And the scribes and pharisees had assumed Moses' authority.

The Pharisees and Their Distortions of the Law

1. During the time of Christ, the pharisees and scribes assumed for themselves the prerogatives that God gave to Moses.
2. They fancied themselves to be the new Moses, proclaimers and interpreters of the Law. God gave Moses the Law; and the pharisees claim this same authority. They claimed this with a vengeance.
3. They combined these religious duties with political aspirations. They claimed political power, and this is where they ran into trouble with the Romans.
4. Therefore, as the self-appointed spiritual and national progeny of Moses, because they had assumed the chair of Moses, they felt absolutely free to add to the Law. That was the big problem. Moses got the Law right from God. They are claiming the same authority as the Law in their additions.
5. Because of this assume authority, they places a myriad of extra-Biblical regulations. Bobby will mention some of those. There were incredible additions. Designed for the religious leaders to control the people. Very different from Moses relaying the Law of God to the people; and what the pharisees did.
6. They justified themselves and these extra-Biblical regulations as necessary to clarify the Law for the people. "We will parse certain parts of the Law."
7. The pharisees were clarifying the Law, based upon current political and social circumstances in Israel. Such changes would advantage them.
8. The problem was, the Law was not being interpreted by the pharisees as God originally intended it to be.

Similar that the Constitution today and how it is interpreted today by some as a living document, meaning that it is interpreted according to the political conditions of the day rather than the way that is politically correct. This is why Gorsich is being opposed.

The pharisees are using their authority to change or to add to the Mosaic Law. They overlook that it is God who gave these laws to Moses. If Moses did not take liberties with the Law, then the pharisees could not do that either.

They insisted that their add-on regulations have the same authority as the Law of Moses. They used God's name and Moses' authority in order to support their additions to the Law.

Mark 12:40 who devour widows' houses and for a pretense make long prayers. They will receive the greater condemnation."

Lesson #0970

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

2/9/2017 Thursday

Legalism tonite. Legalism was the great enemy of the Lord Jesus Christ. It is still the great enemy of Christianity. Legalism is critical to understand, in order to understand our opposition.

Jesus has just shut down the pharisees by His interpretation of Psalm 110:1. He had proven that He is God and man in One Person, the doctrine of the Hypostatic Union. In His humanity, it is clear that He is in the genetic line of David. He is the future king to sit on the throne of David; and He is the Lord of David. He is the Son of God Who would sit on the throne at the right hand of God the Father.

At this point, Jesus is no longer interested in sparring with the pharisees and scribes. He made it clear Who He is. They have a few days to decide to they believe in Him or not?

The religious leaders. The result was dramatic. No one was able to answer Him a word, nor would anyone ask him another question.

He has just shown the scribes and pharisees up for who they are. He launches into one final public discourse. It was directed to the disciples, but He gave it that Tuesday so that it could be heard by anyone in the Temple.

Jesus pronounces a serious judgment upon these scribes and pharisees, who have rejected Him, but are unable to answer Him.

Matt. 23:1 Then Jesus said to the crowds and to his disciples,

Matt. 23:2 "The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat,

The Scribes, the Pharisees and Moses

1. Moses was the illustration that the Lord used to reveal the blatant misuse of the Law and Scripture.
2. They have seated themselves in the chair of Moses. There is a legal understanding here and they have assumed authority which they do not have. They have grabbed for themselves authority which is not truly theirs.

3. The scribes and pharisees have taken for themselves the mantle of authority that Moses carried, as the divinely appointed leader of the nascent nation of Israel.
4. Moses was the one through whom God had given the Law. Moses was not the Lawgiver; he was the mouthpiece, the amanuensis. God gave him the Law.
5. He was the proclaimer of instructions from God. He received instructions directly from God. When he exited the Tabernacle, his face glowed.
6. This authority could only be bestowed upon Moses by God. This authority was exclusive to Moses. Aaron had some authority; but Moses was the leader, and this was divinely ordained.
7. During the time of Christ, the pharisees and the scribes assumed for themselves the prerogatives that God gave to Moses and made them their own.
8. They fancied themselves as God's new proclaimers and interpreters of the Law.
9. They provided new stipulations and regulations to the Law given by God. They made additions which were to fix up the Law.
10. They took great liberties in explaining the Mosaic Law. They added tremendous numbers of extra-Biblical instructions. They could go off in 100 different directions.
11. They overlooked the fact that God gave these laws and instructions directly to Moses. Moses was not the originator of the Law. He did not provide statutes of the Law. He could not add to what God gave to him. Moses could not write Scripture or add to the Law?
12. If Moses could not take these liberties, then these religious leaders could not take them either.

Moses simply took the Law and proclaimed what was there. He did not assume more; Bobby could not write Scripture.

The Additions of the Scribes and Pharisees

1. The additions of the scribes and pharisees departed from the divinely inspired purpose of the Law. To understand that purpose, the Law must be understood.
2. In many cases, their additions would supercede the divinely ordained Law given to Moses. That is like taking the Constitution and adding your own amendments to it.
3. When the scribes and pharisees made a new regulation, or pronounced an extra-legal interpretation of the Law, claiming to be the follow-on to Moses, they insisted that it carry the same force as the Mosaic Law itself.
4. This was a corruption of the Law and the Scripture itself. This is occurring in churches today. It is no different from those who take Scripture and add to it or take from it for their own purposes. Every cult that calls themselves Christian today, is doing the same thing.

Cults Can Be Just like the Pharisees.

1. In the name of God, they add additional doctrines to Scripture. They take that Scripture and take interpretive power beyond the Bible.

2. They distort Scripture to their own advantage with new text, teachings or interpretations.
3. These new teachings contradict the Bible. Sometimes they have some true doctrines which they add false doctrines too.
4. The extra-biblical information always takes preference over the Scriptures. Scientology, Christian Science, Unification Church, Mormonism or JW's. They quote Scripture and misinterpret them; and they ignore other Scriptures.

There Is a Method to Understanding and Interpreting the Bible

1. You must interpret it in the time that it was written.
2. The original languages must be examined; and grammar and syntax.
3. Scripture must be compared to other Scripture; you cannot just ignore other parts of Scripture. This is what happens with these cults. Distortions and conflicts with the Bible are certain to occur.

Some examples of the doctrines found with JW's. Arguing with them is like arguing with a wall. They are excellent at taking one part of Scripture and ignoring other parts.

The one who brought this cult to us is Charles Russell and he was unqualified; but he assumed the same sort of authority that the pharisees did.

John 1:1 what does it mean when it says In the beginning, the Word was and the word was with God and the Word was God. They do not admit that Jesus is the God; but they call Him a god. There is no Trinity in this cult because they do not believe Christ is God.

To receive everlasting life, a person must identify with this cult; and knocking on doors is one of their #1 ways to serve God. In their theology Jesus was resurrected as a divine being of sort. He returned in 1014, as a matter of fact. They camp on that 144,000 passage. They evangelize and are martyred. The JW's take those as 144,000 as JW's. Well, aren't there more? Make them angry; call them Russellites. They do not believe that hell exists. There are pastors who teach there is no hell; just annihilation.

False religions takes pieces of the Bible as well. Some even claim that Islam and Christianity as parallel religions. But Islam rejects Jesus as God; and they reject the Trinity. They even think that Mohammed is greater than the Lord.

The pharisees did the same thing, roughly.

The Koran is filled with contradictions. The pharisees often contradicted themselves with their legalistic traditions. In Islam, you are saved by achieving the 5 pillars of faith. There say over and over again, "There is no God but Allah; and Mohammed is his prophet." Praying, Almsgiving, fasting, and a pilgrimage to Mecca.

There is the 6th one which is Jihad, not always a pillar of faith. Terrorists who are killing people call it Jihad. It is a works religion. It is fundamentally different from Christianity. One man decided that he was a prophet and he wrote some more stuff. He did what the pharisees did.

Satan's great weapon is to mock the Bible and to confuse with religion. If you study the tenets of Islam and try to speak to a Muslim about it, the similarities are false. This is the doctrine of demons. These additions; these extra-Biblical authors write the doctrines of demons. They have seated themselves in the chair of Moses. They believe themselves to be in the place of Moses, just as the pope has assumed the mantle of the Apostles.

Islam means submission. The Lord demands obedience, but only to true doctrine. Because of these distortions, many have rejected the Messiah. "You are sitting in places of authority, yet you have rejected Me." These men had to be some of the most evil men who have ever lived. They were power brokers who loved their power and loved to see others submit to their power.

"Therefore, all that they tell you, do and observe." The idea is, obey what is obviously in the Law. However, they proclaim, but they do not practice these things. No way can they keep up the practice of these things. Christians can be hypocrites.

Matt. 23:3 so do and observe whatever they tell you, but not the works they do. For they preach, but do not practice.

The pharisees did teach the Law, but with their distortions. They demanded obedience even when they themselves did not follow it.

Matt. 23:3 so do and observe whatever they tell you, but not the works they do. For they preach, but do not practice.

We have seen a perfect example of this. Our President placed a ban on entry from 5 nations and within 48 hours, this was opposed by a court. So the first thing that required was for a court to have standing. Was anyone really affected by this?

District court has never given an opinion. The court of appeals agreed with it. They ruled that the state of Washington did have standing because several students for U of W could not get back to school. That is splitting legal hairs. This is what the pharisees were like; this is what they did. They did not do according to the Law that they were supposed to uphold.

Our courts today are bringing all sorts of extra laws that supercede the actual law. They adjust the law to fit their thoughts and deeds.

When there is nothing distorted, the Law of Moses was God's Law. It contained a spiritual code; it contained doctrine in the rituals; the Law was enough. The rituals had a reality behind them. When extra laws or regulations were added, not in the Law; this system became legalism.

The Purpose of the Rituals.

1. The Mosaic rituals pointed to the need of salvation.
2. No one could keep the Law perfectly for acceptable righteousness before God. If someone could keep the Law perfectly,...
3. The religious leaders could not; they were hypocritical.
4. Imperfectly keeping the Law did not gain God's favor. The pharisees and scribes added to the Law so that they could claim righteousness. They demanded that everyone else keep the Law.
5. It did not earn them salvation. The Law did not do that. Many churches put emphasis on certain rituals for salvation. Rituals represent something.
6. So one of the purposes of the Law was to show us how far we fell short of keeping the Law.
7. The Law and the rituals pointed toward the need of Jesus Christ and His perfect sacrifice.
8. Man needed faith in Christ to receive imputed righteousness. This satisfies the righteousness of God. Then and only then can a person enter into the Kingdom of God.
9. The religious pharisees and scribes demanded law keeping in order to enter the kingdom; that is the perversion. Those distortions were at the heart of the Lord's judgment of the pharisees and scribes. Legalism misused the Law as a way of righteousness. They touted law keeping for righteousness; and they lived a lie. They did not keep the Law that they taught.

JW's are righteous and you are not (in their eyes). But we are righteous because we have the imputed righteousness of God. Nothing new under the sun; it's all been done before.

Lesson #0971

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

2/12/2017 1Sunday

The Eucharist February 12, 2017:

There are several priesthoods; the revelation that God has given us of the eternal priesthood of our Lord is awe-inspiring to all of us. His priesthood relates what He did then and what He is doing now.

He is the only priest to offer Himself as our sacrifice; all other priests offer up animal sacrifices in the stead of the person.

Melchizedek appears in one chapter and then disappears. He is the King of Salem, later named Jerusalem; and he lived in the time of Abraham. He is an Old Testament type, and he shadows some New Testament thing or person.

In Gen. 14, Abraham met Melchizedek on the road. Abraham had just rescued Lot and Melchizedek brought out bread and wine to celebrate Abraham's delivery and deliverance. This Melchizedek met Abraham when he was returning from the slaughter of the kings, and he ministered to him. Abraham tithed or gave money to Melchizedek. He considered Melchizedek a true priest of God. This blessing and tribute makes him superior to Abraham; and Abraham recognizes this fact.

Melchizedek was first of all, king of righteousness, by the interpretation of his name and the King of Salem. He has a double royalty. He came into this world for righteousness sake. King of Righteousness in Heb. 7:2 is followed by then also he was the king of peace. The essence of the future millennial kingdom is peace. Only Christ can be the King of Righteousness. He stands alone as the King of Peace. Only God can reign in the realm of perfect righteousness and peace. Jesus is the means of our righteousness.

In a messianic prediction, Zech. 6:13 ...It is he who shall build the temple of the LORD and shall bear royal honor, and shall sit and rule on his throne. And there shall be a priest on his throne, and the counsel of peace shall be between them both."

Jesus is now the superior priest of all mankind, which we just studied in Psalm 110:1. We should always be thankful that we have such a priest. Our High Priest and our King of Righteousness. This could never be true of the past family priesthood of Abraham or the Levitical priesthood. The Levitical priesthood could not provide salvation; what was needed was the Lord, Who provided the perfection. His priesthood is without flaw or weakness. There is no perfection in any other priesthood.

The Mosaic Law under which the priesthood of Aaron operated showed great priestly imperfection. No one could keep the Law for salvation. Some priests were good and faithful to their office; others were cold and indifferent and failed in their entire work. No matter what group they belonged to, they were all imperfect. Shadow, substitutionary sacrifices.

Another priesthood had to arise; and only through His priesthood can we come to God. It is reassuring that He is a priest forever. The only priesthood that represents us and advocates for us never ends. Without mother or father, He abides forever, having no end of days.

For Christ did not enter the Temple, a mere copy, but into the Presence of God. He is our advocate. Immutable Christ. Death claimed the lives of every priest from the Age of Israel; but not so for the Person of Jesus Christ. Because he abides forever, He holds His priesthood forever.

What is this priesthood or advocacy that the brief.

When we rebound, our Great High Priest argues our case. We have no spiritual life without our Great High Priest.

Because He was true humanity, the Lord relates to us and He is able. He appeals to the Father for us and this is unceasing until we are in heaven and we meet our Great High Priest in heaven.

So, why do men go to human priests today? They do so because they think that a human priest. They believe that a human priest has the power to see them safely into heaven; but we are our own priests today; and we can represent ourselves directly before God. You do not need anyone else but the Lord Jesus Christ. He sacrificed Himself He has saved us eternally. He is at the right hand of God. He represents those who are His royal family. We look daily to the Great High Priest. In any circumstance of life, we appeal to Him. He never fails in His supplications or care.

We are now in the final week of the Lord. The Messiah stands before these religious groups; and standing before this corrupt priesthood, was their Great High Priest, their Intercessor. They claimed to seek such a one, but He is standing right before them.

The operative word to apply to them is hypocrisy. We see this word used all over the place today; but in the gospels, hypocrite is synonymous with scribes and pharisees; and the Lord uses this word 20 times, 7 times in this passage alone.

He strips the bark away from a rotting tree so that everyone could take a look at it.

Lesson #0972

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

2/12/2017 2Sunday

Message dedicated to hypocrites. We all have a bit of that in us. We all have hypocrisy in our lives. All it takes is a little bit of arrogance. The real hypocrites are self-deceived. They think they are above everything, but they are above nothing. This is so that we may identify hypocrisy in our own lives. The Lord makes it rather clear that there is nothing worse than a hypocrite.

Matt. 23:1–2 Then Jesus said to the crowds and to his disciples, "The scribes and the Pharisees sit on Moses' seat,..."

This is not a compliment. These pharisees have assumed the mantle of divinely appointed leadership. God told Moses to get His people out of Egypt; and Moses was in between God and the people. He did teach the laws given by God; and He interpreted these messages. That is who Moses was, and the scribes and pharisees believed themselves to be this. They failed in their spiritual leadership. Moses was a success because he followed the word of the Lord.

They interpreted the Law far beyond the intent of the Law; they applied pure legalism in opposition to the Law. Unable to keep some or all of the statutes of the Law; they needed some righteousness, as pointed out in the communion service. They needed faith in Him. The pharisees placed their faith in law-keeping. That is how they interpreted the Law.

They insisted that their interpretations and add-ons as equivalent to the Mosaic Law.

Then Jesus makes the odd statement:

Matt. 23:3 so do and observe whatever they tell you, but not the works they do. For they preach, but do not practice.

There is nothing wrong with the Law; and the people were to still obey the Law. But do not according to their deeds. Do as I say and not as I do. This is the hypocritical side of the authority which they assumed. Legalisms and the distortions of doctrine.

The Lord's disciples would face many legalists. Peter will face these same scribes and pharisees in Jerusalem, where his ministry takes place. They have led the people away from the Savior, away from the Messiah, away from salvation. People are taken away from the truth and they focus upon the non-essentials.

When Israel departed from the truth, Israel chased after false gods. They even worshiped the fertility gods and sacrificed their children. As Christ says, these religious distortions of the Law do not provide people with the truth and their actions often turn off other people. Christians are hypocrites, some will claim (which may be true). Hypocrites often mishandle the Scriptures, but this does not invalidate the Scriptures.

The disciples should be able to separate the true Law from the add-ons. Stick to the doctrine that comes from the Scripture and from the mind of Christ. Stick with what the Scripture says. One way to deal with all of this: become grace oriented. Don't become self righteous lest you become a hypocrite as well. Self-righteousness leads to hypocrisy. If you look at the hypocrite and say, I am better than that, you are on your way to self-righteousness.

The scribes and pharisees turned the Law into salvation by works. A spiritual life that is based on nothing but good works. That is not what the spiritual life is based upon. We must recognize the difference between legalism and grace. They did not teach the true emphasis of the Law, which is the...

Matt. 23:4 They tie up heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on people's shoulders, but they themselves are not willing to move them with their finger.

"I am going to put a load on you, but I am not going to bear it." Δεσμησω. These are like camel drivers who put heavy loads on their pack animals and do nothing to balance or lighten the load. These are the regulations from the pharisees and the scribes. Everyone understood what Jesus was telling them. It was wrong to abuse these animals.

All of this is figurative; tying up heavy packs on the backs of people. The burdens laid on by the pharisees are those of the extra-Biblical regulations and to the point where the original law is obscured. There have been all sorts of regulations placed on businesses today to the point of harassment and punishment. Such burdensome regulations are harassment and enslavement to all. The pharisees are taskmasters; they have a whip. They are like the Egyptians to the Jews when enslaved. They used their regulations to whip the people into line.

Επιτιθιμι means to place upon, to inflict.

Regulations and Christianity

1. The pharisees placed burdens upon the people rather than teach the Word. Taboos like "Don't you smoke" which is outside of the realm of the church. It might not be good for you.
2. Worse they inflict human viewpoint rather than inculcate God's Word.
3. That is what legalistic religion always does. It inflicts false standards and requirements. There is enough Bible doctrine to learn for the rest of your life. You do not need any extra-Biblical standards.
4. This is an incredible reminder that Christianity is not a religion.
5. Religion imposes impossible tasks on the people.
6. Christianity offers salvation to mankind by grace through faith in Christ alone.
7. Christianity is not like some religion.

The requirements of the pharisees were grievous and could not be fulfilled. So great were the regulations from the pharisees that they would be debated all of the time in the various schools.

Legalism, is it lawful to kill a louse on the Sabbath? They actually debated this. Was this a prohibited work on the Sabbath? There were many regulations over which there was no longer any debate and most of them had to do with Sabbath-keeping, which contained some of the greatest burdens. It became a day of great burdens, to insure that work is not done.

It was unlawful on the Sabbath day to carry food from one house to another. A donkey could not be let out into the road unless all of its coverings and load had be place on him before the Sabbath. You could not put an egg in a hot kettle to boil. Unlawful to light or to extinguish lights on the Sabbath. You could not move furniture except when used as a ladder, and then only to take 4 steps with it. You could not wear jewelry or ornaments, which was understood to be bearing a burden on the Sabbath. Unlawful to tie your sandals on the Sabbath.

Forbidden to fix a leaky barrel of water. They spent all of their time coming up with these decisions. You could not stop the bleeding of a wound unless the life is in danger. Anything to do with sewing was forbidden; could not do any of it. When the disciples picked a little grain on the Sabbath, and the pharisees were all over them for that. They could actually be put to death for breaking such actions.

You could dip a raddish in salt, but not for too long. Did not want to accidentally pickle the raddish. Mud on a dress; and you could crush it in your hand and get rid of it; but no washing it off. It was impossible to follow all of these regulations.

The real purpose of the Sabbath was lost in all of this. A time to worship the Lord and a time of rest; and it became a burden. The regulations, all this stuff and more. But this stuff did not apply to the pharisees, typical for those who abuse power. They exempt themselves from laws that everyone else must follow. They live by their own set of rules, which are not as oppressive as the rules which the place upon others.

A body of legislatures place laws on us which do not apply to them.

Matt. 23:4 They tie up heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on people's shoulders, but they themselves are not willing to move them with their finger.

They place all these burdens on others, but they would not remove the smallest of burdens with their little finger.

Lesson #0973

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

2/15/2017 Wednesday

Aphorisms: do as I say, not as I do; practice what you preach. These standard phrases mean, be true to your word; so what you say you are going to do; mean what you say. Today, we require a massive contract; and many times, these contracts are litigated in court.

Politicians often promise to do many things; our current president is trying to make good on his word. He is going to do what he says. This is not normally found. Politicians try to please as many people as they can. Bobby appreciates knowing what a leader is going to do, based upon his word.

If a person's word does not match his deeds, that is called living a lie. All of this adds up to making promises or laws or deals without integrity or intent. It is fairly obvious when a person in authority does not match his word with deeds.

This is the case with the scribes and pharisees in Matt. 23.

Matt. 23:3 so do and observe whatever they tell you, but not the works they do. For they preach, but do not practice.

They are hypocrites of the highest order; they say one thing and do another. There are many examples to draw from here. Their extra-legal regulations are placed on the people; attempts to further define what they believed was in the Mosaic Law. They assumed the mantle of authority yet they expected everyone to obey these regulations, which they themselves did not keep.

So Jesus describes their hypocrisy. Figurative tying up. People are being saddled with those extra-Biblical edicts. Basically, the Law said, "Keep the Sabbath." It was a day of remembering God's grace. But the pharisees took this day and made it a day of extreme legalism. They attempted to inflict a special day of extreme burden upon the people. All those regulations imposed by the scribes and pharisees which did not apply to themselves. We see the same thing done by our legislators. Thousands of pages of a healthcare plan, which they themselves are not under. Many examples of this. The burdens placed upon the Jews were burdens that the pharisees and scribes themselves did not shoulder.

Matt. 23:4 They tie up heavy burdens, hard to bear, and lay them on people's shoulders, but they themselves are not willing to move them with their finger.

They demonstrate no integrity. They would not lift these burdens from the people. Can't kill a louse on the Sabbath or wash dirt off your clothes on the Sabbath. All of these things were deemed as work. You had to plan your day around what you could not do. The pharisees were really good at this.

The Lord could have called for the removal of such people from society. However, this is not His message. They were not there to remove religious leaders. Don't do what they do; do not copy their thinking. Diabolical and genius. They were adept at finding loopholes for themselves. They were great law keepers and congratulated themselves for that.

Legalistic church cliques do this today. They are bound together by their pious self-righteousness. They take on an attitude of superiority. The Sabbath was supposed to be a day of rest, and it was gummed up with all that legalism.

The pharisees wanted to be recognized and lauded by those upon whom they inflicted all these burdens.

This reflects the arrogance of bad government. People who are enslaved to a welfare state continue to elect those who enslave them; supporting their slave masters and thanking them for being their masters. It is amazing that tyrants can do so much evil in the name of good.

"You will do what we say and you will like it and you will praise us for it!" They held the power of life and death regarding these regulations. The pharisees offered burden; Jesus offers freedom and joy and peace.

Matt. 23:5 They do all their deeds to be seen by others. For they make their phylacteries broad and their fringes long,

Phylacteries

1. They received accolades based upon outward appearances not on inward substance.
2. The greatest inward substance is Bible doctrine in the soul. Religion gives an outward appearance; a shell of piety. It is a facade of good.
3. The pharisees' outward deeds are performed in order to satiate their power lusts. Many illustrations of this. Power lust is everywhere. It is well-illustrated by legalism in churches. Imposition of regulations and taboos upon people. Nothing but outward deeds to gratify power lust. The history of certain churches in this world is exactly that. Those who set the standards receive the approbation of those under the regulations. Selling of indulgences.
4. Gaining power and approbation and self-esteem.
5. They want people to be impressed by with their religiosity. Truly religious people want this. This motivates them and it shines forth from their outward activities and appearances.
6. They are just keeping up appearances. Inside, they are filled with dead men's bones; and the Lord will describe them in this way in v. 27 coming up. "You are like whitewashed tombs which appear beautiful on the outside, but on the inside are filled with dead men's bones." This describes Islam to a tee.

To accentuate their appearance.

Matt. 23:5 They do all their deeds to be seen by others. For they make their phylacteries broad and their fringes long,

Phylacteries occurs only here in the Bible. Two small boxes which contain Old Testament verses. One box is strapped to someone's forehead while praying; the other is strapped to the arm. They are generally called teflin, which means prayers. Every adult male wore these at daily morning public prayers. Very similar to Islam. A superstition concerning these little boxes. The hand or the arm tephlin was attached first, right above the left elbow, and this placed it close to the heart. This showed just how important these verses were to their religiosity. Only outward appearance. Box contained 4 passages. Ex. 13 14 Deut. 6:4–9 11:13–21. Then the head tephlin placed on the head second. These were attached so that it formed the consonants for the name of God, Shadai, which means the Almighty One; Omnipotent God. Repetitive prayers cited every time.

So much of prayer is not really speaking to God; but it is reciting words which mean nothing. Just the rituals of prayer. The true use of the tephlin was a good thing. It was a memorial of God's commandments; and it was a witness to surrounding pagans; and it would indicate that these Jews were called by the name of Almighty. It was all to testify to that. Evangelism and purpose, which was a good thing; but just became a medium for the self-elevation of the pharisees who wore the boxes. All external. The larger the phylactery the more spiritual the person was. They would never think of appearing without these boxes. This was more important than believing and doing what the Scriptures said.

This is called eyewash, something needed only for appearances sake. Dog and pony shows were put on for the commanders. The outward display with no inner reality. Once Scripture is relegated to the background; phony exterior and activities always emerges as superior to the Bible. The externals become the most important. The high churches which depend so much on ritual; just be there for the ritual. It is all external. No Scripture; no doctrine. No spiritual growth. Just sit there and go through the motions and God will bless you. This goes on in so many churches in America. There is nothing there; it is empty. It is nothing.

In that day and age, the Jews had better follow the rituals.

They lengthened the fringe trim of their garments. This suggested greater spirituality. Long tassels. Made sure that they were long, visible and seen wherever they walked. Like walking with their graduation cap and gown, reminding everyone who they were.

Christianity Verse External Worship

1. Righteousness regeneration the spiritual life are never based on outward appearance or upon legalistic activities.

2. Rather, it is based upon fellowship with the Holy Spirit and spiritual growth. All internal changed. Christianity begins internally; not externally.
3. The Christian life is marked by internal renovation; not by external activities.
4. True Christian works emanate from the renovation of thinking spiritual growth.
5. In that case, any outward activities of a believer are manifestation of the true inner manifestation. The order is always from the inside to the outside.
6. The outward activities are not the proof of an internal transformation.
7. If that were the case, then that would indicate salvation by works.
8. If that were the case, then works would be the proof of salvation; and that is never the case. Faith alone in Christ alone regeneration and filling of the Spirit and
9. A believer can produce no outward deeds and still be mature. He can still be a Christian too.
10. Alternative, a person can produce mountains of good deeds and not be a Christian. Externals never indicate what is inside. Do not put the cart before the horse. Works are a confirmation of faith if they come from spiritual growth. But the externals do not prove anything.

Approbation and power lust can be seen.

Lesson #0974

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

2/16/2017 Thursday

All people need some kind of affection or recognition. However, that can move into approbation lust.

Approbation Lust

1. Approbation lust is an inordinate desire to be recognized; to be applauded, made to feel important. Might want it from too many people.
2. For some to lose that approbation is to lose the reason for living or for life itself. That is how strong that drive can be. The athletes who finish their time playing and they miss that status that celebrityship. That is the highest moment of their lives.
3. Approbation lust is a massive ego trip of self righteous and self-centered arrogance.
4. It can also be an extension of a lust for power and prestige. The lust for approbation and power can sometimes be two sides of the same coin.
5. Approbation lust and excessive ambition can work in tandem as well.
6. Approbation lust can be a desperate need to have a specific self-image reenforced.

Bobby is not painting a pretty picture here, but it can be a pretty destructive attribute. Especially in a time where arrogance is elevated to virtue status. We need to recognize this when it is in ourselves. As we grow spiritually, we need to be able to evaluate ourselves and our weaknesses and strengths, as we grow spiritually. Do not become arrogant and indulge approbation lust. Jesus has the perfect example for His disciples of what approbation lust looks like.

When the Lord warns the disciples, He is warning us as well. Mark 12:38–40 and Luke are parallel passages. They loved to be noticed for their outward displays of religious trappings. Jesus warns them.

Mark 12:38 And in his teaching he said, "Beware of the scribes, who like to walk around in long robes and like greetings in the marketplaces

These long robes made them noticeable. This was just like the pharisees and the stuff that they wore. The scribes wore the long robes. Everyone looked at them; and this gave them attention. They looked like they were on the Supreme Court and everyone knew who they were.

The market places were the central places where they gathered and they hung out primarily to be seen. They loved being called rabbi. This name means teacher. It was an academic accolade of the time period; and it recognized your accomplishments. This meant that you submitted to a higher spiritual order. In those days, rabbis had great authority. They had great knowledge of the Law and great recognition; and they took upon themselves the mantle of Moses, as if they were his successors. So they must be obeyed and given obeisance.

They were supposed to receive this approbation; this was the culture. Similar to our celebrity obsessed culture today.

They got the chief seats in the synagogues and places of honor at the banquets. They were often down in front and they faced the congregation. They were 50 yardline seats. They saw everything and they could be seen by everyone. They were the paragons of society.

Mark 12:39 and have the best seats in the synagogues and the places of honor at feasts,

The choir loft is always empty. Why isn't there a choir in there? Churches usually have choirs. Why isn't there someone in the chief seats. Bob, in a very controversial move, fired the choir, as only he could. He said, "I am a music love and that is why I did it." That was his sense of humor. This was a chief seats kind of thing; and it gave them a false prominence; and approbation that they should not have gotten.

If you looked up there to the choir and you could see some of them talking during the entire sermon. All sorts of stuff going on up there; and much of it had nothing to do with taking in Bible doctrine. Maybe that was the genesis of Bob speaking about those who were rude in the congregation.

When someone disagreed with Bob, it was often obvious to those sitting in the congregation, and this gave them some power and they even built a coterie of followers in the church. Some of them in the choir thrived on this approbation. The choir in the chief seats became the hotbed of rebellion against the ministry of this pulpit. Most of them left the church and they started up another church elsewhere, not to far away.

The scribes and pharisees did what was necessary to be noticed; it was about them.

They got places of honor at the banquets; and they received preferential treatment.

The scribes wanted approbation from those who they were supposed to serve, but they only really served themselves. It was all for show and for approval.

The religious leaders did not receive pay for their services. They had ways of getting paid; selling animals at exorbitant prices. They made money in another way. They depended upon hospitality given them by devout Jews. In doing so, there were massive abuses of this hospitality.

Devouring widows' houses. They could not just drop in for dinner, but they exploited the lives of those with limited means. They took all that these people would give them. They devoured all of it; it was all for them. No one matters but that scribe or pharisee. They also unethically swindled others out of their property.

They were great at long-winded prayers. Elaborate and well spoken and beautify composed and they were something to listen to. Many of them had memorized a great deal of the Old Testament and they threw various passages into their prayers.

All of this is eyewash; it was for public consumption. Not unusual then or now. They were not talking for God, but for the ears of those who were nearby. It was all about public accolade and approbation. Long and loud prayers; and meaningless.

There used to be prayers before ball games; and some of those went way long. In effect, their prayers mocked the power of prayer.

God will not be mocked. He will not be mocked by those who use prayer in the wrong way.

Mark 12:40 who devour widows' houses and for a pretense make long prayers. They will receive the greater condemnation."

Receive Greater Condemnation

1. Those charged with spiritual leadership, the scribes and pharisees, and those who are in leadership positions today; they have an added responsibility to the Lord. Do not take this leadership lightly. You are not that because you are elevated in some way. That is the wrong motivation. Once a year, we hear the names of the deacons and they are paraded in front of the congregation. They are doctrinally oriented.
2. To take it lightly or to abuse that authority will not go unnoticed. It is not about Bobby noticing it; but about the Lord.
3. The pharisees and scribes would be severely punished for these hypocritical activities. They will get it in the teeth.
4. How will they be condemned? It will happen in A.D. 70. They will get attention.

The Lord has given a scathing description of the apostate leaders.

Matt. 23:6 and they love the place of honor at feasts and the best seats in the synagogues

Now that he has told them what they should not be; the Lord is looking at His disciples and He is telling them what not to be. The disciples will have the greatest responsibilities in the Church Age. The pressure on them will be very great. They would receive a lot of it. Do not get approbation lust.

Jesus warns His disciples. The concept here is correct. Brother and sister simply means that we are one in Christ. The term has meaning. We are all one.

Matt. 23:8 But you are not to be called rabbi, for you have one teacher, and you are all brothers.

The next warning. "Don't call anyone father." This is not a reference to your actual father.

Matt. 23:9 And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven.

We have one instructor or leader. Does this mean that no one else is a leader? This is about outward appearance and motivation which is all about approbation.

Matt. 23:10 Neither be called instructors, for you have one instructor, the Christ.

The key is grace orientation:

Matt. 23:11 The greatest among you shall be your servant.

Grace is the most important thing for the believer.

Matt. 23:12 Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.

Do not exalt yourself, or you will be humbled.

This Sunday will be the annual business meeting. No Bible class Wed/Thurs. this coming week.

Lesson #0975

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

2/19/2017 1Sunday

Some people work hard much of their lives to attain some title and this is often considered success in life. There may be a number of motives here. Respect and appreciate and compliment; but in some cases, the desire is approbation lust. Some just want applause, recognition, or make you see important in the eyes of others.

Mark 12:38–40 And in his teaching he said, "Beware of the scribes, who like to walk around in long robes and like greetings in the marketplaces and have the best seats in the synagogues and the places of honor at feasts, who devour widows' houses and for a pretense make long prayers. They will receive the greater condemnation."

There was some arrogance included with their desire to have the chief seats. There were dinners and testimonials. All of this was a part of their approbation lust.

Devouring widow's houses is the dark side of approbation lust. This is monetary exploitation. There is plenty of that going on in churches today. Send me money and I will pray for you. Widows were the most vulnerable and schemes were used to take their homes from them, placing them into poverty.

But, on the religious side, offering long prayers for appearance sake. Beautiful, flowering prayers, even though these people...

The disciples of Jesus would carry the high office of apostleship. Sage, wisdom; and Bobby likes the name of this street. From Berachah comes the most sage advice to come from anywhere. You cannot get any more sage than the Bible. Very appropriate for Berachah, even though that was not the original meaning of Sage Street.

These men would perform miracles and they would speak in tongues. They would bring the message of Jesus Christ to the church. The Lord does not want his disciples to become arrogant; that is the wrong mode for leadership in the church. The dangers of arrogance. Arrogance is the wrong thinking for a leader, and...

"Do not desire to be called rabbi." Jesus warns His disciples.

Matt. 23:10 Neither be called instructors, for you have one instructor, the Christ.

Matt. 23:11 The greatest among you shall be your servant.

Matt. 23:12 Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.

A Few Point on Matt. 23:12

1. Grace orientation.
2. Self-exaltation is the worst enemy of the believer.
3. This is particularly true for those in leadership positions, because in the church, the leadership positions affect the spiritual lives of others.
4. It is very easy to hear compliments and to become impressed by them.
5. Grace orientation cannot coexist with arrogance.
6. Arrogance is the great downfall of the believer; the foundation of the sin nature.

Strong lust for approbation, which is never satisfied. It must feed on something; and people will do nearly anything to get that approbation, including very bad things. The scribes are thinking, we earned our rabbinical degrees and the rest of you need to get that.

The disciples would become teachers of God's Word and you cannot teach His Word from a position of arrogance. Do not ever seek approbation. This is an occupational hazard for any kind of teacher. Believers who receive Bible doctrine from a pastor's teaching may become enthusiastic and appreciative. Bobby gets to see people at these conferences that he never sees. It is not a bad thing to be enthused about Bible doctrine.

It is normal to express gratitude to the person providing Bible doctrine. This is why they express themselves. The teacher cannot take that personally. It is not about the teacher; it is about the content. Compliments must be taken with the right attitude, without becoming arrogant as a result.

The pastor teaches; the human spirit takes it in; and the human spirit assimilates the doctrine. The Holy Spirit is the teacher to the human spirit. The Holy Spirit is the mentor. Pneumatikos, which is spiritual information. The Holy Spirit automatically transfers this information from the staging area to the launching pad. To the Holy Spirit goes the credit. The pastor is only a mouthpiece, nothing more. A pastor can never forget that there is just One Teacher. The pastor-teacher needs the ministry of the Holy Spirit.

No pastor can afford to become arrogant because of his teaching ability; and this is difficult because people compliment. The pastor-teacher cannot afford to become arrogant and to see himself as above all other...

In Christ, You Are All Brothers

1. Even though these men will all become apostles,
2. We are a part of a spiritual family.
3. We have equal status and equal opportunity. It does not matter if you are a pastor, a congregant or a
4. Each one of us has a duty before the Lord.
5. Each believer is equally important to the Lord in the body of Christ.

There is no room for hierarchies in the church; no room for tassels, etc. It is not a problem to record. Striving for recognition of titles is a distraction. The emphasis should never be upon the...

God has given certain believers leadership titles. Greatest benefit of service to the church. The application. There are no titles to promote a human hierarchy in the church. All believers are priests. We do not call each other father. All men and women who have.

Some introduced Thiem as Father Time. There are no other intermediaries between us and God. Priest, father, pope are all invalid offices.

When a leader in a church becomes enamored over his position of authority, he is on the way to arrogance. There are titles in the church to designate types of authority in the church; and their authority is limited to administration and teacher. Leadership means service; the deacons serve us. Paul called himself a slave.

Berachah has a wonderful board of deacons; not an arrogant man among them.

Florida conference this past week. Encouraging to see those outside of Berachah who are also growing.

When we were growing up, our parents should have been concerned how we would turn out as adults. Parents have great responsibility in raising a child. How many books and seminars on raising a child. None of them said it would be easy. Wisdom and perseverance are needed to raise a child. The Bible affirms that good parenting is a Christian responsibility; and divine institution #3 is family. Train up a child in the way he should go. Even when he is old, he will not depart from it. The parent should be dedicated to raising up a child. They must make plenty of time for children. What is the objective of this dedication? The way the child should go.

If you are a Christian parent, that is a great responsibility in your life. So many things involved in this child-rearing. Bob drilled Bobby over and over again about what does it mean to be saved. Bobby understood exactly what believing in Jesus Christ meant. Volition must be involved and make certain that their children believe in Jesus Christ.

You cannot force it down their throats. This sometimes turns them off. Make application of doctrine for them; read Bible stories to them. There is an outline of teaching for children at Berachah Church. Parents must set the example. If you are not positive toward doctrine, then they won't be either. We must grow spiritually to facilitate their growth.

Sending kids to prep school is a start in that training, because that training is outstanding for doctrinal accuracy and challenging their young minds to learn God's Word. Great creativity of the teachers there. Prep school is a small amount of time; and it is not a substitute for parental training.

Some believers think that when he is old, he will not depart from it; is a guarantee and promise. But that is not true. Proverbs presents general principles and not promises. Great wisdom and great divine viewpoint; but volition is always involved. Children may reject the Word of God just as adults do.

Prov. 22:6 Train up a child in the way he should go; even when he is old he will not depart from it.

Bob decided to have a teen class and it was well attended. People were afraid to be called on; but he did that to make them listen. Bobby stood up and spoke and showed his ignorance many times; there were a lot of cute girls there.

Child Learning

1. There are still people from that time and those lessons were implanted.
2. Lessons from early in life, and repeated lessons, stay with young people.
3. Adults will recognize the standard and lessons that they learned as children. Think about what you have learned as children. Does it still impact you? Many of us still remember that teaching.
4. Parents cannot make decisions for the child or for their adult child.
5. Training a child in the ways of doctrine for living life is always the best course of action.

There is an individual and corporate responsibility in raising a child. This is exactly what Jesus was doing with the disciples. They were His children; they were learners having nothing to begin with.

Jesus had about 4 years with his disciples. He had to intensely train them. Parents have 18 years or so.

Matt. 23:8 But you are not to be called rabbi, for you have one teacher, and you are all brothers.

The scribes and pharisees loved to be called rabbi.

Matt. 23:9 And call no man your father on earth, for you have one Father, who is in heaven.

It is okay to call one of your parents dad.

Matt. 23:10 Neither be called instructors, for you have one instructor, the Christ.

So what does this mean?

A summary of what He taught. Jesus here is commending the only attitude for the Christian life. Legalism and approbation lust do not make up the Christian life for believers. All it takes is being out of fellowship and neglecting Bible doctrine. In no time, the line between Bible doctrine and ____ ...

The disciples should not have a lust for power, influence or approbation. We must all remember who it is who teaches all believers. It is the One, referring to the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is our mentor. The credit goes to the Holy Spirit; no matter how well-spoken a pastor is.

“You are all brothers.’ Even Apostleship does not give the Apostles the right to lord their authority over others in the church. Being a leader in a church means that they must serve all believers.

There is no need for the teacher to require all these titles be. Some revel in those titles. This warning concerns striving to be called, leaders.

Nominative plural of καθάγητης. This noun occurs only here. This is the highest title which can be given here. There is no truth from the human mind.

Noun masculine:kathêgêtês (καθηγητής) [pronounced], which means, 1) a guide; 2) a master, teacher. Thayer Definition only. Strong’s #2519.

leadership is a position of service; Bobby only has this in order to be of service to his peoplem

Bobby had intense leadership training in the armed forces. If you are in it for yourself and for your promotion and to gain a higher rank; those in that unit know it. They know who you are; they know it. They know if you are using them to climb over them to the next higher position. Troops follow leaders who take care of them and care about them. They know that the leader is concerned about them. This is true of any leader, manager. The leadership principle is always service, which is what Jesus is making clear to His disciples.

Matt. 23:11 The greatest among you shall be your servant.

Lesson #0977

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

2/26/2017 2Sunday

The context of v. 11 is what our Lord is teaching the disciples about being teachers, leaders, and what they are required to be in order to be Apostles in the very near future. The titles are not important. These men had tremendous power. They were divinely inspired. Their job was to teach what they knew from divine inspiration.

These men certainly had power and prestige and they could have easily presumed upon fro all of that power and prestige.

Jesus is speaking to His disciples.

Matt. 23:11 The greatest among you shall be your servant.

They are the greatest, with the title of Apostle; and they would serve all those around them. Authority and servanthood go together. That authority is to be used in the service to others; not in one’s own service.

The scribes and pharisees used their position in order to gain fame, money and power; and to exercise authority over others. They have little or not concern for those under them. This is exactly like many in government.

There is a trade-off between leadership and servanthood. The great leader is concerned about those under them. The commander-in-chief is Jesus Christ. Do not forget this. Do not forget your service as well.

How many times have you seen in high circles where some high muckety muck sticks out his hand to be kissed. It is a form of bowing and scraping. Popes, cardinals, bishops; their lofty, hierarchal status. Jesus is anti-clerical. That is part of what drove the protestant revolution was about. The Protestants understood what leadership was; Martin Luther, Scripture alone. The leader must not bully or forget whom they serve. That is simply human nature.

What must these men be? They must be διακονος, which is an official title of the church. This is not the meaning of διακονος for these men. This is a technical title here for the Apostles here. They are servants of the Lord and they are never to take on the qualities of the teachers in Israel.

They love to hear their names called out; and they want the best places at the banquets to sit. They want to serve themselves.

And the final warning from Jesus to the disciples:

Matt. 23:12 Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.

One of the great moments. Bobby has seen some of the best and worst leaders. He has never seen a bad leader serving himself or herself whoever gained the type of power and prestige that they were after. They might have increased in rank, but no matter how high they go, it eventually catches up to them. This servanthood idea is critical. Jesus is intensely anti-hierarchical in the church.

If you are under the authority of a bad leader, they will be humbled. We don't have to do it. Let the Lord handle this. Divine viewpoint is, arrogance is humbled. There is first an outward humbling. The bad leader, the arrogant person will be depressed with disappointment in their lives. You may think they have everything, but they will be disappointed.

Bad or Arrogant Leaders

1. The attempt to exalt self and to satisfy power and approbation lust will have the opposite effect. Wait and watch and be objective. Do your job. These are miserable people.
2. Exalting self with result in complete deflation in the plan of God. Leaders there to exalt themselves will have complete
3. God's plan operates only on the concept of grace in every phase. You do not have to be upset all of the time if things do not go your way. God's grace takes up the slack.
4. There is no place for the arrogance of self-exaltation under God's plan. That is what Jesus warns the disciples of. Don't see yourselves as great; just do your job. Do not lose sight of who is in charge. If you don't lose sight of this, then you have the greatest job and the greatest life possible. That is what grace does. You do not have to be so concerned about yourself.

5. All provision including authority in the church, is from God. Bobby would not be here if that was not true.
6. All glory goes to God. If a believer has a leadership gift in the spiritual life, and they grow spiritually and they are prepared by means of spiritual advance, an office of leadership will open up, if you are prepared.

Preparation is all important. This is true of all endeavors. The young generations do not want to move up in the ranks; they just want it now.

You must learn your profession. Leadership is not the result of self-gratification or self-aggrandizement. When you are prepared, things happen. If you are put into a position for which you are unprepared, you will fail. Known in the army as paying your dues. Learn your profession; practice your profession.

Listen; learn; learn your job and then you are prepared. You do this as unto the Lord. You are grace oriented and you become successful, fulfilling the plan of God for your lives.

Grace in action and grace appropriated. To be effective, the leader must advance spiritually; and that is an absolute prerequisite. Master the subjects of Bible doctrine. Be out front with spiritual growth. As a leader, demonstrate grace and doctrinal orientation. Knowledge application and service in the spiritual life. People observe you and understand the importance of spiritual growth in life.

This is the way a leader is exalted.

Bobby was an instructor in the Ranger dept for a little over a year. Worked for someone who was universally hated. Another guy in the headquarters there, an NCO, a doctrinal believer from Berachah. Bobby and Craig understood that this guy was extremely arrogant. As he left, when it was time for him to leave his position. Bobby had to get money to buy him a gift at his goodbye banquet. Bobby called Bob and told him the situation. "What do I do?" The grace of God came through. Bob passed along a knife. The guy's hobby was taxidermy. The knife was gorgeous. Wrapped up and everyone watched him at the banquet.

He unwrapped it and looked at it and cried. He got something that he did not deserve. He served no one but himself. Best thing to do is to give grace. Bobby learned what not to be. And Jesus taught His disciples what not to be, by pointing to the pharisees and scribes.

God exalts a ready leader at the right time with the proper circumstances. God knows when you are ready. He provides the time and place. It does not have to be in an official position. Leadership shows itself in the believer's everyday life. Leadership needed in a teacher; at prep school. Teachers are also leading by example. Grace stands out. One of the most important leadership positions is in the family. All of those are leadership positions. To function as a spiritual leader requires humility from spiritual growth.

1Peter 5:5b Clothe yourselves, all of you, with humility toward one another, for "God opposes the proud but gives grace to the humble."

1Peter 5:6 Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God so that at the proper time he may exalt you,... Great satisfaction for every leader who leads his congregation to spiritual maturity. You need to have the right mental attitude.

There is no ability no talent no asset of self which can produce for God. Some have great abilities and talent; some do not. But we can produce only what is required from grace orientation.

1Pe 5:7 ...casting all your anxieties on him, because he cares for you.

Lesson #0978

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

3/1/2017 Wednesday

Sam Ammons passed away this week. Pastor of Liberty Baptist Church. Affiliated with Berachah Church. Bobby reads his obituary. Born 1925 in Wallace, TX. His background; opened up 3 gas stations; opened a diner; reopened Café Ebony. The Lord told him to get out of the nightclub business. He became acquainted in 1969 with Berachah and opened up a church across from his old diner. He spent about 30 years teaching Bible doctrine; and he spent many hours having coffee with Bob.

Story about a soldier missing his gf; and he went AWOL. Stopped by a guard with a rifle and he said, "I have a mother in heaven, a father in hell and a girlfriend in ____, and I am going to see one of them tonite."

Jesus will now continue His judgments, which He began in Matthew. These are known to us as woes. Vv. 13–36 are the woes and this is what the disciples should never be.

When Jesus calls these religious types these names, it gets their attention and the attention of everyone else. He calls them the children of the devil. They had taken over a client nation and totally corrupted it.

Perverting the Scriptures; perverting basic principles of mercy and justice; they are a superficial religion, concerned with outward appearances; they have hypocrisy in outward stuff; and they were criminals.

We begin to examine the character of these enemies of Christ; and they are the enemies of all believers. He was motivated, not by anger or by hatred; but by love. He wanted to gather them under His wings, but they would not.

When people reject Jesus Christ, we have known those who profoundly reject the Lord. People have all sorts of reasons for doing so. Most of them come up with something that God has done or has not done, and they blame Him. They reject God and blame God; but they are all products of their own decisions.

We are all the product of our own decisions. The Lord's love for mankind should not be questioned.

There is a formula: "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites." Then He tells them why. There is a dastardly failure of spiritual leadership. An exclamation of calamity or displeasure at the very least. Pharisees have to be the head of the class when it comes to hypocrisy. Greek actors have two masks, one with a smile and one with a frown. The masks have nothing to do with the real person. How many people have been taken by those who are not who they appear to be? They put on a great act. The scribes and the pharisees are not who they appear to be. They slam the doors of heaven in people's faces.

Matt. 23:13 "But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you shut the kingdom of heaven in people's faces. For you neither enter yourselves nor allow those who would enter to go in.

They lead their people through the wrong door. Rather than enter into the Kingdom of Heaven, they lead them to the wrong door. This is the grace entrance, which is faith in Christ. The pharisees' recommendation precludes entry in through the wrong door.

Why Is the Door of Heaven Slammed on the People?

1. They have gone through the wrong door, guided by the pharisees. The people going through the wrong doors are individually responsible.
2. These leaders have pretended to be on the inside of the kingdom; they present themselves as insiders who know how to get there.
3. They have made the choice that their leaders have demanded.
4. The people have followed the leaders, blindly, obediently and blatantly. They will never enter into the kingdom.
5. Every individual is responsible for his or her own decisions. "You are helping them right along through the wrong door."
6. They will not enter into the kingdom; nor will these leaders. These leaders bear a greater responsibility.

The scribes and pharisees have rejected the grace door, over and over again. They have chosen instead to stand on their own righteous deeds of legalism. They believed that they kept all of these regulations all of the time throughout all their lives? Maybe they were not really capable of keeping the Law? They were totally blind, groping in the dark. The Law itself is the arrow that points through door #1. They have chosen just their own works.

In a few days, the Lord will be on the cross; and this is what the others will choose or reject.

The Pharisees Make it Impossible for Others to Believe

1. As spiritual leaders, they will impose on others a works-righteousness. Their own system of salvation; which is non-Biblical and anti-grace.

2. The pharisees are condemned for this works righteousness. They are called directly sons of hell.
3. The pharisees has slammed the door to the kingdom in the faces of the people. Great metaphor to make certain that no one enters into the kingdom.
4. They have covered up God's Word to those who need it most.
5. Religion rejects grace; that is the #1 principle. Christianity does not reject grace.

If we understand these points, we understand many of the basic problems in evangelism today. This woe extends to every communicator of religion in the Church Age. A pastor-teacher who fails to teach Bible doctrine is being condemned here. "Proclaim the Word," we are told.

Theologians who depart from Scripture. Teaching the social gospel.

Spiritual leadership is non-existent and there is a great judgment for this failure. Great failure in religious leadership. In denominations where ritual is aligned with salvation; that is a problem.

All religious falsehoods reject grace. Works are not required to prove salvation. A very subtle point. "You may not be a Christian if you are not producing enough good works."

Such people remain immature believers all of their lives, always worried about not doing enough works.

Matt. 23:13 "But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you shut the kingdom of heaven in people's faces. For you neither enter yourselves nor allow those who would enter to go in.

V. 14 is not originally a part of Matthew. It is an insertion Mark 12:40 and Luke; and these are original. So the missing verse does not belong in Matthew, but is a part of the Lord's teaching.

Marj 12:40 who devour widows' houses and for a pretense make long prayers. They will receive the greater condemnation."

Swindling the Widows out of Their Homes

1. Callousness and greed which is phony care and compassion.
2. They continued to speak about protecting children and widows. Widows had a rough time in the ancient world. Husbands were the breadwinners. If the husband died, there was nothing for the widows. Pharisees said they would help them.
3. But the pharisees took the houses of these widows.
4. They swindled widows into giving their houses to the Temple. The pharisees would steal their homes and then pray long and loud prayers. Religion steals; those in authority and religion steal.

Some religious groups and individuals rip off Christians. “Send us $5 and we will pray for you.” I am a Christian investor and I have an investment scheme to double your money. They intimate that God is blessing their scheme. Our Lord could not let that moment pass. They will be punished for their crimes; and destruction will come A.D. 70. Pharisees and sadducees disappear after that.

The second woe is here:

Matt. 23:15 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you travel across sea and land to make a single proselyte, and when he becomes a proselyte, you make him twice as much a child of hell as yourselves.

The pharisees were travelers and they would travel over land and sea. Περιπαγω means to go up and down; all over the place. They scoured near and far with great missionary zeal. These same disciples... They traveled maximum amount of territory in order to disseminate Satan’s propaganda for money.

Foreign missionaries often disseminate false doctrine. Salvation by works or the social gospel.

Altruism and compassion involved in improving the physical environment of others; but there must be the salvation message of faith alone in Christ alone. That is the only cure for spiritual poverty. The gospel is the only guarantee to an end of physical poverty. Spiritual poverty is a much greater problem than physical poverty. These people only want what the world offers them; they are not concerned with the end. Do you want a few years of monetary gain and eternity in hell?

The spiritual life is far beyond the material life that we live right now. We don’t see poverty here like other places, like Haiti.

Proper Use of Missions

1. Foreign missions are not primarily relief missions.
2. Aid can provide an opening for the gospel. Missionary doctors; but you cannot lose sight of what this is all for.
3. No humanitarianism for humanitarianism sake. Healing someone is great; but the purpose is healing them spiritually. Today, there is no money to be made as a missionary; but pharisees did it. Find the money.

