17. Christ proclaimed imputed righteousness to man to make man acceptable to God. This should be comforting. We can never be too good for God's grace or too bad for it. It is so simple; God's grace is always there.

The believers who demonstrated spiritual advance by practicing the beatitudes. We are hated, but, so what.

Lesson #0266

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

4/22/2012 2Sunday

Matt. 5:13–16: "You are the salt of the earth, but if the salt has lost its flavor, with what will it be salted? It is then good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under the feet of men. You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill can't be hidden. Neither do you light a lamp, and put it under a measuring basket, but on a stand; and it shines to all who are in the house. Even so, let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven.

You are a city on top of a hill that cannot be hidden; found in literature all over without being correctly applied.

This is a natural progression of the demonstrated beatitudes on those around you. How you think and your attitude then moves to its impact. The analogy is salt. It is an appropriate analogy, which is appropriate in many ways. This explains a lot.

4 Analogies of Salt

1. Salt was plentiful in Palestine and it was used to preserve food; it was their way of preserving food without refrigeration.
2. Salt was used as a seasoning, which enhanced the flavor of food. No salt shakers in a great restaurant, because the idea is that the food is already seasoned perfectly. This gave food a taste that it did not otherwise have.
3. The preservative qualities of salt led to its being regarded as an essential element in the making of treaties or enduring covenants between parties. It was used to seal an agreement. Salt becomes the symbol of fidelity and loyalty between two parties. Eating salt together was a sign of fellowship. This was done between early Americans and Indians.
4. Salt also could represent judgment. When Rome conquered Carthage, and they sowed salt into the land, so that nothing would grow. This way, they would never face an uprising from Carthage again. It made the land infertile and unlivable. It is synonymous with a barren land, a wasteland, a desert. A picture of judgment and ruin.

All of these uses comes together in the picture that Jesus paints for His disciples.

Salt as a preservative. These apostles were commissioned to the Jews and preservative in that sense; they went out to the nation of Israel to proclaim the Kingdom of God. They aided Jesus Christ in proclaimed the kingdom to the Jews. This was to preach to a dedicated client nation to God. The Jews were the chosen people; they still are; but they have temporarily been set aside. The Jews were the national representatives of Y^ehowah on earth. Israel at that time was apostate. Whether or not they would be preserved as a client nation was in the balance at this point. So the apostles were to preach the kingdom to the Jews and would they accept or reject the kingdom and the King. In their preacing of the kingdom, the Kingdom of God or the Kingdom of God, they would preserve the nation through their spiritual impact. We as believers in Jesus Christ have the same impact. It is no different. We live in a time when our nation is in great danger. We are in the middle of a humanist, relativist apostasy in our nation, which is getting worse. The only thing that will preserve our nation is believers who will preserve nation Israel.

It is the mature believer who is the preservative; the one who will preserve Israel. The believers of the United States will be the ones who preserve our nation. Those with Bible doctrine in their souls are the only hope that there is for this client nation. Right now, more depends upon the maturing believer than has been true of any previous American generation. This means that we will be required to grow up. Previous generations were pretty bad, but it is getting worse. We are in schools today subjected to the worst educational system in the history of the United States. The public education is the worst it has ever been; and the same is true for many private schools. There is no discipline in the classroom. There is no way to teach crazed kids who are uncontrolled. Teachers' unions are travesties. If you throw enough money into the system that it will get better; that is the philosophy. Or enough technology, then the kids will learn. How did we ever learn without computers in the classroom?

And what do they learn? Not the basics of reading, writing and history; many graduates read 3rd and 4th grade level. When Bobby was a recruiter; and it was the norm for those going into the army to read on the 3rd grade level.

The state of California is mandating the teaching of the normality of homosexuality to elementary students. They are being indoctrinated into sexual diversity before they know anything about sexuality for the most part.

Many Texas schools no longer teach Texas history; and our history is more about the freedom and securing that freedom through military victory. 700 volunteers took on an army twice its size and decisively beat them, as one of the top ten decisive battles in history. There is Sabines Pass, the Alamo, and others. How many people know about the history of Texas? How can we learn from history if we do not study it? We are doomed to make the same mistakes of the past. Ignorant minds that cling to "new" ideas which have failed in the past. Any state college will teach propaganda; the politics of Marxism, feminism, and environmentalism, and anti-capitalism. Academic subjects are no longer taught objectively. There is more entertainment, subjectivity and media taught today than ever before.

Students are being taught to be politically radical in order to change the nation to conform to some radical utopianism. These are all geared to shape humanistic thinking and relativism. Thinking of young people is being destroyed and eroded in our schools.

Hosea 4:6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge. Because you have rejected knowledge [the truth of God's Word], I will also reject you, That you may be no priest to me. Because you have your God's law, I will also forget your children. This is Israel in the 8th century B.C. They lacked knowledge of God. They were in all sorts of humanism and religiosity. A client nation to God is a priest nation. They represent God on earth in several ways. There is freedom to evangelize without restraint. That is what a client nation does. At every turn, evangelism is being attacked in this country. It is not a good thing to speak of the Lord Jesus Christ in public. Heaven forbid you express this in any public building, which is the union of church and state, as we are incorrectly taught.

The client nation has freedom to teach doctrine in the nation without suppression. We have had less suppression for the teaching of truth than any other nation in history. Freedom to send missionaries to other countries, to communicate the gospel; to form congregations in our places with indigenous pastors. It means providing a haven for the Jews for those who are being persecuted all over the earth.

Because you have forgotten God's love, I will also forget your children. Today we are a priest nation just as Israel was before. We may not be a priest nation tomorrow. The nation is no longer being affected by Christianity, but we are guided by humanism, feminism and radical environmentalism. Government leadership is devoid of truth, even squelching the truth of Bible doctrine in favor of multi-culturalism. The absolutes of Bible doctrine become hate speech punishable by law. Only secularism is acceptable.

Relativism cannot abide the truth or the absolutes of God's Word. They must oppose it. Humanism is incompatible with divine viewpoint. The only hope for our country resides in the souls of individual believers.

The fifth cycle of discipline is the bitter end of a client nation. Here is what stares us in the face. Lev. 26:31–33 I will lay your cities waste, and will bring your sanctuaries to desolation, and I will not take delight in the sweet fragrance of your offerings. I will bring the land into desolation; and your enemies that dwell therein will be astonished at it. I will scatter you among the nations, and I will draw out the sword after you: and your land will be a desolation, and your cities shall be a waste. Your enemies will be appalled by you. The sword will be drawn against you and your land will become desolate and your cities destroyed and left as rubble. There is certainly application to us. We are a client nation sinking into the morass of human viewpoint. Our cities like Detroit have been destroyed. This was once a thriving city that is now a quagmire where it appears as if foreign soldiers walked across it and destroy the population. Our country is being destroyed by economic blight; by joblessness, by restlessness.

And the sword of Islam is drawn against us. A nation without Bible doctrine is a nation without hope and without salt. Do you see many real solutions which will deliver us? We will hear all kinds of political rhetoric, but viewpoint does not have the solution for our country.

The nation undergoing this is imploding from within and will be destroyed from without. We are destroying ourselves and our position as a nation of salt is getting close to empty. It is the advancing believer in the client nation who is salt. A pivot of mature believers is the preservative of a nation. We are in a precarious position. Humanism cannot fix humanism. There is an absolute. The only solution is blessing by association, the doctrine of the soul of the believer. As goes the believer, so goes the client nation. We are the key; not the national political leaders. We are the only solution.

Salt must come into contact with that which it preserves. God blesses the nation by association with believers who are growing up spiritually. Their souls supercede the secularism which infects and infests a nation. We are on the battlefield, every one of us. We are just as much integral to the preservation of our nation as our soldiers in the field.

Where do we end up? Lev. 26? Hosea 4:6?

Lesson #0269

Matt. 5:13–16 Life of Christ

4/29/2012 1Sunday

The beatitudes was the opening to the Sermon on the Mount. Then we move to two analogies about salt. There would be an incredible effect that these men would have on the entire world. This analogy to the disciples and to all believers. Both Matthew and Luke recorded this information. This is just as much a sermon for us as it is for the disciples.

4 Uses of Salt

1. NaCl is salt and it has properties that act as a preservative; it could be used on meat in order to preserve their meats; it was the refrigeration of the ancient world.
2. Salt was also used as a seasoning for food, as it is today. We take salt for granted on our dinner table; it enhances the flavor of the food that it eats.
3. Salt, with its preservative quality, meant that it could be essential in the making of a covenant. God made covenants with Abraham, and with David and with Israel. People in Israel made contracts with others; and salt became the symbol of fidelity and loyalty between two parties who made a contract. The salt was like putting their signatures on a contract.
4. Salt could be used as judgment; the end of the Punic wars and the Romans sowed salt throughout the ground of Carthage, so that this ground could not be farmed again. So it is related to a barren land; to a desert; to a wasteland. So salt indicates judgment and ruin.

The disciples were to be a preservative for the land in which they lived.

Matt. 5:13–16: "You are the salt of the earth, but if the salt has lost its flavor, with what will it be salted? It is then good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under the feet of men. You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill can't be hidden. Neither do you light a lamp, and put it under a measuring basket, but on a stand; and it shines to all who are in the house. Even so, let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven.

The nation as a whole had fallen into great apostasy and degeneracy. The Jews needed this message of Jesus Christ. They needed to repent; to change their minds about Jesus Christ. The kingdom was being offered to them and they needed to respond to that. The disciples were the catalysts for their message. Their message would have a spiritual impact upon those who would hear and accept their message. They preserved the people with this message, if this message was believed.

As a believer, we have the same impact, but in a different dispensation. The Holy Spirit would descend upon these same men and they would turn the world upside down.

A client nation is a nation that represents Jesus Christ to the world. Not every nation in the world represents Jesus Christ. You need to have a certain amount of believers in a nation and who are growing and evangelizing and teaching the Word of God within the nation. These believers will have an overall impact in a nation, much greater than their actual numbers. We send out missionaries; taking the gospel and Bible doctrine to the uttermost parts of the earth. He evangelizes and trains, proclaims the Word of God, and trains pastors to take over churches and begins to take over churches and to teach Bible doctrine.

The client nation also provides a haven for God's people, the Jews. God's promises to Israel continues, even though we are in a different dispensation when Israel is not front and center in this life.

Our nation is in grave danger and we are degenerating as Israel did. We can see what is going on all around us. The USA may not be a client nation in the future. We may be replaced by South Korea or by China.

It is believers who are negative or indifferent to Bible doctrine or ignorant of the spiritual life who do not glorify God in their bodies as they are mandated to do. Without the salt of growing believers, a nation is no longer affected by Christianity.

The absolutes of Bible doctrine are mocked and even made illegal. There are things that could be said from the pulpit that may be made illegal. Rom. 1:27 makes it clear that homosexuality is wrong. Homosexuals are peopled for whom Christ died; they just engage in degenerate behavior. Persecution of pastors may come our way. A nation on the decline, secular humanism may dominate; and they tolerate everything but the truth. They tolerate everything in the cosmic system.

Economic disasters; divisions, riots in the streets, and military disasters. Don't think it cannot happen here. We have only been around 200 years. Rarely to nations stay intact for over 200 years. Are you a preservative or not?

It is not just the spiritual mature believer who is salt, but also the believer who is advancing in the Christian life. Positive believers who are hungry for the Word of God in their souls. These all become preservatives in a nation. The spiritual impact of the believer supercedes the humanism and the false philosophical and religious concepts. Our preservation is not based upon our voting; it is based upon our spiritual growth. The difference between us and the activist: the upcoming election is not the watershed. In whom do you trust? Politicians? Or upon Jesus Christ. Moses was one of the greatest leaders of all time, and he spoke to God. There was a generation under him for 40 years who died the sin unto death. They are the most recalcitrant generation in history, pretty much. We must trust in Bible doctrine; and we preserve the nation, regardless of the souls of the people in the country. We still fulfill the function of a client nation.

We must not curse Israel, but we are a client nation; they are not. We live in the most recent client nation, the end of a long line of client nations. We are the hope of this election; not politicians or Christian activists.

Matt. 5:13–16: "You are the salt of the earth, but if the salt has lost its flavor, with what will it be salted? It is then good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under the feet of men. You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill can't be hidden. Neither do you light a lamp, and put it under a measuring basket, but on a stand; and it shines to all who are in the house. Even so, let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven.

Lesson #0270

Matt. 5:13–16 Life of Christ

4/29/2012 2Sunday

The second part of this analogy is salt as a flavoring. Salt is a seasoning. We are a tasteless, dying world; and it is flavored with believers.

George Mueller in Germany and Cameroon and many other places, bringing Bible doctrine to those strange lands.

The believers' impact on society for the benefit of society. Society not only is benefited by the message of the gospel and observing us as a growing believer, but by that same association. This is the basic understanding of a client nation or a Christian nation (which term is misunderstood). Many of the founding fathers are believers and their thinking was instrumental in our founding documents. We are a Christian nation in the sense that we are a client nation. Some of the great preachers in our history and they were right down the line with doctrine. We have been blessed for 200 years.

Seasoning is the function of evangelism and the influence of Bible doctrine to a client nation. The great commission extends to the uttermost parts of the earth.

The third analogy as salt being the essential element of an agreement. A symbol of fidelity and loyalty, be it national or personal. Our fidelity and loyalty to the Word of God and to God Himself makes us salt. The believer who is loyal to truth and the Word of God is blessed. The believer is glorifying God. That is what we are here to do. We are bound to Him. Paul calls himself a bond slave to Jesus Christ. When we are loyal and faithful to Him, there is great blessing to those all around us.

The Apostles were to understand that, in carrying out their mission, they were the salt of the world; and they would hold together the world and preserve those with whom they associated. This is a part of the great commission.

The pharisees wanted a kingdom, but they wanted a political kingdom. They did not realize that Jesus Christ is the greatest conqueror of all. Politics does not save the nation; it reflects the nation. We are getting worse and our politics reflects it. What leader will reflect Bible doctrine? None of them.

Matt. 5:13–16: "You are the salt of the earth, but if the salt has lost its flavor, with what will it be salted? It is then good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under the feet of men. You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill can't be hidden. Neither do you light a lamp, and put it under a measuring basket, but on a stand; and it shines to all who are in the house. Even so, let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven.

We can be a blessing or the nation can look to us as the problem. They do not know this; but we have lost our purpose. Being tasteless is being out of fellowship, a carnal believer, ignorant of or indifferent to God's Word.

The politician cannot change what is in the soul of the people. Only Bible doctrine can do this. Jesus Christ changes the soul of the unbeliever; and Bible doctrine changes the soul of the believer.

The one who is tasteless loses their testimony before the world. James 4:4 calls them adulteresses. The Old Testament calls them whores. They turn away from Jesus Christ and calls them false gods.

There are many politicians who would like to create a utopia in the United States. This means to remove our freedom; that is the only way to make a country into a utopia. It must be enforced. Freedom must be curtailed. Utopians do not realize that we all have sin natures. The person who wants to impose a utopia is the most confused ever. Stalin, Mao and every Marxist regime is an attempt to set up a utopian world. The greatest thing that we can have in a national entity is freedom.

God must discipline His people who are out of line. God loves reversionists and advancing believers equally; but He must do something to wake up the reversionist. You wake someone up with putting them in adversity. Suffering for blessing often accelerates our growth. As we see the adversity in our life, and we see Bible doctrine handling that adversity.

There are people in this country who are ready to bail out to Australia or to wherever. The sin nature of man is everywhere. What matters is what is in our souls.

When Christian influence is defamed or attacked, the nation goes down. Just as salt was sown over lands in the ancient world, so the client nation is sown with judgment.

What is the alternative? How will it be made salty again, if the salt is worthless? We need the preservative the savor of salt. Bobby will leave us with something to ponder:

Lesson #0271

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

5/2/2012 Wed

It is not unusual for a new believer to feel some joy and excitement of being saved. However, that is not the Christian life. That is not what the Christian life is. It is the beginning. It is who they become in Christ; it is after salvation, what? They go to hear a sermon on Sunday, but the information is often minimal; and that puts them into a starvation mode, and they then go to a Bible study by usually an unqualified person. Often, they are cheerleaders, but not much else, for Jesus Christ. How do you understand this wonderful life that you have entered without some teaching. There is so little progression for believers today. This results in believers who are essentially anemic. They are on formula and never graduate to solid food.

New believers need to be taught what is expected by God. They need to know the great divine purpose for their lives as long as they remain here on this earth.

Believers need knowledge of basic and advanced doctrine; and believers can often be taught by analogy. They can be taught to understand divine viewpoint by using things which they already know and understand. Analogies are very effective ways to communicate knowledge.

Jesus is one of the great teachers of history, of all time. He is often called rabbi, which means teacher. In teaching, He was the master of analogy and of application. This was critical for His disciples to discover the Christian life and their impact as Apostles. First commissioned to go to Israel, and then to the ends of the earth. The analogies that Jesus used still work for us today. We are currently examining two of the analogies that Jesus used.

The analogy is, believers are the salt of the earth; a preservative and a seasoning. The believer is to become a sweet savor to the world in which he lives. Part of the believer's mission is to bring the taste of the gospel to a lost and dying world. The mature believer brings the savor to all those around him.

Not all believers are devoted to the Word of God; many are negative toward doctrine, many of them are ignorant of Bible doctrine. People quote the Sermon on the Mount all the time, and most believers who quote it do not know much about it.

If the believer fails to be the salt of the earth, they are disciplined; whom the Lord loves, he chastens; He scourges every son He sees.

If the salt becomes tasteless, then it is worthless and thrown away and trodden under the feet of men.

Matt. 5:13 "You are the salt of the earth, but if the salt has lost its flavor, with what will it be salted? It is then good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under the feet of men.

How do believers become salty once again? The believer in reversionism is tasteless. They cannot regain

Then Jesus uses another analogy.

Matt. 5:14–16 You are the light of the world. A city situated on a mountain cannot be hidden. Nor do they light a lamp and put it under the grain measure, but on the lampstand; and it shines for all those in the house. So let your light shine before men, so that they may see your good works, and may glorify your Father in Heaven.

The Analogy of the Disciples and Light

1. Light illuminates and light attracts; it illuminates the soul of believers. It attracts unbelievers.
2. Kingdom of God and Kingdom of Heaven almost synonymous phrases.
3. Spreading the message of the gospel throughout the whole world is what the message of this analogy is.
4. Jesus Christ is the light of the world; John 8:12 Luke 1:78
5. Jesus brings the enlightenment of the Word of God to the world.
6. Jesus Christ appoints his disciples to represent Him as shining lights in the world. They are to bring the gospel and Bible doctrine to the world.
7. Light represents the influence of these Apostles.

Jesus first gives them the mandate to be salt, and then to be light.

Here is the Great Commission:

Mat 28:19–20 Then having gone, disciple all nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all things, whatever I commanded you. And, behold, I am with you all the days until the completion of the age. Amen.

Our spiritual life is reflected in Him as the Shekinah glory. The Apostles scattered all over the known world. They went to the Middle East, India, maybe China, Africa and Europe. And they made disciples who continued to move throughout the earth.

What the Disciples Were to do

1. Spreading the gospel and the kingdom offering to Israel is their first objective. In the military, you are often given several objectives.
2. After the great commission, and after the beginning of the Church Age, taking it to the world.
3. Then they were to speak and write the divinely inspired doctrines of the Bible.
4. That makes us light; the believer is the contributor to the true light of the world.

Another great analogy; believers are ambassadors of Christ. Ambassadors to into a foreign land and we represent our leader to that foreign land (which could simply be our neighborhood).

Matt. 5:14 You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill can't be hidden.

We bring the gospel to anyone who cares; that is our mandate. If we have light, we must project light.

First analogy in v. 14: the disciples were a city on a hill. When light shines in the dark, it cannot be hidden; it is seen from a long distance. Cities in the ancient world were often built on hills, often with walls; and, at night with lights, they could be seen for miles. They often beckoned those from without. The traveler would move toward the city, toward its welcoming glow and its security.

There are still medieval cities in Italy and they can be seen for miles; and they are on hills and many have walls. People cannot help but be attracted to the light. Bobby can identify with the sight of distant lights and his days in the military. There was a lot of time spent there training in the field. You go out and spend days at a time without a roof preparing for war. Bobby reminisces about the lights of a little town in Hawaii near where he would train. They were attractive and alluring. We have to face the reality of who we are. Not easy conditions.

For us, we are in the field as well; and we are learning in Bible class about the spiritual combat that we will face. What you have is light; we leave here as light; the light of the world. We are being trained to be light to the world. We are not a beacon until we have the doctrine in our souls. We are light in the Angelic Conflict.

The disciples were being hounded and persecuted, just as our Lord was. "Oh no, we are the light of the world to these people who have rejected us?" We attract the unbeliever with the gospel.

Matt. 5:14 You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill can't be hidden.

Matt. 5:15 Neither do you light a lamp, and put it under a measuring basket, but on a stand; and it shines to all who are in the house.

Matt. 5:16 Even so, let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven.

Lesson #0272

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

5/3/2012 Thurs

George Mueller is speaking tonight.

The disciples are listening to our Lord teaching the Sermon on the Mount. He taught the beatitudes. There may have been more explanation on these.

Two analogies; the disciples were salt and light. As salt, they were to add the savory taste; the seasoning of the gospel. They were the seasoning provided for the world. They were also preservatives for the nation.

As light, they would attract the world to the Light of the World. Jesus said, “I am the light of the world; he who follows Me will not walk in darkness.” These disciples would be commissioned to represent Him as shining lights; as witnesses to the true light of Jesus Christ. The doctrine that they taught enlightened believers wherever they went. Their mission was the gospel and doctrine, which is light.

Matt. 5:14 You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill can't be hidden.

Another analogy in the second half of v. 14. When light shines in the dark of night, it cannot be hidden. Never is this more obvious than when someone is on the road and sees the light in a distant city.

It is visible to the believer in the darkness of spiritual death. Bobby has gone through Longhorn caverns; and you get to the heart of the cave, there is no light at that point. They switch off all of the lights. This is where the unbeliever lives.

The only light is in this world the light that is in our souls. What our soldiers face in Afghanistan and did face in Iraq. Our support of Israel in these circumstances. The vicious wars between Muslims and Christians in Africa. Everywhere you look, there is darkness, hopelessness.

It is not different today; we are the only light; we have the only truth and the only doctrine which is absolute truth. We represent Jesus Christ as light. Not only are we light because we are truth and teach the gospel, but we have the Shekinah glory that dwells in us. This is the thread which connects the Old and New Testaments. The Shekinah Glory is none other than Jesus Christ. He was the light in the Tabernacle; He was the light at night the cloud by day. Colossians tells us, we have the Shekinah glory in us.

The Analogy of Matt. 5:14b “You Are a City Located on a Hill Can't Be Hidden”

1. The disciples who are hearing this who receive God's Word become the beacons; they are the city lights on the hill that cannot be hidden.
2. They are the only light in the midst of darkness.
3. They represent Jesus Christ, the light of the World.
4. Their light can penetrate the deepest gloom. This is the light of the gospel of salvation. Fear is sometimes upon us at night and we cannot sleep and our minds go crazy; but the sun comes up and we get a new perspective.
5. The message of the disciples will shine in the darkness of sin and death. Where will they go? They must go to the darkest areas of the world; to the unbeliever. They have to be the city on a hill that is not hidden.
6. In all of this, they understand as light, they must communicate the salvation of the light of the world that is Jesus Christ. The disciples were appointed to be light of the world, just as we are. As believers, we are light; we have stepped out of the darkness and we have the light of the gospel.

Matt. 5:14 You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill can't be hidden.

Now we go to v. 15, but with a slightly more limited example. This is light in their own homes. This is showing light among those with whom there is the most intimate contact. You will go to the whole world, but you will also go to those who are close to you.

Jesus' half brothers did not even believe in Him. They were in darkness. In the analogy, the lamp is lit to provide illumination within the home. If you have a lamp, why would you place it under a peck measure; a clay bowl used to measure out grain. This would be silly; it would snuff out the light. To hide the lamp defeats the purpose of the lamp. Instead of hiding it, you get maximum illumination by putting it on a stand from which light can give the most visibility in the house.

Matt. 5:15 Neither do you light a lamp, and put it under a measuring basket, but on a stand; and it shines to all who are in the house.

The Analogy of Matt. 5:15

1. The lamp represents the believer.
2. The lamp of the believer, which is lit, just as it is being lit in the house, the light of the believer should never be hidden or snuffed out.
3. If the believer is advancing, he is fulfilling the function of light. If you are advancing to spiritual maturity, then you are putting it on a stand where it can be seen.
4. The life that the believer lives is light; he is light, to the world and in his own home.

Matt. 5:16 Even so, let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven.

Matt. 5:16 is letting you light shine among men and glorifying your father who is in heaven. This light is and must be manifested to men. It cannot be hidden. What comes from your mouth to others is the presentation of the gospel. The all-important witness of your life. Doctrine must be applied and that is the light of the world. Jesus Christ is light; He pioneered this Himself. We speak the light and we live the light. This light attracts the believer to salvation and to the gospel.

When we come across the term good works, we have to be careful.

Good Works

1. Good works is the production, the activities of the believer who is in fellowship. This is utilizing the rebound technique.
2. This activity done in the power of the Spirit is a visible light to the unbeliever. That is the analogy of doctrine coming from us.
3. These good works can be called divine good. Most do-gooders are motivated by self-glorification. They want people to notice them. Look at the nice things I have done. This is like Bill Maher giving $1 million to the Obama pac.

4. Divine good is the manifestation of the ministry of God the Holy Spirit in our life. He empowers it. Whatever we do under the filling of the Holy Spirit is a manifestation of His ministry to us.
5. It is a manifestation of the application of doctrine to circumstances. That is the visible light that cannot be hidden to the world.
6. So this is noticeable to those who watch us as believers. We must manifest light because people are watching.

What Divine Good Includes...

1. Divine good includes the exercise of impersonal love.
2. Grace under pressure.
3. We have objective wisdom from doctrine that solves problems. We have the divine assets to do so.
4. Handling pressure with poise. This is a critical characteristic. We have control of our emotions under stress. Most people go crazy; they let their emotions take control. That is not poise. Some unbelievers can show poise, but they are boiling cauldrons of fear underneath. We have confident control in adverse circumstances. Comfort, control, poise, stability under pressure. Many believers in life face cruel death of martyrdom and they die with a smile. Jesus never opened His mouth even though He was convicted 6 times.
5. These are just some of the good works that we reveal when observed by those close to us.

How do you keep the bowl off your head? You rebound. The mature believer has the bigger plan of God in mind when all hell breaks loose all around him. The unbeliever has no security around him. They make it up as they go along.

The maturing believer is one of the greatest witnesses for Jesus Christ simply by being who you are becoming. That is our goal. That is what our spiritual life is all about. We learn to apply doctrine in difficult circumstances.

Our service to Jesus Christ is what lights us up. The believer whose light shines before others imitates Jesus Christ. 1Cor. 11:1 imitate Christ.

Matt. 5:16 Even so, let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven.

Next increment is Jesus Christ and His relationship to the Mosaic Law. This is critical to the Jews. They revere the Law; this defines their civilization; this defines their religion. This was the way of life for the nation and their individual spiritual life.

George Mueller:

The road was packed; so, they saw a sign to Cameroon. They decided to evacuate themselves. Their missionaries were dispensational believers from, I think a Baptist group. They were working up a water project.

The church has a lot of wheat. There were some translational problems. Most patients of the leprosy village had lost the use of their fingers and hands. The overflowed waters watered the sugar cane crops.

They speak pidgin English, as that is sort of a universal language. This leprosy water project. It took some time to understand what they could do and not do. The principle in Africa is an 8-day week. The tremendous task of translation into their language. There was the correction of certain church words. The concept of rebound. It is part of the Christian way of life. You tell God what He already knows.

Human viewpoint. We need correct words to understand Bible doctrine. The washing of the feet done by the Lord Jesus Christ; very important teaching. Rom. 1:11 I Paul long to see you.

No calm person would call the king to come. This is why we would not ask the Great King to come to our heart.

No one can decide for someone else to take the gift of salvation.

Generally, people in Cameroon are open to the gospel.

A steep rock mountain road; and the taxi the day before did not make it and missed a tight turn. Mueller taught Psalm 23. Grace for living and grace for dying.

We are all trophies of grace. God's gift of salvation is permanent. His gifts and calling are irrevocable. George Mueller and his plumber; his plumber thought he could lose his salvation, so .

6 million Jews in Spain and 20 million Muslims came in. The only solution is the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. 8 T&P books in French. Muslims will respond to the gospel realizing that they have been deceived for centuries.

He has a website.

Authority is rejected in our time. One teaching authority gives stability and correction if necessary. The Bible say, correction is a way of life.

Series of messages on the blood of Christ; and the proclamation, "It is finished."

Daniel and his 3 friends were not afraid of the lion's den or of the oven. I first have to receive the thinking of Christ. I cannot give what I do not have.

Lesson #0273

Matt. 5:17–20 Life of Christ

5/6/2012 1Sunday

We continue in the Sermon on the Mount. So far, Jesus Christ has covered 2 major topics: the beatitudes, the beautiful attitudes of the believers who will enter into the Kingdom of God. Then we have a description of the disciples when Jesus set up an analogy between believers and salt and light.

This is the 3rd subject, and this will be the most of the remaining sermon of Matthew, and the subject of the Mosaic Law and how Jesus, now on earth, and how He relates to the Mosaic Law. This is a very critical subject. It is a critical subject, particularly for those who are hearing it, as these disciples will be apostles to Israel. The Mosaic Law was fundamental to Israel. It was the center of life in Israel. That is the way that Israel was initially designed to be. Israel began as a theocracy; a country ruled by God.

However, He did not appear to them on a throne; He gave them the Mosaic Law instead. He ruled His people through the Mosaic Law. Israel had been designated as God's people. They were and will be God's people again as a nation in the Millennium. They had a covenant with God through Abraham. They would have a kingdom as God promised.

The Mosaic Law was the law of God for the kingdom. It defined the nation of Israel and defined their civilization as people and set them apart from all other nations on earth.

As such, the Mosaic Law is revered. It was the way of life for that nation. It also defined the spiritual life of the nation. Ours is defined through the mystery doctrine as found in the New Testament epistles. The Mosaic Law defines the spiritual life of Israel. It was a very important document. Throughout its history, God's Law has been corrupted, misapplied and misunderstood. And the apex of corruption occurred during the time of our Lord Jesus Christ. The Law became more important to the religious leaders than God Himself. The pharisees treated the Law as their god. The rabbis compiled all of their traditions in various books, and they had so distorted the Law into an instrument of oppression, rather than one of divine justice and grace. It had become a millstone of legalism around the necks of the people.

They had interpreted the Law to say what they think that it should say. The law has been perverted in our country so that it says what they want it to. Our founding fathers took their clues from divine revelation.

So, how does the God-man, the Messiah, understand the Law, which is central to Jewish Law. This is His Law which has been corrupted. So the time is right for Him to clarify this Law.

There is another important question; what is the believer in the church age's relationship to the Law? It is a part of the Bible. How do we relate to the Law? Our spiritual life hinges upon the answer to this question. Is this our guide for faith and practice? Where does it fit into the life of the believer in the Lord Jesus Christ. The Law holds validity for us; but we have to understand how it holds validity for us. It does not have the same force of law as it did for Israel.

Therefore, there is more to this than Israel and the Law in the time of Jesus Christ; but it is also about us and our relationship to the Mosaic Law today. Many denominations are confused by this and some even try to incorporate the Mosaic Law into the Christian life.

Mat 5:17–20 Do not think that I came to annul the Law or the Prophets; I did not come to annul, but to fulfill. Truly I say to you, Until the heaven and the earth pass away, in no way shall one iota or one point pass away from the Law until all comes to pass [or, it has all been accomplished]. Therefore, whoever relaxes one of these commandments, the least [annuls one of the least of these commandments], and shall teach men so, he shall be called least in the kingdom of Heaven. But whoever does and teaches them, this one shall be called great in the kingdom of Heaven. For I say to you, If your righteousness shall not exceed that of the scribes and Pharisees, you shall not enter into the kingdom of God, never!

We begin at our spiritual birth with perfect righteousness, so we already surpass the righteousness of the pharisees. Man's righteousness, not one of our righteousnesses could equal a little of the righteousness of God. God has no sin in Him. Man has sin in him inherently and in our actions. Man cannot have a relationship with God without God's righteousness. God cannot accept us due to our unrighteousness. It was the Mosaic Law that reflected God's perfect standards of righteousness. This gives us a glimpse of God's righteousness. Jesus Christ's fulfillment of this Law indicates His perfect righteousness.

Anything that comes from the hand of God is perfect. This makes the Mosaic Law unique. No other document is perfect like this. God's standards of righteousness were reflected in the Mosaic Law. No man could keep the Law in its entirety. No one in their sinful nature could keep all of these statutes. So the Law cannot be a means of salvation. The Law reminds us of condemnation.

The Bottom Line on the Mosaic Law

1. The Law could not provide flawlessness in God.
2. This presented man with the dilemma, the dilemma of all mankind; the dilemma of our lack of righteousness before God.
3. Man could not enter the Kingdom of God based upon his own righteousness. Jesus Christ as the Savior will be developed here.
4. Man cannot please God apart from having God's perfect righteousness.
5. The Law still stood as an indicator of man's need for a righteousness beyond itself; it still stands for that. This is one of the reasons that the Law is still valid for us today.
6. The Law was a perfect standard that only Jesus Christ could meet. Only He could keep the Law perfectly. Only Jesus Christ could be the Savior of sinful mankind.

He is the unique Person of the Universe of all time. The Law shows Who He is and who we are not. The pharisees disputed this claim. They believed that entrance into the Kingdom of Heaven could be gained by their fulfillment of the Law. They had a self-righteousness which exists to this very day in all kinds of people. Legalism is making one's own standards and holding to them.

What did the Jews do over the centuries? In order to assist themselves, they achieved righteousness through the Law by compiling immense expansions of the Law. They took the Law and began to add to it. They continued to expand on the Law and interpret it. Then there would be interpretations of the interpretations. So, they lived by their interpretations; their traditions. They imposed their exacting codes on the Jews of Israel. They were religious tyrants. This is why they opposed and hated Jesus Christ.

All Jesus had to do was open the Law and say, "What about this?" And He would point out another instance of the pharisees not keeping the Law.

Jesus also fulfilled the prophets as well; all statutes of the Law and all prophecies, to the very letter. This is one great proof of who the Lord Jesus Christ is.

Jesus showed the pharisees over and over again that their traditions did not hold to the Law. No addition to the Bible or any other religious books reflect the standards of God. So the Law was given by God; and the rest of the Bible is the standard of God in so many things to us. There are no other standards. None. Anywhere. There are those who think they have new standards beyond the Bible. They depart from the standards of Scripture.

Lesson #0274

Matt. 5:17 Life of Christ

5/6/2012 2Sunday

Matt. 5:17 "Don't think that I came to destroy the law or the prophets. I didn't come to destroy, but to fulfill.

His disciples were told, "You are salt and you are light;" and now He goes into this 3rd aspect of His sermon, which is very important to who they are. The Mosaic Law was very important to that time and it defined Israel and this was the law by which God governed Israel.

In the United States of America, we have had 200 years of additional laws, many of which are corruptions of the Constitution. What the Law is and what it means to them and what it means to us. These are the ones who will move out of the dispensation of the Hypostatic Union and into the Church Age. Therefore, Jesus must teach the true meaning of the Mosaic Law. In this one statement, Jesus explains His relationship to the Law, "I did not come to destroy the Law but to fulfill." No other man could provide what was necessary to please God. Jesus had perfect righteousness. This made Him acceptable to God as a substitute for our sins. The Law is God's standards; Jesus met God's standards. That qualified Him to be our Savior. This made Him the only possibility for a substitute.

All of this proceeds from the righteousness of Christ; and we become acceptable to God because we possess His righteousness. The Law and the Prophets all pointed to this aspect of our Lord. This pointed to Him as did the prophets.

Πληρω is the word Jesus used. Bobby says He spoke in Aramaic; but this is Greek. This is the fundamental claim on His messiahship. Πλήροō (πληρώω) [pronounced play-ROH-oh], which means to fill [a vessel, a hollow place, a valley]; to fill [something] with [something]; to supply [abundantly with something] [fully, completely], to impart, to imbue with; to fulfill; to perform fully; to bring to a full end, to complete [finish, accomplish]. From Zodhiates. Thayer definitions: 1) to make full, to fill up, i.e. to fill to the full; 1a) to cause to abound, to furnish or supply liberally; 1a1) I abound, I am liberally supplied; 2) to render full, i.e. to complete; 2a) to fill to the top: so that nothing shall be wanting to full measure, fill to the brim; 2b) to consummate: a number; 2b1) to make complete in every particular, to render perfect; 2b2) to carry through to the end, to accomplish, carry out, (some undertaking); 2c) to carry into effect, bring to realization, realize; 2c1) of matters of duty: to perform, execute; 2c2) of sayings, promises, prophecies, to bring to pass, ratify, accomplish; 2c3) to fulfil, i.e. to cause God's will (as made known in the law) to be obeyed as it should be, and God's promises (given through the prophets) to receive fulfilment. Strong's #4137.

The Law was directed exclusively to Israel when they left Egypt. It was given specific to Israel and this defined Israel's relationship to God; and it does have a relationship to us. The Law is something that churches today try to impose over Christians today.

So, in order to understand Jesus Christ, we need to understand the Mosaic Law. He fulfilled all of the Law and all of the prophets. He has already quoted many portions of the Old Testament to show that He is the Messiah.

The Mosaic Law

The Decalogue: the freedom code, the Mosaic Law.

The Spiritual Code: a complete ritual presentation of Jesus Christ and His saving work. The ritual sacrifices, all of which point to Jesus Christ and to His substitutional atonement. The Tabernacle, the furniture, etc. is all a part of this spiritual code.

The Establishment Code: the civil judgments, the crimes and punishment, the quarantine laws, etc.

Ignorant people take the decalogue as being the Christian life.

The Decalogue

1. This governed the moral and ethical life of Israel.
2. These 10 commandments are principles that God has set forth for the protection of life, liberty and property of a people in a national entity. This is what our Constitution does.

3. These commandments are the immutable, never-changing standards for human behavior amongst ourselves; how we relate to others and how we survive together.
4. The Ten Commandments define freedom in terms of explicit divine standards. We have law and freedom connected. This is exactly what we should have in our country.
5. These ethics and moral standards of the law endow the human race with liberty instead of anarchy or tyranny.
6. There can be no freedom without these mores or standards without integrity and human responsibility. We are seeing less and less of that in our own country. We have people who ignore law altogether. The same is true of all law that rejects God's Law. The more we depart from God's law, the more our nation degenerates.
7. There must be limits to human behavior. The sin nature must be kept in check for freedom to be preserved; hence, this is called the freedom code. This defines the limits of how far the sin nature can go before there is punishment.
8. Divine rules and principles are not tyrannies to be opposed. Those who are anti-authority oppose any rules and regulations. Divine rules are not to be opposed. The extent to which God's standards are opposed, freedom is forfeited. That is what happens in our nation today. Our morality and ethics are changing from what they were 30 or 40 years ago. We are focusing more on security rather than on anything else. Laws are passed and then ignored by those who should enforce it. Law is rendered impotent by those who legislate them.

The divine laws of establishment as reflected in the decalogue become ignored and even mocked. We see the breakdown of divine institutions. We see the breakdown of marriage, family and nationalism. This is why the Mosaic Law has some relevance to us. This is the weakness of the Jews, who went their own way and rejected the Mosaic Law.

The principles of the Mosaic Law are timeless because these are God's principles. The spiritual code is for believers and it is a witness to unbelievers. These laws reflect God's standards for us; and therefore, they are timeless. Yet, they are not a national code for us; but they are not cultural mores to be adjusted with the changing times. That is what the pharisees did. They adjusted the laws to fit with their old sin natures and their lusts and power. Divine standards are not relative; they are principles of God for the human race. The Mosaic Law is not our code, but the principles of the Mosaic Law always remain valid. The more we drift from these laws, the more we drift from a stable nation and society.

When we reject this code, law becomes relative and it changes to fit the circumstances and the sin natures of the people of that society. What was moral and ethical yesterday might not be so in today's society. And that is where the rule of law breaks down.

We do not live in a democracy. That is the rule of the people. We all rule in whatever standards that we agree to. We are a Republic and were designed to have that. We are ruled by law and not by people. The law is the standard that people must adhere to. Today, we have people who run roughshod over the law. This degenerates into a few people ruling over the many, which is the direction that we are going in.

Hitler and Stalin gave no thought to the law; they were the law. There was nothing over them.

The extent to which man departs from God's moral standards as reflected in the decalogue for their own shifting standards, cultural is the extent to which the extent degeneracy rules. We can turn into an oligarchy easily. As laws are ignored, then the rule of one man becomes more important.

1. The person whose shifting standards will make bad decisions and the result is, a self-imposed confinement in life. Invisible bars. When you make bad decisions, you limit your options; when you expand your options, that is the result of good decisions.
2. By a nation who leaders just want power, they cause dependency on government through entitlements and the socialist state. These are the shifting standards that an oligarchy can place over a people. Such leaders attempt to bring a utopia of their own making. It is not the prerogative of man to make this world into a utopia. Socialism only brings everyone down. You cannot have an equality of results. That means there is no freedom. Freedom means that there will be inequality of results.
3. It is not the law anymore; but the application of whatever a person thinks is fair. This is the kind of thing that the Mosaic Law teaches us and that we need to understand. The decalogue means freedom; it screams freedom.

Lesson #0275

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

5/9/2012 Wed

The Mosaic Law is our next increment. There is only one law to come directly from the hand of God. This is the only perfect law; it is the only law where every codicil in it is perfect.

Jesus Christ dictated this Law to Moses.

General Definition of the Mosaic Law

1. This is a revelation of God's will at a particular time in human history. This takes place during the Age of Israel.
2. The Mosaic Law was given to the nation Israel and only to the nation of Israel at the time of its formation. This is when Israel left Egypt.
3. The Mosaic Law defined the standards of God for His people. Who they were in the plan of God.
4. His perfect justice and righteousness as their ruler were revealed by the Law. No clearer picture of His two attributes of the Law.
5. The Law was one covenant. There were a collection of precepts. 248 affirmative precepts and 365 negative precepts; 613 individual precepts in all.
6. The Law was given for a specific length of time to accomplish several specific purposes.

7. One of the specific purposes was to show the way of life for Israel in both the national and the spiritual realms. This makes the Mosaic Law unique; it was also a spiritual code for Israel.
8. It was a rule of conduct in those realms; but never a way of salvation. The pharisees presented it as a way of salvation. This was to earn the approbation of God. But it was never meant for that; just the opposite was true. This code showed His justice and righteousness. It showed how unapproachable man was to God's justice and righteousness. The pharisees thought that they could.
9. The Mosaic Law was central to Israel's life as a nation.
10. No one could identify with Israel unless they identified with the Mosaic Law.

In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus is speaking to Israel; He identifies Himself with the Law. He will make clear what His relationship to the Law actually is. He is the only perfectly righteous human being. This is one more proof of Who He was. The only One Who could accomplish this purpose.

As the Messiah, they may have thought they could cast the Law aside; but He says that He came to fulfill, not to abolish. He would fulfill all of the prophecies and fulfill the Law of God.

Matt. 5:17 "Don't think that I came to destroy the law or the prophets. I didn't come to destroy, but to fulfill.

This is an amazing statement that any one person could fulfill this Law. So we need to understand the Mosaic Law itself.

The Mosaic Law

1. Decalogue, which is the freedom code.
2. There spiritual code included all of the sacrifices and the complete ritual presentation of Jesus Christ and His saving work. This section taught the Jews Who God was; their Messiah; and their salvation. They had to understand Who they were. They needed some facts, some guidelines, what it means to be God's people.
3. The establishment code; the judgments. These were the civil statutes for Israel.

The Decalogue = the Ten Commandments

1. The Ten Commandments governed the moral and ethical life of Israel as a nation.
2. They are principles that God has set forth to protect life, liberty and property of a people within a national entity. Originally, our constitution was written about life, liberty and property.
3. These ethics and moral standards endow the human race with liberty rather than anarchy or tyranny.

4. The decalogue defines integrity and human responsibility without which there can be no freedom. The decalogue puts limits on human behavior. This is necessary to preserve human freedom. Incredibly tyranny of Islam, Russia, and Nazi Germany.
5. To the extent that these protections are restricted, freedom is lost.
6. The free will of man coexists with the sovereignty of God. So we need a fixed set of standards. Each new administration sets up its own standards. Our standards have deteriorated up until about 50 years ago.
7. To be maintained, freedom requires authority. When others superimpose their will over you, there is no freedom. This is how important the decalogue is. This is essentially the preamble to the rest of the Law. That is the history of mankind; slavery, except where the laws of divine establishment are in effect.
8. This is why the posting of the Ten Commandments is not a threat to freedom; it is not the union of church and state. The decalogue represents divine establishment. They are principles which stand for all time. The constitution does not free us from religion; but from control or religious restrictions by the state. Therefore, this is appropriate. It is posted at the Supreme Court.
9. The decalogue is the Magna Carta of human freedom.
10. The sin nature of man without restraints always degenerates to tyranny and slavery. The Jews did not receive the Ten Commandments until they left Egypt. They left slavery behind. They had been slaves for 400 years.

More Points on the Ten Commandments

1. The decalogue is the epitome of divine establishment. This is true in every generation.
2. Volition is the key to each commandment.
3. They define the limits of volition in all of the "thou shalt not's."
4. So the Ten Commandments defined the nature of man's relationship with God. This is freedom in terms of divine establishment. What does God expect of the human race in order to keep the sin natures of the human race in check?
5. There are some sins mentioned in the Ten Commandments; murder, theft and lying; but the purpose is not to define sin.
6. The sins mentioned in the Ten Commandments are intrusions on the life and liberty and the property of human beings.
7. They are principles for all time. But they were given to Israel specifically.

Ex. 20:1 And God spoke all these words, saying,

Ex. 20:2 I am Jehovah your God, who has brought you out from the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

You Will Not Have Any Other Gods Before me

1. V. 3 means that God is the total authority over Israel.

2. This is the correct union of true religion and the state. It was a union of God Himself and the nation of Israel. This is unique in the history of man.
3. God was the King and absolute ruler. His rule was defined by the Law. So that is why there were no other God's before Him.
4. The people owed to God their completely loyalty and to no other gods. They would be violating the code of God when they participated in idolatry.
5. No other ruler or false god was to supercede the Lord in this theocracy.
6. No other god was to be worshiped by the people. That was a departure from His rule.
7. The standards of the decalogue represented what God expected of His people by way of morality, ethics. These laws must be obeyed by all those in the nation. Israel paid the price many times for turning away from God.
8. The decalogue characterized the uniqueness of Israel's laws.

This is the first theocracy; and it would not work because of the sin nature in man.

The Basis of Freedom

1. Distorting these precepts destroys freedom and the nation.
2. Adhering to the Law of their God was the basis of their client nation status. To the extent that they followed the Law was the extend to which they represented the client nation. Especially all of the things that God said about how they represented Him in the spiritual code.
3. The Mosaic Law defined the divine standards of the nation in terms of freedom.
4. Idolatry, which was a great problem in Israel, removed the Jews from the status of client nation. Every time they got involved in idolatry, slavery was the result.
5. To cut off their exclusive relationship with God is the reason for their national discipline. Deut. 28 lists the cycles of discipline.

Ex. 20:3 You shall not have any other gods before Me.

Relationship with God in the Decalogue

1. The decalogue presents their relationship in words with God. Not taking God's name in worthless or for an evil purpose. One would be false testimony; lying in a court of law. This means that you will not lie. If you do lie, you have taken God's name in vain.
2. Using His name as an oath. This means using God in a curse against a person or circumstances. Damning someone in the name of God. Using Jesus as an expletive.
3. Relationship with God in thought; vv. 7–11; the Sabbath means that you respect God's time. You give time to the Lord. It is a day of rest ordered by God. They were to rest and think about God. They were to think holy thoughts. They were to relax and to contemplate on what God has provided and what he requires. This was a day set aside.

1. One of the primary factors of freedom is thinking.
2. Slave are bound to others to do their thinking.
3. Free men think for themselves and take responsibility for themselves. This is not what is happening in our country today. There is increasing dependence upon government to do our thinking for us. To tell us how to think and how to live.

Israel begin to think in degenerate and perverse ways and they were slaves. They became slaves.

We are not Sabbath keepers; but relaxation is a good principle. However, that has become nothing more than self-indulgence. This does not slow the pace of our lives. We just do it differently on different days. For Israel it stops. The principle is no different today. The Sabbath was a day for physical resting and thinking outside of oneself. They were self-indulgent, which is nothing more than arrogance.

When you are self-centered, you do not think about God or others. When you are self-centered, you reduce your freedom. The masses are told what to think and they are slaves to what they are told. The decalogue is counter to that.

Lesson #0276

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

5/10/2012 Thurs

Bob spent several years on the book of Romans and it is crammed with doctrine. It is one of the great books of the New Testament. Bobby remembers back when there are 6 or 7 nights. This is a critical subject and this was constant friction between the Lord Jesus Christ and the pharisees. You cannot understand the life of Christ apart from the Mosaic Law. The pharisees made it a legalistic doctrine by which the Jews gamed the favor of God. Our Lord had to correct this. When the time came, they would be able to elucidate clearly what the Law was all about.

The Mosaic Law is still a part of the Word of God; and it has been misunderstood consistently even in the Church Age. Religion, Christianity, is no threat to the freedom of this country. The union of the church and state was not intended to exclude Christianity from our daily life. We do not have to worry about the church imposition; we need to worry about the imposition of the state over us. The decalogue defines freedom for Israel. The concepts that are embodied in the decalogue are repeated in the New Testament; they are a part of the New Testament, except for the 4th commandment, which is not repeated in the New Testament. So, these commandments are still applicable to our life today.

Freedom is a precious commodity and there is so little of it in the human race. We have truly been free for 200 years now. Freedom is something that people often do not understand. And many times, when they have it, they take it for granted. Freedom is not as simple as it sounds. Freedom has some qualifications that the decalogue addresses. Mainly the companion to freedom is always authority. Freedom cannot exist apart from authority. And, authority, at the same time, can also nullify freedom.

Freedom without authority is anarchy; and anarchy without freedom is tyranny. The Ten Commandments strike the balance between the two extremes. You must have both or you cannot have true freedom. Authority is an essential element of freedom. These commandments of God embody authority in a form that we call establishment. And yet, this is a freedom code. Divine establishment is set up by God in the Mosaic Law. This is for the perpetuation of freedom in the human race. These are principles for the entire human race. Divine establishment is the basis for ethics and morality for believers and unbelievers alike. The decalogue is designed for believers and unbelievers.

If these divine norms and standards are disregarded, it opens the door for anarchy and tyranny. Bobby heard an anarchist on a news program. He was imply anti-authority. Bobby wanted to hear, "What happens if you get your way?" When anarchy rules, tyranny follows. Divine establishment is the opposite of chaos; you must have authority in order to have freedom.

This is a religious edict for believers only.

The First Commandment

1. This mandate was the basis for the theocracy of Israel. Israel was ruled directly by God and He did it through the Mosaic Law.
2. In the theocracy, the people owed to their sovereign, in an government, loyalty. They owed complete loyalty, since this was a theocracy. No other god was their ruler.
3. Orientation to authority is the basis for all authority-orientation. This is necessary to maintain freedom. You must be authority-orientated.
4. When God's people attached themselves to other gods in idolatry, which they did many times and they worshiped other gods, they had placed themselves beyond divine authority. They had removed themselves from the divine authority in their country; and they were traitors to their God, their constitution, and to their rulers.
 - a. In the United States, we swear allegiance to the constitution, not to the President or to the Congress.
5. When they reject His authority and His rule, they reject the true concept of freedom, which is divine establishment. A law is divine establishment.
6. The extent to which the authority of God in divine establishment is rejected by believers or unbelievers, is the extent to which human freedom is forfeited. A judge in this country wants to exclude the code of freedom from the walls of justice. That is how perverted our laws have gotten.

Ex. 20:3 You shall not have any other gods before Me.

Ex. 20:4 You shall not make a graven image for yourself, or any likeness in the heavens above, or in the earth beneath, or in the waters under the earth;

Ex. 20:5 you shall not bow to them, and you shall not serve them; for I am Jehovah your God, a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of fathers on sons, on the third and on the fourth generation, to those that hate Me;

Ex. 20:6 and doing kindness to thousands, to those loving Me, and to those keeping My commandments.

You cannot use the Lord's name for evil purposes. Like swearing in a court of law to tell the truth and then lying. That removes justice and freedom and attacks the freedom of the person you are giving testimony about.

Using the name of Jesus Christ as an expletive; the result is, freedom is removed.

Divine discipline will limit your options. Divine discipline is designed to bring you back.

Ex. 20:7 You shall not take the name of Jehovah your God in vain; for Jehovah will not leave unpunished the one who takes His name in vain.

The 4th commandment was for believers and unbelievers alike.

The Sabbath Commandment

1. The Sabbath day was kept holy in Israel by ceasing work and contemplating God and His provisions for the nation. This was to think about God's nation as a theocracy.
2. This is a mandate for worship. There is a freedom aspect. All Israel was to observe the Sabbath.
3. The Sabbath further defines authority for unbelievers in terms of a day of rest; this day is set aside for unbelievers as well.
4. This allows a time for people to reflect and to think. When you are not doing anything, what do you do? Most people are bored. They go on a frantic search for happiness to keep from being bored. It is rare that people relax and think. One of the best ways is to read; and that exercises your mind. You can sometimes think when watching television, but mostly it is just staring. We must be able to think and to think outside of ourselves; to think about something other than ourselves.
5. In Israel, this is to think on God and His authority. They did this in the synagogue and the Law was read and it was discussed. It was as if you went into a classroom and learned about jurisprudence. They contemplated what it all meant for the nation and they observed the sacrifices which represented Christ's work.
6. The Sabbath was a day for the unbeliever to be evangelized by what he heard and saw. The ultimate in perfect freedom.

One of the primary factors of freedom is the ability to think and to concentrate. It is a skill that must be developed. As you develop that ability, you can think longer and longer. God set aside a day of rest. You can wind down, and that does not mean that you cease thinking. If you are ignorant, you cannot think for yourself; and you lose your autonomy; and you lose your liberty. Slaves are bound to others to do their thinking. Without the ability to think and to evaluate, without establishment principles, liberty becomes slavery. You can see this in our country clearly today. The uninformed followed falsehoods; they are hoodwinked by all of it. They do not think morality or honesty. They cannot even identify it. They do what everyone else does; and do what others tell them to do. They emulate whatever they see; immorality, lack of integrity. Whatever they see in the movies or on tv. Our entertainment reflects our thinking. Those who cannot think are a herd of sheep heading for the slaughter.

The Sabbath was a concentrated day of worship for Israel. They learned theology and the gospel; believers and unbelievers were to concentrate upon these things. Prayer is concentration and thought about doctrinal things. The applications which we make to our life must be connected to doctrine. The way we think of our nation must be connected with divine establishment.

There was a time when we were forced to do nothing on Sunday, even though we had no such mandate for the Church Age. Sunday is the traditional day of worship for the church. The best idea on this is, Sunday was the day of resurrection; the first day of the week. They celebrated this with group worship.

Concentrate; think Bible doctrine.

Ex. 20:8 Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy;

Ex. 20:9 six days you shall labor and do all your work;

Ex. 20:10 and the seventh day is a sabbath to Jehovah your God; you shall not do any work, you, and your son, and your daughter, your male slave and your slave-girl, and your livestock, and your stranger who is in your gates.

Ex. 20:11 For in six days Jehovah made the heavens and the earth, the sea, and all which is in them, and He rested on the seventh day; on account of this Jehovah blessed the sabbath day and sanctified it.

Then we honor our parents. Some of us cringe here; and perhaps some of us cannot stand them.

Freedom and Honoring Parents

1. Honoring our parents is the fundamental respect for the authority of your parents. You start this the day your are born and you continue this until you are no longer under their roof.
2. God delegated parents as the authority in the 3rd divine institution, which is family. Ideally, we have so much divine establishment in our souls, we can see the attacks on the family.

3. Unless children are taught respect for authority in the home, which is not being done very well today, that freedom and authority go together, that legitimate authority protects freedom and that freedom is enhanced by authority-orientation. This complete affects our nation today. Revolutionists want to overturn this.
4. When there is no parental training, when there is no honor, authority oriented preserve their own authority.
5. If they do not get authority-orientation in the home, they will be disoriented to authority and this will systematically limit their options with bad decisions. Bad decisions. A bad decision is anything that violates the Word of God, which is sin. In that, we make decisions in our life. When you make a bad decision, you limit your options. When you make good decisions, it expands your options. When you begin to think doctrine, then you expand your options and you open your life to everything that it should be.
6. Children who are authority-disoriented will make bad decisions based on arrogance.
7. If it gets bad enough, they may become criminal, incorrigible and even revolutionary; and this impacts society.

Ex. 20:12 Honor your father and your mother, so that your days may be long on the land which Jehovah your God is giving to you.

The Ten Commandments Addresses Crime

1. Murder removes freedom permanently. Life is essential to freedom.
2. No adultery; respect one's marriage and family; two divine institutions. When you do not respect that, your options get narrowed. A single parent is almost in slavery. Bad decisions limit options. It is not the easy way to go. Not the way to go.
3. No theft; respect the property of others. Theft removes your property. You walk into your home and you see things gone; this takes away your freedom; your freedom to own property. Property as reflected in our own constitution. That is the importance of the rule of law beyond yourself.

Ex. 20:13 You shall not murder.

Ex. 20:14 You shall not commit adultery.

Ex. 20:15 You shall not steal.

False witness; this is a fundamental law. To falsely accuse or impugn the character of another is damaging to one's reputation even if it is untrue. It is damaging. This can remove a person's freedom. The guilt of a defendant must be established based upon truth. Otherwise, their freedom is removed unfairly.

Ex. 20:16 You shall not testify a witness of falsehood against your neighbor.

Finally, there is no coveting of that which is not yours. This is desiring the status or things which belong to someone else. This is a basic mental attitude sin. This intrudes on the freedom of others.

People covet money; so they covet the money the rich have. Give us some of your money; you work for it and I get part of it. Why should anyone have to work hard and give it to you. Redistribution of wealth is not charity; it is stealing and dependence. This is coveting someone else's wealth or property that you did not earn.

Ex. 20:17 You shall not covet your neighbor's house; you shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his male slave, or his slave-girl, or his ox, or his ass, or anything which belongs to your neighbor.

Ex. 20:18 And all the people saw the thunders, and the lightnings, and the sound of the ram's horn, and the smoking mountain. And the people looked, and they trembled, and they stood from a distance.

Ex. 20:19 And they said to Moses, You speak with us, and we will hear. And let us not speak with God, that we not die.

Ex. 20:20 And Moses said to the people, Do not be afraid, for God has come in order to test you, and so that His fear may be on your faces, that you may not sin.

Ex. 20:21 And the people stood from a distance, and Moses went near the thick darkness where God was.

Ex. 20:22 And Jehovah said to Moses, You shall say this to the sons of Israel, You have seen that I have spoken with you from the heavens.

Ex. 20:23 You shall not make gods of silver along with Me, and you shall not make gods of gold for yourselves.

Ex. 20:24 You shall make an altar of earth for Me, and you shall sacrifice your burnt offerings and your peace offerings on it, your sheep and your cattle. In every place in which I cause My name to be remembered, I will come to you and will bless you.

Ex. 20:25 And if you make an altar of stone for Me, you shall not build them of cut stones. When you swing your tool on it, you defile it.

Ex. 20:26 And you shall not go up by steps to My altar, that your nakedness may not be uncovered on it.

Matt. 5:18 For most assuredly, I tell you, until heaven and earth pass away, not even one smallest letter or one tiny pen stroke shall in any way pass away from the law, until all things are accomplished.

Matt. 5:14 You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill can't be hidden.

Matt. 5:15 Neither do you light a lamp, and put it under a measuring basket, but on a stand; and it shines to all who are in the house.

Matt. 5:16 Even so, let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven.

Matt. 5:17 "Don't think that I came to destroy the law or the prophets. I didn't come to destroy, but to fulfill.

Matt. 5:18 For most assuredly, I tell you, until heaven and earth pass away, not even one smallest letter or one tiny pen stroke shall in any way pass away from the law, until all things are accomplished.

Matt. 5:19 Whoever, therefore, shall break one of these least commandments, and teach others to do so, shall be called least in the Kingdom of Heaven; but whoever shall do and teach them shall be called great in the Kingdom of Heaven.

Matt. 5:20 For I tell you that unless your righteousness exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, there is no way you will enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

Matt. 5:21 "You have heard that it was said to the ancient ones, 'You shall not murder;' and 'Whoever shall murder shall be in danger of the judgment.'

Matt. 5:22 But I tell you, that everyone who is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment; and whoever shall say to his brother, 'Raca!' shall be in danger of the council; and whoever shall say, 'You fool!' shall be in danger of the fire of Gehenna.

Matt. 5:23 "If therefore you are offering your gift at the altar, and there remember that your brother has anything against you,

Matt. 5:24 leave your gift there before the altar, and go your way. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift.

Matt. 5:25 Agree with your adversary quickly, while you are with him in the way; lest perhaps the prosecutor deliver you to the judge, and the judge deliver you to the officer, and you be cast into prison.

Matt. 5:26 Most assuredly I tell you, you shall by no means get out of there, until you have paid the last penny.

Matt. 5:27 "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall not commit adultery;'

Matt. 5:28 but I tell you that everyone who gazes at a woman to lust after her has committed adultery with her already in his heart.

Matt. 5:29 If your right eye causes you to stumble, pluck it out and throw it away from you. For it is profitable for you that one of your members should perish, than for your whole body to be cast into Gehenna.

Matt. 5:30 If your right hand causes you to stumble, cut it off, and throw it away from you: for it is profitable for you that one of your members should perish, and not your whole body be thrown into Gehenna.

Matt. 5:31 "It was also said, 'Whoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorce,'

Matt. 5:32 but I tell you that whoever puts away his wife, except for the cause of sexual immorality, makes her an adulteress; and whoever marries her when she is put away commits adultery.

Matt. 5:33 "Again you have heard that it was said to them of old time, 'You shall not make false vows, but shall perform to the Lord your vows,'

Matt. 5:34 but I tell you, don't swear at all: neither by heaven, for it is the throne of God;

Matt. 5:35 nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his feet; nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King.

Matt. 5:36 Neither shall you swear by your head, for you can't make one hair white or black.

Matt. 5:37 But let your 'Yes' be 'Yes' and your 'No' be 'no.' Whatever is more than these is of the evil one.

Matt. 5:38 "You have heard that it was said, 'An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.'

Matt. 5:39 But I tell you, don't resist him who is evil; but whoever strikes you on your right cheek, turn to him the other also.

Matt. 5:40 If anyone sues you to take away your coat, let him have your cloak also.

Matt. 5:41 Whoever compels you to go one mile, go with him two.

Matt. 5:42 Give to him who asks you, and don't turn away him who desires to borrow from you.

Matt. 5:43 "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall love your neighbor, and hate your enemy.'

Matt. 5:44 But I tell you, love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who mistreat you and persecute you,

Matt. 5:45 that you may be children of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the just and the unjust.

Matt. 5:46 For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Don't even the tax collectors do the same?

Matt. 5:47 If you only greet your friends, what more do you do than others? Don't even the tax collectors do the same?

Matt. 5:48 Therefore you shall be perfect, just as your Father in heaven is perfect.

Matt. 5:17–20 Life of Christ/Mosaic Law

5/23/2012 Wed

Bobby went to a political rally and the candidate was an old friend of his. Bobby met his campaign manager. He met several people there and they had all been involved in Berachah Church.

We left off 10 days ago. Rick is about the only person Bobby would absolutely trust in the pulpit while he is gone.

We have been recently examining the Mosaic Law. The Mosaic Law was absolutely central to nation Israel in that dispensation. There was nothing more important by way of revelation to the Jews than the Mosaic Law. It was critical in the life of Israel.

There were 3 codes; they were the first client nation to God and they were so throughout the Old Testament.

The Decalogue or the Ten Commandments; which is the freedom code. They represent freedom in the nation of Israel. The spiritual code, which defined Israel's worship and her relationship with God and God's justice and His righteousness and His love. The 3rd code were the civil statutes. This kept their society from breaking down. The Mosaic Law was the way that God could rule over the world; and Israel was a theocracy and this is how God ruled. This was the only true unity of church and state, as it was ruled by the Mosaic Law which God gave to Israel. The Mosaic Law still provides Church Age believers with general guidance concerning individuals and nations. This does not include guidance in the spiritual life. There are the mystery doctrines of the New Testament. We find in the Mosaic Law many parallel doctrines which are also found in the New Testament.

Each Church Age believer has instruction to his community and to his nation. There is volition, marriage, family all found in the Mosaic Law and today as well. Client nations have disappeared when divine establishment leaves. Bobby spent a lot of time on this subject.

Jesus Christ will emphasize the necessity of the Law in the time that He lives. There was the union of church and state at that time; but, in our time, there is a separation of church and state.

Luke 20:25 And He said to them, "Render to Cæsar the things which are Cæsar's and to God, the things which are God's." This is the separation of church and state.

Our laws ought to, in many ways, reflect the Mosaic Law. The establishment principles are defined in the Mosaic Law. This is the forerunner of all law because it is given by God. The state must protect citizens and it must protect freedom, both personal and national. There must be also the protection of religious freedom in a nation. Rom. 13:4 Governing authority is a minister of God to you for good. There are certain many governments which are tyrannical; but that is of God. God expects us to apply the legitimate laws of divine establishment and an astute political leader in the Church Age who wants the nation to prosper can learn much from the Mosaic Law. It is God's Law; it is His establishment.

You only apply these laws where they legitimately apply. Instead, it is the application of principles of the Mosaic Law for any nation that desires prosperity and freedom.

To close out this study, let's look at the present purpose of the Mosaic Law to the Church Age. We need to know what the Law means to us.

The Mosaic Law Correlates the Principles of Codex 1 and 3

1. It verifies the principle of freedom through military victory.
2. The principles of jurisprudence.
3. Sacredness of life, property and privacy.
4. The common sense functions of life are verified; the laws of quarantine; proper diet, etc. The Mosaic Law defined these things a long time. Maintenance of basic hygiene.

Those in the Middle Ages should have taken a good look at the Mosaic Law with regards to hygiene.

Codex 2 Tells Us All about Jesus Christ Dying for Our Sins

Propitiation; doctrine of atonement, etc. These are all illustrated through some very bloody rituals.

1. The historical Christology of the New Testament fulfills the shadow Christology of the Mosaic Law.
2. This shadow Christology emphasizes the work of Jesus Christ in salvation. His substitutionary death; faith alone in Christ alone.
3. This is exactly the same Christology of the New Testament; just presented in different ways. This is the continuity between the Age of Israel and the Church Age.

The perpetual application of the Mosaic Law found in 1Tim. 1:8–10 Now we know that the law is good, provided one uses it legitimately. We know that the law is not meant for a righteous person, but for the lawless and rebellious, for the ungodly and sinful, for the unholy and irreverent, for those who kill their fathers and mothers, for murderers, for the sexually immoral and homosexuals, for kidnappers, liars, perjurers, and for whatever else is contrary to the sound teaching. Here, the Law is a standard. The principles are just as important. This tells us what is criminal. The perpetual application of the Mosaic Law is to bring sinners to the place where they recognize the need for a Savior. You can look at the Law and recognize that we cannot gain anything via our own good works. We need to depend upon God's standards. We need to recognize our own need of a Savior. We need Jesus Christ to provide those standards. To be the mediator between God and man. The Law is a measuring stick of our inability to save ourselves. The Mosaic Law contains truth which is applicable to every era of history. All freedom is based upon the absolute truth found in the Law. The Law reflects divine establishment. Divine establishment means freedom. It defines that which is freedom. Without it, society collapses into anarchy and tyranny.

In the Sermon on the Mount, we are past the beatitudes and now we are in a long dissertation of the Mosaic Law and His relationship to it. That is why we know it is critical. The pharisees had muddled the meaning of the Law.

Jesus Christ and the Mosaic Law

1. The Lord Jesus Christ was the Lawgiver. He gave this Law to Moses. He is the burning bush; the One on Mount Sinai. He was the visible manifestation of Israel's God. The Mosaic Law was His law; and these pharisees had been arguing the Law to the One Who gave it.
2. He was able to explain what He meant in the Law. Wouldn't it be great to have the founding fathers speak to the Supreme Court when needed.
3. The pharisees false interpretations and legalistic traditions. Jesus had to let them know what the place of the Law would be in the Kingdom that Jesus was offering to them. Jesus Christ told them that He had not come to nullify or to repeal the Law. The disciples were confused about this issue; which suggested that everyone was confused about this issue.

Everyone who heard Jesus speak, we learned that He demanded a perfection greater than what anyone could accomplish. No one could accomplish the Law. You cannot keep the Law and righteousness is necessary; then what can you do? The traditions went way beyond the Law. They were only presenting a caricature of the law. Jesus had to clear up this legalistic apostasy.

Man on his own could not fulfill the Law; that is why there were the ritual sacrifices; they pointed toward the Lord Jesus Christ. .

Jesus Christ Fulfilled the Mosaic Law.

1. Now that the Messiah was present in Israel, He would not abolish the Law; He would fulfill the Law.
2. He was the only one who could fulfill the Law. He had to fulfill every mandate and requirement of the Law. We know what the Law is because we have studied it. Jesus Christ could look at any part of the Law and confirm that He fulfilled it. He fulfilled every letter of the Law.
3. In doing this, Jesus Christ demonstrated His perfect righteousness, which was His qualification to be the Savior.

Matt. 5:17 Do not think that I have come to destroy the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to destroy but to fulfill.

Jesus Christ fulfilled the Mosaic Law completely and fully.

Matt. 5:18 For truly I say to you, Till the heaven and the earth pass away, not one jot or one tittle shall in any way pass from the Law until all is fulfilled.

Nothing would pass from the Law until all of it is accomplished.

Matt. 5:19 Therefore whoever shall relax one of these commandments, the least, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of Heaven. But whoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of Heaven.

We will need to break down v. 19.

Then v. 20, we must have a righteousness which surpasses that of the pharisees.

Matt. 5:20 For I say to you that unless your righteousness shall exceed that of the scribes and Pharisees, you shall in no case enter into the kingdom of Heaven.

Nomidzô means to presume. There is no mandate here. Jesus is asking them to think logically as to what Jesus is saying. Isn't this what we ought to do while we are looking at Bible doctrine. We have the same situation. We are going through a process which begins with volition to hear God's Word. There is a process involved. There is the process of γνώσις to ἐπίγνωσις. They hear it and they must accept it. They must consider what the Lord is saying.

Jesus is confirming the process of taking in Bible doctrine. Naturally, Jesus Christ after saying this, now presents which they must draw a conclusion about. He is presenting doctrine. They are not to presume that He has come to abolish the Law but He is fulfilling the Law. Their conclusion should be that He will fulfill the Law in its entirety.

His fulfillment of the Law is part of our salvation.

Matt. 5:17 Do not presume that I have come to destroy the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to destroy but to fulfill.

Lesson #0276

Luke 5:17–20 Life of Christ

5/24/2012 Thurs

Bobby has been picturing the Sermon on the Mount. We will look at the pharisees and how they view the Mosaic Law and what they are thinking while listening to our Lord. They have the opportunity to question the very Lawgiver. "What do you mean when it comes to that law? We have been trying to figure out for years what it means."

There is no greater example of negative volition and hardheadedness than what we see here with the pharisees.

Matt. 5:17 Do not presume that I have come to destroy [abolish] the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to destroy [abolish] but to fulfill.

Jesus could relate all that there was to know about the Law. The subject of the Law, the disciples had to understand; because they would have to teach it properly in years to come.

Whoever wrote the book of Hebrews understood the Law as the rabbis understood it; but understood it as the Lord Jesus Christ saw it. The disciples must be clear about all of this. Jesus did not come to abolish the Law but to fulfill it. He accomplished every mandate and every requirement of the Law. In so doing, He would demonstrate that which was very critical to be demonstrated to those who observed Him.

God was propitiated by God the Son taking on all the sins of the world. And Jesus removed the enmity between God and man. He was also qualified to redeem man from the slave market of sin.

Jesus is speaking to the disciples and He first tells them not to make an assumption. This is an assumption that the pharisees have made. "Consider carefully what I am saying." We should listen.

In seminary, Bobby could hardly believe that faith alone in Christ alone for salvation and eternal security. The others were fruit bearers; who believed that they must bear fruit in order to show that they are saved.

Jesus promises that He did not come to abolish the Law but to fulfill it.

The Greek verb is πληρωω which is a decisive verb. plêroō (πληρώω) [pronounced play-ROH-oh], which means to fill [a vessel, a hollow place, a valley]; to fill [something] with [something]; to supply [abundantly with something] [fully, completely], to impart, to imbue with; to fulfill; to perform fully; to bring to a full end, to complete [finish, accomplish]. From Zodhiates. Thayer definitions: 1) to make full, to fill up, i.e. to fill to the full; 1a) to cause to abound, to furnish or supply liberally; 1a1) I abound, I am liberally supplied; 2) to render full, i.e. to complete; 2a) to fill to the top: so that nothing shall be wanting to full measure, fill to the brim; 2b) to consummate: a number; 2b1) to make complete in every particular, to render perfect; 2b2) to carry through to the end, to accomplish, carry out, (some undertaking); 2c) to carry into effect, bring to realization, realize; 2c1) of matters of duty: to perform, execute; 2c2) of sayings, promises, prophecies, to bring to pass, ratify, accomplish; 2c3) to fulfil, i.e. to cause God's will (as made known in the law) to be obeyed as it should be, and God's promises (given through the prophets) to receive fulfilment. Strong's #4137.

How far does Israel and the church coincide, which is a basic dispensational position. The Law does not extend to the church. So, plêroô does not mean to extend the Law to the church. We are not governed by the Mosaic Law. The church is not and cannot be governed by the Law.

Did Jesus take the Law as an external guide for the Age of Israel and convert it to an internal guide for the Church Age? The church is not spiritual Israel. The meaning used here to bring to pass, to complete.

The Meaning of Πληρω

1. Jesus Christ was revealing what the Law had always anticipated.
2. The Law pointed to Jesus Christ in every respect. The Mosaic Law was designed to point to the very Person the pharisees were rejecting.
3. Jesus would bring to pass the true aim of the Law.
4. He would complete and fulfill all that the Law demanded.

When people are failures at something they are supposed to be great at; they have a problem with those who are really good at it. They would attempt to find anything wrong with our Lord. The intent is to simply repeat the lie.

The pharisees wanted Jesus out of the way; they wanted Him dead.

All that the Law demanded, Jesus would complete.

How Jesus Fulfilled the Law

1. He would obey all the statutes of the Law perfectly. He never violated a single statute of the Law.
2. He would fulfill and complete all of the Old Testament prophecies and types of Christ's. Melchizedek came out to meet Abraham; and Jesus was a fulfillment of that type. He fulfilled exactly the prophecy of Isa. 53.
3. Jesus was the only One Who could provide salvation. He could do so because of His perfect righteousness. He perfectly fulfilled the Mosaic Law. This is how He demonstrated His righteousness.
4. Every letter in the Old Testament was written by God; and Jesus is the Lawgiver Who dictated the Law to Moses.

He could not contradict Himself. The Law could not be changed or nullified even by the God-man. He does not change; His Law does not change. The Law was God's standard for righteousness.

The pharisees are in hell today because they rejected the Savior. They saw Him day in and day out and they observed that He fulfilled the Law and they still rejected Him. This is what negative volition is all about.

This is like friends of mine on the left who did not believe that I was sufficiently righteous when it came to the environment because I did not give verbal assent to global warming. I was more conscientious than any of them when it came to recycling; and they believed that they were right and I was totally wrong.

Christ's relationship to the Law was made perfectly clear right here. No one else could even approach; not even close. Without this approach, salvation is not possible. What flawed man could provide salvation? No good person can do this; but every religion claims this; that we could be saved merely by doing good things.

Matt. 5:17 Do not presume that I have come to destroy [abolish] the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to destroy [abolish] but to fulfill.

Matt. 5:18 For truly I say to you, Till the heaven and the earth pass away, not one jot or one tittle [not the smallest letter or stroke] shall in any way pass from the Law until all is fulfilled.

When Jesus said, "Truly;" He is indicating that this is absolute truth. This must have startled the disciples. The Law was the primary authority and the governing principles for Israel.

The Authority of Jesus Christ

1. The authority that Jesus commanded was the authority of the God-man and secondly the authority from which the Law itself derives. The Law comes from His authority.
- 2.
3. The Law gathers its authority from Him because it originated from Him.
4. This is a declaration about the Mosaic Law and His authority over the Mosaic Law.
5. The pharisees constantly said that Jesus was a lawbreaker; but He was the originator of the Law.
6. It is His Law to fulfill as a demonstration as the acceptability of the Lamb of God to take away the sin of the world.
7. Fulfilling the Law was a sign of His Messiahship and Savior.

The Mosaic Law deal with the lamb, which was completely innocent. The sins of the offerer were passed along to the lamb and the lamb was killed. There could be no flaw in the lamb and there was no flaw in Jesus Christ.

The pharisees were bound to a falsehood. The real purpose of the Law and they believed that Jesus was offering an alternative. And the pharisees believed that Jesus was threatening their god, the Law.

Jesus as the Fulfillment of the Law

1. Christ came as the true fulfillment of the Law.
2. He was everything that the Law intended.

3. The Law pointed to Him.
4. His appearance in the first advent was the culmination of the Law.
5. Jesus was the ultimate goal of the Law for all those centuries.

Jesus is making certain that they understood how attached He is to the Law of Moses. God's Law would remain in effect until heaven and earth pass away until it is fulfilled.

The Result of His Fulfillment

1. When the Law was fulfilled by Him, there would no longer be necessary for the Law to point to Him.
2. The purpose of the Law changed in the Church Age.
3. The principles of the Law are still valid.
4. Divine establishment was discernable from the Law of Moses. But the Law was obsolete as a national and spiritual code.
5. The spiritual life of the church is defined by the filling of the Holy Spirit and the mystery doctrine of the church. It is no longer the Law.

To fulfill the Law, completely, during the first advent, there were things that Jesus had to do.

Matt. 5:18 For truly I say to you, Till the heaven and the earth pass away, not one jot or one tittle [not the smallest letter or stroke] shall in any way pass from the Law until all is fulfilled.

Lesson #0277 Luke 5:17–18 Life of Christ/Memorial Day 5/27/2012 1Sun

Freedom does not come without a price; there is always a blood sacrifice for this freedom. The fight for freedom goes on; and the price will have to be paid again, if freedom is to be continued. No matter how much we would like not to participate in the desolation of war, it must be done.

Tradition to read citations of Medal of Honor recipients. Robt. L. Howard and Nick Bacon from Berachah have received the Medal of Honor.

One person in the Philippines held off 100 Japanese single-handedly, killing at least 38 of them.

Eye of the Tiger guy in Vietnam.

There is a great parallel between soldiers who give their lives for our freedom and Jesus Christ, Who died so that, if we believe in Him, we will have eternal life in heaven. We should never forget to honor the sacrifice of our Lord; or those who have sacrificed their lives for our freedom.

Our Lord had many things to accomplish in the first advent. Jesus introduces in the Sermon on the Mount one more thing that he must accomplish.

Matt. 5:17 Do not presume that I have come to destroy [abolish] the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to destroy [abolish] but to fulfill.

Jesus was the fulfillment of all the Old Testament Scriptures. His righteousness qualifies Him to be our Savior, acceptable to God. He reconciles the enmity between man and God. He is the only human being who could and did fulfill the Law of Moses. This was necessary. Even the slightest failure would have disqualified Him.

Our Lord is the greatest warrior who ever lives; He provides the great sacrifice for all mankind.

Matt. 5:18 For truly I say to you, Till the heaven and the earth pass away, not one jot or one tittle [not the smallest letter or stroke] shall in any way pass from the Law until all is fulfilled.

Some Points on V. 18

1. Not one smallest letter or even the stroke of a letter will pass away before heaven and earth pass away.
2. The Law and the Prophets cannot disappear until all is accomplished. This must all be fulfilled by the One prophesied. He is the only One to stand in the gap.
3. He will fulfill the standard of righteousness which the Law demands and He will do it to the letter.

Παρέρχομαι means to come to an end; to disappear. A double negative which is a very strong negative. The Law reflects His righteousness; and the prophets the deeds He must do. He is the only One to bring salvation.

Verb: Παρέρχομαι: (parerchomai) [pronounced], which means, 1) to go past, pass by; 1a) of persons moving forward; 1a1) to pass by; 1b) of time; 1b1) an act continuing for a time; 1c) metaphorically; 1c1) to pass away, perish; 1c2) to pass by (pass over), that is, to neglect, omit, (transgress); 1c3) to be led by, to be carried past, be averted; 2) to come near, come forward, arrive. Lesson #0278

5/27/2012 2Sunday

Memorial Day is tomorrow, actually. In thinking on history, there is so little history taught in our schools and nearly nothing by way of military history. We rarely got much of WWII; we often go from the New Deal into the 1950's. How can kids understand freedom if they do not understand the costs?

Our constitution would not be possible if not for the war fought before it. Freedom is not a document but the paying the price for freedom. The greatest freedom of all is the cross and Jesus paying for our freedom.

There is the price that Jesus had to pay for our salvation. V. 18 is what our Lord had to do in order to go to the cross. He was tempted externally. Jesus could have sinned. He could have succumbed to Satan's temptations and then He could not save us.

Jesus had to keep the Law to be the Perfect Man for our salvation. One deviation means that He would not be acceptable to God. Matt. 5:18 is what Jesus actually had to accomplish. Heaven and earth will pass away, which is a part of the Word of God. The Law must be accomplished by our Lord, even to the smallest detail. This is how important the Law was.

The smallest letter in the Hebrew alphabet is the yodh. י and it is found in the Tetragrammaton. יהוה and if Jesus can accomplish this tiniest letter, then He will fulfill every single other sentence and phrase of the Old Testament.

He continues by citing even the tiniest portion; one stroke is just a portion of a letter. There are no vowels in the Hebrew in Israel. A resh and a peh; not one stroke will be different; not one letter forgotten. Every little stroke will be accomplished. Letters make up words; one changed stroke changes the word and the letter.

The law is argued often on the basis of the turn of a word.

Matt. 5:18 For truly I say to you, Till the heaven and the earth pass away, not one jot or one tittle [not the smallest letter or stroke] shall in any way pass from the Law until all is fulfilled.

Summary

1. Every stroke of the letter of the Law must be perfectly preserved in order to be perfectly fulfilled. Every stroke and letter must be fulfilled.
2. That minute fulfillment was totally necessary to fulfill our Lord's purpose on earth.
3. With this statement, Jesus Christ guards the Law to its smallest letter and intent. It is not something to be abolished. It is God's Word; it comes from the hand of God.
4. The pharisees are charging that He is replacing the Law with some other law; or with His Own law. Every stroke of a letter is necessary; and that is how closely our Lord fulfills the Law.
5. Jesus is not a lawbreaker; He is the Lawgiver and the Law keeper. How many of us could even keep 10 mandates from God? There is this great extent of the Law; and this does not mention the prophets.
6. Jesus is the epitome of the Law. He carries the laws demands to the farthest extension. He has to.
7. Not one small letter or stroke can be altered, or He will not be able to fulfill the Law. Alter one letter and He cannot fulfill it. This statement conforms to the teaching of the rabbis. They wrote the guilt of altering one letter is so great, that the world would come to an end. This was the rabbi statement, and Jesus took it up. The rabbis has violated the Law in many ways. They wrote all kinds of additional regulations. They could not fulfill the Law and no one else could either. They kept some of their regulations calling them the letter of the law.

How nice you are is not at issue. Your human righteousness is flawed. We all have relative righteousness; and believers, we have imputed righteousness. Jehovah was on Mount Sinai; He was the Burning Bush. This is Jesus Christ. He would fulfill His Law to the letter.

The pharisees are a joke. They were not righteous; they were the worst.

Until is hos and then there is γίνομαι. Jesus loves this tense and mood. Aorist middle subjunctive.

Until All Be Fulfilled

1. The aorist tense gathers into a whole what takes place in our Lord's life what fulfilled the Law. In all of these years, He never violated one part of the wall; no misspelling, no violations.
2. His life includes everything that happened to Him in His life.
3. This also include the death of Christ, which fulfilled the parts of the sacrificial aspects of the Law. Somewhere, sacrifices were being made. Isa. 53 as well.
4. All that happened in His life including the predictions of the prophets concerning the Person and work of the Messiah.

Jesus simply says, this is how it is; it is being fulfilled right in front of your eyes. I am the Savior; the Messiah. He showed Who He was, over and over again.

A further application; the Law does not go away with the death of Christ and the initiation of the Church Age. Jesus completed and fulfilled the Law; and all Scripture is divinely inspired. The Law is a monument to Who Christ is and what He accomplished.

Matt. 5:18 For truly I say to you, Till the heaven and the earth pass away, not one jot or one tittle [not the smallest letter or stroke] shall in any way pass from the Law until all is fulfilled.

The Scripture is filled with our Lord's valor. When we get to the cross, the brutality that took place; that which took place; being nailed to the cross. For us, everyday is Memorial Day. When it isn't, then we have departed from the spiritual life.

The Medal of Honor demonstrates what the meaning of freedom is and what its cost is.

We should be able to recognize our inability to keep the Law; that we cannot meet God's standards; and we must recognize His accomplishment for us. You cannot describe Christianity apart from Jesus Christ and His sacrifice.

There are many things which are unusual in the Christian world; and there are so many places where things are wrong. Many aberrations in Christianity when it comes to doctrine. They misuse and misunderstand such basic doctrines as rebound. And those who think they can read the Bible and depend on the Holy Spirit to teach them; and they must be filled with the Holy Spirit to get anything at all. There are many people in Christianity all over the world; and they get the Scripture completely wrong. There are many with the gift of pastor-teacher and they were unprepared. Bobby mentions this because there is always something which comes along that people want to go to. What we do by way of rebound and study is critical to the Christian life. One area where people are utterly confused is this particular increment on the Mosaic Law. The Mosaic Law is from God. But here, people get in trouble, so they try to superimpose it on the Christian life.

The Law had been given by God and followed by Israel for centuries; so Jesus says that He did not come to abolish the Law.

Matt. 5:17 Do not presume that I have come to destroy [abolish] the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to destroy [abolish] but to fulfill.

All that is in the Law must be fulfilled; and Jesus would fulfill the Law and the Prophets.

Summary

1. Jesus Christ entirely fulfilled the divine standards of righteousness, which the Law reflects and demands. The Law demands God's righteousness.
2. He fulfilled the righteousness that the Law demanded to the letter; to the very stroke of a letter; one line of a letter. He would fulfill everything in the Law. That is His righteousness demonstrated.
3. He would also fulfill every prophecy which the prophets spoke in the Old Testament, and that is much of the Old Testament. Almost every prophet has something to say. Incredible Messianic prophecies.
4. Jesus would accomplish all of it, and perfectly. Jesus had not old sin nature.
5. Jesus had to do this; He had to accomplish the Law perfectly to succeed in the 1st advent. One error or not keeping on bit of the Law, there is no salvation for us.
6. He also would complete all kingdom prophecies, which He would finally fulfill at the 2nd advent. We are not, by the way, in the kingdom now.
7. So accomplishment of the Law and the Prophets was necessary in every aspect of His life.
8. He fulfilled the covenant that God made with Abraham completely and the promise of salvation completely and perfectly.

This accomplishment is described in Rom. 10:4 For Christ is the end of Law for righteousness to everyone that believes. Telos means that Jesus is the culmination of the Mosaic Law in two ways. He is the goal of the Law in the sense that the Law has always anticipated and has always looked forward to Christ in several things. All those aspects of the Mosaic Law point to Christ. Telos also indicates that He is the end of the Law. His accomplishment of the Law brings to the end of the dispensation where the Law was the centerpiece of that dispensation. Israel was the centerpiece of the Age of Israel. So the Law was the centerpiece of the Age of Israel. It was the freedom code for Israel and the laws of divine establishment. It defined their laws. Jesus is the end of the Law for that dispensation. The Christian is no longer bound to the Law because Jesus is the end of the Law.

The Law and the Church; How Do They Fit Together in the Church Age

1. The church is not governed by the Mosaic Law.
2. Neither is the Law valid as a national code for nations in the Church Age. It was a national code for Israel only, but for no other nation.
3. The Law is valid in the Church Age where its principles are restated in the New Testament. All of the Ten Commandments are restated except for the 4th commandment. That was the Jewish day of worship.
4. So, the Law is valid for principles of divine establishment for people and for nations. The extent to which people and nations depart from the freedom code is the extent to which nations are destroyed.
5. The Law is valid in the Church Age for looking back at divine righteousness. What are the standards of God? We can look back at the Law and at divine righteousness and its fulfillment by Jesus Christ in the 1st advent.
6. The Law is valid for its historical context. It provides a continuity between the Old and New Testaments.

Telos Is the Goal of the Law and the End of the Law

1. Christ was the object, and the Law pointed at the Messiah.
2. He was the end of the Law so that He fulfilled it. Look at the Law in the way that Jesus fulfilled every statute of this Law.
3. Jesus ended the Law's reign of Israel.
4. He discontinued the Law as a legal or as a spiritual norm in the Church Age.
5. That was a definite break between Israel and the church; and this is where we get into one of the great conundrum of the Church Age. What is the relationship between the church and Israel. Christ is the end of the Law with a definite break between Israel and the church. The church is not spiritual Israel. We are not governed by the Mosaic Law. Israel still has a national future. We have a different law. We are not left lawless. That is antinomianism. The church is under the law of the spirit and life. Or the Law of Christ. He is the end of the Law for righteousness. But He is righteousness for us. We enjoy union with Christ, something which those in Israel did not have. This includes the filling of the Holy Spirit and our unique spiritual life which the Lord pioneered in the Age of the Hypostatic Union.

We have an internal spiritual life which is gained through the filling of the Holy Spirit and the metabolization of the doctrine in our souls.

Salvation is the same in every dispensation. That is an absolute continuity between the dispensations.

Jesus was speaking to Israel on the Sermon on the Mount. He was also speaking to His disciples. The first sermon was to His disciples and the sermon on the plain followed, which took place around this time period. This sermon had been given on many occasions.

So, was there a progression of revelation during the time of Jesus Christ?

The message of the pharisees; we've kept the Law, by and large. They gain the favor of God. The Law represented the opposite; and gaining the righteousness of God.

We have violated the Law. The pharisees did as well, although they believed that they were keeping it.

Jesus will make it clear that the pharisees have not kept the Law. Jesus will throw a bomb in the middle of their apostasy. What is adultery; what is divorce, what is murder? Jesus covers this exactly. Jesus is telling them that they are wrong. Man still has a sin nature; we were born with it and we will die with it.

As born again, we have God's righteousness. Sin is no longer the issue to the believer in Jesus Christ, insofar as separation from God is concerned.

Abraham believed God and it was imputed to him as righteousness.

The people did not elect Moses president or king; they had a king, Jesus Christ. As a client nation, they were to represent God. They needed to understand who they were; and the future king and His Messianic work.

We have the principles of the Law and we have the Law of Christ; we want the latter, not the former. We have one ritual, mandated as a remembrance.

Bobby's master thesis was on the Shekinah glory. None of the saints that we have studied or read about and how they were the preservative of the nation. Great people in the annals of God's plan. We have more than everyone of them, by way of resources. The church has a spiritual life which is different, based upon the filling of the Holy Spirit. 1 Corinthians was packed with doctrine. We do not live under a ritual system. The church is an entity, but we are an entity called the body of Christ, made up of all believers; Jews and Gentiles. Israel was a national entity of Jews and they incorporated Gentiles who had believed in Jesus Christ. But we are not the current people of God who put themselves under the Law. Israel was a nation and will be a nation again. The Law will not be needed and it will not rule in the Millennium; because the Lawgiver will rule.

Summary

1. The Law teaches man that we are sinners and bankrupt. Rom. 3:20, 28

2. In the second codex, the spiritual code, it still points to Jesus Christ, in the sense that it is an historical reassurance as to Who Christ is. He is our salvation.
3. The Law still provides a standard for stability in national entities under divine establishment as defined by the freedom code.

Matt. 5:18 For truly I say to you, Till the heaven and the earth pass away, not one jot or one tittle [not the smallest letter or stroke] shall in any way pass from the Law until all is fulfilled.

So the Point of V. 18 is

1. Only Christ fulfilled every bit of the Law.
2. Only Jesus Christ fulfilled the Law perfectly.
- 3.
4. The pharisees did not recognize or admit many of the ceremonial laws were fulfilled and kept by Jesus Christ. Possibly because they could not keep the Law perfectly, they refused to recognize that He did.

Lesson #0280

Luke 5:17–19 Life of Christ

5/31/2012 Thurs

Our Lord's first thing is to not abolish the Law; and secondly, He is to fulfill the Law.

Matt. 5:17 Do not presume that I have come to destroy [abolish] the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to destroy [abolish] but to fulfill.

There is a marked contrast between Jesus and the pharisees and their relationship to the Law. Abolish is the Greek work καταλουνω which means to make invalid, to repeal [a law]. With this is the negative μη. Jesus came not to repeal the Law but to fulfill it; to fulfil every single bit of it, every letter and every stroke of a letter.

Matt. 5:18 For truly I say to you, Till the heaven and the earth pass away, not one jot or one tittle [not the smallest letter or stroke] shall in any way pass from the Law until all is fulfilled.

In v. 19 Jesus will contrast His use of the Law and the pharisees. Jesus turns this around on the pharisees; if anyone annuls even the least of the commandments; he will be the least in the Kingdom of God. Here we have λυω, which means to abolish, to let loose, to repeal. These pharisees do not fulfill or accomplish the Law. They say they are fulfilling or accomplishing the Law, but they are not. Their key to strutting around Israel and looking down on everyone else is the Law, which the pharisees claim to follow, but which they do not.

Mat 5:19 Therefore, whoever relaxes one of these commandments, the least, and shall teach men so, he shall be called least in the kingdom of Heaven. But whoever does and teaches them, this one shall be called great in the kingdom of Heaven.

Jesus, the Pharisees and the Repeal of the Law

1. If the pharisees repeal even the smallest of the commandments; if they transgress the tiniest portion of the Law, they have repealed or abolished the Law.
2. In contrast to this, Jesus Christ, Who does not repeal the Law, since He fulfills every commandment perfectly.
3. Christ does not violate even one of the commandments of the Law; the Law points to Him and reveals His perfect righteousness.
4. The contrast between Jesus Christ and the pharisees is what he is revealing here. Our Lord is condemning their legalism here.

The pharisees are not the giants of the kingdom that they think they are. They think that they have this great stature as believers and that everyone ought to look up to them and their great works. What our Lord says here blows the lid of what the pharisees are teaching. The pharisees have transgressed much more than one little commandment. They were the worst of the lawbreakers, and Jesus will illustrate that.

The Pharisees and the Law

1. The pharisees constantly repealed the Law.
2. The very Law that they depended upon for righteousness and salvation, they abolished by their own actions. That is the irony of all this. They have abolished their own desire for righteousness. Their usage of the Law is bogus. They break the Law constantly.
3. They have abolished all their claims to righteousness because they have misused the Law.
4. In this context, Jesus Christ is speaking against and actually revealing the hypocrisy of the pharisees, as well as their legalism regarding the Law.
5. They incorrectly interpreted the Law and they incorrectly taught the Law. If you do not know the meaning, how can you teach the meaning? The spiritual code of the Law contained much of the doctrine that they needed for Israel. The Christian life becomes legalism and nothing but good works; good works should be the result of the Christian way of life; not the means of it.
6. They were living and they were teaching an external righteousness by keeping the Law. Their teaching led the Jews into apostasy
7. They taught works righteousness for God's approbation.
8. Every time they preached this message, they abolished the true meaning of the Law; Jesus is saying they are the worst kind of hypocritical lawbreakers. They cannot please God with their works and God is right in front of them telling them that they cannot please Him.

The pharisees who were teaching righteousness though keeping the Law would be called the least in heaven.

The Pharisees and Righteousness

1. They looked to their own good works and not to Christ for salvation.

2. No matter what they tried, they were not acceptable before God.
3. One broken commandment ruined their eligibility before God.
4. The only way to attain acceptable righteousness before God was through the justification which comes through faith in Christ. Imputed righteousness.
5. This is the same justification that Abraham received. This was true in the Old Testament just as much as it was in the New. Gen. 15:6 Rom. 4:1–3

Mat 5:19 Therefore, whoever relaxes one of these commandments, the least, and shall teach men so, he shall be called least in the kingdom of Heaven. But whoever does and teaches them, this one shall be called great in the kingdom of Heaven.

Being called the least in the kingdom really burned up the pharisees. With all their works and all of their law keeping, they are the least in the kingdom, according to Jesus Christ. In their own eyes, they were the greatest. These men would have a rude awakening. No one will or can live up to the requirements of the Law, except for One man. And breaking one commandment made a person fail.

These pharisees do not understand the grace of God. They do not understand why their works-righteousness do not lead to the approbation of God.

These pharisees would not even be in the Kingdom of Heaven. They had rejected the King and His righteousness. Spending eternity in hell is being least in the kingdom; they were teaching a false gospel of works.

Who would be the greatest? Whoever keeps and teaches them. Some read this and think that if they keep the Law, Jesus says they are alright. But He is not saying that. The teaching and keeping distinguishes Jesus from the pharisees here. The point that Jesus has already made in v. 18 is that there can be no righteousness by keeping the Law. Jesus has debunked keeping the Law for righteousness.

He Shall Be Called the Greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven; What Does That Mean?

1. This is a different great than is in the kingdom.
2. You must have more the relative righteousness to enter into the kingdom.
3. The legalism of keeping the commandments just doesn't get the job done.
4. One must enter into the Kingdom of Heaven to be great. What does that mean in the context of the Sermon on the Mount?
5. The great will be those disciples who are hearing this sermon and who understand true righteousness. They understand what the pharisees do not.
6. They will then be the ones who teach true righteousness. They will teach imputed righteousness which comes through faith in Christ. They will bring the true gospel of faith alone in Christ alone. The pharisees do not even get the gospel. They have brought Israel to its knees in apostasy.
7. That is what keeping and teaching means in relationship to great in the kingdom.

Mat 5:19 Therefore, whoever relaxes one of these commandments, the least, and shall teach men so, he shall be called least in the kingdom of Heaven. But whoever does and teaches them, this one shall be called great in the kingdom of Heaven.

So Jesus has just thrown another bomb into the midst of the pharisees. They did not meet the spiritual needs of their people. They were to proclaim the truth, and they did not. That satisfies the needs of the congregation and nothing else. As they teach falsehoods, they are pharisees and they will be the least in the kingdom.

If a pastor does his job to train us in the Word of God, to bring us up to maturity in the Word of God, then we are great in the kingdom. If the pastor doesn't, then he is in double trouble; and he has misled his own congregation.

Repentance is the key; that is the message of John the Baptizer; repent is the message of Jesus Christ. It means to believe in Christ alone; to believe in the gospel of Jesus Christ. When we do, we receive the righteousness of God.

Those involved in works face Isa. 64:6 for all of us have become as those who are unclean; all of our unrighteous deeds are as menstruous rags.

Summary Points

1. Being called great in the kingdom means that God will reward those who enter into the Kingdom of God through faith in Christ.
2. The rewards are given for faithful service to Him. We have imputed righteousness and experiential righteousness; the latter is rewardable.
3. Clearly, we can see that there will be varying degrees of reward in heaven based on our life on earth. It depends upon divine good.
4. To be called great means that someone will also be called less than great in the kingdom. They will have less rewards in heaven. The great will heave, "Well done, my great and faithful servant."

perhaps this is the kingdom on earth; which the pharisees would be a part of, if Jesus was accepted by Israel.

So, is Jesus saying, you just need to have greater righteousness than the pharisees have? Is there better law-keeping? Who can do that? That is what this sounds like.

Matt. 5:20 For I say to you that unless your righteousness shall exceed that of the scribes and Pharisees, you shall in no case enter into the kingdom of Heaven.

Most people do not know much about Jesus Christ; and what they think they know, they do not. They think they know the Sermon on the Mount; but they know a little about the beatitudes, which they completely misunderstand.

Jesus is turning to the subject of the Mosaic Law. We have spent some time in the study of the Law of Moses. Jesus will spend a good length of time on the Mosaic Law. Therefore, Bobby has spent a lot of time with the Law.

There is a need to clarify the Law to all those who are listening to Him; for His disciples and those who are among His bitter enemies. They are all confused about the Mosaic Law and how He is related to the Mosaic Law. Therefore, Jesus must clear up their misconceptions about the Law. He will reveal critical things about Himself to us.

The pharisees and other religious leaders have muddled the meaning of the Mosaic Law. They have taken God's Law and have perverted it for their own legalistic purposes. The Law was their life. However, it was their life for the wrong reasons.

Every bit as important would be the prophets and the book of Genesis and Job.

There was actually class warfare; the religious types have been using the Mosaic Law to confuse others and to bully others. They desire power and control. They attempted to keep all the statutes of the Law; and by doing so, they displayed their righteousness to everyone. This placed them at the head of the class. They knew the Law and they kept the Law; and this is just self-righteousness. They were the worst of the self-righteous. This is what Jesus will go after in this sermon. One of the greatest problems of this life are self-righteous people. Such people are insufferable.

Matt. 5:17 Do not presume that I have come to destroy [abolish] the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to destroy [abolish] but to fulfill.

Jesus would keep every commandment even to the very partial stroke of a letter.

Matt. 5:18 For truly I say to you, Till the heaven and the earth pass away, not one jot or one tittle [not the smallest letter or stroke] shall in any way pass from the Law until all is fulfilled.

Jesus will show the pharisees just how far off they are from the truth; and they think that they can keep the Law and be acceptable. They are showing their self-righteousness by their law-keeping. Where is enough works? At what point have you done enough righteous acts? Even one sin violates God's standards.

They keep proclaiming their own self-righteousness, thinking that this is their salvation and their power over everyone else. They proclaim how well that they keep the law, which is just self-righteousness. That is the crux of legalism. The message of the pharisees; be self-righteous, and God will accept you.

Jesus looks the pharisees right in the eyes and says v. 19. The pharisees were leading the Jews into apostasy with their distorted view of the Law.

Jesus has come to offer them all the Kingdom of God. The King is here. But these pharisees will not be in the kingdom unless they repent, which is a change of minds about Jesus Christ Himself.

What Is Jesus Saying?

1. He uses the phrase “least in the kingdom” to make His point about righteousness; who has it and how does one get it.
2. In using this phrase, Jesus is popping their self righteous bubble. They think they are the paragons of God’s kingdom.
3. Through their good works and piety, they think of themselves as the greatest, as the top dogs in the kingdom. Jesus is not making an issue of them being in the kingdom; He is assuming that they are.
4. This is the opening salvo of our Lord’s renouncing of the self-righteousness of the pharisees. Jesus will use the Ten Commandments, the very mandates that they think they are keeping to the letter.

This is an indictment; this is the Law that they think they are the paragons of.

Jesus is the only Person who can teach the Mosaic Law correctly and keep all of the precepts of the Law. They cannot keep the Law, but Jesus can.

What the pharisees never seem to grasp is the sacrifices. Animal sacrifices presupposes that we are fallen; and that we need an avenue to God.

Righteousness and the Unbeliever

1. Jesus is the Righteous One.
2. His righteousness is imputed to all those who believe in Him. We are not deserving of God’s righteousness, we gain it through God’s grace.
3. The pharisees have to have more than their relative righteousness. It is not true righteousness by God’s standards.
4. Righteousness is given to us at the moment of salvation. This was received in the Old Testament as well. Rom. 4:1–3.
5. The pharisees need the imputed righteousness of God, which comes by faith alone in Christ alone. So much of the world sees Christianity as a system of works and good deeds.

The pharisees had their legs cut out from under them; their religious system was a house of cards.

Mat 5:19 Therefore, whoever relaxes [annuls, repeals, abolishes] one of the least commandments, and teaches [other] men to do so, he will be called least in the kingdom of Heaven. But whoever does and teaches them [the commandments of the Mosaic Law], this one shall be called great in the kingdom of Heaven.

Then Jesus speaks directly to His disciples. Is a better set of works or righteousness the key to the Kingdom of Heaven? Are they suppose to out-work or out-righteous the pharisees? The pharisees clearly do some good deeds, but their righteousness is hypocritical, which Jesus points out on many occasions. So, is Jesus saying, just be less of a hypocrite and God will accept you?

Can anyone exceed the human works of the pharisees? Can they actually enter into the kingdom based upon human works? If good works mattered or good works bore fruit, could we not say that the pharisees are showing the same kind of evidence that they are saved?

In no way, by a person's own ability can he have righteousness which is superior to that of the pharisees. No one can equal the standards of the Law except for One Person. The Law points to Jesus Christ, Who is perfect righteousness.

Matt. 5:20 For I say to you that unless your righteousness shall exceed that of the scribes and Pharisees, you shall in no case enter into the kingdom of Heaven.

This will make the pharisees angry. "We don't even like You. Why is our righteousness inferior to Yours?" The pharisees right there hate Jesus and are guilty of mental murder; and this alone shows that they are not righteous enough.

Our salvation is so easy; we have God's righteousness and we do not depend upon our own works.

Closing Points

1. V. 20, Jesus is speaking to those who have been saved and have imputed righteousness.
2. It is the saved sinner whose righteousness is greater than the pharisees. We all sin but we are still righteous because God made us so through Christ.
3. The Law is intended ot bring man to Christ; to show man his need for Christ. The Law is not supposed to make us feel good about ourselves.
4. The Law is intended to commend our personal merit, but to commend the work of Jesus Christ.
5. If the pharisees or anyone else keeps the Law, then it is impossible for them to be righteous. They have not received the righteousness that is pleasing to God. It only comes through faith alone in Christ alone.

Lesson #0276

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

6/3/2012 2Sunday

Jesus Christ keeps the Law perfectly, to every letter. Jesus will now illustrate that the pharisees do not fully understand the Law and that they are unable to keep the Law. In the next section, Jesus will show how all men lack righteousness. We are born without righteousness; we are born condemned, from the moment of our first breath. We have nothing which commends us to God. We have a sin nature. We sin; we are depraved.

Jesus will say, here is how the Law is taught; however, this is what the Law actually says. He is not changing the Law; He is correctly interpreting the Law. This is authority that only God could have. Who else but the Great Lawgiver could properly interpret the Law. He is revealing either great authority or tremendous gall.

Jesus Interpreting the Law

1. "You have heard..." leaves the old commandment still standing.
2. When He says, "I say to you;" He brings in His Own divine authority. He brings in the spirit of the Law.
3. Jesus adds principles which are equally binding by the Law; only One with authority could do this.
4. Jesus goes from the letter to the spirit of the Law. He reveals the hypocrisy of the pharisees.

Matt. 5:21–48 and Luke 6: all cover the proper interpretation of the Law. He will spend a great deal of time amplifying the Law.

Jesus begins with the 6th commandment, You will not murder.

Matthew 5:21 "You have heard that it was said to those of old, 'You shall not murder; and whoever murders will be liable to judgment.'

Then Jesus properly interprets this commandment. He expands.

Matthew 5:22 But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment; whoever insults his brother will be liable to the council; and whoever says, 'You fool!' will be liable to the hell of fire.

In Ex. 20, the word used means to murder. There is no application to killing in battle or in self-defense; this is homicide. So many people and cults claim that Ex. 20 is a blanket prohibition of killing under any circumstance.

Jesus says that those who commit murder will face the judicial system. As long as a man did not take a life, no law was being broken, in the mind of the pharisees. They would look at this and say, "We don't murder; we're okay here." They saw their actions as being acceptable because they did not kill anyone. And, legally, this is a correct interpretation. However, there is more to this Law than its legal interpretation.

Matthew 5:21 "You have heard that it was said to those of old, 'You shall not murder; and whoever murders will be liable to judgment.'

Jesus expands the interpretation of this Law to include its very seeds of anger and hatred. A verdict of guilty would be pronounced by the court for the mental attitude sins of anger or murder.

What Does this Mean?

1. Jesus Christ was not reducing the physical crime to a mere thought.
2. Jesus was equating anger with the physical crime. They are both condemned by God.
3. You can commit the sin of murder through your mental attitude.
4. Anger, malice, hatred are the roots which can produce murder.
5. Christ was saying, in this pronouncement, that the Law requires refraining from the mental attitude sins which would motivate murder. They are the foundation of the crime of murder.

The mental attitude sins carry the same penalty in the court of heaven. Anger, therefore, is mental murder, with legal consequences before the Law. Here, it is the Supreme Court of Heaven.

This hit home for these perpetual religious haters. They were constantly guilty of mental murder toward the Lord Jesus Christ. They were angry for the sort of thing that He was saying to them. He tells them the truth and it made them angry at Him. He was indicting the pharisees for mental murder; and they had broken the Law. Who hasn't? The pharisees were very arrogant. They did not like being told that they were violating the Law. They sat on the courts and judged others. They expected others to keep the Law to the letter, and they were not keeping the Law themselves. They were the rulers and judges that Israel looked up to, and Israel expected them to be perfect.

The pharisees would never consider breaking this obvious commandment; but now they are being required to judge themselves. It is easy to look at those in authority over you, particularly those who are unfair, and you understand what that means. Everyday, you commit mental murder. You cannot be self righteous about what you do. Your mental murder makes you guilty of a crime before the Supreme Court of Heaven. These men are staring at Jesus with their anger and vindictiveness, and this indicted them.

Judge yourself, based upon the only true standard. There is only one true standard, and that is the Word of God. We must always see ourselves through the prism of the Word of God. Look at yourselves based on the 6th commandment; and its true interpretation.

The pharisees were angry and they hated the Lord Jesus Christ. The outcome of their hatred would be the physical act of murder. They would crucify the Lord Jesus Christ. This was prophetic. The one commandment they believed that they were keeping, and they were not; and they would actually murder our Lord.

Matthew 5:22 But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment; whoever insults his brother will be liable to the council; and whoever says, 'You fool!' will be liable to the hell of fire.

What Is Happening Here?

1. Jesus was exposing their hypocrisy for all to see.
2. They were not even close to keeping the Law as they claimed; even in the easiest commandment to keep. This is not broken by killing in battle or in self-defense.
3. They failed even when keeping the letter of the Law, the simplest commandment to keep.
4. Everyone listening could see the hatred in the eyes of the pharisees and other religious types. Their anger was beyond the pale of understanding. The person who gave you the finger on the road; they just committed mental murder against you.
5. By this definition, these religious types were murderers, and this definition still stands.
6. This strikes at the very heart of their self righteous legalism.

This pronouncement also gave Jesus superiority over the Law. These pharisees would never be so bold as to go over the letter of the Law, and here is this Young Upstart telling them what this actually meant.

This is why religion hates the grace of God; they hate correct teaching because it indicts them. There are some in some denominations who build up their works to impress God and these works are worthless. Such people come to despise the grace of God.

It is the hardest thing in the world to accept being straightened out when you are self righteous. The antinomian hell-raiser understands his need and his problem already; it is the self righteous types who have a hard time seeing it.

Matthew 5:22 But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment; whoever insults his brother will be liable to the council; and whoever says, 'You fool!' will be liable to the hell of fire.

Jesus never stopped with a simple statement. He hammered them. In case they were fuzzy about what was being said, he grabbed them by the collar and told it to them again. He drove His point home with the pharisees. He wanted no misunderstandings. This was for everyone. He was a great, fantastic teacher; the best. He was very clear on this point. This told them to forget law-keeping as a means of salvation. Forget those things which people believe that they could do to be saved.

Jesus uses an incredibly insulting word. Raca.

rhaka (ῥακά) (Aramaic transliterated into Greek)) [pronounced], which means, 1) empty, i.e. senseless, empty headed man; 2) a term of reproach used among the Jews in the time of Christ. Part of Speech: noun. Thayer Definition Only. Strong's #4469.

then He uses the word morê. So, is mental murder enough to go to hell? We might as go out and have a good time.

Communion:

“Apart from Me, you can do nothing.”

John 7:45–46 Then the officers came to the chief priests and Pharisees. And they said to them, Why did you not bring Him? The officers answered, Never did a man so speak as does this man.

Jesus spoke in a way that no one had ever spoken before. He spoke with great authority.

It is too bad that we readily neglect His Word, Bible doctrine, and become dependent upon other human beings. Our children know more about sports figures or facebook than about Jesus Christ. We then drift in an empty wasteland of immaturity. We have entered a time when men believe that they can get along apart from Jesus Christ. Little recognition is given to reliance upon Him. So much rhetoric is out there without so much of a mention of God or Jesus Christ.

Bobby has heard great motivational speakers who have never made mention of the Lord Jesus Christ; or funerals where His name is not named for fear of putting others off. Millions look upon our nation as a Christian nation, but internally, we have activism, teaching the golden rule or the Ten Commandments. But the foundation of Christianity is not the golden rule or the Mosaic Law, but it is Jesus Christ, the Savior, the Messiah, the mind of Christ in the souls of believers in Jesus Christ. When we ignore Him, we ignore the very center of our lives.

A common tendency among men is that God approves of their good deeds and that their works will be enough. That is a basic tenet of legalism, that man can reach the standard of God's approval. "Are you ready to face death?" The answer is typical, "I think so." People think that maybe they will go to heaven, and are honest people who do not intentionally set out to hurt anyone.

What is man that he should be pure? Or born of a woman that he should be righteous? All of our righteous deeds are like filthy garments... Rom. 3:10 there is none righteous, not even one.

Man is incapable of being his own savior. Such a one neglects the righteous which is acceptable to God. Acts 4:12 neither is there salvation in any other; no other name give among men under heaven by which we must be saved. If righteousness comes through the Law, then Christ died needlessly. If our personal deeds can save us, then we have no need of Jesus Christ. Christ is the end of the Law for everyone who believes in Him. What good deeds of man are good enough to stand next to Jesus Christ? Jesus is absolutely necessary in order to receive a righteousness that no man can acquire on his own. Without Me, you can do nothing.

The Jews of the Old Testament offered sacrifices as a means of reaching God, but without understanding the meaning of such ritual, they are no closer to Him than if they had offered no sacrifices.

No person in Scripture was more playful than Cornelius. Yet God had to send Peter to Cornelius to explain things to him.

Saul persecuted Christians and God leveled him on the road to Damascus; and showed him that his religious fervor was for naught.

Nicodemus was also a very religious man, and he was a teacher of the Old Testament, but he did not understand what it meant. He did not understand the grace of God and the way of salvation. And Jesus told him, "You must be born again." John 3:18 The one believing into Him is not condemned; but the one not believing has already been condemned, for he has not believed into the name of the only begotten Son of God.

All other systems are self-centered and humanism. There is one Mediator between God and man, the man Christ Jesus.

One religion exalts Mary and teaches that sinners can receive pardon by Mary. Even though she was chosen by God to bear the humanity of Jesus Christ, she was still born with a sin nature. We are not dependent upon her. No person can stand in the place of Jesus Christ. Death has reigned from Adam's original sin to today. The advent of the Lord Jesus Christ provided a substitute for all of us. Rom. 6:23 For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

We are in the Sermon on the Mount. Jesus spoke of the Mosaic Law, beginning in Matt. 5:17, and the Mosaic Law is God's perfect standard of righteousness. Through the Law, God governed the client nation of Israel in that dispensation. It is very fitting that Jesus turns to the Law to explain it.

Jesus met God's perfect standards by following the Law; and the pharisees fell far short of keeping the Law. Our Lord's perfect righteousness qualified Him to be the Savior as a substitute for all of us. Only by Him can the curse of God be reconciled. Perfect righteousness paid the penalty for unrighteous mankind.

The pharisees and other religious leaders saw themselves as being righteous because they kept the letter of the Law, as demonstrated in the Ten Commandments. "There is not one commandment that we have violated." They claim to be as righteous as Jesus was. Jesus demonstrated His righteousness by fulfilling the Law.

Matt. 5:17 Do not presume that I have come to destroy [abolish] the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to destroy [abolish] but to fulfill.

Matt. 5:18 For truly I say to you, Till the heaven and the earth pass away, not one jot or one tittle [not the smallest letter or stroke] shall in any way pass from the Law until all is fulfilled.

Mat 5:19 Therefore, whoever relaxes [annuls, repeals, abolishes] one of the least commandments, and teaches [other] men to do so, he will be called least in the kingdom of Heaven. But whoever does and teaches them [the commandments of the Mosaic Law], this one shall be called great in the kingdom of Heaven.

Jesus continues this approach in vv. 21–22 and He will use the very commandments that the pharisees tout as the basis for their own righteousness.

Lesson #0278

Matt. 5:21–22 Life of Christ

6/10/2012 2Sunday

Jesus was at constant odds with the pharisees; the very religious types. It does not matter whether these are religious folks or not. We are surrounded by pharisees.

Jesus began to expand upon the Law. Jesus interprets the Law, waves it in front of the pharisees as if it were the constitution and say, "You don't understand this at all and you are all constitutional lawyers."

"You have heard that..." indicates something which everyone has been taught.

Matthew 5:21 "You have heard that it was said to those of old, 'You shall not murder; and whoever murders will be liable to judgment [to the court].'

Anyone who commits murder is punishable by the courts in Israel, and in most societies. The pharisees all nod in agreement, "That is a very important commandment" and they puff up, knowing that they have kept this commandment perfectly—they have not murdered anyone. But then Jesus amplifies this commandment.

Then Jesus points to the basis of murder, which is mental murder. The pharisees listening hate Jesus Christ, and they are murdering Him in their hearts. And there goes their righteousness. Jesus is equivocating the crime of murder with the mental attitude of anger. Anger, hatred are the basis for such a crime. The Law of Moses also requires the refraining of anger, hatred, disgust, malice and vindictiveness. The pharisees are guilty before the Law; their hypocrisy is exposed. They were not keeping the Law as they claimed, even in this most obvious area of the 6th commandment; they were still guilty in breaking this commandment. Jesus struck at the heart of their self righteous legalism.

rhaka (ῥακά) (Aramaic transliterated into Greek) [pronounced rhak-AH], which means, 1) empty, i.e. senseless, empty headed man; 2) a term of reproach used among the Jews in the time of Christ. Part of Speech: noun. Thayer Definition Only. Strong's #4469. They were guilty of murder because they said, raka to someone else.

Matthew 5:22 But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment; whoever insults his brother will be liable to the council; and whoever says, 'You fool!' will be liable to the hell of fire.

One word and you are liable to be thrown into a fiery hell.

There was a valley where there was idol worship and child sacrifice. They took their children and sacrificed them. There were phallic cults there and their children were offered in the fires of Molech, all in the name of a god of stone. Jeremiah called this a Valley of Slaughter because this is where God would judge and punish His people for these terrible crimes. The pharisees understood this. Jesus was associating the pharisees with this Valley of Slaughter.

An Explanation of What Jesus Is Saying

1. Our Lord is conferring the image of Gehenna, as a bleak future for the mental attitude sin of murder.
2. This does not condemn a person to hell because they use four-letter words. This is not the unpardonable sin.
3. The picture here presents that all degrees of anger and hatred, whether expressed or not, are sinful and severely punishable. This is an obvious pharisaical failing. He is telling these men that they are filled with hatred.

More Summary Points

1. Mental murder is a sinful offense of one person against another. Therefore, they have broken the 6th commandment.
2. Such a person is unacceptable to God; he is sinful; he is not righteous. We already know that the pharisees are unbelievers; and this indicates that they are unrighteous before God.

3. The offender is not reconciled to God because he does not have acceptable righteousness. He is a mental murderer. He is liable to the supreme court because he has committed one crime.
4. He is condemned to judgment in hell; because he is without the justification of self-righteousness. He is unrighteous. They think that they are righteous, but they are not. Therefore, they are condemned.
- 5.
6. They are not condemned for murder but what it represents. They are unable to keep the law for righteous. That is their status.
7. They are unbelievers who harbor hatred and mental murder and all of the rest. They were sinful and lacking in righteousness. There are therefore unacceptable to God. They depended upon keeping the Law for divine favor, and they are actually unable to keep the Law. Righteousness verse unrighteousness; God imputes righteousness to us at the moment of salvation. There is no other righteousness which is acceptable to God.
8. These pharisees were guilty of mental murder. The commandment they believed that they kept the best, they were not keeping.
9. They were on their way to hell because they were unable to keep the Law.

There is a lesson for us; it is not about the fires of hell for us. We will never face the horror of hell because we have believed in Jesus Christ. We are all guilty of a number of sins. It is wonderful to understand the grace of God. There is nothing that we can do to lose salvation, if we have believed in our Lord. We can be experientially unrighteous and go into reversionism; and have a lousy life; but we do not lose the righteousness of God or eternal life.

The mental attitude sins of anger and hatred are equated with murder here by Jesus Christ. We can never take out mental attitude sins lightly. It does not matter how unjust anyone has been to you. You are never justified in hating your guts.

Put injustice in the hands of the Lord. It is not our job to deal with being treated unjustly. The incredible ability to make issues clear; and this court case will give us the solution to mental murder.

We may not ever think of murdering someone who has done something mean to us; but we might think things were are mental murder. Murder is certainly a punishable crime. The Supreme Court of Heaven doesn't miss anything.

Jesus tells us exactly what murder is and how we can overcome it.

Lesson #0279

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

6/13/2012 Wed

The Makaira congregation in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Jesus is addressing His disciples, but this is for the pharisees as well. There is a lesson concerning righteousness. They needed to understand justification. They have to know and understand the imputation of divine righteousness.

Matthew 5:21 "You have heard that it was said to those of old, 'You shall not murder; and whoever murders will be liable to judgment [to the court].'

If you commit murder, you will be convicted by the courts and punished. The pharisees were sure that they had not broken that 6th commandment. This is a rude awakening for those who are devoted to self-righteousness. There is more to murder than the simple act of homicide. The crime of murder can be committed by the mental attitude sin of anger of someone else.

Jesus takes this criminal code of Israel and takes it one step further. He equates anger with the physical crime. All of them have committed murder because they have all been angry.

The disciples and the pharisees are guilty of mental murder before the law.

Terrible idolatry of throwing children on the fires of Molech, and that is what the hell of fire. We would all be in line for the courts if we are angry.

It is not mental murder or any kind of murder that sends a person to hell. The context here is the phoney righteousness of the pharisees or anyone trying to keep the law. One little word, a word spoken in anger to someone else, and this makes them guilty. They are guilty of depending upon their own righteousness for salvation. This is what Jesus is refuting here. Jesus reveals that no one has righteousness. They had all violated the 6th commandment, which they thought was the easiest commandment to keep. You can kill someone to protect your property.

Some courts are confused by this. The 6th commandment calls this murder. Everyone has violated this commandment, and, thereby, has no personal righteousness that they can stand upon.

The pharisees have rejected the only Righteous One. The fiery hell is still all about faith alone in Christ alone.

The disciples have committed these sins; and they have been angry plenty of times. But, they also know that they have righteousness. They know that they have the same righteousness from believing in Jesus Christ.

The pharisees could not even keep the most obvious of the commandments.

Matthew 5:22 But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment; whoever insults his brother will be liable to the council [before the supreme court]; and whoever says, 'You fool!' will be liable to the hell of fire.

Jesus now shows them the solution, in vv. 23–24: so, let's say, you have a conflict with someone else. You began it and they carried it forward, or vice versa.

Jesus tells them not to offer up this gift at the altar, but to go to the one you have a conflict with, and straighten that out.

Matthew 5:23 So if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you,

Matthew 5:24 leave your gift there before the altar and go. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift.

Bobby believes that Jesus took the time to explain in more depth what He means. However, that information is not included here. The people of that day understood what Jesus was saying, because they lived in that time period. They understood the questions.

Israel has done this for centuries, bringing an offering to the altar.

The Illustration That Jesus Presents

1. We should not take a 3rd class condition at full-face value. Our Lord has made up this illustration.
2. This is a real problem for the worshiper. He cannot worship God with this confliction.
3. However, the reconciliation between two believers is a scenario presented by Jesus Christ to illustrate His point about mental murder.
4. There eis doctrine and reality in this illustration.
5. This is a situation that does happen, even though Jesus Christ made this scenario up.
6. What is happening is, this person is trying to worship when out of fellowship. This illustration is about about the solution to mental murder.

The anger expressed right here is the problem when he is in the midst of worship. He has a close relationship with another believer; and he is angry with them. When you are close to someone, that is the person you have the most mental murder toward them. It is those people you are close to with whom it happens the most. So, brother here refers to a person of familiarity; and that is where this occurs most of the time. Now, you might commit mental murder when watching a news show.

This illustration does not talk about who is at fault; it is all about conflict and conflict resolution for an important reason.

The Conflict Between Two People

1. This means that both parties have taken part in whatever this dispute is.

2. As a result, there is estrangement, hard feelings, resentment and anger when a person perceives himself as being wronged. No one is lily white when there is conflict.
3. Under these conditions, the mental attitude sins begin to pile up and escalate.
4. It does not matter who started it or what the circumstances are that brought on the antagonism. Determining fault is not a part of this issue.
5. Someone has to finish this; this cannot remain a bleeding wound; the mental murder cannot continue.

Sometimes conflict requires restitution; and there you are, needing to resolve this problem or this hostility. So, what does this person do at the altar. He is to leave the offering there, to walk away. Don't continue. Why is this directive here? This is a critical part of worship.

Out of Fellowship and this Illustration

1. How can we describe the believer at the altar. He is out of fellowship with that other believer. He is in the throes of mental murder and therefore he is distracted from worship by his thoughts. There is no true worship; no true allegiance to the Lord. He is thinking about his conflict with that other person.
2. This situation is a picture, an illustration of being out of fellowship with God. There is a great deal of depth in what Jesus is saying.
3. No one can approach God in a condition of being out of fellowship.
4. No one can worship in this condition. That is the principle.

This is the most basic of basic doctrines for the Christian way of life. There should not even be an iota of anger when worshiping Jesus Christ. This is concentration upon the Person of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Worship is not acceptable to God when there are outstanding mental attitude sins. This is a picture of rebound. We worship in Spirit and in truth. So the scenario indicates that the solution to mental murder is rebound. This guy has to go out and resume fellowship with the person that he has a conflict with.

Matthew 5:23 So if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you,

So what are we going to do with the conclusion? Does this mean that we literally do what this says? Do we need to confess our sins to others before we can worship? Certainly sounds that way? Should Bobby give us some time to run around before communion to get everything settled everywhere?

Matthew 5:24 leave your gift there before the altar and go. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift.

We all experience the problem of mental murder.

We begin with a 3rd class condition. So, let's say you are presenting your offering, and you recall that your brother has something against you. At this point, you know that your brother has something against you and there is a conflict and both parties are involved in this dispute. This is apparently an open conflict that both combatants know about it. It does not matter who started the feud, but it must end for the worship to be valid and completed. The person at the altar must determine to end this mental murder and the feud between himself and the other person.

Matthew 5:23 So if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you,

He first must handle the problem in his own soul. What does Jesus suggest to do? Jesus tells him to cease and desist his worship. Personal recognition and settling the soul is what is involved here.

What to Do about Being out of Fellowship

1. Do not let mental murder or any other sin intrude on your concentration on the things of the Lord in your worship.
2. Reconcile with the mental murder; get back in fellowship with that person. Then go back to the Temple and complete your offering.
3. This is the picture of getting in fellowship with God before worship can take place. Worship is not acceptable to God when there are outstanding mental attitude sins.

Bobby does not want people to wander off in the midst of communion. If you are overcome with anger, vindictiveness, confess it; and if you cannot get over it, then do not partake.

Matthew 5:24 leave your gift there before the altar and go. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift.

Let's focus on the final line of v. 24. First be reconciled to your brother and then come and offer your gift. Reconciliation is the conclusion of the conflict; but what does it mean; what is called for here? What are the mechanics here? What do you have to do in order to be reconciled. There are a myriad of interpretations here. Do you need to confess your sin to your brother. Do you need to swallow your sense of justice; do you admit wrongdoing no matter what your involvement is?

How Far Do You Take This?

1. We are told to be reconciled in the imperative mood. This is a command, which means do it.
2. You have to evaluate what it takes to reconcile and make the effort. You must decide how to do it. This is a great test of your mental attitude and your humility. There is that person who drives you crazy; and if they fell off the earth, you would celebrate. Part of your spiritual life is reconciliation with a brother with whom you have a conflict. You cannot take this injunction lightly. You cannot take the mental attitude that you cannot reconcile with that SOB; and that is mental murder. You do not need to develop warm and fuzzy feelings for that other person. You need to develop some impersonal love. This mandate must be obeyed; you must pay attention to it.

Do I Have Your Attention Yet?

1. It is not necessary to confess your sins to that individual. Often confession of mental attitude sins to others results in more mental attitude sins from others. That other person may not know how you feel about them; that is your problem, not theirs. We always get back into fellowship by naming our sins to God. The comparison does not carry over.
2. Reconciling with another person does not necessitate your confessing your sins to them. Don't reconcile by naming sins to someone else.
3. There is a mandate for reconciliation and restoration of fellowship between two parties when mental attitude sins exist.
4. If there is a mandate, then if Jesus Christ has given us this mandate in writing, then it means that it is always to the best interest of both parties for a peaceful coexistence or reconciliation. It is miserable to be constantly in the grip of mental murder. It is a vicious cycle that always escalates.
5. The other party that you must reconcile with may continue to wallow in mental murder against you. That may be their MO, but not yours.
6. You must resolve this problem in your own soul first. That is a huge part of reconciliation with anyone else.
7. Resolving this problem in your soul is the opening of reconciliation with the other person. It is step 1 and step 2.
8. Resolve this in your own mind first; utilize the spiritual resources in your own soul.

So, how far must you go to reconcile? Do you have to beg? Do you have to crawl? This is a decision that you must make in your own soul. There is so much bad blood that they might never reconcile with you.

How Far Do You Go to Reconcile

1. You can always start with an apology. But you need to have it straight in your own soul; even if the beginning of the conflict was not of your own doing. This takes some humility.
2. Apology may in fact purge hurt feelings, which may be the core of the problem. You can figure out something. It takes humility to do that.
3. With an apology, it opens up a conciliatory attitude on your part, which is the objective of v. 24.

4. Sometimes monetary restitution is necessary. This might really hurt. A lawsuit for indebtedness. Reconcile before you get into court. Bob used to say, "If money can solve a problem, then it is not a problem."
5. Pay what someone might consider a debt that you owe, whether it is or not.
6. Why would Bobby say something like this? This demonstrates graciousness. That is the attitude of graciousness and a good mental attitude. Money can cause great problems between people. Sometimes even a partial restitution helps. You correct it in the soul.

Harboring continual animosity is the easiest way to get out of fellowship. That is the revolving door of carnality. You are okay for a short time and your anger comes back in a flood. It is easy to stay out of fellowship when people make you angry. There are times in those situations that you must do to reconcile so that things do not get worse. You must put that conflict to rest; you must let it go. You must deal with your own conflict and put it to rest no matter what that other person has done. Conflict in the soul is not the Christian way of life.

We are to forgive as Christ forgave. "Forgive them for they know not what they do" is what Jesus said on the cross. Reconciliation takes something on our part and it is our move. We need to be occupied with Jesus Christ rather than with our emotions and how we feel about Charley Brown. Humility is so critical.

Not everyone will be reconciled no matter how hard you try; but the attempt should be made. We are to do the best to make peace. Put the conflict out of your mind. Have no anger associated with it; put it in the Lord's hands.

Matthew 5:24 leave your gift there before the altar and go. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift.

This directive is not meant to encompass every person with whom you've had a conflict. It is not for flashes of anger, like the person that cut you off on the freeway. Some you want to apologize to may not know that you were angry with them.

Don't stir up more problems in the soul than you need to. Don't take it to ridiculous lengths. For instance, here, it is all about a close association; a brother.

This is an illustration; so we do not take it at full-face value to be used with every person with whom we do not get along.

Reconciliation is a doctrinal goldmine. Doctrine was illustrated in the Old Testament through ritual, and this was the spiritual code of the Mosaic Law.

Generally, What this Verse Represents

1. The reality of a reconciliation between two people illustrates the reconciliation that Jesus provides between man and God.

2. No one can have fellowship with God until they are reconciled to Him through Christ. So this is a picture of reconciliation.
3. There is no salvation or Christian life apart from reconciliation with God.
4. There is no Christian life apart from rebound.
- 5.
6. This is a picture of reconciliation, rebound and the correct attitude of worship. This is how we approach our memories of the Lord, as we are mandated to do.
7. We cannot have fellowship apart from reconciliation.
8. Rebound.

Summary

1. Reconciliation with a brother represents reconciliation with God.
2. Rebound is illustrated here.
3. This represents the correct attitude between believers.

Do not harbor mental attitude sins in your soul. You have no right to harbor mental attitude sins in your soul when involved in any sort of worship of God.

This reconciliation cannot be contrived or phony. There must be a change in the soul; the mind must be purged of mental murder. Keep moving toward the goal of spiritual maturity. That requires some renovated thinking and virtue love in the soul.

Lesson #0281 Matt. 5:22–26 Luke 12:57–59 Life of Christ 6/17/12 1Sunday

Jesus has now turned to the Mosaic Law.

Just one word reflecting a bad mental attitude in your soul indicates unrighteousness. Any unrighteousness which violates the Law is unacceptable. The pharisees lacked the ability to keep the Law. They think they are righteous because they keep the Law, but they are not. Only God's righteousness is acceptable to God. This is why justification, the imputed righteousness of God comes from faith alone in Christ alone. We are made righteous in Him. We are made righteous in Him so that we may live to Him.

Homicide is more than physically taking another's life. The word for murder does not apply to military combat, capital punishment and self-defense.

Our Lord picked this commandment because it is an easy commandment to keep. The pharisees have kept the 6th commandment; they thought this was the one commandment that they are least likely to violate. However, Jesus expanded this to mental murder, and that commandment, they have not kept. No one has ever kept this commandment, apart from Jesus Christ.

Matthew 5:22 But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment; whoever insults his brother will be liable to the council; and whoever says, 'You fool!' will be liable to the hell of fire.

Jesus also presents the solution to the problem.

While involved in Old Testament worship, you are ready to offer a gift on the altar,...

Matthew 5:23 So if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you,

Stop and be reconciled with your close associate. This is the only way by which this worship can be legitimately continued. The reconciliation must be done, no matter who started it or who is at fault.

This is all about rebound in the midst of the Sermon on the Mount. No mental attitude sins; and the reconciliation is the work of Jesus Christ, not the work of man. It is responding to what God has given to us.

Matthew 5:24 leave your gift there before the altar and go. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift.

Then we have the context of a lawsuit. The second way to deal with mental murder. Other than a good fistfight, this is one of the greatest disputes between two people. It becomes a legal problem. It becomes so intense that it goes to a court of law, mental murder is rampant. Indebtedness was a more serious issue in the ancient world and prison could be the outcome of indebtedness. If a settlement could not be satisfactorily reached, then that person, the one in debt, could end up in jail with no recourse. Such a person could remain in jail until the debt is fully paid.

Therefore, it is very important to reconcile a court case quickly. "Make friends quickly," means that a rapid response is necessary. You need doctrine in the soul.

Before you get to court, you need to work things out. This is to keep you from being thrown into jail.

Matthew 5:25 Come to terms quickly with your accuser while you are going with him to court, lest your accuser hand you over to the judge, and the judge to the guard, and you be put in prison.

This is a strong motivation to settle.

Matthew 5:26 Truly, I say to you, you will never get out until you have paid the last penny.

When you owe someone, you cannot simply walk away from the debt.

Luke 12:57 "Why don't you judge for yourselves what is right?"

Once you get in front of a judge, it is all out of your hands. You may think you have a just case, but the justice may go against you. Some of you may have gone through a child custody, because someone else decides what happens to your children. You give up control over your children for a judge to decide. Fix it before things are completely out of hand.

Luke 12:58 As you are going with your adversary to the ruler, make an effort to settle with him on the way. Then he won't drag you before the judge, the judge hand you over to the bailiff, and the bailiff throw you into prison.

Paul wrote that it is anti-grace to go to court against another believer.

First figure out how to reconcile and how to pay the debt or how to work things out before you go to jail. This is in the time in which this was written. This must be done before the judge decides. Keep it between the two parties.

If you are in a lawsuit, try to figure out a way to reconcile it before getting to court. A good lawyer knows that in front of a judge or a jury, it is a coin toss. Arbitration is a great time to be conciliatory when both parties are present. Both parties are being practical here. There attempt should be made to settle things.

Anger and mental attitude sins will keep this from coming to pass. Otherwise, you will be angry and you will simply want to nail their hide to the wall. The person not filled with mental attitude sins can initiate reconciliation.

However, not to worry, attorneys, there are plenty of people who are filled with bitterness and anger and will never settle. Mental murder goes with anguish and heartbreak. Arrogance always reacts with arrogance, vindictiveness and hatred. There is only one way to have true humility in this life: divine viewpoint in your life.

Luke 12:59 I tell you, you will never get out of there until you have paid the last cent."

You need to reconcile before it gets to the point of a judge making a decision.

Lesson #0282

Matt. 5:26–28 Life of Christ

6/17/2012 2Sunday

It's mediation and not arbitration. You make the application. In the context, it is prison until every last cent has been paid. During this time, it was quite easy to get into debt. In an agrarian economy, borrowing had to be done to get the seed or the workers; and the borrower could be prosecuted and put into prison. Or he could end up being put into indentured servitude.

What a great illustration of Jesus Christ buying us out of the slave market of sin. He is the only One Who can buy us out of prison. Only the perfect man can get us out. An agreement to discharge the debt before being dragged into court is to the debtor's best interest. This underlines the importance of reconciliation. There is not as much incentive to reconcile without prison being a possible outcome.

If you go to the altar of worship, but you have not been reconciled, then you are liable for divine discipline. 1Corinthians defined this.

No one gets themselves out of the debtor's prison of sin without Jesus Christ.

If you don't want to go to court, then you reconcile first. In the spiritual realm, do you really want to go to court against God when you are guilty of mental murder? Do you want the divine discipline involved with violating God's Law? If you do not want these things, then be reconciled with God. This is either through salvation or rebound.

The sin-debt can be settled with ease; faith in Christ, rebound, and spiritual advance.

Closing Principles on Mental Murder

1. Mental attitude sins toward others result in self-induced misery or divine discipline or both. The lawsuit is self-induced misery if you do not settle it out of court.
2. You can become your own worst enemy when you retain anger toward the other party.
3. You need to be certain that your suffering is not self-induced misery. You may be suffering due to a myriad of self-imposed sins. Vindictiveness, particularly, when going to court.
4. If you are in the midst of self-induced misery, you are locked into a prison of your own making. It is a box, a prison, a very small one.
5. The spiritual example; you are already reconciled to God by faith alone in Christ alone.
6. As a believer, you must keep short accounts with God. That is the reconciliation of the spiritual life.
7. Rebound so that you do not have to face the prison of reversionism and divine discipline. That is the worst prison for the believer in Jesus Christ. It is worse than the debtor's prison.
8. Remember, this illustration is all about God's grace as opposed to works righteousness.

Then we go to the commandment, You will not commit adultery.

Matthew 5:27 "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall not commit adultery.'

The pharisees all knew about this. Then Jesus clarifies matters. He expands the definition of adultery. Guilty or not guilty? The pharisees could keep the letter of the Law, which was to abstain from the act of physical adultery. However, this took violation of the Mosaic Law to a higher level; and they had committed this sin many times. These may have been religious leaders, but these are men. So this parallels the mental murder statute. Jesus is making certain that the disciples and the pharisees know that you cannot keep the Law perfectly. The mental sins count as much as the acts of sin. In their own souls, they know what they have done; we all know what we have done.

Mental adultery is something that everyone has done. Both men and women have committed this. You never catch a woman looking, but she does. Jesus Christ did not ever commit even mental adultery. People were able to keep the letter of the Law, as they define it. Jesus alone is the substitute for our sins.

Someone may not know that we are mentally murdering them, but when they hear us talk, it is obvious that we are.

The 7th commandment was designed to protect marriage and family. Marriage was defined by God for the satisfaction of mental and emotional needs of a man and a woman. There is plenty behind this word of adultery.

Matthew 5:28 But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman with lustful intent has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

We studied 1Cor. 7 before.

1Corinthians 7:1 About the things you wrote: "It is good for a man not to have relations with a woman."

Adultery is going outside of marriage; it is a temptation. One reason for adultery is the lack of a sex life between a husband and wife. Where there is a desert, people look for water and others will act as an oasis. However, that water is poison. It brings heartache, headache and divine discipline.

Men and Women in Marriage

1. In 1Cor. 7, Paul is speaking of men and women in marriage.
2. There should be physical attraction between a man and a woman before marriage. Don't get married without physical attraction. This will reduce the temptation to stray; otherwise, the temptation to stray is heightened.
3. Conversely, do not get married if there is only physical attraction. This is also a recipe for disaster. The divorce courts are filled with this problem.
4. There is a necessity for compatibility in every major area, physically, intellectually and spiritually.
5. Husband and wife have a conjugal responsibility to each other. It is a responsibility and for fidelity as well. This is why adultery occurs; the opposite does not. The man has authority over the woman's body, and vice versa. 1Cor. 7:4 the husband carries the authority in marriage; but authority and rank is left outside of the bedroom door. Self-centered love-making is precluded by v. 4. Sexual relations should never be one-sided.

1Corinthians 7:2 But because of sexual immorality, each man should have his own wife, and each woman should have her own husband.

1Corinthians 7:3 A husband should fulfill his marital duty to his wife, and likewise a wife to her husband.

1Corinthians 7:4 A wife does not have authority over her own body, but her husband does. Equally, a husband does not have authority over his own body, but his wife does.

Sexual relations should be repeated and often. Are we not mandated to pray without ceasing? That is devotion to prayer. There should be regularity in prayer. The same is true here of sex and marriage. There is a time for both and a time for not. This is to keep you from being tempted because of a lack of self-control. This refers back to πορνεία.

Clearly there is nothing wrong with passion in marriage as long as it is maintained in the marriage. This is to keep the husband or wife straying outside of marriage. Where there is that desert, there is a need for water.

1Corinthians 7:5 Do not deprive one another--except when you agree, for a time, to devote yourselves to prayer. Then come together again; otherwise, Satan may tempt you because of your lack of self-control.

1Corinthians 7:6 I say this as a concession, not as a command.

Some Closing Points

1. Don't stop having sex after the honeymoon or children.
2. Do not use sex as a weapon or tyrannically. Even if there is no divorce, the marriage is a failure. When sexuality is vibrant, the marriage in general is running well. Of course, this is a problem if that is the only area of compatibility or one partner lacks integrity.
3. Sex before marriage clouds real discovery. Playing house doesn't help either. The issue of integrity is equally obscured. You will never truly know.

Matthew 5:28 But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman with lustful intent has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

Jesus was not ignorant of such things; He just did not commit these sins.

Lesson #0283

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

6/20/2012 Wed

Sometimes we get bogged down in details. He gave the Mosaic Law; He was the burning bush. He is God and man in One Person. He is our Savior. This is the study of the One we worship.

There are some details here. The Sermon on the Mount has a lot of detail. We have an expanded view of several of the Ten Commandments. Jesus expanded the command of murder and He have expanded the concept of adultery.

Then we got into bearing false witness, and He does this to highlight the fact that our righteousnesses are not enough.

Everyone knows this commandment of, you will not commit adultery. This is broken with great regularity in our society. Our Lord expands on this definition and suggests that all pharisees were guilty of breaking this commandment. Adultery as a mental attitude even though most people do not think of adultery in this way. Jesus is making sure that the pharisees know that keeping the Law perfectly is absolutely impossible. Even the obvious aspects of the Law cannot be kept properly.

Matthew 5:27 "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall not commit adultery.'

A whole new can of worms is opened with this. President Carter admitted to having lust in his heart for other women. There is probably no one who is without this situation. This is straying outside of marriage and what it consists of. It is abstaining from the mental lust that leads to the physical act.

The man who looks on a woman to lust for her already has committed adultery with her. If even mental adultery is committed, then there is unfaithfulness in the soul. There is a thought process going on in the case of adultery just as there is with murder. It is premeditation. The thought process is, to God, the same as adultery.

This does not mean that you commit adultery by simply looking at a woman and appreciating her attractiveness. Women are lovely and they are certainly worth looking at. Why did God make them so attractive if we cannot look at them. Mental adultery is the consideration of unfaithfulness with the person you find attractive. This applies to men and women both.

Mental Adultery

1. Where there is a mental desire.
2. Where mental images are conjured.
3. Where these images are consistently contemplated and not checked.
4. Then according to this verse, adultery is being committed. There is just a matter of time at this point, as the right circumstances would lead you into adultery.
5. This is based upon a lustful contemplation of a member of the opposite sex.
6. A lustful gaze is more than a look at an attractive women; it is not the thought, that is an appealing woman. Very likely, you will admire such a woman. But that is not the lust that the Lord speaks of.
7. What is the mental attitude sin? It is a fierce lust; a sexual desire that developed from close scrutiny which might even consume the thinking. The man who never looks into a woman's eyes but everywhere else; or he undresses every woman that he meets. Or he spends time and money in the various men's clubs. "Just because I am on a diet doesn't mean I can't look at the menu" sort of thinking.

8. If you place yourself in a condition to be strongly tempted, entertain the idea and dwell on it. Give it strong consideration. Desire it to distraction. It intrudes on many aspects of your life including your spiritual life. That is the same as acting on the impulse. That is what goes on in the mentality of the soul.

This was problematic to the pharisees; they probably all did this. But that was the point. Even the most righteous among the pharisees could not keep that one. It is a warning from a departure from maintaining divine viewpoint regarding marriage. Mental adultery is the perverting of true love that leads to the action.

So much of the world actually thinks that love is mental adultery. Love is the actual act of sex itself. It is the opposite. The act is supposed to express love. Women fall in love in a chick flick because there is a physical attraction; and they fall in love forever after, and it's not true. Mental adultery today is all about wrong thinking. It is a consuming thought that settles in and the body is not far behind.

More Points on Adultery

1. Mental adultery is very closely connected to the act of physical adultery.
2. Mental adultery is performing the act in the mentality of the soul. Jesus was very aware of sin and He understood it perfectly. Jesus knew the nature of man. He never committed those sins, but He could talk as any expert could.
3. It is giving in to the idea of unfaithfulness. If you think in that direction, you are unfaithful, allowing the idea to come to fruition.
4. Both mental and physical adultery is also connected to neglect of physical attention in marriage. If you are involved in mental adultery, then you are not interested in your spouse. A healthy sex life between husband and wife is a deterrent to mental and physical adultery. When you are satisfied at home, you are less likely to stray, which is true for men and women. This is a picture of how we stray from our first love in the spiritual realm. We lose sight of doctrine and grace orientation and we begin to entertain thoughts of humanism or materialism or hedonism or whatever else it takes.

The pharisees understood adultery is an illicit sexual union.

Here Is What Jesus Did to this Thinking

1. Simply refraining from the physical act does not fulfill the true demands of the law to not commit adultery.
2. The Law demanded abstinence not just from the act but the lust.
3. The Law requires honorable thought just as much as honorable action.
4. It is always that way in the Christian life. How he thinks within himself, so he is. If you are committing mental adultery, you are an adulterer in your thinking.

5. Christ warns the one who thinks adultery is committing adultery and this violates the Mosaic Law. This really upset the pharisees.

More Points

1. Jesus is pointing out to the pharisees and to the disciples the fallacy of legalism.
2. A person can superficially keep aspects of the Law and yet is overflowing with mental attitude sins and lusts.
3. No one has kept the Law, including the pharisees.
4. No person with a sin nature can completely refrain from the type of lust spoken of here. We are all guilty of this male and female.
5. In the eyes of God, mental adultery is the same as the physical act. That puts a perspective upon us. All of our righteousnesses are as filthy garments.
6. So this illustration leaves out no one, including the pharisees.

Matthew 5:28 But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman with lustful intent has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

So what solution is there? What is the solution that Jesus offers? Remove the cause of the offense. Remove the mental attitude that precedes the act; but Jesus says to remove this in a way that is unforgettable. Jesus was able to grab the attention of his audience in a remarkable way.

Matthew 5:29 If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell.

It is better for you to rip out an eye or cut off a hand to keep from sinning. There have been those in the history of the church who have taken this very literally and removed the area of offense. Augustine was quite a libertine as a young man; so in order to stop this activity and to purify himself, he castrated himself, which lowered his libido. This is hyperbole. But Jesus is not demanding castration here.

How do we know not to take this literally? Logic will tell us this. The question to answer here is, can you remove your sin nature from your body. Cut off a man's hand and he can still lust. Mental adultery must be dealt with in the soul. That is the point and the context here. This is simply Jesus telling them to resist the sin nature.

Matthew 5:30 And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell.

There has got to be a reason. It simply means to deal with it; to stop it. But there has to be a reason why Jesus used this extreme choice. Why go to the physical if this is a mental problem? Next time.

Our culture has embraced relative standards where everything goes and anything is okay. This is quite obvious in how our society deals with sexuality. Gratuitous sex is everywhere. Any type of pornography imaginable on the internet. It is what our society wants. Sports heroes and rock stars have boasted of hundreds of encounters. There is also a pressure to conform to a sex, drugs, rock and roll lifestyle. There is ridicule for not indulging in what other kids are doing. In many respects, that is a way for people to feel better about their venal activities. People do not want to be reminded that they are doing evil; so everyone does it, and it is okay. So there is the pressure for everyone to lower their standards. Our society has systematically lowered its standards.

So adultery is a common occurrence and marriage is seen as boring. No matter how humanism views sexuality and marriage, there is only one true and correct viewpoint. God created sex just as He created marriage. He designed their sexuality between two people, and it was originally designed for recreation. God created it and made it perfectly. He provided the instructions for the boundaries and the blessings. So God provides divine viewpoint when it comes to sex and marriage.

The pharisees were self righteous about the Ten Commandments, and how they did not commit murder or adultery; and Jesus lays out what this really means. The pharisees looked for ways to get around the law; and Jesus suggests ways to make the law cast a wider net.

Jesus moves this from a physical act to a thought process. We are what we think. Proverbs tells us, as a man thinks, so he is. This mental adultery as much as physical adultery erodes intimacy between the husband and wife. It can be just as destructive as actual adultery. This also can destroy the divine institution of marriage and no client nation survives the destruction of God's divine institutions.

Jesus knew the depths of darkness in the soul of man better than anyone else, although He has not experienced it. He does not have to experience; He can look into our souls and see the depravity. What He says is absolute truth. Jesus understood that no person with a sin nature can completely refrain from sinning. No person can generate perfect righteousness by keeping the Law. There is no set of personal righteousness which gains the approval of God. No one can meet God's standards.

We have the spiritual life in order to control our sin nature. Then it would be pointless to even talk about this. Jesus speaks of these things because we have a way to deal with sins like this.

Matthew 5:27 "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall not commit adultery.'

Matthew 5:28 But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman with lustful intent has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

Matthew 5:29 If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell.

Jesus suggests that you tear out an eye or chop off a hand so that you are not guilty of these sins. The sin nature cannot be removed by gouging out an eye or chopping off a hand. Mental adultery has to be dealt with in the soul. Jesus uses this hyperbole to make a point.

Matthew 5:30 And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell.

“If you guys are guilty of mental adultery, then tear out an eye and cut off your hand.” There must be a reason for these extreme illustrations. The eye represents a trigger for mental adultery. The writer uses the Greek verb. Βλεπω which means to look. First you look and then you have the thought. So, Jesus is saying, you cut off the first, then the second will not occur. Men are overt in their staring; women are much more discrete.

Men will look at women with lust, but they will do this regardless. When a woman dresses provocatively, she plays a part in this whole thing. Such a woman is often called a tease. Women will wear such attire in order to get this kind of attention. God did give us eyes, but we are not to take this to the point of mental adultery.

Many women have found themselves in an extreme situation when they did not intend to tease men to the degree that they do. What matters is your attitude and how you use that power.

Look good but do it with the motivation free from the desire of eliciting an illicit response from men. When you flirt like crazy, men know what you are doing. And you will attract the man from v. 28. An appealing look does not mean dressing like a hooker in public. Good sense and good taste are necessary to strike the right balance. Look good and show a little decorum and balance. That is an art form.

This principle of lust holds true for those with an homosexual impulse as well. Even if homosexuality is a genetic propensity, it can be resisted just as it can be by a heterosexual.

Homosexuals and Lust

1. Neither the sins of adultery or homosexuality or any sex outside of marriage are inevitable. That is the argument of homosexuals. It is inevitable.
2. We always have choices whether to sin or not. This blows the homosexual argument right out of the water.
3. The sin nature tempts the volition decides whether to succumb or not.
4. Homosexuality is not some special case to be dealt with diversely.
5. Simply understood, the lust must be resisted and emphatically rejected. Tearing out the eye or cutting off the hand is just as valid for that sin as any other.

6. There is another reason to resist homosexuality; it is taught to be degeneracy and detrimental to the nation.

The concept of a right man and a right woman is another area of debate. Jesus answers this question right here. His stances against lustful thoughts stands against anything other than two people being married forever.

Multiple Partners

1. Multiple partners is self-centered and does not conform to 1Cor. 7.
2. This multiple partners; there is no reciprocity of love. Sex is not love.
3. This is just two people satisfying their own lusts.
4. This is harmful to the soul. This is an addendum to that; it hurts the soul. The world says that multiple partners is the way to go.
5. Cynical and hardened is how a person becomes when they have many partners. Sex is an expression of love. Love is first, commitment, and then sex. Multiple partners destroys the capacity. There is no such expression of love.
6. Under those circumstances, once married, self pleasure first means that their sex life isn't working. You bring it on yourself. It takes a lot of doctrine to remove that attitude. Capacity for love comes by means of Bible doctrine.

Monogamy does not have to be boring. Sex is designed for recreation and procreation; but within certain parameters. This approach is mocked and ridiculed by the world. Humanism is self-centered. If it feels good, do it. That is not what sex is about. Sex is at its peak between one man and one woman. That is ridiculous to the rest of the world.

Matthew 5:29 If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell.

Why the Right Eye?

1. So, why the right eye? For most people, the dominant eye is the right eye. You would use this eye to sight with using a gun.
2. The dominant eye refers to the greatest point of lust.
3. So the right eye depicts the dominant trend of this person's sin nature.

Matthew 5:30 And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell.

The same thing for right handedness. 70–95% of people are right-handed. Σκανδαλιζω what scandalizes you in adultery is the right hand or the right eye. Tearing out the eye is in the imperative mood. Forcefully cut off your hand. There are no loopholes. The violence to oneself is talking about the source of mental adultery, which is our thinking. God means us to remove the source of our mental adultery. The temptation from the lust pattern permeates the rest of the soul unless it is removed.

Seems to be a restless crowd today. Bobby is going to quash them. Mind your manners.

Jesus expands on the Mosaic Law, and it was given in concrete so to speak; irrevocable, immutable and unchangeable. Jesus repeated, You will not commit adultery; and then He extends the definition of that commandment.

Matthew 5:27 "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall not commit adultery.'

Mental adultery is just as destructive as the actual act?

So, why didn't Jesus expand on these things from the beginning? Why did He wait 1600 years to explain this? This laws were already expanded upon: Prov. 23:7a As a man thinks within himself, so he is. The physical act is not far behind the act of mental adultery. This is also true for singles as well. If sex is constantly on the man's mind and he is a player, it carries over. It is not over the moment he gets married. This is why you don't get involved with a player. Euphemistic for a person who likes to party a lot.

Some women cannot leave the bad boys alone. You get what you play for. This expanded meaning was always present in the Scripture. It begins in the mental attitude and comes down to the physical. Why did Jesus expand this particular part of the law right here and now? This was because of His opposition. They opposed His message and His Person. The top of this list were the religious leaders and pharisees. They did not like the grace that our Lord preached. They depended upon the righteousness that they exhibited by keeping the Law. Jesus is showing them that they are not righteous. Jesus is showing all the disciples just how wrong the pharisaical notion was. These were the guys who would have to make it clear. They would be writing incredible Scripture. They had to understand faith alone in Christ alone. They needed to understand that the righteousness of God comes by means of faith. This is true for all of us. That is true righteousness.

Jesus could have chosen any of the commandments and expanded; but He took this because it is obvious to everyone. Those who have never committed adultery mentally. Jesus is covering the waterfront for everyone there. The pharisees were not exempt and they knew it in their own souls. This made them mad. They were always mad about something. This mental murder fit the pharisees perfectly.

Religion is anti-grace and claiming that they have the favor of God because they do good things. These pharisees have no ground to stand on. Jesus is drawing a line in the sand between grace and legalism.

What is mental adultery? The Greek verb βλεπω which means to look; there is the result that there is this lust in his heart. This does not mean that a man looks at a woman and admires her; of thinks that her form is nice. Women can wear appealing clothing and jewelry and makeup. So, what is lust if it is not a look for two? It is a fierce sexual desire that accompanies mental images which are contemplated with some intensity.

Matthew 5:28 But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman with lustful intent has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

Jesus offers a radical solution: tear out your eyes and cut off your hand. Σκανδαλιζω what causes you to do this? The metaphorical hand or eye. There are two verbs that tell us what to do. Εξαιρεω = tear out [the eye]. Εκκαπτω = to cut off [your hand]. These are violent words. The source of mental adultery is the mind. This means to aggressively remove these things. You cannot tear the sin nature out. We are born with the sin nature; there is nothing that we can do without it. If that temptation is accepted, the lust, the sin will permeate the mentality of the soul. So the attitude of mental adultery must be removed. It is not the literal hand but what it illustrates. That is the metaphorical use. You have an eye and it generates something in your soul. But how do you remove that "eye." It is impossible, you may assert. This is not easy. Temptation will be often considered in your soul; everyday, all the time. That is what the sin nature does. No one can cut this sin nature out of you. The temptation will never be entirely removed. So adultery is always a possibility; even though it is prohibited. We understand many prohibitions and many laws; and that does not mean that we do not violate them. Jesus is telling the pharisees that they cannot keep the Law; that it will intrude on their souls.

If Jesus requires this, then God has provided a way by which we can obey. God does not mandate something without giving us there resources to obey Him. How, when this is such an overwhelming desire?

Resisting Temptation

1. Your strength to resist is Bible doctrine in your soul. Bible doctrine supercedes the insidious temptation.
2. The truth of God's Word overcomes the temptation to accept the cosmic system lies. That is the root of what we do. Lies like, if it feels good, do it. Bobby has heard that since college days. Indulge yourself; we only go around once in life.
3. One way to utilize God's truth as the temptation intrudes on your thinking is the faith-rest technique.
4. You must supercede one thought or temptation with another thought of divine viewpoint. You have a war going on here; divine viewpoint versus human viewpoint. In our society, it is very easy to set aside moral standards. If a lot of people are doing it, then it must be okay. Millions do this in our society, so it must be okay. However, as a believer in Jesus Christ, that intrudes on our thinking. Bobby knows the mental attitude that are out there; and he is a human being and a man as well. If our Lord spoke these words, then we need to understand them.

Matthew 5:29 If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell.

Matthew 5:30 And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell.

Lesson #0286 1Cor. 10:13 6:18–19 Matt. 5: Life of Christ 2/24/2012 2Sunday

1Cor. 10 on adultery. Bobby noticed us drifting. Mental adultery must cease in our souls; Jesus takes this rather seriously. He wants mental adultery to be resisted. The potential of physical adultery is therefore there. "I would never cheat" and thoughts of mental adultery tells us this.

Since the Lord mandated this, we must be able to do it. We can look at this as a promise coming directly from God. It is true. We have all been tempted; and all believers have faced temptation. There are believers who have defeated the very thing that we are dealing with here. God is faithful. Our Lord has sympathy for us. He does not succumb to temptation, but He understands it. Our spiritual life was pioneered for our spiritual life today. We have the same power and we can accomplish what our Lord accomplished. Jesus will not allow us to be tempted beyond what we are able. We can resist, using Bible doctrine. The way we replace mental lust is to overwhelm it with Bible doctrine in our souls.

Here, the temptation is not removed, but there is a way to escape with the temptation. Jesus has provided the sources to withstand anything. Temptation can be endured and defeated in our souls. So can mental adultery. So we now have a promise from God that we might resist temptation. We can focus on a doctrinal rationale. We can focus on part of a doctrine or a full doctrine. Escape is always to our best interest. We do not always think that resisting sin is to our best interest, the main one being, "I like it." Whatever mandate we don't like, it is probably our area of weakness. Escape is always to our best interest, even though it goes against our immediate desire. Our immediate desire is in front of us, tempting us. But also in front of us is the means of escape. Then we can think of an application from this promise. We have a promise, a rationale, and we have an application by which we can resist.

1Cor. 10:13 No temptation has taken you but such as man can bear. God is faithful, who will not allow you to be tempted above what you are able, but will with the temptation also make the way of escape, that you may be able to endure it.

We can resist. The mandate is to flee immorality. Move away; stay away. What we face is long-term destruction.

1Cor. 6:18 Flee sexual immorality! "Every sin that a man does is outside the body," but he who commits sexual immorality sins against his own body.

Here is what the problem is. Our bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit. In our garbage can of a body is indwelt by the Holy Spirit. The body is described as a temple because the Holy Spirit is within us. Your body is no longer your own. It is not your body. This is another rationale; and the mental adultery pollutes the temple of the Holy Spirit.

1Cor. 6:19 Or don't you know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit which is in you, which you have from God? You are not your own, 1Cor. 6:20 for you were bought with a price. Therefore glorify God in your body and in your spirit, which are God's.

Application of 1Cor. 6:18–20

1. Mental adultery as well as physical adultery is the opposite of this injunction. We have a means to combat it.
2. Mental adultery is the trigger that pollutes our body, the temple of the Holy Spirit.
3. We think of all sorts of things as addictive; drugs, sex, drinking. The things which we do that are sinful are addictive. They have a stranglehold on our souls. We live in persistent carnality when these things have a foothold in our soul. Addictions are that way.
4. Mental adultery blocks the very purpose that God has for you. Using your body to glorify God is our purpose; serving Him and not ourselves is what our lives are all about. Mental adultery is serving you and not serving God.
5. You must apply doctrine. God's Word always provides for us. In order to be able to apply a promise, we must know a promise. We must have doctrinal rationales in our souls.
6. When tempted to mental adultery, think the plan of God. There is a rationale. What is the will of God for me? What does He have for me? We already know that we are to glorify Him in our bodies. What is the future of us in His plan? We must realize that succumbing to the temptation sets us back in God's plan. Discipline is on the way. That is the thinking that overcomes the desire.
7. Mental adultery is a devastating sin to your soul.
8. The mental adultery that leads to the physical adultery is using one's body to glorify self, not to glorify God. It is living for the moment; it is not thinking of the future; don't ever think that God has a plan for you that supercedes this desire. Don't forget the plan of God for your future. If you want to cut it off, don't cut off your hand.
9. Your entire purpose during your lifetime is to glorify God in your body. This does not mean that you will lose out on fun and pleasure. This does not mean that there are things we will miss out on.
10. You are not here to engage in the self-serving pleasure of mental or physical adultery. This is not our purpose in life. With that rationale and application, we can defeat mental adultery. There are many other ways we can defeat adultery in our souls. This is just one rationale. Don't get depressed. You are not being deprived of personal pleasure. Your pleasure must remain within the parameters that God sets. Mental adultery is not a lasting pleasure. There is the fear of getting caught. You are a traitor to your husband or wife.

There is a whole chain of sins here. Failure in this area still occurs for believers; and it is dealt with using rebound. That is the first step. Consistency in rebound is what gets you back into fellowship regularly. These doctrinal rationales are not that meaningful. These are just words. They do not mean that much. Doctrine becomes more real than the temptation itself. We are not perfect; there are times that we are not. The sin of mental adultery does not just disappear with rebound. Lots of people have used rebound to make a sin go away; but it does not. The sin is forgiven, but the desire and the temptation are still remaining. You took care of what is behind, but not what is ahead. Believers sometimes conclude that rebound does not work, because they name the sin, but the temptation is still there. They want to do penance or feel sorry or confess the sin to others. All of this stuff has unintended consequences, none of which are a part of God's plan. Until you are grace oriented, you will try anything that doesn't work. Every time we rebound, we utilize His grace and we depend upon His grace. Our own works are self-centered and not grace oriented.

What about the future? There must be something else to deal with the future and with future temptations? With the next day and the next month and the next year. The sin nature remains. Rebound does not handle the temptation.

There Is the Isolation of Sin

1. The idea of isolation of sin is not to let the temptation of the sin nature gain and maintain a foothold in the soul. That is the general idea here.
2. If the mental attitude sin gains traction in the soul, it is much harder to resist. True of any sin of any problem particularly with your area of weakness.
3. It is likely that there will be a revolving door involving the area of weakness of the sin nature; in this case, mental adultery. When mental adultery is unchecked, this will become the overt act. The mental sin is equivalent to the physical sin. Rebound does not solve the future; it is the solution of the past. If you rebound and do nothing else, then you face the exact same problem again. When the sin is isolated, then the temptation to sin is much easier to handle.

How do you do it? This is where you use a basic technique, and right there we must continue doctrinal inculcation and its application and the power of the filling of the Holy Spirit, the Christian life is unliveable. So many believers are trying to live the Christian life but they do not have the basic rudimentary mechanics. They do not get past rebound, even if they know about rebound. This is where other Christians look at this Christian and the faith+ group pronounce him not a Christian. Faith alone in Christ alone secures eternal life. Regardless of what happens. Consistent carnality can take over. You have salvation and you have rebound and you have Bible doctrine and you have the grace apparatus for perception. In these sources you have the solution.

You must understand some basic Christian techniques. Bobby gives us a homework assignment to read the book.

1Cor. 10:14 Therefore, my beloved, flee from idolatry.

Matthew 5:29 If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell.

Matthew 5:30 And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell.

This should be the last evening for adultery. Remedies for mental adultery, which is Jesus Christ expanded version of the concept of adultery.

These verses are hyperbola; this is not calling to us to rip out one eye or to cut off one hand; but these are apropos images. The temptation of the sin nature and the positive volition in the soul of the believer to that temptation is both the source and the performance of the mental attitude sin. Ripping out the eye or cutting off the hand does not remove the sin nature. No body part removal will fix the sin nature or the temptation of the sin nature. However a removal is necessary to resist mental adultery.

The Question Is, How Do You Remove So That You Do Not Succumb to Mental Attitude Sins.

1. The truth of God's Word and the filling of the Holy Spirit overcome the power of the sin nature. Old sin nature versus the Holy Spirit.
2. The truth of God's Word and the filling of the Holy Spirit are the supernatural resources to resist your area of weakness. The areas of strength and weakness both provide opportunities to sin.
3. Mental adultery is defeated when doctrine and mandates become more real to the soul. There must be doctrine involved to remove the temptation of the sin nature.

That requires some spiritual techniques. The first technique is rebound. That is necessary to deal with the sins you have committed. Using rebound is the divine help to remember and apply the doctrine that is in your soul. That is the key to solving the problem of mental attitude sins. They come on you so quickly. You can be driving a car and get angry or walk by a beautiful woman and there you go. There must be some kind of a counter. This does not solve the problem of the sin nature. This does not solve the problem 30 seconds after you rebound. It does not solve your future temptations; only your past temptations. So rebound does not solve those temptations. Rebound again handles what you have done. Something else is required other than rebound. When you continually rebound, it is just a revolving door; nothing is every solved.