Lesson #0979

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

3/2/2017 Thursday

This chapter is the most concentrated look at the evil in Israel; and everything that is wrong with religion. This chapter explains why religion is the devil’s plan.

There is no v. 14; it is not one of the 7 woes of this chapter, but it is found elsewhere in the other gospels.

The best descriptive word for religion is hypocrite. “One you proselytize someone from far away, you make him twice the child of hell that you are.”

Matt. 23:15 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you travel across sea and land to make a single proselyte, and when he becomes a proselyte, you make him twice as much a child of hell as yourselves.

Obviously, a very derogatory term. Christ saw these men as the devil’s emissaries. Jesus would call them what they are. This son of hell designation comes from doing a right thing in a very wrong way. A client nation needs to spread the gospel. One of the main aspects of a client nation is the spreading of the gospel throughout the world.

It seems that the scribes and pharisees were traveling men, and they would roam over land and sea for another nefarious purpose. Περιπατω is what they were doing. This means to go around, to go up and down. They are searching far and near with great energy. What are they looking for? They look to make one proselyte. This seems odd and it seems like a very bad use of time and resources. A missionary does not stop with just one convert and call it mission accomplished. Acts 1:8 you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you. You will be My witnesses in Jerusalem, Judæa, to Samaria and even to the remotest part of the earth. Does this sound like a missionary going out after one proselyte?

Proselyte is προσηλυτος, which is a transliteration. It means one who comes over, a convert. It originally refers to a gentile proselyte. They go from pagan gentile to circumcision.

What Proselytizing Is All about

1. The aim of the roving pharisees was not to bring people into the kingdom by faith in Christ. Believing in the Messiah was equivalent then to believing in Jesus Christ. The pharisees were not doing as they had been designed to do.
2. What were they bringing them into? Their own pharisaical religious practices. That is false missionary activity. This jeopardizes our client nation status.
3. Instead of seeking pagan in need of s; hey looked of rwe lateople s
4. They use they used people to enrich their own coffers. Money was the main thing on their list. They would use unethical practices to gain wealth. There are many religious organizations whose... They may not use unlawful tactics. But they often use tactics that do not jive with Biblical ethics.

There is no question that churches and other ministries live on donations. They must be met in order to continue to function. The policy of Berachah is not to ever solicit for money. Not a single dime has ever been solicited in Berachah.

There is a doctrinal message in the passing of the plate. This gives us the opportunity to give or not. We must know what the Biblical principle of giving is. God always sees to the needs of Berachah. 63 years with this policy. A lack of funds would indicate that God is finished with this ministry. Or there may be conflict that must cease. This does not mean that the gospel and doctrine will no longer be taught.

Berachah supports missions; and Bobby teaches Bible doctrine. God supports the message. So many other churches laugh at Berachah's approach.

Giving in the Church

1. The Biblical doctrine of giving emphasizes God's grace and nothing more; never man's effort to collect money. Bobby went to a memorial service awhile ago. The gospel was never mentioned; but what was said about the deceased was, he gave a lot of money to the church.
2. God supplies what is necessary through the support of grace oriented believers. If you are not grace oriented, you have no business giving.
3. Enticing, soliciting, intriguing is never to be done.
4. God's grace is the issue in giving. The issue is supporting the ministry of the church, but for the individual believer, the issue is grace. When you look at the bottom line, you are able to say grace.
5. God supplies through be who are motivactid
6. Never grudgingly or of necessity, for God loves the well-motivated believer.

One of the finest men Bobby knew in seminary, who wrote a recommendation for Bobby to teach in Berachah, and he was the president of that seminary; and he often spoke to others about the giving. This guy asked Bobby about giving. Many have heard the policy of Berachah Church. Grace giving is so rare in the Church Age.

This Is What the Pharisees Were Doing

1. Once a pharisee contacted a proselyte, there is a lot of
2. The wooed the proselyte with great status and approbation. They were giving someone an avenue and greast ssa
3. They must have had schools for proselytizing.
4. They often engaged in a self-centered zeal,
5. These proselytes became rabbid about the Satanic system of salvation by works.
6. They became a son of hell. The spiritual leadership of Israel, a client nation, those who were to proselytize, they were making them sons of hell.
7. Not only did they become part of Satan's counterfeit system, but they will share in the eternal destiny, the Lake of Fire. What a miserable end; deluded by

Religion Is Opposed to True Grace

1. Religion breeds emotional instability when the proselyte yields to a hierarchy of human beings, who enforce ritualistic systems of asceticism and intense zealotry for false doctrine. The Jews were the hierarchy. The promoted intense zealotry for false doctrine.
2. The converts of false religion are the most zealous workers for that religion. Mormons, Jehovah's Witnesses, radical Islam. Most everyone in this room has been accosted by a Mormon or a JW. There are a lot of lost people in this world. A false religion does the same kind of proselytizing as Christianity.

3. Religion always opposes the... weird ideas about grace; and grace is only defined in scripture.
4. Religion opposes grace.

Stay away from sneaky people; they were snakes. They used legal language to get around truth. They were legal experts in finding loopholes, always for their own benefit.

Lesson #0980

Matt. 23:13–16 Life of Christ

3/5/2017 1Sunday

In the last week prior to the crucifixion, the religious leaders were on His mind and they were in His face. They had followed Him around, criticized Him, and they doubled their efforts to discredit Him, and they have planned His death.

Why Did Jesus Argue with His Enemies?

1. Jesus did not simply like to spar with His enemies; nor did He despise them; nor was it His reasoning to spend time away from teaching. He pushed back as a part of His mission; this is why He was on this earth. He gave them another chance to believe in Him; and they would get one more chance to enter into the Kingdom of God.
2. He secondly pushed back so that the Jews around could hear what they were rejecting and accepting.
3. Finally, He was warning His disciples the same thing; the same persecution and death.

This was a very evil bunch of men who had taken over the religion business; and they had handsomely been rewarded for their graft and greed. Because of this, they would incur terrible judgment in the near future. This is the fate of all client nations who depart from their mission.

Our Lord reveals the judgements which would come upon them. These are revealed as a series of 7 woes. The word for woe is onomatopoeic. There was judgment on the way.

Woe to you, scribes and pharisees; hypocrites is said 7 times, followed by the word because.

Matt. 23:13 "But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you shut the kingdom of heaven in people's faces. For you neither enter yourselves nor allow those who would enter to go in.

Israel has a King; they are promised a kingdom. It is the scribes and pharisees who are obscuring the way into the kingdom. This is a terrible charge. What could be worse than tampering with the people of a client nation. Bobby has the responsibility to not block the gospel from others. Others often add little bit of works here and there, with the gospel. Such people are pharisees and scribes.

Someone apparently challenges Bobby; and he is asked to leave. Bobby allowed him to stay, hoping he might take in doctrine. First time, he had to ask anyone to leave in 13 years.

V. 14 does not count as a woe, as it is not really found in this passage. It was a scribal addition, as this is found in Luke and Mark.

Now, they travel all over to make a single proselyte. One of the reasons or motivations to go out and witness; if every Christian just got one person to believe in Christ; that would evangelize the world.

Matt. 23:15 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you travel across sea and land to make a single proselyte, and when he becomes a proselyte, you make him twice as much a child of hell as yourselves.

When this proselyte becomes one of you, you make him to be twice as much a child of hell. Wherever it was, they covered land and sea to solicit for hell. The mandate was to proselytize gentiles and pagans; but these people evangelized Jews, for their own purposes. There was no actual spiritual process here.

They knew the book of Jonah, which was all about Jonah failing to go to Nineveh; and Jonah said, "No I won't," and he hopped on a ship going in the opposite direction. So he went to Nineveh reluctantly; and that is the pattern for making proselytes. One of their motivations here was money. This operation is positively cultic. The proselyte surrenders control to a hierarchy of religious fanatics. Such people often become more zealous; like JW's and Mormons. That is the kind of zealotry that the pharisees incurred.

Religion is Satanic in origin and it is therefore evil. "Religion is evil? Religion is of the devil?" Many might dispute this, claiming that religion does great things for God. Religion is problematic because it goes against the grace of God. All of these good works are not the essence of Christianity. If they are opposed to grace, opposed to the gospel. Religion is opposed to God. The pharisees had a wonderful facade and they appeared to be godly men. But inside, they are dead men's bones.

Also, they lined their pockets with the wealth of their proselytes. Who in this town can we bring into the fold?

3rd woe is vv. 16–22:

What the Pharisees Did Regarding the Law of God

1. This woe is spoken, the scribes and pharisees disregarded the clear teaching of Scripture.
2. They disregarded it in a very duplicitous way. They were sneaky. Legalism must be devious because it is a lie. Politicians lie because they are devious; there is something behind it; it is a facade.
3. They used legal language to get around the divine truth of God's law. They constantly were searching the Law for loopholes.
4. They were legal experts at finding loopholes.

5.

By using these technicalities, they did not consider themselves tethered to God's laws. They did this for their own benefit.

Have you ever been on a hike with a blind guide? Ask a blind guide to lead you through Yellowstone Park? You cannot follow a blind guide. The pastor-teacher who teaches no doctrine or false doctrine is a blind guide. They were unable to be the spiritual leaders that they were designed to be. This woe stretches into the future and all the way until the Lord returns. There will be blind guides who want to take you off in the wrong way.

This is going to be all about swearing blind oaths. If you ever bought a home, and it is super thick and do you know what you just signed? How many legislative bills went through coverage; and we did not know it was all about that. All of these woes have great application for today. If you do not make some application to today, in our country, in business, in government, then you are not getting the entire message.

Matt. 23:16 "Woe to you, blind guides, who say, 'If anyone swears by the temple, it is nothing, but if anyone swears by the gold of the temple, he is bound by his oath.'

Lesson #0981

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

3/5/2017 2Sunday

They opposed the God of the Universe, utterly and completely. To hear His teaching, to see His miracles, and to reject Him; to see all of this and to crucify Him, that is the epitome of religion. It is all religion; if it is religion, by definition, it opposes the grace of God. Religion takes us far away from Jesus Christ and even for believers, religion can take a person far away from the Christian life.

Jesus gives them a clear picture of who they are; and what they face in the future. 7 things that the pharisees did over and over again. Their only thinking was, what is in it for us?

The pharisees were keeping themselves and others from the gospel; and they would go over land and sea to proselytize one person. This is because they went after rich Jews; they did not proselytize gentiles, even though this was their job the 3rd woe is all about circumventing God's Word or God's Law. Were they being used to manipulate the Law for their own benefit? Of course. These laws were not binding for the scribes and pharisees; and there was a reason for this. Their legalistic hair-splitting when it comes to legal vows. These are religious vows. They took their oaths and vows very seriously. Such an oath or vow was thought to be air tight. They changed the vows concerning their fidelity. There were some standard vows, which were made non-binding but there was a new specific kind of oath, and it was supposed to be binding, but it was non-binding for them. They made some artificial distinctions. Artificial and wrong.

When a military person enters into the service, he makes a vow. He solemnly swears to uphold the Constitution of the United States. That is considered to be a binding oath. It is not an oath to a person or persons (not an oath to the president, not to Congress). They are bound to uphold the laws of the nation; and they are bound to the nation by oath.

That is what the binding vow of Israel was all about. Dictatorships require vows to the dictator. This is what Adolf Hitler did, he required oaths to follow him to the death. It was not a vow to the nation or to law. He was the law. The oath was binding in the eyes of them; but this led to WWII. This affected the world today.

Pharisees and Their Vows

1. The pharisees oaths were binding and, at the same time, represented great evil. This is the epitome of great evil.
2. In the case of their vows, the oaths were manipulated so as to become non-binding to them (to the pharisees). This opened the door wide for all kinds of manipulations and abuses.
3. Fine lines of distinction instituted.
4. They did this in order to invalidate their own vow, if need be.
5. They demonstrated a phony integrity or evil intent by using and distorting God's Law. These vows were taken from the Law, but they had been manipulated. Changing a few words; what does is mean?

First oath is found vv. 16–17. The religion is taking them down the road of... Christ speaks of them swearing by the Temple; but when they throw in the word gold, that makes it a real oath.

Matt. 23:16 "Woe to you, blind guides, who say, 'If anyone swears by the temple, it is nothing, but if anyone swears by the gold of the temple, he is bound by his oath.'

Then Jesus calls them blind fools. Which is most important? The Temple or the gold in the Temple?

Matt. 23:17 You blind fools! For which is greater, the gold or the temple that has made the gold sacred?

Speaking of Oaths, Vv. 16–17

1. The first oath is sworn to the Temple, and that seems like a good oath. To them, the Temple was a sacred building.
2. Even though they seem to be swearing a binding oath, inwardly, they had no intention of keeping that oath.
3. But when they swore a new oath to the gold in the Temple, that is the vow to which people were obligated. The emphasis is no longer on a sacred building; it is on the gold in the building.
4. An oath that took the vow, this took it one step further to the pharisees advantage. They loved gold; they had the concession in the Temple where they sold animals and made a bundle of money? They were selling these animals and making a lot of money by doing that. Now they have an oath going for gold. A lot of schemes going on. Their legal loophole was not a loophole at all. Neither oath was worth anything. This was a legalistic technicality which emphasized money. They were good at making money. The pharisees were skilled in technicalities. They included swearing here.

This required the gold to be in the Temple so that they have access to it. Nothing to do with the spiritual life; everything to do with human greed. Religious organizations can be some of the richest organizations in the world. There is the beautiful St.Peters and the marvelous golden dome on the inside. One of the wealthiest organizations in the world. They are not alone. There are churches which are extremely wealthy; and they get it, not because of God's grace, but simply because they take it from people who can least afford it. The pharisees are the forerunners of all religions. Swearing an oath for gold?

They Do Not Fully Appreciate the Vows That They Take

1. They were actually in the sacred building which represents Jesus Christ; Whose house it is. They are the ones behind the building, who make it what it is.
2. They were swearing by God, and, in this case, by the Lord Jesus Christ, Who stood before them.
3. That was the real object of the vows to be sworn. What they should do is swear allegiance to the lord.
4. The important vow is to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and be saved. Their oaths were far from swearing allegiance to the Lord. They will be the subjects of His crucifixion? The pharisees were not interested in their own spiritual welfare or the spiritual welfare of their nation. They were only interested in their own power and welfare. Can you spot that? Lies; they use lies to build up personal power. Leaders who are out for themselves.

They do not realize that they oppose the Man Who was represented by the Temple. Their hair-splitting vows were invalid. Jesus was looking for faith alone in Christ alone. The pharisees used these vows to drive people away from Jesus Christ. Same things in vv. 18–22.

There are oaths to follow, and they swear on God, and on His abode, and on His altar.

What are you doing, swearing oaths that are meaningless?

Matt. 23:18–19 And you say, 'If anyone swears by the altar, it is nothing, but if anyone swears by the gift that is on the altar, he is bound by his oath.' You blind men! For which is greater, the gift or the altar that makes the gift sacred?

The oaths that these guys are taking and the Lord is calling them on it.

Matt. 23:20–22 So whoever swears by the altar swears by it and by everything on it. And whoever swears by the temple swears by it and by him who dwells in it. And whoever swears by heaven swears by the throne of God and by him who sits upon it.

This strategy that they were using, to take an oath on the altar, and then absolving themselves from this oath and the enforcement of it.

Let's swear on the gift of the altar rather than upon the altar itself. They had no intention of keeping the vows that did not benefit them. Promises made; promises broken. They were bound by all of these oaths because God is behind it. But they do not change their motivations; and these oaths are hardly recommendation for the people of Israel. Blind fools in one verse and blind guides in another verse.

We understand the importance of oaths; like when a person says, "I swear to God that this is true." Maybe this woe was worthwhile. These guys are criminal. At best, they are simply greedy. Their condemnation is even greater because they are religious leaders in the religious nation.

They deceive others and they deceive themselves as well. They used their own reasoning, their own minds, for these vows that they deem important to themselves.

Certain kinds of organizations are particularly dishonest in this arena. They seek power over the general population and money for themselves. They promise to wield their power to do good things for the people. Justice and security for all. Even preposterous promises, like ending war. They may appear to be valid and worthy. They are mostly unattainable. Have you ever watched activists today in their demands and actions. They will use false promises, intimidation and violence to get their way. Their opposition is to be swept aside, crushed, eradicated. They discredit their goals.

Some Universal Principles.

1. Evil does not perpetrate good.
2. Lies do not bode well for good outcomes. Legislation supported by lies is doomed.
3. The ends never justify the means when the means are wrong.
4. Bad means are the causes of bad results. You can take these axioms to the bank.

Everyone must follow their rules even though they do not follow their rules. They can justify anything in the name of their own objectives. Pharisees love power as much as they love money. Environmentalism is a good example of this. Man-made global warming is a scientific fact, in their thinking. There is much evidence to the contrary; yet if all these different findings are never examined or debated, they are quashed in the name of power and control, and in the name of monetary grants. They are hysterical fanatics. The dishonest means to their dishonest ends are fundamental. They reject Christianity and support this instead. Whatever it takes; lie cheat steal. People think that the earth is going to perish unless something is done; which blinds their minds to the plan of God. If they can control water and private property, then they can control everything. That is their ultimate goal; and that is the only way that they think that they can win; that is the ultimate goal. It is all for the best because they believe that this is all for the best. Humanistic means to gain power. If it happens, those who use such subterfuge, lies and propaganda have the goal of reaping benefits for themselves. They claim altruism, but they want power. They swear oaths which they have no intention of keeping.

Lesson #0982

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

3/8/2017 Wednesday

Nation Israel has rejected the Lord and Jesus will go to the cross in the next few days. Pontius Pilate involved in the trial and he washed his hands of it; the scribes and pharisees are involved. So, in Matt. 23, Jesus rejects the nation. The scribes and pharisees are the great enemies of grace and Jesus Christ. Religion opposes God's plan.

The 7 woes of this chapter. Calamity of hypocrisy, which hypocrisy defines the scribes and pharisees. Pharisaical hypocrisy has come upon this nation.

The first woe begins in v. 13, that the pharisees have shut off the Kingdom of God to people.

The First Woe

1. They do everything that they can to keep those who are entering from proceeding.
2. Those entering are the ones attracted to the message of Jesus Christ.
3. The scribes and pharisees are influenced away from believing in Christ.
4. The scribes and pharisees carry such influence as they themselves do not believe in Christ. They don't enter into the Kingdom of Heaven. The people pick up on this.
5. For this reason, the scribes and pharisees block grace with their works-righteousness.
6. They assist Satan in his work to blind the minds of those who don't believe.

Religious zeal is the second woe, and they travel a long distance to make a single proselyte.

The Second Woe

1. When they find a single proselyte, they take them towards error.
2. This proselyte will be caused to fall under the sway of their false doctrine.
3. The proselyte becomes even more jealous in promoting pharisaical falsehood. They take it and run with it. They become double the sons of hell.

That is enough to damn the pharisees.

Vv. 16–22 is the third woe.

The Third Woe

1. They teach that some oaths may be kept. These are oaths based upon the Mosaic Law or a facsimile of it; while other oaths may be broken. They may be broken if they are carefully worded. A legalistic technicality of language.
2. Based on linguistic semantics, some oaths carry a greater obligation than others.
3. The rationale for this is, some things are of a greater value or a great authority than others; so they developed a scale of values to...

4. God was not looking for absurd, hair-splitting vows. He was looking for faith in Christ.
5. Yet the pharisees used these vows for their own purposes, to gain the advantage for themselves. No spiritual leadership; it is all phoney.

The fourth woe is Matt. 23:23–24

Matt. 23:23 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you tithe mint and dill and cumin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faithfulness. These you ought to have done, without neglecting the others.

A blind guide can take you nowhere; he stumbles and you stumble.

Matt. 23:24 You blind guides, straining out a gnat and swallowing a camel!

Apodecatoô is the word meaning to tithe, to levy taxes. Such tithes or taxes were authorized under the Mosaic Law, for specific purposes.

Tithing to the Priests

1. The taxes provided for the Levites, for the priests. They were not paid employees of the Temple; they received from the people. Num. 18:21, 24
2. The feasts and sacrifices required cash.
3. An additional tithe for the poor of the land. Deut. 14:28–29

This was all provided for by a taxation. The scribes and pharisees had distorted this into another legalistic, religious activity. Jesus makes a comparison between the essentials and the non-essentials of tithing. The Mosaic Law is God's law; it is the only law to come from God. All the statutes of the Law were to be kept. This cannot happen if they are ignored, misapplied, or added to.

They Looked at the Minor Details and Ignored the Important Things.

1. The scribes and pharisees and scrupulous about tithing. That is why the minutia of these spices are mentioned.
2. In Israel, the tithe was to be paid on all profits, even to the smallest garden herb.
3. In paying their tithes, the scribes and pharisees were hugely conscientious. They paid every one of them. They penciled in exactly what was necessary to the last penny. They took great pride in even the smallest amount.
4. In their minds, that proves that they are scrupulous in law-keeping and actions.
5. Our Lord says that they shirked the serious and most important requirements of the Law. This is so typical of those who hang their hat on keeping the Law.
6. What were the essentials? They failed to manifest justice, mercy and faithfulness, all demanded by the Law.
7. What could be more essential in Law than justice and mercy and faithfulness. "You guys keep the smallest, most unimportant laws, but you ignore the real stuff."

What They Actually Did

1. They could do the spice thing, but not justice.
2. They showed no mercy when imposing all of their laws.
3. So there was no grace in their actions toward others. Nothing but hard legalism.
4. They were unfaithful to their spiritual provisions in Israel.

They enforced the most minor things for the Sabbath; but did not really teach the grace of God. They distort God's grace or ignore it.

Christians produce all kinds of works, in order to prove that they are saved. It is insidious. If you must prove your salvation by what you do, then you are not considered saved unless you produce something. This destroys the concept of eternal security.

The spiritual life consists of work, work, work, in their thinking. How many times has it been said that Berachah Church spends too much time listening to doctrine. Those who are producing are also taking in doctrine. Grace is distorted for works. The skewed idea of grace giving, which is called tithing. Some people have called for the tax to be a tenth in the US. That would solve a lot of tax problems. But, that is not grace giving. It is about motivation; it is about thinking. It is about knowing the grace of God and responding to it. If you do not have a grace motivation, you should not be giving. Giving is a critical doctrine; and it is neglected, distorted or ignored.

Grace, when it is not foundational, apostasy and further doctrinal distortions set in. Once down the road of grace orientation, all sorts of apostasies appear. Some denominations are so far from Christianity, to a point of not even being Christian.

The pharisees were unfaithful to the mandates of the Mosaic Law. Keep the little laws and disregard the big picture. Ignore justice, mercy and faithfulness.

In some churches, you are a part of the church if you observe their rituals. We do not need that ritual today. The only ritual that we do in the Church Age is communion; it is what we look back. The ritual by itself means nothing; it needs to be tied to thinking, to the doctrine in your soul.

The scribes and pharisees strained out gnat. They majored in the minors. They emphasized tithing. They gave a distorted picture of true tithing; and they emphasized the minutia of it.

They ignore that which is big and central to the Law, and focused on the minor stuff. They swallowed them whole and then they were gone. They made small things of what is important; and assigned great importance to the most minor of things. They were blind guides because they were distorting and confusing the Law.

The blocked the Kingdom of God to others. They held to the minutia of the Law because it is meaningless; they distort everything. Religion distorts everything.

Matt. 23:23–24 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you tithe mint and dill and cumin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faithfulness. These you ought to have done, without neglecting the others. You blind guides, straining out a gnat and swallowing a camel!"

The scribes and pharisees were the phoniest people ever. Those at a party who talk only about themselves, what they have or where they have been. The scribes and pharisees took the prize for superficiality.

Bobby has washed a lot of dishes.

Blindness is a way of life with the legalist. They are particularly blind to their own faults. Legalists see everyone else's faults. The first function of the sin nature is arrogance. Satan fell because of his own arrogance in heaven. Self-centered. The woman succumbed to temptation because she too had become arrogant. She wanted to be able to see what God saw.

Adam followed suit. He knew better; he was not deceived. After doing it, he then blamed his wife for what he did.

Matt. 23:25 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you clean the outside of the cup and the plate, but inside they are full of greed and self-indulgence."

One this 5th Woe

1. The quickest way to get into arrogance in a serious way is to deny one's faults and shirking responsibility for your own actions. This is a common malady. Some more and some less. Nearly every husband and wife knows the faults of their spouse; do they know their own?
2. Difficulties and responsibilities become someone else's fault. People blame you but do not admit their part in it.
3. Human nature is to project fault away from themselves. My being fired is the fault of the boss; he's no good. My failures are the response of society or government is not taking care of me.
4. Failures and troubles are always the fault of someone else. They are liable; and not me.

An Arrogant Person and His Flaws

1. When an arrogant person gets into that kind of denial, he projects upon others his own flaws.
2. He assigns his flaws to someone else. They do this so they do not have to examine their own flaws. All you can do is blame someone else.
3. Neither does the one who blames have to take the responsibility for any bad decision.
4. They don't take responsibility for bad decisions but they will take it for the good ones.

5. The projection allows them to sidestep all personal responsibility and all culpability. That is a rampant malady in society today. It is an epidemic.
6. An arrogant person can see himself as he wants to see himself. So he entertains his own illusions.
7. He has a facade of correctness and self-righteousness. They walk around holier than you; they see themselves as a bright light in a dark world. Easy to think about others; but you are to evaluate your own flaws. You do not want to be the one with a facade of righteousness.
8. Everyone else falls short of those muddled personal virtues of the illusions that you have about yourself. No one can equal you.
9. In that case, and this is the payoff; there can be no balanced evaluation in relation to others. To the arrogant, everyone else is an idiot. Spiritual advance and rebound means that you are evaluating your own flaws and your own life; and in life, you kick these flaws out of you.
10. This is a common manifestation in Christians who have a legalistic trend of the sin nature.

There is no real loyalty for such arrogant people. They can see only the flaws of others.

Matt. 23:26 You blind Pharisee! First clean the inside of the cup and the plate, that the outside also may be clean.

The dishwashing woe.

Matt. 23:25–26 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you clean the outside of the cup and the plate, but inside they are full of greed and self-indulgence. You blind Pharisee! First clean the inside of the cup and the plate, that the outside also may be clean.

The Jewish nation is rejecting the Lord and they are being led by the scribes and pharisees.

The Scribes and Pharisees Deserve this Woe

1. They emphasize the externals of religion, rather than the internals of the spiritual life. Christianity is a relationship with God and it builds as you advance in the spiritual life. The scribes and pharisees only look at the externals.
2. Their words and actions are only for show; there was nothing underneath.
3. They demonstrated that they were righteous in all their ways in all their superficial actions. They were anything but.
4. They scrupulously observed the rituals of Judaism.

5.

They were totally committed to the great rituals of the Law without any reality behind it. They use these forms for their own purposes.

Inside, they were filled with robbery and greed and self-indulgence. They were unaware of their own faults but certainly aware of the faults of others. They ran the show according to their own preferences.

Human behavior is not to admit to one's failures and faults. Finding fault with someone else but not admitting your own faults. Arrogance is unable to properly evaluate oneself. They deceive yourself; you justify yourself; and you elevate yourself in your own eyes. This person never has to critically examine himself. They do not evaluate themselves.

Bobby saw an horrendous article today about a man in Kentucky and he scalped her, taking part of her hair off, and then had her pit bull attack her; and he said, "It was not my fault." This is not unusual for a person to think this way. That is the manifestation of arrogance in the souls of people. They sidestep all personal responsibility and all culpability. The arrogant denier can always see himself in a good light. The legalist, like the pharisees and like the scribes, builds a facade of outward morality, interspersed with self-righteousness. Arrogance always finds others inferior. It is a common fault with Christians who have a legalistic trend of the sin nature.

We have all failed; no question about that and we know it. We all have a sin nature; and we all know to use 1John 1:9. We have character flaws; but arrogance has a way of suppressing our arrogance from ourselves.

The scribes and pharisees are the epitome of arrogance. We are now in a complete state of deceiving oneself. But you cannot see them. For the believer in Jesus Christ. There is no excuse for that self-deception. To have that self-deception means that you are not advancing. You are lying to yourself about yourself. This is even more destructive than lying to others. How can you recognize what you are truly like in the eyes of others? Maybe you should listen to the criticism of others. You cannot do that if you lack any standards of doctrine.

Spouses, close friends, relatives, they know your flaws, because they know you most intimately. Unless you are arrogant, you can evaluate and correct, utilizing the spiritual life to do so. When you are advancing, you are evaluating.

Some people cannot verbally evaluate themselves, so they use 4-letter words to describe others. These are often the most arrogant people. This is how they denigrate others; call them as many names as possible. God makes war against the arrogant and He gives grace to the humble believer.

If you cannot evaluate yourself, how can you name your own sins? You have not the ability to evaluate yourself.

Bobby loves the dishwashing illustration here. In college, he had a roommate and a kitchen; so his roommate did the cooking and he cleaned the dishes.

Everyone in the military got some kind of KP duty. His old nemesis pots and pans. Massive amount of food was made in these massive pots and pans. Black, crusty, burned. It was not an easy job. The mess sergeant would then inspect and if you did not pass, you started over again, doing them all. No one passed the first inspection.

The inner surface of the pots and pans is much more important than the outer surface. Food poisoning could result if a pot or pan was not thoroughly cleaned. These legalists only cleaned the cups and plates on the outside, but it is the inside where the filth was.

The pharisees and scribes were filthy on the inside; they were spiritually poisoned and they were all spiritually sick; and their legalism affected everyone around them. Those dishwashing pharisees had it backwards. They emphasized the clean exterior; but they ignored the interior. The cups and dishes looked great on the shelf, but they still had all kinds of food in them.

The Scribes and Pharisees and Their Externals

1. The scribes and pharisees emphasized the externals, their rituals and facades.
2. Therefore, they ignored the internal condition of the individual. They were responsible for the nation of Israel. They ignored that for the externals.
3. They were ignorant in what was necessary for a person to be clean. It was not self-righteousness; it is imputed righteousness. We can be very attractive on the outside; but inside, it is a much different thing.
4. Their outward self-righteousness did nothing to clean the rot on the inside.
5. It made no difference what the self righteous person thinks or how he is motivated. They did not care.
6. Only the externals of what was done was important to them. You are what you think. "I am what I think I am." If you think with doctrine, the outward appearance may reflect that character and the doctrine in the soul. It may be good and it may be evil. What is underneath will, sooner or later, come out. You are what you think.

This ties into, can you evaluate yourself? Can you apply doctrine? What is the motive in your life? Does the doctrine in your soul work out? That is the Christian way of life; what you think as opposed to what you do. That is how legalists depart from the Christian life.

A believer can be superficial; who lacks doctrine. So many churches want you to go out there and do good things for the Lord. A fake Christian life. No matter if the exterior facade is there; if your thinking is corrupt, your external actions are then corrupt.

The pharisees were filled with malice and lust and self-righteousness. Outside, they seemed fine; but inside, it was a whole different thing.

The Hypocrisy of the Scribes and Pharisees

1. That was their hypocrisy.
2. Inner sins makes outward religiosity a sham.
3. The religious avoid the obvious outward sins.
4. That is the facade of legalism; of hypocrisy.

Matt. 23:25–26 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you clean the outside of the cup and the plate, but inside they are full of greed and self-indulgence. You blind Pharisee! First clean the inside of the cup and the plate, that the outside also may be clean.

Full of robbery, pillaging, extortion. Ακροσια which means lack of self control; intemperance.

They were not above the greed of self-indulgence. No different from the antinomian. They simply hide it better. But they would lie to themselves concerning their own faults and sins, while projecting these faults and sins on others.

Inner and Outer Life

1. Cleaning the inside speaks of the permanent inner cleansing of regeneration and justification. Cleaning the inside of the pots and pans is analogous to faith alone in Christ alone.
2. Rather than the imposition of self-righteousness of one sinner upon another sinner. The justification is the imputation of one over another. Underneath, they were as evil as it goes.
3. Ongoing temporal cleansing occurs in the believer. This is in the life of the believer; the grace rebound technique. The Holy Spirit is gained or regained. The power for living the Christian life resumes and that is a temporal cleansing. Every time you wash them, it is rebound. It is a never-ending cycle.
4. So Christianity, distinguished from religion, always emphasizes the inner life. What is going on inside of you.
5. The secret to the outer life is the inner life. If there is no virtue in the soul, then there is no virtue.
6. The outer life is clean only when the inner life is clean.
7. Inner life of thought and motivation is necessary.

A house is a good illustration. You make the exterior and interior look superficially good. The shower pan leaks; it is old; the roof leaks; the real renovation is not paint, it is not drywall, it is not the external. The real house is the inner workers, those things which get inspected and need to be right. This gives us an understanding of the 5th woe and prepares us for the 6th woe. The hypocrisy of the scribes and pharisees.

If you can't get this 6th one, you can't get any of it.

Daylight Savings Time

Eucharist March 12, 2017: Seven statements with the verb I am, which is the very name of God, the God Who Reveals Himself. Ex. 3:13a “I am Who I am.”

Jesus Christ made the world. “Thus you will say, Moses, to the sons of Israel, *I am has sent me.” I am was His name forever.

Jesus, referring to Himself as the I am, revealed that He is the God and Messiah of Israel. This connection is seen in John 8:58 “Before Abraham was born, I am.” Jesus is claiming eternal existence. People understood what He said and they took up stones to stone Him.

John 6:35 is His first I am: “I am the Bread of Life.” The people there missed the point of His provision of the bread, so He explains it to them.

Moses did not provide bread to the people in the desert; the Lord did. The bread of life was not for physical nourishment; the bread’s appearance was designed to present Christ as the great I am. Jesus originated in heaven and is sent by God; He gives life and sustenance to the world.

2. “I am the Light of the world; he who follows Me will not walk in darkness, but will stand in the light of life.”

The cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night. This light of the world is an offer to guide mankind, just as He guided Israel in the desert. He leads us from spiritual death to the light of salvation.

3–4. John 10:7 “Truly, I say to you, I am the Door.” “I am the Great Shepherd; I lay down My life for the sheep.” The I am is the true shepherd. Shepherds guided their flocks into stone enclosures had not gates or doors; the shepherd lay in the door, the only way that someone could go into that pen would be over or through that shepherd. Lying in the door pictured Him as the only door; Jesus’ life is committed to carrying forth or keeping watch over His sheep. This is His care and constant devotion; in marked contrast to the religious leaders, the hireling shepherds, who really cared nothing for the sheep. The Good Shepherd would lay down His life for the sheep. The Good Shepherd would make his life possible by sacrificing his own life. His mission was to lead His sheep out of the fold of false religious dogma and into His pen.

5. “I am the resurrection and the life; he who believes in Me, though he die, yet shall he live.” Christ is life, but that must be appropriated by faith. This was said after Lazarus had died and He entered into Jerusalem one last time, and He raised Lazarus who had been dead for 4 days. Standing before his tomb, the Lord shouted to Lazarus, “Here, outside.” Christ gave him life and the freedom to enjoy it.

The secret to resurrection life is a relationship to Christ alone; He is the Lord of all life. Even though the believer dies, he will live, as the Lord has conquered death.

6. John 14:6 "I am the way, the truth and the life; no man comes to the Father but through Me." How could there be anyone else, if He makes this statement? Jesus is the greatest liar of all time or He is the truth and the life.

7. "I am the vine...apart from Me, you can do nothing." Roots, stems, branches, grapes are all from the vine. Together, they constitute the whole, ready to produce. The Holy Spirit unites us with that vine, making the production of spiritual fruit from these branches possible. The root is of no use without the stem; and the stem is of no use apart from the fruit; and there is no life apart from the Holy Spirit.

We are attached to the Great I am.

The Lord, the Great I am, will return and set up His kingdom. The greatest name in all eternity. But people reject that name; they think of God as nothing, as nonexistent. They view the Lord as just another man, in all of His ministry. All that we can understand about God and the cross; all of this happened for us. This is one of the most important discourses given by the Lord, as it exposes religion for what it is. We must not forget the great I am, the One Who will save us.

We will address and go through the woes rapidly. Keep in mind, eternal God is speaking these words.

Lesson #0985

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

3/12/2017 2Sunday

Wed/Thus/Sunday will be Rick Hughes.

Every religion outside of Biblical Christianity is seeking God through their own works. You would think that pronouncing one woe would be enough. Jesus wants to make sure.

The scribes and pharisees do everything that they can to cut off people from the Kingdom of God. They try to tamp down on those who are positive toward the message of Jesus Christ. Jews wanting to express faith alone in Christ alone are discouraged, blinded, turned away from the Lord. What could be worse than doing this?

Bobby reviews all of the woes:

Matt. 23:13 "But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you shut the kingdom of heaven in people's faces. For you neither enter yourselves nor allow those who would enter to go in.

Matt. 23:15 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you travel across sea and land to make a single proselyte, and when he becomes a proselyte, you make him twice as much a child of hell as yourselves.

Matt. 23:16 "Woe to you, blind guides, who say, 'If anyone swears by the temple, it is nothing, but if anyone swears by the gold of the temple, he is bound by his oath.'

Matt. 23:17 You blind fools! For which is greater, the gold or the temple that has made the gold sacred?

Matt. 23:18–19 And you say, 'If anyone swears by the altar, it is nothing, but if anyone swears by the gift that is on the altar, he is bound by his oath.' You blind men! For which is greater, the gift or the altar that makes the gift sacred?

Matt. 23:20–22 So whoever swears by the altar swears by it and by everything on it. And whoever swears by the temple swears by it and by him who dwells in it. And whoever swears by heaven swears by the throne of God and by him who sits upon it.

Matt. 23:23–24 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you tithe mint and dill and cumin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faithfulness. These you ought to have done, without neglecting the others. You blind guides, straining out a gnat and swallowing a camel!

The scribes and pharisees worry about the most minute details, and ignore the great overarching principles of doctrine.

Matt. 23:25–26 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you clean the outside of the cup and the plate, but inside they are full of greed and self-indulgence. You blind Pharisee! First clean the inside of the cup and the plate, that the outside also may be clean.

Then a condemnation of a condemnation of the phoniness of the scribes and pharisees. The scribes and pharisees were very big on the externals of law-keeping and outward morality; and they liked elaborate rituals; but they were filled with hatred, envy and pride, approbation lust, gossip and slander was what they did. That is their hypocrisy.

The 6th woe:

Matt. 23:27 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like whitewashed tombs, which outwardly appear beautiful, but within are full of dead people's bones and all uncleanness.

This reminds Bobby of a military cemetery. In Normandy, there are 10,000 graves, beautiful rows of white marble crosses, each cross standing for the one noble person below it. This is a beautiful grave yard, but every grave is filled with dead men's bones.

Matt. 23:28 So you also outwardly appear righteous to others, but within you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.

But, what is on the inside.

Those of you who are single, if you marry after a few weeks, you do not know that person. You need to know what is beneath that beautiful exterior.

These verses describe hypocrisy and this is a bit of a summation of the hypocrisy already spoken of.

The Grave Metaphor

1. Dead men's bones is a metaphor for inner sin, a secular thought-pattern and motivation. A dead spiritual life.
2. Whitewash was the thin veneer covering what was rotting inside; sooner or later, the whitewash peeled off.
3. Pharisaism was a system of external observances which made men appear to be outwardly righteous.
4. This covered over the true nature of what is beneath.

There was a criminal aspect to what the scribes and pharisees have done.

Matt. 23:29–30 "Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you build the tombs of the prophets and decorate the monuments of the righteous, saying, 'If we had lived in the days of our fathers, we would not have taken part with them in shedding the blood of the prophets.'

They claim, had they lived in an earlier generation, they would not have been a part of killing the prophets.

Matt. 23:31 Thus you witness against yourselves that you are sons of those who murdered the prophets.

In this way, you testify against yourselves.

Matt. 23:32 Fill up, then, the measure of [the guilt] your fathers.

This is a criminal indictment based upon the past of Israel. This was a case of the sons continuing the criminal business of their fathers; Murder Inc. They were all a part of the same kind of criminal actions.

The pharisees spend time building tombs (and memorials?) to the martyred righteous; and yet, they are no different from those who murdered these martyrs. These prophets spoke out against the idolatry and the cultic nature of Judaism; and this is the system of religion believed in by the scribes and pharisees.

The Jews killed the prophets and continued to chase after their false gods. Jeremiah, one of the greatest prophets of Israel, was stoned to death, by the Israelites in Egypt. Isaiah faced tremendous opposition and they faintly killed him as well.

The pharisees, knowing all of these, revered the prophets and disavowed the actions of the people of Israel. They claim that they would be different from their forefathers.

It is the message that made the prophets of Israel great. The message of the prophets was the same message proclaimed by the Lord Jesus Christ throughout His entire ministry. The scribes and pharisees were rejecting constantly the message of the Lord; the scribes and pharisees were perjerer themselves. Great hypocrisy.

The Hypocrisy of the Scribes and Pharisees

1. The pharisees were of the same ilk as their forefathers.
2. What was murder of the prophets in Israel's history was ongoing with the scribes and pharisees at that time. They had not changed.
3. The religious leaders rejected the Greatest Prophet send by God; they totally rejected Him.
4. The message of the Lord mirrored the martyred prophets. "Had we been there, we would not have persecuted the prophets;" but they would have.
5. The Jews did not believe the message of Jesus any more than their forefathers rejected the message of the prophets.
6. The rejecting Jews of old were just as negative in the time of Jesus.
7. They were guilty of the same sins as their progenitors. They denied any guilt at all; but their motivation, attitudes and actions were the same.

The indictment is given by the Lord.

However, the current scribes and pharisees were plotting the death and crucifixion of the Lord at the same time. Murder was their m.o. They will fulfill the pattern of their religious forefathers.

They would seek out and execute their own Messiah. Thus they would complete the rejection of the prophets, and their evil forefathers had begun centuries earlier. The exact same results; the destruction of the nation.

Isaiah and Jeremiah warned Israel and Judah of imminent destruction; first by the and then by the Chaldeans under Nebuchadnezzar. Jesus warned them of the same sort of judgment which was before them.

Rejection of Christ by a client nation results in destruction of one form or another. Military, economic, social destruction. This same destruction will come upon the United States of America. We in the congregation stand between this nation and its destiny.

We have a great Constitution, a great military, and great people; but if our client nation fails, so goes the nation. We face great degeneracy in this nation today. Look around you and take in Bible doctrine.

These are the degenerate, vicious, evil leaders of Israel at this time; and Jesus is telling them to wake up. Complete condemnation is what should be expected:

Matt. 23:33 You serpents, you brood of vipers, how are you to escape being sentenced to hell?

Jesus looks them in the eyes and calls them serpents and a brood of vipers. How can you escape being sentenced to hell?

The place called Gehenna, which is where the fire was constantly burning. This is the illustration of hell. No doubt, this is more than separation from God; a metaphor for eternal punishment from God.

Jesus focused on the outcome of all of these woes. There was nothing light and frivolous about this pronouncement. Does this sound like ultimate, universal salvation of all people? Some pastors from Berachah Church teach this universal salvation; and it is wrong. Such theology always denigrates the righteousness and justice of God.

Hell is for those who reject the Great I am. It bothers our sensitivities. The very fact of an eternal Lake of Fire is horrendous; and Bobby must speak of it, because here it is. We do not want our worst enemy to end up here.

Why Does Jesus Use the Image of Venomous Snakes?

1. He places them in the same category as their forefathers, who killed the prophets.
2. This invokes the image of the first evil serpent; none other than Satan himself. They are a part of Satan's kingdom.

It is Satan in the form of a serpent who voiced this message of deceit in the garden; and he was beautiful. That is exactly the illustration. They were attractive on the outside. Snakes are very attractive. That external appearance belies the evil underneath. Beautiful exterior; righteous facades, but deceitful all the way to hell. Jesus associated the pharisees with snakes, like a cobra with his hood spread, and ready to strike.

So Jesus pronounces the same sentence upon the scribes and pharisees as He does upon Satan and his angels. We may not think of these holy people in robes as evil; but the Lord pulls no punches here. He calls them as He accurately sees them.

Lesson #none

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

3/16/2017 Thursday

Abel to the blood of Zechariah the son of Barachiah, whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar.

This sounds like it is addressed to the pharisees and religious types. This is quite devastating.

Matt. 23:34 Therefore I send you prophets and wise men and scribes, some of whom you will kill and crucify, and some you will flog in your synagogues and persecute from town to town,

He starts out by saying, because of this.

ΑΠΩΣΤΕΛΛΩ

1. This is a futuristic present. This is happening in future time that is being spoken of in the present. It is a prophecy of what will come after the pharisees crucify Him.
2. There will be sent out to them a group of 3 types of men: prophets, wise men and scribes.
3. These men will stand face to face with the people. They will deliver the Lord's message to them. The people will continue to reject that message; and this is the message which He has been teaching all of this time. The Lord is the Messiah, the Savior.
4. The prophets, wise men and scribes do not refer to the great men of the Old Testament.
5. He now refers to new prophets; prophets to the early church; men like Peter and the other Apostles.
6. Wise men like James, the head of the Jerusalem church. He will be murdered by these same scribes and pharisees.
7. Scribes would be the great theologians of the early church, like Paul.
8. Most of the Apostles fall into this category and they will be persecuted and martyred, as well as others. Many of them will be killed in various places, in various ways. Only one of them will survive to old age. Those we know of died as martyrs in terrible ways; and some are based upon the legends of the early church. Regardless, there were a lot of martyrs.
9. Even though the pharisees have inherited the rejection and murderous intent of the forefathers. It is exemplified by their plotting to kill the Lord. There is no difference between their forefathers and their intent to kill the prophets; and the people in that day who wanted to kill the believers and Apostles. This martyrdom is a prophecy.
10. They would continue to kill the prophets, scribes and wise men until Jerusalem is no more. Then, these men will disappear from the pages of history, never to return.
11. The new prophets, the Apostles, would be crucified. Peter was crucified and he said he should be crucified upside down, not deserving to die on the cross like the Lord. Many believers were murdered in Jerusalem and other cities.

This was quite a mass murder, hatred persecution.

The righteous blood refers to believers. Then Jesus gives some examples of those who they know were killed in the Old Testament. The pharisees would agree that these are martyrs; but they would not agree to their being the perpetrators. "The guilt falls upon you," Jesus tells them. So with what does the Lord charge them? Their lack of response to the truth of Jesus Christ and their desperate motives toward them.

Jesus wanted them to be a part of the Kingdom of Heaven; but they refused.

Matt. 23:35 so that on you may come all the righteous blood shed on earth, from the blood of righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah the son of Barachiah, whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar.

Abel is the first person who is martyred. The last martyr of the Old Testament 2Chron. 24:20–22.

A Name Problem

1. Zechariah is called the son of someone else in the Old Testament.
2. But the Lord calls him son of Barachiah.
3. Son of is not necessarily a reference to a next generation.
4. It does not have to be the next generation of father to son.
- 5.
6. The other alternative is, Jesus could be referring to Zechariah who was the son of Barachiah according to Zechariah 1:1 (but this solution is far-fetched).
7. The 2Chronicles reference is most likely, as that covers all martyrs from beginning to end.

The people are following their viper leaders. Jesus has called these men murderers, sons of their forefathers. This was devastating. This nails down the coming judgement on the scribes and pharisees.

There would be a follow-on to the Judaism of that era; but the scribes and pharisees died in Jerusalem when it fell.

Law of Culpability

1. Culpability is liability for divine judgment or discipline from the supreme court of heaven; which is about what will fall. Rome was a client nation after the Jews fell; and Christianity spread with Rome. It was conducive to the spread of Christianity.
2. Culpability is always based upon volition.
3. We are talking culpability includes the name of each one of...
4. A corporate affect.
5. Every person is responsible for his own sins. He is not responsible for the sins of his parents. Believers in Jesus Christ can always break free from the problems of their forefathers. We can remove ourselves from some of the worst abuses in the past.

6. But it says that they are guilty of the sins of their fathers.
7. This does not mean that the generation of Jesus Christ did not sin but were being condemned for their father's sins. Why is the guilt blood on their hands?
8. This is because they were just as guilty of the same sins.
9. Culpability means that they have chosen to be guilty of the same murderous sins of their fathers. It is not guilt by association. So often we are associated with the guilt of our forefathers. Many people today are associate...
10. Every person is culpable for his own sins. We are culpable for their sins only if we continue with the same sins.
11. No one is culpable for the sins of parents unless they repeat the sins of their parents from their own volition; or follow the volition of others in their own generation. Deut. 24:16 "Fathers shall not be put to death because of their children, nor shall children be put to death because of their fathers. Each one shall be put to death for his own sin." The condemnation holds because the scribes and pharisees continued the sins of their fathers in the past.

Historians come down very hard on colonial England, but the divine perspective is very different. No one in England is interested in Christianity; and it is no longer England. What happens to them is destruction. Pray that the US does not go that way.

Jesus is using their forefathers as an example; and the scribes and pharisees are committing those same sins. Furthermore, there will be the persecution of early believers. God will bring in the fifth cycle of discipline. Jesus does not bring in this judgment lightly.

Matt. 23:36 Truly, I say to you, all these things will come upon this generation.

Matt. 23:37 "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the city that kills the prophets and stones those who are sent to it! How often would I have gathered your children together as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, and you were not willing!"

The children are the children of Israel; and they are unwilling to be gathered.

Matt. 23:38 See, your house is left to you desolate.

Their house will be left desolate.

Matt. 23:39 For I tell you, you will not see Me again, until you say, 'Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.'"

Another prophetic statement. They hate Him; they will kill Him; and He will be resurrected on the same period of time. Jesus eventually returns to heaven; the King will return for the Millennial kingdom. The chra recjts them.

Once we get past this day of confrontation, and they we will have a great sermon of eschatology, the Olivet discourse. An incredible prophecy.

7 woes pronounced by the Lord Jesus Christ on the scribes and pharisees. This would be enough to stop a train in its tracks; but they just hated the Lord more and they wanted to harm Him even more.

Matt. 23:35 so that on you may come all the righteous blood shed on earth, from the blood of righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah the son of Barachiah, whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar.

These men are vipers, as they want to destroy their followers; they are evil, venomous people. Jesus reveals their innermost thoughts in a very unusual way. He compares them to their forefathers who killed the prophets in the Old Testament, going to back Abel all the way to Zechariah. This is not the prophet, but the man in 2Chron. 24:20. The murderous intent of their forefathers is revealed in their anger toward Jesus Christ, Whom they will murder.

Even after all of this, the Lord does not stop in His condemnation. The Lord would send new prophets, wise men and scribes

Matt. 23:34 Therefore I send you prophets and wise men and scribes, some of whom you will kill and crucify, and some you will flog in your synagogues and persecute from town to town,

This is Old Testament language but which is applied to New Testament men of God.

Matt. 23:36 Truly, I say to you, all these things will come upon this generation.

A brand new judgment, which expands the previous judgment. This is a lament.

Matt. 23:37 "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the city that kills the prophets and stones those who are sent to it! How often would I have gathered your children together as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, and you were not willing!

Jesus desires to gather their children as a hen gathers her brood. This is a way of describing Himself as God.

Matt. 23:38 See, your house is left to you desolate.

You will not see Me again, He warns them. These verses cover a great deal of territory.

Matt. 23:39 For I tell you, you will not see Me again, until you say, 'Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.'"

Matt. 23:37 "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the city that kills the prophets and stones those who are sent to it! How often would I have gathered your children together as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, and you were not willing!

Stoning is capital punishment. This is quite an interesting operation. It was pelting criminals to death with rocks. 1Sam. 30:6 and other places. This is not a pleasant way to die; bones were broken; heads were crushed. It was not easy to watch. There was no immediate death. This generally took place outside the city. This is a fascinating look of what the Mosaic Law prescribed for certain criminals. The condemned person was stripped naked and then struck with stones. Ezek. 40 describes this. The first stones were used by the witnesses against criminal. The people who claim that they committed this crime had to stone them first.

Some Bibles have pictures; and sometimes there are pictures of the martyr Stephen. Stoning is pictured in one way, but it did not really happen that way. Stoning was much more up close and personal. To do damage to a person, you would be face to face with that person. This was quite brutal. Watching the pain and the time frame involved; it is difficult to contemplate. Men, just like us, were the ones who executed the criminals.

There was a reason for such a graphic method of execution. It served not only to reflect on the heinousness of the murderer or of the crime; but it set up a graphic example of the end of a person who committed such a crime. This terrible visual image was a deterrent to others. Some criminals will commit their crimes regardless. Everyone in the area saw this close up.

The ax man in the Middle Ages. That could be quite messy if the ax man missed. The guillotine was quite humane and fast; but very public.

The Biblical Doctrine of Capital Punishment

1. Capital punishment is a legitimate function of jurisprudence for capital crimes, beginning with murder.
2. Precedence for capital punishment is found in Gen. 9:6
3. Under the Mosaic Law, given by God to Israel; capital punishment is mandated for murder, violence against parents, kidnaping, adultery (which was rescinded by the Lord Jesus Christ for the adulterous woman), rape, bestiality (a sexual perversion), for incest, for homosexuality. We do not live under the Mosaic Law today. This was for Israel in Old Testament times.
4. Capital punishment is a deterrent and crime sometimes cannot be controlled without it. People see it as a horrible thing. But there must be consequences commensurate with the crime. God does not make laws which are wrong. It is sanctioned for the human race.
5. What can we take from the Mosaic Law? It represents divine establishment principles. One of them is the legitimacy of capital punishment
6. Maximum use of jurisprudence. There must be a trial and an objective judge.
7. When evidence clearly points to a crime, proven to be committed, then there must be punishment; that is divine establishment. The Mosaic Law defines what crimes fit the criteria for capital punishment. Our laws should also define the use of capital punishment
8. Since God sanctions capital punishment, crime cannot be controlled apart from the use of capital punishment. The Romans used crucifixion.