The key is isolation of sin. The temptation must be kept separate from the urge to succumb to the temptation. The idea of the isolation of sin is not to let the sin nature gain a foothold in the soul. If the mental attitude sin gains traction in the soul, it is much harder to resist. That is not the device to deal with the future. Mental attitude sins and mental adultery is addictive if consistently entertained; that is the problem that must be dealt with. If that's the case, there will be a revolving door in your life. That does not mean that rebound cannot be done consistently. How many people have used rebound in this way, see it as pointless, and go off to some other gimmick. Rebound is critical, but it is not the end game. There must come a time when acceptance of mental attitude sins diminishes. You must break that endless cycle. If you do not break the cycle, you will find your spiritual life trumped by your sin nature. That is a lose, lose proposition in your life. Even after you rebound, the whole mental sin process can continue and even escalate. That is why you need this technique, to isolate sin after rebound. When you use this technique, the temptation to sin carries much less power over you and it slowly diminishes. We all dislike adversity; but it is not optional. There are times when adversity is the best thing for us. Adversity can advance you in the Christian life much more than prosperity can. Some people see no need for spiritual advance when you are prosperous. God does everything for us for our advantage. This is true for adversity or prosperity. Isolation of sin is not an instantaneous solution; it is not a matter of, "I won't sin again, I won't sin again." Isolation of sin is a spiritual procedure that coincides with spiritual growth. It becomes more and more effective and you grow more and more.

Briefly, the principle of isolation of sin; instead of getting your eyes on the object of temptation; and continuing to lust or whatever, and quickly move out of fellowship, the temptation must be deflected and mastered before it becomes consistent and prurient desire. Any mental attitude sin can be substituted in here. You must utilize certain assets which are provided by God which attack the problem at its core. That core is your soul. That is where this battle takes place. It is the removal from your soul. This is all a part of moving into spiritual maturity. This is a real association for us. If we want to stay in mental attitude sins, then don't grow; go your own way. This must gain traction in your life, or you have no spiritual life. This takes time; this is a progression and applied to your life as you grow. They are completely intertwined.

It is a proven fact of countless believers who have gone down this road. There used to be testimonies on Berachah Church. They love to stand up and talk about themselves and talk about getting to that point. The problem is, someone got a microphone and they were off and running; you could not get them off the microphone.

In the secular world, they talk about anger management. There is nothing that is as effective as spiritual growth. Nothing can equal spiritual growth; it works but it takes time. If you regress, don't be discouraged. It takes time to master the techniques from spiritual growth. Those who never reach the progression, who never begin this progression, are those who fail to understand and utilize the spiritual life. An endless cycle of mental adultery and discipline and occasionally rebounding without spiritual advance, then you are running in place. You begin to even ignore Bible doctrine and regress. Some people leave Berachah Church with the idea that doctrine does not work, and it is quite sad, because it does. It takes consistency and endurance. One of the basics for isolating sin is the faith rest drill. The faith rest drill is a technique that is important to master. It is a surefire way to deal with mental attitude sins and to use the promises of God's Word. You mix the promises of God's Word with faith. The battleground is your soul. The sin nature tempts you. What is in your soul is what matters. What you think is what you are.

Bob use to call people Christian losers and it made some people so mad. This technique overwhelms and drives out the mental attitude sins which so easily consume us.

An example of how to use the faith rest drill with mental attitude sins.

Psalm 119:11 I have hidden your word in my heart, That I might not sin against you.

Isolation of Sin and Reduction of Temptation

1. David knew adversity and he knew how to handle it. What is the solution to mental attitude sins? God's truth in our souls. This is just too easy. It take consistent hearing, understanding and believing Bible doctrine. That is not always easy to be consistent.
2. Where there is rebound and doctrine being applied, the temptations which intrude in the soul are forced out. There is no room left for these things.
3. The sin is rejected and effectively isolated from our soul. That is where the battle is fought. It is not the angel and demon on your shoulders whispering into your ears.
4. You continue to utilize the faith rest drill, so that God, through His Word, provides relief. It is there and it will always be there. God provides relief with the doctrine in your soul.
5. Your thinking is stabilized; your emotions are brought under control. That is a revelation; your emotions do not go berserk when there are problems. You now see what is possible with the spiritual life.
6. Your renovated thinking, that spiritual growth, the mind of Christ working in you, redirects from the sin problem to the spiritual solution.
7. Bible doctrine and glorifying God becomes more important than satisfying the temptations of the soul.
8. You become more objective with doctrine. When you can look at Bible doctrine and are able to do that, then you will not wallow in the temptations of mental attitude sins. Your eyes on the Lord become more important than mental attitude sins in your soul.
9. Now your recognize something; the repercussions of mental adultery or mental attitude sins. That is when doctrine kicks in. If the temptation reemerges, then you stop and regroup.
10. The self-centeredness and arrogance which is central to mental attitude sins is systematically removed from the spiritual life. In maturity, you realize the destruction that occurs, e.g., when mental adultery is entertained; or mental attitude sins are entertained. The dishonor it all brings. Objectivity allows you to look a little further down the line than the momentary explosion of whatever it is. You recognize if A then B and C is the result. With doctrine you can recognize this. Usually when mental attitude sins are involved, you see nothing but that which is in front of your nose. You are able to increasingly apply the doctrines as your grow. The more you see your spiritual life work, the more you rely on it. Success breeds success in all areas of life. When your life in doctrine is successful, then you want more. You are hitting on all cylinders when that occurs.

11. The recognition and isolation of sin comes from the doctrine you know. Recall the doctrine from Psalm 119:11. There are other promises and doctrinal rationale that you can use as well. This is where life gets great. You are no longer encumbered with these other problems. Your eyes are on the solution and not on the problem. The solution is the doctrine that works for you on a moment-by-moment basis.

You can use the plan of God rationale. With doctrine in your soul, you know that God has a plan for your life and it does not include the distraction, confusion or misery of mental attitude sins.

Final 6 Points

1. The plan of God in this rationale becomes more real to us than our nefarious lusts or mental attitude sins.
2. You draw a conclusion from a doctrinal rationale that deters the mental adultery and keeps you on the path of spiritual maturity. You utilize the doctrine; the doctrine is more real than your problem. You continue to grow. It is the way that God designed for us to live.
3. Mental attitude sins are the basis for all sins. It begins in the mind, transfers to the mouth, and then there are actions.
4. Faith rest brings doctrine alive. This becomes real; alive in your soul. You find courage and strength from its truth. The rest of the world lives with relative truth. They grope in the dark with relative solutions. At best, they trip over solutions in the dark.
5. The more mature you are, the more that you resist the temptations of the sin nature. It is the law of diminishing returns. The more you grow, the less you sin; the less you grow, the more time you spend in carnality.
6. This is what the Lord means by saying to tear out the eye and to chop off the hand. That is the technique and reason for it.

Matthew 5:29 If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell.

Matthew 5:30 And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell.

Lesson #0288

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

6/28/2012 Thurs

Supreme Court decision on Obamacare today. Bobby mentions that we might be depressed today at what occurred in the Supreme Court. We had high hopes that they would solve some of the nation's problems, that they might slow our headlong race into socialism; and that they might allow states to defend their own land. A terrible week for the United States, but there is this problem in putting your trust in man. Cursed is the man who puts his trust in man and continues to make flesh his strength, and whose heart turns away from the Lord. When you depend upon man, you automatically turn away from God; when you turn toward God, then you turn away from man. Today's lesson, in whom do you place your trust. The faith rest drill should have come into our minds today and played a part in our thinking. God still has a greater plan and a plan for us, no matter what the government plan is. No matter what the branches of our government do. So, Bobby tells us to relax. Our life does not revolve around 9 justices or around the goofy laws made in Congress. It is very easy to lose sight and to not recall from where our strength comes. We are seeing the weakness and stupidity of man.

We have been studying mental murder and mental adultery. Man without God. We have pharisees and we have pharisees.

These two verses end in the same way.

What about the Whole Body Being Thrown into Hell?

1. All degrees of adultery, mental or physical, are sinful and punishable.
2. Christ is not saying that adultery of any type is what condemns to hell.
3. We already understand the only way to hell is rejection to Christ. The key then to the meaning of these phrases is in the context. Our Lord is giving warning to the pharisees as He teaches the disciplines about legalism. He is asking the pharisees if they are righteous enough. This is the key to hell. The pharisees are on their way to hell. They reject true righteousness; and depend upon their own righteousness. They have not resisted sin to the point of cutting off a hand or gouging out an eye. If they have not gone that far, then they are not righteous enough.
4. The pharisees must possess the righteousness of God, or they are not good enough. It is not the adultery or any sin that sends us to hell. However, churches will tell us that if we are involved in various types of sin, then we are on our way to hell.

Jesus Christ has shown that human righteousness and legalism is ineffective for sin.

Matthew 5:29 If your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body be thrown into hell.

Matthew 5:30 And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. For it is better that you lose one of your members than that your whole body go into hell.

Jesus now turns toward divorce, which is connected to adultery.

Matthew 5:32 But I say to you that everyone who divorces his wife, except on the ground of sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

A word used here is πορνεία means

This time Jesus quotes from a portion of the Law, but not the Ten Commandments. The pharisees have written hundreds of regulations about this one topic. This is just like our own government.

Deut. 24:1–2 When a man takes a wife, and marries her, then it shall be, if she find no favor in his eyes, because he has found some unseemly thing in her, that he shall write her a bill of divorce, and give it in her hand, and send her out of his house. When she is departed out of his house, she may go and be another man's wife.

According to the Mosaic Law, there was a chance to divorce, but these reasons were limited and there were consequences as well. This law was given by God to regulate the practice of divorce within divinely defined parameters. Divorce can be legal and legitimate under specific conditions.

Divorce was widespread in the ancient near east. Israel was also very loose about divorce. At that time, a man could divorce his wife for nearly every cause. Women bore the brunt of a frivolous divorce. The man is the one divorcing the woman. The woman really had nowhere else to do. There were very few options for such women. So the Mosaic Law had to place restrictions on all of this.

The Mosaic Law and Women

1. The Mosaic Law protected women, which was quite unusual. It protected their well-being.
2. The Mosaic Law protected them against the whim of an angry or lusty husband.
3. The law protected the sanctify of marriage as a divine institution. God married the first members of the human family. Mal 2:16 For I hate divorce," says Yahweh, the God of Israel, "and him who covers his garment with violence!" says Yahweh of Hosts. "Therefore take heed to your spirit, that you don't deal treacherously." Hate, when used of God, is an anthropopathism.

God and Divorce.

1. Hatred in Mal. 2:16 expresses divine policy toward divorce. This means that God opposes divorce. It is not a good thing when it says that God hates divorce.
2. God opposes divorce for several reasons. It is destructive to marriage and to family. When they break down, society breaks down.
3. Marriage was the divinely ordained status for one man and one woman and the environment for raising children. When divorce is rampant, children are the ones who lose out. Divorce harms children terribly.
4. Indifference to marriage vows and duties are the actions of a traitor. It is His divine policy to oppose it. It is obvious that the legitimate reasons are divorce. The husband could break the marriage contract with some uncleanness in her. The pharisees abused this particular law wildly. They gave it a very wide interpretation.

This applications allowed divorce for almost anything. This would turn out their wives to menial things and even to prostitution.

The true definition of indecency was not compatible with the pharisaical interpretations of that word. Adultery and immorality is a legitimate reason for divorce for both men and women. It does not go into the same elaborate detail as the pharisees did.

Why were only men addressed in Deut. 24? Couldn't women divorce for the same reasons? Yes, she could. In the ancient world, women did not normally file for divorce as their status of life would change drastically.

In the home, the man was the leader by divine design. The woman was under his authority in the home. However, she was the glue and the mainstay of her household. Her position was never insignificant. She was protected by the Mosaic Law like no one else in the ancient world. The Mosaic Law did not discriminate against women. Divorce for a woman was dangerous in practice. Her role as responder was conducive to man's leadership. Marriage was protection for the woman. Could she legitimately do it under the Law? By and large, women remained married, if they could.

These divine roles have not changed, no matter what the culture says. Feminism wants us to think otherwise.

Deut. 24:1–2 When a man takes a wife, and marries her, then it shall be, if she find no favor in his eyes, because he has found some unseemly thing in her, that he shall write her a bill of divorce, and give it in her hand, and send her out of his house. When she is departed out of his house, she may go and be another man's wife.

It is reasonable to assume that this includes adultery. However, adultery was punishable by death, as we find in Deut. 22. Adultery is a legitimate reason for divorce. This is a lose-lose situation in the eyes of God. Divorce is not officially necessary when the offending spouse is executed for adultery. The stoning takes care of the adulteress. The punishment for adultery was rarely imposed. Often, this punishment was not carried out.

Divorce was carried out as a permanent severance of that partnership.

Why Can We Divorce

1. The Lord elaborated on adultery in Matt. 5, indecency from Deut. 24 could include adultery and other sins.
2. Indecency does not have to mean adultery. It has other applications.
3. There could have been other meanings to this term.
4. That is where this problem arose.
5. The pharisees begin to interpret indecency in a number of ways. Divorce, even in the case of adultery, is not an absolute. This does not mean, adultery, then you divorce. It is legitimate, but not necessarily necessary. In divorce, a family is destroyed and that affects the children. That also breaks a vow. When you swear before God. You are swearing an oath that you will carry out your word.

If at all possible, reconciliation instead of divorce is preferred. Rebound is not a license for sin; it allows you to move on.

As believers, we know how God feels about divorce; we chose to get married, and we must do everything to not let a divorce happen. Today, a divorce seems to be a cure-all for every problem in society. Everyone is doing it too, so the repercussions are there for everyone. It tears people apart, no matter how much you want to get out of it.

If you are single, do not marry lightly. 2 years minimum of knowing one another. After 6 months, you are rolling the dice. Once you are in it, take responsibility for it. Now you know what God thinks about it; what He expects of you.

Matthew 5:32 But I say to you that everyone who divorces his wife, except on the ground of sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

Lesson #0289 Matt. 5:31–32 Deut. 24:1 Life of Christ 7/1/2012 1Sunday

Our laws from the constitution are all about freedom. We are not perfect, but the document that reflects the laws that we live under is one of the greatest experiments in liberty that this world has ever known (quote from a founding father). It was designed to limited government over our life; and it is being interpreted more and more to limit individual freedom.

Bobby finds it a great tragedy that our nation is on the road to a larger and more powerful government. It is developing a greater and greater role in every decision in our life. What is interesting is, the passage that Bobby studied, there is a great parallel to what the pharisees were doing in the time of Christ.

There were civil statutes, a freedom code, etc. which was a part of the history of Israel and it was their law during the time that they were a client nation. During the time of the Lord Jesus Christ, the pharisees, who were the scholars of the Law, who interpreted the statutes of the Law, but they treated the Law as if it were their own domain to interpret in any way that they saw fit. Very similar to our own regulatory stranglehold today. When the regulations exceed the extent of the Law, we see the distortion of the Law. There were so many regulations added by the pharisees.

The pharisees took this verse and ran for it. They began to take the word indecent and went crazy with it. Just like the founders wrote one set of words, but this has been wildly misinterpreted, the same thing was done here.

These words of Moses was designed to prohibit frivolous divorce. When the fabric of marriage is destroyed, so is the nation destroyed. This destroys the upbringing of the children. This verse was being expanded and distorted to allow almost anything for a divorce.

We have laws in our country being written for a tiny percentage of people, and this has engulfed us with laws.

The pharisees had a scam; they imposed whatever regulations upon that society and call it legal. The Lord understood what the pharisees were doing.

Deut. 24:1 "When a man takes a wife and marries her, if then she finds no favor in his eyes because he has found some indecency in her, and he writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out of his house, and she departs out of his house,

Deut. 24:2 and if she goes and becomes another man's wife,

Deut. 24:3 and the latter man hates her and writes her a certificate of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her out of his house, or if the latter man dies, who took her to be his wife,

Deut. 24:4 then her former husband, who sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife, after she has been defiled, for that is an abomination before the LORD. And you shall not bring sin upon the land that the LORD your God is giving you for an inheritance.

Jesus does something different here. He narrows a definition of divorce; whereas, before, He widen the definitions for murder and adultery.

Jesus affirms the validity of the divorce law, as it is part of the Mosaic Law. However, this is applicable over limited conditions. The only cause for divorce is unchastity, and the word is πορνεία. Jesus limits the interpretation of Deut. 24:1.

Matthew 5:31 "It was also said, 'Whoever divorces his wife, let him give her a certificate of divorce.'

Jesus narrows down what is legal under the Law. Why would He do that? This is how He countered the many distortions of this verse. Over many centuries, they distorted this part of the Law. "All of your oppressive and wild regulations are illegal." The pharisees took the verse from Deuteronomy and took it to a point where marriage no longer has any meaning.

Indecency comes two Hebrew nouns in Deut. 24:1: dâbâr (דָּבָר) [pronounced daw^b-VAWR], which means word, saying, doctrine, thing, matter, command. It occurs well over 1300 times in the Old Testament and its verbal cognate occurs over a thousand times; five times just in this chapter). This should indicate that we probably have a reasonable idea as to what this word really is; and we do; it means word, saying, doctrine, command. It is something which proceeds from the mouth and the context determines its exact parameters. Its primary meaning is what is said; this can be extrapolated to refer to the content of what is said, and hence the translation things, matters, reports. Strong's #1697

(or #1696) BDB #182. The other word is 'er^ewâh (הַוְּוָה) [pronounced ger-VAWH], which means nakedness; lewdness, indecency. It is found twice (Deut. 23:14 24:1) with dâbâr (דָּבָר)[pronounced daw-BAWR], which means word, saying, doctrine, command. Together, BDB guesses that they mean indecency, improper behavior (see Gen. 9:22–23 42:9 Ex. 20:26 Lev. 18:6); in any case, we cannot tie down a precise meaning for these two words together. It is something which proceeds from the mouth and the context determines its exact parameters. Perhaps this is a way of saying, he has found in her some nakedness—of whatever. This would give it a broad interpretation (lack of this phrase elsewhere does not allow us to narrow its meaning down anymore). However this would work just as well in Deut. 23:14. Strong's #6172 BDB #788.

The certificate was important; this document was designed to protect the woman under the Law. Otherwise, she would have been ostracized as a runaway or as a pariah of society. She might not be able to do anything but servile works or even function as a prostitute.

During the time to write this certificate, there was a cooling off period, very similar to what we have today. This was to protect people from divorcing for frivolous reasons. Our Lord certainly knew exactly what it meant, as this is our Lord's Law.

The pharisees distorted this verse into a myriad of ways to divorce a woman. A woman could be divorced for bad cooking or for some bodily ailment; mere dislike was a sufficient cause; if a man saw a woman who was prettier than his wife, he could leave the first for the second. These men gave themselves a great deal of latitude here. The pharisees turned to the laws of uncleanness in order to define indecency. There were all sorts of ceremonial situations of uncleanness. So, pretty much, they found any place where uncleanness was found, and these ceremonial unclean nesses were used. A woman could enter a home where someone had died, and that was ceremonial uncleanness. Divorce became available to the man at the drop of a hat. The man could divorce a woman for any reason. They could always find a reason.

It is as if He is standing before the Supreme Court and argue for the correct interpretation. He is teaching how evil religion and legalism are. He is showing just how evil it is when great law is intentionally misinterpreted.

Legitimate divorce is based upon sexual immorality. They distorted the Law so that they could utilize the Law for their own purposes. They did this for their own best interests. Legalism is always this way.

Matthew 5:32 But I say to you that everyone who divorces his wife, except on the ground of sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

On the 4th of July, we should realize that we could lose our freedom. Don't be discouraged; God is still on His throne. We are the key; us and our spiritual life.

The pharisees used the Law to their own benefit. The indecency was with the pharisees and not with the women who were being divorced. They blamed all of the problems on their wives; and that made them indecent. Not the wives, but the pharisees.

Matthew 5:31 "It was also said, 'Whoever divorces his wife, let him give her a certificate of divorce.'

When the husband divorces her woman apart from adultery, he makes her commit adultery. How could he be divorcing his wife, who did not commit adultery, and, by divorcing her, make her commit adultery. This is an intricate, legal argument that is being offered to legalistic scholars.

Matthew 5:32 But I say to you that everyone who divorces his wife, except on the ground of sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

What our Lord is doing is, He is going to nail these pharisees.

Jesus Will Make this Case:

1. The first legitimate reason for divorce is adultery. That is a legitimate reason (and indecency, although we do not know what that means). Our Lord did not decide to deal with this here. If a man divorces a woman because she commits adultery, she is an adulteress in the eyes of the Law.
2. If he divorces her for any other reason, he has still tagged her with adultery.
3. Adultery is the only legitimately named reason for divorce; that is clear.
4. In essence, the wife has been made an adulteress post-divorce, even though she has not committed the physical act of adultery. She becomes an adulteress even though she did not commit adultery. It is not fair.
5. Anytime a man divorces a woman, legally, she was an adulteress. That was the only reason for legal divorce. Under the law, she was an adulteress, even though she had not committed adultery.

The pharisees were divorcing their wives for illegitimate reasons and putting the blame upon their wives. Husband and wives blame one another for all of the problems of the marriage. They failed to take responsibility for their own decisions. If a woman was divorced, she was in very deep trouble, thought of as an adulteress even though she was not an adulteress.

The Bottom Line

1. If a man divorces his wife for any reason other than adultery, he is not only wrong before the Law and God, but he is making her guilty of adultery.
2. She becomes an adulteress, even though she does not commit the physical act of adultery.

3. She is the innocent party in the divorce case; but she becomes implicated before the Law by her husband. She is implicated with a lack of integrity.
4. What is our Lord doing here. This was a divorce scam for everyone involved.
5. Innocent parties are implicated because of the pharisees' actions. There was an impact far beyond personal impact.
6. This is what the self righteous legalistic pharisees were doing in divorce.
7. So our Lord shows with injustice, it is injustice; which shows us how far they are from real justice.

This is continued to this: ...and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery. The adultery is continued. The new husband becomes an adulterer before the Law. She is not truly divorced, making both of them adulterers. Everyone involved is violating the Law who is connected to these cases.

This is what Adam did to the entire human race. He sinned and we all sinned in Adam. Jesus went all the way back to Adam for precedent here. The divorce case is a perfect illustration. We received God's condemnation, as this begins with Adam and falls upon us, just as adultery fell upon the divorced wife and her new husband. The pharisees are just like Adam in their laws.

The Pharisee and the Unrighteous Application of Divorce Laws

1. Jesus is refuting the pharisees and their legalism.
2. He is revealing the depths of the violations of the Law, of which the pharisees were the leading law-breakers. Like our Congressmen and Senators, who write laws and exempt themselves from those laws.
3. Christ has confirmed that the marriage bonds are sacred before God. Jesus will then take this into taking vows as well.
4. The bonds of marriage are being treated as less than sacred by many others.
5. Israel, as a whole, is being affected by her religious leaders. This is the same way that we are affected by Adam. We did not commit his sin, but we are dead because of it. Our lives are totally affected by the legislation coming out of Washington D.C., whether it is anti-freedom or not.
6. The pharisees are making up unlawful reasons for divorce.
7. Jesus Christ includes the new husband of the divorced woman along with the wife as adulterers. He does this to demonstrate the crucial sanctity of the marriage bond.

Matthew 5:32 But I say to you that everyone who divorces his wife, except on the ground of sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

Adultery and the Law

1. Unless there is true adultery, the first husband and his wife are not divorced in the eyes of the Law. This must fall within the parameters of the Law. They are still married before the Law.
2. The man and the woman are not free to be remarried. The sanctity and bond of marriage is being taken far too lightly. You do not go into marriage thinking, I will just divorce if it does not work out. What kind of integrity do we have if we just walk away from a marriage. We use unreconcilable differences here, just as the pharisees allowed divorce for any reason.
3. If in the status of not a legal divorce, the wife remarries and has sex, which is normal, it is tantamount to adultery because it is outside the bonds of her still-existing marriage. There were repercussions on the divorced woman and her new husband.
4. The new husband with whom she has relations, is also an adulterer. The Mosaic Law covers both civil and spiritual statutes.
5. The original marriage contract is not dissolved on the legal grounds of legal adultery.
6. The new husband and wife are outside the legal bonds of marriage. This is the Biblical tradition of marriage. Jesus is driving home the hypocrisy of the pharisees.

We see perfectly how we can claim to be such righteous people and to truly be hypocrites and unrighteous. We are all guilty in one way or another. It may not be divorce.

God has provided us the resources to deal with all of our hypocrisy and failures. We can rebound and put it all behind us, and isolate our sins, and keep moving. We are righteous because of Him and not because of our own righteousness.

Lesson #0291

Matt. 5:32 Life of Christ

7/5/2012 Thurs

Jesus is defining the difference between the Law and legalism. Jesus understands, as He dictated the Law to Moses. In previous two examples, He expanded murder and adultery. However, this time, He will narrow an interpretation.

He quotes Deut. 24:1 and he focuses on one particular term; indecency. The pharisees have broadened the scope of indecency to encompass nearly anything to allow for a man to divorce a woman for bad looking, bad health, dislike, bad cooking, etc.

Matthew 5:31 "It was also said, 'Whoever divorces his wife, let him give her a certificate of divorce.'

This introduces the fact of divorce. If you are going to do this, give the woman a legal document.

Deu 24:1 "If a man marries a woman, but she becomes displeasing to him because he finds something improper about her, he may write her a divorce certificate, hand it to her, and send her away from his house.

There are two words that define indecency that Jesus uses. When a man divorces a woman for any other reason the immorality, he makes her commit adultery.

Matthew 5:32 But I say to you that everyone who divorces his wife, except on the ground of sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

How a Man Makes His Wife an Adulteress

1. If a man divorces a woman for any reason except adultery, he has branded her with adultery. She wears the scarlet letter, as it were, but it is assigned to her because of the divorce.
2. Jesus pronounces her adulterous by proxy, merely because she had been divorced.
3. The man who divorces, not only by the law but also before God, he is wrong. He is making his ex-wife guilty of adultery.
4. She is the innocent party in the divorce case, but she becomes implicated before the Law by her husband.

As unfair as this seems, Jesus is presenting a theological parallel.

The Parallel to Us and Adam's Original Sin

1. This is what happened to all mankind at the fall.
2. Adam did the same thing to the entire human race, as the man who divorced his wife for no reason or for a trumped up reason. His one act of disobedience to God's one mandate. Death spread to all men, because all sinned when Adam sinned.
3. We are all implicated in Adam's original sin.
4. We did not physically commit this act of disobedience; we were not there. But we are, nevertheless, unrighteous. We are, in effect, adulterers because Adam is an adulterer.
5. Why is this the case? All humanity was seminally in Adam when he sinned. He is the father of the human race and the old sin nature is passed down to us genetically; not one of us is
6. We receive the imputation of Adam's original sin; we are tagged with his guilt.
7. We are dead from birth.
8. This is the same case that our Lord presents of the divorced woman; built by association.

This is Jesus presenting a divorce case. We are lost because of that rotten Adam; but we were all in Adam when Adam sinned. In Adam all die.

However, no one is guilty who believes in Jesus Christ. He was judged, so that we don't have to be. We are all divorced from God.

Jesus is showing just how far away these pharisees are from justice. Everyone else associated with the original sin of divorce is implicated by the Lord Jesus Christ. So far, Jesus has extended this guilt to the woman.

He Applies this to the Man Who Marries this Woman

1. If a man not connected at all with the divorce or with the judicial declaration of the woman
2. This man too is an adulterer, and he is even further connected.
3. He is legally tainted by the original sin of the first husband.
4. So he becomes just as guilty.

How far are we removed? A long, long ways. But we still stand guilty, no matter how far removed from Adam's original sin.

The pharisees are the legal experts of the Mosaic Law, and yet, they violate the Law more than anyone else. Jesus is building a very intricate legal argument against these great legal minds; they have found incredible loopholes so that they can do whatever they want. There is only one reason for divorce; adultery. There are no loopholes here. He is destroying their legal arguments concerning divorce. This includes His disciples who are listening to Him on that mountain top.

The Case Jesus Is Building to Expose the Pharisees and Their Legalism?

1. Jesus is not defining the full force of the term indecency. He quoted this verse, but He has not defined it. He has simply limited this noun.
- 2.
3. Jesus insists that the law was pointing toward the sanctity of marriage, except in the case of adultery.
4. Jesus is connecting to divorce with mental murder and mental adultery.
5. A man who divorces his wife for trivial reasons certainly has mental attitude sins directed toward her. He hates her or he is self-indulgent and arrogant. Why is this nag around me? I cannot stand her; I will get rid of her. Mental murder is connected to a frivolous divorce.
6. The pharisees in these divorces first commit mental murder. This explains to them how they are.
7. Jesus adds a chain of sins. He is building a chain of evidence here. Jesus convicts someone on a chain of evidence. His justice is perfect. He always got His man or woman.
8. Mental murder leads to mental adultery.
9. Just the fact that a man would divorce his wife to marry someone else means that he has already committed mental adultery. That is the lust of the eyes.

10. Frivolous divorce is also wrong because it generates adultery by proxy. In the divorced wife and in her new husband.

This is one airtight, fantastic case, to reveal the pharisees for just exactly what they are. This is chain sinning and all of their scams. They use the Law to justify their sins.

What Are These Chains?

1. The trail of evidence goes from mental homicide to mental adultery to illegal divorce. And we know that these things are. This is a chain of evidence against these pharisees.
2. Mental murder is a motivation for illegitimate divorce.
3. Illegitimate divorce is the moral equivalent to adultery. This is demonstrated in the case of the new wife marrying the new husband. There is a logical progression here.
 - a. Mental attitude sins correlate with adultery.
 - b. Anger and hatred toward a wife could easily lead to adultery. The pharisees know this.
 - c. Then both sins are brought together in the divorce case. All 3 are in a tight circle.
 - d. Jesus does this to show how the Law points to Jesus Christ and to His righteousness rather than to the phony hypocritical keeping of the Law by the pharisees.

Matthew 5:32 But I say to you that everyone who divorces his wife, except on the ground of sexual immorality, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

If we have not done any of the above, then we can relate to purgery. .

Then Jesus speaks about the double-talking pharisees.

Matthew 5:33–37 "Again you have heard that it was said to those of old, 'You shall not swear falsely, but shall perform to the Lord what you have sworn.' But I say to you, Do not take an oath at all, either by heaven, for it is the throne of God, or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. And do not take an oath by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black. Let what you say be simply 'Yes' or 'No'; anything more than this comes from evil.

The practice of taking oaths was very deep-rooted in the culture of Israel. These oaths are to affirm the truth of what someone says. However, lies would be destructive to others, because liars have a difficult relationship with others. Lies are sins of the tongue. So, a false oath was prohibited by the Law.

4 Things Are Prohibited:

1. Irreverent oaths; the name of the Lord should not be used to damn another person or anything else. God's name should never be used in this way. Jeremiah Wright used an oath to condemn the United States. The name of Jesus should not be used to underscore something that you say.
2. Prohibited oaths include light and frivolous oaths, like I swear to God and oh my God; standard phrases people use to claim they are telling the truth. These words are, in actuality, taking an oath to God. You do not want to take a light and frivolous oath to God, particularly when these things are false. The Lord will not leave him unpunished who takes His name in vain.
3. A prohibition is to break vow that one make; e.g., a wedding vow. There is a vow associated with a marriage. Bobby won't take out the obey clause. You are not a slave or a servant, but simply a recognition of God's organization for marriage. It is necessary for any organization. The marriage vow is one of the more serious vows before God; these are sober words. You do not take a vow like this lightly. Such an oath has meaning before God. So few brides and grooms have any idea what they are doing. The real purpose of the wedding ceremony is taking such vows; the bride looking beautiful and the bachelor parties are meaningless. They are swearing a vow to God and before all those who attend. It is more than just making this thing legal. Marriage is a divine institution. So divorce breaks the vow, and there is only one reason to break this vow; adultery.
4. Bringing false testimony to a court of law after swearing to tell the truth. The final words, so help you God. This vow is not just before the court but before God, not to commit perjury. Lying is an offense before God.

If you damn a person in the name of God or you promise to tell the truth, and you lie; then these are false vows, and God does not take these vows lightly.

The pharisees take everything like this very lightly

Lesson #0292

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

7/8/2012 1Sunday

Communion Sunday

Mankind has always needed clothing. The clothes of the people in the Exodus did not wear out.

Bobby likes clothes. In fact, that is what he is wearing today.

However, the first clothes worn were fig leaves. Adam and the woman were unquestionably the greatest physical specimens. God cannot create anything that is even slightly flawed. Adam and the woman were the more intelligent and enlightened people in all the world; they had great intelligence. No environment was as incredible as theirs was, and no mind could imagine anything so beautiful as the Garden of Eden.

However, there was the tree of the knowledge of Good and Evil. Neither had a sin nature and as long as they remained without arrogance, they receive great blessing from God.

But, then, Satan came and tempted the woman. The tragic result was Rom. 5:12; sin entered into the world, and spiritual death to all because all sinned when Adam sinned. We are his seed; Adam's seed, so we have Adam's original sin imputed to us and his sin nature as a part of our cell structure.

When they had a sin nature, they became aware of Satan's plan of good and evil and they were coopted into Satan's plan. Prior to this point, they had never noticed that they were naked before. At the point of sinning, they became conscious of sin and morality. Their newly formed conscience, which was new at the fall, it was a witness to them that they were in a fallen state. They knew what they had become. They had experienced the result of sin for the first time. Satan wasted no time in drawing their attention away from their fallen state to their nakedness. They looked at each other and they had a need that they had never known before: they covered themselves up. They sewed the leaves of fig leaves together. They became so dumb and so guilt-ridden that they did not go to God with this problem. When a person has a sin nature, they were unable to think of God. If they could hide their shame and become acceptable to each other, then they would be acceptable to God. So they became the first tailors. The eye-opening situation called for a solution. They were unable to have any relationship with Him. They tried to cover their unrighteousness with some flimsy leaves. They sewed them together and it did not shield them from unrighteousness. It did not remove their sin nature; they needed another kind of covering. Without the righteousness that they possessed, they became subject to God's justice. Justice stared them in the face. The fig leaves were the works of their hands; these are human good actions. They hoped that they could meet God's standards and avoid His justice with this covering. They spent a long time tailoring themselves and they are proud of what they had done. When they stand before God on the day of judgment, they will discover that they are still naked. Others will sew together leaves of reform; they will clean up their lives. They have recovered from their bad habits and their evil ways. They boast that they keep the law. They do not understand Rom. 3:20 no one made be made righteous by their own works.

the Law does not provide a covering; it only reveals a need. For no flesh will be justified in His sight by the works of the law, for through the law comes the knowledge of sin. Man is still stripped bare of his personal works. Behind their thinking is absolute evil. They thought that if they put on clothes and became adjusted to one another, that this would be enough to gain them a good place in God's eyes. However, they could not approach God; they could only hide from Him.

As was our Lord's routine, He came into the Garden in the spiritual time of the day; and the man and the woman hid themselves in shame. Gen 3:8 Then the man and his wife heard the sound of the LORD God walking in the garden at the time of the evening breeze, and they hid themselves from the LORD God among the trees of the garden.

God saw their need and He met it. He backed it up with a covering of sin. This redemption came from the covering of the animal skins rather than of fig leaves.

Where did these skins come from? This act required the death of an animal. It was the covering of Adam and the woman's bodies that made these two acceptable in the presence of God. Animal blood had to be shed in order to cover the nakedness of Adam and the woman. Only with the animal skin could it be covered and forgotten. Kaphar means to cover over. This covering signifies God's gracious provision for mankind. Adam and the woman produced them. The bloodless work of man's hands cannot achieve a relationship with God. Where there is sin, there must be death.

Out of the death of the slain animal comes the proper covering. Apart from the shed blood, there is no remission. This same picture is drawn by the animal sacrifices of Israel. These animals were offered up for hundreds of years, so that we would recognize the offering of the body of Jesus Christ.

So Adam and the woman removed the human good coverings that they had and covered themselves with the animal skins which God provided. Our Lord's blood stands in for His substitutionary death for our sins.

No lesson apart from communion.

Lesson #0293

Matt. 5:33–37 Life of Christ

7/8/2012 2Sunday

Bobby wonders if the disciples got tired of listening to the Sermon on the Mount. Our Lord paints a picture of the failures of our lives, and this can be very discouraging. We have all committed mental murder; we have worshiped in communion out of fellowship; we have been in debt before; some have welshed on a financial obligation. We have been involved in mental adultery or sex outside of marriage or have practiced homosexuality or lesbianism. Our Lord exposed all of these things as sins. Lest we become dejected by all of this, regardless of our failures in life, whatever they may be, God still has a plan for us. Carnality, in whatever form, does not mean that God abandons us. No matter where we have been or what we have done, His plan is still in effect. We have eternal security. We have the promise of salvation through faith alone in Christ alone. We have accepted that promise and God has sworn an oath to us that is unbreakable. Once that happens, one of the favorite passages of our church, Rom. 8:38–39 For I am persuaded that neither death nor life, nor angels nor rulers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor any other created thing will have the power to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord!

God's plan is always in effect for us. Why did our Lord speak this sermon? In naming these violations of the Law, which we are all guilty of, our Lord is condemning the hypocrisy of the pharisees. They had no personal righteousness before God from their own works. Our Lord's purpose to show that we cannot be justified by the Law. This is the underlying purpose of the Sermon on the Mount. These things are not to make people feel guilty, but to view the solution and to understand the faithfulness of God. Do not be discouraged because of your own failures in any area. This is a warning to all of us.

This is to make us see the clothes that we have put on. Leave hypocrisy and guilt behind. Drive on to the high calling of God; looking ahead. We all have failures, which are overcome by rebound and the various spiritual skills.

Now the sermon, Jesus is addressing one more area of nakedness and of all mankind. We know what it means to be naked; that is how Adam and the woman discovered sin. This is one more way of recognizing the need of all mankind.

The pharisees were really into oaths; oaths were contracts; their word was their bond. They used God's name in order to substantiate these oaths.

Matthew 5:33 "Again you have heard that it was said to those of old, 'You shall not swear falsely [make false vows], but shall perform to the Lord what you have sworn.'

Matthew 5:34 But I say to you, Do not take an oath at all, either by heaven, for it is the throne of God,

Matthew 5:35 or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King.

Matthew 5:36 And do not take an oath by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black.

Matthew 5:37 Let what you say be simply 'Yes' or 'No'; anything more than this comes from evil.

Do not swear in the name of God to a lie. Give a yes or no, when the answer is yes or no. This is to be done apart from deception. People take oaths to affirm the truth of the words that they speak. Lies are destructive and they are destructive to our souls.

There Are 4 Categories of Taking the Lord's Name in Vain

1. An irreverent use of His name; we should not use God's name to damn a person or anyone else. There is a pastor who has damned our nation which is a capitalist nation. Such an oath should not have been made. Another is to use the name of Jesus Christ as an expletive to underscore, to make a strong statement.
2. The light and frivolous use of the Lord's name. "I swear to God" or "Oh my God." Most of this is usually just unconscious slang. This is taking His name in vain.
3. A prohibited oath is to break a vow in the name of God. The marriage oath using the name of God. That is a legitimate oath. When you say, "I do" you are consenting to a binding vow or oath. This reflects the importance of the divine institution which goes back to the first two people that God made. This vow is spoken to God and through God, as well as to one another.

4. Bringing false testimony to a court of law. What does anyone say? "I swear to tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help me God." You are swearing before the court and before God. We take such oaths so lightly, but God takes them seriously. We are standing upon the character of God; we are reflecting the character of God.

So, why does the Lord speak of this approach? The pharisees were filled with legalese and legal mumbo jumbo; they continually skirted the spirit of the law. They could find loopholes in the law and exploited these loopholes. They would repeat falsehoods under oath. The way it may sound, they were swearing to a lie. They would be familiar with the phrase, "It depends upon what the meaning of is, is."

What was true today, might not be true tomorrow; the relative truth angle. Relative truth bends the truth in order to justify falsehood. Truth is whatever I want it to be. They chose to interpret the lie as truth; and they made the lie truth in their own eyes. Then they could legitimately swear to it. They thought that they were outsmarting the law. But they could not outsmart God. His law is absolute. Sin is sin. There are no loopholes to it. That is exactly what the Lord Jesus Christ was pointing out. Working the lie into shades of truth or covering the lie with shades of truth.

Our own government lives on false truth. Politicians make up promises that they do not keep; and those which they cannot keep; and they know that they cannot keep these promises when they swear to these promises. "I intend to keep this promise." They can swear to falsehoods and not be called liars unless they are.

Before God, you do not get away with such things. With people, we might get away with such falsehoods.

So our Lord introduces the proper way to understand false oaths. The pharisees claimed the truth, but they are liars. Ex. 27 Lev. Deut. 6;3

Matthew 5:33 "Again you have heard that it was said to those of old, 'You shall not swear falsely [make false vows], but shall perform to the Lord what you have sworn.'

You must fulfill your vows to the Lord. You make these oaths and vows; do not be a politician; do not be a lawyer; do not be a pharisee. If you make a vow, follow through; and if you don't, then that is a lie. This is an application of living your life before the Lord. So many Christians think that they must make vows before the Lord and do whatever in order to be a good Christian. When you express faith alone in Christ alone, that is your vow. You do not need a re-dedication to purity and salvation. You do not need to be reconfirmed. You do not need to go back to the beginning. You believe in Jesus Christ one time. Your work given to the Lord is your bond and you therefore must live up to it.

The unspoken promise that we make at salvation, we make our lives according to salvation as found in the Bible. What goes with this is a spiritual life. When you believe in Christ, you have also agreed to live the spiritual life. That glorifies the Lord Jesus Christ. We are listening to Bobby with the intent of fulfilling that promise to God. Reversionism is merely breaking the vow. Carnality is just breaking the vow. The promise means, keep on moving in the spiritual life. God has saved us in the Christian life. That is our obligation to live the Christian life. Many people do not want to accept Jesus Christ because they may have to go to church. That interferes with their lifestyle. Reject Christ because you do not want to live the greatest life in this world. But that is where we are; we have taken an oath to live the spiritual life. We have no other choice.

However, remember, it is the best. Why not take it? Why not fulfill this vow? Just live up to your word. The more truth you know, the more truth that there is in your soul.

Lesson #0294

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

7/11/2012 Wed

This is an important prohibition. It is found several times in the Old Testament. Ex. 20:3 Ex. 20:7; Lev. 19:12; Num. 30:2–16

Vows and Salvation

1. Taking a vow is a part of living your life before the Lord.
2. You take a vow to follow the Lord the moment that you express faith alone in Christ alone.
3. You do not need a verbal dedication. So many churches demand that you make a verbal dedication; but this is done when you believe in Jesus Christ.
4. When you believe in Christ, it carries an obligation.
5. When you break your vow, you have moved into the area of reversionism.
6. You can be in carnality from time to time, but the vow is broken when you fail to advance in reversionism.
7. The Christian life is all about keeping that vow. It is execution of divine viewpoint mandates and metabolizing Bible doctrine; after salvation, what?
8. That is what you have committed to as a believer in Jesus Christ. Some say that you must commit your life to Christ, and they are thinking about salvation. The Christian life is finding out what the vow actually means. You must learn it and then fulfill it.
9. The unspoken promise at salvation is this, to live your life according to the doctrines of the Bible. The idea is to live the spiritual life. You do not realize the vow that you have taken, but you will.

That pharisees are sure that they have kept these vows; that they have not taken the Lord's name in vain. The pharisees took many, many oaths. Did they not have to swear to truthfulness? However, they made allowances for themselves and for others.

They often used legal technicalities and legalese to get around the plain truth of these mandates as if there are loopholes in God's Law. Finding loopholes means that you are going out on a limb. The pharisees were great at doing this. They laid out minute rules which were loopholes. They defined what was an acceptable oath and what was not. They defined the simple statute. Whatever they did not define, they kept it. Legal mumbo-jumbo.

Matthew 5:33 "Again you have heard that it was said to those of old, 'You shall not swear falsely [make false vows], but shall perform to the Lord what you have sworn.'

Jesus is going to explain to them just how guilty they are of perjury. Jesus tells them to not make any oaths. These pharisees made lots of oaths by heaven. They could say, when they violated the oath, they would say, "I did not use the Lord's name; so I have not broken a vow to Him."

When they made these vows, they could get out of them because they were not swearing by God. They broke the law concerning oaths on a regular basis. Jesus is exposing their hypocrisy and legalism.

Matthew 5:34 But I say to you, Do not take an oath at all, either by heaven, for it is the throne of God,

He warns them not to make an oath by the earth, which is God's footstool. How does this footstool terminology connect? We must understand a whole concept of doctrine, which is operation footstool. Jesus Christ defeats all of His enemies and He rules over this earth. The earth becomes Jesus' throne as well. Jesus is covering all of the bases. He is not letting them get away with anything.

Footstool is an idiom. Everyone in that part of the world understood that word footstool. We understand this as propping up our feet on a footstool. But then, this was understood as a military victory and this reflected a Roman military custom. This was a part of Roman conquest. The Romans were a short people. When they conquered the barbarians, who were often tall. It was a moment to be commemorated. When they conquered them, Cæsar would order them to find the tallest Barbarian remaining alive. He would be slapped down, and a Roman flag was put over him, and Cæsar would go to him and put his feet on him. This prisoner became the footstool of Rome and all of the soldiers would cheer.

Psalms 110:1 A Psalm of David. A declaration of Jehovah to my Lord: Sit at My right hand, until I place Your enemies as Your footstool. This is a conquest. It is David writing this, but this is David's greater Son Who is in view here.

Heb. 10:12–14 But He, offering but one sacrifice for sins, "sat down" in perpetuity "at the right hand" of God, from then on expecting "until His enemies are placed as a footstool" of His feet. Psa. 110:1 For by one offering He has perfected in perpetuity the ones being sanctified.

This is the future conquest of Christ over His enemies, and all of them are subjugated to Him.

Operation Footstool and What it Means

1. Operation Footstool will begin when the Lord returns at the 2nd advent. It continues throughout the dispensation of the Millennium.
2. Christ will win a massive victory over the world enemies of Israel. This is the battle of Armageddon. The enemies surrounding the Jews are ready to destroy them, and the Lord returns and wipes them all out. He kills every one of them. That begins operation footstool. Satan and the angels will be incarcerated in Tartarus, which is one of the chambers of Hades.
3. Then the Lord Jesus Christ will establish His kingdom on earth. He is the ruler of Israel; the King of Kings and Lord of Lords. He has made His enemies a footstool right here.
4. He will reign for 1000 years of peaceful environment. At the end of that 1000 years, Satan will be released and he will initiate the Gogand Magog revolution.
5. Tartarus is not the Lake of Fire designed for Satan and his angels.
6. He will once and for all be defeated, and Psalm 110:1 is fulfilled when Satan is thrown into the Lake of Fire.
7. Then there is the judgment of the Great White Throne.
8. Satan and his angels are forever removed; forever subdued; forever conquered.
9. At the end of human history all of Christ's enemies will be made His footstool.
10. The enemies will, in effect, lie prostrate before our Lord. They will be in the Lake of Fire from which they will never be extracted.

The Wrongheadedness of the Pharisees and Their Oaths

1. The pharisees were swearing oaths by the footstool and by the power of God in this way.
2. They were swearing by God.
3. They were swearing by the certainty of Christ conquering all of His enemies. The pharisees are expecting a Messiah; but they expected that the Messiah would come and destroy the Romans. They are expecting this sort of Messiah to stand before them and lead them; but they are the footstool. They were swearing by their own demise.
4. They were swearing a false oath by the Messiah Who was standing right before them.
5. In this oath, they were also placing a curse on themselves. When you take a vow and don't fulfill it; and Jesus said, "When you take a vow, you must fulfill it." They were cursing themselves by taking a false vow. This told them just how lost they were. Their hypocrisy and their foolishness by these false works.
6. Swearing by the earth is swearing by the throne of the Messiah.
7. Obviously, the pharisees were not keeping the Law just as they claimed. They were constantly breaking Ex. 20:7.

Why They Were Not to Swear by Jerusalem

1. Jerusalem is the city of the Great King.

2. The Great King is the Great Son of David. Many prophecies of the Old Testament spoke of David.
3. Jesus Christ will rule forever on the throne of David. Swearing by the city is swearing by the ruler of that city.

Legalism is built on hypocrisy.

Matthew 5:35 or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem for it is the city of the great King.

You cannot even take an oath by your own head; because you do not have enough power to change a single hair on your head. This is swearing by your own person; swearing by your own notion of yourself. You are swearing by the integrity of yourself. This is also being prohibited right here.

What Do Oaths Mean?

1. One's promise is not stronger than one's character; and the pharisees were lacking in character. This is something to note with a person. Caveat emptor.
2. Our Lord is slapping the pharisees hypocrisy. One pharisee was turned around by Jesus. This was a back-handed way of witnessing to these people.
- 3.
4. Christ insists that, whatever a man swears by is related to God in some way.
5. If you swear an oath, you had better fulfill it. It is before God. When you go to a court of Law, you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth.

No oath can change one hair on their head; so what good is your oath?

Matthew 5:36 And do not take an oath by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black.

Then Jesus makes a very appropriate statement; and it is the opposite of what the pharisees were doing. Perhaps this was related to the extensive interpretations they gave to the Old Testament.

Matthew 5:37 Let what you say be simply 'Yes' or 'No'; anything more than this comes from evil.

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

7/12/2012 Thurs

Under the Weather cancellation

Lesson #0295

Matt. 5:37–38 Life of Christ

7/15/2012 1Sunday

Most people think about the beatitudes when it comes to the Sermon on the Mount. The lengthiest subject concerns the Mosaic Law. Jesus spends the most time explaining what the Mosaic Law and He relates it to legalism. He expanded the Law from murder to mental murder; from adultery to mental adultery. But He also narrowed the legitimate grounds for divorce to adultery only, in this context. He has addressed all of these issues and more. The pharisees and the rabbis all claimed righteousness by keeping the Law, and Jesus showed that they were the worst violators of the Law. Our Lord exposed their legalism. He also taught His disciples the evils of religion and the legalism involved in religion. Most importantly, He revealed the legalism of the religious Jews and He promoted the grace of God through Himself.

The religious types would swear oaths all the time, but they would swear by Jerusalem or by their own heads or by whatever. Jesus showed that these oaths also took the Lord's name in vain and they could not be fulfilled. The pharisees were caught in their own trap of legalism. Jesus stripped them down and showed them for what they were. He did it by using His Own Law.

Matthew 5:33 "Again you have heard that it was said to those of old, 'You shall not swear falsely [make false vows], but shall perform to the Lord what you have sworn.'

Matthew 5:34 But I say to you, Do not take an oath at all, either by heaven, for it is the throne of God,

Matthew 5:35 or by the earth, for it is his footstool, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King.

Matthew 5:36 And do not take an oath by your head, for you cannot make one hair white or black.

Then Jesus issues an appropriate caution. His point is, in the context of oaths; why do you need an oath if all you are supposed to do is speak the truth. The oath simply affirms the importance of truthfulness. You mean what you say, no matter what the consequences. You do not obfuscate. You do not distort or muddle your words. What you say ought not to be open to several interpretations. The pharisees thrived on semantic loopholes; they were always finding a loophole in the Law.

Truthfulness means trust, which is important in all of our personal relationships and all of our corporate relationships. Our integrity shows up in the words that we speak. If we have integrity of soul, then it transfers to what you say. Any falsehood is evil. This is quite simple. It is a very straightforward verse.

Swearing by anything adds no good intentions when there are none to begin with. If your words are dishonest to begin with, then your oaths are meaningless. You do not have to say, "I swear to...." when you are giving testimony.

Matthew 5:37 Let what you say be simply 'Yes' or 'No'; anything more than this comes from evil.

Matt. 5:38 You have heard that it was said: "An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth;" Ex. 21:24
Lev. 24:20 Deut. 19:21

The Law of Just Compensation—Lex Talionis

1. Any injury or death to an individual by another person would be repaid to the injured person in kind.
2. Anyone who suffered injury or loss has the right to claim.
3. The nature of the repayment was limited to exact compensation for the injury. It was a 1 to 1 relationship. When someone causes the loss, they repay the loss.
4. Ex. 21:20–21 gives us several examples for this. In the case of a capital crime, capital punishment was the expected result.
5. This statute of the Law from a divine viewpoint, which is God's law and lex talionis is from God. This was never about personal revenge or physical retribution.
6. Why was this statute in the Mosaic Law? This was written to protect life and property in society. It was written for protection and not for revenge. The principle of this law is alive and well today.
7. God proclaimed this law as necessary in order to regulate human behavior. That is what all the Law is about. This recognizes that there is human depravity.
8. This law made people think twice about their actions toward others. The law would require you to pay back in kind. This was the teeth of the law. Just penalties meted out for wrong actions. There was none of this, stubbing your toe on someone else's property and then you can sue for a million dollars. That was not a part of the Mosaic Law. The excessive compensation for minor pain and suffering would be prohibited under this law. There was no tort reform necessary in Israel if the Mosaic Law was followed.

The book The Origin of Life has this as a topic.

Lex Talionis Was Not for Personal Vengeance

1. The legal code of Israel was never about vengeance or a reckoning.
2. This statute demanded fair and just compensation for injury or loss, including the loss of life. There was no provision in the Mosaic Law for bankruptcy; you paid what you owed. You could pay someone back through indentured servitude. We may think of this as cruel and unusual punishment; but that was the way it was handled. You must repay your debts. Every seven years was the year of jubilee when debts were forgiven. There was no such thing as usury in Israel. You could not make money off of other people when making a loan. This was God's Law for His people.
3. Lex talionis did not allow for vengeance seeking or taking or personal retaliation or retribution outside the boundaries of the Law. Feuds and vendettas were not allowed.
4. Personalized revenge for wrongdoing was prohibited. The pharisees took vengeance on others and got around the spirit of the law and the just compensation of the law by reinterpreting it. They expanded the limits of compensation of the law. You can financially destroy someone by claiming exorbitant payments for pain and suffering. Sometimes you can shoot someone for being attacked or for protecting your property, and the criminal can sue you or by his relatives for huge amounts of money. Also, there is the cost of defending yourself in court. Not just but it happens. You can sue anyone for anything, no matter how trivial.

The pharisees would demand extensive amounts of money for offenses; they were the legal and religious leaders of Israel. They were corrupt in their application of the Law. What they did is, they rewrote the Mosaic Law to benefit themselves. The money changers charged people to come into the Temple to worship.

Jesus is now explaining this overzealous application of this law.

Matt. 5:38 You have heard that it was said: "An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth;" Ex. 21:24
Lev. 24:20 Deut. 19:21

Lesson #0296

Matt. 5:38 Life of Christ

7/15/2012 2Sunday

Lex tallionis, the law of retribution.

Matt. 5:38 You have heard that it was said: "An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth;" Ex. 21:24
Lev. 24:20 Deut. 19:21

When our Lord spoke, His audience understood exactly what He was talking about. They had studied this.

The passages which are coming up and the most misunderstood passages in the entire Bible. The turn the other cheek passage.

Jesus is refuting the legalistic pharisees. No one violated the Mosaic Law like the pharisees. No one was more hypocritical about the Law than the pharisees. They were loophole and interpreting masters. The spirit of the Law were constantly violated. The same thing is true of our constitution, and many things are interpreted in the light of one's political beliefs.

We are ruled by law and we must have lawyers and courts to sort out the law. They are the guardians of law; when you need a lawyer, they are necessary. Sometimes the law gets out of hand, and the woman of justice has one or both eyes open.

The disciples would never forget from this time on the hypocrisy of the pharisees. The pharisees understood this to be retaliation or vengeance. The disciples learned the wonders of grace and contrasted this to the pharisaical lessons of legalism. It was vengeance for them to break someone monetarily for some perceived wrong. There was never a more unjust or unrighteous distortion that the pharisees were known for.

Jesus mentions this, in part to properly interpret this; but He also wants to show the difference between grace and legalism. Christ now attacks the perversion of the law.

Electricity cut off at 11:34.

Matt. 5:38 You have heard that it was said: "An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth;" Ex. 21:24
Lev. 24:20 Deut. 19:21

Lesson #0297

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

7/18/2012 Wed

Matt. 5:38 You have heard that it was said: "An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth;" Ex. 21:24
Lev. 24:20 Deut. 19:21

One of the most well-known tenets is an eye for an eye; a tooth for a tooth. The idea is, justice. There were limitations. There were no torte problems. There was an exact compensation based upon the law for injury. There was no sanctioning of retaliation or personal vengeance. A life for a life is capital punishment. There was a penalty in proportion to the severity of the crime committed.

An Eye for an Eye; a Tooth for a Tooth; a Life for a Life

1. This was a necessary law, very necessary, to regulate human behavior. This was to regulate the human race with a sin nature.
2. This was designed to protect private property and life. This affirms the right to personal property. This precludes Marxism and socialism right here.
3. This portion of the Law was a deterrent to property damage and to criminal behavior. How do you know that capital punishment has deterred something? How do you count that if someone just doesn't do it. There are many who do not commit a crime because they are afraid of the punishment.

The pharisees had a faulty interpretation of this verse, based on their corruption. They always manipulated the Law to their own advantage. They really had a field day with this passage. They would demand compensation based upon their over-zealous interpretation of the Law. They adjusted this to improve upon their economic compensation. They were experts in the Law and they were involved in the judging and interpretation. This was a great corruption and very lucrative for the pharisees.

This is all about impersonal love.

Matt. 5:39 but I say to you, Do not resist the evil; but whoever strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other to him also.

Our natural reaction is to punch the other person out.

Matt. 5:40 And to him desiring to sue you, and to take your tunic, allow him also to have the coat.

Lawyers like this.

Matt. 5:41 And whoever shall compel you to go one mile, go two with him.

Matt. 5:42 He asking you to give, and he wishing to borrow from you, do not turn away.

And give money out as fast as you can.

There is a general statement of grace and impersonal love in v. 39 with some examples of application of v. 39.

Matt. 5:39 but I say to you, Do not resist the evil; but whoever strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other to him also.

Can you imagine God saying, "Do not resist evil?" Are we not involved in the Angelic Conflict; and isn't evil the policy of Satan. Okay, if we don't resist it. But Eph. 6:13 Because of this, take up all of the armor of God that you may be able to resist in the evil day, and having worked out all things, to stand. Then stand firm, "having girded your loins about with truth" and having put "on the breastplate of righteousness," Isa. 11:5; 59:17

Satan's schemes began in the garden with the woman. Our struggle is not against flesh and flood, but it is against the spiritual forces of wickedness in heavenly places. Eph. 6:11–12 Put on all the armor of God, for you to be able to stand against the wiles of the Devil, because wrestling against flesh and blood is not to us, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the world's rulers, of the darkness of this age, against the spiritual powers of evil in the heavenlies.

Doctrine is necessary so that we can resist the devil and his policy of evil in the unseen war. That is a resistance. So Jesus is saying, "Do not resist human injustice."

You Mean We Do Not Resist Evil?

1. Not resisting human injustice demonstrates to the world the spiritual life and divine good. How else are they able to learn what God offers to us. Our natural reaction is to fight injustice with everything that we have.
2. If we resist human injustice, that is a defeat for any human antagonist. The spiritual life is the defeat for the human antagonist.
3. It requires using the spiritual life, which is always more important. Injustice and we also have the spiritual life. Do we resist this in our own power? Which will be more effective. Jesus is not saying do not resist evil; He is saying do not resist injustice or evil in your own human power.
4. The method of defeat is what is key. Do we physically resist or not. This is what Jesus is speaking of in this context.

Anthistimi in this context means to oppose a person to his face. In other words, get in his face. That is confrontation; blow for blow, a slap for a slap. That is what the pharisees would say that they do. This is some form of verbal or physical opposition. That is what is precluded here. Fist fights, gun fights, duels, gossip, mental murder, running the other person down. How does this non-resistance apply?

What about the corporate level? No greater example than a court or a country that is unjust. Do we let evil overtake and destroy our nation?

This does not mean that you cannot politic against a candidate that has no principles whose ideology is anti-biblical. This does not mean that you cannot go to war against evil nations.

What Is Not Included Here?

1. This does not promote submission to the devil.
2. Neither does Matt. 5:39 promote pacifism. A number of sects use this passage to be pacifists. Quakers, Amish, Jehovah's Witnesses.
3. It does not connote submission to crime of any time.
4. National self-defense is legitimate. Going to war as a member of your country's military is legitimate.

Matt. 5:39 but I say to you, Do not resist the evil; but whoever strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other to him also.

So What Does it Mean?

1. This is an evil person with whom you have a personal relationship.
2. This is properly applied to personal circumstances where someone wants to do you harm.

Here Is What it Means

1. You do not try to solve evil with vengeance or personal retaliation.
2. Two wrongs don't make a right. Your retaliation is not made right.
3. You cannot take comfort in vengeance; it never satisfies.
4. It never provides the results that you want. It is the opposite. It invites more retaliation. Injustice begets injustice; retaliation begets retaliation.
5. The best way to resist evil is to put doctrine in your soul and live it.

If you do decide to retaliate, do not expect God to be in it. God does not approve of taking matters into your own hands, such that it is not a part of His plan. The pharisees take matters into their own hands; they misuse the Law for their own personal benefit. You do not use injustice to resist injustice.

Rom. 12:18–9 If possible, from you being in peace with all men; not avenging yourselves, beloved, but giving place to wrath, for it has been written, "Vengeance is Mine," "I will repay," says the Lord. Deut. 32:35 Then "if one hostile to you hungers, feed him; if he thirsts, give him drink; for doing this you will heap coals of fire on his head." Prov. 25:21, 22

What Do You Do?

1. God's justice is sufficient. When you are taken to court, you have every right to defend yourself
2. Only God's justice is perfect justice in this world. You cannot approach His perfect justice.
3. All of your schemes to get back at someone amount to futility. We have God; we have the greatest resistance of all.
4. Rom. 12:19 teaches the faith-rest technique. Place retaliation in the hands of the Lord. We do not have to resist. How relaxing and peaceful is our soul when we do that. Getting back at someone can consume you. The greatest resource of all you lose. Leave room for God's wrath. Get out of the way.
5. God knows all of the facts; we do not. God knows where justice lies; and He knows if we are unjust or not. Many times, we do not see ourselves in that way. That is not impersonal love. Impersonal love means that we can stand back, relax, and have peace in our souls.
6. God's justice is never biased; it is never unrighteous, and it is never unfair to anyone, included us. God gives exactly what is necessary. His justice is justice. We have our own idea as to what the justice of God ought to do on our behalf. I'll step aside, and here is what I think You ought to do. We are trying to set the standard of God's justice. God will never do what we think He is going to do; often when He does, it is just coincidence. What God does is much more than we could command Him to do.
7. The justice that He metes out is perfect justice.

This is why we do not have to resist evil in this context. Life is way too short to become involved in personal vendettas against people who treat you unscrupulously. It just escalates. In the midst of injustice, you focus on the doctrinal rationale. Do not take up continuing injustice; control your emotions.

A Rationale

1. God's justice still abides. It never goes away. It works for us every moment. It never departs. God never allows us to leave His mind.
2. What seems to be an endless stream of injustice is being dealt with by Him. This injustice seems to never end. So get out of the way.
3. His justice is not immediately evident to us as we would wish. This is why we need to have a rationale. We are impatient and we want to see God's justice work against them. God's justice is working for the whole circumstance. We might need a lesson as well. We need to apply impersonal love.
4. You do not get to feel; you do not get to see the other person's pain and enjoy it.
5. Please use this over and over. Know that His justice is being accomplished much better than any retaliation on His part.

6. Remember, God has a plan and that plan unfolds for us in adversity and in injustice. God has not deserted us. His plan is unfolding for us.
7. There is great spiritual advance when applying doctrine in adversity and in injustice. We are accelerating our advance if we can apply impersonal love under these conditions.
8. When you apply impersonal love, confidence in the Lord increases. The results will be certain.
9. The impersonal love that we utilize works for comfort and contentment in our soul. The greatest problem solving device for personal circumstances from one person to another; unscrupulous people, whatever you can think of what people do that is antagonistic to you, and realize that there is nothing that you can do to fix it on your own. Let God take care of it.

Lesson #0298

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

7/19/2012 Thurs

Bobby is trying to get across to us just how important impersonal love is. We are dealing with institutions and people who are difficult to deal with, and sometimes it is difficult to figure out where to draw a line. When in doubt, use impersonal love. Jesus will make it clear just how far this concept extends.

If you decide, "I am going to hate this person, no matter what; and I will always hate this person;" and you will never experience any improvement.

The pharisees of corrupted the phrase found in v. 38. This statute is to regulate human behavior and the pharisees have completely distorted it; they have distorted one of the most fundamental concepts there is.

Matt. 5:38 You have heard that it was said: "An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth;" Ex. 21:24
Lev. 24:20 Deut. 19:21

Matt. 5:39 but I say to you, Do not resist the evil; but whoever strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other to him also.

Jesus says something which is so baffling. He does not say to bring these evil men down; when law is disregarded and tyranny comes closer and closer, and we want to become freedom fighters. But Jesus says, "Do not resist the evil [person]." The key word is evil; and the person we are dealing with is evil. We have all kinds of conflicts in life, and not every person we come across is involved in evil deeds. What we must understand is, resistance to evil is not reciprocating in kind, which is returning evil for evil. Instead of the believer's defense against those who oppose you. Stack up our ability to resist evil as compared to God's ability to resist evil. That is the real point here. Does this mean you cannot defend yourself, say in the commission of a crime or you are unjustly dragged into court. Christ is not commending us to roll over like a puppy. We are not a punching bag. This is a presentation of impersonal love as over and against evil. This is revenge motivation, which escalates evil. This is an endless spiral of evil taking revenge against evil. Resisting such evil is futile, and there is no such future for the believer in the Lord Jesus Christ.

This is what Jesus offers as the way to deal with evil. We depend upon Jesus power, and Jesus always used doctrine against the pharisees; He spoke the truth and let the chips fall where they may. Humanistic solutions would have been to hide out in the hills, or to organize a band of black ops, and strike the pharisees. All of the injustice that this world can throw against all of us; we face injustice after injustice. Injustice is the name of Satan's policy. How do we combat it? Beat the air with our fists?

Jesus begins with the general principle and then elaborates on it. The idea is to avoid face to face clashes where we return evil for evil. Our evil is relying on anything but impersonal love. Do not try to solve the problem of injustice with vengeance. Impersonal love must be applied to all circumstances. Impersonal love is required in every conflict where mental attitude sins may be possible.

Impersonal Love Rationale

1. We must recall in the face of injustice that God's justice still abides and works for us in the conflict. This is relaxing; we are being pummeled with injustice and we want to strike back. And we know that God's justice is still here. There is injustice in people, high places and in institutions. There are a lot of humanistic ways to do that. We may not know exactly how it is working, but it does.
2. He deals with injustice and evil on our behalf, even if we don't know what He is doing. God knows all of the facts and His justice knows exactly how to deal with injustice.
3. Our resistance to that evil is much less effective than what God accomplishes for us. The battle is the Lord's, which is true every time. That is a simple rationale.

Therefore, we relax with impersonal love; we do not get wrapped up with injustice. Do not get ready to resist evil with evil. Otherwise, we will wallow with futility. Our antagonist has a few things to learn from the justice of God. It is not about striking them dead and vindicating ourselves. It works on that other person.

We don't decide, "Let God do His thing and I will do mine; we will work on this guy from both sides." Wrong. Do not lower yourself to the level of your antagonist. If you cannot use impersonal love, your spiritual life will revert. If you are deep in mental attitude sins, then your spiritual life does not work. If you do not use impersonal love, then you have no spiritual life.

Another application to politics and government. Take no vengeance against those outside the law against evil leaders. There is a desire to do this is overwhelming. The assassination of a leader is a crime. Now, such people can be legally prosecuted, but not attacked. We do not become a vigilante and take up arms and live in the hills. Render unto Cæsar what is Caesar's. We must be ruled by law. It is a matter of the laws of divine establishment. We are allowed to be ruled by law even if our leaders do not. We are ruled by even a higher law. Law is a part of divine institution #4, which is nationalism. God's laws of divine establishment include obedience to the law of the land. God forbid that we end up in the fifth cycle of discipline, but that is God's decision. He knows all of the facts. He knows whether we will respond.

If we as believers are not advancing spiritually, we are working against our own nation. We are detrimental to our nation.

This context is to individual relationships; this is not the Angelic Conflict here or is it between nations. Each example that follows is intensely personal, defined for our own life.

2nd half of Matt. 5:39. The inference here is, you get popped on one side of the face, you turn them the other side. This requires great humility. This is the grace orientation of the spiritual life. Most imperatives reflect a command. This is the imperative of entreaty. This has the urgency of a request, but there is a lot of force behind it. An urgent appeal to live the spiritual life and to apply the doctrine of impersonal love to those who oppose you. This is exactly what Jesus will do with His enemies. This is what He did on the cross, in the face of the greatest injustice there ever was. He turned this great injustice into our salvation. Jesus showed impersonal love even toward those who would put Him to death. That is the extent to which this goes. This is a part of the spiritual life that He pioneered. He used the same assets that we have today. Would He say, "Turn the other cheek" if this was impossible?

Some people cite, "An eye for an eye" as a justification for retaliation. But this says, there is no retaliation. Jesus was beaten, spat upon, lied upon, and crucified. That is far worse than a slap.

We do not demand personal satisfaction. Impersonal love entreats us not to respond in kind.

Does this mean that we stand and take punch after punch until we are senseless or dead? There is a right of self-defense; but you do not start anything or resort to insults or retaliation. Even when there is physical harm, you do not hold a grudge. Many a believer has been persecuted. Impersonal love is the problem solving device. This same attitude is certainly true when we come to v. 40.

Matt. 5:39 but I say to you, Do not resist the evil; but whoever strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other to him also.

Matt. 5:40 And to him desiring to sue you, and to take your tunic, allow him also to have the coat.

Then we move to material things; money and property. When people talk about taking your money and property, and now it is the wallet. But, if you are taken to court and they take your shirt, then give them your coat as well. These are analogies. "Give them the shirt off your back" means to help someone financially, even if it is difficult to do.

“It’s only money,” is the way to look at it. Bob said, “If money can solve a problem, then there is no problem.” There are many examples of this. How many times are their families who fight over the inheritance of one’s siblings. This happens all of the time. The family goes to war over money. No impersonal love means, we go to court. You pay $100,000 is enough; or give them more if they want it. In inheritance, you give them whatever they request. Sit down at the table and reconcile it, and give your shirt and coat as well, if necessary.

You must maintain an attitude free of mental attitude sins. It is only money. Bobby has seen a few circumstances where they are told, “Take it all” and suddenly, they become equitable.

There are many areas in life where money is a problem and people are fighting over finances. Never more true than in a situation of divorce. People fight over everything, including the goldfish.

In a divorce, you sit down and tell them, “Take whatever you want.” Sometimes, when you show some impersonal love, you may not get divorced in the first place. Sometimes showing impersonal love can solve all kinds of problems. There are many examples that Bobby could give.

Do you give away all of your assets so that you are completely impoverished? Notice that Jesus did not say pants. This is about an attitude of grace orientation.

Matt. 5:40 And to him desiring to sue you, and to take your tunic, allow him also to have the coat.

Matt. 5:41 And whoever shall compel you to go one mile, go two with him.

Matt. 5:42 He asking you to give, and he wishing to borrow from you, do not turn away.

Lesson #0299 Matt. 5:39 Life of Christ impersonal love 7/22/2012 1Sun

We are going to cover a doctrine that is critical to any relationship in life, which I suppose it is impersonal love. For some, it will be a review, for others, a revelation.

We have begun to grasp the understand that Jesus Christ is referring to impersonal love. Of course there is a relationship between two people and love is very, very personal. These verses, like no other, contain illustrations straight from the mouth of Jesus Christ.

Many of you may not understand what impersonal love is. So, Bobby will fill us in on this doctrine. When this doctrine was taught, it was a breakthrough of what love really is.

Because of impersonal love, you can turn the other cheek; you can give the shirt and cloak off of your back to someone who is suing you. Then there is the one of giving money to someone in need, without a hope of a return. These are all difficult actions, but so many believers give these lip service. One might appear to turn the other cheek, but, in the end, he will get them. However, in this passage, these are the real actions of a person who is applying impersonal love.

These actions are not hardships in our lives. The greatest adversities in life, we can weather with true peace and tranquility in our soul.

The Doctrine of Impersonal Love

This is the single most important doctrine in the Bible for interpersonal relationships.

1. Definition: this is an unconditional, non-emotional mental attitude. We think of love too often of what we do for someone or what we get from someone. All actions are a result of this mental attitude. This depends upon the integrity and virtue of the subject. It does not depend upon the merit of the object. Impersonal love depends entirely upon us and on no one else. All other love depends upon the other person as they relate to us. Impersonal love depends entirely upon us.
 - a. "I impersonally love you." In this phrase, it is simple. Subject, verb, object and an adverb. It is one whose mental attitude bestows impersonal love. You is the recipient of this love. This is not a two-way street. It is dependent upon the virtue of the subject. The integrity of the subject and not the activity of the object. It depends upon us and our own virtue. The virtue or lack of virtue in the object is not at issue.
 - b. This is the same type of love that God demonstrates to us, who can do nothing to earn His love. God so loved the world is impersonal love. We do not earn or deserve that, and we are very unlovely to God. We can do nothing to earn God's love.
 - c. "I personally love you." The object of your love has done something or is something which attracts us. The object is attractive. Bobby pulls out a chart from the book on love. Impersonal love emphasizes the subject "I" and personal love emphasizes the object of love. Impersonal love demands integrity in the subject, which is developed from Bible doctrine in the soul of the believer. Personal love demands personal qualities in the object that you find attractive. You may be aware of a person that is the recipient of your impersonal love. Personal love requires personal contact and personal contact.
 - d. Mankind is undeserving. In order for God to love mankind, He must exercise impersonal love. Bobby's dog has unconditional love for Bobby. Bobby has many shortcomings and his dog doesn't care.
 - e. Personal love is conditional and is limited to those who are attractive to you. You control this entirely. It depends upon your virtue. Personal love is virtue dependent; it depends upon the object and their attractiveness to you.
 - f. Impersonal love is as strong as Bible doctrine. Personal love is vulnerable; it is vulnerable to whims and emotions and to personalities and circumstances. You never know what will happen next. You show up after work and you have no idea what the spouse will be like.

- g. Impersonal love is mandatory. This is a mandate of Scripture. We are told to love your enemies; love our neighbors. Neighbors might be a friend or a loved one; that is stability.
- h. "I hate you." We mostly understand this. Hate demands something from the object and it means less virtue in the subject. Impersonal love is not mental murder. Hate is mental murder for someone else. The hate stems from the object. Hate and anger is how you react to someone else. Hate comes from their actions, not from yours.
- i. Impersonal love is inoperative apart from the functioning spiritual life. Rebound, filling of the Spirit, advance in the spiritual life; and this is what develops impersonal love. Impersonal love grows as doctrine grows in your soul. It is the continuous advance in the spiritual life.
2. The object of impersonal love can be anyone; friend, enemy, beautiful or ugly, tranquil or belligerent, appreciative or antagonistic. Impersonal love has nothing to do with the object. Can you say that you develop or increase in your impersonal love for someone who has done you harm.
3. Impersonal love never depends upon what the other person does or fails to do. That is such a departure from personal love. It is about your attitude toward Bible doctrine, not toward the other person. It depends upon the status of your spiritual life. It is how you apply doctrine to your relationship to people.
4. The only way that you can generate impersonal love is by the application of doctrine to relationships. There must be something in your soul beyond self-interest. Self-interest and attraction motivates personal love. You are attracted to someone and you want something from them. The believer with Bible doctrine is capable of impersonal love. It is not superficial, fleeting, a veneer, or phoney. Some people, when their personal love leaves town, they are off and running. Impersonal love does not gossip or malign. Impersonal love is the real thing when it comes to love. The mental attitude is best represented by the integrity of impersonal love. Personal love is at its best when impersonal love is applied. Whenever there is external conflict between persons with application of impersonal love, there is no conflict in the soul. There will be conflicts between people. Normally, when there is external conflict, there is internal conflict as well.
5. Impersonal love is the greatest indicator of the state of your soul and your spiritual maturity. What is in your soul. Is there great turmoil and fear and anger and hate? Or is there tranquility and peace in your soul? It is up to you. The impetus is on you and no one else. Impersonal love is the great problem solving device with you and the other person.

Matt. 5:39 but I say to you, Do not resist the evil; but whoever strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other to him also.

Matt. 5:40 And to him desiring to sue you, and to take your tunic, allow him also to have the coat.

Matt. 5:41 And whoever shall compel you to go one mile, go two with him.

Matt. 5:42 He asking you to give, and he wishing to borrow from you, do not turn away.

Matt. 5:43 You have heard that it was said, "You shall love your neighbor" and hate your enemy;
Lev. 19:18

Lesson #0300 Matt. 5:39 Life of Christ impersonal love 7/22/2012 2Sun

You know that, as a young person, that God has the right person for you and that you will have everything that you want in a person, Bobby is saying that is not the case. You never get exactly what you want. No personal love is perfect. There is conflict, difficulties, and all of those things that happen between two people. There are clashes and problems. This is why impersonal love is so critical. Impersonal love makes it all better. Even if there is no personal love present, impersonal love makes all relationships bearable.

You may like hating someone and you don't want to let go of that, but this does not work with your spiritual life. Without impersonal love, you have no true spiritual life. It is the spiritual life through which you develop impersonal love. So how does impersonal love function?

Bobby already spent a lot of time on impersonal love in 1Cor. 13. This is how it works in action.

How Impersonal Love Works in Action

1. The wrong reaction in a relationship can bring on all kinds of mental attitude sins. All of the external problems brings turmoil to your soul.
2. Impersonal love reciprocates, but not with mental attitude sins, but with courtesy, tolerance, graciousness toward the other person. Grace in action; grace in the face of hostility. Because of impersonal love, Jesus went to the cross. That was our Lord's attitude. He demonstrated all of those things; all of those attitudes and actions, and He demonstrated impersonal love every day of His life. He demonstrated impersonal love toward His enemies and His friends. We are here to learn the spiritual life through doctrine in our souls.
3. Impersonal love is characterized by a relaxed mental attitude. This is when facing the person or circumstances of injury and grievance and conflict and all of that. In the middle of that external turmoil is a relaxed mental attitude.
4. Mistreatment by others is inevitable. You will not cruise through this life without mistreatment. Get real. It is not going to happen. You will be mistreated on one level or another. Mistreatment by others is inevitable; but your reaction to them is optional. Your reaction is not emotional. The normal reaction is to have inflamed emotions and to react to them.
5. So impersonal love is a great benefit. Not just to the recipient of the love, but to you as well in adversity. This is because you have a relaxed mental attitude. Your soul is not in turmoil.

6. The recipient is treated with deference rather than in retaliation. The believer has a relaxed mental attitude about mistreatment. Imagine treating the worse person that you can think of with deference and respect.
7. If the object of impersonal love is one in which personal love is involved, then the affinity for the object, your relationship with that person is perpetuated and profoundly enriched with impersonal love. Personal love is conditional. You are vulnerable in a personal love relationship. What does that mean? How do they really feel? What is going on here? That personal love is perpetuated and enriched by impersonal love.

An obvious example is marriage. No marriage is perfect; far from it. None of them are perfect. You are in daily contact, so difficulties are inevitable. Some people think that the ideal marriage is to maintain separate residences. Children can be a part of this. Wait until there are disagreements about how to raise them and how to discipline them. Then, there is the restlessness with one or both spouses. Personal love cannot solve those problems. Personal love can even disappear. Bobby does not know how some people stay together without some sort of integrity. If I don't get what I want from my mate, I will get it from someone else. Totally self-interested and self-centered. Personal love will never last without impersonal love. It can never grow without impersonal love. Problems just fester and get worse. Counseling may help temporarily, but there must be a change of thinking. The only true counseling that helps is Bible doctrine in your soul. Impersonal love maintains and perpetuates the relationship because of who you are. You can only control your own thinking. You cannot control the thinking of the other person. Your thinking and impersonal love motivates the correct actions. It overrides the improper response in personal love. It maintains a relationship in hard times. You must not try when there are hard times. You must not try to control or to manipulate the other person. That is the great temptation. You want to mold them into what you want them to be. "I know he is not what I want, but I will train him." That is destructive to all relationships. It reduces the other person in your eyes and in your own eyes. If you can control and manipulate your spouse, you will not like what they become; nor will they like what they become. It breeds resistance and not reconciliation. That is what you will get from manipulating the other. If you want to have a great relationship, find someone with impersonal love in their souls. What happens when they become unattractive. What about those things they have hidden during your dating period that pop out after marriage? Without impersonal love, it will go downhill from there. If you cannot envision impersonal love, then leave. If Bobby is conducting a service and one or the other person runs out, that's fine with him. If you are married and you remember the "I do's" for better or for worse; then you need impersonal love to handle the adversities. Dealing with relationship adversity is key. Impersonal love increases the husband's leadership, and decreases the likelihood of negative reactions.

More Points

1. Impersonal love is not the avoidance of disagreement or conflict. No one loses their sin nature.

2. Impersonal love is a problem solving device; not a problem precluding device. Impersonal love really kicks in when things go downhill.
3. Impersonal love meets disagreement and conflict headon.
4. Impersonal love resolves conflict with conciliation, tolerance, graciousness and respect; and without mental attitude sins, like contempt, hatred and revenge-motivation.

Impersonal love for the husband requires leadership, which can be tough love, which involves composure but without explosions. Patience. Stand your ground when you are right, but stand it with a certain attitude. You love the children personally, but there are plenty of times when impersonal love is necessary.

More Points

1. Impersonal love requires a true change of attitude in the subject. You can only accomplish impersonal love with a change of attitude. This is not normal in the human race.
2. This is not about the other person changing. That is out of your control. It is about your change of thinking.
3. Problem resolution is not dependent upon the other person being coaxed, forced or manipulated into change. Passive-aggressive actions are counter-productive. "I'll manipulate you into getting what I want. Impersonal love emphasizes the subject and not the object. There are techniques for impersonal love. There are steps in impersonal love. As you grow spiritually, you develop impersonal love rationales.
4. Impersonal love applied is about your attitude and about your integrity in the face of mistreatment and persecution. You do not need impersonal love when everything is going along swimmingly.

You may say, "What do I get out of this? My adversary/partner gets all of the benefit." You get out of this the greatest blessings in life. With impersonal love, you do not have to spend your life in perpetual conflict. That is worth the price of admission. Your soul is not tortured with discontent with anguish or with stress. You can consistently demonstrate a relaxed mental attitude rather than an emotional reaction to every disappointment from another person. Such a reaction is inevitable. You will be disappointed. God is glorified because impersonal love is derived from His strength and not ours. The spiritual life increases impersonal love.

When the strength of your spiritual life handles your problem and you use impersonal love. You are at your weakest with the function of personal love.

2Cor. 12:10–11 Because of this, I am pleased in weaknesses, in insults, in dire needs, in persecutions, in distresses, for the sake of Christ. For when I may be weak, then I am powerful. Boasting, I have become foolish. You compelled me. For I ought to be commended by you, for I lacked nothing of the highest apostles, even though I am nothing.

Matt. 5:39 but I say to you, Do not resist the evil; but whoever strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other to him also.

If you are being sued, you are supposed to just give it to them.

Matt. 5:40 And to him desiring to sue you, and to take your tunic, allow him also to have the coat.

Or, we are to go the extra mile with someone.

Matt. 5:41 And whoever shall compel you to go one mile, go two with him.

Or, we are to give money to someone without any hope of a return. This is certainly true compassion. It is not making someone dependent upon you. Today we call compassion making people dependent upon big government; that is slavery. We are headed toward slavery to our own government; and that is not compassion.

Individual private giving is compassion, because they need it.

Matt. 5:42 He asking you to give, and he wishing to borrow from you, do not turn away.

The Lord is capable of such things; and we, as believers, we are to be able to do these things as well. We are to utilize the spiritual resources given to us. Growing to spiritual maturity develops one of the most potent, interpersonal skills of the spiritual life: impersonal love. This is the key to demonstrate the character that Christ commends. There is no other greater resource.

Love is the most misunderstood concept in the human mind. Too many attempt to superimpose a personal love upon everyone. They do not know where it comes from or what it looks like.

What is this impersonal love?

Matt. 5:43 You have heard that it was said, "You shall love your neighbor" and hate your enemy;
Lev. 19:18

We have covered this before. But we cannot understand this portion of the Sermon on the Mount without understanding impersonal love.

Impersonal Love

1. Impersonal is without reference to a person. But impersonal love has reference to a person, not a particular person as personal would indicate. It applies to all persons. What does it actually mean?
2. It is a non-conditional, unemotional mental attitude. Love as understood today has nothing to do with a mental attitude. However, love is tied together today with sex. When we speak of impersonal love, we must understand what kind of a mental attitude it is. Being non-emotional separates this sort of love from every other.

3. Impersonal love depends upon us as the subject. It does not depend upon the merit of the object.
4. To generate personal love, that other person has done something or is something that you like, and they get that deference of esteem and preference. The attitude comes first. Admiration, respect, deference (you put them above others), esteem, partiality are the attitudes of personal love.
5. But with impersonal love, there are no such conditions. All of those conditions are not a part of impersonal love. Bobby's dog gives him unconditional love. Bobby has seen pictures of dogs sitting in the laps of the most awful looking people of all time. Even Hitler had a dog who loved him. Impersonal love is not limited by the shortcomings or the foulness of the object.
6. Behind impersonal love must be the virtues of the spiritual life. Impersonal love cannot exist apart from the spiritual life. Only the believer can exhibit impersonal love. For anyone else, it is a phoney veneer. Deep down, they despise the object if that object is foul. The virtue of the spiritual life is strong and stable. Personal love can be very unstable; up and down.
7. Application of Bible doctrine is the only way that impersonal love can be extended to those who are unattractive or who are disgusting. Even a friend can be an enemy from time to time. There is the mandate; impersonal love. This is the same love that God demonstrated to us. We cannot earn His admiration, respect or esteem. God demonstrated His Own love toward us in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Christ died as a substitute for us. He had to endure incredible abuse. That is only the beginning which was nothing compared to His taking our sins on Himself. Those around Jesus hated Him.
8. The object of your impersonal love can be anyone known or unknown, friend or enemy, beautiful or ugly, honorable or dishonorable; appreciative or antagonistic.
9. Personal love does not depend upon what the other person does or fails to do; it is about our attitude; an attitude built upon the mind of Christ. It is based upon our spiritual life and our application of these things to people. Most difficult thing to apply this our own lives. We cannot hide it if we lack impersonal love.
10. We can only generate personal love by utilizing the resources from our soul. If we refuse to abide by this, we will never have a relaxed mental attitude; we will never have time without conflict in the soul; or a time without stress.
11. Impersonal love is impossible for the selfish, the self-centered arrogant person. You focus on Bible doctrine; you focus on the resources in your soul. You do not have to react to the injury. That is where it begins. What does it matter what someone has done to you when you are in the hands of the Lord. No one can hurt you or touch you when you are in His arms. Deut. 33:27a The God of old is a refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms. His arms are around us; we are unassailable from our worst enemy. We can actually have impersonal love for our enemy when we know Who is in charge. We can accomplish the exhortations of this passage in Matthew.

When someone is hurting you or injuring you, what is your attitude like. Impersonal love reciprocates mistreatment and persecution with courtesy, tolerance, and graciousness toward that person.. Mistreatment by others is inevitable. Inevitable is the adversity; but your reaction to it is optional. We have the ability not to react to things that most people react to. We treat that problem person with deference rather than with retaliation. The believer has peace in persecution. However, most people under assault feel miserable.

Who we are is the issue; and a relationship of personal love is maintained with impersonal love. We can only control our own actions and thinking; we cannot spend our times trying to manipulate others. We have our own criteria how we want to be treated. "You keep treating me like this and I will keep on loving you." That is conditional love. The integrity of impersonal love overcomes any anger toward the offending party.

You may think, "I have to roll over and play dead." You are not a doormat who has to stoically endure abuse. We do not have to be cowering and whipped. It is not weakness; it is a strength of soul. It does sometimes require personal defense and resistance to evil. You may have to speak words of integrity. They had better be virtuous.

It seems like the other person gets a lot of benefit from you; but what is the benefit to you? The benefit is the greatest set of blessings that life has to offer.

Advantages of Impersonal Love

1. With impersonal love, you do not have to spend your life in perpetual conflict. This is a reference to inner conflict.
2. Your soul is not tortured with discontent and anguish.
3. You can instantly demonstrate a relaxed mental attitude. Disappointment from others is inevitable. Adversity is inevitable; stress is optional. With impersonal love we can make the choice not to allow adversity to become stress in our soul.
4. God is glorified because impersonal love derives from His strength, not from ours. That is an incredible confidence builder when our weakness becomes our strength. That means we have an impersonal love that is strong no matter what. Those that we love who lack integrity can reciprocate that love.

Lesson #0302 2Cor. 12:10 Matt. 5: Life of Christ 7/29/2012 2Sunday

impersonal love is what makes personal love bearable.

2Cor. 12:10 So, I am pleased to [endure] weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions and difficulties, [all] for Christ's sake. For when I am weak [physically], then I am strong [spiritually].

Some of the most difficult situations in life make us strong. Strength in the spiritual life. We are content with all of those things that drives everyone else crazy. We can have this on a daily, moment by moment basis. We have the idea of how we want to be treated. We know exactly how we want to be treated. And we will get disappointed and even crushed. We need the ability to offset these things. The source of our strength is impersonal love through the Christian life. This is practical. This is one of the great doctrines of the Bible. If we do not care about personal relationships, then tune out. Adversity and conflict are inescapable. Unless you are a hermit who lives out in the desert, then you have adversity and conflict. Conflict and adversity are inescapable. With impersonal love, it need not become inflamed to the point of being an abiding injury, no matter how deep the conflict goes. Impersonal love does not let personal situations get out of hand. We do not get caught up in uncontrollable anger.

To see a person using impersonal love commands their words and circumstances under conflict. What an advantage. Have you ever been in a business dealing where someone just makes you so mad you cannot handle it? You learn how to deal with it with an relaxed mental attitude.

There are techniques to impersonal love which will be developed in you. Impersonal love is a result of spiritual growth. It generates flexibility and objectivity. You aren't reacting; you are thinking ahead. You are looking down the road. You need this to read individual persons and difficult situations. We respond to antagonism instead of reacting.

If you just react, then the decision making is taken right out of your hand. You make things worse when you just react. People often respond to your conciliatory attitude. It is humility when someone attacks you. Some will look at you and step back and determine what is going on; they might even forget that they are mad at you.

What happens when you are verbally abused by someone. They let go on you and you get in a verbal battle with a spouse or a friend. Or a political argument; that will set you off. Your ego gets pierced and emotions begin to flow with what gets said. Particularly when you are close to a person; they know exactly how to jab or stick a knife into you. The injury is worse when a friend or loved one says these vicious things to you; much more than when an enemy says the same things.

You want to retaliate with equally bitter and cruel words. "I can melt you like a piece of lead under fire." Some are just more glib than others. The tendency is to speak your mind in nasty, retaliatory terms, and you unload all of that anger. But for the other person, it is nothing more than further injury. Antagonism gains you nothing more than more antagonism. When you come back with your perfect argument and they come back with something you don't expect. There is no end and no solution in sight. Like many marriages. That is when conflict rules your life.

You are injured and you think that only your injuries are important. Impersonal love motivates restraint and it deflects your sensibilities and conceit. This sort of thing should be done without rancor and without anger and without raging emotions. Communication, yes; retaliation, no. A line is drawn in the sand. Sometimes, you might have to hold your tongue from time to time. It may require some prudence and some correct mental attitude from time to time. People are not stupid; they can see your mental attitude. You reap what you sow; if you sow nastiness, you will get nastiness back. Humility is such a necessary ingredient in impersonal love. You always wear your feelings on your sleeve. This does not occur with humility.

We are here in church for spiritual growth. All we need to gain personal love is spiritual growth. People want this impersonal love right away; but this goes right along with growing spiritually. It is incremental; it takes time to renovate your thinking. You have grown up your entire life in human viewpoint. How much doctrine does it take to crack that human viewpoint? You will never think in terms of impersonal love until you crack that humanism with divine viewpoint. Jesus is describing a way of thinking; a mental attitude; do you think that the world thinks like this?

What is this rationale of applying this to a very obnoxious person.

Impersonal Love Rationale

1. God treats us in grace all the time, and we do not deserve it even slightly. Logistical grace, dying grace, living grace. We have it and we do not deserve it.
2. In the same way, we apply God's charitable policy of undeserved favor toward others. With doctrine, we become attuned to the way that Jesus Christ thinks.
- 3.
4. You have His grace policy in our soul, which we have become oriented to.
5. We become increasingly tolerant and sensitive to the weaknesses of others. Too often we recognize the weakness and we want to attack them in that way.
6. Our attitude in conflict is tolerance. Our thinking has adapted to His grace procedures. Can you imagine what Jesus should have done to those people who surrounded him and expressed their hatred in so many ways? Glorification of God and fulfilling the plan of God for our lives. In there is peace, happiness, and contentment in our souls.
7. In this way, our thinking parallels the mind of Christ. Now we know what the mind of Christ means in us. It is more than just information; it is our life. How do we think? If we think with humanism and without impersonal love, then we are what we think. Instead of taking offense at personal abuse, we hold back and we do not reciprocate. Our eyes are not on yourself. God is a dwelling place and underneath are the everlasting arms. Nothing can assail you.

Aren't you being simplistic? Don't you know what goes on our there? How about antagonism which has been deep and abiding. Grudges have been cultivated; circumstances where a husband and wife have developed so much hostility over years and years of steady conflict. We learn to possess clarity and objectivity, where before, there were only emotions and belligerence. There is so much to set aside when we have such deeply held angers.

The solution is always the same. It is not the power of positive thinking. That does not change one's thinking. It only masks one's thinking. The basic problem in the soul still remains. Nothing has changed.

More on the Impersonal Love Rationale

1. Impersonal love manifests itself in a gradual renovation of thinking in the mentality of the soul. This is not showing up for one motivational speech and you leave the auditorium feeling pretty good and motivated. Everything is changed now and I am going to be able to deal with this.
2. Doctrinal application and glorifying God become more important to our way of thinking. Even more important than human justice. Things will never be right; not in human terms. We have sin natures; utopianism doesn't work. Humanistic thinking will not change our lives. Human justice is not important as impersonal love in your soul. There is only one justice that is absolute and matters. He is still in His Supreme Court of Heaven. Where do you put your trust? Not in human justice; in His justice. You apply doctrine so that you can apply personal love.
3. You come to recognize the grace of God is more powerful than getting even for personal injury. Or more important than exacting justice from the unjust. Do you think that those who persecute you and attack you, do you think they are happy people? They have to be miserable to attack us in these ways.
4. We cannot file a lawsuit for personal injury or defamation of character. We have the most litigious society ever. When that attitude of impersonal love is in us, the other person does not bother us. What has been said and what is done does not bother you. And sometimes, people respond positively. No one wins in court except for the lawyers. We are fulfilling divine mandates and the matters are in the hands of the Lord.

We can be in no better place. We are in the best position to live without stress in the soul. That is what impersonal love offers to us. We will face all sorts of corporate and personal conflicts in the future. Will we live in turmoil? Will we be upset until the end of November and beyond?

Lesson #0303

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

8/1/2012 Wed

We are getting the doctrine of impersonal love directly from Jesus Christ. He used the function of impersonal love more than any other person on this earth. Impersonal love was so necessary for him to simply navigate His life. In our current study, we are delving into the mind of our Lord Jesus Christ.

This is an unconditional, impersonal mental attitude. We tend to think of love as something which someone does for us or to us. It is a mental attitude; it is how we think. It is the virtue that we have in our soul. Personal love is weak.

We develop impersonal love through the inculcation of Bible doctrine. This is what we do, night after night and day after day. This is our ticket to this wonderful, fantastic ability to virtue of the soul. We give that love to someone else. The object of our love does not earn or deserve that love. It is all on our shoulders. No one can demonstrate personal love if they are not a believer in Jesus Christ.

Impersonal love is impossible for the selfish, self-centered arrogant person. There is little virtue in the soul of an egotistical believer. Narcissism manifests carnality. How can you be arrogant and develop impersonal love. Impersonal love is the exact opposite of arrogance. Only the believer with humility and grace orientation is truly capable of this wonderful impersonal love.

We think of Who Christ is and how unapproachable His actions are; we are capable of His love because He pioneered the Christian life. We have the mind of Christ. It isn't the power of positive thinking. There is a whole renovation of thinking, and this only comes step by step. How is this impersonal love manifested in the life of the believer who is growing to spiritual maturity. This is your reciprocation to mistreatment. It is a response with courtesy and tolerance. Impersonal love is characterized by that mental attitude. Remember this adage and we will understand the nature of man and why we are always under the gun in relationship to others. We will never escape mistreatment in life. If you are in contact with any person, then you have mistreated. Reaction to that mistreatment is a choice; it is an option. Impersonal love is anti-reaction.

People have a veneer of humility, then when the right circumstances occur, it quickly is peeled away, Jesus Christ has provide grace for us in every possible way. With genuine humility, the believer can be relaxed and have stability in his soul. In impersonal love, he will not reciprocate in kind. We so often want to give back to people who have given to us in the same way. These are developed by spiritual growth.

We are human and imperfect; so impersonal love does not mean that we are impervious to a backlash of emotion. We all have an ego and it can turn self-centered in a heartbeat. Spiritual maturity does mean that we will no longer have some agitation in the soul. But we will have some emotional response and we can and will react to others who mistreat us. We cannot let that natural reaction of the sin nature blossom into further sinful reaction. Do not let your initial angry response continue.

Impersonal love is spiritual anger management; the most effective kind of anger management. Anger is not only a sin, but it becomes the motivation for many other violations and sins. Impersonal love curbs that. That is what it is designed to do.

Eph. 4:26 [Psa. 4:4 says], “Be angry [i.e., at wrongdoing. See Mark 3:5], but do not sin” [i.e., by harboring bitterness or retaliation]. Do not allow the sun to go down while you are still provoked.

There is no future in emotional revolt. This is why impersonal love is so critical. Avoid the bitterness that comes with mistreatment; avoid the pettiness and the vindictiveness that happens when you react and that revenge modus operandi. What peace is there in all of that. What do you gain from all of that? Let me make you unhappy and I can smile again. Such people have miserable souls. We have the ability to stay well clear of that.

The anger can break out and it is extremely hard to put it out. You can continue the spiritual life or continue to go down that road. To develop impersonal love is the spiritual life in the way that most believers do not understand. They talk about what ought to be, but they do not understand the difference between personal love and impersonal love. Bobby has experienced that; he thought that was a joke, but it happened to him.

You can become your own worst enemy. Reaction to our enemy does not calm our own soul; nor does it calm the soul of the one who is our tormentor. We can overlook verbal abuse and the deep frictions which come with adversity and conflict and actions that are taken against us.

You can only calm the situation down by using impersonal love. If the other person does not reciprocate, then you still have peace of soul in the face of maltreatment.

There is a very important rationale; when dealing with an adversary, it is always in the hands of the Lord. He brings relief in that kind of adversity.

Col. 3:15 You should let the peace given by Christ rule in your hearts, since you people were called [to be at peace] in one body [i.e., the church]; and you should be thankful.

When a believer places his confidence in the Lord, he can withstand and actually flourish in any personal relationship, whether a friendship or whatever. There are times when a mother and father may want to kill their children; but impersonal love kicks in, and you present the right discipline at the right moment. When you get angry, the child reacts. When you stay emotionally even and explain to them what you are doing, they will appreciate that.

When dealing with lame workers, you do your job as unto the Lord. People do a half-assed job. You need impersonal love. It is critical. The Company Commander tells you something that you don't like. Working yourself into a revolt is no solution. In leadership, you cannot afford to react. You cannot afford to be vindictive and implacable.

Impersonal love is the most powerful love that there is. With this attitude, you love your enemy, no matter what they do.

Personal love always fails in the face of discord, contempt, conflict, injustice, discontent and confrontation. Impersonal love does not retaliate against those that you love personally, which is a bonus. Jesus Christ demands that we have this. It is not an option; this is a great part of our spiritual life. This was quite important when Jesus had to deal with the pharisees and their legalism. He knew it was wrong and He was persecuted by them; but He was also patient toward His disciples, who had very thick heads.

The cross was the greatest demonstration of impersonal love in the history of mankind. We can emulate this attitude. We are all sinners. We can emulate His attitude. That is what His impersonal love reveals. It is His attitude of our Lord throughout His life. It was His attitude toward His friends, toward loved ones, and toward those who hated Him as well.

If you have ever been slapped, you want to get back at them. But Jesus says to turn the other one to them. Without a mature spiritual life, this makes little sense. The verb to turn is the aorist imperative of στρέφω; a gnomic aorist does not refer to time. Not an imperative of command. The basic imperative is a mood of command; this does not quite have that impact. It is an imperative of entreaty. It is timeless but urgent appeal to live the spiritual life. It is requiring the hearer to apply impersonal love.

Impersonal love applies to everyone. At one time or another, we have conflict with someone. We undoubtedly step on each other's toes. The more contact that we have with someone, the greater our need for impersonal love. This helps to maintain personal love. Anyone who slaps you does not much care for you. This is an urgent timeless appeal to live the spiritual life and apply the doctrine of impersonal love to those who oppose you.

Matt. 5:39 but I say to you, Do not resist the evil; but whoever strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other to him also.

This is exactly what the Lord Jesus Christ will do with His enemies; continuously apply impersonal love to them. Turning the other cheek to them on the cross is the maximum demonstration of impersonal love. Jesus took 6 trials and was found innocent in every trial, but He was beaten, abused, spat upon, humiliated, etc. He did not protest, He did not cry out. He did as Isa. 53:7. How could He not scream at these people who arrested Him with a trumped up charge, and yet abused Him as no one had every been abused. The only way that He could do this is to apply impersonal love.

Jesus looked down at them from the cross and said, "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing."

Impersonal Love Applied by Jesus Christ

1. Jesus turns the greatest human injustice into our salvation. No one was every mistreated more than this. This occurred during His entire public ministry.
2. His death on the cross was the greatest demonstration of impersonal love in the history of mankind.
3. It also demonstrated God the Father's impersonal love for all mankind. He sent His beloved Son to die. Jesus was sent to die for the worst person who has ever lived.
4. Christ showed this impersonal love even for those who put Him to death; to those who executed Him without a real charge.
5. This is the power of impersonal love. And you cannot use this with someone that you have a little squabble with? You ought to be able to handle this with a fight with one of your friends with a little impersonal love. How can you handle the big things, like the election coming up.
6. His love originated in the mentality of His soul and the strength of the Holy Spirit. Isaiah prophesied that He would stand without words and endure all of this.

7. Impersonal love was a great part of the spiritual life that our Lord pioneered. This is what He demonstrated.
8. This same spiritual life that we have to develop and accomplish impersonal love, we are capable of impersonal love, if we continue to advance to spiritual maturity.

When you use impersonal love, you don't have to be embarrassed; you just have to wait on the Lord; His justice is true justice. It shows greater strength to not retaliate. Test your impersonal love by driving around in traffic. There are crazies out there bent on killing us just to have your lane and to be one car ahead of you.

Impersonal Love and us

1. No believer is authorized by the law of an eye for an eye. Our Lord was correcting the pharisee concept of an eye for an eye. This law was reserved for the enemies of the pharisees. No believer was authorized to react with revenge.
2. We do not demand satisfaction for our injury. Turning the other cheek is not demanding satisfaction for injury.
3. You do not demand justice for injustice. That is in the hands of the Lord. Underneath are the everlasting arms.
4. Impersonal love thinking directs us not to respond or react in kind; not to give back what we get.

We do not take punches until we die. This is personal injury. This is not the abrogation of self-defense. Jesus did not defend Himself from incredible human abuse because He came to die for us. You don't start anything; and you do not have to defend yourself against a verbal attack.

Retaliation is a defeat for your spiritual life. You can only overcome such difficulties by the use of impersonal love.

When you demonstrate impersonal love, it is a great witness to the world. They see something in your that they cannot have.

This is directed to those who would do you harm.

Let's say that you sustain a physical injury in the attack; what about a permanent injury. There are a lot of troops who come back from Afghanistan and Iraq who are severely injured, missing limbs. Do you seek retaliation or vengeance? No. Even with physical harm, you do not hold a grudge or demand satisfaction. You are the one to suffer the consequences. When you retaliate, you lose in your soul.

Take the sport of football. Your opponent is looking to hit you as hard as he can. You might get injured in this sport. Do you desire revenge and do you try to injure them in return? No. You recognize the circumstances that you find yourself in and you move on. But there are football players who are like that.

Retaliation and Injury

1. If someone injures you, you do not retaliate.
2. You recognize doctrine and not the injury. You substitute doctrine for anger and hatred and retaliation. You can withstand injury without retaliation. You just move on.
3. Otherwise, bitterness and vindictiveness will destroy you. You will make your injury worse. It will multiply in your soul.

Matt. 5:39 but I say to you, Do not resist the evil; but whoever strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other to him also.

In the next verse, we have someone who wants to do your harm but in a legal way. If anyone wants to sue you. We are an incredibly litigious society. There will be lawsuits over the Aurora tragedy. They will have lawsuits just to get money. If anyone wants to sue you and take your shirt, let him have your coat as well. This is an attitude that you do not find very often.

Matt. 5:40 And to him desiring to sue you, and to take your tunic, allow him also to have the coat.

What about Lawsuits?

1. The court case is about material things.
2. A coat represents material things.
3. Someone takes you to court to get monetary compensation for whatever and today, it could be an exorbitant amount. In many lawsuits, the payment is beyond the expectation.
4. Our assets are being taken from us in a court of law. This is serious adversity. There is great emotional reaction. These are things that we could have the most difficulty with.

Settle up with Them

1. It's only money. Well, I don't want to give it up to someone
2. If they are seeking your shirt, give them that and more. Whatever they demand; give to them. Negotiate; settle.
3. Settle it even if it is to your disadvantage. Do whatever you can to settle such a suit.
4. Ask them what they want; the shirt off your back and your coat, give it to them. Material things are those things that those people value most. This is something being taken away that is very important. This is not an attitude to be found very often. This is what Jesus appeals to us to do.
5. Humility and impersonal love and confidence in logistical grace is your outlook in these circumstances. When someone is about to relieve you of money that is not theirs, think logistical grace.
6. Money is never this issue for us. It is always the application of impersonal love.

7. Logistical grace; God owns the cattle on 1000 hills, so you have a lot of wealth. So, do you think that God cannot provide for you? Money is not the issue. What has been taken from us, God can resupply, even when faced with a legal pickpocket.
8. You may not have to apply this doctrine; even to those who want to take your money? This is a solid mandate. If you lose material things in a lawsuit, then you must maintain an attitude free of mental attitude sins and take the loss.
9. The blessing is far greater in using impersonal love that to win the lawsuit. What people think is a loss is not a loss to you.

Does this mean that you must give away all of your assets in a legal settlement to the point that you are impoverished? Do we join the ranks of those begging? That is not necessary in this principle. Jesus did not say strip down naked. You are still wearing some clothes. You still have pants. Something is left if you reconcile.

1Tim. 5:8 But if anyone does not provide for [the needs of] his own [relatives], and especially for his own [immediate] family, he has denied the faith [i.e., the fundamental beliefs of Christianity], and is worse than an unbeliever. There are times to settle. It is expensive to defend yourself and it is problematic that you might lose. And a lot of what you get goes to attorney fees. You must look out for your family.

It is not about the money. When you are willing to spend a lot of money for little or no return, it is about anger, implacability, and vengeance. You want to see the other party squirm. Without impersonal love, you will damage yourself. When you go to court like that, you are throwing yourself upon the decision of a 3rd party. You are throwing yourself on the wisdom or the lack of wisdom of another person.

Common Sense, Impersonal Love and Reconciliation

1. Common sense and impersonal love say reconcile.
2. Sit down with the antagonist, probably with a lawyer present and negotiate a settlement and take a loss. Don't impoverish yourself; but take a loss if necessary.
3. Even if you lose money, you do not need to impoverish yourself. So defend yourself to some degree. Some people do not want to settle; they want their pound of flesh.
- 4.
5. God can make up any losses that we incur. Impersonal love will save you anger, rancor and perpetual anger. You know what happens when you turn into the person who is constantly angry; you chase after happiness by trying to make others miserable. They injure others because it makes them happy. They are filled with bitterness. Impersonal love is designed to preclude this kind of bitterness.
6. You will reap exactly what you sow. In reconciliation in attempting to reconcile with the other party, the other party can be satisfied without the tremendous rangling and endless hostility. If you sow conciliation you may reap reconciliation.
7. That is your obligation in apply impersonal love to your opposition. That is our obligation. We are obligated to apply impersonal love toward our legal antagonist.

8. The antagonist who sees impersonal love and grace orientation just may respond in kind.
9. If they don't, at least you have demonstrated the grace of God toward them.

Matt. 5:40 And to him desiring to sue you, and to take your tunic, allow him also to have the coat.

This passage does not require us to give away everything. If we do lose everything, our attitude does not change. We do not fill our souls with anger and bitterness. God's grace does not forget ever the person who applies impersonal love under these sorts of adverse circumstances. We cannot apply these because He will never leave us or forsake us. It may not be easy, but it may not be the things that we want supplied.

Lesson #0305 Matt. 5: 39–40 1Cor. 6:7 Life of Christ 8/5/2012 1Sunday

Jesus gives 4 illustrations for “Do not resist he who is evil” or “Do not resist the evil person.” Jesus is not telling us to ignore evil in general. We are not to ignore it in our culture, in our government, or where it affects the safety and security of our nation. Speaking the truth of Bible doctrine and living the truth of Bible doctrine is what we ought to do; and this is what our Lord did. We are obligated in that way to follow in His footsteps. So, we do resist evil in that way. So, Jesus is not saying, do not stand against evil in general.

A president of founder of Chick-fil-A and he took a clear stand against homosexual marriage and he has done so based upon Jesus Christ. Rom. 1:21 ...because, although they know God, they do not glorify Him as God, nor are thankful, but become vain in their reasonings, and their stupid hearts are darkened. This could refer to unbelievers or to believers in reversionism. These are people who have rejected the absolute truth of the Word of God. Therefore, his thinking becomes empty of conscience and mores. He becomes strongly deluded with evil. Rom 1:22 Professing to be wise, they become foolish, They think that they are so wise, so progressive. This is the person and society which rejects absolute truth and accepts only the ever-changing, evolving standards of this world. They claim this human wisdom, which is folly and absurdity; and is therefore evil. If your standards change, to even antithetical standards, there are no real standards to stand on. That is the world that we live in. Rom 1:26 For this reason God gives them up to vile passions. For even their women change the natural use for what is contrary to nature. God permits these fools to have their evil thinking and their degrading passions. Rom 1:27 Likewise also the men, abandoning the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust toward one another, men with men performing what is shameful, and receiving the retribution within themselves, the penalty which is fitting for their error. Men burn in lust for one another. Homosexuality and lesbianism is sin. Relative standards remove sin from the vocabulary. If there is sin, the standard changes. There is, in those people, desolation in their evil thinking. The actions carry in them the evil that it reflects. Personally and nationally.

Some of you may not like to hear that because you are tolerant of homosexuality. The whole concept of homosexuality and lesbianism is evil. You do not hate that person; but you do not condone that which they do. If these acts are degrading and evil, then clearly gay marriage is also evil. This is not a matter of equal rights or civil rights. These “rights” should not be extended to degrading passions. Speaking against reversionism and pervasion is speaking against evil in the culture. This showed moral courage in the man who heads this fast food chain.

Not resisting the evil person is not the same as resisting evil in society. God honors such moral courage in the soul. We should always have moral courage, based on the absolute truth in our souls.

V. 39 is not applied to our soldiers.

Matt. 5:39 but I say to you, Do not resist the evil; but whoever strikes you on the right cheek, turn the other to him also.

The non-resistance to evil is clearly understood by the illustrations which are then given. The means of not resisting is what we have been studying for the last few Bible classes or church services. If you know anything about impersonal love, you understand how it works.

The evil which is not resisted is that which is directed to us personally is not to be resisted.

The second illustration comes with v. 40, which is the loss of material things; it deals with someone who takes your things from you.

Here it gets very personal. If they are going to sue you for your shirt, also give them your coat. This is not a literal shirt and coat, but metaphorical to the things of life. Here, you are being taken to court unjustly by someone who is trying to take your things away. Your financial assets are being threatened. This situation often brings out the worst in people.

Matt. 5:40 And to him desiring to sue you, and to take your tunic, allow him also to have the coat.

This verse describes our correct response to such an event. If they are seeking your shirt, give them that and give them more. Settle the suit, even if it is to your disadvantage. If you have to get rid of your coat too. It is only money. If money can solve the problem, then it is not a problem. It is just money.

Bobby is presenting a grace principle. “Is this a situation where you can pay your way out of it?” “Yeah.” “Then it’s not a problem.” Bobby adds, “I’m not talking about bail.”

This is a perfect way to demonstrate grace. We have confidence in logistical grace and this must be our outlook. This is a civil lawsuit where we stand to lose money. God owns the cattle on 1000 hills. This means that God has a great deal of wealth. This is unheard of, untold wealth. God can and will provide for us. No matter what we might lose in a lawsuit or in a bad investment or in fraud. God’s grace and character are behind us.

We need to maintain an attitude free from mental attitude sins and we just take the loss. Showing grace is a part of our witness. We may be dragged into court in order for them to shown the grace of God.

Jesus is not telling us to do something that we cannot do. Suddenly, money, that which consumes and drives us, doesn't anymore. This gives us a break; and we don't have to worry about our money and banks, etc. This is not something that we need to worry about. No matter what happens, God still owns the cattle on a 1000 hills.

Does this mean that you must give away all of your assets in a lawsuit, to a point where you have nothing left? Jesus did not say to strip down. We can keep our pants and sandals. Something is left; and that is part of the reconciliation. If you go to court, some judge could take it all. At that point, you no longer have any control over it any more.

So we do not have to give away everything in order to manifest impersonal love. However, even if we do lose everything in a court battle, our attitude should not change. It is difficult to have impersonal love. It is tough to take the loss and you might hate the person opposing you. You might rather die than give that person a dime; but that is the wrong attitude. There is a spirit of reconciliation. No vindictiveness and you should have a relaxed mental attitude at the outcome.

Matt. 5:40 And to him desiring to sue you, and to take your tunic, allow him also to have the coat.

This verse also teaches us 1Cor. 6:7 Now therefore, it is already an utter failure with you that you go to court against one another. Why do you not rather accept wrong? Why do you not rather be defrauded? You may already be in a defeat when you are involved in a lawsuit. Why not rather be wronged and defrauded. This is not how many of us think. This is a civil suit where money is involved. Avoid lawsuits; do not initiate them. Whatever the outcome, win or lose, the mental attitude of impersonal love needs to continue. 1Cor. 6:8 No, you yourselves do wrong and defraud, and these things to brethren. It is better to be wronged or defrauded. This is much preferable to mental attitude sins.

Don't let the sun go down on your anger. You will have moments of dislike and hatred; and we all have sin natures. We are not perfect. No matter how spiritually mature we are, we still have a breakdown. Do not pile mental attitude sins upon mental attitude sins. If you lose money, then apply the logistical grace rationale.

Lesson #0306

Matt. 5:40 Life of Christ

8/5/2012 2Sunday

Matt. 5:40 And to him desiring to sue you, and to take your tunic, allow him also to have the coat.

This Christian life is not something which is easy. We are being drug into court and someone is desiring to take our money. "You mean to tell me that I give them more than what they are asking for?" The lawsuit is certainly adversity. Stepping into a court of law is nerve-wracking. We deal with every conflict in our lives with impersonal love.

There is also the concept of logistical grace. If someone is trying to take our money from us, we fall back on logistical grace. Our Lord owns the cattle on 1000 hills. He has unlimited wealth. Part of this wealth is ours. We are human and we are under these circumstances, and someone wants to take our money from us. You might have a great desire to make the other person to feel some pain. When we begin to think in the revenge-motivation and the payback idea. The greatest vengeance of all is God's application of justice. His justice does not sleep; it does not overlook injustices or persecution. Man does; man's justice is fallible. God's justice is justice. All things work together for good for those who love God.

When we understand just how great God is, we begin to reciprocate that love. We have personal love for Him and impersonal love toward mankind. When we are in a lawsuit up to our neck and if the end result is not what we want, then God's justice is still in effect. Injustice does not go unpunished. No one gets away with anything. "Vengeance is Mine; I will repay," says the Lord.

When something difficult happens to us, we don't get angry, we don't get upset; we do not manifest mental attitude sins; and whatever happens, this is for our benefit. When we are able to apply grace orientation; and the doctrine of logistical grace, when we are able to see what impersonal love accomplishes in our own soul. If it takes a lawsuit and money lost, then it is well-worth it. What you put in your soul and how you think is what you are. Even if the lawsuit goes badly, all things work together for those who love God. Leave vengeance in the hand of God; leave room for God to work.

V. 40 reconcile; find a meeting ground. As long as the plan of God is more important than money to us, then we are able to apply this. Reconcile with your foe. Logistical grace. What is it? What does it do for you? Logistical grace is a never-ending support provision for the fulfillment of God's will.

Every believer has life support. This explains how and why your lives are preserved. The attitude needs to be logistical grace. Those guarding our freedom in Afghanistan are under life support just as we are. We go home only when He calls us home and not one second before. That is an attitude of courage. When the bullets are flying; when the mortars are coming in; when the machine gun opens up. We are all alive today only because of the grace of God. Our life hangs by a fine thread. We should know this living in Houston. There are a myriad of ways that our lives could end. Yet, God preserves us. What do we have to fear, since our survival is in God's hands? Where is the fear. The fear of death is the greatest fear of life. Death for us is going to sleep; who is afraid to sleep? Death for us is going home, and who is afraid to go home?

God always sustains and protects us in the time that we are allotted to fulfill His plan on this earth. Logistical grace means blessing. Blessing is for every believer in this life. We must know believers who deserve no blessing; and they deserve nothing. Blessing is provided for every believer in this life. Blessing in this life dramatizes everything that God does for us in this life. It tells us Who God is and what He does for us.

God's justice is perfectly fair toward everyone; it is perfectly fair toward everyone. How is it just or fair? Is it just to bless the loser believer, the reversionist, the carnal believer, the one dragging us into court. Since when does anyone deserve any blessing from God, including us? Since when do you deserve it?

God cannot bless anyone who is less than perfect righteousness. It would not be just for God to bless anything other than perfect righteousness. If He did; if He blessed unrighteousness, then His justice has been compromised. So, how can He bless any of us? How is this logistical grace even possible? All believers do possess perfect righteousness. We, who are less than perfect; we do have perfect righteousness. We have been justified. The grace of God and the grace gift is given to us. It is imputed to us. Rom. 4: Abraham believed and it was imputed to him for righteousness. Blessings flow to His perfect righteousness which was imputed to us at salvation. Logistical grace does not depend upon how deserving we are. It depends upon the justice of God and His righteousness imputed to us. It is all about what God does for us; it is never about what God does for us. Biblical Christianity is all about what God does for us.

Logistics are distributed to soldiers, no matter if they are good or bad soldiers. So, as a member of God's unit, we all get logistical grace. This applies to even carnal believers. And a part of this package might include divine discipline. Logistical grace never stops and it is never over. We live and we die by grace.

Divine provision for our sustenance, which is what we need for all of our temporal needs. My God will supply all of your needs according to His riches. God must sustain us and He will do so until we die. Matt. 6:25–34, the not-to-worry passage.

Everyone of us can think of an adverse circumstance in our lives where the logistical grace of God is a rationale that we can apply at any given moment. God keeps us alive for every moment until we depart.

In a lawsuit, we may have to give us some material possession that they do not deserve. We do not want to give it to them. But God gives us logistical grace, and we don't deserve it. God wants to give us logistical grace. Therefore, think grace orientation during the process. Give them your shirt and give them your coat. This is better than going to court.

Never Forget this Principle

1. No matter what the loss is, you are still under God's logistical grace support. No matter what you have done. God's grace never leaves us. There is a point of logistical grace that we can apply. If you are on death row, you may not be applying any doctrine. One of the great reasons for capital punishment is, when you recognize when you will meet God, then you have an incentive to find out who God is. There are men who have prison ministries and these people in jail listen and grow.
2. You never lose when you apply Bible doctrine, even if you lose some material things. That is logistical grace.

3. You will realize in all of this that humility and the application of impersonal love are much more important than any material loss. The money that comes out of our pocket in a lawsuit is nothing by comparison. We might go through a lawsuit in order to see what these things are all about. God may give us material things and He may take them away. If you lose materials, you may think you lose everything, but the plan of God tells us that we lose nothing.
4. We demonstrate grace in face of arrogance and egotism, which we might see in court. To demonstrate grace orientation and this is why we are here. We are not here to make a cajillion dollars. God has a reason in His plan for doing so. This is to glorify Him.
5. This is to demonstrate impersonal love in the face of antagonism. This glorifies God; and the epitome of antagonism is facing off in a court of law. We must face an adversary, someone who wants what you have and wants to take it legally from you. This is why the Lord Jesus Christ uses this example. This hits us all right between the eyes.

Matt. 5:40 And to him desiring to sue you, and to take your tunic, allow him also to have the coat.

Final Principles

1. You cannot be so attached to material things that it supercedes logistical grace rationale. What is your priority? What should it be? Growing to maturity and living the spiritual life. Everything else is secondary.
2. When you entertain bitterness, it brings you to the level of your adversary.
3. Impersonal love exceeds any expectation that you have of self-vindication and revenge. Wouldn't revenge feel great with such a person?
4. Impersonal love exceeds disappointment when your assailant does not demonstrate any compassion or amnesty or common sense. You will demonstrate those characteristics that they lack by using impersonal love. Then you have heaped coals of fire on their head.

Bobby is not promising no adversity; he is promising no stress. We utilize impersonal love. We think with grace orientation. This is the most wonderful existence that a person can have.

Lesson #0307

Luke 5:41–42 Life of Christ

8/8/2012 Wed

The mechanics to accomplish all of this is the use of impersonal love. It is the only way that we can accomplish the incredible exhortations found in the Word of God.

Matt. 5:41 And whoever shall compel you to go one mile, go two with him.

Aggeruô means to press into service. Originally a Persian word. Our Lord was probably speaking Aramaic. It is like Hebrew, and there were many variations of ancient Hebrew with words brought in from many other languages.

Our Lord's words were spoken in Aramaic but written in Greek. The Jews were captured by the Persians and kept there for 70 years. Daniel and the Jews found themselves under the empire of Darius I, and therefore, they took many words from the Aramaic.

A law of impressment in the Persian empire. The king could draft people into service and they had no choice in the matter. They had to function in service to the king of Persia.

Here, the idea means to be drafted; it means to ride a mile for the king as his messenger. He was pressed into service. If he rode one mile, he ought to be prepared to ride a second mile. He may have preferred to do other things, but he was impelled by law to ride until he was told not to.

There was a draft many years ago, into WWII, the Korean War and the Vietnam War. Many in Bobby's generation answered the call and many did not. There were conscientious objectors. Some fled to Canada and were later pardoned by one of our lesser precedences.

Some would be drafted as a courier and your own resources were a part of this. Those who heard Jesus use this word, it meant to be pressed into service for the government. What did Jesus mean?

What Did Jesus Mean?

1. This was a call by our Lord to go above and beyond one's normal effort.
2. If one was conscripted to ride a mile, then go ahead and go two miles.
3. A believer in the Lord Jesus Christ stands above the rest. We do not have conscription today. There was no shirking no hiding from being pressed into service. Why do I get all of the lousy jobs?
4. The believer was to go even further; he was not to stop when the minimum effort had been exerted. This was not the guy to keep his head down. The believer is ready to go that extra mile. The Lord was talking about service to Him.
- 5.
6. This is the idea of the second mile, even when you don't want to or you don't feel like it, or you don't like the people you are working with. This was a call for His disciples to stand out in service to Him. When you have to work with goldbricks and you have to do their job, it is a distasteful thing. You do your job and you go the extra mile. These shirkers who do not go the extra mile will not like you. You show them up for the worthless people that they are. This is where impersonal love comes in. That is where the doctrine of impersonal love must be applied. You have an obligation to the Lord; and it is not an obligation that you fulfill out of personal pride or out of a desire for self-promotion or self aggrandizement. You act out of grace orientation and personal motivation. There is no additional report for you.

The people of Berachah have sought out the tougher duties. There were a row of pictures of all those who had been in Ranger training. This is representing this principle of service. Sergeant Mattoon a few months ago. He remembered several of the troops that he spend 5 years with him. The troops from Berachah Church stand out. You ought to stand out in whatever service or duty you are involved in. That is as good a witness for the Lord Jesus Christ, because it speaks volumes.

You may resent the idlers or those who persecute you for doing your job well; but you cannot have resentment if you apply impersonal love. You lose when you engage in hatred and angers. If you harbor those kinds of mental attitude sins, because of the goldbrickers, and you resent them, then you have not fulfilled the principle of the second mile. The motivation in your soul is so critical in everything that you do. When you are excelling at your job, you will do it as unto the Lord. You will accomplish it, no matter who opposes you, no matter how difficult the circumstances are. You will not hate the king or the army or your co-workers or your boss. The second mile servitude does not get accomplished unless you have the proper attitude. Spiritual service is involved with impersonal love, you will function above and beyond. Service to the Lord; not self-service and not as a goof-off. That is your motivation for going the second mile.

For many people, it is not required, and so they don't do it. You see something that can be improved upon and you do it.

For the Christian, that extra mile is doing this job to the best of your ability.

Matt. 5:41 And whoever shall compel you to go one mile, go two with him.

Oh, no! I have in-laws and friends who are always hitting me up for money. And here they are, asking for your help. Δανιζω means to borrow money; and we usually think of this as being a loan with conditions. But this is not referring to such a thing. This does not refer to a formal loan from a bank or a credit union. This takes from your own resources; you are the bank in this case. This is charitable assistance from one individual to another. Help to someone who is down on their luck. It is giving a helping hand. This is not about getting a return on your money.

There is no interest collected. This is not borrowing in the classic sense, where there is interest. A gracious friend lends the money and says, "Don't worry about paying me back." It really means giving a person money who needs it.

Matt. 5:42 He asking you to give, and he wishing to borrow from you, do not turn away.

We don't like giving our money to someone who does not deserve it. We give to those who are in need, without strings, and with a gracious mental attitude.

A friend of Bobby's is well-to-do; and some squander their money and some ask for a substantial sum. "You have it and I don't; so give some of it up for an old friend." And for some, you want to say, "You had money; you unwisely spent it on frivolous things; so why should I throw good money after bad? Why should I help anyone who is irresponsible?" But this is no grace. The maturing believer thinks with an attitude of graciousness. In many cases, you still give in an attitude of grace, and you do this even when you know they have squandered money. Giving money to a person in need is an act of grace. Giving money to make them dependent is what the government does and a problem.

Explaining Matt. 5:42

1. Giving money is without expecting to make any.
2. Monetary grace.
3. This is grace in action.

Caveats

1. You are not obligated to give all of your money away.
2. It is not about the money. It never is. It is only money. The idea is giving grace. What do you think grace is? We all deserve hell. We are all condemned. God has offered us everything at the cross and we do not deserve it. We receive all kinds of things from God without deserving any of it. What can we give back?
3. If the principle of grace is to be served, nothing should be expected in return.
4. No matter the amount given, what counts is the attitude involved. This is individual giving on the grace principle. This does not extend to a corporate level. This is individually motivated from the soul of the believer. We are the one who gives money where it is needed. The giving comes from our soul. This does not mean government checks to those who do not work and refuse to work. It is not the government money; it is our money that they take and redistribute. It is not done in the grace principle. Something is always expected in return. It is to buy votes. There is no grace in that. This is not a corporate principle. Continuing the payments of welfare is destructive to a person. Grace lifts people. Welfare destroys a person's incentive and self-esteem. Dependency on govt breeds a loss of self-respect. Giving to an individual, it is charity; charity is not a govt dole. The government claims to be compassionate. But dependency on the government is enslavement.

Fulfilling this verse is grace. The believer responds to someone in need because God has responded to him as someone in need. The principle is, the issue is, grace and impersonal love are the issues; not monetary resources or being one who deserves the money.

Jesus can teach this because He is completely gracious.

Matt. 5:42 He asking you to give, and he wishing to borrow from you, do not turn away.

Lesson #0308

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

8/9/2012 Thurs

We have learned how to handle being slapped on one cheek and turning to them the other cheek. We have seen having a lawsuit filed against us. We have seen about being pressed into service to walk a mile, to go two.

We are coming up to an illustration not understood by the pharisees and the disciples as well. They had gone with a faulty interpretation of the law. The concept of loving your enemies, which is the epitome of the application of impersonal love. It is part of what we as believers must do. This is one of the bedrock principles of the maturing spiritual life.

The principle of impersonal love is one thing. It is one thing of understanding how it is to work; but to view it and apply it is much more difficult.

Having an Attitude of Impersonal Love

1. If you have an attitude of impersonal love, then you will have a much simpler life; a relaxed mental attitude.
2. To live with doctrinal orientation.
3. We will be able to live with the ability to utilize all of the other problem solving devices. They are found in the second half of freedom through military victory.

Luke 6 also contains portions of this; and there are pertinent passages which fit together. The order in which they are placed reflects a logical arrangement. The authors did not collaborate on writing this. Bobby will try to put these together. He will give an arrangement in which we will study these verses.

Matt. 5:43–44 You have heard that it was said, “You will love your neighbor” and hate your enemy; but I say to you, ‘Love your enemies, bless those cursing you, pray for those who mistreat and persecute you,’

This is the pharisee viewpoint versus our Lord’s viewpoint.

Luke 6:29–30 To him who strikes you on the one cheek, offer the other also. And from him who takes away your cloak, do not withhold your tunic either. Give to everyone who asks of you. And from him who takes away your goods do not ask for them back.

These 3 illustrations are applied to believers who can apply this to their enemies. The one who slaps you is your enemy; the one trying to take your coat is your enemy; and the one wanting your money or good, you do not ask for it back.

Why would anyone want to operate in this way toward enemies? It makes more sense to hate you enemy, as the pharisees interpreted the law. These are you enemies; they want to do you harm.

Matt. 5:45 so that you may become sons of your Father in Heaven. Because He causes the sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the just and unjust.

Jesus gives a rationale at this point. God always provides logistical grace, for the good and for the bad and the ugly without any discrimination. Regardless of who we are or how we act or how we are toward anyone else. This is how God is toward everyone. God has many more enemies than we do. Every unbeliever and reversionist believer is an enemy of God. And God provides for these people without discrimination. Believers are exhorted to think and to function as God does. We are exhorted to be imitators of God. We also are to be gracious, to the deserving and toward the undeserving.

Jesus used His impersonal love toward his 1000's of enemies during His lifetime. He utilized the exact same spiritual life in His humanity. This is why Paul can say, be imitators of God. Be imitators of Christ. We must extend grace using impersonal love toward friend and foe alike. This is a rationale that our Lord uses for impersonal love toward our enemies. If God's grace goes this far to provide logistical grace for His enemies, and it does; and if we are grace oriented and able to think with divine viewpoint, then we, as imitators of God must extend grace and impersonal love toward all.

Think of your greatest antagonist and think of how you might apply this doctrine, you begin to see the power of impersonal love. You may think there is no way that I will be able to do these things for that jerk. They are the epitome of the undeserving. This is exactly what our Lord is talking about. We are sons of our Father who is in heaven. So we must be chips off the old block.

Then Jesus reasons with them.

Matt. 5:46 For if you love those loving you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax-collectors do the same?

Matthew was a tax gatherer, and these were a hated group of people. They can love their friends. What is the big deal with personal love? Anyone can do it. Even the tax gatherers can love. If you greet your brothers only, how is that different from anyone else? Don't the gentiles do just the same?

Matt. 5:47 And if you only greet your brothers, what exceptional thing do you do? Do not the tax-collectors do so?

The Jews spit the word out, goy. These pagan gentiles, despised by the Jews, were excluded from Judaism. So this was a religious slur as well. The Jews were absolute enemies of the gentiles.

The gentiles can even love personally. That is how unremarkable personal love is. Everyone can do it. It is certainly not the means of dealing with enemies.

Luke 6:32–34 For if you love those who love you, what thanks is there to you? For even sinners love those who love them. And if you do good to those who do good to you, what thanks is there to you? For even sinners do the same. And if you lend to those from whom you hope to receive, what thanks is there to you? For even sinners lend to sinners to receive as much back.

Personal love is spread throughout the human race, regardless of what their status is. Do good to those who do good to you, what credit is that to you? Anyone can do a good deed to those who do good deeds to them.

There is no charity to lend to others to get money back. The reference to sinners means the unbeliever.

What Is Jesus Saying?

1. Gentiles, sinners, unbelievers can do good, love and lend to other gentiles, sinners and unbelievers.
2. As long as they direct these actions towards people that they personally love.
3. So personal love has no bearing on the Christian way of life. If everyone can love personally, what bearing does that have on the spiritual life? Unbelievers can only have personal love. Personal love toward God is a problem solving device; but personal love for mankind is not a problem solving device. Personal love can be painful; and that is where impersonal love kicks in.

What Is the Point Jesus Is Making Here?

1. How can personal love be the highest manifestation of interpersonal relationships? It can't be. Most of the world thinks that personal love is the highest good. The rest of the world is completely in the dark about this. Personal love has nothing to do with the enemy.
2. How does the unbeliever fair when faced with enemies that he does not personally love? He fairs badly. It is nose-to-nose, slap for slap, take them to the cleaners in court. That is where personal love is weak.
3. What resource does the unbeliever call on if he has no spiritual life? He has no resources, so personal love fails. He cannot love his enemies; he can only hate them. That is the best he can do. He cannot take in doctrine; he cannot be filled with the Spirit; he can only have hatred.
4. Personal love falls far short of what impersonal love can do. In the rest of the world, there is only personal love. Can you imagine if all it is you must hang onto is personal love for others? Even those you love can be enemies from time to time. Do not be so enamored with personal love; it takes you nowhere. Impersonal love takes you everywhere. You want a relaxed mental attitude? Impersonal love. You want to apply grace of this world to your enemies, the key is impersonal love.
5. Christ points here toward the incredible power of impersonal love. This means your personal love is firing on all cylinders.
6. Where the spiritual life shines, impersonal love replaces the weakness of personal love. Personal love is still there; you can still have a great personal love for someone. You cannot have personal love for an enemy, but you can have an impersonal love for him. You can have this without the turmoil of soul with the anger, hatred, bitterness, etc. You have the capability not to do this. This means that you do not have to retaliate; that you do not have to be in constant turmoil. You can heap coals of fire on your enemy who hates you and wants to hurt you. Coals of fire; shame on them. And everyone can see the difference between you and those who do not like you. You are not sleepless at night, regardless of all the antagonisms that you have in life.

Then Jesus sums it all up.

Luke 6:35 But love your enemies, do good, and lend, hoping for nothing in return; and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High. For He is kind to the unthankful and evil.

Luke 6:36 Therefore be merciful, just as your Father also is merciful.

What about the enemy of my country? Those trying to take my freedoms?

Then the summation.

Matt. 5:48 Therefore, you be perfect even as your Father in Heaven is perfect.

We have a lot to sort out. This is an overall description of where we are going. There is no more important study than we have done over the past 9 years than impersonal love. Or, it is just as important as anything that we have studied. This is where our life gets very practical. None of us lack antagonists. There are so many people who do not like us.

Our lives will be wonderful, even in the face of antagonism. We will learn how to love our enemies.

Matt. 5:43 You have heard that it was said, "You shall love your neighbor" and hate your enemy; Lev. 19:18

Matt. 5:44 but I say to you, Love your enemies; bless those cursing you, do well to those hating you; and pray for those abusing and persecuting you,

Matt. 5:45 so that you may become sons of your Father in Heaven. Because He causes the sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the just and unjust.

Matt. 5:46 For if you love those loving you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax-collectors do the same?

Matt. 5:47 And if you only greet your brothers, what exceptional thing do you do? Do not the tax-collectors do so?

Matt. 5:48 Therefore, you be perfect even as your Father in Heaven is perfect.

The Eucharist: The first deliverance is from hell; the second deliverance is from sin in time, and the third deliverance is from our corruptible bodies. Our understanding of the grace of God is dependent upon this three-fold deliverance. This spans the time from our regeneration through our Christian life and into eternity.

2Cor. 1:9–10 Yes, we had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves but in God who raises the dead, who delivered us from so great a death, and does deliver us, in whom we hope that He will still deliver us,...

Eph 2:1–2 And you being dead in trespasses and sins, in which you formerly walked according to the course of this world, according to the ruler of the authority of the air, the spirit who now works in the sons of disobedience,

God cannot overlook sin; we are all involved in the sin of Adam. We have all acquired his genetic nature. God cannot have fellowship with anyone who has this inherent sin nature.

God can only judge us. However, He did not leave us in this hopeless situation. He provided for us the death of Jesus Christ, our solution to sin, the cancelling of this debt is called expiation. It is the cleansing of the sin which separates us from God. We cannot expiate ourselves. We cannot accomplish.

That substitutionary death occurred when God the Father laid the sins of us all upon God the Son. No one could have accomplished this salvation. He was the only one who could propitiate God the Father. In His death, Jesus fully satisfied the demands of God's perfect righteousness and justice. He was the only One Who could redeem man from the slave market of sin. When Jesus Christ said on the cross, "It is finished." He was on the cross for 6 hours, and then He cried out, "It is finished." The barrier of sin was removed from us forever.

As a result, every believer can enter into His rest. We rest our case on His redemptive work. That is the first deliverance of sin. Deliverance from the penalty of sin is not a matter of spiritual growth. It is the matter of acceptance of what God provided for us.

1Cor. 2:14 a natural man does not accept the things of the Spirit of God because they are foolishness to him. He cannot understand them because they are spiritually appraised. 35 times in the New Testament, faith is given as the means of our salvation. Believe is given 150 times as our sole response to what God has done.

It is not "Believe and be baptized." Paul wrote, God did not send me to baptize but to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ. If a person had to do so much as to wiggle his little finger to gain salvation. Salvation is by faith in grace and nothing else. There is nothing that a man can do or offer for his own salvation. No matter how many lifetimes a person lives, he could never merit even one moment of heaven.

2Cor. 1:10 who delivered us from so great a death, and does deliver us, in whom we hope that He will still deliver us,...

However, after salvation, the believer succumbs to his sin nature. God has provided a deliverance from the power of the sin nature. A lot of Scripture is devoted to receiving daily deliverance from the power of the indwelling sin nature. We often fail to appropriate the sources that God has provided for us to live the spiritual life.

Deut. 1:8 Behold, I have set the land before you; go in and possess the land which Jehovah has sworn to your fathers; to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; to give to them and their seed after them. For us, this means for us to take possession of the spiritual life that God has given us.

We stand on the gospel and the spiritual life which He has given us. You make God's Word resident in your soul. Daily deliverance depends upon holding fast.

It is the spiritual growth from doctrine in the soul which increasingly removes us from the power of the sin nature. Psalm 119:11 Your Word I have treasured in my heart that I may not sin against You. The Word of God is our deliverance in this life.

And He will yet deliver us [from our temporal lives into the future]

In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet, when the dead will be raised imperishable, we will all be changed. This mortal will put on immortality. Then will come upon the saying, "Death is swallowed up in victory."

There will no longer be a sin nature in us; our bodies will not wear out. That is the total future deliverance that we can all anticipate.

So the full plan of God is found in 2Cor. 1:10. Positional, experiential and ultimate deliverance.

God demands that impersonal love be executed even toward our enemies. What we are studying is this impersonal love. What Jesus mandates, He provides a way to do it. The result is a relaxed life without stress and turmoil in our souls. We are graced out and we are doctrinally oriented, and we can use divine viewpoint to solve problems. That is our solution; God's solution, so that we can inculcate doctrine in our souls. We will share the happiness and contentment of God Himself. That is a joy not dependent upon circumstances but it is rather a happiness that is enduring and self-sustaining. It is an attitude that takes precedence over all. Most people think on happiness based on personal love and stimulation and pleasure. And they see anything else as unhappiness; but that is not the happiness of God. God is never unhappy.

On the cross, Jesus Christ never lost His peace of soul, under maximum adversity. He had the peace of God that goes beyond all understanding. No enemy will control your attitude. That is one of the purposes of impersonal love. You want exactly the opposite. You don't want them to have the satisfaction. So no enemy will do so when you have impersonal love. The end result is exactly what your mission is here on earth. You get to glorify God through your impersonal love. You will have enemies. Enemies bring adversity into your life. But when you hate them back, you want revenge and retaliation. You become vindictive and implacable. That is the road to misery.

Lesson #0310

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

8/12/2012 2Sunday

impersonal love for an enemy.

Matt. 5:43 You have heard that it was said, "You shall love your neighbor" and hate your enemy;
Lev. 19:18

Matt. 5:44 but I say to you, Love your enemies; bless those cursing you, do well to those hating you; and pray for those abusing and persecuting you,

Luke 6:27 But I say to you who hear: Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you,

Luke 6:28 bless those who curse you, and pray for those who treat you abusively.

Luke 6:29 To him who strikes you on the one cheek, offer the other also. And from him who takes away your cloak, do not withhold your tunic either.

Luke 6:30 Give to everyone who asks of you. And from him who takes away your goods do not ask for them back.

Matt. 5:45 so that you may become sons of your Father in Heaven. Because He causes the sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the just and unjust.

Personal love and impersonal love are compared.

Matt. 5:46 For if you love those loving you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax-collectors do the same?

Even tax collectors have personal love.

Matt. 5:47 And if you only greet your brothers, what exceptional thing do you do? Do not the tax-collectors do so?

Luke 6:32 For if you love those who love you, what thanks is there to you? For even sinners love those who love them.

Luke 6:33 And if you do good to those who do good to you, what thanks is there to you? For even sinners do the same.

Jesus is presenting a case for impersonal love. Investments are not signs of loving others.

Luke 6:34 And if you lend to those from whom you hope to receive, what thanks is there to you? For even sinners lend to sinners to receive as much back.

Luke 6:35 But love your enemies, do good, and lend, hoping for nothing in return; and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High. For He is kind to the unthankful and evil.

Luke 6:36 Therefore be merciful, just as your Father also is merciful.

Matt. 5:48 Therefore, you be perfect even as your Father in Heaven is perfect.

In context, Christ is still teaching the pharisees who are there; or refuting what the pharisees taught.

All of their lives, the disciples had been exposed to the teaching of the pharisees.

Lev 19:18 You shall not take vengeance, nor bear any grudge against the children of your people, but you shall love your neighbor as yourself: I am Jehovah.

It is the Lord's intention to refute the apostasy of the pharisees. Loving your neighbor is just not those with whom you have personal love for.

Hate your enemy is not something taught anywhere in the Mosaic Law. The hatred phrase was a rabbinical interpretation of the Law. The rabbis taught love for one's neighbor, particularly for other Jews. They also taught hate for one's enemies. There was a practical reason for this. They manipulated the Law for their own purposes. They took the rule of Law and made it into their own rules. They did this for political reasons. The shadow of Rome was over Judah. This had been true for many conquerors during the history of Israel. The rabbis and scribes and pharisees wanted the other Jews to hate Romans just as they did. They were the original liberation theologians.

Here Is Why They Added "Hate Your Enemies"

1. The religious leaders wanted to be free of the yoke of Rome. They could not stand the Romans. They remembered the Maccabees. They want to throw off the slavery to Rome.
2. Just as the Jews were slaves to the Egyptians, they taught that the Jews were slaves to Rome (although they were not). They taught liberation, but not spiritual liberation.
3. They believed in a coming Messiah as a political liberator; a revolutionary. They did not see the Messiah as one to deliver them from their sins.
4. They sowed hatred against their oppressors to prepare the people for the messianic revolution. The super-Maccabees. This is the same kind of hate that we see today in liberation theology. You hate all authority but your own. Hate all other races because they oppress you. Religion always sponsors hate for those who do not accept it. We can include humanism in that as well. Islam and the Koran views those outside of Islam with hatred. We are seeing persecution of Christians in this country and it comes directly from religion. Titus marched into Jerusalem and killed hundreds of thousands of Jews and the Jews were scattered all over the world after that. Jews are all over the world. They destroyed themselves through religious-sponsored hatred. Only the regathering by our Lord will be the true regathering of Israel.

Jesus, their true Messiah, gave them every chance to be accepted by God. We are not looking for a political savior; no man can save us because he is elected. Our only salvation is believing in Jesus Christ and then renovating our thinking.

Hating enemies is not keeping the Law; it is unrighteousness. This is exactly what Jesus refuted on the Sermon on the Mount. It is religion and phony law-keeping that will put Jesus on the cross. Biblical Christianity is the only solution.

Application. We are supposed to love our enemies, and we understand that individually. What about the enemies of our nation? What about those who would destroy us? Who would take away our freedom internally and externally. Our attitude toward them is impersonal love, and it still applies. We may oppose them but we do not have a right to hate them.

This is what we did with regards to Japan, Germany and South Korea.

Impersonal love always applies, whether to individuals or to groups. We may not be able to apply impersonal love to such individuals. As a group, as a nation, we do not hate them either. Hating the enemies of our nation is not an exception to love your enemies. We cannot hate those of other religions, nations, nationalities; even when they threaten our freedom. That is the importance of impersonal love. This is about us personally. If we can have individual turmoil and have no peace of mind, because of one person who is a miserable sod, don't you think that the same attitude toward the enemies of your nation will do exactly the same thing.

Some of us are so concerned about the coming election that we cannot sleep at night. Oppose what is evil and speak against it; absolutely. They are our enemies, but don't bring yourself down with hatred.

The Jewish teachers loved their Jews but they hated the Romans, their enemies. They distorted Lev. 19:18.

Is impersonal love compatible with a soldier who kills the enemy in combat; or who opposes an oppressive government. You can do your duty as a soldier to fight and to maintain freedom of a nation; you can oppose an oppressor in your own nation. However, even in combat, your personal attitude toward the enemy should not be hate or any other mental attitude sins. They are souls for whom Christ died. He died for them just as He died for you. You can be a most effective combat soldier or even a political operative. You do not engage in mental attitude sins toward your enemy. You can calmly and effectively squeeze the trigger on a firearm and feel nothing but recoil.

The difference between the French and Russian revolutions and our war for independence. Those other revolutions replaced one tyranny with another greater tyranny. The U.S. War for Independence threw off tyranny, did not destroy them, and replaced them with the rule of law. An Ann Coulter article. Mental attitude sins in combat can lead to criminal atrocities. Instead of concentrating on defeating the enemy in battle, you do something else, which can be labeled an atrocity. Guerilla warfare is a chosen profession for some in Vietnam and in Iraq. The insurgents are the ones who often carry on outrageous atrocities. Guerilla warfare takes on many forms. Unseen enemies who plant bombs in a road and kill, and do this in the name of Islam; they kill each other. Civilian combatants, women and children used as human shields. Even in conditions like this, our attitude must be impersonal love. Love your enemies is not set aside to avenge such circumstances. Impersonal love is the rule of your life, no matter where you are. No matter what circumstance you find yourself in. It is the life mandated by God for each one of us.

This allows a soldier to return with a clear conscience. It allows a leader to keep the unit together; to operate with a cool head. A leader can lose his cool. You can end up with the massacre at Me Li. This is one of the few times that American soldiers have done this. Loss of control of the emotions in leadership. You must maintain good order and get the mission accomplished.

Good examples from Hollywood. Saving Private Ryan, Band of Brothers; leadership that is non-emotional. The believer accomplishes this with impersonal love. Impersonal love is pertinent to every area of our life. Every area of our life where an enemy is concerned requires impersonal love in our souls.

V. 43 will tell us what Jesus will refute; the misrepresentation of the Law; those who taught that you must hate your enemies. What it means to hate and what it means to have impersonal love. You cannot afford to lose impersonal love.

Matt. 5:43 You have heard that it was said, "You shall love your neighbor" and hate your enemy;
Lev. 19:18

Paul was able to write what he did because he functioned on impersonal love. And it is not beyond our capabilities. You do not have to like your enemies; but you must not have a soul filled with mental attitude sins.

Lesson #none	Luke 5: Life of Christ	8/15/2012 Wed
Conference;
Lesson #none	Matt. 5: Life of Christ	8/16/2012 Thurs

The pharisees were teaching that Lev. 19:18, but the neighbors that the Jews were to love were other Jews. They were also taught to hate their enemies, which would be the Romans.

The distortion that was being taught was the addition of, you will hate your enemies. The pharisees understood the Law, but they just added some things.

Matt. 5:43 You have heard that it was said, "You shall love your neighbor" and hate your enemy; Lev. 19:18

But Jesus explains.

Matt. 5:44 but I say to you, Love your enemies; bless those cursing you, do well to those hating you; and pray for those abusing and persecuting you,

But Jesus did not stop there. He does not stop even there; he introduces something which is strictly impersonal love.

Luke 6:27–28 "But I tell you who hear: love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, and pray for those who mistreat you.

3 Imperatives of Entreaty

1. This is the overall concept of impersonal love. That is the love that He is talking about, one of the most difficult types of love to understand and to execute. These are not options; these are mandates. Not many hallelujahs when Jesus said these things.
2. This is the epitome of how Jesus thought; He was revealing how He thought about His enemies. Jesus had to imply impersonal love. These people were dense. Often they were scratching their heads, wondering, "What is He talking about?" The Jews did not really get what He was teaching at first. This was tough for the disciples because they did not like the way that the pharisees treated our Lord. Jesus also showed endurance and patience toward those who hated Him and those who would kill Him. In doing so, He demonstrated impersonal love. Have you ever faced the situation of giving the gospel to someone you hate or who hates you.
3. This does not mean that you do not confront or refute the opposition. Jesus certainly refuted them. He said that they were liars and hypocrites. However, He always had impersonal love toward them. You can stand for the truth against those who are anti-truth, and still have impersonal love. Remember this in the upcoming political season. The religious leaders were as political as any group had ever been. These were the epitome of religious/political leaders.

4. Jesus accomplished His mission relying on impersonal love. Impersonal love was the herald of the truth of His message and of His Person. When the world saw impersonal love, they understood Who He was. The people in Palestine watched these confrontations with great interest. They had not seen anyone deal with their enemies like this before.
5. The spiritual life that Jesus left us; and with that spiritual life, we are capable of the same characteristics, albeit imperfectly. The more impersonal love that you can show, the greater witness that you have. Even your enemies notice. Witnessing to an enemy is one of the greatest things that a person can have. You do not want to wish anyone to go to hell. You would not want to wish this on your worst enemy.
6. Further, this impersonal love is a herald to the world of what Bible doctrine in the soul can do. It is a witness to those around you. Not just a witness to unbelievers, but to those very immature believers. When their emotions do not work with enemies; and yet, they can see you in control. There is also the tranquility and peace and the relaxation that we get from exercising impersonal love. Do not compartmentalize your spiritual life. It should not remain here. Most of your spiritual life is spent on the job or in the home. Do not walk onto the job and think, my spiritual life is for church. Our spirituality is not private. How many times have you heard people say, "My spiritual life is private (or personal)."
7. At one time or another, almost anyone can become antagonistic to one another. Christmas and Thanksgiving. This is the problem solving device between friends and loved-ones. This is necessary in all your relationships. That is your life for friends and enemies.
8. Impersonal love is the way for us to demonstrate the mind of Christ. The world tells us thousands of ways to resolve our problems and our personal interactions. This is the way to solve all of our problems. You only hear this from the pages of the Bible.

People today have no idea what it means to do good to your enemies. Believers who try to exercise this apart from Bible doctrine are people who have learned to cultivate the perpetual smile. It is dark. If they lack doctrine, what they are thinking is dark.

Application of Impersonal Love

1. Doing good is not reciprocating hate for hate. Anger is a tough mental attitude sin to deal with, particularly if you have a hair trigger temper.
2. What is doing good to someone who hates you? You return benevolence for hate. You return kindness for anger. It is kindness for vindictiveness. All you can do without Bible doctrine is give a vacuous smile. Impersonal love is entirely possible for us because we have the same spiritual life and the same Bible doctrine that our Lord had resident in His soul.
3. We reap what we sow. That is a Biblical truism. It is found in the Old and New Testaments.
4. If you return hate for hate, it comes back at you as implacability. You get entrenched hate.

5. If you return anger for anger, it sows indelible antagonism. This could give you an enemy for life if you cannot respond with impersonal love.
6. Any resolution may become doubtful and it is impossible if you continue to reap mental attitude sins. You sow them and you get them right back. Unless the other person has impersonal love, in which case they heap shame upon you.

As a believer, we cannot live the Christian life without impersonal love. When hatred take over our soul, we cannot solve any problem apart from impersonal love toward our enemies. This hatred is stress. This is not something that we need to have.

Matt. 5:44 but I say to you, Love your enemies; bless those cursing you, do well to those hating you; and pray for those abusing and persecuting you,

Luke 6:27–28 "But I tell you who hear: love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, and pray for those who mistreat you.

Then it becomes even more difficult. We are to bless those people who hate us. We are being verbally abused. To bless means to speak well of someone. We are being cursed and we are to speak well of them. We return verbal abuse with calm and accommodating words. That means no gossip. You fail the test if you say nothing and then run to your friends and give this person a tongue-lashing. There are a lot of legal loopholes that we attempt to use.

Shouting matches solve nothing, even if you do feel better for a moment.

If the antagonist screams at you, reviles you, curses at you, conciliatory words must come from your mouth; graciousness instead of verbal retaliation. Some of us have been taught to put up with nothing: when you are hit, hit back harder; when you are confronted, do not take a step back.

How utterly this is true where personal love is involved. Impersonal love preserves personal love. Holding that grudge after someone has done some evil to you are pointed out one of your failures, or an accurate appraisal of you.

Luke 6:27–28 "But I tell you who hear: love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, and pray for those who mistreat you.

Lesson #0312 Matt. 5:43–44 Luke 5:27–31 Life of Christ 8/19/2012 2Sun.

We have one textbook in Berachah Church, and that is the Bible. Bobby does not have absolute truth; but the Scripture gives us that.

We are studying impersonal love, which is very difficult for all of us. Those who confess their sins publically, "An usher will come and take them out." Well, usher them out.

Matt. 5:43 You have heard that it was said, "You shall love your neighbor" and hate your enemy;
Lev. 19:18

Matt. 5:44 but I say to you, Love your enemies; bless those cursing you, do well to those hating you; and pray for those abusing and persecuting you,

We are to pray on behalf of those who antagonize us.

Impersonal Love and Prayers on Behalf of Our Enemies

Many of us pray, but we do not often pray for our enemies. We pray for ourselves, our friends and loved ones, and circumstances that we want.

1. Prayer for enemies is a demonstration of impersonal love. Impersonal love does not depend upon the attractiveness or the merit of the object. Otherwise, you have mastered the fine art of a perpetual smile. Do you think that Jesus was grinning from ear to ear when throwing the money changers out of the Temple? But, that does not mean that He lacked impersonal love. He was showing the world the doctrine in His Own soul. Impersonal love is demonstrated by Jesus at first. Prayer is a soulish and verbal demonstration of impersonal love.
2. The type of prayer is petition and intercession for the other party, the enemy in this case.
3. The type of prayer that we do not use and are not authorized to use, is what we call imprecatory prayer. Those who mistreat and abuse you. This is generally defined as a prayer offered to God where retribution or justice is demanded for hostility toward us. "Kill them, Lord." "Make them hurt as badly as I do. Beat them up, Lord." We do not pray for God to bring disaster on others. Bless those who persecute you (Rom. 12:16). Who are we to bring justice upon them. We leave this in the hands of God, Who is benevolent. Punishing a child is not a matter that you want to hurt them. You do it to get their attention, correct bad behavior, and set them straight. God does not do these things to make us hurt; He wants what is best for us, as we would with a child.

There is the petition. Personal relief and deliverance from a persecution. This is not a wrong prayer at all. We are to pray for the good effect of our impersonal love on our antagonist. Pray that they will understand the conciliation that we offer in the face of hatred and vindictiveness. Pray that will have an effect upon them. Hate for hate bring nothing but more hate. Anger for anger brings a greater escalated anger.

Our prayer of intercession with impersonal love; pray that the viciousness and destructiveness of their persecution will become apparent to them. It will not stop unless the person actually can see what it is that they are doing. Pray that their minds will be changed in their attitude toward us. Pray that rational thought will replace irrational anger. We must not address our prayers with a mental attitude of hatred and anger. That just means that we are out of fellowship. Anger and hatred is our motivation. God will not answer prayers because we are angry and we want Him to do some damage to your enemies. There is an attitude of prayer, and when on holy ground, we must we clean, which means rebound.

We can also pray for the removal and the defeat of the enemies of your nation. That is a corporate prayer for a nation. That is on behalf of the entire nation, as long it is not from the motivation of hatred for your enemy. Your mental attitude, no matter what you ask, is critical. Any mental attitude sin is harmful to you and you alone.

We should pray for those who protect a nation. Pray that they are successful. Pray for the soldiers in the field who protect our freedoms. Pray for the portions of our nation which have become degenerate. God directs His discipline on a nation, and we need it. Remember where our deliverance lies. Cursed is the man who trusts in man. How does one politician or a group of them change a person's thinking. Only individuals can change their own thinking. This is only be the renovation of their souls by the teaching of Bible doctrine. We might survive if we can renovate our own souls. However, God will discipline the nation whose pivot is failing.

Luke 6:27–28 "But I tell you who hear: love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, and pray for those who mistreat you.

Luke 6:29–31 To him who strikes you on the cheek, offer also the other; and from him who takes away your cloak, don't withhold your coat also. Give to everyone who asks you, and don't ask him who takes away your goods to give them back again. "As you would like people to do to you, do exactly so to them.

This passage is parallel to what we have already studied.

Person singular often manufactures problems. Impersonal love solves them. The burning question is, who among us can accomplish such a seemingly impossible instruction. "I don't get this impersonal love? How can you love your enemies?" Jesus Christ would not give these instructions if they were not possible to execute. Jesus is not blowing smoke; these are not things we cannot execute. He has provided the means and the instruction for our spiritual lives. This isn't that hard. This is simply about our spiritual growth.

Impersonal love advances as our spiritual life advances. Grow up spiritually is what we are called upon to do. As we have doctrine resident in our soul, we have the resources necessary for the Christian life. Our Lord is speaking of the fundamental assets of the spiritual life; this is what He demonstrated throughout His life. Grow up! As a child, you cannot wait to grow up. At age 5, you cannot think the things that adults think about; you do not have the capacity.

These things from the Sermon on the Mount do not just happen when you are a child, spiritually speaking. Only human viewpoint says, "Love your enemy" is impossible. Divine viewpoint is what is contained in the Word of God. Impersonal love is what loving your enemies looks and acts like. We are capable of these things, but not quite to the perfection of Jesus Christ.

Every time Bobby does a wedding, he reads 1Corinthians 13:4–7 Love is patient and is kind; love doesn't envy. Love doesn't brag, is not proud, doesn't behave itself inappropriately, doesn't seek its own way, is not provoked, takes no account of evil; doesn't rejoice in unrighteousness, but rejoices with the truth; bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. This is all about impersonal love. Enemies and antagonists dwell on how they have been slighted.

As people's thinking changes, so their standards change. The virtue stability of tranquility of impersonal love. These things are not possible through personal love. Only impersonal love allows what these characteristic speak of.

What Do We Learn from this Passage?

1. Impersonal love takes precedence over faults and flaws of others.
2. It overcomes our own faults and flaws in dealing with other people. We fail to take into account how others see us. "Why do I need to change? I'm cool; I'm good."
3. You will not be brought down through cruel intolerance,
4. The believer who applies impersonal love will not be distracted by stress, pressure or persecution. That makes life wonderful. Without these things, we have peace and tranquility.
5. We are to imitate the pioneer spiritual life of Jesus Christ. He had all of these qualities and we can have those same qualities.

This is not being wimpy. Kindness, patience and compassion. This is powerful, unique, life-altering, and attainable.

The purpose is given in this verse:

Matt. 5:45 so that you may become sons of your Father in Heaven. Because He causes the sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the just and unjust.

We too can provide logistical grace and impersonal love to those who are our enemies. That is the purpose that we may be sons of the Father who is in heaven.

Lesson #0313

Luke 5: Life of Christ

Bobby has spent quite a bit of time on impersonal love from various portions of the Bible. This is a bedrock principle of the Christian way of life. This is God's approach to all interpersonal relationships. We cannot live on this planet without relationships with other people to a greater or lesser degree. We have antagonists and we all have enemies to one degree or another. Nothing can bring more enjoyment or reward or more testing or more anguish than these associations. God has initiated and Jesus Christ has demonstrated impersonal love toward all mankind. It is a love that does not depend upon the merit or attractiveness of the object of love.

Impersonal love is important because it depends upon our virtue. The very important product of our spiritual growth and our spiritual life. Impersonal love is the spiritual life solution to the problems that we have of testing and antagonisms, and it is applied to friend and foe alike. We handle the antagonist through impersonal love. There is no more open demonstration of the benefits of the spiritual life than the attitude and the demeanor of impersonal love. Impersonal love is a wonderful witness to the power of Bible doctrine which is resident in your soul and its application to relationship adversity. We always think of witnessing for the Lord; we must present the salvation to those who are lost and those who need the salvation message. But nothing is more noticeable than our life.

The closer somebody is, the more that they try to manipulate you. We all have the propensity to try to control or manipulate others. There is always the harassment and abuse by others; the obvious conflicts and confrontations that we have naturally with people.

Introduction to Impersonal Love

1. With impersonal love, we can rise above other people's mistreatment of us. We want to get down in the muck and wrestle with them.
2. You can exhibit the relaxed mental attitude in conflict that is inherent in applying impersonal love. If you are slapped on the cheek, then turn the other cheek.
3. You can treat other people in the way that you want to be treated, even though they maltreat you. That is the way of thinking in impersonal love. That is only possible when you make application of impersonal love.
4. Impersonal love takes precedence over the faults and flaws of other people. You can see the faults and flaws in others easily.
5. Impersonal love overcomes your own shortcomings and flaws in dealing with other people. We tend to concentrate on the flaws and imperfections of others, but we do not always recognize that we have them as well. There is a tremendous advantage to place yourself in the place of other people.
6. By applying impersonal love, you will not be encumbered with certain mental attitudes like cruel intolerance.
7. The believer who applies impersonal love is imitating the Lord Jesus Christ and imitating or applying the spiritual life that He pioneered during the 1st advent.
8. As a believer applying impersonal love means you will repay insults and antagonism with kindness, patience and humility. These are wonderful qualities. The most difficult time to apply them is when you are in a conflict with someone that you do not like very much.
9. This impersonal love is a powerful, life altering, unique and attainable experience of the Christian life. It is one of the greatest experiences of the Christian life.
10. As great a benefit as it is for us personally, there is another purpose for us in impersonal love.
11. This is unique. The unbeliever and carnal believer cannot exercise impersonal love. Matt. 5:45

Matt. 5:45 so that you may become sons of your Father in Heaven. Because He causes the sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the just and unjust.

God provides logistical grace for everyone, the good and the bad and the worst. This is a rationale for us to love our enemies.

Impersonal Love Rationale

1. Grace orientation and impersonal love are inseparable. When you think with grace orientation, then you are able to function with impersonal love. This is truly the bottom line of the Christian life and is essentially to your spiritual maturity.
2. We must live by the same logistical grace and impersonal love that God showed towards His enemies. We have that capability. We must demonstrate this to the evil and to the unrighteous. We are imitators of God.
3. Just as God shows grace toward believers, who are the good, and the righteous, those who have been justified, so also does God show grace and impersonal love toward the enemy. When the disciples hear what Jesus is teaching; and when anyone believe in Jesus Christ, they become sons of God. That means that you are part of the royal family of God. Since believers are already sons and we have been justified, we are immediately sons by position. We may be the black sheep of the family or the epitome of what our parents want us to be, but we are still family. We are mandated to live as sons of the Father. We must imitate our royal father. We are part of His family. Our purpose is to live with experiential righteousness, the same spiritual life that our Lord used.

Two principles of v. 45: the believer's life should reflect his position as a son of God; and no one can take that away from you. However, that is just a position. We must always have and utilize the spiritual life. There is no greater reflection than utilizing impersonal love as sons of God. Impersonal love is one of the most critical doctrines from the Bible. This is a reflection of our sonship.

If you want to know what impersonal love truly is, you just follow Rom. 5:8 God demonstrated His love for us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. God demonstrated love toward His enemies, which is us. This includes impersonal love which sent His Son to die for our sins. Could there be any greater demonstration of His love toward us. Did we merit it? Not even a little.

If you want to test yourself, then demonstrate impersonal love toward that meanest, most vicious person that you know. How is it working in those that you cannot stand?

We must think like our father and we must like our father, albeit imperfectly. We must become chips off the old block. Christ names impersonal love as a way to fulfill the mandate to imitate God.

Jesus says we must love our enemies; and the rationale is, He causes the sun to rise on the evil and the good and sends rain to the righteous and the unrighteous.

What Does this Mean?

1. God provides logistical grace to the evil as much as He does to the good.
2. He provides sunlight and rain to the righteous and the unrighteous.
3. If God provides logistical grace blessings for His enemies as well as His friends, then we must follow His lead in interpersonal relationships. This is practical because this is the way we are to live. God does not mandate a way for us to live unless we are able to live it. Living the Christian life is the best way to live life.
4. Impersonal love becomes a logistical grace blessing which we can extend toward our enemies.
5. We must provide logistical grace for friends and loved ones alike.
6. This is God's grace toward us. So we show it toward others.

Personal love is inadequate by itself. What is the big deal for loving people who love you? The tax gatherers are the that people hold their noses and look away.

Matt. 5:46 For if you love those loving you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax-collectors do the same?

If you embrace your brothers, what are you doing that is greater than others? Don't even gentiles do this too/

Matt. 5:47 And if you only greet your brothers, what exceptional thing do you do? Do not the tax-collectors do so?

The pharisees taught for the Jew sto hate the gentiles and to hate their Roman occupiers. Their idea was to love those near and dear to them. "Hate your enemies" is the false addition to what the Bible says. So you love someone personally, do you think that makes you closer to God? Tax collectors and gentiles do that. Believers should be different and we should be able to love our enemies.

There is no other commandment greater?

The Logic of Jesus with Impersonal Love

1. Pharisees are unable to show the love mandated by the Mosaic Law and then restated by Jesus Christ.
2. Jesus places the pharisees in the same category as the gentiles and tax collectors.
3. Jesus nailed the pharisees over and over again.
4. Pharisees, gentiles and tax collectors can demonstrate love to their friends.
5. However, they cannot carry out the true spirit of the Law.

We have a personal love relationship with God. The more cognizant that we are of God and His function in our lives. Just the circumstances of our life leads us to this conclusion. We do not deserve one moment of it. God never stops loving believers on a personal basis. He provides the spiritual life that we can live and the resources that we can do it. We should never denigrate that love.

And personal love between two people can be a wonderful thing and it can be a fulfilling part of love. It is what we have for family, close friends, even though sometimes these relationships are strained. Personal love is not a by-product of the spiritual life.

If you love those who love you, what reward is that?

Matt. 5:46 For if you love those loving you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax-collectors do the same?

Matt. 5:47 And if you only greet your brothers, what exceptional thing do you do? Do not the tax-collectors do so?

What's the Point?

1. Anyone can love someone else personally.
2. If they treat you in the way that you want to be treated, then there is personal love. To love someone who loves and treats you right is relatively easy. If you have capacity for love, then it may continue; but it does require some reciprocation.
3. Compare that to loving someone who hates you and someone for whom you have great disdain.
4. Personal love does not cover enemies and cannot reciprocate personal love to antagonists. This is not extended to enemies or antagonists. It is reserved for those to whom you are attracted.
5. A person without impersonal love reciprocates hate for hate, anger for anger, dislike for dislike. And when that happens, your anger for anger turns into implacability. Can personal love solve this problem? It is not possible.
6. That is not loving your neighbor as Christ is interpreting it. Christ is commending impersonal love and not personal love. It is the only thing that can accomplish the mandate to love your neighbor.
7. The believer who loves only those who return that love, then he is self-centered.
8. He only loves one who is attending to him and his needs; those who give him attention. For most people, that is the basis for love. Without the exchange of love, that is not the full experience of personal love.
9. Personal love is optional because it is limited to those who reciprocate. You have the option. You do not have to love someone personally. You must have a personal relationship with them.
10. Impersonal love is not optional. It must be expressed toward all. Toward those you love personally and toward those that you cannot stand. Bobby would like to be a pharisee and say, "It's okay to hate those we do not like." But this is the Lord's mandate.

11. If a lowdown scumbag tax collector or Roman can reciprocate impersonal love, then what reward is there for a believer who does the exact same reciprocation of impersonal love. Where is the virtue in that? The unbelieving world does that. Personal love is a wonderful thing but it is not the spiritual life.
12. There is no merit for the believer in imitating the personal love that an unbeliever can do. Personal love is great but there is no merit in it in the spiritual life.
13. How is mimicking what the unbeliever does glorifying to God?
14. God is glorified only by following His mandates and using the resources of the spiritual life. What is the resource of the spiritual life, and carries so much virtue and is the key to impersonal love? God is glorified only by following His mandates and using His resources, which includes impersonal love toward enemies. That is our responsibility. That is our obligation.
15. God is glorified when the believer reflects impersonal love toward enemies. That is the product of the Christian life. Unbelievers are incapable of such a love and of such a life. This is why this glorifies God.
16. God cannot be glorified by duplicating the love of the unbelieving world (or even of the carnal believer).
17. There is no reward in this life for personal love, except for a fleeting personal satisfaction in life (and that may not be the case either).
18. There is a reward for impersonal love that is lasting. This is because it derives from the spiritual life and is divine good. That is rewardable and in heaven for eternity. You cannot express impersonal love when you are out of fellowship or are a carnal believer. Divine good is being in fellowship with the proper motivation and utilizing the resources that God gives us. Impersonal love is rewardable in heaven forever. This is divine good. This is exactly what our Lord is saying.

Matt. 5:46 For if you love those loving you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax-collectors do the same?

Matt. 5:47 And if you only greet your brothers, what exceptional thing do you do? Do not the tax-collectors do so?

Luke 6:32 If you love those who love you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them.

Luke 6:33 If you do good to those who do good to you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners do the same.

Unbelievers are able to pay back good for good. What good is reciprocating a good deed to someone who has given you a good deed? Any unbeliever can do this. Human good has nothing to do with the Christian way of life. The real virtue of the Christian life cannot be simply doing what unbelievers do.

Luke 6:34 If you lend to those from whom you hope to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to receive back as much.

Even sinners give to other sinners if they will get the same amount back or plus interest. Welshing on an obligation is an evil thing. A personal love relationship lends from one person to another expecting it back.

What impersonal love is there when someone has expectations of reciprocating in kind. In that case, you lend to someone with no expectation of return.

No capacity to love means someone is arrogant, narcissistic; and if they get love back, it pumps up their ego, and if they don't, then you are an enemy to them.

The humble believer in fellowship operates apart from arrogance and egotism.

Personal Love and Lack of Capacity for Love

1. The operation of impersonal love from the soul of the believer demonstrates the weakness of personal love.
2. Personal love hinges on the expectation of some return for that love.
3. When expectations are not met, when a person is not loved in the way that they want to be loved, then disappointment and resentment set in.
4. Personal love can diminish or disappear and it can become a problem manufacturing circumstance without personal love. [Impersonal] Love never fails. This type of love is the product of the spiritual life alone. Unbelievers and carnal believers can show personal love, but they cannot live the Christian way of life. Unbelievers think that personal love is the highest emotion that a person can express. Only the advance of the spiritual life can develop impersonal love.

Personal Love

1. Personal love depends upon other persons and how they treat you.
2. There is no virtue or impersonal love when love is based upon how you are treated. Only impersonal love works when you are treated badly. Personal love requires impersonal love every day in order to survive, to a greater or lesser extent.
3. Impersonal love exists regardless of the treatment that you receive. Impersonal love is always available.
4. That can only be the result of a maturing spiritual life.

When we hear the phrase no strings attached means that we give without expectation of anything in return. When you do something for someone, regardless. Impersonal love is grace orientation. Personal and impersonal love. You must be willing to do for others without an expectation of anything in return. Whatever it is that attracted you. No strings attached is a display of unconditional love. Put personal love within impersonal love, and you have the greatest love possible.

Personal relationships cause more problems than anything else. Often people do favors for friends or loved ones and they expect something in return. They are using love or friendship for their own purposes. There is no real love when people love with strings attached; what good is personal love with strings attached? We have a zillion divorces in this country because people are disappointed with their personal love relationships. They get upset, they get tired of the situation, and out they go. With impersonal love, vows mean something, because you can handle all of the lousy circumstances.

With resentment, the personal love relationship will be shattered, and some great loves are shattered when they should not be. We lose one of the great relationships in life. The family is broken apart. They do not want to speak to one another in some families. They have no impersonal love.

Impersonal Love and Relationships

1. Sustaining personal love is dependent upon the character of the people who love.
2. The weakness of personal love is where there is an expectation of a return on investment. Are you a manipulator or a control freak? That is not impersonal love. You cannot have a great relationship when you try to manipulate people. That is a sure fire way to make someone feel trapped and watch them jump out of the relationship. You must have impersonal love not to do that.
3. The combination of grace and impersonal love, "I will do this for the object of my love without hope of return from them." Grace orientation and impersonal love go hand in hand. They are inseparable. "I will do this for the object of my love without any hope of return."
4. That person will come before your own gratification or fulfilling your own expectation. You want gratification; you have an expectation, and they won't carry it.
5. That is the display of personal love backed by impersonal love.

Impersonal love preserves your personal love relationships and makes them better. God provides for us no matter who we are or regardless of what we do. God supplies logistical grace to His enemies. We supply this to our enemies with no strings attached. One person said, that love is a negotiation. Impersonal love is not a negotiation, it is one sided and does not expect to be negotiated.

We are mandated to be imitators of Jesus Christ, and His life was one of grace and impersonal love. This is what our mandate is and that is what is will do for us.

Lesson #0315

Luke 6:35 Life of Christ

8/26/2012 1Sunday

People are very confused about what it means to live as a believer in Jesus Christ. This is the epitome of what living the Christian life is all about. Love is one of the most misunderstood aspects of the Christian life that there is.

Luke 6:35 But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing back; and your reward will be great, and you will be children of the Most High; for he is kind toward the unthankful and evil.

Jesus explains why we as believers are unique. Can an unbeliever exhibit this quality of impersonal love one way or another. Unbelievers can be kind and altruistic and that they can extend kindness toward others. The attitude is what make the believer unique. The unbeliever cannot have the internal perspective found below.

The unbeliever can love those who love back; they can do altruistic deeds for those who seem deserving; but the undeserving? Do good and lend, expecting nothing in return. Impersonal love means an unconditional non-emotional no-strings-attached love. People often extend good to someone other than impersonal love. They want something back, personal glory, patted on the back, gaining approbation or to feel good about oneself. Impersonal love precludes all of this. This is glorifying God by demonstrating grace.

Being kind to ungrateful and evil men is something that unbelievers cannot wrap their minds around. We already studied Jesus and loving those who love us; versus loving those who hate us.

Αγάπη one of the most well-known Greek words, which every believer seems to know. However, this is not the love that most believers know. We are told to keep on loving your enemies. An enemy is someone who does not merit love or even consideration from you. You either retaliate against them or you try to forget them. However, even though they do not merit your love, you still keep on loving them. You do this from the true attitude of doctrine which is applied by us through the power of the Holy Spirit. Loving your enemies is the mental attitude of consideration when, from the human viewpoint, absolutely no consideration is considered. You do not hate the enemy who is in the cosmic system. That is the individual. Loving your enemies is a principle manifestation of impersonal love.

By definition, an enemy is not someone to love. Impersonal love is not dependent upon what anyone does; it is unconditional. Unconditional love may be an entire fog in your mind. You may think, there is no way that I can love this person who is my mortal enemy.

Impersonal love does not mean that Jesus wasn't tough now and again; nor does it mean that our Lord was reticent about calling the pharisees out. But all of this has a purpose. How many of you would like to witness to your worst enemy? You may be afraid of ridicule and you may not want to spend eternity with them.

Impersonal love and graciousness always depends upon who and what you are in your soul and how you are oriented in your soul; and upon the depth of your spiritual growth. This world cannot think in these terms at all. It is all about thinking; and this all comes from being educated. We get it in school for 12, 16 or 20 years of education. We get the same thing in church, ideally speaking. Bible doctrine must overcome all of the garbage in your soul. You must understand the difference between how you think and how Jesus Christ thinks.

The enemy can be all sorts of people, including the people that you live with in your own homes. Where there is conflict in your soul, and between two people, it can be described as an enemy because they are undeserving in your eyes. They can be outside the home or in the home; grace orientation is what we are to be educated to think, and God provides the strength needed to put these things into action. This is exactly what Jesus did in thinking about us on the cross. Impersonal love is the gateway to a fascinating personal love between two people.

In salvation, merit is imputed to us. At faith alone in Christ alone, God imputes to us perfect righteousness. It all began with impersonal love from God. He is free to love us personally. We now have merit where we had no merit before.

God cannot extend personal love to sinners; that would compromise His perfect righteousness and justice. When we develop this same impersonal love as Jesus had for us, we reveal our spiritual growth and glorify Jesus Christ.

Impersonal love is the gateway to fabulous personal love relationships in life. The personal love aspect is always built upon the impersonal love. When impersonal love is lacking, personal love will be lacking as well.

There is a further benefit from impersonal love and when you learn to apply impersonal love; it is glorification of God. That is an obligation that we have to glorify God. This is a representation of His grace and impersonal love toward the world. Impersonal love is one of the greatest witnesses that we can have in life. People will listen to the gospel and look at you and say, "What difference does it make?"

"Your reward will be great and you will be children of the Most High." That is, you will show off characteristics of your relationship. You will be producing divine good in this life, just as Jesus Christ did in His spiritual life. In all of this, you will glorify God in time. For all of this, you will receive rewards in heaven. Impersonal love is a major producer of divine good. If you want to produce divine good, be filled with the Holy Spirit and take in doctrine so that you think with the mind of Christ.

You have your own personal relationships enhanced; and your life in eternity is enhanced because of the rewards that you will receive in eternity for the production of divine good.

Luke 6:35 But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing back; and your reward will be great, and you will be children of the Most High; for he is kind toward the unthankful and evil.

Lesson #0316

Luke 6:36 Life of Christ

8/26/2012 2Sunday

Jesus uses an example that is crystal clear. Be merciful just as your Father is also mercy. We overlook some people who are flawed because they are our friends or family; but we are told here to be merciful and to apply it to all mankind. We are mandated to do this.

Γίνομαι is found here in the imperative mood. It is in the mood of do this. It is unequivocal. This is Jesus Christ using the imperative. He is speaking to the disciples. This is an imperative of entreaty. Jesus has used many imperatives of entreaty.

Jesus is entreating believers to have a specific virtue of God the Father. Οικτιριμος is the word for mercy.

Many people do many acts of compassion and altruism; but what is their motivation? That is where impersonal love comes into the picture. The key is what is in the mind.

Luke 6:36 Therefore be merciful, Even as your Father is also merciful.

cut out at 11:30

Lesson #0317

Luke 5: Life of Christ

8/29/2012 Wed

Luke 6:36 Therefore be merciful, Even as your Father is also merciful.

This is a practical application of impersonal love. Here, our Lord gets very practical about impersonal love. Jesus begins this verse with the imperative of γίνομαι. Be merciful. Οικτιριμος means to be compassionate. True compassion is what we are looking at here. Impersonal love is written all over this verse. God the Father has impersonal love toward all mankind. God demonstrates His love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Part of His love is compassion. It is what impersonal love really provides. We must emulate the compassion of God the Father. This verse has tremendous meaning; it tells us exactly what it means to be compassionate. We can only do this by the application of impersonal love. Compassion is not only misunderstood by believers—this verse has been massacred by many an exegete. Compassion has many synonyms, sympathy, clemency, graciousness, etc. If you look at most of these, these are praise-worthy qualities for anyone to have. They should begin with a mental attitude that manifests itself in your actions. For most people, compassion is a facade; it is a veneer.

Love is misunderstood so compassion is misunderstood. It is not compassion as the father is compassionate. The unbelieving world of humanism cannot accomplish what we find in this verse. We must emulate the Father; He thinks and acts from impersonal love; and that is our obligation.

Adjective: oiktirmôn (οικτίρων) [pronounced oyk-TIHR-mone], which means, merciful. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #3629.

What do we need to look out for? What passes for compassion and mercy in Satan's world than self-aggrandizing activities. People act in a charitable way so that people recognize their deeds. A compassionate deed is done to glorify oneself. Such things are not done for the recipient. It becomes a right thing done for the wrong reason. The wrong motivation makes it wrong. Compassionate acts should not be done in order to receive approbation or for praise. Compassion properly motivated does not demand a return; that is a compassion motivated by impersonal love. Unconditional, non-emotional love.

The world cannot be compassionate toward an enemy. If there is someone who does not merit it, there is no compassion in their soul. We must emulate, imitate the same.

God is compassionate even when reviled by His enemies.

Compassion Cannot Be Legislated or Forced

1. Since genuine compassion is developed in the soul of the individual, it cannot be legislated or mandated by a government or by a religious organization or by an apostate church to a mass of people.
2. Government and religion can only proclaim and demand an overt action. They cannot know what goes on in the soul of the individual, but they can demand and legislate.
3. The motivation and volition of the person must be involved. You have to be motivated and your volition must accept Bible doctrine in the development of impersonal love.
4. The Bible teaches compassion, but even the Bible cannot force compassion into the soul. That is volitionally decided. It cannot be jammed down your throat if you say no to it. The pharisees distorted the Law for their benefit and the law is so distorted today. The morality and the compassion that we are supposed to have.
5. Any real change must come from the inside out. From the mentality or conscience of the soul.
6. No human mandate, the imposition of government or religious legislation can change the thinking or motivation of a person.
7. Such things are true because human mandates and legislation cannot remove the sin nature of man. True compassion cannot be injected into the soul. They can legislate until doomsday and they will not change anything. They can, at best, legislate external behavior.
8. If government or religion cannot legislate compassion, neither can it legislate the larger morality of a people. If it cannot do the lesser, then it cannot do the greater.
9. Where laws are imposed related to morality, the result is loss of freedom. Attitudes cannot be changed by force or legislation. People can change what they do, but that does not mean that they change their thinking. A social engineer will attempt to change a people through nudging or legislation; they think they can bring peace and prosperity to mankind; they are utopians without Christ. They do not understand the sin nature of man or his total depravity. Legislation can bring our a veneer, but the sin nature is still there. Legislators who are social engineers are trying to remake society in their own vision. It occurs everywhere. They think that they can force a change of attitude of an ever-changing morality. How can they enforce something that always changes. Morality has changed dramatically in our country in Bobby's lifetime. There is only one absolute. That is the absolute of Bible doctrine, and the spiritual life. That is much more than the legislating morality.

No one 30 years would ever have thought about same-sex marriage. But the Scripture is clear. Homosexuality is an abomination. Therefore, same-sex marriage is as well. But there is this desire to change this. How will that change your mind? How will that take the doctrine in Romans and make you accept the immorality involved? This does not change the thinking of people. This does not give you license to go out and do harm to homosexuals. That is the danger of trying to legislate morality in a society. Legislation in these areas of morality. They only mirror society's morality. Legislating morality is not permanent, effective, nor is it true compassion. It is just a forced norm that is a facade of morality; and, many times, it is not even moral. A social engineer does not understand impersonal love nor would they advance impersonal love. The humanist does not understand what impersonal love is. The pharisees were social engineers. Their legalism was not benevolent or compassionate. The pharisees were absolute tyrants. When a government does this, they just launch some fleeting concept of a changing morality.

Christianity and humanism are absolutely opposed to one another. Such humanism is a power-grab, a means of control, and history is filled with such power grabs.

We are bombarded with the idea that a redistribution of wealth is compassion. The wealthy should give up their assets to us, the less wealthy. That is the motivation for much of the legislation today. It is redistribution. The government taxes those who have wealth and gives it to those who do not have wealth in the form of entitlements. The government takes from Peter and gives it to Paul. The government controls wealth and distributes it as they see fit. When that happens, everyone loses. Wealth is gone and hope is gone.

And where do you find these angels of government who will equitably distribute all of this wealth? Where are those without graft or greed in their souls? Where are these people who lack a sin nature? What keeps the government from using that money for patronage and power. From buying the votes of people who would give up freedom for a tenuous survival. That is their compassion; but that is self-aggrandizing; that is self-serving.

Humanism without absolute divine standards cannot offer anything. That is legal theft which is called benevolence and it never works. It never has in the past and it never will. There are always unintended consequences. We will level the playing field; everyone will have enough; everyone will have plenty. Great, what an altruistic objective.

But this destroys incentive in the poor and the wealthy and the nation declines. Everyone loses; witness every socialistic nation that has ever existed. Everyone of those leaders had the workers in mind and their motivation was altruistic and compassionate, and it always ends in tyranny and economic disaster. This makes the have-nots dependent upon government for security; they do not try to support themselves, and we have an underclass in our government is exactly that way. This destroys capitalism and it destroys the opportunity to advance. It removes incentive to succeed to build wealth by their own efforts. Where does the tax money come from? It eventually dries up. Then the government goes into massive debt and the system collapses on itself. That is where we are.

Those who are empowered by this redistribution hang on to their power. That is what happens in every socialist nation that has every existed.

But Europe has a socialistic democracy. There is only one nation in Europe which is not going to go under, and that is Germany. The others are socialistic. They were allow their nation to go into bankruptcy in order to keep their entitlements. Where is the compassion? It does not exist. This is one of the great lies of Satan's world. Socialism always ends in dependency of a mass of people upon government. Citizens become wards of the state and slaves to the state; and society's vigor is destroyed.

What is compassion? Not liberal policies; not socialism. In the Soviet Union, everyone had a job, and 3 people did the job of one person, and most of it was busy work. And people drank a lot of vodka. People were hopeless and they still are.

Entitlements simply empower the people who distribute them. It destroys the vitality of the people, it destroys business and it destroys compassion. It is a society of me first. As long as I have my contract, I don't care about my nation.

There is no such thing as mass-compassion. Government programs touted as compassion never are. Individual believers can produce and live impersonal love resulting in true compassion. It is in your soul where compassion resides. The facade around you should be so clear, because you know the truth of compassion and pseudo compassion.

Luke 6:36 Therefore be merciful, Even as your Father is also merciful.

Lesson #0318

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

8/30/2012 Thurs

If we renovate our thinking with divine thinking, compassion becomes an offshoot of this. Compassion cannot be true without coming from within. That is what our Lord is talking about.

Summary Points of Last Night

1. For us to show the compassion of the Father in this world, it requires the application of the spiritual life in the form of impersonal love and grace orientation. What can be more important than impersonal love in relation to people? There is no impersonal love relationship with anyone unless you think impersonal love. That residence comes from developing the spiritual life. All of this is related to what we are doing right now. We think of this as learning these concepts and then straining to do them. We dedicate ourselves to being compassion, and that lasts about 10 minutes. How can you have compassion for people who want to see you in an accident and drive off unscathed. Compassion is developed from your spiritual life. This requires the application of the spiritual life.
2. This is why true compassion, as defined by God, can be exhibited only by the believer. Only the believer can develop impersonal love. Only the believer can emulate the compassion of the Father. That is true compassion.

3. Therefore, only the believer can be motivated by impersonal love. This requires the believer to advance toward spiritual maturity. Compassion has to be unconditional. You cannot have compassion on just a few people. We must show the same compassion to the same number of people. People who do not deserve one ounce of compassion. Impersonal love is the way to do it.
4. With impersonal love as the motivation in the mature believer, compassion is extended to all without strings attached or ulterior motives. That is unique. This world is filled with compassionate people with ulterior motives.
5. God's compassion and our facsimile of it is so far above the phony compassion that is produced in the cosmic system of this world in which we live.
6. Man's altruism is too often motivated by arrogance. Man is a seeker of approbation. So often, there is this self-promotion that goes along with a person's supposed compassion. There are so many churches where nice things are done, and these are done not because they have a motivation of impersonal love, but because they get approbation and praise for doing it. It is their 15 min. of fame. That is their thrill. That is not emulating God.
7. Such compassion focuses solely on the outward expression of compassion and not on the inward motivation.
8. Therefore, any good deeds of compassion in this world can be rife with hypocrisy. The pharisees. They are a prime example of this hypocrisy. They lack all inward motivation of compassion. Their compassion is motivated solely by personal interest. They want recognition or power over others. A government is compassionate, or so they say.
9. We see these same things in so many areas of life today. Compassion with a hidden motive. That is a perversion of the compassion of God the Father.
10. Compassion must be given solely for the benefit of those in need, including enemies. The rationale for compassion. What is the rationale for compassion toward an enemy. How can you think compassion toward a person of that ilk. They are souls for whom Christ died. What makes you any better than them? If they are unbelievers, then have compassion on them. If God loves them, then so can we. The compassion motivated by impersonal love is unconditional. It is not dependent upon anything that another person does for us. It depends upon the integrity of the one who gives that compassion toward someone else.
11. True mercy and compassion is not the outward manifestation of charity and benevolence. The believer is the only one who can imitate and emulate the compassion of the Father by using the resources of the Father. How else can we reflect these characteristics of God? What unbeliever among us can do that? The unbeliever cannot imitate God; they cannot imitate Christ. They do not have the filling of the Holy Spirit, they cannot live the spiritual life; they cannot produce divine good. They cannot demonstrate compassion as we can. Look at the pharisees; are they compassionate? You bet, they can list many examples; but this was not motivated by anything other than self-aggrandizement.
12. The believer is not exhibiting compassion if for any other reason than reflecting that attitude of God.

13. Emulating this divine compassion is not possible in the human race without the spiritual life and impersonal love motivation. We are unique. There are so many things which make us unique. No one can produce that but us.

The tyranny of government entitlements which are touted as compassion, but they enslave in order to gain power. There are the social engineers who try to legislate morality in the name of compassion. They actually destroy freedom. The supposed compassion of internationalism, doing good of the downtrodden of other nations. The UN is one of the most corrupt institutions in history. It is mostly what the corrupt bureaucracy lines up for itself. They line their pockets with kickbacks. Much of the relief for disaster never reaches those for whom it is directed. This is the best hope of humanism. Whatever altruism might exist is buried in the evil of internationalism and personal greed. Always balance the sin nature of mankind with the compassion that he can generate. This is what happens when people distribute huge sums of money.

More Review Points

1. When programs of compassion are legislated, like entitlements, they cannot be individually motivated by impersonal love. That is non-existent government compassion. There are some people in government with true compassion; but it cannot be legislated.
2. True charity comes from the thinking and the hands of private individuals. Not government and not from religious dictates. There have been denominations of this world.. The most compassionate thing you can do is to tell your enemy about Jesus Christ. What happened in the middle ages in the name of compassion. The inquisition. That is not giving the gospel.
3. True mercy and compassion comes from the soul of the believer filled with impersonal love. That is the meaning of Luke 6:36.

Luke 6:36 Therefore be merciful, Even as your Father is also merciful.

Our Lord has progressed from giving the thinking of the pharisees. Then he explains impersonal love and then He gives an example of impersonal love. The pharisees scream compassion, but it is not.

God's perfection is His righteousness and justice. How can we take on the characteristic of perfect righteousness? The religious leaders thought that they were filled with righteousness. The pharisees were anything but perfect. The pharisees could not hope to be righteous through their own good works.

However, the believer is exhorted to be perfect like our heavenly father. In one sense, we are perfect; we are already perfect. Sloppy, terrible sinful us, have been justified. The righteousness of God has been imputed to us at salvation.

Bobby talks to people behind the glass.

Perfect righteousness. We are in a state of righteousness. No law keeping or good works can make us righteous or acceptable to God. We can never do enough good works to meet His standard. So, we are all righteous. However, that is not what this verse is talking about.

Here, we are told we are to be perfect. Future active indicative. This is a progressive future tense, which denotes the idea of future progress. Each moment is another moment of our future. Our future on this timeline; we are moving ahead. And every moment, we are becoming something. You may think as an adult, this is all that you can do. We are perfect but we also become perfect. We are still to progress; this is our perfect tense.

This can also refer to being fully developed; we are developing.

Matt. 5:48 Therefore, you be perfect even as your Father in Heaven is perfect.

Some Points on Being Perfect

1. This is a believer as he progresses through life. This is experiential righteousness.
2. We are complete in Christ; we are justified; we have that righteousness. But this is not what this verse is about.
3. We are also becoming mature believers. We are gaining perfection.
4. Once we have acquired the positional perfect of God, then the perfect mind of Christ can be developed in our thinking. We are and we become.
5. Therefore, we can reflect the absolute and perfect character of God as maturing believers. We will never completely reflect the perfect and absolute character of God; but that is not what we are talking about.
6. We cannot become perfect in the sense of being sinless. There are some systems of sanctification that say we can become perfect in the sense that we will not sin. Wesleyan sanctification is a very bad system.
7. As a believer progresses in this life, he will reflect attributes of righteousness produced in this life. We can reflect that same impersonal love. We are believers who reflect that same characteristic.
8. We are being transformed through the renovation of our thinking. Rom. 12:2 we are being transformed through the renovation of our thinking.

Compassion to gain approbation is being conformed to this world. We are to be transformed through the renewing of your mind. That is how you are perfect. That you may prove what the will of God is. When there is an imperative that reflects the will of God, we will follow that imperative. We will prove with the will of God is. We are told to be compassionate, and we become compassionate, through the renovation of our minds. That which is divine good. We are proving; the renovation of our minds. What is acceptable. The spiritual life is what is acceptable to God. That is the righteousness that we develop.

Perfection it is spiritual maturity. That in a nutshell is what our Lord has been teaching in the Sermon on the Mount. This maturity produces the wonderful characteristics that Christ commends to His disciples. He was commending spiritual maturity and impersonal love and the results of these two actions. Begins with the mind and is continued in the spiritual life.

Matt. 5:48 Therefore, you be perfect even as your Father in Heaven is perfect.

Lesson #0319 Matt. 6 Deut. 15:7–8 Pr14:21 Life of Christ 9/2/2012 1Sun

In Matt. 5:17 and following (and Luke 6), Jesus has rejected the false religion and the traditions of the pharisees. There is a parallel somewhere today, either in the churches of in another religion. Our Lord rejected these legalistic doctrines and the Scriptural inaccuracies. They often misinterpreted the Old Testament law. Jesus told His listeners, unless your righteousness is greater than that of the pharisees, you will not enter into the Kingdom of God. However, you had better have more righteousness, or you don't move on into God's kingdom.

Religion touts good works as the way to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven or nirvana or whatever.

How could God reject such pious people? However, we all have a sin nature, so no one can enter into the Kingdom of God because we are all sinners. The pharisees are trying to work there way into the Kingdom of God.

The pharisees are rejecting the Christ, Who is right in front of them. He is fulfilling all of the prophecies of the Old Testament, of which they were aware, and they saw His miracles, and they rejected Him.

God, in perfect justice, judged our sins on the cross. He was the perfect substitute, as He was without sin.

Believe and be baptized; or going through all sorts of liturgy; and other ways by which the church provides salvation. The pharisees represent this sort of righteousness to us.

Jesus will go from the false teaching of the pharisees to the sinful acts of the pharisees. Every false teaching can be traced from departure from the Scripture. That is why we teach the Bible. Christianity is nothing without the Bible. The Bible teaches grace and only grace, and that is what separates Christianity from the rest of the world. Works righteousness is what the rest of the religious world is all about.

Jesus Christ is the epitome of the grace of God. We are Christians; we are grace orientation; and we are nothing without the grace of God. So this is the next subject of the Sermon on the Mount. You cannot understand impersonal love without grace and doctrinal orientation.

There will be 3 illustrations. The pharisees were very attached to 3 acts of righteousness. They used these things to demonstrate their righteousness to others. There is the giving of alms. Prayer is another important aspect of our lives and the pharisees fouls this up. Matt. 6:5–15. Fasting is the 3rd, vv. 16–18.

The alms giving case. First off, what are alms? These are gifts to the poor; charity to the poor. This is found in the Mosaic Law. Deut. 15:7–8

God promised them a land, and God gave them the land. God's grace was demonstrated the moment that they walked across the Jordan River and the land was theirs. When you have a poor person among you, you freely open your hand. This is grace as taught in the Old Testament. God has given you the land; do not neglect those in the land who have nothing. Here, we are talking gifts; a giving of money. This giving of alms to the poor and other charitable occasions are mandated in the Mosaic Law. Grace is throughout the Mosaic Law. The people's attitude toward the poor was a response to God's gracious attitude toward them. They did not deserve God's blessing; they did not deserve the land, yet God gave it to them.

A manifestation of God's grace. They took the act itself of compassion as being God's righteousness.

Deut. 15:7 "If among you, one of your brothers should become poor, in any of your towns within your land that the LORD your God is giving you, you shall not harden your heart or shut your hand against your poor brother,

Deut. 15:8 but you shall open your hand to him and lend him sufficient for his need, whatever it may be.

This is an Old Testament view of what we have already studied. If you despise your neighbor, that is sin. It is happiness to the one who is generous to the poor.

Prov. 14:21 Whoever despises his neighbor is a sinner, but blessed [happy, content] is he who is generous [gracious] to the poor.

Lesson #0320

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

9/2/2012 2Sunday

Harold OJ Brown in a seminar with several others in a doctoral problem. "What is the central idea of the Bible?" Obviously, Christ is the central theme of the Bible, going back to Gen. 3:15. He is the central figure, but what is the theological principle of the Bible. Bobby said it would be grace and legalism. That brings in every aspect of life in this world. God's grace represented by Jesus Christ is everything that we have. It is inherent to all of the logistical things that we have. The absolute enemy to God's grace is legalism.

The one who despises his neighbor has no grace orientation. The other is happy because he gives to the poor.

Prov. 14:21 Whoever despises his neighbor is a sinner, but blessed [happy, content] is he who is generous [gracious] to the poor.

This is Hebrew poetry; it is parallelism; there is no rhythm or rhyme to it. Each line further defines the other. This makes exegesis more accurate.

Sin is antithetical to graciousness in Prov. 14:21. Discontent is not being gracious to one's neighbor; contentment is being gracious to the poor. This is legalism versus grace. This is in the concept of alms giving. Grace giving versus anti-grace hatred of the poor. That is the central principle of the Bible (or fits into the principle of the Bible).

Experiential righteousness is what we gain as believers. That is a part of service to the Lord. "I'm doing good works, according to me" is relative righteousness. That we give to the Lord should never be a vehicle of legalism. The pharisees had done just that in nearly everything that they did. When you think legalism as they did, you will do legalism. Churches teach legalism, and they do legalism.

Prov. 14:21 Whoever despises his neighbor is a sinner, but blessed [happy, content] is he who is generous [gracious] to the poor.

In the time of Christ, we think of alms-giving as giving money to the church and various organizations. The proper motivation is being filled with the Spirit. But here, this involves financial resources and personal interaction with the poor. Food provision was manifested by leaving behind a portion of grain in the field for the poor. They would harvest grain, and buy and sell grain, and that was the basis of their economy. But it was also their mode of alms-giving. Today, we live in a pharisaical way. "I've got mine; I don't care if you have yours or not." Since when did the poor lose their sin natures? The poor are just as greedy as the rich. I've got a little money and I am not sharing it with anyone.

Many of us think in this way; we think in terms of holding on to all that we have. Christ is making the same point that he made in Luke. Jesus uses an example of alms giving.

People wanted to use alms giving in order to reveal to others their great righteousness. No one gives alms or gives at all except for the seeking of approbation. That is the warning given by the Lord Jesus Christ.

Matt. 6:1 "Beware of practicing your righteousness before other people in order to be seen by them, for then you will have no reward from your Father who is in heaven.

I feel good about my giving and someone has patted me on the back, and Jesus says, this is your reward. You got what you wanted. This defines human good versus divine good motivation. Divine good is never self-promoting or self-aggrandizing. It always glorifies God and never glorifies you. It is the result of divine good that is key. Eternal reward for experiential righteousness. Divine good can never be accomplished apart from the filling of the Holy Spirit, and the motivation of grace and doctrinal orientation.

Divine good in the Old Testament required the internal motivation of the believer. They had positional righteousness just as we do. Abraham had believed and it was counted to him as righteousness. He was regenerated and he was justified. The filling of the Holy Spirit is the difference between us and Old Testament believers. This was first bestowed to believers on the Day of Pentecost, the first day of the Church Age. That ended the Age of the Hypostatic Union. The disciples were baptized the God the Holy Spirit on this day, and this baptism was given subsequently to every believer. Every time we see the phrase in Christ, this is what we are talking about. We have all that Christ has; His Sonship, His royalty.

Divine good always entails grace. Divine good is not based upon the works that you do; it is the filling of the Holy Spirit + grace and doctrinal orientation. You can do the exact same thing and in one case, it is divine good and in another, it is human good. That work can be done by a believer or an unbeliever. The unbeliever cannot produce divine good. They do not have the filling of the Spirit and they do not have grace motivation.

We have the completed canon of Scripture. Grace is such a central part of the Old and New Testaments. Grace in the Old Testament originated from their external spiritual code. They learned doctrine through the ritual that they participated in and through the teaching of the priests. They did not have the filling of the Holy Spirit for all believers to empower their righteousness. Their spiritual life was learning and practicing the spiritual code of the Mosaic Law.

Their spiritual code was a complete ritual presentation of Christ and His death on the cross; it was a teaching of grace. The sin was transferred from the sinner to the sacrifice. There were also holy days and feasts and the tabernacle; all of it were theological lessons for Israel. The doctrinal instruction had to come through the priest in the Temple; and it was ritual with reality, if they understood and were paying attention. They could inculcate the doctrines of God and the Messiah and the way of life as outlined by this code. This teaching developed their thinking and actions of grace.

Matt. 6:1 "Beware of practicing your righteousness before other people in order to be seen by them, for then you will have no reward from your Father who is in heaven."

Giving Alms Introduction

1. The Old Testament Jews learned the spiritual code by sight and ritual and this was to properly motivate them to serve the Lord. However, the teachers of the Law, the pharisees distorted grace and the Law.
2. One of these services was alms giving to the poor, one of the central aspects of their spiritual life.
3. That giving of alms was a manifestation of their grace orientation and their spiritual life.
4. So giving alms for them was divine good in the Old Testament. A right thing done in a right way. It is fine that unbelievers do good deeds as well. This life is short; but eternity is a very long time. Rewards in heaven matter; and they are so easy to take a hold of. What matters is us being filled with the Spirit and being grace oriented and having the proper motivation. The pharisees made a big deal out of giving to the poor and all of it was human good; all of it was for approbation. Jesus is distinguishing between divine good and human good here. The pharisees giving to the poor was a right thing done in a wrong way. The attitude is what counts. It is being gracious to the poor; not just giving to the poor. Pharisees gave to the poor to gain the approval of men.

5. They wanted their actions to be lauded by other men. They had a technique. Their technique was to give money in a very ostentatious way. They made sure that everyone in the Temple knew exactly what they were doing. Pastors and leaders in churches today do exactly the same thing.

Let's imitate God in our actions and thinking.

Lesson #0321

Luke 5: Life of Christ

9/5/2012 Wed

The pharisees were experts in the Mosaic Law. They were also experts in distorting the Law. Religion enslaves people to false tenants. Biblical Christianity frees people; but the pharisees were enslaved. Religion teaches that man can reach God by means of his own efforts. It is the grace of God which initiates the relationship.

Satan's greatest distortion is anything other than faith alone in Christ alone. When you begin to add works or some service that is legitimate, that distorts the truth. That is falsehood injecting itself over the truth. The pharisees were all about works righteousness. And they wanted to impose this works righteousness on all others.

The pharisees had 3 favorite practices from the Mosaic Law that they loved to act upon. These were supposed to demonstrate their great righteousness for everyone to see. There was almsgiving; giving money to the poor. Very ostentatious prayer. Everywhere that they prayed was in public. Then they also loved to fast and they made a huge deal about fasting. That is what Ramadan is all about.

The pharisees were trying to impress God, but they simply impressed themselves. This is exactly where our Lord goes with all of this.

Matt. 6:1 "Beware of practicing your righteousness before other people in order to be seen by them, for then you will have no reward from your Father who is in heaven.

V. 1 is what is distorted by the pharisees. "Take notice and take notice that this is wrong." Practicing righteousness is supposed to be serving the Lord; and giving to the poor is of service to the Lord. However, you do not do this in order to be notice by men. Then that is your reward.

Some people give to the church for the wrong reasons. Some write big checks in order to receive recognition of others. Or they may do it for having some influence. They may want to be patted on the back. There is nothing of grace in it.

The pharisees put 13 trumpet containers and they were solid metal and placed around the temple in very conspicuous areas. When a metal coin was tossed into the receptacle, it made a noise, and everyone could hear it. People would naturally look toward the sound, and this would attract attention to the giver. Pharisees became masters at this technique. They might wait until the temple was filled with people, and when the time was right, they would toss in a coin. The giver would then be noticed and approved. All was done in the name of self-promotion. Everyone thought them to be great leaders in the field of Judaism. These pharisees loved this attention.

The pharisees did what the Law demanded, but apart from the spirit of the Law. This is why so many Jews in Palestine were completely confused about the Old Testament. And the disciples were no different. They were confused as well.

There are Christians today who beg to be noticed for their good deeds, whether giving or whatever.

Politicians are so disingenuous and so hypocritical, just like religion; and for many, politics is religion.

If the pharisees just did their job as was expected, they would be fine. Charity is legitimate; it is right to give to the poor. But it is based upon the inner motivation and not on the desire to be seen and noticed. The pharisees were anything but compassionate about the poor.

The pharisees works were without reality; it is a common problem. Even in churches today. The divine good of the Old Testament believer was generated by the inner motivation of doctrine and grace orientation.

When we think of Law, we think legal; but the spiritual code of the Mosaic Law was all about grace. The pharisees turned God's grace into a very legalistic thing. They just used the law to promote their own personal self-righteousness.

True experiential righteousness is always based upon grace orientation.

The Mistake of the Pharisees

1. The righteousness of the pharisees, which was the giving of alms, was overt, hypocritical, legalistic and religious in nature.
2. They were trying to please God through their own works without any grace orientation. This is how steeped they were in their own legalism. They thought that serving themselves was serving God. I am gaining approbation while God is smiling upon me.
3. Man cannot please God by producing the external righteousness of human good. Human good is a part of every dispensation. Do not practice righteousness in order to be recognized by others. There is a fine line here.

The point here is, what is the motivation? Why are they doing what they are doing? There are instructions to the disciples. They were supposed to understand the good deeds which was behind their actions. Human good is fine, as far as it goes. There is a result that is beneficial for someone; but it is not spiritually beneficial to you in the spiritual life. The result may be the same in the deed that you do, but there is no spiritual reward for acting from the wrong motivation.

Matt. 6:1 "Beware of practicing your righteousness before other people in order to be seen by them, for then you will have no reward from your Father who is in heaven.

So, if you do what you do in order to be seen by others, then there is no reward from your Father Who is in heaven. "You are so far from the Mosaic Law, you might as well be atheists."

We have the filling of the Spirit, which is something that the saints did not have in the past. Doing divine good is just the same as it was then, but we have even greater resources. We are motivated by doctrine and grace orientation. We learn the same doctrine, but in different ways. We have the same divine internal motivator just as the disciples did when they received the Holy Spirit.

We have the Holy Spirit in this age; but the disciples had Jesus right there in front of them teaching.

Heb 8:10 For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, declares the Lord: I will put my laws into their minds, and write them on their hearts, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

In the Millennial kingdom, Jesus will write His laws into their minds and upon their hearts. This is when this will be fulfilled. This is dispensational. In the Age of Israel they had law and ritual and priests who taught the Law, and it was external and they applied it.

Here we come to the Millennium and this is different from the Age of Israel. At this time, Christ writes the Law onto their hearts. There is doctrine and grace orientation in every dispensation. The means in which it is inculcated is different. But it is always the motivation for everything that we do by means of service.

We produce divine good with the motivation that they utilized in the Old Testament with the power of the Holy Spirit. The resources that we have are far beyond that experienced by Old Testament believers. Our spiritual life is internal based upon the doctrine taught to us; and it is applied to us by the power of the Holy Spirit. At a future time, Israel will have this Law written on their hearts and minds.

However, thinking doctrine is the key to life in every dispensation. What we think is key to the life that we live.

Heb 8:11 And they shall not teach, each one his neighbor and each one his brother, saying, 'Know the Lord,' for they shall all know me, from the least of them to the greatest.

Jesus is looking at the disciples and telling them not to function in life like the pharisees. Sounding a trumpet is an idiom for announcing your good deeds. The disciples were not to make a big to-do about what they do by way of divine good. The praise by men is just a few moments of approbation of men in this life.

When the pharisees gave alms, they received their reward right then and there. If you do not produce divine good, then there is nothing by means of eternal rewards. If someone notices and says, "Good job," then that is your reward. At the Judgment Seat of Christ, all of these works will be burned. Jesus is warning us that motivation is so important in this life. The more grace oriented that we become, the less desire that we have to please other people by our good deeds.

Matt. 6:2 "Thus, when you give to the needy, sound no trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be praised by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward."

So Jesus gives instructions as to how to avoid hypocrisy in the next few verses. You do it with secrecy. The alms are to be given quietly; do not rattle the box. It is the motivation of your soul that matters. Don't let your left hand know what your right hand is doing. And your father Who sees in secret will reward you. God will see what your motivation is and He will repay us in eternity.

Lesson #0322

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

9/6/2012 Thurs

Believers must never give based upon being shamed or pressured. It is no good without being filled with the Spirit.

The most prevalent reason that believers give, when wrongly motivated, when from a desire for approbation. They want to glorify oneself when it comes to giving.

Jesus uses almsgiving as an example of giving for personal acclaim. This is normative for all time and in all churches. Practicing your righteousness is what we are to do. This is living the spiritual life and producing divine good while filled with the Holy Spirit. That is practicing your righteousness; but here Jesus tells us to beware. "Do not do this in order to be noticed by men." There is service but without the correct motivation. You want others to see you. That is self-serving and self-promoting. We are able to determine in our own soul what our own motivation actually is. Are we doing this to glorify God or is it to glorify ourselves.

We have no reward from God if we have the wrong motivation. The good deeds of alms giving was so that men would notice, but it was nothing but human good. That is not rewardable in heaven.

Matt. 6:1 "Beware of practicing your righteousness before other people in order to be seen by them, for then you will have no reward from your Father who is in heaven."

How do we receive rewards in heaven? Bobby's teacher, said, "Bob, do you think there are different degrees of rewards in heaven?" Bobby said absolutely, and this is one passage to indicate this. The production of divine good is the criterion for reward that lasts for all eternity. You have nothing, and you are scratching a living, and there is no real reward in life. We are talking about a drop in the bucket with regards to eternity.

In v. 2, Jesus elaborates on the false motivation of the giving of alms as nothing but hypocrisy. Jesus tells them not to sound a trumpet before giving the money; this was to inform everyone that you are doing a good deed and everyone knows. You are giving alms as the hypocrites in the synagogues. They do it for human approbation. Who today would call charity hypocrisy. It is hypocritical when it is motivated through approbation lust. A charity may have good results for those who receive the charity.

People will seek their 15 minutes of fame, and they will do anything to get it.

Matt. 6:2 "Thus, when you give to the needy [give alms], sound no trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be praised by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward.

Jesus tells His disciples to give alms in secret, so that God, Who sees in secret, will reward us. This glorifies God.

Matt. 6:3 But when you give to the needy, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing,

The idiom, don't let your right hand know what your left hand is doing; a saying of confidentiality.

Matt. 6:4 so that your giving may be in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

Giving and the Proper Motivation

1. Giving is not to be seen by others to incite their approbation or to gain their approbation. Do it in private. There is a little box in the back in Berachah Church. You should not do this to be congratulated.
2. Giving in secret reveals the proper motivation; doctrinal motivation.
3. With the right motivation, this is divine good.
4. That giving receives a reward from God the Father. God rewards divine good; He does not reward hypocrisy.

Matt. 6:5–15 is about prayer; and prayer can be done improperly. The pharisees were conspicuous in their prayers. They were always surrounded by people; on the street corners. They were done in a way to gain notice.

Matt. 6:5 "And when you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites. For they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and at the street corners, that they may be seen by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward.

They pray in public in order to gain the approbation of others. They get a little approbation for a few moments, and Jesus says, "They have their reward.'

Grace orientation is the motivation for giving; doctrinal orientation is the motivation for prayer. We have great power when we speak directly to God. We tell God what we want for ourselves and for others. God will answer these prayers and they will be for the best.

In the time of the pharisees, prayer was in the center of the worship of God. Prayers were offered up constantly in the synagogue and in the Temple. But, if you are glorifying yourself, then you are not glorifying God. Self-glorification is never worship.

Rebuttal

1. Jesus presents a model prayer, one of the most famous prayers in the Bible. It is called the Lord's prayer, which is a misnomer.
2. In this way, Jesus Christ teaches by contrast, which is what the pharisees were not doing but what the disciples must do.
3. This is also our model for prayer. We will see the correct motivation for prayer.

Bobby has heard all kinds of prayers, and often this is done for their own benefit; and they present beautiful and flowery prayers. We must always wonder, is this prayer for the benefit of the hearers or is it for God. The pharisees were never this way. They were always the phoney approbation group. The prayer does not contain thanksgiving to God. It was eloquent address so that it could be heard in the room in which it is spoken. This is flattery of God so that others can hear and be impressed. A beautiful prayer is not wrong. Nothing wrong with a beautifully orated prayer.

Matt. 6:5 "And when you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites. For they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and at the street corners, that they may be seen by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward.

Just how close a person is to God is often what some people are trying to convey with their prayers. Who can resist a great orator or eloquent speech? The discerning person who hears the content and hears the duplicity understands. So resist the one who is narcissistic in prayer. It goes no higher than the ceiling of the room in which it is offered. Prayer is supposed to be for communication to God. We are not to impress others to even impress God. We are to speak to God in our own terms.

Prayer is not for the purpose of teaching others with doctrine. We are not to teach others the amount of doctrine that we know through prayer. That is not its object. Reciting a doctrine in prayer is just another way to try to gain approbation from those listening.

Prayer meetings sometimes take on an air of competition, for two or more trying to show how much doctrine they know. Prayer is for intercession for others and petition. It is time to forget the circumstances of your life and to forget those around you and to concentrate on the requests and intercessions of others.

Bobby hears that others are praying for him, he appreciates that. Bobby cannot do what he does apart from these prayers.

Herod had arrested Peter and was tired of hearing him, and he threw Peter into prison.

Acts 12:5 So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer for him was made to God by the church.

Acts 12:6 Now when Herod was about to bring him out, on that very night, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains, and sentries before the door were guarding the prison.

Acts 12:7 And behold, an angel of the Lord stood next to him, and a light shone in the cell. He struck Peter on the side and woke him, saying, "Get up quickly." And the chains fell off his hands.

Peter was delivered, Herod was, and there was a great missionary movement launched. All of this happened simply because people got together and prayed about it.

Bobby's prayer meeting prays for the nation; and we pray for our soldiers in combat, and for the dissemination of Bible doctrine and for the missionaries who are out there.

Note what is missing in public prayer. You leave out personal requests. You do not make an issue of yourself in public prayer. This is easy to do. You speak of yourself when you pray privately to God.

You do not confess your sins in public prayer; and some people do this. This is also to be done privately. Now, this is how you start a prayer, but silently. Do not mention someone else's sin when praying. You do not pray for someone to stop sinning and then you name some of those sins. You do not need to know someone's private business in order to pray intelligently. When it comes to sins, that is something that they rebound.

Matt. 6:5 "And when you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites. For they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and at the street corners, that they may be seen by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward.

If you have wronged someone, do not apologize to them through public prayer. Whether they are there or not. That is a private matter between you and God and maybe that person. Advertising your sins to the rest of the world is pure arrogance. When one prays a prayer of public confession, this is problematic. Some might be impressed; but it is still out of line. You might get the approbation you are after, but what you are doing is wrong.

1. When the motivation is wrong, the deed is wrong and the prayer is wrong.
2. It is a right thing done in a wrong way. Prayer can actually be wrong if it is wrong in its execution.
3. Prayer can be human good versus divine good.
4. Prayers of approbation are not worship or communication with God; they are prayers made for yourself and for those in the room. You are just looking for discipline under these circumstances.

Lesson #0323

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

9/9/2012 1Sunday

Communion Sunday (September 9, 2012):

There is no blessing in the elements themselves. There is no blessing in the ritual. The Person of Christ is not present in the elements nor do they become His person. Eating the bread is not a saving act. Saving grace comes directly from the work of Jesus Christ. Faith alone in Christ alone.

This ritual focuses upon His work. His true humanity is distinctly important. As the bread is broken, so we recall the time of suffering that He faced. He Himself bore our sins in His body on the cross that we might die to sin and live to righteousness.

1Peter 2:24 He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. By His wounds you have been healed. These wounds are the stripes of the whip. He was whipped until His back was raw. That was only a part of the physical abuse that He endured going to Golgotha. The real wound is His enduring the cross for our salvation. His wound was enduring our judgment when on the cross. Because of these wounds, we no longer have a fatal wound.

Mat 26:26 Now as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and after blessing it broke it and gave it to the disciples, and said, "Take, eat; this is my body."

Mat 26:27 And he took a cup, and when he had given thanks he gave it to them, saying, "Drink of it, all of you,

Mat 26:28 for this is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins.

1Co 11:26 For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes.

1Co 11:27 Whoever, therefore, eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be guilty concerning the body and blood of the Lord.

1Co 11:28 Let a person examine himself, then, and so eat of the bread and drink of the cup.

"Do this" is a general mandate encompasses all of the commands of Matthew. Paul abbreviated this command. This is now a recurring Church Age ritual, a continuous ritual by obedience to this repeated mandate. We continue with what our Lord instituted until He returns.

Taking and eating is symbolic.

The bread was to be distributed among all the disciples; the elements must be individually taken and consumed. All participants are a part of the whole. He individually recognize of what He has done for us while being a part of a corporate body.

Jesus died as a substitution for us. Instead of us who deserve death, He took it upon Himself. He died so that we might live. The phrase instead of you is the whole point of Christ's death.

Why was it necessary that He bear our sins in His body? He had to have a human body in order to be our Savior. He had to be man in order to die. Jesus became flesh and dwelt among us for these reasons.

1Co 11:23 For I received from the Lord what I also delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took bread,

1Co 11:24 and when he had given thanks, he broke it, and said, "This is my body which is for you. Do this in remembrance of me."

1Co 11:25 In the same way also he took the cup, after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me."

We must think of His substitutionary death on our behalf. We are to remember this moment of His great work.

We must concentrate and not think of other things. No longer at that table with the disciples were these Jewish disciples to partake of the Passover, which they had participated in since leaving Egypt. That was to end. They were no longer to look at the analogies but they were to observe the Christ, the true Passover.

1Co 5:7 Cleanse out the old leaven that you may be a new lump, as you really are unleavened. For Christ, our Passover lamb, has been sacrificed.

Heb 9:13 For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the sprinkling of defiled persons with the ashes of a heifer, sanctify for the purification of the flesh,

Heb 9:14 how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish to God, purify our conscience from dead works to serve the living God.

Prayer is a wonderful and powerful part of the Christian life. It is so easy to accomplish and one of the easiest things a believer can do. Any believer in fellowship can pray. Any believer can communicate directly to God in the format that He has laid out for us. We pray to the Father in the name of the Son. We petition for others and we make requests for ourselves. And He answers; He always answers. He always answers for our benefit, whether we know it or not. Sometimes, God's answer is unexpected or not exactly what we asked for, but once we have asked it, we leave the request in His hands. We faith rest His answer, knowing that His answer is to our benefit.

Mat 21:22 And whatever you ask in prayer, you will receive, if you have faith."

Mar 11:24 Therefore I tell you, whatever you ask in prayer, believe that you have received it, and it will be yours.

You wonder just how anyone could screw up prayer, but they do. The pharisees managed to distort this greatly.

Jesus tells His disciples that the pharisees had the wrong motivation. The pharisees had volumes of prayer; they prayed loudly and with great flourishes and everywhere and for long periods of time. They prayed everywhere so that people would notice them. However, their prayers were done for the consumption of man. They wanted to be heard by those around them. They wanted praise and self-glorification from their fellow man. They wanted people to notice that these are our religious leaders.

What you think in your prayers and what your motivation is, that is what it is all about. It does not matter if your prayers are simple or erudite. You cannot baffle God with your language. He knows. Jesus addresses this very issue.

Jesus describes how the pharisees prayer. The pharisees got the audience of those around them, and that was their reward for prayer.

When Roman generals were in parades, a slave would whisper in their air, "Sic transit gloria munda." "All glory is fleeting."

The rewards from God are eternal. The rewards of this life are temporal.

Matt. 6:5 "And when you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites. For they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and at the street corners, that they may be seen by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward.

Jesus then speaks of private prayer. You do not speak to men; you speak privately to God. You speak with humility devoid of the arrogance of the pharisees.

Matt. 6:6 But when you pray, go into your room and shut the door and pray to your Father who is in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

Prayer is not for the notice of everyone. There are eternal rewards and blessings in time associated with this.

There is the room of the house that you go into. That indicates that there is privacy; you are not doing this to be seen of men. You are free to make personal requests, either for yourself or for others.

Prayer can take place in any environment. Jesus prayed all night in the Garden of Gethsemane. This was also in private. He went in there to pray. He woke them up on several occasions, asking them, "Why aren't you in prayer?" Far from the motivation of approbation. If no one knows that you are praying, no one observes you except for God the Father.

This would glorify God, because it shows your faith to God and to the angels.

No one has seen Deity in Its true form. We cannot see God as He truly is. But in prayer, we are alone with the Father. Prayer is a one-way street; God does not speak to you. He still answers your prayer, even though you cannot see to Whom you are speaking. "God, here is what I have to say" and God, in His throne room, hears it and responds.

There are reasons for public prayer. Peter was arrested by Herod in Jerusalem. Many Christians gathered and prayed for him, and Peter was let out of jail and Herod was disciplined. Herod was going to kill Peter, and God turned this completely around, as a response to prayers to Him.

It is reasonable to assume that your prayers can actually change things. David wanted to establish a permanent dwelling for God on earth—the Temple—that was a new thing, and it was not found in the Bible previous to this. We are given free will and God allows us to drive human history and to move the spiritual lives of others.

Our lives can change human history and our prayers can change human history. Or, to be more precise, impact human history dramatically.

Many people pray in public so others can hear what great doctrinal giants they are. That is not the purpose of public prayer. It is to make requests of God on behalf of someone else.

There are also heavenly rewards.

Prayer

1. Prayer is heard in heaven when properly offered by means of the power of the Holy Spirit; but never when offered in approbation lust. It is okay to write down a prayer that you will pray in public. However, writing this to impress your audience is the wrong motivation.
2. Prayer with the right motivation of the filling of the Holy Spirit is bonafide service in the believer's life. This is intercession for others. There is no arrogance in that.

We are thinking and speaking on behalf of others. This does not allow for gossip, of course. You do not need to tell others of the weaknesses of those you are praying for. We all need prayer.

3. When prayer is motivated by ego-lust, it is non-productive. Look at me and how I pray. This is even though prayer itself is a good thing. Even prayer can be wrong under these circumstances.

Matt. 6:6 But when you pray, go into your room and shut the door and pray to your Father who is in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

The pharisees prayed as the heathen did. They did this to be seen and heard of men. That is covered in the next 2 verses.

Matt. 6:7 "And when you pray, do not heap up empty phrases as the Gentiles do, for they think that they will be heard for their many words.

Matt. 6:8 Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask him.

The pharisees were praying just as the pagans prayed. They prayed repetitively just to be seen in that attitude. Their rationale was, the longer that they prayed and the more the more they spoke, and the more that people and God might approve of them. In their constant repetition, their prayers were meaningless. They kept demonstrating their desire for human approval over divine approval.

The unbeliever can have nothing but human viewpoint. He can pray only for the approbation of others.

And Jews do that today just as the pharisees did. They go to some prominent place like the wailing wall, and this is religion. This is true of all religions. There are those in other religions who chant endlessly. It is meaningless. At best, they are just turning inward, not outwardly toward God.

Prayers; hail Mary's, our Father's; and these are just repetitive prayers that mean nothing. God does not answer prayers based upon how loud we are or how many times we repeat a phrase or based upon our passion. We may request the same thing several times. That is not repetitive prayer. Repetitive prayer is just saying the same things over and over so that others can hear you.

In whatever way you can pray and you keep your prayers and concentration on point, that is the way to pray. However, your attitude is or however you are, make your requests. People get into all of these rote approaches to God. Do not squander your time with God. Use this time in prayer wisely. Do not imitate the pharisees. Make a request and you know that God will answer you.

You ought to pray for your nation daily and you pray for your national leaders every day. Whatever comes to mind that you pray for. Babbling the same thing over and over again is pointless. God doesn't forget. He does not need to be reminded by your monotonous droning on and on. We might forget; but God gets it the first time that we say it. We are not to put our own shortcomings upon God.

Once you have exhausted your prayer list, then you stop. You don't need to stay praying once you have said what you need to say to God. Or, pray for each request as they come to you. Be consistent. What is our mandate? Pray without ceasing. Always make time for prayer. You will do more in life, but that does indicate consistency. God has defined what communication with Him is. He indicates what this is.

We have great power when we pray to God when in fellowship. Every time, He will answer. There is never a time when God will just up and ignore your prayer (if you are in fellowship).

Matt. 6:7-8 "And when you pray, do not heap up empty phrases as the Gentiles do, for they think that they will be heard for their many words. Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask him.

First class in 2 weeks.

Still in the Sermon on the Mount. Jesus is continuing His dissertation contrasting legalism and grace, which is one of the most important topics of the Word of God.

We first looked at almsgiving and now we are looking at prayer, the second illustration. Legalism can even make a mockery of prayer. The pharisees were the poster children of legalism; no group was better at distorting the Word of God. They probably hold the record for the greatest legalism of all time.

Jesus calls the pharisees the hypocrites. They pray to be seen by men; and what they did in their religious life was to be seen. Much like Bill Maher when he gave a million dollars to the Obama campaign. He certainly was not going to do that privately. He had to tell everyone and several times over.

The prayers of the pharisees were not directed toward God; they were directed toward man; in order to be praised and to be glorified of men as well. They prayed in order to be seen for their righteousness and their piety.

Religion is always phoney and always hypocritical. The religious people are out to please themselves and to be admired and seen by others. They do what they do for the wrong reasons.

Matt. 6:5 "And when you pray, you must not be like the hypocrites. For they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and at the street corners, that they may be seen by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward.

The Lord is essentially commending private prayer to the disciples. It is not their prayer and devotion, as those things are just a mask for them.

Matt. 6:6 But when you pray, go into your room and shut the door and pray to your Father who is in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

Jesus referring to the gentiles was not a racial slur, but to those who were unbelievers. The Jews called them goy for many reasons, but Jesus did in a particular sense. The pharisees prayed in the same manner as the gentiles, and the pharisees hated the gentiles. They mimicked heathen prayer practices. They encouraged an endless repetition of words.

The gentiles often offered up rambling incantations to the gods who did not hear them, as these gods do not exist. Jesus said that the pharisees were doing essentially the same thing. The way that people pray today is very similar; and they go on and on and on; and they are praying to be heard. This is so that they might know that these are righteous believers. The pharisees prayer was merely a form of prayer.

They wanted their prayers to be beautiful, long and noticed by others. Prayer is designed for communication to God. We all have the ability to speak to God. God always answers your prayers, in every case. You can pray while driving. You can be in all sorts of attitudes and pray. That is the tremendous power that we have as believers in Jesus Christ. We may not like the answer “no,” but that simply means that God has a better answer for us.

For the pharisees, this was a constant repetition in their prayers, mostly just for human approval. They give God lip service, but they really wanted power and approval. There was no ritual at all in the redundant rhetoric of the pharisees.

Matt. 6:7 "And when you pray, do not heap up empty phrases as the Gentiles do, for they think that they will be heard for their many words."

Jesus warns them not to go on and on like the gentiles do. God does not listen to babbling. God hears and answers prayer based on one request from the correct motivation.

It is not wrong to offer many prayers on the same subject. We ought to pray for our nation repeated prayers. We may pray for the same person on a repetitive basis. We may make a request more than once; that is not a repetitive prayer. However, repeating the same words over and over again is not necessary and it may not even reach them.

Some denominations recite repetitive prayers publically; hail Mary's or our Father's. Saying these things over and over again are generally just rituals. This is not communication with God. Sometimes these are a form of human penance to gain the favor of God. People do all kinds of things for the forgiveness of sins, and many of them simply repeat phrases. Sometimes, these are just to gain the attention of those who are around you.

God knows what we need before we ask God. This is a statement about the omniscience of God; but it does not mean that we, as believers, do not need to pray. We are supposed to make these requests known to God, even though He knew every thought that we would ever have, even before we are created. God hears us. We are bound by command to communicate directly to God. It is a relationship with Him. To have a relationship with anyone, there must be communication. There is no relationship without communication. We have an open line with God every day of the week. Philip. 4:6 Be anxious for nothing. In everything, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be known to God. Make your requests known and do it without ceasing.

Prayer is a form of worship made to the One Who can answer our prayers. There is our sovereignty and His omniscience; He knows what the reason is for our prayers.

However, one of the reasons that we pray is, so that the angels can hear our requests and then observe the response from God.

Isa. 65:24 Before they call, I will answer; and while they are still speaking, I will hear.

Jesus is pointing out the concept of legitimate prayer as over against the prayers of the pharisees.

The arrogance of the pharisees knew no bounds.

If you don't pray very often; what sort of a relationship is that? Do not underestimate the power of prayer. It is a part of your everyday relationship with God.

Prayer is a direct line to the Holy One of the Universe.

You may be repetitive in prayer; but we are not to use meaningless repetition. The prohibition of meaningless phrases does not mean that you cannot make the same request more than once. Jesus before the Garden of Gethsemane made the same petition 3 times in a row. "Let this cup pass from Me; nevertheless, Your will be done."

Paul asked 3x for the thorn in his side to be removed. He showed great intensity. They were making requests; not mumbling. Pray for our leaders, pray for our nation; our missionaries, for an opportunity to present the gospel, pray for Israel. Pray without ceasing. Such prayers are communication with God; rather than a repetition like "Hail, Mary, full of grace."

Repetition here are phrases repeated by rote that are ritualistic, repeated many times, and meaningless to God and to themselves.

Would you repeat meaningless phrases to your spouse, to your friends, to your co-workers? Why would you do this with God? This is exactly the same thing. Yet people do this all the time. Do not recite hollow phrases to God; and even more, do not recite prayers which are doctrinally incorrect.

Their prayers were all about themselves, and they were essentially directed toward men, and not toward God.

Matt. 6:8 Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask Him.

Jesus now presents an example of how prayer. This will be a model prayer. The Lord's Prayer.

Lesson #0326

Matt. 6:9 Life of Christ

9/23/2012 2Sunday

Jesus began with all of these problems in prayer; and now he is going to show the disciples a correct form of prayer. These are some of the most quoted verses in the entire Bible.

This prayer has been repeated again and again; and people often repeat it as meaningless repetition. What irony! This is what has become meaningless repetition. A vain and repetitious prayer is what has become with this prayer. It is incredible that His Words can be so distorted in life. That is because we are in the devil's world.

Angelic Conflict should be out the first week in October. That is the scheduled date of delivery and it is coming out of Pennsylvania.

The Lord's prayer has morphed into an empty liturgy. Just ceremonial phrases repeated over and over again. It is memorized as to be repeated by rote, and done without thought to be just what Jesus warned us about.

Matt. 6:9a Pray then like this:...

Jesus reveals how to pray and what form it should take; and this is not for liturgical repetition. This prayer is didactic. It is designed for format and content.

How We Are to Use the Lord's Prayer

1. "Pray in this way" means that this is a pattern.
2. A pattern is easy to learn and follow. Bobby repeated it in elementary school, day after day. It is easier to understand how to pray by knowing this prayer.
3. This model is the outline for prayer to God. It shows up the breadth and depth of prayer.

How often this prayer is repeated. This is often the only prayer that unbelievers know how to pray. They repeat this and think that this prayer will reach God. This can be just monotonously repeated when people are sick, or in pain; or in severe storms; probably many times when the hurricane came through Houston; in ordination, in the Lord's Supper, at funerals. It is used by rote in many ceremonies, as if there is some kind of magical power in this prayer. This is the fallacy of great proportions. This prayer was never designed to be used in this way.

There is even an addition made to this prayer, but not found in the original Greek. This prayer was spoken for individual instructive use. It was not for a church repetition. It was not to be said for good luck.

When we recite this prayer, then we need to be thinking about what this prayer means. When reciting this, we need to think about it just as we think about communion.

We open all prayers to the Father. We pray to the God of all Creation; to the God that we are related to as our Father. Father is a family reference. This is a personal family relationship that exists between us and the Almighty. We always have access. We pray to God as a member of a family. Only believers are sons of God (John 1:12). As a believer, we are family members of the family of God. We have a personal relationship with God; and such a relationship only exists because of our faith in Jesus Christ. This prayer is meaningless when said by an unbeliever.

When we say, "Our father" we can thank God that we are a part of this family. We communicate directly with our Parent, our God. Many unbelievers pray and we think that God must hear them. God only hears the prayer of salvation from the unbeliever.

Sometimes, unbelievers just run out of options, and pray to Him. Call upon God as a last resort. Or the unbeliever cites a religious prayer; they do it without thinking. Religious prayers do not work. The prayers in a mosque go no higher than the ceiling of that mosque. The unbeliever does not know God; there is no relationship there. God is in view only when the unbeliever wants something. Such prayers are nothing more than secular speech, and it is vain. Sometimes they feel closer to God when they assume the position of prayer. Such prayer does not communicate with God as does the regenerate son of God.

God does not hear prayers from the believer who is out of fellowship. If a believer is reverent, fervent, moral or sincere, God will still not hear him if he is out of fellowship. Whenever you pray, just rebound first. That should be nothing more than standard procedure for you. Pray at all times in the Spirit; in the power of the Holy Spirit. That is the only way we are to pray.

As a believer out of fellowship, we know we won't be heard.

Why Prayers Are Not Heard

1. Mental attitude sins of fear and worry shut down the ability to pray. Be anxious for nothing, but with...make your requests be known to God. You do not know how God will answer your prayer. He will answer it. If what your adversity is suffering for blessing, do you want to ask God to remove it? If it is designed for blessing, do you really want God to take it away?
2. A believer may not have his prayers heard is, he has the wrong motivation. He makes a request from false motivation. The pharisees did this. The pleasures and details of life contradict God's plan, the believer is falsely motivated. James 4:3 You ask and you do not receive because you ask from false motives, so that you can spend it on your pleasures. We are supposed to ask for legitimate requests and we know that God will answer. "Oh, God, give me a million dollars; I promise You I know how to spend it."
3. Lack of compassion. We just studied impersonal love; and we just studied compassion and what it means. Our government does not know what it means, but we do. Apathy toward the human race will hinder our prayers. Prov. 21:13 He who shuts his ear to the poor will cry himself and not be answered. This is about a mental attitude and this is how we view the human race. This is about a person's poorness when separated and condemned by God. Those are the true poor. No caring about them is the believer's application of impersonal love. We know what impersonal love and what it means to apply it; apply it in prayer. You should even pray for your enemies.
4. Lack of domestic tranquility is a problem. The least known of all reasons for unanswered prayer: discord in marriage. 1Peter 3:7 You husbands, likewise, live with your wives in an understanding way. You must know and understand your wife. ...as with a weaker vessel, because she is a woman. She is often physically weaker because she is a responder and often less strong. The man's role in God's plan is one of leadership and hers is one of a responder. And grant her honor as a fellow heir of the grace of life, so that your prayers be not hindered. Before God, women are spiritually equal. If we do not have a corporate witness before God, then our prayers will not be heard. If you show the woman the right leadership and love, they will respond. All of these things fit together in the Word of God. Prayer, fellowship, and how we handle other people. The faith rest drill. This is a great indicator of where we are in the spiritual life. There is a lot involved in prayer.

Matt. 6:9 Pray then like this: "Our Father in heaven, hallowed be Your name.

Lesson #0327 Matt. 6:9 Ezek. 36:25–36 Life of Christ 9/26/2012 Wed

Bob could not get into his office, and said a few things that he should not have said over a hot mike. We have begun the study of the most famous prayer in the Bible, a part of the Sermon on the Mount. It is probably the most misunderstood and misused passages in the Bible.

Bobby used to repeat this prayer in school. Through the very reciting, we have lost the meaning and purpose of the Lord's prayer. Over the centuries, these verses have become formalized and ceremonial and ritualistic. A vain repetitious recitation. The prayer has morphed into an empty liturgy. A ritual prescribed for public worship.

Many people have mumbled this prayer; and it is used in all kinds of ceremonies. It is monotonously repeated. Sometimes a family recites it at mealtime. Sometime it is uttered under fearful conditions, in combat or in hospitals or in facing death. So, some recite this prayer. Basically, it becomes a good luck charm and sort of an incantation as well, as having, magical power. Jesus said that He did not want meaningless repetition back in v. 7. So, we need to figure out, what is the use of this prayer.

Matt. 6:9 Pray then like this:...

The Purpose of the Lord's Prayer

1. This is a model for our prayers.
2. This is how we pray. This will tell us exactly how to pray.
3. Each line of this prayer is a format for our own prayers.

Jesus said, "Pray then, in this way." There was no intention for this to simply be repeated mindlessly. God does not want words to ever be cited without comprehension.

The first pattern is in v. 9b:

Matt. 6:9 Pray then like this: "Our Father in heaven, hallowed be Your name.

What Are We to Get in this First Line?

1. This is a proper address; this is a salutation spoken to the recipient of the prayer.

2. This is directed to God the Father, the Almighty, Who resides in heaven.
3. He is our Father, which indicates a personal relationship. That is a familial relationship. That is our tie in with God.
4. To properly address God as our father, there must be a personal relationship which has been established. The moment we believe in Christ, we are inducted into the family of God.
5. A family relationship is required before prayer becomes a bonafide function. We cannot address God as our Father apart from this relationship. We cannot pray unless we have that relationship. We have access to him as family members.
6. We as believers know that our requests are being heard. Whatever we speak after "Heavenly Father" is being heard by God. Established by our faith in Christ.
7. We address our prayers to the Father in the Name of the Son. This is how we open and close any prayer.
8. Prayers addressed to the father require fellowship in order to address Him.
9. That fellowship comes through the filling of the Holy Spirit, which is available only to believers in Jesus Christ. Only believers in Jesus Christ can effectively pray. No one else can. The rest of the world will scream at that. It does not mean if we are reverent, sincere, moral, or whatever, God will not hear his prayers.
10. This is why confession of sin is a necessity before beginning the body of prayer.

The Bible is very specific about certain annulments of prayer.

7 Reasons Why Prayer Is Not Heard by God and Unanswered

1. The mental attitude sins of fear and worry that neutralizes faith and the function of the faith rest drill.
2. Wrong motives for prayer. The pharisees were motivated by legalism and for recognition. James 4:3 You ask and do not receive, because you ask wrongly, to spend it on your passions. You simply want to use the answer to prayer for your pleasures. Wrong motivation. You must know what God's will is to be properly motivated.
3. A lack of compassion also makes prayer unheard. Prov. 21:13 Whoever closes his ear to the cry of the poor will himself call out and not be answered. Apathy and cruelty to the desperation of the human race will mean no answered prayer. This means you are out of fellowship. You lack compassion.
4. Prayers are hindered by a lack of domestic tranquility. When a husband fails in his leadership, and it is up to him to be a leader; when he is not a leader and his wife reacts instead of responding, the subsequent antagonism destroys the prayer life. This puts you constantly out of fellowship. Nothing gets things rolling like a good spat with your other half. This is your corporate witness in the Angelic Conflict. Corporate witness is very important in the Angelic Conflict.
5. Self-righteousness is a problem in prayer. The pharisees prayed all the time, but they were filled with arrogance and self-righteousness. Arrogance was the original sin of Satan. Arrogance creates distortions in the soul of the believer. James 4:6

Job 35:12–13 There they cry out, but he does not answer, because of the pride of evil men. Surely God does not hear an empty cry, nor does the Almighty regard it. God will not listen to an empty cry, a cry of arrogance; they are totally self-centered. The believer who assumes that his activities take precedence reaches the height of self-centered arrogance.

6. Failure to comply with divine will. The effectiveness of prayer is directly related to the believer's cognizance of God's will. You can pray until you are blue in the face, and God will answer "no" if it is outside of His will. 1John 5:14 and this is the confidence that we have before Him; that if we ask or pray for anything according to His will, He hears us. We can pray for things we are uncertain of, He may still answer "no." if you are uninformed about God's will, then pick up the booklet on Divine Guidance.
7. Ineffective prayer is directly connected to failure to obey God's mandates. God's will and His mandates are practically the same thing. 1John 3:22 and whatever we ask we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do what pleases him. How do we please God? By obedience to His Word. We need to understand Bible doctrine and live it. That is obedience.

So, we open every prayer with, Dear Heavenly Father; or something similar directed toward God. There is a reasonable respect toward the Father; an intimacy with formality. We approach the One with Whom we must give absolute respect. We do know Him; we do love Him; and He does answer us.

All 3 members of the Trinity are involved in our prayer. Whatever you ask in My name, in prayer we ask and we close in His Name. And when we pray, we must pray in the power of the Holy Spirit. Eph. 6:18 pray at all times in the Spirit. We pray in the power of the Holy Spirit and we pay attention to what we are praying. Effective prayer. This is not hard.

Matt. 6:9 Pray then like this: "Our Father in heaven, hallowed be Your name.

Next there is the 2nd element. Hallowed by Your name. Hagiazō ἁγιαζω = giving reverence.

What about the Holiness of God?

1. We give reverence to the absolute King of Kings.
2. We must give reverence to our Father and our God.
3. In our prayers, there can be no disrespect; there can be no demands and no sour attitude and no skepticism.

"Let My Name be hallowed" is what is being said. This is an event. There is a background to this. Jesus did not just come up with this out of thin air. There is an historical incident behind this.

Israel has blasphemed God's name among the other nations. They did not regard God as their only God; they had begun to chase after other gods. This was unfortunately true throughout Israel's history. God's name was a sacred name. They never pronounced it. But, they clearly chased after other gods, and this blasphemed His holy name.

Ezek. 36:25 I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you shall be clean from all your uncleannesses, and from all your idols I will cleanse you.

The pharisees did not worship God in the way that they should have. They did not accept Jesus Christ as the Messiah. They did not accept His doctrines steeped in legalism and not in grace. We understand Who He is. Reciprocal love is how we love Him.

Ezek. 36:26–29 And I will give you a new heart, and a new spirit I will put within you. And I will remove the heart of stone from your flesh and give you a heart of flesh. And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes and be careful to obey my rules. You shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers, and you shall be my people, and I will be your God. And I will deliver you from all your uncleannesses. And I will summon the grain and make it abundant and lay no famine upon you.

Ezek. 36:31 Then you will remember your evil ways, and your deeds that were not good, and you will loathe yourselves for your iniquities and your abominations.

The people were scattered and many of the Jews were killed in A.D. 70, leaving only the Wailing Wall behind, and the Jews have been scattered everywhere. Judaism is the legalism of the pharisees and it does not make the name of God holy. It is a religion and a religion of legalism and not one of grace.

Eze 36:35 And they will say, 'This land that was desolate has become like the garden of Eden, and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are now fortified and inhabited.'

That land would become like the Garden of Eden.

Ezekiel and the History of What Is Being Said

1. The prophet of Ezekiel was deported to Babylon into the Chaldea in 597 B.C.
2. Before he was deported, he prophesied of national calamity. Also, he told of a future restoration to the land. The first great diaspora when Nebuchadnezzar removed them.
3. That restoration will occur after the Babylonian captivity, 70 years later. It will also occur in the Millennium. Ezekiel is also describing the Millennium kingdom.

Ezek. 36:36 Then the nations that are left all around you shall know that I am the LORD; I have rebuilt the ruined places and replanted that which was desolate. I am the LORD; I have spoken, and I will do it. This was Israel's future in her darkest hour.

For this event, His name was to be hallowed and not defamed. In the first advent, His name was defamed. The nations around you will know that I, the Lord, have done this. This future event that Israel will experience will be praised and it will glorify God.

There is an application for us in His prayer.

Matt. 6:9 Pray then like this: "Our Father in heaven, hallowed be Your name.

Lesson #0328

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

9/27/2012 Thurs

Matt. 6:9 Pray then like this:...

This is a prayer set up; this prayer specifically was not to be used as a liturgy. It is not to be repeated mindlessly. That is how it is most often used. If you simply repeat the words, there is a point where you forget the meaning.

Bobby said it in the mornings at school. Did it mean anything. Bobby only remembers just mouthing the words. It is just a ritual prayer without the content. So, what is the blueprint that the Lord commands us to follow?

The recipient of all of our prayers are named in this first line. Jesus prayed all the time, and He never prayed to Himself; only to the Father. We pray in the name of the Son, Who brings us to the Father.

Let Your Name be revered. This is measured and respectful, and we should not approach Him in any other way. Do not forget that this prayer is originally a model for the disciples and believers in Israel and the time of Christ. This took place when Israel was still a nation, even though the Jews in general did not revere His Name. They prayed vociferously and they tried to hold to the Law, but they constantly chased after false gods throughout their history. The pharisees and many of the Jews rejected their Messiah. They flat reject Him. That further defamed God. The pharisees and the religious leaders defamed God's name to the rest of the world. Jesus is the Only One due all reverence.

Matt. 6:9 Pray then like this: "Our Father in heaven, let Your name be revered.

Israel has a future because they are the covenant people of God; they still have an iron-clad immutable promise as a nation. God made these promises with Abraham and with David.

A king is to be revered; and they will in the future, when every knee will bow.

Regathered Israel will meet our Lord at the throne and they would revere Him at that time. If you lack the Holy Spirit, then your prayers are not heard. It is no different for us today in the Church Age. We have this same prayer template to follow.

Reciprocal love is the ultimate in reverence and worship toward the Lord. This understanding of a prayer, looking forward to a future event, is confirmed by a phrase.

Matt. 6:10 Your kingdom come, Your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

The 3rd increment, "Your kingdom come; You will be done, on earth as it is done in heaven. The disciples are convinced that Jesus Christ is the Messiah; they believe in Him as the messiah; this is their salvation.

Satan is the ruler of this world; the Lord cannot institute His kingdom as long as Satan rules this world. Jesus must go to the cross to strategically defeat Satan. Your kingdom come is future.

What about this "Your Kingdom Come..." ?

1. "Your kingdom come" has With an eschatological focus.
2. This is a focus on the future; a future event
3. Christ's rule to come as the king. It is a Millennial event.
4. Before that future event can occur, another future event must precede it, which is a part of that kingdom come; operation footstool. Psalm 110:1 The LORD says to my Lord: "Sit at my right hand, until I make your enemies your footstool."

Operation Footstool

1. Satan and his demons will be incarcerated for...
2. He will wipe out His enemies.
- 3.
4. Then His name will be revered.

At the end of all this, Satan will be released out of his bonds, and he will deceive the nations and foment revolution. That will be the continuation of what Christ as to do. At the same time, all unbelievers will be cast into the Lake of Fire and death itself will be conquered. After this will be the eternal state.

What about us in all of this. Why is this not our prayer as well?

Don't We Want the Kingdom to Come as Well?

1. This is a prayer request for the disciples of make as Jews and the members of the nation of Israel.
2. This involved Christ's messianic mission to Israel.
3. "Thy kingdom come" is based on the assurance of Israel that God will fulfill all of His covenant promises. In spite of all opposition and the necessity of the cross.
4. Christ will, at a future time, institute the promised kingdom of Israel.
5. What was He doing in this prayer? He was looking forward to the covenant promise of Israel.
6. Because of that, this is not an actual request for the Church Age believer prayers. We do not make this request because we are not Israel.

2. The church has other events before the millennial king come can come.

3. It is the rapture of the church that will come 7 years prior to “our kingdom come.”
4. The resurrection of the church is our next great future event. We will all participate dead or alive.
5. Israel today is not the Israel of the Tribulation. We are still in the Church Age. Israel cannot be regathered until that time. The kingdom is not our future event as Church Age believers.
6. This is a prayer for Israel; particularly when they are surrounded by all around.
- 7.
8. His kingdom is not in view for the Church Age; only for Israel at the 2nd advent. Jesus is not here speaking to the church.
9. That kingdom is a promise to Israel and not to us. We will not be in the Tribulation; we will Either way, the Jews will survive, even if nation Israel today is destroyed.

How Does this Work for us

1. In general, we in the Church Age can also pray for future events in which the will of God is fulfilled, whether near or far off events.
2. The next to the last verse in the Bible confirms our prayer. Rev. 22:20 He who testifies to these things says, "Surely I am coming soon." Amen. Come, Lord Jesus! The grace of the Lord Jesus be with all. Amen. We should be prepared for the rapture at any moment. The “amen” is the end of that verse. Jesus says, “I am coming quickly” and John says, “Come, Lord Jesus.”
3. Like the prayer of Israel for the kingdom, the fulfillment of our prayer for the future is
4. It is subject to God’s plan and His timing.
5. God knows it before we ask. John gives us the template of the Lord’s prayer for us.
6. Nevertheless, the prayer for the future rapture is legitimate for us.

Matt. 6:10 Your kingdom come, Your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

The Will of God

1. We are looking at the plan of the Father unfold on earth.
2. Ultimately His will and His plan will be fulfilled
3. This phrase can also be applied to the church and God’s unfolding plan for us in this age.
4. His will be done on earth in our lives.
5. Us and the corporate prayer.
6. His will be done will not be perfectly fulfilled until the 2nd advent.
7. But His will can still be accomplished in full.

The Principle

1. All of our prayer requests must be oriented to the plan of God.

2. His plan will be accomplished today on earth as it was palled in heaven.
3. Praying for the fulfillment of His will is legitimately. Always in accordance with God's will.
4. God's will is more important than our needs. We think of prayer is telling God about what it is that we need. Our needs are secondary. What ever happens in November is not a reason for us to go to New Zealand. But His will be done.
5. Whatever we pray for, it is based on the knowledge that He answers our prayers, but based upon the knowledge of His will.
6. We make our requests know; all was
7. Pray for your needs an desires but do not forget about the will of God. His will is always for the best.
8. Therefore, we certainly can pray for our temporal needs, expecting that God will provide exactly that which is in our best interests according to His will.

Lesson #0329 Matt. 6:9–11 Rev. 22:20 Life of Christ 9/30/2012 1Sunday

A pastor will often break out into the Lord's prayer, and people enter into saying it as well. However, this has become a ritual without meaning. Few, if any of the hearers, have any idea as to what these words mean. That is exactly what Jesus did not want prayer to be. The Lord's prayer is a template for prayer; it was not designed to be repeated mindlessly. This is a format.

The recipient of all of our prayers is God the Father.

Matt. 6:9 Pray then like this: "Our Father in heaven, let Your name be revered.

There is also a focus of this prayer toward the future. The disciples represented all of Israel. They have been God's people since they left Egypt, and this promise goes back to Abraham. When they left Egypt, they became a client nation. They represented God on earth.

However, throughout their history, the Jews chased these false gods, and they besmirched the Person of God in this pursuit. They defamed the name of Y^ehowah. Because they did this, they paid a terrible price in divine discipline.

They paid a price for defaming God's name to the world. "Israel, your name is apostasy." The pharisees blasphemed the name of their God. The Romans would level Jerusalem and scatter that Jews throughout the Roman empire. The people in Israel right now is not the nation that God promised to Abraham.

Matt. 6:9 Pray then like this: "Our Father in heaven, let Your name be revered.

Despite Israel's unfaithfulness throughout time, Israel would once again hold the name of God sacred and revered. In that day, at the 2nd advent, God's name would be hallowed. And at that time, every knee will bow.

Matt. 6:10 Your kingdom come, Your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

The King appeared and the people rejected Him, and the kingdom was postponed. When Jesus came in the 1st advent, the offer of the kingdom was a legitimate offer. This is a future reference. At that future time, His complete will would be made known. His will would be accomplished on this earth. Right now, we sin and are against God; demons flaunt God's will as well. So, God's directive will is not done on earth. However, in the future, His will would be fulfilled completely by Israel in the millennial kingdom.

We are in the plan of God and we establish and execute the will of God when we are in fellowship and when we are growing. It is not done perfectly; we are in the devil's world. The devil travels about like a roaring lion, seeking whomever he can devour.

What about these phrases which look forward to Israel in the future? What does this have to do with us? We must pray for future events so that the will of God is fulfilled. Just as God has designated a future for Israel as a nation, God has also designated a future for Church Age believers. We have a distant future in the plan of God. We will be raptured as the church, and John confirms this in the book of Revelation.

Rev. 22:20 He who testifies to these things says, "Surely I am coming soon." Amen. Come, Lord Jesus!

This is a summation of what John has seen; and there is an imminency of Jesus' return. We do not know the time and we do not know the date. We cannot look at all the current events and say, "It may be the time." We actually do not know the time; only God knows this time. We only know that this is true. The events of history may in fact line up with the eschatology in Revelation and, again, they may not.

Israel may be scattered again.

We are to anticipate the coming of our Lord, and we are to pray for it. This is a legitimate prayer for a future event. "If God already knows the time and the date, why do we pray for it?" The Scripture tells us to make personal requests even though God knows all that will happen. We make requests because we are mandated to. Pray without ceasing.

Rev. 22:20 He who testifies to these things says, "Surely I am coming soon." Amen. Come, Lord Jesus!

Besides, there are few times in your life when you do not want God to do something on your behalf.

Whenever we pray, it is not about our plan. Do we expect those answers which are not in God's will? We should not. If you pray, "I want this" and it is outside of God's will, then he will answer "No" and that is His will. When we ask, we will receive an answer.

We should pray for our nation; but what is the will of God? We will find out. The prayer is legitimate. Do we pray for those who are ill? Of course. But God's plan will prevail. The prayer is legitimate. And God will hear it and He will answer. We pray and God takes care of the rest.

Matt. 6:10 Your kingdom come, Your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

Now we come to....

Matt. 6:11 Give us this day our daily bread,

We all have personal needs throughout our lives. Even though we have a future and even though God's will is done. There is dependence upon God for logistical grace; here, it is food, but that is representative of logistical grace. This is the principle of one day at a time.

Pray for our needs; pray for our needs on a daily basis. Pray for your needs in the full realization that we are in His sight and in His plan. Bobby recommends that we begin with our petitions to Him. If it is nothing more than, "Give me strength to get through this day."

We can make our petitions at any time. They can be for the immediate future and for the distant future. We are to make this petition known to God.

Matt. 6:11 Give us this day our daily bread,

What is coming up is so perfect, and it seems to contradict rebound. Our Lord will deal with rebound and it might confuse us.

Lesson #0330 Mt 6:12, 14 Lk 15:11–24 Life of Christ 9/30/2012 2Sunday

We are going to omit v. 13 for a moment?

"For Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory, forever." is not present in this text; it was added as a part of the liturgy.

Vv. 12, 14, 15 are all going to deal with forgiveness. Rebound is naming your sins to God and it sounds here as if you need to forgive someone else in order to be forgiven.

Matt. 6:12 and forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.

The aorist active imperative of the verb: aphiêmi (ἀφίημι) [pronounced af-EE-ay-mee], which means, 1) to send away; 1a) to bid going away or depart; 1a1) of a husband divorcing his wife; 1b) to send forth, yield up, to expire; 1c) to let go, let alone, let be; 1c1) to disregard; 1c2) to leave, not to discuss now, (a topic); 1c2a) of teachers, writers and speakers; 1c3) to omit, neglect; 1d) to let go, give up a debt, forgive, to remit; 1e) to give up, keep no longer; 2) to permit, allow, not to hinder, to give up a thing to a person; 3) to leave, go way from one; 3a) in order to go to another place; 3b) to depart from any one; 3c) to depart from one and leave him to himself so that all mutual claims are abandoned; 3d) to desert wrongfully; 3e) to go away leaving something behind; 3f) to leave one by not taking him as a companion; 3g) to leave on dying, leave behind one; 3h) to leave so that what is left may remain, leave remaining; 3i) abandon, leave destitute. Thayer Definitions only. Strong's #863.

We are asking for the grace of God; we cannot repay the debt that we owe. We have fallen too far into the hole to be able to get out. This is the obligation of the Jews to keep the Law; that was their obligation and no one could do this to the standards of God.

There is nothing that we can do to get out of this debt. Believers do not have this barrier of personal sin or inherent sin between them and God. They expressed their faith in Christ Jesus and, therefore, we have access to God as family.

Jesus here is speaking of post-salvation sins. The disciples and all of us can pray for post-salvation debt (sins) and be forgiven. This is a sin-debt and this restores us to good standing in our family. We are in debt to the Father when we sin. We are not in fellowship because we sin. A restoration to God without payment is necessary, because we cannot pay this ourselves.

Matt. 6:12 and forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.

We are going to look at the prodigal son, who took the family inheritance and spent it and realized that he needed to return to his father. "I am no longer worthy to be called your son." The prodigal had lived this high life. He has spent all of his money; he has separated himself from fellowship with his father. So all he does is return to his father and acknowledge that he has sinned.

Luke 15:11–24 He also said: "A man had two sons. The younger of them said to his father, 'Father, give me the share of the estate I have coming to me.' So he distributed the assets to them. Not many days later, the younger son gathered together all he had and traveled to a distant country, where he squandered his estate in foolish living. After he had spent everything, a severe famine struck that country, and he had nothing. Then he went to work for one of the citizens of that country, who sent him into his fields to feed pigs. He longed to eat his fill from the carob pods the pigs were eating, but no one would give him any. When he came to his senses, he said, 'How many of my father's hired hands have more than enough food, and here I am dying of hunger! I'll get up, go to my father, and say to him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and in your sight. I'm no longer worthy to be called your son. Make me like one of your hired hands.' So he got up and went to his father. But while the son was still a long way off, his father saw him and was filled with compassion. He ran, threw his arms around his neck, and kissed him. The son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and in your sight. I'm no longer worthy to be called your son.' "But the father told his slaves, 'Quick! Bring out the best robe and put it on him; put a ring on his finger and sandals on his feet. Then bring the fattened calf and slaughter it, and let's celebrate with a feast, because this son of mine was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found!' So they began to celebrate.

His father forgave him everything. He did not have to pay back what he spent. He was accepted immediately back into the family after naming his sin to his father. This is a great illustration of eternal security.

Bobby's family should have, on several occasions, said, "How could this kid be ours?" However, they did not. There is nothing that we can do to remove ourselves from our family. The son could not lose his family status simply because he was a black sheep.

Luke 15:24 ...because this son of mine was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found!
So they began to celebrate.

"Father, I have sinned against you and against heaven." He was lost and then he was found. He had gotten out of fellowship. He threw himself down on the ground and groveled a bit? He just showed up and said, "I have sinned." 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and in your sight. I'm no longer worthy to be called your son.'

Now, the pharisees did not forgive debt until it was made in full. Here, our Lord was refuting religion and there was a repayment of debt on the part of the debtor. How many Christians have said, "You must pay penance to pay your debt." The whole Scripture defines our debt in many ways; but there is nothing that we can do to have our debt repaid. We name our sins to God. There is unconditional forgiveness. There are no works for forgiveness. To be forgiven by the legalist means remuneration by the debtor.

The pharisee would not even let you into the Temple until you have satisfied your debt.

Luke 15:25–32 "Now his older son was in the field; as he came near the house, he heard music and dancing. So he summoned one of the servants and asked what these things meant. 'Your brother is here,' he told him, 'and your father has slaughtered the fattened calf because he has him back safe and sound.' "Then he became angry and didn't want to go in. So his father came out and pleaded with him. But he replied to his father, 'Look, I have been slaving many years for you, and I have never disobeyed your orders, yet you never gave me a young goat so I could celebrate with my friends. But when this son of yours came, who has devoured your assets with prostitutes, you slaughtered the fattened calf for him.' "'Son,' he said to him, 'you are always with me, and everything I have is yours. But we had to celebrate and rejoice, because this brother of yours was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found.'"

This is a forgiveness without repayment. The first forgiveness of this verse is forgiveness by God, by grace. What are we talking about here?

Do We Have to Forgive Others First in Order to Be Forgiven?

Matt. 6:12 and forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.

1. This is a parallel, not a prerequisite.
2. Forgiving our debtors is not a condition of God's forgiveness.

3. This is a grace analogy to forgiveness. It is an analogy. The disciples needed to learn grace; they had to be taught the difference between grace and the legalism of the pharisees.
4. There is an adverb here, hos, which makes all of the difference. This adverb means as, which sets up the analogy; a simile. This is a comparison. There are two unlike objects using like, as. One object is compared to another object, even though they are dissimilar. They correspond to one another in a metaphorical way. "He has a heart as big as a whale" is a simile, indicating that a person's heart is large. That is metaphorical.
5. This simile by Jesus Christ presents a comparison of grace. This is given to the disciples.
6. The forgiveness by man and forgiveness by God are not the same. However, they are similar here in the comparison being made by Jesus.
7. This helps the disciples understand the concept of grace.
8. The disciples forgiving debtors is not a 1 to 1 equating with God's forgiveness; it is not the same.
9. There is no exact representation between our forgiveness of others and God's forgiveness of us. Not an exact comparison.
- 10.
11. We can understand the grace involved in forgiving a debt that someone owes to us that we do not require repayment for. If you can think of someone that you forgot about their debt to you. God forgave you freely and you don't have to pay Him back; then you may not understand all that is going on; but if you throw in the idea of forgiving someone who owes you a debt, then you understand it better.
12. God's forgiveness is absolute, unlike the forgiveness of men. We may forgive someone, but there is this half-hearted forgiveness. This is a little bit of a comparison, but nothing like what God does for us. It is never used to manipulate us. Someone might forgive us a debt in order to hold it over our heads; that is not the kind of forgiveness that is being talked about here. God never makes us repay a debt. He forgives us, just as the father forgave the prodigal son. Then we can eat, drink and be merry with the Lord. This analogy of forgiveness presents an important principle of grace to the disciples. Human forgiveness is not a prerequisite for divine forgiveness.
13. Just as the disciples are able to freely forgive, likewise, God freely forgives us under the principle of grace.

Matt. 5:44 we were told to love our enemies with impersonal love, which includes forgiving them of things which they have done to us which is offensive or harmful. The disciples can understand forgiving their enemies out of grace orientation. They will need to understand this in the coming years. So we understand God forgiving us of a much greater debt.

So Jesus makes a didactic point. He is teaching God's forgiveness to His disciples. Not a prerequisite but a parallel. Sometimes, we give the prayer of rebound, and we go on our little way; but we are actually in serious debt, and God forgives us all of it. We run up our debt all the time, every time. Just because we say that we have sinned. This does not contradict rebound; this explains it in a way that has not been legalistic.

Matt. 6:12 and forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.

Matt. 6:14 For if you forgive others their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you,

Lesson #0332

Luke 5: Life of Christ

10/3/2012 Wed

Oncologist noticed that Christians seemed to die so well. He decided that he ought to look into it.

No one could teach like the Lord Jesus Christ could teach. Every time that He spoke, there was something critical to learn; or important about God, Himself, the spiritual life, or the eternal future. There were no throwaway days; no in-house training days; He did a masterful job of teaching His pupils (disciples).

The disciples were pretty dense; they needed repetition. They did not get it very easily. All good teachers need creative ways to teach. Jesus had a short time on earth; so He had to teach them quickly. Jesus needed them to be able to teach after He had ascended.

You know that if you are a teacher, you should note His methods. That is the job of every teacher to communicate the information. One of the most creative ways that our Lord taught was by analogy. He could take a complex theological subject and put that into a familiar context that the disciples and others could relate to. They could hear the abstract concept and learn it. They were able to apply it to their own lives. They were able to make an application here. Our Lord's words are still teaching us. They still relate to our own experience.

Matt. 6:12 and forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.

Matt. 6:14 For if you forgive others their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you,

Jesus will use a teaching analogy, a simile. It compares one object to another object and they correspond to one another. The two objects are connected by like, as.

The Simile That Jesus Is Teaching

1. The comparison here is between forgiveness of our debts by God, which is similar to our forgiveness of the debt that others owe to us. Jesus puts this theological concept of forgiveness that we can understand.
2. The debt that we owe to God is our transgressions. Our debt to God is sin. We are sinners.
3. Jesus says that these things are comparable. God's forgiveness of us is like us forgiving a debt that others owe us. That is usually a monetary debt. When it is money, it is even more understandable.

4. They are going to learn the depth and breadth of our sins.

The Application of this Simile

1. If you forgive your debtors or your enemies of their trespasses or debt against you based upon your grace orientation, how much more does God forgive us? What do you think that God does for us? That gives us a vivid understanding of grace.
2. We are forgiven solely on grace. There is no paybacks, no penance, we are forgiven based upon our naming our sins to Him. The illustration is the prodigal son.
3. We are to imitate God in forgiving others. God is not to forgive us by imitating us. God does not forgive us because we forgive others.
4. Since we know how hard forgiving debt can be, especially forgiving our enemies, this makes a perfect analogy to how great the grace of God is toward us.
5. He cancels our debt of post-salvation sin with the grace system of rebound.

A Summary of this Passage

1. This passage does not contradict 1John 1:9 have you ever forgiven anyone of any debt? God does not ask for a little bit of it back; he just dismisses the debt altogether.
2. This passage represents rebound; naming sins to the Father. The grace way of forgiving by the Father. Bobby can teach this well because he learned this from his own father. He never had to pay back any debt to his father. Many of us have been recipients of grace by Bob. When he gave money away, he gave it away freely.
3. This sets up the analogy to help us understand the grace basis of rebound and forgiveness of post-salvation sins.
4. Grace is recognized and taught here by Jesus as the only foundation for forgiveness. Rebound and then restoration of fellowship.
5. So Matt. 6:12 was all about God's grace in forgiving someone. We are in the context here of prayer.
 - a. God's grace in forgiveness provides fellowship with Him. Just like the prodigal son with all of his money. He walked into his father's house and he was forgiven.
 - b. This is a necessary prerequisite for us to communicate with God in prayer. We cannot see God. The prodigal son could see his own father face to face. This is a necessary thing to do. The prodigal son had to communicate with his father.
 - c. We must have fellowship with the Father to be heard by Him.
 - d. That fellowship with God is provided with no charge to us. It is what is called free grace. Grace is free. God does not charge for His grace. His grace is never given because we do something for Him.

Matt. 6:12 and forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.

This same analogy is continued and it is even more difficult for us to understand.

Matt. 6:14 For if you forgive others their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you,

Making our forgiving someone else as a prerequisite for being forgiven by God, that would be false. We cannot merit forgiveness. There is no merit before God. That is not what merits our forgiveness. That is a picture of grace. Our pre-salvation sins were forgiven on the cross, and salvation was made possible for all mankind. What did we do? Not one thing. Christ did it all.

Matt. 6:15 but if you do not forgive others their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

The whole Christian world wants to make what we do for God to be the issue. Our lives are empowered by God the Holy Spirit; we have the spiritual life that Christ bequeathed to us. These are all our grace assets. Our eternal future is entirely grace. It is the same thing for our post-salvation sins to be forgiven.

The Illustrations of Forgiveness

1. These two verses are also illustrations of God's grace and forgiveness. They do not contradict v. 12; they explain v. 12.
2. There is no human forgiveness required in order to earn God's forgiveness.
3. There is no prerequisite of forgiveness of other to be forgiven by God.
4. These statements are designed to speed up the disciples' understanding of this topic. They need forgiveness. This is a quick way to understand grace orientation.
5. If they understand how to unconditionally forgive someone, then they can understand what God has done for them.

The disciples learned a lot of incorrect things from the pharisees, like an eye for an eye, which is never about personal revenge.

Grace orientation is what the disciples are learning here. Their forgiving someone else is grace orientation. This is how God forgives believers who sin. Their forgiveness of debt is a representation of the forgiveness of sin to all believers.

Substitute the doctrine of God's grace in place of hatred and retribution. Jesus is teaching the disciples how to think grace. There is no forgiveness in that kind of legalistic interpretation.

What Jesus Is Teaching the Disciples

1. To emphasize grace in rebound, Jesus Christ demands grace on the part of His disciples. Forgive the debts of others.
2. Forgiving debtors is a picture of what God does for us in rebound.
3. Forgiveness of other people is illustrative of God's forgiveness.

Matt. 6:15 but if you do not forgive others their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

Two 3rd class conditions and this is a more probable expectation of occurrence in the future. This forgiveness of debt is what is likely to be seen in the future.

This is a comparison between God's forgiveness and the disciples' forgiveness.

This is a didactic analogy. This is a teaching analogy. All teachers do teach.

Matt. 6:14–15 For if you forgive others their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you, but if you do not forgive others their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

Some Closing Statements

1. Christ is repeating to the disciples the lessons of God's grace in rebound in terms that they can understand.
2. They must graciously forgive in the same way that God forgives them. If God forgives me by rebound, why can't I forgive those who are debtors to me by the same grace that God showed me?
3. They must forgive debtors or enemies as Christ forgave them in rebound.
4. In forgiving others, a form of fellowship is renewed with those who have wronged you. Before they were debtors.
5. When God forgives in rebound, fellowship is renewed.
6. This illustrates what God does in forgiveness. He renews fellowship with us, which is what God does in rebound.

Here we have a look at rebound that we have not seen before. Forgiving debt to someone else is just like God forgiving debt to me.

These two verse go back and explain v. 12. V. 12 is asking God to forgive us our sins.

Some Closing Points

1. God's forgiveness of sins is not based upon one's forgiving others. That is not grace and not what Jesus is teaching.
2. His forgiveness is not earned.
3. What this does say is, the injury that we have done to others opens our eyes to the injury that we have done to God in our sins. Are we in debt to someone? That can be a worrisome problem.
- 4.
5. Christian forgiveness of others is based upon realizing that we have been forgiven by God.
6. Our enemies do not deserve anything from us. Just so, we do not deserve forgiveness by God.

Matt. 6:12, 14–15 and forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. For if you forgive others their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you, but if you do not forgive others their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

Eph. 4:32 Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, just as God in Christ has also forgiven you.

We forgive as Christ forgave.

The Is an Application for Us; the Payoff for us

1. One cannot remain in fellowship with God if He refuses to forgive others.
2. Mental attitude sins are present when you fail to forgive.
3. Lack of forgiveness of others means that we still harbor anger, implacability or hate to them. This is the opposite of what Bobby was just teaching. If we remain angry, then we are out of fellowship through sin.
4. That means being out of fellowship, the power of prayer is absent. That is the whole point.
5. Forgiveness is something that everyone who is a believer will do.
6. Otherwise, you will have mental attitude sins and be out of fellowship.
7. Fellowship is the prerequisite in the model that our Lord here presents. Forgiving others is a grace display that God does on our behalf in rebound. The disciples recognize the parallel between their forgiveness of others and God's forgiveness of them.

Lesson #0333 Matt. 6:13 26:39 James 1:13 Life of Christ 10/4/2012 Thurs

Matt. 6:12, 14–15 and forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. For if you forgive others their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you, but if you do not forgive others their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

Matt. 6:13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

This doxology is not a part of Matthew's gospel, but it was added on another manuscript.

Doxology: For Yours is the kingdom, and the power and the glory forever.

These manuscripts were copied over and over again. In all of this copying, this verse was adopted as liturgy. When it is recited, this doxology is always said with it; and it was apparently added when this prayer began to be used as liturgy.

We seem to be asking God here to not lead us into temptation, and that is a problem.

What this phrase does not say. Aorist active subjunctive of eispharô + the negative mê. We are saying, do not bring us into something. This is figuratively for bringing in an idea. This is an idea. The Lord does not bring us into contact with something evil.

Why this Is Not about God Leading Us into Evil

1. Eispharô with the negative mê emphasizes that this is not God Who brings us into evil. Temptation carries with it the idea of evil.
2. The request is God not allow evil to come to us.
3. It is not God Who brings us into contact with evil. It can never be that. Yet, here is says, "Do not lead us or carry us into temptation." The very understanding of that seems that we are requesting God not to do this.
4. God may permit such things, but He never brings these things to us to entice us.
5. It is not God Who brings us into contact with evil.

We are asking God not to bring us into temptation, but we already know that God cannot do this. He is incapable of contact with evil, so He cannot bring us into temptation.

Temptation is pairismos. Rarely, if ever, did this word mean temptation in terms of enticement to sin. That is not how that word is used. It is not that kind of temptation in this context. How does Bobby know this?

So What Does this Mean?

1. God is the subject of this phrase. It is not written in the text; but that is the essence of what is being said. He is the subject of this phrase.
2. God can never entice us to sin. "God leads us into temptation so we are asking Him not to do that?" God cannot tempt to sin and remain sinless Himself. He can have nothing to do with sin.
3. What does pairismos actually mean? So, we are not praying to God not to do something that He would not do to us. This is simply an unacceptable prayer.
4. This is for God not to lead us to some sort of temptation.
5. Our request is for God to preclude us from the evil perpetrated by someone else.
6. In other words, our request is that, God defend us from the evil of another person. How are we actually tempted to sin? We have our area of weakness or strength from inward lust, from outside sources, by people, by certain circumstances, by stimuli but not by God. The actual sin is committed by the positive response of the believer's sin nature to some source of temptation. So we can make a legitimate

James 1:13 Let no one say, "I am being tempted by God." God Himself cannot be enticed by evil. God is never tempted. Nothing that is evil tempts God. He Himself does not tempt anyone.

So, if this is not what it means, what does it mean? We are asking God not to do something; but by this statement, it means that God could do that. What this means is testing. Our request is, not to allow testing, which is trials or adversities or difficulties. We do not want testing to confront us. That is the prayer. In this case, testing is not sin. It is for another purpose.

The New Testament insists that believers will face testing and trials for good reasons. For the glorification of God. Even our Lord faced trials and temptations in His humanity.

Matt. 26:39 Going a little farther, He fell face-down and prayed, "My Father! If it is possible, let this cup pass from Me. Yet not as I will, but as You will."

Jesus fell on His face and prayed to God. He asks God, "If it is possible, then let this cup pass from Me." The cross is what He faced. He did not want to face this horror. He did not want to take upon Himself the sins of the world. It is bad enough to come into contact with sin; but He comes into contact with every sin. He allows in this prayer for the will of God the Father. Please, don't put Me through this, but if it is Your will, I will do it.

As a man, He handled the cross as no one could. It was agonizing for Him. It is obvious why He would ask this. Whenever a request is made, it will always be answered according to God's will. He knew this was the will of God because there is no other way by which we might be saved.

The Lord's Prayer and the Prayer at Gethsemene

1. Jesus Christ prayer in Matt. 26:39 was for God to relieve Him of the reality of bearing the sins of the world. He was also praying not to be separated from God the Father. He did not want to endure the separation either.
2. Even though our Lord prayed for this conclusion of this terrible ordeal, the most severe of all tests, He still accepts God's will in the matter. He took on the sins of the world and was separated from God the Father.
3. Therefore, Jesus Christ's prayer is a pattern for our prayer.
4. We really don't want to be tested. We don't want to go through difficulty, trial and testing. Sometimes, it is necessary that God do this for His great purposes.
5. This is the same sort of prayer that we would pray ourselves to avoid testing. Jesus sets the precedent here.
6. Ours is a prayer to preclude testing in our lives. This may be answered "No." We have as believers, various trials and tribulations that we must endure.

The test may be removed when we pray for it; but it may not be removed, and for good reason. Paul prayed for the thorn to be removed from his flesh. The thorn was left and this hurt Paul. Testing? What was the testing for? Why does God allow us to go through testing? Testing for blessing; testing for accelerated growth. Sometimes, the fastest way to grow up is to be in the midst of adversity.

You might even ask, "Please take away this testing that I deserve." Or maybe you have no control over it, and it is just a part of your life. Bobby cannot imagine going through some things that others have gone through.

The worst times of your life can be the best times of your life. We can also pray that the will of God be done in our lives. "Heavenly Father, please remove this painful testing; but if it is necessary, then please remove it."

Rom. 5:3–4 And not only that, but we also rejoice in our afflictions, because we know that affliction produces endurance [perseverance], endurance produces proven character, and proven character produces hope.

The Angelic Conflict is on a truck on the way to Houston, and the truck broke down on the way to Berachah.

The Good of Personal Affliction

1. Physical hardship, suffering, distress in our life. It is not something that is pleasant. Enduring it brings about something that is good for us.
2. So that which is bad for us brings about something that is good for us.
3. Perseverance trains us to deal with adversity. It is through the spiritual life that we learn how to deal with adversity.
4. Testing and tribulation is designed so that we can see it through using the divine resources at our disposal.
5. Perseverance is produced when we exercise faith rest in the face of testing. Adversity and testing should be faced with the problem solving devices.
6. Patience and testing are commended to us in Rom. 5:3.
7. From suffering can come accelerated spiritual growth and practice in using the problem solving devices. We may get testing so that we learn how to use these problem solving devices. There are tests which come after and tests that come after that. Spiritual maturity is gained from suffering.
8. We are trained in this way to use the problem solving devices. We handle all things in life by depending upon the Lord. God has a plan for us. Sometimes, we have to go through difficult times to get to that point. There are difficult times that we must face in order to get to that point. At some point, God may remove this weight because we pray for Him to do that. Who knows what is in the future and who knows what sort of an invisible or visible hero that we might be.

Psalm 56:3 What time I am afraid, I will trust in You.

Fear can often grab you by the throat and drag you around and slap you a bit.

We can learn some things only through adversity. This is good for any believer and it glorifies God.

To pray for endurance and for the end of such testing, we all want that. God's will might not be to remove that testing. The testing and adversity may very well be for our benefit.

We cannot pray a prayer to God not to allow testing come to us, if it is there for our benefit.

Lesson #0334

Mt6:13 Js1:13 Jb1:12 Life of Christ 10/7/2012 1Sunday

Angelic Conflict booklet is finally out. It took 2 weeks to get the booklet here from Pennsylvania. Where there is positive volition, our Lord provides. Man finds the Plan of God on a Polish vessel and reads it to help with his English. The impact of Bible doctrine is felt all over the world.

We are on the final line of the Lord's prayer, which is in brackets in most Bibles. For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. This doxology was not a part of the original manuscript of Matthew. This prayer is used all the time, for worship, recitations, funerals, etc.

Matt. 6:13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

There is some controversy with Do not lead us into temptation but deliver us from evil. This prayer seems to indicate that God should not lead us into temptation.

Παιροσμος is not an enticement to sin here, although that is its normal use. God cannot entice us to sin. Sin is all outside of the will of God. God's will is for us to never sin. So, why would He tempt us to sin against His Own will?

James 1:13 Let no one say, "I am being tempted by God." God Himself cannot be enticed by evil. God is never tempted. Nothing that is evil tempts God. He Himself does not tempt anyone.

God cannot be tempted by evil. Jesus was tempted in His humanity. Evil is not even entertained by God. God does not entice to sin or to evil. How pointless it would be for God to tell us not to sin and then to entice us to sin (or to think evil).

Matt. 6:13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil [one].

We have one clue as to the meaning of παιροσμος, which means testing. There are some shades of meaning to the verb. Spare us. Followed by απο, which means from, from a person. Genitive singular, masculine gender of πονηρου, which means the evil one, the evil person, Satan. This passage takes us directly to the Angelic Conflict.

Be of sober spirit. Do not take this lightly. This is serious. Satan's tests are no joking matter. Be self-disciplined in prayer.

1Peter 5:8 Be sober! Be on the alert! Your adversary the Devil is prowling around like a roaring lion, looking for anyone he can devour.

You have seen roaring lions prowling around seeking anyone that he could devour. He has a whole pack of demons who are involved here. He has a system, the cosmic system, sometimes called the doctrine of demons. His thinking permeates our world. He will use every weapon in his arsenal to destroy us. What is this fruit on the tree? God won't give you this knowledge. If you just eat it, you will have so much knowledge. The woman bought into this and she was deceived. Adam knew what was going on.

Some of Satan's most subtle schemes

Satan's Temptation and the Lord's Prayer

1. This final petition of the model prayer recognizes the great enemy of the Christian. When we became believers in Jesus Christ, we became his implacable enemies.
2. This request in prayer recognizes that Satan does test believers and that he can bring great suffering to us. Not all of our suffering comes from Satan; much of it comes from ourselves. Satan does not want us to advance spiritually. He will do whatever to stop us from advancing. His ultimate end is the Lake of Fire. We are witnesses in the appeal trial.
3. Jesus Christ Himself was tested by the devil and He was able to resist. He did this in the power of the Holy Spirit, thinking doctrine the entire time.
4. This is all part of the Angelic Conflict, which we fight each and every day. We are neck deep in the Angelic Conflict. We had better fix bayonets for the day.
5. Our Lord exhorts His disciples to pray for deliverance or pray to be spared from this kind of testing by the evil one. These disciples have little power themselves. They will be the future Apostles. They faced a huge amount of adversity. Satan gave them personal attention.
6. They and we should ask God to spare us from the cunning of the devil. We must recognize what the test is in order to pass it.
7. How is it disguised? The world thinks the greatest good is religion. This is one of the great subterfuges of this world.
8. Pray that they might be saved from his schemes and his deceptions. We do not have a chance against Satan's power. But his power is nothing compared to the omnipotence of God.

Angelic Conflict involves the weakness of man and the power of God in man. God may allow the devil to tempt us. Humility is high on God's list. One little success in our life and arrogance is right there in our grasp.

Job 1:12 "Very well," the LORD told Satan, "everything he owns is in your power. However, you must not lay a hand on Job himself." So Satan went out from the LORD's presence.

God let Satan take everything from Job that he chose. Job lost his family, health and possessions. But Job still resisted the power of Satan with the power of God in his soul. Job passed with flying colors except for some complaining. He prayed for deliverance. There are 34 chapters, and many times Job threw himself on the grace of God. He did not know what he was doing wrong. We don't know either; but we have the power of God and His Word in our souls. The armor of God is our protection from the evil one.

During all of this testing, Job advanced exponentially in the plan of God. He did not know what it was for or what was happening; but he trusted in the Lord and he grew exponentially.

Matt. 6:13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil [one].

Lesson #0335 Matt. 6:13, 16 Eph. 6:12–16 Life of Christ 10/7/2012 2Sun

Matt. 6:13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil [one].

Great deceptions: legalism and religion. The pharisees were perfectly representative of this. They were completely inundated by the cosmic system. The disciples who listen to this model prayer will face these tests of legalism and religion many times after Christ leaves them and the Church Age begins. This is in preparation for the Church Age.

A convict was just paroled after 24 years, denied parole 3x. After the first time, he hated God, knew he would die in that place. The man with the ministry sent him a letter. The reason that he was going through this, is because this is where God wanted him to be. A drug addict, a murderer; but he became a believer in prison. In the final few years, he has witnessed to hundreds if not thousands of others. That is a part of the Angelic Conflict. He is a witness for the Lord in the Angelic Conflict. Cursing turned to blessing. It may seem that this or that is for our harm, but God means it for our benefit. Deliverance from the evil one in the Angelic Conflict is a legitimate request of this model of prayer. We recognize the plan of God in our lives, and we can understand our circumstances more.

Deliverance from suffering for blessing; this might be our place in this life, and God uses us in our suffering. God has delivered him from his prison; but God used him there. God's will is for everyone and it is in our interest and for our benefit; and a part of God's plan. We are a part of God's army; a soldier, operating as a soldier, often under privation and difficulties.

It is our overarching purpose to win a victory in the Angelic Conflict. Satan was defeated at the cross; that was the strategic victory; he was utterly doomed at that point. We win tactical victories where we win smaller battles against him. We as soldiers have a duty to fight those wars with the weapons which He has given us under the circumstances in which we are placed.

We now come to the third example of pharisee legalism: fasting.

There is a reward from God fulfilled only in this life; an early reward. They want that reward; and the problem is, it is momentary; it is fleeting. "They have their reward in full." What reward? What reward is that? Exactly. They have no reward apart from human approbation. This is what they get opposed to eternal rewards. There are those who seek their reward right now and try to live for today. We can find all sorts of people like this. We can find them in high places. There are those who cannot see beyond the few moments of this life. They can only see self-glorification and power. That is the greatest uncertainty.

They do not know how this will last. They have no connection with permanent eternal reward in heaven. Most of the time, they do not even believe in a heaven. They do not see anything beyond their lives. Nihilists. Why not grab whatever you can in this life, no matter who it hurts, because it is all about me. This is why some strive for human reward, and human fame and human wealth. That is why there are those who seek high places and they will do anything to get into high places. Despots. Just for the fleeting reward of dominating others and accumulating wealth. They lie and they cheat in order to get what they want. They do not mind committing crimes. They have no qualms about any of this because it furthers their own self-centered objectives. They are nothing more than pawns in Satan's system. They will steal or cheat in whatever way it takes to get it. They leave themselves wide open for Satanic manipulation. Satan has several battalions of demons known as cosmokrateur demons. They are all a part of this drive for power on this earth.

Eph 6:12–16 For our battle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the world powers of this darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavens. This is why you must take up the full armor of God, so that you may be able to resist in the evil day, and having prepared everything, to take your stand. Stand, therefore, with truth like a belt around your waist, righteousness like armor on your chest, and your feet sandaled with readiness for the gospel of peace. In every situation take the shield of faith, and with it you will be able to extinguish the flaming arrows of the evil one.

World forces is this enemy. Masculine_noun: kosmokratôr (κοσμokrátwρ) [pronounced kos-mok-RAHT-ore], which means, 1) lord of the world, prince of this age; 1a) the devil and his demons. Thayer Definitions only. Strong's #2888.

As a client nation, we have a greater influence than anyone else in this world. Bible doctrine is taught inside and outside these borders. Satan wants to destroy us. Of course, he wants to attack us in any way; even from our own government.

We should pray for our own deliverance. And the disciples were influenced and faced these same evils.

The 3rd example of fasting, where Jesus once again reviles the pharisees. The opposition of believers then were the religious types. They were allied with κοσμokrátwρ demons.

When the pharisees fasted, they put on a great show of it all.

Present active subjunctive of Verb: nêsteuô (νηστεύω) [pronounced nace-TYOO-oh], which means, 1) to abstain as a religious exercise from food and drink: either entirely, if the fast lasted but a single day, or from customary and choice nourishment, if it continued several days. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #3522.

Fasting is not taking part in a normal part of life in order to spend time with the Lord, either in His word or in prayer or whatever. There is a right and a wrong attitude for this.

The pharisees abused fasting greatly. We need a little background here. Israel fasted here and this was a mandate. But there is only one mandated fast in the entire Mosaic system, on the Day of Atonement, Yom Kippur. On this day, there was much to concentrate on, during this one fast.

The pharisees added a bunch more fasts. They fasted Mondays and Thursdays. Their big fasting days. They would get up and fast. They would not trim their beards. And they were forbidden to wash themselves. They were grubby, they stunk, and they were hungry, wandering the streets. They had this sad, hang-dog face. Some even disfigured themselves in order to be noticed in their 15 min. of fame. They were after human approbation. They would make an issue of phoney sacrificial fasting. It was all about self-denial. Instead, it was all about them. What an incredible picture. This was being utilized for self-approbation. A perfect description of legalism and religion. This is exactly what opposes us in churches all over America and all over the world. There are churches which oppose the plan of God everywhere. We will face persecution from high places, from government, from educators from philosophers. They are the opposition. The cosmic system. It is easy to recognize. Human viewpoint.

We pray for deliverance and wisdom.

Matt. 6:16 "And when you fast, do not look gloomy like the hypocrites, for they disfigure their faces that their fasting may be seen by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward.

Lesson #0336

Luke 5: Life of Christ

10/10/2012 Wed

We are now dealing with the ritual of fasting.

Matt. 6:16 "And when you fast, do not look gloomy like the hypocrites, for they disfigure their faces [neglect their appearance] that their fasting may be seen by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward.

Matt. 6:17 But when you fast, anoint your head and wash your face,

Fasting Is Mentioned for 4 Reasons

1. Jesus did not want the disciples to follow the pharisees in their shallow, hypocritical ritual of fasting. They thought that this was a religious formality for everyone.
2. The disciples must learn that they could not follow Christ. Humbling oneself, which was done for the praise of men. They put on a gloomy face; there was a thundercloud over the heads of the pharisees wherever they went. Sometimes they would even disfigure themselves to be even more noticed. They neglected their appearance. They dressed in the worst clothes; they put on the rags. They would not trim their beards. They walked all over Jerusalem to be seen. And they did not smell good. That was their normal behavior on a fast day. They performed this every Monday and Thursday. They wanted to be seen, and they were.

3. Such self-deprivation was not worship nor was it pleasing to God. In fact, it represented nothing but arrogance. So the pharisees in their fasting represented exactly the wrong thing...arrogance.

4. They demonstrated the exact opposite of the humility that they attempted to display.

A fifth of young Americans today do not affiliate themselves with any form of Christianity or church. A pastor blamed the churches; but volition is a part of it. However, the churches have all kinds of gimmicks going, but they don't teach anything. Some people do. What is the difference between the church and any other secular environment. The church is to grow in grace and knowledge. All of these people who are rejecting the church are seeing all that the pharisees are doing; empty, pious piles of hypocrisy.

True fasting came out of the Mosaic Law and it was abstaining from a normal function of life in order to participate in some spiritual thing; to spend time in prayer, or for a concentrated time with the Lord. From the Mosaic Law, there was only one day of fasting that was mandated, which is Yom Kippur, a 24-hour fast. This was a day to commemorate the deliverance of Israel. When Israel became a nation, it partially fulfilled God's covenant with Abraham. That is what that day of Atonement commemorated. This is looking forward to the atonement provided by the Messiah. As usual, this wonderful meaning was perverted.

If you ever have to distinguish to someone, the difference between Christianity and every other religion in the world, it is simple: grace versus legalism. Religion of every shape and form is legalism; man doing something to gain the approbation of God; and Christianity is all about the grace of God, where God does everything on our behalf.

Matt. 6:16 "And when you fast, do not look gloomy like the hypocrites, for they disfigure their faces [neglect their appearance] that their fasting may be seen by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward.

Matt. 6:17 But when you fast, anoint your head and wash your face,

Bobby is pointing out the difference between what Christ was teaching the disciples and what the pharisees were doing. Jesus is telling them to continue with their normal functions.

Matt. 6:18 that your fasting may not be seen by others but by your Father who is in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

It is what is in your soul, not some outward appearance.

Proper Fasting

1. Jesus commends secrecy in order to distinguish between the pharisees and fasting as a Christian function.
2. In fasting, there should be no pretenses or narcissism.

3. These arrogant functions should not be a part of the acts of the disciples.
4. To insure that their fasting was not for human approbation, our Lord absolutely forbids outward signs that fasting is taking place. They did not fast to lose weight or as a cleansing diet
5. What does Jesus tell them to fast in secret? Any outward sign could easily slip into lust for human praise.
6. Fasting is fellowship with the Lord; and not phoney displaces of righteousness. The same understanding of concentration.

Speaking of today, what about fasting? What about us? Should we have days of fasting? This is being done. This had validity then and it may still have validity for us today.

Fasting Today

1. If you want to fast, that is okay. It is for personal concentration and not public spectacle. No one else needs to know about it.
2. Just make sure that if we do this, it is for the right reasons. Do not make it for some false humility or to be noticed. No one in church should know about it.
3. Fasting is not a mandated ritual for the Church Age. It was for Israel. They had a day to fast. But we do not have that.
4. So if you spend time eating less and concentrating on the Lord of an extended period of time and you want to call it fasting, Bobby is all for it.
5. Most of us eat 3x a day in this country. We have plenty to eat and we eat. Let's say that these meals take 3 hours out of every day for eating. These are normal and necessary things to do.
6. If you take those 3 hours and devote them for prayer, Bible study, or something else like that, that is fasting.
7. What have you done? You have redeemed that time for something even more important. If you skip a lunch to take a tape, you have fasted. You are focusing on spiritual food and the spiritual life.
- 8.
9. In that case, fasting has a true spiritual meaning.
10. Spending time away from normal activity for spiritual activity, is fasting.

People who come from work to Bible class, without eating in between, is fasting.

The next thing that we will cover today is all about personal wealth. The re-emergence of Marxist-socialist ideology. Many have used Jesus' name to justify socialism. Is that the point of this? No.

New topic. Jesus deals with wealth; but this is illustrative.

Matt. 6:19 "Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal,

Matt. 6:20 but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal.

Matt. 6:21 For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

The heart is where our volition and all the other stuff is.

Introduction to Matt. 6:19–21

1. The principle problem of accruing wealth is wrong mental attitude and wrong priorities. It is the same for wealth.
2. Jesus does not disparage wealth as such. This is not an anti-wealth, pro-redistribution of money tirade by our Lord.
3. Jesus is not condemning the person who possesses wealth, as so many do today.
4. Jesus does warn the believer whose highest goal in life is to accumulate wealth.
5. This is the person who puts himself, his environment, his affluence and influence first.
6. The lust for money and material things is a source of evil.
7. The believer who has this attitude toward money will neglect or ignore the spiritual life.

That is where our heart is and it is not with doctrine. The pharisees were a prime example of this, when it comes to money.

More Introductory Points

1. What was the Jewish philosophy? Whom the Lord loves, He makes rich; he favors them with wealth.
2. Behind this understanding is the idea that you can earn financial favors from God through religious endeavors. Good works result in monetary prosperity. The health and wealth movement. Some will use the excuse, if God gives me a little money, then I can give it back to Him.
3. This is another form of legalism.
4. Not focusing on the greatest wealth that a believer can have is evil; that is the unlimited wealth of heaven. If you have to scrape by all the time to make ends meet, just remember, we will have unlimited wealth; it is waiting for us from eternity. We live our lives in the light of eternity. For some of us, that is eternal reward. There is tremendous economic hardship in this country right now. Many in Berachah are hurting financially. We can always count on the Lord.

The pharisees were great at distorting God's Word. They turned Deut. 28 upside down, and they distorted it to make wealth their goal.

We will clearly see the enemy through this illustration that Jesus gives. Jesus is not condemning wealth nor is He condemning the person with wealth. He is warning about the priorities, where money is placed over all other pursuits in life. Our Lord also warns the believer not to neglect the other areas of life. No better illustration than monetary reversionism as our old friends, the pharisees.

Concerning money, their philosophy was quite simple. If we were around in Judæa, “When the Lord loves you, He makes you rich;” and the pharisees agreed with this. This is nothing more than earning financial gain for the pharisees. They looked to gain that.

If they could claim that they kept the law, according to their interpretation, then they could claim that God was blessing them.

However, when you think of wealth, think of the grace of God. Some people have started with nothing and have built up great businesses, some from scratch. However, somehow, this did not all come from their hard work or from their obedience to the law.

Deut. 28:11 The LORD will make you prosper abundantly with children, the offspring of your livestock, and your soil's produce in the land the LORD swore to your fathers to give you.

God blesses us, but for what reason?

Deu 28:2–4 All these blessings will come and overtake you, because you obey the LORD your God: You will be blessed in the city and blessed in the country. Your descendants will be blessed, and your soil's produce, and the offspring of your livestock, including the young of your herds and the newborn of your flocks.

Israel, Blessing by God, and Grace

1. Israel was to be blessed, which included economic prosperity and individual wealth. Gen. 12:1–3 We are God's children even though we are not under this covenant.
2. Not that Abraham did anything other than believe in Christ and be justified. Rom. 4:3 Then Abraham followed God's guidance. When Abraham took Isaac to be sacrificed, he was guided by God's Word.
3. It was God's grace that bestowed the blessing; never the works of Abraham. God promised Abraham before Abraham did a thing. It was God's grace that is the focus in the Abrahamic covenant.
4. That was the precedent for divine blessing to Israel, which included wealth. There was great spiritual blessing as well.
5. God would bless Abraham and his descendants as well. In this blessing was a testimony to the power and the blessing of Y^ehowah.
6. We know that God owns the cattle on a thousand hills; all wealth is God's. It is not ours. It is on loan to us.
7. To bestow some of God's wealth was a sign of His favor because of His Word and His covenant and of Israel's obedience.

8. Wealth was conditional. However, conditioned on God's grace to His obedient people. If we are not obedient to His Word, we get divine discipline. We also reap what we sew.
9. Wealth to Israel was still from God's grace. That is the perspective. That was the definition of prosperity. When you start to get a fat head, be careful; you have lost focus on wealth. It is the grace of God. Wealth to Israel was God's grace; that was prosperity. It did not come from performing deeds of religious legalism. The pharisees thought that their legalism resulted in wealth.
10. Israel as a nation prospered. But not every individual was wealthy. God promised blessing to Abraham as the father of the nation. This is not a guarantee of personal wealth. "God will bless me because I am perfectly righteous," is the wrong way to think of it.
11. Blessing is connected to the client nation status. We are not blessed because of our great industrial might or from great men of business, but the source of our blessing is our status as a client nation to God. If Israel failed as a client nation, which they often did, then came divine discipline, which could include a loss of wealth. Deut. 28:15 "But if you do not obey the LORD your God by carefully following all His commands and statutes I am giving you today, all these curses will come and overtake you: Cursing is the promise from God. That includes loss of national blessing and wealth. Blessing departed. Israel did not deserve it but God preserved them.

Vv. 49–67 are the cursings and blessing.

Cursings When under Discipline

1. One sign of the cycle of discipline is economic depression and disaster. A national loss of wealth. How many trillions are we in debt?
2. This economic depression and disaster are a part of the 2nd cycles of discipline.
3. Economic downturns and depressions carry through all of the cycles.
4. The economy gets progressively worse as the discipline continues. Lev. 6:16, 19–20 this applies to the United States today.

Blessing from God

1. This blessing of wealth is connected to spiritual advance.
2. The key was obedience to God's Word. That is what will preserve us as a client nation. Doctrine in the souls of enough believers preserve us.
3. The Jews divine institution did not keep God's Word, but they expected wealth based upon religiosity.
4. What they did not understand in their materialism was that wealth was an indicator of God's grace; not their works. The Jews also believed that they were blessed simply because they were Jews.
5. God's grace is bestowed upon His client nation according to His promise, which includes wealth.

6. We live in the greatest prosperity in the world ever. We have fulfilled the client nation requirements and we have been blessed exponentially. We live in the greatest nation that has ever existed and it can be lost in a heartbeat. Is it blessing or cursing that we will get? All of this has to do with our spiritual life.

The pharisees did have money; but most were legalistic. Many of them were not even believers. They reject Jesus out of hand. God was not blessing them for that, even though they did not possess wealth. Because some of them had wealth, they believed that God was blessing them. Many of them would see their wealth disappear overnight.

Deut. 28 was a reiteration of God's promise to raise Israel over all other nations. But it is all about God's grace. The pharisees were convinced that God favored them with wealth because they were great. Christians today are exactly the same; legalistic about wealth.

Blessing and Legalism

1. The pharisees believed that they had proof of God's blessing; therefore, they were great at keeping the law; it must be because of who I am.
2. They believed that their wealth reenforced God's love and favor. We're Christians; God blesses us. We are God's people. There is that big if. How many believers know anything about God's Word to be obedient to it. Very few know anything about the spiritual life. They only know about going out and witnessing or those who raise money for buildings.
3. They attributed that love of God to their Jewishness; to their race and to their religious fervor. All of these have a parallel to today. Many legalists do exactly that today.
4. Their highest goal in life was to become wealthy as a sign of God's favor. How many people claim today that they became wealthy because they gained God's favor. There is God's logistical grace, which provides for all of us.

This reverse motivation of accumulating wealth in this life. Today, material treasure means nothing in the scope of the spiritual life or in the life of eternity. Wealth can so easily disappear. A person can squander wealth. There are plenty of wealthy people who make bad investments. The stock market is very difficult to play; to predict. Your 401k loses all kinds of money. Government policies can destroy the wealth of an economy. Easy come and easy go. It can easily disappear.

Even those hidden offshore assets can be seized. It is just gone. Wealth move constantly in this world. A friend of Bobby's was talking about Denmark. It is essentially a welfare state. They do not think like Americans, like working hard to get ahead. They do not want to stand out; they do not want to be any different from anyone else.

There is not security in earthly treasure; there is no security in wealth. If money can solve a problem, then it is not a problem. The spiritual life and an eternal future is the only permanent treasure. That is wealth that you already possess. That is already the greatest wealth. Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy; and thieves break in and destroy. It is here today and gone tomorrow.

Monetary lust is extremely prevalent. It is very common. Money is related to power and pleasure. You cannot turn on television without seeing what money can do. Bobby liked the lifestyles of the rich and famous. Where do those people put their security. What could be better for a great life than possessing wealth. That is abject human viewpoint. It is rampant today. How many wealthy people are as miserable as poor people. They find no security in wealth because they have to hang on to it. It does not matter for many people how you acquire wealth; the end justifies the means. Today in business schools, you are taught to acquire money in any way that you can. Cheat.

1Tim. 6:10 For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil, and by craving it, some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pains. The liberals say, "If you have too much money, you must have done wrong or inherited it." But that is not what this verse says. It is the obsession with money that is the root of all evil. It is the greed. Some, by longing for it, have wandered away from the faith. Forget about doctrine; let's neglect it. They pierce themselves with many a tang.

Reversionism is latching on to the opposite of the spiritual life. There is nothing wrong with having wealth; it is wrong to desire wealth above all else. That is why people think of capitalism as evil. There are those who do all kinds of things; criminal activities; so capitalism gets a bad name. As always, as in every problem in the human race, it is the sin nature. "If you are a greedy capitalist, you are evil." No, the love of money comes from the sin nature. The poor can be just as envious. They will break in and steal it.

Deut. 28:12 The LORD will open for you His abundant storehouse, the sky, to give your land rain in its season and to bless all the work of your hands. You will lend to many nations, but you will not borrow.

Lesson #0338

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

10/14/2012 1Sunday

Communion Sunday

Eph. 1:5–6 He predestined us to be adopted through Jesus Christ for Himself, according to His favor and will, to the praise of His glorious grace that He favored us with in the Beloved.

We are of His flesh and of His bones (Eph. 5:30).

Israel was the first client nation; they were a chosen nation. Today, since the beginning of the Church Age, we are in the Beloved; in the body of Christ. Believing Jews and gentiles are identified with the Person of Jesus Christ. We have entered into a common union, regardless of our race or of our geographical location. Believing Jews and all other racers have become incorporated into the body of Christ. All believers are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation.

Paul designates this union by the phrase, in Christ. Or, in the Beloved. The substitutionary work of Christ on the cross, providing the believer with a new life.

There is a judicial ruling; the believer who is incorporated in Christ is reckoned or counted as having God's righteousness. Man on his own is incapable of meeting God's absolute righteous standards. The pharisees thought they could achieve this; but Jesus showed over and over again, that they could not do that. We all possess a perfect righteousness. By His doing, you are in Christ Jesus, who has become wisdom to us; and we have become His righteousness.

God's just demands are fulfilled by Jesus Christ; and He seen as righteous, because He is; and we share His righteousness. The believer is righteous because he resides in Christ, Who is righteous.

There is an identification with Christ in His death, His burial and His resurrection. The believer is baptized into the death of Christ. We have been baptized into His death. This does not mean water baptism. Water baptism has nothing to do with salvation or with union of Jesus Christ. When we are united with Him in His death. It may not sound inviting to be baptized into His death, but it is the greatest thing to happen to any human being. Once for all, the power of sin is broken for us. The power of the sin nature is removed from those who are in Christ. Since the believer dies in this way, he also is raised with the Lord to a newness of life; the new things that have come (2Cor. 5:17). The believer is freed from total depravity. The baptism of the Holy Spirit into Christ is the initiation of the believer into the historical effects of His death and His new life.

Along with this is a number of benefits and blessings with the believer. This is sharing all that Christ is and all of His blessings. These include eternal life, righteousness, our election and predestination, our sonship (we are royal family, which we cannot be removed from), we are joint-heirs with Christ. We share in His kingship; we share in His priesthood. In short, we are eternal family; we are royalty with an eternal inheritance.

We also receive a personal union. To whom God will to make known what is the riches of His glory to the gentiles. The mystery of the glory is Christ in us. The confidence of glory. Jesus Christ, as the Shekinah Glory, the dwelling presence of Christ on earth; which indwells every believer. Another aspect of our union with Him. His personal presence with him guarantees that we can live our lives in Him. We can reflect His glory through our spiritual life. That is the result of our position in Christ.

Eph. 1:3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavens, in Christ; aorist active indicative indicates that this was done in a point in time. We have the confidence of glory in eternity. In this life, we also have blessing in the heavenly places. We are engaged in this life not just with the temporal and the tangent, but with the real and eternal. Jesus sees us now in the heavenly places because of our spiritual operational activities. We have every spiritual blessing right now and even greater blessing in eternity. As long as Christ is acceptable to God; as long as that is true, and we are accepted in the Beloved, then we are as secure as Jesus Christ is. Our eternal security in Christ again, the confidence of glory. There are no conditions attached. It does not say that we are accepted in the Beloved as long as we live a righteous life and obey the commandments. If sin can cause us to lose our position in Christ, then no believer can ever be saved. There is not a righteousness man on earth who always does good and never sins. God never begins something that He does not finish. He is free of all limitations that can bring failure. He delights in completion. He is the Author and Finisher of our faith. What more could God say or do? There is no higher ground and no higher summit than being in the grace of Christ.

No Bible class this upcoming week.

What does Jesus actually mean when it comes to wealth? What about the problem of men being unable to come to Christ? Should we give our wealth away, as our government says? Jesus will reveal what our attitude toward money and wealth should be. Wealth is not condemned as such. He uses wealth as an illustration of legalism; the pharisee way of thinking versus the grace way of thinking. "Whom the Lord loves, He makes rich." that is the epitome of legalism. Earning the blessing of grace is not grace. The pharisees expected God to bestow wealth upon them because they were Jews and because they kept the Law? Did not God give great promises to the Jews? God promised this, but not because of who they were, but because of the covenant promise that God made. What the pharisees did not understand was wealth was not an indicator of their righteous or worth. In refuting the legalistic viewpoint of pharisaical materialism, our Lord does not condemn wealth, but of the pharisaical understanding of it.

Lesson #0339

Matt. 6:19–20 Life of Christ

10/14/2012 2Sunday

Matt. 6:19 "Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal,

Matt. 6:20 but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal.

When we store up treasure in heaven, we are talking about rewards. There is the sort of thinking that we should pursue money, and it does not matter how we do it. There are many lusts in life. We think of sexual lust as the major, but monetary lust is just as prevalent. Monetary lust often is the prelude to power and other kinds of lusts. What can be better for a great life than just possessing wealth.

For the one who chases the dollar excessively, often it does not matter how this is achieved. If you want to live well and have things and you want power and influence, you get money...it is the shortest way. That is the immorality of materialism.

1Tim. 6:10 For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil, and by craving it, some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pains.

Monetary reversionism causes a person to pierce themselves with pain. There are so many mental and overt problems from monetary lust. Many people misinterpret. People wrongly think of capitalism as evil. It is not capitalism that brings these problems. This is the sin nature of man. Capitalism is just an economic system which consists of free markets and opportunity. Such an approach individual freedom, personal incentive and personal creativity and it promotes economic improvement and prosperity for the greatest number of people. We live in the example. The greatest example of prosperity is the United States of America. Where capitalism flourishes, it lifts a nation to prosperity. Nothing will correct poverty. “The poor you will have with you always. But you do not always have Me.” You will have them, but you will not always have Me. This does not mean that we turn a deaf ear to the poor or ignore the poor. Deut. 15:7–8 and other passages in proverbs. We have had wars on poverty for years; but the evils of this world are solved by believing in Jesus Christ. The power of sin and death is broken in no other way than by the gospel.

Providing money for the poor is not the greatest compassion. The greatest compassion is giving the gospel to the poor; the war on poverty is just another welfare state. No welfare state in history survives history. Such wars never work. Humanists call this compassion; and that is a misused word in this regard.

To remove the blight of poverty, the social engineer offers up socialism. This system is based upon class warfare; take money from those who earned it and give it to those who did not. The system which has been devised does not do it. It is not compassionate. The theory is, the poor will be brought to a higher economic status. This never works under socialism. The high are brought down; and the poor get poorer; but their station is not raised. When communism invades a country, all freedom and economic prosperity is destroyed.

How Socialism Works

1. Rome did this. They had bread and circus. There was a mob in Rome. If they did not get fed and entertained, they rioted. They would tear the place to pieces. The Romans were afraid of that. So they continued to feed that system.
2. That appropriation occurs on ever-increasing taxes on those who are more affluent, which includes the middle class. The wealthy will never make enough to pay for the welfare state.
3. Then the money is given to the poor in terms of entitlements, which is supposed to bring everyone up to a similar economic status.
4. It is supposed to level the economic playing field.
5. Socialism attempts to leave no one behind in society. There will never be an utopian society.

6. Utopians do not understand the sin nature. They think that some superimposed system will solve life's problems. They think redistributing money is the key. Marxist socialism is an economic system.
7. Jesus could talk about socialism or capitalism in this passage and make the same points. There is only one way to break the power of the old sin nature. Believer in the Lord Jesus Christ; and store up treasure in that way. Socialism seems like a find thought, but it never works.
8. The higher the taxes which are levied, the greater is the loss of the middle class. The poor never rise up the middle class status; there are fewer rich, and the middle class falls down to the poor.
9. Instead of economic prosperity, there is dependency upon the government; and then there is enslavement. Enslavement to the government to supply the needs of those in this welfare system. Human nature gets lazy and indolent. Why should I work?
10. In this system, the drive to succeed in those who produce is replace by a lethargy which stagnates society. Every socialist nation that has every existed sees a stagnating society. Those in power remain above all and they are prospered.

Poverty and dependency increases in every socialist nation and it has increased in our own nation. The world is filled with economic failures where socialism is imposed. There is no group brought up to everyone else's standards. Wealth is the driving force to prosperity.

Socialism wants you to believe that wealth is evil and those who have money are evil. They have all the wealth and they hoard it. Most of the wealth of our country is invested in the economy of the country. Everyone is involved in a system like this.

There are incredible lies out there about socialism, or we will see our nation go the way of every socialism experiment than we have ever seen. We need to understand some things that are evident.

Capitalism

1. In capitalism, wealth is accumulated as a by-product of hard work, personal drive, risk and ability. Those who have wealth take risks. Have you ever invested in the stock market?
2. Capitalism is not driven or based on inherited wealth. That is what socialists want you to believe. The rich keep it and hoard is, so the government needs to take it away.
3. Capitalism is based on the investment of capitol.
4. All capitalism requires is equality of opportunity. That is the freedom to produce and prosper. Capitalism provides maximum freedom to do this.
5. Capitalism requires maximum freedom to operate correctly.
6. You cannot stifle freedom and the free markets. They try to strike a balance between a free economy and socialism; the more the poor get, the more they want. That is human nature.

7. Capitalism cannot generate equality of results. Always the sin nature. Do not store up for yourselves treasure on this earth. Socialism must impose its system of taxation and redistribution. They must do this. Socialism generates the loss of freedom and the loss of incentive to succeed. There is no compassion in economic enslavement and loss of freedom. They say there is compassion, but there isn't.
8. Capitalism is not a perfect system; there is man's nature and his greed. Hoarding treasures on this earth is a problem. A believer under these circumstances loses focus on the primary objective. The misuse of money; the misuse of wealth. The problems of monetary lust that goes with it. The love of money is the root of all kinds of evil. There is a problem with all economic systems.

Jesus does make this clear. It is harder for a rich man to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven. Such a person may have a focus on material things. The wealthy person may have a hard time seeing that he has any need of anything else. Keep your priorities straight.

As a believer in Jesus Christ, we have one primary objective, which is to take and hold the higher ground. In socialism, individual greed is replaced by corporate greed. Big government greed is still greed.

Capitalism is allowing the greatest economic freedom for the greatest number of people. When you lose the rule of law, capitalism becomes nothing but greed. Capitalism with some abuses is better than socialism with government control; but far better is the spiritual life. That is the greatest treasure on this earth, producing divine good on this earth. Where our focus and priorities lie is key.

Lesson #0339	Matt. 6: Life of Christ	10/21/2012 1Sunday

Matt. 6:19 "Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal,

Matt. 6:20 but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal.

It is not for us to set great treasure on this earth. Seeking and accumulating money in this life is one of the most prevalent human pursuits in this life. Some seek money to excess. Human viewpoint encourages a better life through money. It is related to power and pleasure for those who possess it. It also encourages economic panaceas to answer the problems of the human race. Money cannot solve all problems; that is human viewpoint. This extends to the economic system of socialism. This is the redistribution of wealth so that everyone shares in the prosperity of the nation. Everyone has a little piece of the pie, and, in this way, we build this adoption society. The idea is, money smooths the ravages of the human heart and the sin nature. There is a beguiling deception in that thinking. Universal materialism is the solution to man's problems. Socialist, the utopian thinker, etc. always leaves out the human nature. We are always evolving to something greater.

Money leads to no permanent solutions and to no utopian society. "We are going to remake the society in the image of utopian thinking." This is the solution that some men think to be the best if man has no relationship with God.

We know, if we are related to God, that this is Satan's world and he cannot produce a utopian society. People think the United States is the most prosperous nation that the world has ever known. So why don't we share this with the rest of the world to help them rise from the dregs, just by giving them money. Jesus is saying, right here, that is not the case. In materialism, the one who chases money obsessively does not care how he or she acquires it; the ends justifies the means. This includes the government as well.

Social security is not a welfare program; that is our money. We have paid into it all our working life. It is our "savings account" although the government has already spent it.

The human viewpoint is, if you want the best life, then just get it by whatever means. That is the bankruptcy and the immorality of materialism.

1Tim. 6:10 For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil, and by craving it, some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pains.

The person whose thinking is all about money, he has become confused. He is just like the legalistic pharisees. Their thinking is just what Jesus is refuting. The pharisees have the attitude that, whom the Lord loves, He makes rich. You earn this by your good works. Money gained during one's lifetime becomes a measure of God's favor (to their thinking).

Money is not a blessing necessarily. Can it be a blessing? Of course it can. Earthly prosperity is fleeting. What the pharisees did not understand in their materialism, they hid their materialism in religion. They did not understand that wealth is just an indicator of God's grace, but not of their works or status as Jews. Israel did not deserve anything from God. The Jews were the least deserving and His grace was identified by giving them blessing, despite their negative volition.

Still, those who curse the Jew is cursed by God.

Wealth is all about God's grace. The pharisees had rejected Jesus Christ; their Messiah. They had rejected the highest expression of God's grace. How could they understand His grace in wealth. Don't worry about wealth in this life; accumulate wealth in heaven.

There are believers who have made money their God. They are suffering from the love of money and they believe that socialism is compassion. They ignore the spiritual solution, which is the only solution. Only the soul of man is where the solution takes place.

There is no renovation of thinking apart from Bible doctrine. Human viewpoint and divine viewpoint are mutually exclusive. Human viewpoint is apart from God's Word. This is the only way that an unbeliever can think, with human viewpoint. For the unbeliever, their thinking must be corrupted by the sin nature. The sin nature; the power of the sin nature is broken; and this is the only way that the power of these problems can be broken.

This nation is not made up of all Christians. But we as believers have an impact on this country. God controls the destiny of all nations as well as controlling the destiny of all believers. He blesses a nation through the believers whom He blesses.

Our forefathers understood that God was the key to living and to government.

Taking the constitution as being just a fluid doctrine to be molded to society's wishes or culture concerns. Then we are under tyranny. Do you think we will never lose freedom? You are wrong. The only solution is the believer.

There are many believers who do not understand this at all. They ignore the problem solving devices which our Lord pioneered. They have reversed their priorities from spiritual to material.

There are many reasons we are here; but our primary focus is to live the spiritual life and to glorify God. Nothing else should be first. A nod to God on Sunday is not enough.

Bobby looks back and he realizes that it has gone by quickly. We have only so many days in this life. There is a time to be born and a time to die; and God controls that timing. There will not be one second less or more. We have only so many days to live. We must redeem the time as believers. There is only so much time to store up treasure in heaven.

It is truth and it is absolute and it is our instruction in truth.

Accumulating material wealth in itself is not wrong. Some people have the knack; some inherit; some invest. The problem is the obsession with money; the love of money is the root of all kinds of evil. To focus on the pleasures and distractions is the problem.

The wealthiest people on this earth have great bank accounts in heaven. We are to store it up; not on earth, but in heaven. This does not preclude having wealth on this earth.

The United States has become a nation of materialists. We have left behind divine establishment and the doctrines of God's Word for believers in Jesus Christ. Everywhere you look, money is a driving force. Churches use high-pressure tactics in order to raise money. They use guilt and approbation in order to squeeze money out of others.

A prayer by Billy Graham spoken many years ago: Dear Heavenly Father, we come before you today to ask your forgiveness and to seek your direction and guidance. We know what Your Word says. Woe to those who call evil, good. We have lost our spiritual equilibrium and we have reversed our values. We have exploited the poor and...we have shot abortionists and called it justifiable. We have abused power and called it politics. We have coveting our neighbor's possessions and we call it...we have polluted the air with pornography and have called it freedom of expression.

Biblical values have been replaced by redistribution as the solution to all man's problems. We have seen all the problems that Billy Graham has spoken of. We have lost our savor as salt; we have lost our impact as believers on the nation. Materialism never satisfies the needs of the human race.

Jesus will talk about moths and rust next hour.

Matt. 6:19 "Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal,

Matt. 6:20 but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal.

1Tim. 6:10 For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil, and by craving it, some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pains.

Lesson #0340 Matt. 6:19–21 1Cor. 3:11–15 Life of Christ 10/21/2012 2Sun

The perspective on wealth is completely misunderstood. There is nothing else for those who lack Jesus Christ. All that is left to them is materialism.

Matt. 6:19 "Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal,

Materialism never satisfies the needs of the human race. We are told in v. 19 why we should focus on treasures in heave as over against treasures on this earth.

So, what about these moths and rust? This is an analogy. Moths attack cloth; they attack and eat cloth. Clothes are made out of cloth; and fine clothing is the trapping of material wealth. A lot of money means you can purchase a lot of clothing, and a little insect can destroy your clothing. Your outfits can be destroyed by some rotten little insect. That represents no security in the finer things that money can buy. There is no security in what money can buy. There is no security in that. No security in the house or car that we own. Moths can destroy it. Easy come, easy go.

Then there is rust. This is also an analogy. Metal is much more substantial than cloth, but simple corrosion can destroy it. A little iron and oxygen and the material can literally disintegrate. The most durable to be easily eroded.

Then there is the human factor. Even a metal safe can be broken into by thieves. We want to put money in a bank or in a mattress; and thieves can steal it. A documentary on professional athletes who are now flat broke. They were unable to hold onto their money. Many of them just spent all that money. Fraud, loss, etc. Fraud is rampant today. Many people have been relieved of their savings by Ponzi schemes. One of them occurred right across the street. Someone got greedy and took it. There are frivolous lawsuits which are schemes to acquire wealth from those who have it. Redistributing wealth through the courts.

The best thief of all is the government. They can steal so well; they can take it from all sides. They take it from someone who is productive and they give it to someone who is not. We do support our government through taxes; and even this can be theft of our own personal wealth.

There is not enough money from the wealthy to even cover a fraction of our debt. It is simply a way to power. Where is the security to material things?

Matt. 6:19 "Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal,

The key is treasure in heaven. Our portfolio in heaven is not accessible to us here on earth. We cannot pull out our balance sheet and look at our assets. What is produced is divine good. These accumulate as rewards in heaven. That is what is being stored up. We will all come before the Judgment Seat of Christ after the rapture of the church, and we will stand before the Lord Jesus Christ. He will judge each one of us. He will judge divine good and that is the treasure that is stored up in heaven. When we get to heaven, our bank account will be revealed; we will see what our portfolio of assets looks like.

We have this described from time to time.

1Cor. 3:11–15 ...because no one can lay any other foundation than what has been laid--that is, Jesus Christ. If anyone builds on the foundation with gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, or straw, each one's work will become obvious, for the day will disclose it, because it will be revealed by fire; the fire will test the quality of each one's work. If anyone's work that he has built survives, he will receive a reward. If anyone's work is burned up, it will be lost, but he will be saved; yet it will be like an escape through fire.

There will be a great fire, and all of our human good will be burned up. A contrast to the perishable nature of wealth on earth.

Matt. 6:20 but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal.

Then Jesus explains the system of values and their eternal result.

Matt. 6:21 For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

Where Your Treasure Is

1. The things that you most highly value are the things upon which you focus.
2. Those things are what you embrace as the center of your life.
3. That is what occupies your heart. Occupation with Christ or pleasure or money or whatever. That is where your heart is. Heart is a double-entendre in this verse. It encompasses the earthly and spiritual realms. The heart refers to the immaterial part of man. What the focus of your life is, is your thinking; and that is what you spend your life on. This is where your heart resides.
4. In the spiritual realm, the heart is the right lobe of the soul. It can be the human spirit. This is where doctrine is metabolized and that is where the believer's scale of values is and where they come into line with God's values and thinking. Where your heart it is; where doctrine is; where grace is. Is your heart on the material or on the heavenlies?

Where do our values reside? Are we ambitious? Do we want to climb to the highest human stations of life? Do we go after pleasure, which is sheer personal indulgence. If material wealth is your focus, then there is no treasure to be had. There is just chasing the details of life. They are so secondary to the important things of life.

There is no misery like affluence, or poverty or like middle-class. If you as a believer have no doctrine in your soul, then no matter what your earthly possessions are, you are unhappy. You are always in a peak or in a valley. Bible doctrine and grace orientation come first. Up or down, flush or broke, we are fine.

There is nothing wrong with money or possessions or a great hobby in life, unless these are our priorities. Grace orientation is stored in the right lobe. Are you focused on living your life in the light of eternity?

"I sit in Berachah a few nights a week; I must have the right priorities." Looks over your own priorities. When you are out of fellowship, then you need to get back into fellowship, and line your values up with God's once again.

Jesus is not saying that earthly treasure is without value. As a believer in Jesus Christ, you must have a priority. To be an advancing believer, your values must be centered on doctrine. Then wealth is a secondary detail which does not control and it does not corrupt. Money corrupts if you have no scale of values connected to doctrine. The love of doctrine is the root of all kinds of evil. The love of the Lord and Bible doctrine is the root of all kinds of divine good.

2Cor. 10:4b-5 . It is ideas that we demolish, every presumptuous notion that is set up against the knowledge of God, and we bring every thought into captivity and obedience to Christ.

We destroy human viewpoint in our thinking; and we focus on God and the Word of God; and that is where our priorities are. We are producing divine good which has eternal and imperishable value. Humanism is a form of speculation and philosophies which may contain a few nice-sounding things, but these things are not of God, because Bible doctrine does not take precedent. Those human values are often manifested by materialism.

Upon what do you dwell or focus? What do you do after church? Do you forget about doctrine?

We spend most of our time in the workplace. That is where doctrine should take precedence. Our focus ought to be on Jesus Christ. You cannot separate your spiritual life from where you spend most of your spiritual life.

You can evaluate easily what your focus in life is.

Matt. 6:19–21 "Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal, but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

The theme of darkness and light occurs many times in Scripture. Jesus will mention it right here, in the next two verses. The comparison teaches us heavenly versus earthly treasure.

Lesson #0341 Matt. 6:20, 22–23 1Peter2:21 Life of Christ 10/24/2012 Wed

The prayer the Bobby mentioned was not Billy Graham's but Wright, and it was related to the Kansas legislature, which caused a lot of Democrats to walk out.

Bobby's question: "Where is the real wealth for the believer in Jesus Christ?" This wealth is not on this earth. This is a treasure beyond measure for all eternity. This is how we lay up treasures. The doctrine of divine good as defined by wealth. Divine good as wealth.

Matt. 6:20 but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal.

Divine Good as Wealth

This is because this is our wealth and what we lay up for treasure.

1. Divine good is the believer's practical objective in life that accrues our treasure in heaven. It is the objective that we accomplish.
2. There is a prerequisite for divine good; and that is a believer filled with the Holy Spirit.
3. Any deed while filled with the Spirit as a part of the execution of the spiritual life, that deed which we have accomplished, that deed glorifies God. Then this deed qualifies as divine good and it is rewardable in heaven.
4. Producing divine good reflects the status and the process of the Christian life. This is the whole scope of the Christian life.

5. There is the necessity for metabolizing doctrine for spiritual advance, which requires staying in fellowship. That is a critical aspect to the Christian life.
6. Only in that mode or in that status, filled with the Holy Spirit, and in the mode of spiritual advance, is Christian service accomplished. Some people think that Christian service is the Christian way of life, but Christian service is the result of spiritual maturity.
7. The unbeliever cannot glorify God. 1Cor. 6:20 „,for you were bought at a price; therefore glorify God in your body. We are all in debt because Jesus paid for our sins. We are in debt to God and we cannot repay it. The price is redemption from the slave market of sin. This is our obligation. This is the end product and it produces divine good.
8. Peter further defines the connection between divine good and glorifying God in Gentiles here refers to unbelievers. What the believer does in this life by way of excellent behavior glorifies God before the day of visitation, which is when Christ returns for the church.

Bobby Explains 1Peter 2:12

1Peter 2:12 Conduct yourselves honorably among the Gentiles, so that in a case where they speak against you as those who do evil, they may, by observing your good works, glorify God in a day of visitation.

1. Excellent behavior is witnessing, evangelism, and the general actions of your life before unbelievers.
2. You cannot separate your spiritual life for every other aspect of your life. You cannot separate your spiritual life from your work, for instance. It is your excellent behavior that reflects the spiritual life.
3. That witnessing, the actions of your life, qualifies as Christians service (while filled with the Spirit). You need to know what is appropriate and what is not. You need the wisdom to know what is too far. We need to think like God thinks, and that is inculcated into our souls through Bible doctrine.
4. We live the spiritual life that reflects excellent behavior. That is the difference between us and the legalistic believer. You don't run around and gossip about others. When you are this way, you stand out and you are a leader. This is if you reflect the excellent behavior.
5. Divine good is reflected in excellent behavior. Even if those people reject you, as it says, they slander you as evil doers, when we live the spiritual life, and serving the Lord by witnessing with that life. So even if you are not successful in presenting the gospel, you are laying up treasure. Whenever you witness, you are laying up treasure. What is the connection between divine good and wealth? Spiritual advance, Christian service, glorifying God and equals laying up treasure in heaven.

Have you ever been challenged for your Christianity? Christ was resurrected? No one was resurrected. Getting into a big argument is not circumspect. When a person comes after you like that, they want to see what you are made of and if they can rattle you.

1Peter 2:12 Conduct yourselves honorably among the Gentiles, so that in a case where they speak against you as those who do evil, they may, by observing your good works, glorify God in a day of visitation.

In spite of all the antagonism, those good deeds may be a witness. We produce divine good which glorifies God in this life. If you want all the crowns, the Gazebo in the Garden, etc., this all comes as a part of the rewards. Did he say body of light?

Matt. 6:20 but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal.

When a believer produces divine good, then the Lord calls that light. Darkness, earthly treasure, human good. These are the opposing values of earthly and heavenly treasure.

The next two verses:

Matt. 6:22 "The eye is the lamp of the body. So, if your eye is healthy, your whole body will be full of light,

Matt. 6:23 but if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

The verb to be; here it is called an equative verb. Two things which are equal. Lamp is the nominative case and the subject of the sentence. Eye is a predicate nominative.

What Does That Tell Us about this Phrase?

1. The predicate nominative noun is approximately the same as the subject.
2. These are equated in the phrase, even though they only have a distance connection; a lamp and an eye. They are said to be the same in this sentence; so they still describe each other.
3. That means that, in this phrase, the lamp is the eye.
4. Both terms, lamp and eye, are metaphorical; they are figurative terms. They do not refer to a literal lamp and a literal eye. That makes it more fun.
5. The two nouns are equated, but each word stands for something else. This is not a literal eye or lamp.
6. What do they both stand for? They both stand for light; that is the metaphor.
7. Lamp is a metaphor for light; the lamp gives off light.
8. The eye needs light in order to function. It is light that is what is being referred to by both of these. Jesus uses this grammar on purpose.
9. These two words are loosely connected by what they have in common: light.

Now Bobby will explain how the eye and the lamp are connected in the physical realm. The eye takes in light from the surrounding environment. The eye regulates the intensity of the light. That intense light is focused through an intensity of lenses. These lenses focus an image. There are electrical signals that are sent to the brain and the brain identifies the image that it sees. There are these complex neuro transmitters moving this information to the brain.

What about the Metaphorical Connection?

The equating of eye and lamp in terms of light.

1. The eye is equated to the lamp in terms of both being light.
2. Light that emits from an object and light that enters into an object.
3. The eye takes in light.
4. The lamp shines forth light.
5. These terms are metaphorically connected as part of a person. And eye and lamp connected to this person.
6. The eye is what is inside that person. What is this person thinking based upon what they see?
7. The lamp is the light that shines outward; it can be seen by others. This is the divine good done by the believer in fellowship.

The Image of the Eye

1. The physical eye takes in light and forms an image in the brain.
2. That is the inner light of the believer's life.
3. In this phrase, the eye stands for the light in the inner life. The inner life is the soul.
4. The believer's inner light is Bible doctrine.

The Image of the Lamp

1. The
2. The light enters through the eye and goes into the mind, into the soul.
3. Then that light converts to thought. Doctrine converts to actions and speech.
4. Then the light from the eye, from the soul, is reflected outwardly, as a light emanating from a lamp.
5. The inner light of metabolizing doctrine reflects in executing the spiritual life and glorifying God in our bodies.
6. The lamp represents the bodily action that shines forth from the inner person. Light goes in through the eye.

darkness tomorrow.

Lesson #0342

Matt. 6:22–23 Life of Christ

10/25/2012 Thurs

Matt. 6:22 "The eye is the lamp of the body. So, if your eye is healthy, your whole body will be full of light,

Matt. 6:23 but if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

There is a lot of metaphor and figurative language in these two verses. Bobby is going to take another run at them.

Eye and lamp are two nominatives held together with the verb to be. This equative verb. They are being approximately equated. Even though there is just a distant connection, they describe the same idea. Jesus will make a connection between these words; and He is building an analogy here. What came before, are His instructions on earthly and heavenly wealth.

If your eye is healthy, you can see reality just for what it is; if it is not; then you cannot see; your life is filled with darkness.

Both of these words are used to build the analogy here. There is an amazing analogy here; and if we understand this, then we understand the spiritual life.

A lamp in real life has very little to do with an eye. But there is a distant connection. We have to understand how they connect literally. You need illumination from a lamp to see in the dark. You see in the dark from the illumination of a lamp.

When these words are put together in the metaphorical sense, we are looking at something other than a literal lamp and a literal eye. The light must come from a source for the eye to see it, identify it and to be able to discern it.

The Eye and the Lamp

“You write and I will get it right this evening.”

1. The eye is the organ that introduces light into the inner person.
2. The lamp is the light that shines out from the person.
3. What shines out from the source of the lamp illuminates the darkness. That is what lamps do. We might think of a lamp as just flipping on a light. Oil lamps were used at this time.
4. Metaphorically, the source of the light of the lamp is the inner light taken in from the eye.
5. Then metaphorically the lamp represents the light that shines outward, so the eye can see in the dark. This is what Bobby missed last night in the analogy.
6. The illumination of the lamp is Bible doctrine, which is presence in the soul of the believer. Doctrine illuminates the lamp.
7. Therefore, the eye sees the world through the illuminate viewpoint of doctrine.
8. The lamp represents the illumination of doctrine from the source of the inner person.
9. So the eye sees the world around him through the illumination of the lamp. This is divine viewpoint that shines from the soul.
10. Thus, what is understood through the eyes of divine viewpoint is then acted upon in executing the spiritual life of the believer.

This is a complex analogy.

The Light of Doctrine in the Soul

1. The physical eye of a person operates only with light.
2. In the analogy, the light must come from the inner illumination. The enlightenment of the soul of the believer.
3. The believer's inner light is metabolized Bible doctrine. This is the mind of Christ resident in the soul. Doctrine is light.
4. That is the light that both lamp and eye represent.

The Lamp of the Body

1. The lamp of the body is the outward projection of light that illuminates the darkness so that the eye of the soul can identify.
2. What the eyes see is the light of Bible doctrine, which illuminates the world of darkness.
3. What the eye takes in by way of light of Bible doctrine in the soul is the source of divine viewpoint. The lamp of the body.
4. The inner light of doctrine in the soul is reflected outwardly as divine viewpoint.
5. The light of doctrine comes in through the metaphorical eye into the right lobe of the soul.
6. The lamp of the body is that outward reflection of the inward illumination of the soul.
7. So the eye of the soul sees divine viewpoint through the lamp of the body that shines forth in the darkness. The darkness is the cosmic system of the world; it is human viewpoint. The light of divine viewpoint shining out to a world of darkness.
8. The lamp cuts through human viewpoint with divine viewpoint.
9. The lamp of the body is illumination from the eye. They are connected. The lamp of the body is the eye. The eye is the inner person that is illuminated.
10. The lamp is for the eye to see through the world of darkness. This way, a person can respond with divine viewpoint.
11. That means that the eye sees the world from what the doctrinal lamp illuminates.
12. Then the person who sees the light responds with the bodily action reflected from a soul with doctrine. What comes from the eye is illuminated by the lamp of the body; therefore the person sees and the body acts as a reflection of what is in the soul.
13. The light from within projects the truth into the darkness. And then it animates the outward actions of the believer.
14. The lamp of the body is the eye that sees the world with divine viewpoint from the light that the lamp projects.
15. Therefore, the light of doctrine in the mentality of the soul shines forth as a lamp that illuminates our surroundings with divine viewpoint. This is how we think and see divine viewpoint in the midst of human viewpoint. It is light.
16. The figurative lamp of Bible doctrine shines forth and is observed by the figurative eye.
17. Then the believer responds to what he perceives as divine viewpoint.

Sometimes the Eye Is Called the Window of the Soul.

1. The light goes into the soul through the eye is that which is then reflected outwardly. It is reflected in the thinking the speech and the actions of the believer.
2. Lamp is the metaphor for that projection of light from the soul of the person.
3. Then the person responds by living in the light of the spiritual life in a world of darkness.

Bobby is now drawing a picture of an eye. There is the optic nerve and it is coming into the brain so that the brain thinks about the image and draws conclusion about the image. This is all the grace apparatus for perception. This light is heading into our soul, into the right lobe of the soul. That is what happens with the grace apparatus for perception. This is the very basis for the Christian life. We are now metabolizing the light.

Then this light emanates from the soul and it goes outward. It is not just contained in the soul but it goes somewhere.

Jesus is describing operation Z here. This illumination in the darkness with divine viewpoint means that we are living the spiritual life and this light cuts through the darkness of cosmic thinking. That is just what we are doing here, being illuminated in our souls.

It is what allows us to think about eternal things rather than temporal things.

We Then Have 4 Results

1. The filling of the Holy Spirit provides light; gap does not work without the Holy Spirit, which teaches doctrine to our souls. He transfers this doctrine to our human spirit, and then it is transferred to the left lobe, believe it, and then it is transferred to the right lobe. This is the power to absorb the light into the soul.
2. What develops? Inner beauty develops, based upon divine viewpoint. Divine viewpoint renovates our thinking. This is something that the unbeliever cannot equal. The unbeliever cannot metabolize doctrine.
3. The light of doctrine develops inner happiness and stability, based upon faith. Then it emits the faith rest drill to live the spiritual life with a relaxed mental attitude. By faith we have doctrine, and by faith we utilize that doctrine. The lamp is the faith rest drill by which we live in a dark world. The life of spiritual maturity shines based on the light of grace and doctrinal orientation of the soul.

This is how we get spiritual wealth; it is based upon a functioning eye. The eye absorbs the light of doctrine into the soul. The eye is clear; the lens is working great here; it is not cloudy.

The Bad Eye

1. No production of divine good exists apart from light. Without light, there is reversionism and carnality.

2. There is nothing in the soul that shines out and animates the body with the mind of Christ. From the mind comes the light; from the light comes an animation from the body.
3. The bad eye is the one that cannot see clearly the light of God's Word. There are a lot of distortions of God's Word coming into the eyes of believers in this country. The other big problem is, our eyes are cloudy because we are out of fellowship. The bad eye cannot clearly see the Word of God.
4. Since the Word of God represents the light of the soul; the bad eye precludes taking light into the soul.
5. There is nothing but darkness when the eye does not function properly.
6. When the eye is bad, as the verse says, then the whole body will be filled with darkness. There are a lot of believers who are filled with darkness. Not just unbelievers. When the soul of the believer is a bad eye, the soul is filled with darkness. Without the light of doctrine, then the soul is blacked out.
7. No image can be formed; the eye is diseased; it is not healthy.
8. Darkness in the soul is produced by the malfunction of grace apparatus for perception through willful rejection of Bible doctrine.