9. Capital punishment started in the first dispensation of Gentiles. It applied in the Old Testament dispensation of Israel and continued to be applied in the Church Age.
10. Capital punishment will take place in the Millennium. People will procreate, and sin natures will exist, and some will commit crimes. Every society has had capital punishment; everyone.
11. The laws of divine establishment keep anyone from seeking personal revenge. That is not capital punishment. Does not matter what crimes have been committed against you and your family.
12. So the principle of capital punishment is a part of the function of government under the laws of divine establishment.
13. Documentation:
 - a. capital punishment has been authorized from the first murder to the present day. Gen. 9:5–6 And for your lifeblood I will require a reckoning: from every beast I will require it and from man. From his fellow man I will require a reckoning for the life of man. "Whoever sheds the blood of man, by man shall his blood be shed, for God made man in his own image." We are made in the image of God.
 - b. The judicial operandi in order to establish guilt; and then the administration of capital punishment.
 - c. Although we have sin natures, although we are fallen men, we are still in the image of God. 1Cor. 11:7 James 3:9 This is the key to cp.
 - d. In the context of Gen.9:5, this extends to animal who kill humans.
 - e. Man has the right to slaughter certain animals; but this does not give man the right to slaughter people. Animals are not made in the image of God. The animals are for their benefit.
 - f. Ex. 20:18 a simple prohibition: you will not murder.
 - g. Num. 35:30 describes the jurisprudence involve with dealing with capital crimes. Murderer must be put to death based upon the testimony of witnesses, at least two. Capital punishment is not to be used frivolously.
 - h. Jesus rebuked Peter for cutting off a soldier's ear. "Put your sword back into your scabbard, those who take up the sword will die by the sword."
 - i. Criminal who kill must die by the same violence. Living by violence means dying by violence. An eye for an eye does not mean vengeance by man.
 - j. This refers to the unlawful use of violence by criminals, terrorists, mercenaries, and religious fanatics. No one gets away with anything under the justice of God.
 - k. Those who draw the sword will die by the sword; by capital punishment or the ultimate result of God's law. If you mock God, God will not be mocked.
 - l. 3 exceptions to the killing of others, which is not murder. Law enforcement, in the function of the military, and the individual's right to defend himself, home and family.
 - m. Rom. 13:3–4 For rulers are not a terror to good conduct, but to bad. Would you have no fear of the one who is in authority? Then do what is good, and you will receive his approval, for he is God's servant for your good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword in vain. For he is the servant of God, an avenger who carries out God's wrath on the wrongdoer. The executioner acts as a servant of God.

n. Lev. 24:17 If a man take the life any another,... This is not revenge killing.

The Image of God

1. Being created in the image of God means that man has something of the divine constitution as distinguished from the rest of creation. There is something different about the human race.
2. Image is the soul and spiritual nature of man. We do not have the material aspect of God.
3. This immaterial part is composed of the intellect, will, emotion, which combined makes man a responsible, self-conscious, self-determining being. This is why we are in the image of God.
4. Image means that man has self-consciousness. "I am, I exist; I know that I exist." This is patterned after God, Who said, "I am that I am."
5. It also means that man has moral reasoning power; the ability to process information and to draw conclusions from...
6. And we also have self-determination or volition to make personal decisions. Bobby once got into an argument with a professor. We talked about amo deie. "How do you know that my cat doesn't have a soul?"
7. Man as a free being is set over nature. We know that from the moment of creation. He is designed to have fellowship with God. That fellowship was broken at the Fall. We are designed for that. We were created to resolve the Angelic Conflict.
8. This is the basis for homicide being a capital offense punishable by death, because we are in the image of God. The same cannot be said for the highest level animal.

Romans 13:3-4

1. Do what is good, means to remain inside the Law. Pay your taxes and obey the law.
2. Avoid civil disobedience and unlawful violence. If you do, you are protected by the laws of divine establishment and the plan of God for your life.
3. A minister of God to you for good protects your freedom, privacy, property and your life.
4. Do what is evil refers to civil disobedience and using violence to solve problems and murder.
5. The evil doers includes criminals, terrorists, gangsters, warlords, mercenaries, paramilitary types, and religious fanatics.
6. Bearing the sword is the sign of capital punishment.

When a parent disciplines a child, it is unpleasant for the parent and child. The child does not believe that it is for their own good. The parent who loves the child recognizes that there is a necessity for it. As the generations progress, there is less and less response to authority (in the United States). Discipline looks out for the best interests of the child. This precludes even greater mistakes later in life. Discipline is always done in love; never in anger, retaliation or .

The crucifixion generation, the 1st advent generation, they are called the sons of hell in at least two places. Through all of this, the Lord still loves His people and He always wants the best for them. He has given them every opportunity to accept Him.

Matt. 23:36 Truly, I say to you, all these things will come upon this generation.

The judgment that the Lord calls for is not the final judgment on His people. Some would ask, how could a loving God do this, regarding to the holocaust. The environment of Nazi Germany was all persecution; and this provided for the thriving of His people. There will be a future generation. They will recognize their divine Parent, their King.

The Lord had emotion; and this is a moment of emotion for the Lord. He acknowledges and He laments the coming of great discipline and there is a reason for the discipline.

Matt. 23:34 Therefore I send you prophets and wise men and scribes, some of whom you will kill and crucify, and some you will flog in your synagogues and persecute from town to town,

Matt. 23:35 so that on you may come all the righteous blood shed on earth, from the blood of righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah the son of Barachiah, whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar.

Matt. 23:37 "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the city that kills the prophets and stones those who are sent to it! How often would I have gathered your children together as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, and you were not willing!"

This city had repeatedly rejected God and His messengers. This ran all the way from Abel to Zechariah. Abel is interesting, because he is not specifically a Jew.

Stoning was the capital punishment of the day. Other types of punishment in different eras and different places. The people of Jerusalem stoned to death God's messengers and they would approve of the killing of the Lord.

Capital punishment today in the United States is a matter of great controversy today. Some would like to see it completely abolished. It is a necessary and legitimate act in a national entity.

Lev. 24:17 "Whoever takes a human life shall surely be put to death."

Stoning is beating a person to death until they are crushed and dead is quite brutal. This was covered Thursday night. As brutal as stoning was, it reflected on the brutal act of the homicide itself. This image of public execution was a deterrent. This judgement precluded criminal activity.

3 exceptions: military operations; in the line of duty for the police officer; and protecting one's own life and property; and the state putting a person to death.

As far as Israel is concerned, there was a corporate requirement and this showed how serious the Mosaic Law was to man.

We are created in the image of God; and for this reason, we are not to be murdered by each other. You cannot trifle with God's law; you cannot mock God without facing judgment. Crucifixion is what was prophesied. Num. 21:9 and John 3:14

The Killing of the Prophets

1. In Matt. 23:37 the misapplication of God's law killing prophets.
2. These prophets simply brought the message of the gospel to the people and they were killed for that. Hundreds of thousands of Christians have been killed for adhering to the message of Jesus Christ. We are so fortunate in this country to have the freedoms that we have. We are not persecuted at this moment for standing for His message. Bobby is free to speak the Word of God and we are free to listen. Even in the military, there are questions about the presentation of the gospel.
3. They would be killed by the same type of religious zealots who stood before Jesus Christ at that moment. "You have stoned the prophets," refers to the forefathers and how the men before Him had this same attitude.
4. These same religious leaders standing before Jesus Christ, and plotting to kill Him were the same religious leaders who would later stone the first martyr, who was Stephen. Paul held the coats of those who stoned Stephen.

Murderer, though he was, Paul became the greatest teacher of God's Word. Obviously, it is terrible that Christians were persecuted and martyred. Yet, the greatest spread of Christianity occurred during that time. This was yet the greatest blessing that the world would know.

Even after the saturation of the previous generations of Israel, those who faced Jesus in that Temple, Jesus offered refuge and safety for those who stood before Him.

Matt. 23:37 "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the city that kills the prophets and stones those who are sent to it! How often would I have gathered your children together as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, and you were not willing!"

This is another claim of His sovereign deity. "How many times in the past have I wanted to do this for you, My people?" The children of Israel were God's people and the Lord would not abandon them easily. They had displayed it in the past and they were judged. 721 B.C. and 586 B.C. the northern and the southern kingdoms were subjected to the fifth cycle of discipline. The diaspora is still ongoing. The same judgment is true for every client nation that fails. Whom the Lord loves, He disciplines. We can see the extent of that with the discipline of Israel.

When the volition of the people of the client nation reject divine establishment and become perverted. They reject and mock the salvation message of Jesus Christ; and when Christians turn away from Bible doctrine; and they will not accept the spiritual life provided by the Lord. Reluctantly and with great sadness, there is judgment proclaimed against the nation. Behold your house is being left to you desolate. That is the result of a client nation which is no longer a client nation.

Matt. 23:38 See, your house is left to you desolate.

House here can have a number of meanings here.

Lesson #0989

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

3/26/2017 2Sunday

The Lord never stopped loving His people; because of their apostasy, because of their loss of client nation status, he says to them, "Behold, your house is being left to you desolate."

Matt. 23:38 See, your house is left to you desolate.

House can mean one of 4 things: it may refer to the entire city of Jerusalem. Some of the worst judgment imaginable will fall upon Jerusalem. Since that day, Jews have been scattered throughout the earth. This could refer to the Davidic house, the dynasty of Israel; and the Jews looked to David's successor who would be David's Greater Son. Yet, they simultaneously have rejected Him. The consequences of their desolation. House could refer to the Jewish nation. Likely, it refers to the Jewish Temple. The Lord is speaking to them, standing in the courtyard of the women, with the beautiful Temple behind Him. It was the House of God; He was the Shekinah Glory in the flesh. This was His house and it would be leveled. The scribes and pharisees have rejected the Lord Jesus Christ. Even today, where the Temple stood, it was left desolate. Now the Dome of the Rock sits over it; a Moslem temple.

Some dwelling place of Israel and judgment would come upon it. The King Who offered them the promised kingdom, offering His people salvation; and He would withdraw and not be seen until a future time.

Matt. 23:39 For I tell you, you will not see Me again, until you say, 'Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.'

The Lord would be crucified, spend 3 days in the tomb, and be resurrected, and then show Himself to 500 people; and then He would ascend into heaven. No one sees the Lord now; and that is what He is telling them. His public ministry was only 3 or 4 years.

He quotes the Old Testament; Psalm 118:26. These were the very same words that the people of the Lord spoke when He came into Jerusalem. He was hailed as their Messiah, but they would later reject Him.

They had rejected Him in the 1st advent. They have not been abandoned. The Lord's kingdom will come; and only then will the Lord's will be done here on earth as it is done in heaven.

The nation Israel would not be replaced by a spiritual Israel (the church). That is not what this refers to. Jesus promises, what has been promised before, that will be fulfilled.

Israel is the only democratic nation in that part of the world. They are tough, resilient people; but they are not believers in the Lord Jesus Christ. One day, that nation will be regathered as believers, right after the Tribulation. When we get to Matt. 24, that will be our study of the Tribulation.

When the Lord is laid in the tomb, they are desolate; and His disciples would remain desolate. The Prince of Peace is the One Who will come in the name of God the Father.

Matt. 23:39 For I tell you, you will not see Me again, until you say, 'Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.'

This is the final message of the Lord Jesus Christ to these pharisees; and perhaps some of these things would stick with them.

Mark 12:41–44 Luke

A widow's gift; a widow's mite. This is still on Tuesday, a few days prior to the Lord's crucifixion. The Lord is speaking to a group of people. When He walked through the countryside, He could choose something from around and make a spiritual lesson of it.

Mark 12:41 And he sat down opposite the treasury and watched the people putting money into the offering box. Many rich people put in large sums.

Mark 12:42 And a poor widow came and put in two small copper coins, which make a penny.

Mark 12:43 And he called his disciples to him and said to them, "Truly, I say to you, this poor widow has put in more than all those who are contributing to the offering box.

Mark 12:44 For they all contributed out of their abundance, but she out of her poverty has put in everything she had, all she had to live on."

This passage has been greatly distorted and many churches make this all about money and about giving until it hurts. "You people have not given enough; you, over there; you've got more money than that."

This is a typical guilt trip that is put on potential donors. The anti-capitalists and socialists will cite this passage as a proof text. In reality, they do not care what the Bible says or teaches, unless they can use it to promote their own programs. Then the Bible becomes very important. "This shows that the Bible approves of our welfare programs; the rich are just greedy. Their money needs to be given to serve the poor."

All of this is a misuse of what this passage actually teaches.

The true reason why this woman gave is not considered by the welfare crowd. Their consideration is strictly secular and self-serving. The Bible approves of charity from grace orientation; but never the forced giving up of money.

Churches often make the mistake of using the passage to speak all about money. "If this widow can give her all, why can't you?" This view simply indicates that those speaking are more interested in money than they are in the teaching of the Lord. It is not about being prompted from outside influence; it is all about what is in this woman's soul. This is wrongly used to fill the church's coffers.

The Correct and Incorrect Views of this Passage

1. The internal attitude for giving; what is it? The disciples will depend upon many individuals in order to survive during their ministries.
2. This is about faith in God's plan.
3. This is about confidence in the Lord's care, no matter what the financial status or crisis; money is used here as a medium of exchange.

Jesus was observing how the people put money into the treasury. Let's take note that the Lord did notice how much was being given. This was not about how much each person contributed. This was a free will offering. Give more; get more; is how it is thought of today. God is impressed by motive; not by some outside activity.

Jesus is not saying, "The rich need to give more." It is all about motivation. This offering is a matter of worship of God. Worship requires the grace oriented attitude; not a self-serving attitude. Every contributor gave what he wanted to

What Is Being Taught

1. Jesus was not criticizing the others who gave. He was not after more cash. "Hook on to these people for a better church."
2. Nothing wrong with giving from profits. Don't give grudgingly and or of necessity.
3. In fact, the attitude of the rich when giving as well as the attitude of the poor, the motive should be gratitude and for no other reason.
4. Your desire should never be for approbation or to gain favor from God.
5. Do not give because of guilt feelings. You feel guilty because someone gives more than you.
6. The amount that people give is a matter of privacy; not public knowledge.

7.

True grace giving is a reflection of the desire to further the dissemination of the gospel and Bible doctrine. That is all about glorifying God.

Lesson #0990

Matt. 23: Life of Christ

3/29/2017 Wednesday

Those 3 verses are what Berachah Church is all about. Bobby received a letter. They appreciated that Bobby had been teaching for 13 years, and it is not the man, but the message. Do not take the Word of God, the Bible, for granted. To understand it and to know it.

Luke 21:1ff is the parallel passage. This is Tuesday of Passion Week; and we are drawing to a close here; and after all that has happened, it is a good bet that the Lord was tired, and there are all these plans to undermine Him. This was a very tough day for Him. No doubt, His patience with the religious leader was running out. There was a strained relationship between the people and the Lord; and particularly the religious groups.

There are 2 more recorded events for this every long day. Observation of and discussion of this poor widow. She gives all that she has, even though it is very little.

Jesus will have an audience with some Greeks and their status as believers. How do they fit into God's plan? They understand the judgments the Lord speaks of. They are curious. What happens to us?

This will be it for the large crowds. From this point on, He will give instructions to the disciples.

Jesus has been standing all day long, presumably, and He can observe what occurs in the treasury of the Temple. He knew how important money was to these religious leaders. There was always some scam or scheme that the religious leaders were interested in. What is the place of money in the lives of believers?

Jesus is observing those giving; putting money into the treasury.

Mark 12:41 And he sat down opposite the treasury and watched the people putting money into the offering box. Many rich people put in large sums.

He noticed that the rich people were giving large amounts of money.

Mark 12:42 And a poor widow came and put in two small copper coins, which make a penny.

A poor widow offers up the equivalent of a cent.

Mark 12:43 And he called his disciples to him and said to them, "Truly, I say to you, this poor widow has put in more than all those who are contributing to the offering box.

Mark 12:44 For they all contributed out of their abundance, but she out of her poverty has put in everything she had, all she had to live on."

First Points

1. This passage is not all about greedy, hypocritical rich people. In our society, those who succeed are seen as the enemy. Somehow, they get the idea that rich people are all evil.
2. Jesus is not being critical of those who are rich who are donating.
3. There is nothing wrong with giving from one's profits, when the attitude is right. There is no requirement that we place ourselves into financial jeopardy.
4. The attitude of giving, no matter what the amount is that is given. It should be given in gratitude to God. There should be no desire for favor from God. "If I chip in enough, then I will get a return from God." Our giving commemorates God's grace. Never do you give because of feeling guilty because someone else gives more. It has nothing to do. There is no competition to put money in the place.
5. The real point that the Lord is making is the internal attitude for giving. The second is, faith in the plan of God. Also confidence in God's care and keeping; logistical grace. No matter the logistical grace or status, God gives and takes care of us. It was customary, at that time, for people to make voluntary offerings to the Temple; this was not mandatory. No one had to do this. Now, it is possible that the pharisees had put some pressure on the people, but that is not a part of the text. There is no self-serving attitude. If someone is putting pressure on you to give; things you should be doing. No one in the church should be telling someone else what to do. No one should be pressured to do that. People should be properly motivated to teach in prep school.
6. All the contributors gave what they purposed to give, with no value judgment placed on them by the Lord. Jesus was not watching people and judging them for what they gave.
7. It is the exemplary attitude of the poor widow which is the issue. It is not about the money.

Mark 12:42 And a poor widow came and put in two small copper coins, which make a penny.

A penny today is practically worthless; and this is 1/64 of a modern penny. Jesus is not singling anyone out for their great contribution or for their lack of contribution. Obviously, the widow did not put in any amount of money.

So We Can Conclude 3 Things:

1. Her offering was proportionately more than the others. She had a very low net worth.
2. Even in her poverty stricken condition, she put in all that she owned. It is a proportional thing.
3. The others did not put their entire net worth into the treasury. They put in some of their profits, not the principal. Not touching the principal is good business sense. The rich simply gave of their profits. The widow gave everything.

The fact that this woman gave such a small amount indicated that she had nearly nothing. She was not looking for someone to help her out nor did she make a run to the welfare office. Wrong interpretation to say, she gave everything; and then we should give everything. Many an individual has been fleeced by such a one.

1Tim. 5:8 But if anyone does not provide for his relatives, and especially for members of his household, he has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever.

Interpreting 1Tim. 5:8

1. This does not mean that this believer has become an unbeliever. You do not lose your salvation.
2. In denying this obligation, a person denies a principle of doctrine. You should not denude your family of sustenance. You do not have to give all to the church. You are worse than an infidel for doing that.
3. The believer has God's Word to guide him or her. Even in matters concerning money. This is a very practical doctrine.
4. This lack of care for family is a failure of the spiritual life. This is a very basic failure.
5. You are in reversionism. This means that you act like an unbeliever; you are worse than an unbeliever because you are saved, you have the option of taking in doctrine, but you have turned away from it.
6. That is why they are worse than an unbeliever. They have the truth. They pay no attention or they just flat reject it.

Jesus calls the disciples and makes a point to the disciples.

What Point Is Jesus Making?

1. What this woman is doing is a pure act of worship. She was not looking for a payday for herself. That was not her motive.
2. She has personal love for God the Father; thus this was a demonstration of that love in giving.
3. In that worship, she also indicated confidence in the Lord to meet her needs. This was not a trade-off with God; she just knew God would take care of her.
4. She had an advanced case of faith rest. This was a sign that she has a mature Old Testament spiritual life. The average Old Testament believer were not filled with the Holy Spirit. A few were indued by the Holy Spirit. They did not have the assets that we do. Their faith rest was based on several things.

These people at the time of our Lord should have been able to look back and see how God has provided for Israel. They should have been able to recognize all that God had done for the 12 tribes and throughout all of their history. Faith rest for the Old Testament believer was the central application of Bible doctrine in the soul. No faith rest was the problem with the Exodus generation and their spiritual failure in the desert. They was what God did over and over again. They had no trust in the logistical grace of Y^ehowah except for the poor widow. She knew that she would remain alive as long as God had a purpose for her. She was not security conscious. This woman and her life and what she did; and this should be a motive for our faith rest. We won't give it all away. Now, we might go bankrupt; but our security is in the Lord. When it came to worship, she gave all that she had. And this woman was not looking to be pitied nor was she filled with self-pity. If she had been filled with self-pity, would the Lord have commented on her as He did? She had it all together spiritually. She was grace and doctrinally oriented. She shared God's happiness in spite of her poverty. She had a sense of destiny in God's plan.

The point is, it is not the amount which is given, but the mental attitude sin which is behind it. Being wealthy and giving with the right mental attitude, that is good. If you are poor and you give with the right mental attitude, that is good. Please do not give away everything to the Berachah basket. You can give nothing and have the right attitude, and that is pleasing to God.

2Cor. 9:7 Each one must give as he has decided in his heart, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful [= well-motivated] giver.

2Cor. 9:8 And God is able to make all grace abound to you, so that having all sufficiency in all things at all times, you may abound in every good work.

Sufficiency in the plan of God. This does not mean that we will be blessed with wealth. The theology of the health and wealth gospel comes from places like this; but this is not what this means. This is sufficiency for the plan of God. Sufficiency is abundance. This is not about a specific amount. Because of the widow's attitude, she had everything to function in the spiritual life. The widow was prepared for every good deed because of her attitude. She produced divine good in the plan of God. That is the utmost wealth that anyone could have. A few years of poverty; and untold wealth in heaven.

The widow has nothing to worry about; she has the faith rest rationale. Some gave with the wrong motivation there; but she gave with great motivation. Money was everything to those religious leaders. She is a woman with a true spiritual life. She is contrasted with those who have no spiritual life. We all have an abundance of the spiritual assets.

2Cor. 9:9 As it is written, "He has distributed freely, he has given to the poor; his righteousness endures forever."

From this poor widow, the disciples get a great lesson. Their commitment would be strongly tested soon. We never find out what happens to this woman.

The disciples would not go out and have tons of money.

One more event for Tuesday; and this will involve some gentiles.

Jesus has not really dealt with gentiles; but He has spoken to Samaritans. The Kingdom of Heaven has been rejected by the Jews. In this final event, we find Greeks who are seeking the Lord Jesus Christ. Now, Jesus makes it absolutely clear that the gentiles are in the picture.

In this final week, Jesus covers everything necessary for the believer; a microcosm of what He has previously taught.

John 12:20 Now among those who went up to worship at the feast were some Greeks.

John 12:21 So these came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, and asked him, "Sir, we wish to see Jesus."

Gentiles came to Jerusalem as converts and learned about Jesus; but others heard about Jesus and sought Him out.

The Magiai were gentiles who believed in the LORD. Jesus spent an entire year in Galilee. Hearing of Him. Unlike many Jews, they accepted the Lord based upon what they had heard. The Jews heard Him, saw Him, and saw His miracles; and they rejected Him. But these gentiles heard about Him and believed, sight unseen; which was what the future would be. The gentile world would accept Christ without seeing and witnessing in person.

These Greeks represent the future; they approach Philip at this point. They may have gone to Philip because he had a Greek name; lover of horses. They made a polite request; "Sir, we would see Jesus." Philip did not care much for gentiles; and he did not immediately grant them their wish.

"You guys wait here, and let me figure this out." Philip did not ignore them; he knew that this was more than just curiosity.

John 12:22 Philip went and told Andrew; Andrew and Philip went and told Jesus.

Now, did Jesus really want to speak to these gentiles? And previously, the Lord had told them, "Go to the Jews and not to the gentiles." This was in their minds. However, they were able to recognize positive volition; and this was positive volition.

They were on the cusp of a new era; and the Jews had pretty soundly rejected Him as a whole. The pharisees had just rejected Him. And now it was time to reveal something to these Greeks and what was coming in the very near future.

Then Jesus says something which seems odd.

John 12:23 And Jesus answered them, "The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.

The desire and request of the Greeks to see Jesus reveals several different important principles. The question that they asked precipitated Christ's discourse on His death. This was something which was quite new.

Is Jesus speaking to Philip and Andrew or is this what He is saying to these Greeks?

In death, there would be life; and Jesus here was providing access to Him. The Greeks wanted inclusion; they wanted to be a part of His kingdom. This was a revelation that was to shortly resound throughout the world.

Messiah was the Savior of the gentiles; as He was the Savior of the Jews.

The hour which has come, is the looming of cross. Jesus would execute the Father's plan. When the Lord made this statement, this was the crowning achievement of his life. The hour was at hand and He knew what He was facing; and He knew when it would occur. Jesus accepted this plan; He knew what was going to happen. This is what He came for; he was glorified in this.

The Lord's Death and His Glorification

1. He speaks of His death in terms of glorification. How many people have said, "I am going to die and I will be glorified by it." There is sometimes glory in death; but death does not glorify anyone but the Lord.
2. The title, Son of Man, means His humanity will be glorified in death. Then it will be glorified in resurrection and ascension. The Lord died for our salvation and arose for our eternal life.
3. That would not just be His glory, but it would also mean future glory for those who accepted Him; and they too would be one day resurrected.
4. He spoke here with reference to His humanity, as His Deity is always glorified.

Then Jesus explains what His death would mean; what it would be.

John 12:24 Truly, truly, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it bears much fruit.

Truly, truly means, this is a doctrinal point. A grain of wheat must fall into the earth and dies, then it bears much fruit. This is completely connected to what the Lord was saying. Throw seed in the ground and crops grow. Jesus uses this main illustration to take them into the realm of the unknown.

This illustration is for the great doctrine, that through His death, life would be provided for all. There can be no new life; no production of wheat without the death of the seed. That is what happens in nature. Production of wheat is based upon the death of the seed; which refers to the seed being dormant in the soil.

The Illustration Is Unmistakable

1. Until the Lord dies, no salvation is available.
2. After the Lord dies, there will be a great harvest of souls.
3. Much fruit will be harvested.
4. Jesus brought the message to the Jews, but they rejected it; so He will bring the gospel to the gentiles.
5. In fact, the Greeks would be in the forefront of the harvest; more good news.

John 12:25 Whoever loves his life loses it, and whoever hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life.

This is not a salvation passage. These Greeks who came to the Lord were saved already; but they knew nothing else. This is their life after salvation. In this world and in the next.

Loving Your Life, You Lose It; Hating Your Life, You Have Eternal Life

1. Loving life in this world is self-gratification. You love your life; and Greek culture certainly emphasized this; they were a hedonistic bunch. They were well-known for their hedonism.
2. The believer who follows the path of loving their secular life will lose the spiritual life.
3. The believer who gratifies self loses his true purpose in this life as a believer. You are into your self; or you are into your new life.
4. Being entirely self-centered, such a believer sees no need for anything outside of his own way.
5. The spiritual life is God's way of life in this world. There is a distinction being made here.
6. Loving life in this world for a believer has terrible repercussions.
7. Therefore, the Greek way of life for this world for the believer refers to reversionism.
8. Reversionism means death of the spiritual life.
9. Death of the Christian life is no spiritual life; and no divine good production. You are out of it insofar as the Christian life is concerned.
10. Therefore, if you lose your temporal life, you have a loss of eternal rewards in the later existence in heaven.
11. The external existence in heaven is a reality for every believer; but rewards in that existence depends upon living the Christian life. The believer who loves his temporal life will find himself losing out on eternal rewards.
12. The Greek culture and the Christian life are incompatible. What does it mean to accept Me? Humanism is against the spiritual life. It is incompatible with the Christian life.
13. Legalistic religion is completely incompatible with the spiritual life.
14. Whoever clings to or craves the temporal material things in this world, does not cling to God and His Word. They are mutually exclusive.

15. He loses the greatest way of life in this world. He produces no divine good through living the Christian life. He loses eternal rewards; but never a loss of eternal life.

The Greeks hear this; they understand it; and it was brand new; and they loved it.

He Who Hates this Life in this World

1. Jesus is standing in the Jewish Temple; the place where He has met Israel over the centuries. He met Moses face to face in the Tabernacle. Who is there to pick up the gauntlet? The Greeks. This is a pivotal moment.
2. The opposite to hating his temporal life is loving Christ and serving Him; the Christian life.
3. Every believer must establish priorities in life apart from the priorities of this world.
4. The choice is very simple: chasing those things that the world offers as the epitome of a great temporal life—that is the first choice.
5. Or, advancing and living the great Christian life.
6. This is simply a matter of priorities; that's all.

What is your spiritual life? The alternative; do not grow; love your life in this world; and lose what the Lord is offering here.

This harkens back to the poor widow. She fell under this umbrella of hating her life in this world. She hated the way of the world and demonstrated her service to God by giving her all to Him.

Living the Christian life and the results of that life in eternity. The one who hates his life in this world and serves the Lord through the spiritual life, he has the bright, eternal future.

Serving the Lord for eternal consequences.

Jesus continues to speak to the Greeks, surrounded by the legalism of Judaism. Does this mean that Jesus was telling them to become ascetics? We do not have to be dull, ascetic Christians, constantly looking toward heaven as if there is a halo over us.

The Christian life is the most enjoyable life; we have capacity for life; a capacity for enjoyments. We have a capacity for the maximum enjoyment of life. So we are one with God's priorities in place. Matt. 19:29 1Tim. 6:12, 19 and one other place.

Lesson #0992

John 12:20–26 Life of Christ

4/2/2017 1Sunday

The Lord never had to rebound. He was sinless. He could pray to the Father, without stopping to figure out, what wrong have I done in the past 5 minutes?

A lot of people do not want to be involved in confrontation. The closer we are to friends, loved ones and spouses, the less confrontation that we want. Yet that is the confrontation we face. The Lord Jesus Christ faced confrontation daily, and often coming from the religious leaders of His day. They attempted to discredit Him, to ruin Him; and worse. He had no choice but to unequivocally condemn the religious leaders, and He did this with a series of woes and even placed a charge of murder on them.

He must bring forth a new view of the future; and He has done this for us as well. He needed to do this before He departs. We must know what is ahead. Under the circumstances of confrontation and persecution, Jesus needed to tell His disciples what the new program is. So, what now? Since the Kingdom of God is postponed, God's plan marches on, but into a new era.

One more confrontation to go. This very last meeting and confrontation is actually a ray of light. Jesus meets with some Greeks. He involves Himself, previously to this, almost exclusively with the Jews. Jesus is the Jewish Messiah, and yet He speaks with these Greeks.

John 12:20–21 Now among those who went up to worship at the feast were some Greeks. So these came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, and asked him, "Sir, we wish to see Jesus."

Philip was unsure about what to do. Now, these Greeks were converts to the Messiah of the Jewish people.

John 12:22 Philip went and told Andrew; Andrew and Philip went and told Jesus.

John 12:23–25 And Jesus answered them, "The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. Truly, truly, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it bears much fruit. Whoever loves his life loses it, and whoever hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life.

Jesus does give them an audience. The Greeks likely answered a few questions, but they are not listed here. The Lord's answer is something that we all need to understand; and it is about their future. The Lord's death would bring life, potentially to all. Also, this brings access to Himself as the Savior of all mankind.

The hour does not refer to a literal hour. This is just a figure of speech; which means His time has come.

Jesus speaks of His death as glorification. Whoever has died is glorification. In order to understand this, how His physical death could glorify Him, He uses an example that they can all understand. They can all understand the concept of a seed going into the ground; and from it springs life. Until the Lord dies, He cannot bring eternal life to others.

Here is a hint of the Church Age; and it will become more than a hint as He continues to teach.

The one who loves his life in this world will lose it; and he who hates his life in this world, will keep it, until eternal life.

The person who pursues his temporal life will lose his spiritual life in this world. That will go by the wayside. The believer who gratifies self will lose the real purpose of his life. His true purpose is to serve the Lord. Such a believer is in reversionism.

“He who hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life.” What is your priority? Your temporal life or your spiritual life? This does not say that we ought to neglect the life that we are in. Every believer must establish a priority; and every believer must establish a set of priorities. Christianity is not a life of denial. “I can’t have this because it is worldly.” Or, “I can’t have this much money; God honors only the poor.” Maybe you are working on your retirement so that you can do nothing but fish. That is not to be our focus. We are supposed to do our job; we are supposed to do many things in life (which are not sinful); but it is all about priority.

Jesus explains what He has been saying.

John 12:26 If anyone serves Me, he must follow Me; and where I am, there will My servant be also. If anyone serves Me, the Father will honor him.

The key is “You must follow Me...if you serve Me, the Father will honor him.” Christ will give us His life for these men; and for all mankind. They must, in turn, reciprocate, by living the Christian life, which He has provided through His death. His exhortation, follow Me, requires that we continue to advance spiritually.

Let’s say, you train for a race, and you reach a target time. Does that mean that you are done with training? Of course not. It is no different with the Christian way of life. If you do not move forward, your advance is blunted and serving the Lord is not possible.

We should never be ashamed of the Lord; as He was not ashamed of us when going to the cross. Do not deny His doctrine in your own soul. The believer who follows the Lord will be honored by God the Father both now and in eternity. This honor is the greatest thing that any person can enjoy. “Well done, My good and faithful servant.” There is no comparison here, even to the words delivered to a medal of honor recipient.

The believer who squanders the opportunity to advance; and has too many things to do in this life.

Now we have a rare occasion, where the Lord turns inward. We do not get to read the Lord and His innermost thoughts very often. He reveals His innermost thoughts about Himself. We will learn how He thinks; and we will understand His thinking. He will reveal a troubled soul about what is coming up.

John 12:27 "Now is my soul troubled. And what shall I say? 'Father, save Me from this hour'? But for this purpose I have come to this hour.

We do not think of the Lord being emotional; and almost never do we hear Him speaking with regards to Himself. Jesus is looking ahead to the cross.

Verb: tarassô (ταράσσω) [pronounced tahr-ASS-soh], which means, 1) to agitate, trouble (a thing, by the movement of its parts to and fro); 1a) to cause one inward commotion, take away his calmness of mind, disturb his equanimity; 1b) to disquiet, make restless; 1c) to stir up; 1d) to trouble; 1d1) to strike one's spirit with fear and dread; 1e) to render anxious or distressed; 1f) to perplex the mind of one by suggesting scruples or doubts. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #5015.

The Lord is fully human; but this is not an emotional reaction; this is emotion which contains thought.

What Do We Learn from the Lord's Emotion

1. If you are a growing believer, an advanced spiritual life, this does not mean that you will not be agitated or troubled by difficult circumstances in life.
2. With this agitation comes a relaxed mental attitude. The two things are not incompatible. We see this in the Lord.
3. This relaxed mental attitude comes from having a knowledge of a solution and dependence upon the Lord for that solution.
- 4.
5. In spite of a troubled aspect of the soul, you can still place this problem into the hands of the Lord, using the faith rest drill. You must go from the problem to the solution. If you have doctrine in your soul, then you apply it. If life is smooth, then it is easy to say, "God works." But can you say the same thing when it all hits the fan? When a situation hits you, it is often sudden and you do not expect it. The Lord Jesus Christ knew where His circumstances were taking Him. He knew what was happening with His death. He knew that moment and understood the horror of what He faced. The Lord is strikingly stirred when contemplating these moments on the cross. This was not fear or emotionalism, it was not cowardice. If that were His emotional state, that would be a sin; and the Lord was not sinful.

You cannot face your destiny without advancing in the spiritual life. If you are a believer, you have a predetermined destiny in your life. You have an individual plan which God has designed for you. The Lord is facing His all important destiny. It would be catastrophic. Jesus had a troubled soul; but without sin; He did not fear; he did trust in His Father. What is your focus in difficult circumstances? Yourself or the Lord?

The Lord showed that fear was not in Him. The Lord never wavered from the mission with which He was tasked.

The Thinking of Jesus Christ Here

1. The Lord abhorred the cross; He did not fear the physical pain. What did He abhor?
2. He was troubled by coming in contact with our sins. That is His great agitation.
3. He could not deny the thought that troubled Him. The Lord knew that His agitation could affect His mission; but it does not.

The Lord's unspoken prayer was an admission; it was a desire in His soul; and he knew that it could not be granted to Him.

We sometimes make a request outside of God's plan; and we have to be aware of that. In reality, we know that we must face the difficult hours ahead. He was not asking for relief. What was He saying? "For this purpose, I have come to this hour. Should I say to the Father, deliver Me'?"

What the Lord Was Thinking

1. It was from this troubled soul.
2. He spoke of the difficulty of the task ahead. He could ask to be delivered from this.
3. He knew what was to come and He accepted it.
4. The Lord entered into the coming ordeal with full confidence and dependence upon the Father. He would triumph in the end.
5. Jesus will not ask the Father for something that cannot be granted. He could not allow His emotions to take Him to that point. There is a similarity here to Matt. 26:39 And going a little farther He fell on His face and prayed, saying, "My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from Me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as You will." This was terrible what He faced; it stirred Him so deeply as to make this request; but the Father's will is more important. "I certainly wish that I did not have to do this; but I must and I will."

We will never have to face anything like this.

What Is Jesus Expressing?

1. This is an attitude of complete dependence upon God.
2. It is also a moment of seeking God's advice in difficult and troubled moments.
3. This is a request for guidance from the Initiator of the plan for our lives. He is reflecting faith rest in His Own soul.
4. Jesus with humility seeks the Father in prayer, which is also our refuge. What is your first move when in a difficult set of circumstances? You don't ask how to get out of it; you ask for God to be glorified in your life. It will work out for your best interests. If you are advancing spiritually, then it must work out for your best interests, and to glorify God. This is a great promise of Scripture.

The Lord is not asking to be removed from the cup.

What Is the Lord's Expression

1. This is the Lord's most innermost desire.
2. He knows that this is not possible. So He is ready to do it.
3. He will not depart from the plan of God; He will not shirk His duty.
4. The cross was not the preference of the humanity of Jesus Christ. He would accomplish His task because this is the Father's will. He accepted the mission and it is the Father's will for Him.
5. He fully accepted His task on the cross because that is the reason for the Lord being there in the form of a man. This is the purpose of Kenosis.
6. He had accepted this mission in eternity past; He always accepted this mission, even from Gen. 3:15. He was obedient, even to His death on the cross. Did He half to be happy, joyful and skip to the cross?

Poor example of this prayer. All of us have faced a critical final exam. A really tough one. We have to study very hard, drink a lot of red bull just to get through it; and then take this exam to fill up a blue book. This is a requirement of the teacher and the school; in order to pass the course, to get the grade, to get out of school. You look forward to the time that you are done with the test. You look forward to the time when you say, "Finished." We may not want to go through this ordeal and we are even agitated because of it; but we are not afraid because we have prepared for it.

At the end of the day, it is the will of the teacher for you to take the exam, whether you want to do it or not. The end product is advantageous to all; but it may be difficult. The Lord accepted the need and was confident in the results.

"It is for this purpose that I have come to this hour."

John 12:27 "Now is my soul troubled. And what shall I say? 'Father, save Me from this hour'? But for this purpose I have come to this hour.

John 12:28 Father, glorify Your name." Then a voice came from heaven: "I have glorified it, and I will glorify it again."

The Glorification of the Cross

1. Glorifying God would be what God accomplishes on the cross. This is the ultimate on what Jesus accomplishes on the cross.
2. This is why we are created. This resolves the Angelic Conflict. This requires the cross to have occurred.
3. This provides the picture of the love of God for the human race. "Who could have greater love than to give his life for his friend?" No greater love.
4. It also satisfied God's justice and righteousness, when the Lord became the substitutionary sacrifice for the sins of the world.
5. Therefore, the Father would be honored through the obedience to the Son through His will. God the Father will honor you as well.

We can only know about the future by means of what the Lord says. He takes the time to address several Greeks who come from a district outside of Jerusalem. They are actually seeking the Lord.

This puzzles some people, who have understood that the Lord is the Messiah to the Hebrews. These Greeks appear to have believed in the Lord; and there is a question in their minds, did Christ include them in the future kingdom of the Jews? This is a reasonable question posed by all non-Jewish believers in the Lord. They hung on the Lord's answer, as this was their future.

Unknown to the Greeks at this time, they would become an integral part of the age to come. Jesus is giving a big of a hint of this age on the horizon. The Lord gives somewhat of a roundabout answer. He tells them that he is about to die.

John 12:23 And Jesus answered them, "The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.

These Greeks have the same involvement in His end and what will happen. He must die to bring eternal life to others. In death, comes life.

John 12:24 Truly, truly, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it bears much fruit.

There will be a great harvest of souls. The death of Christ brings everyone to this plan of servitude.

John 12:25 Whoever loves his life loses it, and whoever hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life.

The plan is for them to serve Him as His people, just as the Jews were supposed to serve Him.

John 12:26 If anyone serves Me, he must follow Me; and where I am, there will My servant be also. If anyone serves Me, the Father will honor him.

His servants, Jew and Gentile, must follow Him. "If anyone serves Me, the Father will honor him." Which includes Jews and Gentiles.

Jesus indicates that He is troubled; He is agitated.

John 12:27 "Now is my soul troubled. And what shall I say? 'Father, save Me from this hour'? But for this purpose I have come to this hour.

The Lord did not fear these hours on the cross; He accepted that reality. He has come for the salvation of the human race.

Individuals like these Greeks must accept His work on the cross. The Lord's substitutionary death would cause Him everything. But He would do it; and He would do it for our sakes. The Lord would rather not go to the cross and come in contact with all of our sins.

"For this purpose, I have come to this hour."

John 12:28 Father, glorify your name." Then a voice came from heaven: "I have glorified it, and I will glorify it again."

The Cross Glorified God the Father

1. Glorifying God would be accomplished on the cross. The ultimate execution of the Father's plan. This is why the Lord came, to glorify God.
2. This is the tactical victory in the Angelic Conflict; this dooms Satan. This demonstrates the love of God. This is the ultimate in love.
3. This is a picture of the love of God; no greater love. He is glorified; this is a picture of love for us.
4. Christ's death glorified God, as this satisfied the Lord's justice and righteousness. This occurred when the Lord became the substitutionary sacrifice.
5. The Father would be honored and glorified through the obedience of His Son to His will. In recognition of that glorification. "Then a voice came out of heaven, I have glorified it and I will glorify it again.

John 12:29 The crowd that stood there and heard it said that it had thundered. Others said, "An angel has spoken to Him."

The Voice from Heaven

1. Jesus lived 33 years without a sin. He had temptations that we would never experience; the direct attention of Satan himself.
2. The Father would be glorified by His Son's work on the cross. That seems odd to be glorified of seeing your Son punished on the cross. Eternal consequences.
3. He would also be glorified by the Lord's resurrection from the dead.

The people there heard a voice from heaven; they heard it but they did not understand. We cannot even imagine what it sounded like. The Gentiles thought it was lightning and thunder and the Jews thought it was an angel has spoken to Him. They all missed the point.

John 12:30 Jesus answered, "This voice has come for your sake, not Mine.

Jesus helps to explain what it is they are hearing. "This is not a message for Me; this is a message for you." It is for your benefit. This is, in the real sense, the Word of God. If they understood this to be the actual voice of God from heaven; but they did not get the words. They were excited about what happened.

Bobby is speaking the Word of God, which comes from studying the Word of God. The words of Scripture are the same words as came from heaven.

The religious leaders were a pack of vipers.

John 12:31 Now is the judgment of this world; now will the ruler of this world be cast out.

The ultimate son of hell would be judged. Those who rejected Christ would be judged along with the Lord.

The Ruler of this World Would Be Removed

1. The ruler of this world is Satan, since the fall of Adam. There have been many rulers in this world. Behind it all, in this world, there is only one ruler. Why are we unable to be nice to one another; why we cannot get along. Why is there evil in the world? Why are there wars?
2. But, this is not a permanent position for Satan. He wants to make it permanent; that is what the Angelic Conflict is all about.
3. It was Satan's objective to be like the Most High. He wants to usurp God's authority over His creation. Jesus dying for us solves the problem. Satan has no power over us.
4. Satan will ultimately be defeated; John 16:11
5. Jesus will soon reveal to these very people that hell was created for the devil and his angels.
6. That is the judgment, the Father wants to see this generation of Jews to avoid this judgment; and this is His wish for all Jews. Satan is a false god, but he sometimes seems good.
7. V. 31 is a promise of the ultimate victory of Christ over the world, sin and Satan. The ruler of this world will be cast out.
8. This judgment is a reference to one outcome of the cross. Through Christ's death, the ruler of this world would be judged. God's plan had to run out; and the Lord Jesus Christ is central to this plan.
9. At this moment, this is the fulfilled promise of what is called in theology the proto evangel, the very first mention of salvation.
10. This is also a judgment on those who follow Satan and reject the work of Christ on the cross.

God would be glorified by the Lord's sacrifice; and He knew this was for their benefit. Jesus was cognizant of these things.

John 12:32 And I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all people to Myself."

Jesus now speaks directly of the cross. If is a 1st class condition.

The Lord Is Lifted up on the Cross.

1. Lifted up from the earth is a word picture of the Lord hanging on the cross. Nailing His hands on the cross and then lifting up the cross to fall into the pit.
2. Every time the term lifted up is used in the gospel of John, it is a reference to the crucifixion.
3. He was lifted up on the cross; He hung between heaven and earth on the cross.
4. This is a picture of mediation on the cross between God in heaven and the world below. One God and One Mediator between God and man.
5. He bore the sins of the world so that God would be satisfied; so that man would be justified by faith alone in Christ alone.
6. There is no judgment for the justified. They have the righteousness of God imputed to them at the moment of faith in Christ. How many of you are perfectly righteous since believing in Jesus Christ? None. But we all carry the righteousness of God. The Lord died; we expressed faith in Him; and when we accept Christ, we have His righteousness in us. We become acceptable to God. He died for all, including gentiles. He will draw indiscriminately.

Anyone can believe. The Lord's salvation work applies to the gentiles as well. They will not be judged either. This is to their total benefit. This provides a way by which all men can come to Him and have eternal life. This is truly a unique and necessary death. This is the most detailed account of His work on the cross communicated so far.

John 12:33 He said this to show by what kind of death He was going to die.

The Lord knew from eternity past how He would die. Roman capital punishment; lifted up on the cross. The Jews wanted to stone Him to death. This was designed for criminals.

The Lord was without sin; He was the perfect Lamb of God; so His death was not deserved.

What follows now is the rejection of the Lord by the crowd. He has just described the most incredible thing.

John 12:34 So the crowd answered Him, "We have heard from the Law that the Christ remains forever. How can You say that the Son of Man must be lifted up? Who is this Son of Man?"

This confuses them. How can You say, the Son of Man must be lifted up? They knew this was the crucifixion.

They had just heralded Him as the Messiah. They had learned from the Old Testament that the Messiah abides forever. Psalm 110:1–6 Daniel 7:13–14. They could not reconcile His death with these passages in the Old Testament. The Old Testament predicted something different. There is a huge disconnect here. The Messiah as the Son of Man also confused them.

Is there a difference between the Messiah and Son of Man? Is this a contradiction? A Messiah Who would die? Their Rabbinical theology which confused them; they overlooked specific passages of Scripture. This is one of the great problems of interpreting Scripture. You cannot camp out on one passage, and yet ignore others. They completely forget Isa. 53. The answer is found in the fact that the Lord is the God-man.

Lesson #0995

John 12:2 Life of Christ

4/6/2017 Thursday

Bobby made a slight error yesterday; and it is a matter of terminology. He misspoke.

John 12:28 Father, glorify your name." Then a voice came from heaven: "I have glorified it, and I will glorify it again."

Correcting a Mistake

1. Christ won the strategic victory; not the tactical victory with the cross.
2. Jesus won the strategic victory with the cross, which was His
3. Before God created man, Satan fell and then made an appeal to God. Satan said, "You cannot be a loving God and sentence me and the demons to eternal hell." The strategic victory included the defeat of this allegation. The sacrifice of the Lord is the greatest act of love in human history. So Satan's appeal was denied.
4. Strategically destroyed the schemes and the works of the devil. These schemes are still on going, but they have been defeated.
5. Satan's doom was sealed by the Lord's strategic victory on the cross.
6. However, Satan's final defeat would be postponed until after the Millennium; until after the Church Age and the Tribulation. At the end of this time, the strategic victory is won.
7. The free gift of eternal life in Jesus Christ. Also the formation of the royal family of God. Christ is the king and we are members of His family; we are royalty. Therefore, His victory over death is our victory as the royal family of God.
8. We have been bestowed with tremendous spiritual assets and a spiritual life, designed for tactical victory in the Angelic Conflict. This is where we come in, with the tactical victory in the Angelic Conflict. The overall picture is in that strategy. The top brass wins the strategy and the grunts win the tactical victories.
9. The tactical victory of the Church Age occur when believers execute the plan of God in their lives. We do this by functioning in the spiritual life that God has provided for us. The spiritual life is the armor in which we are clothed to fight.
10. The victory encompasses the tactical defeat of Satan's plan of ruling his domain, which is earth. We are the opposition to Satan. Our assignment is the tactical defeat of Satan in the field. Our lives are the field. The conflict war idea between God and Satan is such a great illustration of what our great spiritual life is to accomplish. Martin Luther wrote about the grace of God, something which had been ignored for many centuries.
11. The believer glorifies God by utilizing the grace assets of God to win tactical victories. That is all that it takes.

12. Tactical meets strategic on the battlefield. The strategic plan was executed by God the Son; and we execute the tactical victories. The final blow is Satan being cast into the Lake of Fire.

13. Christ won the strategic victory on the cross for us.

It is up to Church Age believers to win tactical victories for the Lord.

The Angelic Conflict is more detailed on these points.

The most detailed account of the Lord's work on the cross up to this point in time. The most information brought out by the Greeks, who wanted to understand what their future was. They are now overjoyed, to know that they are part of this great nation and soon to be a part of the church, where we are all one in Christ.

The Jews only heard that Messiah must die; and this gives them another reason to reject the Lord.

John 12:33 He said this to show by what kind of death He was going to die.

They ask, "How can Messiah die? Does He not remain forever?"

John 12:34 So the crowd answered Him, "We have heard from the Law that the Christ remains forever. How can You say that the Son of Man must be lifted up? Who is this Son of Man?"

We have heard out of the Mosaic Law, that the Christ is to remain forever. He will sit on the throne of David forever; and that was true. "So, how can you say, the Son of Man must be lifted up?"

So they ask, "If the Son of Man will die, Who exactly is this Son of Man?" They were unable to reconcile the Lord's death with the Old Testament passages which they have studied. This was a strike against the Lord's claim to be the Messiah. This declaration contradicted what they already believed. The rabbinic theology had become their stumbling block. They emphasized one set of prophecies and rejected the others.

The answer is found in the fact that Jesus is the God-man. As man, He had to die for the sins of man. They should have understood this from the Old Testament, but they overlooked Isa. 53 and several other passages.

So, the Lord could have said, "Your theology is all wrong; let Me straighten you out and explain all of it to you." Would not that have cleared it up? The Lord knew that these people did not want the Son of Man Who would die on the cross; and arguing theologically with them would have been pointless. "They are not listening; their minds are made up. They refuse to hear anything else." The Lord did not go there because this was too complicated for these people, and they would not have heard it. He would demonstrate truth in a few days.

The Lord uses a metaphor, as He has used in John 8:4.

John 12:35 So Jesus said to them, "The light is among you for a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, lest darkness overtake you. The one who walks in the darkness does not know where he is going.

"Your problem is darkness," He says. "You are walking about without the light." Unless we have a path in the light, we will stumble.

John 12:36 While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become sons of light." When Jesus had said these things, He departed and hid Himself from them.

This means, believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and you will be saved.

The Metaphor Jesus Is Speaking

1. These are soteriological metaphors. Designed for these blinded and hard-hearted people.
2. The light means that Jesus is the One Who brings illumination to the world.
3. The illumination is His Person; He shines the light of the gospel upon the world.
4. He provides the way to move from spiritual death into the spiritual life; into the Light of Life. All of this is illumination from the light.
5. We as believers ought to be taking in His thinking. That is our enlightenment from the light.

The Light is still with them, but not for very long. The Light will remain in heaven.

In darkness, there is just confusion and only death. All He is asking from them is to believe in Him. By believing in Him, they would become a part of the body of Christ. It is our life and our enlightenment and our way of life.

Christ directed the crowd towards Himself, as the True Light; as opposed to the Prince of darkness.

The more doctrine that you have, the more that you are enlightened; the more that you see how dark is the world in which you live. The darkness all around us is incredible. We will not have a naive human viewpoint of man's innate goodness. Human viewpoint thinks that evil is simply the environment in which we live; and the key is to fix the environment.

We should not become calloused to this dilemma of man. The Light attracts men to Him.

At this point, having presented Himself as the Light of the World; he simply withdraws from the crowd.

John 12:36b When Jesus had said these things, He departed and hid Himself from them.

He stopped speaking, and he left the scene.

John 12:37 Though he had done so many signs before them, they still did not believe in him,

This was a process that would not end. Every time they heard the gospel, they rejected the Lord. They kept on not believing. They saw and heard so many signs; and heard such great wisdom. They operated on habitual negative volition. This has not changed during His entire ministry. Many of them followed Him around; they refuted Him, they tried to trap Him; they may have given sermons against Him.

The Lord fulfills the words of Isaiah. Isaiah is a great illustration of a man alone who spoke the truth, and everyone kept saying no to him.

John 12:38 so that the word spoken by the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled: "Lord, who has believed what he heard from us, and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed?" Isa. 53:1

In fulfilling the words of Isaiah, they could not believe. In spite of all the evidence, the people refused to see the light. Volition was always involved in saying no. Our volition will condemn us.

John 12:39 Therefore they could not believe. For again Isaiah said,

John 12:40 "He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart, lest they see with their eyes, and understand with their heart, and turn, and I would heal them." Isa. 6:10

It does not say that they turned negative; it also says that He hardened their hearts.

Isaiah's Message Quoted by the Lord

Volition and how God is involved

1. Israel in the 8th century B.C. was unable to understand Isaiah's message.
2. Their ears were heavy and their eyes were shut. A metaphor for refusing to hear.
3. So in their refusal and rejection, they came to the point of no return. They were still alive, but they came to the point of no return.
4. It is described as hardened hearts. A hardened heart will never receive the message of God. Isaiah spoke to a very negative generation. His message never penetrated their degenerate souls. He spoke to the northern kingdom and to the southern kingdom both.
5. At this time, Judah listened to Isaiah; but Judah stopped listening at some point and they were taken out in 586 B.C. This same negative volition is found in the same generation of Israel. They had become completely steeled against the Lord's words. Their negative volition was locked in. They closed their eyes and ears, no matter how true, no matter how convincing. The result would be another crushing judgment that would come in A.D. 70.

What does it mean for Pharaoh's heart to be hardened? There comes a point where the Lord hardens the heart. It is a deadly, terrible thing to happen. Are we there today? Is our volition so negative today in America?

A.D. 33 on this day, the Lord entered into Jerusalem; and he was hailed by many as the Messiah; as their King; as the Promised One. By the end of that week, He was on the cross. How did he go from being hailed as the Messiah to being crucified on the cross. It happened because of Israel; because of their hardened hearts. This is one of the most concentrated times, facing rejecting. Doctrine is our life, given to us by the Lord Jesus Christ.

We have already studied Palm Sunday, and we got all the way to Tuesday of that very week. Our Lord has just given two of the most incredible sermons ever. Probably a longer sermon than what we have recorded. What comes through is the power of those two sermons. The first is about the necessity of our Lord's death. Second sermon is the Light of the World Discourse. He illuminates the world with His presence.

He spoke these things and then He went away and hid Himself from them. He was no longer in the view of the crowd. Why would He so abruptly depart? He had the attention of all Israel, but he left.

John 12:37 Though he had done so many signs before them, they still did not believe in him,

This is why He slipped away.

John 12:38 so that the word spoken by the prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled: "Lord, who has believed what he heard from us, and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed?" Isa. 53:1

The Lord's withdrawal fulfilled the words of the prophet Isaiah. In spite of all the evidence, the people of Israel refused to believe in Him. This is the definition of a darkened heart; the worst possible condition for any person to...

John 12:39 Therefore they could not believe. For again Isaiah said,

Even the Lord could not convince those who are negative. To say the least, these Jews were stubborn.

John 12:40 "He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart, lest they see with their eyes, and understand with their heart, and turn, and I would heal them." Isa. 6:10

Another element in their hardened heart. The people of Isaiah's time could not hear his message; and the Jews at this time could not hear the Lord's message. It is frustrating. You know that you have the right thing to say. The ears of Israel; and He warns that they have rejected the God of Israel. They came to a point of no return. This is called hardened hearts. They perpetually reject God's message. A hardened heart means, never hearing, always rejecting.

The result is quite alarming; the northern kingdom fell; then the soul...this same negative volition is found in the souls of the people in Jesus' generation. Their negative volition was so complete that they will never hear it.

There are some who believe in Jesus Christ in the final moments of their lives. But Israel here is on negative volition and they are never going positive. Those who refuse to hear, they are miserable people. You cannot be without God and without salvation; and be anything but misery. There will be a point when God ceases to send light to them. The darkness of their soul cannot be penetrated. This appears to go against the grace of God. God knows, from His omniscience, that there will never be a positive response to the gospel. An entrenched negative volition. There is a limit. That limit leads to judgment.

Satan will never accept God's authority, ever. They are a lost cause. Further revelation is to no avail; to no purpose; it would be a waste of breath. Their souls are nothing more than impenetrable flint. Through an implacable enemy, God prevails. His plan never fails; it never suffers defeat.

Pharaoh, even after the deaths of the firstborn, still rejected the Lord. And it says, "God hardened his heart." God hardened the hearts of Jews. We are seeing the results of locked-in negative volition.

God released Satan to his own purposes and to his own ends; and in that came the fulfillment of God's plan for human history. No matter what happens, the Lord's plan marches on. Whether human-influenced or demonic; whether positive or negative volition, God's plan marches on.

Many in Egypt believed in the signs and in the God of Israel. He is honored by the destruction of those who reject Him. The worst circumstances of our life; the worst things in our life; Rom. 8:28 can be applied. You can never forget this in adversity. All things work together for good means, no circumstance can overtake you.

What was meant for evil worked for the greatest good. They can never win; they can only persecute, at best. These things are used for God's purposes and for His benefit. Rejecting God in Christ.

All of this works toward Israel's blessing; and to Egypt's. Now, some did believe in the Lord and some believed later on. It is not our call to determine when someone will believe. 2 months after the Lord was crucified, 3000 believed in Him. Saul was later saved; and he was very religious and very much anti-God. He ended up evangelizing the world. An eye-popping revelation from Isaiah coming up.

Lesson #0997

John 12:2 Life of Christ

4/9/2017 2Sunday

John 12:41 Isaiah said these things because he saw His glory and spoke of Him.

In 5 short days, these people would crucify Him. This great reception of Palm Sunday; and 5 days later, the Lord is put on the cross. He is made into public enemy #1.

Isaiah foretold 8 centuries prior to passion week that this would happen. Isaiah had many prophecies concerning the Messiah. Here was the God-man. Isaiah will tell us just who this man is.

Isaiah 6:1 In the year that King Uzziah died I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up; and the train of his robe filled the temple.

Notice that the Lord is in the Temple; and He is not in heaven.

Isaiah 6:2 Above him stood the seraphim. Each had six wings: with two he covered his face, and with two he covered his feet, and with two he flew.

Isaiah 6:3 And one called to another and said: "Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory!"

Who Is this Person?

1. The King of Israel on the throne; he saw the Lord Jesus Christ. This was truly an Old Testament vision of God.
2. This glory was none other than the 2nd Person of the Trinity, called the Shekinah Glory. The Shekinah Glory of the Old Testament, the dwelling Presence of God, is the Lord Jesus Christ.
3. The dwelling of the Shekinah Glory is God with Israel throughout her history. This is distinct from God the Father. This is distinct from God the Father. This is a dwelling Presence of God with Israel. Same essence of glory as God.
4. Isaiah had a vision of God the Son. Israel's God who lived with them. Isaiah knew the history of Israel very well.
- 5.
6. This is the glory of the Lord Jesus Christ
7. This is the glory of Who sits at the right hand of the Father today.
8. The same glorified Person will sit on the throne of Israel in the Millennium after the 2nd advent (or, as a part of the 2nd advent). From there, He will rule over all the earth.

This is Isaiah's vision, 8 centuries before the 1st advent. Jesus is Y^ehowah; Jesus is God. Isaiah here predicts His 1st and 2nd advents. There are many such prophecies in Isaiah. Bobby lists a whole bunch of them. One of the greatest prophets of Israel. Isaiah saw Him, the coming Messiah, the Savior. The Jews knew Isaiah's prophecy. But they were blind, because they would not look for a Savior Who would die. They wanted a political Savior; they wanted to be rid of Rome. They rejected freedom through the salvation message. Irony is, the Scriptures came through the Jews, who rejected the Lord (for the most part).

His signs and glory were compelling reasons for believing in Him. Do not be discouraged by those with whom you speak who have a hardened heart.

John 12:42 Nevertheless, many even of the authorities believed in Him, but for fear of the Pharisees they did not confess it, so that they would not be put out of the synagogue;

There were those who believed in Him, but they would not take a public stand. A lust for power among those in the religious hierarchy. There was too high a price for men to pay, to confess the Lord. This would be like a funeral; ostracism from the synagogue; and you are treated as dead. Your family disowns you. So many of these believers would not admit to their faith. They were more concerned about their social standing and their social relationships.

“Follow Me,” Jesus urged, which precluded family relationships. Those who would not speak of their own faith, they were spiritual cowards. The confession of faith is still potential. There is a potential result of faith; but it is not a requirement of proof of faith. There are those who would say that these men were not really saved if they did not publically confess the Lord with their lips. This verse flies in the face of that.

Nicodemus and Joseph of Aramathia; both were secret believers. Nicodemus came by night; and Jesus still said that he was born again. Joseph gave up his tomb to bury the Lord Jesus Christ. These men were truly saved, but they were silent about it. They would be afraid of ridicule; of social ostracism. “Nobody can prove that Jesus was even alive...” some would say. Some do not want to lose the friendship of their friends and they sneak off to church even. Someone at Berachah paid a heavy price for speaking the message of Christ.

In some places in the world, loss of life is a real possibility. About 50 Christians were killed in Cairo, Egypt today, for their faith. Do not be afraid to proclaim the faith of Jesus Christ. The most powerful statement that can be made on earth is a confession of the gospel. The Holy Spirit is behind this message. More people are affected by the gospel than any other message in the history of mankind; including the message of Mohammed.

John 12:43 for they loved the glory that comes from man more than the glory that comes from God.

We are given the spirit of...sound judgment. What is the purpose of all this. Sound judgment; reciprocal love. Doctrine in the soul engenders all of that. What do you have to fear in all of that?

Once saved, always saved. Imputing the justice of God to us; and then God takes it away? Or maybe it did not take? That has led so many people to fearing to act, thinking that they might lose their salvation. What that does is ruin their spiritual life. They never get past “Go.”

A person who is afraid to serve the Lord, and this can mean a loss of rewards but not the loss of eternal life.

Now Jesus will indict the entire nation. This will be the final words of Jesus to the crowd. Did He not walk away already?

Jesus cried out, speaking the truth loudly.

John 12:44 And Jesus cried out and said, "Whoever believes in Me, believes not in Me but in Him who sent Me.

Faith exercised in the Lord is exercising faith in the True God. Jesus gives an invitation to believe in Him.

What Meaneth This?

1. The person who believes in Jesus also believes in the God Who sent Him. This is because He and the Father are One. Faith in Him is also faith in the Father. They are both God.
2. He and the Father are two Persons. They have the same essential attributes. He is teaching the Trinity here as well.
3. He came into the world to reveal the Father to people. John 1:18
4. The Scripture tells us, "No man has seen the Father," but here
5. This is an unequivocal statement of His Deity and He declares equality with the Father. Throughout His ministry, He revealed His Deity in so many ways.
6. The Incarnate Christ is the revelation of the Father's plan. He speaks the plan of God; His words are divine words.
7. To know and believe in Christ is to know the Father. To understand the Lord's salvation plan; that means you understand the salvation provided by the Father.
8. To know and believe in Jesus Christ means that you have a personal relationship with both the Father and the Son. This is a benefit of faith in Christ.

John 12:45 And whoever sees Me sees Him who sent Me.

The atheist believes in evolution. Given enough time, this block of matter will become us. A Big Bang; something happened. This is the answer. "There is God and He has been seen. There has been a visual on God. His Word and His works." Show me evidence, they may say. The evidence is Jesus Christ. God and the Father are One. Jesus Christ is the greatest proof of all; He is real and He lived among us.

You are either in light or in darkness. The great philosophers and scientists are not enlightened. The enlightenment was all about humanism?

John 12:46 I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness.

Lesson #0998

John 12:39–47 Life of Christ 4/12/2017 Wednesday

This is often called the belief gospel. Jesus taught them, 3 days prior to the crucifixion, that He is the dwelling Presence, the Shekinah Glory of the Old Testament.

John 12:39–41 Therefore they could not believe. For again Isaiah said, "He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart, lest they see with their eyes, and understand with their heart, and turn, and I would heal them." Isa. 6:10 Isaiah said these things because he saw His glory and spoke of Him.

Some believed in the Lord, but they were afraid to make this known. They might be disowned by their families and put out of the synagogues; and this is very true even in Judaism today. Some are actually given a funeral.

John 12:42–43 Nevertheless, many even of the authorities believed in Him, but for fear of the Pharisees they did not confess it, so that they would not be put out of the synagogue; for they loved the glory that comes from man more than the glory that comes from God.

And Jesus claims to be God; He claims equality with God the Father in essence. He was divine in every respect.

John 12:44–45 And Jesus cried out and said, "Whoever believes in Me, believes not in Me but in Him who sent Me. And whoever sees Me sees Him who sent Me.

This is quite strong, and the Lord claims Deity here. To have a relationship with God Himself, through Jesus. This is the benefit of faith alone in Christ alone. To know Him personally; to know the Son is to know the Father. The disciples knew the Lord in the flesh; but we know about Him through historical documents. God the Father is very knowable; He is not distant from us.

If you understand the gospel that Jesus speaks here, we can give the gospel to anyone.

John 12:46 I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness.

Every man should hear His verse, that he not walk in darkness.

John 12:47 If anyone hears my words and does not keep them, I do not judge him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world.

The Message of the Lord

1. Jesus stresses the importance of His Words. So many people stress the man, Jesus; but He says, "You must listen, comprehend, accept."
2. Dankness is the alternative; that is what we choose instead.
3. His purpose for entering the world is to save the world. He did not come to judge the world, but to save the world. If Jesus returned as the King, then He would have to execute justice, which means, we would all die. But He came to save us instead. Jesus is the way out of judgment.
4. The world is darkness and judgment. All the brilliant unbelievers and even considering the period of time called the enlightenment; and all of the great brilliance of all those who have lived, that is darkness. This is wisdom in the world; but that is darkness by comparison to the light of Jesus Christ.

5. He brings men to the light of salvation and .
6. Release from darkness and ignorance of judgement is through Jesus Christ.
7. Christ says, "Even though I do not judge you now, there will be a judgment for those who reject Me."

Believing in the Lord keeps a man from judgment. The Lord also confirms here a last judgment, which is for anyone who does not receive His words. The people have heard the Lord's claims over and over again; and they have seen the great miracles that the LORD has done; and they will be judged and condemned based upon their rejection of the Lord.

Believe and spend eternity in heaven; do not believe and spend eternity in hell. Do you think that the grace of God is incredible. It is a free gift. It is the rejection of the LORD that brings judgment. This is the one last message of the gospel, which He summarizes.

John 12:48 The one who rejects Me and does not receive My words has a judge; the word that I have spoken will judge him on the last day.

Jesus is not speaking from His Own authority; but He speaks from the authority of His Father.

John 12:49 For I have not spoken on My Own authority, but the Father who sent Me has Himself given Me a commandment—what to say and what to speak.

The LORD never stopped for a single second being obedience to the Lord.

John 12:50 And I know that His commandment is eternal life. What I say, therefore, I say as the Father has told Me."

"He gives Me a command and I do it."

Countless people have made so many statements; but none have made a statement like this. His final message to the crowd is to accept Him and His Words. "Trust in Me; receive eternal life." This is where the Lord Jesus Christ ends the record of His public ministry. He has said these things over and over again; and now He needs to prepare His disciples.

Summary

1. Jesus made man's attitude toward Him is the foundation of a relationship with God.
2. He predicted the universal affect of His work on the cross. He told the Greeks and His disciples what His work means.
3. He pronounces judgment on unbelieving Jews. But even after pronouncing judgment, he offers them salvation once again.
4. He will predict the destruction of Jerusalem and the Temple next.
5. His message and ministry is the criterion for man's destiny.

So many speak of their destiny and where they are going; but our salvation is tied to Jesus Christ and faith in Him.

We have come to the end of Tuesday; and His message to the Jews and that ministry is complete.

On Wednesday, the Lord looks into the future; and this is found in all of the synoptics. Matt. 24 Mark 13 Luke 21:5–38.

Nation Israel was a colossal failure at that time. They distorted Scripture. They mangled it and garbled the message. What Jesus dealt with so often were these vipers.

Now, there is this desolate house, which is where the Lord was standing at this time. The disciples seemed to step away from the Lord and they discussed what the desolate house meant. Was this mentioned before?

A History of the Temple, the House Which Would Become Desolate

Israel had rejected the Lord Jesus Christ; what was her future? And Jesus tells them, “The Temple will be destroyed.” The disciples are confused and upset. We are headed for the Olivet discourse.

1. Solomon built the first Temple. David wanted to build it so badly, but he was a man of war; and God told him that Solomon would build it.
2. Nebuchadnezzar destroyed the Temple in 586 B.C. So there is a precedent for destruction.
3. It was rebuilt by Zerubbabel. Cyrus of Persia sent him back to build the Temple.
4. This second temple could not escape destruction.
5. This second Temple was partially destroyed and defiled by Antiochus Epiphanies. He was a horror. 167 B.C. He came into the Temple and gutted it and put up a statue of Zeus.
6. 3 years later, control of the Temple was resumed. The Maccabean revolt; led by Judas Maccabeas, a great name in Jewish history.
7. He repaired the sanctuary and rededicated that Temple to the Lord. This is celebrated by Hanukkah.
8. The second Temple was again defiled by Pompey in 63 B.C. 9 years later it was plundered by Crassus.
9. Herod the great stormed Jerusalem and caused some problems with the Temple.
10. It was Herod who would begin a massive reconstruction program. He damaged it; he was a Jew; he knew what they were capable of, so he rebuilt the temple.
11. The work on Herod’s Temple began on 20–19 B.C. The basic building was finished in about 1.5 years.
12. The courtyards and porticos were not completed until the 60's A.D., according to Josephus. This intricate work included further repair and ornamentation of the Temple.

13. So the completion process was still ongoing in the time of Christ; but the Temple had returned to great splendor, even as it was being ornamented and improved.
14. Herod, among many talents, was a master builder. He was a genius in many respects. It was a project he wanted to get into. He started it and planned for it; and wanted the Temple to be a monument to himself. He wanted it to outlast the pyramids. Obviously a massive ego here.
15. With all this understanding, the disciples, who understood this, figured that this is a permanent building; and the Romans were in favor of it; so who would destroy it when being under the protection of the Romans.

But the Temple was destined to be a desolate house. This is the opening salvo of Wednesday, and the disciples are confused.

The disciples asked 3 questions. If the Temple is destroyed; what will happen to Israel? What is happening with Your reign on earth? What are the signs? What is going to happen? And the answer will take all day Wednesday.

Lesson #0999

John 12:4 Life of Christ

4/13/2017 Thursday

We are on Wednesday of crucifixion week. It is dawn; dawn breaks, and the disciples are dazed and confused. Their brains are filled with questions. The Lord has laid judgments upon the pharisees, upon the nation and upon the Temple building, where He had spent all day Tuesday. He calls the Temple a desolate house; and Israel's religion revolves around the Temple. How can the Temple be a desolate house?

The Temple was built, completely destroyed, built again, partially destroyed, built up again. Herod was a master builder and this building was his masterpiece. He was the ruler of Palestine; Herod began in 20–19 B.C. and build the Temple in the main; but there was a punch list which took another 60 years or so to complete. Did not last much longer after that.

The Temple for Israel is the assurance that God is with them; a permanent kingdom. Herod built it, not really as a sacred building, but as a monument to himself, expecting it to last longer than the pyramids. The disciples also expected it to last. They expected the kingdom to last; to them, it spoke of the kingdom and Israel as well. The Temple being destroyed did not compute. Israel's hope for the glorious future was destroyed. They cannot reconcile the prophecy with what they knew already about prophecy.

The Lord would be on the Mount of Olives. The disciples unleashed their confusion on Him; they expressed their fears. What about all of this, they ask Him.

The Lord must now reassure them that Israel has a future. So they must not get their eyes on that event. They don't know when it is going to happen; but they recognize that the Lord knows the time.

Jesus makes it clear that their eyes should not be on this future event; but they must concentrate on Him. Do not worry about the future; there is a future. His words of confidence in Israel's future would last; even though the Temple would be rebuilt. His words would one day be their words. This was an important part of that writing.

Bobby wonders if they were taking copious notes. The disciples were able to remember and write the Olivet discourse, based upon the power of God the Holy Spirit. Jesus knew that the Jews would continue to hold onto the hope of a future Messiah; and this would be lost with the destruction of the Temple.

The Disciples and Their Questions about Future Time

1. The kingdom was postponed at this point because of Israel's rejection of the Messiah; they were Jews and they knew the prophecies.
2. Christ reveals in the Olivet discourse that the kingdom will not be instituted until a later time, because He was rejected.
3. The Lord will reveal the signs of the coming kingdom. They expected it right away; but obviously, that would not be the case.
4. Israel had a future in spite of his spiritual failures and rejection of the Lord. In the discourse, leading up to this future kingdom, would be horrendous.
5. Like the Roman destruction in A.D. 70, it would be filled with upheaval and savagery. What the disciples were about to hear; and this is truly earth-shaking. They would remember what they are about to hear.

When the disciples heard this discourse, they still knew nothing about the church and the Church Age. Take note,

Placing the Teaching of Jesus Here in a Context

1. Jesus answers their questions in the context of national Israel. If you have the wrong context, then the interpretation is going to be wrong. You have to separate it from the church.
2. This is critical, this contextual fact, in understanding what the Lord says.
3. It is the eschatological interpretation of the Lord's words.

Where Israel failed to accept Christ in the first advent, this will change in the 2nd. Matt. 24–25 (the most extensive section) Mark 13 Luke 21:5–38.

Everything that He says is a look into the future.

Matt. 24:1 Jesus left the temple and was going away, when His disciples came to point out to Him the buildings of the temple.

Matt. 24:2 But He answered them, "You see all these, do you not? Truly, I say to you, there will not be left here one stone upon another that will not be thrown down."

The Lord has left the Temple and He has gone to the Mount of Olives; from where you can have a marvelous view of the Temple Mount.

Mark 13:3 And as he sat on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him privately,

Mark 13:4 "Tell us, when will these things be, and what will be the sign when all these things are about to be accomplished?"

end of v. 3:

Matt. 24:3 As He sat on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to Him privately, saying, "Tell us, when will these things be, and what will be the sign of Your coming and of the end of the age?"

What Age Is Being Talked About?

1. When will the Temple be destroyed? When would the stones be torn down?
2. What would be the signs of His 2nd coming?
3. What would be the sign of the end of the age?

Only Luke has the answer to the first question. We will begin with that question.

Before we begin the study on the discourse, it is essential that you understand the dispensational context.

The Dispensational Context.

1. Our Lord here is revealing the prophetic program for Jerusalem. This is about the Jews.
2. There is no reference to the church or to the Church Age; nor to the end of the Church Age, which we know is the rapture.
3. That is not the end of the age asked about in the 3rd question.
4. The discourse concerns the end of the age which is the period just prior to His 2nd advent. That will take some time. Do you remember the prophecy of Daniel 2 and 9? That becomes integral and necessary to understand the end of the age.
5. Thus His discourse is directed exclusively to the future of national Israel; not spiritual Israel. A dispensational distinctive. National Israel no longer has a future? We are spiritual Israel? Wrong and wrong.
6. Jesus spoke to these men as representatives of the believing nation of Israel, called the faithful remnant of the nation (which is a very specific term).
7. The Lord is speaking to His disciples as members of the believing nation of Israel. This distinction must be made. In a few days, these men will be the cornerstone of the Church Age. There is a crossover here which can also be troubling. He is speaking to them as Jews of national Israel.
8. Jesus is seeking to divest the disciples about false ideas about the nature of His kingdom. Where do they get these false ideas? They had a heritage of rabbinic teaching which they had learned in their lives, developed over centuries. This is a tricky transition for them. They will hear about Israel a few days before they become the church. They are assured that the promises to national Israel will come to pass. As a part of the Church Age, they will never see this in their lifetime. On that hinges the future of that nation. When they go into the Church Age, they will become Apostles in the Church Age.

The disciples now ask for signs of His return, which would end that age. They know this; but they are ignorant of the intervening Church Age. When he comes, the kingdom is supposed to happen. The Messiah, the kingdom; and that is what they are waiting for. Most of the Jews wanted a political messiah who would rid them of Roman control.

Messiah will be cut off; but then He will be resurrected. Messiah will be gone. Well, then what? And one day, we do not know when; there is the rapture of the church.

the 7 year period of the Tribulation; the 69th week. The starting point and the terminal point. This will terminate the Age of Israel. This is what Jesus is talking about; but the disciples will not see this in their near future. All of this is all about the Tribulation. So they are asking for signs to discern His return. For them, what were they thinking, to ask about the present age? The end of the age would be when all the covenants to Israel be fulfilled. There are a number of them, but there is really one covenant to Israel. It begins with the Abrahamic covenant. The Lord promised to make him a great nation. The Lord promised a king in the line of David to rule forever over Israel.

The disciples are looking for the Millennium, and that is when there is the fulfillment of the covenants that God made to Israel. They knew that this was not happening at this time. There was just flat rejection and they were only too aware of that fact. God promises and God delivers. But when? The minds of the disciples were focused on the fulfillment of these covenants.

Sorting out What Jesus Is Going to Teach Them

1. We know, as the disciples did not at this time, that they would be representative of the Age of Israel and of the church.
2. They would transition from the Age of Israel to the Church Age on the day of Pentecost, not too far into the future.
3. The faithful remnant of Israel of which the Lord speaks in this discourse does not exist in the Church Age. The faithful remnant are those in the Tribulation awaiting the Lord.
4. The disciples must now make that distinction between Israel and the church. That is why the Lord gives this discourse.
5. Believing Jews are now a part of the church; "We are all one in Christ, Jew and gentile; there is no distinction."
6. Following the removal of the church at the rapture, national Israel will resume.
7. That is the 70th week that Daniel prophesied in Daniel 9.

8. During that week, for a period of years, many Jews will accept Christ, which then constitutes a faithful remnant of national Israel. This will not be a pleasant wait.
9. They and the years in which they live are the subject of the Olivet discourse.

Lesson #1000

John 12:4 Life of Christ

4/16/2017 1Sunday

Eucharist Easter April 16, 2017

Two Old Testament heroes, Joseph and Jacob, and our Savior, are the focus this morning. They are connected by proof of life. Our Lord, dying on the cross, has given proof to us, of His resurrection. Jacob believed his son to be dead; and yet he was alive in Egypt.

Then they went up from Egypt and came up to the land of Canaan, to their father and said, "Behold, your son is still alive and over all the land of Egypt." And when he saw the wagons that were sent, he believed it. "My son Joseph is still alive and I will go see him before I die." Joseph's story has always been a delight for many. Great Christological doctrines there.

7 lives that typify the life of the Lord Jesus Christ: Adam, Melchizedek, Abraham, Isaac, and Joseph. The story of Joseph's life begins in the home of Jacob. What seems to be an idyllic existence seems to go very wrong. The divine destiny of Israel and the spiritual growth of believers.

Jacob sends his son Joseph on an errand of mercy. His brothers sell him into slavery. All that Jacob sees is a coat covered with blood, causing him to have inconsolable sadness. Famine swept over the land of Canaan. Jacob sends his 10 sons; but some unusual things happened. Joseph recognized his brothers; he accuses his brothers of being spies and one brother was left behind as a hostage. They were told not to return without their youngest brother Benjamin. Their brothers were forced to return to Egypt; and they knew that they could not return without the youngest brother, Benjamin. Jacob allowed his son to be taken to Egypt. In due course, all the sons returned to Jacob with a supply of food; but they brought tremendous news to Jacob, that Joseph was still alive and living in Egypt; and the brothers had been accepted by Joseph, a redemption for their sins against him. Here is Joseph, a resurrected son, one thought dead. Did he faint; did he break down; did he think it was a cruel joke? But Joseph was alive, back from the dead, as it were. The greatest good news he could have heard. Overjoyed at the revelation of a son who is not dead.

11 sons bore witness to Joseph's life and they brought the wheels of Joseph, evidence. Joseph would receive the family to himself and exalt those members in the new land. How does the story of Joseph parallel the story of Jesus Christ?

Numerous analogies. Joseph greatly beloved by his father; no sin is recorded in the Old Testament life of Joseph; Joseph was rejected by his brothers and sold by them as a slave; Joseph was falsely accused and unjustly condemned; Joseph was delivered and exalted by the power of God, just as Christ was exalted by the power of God; Joseph received a gentile bride, just as Jesus received the church; Joseph was exalted as a prince of Egypt; just as the Lord will be the King in the Millennium. Gospel accounts reveal the hatred of the Lord, just like the hatred of Joseph. False witnesses spoke against Joseph; false witnesses spoke against Jesus. He was condemned to an ignominious death. Finally, crucified and buried, as Joseph was buried in Egypt.

A stone was placed in front of the tomb with a Roman soldier placed as a guard in front of it. No power on earth or beneath the earth could have kept the Lord in His grave. To this very day, millions have affirmed his resurrection. The question is asked, does He live? What are the evidences of this miraculous event?

No doctrine is more misunderstood or hated than the doctrine of the resurrection. The skeptics who claim that this is a myth. Some did not believe until they could see it with their own eyes. Spoken testimony was not enough. Some claimed it was His spirit that arose, not his body.

When a great person exits life; and he leaves behind his writings, his work, his buildings; and such a one touches us only through his activity in life. There are those among us, who do not altogether reject Christianity, think of Jesus in this way, as having made His mark on history. Yet, they can conjure no personal relationship; they assume an impersonal relationship, as is found with any historical figure. Jesus Himself, after the event, provided proof of His resurrection, in Acts 1:3. To these, He presented Himself alive and by many convincing proofs. Over those 40 days, he remained on earth; what proof remains for those alive today? How can they be convinced?

Matt. 16:18 "I say to you that you are Peter, and upon this rock I will build My church." To this date, the gates of hell have not prevailed against these words. The Lord lives to protect His church from the onslaught of the enemy. Without that, the church would have disappeared centuries ago, if Christ were not our Savior.

After His death, the disciples returned to their former occupations. To them, all was over; and they assumed that they had a false hope in the LORD; but when they heard of the resurrected, this revived them, as Jacob was revived. With this new knowledge, the disciples went everywhere, spreading the testimony of the life, death and resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ. The gospel spread by the disciples and Christianity blossomed.

If Jesus had not risen from the dead and appeared to the disciples, they would have not gone out and proclaimed His resurrection, which led to their deaths. People would not have gathered to hear a message about a dead Messiah. But He was risen! He had given His messengers the complete proof. Without the resurrection, there could be no church. Everything hinges on this fundamental truth of the resurrection of the LORD. "If Christ is not raised, our preaching is in vain; and your faith is in vain."

The Bible stands or falls on the basis of the resurrection. The genuineness of its message is based upon the truth of the resurrection. If any part of the Bible is false; then we have a bad, untrue book lifting us up to God. The greater part of the New Testament is about His resurrection. Only 4 deal with His life on earth; but the rest describe Him as He is, risen from the dead, seated on the right hand of the Father.

Have you considered why anyone should dedicate his life to a fictitious assertion? The Bible comes down to us unscathed because It is all about the Lord Jesus Christ. We become new spiritual creatures upon the moment of faith in the Lord. The Living Christ enters the life of the believer. Christ in you, the confidence of glory. This is not faith in a great national hero or in science; but faith in a Living Savior.

Mary Magdalene came to the grave, found it empty, and was sorrowful, thinking that His body had been stolen.

We are here to remember the resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ and all that it means to us.

The second increment begins in 15 minutes.

Lesson #1001

John 12:4 Life of Christ

4/16/2017 2Sunday

Bobby appreciates great teachers; and the Lord Jesus Christ was the Master Teacher; the best teacher Who ever lived; providing the greatest lectures in history. He frequently used common things in his life to present common truths.

He uses the glory of a flower. Bob was not a fan of flowers. A few scraggly rose and azalea bushes at Berachah.

Matt. 6:28 And why are you anxious about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin,

Matt. 6:29 yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

Matt. 6:30 But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is alive and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will he not much more clothe you, O you of little faith?

Observe how Jesus speaks of so many common things; which were perfect for the teaching of great truths. His Father's was filled with great beauty and wonders. His handiwork was the basis for teaching. His invisible power and divine nature revealed, as Paul also taught.

No one was as capable as Christ using such visible art, using a sweeping gesture to take in the flowers around.

The death of a seed brings new life. This fits perfectly with the resurrection today. This analogy to a grain of wheat dying and sprouting is true of any plant. In this case, we are dealing with the lily. There can be no production of wheat without the death of the seed. The death of what has come before is necessary for new growth.

These lilies speak of victory over death; the life-bringing event of Easter. How does a lily grow that pictures resurrection? Rises from a dead seed, returning to life with amazing beauty. That is the Easter message to believers.

Resurrection always includes a soul and body. The resurrection of our Lord is a bodily resurrection. Paul calls a into question two things.

1Cor. 15:35 But someone will ask, "How are the dead raised? With what kind of body do they come?"

1Cor. 15:36 You foolish person! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies.

We have nothing to fear from death. "You fool," Paul says, not pulling any punches. It is very insensitive to call anyone a fool. God never leaves man in the dark relative to the matters of truth. His Word supplies information about life, death and what lies beyond the grave. These things are a mystery to us. If God's Word says bodily resurrection is true, then it cannot be a myth. Paul shows how nature teaches us resurrection from death. Creation always teaches us about our life, about God, and about the plan of God.

1Cor. 15:37 And what you sow is not the body that is to be, but a bare kernel, perhaps of wheat or of some other grain.

The body is a dead seed thrown into the ground; but God gives it a body as he chooses.

1Cor. 15:38 But God gives it a body as he has chosen, and to each kind of seed its own body.

What is placed into the ground is not the finished produce. What comes up is much different. The flower possesses the magnificent manifestation of God's plan. The lily is often described as the most intricate and beautiful flower as provided by God.

1Cor. 15:42 So is it with the resurrection of the dead. What is sown is perishable; what is raised is imperishable.

The body is merely a seed that is sown so that it might be raised into something far greater.

1Cor. 15:49 Just as we have borne the image of the man of dust, we shall also bear the image of the man of heaven.

Our eternal life which we share with Christ; our eternal body which will be just like His; not subject to any human limitations. We will no longer suffer in this aging body of humiliation. The earthly body is sown in corruption; it is a dead seed, but it will remain so until it is raised in incorruption. Sown in weakness; and it is dead, unable to help itself. Raised a natural body with all the needs and functions and limitations of a natural body; providing a place wherein the soul operates. But it is raised a spiritual body.

1Cor. 15:52 in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed.

1Cor. 15:53 For this perishable body must put on the imperishable, and this mortal body must put on immortality.

1Cor. 15:54 When the perishable puts on the imperishable, and the mortal puts on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: "Death is swallowed up in victory."

the victory is that of the lily, of the resurrection of Jesus Christ; and we are assured of a new body, a new life; and what do we need for this new body? Everything that Christ has given us; His gracious offering of Himself; and He rose again on the 3rd day. We will also be raised again when the trumpet sounds.

We are not to be preoccupied with death; it is victory over death, which is the prominent theme of every day of our lives. The renewed life of a lily that comes forth and shines forth in all of its glory. Everything is fresh and new is resurrection. That should be our outlook in celebrating life over death. This is our victory.

As we are uplifted by this thought; there is the ugly side of all this; apart of Jesus Christ, every human being is said to be dead in trespasses and sins. We are dead. Man is corrupt; born spiritually dead. Man has no righteousness before God. The human race is separated from the eternal life that is in God. How can we celebrate Easter in that condition? How can those who have no assurance of resurrection celebrate Easter? Maybe a good meal with the family, an Easter egg hunt, or a new set of clothes. We are clothed as a lily with God's righteousness.

We know that the lily is a thing of beauty. We do look at it with admiration and awe. Even with the natural eye, we can observe its great beauty. Even more beautiful under a microscope, in contrast, the best man can weave is with silk and it looks uneven compared to the weaving of God in the lily. Our righteousness is the flawed weave. There is no comparison and no connection.

Matt. 6:29 yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

The Queen of Sheba in the courts of Solomon. But all of this was not as beautiful as God's creation of the lily; or even of the grass of the field.

Matt. 6:30 But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is alive and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will he not much more clothe you, O you of little faith?

Our glory is imputed to the believer in the Lord Jesus Christ. The beauty of the lily can only be attributed to God's handiwork in us. This is exactly what we receive because of the lily of perfect righteousness.

The Lord's perfect righteousness is now our righteousness.

2Cor. 5:21 For our sake he made him to be sin who knew no sin, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God.

1Cor. 1:30 And because of him you are in Christ Jesus, who became to us wisdom from God, righteousness and sanctification and redemption,

We still possess a sin nature. One day, we will be exactly like the resurrected Christ, possessing a body that is undefiled and eternal. What more could God do for us? He has given us the greatest wealth imaginable. Since Easter has to do with life; and this implies the possibility of growth.

Matt. 6:28 And why are you anxious about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin,...

The lily grows without any effort. It appropriates from the soil the nutrients which God has provided, using the water and sun also provided by God. We must inculcate the doctrine of the Lord Jesus Christ; and we grow in knowledge and spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ. This is the temporal life that God has provided for us. As we await the moment of our resurrection and the fulfillment of our eternal life. That is our Easter message.

The final public address; and it appears that Jesus told them that the Temple would be destroyed. What would happen to Israel and the promises that God made to Abraham and to David? Does that not indicate that Israel would no longer be? The disciples desire to clear up the confusion which is in their souls.

Jesus tells them what will happen.

Matt. 24:1 Jesus left the temple and was going away, when His disciples came to point out to Him the buildings of the temple.

The disciples were quite worried about the future; and what is their place in it.

This Olivet discourse occurs all day long. Matt. 24–25. Their follow-on questions are based upon what the Lord has told them about the future of the Temple.

Matt. 24:2 But He answered them, "You see all these, do you not? Truly, I say to you, there will not be left here one stone upon another that will not be thrown down."

3 disciples come up to the Lord and they ask Him privately what is going on.

Matt. 24:3 As He sat on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to Him privately, saying, "Tell us, when will these things be, and what will be the sign of Your coming and of the end of the age?"

What are the signs of these things? This final question is very misunderstood today: what will be the sign of Your coming and of the end of the age?"

3 Questions from the Disciples

1. When will the Temple be destroyed.
2. What will be the sign of the 2nd coming and the setup for the kingdom.
3. What will be the sign for the end of the age.

Putting Everything into Context

1. Jesus speaking to a very specific audience about a very specific context.
2. Jesus will speak about a future program for Israel.
3. There are no statements about the end of the Church Age.
4. The discourse is all about the Millennium kingdom.
5. His discourse is all about the future of national Israel.
6. Jesus speaks to the disciples as representatives of believing Israel.
7. The disciples ask the 3 questions as representatives of this faithful future remnant because they were Israelites at this time and the only thing which concerns them is the Kingdom of Israel.
8. At this moment, this is all about Israel. This is the perfect group to speak to these men about Israel. They are the faithful remnant.
9. They are informing those in Church Age or what is coming.
10. He speaks to the future group of the remnant of Israel through them. This will be a terrible time for national Israel.
11. They can have confidence in their future.
12. This discourse occurs prior to the forming of the church.

There is nothing in this paragraph related to the church. This is what the Olivet discourse is all about. All of the Jews from the Church Age, are in heaven. Who on earth will be this remnant of Israel who will welcome the Messiah?

The book Antisemitism answers a lot of questions.

The Bible Uses 3 Designations for God's People: Israel, Hebrew, Jew.

1. Hebrew first used of Abraham; the progeniture. Abram was known as abram the Hebrew in Gen. 14.
2. Jacob known as the prince of Israel.
3. 70 years of captivity until the Jews allowed to return; they are from the tribe of Judah.

Stormy debate in Kineset. They decided that people are Jews if they are born to a Jewish mother.

Jews described in 3 ways: ethnicity, Biblically, nationally.

“Not all Israel are descended from Israel.” The children of the promise are regarded as descendants. When writing this, Paul thinks of the pharisees

3 Types of Jews

1. National Israel are those Jews by birth or citizenship. Ethnicity.
2. Religious Israel, those who are Jews by religious tradition. Practice Judaism or they are sons.
3. Born again or regenerate Jews, like Nicodemus.

The line of Abraham.

The covenant of Abraham in Gen. 12:2–3 and there are several subsections. One covenant to nation Israel.

Gen. 12:2 And I will make of you a great nation, and I will bless you and make your name great, so that you will be a blessing.

Gen. 12:3 I will bless those who bless you, and him who dishonors you I will curse, and in you all the families of the earth shall be blessed."

The final portion is the antisemitism clause. We are a nation which provides a haven for the Jews. We are blessed for that reason. If you have a tendency toward antisemitism, that is a problem. Why are the Jews so singled out; eradicate the Jews, Satan wins. Do not become antisemitic. “I will bless those who bless you and curse those who curse you. In you, all the families of the earth will be blessed.” The entire world is blessed through the |Savior, who is a Jew.

There will be a descendant of David on the throne forever.

Lesson #1001

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

4/23/2017 2Sunday

Bobby is introducing the Olivet discourse. Luke 21. Jesus is speaking to 3 disciples; and He is speaking to national Israel, as represented by these particular disciples. They asked 3 questions. We also understand exactly who will be a part of the future nation Israel. At this time, they have rejected the Messiah. The Jews in Israel are not fulfilling any of this at this time. Those who do not believe in Jesus are not the remnant.

Abraham exhibited faith in God and in His plan. God gave to Abraham what he could not earn on his own. So God gave him a covenant, in Gen. 12:2–3. Isaac and Jacob also believed, and they are the patriarchs.

Bobby says the Esau did not believe.

The Jews to assume to blessing of the covenant must believe in Jesus Christ. This Olivet discourse is spoken to all Jews who will inherit the kingdom.

Matthew 24 by Gaebelien

12. The Olivet Discourse; the King Reveals the Future of the Kingdom.

Chapters 24-25.

CHAPTER 24

1. The Destruction of the Temple Foretold. (Matt. 24:1–2.)
2. The Questions of the Disciples. (Matt. 24:3.)
3. The End of the Age; Events Preceding His Coming.(Matt. 24:4–14.)
4. The Great Tribulation and what will Happen. (Matt. 24:15–26.)
5. The Visible and Glorious Return of the King.(Matt. 24:27–31.)
6. The Exhortations of the King. (Matt. 24:32–44.)
7. The Parable of the Faithful and Evil Servant.(Matt. 24:45–51.)

The Olivet discourse is all about 7 years, when nation Israel is reconstituted as the remnant of believers.

First 3.5 years are in vv. 4–8, as the beginning birth pangs; and these are just an introduction of what is to come. There will be wars all over the earth. At the same time, many false messiah's will appear.

Vv. 9–14 will be the great Tribulation; the salvation and deliverance of those who endure to the end, to the end of that 7 years.

Before the end, the gospel will be communicated to the entire world. Elijah and Moses will return. 144,000 evangelists will show up. They will speak the gospel of salvation; faith alone in Christ alone. There is a real sense of urgency in these final years.

This is the sign that so many people have laughed at; the end is near; but the sign is wrong. What might be near is the rapture of the church. All those who have guessed at the date have been shown to be totally wrong. We cannot put a date on this; but once it happens, then the 7 years time frame kicks in.

The second part of the outline; the last half of the Tribulation will be closely described vv. 15–46. There are specific signs and instructions for this final time. The great sign of the Abomination of Desolation. The antichrist is not the most evil person around. There are those who are against Christ; but none of them are the antichrist.

No stone will be left on another. Still true today. This is a future time when a new Temple will be set up in the first 3.5 years. We have a Temple set up during this time. It will be reconstituted.

Islam will not suffer the removal of a mosque easily. We can be assured that there will be a Temple, as there will be an abomination in that Temple. It will occur at the 3.5 year point. During this last time period, the persecution will be intense for true Israel; and for ethnic and religious Israel. This will be intense for all groups who were not differentiated.

If this went on any longer, all Jews would be destroyed. However, we know that cannot be. The Lord returns and puts an end to this terrible period.

Sections We Will Study

1. The 3rd part of our study is the 2nd advent. Vv. 27–30. This will happen suddenly, in the blink of an eye. It will be universally visible. The earth is round. The Lord returns to set up the Millennial kingdom. Will it be on television. The glory of the Lord is that incredible; and everyone will see it. That is a prophecy. This will occur in a time of terrible earthly carnage. It will be preceded by great heavenly disturbances.
2. 4th section: the regathering of Israel. V. 24–31.
3. 5th section: vv. 32–51 instructions for the end.
4. Fig trees leafing out as a sign of summer. A generation of the end time will not be destroyed. It will look hopeless; it will look like annihilation; a time when the Lord returns. The signs given reveal His very near return; and there will be great indifference over all the world.

How could Jesus Christ, the Messiah, pronounce on the Temple, that it would be a desolate house. They are very certain that His prophecy would come about. So they believe Him and ask, when will it happen?

Luke 21:20 "But when you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then know that its desolation has come near.

This is a siege; and the city is surrounded and starved.

Luke 21:21 Then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains, and let those who are inside the city depart, and let not those who are out in the country enter it,

Luke 21:22 for these are days of vengeance, to fulfill all that is written.

Luke 21:23 Alas for women who are pregnant and for those who are nursing infants in those days! For there will be great distress upon the earth and wrath against this people.

People understand this kind of helplessness.

Luke 21:24 They will fall by the edge of the sword and be led captive among all nations, and Jerusalem will be trampled underfoot by the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled.

This last phrase is problematic.

Jesus' Answer

1. In His answer, Jesus anticipates the fall of the Jerusalem and the destruction of the Temple.
2. He describes the administration of the fifth cycle of discipline on the Jews. Those who rejected Him at the 1st advent.
3. In v. 20, Jesus answers the question, when comes the destruction, when Jerusalem is surrounded by armies and recognizes that her desolation is near.
4. We know that the coming time that this comes to pass will be A.D. 70.
5. Jesus calls these the days of vengeance.

We know exactly the sequence of events from history. Jews revolted against the Romans. They were quite recalcitrant and they constantly revolted. Vespasian sent 3 roman legions, who marched into Judæa, and A.D. 67–69 annihilated so many forts and other things. Nero's vice and crime brought condemnation and death to him by order of the Senate; so he killed himself, right in the middle of the siege. But Vespasian returns and becomes the new Cæsar, and he turns the siege over to his son, Titus (who would be the next Cæsar). This is when desolation is near. This also alludes to the abomination of desolation. They need to understand this, as the desecration of the Temple; and so the Jews would understand what would come. 167 B.C. I think is when Atiachus of Epiphanies erected a statue of himself, to be worshiped in the Jewish Temple. The same thing would happen in A.D. 70. The devastation was complete when Titus stormed the city.

The author used a word. Erimosia, which means complete destruction, devastation. Josephus, an historian of that time, wrote of the horrors of that siege.

Consider these details of the fifth cycle of discipline. The results of a prolonged siege. People were starving and became like animals. Book 5 Section 10.

Young strong men stole food from children. They would take food out of the throats of people. Population ate rats, bugs dogs. Soon they were eating dead bodies, shoes, belts; mothers stole food from their infants. The most dear perishing under their hands and ate the final food that could have saved their lives. Terrible methods of torture. No stone would be left upon another. Jerusalem would be leveled.

This is what happens to a nation which rejects the Word of God.

Lesson #1002

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

4/26/2017 Wednesday

Here is where we are: Luke 21:20–23. There were 3 questions from the disciples; and they had heard the Lord speak on the previous day from the Temple. The Jews rejected the LORD and they would crucify Him; but the disciples noticed that the people were rejecting the LORD.

Once the disciples heard about the terrible set of circumstances, they were confused and concerned about their nation. Similarly, we appreciate our own country and all that we have and the fact that we are a client nation to God. Jesus, understanding this, explained, “Here is where we are going; this is what is going to happen.” The disciples wanted to know what was going to happen. It was national Israel and her future in the plan of God. So Jesus begins to answer this questions.

Luke 21:20 "But when you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then know that its desolation has come near.

You see an invading army, surrounding your city; recognize that the desolation is near. At this time, it would be the Roman army. This is a description of a siege. The Romans decided to simply starve out the city; and after a certain point, they could enter into the city and easily slaughter them. The destruction of the city and the Temple was imminent.

Luke 21:21 Then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains, and let those who are inside the city depart, and let not those who are out in the country enter it,

If you are in Judæa, flee to the mountains; and those in the city must leave; and those in the country cannot go back into the city.

Luke 21:22 for these are days of vengeance, to fulfill all that is written.

The innocents, the non-combatants, will face the greatest harm and distress.

The gentiles here refer to the Romans. Then there is the curious phrase, until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled. So, there is going to be more than a simple destruction of the city. Bobby read from Josephus and what happened when the city was besieged. This took place over a long period of time during A.D. 70. The Jews needed to obey these warnings and got out of town. The religious leaders did not leave and they were the focal point of this day of vengeance. Those who left went to the mountains of Edom, Moab and Ammon. They heeded the warnings of the Lord.

There was to be no period of time spent moving. They had to move with all possible speed to get out of the city.

A natural response would be to get out of the open and run for the city; but Jesus tells them not to do that. What is happening is vengeance on Israel, on Jerusalem, by God, against those who rejected His Son. This would have been a hellish place to exist; and it is like this because they have rejected Jesus Christ. It will be terrible and it will be real.

Luke 21:23 Alas for women who are pregnant and for those who are nursing infants in those days! For there will be great distress upon the earth and wrath against this people.

When our president saw pictures of children harmed by sarin gas; he sent in bombers. But this was face to face with the horror of the sword. It was a very personal type of slaughter.

Josephus describes a certain woman who lived beyond Jordan and her name was Mary; and her father was Eleazar. She was eminent with her family and she fled to Jerusalem. She was with the besieged in Jerusalem. What food she brought was carried off by the rapacious guards. They came into her house every day to take her food. She snatched up her infant son; and she killed her son and roasted him and ate half of him; she saved a very fine portion of him for these soldiers. When the Lord brings vengeance, the results for those who experience it can certainly be horrendous. This is one incident in a city of several million.

It is God who brings these circumstances of destruction against the Jews who rejected Him. They also rejected the rule of Rome. They brought this on themselves. Degenerate people choose how they will face it. The Lord gave every opportunity to those who listened to Him.

We have no idea what will happen in our country. Who knows what will happen. There are horrible things happening right now throughout the world.

Some people survived this holocaust in Jerusalem.

Luke 21:24 They will fall by the edge of the sword and be led captive among all nations, and Jerusalem will be trampled underfoot by the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled.

This verse elaborates on the Romans. A million people died in this siege of the city.

One modern comparison in 1 July 1916; 60,000 casualties in a few hours and more than a million in the time that the battle occurred. There are monuments and graveyards all over that area, but it is rather serene. This shocked England right to the core. England survived this horror.

Jerusalem did not escape this destruction. The fifth cycle of discipline was prophesied; and Jesus here is describing it.

In Deut. 32:35 Jer. 6:11–12 Hosea 4:6. And several other passages describe this set of circumstances. A client nation goes down because the pivot lacks knowledge of Bible doctrine. Could this describe the United States?

The Mosaic Law warned Israel just exactly what would happen.

In the destruction of A.D. 70; and there were about 100,000 miserable Jews who were taken captive and sold into slavery. The Romans made a lot of money selling slaves. It was not a great existence for those in an area conquered by Rome.

The Jews were then dispersed throughout the world. A tremendous diaspora. This was not new; it happened twice before. Nebuchadnezzar first in 605 and then in 586 B.C. he returned and leveled the place.

There is a connection between Daniel's prophecy and the Olivet discourse. Daniel gave his prophecy when the Jews were in the middle of the fifth cycle of discipline. They returned under Zerubbabel. But, after A.D. 70, the Jews have not returned to the land. Not as before.

We know that there will be a great destruction; will this kingdom ever come?

The Second Advent and the Tribulation

1. Even though many Jews today have returned to the land, especially after the German holocaust, and declared themselves to be an independent nation, they are not and cannot be the remnant Israel described in this discourse.
2. They are not a people who are there now who are believers awaiting the return of the Lord Jesus Christ and His 2nd advent.
3. Any believer in Israel today, are part of the church, just as we are. There is neither Greek nor Jew in the body of Christ.
4. When the Lord returns at the rapture of the church (not the 2nd advent), Jews and gentiles, no matter where they live, they will be resurrected and transferred to heaven as part of the church.
5. No Church Age believer will experience the Tribulation; this stuff discussed in the Olivet discourse. Even if we are close to the Tribulation. We will not be there. The church does not go through the Tribulation.
6. The church does not experience the Tribulation.
7. After the rapture of the church, these things in the Olivet discourse will take place.
8. Israel today is not a part of that gathered nation which fulfill the promises of the Davidic Covenant.
- 9.
10. The regathering of Israel will occur in the first 3.5 years of the Tribulation. Whatever gathering of Jews occurs today, it is not the nation described in the Olivet discourse. There are Jews and then there are Jews. Racial Jews, religious Jews, and there are the regenerate Jews, the true descendants of Abraham. Those are the remnants that will be regathered.

The Future Nation Israel

1. The fact that the times of the gentiles will run its course, indicates something that others will deny. National Israel will once again be the center of God's plan in the future. In the Age of Israel, the Jews were the center of God's plan. That will happen again during the Tribulation; and Jesus will rule from Jerusalem. In the Church Age, we are the center of God's plan. But after the rapture, national Israel will become the center of God's plan. That is when the times of the gentiles runs its course.

2. Then Israel will no longer be under the thumb of the gentiles.
3. Israel has a national future. They have a future promised kingdom and the reign of Jesus on the throne.

Luke 21:24 They will fall by the edge of the sword and be led captive among all nations, and Jerusalem will be trampled underfoot by the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled.

The Times of the Gentiles

1. The times of the gentiles encompasses the past; however, this phrase in v. 24b moves beyond the near future.
2. This moves well into the future.
3. It is that stretch of time when gentiles have dominion over nation Israel.
4. This period of time is intimately connected to the diaspora.
5. This will continue until that period of time is fulfilled. Until is the operative word here.

What has already happened and what is going to happen in the near future and the far future. To sort al of this out, we'll take a class on it. We will get into Daniel as well.

Lesson #1003

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

4/27/2017 Thursday

Pivotal passage for the dispensationalist. The prophecy of our Lord would come to pass in 40 years. Warfare in the ancient world was truly horrendous. There was plunder, rape, pillage, burning. This is one of the most tremendous sieges in human history. But, even in these terrible circumstances, there is God's faithfulness to His people. A discourse of Israel's future; in spite of the terrible discipline.

Luke 21:20–22 "But when you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then know that its desolation has come near. Then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains, and let those who are inside the city depart, and let not those who are out in the country enter it, for these are days of vengeance, to fulfill all that is written.

Luke 21:23 Alas for women who are pregnant and for those who are nursing infants in those days! For there will be great distress upon the earth and wrath against this people.

Luke 21:24 They will fall by the edge of the sword and be led captive among all nations, and Jerusalem will be trampled underfoot by the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled.

The Jews of Israel still live in a very difficult circumstance; yet, God has continued to preserve them. They will always have the promises of God. God is faithful always to His promises. When is the destruction going to occur (because we want to get out of the way of it); when the armies lay siege to Jerusalem, that will be the days of destruction. Jesus does not give a specific date; but enough information to determine what to do. He gives them instructions of what to do.

The Times of the Gentiles

1. This goes back well before the fall of Jerusalem.
2. However, the times of the gentiles moves beyond the near future of Israel. We move into the distant future.
3. The times of the gentiles is a period when gentiles have dominion over the nation of Israel.
4. In every case, the period of gentile domination, because there are different increments, it is connected to terrible times for Israel; connected to the fifth cycle of discipline.
5. That domination and horror will continue until that period is completed or fulfilled.

Until; when will it be over. So, what are the parameters, what is the time period, when is this period of time fulfilled? How long will Israel have to be dominated? If the gentiles dominate, the kingdom cannot come. The kingdom must come after the times of the gentiles.

The Time of the Gentiles

1. The period of the gentiles can be traced back to the Babylonian activity. In 605–604 B.C., Nebuchadnezzar was chasing the pharaoh back to Egypt; and he saw Jerusalem and really liked it and decided to take it. He took wealthy hostages, which included Daniel. The Jews, as usual, revolted; so Nebuchadnezzar returned and leveled the place. He killed many Jews and took the remainder captive, beginning the Babylonian activity.
2. Nebuchadnezzar and his empire represented the vehicle which God used. Judah went off the rails in apostasy, doing just what the northern kingdom did. They paid the price like the northern kingdom did at the hand of the Assyrians.
3. 586 B.C. began the time of the gentiles; and Judah was never free after that of gentile control or influence. This is where Daniel's prophecy meets the Olivet discourse. Israel was never again, the master of her own kingdom. No more autonomy.

Now we go to Daniel 2. Daniel is divided into two parts. Daniel 1–6 is the story of Daniel; and 7–12 are pure prophecy.

It is further described. This book is an amazing book. The prophecy contained in this book is one of the most far-reaching of the prophecies in the entire Bible.

There is a great book on these first 6 chapters in the Berachah library. This Olivet discourse can only be understood and interpreted from a dispensational point of view. Bobby will show us that dispensations is the only way to interpret the Bible.