Matt. 6:22 "The eye is the lamp of the body. So, if your eye is healthy, your whole body will be full of light,

Matt. 6:23 but if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

Lesson #0343 Matt. 6:23 Eph. 4:17–18 Life of Christ 10/28/2012 1Sun

More important than voting is advancing to spiritual maturity. That is the purpose of Berachah Church. Bobby is going to cover the spiritual life.

Bobby is not knocking money, but Matt. 6:22–23 and what came before give us a different perspective.

Matt. 6:23 but if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

If that light in you is darkness, how great is that darkness! That means that the person is completely in the dark. The eye, the lamp, light and darkness are all connected in this passage.

A Brief Overview of the Analogy

this is the analogy that our Lord uses to make His point, and complete in v. 24. This is critical for understanding everything that we do in this life. Wealth is simply an example.

1. Attaining earthly wealth is not to be compared to heavenly wealth.
2. Wherever your focus is, that is what is most critical to you.

3. The heavenly wealth is the wealth that our Lord commends to us. So, what is heavenly wealth?
 - a. Heavenly wealth is stored up through the production of divine good. They are intimately connected.
 - b. Divine good is only performed by the believer in fellowship. Those filled with the Holy Spirit hear Bible doctrine and can metabolize that Bible doctrine. If you metabolize doctrine, you are advancing in the spiritual life.
 - c. As an advancing believer, you produce good deeds, which is divine good.
 - d. It is this production that glorifies God and it glorifies God in our bodies (meaning that this glorified God in this life). This is how we build up the treasure in heaven.
4. This treasure is produced in this life. Right now is when this occurs. This is the treasure that we are awarded in the future.
5. This divine good is called gold, silver and precious stones in 1Cor. 3.
6. Those valuables, the imperishable items, are the eternal treasure which will be distributed to believers for their production of divine good.

So, how do we connect these 4 things, the eye, the lamp, light and darkness. The eye can only function with a light source; and the same for the lamp. The eye takes in surrounding light in order to comprehend an image. Then the eye sends through a complex system of neural system of impulses to the brain in order to perceive the things you see. But, without light, then the eye has nothing to process; it cannot see.

If you have been in a cave where there is a complete absence of light. You cannot make out anything; closest that you can get to blindness. The brain cannot identify any object. The absence of light is the absence of vision.

A lamp radiates light and it projects light and it illuminates the darkness all around. This is a clear and obvious literal connection. But this is not how Jesus uses these 4 items in this passage.

Each of these things are metaphors, a figure of speech; where they stand for something else. They are literal things; but what they stand for is not literal.

So light stands for Bible doctrine, throughout Scripture. In v. 23, it also becomes something else as well. Then there is the eye—what does it stand for? The eye takes in the light of Bible doctrine. That light, which is absorbed by the eye, illuminates the soul. That is metabolized doctrine, the mind of Christ. That renovates the thinking with divine viewpoint.

The third item is the lamp. It projects the metabolized doctrine. That emanates from the soul and illuminates the world of darkness. That is what we are surrounded by. Darkness is the human viewpoint which is opposed to divine viewpoint. Darkness versus light.

Bobby came up with an illustration on Thursday, hoping that it will make sense. The eye, metaphorical. Light must enter into the eye in order for us to see. Metaphorically, this light is Bible doctrine. Where does it come from? The pages of the Word of God. The eyes of our soul hears and see the doctrine and it is drawn in. There is the optical nerve that transmits the electrical signals, that which the eye sees.

In the spiritual analogy, this represents the grace apparatus for perception. The eye sends signals that illuminate the soul. With that Holy Spirit, we are able to understand spiritual things. We are viewing spiritual things. The Holy Spirit makes this real. It is pneumatikos. We have positive volition toward this academic knowledge; and the Holy Spirit transfers it into the right lobe, where it is metabolized. The raw light comes in and goes through this process and comes out as metabolized doctrine.

That is only half of the analogy. But what about the lamp and darkness?

From the right lobe, we have a projection of doctrine; that is the lamp. What comes into the soul projects outward as the lamp and illuminates the darkness of this world. We see it from the light in our souls. This lamp illuminates the darkness with divine viewpoint. When this all works.

This is a complex analogy, but it is an analogy for the entire spiritual life. From raw doctrine to divine viewpoint in life that illuminates all of the darkness around you.

But what about the bad eye? In that case, your whole body is filled with darkness.

This is not the doctrine that is light. This is light that is darkness; this is the cosmic system; sometimes it is called the doctrine of demons. This is anything but light. There is no grace apparatus for perception under these circumstances. There is no projection of doctrine. No divine viewpoint going through this system. It is all human viewpoint. Human viewpoint in this sense is light and it does not light up the world. There is nothing but the darkness of the world all around you; and you provide no light to those around you. Your lamp projects nothing but darkness. So all you can see is darkness.

The Bad Eye

1. The bad eye means no production of divine good. No eternal treasure can be laid up to a soul filled with darkness. No eternal treasure can be laid up. The soul is filled with darkness. There are a lot of believers who have souls filled with nothing but darkness.
2. There is no glorifying God from a soul filled with darkness. It cannot happen.
3. There is nothing in the soul to shine forth. There is no illumination from that lamp.
4. There is nothing to animate the body with the mind of Christ. You cannot glorify God; there is nothing to animate the body; nothing to animate the spiritual life.
5. Nothing to animate the light to illuminate the darkness of Satan's world. This is all the human wisdom that this world has to offer, and it is all human viewpoint which does not illuminate.
6. It is the bad eye which cannot see clearly see the light of God's Word; the truth. There is no doctrine in the soul where the bad eye is present.

7. When the eye is bad, the entire soul is filled with darkness. The whole body is darkened; it is blacked out. It is all dark.

The absence of light means darkness. Willful rejection of the light of Bible doctrine. You refuse to look; you refuse to take in the light; and that is the complete breakdown of the gap system.

Rejection of Bible doctrine explains your life for many years. You forgot the source of light; you neglected doctrine. You even rejected it. There is a vacuum in your soul, that cannot be filled with anything but darkness. Your soul vacuum sucks in darkness. This can happen in 20 years. This can happen over an hour or a month; there will be and can be darkness in your soul.

Matiotês. This is the scar tissue which forms on the soul. The soul will suck in all of this false doctrine. Any kind of misinformation are political darkness, socialism, changing-the-world through compassion darkness, enslaving people to the state. Theological liberalism; all sorts of liberality.

Eph. 4:17–18 This I say therefore, and testify (affirm) in the Lord, that you no longer walk as the nations also walk, in the vanity (futility) (depravity) of their mind (thinking). They are darkened (blinded) (obscured) in their understanding, alienated from the life of God, because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardening of their heart.

Darkness is always misery. All kinds of subjective thinking; and you blame God for all of your trouble. You could have made a good decision instead of the one that took you into a wall. This is the life that we are given. It can handle anything.

Your soul therefore projects like a black light; and yields all sorts of human viewpoint thinking.

Matt. 6:23 but if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

Lesson #0344 Matt. 6:23 –24 Eph. 4:17–18 Life of Christ 10/28/2012 2Sun

Matt. 6:23 but if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

When you have drawn that darkness into your soul; the deeper you are into darkness and the less you are able to recognize the light of truth, especially as it is applied to everything in your life. If you cannot recognize divine viewpoint in your own soul, how can you utilize it when it comes your own life. It distorts your life because your soul sucks in darkness and your whole body had become dark. You were out of fellowship and in reversionism. That is an individual problem.

This darkness not only affects us, but it affects the nation. As goes the believer in the nation, so goes the nation. Utopian thinking; the compassion that is not really compassion. Anything that has to do with the outside world. You are unable to discern the difference between light and dark. When human viewpoint is mixed with divine viewpoint, it becomes human viewpoint. This is why we must take in the light.

All of those believers who think, "Blessed are the peacemakers" and support peace treaties between various groups, like the Palestinians and the Israelis. They are implacable enemies and this will not change.

Bobby once judged a beauty pageant. 3 minutes to ask a question. Almost inevitably every question brought them around to world peace. They, like everyone else, were filled with the darkness of relativism.

There are all sorts of socialistic schemes to develop the welfare state and to redistribute wealth, which is a fixation on money. It is an economic theory which claims to solve the problems of the world by means of equalizing the economy. If that thinking has to be imposed (it will not be accepted); and it must be regulated. Socialism must be imposed. That is tyranny. Yet people think that is compassion. That is dark thinking; it is anti-freedom and anti-divine establishment. This is not being governed by laws. It is the darkness which has penetrated the souls of many Christians who do not recognize the difference.

In Berachah, we have no excuse to be ignorant. Money becomes the solution to the woes of mankind. The spiritual life and individual problem solving devices, those are the solutions in our soul. When these are not known, the believer's body is filled with darkness. Their soul is blacked out from all light. The whole person is controlled by darkness. This is the believer who is steeped in carnality. He grieves the Holy Spirit. This is the unbeliever who has no light. They only have human viewpoint. The believer with the bad eye only sees darkness; only human viewpoint. Do you see the light or are you groping in the dark? Most of the stuff that we see in this world are human viewpoint. They are perpetrating darkness and human viewpoint. Anything that is apart from Bible doctrine, apart from the light, is dark. Satan's cosmic system is dark. The believer is steeped in carnality. Such a person imitates the religious, self righteous immoral type unbeliever.

Eph 4:17–18 So, I tell you this, and insist [on it] by [the authority of] the Lord: Do not continue to live with worthless thoughts as [unconverted] Gentiles do. Their understanding [of spiritual things] is darkened and excluded from the [spiritual] life that God gives, because of the ignorance in their minds and the stubbornness in their hearts.

No doctrine in and no doctrine out. Excluded from the life of God. This means that we have forfeited out spiritual life. Monetary lust is included here; greediness; earthly treasure is cited here.

Feminine_noun : mataiotês (ματαιότης) [pronounced mat-ah-yot'-ace], which means, 1) what is devoid of truth and appropriateness; 2) perverseness, depravity; 3) frailty, want of vigour. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #3153.

Satan's Cosmic System and Light

1. No matter how beautiful or handsome you are on the outside, if there is no inner light, then the ugliness of reversionism can be the only result. An ugly soul. This includes monetary reversionism. With blackout of the soul, no light will shine forth from the soul. No matter what you look like, your soul filled with light projects. The light in v. 23b is a metaphor for human enlightenment; human viewpoint; wisdom of the world. However, it is false wisdom because it is the darkness of the cosmic system.
2. This is nothing more than the propaganda of Satan's cosmic system. His system is darkness.
3. We need the absolute light in our soul or we cannot illuminate around us. 2Cor. 11:13 Satan disguises himself as an angel of light. He can use light as a disguise; and he can use the doctrines of demons to draw you into his system.
4. You need to be able to recognize that which is not true. You will hear so many things that sound so wise and sound so good; and there is nothing but human viewpoint. Can you discern the difference. Not only does your life, but the life of your nation depends upon it

Matt. 6:23 but if your eye is bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

Jesus closes out with a comparison between earthly and heavenly wealth.

Matt. 6:24 "No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money.

You cannot serve light and dark; human viewpoint and divine viewpoint. They are mutually exclusive. No one can serve two masters. You cannot serve God and money at the same time. Remember all that came before: treasure, light, darkness.

Mammon is materialism. Mammon is a transliteration from the Aramaic. Money is a god; it is an object of false devotion; an object of devotion here on earth. This is light versus darkness; you cannot serve both. You cannot split your heart between two treasures. Where is your treasure. The god of money and materialism or the God of heaven. You can have one and still be focused on the other. That is the point. Which one do you serve? Where is your heart? Where is your right lobe? What do you project into the world? The believer can have no light in his soul if it is filled with darkness.

Where is your focus? You will hold to human viewpoint or to divine viewpoint. The believer with doctrine will hold to the truth. We are bombarded like never before in human history.

We have it on the internet, from other people, from school, from television and movies. This is the worst. It comes from all directions and you are bombarded with darkness.

It is impossible to serve two masters; you can serve materialism or you can serve God; you cannot serve both.

Matt. 6:24 "No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money.

Lesson #0345 The Doctrine of Money Mt 6 Life of Christ 10/31/2012 Wed

We have completed the section on monetary wealth.

Summary on Our Lord's Teaching on Wealth

1. Our Lord's teaching on wealth was not to oppose earthly wealth or to denounce those who are wealthy; and our Lord did not look to glorify poverty. He set the priorities on treasure in heaven.
2. He also reveals legalism of the pharisees and used the illustration of the pharisees' false attitude toward money.
3. They believed that they were wealthy because God bestowed wealth upon them; that they had earned God favor.
4. In effect, money was their god. They served mammon. You cannot serve materialism and God. They found favor in themselves and in their own self-righteousness.
5. So in exposing the religious legalism of the pharisee and their greed, Christ was warning His disciples of the great pitfall of monetary lust for the believer. It is so easy to get distracted.

Bobby wants to cover the complete doctrine of money tonite. It is important.

The Doctrine of Money

1. Making and accumulating money is a legitimate activity in life for a believer. There is nothing illegitimate about making money.
 - a. If the Lord is first in your life, if He is your priority, then you can enjoy and have capacity for wealth in life. You can use wealth in His service. Some have gained wealth simply to support a variety of Christian activity.
 - b. Money can be a great light illuminating God's grace and His blessing toward a believer. It is to illuminate God's grace, not the accomplishments of the individual.
2. There is a danger of money for the believer.
 - a. What really has intrinsic value? Is it materialism? Mammon? Gold and silver certainly have intrinsic value. For the believer, the real commodity is the spiritual life.

- b. A danger is focusing on the pleasure and distractions which money can offer because it removes the believer from the plan of God for his life. Pleasure can come from the possession of money and it can be an incredible distraction.
- c. Money can take precedence in a believer's scale of values, preempting divine viewpoint. When your scale of values is off, then your eye is bad.
- d. When God is not first, the believer will be miserable; with or without money.
3. Monetary lust can inhibit the believer from living the spiritual life. For the love of money is the root of all kinds of evil. All other lusts can be put into this phrase? Monetary lust is right in there with sexual lust.
4. As we have seen in our previous passage, there is a danger in legalism when it comes to money.
 - a. We studied the pharisees giving alms to the poor. This was performed for public praise and for self-gratification and self-exaltation.
 - b. Many Christians give money today to gain approbation, of man or God.
 - c. This is legalism. This is using money to bribe God for favor. It is God's grace that matters. We cannot earn God's grace.
 - d. Never give money with the wrong attitude. The plate being passed represents God's grace. Nobody asks you for any money. 2Cor. 9:7 A man that Bobby respects involved in the seminary that Bobby went to. He asked about giving in Berachah, but he had a problem here. He was a fund raiser for the seminary and he could not apply grace giving; he could not grasp not asking for money. Every man accordingly as he purposes in his heart, let him give, not grudgingly or of necessity. God loves a grace oriented believer.
 - e. Giving grudgingly obscures the grace of God. Passing the plate in Berachah Church never obscures the grace of God.
 - f. Giving grudgingly puts emphasis on the necessity to give, rather than freely giving from grace orientation.
 - g. Giving grudgingly places priority on money. The key is your attitude; the key is being filled with the Spirit; the key is that the church is supported.
 - h. Money lust can obscure logistical grace in favor of human wealth as a type of security.
5. One of the dangers of money for some believers is the lack of humility.
 - a. Possessing money or wealth can engender an attitude of superiority. I must be special because I have made so much money. What talent I have.
 - b. The pharisees saw money as being God's favor. We are religious; we have God's favor because we keep the Law; we are leaders and people look up to us. They were proud to make money for the synagogues as well.
 - c. The pharisees thought that God favored them, because they were righteous and because they were Jews. They mistook the righteousness of the spiritual life for their own self-righteousness.

- d. There are times when God must relieve us of our money. This is so that we can realize our dependency. And also so that we can realize our insignificance without Him.
 - e. In that loss of wealth is a reorientation to grace. This has so much greater value than any earthly wealth. Do not store up earthly treasure; store up heavenly treasure.
6. What are some illusions about money from human viewpoint?
- a. Money means happiness; that is an illusion. Money cannot buy happiness, but it is a lot better than being poor. It is a falsehood for the believer. Making and possessing money is not a guarantee of any happiness at all. Some of the most miserable people have money. Someone else has a bigger house or a better car or whatever. You should be content with what you have; you do not need money in order to be content. This only comes from a relationship with God; it does not come from earthly wealth. The alternative to monetary lust is advancing spiritually. That is sharing the happiness of God, which is a problem solving device. For the believer there is great happiness and great stability. You have a stability in the soul which does not leave you when you are facing death. If you have money, what does that buy you at death? There are no pockets in a shroud. Sharing God's happiness is our attitude. As you gain spiritual maturity, then you can say as well as the Apostle Paul, what is wealth? Nothing. John 15:11 These things I have spoken to you that My joy may be in you and that your joy may be made full. Happiness is sharing and thinking the doctrine of Christ. This is not about materialism. God's happiness is enduring. James 1:2 says this. It sets up a tremendous capacity for life.
 - b. Money means security. So many people equate money with security in life. It can bring some security; and it is here today and gone tomorrow. The only real and lasting security is the grace of God and eternal security. Whether you are in adversity or prosperity, your only true security is brought about by the doctrine resident in your soul. Even poverty.
 - c. Money can buy anything is another illusion. It can buy lots of good stuff; lots of presents. It cannot buy love, security, peace or happiness. Often rich people are just poor people with money. There is no difference at all.
7. The problem with money as a god. Money is a useful servant. We all need money; but it is a cruel master. Money is an absolute necessity for the economy in today's world. It is wrong to place money as the highest goal in life.
8. There is also a danger with money for the unbeliever.
- a. Money can hinder the unbeliever from considering the claims of Jesus Christ, and that is a tragedy.
 - b. The wealthy unbeliever often places his security and happiness and dependence upon money. This is an unstable security. People are concerned about losing their job; about paying for stuff; about what money can buy or not buy.

- c. The fact is, the wealthy unbeliever has a hard time seeing himself as needing anything outside of his wealth.
 - d. Wealth can easily lead to self-satisfaction and to complacency.
 - e. The wealthy unbeliever has a hard time seeing the bankruptcy of his own life. His life has no real meaning other than to make money.
 - f. He is blinded to his own condition and to the real riches of God's grace.
 - g. The rich are less likely to see God as their salvation; they see their deliverance in materialism. They make money their god.
 - h. Money is a dangerous endowment. Luke 12 Jesus pities a rich man more than a poor man. He was a pathetic person and occupied with pleasures, with food and with drink, and that is all that he talked about. Jesus calls this man a fool. So is the man who lays up treasure for himself and is not rich toward God.
9. The poor have a problem as well.

We should not confuse money with work; or confuse intelligent financial planning with money lust.

Lesson #0346 Doctrine of Money and Logistical Grace Mt 6 11/1/2012 Thurs

Berachah Church is famous for Bible doctrine and good manners.

Jesus has given us some insight into wealth and into money. We are to store up heavenly wealth. We are performers of divine good through the filling of the Holy Spirit and the advance of the spiritual life.

The Doctrine of Money

1. It is legitimate to make money in the temporal life. This point has never been made. It is not wrong to invest, save or spend money. Money is a useful servant. The Christian life is the priority; and laying up treasure in heaven. Money can consume you.
2. There is a danger of money for the believer in Jesus Christ. Focusing on the pleasure and distractions that money can offer removes the believer from the plan of God for his life. Money ought not to be the driving issue of your life. Money can take the top of your scale of values. Money, as the priority of the believer, is human viewpoint; it is cosmic system doctrine. As it is filtered through the bad eye, it comes into the soul as humanism or materialism; anything but the spiritual life is your priority. When there is no light in your soul, there is no projection of doctrine from your soul. When there is no lamp to illuminate one's life. What goes in as materialism goes out as materialism. Monetary lust can hinder the believer from living the Christian way of life. The love of money is the root of all kinds of evil. You are no different from the unbeliever if you stay involved in the cosmic system.
3. There is also the danger of legalism for the believer with regards to money. This is where believers give money. They give money to the church, to missions, to the needy; they give with the motivation of gaining favor from God. It is a trade-off. But God cannot be bribed for blessing. You cannot bribe God for the grace blessing that He has already given you. You already understand the grace of God. Your giving is an appreciation and gratitude. You cannot gain God's favor through doing some activity. God approves of those who give simply to reflect His grace. You never give a dime without the correct motivation. The intention is to further the gospel. You want to see the gospel disseminated. You want to see doctrine taught from the pulpit.

4. A pitfall for the believer who acquires money is to lose the grace attitude of humility; that is the attitude of grace orientation. Grace orientation is the attitude; humility is the action of grace orientation. Our culture furthers that ideal. The wealthy are seen that way. We departed from the royalty of England; and our royalty in the United States is wealth.
5. Illusions:
 - a. Money is happiness or brings happiness. Making or possessing money is no guarantee of happiness. The chase for money can be very empty and very unsatisfying. For some is, money is the highest fulfillment in life. People find that materialism does not produce any of the things that they believe that it will. What could I do without money? They become obsessed with further increasing their wealth. No one's expectations are met by materialism. They still have the problem of the sin nature which nags all of us. Hitting the lottery is not the solution. Contentment and joy for every circumstance in life. The believer can share the very happiness of God. The happiness which God has; and he can enjoy this as he grows toward maturity.
 - b. The second illusion is that security is found in money. Trust funds can be broken; 401k plans can be broken in an instant.
 - c. The 3rd illusion is that money can buy anything. It cannot buy love, peace, stability, security or inner happiness. That is the bankruptcy of materialism.
6. There is a danger of money for the unbeliever. Wealth can hinder the unbeliever from considering the claims of the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. The wealthy unbeliever has a hard time seeing a need for anything outside of himself. Why do I need Jesus? He was poor and I am rich.
7. The poor are in bad shape in certain ways as well. The poor can focus on materialism just as much as the wealthy. They think that money will solve all of their problems, and it does not. Those who receive welfare checks are not happy people; they are miserable people. They have no self-esteem and they lack a reason to exist. That climb out of poverty and into wealth blocks a person's view of himself in relationship to Jesus Christ. He can reject the spiritual solution as the solution to all of life's problems. The poor have an advantage over the wealthy: the rich men have a hard time seeing the gospel; the poor perceive the meaning of God's grace much more easily. An empty pocket book is a stimulus for the meaning of life. The true purpose and the true meaning of life is the offer of grace through Christ alone.
8. The unbeliever needs to see 4 specific things about money:
 - a. Money can keep the unbeliever from seeking salvation. It is more difficult for the wealthy to see their need for Jesus Christ. They saw money as evidence for God's blessing. They thought that God had everything to do with the money that they had.

- b. Money is an unnecessary commodity in the spiritual life. Salvation has been paid in full. It does not require money. 1Peter 1:18–19 ...knowing that not with corruptible things, silver or gold, were you redeemed from your worthless way of life handed down from your fathers, but with precious blood of Christ, as a lamb without blemish and without spot,... No amount of money can buy salvation. Mark 8:36 For what shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world, yet forfeit his soul? What does it matter if you are a billionaire and you forfeit your own soul. Mark 8:37 Or what shall a man give as an exchange for his soul? Where does your worth lie as a human being? Does your worth lie in the plan of God for your life. When you think that it is monetary wealth; when your value is personal possessions, you are in a state of spiritual numbness.
- c. There are no pockets in a shroud. You cannot take it with you. “Naked I came into this world and naked I will leave.” We have not brought anything into this world; and we will not take anything with us.
- d. Money has not credit with God at the last judgment. You cannot present your bankbook. All that there is, is imputed righteousness. This makes you acceptable to Him. Prov. 11:4 Riches do not profit in the day of wrath; but righteousness delivers us from death.

These are the priorities. Money is wrong when it becomes your master and your god.

The next section in the sermon on the mount. With God's logistical grace looking out for you, maintaining and preserving you, why would you maintain a moment's anxiety in this life?

Faith rest is the mode of your life. Logistical grace is the key. Logistics are the thing that an army needs to move along. Logistical grace is defined as divine planning, divine support and divine provision and divine blessing for the execution of the plan of God; for the fulfillment of God's will and purpose and for us to live the spiritual life. Everything that we need to live and survive is provided for us. This includes 3 factors: life support; physical life support. This explains how we continue to live moment by moment. The air that we breathe. The ecological system of this planet is maintained by Jesus Christ. This includes the provision of angels who watch over us; they protect believers from harm and they serve believers. Matt. 10:18 Heb. 1:14 there is no work that we can accomplish to keep ourselves alive. Doesn't medical science keep us alive a little longer? You do not understand Who brings you into the world and Who takes you out.

We have very few days in this life, even if we live 90 or 100 years. That is nothing in comparison to eternity. God provides this time for us for a reason. Each day, God has given us. This is so that we can accomplish His plan. We are given a certain number of days as believers in Jesus Christ.

The second factor of divine provision is blessing. Blessing is provided for all believers. This is whether we are in fellowship or out of fellowship. We receive blessing. This highlights the status of being in Christ. Regardless of where we are in our spiritual lives, logistical grace does not stop and it never fails. The 3rd factor is the greatest provision; the availability of Bible doctrine for any believer who is positive and desires to grow. That is spiritual logistics. The Scripture has been preserved over the centuries. Every attempt has been made to destroy it. Every attempt has been made to wipe the Jewish race from the earth. The Jews survive and God's Word survives; and God provides men to teach His Word. However, too often, men do not want doctrine. Where there is positive volition, doctrine will be provided.

The faith rest attitude. Logistical grace is a rationale of the faith rest drill. Together, these are a learned skill. It is a spiritual skill. It is manifested as consistent dependency upon the Lord. Jesus is the purveyor of logistical grace. Isa. 41:10 Do not fear, for I am with you; do not gaze about [do not anxiously look around you], for I am your God; I will make you strong; yea, I will help you; yes, I will uphold you with the right hand of My righteousness. We have no reason to fear; God is with us. This is faith rest. This is the attitude that we need to maintain. This is logistical grace. God upholds us; so what should we fear?

When fear enters into your soul, what do you do? How can I run? How can I escape? If that is your first thought, you are focusing on human viewpoint. What time I am afraid, I will trust in You. If God be for us, who can be against us? What is there to fear?

Logistical grace and the faith rest life is the section that we are about to cover. Jesus will use analogies that we can all understand. He speaks of birds, and flowers and grass; and He speaks of an obvious need of mankind; and He speaks of clothing. If God takes care of the needs of these little things, then we need not be anxious about anything.

Lesson #0347

Matt. 6:25–26 Life of Christ

11/4/2012 1Sunday

Logistical grace is our general subject.

Jesus addresses one of the most basic doctrines for our life; and addressed a problem that we often deal with: fear, anxiety and worry. Jesus becomes the Absolute Psychologist for us. Psychologists will have sorts of exercises and ways to deal with our personal anxieties; but our Lord's is simple and effective. The key is, logistical grace. That is the solution to our problems: a doctrine.

We can use logistical grace and the faith rest drill in order to recall our Lord's promises. Why would we ever allow fear to intrude upon our consciousness? If God has promised us logistical grace, how can we then fear?

Logistics is a military term for supply. This is how combat troops are supplied. Food, clothing and bullets. It is the supplying of everything that they need to complete their mission. We are in the same situation; we also are soldiers in a great battle.

We have provision for our spiritual combat. The plan of God does not include anxiety on our part. God's plan does not include sin. Fear is a mental attitude sin; therefore, it is not a part of God's plan.

However, every believer has moments of anxiety and we are no different as believers. There is no greater fear than that of death. Or, for some, public speaking. You may be afraid of getting on a freeway and going to work. You may fear all sorts of things. Fear does intrude upon our lives.

2Tim. 1:7 For God did not give a spirit of fear or cowardice to us, but of power and of love and of self-control.

God does not want us to spend time thinking about our fears. Think logistical grace coupled with the faith rest drill, and you can relax in the face of your greatest fear. We have all lived with some fear that brings us nothing but anxiety. This intrudes on our sleep. At 2 am, our fear is right there staring at us.

Jesus tells us that this does not need to be our lifestyle.

Logistical Grace Includes Several Things:

1. Life support; the necessities that we need for life. The very air that we breath is provided for us by God. CO₂ and N are kept in balance so that we can survive. Heb. 1:3 ...who is the radiance of his glory and the representation of his essence, sustaining all things by the word of his power. When he had made purification for sins, he sat down at the right hand of the Majesty on high,... This is a fabulous, fantastic concept of the Shekinah Glory; this is God revealed to us on earth. His perfection is revealed to us. He is the radiance of His glory and the exact representation of His nature or essence. Jesus Christ is the God-man. The environmentalists are wrong in thinking that man can destroy the planet. We can damage it but we cannot destroy it. We will not face rising seas. The battlefields of WWI were destroyed; the ground looked like the moon. Crops are growing and trees are back. The earth recovers because God has provided these means.
2. Blessing is provided for all believers, in or out of fellowship. There is even blessing for reversionists, which is discipline. This is blessing. When you receive blessing when out of fellowship, you know that is logistical grace.
3. The availability of Bible doctrine for any believer who is positive to it and who desires to grow. If you want Bible doctrine, then you can find it. Any believer who desires it will find it. Vv. 25–34 Jesus uses analogies to make His teaching clear. A great teacher can take things that we understand and sets them in parallel with spiritual truth. Jesus will speak of flowers and grass growing in the field. In these analogies, our Lord provides for nature's needs and human needs. If God takes care of plants and animals, then He can certainly take care of us. This covers this passage pretty much.

We will see how Jesus comes to that conclusion and then see how He takes care of us. We need to believe this. We need to have faith in the logistical grace of God. This is so that we can overcome and not live in the shadows of our fears and anxieties.

Isa. 41:10 Do not fear, for I am with you; do not gaze about [do not anxiously look around you], for I am your God; I will make you strong; yea, I will help you; yes, I will uphold you with the right hand of My righteousness.

Do not look all around, worried for what is going to happen to you. "I am your God." Memorize this verse for every difficult circumstance.

Jesus explains:

Matt. 6:25 "Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink, nor about your body, what you will put on. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing?"

Here is the natural explanation. They don't grow anything; they do not store anything; and yet, they survive. And He concludes, "Aren't you more valuable than birds?"

Matt. 6:26 Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they?

God loves the human race; He has died for us; but we, as family, have God's personal love. What would He withhold from us?

We begin with a prepositional phrase; διὰ τοῦτο, = for this reason. We are not to be anxious about our lives. What we should wear, eat or drink. Why does Jesus use these simple illustrations? Why not apply this to something serious in our lives. These are all aspects of life that man is most concerned about; man's personal welfare; they are the very basics of our life. Food and clothing. We don't think about this too much in our society, unless we are particularly poverty stricken. Underneath is all, we do pay close attention. This is a provision that we need. This should not be a consideration for the believer.

Subsistence then was more difficult than it is today in the United States. Anxiety is not the means of supply. It does not matter how much we worry. We all have basic needs in life and anxiety will not provide any of these needs for us.

Then Jesus tells us why we need not be concerned about these basics. Isn't your life about more than food? Is there not more than just a physical search for food and clothing? The lower animals is concerned about food and procreation all of the time. They are on a constant search for survival. They do the same thing over and over; they are not thinking ahead. They are looking to survive; basic logistics.

We are more than a mere physical being; there is more to our lives than subsistence or materialism. This is disputed by evolutionists or humanists. They see man as only a higher form of lower animals. They are seen as no more or less important than man. Finding a spider 8 ft down stops some progress. We are nothing special; just higher forms of evolution.

Humans Versus Animals

1. Human beings have more than simply sustenance. We think in the abstract; which animals cannot do.
2. Humans have an ontological concept of a Higher Being; we have an innate understanding or knowledge of Someone above our own life.
3. The believer is concerned with the physical and with the spiritual things of God.
4. The absolute truth of God, I think.

Life is more than simple subsistence; there is more than food and shelter for the believer. There is the immaterial; the soul. If the physical, or the material was the totality of life, then we would be concerned only with food, shelter and clothing.

Man is made in the image of God; and that is never said of any creature made by God. Further, the believer has a human spirit given to him at salvation; we have a spirit given to us; it is the foundation of a spiritual life. That is how we can learn Bible doctrine. The Holy Spirit teaches the human spirit Bible doctrine. Bobby just produces it. Part of logistical grace is the provision of Bible doctrine for our spiritual life. We do not just seek the material aspects of life; we seek the nourishment of the spiritual life. The extent of God's gifts to man places us somewhere far above animal life.

Matt. 6:25 "Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink, nor about your body, what you will put on. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing?"

Now Jesus will use birds to explain this.

Matt. 6:26 Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they?"

Lesson #0348 1Peter 5:7 Matt. 6:25–27 Life of Christ 11/4/2012 2Sun

Do not bring your kids into the auditorium if they aren't ready for it.

Our Lord has certainly put the human race above the rest of the animal kingdom. Jesus uses the animal kingdom to explain logistical grace. He wants us to overcome fear, worry and anxiety.

People then had seen all of the attacks of the pharisees and had listened to what Jesus taught to them. The people knew what Jesus faced; they are worried about their future; they don't know where they are going.

Jesus: "I know what you are fearing and what you will be anxious about in the future." His disciples would have fear and anxiety and pressures in their lives. 11 of the Apostles would die violent deaths at the hand of their government.

Matt. 6:25 "Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink, nor about your body, what you will put on. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing?"

Then Jesus uses the example of birds. We are worth much more than a bird or a spotted owl. We have an immaterial soul. We have self consciousness. We can think; we have a mentality; we have a conscience.

We were created in the image of God.

Matt. 6:26 Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they?"

Birds have a day to day existence; they eat whatever they can gather in the moment. After eating, he keeps on searching for more food.

There are those who live in abject poverty and exist from day to day; and birds do not know where their next meal is coming from.

The disciples would be in very difficult circumstances and do a lot of traveling; so they needed to know that God was going to look after them.

Humans plan and reap a harvest and they do store food in barns. We obtain food in a much more complex way than the animal kingdom. Birds don't shop for foods at the HEB. Squirrels do gather nuts and store them, but they do not grow them or produce them. We are different. Birds eat seed or fruit or other animals, but they do not produce them. God provides the food necessary for these animals. The surroundings, the environment of all the creatures depend upon the ecological system that God has set up. There is no earth-mother out there. There is no pantheon approach, that God and the world are one. The idea that the earth produced everything is the basis for evolution.

Birds do not provide for themselves; God set up an ecological system to take care of them. This is a personal thing that God takes care of. God the Father feeds them. God provides in His ecological system for all of the other animals.

God, Logistical Grace, Mankind and Animals

1. God values the human being more than the birds of the animal kingdom or any other animals. "Are you not worth more than they?"
2. God is the One to take care of the birds; they cannot reap or sow or store in barns. It is the food chain.

3. If this is true, that God feeds them, how much more will He do for us, whom He values far more. Fundamental premise of logistical grace. With greater force; for greater reason. We are more important than birds and God takes care of the birds.
4. Just as God provides logistical grace for the birds, He will do infinitely more for us as believers. This is what God will do for those made in His image. God has set up a system for birds to live. When you see a bird eating, nesting, procreating; they are taken care of; and God infinitely more takes care of us.
5. We are beyond the mere physical animal kingdom that God so carefully and graciously feeds and takes care of. We are way beyond that circumstance. Gen. 1:27–28 And God created the man in His own image; in the image of God He created him. He created them male and female. And God blessed them; and God said to them, Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth, and subdue it, and rule over the fish of the seas, and over birds of the heavens, and over all beasts creeping on the earth. PETA wanted to erect some crosses or a memorial on a highway where a bunch of fish died by perhaps a traffic accident? Only in California. In human beings, we had breathed into us a soul; a breath of life. Nethshema. This is unique among all creation. If God takes care of birds by feeding them, how much more will God care for us, in whom He breathed in His very breath. We are in His image; how much more does God care for us?

Matt. 6:26 Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they?

Therefore, the conclusion is obvious. If God takes care of birds, then He takes care of us; and therefore, we should not be anxious about our lives. We have never been without logistical grace from God. God never forgets us for one moment. We are always in His thoughts. He logistical grace never fails. We as a believer will not die until God is ready to take us out. God will keep us alive logistically until the moment is required for us to be removed.

We are not to worry about the logistics in life; we are not to worry about anything. It is a sin to worry and this keeps us out of fellowship and that is the means of relaxing in adversity. We can be out of fellowship and worried; depending on our own resources; or we live our life according to divine grace.

God has provided the means by which we can overcome that way of living.

The futility of worry.

Cubit here is used to compare a very short distance to a long distance. The long distance is a complete lifespan and a cubit is a small portion of that lifespan.

Matt. 6:27 But who of you by being anxious is able to add one cubit onto his stature?

No matter how much we worry, that will add nothing to our lives; not even a second. Worry and fear do not. Anxiety does not. Worry adds nothing but misery to your life. You do not expand your lifetime; you do not expand your lifespan.

There is an absolute quality to this statement. On one side, is it anxiety and on the other side is the spiritual life.

If God takes care of a bird, then He takes care of us.

Sometimes logic does not overcome our emotions. There is more to this than logic; this is a spiritual issue; this is an issue of faith. We must believe it and then have patience to allow God to unfold His logistical grace in our lives. When this happens, we develop a relaxed mental attitude.

Looks like there might be some weirdness in this verse, the cubit and the span of life.

Matt. 6:27 And which of you by being anxious can add a single hour to his span of life?

Please don't say, "I can't help it." You can help worrying.

The alternative to worry is to depend upon God's logistical grace.

There are those doctrinal promises to claim. Doctrinal conclusions to draw to combat worry and these are all based upon faith. The battle in our soul is between worrying about our meager resources and problems and the unlimited divine resources of God.

1Peter 5:7 "casting all your anxiety onto Him," because it matters to Him concerning you. LXX-Psalm 54:23; MT-Psalm 55:22

We can stop God's plan in our life by worry. Think of a current trouble and how minuscule that it is in our life. Look above it and look ahead of it. We gain a short versus a long-term perspective. What cubit will be add with our narrow perspective. Look at the big picture. The little problem that we are dealing with now is nothing compared to the big picture. We have this big picture perspective.

Philip. 1:21 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

There is nothing to fear in the light of eternity and in the light of logistical grace. We are to make this a rationale in our souls, so that we can conclude that we can trust this so that we do not have to worry.

This is a process that you will learn; a process that you will utilize. Sometimes, you can simply smile and say, "I wonder how God will work this one out?"

Matt. 6:27 And which of you by being anxious can add a single hour to his span of life?

Day after the election. Some woke up thinking that they awakened to the Millennium; and others awoke to think that the Tribulation has begun. Many more Americans look forward to getting back to what they perceive as normal. They are oblivious to anything outside of themselves. So many have no relationship to God; and they expect to be taken care of by an overseeing big government. They expect to get their fair share of the prosperity pie. So many have bought into Satan's economic systems; and they are ignorant of all divine truth.

Hosea was a great prophet who prophesied during a time of prosperity. He saw the downward spiral; the degradation of a people.

Hosea 4:6 My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge; because you have rejected Me, I have rejected you from being priest to Me. Since you have forgotten the Law of your God, I will forget your sons, even I.

The degeneracy and decay of a nation. Jeremiah mourned for his nation as well. That is what Lamentations is all about. His heart was broken for his nation. He saw the national tragedy of Jerusalem falling to Chaldea and they went into captivity.

The southern kingdom had chosen to reject God and to reject His Word. Lamentations is the suffering of a client nation.

Lam 5:2 Our inheritance has been turned to aliens, our houses to foreigners.

Lam 5:3 We are orphans. There is no father; our mothers are like widows.

Lam. 5:4 We have drunk our water for silver; our wood comes for a price.

Lam. 5:5 We are pursued; we grow weary; rest is not given to us.

Lam. 5:6 We have given the hand to the Egyptians, to the Assyrian, in order to be satisfied with bread.

That is a weak nation.

Lam. 5:7 Our fathers have sinned, and are not; we have borne their iniquities.

One degenerate generation begins another. We have seen this in that last 50 years or so.

Lam. 5:8 Slaves rule over us; there is no rescuer from their hand.

Freedom is gone and there is no military left to defend it.

Lam. 5:9 We bring in our bread with our souls, from the face of the sword of the wilderness.

Economic disaster. These are things that we could watch happen and some of these things are happening right now. We have gone hat in hand to Egypt, Iran, China, and elsewhere hoping that our national debt will be covered.

Lam. 5:10 Our skin is burned black like an oven, because of the fever heat of famine.

What we really owe is $200 trillion with all of our obligations. Greece, Spain, etc. will fall like dominoes and we will follow. This has nothing to do with one leader; this has been a century of ridiculous spending. That kind of debt means a loss of economic power; and that means a loss of our influence throughout the world.

A reduced military power.

This is the same Jeremiah who writes: This I recall to mind, therefore I have confidence, they are renewed every morning; great is Your faithfulness. The Lord is my portion; therefore I have confidence in Him. The Lord is good to those who wait for Him. If God is for us, who can be against us?

This is where we are. The disciples are all there listening to the Sermon on the Mount. They would face such deadly opposition. The Judaism of the pharisees hated Christ just as much as Islam does today.

Did you wake up this morning anxious, scared?

Bobby is proud of those he spoke to. People are not afraid and they are not fooled.

Email. God has a plan; God has a plan for us; God has a plan and it is perfect. What God does not remove, we are to endure. We are able to relax in our thinking and share in His happiness. We can change our thinking. 4 more years are what? Nothing compared to eternity. 4 more years to bring the only true message of hope and chance. 4 more years of blessing.

Jer. 17:7–8 Blessed is the man who trusts in Jehovah, and Jehovah is his refuge. For he shall be like a tree planted by the waters. It sends out its roots by the stream, and it will not fear when the heat comes; but its foliage will be green; and it is not anxious in the year of drought, nor will it cease from yielding fruit.

If God be for us, who can be against us?

Matt. 6:25 "Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink, nor about your body, what you will put on. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing?"

Don't fret; we have logistical grace. Even under the fifth cycle of discipline, this does not go away. In A.D. 70, Jerusalem was destroyed, leveled.

Matt. 6:26 Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they?

Worry is completely unnecessary in your life, even for a short moment. A relaxed mental attitude from faith rest is the only way for us to think and to live. Otherwise anxiety will rule us for the coming years.

Matt. 6:27 And which of you by being anxious can add a single hour to his span of life?

Bobby is going to give us some application.

Application

1. We do not live even a second longer by worrying. God's plan for us has a time span; a certain number of days, hours and seconds. Worry or fear will not extend that.
2. God's plan for us includes every moment of our life. Not one second is excluded. We are in God's thinking constantly. Our part is to stay in it.
3. To fret about any problem will not help. It does not solve anything or extend our life. We must think in terms of eternity.
4. Worry will make our lives less worth living. It will keep us out of fellowship. Doctrine cannot pierce that fear and worry; and this results in personal misery.
5. We are not enjoying life to the fullest if anxiety is our fallback position. This is the MO for so many Christians.
6. We do not enjoy what God has provided if we are filled with worry. We do not have our eyes on anyone but yourself. Our eyes are not on the Lord and you cannot enjoy any of His great blessings.
7. Worry and capacity for life are mutually exclusive. Jesus pioneered that spiritual life. He had the most difficult conditions under which to test drive that life.

Anxiety is not helpful.

More Application

1. Worry is counterproductive to the spiritual life. If you are advancing, you will recover quickly. You will get divine viewpoint.
2. Basic logistics is the Lord's responsibility. Stop worrying cannot just happen overnight. This takes consistency in the Word of God.
3. You make a doctrinal application and then you believe it.
4. If God provides the big thing, the salvation of our souls while we were His enemies, then...
5. How much more will He do for us now that we are family?
6. God provides the resources of the spiritual life. The problem solving devices to handle all adversity. And to handle prosperity as well.
7. What is our part in this? We must know the promises of God. We have to trust these promises of God. Believe them and know that they are true.
8. As long as we are alive, we are in God's plan. We are to fulfill that plan. If we are alive, then God is going to take care of us.

God is responsible for the details like food and clothing. This does not mean that we will have lots of money to fulfill His plan.

The most important factor for humanity is not comfort, wealth, security; it is the saving of the soul; it is the fulfillment of the future. God is faithful; He is in charge. He sustains you; He takes care of you. He keeps soul and body together.

God's provision is always based upon grace.

Isa 30:18 And so Jehovah waits to be gracious to you. And for this He is exalted to have mercy on you; for Jehovah is a God of justice. Blessed are all who wait for Him.

God cannot wait to be gracious to us. He knows what is going on in our lives. The Lord is a God of justice. You think you are getting a raw deal and liars and deceivers are getting away with everything. God is just to all of us.

We should not be in the way of God's justice. How blessed are all those who wait for Him.

God permissive will; He allows us our decisions. This is self-induced misery. He also turns cursing into blessing. There is a lot of hopelessness in the world today. People just knew that if they got this or that person into office, everything would be fine. It isn't fine; and no person is going to change that. There is only one Person for us to have confidence in. Jesus longs to be gracious to us. We have got to turn to the spiritual life and the resultant spiritual attitude.

We have no idea about the next 4 years. We all have an opportunity to utilize the spiritual life that we have all been given. Bobby thought this while watching election returns last night. Life is unfolding before our very eyes and do we have the attitude to deal with it?

Lesson #0350

Acts 16:23–40 Life of Christ

11/8/2012 Thurs

Last night was all about faith rest and logistical grace. We are in a national crisis which may turn into a national disaster. The debt seems to be overwhelming; our military seems to be reduced; the firestorm in the Middle East as the Muslim Brother hood gets a foothold in many nations there.

We need to face the upcoming crises with faith rest and logistical grace. We have no right to be anxious or fearful about those things which are coming. There will possibly be things that come which might even be shocking in the United States. What opportunities do we have; and to utilize Bible doctrine and to grow. Don't worry; watch and learn and see what the Lord has for us in the coming years.

God has provided promises and doctrines for us that we need and that we need to initiate the faith rest drill. We need to learn to relax under conditions that would cause great anxiety in most. There will be some anxiety; and there will be some fear, fear of the future and fear of circumstances. We will have it but we must recover from it quickly. We need to remember logistical grace. It has been said that the definition of a coward is one who allows fear to influence all that he does. We have the means to deal with fear. Plus we can have an impact on all those around us and on our nation. We must learn to relax under all conditions. We must be able to apply our training with military precision; it should be an automatic response.

Do not be anxious for your life. Which of us by being anxious can add a single cubit to our lifespan. Have you ever in our entire life in worrying about something, has this done anything about the problem? Has it ever solved the problem? Has your worrying all night done anything? We also have the mechanics in not worrying.

Fear and anxiety are detrimental to the Christian life. Furthermore, we will not enjoy life when we entertain fear. We cannot share the happiness of God with fear and anxiety. We cannot enjoy what God provides if we are controlled by worry and anxiety.

Nobody wants to be around someone who is fearful all the time. Do not forget the logistical grace of God; all we have to do is believe it and trust it. When we begin to worry, a great thing to do is to pray. This can bring divine action on our behalf. Ask for the strength and the deliverance; and then relaxing and letting the Lord take care of it. Worry solves nothing.

It starts with us personally. Anxiety is not a part of the Christian life. If we can apply faith rest based upon a logistical grace rationale, that is how we solve our anxiety problems.

No one lived under more tremendous pressure than the Apostle Paul. Fear could have intruded on him daily. Paul spend a lot of time as a prisoner. What an injustice it is to find yourself in prison simply for proclaiming the gospel. You don't know what is going to happen to you in a place like that. Paul turned what could have been an anxious a fearful situation to his own advantage.

One example is in Acts 16. Paul and Silas, an acolyte, are here. He is one of the great men of the early church. They are in a town called Philippi and they had been arrested on some trumped-up charges when all they had done is proclaim the gospel. Paul offended some people by speaking the gospel.

Here, in our country, free speech occurs until someone is offended; and often they go to court so that it will not happen in this or that place (a public place, a workplace or in Afghanistan).

There are orders to military personnel not to speak the gospel to the Muslims there.

Acts 16:23 And laying on them many stripes, they threw them into prison, charging the jailer to keep them securely,

Acts 16:24 who, receiving such a charge, threw them into the inner prison, and locked their feet in the stocks.

Paul and Silas were put into the lowest section of a prison; it was dark and dank and it smelled horrible. Then their feet were fastened into stocks. This is how dangerous Paul and Silas were thought to be.

Acts 16:25 And having prayed, toward midnight Paul and Silas praised God in a hymn. And the prisoners listened to them.

Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns of praise to God. And the prisoners were listening to them, in one of the worst places every. They had a relaxed mental attitude and their thinking was clear. They did not get self-centered. They both knew that everything which occurred to them was for a reason. It is a part of God's plan. We would do well to remember this in the coming days. Whatever happens in the future, God's plan is still in effect. There is something that He still wants to do. No matter what happens in our country, God still has a plan.

They were in the worst circumstances and they had relaxed mental attitudes. As long as God's plan continued, they were taken care of.

Singing is a sign of joy in your soul; it is a demonstration of their confidence in God's plan. Everyone else there was listening. God brought about deliverance. God gets us to the right place at the right time. There was injustice, but God placed Paul and Silas there into this prison. No situation is hopeless with God's logistical grace behind us.

God delivers Paul and Silas and by means of a natural disaster. God uses disasters for His purposes. God used Hurricane Sandy. It had an effect.

Acts 16:26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the jail were shaken. And immediately all the doors were opened, and all of the bonds were loosened.

While they are singing, there comes a great earthquake. The stocks flew open. Everyone was freed. A divinely orchestrated prison break.

Nothing is an accident in God's plan. This was not just a prison break. You must ask yourself, what is God doing in this situation? Logistical grace is always designed to further God's plan while sustaining the believer. They did not have to wait very long to see why they were imprisoned.

Acts 16:27 And having been awakened, and seeing that the doors of the prison had been opened, having drawn a sword, the jailer was about to do away with himself, supposing the prisoners to have escaped.

Paul and Silas should be afraid and they are not. The jailer who is in charge is afraid. He runs to the cell where Paul and Silas were. The jailer's life was at stake. He could be executed for losing prisoners. You cannot be a jailer and have a prison break. That meant capital punishment for you.

Acts 16:28 But Paul called out with a loud voice, saying, Do no harm to yourself! For we are all here.

Paul speaks the gospel and he knew what his purpose in life was; and he was going to do this whether in stocks or in the beautiful city of Ephesus. In adversity or prosperity, it is all the same.

Acts 16:29 And asking for lights, he rushed in. And becoming trembly, he fell before Paul and Silas.

Acts 16:30 And leading them outside, he said, Sirs, what must I do that I may be saved?

The jailer speaks to Paul with respect. The jailer wants physical deliverance and Paul gives him spiritual deliverance. The power of the gospel in the worst of circumstances.

Acts 16:31 And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and you will be saved, you and your household.

Acts 16:32 And they spoke the Word of the Lord to him, and to all those in his house.

Acts 16:33 And taking them in that hour of the night, he washed from their stripes. And he and all those belonging to him were baptized at once.

Acts 16:34 And bringing them up to the house, he set a table before them, and exulted whole-housely, believing God.

Acts 16:35 And day having come, the magistrates sent the floggers, saying, let those men go.

One guy who started the Michigan conference was a sheriff who lived over the jail. The ones who beat Paul and Silas up; sent men to call for Paul and Silas's release. These men and the jailer were delivered by God.

Acts 16:36 And the jailer announced these words to Paul, The magistrates have sent that you be let go. Now, then, going out, proceed in peace.

Paul provides calm and salvation in such a disorienting situation.

God provides logistical grace so that we can live the faith rest life. Do not worry about the physical aspects of life. You do not need to worry about that.

Acts 16:37 But Paul said to them, Having beaten us publicly, being Romans and uncondemned men, they threw us into prison. And now do they throw us out secretly? No, indeed! But coming themselves, let them bring us out.

Acts 16:38 And the floggers reported these words to the magistrates. And hearing that they were Romans, they were afraid.

Acts 16:39 And coming, they begged them. And bringing them out, they asked them to go out of the city.

Acts 16:40 And going out from the prison, they went into the house of Lydia. And seeing the brothers, they exhorted them, and went out.

Some Closing Points

1. Anxiety is tantamount to unbelief. A lack of faith rest; not believing in the promises of God.
2. You can count on this fact, as long as you worry, you are out of the plan of God. You have failed to faith rest. You have failed to believe in the present promises of God.
3. God is not meeting your needs outside of His plan. We are the ones outside of the plan. How can God meet our needs if we make no attempt to accomplish His plan. We have to go with logistical grace.
4. When you place your problems in His hands, He handles them. Just as he takes care of the birds.
5. Worry is nothing but self-centeredness. Rather we should be centered on the logistical grace of God.
6. Rom. 8:31 What shall we say then to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us?
7. A corollary to this: if God provides logistical grace, we do not need to worry about those who are against us. The power of Rome could not beat down two men, Paul and Silas. Paul knew this promise and he applied it.

There was one who was put into prison unjustly for 18 months; and it was a federal prison; and he carried these promises with him. He was treated almost not like a prisoner; he never went to the bad parts of the prison; and he could conduct a Bible class; and he now has a great prison ministry.

We will take this country from crisis and disaster to recovery.

Lesson #0351

Matt. 6:25–27 Life of Christ

11/11/2012 1Sunday

Communion Sunday:

Non-meritorious faith. His death propitiated God and it reconciled us to God. Christ claimed, "I am the way, the truth and the life; no man comes to the Father but by Me."

When a person believes in Jesus Christ, then the Holy Spirit puts him into union with Christ and he shares the assets of Christ. God saved us by the washing of the renewal of the Holy Spirit. Regeneration is the reception of spiritual life. The formation of a new man; a new life. A person becomes a Christian not by natural generation but by supernatural generation. The Holy Spirit acts as a human spirit when we hear the gospel makes it understandable and relevant to us.

When we believe, the Holy Spirit creates within us a human spirit. What Adam lost at the fall, he regains at the new birth. It is the human spirit that is renewed by the Holy Spirit. As a regenerate human being, we share our Lord's life.

John 1:12–13 But as many as received Him, to them He gave authority to become children of God, to the ones believing into His name, who were born not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but were born of God.

We have the means to live in a new way, as the Christian way of life. The substitutionary death of Jesus Christ.

Jesus explained to Nicodemus the necessity of a spiritual birth. "Truly, truly, I say to you, If one is not generated from above, he is not able to see the kingdom of God."

Religion is man attempting to follow some code of ethics in order to gain God's approval.

The pharisee in the Temple credited himself with religious characteristics which were far above those praying with him, including the tax collector next to him.

Two men went up into the temple to pray, the one a Pharisee, and the other a tax collector. The Pharisee was standing, praying these things to himself: God, I thank You that I am not as the rest of men, rapacious, unrighteous, adulterers, or even as this tax collector. I fast twice on the sabbath; I tithe all things, as many as I get. And standing at a distance, the tax collector would not even lift up his eyes to Heaven, but smote on his breast, saying, God, be merciful to me, the sinner! I say to you, This one went down to his house having been justified, rather than that one. For everyone exalting himself will be humbled. And the one humbling himself will be exalted. (Luke 18:10–14).

Nicodemus was extremely religious; he was born physically alive but spiritually dead. He had no human spirit. His good works would not save him; these good works did not give him life. But since Nicodemus came to Jesus by night, Jesus contrasted human life at the first birth with spiritual birth after faith.

Jesus was speaking to a pharisee who knew the Scriptures. Nicodemus was a highly respected, educated man, a spiritual teacher of others. That having been generated out of the flesh is flesh, and that having been generated out of the Spirit is spirit. Do not wonder because I said to you, You must be generated from above. The Spirit breathes where He desires, and you hear His voice; but you do not know from where He comes, and where He goes; so is everyone having been generated from the Spirit. Nicodemus answered and said to Him, How are these things able to occur? Jesus answered and said to him, You are the teacher of Israel, and you do not know these things? (John 3:6–10).

Nicodemus is a lost sinner and he needed someone to solve the problem of his own righteousness. Nicodemus needed to choose between his own righteousness and the righteousness of Jesus Christ. Anyone can turn over a new leaf and return himself from his evil ways, but this does not give him eternal life.

Receiving a human spirit does not mean that your sin nature has been removed. Nothing has change insofar as your sin nature permeating your entire body. We are the same old sinful person that we were before our regeneration. But we definitely have something that is new. We have an immutable and secure inheritance. We have the life pioneered by our Lord Jesus Christ. Our regeneration grants to us all the resources necessary to the Christian life.

The communion is a test to determine if we have enough doctrine to be occupied with our Savior. The new birth gives us the means to inculcate doctrine in our souls.

Jesus is teaching the disciples about logistical grace; the supply which is provided to believers in combat. Jesus is telling His disciples how to use the faith rest drill when it comes to anxiety, fear and worry. This can overcome anxiety in the soul of any believer in Jesus Christ. The spiritual aspects of life are far more important than the physical.

Matt. 6:25 "Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink, nor about your body, what you will put on. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing?"

After Tuesday, many of us suffered anxiety. All of the problems of anxiety are dealt with through the correct mental attitude.

Then Jesus gives 3 illustrations. Farming analogy. The birds do not sow, reap, gather into barns. "Aren't you worth more than they?" This is the preeminence of the human race.

11 of the 12 Apostles would be martyred for Jesus Christ in very brutal ways. Worry adds nothing to your life except stress.

Matt. 6:26 Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they?"

Can you add a single cubit to your life's span? Our lives will run its course. We will depart this life not one second before or one second after that God takes us home. It will not add a single thing to our life to worry. Therefore, we will use the faith rest drill in our lives; we will use Bible doctrine to think things through. The physical aspects of life are taken care of by logistical grace. Therefore, we need to get on with the real purpose in our life.

When we put our anxieties in the Lord's hands, He solves the problems that we have.

Matt. 6:27 And which of you by being anxious can add a single hour to his span of life?"

A very pro-military church. Various men of Berachah would stand when their song was played. There were many who stood without uniforms. These are those who have stood watch over our nation's freedom.

The greatest thing that we can do is prayer. Their sacrifice is not in vain; and it never has been and never will be.

We are going to see a video this am to celebrate Veteran's Day. A person who receive the Medal of Honor in the Pacific for throwing a smoldering bomb out the window of the plane he was in and the plane was able to recover at 300 ft.

The second illustration given by our Lord Jesus Christ.

Matt. 6:28 And why are you anxious about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin,...

God's grace is well represented here. The lily just grows, but it cannot carry its seeds off to be planted; it requires water and rain. Very beautiful; but they have nothing to do with any of this; it is not their effort which results in this great beauty. Lilies do nothing in order to have a beautiful exterior. The growth and beauty of a lily is a metaphor for being clothed based upon God's logistical grace. The lily provides an incredible contrast.

Points on the Lily Illustration

1. Nothing in this world can touch God's natural clothing by way of beauty with regards to the lily. Flowers by themselves are beautiful. Each has its own beauty. Many people don't even look at flowers and think of them in that way, but they come in so many sizes, colors.
2. Without any work of its own, God has made the flower magnificent. A perfect illustration of God's grace.
3. Likewise, nothing can touch the advantage for man of God's logistical grace activities. We cannot provide for ourselves any better than God can for us. No one can provide for themselves like God does.
4. There is nothing that man can do to equal God's provision of logistical grace.

Matt. 6:28 And why are you anxious about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin,...

Even Solomon did not look as good as the lily. He was clothed by a great deal of effort; and the lily just is.

Matt. 6:29 ...yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

Solomon and the Beauty of the Lily

1. The lily is much more beautiful than Solomon in his finest garb.

2. There is no labor required on the part of the lily. Whatever we buy over at the Galleria, there is nothing that we can do which is as attractive as the lily.
3. Solomon's splendor is dependent upon human hands spinning cloth and sewing the garments.
4. It can never equal the clothing provided by God. Solomon was the most opulent king of Israel. Solomon is the perfect example.
5. God's logistical grace exceeds anything that man can do for himself. When you think that you have made it, remember whatever God provides us, it is perfect, timely and exactly what we need.
6. The splendor of the lily reflects the splendor and glory of God's grace; nice clothing reflects man's effort.
7. We can never, by our own efforts, attain preeminence over what God can do.
8. God provides the lily's clothing; but He provides greater logistical care for us than He ever provides for the lily.
9. If God can provide the majesty of the lily's clothing, then He can provide far more for us. What God provides for us is always in our best interest. Bobby reels off a bunch of makers of designer clothing: Jimmy Chu's, Prada, Overalls from God is better than the best designer clothes. This would be from the grace of God and exactly what we need.

God Providing Logistical Grace for us

1. God's logistical grace, always provides for us in just the right way.
2. He fulfills our exact needs. He knows exactly what our needs are in relation to what our mission is.
3. God may not fulfill our needs in the way that we want them filled. He may not provide all that we want. It is for a purpose. It is always for a purpose; fulfilling the plan of God. Our mission in life is to fulfill the plan of God for our life. Can we not have fun? Of course not. There is time for recreation. Bobby needs to teach Eccles. 3; there is a time for recreation and embracing. We have to consider the plan of God no matter what.
4. God provides enough to enable us to execute the plan that He has for us individually and we do have an individual plan for us. God will provide logistically exactly what we need.
5. That is what logistical grace is about. Not comfort or wealth, necessarily, but operational needs for executing the Christian life and His plan for us. If God can clothe the lily, then He can take care of us.

We may pray that God give us a new car, a job, a new house or whatever. "You promised to take care of me, so show me the money; give me my free stuff."

We need not fear about the future. We will not be envious of the details of life that others have and that others don't. We will not be class conscious. God will continue to take care of us, and the opulence in eternity will be dramatic.

The greatest part of our logistics comes from our last breath.

The greater our need; when we are in greatest need, His logistical grace will become even more evident to us. It is fantastic to see His grace work in those difficult times.

There have been times when Rick has been called to evangelize in a school, but a day or two before he is to leave, he does not have enough money for food or lodging or whatever. When he is about to cancel the trip, a check comes in the mailbox. On more than one occasion. God has not made Rick rich, but He has provided Rick what he needs.

Great history of missions; the great logistical grace that occurs in the middle of nowhere for people who seem to have nothing. So, why do you worry? What is the point? What is the reason for your worry? It adds nothing more than stress to your life. Whatever the circumstances, God's logistical grace will come through.

We will not fear. We will stand back and enjoy the ride. God's logistical grace will not fail us.

Matt. 6:29 ...yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

Lesson #0353

Matt. 6:25–30 Life of Christ

11/14/2012 Wed

Armondo Garcia is our missionary for Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

Part of the client nation function is sending out missionaries. Matt. 6:25–34 Jesus explains the concept of logistical grace to his disciples. He uses logistical grace as a rationale; a reason why not to worry about anything. Something that we need in a time when we worry about the economy, terrorism and whatever else.

The disciples see the opposition that the pharisees have against the Lord; and this would be turned on them as well. Jesus assures them that God would take care of their needs in every circumstance.

Matt. 6:25 "Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you will eat or what you will drink, nor about your body, what you will put on. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing?"

Jesus tells the disciples not to be worried about the basic needs of life, about what we will eat or wear. When you do not have very much, food and clothing and shelter are very important. These things are still important to us. We appear to have an abundance of these things right now. We are in the center of the clothing world in Houston? But there may come a time when these things are critical to us.

Then Jesus gives 3 illustrations. Bobby must think up illustrations from time to time. The first illustration is birds. They illustrate God's provision for food; God nourishes the birds. If God feeds the birds (and He does) and the disciples are worth more than the birds); then we conclude that God will take care of their dining needs. This is a fortiori logic. It only stands to reason, if God provides for birds, then He will provide for us.

Matt. 6:26 Look at the birds of the air: they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they?

Matt. 6:27 And which of you by being anxious can add a single hour to his span of life?

Then Jesus speaks of lilies to illustrate. Why do you worry about clothing. Learn that without an effort on their own, the lily is magnificently beautiful. The flower itself is gorgeous; the color; the scent; the way it is formed. God created the lily. He made the clothes. The splendor of the lily is magnificent. This is a metaphor for how God takes care of the outward covering of the believers.

Matt. 6:28 And why are you anxious about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin,

Again, a fortiori reasoning. Clothing is a detail of life; it is protection and cover for the body. God's logistical promises include food and clothing.

God's Provisions for Our Needs

1. Food and clothing are logistical details that the Father always provides for His children.
2. God's logistical grace always provides for us in just the right way; in just the way that we need it and at the right moment. Jesus knows every need that we have.
3. God fulfills our exact needs at the right moment, just as He in His omniscience knows.
4. Maybe God does not fill our needs in the way that we want them filled; we might have a list of what we want and when we want it. But that is not the way that it works. God does not necessarily provide for our needs in exactly the way that we want. He provides exactly what is necessary.
5. The purpose for God fulfilling our needs allows us to execute the plan that he has for us. Beans, bullets and transportation is what is provided for the soldier in combat; and we as believers get exactly what we need in order to fulfill our mission. It is not for wealth or indulgence or any of those other needs. Exactly what we need at exactly the right time for the purpose of what God has for us.

God's provisions are flawless; we get exactly what we need. We do not need to fear the future; be anxious for nothing. What God supplies is exactly what we need. God gives each one of us exactly what we need. Some of us get more things, by way of human viewpoint; but they are exactly what we need in order to carry out His plan. Woe to you if you do not use His provisions to fulfill His plan. God's logistics always work that way.

Once the logistical grace rationale is understood, then we can relax in the divine care and expectation. People too often are too upset over their basic needs. Lots of people have been foreclosed on; and many in the northeast are living in shelters. You do not have to fear those circumstances. God's logistical grace will become more evident to us when we seem to need Him most.

Matt. 6:28 And why are you anxious about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow: they neither toil nor spin, Bobby gave us homework to read about foreign missionaries; and this may help us to better understand what God does and how He provides. Several in Africa: Mary Slessher and Robert Moffatt; and both received logistical grace just to stay alive in front of hostile people to whom they ministered. They had to boil water just to survive.

There were other missionaries that lived through incredible situations. Evangelizing cannibals who wanted to eat him. The Lord provided Someone in Indonesia or Burma. Hudson Taylor in China; Cory Tenboom in the Nazis and she later visited over 60 countries to tell about this.

They faced all kinds of difficulties and God provided. God sent them to very remote and primitive places, and God provided for them everything that they needed to survive and thrive. There are millions of believers in China today because of Hudson Taylor.

If God can take care of those; can He not take care of me?

What we think we lack and don't seem to have and is not immediately forthcoming is for our good. We need to learn to be patient; we need to learn to wait on the Lord and to wait for logistical grace to materialize. That accelerates our spiritual growth. When we receive logistical grace, this not must provides for our needs but shows us what the Lord can do.

Joe Griffin went through the fires of necessity; he studied at Berachah and then went out as a pastor, but he did not live well when in Houston.

Make sure that we are not being disciplined. Even in testing, God provides enough logistical grace for us to get us back on track. He is still there; His faithfulness never ceases; His promises do not stop.

Logistical grace never passes us by or leaves us in the foxhole wanting. There is no more effective means of provision than logistical grace. Man's logistics run out; but God's never do.

Psalm 50:10 for every beast of the forest is Mine; the cattle on a thousand hills; In an agrarian economy, people are wealthy if they have a lot of livestock. God owns all the beasts of the field; and the cattle on 1000 hills are His. God has infinite resources for our supply.

God knows exactly what we need. We just stay in the plan and keep moving. That is how simple it is; and yet we make it so hard. We get so bogged down in our circumstances, that we fail to see what God has already done.

Sometimes we need to look back to see what God has already done for us. "Have a little faith, baby."

Prosperity is also God's logistical grace. Sometimes, that is for His plan for us. Rich or poor; dumb or genius.

Matt. 6:29 yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

The disciples often had problems in the area of faith rest. This is why God gave them the Sermon on the Mount. "Maybe a little teaching might generate some faith in your souls."

When a person does not have enough faith, he worries. The root of all anxiety is unbelief. Lack of trust. Lack of trust in things like logistical grace. When you are worried and anxious, then we have forgotten the doctrine of logistical grace. When you have anxiety, then you have questioned the care of God. That is a problem.

God's logistical grace is always there for us.

Matt. 6:30 But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today is alive and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, will he not much more clothe you, O you of little faith?

We do not look at the great glories of nature; but just the grasses of the field. That which we trample underfoot daily. Grass is so commonplace that it is a very humble plant. Most of us, this is a metaphor. We are mostly in this category. We are not exalted. We're the grass; we are the normal people.

The grass here is used to start a fire in a cooking oven.

Points on the Grass

1. Grass is a metaphor for us. The grass is here today and gone tomorrow. That is a lifespan. That is how it is for all of us.
2. But while the grass lives, it is just as cared for by God as the lily.
3. The grass will never have the splendor of a lily, but even in its commonness and great numbers, not a single blade is forgotten.
- 4.
5. The modest object of nature is just as cared for by God as a more conspicuous aspect of nature like a bird or a lily.
6. Do not think that God provides more logistics to one person as over against another. God provides what we need in each case.
7. Do not become envious of the logistical supply of other believers. We just have other logistics. These are tailored for us in God's plan. Many of us are anonymous Christians, like the grass. However, we are not anonymous to God. No believer is anonymous to God.

In any case, we need to realize that, tomorrow, the grass is dead.

The Grass Is Dead

1. Like the grass, our lives are relatively short. We are a spec in a vast universe and then we are gone.
2. While we are here, we will flourish under logistical grace.
3. Every day is a day that the Lord has made; and every day logistical grace comes into play.
4. Every day that logistical grace comes into play, is a day to relax in the care of the Lord.

Armondo Garcia. Missionary to Costa Rica and Nicaragua.

We are alive to show Who God is. When this is what makes us alive, this is what makes us an ambassador. The Holy Spirit takes this information and makes it alive.

The missionary does not choose the gift. It is not a better gift. It is a noisy gift.

In the process of learning that God loves us, we start learning that reciprocal love. This gives us that courage to tell them; and that is the only reason that we are alive. God never tells us to have a nice day or good luck; we are here to give testimony to the power that we have.

Took about 30 years to decide that he knew enough to take it. When that happened, every detail had been provided.

We all are, in effect, missionaries. We do not belong to ourselves; we have been purchased by the cross. We are not from here; we are citizens from heaven.

We are information centers. He has a little congregation in Costa Rica. The belt of the car belt going on a cliff, and there was only one way to go and that was left. He saw a shop there and he saw; and this shop repairs autos. The owner looks in the back and he saw the old sin nature drawing. "What's that?" And Armondo explains it. And because of this, he has been teaching there 5x a week.

Armondo used to study in Berachah barracks. Max Klein was a guard and Armondo was a milkman; and they got together to study Greek. It's crazy. You're never going to speak it. Hundreds of pastors get information from Armondo. Information center from heaven is what a church ought to be called. For us to communicate, we have to be happy. We have to know. This is why we have a text.

God to a country speaking the language of the country. Armondo is originally from Mexico; and they can hear his accent. They are drawn to listen to him.

God has a purpose; and we as missionaries and ambassadors have to communicate. He will give them 30 hours of doctrine.

When they arrived there; they cried and they developed a program of survival. They remain alive to become an information center.

Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Honduras have doctrine in those countries. We have to relax, and let the plan go.

The plan is perfect; it is beautiful.

A great problem is that spirituality is not understood. We are here at the pleasure of His Majesty, our God and Savior.

Lesson #0354

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

11/15/2012 Thurs

This is truly not the same country that we grew up in. It is truly a foreign thing. Bible doctrine is Bobby's life. When you inculcate and begin to think with Bible doctrine, the world seems very strange.

The Lord has confirmed the concept of logistical grace. We have studied the illustrations of the bird, the lily and the grass.

Now Jesus will present a conclusion from what has come before. This portion could not be more apropos today. It is as fitting today as it was when Jesus was speaking to His disciples.

The lack of anxiety with regards to the basic needs of life is what Jesus is speaking of. This is the faith rest attitude in the life of the believer. This means that we will have no anxiety. If our soul is in turmoil and anxiety is the way that we live, then we are weak in the faith rest drill. Now, this does not mean that we do not succumb to fear and anxiety under some circumstances; but anxiety rules the lives of many people. Many people are ruled by fear; they are concerned about the future.

The logistical grace rationale of the faith rest drill that brings about a relaxed mental attitude.

Jesus Promising Us Logistical Grace

1. In vv. 25–30 Christ has just conferred a promise of logistical grace upon us. This is Jesus saying, “You will be taken care of.”
2. So now He offers a rationale and a conclusion based on that promise of logistical grace.
3. In this little section, Jesus presents nothing less than the faith rest drill for the faith rest life. “How are we going to eat? How are we going to live?” So when there is concern about financial conditions or circumstances under which we live, the believer just needs to think what Christ’s promises mean. They are immutable and iron-clad.

With God, nothing is impossible. He says, “Don’t worry about the small stuff.” So if you begin to worry about the state of our nation; God has a plan. There will be times when we will think, “We are finished.” With the promise of logistical grace, no circumstance is hopeless.

God and Our Destiny and the Faith Rest Drill

1. God is always in control of our destiny. This doesn’t mean that we cannot make bad or good decisions; but God will always be moving us toward the conclusion of His plan for our life. His plan for us is our destiny. He will always direct us toward it.
2. God has us covered logistically. He has meals ready to eat.
3. This faith-reality quiets our fears; that is the purpose.
4. This faith-reality enables us to look past our fears; to look beyond them. When you are afraid, you have trouble seeing over the fence. This drill allows us to look past our fears. If you are afraid, you cannot think.
5. This drill stabilizes our soul and our emotions. When you exhibit emotionalism, that is what fear is. Fear is an emotional sin. Our emotions are going crazy when fear controls us. Our fears can overcome us. There is no faith and no trust in the plan of God.

The Bad News

1. The more you surrender to fear, the more you perpetuate fear.
2. The more you give in to fear, the greater your capacity for fear.
3. The greater this capacity for fear, the greater the power of fear in our life. It begins to take over.
4. When you control fear, then it has no power in your life. That is the objective of the faith rest drill. This is what Jesus is trying to get into the souls of His disciples.
5. The more you increase the power of fear in your life, the more you live under fear; it begins to crush you. When that happens, the greater becomes your failure to learn and to utilize Bible doctrine. You have no way to combat fear. You have no way to control the fear that comes upon you.
6. The more you live plagued with fear, the more you are intimidated by life. That is the opposite of 2Tim. 1:7 God has not given us a lifestyle of fear, but of sound mind.

7. Fear epitomizes human viewpoint. You cannot think with anything but human viewpoint. Fear is an emotional sin. When you are fearing and out of fellowship, how can you think with anything but human viewpoint?
8. Since fear is a component of the emotional complex of sins, it negates thinking, it negates applying doctrine, it negates any ability to function in a crisis. When fear stops you from functioning in a crisis, it is called cowardice. There can be no relaxed mental attitude in the face of fear. That same can be applied to all of us.

When you fall back on your old ways of dealing with fear and emotion, all that does is bring on more anxiety. You pile it on and you project that into the future and you see nothing but disaster. This is a pattern. The only way that you can stop that useless and damaging attitude, is to think of a promise when the emotions begin to arise. You know what presses your buttons; you know when anxiety grabs you by the throat. When it happens; do not react. Take a deep breath. Give yourself about 10 min.; have a word of prayer. Think of a rationale.

When the problem is logistics, there are so many passages that we can claim. It is amazing how the Word of God calms your emotions and redirects your thinking. The problem is, how do you concentrate? Sometimes, you cannot think; you babble; fear and anxiety does this to you.

Doctrinal Rationales and Thinking.

1. How do you concentrate? You use the promise of God in a doctrinal rationale. When you are afraid, look at this passage. You use the promise of God in a doctrinal rationale. This helps you to defeat your emotions and your fears.
2. What is a rationale? This is an underlying reason or justification why a promise is good.
3. Using a doctrinal rationale is a logical process; it is a mental process of moving from the raw doctrine to Biblical conclusions. You have a promise and that promise brings to mind something. Suddenly you begin to remember. We learn to trust in God because of logistical grace. That little problem at work will be handled.

The Logistical Grace Rationale

1. Logistical grace is a promise that guarantees that God will provide for your basic needs in life. We settled this from the mouth of the Lord Himself.
2. As long as we are on the earth, God will provide everything that we need and just when we need it.
3. Logistical grace is given so that we can fulfill our spiritual destiny on earth. That is the rationale.
4. You know this is true and you believe it in your own soul. Suppose that we call up Bobby and we are afraid and Bobby gives us great doctrinal advice and we know that it is true and we have heard it before. But it is coming from Bobby and not coming out of our own soul. It is no good if Bobby just talks about it. It must come from our own souls. There were courses in seminaries on pastoral counseling.

Doctrinal rationales lead to doctrinal conclusions. If God be for us, who can be against us? If this is God's promise, then he will do it for us. That is a logistical grace rationale.

Faith and Rationales

1. Couple the grace rationale with the faith to believe that it is true; and our fears will abate. Your fears will subside.
2. That faith is developed and it is operative as we mature in doctrine; and we begin to realize His grace and we orient to it. We know grace orientation; and this is logistical grace orientation.
3. Then our emotions will be under control rather than controlling us.
4. We will stop reacting to whatever it is that triggers emotional sins. Once you get use to using the faith rest drill, then fear does not grab you. The same old circumstances which continue to make us anxious, we start to stop it when it begins. We are just relaxed and we just do not realize that we are doing it. When you come up against that which triggers the emotions, then you don't pull the trigger.

You have concluded from a promise and a rationale that there is nothing to fear regarding the most basic needs of life. The point is, why worry. Matt. 6:27 which of you by being anxious can add a single cubit to your lifespan?

Casting all your cares upon Him because He cares for you. Logistical grace rationale.

Application of the Faith Rest Drill

1. When you move through the faith rest drill, you come to the point where you actually believe your conclusion, rather than just repeating it by rote.
2. You may always have or always accept the doctrinal conclusion as true; we know it is true; but as we advance, our faith becomes the reality of our soul. It is the reality and not some recitation of a promise.
3. The faith rest drill takes doctrine from academic to application, so that you find courage, rest and comfort in its truth. You know it is true and you depend upon it. Your resources do fail.
4. After using the 3 stages of faith rest, your mind is stabilized. God's promises do not change based upon our failures or our circumstances. It is always there and it is always available. You know the firm ground that you stand on is God's immutable promises, and you know how you fit into His plan.

We will see God take care of our problems and our needs.

Conclusions

1. God takes care of the flowers and the grass of the fields that exist for only a few moments of time.
2. How much more will God take care of His children during the span of their lives?

3. What is the result for us? Our confidence and our security are in Him. People seek security in so many ways, with money and relationships. There are all sorts of ways that people find security. Security in what the government provides for us. That is the biggest joke of all.
4. We have no anxiety with logistical grace flowing to us from God.

Christ will now contrast the attitudes of the believer and the unbeliever. It is an amazing contrast.

Lesson #0355

Matt. 6:32 Life of Christ

11/18/2012 1Sunday

Jesus assures the disciples that everything that they need for their lives and for their future ministry, God will provide. The concept is logistical grace. They needed to have no anxiety about food, drinking, clothing, shelter or economic needs. These are the things which most people are anxious about. Logistical grace will always be forthcoming from an every-faithful Father.

Jesus presented the faith rest drill to bring a believer through any adversity or to handle any need. No situation of physical deprivation is hopeless. We may have faced various catastrophes. Think of the persons who float in the ocean without food or provisions. This happened to Jonah and to the apostle Paul. Being out in the empty, open ocean, and not having any sort of relief; this would usually bring fear into the souls of most people. These are panic and claiming a promise will calm our fears. Then we make an application of a particular doctrine, such as logistical grace. So, there is Jonah floating on the ocean. A living submarine was provided; some sort of fish that God prepared. That is logistical grace.

Paul was on a ship sailing in the Mediterranean past the island of Malta, and there was a storm for several days. They dropped anchor that they thought was a safe place. They were going to have to abandon ship; so they decided to kill all of the prisoners. Paul was rescued by a centurion who had befriended him. Paul, under these circumstances, even though he knew he might be killed, calmed the fears of the sailors with him; and he has to be calm first. Paul applied a rationale: an underlying reason from doctrine. "If God wants me alive; if He wants me to survive, then God will give me what is necessary." God still provides rescue; He provides logistical grace.

They applied a rationale and they began to sing hymns, despite having their legs locked into stocks. It was God's plan for them to be delivered. We have no excuse for not applying a doctrinal rationale. Relax and enjoy the ride, even if it is not very comfortable. Relax and see where it goes. Even if there is disaster, it will be for our benefit. Stop watching tv for fear of what will happen to you. Watch it; enjoy it. Ask yourself, "I wonder why this or that is happening?"

Paul and Barnabas ended up in prison to learn logistical grace and to reach the jailer in their prison. God is always in control of every believer's destiny. He has us all covered logistically as long as we live. If God provides logistical grace, then how can we not relax? Why worry? You need perspective; God's plan gives us perspective.

When you move through the faith rest drill, you will come to a point where you believe the doctrinal conclusion. You must draw a conclusion; you must come to a reasonable rationale that is applicable. This is what we are striving for. That is what we are looking for.

With the faith rest drill, we can move on with our lives, regardless of the adverse circumstances. Relax and have the capacity to enjoy everything in our lives. Logistical problems are of little consequence in accomplishing the plan of God in our life. Logistics come from God's infinite wealth. He owns the cattle on a 1000 hills. It is all His; how can He not give it to us?

Matt. 6:32 For the Gentiles seek after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all.

Gentiles as another word for unbelievers; those unrelated to God. The things here are the necessities of life. Food, clothing, drink. The main verb is to see. Epizêteô = to search for, to seek for. This does not mean that you are just looking throughout your house for this missing thing. The NASB adds in the word eagerly, which helps to explain this verb.

Verb: epizêteô (ἐπιζητέω) [pronounced ep-EED-zay-TEH-oh], which means, 1) to enquire for, seek for, search for, seek diligently; 2) to wish for, crave; 3) to demand, clamour for. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #1934.

They often become obsessed with their search. That is the hope of their search. Why do you think that people are dependent upon government handouts? It is their only logistics; it is the only thing they can depend upon.

God provides us exactly what we need. When you get logistics, you do not squander it. "I went through what You gave me and I am all out again." Logistical grace are for God's purposes and not for our own purposes.

Don't get legalistic about all of this. Regardless of the abundance that God gives you; it is not wrong to enjoy what God gives you or to enjoy the things which God gives you. Bobby saw weird attitudes when in seminary. They reveled in living in poverty. Money can also serve God in many ways. This does not mean that you give it all away. You can enjoy it; just keep your priorities straight. It is so easy to get things backwards and to fall into the trap of the gentiles.

The problem in this country is, everyone is out for themselves. Over 50% of our nation want to be taken care of; and they do not care about what it costs the nation. That is the wrong priority. Look out. Discipline will follow if you have that kind of attitude. God has a plan for you and He will bring you back to the point where there is no peace. Do you think that God put you on this earth to have a good time? Take whatever you can get and have a good time with it. Do you think that God wants you to diligently seek whatever it is that you want? Seek God's plan for your life and you will never lack the resources to fulfill that plan or mission. Treasure on earth is not your priority. There is not enough money or details of life to satisfy your or to give you what it is you want. There is never enough. There will never be enough scratch for your itch. This is self-induced misery. When you are out of the plan of God, it is self-induced misery.

One way or another, God will take care of you. The discipline even is for our benefit.

Matt. 6:32 For the Gentiles seek after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all.

Lesson #0356 Philip. 4:12–13 Matt. 6:32–34 Life of Christ 11/18/2012 2Sun

Matt. 6:32 For the Gentiles seek after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all.

the second half of this verse are some of the greatest words that we can hear. The unbelievers strive for these details of life; but God knows exactly what we need. God knows that we need all of the details of life that are necessary for us.

God's Logistical Grace Provision

1. God knows exactly what we need and how much we need. There is no question. God is omniscient in eternity past. He knew what we need in eternity past. The fact that we are alive now is proof of this.
2. So we in this life meet a faith rest conclusion; that God is always faithful in providing for our needs.
3. Even though our condition may not be exactly satisfactory to us; it may not fit the description that it is what we have become accustomed to; but it is always sufficient for our needs at that moment in His plan. Many times, we know the direction that we go in, given what logistics God has provided. This is true for us and we may want God to give us more; but God gives us what we need; always. Using faith rest, our attitude fixes on His promises.

We may not be in a difficult circumstance; we may not be living under great adversity; but if we are in that position, chasing the proverbial dollar and the details of life. Remember God gives us exactly what we need. 2Cor. 9:8 And God is able to make every grace overflow to you, so that in every way, always having everything you need, you may excel in every good work. We may have an abundance, more than enough, for every good deed. There is enough and more than enough to produce what we need to produce in the spiritual life. We have everything over and above what we need. This often means that we have the ability to enjoy many of the luxuries in life. With logistical grace, we will have more than enough to serve and glorify God. Building up heavenly treasure is God's mission for us in this life.

We live our lives as unto the Lord. We do what is ever necessary; we have a job and a promotion; but why do we worry about that promotion or whatever...why? God will provide exactly what we need; always.

Along with the logistical grace rationale comes the doctrinal application.

Philip. 4:12–13 I know both how to have a little, and I know how to have a lot. In any and all circumstances I have learned the secret of being content--whether well-fed or hungry, whether in abundance or in need. I am able to do all things through Him who strengthens me.

One day prosperity; the next day, need. In each an every circumstance, I have learned the secret of being in need and going hungry. Paul knew how to be filled and how to suffer hunger.

We all suffer need every once and awhile. We may be a little hungry from time to time, but God still provides enough for us. What Paul learned was the faith rest drill. He knows how to live with humble means and in abundance. He concludes with a relaxed mental attitude during adversity or prosperity.

The gentile has no power that they can work with. The unbeliever worries about these things constantly. If you are out for all the pleasure that you can get; if you are out to get whatever you want but you don't have it; your mental attitude is anxious, angry, fearful; you chase anything that comes along. You are not relaxed. They are worried about life in general. You can do all things through Christ, Who strengthens us.

In comparison to other times and other places, our poverty is so much greater than it is in other places and in different times. God provides sufficiently, in great abundance, for those in the United States. Paul lived when there were no planes, trains, automobiles; no restaurants; no flushing toilets. We have so much. We seem to forget what we have that is so great. God has supplied this nation with everything that we need to fulfill that client nation mission.

Bobby has never asked us for anything. If God wants to shut this church down, He only needs to shut the faucet off. However, God does not tend to shut off the faucet anywhere where Bible doctrine is being taught. Try to find this in Russia or in some third world country. There are those who are teaching doctrine; and those who have every opportunity to do so, and they do not. With doctrine in our souls, we will be satisfied. We will enjoy satisfaction in our souls. You will count your blessings no matter how meager those blessings are. As God provides more, we will have the capacity to enjoy what He has provided for us. He waits to be gracious to us. We can still fulfill God's purpose, as long as we do not lose sight of God's provision.

David depended on God's logistical grace solely and completely. David has no money and few friends; and yet, he wrote wonderful things like Psalm 23. The Lord is my Shepherd; I will not want. We learn to live in the logistical grace that God provides. By using the faith rest drill, God's promises will sustain us.

Matt. 6:32 For the Gentiles seek after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them all.

Matt. 6:33 But seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you.

Do not seek human logistics with a single-minded purpose. The unbeliever seeks what he can find under human power. It is all about him. God says, instead, your first priority is to go after His kingdom and His righteousness.

Our economy is growing so slowly that we could suffer great financial hardship. Our nation is on a steady decline. However, as we decline, people begin to understand that our security is not in the material things that has found in our country. Our opulence could go away overnight. Pray that if we lose these things, that the people come back to doctrine. This is why we are seeing adversity. Adversity is truly a blessing.

There is a lot in the Sermon on the Mount. He is speaking to us about our spiritual life. This exhortation is one to continue to advance toward the objective to advance toward His kingdom and His righteousness.

What We Need to do

1. Live your life in the light of God's promised kingdom. He will fulfill this at a future time; He will fulfill it for us. Live it in terms of what is coming. Drive on, no matter what the opposition. We have God's promises. Short time on earth and a long time in heaven.
2. We move forward to the experiential righteousness, which is the fulfilling of God's plan in our life. Seek His kingdom. The disciples would face an incredible amount of problems in the future. Logistical grace will come through for them just as it will come through for us. What do we have? The filling of the Holy Spirit; the grace apparatus for perception; we have the faith-rest technique, we have our place in the plan of God. When your spiritual life comes first, you will never be lacking what it takes to live it.

This is a promise that we should never forget.

Matt. 6:33 But seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you.

The final conclusion comes in v. 34:

Matt. 6:34 "Therefore do not be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble.

There will be adversity ahead. No question. There is no smooth sailing through life. Do not expect everything to be smooth sailing. Secondly, God promises solutions in times of rough weather. Do not let fear rain on your parade. This fear will escalate into the future. Concentrate on the faith rest drill today and let God handle each day. Live one day at a time. Do not project scenarios of disaster into the future. Tomorrow will take care of itself.

judgment based on whim or favoritism or bribes. No one is to be judged above the law.

2. When government rules based upon the ideologies of one person or by a small group of people or by a bureaucracy, then the rule of law is forfeited. This is occurring in our country today. People are imprisoned on whims or on perceived problems. That is the history of tyranny. Gestapo or government prisons for political prisoners; death camps.
3. Any Christian must be able to make a determination between good and evil. You must be able to discern truth from error. That includes doctrine. The difference between legalism and grace.
4. It is right and correct to decide on whether to intimately associate with another person. You must evaluate that person's character. You ought to do this before marriage. If you lack judgment, then you pay the consequences.
5. Employers have to judge employees; and you must judge, even if you make a mistake.
6. Parents must judge their children.

The pharisees judged all others and compared all others to themselves. Do others keep the law as we do? Are they as righteous as we are?

The pharisees superseded the Law with their own judgments. No one could live up to the pharisee standards. They gave themselves a pass; a free ride from judgment. You must judge yourself, always; evaluate yourself first. We are quick to judge everyone else first. You need to look at yourself.

The pharisees have become gods, judging others but not judging themselves. They usurped the prerogative of God Himself. You have everyone else's number but your own.

3 Points about Judging

1. By judging others, not in the legitimate way, the one doing the judging seeks to elevate himself while tearing down others.
2. In effect, you are judging yourself superior and the ones you are judging are inferior to you (in your own mind).
3. There is no compassion or mercy in those who are judgmental. If they will gossip and malign you and make up stuff even, there is no compassion or mercy in that soul. You let the Lord handle those others.

Have you been judged unsuitably by someone who doesn't know you or has made a judgment based on little or no information? A person who seeks to take you down a notch or assign to you motives that you do not have. We have all been the butt of unfair and abusive judgment and maligning.

A Biblical example of hypocritical judging of a person.

Jesus and the pharisees. The incident of a woman caught in adultery.

John 8:3–11 This manuscript is not a part of the original manuscript of John and it was probably a tradition that was added later. Many scholars believe that this incident was an historical one. It was written very shortly after the gospel of John was penned. It would certainly fit into this context.

John 8:3–11 Then the scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman caught in adultery, making her stand in the center. "Teacher," they said to Him, "this woman was caught in the act of committing adultery. In the law Moses commanded us to stone such women. So what do You say?" They asked this to trap Him, in order that they might have evidence to accuse Him. Jesus stooped down and started writing on the ground with His finger. When they persisted in questioning Him, He stood up and said to them, "The one without sin among you should be the first to throw a stone at her." Then He stooped down again and continued writing on the ground. When they heard this, they left one by one, starting with the older men. Only He was left, with the woman in the center. When Jesus stood up, He said to her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?" "No one, Lord," she answered. "Neither do I condemn you," said Jesus. "Go, and from now on do not sin any more."]

This woman was apparently caught red-handed in the sin; but there is a lot of judging which is going on. The men want to do something that is sinful and to get Jesus' approval.

Lesson #0358

John 8:3–11 Life of Christ

11/25/2012 2Sunday

This is obviously a sin...perhaps not in today's standards. This is a great passage. It is not splitting hairs. It reveals a dichotomy between true judging and false judging.

The pharisees recognize that Jesus is a rabbi; but they think He is a misguided and perhaps dangerous rabbi. So they have already judged the Lord Jesus Christ in this way. This could be someone sarcastic. This woman was dragged from her house. Who was watching this house? Whatever it was, they caught this woman red-handed. It is a true fact that she is an adulteress. There is evidence; there are witnesses. The public exposure was cruel and unnecessary. This was a setup. They would use this woman in a cruel way to go after the Lord Jesus Christ. It would backfire. They would try to publically humiliate this woman. They were trying to judge her with ulterior motives.

They would expose their own judgmental thinking. She exposes self-righteousness in them. What she did is sin; and what they did is sin. One sin compounded upon another.

We must always first and foremost evaluate ourselves. We must judge our faults and our own sins; and then we must rebound. Judging others is a total detriment to our spiritual life. It was as if they never sinned in their entire lives. As if they were more deserving of God's favor than others. They were not interested in judging this woman's sins; they really weren't. They were comparing her unrighteousness to their righteousness.

The pharisees judge her, and she is reduced in the eyes of everyone; and they are elevated in the eyes of others. "Look how great I am and how unworthy she is."

They would expose Jesus as a complete fraud; that was their intention. This would make them seem superior to Jesus. They are using this woman in order to get this result.

John 8:3–4 Then the scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman caught in adultery, making her stand in the center. "Teacher," they said to Him, "this woman was caught in the act of committing adultery."

They figured that they knew exactly what Jesus would say. There is only one judgment that Jesus could make. They are waiting and expecting Jesus to be befuddled. But, as usual, they have distorted it. "What will you do with this terrible woman?" This was a trap; this was their ulterior motive. But they had no interest in justice. They were to be judges of the Mosaic Law and they distorted the Law for themselves for their own personal gain.

This is done today, where people use the Law and cite it for their own purposes. We are governed by pharisees, who distort the law for their own benefit.

The pharisees only apply half of the law here; they brought the woman only here. They leave the adulterer out of this. If they brought the man there, it might have been too close to home for them. We see this everywhere. Ignoring or distorting the law in order to push an agenda. It is done here to push one's own agenda and to gain more power. No regard to the letter or intent of the law. This is what the pharisees are doing. They wanted to keep Jewish society under their thumb.

John 8:5–11 In the law Moses commanded us to stone such women. So what do You say?" They asked this to trap Him, in order that they might have evidence to accuse Him. Jesus stooped down and started writing on the ground with His finger. When they persisted in questioning Him, He stood up and said to them, "The one without sin among you should be the first to throw a stone at her." Then He stooped down again and continued writing on the ground. When they heard this, they left one by one, starting with the older men. Only He was left, with the woman in the center. When Jesus stood up, He said to her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?" "No one, Lord," she answered. "Neither do I condemn you," said Jesus. "Go, and from now on do not sin any more."]

Lev 20:10 If a man commits adultery with a married woman--if he commits adultery with his neighbor's wife--both the adulterer and the adulteress must be put to death.

Both the man and the woman are put to death. However, this was not the pharisees judgement. The Law was clear. Both would have been brought. They could have done their own judgment if it was strictly following the Law. There was no equality under their law; that is what legalism does; that is what judging does. The Law is supreme, not those who judge the law in their own way.

The legal confrontation can be explained here.

A Few Points on the Sexual Sins

1. Lev. 20 is a sex code. It is not a complete code covering all immoral behavior. There are a lot of things left out. It is primarily directed toward glaring sexual sins, like incest, homosexuality, adultery, bestiality. These degeneracies. Why are they named specifically? Why did this not include all problems? This was designed by God to prohibit specific prohibitions so that the Jews did not become like their neighbors. God prohibited these sins because they were destructive to society in general.
2. Many of these prohibitions were sexual sins within a family.
3. It becomes obvious as to how serious God views marriage and fidelity. Capital punishment is reserved for the most serious of offenses, which included adultery, homosexuality, incest and bestiality.
4. These are sins against marriage. Nothing is more vital to any people or nation than the safeguarding of marriage and family relationships. We have a great failure in the family in this way in our culture. The family is the bedrock of divine establishment. All of the law breakage destroys families. We are destabilized.
5. Lev. 20 is what is called case-law. These are not general principles, but individual acts. Maximum penalties are assigned to these cases. The actual penalty rarely takes this extreme capital form. What the actual penalty is pretty much unknown. There was possibly very little punishment that actually occurred. They overlooked their own infidelities, Bobby assumes.
6. The violations here are very serious and destructive to God's people and the nation. This is why we have capital punishment for these. These were, in effect, murder of the nation. They were degeneracy and they caused degeneracy. The pharisees wanted Jesus to say anything to contradict their faulty misinterpretation of the Mosaic Law.

"The Law judged this woman, according to them, and she should be stoned. Now what do you think, Jesus?" These pharisees had the arrogance to test the Lord to try to put Him down. Now, can they even execute people? Judgment is always cruel.

Jesus is the perfect God-man Who has never sinned. This is an evil irony. This is the evil of judging; that is what makes it so bad. Evil judging that which is supposed to be evil. Religion judging Christianity. This is what happens when legalism judges grace. It is phoney and hypocritical.

Jesus will grind them into the dirt and they will be exposed and exposed for their hypocrisy. In the way that these pharisees judge this woman, so they will be judged.

Lesson #0359

John 8:3–11 Lev. 20:10 Life of Christ

11/28/2012 Wed

Judging

1. Anytime that you find fault or sin in a person, it is not judging them. We have a tendency to say anything about a fault or an overt sin.

2. When a sin is a known or a verified fact, it is not sin to acknowledge it.
3. When you assign a sinful or evil motive to a person without knowing the facts or knowing the person, just by observation, that is judging.
4. Judging is never a lone, isolated sin.
5. Gossiping and maligning go right along with judging. You are relaying your judgment to others whether true or false.
6. Where gossiping and maligning and judging occur, there are also other mental attitude sins involved; self-righteousness and arrogance, not to mention envy, jealousy, animosity, and desire for approval. They all go right along with judging.

This will be our Lord's point. This was not a part of the original manuscript, but most scholars agree that this was a true historical incident. It is a good example of judging and its evil results.

So here come the most self righteous people who have ever lived. They have a woman in tow who was caught in adultery. They announce it to everyone.

John 8:3–4 Then the scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman caught in adultery, making her stand in the center. "Teacher," they said to Him, "this woman was caught in the act of committing adultery.

Lev 20:10 If a man commits adultery with a married woman--if he commits adultery with his neighbor's wife--both the adulterer and the adulteress must be put to death.

The man and the woman are surely to be put to death, but they brought only the woman to Jesus.

The Pharisees and the Adulteress

1. This omission of the man, who should be prosecuted and judged; but only the woman was dragged in and accused. Leaving out the man indicates that the pharisees had an ulterior motive.
2. The pharisees publically and humiliated this woman in front of a large crowd for the purpose of attacking Jesus. The woman was just a prop. They had already judged our Lord falsely.
3. Their legal posturing reeked of self-righteousness, which is the motive for judging Jesus Christ. They thought Him a false, phoney rabbi and they believed themselves to be far more righteous than Him.
4. In their eagerness to catch Jesus, they exposed their own self-righteousness. The disciples needed to be able to catch this.

The problem in judging; it always seems to expose self-righteousness. It backfires on those who judge. The pharisees condemn this woman's sin. They have no regard for their own failings or their own sins. They did not recognize the perfect of Jesus Christ. They judged that this woman ought to be executed.

Jesus Christ could, in fact, redeem her, and the pharisees as well. Yet, there they were judging Him, just as they judged this woman.

John 8:5 In the law Moses commanded us to stone such women. So what do You say?"

They were using the Law as a trap. They expected Him to answer the only way that they figured that He could. They wanted to know what He thought about executing this woman, and they did this testing Him. They had already judged Him and her in their own minds. Their hostile purpose was to expose Jesus as a false teacher. They wanted to expose Him as a phoney and a hypocrite. They were trying to make it clear that Jesus was not a real teacher of the Law as they believed themselves to be.

They had the arrogance to judge Jesus based on their own hypocritical standards and they judged the Lord of the Law.

Here Is What Is Going on

1. In the pharisees' arrogance, they set themselves up as paragons of arrogance. It was their judgment to execute the sentence.
2. They would judge Jesus as the true law keepers and religious leaders of Israel. They would judge the woman and then judge Christ.
3. They used this woman to find fault with their Messiah.
4. In finding fault, they set this trap to find fault with the Lord. This would elevate themselves in their own minds and in the eyes of the people, who saw Jesus as being a great teacher.
5. For the pharisees, it was a power struggle with the Lord Jesus Christ.
6. Where there is a power struggle, there you also find lying, maligning, false witness, judging; these things are the norm.

Government is not transparent to those being govern; so much is hidden, just like the darkness of the souls of the pharisees. Real policy and decisions are being made are not revealed until they are implemented. Too many would reject them. Too arrogant and too self righteous to care. People think that there will be compromise in this country and we will all be saved. Don't bet on it. It is all about power; it is not about anything else. When you hear lies and maligning and judging, then you know that it is for power; and it goes on all the time.

Such activity is being protected by the press, who are in cahoots with politicians. "If I can get control of the press, I can control this country," said Joseph Gerbles. Adolf Hitler began doing things that the people desired, and they did not care about his agenda.

The pharisees thought that they had found the perfect Catch 22 question. If Jesus said, "Stone her" he would be in violation of Roman law. If he said, "Do not stone her;" He would be violating Jewish law. The pharisees were looking to trip Jesus up; and they would use anything in order to do that.

John 8:6 They asked this to trap Him, in order that they might have evidence to accuse Him. Jesus stooped down and started writing on the ground with His finger.

Jesus knew where they were going. He did not take the bait. Jesus just ignored them and their questions. This must have infuriated these men, who were probably fuming. What was worse for them is, He was avoiding their trap by not answering.

Jesus violated no laws, but devastated them.

The Plot of the Pharisees

1. Not only did Jesus side-step their trap, but He snared them in their own trap. The pharisees were going to trap Him by the Law, and He trapped them.
2. They demanded judgment, putting Jesus to the test.
3. That means that they had judged her guilty already. They had already pronounced punishment. But this was a trap.
4. They had already violated Roman law, even though they did not recognize it.
5. In the judgment and the test, they had exposed their own lawbreaking and legalistic slant.
6. It was obvious that these pharisees did not care about justice in this situation.
7. They were the ones who were detected; they wanted to detect Christ, yet they showed themselves to be crooked violators of the Law and they were publically humiliated by Christ.

John 8:7 When they persisted in questioning Him, He stood up and said to them, "The one without sin among you should be the first to throw a stone at her."

Jesus had stripped them of their pretense and their self-righteousness. The pharisees needed to simply get out of there. So they sneaked out one-by-one.

Christ condemned them using their own motives.

The Pharisees Judged Themselves

1. The pharisees consistently attacked our Lord.
2. In this incident with the woman caught in adultery, they ended up judging themselves; they judged the woman; they came to judge Christ; but in the end, they judged themselves.
3. Jesus will judge them in eternity at the last judgment.
4. They were being judged in the same way that they judged. Ultimately, judging does not bring forth the judgment that they want.

When you attack their power and prestige, then you can expect the worst from them.

John 8:8–9 Then He stooped down again and continued writing on the ground. When they heard this, they left one by one, starting with the older men.

John 8:10–11 Only He was left, with the woman in the center. When Jesus stood up, He said to her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?" "No one, Lord," she answered. "Neither do I condemn you," said Jesus. "Go, and from now on do not sin any more."]

Lesson #0360

Luke 5: Life of Christ

11/29/2012 Thurs

Matt. 7:2 For with the judgment you use, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you.

Lev. 20:10 required that both the man and the woman be judged. However, only the woman was brought forward. Personal judging of others is never about justice; most of the time it is all about injustice. They wanted to use this woman to trap the Lord Jesus Christ. The very type of judging was being accomplished by the pharisees as they judged this woman and as they judged the Lord Jesus Christ.

The pharisees assigned certain motives to Jesus; and they believed Him to be phoney. There were many false messiahs over the years. Such a one threatened the power and authority of the pharisees religious structure. They pharisees had envy and resentment. 1000's were coming to hear Jesus; they were accepting Him as the Messiah.

They wanted to expose Jesus as a phoney. The pharisees were legalistic jackasses and they used this woman in order to get Jesus.

John 8:5 In the law Moses commanded us to stone such women. So what do You say?"

Jesus knew that this was all about a trap. They thought that they had Jesus in a vice grip. "That's the law, so let's go out and stone her;" but if Jesus agreed to that, Roman law prevents them from executing anyone. So Jesus had to violate either Jewish law or Roman law.

Jesus ignored them; He did not answer the question; He avoided their trap by not saying anything.

John 8:6 They asked this to trap Him, in order that they might have evidence to accuse Him. Jesus stooped down and started writing on the ground with His finger.

They kept pestering Him. Jesus turns the tables on these pharisees. There was something that these pharisees had done, and they all knew each other. So, Jesus snared them in their own judgmental trap.

John 8:7 When they persisted in questioning Him, He stood up and said to them, "The one without sin among you should be the first to throw a stone at her."

John 8:8–9 Then He stooped down again and continued writing on the ground. When they heard this, they left one by one, starting with the older men.

So, what does Jesus do in front of this crowd to deal with the woman. He reveals the difference between judgmental legalism and God's grace.

There was another issue here. The pharisees could not take responsibility for their own actions. They lived on their self-righteousness.

The pharisees lost an opportunity to judge themselves and to reconcile themselves with divine justice. They could have been reconciled to God by faith in Jesus Christ. One of them should have realized that, "I am a hypocrite. I have sinned just as this woman has. I need forgiveness as well.

Legalism rejects grace and truth; it rejects Jesus out of hypocrisy. That is the power of arrogance. Don't ever underestimate arrogance. It destroys the lives of those who reject Christ. Anyone who rejects Christ is arrogant. There are many forms of arrogance, but it is always there. There is no one greater than themselves. They cannot see grace through their arrogance.

John 8:10 Only He was left, with the woman in the center. When Jesus stood up, He said to her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?"

The Lord and the Adulteress

1. The woman calls Jesus "Lord" meaning that she was a believer in the Lord. She looked at Him and said, "Lord." She understood that she was in need of the grace of God. A few seconds before, she was about to be stoned. She knew herself to be an adulteress. She showed a recognition for God's grace. When you recognize your need for something outside yourself, the next obvious step is to accept someone else.
2. Our Lord did not now condemn her for her sin of adultery. He did not say, "You filthy adulteress, what are you doing?" Instead of condemning her, He forgave her. Adultery does not condemn you. No sin condemns you. She was a believer and she would not be judged by the Lord then or in the future.
3. Ironically, she had infinitely more righteousness than the pharisees, even though she had been caught in adultery. As a believer, she had the righteousness of God. \
4. What can she do now? She can rebound and live the Christian life. Believers move on in the Christian life. Name your sin and move on. That was our Lord's admonition to her. Move on with the spiritual life, in other words.
5. Jesus sent her on with this warning: "From now on, sin now more." Adultery in itself is not the issue here. The greater sin is arrogance of the pharisees. No person has righteousness before God, unless they exercise faith in the Revealed Member of the Trinity.

John 8:11 No one, Lord," she answered. "Neither do I condemn you," said Jesus. "Go, and from now on do not sin any more."]

So, what exactly does Jesus mean?

Sin No More

1. Jesus did not say, "Never sin again." She and all believers has sin natures after salvation and we all sin; and she would sin again.
2. Jesus did not condone the sin.
3. Jesus did not overlook the sin. God cannot overlook sin.
4. Perfect righteousness cannot overlook sin.
5. Jesus commended the means to combat sin, which so easily besets all believers.
6. Jesus gave her the solution for all sin in her life. Heb 12:1–2 Therefore since we also have such a large cloud of witnesses surrounding us, let us lay aside every weight and the sin that so easily ensnares us, and run with endurance the race that lies before us, keeping our eyes on Jesus, the source and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that lay before Him endured a cross and despised the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of God's throne. The race that we are running is our lifetime. We are in a race with death. We must run with patience. This is a distance run; it is not a sprint.
7. "Go your way and sin no more" was an admonition for this woman to advance in the spiritual life.
8. The sin that so easily besets her would control her life less and less. As you advance spiritually, your sins cuase you less trouble. They crop up less often.
9. Our Lord's command to this woman was to patiently progress in the spiritual life. You will not have perfect righteousness; but the sin nature will control you less and less as you advance.

This is the kind of judging that Jesus was speaking of in Matt. 7:1–2

Mat 7:1–2 "Do not judge, so that you won't be judged. For with the judgment you use, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you.

Closing Points

1. The judgmental believer who maligns and gossips is unforgiving; and he testifies to his own arrogance and his own self-righteousness. In maligning another, you are not testifying to God's grace but to your own self-righteousness.
2. If a self righteous person demands perfection of others, his own imperfection is inspired by his own hypocrisy.
3. The self righteous believer will be disciplined for his arrogance self-righteousness.
4. Whatever sin you attach to another believer, you receive divine discipline for that sin. You do not want to assign sins and gossip and malign other believers. What you can measure out to others is nothing compared to what God will measure out to you.
5. Lack of mercy and grace orientation, for the believer who insists on unmitigated justice for other believers. When you judge others, you are promoting your own self-righteousness. You commend yourself while tearing others down. If there is criminality involved, that is not a subject for discussion; it is for investigation and prosecution by legal authorities.

6. In your gossip and bias, you poison the view of others toward that other person. You are trying to elevate yourself. In this way, you have tainted them. If that person is guilty of recurring sin, then Jesus handles this problem with discipline.

To the extent that you are judgmental and legalistic, you will not advance to maturity. Self-righteousness keeps you from grace orientation. If you do not understand grace orientation, the only other way that you can go is legalism.

Lesson #0360

Matt. 7:1–2 Life of Christ

12/2/2012 1Sunday

Bobby is struck by the humanism and materialism all around Berachah. There is this contrast.

Our subject has been judging; the sin of judging. When God calls something an abomination, then we need to pay attention to these things. Judging is one of the 7 worst sins. One of them is a false witness who utters lies. Uttering lies is a representative sampling of verbal sins. It is this pervasive sin that is the subject of Matt. 7:1–2

The judging always leads to slandering and maligning. Christians are not immune to this problem. One of the early problems in churches is judging, maligning and gossiping about other people.

A motive can be assigned to the one who does the judging. It is not a good motive. Their motive is self-promotion and self-aggrandizement. Self-righteousness and self-centeredness. Arrogance is the basic mental attitude sins from which all other sins are spawned.

This is a divider of people; this is one of the fastest ways to make enemies in this world. It is never just; it is always unjust. The judgmental person needs to be aware that judging others causes great repercussions. God uses punishment to deter your sin. It helps us recognize what sin is in our own life. If you are judging, you will be judged.

Matt. 7:1 "Do not judge, so that you won't be judged.

Do you want to inflict pain on others? Then it is coming right back on top of you.

Matt. 7:2 For with the judgment you use, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you.

No one gets away with judging or with sin. No one gets away with judging other people. You may get away with it for a time, but you never get away with anything before God. God is always aware of your judging.

God protects His Own from the scourge of the tongue. Doubly-so for the pastor who gets maligned and judged. Bob was judged over and over, usually by people who did not know him.

In the past, if you were judged, you may have been involved in retaliation; spreading rumors and telling lies about them. The Lord says we need to relax about this and to let God deal with it. Misery and discipline are headed your way.

Those who wanted to stone the adulteress woman, would have deserved stoning themselves for the sins that they committed. They had refused to judge themselves in the face of their own self-righteousness.

The Lord's command not to judge others does not mean that you are blind to the faults of others. This is an exhortation to grace orientation; to graciousness toward others.

We must judge ourselves; not others; this is our #1 priority. That is the forerunner of rebound and spiritual advance. Judging can be a mental attitude sin as well as a verbal sin.

The principle is, do not judge the motives and the actions of other believers that we do not know.

The legalist is always prone to judge the grace oriented person. Gal. 4:29. If you are advancing spiritually, just know that this will happen. It is to be expected. Judging others can lead to retaliation on your part, and that means that you have the problem.

It can be painful if you have a best friend who judges and maligns you. But you need not go after that person. You do not need to return the favor. You will be blessed for that.

People get all fouled up as to what constitutes judging or not. There is true evaluation which is authorized by the Bible; and there is the sin of judging. We are not to be blind to the faults of others. There is a line to be drawn between sinful judging and legitimate evaluation.

Legitimate Judging

1. Pastors or those in church authority who have the duty to evaluate others under certain circumstances. 9 years ago, members of the nominating committee had to evaluate the qualifications of the pastoral candidates. That was their job. They then presented their candidate to us for a vote. Decisions involving church discipline are necessary from time to time. Church discipline is terribly misunderstood. There have been incidents of church discipline at Berachah. It is the realm of the leadership of Berachah to make such these decisions. However, there must be a separation from evil. Paul told the Corinthian church to separate from incest, a man in the congregation who was involved in incest. This is not a sinful sort of judging. This is to keep a congregation separated from evil. Sometimes we have to separate from that which is destructive to us. It is a decision that must be made. When a formal separation is necessary, which does happen from time to time. It has happened even during Bobby's tenure. This was never done through heresy or gossip. This is when a person in the congregation poses a physical or spiritual threat to others. This is entirely legitimate. If you are in a position of authority in some area of life, you may find yourself making this kind of a decision.

2. All believers must judge man-inspired systems. Humanism, socialism or anything else that is a part of the cosmic system. When you recognize it, you must avoid it. We, as citizens, can speak against evil. Speaking against evil means that we can become evil. Humanism is a great enemy of the spiritual life.
3. Bosses, supervisors, those in personnel have the right and the duty to evaluate the competence, work habits and job performance of those under them. In writing educational or employment recommendations, honest evaluation is necessary.

We do not set ourselves up as judges as if God, able to judge the thoughts and actions of others.

Illegitimate Judging

1. We must not judge the motives based upon actions which we have observed.
2. We have no right to judge or to evaluate that which is not conclusively confirmed in the life of another.
3. Confirmation cannot come through heresy and gossip.
4. Even when motives are confirmed, tread very lightly. Even if you evaluate someone correctly and that evaluation is not good, it can easily become judging. You have to be careful about judging someone publically.

Lesson #0362

Luke 5: Life of Christ

12/2/2012 2Sunday

In Berachah Church, evaluations had to be made about problem people and problem circumstances.

Making such evaluations are not made lightly in Berachah. Always, in any evaluation that we make, where problems present themselves, where we can take some personal action, tread lightly. Leave the justice of God to work in the lives of others.

Some people can be driven away from doctrine. That is not the purpose of this church. We can overlook some faults. We do not overlook them when they are dangerous to our physical life or spiritual life. Always leave room for the justice of God. God does not need our help when it comes to disciplining other believers.

How do you contain the illegitimate judging of others and how do you know when you have crossed the line? The Scripture cuts right through this. How do you contain this illegitimate judging. You do it by your own motivations. The Scripture judges the thoughts and intents of the heart. You must leave other people to the motives and actions of others.

What has Bobby taught so many times? Impersonal love. This does not impugn the motives or the actions of others. Don't take on self righteous censorship of the thoughts and intents of the hearts of other people. Particularly when those actions are in the past and not in the present. You cannot hold that past against them. That is a continuing bitterness and implacability against someone else. Allow them to grow spiritually without your interceding without you becoming a stumbling block to them and to others. Forget the past; look to the present and to the future. There is nothing in the past that is important for you to judge.

Remember that we all have faults and we must personally handle our own faults. If you have the time to handle everyone else's problems, then you have too much time on your hands.

When Bobby is informed of criminal activity, then they are bound to inform the authorities.

Judge Yourself

1. You must always be a critic of your own thoughts and motives and actions, based upon the Word of God. It is based upon Bible doctrine in your soul.
2. You must evaluate yourself in order to rebound and to advance spiritually. Those who fail to evaluate themselves become very self righteous. When you don't see any problem, you are less inclined to rebound. You must learn, based upon the doctrine in your soul, to evaluate yourself.
3. That self-evaluation is what you must concentrate on for your own good. When you find yourself judging someone, turn to yourself and say, "I'm judging" or find the fault in yourself, rebound and move on. Forget about other people that you observe that you do not like. Make room for the justice of God. God handles it so much better.
4. Leave judging the intents and heart of others to God. Heb. 4:12
5. The greatest correction of fault and sin comes from one's own conscience, which is developed through Bible doctrine. Lack of integrity is a lack of conscience. It is self-righteousness. That conscience is directed by Bible doctrine and by divine discipline. So God lays a little discipline on you so that you apply that doctrine. Divine discipline always occurs when there is illegitimate judging. That is the impact of Matt. 7:1-2.

Divine Discipline on Your for Judging

1. When you take to judging others, you bring terrible discipline upon yourself. Discipline is a deterrent; that is what it is designed to be.
2. You will get divine discipline for the sins of intolerance, arrogance and the sins of the tongue. When you begin to hurt; it is not that you are unlucky; first think about, is this divine discipline. This is the impetus to evaluate yourself.
3. You take on the discipline of those whom God judges for your sins and reversionism. You get the discipline for the sins of those you are judging. The exact opposite of what you want to occur in judging occurs. They don't get it; you do.
4. You will perpetrate self-induced misery. In the judging, you are consumed with mental attitude sins, which translates to a miserable life. You cannot have those mental attitude sins in your soul and be happy. Those are miserable sins to foster. You are hurt much more with these sins. It is exactly the opposite. You will be consistently out of fellowship.

5. You get a triple-dip of pain. Self-induced misery, judgement for the sins of the other person, As a believer, you become very, very small.

The course of history has been changed many times because of the slights and judgments of others. In the military, there has been a failure to support or to help out. Battles and nations are lost for just that reason. If we could only see what is going on in Washington today. Just backbiting, backstabbing, jealousy, resentment. It is all there. If you are involved in that, you will suffer from your constant anger, implacability and hatred. Leave justice to God. How long can you hate a person and feel good? Every time you see that person, you relieve that hatred. If you compare your past with all the implacability, you will come up and kiss Bobby? But it is not Bobby; it is the Word of God. It is because of this judgmental pattern in some people's lives, they cannot renovate their thinking and see themselves in the grid of doctrine. They always get sidetracked by something else, like their own implacability. In their ignorance of doctrine, they do not even know why they suffer. They do not get it. They cannot evaluate themselves; because that requires doctrine in the soul. Renovate your thinking. You may lose your hatred of politicians or your hatred of the wealthy.

We are not in competition as believers with one another. Used to be a microphone set up in front of the church for Thanksgiving testimonies. Your old judgmental attitude is removed with the correct thinking. Uncorrected failures bring more failures and more discipline.

We will never deal with the amount of judgment and anger that the Apostles put up with. If they handled it using Bible doctrine, then we can handle it as well.

A Couple of Tips to Preclude Judging and Maligning

1. Recognize the cause of judging in your soul. Anger, resentment, jealousy, approbation lust; and those things in your soul lead you to judge, that makes the judgment wrong.
2. Symptoms of judging: backstabbing, judging, maligning.
3. Rebound those sins quickly.
4. Focus on the doctrine that you know. Focus on the doctrine of the terrible discipline that you will get for these sins. Leave the judging alone. Realize that you do not need to make yourself miserable.
5. You must always advance spiritually. That is the solution for all of these problems.
6. You must develop grace orientation. Humility is its by-product. This precludes self righteous arrogance. It precludes mental attitude sins and verbal sins that get you into deep trouble.
7. Develop virtue love; especially impersonal love. This is the way to live the spiritual life. It brings an attitude and a tolerance for others. Virtue love precludes finding other people offensive. Your standards, if based on mental attitude sins, are lower than those who you are judging. That is hypocrisy which breeds self-righteousness.

8. Continued spiritual advance is the solution to controlling all sin, including judging. The more you advance, the less sin controls your life. To sum it all up, advance in the spiritual life.

Lesson #0363

Luke 6:37–40 Life of Christ

12/5/2012 Wed

We are continuing our study of the mental and verbal sin of judging.

Luke 6:37 "Do not judge, and you will not be judged. Do not condemn, and you will not be condemned. Forgive, and you will be forgiven.

The judgmental person is always destructive to others and to himself. If he is judgmental about someone else, he will certainly be that way about you at sometime in the future. There is this anger and hatred toward the target of their judging. If you are going to judge, then you are going to be judged. The judgmental person never gets away with any of that.

All of that judging will be measured back on him in terms of discipline. So judging is not a good thing for anyone associated with it. So you must preclude judging and maligning from your own life. You can control yourself.

How do you deal with this when you have this as a weakness? All you have to do is run across someone that you do not like. You rebound quickly; you keep short accounts.

Recall that, if you judge, you will be judged; and there are no loopholes; you do not get off on a technicality. The rationale that Bobby gives us becomes a deterrent if you remember the pain of punishment. Punishment is a deterrent.

Capital punishment is necessary and taught throughout the Bible. It certainly stops the criminal who gets punished; he never does anything again. Capital punishment is a part of divine establishment.

Humility is the mental attitude to have. With spiritual advance comes one of the great problem solvers. Virtue love. However, there is an attitude of tolerance that comes with that. When you are a sensitive person, you will be offended by so many things. As you grow to spiritual maturity, you will lose that sensitivity. You will become less likely to be offended by everything that everyone says that you do not like.

When you develop spiritual skills, you learn to mind your own business and you leave things up to the Lord. In that way, you might avoid divine discipline. You also avoid the judging and maligning which returns to us as divine discipline. Let God do all of the correcting.

Bible doctrine is profitable for reproof, correction. You do not need to be the instructor in righteousness. You do not need to straighten anyone else out. Give, and it will be given to you.

Luke 6:37 "Do not judge, and you will not be judged. Do not condemn, and you will not be condemned. Forgive, and you will be forgiven.

Luke 6:38 Give, and it will be given to you; a good measure--pressed down, shaken together, and running over--will be poured into your lap. For with the measure you use, it will be measured back to you."

This is the positive aspect of this? Judging reflects an attitude of legalism every time. V. 38 represents the standard. If you judge, it comes back to you in kind; but if you give, then it returns to you in kind. When you give grace, you get back grace in return.

The illustration is a grain as a commodity being bought and sold. There was a certain way; a certain method that grain was purchased in a market place. There was a method by which it was measured out, which allowed the buyer to confirm what he is purchasing. The buyer knows exactly what he is getting.

The ancient method includes grain being poured out of a container. It is in a container that is poured out, and then it is shaken down in whatever container the buyer is using. It is pressed down to make certain that the buyer gets his proper amount. The excess ends up in your lap, which is probably an outer garment worn by the buyer which catches the grain. The garment itself becomes a container. There is a fold over the belt which could be a large pocket and that pocket could hold a specific amount of grain or whatever.

The buyer is assured that he is getting the proper amount. The seller is giving a little more grain than is required in order to satisfy his customer. He keeps good relations with his customer in this way. Honest Abe. He has given a good, full measure and then some.

A full measure will be returned to one who pours out liberally. The one who sells the grain is the giver and the one who gives, gives liberally. He is not stingy in the amount that he pours. That is the running over of the grain. One might call this a tip; giving over and above what is required in the sale. The liberal amount of grain poured out represents graciousness in others. This is the opposite of judging. It is graciousness with returned graciousness.

Explaining V. 38

Luke 6:38 Give, and it will be given to you; a good measure--pressed down, shaken together, and running over--will be poured into your lap. For with the measure you use, it will be measured back to you."

1. The one who does the liberal pouring is being gracious to the buyer.
2. The illustration represents giving graciously from one person to another; not judging them. This person is grace oriented.
3. In this analogy, someone who is in need is given something over and above to satisfy that need. Bob was the kind of man who would give over and above that which was necessary. He was the best tipper anywhere. He gave the gospel and then related it to grace. When you are gracious and grace oriented, it comes back to you as grace.

4. Generous giving is returned in kind.
5. That is what it means by your standard of measure, it will be returned to you over and above. People want to be parsimonious and stingy to save what they have. Bobby has seen his own father the exact opposite.
6. Whatever you give to someone else, must be a manifestation of grace orientation. How many give to a charity in order to write it off? That is not grace oriented giving. There is a furor in Washington about taking away your tax deduction for giving.
7. It is the gracious attitude that will be rewarded. It is not the parsimonious attitude. Legalism, self-righteousness receives the full measure of recompense.

Luke 6:38 Give, and it will be given to you; a good measure--pressed down, shaken together, and running over--will be poured into your lap. For with the measure you use, it will be measured back to you."

Grace Oriented Life

1. The reward Bobby is talking about is an eternal reward; it is building up heavenly treasure.
2. What will be measured out to us as a reward in heaven, is commensurate with how we treat others in grace.
3. How we treat others in grace with the motivation of grace orientation, is none other than divine good. This is rewardable in heaven. Taking from others is legalism; giving to others is grace. You can talk to someone about grace orientation until you are blue in the face. Unless they see it, they often do not get it.

Grace orientation is a great way to live; it is a happy way to live. It is miserable to live in a state of judging others all the time, and gossiping about them. Grace orientation has all kinds of blessing which goes along with it.

Bobby is not talking about government payments; he is talking about gracious giving. No believer ever loses by being gracious. A believer loses grace when he is grudging and parsimonious.

Jesus will now give His disciples a parable to continue this line of grace and judging.

Luke 6:39–40 He also told them a parable: "Can the blind guide the blind? Won't they both fall into a pit? A disciple is not above his teacher, but everyone who is fully trained will be like his teacher.

Two parables to explain the pharisees. They were supposed to be teaching the Law; that was all they were supposed to do. Bobby's duty before the Lord was to teach doctrine. In this analogy, they are blind teachers who teach blind students. No student goes beyond his teacher.

Good instruction is necessary in order to grow spiritually. Their followers follow the blind instructor and they are groping about in the same way.

Judaism today is still a religion of legalism. They have no clue about their rituals. They just go through the motions. That is all that they do. They are groping in the dark of legalism.

Unfenced quarries where a person could stumble into and fall to their death. Bobby was near Tombstone, AZ. There are old silver mines all over there with barbed wire around them. But this was not done in Palestine; they did not even mark them. They fall into such a pit and die. Blindly falling into the pit of legalism. Neither one sees the pit of grace. When a teacher is blind with no knowledge, his students cannot progress beyond him. They are only as bright as the teacher who teaches them. This is what is wrong with many churches in America today; there is no light.

The party may be over in this country. It is because there are believers in Jesus Christ with no light. They have teachers with no light.

Lesson #0364

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

12/6/2012 Thurs

The pharisees produced legalistic followers and Jesus produced grace followers.

Luke 6:41 "Why do you look at the speck in your brother's eye, but don't notice the log in your own eye?"

βλεπω is looking at someone and noticing something which is insignificant. This is a metaphor for some sin or some perceived sin in the life of another believer. Καρφος = a piece of straw. This is whatever sin that is seen and judged. This may or may not actually be occurring. This may or may not be a sin; and it is the legalist who blows everything out of proportion. But it is just a speck; just a little splinter.

The Speck and the Log

1. The brother's speck of sin is not perpetuated as carnality or as reversionism.
2. But this little spec is insignificant in comparison to the one who is doing the judging.
3. The speck of sin is not a way of life for the one being judged. There is sin and there is sin. The perpetuated sin is the log in the other's eye.
4. This sin does not interrupt the brother's advance. Rebound brings everything back.
5. The one with the speck rebounds quickly and moves on, which is how a believer should handle any sin, whether big or small. Sin is sin in the sense that it takes us out of fellowship. This is a perpetuated sin. In comparison, the sin of the one doing the judging is a log.

The Judgmental Person

1. Log indicates a much greater problem.

2. The judging person has carnality to the point of reversionism.
3. The judgmental believer prolongs his carnality by his self-righteous judging.
4. Judging is a mental attitude sins that perpetuates itself. It has a life of its own. When you go down the road of judging other people, it is hard to get off that road. You are building yourself up; you can only build your own self-esteem by tearing others down.
5. When you go down that road of judging, that continues with a host of other sins.

One brother is being judged for a small splinter in his eye. The legalist continues to judge that splinter, perhaps even because it is bothersome to him. You must not go after somebody else's area of weakness.

Log and the Believer's Eye

1. In the judgment of this believer with a log in his eye; his legalism and his hypocrisy are in glaring evidence. They can be spotted from a mile away.
2. His persistent carnality, which is the log, is the consistent judging by someone else.
3. Consistent judging means consistent sins; consistent sins means consistently out of fellowship.
4. Such a person has a host of problems; a log in his eye. If you are advancing in the spiritual life; if you are filled with the Holy Spirit for a period of time, then some legalist will go after you.
5. The judging brother is a full-fledged hypocrite.
6. He cannot or will not evaluate his own big problem, which is his own log. Therefore, he will not rebound his own sin. He demands that others do not offend his sensibilities or arrogance. It does not matter if he has rebounded and they are moving ahead in the Christian life. You are responsible for yourself and not for everyone else. The one with the log sees himself as being very righteous.

The log does not refer to one great huge sin; it is not the degree of sin being talked about here. All sin is forgiven by rebound and the believer then continues to advance and a continuing problem is handled by spiritual advance. This refers to the longevity of the sin.

This brother is judging something very small; this is the way that self-righteousness operates. This person has recurring mental attitude sins manifested by sins of the tongue.

The Splinter and the Log

1. The legalist observes the splinter in someone else's eye. He always evaluates what is going on with others.
2. The legalist demands that the splinter be removed in order to satisfy his own self-righteousness. They must satisfy their own self-righteousness. No one can meet their phoney self righteous standard. They are a pain. They are miserable slugs.
3. Without recognizing or removing the log in his own eye, he corrects everyone else.

Our Lord is blasting the moral hypocrite.

Summary

1. The one who judges is always concerned about something small in the life of another believer.
2. Quite possibly he is condemning a single sin that may have already been rebounded. The self righteous person has no idea if a sin has been confessed for not. He does not care if that person has moved past that sin or not. Spiritual growth makes nothing but splinters in the believer's eye. The self righteous believer has no spiritual growth.
3. But that one sin is offensive to his self righteous thinking. Why can't believers leave other believers alone. Why cannot some believers just let others move forward on their own. It is self-righteousness that keeps them involved.
4. The judge demands that the brother adjust to his legalistic standards. This is called the church fruit inspector. He is ready to spray the sins, to kill them; and Jesus will address the fruit inspectors.
5. One with the log in the eye will do the punishing; not God. Move over, God, I will straighten this guy out.
6. The judge sets himself up as the arbiter for God; the middle man for God's justice, just like the pharisees. "We judge; therefore, you cannot question our judging."
7. At the same time as he is setting himself up, he utterly ignores any persistent over overwhelming sin in his own life.
8. This is a perpetual carnality which this judgmental person does not handle with rebound. So he nullifies his spiritual growth. He does not grow spiritually. He cannot grow spiritually. He is too busy taking care of everyone else.
9. The one with the log in his own eye cannot overcome his own evil legalism unless he judges himself. His self-righteousness will not allow this. It is too threatening. Arrogance is the basis for so many other sins. It is foundational to many sins in the pantheon of sins.
10. All of this is the occupational hazard of the legalist. He recognizes perfectly the faults and sins of others; but not in his own life.

Too Short

You know everything there is to know about self-righteousness if you are getting all of this down.

1. Instead of dealing with his own problem, the judgmental person seeks to divert attention from himself. He likes being self-righteousness. He judges others to cover himself.
2. The hypocrite judges another's life or failures. We are all subject to the self righteous judger and we all sin. The hypocrite judges another's life or failure while his own life is in complete disorder and he is an utter failure as a believer. Self righteous legalism is great personal failure.

Some Additional Principles

1. You must live your own life.
2. You are responsible only for your life; not for anyone else's. You encourage them to stay in the Word and that will solve their problems.
3. It is not your job to make other believers fit self righteous standards. Manipulation of husbands and wives pointing out faults on a regular basis.
4. To control other's lives, that means the judgmental person is conveniently overlooking their own shortcomings.
5. Every believer must learn to handle for himself the lusts and problems of his or her own sin nature.
6. Every believer must learn to adhere to the standards of God to experiential righteousness developed through living the spiritual life; not trying to conform to self-righteousness. You have no business trying to conform to someone else's self righteous standards. You pay attention to the Bible's standards only.
7. Those are the standards that preclude the log of perpetual carnality. God's standards and adhering to them avoid the log of perpetual carnality.
8. You are responsible for your standing before God; no one else. No self righteous legalist can do this for you. We all stand before God individually.
9. We must avoid the pattern of 1Tim. 5:13.

1Ti 5:13 At the same time, they also learn to be idle, going from house to house; they are not only idle, but are also gossips and busybodies, saying things they shouldn't say.

Idle is being without work; idle hands seek mischief. Idle like those who live off welfare. They come to depend upon government handouts to a point where they no longer want to work. These sorts of people demand support. This refers to idle women who have nothing to do but wander about from house to house and gossip and malign. They are gossips and busybodies, talking about the splinters.

Desperate Housewives is described here.

Matt. 7:3 Why do you look at the speck in your brother's eye but don't notice the log in your own eye?

Matt. 7:4 Or how can you say to your brother, 'Let me take the speck out of your eye,' and look, there's a log in your eye?

Matt. 7:5 Hypocrite! First take the log out of your eye, and then you will see clearly to take the speck out of your brother's eye.

Luke 6:42 Or how can you say to your brother, 'Brother, let me take out the speck that is in your eye,' when you yourself don't see the log in your eye? Hypocrite! First take the log out of your eye, and then you will see clearly to take out the speck in your brother's eye.

Luke 6:43 "A good tree doesn't produce bad fruit; on the other hand, a bad tree doesn't produce good fruit.

Luke 6:44 For each tree is known by its own fruit. Figs aren't gathered from thornbushes, or grapes picked from a bramble bush.

Luke 6:45 A good man produces good out of the good storeroom of his heart. An evil man produces evil out of the evil storeroom, for his mouth speaks from the overflow of the heart.

Lesson #0365

Matt. 7:3–5 Life of Christ

12/9/2012 1Sunday

Matt. 7:3–5 Jesus uses a metaphor. One believer has a splinter and the other believer has the log in his eye. The splinter is a mere tiny piece of wood; the sin is small or insignificant. It is a splinter because this is not a sin that is perpetuated in the life of the believer. It does not affect his spiritual advance. The small sin remains small; not because sin in itself is not a problem; all sin violates the will of God and all sin takes us out of fellowship. This is a sin that is quickly rebounded and the believer keeps on advancing in the spiritual life.

Matt. 7:3 Why do you look at the speck in your brother's eye but don't notice the log in your own eye?

The judgmental believer has the log of sin in his life and he is offended and shocked and he becomes very self righteous about the splinter. He is incensed that another believer would ever commit such a sin. The legalistic judge is consistently out of fellowship; this is a pattern in his life; that is what the log is all about. He is unable to judge himself, but he finds it easy to judge anyone else. A believer who is always judging another cannot advance spiritually.

Jesus did not pull any punches when it comes to various sins. He could get down on people when they needed it. Jesus calls him a hypocrite, but then gives them the solution. Take the log out of your own eye so that you can help the brother remove his splinter.

It is easy not to see yourself as the Lord sees you. Every believer must live his own life before the Lord. When you live your life before God, you do not have time to make sure that everyone else is living up to your standards.

Judging others will never get the result that you hope to get. It drives others away in anger and disgust. The more doctrine that you, as a believer, inculcate, the more you are able to handle your own sins and your own failures. That is what reduces sin to the small splinter. This helps to keep you from committing the same sin over and over again.

We already saw an example of this where the pharisees brought the woman before Jesus to be judged; the adulteress. Rebound, isolate the sin, and move forward. We will have splinters in our eyes and we learn not to let them bring us down; we learn not to perpetuate the same sins in our lives. Look at your own circumstances; do not look at everyone else's circumstances. The person with the log in his or her eye is arrogant.

All too often, the legalist ignores his own self righteous modus operandi; and he seeks to impose his own deficient standards upon others. He becomes the arbiter of divine standards for others.

Many people hate churches because they are filled with fruit inspectors. We will see this problem in the future. The busybody who keeps watch over other believers and their behavior. How are they acting? The fruit inspector is quick to judge others; and he uses many ways to do this—sometimes confrontational, but most often talking behind your back. This is insidious; it is Christian manipulation. It brings fear to other believers who believe that they are not doing enough for God. People are concerned, and they wake up thinking, “Am I really a Christian? What will I do today to show that I am?” The ones being judged put on a facade of Christian behavior while doing something else entirely in private. This causes hypocrisy and legalism. Self-righteousness breeds more self-righteousness; breeds fear; and soon there is a congregation which minds everyone else’s business.

Would fruit inspectors pronounce themselves unsaved because they continue to judge others? That is part of the hypocrisy.

They are hypercritical and extremely nose. They have deep-seated approbation lust. They need to prove they are above everyone else. That is the legalistic mindset. He becomes a Christian bully, trying to impose his standards over anyone that they can manipulate and bully. Nosey and critical people are unhappy. Their mental attitude sins of judging, envy, hostility, jealousy; that is no way to be happy. An attempt to make your own life better by crushing others. Humorless and self-absorbed. Separate from those types of you will be their constant target.

If you are the target of some maligning person, do not seek to justify yourself or to malign them in return. You do not want to be in the same business, which only encourages them. They seek to control the life of others.

Do not try to dish out to the judges that which they dish out to you.

Matt. 7:3 Why do you look at the speck in your brother's eye but don't notice the log in your own eye?

Matt. 7:4 Or how can you say to your brother, 'Let me take the speck out of your eye,' and look, there's a log in your eye?

Matt. 7:5 Hypocrite! First take the log out of your eye, and then you will see clearly to take the speck out of your brother's eye.

Lesson #0366

Luke 6:42 Matt. 7:6 Life of Christ

12/9/2012 2Sunday

Luke 6:42 Or how can you say to your brother, 'Brother, let me take out the speck that is in your eye,' when you yourself don't see the log in your eye? Hypocrite! First take the log out of your eye, and then you will see clearly to take out the speck in your brother's eye.

There has probably never been anyone who has escaped the judging of others. It is an occupational hazard of the human race. We all partake or we are targets at one time or another. There is nothing more aggravating than to find that we have sinned. Where we can handle it by ourselves; but there is often someone right there to judge us. Judging is never to anyone's best interest; it does not help the target or the one who judges. Nor does it gain the reaction it wants. Judging tears down; encouraging tears down. You kick the door open when you decide to judge someone.

There is a place for evaluating other people. There is a difference between judging and evaluating. Bobby has heard people who say, "My religion will not allow me to judge people" when on a jury. When there is evidence and facts presented.

First always comes rebounding. Name the sin you have committed or your mental attitude reaction. It takes you to the same place. When you are judged and get angry, then you will return the favor. Rebound immediately. Then take your eyes off of other people and on to Bible doctrine. All you do is focus on someone else and their sins. Isolate your desire to judge others. You do this by advancing spiritually. You move past the sins of others. Focus on your own life before the Lord. There is so much to that statement. It is not easy. Once you can do that, you can see clearly your own failures rather than the sins and failures of others. This is when you rebound and realize that you are way out of line. You become consumed with what people do and how they treat you. The judgmental person must realize the damage done through spiritual manipulation rather than renovation. The real test is how you handle attacks on your person. He ceases discouraging others. A believer becomes encouraging by other believers. Use the doctrine in your soul and give others wise counsel, who needs it, at the time that they need it. There is a spiritual gift of encouragement; but we all have a responsibility to be encouraging and not discouraging. Judging is always a discouragement. How is it that we can always see ourselves and that we can never see what others are doing right? Get your eyes off other people and grow. It is much better to not retaliate. Have you ever not struck back when struck? Bobby has struck back a few times.

Jesus certainly had the pharisees in mind when teaching this. Jesus recognized their hardened condition.

Do not cast your pearls before swine. Who are the most self righteous today?

Matt. 7:6 Don't give what is holy to dogs or toss your pearls before pigs, or they will trample them with their feet, turn, and tear you to pieces.

There is another group of the self righteous which is not in the area of religion and they seek to manipulate the lives of everyone. When someone tries to manipulate your life, they are arrogant and self righteous.

We are being ruled by self righteous people today. The environmentalists and they are arrogant in their desire to save the planet to get us to be involved in it. We must conform. Or the politicians. They consider themselves as elite and that they know what is best for us. And they will often try to force a tyrannical ideology down your throat. They pass laws, not for our best interest, but to manipulate and to control. They are anti-freedom in their arrogance. There are arrogant, self righteous judges who try to engineer society from the bench. The court system becomes a manipulate tool; thinking themselves as knowing better for us than anyone else. The tyranny of law and the manipulation of society from the court.

There are regulations being composed to govern every aspect of our life. It will be imposed upon everyone except those who make the laws. They are so much smarter and better than we are that they should not subject themselves to the same laws. They are just modern-day pharisees, everywhere that you look.

God's grace was unacceptable to their legalism. Rejection of Christ for your own works-righteousness. Those who do not need Him. They think they will get there themselves. How much works does it take?

All the religious self righteous people out there working their way to heaven and looking down their nose upon us because we do not meet their standards.

Matt. 7:6 Don't give what is holy to dogs or toss your pearls before pigs, or they will trample them with their feet, turn, and tear you to pieces.

These dogs display the opposite of unconditional love. We know dogs to have unconditional love. Lock your wife and a dog in a trunk for an hour and who is glad to see you when you let them out?

The self righteous are dogs who will indiscriminately bite anyone who extends a hand toward them. These pharisees are not open to the concept of grace. They just bite. Such dogs like only their own self-righteousness; not grace. They get their self-esteem through self-righteousness.

Pearls in this context are divine truth. Without the grace apparatus for perception, they cannot understand them. They lack the appreciation of grace. They cannot think with grace orientation. The disciples need to know this desperately. The disciples would need to understand this as they would meet savage and angry men who will sneer at the truth. Sometimes, these legalists would become killers.

The second animal is the swine (pigs). The pigs will trample the pearls of truth under their feet and they will attack and tear you to pieces. It is a waste of time to put doctrine in front of those who are hostile. The doctrine of grace is utterly foreign to their thinking. Everything is all about themselves. Judgmental people are all about themselves. They are self-centered. They are not interested in God or the things of God.

There is a difference between divine viewpoint and the gospel of grace. No matter who the unbeliever is, you give them the gospel; which is the epitome of grace. The Holy Spirit will make this understandable to them. The Holy Spirit make it clear and it works on the soul of the unbeliever, acting on the human spirit making the grace gospel clear, whether legalist or antinomian. God has provided salvation for the unbeliever in grace. People can understand this when the Holy Spirit makes it clear to them. There is nothing that you can do for it, for this salvation. They determine if they accept it or reject it.

Explaining logistical grace or other doctrines make no sense to the unbeliever. That is throwing pearls before swine. The gospel is the only inroad that can be made with the unbeliever. We must be ready to present to the gospel to any unbeliever who will listen.

Matt. 7:6 Don't give what is holy to dogs or toss your pearls before pigs, or they will trample them with their feet, turn, and tear you to pieces.

People who commit gross sins are still people for whom Christ died. Present the gospel to these; they need the gospel more than anything else. The moral and religious person has a more difficult time understanding the gospel and grace than the immoral person does. Present the gospel, whether they like you or not. There is nothing more important than salvation and eternal life.

The first step in witnessing is not retaliating. They see everyone else as not retaliating.

When we face grace, we get to leave the past behind. That is when the grace of God becomes so real in our thinking and in our lives.

Divine Establishment Thinking

1. Both antinomianism and legalism will seek to destroy the believer with Bible doctrine. Therefore, we should be prepared.
2. Therefore, such an unbeliever, your greatest antagonist, should be given the gospel; it is our obligation. They are not designed to hear Bible doctrine, which is for the believer. Those are pearls before swine.
3. Do you try to present doctrinal principles to unbelievers? This verse tells us that it is pointless; they do not get it. It makes no sense to them.
4. Present divine establishment is okay; but for the unbeliever, only the gospel is the true issue.
5. Be discerning of what you say to unbelievers. Can you live the principles of doctrine? Of course. But you do not present them to others.

Lesson #0367

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

12/12/2012 Wed

Bobby gets a lot of letters and mostly they are appreciative. A 78 year old woman who knew some Bible verses and was raised Lutheran. She found out later that her Lutheran husband was an unbeliever who hated doctrine. She heard Bob in 1968 on the radio. She even had to hide these from her husband, who would throw these things out. We live in momentous times in history. Whatever happens, doctrine will sustain us, just as it did for this woman.

We have now moved past the problem of judging. Matt. 7: where Jesus changes the scope of the Sermon on the Mount, and will speak to the believers living the spiritual life. Those who entered Jesus' earthly kingdom as a believer.

Jesus begins a number of very important subjects. He has rejected the pharisees way of praying. They liked to pray loudly, publically, . He will stress the need to be consistent and persistent in prayer. This is the second time He is teaching about prayer.

There are 3 verbs, and they are repeated and indicate that they ought to be done persistently. Whenever you ask, whenever you pray, you will receive an answer. This prayer is reality. We enter into the throne of God and we are speaking to God. We have the hot line to the Heavenly Father. He hears and He answers.

Matt. 7:7 "Keep asking, and it will be given to you. Keep searching, and you will find. Keep knocking, and the door will be opened to you.

Each verb represents a different aspect of petition. The disciples already know that Christ has given them previously about prayers, that they address their prayers to God the Father for something. Petition is asking in prayer for your own needs. We all have personal needs; we all have personal problems of one kind or another. Asking in prayer is a persistent, routine petitioning.

You are not self-centered when you ask for something you need or you ask for help in a problem; you ask for anything. These are personal things; they are for private prayers. Prayer meetings are designed for intercessory prayers. Petition is not for public consumption; nor is rebound.

When you ask, it shall be given to you. But you may complain that you have prayed many times for this or that and you did not get them. If Jesus mandates praying for believers, then clearly, God will respond. God answers prayers according to His will. We pray according to His will. That is the caveat. But this is a guarantee with this caveat. You routinely ask for something and God routinely answers you—every time for the duration of your life.

Draw near with confidence to the throne of grace. We have no reason not to be confident. God answers prayers because He guarantees it. Therefore, why not pray? What is holding you back? Why not request your needs? There is no downside to prayer. There is every good reason for doing so.

There are a lot of people you can talk to and even complain to; and many times, they can really do nothing about it; and many times, they don't even want to hear it. With God, nothing is impossible. Make these requests. God always gives you an answer, even when you make a ridiculous request. God hears. What kind of answer will be given to your requests? Even the wild ones.

God may give you exactly what you ask for. He always gives it within the parameters of His plan. He may say “no” to our request. Getting an answer does not mean that we get everything that we request. Bobby has been stunned how quickly God answers. Sometimes he is shocked. He prays to be able to communicate to them and to get through to us.

There are times when God flat out says “No, no” to our requests. When God says no to our specific request, something will be supplied that will be to our best interest. There will be something forthcoming that will help or will solve the problem. He knows what is best for us in every circumstance.

Never pray, “Why are You letting this happen to me?” Either ask for something or shut your mouth. God has your best interest in mind. Prayer always gets an answer, but with several cautions.

Cautions

1. Your petitions must address those particular circumstances for which there is no direct solution from Scripture. Prayer is not a problem solving device. You have the spiritual life to depend upon; and that comes from the Scripture. That is a problem solving device. Can you pray to ask for solutions? Yes; but do not pray for a substitute for growing in grace. But too many believers make prayer their entire spiritual life. You ask but then you also grow.
2. Do not petition for things outside of God’s will. We know what is outside of His will because we know Bible doctrine.
3. If there are solutions found in the Word of God, then you do not need to petition for these things. What do you know? Example: you are filled with the Holy Spirit for rebounding; so you do not pray to be filled with the Holy Spirit. They do not understand the clear teaching of the Word of God. You do not beg for the filling.
4. Do not make petitions with the wrong motivation. “Oh, God, bring me happiness” which often means, bring me material things. Happiness is being defined in a very narrow, humanistic sense. What makes the rest of the human race happy? You are praying for what other people want. Whether or not a believer is happy depends upon his capacity for happiness from doctrine. Happiness is not circumstance, so you cannot pray for better circumstances. Happiness comes from within; true happiness comes from what is in your soul. That is what real joy is. Many pray for happiness, but they are actually praying for circumstances. Prayer is not the solution under these circumstances. You learn to keep perspective when things are going well and when they are not going well. How many people focus on circumstances and on themselves; and they complain constantly because their circumstances are not very good. Will that make their circumstances go away or get better? Some people are only happy when their circumstances are good for a moment. How fast and how far can you run. John 15:11 “I have spoken these things to you so that My joy may be in you and your joy may be complete.” Jesus had inner peace in all circumstances. His joy is the happiness of God. He is man here and He promises here His joy. When you spiritual life take precedence over adverse circumstances, you possess God's happiness as a constant companion. These things conquer any human unhappiness or problems. Inner happiness generates tremendous capacity for life. Your mental attitude remains stable. You are not praying, "Oh, God, help me now; I need You now." You can actually pray intelligently inside the parameters of God's plan with stability.

Matt. 7:8 For everyone who asks receives, and the one who searches finds, and to the one who knocks, the door will be opened.

Seeking is looking for divine guidance in your life. Not only do you petition for guidance in your life; but you must also recognize an open door toward which God directs you. You ask routinely and you seek His guidance. It is easier to recognize the guidance that God gives in His plan. Too bad so many people pray for guidance, but their request is often self-serving. "I will tell you what I want; then You guide me to it." Even in our stupidity, we are guided by God and sometimes kicked through the goal posts of life. Guidance will always be given to us. This is the exact direction that we need. We also have a part to play. We must take this direction as we come to understand the guidance. Finding guidance is the function of the spiritual life and prayer and God gives the guidance. Ask and you will find. That is the 2nd verb in the instruction that Jesus gives.

Ask, seek, knock.

Matt. 7:8 For everyone who asks receives, and the one who searches finds, and to the one who knocks, the door will be opened.

Lesson #0368

Matt. 7:8–11 Life of Christ

12/13/2012 Thurs

Prayer Requests

1. You may ask for things for yourself; but it cannot be from self-centeredness, greediness, etc. People often simply pray, "I want this" and it is their plan and not God's plan that takes precedence. All petitions must be made in humility and in patience. Whose plan is it? Yours or God's? God may not give you exactly what you ask for, but He will give us an answer. "You may want one thing, but here is what is a better solution for your need," might be God's response. It is not about self-centered arrogance; it is about a need to be fulfilled and He answers according to His plan and our best interest.
2. Requests should address those things for which there is no direct statement in Scripture. For instance, you do not ask God for the filling of the Holy Spirit; you rebound. You do not beg for the filling of the Holy Spirit. You might ask God for a calm attitude in adversity; but remember, you also have the faith rest drill, which, when applied, will calm you. There is a mechanic which is clearly taught in Scripture. You have the means for a relaxed mental attitude. You may ask for God to bring to mind a Bible promise and a doctrinal rationale to apply. The more mature that you are, the better will your prayers be. Petition is not every a substitute for faith rest or for grace and doctrinal orientation or virtue love or sharing the happiness of God or occupation with Christ. You have mandates, instructions and mechanics in the plan of God; and prayer goes along with this.

3. Petition should always be made in tandem with the application of Bible doctrine. Prayer is not a substitute for learning and applying Bible doctrine. People get lazy. They do not want to take the time or the effort to learn the plan of God. That is too hard for them. They simply pray. Nothing wrong with prayer, but when it becomes a substitute for every aspect of the Christian life, then it is not the full scope of the Christian life. You have short-changed yourself. Prayer and doctrine together are an unbeatable combination. It is only a part of the spiritual equation for your life. We are also mandated to grow in grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.
4. You should not make requests outside of the known will of God. This is sort of a tough one because what if you do not know what the will of God is? You must begin to mature and learn some doctrine. God will answer our prayers when they are outside the plan of God. Sometimes, they are so obvious, that we ought to know better; but we all do it. Clearly, when you ask God for something, He answers. That is His guarantee. 1John 5:14 answers are not to be found when outside the will of God. However, do not be afraid to ask. We are mandated to petition for ourselves.

Matt. 7:8 For everyone who asks receives, and the one who searches finds, and to the one who knocks, the door will be opened.

This leads us to seek, the next word in this series. Ζητεω, and we are to pray for divine guidance. God has given us a gps, and He will answer our prayer for guidance. However, we do not need to pray for the inculcation of doctrine. That is another mandate in Scripture, which is based upon our positive volition.

The greatest guide that we have today is, what does the Bible tell us? That is the #1 guidance. However, that does not mean that we don't petition for specific guidance from Him. There is the tandem, learning Bible doctrine and praying for guidance. We are mandated to keep on praying for guidance. Part of our prayer should be, not just for the guidance, but the ability to recognize His guidance. That is where patience and humility comes in. Sometimes, we just have to wait because His guidance will become forthcoming.

Bobby took a rather circuitous route to the pastorate at Berachah. He finally understood at a later age this direction. It is never at an end. God's plan rolls on and it can change. All the while, God was answered, which was a process from one aspect of life to another. The old kick me through the goal posts of life.

In humility and patience, you must evaluate the will of God. When seeking the will of God, you will find it. Seek and you will find. The right guidance will be forthcoming, even if you have to wait for awhile.

Many of us think it would be nice to know up front what was coming; but that is a part of God's plan. Asking for guidance is always a legitimate petition. Direction in God's plan also comes from doctrine and maturity.

Kpww means to knock; which suggests intense prayer or entreaty. We must be persistent because we do run into crises in this life. Acts 12:12–15 believers prayed for Peter to get released and God set him free. That surprised them.

Knocking is an appropriate way to describe intense prayer. There is great urgency in this prayer. In that urgency, the Lord answers and sometimes He may relieve the circumstances under which we are residing. He leaves us in the difficult circumstance for our own good. We ask for relief and He does it. That is divine guidance.

2Cor. 12:7–9 Therefore, so that I would not exalt myself, a thorn in the flesh was given to me, a messenger of Satan to torment me so I would not exalt myself. Concerning this, I pleaded with the Lord three times to take it away from me. But He said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for power is perfected in weakness." Therefore, I will most gladly boast all the more about my weaknesses, so that Christ's power may reside in me.

Satan sent a messenger so that Paul did not exalt himself. Paul entreated the Lord 3 times that it might depart from him. However, removing this pressure was not a part of God's plan. "My grace is sufficient for you." God's power in us is perfected in weakness. God's plan is for Paul to perfect His power in Paul's weakness. God's power is to be in Paul's spiritual life so that he could quickly advance spiritually and to continue to run his race. It was given to perfect or to mature Paul. It was suffering for blessing. Suffering can be for blessing.

No one really likes to suffer; it is undesirable. However, that is never the case in the plan of God. It is an entirely different way to look at plan of God. We like having no adversity in our lives; however, that is not God's plan for our life. We are mandated to grow up. If God accelerates that spiritual life through a little adversity, so be it.

We may be relieved of one adversity in our life, but that is not enough. There is going to be more. But there is only one spiritual life that handles all adversity. We must learn to perfect its use so that we can continue in the plan and will of God. How much better to be prepared for anything as opposed to removing the pressure of one thing. That is Paul's rationale for endurance. But Paul counted it all blessing. That is what made Paul a great man. He learned dependence upon the power of God in weakness.

Prayer is a powerful weapon that gets results. But petition with applying Bible doctrine from the soul, that is the ultimate in the Christian life. Sometimes, God opens other doors. Sometimes God does both.

Praying for relief of suffering can come in a lot of different packages. When you are in crisis, it can be relieved, it may not be relieved, but it is always for your benefit.

When we pray to God, we are in the throne room of God; and that is the power of prayer. We become the winners of all time.

Matt. 7:8 For everyone who asks receives, and the one who searches finds, and to the one who knocks, the door will be opened.

God is not arbitrary or silly in his answers. We might give a goofy answer or we play around with them somewhat. But God never expresses a perverse sense of humor. He never treats any of our petitions lightly.

Bobby was a classics major at UT. The gods were just like human beings but only worse. They always played with human beings for entertainment. They ruined lives, which they totally enjoyed doing. This is how the Greeks and Romans saw the gods, the forces higher than they. Praying to these gods may not get you the result that you want.

However, God always entertains our petitions. That is His grace.

Matt. 7:9–11 What man among you, if his son asks him for bread, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a snake? If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in heaven give good things to those who ask Him!

We have sin natures, but we know how to give good gifts to those we love. God does not give us a rock or a snake when we pray to Him.

Lesson #0369

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

12/16/2012 1Sunday

The first Christmas was an amazing event and all that surrounded Him by way of prophecy. His entire life would be the forerunner of the spiritual life in the Church Age. He is the Person we should know everything about. He is the One we should worship as He is our Savior.

You may have children and you are happy to supply those expectations and to watch the eyes light up as you give them. You love that child and you do the best to fulfill his or her requests. Maybe you will not give them exactly what they want; but you find something that they might like as well, hoping that they will appreciate that thing. You might not get them something that is not age-appropriate, too dangerous, or whatever; but you substitute something else. You are not going to leave them without any gift. It is the season to give and you answer the call and gladly. You want to answer their needs and expectations. These requests are petitions which are made directly to you. We are the provider and we will answer those requests by what they give. If you do not give those gifts to the child.

There is an analogy between these petitions from children and the petitions which we make to God in prayer. We ask constantly for personal needs and desires. But God is not Santa; He may give us what we ask for or answer with a comparable gift. In some way, God answers our petitions. The guarantee is found in Matt. 7:7–8

Matt. 7:7 "Keep asking, and it will be given to you. Keep searching, and you will find. Keep knocking, and the door will be opened to you.

Matt. 7:8 For everyone who asks receives, and the one who searches finds, and to the one who knocks, the door will be opened.

Jesus uses this same approach. If your son asks you for bread, will the father give him a stone? If you, being evil, know how to give good gifts, how much more will your Heavenly Father give good gifts to those who ask Him?

Matt. 7:9–11 What man among you, if his son asks him for bread, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a snake? If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in heaven give good things to those who ask Him!

Vv. 9–10 are rhetorical questions; not something that really need to be answered. A father must provide for his children; but not rocks and snakes. The snakes in that area were poisonous, so a faithful father would not put his children in danger. When you petition to God the Father, and we are mandated to do so. You will not be mocked and you will receive an answer to your request based upon God's grace.

David says Psalm 37:5 I have been young and now I am old; but I have not seen the Lord's children begging bread.

1. A good father, even with a sin nature, knows how to give good gifts.
2. How much more does our heavenly father give when He is gracious.

Matt. 7:11 If you then, who are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in heaven give good things to those who ask Him!

Oida is a perfect tense used as a present tense and this is a 1st class condition. If you know this....

The gifts are the staples of life; this is needed for their logistics. This father who knows how to give good gifts that sustain and support his children, he is evil. Good gifts from an evil man. He is a man with a sin nature, as we all have. On Christmas we know how to give good gifts. And if we, with a sin nature, can figure out what gifts to give our children; then God can do far more from His grace. We all have the nature within us, and yet we still provide good gifts for our own children.

The apodosis for v. 11 being with posomallon which means how much more. This is a comparative word group in the Greek. We were given great gifts by our parents on Christmas; and you see the comparison here. What a perfect comparison. We all know the weaknesses of our parents; and we all remember when our parents did not function at their best. God is not like that. God knows how to give good gifts when we ask for them.

If we, with sin natures, know how to give good gifts, then how much more can the Heavenly Father give to us, as He is perfect. The disciples are facing all sorts of problems and they are trying to gain knowledge of Jesus; and they are getting nothing but resistance from the pharisees and others. And Jesus tells them to ask, seek and knock. There is no difference today.

Summary of First Christmas Message

1. Man gives to his son based upon who and what he is.
2. Man is imperfect. But he is still able to give graciously and thoughtfully.
3. God gives based upon Who and What He is. He gives from His essence and perfect character. That is the basis upon what he receives.
4. God is perfect, His character is perfect; and He always gives what is completely needed perfectly. We will get a response.
5. It is reassuring to know that, as an earthly father provides for His children, so God will provide for His children. Parents can be perverse; they can be angry, ungracious; whatever mental attitude sins you can think of, can be provided for. God the Father provides, no matter what.
6. God the Father always provides what which is good and perfect for our support. It is what is necessary and what is best for us; guaranteed, every time that we pray. Lifetime warranty on this guarantee.
7. Even when we do not deserve an answer or a gift, we still ask for it. However, we must be in fellowship to be heard. The answer that is received by us will be the plan and will of God. It will be God's plan; not according to ours. The good gift is given inside of His plan.

Lesson #0370

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

12/16/2012 2Sunday

We will study probably the most well-known verse of the gospels and the Sermon on the Mount. Time when people begin to think about doing good during this time period. Some think that this is the gospel or how to be saved, but that is not the case.

Matt. 7:12 Therefore, whatever you want others to do for you, do also the same for them--this is the Law and the Prophets.

This golden rule lays out a standard of righteousness that we cannot maintain. This attitude cannot be maintained. This is a standard of law and it is very similar to the Ten Commandments. These things are not attainable by man who has a sin nature. When we are on, we are able to obey a few commandments and even the golden rule; but when we are off, that is not the case.

“Well, I did that yesterday; I was magnanimous.” But this verse shows us just how far we fall from God's standards. Even the most righteous person that you have ever met still falls short from this standard. If this was salvation, then salvation would be by works and unattainable. Salvation is never by works; that is outside of God's plan. This verse is not in the context of salvation. This is a sermon to believers. Salvation is only by grace; we cannot earn it or deserve it.

However, the religious types cling to this verse and they base their religious thinking upon this verse. But that is religion. This has become a religious creed and even a secular creed. As a code of ethics of an unbeliever; as a code of ethics, this is strong. Even secular types recognize its importance.

A politician comes on like he will treat you just like a member of his own family. Is that why Congress exempts itself from all of the laws it passes? That is deception; it is not ethical or righteous. If Congress believed in this, then they would follow the laws they passed. They are exempted from Obamacare.

This is the attitude for relief efforts; and this is admirable for ethics and morality.

Everyone feels the need to repeat this verse. They want this verse obeyed by others to themselves. This involves great hypocrisy. An incredibly self-centered attitude. Some imagine that they keep the golden rule; and they are modern-day pharisees. Pharisees followed this standard (in their own minds). However, they cannot even remotely follow this rule.

This rule cannot be consistently practiced by natural man in this world. We consistently fall short of this rule. This is a rule that all men fall short of. Man's fallen nature is naturally self-centered. "I me I" comes first.

The attitude is not there; the attitude always comes before the action. The believer through grace orientation through humility and virtue love can develop to the highest extent a selfless gracious attitude. Only believers filled with the Spirit can fulfill the golden rule. The sin nature is still egocentric. Believers cannot always keep this rule. So many people think in egocentric terms. However, that is not the golden rule. The only way that anyone can follow this is to grow to spiritual maturity. In many cases, people use this text, believers and unbelievers alike, although they do not really understand it. And they cannot develop the true humility to follow this law of life for believers. This becomes nothing more than a Sunday facade to be shown off (like Christmas day).

The real meaning as spoken by Christ to the disciples is something entirely different than most people can imagine.

What Is That?

1. The golden rule presents a picture, a portrait of the character of the Lord Jesus Christ. He is speaking of Himself. He is the flawless expression of this principle, just as He is the flawless expression of the Mosaic Law. Those in His presence saw the epitome of the golden rule.
2. Therefore, the golden rule represents how the Christian should think with the mind of Christ. This is how He thought. So, as believers growing, this is how we should think.

3. So this verse is the epitome of the renovated thinking of the believer. If our thinking is renovated, then we have learned to think in this way. Grace orientation and virtue love. Only the renovated mind of the believer can think in this way.
4. That is what the golden rule is all about. The thinking related to self and others. How you treat others. Grace orientation and virtue love emphasizes how you treat others in grace orientation and virtue love. So many people look at the golden rule and it is completely one-sided.
5. Before the principle can be applied and practiced consistently by a believers to whom it is addressed, not an unbeliever, it requires our change of thinking. No one can think like this automatically. No one thinks in this way consistently without renovated thinking. Renovated thinking belongs in the minds of the mature believer.

The prayers spoken of, this is the concept of what Jesus is speaking. Treat others in the way that you want to be treated.

Luke 6:31 Just as you want others to do for you, do the same for them. Is the way this is expressed in Luke.

This is the way that Jesus thought. He did not think first about Himself. The greatest demonstration of the golden rule; and people did Jesus the worst possible circumstances; and yet He treated others in absolute grace.

Can you do this? Someone sues you; treats you in a perverse way; how do you react? Do you apply the golden rule here?

Jesus gives an amazing summary of Christian character of the result of the inculcation of Bible doctrine and this is a critical verse for us; it is a picture of the effects of Bible doctrine on our souls. There is a necessity for impersonal love. It is critical to the Christian way of life. You will not always be treated in the way that you want to be treated. Impersonal love toward them is how we treat others. There is no other way by which we may understand this rule. This is the way that the grace oriented person thinks and the virtue love behind his actions.

Virtue love covered in great detail in 1Corinthians. God loved us impersonally going to the cross; and He loves us personally as believers. He gives every good gift; unequivocally loves us. When we begin to learn about Him. As we grow in reciprocal love, virtue love is developed in us. We must reciprocate that love. As we understand God's love and begin to reciprocate it, our own thinking begins to develop in the area of love. Toward those with whom you are intimate. It is much easier to act on personal love.

The motto of some is, "I will do it to you before you do it to me. Virtue love is the epitome of the golden rule. They are almost interchangeable. Virtue love is in our souls and the golden rule is how it is demonstrated. This reveals the thinking and actions of a believer who is apply virtue love to others. No other way can this rule be accomplished. You treat them as you want to be treated; grace orientation. They do not deserve anything if they treat you badly. This is the season of grace and the season of giving good gifts and wanting good gifts in return. Egocentricity when you expect to be treated in a specific way.

With the renovated thinking of virtue love, developed in your soul, then you recognize how you should live and how you should function in relation to others. Everyone including the jerks at work and all those people on television and everyone that rubs you the wrong way or makes you downright mad.

As you open your presents and you get what you did not want and what you did not ask for, and you have a place in your closet where you can toss it and not see any more.

Matt. 7:12 Therefore, whatever you want others to do for you, do also the same for them--this is the Law and the Prophets.

Lesson #0371 Matt. 7:12 Luke 6:31 Life of Christ 12/19/2012 Wed

Matt. 7:12 Therefore, whatever you want others to do for you, do also the same for them--this is the Law and the Prophets.

Luke 6:31 And as you wish that others would do to you, do so to them.

This rule cannot be followed by one who is self-absorbed and self-centered. The Christmas cheer and all the way this is applied, until people get into traffic. Good intentions do not result in good actions. That is just the sin nature.

Sometimes we simply treat others in such a way to hope to be treated in the same way back. You want to be treated in deference. You just know you are superior to them. The greatest insults and the greatest injuries are the ones done to me personally. We have all been the recipients of bat treatment when we wanted to be treated in a different way.

The summary of most people's outlook is, me-first, everybody else second. Sometimes this rule is fulfilled momentarily. When under fire, it is a selfless act. These are rare acts, of there would be millions of medal of honor recipients. This is not the norm for human relationships and it does not happen among people like the pharisees.

We all want to be treated by the golden rule, but who can subordinate their interest to others? Jesus did what He did so that we could escape the slavery of sin.

Heb. 12:2 He endured the cross, despising the shame. All that Jesus did demonstrated the golden rule; He treated us in grace when we deserve none of it. Christ thought in terms of the golden rule, constantly and always.

The golden rule is expressed to the greatest extent possibly by the believer who is growing to spiritual maturity. That is where the golden rule shines. It is an incredible experience when the growing believer acts and speaks according to the golden rule. When you are the recipient to grace orientation and virtue love, the expression of the golden rule, it is a natural thing to return that grace orientation. It becomes reciprocal. God's love is made known to us, so we reciprocate that love. It is a wonderful way for us to see. When you treat others in the way that you want to be treated, it is much more likely that you will be treated in the way that you want to be treated. But this requires growing to spiritual maturity. We must begin to execute the spiritual life. Only as maturing believers can we apply virtue love and grace orientation.

The Function of the Golden Rule

1. Living the golden rule demonstrates grace oriented thinking and virtue love in the believer as applied to others. It is a simple formula. We take in doctrine. We begin to take in doctrine and we become grace oriented. This is something that the rest of the world cannot do. We develop virtue love.
2. The golden rule is motivated by the renovation of our thinking. In other words, becoming grace oriented believers with virtue love in our souls. That is the golden rule.
3. It is the demonstration of the spiritual life in relation to other people.

This is just another way to evaluate yourself with regards to virtue love status. This summarizes the teaching of the Mosaic Law and the prophets. The pharisee do not see the essence of the law and the prophets. They have no clue as to grace orientation.