Daniel 2 is about the famous statue of the king's statue; and it reveals the time span of the times of the gentiles; and it is all inclusive. It is covered from A to Z.

The time clock of the times of the gentiles, and how the Olivet discourse is built upon it. The great statue of Daniel 2 portrays the time frame and divisions.

Daniel 2:31 "You saw, O king, and behold, a great image. This image, mighty and of exceeding brightness, stood before you, and its appearance was frightening.

Daniel 2:32 The head of this image was of fine gold, its chest and arms of silver, its middle and thighs of bronze,

Daniel 2:33 its legs of iron, its feet partly of iron and partly of clay.

Daniel 2:34 As you looked, a stone was cut out by no human hand, and it struck the image on its feet of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces.

Bronze is Greece; the Iron is Rome. The iron and clay represents a yet future empire. The Olivet discourse is about the feet of iron and clay. The other empires had already occurred in human history; but there was more to cover.

There is a progression in the statue in strength; going from the very malleable gold to the very strong iron.

God will come and destroy the final ruler of the empire of iron and clay; then Jesus Christ will set up His empire. This is all still future. 4 empires done; 1 to go. Daniel sees up to the Tribulation. Jesus Christ will return to the earth as the stone cut out of the mountain without hands.

Daniel 2:35 Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold, all together were broken in pieces, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing floors; and the wind carried them away, so that not a trace of them could be found. But the stone that struck the image became a great mountain and filled the whole earth.

This is the 6th century that Daniel prophesies. This prophecy is the key to the rest of history. It all fits together. His vision terminates at the end of the dispensation.

Now we go to Daniel 7–12

Daniel 9

1. Daniel 9 will be our focus. The prophecy of the 70 weeks will be related to the times of the gentiles.

2. From the decree of the Persian emperor, a decree that sends the Jews back to the land to rebuild the Temple in 444 B.C. The prophecy of the 70 weeks comes on top of that. The arms of silver is the Persian empire.
3. The 70 weeks represent 490 years. How do we know that weeks can stand in for years? This 70 weeks is a critical figure. Heptad simply means seven. There is a metaphorical figure of 70 weeks. It actually equals a critical period of Israel's history.

The Prophecy Picks up with the Decree

1. Began as the Babylonia empire which ended in the hands of the Persians. Then there would be 490 years until it is all over.
2. So the ticking clock of Israel's domination is counting down 490 years; a reverse time clock.
3. One thing important to notice, the 490 years have not yet concluded; even though that many years have occurred. By that calculation, shouldn't the times of the gentiles already be over?
4. There is to date no kingdom, which ends the times of the Gentiles. These 490 years are a problem for interpretation. When do the times of the times of the Gentiles end? This is a theological problem.

What Happened to Those 490 Years?

1. There is a break between the 69th and 70th weeks.
2. The gap occurs after the Messiah is cut off at 69 weeks. So there is another week out there floating around.
3. So the clock has temporarily ceased to tick.
4. The 70th week is yet to happen; and that was the week that the Olivet discourse will describe.
5. The end period of gentile domination has not come to an end. That is the Tribulation and the 2nd advent.
6. When does the 70th week begin? The Tribulation dispensation. That final 7 years finally terminates; mentioned in the passage when we may study it.
7. Daniel 10–12 brings us to the antichrist.

We have thought it was Hitler and then Stalin. There are many people who are opposed to Christ. There is one only one Antichrist. He will be found in Daniel 10–12 and in the Olivet discourse. Any future things which will be discussed are absolutely true and will happen.

The 70th Week

1. The last week of the times of the gentiles, the 70th week, related to the times of the Gentiles.
2. That is the era of the empire with the feet of iron and clay. 4 empires which are over; and one still to come. It will happen when the clock starts again; the Tribulation.

3. This is a period of the 7 most horrific years imaginable as the conclusion of the times of the gentile domination. We can think about what Josephus spoke about in Antiquities.
4. The culmination of the 7 years will end the times of the Gentiles.
5. The big finish will be the 2nd advent of Jesus Christ. That will conclude the 70th week.

It began with Nebuchadnezzar and runs until Messiah is cut off. Then there is a long period called the church, which is where we are. We do not know when it will be over. We will be raptured out of the world; and there will be 7 more years to come to pass, after the rapture.

So now we are ready to answer the 2nd and 3rd questions of the disciples. Ready to dissect the prophetic aspect of this discourse. There is one more practical theological question to answer. Are we in the Church Age part of the times of the Gentiles? We know the answer to this question. We are not included in the times of the Gentiles. There are those who say that the church is part of that prophecy. It also has to do with the place of Israel. Are the 490 years a metaphor representing a long period of time? Or are they specific? Literal or not? That is the crux of the problem in interpreting this passage. This will define for us just what the Olivet discourse will cover. The Church Age would extend the prophecy of these 70 weeks. That would make the time frame not literal.

Some interpretations make the church into spiritual Israel. The church inherits all of the promises to national Israel. I will bless those who bless you; and there will be a son of David who sits on the throne forever. And one view is, the church has taken over and there is no place for Israel. Israel has been spiritualized. We are opened up to a lot of crazy interpretations.

Lesson #1004

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

4/30/2017 1Sunday

Prophecy is the subject for today and several weeks; the study of future things, is one of the most difficult aspects of the Bible to understand; and one of the most disputed of all the theological disciplines. It is easy to leave out. "It is interesting; and everyone has opinions." 1/20th of the New Testament is prophetic; and a quarter of the books of the Bible are prophetic. We are involved in what He does, now and in the future. This allows us to build confidence in God, in Whom we believe and whom we serve. The knowledge of prophecy brings comfort in the face of sorrow and even death. Bobby has reminded in memorial services that there will be a time of reunion. That is encouraging. That is from prophecy in the future. It gives us some hope and focus, because we are treated unjustly or harmed by others. God's justice still abides; and one day, His justice will take care of all the injustice in this world. No one gets away with anything in this life because God's future world is forever. Whatever happens in this life, even if you think they did not get their just deserts, they will.

We know nothing of the future except what we find in Scripture. There is a lot of prophecy which has already come to pass. Isaiah and Jeremiah both prophesied about the coming destruction of the northern and southern kingdoms; if they did not return to the Lord.

Another large portion of Old Testament prophecy concern the many aspects of the Messiah, going all the way back to Gen. 3:15. Many of the psalms are messianic psalms; and do not forget Isaiah, prophesying about the Suffering Servant in Isa. 53. He also prophesies of the virgin birth. Many prophets spoke of the Messiah; there are 333 fulfilled prophecies concerning the Lord Jesus Christ that we have a record of. All of those have been fulfilled. The ratio is 1 to 87,000 followed by 93 zeroes. That reflects the accuracy of Biblical prophecy. This is proof of the divine inspiration of Scripture. Only God could make that known to the author's of the Scripture. Biblical prophecy is a tried-and-true look of the future. This is the only place where we know what it says is accurate. So, we must understand it and heed it.

It is important that we understand these prophecies as the future plan of God in the future. God demonstrates certain things in prophecy. He demonstrates His righteousness. God obviously represents His love for us in the provisions which He has made for our future. A very real application to our lives.

Prophecy, in order to do these things, must be interpreted correctly. God did not send us prophecy intending for it to be too confusing to understand. The intended meaning, and there is only one meaning, and that is meant to be understood by us. There are many interpretations, so that must be sorted out. How do you know that I have the correct interpretation?

Jesus spoke of the future of Israel and the coming Church Age. These are mixed up today; and they must be differentiated.

One of the great prophecies took place on Wednesday before the crucifixion, known as the Olivet discourse; and this is a day's worth of teaching to His disciples. If you cannot make the distinctions, you cannot understand and interpret this prophecy accurately. The Temple and the city would be destroyed as had occurred in the past. What is Israel's future? That is the context of the prophecy. Israel is about to be conquered and scattered. Jerusalem would be leveled and the people scattered.

Jesus uses a phrase which catches the attention of the disciples. He reveals to them the time frame of God's plan in the future. Is this going to happen or not?

Luke 21:24 They will fall by the edge of the sword and be led captive among all nations, and Jerusalem will be trampled underfoot by the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled.

v. 24 is quite a defining verse. The disciples know that the Lord is answering their questions. Israel's end is related to the times of the gentiles. And what does that mean? How is that related to the Olivet discourse?

Not all of the prophetic information been fulfilled. Daniel 9 is a key to the phrase the times of the gentiles. But we go back to Daniel 2, which provides us with a divine outline of history. Historical empires and a future empire.

The first empire is Chaldea, Persian, Greece and then Rome. The Babylonian captivity was a time when the gentiles dominated Israel. Daniel's prophecy is the beginning of this concept of the time when gentiles dominated Israel. We also know from history that these 4 empires have come and gone. One is still to come to pass.

Eschalus and Heroditus and Josephus all give us information about these. When Daniel prophesied, only Chaldea was a functioning gentile empire of these 5.

The future empire is called the feet and toes of iron and clay. Each empire had a metal associated with it. That empire represents the future of Israel, which includes the 2nd advent of Jesus Christ. It is a time of great difficulty for Israel; but also a time of great deliverance.

The Olivet discourse focuses primarily on this final empire. So Daniel's prophecy is a critical background that we need. The 70 weeks.

The full interpretation takes a very long time, and this was done by Bobby already, in 1Cor. 11:26ff. There was a detailed analysis of these verses and timing of the prophecy. This time, we will make a brief stop in Daniel.

Summary of Daniel's 70 Weeks

1. The 70 weeks should be understood as 70 sevens.
2. Heptads refers not to literal weeks. Gen. 29:27
3. So this is 490 years.
4. Each week is a period of 7 years. We have a time clock here.
5. 490 years represents the literal number of years of the times of the gentiles.
6. The clock of 490 years stopped at the literal 483 years, a week short of the end of Daniel's prophecies. It stopped with the cutting off of the Messiah.
7. That time span of 69 weeks runs from a decree of Artaxerxes Longimanus in 444 B.C. This time span culminates exactly to the day at the time of the Lord's triumphal entry into Jerusalem. We can backdate it. This time is stated in Nehemiah. This decree began the time clock of the 70 weeks. This is the time frame alluded to by the Lord.

More Points on Daniel's 70 Weeks

1. This 483 years is a period of time when gentiles had control over Israel. There was no more autonomy after the Babylonian empire. The period of the domination was literally suspended.
2. A new period of time is introduced or intercalated. This time is inserted into the divine interpretation of history.
3. That period is our age, the Church Age. This time period was unknown to Daniel.
4. Daniel was only concerned with national Israel; and that is what Christ is concerned with.

The clock begins ticking at 444 B.C. and it runs for 483 years until Messiah is cut off. There is still a week on the clock, like a time out in sports.

Lesson #1005

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

4/30/2017 2Sunday

What is the future of our nation, is what the disciples wanted to know. The people of Israel had rejected their God; they rejected their Messiah. Therefore, the disciples wanted to know what was going to happen. Certainly, they observed much negative volition while the Lord taught the truth.

The decree of Artaxerxes is when the Jews were sent back to Jerusalem to rebuild the Temple and to populate this area (or is this Cyrus when all of this happened?).

The Church Age begins when Messiah is cut off; and the 69th week comes to a sudden end. And there is one week remaining. The church seems to be, by and large, gentiles; they are part of the church. There are not many Jews in the world today...20 million or so.

Where is the church in the prophecy of Daniel? There have been many theological arguments regarding this. The question is often asked, is the church a part of the age of the gentiles? If that is the case, that the church is a part of the age of the gentiles, a part of Daniel's 70th week; then the church must be included in this final week. In order to make the church a part of the time of the gentiles, the clock of the gentiles; if we make the church a part of this time clock, then we must take this 490 years and make this metaphorical. There are many theologies who say this is the case and many ramifications of this.

These approaches make the church spiritual Israel; and the time frame of Daniel becomes metaphorical for some long period of time. The church age has already run 2000 years; well over the 480 years. Then we end up with Amillennialism and other weird approaches.

If the church is spiritual Israel, then the church inherits the promises made to national Israel; and national Israel is cut out of His plan altogether. This really confuses the issues raised in the Olivet discourse. This makes His discourse very difficult to understand and interpret. The other way to go is to take the 490 years are being literal.

We are dispensationalist in Berachah. This interprets the Bible literally. What do all of these narratives mean? All of these things we must understand to take them literally. Prophecy which has been fulfilled tends to be quite literal. That would include 490 years, not a metaphor. All of the theologies agree that the times of the gentiles ends only when the Lord returns. Time clock starts here, ends here. Most have to agree that the 483 years are literal; but the 7 years is not.

The Lord returns Daniel 2:34–35. So the question remains, are we a part of God's time clock for national Israel? Have we usurped it? Only two answers regarding church participation. We are either living in that period of gentile domination, which requires the 490 years to be a figure of speech. Or, the times of the gentiles has been temporarily halted, to be picked up again and resumed at the rapture of the church. This latter view does not blend Israel and the church; they remain distinct entities. Dispensational theology keeps these two entities separate.

So the time of the gentiles is temporarily halted, much like a football game taking a time out. This view allows for 490 years to be literal. This cuts out covenant theology. Covenant theology makes the church a spiritual Israel, blending the two. We know that Israel rejected Her Messiah. The church, in this view, becomes the recipients to the promises made to King David and nation Israel. At the cross, Israel has rejected Christ. So Israel is cut off. Once the Church Age starts, all of the promises made to Abraham and David, and throws them onto the church. So we are called spiritual Israel. These are no longer national promises but promises made to a spiritual entity. This is a false interpretation. Why is Bobby talking about this false theology? This is a pivotal question when it comes to interpreting the Bible. A figurative versus a literal interpretation.

Figurative Language and Interpretation of Scripture

1. Figurative language, metaphors, allusions, similes, etc., does not require a figurative interpretation. This is what covenant theology does. Figurative language gives a green light to interpret something in anyway that you want, essentially. 'Write a paper on what you think it means.' Same thing happens in some Bible classes, and the leader reads a passage and asks everyone what they think about it. Try that in prophecy and you really have some fun.
2. Figurative language carries a literal meaning in the Bible, according to dispensationalism. 70 weeks is an example of this. The church is not spiritual Israel.

Gap or no

1. Obviously, the church, the Church Age, has now run more than 7 years. So part of the prophecy is fulfilled literally; and part would not be understood literally, since the church has gone on for 2000 years.
2. If Daniel's prophecy is of literal years and if the times of the gentiles are to last, only that literal 490 years, there is still left a week out there somewhere.
3. It is this last, future week in which the times of the gentiles will be completed.
4. To interpret any of this literally, there is a gap required by this prophecy. A gap, a cut off, to literally interpret this prophecy.
5. The Church Age is that gap. It is outside and not a part of the times of the gentiles.
6. This way, we understand Daniel literally and we do not have to spiritualize it. Once you begin to spiritualize prophecy, there is no end to distorting prophecy. We must differentiate between language and interpretation. We do not interpret the Bible in many different ways. We get to do this in English class. God did not intend for us to let our imaginations run wild with interpretations. God's Word is absolute and correct or we do not have a Bible of great value. Many people have used passages here or there to mean whatever they want it to mean. So, the Bible must be interpreted literally. Interpreting figuratively means that we give a meaning to a passage that God did not intend. We are not given a dozen different meanings to fit our own personal circumstance. His Word is absolute; and it does not cater to our lives or to what we want. God does not adjust His Word to fit our lives. God has given us the assets to live the Christian life. We have His Word of Truth, and we therefore have something upon which we can depend.

7. Figurative language does not require a figurative interpretation. Bobby was in a PhD program. The whole spectrum of theology at Trinity. "Dispensationalism is unique in this way. The Bible must be interpreted literally, even when the language is figurative. The realm of Biblical hermeneutics, the science and art of interpretation. If you interpret in any way that you want to, then there are rules of interpretation.
8. Literal interpretation requires precise and expert exegesis. Looking at the grammar, the etymology, seeing how they all fit together.

This also requires using the original languages of Scripture. The KJV came out of the 16th century. The writers of the Scripture did not know the language of English. To get an accurate interpretation, we do not start with the English Bible. You must also take into consideration the times during which the Scriptures were written. Furthermore, we need to know the context of every passage.

You cannot have a literal interpretation unless you use this methodology. We use this on Daniel's prophecy in order to decide that there is one week of prophecy still to occur. Therefore, we in the church cannot be a part of that 7 years. So the final week had to be put on hold. We are entirely different from national Israel. God's purpose for us is important. How does the church fit in with Israel. The two run together if everything is spiritualized.

The church will not go through this final 7 years, which keeps the church and Israel separate.

We can say for certain that there is one event is about Jesus Christ Himself and the other is about the city of Jerusalem. This gives us the basic principles.

Lesson #1006

Daniel 9:24 Life of Christ

5/3/2017 Wednesday

Luke 21 and Daniel 9 (as well as chapter 7). Need to sort out much of this with a dispensational point of view.

Our Lord opens the Olivet discourse in Luke 21:24b with until the times of the gentiles are fulfilled. This is a time schedule; this is a clock; a time schedule for the reign of the Messiah. This will all take place in a 7 year period of time.

The times of the gentiles, is the time when gentiles dominate national Israel. They wanted to be free of the yoke of Rome, but they were not. This started in 586 B.C. Daniel's prophecy defines the empires which would dominate Israel. Chaldea, Babylonia, Persia, Rome which are 4 of the 5 empires named. There is another empire to dominate Israel. The prophesy of Daniel's 70 weeks.

The disciples asked, "When will the Temple be destroyed?" At this point, they want to know, when is this next thing going to happen? That is what they want to know about. That is when kingdom Israel will be instituted. It is a clear, clear time span; and it is a long time span. In order to calculate the time span, we must deal with the 490 years, which is 70 sevens.

The Time Clock

1. The clock began to run when Israel returned to Jerusalem from the Babylonian captivity, by the decree of Artaxerxes Longimanus.
2. This figure, that time, is not the beginning the times of the gentiles, because that is 586 B.C. However, the time clock for the times of the gentiles is 444 B.C.
3. The clock will continue for 490 years.
4. Daniel's prophecy also says that the Messiah is cut off at 69 weeks, which is 483 years. This would be the crucifixion of the LORD. Note that there is still a week remaining.
5. There can be no kingdom without the King. He is cut off. How can you have a kingdom without the King? But time moves on. But what has happened here? Where are those final 7 years?
6. There are still 7 more years before the times of the gentiles is complete. That is when the promised kingdom of Israel becomes a reality. At some point, we start those final 7 years.

We in the church cannot be a part of this time frame, if we take it literally. 483 years have already passed. The church cannot be a part of this, or else 70 weeks just means a long, long time. The church has existed that long. We cannot say that it is a part of the gentiles. The times of the gentiles had to stop at the beginning of the church; the Messiah is cut off; then we begin the Church Age, and this runs until some time in the future. At the end of that time, the clock starts again.

Two events to examine. One involves the Lord Jesus Christ; and the other involves the doomed city of Jerusalem.

The 483 years fell on March 30, A.D. 33, when Jesus walked into Jerusalem and was crucified with less than a week to go. Isa. 53 and Zech. 12:10 both spoke of the suffering servant. The Lord came but without establishing a kingdom. According to Daniel's prophecy, there is one more 7 year period of time, which completes the time of the gentiles. The Church Age cannot be involved. We will not be involved in these final 7 years.

There is a 2nd event, which involves Jerusalem itself. The destruction of Jerusalem and the desecration of the Temple in A.D. 70 was spoken of by the Lord in A.D. 33.

There is the possibility of a long period of time between the 483 years and the final 7 years. If the Church Age is part of the times of the gentiles, which age began on the Day of Pentecost, then the kingdom should have been literally set up 7 years later. Obviously, it was not.

There is the logical point that no such kingdom was ever set up during the Church Age.

Timeline....church, rapture of the church, seven years. Jesus makes reference to a midpoint of the 7 years. That indicates that the final 3.5 years would...Matt. 24:15 the announcement of His coming.

The description of the Tribulation.

The Gap

1. The 69th and 70th weeks are separated by an unidentified time period gap.
2. The Jewish clock stopped at Messiah being cut off. Daniel 9:27. Jerusalem was leveled.
3. The Jewish clock will begin again during an unknown time, when the Church Age is repeated.
4. The fulfillment of the age of gentiles; the final 7 years.
5. So the gap revealed by Daniel's prophecy is the period of the Church Age.

The Church Age and Daniel

1. The period of the Church Age was never in view in Daniel's prophecy. This prophecy dealt with 483 years. Then there is this gap; but it is not spoken of in Daniel's prophecy.
2. The character of that gap is not revealed anywhere in Old Testament prophecy. The Church Age is not revealed in the Old Testament. The Old Testament is about national Israel.
3. No prophecy in the Old Testament was about the church.
4. What was mentioned?
5. Only the fact of the 70th week and how it is separated from the 69 weeks.
6. The events of Daniel vv. 25–26 have now transpired and we are able to trace them we know all about those 4 empires; all empires from the past.
7. The events of v. 27 is in our future.

More Time Stuff

1. True Israel is regenerate Israel. There are racial Jews, religious Jews; and the true Jews. The remnant of believers during the Tribulation.
2. What are we in the Church Age as a people? We are all one in Christ. The Israel in Palestine today is not the Israel in prophecy.
3. A main feature of
4. That condition does not apply today because there is no empire governing and oppressing Israel today. That is the description from the...there will be a Temple in Jerusalem in the Tribulation; no Temple there today.
5. The remnant of Jewish believers awaiting

Israel in the midpoint makes a treaty with the revived Roman empire; and there is protection and there is worship allowed in the Temple. They need protection and that is a part of the treaty. There will be no believers in Jesus Christ at the beginning of this time-age. This age begins with unbelieving Jews only. Two great evangelists, Moses and Elijah. Many reasons for Jews to believe in Christ, not the least of which is our departure. Today there is a distinction between Jews and gentiles in Old Testament prophecy. But not in the church. Israel's national covenant with God. There is only one covenant, but it has parts spread out.

God's promises to a regenerate Jew. The promises were temporarily set aside when Messiah was cut off. There would be a king on the national throne of Israel forever. The disciples need to hear it. The nation had a future beyond the Church Age; one more week of 7 years. That national future is in the 70th week.

There are no great empires of the Church Age found in the book of Daniel.

Summary

1. The times of the gentiles was suspended when Jews and gentiles crucified Christ under Roman rule.
2. It will remain suspended, but not abolished, until the beginning the 7 years of the Tribulation. It resumes at the rapture of the church.
3. It ends when the Lord returns after the course of the final 7 years,

What Is Known about the Tribulation from the Bible?

1. The 70th week are divided into two parts. 3.5 years each. There is an important midpoint. The two halves are different. Marked differences.
2. The first 3.5 years are characterized by power politics. There are 4 major spheres of influence who struggle for world domination. This is the only future that we know is true. The Bible reveals all of this.
3. At the end of the 7 year period, Satan attempts to annihilate the Jews. This is catastrophic for the Jews. He will gather the gentiles armies of the world against Palestine. This is known as Armageddon.
4. So intense is the severity of the 2nd half of the Tribulation, it is called the Great Tribulation. Rev. 11:2-3 12:6, 14 13:5 we will spend time in Revelation.

We can identify 4 power blocks; all of them are all related to Israel. There is the Mediterranean Sea. To the east is Syria, Iran, Iraq and further out is Russia. Even further are the Asiatic peoples.

The Kingdoms

1. First there is a 10 king federation of nations. That is under the leadership of the Beast; and he is a Beast. Rev. 13:1-10 He is the man and the empire which will be the central focus of tribulational times. This is the 10 nation confederation led by the Beast. They will converge on Israel.
2. There is the northern kingdom. If the Tribulation began today, this could be Russia and her allies.

3. There is a kingdom of the east, which would be today an Asiatic bloc. China, Japan or any of the Asian peoples.
4. Finally, the kingdom of the south. Israel is the center of the angelic conflict. Israel will be at the center of all of this. Today, this would be a pan-arabic bloc, including Egypt, and so much of the Muslim world south of Israel.
5. These are the 4 power blocs aligned against the Jews. Who will protect Israel?

The 10 nation confederation and the Beast; he will make the treaty which puts a stop to this. He will do a number on some of the other empires. He will hold off the hoards for the first 3.5 years.

We understand the plan of God and the faithfulness of God towards His people. We can have great confidence in it, even towards these people.

Daniel 9:24 "Seventy weeks are decreed about your people and your holy city, to finish the transgression, to put an end to sin, and to atone for iniquity, to bring in everlasting righteousness, to seal both vision and prophet, and to anoint a most holy place.

Lesson #1007 Daniel 9:26–27 Life of Christ 5/4/2017 Thursday

Any study of the Olivet discourse requires the background knowledge of Daniel, along with some passages from Revelation. Since the Olivet discourse is exclusively about the 7 year period of the Tribulation.

Daniel 9:25 Know therefore and understand that from the going out of the word to restore and build Jerusalem to the coming of an anointed one, a prince, there shall be seven weeks. Then for sixty-two weeks it shall be built again with squares and moat, but in a troubled time.

What Do We Know about the Tribulation from Daniel's Prophecies?

1. It is divided into two parts.
2. There is the Age of Israel, the Hypostatic Union Age, followed by the Tribulation.
3. The Church Age length is unknown.
4. The first 3.5 years are characterized by a world of power politics. Our world has become much smaller in the past 50 years with technology and transportation all changing as they have. We can see how power politics works. China is a recent player in power politics; and there is also Iran. North Korea is a smaller player.
5. There are 4 major spheres of influence, each struggling for world domination. They are called kings. Kings of the North could be Russia; kings of the East could be an Asiatic Bloc; king of the South could be a pan-Arabic bloc. If the rapture occurred today, that is what we would probably be looking at. Anyone who says that we are close to the rapture does not have a clue.
6. The power bloc we are most concerned with is the western power bloc.
7. This 10 nation confederation is under the leadership of the Beast; which is an appropso name.

8. Daniel's 70th week.
9. This bloc is the 5th future empire of Daniel's prophesy, the feet and toes of clay and iron.

Second Half of the Tribulation

1. The second half of the Tribulation has increased lawlessness and the power of the Beast
2. At the end of the Tribulation, Satan, using the Beast, attempts to annihilate the Jews.
3. He gathers the armies against Israel; to converge on Palestine.
4. So intense is the severity of the final 3.5 years, it is known as the Great Tribulation. Daniel 12:11–12 Rev. 11:2–3 12:6 13:5

Israel and the Beast

1. Israel will sign a treaty at the beginning of the Great Tribulation.
2. The Beast will be the author of the treaty.
3. The treaty provisions are not given to us; but we can deduce what may have been a part of the treaty by simply looking at what happens. It will establish protections for nation Israel.
4. The nature and character of this dictator, aka the Beast is found in Ezek. 28:1–10 Daniel 7:7–8 11:36–45 2Thess. Rev. 13:1–10
5. This man is called in Daniel 9:27 the prince who is to come. He reflects his great authority and his political and military skill; and it is great. He is a tremendous personality and a leader people want to follow. He has the power of Satan with him.
6. There are other names for him: the feet of the image in Dan. 2; god of fortresses; the man of lawlessness; the scarlet beast in Revelation. In Matt. 24, he is the abomination of desolation.
7. The alliance with this man will be made by Israel for the period of 7 years.
8. But the treaty will be broken at the midpoint of the 7 years by the prince.
9. He betrays Israel; he turns on them. This is the biggest problem of Israel's history.
10. Following the betrayal of the dictator, he will turn against the Jews with implacable fury and hatred. This is where he earns his name.
11. This is the case, the hatred, fury and implacability is the rule for the remainder of the Tribulation.

Who is the Beast and over what does he rule? This is answerable from several passages. Metaphorical language and literal meanings. We have no personal names given to him. A strong description of him in prophecy. The Lord says, "There are some signs here that you need to recognize."

Daniel 9:26 And after the sixty-two weeks, an anointed one shall be cut off and shall have nothing. And the people of the prince who is to come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary. Its end shall come with a flood, and to the end there shall be war. Desolations are decreed.

The Future Roman Empire

1. Not a brick would be left; nothing would be standing. And then comes the end, a reference to A.D. 70. But it is the prince who is to come.
2. It was Rome who leveled the city in A.D. 70. So there is a new Rome.
3. This is confirmed by the prophecy in Daniel 7.
4. There is a connection for this prince and his confederation to the old Roman empire. This was Italy and the rest of Europe.
5. The prince who is to come, comes from that same section of the old Roman empire. We might say that his confederation is a revived Roman empire in the future.
6. The prince will be Satan's man, totally.

Daniel Identified this Man Earlier

1. He is called the little horn, connected to a 10 nation confederation.
2. He is the king of intrigue and destruction.
3. Daniel 8 this prince was to oppose the Prince of Princes. As Satan's man, he would oppose Jesus Christ.
4. He desolates the sanctuary in Jerusalem.
5. He is none other than the one called the Antichrist. He opposes the Prince of Princes. He will set up a world religion and he is the focal point of that religion. The people will be desolate because of it. He demands that the Jews worship him in the Temple.

At the midpoint of the Tribulation, he breaks his treaty with Israel; and Israel will be helpless.

Daniel 9:27 And he shall make a strong covenant with many for one week, and for half of the week he shall put an end to sacrifice and offering. And on the wing of abominations shall come one who makes desolate, until the decreed end is poured out on the desolator."

There is apparently Jewish traditional worship occurring in the Temple. The Beast will suddenly break all agreements with Israel. They will worship God; and this will be halted.

144,000 Jews will go throughout the world and evangelize. There will be a Temple in Jerusalem during this period. While they are worshiping in the Temple, this ruler says, "No more; stop it."

Inference

1. The treaty between Israel and the Antichrist, the nation is allowed to set up and worship their God.
2. Some sort of Temple had to be built on the old Temple site. There needed to be a central place of worship for
3. What sort of a Temple it will be; not much time to build a Temple. When the Temple is set up and functioning, there will be a worldwide negative response. The Dome of the Rock is at the same place; and building a temple would be condemned. Today, arabs would go berserk if a Temple is built.

This time, there will be much more going on than some unhappiness. World Jewelry would have to give concessions to the Antichrist. What did they give away? Whatever they gave away, it was not a good deal. Maybe like the Iran Nuclear deal.

There will be a time of great horror as never seen before. We have had some horrendous wars. 50,000 Americans died during the Korean War in 3 years. Daniel describes it as abomination and desolation.

Daniel 11 the statue of the Beast will be installed in the Temple. This is where the whole 666 thing comes in. That is when religion becomes the scourge of the world through this one man. Daniel does not give us a great amount of detail concerning the Great Tribulation.

We know from other Scriptures that the Beast. The evil of the period can be laid directly at his doorstep.

Now We Are Prepared for the Setting of the Olivet Discourse

1. In describing His return at the 2nd advent, Jesus spoke of events already prophesied by Daniel. He uses that as His background.
2. He spoke of the devastation that nation Israel will experience.
3. He spoke of the antichrist abomination in the place of the holy Temple.
4. He spoke of the great Tribulation which would desolate the whole world.
5. Right after these events, the Lord will return. Even though these events will be horrendous, the Lord will return with great power and glory.
6. On His return, the Lord would destroy the nations that ...battle of Armageddon. He will wipe out the Beast's military power.
7. He will liberate the land and the people; and this will end the times of the gentiles. You will shatter them like earthenware
8. The Tribulation closes with the total defeat of Satan's forces at Armageddon.
9. God demonstrates here before angels, demons and men that the Lord Jesus Christ single-handedly by Himself will overcome the combined forces of Satan himself. No one else fights this battle.
10. Jesus Christ needs the help of no man. His victory is decisive and complete. The battle is the Lord's. The Jews who remain in Jerusalem will say, the battle is the Lord's.
11. At the time, the kingdoms of the world will become the kingdom of the Lord Jesus Christ. The promise is fulfilled that He will reign forever.

Jesus gave this revelation on the Mount of Olives. There was a short-range and a long-range purpose.

The Long-term Reasons for What Jesus Says

1. The long-range purpose was to encourage the believers of the faithful remnant. They will need this encouragement.

2. There would be the return of the Messiah; a new age.
3. This prophetic description was given for another reason, to encourage the disciples by the fulfillment of the covenants of the past. The nation would reappear at that future time.
4. Thus, the Lord ties His 2nd advent into the Old Testament prophecies and difficulties.
5. The fulfillment of the times of the gentiles and the coming of the kingdom were still coming, but simply postponed.
6. Huh
7. No rejection by the Jews at the 1st advent will annul His covenant. Rom. 11:29.
8. Christ would then return to set up that everlasting kingdom after the finale of the times of the gentiles.

Will one part of the treaty call for the regathering of Israel?

Lesson #1008

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

5/7/2017 1Sunday

We are dealing exclusively now with prophecy, past and future. Past refers to prophecy made in the past and which has come to pass.

5 empires prophesied in Daniel, 4 of which have come to pass; and a 5th yet to come. Our place in the divine outline of history is not mentioned in Old Testament prophecy. There is a gap.

In 444 B.C., by the decree of the Persian emperor, Israel is returned to the land.

30 March 33 A.D. the crucifixion. We are now in Daniel's prophecy of the 70th week. Jesus refers to this prophecy often in Matt. 24–25. Matthew recorded.

Jesus would be soon crucified, and there would be no promised kingdom beginning. The disciples ask, when will this actually occur? This is the 2nd advent of the Lord. What will be the end of the age and the times of the gentiles? Those last 7 years will be the times of the gentiles? Exodus throughout the Old Testament, continuing to run through a portion of the Hypostatic Union. On the day of Pentecost, the Church Age begins. That 70th week is yet to happen. That is where we are on the time frame. This is the subject of the Olivet discourse. What will be the sign of the age? The worst 7 years of human history.

The end time, the Tribulation, Matt. 24:4–14, which passage describes the general tenor of the time. Apparently, this is mostly the first 3.5 years? The two halves are different. The final 3.5 are the years that are so horrible for mankind.

Matt. 24:4 And Jesus answered them, "See that no one leads you astray.

A major problem of the Tribulation is believers being misled.

Matt. 24:5 For many will come in My name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and they will lead many astray.

Many will claim to be the Lord; they will claim that the time is near (is this in another passage?).

Matt. 24:6 And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not alarmed, for this must take place, but the end is not yet.

There are wars and rumors of wars; do not be afraid because of that. People in the United States are petrified of war. Particularly missiles from North Korea. People get hysterical thinking about that.

These wars will be worse than anything that we can imagine.

Matt. 24:7 For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there will be famines and earthquakes in various places.

Problems in every arena. Jer. 30:7 this is called the time of Jacob's distress.

Matt. 24:8 All these are but the beginning of the birth pains.

It will seem horrible, but that is only the beginning.

Israel will face an unparalleled persecution (Daniel 11–12:1).

No one has suffered so much in history more than the Jews. There was much suffering and turmoil which has continued as a part of their history. They have encountered all types of hatred and malfeasance; they have been charged with all kinds of worldwide conspiracies. The Protocols of the ___ of Zion, a pamphlet which was started in France. They were assigned to ghettos and to Hitler's execution camps. This is only one part of it. Satan has attempted to consistently destroy the Jews from the face of the earth.

There was a land promise to Israel. There was a promise to David about his Greater Son. If these promises cannot be fulfilled, that would make God into a liar. We have promises from God's Word. If God does not keep His promises to Israel, then can we yet depend upon God's promises to us?

Satan said way back in the beginning that he wanted to be like the Most High; that was his objective.

The Jews are central to the Angelic Conflict; do not be antisemitic. Sometimes, they may seem to be incalcitrant. Do not every become antisemitic. "I will bless those who bless you, and curse those who curse you." Those who curse Jews go down hard. They still have not recovered from that.

Jesus refers to these as the beginning of the birth pangs; and all that we know about antisemitism into the first 3.5 years; and that will be outdone by the second 3.5 years.

When the church goes up, every believer goes up with the rapture. The Tribulation begins with believers only. There will be great evangelism after the rapture.

Two evangelists will come from heaven who will begin this process. They are not JW's, who call themselves the 144,000.

The disciples hear this with great interest. They will know that the 2nd advent of the Messiah is near and their deliverance is near.

There will be the truth of the gospel out there; but there will be false Messiah's who rise up, but they are against Christ. They speak doctrines counter to Jesus Christ. If they call themselves the messiah, and they are not, then this is a power grab. They will be very skillful in something else. So many dupes will be gathered to these false messiahs. The signs of the time are given so that the people are not fooled.

Much political activity as well. There is always politics. This is what kings and those in power do. Politics of marriage and war; great spheres of politics are engaging.

The Daniel prophecies are in a logical but not chronological order.

Daniel 7:1 In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel saw a dream and visions of his head as he lay in his bed. Then he wrote down the dream and told the sum of the matter.

Daniel 7:2 Daniel declared, "I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of heaven were stirring up the great sea.

Daniel 7:3 And four great beasts came up out of the sea, different from one another.

Hebrew language is a great descriptive language; and these descriptions here prevent this from being a massive historical discourse.

These are gentiles who will dominate Israel.

One of the power blocs will dominate the other 3.

Daniel 7:4 The first was like a lion and had eagles' wings. Then as I looked its wings were plucked off, and it was lifted up from the ground and made to stand on two feet like a man, and the mind of a man was given to it.

The Lion

1. The lion symbolizes great strength and power.
2. The lion here has wings; speaks of swiftness as well as power.
3. The lion and the eagle in the Old Testament are both symbols of Babylon. Jer. Ezek. 17:3
4. So Nebuchadnezzar and his empire is the focus of the prophecy here.

5. The wings being plucked mean the removal of Nebuchadnezzar's great mobility. A powerful army with chariots.
6. This prophecy certainly came through. His empire deteriorated after he died; it was conquered by the Persian empire.
7. The lion is lifted up and made to stand on two feet. If the lion stands on two feet, then this is Nebuchadnezzar, the king.
8. This picture is of the lion that has lost its beastly nature; it now walks upright like a man. Nebuchadnezzar changed his attitude toward the Jews because of Daniel.

This describes, with a few words, the empire of Babylon under Nebuchadnezzar.

Lesson #1009

Daniel 7:5 Life of Christ

5/7/2017 2Sunday

There is a lot of background given in the first service. If you have missed it, Bobby does not have time to fill everyone in. These prophecies all fit together; and Daniel fits perfectly with our Lord's prophecy.

We have a vision which is the background to the Olivet discourse. The last 7 years of the times of the gentiles, the Tribulation, the final 7 years of the Age of Israel; the 70th week of Daniel's prophecy. These are all names for the same time period.

There are 4 beasts and 4 winds, referring to 4 power blocs and 4 kingdoms. We have already studied the lion, which is Chaldea headed by Nebuchadnezzar. The lion has wings, which has speed and power. The wings are plucked, referring to a loss of power. Another empire takes its place, which is the bear, an animal of formidable power.

Bears are powerful animals.

Daniel 7:5 And behold, another beast, a second one, like a bear. It was raised up on one side. It had three ribs in its mouth between its teeth; and it was told, 'Arise, devour much flesh.'

The Bear

1. The 2nd beast is an animal of very formidable strength.
2. The bear represents the Persian empire.
3. The empire had a fierce and powerful army. Isa. 15:13–18
4. In this vision, the bear has 3 ribs in its mouth, which are the 3 kingdoms which preceded Persia. This would be Babylon (or Chaldea), Assyria and possibly Egypt.
5. In the vision, the bear is told to devour flesh. Who tells him to devour flesh? All kingdoms operate under divine authority. This furthers God's purposes in human history.
6. The principle is, Jesus Christ controls history. This means empires, what goes on in history, even though much of it is against. This is in spite of governments, in spite of war. There is nothing beyond the Lord. No nations, empires, religions are beyond God.

7.

The devouring of flesh means that in devouring or conquering other kingdoms and extending its territory into a vast empire; the bear was fulfilling God's purposes. Persia was right there in God's purposes. 444 B.C. Artaxerxes Longimanus sent a delegation of Jews back to the land; and he was possibly a believer in the God of the Jews. The Jews were delivered because of the voracious bear. They chewed up the Chaldean empire because they had degenerated. The Persian empire was not made up of nice guys. They were vicious and deadly and they plundered and destroy. They fulfilled God's purposes nevertheless. God can use man to accomplish His purposes. He can use their evil, as all things work together for good. This is also true on a national scale. We see this in the history of any client nation to God. All of the evil and things which have gone on, we are still a client nation to God. We are a haven for Jews and for the teaching of Bible doctrine, and for evangelism, despite there being so much evil going on. Despite the evil of the Persian empire, God used its king. In the times that we live, we must not forget that.

Daniel 7:6 After this I looked, and behold, another, like a leopard, with four wings of a bird on its back. And the beast had four heads, and dominion was given to it.

The Leopard; the 3rd Beast

1. In contrast to the bear, the leopard is known for its swiftness and agility. There were plenty of lions and leopards in that part of the world. David had to fight a lion and a bear both. They knew the qualities of a leopard and a lion. Smaller than a lion, but still fast and agile.
2. 4 wings like a bird. This does not signify an air force. An ability beyond what we would expect for speed and agility.
3. The people who conquered the Persians, the Græco-Roman empire, Alexander, also known as the bronze empire. Why wings on a leopard?
4. The rapidity with which Alexander conquered most of the known world at that time. The Persian empire was quite expansive. He took that empire in 3 years. Never seen speed like that before.
5. Alexander died young, after his empire dissolved, and his kingdom was divided into 4 parts, as Daniel 8:8, 22

Daniel 7:7 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold, a fourth beast, terrifying and dreadful and exceedingly strong. It had great iron teeth; it devoured and broke in pieces and stamped what was left with its feet. It was different from all the beasts that were before it, and it had ten horns.

The 4th beast

he is not like any other animal; a beast with long iron teeth. He crush and devoured his prey. This is an image of great power and voracious power. Sort of a hybrid, combining the lion, the bear and the leopard (as described in Revelation). He crushed and incorporated the previous 3 empires.

Daniel 7:19 "Then I desired to know the truth about the fourth beast, which was different from all the rest, exceedingly terrifying, with its teeth of iron and claws of bronze, and which devoured and broke in pieces and stamped what was left with its feet,

The 4th Beast

1. This is the power and the conquest of the old Roman empire.
2. The roman empire eclipsed all the other previous empires. They conquered all the lands of the previous 3 empires. Most people know nothing about the Persian or Chaldean empires; but they know about the Roman empire.
3. The teeth of iron, the 4th beast of Daniel's prophecy.
4. The teeth of iron is a follow-on, a future new Roman empire. Not exactly the same; but it is carved from the same geographical area as the old Roman empire. Thus, in Daniel 7:18 the prophet project beyond this new empire. But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom and possess the kingdom forever, forever and ever.' This is the millennial kingdom. This is way future. He is projecting even past the 1st advent. It has not yet happened for all ages to come. Daniel has set up a scene beyond the old Roman empire. The everlasting kingdom of God is brought in.

Daniel is speaking of the Roman empire and the Roman empire into the future. This 4th beast is an entirely different story, requiring an angel to help him understand it. This is future for Daniel and future for us as well. He lived in the Chaldean and the Persian empire. He knew nothing about the Græco-Roman empire. He is going beyond that. A future empire beyond the Roman. What empire can this be? A 5th empire back in Daniel 2.

Since the Roman empire, there have been many Roman empires. The Holy Roman Empire, the British Empire are two. These empires occur in the Church Age, and so they do not fit into this prophecy.

The 5th Beast

1. This future beast is described in v. 20. The iron teeth and bronze claws and 10 horns on its head. A hybrid beast.
2. According to v. 24, the 10 horns represent 10 kingdoms.
3. The 10 horns signify a 10 nation confederation; these nations were all linked. The old Roman empire were many groups of people linked tougher.
4. An 11th horn comes out of the 10 horns. Vv. 8, 19–24 it may seem confusing, but these prophecies are all related.
5. This little horn has great significance in relation to Israel in the Great Tribulation.
6. The little horn is a person, a person of whom we are already aware. He is the Beast, the Prince who is to come, the antichrist. He is described as such with these titles in revelation.
7. From this point on, Daniel focuses on the revelation of the person and work of this little horn. He grows out from this 10 nation confederation. He becomes even bigger.

Several Facts We Can Gather

1. He comes after the 10 horns but he also was coterminous with them.
2. As a little horn, he will not be a great international personage at the very beginning. He will not seem like much at the beginning.
3. His rise and growth will coincide with great diplomacy and conquering.
4. When the little horn arises, he becomes dominant over the 10 horns; he dominates them.
5. In fact, he uproots 3 of the 10 horns; 3 kingdoms and 3 kings. He conquers 3 of those nations. He does so to gain ascendancy over the 10 nations.
6. Clearly the 10 horns are subsumed under the 1 little horn. He is a very accomplished general; extremely arrogant. He is Satan's man completely. He takes on the arrogance of his master.
7. The 10 horns and the little horn represent a basis for a future empire. We can call it a revived Roman empire. If you know about prophecy, you have heard these terms before.

Why Is it Called the Revived Roman Empire

1. The 4th empire was Rome.
2. In spite of ancient Rome's power, it will be characterized by progressive weakness and deterioration and division. Not always a completely intact empire. More and more dissolute as time when on.
3. When Barbarians conquered Rome in the 5th century A.D., the old groupings did not ally themselves again.
4. Individual nations did grow out of the old empire. They ruled over po
5. Wever the beast is said to rule this new empire. We need to place this empire in the Tribulation.
6. The little horn will rule a future kingdom characterized by iron.
7. That kingdom coincides with Daniel's ancient kingdom; but it is not exclusively that. The 10 kings who are subsumed under the Beast will consist of the same area as the old Roman empire. This will make this a new kingdom; a revived Roman em thispire. A confederation of 10 nations to coincide with greater Europe.

Daniel 7:20 and about the ten horns that were on its head, and the other horn that came up and before which three of them fell, the horn that had eyes and a mouth that spoke great things, and that seemed greater than its companions.

Lesson #1010

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

5/10/2017 Wednesday

We need the passages in Daniel and Revelation in order to fully understand Matt. 24–25.

What about the kingdom? When are You coming back, are the questions being asked. These final 7 years are imminent; meaning that they could occur at any time, without anything being first fulfilled.

There are several titles used that all overlap. The Age of Israel. This dispensation began with Moses and the exodus and continues to the day that the LORD ascends. There are the times of the gentiles, which relate specifically to the gentiles, beginning in 586 B.C. The times of the gentiles are suspended; both coterminous with the Age of Israel. This is the time that Israel becomes a nation. We will be in heaven with the LORD and we will return with Him. This is also an encouragement.

Matt. 24:4 And Jesus answered them, "See that no one leads you astray.

Believers must not be fooled by the falsehoods that believers will hear at the beginning of the Tribulation. "Stick to what you have heard from Me."

Matt. 24:5 For many will come in My name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and they will lead many astray.

As soon as the Tribulation comes, and many will come saying that they are the Messiah; and they will lead many astray. There are those who are not versed in the end times. They become a part of the problem rather than a part of the solution.

How can you not be misled? This is why we are in Bible class so that we can think with the mind of Christ; and that we do not end up in a rabbit hole.

Matt. 24:6 And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not alarmed, for this must take place, but the end is not yet.

There will be signs that the Lord will be come soon, at the end of 7 years. They are hearing of wars and rumors of wars—and let me suggest that Jesus is speaking to those in Israel. So, they are not at war.

The end is not immediate, despite hearing about all of these wars.

Matt. 24:7 For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there will be famines and earthquakes in various places.

There will be power blocs and individual nations which will be at war.

Matt. 24:8 All these are but the beginning of the birth pains.

These things are merely the beginning of the end times. This is what happens at the first half of the Tribulation. There will be many confusing and contradictory messages. There will be extremely seductive messages going out. Some will fall for these false messiahs and they will act as evangelists for evil. Each empire is a part of the gentiles. There is the lion, the bear, the leopard; and we have already studied these empires. They are also representative of the 3 power blocs in the future times, during these 7 years, kings of the south, the north and the east. Israel is the center of the Tribulation. Israel is the purpose of the Tribulation. The entire earth will be against Israel.

Then there is a 4th beast or empire, which is the old Roman empire, revealed by Daniel. This also fits another future empire; an eschatological empire. This one is an empire with teeth of iron, coinciding with the 5th great empire of the future.

The other empires are also referenced in this future time.

Nature will go wild during the Tribulation; famines, earthquakes and terrible signs from heaven. The 4th future empire will be the domain of the little horn; a 4th empire; one of the 4 beasts. A beast also called a little horn. He is the worst of the politicians. He is a purveyor of false religion.

The Little Horn and the 10 Horns

1. This terrible dictator is described as arising out of 10 horns on the head of the 10th beast. A little horn, 10 horns, and the head of the 4th beast, which is where the 10 horns are.
2. According to Daniel 7:24, those 10 horns are 10 kingdoms; and they are a part of one beast. Then there is a little horn who arises out of the 10 horns, on the top of the one beast. We are going to deal with this little horn.
3. Out of the 10 horns comes the little horn. Dan. 7:8 9:24 out of the horn grows this one little horn.
4. The little horn has great significance in relation to Israel in the Tribulation. In fact, this one person is at the center of Israel's problems in the Tribulation.
5. The little horn is a person. We are aware of this person. He is the beast, the prince who is to come, the abomination of desolation, the one called the antichrist. People have made all kinds of suggestions about who the Antichrist is. In the Church Age, there will be a time when we are no longer on this earth; the rapture on the earth. Things develop quickly. What happens in the Church Age carries over into the rapture. People find all kinds of connections between the Church Age and the Tribulation. But we do not know.
6. As a little horn, he will not be a great international personage in the beginning. The Church Age is rolling along and this person is alive, an unbeliever, during the rapture; and we move into the Tribulation. He will be insignificant; and a leader of that one empire. 10 nation confederation; which is the revived Roman empire.
7. The little horn's rise will coincide with great diplomacy in that era.
8. This man has obviously become connected to this confederation.
9. He conquers 3 of the 10 horns. The rest of them give it over to him. He becomes the little big horn.
10. And he is the one who makes a treaty with Israel at the beginning of the Tribulation. He is the most powerful of the power blocs. He is very ambitious and he is very arrogant. He makes a treaty with nation Israel; and the treat it or his.

He is described as a king and he makes war against the saints and he will be winning that war. He will be the greatest persecutor of Israel in the history of that nation. When he makes the treaty, he offers Israel protection. He will allow them to have the Temple in Jerusalem; and he will see to it that they can worship as they want there. He makes this treaty and then he breaks it. Hitler made a non-aggression treaty with the Soviet Union in 1941 which he broke about a year later, sending 2 million men into Russia for the great eastern front of WWII.

His power will be inevitable and he will be sponsored by Satan. Huge tensions growing. He is set up as an overwhelming religious figure and he will be seen as the solution to all religious problems. He will gain great authority in the world; and he wants this authority.

He will become the dictator of dictators. He is given the power to persecute and to overcome the saints. That is true Israel. The true sons of Abraham; regenerate Israel. These are the saints in Rev. 13:7. He is the antichrist and he is prophesied in Dan. 9. Who are these 10 nations? A confederation. We do not know. The Persian, Græco Roman empire, etc.

Kings of the north, south and east. So he must be the king of the west, by deduction. So these kingdoms must come from Europe. This could even include the United States (if we survive). Certain these nations cover the area of the Old Roman empire.

1. Massive persecution by the king of the revived Roman empire, the beast, the antichrist, will take to.... The great Tribulation will be the final 3.5 years of the Tribulation. There are signs in the first half; but it is quite violent and terrible in the second half.
2. His kingdom will be removed and given to the saints forever. This is the coun...
3. The kingdom and he will institute the promised kingdom, the Millennium kingdom.

Let's look at Rev. 13. This is written by the Apostle John; but he draws from the imagery of John. Now we have a dragon.

Rev. 13:1 And I saw a beast rising out of the sea, with ten horns and seven heads, with ten diadems on its horns and blasphemous names on its heads.

The 10 diadems are the 10 crowns, meaning that this man has authority over the other 10 nations.

Rev. 13:2 And the beast that I saw was like a leopard; its feet were like a bear's, and its mouth was like a lion's mouth. And to it the dragon gave his power and his throne and great authority.

These animals have been spoken of before. Alex the Great; Persian; Chaldean empire. There is a connection here. It seems like they are going backwards in naming these animals. He is like them.

The dragon gives him this great authority and his throne. This is the servant of Satan carrying on Satan's evil authority. He has to do this quite quickly. He has very little time in which to do all of this.

Feet like a bear, which is the Persian empire. Under the Persian empire, Artaxerxes Longimontis allows the Jews to return to the land. This beast has some pro-semitic policies. He seems like a friend to the Jews. But this all changes after 3.5 years in.

A mouth like a lion. John's prophecy builds on Daniel's prophecies. Separated by 8 centuries.

The Dragon Gives Him His Power and His Throne

1. He has the greatest political authority in the world; as the representative of Satan and king of the revived Roman empire.
2. He has Satanic favor.
3. He makes advantageous alliances with other nations. He is a genius of stage crafter and very deceptive as well.
4. He is also the world leader of ecumenical religion; Satan's ace trump. This is why some think, it must be the pope! He sets up the abomination of desolation in the Temple, a statue of him to be worshiped. Do not worship God; worship me.
5. His empire will be worldwide. It will devour the whole earth.

Rev. 13:3 One of His Heads as If it Had Been Slain; and His Fatal Wound Had Been

1. One of his heads is a progeniture.
2. Roman empire destroyed in the 5th century a.d.
3. The destruction of the Roman empire in 476 was healed.
4. It was healed through the revival of the tribulational Roman empire.
5. Because of the power of the beast, many will follow him. Many will have no choice as well.
6. The unbelieving world is enticed by Satan to follow the beast. This man will be demon-possessed; Satan-possessed.
7. No creature is a greater deceiver than Satan; none greater.

Rev. 13:3 One of its heads seemed to have a mortal wound, but its mortal wound was healed, and the whole earth marveled as they followed the beast.

Now we look at v. 4. They worship the dragon.

Rev. 13:4 And they worshiped the dragon, for he had given his authority to the beast, and they worshiped the beast, saying, "Who is like the beast, and who can fight against it?"

Beast Worship

1. Those who worship the beast also worship Satan. This will be a very large group. Satan and the beast will be worshiped on the Temple mount in the Temple.
2. The world sees no one else like him on the world scene.
3. They think that no one can defeat him in the human realm. They want security.

4.

These followers of the dragon and the beast are godless, seeing nothing beyond humanism and human solutions. He will be the one who defeats the beast and the dragon. In human terms, it does not appear that anyone can defeat him. Probably the most interesting man on earth as well. Satan is also the great deceiver and the most powerful. Only Jesus Christ can destroy him and He will do it.

If the Tribulation ran longer than 7 years, Israel would be annihilated. That is why there are all of these signs. Israel will be delivered.

Lesson #1011

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

5/11/2017 Thursday

The signs that our Lord will give will herald the first half of the Tribulation. The second 3.5 years are called the Great Tribulation.

When the church terminates at the rapture of the church; and then there is the 7 years; this is where the 7 years begins and there are no believers in earth at that time. There will be many believers who will choose to believe after the rapture. Two supernatural witnesses (Moses and Elijah) and the 144,000 Jewish evangelists.

People must be aware of the signs and what to do; and this is in Matt. 24:4–5. The fact that they herald the soon-to-come 2nd advent. The end is truly near. The same attitude that we should have about the return of the Lord, although we do not know how long that will be.

We know that we will live in heaven forever; and that is a great encouragement to us, just as it will be for those who believe in the Tribulation. The beginning of birth pangs.

Birth pangs. The Lord will come from heaven but not all the way to earth; and we who are alive will meet the Lord in the air; whereas, the LORD actually returns to earth to set up the kingdom.

Matt. 24:8 All these are but the beginning of the birth pains.

The birth pangs are the opening years of the time of Jacob's distress, as Jeremiah calls it. One major sign will be false messiahs. They will appear and try to mislead people. There will be evangelism and a number of men and possibly women who arise and claim to be the Messiah; and many will follow them.

There will be one in particular named in Daniel 7, the little horn, who will spring from a 10-nation confederation; and he will rule those 10 nations. He will begin with a treaty with Israel. He is ambitious and arrogant; and he furthers his own interests by doing this. There will be a Temple in Jerusalem then; but right now, there is a mosque right there. He will allow Israel to reconstruct a Temple on the Temple mount. He will become very powerful in 3.5 years. He is called the Beast in Daniel and Revelation. He will represent Satan in the Tribulation. People need to recognize this man. If they do not, then they will be confused as to what to do.

Vv. 6–7 will be some catastrophes.

Matt. 24:6 And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not alarmed, for this must take place, but the end is not yet.

The brutality and destructiveness of physical combat is incredibly destructive in the areas where wars are fought. This is true, regardless of the weaponry. In the Middle Ages, wars were truly a brutal affair. Swords, battleaxes, until one side was destroyed. In WWI, it was flesh against machine guns. Today, the lethality of the battlefield is unsurpassed. Incredibly accurate small arms; and very accurate weaponry; and nuclear weapons. It cannot be avoided in the Tribulation.

The United States will fight for our freedoms. Some think that we are an imperialistic power; and most of our wars have been fought for freedoms, which is a sound reason to go to war. This is even though the character of war is awful.

Wars and the Tribulation

1. In the Tribulation, wars of conquest and religious imperialism are the order of the day.
2. Whether we know it or not, that is the predominant reason for war in human history. Wars for empires, conquests, imperialism.
3. In the Tribulation, war is more prevalent and more widespread than it is even today. There are constant conflicts going on today. Always some wars going on. 52 wars going on in the mid-90's. It is all the time.
4. In the end, there will be a final battle; and the Prince of Peace will return. He will do a bang-up job at Armageddon. Blood will run the height of a horse's bridle. The only peace we might have, which is gotten through military victory. Pick up the booklet. As believers, we should understand this.
5. When the Lord returns at the 2nd advent, it will be total victory where the enemy is annihilated; and Satan is cast into the pit for 1000 years. All of the human enemies will be destroyed then.
6. The non-shooting rumors of wars; cold wars, threats; and they elicit fears and concern. Always bellicose posturing by some leaders. Today, North Korea and nations like Iran are both aggressive and bellicose types. What happens because of these nuclear threats by Kim Jung Un; and Iran.

Kim is crazy like a fox. The press reports that we are on the brink of war; and there is hysteria; and we attempt to make treaties with people not really interested in treaties. The threat of nuclear weapons exploding on our shores causes panic and hysteria among some here. The report of such wars can be greatly exaggerated. If you cannot project power, negotiations are a waste of time. There is no reason to negotiate. If they know nothing is going to happen, why should they do so?

Treaties from weakness is nothing but appeasement. This is throwing gasoline on a fire to put it out. To preclude a shooting war in the Tribulation, alliances will be made and great compromises made; and these will occur in the first 3.5 years; and they will not be to the advantage of Israel. The dictator of the Revived Roman Empire will not be to the advantage of Israel, even though they will agree to it.

Israel is the crossroads of the world; the center of the power blocs of the world. The pan-Arabic bloc, the European bloc, and the Russian-ally bloc. Nations will rise against Israel. Compromise treaties will be written.

The nation of Israel is alive and well in Palestine; the area where Israel has traditionally lived. There is a nation there at this point. That nation is surrounded on all sides by her enemies; by those who would annihilate her. Their neighbors will fire random missiles into Israel, not caring who they harm.

Satan wants to destroy Israel; and anyone aligned with Satan will want to do the same. Satan would like to keep such a promise from being fulfilled. Satan is a great deceiver. The Jews are the center of the Angelic Conflict for these reasons.

The Beast has the objective to destroy Israel because he is Satan's man. The dragon gives its power and authority to this man, the Beast.

Because of these things happening in Israel today, the way they are developing, there are definite similarities. It may seem like nations are aligning there; great alliances being formed. We can see so many problems occurring in Israel. It is all very similar.

As believers in the Church Age, do not draw false conclusions from existing conditions today. Such things do not tell us that the rapture is around the corner. Do not try to fit contemporary circumstances into the plans and purposes of God. That can become a distraction to spiritual growth and spiritual life.

There has been a great interest as of late in all things prophetic. The book of Revelation has been interpreted over and over again. Itching ears about prophecy. Not interested in the doctrine of the epistles or studying the life of Christ. We ought to know eschatology; but it can be a distraction, if it is your focus in life.

There was a man who started in Berachah Church and he wrote many books on prophecy; and that has been the entire focus of his ministry; and he was a great teacher; and he should have concentrated on growth. Bobby says what he teaches is mostly accurate.

We may be seeing alliances in the ready for the Tribulation. When this happens, we all go. The Tribulation starts with unbelievers completely; and there are circumstances. The Tribulation does not start in a vacuum. There are circumstances in the Church Age which lead us into the Tribulation. But there is no prophecy about this period prior to the Tribulation. These circumstances have been true before. Do not get caught up in all of that. No one knows, despite some people say, "I do know; it's coming soon." Do not be fooled and spend all of your time speculating, worried about what is going to happen. Eschatology is interesting, but it is not your spiritual life. Stick with what the Bible says.

Compromises in the Tribulation between nations will not make anyone any more safe in the Tribulation. No UN negotiations will stop any wars then any more than they do today.

Matt. 24:7a For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom,...

There will be another sign of the return of the Lord, the signs of nature.

Matt. 24:7b ...and there will be famines and earthquakes in various places.

Many people left during our last hurricane and ended upon the freeways for 24 hours. Whenever it happens, there is flooding, power outages, wind damages, trees all over the place. Such catastrophes will be occurring at a much larger scale. Natural signs, weather catastrophes. Some may even try to claim that these are man-made weather disasters.

Great signs from heaven can include a lack of rain; all over the world. Josephus's description of the people who are really hungry in Jerusalem. Even cannibalism at that time.

There will be the prevalence of earthquakes, adding a new dimension to the terror of the times. Bobby sitting in a tent and the earth looked like the ocean; quite memorable. When the earth moves under your feet, it is quite memorable. There will be a great change in the topography of the earth. Imagine the plates of the San Andreas Fault; and there will be new beach fronts. Also volcanic activity; increased eruptions. Destructive events like Krakatoa, one of the greatest eruptions where the ash went around the world 3 times, blocking out the sun in some areas.

Equivalent of a 400 megaton explosion, Mount Saint Helens. Great topographical changes. If you have been to Seattle, Washington and Mount Ranier, an active volcano. Covered with snow. There would no longer be Puget Sound. Seattle would be buried.

Also tidal waves. Series of 100 ft. tidal waves which wiped out coastlines and many died. John describes such natural world events.

Rev. 6:12 When he opened the sixth seal, I looked, and behold, there was a great earthquake, and the sun became black as sackcloth, the full moon became like blood,

Rev. 6:14 The sky vanished like a scroll that is being rolled up, and every mountain and island was removed from its place.

Every mountain moved out of its place; same with islands.

Parallel Prophecies

1. John's disclosure in Rev. 6 is parallel to Christ's signs in Matt. 24.
2. John's first seal had to do with a rider on a white or pale horse; and this is a false messiah, as in Matt. 24:5.

3. As a result of his appearance, peace will be shattered on the earth. War will be the result. Rev. 6:4 Matt. 24:6a
4. As a result of war, there will be famine and pestilence. Rev. 6:6 Matt. 24
5. Both Jesus and John predicting these signs before the Lord returns.

The signs revealed by the Lord are not those preceding the rapture. They happen during the Tribulation during the 2nd advent of Christ. All of these verses deal with the 7 year period of the Tribulation. These signs are much more concentrated and earth-shaking than anything occurring to day.

All these things are the beginning of birth pangs, on the road to the 2nd advent.

Lesson #1012

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

5/14/2017 1Sunday

Communion Sunday:

God has to have a solution to the sin problem. God cannot have anything to do with our sins. His perfect standards must be met in order for us to be reconcile to Him. No good deeds, no apologies, etc. can satisfy God's integrity. Man's fallen nature still exists within man. God cannot simply declare us righteous. He cannot make concessions or allowances for our sin; and yet still be absolute righteousness. He cannot accept sinful man, even if He wants to. If the demands of His righteousness are not met, then God is merely winking at sin. His absolute righteousness becomes nothing more than relative righteousness; a defective integrity. If God accepted the flawed standards of man in order to have a relationship with man, He would accommodate His perfect character. If God sins or acts outside of His perfect character or if He accepts sinfulness, Satan wins. Satan gains some sort of odd equality with God, God is compromised.

We are all slaves to sin. No one can escape it. As members of the human race, we all exist in a slave market of sin; in a place where we are unable to redeem ourselves. Slaves and masters do not associate on the same level. We cannot emancipate ourselves from the depravity of our nature. As things stand, we can only be condemned; and justice must be done. God must carry out a death sentence on us. Yet God wants to give us a pardon; God wants to give us a release. But there must be punishment which satisfies the demands of His perfect justice. We must become aware that, in our sin and spiritual death, we cannot reach God's perfect standards. Even the best of us have nothing of value to offer God. Just as slaves cannot free themselves from slavery, we cannot free ourselves from the slave market of sin. Our freedom must be negotiated by an outside source.

Slavery did not end in the United States as a result of slaves declaring themselves free. Slave rebellions were crushed. Hundreds of thousands of union soldiers had to die in order for slaves to be made free.

We need, in the same way, someone to intervene on our behalf; someone needs to die for us. Jesus Christ was born into this world. True and impeccable humanity. God had intervened for us. The Lord did not have to die for us; but He chose to. Which one of us can repay Him for our salvation? But we do not have to; that is God's grace.

The picture of the sacrifice in the Old Testament: the blood of the innocent animal was shed; a shadow of the later more perfect work of Christ. Kapar meant to cover over, to pass over; and this is what happened to the sins of Israel on the day of Atonement. Sins were passed over only by the ritual of an innocent lamb. The sacrificial animal took the punishment of death for us; it is sinless and representative of the blood of Christ. His blood paid for our penalty.

The punishment focuses on divine justice and righteousness. If love is the only answer, then there is no need to consider God's integrity.

God tolerated the death of His Son because it was absolutely necessary. 1Cor. 15:56 the sting of sin is death. This is why God needed to allow the horrendous death of His Son. God took upon Himself our sins; He made Himself true humanity in order to take upon Himself our sins.

Deity cannot take on sins; only the humanity of Jesus could take on Himself our sins. Incredible sacrifice of the humanity of Jesus Christ is the reason why God the Father passed over our sins. Because of that, we have a chance for a relationship because of the work of Christ.

Do we have any idea what it took for God to place sin upon His Son. It was necessary in order for our salvation and for God to maintain His divine integrity. His justice and righteousness are inflexible. None of God's attributes will ever be violated.

Christ was judged for sins, even though He never sinned. It was His perfect human race which made Him the perfect sacrifice, the only sacrifice which made man reconcilable and redeemable. This sacrifice made us free from our own sin. No one can intervene on behalf of man to God apart from a Perfect Mediator. Christ offered to pay a debt, which He did not personally incur nor did He owe.

The believer receives the righteousness of God at the moment of faith alone in Christ alone. That is the only perfect righteousness that we may have. We are now therefore acceptable and justified before God. So God's love and grace are visible for all to observe and marvel.

Lesson #1013

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

5/14/2017 2Sunday

One day of the year, we consider mothers. If you are still under the authority of your parents, they sacrifice for you more than you will ever know. If you have appreciation for that mother only once a year, you need to develop capacity for life and capacity for love. Similarly, we have Christmas and Easter every day.

R. B. Thieme, Jr. Ministries can be ordered online now. Once you submit the order, it goes to the ministry staff and will be fulfilled the next day. No Bible class this next week.

We are in Matt. 24 Mark 13 and Luke 21. We have studied the 70th week of Daniel. We have studied the times of the gentiles; and about the final years of the resumed Age of Israel. All of these are synonymous names for the Tribulation. This is all about prophecy; all about the future, at an unknown time in the future. There is only one certain bit of information about the future, and that is what we read in the Bible.

Now, in Matt. 24:9ff the description of the Great Tribulation. There have been terrible times in human history; but this will be the greatest time of misery, unlike any other in human history. We no longer find a description of natural or man-made disasters or dictators or famine or horrendous weather. The description of the 2nd half of the Tribulation becomes very personal.

Matt. 24:9 "Then [be on your guard, before these things take place] they [will lay their hands on you] will deliver you up [to the courts; you will be flogged in the synagogues; delivered to prisons] to tribulation and put you to death, and you [will be dragged before kings and courts as a testimony to them. When you are arrested and carried away, do not be disturbed beforehand] will be hated by all nations for my name's sake.

They is the dictator of the Revived Roman Empire; and they will lay their hands on you.

These things will occur. The first thing that you want to do is to defend yourself; and it is natural, if you have been lied about. These people who are arrested are innocent of any crime except for believing in Jesus Christ.

Mark 13:9 "But be on your guard. For they will deliver you over to councils, and you will be beaten in synagogues, and you will stand before governors and kings for my sake, to bear witness before them.

Mark 13:10 And the gospel must first be proclaimed to all nations.

Mark 13:11 And when they bring you to trial and deliver you over, do not be anxious beforehand what you are to say, but say whatever is given you in that hour, for it is not you who speak, but the Holy Spirit [for I will give you utterance and wisdom which none of your opponents be able to refute].

Mark 13:13 And you will be hated by all for my name's sake. But the one who endures to the end will be saved.

Luke 21:13 This will be your opportunity to bear witness.

Luke 21:14 Settle it therefore in your minds not to meditate beforehand how to answer,

Luke 21:15 for I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which none of your adversaries will be able to withstand or contradict.

Luke 21:16 You will be delivered up even by parents and brothers and relatives and friends, and some of you they will put to death.

Luke 21:17 You will be hated by all for my name's sake.

This will all happen in the future. But Jesus promises this.

Luke 21:18 But not a hair of your head will perish.

Luke 21:19 By your endurance you will gain your lives.

These are the signs of the times that will precede the Lord Jesus Christ. These are part of the signs that true Israel will note; and they must endure.

The Age of Israel, the Hypostatic Union, the Church Age; and at the conclusion of the Church Age, there will be the rapture and all will be raptured up.

This will encourage those, under very difficult circumstances, that they might persevere.

Do not mix up the dispensations. There is a difference between the Church Age and the Tribulation. There is no national dispensation; we live during the time of the body of Christ.

The rapture is immanent, but that does not mean that it is coming in a few days or in a few weeks. We cannot read the signs and determine that the rapture is close. The rapture is guaranteed to happen; but no signs are given for the impending rapture. Nowhere do we read about the signs of a coming rapture. Plenty of falsehoods are floating around out there. We cannot superimpose some set of doctrines over the passages that we are studying.

Defending yourself is one thing; defending the Lord Jesus Christ is what this is all about.

The circumstances of the Church Age which lead into the Tribulation cannot be depended upon for a future Tribulation. Something bad will be happening; but bad things happen throughout human history.

There will be a plethora of teachers proclaiming false doctrines; and powerful dictators and powerful power blocs; and we have all of that today. Wars and rumors of wars occurring today. We have upheavals of nature now and in the Tribulation.

General Points of Events of Today

1. These events today are not the specific signs of the return of the Lord at the rapture; nor are these signs of the beginning of the Tribulation. None of us will be here in the Tribulation.
2. These are specific signs assigned to the Tribulation for that time period only. Do not try to sort out the religious leaders based upon similar circumstances
3. There are no signs that precede the rapture in prophecy as there are for the 2nd advent. There is some encouragement in this.

The things which must take place are the signs of what will occur prior to His 2nd advent. Be on your guard.

Mark 13:9 "But be on your guard. For they will deliver you over to councils, and you will be beaten in synagogues, and you will stand before governors and kings for my sake, to bear witness before them.

Mark 13:10 And the gospel must first be proclaimed to all nations.

Mark 13:11 And when they bring you to trial and deliver you over, do not be anxious beforehand what you are to say, but say whatever is given you in that hour, for it is not you who speak, but the Holy Spirit [for I will give you utterance and wisdom which none of your opponents be able to refute].

Luke 21:16 You will be delivered up even by parents and brothers and relatives and friends, and some of you they will put to death.

This will be done for the Lord's name sake.

Matt. 24:9 "Then they will deliver you up to tribulation and put you to death, and you will be hated by all nations for My Name's sake.

At that future time, the Lord's return will be near. The period of time will seem long to the believer; and there will be misery and persecution.

Why does this happen? The Tribulation begins with unbelievers only; and the nations and individuals will go crazy with evil.

It is very easy to lose sight of who you are in the plan of God; in Christ. It is easy to focus on your troubles and difficulties. What is your motive to persevere? This is a rationale right here; the future rationale. What is a few short years, months or days of adversity compared to eternity.

On a much smaller scale, Bobby can understand difficult circumstances. He thinks of Army Ranger school; extreme pressure, exhaustion, hunger. This was a leadership course that placed you under maximum pressure. The attempt was to simulate true warfare. Keeping your eyes on the prize during the most adverse circumstances; and quitting ends those conditions immediately. You could have a great meal, have some sleep, and the pressure was off. The person knew that this would be over in that specified period of 8 weeks. You look forward to that moment of graduation, the triumph over adversity. Wore that little black and gold tab on your shoulder for the rest of your life. So it will be on a much grander scale for believers in the Tribulation. They know the time will come to an end at the end of 7 years. They understand that they can endure and they will graduate and enter the kingdom and they will receive rewards for persevering in God's plan. There will be terrible persecution because they will be spreading the Word of Christ throughout the world.

The disciples will face similar circumstances in the near future; incredible circumstances; and severe persecution prior to the destruction of the Temple and Jerusalem. Only John would outlive this fall. They all had circumstances coming. Very similar.

The Warnings of What Is to Come

1. Luke 21:7–8 warns that there will be many false messiahs; many other religions which are Satanic; and the no-religion, the atheists.
2. Wars and rumors of wars; 2 years of war while the Romans took on Jerusalem for 2 years. And the wars are still coming. Throughout history, there has never been a time without war. Never has there been entire peace on the planet. It never has happened and never will happen.
3. They would be dragged into courts and before governors and kings. How much time did Paul spend in court in the book of Acts?
4. Tribulation believers would be delivered to prisons; all of the Apostles spent time in prisons for proclaiming the gospel of Jesus Christ. Paul departed this life under house arrest.
5. So these same type of persecutions would continue for the disciples in their future ministries; and that was but a foretaste of what the Tribulation would be like.

In Red China, believers are persecuted unmercifully.

Bobby quoted a passage where there are earthquakes and signs; but it will not be to this extent.

Matt. 24:9 "Then they will deliver you up to tribulation and put you to death, and you will be hated by all nations for My Name's sake.

At this time, there will be a radical change and it will be sudden. Quickly, the world can change dramatically and rapidly. What we thought would be the trend of history, things suddenly changed. 9/11 is an obvious change in our history. Overnight, the world was perceived by us through a different lens. Things were going along smoothly.

Lately, the persecution of Christians was greatly increased since that time. Radical changes overnight. At the 3.5 year point; and suddenly, everything changes. That is when things suddenly get bad; overnight. Things go from bad to much worse; and it is sudden.

This will be official policy; governors and kings. We think that we are being scrutinized and controlled by government today; with socialist legislation that intrudes upon our lives. But then, believers will be dragged into court for simply mentioning the name of the Lord. There will be government spies and informants everywhere. They will curry favor with the government by doing this. It will be forbidden and punishable by death to mention the name of Jesus Christ. He will be seen as dangerous, as divisive, as a man who would not allow anyone their safe space.

For this reason, it will be a good idea to be on your guard. False messiahs will crop up. Many Jews who are not on guard, who have no knowledge, who have no idea what is being presented. They will worship a man, the beast; and not God.

The Beast

1. There is a radical change because the beast has risen to power during the first half of the Tribulation. He begins as the little horn and he is constantly on the rise. The #1 person in the world. This is why things change so much.
2. He is the one who made a treaty with Israel at the beginning of the Tribulation. He did that as a part of his rise to power. He will allow them to worship about the Temple, for the first time since A.D. 70.
3. After 3.5 years, he breaks the treaty. Daniel 9:27
4. He will bring great persecution on Israel along with his military threat. He will be the most powerful military man at this time.
5. He establishes himself as a deity. Not just a powerful dictator. The head of a worldwide ecumenical religion. There are eastern religions which are worldwide; a false religion and he is the head of it. He imposes a cultic worship of him in the world.
6. So far as Israel is concerned, he will defile the Temple in Israel and he erects a statue of himself in the Temple for them to worship. He will be the abomination; the abomination of desolation.
7. In a world of unbelievers, it will be as a testimony to them, a testimony to the world; all of this is a testimony to the world. Some believers will endure to the end as a testimony to Him.

This is a concept worth examining.

Lesson #1015 Isa. 28:11–12 Mark 13:11 Life of Christ 5/21/2017 2Sunday

In 3.5 years, after the Abomination of Desolation is set up, they know that this will be followed by perfect environment and perfect government. The Lord tells them that with these signs, this would be a very difficult time. They will be persecuted; they will be thrown into prison. Be on your guard, for there will be false teachers as well. He will set himself up (as a statue) in the Temple to be worshiped by the Jews. Could this be a hologram or a place from which he can speak to all peoples?

This will dramatically increase in the Tribulation, the persecution of believers; and this leads to greater evangelism. You would think that people would go underground. Persecution leads to greater evangelism. That is foundational. There are plenty of examples. During the time of Paul, Rome worshiped many gods; and they persecuted it, and it spread like wildfire throughout the Roman empire. Like the Protestants during the reformation. Tremendous persecution of these men during the reformation. Huguenots in France and Puritans in England (who moved elsewhere and then returned); the Pilgrims were the same group. They came all the way to the new world. People being persecuted in the Middle east; and perhaps there will be an increase of this in the United States.

Persecuted believers in the Tribulation will boldly stand before all, in the synagogues, in the courts, and in the prisons.

Mark 13:10 And the gospel must first be proclaimed to all nations.

These believers will stand before kings and governors and the gospel will come through. It supercedes and overcomes all.

Mark 13:11 And when they bring you to trial and deliver you over, do not be anxious beforehand what you are to say, but say whatever is given you in that hour, for it is not you who speak, but the Holy Spirit.

Here the Lord says, “Do not worry about this beforehand. Do not worry about you will defend yourself.” First thing that most people call for is a lawyer; but here, we will be only able to defend ourselves by giving the gospel. This situation is before governors, kings and queens. “You do not first amendment rights to hate speech.”

Say, whatever God the Holy Spirit guides you to say in that hour. It is not you who speaks but the Holy Spirit Who will speak for you. Therefore, why would you worry? That is why you are in front of these people. You are there to represent the Lord Jesus Christ. The focus is not on the person; the focus is always on the message. The gift of pastor-teacher is being able to put the message front and center; and place yourself in the background. In any presentation of the Word of God, when the pastor is teaching and filled with the Holy Spirit, or when you speak the gospel to someone, you have a Helper. He will bring to mind things that you need at the right time.

“Are you a Christian?” “Yes I am; and let me tell you what I believe.”

god promises utterance and wisdom.

Luke 21:14–15 Settle it therefore in your minds not to meditate beforehand how to answer, for I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which none of your adversaries will be able to withstand or contradict.

“If you are right and I am a fool, what does it matter? But if I am right, then what I say is a great importance to both of us.” The gospel is the word of promise to all of us. It cannot be resisted; it cannot be refuted.

The Lord will give us utterance and wisdom at the right time. The Holy Spirit gives us strength and telling us what to say. Some take this to indicate that tongues are legitimate in this dispensation. Isn't that tongues? Tongues, in Scripture, is a foreign language spoken by a person who does not know that language. Tongues spoken in the 1st century spread the gospel rapidly throughout the gentile world. The church was Jew and gentile at this time. Israel was not a client nation; and Jews and gentiles who believed were one in Christ.

Hearing the gospel in one's primary language, coming in an odd place, was quite amazing. It would be like wandering down the streets of Japan and suddenly hear some speaking English. It would jump out at you.

A warning period extended over the first 4 decades over the early church. This is why glossaphalia functioned as evangelism and as a warning of the Jews, a warning of judgment.

I think the idea is, when the Jews hear the gospel of their God given to them in a gentile tongue, then judgment is near—no matter when this occurs.

“I will speak to this people in gentile tongues; and even then, they will not listen to Me.”

Isa. 28:11–12 For by people of strange lips and with a foreign tongue the LORD will speak to this people, to whom he has said, "This is rest; give rest to the weary; and this is repose"; yet they would not hear.

Today, tongues are supposedly found in churches, but they are for the believers there; and tongues is a sign for unbelievers. Since the destruction of Jerusalem, there was a great disaster. There would be a prelude to this intensive disaster. The nation would not listen during this 40 year period of time. They knew the sign of Isaiah; they were well aware of this. This prophecy was fulfilled in 586 B.C. That is what Isaiah warned them about. This would also occur after God began to set aside Israel as His client nation.

Jerusalem would be destroyed again in A.D. 70. The tongues sign was inevitable. They had 40 years hearing this sign of judgment and destruction; as it occurred in 586 B.C. Israel will not be a client nation again until the Tribulation.

Tongues are not valid for the Church Age today. The tongues gift ceased with the growth of the early church, the destruction of Jerusalem, and the completion of the Word of God. Tongues spread the gospel throughout the world. But, after A.D. 70, tongues was no longer required in order to spread the gospel.

There is no need today to mark a new dispensation, as tongues did for the Church Age. They were a sign of the new Church Age. The rapture is the only sign of a change of dispensation, when the Church Age is over.

Speaking in tongues is an anachronism today. They think that there is energy here, and great enjoyment; and that this shows off the power of the Spirit. Some churches like energy and entertainment. They like leaving churches thinking that they have had a good time. The problem with churches today and tongues is, they do not understand it. There is an emotional high. They think that the Holy Spirit is among us. The Holy Spirit certainly speaks through us; and in ways that we recognize usually after the fact. We do not have to see the Holy Spirit working as they did at Pentecost. They did not have the complete Word of God. At that time in history, there was no New Testament. Not a single word of it had been written.

The Tribulation will begin without any believers. Could tongues be a part of evangelism at this time? Possibly. There will be counterfeit tongues, without a doubt, at this time. The beast will be indwelt and empowered by Satan. Matt. 24:24. Tongues are used today as falsehood to confuse believers.

This is a man who sets himself up as a god. He sets himself up to be worshiped in the Temple; an icon. He validates himself by speaking in tongues and healing. He will act like a messiah of sorts. He will be the great deceiver in the Tribulation. He is backed by Satan, the ultimate deceiver. What he does is remarkable. Now these things are used in a different way. We have a validation by a false messiah.

How did God validate His Son? Through His miracles and signs.

Many false messiahs will arise, and one in particular.

Lesson #1016

Mark 13:11 Life of Christ

5/24/2017 Wednesday

There has been a great deal of persecution of the church throughout history. This reveals that this is the true religion; that Jesus is God; and so we would expect Satan to oppose it.

There is very little persecution of Muslims in the world, even though there are opposing groups. Christians are in the sites of many who are out there.

Through all of the persecution, whether this be believers at the beginning of the Church Age or believers in the Tribulation, Jesus tells them that He will not leave them alone to fend for themselves. They represent Him. They are His witnesses; and He will remain with them and guide them, even though he will not be physically with them.

The Lord gives them a foretaste of what is coming in the future.

“When they arrest you and hand you over, for interrogation before governors, kings, courts and synagogues. When they do that, do not fear beforehand.” Does this mean that we should take this without a whimper? “This is not fair, I have not done anything wrong; I want a lawyer.” That is exactly what He means. We are not talking about a crime here; we are talking about illegitimate persecution by the government. Do not worry and do not make a defense; you do not have to.

Truly their lives will be at stake. The mandate is to testify to these authorities about Jesus Christ; to condemn them for believing in Jesus Christ. Do not worry; tell them. Give them the gospel. We know what mass media looks like; internet; tweeting; and there will be bigger and better things as technology progresses. There will be mass media involved; the world will hear. Speak the gospel. Proclaim Jesus Christ.

Obviously, this one circumstance is a lot of pressure. Can you endure courts, and prison and torture? Will this hostility make it difficult for you to speak? Those congressmen who are holding town meetings and the people have gone crazy; they are screaming at them; yelling at them. They are under pressure to speak. Can they say anything to calm such a crowd? Probably not. When these people speak, they will be heard. This is the most powerful message on earth; there is nothing more powerful. Fear would not be abnormal at this point. But Jesus says, not to worry; He provides a solution.

Mark 13:11 And when they bring you to trial and deliver you over, do not be anxious beforehand what you are to say, but say whatever is given you in that hour, for it is not you who speak, but the Holy Spirit.

The Holy Spirit is going to help them out; He will guide them in their speech. They will say the right things under maximum pressure. "You have an ace in the hole." This is because the Holy Spirit is behind it.

If they make a defense, it is self-centered; and the Lord sends them there to evangelize. They are not to worry about defending themselves. They cannot lawyer or argue their way out of this. They are condemned for believing in Jesus Christ. So, continue to follow Him. Take it to them.

Millions of Christians have been martyred for the gospel. Whatever they may say, it is guided by God the Holy Spirit and they have impact. Stephen is the prototype for this. He was stoned in the middle of Jerusalem for believing in the Lord. Saul of Tarsus was holding the coats of those who stoned him. There is a purpose; there is a mission. There is a mission to glorify God. We have the greatest help of all. Persecution opens the door. It is not to be feared. When it happens, do not worry. It is an open door. Even though false charges are brought against those to be persecuted; and the safety of their person is not in view. There is no safety; or even silence. They go on the offense; not the defense. Our first inclination is to go on the defense. We are to take it to them; and present the gospel. Defense is futile and counterproductive for the circumstance. It will work out; for your benefit and for the plan of God. Now, you might still be persecuted; but you put your future in the hands of the LORD where it belongs.

When You Are Prosecuted Unjustly

1. No personal circumstances of a believer is the issue when delivering the gospel message. Circumstances are simply a means to get to that point.
2. Believers are simply purveyors of the gospel; they are the mouthpieces of the gospel. The circumstances do not matter. What matters is what comes out of your mouth.
3. This is why they must endure the hardships to come. It would be very easy for an immature believer to go through this and see no purpose in it at all. There has always been something. What a great moment it is when you get to a situation that you cannot do anything about and it is not a good situation. You can say, it is in the hands of the Lord. What a great moment it is when you can relax and put it in the hands of God. However it goes, whatever happens, it is okay. We also have all those problem solving devices that we might use as well.
4. They must endure hardships because they can do nothing else in accomplishing the plan of God. When these hardships are thrown in our way, it is for a purpose. It is not about us, when we are having adversity. It is not about us; it is about the plan of God in our life. If we don't get stressed out by it, we will fulfill the plan of God for our life.
5. The issue is always the gospel of Jesus Christ. Even when our life is in danger. This is a statement that many people don't buy. If you are going down, it might as well be for the gospel of Jesus Christ. We go down for a cause; the cause; the only one that is worth anything. Evangelism for Christ never ceases no matter the circumstances. No matter what governments try, or atheists try; or other religions try; the gospel will not be stopped. No matter what is tried, they cannot win.

Today in the United States, evangelism is being curtailed in government institutions, in the military. You would never have thought it would happen. Not supposed to have the name of Christ in any government building; in the classroom. You even need a permit in some places to speak about Jesus Christ in some places. In some foreign nations, believers are dying for speaking the gospel. But this never stops believers from speaking the gospel. “Go to all the world and proclaim the gospel.” The powers of hell cannot defeat the gospel. We must realize that the work of evangelism is just as much ours as it is any other believer. We are not left out of this equation.

You might be laughed at or mocked; you might face open hostility or even physical violence. The disciples are concerned about this. Believers are not left on their own under such power-packed circumstances. Have you given the gospel of Jesus Christ to anyone else.

Make sure you are in fellowship, and if you have any knowledge of the gospel; you relax and ask a question or two. Suddenly, there is an opening and it is easy to walk through. If we want to present the gospel to someone, we have help, by God the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit speaks through us. Their minds will be working; your mind will be working. We will not be put into a trance and God takes over our vocal cords.

Speaking the Truth under Pressure.

1. The Holy Spirit will enable them to bring to mind what to say, based upon what they know.
2. So, in making this statement, Jesus assumes a certain knowledge of God’s Word. We are not empty vessels through which the Lord speaks; and our minds are not attached. Holy rollers believe this sort of thing. A great presentation is the presentation of the gospel to the believer.
3. There are always two keys to success in the Christian life. The power of the filling of the Holy Spirit and the second is doctrine in the soul. Everything stems from these two things. Paul had to face many courts, many beatings, and eventually, he was beheaded. That is what this is about. That is what Jesus is talking about.
4. They will say the right things at the right times. They will speak boldly without fear with the Bible doctrine in their souls. It is brought to mind and spoken through the filling of the Holy Spirit. This is done with knowledge. Mature believers will function with a relaxed mental attitude, despite natural fears. Your fears will not completely dissipate. It is speaking the truth no matter what the circumstance. Inability to speak the right thing is cowardice.

This does not mean that there will not be repercussions. The disciples were harassed and jailed and tortured and taken to court. “I will give you utterance and wisdom.”

Speaking the Word of God Appropriately

1. This is Jesus speaking to the disciples of what He has been teaching them. This information is resident in their souls. His own thinking; His mind; His wisdom.

2. This in connection with the empowerment of the Holy Spirit is what will come to mind when be tried before the court. Jesus has given this information to His disciples. This information is irresistible.
3. Who in this world can overcome with their own logic and human viewpoint, the power, grace of the Word of God. No one can overcome that.

Then the Lord presents a grim fact. Opposition will also come, not just from the governors and the kings; but from very, very close personal relationships. This is a very sad thing. This must have been shocking to these men. The severity of it is unimaginable to most of us. Brothers, sisters, friends, spouses. They will inform on believers. Some will do it for their own gain or their own protection; or because of real antagonism against Christ and the gospel.

How can best friends or family members give others over to the courts. Deviated thinking and hatred of the truth.

Because lawlessness is increased, natural affection will grow cold.

Mark 13:12 And brother will deliver brother over to death, and the father his child, and children will rise against parents and have them put to death.

Mark 13:13 And you will be hated by all for my name's sake. But the one who endures to the end will be saved.

Luke 12:52 For from now on in one house there will be five divided, three against two and two against three.

Luke 12:53 They will be divided, father against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law."

Education today has become propaganda mills. And it will be worse in the Tribulation. Islam trains children from an early age to fight and kill for Allah. Honor killings even today.

Jesus warns that they will be betrayed by relatives and friends.

Hatred and persecution of Christianity can become quite vicious. At the heart of persecution; this is the worse of the worse.

Lesson #1017

Matt. 24:12 Life of Christ

5/25/2017 Thursday

Matt. 24:12 And because lawlessness will be increased, the love of many will grow cold.

This is a profound, far-reaching statement, here. There is no maybe, this is true; maybe it is not. This is the Word of God; this is the wisdom of the Lord Jesus Christ. What is He imparting? There is a cause and effect here. An increase of lawlessness which apparently leads to love going cold. This can reflect an entire lawless society.

What Does Lawlessness Mean?

1. Lawlessness among individuals; and especially among children. This begins with rebellion in the soul. There is a lack of respect for authority.
2. Lawlessness in a person, is the person who becomes self-centered and arrogant. He becomes a law unto himself. He is without wisdom or understanding. Wisdom in the book of Proverbs is truly phenomenal. Proverbs is wisdom; all of it.
3. The result is a very loose view of spiritual, moral or cultural restraints. When you are self-centered and arrogant, there are few restraints on your soul.
4. There is a revolt against all forms of authority; not just parents. Starts in the home; but it branches out to bosses, to marriage, in all relationships. When you are anti-authority, you are anti-authority in all areas. It is the way that your soul and mind work. No one is greater than you; no one is smarter than you; no one can tell you what to do.
5. This will morph into a disregard for the normal standards of society. Anything goes.
6. It is disregard for the statutory laws for the cities, the state and the nation.
7. It can easily lead to criminality, the end of lawlessness. All the way from anti-authority to criminality.

Society-wide Lawlessness

1. Culture that descends into anti-establishment thinking; where the rule of law is lost.
2. A lawless society is a relative society; a secular society. There is no right and wrong. In such a society, everyone does what is right in their own eyes. The streets of Houston. There is a daily accident out on this corner because they are lawless; they ignore the light.
3. The society evolves into a collective disrespect for the institutions of authority, on all levels. Collective disrespect for the institutions of authority.
4. As a result, patriotism disappears and so does societal cohesion. No cohesion in a lawless society. Does this sound familiar.
5. Internationalism replaces nationalism. You turn your sovereignty over to people who do not follow the same standards as your nation does.
6. We become divided.
7. In a lawless society, that which is good becomes evil; and that which is evil becomes good.
8. In a lawless society, freedom is lost.

We have as many examples of this today. What was unacceptable to society a few decades ago, same sex marriage, is not just accepted for celebrated. And it is forced upon those who oppose it. The only norms of such people are norms which are in opposition to divine establishment. And those who do not go along with this program, they are homophobes or bigoted. All of these things are encompassed by the word lawlessness.

People's Love Growing Cold

1. There is no love where self-centered arrogance and anti-establishment arrogance exists. The Christian life is all about virtue love. There is no virtue love where self-centered arrogance exists. Humility is the virtue of the Christian life. Humility is grace of doctrinal orientation. No spiritual growth when there is arrogance.
2. Love for others cannot grow or be maintained when self-love is paramount. The relationship between a husband and wife automatically cancels out self-centeredness.
3. Therefore, Jesus describes it as cold love or not love. We think of love in terms of warmth; so Jesus uses the world cold. This is a lack of capacity for love. Lawlessness means no capacity for love.
4. As a result of this frost, there is no actual loyalty. There are no sacrifices; there is no devotion; there is no dedication; there is no honor. There is no partiality. There is no consideration of others. No deference to anyone above self. That is what comes from the increase of lawlessness. Lawlessness means you are arrogant and self-centered; and you are rebellious in your soul. You refuse to conform to the norms and standards of marriage.

Jesus is describing what is wrong in our country. Because lawlessness is increased, love grows cold. All standards are evil. Relative standards which flips right and wrong. This will be true in the Tribulation like never before. When love grows cold, it is replaced by something; it is replaced by hate. You will be hated by all nations. Simply because they are believers in the Lord Jesus Christ. Christianity is standing for Christ during persecution can be dangerous.

Mark 13:12 And brother will deliver brother over to death, and the father his child, and children will rise against parents and have them put to death.

Mark 13:13 And you will be hated by all for my name's sake. But the one who endures to the end will be saved.

You will be betrayed by loved ones; by relatives. Such a graphic description. This happens in every age; but it is more pronounced in the Tribulation. You will be betrayed even by those who are supposed to be closest to you. The Scripture does not lie; it is very, very possible. It can happen today; particularly during times of persecution. What people will do to assure their own survival in difficult times. It is truly remarkable. Betrayal is at the forefront of these conditions.

If one family member is a believer; and the other is not; the person who is not does not want to be tainted by Christianity. They will give up those closest to them, even for execution. Self-centered arrogance; lawlessness; rebellion of soul. Nothing is more important than my own personal life.

Disciples would be delivered over to governors and to kings; to synagogues. But those who turn over their brothers, sisters, spouse, child; they will do this to save their own hides.

To many in our own self-centered society; to them, it seems prudent. Every person for himself. Why should I go down or be penalized for what my brother/sister/spouse does. That is Satan's world. That is the kind of world that he builds. There is no true love there, apart from narcissism. No capacity for love except for self-love. He is pure narcissism. If you are dating a narcissist, do not expect them to love you as much as they love themselves. This describes Satan and his emissaries are the scions of narcissism. This sort of drive for self-preservation was quite observable in the Nazi death camps. The logo at the front of the camps; "Work makes free." You come to this camp; and you are to work in order to get free; but it is a lie. You work until you die.

Certain Jews called kapos and they were the supervisors of other Jews in their slave labor; and they did the bidding of the sadistic guards. There were Jews pitted against other Jews and others. The kapos got better treatment. They became just as brutal as the SS guards; they even helped make the selection of those to be gassed; and they even herded them into the gas chambers. They were willing to betray anyone to survive. That sort of attitude of selfish survival has been observed among Americans. Not to the same extent.

An observation comes from a nation with which we fought a war. "An Evaluation of the American Soldier." Based upon our observations of the American soldiers and their officers captured; they have weak loyalties to their family, their fellow soldiers, their religion. These weak loyalties are mostly true today; apart from the dedication to one's fellow soldiers. His concepts of right and wrong are hazy; he is an opportunist, who by himself feels weak and insecure; he underestimates his own ability to survive. Americans are ignorant of social values; social conflicts and tensions? Many who have immigrated into the United States recently have no concept of our social values; they bring their own values from home into the United States. We have embraced world diversity, multiculturalism, setting aside of American exceptionalism. This gives us one group who are lawless compared to another.

There is little knowledge or understanding of United States history, philosophy or political organizations. And none of this is being taught anywhere today. It is all something else today.

A third observation: the American soldier is exceedingly insular; and little understanding of foreigners and their countries. There is a difference between control of one's borders and hatred for other nationalities. A nation has a sovereign right to control its own borders; and this does not make a nation racist. There are many reasons not to have open borders. Control of our own borders is a sovereign right of a sovereign nation. One reason is, we cannot pay for them.

He fails to see the importance of military service or any other system which requires careful discipline. We love our own authority; but outside of that, no. Do not trust anyone over 30 was the phrase of Bobby's time in school. Views any hardship as unfair and unreasonable. If anything does not go my way, it is unfair. Just make it okay for me, and if you don't, I'll riot.

Based upon the facts of the imperialists American aggressors, the program proceeds as planned.

These plans are now particularly pronounced. This was a captured document belonging to the Chinese, based upon 7000 subjects. Some of the POW's were convinced and brainwashed into believing that the United States was an imperial power and they refused repatriation after the war. Some remained in North Korea. They only thought about themselves and their own immediate circumstances. They bought into these things simply so that they could survive. They had no inner resources.

There is nothing relative in your life. It is all truth. Things are not pleasant in our country and they are getting worse. Now these things permeate our society. These people did not come back from Korea. They became traitors to their country; giving up their homes, families and spouses for a false ideology. They gave up these things because their love had grown cold. They had nothing in their souls.

This was not as true about the captured Americans in Vietnam. They resisted strongly in Vietnam; and soldiers were trained to resist; and schools were set up. They set up schools for pilots who were shot down. Ultimately, it comes down to what is in the soul. The characteristic that stands out of Vietnam POW's is souls filled with divine establishment and Bible doctrine. Their love did not grow cold; not for their country, family or friends.

The increase of lawlessness is a love grown cold.

When we see an increase of lawlessness. School teachers see this every day. In the classroom today, rebellion is palpable. If they do not get their way, the children complain about the teacher, and they get away with it. The teachers are held up as in the wrong. These children simply want their own way.

Parallels of Our Society Today and What Has Been Described

1. Loyalties and morals of this country today are not entrenched in the souls of the people today; even among believers.
2. Relationships among people and families are unraveling. The nation is unraveling, and that is because the families are falling apart.
3. Many are ignorant of the past history of our country and why we live in the greatest nation for good that the world has ever known. We have done more for the world than any other nation in human history. But the lawless ones call the United States imperialistic; saying that taking the United States a bit is what is necessary to improve the world. A goodly number of people today believe that among their groups.

We celebrate the military this weekend and those who have died for our freedom. Friends of Bobby's have their names on the wall of the Vietnam memorial in D.C. If the nation's love grows cold and becomes lawless, all of the sacrifices were in vain. Believers without doctrine; rebellious in their souls.

Lesson #1018

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

5/28/2017 1Sunday

Jesus in Matthew speaks of a love gone cold because lawlessness has increased.

Matt. 24:12 And because lawlessness will be increased, the love of many will grow cold.

A lawless society does not respect those who have sacrificed for it; like the military, police, fire, etc. that is when the true character of people in a nation is exposed. Grown cold means that love is no more; often replaced with something else. Selflessness of those who have served this country is in marked contrast to those whose love has grown cold. Instead, there is arrogant self-centeredness. So they are filled with hatred; every man and woman for themselves. There will be many believers in the Tribulation under fire, as there are today, millions around the world. Terrible murder of 29 Coptic Christians a few days ago. There is a lot of this in the Middle East today.

Mark 13:9 "But be on your guard. For they will deliver you over to councils, and you will be beaten in synagogues, and you will stand before governors and kings for my sake, to bear witness before them.

There are those who do not waiver in the devotion to the Lord; their love grows warm.

Luke 21:16–17 You will be delivered up even by parents and brothers and relatives and friends, and some of you they will put to death. You will be hated by all for my name's sake.

How can such ingrates appreciate what has been done for them? When their love grows cold, they have no regards for others.

Terrorism has become an everyday occurrence. "It wasn't me; I am not involved in it; but as long as I am not in it." Thank God there are those who are willing to take action; who place themselves in harm's way, in order to protect us.

On the other hand, politicians act many times to reduce the capability of the military. Especially fear for those kinds of believers in a crisis. No one is being killed in this country for being Christians, but they are being killed around the world for just those reasons. Those whose love has grown cold are concerned only for their own survival.

The Lord describes the horrendous result of love growing cold; but it does occur at other times. There is betrayal, even to the point of death. The closest relationships are subject to this coldness.

Mark 13:12 And brother will deliver brother over to death, and the father his child, and children will rise against parents and have them put to death.

Great arrogant self-centeredness to where a father will even give up his child; and children will rebel against their parents. Kids are degenerate because society is degenerate. You will be betrayed by friends and relatives. They will turn you in so that you are dragged before courts and judges. This is what happens when arrogant self-centeredness runs wild. And they will do this all for the sake of the Lord's name. Persecuted for expressing faith in Jesus Christ. We see it today in public places. What we see in America is the beginning of persecution. Chaplains in the military are not being allowed to pray in the Lord Jesus Christ. All of this is the beginning; and what Jesus speaks of is the end product.

Chief of intelligence wrote an evaluation of the POW's in the Korean War, 1950–1953. Many of the men in these prison camps were swayed by their captors, to think that the United States was an evil imperialist power. They sold out their brothers. Torture, brutality and starvation. Some were willing to betray their brother soldiers. They got better food and living conditions by complying. Utterly self-centered. The American soldier has always been willing to fight and die for the. Of the 7000 prisoners, 3000 did not return. Some died and some renounced their country and left their wives and children behind. This illustrates degeneracy of those who are morally weak and are anti-Christian, who lack strength of soul.

There were many more who were willing to sacrifice for freedom; willing to endure great heartache. They would rather die than let their brothers down.

A tradition on Berachah Church of reading citations.

Bobby chose two men who were awarded their medals in the Korean War.

Corporal in the Marines 1951: in action against enemy forces. Well-concealed and heavily fortified conditions. He hurled himself into the bunker with a live grenade, and destroyed this bunker.

Joe R. Maldonado, Corporal, Airborne Infantry in Korea. Served as an active machine gunner. Enemy launched a strong attack to take back the hill; platoon leader decided to deploy his men in a defensive action. Enemy within 25 yards. In an exposed position, he alone pushed them back. Several times, grenades landed very close to him. Drove back the enemy several times.

This men sacrificed themselves; a man leaping into a bunker with a grenade; or a man sitting exposed with a machine gun, inflicting incredible numbers of casualties so that his company would survive. How many unnamed others who would die for our freedom.

Relationships among people and among families is unraveling; many are ignorant of our country's history; the greatest nation for good that this world has ever known. We have been a super client nation to God. We have faults and make mistakes; but the benefits which we have brought to the world is undeniable.

You do not get this is your viewpoint is confused by ideological viewpoint or anti-Christian thinking. We have, so far, been preserved by God; and our armed forces have protected us from our foreign enemies.

Only 3500 medal of honor citations.

Two citations read previously. Regarding the antithesis of a love gone cold. There were also the Jews whose love had grown cold; and would crucify the Lord. There are those in the streets who denigrate the United States. They see America as a nation which needs to be changed. Our country needs to continue in divine establishment practices and believers continue need to grow in grace and knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ.

R. B. Thieme, Jr. has always read Medal of Honor recipients. Bobby will read two more, but these are special to Bobby and to others in the auditorium, because these men are spoken in Berachah Church from the pulpit. Truly wonderful men; men of honor.

Col. Robert L. Howard United States Army, 5th special forces group, born in Alabama. Passed away 2009. He was in Vietnam in 30 Dec. 1968. He was a sergeant 1st class. An American Vietnamese platoon. Attacked by a two-company force. He was wounded and a weapon destroyed by a grenade. Saw his platoon leader was disabled. He could not walk; but he crawled to his platoon leader. His platoon became disorganized. He was able to rally the platoon into a complete defense force. Crawled from position to position, giving encouragement and guidance. Personally supervised all removed to the helicopter. Bobby served with then Captain Howard instructing Rangers. None that Bobby knew who could compare to him as a soldier.

Staff Sgt. Nicky Bacon. Great sense of humor. Received his citation from President Nixon. He was born on the 25th Nov.; died in 2010. This award goes back to 1968. He was a squad leader. When company B came under fire, he organized his men and led them forward on an assault. He assumed command of the platoon and killed an enemy gunner. Killed 4 more enemy soldiers, hand-to-hand. Both platoons accepted his authority without question. Climbed onto a tank and directed fire. His company was able to move forward, eliminate the enemy position. Highest tradition of the military tradition.

We are indebted to all of those who spent their lives on a battlefield who died for us. Every time you see a uniform, think freedom through military victory. Without the military, who are willing to go into terrible areas, we would not be able to sit in the auditorium and listen to Bible doctrine. Without them, we would be dragged in front of kings.

We have had a very long period of time during which we have had great freedom. There are strong anti-Christian feelings among those in our society. We as believers in Jesus Christ; and we have the resources to weather anything. Part of the reason that we are here is to grow in grace and to handle any situation in life. We have problem solving devices. We may not be able to solve the problem itself; but this will work to help us with our own mental attitudes.

We are in Satan's world. Nationalism is exchanged for internationalism. We have always been a great nation, a nation which is exclusive; and that is the 4th divine institution in Scripture. Satan attacks nationalism and replaces it with globalism. False ideologies and false systems of thinking. Diversity of thinking is removal so often from Christian principles. We now have the tower of Babel all over again. Hatred of all things national and patriotic. Humanism and relativism have replaced the firm divine establishment values. What is good has become evil; and what is evil has become good. Establishment morality has been turned on its ear. Those who support this cosmic system are traitors to their own great client nation. They would turn this client nation over to its enemies for an execution due to a false anti-Christian ideology. Many of these reject the military; they want protection; but they are not willing to protect. That is when freedom is on its way out.

The elites in Harvard and other schools in WWII were the first to volunteer into the armed forces and they made up the nascent CIA.

Today, self-indulgence. Love of country, family and friends has grown cold. What is at the root of this coldness? It is lawlessness.

Hosea For the Lord has a case or a dispute against the inhabitants of the land, because there is no faithfulness or kindness or knowledge of God in the land. The more we exclude God from our thinking, the more unkindness we find in our country. God punished Israel with the fifth cycle of discipline. The nation turned degenerate.

Chinese communists convinced our POW's that the United States was evil and they remained in North Korea.

The beast will be the expert in this area of activity. Because of his persuasiveness and threats, many would follow him (Mark 13:6). There are many examples of this in history. We could point out people in our own nation like this. Hitler was like this; he was magnetic. Dictators all through history have been able to convince people of ideas that are utterly evil. This will happen with the antichrist. The crushing persecution will be unbelievable to us today. It will be a very difficult time to be a believer in Jesus Christ.

How would it be to be dragged in front of the authorities over your Christian faith? Would you stand for something? Would you be willing to say, "I am a believer in Jesus Christ." We would face this as a testimony for Jesus Christ. There are many who will not do that; particularly during the Tribulation.

It is our responsibility to be witnesses to the Lord Jesus Christ; and many of us will not go across the street to witness for Jesus Christ. Some of us might be mocked. Speak of Jesus Christ. There is nothing more viral in life than fear; the drive for self-preservation. People turn traitors to all the we should hold dear. They stand for nothing and they will do anything to survive. Anything to keep pressure and adversity off of themselves. Nothing worse of an existence; and so many believe that they are the most important person in this life. Some will betray and turn against anyone who stands in their way. This is the unmitigating thinking of today. The highest virtue is having the most money. Will do whatever it takes to get their wealth. Personal love grown cold. We grow lawless and our love grows cold. Believers today will be hated for their faith and their very loyalty to the Lord.

Luke 21:16–17 You will be delivered up even by parents and brothers and relatives and friends, and some of you they will put to death. You will be hated by all for my name's sake.

There are people today who think if Christianity was removed, the world would be a better place. They want to destroy the ideology and the people if necessary. They hate the military and they hate us, as we represent that which is evil, in their eyes.

We have the solution; we are the solution. They would not hesitate to persecute and even kill Christians. We see it to a lesser degree today, nothing like the Tribulation. Recognize that these things will happen.

As believers in Jesus Christ, we have the obligation. We may have to shove a grenade into a bunker. We have no right to be a self-indulgent person. We are the only ones who are able to reveal the gospel to some people. We need to make that sacrifice known to the world. There is more freedom than this world has ever known, by far. Those whose headstones are all over this country. However, they died; they were our servants. Not too much to spend a single day remembering such people.