This is found in the Old Testament; it is what the law and the prophets demanded of the believer then. Second major commandment of the Law, Lev. 19:18b You will love your neighbor as you love yourself. That is the Old Testament version of the golden rule.

There is impersonal love which means you are treating people based on the merit of how they are treating you. It does not matter what they have done or how they are treating you.

There is personal love toward those who are your intimates. This is what husbands are mandated to do; and what wives are mandated to do. Respect and love; it must be reciprocated or the relationship falls apart. That is how critical this whole thing is.

All that we have previously studied is summarized by this one verse. It is all wrapped up in this one statement; demonstrated in our life and our soul. It is demonstrated through living the golden rule.

The rule is our guide, even in our imperfection and a measurement of our maturity in the spiritual life. It is encouraging to us if we understand it. We may think of others before we think of ourselves; and that is the golden rule. When you are able to apply impersonal love. The measure of your maturity; the major way the virtue love is demonstrated.

Do you apply it? Do you live it? The entire human race would be much better off if they could live by this maxim. Marital relationships could be enhanced; friendships would strengthen. If these principles were applied, even wars could be avoided. But people do not have the capacity to.

The hypocrisy of the government; “We are looking out for the people” and they are doing exactly the opposite.

The Maturing Believer and the Golden Rule

1. It is the believer who is advancing to maturity; one whose thinking has been renovated. You cannot fulfill this principle apart from renovated thinking.
2. It is the believer who is becoming grace oriented and living the doctrine of virtue love. It is firmly implanted in their soul.
3. The golden rule is the epitome of grace orientation and virtue love. It is the realm of the mature believer. The mature believer is the one who makes the greatest application of grace orientation and virtue love. As you grow, you begin to demonstrate these things more and more. As you grow, you stay in fellowship longer; you do not as easily fall into your old habits of the past.
4. Living the golden rule is the opposite of the self-centered life.
5. The golden rule applied demonstrates certain qualities in the believer; in us.
 - a. The inculcation of the mind of Christ. Jesus is the epitome of the golden rule.
 - b. Living the spiritual life is the mind of Christ.
 - c. The production of experiential righteousness by the believer who is maturing.
 - d. Living by this rule demonstrates true experiential righteousness as it applies to others. We live the spiritual life and we live it in many ways. It must also extend to those with whom we associate. We interact with other people constantly. This is our life in relation to others.

God’s righteousness is imputed to us at salvation. It is just given to us. That meets the standard of God. Then there is the experiential righteousness. The progressive growth of the spiritual life. The believer can consistently apply this principle to his life.

Our Motivation for Performing the Golden Rule

1. Do unto others as Christ as done for us. That is our motivation to treat others with virtue love. This encompasses the outward manifestation of virtue love toward others.
2. What is that? He has always treated us in grace and unfailing love. So we are motivated to do the same thing as we mature. This is the mind of Christ.
3. One manifestation of that motivation is to forgive as Christ forgave. That is an expression of impersonal love. People do things to us that are appalling; they are mean; they are rotten. Just like we want to others to forgive us for our gaffs and anger and . Col. 3:13 bearing with one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. There is no qualification here; that jerk who is suing you or the one who is the biggest pain in your life. Whoever has a complaint against anyone. The better you know someone the better you can complain about them.
4. A believer does not treat others based on their merit, but on the basis of his own character developed through divine viewpoint thinking.

5. The golden rule is accomplished by those who develop the mind of Christ as their criteria for life. That is what we must develop; this is the way we think; it is not something that we do occasionally. You cannot do this unless you can think this way; your thinking has to be consistent.
6. The golden rule cannot be done or lived apart from the filling of the Holy Spirit. The power to grow and the power to change your thinking is the power of the Holy Spirit. The golden rule cannot be lived without it.

“The more we learn from You, the more we can live according to these pronouncements.

Matt. 7:12 Therefore, whatever you want others to do for you, do also the same for them--this is the Law and the Prophets.

When you are living the golden rule you are living the Christian life. Your biggest headache in life is often other people and here is the solution.

Now Jesus goes into the not-so-gracious legalism. Matt. 7:13–14 comes next.

Lesson #0372

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

12/20/2012 Thurs

Bobby promises us that we will be here on Saturday. The earth will be destroyed by the Lord at the end of the Millennium. Until then, no meteors and comets or environmental disasters will destroy the earth.

We have just seen what grace orientation looks like in practice. That is the golden rule, which is grace orientation and virtue love in action. However, we have the opposite in legalism.

Matt. 7:13–14 "Enter through the narrow gate. For the gate is wide and the road is broad that leads to destruction, and there are many who go through it. How narrow is the gate and difficult the road that leads to life, and few find it.

Enter by the narrow gate can mean almost anything when taken out of context. The pharisees do unto others however they want to do, not according to the golden rule.

The way of access to the Kingdom of God. In the dispensation of the Hypostatic Union. This is when our Lord is here among us. In this dispensation, Jesus offers the kingdom to Israel. John the Baptizer announced Jesus as the King, making this a legitimate offer to Israel. The unique spiritual life of the Church Age. What is that narrow way? It is grace. The is the narrow way. There are two opposite ways to be accepted by God, into His family and into His Presence. The pharisees said law-keeping was needed. Our Lord said, “The king is here, I am here.” Jesus has come to provide salvation by grace. Those who accept Christ are provided with the righteousness of God. No matter how good you are, you can never attain the righteous standards of God. This is the narrow way; the way of grace. It is a narrow gate.

A narrow gate does not mean you have to squeeze through it with great difficulty. This is a gate that can be entered into in only one way. The broad way is religion; the method of the pharisees; works-righteousness to be acceptable to God. Jesus says that way leads to destruction. They are excluded from the Kingdom of God. There is no future in the eternal Kingdom of God. It is a life of legalism; rather than grace orientation.

When you hear that phrase, all pathways lead to God, that is the broad way. The entry is faith alone in Christ alone. It can only be in one way. The disciples and all men must hear our Lord's words. They must hear the gospel and accept Him as Savior for eternal life. A specific and dogmatic expression.

People who live in relativism hate dogmatism. People in relative truth find all sorts of things which are good and truthful, which may not have been good and truthful yesterday. Whatever truth you find to be good and right is the broad way.

Doctrine is dogma; it is the narrow way; the only way to live the Christian way of life. But Christians all over the world have so many other ways to approach God. The only way to God is what Jesus calls the narrow way; that is the only way to attain the righteousness that is acceptable to God.

No matter what you do, no matter how nice you are, none of this matters without grace. The only way to enter into God's kingdom is via His righteousness. The pharisee way is the broad way and it is the no-way.

Then the believer can live the Christian life. The golden rule cannot be executed by anyone unless these are believers who attain righteousness through faith in Christ.

"Few are those who find it."

The Narrow Way Versus the Broad Way

1. Men seek all sorts of ways to get to God. Religion exemplifies the broad gate.
2. Men seek all sorts of way to try to please God; to know God; and to gain a relationship with Him. They do this apart from His grace-based entry into His plan. How can you know God if you start with yourself? You must know what His Word says about this. People have a hard time understanding 3 things about God that relates to us. They think they understand God's love because they think it is like human love. But they always separate that love from justice and righteousness. They never get the full picture of how God deals with us. His Son gives us the opportunity to know God.
3. The broad gate is when men say, "There are many pathways to God." Islam, Buddhism, Shintoism, etc. are seen as some of the many pathways to God. In the end, it is what we do for God. Narrow is what God does for us.
4. In essence, all of those religions and in all of the cults and in all of the human philosophies are ways to reject Jesus Christ. Therefore, they are the broad way. Every one of them rejects Jesus as our only Savior.

5. These other religions all depend upon human good.
6. The broad way opens a number of doors, none of which are acceptable in the eyes of God.
7. The broad gate does not lead to redemption from human depravity or to eternal life. It leads to judgment.
8. None of these ways of the broad gate change the relative righteousness of man to admissible righteousness before God. That righteousness is God's righteousness in us.
9. Only God's grace is sufficient for changing man to a harmonious righteousness that God accepts, which is the narrow entrance into a relationship with Him.

So grace is the narrow path that people reject because it is just too easy. They want to feel as if they have earned God's favor and not the grace of God. Their preference is to earn whatever they get from God. This is how religion thinks. Their preference is to earn merit. That separates religion from Christianity.

This narrow gate is defined by, "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life; no man comes to the Father but through Me." We enter the Christian life only through the narrow gate; and we can only function in the Christian life through the grace system.

There is no Christian life unless we depend upon the grace of God and the assets that He has provided for us. The Christian life is also a narrow way. It becomes nothing more than a nice, do-good, merit-based way of life. Human good, the broad gate, is never acceptable as the Christian way of life. The Christian life must be characterized by grace.

Jesus pioneered the Christian life which is what we have been given in the Church Age.

The Broad Gate of Human Good

1. Human good is identified in the Bible in many ways. It is called dead works. Heb. 6:1 if it is human good, then the works are dead. Only divine good is good for God.
2. Human good will not save mankind. Titus 3:5
3. Human good is not ever acceptable to God. This causes a lot of problems for some people. "My 30 years of works means nothing to God?" Only divine good produced by a believer in fellowship has any merit with God.
4. Human good is judged; Eccles. 12:14 and for believers, there is judgement of human good before the Bama Seat of Christ. 1Cor. 3:12-16 what remains of the fire is divine good, gold, precious stones and silver.
5. Human good is the basis for the indictment and the condemnation of believers at the final judgment. Rev. 20:12-15 Being burned in eternity is a horrible thing to endure. This is not just a metaphor for separation from God.

"There is no hell; it is just something that Christians dreamed up to scare us." Jesus will say, "Depart from me, for the fire prepared for the devil and his angels." There were many other judgments in Scripture; the example of the nephaliim. “The end of all flesh has come before Me,” said God. But Jesus allowed Noah and his family to live because he entered through the narrow gate.

Lev. 26:30–35 I will destroy your high places, and cut down your incense altars, and cast your dead bodies upon the bodies of your idols; and my soul will abhor you. I will lay your cities waste, and will bring your sanctuaries to desolation, and I will not take delight in the sweet fragrance of your offerings. I will bring the land into desolation; and your enemies that dwell therein will be astonished at it. I will scatter you among the nations, and I will draw out the sword after you: and your land will be a desolation, and your cities shall be a waste. Then the land will enjoy its sabbaths as long as it lies desolate and you are in your enemies' land. Even then the land will rest and enjoy its sabbaths. As long as it lies desolate it shall have rest, even the rest which it didn't have in your sabbaths, when you lived on it.

God did not even spare judgment on Israel when they forgot Him and His Word. My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge.

He did not spare His Own Son from judgement, but delivered Him up for us all. God judged His Own Son; how do you think we will be spared? Never think that God's justice and righteousness can be separated from His love.

God's love was expressed by sending His Son to provide our salvation. Those who reject that love of God which is in Christ will not be spared.

Matt. 7:13 "Enter through the narrow gate. For the gate is wide and the road is broad that leads to destruction, and there are many who go through it.

Matt. 7:14 How narrow is the gate and difficult the road that leads to life, and few find it.

Jesus takes up the subject of false teachers. Bobby will be on this one for awhile. How will we know false teachers? By their fruit. There were lots of false messiahs who showed up in Israel. However, the pharisees are representative of religion.

Lesson #0373

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

12/23/2012 1Sunday

We are going back to Matt. 1 for our message today.

Matt. 1:16 And Jacob fathered Joseph, the husband to be of Mary, of whom Jesus was born, who is called Christ.

This verse begins the first advent of our Lord. In context, this is the culmination of the genealogy of the Lord Jesus Christ. Matthew was a direct descendant of David, the great King of Israel. Through this royal line would come the Messiah.

Joseph was not Jesus' biological father. So, how could Jesus be a son of David? Jesus was legally an heir to David. As the legal heir, He was the first in line for the royal family. This also tells us that the Lord came into the world through Mary, and she was a direct blood descendant and she was descended through Nathan of David. There was the royal bloodline of Mary and the legal line from Joseph.

Matt. 1:16 And Jacob fathered Joseph, the husband to be of Mary, of whom Jesus was born, who is called Christ.

This royal son was born in an obscure village on the end of Jerusalem. There was nothing majestic about His birth. Such a thing should have been celebrated throughout the land, but there was a bright star in the heaven, and there was rejoicing by angels and shepherds. This was no obscure birth in some lowly stable. This was no humiliating scene of impoverished royalty. His birth was unique among all births in human history. It should never be regarded by Christians as anything less. It is not just a nice story for children nor is this some creed. We need a picture in our souls as to what this means. The miraculous birth of the Lord Jesus Christ is the fulfillment of Old Testament prophecy. To doubt its importance is to doubt the Word of God. It is the divine intruding upon history.

The denial of the virgin birth paves the way for humanism, pantheism and atheism. The mere appearance of a nativity scene in a public place sends atheists straight to court. It strikes fear into their souls. They handle the birth of Jesus through the courts.

The virgin birth does indict the bogus nature of all other religions. There is much more bound up in the virgin birth than appears on the surface.

800 years before our Lord's birth, Isaiah prophesied:

Isa 7:14 So, the Lord Himself shall give you a sign. Behold, the virgin will conceive and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call His name Immanuel [which means, God with us].

This was not the only thing that Isaiah said.

Isa 9:6 For to us a Child is born, to us a Son is given; and the government shall be on His shoulder; and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.

This is a prophecy of Jesus the Messiah. God with us is the uniquely-born Lord. The eternal government of Israel will rest on His shoulders.

The prophecy of this child Who rested in a manger, in a barnyard feeding trough. He is the God-man, destined to rule forever. The Davidic Covenant; and the Savior Whom all the world needs.

Matt. 1:21 And she shall bear a son, and you shall call His name JESUS: for He shall save His people from their sins.

Jesus appeared on the stage of history as an act of God alone. He did not come from conception as we know it. This is a miracle wrought by God. As strange as that seems, there is precedence for this type of action. This is not the first time the miraculous has accompanied a birth. The man and the woman were both created by God; with no mother or father.

And there was Isaac, conceived by Abraham and Sarah, but these were too old to produce children because of their age. It was God's ability, normal to Him, but miraculous to us, that brought Isaac into this world.

This miraculous birth is not impossible to conceive of. Why do men deny God the right to work miracles? To deny miracles is to deny God Himself. This denies all that God is and how far above us that He is.

The miracles of Jesus is way more than humanity; and to deny the virgin birth and the miracles is to deny Who He is. Yet even Christians deny this.

Could we even comprehend as to what it means for God to create the universe. There are many speculative theories on the beginning of the universe. But the miraculous does not stay within the bounds of natural law or by human theory. These miracles are the work of God Himself. The miraculous is only one aspect of His birth. There are other reasons why this humble birth of Jesus is so astounding to us.

This is a manifestation, an unveiling or a revelation. A use of unveiling is often used for statues or memorials; it takes a great deal of time to build the statue and there are speeches and pomp and circumstance and then the statue is unveiled. Such is the unveiling of our Messiah in that feeding trough.

The most incredible sight was not the glorification of God or the stars, but the manifestation of Jesus Christ in the flesh.

Heb. 1:2–3a has in these last days spoken to us by His Son, whom He has appointed heir of all things, by whom also He made the worlds, who being the shining splendor of His glory, and the express image of His essence, and upholding all things by the word of His power, through Himself.

This verse describes that baby in the manger; He is the Son of God; He has the glory and that essential nature of God, the Agent of Creation. Jesus Christ did not strip Himself of His deity; but He was fully human. He confined His Deity to a few pounds of flesh in that feeding trough. That newborn was God, God Incarnate, so that men could behold God laying in that manger. They saw a baby; they saw Him grow to manhood. They watched him all the way to the cross, and then to the resurrection.

Eternal Counselor, King of Kings, in that one tiny little child, so that we might have eternal life. He became poor so that we might become rich. Don't you think it is humbling and poverty for God to lay in these few pounds of flesh in the feeding trough? He took upon this poverty so that we might live with Him.

His birth is as a mark. This central event is a mark because this is a mark of the faithfulness of God. It was predicted as far back as the fall of man. Christianity existed since man fell. The proto-evangel: Gen. 3:16; the Old Testament prophecies of the Messiah found over and over and over again. All of the Biblical prophecy predicts; and human history produces. God never goes back on His Word. Jesus Christ was the greatest picture of God's faithfulness that there ever was.

There is prophecy still to be fulfilled; His return at the rapture of the church, His destruction finally at the end of the Tribulation and then the destruction of the earth in the end of the Millennium.

That is not the only astounding thing that we can see. There is a tremendous mystery wrapped up in the birth of Christ. Jesus preexisted His Own birth. What man can be said to preexist His Own birth. We come into existence with our first breath.

John 8: Truly, truly, I say to you, before Abraham, I am.

The duplication of the verb, I am I am is Y^ehowah. He had no beginning and He had no end. That is a mystery that we will never fully understand. That baby was eternal God in the form of man; omnipresent while being localized in a few pounds of flesh. Everything about Him was contrary to the natural and the normal.

He lived a life beyond understanding. There was no room for improvement in Him; we have room for improvement all of His life. Sin never touched the Lord Jesus Christ. He was never corrupted by his flesh; and He never went to the soil at His death.

He rejected the philosophical thinking of His day; and He asserted over and over again that, salvation belongs to those who believe in Him.

The very death of our Lord was contrary to the normal. He was the complete master every moment on the cross. It was Jesus who dismissed His Own life at just the right time.

John 10:18 no one has taken My life away from Me; I have laid it down of My Own initiative; I have the authority to lay it down and to pick it up again.

We do not get to determine the time that we die. But Jesus did. His mission was completed. He was here at a certain time from His birth to His death.

Jesus came to die; and He was wrapped in grave clothes; that was His mission.

John 10:10 the thief comes to steal and to destroy; I come that you might have life and more abundantly.

Matt. 7:15

Jesus is named the Prince of Peace, but nearly always misunderstood. Jesus reconciled man to God on the cross. We now have peace with God; the enmity between us and God is now gone. But that is not the only meaning Prince of Peace. After He has destroyed all of the enemies of Israel, then He will reign over 1000 years of peace. He will be residing and presiding over it.

Now we move on to the magnificence of the absolute truth of Who Jesus was, to something which is astounding again the Bobby. Through all that Jesus is, the sign given to us; and through all of His life and ministry, the miracles He performed and the doctrines that He gave, He had tremendous opposition. He is in the flesh in front of all of these people.

Matt. 7:15 "Beware of false prophets who come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly are ravaging [or, ravenous] wolves.

There was a group who were utterly opposed to our Lord. These are the ones who opposed Him then and would oppose Him in the future when He is on the throne of Israel.

In opposition to Christ and they appear to communicate the truth to the people of God. They are wolves come to devour the people. Who exemplified religion? The pharisees. These were the very people who faced our Lord on a daily basis, who followed Him and hounded Him, and eventually crucified Him. The Jews were not Christ killers and antisemitism has been prevalent in the Christian church for a long time. As believers, we want to preserve Israel; we want to preserve the nation of Israel; that is a part of the theology of the Bible. Yet, it has been distorted.

Jesus came to die. Who wanted to kill Jesus at His birth? The pharisees claimed to be God's representatives, they appointed themselves as teachers of the Law and the keepers of the Temple. But these were blind teachers who could not lead their people to truth. They could not find the light; they had no truth in their souls. They could not recognize Jesus, even though He was right in front of them.

Never be shocked by negative volition. Those who faced Him on a daily basis also rejected Him. The pharisees taught the wide way of religion. All they could do is preach against the grace of God in Christ.

Jesus is Who He claims to be or He was the greatest liar of all time. All religion could do is distort what truth is. Religion indicates that there is no truth. Religion is the pathway to God, how can we know God without religion? But religion is gaining the favor of God through works and effort.

They taught the letter of the Law, but they never taught the truth of the Law. You the way that you want people to treat you, so you treat them. The golden rule was the epitome of grace. You treat others based on your character not upon their merit. Did God send His Son to this earth because we deserve it? The law and the prophets all point to God's grace. The golden rule versus the broad way. The pharisees did not teach the graciousness of their own law. Does every neighbor that you have deserve your love?

Religion always opposes grace. All religion opposes grace; regardless of what form it takes. When they taught the Law, they did not teach the true reality of their rituals. The Law represented God's righteousness. They understood that the Law was the epitome of righteousness. They thought that they could keep the law and satisfy the righteous requirements of the Law. That is works salvation. No man can keep the Law in its entirety. No man on his own can satisfy the righteous requirements of God. The Law showed every man his unrighteousness and his helplessness. Righteousness must come from outside of us. All of the ritual sacrifices prescribed by the Law man's lack of righteousness and man's inability to meet God's standards. Every lamb sacrificed represented Jesus Christ. This is also what the Law pointed to.

The pharisees taught that law-keeping was the only way into the kingdom. It was their religion that blinded them and their adherents. They deceived the Jews with their self righteous demands. They required human good as the path to righteousness before God.

Isaiah knew about these types. Their righteous legalism was nothing more than filthy rags, is what Isaiah proclaimed. Human good is not the ticket into the kingdom.

There are many false teachers standing in pulpits today, and people are dropping money into pots of the salvation army, because they think that is their way to God. There is nothing wrong with charity, but it does not get you into the Kingdom of God.

When you hear false teaching from the pulpit, it is evil. Bob and many who understand the grace of God and to proclaim that gains enemies. Such a one will always gain enemies. This world does not understand grace at all.

The greatest falsehoods today don't come out of government, in order to deceive them of what will happen; but the greatest falsehood is the teaching of anti-grace.

The Animal Planet specials; and when a wolf pack makes a kill, they spread blood all over; and that is what they do to survive. And these ravenous wolves do the exact same thing from the pulpit.

Here we have Who Christ is and who His opposition was; and the pharisees were great intellectuals. Who opposing Jesus today? Those who are intellectuals; they see themselves as being the last word on everything; who see themselves as able to answer all of the important questions and they see the believer as a poor deluded soul who depends upon outmoded ideas from the past.

They appear to represent God, but they are, in truth, the enemy of God. They lead Israel down the broad highway of judgment, and there is Israel. There are the Jews intact. In A.D. 33 they crucified Him, and the Romans came in the leveled Jerusalem. God will discipline the Jews when it is called for; that is not our job today.

Matt. 7:15 "Beware of false prophets who come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly are ravaging [or, ravenous] wolves.

How can the believer determine the identify of these false prophets when they are so crafty in their message, when they can bend it and lie in such a convincing way? How can believers protect themselves from the wolves? Luke 7:16–

This brings fruit inspections to us. This is the question that is alive and well today in the churches of America. Are you a Christian? Was your Christian real or not? Well, it is all about whether you are doing what we think you should be doing. That is pure manipulation. We know that is wrong because that is pure legalism.

Luke 6:43 "A good tree doesn't produce bad fruit; on the other hand, a bad tree doesn't produce good fruit.

Luke 6:44 For each tree is known by its own fruit. Figs aren't gathered from thornbushes, or grapes picked from a bramble bush.

Luke 6:45 A good man produces good out of the good storeroom of his heart. An evil man produces evil out of the evil storeroom, for his mouth speaks from the overflow of the heart.

Luke 6:45 A good man produces good out of the good storeroom of his heart. An evil man produces evil out of the evil storeroom, for his mouth speaks from the overflow of the heart.

Glorifying God is revealing aspects of His perfect essence to angels and to people. Glorifying Jesus Christ is revealing the 2nd Person of the Trinity as our Perfect Savior.

The concept of the arc of life, from youth through old age. Parallels to the spiritual birth.

Matt. 7:13 "Enter through the narrow gate. For the gate is wide and the road is broad that leads to destruction, and there are many who go through it.

Matt. 7:14 How narrow is the gate and difficult the road that leads to life, and few find it.

Matt. 7:22 On that day many will say to Me, 'Lord, Lord, didn't we prophesy in Your name, drive out demons in Your name, and do many miracles in Your name?'

Matt. 7:23 Then I will announce to them, 'I never knew you! Depart from Me, you lawbreakers!'

to become upset; angry mother bears. This implies that there was an attempt to protect their cubs. This is what mother bears do.

God had used wild animals to kill or deter young adherents to the worship of Baal. Elisha had preached how God took up Elijah; and these people were skeptical; they did not believe it. They doubted this.

2Peter 3:4 where is the promise of His coming? For every since the fathers fells asleep, all continues just as it was from the beginning of creation. Nothing supernatural is occurring today. Why should we think that God will do anything miraculous? How is that even believable?

Jesus died that man might have eternal life and an eternal future; which includes a promise that He will return. Jesus promised in John 14:3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, then I will come again to receive you again to myself as well. This can only happen because of the work of Christ on the cross.

This is mocked at a price; and that price is judgment.

Like Elijah, some believers will not taste death. Elijah's living translation to heaven is strikingly similar to Paul's description of the church being translated into heaven as well.

The bears are a type of those who laugh at a prophecy of a future judgement; of a judgment that will come in the end times.

Noah removed himself from the rest of the population. This was before the flood came and took them all away. So shall the coming of the Son of Man be. There will be catastrophic judgments along the lines of the flood in worldwide destruction.

Rev. 4:1–21:5 is all about the wrath and judgment against unbelievers. The meek and the mild Jesus will bring judgment. In righteousness He judges and He wages war...He is clothed in a robe dipped in blood and He is called the Word of God.

The Lord Jesus Christ is coming back for us. We will never suffer such judgments.

Salt usually makes water worse; but this was restorative. Only God can make men righteous and deliver Him from death. From judgment comes blessing. Only the work of the Lord Jesus Christ makes this possible.

This is the passage we have been studying.

2Ki 2:19 Then the men of the city said to Elisha, "Even though our lord can see that the city's location is good, the water is bad and the land unfruitful."

2Ki 2:20 He replied, "Bring me a new bowl and put salt in it." After they had brought him one,

2Ki 2:21 Elisha went out to the spring of water, threw salt in it, and said, "This is what the LORD says: 'I have healed this water. No longer will death or unfruitfulness result from it.'"

2Ki 2:22 Therefore, the water remains healthy to this very day according to the word that Elisha spoke.

2Ki 2:23 From there Elisha went up to Bethel. As he was walking up the path, some small boys came out of the city and harassed him, chanting, "Go up, baldy! Go up, baldy!"

2Ki 2:24 He turned around, looked at them, and cursed them in the name of the LORD. Then two female bears came out of the woods and mauled 42 of the youths.

Our lives take many twists and turns; and it is either good or bad decisions on our part and good or bad timing. Bad decisions are out of God's plan or out of synch with His plan. You can make some good decisions, but at the wrong time. Your life's progression in the plan of God.

Some of the circumstances of our lives seem to be out of our control. We have no decision to make; it seems to be made for us. The direction for our lives may not be the way it is intended to go.

We seem to be caught in the time and the place of our circumstances. Our timing is off.

We may also have our own plans on our own time schedule. That is quite normal; but there are also other factors which figure into this, including reasonable decisions at the wrong time. You can never discount the element of timing in decision making.

It is New Year's Eve.

God's Timing

1. There is a right time to make a decision.
2. There is a time to wait; a time to be patient in the Christian life. It requires much patience.
3. There is wrong timing which means, wrong decisions. You get all twisted up with bad decisions and bad timing.
4. There is a right time to act and a right time to abstain from acting. Correct timing is one of the trickiest areas in life. People look back on their lives and say, "Why didn't I do that back then? Or, why didn't I wait?"

Marriage comes to mind when it comes to good or bad timing; or the decision to change jobs, or when to start a family. Then there are times when things just fall into place without any thought or any decision making on our part. Sometimes, it is just being at the right place at the right time.. Luck has nothing to do with it. It is always God's timing. The solution to uncontrollable circumstances.

Let's consider time in our life. We are all waiting for midnight; but there is a lot more to time than midnight.

The key to good timing is patience and wisdom. Sometimes we have to wait out circumstances with patience and endurance. It is not luck but the plan of God which is key. The believer always has the assurance that God's plan is perfect.

What seems insurmountable to you is easy for God. God knows what He is doing and He knows exactly when to do it. The real option is perseverance and the application of Bible doctrine.

How many of you can say, "My life turned out exactly as I planned it." If you are a believer, you can say, "My life has turned out exactly as it should." In the plan of God, in His timing, our life turns out exactly as it should.

God's Timing and Our Lives

1. Uncontrollable circumstances in our lives are often God's way of directing us. What seems like a twist to us is a straight line for God.
2. When we cannot alter situations, God can and He does.
3. In His plan, unmanageable circumstances lead to the place and the time of His choosing for our best interest. Bobby did not understand why things happened the way that they did. Some of his greatest disappointments turned out good. Our lives continue to move in His plan.
4. What becomes clear to us is the progression of God's perfect plan. Progression is always based upon timing. There is a timing in our lives. Bob loved this service. Every New Years is about time. Bobby traced Bob's life from one place to the next. God's plan was perfectly timed all the way even in the final 7 years.
5. As believers, we must rely on God's plan and especially on His timing for the unfolding of that plan. We get so impatient; we want it now.
6. There are so many factors that we have no knowledge of. But God knows where He wants to take us in His plan.
7. We must be aware of timing in God's plan. God's timing is perfect. Our part is simply to mature and wait for His plan to unfold. However, we are abstinent and we are impatient.

Abraham is a prototype for bad timing. The great man of God; what a beautiful example of bad timing. God promised Abraham at age 75 that he and Sarah would have a son. All they had to do was to be patient and wait upon God. A greater plan would come together at the right time. The years passed and nothing happened; and there were other complications. After a certain point, Sarah could not have children. Sarah was concerned: "We are getting too old." Even when it seems like it is too late.

Sarah finally decided to take matters into her own hands. She knew about the promise and decided that maybe God wanted her to make it all happen. Admittedly, that is a hard one. We are required to make decisions in life. We do not just sit on our thumbs. Decisions outside of the plan of God as found in Bible doctrine is always wrong. If you have no doctrine, how can you know what is right and wrong? Too often we lose patience and we get God's plan mixed up with our plan. That is the case with Sarah under these circumstances. She ignored God's Word and she ignored His promises. Sarah was ignorant or she willfully ignored God's plan. So she did something obviously out of God's will; she offered her husband a surrogate to impregnate. Not a medical procedure that we are talking about here.

In God's timing, Sarah would be a mother for Abraham's child. But she began to emote. This is similar to Adam being led by Eve. Abraham liked Sarah's plan. Hagar must have really been hot. What guy would resist having sex with a beautiful gal when his wife says it is okay? A smart man. A man who stays within the confines of God's standards. With doctrine, it is not hard to understand what God's immediate plan is.

Abraham retired to his tent with Hagar. Sarah must have regretted this decision the second they went off to a tent.

When you remove yourself from God's Word and God's timing. There will be problems and discipline. Ishmael was a nightmare and the father of the Arab nations.

Gen. 17:1–2 "I am God almighty; walk before Me and be blameless." Get back with My plan and do what you are supposed to. "And I will establish you..."

God was so gracious and understanding to restate His promise. Sometimes, He does that with us. God does this in not-so-subtle ways to gain our attention.

Abraham waiting several decades for the fulfillment of God's promises.

We are an impatient bunch of people. We live in an age in instant gratification; instant self-indulgence. We are used to things happening in rapid succession, when and where we want it to happen. And we get frustrated when it happens outside of our own timetable.

The believer must stop watching his own clock. We need to cease thinking that we can push all the right buttons at the right time. You cannot control the plan of God for yourself. God's hands move; ours don't.

God does not direct us when to get out of bed in the morning. But He does open doors for us to make decisions to walk through.

A Summary So Far

1. One result of renovating our minds with doctrine is the patience to orient to God's timing. We become patient; we realize that God has a plan.
2. Patience is a fruit of the Spirit.
3. That maturity recognizes God's plan and His timing. Our execution of that plan requires patience in that plan.

4. Patience requires circumspection and prudence.
5. Patience is not precipitous it is not impetuous; it is not a rush to judgment or actions. Bobby can sometimes be impetuous. Think in the plan of God.
6. With patience and wisdom we will recognize open and closed doors and we will make life decisions. We are just waling along in life renovating our thinking; and a door opens or a door closes. The Christian life demands patience. It is one day at a time. We do not need to worry about what will occur way out there in time. We just need to live each day. God will take care of tomorrow. This places us in the plan of God and ready for Him to accomplish His purpose for us. That purpose is renewed daily.

Also the subject for the next two Bible classes.

The yearly prediction. 2013 will be a very grim year. Our economy is poised for a recession or a depression. Our national debt is spiraling out of control. The political class unable to act. And the people are more enslaved to government programs and welfare. And there is little knowledge of doctrine in the land. There is scoffing and rejection of Biblical Christianity everywhere you look.

But there is hope. Bobby thinks of Abraham at the gates of Sodom. Sodom lived up to it infamous name. Abraham speaking with God humbly asked God to spare that city. "I will spare Sodom if there are 50 righteous men in the city." Abraham talked God down to 10 righteous men.

In this narrative; Abraham wants this city to survive. The Lord would spare the degenerate city if there were only 10 advancing believers in that city. That is all He required. How many believers today are growing spiritually and living in the United States today? How many does it take for the Lord to spare us. Gen. 18 it does not require not many. Bobby believes that we will be spared as a nation because there are mature believers in our land. Bobby believes that we will survive for a generation or two. But we may face great discipline.

Bobby is looking at those few. Just those in the room of Berachah might be enough. We will survive, but it depends upon us. So we cannot afford to neglect Bible doctrine or our spiritual growth even for a day. This is critical for all of us.

Lesson #0002

God's Timing

1/1/2013 Wed

Reese passed away.

God's timing is the divine sequencing of events in order to fulfill God's purpose for our lives. We must understand that we must be patient in God's plan and we must orient to His timing.

Introductory Points to God's Timing

1. We cannot execute the plan of God unless we acknowledge that God has a right time for everything; hence we will utilize faith rest. This means we can relax in the progress of our lives.
2. It is a matter of being in synch with God's plan.
3. Getting out of synch is a matter of being out of fellowship; out of the will of God. Being dissatisfied with present circumstances, whatever the might be.
4. Once a believer is out of synch, there is no calibration that can put it all back together for us. There is no way to have tranquility of soul without God's timing.
5. Human timing may be related to a lucky break, to happenstance; but God's timing is always connected to Bible doctrine. How many people depend upon luck or think what happens to them is coincidence.
6. There is no peace when you are out pushing your own agenda on your own schedule. You are constantly in turmoil, pushing, shoving.
7. You make decisions being mindful of the doors that God opens at just the right time. You are never too old for God to open a door. We may think the hourglass has about run out, but we are still alive.
8. Be flexible; directions change as we move along in life. In His timing, directions in life will change. As you grow toward maturity, you will be aware that God has a series of moments that move you forward in His plan. It is not a broad stroke, but a minute-by-minute, day-by-day.

So how does God open and close doors?

God's Opening and Closing of Doors

1. God presents a circumstance before us or an event that requires a thought process and a decision.
2. We must think and act from the objectivity of Bible doctrine and from the strength of our spiritual life. That is when we make good decisions.
3. In that moment of time when you make a decision, which fork in the road to take. When you come to a fork in the road, take it. God has designated one for us. And we will know. We will see the open door with doctrine in our soul.
4. With doctrine being applied, you have confidence that, once you make a decision, it is God's right time for the continuance of His plan for our life.
5. If not, if you make a mistake, if you don't quite catch it, God will redirect us by opening another door and closing one behind you. You will be redirected. We have all made wrong, bad decisions. He redirects us constantly.
6. Either way, with a good or bad decision, in His time, we will turn a page in our life and then we keep moving. It may not be a direction that we do not want to go. His plan continues with directions in life based upon His timing. We may meet our husband or wife at just the right time for both of us, and we will make a good decision. We may have a job offer and make a decision at the right time; or we may face some adversity which jolts us into synchronization with His watch instead of ours.

Timing is everything in God's plan. There is a way that God directs history and how He does it personally. We will get a general look.

Ecclesiastes 3:1–8 is the passage that we will be studying.

Eccles. 3:1 There is an occasion for everything, and a time for every activity under heaven:

Ecclesiastes 3:1

- 1.
2. God's hand is in every event. He controls the progress of this world.
3. Things happen in His timing which further His plan. But God does not determine our decisions; we make those. Until the day that we die, the entire unfolding of God's plan for us. Our national environment. If you are wrapped up in politics to the exclusion of trusting the Lord, there will be a time for your discipline.

This is called wisdom literature.

Every day is a gracious gift from God. We should have respect for every day that we receive, and there are only so many days. There aren't that many. We do not know when we are going to check out.

God's plan is progressing every day.

How Do We Regard Each Day?

1. Every day is a progression of God's good time for a specific purpose in His plan for us. Every single day. There are no holidays in this plan.
2. We possess time in order to glorify God and to live the spiritual life that He has designed for us. That is why we get every day. Each day is one step in that process.
3. Eph. 5:16 redeem the time for His purposes. God has a plan for our lives.
4. Time apart from His plan is wasted time. There is some downtime; we get to vacation and we can relax. There is a time for every event under heaven.

Eccles. 3:1 There is an occasion for everything, and a time for every activity under heaven:

Eccles. 3:2 a time to give birth and a time to die; a time to plant and a time to uproot;

Within a framework of His timing, there are categories of activities and life choices, and each category is antithetical to the other. God has ordained when anyone will be born and when one will die. Every day is one that He has provided. We have a right time to be born; that is His plan. That is His business. He imputes that soul-life to us.

People often complain about the timing and circumstances to which we are born. They don't like their station in life or their parents and they blame their early life for their later life. They blame others for their own bad decisions. If you have any complains about the circumstances of your birth, then your understanding of God's plan is minimal. If you look back and resent early environment or parents or whatever, then you are out-of-synch with God's plan. Our birth is an event under heaven. It is our opening gambit and we have come onto the scene at just exactly the right time. Our early experiences form us and form our early thinking. At the same time, God will use those experiences to form us for His future purposes. They may be bad or terrible circumstances, but believing in Christ and growing in maturity will always change cursing into blessing. Renovated thinking cleanses the past. However, there is a question to answer.

How Could Terrible Early Circumstances Be Advantageous to Anyone?

1. When you are positive toward doctrine, you will latch onto it more fiercely, recognizing its importance.
2. Likewise, based on your experience, you can serve Him in that arena.
3. Whatever your background, God can use us and use it for His purposes.

Our time to die is just at the right time. Not one minute before and not one minute after. We always seem to get concerned about death and when and how we are going to die. We could die in a sudden catastrophe, in an automobile accident, in bed at an old age. None of us know. This is why people are afraid of death. It is the fear of the unknown. People get morbid about it; the fear of the unknown. It is in God's hands and a part of His plan.

What about suicide. Christians do commit suicide. But suicide is just a sin and a sin that takes us out of God's plan early. We have destroyed God's plan for the rest of our lives. We are to live on God's timetable. We are to live in a way or a time that is God's plan. God is never wrong, but suicide is. We have no reason to end our life before His time. Without doctrine, you cannot understand divine viewpoint. You will get caught up in your circumstances.

We know that God is not going to take us sooner or later than His plan. So why worry about it. So you can come to death with a relaxed mental attitude, anticipating the moment that God takes you home. You must put the time and the manner in His hands. Death is the beginning of eternal life for the believer. Time is no longer an issue. There will be no increments of time? Until then, life is lived for Christ and what follows is eternal life.

We are given Bible doctrine and eternal life. Might as well enjoy time while we are here.

Hebrew poetry has lines, and there is a parallelism; but there is no rhyming or iambic pentameter. But there is parallelism. The first line is parallel to the second. They can be synonymous, or opposites, or one builds on the other. Poetry is even easier to understand, and this is why God uses it.

A time to plant matches with a time to give birth; a time to uproot is synonymous with a time to die. In time, a plant is uprooted with the intention of there being another plant put in its place.

When we leave this earth, we leave it for the next generation to take over.

There is a time to start earning a living; there is a time to pursue an occupation. All the events of our life.

God said to Adam, "By the sweat of your face, you will eat bread." We never retire from God's plan. People work with the view toward retirement. Why look forward all of your life to retirement? You do not watch the sunset and go fishing for the rest of your life. We are commanded to work and earn our own living. God's plan is not for us to live by means of the government. We do not live on a welfare check. In God's timing and in God's way, He will open doors to His way. We will have a job, a vocation or a business. It may not be exactly the job that you want, but you will have one.

A time for the believer to relate his occupation, his job, to his full-time Christian service. This is an opportunity for us to fulfill our Christian service. We do not check it at the door.

Most of our life is spent at work. You cannot put your spiritual life on hold. It is a crucial time to serve the Lord where we spend most of our lives. During periods of time at work we are given opportunities to witness, to apply doctrine, to glorify God. This is where you so often come into contact with unbelievers. You have an obnoxious boss or an obnoxious co-worker.

Eccles. 3:2 a time to give birth and a time to die; a time to plant and a time to uproot;

Eccles. 3:3 a time to kill and a time to heal; a time to tear down and a time to build;

There is a time to kill and a time to heal. To kill, to slay, to kill violently, killing in war. This is part of the events of human history. You may kill in self-defense or as capital punishment. There is a time for it. Do not go out and protest against capital punishment; it is legitimate.

Sergeant York was a conscientious objector who eventually won the medal of honor. He finally got it (I guess this is a movie).

The scars of war must give way to a healing process. Many of our greatest medical advances have developed out of war. Many who would have died are restored by these techniques. For those who are injured and remain, God's plan has not ceased. You do not step out of God's plan if you lose a limb or all 4.

There is a different process also when returning from war. It takes time to adjust from being a soldier to being a civilian. Renovated thinking clears the past.

A time to tear down and a time to build up. These provide parameters for destruction and for restoration.

Tear down can be a natural disaster or it can be done intentionally. God allows a time for a destruction of a city or even to the people of a city. It can also mean to demolish a nation as well. However, that nation can become corrupt and degenerate. No longer is it a nation that adheres to divine establishment or to doctrine. Then it is time for divine demolishing.

Is it God's time to discipline our nation? We are in a status of degeneracy. Would this bring us back to greatness or to a new client nation in the world?

Bobby predicts that we have a few generations left.

Qal infinitive construct of banah, which is found in Genesis when God made the woman. The rebuilding means there is hope for our own nation.

Eccles. 3:3 a time to kill and a time to heal; a time to tear down and a time to build;

Eccles. 3:4 a time to weep and a time to laugh; a time to mourn and a time to dance;

There is a time to weep and a time to laugh; mourn; dance. There is a very specific type of weeping or mourning. This is to weep or mourn for those who have died. There is time given to us to grieve for those who have departed, for those whom we love. At some point you must pick up and carry on. There cannot be perpetual weeping. That is morbid and outside of the plan of God.

What breaks the cycle of grief? You replace the grief with the fragrance of memory for those you have lost. Everyone who loses a fellow believer has the assurance of what is coming.

Snap out of mourning and move on to the next allowance of time. We have only so many days on earth. Do not spend that time in sorrow.

There is a time to laugh and a time to dance. There is happiness and social life. The dance here is social dancing at a party and an expression of happiness in social life. King David was one of the great dancers and singers of all time. He sang just out of the sheer joy of being alive and being in God's plan. He was in tremendous adversity and yet he was out there dancing. This is an expression of joy of God's grace.

Some have social life to forget. It is a time of true joy. You can dance and laugh and have a great social life because it is a reflection of our relaxed mental attitude. It is living each day for the Lord in His timing and His plan.

Eccles. 3:4 a time to weep and a time to laugh; a time to mourn and a time to dance;

Eccles. 3:5 a time to throw stones and a time to gather stones; a time to embrace and a time to avoid embracing;

To cause to throw stones is a part of war and serving one's country. This can also refer to the execution of criminals. They would throw stones until the criminal was dead.

Gathering stones is the opposite of this; this is gathering stones in order to plow a field or to construct a wall or a home.

Our society is sex-obsessed and this is about sex.

A Time for Sex

1. Contrary to popular culture, conjugal acts have limitations. Pastor in a mega-church in San Antonio told his married members to have sex every day for 30 days.
2. Obsession with sex is destructive.
3. Any person whose entire life is wrapped up in sexuality is abnormal. The current cultural norm is wrong in this area.
4. Over-emphasizing sex means a loss of capacity for other things in life. This can be obsession with anything in life. It is a complete lack of capacity for other things.
5. When the person emphasizes the body, he has no basis for real friendships with the opposite sex. There is no time to get acquainted.
6. There is a time for sex; there is a time to express soul rapport and recreation inside the confines of marriage; and it is a wonderful part of life. But it must occur in its own time. Since God invented sex, there should be time allotted for it. There are a lot of people who are very legalistic about this subject.
7. The time to refrain from embracing means a time to give your soul an opportunity for other things that are also wonderful in life. When you obsess on something, you miss other things. This is true in almost any area in life. Sex is a good illustration.

Eccles. 3:5 a time to throw stones and a time to gather stones; a time to embrace and a time to avoid embracing;

Eccles. 3:6 a time to search and a time to count as lost; a time to keep and a time to throw away;

A time to search is being aggressive in pursuit of a normal objective, whether it is business or the military; to be aggressive, to achieve an objective. There is another side to this. There is a time to lose and this is the Piel infinitive construct and it means to give up. No one wants to give up when they want something bad enough, but sometimes we simply go after things that are simply wrong for us. A common problem. A time to give up as lost those things or people for the sake of living in peace and not have a tortured soul.

There is also a time to keep and guard; the things you have accumulated in life, to hold onto them. There is also a time to divest yourself of these things. This pushes the scale of values out of balance. These things can hinder your spiritual growth, so that has to be taken consideration. There is also a time to divest; a time to let go. This is based upon your wise evaluation and application to your circumstances. You cannot know God's timing unless you can wisely evaluate your circumstances. You can keep your priority on doctrine. There is room for both. As long as it does not supercede your spiritual growth.

Eccles. 3:6 a time to search and a time to count as lost; a time to keep and a time to throw away;

Eccles. 3:7 a time to tear and a time to sew; a time to be silent and a time to speak;

This is one of the great practical principles of life. Most people think about tearing something apart and also sewing it back together. Think of it as friendships in life or relationships in life.

Applying this Verse to Friendships

1. It is inevitable for a believer who is growing spiritually that some relationships in life must be terminated.
2. You will have to forget about some friends; those you have great rapport with in some areas.
3. You see when these people become a distraction to your spiritual life, you can no longer afford to associate with them. It simply means do not intimately associate with them. Some will wield influence over you; particularly true of romantic relationships.
4. Many believers spiritual advance has been halted dead in its tracks by the bad influence of conflicting values. Human viewpoint. Is insidious. It is such a normal way of thinking in this world that it is easy to lose sight. So there is a time to tear apart.

There is also time to mend; there is a wrong time to cut off people; and some people might be a good influence just when you are losing sight of something. You are getting stubborn and your immaturity takes over. It is just not what you want to hear. They did not capitulate to your desire. You have now reacted. Because of that. Instead of mending, instead of sewing together, you get to miss a great source of wisdom. Great advice can come from those who know you and can offer you great doctrinal advice.

So often, children, whether 40 or 15 resent good advice from parents. That is a time when you must put it together. Who knows you best in life and knows your weaknesses better than anyone else. Your parents have watched you from the moment they took you home. They know you. If they have some doctrine, do not resent their advice.

Parents, be sure that you don't put yourself over your adult children. Once you react to that, you cut people off.

Some people are hypersensitive do not want to hear criticism. Sometimes you have to walk very lightly in your advice. It takes humility on your part to receive advice. It takes humility to admit that maybe you have been wrong.

If you want to just manipulate others, that is not mending. You do not seek to control and to manipulate. Great relationships are lost just in that way. That is where you must be very careful. It is so easy to tear apart. You must be wise and you must be mature and sensitive in certain areas; but you must also be firm when necessary. That takes wisdom.

A time to be silent and a time to speak. You must listen to what others say; some just like to talk. A friend of Bobby's a professional athlete, and they ask his opinion and suddenly give him their opinion. If you talk all of the time, clearly the Bible says, there will be foolishness in your words. Prov. 17:28 even a fool can be thought wise when he keeps his mouth closed.

Why Is Being Quiet Good?

1. You cannot learn while you are talking. It is always time to learn.
2. Job 33:33 keep silent and I will teach you wisdom.
3. When you listen, you learn in the realm of doctrine and you learn in the realm of human associations.
4. Find out what other people think; learn about other people. Do this so that you don't see things in people that don't exist; qualities that they do not have. Like integrity. If you don't listen and watch, how can you tell if a person has integrity or not. Many a person has been lost because they never bothered to listen before.
5. When you listen, you can deal wisely in association with people.
6. You can discern who to stay away from. Who is wise and who is foolish. That is a must if you are going to associate with people.
7. When you speak, you must do so with wisdom.

There are a lot of good talkers and those who can babble on and on; but only those who can concentrate on what they are saying.

Eccles. 3:7 a time to tear and a time to sew; a time to be silent and a time to speak;

Those are the general issues of timing in life.

Eccles. 3:8 a time to love and a time to hate; a time for war and a time for peace.

Guess we are not covering v. 8?

Now we want to go to the specific timing in the life of the believer. Bad timing is inextricably linked to narcissism and self-centeredness. They are out of synch with the plan of God because they are thinking only of their own plan. He has his own place because it is in his own mind, and he thinks that it is better than God's plan.

Good timing in the Christian life is simply an issue of doing the will of God instead of doing our own will. Humility, teachability, the believer develops the patience to wait in the progress of his life. The plan of God is a progression throughout your life.

One of the great issues in the progress in life; getting ahead in life. A promotion to a higher station in life, getting a higher rank in the military, or wherever. There is nothing wrong with any of those ambitions, except when it can become a battle better arrogance and impatience. The arrogance of self-promotion based on one's own timing. Self-indulgence; a bigger salary a bigger home great prestige, all for the purpose of furthering your own plan to the exclusion of God's plan. Whose plan are you pushing? Whose will are you following? It boils down to self promotion versus divine promotion.

You can work; you can become competent; you can gain promotion in that way. But the timing aspect of God's plan is to let God promote you at the right time of His choosing. Let's say you have worked your tail off and you are the best in the office, and someone else is promoted over you. The plan of God marches on and we are in it. What God wants will come to fruition. For the believer, if God does not promote you then you are not promoted.

If it is your plan, then it is self-serving; not Christian service and not divine good.

What is the right time for promotion? This must further God's plan. God has a plan for our life and the progression of that plan has to do with His timing and we are a cog of a much greater plan than we realize. His timing comes together for the greater picture of His plan.

We wait for the plan of God to unfold, including promotion. We wait for the plan of God; God decides that. No one illustrates the principle of God's timing and destiny any more than one particular man in the Old Testament. His name is Joseph, the grandson of Abraham. God's timing sometimes includes disaster. We may not like that. There must be patience and wisdom applied in order to watch God's plan work.

So much of God's plan appears to be a disaster. This is the era of the patriarchs and Joseph's life preserved them and preserved all of Israel.

Jacob promotes his youngest son Joseph, and his father put a coat of many colors on him. That was to let his brothers know that he was in charge. But he was too young and not ready. This was a huge promotion but that is not what God's plan was all about.

Joseph experienced an enforced separation from his father. It was God's will for him to be separated from his father. He needed to be moved along in God's timing.

His brothers hated him and were ready to kill him. They wanted to figure out how to kill him. Judah said they should not kill him. "Let's sell him and we will get the money for it." This was a disaster for Joseph. Joseph's greatness was going to be based on Bible doctrine in the circumstances of his slavery. As a slave, he was subject completely to God's timing.

In all of this, Joseph had to learn patience in God's plan for him. So, how did this work for him? We are going to see the progression of Joseph's life. His brothers sell him to some Ishmaelites and then they sold him to the Midianites. The Midianites left for Egypt and Joseph would never see his homeland ever again. But this was not a disaster as it would appear in human terms. This was also not happenstance. There are no accidents and no luck in God's plan. Joseph would never guess that this would be in Egypt.

In Egypt the Midianites sold him again to Potipher, an important man to pharaoh. It seems like another disaster. But it is just one more well-timed event. These were not pleasant, but it was God's plan and His timing.

He became the prime minister of Egypt, at just the right time. If Joseph not been in Egypt, Israel would not have survived. He became the instrument of saving his family. They wanted to kill him; they sold him into slavery; and he saved them.

Joseph had many changes of circumstance. But God never left him in a lurch.

Joseph even as a slave in the house of Potipher, he became Potipher's most trusted household servant. However, in Gen. 39, Potipher's wife decides to seduce him. Joseph refuses and she claims rape; and Potipher throws him into prison for something that he did not do. It was not God's time for his promotion. This all fit into the timing that God had for Joseph's life. This is a progression; lessons learned. However, he prospered even in prison.

Joseph had skills. The jailer liked Joseph so much that he had complete charge of all the prisoners and he ended up running the entire jail. Wherever he ended up, God showed him grace no matter the circumstances. He had to learn that God's plan sometimes involved patience and difficulties. We must always accept the difficulties in our life and learn from them.

Joseph, it is amazing. He has passed the people test of hatred, jealousy; the prosperity test, the temptation test; the injustice test; and each of these incidents was just one more step in God's training of Joseph for his future. Passing these tests is not the finish line. Every day, there is a new day and His plan for us progresses. Just passing those tests do not make Joseph complete. There still needs to be some training and some refining.

So, more injustice is on the way; and Joseph himself is the cause of this injustice. The world is filled with acts of injustice. People will hate you simply because you are a believer in Jesus Christ. They will repeat any lie about you and repeat anything that is derogatory about you.

What Joseph must Learn About God's Timing

1. You are not to defend yourself. Those who want to believe the worst of you, will do so, no matter how well you defend yourself.
2. You never become great in the Christian life by defending yourself.
3. Self-vindication is all about your timing and not God's.
4. Self-vindication is failure to faith rest; failure to be patient. Failure to wait on God's timing.

Only God's plan and timing is what we need to wait on. This is part of having a personal sense of destiny in God's plan.

Joseph is still in prison and he is growing impatient. He is now working on His plan and his timing. But he fails to wait on the Lord. He sees a chance to get out of prison. He meets a high nobleman, and that man has a dream, and Joseph interprets the dream. This is a correct interpretation, but Joseph asks the man a favor. "Remember me." Joseph puts his faith in this man. "Do me a kindness and get me out of this place." He put his trust in the memory of this man. God knows exactly where Joseph is and God did not forget at any point where Joseph is.

Better to take refuge in the Lord than to trust in man (or in presidents, Congressmen, Senators, etc.). When we put our trust in man, we have gotten away from God's timing. Joseph required two more years to understand God's timing. He had 80 more years because his training was finally over.

Summary

1. God's timing is best; it does not depend upon fickle man.
2. Favors from man are unstable and unreliable, no matter how powerful he is. Just ask John Boehner tonite.
3. God's timing depends upon God's power; not upon man's favors. In whom do you place your trust?
4. We must learn to wait on God's timing through the consistent application of doctrine and the humility of patience.
5. God does not use believers who depend upon man. Instead, they get discipline. God uses those who wait on Him.

Isa. 40:31 they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up the; they shall run and not be weary. Our life will unfold in God's good time. It is a continuous progression of God's timing and grace timing.

Joseph lived with God's timing and his life counted big-time in the plan of God.

Lesson #0377

Matt. 7:16 Life of Christ

1/1/2013 1Sunday

It seems to be appropriate that we address something occurring in churches today. The subject is complex and it involves the sorting out of many theologies. Satan always attacks in very basic areas of Christianity in order to throw believers off track.

Could this be covenant theology?

Matt. 7:16 You'll recognize them by their fruit. Are grapes gathered from thornbushes or figs from thistles?

Believers growing in grace will, in fact, be led astray by the doctrine of false teachers.

This particular verse, this understanding of fruit, is one of the more divisive and debated of verses today among evangelical churches. This passage differentiates between two different viewpoints of salvation by faith. What makes a person a believer in Christ.

What Are the Differences and the Questions?

1. Both groups are believers. But, where is it that these two groups differ? They differ as to what fruit actual refers to. It is the production. They differ on the impetus of faith; where does this faith come from?
2. One group believes that faith is guaranteed if they are elected in eternity past for salvation. They will express faith at some point, because God so appointed them. Or the other side believes that faith is a choice.
3. Is fruit the outer manifestation of the Christian life or the result of the Christian life?
4. Does faith in Christ guarantee that all believers will become experientially righteous? Is it possible for one to be a believer and to produce no fruit in his Christian life. That is where this entire controversy boils down to.
5. Does the production of good deeds determine whether or not the person is saved? If that is true, then there is a possibility of a person who professes to be a believer in Christ, whose faith is false. His faith is a sham.

Bobby saw in a blog article, which was quoted in a magazine. 16August of 2012 Matthew Weymeyer. There is no third category of individuals who have been saved who continue in the same carnality that they were when unbelievers. A person may have the free gift of eternal life, and then he will not fail. He says there is no such thing as continuous carnality or reversionism in the life of a believer.

Another pastor who Bobby must name, John MacArthur, who is a big proponent of Lordship salvation. "I have never taught that some pre-salvation works are necessary to or a part of salvation." And that is true. But he adds, "But I do believe without apology that real salvation cannot and will not fail to produce works of righteousness in the life of a true believer." You don't have to have works to be saved, but you must have works to prove that you are saved. "There are no saving works in the saving act, but God's work of salvation includes a change of intent; a change of will; a change of desire and attitude that inevitably produces the fruit of the spirit. Saving faith will produce a transformation of thinking and works...you are not born again unless you can prove it by your works." They front-load salvation and then back-load the works which are required. Do you see how subtle that is and yet how damaging it is? That idea is called lordship salvation commonly known as faith+. The good works prove that your salvation is real.

True salvation means regeneration will be accompanied with good works.

On the free grace side is much simpler, and that is the position of Berachah Church. John 3:16 faith alone in Christ alone results in eternal life. Regardless of what happens for the rest of that person's life, they are saved. That is grace without accompanying works.

A syllogism of those two viewpoints to clarify the difference. Bobby is paraphrasing by Bob Wilkin from Grace in Focus. He is one of the foremost proponents of the grace salvation.

The major premise is, transformation (including fruit production) is guaranteed to all who truly believe in Christ. The minor premise, there is found no clear proof in a believer of a truly transformed life. A person without works means that person does not have the faith; no regeneration took place.

The other side of the coin; the free grace syllogism. All who believe in Christ have eternal life. Nothing else. Faith alone in Christ alone. Minor premise is, I have believed in Jesus Christ alone. Therefore, we will always possess eternal life, whether or not we produce the fruit that is expected.

If someone is convinced of lordship salvation, that fruits are guaranteed, then that believer will believe his eternal assurance of salvation is dependent upon his works. That is really a form of works-salvation. "Am I fruity enough?"

if you believe in Christ, but believe in lordship salvation, then you can only quell your concerns by producing good fruit. You will not consider Bible doctrine the #1 priority in your life and growing spiritually.

Actual growth depends upon a believer's interest in Bible doctrine. Then he will produce the fruits fitting of salvation. Without Bible doctrine, the believer will not grow or produce fruit. Non-production of this fruit does not mean that a person's faith was false.

Our volition might go hot and cold. Saving faith makes spiritual growth possible, but not inevitable. When you believe in Christ, then fruit production is possible, but not guaranteed.

The false doctrine of the perseverance of the saints. After the moment of faith in Christ, they will live lives acceptable to the fruit inspectors. Those who teach lordship salvation are ravenous wolves destroying the faith of their congregations.

There is the problem of, how much do I need to produce?

The fruit inspector always has to figure, how big a crop is necessary. "If you are a Christian, you will produce a large enough of a crop to show that you are truly a Christian."

Fruit inspectors become bullies. Then they get into all of these various criteria. Are you doing things that are not very Christ-like? Do you smoke and drink? An endless loop of uncertainty. These believers promote strife and uncertainty who are proponents of this false doctrine.

The very foundation of the Christian life is doctrine. They do not want to concentrate on what the mechanics of the spiritual life are; and what good deeds and good works really mean. One is a result. Good works are a result of our spiritual growth, not vice versa.

They are the by-product of our spiritual growth. Do not doubt your salvation if you have once believed in Jesus Christ.

Matt. 7:16 You'll recognize them by their fruit. Are grapes gathered from thornbushes or figs from thistles?

Lesson #0378

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

1/1/2013 2Sunday

Bobby has covered the false doctrine of bearing fruit, as opposed to free grace; grace that is sufficient in faith alone in Christ alone. Bobby does not like to present false doctrine to us, but it is important to reveal this insidious false doctrine. It clouds the issue of salvation.

Matt. 7:16 You'll recognize them by their fruit. Are grapes gathered from thornbushes or figs from thistles?

This is not the only problem that it causes. There are other aspects to our spiritual life. If you are involved in this faith+ attitude. Believers who reject salvation by grace become fruit inspectors. They opt for legalistic standards for fruit production. You can always recognize the fruit inspector; grace orientation is suspect to their thinking. They do not execute a grace oriented way of life. This is promoted by the entire doctrine of perseverance of the saints; limited atonement. All of these doctrines are skewed by this viewpoint.

A person who expresses faith in Christ in one moment in time, they are fully saved. That is our eternal future; that is how far grace extends. Salvation is not buoyed by works.

Believers who are involved in faith+ have a problem with rebound. Rebound is necessary to continue our spiritual advance. So that sin has less and less control over our life. Our area of weakness must be dealt with. Some of these legalists do not use rebound. They cannot produce fruit; they cannot produce divine good; only human good. Rebound is the means to stay in fellowship. Sin to a greater or lesser extent is not the determining factor of our salvation.

Our production is divine good. However, whatever human good that we do is no different than the human good that an unbeliever produces. What is the fruit production? How does it prove anything if the unbeliever can do it?

The legalist cannot produce divine good. In his hypocrisy and the mental attitude sins present in the legalist. Mental attitude sins are inherent in the legalist. They are constantly judging and maligning. They are filled with mental attitude sins. Therefore, they cannot produce divine good. Good works, divine good are the byproducts of the spiritual life. Without a spiritual life, the legalist is striving to produce fruit. The very people demanding fruit and good works from others are the ones who are incapable of producing fruit of divine good. That is irony. Yet they judge others by their fruit. The pharisees were masters of that sort of judging and legalism.

If the believer's spiritual life is stagnant, divine good is not produced. But the lack of good works reveals that you are out of fellowship and/or immature; it does not mean that you never believed in Jesus Christ. To the legalist, good works are the means of the spiritual life, not the result of the spiritual life.

The fruit inspector always leaves out rebound and the filling of the Holy Spirit as a means of the production of divine good. How many people believe that Christianity is nothing but good works? For many, good works are the criteria for the Christian life. The legalist does not produce divine good; but if they have believed, then they are saved despite the lack of production in their lives.

Their Christianity is so often so superficial.

Legalistic Fruit Inspectors

1. These are believers, these who are legalistic, but they strive for outward production. They minimize the inner renovation of Bible doctrine for spiritual growth and for fruit production. There will be fruit present in the life of the believer who is growing; but it is real fruit, not some superficial human good.
2. The superficial believer never understands fully grace orientation. It is how you think, not what you produce.
3. These are the believers who will judge other believers who fail to meet their legalistic standards of fruit production. You do not need to worry about anyone else and you do not need to judge anyone else.
4. The superficial legalist will judge those who do not produce fruit to be unbelievers. You are shamed and manipulated into producing works that please them. Endless circle of fear, rededication, and striving for works. Little spiritual growth as a result. Then churches raise up apios, which refers to believers.
5. Believers are labeled unregenerate because they have not produced the good works that should happen if they were truly believers. We do get off-track, but the grace of God provides for that. We do not need to be manipulated.

Some theologies believe that you can be saved and then lose it for not accomplishing enough good works. This is how some believers get other believers to lead a respectable life.

Do, how can a murderer or an adulterer enter into the Kingdom of Heaven? The Bible says in no uncertain terms that those who do all the things that we believe disqualify us, don't.

Ways to Refer to Believers Who Have Gone Astray

1. Prov. 15:9 wicked. Plenty of Christians who think that adultery is the end of life.
2. An unstable soul. The guilt, anguish, anger, all those mental attitude sins that make a person's life miserable.
3. 1Tim. 1:19 a believer suffers shipwreck.
4. Gal. 5:4 falling or drifting off course.

5. Enemies of the cross in Philip. 3?
6. 2Peter 2:7–8 a tortured soul.
7. Many other terms to describe the believer in Scripture; and comes from the book of Reversionism.

The idea that we can be judged for our works and think that...

1Sam. 16:7 God looks on the inner man. God does not see as man sees. Man looks at the outward appearance. You cannot judge someone's salvation based upon their external appearance. Only God truly knows who has express faith alone in Christ alone.

When you are concerned about this or that person, it is just that one spark of faith that results in faith in Christ. Once they believe, they are eternally secure. The fruit inspector wants to take that job away from the Lord. They look at the lack of fruit and they judge. They are manipulative. They want to shoe horn a person into Christianity. In fact, many of these fruit inspectors are not even concerned whether a person is actually saved.

When we worry about a person is saved, with give them the gospel. We don't try to argue them into good works. When you bring works into the equation, then you confuse others.

Matt. 7:16 You'll recognize them by their fruit. Are grapes gathered from thornbushes or figs from thistles?

We will now look at how we recognize a false teacher; not a false believer. That is the context of this verse. It is their false doctrine. We evaluate a person's teaching; not a person's life. We should evaluate the teaching of a believer. Doctrinal teaching is how we grow, so we must be able to distinguish.

Lesson #0379

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

1/9/2013 Wed

Believers need to understand this particular subject.

Matt. 7:16 You'll recognize them by their fruit. Are grapes gathered from thornbushes or figs from thistles?

Luke 6:43 is a part of the synoptic gospels. These authors wrote at different times under different circumstances, and their gospels agree dramatically. However, I think that Luke probably used the existing gospels of Mark and Matthew.

Luke 6:43 "A good tree doesn't produce bad fruit; on the other hand, a bad tree doesn't produce good fruit.

Luke 6:44 For each tree is known by its own fruit. Figs aren't gathered from thornbushes, or grapes picked from a bramble bush.

Continuing with the Matthew passage.

Matt. 7:17 In the same way, every good tree produces good fruit, but a bad tree produces bad fruit.

Matt. 7:18 A good tree can't produce bad fruit; neither can a bad tree produce good fruit.

Summary of this Good Fruit/bad Fruit Passage

1. The tree in Matt. 7:16 Luke 6:43 represents people who are to be identified by their fruit. The bad trees are the false teachers, which would include the pharisees in this context.
2. If they are a good tree, then those teachers will teach correct doctrine and spiritual growth. They will produce good fruit, which is good doctrine.
3. If they are a bad tree, in this context, meaning false teachers, they produce bad fruit because they teach false doctrine.
4. In this context, the false teachers are unbelievers, but not because they produce bad fruit; they produce bad fruit because they teach the bad doctrine of legalism. We can universally apply this to those who teach false doctrine. If they teach false doctrine, then the teaching they do is false.
5. It is the fruit of false doctrine that always indicates a bad tree; a false prophet.
6. This is also true of preachers and teachers today who are believers and are teaching wrong doctrine. There are literally thousands of preachers who teach false doctrine. The lordship or faith+ crowd who teach the perseverance of the saints, even though most of them are believers.

Tree and Fruit Production

1. In this case, fruit stands for what is said, what is spoken; not with what is done by way of outward works. Producing good fruit is teaching correct doctrine.
2. If they were a good tree teaching true doctrine, then their tree would bear good fruit.
3. A bad tree produces the bad fruit of false doctrine.

This defines what a bad teacher is. The true test of a bad or good tree is what is in that person's soul.

Luke 6:45 A good man produces good out of the good storeroom of his heart. An evil man produces evil out of the evil storeroom, for his mouth speaks from the overflow of the heart.

When you hear someone speak, they reveal it by what they say, whether they are a good or bad tree. True doctrine does not come out of a mind that thinks heresy. The pharisees are not good trees; they are false teachers of false doctrine. They are counterfeit. This can be true of believers who are legalistic as well.

2Cor. 11:13–15 For such people are false apostles, deceitful workers, disguising themselves as apostles of Christ. And no wonder! For Satan himself is disguised as an angel of light. So it is no great thing if his servants also disguise themselves as servants of righteousness. Their destiny will be according to their works.

False teachers are revealed what comes from their mouths. 1Tim. 4:1 calls these the doctrines of demons. This is also like teaching that you can view the fruits of an individual and determine whether or not he is a good or a bad tree.

False teachers teach the doctrine of demons. A false gospel is the greatest deception of all.

Luke 6:45 is not talking about Christians who never produce good fruit.

Maybe someone commits a sin that you do not like or it shocks you; it is an occupational hazard of believers. All you can know is what it takes to be a believer. That is all it takes for them to be believers. If they have expressed faith alone in Christ alone, then they are believers.

Bad fruit is the indicator of a bad teacher. This passage does not address the individual status. So fruit inspecting to prove a person to be a valid Christian is not ever valid.

Matt. 7:18 A good tree can't produce bad fruit; neither can a bad tree produce good fruit.

This is absolutely true; and the analogy is true as well.

Outside of this analogy, in the realm of real trees, some good trees produce bad fruit; a freeze, not enough rain, too much rain. Fruit crops can be ruined by a number of outside forces.

Bobby is going to use his own analogy, bad fruit does not always mean that it came from a bad tree. In this analogy, a good tree is a believers; but it may produce bad fruit, carnality or legalism.

Good Tree/bad Fruit

1. Bad trees that teach false doctrine which produces bad fruit.
2. Bad trees that produce bad fruit are not professing Christians.
3. The bad trees are men who openly announce themselves as prophets who teach false doctrine.
4. This context is not about professing believers who are judged to be unbelievers due to their lack of good works or carnal activity. You can be intimidated or manipulated by some who look at you and judge your life. That is legalism and this is exactly what legalism is all about.
5. Professing Christians can produce evil or human good; which is bad fruit. But they are still good trees; they are still saved.
6. Unbelievers can produce the same human good. However, those good deeds are bad fruit from bad trees, when it is human good from an unbeliever. A believer in fellowship can do exactly the same thing, and he is producing divine good, which cannot be performed by the unbeliever. It can be the same act.

7. This is about false teachers, bad trees, false doctrine, bad fruit. Bearing fruit is a test of truth, not of salvation.

In this theological controversy that is alive and well today, the existence of good or bad fruit is never a clear indicator of the condition of salvation. A believer can live just exactly like the unbeliever, and still be saved.

A good tree can produce bad fruit in terms of a believer producing human good or sin or evil. If you understand this true doctrine, then you can never be a fruit inspector. The doctrine of eternal security; once saved, always saved.

Doctrine of Eternal Security

1. Immutability is one aspect of God's essence. He cannot change His thinking or His Word; He cannot go back on a promise. If God changed just one thing, He is not God. Heb. 13:8 Mal.
 - 1) Once God gives eternal life, it cannot be removed or withdrawn. This is a refutation of those who think that you can lose your salvation.
 - 2) Eternal life is given at faith alone in Christ alone. John 3:16
 - 3) Regeneration or the new birth is provided at faith in Christ. John 3:3
 - 4) Both regeneration and eternal life are promises secured by the immutability of God unquestionably. If we don't do good works, God's promises do not change.
 - 5) Immutability means secure throughout all of our lives. A liberating understanding. That one moment of faith secures us for all eternity.
 - 6) Even if we say, "We no longer believe; we have changed our minds;" God still remains faithful. 2Tim. 2:12-13
2. At the moment of faith alone in Christ alone, we are placed into Christ via the baptism of the Spirit. Gal. 3:26-27
 - 1) There can be no condemnation in union with Christ. Rom. 8:1
 - 2) Christ was judged and He died for our sins. Then He was resurrected to a new life and a new body. First fruits of resurrection.
 - 3) In union with Christ, we share everything that He is and everything that He has as a member of his family.
 - 4) That union guarantees that we share His eternal life. That grace endowment that cannot be taken away. This is the uninn of Christ assurance.
3. Eternal security is guaranteed by the sealing ministry of the Holy Spirit. This is another statement of Scripture.
 - 1) The moment we believe in Christ, the book of Life is opened and He impresses His seal along side of our name. Sealed. When a king put his seal on a decree, it was law and irrevocable.
 - 2) Every person who expresses faith in Christ alone is saved.

- 3) The Holy Spirit seal at the moment of faith is a guarantee that that person's name remains in the book of Life forever. 2Cor. 1:22 Eph. 1:13 2Tim. 2:19
4. We are regenerated; born again into the royal family of God. We can never be removed. John 1:12 family membership is permanent. Bobby is a member of the Thieme family. He cannot be removed no matter what he does, changing his name, etc. When a Jewish person believes in Christ, their family cuts them off; but they remain genetically in that family. Neither can an immutable God retract the family relationship that He establishes at salvation.
5. The head of the body; and He can never say to any member of His body, His arm, leg, toe, that He does not need him. We are a part of God's plan and we cannot sever ourselves from it.
6. The one Bobby loves; the believer is held in God's hand, and He will never let go.

Bobby repeats the pencil story. A military story, as he was fond of telling. A battalion commander and a company commander, who was a real hell-raiser, always in a bar in some fight always getting into trouble.

His battalion commander called him into his office. Commander told the captain to sit down. The colonel gave the captain the gospel. It does not matter how bad or how good you are. Doesn't matter how drunk you are or how many women you chase. "But, colonel, I could never adhere to all these principles." Then he holds a pencil and quotes "Neither shall anyone pluck them out of my hand.

The captain becomes a believer; and he has been in combat for a number of days and he has become a colonel. They are taken out for some recuperation. He sees a jeep coming in the distance. He sees that this is a general, but his old colonel. As they pass, the general slows down and asks him, "Sir, God still holds the pencil."

Matt. 7:17 In the same way, every good tree produces good fruit, but a bad tree produces bad fruit.

Matt. 7:18 A good tree can't produce bad fruit; neither can a bad tree produce good fruit.

This is not by being a fruit inspector. The bad fruit is the unbeliever and stunted believer learning at the feet of bad teachers (bad trees). It is easy to go to most churches and they teach Lordship salvation. False teachers have falsehood in their souls; and they are identified by the false doctrine that comes out of their mouths. Just as true an application is, a false teacher does not need to be an unbeliever. A believing pastor can be a bad tree producing bad fruit.

Any believer can bear fruit that the unbeliever can bear. A good tree can be involved in carnality. They can be self righteous hypocrites. Bad fruit does not tell us whether the teacher is saved or unsaved. The fruit inspectors, if you don't produce fruit, then you are an unbeliever, some of them say. Good works must be the indicator of whether your faith is true or false. There is no such thing as a false faith. Producing fruit does not mean that you are a believer or not; same is true if the fruit is bad. Usually, it is their immorality that sets other believers who judge them to be unbelievers. They get this by "inspecting your fruit." You are not producing what they think you ought to produce.

True fruit bearing is the result of staying in fellowship and growing.

The Doctrine of Eternal Security Continued

1. God is immutable. As immutable, once He gives eternal life, He cannot remove it. It cannot be taken away regardless. Heb. 13:8
 - a. Salvation is secured by faith. John is the gospel of belief and he makes it clear how one is saved.
 - b. The fruit of the spiritual life has nothing to do with the security of immutable salvation by faith.
 - c. Regeneration or the new birth is provided at faith in Christ. John 3:3
 - d. Both regeneration and eternal life are promises secured by the immutability of God unquestionably. If we don't do good works, God's promises do not change.
 - e. Immutability means secure throughout all of our lives. A liberating understanding. That one moment of faith secures us for all eternity.
 - f. Even if we say, "We no longer believe; we have changed our minds;" God still remains faithful. 2Tim. 2:12-13
2. At the moment of faith alone in Christ alone, we are placed into Christ via the baptism of the Spirit. Gal. 3:26-27
 - a. There can be no condemnation in union with Christ. Rom. 8:1
 - b. Christ was judged and He died for our sins. Then He was resurrected to a new life and a new body. First fruits of resurrection.
 - c. In union with Christ, we share everything that He is and everything that He has as a member of his family.
 - d. That union guarantees that we share His eternal life. That grace endowment that cannot be taken away. This is the union of Christ assurance. Jesus cannot lose His eternal life, and we cannot either. The baptism of the Spirit does not guarantee that we will be outwardly transformed. It is no guarantee what will happen after salvation.
3. Eternal security is guaranteed by the sealing ministry of the Holy Spirit. This is another statement of Scripture. The Holy Spirit put His stamp of approval on the salvation we have.
 - a. The moment we believe in Christ, the book of Life is opened and He impresses His seal along side of our name. Sealed. When a king put his seal on a decree, it was law and irrevocable.

- b. Every person who expresses faith in Christ alone is saved.
- c. The Holy Spirit seal at the moment of faith is a guarantee that that person's name remains in the book of Life forever. 2Cor. 1:22 Eph. 1:13 2Tim. 2:19
- 4. At the moment of faith, we are regenerated; born again into the royal family of God. We can never be removed. John 1:12 family membership is permanent. Bobby is a member of the Thieme family. He cannot be removed no matter what he does, changing his name, etc. When a Jewish person believes in Christ, their family cuts them off; but they remain genetically in that family. Neither can an immutable God retract the family relationship that He establishes at salvation.
- 5. The head of the body; and He can never say to any member of His body, His arm, leg, toe, that He does not need him. We are a part of God's plan and we cannot sever ourselves from it. Col. 1:18 1Cor. 12
- 6. The one Bobby loves; the believer is held in God's hand, and He will never let go. John 10:28 Once you are in His hand, He does not let go of you. No one can take you out.
- 7. As our Lord, God has made a sovereign decision to keep us as His subjects forever. We are subjects of the King. He decided in eternity past that we are His subjects forever. 2Peter 3:9 Jude 24 sad to wake up and wonder if you have pleased God enough.
- 8. There is the a fortiori logic to this. If God did the most for us when we were His enemies, then He will do much more for us when we are family members. What did God do for us? God has imputed His perfect righteousness to us at salvation. We are justified.
- 9. The Greek tense approach: Acts 16:31 Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and you will be saved. Believe is in the aorist tense, a gnomic aorist, a point in time, once for all time; a timeless belief; it does not have to be redone or proven. By grace are you saved through faith. Saved is in the perfect tense.
- 10. Every believer has an inheritance, which is incorruptible and unchanging. God has given this to us forever. Eph. 1:11 1Peter 1:4–5

This is one of those rationales that applied helps us to relax. We do not earn or deserve a single bit of it. Yet half of the world is scared because they do not understand God's grace.

Beware of judging people to be unbelievers by their carnal actions or to be believers because they are nice people with good works. Fruit inspectors cannot judge whether faith is real or false. They judge wrongly. \

Perseverance of the saints means that a person must pursue righteousness all of their lives to show their internal righteousness.

An example of how the false teachers work. There are televangelist and there are pentecostals who claim to heal in Jesus' name. These are false fruits perpetrated by false teachers. Bad doctrine is being taught because those gifts are no longer a part of the Church Age. Yet people are being judged as being saved or not and spiritual or not based upon speaking in tongues. They produce bad fruit. But many of them have believed in Jesus Christ and they are believers. False teaching about the spiritual life does not disqualify them to be members of the family of God. They are never in fellowship and they do not understand the spiritual life and they are wolves in sheep's clothing, making huge profits. Many live lavish lifestyles. They may be involved in all kinds of immorality. They are still believers involved in eternal security. They lead hundreds if not thousands of Christians away from true doctrine.

A continuation of the trees and fruit.

Eternal security is unheard of in Christianity; they teach probation instead of salvation. They never enjoy the reality of knowing that we are children of God. Moses could not take that generation into the land because he added works to salvation. He got emotional, and hard to blame him when you know about the dead heads that he had to lead. When you add works, you neutralize the gospel. The message is faith alone in Christ alone. Salvation comes from enough faith in Christ. Lesson #0381

Matt. 6: Life of Christ

1/13/2013 1Sunday

Matt. 7:19 Every tree that doesn't produce good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire.

This is clearly an analogy, because cutting down old trees is not that big of a deal.

Matt. 7:20 So you'll recognize them by their fruit.

V. 20 is pretty much a conclusion: you will know them by their fruits.

A quick reminder of the context: the bad tree refers to false prophets who are unbelievers, who have rejected Jesus Christ. The fruit that they bear refers to the false teaching and the false prophets. The false teaching is exemplified by the pharisees, and they oppose Him because of grace. All false teachers are the epitome of legalistic, arrogant self-centered legalism. A person with this resume is not someone that you need to follow or listen to.

The Lordship salvation, faith+works group. Anyone in their mind who produces good works is showing that their faith is real, that they are truly Christians. That would mean that there is a certain kind of faith that does not save you; or a faith which is just not strong enough. Faith could be phoney. You may have expressed faith, but it was really phoney. Not a faith based in reality. They think they must see some fruit in order to understand that you are really saved.

However, our salvation is based solely upon faith alone in Christ alone. There is no such thing as a faith that does not save. No matter what happens to you, no matter what kind of life you lead, you are eternally saved, by that one expression of faith. One moment, and do not ever question based upon your guilt or your lousy life that is out of line with the Bible.

We must think with the spiritual life; we must think with the grace of God; we must think with the mind of Christ. When we continue to grow, we will produce fruit. The fruit inspectors make a jump from faith to works, which leaves out a great deal of stuff in between.

The question Bobby always gets is, what about Adolf Hitler, could he have been a believer? Although he said some nice things about Christianity, but he was a nordic pagan. However, in theory, all he had to do was express faith in Christ for one moment and he was saved.

Matt. 7:19 Every tree that doesn't produce good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire.

V. 19 refers to a bad tree because it produces bad fruit. Bad teachers produce the bad tree of false doctrine, even though it may appear that they are doing all kinds of good works.

Unbelieving false teachers are rejected and judged. They are being cut down and thrown into the fire, and this occurs at the last judgment. Rev. 20:11 they will stand in front of Jesus Christ and be cast into the Lake of Fire. We will be there, but under much different circumstances.

Matt. 21:45 Now, He will say to those on His left, "Depart from Me, accursed ones. for the fire that has been prepared for the devil and his angels." The Lake of Fire is a place of eternal suffering and pain; and why would someone's entire life bring them to such a place. This should give us an idea of what our Lord did on our behalf. This is not just a metaphor for separation from our Lord forever.

For God has not destined us for wrath. The false teacher is destined for wrath because he has rejected our Lord.

Why is the rejection of Christ so great? Jesus paid this price. He endured hell far more than we can imagine or experience, as He endured it for all.

Jesus does not desire for us to be condemned. However, we can never overlook his righteousness and justice. He has given us the greatest love in the cross. He cannot put His righteousness and justice aside. He cannot just bring people into heaven out of sentimentality; that would compromise His righteousness and justice.

The entire Sermon on the Mount is all about grace.

Matt. 7:20 So you'll recognize them by their fruit.

Their fruit will indicate their salvation status. These are the false teachers. When they are in front of the great white throne is when they are judged. They are judged because they have not believed in the Lord Jesus Christ. They depended upon their good fruit instead. Therefore, they will reside in the Lake of Fire. They are depending upon their fruit, and yet they are bad trees. It is the bad tree part that gets them.

Not everyone who says to Me and says, "Lord, Lord" will enter into the Kingdom of Heaven. But He who does the will of My Father of He Who is in heaven.

Bobby goes over the next few verses. It is not just a phoney faith; it is about having no faith. Such men and such women may call Jesus, "Lord." Anyone can call God, Lord; without believing in Jesus. They can do miraculous deeds. This is not the will of God in heaven. The will of God begins with faith in Christ from the beginning.

These false prophets thought that they were doing true works before the True God, and yet they did not believe in the Lord.

Matt. 7:21 "Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord!' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only the one who does the will of My Father in heaven.

Even if these men do tremendous works, that is not God's will. They have no relationship with Christ. This is the exact opposite of proving your faith through your fruits.

Matt. 7:22 On that day many will say to Me, 'Lord, Lord, didn't we prophesy in Your name, drive out demons in Your name, and do many miracles in Your name?'

This disputes the idea that we can look over a person's works and determine his salvation. It is not about those who profess faith; it is about those who profess works as the key to the kingdom. It is legalism versus grace.

Can you imagine being able to perform a miracle, and yet be cast out of heaven. There are all kinds of tongue services, healing services, or casting out of demons; still, there is no salvation if that person has not believed in Jesus Christ. Even the grandest of works are rotten fruit before the Lord. The chickens come home to roost on the judgement day.

Matt. 7:23 Then I will announce to them, 'I never knew you! Depart from Me, you lawbreakers!'

Lesson #0382

Matt. 7: Life of Christ

1/13/2013 2Sunday

If you are an unbeliever, you cannot do the will of God. Bobby trusts that fruit inspectors of Berachah Church will move on to another church. Bobby cannot believe that people want to stick their nose into other people's lives. Don't you have enough to do with your own life? Just make sure that your fruit production and your fruit inspection is about your own fruit. Living the spiritual life and serving and glorifying the Lord. You cannot take responsibility for anyone else.

Luke 6:44–49 and Matt. 7:24–

Jesus is speaking to the disciples here. Bobby wonders about the mindset of Judas. He was also speaking to a wider audience, those who are called disciples; and whoever else was there listening.

Jesus took illustrations and principles and these principles become clear.

Luke 6:46 "Why do you call Me 'Lord, Lord,' and don't do the things I say?"

Luke 6:47 I will show you what someone is like who comes to Me, hears My words, and acts on them:

Luke 6:48 He is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. When the flood came, the river crashed against that house and couldn't shake it, because it was well built.

Luke 6:49 But the one who hears and does not act is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. The river crashed against it, and immediately it collapsed. And the destruction of that house was great!"

False teachers were acting to prophesy at this time, but Jesus did not know them.

You can call Him Lord. They call God Lord and they may even call Jesus Lord; they can still use the language. They refuse to follow Him by believing His Words or acting upon them. The pharisees called upon God. They did all of the sacrifices in the Temple, yet they were the most legalistic people who ever lived.

The listeners were responsible for what they heard and they had to make a choice. They could build a house upon rock or upon sand. When you build the foundation, they both look to be solid foundations in good weather. It is the foundation that determines the ability of a structure to withstand the elements; to withstand all that comes against it.

We can understand this situation when there is a path of a hurricane. The torrents of rain and the howling wind. They batter and engulf a house. Some houses survive the onslaught and some are utterly destroyed. How well the house is built is how well they can withstand the elements. They can be wise or foolish in what they build.

Two applications of a strong and a weak foundation. The spiritual status of the ones hearing Christ's words. For unbelievers like the pharisees, the choice is very simple. For or against Christ. Accept Christ as Savior; accept positive volition to His call. Faith alone in Christ alone. All based solely on the grace of God and not upon works. Only Christ can bring salvation.

Jesus is making it clear that there is no other foundation upon which we can build. Christ is the Rock; He is our true foundation. Rock is the greek word πετρα. This is the foundation from which the believer cannot be moved. It is solid. The doctrine of eternal security. This refers to Christ.

Matt. 16:18 And I also say to you that you are Peter [= Πέτρος], and on this rock [= πέτρα] I will build My church, and the forces of Hades will not overpower it.

Different words used here. One is the masculine and the other is the feminine gender. Πέτρος is a chip off the greater rock, or a chip of the πέτρα. The Rock is Christ, not Peter.

The church is based upon faith alone in Christ alone. The church is also built by the firm foundation of Bible doctrine. The believer who is founded on rock is secure. We could add this to the doctrine of eternal security. We are either build upon a rock or upon sand; once the foundation is laid, then the foundation does not change.

When water washes over sand, it changes the sand. Build a sand castle and it is destroyed by the water. There is always shifting human viewpoint; relativism. Now and again they can muster divine establishment, but there is always this relative aspect to their foundation. The rock stays exactly the same, no longer how large that wave is. The point is, rock is a suitable foundation; sand is not.

The Correct Foundation

1. The wise man accepts the grace of God in salvation. He hears and he acts. He hears the gospel and he believes in Christ.
2. The fool builds on a foundation of his own works without Christ. He does not hear the gospel, so that he can only act on his own works. We can use black gumbo in Houston for an unstable foundation. And there will be cracks; some of them great chasms and some not so much.
3. The sand foundation collapses into great ruin with any wind or water or anything that washes over the life of this person. They are eternally condemned. Those are unbelievers. As the believer, the application is building upon a foundation of Bible doctrine. You can call Jesus Lord, when you accept Him in salvation; but if you do not act upon God's Word, you are building your life upon a false foundation. If you are a fruit inspector, your foundation is built upon sand.

When you are saved, you have begun to build upon the rock. When you are saved, you have built upon the rock. But, if you do not grow spiritually, your spiritual life is upon sand. When you metabolize Bible doctrine, you are building upon that rock and expanding your life upon a rock foundation.

The wise believer whose life withstands all sands. You can probably tell if your life is built upon sand or upon rock. This is a wise person whose house, spiritual life, is solid. Bobby hopes that our lives are solid upon Bible doctrine. It is so simple; so easy to remember.

Jesus has covered this concept in two short verses. How you live your life and what happens to you in this life is based upon how we build our own house.

Mat 16:19 I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatever you bind on earth is already bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth is already loosed in heaven."

Luke 6:46 "Why do you call Me 'Lord, Lord,' and don't do the things I say?"

Luke 6:47 I will show you what someone is like who comes to Me, hears My words, and acts on them:

Luke 6:48 He is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock. When the flood came, the river crashed against that house and couldn't shake it, because it was well built.

Luke 6:49 But the one who hears and does not act is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation. The river crashed against it, and immediately it collapsed. And the destruction of that house was great!"

we will end sermon next time.

Lesson #0383 Matt. 7:28–8:1, 5–7 Luke 7:1–7 Life of Christ 1/16/2013 Wed

Bobby gets a lot of letters and he reads all of them. People are appreciative of Bible doctrine in their lives. Bobby is going to read a letter. The effectiveness of Bible doctrine in the life of this person.

Mother grew up in Japan as an unbeliever but became a supergrace believer. He drifted into the paths of the sin nature, spending money and going out to dinners. Stricken with a painful, difficult condition. She had surgery that only 3 neurosurgeons perform at this time. The recovery is long, painful and uncertain. She had slipped into the black hole of reversionism and she has no doubt that God blessed her with divine discipline to reset her priorities in life. Everything was lost to her, and she was without hope and near suicide. God led her back to His Word.

Her husband was raised a Catholic and he has finally begun to watch DVD's with her. She knew that one reason for her condition is to increase the spiritual life of both of them.

When doctrine is paramount, problems are solved, even if circumstances do not change. This is a way to remember how much doctrine means.

Matt. 7:28 When Jesus had finished this sermon, the crowds were astonished at His teaching,

Matt. 7:29 because He was teaching them like one who had authority, and not like their scribes.

Mat 8:1 When He came down from the mountain, large crowds followed Him.

The people were overwhelmed; overpowered. They were astounded that anyone could speak those words with kind of authority. Jesus placed Himself over the traditions of the pharisees. The pharisees had the power of life and death over them and could ostracize them. But Jesus put Himself above them. He showed them what the Mosaic Law really meant. The pharisees have been incorrectly interpreting the Law for centuries, and Jesus, in an hour or so, destroyed their incorrect teaching. That was a powerful sermon, wiping out religious Judaism in one fell swoop. What a far cry it was from legalism and the self-righteousness that the pharisees had been teaching.

This was so different than they had heard all of their lives; they had heard just all of this legalism, and when they began to catch on to grace. We have begun to understand what grace means and what grace orientation is all about.

Grace for a believer is pure oxygen.

From this sermon, these people understand the kingdom and what Jesus is offering to them. They understand what this kingdom means. They also know what awaits them in heaven by the grace of God.

This was a watershed moment in the life of Christ. The Sermon on the Mount was a declaration of war against the pharisees and against legalism. Jesus rejected their doctrine and their practices and their whole legalistic way of life. The pharisees became His mortal enemies. If you are grace oriented, you will get opposition. Christians cannot stand grace.

Matt. 7:28 When Jesus had finished this sermon, the crowds were astonished at His teaching,

Matt. 7:29 because He was teaching them like one who had authority, and not like their scribes.

Mat 8:1 When He came down from the mountain, large crowds followed Him.

Great multitudes followed Him. Then he went to Capernaum; He went back into town. This was His headquarters during His Galilean ministry.

Jesus will now affirm His Messiahship with miracles. The people had heard the Sermon on the Mount, but He needed to nail it down. The time was coming when the pharisees and the people would reject Him and He would be taken to the cross. They needed to know that when He is crucified, this was not the end, but the beginning.

The kingdom was here on earth, when He began to teach, but they rejected Him. The crucifixion discouraged many of them.

Jesus will face a centurion. Luke 7:3 Matt. 8:6

And when the centurion heard about Jesus, he sent some Jewish elders asking Him to come, to save the life of his slave.

The slave was very sick, paralyzed at home, suffering great pain. There are some discrepancies between the Matthew and Luke accounts. Luke 7:3 says it is elders; but Matt. 8:6 says that is the centurion himself.

Matthew liked an over viewed, the broad scope of the Lord's ministry. Luke was a physician and an historian and he loved the details.

The centurion makes his request through some elders who represented the centurion. Matthew just mentions the centurion. These men did this just as moved by the Holy Spirit. These surrogates were very important Jews.

Matt. 8:5 When He entered Capernaum, a centurion came to Him, pleading with Him,

The centurion approached the Lord through the intermediary of these elders. They earnestly entreated Him to come.

Matt. 8:6 "Lord, my servant is lying at home paralyzed, in terrible agony!"

Luke 7:1 When He had concluded all His sayings in the hearing of the people, He entered Capernaum.

Luke 7:2 A centurion's slave, who was highly valued by him, was sick and about to die.

Luke 7:3 When the centurion heard about Jesus, he sent some Jewish elders to Him, requesting Him to come and save the life of his slave.

What Do We Know about the Centurion?

1. The centurion was a gentile and he served Herod Antipas, who put John the Baptizer into prison.
2. He commanded 100 men.
3. He was captain of the Roman garrison in Capernaum, which would have been an important position. He was the man in charge of the city.
4. This man carried a lot of authority in this town. He was the authority in this town.
5. He was a friend and a benefactor of the Jews in Capernaum. He liked the Jews and he got along with them.
6. It is obvious that the Jewish elders thought very highly of him. There was a lot of peace in that town. The authorities got along with the Jews there. These Jews wanted to help the centurion in his crisis.
7. The centurion was a very kindhearted man. He was concerned for his slave. Slaves were not usually treated with so much deference by their masters.
8. He was very public minded. He took his job in Capernaum seriously. He cultivated friendships with the Jewish leadership in that city.
9. He had been instrumental in building the Jewish synagogue in Capernaum. There are well-preserved remains of this synagogue in Capernaum. This was a fairly ornate synagogue. This is a monument that remains to the lasting effects of the work of Jesus Christ.
10. The centurion was probably not a convert to Judaism. He was not legalistic.

Luke 7:4 When they reached Jesus, they pleaded with Him earnestly, saying, "He is worthy for You to grant this,

This centurion and these Jewish elders apparently believe Jesus could perform this healing. The Lord had spent time in Capernaum and He had performed some miracles in the city. The centurion was aware of the power that Jesus had.

Maybe, maybe not that this centurion was a believer. He was still exceptional and he was unique. This was positive volition toward the Person of Jesus Christ. He was seeking the Lord Jesus Christ because he knew that Jesus could do this. This centurion represents all of us as gentiles. He represents positive volition toward the Lord Jesus Christ. A man with authority recognizes the authority of Jesus, which is far greater than his own. The Lord Jesus Christ commits to restoring the slave to health.

Matt. 8:7 "I will come and heal him," He told him.

1. It was no problem for Jesus to heal this man. There was no therapy and no wheelchairs and no one could do anything about paralysis.
2. Jesus would reveal instant power over the ravages against the human body.

When Jesus was not far from the house, the centurion sent friends saying, "You don't need to come; I am not worthy." He recognized something about the Lord Jesus Christ.

Luke 7:5 because he loves our nation and has built us a synagogue."

This was a soldier that recognized the authority of his peers.

Luke 7:6 Jesus went with them, and when He was not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to tell Him, "Lord, don't trouble Yourself, since I am not worthy to have You come under my roof.

The centurion understood Jesus' power over nature and over man.

Luke 7:7 That is why I didn't even consider myself worthy to come to You. But say the word, and my servant will be cured.

"You don't need to come in, for I am not worthy." There is nothing that we can do for our salvation. We are not worthy of having Him enter this body of ours, but Christ in us, the hope of glory. He comes into this garbage can and He heals us.

We can be saved even with Jesus in the 3rd heaven. This is a picture of salvation.

what they heard at the Sermon on the Mount; so much information suddenly; and it must have taken them a great deal of time understanding all that Jesus had taught.

Jesus begins to move back toward His headquarters in Capernaum. It was a beautiful city on the Sea of Galilee. There was a man there who we have been studying, a centurion, who is probably why Jesus is here.

He continues this ministry of preaching and teaching. He would also perform some of the most incredible miracles of His ministry, and these would all take place around Galilee.

The miracles began almost immediately on His entry into Capernaum.

Luke 7:3 When the centurion heard about Jesus, he sent some Jewish elders to Him, requesting Him to come and save the life of his slave.

The Lord is stopped by some very important Jewish elders and they were high up in the city fathers. The company commander usually has a little less than the full complement of men. He was the commander of the Roman garrison in Capernaum. These elders come to the Lord Jesus Christ, and they bring a question to Jesus. They ask for a servant to be healed. The centurion would be a gentile; these are Jewish elders approaching our Lord; and usually, these groups do not like one another. Rabbis don't enter into the homes of gentiles, which would make them unclean. Usually these groups despise one another. Furthermore, this is done on behalf of a servant. However, this was less unusual in Capernaum.

Luke 7:4 When they reached Jesus, they pleaded with Him earnestly, saying, "He is worthy for You to grant this,

Luke 7:5 because he loves our nation and has built us a synagogue."

When they had come to Jesus, they earnestly entreated Him saying, "He is worthy for You to grant this to him." This is what these Jews told Jesus. Most thought of the Romans as oppressors, but these Jews say that this man is worthy. "He loves our nation.

This Roman soldier was capable of maintaining the peace in Capernaum, and there was peace among the Jews and gentiles there. This centurion was a benefactor of the city, a man who loved the city and the Jews. He was a kind man and a sympathetic man.

This man did not just care about the Jews, but he cared about his slaves. The Romans were constantly taking men as slaves in war. When Jesus heard this request, He immediately responded. He had no reservations about entering the house of a gentile, and He had not hate for them.

Matt. 8:6 "Lord, my servant is lying at home paralyzed, in terrible agony!"

Matt. 8:7 "I will come and heal him," He told him.

The real reason that Jesus took this case is, He wanted to reveal something else, one that would shock the Jewish world right down to their toes.

Luke 7:6 Jesus went with them, and when He was not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to tell Him, "Lord, don't trouble Yourself, since I am not worthy to have You come under my roof.

Matt. 8:8 "Lord," the centurion replied, "I am not worthy to have You come under my roof. But only say the word, and my servant will be cured.

This is much different than Pontius Pilate, who says, "I have control over Your life." This man did not see himself as worthy of having the Lord in his house. He was the most powerful man in Capernaum, and yet, he understood that Jesus could heal his servant. He knows that Jesus does not even have to come into the house.

Luke 7:7 That is why I didn't even consider myself worthy to come to You. But say the word, and my servant will be cured.

The centurion understood the authority and the power of Jesus Christ. He understood Who Jesus was; he understood Who this Rabbi was. He had great faith in Jesus, in the very essence and Person of Jesus Christ. This positive volition was strong and this would translate into faith in Christ.

Matt. 8:8 "Lord," the centurion replied, "I am not worthy to have You come under my roof. But only say the word, and my servant will be cured.

Authority goes along with a position of leadership.

Matt. 8:9 For I too am a man under authority, having soldiers under my command. I say to this one, 'Go!' and he goes; and to another, 'Come!' and he comes; and to my slave, 'Do this!' and he does it."

He issued a command and his commands would be obeyed. He could relay a command and he knew that this command would be followed. "You don't have to issue this command in my house; I know that Your words will be obeyed." He understood the authority of Jesus Christ. He understood the power of Jesus' word.

The Centurion and His Thinking about Jesus

1. In Luke 7:7 he understood our Lord's authority.
2. He knew that Jesus could wield authority as even he could not. He was well acquainted with command. Commanding troops is a heady responsibility and it is a thrill. They jump when you tell them to jump.
3. Jesus authority was well beyond any human authority that this man knew.
4. The centurion believed that Jesus had absolute power and authority.

5. He understood this authority so much that he did not even have to approach his servant and lay his hand on him. Jesus normally touched those to heal them; He had always been in the vicinity, face to face, and this man understood that there was no need for that. These facts the centurion knew to be true.

He had possibly seen Jesus perform miracles and he understood Jesus' power. No one could just tell paralysis to leave, but Jesus could. He believed in Christ's sovereign power and he knew that Jesus could take care of any sickness and any illness. This means that he understood that Jesus was sovereign over all things. Jesus could heal the ravages of the body and the ravages of the soul. That power was real to the centurion.

The Centurion's Faith

1. This centurion exercised saving faith in Jesus.
2. He apparently reached this conclusion prior to sending these Jewish elders out to meet Jesus. He had already expressed this faith. This is why he sent the Jewish elders.
3. The Lord was gracious to come and to heal the servant. He showed grace to this man and by grace are you saved through faith. Jesus already knew the faith that this man had. He responded by coming to him and healing the slave. This is exactly what He does when we exercise faith in Him.
4. He was gracious to come and heal all mankind just as he healed the paralyzed slave.
5. This is a great picture of the fact that Christ heals us in our great malady. Our sinful and our lost condition.
6. Salvation simply depends upon the power of His Word and our faith in Him. The gospel is the power unto salvation; that is His Word to us. The centurion believed and we do as well. We only need believe the gospel.

Then the centurion responded. There were people who were following Jesus at this point, and He points out these things. These Jews heard it all and they saw it all. And Jesus is saying, "Shame on you; this gentile understands what is going on than you do."

Matt. 8:10 Hearing this, Jesus was amazed and said to those following Him, "I assure you: I have not found anyone in Israel with so great a faith!"

The Meaning of Jesus and this Gentile Centurion

1. First, this was an acknowledgment of the centurion's faith in Christ. It happened for him the same way that it does for us. We hear the gospel and we believe.
2. There was something else as well; this was a stinging indictment of the religious Jews. Jesus demonstrated the indictments that He had made during the Sermon on the Mount. These Jews pushed works and relative righteousness, and this centurion understood what was going on.

3. The pharisees expected that the gentiles would be shamed by the sight of Jews in the perfect kingdom of the Messiah. The Jews thought that the gentiles would be shamed, but it is unbelievers who would be shamed. They thought Messiah would be the great liberator of the Jews, but this gentile showed more faith than they revealed. The Jews could not wait for the gentiles to be looking in from the outside of the kingdom.
4. Jesus reveals that the believing gentiles and the regenerate Jews would be part of the kingdom. That is what reverberates to us today.

This centurion when he heard this, it must have astounded him. He knew about the kingdom and he certainly knew about the Messiah. John the Baptizer said, "This is the Kingdom of Heaven." This centurion would be a part of this kingdom. This had not been heard before. This was the first time that Jesus spoke of the gentiles being included in the Kingdom of God.

The Jews wanted every gentile to be barred from the kingdom, because in their self-righteous arrogance, they knew themselves to be superior; they were God's chosen people. They had gone wrong in their own arrogance.

This exclusive attitude that they had and their treatment of the Lord Jesus Christ as His ministry moved along had been the source of antisemitism throughout history. There have been Catholics and Protestants both that have been antisemitic.

Many of the Protestant ministers said nothing when the Jews were being rounded up and harmed in Germany. Jews should never be persecuted simply for being Jews. We are all in the same boat. We should always offer them the gospel as we would anyone else.

Cory Timboom an old movie called The Hiding Place; a woman who was very strong in the Lord, and she ended up in one of the worst concentration camps. God took care of her and she fulfilled this principle. The Jews are still God's covenant people, even in the Church Age and even in their rejection of Christ. The regenerate Jews will be regathered in the end times. However, we will be a part of this. The faith generated by this one gentile centurion was a demonstration of the key of the kingdom to Jews and gentiles. What a revelation was lost by this one incident. This was a great message after the Sermon on the Mount. The Jews found out that just being Jewish was not enough. They thought that being sons of Abraham that would guarantee them a place in the kingdom; but the hereditary connection was not enough.

Jesus is not done yet.

Mat 8:11 I tell you that many will come from east and west, and recline at the table with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven.

Mat 8:12 But the sons of the kingdom will be thrown into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

Mat 8:13 Then Jesus told the centurion, "Go. As you have believed, let it be done for you." And his servant was cured that very moment.

Communion Sunday

“After a little while, the world will behold Me no more. You will behold Me, because I live, you will live.” Death is at every man’s door and most men avoid thinking about it. Death is no respecter of persons. No matter how man speculates or rationalizes about death, it is a reality for all of us. “You will die in your sins if you do not believe that I am the Savior.”

Paul calls it the sting of death. In Hades, he lifted up his eyes, being in torment, and in that place, this man called out, “Father Abraham, have mercy on me. Have Lazarus send a little water.” Those who commit the evil will be resurrected to judgment. “Depart from Me, accursed ones, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels.” Their worm does not die and the fire is not quenched.

The undying worm indicates that the destruction of the grave will never cease. The bodies that went into the grave will live in flames forever. Heb. 10:31 it is a terrifying thing to fall into the hands of the Living God.

There is a bright side of death, that bring exileration and anticipation for believers facing death. “Today, you will be with Me in paradise.” Jesus calls death sleep because this is temporary and a rejuvenating process.

We will be changed into an incorruptible body forever. Rev. 20:13 and the sea gave up the dead that were in it, and they were judged, every one of them.

Death grows brighter and brighter for those who are in Christ. Paul was torn between his service in life and the glories of death. He was pulled in both directions. Having the desire to depart and to be with Christ, and that is very much better.

How do we defeat the sting of death?

Jesus demonstrated His power over death with Lazarus, who had been dead for 4 days and his body stunk at that point. But Jesus called, “Lazarus, come forth.” And Lazarus responded, to show that Jesus has the power over death.

Sin is a great barrier between God and man. God accept Jesus as our substitute for our sins by means of the cross.

At the consummation of the ages, He has been commanded to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself.

We all commit sins in our lives. Jesus defeated both sides of sins. Our body of sin, the sin nature, might be done away with, that we no longer be slaves to sin. Our sin nature no longer has any bearing on our salvation. While the sin nature is dead by the virtue of Christ's crucifixion. All of us have been forgiven.

No one is compelled to avail himself of the One Mediator between God and man. But salvation is effective for all those who choose faith in Jesus. When we receive Christ as Savior, we are justified, because His wrath has been met.

Satan is a living presence who is set against us, but Christ is set against him. Jesus also partook of the same flesh and blood, that through death, He might render powerless him who has the power of death.

The darkness of death is epitomized by the grave; but the empty grave of our Lord represents His victory over death. It was impossible for Him to be held by death's power.

"O death, where is your victory...where is your sting?" Whatever power death appears to have, it is at best temporary for the believer.

The Lord of paradise guides us through the gates of death into the Kingdom of Heaven. Paul had no fear in his soul when he wrote, I am already being poured out as a drink offering and I have fought the good fight, and the Lord will reward me in that day.

The pathway of the believer shines brighter and brighter each day until he completes the course.

Matt. 8:5–10 Jesus healed a sick person in absentia; He was not present when the healing took place. There were many lepers and paralyzed people in Palestine. Why didn't Jesus go throughout Palestine and heal all of them? The purpose here was not to heal the servant, but there was always a point of doctrine that was being taught. In this miracle, Jesus showed His power and He also showed His power of His Word.

There was something more that this incident revealed to us. It reverberates to us as well. The Roman centurion was a gentile, and this is why Jesus healed his servant. Jewish religious leaders hated the gentiles and they would have little or nothing to do with them. They would not enter into their homes. The Jews constantly plotted against the Romans. Jerusalem was a hotbed of trouble whereas Capernaum was not.

The Jews did not fully grasp that Jesus was the savior of all souls, those of Jews and gentiles. The religious leaders were so arrogant and they believed themselves to be chosen by God over all gentiles. This miracle put an end to that false picture. He performed this miracle at the request of a gentile; and Jesus will then recognize this man's great faith.

Matt. 8:10 Hearing this, Jesus was amazed and said to those following Him, "I assure you: I have not found anyone in Israel with so great a faith!"

This gentile accepted the Jewish Savior, and this enlightened Jesus' Jewish disciples. There had to be more than this hereditary connection to Abraham. Gentiles were included in all of this.

Lesson #0386

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

1/20/2013 2Sunday

The Jews believed that they were a promised people, to partake in the Kingdom of God because they are Jews.

Matt. 8:11 I tell you that many will come from east and west, and recline at the table with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven.

That was the promise. Analinô envisions a great banquet in the kingdom, reclining at table, as many cultures did. The honored guests would recline around the table with the Messiah and with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. There would be more than mere hereditary believers. Jesus is opening up the gates of the kingdom to everyone who believes in Jesus Christ. This is a promise to Jews and gentiles alike; and regeneration is required.

What Does this Miracle Mean?

1. This was a shattering revelation to the Jews, who believe that God's promise to the kingdom was for the sons of Abraham alone. They did not like hearing this at all. The Lord Jesus Christ, who had just healed at the request from a Roman, and then He said, "He has a greater faith than anyone in Israel." This stunned His disciples and the people there. A watershed moment.
2. The gentiles would be ανακλινω. They would be there right along with the Jews.
3. This means that Jesus extends the message of salvation to include the gentiles. The gentiles have as much opportunity for salvation as anyone else. Every man will have this opportunity.
4. The gentiles would receive the blessing of the kingdom at the great banquet. They would be honored guests.
5. Those with Jesus would not be exclusively Jews.
6. The Lord Jesus Christ spoke here a radical new kingdom doctrine. This is why He took this case. This was the perfect way to do it. The Jews knew this centurion and they liked him. In fact, several Jewish elders came to Jesus to make this request. This centurion had built a synagogue. "This man will be there in eternity with you." Now some liked this and some did not.
7. This is a doctrine that the pharisees violently opposed. In their arrogance, they presumed superiority. That was their legalism; that was their law keeping. These are the Jews in their legalism who will not be at the banquet. The alternative to the banquet.

8. This gentile inclusion in the kingdom goes right along with the revelation of the narrow way of Christ. There is an indication of religious apostate pharisees who bear a bad fruit of the kingdom. These religious pharisees taught legalism and they will be excluded from the kingdom and they will be excluded from the kingdom.
9. Anyone who takes the narrow way of Christ is included in the way of heaven.

Matt. 8:11 I tell you that many will come from east and west, and recline at the table with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven.

For those who do not take this narrow way, there is a grim picture, as revealed in v. 12:

Matt. 8:12 But the sons of the kingdom will be thrown into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

This is not the first time that Israel has heard this judgement. Lev. 6:30 Hosea. Those who believe the gospel will be saved and the others will go into the outer darkness. They will depart from God.

The Jews are the sons of the kingdom are the Jews, and they would be cast out into the outer darkness. There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

The centurion would be there, but the sons of the kingdom would be cast out. That is the dark side of death. Εκβαλλω is the word found here, to drive out, to expel, to drive someone out into something. This is a verb of forcible separation in the future.

Το σκοτας το εξοτηρον. This is where they would be placed. Judgment is implied here. The kingdom of darkness versus the kingdom of light. No banquet for the former. What good will their ancestry do, if they have been cast out.

Jer. 31:34 there is a new covenant, where the Law is written upon their hearts. They are forcibly removed forever. God handles the Jews and their future.

There are those who say that we are spiritual Israel and that there is no future for Israel; but Jews are addressed right here. Sons of Abraham will be cast out (those who have not believed).

They will either attend the banquet or they will attend the judgment. God holds the future of the Jews in His hands. No one else needs to take on the judgment of the Jews. Antisemitism is evil.

Satan would love to eradicate all Jews, and God could not fulfill His promises to Abraham. But the racial Jew will never be wiped out and the regenerate Jew will never be wiped out.

The word is Gehenna, the worldly place, the place of future judgment, the alternative to the place of privilege to the banquet.

This passage has been taken and distorted to say that Jews will not be in the kingdom, and they are absolutely wrong.

We do not have flames here, but we have what happens to people in this place, weeping and gnashing of teeth. Hopeless nightmare and a place of deep regret and uncontrollable weeping. The regret that they did not believe in Christ.

Matt. 8:12 But the sons of the kingdom will be thrown into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

Lev. 26:44 Yet in spite of this, while they are in the land of their enemies, I will not reject or abhor them so as to destroy them and break My covenant with them, since I am the LORD their God.

They are spread out and scattered because they rejected God. However God says, "I will not abhor or reject them." He made a covenant with Abraham, et al.

Concluding Points

1. God is speaking to the faithful Israel, those who have believed. Jer. 23:41–45
2. The kingdom is still in the future for Israel. That is the Millennium. There will be very difficult times for the Jews, but they will go into the Millennium.
3. Their kingdom would be instituted at the 2nd Advent. After the battle of Armageddon and there will be believing Jews and Gentiles who will go into the Millennium.
4. The nation will be regathered and judged with the unbelieving cut off and perishing. Zech. 13:8
5. Many Jews would recognize Jesus as Messiah. Rev. 1:7
6. Some Jews would have the kingdom. Zech. 13:9

Lev 26:45 For their sake I will remember the covenant with their fathers, whom I brought out of the land of Egypt in the sight of the nations to be their God; I am the LORD."

Lev 26:46 These are the statutes, ordinances, and laws the LORD established between Himself and the Israelites through Moses on Mount Sinai.

Matt. 8:13 Then Jesus told the centurion, "Go. As you have believed, let it be done for you." And his servant was cured that very moment.

Luke 7:10 When those who had been sent returned to the house, they found the slave in good health.

No matter what the distance, Jesus could heal with only His words. Where is His Word found? In the pages of Scripture and there is just as much power there. We have more power in our souls with God than any nuclear weapon.

The next miracle will be even more spectacular.

Jesus raises several people from the dead. I think 3? And this is one of them, different from Lazarus.

This is the longest stretch in one general area for Jesus, in the Galilee area. He leaves Capernaum, which sets the stage for one of His most stunning and revealing miracles.

He would have the chance to present His power over the greatest enemy of mankind; the power over death.

Luke 7:11 Soon afterward he went to a town called Nain, and his disciples and a great crowd went with him.

Nain is southeast of Galilee. Easiest way is to get on a boat and sail due south from Capernaum to Nain. There are disciples and a great crowd with Him. We would expect for all that occurred, that following Jesus would have been a constant entertainment. This would allow the believer to be face to face with the Lord; and there could have been those who were just entertained. There was also a trail of pharisees wherever the Lord went.

Luke 7:11 Soon afterward he went to a town called Nain, and his disciples and a great crowd went with him.

After seeing this miracles, these men will still try to refute the miracles that they have seen.

The Lord approached the gate of the city, and there was a dead man being carried out. This is an only son followed by his mother, a widow.

25 miles away from Capernaum. The towns are quite close to one another. Nain is at the foot of Mount Tabor. Bobby went to a seminary at the foot of Mount Tabor.

Archeologists have found this city. Today the city is called Nian; and today it is a miserable Muslim village of about 1600 people with mud shacks. This new city is much worse than the old one. The older city was a larger town. It was a walled town in the days of our Lord; and it would have had a gate back in that time. Archeologists have found this along with the cemetery near the gate (where the gate was). Nian means charming, lovely. It is situated over a beautiful valley; the valley of Esdrelon. Across the way is the city of Megiddo. This is where one of the greatest battles of human history will be fought and Jesus will destroy the armies which gather here.

At some point in the future, Jesus will return and slaughter all of these armies gathered to destroy Israel. This area was connected to many important historical sites.

Elisha was near to here when he raised a child from the dead. So there is an obvious parallel with Elisha 900 years ago. The people who lived here knew the history of Elisha. They knew about this. Therefore, what they saw Jesus do would have even more impact.

These pharisees knew about this. They would know about this miracle. Yet, it did not change any of their minds.

Jesus said to the Centurion, "I have seen more faith in you than in all Israel."

Luke 7:12 As he drew near to the gate of the town, behold, a man who had died was being carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow, and a considerable crowd from the town was with her.

This grieving widow has lost everything. With so many people here, she was likely a prominent and well-known person. This included wailing, mourning women who would scream and yell to demonstrate grief. Professional mourners. They are mourning as the funeral proceeds.

Luke uses a certain verb, a perfect participle of the verb thrêskô. He was the man who had died. The perfect tense indicates a permanent state of being. They often had a wake for 3 days, to make certain that the person was dead. The wake was over.

The dead son was being carried on a pallet of wood. On top of this wood was a wicker coffin and inside was the young man; and the lid was open. The body would have been wrapped completely in linen. The face was left open.

Often, the bodies would be put into a cubbyhole cave. All of this depicts death in a very real way. No question about what is going on here.

The Lord notices a particular sadness in this woman. Very difficult for her to raise her only son. People depended upon family when they become old. There was no consolation for her. Her only kin was dead. His death left a very empty spot in her soul and in her house.

The coffin is going one way and the Lord is going the other. As they cross each other, the Lord tells her not to weep. He is a complete stranger to her.

We may think of Jesus as being above emotion; He does not need to cry or to sympathize, but Jesus is fully human with non-sinful emotions. This would be an emotional moment.

What Is this Compassion?

Our government calls enslaving people with entitlements as compassionate.

1. His love and grace will be extended toward this woman. Only He can demonstrate this.
2. There was a real tenderness and understanding in the Lord's words. The word that Bobby hears at memorial services, "I am so sorry." There is no compassion in that word; it is just something that people say. But this is not true with out Lord. He said something of great comfort.
3. He did not cry with her; He simply spoke with her.

4. True compassion is not emotionalism. Jesus did not sob with her or put His arm around her and cry with her. Emotionalism exacerbates raw emotion. We may genuinely feel grief and we may grieve with tears. But Jesus needed to exhibit true compassion.
5. True compassion is sensitivity to the feelings, interests and well-being of others.
6. True compassion is a deep sympathy or sorrow for another's misfortune.
7. It is accompanied by a desire to remove the pain and to remove the cause of the pain. What is that?
8. Compassion extends a gracious attitude toward others; it is an expression of grace orientation. He is not blubbering out of control. It is true compassion. It is not unmanly to be compassionate. Toughness is not lack of compassion. A lack of compassion only demonstrates self-centeredness. True compassion is just as much a masculine quality as it is a feminine quality. It is also a leadership distinctive. You must be able to understand the feelings of those you lead and understand their griefs and try to alleviate their sadness. There is a whole retinue of disciples who follow Him (Jesus). These apostles are going to have to understand this. They must deal with people for the rest of their lives with people who are not hurting.

True compassion gives us the ability to comfort others who are in pain. There will be a reunion in heaven. Death is not the end; it is the beginning of eternal life; but it can be the beginning of eternal condemnation. Nothing comforts like hearing the Word of God. There will only be a few years and there will be a reunion. We will just cross over the river and rest under the shade of the tree.

There is the promise of resurrection and the reunion and there will be eternity in heaven. This is where we all will go and have hope in.

The Lord Jesus Christ and His Compassion

1. Jesus was a much beloved Son; the only Son of God the Father. Luke 3:22 just as the son in this coffin was an only son.
2. As Messiah and Savior, Jesus was very familiar with grief.
3. It says in Isa. 53:4 that Jesus is a man of sorrows; He knew them.
4. What does this mean? The Lord Jesus Christ knew all the grief that this world could inflict.
5. Jesus would come into contact with every sin of every person who had ever lived and be judged for them. There could be no more compassion than this.
6. Christ would be separate from His father; just as this son is separated from his mother.
7. Like the widow's son, He was destined to die. He would be carried to a similar cave-tomb.
8. However, grief would turn to joy when Jesus would return to life in 3 days. Compassion is a part of His message. This is what the cross reveals to us.

Luke 7:13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her and said to her, "Do not weep."

“Do not weep” catches everyone’s attention.

Lesson #0390

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

1/27/2013 2Sunday

in California

Luke 7:11 Soon afterward he went to a town called Nain, and his disciples and a great crowd went with him.

Luke 7:12 As he drew near to the gate of the town, behold, a man who had died was being carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow, and a considerable crowd from the town was with her.

Luke 7:13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her and said to her, "Do not weep."

Luke 7:14 Then he came up and touched the bier, and the bearers stood still. And he said, "Young man, I say to you, arise."

Luke 7:15 And the dead man sat up and began to speak, and Jesus gave him to his mother.

Luke 7:16 Fear seized them all, and they glorified God, saying, "A great prophet has arisen among us!" and "God has visited his people!"

Luke 7:17 And this report about him spread through the whole of Judea and all the surrounding country.

Matt. 8:5 When He entered Capernaum, a centurion came to Him, pleading with Him,

Matt. 8:6 "Lord, my servant is lying at home paralyzed, in terrible agony!"

Matt. 8:7 "I will come and heal him," He told him.

Matt. 8:8 "Lord," the centurion replied, "I am not worthy to have You come under my roof. But only say the word, and my servant will be cured.

Matt. 8:9 For I too am a man under authority, having soldiers under my command. I say to this one, 'Go!' and he goes; and to another, 'Come!' and he comes; and to my slave, 'Do this!' and he does it."

Matt. 8:10 Hearing this, Jesus was amazed and said to those following Him, "I assure you: I have not found anyone in Israel with so great a faith!

Matt. 8:11 I tell you that many will come from east and west, and recline at the table with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven.

Matt. 8:12 But the sons of the kingdom will be thrown into the outer darkness. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.”

Matt. 8:13 Then Jesus told the centurion, "Go. As you have believed, let it be done for you." And his servant was cured that very moment.

Luke 7:1 When He had concluded all His sayings in the hearing of the people, He entered Capernaum.

Luke 7:2 A centurion's slave, who was highly valued by him, was sick and about to die.

Luke 7:3 When the centurion heard about Jesus, he sent some Jewish elders to Him, requesting Him to come and save the life of his slave.

Luke 7:4 When they reached Jesus, they pleaded with Him earnestly, saying, "He is worthy for You to grant this,

Luke 7:5 because he loves our nation and has built us a synagogue."

Luke 7:6 Jesus went with them, and when He was not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to tell Him, "Lord, don't trouble Yourself, since I am not worthy to have You come under my roof.

Luke 7:7 That is why I didn't even consider myself worthy to come to You. But say the word, and my servant will be cured.

Luke 7:8 For I too am a man placed under authority, having soldiers under my command. I say to this one, 'Go!' and he goes; and to another, 'Come!' and he comes; and to my slave, 'Do this!' and he does it."

Luke 7:9 Jesus heard this and was amazed at him, and turning to the crowd following Him, He said, "I tell you, I have not found so great a faith even in Israel!"

Lesson #0391

Luke 7: Life of Christ

1/30/2013 Wed

Back from California. Small wedding and 2 garbage bags of stuff collected. Bobby wants every thing cleaned up.

Luke 7:16 Fear took hold of all, and they glorified God, saying, "A great prophet has arisen among us!" and, "God has visited his people!"

Luke 7:17 This report went out concerning him in the whole of Judea, and in all the surrounding region.

The people remembered their Old Testament and that Elijah and Elisha had done this as well. Jesus is not just a prophet; He is the Messiah. He did the things that the Messiah would do when He came to this earth. There is an identity error going on here.

John the Baptizer plays a part in this. John is confused and he is despondent because Herod Antipas put him into prison. He sees himself as the one who ought to preach and announce and he does not know why he is facing these circumstances. He questions whether or not he has lost the favor of God. Has he been pronouncing a false messiah? Jesus, his cousin, is the True Messiah. Why has not his heralding had the desired effect? So John is having a crisis, and he sends two messengers to see if he has made a mistake. They ask Jesus, "Are you the true Messiah?"

Luke 7:18 The disciples of John told him about all these things.

Luke 7:19 John, calling to himself two of his disciples, sent them to Jesus, saying, "Are you the one who is coming, or should we look for another?"

Luke 7:20–23 When the men had come to him, they said, "John the Baptizer has sent us to you, saying, 'Are you he who comes, or should we look for another?'" In that hour he cured many of diseases and plagues and evil spirits; and to many who were blind he gave sight. Jesus answered them, "Go and tell John the things which you have seen and heard: that the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have good news preached to them. Blessed is he who is not offended by me."

Jesus and John, Generally Speaking

1. Jesus identifies John.
2. Then Jesus commends John as the greatest of prophets. Jesus acknowledged John as the herald of the Messiah; and he did this using Old Testament prophecy.
3. Jesus will now identify Himself in connection with John. John had announced Jesus as the King. He also announced that with Jesus, the Kingdom of God had come. The greatest of prophets making this announcement.
4. So John was identified as a greater prophet than all of the other prophets of the Old Testament. John announced Jesus not to be a prophet but to be the Messiah.
5. Their conclusion must be, after this is discussed and taught, that Jesus was more than the greatest prophet; He is the Messiah.

Matt. 11:7–9 As these went their way, Jesus began to say to the multitudes concerning John, "What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind? But what did you go out to see? A man in soft clothing? Behold, those who wear soft clothing are in king's houses. But why did you go out? To see a prophet? Yes, I tell you, and much more than a prophet.

There were huge crowds that went out to see John. "Did you go to see a reed shaken by the wind?" John wore unfinished camel-haired fabric. John was not a fashion plait. He ate locusts and honey. John lived out with the snakes and the scorpions. You would go to the palace to see someone dressed up. You went out to see a prophet. John was a prophet unlike others who had come before Him.

Matt. 11:10–11 For this is he, of whom it is written, 'Behold, I send my messenger before your face, who will prepare your way before you.' Most assuredly I tell you, among those who are born of women there has not arisen anyone greater than John the Baptizer; yet he who is least in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he.

Jesus gives high praise to John. But anyone in the Kingdom of God is greater than he; as anyone in heaven is greater than anyone here on earth.

The people went out to the desert to see a prophet and to see what he had to say. He was more than a prophet; he was the herald. Israel had been looking to the fulfillment of this for centuries.

The hearers had to admit to themselves that they did not go out to the wilderness just to see a weird guy. But John was more than a prophet, as he had the message of the Messiah.

The hearers were to consider their motives for going to the desert in the first place.

John was not blown this way or that. John had a strong character; an extremely strong character. He was confident and knew his stuff.

Some went out to make fun of John; he was dynamic and a fearless messenger of the truth. He did not pay attention to those who had something negative to say about him or his message. We should not be side-tracked by every wind of doctrine, by everything that comes along. We must be focused on growing spiritually. We face some of the same problems that Israel faced. Great legalism; great rejection of Jesus. Israel would be leveled. It has never been more important for us to grow spiritually.

We need to be impervious to the sarcasm and negative volition of others. We need to maintain our dedication to the Word of God. Christianity today does blow with the wind. It has become faddish and trendy today.

Some are afraid to stand for doctrine; that does not draw a crowd. They need people in order to attract money. Some things they won't teach. Don't ever teach Rom. 1.

Or they won't want to talk about Satan, or hell or the sin nature. So they try to make the mandates of the Bible less foreboding. We need to know this because it is motivation for our witnessing. When we know about the Lake of Fire, then we begin to understand the justice of God. We cannot meet His standards, and therefore, we must depend upon His righteousness. Our God is a God of love, but also of justice.

Some pastors do not teach the Lake of Fire and those in their congregation are uncertain about their destination. They look at good deeds as being the basis of Christianity. Confusion is everywhere today. Pastors today want to be relevant today. So, they eschew anything that is confrontational. They want to be accepted by the world at large. Some even say that there are other pathways to God besides Christ, which is pure heresy. Satan does mind this. He knows that relevancy brings syncretism. Satan fears God's Word the most and believers who live His Word. The tactical victory of the believer in the Angelic Conflict terrifies him. He knows that his ultimate end is coming closer and closer. They present how Christians can advance by means of the power of positive thinking.

They are concerned with the churches growing in size. Those handbooks for Christian living, which are filled with good works. You can do all kinds of good works without ever having to reveal that you are a Christian.

Works are not the means of the Christian life; they are a result. Too many focus on them as the Christian life; they miss the boat.

Some will promote activism or political activism. Most churches are lacking the in-depth teaching of Berachah. How is a 20 minute message going to get any believer grown up. It is consistency.

They want God in church, but they do not want Him outside of church. They resort to human viewpoint because they do not have divine viewpoint in their souls. So pastors give them pabulum doctrine instead. These Christians are unprepared for the assault of Satanism. They are not prepared for anything.

Beautiful clothes do not make the man or his message.

You cannot judge pastors superficially by what they wear or where they live or by their personality. Maybe you should find someone that you can listen to, who does not irritate you when you are listening.

John the Baptizer spoke divine truth in the power of the Holy Spirit, then that is a message worth hearing.

Lesson #0392

Mal. 3:1–2 Life of Christ

1/31/2013 Thurs

John's ministry is that of heralding the King. He will cite Old Testament prophecy to back up His contention about John.

Mal 3:1 "Behold, I send my messenger, and he will prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom you seek, will suddenly come to his temple; and the messenger of the covenant, whom you desire, behold, he comes!" says Yahweh of hosts.

This is a prophet who will prepare the way for the Lord.

Mal 3:2 "But who can endure the day of his coming? And who will stand when he appears? For he is like a refiner's fire, and like launderer's soap;

There is also Isa. 40:3

Isa. 40:3 The voice of one who cries, Prepare you in the wilderness the way of Yahweh; make level in the desert a highway for our God.

He is not named here in this prophecy. But Jesus is making certain that we understand that this prophecy is applicable to John.

No prophet who has come to Israel has been as great as John. That is high-praise for him. They warned Israel of coming destruction. They warned Israel time after time. The northern and southern kingdoms were both warned. John was a part of that long list of Old Testament prophets, the last in the long line of prophets.

So, Why Is John the Greatest?

1. All the previous prophets looked forward to the Messiah. They all looked for the coming of the Messiah, but He did not in their lifetimes.
2. It was Jesus Who gave John the highest position of all the prophets.
3. John was the greatest of them all because He got to announce the imminent coming of the Kingdom. He got to present the Messiah to Israel.
- 4.
5. John was the last great prophet and the forerunner of the Messiah when on earth.
6. In John's time, they reject the Man Himself. Matt. 11:12

What about the Violence?

1. John the Baptizer had been announcing prior to this. The violence refers to the time between John's announcement of the kingdom and Jesus showing up. About a year.
2. Especially here the violent men were the religious leaders of Israel who rejected Christ. The religious leaders led the people in everything. What they said was the way that it was. The religious leaders in the New Testament represented the nation, and in rejecting Jesus meant danger and ever disaster for the nation. These are the violent men.
3. They aggressively opposed the kingdom because they opposed Christ. They opposed the King. They expected a political savior.
4. They rejected the Messiah to the point of doing violence to His person. And they would ultimately seek and carry out His execution. They made sure that the king would not sit on the throne in the first advent.
5. They assured the postponement of the kingdom by executing the King.
6. Because of this rejection, Jesus emphasizes another prophet. Jesus mentions Elijah. Jesus raised from the dead as Elijah did.

Matt. 11:14 If you are willing to receive it, this is Elijah, who is to come.

John the Baptizer and Elijah

1. John is made equivalent to Elijah. They are both forerunners of the Messiah.
2. To listen to John's message is the same as listening to Elijah's message of the Messiah. They are both heralds.
3. So John the Baptizer at the 1st advent had become the prophesied Elijah. He spoke as Elijah.
4. However, when you have a prophet, it is fulfilled, so John did not replace Elijah as the herald; he is equated with him.
5. Elijah would herald the Lord at the future time after John.
6. This fact that John was the herald along the order of Elijah, this whole thing was confirmed by an angel. So now we have a confirmation from heaven. "He will go as a forerunner before Him."
7. John would have the same message and the same empowerment. More than the inducement of the Holy Spirit.
- 8.
9. God's Word through the prophets still has a fulfillment to come; a far fulfillment. There is the 1st and the 2nd advents. John is the Elijah of the 1st advent; Elijah is the forerunner in the 2nd advent. They will both happen. There is often two fulfillments for many of the prophecies in Scripture.
10. When John is on earth, Elijah had been dead for 900 years.
11. John is the fulfillment of Mal. 3:1, but not the far fulfillment of Mal. 4:1, 5

Mal 4:5 Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and terrible day of Yahweh comes.

The Right Herald

1. These are clear prophecies about John and our Lord.
2. John was the first messenger of the Messiah.
3. Had the Jews accepted John's message and placed Jesus on the throne as the king, then would there be one fulfillment of these prophecies. John would have fulfilled the Elijah prophecy.
4. If the nation of Israel had accepted John's message regarding Christ as the king, which they did not, then Christ would have been placed on the throne of Israel.
5. If they accepted John's prophecy, there would have been no great and terrible day of the Lord, which is the future Tribulation before the millennial kingdom is instituted at the 2nd advent.
6. Malachi's prophecy would have been fulfilled if the 1st advent had been the 2nd advent, as would Daniel's prophecy of the Tribulation. All prophecy must come to past.
7. Mal. 4:5–6 was a prophecy that Israel would not accept the Messiah when He came.
8. The heralding prophecy would be fulfilled in the future.

Another Set of Points

1. This passage in Matt. 11 is about the rejection of John whose message is equated with Elijah's message. This passage anticipates the rejection of John and it is being equated with the rejection of Christ in the 1st advent.
2. So Elijah would have to be the future herald of a great and terrible day of the Lord.
- 3.
- 4.
5. According to the prophecy, if the kingdom would have come in the 1st advent, Elijah would not be the herald.
6. Elijah is still to come. John is the interim prophet.
7. John is the near-fulfillment.

Parallel ministries. The kingdom was postponed.

To complete the prophecy of Mal. 4:6, Jesus states that Elijah is still to come. He is still coming and he would restore all things.

3 Points

1. Matt. 17:11b is an eschatological reference. Jesus is telling His disciples that He would be rejected.
2. John offers the kingdom and it was rejected.
3. Elijah the he

We need to take a look at Elijah. What does he do in the Tribulation?

Isa. 40:4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the uneven shall be made level, and the rough places a plain:

Isa. 40:5 and the glory of Yahweh shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of Yahweh has spoken it.

Isa. 40:6 The voice of one saying, Cry. One said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the glory of it is as the flower of the field.

Lesson #0393

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

2/3/2013 1Sunday

Israel would have to accept their Messiah and Savior in order for the kingdom to become theirs. Jesus will offer the kingdom, but the people of Israel will, as a whole, reject it.

He will show Himself to be the Messiah. Two messengers come to the Lord Jesus Christ and they arrive; and John is the acknowledged herald of the Messiah. But now, John the Baptizer is locked up by Herod Antipas. He does not understand why he, as the herald of the Messiah, is in prison. This doubt is a crisis of his faith. John asks for confirmation. Is Jesus the true Messiah. Jesus confirms this by performing many miracles.

John is the designated forerunner of the King and the kingdom. Now they must understand that Jesus is the Messiah. That is His objective. The crowd needed more. They have seen miracles and it was not enough. People are not converted because of miracles. The only way that someone can believe in Jesus Christ, that they recognize that they need something beyond themselves. No miracles will convince someone who is not going to be convinced. Israel, as a nation, had rejected Jesus, despite witnessing all of these miracles.

Jesus now offers evidence to this crowd by appealing to something that the Jews would understand: Old Testament prophecy. They are interested in prophecy as many people are today.

God speaks through the prophet Malachi. Jesus would clear the way for the King.

Mal 3:1 "Behold, I send my messenger, and he will prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom you seek, will suddenly come to his temple; and the messenger of the covenant, whom you desire, behold, he comes!" says Yahweh of hosts.

Now to Isaiah.

Isa. 40:3 The voice of one who cries [a voice is calling], Prepare you in the wilderness the way of Yahweh; make level in the desert a highway for our God.

They are speaking about the same messenger and these prophets use the same words. These are the very words which Jesus uses concerning John the Baptizer.

Matt. 11:10 For this is he, of whom it is written, 'Behold, I send my messenger before your face, who will prepare your way before you.'

this describes John perfectly.

Matt. 11:11 Most assuredly I tell you, among those who are born of women there has not arisen anyone greater than John the Baptizer; yet he who is least in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he.

John baptized Jesus to identify Him as the Savior and the dove came as a recognition of His Messiah-ship. These all occur several thousands years before Jesus.

Mal 4:5 Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and terrible day of Yahweh comes.

Mal 4:6 He will turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the hearts of the children to their fathers, lest I come and strike the earth with a curse."

Elijah is on their radar.

Matt. 11:14 If you are willing to receive it, this [John] is Elijah, who is to come.

Jesus Christ has not just announced one forerunner, but two of them. There are two of them, according to Old Testament prophecy. Then Jesus associates both of these prophets with each other. John is that one. John is Elijah, if they are willing accept it.

An angel spoke to the father of John the Baptizer:

Luke 1:17 He will go before him in the spirit and power of Elijah, 'to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children,' and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord."

They are linked; John will operate in the spirit and power of Elijah. John would speak the heralding message as the Messiah; just as Elijah would speak this same message.

This has a bearing on our own future. Jesus announces these two forerunners.

Does John completely fulfill the prophecy as a herald?

There is a principle that we must always remember. All Biblical prophecy must come to a literal fulfillment. No spiritualizing of a prophecy. Many people spiritualize Israel as the church; we are called spiritual Israel. This is wrong. God's prophecy was directed toward the nation of Israel. We are not Israel; we are not the nation of Israel. John did not replace Elijah in the Malachi prophecy. John's mission failed. He heralding Christ, but Israel did not accept her Messiah; she crucified Him.

So John and Elijah would both herald the king, but at different times.

There is often a near fulfillment and a far fulfillment of a prophecy.

Age of Israel began when Moses took the children of Israel out of Egypt and they became a nation. The first generation spend 40 years in the desert, seeing tremendous miracles, but they rejected the power of God's Word.

John was the herald of the first advent, but Israel rejected him. The age when Jesus became man and spend 33 years on this earth and He was crucified, resurrected and He has ascended into heaven.

We are the church and our age has begun. There is the exit-resurrection; the rapture of the church.

The worst time in the history of man, the Tribulation. At the end of the Tribulation, after 7 years, there will be the 2nd advent; and Jesus returns. This is the promised return. When He returns, He destroys the armies about to crush Israel and Israel is saved by the Lord. Then we have the kingdom, the time when the kingdom is instituted. At that time, Elijah will be the herald of our Lord's coming. Then will come the 1000 year reign; that is Israel's kingdom, ending with the Gog and Magog revolution.

Elijah and John play a critical part as witnesses. Elijah is in the future picture because Israel rejected her Lord. The church is not the Kingdom of God at this time. Israel still has a future. So, there was another herald, Elijah, and he will be the herald of the true kingdom of God.

Matt 17:11 Jesus answered them, "Elijah indeed comes first, and will restore all things,

Jesus knows that He will be rejected and crucified. He knows He will be resurrected and ascend into heaven at a future time.

John is Elijah, if the message and Person of Jesus accepted by the people of Israel. We will never see John; he has passed. But we will see Elijah and after we are raptured, we will stand before Jesus at the Bama Seat and be evaluated regarding our spiritual life.

This state will lead us to the eternal state. We will also return with the Lord in resurrection bodies.

What do we know about the future of Elijah. Some of us are fascinated by the future. Who will I marry and what will I do? How will I end up?

The Day of the Lord is a prophecy of the future. It is called the Great and Terrible Day of the Lord. This is a period of time; a grouping of days. Jesus will kill thousands if not millions of people. The blood will run as high as the horse's bridle and we will witness this. This is the salvation of the nation Israel, the bringing in of nation Israel.

There will be a purification of this earth of all Satanic forces. Perfect environment . No more governments that takes rights and trample them. We will witness this.

Lesson #0394

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

2/3/2013 2Sunday

As believers, we ought to have the greatest capacity for parties. There is no prohibition of fun for the rest of our life.

Many of Berachah are squeamish, like blood in combat. No one in their right mind wants to see all of that blood, but it is clear that will happen at the 2nd advent. God has made a promise to His people Israel. We cannot understand the horror of those who will oppose Israel. Nazi Germany is nothing like the dictator of the Revived Roman Empire. There is a reason for all of this. This is God's justice in action. This will give us an idea of what God's justice really means. God will send those who do not believe in Him to hell.

Eschatology and Elijah and John the Baptizer is what we are studying.

Before the Great and Terrible Day of the Lord, Elijah will return to minister to Israel at the beginning. He will be back on earth. He is just one of two eschatological witnesses. Moses is the other one.

Rev. 11 does not name them. Elijah is put together with John as the herald of the 2nd advent, which is preceded by the Tribulation. He has to be involved to some degree. There is this similarity in 1Kings and somewhere else.

There is the transfiguration of Jesus, where the disciples saw Jesus glorified with Moses and Elijah, who witness to our Lord. Therefore, most theologians take Moses and Elijah as the witnesses in the Tribulation. They will bear testimony for God in Jerusalem during the first 3½ years in Jerusalem. They will be preaching in Jerusalem. They will convert the 144,000 Jews in Israel. Jehovah Witnesses think that they are the 144,000. Most of them are not Jews and they are not in the dispensation of the Tribulation. When they come to your door, don't believe it. These will be worldwide witnesses of the gospel during the Tribulation. Every believer in the world at the time of the Tribulation has died or raptured. These 2 men will witness and convert the 144,000 and they will become the evangelists throughout the world.

The regathered of Israel are the ones that Jesus comes to rescue. The book of Armageddon describes all of these people in the Tribulation.

John the Baptizer was a great witness to the Messiah before the 2nd advent. Many gentiles also believed. Jesus made it clear to the Roman centurion that he had a great faith, grater than any person in Israel.

Israel is a particular race singled out as God's people. Many gentiles accept Christ in the time of the hypostatic union, as will many in the Church Age and the Tribulation.

There will be many killed at the midpoint of the Tribulation. These two witnesses will be martyred. Therefore, the final 3½ years are the Great Tribulation.

The judgment of the Great Tribulation precedes the blessing of the kingdom instituted at the 2nd advent. This was true of John's ministry as well. It became an indictment of the Jews.

John and the future Elijah both engage. Another parallel. They are equated at many points. John is empowered just as Elijah, but both of them are involved in announcing the kingdom. The Kingdom of Heaven is at hand.

Israel was destroyed A.D. 70. Only since 1948 has there been a nation Israel. Today, they have a false religion.

Putting it All Together

1. John's question allowed Jesus to explain who John is as a forerunner of the Messiah. If John was the forerunning and he announced the King, then Jesus must be the Messiah.
2. John, like Elijah, was the forerunner of the kingdom. Our Lord makes this clear by His citing of Old Testament prophecy. Both of them are equated as prophets of the Messiah.
3. If John, like Elijah, was the herald of the kingdom, then John correctly identified Jesus Christ as the King. John said, "The kingdom has arrived" and he baptized the Lord.
4. To this multitude, to whom Jesus is speaking about John, they should identify him as the Messiah. A young man has been raised from the dead. All kinds of healing of the blind and the lame; and they have seen it all. There is Old Testament prophecy fulfilled before them. Some do believe, but most do not.
5. So revelation about John and Elijah; this is how important John's question is. This is the identification and the proof of Who Jesus is. It was time for them all to believe, but they do not. The pharisees who knew the Scripture better than anyone else were still unable to identify Jesus Christ. They also saw the miracles and rejected them and the Lord.
6. The answer included Christ pointing out the fulfillment of Old Testament prophecy. This prophecy is being fulfilled by John and is being fulfilled by Elijah.

A postscript is given: our Lord says, "He who is least in the Kingdom is greater than John."

Being a great prophet like John is not as good as being the least person in the Kingdom of God.

Mat 11:11 Most assuredly I tell you, among those who are born of women there has not arisen anyone greater than John the Baptizer; yet he who is least in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he.

The New Covenant promises that the people of the kingdom will have the Law written upon their hearts.

Heb. 8 talks about the New Covenant and repeats what Jer. 31 says.

This should give us some idea as to who we are in Christ. We are greater than John because of the spiritual life which we have and the spiritual capacity that we can develop. We have it.

We move in Mark 3:20, a crucial turning point between the nation, the pharisees and Jesus and all those who follow Him. Jesus has given them everything that they need to recognize Him as the Messiah, and they still say no. They will ask for signs and He will say, "No more signs; you've seen enough."

Jesus goes back to the city of Capernaum. Jesus was crush by crowds; they could not even have a meal.

Mark 3:20 The multitude came together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

Jesus had become quite famous. Everyone had heard of His miracles. Everyone wanted to see Him. They had many different reasons; many different motivations. Some wanted to learn everything that they could about their Savior. They knew that He was the King. But there were others who simply wanted to be healed. They just wanted to be touched and healed. Some just wanted to talk to Him and have a conversation. To some, He was sort of a rock star. Then there was the group who wanted to harass him and to discredit Him. His friends expressed great concern about His circumstances.

Mark 3:21 When his friends heard it, they went out to seize him: for they said, "He is insane."

His friends were concerned that He might be losing His mind. He was greater than any rock star. Jesus had no time to Himself; He could not even eat.

At this point that Jesus accepted an invitation for dinner from the strangest person; Simon, a pharisee. This is where it gets quite interesting. This will tell us why the Kingdom was not instituted. This was one of the most interesting dinner parties in history. It tells us why the Kingdom was postponed.

Lesson #0395

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

2/6/2013 Wed

Bobby appreciates us, honey.

Mark is the shorted of the gospels and abbreviated in many ways, but it does have a viewpoint.

Mark 3:20 The multitude came together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

Jesus returns after His second tour of this district and the multitude gathered again. This time His fame is greater than it was before. They gather to such an extent that they cannot even eat a meal.

Mark 3:21 When his friends heard it, they went out to seize him: for they said, "He is insane."

His friends came to take charge, to help. They were assuming that, because of all of these pressures, that He could not handle it. We will assume that they are trying to be helpful, who see a problem and try to help. But what this really does is set the stage for what is about to come. This is a turning point between Jesus Christ and the pharisees and the rejection, which is not taking its toll. Jesus was the greatest celebrity of Capernaum and they were proud of that.

After while of going without food, you run down; and your thinking becomes fuzzy and you cannot communicate. However, they may not have realized that Jesus spend 40 days in the desert. Under pressure, they were afraid that He would crack. Maybe a private restful period time off.

Jesus accepted an invitation for dinner. Luke 7:36–50

At this point, we do not know about this pharisee, and what his motivations are. So why would Jesus spend anytime with this man? So many of the pharisees were negative.

Luke 7:36 One of the Pharisees invited him to eat with him. He entered into the Pharisee's house, and sat at the table.

Nothing that Jesus did was just happenstance or random. Jesus would show firsthand the difference between grace and religious legalism. There was a comparison between two attitudes between God and mankind.

This pharisee represented the thinking of most of the pharisees. He was extremely self righteous, cold, and no doubt quite conceited. He believed himself to be far above the common sinners of the street. He was not a good and gracious host either. He looked down on those whom he saw as inferior. Legalists are very generous with themselves but not with others.

This man was clueless about what Jesus was about to present.

So they are eating and a woman enters into the city; and this woman was a sinner.

Luke 7:37 Behold, a woman in the city who was a sinner, when she knew that he was reclining in the Pharisee's house, she brought an alabaster jar of ointment.

3 major characters here at this dinner: Jesus, Simon the pharisee and the women. She is called the sinner in the city; and she was known by her reputation. She was known by her appearance. Simon knew of her immediately. She was undoubtedly a lady of the night.

As a prostitute, she was considered unclean and unwelcome. It is quite amazing that Simon knew her.

Those in the house saw this woman as scum, but Simon was in the company of Jesus. This woman understood Who Jesus was. She knew that she was anathema to Simon. He must have wondered, "Didn't this woman know her place? What is she doing, barging into my house?"

What Is Happening Here?

1. Undoubtedly the woman knew that Jesus was friends with tax gatherers and sinners. She knew that Jesus had eaten with prostitutes and tax gatherers. She knew that He had friends in that realm.
2. She heard His message and in that message, she found hope in her life of degradation and hopelessness.
3. She had also heard what is record in Matt. 11:28 come to Me all who are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest. This woman needed rest from what she lived.
4. This means that she was positive toward the message and Person of Jesus Christ. She recognized that this message is what she had been looking for all of her life. Many people recognized the importance of Bible doctrine the instant that they heard it. This woman recognized truth immediately.
5. This woman was overwhelmed like only a woman who expresses deep emotion can be. This was directed to someone as low as her. She had no illusions. It has always been that way. The gospel message reaches that person. This woman recognized that.
6. She was so positive that she had to take this opportunity. She knew that Jesus was in this house. The Man Whose message she heard; she saw Him from a distance.
7. She wanted to express her gratitude for His very being and for His message and what it meant to her. Bobby gets letters expressing gratitude. She understood grace and she wanted to show gratitude for it. And we are so unworthy of it. This woman represents us. She represents how short we fall of God and His righteousness. We can only meet God on His terms. This woman knew that she would be treated badly by the pharisees; that harsh words would come her way. But this opposition did not make any difference to her.
8. She also had confidence that when she entered this room, even though the pharisee would mock her, throw her out or worse, she was confident that Jesus would show compassion toward her.

She got it; she understood Who Jesus was. And she returned God's grace with graciousness. She reveals grace orientation. She has a gracious attitude and a gracious action. The pharisees had failed to do this.

She demonstrated her humility and she stood behind Jesus. Jesus was probably reclining while eating, so she could be behind Jesus while He is speaking and still wash His feet.

This woman embarrassed Simon with her own humility.

Luke 7:38 Standing behind at his feet weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears, and she wiped them with the hair of her head, kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

The pharisee sees this and he thinks to himself, "If this man were really a prophet, He's know what kind of woman this is." Simon knows this woman. This pharisee has a scornful attitude toward this woman. This woman ought to be kissing my feet, he might be thinking.

The arrogance of this man is unbelievable. So he doubts the gift of Jesus; and he believes that Jesus would not allow Himself to be contaminated by this woman. As a true prophet, Jesus should have known who this woman was and shunned her.

Who Jesus associates with is the difference between legalism and grace. Simon rejected the woman and he rejected Jesus Christ.

Luke 7:39 Now when the Pharisee who had invited him saw it, he said to himself, "This man, if he were a prophet, would have perceived who and what kind of woman this is who touches him, that she is a sinner."

We are going to get into more and more parables.

Jesus is no more

Luke 7:40 Jesus answered him, "Simon, I have something to tell you." He said, "Teacher, say on."

It would be pointless to speak directly to the pharisees.

Parables

1. A parable is a short story that illustrates a principle of Bible doctrine. It illustrates His mind and His thinking.
2. This may be a true story or based on a true story or a story with all the appearances of truth, although it may be fiction. It is the principle that matters.
3. The Hebrew word is mashshal.
4. The root meaning of this word is to represent. This is a story that represents the truth. There are many historical narratives in the Old Testament which represent the truth.
5. The Greek word is παραβολη.
6. This means placing beside for the purpose of comparing. Jesus would place this pharisee and this woman side-by-side to compare them.
7. So the parable teaches truth with great clarity by using common human experience.

Here is the parable. One owed a lot and the other did not owe very much.

Luke 7:41 "A certain lender had two debtors. The one owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty.

Neither one could pay the debt and the moneylender graciously forgave the debt. Who will be happiest with being forgiven.

There are 3 actors in the pharisee's home and 3 in the parable.

Explaining the Parable

1. The moneylender knew that both debtors could not repay the debt. Even the small one could not be repaid.
2. He forgave both their debt, even though He took a big loss on the 500 denary and a loss on the 50 denary as well.
3. This moneylender did not need to forgive either one; he could send them to debtors prison. They were finished. There was none of this filing chapter 13.
4. This act of generosity was unwarranted and undeserved but it demonstrated grace.

Our Relationship to this Parable.

1. Jesus forgave our debt of sin on the cross. It does not matter how great our sins are, even if we created only one sin in our entire life.
2. We do not deserve to have our sins forgiven and our debt expunged. That is God's grace.
3. Jesus saves us from the bankruptcy and ruin of eternal condemnation.

Many of us would love to have whatever debt forgiven; and this is even a bigger debt that cannot be repaid. No matter how many installments.

Luke 7:42 When they couldn't pay, he forgave them both. Which of them therefore will love him most?"

Luke 7:43 Simon answered, "He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most." He said to him, "You have judged correctly."

Lesson #0396

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

2/7/2013 Thurs

We have seen that our Lord was invited to a dinner at the home of Simon the pharisee. Simon was not his friend and this man would have loved to embarrass Jesus. He offers nothing to Jesus by way of hospitality and he is going to show his friends what a phoney this Jesus is.

A woman comes in off the street, and she is a sinner (a prostitute). She understood more than anyone else in that room the concept of grace and forgiveness. She understood that Jesus was unique. He was friends with others like her. She had heard His message and seen His miracles. Some have speculated that this was Mary Magdalene. Mary was one of the few who never left Him when He was on the cross. This was undoubtedly a very important woman in the life of Christ and this is our introduction to her.

In our Lord's gracious invitation to her, there was an overwhelming pull to her. She knew that He was the One, the Savior of all who came to Him. She could see Him and come into close contact with Him.

She even went into this house of this self righteous pharisee, who would call her to task. But she had great courage and tremendous positive volition.

We do not know how she got into the house; but she probably just walked right in.

At that time, feet got quite dirty and there was chamber pots thrown into the street and the people wore only sandals.

Luke 7:38 Standing behind at his feet weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears, and she wiped them with the hair of her head, kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

Simon was exactly the opposite. He bowed to no man. He was arrogant. This was the prevailing attitude among the religious leaders in Palestine. He looked down at this women with nothing but scorn and great skepticism.

Luke 7:39 Now when the Pharisee who had invited him saw it, he said to himself, "This man, if he were a prophet, would have perceived who and what kind of woman this is who touches him, that she is a sinner."

Simon doubts that Jesus is a prophet; He does not appear to realize just who this woman is. This woman was considered unclean as a member of the oldest profession.

This was the turning point with Jesus and the religious types of Israel. Jesus would try to explain this to them.

Jesus used a story to compare this woman to the pharisees, and the pharisees do not come out looking very good in the comparison.

Luke 7:40 Jesus answered him, "Simon, I have something to tell you." He said, "Teacher, say on."

Luke 7:41 "A certain lender had two debtors. The one owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty.

Luke 7:42 When they couldn't pay, he forgave them both. Which of them therefore will love him most?"

Luke 7:43 Simon answered, "He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most." He said to him, "You have judged correctly."

The pharisee and the prostitute are both debtors to God, and God forgave them both. The one in the greatest debt to Him was the one who was the most grateful.

Legalism would have demanded repayment; even though neither debtor had the money to pay back their debt. Jesus forgave our debt and He did this on the cross. We could never repay the debt that we owe to God, just as is true of these two debtors. Jesus forgave the debt, even though no one deserved it.

“Which of the two debtors will love him more?” He asks Simon.

And Simon got the right answer. Now they move on to double jeopardy. Simon has just judged Himself.

Luke 7:44 Turning to the woman, he said to Simon, "Do you see this woman? I entered into your house, and you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears, and wiped them with the hair of her head.

Simon certainly saw this woman, and he had been fixated on her for a long time. Simon gave Jesus no water for His feet. That is terrible hospitality.

Luke 7:45 You gave me no kiss, but she, since the time I came in, has not ceased to kiss my feet.

There was no civil greeting.

Luke 7:46 You didn't anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment.

There was no oil, no perfume, no deodorant.

Luke 7:47 Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven, for she loved much. But to whom little is forgiven, the same loves little."

The pharisee did not see himself as being in that much debt.

An Explanation of What Has Just Occurred

1. In this parable, the money-lender had forgiven the largest debtor of all.
2. The woman illustrated this great debtor. She was the one who owed the great debt. Everyone knew that she was a sinner.
3. The debt the sins of this woman were obvious and frequent. She was an overt sinner.
4. She knew that she was unworthy of forgiveness; and Christ was aware of her status. She owed a lot. She was a long way from the righteousness of God.
5. The truth being illustrated is that Jesus announced the forgiveness of all her debt; He forgave her all her sins.
6. She was no longer in debt to God; Christ forgave her, her sins. To have the Messiah of Israel tell her that her sins were forgiven; that had great meaning.
7. She responded to the grace of the One Who had forgiven her sins with great love and honor and belief. Anointing His feet was her response.

The Pharisee's Response

1. The pharisee was the lesser debtor. That is what everyone thought, including himself. He was righteous. So Jesus set them up in that way.
2. He had his debt forgiven by the moneylender as well.
3. How did he respond? Jesus revealed their different responses. The woman's actions of love compared to the pharisees actions of contempt and recrimination.
4. Self-righteousness and self-centeredness excludes gratitude. If you are dating someone like this, cease and desist. That will go nowhere.
5. There is no real gratitude for forgiveness, which is what the woman had and the pharisee did not. There is no recognition of need. This pharisee had no real gratitude; he did not even see himself as being indebted. "What debt do I have?" Hospitality in the ancient near-east demanded certain courtesies. Simon showed none of these. He did not overlook these courtesies; he did this on purpose, so that everyone there could see what he thought about Jesus.

The woman saw herself as being nothing and even wiped our Lord's feet with her hair; she had no cloth. Perfume was expensive in the ancient world. She brought it in an alabaster jar. Nothing was too good for her Savior. This woman had great capacity for love and appreciation. This is a sign of total love and total submission.

The Pharisee and His Debt

1. The lesser debtor, the pharisee, did not see themselves as sinners. They watched their money carefully and the forgave no one. The made people who owed them pay to the last denary.
2. The pharisee showed great disrespect for our Lord. You would have great gratitude for someone like this; a Lord Who has forgiven you. The pharisee did not see himself as in debt.
3. This man is the picture of arrogance in a self righteous person.
4. This man loved only himself. He did not love the Person Who was gracious to him.
5. Simon had not even acknowledged his own status as a debtor; as a sinner. How could he show gratitude for forgiveness. If you don't think you need anything, then you will never think you need Jesus Christ.
6. You cannot show gratitude unless you recognize that someone has shown kindness and deference. There must be something that you have gratitude for.
7. No one can recognize grace when they are self-absorbed. They cannot recognize good things in other people when they are inundated in themselves. This is blind arrogance.

Simon's Lack of Appreciation

1. Through the parable, Jesus has shown that Simon cannot accept grace. He wants to earn his salvation. "I am good enough; I can earn it through my goodness." So Simon did not express faith in Christ. So he was an enemy.
2. He showed no response to the One who removed his debt.

3. How could he respond to what Christ would do for him?

The woman expressed her faith with her gratitude. This is a picture of virtue love as it develops in the soul of the believer. This is virtue love personified. The moral of the parable is understood in our Lord's final pronouncement.

Then Jesus makes the great pronouncement. Only God can forgive sins.

Luke 7:48 He said to her, "Your sins are forgiven."

The Woman Was Saved

1. She was saved; she received salvation.
2. It was not her works of washing, applying ointment or kisses that saved her.
3. Our Lord said it. It was her faith in Christ that saved her. She deserved none of it.
4. She came to Jesus showing her response to His gracious compassion.
5. In her works, she was demonstrating her faith and gratitude to the Lord Jesus Christ. This was a demonstration of her gratitude and a response to being forgiven.
6. "Your faith has saved you, go in peace."

Those at the table wondered about this.

Luke 7:49 Those who sat at the table with him began to say to themselves, "Who is this who even forgives sins?"

Luke 7:50 He said to the woman, "Your faith has saved you. Go in peace."

Her Faith Is What Saved Her

1. She simply accepted what Christ did for her. Her faith saved her.
2. Jesus also called it; she found peace with God; reconciliation. A prostitute from the street was now a friend of God.
3. Christ had reconciled her to God.
4. So she could now live as Paul wrote in Philip. 4:7 in the peace that passes all understanding.

The Lesson Is Obvious

1. We are all debtors to God. We are all in need.
2. The best and the worst of us cannot buy our way out of debt.
3. There is not enough money or good works to pay off our debt.
4. Our inability to pay our debt must be forgiven by the One to Whom we owe the debt.
5. The debt is forgiven at the cross. It is appropriated by us; we appropriate that forgiveness by faith alone in Christ alone.

This is a picture of what gratitude really looks like. There are repercussions for those who do not believe. They all heard this announcement of the woman's forgiveness. They all witnessed the woman's resultant love of Jesus Christ. Now we look into their minds.

Luke 7:49 Those who sat at the table with him began to say to themselves, "Who is this who even forgives sins?"

They expressed their skepticism. When the paralytic had been healed, the pharisees expressed the same skepticism. Luke 5:21 "Who is this man who speaks blasphemies? Who can forgive sins but God alone?" They were saying that Jesus could not forgive sins; He was a phoney to them. But now He claims the power of God to forgive sins. These pharisees will fully reject Him in an obvious and evil way.

Matt. 12:22–23 Then one possessed by a demon, blind and mute, was brought to him and he healed him, so that the blind and mute man both spoke and saw. All the multitudes were amazed, and said, "Can this be the son of David?" They will charge that Jesus will cast out demons by the power of Satan. They will say any lie to discredit the truth.

Lesson #0397

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

2/10/2013 1Sunday

Communion Service:

66 books by 40 authors. The Bible shares a common theme and a common message, that salvation is available to all who express faith alone in Christ alone. There are no mistakes and no contradictions. Thousands of volumes have been written about the Bible, as well as interpretations and conclusions about the Bible. And theologians study to learn new doctrines and principles to teach. Persistent teaching.

"Have you understood all of these things? Every scribe is like a head of a household who brings out his treasure, both new and old."

If Bobby was to condense the entire Bible to one sentence, "For God so loved the world that He gave His uniquely-born son so that whoever believes in Him will have everlasting life."

If only this one verse remained, it would have the power to save all mankind.

God loved and gave; man's response and the result; the extremes of destiny, to perish and to live.

This verse tears away at atheism and it destroys deism that asserts a distant God, by declaring that God gave to us personally. Pantheism claims the universe is God; but this verse tells us that God so loved the world. Unitarianism denies the Trinity, yet there are two Persons of the Trinity here. Legalism says there must be human merit, but this verse asserts that is it whoever believes in Him.

Jesus made no attempt to explain God; He assumes God's existence and shows how concerned that God is.

God can be known and experienced in everyday life. This God is a God of compassion for a lost and dying world. Many see God as a scowling ruler of the universe, ready to strike anyone who opposes Him; and there is a God of wrath. His wrath is toward sin; but He will take anyone who comes to Him in faith. God exists and He is reachable. God has not destined us for wrath.

He has a perfect love even toward those who are repugnant to Him. The only truly unconditional love. It does not depend upon the merit of the object, which is us. This is the impersonal love of God toward all creation. The only love that God can have for all mankind. God hates the sin but He loves the sinner. Impersonal love emphasizes the perfect and the absolute qualities of God.

God does not need an intimate relationship with us to love us with impersonal love. This depends solely upon the integrity of God. The greatest love that has ever existed. God desires the highest and best for each one of us, even while we are His enemies. He longs for us to have joy and security and happiness.

Parents sometimes have misdirected ambitions for their children; but God does not. God only desires that which is in harmony with His perfect will. His plan is always perfect. How can all of this be when there is nothing of merit involved. The secret is God's matchless grace, all found in "God so loved the world." The Jews of that day believed that the kingdom was only for themselves. World embraces all classes of people. Every sinner is the object of God's impersonal love.

We are sometimes foolish, as Americans, because our land has been so blessed. We think that we are special objects of His love. When we compare our prosperity with other impoverished and war-torn countries, we are more impressed than ever. John 3:16 sweeps away all nations and all races. Jesus died for the most evil and disgusting of people. The evil deeds that men do are no worse to Him than what sins you have committed personally.

There is a narrative in the book of Genesis that so illustrates, God so loved the world, in Gen. 22. Abraham, take your son, your only son, and take him to the land of Moriah and sacrifice him there. Abraham must have been in total agony. He took the wood of the burn offering and laid it upon his son. Isaac asked about the sacrifice, and Abraham told him, "God will provide the sacrifice."

It is interesting to note the uniquely-born quality in Gen. 22 and in John 3:16. This statement brings the blessing of salvation within the reach of the entire human race. Anyone can express faith in Christ. To whomever. Because Jesus has done it all, all that we must do is believe in Jesus Christ. This expression of faith must be compatible with God's grace. Acts 16:31 expresses it all. It is a gift of God, and not of works, so that no one will boast. John 3:16 continues, That none should perish. Perish carries a greater impact than physical death itself. This same Greek word is used in Matt. 10:6; lost is the same word as perish. Man will never cease to exist, even if he dies rejecting the grace of God. He will perish, but not in the sense of being burned up. God has set eternity in the soul of all. The alternatives are to perish or to not perish. To not perish means that we exercise faith alone in Christ alone.

John 3:16 comes to the conclusion, not to perish but to have eternal life. The benefit which comes to all from believing in Jesus Christ.

These things I have written to you who have believed in the Son of God so that you might know that you have eternal life. Eternal life is the result of God's love. That is the story of the miniature Bible.

Business meeting next week in the 2nd service a Berachah.

We have just gone through the dinner party that Jesus was at. Hundreds of people needed His attention and He had no time to eat. The dinner party was at Simon's, a pharisee.

At the dinner party, He explained the difference between His grace and His love of the prostitute as contrasted with Simon's attitude toward this woman. Simon in his attitude was condemned by his legalism. As a pharisee, Simon represented the attitude of so many religious leaders at that time. They rejected Him in so many ways. The attitude of much of nation Israel was expressed in Simon's attitude.

From this point, Jesus had a new attitude toward the pharisees and the nation Israel. Jesus will no longer strive to reach the Philistines and to bring them over. "There will be no more signs for you pharisees and Israel; except for one sign."

The pharisees have already seen enough signs and have heard enough teaching.

Matt. 12:22 Then one possessed by a demon, blind and mute, was brought to him and he healed him, so that the blind and mute man both spoke and saw.

Matt. 12:23 All the multitudes were amazed, and said, "Can this be the son of David?"

The multitudes were amazed; can this man be the Son of David? This refers to the Messiah. They always were asking the wrong question. It revealed their lack of belief; and this is where our Lord drew the line. Their charge as it was against the Lord Jesus Christ is one of the worst things that anyone could say to Jesus. This will be called the unpardonable sin, which will be the next service.

This is a new incident; and the people of Israel will confront their Messiah. Not all Jews or Gentiles rejected Jesus; but those of the religion Judaism and those in power had rejected Jesus; and many who are influenced by them rejected Him as well.

We will find out more information than we would expect about this rejection that He would receive.

Matt. 12:22 Then one possessed by a demon, blind and mute, was brought to him and he healed him, so that the blind and mute man both spoke and saw.

It is nothing for Jesus to cure a man who is blind and mute. There is no lack of evidence that Jesus is the Messiah. He operated in the power of God. To heal a demon possessed man is not out of the question for the divine power of God.

Jesus showed one more time that He has power over Satan and his demons. Satan and his demons are the more powerful beings in the universe; the most powerful created beings. Here, our Lord spoke a word, and they obey Him. The demon possessing this man knew that voice. He knew the voice of Jesus Christ and he responded to that command immediately. He did not gripe or grumble or call up Satan and ask him, "What do I do now?"

This voice will eventually consign them to eternity in hell. Absolute power cannot be overcome.

Perhaps, after the ark and the imprisoning of all the demons who infiltrated the human race, these demons will willingly obey Jesus, so that they are not condemned right then and there.

What Does this Verse Tell Us?

1. This demonstrates that Jesus Christ can do what He says He can do. His power to forgive sin is what He can do. This proves it. He could reconcile man to God. Jesus offers forgiveness to man.
2. Jesus can do away with the legal slavery of the pharisees.
3. Just as it is with this tormented demon-possessed soul, Jesus could give rest to any soul. "Come to Me all who are heavy-laden and carrying great burdens and I will give you rest."
4. They have seen Jesus raise people from the dead. They ask, "Can this really be the Messiah? Can this man really be the Son of David?" This expresses doubt. John's doubt is satisfied by the report of the miracles done by Jesus; the doubt of the masses was not put to rest by these miracles. They were asking each other about Who Jesus is; when Jesus is right in front of them. This is negative volition in the face of overwhelming proof that Jesus is the Messiah. People can see these miracles and they do not believe. People don't have to see miracles to believe. The real question they are really asking is, "If He is not the Messiah, then Who is He really?"

Matt. 12:23 All the multitudes were amazed, and said, "Can this be the son of David?"

The pharisees suddenly see an opening to question Jesus' Person. So the pharisees offer up their own theory. They could not deny the validity of the miracle. Something clearly happened here that they could not refute. All they could do is discredit or refute the miracle. What they come up with is foolish, but it reveals their negative volition.