Lesson #1020

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

5/31/2017 Wednesday

“You will be hated by all for My name, yet, not a hair from your head will perish. By your endurance, you will save your lives.”

Mark 13:12–13 And brother will deliver brother over to death, and the father his child, and children will rise against parents and have them put to death. And you will be hated by all for my name's sake. But the one who endures to the end will be saved.

There will be a world filled with the antichrists. The Beast will be quite persuasive and one of the most evil of all time. We must know that we will be hated; persecuted.

Hatred is a most powerful of emotions. It covers a myriad of problems. Just the Lord's name sets up great hatred. It may be hard to understand what true viral hatred can do. Watch how people virally and irrationally hate the President of the United States; and how they act out that hatred towards him, against that person; or images of him.

A comedian held up a head image of our president, like it was severed. She used this to mock a symbol of authority. These types are the ones who claim to be non-violent; they renounce violence. They represent the very violence that they denounce. It is everywhere today and it comes out of pure hatred. Opposition is one thing; and hatred is quite another. Do not get caught up in hatred for those that you oppose. Easy to get caught up in that. Hatred is destructive to your soul and to your spiritual life. Those are souls that you begin to hate because of their attitude. They don't need your hatred; they need the gospel of Jesus Christ.

This hatred will characterize those against Christ; and this characterizes the radical Muslims today.

On the other side, love is also a great motivator—especially toward servitude and sacrifice. Love is truly very powerful. The exact opposite of this is hatred. Do not ever underestimate what hatred will accomplish in death and destruction.

Hatred is the overarching motivator; from the Beast down to all of his followers. Persecutions of all types especially by the authorities. Things are really bad when governors and kings and legislators. Torture will be common; and execution will be done. Children will turn in parents; fathers will turn in their children. Friends will turn in friends for execution. Many believers will lose their lives to the Beast, the great persecutor of all time. Also the shocking betrayal by family and friends.

Bobby watched a movie, called the Kingdom of Heaven. The defense of Jerusalem against Muslims in the Middle Ages. The siege was going very badly. The religious leader at the time, when everything was going badly. “We will just renounce the faith now; and recant that later.”

One’s eternal salvation is sometimes interpreted as enduring to the end, without failure. But that is not true; not so at all. We know if believers are weak or reversionistic. Why would they not compromise to save their own hides. This does not mean that they won’t lose their salvation. “The one who endures to the end; he will be saved.”

The One Who Endures to the End Will Be Saved

1. εΙΣ ΤΕΛΟΣ
2. This does not mean to the end of one’s life.
3. Nor does this guarantee that believers may not die in the persecution.
4. Telos refers to the end of the Tribulation dispensation; the 7 years; the end of the great Tribulation in particular.
5. Jesus is assuring them here that some will survive, even though the Great Tribulation. The horror, the martyrdom, the slaughter; it is a wonder that anyone survives.
6. Some will endure the persecution to the end of the events leading up the Christ’s 2nd advent.
7. Thus comes deliverance from all the horrors taking place. There will be light at the end of the tunnel.
8. In the context, saved means the faithful surviving until the end of the Tribulation, until the deliverance from persecution.
9. Deliverance is the 2nd advent of Christ.

The 1st advent is about to end, when Jesus is speaking to His disciples; who will become Apostles in the near future. Jesus is also speaking to a generation which has not yet appeared, as far as we know.

Those Enduring until the End

1. No matter the difficulty of the times, no one can take the life of a believer until it is his time to depart this life. We endure, if we will. That is a unique period of time. We may endure until the rapture. We don't know when the rapture will take place. It is likely we will all die. That is enduring to the end; enduring to the end of the emission that God has for us. Took Bobby a long time to understand why his father had to endure what he did.

2. Fear of death is lack of faith rest and doctrinal orientation. We have been given that; that is our resource; that is how we endure until the end. Believers in that era know how long they have to go. It is 7 years.
3. That principle is always true; the principle; even in times of great persecution before the Tribulation. How many times did the Apostle Paul face prison and death; and he escaped them. Paul was always in hot water, for the sake of the name of Jesus Christ. No one was more persecuted as he was. Only when his work was complete did the Lord allow Nero to take his life. Until his time was up, Nero could not hurt Paul. He had to complete the prison epistles and the later ones, and he endured this hardship. Some will survive until the end of the 7 years Tribulation. All these signs that we will see; it is quite amazing. This is a promise of preservation through the worst of the greatest of calamities. The faithfulness of God and the annihilation of man. If God can preserve these saints in the Tribulation, He can do the lesser for us here and now.

What a way to be delivered, enduring until the end. The description of Armageddon at the end times will be an amazing sight. They will enter into the millennial kingdom as heroes. Even in the face of absolute annihilation.

The salvation is not the result of doing really, really well in the Tribulation; we are always saved by faith alone in Christ alone. We cannot get out of His hands after a moment of faith alone in Christ alone.

Why doesn't everyone survive?

The message will identify the Lord Jesus Christ and that He would return. The Beast presents himself as the deliverer, as soon as he gets rid of all these Christians.

Ones who endure to then end, the Old Testament saints, and those who will die during the Tribulation. Why would the Old Testament saints be resurrected at the rapture? The rapture is for the church.

Moses and Elijah return in the Tribulation as witnesses for the Lord. They are not in resurrection bodies otherwise, they would not have died. It is their birthright handed down. It is notable here that the gospel; and they do not present the exact same message as the church presents today. The means of salvation is the same in every dispensation; faith alone in Christ alone for eternal life. In the Tribulation, the message will also stress the coming kingdom of national Israel. The messages to the Old Testament Jews is the kingdom message. We will have been resurrected 7 years prior. Jesus Christ was first in resurrection; and the church is next; Tribulation martyrs and Old Testament saints. A brief overview of the entire Tribulation time.

The specific signs that will prepare Israel. He has given them the scope and then the Lord will start speaking of the observable signs. One, no one will be able to miss. Matt. 24:15–21; the abomination of desolation. A sign they cannot miss.

Lesson #1021

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

6/1/2017 Thursday

We have a brief overview of the entire Tribulation. What you have heard, you will hear again.

Jesus moves on in teaching His disciples. There will be signs letting them know about this terrible time. Remember the original question, “The Temple will be destroyed” and the disciples said, “When?”

Mark 13:14 "But when you see the abomination of desolation standing where he ought not to be (let the reader understand), then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains.

Better understood as the abomination which causes desolation.

The Abomination of Desolation

1. This is the same abomination that Daniel has described in Dan. 9.
2. The abomination is a man.
3. Daniel 7:8 describes him as a little horn.
4. We know him to be elevated to a position of authority over a 10 nation coalition. We know him as the antichrist.
5. These nations have the origins in the original Roman empire.
6. He will come to power during the first half of the Tribulation, and through intrigue backed by military, he will be accepted as a world ruler by common consent. There are several reasons why.
7. His influence is worldwide. He will rule over all nations; a most powerful man in the world.
8. So, he becomes the head of the last form of gentile domination over Israel. This all began in Daniel with that statue image.
9. He is the last oppressor; and the end of the times of the gentiles.
10. So from Daniel 7 on, this man is the prominent figure. It is all about this one man and what he has to do in relation to Israel.
11. He plays the major opposition role in the Tribulation.

His activities are described in Daniel 8:23–25. All of these guys have been called total evil; but they are minor players by comparison.

Daniel 8:23 And at the latter end of their kingdom, when the transgressors have reached their limit, a king of bold face, one who understands riddles, shall arise.

Daniel 8:24 His power shall be great—but not by his own power; and he shall cause fearful destruction and shall succeed in what he does, and destroy mighty men and the people who are the saints.

Daniel 8:25 By his cunning he shall make deceit prosper under his hand, and in his own mind he shall become great. Without warning he shall destroy many. And he shall even rise up against the Prince of princes, and he shall be broken—but by no human hand.

He will be pulling the strings for everything; he is shrewd in his evil. Extreme arrogance, very much like another creature in this world. He will even oppose the prince of princes. We are looking into the future, seeing a person in the future who will exist. We can conjure things in the near term; and there are problems here and there. However, there is no speculation here; this will happen exactly as it is revealed. We can identify people like this from the past. He will be one of the most brutal monsters in history. Perhaps the worst; more so than the greatest conquerors in history. Nebuchadnezzar, Xerxes, Alexander,...

He is very much like his master, Satan. Every court of kings in history and there are some excellent series on television; soapy. One thing that characterizes those movies is, intrigue. There were people manipulating constantly in those courts for power, to discredit some and to help others rise up. That is how this man conquers a world.

The Antichrist

1. He is possessed and energized by the evil one himself, Satan. He is demon-possessed to the nth degree. This is a time in history when the devil is desperate. He knows that it is coming soon. His only hope is to destroy Israel. He will use his man to do just that. This is the last great push in history for the final solution; it will be the holocaust on steroids.
2. This man is the head ruler.
3. Never in the annals of history will that control by Satan be more pronounced. We can look at the man who best represents Satan. Now there are many people around at this time who are quite evil. There is the antichrist; and there are many antichrists.
4. If Satan can stop the Jewish race, he shows that God is not all-powerful.
5. This man becomes the greatest adversary of Israel. He is the special adversary of the Prince of Princes, in the 2nd half of the Tribulation.
6. He would begin the period of extreme Tribulation called the Great Tribulation. It is the culmination of the oppression of the gentiles over Israel. This man is truly invincible. Satan at this time is invincible; and no one can destroy him until the 2nd advent.
7. He is the man John calls the beast.
8. He is called the prince who is to come. He will be royalty because of his position in this world.
9. He is also the king who will do as he pleases. He will have his way. Whatever he wants, he will have.

What Will He do

1. He breaks his treaty with Israel.
2. Another alliance will contest his authority. Ezek. 28:7 Dan.

3. This alliance is doomed. Israel looks for someone to make a treaty with; but they do anyway. This is a problem for Israel; a mistake which they have made many times in the past. The beast will annihilate them.
4. Because of that huge conflict, which the best will come out on top, he will gain complete control over Palestine. This is truly the center of the world in the divine plan of history.
5. The beast will make his HQ in Jerusalem. Dan. 11:41
6. He will wreak havoc on Jerusalem. In doing so, he will earn the name, the abomination of desolation. This is where he earns this title.
7. What will he do in Jerusalem? As the abomination, he will stop all worship by the Jews. Part of the treaty allowed the Jews to worship in and around the Temple. But he puts a stop to that. The worship will stop for 1290 days. This is exactly 3.5 years, the 2nd half of the Tribulation.
8. At that point, returns the King of Kings; the kingdom comes when His will is done on earth as it is in heaven. That is what fulfills that prayer.

The Abomination of Desolation

1. During that tribulational period, the Abomination will establish the worship of himself. This is Satan-worship, which is why this is an abomination.
2. He will be the most central and self-legitimized figure in the world. Who are some of the most recognized figures. The pope, the Dali Lama; Osama bin Laden. This guy will be the most recognized religious figure the world would ever know. He is legitimately called the antichrist.
- 3.
4. He is violently opposed to the worship even to the thought of Jesus Christ. He wants to purge the thought of Jesus Christ from this world. Any hint that you are a Christian; goodbye.
5. He is a master of mind and body control; sometimes called brainwashing. Great propaganda minister; greatest the world has ever known. Satan is the great deceiver. Goebbels fooled an entire nation.
6. The worship of antichrist, of this man, will be centered in the Temple in Jerusalem. This is where he would have the most impact.
7. It is the antichrist's presence who will make the Temple abominable and therefore desolate. This is the place where God has always been worshiped.
8. It is abominable and therefore desolate because this man sets up an image of himself to be worshiped in that place. Rev. 13:14–15

His statue will be standing where it should not be. This event is the great sign of the Great Tribulation. This will get 24/7 news coverage. It will be live-streamed and tweeted and everything else. This will give confidence to the believers during this time.

This statue is not supposed to be there; and the people will understand the horror that is in the Temple. They are only a few years away from the Lord Jesus Christ Himself. The most discouraging sign is also the most encouraging sign for the believers at that time. These things do work out for good. It is a part of God's plan. The more encouraging sign during the time when history is at its lowest point.

When the Abomination of Desolation occurs, then it is time for you to move out. The 2nd advent will not immediately follow; but it is 3.5 years away.

Matt. 24:15 "So when you see the abomination of desolation spoken of by the prophet Daniel, standing in the holy place (let the reader understand),

For the believer who has studied this.

Matt. 24:16 then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains.

This is immediate.

Matt. 24:17 Let the one who is on the housetop not go down to take what is in his house,

You cannot go back and seize whatever is in your house. No time.

Matt. 24:18 and let the one who is in the field not turn back to take his cloak.

Nothing is worth it; nothing is necessary.

Matt. 24:19 And alas for women who are pregnant and for those who are nursing infants in those days!

Then a great prayer.

Matt. 24:20 Pray that your flight may not be in winter or on a Sabbath.

The administration of the fifth cycle of discipline who have rejected Him at the 1st advent. Both generations must move out when Jerusalem is surrounded; or when the Abomination of Desolation is raised up in the Temple. Both times, they must get out with great haste. Once these signs occur, we need to move out.

Already instructions given to those for the near future. And these are exactly the same instructions given to those when the Abomination of Desolation goes up in the Temple. It is the same instruction.

When the statue is raised and you see the approach of the armies of the dictator, go, get out of there. When Bobby looked at this passage and his mind wandered somewhat. What would we do if there were arrests and torture and executions (as has occurred in the past). What about that? Would you flee? This has happened in England, then in Holland; then back to England; and so they got into ships and fled Europe altogether.

Do these instructions apply to us in the church at this time? Do we pull up stakes and run to the new world? We have heard this. Do we flee an apocalypse like that? The answer is no.

What about Us Today Compared to Them Then

1. The instructions to flee are for Israel in the Age of Israel. This is not a direct instruction to us in the Church Age.
2. The mandate was given to Jews under the threat of complete extermination.
3. They were vulnerable to extinction. They were all centered in one local in Palestine. They had been rounded up.
4. Fleeing is the means to preserve some of His people from annihilation. There must be some left to fulfill the promises of Abraham.

Today, there is no new world for the Christians to colonize. No new world anymore. We might flee to the wilds of Wyoming and Montana. Many years ago, there was a survival party in Berachah. And there was a guy the curator of the Houston zoo herpatorium. Are we preppers? Do we gather a courtorie of like-minded people?

These kinds of decisions are a matter of individual decisions. The mandate to flee is not your mandate. The most important answer to the question of preservation and persecution today is, God provides for Church Age believers today based upon His plan for the believers in that area. Sometimes, we face persecution and death.

Law and order can break down; and our society could be sent into absolute chaos and terrorists could do it. If the nation is in complete peril, should you defend yourself or flee to a certain locale? Paul was led by the Holy Spirit based upon his apostolic mission.

Mark 13:15 Let the one who is on the housetop not go down, nor enter his house, to take anything out,

Mark 13:16 and let the one who is in the field not turn back to take his cloak.

Mark 13:17 And alas for women who are pregnant and for those who are nursing infants in those days!

Matt. 24:21 For then there will be great tribulation, such as has not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, and never will be.

Lesson #1022

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

6/4/2017 1Sunday

When the Jews in the dispensation of Israel, which resumes after the rapture of the church, see a sign, the Abomination of Desolation, this will be a terrible and encouraging sign all at the same time. It is quite an anomaly to have a sign which acts in both way. The plan of God is still in operation. Matt. 24:15 Mark :13a

Matt. 24:15 "So when you see the abomination of desolation spoken of by the prophet Daniel, standing in the holy place (let the reader understand),

The Tribulation will be the greatest time in the world to eradicate the Jews, so that God cannot keep His promises to Israel. These are terrible moments based upon this sign. What overrides all of this terror; a little time of great adversity followed by the greatest time of blessing.

One of the faith rest promises is coming to us in eternity. This will be encouragement for this generation of Jews living through the Tribulation. God will deliver His people and save them from this terror.

This is a man and Daniel describes him as a little horn, who will have authority over a 10 nation coalition. He is also called the antichrist, the most famous of the apocalyptic terms. He is also called the Beast; and found in Daniel 7–12. He is the king who will do what he pleases. His influence will be worldwide, for he will rule over all the nations. There will be nothing like this dictator. He will rule over all the earth. He will be the final gentile to dominate the Jewish people. Græco-Macedonian Empire; then the Roman empire; then the reign of the Beast.

his power does not come from himself. His power comes from Satan. He is also very crafty and very deceiving. The activities of the abomination as described in Daniel 8:23–25:

Daniel 8:23 And at the latter end of their kingdom, when the transgressors have reached their limit, a king of bold face, one who understands riddles, shall arise.

Daniel 8:24 His power shall be great—but not by his own power; and he shall cause fearful destruction and shall succeed in what he does, and destroy mighty men and the people who are the saints.

Daniel 8:25 By his cunning he shall make deceit prosper under his hand, and in his own mind he shall become great. Without warning he shall destroy many. And he shall even rise up against the Prince of princes, and he shall be broken—but by no human hand.

He will be the most powerful man on earth at this time; but it is Satan's power. He will destroy to an extraordinary degree. He will defeat every army in battle; he cannot be defeated. He is invincible with the god of the world behind him.

He will prosper and he will impose his will on whomever he chooses.

Without warning, he will destroy many. After setting up a treaty with Israel and coming into Israel, he will suddenly destroy millions of Jews. He is arrogant because his master is arrogant. He will even oppose the prince of princes. This is Jesus Christ even before He is crowned the king of kings.

The Final Dictator of the Tribulation

1. He will spearhead Satan's final attempt to destroy all of the Jews, in order to win the Angelic Conflict.
2. This is the time of the devil's desperation.

3. He knows that the hour is coming for the 2nd advent. He knows the prophecy and that he will be incarcerated for 1000 years. The Millennium will no longer have Satan as the opposition.
4. His schemes become more intense, more vicious and more bloody.
5. Satan's man in the middle of the Tribulation, will declare himself to be god; he will demand worship; he will set up the Abomination of Desolation in the Temple. Recall that Satan wants to be worshiped like the Most High. He is the reason he became who he is now. Desiring worship means he wants to replace God.
6. There will be a series of battles; and he will gain control of all of Palestine, which is the center of the world, at this time. Palestine today is the powder keg of the world. It will remain a powder keg until the end of history.
7. Then he sets up a statue of himself in the Temple in Jerusalem. That is the Abomination of Desolation. He demands the worship of everyone. "I will be like the Most High."
8. There will be a statue of antichrist, who represents Satan and Satan's man. The people are forced to bow down to this statue.
9. The antichrist's presence will make the Temple abominable, and therefore, this is the sign.

Mark 13:14 "But when you see the abomination of desolation standing where he ought not to be (let the reader understand), then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains.

What should the Jews do under these circumstances? Do they flee or not flee? Jesus does not leave them confused. They need to move out immediately.

Mark 13:15 Let the one who is on the housetop not go down, nor enter his house, to take anything out,

Mark 13:16 and let the one who is in the field not turn back to take his cloak.

Mark 13:17 And alas for women who are pregnant and for those who are nursing infants in those days!

Difficult to travel in the winter. The weather can make everything tougher.

Get out of time; need for haste. No time to gather possessions. You cannot go home. When you know what is going on, you have to leave immediately. You must leave; you cannot get your pet, your wife, your children, your computer.

They will become refugees of war. Many pictures of troops going one way and refugees going the other. This is happening in the Middle East right now. It is a horror.

It will be difficult for all if they have to flee during winter weather. On the Sabbath, everyone comes into Jerusalem to worship. You cannot move; gridlock.

10 years ago, the hurricane that never was, and some spent 24 hours stuck in gridlock. It is not conducive to fast movement. Speed is of the essence. Beat the crowd. There has not been anything like this before. Fleeing is their only option for survival. Get out; get out quickly. Your survival is at stake. They are worse than anything. When the Lord says this is the worst, it is the worst. It cannot get any worse. If this ruler can, he will exterminate Christians and Jews. This will be worldwide extermination. This is Satan's objective. We have faced great apocalypses.

100's of acres of houses where Jews were worked to death, tortured, and then killed. Many who claim that this never happened. The inhumanity of man against other human beings. The idea that Jews are subhuman, that is what fueled the killing in 1933–1945. Such terror will never happen again after these 3.5 years. God will terminate this. He will cut it off. There is no real comparison in the experience of history. Unprecedented suffering.

Now Jesus speaks for a few minutes about deliverance; His deliverance. Words of encouragement. They will need it; and by application, this is deliverance for us as well. They are our times. We are concerned about the state of the world; the state of our country and ourselves in the midst of all this. Jesus will deliver the Jews from the Abomination of Desolation. For us, we are encouraged at the rapture, where we will be delivered out from the Tribulation. No idea how close we are to the rapture. It is coming. We don't know where our country is going. The trends of history can be reversed in a split second.

Lesson #1023

Matt. 24:22 Life of Christ

6/4/2017 2Sunday

Matt. 24 Mark 13

A few days ago a friend of Bobby's, she went to a mainline church; and there was a recommendation to go to a Bible teaching church. I did not get it. All of this Bible teaching but no preaching. Not sure how to understand this. Apparently, this was not uplifting enough. The Word of God is always uplifting but for different reasons. Eschatology is uplifting; it teaches us God's faithfulness. He is faithful to His Word and to His promises; and we can depend upon Him, no matter what.

Those days of the Tribulation will be quite difficult, unlike any other time in history.

Matt. 24:21 For then there will be great tribulation, such as has not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, and never will be.

The beast puts up a statue of himself in the Temple.

The Lord stops teaching about the terrible things; but he teaches some uplifting things.

Matt. 24:22 And if those days had not been cut short, no human being would be saved. But for the sake of the elect those days will be cut short.

Didn't Daniel predict a very specific period of time, down to the number of days; and can Jesus change this time frame? But God intervenes in history in a number of ways. He does not and cannot negate a prophecy in the past any more than He can go back on His promises about anything. Should God, change this 7 year prophecy, He would be contradicting His previous word through Daniel. What does this mean, if He cannot contradict His Own word?

What Is the Meaning of “Cut Short”?

1. Jesus does not mean that the number of days will be reduced in number.
2. He is not contradicting his prophecy here. God does not contradict His Own Word. Some believe that He has done this regarding Israel. That is a change in God’s Word and that is why it is false. God has a future for national Israel. God still has a purpose for Israel in His Word.
3. Prophecy is His Word. It is not Daniel’s word. He cannot violate His Own essence, or He would destroy Himself.
4. Cut short means to terminate, to stop. Jesus stops all of the Tribulation. It is not about time.
5. Because of the awfulness of that period, if it were allowed to continue indefinitely, the human race would be decimated, even destroyed. All the Jews would have been rounded up and exterminated.
6. Christ will intervene on behalf of His people. That is the 2nd advent, which occurs after 7 years, just as prophesied. He intervenes for them just as He intervenes for us.
7. The point
8. 7 years is all that the Tribulation can be allotted to continue. Not one day more; but not one day less either. The Lord is well-aware of the massive destruction and persecution will come at the end of this time period. Enough is enough. That is when He returns.
9. His return terminates this period at just the right time for deliverance. No more, no less. The 3.5 year mark of the Great Tribulation.
10. The beast basically conquers the world, and God says, “That’s it; this is over.” And it stops.

Therefore, this is not a contradiction. This is a testimony to God’s faithfulness. This is adherence to His Word of prophecy. There is no nuance here; what will God do? For us, it is confirmation that His promises will not fail; they are not nebulous. He means every word of it. When you claim a promise in the faith rest drill. If you are able to claim that promise and a promise comes to mind; it is comfortable for you. That is faith rest; you are confident in what God has promised you. If He will intervene at the 7 year mark, why do you think that He won’t intervene on our behalf? God is not a welcher; He does not lie.

Why do we deserve anything from Him. He backs everything that He tells us as believers. Who is it who is out there taking care of us during this life? Your husband, your wife, your bank account, your savings? There is only one assurance in this life. It is the Word of God.

Do not mistake what God gives us for what He gives us. God does not break His promises; not even a little bit. We can trust that. This is the most wonderful thing. “Am I preaching now?” God is the One Who keeps Israel from being exterminated. The remnant will be spared from that final holocaust. After a few battles, the Lord will be crowned as King over all the earth; the King of Kings.

From the forming of nation Israel up to this point in time, the most persecuted people in all time have been the Jews; in the modern world and in ancient history. Behind all of that is Satan; and yet, the Jews are still with us today. They will still be delivered by God. The Jews will be delivered in the end.

There will be survivors at the end of the Tribulation. There will not be complete annihilation. The key for them is to flee, at the Abomination of Desolation. They will just walk into the kingdom. They will be different from the tribulational part of history. The population of the earth will be someone depleted; and there will be marrying and populating the earth. And these people will sin natures will be able to resist the Lord Jesus Christ in the Millennium. Even the wonderfulness of God's kingdom on earth, there will still be rejection of Jesus Christ. No one will be in poverty; it will be a great environment; but that will not be enough to overcome man's sin nature. It cannot overcome his self-centered arrogance and his negative volition. Not everyone, but some. Environment is not the key to man's happy existence and salvation.

Application: the environmentalists today will not save the earth. They cannot make mankind better through a better environment. A sin nature is a sin nature. Humanism does not understand the old sin nature. They think that, improve the environment and things will be better on a grand scale. There will be no world peace through a better environment. The crusade to deliver global warming will not do a darned thing. The oceans will not rise 3 feet killing us all; polar bears will be okay. This is entirely a humanistic idea that mother earth is the great protector. People think that mother earth created herself. We need to continue this evolution; she is our god. The sun, the moon, the stars and even the earth have all been worshiped, now and in the past.

Only at a future time, the Lord will destroy the earth; and only God can do this.

2Peter 3:10, 12 But the Day of the Lord will come like a thief, in which the heavens will pass away with a roar and the elements will pass away with intense heat, and the heavenly bodies will be burned up and dissolved, and the earth and the works that are done on it will be exposed... waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be set on fire and dissolved, and the heavenly bodies will melt as they burn!

When Will this Happen?

1. This takes place between Rev. 20–21
2. This takes place simultaneous with or immediately after the Great White Throne judgment. This judgment is the judgement of all unbelievers. There will be tremendous upheavals. Maybe when the angels and Satan are destroyed, the world will be included.

We have studied many aspects of our Lord's ministry. But we will go to a place today which we normally do not associate with the Lord, covering the end times and the Lord's return. There are many recognizable signs; signs in heaven, spectacular signs, the sun and the moon will not give their light and the earth will be shrouded in darkness and the stars will fall from the sky, and we will know what all of that means now. Monstrous waves and the seas will be out of control.

Mark 13:26 and others describe the Lord's actual return. This is markedly different from the 1st advent. This advent will be diametrically opposed to the simple introduction.

There will be great exposure of the phoniness of the things going on at that time. Great trumpet. There will be trembling when the Lord returns, the Shekinah Glory. He has come to fulfill His promises made to all believers prior. There is speaking of wars and rumors of wars. He will come as a conquering Hero.

Rev. 19 Jesus is riding a horse; which suggests that there are dogs and cats in heaven as well. The Lord returns with a sword on a horse of war. His point of contact is righteousness and justice. His eyes are a flame of fire. This is a description of eyes as we have never seen it before. He is a king with battlefield royalty and he will conquer the land

Rev. 19:11 And I saw the heaven having been opened, and lo, a white horse, and he who is sitting upon it is called Faithful and True, and in righteousness doth He judge and war,

Rev. 19:12 and his eyes are as a flame of fire, and upon His head are many diadems--having a name written that no one hath known, except himself,

Rev. 19:13 and he is arrayed with a garment covered with blood, and his name is called, The Word of God.

This robe is a military tunic; and since He returns as a conqueror; it is dipped in blood. He will wear a military uniform dipped in real blood. It is the blood of the enemies of Israel, whom have been slaughtered. He functions under the mandate, kill the enemy.

The Lord's Campaign

1. S
2. It is envisioning the valley of Jehoshaphat.
3. Armies against Israel are encamped there and at other locations.
4. This valley of Jehoshaphat is where Jesus, the conqueror, begins his destruction of the anti-God, anti-Israel army; on their southern flank.

5. Christ begins and continues from here. He begins in the valley of Jehoshaphat and then He moves north. The valley of Armageddon.
6. From the valley of Jehoshaphat to the valley of Armageddon, He leaves a trail of slaughter.
7. The length of the killing ground is given as about 200 miles, so He travels 200 miles killing all the way. Rev. 14:20 (13:20?).
8. This is nauseating: the depth of the blood is up to the horse's bridle. That is a lot of blood and a lot of enemies involved here.
9. This is the picture of a complete military victory of massive proportions. No victory in the world so complete and so final. It is a bloody recompense. This is another way of understanding what Christ provided on the cross.

There is a scheme of maneuver; there is a plan of attack; a clean up crew (birds). This is all well planned.

If We Are Repulsed by This:

1. Is the plan of God for unequivocal protection of His people. These people would destroy God's people if allowed to continue. If God will go this far to protect His Own people, then don't you think He can protect us? Are you afraid of all that? God wipes out every unbeliever in that vicinity to protect His people.
2. This represents the price of rejecting the Lord. We get a visual illustration of what that price is.
3. This is part of the answer to the prehistoric appeal of Satan. After he fell, after he decided to object. How can You send Your creatures to hell? His love is demonstrated by His protection and His salvation, offered up to all.
4. This demonstrates to Satan that God's justice will be done. God's justice, His wrath is poured out.

The little scheme to destroy Israel is not working.

The description continues.

The Victory

1. Ho logos is used for the infinite God.
2. Used for the Person of Christ on the cross. 1Cor. 1:18
3. Used for the winner in the 1st and 2nd advents. Jesus demonstrates that He is a loving God. He wins the strategic victory in the 1st advent.

What about us? Where will we be? We are not on earth; we are in heaven. We are a part of the returning force in heaven, clothed in the righteousness of God.

Rev. 19:14 And the armies in the heaven were following him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen--white and pure;

We will be on the white horse coming out of heaven. Col. 3:4 this is the 2nd advent order of battle; we will be there with Him,...

We will be returning with Him, but we will not be doing any fighting. We will charge down, but the Lord needs no help. We will come with Him to participate in the kingdom. We are not involved in the judgment, but in the millennial kingdom.

2Chron. 20:15b Do not worry about how many are out there; the Lord will fight for you.

Lesson #1029

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

6/18/2017 2Sunday

We have been led to this point; and the Lord's power is beyond imagination. He is omnipotent. There is so much more involved. Our Lord will be at war; His eyes will be a flame of fire, which is battle and judgment.

We will be in resurrection bodies. We will not be unbelievers. Jesus will only be killing unbelievers and He will do this all by Himself. He needs no one to help Him.

Rev. 19:12–14 His eyes are like a flame of fire, and on his head are many diadems, and he has a name written that no one knows but himself. He is clothed in a robe dipped in blood, and the name by which he is called is The Word of God. And the armies of heaven, arrayed in fine linen, white and pure, were following him on white horses.

Ex. 14:14a The Lord will fight for you.

Moses makes it clear, there is no reason for fear when the Lord is protecting. Just stand still and watch the deliverance of the Lord. Did the Jews lift a finger to destroy the Egyptian army at that time? No!

Let Him do the fighting for you. When you cannot remove yourself from adversity and difficulty, that is where you depend upon God the most. Never forget, when things are hopeless; when things cannot be solved, they are solvable for us. We do not have to do anything. That is when you recognize that you cannot handle the problem and you turn it over to the Lord. We know that the Lord can make corrections. We should do everything that the Lord wants us to do. He knows what is best for us; and He accomplishes His plan. If we are in His plan and there are adverse circumstances, then you are right where God wants you to be. Finally, at the 2nd advent, maybe they will get the message.

Fear and Adversity

1. The more you surrender to fear in adversity, the more things you fear. Once you fear one thing, you begin to fear other things.
2. The extent to which you surrender to fear, you increase the power of fear in your life. That is what happens when you do not depend upon the Lord; you surrender to fear rather than to the Lord. Go to sleep and let the Lord handle what happens. What is your priority? Let the Lord handle it.

3. Bible doctrine and fear are antithetical. We are the only ones who do not need to have a lifestyle of fear.
4. The battle is the Lord's.
5. There is no fear when God is near. Bible doctrine brings that fact into focus. The principle is the same. The Lord will fight and remove the enemy, as He has promised. The slaughter will be 200 miles long.

Death is like going home for the believer; death is being face to face with the Lord. We should never fear death; we anticipate death at just the right time. We miss those who pass away from us, but the reunion will be fantastic. Death is the greatest fear of the human race.

Bob had the motto, the battle is the Lord's. Davey Crockett, be sure you are right and then go ahead. Through Christ, I conquer. Fear takes us out of fellowship, which is a sin. In the face of fear, most people run; but with Bible doctrine, you apply doctrine instead. That is the solution to fear.

Rev. 19:15 and out of his mouth proceeds a sharp sword, that with it he may strike the nations, and he shall rule them with a rod of iron, and he treads the press of the wine of the wrath and the anger of God the Almighty,

All of this represents images of conquest. Nothing speaks of bloody combat like cutting and slashing by a sword. Today, our modern battlefield is the most lethal. But nothing more horrendous than people meeting face to face with swords. Medieval battlefields.

A Thracian broadsword; a rumpia (a Tharian broad sword, a two-handed sword). Nothing and no one can stop the Lord. No one else can stop the armies as Jesus can. They could not win with the broadsword of the Lord.

There is a precedent for this type of battle and slaughter, in 2Kings 19:35 where the Angel of the Lord wiped out 186,000 Assyrians. The Lord will do this same thing, but on a much larger scale.

We understand terrorism of destroying innocents. This is terror in the understanding of unbelievers who must face this. It is repugnant to most of our sensibilities. We see many movies today where this sort of carnage occurs all over the screen. We are often upset by people killed in battle, and today we can see this. There is nothing wrong with what the Lord is doing. This is accomplished by the Prince of Peace. He cannot sit on a peaceful throne of Israel until His enemies are vanquished. The road to peace and freedom is soaked with the blood of battle. The only thing that organized evil understands and yields to is overwhelming force; a greater force. How many times in history do we see this? Appeasement seems to be the order of the day. It never works. The only way Muslim terrorists can be contained today is by destroying them. Jihad is a way of life for those who take seriously their scriptures. You must bring overwhelming force to them. Understanding and tolerance will not remove terrorism; they see that as weakness, which it is, and it steps up the attacks.

Europe has capitulated to terrorism. We have had no terrorist incidents on our soil until we pulled our people out of Iraq and Afghanistan. Then they began again. No generation will skip this problem. Is the price of freedom worth the cost? So far, in our country, our answer has been yes. But in Europe, it is not worth the cost; and their problems will just get worse.

Our Lord from His perfect integrity uses unlimited force. It works and it cannot be equated with murder. This sort of killing is Biblically sanctioned. It solves things temporarily at least. Every generation must make the decision, is freedom worth it? There is no freedom without it. Freedom through Military Victory book.

It takes violence to stop violence on a large scale. When the violence is initiated by evil, it takes a greater violence to stomp them. They have evil motives, evil ideologies and/or evil religions. The Lord will destroy these types and bring peace to Israel for 1000 years.

Rev. 19:16 and He has upon the garment and upon his thigh the name written, "King of kings, and Lord of lords."

The Lord at the 2nd Advent

1. Christ returns as a warrior.
2. This culminates in the Lord sitting on the throne of David for 1000 years. Swords are beaten into plowshares; the lion lies down with the lamb, and man learns warfare no more.
3. Jesus Christ will rule and the armies which oppose Him are no more.
4. The peace brought by Jesus Christ at the 2nd advent is the greatest and longest peace that that world will ever know. Never a time in the history of man where there has been no war. 53 separate wars going on when Freedom through Military Victory was written.
5. Yet even the peaceful environment of the Millennium and prosperity for all; the only communist society that will ever work. Even that will not bring the blessings on humanity that today's humanists and environmentalists believe that they can accomplish.
6. There will be no injustice, no poverty, no environmental problems. Perfect justice.
7. There will be a problem that the humanists, environmentalists all forget. The ultimate problem is with people themselves. Those with physical bodies that enter the Millennium will still have sin natures.
8. They will procreate and some of their children will reject Jesus Christ and they will reject His perfect environment. How could that be? They will reject perfect environment and Christ on the throne. Why? How can they do this? How did Satan reject God, knowing everything that there is to know, seeing all of the Lord's power and attributes. He thought he could get away with revolt. That is how powerful the sin nature in humanity is. No communists, humanist, socialist can change human nature. There will always be those who follow that path of destruction. Man changes forever only in one way, with a resurrection body.

1Thess. 4:16 For the Lord himself will descend from heaven with a cry of command, with the voice of an archangel, and with the sound of the trumpet of God. And the dead in Christ will rise first.

1Thess. 4:17 Then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so we will always be with the Lord.

They will meet the Lord in the atmosphere. We will never be anything other than with the Lord at that point. After the rapture, we will go to heaven. The moment of the 2nd advent.

Matt. 24 Mark 13 Luke 21:27

The Rapture and the Second Advent

1. Each passage is directed toward two different times. The rapture of the church ends the dispensation of the Church.
2. After the rapture occurs, a different period of time begins, beyond the church. We, the church, will be with the Lord. So we cannot be in the Church Age.
3. So the church will not participate in the dispensation after the rapture. That seems obvious to some. Many seem to think that we will go through the Tribulation.
4. Rev. 3:10 Because you have kept my word about patient endurance, I will keep you from the hour of trial that is coming on the whole world, to try those who dwell on the earth. John introduces this as a time which is coming, and a time that we know is long past the first century. Jesus said, "I will keep you out of the hour of testing" it does not mean out from.
5. The hour of testing is no ordinary period of localized testing. We have personal adversity and problems and tests of client nations and tests of churches. But that is not what this is. It is not localized testing. It is testing to come upon the whole world.
6. This is a time of trouble at the end of time.
7. John 14:2–3 In my Father's house are many rooms. If it were not so, would I have told you that I go to prepare a place for you? And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will take you to myself, that where I am you may be also. Thomas was asking the question. "We don't know where you are going, so how do we know anything about this?" Jesus also promised to prepare a place for us in heaven. So this is the same advent.
8. This is not a description of remaining on earth. The Lord returns to take them home.
9. The second advent is a return to earth to set up the promised kingdom on earth. So there is a massive difference. In the 2nd advent, the Lord touches down on the earth.
10. So there is the simple difference. Rapture is for the church; the 2nd advent involves the kingdom on earth for Israel.

Both of These Returns Involve Angels

1. Shout from heaven.
2. Angels are described as being sent forth to get all believers from all over the earth.

3. They will be gathering the living; not the resurrected. The Church Age believer has already been resurrected and they are in heaven.
4. The people will be scattered all over the earth because of persecution. People hid out anywhere that they could.
5. Matt. 25:31–34 flesh and blood will inherit the millennial kingdom. There will be actual human bodies which are a part of the kingdom.
6. After the rapture, all Church Age believers will be in resurrection bodies. 1Cor. 15 corruptible must put on incorruptible. They are not in physical bodies of flesh and blood, as we now possess.
7. At the 2nd advent, there will also be the dead who will be resurrected. They are the Old Testament saints and the tribulational martyrs. Tribulational martyrs 7 years and less. Previously resurrected believers from the Church Age will come back as well.
8. The similarity in all this is, the angels herald the return of Jesus Christ.
9. At the rapture, the angels are not given specific duties; not like those in the 2nd advent.
10. The angels in the 2nd advent gather up the living from the 4 corners of the earth.

The Return of the Lord Involves His Descent from Heaven

1. At the rapture, the resurrected dead and the living meet the Lord in the air and they remain with Him
2. At the 2nd advent, the Lord returns to the earth, to destroy His enemies; the enemies of Israel. The Lord must come back to earth to do this.
3. He sets up His kingdom on earth where He sits on the throne on the earth. He does not do this after the rapture.

Another Similarity Between the Two Returns

1. There is the trumpet call. Matt. 24:31
2. The sound of a trumpet is often associated with gathering a group; with pulling together an assembly.
3. 1Thess. 4 the gathering of those in the rapture, of all Church Age believers in resurrection bodies.
4. At the rapture, a group of resurrected believers will be gathered at the trumpet sound.
5. At the 2nd advent, the trumpet will be a call for the regathering from the 4 corners of the earth. Those who survive the Tribulation.
6. The trumpet sound at the 2nd advent will also be a call to war. Many calls by the trumpet; and it would call to march, to assemble, to charge, to recall; all of them done by trumpet sounds. Here it is Christ's call to war. Not true at the rapture. Simple a resurrection and an exit.
7. Similarities and differences in these two returns.

The Similarities and Differences

1. The similarities cannot cover up the differences. You cannot forget the differences.

2. The differences signal two returns of Christ at different times.

Luke 21:28 Now when these things begin to take place, straighten up and raise your heads, because your redemption is drawing near."

The Commander-in-Chief is on His way, so straighten up. The Son of Man coming on the clouds with great glory. He is drawing the same image. He will come to wipe out His enemies and to receive the kingdom. What is coming is their deliverance.

At this point, where the Lord has described His return, He decides to have the parable of the fig tree, which is taught before he goes back to the Olivet discourse. This is an intermission or a halftime.

The Parable and the Lord's Teaching

1. This parable is a pause that refreshes. Jesus has given them a great deal to swallow. He has described the beast and Satan and so many things.
2. It is to give a parenthetical exhortation. It concerns watchfulness. He focuses away from the horror.
3. There is great hope in the midst of hopelessness. Previously, the Lord had spoken of His return at the 2nd advent.

The primary application of this passage is the people who will face this. They cannot wait for the Lord to return and they cannot wait for the deliverance of the Lord. This is why the Lord gives them this information, so they have some hope.

Secondary interpretation. The rapture will come suddenly and without warning. We have to be prepared; we have to be watchful. It could happen today, tomorrow, or years from. We do not have the definitive time frame as found in the Tribulation. They know when it is coming, because the return will be in 7 years.

Why do we need to know this stuff? How about the here and now? In the most difficult circumstances, always remember that this is all temporary. Will we all be in the grave by the time of the rapture? It is very possible.

We are encouraged by knowing that it will be but a small interval before it all happens. The future will be amazing; it will be with the Lord; but we will be there no matter what. There is the generation going through hell; but there is the rapture generation as well. We just have a little time on this earth and then death. Those without Christ, know that it is coming. How much more important is eschatology for us?

Bobby misses Wes Knoble, but this passage is encouraging. The Lord will return. Grandfather used to write Bobby, "Keep on looking up."

We have watched our government at work. Undoubtedly, there is something going on with the government, one branch or another, state, local or federal. Some serious people and some who love to hear themselves talk. The government is part of divine institution 4. Our government is necessary for good order. You can legitimately criticize those who govern us for their legalism, socialism, false ideology. Bobby uses our government as an illustration to compare divine viewpoint and human viewpoint. He uses it to seriously teach the Word of God.

There are others who are serious about criticizing government and they often use a very light-hearted approach. He came across some views of government by some famous personalities.

Mark Twain: Suppose you were an idiot and suppose you were a member of Congress; but I repeat myself.

Winston Churchill: I contend for a nation to try to tax itself into prosperity is like a man standing in a bucket and trying to lift himself up by the handles.

George Bernard Shaw: A government which robs Peter to pay Paul can always depend upon the support of Paul.

PJ O'Rourke: Giving money and power to government is like giving whiskey and car keys to teenage boys.

Ronald Regan: Govt's view of the economy can be summed up: if it moves, tax it; if it keeps moving, ; if it stops moving, subsidize it.

: I don't make jokes; I just watch the government and report the facts.

O'Rourke: If you think healthcare is expensive now, wait until it is free.

: No man's life, liberty or property is safe when the legislature is in session.

Anonymous: talk is cheap except when Congress does it.

Mark Twain: The only difference between a taxman and a taxidermist, is the taxidermist leaves the skin.

Thomas Jefferson: A government big enough to give you everything you want is strong enough to take everything that you have.

Government is indispensable but how revealing it is of the old sin nature.

Getting bad news day after day is a test. It often seems like much more than that. It can be discouraging, depressing, debilitating. Financial news can be difficult to take; or about human relationships; latest government ineptitude; finding out you have lost your job. When it comes, sometimes it seems all at once; it can be quite traumatic.

The disciples are listening to the Olivet discourse, and they hear a continuous string of real downers. Death, destruction, massive persecution of believers and of the Jews throughout the world, rise of antiChrist religion; leaders who rise who are opposed to Jesus Christ. Worldwide, catastrophic events. Satan's cosmic system is evident like never before. This could be a downer for the disciples.

The bright spot is the promised return of Jesus Christ. He will depart, but he will come back in the midst of all this turmoil. There needs to be some guidance as to what to do in the midst of all this trouble.

If He is going to return, then He demands that His disciples be watchful and prepared. Luke 21:29–36

The parable of the fig tree.

Luke 21:29 And he told them a parable: "Look at the fig tree, and all the trees.

Observe it; when its branch has become tender and put forth its leaves, then summer is near.

Luke 21:30 As soon as they come out in leaf, you see for yourselves and know that the summer is already near.

So, you have heard these signs, so you know the Kingdom of God is near.

Luke 21:31 So also, when you see these things taking place, you know that the kingdom of God is near.

Some other passage has added, at the very gates.

What the Branches Mean

1. Jesus in the parable begins to apply the meaning of it. Sometimes the concepts do not meet your understanding or expectations, so you need to have it put into context and how the doctrine applies to us.
2. The Tribulation generation can tell what is coming simply by watching a fig tree.
3. When the branches begin to soften and leaves come through the bark; that is a sure sign of summer; and a sure sign of deliverance.

Bleak Winter

1. The fig tree announces the summer is coming and the winter is being left behind. No leaves on trees during the winter and that is bleak. A bleak time of the year. Let's leave it behind.

2. So all of these signs, in Matt. 24:4–28 announce the Lord's coming.
3. The sign means relief from a long hard period of trouble and persecution. The kingdom and the king are just a hair's breadth away, standing at the door. Entry is imminent.

Jumping out of an aircraft, and you hear rushing wind and the sound of the engine. You hear that engine and everyone tenses somewhat because they know what is coming. Jump master has everyone stand up, then hook up (hook up to a cable), a static line jump. A line attached to the parachute, and that line will pull open the parachute. Once the line is hooked up; then stand by for equipment check. Now it is getting serious. Stand in the door, meaning you are now ready. Everyone is standing up and close together. Everyone is looking towards that door and they are waiting. Red light over the door goes to green, and jump master says, "Go." First one jumps into nothing but air. Soldiers after him jump in right behind him. You hear nothing once your jump, and you are pulled away; and then you feel a jolt, which is a good feeling.

In most jumps, you are down in less than a minute. In combat, you want to be on the ground as quickly as possible, so you are not a floating target. Deliverance is as close as the soldier's feet touching the ground.

When these signs occur, the Lord's combat boots are ready to hit the ground; and that is when Jesus delivers Israel. He is standing in the door and ready to jump.

The things happening are necessary because of the times; man's future destiny is the Tribulation; and this is the course of God's solution. These things must happen because it is part of the plan of God. The Great Tribulation is in full swing. Death and destruction on earth like never before. Believers are being persecuted and executed, but the fig tree's bloom means there will be relief in the near future from the bleakness of the Great Tribulation.

The fig tree means with the leaves that it is time for the economy to take off.

This is such a unique time period. The completion of signs and events are still future; and they are not our signs. They are directed to someone else. We are not to be looking for these signs. These are not signs coming our way.

The generation of the Tribulation prepare for the coming of the Lord by knowing and looking for these signs. "Then you know I am coming; I am standing in the door."

Today, we prepare by growing spiritually and fulfilling the plan of God for our lives. We study eschatology; we do not have a clue as to when it will happen. We are not the generation who knows that there is just 7 years remaining.

We will not know; we will not have any idea. We have no idea about these things and we cannot match up current events with the Bible predictions. There are no signs of the coming rapture. Some Christians even come up with dates and times. There are no signs and no prophecy to be fulfilled. The only prophecy in front of us is the rapture. After that, those who see these signs will know that things are happening and that the Lord will come and land with both feet on the beast.

Luke 21:32 Truly, I say to you, this generation will not pass away until all has taken place.

This is the generation of the Tribulation.

Luke 21:33 Heaven and earth will pass away, but My words will not pass away.

At some point, heaven and earth will pass away, but the Lord's words will not pass away. Nothing changes that God has said. It is always there and it always will be.

The most powerful man on earth at that time, and the Jews are threatened with a holocaust unlike anything else which has ever been seen before.

Fantastic passage: 1Peter 1:24–25 ...for "All flesh is like grass and all its glory like the flower of grass. The grass withers, and the flower falls, but the word of the Lord remains forever." And this word is the good news that was preached to you. The glory of the world fades away; so to the glory of the grass. The word of the Lord remains forever. That is the one thing which we have that is eternal. One way or another, the Lord will deliver and He will judge the enemies of Israel. There will be the Tribulation prior to the Millennial kingdom. This will happen before they go into the millennial kingdom. This is the fulfillment of the unconditional covenants made to Abraham, to David and to Israel.

God's Word is forever. His promises never fail; and this is true of the promises made to Israel.

The Promises of the Lord Will Be Fulfilled

1. For the physical survivors, who will be gathered for the 4 corners of the earth,
2. Also, the Old Testament saints will be resurrected and also the tribulational martyrs as well. God's promises were given to true Israel. The promise given to many saints; and the Lord reiterated this promise; and the promise still stands.
3. The Old Testament saints will be resurrected at this time; they received the promise.
4. All of them, they will all partake in the covenants made by God to Israel; that promise will be fulfilled, for those living or dead. Whether you die or not, that promise is still there; an iron-clad guarantee. The fig tree will sprout; and the Lord will be back, and all of His promises will be fulfilled.

However, Jesus is not addressing the generation standing before Him at this moment. This is for the generation after the exit resurrection. There are no prophecies of signs like this prior to the rapture.

As previously noted, heaven and earth will pass away; but God's Word will not; it will stand forever. The present earth will be destroyed; it will not last in its present form. This is a reference to what Peter and John will later describe. A great roar and fire, is how Peter speaks of it. The Lord can take out our environment, but His Word will never vanish; His covenant to Israel will remain no matter what, regardless of failures or successes.

Matt. 24:36 but of that day and hour, no one knows, not even the angels of heaven nor the Son; only the Father alone knows the time. We already know about the 7 years; so how is this an unknown? Is this a trick? Is this a lie.

Lesson #1032

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

7/2/2017 1Sunday

Flags are flying all around the church. We have the most freedom, both physical and spiritual.

There are a large number of trees in Houston and most of them are deciduous, meaning that they shed their leaves annually; and are quite bare around Thanksgiving. Oak trees do not lose all their leaves, but they lose a lot of them. A natural cycle of deciduous trees.

This may not seem the same if you grew up in the Pacific Northwest, in the midst of a conifer forest, you don't see this as much. In Chicago, life can seem pretty bleak in the winter. Our Lord uses this obvious analogy of trees and leaves; the parable is for the purpose of encouraging a generation who will endure a winter like no other.

The parable of the fig tree.

Luke 21:29 And he told them a parable: "Look at the fig tree, and all the trees.

Luke 21:30 As soon as they come out in leaf, you see for yourselves and know that the summer is already near.

It is about to happen. Now, we have seen the fall and winter as many years as we have been alive; and the signs should be obvious at that point. The gloomy part is the 7 years of the Tribulation. There is great destruction and massive religious apostasy. There is the worldwide tyrant whose armies represent nothing but tyranny and conquest. There will be the armies surrounding Israel there to destroy God's people. All of this is quite difficult for the disciples to hear; and far more difficult for those who live through it. None of this is easy to hear and this will be the future of Israel. This is where the parable comes in. The lesson from the trees. Spring is coming; it is a new day.

Luke 21:31 So also, when you see these things taking place, you know that the kingdom of God is near.

The Signs of the Time and the End of the Tribulation

1. The fig tree represents all of the previous signs that Jesus has talked about; all these signs all up to the time when Jesus will return.
2. The fig tree sprouts leaves and announces summer, leaving the bleak winter behind.

3. Just so all those signs announce the summer, which is the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ, that is for the purpose of delivering His people, bringing relief from a long, hard period of persecution.
4. The parable indicates that the Tribulation generation can tell, especially in that 7th year, what is going on. They know what the Lord said in the gospels; they know what Daniel wrote; they know that Jesus is about to return.
5. It will happen, just as surely as summer following Spring.
6. That is why He says, I am standing at the door. Paratroopers standing at the door of the plane, and there they go, standing at the door, waiting for the command to step out into the air. In most jumps, it is less than a minute before you hit the ground.
7. When He does, there will be a reckoning for the enemies of Christ like no other time before in human history. Jesus will single-handedly fight the battle of Armageddon. We will be there to watch and it will be quite a thing.

We will watch and understand what is going on. We will understand what righteousness and justice really means. He will incarcerate Satan and the Beast for 1000 years and then He will rule. Those in that situation will recognize that He will return. He is coming back and we know what He is going to do. That is encouraging.

Bobby will focus in the resurrection of the dead. Likely that we will all die unless we are in the exit-resurrection. It is absolutely certain that we will die and be raised again by God. What do a few years of adversity matter if we have eternity in front of us. It will not be something that rescues us from Tribulation. There is a reason why we study the future.

Luke 21:31 So also, when you see these things taking place, you know that the kingdom of God is near.

The fig tree analogy. After the leaves sprout, how much longer do we have to wait? So Jesus addresses this concern, whether the disciples asked it or not.

Matt. 24:36 "But concerning that day and hour no one knows, not even the angels of heaven, nor the Son, but the Father only.

Only the Father knows; and not even the Son or the angels of heaven. There is a good reason for this statement. This is an exhortation to perseverance and faithfulness. If we are told that the rapture will occur in 524 years, this would not affect our lives.

Jesus Says, No One Knows

1. It means, ignorance of the precise moment of His return
2. It cannot be calculated by anyone, even though many will try. So many try to fit the current circumstances to the Tribulation. This happens all the time. It does not good. R. B. Thieme, Jr. speculated on that 50 or 60 years ago. We know that the rapture is imminent. It could occur. We can understand this and this gives us perspective on life. We spend too much time sad about this, confused about that.

3. Ask yourself, isn't the end of the Tribulation prophesied as 7 years? So how can He say, no one knows the day or the hour?
4. The actual hour is still not knowable by anyone. We know the year; just not the day or the hour.
5. That should not be the issue; just be ready. Why do you need to know the exact hour? Just be ready; are you ready? Persevere to the very end until you get to the finish line.

If God can deliver all those on earth for eternity, then God can take care of all of us. Many times, you cannot solve your problems. Maybe you can remember the next time you have a tailspin.

The faith rest drill is taught in Berachah over and over again, with the problem solving devices and these things comfort and guide us.