Listen people, this is not from God. Mark 3:22

Matt. 12:24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, "This man does not cast out demons, except by Beelzebul, the prince of the demons."

This name is Baal-zebul; it literally means the god of excrement; the god of dung. Probably not the best choice to name your own child. Here, he is equated with the prince of demons.

So this is their explanation. Jesus is possessed by Satan himself.

Mark 3:22 The scribes who came down from Jerusalem said, "He has Beelzebul," and, "By the prince of the demons he casts out the demons."

The claim is that Jesus is in cahoots with Satan; and the god of all evil is behind this miracle. We hear this from Islam; Christians are the great Satan; the United States is the Great Satan. They are claiming that Jesus is the epitome of evil. The motive for this was that Jesus would use this miracle to present the corrupt doctrines to the people. Jesus is presenting doctrines in opposition to the pharisees, and therefore, He must be the minion of Satan himself. They really believed this. It was very crafty. This was designed to turn the miracle of God into the evil practice of Satan. And this convinced many in the crowd. How else could they explain this?

This subterfuge is so similar, and this is the exact opposite of the truth, and this type of lie comes out of some high places in our government. The blame for various misdeeds by government officials is often placed on those who opposed the misdeeds. They call others evil to cover up their own evil. They call others liars to hide their own lies. And people believe the lie. The wrongs are hidden behind the criticisms of others. People choose to believe these lies; they want to believe them. The lies fit their preconceptions and their ideology and they have no norms and standards in their souls with which to counter these lies. They want to believe these lies. They are ready to believe the exact opposite of the truth.

The pharisees cannot explain away this divine miracle, so they call it evil, the exact opposite of what it is. They attack the One performing the miracle and they claim He is possessed of Satan. This fits their narrative and covers their own evil.

This is a great way to lie; accuse someone else who has accused you. The pharisees are using character assassination of the worst kind, attributing this sort of evil to Satan's greatest enemy. They call truth a lie, to blind man to the works of God. That is exactly what is going on.

This is the way of the world. This is how Satan works. This is what Satan is all about. This has been his modus operandi from the beginning. God provided absolute truth for Adam and the woman. There was only one prohibition; they had no sin nature. But Satan deceives the woman by calling God's truth a lie. He attacks the woman by saying that God prohibits this tree to keep the woman down. This is the woman's liberation argument.

The woman believed the lie and her attitude went from obedience to resentment and disobedience. One little lie and Satan exploited the situation. The woman was fooled to believe that she could have equality with God.

Adam followed right along like a puppy; and Adam knew it was a lie. Adam was the one who is the most culpable. He knew it was wrong and he did it. Again, this duplicitous system of lies is alive and well in the halls of government.

An example. Our government is bankrupting this nation, piling up debt in a way that we cannot imagine; and both parties are guilty, but the one in power far outstrips the other. We are being put into overwhelming debt, committing economic suicide. Our current annual expenditures for social security and medicare is upwards to $1 trillion. The affordable care act and the other entitlements is up to $2.2 trillion. 100-fold increase over a few decades ago. Such programs cannot be afforded. They will project debt to GDP upwards to 90%; all goods and services produced in a year. Our debt would be 90% of our GDP, which will destroy our nation. But our politicians tell us, "We are on the right track." Ezra Klein, "The United States will be an insurance company with an army." Unmitigated disaster propped up by lies.

The political campaign denied all that we heard. They claimed that they will spend our way out of debt; accrue future debt to solve our debt problem. More debt solves nothing. It makes the problem worse. Even increased taxes will not cover this. Most of Berachah knows that these things are going on. This is Satan's world and it runs on lies. It runs on lies and deception; and this is the epitome of lies and evil deception.

One group wants to stop this, and speaks out against it; and this group is blamed for every ill the nation has. They are blamed for evil leadership in the past. They are the ones who would default on the debt. That is a way to simply borrow and pay on entitlements. Yet they are blamed for destroying the country for not going along with the Democrats. They are charged with the fiscal evils of the party in power, while the debt continues to escalate.

Many people believe the lies. It fits their preconceptions and ideology. It fits their desire to redistribute wealth. They are ignorant of divine establishment standards. When you have no standards in your soul; when there is a vacuum in your soul, then lies invade your soul. Your life operates on lies. People are operating and thinking on lies.

At the base of this is one party trying to have control and power at the expense of everything and everyone else. Lies to cover up truth.

Matt. 12:24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, "This man does not cast out demons, except by Beelzebul, the prince of the demons."

Jesus Christ hears this lie, which is an absurd lie, that He is possessed of Beelzubul; He will not systematically destroy these lies in front of everyone. Jesus will rip their lies to shreds; but where negative volition is present, the lie is believed.

Bobby doesn't know where we are going; but those in Berachah know the difference between lies and truth; and to the extent that we put doctrine into our souls, that we know a greater volume of truth. Someday, we may be the ones to refute the lies. Truth is truth and the absolute truth is from Bible doctrine.

Matt. 12:25 Knowing their thoughts, Jesus said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand."

Lesson #0399

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

2/13/2013 Wed

Jesus was brought a deaf and dumb man, and he heals this man. Bobby is always amazed that these multitudes are amazed.

Mark 3:22–23 The scribes who came down from Jerusalem said, "He has Beelzebul," and, "By the prince of the demons he casts out the demons." All the multitudes were amazed, and said, "Can this be the son of David?"

They talk among themselves, saying, "This man can't be the Son of David, can He?" The idea here is, they doubt that Jesus is. Only God has power over the demons. The crowd observes this and they are skeptical. Why ask this question? Jesus has presented Himself in this way. They doubted Him and even when seeing the proof, they doubted Him.

The pharisees arrive on the scene; they heard the crowd and the buzz; so they have to explain this. They have to answer this question to make these with negative volition comfortable with their rejection of Jesus.

Mark 3:22 is a parallel passages.

Matt. 12:24 But when the Pharisees [and the scribes] heard it, they said, "This man does not cast out demons, except by Beelzebul, the prince of the demons."

Mar 3:22 The scribes who came down from Jerusalem said, "He has Beelzebul," and, "By the prince of the demons he casts out the demons."

This man can only cast out demons because he is the prince of demons. They are charging that Jesus was operating under the power of Satan; or perhaps they are asserting that He is Satan. He would, by this, be the absolute enemy of God. They were making these charges and claiming that Jesus was just casting out fellow demons in order to put on this show. Satan was simply orchestrating the whole thing.

Jesus will counter this absurd lie and He will turn the tables on these pharisees. They have charged Jesus with absurdity. Jesus knows exactly what they are thinking. He knows what this scheme is all about.

Matt. 12:25 Knowing their thoughts, Jesus said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand.

Matt. 12:26 If Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then will his kingdom stand?

Mark gives the more abbreviated version.

Mark 3:23 He summoned them, and said to them in parables, "How can Satan cast out Satan?

Mark 3:24 If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

Mark 3:25 If a house is divided against itself, that house cannot stand.

Mark 3:26 If Satan has risen up against himself, and is divided, he can't stand, but has an end.

There is no bipartisanship when viewpoints are mutually exclusive. What is going on today, between relative evolving ethics and timeless law. Can we stand as a nation in such divisiveness. The destiny of any nation or person depends upon the acceptance of the Lord Jesus Christ and the doctrine of His Word. When there is a split in that area, it is a house divided.

This is the term used by Abraham Lincoln.

Many nations have been divided by faith in Christ and secularism and humanism and religion; and there is no compromise in that sphere. To compromise with other religions is to compromise Christianity itself. There is no middle ground.

Volition, marriage, family and nationalism.

Divisiveness in a Nation

1. To compromise, individual volition is to compromise personal freedom of choice. The more government makes decisions for us, the more individual freedom that is lost. That is the compromise. This happens constantly today.
2. There is the second divine institution of marriage. The Biblical definition of marriage is the indissoluble union of one man and one woman. Alternatives, like communal living, homosexuality, promiscuity. That is relative secular opinion. This compromises the very foundation of the family.

3. To compromise the 3rd divine institution is to reject the fundamental organization of society. Nobody even knows what this is anymore. There are no norms and standards anymore. Standards are bent so much that no one knows what these standards are. Family is designed for the raising of children, to install right and wrong, standards. We have had a great example of this of people who were cheering on a police officer who went renegade and was killing other police officers. It doesn't take a village; it take parents who train and convey stability.
4. It is a fact that national degeneration begins with disintegration of the family unit and that is going on in our country today.
 - a. Insecure and unstable children are the result of family disintegration. They grow up to be insecure and unstable adults with no mental attitude sins. They stand for nothing so that they fall for anything.
 - b. Insecure and unstable husband results in an insecure wife and a family that is fraying.
 - c. Insecure and unstable parents result in insecure and unstable children and the cycle continues.
 - d. Insecure children who become insecure adults then become insecure and unstable generation. Each generation becomes more unstable than the previous one. Soul vacuums and they are searching but they don't know for what.
 - e. They grasp for security; and it is materialism or religion that they grab up.
 - f. They place their hope in wealth, in the details of life. Or they place their faith in being good and doing good deeds.
 - g. They also as an insecure generation demand security from others, especially from government. Them government becomes big daddy, big momma and big brother.
 - h. The fact is, there is no security without Jesus Christ. The only real security is Jesus Christ. You do not know this security unless you then grow spiritually. Then you become secure even when your circumstances and the conditions of your life are insecure.
 - i. Without doctrine, you are confused and say, "Why isn't there any bipartisanship?" You cannot get along because there is no integrity. An insecure generation becomes an entitlement generation demanding that they get taken care of by the nanny state.
5. Entitlements are offered by a government by power-grabbing politicians. They want power and money and they know how to get it...just offer people money, security, a free ride. Watch them become dependent slaves. That is who they vote for.
 - a. These power brokers, the politicians offer some form of humanism, especially socialism, which are divorced from divine establishment principles
 - b. A government based upon fostering entitlements increases their power; the more that they offer, the more that they get by way of power and money.
 - c. A government that finances the pseudo-security of socialism through the confiscation of wealth through unjust taxation and the illegal distribution of that money in the name of the greater good for the great number is a corrupt government that corrupts its people.

- d. This is called utopian socialism. This establishes economic and political doctrines based upon false theories of humanism and secularism; the mirage of human induced security. There is no security apart from divine security. The wealthy have as many problems as we do. It is harder to hold onto money than it is to make it.
- e. A government like must promote class warfare (rich versus poor); they must promote racial tensions. Keep everyone divided; divide and conquer. They must promote class warfare, divisions in society in order to succeed. The pharisees offer a false security. The people are negative toward Jesus; the pharisees give them cover for this.
- f. The result of all this is a demagogic government which provides pseudo security to an insecure generation through public lies and false promises.
- g. Hence nationalism is compromised to embrace internationalism. An insecure nation, we are a deluded, divided people.

You cannot stand when you are divided in your thinking. Marriage cannot stand when you are divided in your thinking. The nation is divided by the thinking of its citizens.

We can use these same arguments that Jesus uses in our own nation.

Our Lord's Arguments

1. Our Lord's first argument: if I am Satan, if I am possessed by him, how can I split up my own kingdom and survive??” These divisions would destroy the purpose of his own kingdom. Satan's kingdom cannot endure such a breakdown. Satan's whole existence is overturning God's sentence of the Lake of Fire. The very principle of the Angelic Conflict would negate Satan's allocation of resources. You do not divide your forces against the enemy; why would Satan divide his own forces against himself? He won't do it.
2. Mark 3:27 provides an analogy: But no one can enter into the house of the strong man to plunder, unless he first binds the strong man; and then he will plunder his house.
 - a. Jesus Christ is not possessed by Beelzebub.
 - b. He does not operate in the sphere of Satan to cast out demons. A ridiculous charge; and people believe the LW.
 - c. Satan CANNOT defeat his own army.

Matt. 12:27 If I by Beelzebub cast out demons, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore they will be your judges.

Demons are Satan's point-troops. They are out there to defeat God in the Angelic Conflict. Jesus will use this to prove a house divided against itself cannot stand.

Matt. 12:28 But if I by the Spirit of God cast out demons, then the Kingdom of God has come upon you.

Lesson #0400

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

2/14/2013 Thurs

Bobby has been studying these verses; and there perhaps have been times that people have said something derogatory about you, and days later, you wish that you would have said something. As Bobby studies these passages, he realizes that our Lord was never at a loss for words. His comebacks and His way of handling all of these derogatory remarks is amazing. He comes up with 3 or 4 things which refute the position of the pharisees.

He has been called the epitome of evil by these pharisees before the crowd. They had just seen an amazing miracle, and Jesus is said to be demon-possessed. This was one of the most despicable allegations to date. They thought that they had trapped our Lord, but they opened the door to destroy themselves.

Jesus must refute these accusations before this crowd. He uses a parable to refute the pharisees. His logic is irrefutable. He will prove that He is the Messiah, the King of Israel.

This will be the last time that He will contend with the negative volition of these religious leaders.

First, how can Satan cast out demons?

Matt. 12:25 Knowing their thoughts, Jesus said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand.

This means that Satan is divided against himself. So, therefore, how can his kingdom stand.

Matt. 12:26 If Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then will his kingdom stand?

Jesus in these verses does a masterful job of beating down the pharisees. Also, within these verses is great doctrine as well. The Lord is saying this, "If I am controlled by Satan, which is what you pharisees are alleging, then why would I cast out my own demons? I would be dividing my own kingdom; I would be cutting my own throat bringing disunity and loss of morale of my own troops; thus destroying my kingdom. How stupid would that be?"

Satan's kingdom cannot endure such a breakdown. Satan is finished if he divides his own kingdom. This would negate a self-inflicted wound?

Mark 3:24 If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

Mark 3:25 If a house is divided against itself, that house cannot stand.

Mark 3:26 If Satan has risen up against himself, and is divided, he can't stand, but has an end.

Then there is a parable. The strong man represents Satan himself and Satan has a house, which is the realm of the cosmic system. He is very jealous of this house. No one is allowed to intrude upon this house.

Mark 3:27 But no one can enter into the house of the strong man to plunder, unless he first binds the strong man; and then he will plunder his house.

Implications of the Parable.

1. No one can enter Satan's house, as the parable would have it, which is his kingdom and everything that goes with it. No one can enter this house to plunder it unless they are more powerful than Satan himself.
2. Satan is the strong man. No one can plunder or destroy his kingdom unless they are stronger than he is; then they can overcome Satan's considerable power.
3. If someone actually entered his house and plundered his property, as Jesus did with this demon-possessed man. Jesus went after that property and he plundered it. Jesus had to bind up Satan first. The person who enters and plunders is stronger than Satan.
4. If Christ was casting out a demon and this demon is Satan's property, the conclusion is, He has entered into Satan's house and He has plundered Satan's property.
5. To do so, Jesus Christ would have to in effect bind Satan. He would be reducing Satan to being non-operational.
6. The one who binds Satan would demonstrate a greater strength than Satan and then put him out of action.
7. This is exactly what Jesus did in casting out this demon.
8. Here is the logic: why would Satan possess Christ to cast out his own demons, and thereby he is binding himself in order to plunder his own house. It makes no sense.
9. If Satan possessed Christ and cast out his own demons, then he is finished, because he has divided his own house. He would be binding himself. See how dumb this is? Jesus destroys the argument of the pharisees right in their face. Satan cannot show himself to be weak because that is defeat.

None of these following premises are true, but they are logical.

3rd Logical Conclusion

1. If Christ was controlled by Satan, as the pharisees contend, then he would never plunder his master's house.
2. If Christ was operating under Satan's power, then he would be weaker than Satan?
3. He would be incapable of plundering Satan's house. He is using the fact that he is plundering the house of Satan here.
4. If He was not strong enough to plunder then He could never bring in the Kingdom of God or defeat Satan in the Angelic Conflict.

This shows us how critical the logical argument is in the Angelic Conflict. This is in comparison to the god of this world. Jesus is saying that He is stronger than Satan. This confirms this for us. Jesus will be the victor over Satan in the Angelic Conflict.

The Lord has just disproved this entire contention of the pharisees. The pharisees must admit that His logic is impeccable. They still won't buy it, however.

Christ would bind Satan in the future when it is time. Rev. 20:3 and thrown into the abyss for 1000 years.

Jesus' Superiority

1. Satan has been overcome by Jesus.
2. Jesus has much greater power.
3. In the parable, Jesus had bound Satan and He had plundered his house by casting out the demon. The opposite of what the pharisees alleged.
4. Jesus has proven that he is above Satan. He released the man who was afflicted by a demon.
5. He can plunder Satan's realm; he just did.

Satan Cannot Control Jesus

1. Jesus has shown Himself to be stronger than Satan.
2. Satan cannot control the Lord. He cannot subordinate the Lord Jesus Christ to him.
3. Therefore, He could not tie in with Satan for any reason. They are not bound together; they are complete enemies.
4. If Jesus can plunder Satan's kingdom, then logically, He can bring in the Kingdom of God. Matt. 12:28

Christ makes another set of points. The pharisees recognized the power to drive out demons understood that this power came from God. They would have agreed that casting out a demon is something that only the power of God can do.

Mark 3:27 But no one can enter into the house of the strong man to plunder, unless he first binds the strong man; and then he will plunder his house.

They have always affirmed that casting out demons occurred by the power of God. If they have always affirmed this, then their own children will judge them.

Jesus could only cast out demons in the power of God.

If they hold to their logic, then this puts into contention the divine power in casting out any demon.

The Children of the Pharisees Will Judge Them

1. The pharisees already believe that only the power of God can cast out demons. They were willing to say anything to destroy Him. If what an atheist believes that there is no God, then what does it matter what we believe. But if there is a God, then it does matter what we believe and what they believe. They do not want to hear that they may be wrong. That is where the pharisees were.
2. If they confirm that, then they should not charge Jesus with being demon-possessed, when He cast out a demon.
3. If they accuse Jesus that He has done these miracles in the power of Satan, then they must admit that some of their own exorcists and prophets have done the same.
4. They could not do that and be consistent with their indictment of Christ. They are between a rock and a hard place.

Matt. 12:27 If I by Beelzebul cast out demons, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore they will be your judges.

So Jesus goes to the only power that can remove demons. Jesus operated in the power of God the Holy Spirit. Jesus is saying, "I am not possessed by Beelzebul; I operate in the power of God.

Jesus makes the logical conclusion: the Kingdom of God has therefore come upon you. They can once again affirm Who Jesus is and why He has come.

Jesus is casting out this spirit by means of the Holy Spirit. The fact that He is empowered by the Holy Spirit does not take away from His power and being.

Matt. 12:28 But if I by the Spirit of God cast out demons, then the Kingdom of God has come upon you.

In this, Jesus sets the pattern for living the operational Christian life. Jesus pioneered the spiritual life for believers in the Church Age. Since Jesus did not cast out a demon by the power of Satan, He therefore cast out the demon by the power of God. Because that is true, then Jesus must be the Messiah. The casting out of demons is a sign of the Messiah.

All those there had the option to believe. He made His message clear to His audience. How could anyone see the miracle and hear the refutation of the pharisee explanation; and then to speak of the power of God.

Now Satan will issue a serious warning; and explain to them that they have committed the unpardonable sin. Attributing Jesus' power to Satan is the unpardonable sin.

Jesus has just healed a blind and speechless man; and demon-possession is the reason for this illness. However, that is not always the case. Demons possess those where they can do the most good/damage.

Only the power of God can cast out demons. No creature has the power to cast out anything. Some Apostles have done this, but only through the power of the Spirit. When the pharisees heard about our Lord casting out this demon, they credited this to Beelzebub, which is a blasphemy beyond anything imaginable, revealing a great depth of negative volition. They had great hatred for the Lord Jesus Christ. The pharisees represented much of the nation Israel.

Those who are against Christ, willy nilly scatter seed; those who are with Him gather the produce from the fields.

Matt. 12:30 "He who is not with me is against me, and he who doesn't gather with me, scatters.

This is why Christ gives this entire argument.

Mark 3:28 Most assuredly I tell you, all of the children of men's sins will be forgiven them, including their blasphemies with which they may blaspheme;

Now Jesus speaks of a sin that cannot be forgiven.

Mark 3:29 but whoever may blaspheme against the Holy Spirit never has forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin"

Did not Jesus die for all sins? How can a sin be unpardonable? How can a sin be an eternal sin. No one can do a sin not covered by the atonement of Christ. So we have a problem. The unpardonable sin is to blaspheme the Holy Spirit.

Mark 3:30 -- because they said, "He has an unclean spirit."

They charge the Satan provided the power to perform these miracles; so they have completely rejected the work of the Holy Spirit through the Lord Jesus Christ. They have rejected Jesus Himself. The religious leaders made that indictment. They did this representing the nation Israel. And this is the unpardonable sin, to reject the work of Jesus Christ. This is why the Kingdom was not instituted in the 1st Advent.

Matt. 12:31 Therefore I tell you, every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven men, but the blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven men.

Why was this sin unpardonable? Some people come up with some sin that seems to heinous that no one could pardon it.

How this Sin Was Unpardonable

1. The miracles that Jesus did prove that He is the Messiah. The Holy Spirit embowered Him to do so.
2. Rejecting the work of Christ as the power of Satan is tantamount to rejecting the miracles of Jesus Christ. It was the Holy Spirit Who endued Jesus the power for His work.
3. Attributing this power to Satan means a rejection of our Lord's Messiahship and a rejection of God the Father's approval of Jesus Christ. They were rejecting all of it.
4. Once the pharisees had arrived at the conclusion that this was all the work of Satan, that Jesus is the tool of the devil, then they had chosen their course. Every new manifestation of the Holy Spirit's power would be therefore attributed to Satan.
5. They opposed Christ's person and work with even more persistence. There is this progressive, hardening process of rejecting Jesus Christ. They had built up this hardening and it would get worse.
6. Rejection of Christ's power that they saw confirms that they are unbelievers.
7. The unpardonable sin is the sin of unbelievers only. A believer cannot commit this sin.
8. It is rejection of the saving work of Christ which is the unpardonable sin.
9. Rejection of His work is the ultimate blasphemy. That is rejection of Christ.
10. The unpardonable sin is the rejection of Jesus Christ; and it is illustrated by rejection of the power of Jesus Christ.

There is another aspect related to God the Holy Spirit. If the Holy Spirit in the ministry of common grace, in other words, convicting an unbeliever, of Christ the Savior. They have closed the door to the convicting ministry of the Holy Spirit.

The pharisees accepted the miracle; they believed that the miracle occurred; but they still rejected the Lord.

Matt. 12:32 Whoever speaks a word against the Son of Man, it will be forgiven him; but whoever speaks against the Holy Spirit, it will not be forgiven him, neither in this world, nor in that which is to come.

Gen. 6:3 My Spirit will not strive with man forever.

What about the unpardonable sin today? Can anyone do this today? Certain people do reject Jesus Christ, so it would be a constant act of negative volition throughout their lives.

The particular unpardonable sin must be taken in the context of when it actually occurred. These pharisees have rejected this offer. Therefore, the covenant offer to David and to Abraham must be postponed.

For about 30 years, there was the divine institutions of the Hypostatic Union. Then Jesus returns to heaven and the church begins. When He returns for the rapture of the church, all believers are raised from the dead. All believers living together seem to agree on

We have heard about the pharisees over and over again in the life of Christ. We should understand that in opposition is one of the greatest means of understand not only Jesus Christ and His grace, but how He handled opposition, and how His mind worked when dealing with this opposition. This allows Him to present doctrine which He might not be able to otherwise.

We also face opposition in our spiritual life. That opposition is a chance for us to see doctrine so clearly to see how other people think and how far they think. The rest of the world is groping for truth. Without God's Word it is impossible. The pharisees have really gone and done it now. They have opposed Jesus at every turn. However, at not time in the past did they claim that Jesus has done these things by the power of Satan. Jesus hears this and easily and logically refutes this charge.

This is different for the pharisees and for the Lord Jesus Christ. After refuting Him, a change is coming. He has given every opportunity for them to believe in Him, but they have rejected Him. Jesus gives them a dire warning.

Matt. 12:31 Therefore I tell you, every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven men, but the blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven men. Whoever speaks a word against the Son of Man, it will be forgiven him; but whoever speaks against the Holy Spirit, it will not be forgiven him, neither in this world, nor in that which is to come. "Either make the tree good, and its fruit good, or make the tree corrupt, and its fruit corrupt; for the tree is known by its fruit.

Mar 3:28–30 Most assuredly I tell you, all of the children of men's sins will be forgiven them, including their blasphemies with which they may blaspheme; but whoever may blaspheme against the Holy Spirit never has forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin" -- because they said, "He has an unclean spirit."

Jesus died for all the sins that men have committed and will commit. But what is it about the sin of blasphemy that makes this particular sin so unforgivable? Jesus cast out a demon and the pharisees said that Jesus had to be empowered by a demon in order to do this. The coming of the Holy Spirit at His baptism was a sign of the Holy Spirit empowering Jesus Christ. This is a sign of His Messiahship.

The real problem is to attribute the power of Jesus Christ to Satan means that, despite all evidence to the contrary, they reject the Person and Work of Jesus Christ. This is the unpardonable sin. This is the sin of unbelief. The Holy Spirit took Jesus all through His life and beyond.

The unpardonable sin is not simply a sin that man can commit. All sins of the human race are paid for on the cross; however, rejection of His work is the ultimate, unforgivable blasphemy.

This sin that the pharisees committed then cannot be reprised today. This sin can only be committed when Jesus is on this earth. Only when Jesus was performing miracles on this earth could this sin be committed. These were the signs of the Messiahship of the Lord Jesus Christ. So these miracles could only be so rejected when they were committed. The Age of Israel will pick up again at the rapture of the church. Battle of Armageddon, destroying the enemies of Israel.

The church does not replace Israel; the church is not spiritual Israel. Today, the Holy Spirit is still among us. He indwells and fills all believers.

The Holy Spirit is present in us, but Jesus is not present among us. In the Church Age, rejection of Christ, His Person and His work, is unpardonable.

Entrance into the kingdom is based upon faith in His Person. There is no racial aspect to the church at all. The pharisees claiming that Jesus was empowered by Satan indicate that they do not believe in Him.

Words reflect what is in their soul. So these words of the pharisees represents their negative volition toward Jesus. We as a believer must discern what people think by listening to what they say.

Jesus brings up another tree and fruit analogy.

Matt. 12:33 "Either make the tree good, and its fruit good, or make the tree corrupt, and its fruit corrupt; for the tree is known by its fruit.

This is a fruit-bearing situation which involves the pharisee and their rejection of Jesus Christ. The good tree is Jesus Christ and the fruit is His work; His miracles performed in the power of God the Holy Spirit.

Our Lord's works and words are true, and backed by the power of the Holy Spirit. The good tree is the King of Israel, Whom the pharisees have rejected.

The pharisees are the bad tree; they are exactly what they accuse Jesus of being. Those who lie and tell us certain things; and are blasphemous in certain ways. They are doing exactly what they accuse Jesus of doing.

Their mouths reveal their bad fruit. They have shown their evil status as the real minions of Satan. They announce their own condemnation by their own blasphemy against the Holy Spirit.

Matt. 12:33 "Either make the tree good, and its fruit good, or make the tree corrupt, and its fruit corrupt; for the tree is known by its fruit.

Jesus then calls them what they are. A brood of vipers.

Matt. 12:34 You offspring of vipers, how can you, being evil, speak good things? For out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaks.

Jesus does not beat around the bush. He began with some oblique words about trees and fruit; but here, He calls them out. This is the follow-on to the unpardonable sin.

You have just revealed with this unpardonable sin just who you are; that you are the true emissaries of Satan. They claimed that Jesus was the one doing the works of Satan, but religion is Satan's ace trump; the pharisees lined up behind Jesus.

In the halls of our government, lies our the basis of political doctrine. Chicanery and evil. How can anyone believe that the mounting debt in this nation does not matter? As some of those braying mules claim. How can anyone say that the out-of-control spending is not a problem. They claim it is a mis-allocation of wealth. With your own credit card, "I am deep in debt, so I will spend more." You would almost think that there is a conspiracy going on. How could anyone believe that there is a conspiracy. And how could anything think that, in this dangerous world, that the military can be picked apart. How can anyone say that stripping honest citizens of their rights will reduce crime. So many lies come from their mouths, revealing the perverse thinking and the mania for power in the halls of government. All of these lies are done in the greatest good for the greatest number.

So many people do not even realize it; they do not even recognize a lie when they hear it. Whatever anyone says must be true or have an element of truth. Without understanding absolute truth, you can rationalize any lie for the good of others. And they think only that they know what is the only good for us. They lie because we are not smart enough to recognize the greatest good. This is tyranny. You can bet that anything they say is exactly the opposite of the truth.

What people say is exactly what they are. From their mouths comes exactly what they are. Liars and deceivers. Our government is a massive cover-up.

Corruption of the Mouth

1. The mouth speaks what is in the mind.
2. Lies demonstrate the corruption of mind. Liars do not sit around and say, "I am corrupt." They justify what they do in lying. It is for their best all the time. It demonstrates the corruption of mind.
3. The lies of the pharisees and their blasphemy indicates the evil minds of those who have rejected Jesus Christ. The pharisees perpetrate the lies of Satan.

Matt. 12:33 "Either make the tree good, and its fruit good, or make the tree corrupt, and its fruit corrupt; for the tree is known by its fruit.

Matt. 12:34 You offspring of vipers, how can you, being evil, speak good things? For out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaks.

Matt. 12:35 The good man out of his good treasure brings out good things, and the evil man out of his evil treasure brings out evil things.

Then we have the difference between truth and falsehood. This follows the nest of vipers and the good tree/bad tree analogy of the previous 2 verses.

Evil fruit, evil tree, pharisees.

Here is the key to the lies: "What is truth?" They are talking about truth as a concept; truth is different for different people; it is truth in the eye of the beholder. If you think in relative ways, then you cannot think or speak the truth. You must speak lies because you reject absolute truth. Only Bible doctrine is absolute truth. In man, there are always falsehoods.

Someone with Bible doctrine at least recognize the truth, even if they lie. Our leaders lie so much that many do not even recognize that they are lying. Relative thinking denies the mind of Christ. Bible doctrine and divine establishment. That is what is happening in our country today. Christianity and divine establishment are becoming more and more reviled in the public today. Marriage is carefully described in the Bible. But our country pushes some completely other agenda. Divine establishment and divine institutions are all under attack. The attacks must be lies, because the truth is Bible doctrine. There is no grey area when the truth is opposed.

The pharisees must tell lies; and this reveals their own thinking. The question, what is truth, merely indicates relative thinking. No truth in the souls.

Matt. 12:35 The good man out of his good treasure brings out good things, and the evil man out of his evil treasure brings out evil things.

The Lord finishes this section up.

Matt. 12:36–37 I tell you that every idle word that men speak, they will give account of it in the day of judgment. For by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned."

There will be a day when these pharisees must give an accounting of their speaking, and they will have to explain these things that they have said against Jesus Christ. "You can speak blasphemies and they will be forgiven, but not blasphemy against the Holy Spirit."

These words of blasphemy are called every careless word. Argos is the word, and it is better translated useless, worthless.

The unbeliever will give an account of the language and their words would eternally indict them. Their useless lying words would condemn us. There will be no eternal judgment for those who express faith alone in Christ alone.

Matt. 12:36 I tell you that every idle [worthless, useless, careless] word that men speak, they will give account of it in the day of judgment.

Our thoughts are formed in words. Without a vocabulary, you cannot think. You are an instinctive animal without words. It is the thinking which is being referred to. Their words indict them because these words reveal their thinking.

Matt. 12:37 For by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned."

With this great revelation, you would think that the people would fall and worship our Lord, but they do not. These words did not phase them; these words did not penetrate their blacked-out lives. They ignore all evidence which contradict the lies of the soul. "I do not accept anything but what I think or what I believe.

Matt. 12:38 Then certain of the scribes and Pharisees answered, "Teacher, we want to see a sign from you."

Because the word "some" is used here, it is possible that some scribes and pharisees changed their minds about Jesus Christ. We can only assume that others changed their thinking as well.

Now they ask for a sign, and they have seen over and over again another sign from Him. Jesus knew that these people were liars. They wanted another chance to discredit Him. "Let's get another sign that we can refute."

Jesus turns His back on them No more signs for them.

The evil man brings evil out of his evil treasure. They are presumptuous to ask for another sign. How many messages to they need to hear? These religious leaders are the eiptome of the cosmic system. These lying legalistic evil men are exactly what Satan wants. There will be plenty of liars among us. There are sin natures in this world. The absolute truth versus relative truth. Some think that man is improving; and that our lives are getting better. We all are capable of evil, and they reject this. They reject the sin nature. We have doctrine and rebound and a spiritual life. Evil is all around us.

We are not uninformed Christians and to whom much is given, much is expected.

Jesus calls them adulterous because they put a substitute in front of Jesus Christ. Adultery is putting someone else in front of a wife. The One they should love, they have rejected, and they have chosen a false lover, legalism, instead.

Israel rejected Moses; they reject the miracles performed in the desert; they rejected the words of the prophets. Baal was a phallic cult. It fits in with adultery.

This is the same condition of the souls of the generation of the time of Jesus. This sums up the nation of Israel and it sums up what goes on today. Jesus will give them one last sign, and He will give them something that they did not expect. They wanted a miracle and He will give them condemnation. He will show them for what they are. The pharisees knew all about Jonah.

The pharisees wanted so badly to be rid of Jesus Christ, and they would do anything to get rid of Him. Jesus tells them, "You cannot get rid of Me. Death cannot defeat Me."

Matt. 12:40 For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the whale, so will the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

Lesson #0404

Matt. 12: Life of Christ

2/27/2013 Wed

Jesus has called the pharisees a brood of vipers. Then He says that their poisonous, venomous words would condemn them at the last judgment. The unpardonable sin is their rejection of Jesus Christ. The pharisees now demonstrate by their unequivocal words that they have declined Jesus Christ as their King. They have determined that He is not the Messiah. Jesus rejected the pharisees at this point; their legalism and their locked-in negative volition. He knew that they would never accept Him as their Messiah and that the kingdom could not be begun.

He changes His modus operandi; He stops the confrontation with the pharisees; and much is contained in the parables.

It is a great irony after all of this, after all that these pharisees and scribes have seen, they ask for another sign. They have clearly rejected Him, and yet they ask for another sign.

Matt. 12:38 Then certain of the scribes and Pharisees answered, "Teacher, we want to see a sign from you."

They have seen sign after sign; and they have claimed that He performs miracles in the power of Satan; and yet they ask for another sign. Jesus says that an evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign.

Jesus says that Jonah is the sign that will be given to them. He is no longer giving them signs and no more signs for their approbation; no more signs will be given so that they can further attack Him.

Jesus calls Jonah a prophet; and his life prophesied a coming event. Something in Jonah's life would point to the Lord Jesus Christ. Jonah is the sign; so that there is something which is a part of his life that would point toward Jesus Christ.

Matt. 12:39 But he answered them, "An evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, but no sign will be given it but the sign of Jonah the prophet."

Jesus draw an analogy; and the future sign for Israel will be that the Son of Man will be in the heart of the earth just as Jonah was in the belly of the sea monster. Jesus knows the hearts of these pharisees. They want Him dead. That is their only resort. This sign is a foreshadowing of the death of Jesus Christ. The sign goes even further.

Matt. 12:40 For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the whale [sea monster], so will the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

However, Jesus would return just as Jonah returned. All the pharisees wanted to do was to defeat Jesus; but He could not be defeated by them. He cannot be defeated by death. The same is true of us. We cannot be defeated by death as well.

How Is this a Sign?

1. Jonah was a prophet of Israel and God sent Jonah to Nineveh where he was to proclaim the gospel to them, and tell them to turn or burn. Jonah did not want any part of the Ninevites. He wanted to stay in Israel. Then he boards a ship and goes in the opposite direction. There was a great storm, and Jonah realized that he was the problem. A giant fish swallowed Jonah.
2. Jonah was 3 days and 3 nights in a place of absolute darkness. Usually a fish swallows a person in pieces. There is all of the fluid in his belly and Jonah was in the middle of this; and it could not have smelled very good. Jonah was in the place of death and darkness.
3. Jonah was restored to the living by the power of God over nature. God was control of that submarine; and God's power restored Jonah.
4. Jonah was regurgitated by the fish onto dry land. The fish went to Nineveh.
5. Jonah was brought out of stigion darkness, like the cave of a tomb; this was a type of tomb. A cave without light means that there is nothing whatsoever that can be seen.
6. But Jonah gets a second chance to complete God's plan for him.
7. Jonah got a new life, as it were. The old one was headed in the wrong direction; the new one was in God's plan.
8. So the sign of Jonah was the sign of new life out of darkness; out of death.
9. As Jesus Christ presented this past history of Jonah, He was introducing something; He was introducing a future type of Jonah, Himself.
10. Jonah as a type of Christ; that is what he was in this event. Jonah foreshadowed Christ. He was a living prophecy of Christ.
11. Jonah was a type or illustration of Jesus Christ in His resurrection from the dead. Jesus would be 3 days and 3 nights in a tomb; and the tomb could not hold Him.

A little about the historicity of the Bible. The book of Jonah has probably been questioned more by skeptics than anything else. How could a man be swallowed by a fish and survived for 3 days. This is not a whale. There has been research; how could a fish swallow a man whole. Plenty of fish can swallow us in pieces. So, their point is, the Bible cannot be taken literally. But they believe that the narrative is a story. However, Jesus here confirms the literal accuracy of this story.

The Literalness of Jonah; by Jesus

1. The Lord Jesus Christ confirms that the tale of Jonah is true. It is a real event. We know this by eyewitness account.
2. Jesus would then serve as an antitype.
3. This is a person represented or foreshadowed by a previous person or event. Jonah is the antitype?
4. So, if the antitype is historical, literal and true (the death of Christ and 3 days and 3 nights in the tomb)
5. Then the type must also be literal, historical and true.
6. Jonah was swallowed, representing death; he was truly swallowed by a fish. He spent 3 days and 3 nights in the belly of this fish. Regurgitated means that he was given new life.
7. If Jonah was a fictional event; then this could not serve as a prophetic type of a future, literal fulfillment. No fictional past episode can serve as a foreshadowing of a literal event. This is not without precedent. There are many types of Jesus Christ in the Old Testament. Isaac being offered up as a sacrifice on Mount Moriah; but Isaac was the son of promise and now God wants him sacrificed. God told Abraham not to strike him with a knife. There was a ram caught in the bush, and that was a replacement for Isaac.
8. Melchizedek the king-priest; and Moses and David and Solomon on several occasions were types of Christ. All of them were real, historical characters; and they foreshadowed events in the life of Christ. If God is God, can He not prepare a great fish to do this? God is capable of miracles. Miracles do not make the Bible a mythological books. Christ would be the victor over death, even when He was dead. Throughout human history, God's plan moves inexorably over the power of death. We will be resurrected. For the unbeliever, the sign of Jonah spells doom; they are swallowed and they spend eternity in the Lake of Fire.

The sign of Jonah was the sign of Jesus' Own death. After 3 days He would rise again, the victory over the grave, as the antitype of Jonah. Jesus would demonstrate in this the power of God; power over the greatest enemy of man. For man, death is the greatest of all tragedies. Death catches us all. Here is the sign of Jonah, and the Lord shows us that we are victors over death.

People who reject the sign of Jonah and the Lord Jesus Christ; and they put their hope in medical science, so that it may be able to extend their lives longer and longer. That is hope in mankind and that is a joke. There is no hope for eternity or an extended life in eternity.

With the resurrection comes the assurance of eternal life.

“This is the only proof of My Messiahship.”

When they saw this sign, and they would see it and hear about it. There were 500 witnesses who saw our Lord between the resurrection and the ascension. Undoubtedly some of the pharisees who are believers also saw and could testify to this. Some did accept Him and others did not.

The pharisees could come up with all kinds of things to proclaim doubt.

Ridiculous theories. That the resurrection was a figment of the imagination of the disciples. He told them that He would bring in the kingdom and they were so upset that they made up this story that He was resurrected.

Or that Jesus was not really dead when He was in the tomb; and he sort of work up, after a spear was put into his side and broke His legs and laid there, and the cloth was around him.

Another, the disciples stole His body and claimed that He was resurrected. But what about the grave clothes. Or the women went to the wrong tomb. All of these are disproved by the circumstances of the resurrection and the account.

The sign of Jonah is even tied into the resurrection of the church; and we will have the same body that He had. Some of us take for granted what He has. We are a member of an exclusive club; and our membership entitles us to a great many perks. We have these things. We are in union with Christ. Everything that He has, we have; we share what He has in heaven. We share what He has on this earth.

This sign of Jonah extends far beyond what our Lord was telling these pharisees.

Faith in evolution is just another example of negative volition. Evolution is an easy one to refute. These are signs of negative volition. People still reject the sign of Jonah, just as the pharisees had rejected Jesus Christ. The pharisees explained away something that was obviously true.

Matt. 12:41 The men of Nineveh will stand up in the judgment with this generation, and will condemn it, for they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, someone greater than Jonah is here.

Lesson #0405

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

2/28/2013 Thurs

The Jews really wanted the coming Messiah, but they declined Him when He presented Himself. The sign of Jonah was a gospel message for those who understand.

Jonah proclaimed destruction or salvation; they could choose. Nineveh was a huge city and they believed Jonah's message. The Jews accepted that message of salvation.

Jonah is a very short book and Bobby has thought about teaching it. A turn or burn message.

Matt. 12:41 The men of Nineveh will stand up in the judgment with this generation, and will condemn it, for they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, someone greater than Jonah is here.

Jonah hated these people because they were gentiles. He was proclaiming the gospel to people that he did not like. He is confirming this story to the pharisees, to the scribes and to the nation of Israel. And these people all knew what the sign of Jonah was all about.

This sign was all about the resurrection. What will happen if they reject the sign of Jonah. V. 41 tells us that the men of Nineveh will stand up and judge them. Their response would condemn that pharisees and other religious Jews.

“Something greater than Jonah is here.” Jonah is a type of Christ. If these Jewish leaders had been the Ninevites, they would have said no to Jonah. And here, they face the Messiah and they say no to Him. There is an eschatological or future judgment. This is prophecy. Jonah was a prophet and Jesus Christ is a prophet.

How could an entire city turn to the Lord? This included the king. A man being regurgitated by a giant fish. Once I was dead in the belly of this fish and now I am alive to proclaim life to you.

Let’s suppose there are Ninevites fishing and they see this very unusual fish and he spits up Jonah; and they bring him to shore. They spread the story. Then Jonah says, here is the message.

The gentiles accepted Christ even though the Jews rejected Him.

The Ninevites and the Jews

1. The faith of the men of Nineveh would stand in the face of the rejection of the Jews. The Jews knew this story and they are being told that the Ninevites stand in contrast to them.
2. This is a shameful comparison for these Jews.
3. There was a future condemnation for all those who reject the sign of Jonah, which the Ninevites would confirm.
4. That was what was in store for the evil and adulterous generation of Jews in the first advent.

Then we have the Queen of Sheba. She is also a gentile. She is actually the queen of the Sebeans, who go back to the time of Job. They raided Job and wiped out his flocked. She was their queen at a much later time.

Matt. 12:42 The queen of the south will rise up in the judgment with this generation, and will condemn it, for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, someone greater than Solomon is here.

She probably came from southwest Arabia, from the Yemen area, maybe a 1200 mile journey. She was positive to the wisdom of Solomon. She came all that distance to meet Solomon. She made the effort to understand Solomon's greatness. In her search, she found the answer and she believed in the God of Israel.

2Chron. 9:5–8 She said to the king, "It's all true! Your reputation for accomplishment and wisdom that reached all the way to my country is confirmed. I wouldn't have believed it if I hadn't seen it for myself; they didn't exaggerate! Such wisdom and elegance--far more than I could ever have imagined. Lucky the men and women who work for you, getting to be around you every day and hear your wise words firsthand! And blessed be your GOD who has taken such a liking to you, making you king. Clearly, GOD's love for Israel is behind this, making you king to keep a just order and nurture a God-pleasing people."

God loves Israel and made Solomon king; she understood that the God of Israel is the God and that Israel is greatly blessed as a nation.

Israel reached her historical peak under Solomon. The millennial kingdom is based upon Solomon.

Jesus throws in two signs to these pharisees.

2Chron. 9:9 She then gave the king four and a half tons of gold and sack after sack of spices and precious stones. There hasn't been a cargo of spices like the shipload the queen of Sheba brought to King Solomon.

Jesus then uses signs for believers or those who would believe. Signs were to be used from thereon in only for those with positive volition.

Jesus gave the reason for the rejection of the pharisees. Mark 3:30

Mark 3:30 He gave this warning because they were accusing him of being in league with Evil.

Now Jesus launches into many parables:

Matt. 12:43 But the unclean spirit, when he is gone out of the man, passes through waterless places, seeking rest, and doesn't find it.

it is these religious leaders who are under the power and authority of the cosmic system. Jesus will slap them across the face.

What Is this Parable About?

1. The unclean spirit is a demon; so this is about the kingdom of Satan; the devil's world.
2. The man with the unclean spirit represents the rejecting nation of Israel.
3. In the parable, in the narrative, the unclean spirit leaves Israel.

4. The appearance of Jesus Christ has pulled the demonic influence off of Israel to give them a chance to accept Him. Israel was deeply seeped in religious apostasy. They were a long ways away from truth. They were inundated with their Judaistic tradition. Jesus removed that influence with His presence.
5. Jesus has cleaned house with His Presence and His message. He has cast this demon out of the nation. There is the clear choice to accept or to reject. John had a short-lived ministry.
6. Jesus went right into the Temple and He cleaned out the Temple and spoke the message of the Messiah right there. He removed the cosmic system by His message. He continued as He cast out demons from various people.
7. The picture was, His kingdom would remove the cosmic system from the backs of Israel. If they accepted His kingdom.
8. His kingdom would replace the kingdom of Satan.

Matt. 12:43 But the unclean spirit, when he is gone out of the man, passes through waterless places, seeking rest, and doesn't find it.

The unclean spirit who left the nation; and he had no place to go without the nation to delude. He was wandering about and unhappy. He passed through water less places without rest. This is the cosmic system. The demon removed from Israel; they became nomads aimless with nothing to do. They had been severed from their cosmic mission. Their influence had been removed.

The demon did not remain in the desert without rest; he returned. The house that he returns to is the nation Israel. He finds the house empty, swept and put into order.

Matt. 12:44 Then he says, 'I will return into my house from which I came out,' and when he has come back, he finds it empty, swept, and put in order.

What Happened Next?

1. He dispossessed the demonic influence against Israel. Now the house was empty and Jesus offered to fill it.
2. They rejected His house cleaning. So the house was still empty.
3. So when our Lord was rejected by Israel, this left a void in the nation, very comparable to the void left in people, either believers or unbelievers when there is nothing in the soul. The soul becomes a vacuum; and there was a vacuum in the soul of the nation.
4. The coming of the Messiah did not fill this void that was left by the departing influence.
5. The house of Israel was still empty waiting to be filled with something—but not with Jesus Christ. The negative volition sucks in human viewpoint.
6. In their rejection, Israel was preparing-repairing their house for the return of the demon. They rejected Jesus Christ; so they would be accepting the cosmic system. The house of Israel was empty; uninhabited by Israel. The demon was seeking to leave the water less places and to go to his old abode. He knocks and no one is at home. The Messiah was not there inhabiting the house.

The demon sees that he is now welcome back.

Matt. 12:45 Then he goes, and takes with himself seven other spirits more evil than he is, and they enter in and dwell there. The last state of that man becomes worse than the first. Even so will it be also to this evil generation."

The latter state becomes worse than the first.

God sends His Son, and He performs all kinds of signs; and they roll out the red carpet for the demons and for the cosmic system. They now get 7 demons instead.

Israel is surrounded by nations who would love to destroy them utterly. And this is not even God's nation of Israel. What a mess! This is the far-reaching impact of this parable. There could be no more graphic description of these people.

There is something new coming. Israel would be under terrible discipline. This is the beginning of Jesus turning away from Israel and He will begin to walk about a brand new dispensation. The cosmic system will dominate the life of this people. Humanism will replace divine viewpoint.

Rom. 11:9–10 And David said, "Let their table become for a snare and a trap and a stumbling block and a recompense to them. Let their eyes be darkened so that they may not see, and their back always bowing."

Rom. 11:25 For I do not want you to be ignorant of this mystery, brothers, lest you should be wise within yourselves; that blindness in part has happened to Israel, until the fullness of the nations has comes in.

Deut. 28:15–68 gives us the five cycles of discipline.

Lesson #0406

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

3/3/2013 1Sunday

The pharisees have blasphemed the Holy Spirit, meaning that they have rejected their Messiah. They were saying, "He is possessed by an unclean spirit;" meaning that He was empowered by Satan. This was a declaration of animosity and unbelief in the extreme.

Jesus has refuted this and now He moves on and gives them an absolute reply. He can no longer offer the kingdom to Israel. He will abandon this offer in the parable of the unclean spirit, no doubt taken from the accusation that He was Himself possessed by an unclean spirit. Matt. 12:43

This parable has a literal meaning.

Matt. 12:43 But the unclean spirit [= a demon], when he is gone out of the man, passes through waterless places, seeking rest, and doesn't find it.

The man is dis-possessed by a demon; and the man represents the nation Israel. The demon passes through waterless places and does not find rest. Jesus has pulled this demonic influence away from Israel. This is to give them a chance. This will give them a chance to throw out the religious leaders and the money changers. John the Baptizer had a cleansing ministry as well. Every chance was given to Israel. This unclean spirit has departed from the heart of Israel.

The demon wanders aimlessly with no evil mission to do. He is not on welfare. He wants to do his job. When Israel did not accept the Messiah, this left their house without a resident, so to speak. Empty houses deteriorate with no one to live there.

This demon is tired of wandering about and he returns to his house. He finds the house unoccupied, swept, and put in order. Without Christ in the house, the cosmic system preoccupies its old influence over the nation. Israel welcomes this returning demon rather than Jesus Christ.

Matt. 12:44 Then he says, 'I will return into my house from which I came out,' and when he has come back, he finds it empty, swept, and put in order.

Things get worse. The first demon brings 7 other spirits into this house. Jamming a lot of illegal aliens into that house. The final state is worse than the first. Then Jesus said, "This is how it will be with this evil generation." Jesus looks them right in the eye and tells them exactly where they are right now. They are an evil generation under this terrific cosmic influence. It just does not get any better. This influence dominates the thinking of the nation.

Matt. 12:45 Then he goes, and takes with himself seven other spirits more evil than he is, and they enter in and dwell there. The last state of that man becomes worse than the first. Even so will it be also to this evil generation."

Rome scattered the Jews, knocked down the Temple and destroyed Jerusalem for the Jews. This put them into the situation of diaspora. They were scattered to the 4 winds.

Modern Judaism, for all its good works and acceptance of so many other religions, they doggedly deny the Messiahship of the Lord. They are in no better condition today than then. If a Jew receives Jesus Christ today, they can be rejected by their families. For many, they are considered dead. That is how hard it is.

Israel would be temporarily set aside for the age of the Gentiles. But God has not abandoned the Jews.

In the Tribulation, there will be the 144,000 who will become witnesses throughout the world. This will happen in the future. They will be regathered.

As believers in Jesus Christ, we must always keep something in mind; we must keep in mind the current status of Israel, being opposed to Christ, never justifies antisemitism.

The Roman church called them “Christ killers” and that to their own detriment. The Jews are not all evil; and they are not the root of all evil; and God has not turned His back on the Jews; and the church is not spiritual Israel. Some Christians attempt to justify antisemitism here.

There is an antisemitism clause and it is still in effect. Any person who curses Israel will be cursed.

Satan’s plan for the Jews is to eradicate them, so that God’s plan for a kingdom cannot be fulfilled. So we must never be a part of this evil by embracing antisemitism. Do not be confused by anything else that we hear. It is always up to the Lord to handle His people and not us.

This is a lesson for all of us and not just for Israel. Bobby finds it sobering to read what the Lord say and he realizes that Jesus is speaking directly to us today. He speaks directly to us. This is a part of His Word. This parable speaks to us as well. God continues to offer the Messiah, the Savior of mankind. He still offers to clean house that He might occupy our homes.

What is the glory of this mystery among the gentile? Christ in us the confidence of glory. Our Lord is the resident person of the Godhead. He was the Cloud and the Pillar of Fire by night.

Even for believers, demon-influence still flourishes among those who fail to fill their house with Bible doctrine. Without Bible doctrine, there is a vacuum in your soul, which sucks in all of this false doctrine. The cosmic system which has affected so much of the world.

The house of Israel was empty; they rejected Jesus Christ. Therefore, there was a vacuum established, sucking in human viewpoint.

There is a movement in Christianity based upon how people feel. Singing a lot of hymns and lifting up your holy hands and you have had a divine experience. Now, what happened is, probably, your endorphin have been released; but that is not spiritually.

The eternal rewards are infinitely greater than being in heaven with a resurrection body.

The parable is a graphic portrayal of Jesus’ final separation from the religious leaders. This marks a big change in His ministry. The religious leaders of his day had turned completely against Him. There was more than just verbal opposition. Now they were contemplating getting rid of Him. This needed to be done to hold onto their power and position.

There are parallels to our country today. No nation is blessed in the way that the United States has been blessed. But we have embraced humanism, relativism, collectivism, etc. rather than divine viewpoint. So how does Jesus now describe this change?

At this moment, who should arrive in this crowd, but His mother and His brothers. So Jesus will describe a new basis for a relationship between Himself and everyone else. Mark 3:31–35 Luke 8:19–31 All 3 of the gospel writers mention this.

Matt. 12:46 While he was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold, his mother and his brothers stood outside, seeking to speak to him.

Matt. 12:47 One said to him, "Behold, your mother and your brothers stand outside, seeking to speak to you."

What Jesus will say will put us ahead of Mary and our Lord's brothers.

Lesson #0407

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

3/3/2013 2Sunday

The new familial relationships. Matt. 12:46–50 Mark 3:31–35 Luke 8:10, Luke 8:19–21

Jesus is speaking to this crowd and someone from left says, "Your mother wants to speak with you." This is not just some incidental event. It did not just happen coincidentally. This occurs at a strategic moment in His ministry.

Matt. 12:46 While he was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold, his mother and his brothers stood outside, seeking to speak to him.

Jesus had been rejected by the pharisees and the nation as a whole. Jesus is no longer focused on offering the kingdom to Israel. That is all over. The presence of His mother and brothers are used to explain the new relationship, not based upon race or family ties or nationality. Strictly based upon faith in Jesus.

Everything that happens is related to the plan of God. Nothing in our life happens by chance. We like to talk about coincidence of surprising events; but nothing happens in the plan of God that was not decreed. All events of our life have a purpose in the plan of God. There are no events to be excluded from God's plan. There are no blank spots. There are no hours or days without the plan of God. It is continuous.

We do not really associate God with trouble in our lives. All we want is for God to relieve us of these problems, to make it all better, to make it stop hurting, etc. God allows these things to happen because He wants us to learn how to depend upon Him. It may be the only way that we come around to Him. With no adversity, we might not give God a second thought. "Where's God? My life is a mess." God uses even our self-induced misery for His purposes and for our benefit. There is always that bright spot in the plan of God. The sooner that we learn that principle, the more our life makes sense. God did not ordain us to be stupid. He did not ordain us to make dumb decisions. All of our decisions are within the context of His plan. We cannot escape His plan because we have believed in Jesus Christ. As such, we are still in His hands, and we cannot escape.

When adversity strikes, we can always be certain that it will further God's plan. What an incredible plan of God rationale. The difficulties that we face personally are all a part of God's plan.

Doctrine comes in at this point, so that we realize what is going on; and we continue to renovate our thinking. We are progressing in the plan of God. Things happen to us and we progress. It is not just about doctrine but the application of doctrine as well. God continues to bring these circumstances into our lives to glorify Him. We had better get used to it. To live is Christ and to die is profit.

When we live outside the plan of God, we are on a detour. We go off the main road and we need to get back on the main road. If we go too far, we go out by the sin unto death. On this detour route, God will guide us back to the main road. Often through divine discipline. Whom the Lord loves He disciplines and scourges every son He receives.

If you were not disciplined, you are either in jail or the most self-centered person you know. God's discipline is for our benefit. Nothing in the plan of God is adverse for us. Discipline or blessing, fair weather or bad, it is all for our benefit. It furthers His plan, and this is for our benefit. We can stay out of the plan, and that is not to our benefit; and God will be there encouraging for us to get back into it. Nothing goes wrong in the plan of God. His plan is perfect even though we are not. Everything in our life points us toward His plan. God is never asleep at the switch. It is all a part of His plan.

Some of you think that if you just pray, it will turn out just exactly as you want it. No. It will come out exactly as God wants it to come out. Discouragement is human viewpoint. This means that you have removed yourself from moving forward in the plan of God. It is not about how you feel; it is not about what we want. God moves us into the areas where we need to be.

You need to relax a little bit. You are as wound up as tight as you can be. It is okay to enjoy life a little bit. You can be happy all day long, even if you are at work. You stay in His plan by consistently taking in Bible doctrine and letting the Holy Spirit empower your name.

It is okay to have a plan for yourself; but here is where you need to be flexible and receptive. Until we die, God's plan progresses for us. Stay positive in the Word and keep moving through it all. Army Rangers go through all kinds of adversity, but they accomplish the mission no matter what.

Bobby's time in the Rangers was so parallel to the plan of God. Half of the time you don't know where you are going or how you are going to get there; and you have no idea what sort of resistance that you will meet.

You may feel like a peon in the plan of God; what great things does He have for me. You define great things by being up front and people thinking that you are doing great things. Plod on, no matter. Drive on, Ranger. One step at a time. God knows the objective and one step at a time. Greatness comes through this; you advance and grow, you are accomplishing His plan. We accrue eternal rewards; that is equality of opportunity in the plan of God.

Luke 19:17 And he said to him, Well done, good servant, because you have been faithful in a least thing, have authority over ten cities.

No matter how inconsequential we think our lives to be, there is great reward in heaven. We want to hear, "Well done, my faithful servant." Nobody is better than anyone else in this thing.

The stage is set for a new revelation by Jesus Christ, when Mary and His 4 half-brothers show up. James, Jude, Joseph Jr.?, Simon. Obviously, Mary is no longer a virgin. Joseph is not present here and most thing that he has died. Life expectancy is not that long. He never appears again.

Jesus was speaking and He had the crowd's attention. The crowds were there and they wanted to hear Him and He knew how to speak. This was such a jam-packed crowd that Mary and the brothers could not get through to Him.

Jesus is speaking the Word of God to people and His family want to speak to Him. Which is more important. The family wanted to talk to him. Jesus was ignoring His Own relatives. Family members expect deference no matter what.

Self-centeredness demands attention with no thought to anything else.

There was fantastic doctrine being taught. Even His Own family did not understand the nature and mission of the Lord.

Acts 1:14 these all were continuing with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with His brothers.

Bobby learned early on in life that he was not to interrupt his father when he was studying. In good time, he would get his father's attention. His mission of studying and teaching came first. Bobby had to learn the priorities. There were more important things than Bobby's needs and desires. Bible doctrine being prepared was the most important.

Jesus was teaching God's Word when the family arrived. Whatever they needed could wait until He was finished.

If a child learns priorities and the importance of Bible doctrine, then their lives develop with greater meaning. This was probably the beginning when His family began to see the truth. He said, "You are not My mother and brothers; someone else is."

He was prepared His family and disciples here.

Matt. 12:46 While he was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold, his mother and his brothers stood outside, seeking to speak to him.

The 7 Areas of Uniqueness of Jesus Christ

Jesus never wrote anything down, and yet is the inspiration for more books than any other person in history.

Jesus exists without peer.

Jesus the only man to be born without a human father.

Seed of the woman is the Unique birth.

Crushing the serpent's head is His unique mission.

He is the only man to live a perfect life, of the billions of people who have lived on earth; no one else can have this claim. Of all the saints, religious leaders, etc.; none are without sin. Rom. 3:23 all of sinned and come short of the glory of God.

John 8:48 “Which one of you convicts Me of sin?” 1Peter 1:19 Heb. 4:15 He is without sin. Psalm 1:1 He does not stand in the path of sinners or in the way of sinners.

Even Judas, His betrayer, had to admit that he had betrayed innocent blood.

Jesus is therefore the only one qualified to be our Savior.

The pharisees asked in Luke 5:20–21 “Who can forgive sins but God alone?” It is impossible for us to forgive the sins of all mankind. Since all sinning is against God, He is the Only One Who can forgive. “But in order that you may know that the Son of Man has the authority to forgive sin,” He told the paralytic man to rise up and walk.

Jesus performed miracles, not just out of compassion, but to confirm that He is the God-man, Savior. He said to a woman, “Your sins are forgiven.”

4th aspect in His uniqueness; He was born to die. Man fears death. Man strives to live and not to die. No one of us can foresee our deaths. But Jesus came into this world under the specter of the cross. He knew and accepted this purpose of His life. For the joy that was set before Him, He endured the cross, despising the shame.

Heb. 2:9 But we do see Him Who has been made for a little while lower than the angels.

Everything in His life directed Him toward His death.

And He did not give up His life until it was finished. “It is finished.” And, “No man takes My life, but I give it up gladly.”

There is no power in the universe that can separate us from the love of God. He was born into this world without condemnation. No one could come to Jesus and see, “You must be born again.”

There were those 3 terrible hours when God had forsaken Him; and He screamed, “My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?” It was His spiritual death which caused Him to scream.

God the Father could not have fellowship or any contact with sin; and He turned His back on His Son, and He Who knew no sin was made sin for us.

People abandon and betray other people all of the time. But what happened to our Lord has never happened to another person before.

The spiritual death was a separation from God the Father.

The sixth uniqueness of Jesus Christ was no human being besides Himself can conquer sin and the grave. We will all experience physical death. All of the power on earth cannot bring a single person back to earth. Jesus possesses this unique power. “For this reason, the Father loves Me; no one has taken My life from Me; I have authority to lay it down and I have authority to take it up again.”

Many men have founded religions and they have gathered followers; but none of them have died for our sins. All mankind goes from life to death. None go from death to life.

The last area of uniqueness; He is the One to be absent and present at the same time. This is a paradox in human thinking. It cannot be accounted for apart Jesus being more than just a man. Jesus reminded His disciplines that He would leave them; and yet, He assured them that He would never leave them alone. These disciples saw the resurrected Christ ascend.

He sat down on the majesty of God the Father; and He is here with us. He is not absent from either place. He was received up into heaven and He sat down at the right hand of God. The disciples went out and proclaimed the Person of Christ. The Lord worked with them. The final verses of Mark.

There has never been any person like Jesus Christ nor will there ever be anyone who will ever be like Him again.

We are studying the parables of our Lord. The Prodigal Son is a great example of a parable. It is about a young man who leaves his home with a large inheritance that he wastes away in profligate living. When he gets home, his father accepts him gladly back into the house, despite his dissipation. The principle here is eternal security in Christ. We all know about people who live high on the hog and then become destitute. Despite the disappointment of the life, the Lord accepts him back.

Jesus spoke these illustrative stories throughout His ministry. He never spoke them more profusely. From this point on, Jesus would speak using these parables; and He would continue speaking the message of the kingdom; He was offering to sit on the throne of Israel; and yet, He was rejected.

In the parables, He would speak the same message of the kingdom, but not the same as the kingdom to be offered to Israel, which they rejected. All of that was set aside. It would not occur until the 2nd advent of our Lord Jesus Christ. He would have to regather His people at the very end.

We have the inter-advent dispensation. That is what these parables speak of. He has a new kingdom program; and this is the subject of many of His parables.

Two reasons to speak in parables. The disciples are wondering; if the pharisees and nation have rejected the Messiah, what about us, since there is no kingdom? Jesus would use these parables to answer these questions.

Lesson #0411

Matt. 8: Life of Christ

3/11/2013 2Sunday

There were a long string of parables taught when our Lord Jesus Christ had been rejected. These are slightly different of doctrine that applied to the Church Age. These are mystery doctrines, doctrines which had never been heard before. They were not directed toward Israel as a nation; these are a new kingdom program.

He used these parables to conceal their meanings from those who had already rejected Him. He did not need to give those who rejected Him this information. They had accepted their own law-keeping way of salvation. They had no more need to understand anything more about a kingdom that they would never experience.

The reason for parables was to reveal new truth to believers. A parable is used so that the disciples could discover truth where, before, there was an enigma; a blank. Once Israel had rejected, the disciples wanted to know what was next. When the rapture takes place, there is another 7 years of the Tribulation. The disciples knew little about this. The parables would begin to reveal this great blank spot. These disciples would become the Apostles to the church, to relay the mind of Christ to those in the Church Age.

Many parables take something which is known and this can be understood and it will be compared to that which is unknown; a mystery. An entirely new direction of His plan for believers. This is a transition from one plan to another.

Purpose of the Parables

1. Only believers positive to the message can hear and metabolize the parables. You must be positive. The parables are just stories. They are no good unless you know what they mean. What is Jesus trying to teach? It is fairly easy to interpret these.
2. These parables represent principles of doctrine; a spiritual lesson to be deduced.
3. The actual story line of a parable is obvious to anyone who hears it. Anyone, even those negative toward doctrine, can understand the story.
4. They mystery doctrine will not be understood by those with closed eyes and ears. Those are the ones with negative volition.
5. They do not believe and therefore, they cannot metabolize the doctrine.

Jesus was not trying to hide the message from those with negative volition. It was on them; their negative volition which caused the problems for them. The parable was a wonderful, practical way for them to learn. Good storytellers are good teachers. This is a great way of teaching. Our Lord was the all-time greatest teacher. The narratives must be interpreted to have impact, even for those with positive volition.

The Bottom Line

1. Everyone can understand the narrative. Only the believer in Christ can understand and metabolize the spiritual lesson. If you do not metabolize the doctrine in church, then it has no meaning for us. Unless the disciples believed, it was pointless. Thousands heard these parables. Those who believed began to understand.
2. The parables would build spiritual lessons upon spiritual lessons. That is the way of all Bible doctrine for believers. Mystery doctrine, which are defined by the parables. Mystery doctrine is built upon doctrine. Just like mathematics, which is built upon former principles. You move from the simple to the complex. "I can only give you milk because you are not ready for solid food." People in the auditorium are in various stages of spiritual truth. At one time, people listen to a lesson, and they get one thing from it; and an entirely new perspective when listening to it again. They get a more complex meaning, like algebra, trigonometry. We do not learn by emotion. We learn by metabolizing so we
3. Each parable builds a principle of the mystery of new doctrines; of the interim kingdom. It is a spiritual kingdom. It is not the physical kingdom of the Messiah on the throne of Israel. They build this mystery doctrine from the simple to the more complex.
4. That is the necessity for the consistent training. You might build doctrine upon doctrine upon doctrine.

13 back to back parables. To the one with some doctrine, more will be given.

You had better take in doctrine. If all you have is human viewpoint, then your doctrine leaves you and you do not understand the truth of Bible doctrine.

Matt. 13:12 For whoever has, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance. But whoever does not have, from him shall be taken away even that which he has.

Jesus is going to explain to the disciples that their place would be, if the kingdom is not instituted. The disciples needed to listen in order to figure out what was going to happen. We have no idea how many parables Jesus spoke.

Matt 13:1-3a In that day Jesus went out of the house and sat by the seaside. And great crowds were gathered to Him, so that He went into a boat and sat. And all the crowd stood on the shore. And He spoke many things to them in parables,...

Blood-kin relationship would take second place to our Lord's relationship to man. He asked, "Who is My mother? Who are My brothers?"

We do not know how many Jesus spoke, but 9 of them are recorded here. A lot of doctrine was taken in at this time. These disciples would become brilliant men, but they were rather dull-witted at this point. They would teach the mystery kingdom to all of us.

About the Parables

1. Each parable gives an essential characteristic of the kingdom of this present age; the age in which we live. This is entirely new to the disciples. They were the first to hear it. We take it for granted; but the disciples heard nothing like this before.
2. When Jesus uses the words Kingdom of Heaven, He is not referring to the Davidic kingdom, which is what He referred to before.
3. This is a new forum of kingdom; a spiritual kingdom.

A Couple More Points

1. Even though the dispensation will now change, as soon as our Lord is crucified, resurrected, and then ascends, the dispensation of the church begins. Jesus still uses kingdom terminology because this was the terminology the disciples understood.
2. Our Lord used Kingdom of Heaven because the Jews were tuned into the kingdom idea. Jesus wanted some continuity between the two time periods.
3. Jesus also wanted them to understand the differences that made up the new dispensation. These parables are a part of the dispensational distinctives.
 - a. What is the relationship between Israel and the church?
 - b. Eschatology. What will happen in the future.
 - c. Hermeneutics; how we interpret the Scripture.
4. Jesus did not use the term church in the time in which He lived.
5. That terminology would be left to the Apostles who are hearing of it as the Kingdom of Heaven; hearing this for the first time.
6. Clearly, we know that the church is a mystery form of the kingdom that includes regenerate Jews and Gentiles. The physical kingdom is Jesus sitting on the throne of Israel. This new one includes everyone.
7. That is what is new. The understanding of it is the aim of these parables.

What is very important to understand from a dispensation point of view. We follow our Lord's lead here. This new kingdom program is not what some call spiritual Israel. There is a terminology problem here and a doctrinal problem as well. This is a problem in many sister churches.

The Church Is Not Spiritual Israel

1. The church is not spiritual Israel. They do not take over all of the covenant promises made by God to Israel. There are those who say, Israel is no longer; there is no kingdom for Israel; the church now takes over all of the promises given to Israel. Israel has a future and we have a future and they are distinct.

2. The church does not replace Israel in the plan of God ever. We need to understand God's plan for us in this dispensation.
3. Israel is still discernibly different from the church. That is a part of the mystery.
4. This is a dispensational distinctive:
5. The separation of the church and Israel is at the heart of dispensational theology.
6. The church is now a mystery dispensation to these Jews.
7. There are still promises in effect for the nation of Israel. However, Israel in the land today does not mean that the kingdom is being assembled today. Those in Israel today are steeped in Judaism and they are not a part of the kingdom and they never will be. There will be the two prophets who return and evangelize; and 144,000 of Jews will evangelize during the second half of the Tribulation. The Jews who have believed will go into the Kingdom of God after the Tribulation. We will continue until the rapture of the church and we will return with Jesus at the second advent. We are not Israel. All of these plans meet at the eternal state.
8. The church as a regenerate body of man is a type of kingdom; but not equivalent to the Kingdom of Heaven that the Jews think of.
9. The kingdom is sometimes used to designate the church; even the Apostles use this same terminology, like Rom. 14:17 1Cor. 6:9–10 and several others.

So Jesus is in a boat speaking the parables. These dispensation of the church will be explained.

Matt. 13:13 Therefore I speak to them in parables, because seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not; nor do they understand.

We have so many assets which are a part of this new spiritual program. Israel, as a nation, would be temporarily be set aside. They would again emerge as nation after the rapture of the church.

At the day of Pentecost, the Church Age began. Jesus needs to clue His disciples in to this new program. They will have to institute and spread the mind of Christ. They are critical to this mission. Kingdom program is over, and Jesus begins to explain all of this.

The Apostles announced and continued what Jesus taught at this point. Jesus told His disciples that they are His new family.

Matt. 13:3–9 Mark 4:3–9 Luke 8:5–8 are the places where this first parable is found, about the sower who goes out to sow.

Preparation for the Sower Going out to Sow Parable

1. In this parable, Jesus explained the varied responses to His ministry using the analogy of the sower of the good seed. The sower of the Word of God. He reveals how people responded.
2. Jesus breaks negative volition down into 3 separate categories, which are alive and well today.
3. First response: some people refuse to hear anything that He says. They have pure negative volition; like the pharisees. They would not allow even a glimmer of light to enter into their skulls. Unbelievers or believers who go negative.
4. Some heard and they receive the message positively. They had some positive volition. All of the next categories have a measure of positive volition. These are all believers who go negative at various times, with one exception.
 - a. They heard, but gradually went negative.
 - b. Some heard, but soon rejected it for many other interests in life. They become more interested in materialism, and the things of this life. They hear, but they simply ignore. This is neutral volition. Neither hot nor cold.
 - c. Some were positive and they stayed positive; and they continued consistently to grow in the mystery doctrine which was now being presented by the Lord Jesus Christ.

There will be a sowing of doctrine to which there will be varying responses. Would that every believer who heard doctrine latch on to it and consistently grow. The responses are not based upon the sower or the seed which is sowed (doctrine), but it is all based upon the type of soil where the seed is sown. Good soil is positive volition; bad soil is negative volition.

The problem is the disciples. They have been with Jesus for the better part of two years; and they are now the disciples; and there are many from these. We are now talking about the eleven disciples. They are puzzled and depressed by the rejection of the religious leaders and Israel as a whole. They knew that Jesus had been rejected and the kingdom was not coming. The incident with Mary and the brothers and the unpardonable sin are the things which indicate that the Kingdom of God is not what Jesus can promise.

The new program will be centered on these men.

The Central Truth

1. Jesus' message first fell on bad soil.
2. So, Jesus identifies to His disciples the cause of the bad soil of Israel; in other words, the negative volition.
3. What was the cause? They failed to heed the message, first of John the Baptizer. Once He announced Jesus Christ, they failed to hear His message.
4. The nation was not ready for their Messiah; they were enmeshed in legalism and ritualism. The ritual in many churches drives the church today. No spiritual growth in that nation then as there is little in that nation.

Let's look at this first parable.

Luke 8:5 A sower went out to sow his seed. And as he sowed, some fell by the wayside; and it was trampled down, and the birds of the air devoured it.

Luke 8:6 Some fell on rock; and as soon as it sprang up, it withered away because it lacked moisture.

Mark 4:5 Some fell on stony ground, where it did not have much earth; and immediately it sprang up because it had no depth of earth.

Mark 4:6 But when the sun was up it was scorched, and because it had no root it withered away.

Mark 4:7 And some seed fell among thorns; and the thorns grew up and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

Mark 4:8 But other seed fell on good ground and yielded fruit that sprang up, increased and produced: one thirtyfold, one sixty, and one a hundred.

Each type of soil is spoken of here. These categories are interpreted and expanded.

The four soils represent the various negative and positive soil; and they also represent the positive and negative people at any time. This parable is universal.

The first soil is a trampled down soil.

Mat 13:18 Therefore hear the parable of the sower:

Luke 8:12 Those by the wayside are the ones who hear; then the devil comes and takes away the Word out of their hearts, that they should not believe and be saved.

Luke 8:13 And the ones on the rock are those who, when they hear, receive the Word with joy; and these have no root, who believe for a while and in time of trial draw back away.

Luke 8:14 And the ones that fell among thorns are those who, when they have heard, go out and are choked with cares, riches, and pleasures of life, and bring no fruit to maturity.

Luke 8:15 But the ones that fell on the good ground are those who, having heard the Word with an honest and good heart, keep it and bear fruit with steadfastness.

Luke 8:16 No one, when he has lit a lamp, covers it with a vessel or puts it under a bed, but sets it on a lampstand, that those who enter may see the light.

What about the Seed on the Road

1. The soil is hard as a rock; the seed cannot grow in the souls of those who are hardened.
2. This illustrates the blacked-out souls of those who hear the message and reject it outright. The seeds bounce off the road and the birds eat it.
3. Pure negative volition is symbolized by the road.
4. The soil is represented by the pharisees, who charged that Jesus was demon-possessed. The seed of the gospel is rejected by the unbeliever.
5. The seed of Bible doctrine never grows in the soul of the believer with negative volition. There are believers whose soil is as hard-packed as any unbeliever.
6. The Lord Jesus Christ's word is falling upon this hard soil
7. The evil one quickly takes control.
8. The pharisees are the very personification of the hardened soil of the cosmic system. That is the road analogy.

Then there is the rocky soil

Matt. 13:20 That which was sown on stony places, this is he who hears the Word and immediately receives it with joy;

Matt. 13:21 yet he has no root in himself, but endures only for a while. For when affliction or persecution arises because of the Word, immediately he stumbles.

They are happy to hear it; it is great stuff.

The Meaning of Rocky Soil

1. Rocky places have only a thin layer of soil. Not good for farming.
2. The seed cannot send down deep enough roots. The soul is unsubstantial.
3. This type of soil was typical of the Palestine soil, which could not sustain good growth.
4. In the shallow layer of dirt up came sprouts; but the roots had nowhere to go. Therefore, the sprouts never grew to a mature crop.
5. As soon as the hot sun came up, they were scorched and they withered.
6. This is the soil of fair-weather believers. They heard the message of John and Jesus but they have no real strong positive volition.
7. When things got tough and there was confrontation, they disappeared. They were on the run; they took off.
8. There were shallow, superficial believers. They loved the signs and miracles; they liked the hype, the emotion and the glitter, when Jesus was popular. They jumped ship when He became less popular. Many such Christians have come through Berachah They run into adversity and they take off. They say, "Doctrine doesn't work and they take off. They go for entertainment, emotion, ritual; anything other than doctrine.

Bobby gets emotional when he finds a piece of doctrine to teach and cannot wait to share it. But this example is, the doctrine does not survive in the shallow soil.

The Christian life is based upon the Word of God; there are no substitutes.

The third soil, which grows on the thorny ground.

Mar 4:7 And some seed fell among thorns; and the thorns grew up and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

Mar 4:18–19 And these are the ones sown among thorns; they are the ones who hear the Word, and the cares of this world, the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts for other things entering in choke the Word, and it becomes unfruitful.

The Third Situation

1. This soil could produce growth.
2. Weeds have been sown, and the weeds sow out the doctrine.
3. These weeds among believers are worry, wealth, pleasure, inordinate ambition or whatever else distracts believers from doctrine.
4. The problem which such believers is not so much negative volition or even emotionalism.
5. These people do not even disdain or desert doctrine; but along with the doctrine, the thorns of wrong priorities grow up as well.
6. God's Word is inhibited from growing and it is squelched and crushed by all of these human pursuits.
7. Many of these believers will give lip service to doctrine, even metabolizing it a little.
8. Both priorities can co-exist. Therefore, they have an excuse not to set priorities.
9. They separate their spiritual life from their legitimate secular pursuits
10. The divided believer usually ends up conceding to the secular pursuits. Sooner or later, the weeds choke out the Word of God. The thorny weeds choke out the doctrine. This is particularly true in an affluent society which much pleasure and treasure it available.
11. So they cannot pass the prosperity test; not enough doctrine in the souls. They are reasonable secular pursuits; but the key for the believer is priorities. Weed out the thorns by setting priorities. Doctrine must always come first. Spiritual life is first and everything else comes next.

You cannot afford to be sidetracked from doctrine.

Then we come to the good soil and we will do that tomorrow.

Luke 8:7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns sprang up with it and choked it.

Luke 8:8 But others fell on good ground, sprang up, and produced fruit a hundredfold. When He had said these things He cried out, He who has ears to hear, let him hear!

Lesson #0413

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

3/21/2013 Thurs

Luke 8 Matt. 13 Mark 4 is where the sower parable is found. This parable is the opening of the new program of the church. This parable is the key to interpreting several upcoming parables. There are 4 parts to this parable. Luke 8:5 interpreted in v. 11. The sower is the Lord Jesus Christ Who goes out to sow seed and as he sowed, we have the first of the 4 parts of this parable. Some seed fell by the road, which refers to a person with negative volition. The seed is trampled under foot and the birds of the air eat it up. This is a hard-packed road; the seed never penetrates the soil. The seed cannot penetrate into the soul of the negative believer. The unreceptive soil of negative volition. The seed of the gospel that falls on the road is rejected by the unbeliever.

Luke 8:6 interpreted in v. 13 for the 2nd part; and this time it is rocky soil, where there is a thin layer of soil over rock. It withers away as it lacks moisture and the sun scorches it. Such believers start out very enthusiastic, but, at some point, they lose interest. Doctrine is just a blackened ex-plant?

3rd part Mark 4:7 interpreted in vv. 18–19. This is where seed falls among the thorns. The seductiveness of wealth and the desire for the details of life. This does not mean that we need to become ascetics. There is nothing wrong with these things. The matter of emphasis. It is the matter of drive. Wealthy people have everything and they are not happy so they end up on a psychiatrist's couch.

We now begin the 4th situation. You can stare at a plant all day and all night and never see it grow. But you don't see it; you don't feel it; it just happens.

Luk 8:8 But others fell on good ground, sprang up, and produced fruit a hundredfold. When He had said these things He cried out, He who has ears to hear, let him hear!

Luk 8:15 But the ones that fell on the good ground are those who, having heard the Word with an honest and good heart, keep it and bear fruit with steadfastness.

Believers today produce divine good to varying degrees.

These parables are jammed with application.

The first application: the soil must be prepared by the sower. The Lord prepared the disciples by teaching them doctrine. But that is the job of the pastor-teacher. Bobby teaches doctrine and it falls upon fertile ground. If we are at Berachah, we are probably fertile ground.

There can be no growth from false or inaccurate doctrine. That does not grow a believer, if it be. There is bad soil and bad seed. Bobby has to teach accurate doctrine and we must be receptive to it.

Wherever the seed falls, it fulfills the purpose for which it was formed. A passage came to Bobby's mind. Isa. 55:11 so shall My Word be, which goes forth from My mouth; it shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall succeed in that for which I have sent it. The Word of God always accomplishes the purpose for which it is sown. It has impact.

There are always pockets and places where the Word of God goes. It prepares and enriches the soil where Bobby could not imagine. You cannot pick your targets with doctrine. The Word of God always succeeds.

Next application is, the necessity for extensive sowing. It falls in all sorts of places; and this must be disseminated.

Lesson #0414

Luke 8: Life of Christ

3/24/1013 1Sunday

As we think about our lives, looking forward or backward; our prosperities and our adversities. As believers in Jesus Christ, we have the Word of God going for us; it never fails. Isa. 55:11. God the Holy Spirit never fails either. When we are filled with the Holy Spirit, then this power never fails us.

The nation Israel had rejected Him, so He now focuses on His disciples. He uses parables, perhaps because they would better stick with them. Many mystery doctrines found in these parables. A mis-interpreted parable is an easy thing to do. So many commentators have made a mess of parables. They have been butchered and misapplied, etc. Bobby is attempting not to fall into that category. Bobby has an ace in the hole; he has hope from the Lord Jesus Christ. He is not on Bobby's shoulder or does the Holy Spirit whisper in Bobby's ear.

In the early parables, that Jesus spoke by the Sea of Galilee, explains the parables that He is speaking. Therefore, Bobby can relay these meanings with a correct interpretation and a correct application for us.

Luke 8:5–8 and this is the parable of the sower; and in vv. 11–15, He interprets this parable. The soil are the people upon whom the doctrine falls; and they respond positively or negatively to the seed. In this parable, Jesus sows the seed to 4 type of soil; 4 types of volition. There is the dirt on the road, the rocky soil, and the soil filled with thorn bushes. The 4th soil is the good soil, which is suitable for the best growth.

When the gospel does not implant itself, there is no salvation. There are 3 soils which apply to believers. Those believers whose enthusiasm begins to wain; then they neglect or ignore the teaching of the Word of God. They do not grow at all and they go into reversionism. Doctrine simply disappears at some point. If they have any, it withers and dies, because the doctrine has no root in the soul.

Mark 4:19 The worries of the world doctrine ought to allow us to overcome these adversities. the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts for other things entering in choke the Word, and it becomes unfruitful.

The disciples will face many in opposition to them; and many which oppose the gospel and oppose the teaching of the Word of God. This is what they will face. The mission of representing the Lord Jesus Christ after His departure. This early parable has Jesus outlining their future. This will happen to them.

The odds don't seem very good; 3 out of 4. However, this is the plan of God for them, regardless of the opposition. They have seen our Lord go through this, and they will get it. All the way to their deaths, they will understand it.

Mar 4:20 But these are the ones sown on good ground, those who hear the Word, receive it, and bear fruit: one thirtyfold, one sixty, and one a hundred.

Bobby is going to make applications to us. So what does this mean to me?

Today, the communicators of Bible doctrine, be it a pastor-teacher or anyone else—and we are all communicators of the Word of God—and there is a lot of bad soil out there. Must negative volition out there. The one sowing the gospel and sowing Bible doctrine must not be discouraged or frustrated by everything around us. This is every generation; every part of the church, and every part of the history and destiny of mankind.

Rick Hughes is out there by himself; and sometimes he cannot seem to find much positive volition toward the gospel message; Gary Horton has the same problem. The same is true of pastors who continue to teach doctrine to those who do not listen; to those who do not hear.

Sometimes, we will be ridiculed; sometimes we will be laughed at; and sometimes they will want to hear what you will say.

Sometimes failure has characterized various ministries and people we have spoken to. We have a personal ministry and the church is a corporate ministry. There was constant negative volition in the life of the disciples; Moses had to put up with more stuff than anyone else in history.

There are missionaries who may see very little results on the mission field. Occasionally, Rick will hear from some of the kids; and sometimes much later in life. It is good to know that he has thrown seed on some good soil. Any pastor must do the same thing.

Many believers negative toward Bible doctrine run into serious adversity and then want to know, where is that doctrine? Circumstances can turn negative volition into positive volition. That is the Holy Spirit's work. We are only required to put the truth out there. We do not need to be discouraged. Stopping the flow of Bible doctrine is not an option.

We need confidence in what we are doing. There is great optimism in the Word of God. So many people are pessimistic. The Word of God in our soul is optimism. However, to be any good, it must be planted in our souls. The optimism of the Word of God overrides any fear of failure or ridicule from those who are negative.

God's Word does not return void. Isa. 55:11 wherever it is sown, it has an effect. It is fascinating to Bobby to see the response. He does not want anonymous letters. But there is no cause for pessimism in our lives, regardless of the circumstances that we are in. If you go neutral, then you are in retreat. The plan of God for us marches on. The Lord Jesus Christ was never disheartened or discouraged. Jesus was rejected over and over again by His Own people. He was put on the cross like a common criminal.

Heb. 12:2 looking unto Jesus, the Author and Finisher of our faith [Jesus is the prototype of our spiritual life; He brings us our doctrine and perfects it in our souls], Who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God.

You can only fix your eyes on Jesus if you actually know Who He is.

Jesus never became discouraged, frustrated, down; and He is the Author and Finisher of our faith. And He sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. He is our prototype; we should disregard any intrusion on our spiritual life. Our mission to sow seed onto soil. We must maintain a splendid optimism in our lives.

We can sow the seed; and then we step back and let the Holy Spirit convince them. The overwhelming that we must remember and rely upon is the power of God the Holy Spirit. We do not fear it and we are not discouraged by it.

We have an advantage; we can read the parables over and over again. Jesus probably taught these parables on several occasions.

Lesson #0415 Matt. 13:1, 24–30 Luke 8: Life of Christ 3/24/1013 2Sunday

The disciples were the true family of Jesus Christ.

Mat 13:1 On the same day Jesus went out of the house and sat by the sea.

Bobby reads through the 2nd parable.

Mat 13:24–30 Another parable He put forth to them, saying: The kingdom of Heaven is like a man who sowed good seed in his field; but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat and went his way. But when the grain had sprouted and produced fruit, then the tares also appeared. So the servants of the owner came and said to him, Sir, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then does it have tares? He said to them, An enemy has done this. The servants said to him, Do you want us then to go and gather them up? But he said, No, lest while you gather up the tares you also uproot the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest, and at the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, First gather together the tares and bind them in bundles to burn them, but gather the wheat into my barn.

We had bad soil in the previous parable; but now we have bad seed being sown at the same time. Jesus Christ again is the sower.

Each of the 4 soils of the previous parable are present in this field. The Kingdom of Heaven can be compared to.....

Matt. 13:24 He put out another parable to them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field.

This parable deals not so much with the soils, but with the good and the bad seed. There is a supernatural reason for the bad seed out there. Jesus does not sow bad seed. He sows good seed and from that comes good crops.

In the same field, labeled Kingdom of Heaven is bad seed sown by an enemy; someone who is diabolical. They sow something which does not belong in that field. This sower would be Satan.

A tare is a weed; and it is a troublesome weed in a grain field. It actually resembles the wheat in the same field. It is counterfeit wheat. It resembles the good wheat. Jesus sowed good seed and this results in good wheat. The enemy sowed tares (weeds) and they grow up as well.

Why on Earth Would Satan Sow Tares in the Kingdom of Heaven?

1. Because if there is no good seed and no good wheat in the field, then Satan would not need to sow any tares. Why sow tares in bad soil; he already has that. But, this is God's field where he sows.
2. Satan wants to pollute the good wheat with the tares. He wants the field to not be good.
3. He wants to infuse believers. He wants the good wheat to be infused with the cosmic system. He defines the opposition. This is greater than human opposition. This is supernatural opposition.
4. He must sow the tares among the good wheat.
5. The tares are Satan's great deceptions in the Kingdom of Heaven. The weeds look like the wheat. That is his great deception. The tares which are sown are the result and here the Lord reveals something which He has not revealed before. These tares are the result of the Angelic Conflict. The field is the Angelic Conflict. Satan's opposition of believers in the angelic conflict. This is what He is referring to.

The disciples have already seen this firsthand. They have seen the false doctrine of the pharisees; the followers who have turned away. They have seen the negative soils; and they have seen believers who take on Satan's thinking. Imitation and deception; that is what Satan is good at. It began in the garden. He possessed a serpent, who deceived the woman. "You, woman, can be just like God." Deception. Satan tells the wheat that they can be just like God. We live in the Church Age, and the Angelic Conflict has stepped up and it is raging all around us. We live in the field of the Kingdom of Heaven and there are weeds everywhere. We are in the midst of a field of weeds.

Matt. 13:25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed darnel among the wheat and went his way.

So Satan disguises himself as an angel of light. But he always sows tares. Jesus is light and what He says is light.

The cosmic system surrounds us and our only defense is renovated thinking. If we cannot think with the mind of Christ, then we are only able to think cosmic system doctrine. Even a little cosmic system thinking with a little doctrine thrown in is the cosmic system. It pollutes and chokes and moves in as weeds to and takes over.

Matt. 13:26 But when the blade had sprung up and had produced fruit, then the darnel also appeared.

The field hands cannot tell the difference. They ask how can there be tares in this field, if the master has only sown good seed?

Matt. 13:27 So the servants of the householder came and said to him, Sir, did you not sow good seed in your field? Then where have the darnel come from?

The master says that the enemy did this.

Matt. 13:28 He said to them, An enemy has done this. The servants said to him, Then do you want us to go and gather them up?

Should we go out and pluck up all these weeds? But the master says, do not go out and pluck up the tares, because you will uproot the wheat as well. This is how close they are.

Matt. 13:29 But he said, No, lest while you gather up the darnel you also root up the wheat with them.

There are harvesters who, at the end, will first gather up the weeds that have grown and bundled them and put them out to burn. Then the wheat will be gathered into the master's granary. God Himself says, "Leave them together." This is the Angelic Conflict. Leave all of this in place so that it can be resolved. It is the Angelic Conflict. The tares are still with us. The Angelic Conflict continues until the end of human history.

The harvest will be the baptism of fire.

Matt. 13:30 Let both grow together until the harvest. And in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, First gather together the darnel and bind them in bundles to burn them, but gather the wheat into my granary.

In case none of us get this, Jesus will interpret this.

Overview:

Mat 13:36–43 Then Jesus sent the multitude away and went into the house. And His disciples came to Him, saying, Explain to us the parable of the tares of the field. He answered and said to them: He who sows the good seed is the Son of Man. The field is the world, the good seeds are the sons of the kingdom, but the tares are the sons of the wicked one. The enemy who sowed them is the devil, the harvest is the end of the age, and the reapers are the angels. Therefore as the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so it will be at the end of this age. The Son of Man will send forth His angels, and they will gather out of His kingdom all the stumbling blocks, and those who practice lawlessness, and will cast them into the furnace of fire. There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears to hear, let him hear.

The pharisees are the prototype. Humanism is very hard to distinguish in certain areas. The do-gooders resemble the believers. Human good and divine good can sometimes appear to be the same thing. The same deed can be divine good and rewardable. God knows who is in fellowship and God will reward the divine good and burn the human good.

These tares are the unbelievers who plant a counterfeit kingdom.

The disciples ask for an explanation.

Matt. 13:36 Then sending the crowds away, Jesus went into the house. And His disciples came to Him, saying, Explain to us the parable of the darnel of the field.

Jesus sows the good seed.

Matt. 13:37 He answered and said to them, He who sows the good seed is the Son of Man;

Jesus sows the good seed in the field of the world.

Matt. 13:38 the field is the world; the good seed are the sons of the kingdom; but the darnel are the sons of the evil one.

Satan sows the tares. When it comes to the end of the age, the angels will reap these fields.

Matt. 13:39 The enemy who sowed them is the Devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels.

The weeds will be gathered and burned with fire.

Mat. 13:40 Therefore as the darnel are gathered and burned in the fire, so it shall be in the end of this world.

Jesus sends out His angels to gather up the tares. The parable refers to the day that begins with the unpardonable sin and the crucifixion and on from there.

The Church Age would begin 40 days after the resurrection. That is when the Holy Spirit comes upon the disciples. That is the beginning of the way that the Holy Spirit operates in this age.

Preterism is altogether wrong. The rapture of the church and the Tribulation; and this is all included in the wheat and the tares. Regenerate Israel will be regathered in the land; and they will be beset by enemies on all sides. Israel will appear to be doomed at this point.

The 4 kings of the earth will come together and surround Israel. This is when Armageddon occurs, when our Lord destroys these enemies.

Then comes the harvest; and that is what this parable refers to. The harvest is the judgment at the end of the Tribulation.

Mat 13:39–40 The enemy who sowed them is the devil, the harvest is the end of the age, and the reapers are the angels. Therefore as the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so it will be at the end of this age.

At this harvest, the tares will be reaped. This is the time of Satan's reckoning.

The reapers are angels. We know that the angels will return with Jesus.

Closing Points

1. The likeness of wheat and tares is so good that they cannot be distinguished in the field. Not by us. There must be angelic reapers making the call.
2. The angels do not make any mistakes. There are no tares left behind, unplucked.
3. The angels are not fooled by religious counterfeits like we are. Religion will all be pulled out. It is religion if grace is not in it.
4. They are not deceived as believers are by the cosmic system of Satan.

Mat. 13:41 The Son of Man shall send out His angels, and they shall gather out of His kingdom all things that offend, and those who do iniquity,

The tares which are reaped are burned. That should strike terror. People cannot tell the difference in some cases. Some will go with the tares. They will be burned. That is the judgment at the end of human history. Hell is prepared for the devil and his angels and those who follow them. We will not be anywhere near this bonfire.

The good wheat will be put into the barn; that is the Millennium kingdom. We are coming back with the Lord and we will get to see all of it. This pretty much covers all human history.

Matt. 13:42 and shall cast them into a furnace of fire. There shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

Matt. 13:43 Then the righteous shall shine out like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears to hear, let him hear.

Lesson #0416

Luke 8: Life of Christ

3/27/2013 Wed

The enemy is Satan and he throws down some bad seed, which would be Satanic viewpoint. A tare is a troublesome weed in a grainfield that resembles wheat. Tares are a counterfeit wheat. The tares are the opposite of the wheat, even though they look so much different. When the good crop of wheat grows, so do the tare. The Word of God growing and there also grows the doctrine of demons. The tares are Satan's tools by which he will institute a counterfeit kingdom. He is not looking to destroy this world, but to build a paradise according to his own standards.

Matt. 13:38 the field is the world; the good seed are the sons of the kingdom; but the darnel are the sons of the evil one.

Matt. 13:39 The enemy who sowed them is the Devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels.

We are growing wheat in good soil; but there is the opposition of the seed grown right along side of us. The tares represent the opposition to the Kingdom of Heaven.

Satan's Evil Tares

1. The tares are weeds dispersed among the good crop. This is done to choke out the wheat; to overcome the wheat. To grow to where the wheat is no longer viable.
2. Tares are Satan's great deception in the world; this is his cosmic system designed to resemble the Kingdom of Heaven. It looks good and it sounds good, but it is the opposite.
3. Satan wears a disguise as an angel of light; this is a description of the elect angels; and this tells us that one of his great purposes is to imitate and deceive the believer.
4. Satan is thoroughly evil, as are the tares that he sows.

The farmers notice these tares. They ask the master what should we do? The master says, "Leave them alone; allow both of them to grow together." Usually, in the ancient world, the tares would be removed. Strict instructions are given to leave them together until they are harvested.

The Interpretation of the Parable

1. The tares are the counterfeits that Satan plans along side the wheat. They masquerade as sons of the kingdom. There are plenty of tares out there and they are looking to choke you out. Looking to confuse us by doctrine of demons. It is everywhere today. There is a Supreme Court decision coming down, and this argument about freedom, and it is an argument of tares. Satan sows religion and legalism. He sows humanism that sounds so good. Religion is the devil's ace trump; and if that does not work, he goes straight to humanism.
2. The tares can be so close that they are very hard to tell from the wheat. Unbelieving tares growing right next to the wheat. Sometimes there is very little difference between them.
3. Both the wheat and the tares are harvested, sooner or later.
4. This harvest of the wheat and the tares is a future judgment at the end of a future age.
5. The reapers of the wheat and the reapers of the tares are angels. The real creatures of light.

Why angels? Why are angels involved here? This is because Satan has done his work so well. As the Tribulation occurs, it gets worse and worse. The likeness of wheat and tares is so good, they are very hard to distinguish until the angelic reapers make the call. Nobody slips by; no one accidentally messes up.

The devil with the sickle is the wrong view; he will be reaped. The angels are not fooled by religious counterfeits. They are not deceived by the cosmic system of Satan.

Matt. 13:40 Therefore as the darnel are gathered and burned in the fire, so it shall be in the end of this world.

Matt. 13:41 The Son of Man shall send out His angels, and they shall gather out of His kingdom all things that offend, and those who do iniquity,

Matt. 13:42 and shall cast them into a furnace of fire. There shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

Matt. 13:43 Then the righteous shall shine out like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears to hear, let him hear.

The barn is the millennial kingdom, which comes at the end of the Tribulation. Those who do not enter are the tares. They are both harvested; they are both judged. In the judgment, they are separated; but not before.

The end of the age is the end of the 2nd advent. The tares then will be burned.

Burned

1. The tares will be excluded from the millennial kingdom.

2. They are removed to a place of horrible, terrible torment that involves fire.
3. The weeping and gnashing of teeth is the reaction to the judgement.
4. Weeping when they are judged and burned; and this indicates great sorrow and grief; those who are lost in hell. They will have great grief.
5. The gnashing of teeth suggests horrible, terrible physical agony. This is the seed that Satan sows, the false wheat; the one that deceives and imitates.

The kingdom promise will not include the pharisees or any other religious faction. It is the devil's ace trump because it seems so close. All those of other religions will end up weeping and gnashing their teeth.

The Tribulation of 7 years. The tares. This age has the worst tares imaginable. The eschatology is very complex and Bobby is going to skip over many details. He is going to go over the highlights. Rev. 17–18

The Tribulation

1. The tares of the Tribulation are unbelievers of a religious nature.
2. Religion will be centralized and unified. Satan will form a world ecumenical church at that time of the Tribulation. The tool will be the antichrist; a formal name for a specific person who will unify religion at that time.
3. The world religion of that time is called Babylon the Great. Rev. 17:5 the mother of harlots and the abominations of the earth.
4. The Apostle John has associated this Babylon name with false worship and false religion. It is a harlot and an abomination.
5. It is this a prostitute form of religion. It is like the phallic cults or Ephesus. Fornication and other perversions are included.
6. It is a litany of heathen rituals completely divorced from the truth of God.
7. This religion is designed to placate the conscience, to make people feel respectful while indulging in the depravity. All the hypocrisies of religion. You can do anything that you want in the name of religion and feel good about it. As long that you indulge the ritual of the religion. It is a form of religion; it is a copy of what Israel had. All that Israel had described the atonement and all the Jesus would do.
8. This false church in the Tribulation called Babylon is implacable in its rejection of divine truth.
9. Such religion leads to murder; Rev. 17:6 Paul could not kill enough Christians until he was struck down by Jesus. He became the greatest theologian of the Christian era. Paul began as a tare. A tare imitates; and, in the end, it destroys.
10. The adherents of this false religion; the tares, will dispose of believers in Christ. That becomes a part of their religious practice. This is a great religion. Rev 17:17–18 For God has put it into their hearts to fulfill His purpose, to be of one mind, and to give their kingdom to the beast, until the words of God are fulfilled. And the woman whom you saw is that great city which reigns over the kings of the earth.
11. This prophesied rules the earth. There are others elsewhere who ruled just like this.

- a. All unified under the antichrist.
- b. Religion is a part of the cosmic system. World religion is hugely
- c. It pursues good ends, supposedly, but it is entirely without ethics and standards. Religion designed to promote the philosophy and standing of one man, the antichrist, and Satan's thinking.
- d.
- e. This horror covered by religion sets up Satan's worship. Religion is in fact a part of the cosmic system and it sets up worship inside the cosmic system.
- f. Matt. 24:15 the abomination of desolation; the abomination that makes desolate; and this is a person.
- g. This evil worship is the fulfillment of Dan. 9:26–27
- h. As a sign of this desolation, a statue of the antichrist is set up in the Temple, the place where God is to be worshiped.

Revelation has symbolic language, but it has a literal fulfillment.

The king of the west, the great beast; and he will go along until he is destroyed at the battle of Armageddon.

A very short 3.5 years; things move very quickly in that period of time. It is all about religion. Matt. 13:43 he who has ears, let him hear.

Dan 12:3 And the prudent shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and those who turn many to righteousness, as the stars forever and ever.

They will reflect the glory of God forever. Some day we will be like the sun. The eschatology was so encouraging to the disciples.

Lesson #0417

Luke 8: Life of Christ

3/28/2013 Thurs

Easter is the most well-attended church day of the year. Nothing could be more opposite than Berachah Church. What we know about Jesus puts us far beyond the nod-to-God crowd.

The parable is a snapshot of the opposition to the disciples, that they would face for the rest of their lives.

When the good crop of wheat grows in this world, along side will be the tares. The tares very much resemble the good wheat. The opposition will be for the disciples and all those who follow. The tares among us will appear to be very, very good. However, they are like Satan, who presents himself as an angel of light.

Sorrow and gnashing of teeth; the thought is almost unimaginable. But there is also the justice and righteousness of God. They are unbending and absolute; but combined with the love of God. His justice must condemn us, but his love provides for us. We fall very short of God righteousness and justice. Therefore, by the cross, we understand just how much God has provided for us.

The disciples must be encouraged to know that, despite all of the adversity, they will be victorious. In spite of those tares, they will prevail; they will be victorious. Even though Israel will not receive her kingdom, this nation has a future. The kingdom will come; and it will come in the Millennium after the tares.

The disciples must understand that they have a mission, and a mission for an entirely new dispensation. The new kingdom program is the Church Age.

There are doctrinal applications.

This is a clear, angelic conflict parable. The enemy is identified in all of his hate and deception and in all of his evil. The responsibility for this tragedy is laid on the back of Satan and his demons. Satan planted his disguise in places of influence in order to hoodwink the nation. They got the nation to reject her Messiah.

We no longer have pharisees, but we have plenty of tares.

The pharisees got so many to reject the truth.

The second application is, it views the future. Bobby covered a brief description of the Tribulation; the end of the age. Satan has won a victory in the nation's rejection of the Messiah. But he does not stop his deception.

These disciples will move from the Time of the Hypostatic Union right into the Church Age.. Counterfeiting God's work is Satan's entire career. He is the counterfeiter. This is his plan to win the Angelic Conflict. He is pushing for a series of victories. He is still bent on winning tactical victories over the church.

Satan is not a red monster with a forked tail trying to burn everyone. He said what he wants, "I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will make myself like the Most High." He is not trying to destroy the earth or the people on it; he is trying to build his own kingdom; but he is attempting to do this apart from God. The tares and never good; the results are never good; only evil.

Satan can never accomplish his plan; he does not have the capability or the capacity to do what he intends to do.

The end of the age is come for Satan and his kingdom. In the meantime, we and the tares grow together. The tares and the wheat will be separated at the final judgement, at the baptism of fire.

Satan is not looking to simply plant evil people. But this is not Satan's plan. The cosmic system is evil and apart from the plan of God. Satan can perpetrate and carry out obvious evil, but that is not his overall objective. He wants people to be happy and prosperous. He wants a world filled with false religiosity. He would give Jesus the kingdom if He would worship him. He just wants to be worshiped. He wants to do this without God and without divine establishment. That explains what is going on in our country.

Satan is the epitome of humanism, of secularism, of religion, of relativism

The tares are those who think and live independently from God.

There they are in the midst of the church, and they are right in the middle of the cosmic system. Do whatever is good in your own eyes; that is cosmic system thinking. You do not do whatever is right in your own eyes. Divine establishment has a set of mandates. Those who cover the truth with extensive falsehood cover Christianity with a plethora of cults.

Compassion and humanity are two of the subtle calls from the cosmic system. They provide all of these human solutions of the downtrodden and the poor. The cosmic system looks to enslave people and to make their conditions worse. These are the ideas of Satan.

Satan has to work with humans, as we were created to resolve the Angelic Conflict. We are where the Angelic Conflict is going on. He may think he has a good set of tares all sown, but this kingdom he is trying to bring about Satan's religions are the great deceptions of this life. Mohammed, Confucius, Joseph Smith are 3 who have presented themselves as dedicated to God.

World leaders of the future fall into this category. It will be stepped up in the Tribulation; but what goes on there goes on today all over the world. And all of this will be burned at the final judgment. All those who think they will bring in a kingdom.

So many churches present all kinds of other things other than doctrine as a substitute.

Why do people object to the learning of doctrine in Berea? It is everywhere. The mandate is to renovate our thinking. Rom. 12:2.

So much extraneous activity occurs in churches today.

This future religious system of Satan compared to what

Christianity and Our Government Today

1. It can be seen today in the state or the government of this nation. That ecumenical system. It can be seen in our nation as centralized power under charismatic people. Adolf Hitler was very charismatic. Watching him and you can see his charisma. This will occur in the Tribulation.
2. Much of religion in America has become humanistic and relativistic or overtly evil. It is alive and well in our generation.

3. There is a concerted effort to marginalize vital, divine institutions and Bible doctrine. The idea is to make the less and less relevant. One of the most important divine institutions is marriage, a man and a woman; and yet that divine institution is being attacked in every way.
4. There is a concerted effort to secularize that nation by an absolute separation of church and state, to so individualize [isolate?] Christianity so that it is removed from the public forum altogether. To make everyone do what is right in their own eyes. Cause a number of rifts throughout the church.

Richard John Neuhaus and he understood this problem. He writes this article in 1984 he understood how secularism gains ascendancy. "The Naked Public Square" once religion is reduced to privatized conscience, then truth is forced out, leaving only the state and the individual, who does not speak of his Christian faith.

A perverse nation of the disestablishment of religion leads to the establishment of the state as church. The state takes over and becomes a caricature of the church. The absolute truth is that there is no truth. This leads to absolute tyranny. The state becomes the church.

When Bible doctrine and divine establishment leave the public forum and secularism takes over the nation. It no longer adheres to divine establishment, then the state becomes the church. It will continue to grow worse as the state objectives conflict with Christian doctrine. The day may come when teaching Rom. 1 is a hate crime.

Believers without doctrine become partners in this destruction and they are taken in by the tares. Divine establishment and Christian influence has been removed and Satan...

Does this sound familiar? None of this can prevent the coming judgment. No matter what kind of ecumenical religion replaces everything else, judgment will come. The client nation in this category will face judgment.

The state becomes the church and humanism is its doctrine.

The final application from this parable. This is on the good side. There is need for patience in an evil world. We as believers often take the attitude, "Strike them dead, God; I am tired of seeing all of this." We cannot wait for God to come and obliterate our enemies. It is easy to want to become activists. To use human methods to further God's plan. We must wipe these people out.

What happens is, unintended consequences prevail. God is never glorified by the use of human methods; not ever. We must be content and we must be patient and we must wait for God's plan to unfold despite the degeneracy around us.

We must always stand for the truth; and we must be always ready to speak the truth, regardless of the consequences. We do not know how each one of us will be utilized in the plan of God. We have no idea. We do know that, whatever happens to us is a part of His ultimate victory over the tares. We may even be sacrifices on the altar of divine establishment. The tares will be weeping and gnashing their teeth in hell.

Some of us will end up in many difficult situations in the future. But the victory of the battle is the Lord's and we will always overcome the tares simply by implanting Bible doctrine in our souls.

Lesson #0418

Luke 8: Easter 2013

3/31/2013 1Sunday

Num. 17

Life will emerge from death; the circumstances of Moses and Aaron; the sprouting of the dead stick.

Num 17:7–8 And Moses placed the staffs before Jehovah in the tent of witness. And it came to pass on the next day that Moses went into the tent of witness, and behold, the staff of Aaron, of the house of Levi, had sprouted and put forth buds, had produced blossoms and yielded ripe almonds.

A french aristocrat, Tallyrand, who was crippled and he could not go into the army. As a young man, because of his handicap, he became a priest in the Catholic church, and he became one of the great diplomats of all of French history. He was a priest and a man of secular, humanistic philosophy. He supported the French Revolution and Napoleon.

Another enlightenment figure approached him, someone with a similar background. He had worked out a religion that was acceptable to all men; a religion that all men could embrace. Tallyrand said, "If you were to have your religion accepted, then you must die and be resurrected the 3rd day.

There is another rebellion of the children of Israel; they were self-centered and whining brats. They showed their discontent with Moses and his brother Aaron.

Many thought that Moses and Aaron had too much authority over them. Korah and 250 men rebelled against Moses' authority. Korah decided to challenge God's ruling. They should have been content, but they were not different at all from Christians today who are dissatisfied with the plan of God today.

The context:

Num 16:31–35 And it came to pass, as he finished speaking all these words, that the ground split apart under them, and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them up, with their houses and all the men with Korah, with all their possessions. So they and all those with them went down alive into Sheol; the earth covered over them, and they perished from among the assembly. And all Israel who were around them fled at the sound, for they thought, Lest the earth swallow us up also! And a fire came forth from Jehovah and consumed the two hundred and fifty men who were offering incense.

Num 16:40–42 as a memorial to the children of Israel; that no strange man, who is not a seed of Aaron, should come near to offer incense before Jehovah, that he might not become like Korah and his company, as Jehovah had spoken by the hand of Moses. And the next day all the congregation of the children of Israel grumbled against Moses and Aaron, saying, You have killed the people of Jehovah. And it happened, when the congregation had gathered against Moses and Aaron, that they turned toward the tent of meeting; and behold, the cloud covered it, and the glory of Jehovah appeared.

Num 16:46–50 And Moses said to Aaron, Take a censer and put fire in it from the altar, put incense on it, and take it quickly to the congregation and make atonement for them; for wrath has gone out from Jehovah; the plague has begun. And Aaron took as Moses had spoken, and ran into the midst of the assembly; and behold, the plague had begun among the people. So he put on the incense and made atonement for the people. And he stood between the dead and the living; and the plague was restrained. Now those who died in the plague were fourteen thousand seven hundred, besides those who died in the matter of Korah. And Aaron returned to Moses at the door of the tent of meeting, for the plague had been restrained.

Jesus stands between us, the dead, and God; giving us life. These men are undeserving. They first learned that they had been interceded for. Then God gives another command, and one rod is taken from each tribe.

Num 17:1–5 And Jehovah spoke to Moses, saying: Speak to the children of Israel, and take from them a staff, a staff from each father's house, all their leaders according to their fathers' houses; twelve staffs. Write each man's name on his staff. And you shall write Aaron's name on the staff of Levi. For there shall be one staff for the head of each father's house. And you shall place them in the tent of meeting before the Testimony, where I meet with you. And it shall be that the staff of the man whom I choose shall blossom; thus I will put to rest the murmurings of the children of Israel, with which they grumble against you.

All of these rods were gathered up and put into the tent of meeting.

Num 17:6 And Moses spoke to the children of Israel, and each of their leaders gave him a staff apiece, for each leader a staff according to their fathers' houses, twelve staffs; and the staff of Aaron was among their staffs.

These people deserved God opening up this earth and swallowing them all up; but God gives them grace. They had seen so many miracles, and they still rejected God's authority over them, manifested by Moses and Aaron.

Num 17:7 And Moses placed the staffs before Jehovah in the tent of witness.

What was dead was given life. The names of the great princes were engraved on these sticks; regardless of what these rods looked like, but they were all characterized by death. They bore no buds, blossoms or almonds. Showing life here would be a miracle of life, given only from God.

Num 17:8 And it came to pass on the next day that Moses went into the tent of witness, and behold, the staff of Aaron, of the house of Levi, had sprouted and put forth buds, had produced blossoms and yielded ripe almonds.

This dead stick is a picture of the resurrection of Jesus Christ. It is a perfect picture of the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

There are 6 stanzas of the almond.

No man could bring life to any of these rods. None of the princes, not even Moses or Aaron. This rod that buds is all about new life; this is an analogy to true life. Before Jesus rose from the tomb, Jesus gave up His Own spirit. His work had been completed. He had been judged for each one of us.

His body was placed in a tomb with a stone in front of it.

Rom. 4:25 He who was delivered up because of our transgressions and was raised for the purpose of our justification,...

The buds of Aaron's rod breathe life. The almonds are the production of fruit from a dead body. Resurrection is a miracle of God. No one of us can give life. Only Jesus can give usefulness to us.

Bobby will look on 4 appearances of Jesus.

To Mary at the site of the tomb John 20:11 Mary is uncontrollably weeping. She looks into the tomb and sees nothing. The stone has been moved. She is distraught and discouraged at the loss of the Lord Jesus Christ.

John 20:11–12 But Mary stood outside near the tomb weeping, and as she wept she stooped down into the tomb. And she saw two angels in white sitting, one at the head and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.

John 20:13–15 And they said to her, Woman, why are you weeping? She said to them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I do not know where they have laid Him. And when she had said this, she turned around and saw Jesus standing there, and did not know that it was Jesus. Jesus said to her, Woman, why are you weeping? Whom are you seeking? She, supposing Him to be the gardener, said to Him, Sir, if You have carried Him away, tell me where You have laid Him, and I will take Him away.

John 20:16 Jesus said to her, Mary! She turned and said to Him, Rabboni! (which is to say, Teacher)

The 2nd appearance:

John 20:19 Then, the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and said to them, Peace to you.

The disciples were panicked, immobilized, locking the world out. They were in a locked room. He quiets their fears with "Peace to you."

John 20:20 And when He had said this, He showed them His hands and His side. Then the disciples rejoiced when they saw the Lord.

Jesus calmed their fears. Fear gains a stranglehold over us.

John 20:21 So Jesus said to them again, Peace to you. As the Father has sent Me, I also send you.

Joh 20:22 And when He had said this, He breathed on them, and said to them, Receive the Holy Spirit.

Joh 20:23 If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven them; whatever you lay hold upon, it is held fast.

John 20:24–25 But Thomas, called the Twin, one of the twelve, was not with them when Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said to him, We have seen the Lord. So he said to them, Unless I see in His hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into His side, I will not ever believe.

Thomas doubted the confession of his brothers. He has to put his fingers into the side of Jesus. He wanted empiracle proof.

John 20:26–28 And after eight days His disciples were again inside, and Thomas with them. Jesus came, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace to you. Then He said to Thomas, Bring your finger here, and look at My hands; and bring your hand here, and put it into My side. Do not be unbelieving, but believing. And Thomas answered and said to Him, My Lord and my God!

The One they followed was resurrected. Our faith is based upon the God-man Who rose again. His resurrection is unquestionable proof of our status as believers and as our status and our eternal future. Our lives are in the hands of the Living Christ. It is for this we have labored and strived, for we have fixed our...

John 20:29 Jesus said to him, Thomas, because you have seen Me, you have believed. Blessed are those not seeing and yet believing.

John 21:3 Simon Peter said to them, I am going fishing. They said to him, We are coming with you also. They went out and immediately got into the boat, and that night they caught nothing.

The disciples were now floundering; they did not know what to do, where to go. They had forgotten what the Lord told them. They simply returned to their own occupations.

By the 4th appearance they were reminded of their obligations. “Tend My sheep.”

John 21:4–7 But when the morning had now come, Jesus stood on the shore; but the disciples did not know that it was Jesus. Then Jesus said to them, Children, you do not have any fish, do you? They answered Him, No. And He said to them, Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and you will find some. So they cast, and now they were not able to draw it in because of the multitude of fish. Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved said to Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he put on his outer garment (for he was naked), and plunged into the sea.

We, as believers, have exactly the same charge. To live is Christ; and to die is profit. Because He lives, we live.

The final 5 stanzas in the next sermon.

Lesson #0419

Luke 8: Easter 2013

3/31/2013 2Sunday

We are proving the efficacy of truth of the Word of God.

We are in Num. 17 we are studying the song of the almonds; about the dead sticks that are placed in the Tabernacle. The budding of Aaron’s rod is a picture of the resurrection.

What does the resurrection have to do with anything? Could we not have the same religion without the resurrection?

For many people, miracles are contrary to natural thinking. We cannot put God into a box and claim that He can only perform natural things.

What about the Old Testament prophecies? Where would these signs of resurrection from the Old Testament be? Jonah ends up on dry land and alive after 3 days. Jesus ends up with eternal life just like we will. If the resurrection of Christ is not true, then the Old Testament becomes meaningless. It is entirely untrustworthy. There is no doctrine in the Old Testament which can be fulfilled apart from the resurrection of Jesus Christ. A dead Christ is a dead testament to Him.

What about the New Testament? If Jesus did not rise from the grave, then the entire Christian faith is fallacious. If Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is vain, and your whole faith is in vain. Under these conditions, faith in Christ is useless for eternal life.

Why the Resurrection Is Critical to Our Faith in Jesus Christ

1. If Christ is not risen, then the cross has no effect. It was just an unjust death of many. Is Jesus a good man if this is just a hoax?
2. If Christ is not risen, then no sin was forgiven. We are still in our sins. We are still dead in trespasses and sins.
3. Without the resurrection, no man is redeemed from the slave market of sin.

4. We cannot be reconciled to God if Jesus is still in the grave. The enmity would still exist between God and man. If Jesus is dead, then there is no satisfaction; there is no propitiation.
5. That means that the wrath of God has not been propitiated, so God's justice must still condemn us.
6. Christ, if He did not rise, cannot be the mediator between God and man. If He is dead and gone, then He cannot mediate.
7. Without Jesus alive, no man has a way to access God. Jesus, without the resurrection, is just a fantasy of hope.
8. If Jesus did not rise from the dead, then He did not take His place on the right hand of the Father as our Great High Priest and our Intercessor. Aaron was the intercessor in the Old Testament.
9. If there is no resurrection, then every prayer that we utter never rises above the ceiling of the room in which we pray.
10. Without Christ rising with a resurrection body, Jesus was not recognizable at first, but when He spoke, the disciples heard Him and knew Him. This would make our faith a lie and God a liar. What does it matter if there is no resurrection? If there is no God, why do we pretend to live like nice people. People try to cram as much pleasure as possible into life because they do not believe in a resurrection. Take, take, take; steal; live for pleasure; lie, cheat. This is how people live without the resurrection. 1Cor. 15:15 we are seen as false witness about Christ, if He is not raised. What we think or say does not matter.
11. In this case, Christian testimony to the rest of the world would be a hoax. The Bible doctrine in our souls would be meaningless. No point without the resurrection.
12. Looking back on the past, millions of those who have believed in Christ would have perished without the reality of a future life. This is perpetrating a lie to millions, and this is a most heinous crime. Those disciples who saw the resurrection had no doubts; they went throughout the world, proclaiming the gospel, willing to die a martyr's death. It is all based upon their faith in Christ. "Tend My sheep." They saw Him and they did it. They went everywhere and suffered every hardship. Jesus was able to save all who approached God through Him.

Resurrection is not just important, it is our lives; it is everything.

Num 17:8 And it came to pass on the next day that Moses went into the tent of witness, and behold, the staff of Aaron, of the house of Levi, had sprouted and put forth buds, had produced blossoms and yielded ripe almonds.

The almond image is close to that of the priests. A passage in Jer. 1:11 Jeremiah sees an almond tree, which is his position as a priest-prophet.

Jer 1:11–12 And the Word of Jehovah came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what do you see? And I said, I see a rod of an almond tree. And Jehovah said to me, You have seen well; for I will keep watch over My Word to perform it.

The candelabra has cups and 3 of them would be shaped like almonds. Almonds would be connected to the holy place where the priests made sacrifices. So it was the almond branch that confirmed Aaron as the High Priest of Israel. He was our great High Priest.

Aaron's right to serve as High Priest was questioned by Korah and many others; that is what Korah's rebellion was all about. They have rejected divine authority. The resurrection of that rod indicates that this appointment of Aaron is of God. Who could question Aaron's right to the priesthood?

Aaron did not grab this position on his own. He did not stake out this position. God designated Aaron and his progeny as the perpetual priestly tribe of Israel to this very day. God's overarching authority over Israel. Who was Korah to question Aaron or God's authority?

Heb. 5:4 And no man takes this honor to himself, but he who is called by God, just as Aaron was.

Heb. 5:5 So also Christ did not glorify Himself to become High Priest, but it was He who said to Him: You are My Son, today I have begotten You.

Aaron was called by God; and Jesus was as well. The stick was the seal for Aaron. The resurrection is the guarantee of our High Priest.

For it was fitting that we should have a High Priest for us, separated from sinners and exalted above in the heavens.

Heb. 8:1 Now this is the main point of the things being said: We have such a High Priest, who is seated at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens,

Jesus represents us and performs a ministry of intercession for all believers in heaven. He is able to save forever those who draw near to God through Him. He lives eternally to make intercession for us.

Who was declared the Son of God of power by the resurrection from the dead. This resurrection declared His Person, according to the Spirit of Holiness.

If men do not accept this truth, then they will accept nothing about Him. He would only be some descendant of Adam and Abraham. His resurrection is the key to everything. The one who denies the deity of our Lord, Easter can mean nothing than a basket of colored eggs and a hopping bunny.

The second stanza.

The third stanza is the visibility of Aaron's rod that budded.

Num. 17:9–11 And Moses brought out all the staffs from before Jehovah to all the children of Israel; and they looked, and each man took his staff. And Jehovah said to Moses, Bring Aaron's staff back before the Testimony, to be kept as a sign against the rebels, that you may put their murmurings away from Me, that they not die. Thus Moses did; as Jehovah had commanded him, so he did.

Life from death, the picture of the resurrection of Jesus Christ. They saw our Lord with their own eyes; His power with their own eyes.

Acts 1:3 To these He also presented Himself alive with many convincing proofs. How could the miracle of the resurrection of Jesus Christ be called into question with so many witnesses, as they paid with their own lives. Who would want to die to proclaim a hoax? They never recanted the resurrection. No one did.

The resurrection of Christ was a real visible event. Now it is visible to the entire world to accept or to reject.

The 4th stanza and that reveals the location of Aaron's rod. It budded, Moses showed it to the people, then it was placed in the Ark of the Covenant.

Heb. 9:3–6 and behind the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holy of Holies, which had the golden altar of incense and the ark of the covenant overlaid on all sides with gold, in which were the golden pot that had the manna, Aaron's staff that budded, and the tablets of the covenant; and above it were the cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy seat. Of these things we cannot now speak in detail. Now when these things had been thus prepared, the priests always went into the first tabernacle, performing the services.

That budding rod of Aaron provides us with our resurrection?

5th stanza, which reveals that the rod of Aaron represents the eternal priestly nature of the tribe of Aaron. Aaron's descendants would retain their position forever.

Num 17:3–4 And you shall write Aaron's name on the staff of Levi. For there shall be one staff for the head of each father's house. And you shall place them in the tent of meeting before the Testimony, where I meet with you.

John 14:19 "After awhile, the world will behold Me no more, but you will continue to live and represent Me."

the 6th stanza

Num 17:10 And Jehovah said to Moses, Bring Aaron's staff back before the Testimony, to be kept as a sign against the rebels, that you may put their murmurings away from Me, that they not die.

This is a sign of belief versus unbelief. No life came to the pretenders of the priesthood. The sign of life versus the sign of death. A gloomy judgment against them.

Overlooking the times of ignorance, God is declaring that men everywhere should change their minds, for He has fixed a day when He will judge the world, through a Man, having furnished proof to all mankind by raising Him from the dead.

But now Christ as been raised from the dead, the first fruits form those who have been dead. As in Adam, all die, so in Christ, all shall be made alive.

Jesus Christ has risen and so shall we.

Easter is more than a celebration, one day of the year. Easter is celebrated every day and we remember one day that we will rise forever. So sing the song of almond for the rest of your lives.

Heb 5:6 As He also says in another place: You are a priest forever according to the order of Melchizedek;

Heb 5:7 who, in the days of His flesh, when He had offered up prayers and supplications, with vehement cries and tears to Him who had the power to save Him from death, and was heard because of His godly fear,

Heb 5:8 though He was a Son, yet He learned obedience by the things which He suffered.

Heb 5:9 And having been found perfect, He became the author of eternal salvation to all who obey Him,

Num 17:9 And Moses brought out all the staffs from before Jehovah to all the children of Israel; and they looked, and each man took his staff.

Num 17:10 And Jehovah said to Moses, Bring Aaron's staff back before the Testimony, to be kept as a sign against the rebels, that you may put their murmurings away from Me, that they not die.

Num 17:11 Thus Moses did; as Jehovah had commanded him, so he did.

Num 17:12 And the children of Israel spoke to Moses, saying, Behold we have died, we have perished, we have all perished!

Num 17:13 Whoever comes near the tabernacle of Jehovah dies. Are we all about to die? Have we been consumed?

Lesson #0420

Luke 8: Life of Christ

4/3/2013 Wed

Bobby emphasizes the importance of Bible doctrine now and again. There are churches in the United States who do the same thing; even in this city. Bible doctrine is that which feeds us; it is that by which we grow. Bobby finds it gratifying to know that there are some of those not in our camp who see the need for Bible doctrine.

Alumnis magazine for Portland's Western Seminary. Pastor of Vintage Faith Church in Santa Cruz, CA. There is an article in his grad zeen. Article: A Need for Doctrine.

He says he could never see a time more important to teach doctrine to the younger generation than today. A broader lack of understanding with the generation today. Many grow up with no sense of what is in the Bible. Even those who grow up in churches did not learn anything. They were taught over-simplified Bible topics and things like dating and relationships.

As culture shifts and a more culturally aligned and more appealing kind of Christianity is taught, younger generations today are not grounded enough to critically evaluate incorrect teaching. The instant access online of all kinds of beliefs about the Bible. Blogs and stuff have this or that verse pulled out of context to try to teach this or that.

Atheists quoting the Bible to make their own arguments. They do not believe in God but cannot wait to teach that God is a mean vicious Person.

In the midst of these things, there is a hunger for doctrine and they want credible arguments in favor of the faith. He disagrees that young people are not interested in doctrine. Taught theology and their crowd grew. We need to teach theology to frame the Biblical narrative.

Doctrine is necessary for spiritual growth more than just defending the faith.

What they teach concerning the Christian life is always a sticking point.

Renovated thinking from Bible doctrine is the need of all believers. Bobby hopes that young people are attracted to the truth rather than the relativism which is being taught.

The wheat and the tares. The tares are the counterfeits and they are sown in the wheat area, and they are extremely deceptive. Satan disguises himself as an angel of light.

They so easily blind the minds of those who opt so easily for relativism. Those who accept the philosophies of the tares, they see the truth as a lie. They are completely upside down. Humanism is rampant. Believers with doctrine can recognize it and need to be able to counter it in their own souls and then be able to present a defense of the faith when need be.

The tares represent Satan and his cosmic system, which is the way that he thinks. No matter how good humanism looks, when it is part of the philosophy and the religion of the tares, it is anti-doctrine. All that is not Bible doctrine in the soul is the cosmic system. It is easy to become inundated by the cosmic system.

Jesus said to allow the wheat and the tares to grow up together until the harvest. He did not say to pull them up; to get rid of them. The Angelic Conflict is continuing in human history and we are right in the middle of it. We are here to resolve the Angelic Conflict. The Angelic Conflict never lets up. Satan is relentless. When we let down, we are very vulnerable. It happens so quickly. The importance of Bible doctrine in the soul to counteract it.

We have to press on in our mission despite the tares which grow up in the midst of us; we are to outgrow the tares, to not let them choke us out. We cannot become tare hunters, seeking to directly defeat the cosmic system seeking to defeat them. We need to know doctrine and be able to apply it, to turn back the tares. The adverse and prosperous circumstances that we enjoy often get in the way.

We are appalled at politics, economics and the lack of doctrine among believers. So we often become impatient, but we need to be patient for the change in our own thinking. We can have a great impact in our own environment. If you want to change the political system, good luck; frustration is facing you. Best you can do is to grow in grace and the knowledge of our Lord and Savior. God blesses the nation with a large and effective pivot.

The church is not a political institution; but over the years, it has become that. The Catholic church was the main church became nothing more than a political entity with some religious overtones. History repeats itself, but if you do not know history, then you do not know what is going on.

There are all kinds of ways that we can make a difference in this world; all kinds of activism; call your congressman until your fingers are worn out. Most are only interested in getting votes. We must continue to grow spiritually from Bible doctrine.

End of the wheat and tares.

The 3rd parable is the growing sea and the harvest. Our Lord has His back to the sea, surrounded by followers. He is speaking these parables because He has been rejected. He is insuring that the disciples understand what is going on, even though the Jews rejected the Kingdom of God. It is postponed and something else will take its place; the new kingdom program, the Church Age.

This parable is only in the gospel of Mark. The previous parables focused on the soil; this one focuses on the seed and its growth in the soil. There is a natural growth in the soil without any help from the farmer; so we will need to know who the farmer is.

Mark 4:26–29 And He said, The kingdom of God is as if a man should scatter seed on the ground, and should sleep and rise, night and day, and the seed should sprout and grow, he himself does not know how. For the earth bears fruit by itself: first the blade, then the ear, after that the full grain in the ear. But when the fruit yields, immediately he puts in the sickle, because the harvest has come.

Intro to the 3rd Parable

1. As a simile, the kingdom of God is compared to an environment. The kingdom is an environment where agricultural activity takes place. We know what happens there. We do not know what happens in the kingdom.
2. The sower, the seed and the soil all interact; it all comes together.
3. Those who reside in the Kingdom of God are believers. So only believers are involved here.
4. Only believers are in this parable.

There Is a Cast of Characters in this Parable

1. The man, the farmer, the one who sows the seed. We can eliminate the possibility that he represents the Lord Jesus Christ. That is not who is in view.
 - 1) If this is not Jesus Christ and not an unbeliever, then this must be a believer. This is a believer who casts seed in the Kingdom of God. He casts seed in the kingdom of believers.
 - 2) Only a believer can cast seed in the Kingdom of God.
 - 3) The enemy sowing tares is not a part of this parable.
 - 4) There is only one farmer sowing seed.
2. Then there is the seed who is being cast by the farmer; so the seed is Bible doctrine. The farmer is sowing the seed of Bible doctrine.
 - 1) The sower is casting the seed of the Word of God in the environment of the kingdom. These parables are fun, as they are like unraveling a mystery.
 - 2) The sowing represents his communication; the believer sowing seed is the believer communicating. This includes all those who God uses to communicate Bible doctrine. All those who communicate Bible doctrine are farmers.
 - 3) This is the pastor-teacher and all others who speak the truth in whatever surroundings that they are in. We communicate truth. The doctrine of refreshment in Philemon. This is something that each one of us can do. Those teaching in prep school are farmers. We are not to only store Bible doctrine in our souls; we are to communicate it.
3. The soil is the final character.
 - 1) The soil is the soul of believers.
 - 2) The soul of the believer is the target for the seed, which is the Word of God, Bible doctrine. The communicators throws doctrine into the soul of a believer.
 - 3) So this soil must be fertile ground where this seed can grow. Positive volition.
 - 4) Therefore when the sower sows the Word of God, it must fall on the good soil of the positive Word of God. That is the only place where it can take root and grow. When that happens, the believer grows. There is an inherent activity in the soil. Bobby can sow the seed, but he cannot do another with the soil where that seed goes.

This is the crux of this parable. Bobby is the sower, he is talking seed, and it is falling into our souls, the good soil. Now we have the cast of characters. We do not have all of it yet. We do not have the application of this yet. There is great application for us. There is something that we can define as growth.

Mark 4:26 And He said, The kingdom of God is as if a man should scatter seed on the ground,
Mark 4:27 and should sleep and rise, night and day, and the seed should sprout and grow, he himself does not know how.

Mark 4:28 For the earth bears fruit by itself: first the blade, then the ear, after that the full grain in the ear.

Mark 4:29 But when the fruit yields, immediately he puts in the sickle, because the harvest has come.

Lesson #0421

Luke 8: Life of Christ

4/4/2013 Thurs

Jesus is beginning to define the age in which we live. The parable of the growing seed and harvest. This is an agricultural parable. The Kingdom of God is compared to a man who sows seed on the soil; and these things are all interrelated.

The man is a sower of the seed; a farmer; a farmer who casts seed in the Kingdom of God. He can only be a believer. This refers to believers and those in the Kingdom of God are believers. The seed here is the Word of God. Therefore, the sower must be a communicator of doctrine. The soil is the soul of the believer who heard the Word of God being taught. There must be growth of the crop; and that is spiritual growth.

Mark 4:26 And He said, The kingdom of God is as if a man should scatter seed on the ground,

The sower sleeps at night, and the seed sprouts up and grows, but the farmer does not know how this happens.

Mark 4:27 and should sleep and rise, night and day, and the seed should sprout and grow, he himself does not know how.

The fruit just grows on its own.

Mark 4:28 For the earth bears fruit by itself: first the blade, then the ear, after that the full grain in the ear.

Jesus Christ cannot be clueless, asleep at night and not knowing how the seed grows. He is the living Word of God. The seed does come from him. He sows the seeds to his disciples. This would not make sense.

How Jesus Is Not the Sower

1. In these parables, Jesus reveals the role of the disciples in the new kingdom program; going from the promised kingdom to Israel to the replacement of that kingdom (which will be the Church Age).
2. Their role is their sowing of the doctrine for this new kingdom program.
3. The Lord Jesus Christ is not the sower in this analogy. But He is, in one sense, a sower to the sowers. They must sow the seed, but Jesus is the source of all seeds of doctrine.
4. The disciples must speak and write the seed. They must write about the doctrine that they learned from Jesus Christ. That doctrine will be accurate; it will be infallible. They will write under the power of the Holy Spirit.
5. That is who they are in the new kingdom program. That is who our Lord is speaking to.

Next Points

1. The communicator cannot make the seed sprout. This describes perfectly what occurs in our souls when we receive doctrine.
2. Rather than the seed making the seed sprout, in the soil, the soul of the believer has the inherent ability to grow. In that soul is the inherent ability to grow. This describes us.
3. This reveals the dynamics for spiritual growth. This parable reveals the dynamics. The seed, which is doctrine, the communicator, which is the farmer; and us, which is the soil. That is based upon God the Holy Spirit, the filling of the Spirit and the grace apparatus for perception.
4. Once that seed is planted, it grows.

It is not Jesus and not the disciples who cause the seed to grow. It has to be in the soil to grow. That is not the sphere of the activity of the farmer; the sower.

The Communicator and the Growth

1. The sower the communicator, the pastor-teacher, can do nothing to cause or to expedite the maturing of the crop.
2. The sower simply sows and then lets the process continue in the good soil. That is all the sower can do.
3. The communicator must be cognizant that without any interference on his part, without intruding on the volition of the soil, and imperceptible to him, the seed will pass through the various stages of growth.
4. The pastor-teacher cannot do anything to make that seed grow.
5. The seed in our soul will mature inexorably one step at a time.
6. That is what the doctrine, what the seed does in the soul of any believer who maintains positive volition. That is the key. They must accept the authority of doctrine in the soul. The seed begins to grow in the lobes of the soul. The soil allows the seed to sprout and to grow, in our souls.
7. The believer then grows; when this process happens, when the communicator communicates doctrine and it falls on good soil; when the believer then grows, whether he or the sower are aware of that growth.

No matter how long you stare at a plant, you will not see it grow. But the growth is there. Go away for a couple of days and come back, and you will see it grow. It just happens.

Growth Will Take Place

1. At some point, both the communicator and the believer will become aware of the growth.
2. The process of growth always takes place in the good soil. People or centuries have tried to come up with weird ways to effect spiritual growth. But this is all that is needed; plant the seed in the soil and the seed grows.

3. This is a slow, bit-by-bit growth. You might face something covered in Bible class, but you are not really ready for it, so you cannot handle it. Give it time and that same set of circumstances will turn out differently. It is a slow process; it is not tangible and it is not immediately perceivable.
4. It is enough for us to know that if the soil is good, then the seed will grow.
5. At some point, the results of the growth process will be conspicuous. We will know it.

It is in the good soil that the seed grows and produces. It produces by itself.

Αυτοματη = something that happens without visible cause; it happens automatically.

The Spiritual Growth

1. When the seed is grown, and positive volition is there, it causes growth in the soul without any outside help.
2. All the growth is inherent. It is in the soil. That is where it happens. This is based on the filling of the Spirit and the grace apparatus for perception.
3. the soil of the believer's soul and the seed of Bible doctrine interact for growth; but nothing else.

The growth is in phases. There are no works for the believer to do; and no magic that the pastor-teacher does either. This parable is a magnificent picture of spiritual growth. It does not depend upon good deeds, the pressure of a spiritual leader, or group pressure. You are pressured into doing something, but that does not make you grow.

The doctrine in the soil then goes to the left lobe, and it is transferred by faith to the right lobe, and you have metabolized doctrine. This is all inherent to us. There is nothing outside of us that causes this growth. It is all inherent to the soil.

Mark 4:29 But when the fruit yields, immediately he puts in the sickle, because the harvest has come.

Now we take this one step further; when the crop permits, the seed has sprouted, it has progressively grown through the stages. After sowing and growing, it is harvesting time.

Παριστιμι = stands ready, has become ripe, mature. The growth is in a stage of completion. This is a point of culmination with results. Perfect tense here. Harvest time has come.

The Harvesting of the Completed Crop

1. It progressively grows, reaches a stage of maturity, and stands ready for complete and competent service to the Lord. The whole picture. That is the harvest. That is the production. All 3 phases. The sowing of the seed; that sowing goes to the soil it begins to grow and grows to maturity. Now there is a mature plant.

2. The harvester harvests the plant for a reason. It is a grown plant for a reason. The harvesting is for production, for service to the Lord.
3. The production of the believer in the kingdom glorifies God to the maximum.
4. So the good seed of doctrine comes to fruition in the life of the believer, and then he stands ready.
5. This does not mean that the believer is not serving the Lord at various stages of spiritual growth. In the process, you are also serving.
6. The mature believer is ready to serve to produce in ways the immature believer cannot.
7. Such a believer, the mature believer, is to the maximum, fulfilling the plan of God for his life; that is the whole picture of the spiritual life.

This is the whole picture of the spiritual life of the believer. You disciples will be sowers and this is what is going to happen. Be patient. You will see all kinds of soil; and you keep sowing that seed. Each new crop progressively grows. Some grow to maturity and some grow to sprouts and some never seem to get out of the ground.

Bible doctrine and the internal process of Bible doctrine in our souls. That is the inherent capacity that the believer has been given for growth in the plan of God. God reaps a great harvest in us. When we are ready to produce to the maximum, then the Lord gets the maximum out of us. There is a great application for all of us. There is an encouragement and a caution as well, for all sowers. For evangelists, teachers, pastor-teachers.

Having sown Bible doctrine, then you must then allow the growth to take place in the soul of the believer. You cannot force it down someone's throat. God's Word never fails when sown; God's Word does not return void. So shall My Word be out of My mouth; it will not return empty to Me.

We all get to a point where nothing seems to go right. That is where we need patience. "What were they listening to? How could that happen?" Bobby wants us to be immediately mature plants. But, at some point in time, many of us become full heads of wheat. Spiritual growth is silent and unseen. You will see the end stages, but you will never see the growth itself.

This runs counter to church program and contrived techniques of what spiritual growth is perceived to be. There is a de-emphasis upon doctrine.

This is the clearest approach to the teaching of spiritual growth; would that every church taught this. Now we know it; and Jesus Christ taught it and the disciples learned it and taught. It.

Lesson #0422

Luke 8: Life of Christ

4/7/2013 1Sunday

This is the 4th parable of 8 that we are studying; a string of parables after the Lord was rejected by the pharisees and Israel.

The parable of the mustard seed. This might be the most often taught. This would make it one of the most confused and misinterpreted parables. Mark 4:30–32

This describes the new kingdom.

Matt. 13:31–33 He put out another parable to them, saying, The kingdom of Heaven is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field; which indeed is the least of all seeds, but when it is grown it is the greatest among herbs and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in its branches. He spoke another parable to them: The kingdom of Heaven is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal until the whole was leavened.

No parable is filled with more symbolism than this parable. It is a composite here. There are many symbols here. There is the seed and growth, always a part of an agricultural society.

We need to unravel the several parts of this parable. There is much here for us to apply and to understand.

The kingdom is the inner advent period, which is the Church Age. This is not the final form of the kingdom, which is Israel. One of the problems that we have in this parable. Our Lord actually interpreted the previous parables for us. However, there is no interpretation given. However, we have an ace in the hole; this is a follow-on to the previous parables, so that we can use the information from them to interpret this. Like many others, this has been greatly misinterpreted. People approach this with so many weird ideas. Some tear this out of its context of dispensations. They apply it wrongly to the consummation of the promised kingdom to Israel.

There is amazing growth during the inner-advent period of the Church Age. The context of this parable is important so that we can understand what it all means. Jesus looks at His disciples and He knows that this little band of individuals will face tremendous opposition, opposition which will seem overwhelming. There will be opposition from the legalism of Judaism and the pharisees; they will be opposed by Rome. They will be opposed by Satan and his demon-corps. There is the polytheism and the persecution that is a part of the Roman empire. This will be what they face until they are martyred.

There is the question of survival for the disciples. When Jesus ascends and they are on their own. They have no idea what they will face down the road in a year or two. That is what this parable is all about.

Jesus does not leave them by themselves; he gives them something; He gives them the Holy Spirit on the Day of Pentecost. This is the day that the Holy Spirit came upon them. This is a unique feature of the Church Age, something which we draw upon at all times.

Who was Jesus looking at? What were they like? These are not people of prominence; they were not big players on the stage of history. They were virtual unknowns. They are unknown. Many of them were unlearned, uneducated fishermen; Matthew was a tax collector. There were even prostitutes among His followers. The pharisees sneered at these people. Why should anyone want to listen to these people? Why should anyone care? The church would grow from this small, scruffy band of disciples.

There would be unimaginable opposition to this small band of men. These men would be the central players on the stage of church growth and on the stage of world history. Some of the greatest people to walk on this earth. The success is going to be anticipated by the Lord Jesus Christ. These people needed to hear this. They needed the encouragement to come. This is a parable of encouragement.

Our Lord must deal with the incredible extent of this kingdom. These men would be an integral part of this growing Church Age.

Jesus likens this tiny seed to phenomenal growth. It is one of the tiniest seeds, but it grows to a stature of a tree. This is the season of acorns. But a mustard seed is minute compared to an acorn. It grows to a size out of proportion to its feeble proportions. The size of the seed would anticipate the growth; it is something you cannot help but notice once it gains maturity. This parallels the growth of the church. This would defy all expectations of growth and it would defy all odds that are against it.

The tiny seed, the great tree, and the birds. We must understand what they all mean.

Grain of mustard seed symbolizes minuteness; smallness, the smallest weight or measure. This is not inches or mm, but micro mm. Very small. This symbolizes very small beginnings. But from that tiny seed comes something very large. This is the epitome of the grace of God. The early church begins with a mustard seed; with a tiny band of believers. They would extend throughout the world. The sower of the seed were believers and Jesus Christ in previous parables. The sower is the Lord Jesus Christ in this parable; Jesus is the foundation of the church, which is what this parable is all about. The disciples are all involved in this.

This disciples would speak and write the Word of God. They are merely instruments in the founding of the church. Bobby is an instrument. He is not the source or the fountainhead. He can only speak from the Word of God. His thinking and His doctrine through which the church would grow. There is a single tiny mustard seed. This would grow to a great stature. It is not these people who would grow to the giant tree; it is the church itself.

The seed the disciples and the doctrines sown into this world began as the mustard seed reveals, which is very insignificant. Acts 1:15–26 tell us that this mustard seed is 121 people. They would be the mustard seed that would begin to grow in the field of the entire world.

The great commission from the book of Mark; “Here is your mission: go into all the world and proclaim the gospel to all creation.” Also, “You are a mustard seed; it is time for you to grow.” This tiny seed thrown into the ground in Palestine would grow throughout the entire world. This is still going on. We have grown from a mustard seed and this tree continues to grow.

This is the mandate under which we live; under which we operate as believers in the United States. It is mandate to speak the gospel wherever we go and whenever we get there.

Millions of believers have spread the gospel of Jesus Christ, and that is the growth. This is a small band of believers who received this overwhelming mission of growth.

This is the field that is not all that great. The entire cosmic system is against us. We are in the middle of the Angelic Conflict. The world is not friendly soil for the expansion of the church. The tares are still at work.

The Growth of the Church in These Surroundings.

1. Infertile soil and the blight of tares are everywhere.
2. The mustard seed of the church will be attacked, first by religious Israel, but also by political Rome. Hundreds of thousands of new Christians would die because of the persecution of Rome. Saul's mission was to kill Christians; and he would become a part of the mustard seed.
3. Through the centuries, there will be a continuing parade of religious and political foes. Islam has been a scourge on humanity and Christianity since the 7th century.
4. The church would expand from a seed to a tree. One of the great opposers to the church would be the Jews, and they would be scattered. The Roman empire would cease to exist.
5. No adversary can defeat the church of Jesus Christ. None. Not Islam, not humanism, not the homosexual political movement. That is the promise of Matt. 16 the gates of hell will not prevail against it.
6. We are the legacy of the tiny mustard seed that will continue to spread throughout the Church Age. We might as well sit in front of the Lord Jesus Christ. From a mustard seed to a tree. We are a part of that growing tree.

Lesson #0423

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

4/7/2013 2Sunday

Matt. 13:31–33 He put out another parable to them, saying, The kingdom of Heaven is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field; which indeed is the least of all seeds, but when it is grown it is the greatest among herbs and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in its branches. He spoke another parable to them: The kingdom of Heaven is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal until the whole was leavened.

The mustard seed is that very small band of disciples. The tree symbolizes growth itself. The mustard seed is the nascent church. Expansion, loftiness, beauty is the growth of the tree. This does not refer to the expansion of denominations or religious orders, or ecumenical churches. None of these things are found in the New Testament. There is no unification of the corruption of Biblical truth. The church includes anyone who believes in Jesus Christ. The church is not appointed to be an organization or a group of organizations. There is no central place for the church; or some huge building; or a denomination; but none of these things are the church.

Bobby likes the Gothic churches in Europe; they are nothing. They are not the church. The church is a living growing beautiful tree.

There are two meanings for church in the New Testament. Εκκλησια means the body of Christ, which is the universal church; and it refers to the local church. Catholic means universal, but that is not the reference in the New Testament. The church is an organism; it is something that is living and breathing. It is a living body of believers all growing to maturity. We hear the word saint, but it is used in many different ways. It is not a term for holy individuals who have achieved organizational sainthood. Who have achieved more than other believer. We are all positionally sanctified. We are all saints, all who have believed in Him. We are those who have been made positionally holy. If we are positionally holy, then we can experience sanctification in life. This does not refer to a holy language.

This just means that we are growing up. We are a part of the tree. As we grow, we experience holiness; we experience sanctification. Universal does not indicate the summation of many individual churches.

The sculpture is produced from one block, and it composes many parts. Bobby has seen some of the great sculptures in this world. They are incredible and statuesque. They all come from a block of marble, and something so beautiful is carved from them. The church is a sculpture produced from one block. The universal church is a single organism composed of many parts. Each believer is a part of the entire living organism. How do we know what our unified purpose is? Bobby is giving us our unified purpose. Everything that we are as a believer and everything that we have is all contained in the Scripture.; this gives us our unity of purpose. We are all in this together. And the others are just as much saints in Christ as we are. It makes no difference what race, how we speak or how we look. We are all a part of the growing tree.

There is one universal church of believers is also manifested in a number of individual localities. Here is where we get into trouble. Too many associate a local assembly as the church. The locality does not matter; the group does not matter; the size does not matter. The local church. It is an assembly of believers in a certain locale.

In the New Testament, it refers to the various churches in the various cities. Berachah Church is an assembly of believers. It has nothing to do with the building. Where we assemble has nothing to do with it.

Berachah is part of a tree. It is a local assembly, not because where we are but we are a group made up of individual believers in a certain locale. We are a living organism of functioning believers. We have the empowerment of the Holy Spirit. Everything that God has given us to function in this world as believers.

Bobby has 7 conferences a year. Some people are all by themselves. There is no one in their city studying the same thing. They are a part of the growing body of believers. It is not because they are located here or there or associated with someone, but they are a part of the church as believers in Jesus Christ. We use the same doctrine to grow spiritually.

This is the church; a group of believers, but not an organization. The maintenance and organization is based upon doctrine in our souls. It is maintained by doctrine in the soul and the function of God the Holy Spirit in our own soul. This is our growth. The church is about growth. It is not related to numbers. If there are two in Berachah, and they are growing, that is what the church is.

Jesus did not emphasize the mustard seed taking deeper and deeper roots in the soil of the world. It grows heavenward; it is not earthbound. “My kingdom is not of this world.” We are in the world, but we are not of this world. We are supernaturally empowered and operating outside of the world.

The third symbol are the birds. The first two are simple. Who are the birds? They are an integral part of this parable, but they are not a part of the growth process.

Birds often symbolize Satan and his cosmic system. They are found in previous parables as in Mark 4:4, where birds are satanic activity. Matt. 14:4 Rev. 18:2 Birds descended on the sacrifices of Abraham. When the carcass is thrown off the altar, birds descended upon it. Gen. 15:11. That is the attack of the cosmic system on the sacrifice of the Lord Jesus Christ.

The tares oppose the wheat. The tares oppose the wheat as the birds oppose the growing tree of the Church Age. They enjoy often the prosperity and structure of the tree. Satan opposes the expansion of the church. Satan is, along with the tares, posed in the branches of the tree itself.

These birds are the man false doctrines and many false teachers in the church. They have had their effect.

1Tim. 4:1 Now the Spirit expressly says that in latter times some will depart from the faith, being devoted to corrupting spirits and doctrines of demons,...

We believe in Jesus Christ and we are saved; and we are saved by God's grace by means of faith. It is not of ourselves, it is a gift of God. Some will leave the growth process.

Constantine was the first Roman emperor to become Christian and the first to support Christianity as the emperor. From his time, Christianity became an accepted Roman religion. Later still, the church passed from persecution to become the object of Rome's patronage. It then became a dominant organizational force. Constantine set the precedent.

Unfortunately, he initiated the union of church and state.

The church went from being an organism to a very earthly organization. The church developed a passion for wealth, politics, power and position.

The greatest event in human history was when Jesus went to the cross; and it was meant for evil. The birds cannot stop the growth of the tree. This has to be encouraging. We are a part of the tree and there are birds in the tree. Whatever the song is of the cosmic system, it is there. If we follow the song of the birds, they will carry us away to their nest. Better to be a part of the tree. This is what we need to keep a hold of in our souls because of the state of the country. Our greatest consideration is the growing tree and being a part of it.

Matt. 13:31 He put out another parable to them, saying, The kingdom of Heaven is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field;

Matt. 13:32 which indeed is the least of all seeds, but when it is grown it is the greatest among herbs and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in its branches.

Matt. 13:33 He spoke another parable to them: The kingdom of Heaven is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal until the whole was leavened.

Mark 4:30 And He said, To what shall we liken the kingdom of God? Or with what parable shall we compare it?

Mark 4:31 It is like a grain of mustard seed which, when it is sown on the ground, is smaller than all the seeds on earth;

Mark 4:32 but when it is sown, it grows up and becomes greater than all herbs, and produces large branches, so that the birds of the air are able to nest under its shade.

Lesson #0424 Matt. 13:31–33 Mark 4:30–32 Life of Christ 4/10/2013 Wed

Our primary and overarching purpose as a believer in Jesus Christ is to grow to spiritual maturity. That is what Bible doctrine leads to. Along with us, as individual believers, there is the church, the church being the living organism of all believers. We all as members of the church, the body of Christ. The church also grows, as it is a living organism. People all over the world are growing in grace and knowledge represent the maturing church.

Some individuals are isolated; and there are many of those who live in isolated circumstances. Bobby meets such types who attend Bible conferences. It is easier for us who assemble as a group to grow. Bobby has great admiration for those who are out there who grow based on tenacity.

What the church is not is an organization of denominations. It is not a set of ecumenical councils. It is not ecclesiastical orders or political activists furthering some area of humanism. These are those whose mission is merely based on human ends. It is the Bible, the Word of God which defines the priorities and mission of the church. It is not some other organization or group of organizations.

The parable of the mustard seed. The seed is the gospel or Bible doctrine, and those who know this information share it, and this mustard seed grows into a great plant, so large that birds live in it.

The mustard seed is quite small, and it grows to a stature way out of proportion to its tiny beginnings.

120 people made up the nascent church. They grew to extend throughout the entire world. That is small going large. The tree symbolizes the results of the growth. The mustard seed is small, but the tree is huge, which represents the great growth of the living church. The birds symbolize the opposition to the growth of the tree. The birds are the cosmic system which nest in the branches of the mustard tree; and so many false teachers and false doctrines have arisen out of the church. The church history course that Bobby took was a revelation of the development of that which opposed divine revelation.

The lead toward earthly splendor rather than heavenly splendor. A passion for power and for politics and for wealth and position. It left its primary purpose of facilitating growth from Bible doctrine.

Bobby does not normally name names, as this is simply a matter of church history; so there is nothing wrong about it. The papacy has had a great center of wealth and power for many centuries, and it is a huge religious organization and has historically claimed power to rule over kings and emperors and leaders. It has, on occasion, dictated terms to some leaders; and it was always a power player from the Middle Ages and beyond. They acquired fabulous wealth and great opulence. St. Peter's Basilica is an example of the great opulence of the church. The Vatican museum is even more revealing. This is vested power in religion and not in Bible doctrine. Baptismal regeneration is a prominent sacrament. Mary has become the queen of heaven. Prayer was made to saints rather than to God. A middle realm between heaven and hell that was introduced. The incense and the holy water and the gorgeous vestments and the worship of the saints. These are all birds lodging in the branches of the mighty tree. They retard but they do not stop the growth of this mighty tree. There are many other religious systems and cults besides this nesting in the tree.

Other examples like Christian Science; there is no question that these are birds. Those who knock on your doors all the time, the Jehovah's witnesses, who do not believe in the Deity of Jesus Christ. Mormonism puts a precedence on the Book of Mormon; and they are polytheistic, not like Rome and Greece, but there. Then the ecumenicalism, which is the union of various theological groups, despite their differences.

Do not forget the rise of the state trying to become the church; trying to overshadow the true church; the tyrannical state. Replace the church with humanistic doctrines. Human utopianism or world peace or the materialistic ideologies like Marxism and sociology.

Under the system of socialism or Marxism, etc; they believe that the world will know world peace and that there will be a world without hunger. They truly believe this. They do not grasp that these things will never occur until Jesus returns. They would counterfeit the Millennium or attempt to. They are birds in the trees. Man on his own can ever accomplish a perfect environment.

Mat 24:6 But you are going to hear of wars and rumors of wars. See, do not be terrified. For all things must take place, but the end is not yet.

The end here is the end of the Tribulation. There are always wars going on somewhere on this earth. About 52 going on right now; they are everywhere, despite the birds in the trees saying that humanism can solve this problem.

Mat 24:7 For nation will be raised against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there will be famines and plagues and earthquakes against many places.

Mat 24:8 But all these are a beginning of throes.

Mat 26:11 For you always have the poor with you, but you do not always have Me.

What is the priority? Jesus Christ; not feeding the poor. What is important today is the mind of Christ in us. Will man eradicate poverty? Jesus says they will be here always. There are injunctions for us to help the poor.

Poverty

1. According to Jesus Christ, poverty is a part of the natural condition of the human race.
2. It is congenital result of the fallen state of man.
3. It is part of the loss of the environment of the perfect Garden of Eden. That was perfect environment; no poverty, hunger or wars. This all comes as a result of the old sin nature. The problem is man's own nature. Man refuses to see himself through the eyes of the Word of God.
4. That natural fallen state produces poverty; and poverty is being exacerbated today. Policies of socialism destroy society and increase poverty.
5. Socialism breeds poverty, not prosperity. Capitalism is the system that breeds the most prosperity. There are those in poverty in capitalist countries. The least amount of poverty under that system. We can see exactly this point in our country. For 70 years of abject misery in Russia, and Cuba, and Vietnam and China; and many other places. And all of Europe is feeling the pain of socialistic policies. Do not forget Central and South America. Particularly where there is socialistic policies. The Catholic church has done much to bring poverty to that part of the world as well.
6. Socialistic policies will sink entire nations into poverty. You cannot tax the rich excessively and think this will work. This is violating the tenth commandment.

Socialism

1. Socialistic governments intend to nationalize everything to bring more and more human activity under the auspices of the state. Socialism wants to control.
2. Socialism demands control over populations. It uses arbitrary laws and regulations as its tools. A great loss of freedom. One legislation after another designed to control everything that you do.
3. Under these conditions, there is a loss of incentive to work. Why work if you can get it for free?

7. Socialism creates more poverty. If you understand these points, you will understand exactly what is happening today.
 - 1) Socialism creates dependancy and slavery to the state.
 - 2) That same state and sometimes the apostate church advocate such measures for the poor. They say these are good for you; they are for your benefit.
 - 3) People are fooled with promises of economic equality. Hoodwinked by the birds.
 - 4) So, those who are hoodwinked begin to worship at the altar of government rather than God. Socialism increases atheism and agnosticism.
 - 5) The socialist state wants to replace the relationship with God with the new relationship with the state. That brings with it a poverty of the soul.
 - 6) More poverty is created in the nation because of what socialism represents or demands. Socialism creates a welfare state; it has to.
 - 7) Why a welfare state? It happens in order to respond to the needs of the poor they create themselves. They create poor and they responds with more welfare which makes more people poor.
 - 8) The problem is intervening directly with a government dole releases societies of its basic responsibilities. In other words, citizens escape obligations in the welfare state, like providing for family for providing for the needy.
 - 9) They depend upon government instead of themselves and their families. The government replaces the grace of God. It is a phony system. You think you are getting something for nothing? What the government gives you, it can take away. If you give things with strings attached, that is not grace giving. There is no grace when there are strings attached.
 - 10) People begin to see poverty as a government problem. They see all problems as government problems. The government must take care of problems. Anytime there is something wrong, then the government must fix it. The government can make most things worse; but they do fix a few things, but with many unintended consequences. Without Biblical truth, you cannot see the world as it is. It is hard to understand how people think in this world. In the United States today, freedom is being turned over to the state. The church will be affected by this. It is not far-fetched that doctrine not in agreement with the government will become illegal. Birds of government. The birds of religion.

Nothing can stop the church.

A Summarization

1. This parable is unique in portraying the growth of a single seed, a tiny little seed; not a bunch of seeds, but one seed.
2. The parable describes the growth of the kingdom as a whole. This one seed speaks of the whole organism as it grows; the church.
3. That growth is phenomenal and irresistible, even though the power of Satan's cosmic system stands against it. Now that you know these things, read some church history.
4. A body of believers, the church, will continue to exist and to grow through the toughest of world environments. This country is still a bastion of freedom. We still have more freedom than any place else in the world, even though they may be rapidly disappearing. In comparison to the rest of the world. The church continues to grow in the worst environment that this world has to offer.
5. The parable highlights all of us little peons in the church in this great monolithic organism. Jesus likes to start small and to build large. From small to great. God often uses rejected and despised people, men like Joseph. Moses lived in the desert for 40 years and, as one man, led and freed his nation. How about the obscure boy David who would lead the kingdom of Israel as its greatest king. Or Esther, who married Xerxes and saved her nation. Or the fumbling, bumbling disciples who would begin the local churches. The foolish, the weak, the insignificant, the despised are often the tools of His work. None of us are too small or insignificant to fulfill God's plan. As we grow, others also; therefore, we cannot be defeated. We are insignificant.

Matt. 13:31 He put out another parable to them, saying, The kingdom of Heaven is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field;

Matt. 13:32 which indeed is the least of all seeds, but when it is grown it is the greatest among herbs and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in its branches.

Matt. 13:33 He spoke another parable to them: The kingdom of Heaven is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal until the whole was leavened.

Mark 4:30 And He said, To what shall we liken the kingdom of God? Or with what parable shall we compare it?

Mark 4:31 It is like a grain of mustard seed which, when it is sown on the ground, is smaller than all the seeds on earth;

Mark 4:32 but when it is sown, it grows up and becomes greater than all herbs, and produces large branches, so that the birds of the air are able to nest under its shade.

Matt. 13:33 Luke 13: 20–21 These are the wrong passages.

Matt. 13:33 He spoke another parable to them: The kingdom of Heaven is compared to leaven, which taking, a woman hid in three measures of meal until the whole was leavened.

Luke 13:20 And again He said, To what shall I compare the kingdom of God?

Luke 13:21 It is like leaven, which taking, a woman hid in three measures of meal until all was leavened.

The pharisees excluded women from all the classes that they gave. There were many women who were followers of Jesus and closely involved.

Jesus is portraying this woman at home in Palestine. She is making bread; a common sight in the time period. The woman puts some leaven into the flour in order to expand it. Jesus would have seen Mary making bread, as did most women in that time frame.

The woman is mixing and she is using a lot of flour; about 50 lbs. Bobby thinks the large amount as the tree in the previous parable was quite large. Maybe the amount of the flour represents the greatness and size of the kingdom that Jesus is covering.

It follows right along. This is what we have just studied and what we are about to study.

Introductory Points

1. If the new kingdom program was to grow to such a huge dimension from the mustard seed to the tree and if it is to grow against such overwhelming opposition, if all of that is to happen, then...
2. The question is, how will that growth take place? That is the issue in the parable of the leaven.
3. The context is this; this small group of disciples had to wonder about how they would survive with all those birds in the tree growing against them.
4. The leavening process of this parable is the answer to that problem. This will give the answer as to how this will all happen.

This is a very controversial parable as Jesus did not interpret it. There have been many interpretations.

3 Options Which Have Been Given.

They will help us to understand the correct view.

1. The gospel and doctrine will work as the leaven to eventually convert the whole world (all of the flour). The gospel and doctrine will eventually permeate the entire world, affecting everything. Augustine's view here; he got many things right, but not this. This permeation throughout all society is a necessary condition for Jesus to return. This is post-amillennialism. According to this eschatology, most of the world will be converted. This is used as proof of post-millennialism. The gospel will convert the world, then Christ will return; that is the first view.

2. Or leaven represents evil, and it will spread throughout the world until Jesus returns. This was adopted after the carnage and horror of WWI. There was a great change of thinking of WWI, one of the most affecting events of the past 2 centuries. This changed people's thinking; and they became very pessimistic. It negated the idea of some permeating the world with goodness. This view appears to have some legitimacy, based upon the highly degenerate society. It has been downhill since WWI. It is surrounding us; we see our society degenerating right before us. There is a Biblical base for this view; it comes from the Old Testament. There was a restriction on leaven for the Passover and for the Feast of unleavened bread.
3. Third view is correct or more correct....

3rd View

1. Jesus used the leavening process to portray growth; growth in the Church Age.
2. What this parable shows is the growth will come by a spiritual dynamic from within.
3. Thus, the leaven itself must not be over-emphasized. The other views concentrate on the leaven; but it must not be over-emphasized.
4. Leaven is used in the domestic sense of bread-making. The idea is, this is a process. The bread making, the throwing in the of the yeast, the growing of the bread. The activity of the leaven as a growth process in the flower.
5. This parable emphasizes what leaven does or how it works in the process of growth. It is a perfect example of what happens in the Church Age as the church grows. It is a process. Bobby cannot make up something about this parable that is not a part of the concept.

More Points on the 3rd View

1. This answers the question of how Jesus' small mustard seed kingdom would grow in the alien environment of humanistic religion, politics, and all of the other oppositions. By all rights, the church should have been snuffed out here, when it was small. Many attempts have been made to destroy the church and Biblical Christianity. Believers have survived; the church has survived, even though many have been killed. A pastor in Iran is tortured; believers in Egypt are harassed and killed.
2. The leavening process lays stress on the inner sources of power and growth in the kingdom.
3. It does not picture the ultimate triumph of the gospel and doctrine in this world. This does not portray the overwhelming apostasy in the world. Bible doctrine and the gospel are the most important things to be introduced into this world. The church will continue to grow. But it will have the opposition will not be had by us; that will occur when Jesus returns.
4. What does the leaven represent if there is not some outside influence. The leaven represents the inner spiritual power. It is not outside in; it is from the inside out.

What Is Jesus Teaching?

1. The true dynamic of the kingdom is a living growing organism. Yeast and dough is like a living organism.
2. The growth would not be established by outward means.
3. No external force can make the dough rise; it must come from within. This is different from the kingdoms of this world. Some great kingdoms have been a result of military conquest.
4. All growth of the organism all growth was from the inside from spiritual power. This is important for us to know. This has as much meaning to us. We grow from the inside out. We do not grow from experiences, except from the human sense. We do not grow spiritually from human experience.
5. The leaven was doctrine that leavened the entire person and caused growth. That is the analogy. It would not grow by all of your efforts; it will grow from the inside out.
6. God's kingdom begins by regeneration. This is how we enter into God's kingdom; and there is growth by this spiritual process in the soul.
7. It would grow by means of inner power of God the Holy Spirit, which the disciples would receive on the day of Pentecost. Also by the grace apparatus for perception. This allows them to metabolize Bible doctrine; and this grows the whole lump of dough.
8. The leavening process is speaking of the internal activity of renovation of our thinking. Renovating our thinking over time is our process.
9. That renovation of thinking on the inside affect everything in the life of the believer. It leavens everything in life. Our viewpoint goes from human to divine.

The universal grows from the inside. This is how it survives the tares and the birds and the bad soil.

Jesus now goes on to the next parable. The location shifts. The next parable deals with the disciples individually. There were a lot of disciples there; a large crowd. Jesus goes to another location, to a house. There is an assembly of the 12 disciples. This has been one busy day for the disciples and our Lord. This was a momentous day. All of this was said on one day. This was a lot for these disciples to swallow. It would be like Bobby teaching for 6 or 7 hours. This whole day got kicked off by Jesus healing a man, and the pharisees spoke the unpardonable sin. Same day. What did this say? It was tantamount to the total rejection of Christ. The pharisees blaspheme; they hate Him for doing this.

Jesus then pronounces the house of Israel empty. After healing this man, Jesus was completely and totally rejected. This all happened on this day. The unpardonable sin meant that Israel would not accept the Lord. 7 demons; not just one. And A.D. 70 they would be on their way out. This is what they faced in this one morning.

Ever since John the Baptizer said, the kingdom is here; and they all expected this to happen, and the disciples expected it, but here, it all fell apart. The disciples were all devastated. This chilled their hopes. So the next event on this same day, Jesus had to answer their despair. Who are my brothers and mother? This happened on the same day. Jesus did this to reassure His disciples to explain that, even though there was a change of program, that everything was okay.

This new period of time meant also new relationships. For the rest of the day, Jesus would explain this new kingdom program for the benefit of His disciples. 5 parables by the Sea of Galilee; and now they are all in the same house and it isn't over yet. More parables are on the way. They would reassure a devastated bunch of disciples.

Lesson #0426

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

4/14/2013 1Sunday

Communion Sunday:

God the Father imputed all of our sins to Him and judged Him.

6 woes of Luke.

Woe to you lawyers. A reference to experts in the Jewish law.

Luke 11:52 Woe to you, lawyers! Because you took the key of knowledge; you yourselves did not enter, and you kept out the ones entering.

Lawyers had a prime position in Israel. However, these to whom Jesus spoke, they had perverted the truth and had taken away the truth. These same lawyers were now aligned with the pharisees. They had developed their own traditions which they taught instead of the Mosaic Law. They had complete opposition to the Lord Jesus Christ. They rejected Him as Messiah.

Luke 11:33 But no one having lit a lamp places it in secret, nor under the grain-measure, but on the lampstand, that the ones entering may see the light.

They did not see the Lord Jesus Christ for Who He was. The Jews had the Light of the World, but they refused it. There was no light there. The pharisees and the lawyers showed solidarity in keeping God's people in the dark; when the people had no light, then they were lost in the deep gloom of tradition. There was no other alternative between light and darkness; light or dark, true or false; heaven or hell, etc.

Light is very important in Scripture. There is light in the 3rd verse of Genesis. One of the most powerful claims that Jesus made was, "I am the Light of the world." His followers were quite similarly described.

Psalm 119:105 Your Word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path.

Jesus shed light on the character of God, on the simplicity and necessity of His work, and on the separation from God that we face.

Luke 11:53–54 When He left there, the scribes and the Pharisees began to oppose Him fiercely and to cross-examine Him about many things; they were lying in wait for Him to trap Him in something He said.

Arrogance is the underlying cause for the rejection of the Lord Jesus Christ.

This was an evil generation because they sought a sign of Jesus' Messiahship; Christ the Messiah was sign enough. His past miracles were sign enough. Jesus Christ then referred them back to their Scriptures, which they had ignored. That Jesus would be resurrected, that was a sign that God the Father would provide salvation for all who believed.

Unbelief is what will defeat every man. Jesus could only turn to the fact of judgment. The men of Nineveh would attest to their reckoning. Death does not end it all. If death was annihilation, there would be no rising for this judgment. Jesus knew well His purpose, which was to remove their condemnation, even though they hated Him. Unwillingness to accept His gospel brings the judgment. The parable of the wheat and the tares, where they would be separated at the end; and a fiery furnace for the tares and the goats. Such was the judgment for all those who reject Jesus as Savior.

Luke 11:36 If therefore your whole body is full of light, with no part of it in darkness, the whole body will be full of light, as when a lamp shines its light on you." If we have spent time in darkness, as many of us did in darkness, there is no replacement for light. There is nothing better than having light.

The highest proof of our Lord's deity was the watershed of life. The proof of Jesus proliferates in all the revelations of the Bible. The light of the gospel, the power of salvation has been blacked out in the process of their election. Jesus must have hated to see such rejection of Him by His Own people. Yet it is so simple to walk out of the darkness of death and judgment.

1Thess. 5:9 For God did not appoint us to wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ,

Luke 11:37 As He was speaking, a Pharisee asked Him to dine with him. So He went in and reclined at the table.

Luke 11:38 When the Pharisee saw this, he was amazed that He did not first perform the ritual washing before dinner.

This was a terrible sin; they were filled with ritual but without reality. What Jesus says must have meaning to us. These men, these lawyers and pharisees put such superficialities.

Here was, in these men, was the corrupting influence of religion on all Israel. How tragic that religion so hides the truth of the gospel of God's grace. These pharisees should have remembered their own history. They should have remembered:

1Sam. 16:7 But the LORD said to Samuel, "Do not look at his appearance or his stature, because I have rejected him. Man does not see what the LORD sees, for man sees what is visible, but the LORD sees the heart."

Religion always concentrates on man's outward appearance. Jesus is God's grace in the flesh.

Luke 11:39 But the Lord said to him: "Now you Pharisees clean the outside of the cup and dish, but inside you are full of greed and evil.

Luke 11:40 Fools! Didn't He who made the outside make the inside too?

Luke 11:45 One of the experts in the law answered Him, "Teacher, when You say these things You insult us too."

Luke 11:46 Then He said: "Woe also to you experts in the law! You load people with burdens that are hard to carry, yet you yourselves don't touch these burdens with one of your fingers.

Luke 11:47 "Woe to you! You build monuments to the prophets, and your fathers killed them.

They were like their fathers who killed the prophets, and yet they built monuments to the prophets.

Luke 11:48 Therefore you are witnesses that you approve the deeds of your fathers, for they killed them, and you build their monuments.

Luke 11:49 Because of this, the wisdom of God said, 'I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they will kill and persecute,'

Luke 11:50 so that this generation may be held responsible for the blood of all the prophets shed since the foundation of the world—

They would not go to the Scriptures, and they kept Israel from seeing her own Messiah. It is prevalent to deny Christ's atonement for our sins. The resurrection is said to be a myth and the Bible is said to be filled with myths and contradictions.

Men think nothing of taking away this knowledge and substituting for it humanism; but God has a different view. By grace we are saved through faith, and that salvation is not a matter of works, but it is a gift from God.

Acts 4:12 There is salvation in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given to people by which we must be saved."

Lesson #0427

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

4/14/2013 2Sunday

Jesus did 5 sermons in a few hours. The parable of the sower, the wheat and the tares, the parable of the growing seed and harvest, the mustard seed, and finally with the leaven and the lump.

This was brand new revelation by the Sea of Galilee. Jesus was speaking of an entirely different dispensation. The kingdom that God had promised to David, the king that the Messiah, David's Greater Son, was to rule over. This kingdom was not to be initiated. Our Lord had been rejected; He was rejected by the religious leaders. They represented religion, and with great access to the truth of the Scriptures, they still rejected Him.

The Prophet the Law predicted; the type taught in all of the festivals. But everything was still future; and this meant a new program in God's plan in human history. This would be something that the disciples would be intimately involved. It was time in these parables for this new program to be given. They disciples expected the kingdom of the Messiah coming to pass and they saw themselves as the high up muckety-muck of the new kingdom; but the pharisees had unequivocally rejected Jesus.

What would these disciples do? This was a crossroads? Did they know this? Did they recognize this shift? The disciples needed to be reassured and encouraged that all was not lost and now the new kingdom program was beginning to be proclaimed.

What is the greatest encouragement in life? When you become down, discouraged, or life is difficult, then get out a DVD or an MP3 and listen and hear the Word of God taught. This is what Jesus did. He taught them the Word of God from the Sea of Galilee. Doctrine calms the soul. If we are positive to Bible doctrine and in fellowship, the mind of Christ grows in our soul. The teaching of the Word of God is encouragement. This came in a rapid fire succession. How much of this new kingdom program did the disciples really understand on this day? You cannot always take that big of a bite. When you need encouragement, when there is something that is really a problem, it is amazing just how Bible doctrine answers the call. Bobby gets letters, "I don't know how you knew what my problem was..." Bobby doesn't want to know our problems. Doctrine never fails.

Jesus Christ knows what we need. All we have to do is listen. The Lord would say, "Did you get this?" And they would say, "Yes, we did."

There were so many big principles to digest in one day. Back in the day of magnetic tape and people would play them at double the speed and play as many as they could at one sitting. Such was not the case. It is a process; it is not what you can take in one gulp; it is the consistency over time. That is why there is the necessity of consistent study.

The disciples had 5 messages at double-speed here. They had to let this information ruminate. Jesus would continue to elaborate on this subject, and He taught with repetition.

Under difficulties, sometimes our minds do not think clearly. The centuries-old dream of the great kingdom under David's Greater Son, and it was crushed in one day.

How difficult would it be? How tough would it be to lose all your dreams and aspirations in one day. Job handled those disasters with doctrine in his soul. He hung on to what he knew about God. This is all that he knew. He knew that God's grace would not fail. He knew that God would always take care of him. The disciples needed what Job had in his own soul. They needed doctrine and reassurance of the plan of God moving forward with them. Only then could they focus on the Lord rather than on the circumstances.

The key is, where is your focus? Where did your focus immediately go? A mature believer; a believer who is positive to God's Word, you begin to think about the problem, but in the midst of it, your thinking began to change. Is this problem overwhelming? Where am I going, how am I thinking? Then your focus goes to the rationales, to the faith rest drills. If you are unable to focus, then you need doctrine; you need to take it in.

These disciples had invested everything in Jesus Christ, and yet the stock market had just crashed down all around these guys. So their discouragement was powerful. Besides this despair, because they had followed the Lord Jesus Christ, they were now severed from their cultural and religious roots. They were no longer accepted by all their former associations. They became fishers of men; and all their friends and family wondered, how can they live or make a living. Jews who become Christians today even become dead to their own family members.

Excommunication is what the disciples experienced. They expected the religious leaders to accept Jesus Christ wholeheartedly, but these men not only persecuted Jesus but the disciples as well.

They found themselves not the center of the kingdom, but a part of a rebellion against religion of that day. Yet, these disciples were intellectually-deficient of that time period.

Biblical Christianity is increasingly being attacked and shunned by an increasingly secular society. The time is coming when we must stand on one side or the other. We must be able to know the difference between humanistic solutions and divine viewpoint. We must stand for the Lord in times of crisis; and those times are here. That is our obligation. It is the only way to live. When we compromise doctrine, and if we do that, we are a coward.

The disciples were questioning, what have we done? What is going on?

Now Jesus is speaking about this new kingdom program. If Jesus has failed once, is this new approach doomed to fail as well? This was a huge cost to these disciples? Is it all worth it. It is a make-or-break day. What an application there is. Have we not all, at one time or another, questioned God's plan and if it has failed in our lives. Have we not wondered whether or not God has forsaken us or our lives become so pathetic that God has given up on us.

It is not just positive thinking; it is not, "I will overcome this with positive thinking." It is doctrine that you need to think; not thinking nice things. Your objective now is to provide doctrinal answers, and to remove all doubts from their minds.

We must have something objective in our souls. The only true objective truth is Bible doctrine in our souls. That is where we get true spiritual self esteem. This is what the disciples needed at this time. Their lives were on the line; their associations were affecting them.

The next two parables will speak to their difficulties. Bobby wants us to understand where the disciples are. The next two parables form a pair. The hidden treasure. Matt. 13:44 and vv. 45–46 are the two parables.

When you are at your lowest, that is when Bible doctrine is its most powerful. When doctrine triumphs, no matter the circumstances; that is great. The worst becomes the best. Divine viewpoint certainty, the lower we are, the higher that Bible doctrine takes us.

Both parables stress the value of the plan of God to the individual. Especially this new kingdom program, the Church Age. We enjoy the full kingdom life, when we are a part of the Word of God.

There are different applications to these parables. Jesus uses two schemes of marketing with a similar background and meaning, but they are applied in two different ways. We will fit into one of these two categories.

Matt. 13:44 Again, the kingdom of Heaven is like treasure hidden in a field, which when a man has found it, he hides it, and for the joy of it goes and sells all that he has, and buys that field.

How did Bobby go from the discouragement of the disciples to this parable?

Matt. 13:45 Again, the kingdom of Heaven is like a merchant seeking beautiful pearls;

Matt. 13:46 who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

Matt. 13:44 Again, the kingdom of Heaven is like treasure hidden in a field, which when a man has found it, he hides it, and for the joy of it goes and sells all that he has, and buys that field.

These both sound like a get-rich-quick scheme. Using all their assets, they go after the big score. That is the idea here. To give up one set of assets to gain a greater prize. The narrative of v. 44 is a man who discovers treasure in someone else's field. Here is some guy walking through a field for whatever reason, and he inadvertently stumbles over a hidden treasure, such as a cache of gold. Customary at that time for people to hide their savings in a field. They did not have a lot of great locks or alarm systems. They had to hide their assets. "Buy gold, and we will ship it to you;" and people might bury that gold on their property for safekeeping. If you have done this, tell someone else about this. Whoever it was, put the gold in the field, and this guy stumbles over it. Maybe the original owner of the field did die, and this wandering nomad finds it. The finder concocts a scheme to take possession. The man hides the treasure and he does not tell anyone about it. He does not tell anyone who is the current owner. There seem to be a person looking out for selfish ends. In telling this story, it is only one verse, a very clipped abbreviated story. Jesus never evaluates this man's actions or motives. Jesus did not judge this aspect of the man. The man's actions did not matter; his motivation did not matter. The grace of God always comes first; no matter what we do by way of sin. There is no condemnation of this person's strange behavior. This was a mission of doctrine. This was a mission to teach and to show and to encourage these disciples with exactly what they needed to know.

This was a very human story. Suddenly, there is this great big deal, that will result in great riches for us. What does Jesus tell us when we fail? When our 401k loses half of its value. Bobby has set it up for us. We need to see the solutions that Jesus brings to this.

If you see the story in this way, it is hard to understand it in any other way. It seems to be somewhat dishonest.

Lesson #0428

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

4/17/2013 Wed

25 minutes into the lesson due to a slow train.

Matt. 13:44 Again, the kingdom of Heaven is like treasure hidden in a field, which when a man has found it, he hides it, and for the joy of it goes and sells all that he has, and buys that field.

7. The disciples can see, they can visualize that what they had invested in and lost; that is the kingdom of Israel. They invested in that kingdom and they lost, but it was replaced by something of greater value. Too bad you lost it, but it will be replaced with something much greater. Jesus did not stop here with this one encouraging parable of treasure in the field.

Matt. 13:44 Again, the kingdom of Heaven is like treasure hidden in a field, which when a man has found it, he hides it, and for the joy of it goes and sells all that he has, and buys that field.

The second parable.

Matt. 13:45 Again, the kingdom of Heaven is like a merchant seeking beautiful pearls;

Matt. 13:46 who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

He goes on to another parable of a merchant seeking fine pearls. There is this pearl of great price. There is a scheme concocted to purchase the pearl that is worth a lot. The merchant sold all that he had and bought the pearl of great price so that he could make this pearl his own property. The one from whom he purchased the pearl apparently did not know its real value.

There is an analogy. Won't that be the way that the unbelievers end up. Unbelievers will reject the value of the work of Jesus Christ. That is what the unbeliever does. He rejects the greatest value there is. Everything that we have in this life, compared to our salvation, is worthless. What is of the greatest value?

There are great things in life, but none of it is the value of salvation and then the spiritual life. Jesus says, there is nothing more valuable than what we have.

Very similar to the previous parable.

There are wild interpretations of these parables and Bobby finds them to be amazing. You can read someone's theological understanding of the Scripture based upon their interpretation of the parables.

Parallels of the Parables.

1. Both men look for something of great value.
2. One man stumbles over the treasure. He probably was not carrying a metal detector.
3. The other man sought the pearls out; he looked for it.
4. The one man found the value by accident; the other found it by diligently searching for it.
5. The pearl buyer was a seeker. He was looking for wealth, in the analogy.
6. The treasure hunter stumbled across the treasure found it, although he was not searching for it.
7. In their own ways, each man found wealth.

How Are We to Understand This?

1. The new kingdom blessings were for everyone. The disciples are starting to see the value of this program, which is open to everyone. The previous one was open to Israel.
2. The wealth is there to be had by either seekers and non-seekers. The religious types searching out truth and those who just stumble across it.
3. Incredible spiritual wealth awaits those who respond to the value of the kingdom. The value of the kingdom is exactly what we have; we possess the pearl. It is there; we just need to recognize the value.
4. In the disciples case, they were originally seeking a kingdom of great value. When they knew the kingdom was there, they went after it. But now they found a kingdom of much greater value. The originally sought a kingdom of great value, but they found a kingdom of much greater value.
5. But whether the kingdom found them as Jesus did the disciples; Jesus found the disciples. "Follow Me and I will make you fishers of men." And Nicodemus sought Jesus by night. They found it. Some look for the truth and some stumble across it.

6. The treasure of the new kingdom program was beyond anything that could be acquired in the postponed kingdom program. The new was so much greater than the old.
7. The progression of God's plan for the church is a dispensation of the greatest value. We live in a dispensation that is unlike any other. Jesus here proclaims that loud and clear. We have the pearl of greatest value right here in our hands. We may think that it would be great to live in the Millennium or to see Jesus walk the earth, but we have greater value right where we are.

The Central Point in These Parables

1. All is not lost, even if the kingdom of David is temporarily lost to Israel.
2. Jesus' new kingdom program would more than compensate for any loss that occurred to the disciples or anyone else desiring the promises of the old kingdom.
3. Any personal sacrifices that they had to make would turn a profit far beyond anything held before. They sold off the old kingdom; they had to. But they discovered the new kingdom. So they sell it off. That was encouraging.

Our Application

1. Anything that we had before, whatever we had before, material things or anything else of value, none of it can match what God has provided through out spiritual growth and our renovated thinking.
2. So whether you found doctrine by accident and responded or you were looking for it; searching or something, but you did not know for what, you found the greatest treasure of all, Bible doctrine.
3. So, you must pursue the spiritual life of the Church Age with all your heart, with all your soul and with all your mind. You must pursue it; desire it; it is of the greatest value.

These are great parables. What is to come is greater than what we expected. Jesus was to be crowned King; but Jesus offers something greater right at this moment. Jesus was bullish on the new kingdom program.

What Jesus is doing here is to give the correct and expert advice, buy, buy, buy now. Sell everything else and buy, buy, buy. They sold off their stock in the Davidic kingdom and bought into the new stock, which is the Church Age. This is a golden opportunity.

Blood in the Streets, which was about finances, and it was to invest whenever times appear to be the worst; that is when you invest. The new kingdom is going big and it will be spread throughout the world. There will be a reaping of huge profits for the ground flood investors. Regardless of what you think you have lost.

The profits, of course, are spiritual profits. The greatest chance for the greatest profits in life. There are few doctrines more important than our overall view of these times.

This does not lessen the value of the Millennial kingdom to come, but that is not the good investment for the Church Age. At that moment in history, we have the chance to make a wondrous investment. We have the filling of the Holy Spirit.

The world's brokers have all of this accepted wisdom, but they want us to invest in the cosmic system. Fleeting materialism. Fear drives the market. It is all about the material aspects. Their system is geared to investing in the cosmic system; do not be sold on it; it has no value, it will crash. That is the system of the world; short-term gains; happiness and prosperity right now. Many believers fall for that advice will all of their means and all of their energy. They turn away from pursuing spiritual growth. They crash into reversionism and into misery.

This is the true focus of all of our assets. The long-term gains of spiritual maturity and eternity. The world does not offer these gains. The ever-present struggle is emphasized. Living for the here and now and living in the light of eternity.

The new kingdom program; the Church Age; with all of its spiritual assets. We have great assets in the Church Age. We have the mystery doctrine that no one back then had; and we have the irrevocable assets.

Matt. 13:45 Again, the kingdom of Heaven is like a merchant seeking beautiful pearls;

Matt. 13:46 who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

So ends the parables of finance. But we have parables about fishing. Some love that.

Lesson #0429

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

4/18/2013 Thurs

These are the beginning parables and the greatest concentration of them in the gospels. We will first look at the fisher's dragnet; and then the householder. Vv. 46–50 and 51–52

Matt. 13:47–50 "Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a large net thrown into the sea. It collected every kind of fish, and when it was full, they dragged it ashore, sat down, and gathered the good fish into containers, but threw out the worthless ones. So it will be at the end of the age. The angels will go out, separate the evil people from the righteous, and throw them into the blazing furnace. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Very similar to the parable of the tares; at the end of the age. The angel will also take out the wicked, just as the angel will take out the tares."

Both parables reveal that judgment occurs. All of this should refer to the new kingdom. However, Jesus here goes to the millennial kingdom. There is a comparison here.

There is a comparison between the Kingdom of Heaven with comparisons that we understand; comparisons to market. Then a dragnet cast into the sea to catch fish of every kind. We all understand what it means to cast a net and catch fish.

The disciples would like this parable because they fished here all the time. There were lots of nutrients in that part of the lake and there were at least 20 varieties of fish in that area. If you wanted to fish, you would go to this place. Jesus was familiar with this fact, as were the disciples.

Matt. 13:47 Again, the kingdom of Heaven is like a net that was cast into the sea, and gathered some of every kind;

They fished these waters all the time.

Luke 5:4–7 When He had finished speaking, He said to Simon, "Put out into deep water and let down your nets for a catch." "Master," Simon replied, "we've worked hard all night long and caught nothing! But at Your word, I'll let down the nets." When they did this, they caught a great number of fish, and their nets began to tear. So they signaled to their partners in the other boat to come and help them; they came and filled both boats so full that they began to sink.

It is possible that they thought they might get a few tips from Jesus. They are listening very closely and this made more sense than the agricultural parables.

Using a fish story, Jesus repeated a doctrinal lesson. Jesus used this fishing analogy because He did not want the disciples to miss this critical doctrine. The disciples are an integral part of the dispensational process here.

A drag net is something that you pull along the bottom in shallow water and you pick up all kinds of things, and this occurs close to shore.

Rick Hughes is a respectable bass fisherman and apparently many call upon him.

The fishermen would anchor on the shore and there would be a boat out there and they would unfold the net as they rowed out. The net would cover the surface of the water all the way to the bottom. The drag net has floats at the top of the net and weights on the bottom of the net. Then the net is dragged in, in a semicircle, and those fish between the shore and the net could not escape. Everything in that entire area was dragged in. The big and little fish and everything else.

Bobby took a seine and pulled in all kinds of things off Galveston and pulled in a lot of stuff. The good fish were kept and the bad fish were thrown back in.

Jesus Taught a Specific Lesson

1. Jesus compared this whole fishing operation to something that the disciples did not understand yet; the Kingdom of Heaven. What is this new kingdom? What kind of value does the new kingdom have?
2. He focuses on the separation process. The Lord is not focusing on all of this; He focuses only on what to do when the fish are there and they are being separated.
3. He is speaking of the millennial form of the kingdom, that He would institute at a later time. This would occur at the second advent.
4. Details:
 - 1) The first are not separated until the net is pulled to shore.
 - 2) The process of separation occurs only after netting all the fish, good and bad fish together.
 - 3) All believers and all unbelievers will be caught in this net. They will be ready to be separated. The harvest will be at the end of the age.
 - 4) The believers are retained by the fisherman and will enter the kingdom.
 - 5) Unbelievers, the trash fish, are culled, and they will be relegated to the furnace; to hell. This is like the wheat and the tares being grown together. They are all harvested at the end of the age.

What is Jesus trying to say? We have to look at the context of where this is found. Jesus has just told the disciples about the incredible kingdom program. Jesus spoke immediately before and those parables were designed to lessen the concern about Christ being rejected. What they had lost would be replaced by something incredibly great.

There were still concerns among the disciples and they were unsure about where they are going. So Jesus needed to address those concerns.

First concern was, this new kingdom is so valuable, so how do we, humble fishermen, men on the Sea of Galilee all of our lives, we have no formal training; we cannot write and speak like the pharisees...how do we get personally involved in this new enterprise of the kingdom? How will we catch these new fish, the believers? They did not understand the kind of fishing that they were supposed to do. They had to learn how to do it; they had to learn how to drag the net.

They were going to help Jesus and become fishers of men. They would simply be gathering fish in a new dispensation. They would be going to the whole world; they would not be confined to some tiny little lake. "Go to the entire world," means that they would be doing more than spreading out a tiny little net. This is their responsibility in the new kingdom.

Their second concern was, what do they do with the fish that they catch? How selective should they be? The fisherman is going to only take the fish they can eat. There are all kinds of trash fish and they are not sold in fish markets. Which fish do we keep? Which do we keep and which do we throw back? How do we know who to keep and who to throw out.

Lev. 11:9–12 "This is what you may eat from all that is in the water: You may eat everything in the water that has fins and scales, whether in the seas or streams. But these are to be detestable to you: everything that does not have fins and scales in the seas or streams, among all the swarming things and other living creatures in the water. They are to remain detestable to you; you must not eat any of their meat, and you must detest their carcasses. Everything in the water that does not have fins and scales will be detestable to you. They were to separate out those things that they could not eat. They could only eat true fish. There was a culling process in the Mosaic Law. No eels, oysters, crabs. The disciples were not worried about shellfish, but they had to be concerned about what they take to market. This was the culling process for the Mosaic Law. Does this analogy mean that part of the disciples' ministry was to remove the detestable fish? Are they to cull those that they catch? Are they to be selective in who they fish for and who they keep?

Matt. 13:48 which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down and gathered the good into vessels, but threw the bad away.

Can they exclude Samaritans? The disciples were upset when Jesus just spoke to the Samaritan woman. Are these disciples to be fish inspectors rather than fruit inspectors? That is not the way to understand this.

What Is the Point?

1. Jesus was teaching the doctrine that some would enter the millennial kingdom and some would not. There would be a culling of fish. The question is, who will do it and when?
2. There was a tremendous price to pay for unbelief. Unbelievers would be culled and put into the fiery furnace. The disciples would not be making that decision as to which fish would pay the price.
3. The disciples were only to drag the net; they were to amass fish as fishers of men.
4. They were only to pull in the net; not to inspect and evaluate the catch for entry into the kingdom.
5. They were not fish judges. They would not weigh in the catch on scales to see if they are keepers. No measuring to see if the fish are legal. Some must be measured by length. That is not it either.
6. Judgment would be the prerogative of the angels, not the disciples.
7. The good fish are the righteous. The ones with imputed righteousness. Angels will do the separation.
8. The bad fish are those who did not express faith alone in Christ alone. Without this faith, you have no justification.
9. The angels do the weighing and the measuring at the end of the age, and they do the culling. We will see what the end of the age is. Bobby will show us when the end of the age is. A lot of eschatology.
10. While Christ is setting up the millennial kingdom, Jesus destroys the enemies of Israel. Those unbelievers left alive at that moment will be culled. They will not enter into the millennial kingdom. The angels are at the gate to cull the unrighteous.

11. What do the angels do with the culled unbelievers? They pull them out of the drag net, they cast them into the furnace of fire.
12. The emphasis on this parable is on the separation of unbelievers; there is very little information on believers, except that they will enter the kingdom as good fish. The unbelievers are getting fire here. The disciples may want something uplifting right now instead.

The rapture of the church is at the end of the Tribulation. There is a difference between the end of the Church Age and the end of the Tribulation. Unbelievers are right where they were until the end of the 2nd advent. That is when the net gets culled. The believers enter the kingdom, and the unbelievers to go hell.

The disciples will hear something that was unheard of before. This was new. They will know that Israel is not finished.

Matt. 13:49 So it shall be at the end of the world. The angels shall come out and separate the wicked from among the just,

Matt. 13:50 and shall cast them into the furnace of fire. There shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

Lesson #0430

Matt. 13:47–50 Life of Christ

4/21/2013 1Sunday

This is Texas Independence Day, 1836 I think? Sam Houston was not ready to fight yet, and he had his men retreating away from the enemy. He stopped in a house called Harrisburg in a town called San Jacinto. We were a republic for 10 years and then a state after that.

The state of the disciples must have been like Houston's soldiers, who wanted to fight, but were in retreat across much of the state.

The disciples were clearly outcasts by this point in time, as associated with Jesus Christ. Jesus has given 7 parables in one day. It was incumbent upon the Lord to show them what comes next. There would be great gains to their loss. In our Lord's time, there was to be a kingdom instituted. Our Lord had to define a new kingdom program to replace the old. There is always something behind of us and always something ahead; we are to forget that which is behind and move forward to that which is ahead. What they lost was nothing compared to what they had gained.

These 7 parables defined this new kingdom program. The disciples needed to hear what would come next and they needed to know that this was the plan of God all along and that it included them. There are no disasters in the plan of God. There are only benefits and advancement.

The disciples have been told the immense value of the new kingdom program. Nothing of the old can equal the new. But the disciples needed a change of thinking; they needed to renovate their thinking. They needed to lay aside on value, and to hold

The parable of the fisherman's fragment.

They have a net anchored on shore and they row a boat in a semicircle, holding the other end of the net.

Matt. 13:47 Again, the kingdom of Heaven is like a net that was cast into the sea, and gathered some of every kind;

The net is filled and they throw it onto the beach. Some of the fish are keepers and some you do not. You throw back the small ones and the bad ones. Anything but a bass is a trash fish. They are thrown away; tossed away. The analogy is, they are judged; the good fish are retained.

Matt. 13:48 which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down and gathered the good into vessels, but threw the bad away.

What happens to the good fish and the bad fish with reference to the kingdom? The righteous are the good fish in the net. The unbelievers who are cast away are the bad fish; and they will be thrown into the furnace of fire.

The parable refers to a future event; a separation of fish, believers from unbelievers at a future time, which is known as the end of the age. There is an emphasis upon a judgment which has not yet taken place.

Matt. 13:49 So it shall be at the end of the age. The angels shall come out and separate the wicked from among the just,

Matt. 13:50 and shall cast them into the furnace of fire. There shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

Why is Jesus dealing with the future at all, when the disciples don't get where they are. The disciples need to be reassured that there is a real future for Israel. God's promises must be worth something. The plan of God moves ahead; and we need to know that God has a plan for the future; there is a certain future. This is comforting for the believer; and this is a motivation for our mission of our drag net. We are also fishers of men.

The kingdom is ahead of the disciples. And ahead of us. We know what is in our future and what God has promised us.

Why is Jesus emphasizing this judgment in these final two verses? This gives a perspective. This is the old kingdom and on those who rejected it; it focuses on the place and time of the judgment.

The disciples need to understand that the new kingdom program is coming and the end of the age is also coming. That end of the age is not connected with the end of the Church Age, which is the age in which the disciples will live.

Christians want to be fruit inspectors; fish inspectors, and this is not their job. The disciples need to know this. It will not be their job to do any separation.

The ages: the age of the hypostatic union; in the middle of this age, Jesus speaks this parable. He is moving into a new program. After He is crucified and resurrected and ascended, then, many days after that, the Church Age will begin.

There is an end to the Church Age, and that is called the rapture. When believers are removed, then there will be the Tribulation. This is prophesied in the Old Testament.

There is a portion of this end time which has not been discussed before.

Eschatology Points

Eschatology is comforting; this is our future. It is encouraging.

1. The judgment identified in this parable, the separation of the good and bad fish, does not refer to the end of the Church Age. It is not talking about this moment in history. That is curious, because the disciples will live in the Church Age.
2. The separation at the end of the Church Age is not the same as the separation described in this parable.
3. The Church Age program has a different time of separation from the dragnet separation and a different method. Our Lord is differentiating between this.
4. The separation of the church from the unbelieving world is not the same description of good and bad fish. Two ends of two ages.
5. At the time, the bad fish are judged; they are cast into the fiery furnace by angels. That is a distinctive. The bad fish get thrown into hell by angels.
6. Here is an important distinction of dispensational eschatology. Dispensation is the progress of human history into divinely determined time segments. The rapture of the church is not the same as the judgment of the bad fish.

What is the actual different between the rapture of the church and the culling out of the fish at the end time. We know from Scripture that believers only are involved in separation from the earth at the rapture. They are transferred to heaven. These believers do not remain on earth. We will be transferred to heaven, dead or alive. Unbelievers stay here on earth. No unbeliever at the rapture of the church is separated out and thrown in the Lake of Fire. Unbelievers are separated from all resurrected believers. Unbelievers are left behind. These unbelievers are not culled and cast into hell at the time of the rapture.

At the end of the Tribulation, the unbelievers are transferred into the next dispensation alive. There is a different habitation for unbelievers at the end of each age. At the end of the age, bad fish are thrown into hell.

End Time Distinctives

1. The end of the age in this parable cannot refer to the time.
2. The end of the age in this parable describe a time of complete separation of believers and unbelievers.
3. Weeping and gnashing of teeth; remorse and regret for all eternity. Untold pain and suffering.
4. Unbelievers are separated from all resurrected believers in heaven this separation occurs 7 years after the rapture.
5. The end of the Church Age is not the end of time for the unbelievers. They remain on earth.

Therefore, this is a dispensational distinctive.

Lesson #0431

Matt. 13:47–50 Life of Christ

4/21/2013 2Sunday

- Matt. 13:47 Again, the kingdom of Heaven is like a net that was cast into the sea, and gathered some of every kind;
- Matt. 13:48 which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down and gathered the good into vessels, but threw the bad away.
- Matt. 13:49 So it shall be at the end of the age. The angels shall come out and separate the wicked from among the just,
- Matt. 13:50 and shall cast them into the furnace of fire. There shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

Eschatology is encouraging. The believers behind bars light up when they hear teaching about the rapture. They really want to see the guards make the correct count after they are gone.

Jesus was a dispensational theologian. He understood the end times as it is outlined.

When is the end of the age? The disciples need to be encouraged. Where are they and where are they going? They need to know that God's promises are iron-clad, because many of them will see Israel destroyed. Not the 12, except for John, but their disciples.

There was a promise in the Old Testament about swords being beat into plowshares, etc.

Some theologians teach that Israel has been removed from history, and that is a false theology.

The parable of the drag net is not the end of the Church Age but the end of the Tribulation. This is an important argument for dispensational eschatology.

There is a 7 year spread between the rapture of the church and the fulfillment of this parable. In the parables, we are at the end of the Tribulation, determining who goes into the Millennium. The horror for those who are excluded, they are separated out by angels and then consigned to the furnace of fire.

Biblical descriptions which tell the distinct differences between the rapture and the end of the Tribulation. The Scripture makes a difference.

1Thess. 4:14 Since we believe that Jesus died and rose again, in the same way God will bring with Him those who have fallen asleep through Jesus.

1Thess. 4:15 For we say this to you by a revelation from the Lord: We who are still alive at the Lord's coming will certainly have no advantage over those who have fallen asleep.

1Thess. 4:16 For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the archangel's voice, and with the trumpet of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first.

1Thess. 4:17 Then we who are still alive will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air; and so we will always be with the Lord.

At no time does Jesus return to earth; we meet the Lord in the air. He is not on the ground to set up His kingdom; this is the end of the Church Age, the rapture.

1Thess. 4:18 Therefore encourage one another with these words.

Then Paul goes to the 2nd advent in 1Thess. 5

The End of the Tribulation

1. 1Thess. 5:1 refers to a time that the rapture. There is no time affixed to the rapture; this has a time affixed to it.
2. There is a distinctive Old Testament phrase, the day of the Lord. 1Thess. 5:2
3. This phrase is extensively used and defined in the Old Testament. Nothing of the Church Age is known in the Old Testament. 13 of 16 prophets address this one event.
4. A predominant description related to the Old Testament, Paul says that nothing else needs to be written about it, because it was well taught already.
5. The dispensation of Israel, including the day of the Lord, has been written about extensively. This was well-known from Old Testament prophecies.
6. But the rapture was a mystery, unknown in the Old Testament; the entire Church Age was basically an unknown, completely in the Old Testament, and only a few things covered about it in the New. Only the future of Israel is described in the Old Testament. There is nothing about the church in the Old Testament.
7. 3 distinctions:
 - a. How the church is interpreted; eschatology and ecclesiology. The church is a mystery dispensation to the Old Testament.
8. The events of the Church Age (1Thess. 4) are not found anywhere in the Old Testament; but the day of the Lord is described in the Old Testament.

9. This separates these chapters of Thessalonians.
10. Joel 2:1–2 Blow the horn in Zion; sound the alarm on My holy mountain! Let all the residents of the land tremble, for the Day of the LORD is coming; in fact, it is near-- a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and dense overcast, like the dawn spreading over the mountains; a great and strong people appears, such as never existed in ages past and never will again in all the generations to come. Amos and Zephaniah have similar descriptions. Blow a trumpet in Zion is an announcement; and the alarm means this is something that is not good; and this takes place on God's holy mountain. Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble. This is because the day of the Lord is coming. It is a day of darkness and gloom, clouds and thick darkness. This description continues in vv. 3–6. Similar description in 1Thess. 5. For you yourselves know very well that the Day of the Lord will come just like a thief in the night. When they say, "Peace and security," then sudden destruction comes on them, like labor pains on a pregnant woman, and they will not escape (1Thess. 5:2–3). Dan. 9 and Ezek. All deal with this time.
11. But the comfort is here: 1Th 5:9 For God did not appoint us to wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ,... We are not destined for wrath. We are not destined for the Tribulation and the 2nd advent. We are destined for salvation through Jesus Christ, which includes the rapture for those who are believers. That is our deliverance.

- 1Thess. 5:1 About the times and the seasons: brothers, you do not need anything to be written to you.
- 1Thess. 5:2 For you yourselves know very well that the Day of the Lord will come just like a thief in the night.
- 1Thess. 5:3 When they say, "Peace and security," then sudden destruction comes on them, like labor pains on a pregnant woman, and they will not escape.
- 1Thess. 5:4 But you, brothers, are not in the dark, so that this day would overtake you like a thief.
- 1Thess. 5:5 For you are all sons of light and sons of the day. We're not of the night or of darkness.
- 1Thess. 5:6 So then, we must not sleep, like the rest, but we must stay awake and be sober.
- 1Thess. 5:7 For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk are drunk at night.
- 1Thess. 5:8 But since we are of the day, we must be sober and put the armor of faith and love on our chests, and put on a helmet of the hope of salvation.
- 1Thess. 5:9 For God did not appoint us to wrath, but to obtain salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ,
- 1Thess. 5:10 who died for us, so that whether we are awake or asleep, we will live together with Him.

Distinguishing Between the Rapture and the End Times

1. We can surmise that the blessing of the rapture precedes the wrath of the day of the Lord. No wrath in 1Thess. 4.
2. So the day of the Lord refers to the final 7 years of the Tribulation.

3. So the day of the Lord refers to the time when Jesus comes to judge the bad fish at the 2nd advent. This is defined in the parable. Weeping and gnashing of teeth. This is a dark day. The Tribulation itself is a dark period.
4. No such event occurs at the rapture of the church. No description of the end of the Church Age; we are not destined for wrath.
5. These are different future events. We will return at the end of the Tribulation.

Why Do the Disciples Need to Know This?

1. The disciples are not called to cull any fish; and they will never be called for this.
2. The disciples have no business throwing fish out of the boat. That is prohibited.
3. The work of the Church Age is to encircle all men with the net of the gospel. The gospel is what the net is. That is the mission of us and the disciples. The pharisees erroneously excluded anyone who did not agree with them.
4. This is an important characteristic of their mission in the new kingdom program. They will have tremendous power as apostles. If anyone could excommunicate anyone, they could. This is different from culling believers from unbelievers. Excommunication is for believers only. The reason for church discipline is to promote spiritual growth without distraction. If you want to get in the way of the teaching of Bible doctrine, then church discipline springs into action. No one is an eternal judge. We cannot confine anyone to the fires of hell, no matter what they do. You cannot tell someone to go to hell, because we cannot do that, including the Apostle Peter.

Jesus brings this focus to the disciples of this parable.

3 Quick Points

1. The Lord has distinguished here between the futures of each program; the old and the new. The disciples will be writing and teaching this.
2. The primary mission of the disciples is in the new kingdom program. We are to gather; we are not to cull.
3. The culling will happen at a future time vv. 49–50, that does not concern them.

Israel is not finished; those who reject Jesus will be finished; and our mission is to cast out the net and pull it in. Teach the gospel and doctrine.

Lesson #none

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

4/25/2013 Thurs

Bobby is at a conference in Costa Mesa.

Bobby's happy to see positive volition in California.

Jesus needs the disciples to understand all that came before in order to understand the parable he is about to teach them.

Matt. 13:51 Jesus said to them, Have you understood all these things? They said to Him, Yes, Lord.

The disciples probably did not understand what Jesus was teaching them. They did seem to understand that the kingdom program which they had expected the Lord to bring in, or the kingdom promised by the prophets. It had been rejected by Israel.

But they realized that the scribes and pharisees had completely and totally rejected the Lord Jesus Christ and His kingdom. The disciples were all bummed out because of this. Israel had rejected the Messiah. These parables let them know that all was not lost.

They also had a responsibility in the kingdom that was promised. Things seemed very hopeless until the disciples got these parables.

Matt. 13:52 Then He said to them, Therefore every scribe who is instructed to the kingdom of Heaven is like a man who is a householder, who brings out things new and old out of his treasure.

Now Jesus puts a period on the end of what He has been teaching them. This will be the final parable in this series of lessons and this is the parable of the household. This is paired up with the parable of the dragnet.

Their first responsibility was to catch as many fish as they could, without being selective. They were to throw the net out there and catch what they could. They have a second responsibility outlined in this parable. They were to pass on what they have heard and to present these doctrines of the kingdom to come.

We are to forget our failures from the past, but the disciples were not to forget the doctrines of the Old Testament. The disciples needed the doctrine of the new kingdom program, because all that they had been promised as Jews was not going to happen.

The doctrine that comes from the mind of Christ is always encouraging. When you have a bad moment; when you have a bad day; when you move into complete discouragement. There is one good way to overcome all of that. Put on an MP3 or a DVD and just listen, even for a few minutes, to the Word of God. It is always encouraging. It has a remarkable effect and it comes from the very mouth of God.

This is a final application of what has just been taught. This was a very strenuous, discouraging day.

They claimed to understand the previous parables, then Jesus told them how they must conduct themselves as teachers in the kingdom. "You hear what I am saying; now pass it on."

Bobby is not the only one to pass along doctrine; we are to pass along the gospel and to encourage other believers. Often people makes holes for themselves. This is what believers often do when they get out of fellowship and get into reversionism.

Every scribe is like a head of a household. There is a simile here which compares unlike objects. A scribe and a head of a household.

We need to know why Jesus chose this word scribe, who were some of His greatest opponents; they vehemently opposed our Lord. The Greek word is Ezra was allowed to return to the land, leading the 2nd migration of Jews back to the Land of Promise. Zerrubabbel returned with 50,000. There was a 3rd migration led by Nehemiah. The rebuilding of the walls is found in Freedom through Military Victory.

The disciples need to understand this history. The scribes were not what Ezra was, but they had become a political party. They developed their own traditions and put them in writing, and this is called the Talmud, which was terrible legalism. They taught nothing but legalism; they taught salvation through keeping the Law, but it was their own law that they made up, based loosely upon the Mosaic Law.

The scribes opposed Christ and His message.

The scribes from their own minds had corrupted the Mosaic Law. It was the human viewpoint that superseded the divine viewpoint of the Bible and this is why they rejected Jesus Christ. The same sort of reasons is why people reject Jesus Christ to day. Religion is one of the greatest enemies to the Scribes.

Ezra was a facilitator of spiritual growth because he taught the truth; the scribes were no longer that; they hid the truth.

Jesus can be describing the New Testament or the Old Testament scribes (the latter exemplified by Ezra).

Bobby is reminded of many pastors today. Many do not lead their congregations in spiritual growth today. They do not teach doctrine but they teach humanistic doctrines. What is left is some form of do-good humanism.

Jesus was hearkening back to a period of time when Ezra was a priest and a scribe. The disciples were not being compared to the scribes that Jesus accused of committing the unpardonable sin.

Masculine noun: grammateus (γραμματεύς) [pronounced gram-mat-YOOCE], which means, 1) a clerk, scribe, especially a public servant, secretary, recorder, whose office and influence differed in different states; 2) in the Bible, a man learned in the Mosaic law and in the sacred writings, an interpreter, teacher. Scribes examined the more difficult and subtle questions of the law; added to the Mosaic law decisions of various kinds thought to elucidate its meaning and scope, and did this to the detriment of religion. Since the advice of men skilled in the law was needed in the examination in the causes and the solution of the difficult questions, they were enrolled in the Sanhedrin; and are mentioned in connection with the priests and elders of the people. See a Bible Dictionary for more information on the scribes.; 3) a religious teacher: so instructed that from his learning and ability to teach advantage may redound to the kingdom of heaven. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #1122.

Ezra was a great reformer. He took them back to doctrine. He was a priest who taught Scripture and taught the people in the ways of the Lord.

You Are Now Scribes

1. In this reference, the Lord was leading these disciples of the Kingdom of Heaven into their own new rule. The disciples were now being sought by the pharisees to kill them.
2. The disciples would be the Ezra's of the church.
3. Their job was to communicate as writers and as teachers; they were to communicate mystery doctrine of the New Testament. They would write this doctrine as well.
4. Later on, they would be commissioned 2nd Lieutenants to interpret the new kingdom program.
5. It became a critical responsibility toward the church, just as Ezra was to revive the spiritual lives of Israel. The same type of responsibility that Ezra had for Israel.

This is a summary; and these men have given us what they studied. They became the Ezra's because they needed lots of instruction. They needed to learn doctrine before they could teach and write doctrine. They could not make it up as they went along, as the contemporary scribes had done. All teachers must be prepared. This is a general principle of teaching. This is to impart knowledge into the blank slate of their students.

No communicator can proceed to teach without knowing more than the students know. The disciples were not prepared.

This is the fallacy of the Bible classes conducted outside of the church conducted by unschooled, minimal doctrine. They are sheep leading the sheep; blind leading the blind. They often mutilate the real meaning of the Scripture. "What do you think this means?" is one of their favorite lines. If the disciples were unprepared, that is all they could do. They can only impart what they thought the Lord wanted them to teach. It is imparting doctrine that is previously unknown to the students but known to the teacher.

When a pastor departs from the accurate teaching of the Word of God, then the pastor is teaching humanism, and you cannot grow spiritually from human viewpoint. We grow by the Word of God; we do not grow in some other fashion.

A teacher must have grace orientation in their own souls. How can they teach with a minimal knowledge of this?

There is no doubt that Bobby must teach us correct doctrine from the Scripture. Others have a gift of teaching. You will be driven to make know Bible doctrine and you need to be prepared to do it. Otherwise, you are the blind leading the blind. You must at least impart the Word of God when you have the opportunity. Our preparation begins in Berachah. We need to know the doctrines behind the gospel. Preparation starts under a pastor-teacher who teaches doctrine. A person is successful if he teaches what he has learned.

Matt. 13:52 Then He said to them, Therefore every scribe who is instructed to the kingdom of Heaven is like a man who is a householder, who brings out things new and old out of his treasure.

Lesson #0433

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

4/28/2013 2Sunday

The greatest men of all history are those who impart the knowledge of the Word of God. The Word of God is the greatest power on earth and those who teach it are the greatest influence on the world. Bobby would rather do this than anything else on earth.

“You disciples are concerned because the religious types have reject Me, but you now have even a great responsibility.”

Teachers should be some of the most revered people on earth; including those who teach the truth. Every scribe who has become a disciple of the Kingdom of Heaven is like the head of the household, who brings forth things which are new and old out of his treasure.

Matt. 13:52 Then He said to them, Therefore every scribe who is instructed to the kingdom of Heaven is like a man who is a householder, who brings out things new and old out of his treasure.

The disciples certainly did not understand what Jesus is saying here, even though Jesus is describing their future to them. Your purpose is not to make money or to seek pleasure or to enjoy life; there are all sorts of things that people pursue in this life. We as believers, our #1 pursuit is our mission for Jesus Christ. That is our future. The disciples are getting this straight from the mouth of God. We don't hear it from Jesus directly, but we get it through the teaching of the Word of God.

The disciples were willing to answer the call, not matter what it entails. They were willing to do whatever it took to be prepared. The disciples stood ready. Should we not stand ready? Should be not be ready on the Biblical doctrines? We cannot live or grow or serve the Lord without them. Therefore, our Lord ascribed to them the work of an eager scribe. They were like Ezra, not like the scribes of their era.

The head of a household if the Greek word. Noun masculine: oikodespotês (οἰκοδεσπότης) [pronounced oy-kod-es-POT-ace], which means, 1) master of the house, householder. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #3617.

The disciples must act precisely as the master of the house, with actions and with leadership. Bobby learned about leadership from the army. The least effective leader is one who has a cigar coming out of his mouth and acting tough. The best way to lead is to take care of your people and make sure that they know that. The leader has the authority. How he uses it is important.

How the Disciples Were to Be the Authority.

1. T
2. They must provide food for the family.
3. The disciples must put spiritual food on the table for those in the kingdom. Paul called himself a servant, meaning that he is both a slave and a leader of His people.
4. The householder, serves up what he needs for himself as well.
5. The communicator provides food for the believers. He provides nourishment from his study to his congregation. Bobby has an authority; and where does his authority come from? It is a part of the spiritual gift. It is revealed in his teaching of the Word of God. He is Judges just a mouthpiece, a conveyer of food. We had better fulfill our mission as leaders. Every day, Bobby has the opportunity to prepare by studying the Word of God, and Bobby gets to do this for a living. We get to do this and it is a part of our life.
6. That is the real treasure that will be presented by these disciples in the Church Age. It is Bobby's responsibility to see that we have the truth of the Word of God.

Now these disciples are getting that truth, and they will see exactly where they need to go and what they need to do.

It was not just the Bible classes outside of churches; and he went to a luncheon Bible class taught by the pastor and he said, he has never heard so much drivel in all his life.

The new and the old is brought out of the treasury for the good of the house. The old is what has been promised by way of the King and the Kingdom. The King is there and He has been rejected. John the Baptizer knew this as it had been taught to him. Christ taught doctrine that was previously revealed. Our Lord began by teaching the kingdom, the King performing miracles, teaching the old and it was rejected. He also presented other truths, truths that began in these parables.

The Teaching of the Old and the New

1. The old kingdom was still there, but the new was forthcoming. If the old was being rejected, why the old and the new?
2. The old still had validity; there would still be a kingdom; and the old would be new; but it was still prophesied in the Old Testament.
3. The new is what the disciples were being appointed to teach to the church.
4. They were to recognize this change. The new kingdom program was pregnant with meaning.
5. The disciples were to spread the new doctrine but they had to bear in mind that the old doctrine was still to come. So Jesus taught the Tribulation and the Millennium, but He taught that the Millennium was still future. The Apostle John would teach what is in store for Israel. The disciples were to learn these doctrines and then spread them abroad.

The disciples were to heed this new call. They were to know this new program. They looked to the kingdom program, which was postponed. The Church Age is a detour in the plan. These parables are dispensational in character; they define Israel, the Church Age, and the Hypostatic Union. The disciples were not to fret about paradise lost. But the millennial kingdom was yet future. But the disciples were not being called the program the Messianic Kingdom to come. They are to present the household of the church until they return.

They will be the fishers of men who will gather the people to the new concept of the church.

Matt. 13:52 Then He said to them, Therefore every scribe who is instructed to the kingdom of Heaven is like a man who is a householder, who brings out things new and old out of his treasure.

And so ends the set of parables that Jesus was teaching in one day. It took Bobby several weeks to teach this, and Jesus gave them this information in one day.

A miracle to come. Then they go to Gedara and Jesus will have to cast out one of the worst demons, who is actually a number of demons. Lessons that the disciples were prepped for. All these things have application to us. Jesus has many messages and He is teaching the new kingdom program.

The disciples are a goofy bunch of guys who do get off track and the Lord has to slap them around a bit to get them straightened out; but Jesus loves them and wants their best future. We are all recipients of what is happening in these parables.

Do you think that your life is so difficult that the Lord did not foresee what you need?

This has been one of the longest days in the life of our Lord and we have been covering it for some weeks. Bobby is going to summarize all that we have learned before we get to the final increment.

Summary

1. That day began with the Lord Jesus Christ contending with demons. He cast them out; He did not exorcize them, which is mumbo jumbo and mysticism. The demons do exactly what He tells them to do.
2. After the demons are cast out, the scribes and the pharisees denounce Him for casting out a demon. They tried to discredit Him. In doing so, they had committed the unpardonable sin; they had blasphemed the Holy Spirit and rejected the Lord Jesus Christ. This is one of the monumental events on this very long day. All that follows stems from this rejection.
3. Therefore, the millennial form of the kingdom, because the kingdom that the Lord Jesus Christ offered, was, in fact, the kingdom that had been prophesied by all the previous prophets. That was the millennial form of the kingdom. With Christ on the throne of Israel, and this must be postponed.
4. In that postponement, meant a new form of the kingdom would unfold. Our Lord still uses the kingdom terminology, which goes in a different direction. This would go from the rejection of Christ to the acceptance of Jesus Christ at the 2nd advent.
5. Then a bit later in the day, Jesus was speaking to a crowd in a house, and who should show up, but His immediate family. Mary and his 4 half-brothers. When they show up, there is tension, as they demanded consideration above the preaching of the Lord Jesus Christ to this crowd. They wanted this attention. I want to see you right now. This is amazing, and they did not understand what Jesus was all about. Several of the half-brothers were not even believers at this point, we think. There was a moment in time. Jesus' Own family allowed Him to make a point. The disciples have no idea what is going on. Now is the time to define the new relationship. We begin to understand how it affects us.
6. Through this difficult incident, Jesus would identify His priorities for the remainder of the 1st advent. The old part of His ministry was over; that phase was gone. His disciples were given priority over our Lord's personal family, which was shocking.
7. This would show that Jesus' mission came before His family. That was unheard of, among Jews. Family was always first among Jews. Jesus Christ shows that His mission comes before His family. Nothing would stop Him. Jesus put those who followed Him as His first priority. All of these low-lives who hung out with Him were given priority.
8. Because they were being prepared for this great leadership mission of the Church Age, which is what was happening at this point. They did not grasp this, but the disciples were now Jesus' primary concern. They were being prepped with doctrine that had never been heard before in the history of the world. What He taught, we now study as the doctrine for the Church Age.
9. Jesus was inform and equip the disciples for their mission in the new kingdom program. He made the point so clearly as to the remainder of His ministry and the future ministry of the disciples. These men would take up where He left off.

10. The doctrine that they heard from Him and that which the Holy Spirit would provide through divine inspiration, Jesus gave them direct doctrine from His mouth. Jesus gave them the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentecost, Who inspired them for their mission of the entire New Testament.
11. That was the new role of the disciples, for which they were being prepared. That is now our blessing in the Church Age. This was the beginning day of what we now have. No wonder, it was such a long day.

Therefore, the Lord began to teach in parables, so that they could remember the parables and understand them later on. Mystery doctrine became their mission to learn and then to teach. Jesus was giving them a crash course at the Sea of Galilee; but Jesus gave the disciples 8 parables later at a private home. Each parable characterized this kingdom after Israel's rejection.

Parable Summary

1. The kingdom was described as a time of sowing mystery doctrine, of which there would be varying responses. Sowing these seeds does not mean that they will grow in someone's soul. There is the rocky soil and the good soil. That was the characterization of the mystery doctrine.
2. There would be spiritual growth of the new kingdom program.
3. But along with the spiritual growth would come opposition. The parable of the tares; the cosmic system, Satanic forces. The tares were like the wheat.
4. The disciples were not to worry about this opposition. Jesus told them that there would be a future harvest, a reckoning, a judgment on the tares at the end of the age. The tares would be dealt with; but they were to do their own job.
5. The disciples were to begin their mission in this new kingdom program as a tiny band of isolated men. We might be discouraged about our nation; but then look at these 12 and a handful of others. The church began with a mustard seed. From this insignificant seed, this group of men would spawn the church of huge proportions. This parable was the foretelling of the growth of the church in the coming age.
6. Also addressed was that the power in the kingdom was not external; it was internal. In the promised kingdom, Jesus Christ would be on the throne. There were all of the sacrifices and the feast days; but the new kingdom program would grow from the inside out. Doctrine would be written on their souls. The church would be a living organism. It was not described as a hierarchy, a large formal organization, etc. We are a part of the parts. This organism needs nourishment and they would feed on Bible doctrine that they would learn. Then an internal process of Bible doctrine in the soul.
7. The new kingdom was also characterized as a hidden treasure and as a pearl of great price. What was lost in the setting aside of the old kingdom program would be replaced by something even greater. What the Lord takes away, He replaces with something even greater. That just requires some patience. His new kingdom program would more than compensate for any loss. What is the difference? Jesus is not going to replace one set of material things with better ones. What the disciples lost was their position in the kingdom; but it is on their shoulders that the church is built. They had the spiritual life that Jesus passed on; the Holy Spirit inside of them. A greater life; not greater materialism. Whatever we lose in this life is replaced by what is in our soul.

8. Jesus Christ was introducing the Church Age to these men who would teach the doctrine. It is a good thing. Sometimes, you need a big overview before getting into the nuts and bolts. This was always done in the army. The overall picture is given first, then the nuts and bolts were taught. Even if the disciples did not understand everything that was going on—and they had no idea what they were really getting into.

The disciples were bewildered by this new teaching; and this subject matter was foreign to them. During the weeks and months ahead, Jesus Christ would develop these instructions. He would unveil this plan step by step and He would teach the doctrine necessary for the disciples to carry out their mission.

This was a transition day. You show up at the army, and you are at the post, and you get this orientation, and you go from civilian to being a soldier, but you do not know what it all means. After the string of parables, the disciples will continue their instruction with a series of miracles.

Prior to this, the miracles showed others what Jesus' credentials were. Now the miracles will be designed as teaching aids for these guys. Each miracle would be to show some aspect of our Lord or of His mission.

A demonic challenge. Satan heard the parables and he could not allow this new direction; the new kingdom program. He had to challenge this program.

Matt. 8 Mark 4:35 Luke 8:22–35 Bobby will combine these .

Mark 4:35 On that day, when evening had come, he said to them, "Let's go over to the other side."
Mark 4:36 Leaving the multitude, they took him with them, even as he was, in the boat. Other small boats were also with him.

They were going to go across the lake, and this would provide them some rest from this very long, strenuous day. Everyone needs a little down time. Do not feel guilty about that. Then you are ready to get back to business; ready to do whatever it is that you do.

Jesus fell into an exhausted sleep. Jesus was fully human. We can all identify with complete exhaustion after such a tough day.

The disciples did not sleep; and they had been witnesses to all of it, and they were not tired. They began to discuss all that they had seen and heard. They began to compare notes. Did you hear this? What does that mean? They also had to man the boats.

Once out in the middle of the lake, things began to change rapidly. One calamity after another.

These calamities can happen and they can happen when a believer gains the close attention of Satanic forces. The disciples had done this and these 12 guys would take up the guide-on when Jesus had ascended to the Father.

We all have targets on our backs. We may get close attention from the demonic realm. These attacks can take a number of different forms. We ought not to be discouraged by this. It is an honor to be at the center of attention in the devil's world. This means that we are advancing. It means that we are associating with the right people.

When nothing appears to go right over a long period of time, then it could be the cosmic system is attacking us or the cosmic system is using us to get to some other believer. Especially if we are failing to advance. It all depends upon the status of our spiritual life. Whether you advance or not, you may get attacked. If you get sidetracked from doctrine and from your spiritual life, ironically, that failure can make you a target again. You can be an effective pawn. You can be a drag on them; a bad influence. Especially if the association is an intimate one.

How many times has one spouse led another believer away from Bible doctrine; away from spiritual advance. Or friends.

Closing Points

1. Intimate associations, like friendships, lovers (in the right way), business associates, should be chosen carefully, because of this principle. They can be stumbling blocks.
2. Mutual positive volition and spiritual advance is critical for compatibility and rapport. In a male-female relationship, where it is serious, there are 3 aspects: attraction stage, which makes the honeymoon as the best part of the marriage; then you look at compatibility and rapport, then the marriage can be great and the foundation of this association is positive volition to Bible doctrine. Without it, you will never have a completely relationship.
3. If you have associates who are not positive or who are antagonistic or who are unbelievers, you must advance and gain strength, because you will need it. It is not the optimum, but you must have these associations. Satan will use other people to get to you, guaranteed.
4. You must be a witness for Christ, not a casualty in the Angelic Conflict. Bobby is aware that some of us have no doctrinal associations. In Berachah, there is the possibility of doctrinal associations. There are the tapers who are out there and they are by themselves. They do not have others who think the same way. Bobby will cover those people tomorrow night. When he goes to these conferences, Bobby sees how God provides for them.

Mark 4 Matt. 8 Luke 8

And on that day, when evening had come, He said to them, "Let's go over to the other side." And when He got into the boat, the disciples followed Him. He was in the boat and there were other boats around Him.

There is one more lesson for the disciples to learn on this monumental day. They all get in a boat and sail off, and there are several boats. They go from the southwest, in Capernaum, and they end up in Gedarrah.

Jesus falls asleep, and He is completely worn out. The disciples are not worn out, however. They are awake and talking, and they might be discussing what was said. They may have been trying to get their arms around what they had just learned.

There was the unexpected and the surprising in the lives of the disciples.

Jesus would not be sitting on the throne in Jerusalem during the lifetime of the disciples, and they were trying to get their arms around that. Then there is this onslaught of parables, which redefined their lives from that point forward, although they probably did not quite get it.

They come into another immediate problem as they sail away. There is a huge storm on the Sea of Galilee; it came out of nowhere and the purpose was to teach.

The disciples had to be wondering, "Why are there so many problems and upheavals in following the Messiah? Why isn't it? Why is there a problem with this?"

Why Are There Problems?

1. What they must understand is, they are smack dab in the middle of the Angelic Conflict. They were on the cutting edge and they were getting slashed.
2. Their association with Jesus Christ makes them targets; they are marked men for that association.
3. Satan, at this point, is doing everything he can to thwart the mission of Jesus Christ, pulling out all the stops. He will use every means at his disposal to stop Jesus from what He is doing. Satan knows that this is the central point in history.
4. Pulling out all the stops means using the disciples in their uncertainty as a distraction for the Lord Jesus Christ. They are pretty dumb at this point, and Jesus has to continually spend time with them.
5. Satan understands what these men are being prepared to do by Christ. He understood much more than they did. They will be the heart of the new kingdom program for the church.

These parables and the mystery doctrine and the cross were all hidden from Satan, and the rest of the angels. The reason for the parables is, they could be understood later, but not at that time.

Parables are given to hide the future and to hide the meaning, but they are easy to remember.

Applications

1. We are a threat to Satan, and to his plan, and to the cosmic system. We are intimately associated with Jesus Christ, as were the disciples. We too have a target on our backs like the disciples. . The disciples had the Presence of Jesus Christ; and we have Christ in us, the confidence of glory.
2. The extent to which we are metabolizing doctrine, fulfilling the plan of God, reflecting the Shekinah glory in us by glorifying God, is the extent to which we will experience the resistance and the attacks of Satanic attacks. The more mature you get, the more resistance you get.
3. When we are fulfilling our mission in the plan of God, when we are advancing in the plan of God, when we are operating in our spiritual gift, about our lives as believers in Jesus Christ; when we are fulfilling that, and things seem to go awry in our life, like this long day; life is not always smooth sailing, even for an advancing believer who is fulfilling the plan of God.
4. If all this is true, it can be attributed to Satanic forces trying to block our progress. Why? Because we are having impact as a witness for the prosecution in the Angelic Conflict. Whether we like it or not, we are in the Angelic Conflict up to our necks.
5. Another reason for adversity in our life may be our association with other maturing believers. You may find adversity associated with other believers. We may get attention from the demonic realm for this reason.
6. Satan will (or one of his minions). Satan will attempt to confuse and distress us; the doctrine of demons is to confuse and to stress us. In our confusion and in our stress, we might be used to distract the advance of another believer who is close to us.
7. So maturing spiritually and associations with maturing believers, those reasons can put us in the impact zone of Satan's artillery. We are under fire for those reasons.
- 8.
9. Withstanding those attacks requires Bible doctrine. Otherwise, we cannot deal with these attacks. Withstanding these attacks and seeing the Lord work through them can be very encouraging and amazing to see. The greatest experience is to watch the Lord work through the adversity in our lives.

In connection with associations with other believers, Bobby mentioned something which can cause stress and even anger. As long as we are talking about these things, there are many believers who are not in residence at Berachah Church. They are not able to sit with us to take in the Word. We are fortunate to be in Houston, TX. Wherever doctrine is, that is the place to be. If you want to advance spiritually, this is the place to be.

Those who are not in the midst of Berachah, they have a very tough row to hoe. It takes a lot of self-discipline to make the time to listen to the Word of God. Do not be discouraged. Our Lord is covering this with the disciples. Keep advancing; the Lord will provide for us.

Bobby found other believers in the army and they got tape classes started out of nowhere. This allows them to meet other believers of a like mind. The isolated believer is encouraged by a conference when they see other believers in the same situation. God will give us every chance to get back on track. We can advance and get some resistance. Or we can do the opposite; ignore doctrine and reject it. There are lots of things that are thrown out in front of us; but our primary objective in life ought to be the metabolization of Bible doctrine. We need some problem solving today. There is nothing like Satanic opposition that we must resist.

We may suffer for blessing, which allows us to accelerate our spiritual advance. God does provide great times in life; He provides refreshment and oases.

Sometimes we forget the source of our prosperity. We are not called to live a life of pleasure; we are not called to be at ease for our lives. The disciples must learn to persevere in prosperity and adversity, and we need to as well, as witnesses for the prosecution in the Angelic Conflict. Growing spiritually is the greatest joy in our life. Moses, "Stand still and watch the deliverance of the Lord." When you depend upon the Lord alone, you have become spiritually self-sustaining. That is the greatest your life can be.

"Do you think that the forces of Satan need to attack a believer who is in the cosmic system? He is out of fellowship and in reversionism. Of course not." This kind of a believer is already promoting Satan's cause.

Philip. 3:18 For many walk, of whom I told you often, and now tell you even weeping, as the enemies of the cross of Christ,

This is very sad; believers and they are enemies of the cross.

Philip. 3:19 whose end is destruction, whose god is the belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who think about earthly things.

They set their minds on earthly things. Their end is destruction. They refuse to grow; they do not move forward. They are deeply entangled in the cosmic system. The end is the termination of life, the sin unto death.

Κοιλια = the innermost recesses of the human body; their emotional pattern; what they desire. Reversionists become slaves to their bellies; to their emotions. Their emotions react with wide mood swings. Imbalance. Our nation is filled with angry, emotional, distressed, stressed-out people.

Suicide now has surpassed car crashes as the leading cause of injury and death? A third of the employees are suffering chronic stress and cannot sleep at night. A large number are diagnosed with depression and anxiety. Many doctors solve this by trying to drug you up. 11% of all Americans age 11 and up are taking some kind of prescribed drug. So many are taking some illegal drug of some sort or another.

Traditional America is being assaulted at every corner. All of our values are under attack. Christian values are repudiated. What are the battles going on. Every one of them are battles between the values of the Bible and the opposition of the cosmic system. Gay marriage for instance. Sin no longer exists in our country among most people. At least half the population sees this degeneracy and gets angry about it. Anger and fear stress us out. This means that Satan has just won a victory.

The circumstances of this country are intruding on our spiritual lives. We have no business being stressed out; concerned and sad, maybe. But no reason to be stressed out. This is the Angelic Conflict. The best thing for us to do is spiritually advance.

Their glory is their shame. We are the only ones who have the true means to keep us from stressing out. All of this is our opportunity for us to use what no one else has.

The challenge for us is, use our spiritual life if lose it. Stress is optional; adversity is inevitable.

Philip. 3:20 For our citizenship is in heaven, from where we also wait for a Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ;

Philip. 3:21 who will change the body of our humiliation to be conformed to the body of his glory, according to the working by which he is able even to subject all things to himself.

Lesson #0436 Mark 4:35–38 Luke 8:22–24 Life of Christ 5/5/2013 1Sunday

We are studying the long day, a day that has great impact. Jesus was rejected by the pharisees and by nation Israel in general. There was a family confrontation, which Jesus uses in order to teach the new relationship of the new kingdom. This relationship departs from blood family being #1.

This was also the day of 8 parables that defined the church, which was necessary after the old kingdom program was defunct. During this long day, the disciples were the center of Jesus' attention. They went through a great deal of shock concerning what happened on that day. There was a loss of status in the kingdom, as Messiah would not sit upon the throne in their lifetimes, and that was a change from what they expected. These parables redefined the direction of their lives. It was a pivotal day in their lives; their lives took a completely new direction.

Satan got a better understanding of what was going on, as opposed to the disciples, who may not have realized the big change that was occurring. For a very few short minutes, there would be an opportunity in that day; and there would be the chance for the disciples to be distracted.

There was a steep price to pay at this time and there was a clear-cut line between Satan and Jesus Christ. Only we are able to muddle this line. Satan's objective is to get the disciples' eyes off the Lord Jesus Christ. Throw some trouble their way. As a result, the cosmic system would cause them great problems.

Mark 4:35 On that day, when evening had come, he said to them, "Let's go over to the other side."

You do not need to try out the cosmic system in order to find out that it is the path of destruction. There are many paths of temptations; a great many attractions.

Mark 4:36 Leaving the multitude, they took him with them, even as he was, in the boat. Other small boats were also with him.

Luke 8:22 Now it happened on one of those days, that he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples, and he said to them, "Let's go over to the other side of the lake." So they launched out.

The disciples were about to enter into the eye of the Angelic Conflict storm. They needed some pressure to increase their growth.

As they are sailing along, and all things are smooth and everything is great, and suddenly, a storm comes up. "Do you remember this parable? What do you think it meant?"

With the weather pattern there, the wind could pick up suddenly. The boat began to be filled up with water and they began to be swamped.

What else could happen this day? These men were very tired. When fatigue takes hold, it can breed cowardice in the face of adversity.

There are veteran fishermen on this lake and they had seen many bad storms on this lake before; but now they are panicked.

Mark 4:37 There arose a great wind storm, and the waves beat into the boat, so much that the boat was already filled.

This disciples came to him to fix this.

Luke 8:23–24 But as they sailed, he fell asleep. A wind storm came down on the lake, and they were taking on dangerous amounts of water. They came to him, and awoke him, saying, "Master, master, we are dying!" He awoke, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water, and they ceased, and it was calm.

It is obvious that these disciples did not really get Who they are dealing with. They are having a panic attack. This disciples obviously had a ways to go before they were ready for what the Lord had planned for them. They react with fear, trepidation and panic. They forgot the plan of God rationale; they forgot the faith-rest technique. But we cannot leave this life until God's plan for us is over. We forget all of the rationales; they go right out the window. And we become whining cowards in the onslaught of the cosmic system. We need to leave our failures and mistakes behind us. One thing I do; forgetting what lies behind, and reaching forward to what lies ahead—I press on. When your boat is sinking, don't look down, look up. Doctrine is always your fortress against fear. What time I am afraid, I will trust in You. To live is Christ; to die is profit. It is a mechanic to leave these sins and failures behind; Isolation of Sin. We do not learn these things by leading a life of leisure. Once we receive training in doctrine, then we have to put it into practice. Otherwise we are a disciple in panic. We will have the opportunity to apply doctrine, whether we want to or not.

Misfortune, cruelty, betrayal; these are all a part of our lives. How we handle these rough seas is the discrimination between growth and stress.

This was a great storm and the disciples could have really enjoyed it; like a roller coaster ride. They chose stress over the faith rest drill. With that, we can relax during adversity. Mental attitude Dynamics and the Faith Rest Life are two more recommended books.

Jesus must have been quite disappointed in His disciples, when they wake Him up and they are screaming and they are upset and they ask for His power.

Cowardice is the inability to act under pressure. Fear can make you unable to function; and that makes you a coward. The definition of cowardice is choosing to stay out of fellowship and to allow the fear to control you. You let stress supercede the function of you spiritual life. Stress overcomes the function of what we must accomplish in life. Hence doctrinal application cannot be made in the throes of cowardice. Cowardice overcomes faith rest. Cowardice that leads to a spiritual breakdown for the disciples. This is a danger anytime in our life. We can be the most mature of believers and have a spiritual breakdown; a panic attack. Occurring and chronic fear break down Bible doctrine in the soul. We are susceptible to fear all of the time and we easily succumb to fear.

Prosperity is also a problem; when you have it, you want to keep it. And people will try to take it away from you.

Mark 4:38 He himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion, and they woke him up, and told him, "Teacher, don't you care that we are dying?"

Lesson #0437

Life of Christ

5/5/2013 2Sunday

We are studying the longest day, where a great many changes took place on that day.

The disciples were panicked.

Fear and Cowardice

This applies to the disciples and to us.

1. We cannot function in the spiritual life when the power of fear increases. Fear happens when we face difficult circumstances. Cowardice is the problem.
2. The fear virus in the soul represents emotionalism and irrationality that takes control.
3. The more things you surrender to fear, the more things you fear, and the greater coward you become. Cowardice means that you cannot think.
4. Cowardice is progressive; it is not static. You become a greater and greater coward; you just run from it.
5. Today, you may be worried about just one thing. You may be worried about one or two other things. But without doctrinal application, it will be another fear added tomorrow. Fear will escalate. If you cannot solve the first one, you pile another one onto it.
6. The extent to which you surrender to fear, the greater is your faculty for cowardice. One added to another added to another. Who will escape adversity in life. Every day brings a new adversity to a greater or lesser extent. One day without adversity is quite unusual.
7. Fear is insidious. Over a period of time, it controls more and more and more of your life. Brave people with brave exteriors; they have fears as well; and they will have fear when they cannot handle adversity.
8. The more things that acquire the power of fear in your life, the greater the cowardice.
9. Consuming cowardice.
10. In that accumulation of fear, you become preoccupied with yourself. You cannot help it. You think about fear. You become self-centered; you turn inward instead of outward toward Bible doctrine.
11. Fear breeds arrogance. They do not seem to be connected, and they are intimately connected. Fear causes you to become self-centered and self-absorbed.
12. The accumulation of fears and preoccupation with self breeds spiritual self-destruction. When your spiritual life is destroyed, then your life goes into a tailspin. No spiritual life because there is an accumulation of fears.
13. You will have no capacity for anything in life if you are a coward. You always put yourself first in your thinking and your actions. Marriages breakup because you think only about yourself and your fears and problems and your adversities. You are driven by arrogance and fear, which is miserable for you and everyone around you.

Fear focuses on the problem and you have no solution. That perfectly describes the disciples. Fear removes them from any consideration of what is asleep in the boat. The God of the Universe is asleep in the boat and they do not recognize how. They do not recognize His omnipotence. Fear turns people into self-centered cowards; they want the adversity to just go away. Our entire life will include adversity. If we are alive and breathing, there will be adversity. It will be there. Will fear rule your life? Will you be entirely self-centered through it all, or will you think with Bible doctrine?

The greatest moments in your life is watching the Lord solve your problems. That is confidence in the Lord. The disciples are fortunate because they get to see it happen. Faith rest sees the solution and keeps marching toward glory. Jesus is the faith rest solution. He is in the boat. All they have to do is wait on Him and his deliverance. Humility is what we need for His deliverance. There is only one way to assure these 3 qualities; what is in your soul. The disciples don't have trust or humility; they are self-centered and panicked.

Jesus is in their boat; and He is with us as well. The disciples have an opportunity here. In the storm, they can learn Who and What Christ is. They can learn to trust Christ and His Word. Therefore, the adversity is meant to teach a higher form of security; security from God. Adversity allows us to grow and allows us to learn to trust God's Word. With this security, why would stress be an issue? Cowardice is optional; stress is optional. It requires renovated thinking to deal with fearful circumstances. We need to live our lives glorifying God and for lasting solutions to adversity.

Adversity will be with us always. The problem is, fear and cowardice. Every time that we go through cowardice, that is the issue. Circumstances do not matter in adversity.

This storm is an illustration for us of the storms of life. As with the disciples, the storms and the adversities in life are designed to prepare a believer; not to harass. Every time we use the faith-rest technique, we develop more confidence in God. It is not confidence in ourselves; it is confidence in God. This prepares us for greater and greater things in our life.

Some of us want to be leaders; and there are plenty of people who are in charge who are incompetent and they cannot do anything right. Those above you who cannot do their job, do you think they are happy? They are probably miserable. We must be prepared. How do we prepare? We do not prepare by sitting on our hands. We need to get to the point where fear is not our focus and where cowardice is defeated. The greater our usefulness in the plan of God when fear is defeated.

The disciples cannot get it together here. Fear controls them. You are useful in the plan of God when you are able to depend upon God and His promises rather than to be thwarted by fear and stress.

The ocean is very unpredictable. It is often compared to a woman. Variable, unreadable, unpredictable. One moment stormy, adverse; and the next moment, placid and beautiful. How easily the ocean becomes stormy. There is not greater power on this earth than a water storm. What arm can bind the restless wave? A storm in life is especially difficult for those who want to control their own destinies? Storms are not good for control freaks. No one controls the ocean.

The place of safety in a storm is a port. When in a storm, you want to get from crazy waters and into a quiet place. But often the storm catches up to them. We need to be in God's port; the port of the arms of the Lord. Deut. 33:27a The eternal God is your dwelling-place, Underneath are the everlasting arms. The disciples were in the personal presence of the everlasting arms. We just need to recognize this during a perfect storm. They are us; we are what they are in the boat.

There is nothing which controls the sea. The disciples were in panic mode. They are a stark contrast to faith rest. Something we can all see and identify with. There is fear or there is faith rest. When fear grabs you, faith rest is the only solution.

Wouldn't it not be great to see this great storm and know that you are in the arms of the Lord? That would require that we trust Him. Jesus has absolute power over nature. They knew this. Jesus had control over water, over leprosy, over demons, etc. The disciples had previous lessons and they had lessons coming up. They get you to the right place if you handle them in the right way.

The more you utilize them, the more strength and power you have. You can fail over and over again, and until you can figure this out, stay in the storm and be afraid. It is that easy. There is a stark contrast between fear and failure and the faith rest life. Repetition is needed until we get it right. How many times do you stand up in the storm and say, "The Lord has got this one." What are you here for? We are here to weather storms, and in doing so, we will progress in the spiritual life. These men have a great many options to face; they have to get this lesson and they have to implant it. If we apply doctrine and we learn from our failures rather than wallowing in them, rather than wallowing in them and recreating them, then it is a lesson to learn in faith rest.

We have it; we have all that we have learned from the Scripture. We do not have to be ruled by the circumstances of life.

Lesson #0438

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

5/8/2013 Wed

The Word of Truth is our life; it is the doctrine that we apply to every part of our lives. This is the most important aspect of any believer in the Lord Jesus Christ.

We are at the evening of that long day. Jesus Christ and His disciples at His request have left Capernaum where this long day took place. They take an evening cruise and they are on the lake at this point. This was a long day of rejection of the Lord Jesus Christ and the 8 parables.

On this crossing, they run into a monster storm. Matt. 8:24 all of these passages give us a complete picture. Each gospel writer gives us a different perspective.

We think we know a lot, but then we find ourselves to be neck-deep in adversity and unsure as to how to get out. The disciples are about to get a sorely needed lesson. These men will become the foundation of the church.

Matt. 8:24 Behold, a great tempest arose in the sea, so much that the boat was covered with the waves, but he was asleep.

Mark 4:37 There arose a great wind storm, and the waves beat into the boat, so much that the boat was already filled.

This storm is so awesome that these veteran fishermen, who have been on the sea all of their lives; and they suddenly broke down and trembled with fear in that boat. They need some more training to weather the storms which are coming in their lives.

Matt. 8:25 They came to him, and woke him up, saying, "Save us, Lord! We are dying!"

The disciples were shouting in fear. "Don't you care that we are perishing? You can just hear the fear in their voices. They were not trusting the Lord for deliverance in the storm. They are trying to manipulate the Lord.

Mark 4:38 He himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion, and they woke him up, and told him, "Teacher, don't you care that we are dying?"

Who do the disciples think are in the boat with them. If they understood Who Jesus is, they would not be having such a panic attack. A solution for their fear was faith rest; and for a believer, there is only one way to relax in a difficult situation. This solution to any adversity is faith rest. This does not focus on the adverse circumstances. It always focuses on solutions. Faith rest should never have been easier to use and apply. We have to come up with a rationale. One of the great benefits of advancing in the spiritual life. The disciples were not using it.

Who is in the boat? That is as simple as it gets. This is not the Titanic going down. The orchestra on the Titanic played, "Nearer my God to there." The orchestra leader was a man with great faith in Jesus Christ.

The disciples were truly nearer to God. They needed to apply faith rest. Jesus is the solution to the wind and the waves. After all that they had learned, after all they surmised from their future mission, and they ask, "Do You want us to perish?"

What the Disciples Should Have Done at this Time

1. They should think of the personal presence of God. God is right there with them. Apply that.
2. All they had to do was simply wait on Jesus and wait for His deliverance. All they had to do is apply what they knew about Him.
3. Patience, trust and humility. They were lacking. They had fear, cowardice and self-centeredness. They were focused on themselves; they were not focused on Jesus Christ.

In our own failures, there is an opportunity to learn. When you hit the wall of adversity, it comes more quickly. The Lord puts these things in front of us so that we can put this doctrine before us. The storm is meant to teach a higher form of security. Everyone wants security. The disciples were no different. They were about to learn the greatest security in life. This is a security that is greater than the locks on your house or getting a carry permit. This is the strength of God. "When I am weak, then I am strong." That is when you fail from divine strength; you... They were not even thinking. They should have said nothing. They should have bet on when Jesus was going to wake up and deliver them. They could have had some fun with this. Instead, they panicked. Why should fear rule their lives. Why should they become cowards in the very presence of the ultimate strength. This is a complete loss of thought. Complete irrationality in fear. It happens to all of us. The onset of fear in tense moments of our lives in life-threatening situations; fear is a part of the human psyche and we all have it at some point in our lives.

Fear in Our Lives

1. Fear is a normal reaction to danger or to risk.
2. Cowardice is optional. This is when fear paralyzes us. We cannot function. This is where those in an athletic event can become heroes but they choke. They fail to function to the maximum.
3. Cowardice is the inability to apply doctrine in a crisis. The disciples are cowards in that moment.
4. The disciples have turned their normal fear into cowardice. They have a normal and healthy respect for the power of the water and the sea. That fear turned to cowardice and panic.
5. They have not exercised the application option of the faith rest drill. They failed to use it. It was an option in their arsenal. They just failed.
6. Having failed, they cannot function in the spiritual life. They had just nullified their best option.
7. Fear is fleeting where doctrine is applied. Fear doesn't last long. A great example is war; everyone is afraid in combat; but you still have to function while at war. There is no greater conquering of fear under pressure than the faith rest drill. However, in that boat, cowardice was ruling. Emotionalism and fear controlled their thinking. When emotion overcomes the mentality of your soul, you cannot combat the emotion of fear.

They wake up an exhausted Jesus because they do not have the inner resources. "Wake up, don't you care about us?" Jesus does not wake up and say, "There, there; it will be okay." Jesus does not use cliches. There is no thought behind those words. That represents emotion and not thought. Do not give empty platitudes to those who are grieving.

The news media indulges in this all of the time. They say things like, "Our thoughts and our prayers go out to the victims." This is a sentiment that has become a cliché; even if the reporter does feel bad or sympathetic. Many of those saying this do not even know how to pray. To whom do they pray? Many of them do not even know God. For them, these are just rote words. When the Lord said something, it had meaning.

Most of us have lost a loved one; or one who could be lost at some time. The great cliché when talking to someone in grief, "I am so sorry." And it is so meaningless. The person who says this has nothing else to say of importance. Nothing to say of real comfort and substance. This is not about the grieving person or addressing their grief. The subject is not the grieving person; but you are making yourself the issue. If a believer in Jesus has just died, why say you are sorry. They are only lost temporarily; and they are in heaven. And there will be a future reunion.

The Word of God has a calming and soothing effect. Bobby has given many memorial services and many of them, and people have said, "That was so comforting;" and it is because he quotes the Word of God.

Where's the Comfort?

1. The comfort is in the doctrinal perspective on death, they have confidence.
2. That confidence of the greater status of the one who had died. Bobby uses the phrase, "This veil of tears." They are not cold and dead in the grave; they are in heaven.
3. There will be a future reunion with them for an unbeliever, they are lost forever; but for believers, there will be an eternal reunion.
4. You have confidence that they are in the Lord's arms and care forever. No more sorrow, no more pain, no more death; behold all things have become new and the old things have passed away.

Comfort for the Unbeliever; Not Using Cliches

1. For the unbeliever; a doctrinal perspective is something unique and memorable. There is always an unbeliever there. When Bobby talks about death, he can see them squirm.
2. A perspective apart from the usual cliches and empty phrases that offer no real comfort and no solution. Vacuous.
3. When you give a doctrinal rationale to an unbeliever, it can be recognized as real and compassionate. It is God's truth. Even those who reject recognize it.
4. It is often the time when the unbeliever in grief and loss of a loved one, is most receptive to God's solution in death. Most receptive to the gospel at a death service. The gospel is the solution. He tells what a believer has in depth. The Holy Spirit can use these words; the Holy Spirit cannot use a cliché.

I don't know anything? Pamphlet of Victory over Death; so read this before going to a memorial service. You speak to the living; not about the dead; that stands out.

Months after a memorial service, Bobby runs into people and they still remember what he said. The gospel stands out as a solution, whether it is accepted or not. There is a true choice between human comfort and God's comfort.

Speak to the living; bury the dead. Eulogies is not something which Bobby does. That is what you do at a reception. At Berachah, it is about divine perspective. It is about those who are alive and there. That is effective. No one can back away from confronting that kind of truth.

When Jesus is awake, He does not utter a cliché. He might have said, "Have you learned nothing from My teaching?"

Matt. 8:26 He said to them, "Why are you fearful, oh you of little faith?" Then he got up, rebuked the wind and the sea, and there was a great calm.

Timid means fearful, cowardly; pusillanimous. Adjective: deilos (δειλός) [pronounced], which means, timid, fearful. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #1169.

Mark 4:39 He awoke, and rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, "Peace! Be still!" The wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

Lesson #0439

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

5/9/2013 Thurs

We are moving back to the waves, breaking over the boat where Jesus was asleep. The disciples were very experienced men with the sea, and their souls were filled with panic. Their thinking was paralyzed and they did not conjure up even a tiny amount of doctrine to use for faith rest.

Mark 4:37 There arose a great wind storm, and the waves beat into the boat, so much that the boat was already filled.

Matt. 8:25 They came to him, and woke him up, saying, "Save us, Lord! We are dying!"

Mark 4:38 He himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion, and they woke him up, and told him, "Teacher, don't you care that we are dying?"

They did have some semblance of a solution; they woke up the Lord.

Jesus asks them, Why are you timid, you of a little faith.

Matt. 8:26 He said to them, "Why are you fearful, oh you of little faith?" Then he got up, rebuked the wind and the sea, and there was a great calm.

Jesus calls them deilos (δειλός) [pronounced dee-LOSS], which means, timid, fearful; pusillanimous. Thayer and Bobby's definitions only. Strong's #1169.

They were unable to deal with this calamity on their own. How should they handle extreme adversity. That is what is at issue here. There will be plenty of crises in their future. They need to know how to use the faith rest drill in their lives. There can be no progression of doctrinal application.

Jesus is to teach these men the faith rest drill. Until you master the faith-rest technique, and add to this the renovated thinking of doctrine through application, then you also will entertain fear and cowardice in your life.

Given all the Jesus is preparing them for, it does not make sense for their ship to go down in this storm.

Never think that, "I wish I lived in the time of Jesus; then I would have no problems." We have greater assets than the disciples had at this time and we know more than they do at this point. The disciples could not manage faith rest; not even a spark. Our Lord will prove to them exactly Who is in the boat with them. Faith in Him is never misplaced.

These disciples will face much greater crises than this. All they had to do was be cognizant of their lives. Too many people are afraid of the end of their lives to live the life God gave them. We have everything that they have; and more.

The disciples would watch Jesus ascend into heaven, and they would have a reasonable amount of doctrine by that time. And, behold, I am with you all the days until the completion of the age.

Don't ever say to God, "Don't You care about me? How can God let this happen to me?" Of course God cares about us; we hear this over and over again in the Bible.

Mark 4:39 He awoke, and rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, "Peace! Be still!" The wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

Mark 4:40 He said to them, "Why are you so afraid? How is it that you have no faith?"

So what do we as believers in Jesus Christ have to fear when Jesus is always with us.

A Little Faith Rest Rationale

1. Jesus is just as much in control today as He was on that boat with the disciples.
2. We know that Jesus controls events and history for His purposes. The plan of God marches on because He is in control. His plan marches on because He makes the decisions.
3. The fact that we can't see Him physically changes nothing. These narratives have a great meaning. There is incredible application in these narratives.
4. What we have to fear in adversity: not the adversity but we need to fear our own lack of application of doctrine. That is something to fear; not the circumstances.

You can have great impact; we can be a major success in life using the spiritual life. No matter what your position in life, no matter what you do, you have an impact. That is your obligation. It is the greatest of the moments of your life.

Presence of God rationale would finally be realized by the disciples. Doctrine is progressive; you learn a little here and then a little there, and it builds up in your soul, and you become more and more mature. They are learning a great lesson here.

We have that same Shekinah glory as the disciples did on that mountain.

Col. 1:27 was the central verse for Bobby's master's thesis. The presence of Jesus Christ in us, in every believer. Col 1:27 ...to whom God willed to make known what are the riches of the glory of this mystery among the nations, who is Christ in you, the confidence of glory;...

The calming of the storm is one of the well-known miracles of Jesus. This is a true story. The Creator of the Universe stood up in the boat and stopped the storm.

Matt. 8:26 He said to them, "Why are you fearful, oh you of little faith?" Then he got up, rebuked the wind and the sea, and there was a great calm.

Mark 4:39 He awoke, and rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, "Peace! Be still!" The wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

The sea is the greatest force on earth; and Jesus tamed it. The ocean is the most powerful force on earth, and Jesus spoke to the sea as if it were a man, and calmed it. Jesus has this power. The forces of wind and water responded to Him immediately.

This is an amazing miracles because waves do not suddenly stop; and the wind does not suddenly stop either. The wind first abates slowly and then it takes time after the wind stops for the water to calm. Bobby used to live on the north shore of Uahu, and the wind can blow several thousand miles away from Alaska, and the water is pushed and driven all the way to Hawaii, and when those waves came in, there was no wind with them.

So these waves do not just go flat immediately. The winds immediately cease and the waves go flat. Even if Jesus stopped the wind, the waves would continue. This shows that Jesus had supernatural power over nature; He had the power of God; that is Who is in the boat. This same power is in us.

Luke 8:25 And He said to them, Where is your faith? And being afraid, they marveled, saying to one another, Who then is this One, that He commands even the wind and the water, and they obey Him?

There should have been no question in their minds as to Who Jesus is. In the future, they need to have no doubts as to Who Jesus is. This is a tremendous demonstration of His power. Nothing is beyond His control. Here was a demonstration in this storm.

3 Points That We Get from this

1. This was a demonstration of the same authority that Christ has when He created the world and holds it all together by the Word of His power.
2. The power that brought the world into existence is the same power that controls the elements in nature.
3. That is Who Christ is, the Creator and the Sustainer. This should be obvious to them, but it is not.

The disciples are knuckleheads, but they are positive toward doctrine. Christ upholds the universe; should he not conclude that this world will not spin out of control due to natural or manmade disasters? Meteor showers will not destroy all life; man will not destroy himself; and nuclear radiation will not destroy mankind. Man will not be destroyed while Jesus upholds to the world for the plan of God to come to fruition.

You should laugh when you see that a meteor struck Russia and now scientists need to figure out how to keep it from happening again. Man can cause problems on this earth, but he cannot destroy what Jesus holds together.

The idea of fixing global warming is a joke. Even if global warming were a fact. Nor can man destroy the earth by wiping out the ozone layer. That is an ideology. Some scientists have agendas, just like politicians do. Some even lie to get financial grants or to sell books or whatever.

Science and Jesus

1. Science is correct only to the extent that it discovers what God has already created and made.
2. God's universe continues to function where science understands it or not.
3. The universe continues to function because Christ controls it by the Word of His power.

We have pseudo science all around us. It is a power grab by those who pose that science is the ultimate authority. Some propose that science will eventually learn all the secrets of the universe; or that science will discover God.

In environmental science, scientists place nature on a higher plane than man. They will save animals even to where it goes beyond benefit to man.

Outlawing hunting in Africa causes all kinds of problems. Poaching, attacks on farms and ranches, etc.

In all of this, humans are not on the same status as any animal, in danger or not.

The survival of mother earth and all that is on it. Some believe that the natural world can be controlled by controlling man. These are pantheists. Since earth generates man and animals, then the earth is a force. They want to destroy Biblical Christianity.

Some of you get upset over rabid environmentalists. Fracking could provide jobs and economic growth, and environmentalists do not want that.

It is the Bible which reveals to us what we need to know about Jesus Christ. John 12:41 Isaiah said these things when he saw His glory, and spoke about Him. Jesus is speaking about what He said in v. 40: "He has blinded their eyes" and "has hardened their heart," "that they might not see with the eyes" and "understand with the heart," "and be converted," "and I should heal them." Isa. 6:10

Uzziah, the evil king during the time of Isaiah. Isaiah saw His glory, referring to the glory of Jesus Christ, which is the Shekaneh glory, the visible glory of the manifest Person of the Trinity. The Shekinah is the dwelling presence of the Manifest Person with Israel. This presence in a building in Old Testament times corresponds to His unquiet indwelling in every Church Age believer.

John wrote of the Shekanah glory in John 1:14, where the Word became flesh and lived among us.

That little child was the Almighty God. Isaiah understood the power and eternity of God that resided in the Person of the Messiah. Isaiah saw much of the truth that John later presented. John wrote to show that Jesus is the Son of God Who came in both power and glory as well as in humility; that man might be saved by believing in Him. John's gospel is often called the gospel of faith. This was Isaiah's understanding. He speaks of the King of Kings, the Savior of His people.

Jesus was to come first as a baby, and then as an adult, as the Prince of Peace, wearing the crown of Israel. Isaiah did not see some weakling; nor did he see a meek personality, as we think of it. He saw the Mighty God. This cannot be just a man. According to Isaiah this includes our Lord's kingship. There will be no end to the increase of His government. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will accomplish this. Isa. 9:7 is meaningless if the Kingdom of God can be brought into being by mankind. Only the zeal of the Lord of Hosts can accomplish this. This is the 2nd advent of Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ was born a king. He presented Himself as such to Israel. He was crucified beneath the sarcastic King of the Jews. However, His kingship is future. Everything and everyone will bow to His will. Behold My servant, My Chosen One, in Whom My soul delights; He will bring forth justice to all the nations.

Mark 10:45 for even the Son of Man did not come to be served. Kings are served. I have come to serve. This is a vision of the duality of the Lord Jesus Christ. Isaiah also represents Christ, not just as the glorified God, but as the Suffering Servant.

Jesus voluntarily rejected the power of His Deity and took upon Himself the form of a bond-servant. He was found in appearance to be a man. He was obedient to the point of death; even the death on the cross. When man looked upon Jesus on the cross, he saw more than just a man. The world saw omnipotent God, undergoing the humiliation of bearing our sins in His Own body on the cross.

Why such a paradox? Only the Son could satisfy the Father's demands for our sin.

At some point, He would become the Conqueror, destroying nations which oppose Him. He will be the absolute and ultimate ruler. The glory of the first leads to the glory of the second.

Therefore, also God highly exalted Him and bestowed upon Him the name which is above every name; and at the name of Jesus, every knee will bow. There was no doubt from Isaiah that the Messiah must die before He is glorified. He will see it and be satisfied.

All through His time on earth, Jesus came into contact with sinners, but He was never tainted by that sin.

Bobby inadvertently gave his Mother's Day message.

He has another Mother's Day message, which will be completely divine viewpoint. Glenna Reeves departed. We understand that Mrs. Reeves departed to be face to face with the Lord the day before Mother's Day. They can celebrate today her home going. A cliché is, isn't it sad that she departed before Mother's Day.

We are in the Life of Christ and we are studying one of the great miracles that Jesus performed in the 1st advent. They have just gone through the longest day (until the day of the cross).

They go for a sunset cruise on the Sea of Galilee for a little R&R. It was time for the disciples to learn one more great lesson; a lesson in the faith-rest technique. It is indispensable for us in life as well. The waves are breaking over the boat and the boat is being filled with water; and the disciples are panicked. They scream over the gale force winds, "Save us, Lord; don't you care that we are perishing?" Their thought process was paralyzed through fear and anxiety. These guys did not remember Who was with them in that boat. They did not even remember their past experiences with Him. They wake Him up; they shake Him awake.

His first words, "You cowards; you men of little faith rest." No clichés from the Lord. They were completely emotional in this storm. No believer can utilize a faith rest rationale when freaking out, and that is what they are doing.

They are men of little faith rest. They are immature and they are showing it in a crisis.

The physical presence of the Lord Jesus Christ; God, the Shekinah glory, the Sustainer of the Universe.

Heb 1:1 In many ways and in various ways of old, God spoke to the fathers in the prophets;
Heb. 1:2 in these last days He spoke to us in the Son, whom He appointed heir of all; through whom He indeed made the ages;

- Heb. 1:3 who being the shining splendor of His glory, and the express image of His essence, and upholding all things by the Word of His power, having made purification of our sins through Himself, He sat down on the right of the Majesty on high, Psa. 110:1
- Heb. 1:4 having become so much better than the angels, He has inherited a name more excellent than they.
- Heb. 1:5 For to which of the angels did He ever say, "You are My Son; today I have begotten You"? And again, "I will be a Father to Him, and He shall be a Son to Me." Psalm 2:7
- Heb. 1:6 And again, when He brought the First-born into the world, He said, "And let all the angels of God worship Him." MT-No Equiv

Jesus spoke to the water as if it were a man; something which is power and impossible for us to command. Nothing more powerful than water which is stirred up by wind. The disciples should realize that where they are powerless, the Lord is in control.

Lesson #0441

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

5/12/2013 2Sunday

In all of this, there is an application for us. Where there are the storms of life, adversities or problems, where the storms of life cannot be overcome with our own strength or power, God is there—always. When you reach the end of your rope, which is nearly every day, God is in complete control of your life. To rely on man to rely on science to rely on ideology or politics is always inadequate. It always will fail one way or the other. Relying on God is the only stability in life. This is the Person of Christ rationale. Confidence that Jesus delivers from fear, anxiety, cowardice, etc.

Jesus handled all of the storms of life; when the mind of Christ is in your soul, why should any adversity cause you difficulty. Whatever the storm is in your life, use this rationale. What storm cannot be overcome by the Creator and Sustainer of the Universe.

This taming of the storm teaches us that, through faith, whatever storms come in our life can be dealt with. Sometimes the only way some of can grow up is to catch a storm in the teeth. Our human resources are not real resources nor do they solve problems. An relaxed mental attitude in the storm is a wonderful by-product of faith rest.

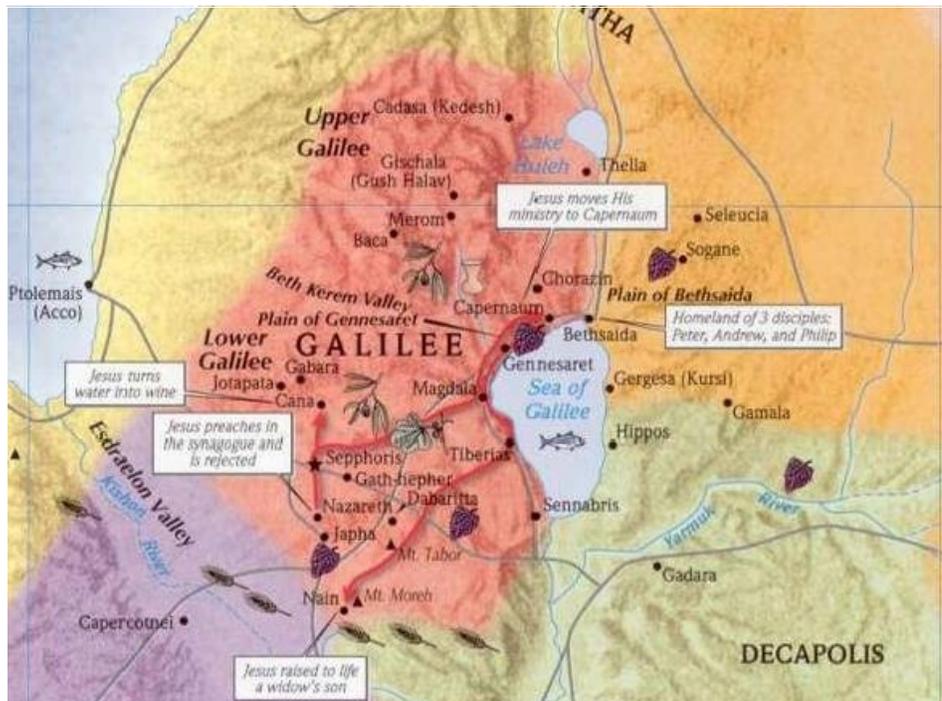

The only way to live is with a relaxed mental attitude.

The disciples have learned this lesson, and they can sail on. They set their sails again and they go on to the next lesson of doctrine, which they need. It never stops. You think, "I got through that crisis; and now I get a break." It never stops. Our spiritual growth continues through our lives; or should be. To live is Christ and to die is profit.

They go on to the next lesson of doctrine, which is our lesson as well. They arrive on the other side of the lake after the sea calms down. A new problem arises. Everywhere Jesus went, a new problem would arise.

Matt. 8:–34 Mark 5:1–20 Luke :20–39

Jesus Christ and the disciples landed in the district of the Geriseems; Matthew calls this same country the country of the Gatterines. Many people see something like this and claim, "There is a contradiction here." Gerasa was the name given to a large territory in a Transjordan territory. There was a town called Gerash. The people are called one thing, but those in this city took their name after the town.

Mark and Luke identified with people by a general locality. Matthew identified their name by a specific city.

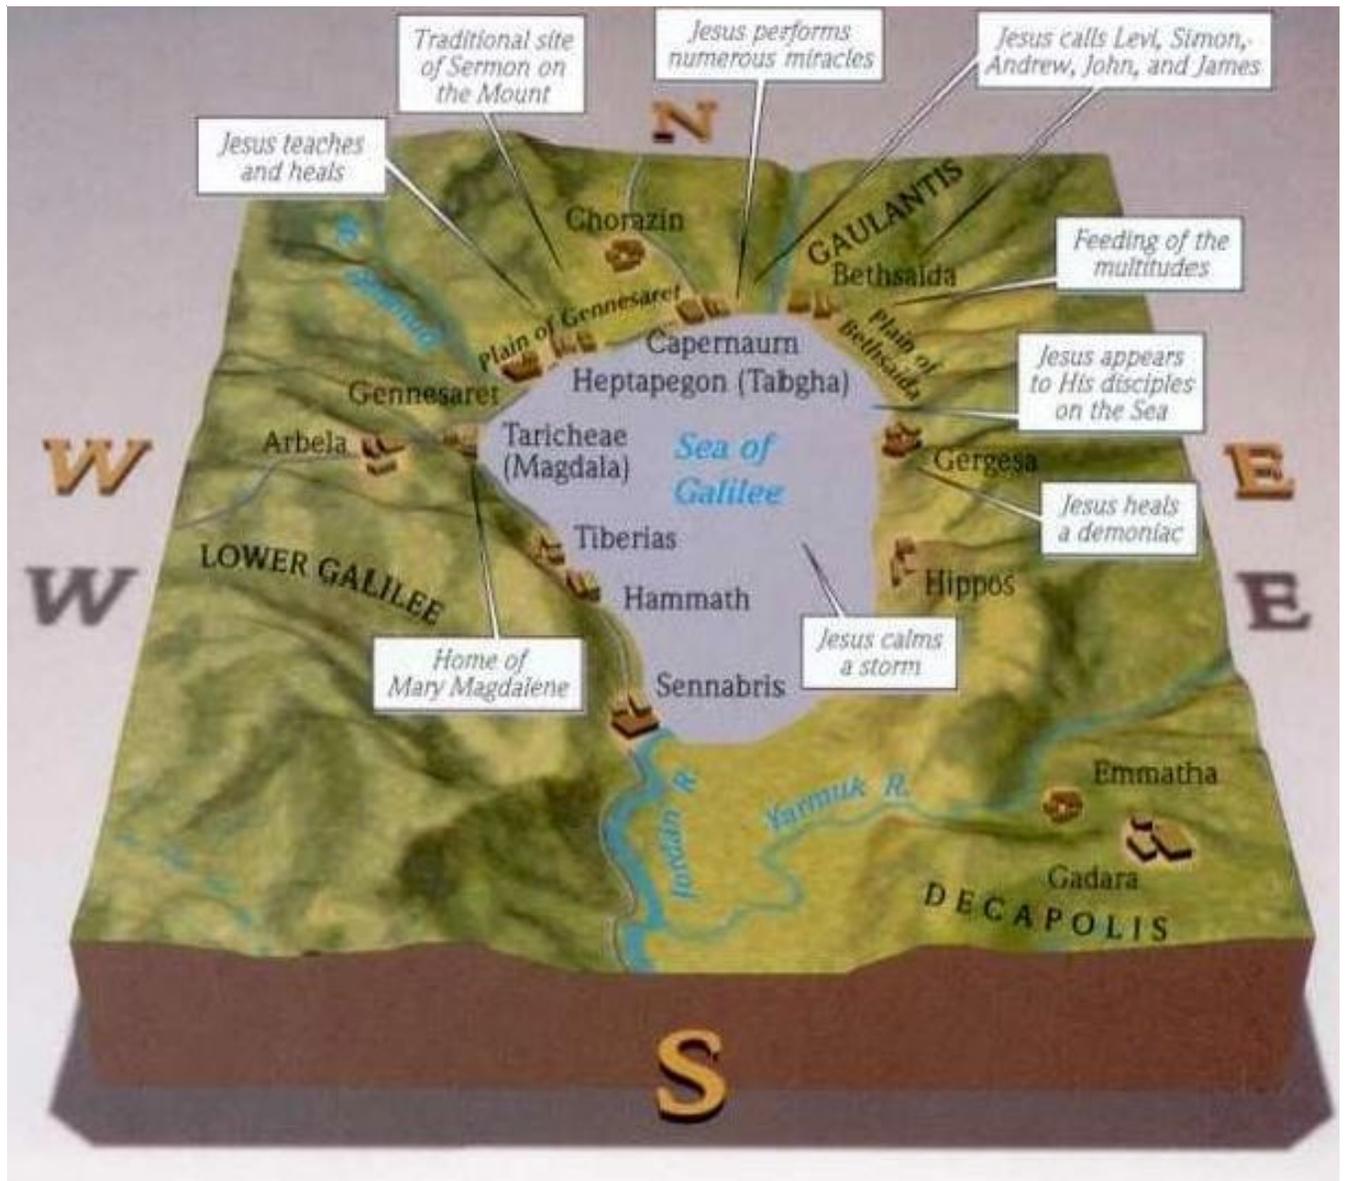

There was a man so violent that he could not be bound; and no one was strong enough to subdue him. The demon controlled this man; and he was one scary dude. We would be very afraid of a man like this. Seeing this guy when the disciples set foot on this shore, they were ready for another storm. It was clear from the very beginning that this man could not be controlled by human beings. He was a menace to anyone who came near him. If he was a round, people ran. He was too dangerous and he was too strong to be controlled by shackles and chains. He was the Hulk gone berserk.

His demon-possession included extraordinary strength. He lived among corpses and he ran around naked and cut himself with sharp stones. He was living like a wild animal. This is extreme mental disorder coupled with a murderous frenzy. Demon-possession made this man completely deranged and strong as an ox.

One demon is speaking in a loud voice, but this one demon refers to others, using the pronouns we and us. There is a legion of demons possessing this man. One demon is speaking for other demons who are present in this man.

We will learn much about the demonic in this passage; and about our Lord's power over these demons. Why worry any more about demons than about the storms of life.

When this man saw the Lord Jesus Christ, he recognized Him, calling Jesus, “Son of God.”

He recognizes the position of Jesus Christ as the Son of God. This is why he grovels at Jesus' feet. Demons know the greatest authority in the universe. The Jews did not recognize Jesus, the religious types did not; but the demons understand this.

They recognize Jesus as their future judge. They know that their doom is sealed. Demons promote just the opposite of what they know to be true; yet they cannot wait to distract and to dissuade Him.

James 2:19 You believe that there is One God; you do well. Even the demons believe and tremble. The demons know and they fear Him; they fear Him above all things. This is what this demon was doing. He was trembling.

We can't see demons; no one exorcizes demons; that is false. This is an amazing story on demonology. Again, a lesson in the power of Jesus Christ. The Word of His power. We will see Him overcome the most powerful forces in the universe with just one word.

Lesson #0442

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

5/15/2013 Wed

Returning to the Gerasene demoniac.

Jesus lands on the shores of Gerasa: He presents a lesson to His disciples. The lesson will come courtesy of a demon-crazed due. Luke 8:27

When the Lord came to the other side and got out of the boat, immediately Jesus was met by two demon-possessed men, they were living in tombs. One lived without clothes; and he screamed from the tombs and gashed himself with stones. He was too violent to be bound by chains. An asylum would not have held him. He was been bound by shackles and chains, and he broke them and no one was strong enough to restrain him.

How many people want to get near to a crazy naked guy who lives in the tombs and is as strong as an ox?

Seeing the Lord in the distance, he ran up and bowed before Him. The man bows, but the demon still possesses him. “What business do we have together? Did you come to torment us before the time?” The time is when the Lord will cast them into the Lake of Fire. Then he uses the Lord's name in vain. “In God's name, do not torture me.” Demons at that time gave the Lord a very wide berth. The Bible does not record any demon-possessed person coming to Jesus to be delivered. Most of the demon-possessed people were brought to Him by other people. Demons avoided direct contact.

All they can do before the Lord is to bow and scrape before Him. This is great dismay in their voices. There are no pleasantries exchanged. “Please do not cast us out with the rest of them.” Demons are very aware the Jesus will someday be their judge. “Also, He will say to those on His left, depart from Me into the accursed fire which has been prepared for the devil and his angels.” The demons don't know when the time of their judgment is. This is the dispensation of the Hypostatic Union. They know now they are in the Church Age, but that could end at any time. They live with this all of their lives. The horror of seeing the Lord Jesus Christ and that could mean their eternal judgment. They asked not to be tortured during this time they are waiting.

Hell will be eternal torture and demons know this for a fact. They have no doubt about that. This is a look into their psyche. There is a tremendous sense of urgency and constant fear; their lives, such as they are, are not pleasant.

We know that we will die, but we know that we will not be judged for our sins. Angels know for a fact that this will happen. Demons know this; pessimism, fear, anxiety; and they do not know when that time will come. They do know the countdown of the Tribulation.

The justice of God will never be denied. When Satan fell and the trial was convened and Satan and his angels were found guilty and condemned. But Satan appealed, saying, "How can You, a loving God, sentence Your creatures to eternal punishment?" All of God's attributes are a part of Who He is.

This one moment is a microcosm of the Angelic Conflict. Jesus was demonstrating His love to a greater extent. This is the time that Jesus takes on humanity and comes to die for us. This has never existed in the universe before.

Jesus' love cannot set aside His justice.

There is something else here. There is so much that we can draw from the demonic world in this one passage. The fear is palpable in this short conversation. They must also fear us; not equally, because Christ is in us and on our side.

The demons are desperate and there is their reckoning coming; and we will see this reckoning when Christ judges them.

Many have ridiculed the idea of demon-possession or even the idea of demons. They say it is just a vivid imagination or a holdover of superstitious times. Truly observation and experience of humanity indicates that the demonic is all too real; and it is all around us.

If Satan is real, then they must operate all around us, in the bodies, hearts and minds of others. The results is utter degradation to man. The effect is very noticeable in history. Among people of power and influence.

We are not the ones to decide who is demon-possessed and who is not. From passages like this, the manifestation of Satan's power was most active and most concentrated in the days of the 1st advent. Satan threw everything he could to defeat Jesus in any way that he could. It makes perfect sense. We know that He will win the strategic victory of the Angelic Conflict.

Satan had to discredit and overcome Jesus at all costs. Satan concentrated his forces in Galilee. Everywhere Jesus went, everywhere He traveled, demons and Satan were right there. This is why He casts out so many demons as He traveled about. During this time, Jesus had such a great opportunity to show His power over them. He showed His power over creatures who have so much more power than we do.

Knowing what happened in the 1st advent, we should not expect such concentrated and blatant activity in our own time. Don't doubt that Satan is still in action, but this is over a wider area; not so centered.

The demonic activity to day is much less noticeable but still on-going.

Demon Activity Today

1. Today, Satan and his demons concentrate on people in power all over the world. They certainly did this with the pharisees. Many of them were demon-influenced and some were demon-possessed. They were quite active among the pharisees.
2. Today, heads of state are susceptible if receptive to the demonic. They can be possessed or at least manipulated.
3. Satan attacks those who are in high influence. We do not know how many demons Satan has; probably a great many, but they are not omnipresent.
4. Satan is especially interested in client nations. He will concentrate more on client nations or national leaders who can effect client nations. Take that for what it is worth.
5. He concentrates on nations that can be affected internally by their government. There are many nations who can be affected by leadership. It has been proposed many times that Mao, Stalin and/or Hitler were possibly demon-possessed. Hitler's great antisemitism and actions are very indicative of demon-possession or demon-influence. There are some parallels of characteristics. But, today, we cannot be certain to call someone demon-possessed. We are unable to make that call simply by the way the person acts. There are certainly psychoses and madness that projects similar characteristics.

As believers, we do not need to search out the demonic. We are not witch hunters; we are not demon hunters.

We Know That Demons Are Present among us

1. We know this because of the evil around us.
2. Doctrine of demons can influence others. Look out for the influence of the cosmic system; look out for false religion.
3. You should understand that there is a rise in interest, especially in our time, in spiritism; the occult; psychic phenomenon.
4. Such people are vulnerable when they seek contact with spiritual forces in an effort to gain aid or information for their personal use. Sometimes the information is accurate. You do not need to know what is in your future. Just stay in the plan of God.
5. Satan is the father of evil and human good. How could he not be involved in one way or another where evil and human good are present. This is his modus operandi. You may not know who is demon-possessed, but you know the father of evil. Islam is exactly where demon activity is occurring.
6. Satan poses as an angel of light. But he is the father of lies. As such, he seeks to blind the mind of mankind. He seeks to blind the minds of men, but Satan is pure, unadulterated evil, as are his minions. He is utterly completely opposed to everything that God is and does. Even though evil is in the heart of every man, evil is the devil's domain.

7. Satan's cosmic system is constantly in action in the world in which he rules. It never stops. He does not sleep; he does not rest.

Believers in Jesus Christ cannot be possessed. We are indwelt by the Holy Spirit. So demons cannot come in. Unbelievers must be receptive to demons for them to come in.

Man is evil; we have a sin nature. We produce evil and human good. The believer is the only one who can escape the cosmic system. The only ones who can perform divine good.

Our Lord could call out a demon-possessed man and call him out; but we cannot nor should we. Many believers have speculated to the detriment of Christianity. There is no way to determine. So many things mimic demon-possession. Whether or not we know that someone is demon-possessed,

None of us are exorcists. Exorcism is a fallacy, even in the time of Jesus Christ. Incantations and spells and holy water; all of that; they are rites that do not do anything. Such activity led to a large-scale persecution like witch hunts, when people try to identify who has a demon. So witch hunts began. But you can claim that your enemy is demon-possessed and get them into all kinds of trouble.

Even in the apostles' age, there was no exorcism occurring. That focuses on demons in a wrong way.

Demonic activity is in the world today all around us. It is not our responsibility to root it out. We are not to figure out who is demon-possessed. Our responsibility, as always is, is to win tactical victories in the Angelic Conflict. Advancing in the spiritual life is the only weapon that we have. We have no weapon against demons. Our spiritual life is our ace in the hole. It is our great power.

Bobby finds this subject interesting,

Tomorrow, Bobby will prove to us the exorcism is a pagan ritual.

Lesson #0443

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

5/16/2013 Thurs

The more evil a society becomes, some believers begin to blame the demonic for the degradation and the depravity. The Angelic Conflict is ongoing, but we get where we are by means of our volition. The real problem with most people is not being chased by the devil, but the real problem is the sin nature. It is out of control and people continue to make poor decisions in their lives.

Demons are probably involved in high places in leadership. Demon-possessed or influenced. We also know where resident evil is present, the cosmic system of Satan and his demon minions are involved. They are very active in this world. Unbelievers can be demon-possessed and this has a direct affect on those around such a person.

Sometimes this has an affect on a much larger body of people. You can always tell because divine establishment is ridiculed and Christianity is denigrated. But none of us can identify people who are possessed or influenced.

An indicator today with an interest in the demonic, there is the occult and palm readers and fotune tellers. New age spiritism; horror films. As many horror films today as their used to be westerns. Most of these films have relationship to the demonic in some way.

The bizarre antics of a girl possessed by demons; and some of it was quite interestingly accurate. The rituals in the film were taken from rituals who occur. Demon-possessed people do not have heads that swivel 360 degrees. Portions of this entertainment have some validity to them.

Popular entertainment reflects the interests of the populace; and the population has been interested in these things for a long time. There have been a spate of vampire films and the vampire produces other vampires who carry out his bidding. Evil personified parallels demons in the human race. But it is just entertainment.

The films, in the crude and overt way, can represent what is real in the devil's domain. The Bible reveals the reality of the forces of Satan in this world.

From the incident that we are studying, we can learn much about the modus operandi of demons. What we know is true about the demonic is contained in Scripture. We can understand their power, the limits on their power, and their vulnerabilities.

People simply think of demon-possession just as something terrible; but what we know about demons is much more subtle than that. The demons affect many many things.

One of the worst demon-possessed people and the worst found in the Bible. He is powerful, crazy, intimidating, and he dominated that countryside and the town of Gerarah?

Jesus has complete power over the demonic realm. Demons have no chance over the Lord Jesus Christ. Their opposition to us is futile. We defeat them by growing in grace; and they hate us for it. We are on the winning side.

One aspect of this incident. Only one of them addresses the Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus does cast out the demons in these two men. Jesus and His disciples all had the ability to cast out demons. But there are those today who fancy themselves as the same thing.

Bob got in an argument with a pastor who came out of his church, and this man thought that he could cast out demons and he would hunt the demonic. They look to remove demons from other people. What a waste of time. Would that there was an easy way to solve today's problems.

Even removing a demon leaves a sin nature behind. And we do not know who is possessed by a demon. There are a lot of crazy people in this world; and some do need meds to get by with it.

Modern medicine can take care of all kinds of chemical imbalances. So often, some think they are getting better because their meds are working; so they stop taking them.

No one can cast out demons from unbelievers like the Lord and the Apostles could. There are no exorcists. Exorcism is and was a fallacy.

Jesus was not an exorcist. Exorcism was always associated with pagan activity. When Jesus casts out demons, there are two Greek verbs used: εκβαλλω which means to cast out. The other one is εξερχομαι. The one never found is εξορκιζω, which means to exorcize. This verb is not used with Jesus or with the Apostles. The noun form or its cognate means to charge under oath, to implore. There is a much different meaning. These words are used of religious practitioners who attempt to exorcize demons by using incantations and various rites.

Paul debunks these activities in Acts 14:13. It was devised to evict demons through man's religious oaths. No Jesus and no Holy Spirit.

Exorcism Is a Fallacy

1. Εκβαλλω and εξερχομαι are used throughout the New Testament when Jesus or the disciples deal with demons.
2. Never was the terminology exorcism used.
3. Pagan activity today called exorcism (and even Christians use this). Never used with the legitimate activity of removing Christ or the Apostles. They were the only ones who cast out demons or sent them out.
4. Casting out a demon was a gift used by some of the disciples; and this gift was used less and less as the canon was completed. Exorcism was never authorized by God in any dispensation. With exorcism, it is a process. All kinds of oaths and rituals are used. But Jesus just sent them out.
5. One is Biblical and one is not Biblical.

Look over the book Demonism.

Final Points of Demon-possession

1. It is not important for us to know who is possessed and who is not. There are people in this world who are demon-possessed.
2. Even if we knew for certain that someone was demon-possessed, we could do nothing about it.
3. Man has no authority over demons; none.
4. Demons do not follow our orders. They do not care about our magical formulas of exorcism. They do not obey oaths or incantations of mankind. There is no reason for them to. Why would they do that? They have a mission and they will perform that mission. They can do nothing about those who move toward maturity.

5. The only deliverance from demon-possession today is by means of faith alone in Christ alone. Only unbelievers can be possessed; and when a person accepts Christ, demon-possession is over forever.
6. The operative power of the indwelling and filling of the Holy Spirit removes the demon and the demonic control.
7. What is important for us to know about demon-possession? It is only important for us to live the spiritual life.

When a person believes in Jesus Christ, if they are possessed, the demon is cast out.

All of the humanism and relative thinking is just cosmic thinking; it is demon philosophy. There is a lot of demonism in Buddhism and in Islam. When you meditate in the methods utilized in Eastern religions; when there are religious overtones, it is wrong and it is dangerous. Yoga is okay for exercise, but nothing more.

As the demon said in Matt. 8:29, he is worried.

Matt. 8:29 And, behold! They cried out, saying, What is to us and to You, Jesus, Son of God? Have You come here beforetime to torment us?

He was worried that Jesus was going to send him to the pit. There was a place that he does not to be consigned to. He does not want to go to jail, so to speak.

The demons possessing these men boffed and resisted being removed. How can they possibly resist being removed?

Mark 5:8 For He said to him, Unclean spirit, come out of the man!

It is a demon who is being cast out. Christ has been saying. Imperfect active indicative. It is used in a very specific way. This is a progressive imperfect. The action is in progress in past time. Progressing action in past time.

While the demon is bowing and questioning the circumstances and balking, Jesus is ordering him out of the man.

The Lord is saying, εισερχομαι, but the demon is stalling for time, even though his removal is inevitable. He continues to protest. And Jesus asks him some questions. This is because the disciples needed to understand. This was a lesson for them. This was for their further understanding of demonology. They needed this knowledge.

Mark 5:9 And He asked him, What is your name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion, because we are many.

Jesus asks him, "Who are you?" The name he gives is a description. The legion of Roman soldiers is around 6000. This demon to call himself Legion indicates that there was a group here; a unit. They work together. They are part of a team, just as a legion is a team as well. We have no idea how many are involved.

This is a euphemism for many demons. Many demons were represented by this one spokesman.

Jesus is not intimidated. These are creatures whom He has created. They possess and influence as one combined force under the leadership of one demon. The leadership was out front; he was the voice of this group. There must be a hierarchy of demons. There is a demon order of battle. There are demon soldiers. There is an organized group of authority here; and they do not necessarily work solo, although that is how we often see it.

The Group of Demons in this Man

1. These demons were afraid of what would happen.
2. They were uncertain as to the meaning of this confrontation. They are looking for answers. Why must we confront Him?
3. Legion tries to find a way of escape from the presence of Christ; a place to go when cast out. They are worried that they are going into the Lake of Fire.
4. They had no choice but to comply when confronted with the authority of God. They were leaving.
5. But they still protested and balked. Some of them must have been lawyers. They were looking for technicalities.
6. They were following their great leader.
7. Satan got a reprieve in his appeal. It worked once; why not try it again? These demons protested just as Satan had one in eternity past. They followed his lead.
8. These guys had nothing to lose at this point. They are ultimately doomed. The justice of God will not be denied. What do they have to lose?
9. They were desperate to escape that final doom, if this was about to occur.
10. If the boom was not about to be lowered, they wanted out of Jesus' presence. It is uncomfortable for them. These demons want no part of this.

Mark 5:10 And he begged Him very much that He would not send them outside the country.

They did not want to be sent away. They do not want to be sent away into the abyss. They knew that they were coming out. It is in this protest that we learn a little of their modus operandi and we learn the fear that they live with. They beg for a reprieve; that is all that they can do.

We need to find out about this abyss and why they are pleading. We are finding out how they think and how they act and what they fear.

Mar 5:11 And a great herd of pigs were feeding there near the mountain.

Mar 5:12 And all the demons begged Him, saying, Send us into the pigs, that we may enter into them.

Lesson #0444

Mark 5:5– Life of Christ

5/19/2013 1Sunday

The Geraseen demoniac is our topic. Southeast of the Sea of Galilee. This is one of the worst cases of demon possession in all of the Bible. This demon-possessed man was completely and totally insane. He lived in the cave-tombs that overlooked the sea, a very macabre place. Day and night he let out blood-curdling screams. He was violent and very strong. No one moved about in that area when he and his friend were out and about.

Mark 5:5–7 And continually night and day in the hills, and in the tombs, he was crying and cutting himself with stones. And seeing Jesus from afar, he ran and bowed the knee to Him. And crying with a loud voice, he said, What is to me and to You, Jesus, Son of the most high God? I adjure You by God, do not torment me.

There are these two demon-possessed men, but only one of them is central to this story. One of the men spied the Lord Jesus Christ and waled toward Him, and he dropped to his knees in front of the Lord Jesus Christ. This was a show of subservience to the authority of the God-man, Who is Jesus Christ. This one demon spoke to the Lord. He asked a question, “What business do we have with each other, Son of the Most High God?” This demon testified as to the Person of Jesus Christ. That was visible to all of those who are there.

“Did You come here to torment us before the time? In God’s name, I beg you, do not torture me.”

Demons and Jesus Christ

1. Demons know that Jesus is the Son of God. They know that He will be their Judge at the last judgment. They know that their ultimate end is eternal torture. This was the obvious reason why this demon implored Jesus not to torture him.
2. Demons live in constant fear of the final judgment. Absolute, abject fear. They are terrified of God’s wrath. They know Then He will say to those on His left, “Depart from Me, accursed ones, into the eternal fire which has been prepared for the devil and his angels.” They are restless, crafty, brutal but in fear; and they understand torture. And they torture the human race in many ways. They desire to undermine the Lord Jesus Christ. They hold on to that hope. Constant harassment of believers in the Lord Jesus Christ is their way to keep the cosmic system running at full speed. The operational Angelic Conflict, and we are in the middle of it. The disciples are also in the middle of this conflict, but they need this lesson in demonology. There is an invisible war which goes on around us, and this narrative is a glimpse of something that we cannot see, but continues throughout human history.
3. Demons work in groups. They do not necessarily work solo. Luke 8:30 “My name is legion” indicating that there are a number of demons in this man; “For we are many.” All of these demons are represented by this one spokesman. Demons do not act helter skelter; they act as a unit under a commander. Here there are many.

The demon forces of Satan are just as much our enemies as they are to God.

Mark 5:8 For He said to him, Unclean spirit, come out of the man!

Jesus calls for the demons to come out. No oaths, no incantations, no dancing around the guy. It is a simple, “Come out, you unclean spirit.” Jesus was not an exorcist; and there is no such thing as exorcism at any time. During the time of the questioning about the demon’s name, they had still not emerged from this man. They were afraid of what would happen when they left. They were uncertain; they were not happy to be in His presence.

The demons had no choice but to comply in this matter. They still protested; they still balked. They tried to find an escape clause.

Satan objected, and he was let off the hook for awhile. The Angelic Conflict shows that Jesus is love, justice and righteousness. The cross is the nail in their coffins. This is why they opposed it so much.

Luke 8:31 And they begged Him that He not order them to go away into the abyss.

It is this protest that the demons give us another look at their modus operandi. They reveal their greatest fear that keeps them restless and always moving. “Send us anyplace but to the abyss.”

What Was the Abyss? What Was the History of this Term?

1. In the early stages of human history, God had to incarcerate a vast company of Satna’s demons in a place called Tataros. 2Peter :4 Also known as Hades or Gehenna.
2. This segment of demons were called sons of God; or bene haElohim. This is always a phrase referring to an angelic being. Gen. 6:4 Job 1, 2 all contain this term.
3. These sons of God who were a part of the fall, these were the one-third of angels who fell and became demons. They procreated with the daughters of men. These are human women on earth at that time.
4. This union produced the half-human/half-angelic creatures. This is not a myth; this happened. Called Nephaliim. Bob speculated that much of the mythology of the Greeks and Romans were related to them. This historical account was probably the foundation of the mythology.
5. In ths union, the Nephaliim attempted to contaminate the purity of the human race. Why would they do that? This was an early attack of Satan against the plan of God.
6. The Nephaliim’s goal was ot corrupt human genetics and, thereby, foil They understood that God would come to earth as the Savior.

7. If they corrupted the human race, then Jesus could not come into this world without being corrupted Himself.
- 8.
9. This genetic attack on the human race necessitated the flood of Noah's day to cleanse the earth. Gen. 6:12–13
10. The flood's purpose was to annihilate the Nephaliim, and it did; and it destroyed the evil which they produced. All of these ancient civilizations have a flood myth; and it was there for different reasons, but also a part of Satan's attempt to confuse mankind.
11. The demons were then chained with eternal bonds, to prevent further attempts to destroy the line of Christ. There, incarcerated, they await their final punishment. Jude 12
12. This was where these demons pleaded not to be sent. They did not want to be incarcerated in a compartment of Hades, and there to await their judgment. This is what they feared.

Even as they trembled and begged, they also schemed at the same time.

We learn much about this invisible war from all of this.

Some distance away on the mountain side, a large herd of pigs were feeding. "If you cast us out, let us enter the pigs." Why would they want to go into this herd of pigs? And why did Jesus allow them to do this? Everything they do is designed to oppose the plan of God.

Feminine_noun: abussos (ἄβυσσος) [pronounced AB-oos-soss], which means, 1) bottomless; 2) unbounded; 3) the abyss; 3a) the pit; 3b) the immeasurable depth; 3c) of Orcus, a very deep gulf or chasm in the lowest parts of the earth used as the common receptacle of the dead and especially as the abode of demons. Thayer Definition only. Lesson #0445

Luke 8:31–33 Life of Christ

5/19/2013 2Sunday

Even occupying pigs was much better than what these demons feared would happen. What happens next tells us how demons operate. Most people do not dig deeper into this story; nor do they attempt to understand what is happening in this unseen war.

Luke 8:31–33 And they begged Him not to banish them to the abyss. A large herd of pigs was there, feeding on the hillside. The demons begged Him to permit them to enter the pigs, and He gave them permission. The demons came out of the man and entered the pigs, and the herd rushed down the steep bank into the lake and drowned.

Pigs can swim, and they do not attempt to swim out. They are a very smart animal. But they do not attempt to save themselves.

Satan used a snake for his nefarious purposes. He was not above entering an animal like this; so it is no wonder that demons would choose pigs. What were the specific reasons the demons asked to enter into this herd? They were not bent on destroying themselves.

The demons did not drown; demons do not die. They are eternal creatures. They occupy the swine for one reason and one reason only. It was their intention to destroy this whole herd. This demon was very crafty in this scheme. This demon and all of them were staring into the jaws of hell, and, at the same time, they are scheming.

The Plan of the Demons.

1. The demons are constantly seeking ways to defeat the Lord Jesus Christ. They don't sit around in a bar and smoke and joke. They have no down time. They only scheme on how to defeat us and how can they defeat Jesus Christ.
2. Even in the terrible fear of the abyss, they were still trying to discredit and to defeat the Lord Jesus Christ. How can entering swine do this?
3. These pigs in the agrarian economy represented a lot of money. They represented wealth, all going over the cliff.
4. There would be a great loss with these pigs. This is a great economic disaster for the ranchers here. This implied that Jesus shows us, and their economy falls. They manage to put the blame on someone else. They think they can escape being caught and punished by putting the blame on someone else.
5. The townspeople would be upset that Jesus allowed these demons to enter into the pigs. He did not have to do that.
6. The demons target of the razorbacks was designed to arouse the anger the people of Gedara against the Lord Jesus Christ.
7. Therefore, with their anger and emotions at a fever pitch, any message that Jesus might bring would be rejected. This is exactly what happened.

Matt. 8:33–34 Then the men who tended them fled. They went into the city and reported everything--especially what had happened to those who were demon-possessed. At that, the whole town went out to meet Jesus. When they saw Him, they begged Him to leave their region.

These pig-minders were terrified at this, and they did not want to take the blame for this; and they wanted to tell everyone else that Jesus is responsible for this. This is what the demons wanted to happen.

This was quite a graphic of the demons that the mess that they caused. Who could have conceived of this, apart from seeing it with your own eyes. First, there is the crazy man that everyone knows. So they understood the demon possession of the man. The demons then enter into the herd of a very valuable livestock. There is a mad rush over a cliff and the animals die, drowning. This parallels the violence of the demon-possessed man. What the man was, now the pigs were. This is the power that demons had over man and animals. All of their power was demonstrated right here. Also, we see what their objectives are.

This brings out the lesson for the disciples which Jesus wanted them to understand; and wants us to understand. The herdsmen put on their sandals and girded them up and took off like it was a track meet. This often happens when there is some bizarre event and some terrible tragedy; especially when there is a huge destruction of property. There are all kinds of emotions when one's own property has been destroyed.

Thinking about this, and several things come to our minds. It would seem that Jesus Christ had total disregard for the property of others. After all, this was the property of the city of Gedara. Jesus did not directly command the demons to enter into the swine. He just gave them permission. The demons chose to go from one to the other; and then to destroy the pigs. They demons could have just left the area. They wanted to go to the pigs and to discredit Jesus. This was their parting shot at Him.

God's Permissive Will and Evil

1. This is an example of God's permissive will. Disciples must understand the permissive will of God.
2. We know, as always, when God's permissive will is involved, even when something bad results, it is for a specific for a specific reason with good results for us. Bad events may come to pass, but His permissive will brings out eventual good.
3. God does not perpetrate or authorize evil. He gets blamed all of the time for it. "Why does God allow this to happen to me?"
4. This was the same permissive will under which God allowed Satan to attack Job. It is the same principle. When Job had his troubles, it was not pleasant. Job lost everything.
5. That permission to Satan was for a specific reason in the plan of God and in relation to the Angelic Conflict. There is always a reason for God's permissive will and it is usually connected to the Angelic Conflict. What did Satan attack with Job? Satan attacked Job's wealth, where man appears to be most vulnerable. All kinds of scandals in our government, but the one that seems to gather momentum, and that is the one in the IRS. When a person's pocketbook is hit, they take notice. These demons went after money, wealth, prosperity. They attacked the prosperity of this city, in order to bring the blame down on the Lord Jesus Christ.
6. Just as Job would learn and advance as a result of God's permissive will; how Job took it in the teeth. It was Satan's idea and Satan's volition. Job had a test, and he passed this test. The spiritual life for Job is more important than all of his wealth. Job lost his livestock, his camels, his family; only his wife remained. God permitted that. This was done so that Job would advance, and so would the disciples from this incident. This was so that we can understand the thinking of demons and the thinking of Jesus Christ. The disciples are learning who has the power in this universe. We can think as Jesus Christ thinks. That is what the disciples need to be able to do. They learn and we learn.

This was instructive, although the townsfolk responded differently than Job did.

Mark 5:14 The men who tended them ran off and reported it in the town and the countryside, and people went to see what had happened.

Mark 5:15–16 They came to Jesus and saw the man who had been demon-possessed by the legion, sitting there, dressed and in his right mind; and they were afraid. The eyewitnesses described to them what had happened to the demon-possessed man and told about the pigs.

This was a perfect picture of the salvation of Jesus Christ. They could see this in the man whom Jesus rid of demons. Salvation is right in front of them, but they are concerned for their money. They could only see their own loss and all they wanted was for Jesus to go away. You would think that the sight of this cured demoniac would be a welcome sight. He was an economic disaster as well. He was calm and clothed and learned at the feet of Jesus Christ. But they do not consider him. They think about their pigs. Their wealth is all that concerns them.

Mark 5:17 Then they began to beg Him to leave their region.

This man had gone from being the worst state to the best. He wanted to go with Jesus, and Jesus needed him to stay there.

Mark 5:18 As He was getting into the boat, the man who had been demon-possessed kept begging Him to be with Him.

He wanted to be a part of Jesus' ministry. But the townspeople were furious over their loss of swine. The salvation of this man or their own salvation was not important to them. They overlooked the eternal fact for a more immediate tangible fact. They were willing to trade their eternity for their potential financial well-being.

Lesson #0446

Mark 5:14– Life of Christ

5/22/2013 Wed

There are so many reactions to our Lord's miracles. Believing in Jesus Christ is one response; the pharisees opposed everything that Jesus did. At many points, the pharisees said that Jesus performed His miracles in the power of Beelzebub.

Some reacted with uncertainty and some with fear. In this case. The Gerizim demoniac was one of the worst. The demons went into the swine and they all went into the lake, and this caused the townsfolk to blame Jesus for this. They voiced an economic objection to Jesus casting out the legion of demons. Not sure if there were 2000 demons or that some of these pigs were just herded along.

Mark 5:14 The men who tended them ran off and reported it in the town and the countryside, and people went to see what had happened.

Mark 5:15 They came to Jesus and saw the man who had been demon-possessed by the legion, sitting there, dressed and in his right mind; and they were afraid.

Mark 5:16 The eyewitnesses described to them what had happened to the demon-possessed man and told about the pigs.

There was this crazed demoniac and now he was cured; and this would have been helpful to everyone, since they could come into this region without being attacked and threatened.

This man now believed in Jesus the Savior and he was delivered from the power of the demonic and he was eternally saved. So he had gratitude to Jesus. His was the only response that the people should have had.

But the people were afraid and they were furious about pigs. These swine belonged to many in the town. The size of the herd meant wealth. The town was built around this agriculture. The whole center of this city's commerce jumped into a lake and down they went. They lost their property and their wealth. They were more concerned with their material possessions than they were with this man and with their own spiritual situation. They were giving more thought to the pigs than to their own souls. They were greedy pigs.

Jesus was a threat to their business. It was no longer business as usual. This is like so many people in this country today. So many find wealth as the only thing. People will do anything for money.

The love of money was the root of all kinds of evil. This is not an unusual circumstance for anyone who rejects the Lord Jesus Christ. This is materialistic humanism. Believers are not that much different. Monetary reversionism in 1Tim. 6:3–5. They see money as a means of happiness. Many think that they will be taken care of.

Where are the angels of government who are going to do everything for everyone? It is all corruption. Others seem money as being power to buy anything.

Jesus demonstrated His power over demons; and the people were aware of this power because they had put up with these two demon-possessed men for a long time. They no longer seemed to care about this. None of them even saw these demon-possessed men and congratulated them. Instead, these townspeople wanted Jesus out of their district. "Get out of town. You killed our pigs."

Wealth and power for the here and now. No thought is given to eternity.

Jesus died for these people of Gedarra, even though they rejected Him.

Mark 5:17 Then they began to beg Him to leave their region.

2000 swine and the Jews? What did they have them all for? These Gaderim were, for the most part, unbelieving gentiles. Galilee is undoubtedly Jewish. Samaritans were in Samaria and they were semitic. East of the Jordan consisted mostly of gentiles. Jesus as going to the gentiles.

These gentiles were also superstitious. This herd of dead pigs was without a doubt a supernatural event. Fear gripped them. Superstition is an irrational fear or belief of supernatural influences. This pig thing was a supernatural event and this was the gods punishing them. They were right there with God, but they were too engrossed in their own superstitions.

Do you think that Satan or his demons are impressed by your antics to throw them off. That is laughable to him and to his minions. Throw salt over your shoulder? There is only one way to combat Satan and his demons and that is by living the spiritual life. You do not go to a psychic reader; you are going over to the wrong side. We do not need to know our future.

Gedara feared the supernatural influence of Jesus Christ. But no one needs to fear Jesus. He has just driven out supernatural influences. The supernatural forces are powerless before Him.

These people feared the further loss of possessions. They preferred the demons. They preferred their sins. They preferred the swine over Jesus. The disciples must have been surprised. They saw some incredible things; but these people rejected Him.

Mark 5:18 As He was getting into the boat, the man who had been demon-possessed kept begging Him to be with Him.

The Gedarans wanted Jesus to leave; but the formerly demon-possessed man wanted to join Jesus and to go with Him.

Mark 5:19 But He would not let him; instead, He told him, "Go back home to your own people, and report to them how much the Lord has done for you and how He has had mercy on you."

This guy has been seen by an entire town, and they rejected Jesus; but Jesus told him to remain.

Mark 5:20 So he went out and began to proclaim in the Decapolis how much Jesus had done for him, and they were all amazed.

There was a huge area around there who needed to hear about Jesus. The was Decapolis; and all of them knew about this demon-possessed man. People were amazed to see this man. There was another sort of mission that Jesus had for this man. He was to counter what the Gaderians were saying about Jesus. This was a missionary to Decapolis.

This Evangelist to the Gentiles

1. This man became a sensational testimony for Jesus Christ in a district that needed to hear. This was a heathen gentile district. Jesus was concerned for these gentiles.
2. This man's testimony to Christ was powerfully backed by the changed life that he now lived. He was dressed and rational now.

3. He presented a message of hopelessness turned to confidence in the One who cast out demons.
4. In short, this man became one of the great missionaries to the gentiles of the messiahship of Jesus. We have no idea how many believed; but probably a lot. He became a glad messenger and a great message came from him simply because of these few moments with Jesus.
5. No one could have done a better job of evangelism, based upon his past. His impact was based upon his past. He is able to be a great witness based upon his past.
6. The most effective witnessing can occur from those whose lives have changed as doctrine renovates it. Some of the worst of us can have the greatest impact. There was a man in the Berachah pulpit who became a Christian; and he led the attack on Pearl Harbor. He began WWII with us; his life had changed. He had a great impact based upon his past.
7. Application: An evil past does not mean that God cannot use you. What God has in store for us might be very surprising. The Lord knows. Our Job is to grow.

Don't be disappointed if you don't get exactly what you think you should get.

God Uses Us Where We Are

1. God does not always give believers their desires.
2. He instead assigns them the mission where they will have the most impact. The demon-possessed man wanted to go with Jesus; but Jesus placed him where he would have the most impact.
3. Your mission, and you must accept it, will be most suitable to your place, your background and your talents in life. God will use us where we are most effective. He may move us a long distance. Most of us, it is right where we live.
4. So every believer must develop patience and humility and wait for the assignment or the opportunity. The opportunity is coming.
5. When we are ready and the opportunity comes, we jump in to be used. We prepare for our mission. We continue to grow spiritually.

What Did the Disciples Learn in All of This?

1. They saw the demonstration of Jesus' great power over demons; this was the greatest concentration of demonic power.
2. They saw the demons recognize Jesus and His authority and His control over them.
3. So our Lord Jesus Christ showed the disciples His power over nature on the trip over Gedara.
4. He then showed His complete power over the most powerful creatures ever created.
5. The disciples in the future need not fear the demonic or nature. They would face similar situations in the future. Shipwreck and all kinds of opposition; and all kinds of abuse.
6. Now the disciples understand that Jesus is more powerful than the natural and the supernatural. Both then and now.

Jesus has no choice but to return to Capernaum.

Mark 5:21 When Jesus had crossed over again by boat to the other side, a large crowd gathered around Him while He was by the sea.

This crowd had been waiting for Him.

Lesson #0447

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

5/23/2013 Thurs

Mark 5:21 Luke 8:40

Mark 5:21 When Jesus had crossed over again by boat to the other side, a large crowd gathered around Him while He was by the sea.

Jesus has returned to Capernaum, which was His HQ at this time. He is returning after the very long day. He retired to Gedara on the other side of the sea; storm on the way over; and a storm of a human being waiting on the shore (actually, 2 of them).

The people welcomed Him, which was a different attitude. They had been waiting for Him.

Luke 8:40 When Jesus returned, the crowd welcomed Him, for they were all expecting Him.

Luke 8:41–56 in these miracles, Jesus concentrates on the doctrine of faith. There will be some superstition with a woman. It was an important lesson that Jesus needed to teach His disciples. Mark 5:22–43 Matt. 9:18–

Jesus is speaking and this man approaches Jesus.

Luke 8:41 Just then, a man named Jairus came. He was a leader of the synagogue. He fell down at Jesus' feet and pleaded with Him to come to his house,

He pleaded with Jesus to come and cure his little daughter. There is a lot of faith in this man's soul. He was probably an elder in the synagogue; a powerful and respected man. This man understood who Jesus was.

He may have been aware of Jesus healing the centurion; and he knew about the Lord Jesus Christ at least through that.

Whatever the relationship was, it is clear that Jesus recognized Jesus as his Savior, as he fell before Jesus in worship.

Luke 8:42 because he had an only daughter about 12 years old, and she was at death's door. While He was going, the crowds were nearly crushing Him.

There is great anguish in this man's soul. He was certainly distraught and in extreme distress. In front of this entire crowd, this man fell on his knees. He recognized the superiority of Jesus Christ. Most officials in the synagogues recognized only their own authority. He knew that Jesus' authority was far beyond his own.

This little girl was in the last stages of her death struggle. She may have been comatose at this time. While Jairus is speaking to the Lord, his little girl dies.

Matt. 9:19 So Jesus and His disciples got up and followed him.

There could be quite a rowdy crowd around Jesus. Jesus responded to this man's request with the crowd in tow. Jesus will perform one of the greatest miracles, but most of the crowd will not be allowed to see it.

However, before reaching that house, another incident occurs.

Luke 8:43 A woman suffering from bleeding for 12 years, who had spent all she had on doctors yet could not be healed by any,

This woman has suffered for a long time, spending all of her money to be healed by these doctors; and she was no better; she has gotten worse. Her condition was incurable. She had suffered greatly from these cures that she was subjected to. She was bled of her money in this.

Medical science in those days was primitive. Some of the medicines and cures were bizarre and many of them were superstitions.

There were concoctions that would be made up from the heads of mice, the eyes of crabs, the livers of frogs, as well as a number of other things.

For dysentery, because of the water and lack of sanitary condition; and the cure was powdered horse teeth. Cure for a head cold was kissing a mule's nose. These would not qualify as holistic approaches to medicine.

This woman had tried a number of doctors and none of this worked.

She appears to be a hemophiliac. The constant bleeding and hemorrhaging meant that she was ceremonially unclean. Her bleeding never stopped. She was an outcast for 12 years. She was unclean and could not be purified by the rituals of the Mosaic Law. She was unable to be cured physically or in the spiritual sense either.

She was in a hopeless circumstance. She had nowhere to go; and nothing left. She did not know what to do next. Then she heard about Jesus and she found Him in this crowd, and the crowd is pressing in on Him.

She will be healed by clandestine means.

She finds the Lord and touches the hem of His robe. She had been trying to determine how to get His attention. Jairus was a man of power; but this woman was an outcast. She Jairus could come to Jesus but she could not.

Her bleeding stopped immediately and she knew that she had been cured of her affliction. Touching the garment indicated that she had faith. She had the faith that knew that this would happen.

There was some superstitious thinking that needed to be corrected.

The Woman and the Hem of Jesus' Garment

1. Surely she had believed in Jesus Christ. She believed He could heal her.
2. But she also thought that the process needed a touch of His garment. She has faith but she also needed to touch His garment.
3. Her thinking was, His garment would heal her. The garment could do it, as if it had some magical power. She believes in Jesus but she is confused.
4. She was expressing positive volition. This woman believed.
5. She knew that Christ was the source of her deliverance. The actual means of her healing, of her deliverance, needed to be cleared up. That needed to be explained. Her touch His robe was a very telling aspect of this incident.

Luke 8:44 approached from behind and touched the tassel of His robe. Instantly her bleeding stopped.

The woman only touches the hem of the robe; this reveals that her attitude toward the Lord Jesus Christ.

What Does this Reveal?

1. This is a picture of addressing royalty and authority.
2. Whenever in the ancient world presented himself to royalty, to a king, he first knelt and touched the hem of his robe.
3. The hem is the lowest part of the robe. Touching that meant recognition and submission to superior rank and authority. This was an act of total submission.
4. It signified that the one presenting himself as loyal and obedient to the sovereign.
5. By touching the hem of His cloak, this woman gave testimony to her faith in His royal authority; His sovereignty, and to the fact that He was her Lord.
6. This indicates her acceptance of Him as her absolute Sovereign.

She got close to Jesus and she fell down on that filthy street to touch the hem of His cloak. She lay in the filth of the road to touch His robe. She knew she had been healed. The bleeding finally stopped. She knew that her faith had not been misplaced. Her belief in Him had been confirmed by what just happened. She also had to be awestruck, to be suddenly cured. She was happy about her cure, she was happy; but she faded back into the crowd. She did not want to be identified. She was used to being an outcast. That is what she was used to. She made anyone she touched ceremonially unclean. This would be trumped by her faith. This is a picture of sin and salvation which has nothing to do with her. Her faith made her no longer an outcast. She was washed and healed. She knew about the physical change; she did not know about the spiritual.

Luke 8:45 "Who touched Me?" Jesus asked. When they all denied it, Peter said, "Master, the crowds are hemming You in and pressing against You."

She tried to avoid detection by fading back into the crowd. Jesus healed with a purpose. He picked and chose His spots; there was a lesson to be learned.

Jairus was leading them to his house; and then this unclean woman touches Him.

Jesus was in a crowd and probably several people bumped against Him, as they pressed against Him.

Peter points out that a number of the crowd were moving in on Him. Jesus knows.

Luke 8:46 "Somebody did touch Me," said Jesus. "I know that power has gone out from Me."

Jesus is aware of the touch, that it was on purpose and not inadvertent. Jesus knew exactly who she was. The woman had faith. She did the action. But Jesus would do this to explain what had happened.

Luke 8:47 When the woman saw that she was discovered, she came trembling and fell down before Him. In the presence of all the people, she declared the reason she had touched Him and how she was instantly cured.

No one knew that she had done this. No one knew that she had touched Him; no one knew that she was cured. There was a miracle, and only Jesus and the woman knew of it.

Jesus said, "I was aware that power had gone out of Me."

What Happened Here?

1. It was not that power had drained from Him like some physical release of power. If you exert energy, you feel drained, but that did not happen here.
2. Jesus was not suddenly tired as if He had exerted some physical energy.
3. Jesus simply meant that He was aware that this miracle had occurred. He did feel the touch. He did not see her and He said nothing to heal her. This simply means that He knew this. The woman explains, "I touched His hem and I am cured." Jesus used this means to explain.
4. This statement become important in identifying the source of the miracle.
5. Jesus was going to remove any superstition in her mind or in the crowds' mind as to what just happened. It is very graphic.

6. In citing His power going out from Him, Jesus corrected her thinking concerning His garment. She had the wrong idea that touching his garment was the key. That mystical idea had to be corrected.
7. Jesus needed to clarify that the garment is not the object of faith and that it was not what cured her.

After all this, Jesus says this: When Jesus calls her daughter, this means that she is a part of the family of God. The touch signifies her faith and it is the faith that matters. It is what she expressed by her faith.

Luke 8:48 "Daughter," He said to her, "your faith has made you well. Go in peace."

A Little Doctrine

1. Man by his own effort can do nothing to be healed. This woman had to find Him and touch the hem. But her effort did not do anything to heal her.
2. This woman was unclean. This signifies that she is a sinner.
3. She could not do anything about the ravages of the blood. She could no more do that than purge herself of her own sin. Nor was any person capable of doing this.
4. Only Jesus could heal the physical disease. This was a superstitious bunch of people; and they got into things like this. The Jews often mixed their Judaism with some pagan influence.
5. The fact that Jesus said, "Your faith has made you well" is the statement of her salvation by faith alone in Christ alone; and not by the cloak.

What did the disciples learn from all of this? Next time for that.

Lesson #0448

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

5/26/2013 1Sunday

What is the mission that our soldiers risk life and limb for at this very moment. It is doubtful that the administration could tell us why they are there. Victory should always be the objective and we should never go to war without have clear objectives. For what reason do we put into harm's way our most precious assets? As we think about past heroes, we cannot set those questions aside about today's military.

16 million patriots fought in WWII; fewer than 500 received the medal of honor, most of those posthumously.

George E. Day. North Vietnam POW. Gary someone in Somalia. This was brought to life in Blackhawk Down.

One thing in common; they are all heroes and they fought for our freedom.

A short story of one man, William "Bill" Crawford; a short story and he was a squadron janitor. He did his job so well, none of us had to get involved. He did not move very quickly; he even shuffled a bit. Turns out he was a medal of honor recipient. "That was one day in my life and that was a long time ago."

After the incident with the crazed demon-possessed man, Jesus returned to Capernaum. He disembarked from the boat and he was surrounded by a crowd. This crowd was very happy to see Him. He was a great celebrity of Capernaum. Believers in particular had missed Him. Luke 8:41–42

Luke 8:41 Just then, a man named Jairus came. He was a leader of the synagogue. He fell down at Jesus' feet and pleaded with Him to come to his house,

Luke 8:42 because he had an only daughter about 12 years old, and she was at death's door. While He was going, the crowds were nearly crushing Him.

He put aside his high position and came to Jesus to ask for his daughter's life. That is an expression of faith and Jesus agreed to go to his house. Jesus needed to teach a lesson to his disciples in this particular situation. The disciples needed to understand this lesson.

Before Jesus could reach this home, something else occurred.

Luke 8:43 A woman suffering from bleeding for 12 years, who had spent all she had on doctors yet could not be healed by any,

This woman was an outcast, and her money had been spent on doctors. Because of her bleeding, she was unacceptable to society. She was at the end of her rope. She was in a hopeless circumstance. Jesus was her last hope; her only hope. She represents all of us. She was out of options. There was nothing that she could do.

There was a solid group of people moving along with Jesus and this woman inches closer to Jesus, until she is next to Him. She drops on her face and touches the hem of his robe. She is laying down in the street, in the filthy street.

Matt. 9:21 for she said to herself, "If I can just touch His robe, I'll be made well!"

This was her idea.

Luke 8:44 approached from behind and touched the tassel of His robe. Instantly her bleeding stopped.

She may have attributed her cure to the touch, so Jesus must clear this up. She could not have stopped the ravages of her bleeding on her own; only Jesus could heal the physical disease.

Matt. 9:22 But Jesus turned and saw her. "Have courage, daughter," He said. "Your faith has made you well." And the woman was made well from that moment.

Jesus makes it clear that she is saved by faith; not by touching His cloak. This is a representation of all of us. She is an outcast sinner unable to cure herself. And we can, in that state, turn to Jesus Christ for salvation. The disciples needed to learn a lesson from this. We have not covered this quite yet.

Lesson #0449

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

5/26/2013 2Sunday

Bobby asks us to think about someone who is part of the military; possibly pray for someone in the military. Bobby has many memories of his 10 years in the army. These are cherished memories.

There would be no free nation without the military. We thank those men and women who have give so much for us all.

There seem to be so many moments; so much teaching that takes place. Every word to come out of the living Word of God is important to us. What Jesus provided for this woman is a microcosm of what He has provided for us. This very simply set of doctrinal principles on this filthy street, and He tells this woman, "Your faith has saved you." This woman was a sinner; her blood made her unclean. She could, in no way, stop the ravages of her bleeding on her own. Nor could anyone else. Understanding all of this, what lesson did these disciples learn? What principle of doctrine must be learned.

What Do We Learn from this Incident?

1. Jesus showed His grace to this woman who did not deserve it; she was an outcast. Jesus was on the way to the house of a man of power and influence, and this man has begged the Lord for His help.
2. There is no person, no matter how low, who does not qualify to be part of the family of God.
3. This is an incredible presentation of the grace of God.
4. She was healed not because of her touch of the hem of His robe; but because of the faith which she expressed in Jesus. It was the healing that Christ provided for her.
5. It is the same for the sin of the human race. We are all unclean. We are all lowborn outcasts, separated from God, in need of grace.
6. The disciples learn that Jesus is not impressed with rank or status. Jesus took the time on the way to the house of the great man, and He provided deliverance for this outcast woman.
7. There is no person or sin too great for the grace of God to heal. God has given us consideration in eternity past. Jesus knows what we have done; He knew this in eternity past. And he died for all of it. The disciples needed to understand for whom Jesus died. And he said, "Forgive them, for they know not whqt they do" spoken of those who crucified Him.

God's grace is not dispensed by a sacrament, by a robe, by a chalice, not by the disciples themselves. No relics or sacraments can heal or provide salvation. It is like water baptism. It is a testimony, but it is not the means of salvation. Not the means of salvation; nor is it a requirement. This text tells us; the focus is on the faith of this woman. It was faith alone in Christ alone that saved this woman.

Luke 8:47 When the woman saw that she was discovered, she came trembling and fell down before Him. In the presence of all the people, she declared the reason she had touched Him and how she was instantly cured.

Matt. 9:22 But Jesus turned and saw her. "Have courage, daughter," He said. "Your faith has made you well." And the woman was made well from that moment.

This is fundamental for all to understand.

Now this lesson concerning this woman is past, and Jesus has not yet come to the home of Gaurus.

The messenger comes and tells Jairus that there is nothing that Jesus can do anymore, as his daughter is dead.

Luke 8:49 While He was still speaking, someone came from the synagogue leader's house, saying, "Your daughter is dead. Don't bother the Teacher anymore."

This is a model of the thinking of the unbeliever. The girl is dead; Jesus cannot do anything for her anymore.

Jesus has to dispel this thinking now. He must show that no circumstance is beyond the power of Jesus. Every one thinks that death is the end.

Two principles of Christology; Jesus is much more than simply a teacher; and that is how those who rejected Jesus saw Him. This will show that Jesus is the master over death. In Him, there is victory over death.

This would be a moment of great importance. Jesus reassures Jairus that his faith is not misplaced. Jairus was possibly questioning Jesus, in his own mind.

Luke 8:50 When Jesus heard it, He answered him, "Don't be afraid. Only believe, and she will be made well."

The key is faith; nothing else. "Only believe and she will be made well." Someone was arrested because they let their children die. That is not the principle to be gotten from here. This is not a brief for the faith-healer. This focuses on the Lord Jesus Christ. This heals us from condemnation; from sin; so that we might have eternal life.

You can believe the humanistic message of the courier that death has ended all hope.

This is only sleep; so Jesus will provide a wake-up call. It is not the end; it is just the beginning. Believe and you will have eternal life. It is a simple, clear-cut understanding. Jesus is going to teach His power over death.

Jesus next runs this crowd off. This is how He handled crowds. There are curiosity seekers and the paparazzi. Jesus dismisses them. Normally the paparazzi cannot be sent away. "There must be something to hide," they assume. No respect for privacy.

Jesus allowed only 3 men to go into the house except Peter, James and John. There were 12 disciples. This is the first time that these 3 men receive special preference. They are singled out here for more intensive training. This is also a lesson. We must remember this for our own lives. The Lord singled these men out for His Own reasons. We have the same option as Peter, James and John. The greatest of those disciples at that time. We have the same doctrine and it is available to us constantly. We are much more than anyone has ever been before in history. Yet we squander this so easily in our lives. From this time forward, these men would be singled out on several occasions.

Luke 8:51 After He came to the house, He let no one enter with Him except Peter, John, James, and the child's father and mother.

There were a number of people there. Most likely, these are hired mourners. They are already in full-mourning mode. Weeping and wailing; they did what professional mourners were hired to do. This child had been clearly pronounced dead. Bobby saw this once and he won't ever forget it. They are in the front row, in August; no air conditioning; doors are shut; and it is Alabama; and it is hot; and these mourners are going to town. Screaming and wailing and going to town. They were good. Their mourning sounded good. They seemed to be expressing genuine grief. It got everyone into a mode of deep sadness and emotion. Others started crying and moaning too. But when the pastor got up, it all stopped.

Jairus had many friends; and he was rich enough to hire professional mourners.

Matt. 9:23 When Jesus came to the leader's house, He saw the flute players and a crowd lamenting loudly.

These mourners mocked Jesus. This was ridiculous.

Now, even though Jesus says, "She is not dead" she is dead. This is fully dead. She has been dead for awhile. This is the attitude that we approach physical death with. Sleep is a metaphor for death. There will be a reckoning; there will be a resurrection. This is our attitude when facing death. The disciples would face a lot of death; they would see Jesus die on the cross (or realize that it occurred). They would see and know of other disciples who die.

We don't see death in the streets here; this is not like other places.

No Bible class next week.

There are great lessons and doctrinal principles attached to what occurs with our Lord. Bobby has found just knowing how Jesus thinks is a means of spiritual growth. There is great advance in knowing Who Jesus is and how He acts. Jesus is the only utopia that we will ever know.

Jesus steps ashore and He meets a large crowd there. During this time, Jairus approaches him to come and heal his daughter. So, Jesus goes with Jairus, there is a woman who touches the hem of His garment.

Matt. 9:18 As He was telling them these things, suddenly one of the leaders came and knelt down before Him, saying, "My daughter is near death, but come and lay Your hand on her, and she will live."

Jairus is absolutely certain that Jesus can heal his daughter. He throws himself before the Lord, and asks for him to come to his house to heal his daughter. Jesus recognizes this man's faith.

Matt. 9:19 So Jesus and His disciples got up and followed him.

On the way, Jesus is stopped by a woman who was poor and always hemorrhaging and she was an outcast.

Matt. 9:20 Just then, a woman who had suffered from bleeding for 12 years approached from behind and touched the tassel on His robe,

This was a delay. Jairus must have been in absolute agony as he waited for this. There was no doubt an urgency in his voice. He took the time to stop and to speak to this woman about her faith. In this sidetrack, the Lord showed a principle of grace to those of inferior rank. Most of the people in this crowd were of a lower rank than Jairus. So they understood that they too would receive grace. Jesus covered everyone.

Matt. 9:21 for she said to herself, "If I can just touch His robe, I'll be made well!"

Matt. 9:22 But Jesus turned and saw her. "Have courage, daughter," He said. "Your faith has made you well." And the woman was made well from that moment.

However, circumstances, became dire.

Luke 8:49 While He was still speaking, someone came from the synagogue leader's house, saying, "Your daughter is dead. Don't bother the Teacher anymore."

had Jesus just hustled a little more; but now, it is too late. The messenger had no faith in what the Lord could do.

Luke 8:50 When Jesus heard it, He answered him, "Don't be afraid. Only believe, and she will be made well."

The key is faith; the key is believing in Jesus Christ. Jesus assures the man that his faith is not misplaced.

Luke 8:51 After He came to the house, He let no one enter with Him except Peter, John, James, and the child's father and mother.

Jesus only allows Peter, James and John to enter into the house with him, along with the parents of the child.

However, there were other people in the house; a group of mourners. These mourners were a detraction. It was clear that this little girl was dead. These mourners would act as the unbelieving contrast to the believing Jairus. The skeptics versus the one with faith. The disciples would observe the power of faith in Jairus. There is faith necessary in order to live the Christian life. Faith is the assurance of things unseen. We study the life of Christ; but we cannot see Him. The disciples would waiver from time to time; Peter would deny him at the Garden of Gethsemene. When we are hit with something that is insurmountable.

Jesus sees a commotion; a group of people loudly weeping and wailing. Jesus quiets them down. "Stop crying, the child is not dead, but she is asleep." This describes by God of death.

Luke 8:52 Everyone was crying and mourning for her. But He said, "Stop crying, for she is not dead but asleep."

The mourners had never heard anything like this before. Sleep is a metaphor for death. It means that death is not permanent. This is a tremendous revelation, as Jesus is standing right there next to a dead girl. These mourners had the responsibility of showing up and mourning. They had never seen a dead person wake up. This girl was cold. They could see her dead body right there in front of them. They could not see her living soul. They made a rational assumption. They did not think through this considering God.

Rationalism and Empiricism with These Mourners

1. That is what rationalists do. They think in terms of what is reasonable and natural. It is reasonable to think that this girl was dead and would not be getting up. They were making also an empirical observation as well. They could see that this little girl is dead. When you die, you die.
2. They leave God and faith out of their thinking; not considered for the circumstances of life and death.
3. They depend only upon what they can see and comprehend in human terms. This is human viewpoint all the way. Rationalism and empiricism are not anti-divine viewpoint. These are all valid means of perception. We have faith in things all of the time. These people do not consider God and faith. So all they have is human viewpoint.

4. The mourners ridicule the idea that faith is a valid means of perception and belief.
5. If people are honest, they would admit that they have faith in unseen things. That is true when it comes to disciplines in science. Most of the universe is unknown; but science will accept that some theories are correct even with little or no rational or empirical evidence. Take global warming and everyone is citing evidence, but much of it is bogus.

Faith in the Plan of God

1. Faith is a means of perceiving truth that is unseen, when it is not empirically provable.
2. Salvation is accepted by faith. It is faith based upon fact. What Jesus did was real; so we have a solid object to our faith; but it is still faith.
3. The spiritual life and the plan of God are all accepted by faith.
4. In this incident, Jesus provides an empirical bit of truth, even though it is not rational.
5. Jesus is about to supply empirical proof that He is the Master of Death; He holds sway over death.
6. So Jesus is about to offer empirical proof that faith in Him is valid and correct. This evidence is still valid today. We did not see this miracle; but we are hearing about it through the Bible; and this evidence is no less true today.

They laugh at Jesus; they laugh at truth. Like so many humanists, they believe that death is the end. No one could do anything about death; they had no power over death. At this point, their rationalism and empiricism fail them, because they will contradict

Their negative volition will be powerful.

Luke 8:53 They started laughing at Him, because they knew she was dead.

Jesus told these mourners to get out. He had no interest in convincing those who would not be convinced.

Doctrinal Principles

1. Unbelief limits what God can do. We do not see God as limited, being omnipotent. God cannot do anything that violates His essence.
2. God cannot change negative volition to positive volition.
3. The free will of man coexists with the sovereignty of God. God created man with volition; and He allows it to function.
4. Our will is truly free, so the lack of faith has eternal repercussions.
5. Jesus cannot save those who do not exercise faith in Him
6. He makes this point clear when He tells these unbelievers to leave the room. They would reject everything that He does.

7. God is limited in the face of unbelief.
8. His attributes of justice and righteousness are irrevocable and unchangeable. He cannot violate these attributes.
9. Where faith is not present, God cannot put aside those attributes in order to save a person; He cannot do that. He is limited there.
10. Without faith in Christ, no one is justified. Faith in Him gives us imputed righteousness. We need to be justified in order to be acceptable to God.
11. These mourners rejected Christ; so the only recourse for Jesus is for His justice to condemn them. That is the limitation on His justice.
12. God's options are limited to one because of their unbelief. Only one option. He must send them away, as He must do at the last judgment, to those who reject Him.

Mark 5:40 They started laughing at Him, but He put them all outside. He took the child's father, mother, and those who were with Him, and entered the place where the child was.

Final Point

1. In the mind of most, death is seen as irreversible and final.
2. But for God, this is only a state from which individuals will awaken.
3. Our faith embraces eternal life.

Lesson #0451

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

5/30/2013 Thurs

When someone is ill, Bobby prays for the spiritual resources in their souls. People do come out of these situations and do very well, after being at death's door. Others do not make it. It is not just about a miracle; it is also, what do you learn from the Word of God.

Jesus Christ enters in.

Mark 5:39 He went in and said to them, "Why are you making a commotion and weeping? The child is not dead but asleep."

Jairus has expressed faith in Jesus and he worshiped Jesus and then begged him to come to his home, knowing that Jesus could heal his daughter. That is demonstrated faith.

On the other hand, there are professional mourners at the house; and these are humanists and rationalists and empiricists. In their thinking, death was the end; and there was no future and no release from this darkness. So, this explains why some would mourn so much. They have no hope of seeing their loved ones again. This is truly the saddest sight a person can see.

Nothing in the mourners experience could prepare them for what Jesus was about to do. What He said made no sense to them; but they understood that He was saying that the dead would awaken. However, they did not believe His words. They reject the pronouncement of good news. Jesus was giving them good news. Death was not the end, which is what Jesus was saying.

Mark 5:40 They started laughing at Him, but He put them all outside. He took the child's father, mother, and those who were with Him, and entered the place where the child was.

These people derided the Person of Jesus Christ. That is a noticeable rejection. The issue is faith. Is there a future beyond death or annihilation? Jairus represented faith in Christ; and the mourners represented disbelief.

Sleep as a Metaphor for Death

1. Jesus is affirming that death is temporary. He uses a sleep metaphor.
2. According to the Lord, death is a state from which individuals will awaken. Sleep is a metaphor.
3. This metaphor is very descriptive. It gives the divine viewpoint of death. This is the viewpoint that the disciples needed to have.
4. How does this analogy work? Sleep is the condition of body and mind; the nervous system is inactive; the eyes are closed; the postural muscles are relaxed; and active consciousness is suspended.
5. The picture here is of a person, this little girl, asleep, even though she is an inert corpse. Death is not annihilation; death is not the end. It is the beginning of eternal life or eternal condemnation.
6. This is a condition from which people awaken and resume normal conscious function.
7. This description of death as a temporary loss of consciousness establishes a resurrection analogy. How important is this? The disciples had not been filled in on the resurrection. The sadducees did not believe this.
8. Just as a sleeper wakes up, so death is not a permanent state.

In many places, death is called sleep. 1Cor. 15:51–53 1Thess. 4:

1Thess. 4:14–15 Since we believe that Jesus died and rose again, in the same way God will bring with Him those who have fallen asleep through Jesus. For we say this to you by a revelation from the Lord: We who are still alive at the Lord's coming will certainly have no advantage over those who have fallen asleep.

Will I be blacked out until the resurrection? There is nothing that indicates a lack of consciousness at any time. There is no reason to assume that will be the case with us after we die and wait for the resurrection.

We are made up of a body and a soul and a spirit. The body goes into the ground, the spirit goes into the presence of God. The soul and spirit never die; they are never unconscious; there is no such thing as soul sleep. This is why we go to heaven when we die.

Is this a disembodied soul? The Scripture never speaks of a soul without a body. They are designed to be linked.

Sleep is a metaphor; not a state of unconsciousness. We have to be conscious to experience no more tears, no more death; the old things have passed away. The moment that we breathe our last, we will not face oblivion.

Physical death is a separation from life. Our Lord describes this circumstance of this little girl as being asleep.

Jesus ejects the mourners and He enters into the room. He takes her hand, and He says, "Tabitha koum." This is translated, little girl, I say to you, get up.