Not even Jesus Christ or the angels know. How can that be? The timing is known by God the Father only. All decreed in eternity past. It always has been in the mind of God; and God keeps that timing a mystery from His creatures. The plan of God is the greatest thing on earth; why don't I know it? The plan of God is going to take place; all we need to do is to go with it.

Same principle is in marriage. You cannot change the other person. You can only change yourself; you cannot change the other person. Be ready. Keep growing; keep looking ahead at what the Lord has for you.

Most interesting thing is the Lord Jesus Christ does not know. That is a conundrum. How can the God of the Universe not know this? We need to understand the Hypostatic Union here and how the Lord operates.

Lesson #1033

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

7/2/2017 2Sunday

It would seem that no one should know the time schedule of God's plan any more than the Lord Jesus Christ; and yet, it says, no one knows. An amazing revelation that God the Son does not know. But He knows everything! Was He not a party to the divine decrees in eternity past? Yes, but in His deity and not in His humanity.

The Lord gave up or set aside the independent use of His deity. Interesting and mysterious about the Hypostatic Union, how can God and a single man unite into one Person, without the mixture of their properties. There are passages like this to help us to understand, but not necessarily fully.

Jesus, Prophecy and the Hypostatic Union

1. If Jesus says, "I don't know" then He does not know. He is not saying, I can't tell you. How can that compute.

2. If that is true, and it is, because the Lord said it, then He must be speaking from the disadvantaged position of limited human knowledge. The Hypostatic Union is not difficult to understand in its general concept. We are simply singular people; but the Lord is completely unique, born without a sin nature, as God and man. In His body are these sets of attributes. The properties of man and God did not mix, separate, in One Person.
3. True humanity is not privy to all knowledge. That is the realm of God alone; only God is omniscient. Jesus of omniscient in His Deity; but not in His humanity. He was tempted, but able not to sin; and He lacks a sin nature.
4. This disadvantage is part of what Jesus Christ emptied Himself of. That is the doctrine of kenosis. He emptied Himself of His divine attributes. This is what he emptied Himself of, in order to become man and to be our Savior.
5. So, Christ's knowledge was limited by the constriction, being true humanity. But He knows everything in His Deity. This information God the Father chose not to reveal to the Lord's humanity.
6. The limitation of the humanity of Christ in Luke 2:52 He increased in knowledge; and if Deity bled into His humanity, then there would be no need for Him to increase in knowledge. His human knowledge was incomplete and it was still growing. God revealed much to the Lord in the sustaining power of God the Holy Spirit. God the Holy Spirit also revealed things to the Lord just as He did to the Apostles and to the Prophets. How can the Lord be God and say, "I don't know"? Does this make Him a liar. He increased in knowledge. God the Father did not choose to reveal this to the Son for the reasons cited above.

The Lord did know the time span of the Tribulation, being 7 years, as this has been taught in the Old Testament. In resurrection body, the Lord fully and independently utilized His Deity and then He would have complete knowledge. So, what Jesus is saying applies at the time that He is speaking; but our status in resurrection bodies will be complete knowledge. We understand how they work together in tandem, but not fully.

God the Father as the Planner knows the exact day and hour of the return of Christ. Jesus knows that He is coming back. Angels are not even involved to the point of planning. Satan and his demons do not know either; which is another reason this is not announced. Believers who understand the signs should be able to exercise faith until the end. That is the focus. That is what we need. We do not need dates; and this is not revealed in Scripture either. It is still not revealed to us; it does not need to be. The emphasis is upon our spiritual life; this is what we need to live and prosper in this world, and all that we need for encouragement.

There is a different between the coming of Jesus Christ at the 2nd advent and at the rapture. The signs are different. They are obvious at the 2nd advent; but no signs for Church Age believers prior to the rapture. This is a common misconception among Christians today. Our watchfulness and preparedness for the rapture requires even more concentration on God's promises. We do not have a clue as to the time of the rapture. This means more concentration on God's promises.

We have a great spiritual life in the Church Age; greater than believers in any dispensation, past and future. To whom much is given, much is expected. Looking forward to the future, do not worry about the time or when the events will occur. We prepare by strengthening our spiritual growth. It is like having some big event happening in our life, applying for a new job or getting married or whatever it is, and it keeps us awake all night long for days. We cannot get it out of our minds no matter what we do. We overthink it; and that is a waste of time. Just get prepared for it. First day of school; just get prepared.

Now we leave the doctrine of the rapture and back to what the Lord is doing here, giving them another sign. They should be taking notes: sign 1, sign 2, sign 3.

Then Jesus gives a description:

Matt. 24:37 For as were the days of Noah, so will be the coming of the Son of Man.

Comparison to Noah prior to the ark. The people were judged for their sins and corruption; but Jesus speaks of them eating, drinking, marrying and giving in marriage. These are just normal conditions. The conditions in the antediluvian world were quite evil; a great attack on the human race. The whole intent was to pollute the human race. That evil is not the focus in this context, even though it is the background. There is the normality, the preoccupation with daily events. The focus is on these people. They are involved in the regular pursuits and activities in life. They knew all about it. For 120 years they heard about a flood.

Matt. 24:38 For as in those days before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day when Noah entered the ark,

These are the normal pursuits that we are involved in. Eating is necessary; and it is easy to get distracted. Eating was important to their lives. More important to them than anything about what was coming in life. There is nothing wrong with eating. It is not sinful. Here it represents physical metabolism at the expense of spiritual metabolism; it is a matter of priorities. They needed to believe the word of Noah. They were having none of it. Just the rejection, then and in the Tribulation.

Many preachers go off on drinking; and this does not connote excessive drinking of alcoholic beverage. The context is normal actions. It is not about drunkenness. "You are going to be judged for drinking." Eating and drinking connotes normal fellowship with others and within a family. It is a well-developed social life among people. We all enjoy social life; even if it is a glass or two of wine. For many, social life is often a major part of people's lives. Here it is superimposed over spiritual things. These things become priorities.

In many churches, people go for social life. They go to find a husband or wife; to straighten out their marriage, to meet other Christian couples. The sure-fire problem-solver is Bible doctrine, which gives us everything, and it puts social life into perspective. Even if the social life is not good, we can still enjoy it. Social life cannot replace spiritual life of a believer. In the time of Noah, they ate and drank and had a good time. They laughed at Noah.

Then He mentions marriage, which is a divine institution. As a divine institution, it is normal and it is necessary for society. Broken marriages destroy societies. This sort of thing is a good. There is no emphasis here on the corruption of mankind during the time of Noah. That race was destroyed by the flood.

What is wrong with marriage? It is certainly legitimate. It consumed their time and thinking. Maybe elaborate destination weddings. Many who have planned them and involved in them; sometimes they can be burdensome and they take a lot of planning and time. They can be a great distraction. It takes away from the spiritual life. The bride and the groom cannot lose sight of what they are doing in marriage or what they are doing in the ceremony. They have to spend so much time on marriage, that the spiritual life is ignored.

The Analogy of the Flood and the Tribulation

1. No mention here to the pre-flood sins.
2. The Lord focuses on preoccupation with self.
3. Preoccupation with self precludes Occupation with anything outside of oneself. This represents just how distracted people can get and how far they can get outside of the spiritual life, which is all about self.
4. There was a rabid desire to live for happiness and pleasure and personal fulfillment in the present. They did not listen about what was going to happen.
5. They ignored eternity and the judgment to come.
6. There was no watchfulness or preparedness as with Noah. That is the whole point. They did not know when the floor would take place either.

The ancients needed to pay attention and listen to Noah; and to stop mocking him. They ate their words; as will people in the Tribulation. It began to rain a lot; it got their attention and it sealed their demise. They refused the Word of God, given by Noah; and they did not avail themselves of the way out. It was too late. There is nothing more that we can do; we stand on this life, which is the mistake of their lives.

Matt. 24:38 For as in those days before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day when Noah entered the ark,

They did not fully get it until the flood came. The end came in a way that seemed without warning, although they were warned. It would be a surprise to those who failed to believe. Too interested in the mundane things of life. Great 4th of July message. Do not forget where true freedom lies.

Lesson #none

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

7/5/2017 Wednesday

No Bible class; Bobby traveling.

Lesson #1034

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

7/6/2017 Thursday

Bobby makes remarks about churches, from time to time. He never refers to specific churches, just as he would not refer to any specific politician. He does this because many churches in the United States are not fulfilling their function of bringing believers to maturity. He read an article, The Hottest Thing at Church Today.

According to a new poll by Gallup, the hottest thing at church today is not the hip and relevant youth programs or the organic coffee at the in church café. The hottest thing is preaching based upon the Bible. Decades of church growth is thrown under the bus. Christianity Today statement, despite a new wave of contemporary church buzzwords, people who show up on Sundays are looking for that which people have often looked for. We don't need some preachers dabbling in the teaching of Scripture; but to learn what is there and then commit to that. For decades, the western church has been dominated by the church growth movement. This movement came heavily from business principles of pragmatism; that the ends justifies the means. It demands that we establish goals and then determine that success is the accomplishment of those goals. Success does not mean that God is blessing a church. The attempt to make as many people say they believe in Christ; but often there were changes made to make the church more inviting to unbelievers. Churches need to not focus on what appears to work and to focus more on what the Bible demands.

Hopefully, many pastors will change course; but unfortunately, pastors will do this based on pragmatism rather than Biblical mandates. It should come as no surprise that God's people wants God's Word. A Christian wants nothing more than God's Word; because there is nothing he needs more than God's Word. He may not be able to verbalize this any more than a baby can verbalize its reason for needing milk.

Sermonettes were starving sheep in order to entertain goats. Eventually, Gallup or someone else will come up with a new poll with new results, and deep-rooted pragmatism will drive them toward this new thing.

This is what will maintain the client nation.

In our study, Jesus will do some encouraging. He is continuing the Olivet discourse. Recognize that the Kingdom of God is near, right at the door.

Jesus cannot tell them the exact day; but that His return will parallel the days of Noah.

Matt. 24:37 For as were the days of Noah, so will be the coming of the Son of Man.

People at that time were just involved in normal pursuits of life. Marrying and other things was were normal and necessary for life.

Matt. 24:38 For as in those days before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day when Noah entered the ark,

There is the connotation of social life; which is normal. That is the time of Noah. The people of that era would not be judged for being sinful. These people had no time for the Lord, despite being warned by Noah for 120 years. He proclaimed the Word of God, because God gave it to him; and they just laughed at Noah, and then they went back to the normal, human-centered lives. What was to come was an enormous judgment of the flood. When the flood came, they were taken completely by surprise.

Matt. 24:39 and they were unaware until the flood came and swept them all away, so will be the coming of the Son of Man.

Noah followed instructions, prepared the ark, and built it just in time. He and his family were delivered in this time period; and there will be...

Those who did not listen in Noah's time, they died, not believing God. For believers, Noah is the picture of metabolizing doctrine no matter what. People have been ridiculed for sitting on our hands listening to Bible doctrine.

They leave out what is important; they have no doctrine. They are motivated by their own self-interest; and they are not serving God at all. They do not understand rebound and are never filled with God the Holy Spirit.

Matt. 24:40 Then two men will be in the field; one will be taken and one left.

This is mistakenly confused with the rapture. This is about the Tribulation. This is all about the survival of being harmed

Explaining Matt. 24:40

1. Here, a survivor of the Tribulation, one who is left, is also a believer.
2. As a survivor of the Tribulation, he will enter the new dispensation, the Millennium, the kingdom, without a resurrection body. They will be just like us.
3. That person will be a subject of the King of Kings. Left behind is left standing in the earth before the kingdom.
4. Just as Noah, there were not many people left; and they will have to start all over again. There will be a lot of destruction and death in the
5. They will repopulate the millennial kingdom.
6. Some of these children will reject the King; they will be unbelievers throughout the Millennium. Negative volition is powerful; and it will occur in the Tribulation. Perfect environment is just not enough. There are still sin natures which run amuck in this world.
7. Bobby is not dissing conservation. It will not save
8. The taken ones are those who died in the Tribulation; the tribulation martyrs. They will have resurrection bodies. The ones who are in heaven.

Then an exhortation in v. 42.

Matt. 24:42 Therefore, stay awake, for you do not know on what day your Lord is coming.

Matt. 24:43 But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what part of the night the thief was coming, he would have stayed awake and would not have let his house be broken into.

If only you could know in advance and be on the alert, ready for it. If Bobby knew, he'd set his alarm clock. It would really be nice to know what night; and you can just sit there and be prepared and just watch.

In preparation you are sitting there with a loaded weapon on safe. Awaiting the advent of the thief.

The point is, be prepared, be watchful. The coming of the Lord is compared to the sudden arrival of a thief. Normally, they take a person by surprise. You are watchful when you know he is coming; soon.

ερχομαι+ει+αν and there is a 2nd class condition here. The contrary to fact condition. The head of the house should have known, but he did not need the signs of the time of the 2nd advent. Otherwise, he would have been on the alert, prepared for the Lord.

Those Without Bible Doctrine When the Lord Returns

1. Some believers will not know enough doctrine to be alert for the return. That is a tragedy because it will be unexpected.
2. Thus they will fall victim to false doctrine; to fear, to discouragement. Deadly in the Tribulation period. They cannot afford to fall for false doctrine in that period of time.
3. Their attitude at that time will be one of total discouragement.
4. Some will not persevere and they will not be counted among the survivors. Not a great position in the kingdom. The envy of those who have a sin nature; who have been faithful.

We are prepared for life and what the Lord has for us; and we are prepared for the return of the Lord at the 2nd advent; and life does not discourage us. There is no fear. This is true if we grow spiritually; if we have a lot of doctrine in our souls. The encouragement that the Lord is talking about here. Are we discouraged. Are we depressed? We have no right to be. When things are bad, encouragement is as close as the Word of God in our souls. You said exactly what I needed to hear tonight. But Bobby is just a mouthpiece. God answers our questions and our discouragement with His Word. But we need to be consistent and continue to grow. One last breath and then we are in heaven; we go to sleep and wake up in heaven. Death is in God's plan for us.

In the Tribulation, there was a lot of death taking place. And the people of Jerusalem were about to be exterminated by all of these armies. "I will wipe these people off the map," the Lord promises.

When the reversionist shows up, that may set off the sin nature.

The Consequence of Not Being Aware and Watchful

1. If the person about to be robbed was ready, then he would not have to worry.
2. He is forewarned; it must not happen. Don't let the thief into the house. Stop him with your preparation.
3. The house is a specific reference to Jerusalem at the close of the situation. Jerusalem would be surrounded by these various armies.
4. How are believers to preclude the house being broken into. They are to resist the enemy until Christ returns. Zech. 14:1-4
5. There is no compromise with false doctrine, even to the point of death.
- 6.
7. The believer with no doctrine will surrender to the enemy who breaks in (breaks into their souls).
8. This is spiritual failure; Christians do fail spiritually because of a lack of knowledge of Bible doctrine. There is never a time when God's...

Christianity is strongly opposed. We oppose gay marriage because it is anti-Biblical and it is contrary to Scripture. We do not dislike gays because Jesus Christ died for them; we simply do not like what they do. Anyone who stands against that community is very likely to run into a buzzsaw. And there will be great persecution of them. There are things that you cannot compromise. You cannot water down Bible doctrine or favor false doctrine.

We have no excuse at Berachah for not being ready.

Matt. 24:44 Therefore you also must be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.

Here, we are told to be ready, at an hour that is unexpected.

Lesson #1035

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

7/9/2017 1Sunday

The Eucharist July 9, 2017

Half of the ritual is drinking from the cup. The purpose is found in 1Cor. :36 We proclaim the Lord's death until He comes. The cup is a metonym. The cup is connected to its contents. There is a liquid associated with the death of Jesus Christ. We are to drink from a cup which is the blood of Christ.

We are not drinking the actual blood of Christ, as some believe. Transubstantiation is a false doctrine. We drink of the death of Jesus Christ because that is all about His death which provides for salvation.

Cup as a dispenser, which is poured out. What is poured out from the cup, is the grace of God. Psalm 23:5 You prepare a table for me in the presence of my enemies. My cup overflows. Another passage: a cup poured out, representing a judgment. There is a cup used applied with judgment against those surrounding Jerusalem. The prophecy is of the final siege of that city, where the power of God destroys Israel's enemies. Once again, there is a salvation or deliverance connotation in the cup.

Sometimes, the cup stands for the believer, the Savior. "Put the sword into the sheaf; the cup which My Father has given Me, should I not drink it?" The cup represents that for which the Lord became flesh and to provide atonement for the human race. This is His substitutionary spiritual death. Peter, by standing in the way with the sword, was preventing the Lord from accomplishing God's plan for our salvation. The bitter brew of the cross. Had the Lord not drunk from the cup, there would be no salvation for us. Thank God that the Lord was willing to take our sins upon Himself.

Likely recited by the Lord, associating Himself with the cup of salvation in a psalm. By drinking from the cup, our Savior removed the barrier between us and God. The Lord does not wish for any to perish, but for all to make a change of mind and believe in Him. Even those who merely sip from this cup is saved.

When we believe in Jesus Christ, we share all that He is and has. God the Holy Spirit can lead a person to the cup of salvation; but He cannot force anyone to drink. This must be taken by one's own choice. This is why the Lord extended the salvation invitation so many times during His ministry.

John 4:14 appropriating the grace of God for salvation; eternal life. In no other way can a person attain eternal life. So the living water must be drunk. This water is the only possible relief from our unquenchable thirst for life. Christ drank the cup of sin for us, that we might be made righteousness in Him. In no other way can we become acceptable to God; that is the epitome of God's grace.

Those who refuse to drink from the cup of salvation. Thus says the LORD God, you will drink your sister's cup (reference to the northern kingdom); a cup which is deep and wide; you will be laughed at and held in derision. You will be filled with drunkenness. Because you have forgotten Me and cast Me behind your back, therefore, the cup of punishment.

No clemency from the God of love at the very end. One sip from the cup of Christ is enough to deter all judgment.

Jesus prayed that He might not drink from that cup of judgment; but not as I will but as You will. It was an awful moment that He had come to. The lowest point of that humility. He was about to be cursed, despised and then die.

A further blessing for those who believe. Is not the cup of blessing with which we bless a sharing in the blood of Christ. Sharing refers to fellowship, a great benefit of salvation.

With this cup, we see how He died and how He was raised again. "This do in remembrance of Me."

Also there is a cup of separation; which the Corinthians failed to drink from. You cannot partake of the table of the Lord and the table of demons. The Corinthians refused to separate themselves from the devil's world. From the cosmic system. Experiential sanctification in believers, and this is synonymous with thinking divine viewpoint and spiritual maturity. The cup is our metonymy.

Lesson #1036

Matt. 24:4 Life of Christ

7/9/2017 2Sunday

The parable has the theme of being ready for the 2nd advent; the parable of the fig tree. Speaking to the disciples, Jesus is saying, "Be certain to get this point; be sure you understand this."

Matt. 24:43 But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what part of the night the thief was coming, he would have stayed awake and would not have let his house be broken into.

No doubt that someone has come into your home and taken your stuff; but this is something which happens all the time.

Jesus says, "Be ready to repel a thief from your home." Would it not be nice to know in advance when a thief would break in? If we knew 4pm on July 18th, we would be ready and waiting for the thief.

We do not know the exact time for the Lord's return; but there is nothing between the time today and His return to take us up with the rapture.

The final 3.5 years of the Tribulation will be a terrible time on earth. This information is what they need to be aware of the quick return and the signs that will herald His return at the end of the Tribulation.

One final statement:

Matt. 24:44 Therefore you also must be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect.

This is why readiness is that important. Suddenly, the Lord is there. Many people know that the Lord will return. It will be a shock. We know He is coming, but it will still be a shock and surprise. It will happen; so just be ready.

Many think that this will never happen. Some do not even consider that it will happen. For some people, this is not in their thinking at all; and some believers give this absolutely no thought at all. It is just lost, another doctrine in the back of their minds.

What about Growing to Prepare for the Lord?

1. The Bema seat of Christ or the Judgment Seat of Christ. The Church Age will run until the rapture of the church. All believers alive and dead will get resurrection bodies and we will always be with the Lord at that point. It is as close as His return for the church. When He returns, there will be an evaluation of Christ; for every Church Age believer. Think of ourselves standing and being evaluated by the Lord Jesus Christ. Have you ever been evaluated? Imagine standing before the Lord Jesus Christ and being evaluated us. That ought to give us pause. That will be an evaluation which affects us for all eternity. This is not something that is with us for a few days or a month or so. There is a reason for this evaluation. How do we get a good evaluation? Glorify Him and we will receive a great evaluation. There are rewards for that. So, there is a connection with growing now and the evaluation seat of Christ.
2. We had better be ready, even if this does not happen in our lifetime. It must have a sense of urgency, every day. You ought to consider your spiritual growth every single day, which involves metabolizing Bible doctrine every single day. Growing in grace is quite important in the light of eternity.
3. We will face the Bema seat at the resurrection, as we all will. Will the Lord say, "What a loser?" There appears to be momentary embarrassment, but not something which occurs and continues over a long period of time. We all have eternal security. We will be saved eternally. What is our eternal status.
4. We will be evaluated based upon what we have done during our lives, with the resources during the life which God gave us. We have the filling of the Holy Spirit.
5. Did you produce divine good or did you simply live for yourself, failing in God's plan and failing to glorify Him. That brings consequences for eternity. We live on this earth for 50 or 90 years, which is a blink compared to eternity. There is no comparison.
6. For those who are ready, it does not matter when Jesus Christ returns. It is never lost on those that it will happen. There is encouragement in that.
7. So, those who are prepared for that eventuality will live the spiritual life. How simple is that? So many believers scratch their heads and think, what should I do today to get rewards in heaven? It is actually about, how can I grow spiritually in order to serve the Lord? The rewards will happen, when you follow instructions. It is all about the Lord; it is never about us. It is about giving, which is not out of necessity. We want to contribute to the dissemination of the gospel. How many times have you heard people tell you how much they have done for the Lord? Like JW's coming around in 100 degree heat, trying to tell you that they have the truth. Sadly, they think that this is their way to the kingdom. Some Christians think that it is all about what they do.

Another parable in Matt. 24:45–51

There is the slight advantage of those during the Tribulation who know approximately when the Lord will return. It will be about 7 years. The fine line between reward and lack of reward for the believer. Making a living is very important; but making a living for your own glory all about the plan of God. Motivation for the plan of God comes only from growing in grace and knowledge.

One of the slaves here is one who has done well in service, but there are two possible outcomes, faithfulness (vv. 45–47) or failure (vv. 48–51).

Matt. 24:45 "Who then is the faithful and wise servant, whom his master has set over his household, to give them their food at the proper time?"

The slave is put in charge. He has a leadership function; and this caught Bobby's attention, being in that position. There is more than just him.

Matt. 24:46 Blessed is that servant whom his master will find so doing when he comes.

Then a reward or promotion given over to the faithful servant. He handles all the duties well and with wisdom.

Matt. 24:47 Truly, I say to you, he will set him over all his possessions.

The Good Servant

1. The slave is the Jewish believer in the Tribulation who is able to apply Bible doctrine in his life. Many believers never apply anything.
2. God has entrusted him with faithfully fulfilling his plan on earth.
3. In spite of the persecution and difficulty, this believer succeeds in accomplishing the
4. He is characterized by his adherence to God's Word. Wise application; proper execution of duties.

Bobby stumbled across a passage in Proverbs which defines the spiritual life and how and why we ought to be involved in it. It is a fantastic passage. Bobby will teach it in the not-too-distant future. It defines who we are and what we are doing here in life. We know what we should be doing here. What is our priority? In order to have the right priority, there must be spiritual growth. There is also an element of contingency, as in v. 48. But this is conditional. This is what he is supposed to be doing.

Status of believer. Promoted in the coming kingdom, simply being faithful to the plan of God. The kingdom is on earth. There will be those with resurrection bodies; and they will rule with Christ and we will have a part in that. See how the spiritual life affects us in the future? The believer will be promoted to a position of authority and high stature in the kingdom. You may think that you want to keep a low profile, but it will be different in the Millennium. We can all understand this. Do a good job and you get promoted. You may have an unfair boss or a petty work staff all around you. We may or may not be promoted in this life. We might not be able to see ourselves as others see us. That will never be the case with the absolute justice of God. Utilizing the grace assets which He has provided. We will be rewarded commensurate with that service. It will be absolutely based upon promotion.

There are people who are promoted for doing everything that the boss wants in ways that rub you the wrong way. And there are those who do a fantastic job behind the scenes, and

There parable begins in v. 45. In the Tribulation, there will be those who will forget about His return and turn away from His plan. If you are not faithful to God's Word, you will end up being a failure in the Christian life. You must metabolize God's Word.

Matt. 24:45 "Who then is the faithful and wise servant, whom his master has set over his household, to give them their food at the proper time?"

Responsibility brought into this relationship.

Matt. 24:46 Blessed is that servant whom his master will find so doing when he comes.

Faithful service; following instructions.

Matt. 24:47 Truly, I say to you, he will set him over all his possessions.

The master will put him in charge of all his possessions. Before, it was just household possessions. That is a reward for faithful service. A promotion in the household of the master.

1. This slave represents a Jewish believer in the Tribulation, who is using divine wisdom in the Christian life. He has and uses divine wisdom. It does not do much good to just sit down and read a chapter from the Bible. You may grow a little and maybe not. You do not necessarily understand the context or the original languages or the related doctrines. It is always good to read God's Word. But it is better to take in and metabolize God's Word. That is where the faithfulness comes in.
2. God has entrusted believers with faithfully fulfilling His plan on earth. We are all a part of the household; God has entrusted us with it.
3. In spite of the persecution and difficulty, this slave succeeds in accomplishing the purpose of the master.
4. This slave is characterized by adherence to God's Word. If you have God's Word in your soul, you are, by definition, a sensible person. Each one of us has a plan that God developed for us in eternity past. We are to fulfill that plan. So we need to be sensible in it. There is no substitute for it.
5. That is the definition of faithfulness in the life of any believer.

What happens if the believer fulfills the command? He will be blessed and he will be put in charge of all the master's possessions.

The Analogy to the Kingdom

1. The analogy is to the kingdom when it comes.
2. It is also analogous to the status of the believer who is faithful to the Lord during the Tribulation. Two analogies:
3. He or she will be promoted to a higher position in the coming kingdom. This means there will be a hierarchy in the kingdom. We know Who the King is. There will be those who rule with the Lord. What about the rest? The good servant will be promoted based upon their faithfulness to the plan of God. "You do the job and you get it all." We too will be a part of that kingdom. Our duties occur prior to the rapture of the church. There is a parallel here for Church Age believers and those who will enter the kingdom after the second advent.

4. Promoted means to be in a position of authority; of high authority. We will be given authority over all the LORD's possessions. That is high stature in the kingdom.

Then the other side is addressed; the unfaithful servant.

Who Is the Unfaithful Servant

1. This is all about a slave to a master, the master being the Lord Jesus Christ.
2. This slave belongs to the master.
3. But how that slave thinks and serves the master is another matter.
4. There is an element of uncertainty.
5. Even the evil slave still belongs to the Master. God and bad servants belong to the Master. Many think that this parable is related to unbeliever; but this is a believer.

The evil slave forgot what his master is doing.

Matt. 24:48 But if that wicked servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed,'

The evil slave does bad stuff.

Matt. 24:49 and begins to beat his fellow servants and eats and drinks with drunkards,

Faithful or Unfaithful Servant

1. There is not new servant here.
2. A good and a bad servant.
3. A possible change of perspective of the slave, from good to evil. This is the same slave
4. This refers to a change of perspective by any believer in Jesus Christ.

We have a conditional particle here, with the aorist active subjunctive of eidon. Eipon? This indicates something we need to recognize for this. This is a 3rd class condition; maybe yes and maybe no. There is a probability that this might happen. Good can become evil in the soul of a believer. The good servant can become the unfaithful servant. The faithful servant is the believer. The soul of the believer who is out of fellowship and remains out of fellowship. It describes a believer who fails to grow spiritually. No desire to fulfill the plan of God. That becomes the slave. What evil thinking overtakes this slave? "My master is not going to return."

One of the great conundrums in Christianity. Who is a Christian and what is the Christian life about? Varying opinions. You believe in Jesus but you go in a certain direction and do not bear fruit, then you probably are not saved or did not truly believe. The Scripture says, once we are a believer, then we remain saved forever.

The evil slave says in his heart; he is the same slave in the rest of the parable. Salvation is a given. The context of the passage is about the kingdom and those who are in the kingdom. There will not be any unbelievers in the kingdom. No unbelievers entering into the Millennium. So, we are dealing with a slave, but he belongs to a master, so that also tells us that he is a believer.

He is thinking; he says to himself, "My master is not coming for a long time." This slave pays no attention to his master. Being a slave and not following the duties given you by the master, this can be a very dangerous thing. The master has been delayed for an unspecified period of time. That is analogous to the relationship between believers and Jesus Christ.

If the person fulfills that duty, he will have all the possessions of the master. If he does not, if he has no intention of following the master's instructions, the master's return has just left his consciousness. The slave has convinced himself of the fact that the master will not return. The slave is doing whatever he wants to do in the household. This is a total disregard of whatever instructions the master has for the believer. Where do believers find their instructions? It is not someone bullying you; those instructions come only from the divinely inspired Word of God. If you ignore those instructions, then you are an evil slave, as this says. It is not hard to understand. There is no thought given to the master's demands.

Our Actions and the Fulfillment of the Plan of God

1. Any thought about the return of the master is set aside. What we do in this life has an affect of what happens in eternity. Some believers in this life have forgotten about that. There will be a Judgment Seat of Christ. What we accomplish as believers will make a difference. Some of our good works will be burned up. This slave has no thought of the return of the master.
2. This action reflects his thinking; he has no spiritual life. You are what you think. What you think is who you are. What this slave thinks is who he is. This man has no thought at all of spiritual things.
3. What happens is the actions of a reversionist. He does not consider the consequences of the return of Jesus Christ. There are consequences for each one of us. They will be going into the kingdom of the second advent. There are consequences to what we do in this life. It is a motivating factor. The main motivating factor is what the Word of God has to say. There are times when we forget the importance of Bible doctrine. There are repercussions to that. What am I doing, where am I going and what does this mean for eternity? A few years in this life, we have some duties to perform; the plan of God for our life; and this effects us for eternity. Quite a thing to fulfill God's plan for us in this life.
4. He refuses to entertain the consequences of his wrong actions.

Matt. 24:48–49 But if that wicked servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed,' and begins to beat his fellow servants and eats and drinks with drunkards,...

A believer who abuses other believers; he is an oppressor; he rejects other believers and God's Word. This is unfaithfulness to the master's charge; indicative of all reversionists. This is a person who does not heed the instructions of God's Word. They do not metabolize God's Word. How simple are the instructions! It does require something on our part; the 3rd class condition. We have a choice to make.

This besets their Christian life. They have none or they have a phoney life with the wrong priorities. This slave is in charge of other slaves.

This slave is in charge of taking care of the other slaves; but he abuses his position; he acts without care for the master's expectations. This applies to pastor-teachers. This is a leadership position. This is a responsibility, to lead, to feed, to protect other servants.

The one that hits him the hardest is to preach the Word. We as believers in Jesus Christ must be nurtured on the food of Bible doctrine. That is why food is such an apt analogy here. The result is starving and there is no growth.

Bobby knows his responsibility. He could not do it; he is still a believer. There are several motivating factors for Bobby. We will at some time stand before the Judgment Seat of Christ. Our responsibility is to fulfill those duties. Bobby cannot starve us; and we cannot starve ourselves (without bad results). Legalism, antagonism toward others, antinomianism, etc. defines going out of bounds of the Christian life. This is mostly for leaders; and pastors forget the teaching aspect of their responsibility.

Proclaim the Word! That is why Bobby is here. That is the reason for that academic exercise. What do the other people look at in chapel? No amount of programs, music, etc. can replace the solid food of Bible doctrine. We can do those other things.

The priority is food; Bobby's priority is to feed us; and our priority is to metabolize the doctrine.

Some pastors try to make sure there are lots of bodies in the pews. If I get enough in here, they will hear the Word. But so many water down the Word and the gospel in order to get the people there in the first place.

The mandate to teach and proclaim the Word of God. This mandate is often forgotten for other priorities. It is not about the carnality. That can reflect reversionism. Every person is carnal, whether a leader or not. What matters is, preaching or learning God's Word. The leader will be judged severely for the fulfillment.

Every once and awhile, the reversionist thinks, I am going down this road and maybe I should not, and they think this based upon something that they heard. This injunction to faithfulness is not limited to leadership alone. Those who need food need to find it. Positive volition is the key.

Positive volition in Gatlinberg conference was obvious. It is a vacation area; Dollywood and a quaint little town, Smokey Mountain Park. But these places were not up to par; and they still came to get the Word. Positive volition. God will always make spiritual food available to those who want to metabolize.

When Bob began to teach; it was very hard to find that kind of doctrinal teaching in the country. There may not have been much; but people were hungry for the Word of God; and people have stumbled across Bob's ministry provided by tapes and today electronically. Now, it is much easier to find. Bobby has made an issue of listening to too many. There are differences and you do not need to eat all kinds of food that does not digest easily.

Back then, people could not find doctrine. The US has been blessed by the ministry of R. B. Thieme, Jr. 40 years ago, the auditorium was packed to the rafters with people from all over. Not as necessary today with the electronic media.

Reversionism also has physical affects in the life of the servant. Eating and drinking with drunkards.

Matt. 24:49 and begins to beat his fellow servants and eats and drinks with drunkards,...

Explaining V. 49

1. Today, sin is not a word in most people's vocabularies. It is not acceptable; it is sin. God has provided recovery from that.
2. This is the way of life of the reversionist. They associate with others as if they are unbelievers.
3. The intoxicated often refers to a religious crowd. Those drunk on their own piety.
4. Christian way of life is humility, not arrogance. Intoxicated with false doctrine and human viewpoint. You are out of your senses when you are drunk; you do not know what you are doing when you are really drunk. You are stumbling through life; falling on your face. Beautiful description of the reversionist.
5. Instead of spiritual growth, they are enamored with legalism or humanism or also false roads of thinking.
6. This is something that we should not forget. The reversionist is no different from the unbeliever in his thinking or in action. They will be in the kingdom, but with consequences.
7. They will lose their position in the kingdom. So reversionists will lose rewards at the Bama Seat. What you do in this life matters for eternity; and that should motivate us, to get us into the Word and to stay in the Word and to execute the Christian life.

A very difficult passage coming. People who see the evil slave as an unbeliever; and this is the incorrect interpretation. He is a reversionist.

Matt. 24:50 the master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he does not know

Bobby introduced Sunday with something on faithfulness. He recognizes faithfulness; those people who come to get Bible doctrine, night after night. We will serve God all the way into eternity.

The correct way to understand this is two different perspectives by the slave, good or evil.

Matt. 24:45–49 "Who then is the faithful and wise servant, whom his master has set over his household, to give them their food at the proper time? Blessed is that servant whom his master will find so doing when he comes. Truly, I say to you, he will set him over all his possessions. But if that wicked servant says to himself, 'My master is delayed,' and begins to beat his fellow servants and eats and drinks with drunkards,...

There Is but One Slave in this Parable

1. Xx
2. The demonstrative pronoun has to stand for someone; it stands for the slave of the previous verses (vv. 45–47).
3. The same guy.
4. One slave belonging to the master. That is the picture of a believer who belongs to Jesus Christ.
5. The slave is making a choice for blessing or cursing based upon how he serves the master in the household. There are two ways to go.
6. The master is Jesus Christ and the slave is the one belonging to Him.

So v. 48a introduces a 3rd class condition. If that evil slave says in his heart; volition and the mentality of his soul. We as believers are in Christ, but we have a decision whether or not to grow spiritually and to continue to grow spiritually. It is very easy to go down a different road. He comes to the conclusion, my master is not coming for a long time; and the wrong decision is he can do whatever he wants to do. That is arrogant unfaithfulness. We must live within the parameters of the Christian life. All Bible doctrine define the parameters of our lives. It is very easy to become distracted. We all have. Some of us for longer periods of time. The distractions are there; and that is what this demonstrates. Nothing worse than a power-mad boss. One who is a bully; who is difficult to deal with; one who is unfair. That is exactly what this parable deals with. He is either living the Christian life; followings the doctrines of the Lord Jesus Christ, or he is in the depths of reversionism. He is acting just like any unbeliever.

You cannot be a Christian and act like an unbeliever; many people think. Some others think you never believed in Jesus Christ in the first place; or you lost your salvation. This question of reversionism means the believer reverting back to the old ways, the old style, acting like an unbeliever. There is a book called reversionism. It gives a complete coverage of the subject. It is a true doctrine of...

This was such a difficult time to be a believer; and to maintain the Christian walk during a time of great persecution. Hiding from the Christian way of life seems to be the way out, today.

The easy part even in the persecution is to stick with the Christian way of life. This person will enter into the Kingdom of God, but without any honor or reward for their life on earth.

We will all stand before the Lord and we will be evaluated. Who is the reversionist; and if there is no production, then there are no rewards. In spiritual growth, we have become mature and we are able to apply Bible doctrine and to produce divine good. In this parable of slave and master, Christ describes the result of reversionism when He returns. Such a person will not exact this to happen.

Matt. 24:50 the master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he does not know

And here is what happens: penalty of reversionism; but not the penalty of hell.

Matt. 24:51 and will cut him in pieces and put him with the hypocrites. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

God Returns and the Person Does Not Believe That He Will Return

1. The reversionist believer has lost all sense of the Word of God.
2. No filling of the Holy Spirit means that he is inundated in the cosmic system.
3. His sense or urgency to fulfill the plan of God is entirely missing. Who cares? I'm saved. Others just decide to raise hell.
4. But the Lord will return, at the rapture for us; or at the 2nd advent. He will return, leaving this reversionist to His judgment. This judgment is described in very graphic terms.
5. Cutting a person up is petty strong discipline. Hard to see that as anything but separation from God. It means to slice into as if a saw. We can understand many of these words.
6. Used in the Septuagint, this word is used Cor cutting. But there will be no drawing and quartering; even concerning those going to hell.

Most Agree That this Is a Figurative Expression

1. This is hyperbole standing in for severe discipline.
2. We may understand this to be cutting words.
3. Coming from the Lord Jesus Christ. The words of the Lord are cutting, slicing.
4. Any rebuke by the Lord means consequences for the believers
5. The know this to be true at the Bema Seat. "Well done, good and faithful servant" are the words that we want to hear. This will be embarrassment. Difficult moments this is a separation of sorts; a separation.

The Punishment Continues Where He Is Assigned a Place with the Hypocrites.

1. The hypocrites are the worst. They do not live as they say or act. Self righteous religious type.
2. That is a perfect description of believers; saved and
3. They are the reversionists who live a life of deceit and hypocrisy.
4. They have followed the path of humanism or antinomianism.
5. They embrace the superficialities of religious life. Or they subscribe to the false doctrines of humanism.

Embrace superficialities of human life or of humanism; and avoid or reject the things of eternal importance. What is important is living your life in the light of eternity. It is wasu t. it is stupid in this life not to plan for your future; so is it any different in the Christian life? And planning for your future as a believer is much easier.

Anti-nomian unbelievers do not forfeit their salvation. Believer and unbeliever hypocrites in the Bible. Believers can be guilty of hypocrisy. Paul and Peter both describe this. Where do you get assigned when you do not live the Christian life? With the hypocrites.

Faithful and Unfaithful in Eternity

1. Bobby told the Galinberg conference and told them they had better bring pen and paper. Believing hypocrites or reversionists are cut off or separated from faithful believers. Not from God in eternity.
2. This indicates some type of ostracism and disgrace. Live your life in the light of eternity.
3. This indicates an embarrassing and eternal distinction. Is it worth it?
4. In the kingdom, which is what this is about, by place and rank. There will be rank in the kingdom.
5. The faithful will take positions of authority in the kingdom. Some great ones, like the
6. Such people who plan in advance might rule over us.
7. Produce divine good in the Christian life. It is the greatest life that there is.
8. No authority for the unfaithful. There will be believers and unbelievers who survive. Some will have important positions and others will be peons. Definite inequalities. This is the kingdom, the 1000 year reign of Jesus Christ.

Believers have come up with so many ways to please and glorify God. It is amazing all that they did. They would beat their backs until bloody. Ridiculous things; and they did it to show everyone else how pious they were. This is what people do to gain God's favor. They think that will give them place and rank in the file of believers in heaven. This does not carry any weight with God. How do we use His grace. The reversionistic believer will be distinguished by their loss of rewards. They will be in heaven, but marked by few rewards. There are certainly degrees in heaven for living the Christian life. People have a hard time with that. Our goal is to endure so that we reign with Him.

2Ti 2:11–13 The saying is trustworthy, for: If we have died with him, we will also live with him; if we endure, we will also reign with him; if we deny him, he also will deny us; if we are faithless, he remains faithful— for he cannot deny himself.

Denying the Lord is denying what He has provided for us in this life. The only conclusion, there is a hierarchy of rewards and standards in heaven.

There Will Be Weeping and Gnashing of Teeth

1. Great emotion and profound regret.
2. A loss of great opportunity offered us. They will be gnashing their teeth, but these are believers.
3. This is the loss of something of infinite value.
4. It can be the loss of eternal rewards for believers, as we find here; or it can be the description of the unbeliever goes to hell. Context determines who expresses this.
5. Here, context tells us that this is believers. Loss of rewards; not loss of salvation. If any man's work is burned up, he will suffer loss; but he himself will be saved, but as through fire. Human good destroyed by fire means that there are rewards being lost.

We know that there will be no pain, sorrow, tears in heaven. How does that jive with what we are studying. There might be a momentary view; and an understanding of the rewards which are missed. Maybe they will be on file so that we can go and see what we missed out on. The majesty of heaven will overshadow such a loss of rank.

Final Points

1. Remember that this context is the rule of Christ in the millennial kingdom.
2. Those entering into the kingdom.
3. Believing reversionists will have a loss of certain privileges and rank in the
4. They are not in resurrection bodies.
5. Yet when they are in resurrection bodies, there will be no sorrow or tears; but the distinctions remained.

Lesson #1040

Matt. 25:4 Life of Christ

7/20/2017 Thursday

Bobby likes parables because they are like a puzzle. These are parables spoken by the Lord Jesus Christ; and these were critical to the learning of His disciples.

One simple Greek adverb, then, tells us that we are continuing the teaching of the Lord from the previous chapter.

The Ten Virgins and the Talents.

General Introductory Points

1. Jesus uses these parables to warn of judgment which will fall upon Israel.

2. This judgment is documented in the Old Testament. Ezek. 20 Zech. 13:1 this was all prophesied previously. Believers and unbelievers will be separated at the end of the Tribulation.
3. This is the context of both of these parables as related to the kingdom.
4. The judgment at that time will be to determine who is saved and who is unsaved in the nation. Who will enter the kingdom and who will not.
5. No unbeliever will enter into the kingdom after these judgments.
6. The judgment of these Jews will follow the 2nd advent. From the time that He returns until He initiates the kingdom, that is when this judgment will take place.
7. There will also be a judgment of gentiles as well. Matt. 25:31–46 the judgment is a shadowing of the Great White Throne judgment. That is where all unbelievers will be finally judged. They will be cast into the Lake of Fire along with the devil and his angels.

There is a call to the wedding or to the feast, usually a banquet hall; and close to where the wedding will take place. The invitation and the assembly occur at the same time that the bridegroom sends for the bride.

A presentation of the bride to the bridegroom. The friend of the bridegroom will go to the house of the bride to summon her to come to the place.

The people are assembled at the banquet and the bride and groom show up at the end of the ceremony.

What Is Happening

1. The parable is to present a picture of the return of Christ as the Bridegroom. This is taking place at the end of the Tribulation.
2. The 10 virgins represents two categories of guests awaiting His return.
3. Also, represented in the parable is the millennial reign of Christ, also known as the Kingdom of Heaven.
4. The appearance of Christ as the bridegroom in the parable brings the onset of the kingdom.
5. Israel, to whom the kingdom is promised, is pictured as the 10 virgins; that is
6. They, the 10 virgins, were invited as guests to the appearance of Christ at the 2nd advent, the coming of the bridegroom. They will enter into the kingdom.

Matt. 25:1 "Then the kingdom of heaven will be like ten virgins who took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom."

The characteristic of the virgins; 5 wise and 5 stupid.

What Does this Mean?

1. The 5 wise are the survivors of the Tribulation.

2. The foolish are unbelievers, some of whom also survive the Tribulation; and they are present at the return of the Lord. He does not wipe out every unbeliever. The enemies of Israel are wiped out.
3. Imperfect active indicative εἰμι, and 5 were wise and 5 were foolish. This is the absolute status quo; a state of being. Both categories of virgins are present at the return.
4. These two categories of virgins are not interchangeable in the parable. There is no crossover. No interchangeableness in the kingdom as well.
5. By their own choice, whether wise or foolish, their status has been locked in. The foolish cannot become wise and the wise foolish when the Lord appears.
6. The time for decision is over at this point. There is a moment when the foolish can no longer choose to become wise; unbelievers can no longer become believers. Unbelievers, at the 2nd advent, are set up for judgment.
7. There is a terminus point for the volitional decision; and a point at which it is no longer an option. Only one category will go into the kingdom.

The Lord redeemed all men from the slave market of sin on the cross; and there are 5 fools here who have rejected the Lord. This will be judged and rejected by the LORD. This tells us that there will be some who are not saved. There is a requirement for salvation; faith alone in Christ alone.

Matt. 25:2 Five of them were foolish, and five were wise.

Here is how they are differentiated.

Matt. 25:3 For when the foolish took their lamps, they took no oil with them,

The wise took oil; and foolish did not. This is all about preparation; this is about being ready. This is a picture of the guests awaiting the appearance of the bridegroom.

This oil becomes the sole distinction between the wise and foolish. The wise bring enough oil and some extra oil.

The foolish are short on preparation.

Matt. 25:4 but the wise took flasks of oil with their lamps.

What it All Represents.

1. The lamps represent their volition.
2. Taking lamps with them indicate that they had the means with which to be prepared. They could have had the light, had they wanted it. They could have been ready for the bridegroom.
3. What is presented is, they all had equal opportunity.

The fools expected Him, but were not really ready for Him.

What Do it Mean

1. The simple choice to bring oil was either done or not done based upon a decision. Should we bring the oil or not?
2. The virgins were alike in their knowledge and regard of the bridegroom.
3. Likewise, the pharisees held the Messiah in high regard, but they rejected Him in the flesh. The disciples had observed this for many years. They were not prepared to meet the Messiah in the way that He came.
4. The virgins were all dressed alike in the same clothes; they are all members of the Jewish nation. They were all the chosen people. They all had lamps. Not all Israel is Israel. Religious Jews are not true Jews. They have no oil in their lamp. Abraham expressed faith alone in Christ alone; and therefore, He was saved. The true Jews look to the kingdom. They all carried the same lamp.
5. This meant the same exposure to the gospel. If all the virgins belonged to the same nation; then they all carried the same lamp. They were all a part there was one choice that they needed to make—did they bring oil or not. At the end of all this is judgment; and that is the whole picture for Israel. Any of them could have brought oil. For whatever reason, they chose not to do so in the parable, this refers to the rejection of the gospel.

There is a mystery here regarding their choice. They know how weddings are conducted; so they should have known to bring oil.

Bobby does some weddings; and he has seen people come in every state of dress and undress. Memorial and a kid shows up in jean cutoffs, a tee shirt and flip flops. Why on earth do these 5 dumb virgins not bring a little oil with them. Did they not know the simple requirements? They knew this, and they still did not do it.

What a picture that this represents. It is even more baffling of those who saw the Lord, heard what He said and saw His miracles; and yet they rejected Him. The information necessary for salvation is available. It is as close as saying, "Father, I believe." The pharisees and the visible rejection of the Lord Jesus Christ, even though he was right in front of them.

The wise virgins took the lamps and they took extra oil. Whenever the bridegroom appeared, they would be ready. They did not know exactly when he would come; but they knew that he would come. Therefore, they had to be prepared.

The Kingdom of Heaven is likened to the wise virgins. Their lamps would burn until the appearance of the Lord. The lamp had to burn until the bridegroom came. They had to accept the need for light. They were prepared for the bridegroom, knowing that they would need light.

The Lamps and the Light of the Gospel

1. The lamps represent the light of the gospel of Jesus Christ. They all had it; it was there.
2. Light is a common metaphor in the Bible for Jesus Christ. He is the Light of the World.
3. All 10 virgins had the light available to them; they had had it for centuries.
4. First they got it from the Old Testament shadow Christology. Included the substitutionary atonement. It represented preparation for the Messiah and the Kingdom.
5. This was all confirmed by the 1st advent of the Lord. The reality of the shadow Christology; and there would be great evangelism in the Tribulation.

Oil often refers to the Holy Spirit. Rom. 8:9 You, however, are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Anyone who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him.

The Holy Spirit Gives Us a Human Spirit

1. Salvation involves regeneration by God the Holy Spirit. It is the creation of a human spirit. We become new creatures in Christ. We have a new human spirit. Body, soul and human spirit. The human spirit is that part of the person which can assimilate Bible doctrine in the soul. It is critical; it is who we are.
2. Also the baptism of God the Holy Spirit puts us in Christ. That is also the oil.
3. We are looking at what is in the lamp, which is the Holy Spirit. We share all that Christ is and all that He has. We are prepared to enter the kingdom; we are royal family.
4. In the Church Age, we have the indwelling of the Holy Spirit.
5. We have the empowering of the Spirit in our lives. The Lord drove the prototype spiritual life; and we have that same capability.
6. All of this represents the salvation package necessary to enter the Kingdom of Heaven. It is critical to meet the bridegroom when He emerges.
7. So the oil represents the Holy Spirit in this salvation context.

If anyone does not have the Spirit of Christ, he does not belong to Him. The Holy Spirit of Christ is provided by that one simply non-meritorious act, the oil for the lamp. It is the whole package.

This is the setup for the rest of the parable. Now we get to the judgment part. This is what the remainder of the parable is about.

The bridegroom tarries, so they all fall asleep waiting on him. It turns dark. At midnight, there was a cry; "Here comes the bridegroom." He has appeared at last. How do you go out and meet the bridegroom if you have no light? You are not prepared. And so comes judgments.

Matt. 25:5 As the bridegroom was delayed, they all became drowsy and slept.

Matt. 25:6 But at midnight there was a cry, 'Here is the bridegroom! Come out to meet him.'

Matt. 25:7 Then all those virgins rose and trimmed their lamps.

Matt. 25:8 And the foolish said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.'

Matt. 25:9 But the wise answered, saying, 'Since there will not be enough for us and for you, go rather to the dealers and buy for yourselves.'

Matt. 25:10 And while they were going to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast, and the door was shut.

Matt. 25:11 Afterward the other virgins came also, saying, 'Lord, lord, open to us.'

Matt. 25:12 But he answered, 'Truly, I say to you, I do not know you.'

Lesson #1044

Matt. 25:4 Life of Christ

7/27/2017 Thursday

Matt. 25:3 For when the foolish took their lamps, they took no oil with them,

Matt. 25:4 but the wise took flasks of oil with their lamps.

Matt. 25:5 As the bridegroom was delayed, they all became drowsy and slept.

Matt. 25:6 But at midnight there was a cry, 'Here is the bridegroom! Come out to meet him.'

Matt. 25:7 Then all those virgins rose and trimmed their lamps.

Matt. 25:8 And the foolish said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.'

Matt. 25:9 But the wise answered, saying, 'Since there will not be enough for us and for you, go rather to the dealers and buy for yourselves.'

Matt. 25:10 And while they were going to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast, and the door was shut.

Matt. 25:11 Afterward the other virgins came also, saying, 'Lord, lord, open to us.'

Matt. 25:12 But he answered, 'Truly, I say to you, I do not know you.'

Matt. 25:13 Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour.

Matt. 25:14 "For it will be like a man going on a journey, who called his servants and entrusted to them his property.

Matt. 25:15 To one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one, to each according to his ability. Then he went away.

Matt. 25:16 He who had received the five talents went at once and traded with them, and he made five talents more.

Matt. 25:17 So also he who had the two talents made two talents more.

Matt. 25:18 But he who had received the one talent went and dug in the ground and hid his master's money.

Matt. 25:19 Now after a long time the master of those servants came and settled accounts with them.

Matt. 25:20 And he who had received the five talents came forward, bringing five talents more, saying, 'Master, you delivered to me five talents; here I have made five talents more.'

Matt. 25:21 His master said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master.'

Matt. 25:22 And he also who had the two talents came forward, saying, 'Master, you delivered to me two talents; here I have made two talents more.'

Matt. 25:23 His master said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master.'

Matt. 25:24 He also who had received the one talent came forward, saying, 'Master, I knew you to be a hard man, reaping where you did not sow, and gathering where you scattered no seed,

Matt. 25:25 so I was afraid, and I went and hid your talent in the ground. Here you have what is yours.'

Matt. 25:26 But his master answered him, 'You wicked and slothful servant! You knew that I reap where I have not sown and gather where I scattered no seed?

Matt. 25:27 Then you ought to have invested my money with the bankers, and at my coming I should have received what was my own with interest.

Matt. 25:28 So take the talent from him and give it to him who has the ten talents.

Matt. 25:29 For to everyone who has will more be given, and he will have an abundance. But from the one who has not, even what he has will be taken away.

Matt. 25:30 And cast the worthless servant into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.'

Matt. 25:31 "When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, then he will sit on his glorious throne.

Matt. 25:32 Before him will be gathered all the nations, and he will separate people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats.

Matt. 25:33 And he will place the sheep on his right, but the goats on the left.

Matt. 25:34 Then the King will say to those on his right, 'Come, you who are blessed by my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

Matt. 25:35 For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me,

Matt. 25:36 I was naked and you clothed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me.'

Matt. 25:37 Then the righteous will answer him, saying, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you drink?

Matt. 25:38 And when did we see you a stranger and welcome you, or naked and clothe you?

Matt. 25:39 And when did we see you sick or in prison and visit you?'

Matt. 25:40 And the King will answer them, 'Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brothers, you did it to me.'

Matt. 25:41 "Then he will say to those on his left, 'Depart from me, you cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels.

Matt. 25:42 For I was hungry and you gave me no food, I was thirsty and you gave me no drink,

Matt. 25:43 I was a stranger and you did not welcome me, naked and you did not clothe me, sick and in prison and you did not visit me.'

Matt. 25:44 Then they also will answer, saying, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to you?'

Matt. 25:45 Then he will answer them, saying, 'Truly, I say to you, as you did not do it to one of the least of these, you did not do it to me.'

Matt. 25:46 And these will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life."