Mark 5:41 Then He took the child by the hand and said to her, "Talitha koum!" (which is translated, "Little girl, I say to you, get up!").

Aramaic was the language of the people of that area; and it is very close to Hebrew. The Galileans could speak Greek and Aramaic. Greek was the language of the scholars.

Mark translates this for his Greek-speaking readers. Jesus spoke to the sea as if a person; and he spoke to the demons; and now He speaks to the little girl. A personal imperative way. Authority over nature, over the demons and over death.

She got up immediately and began to walk; she was 12 years old, so this is what a 12 year old will do.

Mark 5:42 Immediately the girl got up and began to walk. (She was 12 years old.) At this they were utterly astounded.

Jesus told them not to tell of this.

Mark 5:43 Then He gave them strict orders that no one should know about this and said that she should be given something to eat.

Luke 8:54 So He took her by the hand and called out, "Child, get up!"

Luke uses πνευμα here.

Why Luke Uses the Word "Spirit" Here

1. Spirit here is used in a general sense. There are a number of meanings for this word; there is a huge definition. Here, it refers to the immaterial part of man; the breath of man.
2. In this sense, spirit and soul can be interchanged. Both can refer to the immaterial.

3. This little girl's dead body is reunited with her soul and/or spirit. The material and the immaterial are reunited.
4. This wake up was not just bodily functions reawakening. There was the breath of life placed back into her. Her body and spirit were separated in death. That is what death is.
5. Bobby was with both parents when they died. The eyes just reflect nothing. They may continue breathing, but there is lifelessness in their eyes. Was it at the end of their breaths or when their eyes went lifeless. There is something missing. When you look into someone's eyes, there is light; there is life. Death is not just the cessation of breath, but the separation of the material from the immaterial.
6. This miracle that our Lord performs was the reuniting of the material body and the immaterial. Where did the spirit go? It was not unconscious. Jesus spoke a word and the body and spirit were reunited immediately.
7. Uniting these two is how God created man originally. This is exactly what He did originally. Gen. 2:7 Then the LORD God formed the man out of the dust from the ground and breathed the breath of life into his nostrils, and the man became a living being. This is how God made human life. Human life requires these two components. Biological life after the first man and woman were created is through parents, and God breathes life into each child when they are born.
8. The reuniting of the body and spirit means that this little girl fully recovered human life from the state of actual death. This is the resuscitation of this little girl. Jesus recreated that moment when her breath was first given to her.

She gets up and walks. Mark mentions this walking action. Nothing is an accident. There is a reason that Mark tells us about this. This confirms to everyone present that she has returned to life with complete health. Someone close to death, someone coming out of a coma, whatever, they don't just get up and wander about. A healthy normal girl returned to her normal activities. There are no residual effects of her. She did not simply recover from an illness. She went from death to life. She is immediately normal; no rehab; no hospitalization. So those who saw this were astounded.

Luke 8:55 Her spirit returned, and she got up at once. Then He gave orders that she be given something to eat.

The parents wanted to go out and tell everyone. Jesus sent the mourners out of the house; and Jesus did not bring the crowd with Him; only taking Peter, James and John. Now He makes the same demand of those who watch this miracle. He asks them to not to tell anyone else. This would seem to be counter productive.

When you understand why Jesus said this, you will understand where Jesus was in His thinking and in His ministry. Jesus did not want to attract the wrong people with this miracle. All of the skeptics, including the pharisees who attacked Him for performing miracles and for claiming to be the Messiah.

Luke 8:56 Her parents were astounded, but He instructed them to tell no one what had happened.

Jesus already performed a miracle of resuscitation before in Luke 7:11–17. The people concluded that He was just a great prophet. Wrong conclusion. Jesus is God Himself. He had done this before a large crowd.

Jesus was no longer trying to convince unbelievers; they could not be convinced by miracles; there was nothing that He could do that they would believe. The emphasis shifts right here.

Jesus also commands that this girl be given something to eat. She has been sick for a long time; a very long time. This shows that Jesus had continuing care for her needs. Logistical grace was a part of the package of this miracle. This was a demonstration. Jesus cares for her needs.

Her body was not eternal. It still needed to be nourished.

Lesson #0452

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

6/2/2013 1Sunday

One of the greatest miracles performed by our Lord was the raising from the dead. Matt. 9 and Luke 8:

Jesus raises from the dead a little 12 year-old girl, who is a very important synagogue official. There were those in high religious positions who recognized Jesus as the Messiah. Jairus was one of those men. His little girl was desperately ill. She apparently died while Jesus cured the woman who was bleeding constantly.

By all definitions, this little girl was no longer alive. There were mourners present, which indicates that the girl had died. They were skeptical when Jesus said, "She is but asleep." And Jesus sent them out. There were 3 disciples, Jairus and his wife.

Jesus said, "Little girl, I say to you, get up." Jesus used the imperative on a girl who was dead. Her spirit returns to her body; they had been separated. There was a reuniting of the material and the immaterial. This uniting is the essence of human life. We find this in Gen. 2:7.

The body was formed from the dust and Jesus breathed into his nostrils the breath of lives; and this represents the soul and spirit. This made man a living being. This is the uniting of the body, soul and spirit.

Luke 8:54 So He took her by the hand and called out, "Child, get up!"

The little girl gets up immediately and walks around. Someone coming out of a comatose state does not get up and walk about. This indicates a miracle. There were no residual effects from her death. She was healed from what was wrong with her.

There will be a moment in the history of man when Jesus returns and instantaneously, the dead will rise and those who are alive and remain will rise to meet the Lord in the air. This is a picture of that moment.

Jesus previously caused a boy to be resuscitated, and not everyone believed in Him; some thought Him only to be a prophet. Only man can give life.

Luke 8:55 Her spirit returned, and she got up at once. Then He gave orders that she be given something to eat.

Jesus said that she needed food; so this means that she was resuscitated but not in a resurrection body.

Luke 8:56 Her parents were astounded, but He instructed them to tell no one what had happened.

Jesus was no longer trying to convince anyone that He was Messiah; not trying to show that He is divine as well as human. He is not trying to prove anything to anyone.

Jesus was using this time to teach doctrine to his disciples.

What Was Jesus Teaching?

1. First, only God can defeat death. So Jesus must be God. There should not have been a question at this.
2. This validated Jesus saying, "I am the resurrection and the life."
3. This miracles showed that Jesus had the power over death.
4. Death could not hold Jesus not can death hold us. Death no longer has power over the disciples, over us, over anyone who believes in Jesus Christ. Jesus shows His power over death right here; and Jesus will further show His power over death at the resurrection.
5. This shows our Lord's continued power and grace to individuals, in spite of the rejection by the nation.

The report of this little girl's resuscitation had gotten out and Jesus does not want to deal with these crowds who reject Him. Those who believed in Him were following Him about; those who rejected Him may or may not be following Him; but they had some animus toward Him.

Matt. 9:26 And this news spread throughout that whole area.

Two blind men followed Jesus.

Matt. 9:27 As Jesus went on from there, two blind men followed Him, shouting, "Have mercy on us, Son of David!"

These men knew the Word of God and they recognized Jesus, even though they had never seen Him or any miracle which He had done.

We are exactly the same as these two men. We have not seen Jesus nor have we seen any miracles. So many people wish to have been alive at this time, and yet, we can believe without seeing Him.

We heard the gospel as blind individuals. We had no idea until we heard.

People that you witness to have blind faith in all kinds of things. They claim that they cannot see Him, but most who believe Him have not seen Him except by faith.

Most Jews understood something from the Old Testament; they all studied it. They knew the Torah and the prophets. They understood the Old Testament connection to Jesus, the One performing miracles. These men know and associate exactly Jesus and the Old Testament. Negative volition and positive volition are powerful and overwhelming. Positive volition means that nothing can keep you from the gospel. Negative volition means that nothing can convince you.

These blind men knew Who Jesus was. They identified Him, even though they could not see Him. He was their prophetic heritage. Unbelievers are without excuse. God knows when there is positive volition.

So many people demand empiricism. But people believe that man was formed from a big bang; and that is quite unseen. We have hundreds of witnesses to what Jesus did.

Jesus tests and confirms the faith of these men with a question. That is v. 28:

Lesson #0453

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

6/2/2013 2Sunday

The healing of the blind men will also conclude with Jesus telling them not to tell anyone.

Faith is expressed in Christ without seeing Him; and this is the way in which we express faith in Him. This interchange will be rather complex.

The blind men came up to Jesus. They have been crying, "Have mercy on us."

Matt. 9:28 When He entered the house, the blind men approached Him, and Jesus said to them, "Do you believe that I can do this?" "Yes, Lord," they answered Him.

These men are asking for mercy, for grace and for healing; and He asks them, "Do you believe I can do this?" They answer in the affirmative. They have heard and they have expressed faith. They are expressing that faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

Peter lived in Capernaum; and it is possible that this is Peter's house. This means that Jesus had walked a ways before addressing these blind men. They trailed Jesus for awhile before Jesus speaks to them.

Jesus made them follow Him and He was testing the faith of these men and their persistency.

What Does this Mean?

1. This was a demonstration of those present of the need for perseverance in the spiritual life. These men are already believers. There is more to this than simple faith in Him.
2. This is a lesson for consistent intake of Bible doctrine. Logistics are illustrated by this miracle; the eyesight would be restored. Logistics are always a part of God's grace to the believer. They asked for mercy, grace.
3. Logistical grace is always for a specific purpose in the plan of God. God gives us what we need to survive. Life, food, shelter, clothing. We could just as easily not gotten these things. We need to be cognizant of this. Logistical grace, which is eyesight restored, is the foundation for spiritual advance. Logistical grace is for spiritual advance for all believers. That is the progression of the plan of God. Logistic are provided for the specific plan of God.
4. In that advance, patience and perseverance is something that every believer must continue to pursue, to build upon. These screaming blind men persevered.
5. If you do not get immediate deliverance or answers for some problem in your life; no one likes adversity. So if you do not get immediate deliverance for some problem in your life. Patience and persist in doctrine. The solution will be forthcoming at some point. There is always a time period between asking for deliverance and receiving it. This is a key to the relaxed mental attitude in life. God supplies the logistics and we persevere in the spiritual life.

This is the test for these blind men. This reveals the need for perseverance of faith. They asked for mercy, faith expressed, and then they followed Jesus to Peter's house, which is the test.

Matt. 9:29 Then He touched their eyes, saying, "Let it be done for you according to your faith!"

Jesus heals them.

Matt. 9:30 And their eyes were opened. Then Jesus warned them sternly, "Be sure that no one finds out!"

Again, Jesus tells them not to spread the news about their healing. Jesus did not to be recognized by those who were in opposition to Him at this point. However, this men did just the opposite of what Jesus told them to do.

Matt. 9:31 But they went out and spread the news about Him throughout that whole area.

There was no necessity for anyone to search Jesus out to be healed. These men followed Him, but they did not follow instructions very well. We hear the doctrine and we do not seem to follow the doctrine. It just escapes us. It was not necessary for these men to speak.

It was counterproductive and they would attract the unwanted crowd.

Jesus had not given up evangelism. This was a different doctrine. This was Matt. 7:6; casting pearls before swine.

Why would anyone accept the testimony of these formerly blind men? The same principle still exists today. This is casting pearls before swine; telling people the truth, people who are going to reject it no matter what. They had heard this over and over in synagogues; and why should these blind men waste their time on going to the religious people who have already rejected Jesus. Religion is a very difficult witness. Religion blinds the eyes of so many people. It is very hard to proclaim grace to those working their way to heaven. They have to accept that all of their good deeds is pointless. That is hard for some people.

The Principle

1. There comes a time for circumspection; not pursuing those who have rejected Jesus Christ. We do have an obligation to witness.
2. Discernment is necessary for such a decision. There is a time when one must move on.
3. Do not give up on those who initially reject the gospel. "You can't prove that to me; that's not even rational."
4. What can you do? You must allow for the Holy Spirit to do His work once the gospel has been presented. Sometimes we do not realize that; once the gospel is presented, the Holy Spirit takes it from there and does what we can never do. We want to manipulate people; to continue to bombard them with great information and apologetics by which we can convince them the gospel is true. The Holy Spirit knows why people object to the gospel. If you see the necessity for a follow-up, then you do so. You must recognize when people are asking a question when they do not even ask a question. Sometimes you do not think to present the gospel; but you have to listen.
5. You must also discern when not to aggravate people. Allow people time to make up their minds about Jesus without badgering them.
6. You do not want to further exacerbate reaction from those who have locked-in negative volition. Sometimes that cannot be helped. You do not go out of your way to rub people's noses into the gospel; you do not insult them and you do not lose patience with them.
7. There comes a time when you must write some people off. You must turn to those who will respond and away from those who will not. These men are filled with zeal, but they lack doctrine. The cause of Jesus is sometimes hurt by zealous, over-emotional believers. There is no excuse for a believer being ignorant. You must know when to keep your mouth shut and when to open it. These men were not at that stage. They charge out to spread the Word, only to fall on their faces and to become discouraged. They want to go out and do great things; and they are shut down every time that they do it. They do not have the discernment, the doctrine, or the ability to give the gospel correctly. A believer needs the discernment of when to give the gospel. So many places just have you hand our tracts. You become the hare krishna of the street corner. You need discernment to be effective. Training is necessary to become truly effective. Do not waste your breath when you lack doctrine.

Bobby recently heard from someone, and they home school their children. There is going to be a conference and some atheists protest the conference. Many of the home school people are believers; and there are some who are adamant about the earth being 6000 years old. Why throw yourself on that sword? Evolutionists must have billions of earth years; but this argument is counterproductive; this only discredits.

Atheists are not protesting over one issue like that. They are protesting that God is in education at all. They cannot stand the idea that anyone mentions God in the classroom and it drives them crazy.

They hate that schools that don't take government money are not subject to government restrictions. Their power is in the courtroom. But this is how some people take issue with things that are not issues.

Doctrine discerns for us when we are unable to discern for ourselves. Doctrine is what gives us discernment. Jesus did not want crowds bothering Him for more and more miracles. He did not want the crowds to follow Him only to be healed. He did not want to be seen as a novelty. This would take up time that would be necessary to train His disciples. A new direction; discernment. What is His purpose? He focuses on His objective and upon His mission.

Jesus could have healed everyone in Palestine; He could have healed everyone in the world. All that would remain is the sign of Jonah for those who did not believe. Now Jesus would move on, to concentrate on His current purpose, to train His disciples, who would carry on as apostles in the future.

Think about the direction in which you should go; and allow doctrine to direct you.

Communion Sunday

Jesus took the wine and thanked God for it for the death He was about to die. He would be slaughtered as the perfect lamb of God. He understood the horror and the benefit of His death.

Jesus Christ must be seen beyond all else. It is not merely the elements, but it is what they represent and to whom they point. The communion is a memorial. We are commanded to commemorate what Jesus did for us. The cross always looms large in this commemoration. To fulfill this memorial command is our privilege and something that we should look forward to in our worship. It is a great moment of application of doctrine in our souls.

There is no other memorial that the Bible speaks of concerning Jesus and His work. Only the communion. No other ritual is commanded; only His death is to be celebrated. He continually wants to have the issue of His death before us. We are to proclaim His death until He comes.

It is not just His physical suffering, but the bearing of our sins which is the horrible aspect of His death on the cross. This is so that we might die to sin and live unto righteousness.

The crushed grape constitutes the wine, which symbolizes His death and separation from God the Father. The union between the Lord Jesus Christ and the other members of the Trinity was torn from its cohesion for those 3 hours where sin was imputed to Him. We can never know that suffering or its intensity. He endured all of it for us.

Thomas Paine remarked that no religion can be divine that has any doctrine that offends the sensibilities of a little child. He, sadly, embraced deism. The unregenerate man ridicules what God glorifies. His death may offend our sensibilities, but it also provides for our eternal life.

The communion table is no place for the self righteous person. It is for the person who realizes how short he falls from the glory of God. The believer celebrates with deep devotion the taking of the bread and the cup. The bread is broken and the wine poured is all to be consumed. They were not designed to satiate hunger and thirst.

In your eating, each one takes his own supper first; and one is hungry and another is drunk.

The purpose of this meal is not to overindulge; it is to remember. All believers are in union with Christ and His atoning work. The results are that every believer is united as members of the body of Christ.

Some look upon the supper as recreating the suffering of Jesus. Nothing could be further from the mind of our Lord. There is no salvation in this; no efficaciousness to be found in this observance. The communion elements are representative; they are not reality. There is nothing mystical or magical about that which we are to do. This is a symbolic flesh and blood; not a literal flesh and blood. Eternal life is gained by believing and not by ingesting bread and wine. The person who partakes of the elements is already a believer.

We serve Jesus by bearing witness to Him. This is one way that we bear witness to Him. For as often as you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until He comes. No one knows how long this ritual will continue; He has not returned yet. We see in communion prophecy and history both. As we celebrate His death, we draw attention to His victory in time. We live in the light of eternity; not in the darkness of human viewpoint.

How close we should be with Him in these moments and in the coming days.

Berachah Church has been described as an unemotional church. This is not a praise and worship service as other churches understand it; but it is, in truth, that. If we appreciate the Lord Jesus Christ, then we are expressing emotion.

The Dallas conference. They are a streaming video group. They are a mirror image of Berachah. An excellent turnout; a full house.

Matt. 9:27b

Mat 9:27 As Jesus went on from there, two blind men followed Him, shouting, "Have mercy on us, Son of David!"

Jesus knew that any crowd who gathered would be curious, but not on positive volition.

However, two blind men followed Jesus. These men are different. Those in the crowd had eyes and could see what Jesus did; and they still questioned Who He was and Who He said that He was. But these blind men can see Jesus for Who He is. They know Him by His prophetic name. They call Him the Son of David. They could only hear and they could believe in Him strictly based upon what they heard. That is faith based upon things unseen. That is Heb. 11:1.

We do not need something that we can see with our own eyes. We only need to hear it. We have never seen our Lord; we only have the revelation from Scripture.

These men cite our Lord's Messianic title. They appealed to Him for a miracle based upon His Person and Work. They knew that He could perform such a miracle.

Mat 9:28 When He entered the house, the blind men approached Him, and Jesus said to them, "Do you believe that I can do this?" "Yes, Lord," they answered Him.

Mat 9:28 When He entered the house, the blind men approached Him, and Jesus said to them, "Do you believe that I can do this?" "Yes, Lord," they answered Him.

Jesus asks these men, "Do you think I can do this?" I.e., have mercy on them. And they answer with a confident yes. They had faith alone in Christ alone. They believed that He could heal their eyesight. They believed that He could heal them spiritually as well. They were the ones whom the Lord Jesus Christ was seeking.

Their answer was evidence of the faith already present in their souls. His profession that He was Lord is not what saved them, but the faith in their souls.

This is not proof that one must claim Jesus as Lord before being eternally saved. Jesus is Lord as soon as faith in Him is present. Faith in Him makes the believer a member of the royal family. By definition, Jesus is Lord. If we are a member of His family, then He is our Lord, whether we say that He is or not. Making Christ Lord is not proof of salvation. This is rather a silly way to say, spiritual advance. Jesus is Lord at the moment of regeneration.

He is our Lord at salvation; but He becomes Lord as we grow spiritually. We have a status relationship with Him—He is positionally our Lord. But as we grow spiritually, He becomes our Lord. Saying the word Lord has two different meanings. He is our Lord by being born into the royal family; but He is also Lord by maturation, by becoming a member of His family. Regeneration secures eternal life. Regeneration necessarily precedes spiritual growth and the spiritual life.

Faith was already present in these two blind men. They were regenerate before they answered the Lord's question. This is why they acknowledge Him in the affirmative. They were confident that He healed them.

Regeneration had been accomplished before they answer the Lord's question. This is the same circumstance present in ritual baptism. Some say baptism is necessary for salvation, known as regenerative baptism. However, baptism just expresses faith. We are never saved by means of salvation; similarly, public confession of faith does not make a person saved. These men verbally spoke, but that was not the moment of their salvation. The salvation faith is based upon Jesus Christ and His work.

The miracle that He would perform would be the demonstration of His Person. But these men were saved before they experience this miracle. Faith comes before Jesus is made Lord and before Jesus acts in the life of the believer. They acknowledge a faith which is already present.

Their salvation was not in their profession; that only revealed that they had been saved.

Rom 10:9 if you confess with your mouth, "Jesus is Lord," and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved.

If is faith that results in imputed righteousness.

Rom 10:10 With the heart one believes, resulting in righteousness, and with the mouth one confesses, resulting in salvation.

There is no contradiction in Scripture. Paul is not contradicting Jesus Christ. This reveals the same doctrine.

Introductory Points

1. Confess with the mouth is formulating the content of what is believed. That is the faith of salvation.
2. That is exactly what these two blind men had already done; they spoke of a faith which was already in their souls.
3. What comes from the mouth is the expression of faith in the soul.

They first acknowledge that Jesus is God-incarnate and that God the Father raised Him from the dead. This is the good news which we acknowledge for salvation. That is the content of our faith that is believed and expressed toward God. When a person verbally confesses this, it is simply revealing what is in the soul.

Do the Words Have to Be Spoken out Loud? No.

1. We think with words, whether we speak those words or not. Thought is an expression of thinking and the only way it can be expressed.
2. Faith is expressed in words, which is the only way that we can think. That is thought.
3. We form words in the mentality of the soul; or in the heart, as we have in Rom. 10:9.
4. That is why faith and acknowledgment go together. Thoughts and words go together. Vocabulary is the meeting of all thought spoken or silent. When Bobby studies for a class, and he speaks it out loud. But you can study without speaking; the thought is still in the mind. You express it whether you say it or not.
5. Faith always springs from the volition of the soul. It is not driven by being spoken out loud.
6. The expression of the mouth is an acknowledgment of the faith which is in our souls.
7. That is what brings salvation. The positive volition of faith in Christ expressed, either in the privacy of our souls or out loud, as with the blind men. They were expressing what was in their souls.

These men already had eternal life.

Faith and the Expression of Faith

1. The faith formulated in words is two sides of the same coin. Faith and the expression of faith. They go together. We formulate the words of acknowledgment.
2. So confessing with our mouths and believing in our souls are not two separate steps necessary for salvation. This is where people go awry when it comes to interpreting this verse. Confession becomes repentance. Faith is the positive aspect of volition toward Jesus Christ. Repentance is the expression of positive volition. It is a change of mind toward Jesus Christ. If you have to repent of your sins, that becomes a work. False repentance is not a requirement for salvation. The confession is, Father I believe that Christ paid the penalty for our sins. Sin is not an issue in salvation; our salvation is based upon Christ's work on the cross.

Mat 9:28 When He entered the house, the blind men approached Him, and Jesus said to them, "Do you believe that I can do this?" "Yes, Lord," they answered Him.

These men were not healed because they repented; they were healed because they had believed in Him. God already knew that they had faith in their souls. Did they have to speak out loud to confirm faith in God? No. This is like baptism; you do not get sprinkled or dunked in order to get saved.

Mat 9:29 Then He touched their eyes, saying, "Let it be done for you according to your faith!"

The result of faith was their physical healing. Their spiritual healing was being demonstrated here. This miracle is a revelation of the Person of Jesus Christ. Only God could restore their sight. This reveals what Jesus had come to do. These two men represented that which was unseen; confidence and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

People today say, "If only I could see a miracle, then I would believe." But they would not. The only requirement is faith expressed based upon the words expressed in your soul, which speak of faith in Christ. There is nothing else required.

Their eyes were opened.

The Jews were spiritually blind. Jesus came to reveal God to them. By their faith, the blind man saw. Israel refused to express faith in their Messiah. They died in blindness. The returning sight of these men were indictments of Israel. They had the eyesight of faith versus the blindness of negative volition. We see negative volition everywhere we look.

Faith expressed. The more doctrine that is in your soul, the less blind you are. Jesus is Lord and He becomes Lord. Regeneration and spiritual advance.

Mat 9:30 And their eyes were opened. Then Jesus warned them sternly, "Be sure that no one finds out!"

Mat 9:31 But they went out and spread the news about Him throughout that whole area.

One final miracle in this series this Wednesday.

Lesson #0456

Matt. 9:32 Life of Christ

6/12/2013 Wed

Bobby's hooked on Downton Abbey.

One final miracle recorded. The 12 year-old girl who was recussutated and the blind men.

Matt. 9:32 Just as they were going out, a demon-possessed man who was unable to speak was brought to Him.

Matt. 9:33 When the demon had been driven out, the man spoke. And the crowds were amazed, saying, "Nothing like this has ever been seen in Israel!"

This has been occurring for a year; but these could simply mean that this sort of thing occurs.

There was absolute insanity of some who were controlled by demons; and there was often cultic religions as well associated here.

There is no typical sets of behavior. It is possible that Hitler, Mao and Stalin were controlled by demons. There was certain some insanity involved. Hitler screamed at all of those in his periphery.

There are plenty of mute people and most are not demon-possessed. We do not know the cause for this in this man.

They were acknowledging that Jesus Christ was unique as the One performing all of these miracles. They seemed to respond with positive volition. They were willing to accept Jesus for Whom He claimed to be.

This whole thing on homosexuality and gay marriage. We have only one opinion which is the Biblical one. That issue came up on the Talk Radio station today. Then they went off on all of these peripheral activity.

The pharisees step in to say what they think happened. They are the hardness of negative volition. They react with hatred rather than responding with faith. The pharisees never saw the Person; they just saw the action and responded with hatred and not with faith.

Matt. 9:34 But the Pharisees said, "He drives out demons by the ruler of the demons!"

This was the essence of their talking points. This was a red herring. They really did not get it. They just attributed these miracles not to God, but to Satan. What they saw did not engender faith in Christ. This engendered rejection. It is astonishing that a miracle resulted in the rejection of Jesus Christ. This is the power of negative volition. Their negative volition continued in spite of all contrary evidence.

Why are people so negative; why can't they see the truth? They have rejected the truth; they are not looking for the truth. Why do people do the things that they do and think the things which they think.

Humanism sees the truth staring them right in the face and they reject it. They do not see it. They have nowhere else to go. In their rejection, they can only refute the obvious. They are fools.

Jesus then leaves Capernaum. He travels to his hometown of Nazareth. He was rejected early on in Nazareth and they even made an attempt on His life in the synagogue there.

Jesus will make this last trip to Nazareth. He had an extended tour in the Galilee area. He spent about a year in Capernaum and now He wants to give his friends and neighbors another chance.

Since leaving Nazareth, Jesus has shown over and over again that He is the Messiah. They would have heard of all the wonders and miracles that He had done. Will this cause them to reflect on their negative volition. Some may have seen these miracles. He was a tradesman; He worked under His father. He was in construction. He hammered nails and cut wood.

Since He left Nazareth, somewhat hastily, He had developed a huge following. Maybe He could get a fair hearing. Celebrities often get a platform for their thoughts, whether these are serious thoughts or not. Every Hollywood actor has something to say; a spokesperson for this or that cause. Or they advertise for this or that; or those with political views want a celebrity to back their thoughts.

"Many people follow the Kardashians; can you believe that?" Jesus had celebrity status. So maybe this would have some impact on the people of Nazareth.

So, Jesus goes back to Nazareth.

Mark 6:1 He went away from there and came to His hometown, and His disciples followed Him.

The quality of His work is clear. His teaching is amazing. Now these are unbelievers who are amazed and skeptical; and the attest to the truth.

Mark 6:2 When the Sabbath came, He began to teach in the synagogue, and many who heard Him were astonished. "Where did this man get these things?" they said. "What is this wisdom given to Him, and how are these miracles performed by His hands?"

They all know Who Jesus is.

Matt. 13:55 Isn't this the carpenter's son? Isn't His mother called Mary, and His brothers James, Joseph, Simon, and Judas?

And they ask this.

Matt. 13:56 And His sisters, aren't they all with us? So where does He get all these things?"

They are offended by Jesus. There was no one like Jesus; they had never heard anything like this before. Only God-incarnate could perform. The rest of his family were just regular people; so those of his hometown would not accept Him as Messiah.

The Preconceptions of Negative Volition

1. They actually saw and admitted that Jesus was something special. Many atheists will admit that Jesus lived and that He was a special Person; but they will say so are other religious types.
2. They refuse to throw away their preconceptions. They will not release them. If you have ever witnessed to an unbeliever. So many times their objections are preconceived notions.
3. Empiricism cannot combine here with faith to perceive the truth and act upon it. That is negative volition.
4. The preconception of negative volition is blind.

Matt. 13:57 And they were offended by Him. But Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown and in his household."

Jesus often went to the synagogue because that is where everyone was when the Jews assembled. Jesus taught Isa. 61:1–2 and He showed that He was the Messiah. The Jews could not stand this. They wanted to throw Him over a cliff.

He goes back and returns and does the same thing. He knew exactly what He was doing; He was repeating His previous visit.

Synagogues were designed to teach the Word of God. They were for the expressed purpose of teaching the Scripture. When Jesus began to teach on the Sabbath, His text came straight from the Old Testament. That was the Bible. He taught like no other rabbi had never taught before. These people had heard many rabbis speaking, but no one taught like Jesus did. The rabbis are the ones that everyone went to for help and advice and doctrine, and Jesus is refuting them. Every time you speak the gospel or apply doctrine, you are bucking the wisdom and ideology of this world.

This was the center of the Angelic Conflict. And it appears as though Satan was having a pretty good day. The people are mad and amazed and they hate him and they are afraid.

His reputation and deeds made no difference at all. Jesus did not have the academic credentials to say these things. He is not qualified to speak to us in this way. "You aren't qualified to say this or that."

It gets better; they bring in sarcasm. Astonishment in great fear. Imperfect passive indicative of εκπλησω which means to be overwhelmed by fright, afraid out of their minds. They react in very unpredictable ways. This is the mentality of those protests and mob actions are like. Overwhelmed and struck out of one's wits. There is no completion to this process. It kept going; it kept building. It built to a fever pitch. They were getting worked up. Where did this man get this stuff? What is this wisdom given to Him?

They were incensed and offended that He would present Himself in this way.

People often use sarcasm when they have no substantive argument. Bobby spent 4 years in a very liberal college, and when anything of truth was said, then it was dealt with, with sarcasm.

Illustrations tomorrow on this.

Lesson #0457

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

6/13/2013 Thurs

Everyone is watching Downton Abby.

After about a year's hiatus, Jesus is going back to Nazareth, leaving Capernaum.

Mark 6:1 He went away from there and came to His hometown, and His disciples followed Him.

His reception in Nazareth was not very good before; and it is negative again. The Jews became so angry and they took Him outside of the town before to throw Him over a cliff. Jesus just escaped by walking through them. They could not stop them. Luke 4:30. You would think that this deliverance would have stuck in their minds, but it did not make any difference. These people had known Jesus all of His life, and they had seen His uniqueness in many ways. You can imagine what it was like to know a child who never sinned, who never made a mistake, was always obedient to his parents. They had to see all of this.

There would have been the testimony of His birth; and there would have been a year or two when He was taken away in order to escape the killing of the children. With all of this having happened, these Jews would not even consider the evidence. They had a preconception that nothing He could do or nothing He could say could change their thinking about Him.

Bobby thought about his seminary days; he liked the academics and the occasional sparring and he was well-prepared to do so from the training which he received at Berachah. He was able to put it altogether in a system. Bob's reputation preceded him. Many of the students were aware of him; they knew nothing about his ministry first-hand; they only knew about his reputation. They rejected him, not for what he taught, but for what they thought he was. Many did not know that Bobby was the son.

Many of them were positive that they were right, even though they really had no first-hand facts.

The people became murderous. Jesus was a very hard worker; he was a part of his father's carpenter business. This is an incredible picture of the savagery of religion in the face of divine truth. This is perpetuated by negative volition of those in the church and outside the church. Religion is savage. The religious wars in the middle ages were extremely savage; we have a modern-day example in Islam.

In spite of our social progress, our utopian ideals, the multiculturalism which is all around us; religion still persecutes and kills. Religion still generates the same hatred toward Christ and Christians today. The leopard has not and will not change its spots. Satan will not cease his persecution, and he uses religion as one of his main weapons.

Secular humanist society has the same intolerant reaction to the Word of God. Like religion, humanism is also a tool of the cosmic system. We are beginning to see all of that in our own nation. The attempt to discredit Christianity with social issues like gay marriage and abortion. The Southern Baptists just took a stand, and they were castigated by the humanists. And this will get worse, barring the Lord's intervention.

So many times, Christians fall right into the trap. They react.

In His second trip to Nazareth, He receives the same reaction. He speaks in the Sabbath in the synagogue about the same thing as before, that He is the Messiah. This is an attempt to change their minds.

Matt. 13:55 Isn't this the carpenter's son? Isn't His mother called Mary, and His brothers James, Joseph, Simon, and Judas?

How can He be the Messiah? His mother is here, and his brothers as well. How could He be the Messiah.

Matt. 13:56 And His sisters, aren't they all with us? So where does He get all these things?"

They take offense at Him.

Mark 6:2 When the Sabbath came, He began to teach in the synagogue, and many who heard Him were astonished. "Where did this man get these things?" they said. "What is this wisdom given to Him, and how are these miracles performed by His hands?"

They were so upset with Him, that they resented Him. There was theological dissension and there was envy and disagreement. Jesus related Old Testament passages to Himself. He made interpretations of Scripture that no rabbi could. "No one that we know has ever taught this before." They should have been impressed and moved. They should have given Him a hearing and even questioned Him; but their "Where did you get this stuff?" indicated negative volition. It was not a question where information was being sought.

What was the crux of their problem with Him? They had the same problem as all the Jews had. The rabbis had traditional interpretations of the synagogue. They taught the writings of the previous rabbi; and that was the teaching that was done; the teaching of all previous rabbis. This was from the Talmud, which was a compilation of the rabbis. Their interpretation did not deal with the Scripture directly. You can imagine what they thought of the truth. Jesus departed from their standard traditions.

They could not refute what He taught; all they could say, "He does not follow the rabbi." It was not something in His teaching that they could explain as being wrong.

Religion teaches works and merit; grace teaches the unmerited favor of God through Jesus Christ.

They could not counter His fulfillment of Old Testament prophecy. They knew this. They were well-versed enough to know that He was fulfilling these prophecies. His teaching was accurate and they could not refute Him; so they attacked Him with sarcasm. He is a tradesman; He is a carpenter; He did not even come from a very good family.

Sarcasm is the weapon of those who reject truth.

Sarcasm and Truth

1. Sarcasm is utilized by those who believe that God created the universe.
2. What is amazing is, at the same time that the universe created itself. The Big Bang Theory and evolution.
3. They use sarcasm to put down any objection to their scientific theories. All they say is, "You are backward; you are from the dark ages." Creation by God is more reasonable than revolution. The Scopes Monkey trial; evolution versus creation in the courtroom. The greatest weapon against the creationist was sarcasm. He had the courtroom rolling with laughter because of his sarcasm.
4. With sarcasm, they cover their rejection of God and their rejection of the Lord Jesus Christ. Sarcasm makes fun of anyone who disagrees. It is not a substantive argument; it is an emotional argument. This is found in the college classrooms of America. Bobby heard all kinds of things in class; he heard straight Marxism from some professors. The only weapon that they had was sarcasm. It doesn't work; they cannot show a single incident where Marxism has improved anyone's life.
5. Wherever Biblical truth is spoken, sarcasm and ridicule are not far behind by those who reject it. They do not refute the Scripture; they simply ridicule Jesus.
6. Sarcasm is designed to silence opposition through embarrassment. It is borne by fear of the truth.
7. Sarcasm proves nothing of its own cause. Sarcasm never offers an alternative. It just shows negative volition to Biblical truth.

In this case, the sarcasm was ridicule of the Lord Jesus Christ. Where did He get this stuff and what is this wisdom to Him? They don't say, "Let's stop and discuss this." Then they ridicule His antecedents. His wisdom did not come from his father Joseph, who was a carpenter. Joseph was responsible to teach the Law and the Prophets.

Neither did his brothers appear to have such knowledge and wisdom; nor did His background qualify Him. He was a carpenter. They mocked Him. They denied His claims and teaching using sarcasm.

It is arrogant. Don't confuse us with the truth; we will just put you down. They reject Him with that nasty sarcasm. His family appear to join in. They did not accept His message or His mission. Recall when His family tried to contact Him, and He said, "This is My family;" referring to His followers. His family does not believe Him until Acts.

Two strikes against Him. His hometown is offended by Him. The nerve of this guy. What a scandal. "He is laughable; what a joke." Underneath all of this sarcasm, they were very uncomfortable about this. This is always true where sarcasm is the only weapon. It is used out of fear. It is used rather than a logical argument.

They discounted the miracle; the reports from Galilee; nothing could persuade them. Do not be amazed at the rejection of the gospel that we will see. Do not fear sarcasm. When you know doctrine, then you understand.

Even today, people like this who saw Jesus and His miracles who would not believe, if they saw the Lord do these things today, they would be as fearful and as sarcastic. Their souls would be blackened with scar tissue.

Mark 6:3 Isn't this the carpenter, the son of Mary, and the brother of James, Joses, Judas, and Simon? And aren't His sisters here with us?" So they were offended by Him.

Familiarity breeds contempt. Jesus was not honored by Nazareth, by His family or by anyone else. Jesus demonstrated divine knowledge, and all they could say is, "Where does He get this stuff?"

There is possibly a known saying that Jesus quotes here.

Mark 6:4 Then Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown, among his relatives, and in his household."

Never feel inferior to anyone. We have more knowledge than anyone else has; we have Bible doctrine. We have a world view that is correct. People in this life are confused and infused with cosmic system thinking.

Closing Points

1. On that basis of prior knowledge and assumptions about Christ, the people of Nazareth could not accept the carpenter's Son as having great understanding. They could not refute His Messiahship.
2. They could not accept the proof of His adult ministry. We do grow up.
3. They could not accept the proof of His miraculous activities.
4. They were the epitome of arrogance.

5. Their was a rejection of the realm of reason. This is how unbelieving believers think; all of them. Presented with the truth, they call it a lie, or they would accept Christ as Savior. Jesus must leave Nazareth.

There will be a new direction in the Lord's ministry at this point. This reveals the greater rejection that He will endure all the way to the cross. The next part of His ministry is a tour of Galilee, an extended tour, His last tour of that area.

Matt. 13:57 And they were offended by Him. But Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown and in his household."

Lesson #0458

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

6/16/2013 1Sunday

Bobby was thinking about Bob while studying. Certain passages, when you reach it, things from the past spring to mind. Matt. 6:4 was quoted many times by Bob, and He made this statement after being rejected the second time by his hometown and mostly his family. They did not seem to be in His camp. They were skeptical. Nazareth did not honor Him for Who He claimed to be.

So what does this have to do with R. B. Thieme, Jr.? Bob quoted this statement to Bobby's mother during an argument, "A prophet is not without honor in his own home." He had a half-smile when he quoted this passage.

Matt. 13:57 And they were offended by Him. But Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown and in his household."

This was a critical situation in the life of Jesus Christ.

Jesus was speaking of the attitude of the overwhelming number of people in Nazareth who did not want Him to speak in their synagogue. He claimed to be the Messiah and applied the messianic passages to Himself. The people were hostile toward him, and they reacted in arrogance and sarcasm.

Matt. 13:55–56 Isn't this the carpenter's son? Isn't His mother called Mary, and His brothers James, Joseph, Simon, and Judas? And His sisters, aren't they all with us? So where does He get all these things?"

They were being both logical and sarcastic. We know all about this man's background. They defamed Him and His family. These people who now rejected Him. They had known these people all of their lives. They had observe His actions and the uniqueness of His Person. Even as a child and as a teenager. His attitudes and actions were perfect. He did not sin; everything that He did was exactly as it should be.

Now they were unresponsive to His claims and to His ministry. He could do nothing to persuade them. This is how strong negative volition is. No one group could be more negative. They saw Him for 30+ years, and they still rejected Him.

Jesus would have to reject them and walk away from His Own family and Nazareth.

Matt. 13:57 And they were offended by Him. But Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown and in his household."

Jesus was constrained from performing miracles.

Mark 6:5 So He was not able to do any miracles there, except that He laid His hands on a few sick people and healed them.

Mark 6:6 And He was amazed at their unbelief. Now He was going around the villages in a circuit, teaching.

Jesus and Miracles in Nazareth

1. That Jesus did not do miracles was not a constraint on the power of Jesus Christ. He chose not to do any except for a few.
2. His purpose for miracles had changed because of this rejection.
3. He would no longer perform miracles as the credentials for His Messiahship. Jesus bypassed many people that He could have healed.
4. His ministry had progressed beyond that point. There was nothing new in His miracles. The people already rejected Him.
5. In the face of such negative volition as in Nazareth, there was no point for a spate of more miracles to confirm His Person. These are the results of negative volition.
6. Those who rejected Him would not change their minds, no matter what He did. This is the power of negative volition. How can people reject the Lord Jesus Christ; when it is so obvious to us. How can they not believe in Jesus? How can they not believe just to cover all their bases.¹
7. Jesus did perform a few miracles where faith was present.
8. Such miracles were a confirmation of what faith brought. These miracles were directed toward those who had believed. Jesus performed a few more healings in Nazareth.
9. The power of faith in Christ is not being expressed by the performance of miracles. They will still be used from time to time as credentials; but here, Jesus reduced the number of miracles which He performed. Nothing He could do could fix this problem.

¹ The social engineering that takes place today is in opposition to Christianity. The truth of Christianity is always opposed to the cosmic system. Our nation is becoming opposed to the very truth which made us a client nation, and which has blessed us. It is not getting better and it won't.

We have been healed when we were saved. This is that indication. This is a reflection of that salvation.

Negative Volition and Man

1. Negative volition stymies even the power of God; no one can be forced to believe, even by God. Even in the face of irrefutable evidence, people can choose not to believe. Jesus had to leave town.
2. God does not overrule negative volition.
3. Man's free will decisions, for or against Jesus Christ are the issue. The issue for man and the issue in the Angelic Conflict.
4. The sovereignty of God and the free will of man coexist. God has allowed man to have free will which can reject God and Jesus Christ. Those who reject show the stupidity of Satan and his angels in eternity past when they rejected God. Nazareth people were a reflection of the negative volition of the fallen angels. Nazareth is exactly the same as these fallen angels. They saw the evidence and they said, "no." Satan and his angels were staring at themselves.

Those who believed in Christ reflected the love and justice of God; and they reflected the positive volition of the angels who clung to God. Jesus Christ was our substitute; He died for us. Right in Nazareth was a demonstration the Angelic Conflict. Those who did not believe reflected Satan and his angels.

Much of Jesus' family rejected Him at first, but later believed in Him. This means that there is hope; anyone can change their mind. So much emotion is hung on that word, repentance. It means to change one's mind about Jesus Christ regarding salvation. Faith can be expressed even at the last breath of a person's life. Bob's grandfather rejected Jesus all of his life. Bob's uncle gave him the gospel one more time on his deathbed and he believed. There is always hope. The thief on the cross who believed in Jesus. He had no time to earn his salvation by works. He had no good works.

Do not deny the gospel when you have that opportunity.

Jesus' family came around because of the resurrection of the Lord. They believed in Him for that reason. No idea what will trigger positive volition. Those who are negative; God does not give up on. God works in their lives to make certain that they can hear the truth.

Matt. 13:58 And He did not do many miracles there because of their unbelief.

Then there came a very difficult event. Matt. 14: Mark 6:14–29 Luke

John the Baptizer ministry overlapped the Lord's ministry; and many of those who followed John stayed with him. They were a little behind the curve; and now John was gone, in just the right time in history, he was removed from the scene. Then his disciples turned exclusively toward the Lord Jesus Christ.

John's ministry was fading, and then ended. Jesus began to teach the disciples in earnest. Now it was time for a little change in their routine. The disciples would go out to teach without the Lord Jesus Christ. This was to be their future; this is what their lives would be like. This was their practical training. These men were to receive something that no one had received before.

Lesson #0459

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

6/16/2013 2Sunday

The Lord Jesus Christ and His disciples are at a crossroads. Previously, they had tried to kill Him, so He must exit the city. The herald of the Messiah, John the Baptizer, was beheaded at about the same time. Two great events in the life the Lord Jesus Christ. In all of our lives, there are events in our lives which are turning points in our lives.

Bobby has not been kind in his descriptions of the disciples; they have been hardheaded and they have not understood much of what Jesus taught. Jesus has decided, after these events, for the disciples to get their feet wet. He calls His disciples together.

Also, at this time, there was a formal organization and this was done in a very organized way. Jesus was going to give His disciples a new mission, and they would spread out, and make a kingdom offer to the people. Individual Jews would now be asked to believe in Jesus even though the kingdom was postponed. Before, the promised kingdom had come to them; but now it was postponed. This would be a new message; it is still to believe in Jesus, but it is no longer the Kingdom of God is at hand. The gospel must go out, despite this postponement. The disciples were now called to go out and to canvas the nation. Jesus saw all the individuals of the nation as a vast field. There is a field of ripened grain to be harvested.

It begins in Matt. 9:35:

Matt. 9:35 Then Jesus went to all the towns and villages, teaching in their synagogues, preaching the good news of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every sickness.

Jesus was on the move here. His miracles had been changed for those who have believed in Jesus, and He did use these as credentials in some places.

Matt. 9:36 When He saw the crowds, He felt compassion for them, because they were weary and worn out, like sheep without a shepherd.

The people were distressed and dispirited like sheep without a shepherd. Jesus is staying on the move, proclaiming the good news of the kingdom to those who would listen.

Matt. 9:37–38 Then He said to His disciples, "The harvest is abundant, but the workers are few. Therefore, pray to the Lord of the harvest to send out workers into His harvest."

Jesus saw them as lost sheep, who are defenseless, who are liable to eaten by wolves, and Jesus would act the role of the shepherd; the wolves were the religious leaders. Jesus Christ is the protector, the lofty sheep. These leaders would have been the shepherds, but they were keeping the sheep from being led by their true shepherd. They had reject their Messiah, the True Shepherd. As a result, Jesus felt great compassion for His people.

Aorist passive indicative of splagchnizomai (σπλαγχνίζομαι) [pronounced splangkhnid'-zom-ahēe], which means, to be moved as to one's bowels, hence to be moved with compassion, have compassion (for the bowels were thought to be the seat of love and pity). Thayer Definition only. Strong's #4697.

The only solution to recidivism is the gospel. People go all over with a compassion or affection for other people. This is what the disciples must have. We are not called to despise anyone, no matter how terrible they might be. This should be the attitude of all believers toward all unbelievers. All believers should have a burden for the lost. You do not want anyone to end up in hell for all of eternity. No enemy in your life should escape that desire. Compassion is tied to impersonal love. This is not you just trying to improve the lot of the lives of others. This is one of the most misunderstood words in the United States today. They want to redistribute money, which has nothing to do with compassion. True charity comes from the soul of an individual because they want to help someone. Charity is not turning to the government and expecting the government to help everyone. That is handing over your freedom to those who want to take it from you. The government is not compassionate; compassion does not come from institutions; it comes from individuals.

Jesus saw an opportunity in a circumstance of difficulty. That is something that we ought to be reminded of. Hope in difficult circumstances. We are not called to be a pessimist. We are called to be optimists because of Bible doctrine. We have something in our souls that others do not.

Jesus and Offering the Kingdom

1. Jesus saw a message that needed to be given. Our Lord saw it. He is going to do something to solve this problem.
2. Harvest is a metaphor for people responding with positive volition toward the gospel.
3. The kingdom was at hand was a slightly different message, but they were still called upon to believe in Jesus. He would still set up the kingdom, but it would be postponed. Many rejected Him, but He was still there. Do not follow the pharisees in their rejection.
4. Jesus saw many people as ready to be harvested. The pharisees offered the teachings of the rabbis, the teaching of good works; and a religion of merit. "Keep the ordinances and you will enter the kingdom." The people understood the hypocrisy. They touted one thing, but did not obey what they prescribed. They were total corruption in high places like our government today.

There was even death for some who did not follow the pharisees. There is terrible hypocrisy and all sorts of tyrannies and falsehoods and laws being broken. They were looking for something else. Some were hungry for truth. They were dejected because they were hungering for truth. Jesus sees them ready to be harvested. That is why Jesus felt affection and compassion for them. They were the objects of religion. They were being tyrannized by religion. They were being led astray by false religion; by legalism. Jesus felt compassion because He is the God of grace. He felt compassion for those trapped in legalism. Nothing can be worse than being trapped in religious legalism.

Many of these people were ready to be harvested; but more men with the gospel were needed to go out and perform the harvest. When there are those with no real burden or compassion, the client nation is destroyed. That is why we hear that one of the tenets of a client nation is sending out missionaries. When we refuse to do that or we are not interested, Jesus cannot just let that go. That is His general plan. That is one reason our country is in trouble. We are responsible. We have an obligation in this realm.

Jesus will call the 12 disciples together for a new mission. They are at a point in their training, being taught by the Master for some time. Now they are ready to be launched into this harvest mission.

People accused Berachahians of not going out and helping people; you don't have a lay ministry. Here the disciples are being trained, and Jesus is going to send them out for a little practical experience. We are in Berachah for exactly the same reason.

There is nothing like the motivation of Bible doctrine to get us moving in the plan of God. It is our own individual motivation to light the fire in our own souls. When you have a spiritual gift and it is being developed, then you are ready to go, and the Lord will open doors and even kick you through those doors. Berachah prepares you.

Luke 9:1

Luke 9:1 And having called together His twelve disciples, He gave them power and authority over all the demons, and to heal diseases.

Jesus gives them power and authority to cast our demons and to heal diseases. He sends them out in pairs.

Luke 9:2 And He sent them to proclaim the kingdom of God, and to heal the ones being sick.

Jesus gives them an operations order. There is a mission and you need how to conduct that mission. Your leaders put together all the information that they know; the intelligence, the equipment, and all that we need to know. An op order? In great detail. Jesus is about to send them into harm's way. He is equipping them. He is going to give them marching orders. He is going to send them out. This is as good as an operations order as Bobby ever received in Ranger school.

Jesus gives them the same power and authority that He has. He can heal the sick and cast out demons. Jesus sends them out with the same credentials. They have watched Jesus for a year, and then He tells them what they can do with this power.

We do not have this power today. That is not what this is about. It is about our resources and our mission and how it parallels today.

Next week is Rick Hughes, and the following Sunday.

Matt. 9:35

Jesus is still offering the gospel of the kingdom to the Jews, but it is now on a different timetable. Those in the synagogue reject Him along with the rabbis of the synagogue.

Matt. 9:35 And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages teaching in their synagogues, and proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every kind of sickness and every weakness of body among the people.

Jesus did not heal all diseases that He came across, but He did cure all types of diseases and sicknesses.

Jesus felt compassion for the people, and they were like sheep without a shepherd. Dispirited and distressed. They struggle in the sense of, "Why am I here? What do I do?" They find that nothing satisfies them.

Matt. 9:36 And seeing the crowds, He was moved with pity concerning them, because they were weary and scattered, like sheep having no shepherd.

There are many people to harvest. Jesus is not talking about farming; this is a metaphor. There are only a few workers for all of those who need to hear the gospel.

Matt. 9:37 Then He said to His disciples, The harvest truly is great, but the workers few.

Jesus calls for the disciples to pray to God to send out workers for His harvest.

Matt. 9:38 Pray then that the Lord of the harvest may send out workers into His harvest.

Apparently, Jesus had not covered all areas in Galilee; these that He did not reach. He substantiated His messages with all miracles. Jesus saw so many who were distressed and dispirited. They were disheartened. They were upset over the legalism and the hypocrisy of the religious types. The kingdom just seemed farther and farther away.

Jesus observed all of this, and He looks at them all with great compassion. "These are the lost sheep according to the house of Israel." That was an expression of His compassion. They were being tyrannized by their leaders. Jesus offered them the kingdom. These sheep needed a shepherd to guide them and to protect them. A sheep that has wandered from the herd is absolutely helpless.

Jesus offers them the alternative as being the Shepherd. They had rejected the kingdom in the 1st advent. Now, the kingdom would still come, but it would be in the 2nd advent. The kingdom would be future. It would be when the Lord returns.

Harvesting is people responding with positive volition toward the Lord's ministry. There would be a great harvest. The continuing message that the kingdom is at hand. The Messiah is there amongst them. He is not on the throne, but the King is there. They would be harvested by accepting that kingdom. The Lord said, "I am the King; the kingdom is here;" but it would be future.

There were too many to be harvested by One Man walking over the countryside. There needed to be more. Jesus designated His disciples for this mission. They were to the point in their training that they were ready to be launched; they were ready to reap those who would believe in Jesus Christ.

This is parallel to Luke 9.

Matt. 10:1 And having called His twelve disciples, He gave [also, to appoint] them authority over unclean spirits, so as to cast out, and to heal every disease and every weakness of body.

Having called them together, Jesus then gives them power and authority. The disciples are now informed as to why they have been called. They received the resources. This is exact same authority as Jesus has. They can do the miracles that He does. Jesus gives them the power to do certain tasks. They are not more holy. They have been under the teacher; under the master.

Matt. 10:2 And the names of the twelve apostles are these: First, Simon who is called Peter and his brother Andrew, James the son of Zebedee and his brother John,

We have already gone over these different disciples.

Matt. 10:3 Philip, and Bartholomew, Thomas, and Matthew the tax-collector, James the son of Alpheus, and Lebbaeus, whose last name was Thaddaeus,

They did not have much time to celebrate after graduating; they are told to get cracking. Bobby at graduation; he walked across the stage in the morning; and in the afternoon he was commissioned an officer. Graduate and then get cracking.

Matt. 10:4 Simon the Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed Him.

This was not the appointment of Apostles. This was an appointment to power. It was the credential to the office of Apostle. Now they would receive the resources for that office. They were to represent the Lord Jesus Christ with exactly the same credential. It was to introduce them to the towns and villages as our Lord's representatives. They were sent out with great power.

This would extend the kingdom gospel ministry. They were simply harvesters. They were ready to do some of it.

Jesus gives an operations order. Bobby was looking at the detail of an operations order. A statement of the mission; then everything needed for that mission follows. All intelligence is revealed. What the men will do, how they will get there and what they will do there. What about rations, POW's, weapons, ammunition.

They had power, and it was unlimited. That is some great fire support. They were not to get arrogant. They were not to misuse this power for their own gain. Getting out of fellowship could derail them. Judas was in the midst of all this. Judas had this power. He got the same power as they did. This is one reason why Bobby thinks that he was a believer.

Matt. 10:5 Jesus sent these twelve out, charging them, saying: Do not go into the way of the nations, and do not go into a Samaritan city.

Matt. 10:6 But rather go to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

They were specifically sent to the lost sheep of Israel; not to gentiles or Samaritans. The Jews had not yet completely rejected Him. They had heard about the kingdom; they heard about Jesus and they were curious. They had some positive volition but without information upon which to make a decision.

The disciples were to go out with the message of John the Baptizer and the message of Jesus. The Kingdom of Heaven is at hand.

About this same time, John the Baptizer was beheaded.

John the Baptizer said, "Repent, for the Messiah is here; and the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand." No change of message. This message has been going out for a year or more.

This was the final opportunity for all the Jews in Galilee. The Kingdom of Heaven had been promised for a long time; this promise did not begin with Jesus appeared. It was promised in the Old Testament to Israel. These were covenants with Abraham back in Gen. 12:1–3. The covenant to David included a King and a kingdom. Then there was a new covenant made with Jeremiah. This promise had been made centuries ago.

These disciples had a message that was as old as Israel; promising the fulfillment of all the kingdom covenants.

Matt. 10:7 And going on, proclaim, saying, The kingdom of Heaven has drawn near.

The disciples were to not go out to the gentile cities or the Samaritan cities. But the gentiles would be included in the kingdom. Gen. 12:3 holds this promise to the gentiles. The blessing of salvation was to come to the gentiles through the Messiah of Israel. Isa. 60:3 nations would come to Israel's light, like moths being attracted to light.

The kingdom is for the Jews, but all nations on earth will be blessed by association with that kingdom. Israel and the church are separated. That is central to theology. We interpret based upon the dispensational hermeneutic.

When we witness to the Lord Jesus Christ, we are testifying to our own faith in Jesus Christ. The disciples are professing their belief in Jesus Christ and in the future kingdom.

Jesus defines the authority which He has given to them.

These are the things which Jesus said they could do. They could do exactly what Jesus could do. These disciples can do the same thing. They received the power and they were to use it freely.

Matt. 10:8 Heal sick ones, cleanse lepers, raise dead ones, cast out demons. You freely received, freely give.

No credit cards and no cash; no staff.

Matt. 10:9 Do not provide gold, nor silver, nor copper in your belts,

They were given a lot of power; but they were to depend upon God for the logistics. The power that they used was that of the Holy Spirit. They could call upon this power at any time that they wanted; freely.

They were not to limit the performance of these miracles. They were to be used for a purpose.

Don't take money, rations, and no extra clothing. They were to travel very light; and they were not to provide provisions for themselves. Go as you are. Mission is valued over personal consideration.

You cannot operate without logistics. But there are logistics; the disciples will not provide them.

Matt. 10:10 nor provision bag for the road, nor two tunics, nor sandals, nor staves. For the worker is worthy of his food.

What Is Highlighted

1. The power that He has given them.
2. It highlights the care and keeping of God during the mission.
3. It highlights the importance of the message over the messengers.
4. Traveling light avoids the impression that the disciples are involved in other businesses.

What God's plan demands for execution, God's plan will provide. The logistics are provided for already. We have a purpose for being here. God did not just put us here. God will provide for them in a wonderful way.

Whatever our mission in life is, God provides the logistics until it is time to depart.

God's Grace and Logistical Grace

1. Their mission is priority even above their own well-being. It is no different for us. If you are overly concerned for your own well-being, how can you concentrate?
2. This is how these men will live the rest of their lives; dependent upon God's grace. Some of us are very capable of taking care of ourselves in every possible way. The grace of God is just as effective for us as it is for others. God's grace is overall. Everything is provided for us by God's grace.
3. These disciples will dedicate themselves as apostles to spreading the gospel and Bible doctrine and demonstrating God's grace. We are responsible to demonstrate God's grace every day of our life. We serve the One Who is gracious.

Lesson #0461

Matt. 10: Life of Christ

6/20/2013 Thurs

The mission of the disciples is coming into focus.

It is difficult to imagine that the Lord Jesus Christ needs help in anything, but in this point of His ministry, He does need help. He cannot go to every village and town in Galilee. His time is growing short. 1 or 2 years remaining in His earthly ministry.

These 12 Jesus sent out after instructing them, "Do not go in the way of the gentiles. And do not enter into any of the Samaritan cities." They were only to go to the cities around Galilee. They were to go to places that Jesus had not yet been.

Their message was this:

Matt. 10:7 And going on, proclaim, saying, The kingdom of Heaven has drawn near.

The Jews understood this message; they had been waiting for this message, which had been promised all the way back to Abraham.

Many people were ready to believe; the harvest was great. The Jews needed to hear that Messiah was here, and that therefore the kingdom was near.

The disciples would offer them a place in that future kingdom. That kingdom and the first advent had been rejected. The disciples were still offering the same kingdom, even though it was postponed. They would all die before the kingdom is instituted. This is all parallel to Luke 9.

In the Church Age, we have been commissioned just as we are. They are being sent out and we are being sent out as well. Jesus Christ is no longer present with us today. He would no longer be present with them in such a short time.

The disciples were given unique power to evangelize with. They could heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers and cast out demons. You have been given this power freely; and freely give.

Then Jesus tells them to be light on their provisions. The disciples will take up Jesus' same ministry. There will be a confirmation of the message that they would proclaim. The power went right along with the message, just as it did with Jesus Christ.

One set of clothes, one set of shoes, a walking stick; and they would take no food and no money. Jesus was putting the emphasis in the instructions so that the disciples would depend upon the logistic provided by God. Everything would be supplied.

They were not to go out and hustle up a job.

This Same Understanding Is Applicable to us

1. God's logistical grace is always in operation for us. It never stops. We may have nothing. We may go from here destitute, but we do not need to fear for our money, food and clothing.
2. We will always have enough to stay in His plan. We may go off the deep end in His plan, but God will give us exactly what we need in order to stay in His plan. That is a guarantee.
3. Some will have more and some will have less. There is never a time when the Lord fails to take care of His Own.
4. We are guaranteed to have what we need from the abundance of God's grace. Psalm 51 He owns the cattle on a 1000 hills. His logistics to us are unlimited and He will give us what we need. He keeps us alive to accomplish His purposes. If you are without a job, do you sit on your hands all day long and wait for logistics? You do what is necessary. You go look for a job. Whatever it is, you will find it. You do not sit and wait.
5. Our gathering of material things is not our priority. Our priority is always the plan of God for our lives. How easy it is to lose sight of that.
6. The material things that we desire or that we actually acquire may not be what we wanted or the amount that we expected. However, the Lord knows exactly our requirements to do His will. His logistics will be forthcoming for exactly what we need. Relax.
7. Do not be concerned or burdened about material things. You will have what you need.
8. In that regard, be content with what you have. Philip 4:11 Heb. 13:5 Do not get your eyes on what other people have. We live in a materialistic society and it is tempting to strive for the almighty dollar. That is the #1 pursuit. If you are capable, you should make a good living and even acquire wealth. That is a blessing. Money is not evil.

Wealth can be used in God's service. It has been done many times. This has supported many ministries. Wealth is given by God for the purpose of His plan for us. All the logistics in our lives have a purpose. God always provides for His plan for each one of us.

Jesus explains how they are to survive without food or money.

Matt. 10:10 nor provision bag for the road, nor two tunics, nor sandals, nor staves. For the worker is worthy of his food.

Logistics Provided by Others

1. Part of their support would come from some of those they evangelized. People are convinced that Messiah is there and the kingdom is at hand. Their logistics come through other people.
2. The believers would extend appreciation for the message and the men. The worker is worthy of his support.
3. Those believers would offer hospitality and logistical support.
4. This way the disciples can just continue to proclaim the kingdom without having to scrounge up a job.

To have to receive remuneration outside of the ministry is not what Jesus has planned for His disciples. For many years, Rick Hughes had to support himself doing other things at first. When Rick was out of money, he would get a check in mailbox, enough to take care of his needs.

The work of an evangelist or a minister is intensive work. All that he can give to it. The worker deserves the wages for his work.

1Cor. 9:7–12 speaks of this remuneration. Bobby receives a salary from Berachah Church as a remuneration; and it is paid based upon donations. The policy is, when we are motivated to give, then we will freely give to disseminate the Word of God. By giving, we become partners of a ministry. A check from Berachah Church represents the logistical grace of God toward Bobby.

There will never be any gimmicks and there will never be any pressure. No pressure and no begging for money in Berachah Church. We are not obligated to give out of pressure. You give $150 and it is under pressure, you can go and get it back. "Bet you don't hear that at many churches."

also an instruction to wear sandals. Don't take an extra pair. That was a critical part of their operation.

All of these instructions are for the purpose of mission accomplished. This is to be done no matter how Bobby feels or what is going on in his life. His charge is mission first. That is the charge to any communicator.

Our Lord is looking out for the physical welfare of the disciples. Bobby looks out for our spiritual welfare. The Lord looks out for our physical welfare.

The military teaches that the mission is first. Mission is more important than the soldier. But the soldier cannot be ignored by his leaders. He is taken care of. Any leader does an equipment check of his troops. Ammunition, water, field gear, etc. Whatever is necessary for the mission.

Now the SOP comes directly from the mouth of Jesus Christ. The disciples are standing by for an equipment check and it is showtime.

We can never forget God's logistical grace. God has a plan for all of us. He will supply exactly what we need to do it. Do not sweat the logistics; just get on with it. You can still have fun in life; you can have a social life. But you must remember your priorities. You must remember what your obligation is in the spiritual life.

The disciples are ready to go. They will get just a few more instructions. Every time Jesus gives these instructions, they have tremendous application for us.

Matt. 10:11 And into whatever city or village you enter, search out who in it is worthy; and remain there until you go out.

Lesson #0462

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

6/23/2013 1Sunday

Protocol is important in Berachah; and respect for those in the congregation.

Jesus has been rejected by those of His hometown and he goes out on His final teaching in the Galilee area. His disciples are ready to graduate into their first foray into their future ministries. They will get instructions in what to do.

The twelve have a future that includes apostleship and writing the very words of Scripture that we study.

Matt. 10:5 Jesus sent these twelve out, charging them, saying: Do not go into the way of the nations, and do not go into a Samaritan city.

They have a simple mission statement. Jesus is unable to get out to all the sheep of the house of Israel. The disciples must go to them. Their ministry here is limited to the Jews.

Matt. 10:6 But rather go to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

Jesus gives them unusual instructions.

Matt. 10:7 And going on, proclaim, saying, The kingdom of Heaven has drawn near.

This is their assignment, and no one has received an assignment like this before. There are many charlatans in the Christian world today, but these disciples have this power.

Matt. 10:8 Heal sick ones, cleanse lepers, raise dead ones, cast out demons. You freely received, freely give.

They are not even to take money with them.

Matt. 10:9 Do not provide gold, nor silver, nor copper in your belts,

Now Jesus deals with their logistical support.

Matt. 10:10 nor provision bag for the road, nor two tunics, nor sandals, nor staves. For the worker is worthy of his food.

The next few verses tell us how they can expect to have their needs met:

Matt. 10:11 And into whatever city or village you enter, search out who in it is worthy; and remain there until you go out.

Staying with reputable people gave them an instant hearing.

When you give money out of proper motivation, you are participating in the ministry of Berachah Church. You are supporting missionaries that Berachah supports and evangelists, like Rick Hughes. Do not give grudgingly or of necessity. God will provide the money necessary for Berachah to function. We do not need the money without the proper motivation. We should give without coercion. When we give, we participate in this ministry and in the ministry of many others.

Matt. 10:12 But entering into the house, greet it;

They were not to move about to a better house. They were not to better deal their hosts. That is what our Lord precludes. This would be rude and reflect very badly on the one who sent them there. They disciples were to show good manners as houseguests.

Bobby has heard horror stories of pastors or missionaries who have stayed with families, and they have been demanding, rude, and they mooch. They act as if they are privileged. They want people to wait on them. That is not the attitude of gratitude for hospitality that has been shown. That is a lack of grace orientation.

Grace orientation is the order of the day, always. Always operation from a position of grace orientation. When people treat you graciously, you must treat them graciously in return. The disciples could not afford to detract from the gospel by rude and offensive actions. They must not be unmannerly; they must show respect and thankfulness for what they have received. Good manners reflects what is in the soul of a person. This reveals how they act toward others. Thoughtlessness and self-centeredness. If you only think of yourself, then bad manners result.

Wherever we go, we are ambassadors for Jesus Christ. The disciples were not to cross the line of thoughtfulness of protocol to vulgarity and .

The same protocol goes for us. As believers, we have a Royal Family Honor Code. That is our etticate;

Believers and the Royal Family Honor Code

1. We are the family of the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords. There is never a greater royalty than this.
2. Jesus Christ is sovereign God and He is our sovereign King. We are in union with Jesus Christ. When we believe in Jesus Christ, we are placed there by the baptism of the Holy Spirit. We share all that He is and all that He has. People are born into royalty. That is what regeneration is. This causes us to be born as royalty.
3. As royal family of God, we must behave as spiritual aristocracy. We have never been aristocrats before and we do not know how to act.
4. We have a code of conduct that corresponds to the plan of God for us.
5. His plan is a protocol plan. It has norms and standards and formalities and etticut.
6. The protocols of the Royal Family Honor Code comes form the Bible. We are studying our book of etticut.
7. Doctrine is the spiritual code of aristocracy. We need to learn how to think the honor code and how to think that honor code. A protocol is a set of standards to which we rigidly adhere. The Downton Abbey series is a code of conduct under which they consistently live. Departing from norms betrays their class and disrupts society. Deviating brings shame upon themselves and their families. This is what aristocracy is and how they live. How the hoi polloi live is not the issue.

Honor Code

1. The honor code defines who we are as a family. We are royal family. Our standards of behavior are defined by this honor code.
2. Our behavior is defined by the Royal Family Honor Code. The British aristocracy are trained from youth to live these standards. Aristocracy runs on a protocol system. We do make mistakes from time to time, and we call those sins. That does not mean that protocol goes out the window.
3. The honor code of conduct is lived based upon doctrine. Spiritual advance is the key to living in the honor code of conduct.
4. That doctrine engenders something in us, something which defines us as royal family. We live it and we extend this toward others. We have a position of royalty, so we need to act like it.
5. We learn and are trained in the manners, the conventions and the protocol of the spiritual life. That is our normality. Those are our norms and standards.

Aristocracy today is often ridiculed, along with manners. Often called antiquated as stodgy and undemocratic. Our society ridicules such conduct. We have become a society without any formality at all with greatly reduced standards of behavior. That is the opposite of protocol. The unconventional has become the conventional. Lack of convention is a reaction to authority. The lack of protocol is anti-authority. The authority of Jesus Christ is the authority of the royal family and defines the Royal Family Honor Code. As believers, we have no reason to be anti-authority. An anti-authority society will continue to degenerate in its standards. The abnormal is now normal. For believers, this is called reversionism. For a society, it is called degeneracy.

We have a Royal Family Honor Code; we must know it and we must be spiritual aristocracy.

Lesson #0463

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

6/23/2013 2Sunday

We begin the Christian life as royalty, in union with the King of Kings and Lord of Lords. A guy in the prison ministry has a hard time convincing them that they are royal family. We are mandated to live by the Royal Family Honor Code. This means Bible doctrine in the soul. You cannot live the code without the code being in your soul.

Those who are contemporary royalty are trained from infancy to be royal family. We get our training from the Word of God.

Bobby saw a bumper sticker, Define normal. The person driving thought himself smugly superior. Implied that normal is relative. Normal is only what a person decides for himself. There can be no societal norms. If it feels good, do it. That is normal to a society in our place in time. Do what you want to do. That is the epitome of relativity in a society. No social standards. Everyone does what is right in his own eyes. Prov. 21:2 this is the standard of fools (v. 15). Those with relative standards make up a society of fools. We have become a society of fools without protocol. Normal can be defined apart from the relative. Normal is a fixed standard of behavior in society. Similar to the fixed standard of aristocracy. Normal means conventions, protocol, some formality that all people adhere to. The all-importance of freedom over security. There is a standard or a protocol. Today we find this code changing; people who rather be secure than free. Those who would rather turn their privacy over to the government rather than have freedom and privacy. Our constitution is going out the window, treated as a fluid document. Our constitution is a fixed standard. We are no longer governed by laws. That is a societal degeneracy. We have no real societal set of norms and standards. What is normal? That is answered by so many people.

"I am normal because I say I am normal." That is not a fixed, protocol standard. But for the believer, there are a set of absolute norms by which the believer operates. This is inherent to the doctrine that we learn. We cannot learn doctrine without having a spiritual code; without having fixed standards. We have become a society that embraces all things relative. Fixed norms and standards have been abandoned for anything goes. Blatant criminal action is ignored; a corrupt society. So acts in a society are without limits. Our society is almost out of control; but, in some areas, we have become legalistic. However, with all these lack of standards, there is the standard of political correctness. Political correctness constantly changes based upon the political standard. It is just conformity to unreality.

We do not profile certain groups when getting on an airplane, even though they are the primary terrorists in this world. We do not want to offend anyone. That is a protocol not based upon reality. It is being legalistically used for various political purposes. It is not something that we can hang our hat on. Political correctness covers bad behavior. Most news broadcasts will teach the exact opposite. Many operate on political correctness; and they represent no real protocol and they are based on unreality.

Jesus is giving His disciples exactly the opposite; He is giving them standards; He is giving them their marching orders. The kingdom is at hand. These ambassadors for Christ must not detract from Jesus Christ. They must not discredit Him. They must not bring shame upon themselves or upon the Lord Jesus Christ.

The disciples were not to consume their time with an elaborate social life. They did not have time to indulge in frivolities. There is nothing wrong with social life, and that is important for all of us. It was important for the disciples as well. All things in their time and place.

We can enjoy life as believers. We have the capacity to enjoy life. We can do this without forgetting the great purpose for which we live. The disciples are ambassadors. They represent the United States. These disciples have no right to denigrate the Lord Jesus Christ in a foreign country, which are these cities and villages.

Without training, you simply act or do whatever. That is having no standard. We are called to an absolute standard. We need absolutes in our soul. We are all believers on our way to heaven and we all sin. With a standard code of conduct, we know when we are out of line and we know we don't have to stay that way.

Aristocracy has been degenerate from time to time. They can be very degenerate as well. They can set their own false standards. If they do not live by the right code, they would be ostracized. When we are out of fellowship, we are ostracized by the royal family. It is a great parallel in so many ways.

So they should not engage in social life which reflects poorly on their King.

A fixation of believers today on pleasure. We have a society of people who are undependable. They do not show up to work on time. They don't pay their bills. They don't show up to work on time. Some people's vocation is just a sideline to their life. The work ethic in our society is generally terrible. People are more interested in satisfying their appetites than being satisfied by a job well-done. They think they should be given respect or reward when there is no reason to do so. Even if we do not like what we are doing.

Many do not like their professions. But if you don't or do, it does not matter. You must live your life as unto the Lord, and we must do a job as unto the Lord.

You need to stay away from office politics and office gossip. Let your work define you; not your personality or schmoozing. Having integrity stands out. We are to reflect the honor that we should have as representing the Lord Jesus Christ. It is an honor to represent our nation.

When we advance in this way, we are being prepared for something greater. When we advance in the spiritual life, we are being prepared for something greater. We are not promoted in anything unless we are promoted by the Lord based upon His plan. Man promotes based upon human criteria. However, this criteria does not mean that we are ready for such promotions. We are not trained enough. God knows exactly when we are ready for a promotion. When we are promoted by Him, we are not set up for failure. We are set up for success, whatever success is in the plan of God.

Whatever we are being prepared for, we are promoted into it at the right time and under the right circumstances and it will be great. Too many people are promoted to positions that they are not capable of or competent in. We have all had a boss like this; and we may have known people like this. All that we need to do is to be prepared for whatever comes. That is what it means to take in Bible doctrine. This prepares us for whatever comes. We await the unfolding of His plan. God's plan always requires grace orientation and patience.

You will not earn or deserve what God gives us. He gives us what we do not deserve. We are just to prepare ourselves for whatever He gives us. So we depend upon Him and we wait on Him. We trust that His grace is always sufficient. We will be stunned as to what God prepares us for.

Grace orientation results in humility; that is the honor code of the spiritual life. Grace orientation reflects a soul filled with humility. "I am not too great to do this job." We are not too great to do any job.

Bobby in high school did not have a job and his friends got a job. Bob set him up with a job to be a laborer at Portland cement. No matter what dirty lousy awful sleazy job he had in the plant, Bobby wanted to do it well. Bobby wanted to do it well. If he did a lousy job, that would dishonor his father.

That cement plant prepared Bobby in ways he did not expect. God will put us through things and we do not know why He did it, but we will look back and say, "I get it." God does not promote us without learning the lesson of humility. We learn capacity for leadership. We cannot lead and be arrogant. Leaders serve. The leaders of our nation do not recognize that. They are not there to abuse others or to gratify yourself. You have command and authority in the military, but you must recognize that you are serving the men in many ways.

When God promotes us, then we are ready. Doctrine, humility, living under the plan of God, and promotion. Bible doctrine in the soul is success in life. As Christians, we represent Jesus Christ in this world. Whatever we do in word or deed, we are to do in the name of the Lord. That is a responsibility. This is a responsibility to the Lord. That is our ambassadorship. We do whatever we do as unto the Lord. We must favorably represent our position in Jesus Christ. When you do that, you stand out above the rest. There is a great satisfaction above and beyond any human achievement. Some get great human achievement and they are never happy. Whatever they strive for they find human achievement to be empty. But God's work through us gives us great achievement and great personal satisfaction. We know for whom we live.

When we serve ourselves, we will have moments of achievement and happiness, but in that case, we are only as good as our last jump shot. We have a code and it is the code that we live by; and it is the code that we live by. All else is incomplete.

Matt. 10:13 and if the house truly is worthy, let your peace come upon it. But if it is not worthy, let your peace return to you.

Matt. 10:14 And whoever will not receive you, nor will hear your words, having gone out of that house or city, shake off the dust from your feet.

Matt. 10:15 Truly I say to you, It will be more bearable to the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in Judgment Day than for that city.

Matt. 10:16 Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves. Therefore, be wise as serpents and harmless as doves.

Matt. 10:17 But beware of men. For they will betray you to sanhedrins, and they will flog you in their synagogues.

Matt. 10:18 And also you will be brought before governors and kings for My sake, for a testimony to them and to the nations.

Lesson #0464	Matt. 13: Life of Christ	7/3/2013 Wed

Bobby said that Thomas Jefferson was a deist. He reads the first two paragraphs of the Declaration of Independence. Nature's god is divine establishment. The 2nd paragraph tells us why they wanted to separate. They would institute a new government; not anarchy.

Whenever an internal revolution occurs, the result is a worse government than the one that was there before. Right of the people to institute new government. Government should not be changed for light and transient causes. Then all of the reasons for the separation are listed.

Greatest freedom that this world has ever known. We as a people should never take for granted what we have, but we do. So many people have no idea what freedom means.

Jesus was in the midst of giving the disciples new direction. This first verse is an operations order.

Matt. 10:11 And into whatever city or village you enter, search out who in it is worthy; and remain there until you go out.

Those who are worthy are followers of the Lord Jesus Christ, and they would desire to support those who proclaimed the Kingdom of Heaven. These would want to see this message disseminated.

They were to seek hospitality in these homes. The disciples were not to get mixed up with unbelievers or with unreputable types.

They were to remain with this one house the whole time they are in that village. They are not to meander around from place to place. Their concentration was to be on teaching the Kingdom of Heaven. Moving about would be rude and show poor manners and bring controversy. People would become concerned about the controversy and the private information about the disciples more than their message.

There was tremendous pressure to not accept grace. They must walk worthy of the gospel that they represent. This requires a code of honor, which is what Jesus was defining for them. Rude and unmannerly behavior would be problematic. They impose on their guests. You must show grace orientation; show graciousness to those who offer you hospitality. You must show grace orientation.

They could not afford to be arrogant; they needed to show gratitude. Nothing too small to show gratitude for. Good manners reflect what is in the soul of a person. Bad manners are self-centeredness. The disciples were not to cross the land from graciousness to boorish behavior. Ungracious attitude toward you still requires a gracious attitude.

We operate under a Royal Family Honor Code. We represent Jesus Christ in this world because we are in union with Him. We are related to Him; we have the family escugeon, the cross. What you learn and metabolize from Bible doctrine, that is the code we learn. These are things that no one else can present, like impersonal love and grace orientation. Humility is also required. The message of the Kingdom of Heaven will then be clear and uncluttered with no distractions. We are not given doctrine to lord it over everyone else; we are not to be arrogant about it. To whom much is given, much is expected.

Salute the house

Matt. 10:12 But entering into the house, greet it;

His disciples were to give their blessing of peace; these are good manners. These disciples were somewhat immature. He gave them a lot of power for what they were about to do. He spoke to His disciples like a child about to spend the night at another house.

The disciples were not to be demanding or intrusive. They were to always maintain peace or tranquility in the homes where they reside.

Matt. 10:13 and if the house truly is worthy, let your peace come upon it. But if it is not worthy, let your peace return to you.

Behavior of the Disciples in the Homes of Others

1. These disciples bore the greatest message given on earth; the message not to be missed; the message of eternal life.
2. They were to conduct themselves as the bearers of that message.
3. They conduct themselves as men with good manners and humility. Remember that when you are a house guest.

4. Grace demanded that they should always bestow blessing and honor on those homes that had accepted them.
5. Such is the blessing for those who support the message of the gospel and doctrine. This is logistical grace.
6. Those who provide shelter, food, even money are logistical support for these men.
7. The disciples should be grateful just as they are grateful to the Lord for His logistical support. Millions of people do not have what we have to live in. God provides all of these things. Bobby blesses the food that he eats, even in public. We give blessing for what God gives us.
8. All this hospitality in these various towns is invariably the logistical support from God.

The worthy one looks to support the disciples in their ministry. By providing this support, they are a part of this ministry. There is blessing for those who support logistically. This is certainly a mission for all believers. When we provide logistical support for Berachah's ministry, we are sharing.

Matt. 10:14 And whoever will not receive you, nor will hear your words, having gone out of that house or city, shake off the dust from your feet.

Shaking off the dust was a symbolic gesture; it was a testimony to their indifference. That is the real problem. They were rejecting the message of the Messiah. They were to shake the dust off their feet as if it were a gentile city. Do not go where you are not wanted; do not go where you will be tainted by their rejection. Why waste your time with those who are negative.

The disciples must have drawn their breath in when hearing this, to compare those cities to Sodom and Gomorrah. There was quite the history here of one of the most terrible judgments.

There is little evidence of these two towns, but these are 2 of 5 cities and there are 44 references to Sodom in the Bible and twenty-some include Gomorrah. Sodom is the focus for Bobby for the next hour or two. When we understand what Sodom is and what it represents, then we will understand this verse.

Sodom is remembered as being excessively evil. Incredible sexual perversions in Sodom including homosexuality taken to criminal behavior. A terrible story with a terrible ending.

Gen 19:4–5 Before they had laid down, even the men of the city, the men of Sodom, circled the house; from the young to the aged, all the people from its limits. And they called to Lot and said to him, Where are the men who came to you tonight? Bring them out to us, that we may know them.

Lot had taken in two angels, but he did not recognize them as such. He was hospitable, and did not want to let them stay the night in the town square. The Sodomites demanded for Lot to bring the men out. The verb is usually used for normal sexual intercourse between a man and a woman. Here, it describes homosexuality.

The Bible gives value judgments on homosexual activity. It is a sin and an abomination before God. But you do not turn away someone for the gospel if they are gay or lesbian.

This city is pretty much exclusively that way. These were homosexual and aggressive. They wanted to rape these angels. This is a gang rape. That is what is going on.

Matt. 10:15 Truly I say to you, It will be more bearable to the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in Judgment Day than for that city.

Lesson #0465

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

7/7/2013 1Sunday

1776 was truly a great year in the life of our nation. 13 colonies. This is all about the signing of the Declaration of Independence, which led to 5 years of war against the tyranny of Great Britain. The document is not meaningful apart from the ability to defend it militarily. This year defined us as a nation and what we had.

2013 is not such a great year. The cursing of our God is what we will study. It is a very controversial subject. Freedom is being eroded slowly and now the pace is picking up.

The context is all about logistical grace. This is one of God's greatest blessing to believers; it is provided to us for our survival. God provides food, shelter and clothing; resources and support and protection for all of us to carry out the plan of God. We all have a guardian angel and we have no idea how many scrapes the guardian angel has pulled us out of.

The plan of God for our lives and the completion of that plan for each one of us. Sometimes, God provides for us in many and diverse and even mysterious ways. We often wonder, in looking back, how did that come about?

This has been true throughout human history and right down to this very moment. Never has logistical grace been more pronounced and seen than when Jesus told the disciples to go to the lost sheep of Israel (Matt. 10:6–7). To accomplish this, Jesus Christ gave believers the resources that they needed; the resources of incredible power. To heal the sick, the cleanse the lepers, etc. This is not a part of our logistical grace blessing. We do not have this kind of power. We do have the same source of power given to us at the moment of regeneration. We all are given the Holy Spirit and the power of His filling.

The disciples got these resources and Jesus promised His disciples food, shelter and clothing. They were not allowed to take anything with them, apart from what they had on their back. They could take their clothes, no extra set; one pair of sandals; and they could not take food and money. God would supply for them in His way by His timing. This is a picture of logistical grace. This makes logistical grace absolutely crystal clear to the disciples and to us. This would allow them to carry out their apostolic mission in the future.

Matt. 10:11 And into whatever city or village you enter, search out who in it is worthy; and remain there until you go out.

God would provide the people and the provisions for the disciples. This happens throughout our lives and there are middle men of God's logistical grace. They took part by supporting the disciples. This is how Jesus could tell them just handle the mission and He would handle the rest. We as believers have the same opportunity to support the same dissemination of Bible doctrine. We have the same opportunity. We support this ministry and others, just as the people did at that time.

Jesus instructed the disciples about when and how to depart.

Matt. 10:12 But entering into the house, greet it;

Matt. 10:13 and if the house truly is worthy, let your peace come upon it. But if it is not worthy, let your peace return to you.

There would be those who reject the message of the disciples; and they might get caught up in such a house—perhaps where they might have taken the disciples in so that they could distort or influence their message.

Do not get involved with negative volition. Great image; shake the dust off your feet. How many times did Jesus face negative volition which threatened His life. For your own protection, get out of there. Move out immediately.

Where there is grudging support or no support, do not accept it. Lack of hospitality is testimony to indifference. Once the disciples reject a message, they are truly lost.

In hospitable people and towns.

Matt. 10:14 And whoever will not receive you, nor will hear your words, having gone out of that house or city, shake off the dust from your feet.

Now we go to the most inhospitable set of cities of history...and those who reject the disciples' message will get even a heavier judgment from God than Sodom and Gomorrah.

Matt. 10:15 Truly I say to you, It will be more bearable to the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in Judgment Day than for that city.

To understand the image that Jesus is using, we are going to look at this in the book of Genesis.

This is a huge issue. Sodom was excessively evil; one of the most evil in the ancient world. Incredible sexual perversion in Sodom. Homosexuality to the point of criminality. Homosexuality and lesbianism have become virtues in today's world. Sodom was a place where God was mocked and every form of human depravity was extolled.

God handles opposition in His Own way, and it would not be pleasant for the opposition. Let God handle the opposition. He does it perfectly with perfect justice.

Lot was the nephew of Abraham and he figures prominently in the life of Abraham. Abraham allowed Lot to choose the best land, and he chose an area which included Sodom. Lot had become a prosperous and prominent citizen there. He was an elder there; today, he might be called a city councilman. In effect, Lot had not shaken off the dust from his sandal of Sodom. Lot was not involved personally in what went on in Sodom, but he lived there and was closely associated with the people of Sodom.

Introductory Points

1. That kind of close association with degeneracy affects you and affects people very negatively.
2. There would be a loss of perspective of evil when you are closely and intimately associated with perversion.
3. Sometimes this type of association becomes involvement in what was unthinkable before.
4. That is why it is so important to shake the dust off your feet when it comes to negative volition.

Lot was tainted by the degeneracy all about him. He was connected to an evil abomination to the Lord (Rom. 1). The time to leave had long since passed. Lot reject divine protection from this city and from the perversion in it. Sodom's evil would be illustrated at Lot's home. He would see the results of removing himself from that time.

Gen. 19:4 Before they had laid down, even the men of the city, the men of Sodom, circled the house; from the young to the aged, all the people from its limits.

Sexual relations between men is spoken of here. Lot failed to shake the dust from his sandal, he will have to make a choice between two evils. He failed to get out of town. Bad choices limit future options. This happens with all of us. Good choices expand our options.

When you make a bad choice apart from the will of God; He can do one thing, discipline, which severely narrows where you can go in life. God does not let you get away with bad decisions. The choices that we make determine the life that we lead.

It is never too late to make good choices. As long as you are alive, God can work with you. If you begin to rebound, your options begin to open up; while you are out of fellowship, your options tend to narrow.

There were the gates of the city, and this is where people assembled. He is sitting in the gate of Sodom when Lot sees the angels.

Gen. 19:1 And the two angels came into Sodom at evening. And Lot was sitting at the gate of Sodom. And Lot saw, and he rose up to meet them and bowed his face to the earth.

Lot offers them hospitality in a safe place.

Gen. 19:2 And he said, Behold, now, my lords, please turn in to your servant's house and lodge, and wash your feet; and rise early and go to your way. And they said, No, for we will lodge in the street.

These angels have taken the form of men and Lot recognized them as men. There was something about these guys.

Lot was concerned for their welfare in Sodom.

Lot understood the dangers of this city for these two men. Lot tells them not to go to the square, but to come to his home instead. Lot was very aware of this situation, but he is indicted by it. Lot lives in it and tolerates it. He persuades these men to accept his invitation.

Gen. 19:3 And he much urged them, and they turned in to him and came into his house. And he made a feast for them. And he baked unleavened cakes, and they ate.

The crowd forms and we will see what the protection of them.

There are circumstances in our country which is not that different.

Gen. 19:5 And they called to Lot and said to him, Where are the men who came to you tonight? Bring them out to us, that we may know them.

Lesson #0466

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

7/7/2013 2Sunday

We must talk about this because the Lord talks about it. That by which they will live and minister and utilize the gift of apostleship when the Holy Spirit descends upon them.

Jesus is giving them a marvelous message on logistical grace and protection. Jesus speaks of Sodom and Gomorrah; when you run into negative volition, leave and shake the dust off your feet. Get out of town and move away from this place. This is a part of our protection and instructions for our protection.

Jesus is telling the disciples to use common sense; if someone hates you, then you leave. When it is possible, then get away. Bobby is explaining what Jesus meant here. The Jews, God's chosen people, who reject the message of the Kingdom of God, it will be worse for them than for the people of Sodom and Gomorrah.

Two angels disguised as men came into Sodom and Lot was there and he offered them hospitality because they were going to stay in the midst of the city. It is like going to any big city where crime is rampant. Lot did not want them to come to such a condition.

These angels are a setup by God; there is a reason for them to enter the gates of Sodom and to enter the gates of Sodom. We will illustrate what the Lord is saying, by examining Sodom and Gomorrah.

Before the men could go to sleep, a crowd formed around Lot's house. They wanted to have relations with these men. This was a crowd. They knew about the strangers at Lot's house. People had seen them enter the gate. Strangers to the city and this was spread around. "Bring them out." This shows the depth and breadth of perversion in Sodom. These men were bent on the rape of these visitors. That is what they wanted. They were homosexuals and there were so many meant that this would not be a pleasant experience. This would have been a gang rape. This would have meant pain, injury and death.

Lot must now make a terrible choice. This crowd was in attack mode and there would be no accepting "no" for an answer.

To Lot's credit, Lot would not send these men out. He would not turn them over to the crowd. Lot shows some integrity and courage here. This is a good decision.

Gen. 19:6 And Lot went out to them, to the door, and he closed the door behind him.

Gen. 19:7 And he said, My brothers, please do not act evilly.

But Lot offers an alternative. He stayed in Sodom for materialism. He was a big man in the city. The chickens were coming home to roost for Lot. This is an alternative. He offers up his two daughters. He was willing to bring out his own daughters. They were to be substitutes for the men. He might here be condemning them to death. What a perversion to the protocol of hospitality.

Maybe this was a gamble, knowing that they would not be interested in the women. He knew they would reject them; but why offer them, if that is the case?

His other option was to send out the men. There were no good choices here. His options were limited. God's protection is still with Lot, despite all of his bad decisions.

Gen. 19:8 Behold, now, I have two daughters who have not known a man; please let me bring them out to you and do to them as you see fit; only do not do a thing to these men, on account of this they came into the shade of my roof.

These perverts rejected the women and they went berserk with perverse desire. "Stand aside, get out of the way; we are coming in anyway." Lot was an outsider. He arrived later. He was not one of their kind.

They turned on Lot viciously and brutally. Already, this man is acting a judge. How dare you deny us what we want? These are criminals and they demanded deference. That is happening today in our country. They demand deference.

These homosexuals did not respect Lot or his office; and everyone would be subject to their perversion. They pressed close to Lot and were about to break in the door. In their anger, they went berserk. They resented Lot as an outsider. Criminals do not respect people nor do they respect an office; nor do they respect your possessions or your space. There is no nobility. The Sopranos do not represent honor.

What happened when two guys massacred people in Boston? Kids got on the internet and said that they were too cute. The attitude of Sodom.

Gen. 19:9 And they said, Stand back! And they said, This one came in to visit, and must he always judge? Now we will do evil to you rather than to them. And they pressed on the man, upon Lot violently, and drew near to break the door.

The angels pulled Lot into the house.

Gen. 19:10 But the men put out their hands and brought Lot in to them, into the house, and shut the door.

Then they struck the men with blindness. Everyone in this mob became blind. They found it difficult to find the door. Lot was too stupid to shake the dust off of his feet. He is protected by God, sending the guardian angels. They are logistical grace for Lot; they are his protection.

As blind as they were, they still tried to find their way to the house. Perversion has no boundaries and they will stop at nothing. This is rampant in our country. That is the way that it is. Nothing and no one can stop perversion and their desires.

Gen. 19:11 And they struck the men at the door of the house with blindness, from the small to the great; and they struggled to find the door.

The end result is the total destruction of the city.

Gen. 19:12 And the men said to Lot, Who still is here to you? Bring out of this place your sons and your sons-in-law and your daughters, and whoever belongs to you in the city.

Gen. 19:13 For we are about to destroy this place, for the cry of them is great before Jehovah, and Jehovah has sent us to destroy it.

Gen. 19:14 And Lot went out to speak to his sons-in-law, those taking his daughters. And he said, Rise up, go out from this place, for Jehovah is about to destroy the city. And he seemed as one joking to his sons-in-law.

Gen. 19:15 And when the dawn rose, then the angels urged Lot, saying, Rise up, take your wife and your two daughters who are found, lest you be cut off in the depravity of the city.

Gen. 19:16 And he lingered. And the men lay hold of his hand and his wife's hand, and on the hand of his two daughters, Jehovah having mercy on him. And they caused him to go out, and they put him down outside the city.

Gen. 19:17 And it happened as they led them outside, he said, Escape for your life! Do not look behind you, and do not stay in all the plain. Escape to the mountain, lest you be swept away.

Gen. 19:18 And Lot said to them, Please, no, Lord!

Gen. 19:19 Behold, now, Your servant has found grace in Your sight, and You have magnified Your mercy which You have done to me in saving my life. And I am not able to escape to the mountain lest some evil overtake me and I die.

Gen. 19:20 Please, now, this city is near, to flee there, and it is a little one. Please let me escape there! Is it not a little thing, that my soul may live?

Gen. 19:21 And He said to him, See, I have lifted up your face also as to this thing, without overthrowing the city for which you have spoken.

Gen. 19:22 Hurry, escape there, for I am not able to do anything until you have come there. So the name of the city was called Zoar.

Gen. 19:23 The sun had gone forth on the earth, and Lot came into Zoar.

Gen. 19:24 And Jehovah rained brimstone and fire on Sodom and Gomorrah, from Jehovah out of the heavens.

God does not leave perversion untouched. People and nations will be punished and destroyed for such activity, including client nations. Who were these Jews in Galilee? These are God's chosen people, which makes this passage in Matthew more incredible.

Gen. 19:25 And He overthrew those cities, and all the plain, and all those living in the cities, and the produce of the ground.

Lev. 26 the cycles of discipline. Even on a client nation; and utter destruction at the end. We do not know God's plan in that area of discipline and punishment, nor do we know His timing. It is not our place to go on television and pronounce destruction of our nation due to immorality. This is not the issue. The issue is the gospel of Jesus Christ. The issue for homosexuals, lesbians and all sinners is the gospel of Jesus Christ. These are all souls for whom Christ died. That is our obligation and Bible doctrine. That is the only way the people change. This is our only solution, and it is not standing up and denouncing the evils of homosexuality.

This is a Biblically documented account of divine judgment. We might see this as a natural disaster. This fire burned the city to the ground and the ground itself. Nothing was left of crops and people. Think about the forest fires in the west; that is what has happened. There is no more evidence of them, and God destroyed them.

The angels finally persuaded Lot to get out of town. Don't look back; and he did not, but his wife did, and she ended up dead.

Gen. 19:26 And his wife looked back from behind him, and she became a pillar of salt.

We have the greatest freedom of any nation in the world. We are a beacon of freedom like has never been seen before. People want to throw it away, and for what, gay marriage? It is very sad to see this country degenerate; and it is. God provides protection for us, the believer. That is one of the bottom line of the story, is that God did protect Lot.

God's judgment was terrible; but His judgment is always just. The punishment exactly fits the crime when God does it. How does God view rampant, violence homosexuality? God judged them for their rejection. The perversion of the city and it is gone; removed from history.

An alternative lifestyle? Marriage is always defined as the union between one man and one woman. God does not sanction gay marriage. "We had better go march on Austin...we are called to the gospel of Jesus Christ." You do not need to read homosexuals the story of Gen. 19, you present them with the gospel. Such things fall under the disfavor of God.

We are all souls for whom Christ died.

Matt. 10:15 Truly I say to you, It will be more bearable to the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in Judgment Day than for that city.

Cities of Israel who are inhospitable to the disciples will suffer greater pain than Sodom and Gomorrah. "Does a bear wander in the woods?"

This is quite a comparison; and it is definitely sobering.

Sodom and Gomorrah were gentile towns; they were heathen towns. The Greeks were terribly perverse; they were married and had male lovers during the golden age of Athens. The disciples are hearing this. "These cities who reject our message are worse than Sodom?"

The idea is not that there will be a greater destruction. Israel should never fall under such condemnation, as they are God's chosen people. Jesus was prophesied in the Old Testament and He is the One Who was coming. These religious types seem to be the exact opposite of the Sodomites. They were very religious and highly moral; but that is perverse. The Jews preferred their own righteousness more than the Lord's righteousness. This is what made Israel's rejection and punishment so much worse than Sodom.

If the Jews reject the gospel, they will end up being worse off than the Sodomites. They had the Scriptures; they knew about the Messiah and they are in the Presence of the Messiah, and yet they rejected Him completely; in spite of all of His appeals and his miracles. His person and office were denied by many Jews. This rejection is a much greater offense than the perversions of Sodom.

God's people will spend eternity in fire because they have rejected His Messiah. The disciples were to go out there and proclaim the message of the Kingdom of Heaven.

About 40 years later, a future judgment would come upon Jerusalem; and this is one of the greatest destruction of any city; the city would be leveled; 1 million would die.

It is not our mission to denounce all the sins of the world, but to offer the solution to these sins. The disciples do not want Sodom to happen to their fellow Jews. Such is the image of Sodom and Gomorrah.

Lesson #0467

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

7/10/2013 Wed

Next week, Bobby is at Gattlenberg at a conference.

We just completed a set of instructions where Jesus gave His disciples power, unlike that having been given before. Jesus gives His disciples instructions on logistical grace.

He will give them instructions next on opposition and how they were to think about persecution and what they would do about it. If you witness for Christ a few times, then you will get opposition. It will be a part of your life. In this country today, we are beginning to see opposition raise its ugly head as we have never seen before in our country's history.

This next section will be critical to the disciples and it will be important to them for the rest of their lives. Opposition persecution would be a great part of their lives and they needed to know what to think about it and how to handle it.

Many times they would be heard and their message will be accepted; but many more times, they will be rejected. So Jesus gives them some advice for the times that they would be rejected.

Jesus is quite descriptive here in this verse.

Wolves are really an apt choice for the opposition. Over powering and devouring sheep. Sheep are defenseless when it comes to predators and wolves. Wolves have been known to kill dogs, pets, cattle, and they have killed animals as large as moose. They are devastating predators in the wild in a pack.

Sheep are the easiest pickings for wolves, so that is what they often went after. So ranchers in the west had no problem with shooting wolves on sight. Sheep have no ability to protect themselves. Someone else must defend them or protect them or they will be slaughtered. The disciples were the sheep in this illustration.

This is an excellent analogy. Who were the wolves?

Matt. 10:16 Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves. Therefore, be wise as serpents and harmless as doves.

The wolves are human. They will be handed over to the courts and they will scourge them in the synagogues.

Matt. 10:17 But beware of men. For they will betray you to sanhedrins, and they will flog you in their synagogues.

This is a far prophecy; unlikely that the disciples faces this in this first time out. The disciples later would be persecuted just like the Lord Jesus Christ was. "You are representing Me; so you know what is going to happen to you. They will come after you. The wolves will persecute you."

Wolf Categories

1. Individual Jews who hated Jesus and would then hate the disciples.
2. There are the local authorities as well, those who ruled Jewish towns. Local rabbis or local officials, just like those who drove Jesus out of Nazareth (it's happened twice; they tried to kill Him the first time). Such wolves would scourge the disciples in the synagogue. They would drag them into the synagogue and beat them. This would make the disciples a public display and to put fear into the hearts of those who would think to believe in Him. The medieval church turned the tables on the Jews and persecuted them. The forcibly tried to convert Jews to Christianity. This is detailed in Antisemitism. Part of the Angelic Conflict is centered around the Jews.
3. They would be hauled before all kinds of secular judges and rulers; gentile kings and gentile civil authorities. They would beat the disciples and they might even execute them. The Romans would persecute the future church and kill many of the Christians. The voraciousness of the wolves would backfire on them. Being persecuted and dragged to court and being martyred would have the opposite affect; and the gospel can spread faster where there is no persecution. This is true anywhere the true gospel is proclaimed under pressure. There were many Christians and missionaries killed in China, and yet there are millions of Christians in China. There is a lot of uses for persecution. Believers when a client nation is being disciplined, they may find themselves harmed as well. The coliseum was a blood-soaked place. It is filled with Christian blood; and one of the great triumphs of Christianity took place right there. In spite of this terror, the church spread rapidly throughout the Roman world. It was desperately persecuted in the Roman world. We can therefore be assured that the atheists and the humanists today; but the spread of the Christian message and Bible doctrine will never be defeated. We are on the winning side.

Matt. 10:18 And also you will be brought before governors and kings for My sake, for a testimony to them and to the nations.

It is unclear where our government will come down on Christianity. Will gay marriage and homosexual rights overshadow the teaching of the Word of God? Could teaching Romans 1 become a hate crime? Gay rights has become a cause for our government and other humanists and it has affected the thinking of so many Americans. They might call it hate speech; racism; or anti-justice. What a great ploy for Satan to discredit Bible teaching over these issues. A legal excuse by opponents of Christianity to suppress the teaching of Bible doctrine. The Bible is the greatest threat to humanist theology. If Bobby is persecuted, then we will be a target for hate crimes?

Maybe we need some persecution or some discipline, because we need to be brought to the truth again.

If teaching the Bible becomes a crime, there can be fines, sanctions and imprisonment. In the military, the Bible has been banned from display on the desks of some soldiers because someone might take exception to this. Evangelism is also prohibited, especially overseas and especially in Muslim countries. The IRS has exceeded its legal boundaries, and it has singled out individuals and organizations well beyond the normal limits. That scrutiny is based upon certain beliefs or right-wing religious groups (which is a smear-word for what we are). Suddenly, we are right-wing extremists. Churches may be in danger of losing their tax-exempt status. There is also the possibility of Muslims persecuting Christians. Part of the mess in Egypt is all about Muslims killing Coptic Christians. We bend over backwards so that we do not offend Muslims or Atheists; and they are quick to speak out against believers and even against divine establishment.

Some churches bring it on themselves because of their political activism. One church that Bobby read about, and they were picketing a rock concert by some woman, who was immoral, by her lyrics and her life. But they are making morality the message. The message of Jesus Christ carries the power of God. Carrying signs in front of a rock concert shows a total lack of doctrine. They look ridiculous to unbelievers and they play right into the hands of the opposition. They thinking they are taking a stand by denouncing immorality; but they are not presenting the gospel. These legalistic tactics turn off many unbelievers. Most people just see another political group picketing for whatever cause.

Bobby can teach immorality and the marriage facts, but the subject of immorality should never take priority over the teaching of the Word of God. The focus should be on evangelizing unbelievers and renovating the souls of believers. Picketing immoral types changes nothing in a culture.

The power of the gospel is much greater than public opposition to sin. Legalism is not the gospel. Only the gospel and Bible doctrine will make real change in the souls of people. Satan will attack whoever and whenever he can.

Those types of believers who picket immorality become enemies of Jesus Christ.

Persecution will certainly happen to these disciples and especially after the ascension of Jesus Christ. When Jesus makes this statement of wolves, He is not only speaking of their current mission, but He is also looking beyond this present assignment. This was not only about this one trip to Galilee.

Future Jews would represent future persecuted Jews in the Tribulation. The plan of God will get them through all of their persecution.

Bobby is preparing us for the worst case scenario.

Matt. 10:18 And also you will be brought before governors and kings for My sake, for a testimony to them and to the nations.

Lesson #0468

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

7/11/2013 Thurs

No class next week.

We don't have to go far to confirm the persecution of Christians today. It is beginning in this country. A few articles were passed along to Bobby. A preacher was arrested on the streets of London. This brings up a point. What is the message that we present to the world about some issue on homosexuality? Are we to proclaim on the streets that anyone going down that road is going to hell? The solution is always the gospel to all people.

Jesus is sending out the disciples on their first solo preaching tour, and with powers that no one has seen before or since.

Matt. 10:5–6 Jesus sent these twelve out, charging them, saying: Do not go into the way of the nations, and do not go into a Samaritan city. But rather go to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

Matt. 10:16 Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves. Therefore, be wise as serpents and harmless as doves.

The pharisees and the sadducees are the wolves; the opposition of the disciples. The red light of danger is on for the wolves.

Jesus tells his disciples exactly who to look out for. These are the same ones who have gone after the Lord Jesus Christ to destroy His ministry; they denied His miracles, Messiahship, etc. They are the men to beware of.

Matt. 10:17–18 But beware of men. For they will betray you to sanhedrins, and they will flog you in their synagogues. And also you will be brought before governors and kings for My sake, for a testimony to them and to the nations.

The arrest of this man in London hit the international news. People hear the message because of that opposition. The opposition includes individual Jews who are willing to tattle on the disciples and to turn them over the hostile authorities. Those authorities will make an example of the disciples. We have the exact same message. Our message is that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and that He died for the world; He paid the penalty for our sins, including homosexuality and lesbianism. The issue is never sin; the issue is, what do you think of Jesus Christ.

The scourging is designed for one thing and one thing only. It is to strike fear into anyone. This is the opposition of Judaism; the opposition of religion; the opposition of government. This would include gentile kings and civil authorities wherever they went. There would be severe penalties and these men wielded the power of life and death. John the Baptizer had already been killed. The Apostle Paul came face to face with Nero and Nero had Paul executed.

Jesus Christ wanted them to draw specific conclusions from their words. Sheep and shepherds must depend upon the Shepherd. Sheep are those who listened and responded to the gospel. Shepherds are those who present the gospel. The wolves were against them and they would persecute and kill them. But, God would provide the logistics and the protective doctrine for them to accomplish His plan.

God will provide what is necessary for the completion of any task He has given to us. We have a mission; we have a life; God takes care of us so that we might complete that mission. Nothing can keep us here on minute longer; and God can take us out. The disciples were to have peace in their souls, despite what they would face in the future. Jesus was barely scratching the surface of what they would face. The disciples would endure this opposition for years.

They were to be as shrewd as serpents and innocent as doves. These animals represent the characteristics that the disciples needed for their mission.

Shrewd is $\phi\rho\nu\nu\mu\omicron\varsigma$ sensible, thoughtful, prudent, wise. Peter is an example exactly of how it should not be done. He swore to the Lord that he would protect Him. Do not pull on the tiger's tail. They should never become arrogant. That would be witless and weak-minded. In doing that, they would be asking for trouble. They had to use their thought process, their wisdom.

Application of Pressures from Others

1. Humility is key; it goes hand in hand with wisdom. When you are arrogant, you are not wise.
2. A relaxed mental attitude from doctrine replaces reaction in the face of disappointment and persecutions. That is a great by-product of metabolized doctrine in the soul. There are a lot of things in life that we cannot control. That is pressure and that is disappointment. When you cannot control anything, who does? Who has you in the palm of His hand? Does His plan fail? That is when we need a relaxed mental attitude; when we cannot control things. We can put it into the Lord's hands.

Do not get impatient and do not get angry. Take it easy, relax and let God work them out. They can control what they think and how they respond to these problems.

3. When circumstances of persecution appear, they must be put into the hands of the Lord. Nothing else can be done. That is a relaxed mental attitude. That is what we are all capable of. Nothing else works under the pressure of those who hate you or those who persecute you or those who cannot stand you. Often, there is no reason for them to dislike you. There are a lot of people who do not like the fact that you have a relaxed mental attitude; and they don't like that.

Matt. 10:16 Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves. Therefore, be wise as serpents and harmless as doves.

We do not think of serpents as wise, but as sneaky and underhanded. Are they to surround themselves with a bodyguard of lies? Their mission was to preach the truth and to be truthful. This is not to hide themselves and the message.

There is an instinct for the snake which is good for the snake. Snakes are hated by almost everyone, so the snake conceals himself in unexpected places for his own survival. He can escape swiftly and silently in times of danger. He knows when to stand his ground when threatened. A rattlesnake would rather run than strike. When you hear the rattle, he will stand his ground. This image is not about untruthfulness, but survival in a hostile environment. You will know when to stand and when to move out.

The disciples should preach the Word loud and clear; understand how the opposition operates and how to avoid them if possible. They have a mission and they do not need to hurl themselves off a cliff as martyrs. Mission comes first.

A WWI thing about the French. They did not understand the use of brains as well as brawn. It took them two more bloody years to figure it out. Tragic and heartbreaking. This was not how the disciples were to operate. They were not to charge the machine guns. They need to learn when to charge head-on and when to avoid.

Matt. 10:16 Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves. Therefore, be wise as serpents and harmless as doves.

Innocent, Pure or Unmixed

1. Unmixed with or unaffected by the deceit and the vice of the cosmic system.
2. They are not to oppose the doctrine.
3. They must not rely upon human viewpoint. Instead, they must rely upon divine viewpoint.

The dove represents innocence.

Adjective: akeraios (ἀκέραιος) [pronounced ak-EHR-ah-yos], which means, 1) unmixed, pure as in wines or metals; 2) of the mind, without a mixture of evil, free from guile, innocent, simple. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #185.

Innocence of Doves

1. Shrew but also innocent.
2. Innocent of the evil thinking of the cosmic system.
3. Untainted by humanism, skepticism, loss of hope and lack of confidence; anger at the world; anger at your country or leaders.
4. Always looking up from the vantage point of doctrine. Not looking down.
5. Believers are to be untainted by the ways of the world. Unmixed.

Bob.

Wisdom in the soul to combat humanism. There is a wonderful innocence in the mind of Christ as we advance. We are not tainted by all that a depraved world throws at us. Yet, we are relaxed in the midst of all of this; not legalistic; not uptight; relaxed. Innocent as doves; shrewd as snakes.

The disciples were to remain unaffected in their thinking. They were not to mix their thinking with human viewpoint. Diluted and that leads to delusion. Not being affected by human viewpoint is a very difficult thing to avoid.

Satan's system is pessimism and despair. The unmixed, unaffected quality of the dove can be based upon the doctrine in one's soul. There is a way of thinking, and that is what we are speaking of here.

Closing Points

1. The disciples must gently and circumspectly approach the amazing authority and the important mission that they have received. They have great power here. They must not plunge into the machine guns of the opposition. They need some new tactics; they need some new end-runs; they need envelopment.
2. They must approach the mission with the wisdom of doctrine to observe the correct course under all circumstances.
3. They must not abuse their power and especially become arrogant in its possession. That invites opposition.
4. They must remember their purpose and always operate to best accomplish it. That includes opposition.
5. That is always the plan of God for believers. We need the wisdom of doctrine and humility and circumspection under all circumstances. This is one of the hardest things to do under pressure. Only doctrine that brings that relaxed mental attitude brings us through difficult circumstances. Casting your cares upon Him.

Communion Sunday:

God's grace to which we owe everything. By substitutionary spiritual death, we are provided the way.

Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever. Heb. 1 is one of the greatest Christological passages in the Bible. Any visual representation of Jesus Christ cannot come close to describing what these few words describe. The superiority of the Son of God unfolds with amazing clarity. Jesus is greater than all of the prophets and all of the angels; greater than the Levitical priesthood. We see Him in the words of the author of Hebrew, as the Lord of all history, before all, the Christ of all ages. He lives without beginning and without end. The comprehensiveness of Christ is in v. 8: ...but as to the Son, "Your throne, O God, is forever and ever, A scepter of uprightness is the scepter of Your kingdom;...

If the Lord of this text had Joseph as his physical father, then he can have no preexistence; nor could He have had a part in creating the world. If He was just another man, then His today would have no bearing on our present spiritual condition. If Jesus is not alive, as the eternal Son of God, then He has no forever. If Bobby cannot proclaim this Christ to us, then his message is speculation and white noise.

There is a very practical side to this verse; if we begin to think that the world around us is too much to bear, that solutions to problems are completely too much to bear, Jesus sustained His people yesterday; and therefore, He can do this today. He is salvation and stability, past and present. These are described as times of peril. In the last days, difficult times will come. We are in the last days. The Church Age are these last days. Times of adversity are upon us, and conditions continue to get worse. 2Tim. 3:12–13 all who desire to live in Christ Jesus will be persecuted, but evil men and imposters will proceed from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived.

The times they are a-changing, and not for the better. In all of this upheaval, we have an unchanging Christ. There is no greater stability. Change has come slowly over the centuries, but these changes have accelerated to a staggering level. Historians are hard-pressed to keep up with all of the change. Through it all, Jesus Christ is the same forever. Our customs are changing today. Gentility is being replaced by anger and frustration. There is materialism; the world's problems are brought to us by 24-hour newscasts. With all the education available, lies and ignorance are on the rise. All of our modern conveniences have not satisfied. The saddest thing is the degradation of the human condition. We are living to see these things. 2Tim. 3:1–7 But know this, that in the last days grievous times will be upon us. For men will be lovers of themselves, money-lovers, braggarts, arrogant, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, without natural feeling, unyielding, slanderers, without self-control, savage, haters of good, betrayers, reckless, puffed up, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, having a form of godliness, but denying the power of it; even turn away from these. For of these are those creeping into houses and leading silly women captive, the ones having been heaped with sins, being led away by various lusts, always learning, but never being able to come to a full knowledge of the truth. this is especially true of the humanists.

Do not be carried away with axioms which change with the times.

So revolutionary are these new ideas that they sometimes overwhelm us. The old order of things is being discarded. You cannot but wonder about the ultimate outcome. The attitude toward Jesus Christ which is now being expressed. There have been many who have rejected Him; but there is a hatred of all things Christian is a constant drumbeat; and this has injected itself into our national consciousness.

When there seems to be no anchor, we turn to this text, that Jesus Christ is the same today and He always was.

Matt. 24:4–13 Then Jesus replied to them: "Watch out that no one deceives you. For many will come in My name, saying, 'I am the Messiah,' and they will deceive many. You are going to hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not alarmed, because these things must take place, but the end is not yet. For nation will rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be famines and earthquakes in various places. All these events are the beginning of birth pains. "Then they will hand you over for persecution, and they will kill you. You will be hated by all nations because of My name. Then many will take offense, betray one another and hate one another. Many false prophets will rise up and deceive many. Because lawlessness will multiply, the love of many will grow cold. But the one who endures to the end will be delivered.

To whom do we turn? Christ is not altered by circumstances or time or the events of history. His Word and His works do not change. With God, there is no variation or shifting shadow. And His compassions never fail; they are renewed every morning. None of God's promises to us have ever failed. Jesus does the saving and He does the keeping.

The unalterable faithfulness of God tells us that nothing can remove us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus. There is no beginning and no end; and He never changes.

The only concern is for us to concentrate on the Lord Jesus Christ. He has provided an eternity for us.

The disciples are all set to go on their solo preaching tour and they have power given to no one else. Jesus Christ is present. They are excited; they are ready to go. They are all fired up. Jesus brings them back to earth with a warning.

Matt. 10:16 Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves. Therefore, be wise as serpents and harmless as doves.

Who are these wolves?

Matt. 10:17–18 But beware of men. For they will betray you to sanhedrins, and they will flog you in their synagogues. And also you will be brought before governors and kings for My sake, for a testimony to them and to the nations.

These disciples will be hauled over to hostile Jewish authorities and over to the Roman authorities. Opposition of Jews and Gentiles. These 12 would be hauled before all kinds of judges. It all sounds grim, but Jesus does not leave the disciples disheartened and discouraged. Jesus provides a solution for them. To counter the opposition, they must develop 2 character asdics.

Matt. 10:16b Therefore, be wise as serpents and harmless as doves.

Lesson #0470

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

7/14/2013 2Sunday

Jesus tells His disciples that they need two things to withstand their opposition. This would be true of them for the rest of their lives. This was a warning how to handle the opposition.

Matt. 10:16b Therefore, be wise as serpents and harmless as doves.

Being Shrewd

1. The disciples were to be sensible; to have some common sense.
2. They must be prudent; wise with the wisdom of Christ. They were learning the mind of Christ. "Think your way through all of this stuff."
3. "If you know how I have handled this adversity, then do not react with emotionalism to persecution; do not lose it."
4. "Do not retaliate or try to defend yourself." One of our great tests is the desire to retaliate; to get our revenge. Millions think like this.
5. Do not hide or alter the message that you are presenting in order to escape attention. The message of Jesus Christ brings attention. People hear it and this announces to all of Israel. Part of our wisdom is to speak the truth. You do not water down the gospel to keep people from thinking ill of you.
6. The disciples must stay on message, regardless of consequences. Shrewd means to avoid trouble if possible, but go straight ahead in teaching the truth.

Jesus compares wisdom with snakes. We are not talking about total deception. Satan was disguised as a serpent; the great deceiver. Jesus uses snakes and wisdom for one purpose. The snake as an instinctive method of protection; his lacking, silence, lack of motion, even when in the midst of enemies. How many times have you passed a snake and never knew it. If you are in a bayou or in the woods of Houston, you have stepped near a snake.

Bobby walked up to the front door of his place, and there was a snake at the front door. He took a step back and the snake was gone. A snake does not change himself; he is what he is, a snake. He stays low on the radar screen. He knows when to exit quickly. He also knows to stand his ground. He knows when to stand and defend himself and when to exit. He knows when to do which.

What the Disciples Need to Know and do

1. Be wise about confrontation. Sometimes we are very stupid in this area. We bring confrontation on ourselves which is unnecessary.
2. The disciples were to avoid confrontation in order to present the gospel. If you are constantly in confrontation, then you might not be thinking about the purposes of your reason for being alive.
3. Stay low on the radar screen; focus on the mission. The disciples will get a lot of opposition. No sense in pulling the tail of the tiger.
4. Do not invite trouble with stupidity and ostentatious emotion. Nothing attracts unwanted attention like tirades and expressions of emotion. Tone it down.
5. If opposition comes, they must stand their ground and defend the truth.

There is a second simile; we are to be unaffected by the human viewpoint that they project and the world projects a lot of human viewpoint. Even in persecution, the disciples must present the proper perspective. The only way for us to get around human viewpoint is to maintain our focus on divine viewpoint. That takes a little doctrine in your soul. That takes the mind of Christ. Jesus has been teaching them doctrine; now they need to apply it. They must maintain this thinking apart from humanism, apart from personal attacks, apart from reaction to evil.

Their thinking needs to be unmixed as doves. Tranquility, peace. Jesus has just given these guys the only way to handle persecution. The only defense that we have against adversity. The disciples must gently and circumspectly approach this mission that Jesus has given them.

They need to approach this apart from arrogance. They cannot be arrogant so as to invite opposition. People cannot wait to cut us down. Arrogance is the precursor to almost every mental attitude sins. That is no way to handle mental attitude sins. The disciples must remember their purpose and to operate to accomplish the mission. This is as applicable to us as to the disciples back in this time.

We have a mission and a spiritual gift. In executing the spiritual gift, then we will get opposition. We are given everything to handle any of it.

Matt. 10:16 Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves. Therefore, be wise as serpents and harmless as doves.

Jesus does not stop here. Jesus warns them that they will be scourged in their synagogues. There would be religious judgments in these synagogues. Jesus was attacked and ridiculed in the synagogues. When the disciples were hounded by legalistic religious types; when they were condemned by judges and kings, it was because they were teaching the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Mat 10:17–18 'Be prepared for people to hand you over to sanhedrins and scourge you in their synagogues. You will be brought before governors and kings for my sake, as evidence to them and to the gentiles.

They needed to be innocent as doves, despite all of the opposition. We certainly see this kind of activity today. There is a humanistic war against Christianity. It begins with a mocking of our beliefs. God is not governed or subject to the natural world; He can change it if He wants to. They question this. This war continues from then to today. This war touts relativism. We live by absolutes; the world is governed by relativism. We have the absolutes of doctrine. The world rejects doctrines that is in opposition to humanism. The world demands the public display of the Bible like among our military types. A war which classifies Rom. 1 as a hate crime. Christianity will be attacked by these types, but nothing will be said about other religions.

The persecutions would merely represent opportunities to present the gospel.

The Contrast Between the Secular and the Nonsecular

1. When the truth is presented, then it can be seen as night and day; it gives people a clear choice; a clear alternative to the rest of the secular world. This stands out in persecution. Christianity often stands out under persecution. People in the Roman empire died by the thousands for their faith, but were saved by the millions.
2. This is a contrast; the relaxed mental attitude versus the anger and hatred projected by the opposition. Do not become like the opposition.
3. This is one of the greatest witnesses for Jesus Christ.
4. This has been proven true time and time in history. A relaxed mental attitude is one of the greatest witnesses for Jesus Christ. It is a contrast to the rest of the world, which falls apart under adversity. The disciples would live and die with this thinking in their frontal lobes.

They would face these attacks even in open court. All of this adversity is for the sake of the Lord Jesus Christ. Adversity is opportunity. It allows us to advance exponentially. It is an opportunity to present the gospel with a great contrast to the world. It may come your way. The disciples were to keep their eyes on the objective.

Notice something here which is pertinent to today. These disciples are not being taught to be activists or to be anti-authority. In the midst of this revelation of opposition, Jesus did not focus on difficulties. He named them but did not focus on them. The key is the message. The disciples would not be deserted or forgotten.

Jesus is commending a relaxed mental attitude. In every step that they take, they are being supported by the power of God.

Matt. 10:17–18 But beware of men. For they will betray you to sanhedrins, and they will scourge you in their synagogues. And also you will be brought before governors and kings for My sake, for a testimony to them and to the nations.

Do not worry about what you should say; do not worry about how you counter it. God the Holy Spirit would give them in the hour what they are to say.

When you have doctrine in your soul and you have a relaxed mental attitude, then you are able to defend the Lord Jesus Christ.

Matt. 10:19–20 But when they deliver you up, do not be anxious how or what you should say, for it is given to you in that hour what you should say. For you are not the ones speaking, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you.

The disciples can deal with this sort of pressure. These men will be in court, but they are not trying to get themselves acquitted. They are to be witnesses for the Lord Jesus Christ. They are writers of Scripture. All but one of them will die. Only John will survive to die a natural death. They are as shrewd as snakes and unmixed with human viewpoint. They were not to worry. What a great promise for their overall purpose and objective.

Jesus promises that they will not be tongue-tied or at a loss for words. Fear would not silence them. People often choke up when in fear. Maybe a day after you are attacked, you think the next day how to respond. You want words to defend yourself. Fear would not silence them. This is a promise to be remembered. They would respond in just the right language to be most effective.

Bobby prays to be effective in communication. There is no whispering in Bobby's ears; he is not following dictation. But He is communicating the Word of God. He prays that he will be able to effectively communicate. When we speak and apply doctrine in our lives, then others can see the contrast.

Fear does not need to choke you up. When relaxed, you can speak the truth.

Lesson #0471	Matt. 13:16–19 Life of Christ	7//2013 1Sunday

The disciples are being readied for their first preaching tour of Galilee.

The disciples will face great opposition as believers and proclaimers of Jesus Christ. They would face secular leaders and religious leaders; and Ceasar would oppose them. They will persecute the disciples who represent Him; and they will persecute the disciples who bring the gospel to the lost sheep of Israel.

Matt. 10:19 But when they deliver you up, do not be anxious how or what you should say, for it is given to you in that hour what you should say.

Jesus also gave them defensive instructions in the event of persecution, which they would face.

We are not to be confrontational; do not push for confrontations. That takes wisdom. And what they can say comes from their souls; that is what Jesus has been teaching them. This does not mean that it just comes out of their heads, magically placed there by the Holy Spirit.

The message has to be accurate, and they must stay on the message of Jesus Christ.

Matt. 10:16 Behold, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves. Therefore, be wise as serpents and harmless as doves.

Innocent means unmixed. The purity of the doves is unaffected by human viewpoint, even in persecution. They must maintain the perspective of divine viewpoint. Unmixed, non-synchrestic message. The general two instructions.

These twelve would get the undivided attention of Satan. They must be prepared, not just for this first preaching tour, but for the rest of their lives.

Mat 10:17–18 'Be prepared for people to hand you over to sanhedrins and scourge you in their synagogues. You will be brought before governors and kings for my sake, as evidence to them and to the gentiles.

Jesus did not only focus on the grim occurrences which they would endure, but He offered great assurances as well. Jesus would not desert them; He would not forget them. Easy to think that God has forgotten about them.

Our Lord assures them of His support from the greatest support system ever developed.

Jesus giving them the words does not mean that the Holy Spirit just takes them over. You cannot think without a vocabulary. The Lord is bringing thinking to their minds so that they might speak the truth.

Their opposition would follow them for the rest of their days. So God would support them with the same power that Jesus had supporting Him. They will be given logistical grace and living grace and eventually dying grace.

Matt. 10:19 But when they deliver you up, do not be anxious how or what you should say, for it is given to you in that hour what you should say.

This is a promise which Jesus gives the disciples; they are being tried for crimes like speaking of the Messiah, Jesus promises that they will not be tongue-tied. They will be able to think and to speak when necessary. Fear often precludes thinking. Jesus promises that is not to be their fate. They can speak to their situation.

We have this same capability when we are in fellowship. Fear does not need to choke us up. When we are relaxed, we are able to speak the truth; and God the Holy Spirit will aid us when we need it. So the disciples do not need to worry about this.

Verb: merimnaô (μεριμνάω) [pronounced mer-im-nah'-o], which means, 1) to be anxious; 1a) to be troubled with cares; 2) to care for, look out for (a thing); 2a) to seek to promote one's interests; 2b) caring or providing for. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #3309.

The disciples must not over think their situations. We cannot sit up all night worried about this or that. They must place the outcome of difficult circumstances in the hands of the Lord. Hortatory subjunctive, means that Jesus is urging them exhorting them not to worry. This is how He operated; He used this power. No one faced more opposition than our Lord.

Use the power of the Spirit and the power of doctrine in your soul all of the time.

1Peter 5:7 Cast your cares upon Him for He cares for you. Peter is paraphrasing here. He is taking what Jesus is teaching and then restating it.

The Apostle Paul said it, Philip. 4:6 be anxious for nothing. No matter how great the difficulty; no matter what the adversity, this is the command.

The Damage That Comes from Worry

1. Worry is a mental attitude sin. It is a difficult sin, because it is one of self-torment regarding anything in life. You worry about the big stuff and the small stuff. You worry about everything.
2. Worry is a painful state of mind involving illicit or undue concern. You can be concerned about things and prepare for them. This means you do not worry before a test and worry all the way through the test; you prepare for that test and apply.
3. Worry predicts the worst in every situation. You are a defeatist. This so engenders a mental attitude of consistent apprehension. That is damaging mentally and physically. People worry themselves into physical and mental illness.
4. Worry anticipates danger; it anticipates misfortune; trouble; disaster; things which may or may not happen. You worry about things that may not even happen.
5. Worry is a major producer of anxiety and fear in the life.
6. Worry and fear are two sides of the same coin; they go hand in hand. They could not handle persecution with worry; and this would turn them into cowards.
7. Worry is a mental attitude sin that leads to many other problems, especially cowardice. The disciples cannot be cowards; they cannot be timid before the magistrates. They cannot be intimidated by opposition. You hide from opposition.

Adversity is inevitable; but the sin of worry is optional; they can decide not to worry.

Matt. 10:19 But when they deliver you up, do not be anxious how or what you should say, for it is given to you in that hour what you should say.

Hortatory subjunctive of merimnaô (μεριμνάω) [pronounced mer-im-nah'-o], which means, 1) to be anxious; 1a) to be troubled with cares; 2) to care for, look out for (a thing); 2a) to seek to promote one's interests; 2b) caring or providing for. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #3309.

Some may want to dispute this; and say, "It is just natural to worry about difficulties." All sin can be precluded. The believer must not focus on the problem. The believer must focus on the solution. However you must have doctrine in your soul and you must focus on the Holy Spirit. It is possible on a moment by moment basis.

Jesus does not worry. These disciples of the mind of Christ. His mind is His Word. His vocabulary reflects His thinking. The more doctrine we have in our soul, the more we reflect His thinking. So we can think just like He does. Worry is not, therefore, inevitable. The disciples must be ready to deal with adversity, and that requires adversity. Adversity will get to you.

How Are the Disciples to Deal with All of This?

1. What can the disciples do not to engage in worry? Utilize the resources of the spiritual life. Doctrine and the power of the Holy Spirit. Psychologists have all kinds of drills and little tricks; if your therapist is not working, try some doctrine.
2. The disciples must apply doctrine to the situation using the power of the Holy Spirit. You have it; you apply it. You run into some adversity and you look at the adversity. But you don't worry about all of the permutations of where it can go; you ask yourself what doctrine counters deals with this? What promise has God given us? That is the faith rest drill. You have gone from the problem to the solution.
3. You must concentrate on the truth when called upon. Do not fear the consequences of religion and humanism. They will be persecuted; they must concentrate on the truth and on the power of God, not on the circumstances.
4. As a result, they will advance to the greatest happiness and contentment possible in this life. That is the opposite of worry.
5. Contentment and happiness can counter worry and fear. Jesus says, "Don't worry" in the constative aorist.
6. No one can depart from concentration on God's Word and overcome the mental attitude sin of worry.

Eph. 3::20 Now to Him being able to do exceedingly above all that we ask or think, according to the power working in us, Jesus can do way more than we think that He can do. This is all according to the norm and standard or the power which is within us.

This is a superabundance of contentment during adversity. Every believer has this potential; it is provided for us, based upon who works in us. That is the solution caused by the worry of adversity. There is always something that you could worry about. Worry is not inevitable. Worry is not necessary, even under the worst of circumstances. These supercede and overcomes difficulties in our lives. Worry has never solved a single problem that we have ever had. Problems are solved by resident doctrine in the soul of the believer. It is either worry or dependence upon the Word of God. The unbeliever is incapable of a moment by moment not worrying. All unbelievers worry; and they have no way around it.

The believer needs a renovated mind by doctrine.

Freedom thru military victory diagram. It is the grace apparatus for perception. We learn various terms and we understand what they stand for and we have these categories of doctrine build up. It is a gradual thing. This forms a conscience in the soul. It is not morality, although morality is contained in it. We are able to discern what is right and wrong. We then develop spiritual momentum.

Promises that we can apply during the drill. Check the faith rest books. We become oriented to doctrine; we can focus upon doctrine. The focus on Bible doctrine when difficulties crash in upon us. We understand all that God does for us. These preclude thinking about the adversity and we can focus upon doctrine. The destiny that we have in Christ supercedes anything that we lack in this life.

The two types of love, which we covered extensively in 1Corinthians. We have personal love for the One Who has provided all of this for us.

The greatest problems in life are people. Those we work with, those who are family; and we deal with it with impersonal love. No matter who they are, we can handle it with grace orientation. We do not have to hate them or to fear them. This does not mean we need to hug them. It is an attitude toward these people.

The contentment of soul; the happiness of God. There are no worries; you are content, even in adversity. When occupation with Christ, then we think like He does and we are in the highest level. That is what we have as a resource.

All of this is an illustration of how we develop this as a believer in Jesus Christ. The mechanics of being worry-free.

There Are 3 Cures for Worry That the Lord Brings to Mind for Worry.

1. The promises of the Word of God; and these are iron-clad backed by the Word of God. He does not pull the rug out from under us when we need them. The faith-rest technique.
2. Developing problem solving devices; we are able to solve our own problems from our own soul. That is an asset that very few people have. Most people want others to solve their problems; and then they worry about this. We have sin natures and we make good and bad decisions; and there are always pressures, from the inside and the outside. Regardless of the circumstances, we can handle the problems.

3. The prophecy of the Word of God. The future; eschatology. This is important because we are able to gain confidence in the future. We can place our time on earth in the light of eternity. This info must be metabolized; it just run through the stream of consciousness. Now we do not have to worry or fear.

These things work for every type of adversity; not just for those spoken of here. This is one of the earliest references to what the Holy Spirit would do for believers in the Church Age. This is for the disciples in particular; but it applies to all Church Age believers.

Matt. 10:20 For you are not the ones speaking, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you.

What is fascinating is, the Deity of God the Holy Spirit was actually controversial and even denied by some in the early church. This was a doctrine which developed. It was the reformation when the work of the Holy Spirit was correctly understood and fully realized. The correct doctrine was always found in the New Testament; but we did not always understand it. Even the disciples and the Lord taught this information. This has always been available at the completion of the canon of Scripture.

The history of the church is a continual battle of doctrine and of theology. The human inspired perversions of the various texts. The reformation revisited all of the Biblical doctrines of the church. This is why the Middle Ages are called the Dark Ages.

This problem is still with us today. Pastors and others take Scriptures out of context. They “proof-text” Scriptures. They isolate verses. They interpret verses in all sorts of ways; and they use literary techniques who allegorize the Bible. They do not use a proper hermeneutic for consistency.

Doctrines are consistent; they do not contradict each other. Doctrines cannot be opposed to one another. So many theologians are incapable of teaching the Word of God. They lack the gift or they lack the knowledge. Some are charlatans. Some well-meaning people, but they are just wrong. Many cults have arisen from a set of false doctrines.

There is a great fallacy concerning God the Holy Spirit, that He has led some special person to a theological conclusion, never before realized, an extra-Biblical revelation. Mormonism is an example. Joseph Smith discovers these tablet and only he can interpret them.

God the Holy Spirit does not just give you some new revelation. They deny error because they contribute their work to God the Holy Spirit. “He will put these very words in my mouth.”

Bible classes where everyone gives their own opinion of what a passage means. People think that anyone can interpret Scripture. Bible classes going on conducted just like this, “What do you think this passage means, Charley Brown?”

Sooner or later you become confused and are blown around by every wind of doctrine. Arrogance and self-deception like this.

Did Jesus say the Holy Spirit would take over their vocal cords and move their mouths and dictate all that they would say? No.

Lesson #0473

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

7/24/2013 Wed

We are continuing a study of persecution. We have seen some of this so far. Being handed over can be done by any of a number of persecutions. When you are unsure of what is going on, the Holy Spirit will speak through you.

Matt. 10:19 But when they deliver you up, do not be anxious how or what you should say, for it is given to you in that hour what you should say.

Matt. 10:20 For you are not the ones speaking, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you.

There is a general message which we all need to hear and heed. Jesus first tells them not to worry. We all have problems and anxiety is an option. Worrying is an option. Worry does not solve any of our problems at any time. Worrying often makes things worse. We will face these adversities; we are not to make it worse.

God promises that we do not need to worry; we have the power of God the Holy Spirit in us. Worry is damaging to your person and to your spiritual life. It is a distraction to everything that goes on in life. Worry is undue concern in life. When you worry, you torment yourself. Worry predicts the worst in every situation. It engenders an attitude of consistent fear, which is unpleasant and unproductive. The things that we anticipate may or may not occur. It brings the same effect almost as much as what you are worrying about.

This leads to so many other problems, including physical and mental breakdowns. Worry is cowardice. It manifests itself in that way. Worry and fear go together.

Persecution and opposition will undoubtedly be a part of the lives of the disciples when they proclaim the gospel to the lost sheep of Israel and later to the gentiles.

All believers need to know that a relaxed mental attitude is possible so that worry can be precluded. This takes a huge weight off of all of us. If you are skeptical about living free of worry, remember that this is Jesus Christ Who has promised this.

They are not to be distracted by fear. They faced more persecution than any of us can imagine. They would enter into cities where there was a great deal of opposition. They could not afford to have sleepless nights the night before. They had to present exactly the right words that would be most effective in front of their persecutors.

Matt. 10:19 But when they deliver you up, do not be anxious how or what you should say, for it is given to you in that hour what you should say.

If you are called in on the carpet and chewed out; often your mind does not respond. You cannot think and reason and speak. The purpose of being able to speak is to have the maximum impact upon those listening to the proceedings. These were public displays in courts and in synagogues, so God wanted them to have a maximum impact. That impact may allow bystanders to respond to the gospel. They see the courageous attitude. They see the disciples are not worried or afraid.

This is a fantastic promise, the power of the Holy Spirit speaking in them. Bringing just the right words to mind when needed. They know exactly the right words and the right Scriptures to quote.

Matt. 10:20 For you are not the ones speaking, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you.

Does this mean that the Holy Spirit would take over their vocal cords and dictate to them the exact words that they would use? Would the Holy Spirit take over their faculties so that they have no control (like those who speak in tongues).

What Is the Promise That Jesus Is Giving the Disciples?

1. This defines what the Holy Spirit is doing. The Holy Spirit speaking through the disciples is like the working of divine inspiration. That is also provided by the Holy Spirit as well, to write the Scripture. Every word is infallible; every sentence.
2. In that inspiration, the disciples would not surrender their human intelligence, their vocabulary, their style of speaking, their personality, their personal feelings or any other human factor. This is how they would write.
3. In speaking before persecutors, the Holy Spirit would bring doctrine to mind.
4. The disciples would express the truth being brought to mind using their own words, their own vocabulary, their own style, their own intelligence, etc.
5. The Holy Spirit would bring to their minds a complete and coherent doctrinal defense peculiar to their situation.
6. The Holy Spirit would inspire the things which would be accurate and convincing. It is a relaxed mental attitude that the disciples bring into a pressure situation, which allows them to think, and the Holy Spirit brings to mind the correct doctrine.
7. The Holy Spirit aids but does not take over.

This explains Matt. 10:20

Conclusion

1. This bears the authority of divine viewpoint. That is simply Bible doctrine. The Holy Spirit is simply prompting their minds.
2. The Holy Spirit aids them under the pressure of persecution; that is when it is most difficult to think and to speak. They need this kind of aid when their lives are being threatened.
3. With a relaxed mental attitude, the aid of God the Holy Spirit and the doctrine to recall the speech would follow. We have this same capacity.

4. It was their own speech from their own personality, vocabulary and intelligence, but prompted by the power of God the Holy Spirit Who brought to mind what was necessary. This was already in their souls.

As we get older, our memories become faulty. We need to say something. It happens to all of us. If only we could say what we ought to say. There have been great abuses throughout the Church Age of this verse.

There is a particular type of speech taken from this, excathedra, which is a false concept. Making use of the authority of their church office to speak some extra-Biblical doctrine. When they speak, they are speaking infallible words (which is false). They believe that what they are saying is accurate as the Bible. Popes have been doing this for years, adding to and taking from the Scripture. That is how this passage is perverted.

In the post-canon age of the church, we have the complete canon of Scripture. It is in writing. The canon is closed. God the Holy Spirit stopped divine inspiration. Everything that we needed is now contained in the Scripture.

The Bible needs to be taught; not amended. If speaking excathedra is in agreement with the Bible, then why is it needed? We do not need any more revelation outside of what the Bible provides. Doctrine is all that is necessary for the faith and practice of the spiritual life.

They did not babble; they did not speak goofy language. People could fully understand what the disciples said.

Closing Points of V. 20

1. V. 20 is also a promise to all believers under the pressure of testimony for Jesus Christ. When you present the gospel, there is always pressure. It is not because we are timid or we are afraid of being ridiculed. This is a promise under all the pressure of testimony concerning Jesus Christ.
2. The more Bible doctrine a person learns, the more he has studied and prepared, which is our responsibility. This is how we grow up; it is how we advance.
3. The Holy Spirit when we have doctrine can remind us of the things which are already in our souls.
4. Doctrine must be present in the soul. The key to all of this is, what do you know.
5. The Holy Spirit empowers to think and to speak the gospel when called upon to do so.
6. God does provide empowerment and wisdom by the Holy Spirit for pressure circumstances by bringing to mind true doctrine when it is needed. Many have claimed that the Holy Spirit is speaking through them. But the Holy Spirit does not present false doctrine, but often many cults start with false doctrine coming out of their mouths. The same thing is true of the tongues phenomena.
7. Being in fellowship via rebound is the key mechanic. None of this works without the filling of the Holy Spirit.

Matt. 10:20 For you are not the ones speaking, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you.

Now we will see the extent and the degree of the pressure that the apostles will be under. They will be inclined to persecute them. Christianity is certainly Brothers would betray brothers; and fathers will betray their children; and children will rise up against the parents and put them to death.

Matt. 10:21 But brother will betray brother to death, and the father his child. And children will rise up against parents and will put them to death.

Unbelieving children would betray their parents, and vice versa. These are the same magistrates which would pronounce death sentences on many. Jesus sums it up by saying, "You will be hated because of My Name." Get used to it.

The more we advance, the more we might face opposition.

We will experience that power of God whether we know it or not. It happens; it is a promise; we have it. Remember this when family turns against family. Just to believe in Christ is dangerous. The world does not look upon Christ kindly. We still do not need to worry or to fear this opposition.

There is great fear and anger of the name of Jesus Christ. People won't say His name on television or in a movie, unless it is a curse. It cannot be spoken in public places without being challenged. There cannot be symbols of it in public places. Even our government promotes persecution. It has always been that way in the devil's world. This can be taken to the point of pain and death to a family member from an unbelieving family member.

We are surrounded by humanism in this country. Almost every public servant and so many other people in public life our humanists and relativists and they are opposed to absolutes. This brainwashing begins with children who are taught political correctness in schools and are taught the absolutes like Bible doctrine are rigid and hateful. What is okay today will not be okay tomorrow. Bible doctrine has no sliding standards; it is the polar opposite to humanism. It is opposed to all relative standards. It is dangerous to the thinking of the humanist. An absolute would make the entire world of a humanist fall apart.

Believers with Bible doctrine are not at all that way. We have impersonal love for the unbeliever. Christian virtue brings the message of eternal life to all men, regardless of who they are and how they think. Humanists think that they are compassionate. But Bible doctrine shows them up for what they are not.

Our indoctrinated kids get to higher education; and the hatred is no longer subtle. Colleges and universities are permeated with anti-Christian thinking. This is one way that persecution of Christianity is encouraged. This is what our school system has been doing. Absolutes and Christian principles and divine establishment have been removed from our schools.

An example, colonialism and Christianity are linked. From the humanist viewpoint, millions of Christians were enslaved by the conquistadors. But that is a distortion of the real story. The gospel of Jesus Christ brings the greatest freedom that this world has to offer. The relationship to Jesus Christ is the greatest relationship and the greatest freedom for humankind. It is this kind of thinking that makes our country great. Our constitution is what comes from the inspiration of divine establishment types and Christians.

Bible doctrine is persecuted and disputed in every way. The only key here is, "What do you think of Christ?" God is the author of good laws; and the Ten Commandments are an example of law in a free society. These bring freedom and order to any society.

The tyranny of human leaders replaces law, and that is happening right now. Under the leadership of the humanists, we have the rise of tyranny. Governing by fiat; governing by executive decree. Sharia law is pure tyranny, straight from the cosmic system of Satan. However that law is tolerated in the name of diversity, whereas Christianity is attacked.

In the first century, Christians and the truth were attacked. The fact is, bringing to anyone the gospel of Jesus Christ is the noblest act of compassion.

Matt. 10:22 And you will be hated by all on account of My name, but the one enduring to the end shall be kept safe.

Lesson #0474

Matt. 10:20–21 Life of Christ

7/25/2013 Thurs

Jesus returns to the topic of persecution and the intensity of the opposition to Him. These men were the epicenter of the Angelic Conflict. The intensity of the opposition that they would face.

Unbelievers filled with hatred and religiosity would result in extremes in persecution. There are some beginnings in persecution which we see.

Something came across Bobby's desk. A Christian chaplain is being censored for engaging in free speech and there are those demanding that he be punished. He is stationed in Alaska as an ordained minister. He has a page on the website called Chaplain's corner. He wrote a piece called "No atheists in foxholes." This was spoken by a Catholic priest; and Eisenhower said he was glad that our military was leading more to God (or something like that), and then Ike said that saying. The chaplain recorded this in his column. Reyes' use of the bigoted, supremiscist phrase, he defiles the dignity of military. Military leaders did not respond to FoxNews asking for such rules. However, 5 hours after this, the essay was removed from the website. Faith-based hate is hate all the same, and Reyes must be appropriately punished. These people are saying that the message of Jesus Christ is exactly the opposite of hate.

Those who witness for Jesus Christ are the greatest people in the world. The only hate here is the vitriol of this atheist organization.

What is the message of atheism? What do they present to the world? What do they present as compared to the gospel of Jesus Christ. They bring no message but hopelessness, anger, bitterness. How sad that some spends time watching the blog of a chaplain and then looking to attack him for posting something religious.

Jesus Christ says that this hatred would come from outsiders and it would extend to the closest of relationships.

Matt. 10:21–22 But brother will betray brother to death, and the father his child. And children will rise up against parents and will put them to death. And you will be hated by all on account of My name, but the one enduring to the end shall be kept safe.

There is hatred attached to the very name of Jesus Christ. This is Satan's world and he opposes anything related to Jesus Christ. It has always been that way in the devil's world. It will continue to be that way. So do not be surprised that unbelievers can demonstrate this kind of animosity. Such do not like what we stand for. It seems hard to believe, particularly in a family, that anyone could do as what is found here. That hate can be so bad as to betray one's own family.

In 1949, Mao captured the mainland, and they began to educate the younger children, to convert a new generation to the glories of socialism and atheism. They became indoctrinated with this new ideology and they turned on their parents and their elders. They turned on their parents as anti-communists reactionaries; anti-socialist activities. Many were executed. Many parents were put to death and executed by the accusations of their own children.

Islam does this same thing today. They educate their children to be virilantly antisemitic. They have a mindset to kill Jews. This is the source of the wars of the Middle East. There is no peace process; there is only destruction.

Jesus is now warning the disciples of these things. His disciples would be hated for His name.

The gospel message is powerful and they do not like to hear that their eternal future is grim and they must stop this message because they do not want to hear it. Jesus died for every atheist who has ever lived. Christians are persecuted for a short while, but their persecutors have no eternal promise. This anti-Christian education. This same education is with us today. It has evolved to a full-scale, secular, anti-Christian education.

Psalm 18:17 He delivered me from my strong enemy and from those who hated me, for they were too mighty for me. Satan and his minions are stronger than us; but not stronger than God. The battle is the Lord's. You cannot have a relaxed mental attitude unless you have doctrine in your soul; doctrine backed by the Scriptures.

Eph. 6:4 Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but nurture them in the discipline and admonition of the Lord. Bringing them up in the Word deters them from rebellion.

Children do have moments of rebellion. Fathers do not provoke that when they teach Bible doctrine. Train up a child in the way that he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it. Truth and the absolutes of Bible doctrine are necessary. They will not get this in the relativist public school system.

The problems of public school education are a good argument for home schooling or for a private school.

Our Public Schools Are a Mess

1. They focus on promoting human self esteem above all else. Bobby went to HISD.
2. There is a plague of human self-esteem based education.
3. It simply means that excellence in the hard subjects is not the criteria for success in the classroom of the public school system.
4. The criteria for success is just making an attempt; so everyone who tries is an attempt. The public schools system does not put out good readers or thinkers.
5. Everyone's opinion is equally valid; you do not want to damage their personal self-esteem.
6. Competition for grades and competition in general is discouraged. We are not trying to evaluate you; or decide that you are a better person academically. We want you to have good self esteem, so we don't put you in a lower class.
7. Correct answers are minimized for fear of hurting the feelings of those who do not know. This is a great leveling process; everyone feels good about themselves. Instill self-esteem will motivate success. Such people come out with no skills or ability to think. What they develop is arrogance. No skills, they cannot think, but they want it all.

Disaster of a failed education system. Victims of the public schools do not easily learn from their mistakes. They do not change or grow in adulthood. Stunted growth. A complete lack of standards. These public school based kids to change or improve means they must admit a mistake that needs correcting. In public places today, no one will take responsibility.

Even the most powerful in government blame others. This is exactly where it comes from. The arrogance of human self-esteem. Corrections for weaknesses are never made. Students are just taught to feel good about themselves. So they never upgrade their standards, but they keep lowering their standards. All they get in school is propaganda and revisionist history. Human self-esteem is very fragile. When challenged, it becomes angry.

No preparation for the hard, cold world that they are going out into. They are prepared to be arrogant, closed-minded and demanding. The welfare state, demanding that others take care of them.

Ignorance is rampant and prejudice against Christianity is increasing exponentially. They students are learning that there are no absolutes, which is the only absolute. There is no other viewpoint but their own. Free speech does not extend to Christians or to the teaching of Bible doctrine.

Just as Jesus said, "They will hate you even for My name."

Christian groups even being thrown off campus. They learn to hate superior achievement and they never strive for it. Equality of results. Humanism is nothing but utopian idealism. Christians are hated because they do not have the utopian idealism of relativism.

The only solution is Bible doctrine, and we must educate the next generation as well. Prep school and the teaching of these principles at home.

Bobby loves to see the young people here. Berachah is raising its own pivot.

In contrast to this humanist arrogance, Bible doctrine in the soul breeds humility. That is what we instill in our children. Not rebellion but humility. This keeps them from going off the deep end. They can see failures and they can make corrections.

We know how insignificant we are. Psalm 103:14 For He knows how we are made, remembering that we are dust. We are so insignificant in comparison to God. By contrast, the humanist and relativist elevate themselves to God, and their standards are relative, and they can always lower these standards. They live by their own human self-esteem. Psalm 103:17 But the mercy of Jehovah is from everlasting, even to everlasting, on those who fear Him; yea, His righteousness is to the sons of sons;...

Train your children up in humility and arrogance will not destroy them or destroy this country. Our country is filled with arrogant people filled with self-esteem, who cannot correct their own mistakes. They will persecute because they cannot stand the humility, stability and the strength of believers. But the good thing is, we have the strength of the Lord and we have His protection. Nothing in this world can touch us. Teach your children. Get them strong. Build up their souls.

Matt. 10:21 But brother will betray brother to death, and the father his child. And children will rise up against parents and will put them to death.

Matt. 10:22 And you will be hated by all on account of My name, but the one enduring to the end shall be kept safe.

Lesson #0475

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

7/28/2013 1Sunday

Matt. 10:21–22 But brother will betray brother to death, and the father his child. And children will rise up against parents and will put them to death. And you will be hated by all on account of My name, but the one enduring to the end shall be kept safe.

Some will be hated only for Jesus' name. We represent the Lord Jesus Christ, and we represent Him as a vocal and as a living example. This is quite difficult for unbelievers.

Enduring here is enduring persecution.

There are extremes of hatred against those who profess the name of Jesus to the world. The unbelieving world will not ignore this profession. They cannot tolerate them.

This is the devil's world; and he will oppose the message of Jesus Christ no matter what; and He will oppose all believers, and he will use all means possible. Persecution of believers from all quarters; even from family members. Do not be surprised that unbelievers, even those in your family, will oppose you.

The alternative to eternal life is not pleasant. Then you might end up living a life which is radically different from unbelievers. They are relativists and secular; and oppose whatever you believe. How could a brother or sister even contemplate condemning another family member to death is hard to understand, but it can occur and has occurred.

Humanism is a Satanic philosophy to oppose the plan of God. Such a philosophy will stop at nothing to wipe out believers.

We have several generations who have been brought up in humanism. They are encouraged to reject the teachings of their parents. Even mentioning Jesus Christ in a public school is often disallowed.

If evolution is right, then inanimate material created animate material. They believe this strongly. They would never present another side of the argument, which is more valid scientifically than evolution.

Public education goes after the children when they are young. The only opposition is Bible doctrine taught in the home and in prep school. It is designed to counter all that is taught in public education. Children are becoming indoctrinated by humanism and evolution; this by its very nature is arrogance; and they are learning to belittle those who do not believe as they do.

Such arrogance is embodied by the secular emphasis upon human self-esteem over even mastering the basic subjects. That has become the target, for children to see themselves in the best possible light. It is an unreality. It views mankind in unreality. Viewing man favorably is the highest objective of the humanist.

There is good in the human race and there is a lot of evil as well. The secular humanist denies evil; it is just a bad choice. They must do this or their world view falls apart. Divine viewpoint of the believer in Jesus Christ threatens their entire world view and it sends them into proxims of anger, hatred and an unsettled mind. There is a plague of human self-esteem education in our country, as well as arrogance. It can only be countered with humility in the souls of believers. Bible doctrine and divine viewpoint education is what Christians must receive.

The Christian approach is the exact opposite of humanism. This conflict of views is from whence the persecution by humanists comes from.

Human Self-esteem Versus Spiritual Self Esteem

1. Your self-worth is not about yourself. It is all about Jesus Christ. It is based upon our relationship with Jesus Christ. It is based upon His grace and His unfailing love. Whatever you say is right; whatever you say is valid. Unless it is the Christian point of view. It is not based upon how you see yourself, because you fail. It is not based upon how others see you. Human self-esteem is based upon, Everyone likes me.
2. Spiritual self esteem is confidence in God, no on how we feel about ourselves. When you build up Bible doctrine in your soul, you have spiritual self esteem.
3. With spiritual self esteem, you look at yourself; you see yourself, through the prism of God's eyes and His plan. We see ourselves as God sees us. We know that we are dust; we know that we are nothing. That God has done these things for us in grace is humility; that is based upon the grace of God.
4. We give glory to God and not to ourselves. Humanism glorifies self. Glorifying God can only generate humility and divine viewpoint.
5. Spiritual self esteem eliminates self-centered arrogance as a criteria for life. That is its value in Satan's world of arrogance.
6. Humanist self-esteem is the solution for all of our problems, in their view. What else can they offer? A little psychological counseling, which is intended to make you feel good about yourself.
7. Spiritual self esteem is God-centered. Divine viewpoint means maximum humility and a minimal amount of arrogance.

People putting themselves above everything else. When they realize that they are not above everything else, that is when their world crashes.

Things do look grim in this country. No matter how we are treated as believers in the future and no matter how much freedom we lose, we will build spiritual self esteem, we will survive it and we will thrive in it.

These disciples will be persecuted and they turned the world upside down.

Matt. 10:21 But brother will betray brother to death, and the father his child. And children will rise up against parents and will put them to death.

Matt. 10:22 And you will be hated by all on account of My name, but the one enduring to the end shall be kept safe.

Lesson #0476 Matt. 10:21–22 Psalm 78 Life of Christ 7/28/2013 2Sunday

In faith-based jail programs in Texas there would not be allowed the name of Jesus Christ to be spoken except as a curse.

Matt. 10:20–21 For you are not the ones speaking, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you. But brother will betray brother to death, and the father his child. And children will rise up against parents and will put them to death.

Spiritual self esteem is the answer. Our self-worth is tied directly to God's plan and to His grace. When we think of ourselves as great people, as very successful, as a pillar of the community, etc. Human self-esteem is based upon transient and human self-achievement; it is here today and it is gone tomorrow. When a person disappoints or fails himself, his human self-esteem is damaged. God's grace counters our failures and our weaknesses. It is in fact our strength in the worst of our adversities. "When I am weak, then I am strong."

The strength we have is always in the grace of God. Our self-worth is directly related to how God sees us in unflinching love, even though we are totally unworthy of it. We advance further in the spiritual life, not as tooting our own horn. We need to be indoctrinated with divine viewpoint. This is the only way to deal with what might come our way.

The religious freedoms which we have are being eroded every day. This verse is so timely; it is a perfect time to teach this verse. We must know these things and that we have the solution is spiritual self esteem.

Psalm 78:5 He established a testimony in Jacob and set up a law in Israel, which He commanded our fathers to teach to their children

This is what education should be.

Psalm 78:6 so that a future generation--children yet to be born--might know. They were to rise and tell their children

Their confidence needs to be in God. His commandments are the laws of divine establishment.

Psalm 78:7 so that they might put their confidence in God and not forget God's works, but keep His commandments.

What happens when these things are not followed.

Psalm 78:8 Then they would not be like their fathers [= a recalcitrant generation], a stubborn and rebellious generation, a generation whose heart was not loyal and whose spirit was not faithful to God.

What our children are learning is humanism. Jesus Christ is absolutely right when He tells His disciples that anyone can persecute you; even your families unto death. Children will reject their own parents who do not teach them Bible doctrine. The parents must teach their children for the onslaught of humanism and hatred in this world.

We need to raise up a generation that is prepared for anything. If one family member despises the Lord, they will despise those who put their trust in Him. Hostility will be their thinking toward doctrine, the gospel and those who believe.

Jesus has described persecution which has continued. There is increasing hatred for Biblical Christianity. Hatred for evangelicals; and we are called right-wing Christians.

This hatred comes from humanist groups, from the court system, even in Texas. It comes from other religions. The syncretism of humanism and some form of Christianity. Many people see Christianity as the basis for many problems in this world, because it opposes their humanistic ideology. We are rigid in our beliefs because Bible doctrine is an absolute and so we believe in absolutes. Christians obey the mandates of God's Word. They do not bend to the demands of humanism. They do not conform or compromise to the devil's world.

Believers understand the degeneracy of the human race; and we do not believe in any sort of utopia; and that is what the humanists are after.

Even family members will persecute us; and Satan is behind all of this. Be of a sober spirit; look around you; have something inside of you besides silliness. Satan goes around like a roaring lion seeking someone to devour. Just being a believer is a good enough reason. He devours us in part by deceiving us. Our adversary is out there; and his minions are out there opposing us.

Matt. 10:21 But brother will betray brother to death, and the father his child. And children will rise up against parents and will put them to death.

Now to the 2nd have. Many who believe will fail when it comes to resisting persecution. Some of the disciples would betray Him or deny Him.

Matt. 10:22 And you will be hated by all on account of My name, but the one enduring to the end shall be kept safe.

Believers to succumb to fear; believers fail. We can fade. Such people become the opposition to other believers. That is the ultimate in cowardice, to betray and to disavow. Even that believer does not lose their salvation because they failed to endure persecution. Failure in the Christian life is simply a status of being out of fellowship, neglecting doctrine and becoming a reversionist. Reversionism engenders great loss. This is reverting the human viewpoint and to humanism as opposed to divine viewpoint. To the point of being the enemy of the cross, which passage refers to believers. Faith alone in Christ alone.

Paul was a major persecutor of Christians and he became the greatest teacher of Bible doctrine in all the world. Endurance is not a prerequisite for salvation. Churches by the thousands proclaim this verse incorrectly. They become persecutors in their legalism. They will betray you in a heartbeat.

The disciples would be severely persecuted in their lives; and this would not just occur when they sweep through Galilee. It will continue into the future. Satan will never give up his opposition; nor will the humanists or relativists. Persecution will continue into a future day. That is the concept of the end of v. 22.

Matt. 10:22 And you will be hated by all on account of My name, but the one enduring to the end shall be kept safe.

If you are persecuted in one city, then go to another. They can continue their mission by moving on to the next city. This must have them confused, when Jesus tells them when the Son of Man comes, as He is speaking right to them. If they get no response in one city, then they are just to go to the next city. When the persecution begins; when there is no positive response, Jesus tells them to move on.

Until the Son of Man Comes

1. Clearly the mission is to go to the lost sheep of Israel and that will not be completed until the Son of Man comes.
2. This future time clearly will exceed the time of the 1st advent.
3. So the “until He comes” cannot refer to the 1st advent.
4. This can only refer to another future time when the Son of Man comes.
5. These words have application beyond the lifetime of the disciples, into a future time yet to be determined. The disciples do not know this. They hear this one mission and this one persecution.

Matt. 10:23 But when they persecute you in this city, flee to another. For truly I say to you, In no way will you have finished the cities of Israel until the Son of Man comes.

Lesson #0477

Matt. 10:22 Life of Christ

7/31/2013 Wed

Relativism are norms and standards which change. Bobby found an example of what he has been teaching in today's paper. It is in such contrast to the absolute standards that we live by. The Word of God is absolute truth; and relativism is opposed to Christianity.

Weiner's deviancy is only surpassed by its acceptance by Kathleen Parker. Would that Anthony Weiner were old news, but it won't quit. Only a man who distributed online photos of his own self imagine denial as virtue. He can outlast the electorates attention span, which gnats regard with envy. A second applies to Daniel Patrick Monahan we normalize the deviant to accommodate our moral decay. If you can't fix it, then make it normal. If everyone is doing it, it can't be wrong, right? Monahann was politically incorrect if we could only exchange them.

What is Anthony Weiner but a flasher who would be in another time arrested for indecent exposure. What is different from a man tweeting himself as opposed to exposing himself on the street? There are no standards. The liberated id thrives without restrain tyrannizing the culture under the banner of freedom. We have erased the line between adult behavior and childish acts.

That is the definition of relativism.

Matt. 10:22 And you will be hated by all on account of My name, but the one enduring to the end shall be kept safe.

Matt. 10:23 But when they persecute you in this city, flee to another. For truly I say to you, In no way will you have finished the cities of Israel until the Son of Man comes.

Jesus is taking great pains to warn the disciples of the pains that they would be facing. Jesus is explaining to the twelve that this will be a continuing part of their lives; it will not let up. Satan's world system and all of those humans and relativists and humanists will always persecute those who bring God's Word to this world. They will oppose anyone who is advancing in the spiritual life.

As believers, God has a plan for us; He has a mission for each one of us and we are a part of the body of Christ. One of the greatest honors in the spiritual life is to serve the Lord and to have someone oppose us.

V. 23b refers to a time which goes beyond the time of the disciples. This is a warning of a future persecution. There is the future time of the disciples. "Flee to the next city if you are rejected and persecuted." Jesus is not sending them out to be martyrs. There are a whole lot of Jews in Galilee who need to hear this message. This is practical advice; this is the mission and this is how you conduct it.

Our Lord's disciples can stand down when He returns. Their mission does not end until the Son of Man comes. That was a bit of a shock. That is the very distant future. This is a never-ending mission. The obvious question is, how distant is the "until"? When is the end, when they will be saved?

The disciples want to know just how long they will need to endure all of this.

Some Interpretation

1. This words have application beyond the foreseeable future of the disciples.
2. This is a future time which is yet to be determined when they will be saved. Believers must endure until that time, until the end, which is the interadvent period, between His first and second advents.

When is the end? When is it over? So we need to look at the context. The context is this particular mission to the lost sheep of Israel, which goes back to vv. 6–7, and not to the gentiles or to the Samaritans. This is strictly about Jews.

The Time Table

1. V. 22b does not refer specifically to the church, not in this context. The church will undergo persecution, but that is not what is found here. This is the Age of Israel after the first advent. We have Jews and beyond the 1st advent. The Church Age is not the Age of Israel.
2. So the end refers to the end of the Age of Israel, when the Lord returns a 2nd time.

3. The end of the Age of Israel is the conclusion of the 7 years of the Tribulation. Daniel 9; divided into two parts, the Tribulation and the Great Tribulation.
4. Therefore the return that Jesus speaks of is the 2nd advent after the Great Tribulation.

These disciples are only thinking ahead about this trip to Galilee, and Jesus is talking about returning a 2nd time.

More Points

1. If the disciples are not going to live until the 2nd advent, which they won't, who is Jesus talking about who must endure to the end to be saved?
2. This is a reference to Jewish believers in the Tribulation, the final 7 years of Israel.
3. They are to endure to the end of the Jewish age, and they will be saved. That is when the persecution will be over.
4. The 2nd advent will deliver believers who have been under maximum persecution, which is what the Tribulation is all about. There will be massive persecution at that time. Saved is σωζω. This passage has nothing to do with not being saved because you are not faithful to the end.

Jewish believers who survive the Tribulation will be delivered from persecution by the 2nd advent of Jesus Christ. That is an outstanding feature of the 2nd advent. This is well beyond what the disciples will experience. Jesus is talking all about the future history of Israel. The Jews have been persecuted to this moment. They will be persecuted as it has never happened before. That deliverance will continue. Jesus Christ wipes out the enemies of Israel at Armageddon. They are wiped off the face of the earth. This is the final 7 years of the Age of Israel. Then the coming of the Kingdom of Heaven, who is Jesus Christ, returning to earth.

Our mission in this era is no less important and we are targets as well. We have tremendous protection as well. What are a few years of persecution if you live your life in the light of eternity.

Being Delivered at the End

1. Salvation from Satanic persecution in the Tribulation does not refer to regeneration to those who endure until the 2nd advent. This is deliverance. There is no salvation based upon endurance. This cannot mean that.
2. This text refers to deliverance from persecution at the 2nd advent.
3. Like the disciples, believing Jews are to evangelize in the Tribulation. There is a parallel here.
4. They are, during the Tribulation, they are to take the message of Christ to unbelievers.
5. At that time, all of the cities will be covered and all Jews will hear the message of the gospel.

6. There will also be rejection and opposition at that future time. The 144,000 will be martyred, as will Moses and Elijah.
7. So the evangelists are to flee such opposition. One instruction is to flee to the mountain. Israel will be
8. Those who persevere in this work, who are not martyred, those who flee to the mountains, will be delivered.

Matt. 10:22 And you will be hated by all on account of My name, but the one enduring to the end shall be kept safe.

Matt. 10:23 But when they persecute you in this city, flee to another. For truly I say to you, In no way will you have finished the cities of Israel until the Son of Man comes.

Now, with v. 24, we go back to the present, and we have the pattern for the opposition.

Jesus will encourage the disciples with the understanding that they are representing Him. He gives them that warning. The mission of speaking the truth about Christ cannot be stopped.

Matt. 10:24 A disciple is not above the teacher, nor a slave above his lord.

They were with Jesus in Nazareth when the crowd wanted to kill Jesus. There is vicious opposition by the enemies of Jesus, and they must not be afraid of this opposition. They need to have courage and confidence.

A Ranger unit on patrol wants to know what they are facing. They want intel.

The mission of the disciples was critical and important, and we have the New Testament because they were faithful.

We have no idea what the future holds for the United States; the trends look bad. The beginnings of persecution of Christianity; the attempt to suppress Christian expression. There is an attempt to remove the name of Jesus Christ from anywhere. People opposed to Jesus want to attack and to remove the message.

There will be opposition, but the life is great. There is no vocation in the world more rewarding or enjoyable than teaching the Word of God. Bobby had no idea until he began doing it. Whatever our mission is in the plan of God, it is equally rewarding. We will get opposition, but so what?

Matt. 10:24 A disciple is not above the teacher, nor a slave above his lord.

This is a reminder of something the disciples should be aware of.

There was a controversy among our own group about rebound. Bob wrote Rebound Revisited. Some did not like it because it was burnt orange. It is rebound from a little bit different perspective.

Many old titles are being dusted off in T&P and they will be republished from time to time. Bobby is still working on a Bible doctrine dictionary, which is a massive project.

Jesus continues this doctrine for the next 5 verses.

Matt. 10:24 A disciple is not above the teacher, nor a slave above his lord.

One football team might come in and see the opposition and they are intimidated; they see the opposition. But we represent the King of Kings, so we are on the winning side. No matter the tactics or strategy of the opposition, the disciples have the edge. They simply have to take heart in the midst of persecution. They must stand strong; they must be ready to rock n roll. They just have to line up against it with strength and confidence. They are already winners, so all they have to do is think like winners.

Jesus is saying, "I am the teacher and you are the followers; I am the master and you are the slaves." They are under His direct authority. This carries weight. They are conducting their mission for God Himself, so what do they have to fear? It is paramount that they do the bidding of the King of Kings.

If they have persecuted the master, can they do anything less with the slaves? They hate the source of the message, so they will hate the messengers with that same message.

Anyone who represents His truth will be persecuted. They are His disciples; they serve Him; they proclaim His message and they represent Him in all of His ways; therefore, they should expect hostility.

They will receive the same resistance, so they must be prepared for it. They must get mentally ready, and they get mentally ready with the Word of God implanted in their souls. If you live in the plan of God, if you execute the mission of the Lord Jesus Christ, living the spiritual life, operating with your spiritual gift, you will be a target. You will be wearing it on your back. Do not be surprised that people might mock you for what you believe and how you live. Humanists love to use ridicule; your opposition enjoys to use ridicule.

Religion itself will attack Christianity as well. Those of Islam hate the Lord Jesus Christ and they would silence believers if they could. That is how stupid they are. The greatest thing in the world, they would get rid of.

Persecution of His Followers

1. The honor we bear to represent Him is no less than the honor of the disciples. We have the same charge delivered to us; take His Word to the world. It is our honor, just as the disciples faithfully served their master. They were ready to die for Him in the end.

2. If the world hates you, they hated Him first.
3. Persecution is an indicator that you are on the right side of history; God's side.

Matt. 10:24 A disciple is not above the teacher, nor a slave above his lord.

Jesus is the head of the house. He is the mentor of the disciples; and they are to grow up from what He is teaching them. The whole point of this is, they are learning to think with His mind. They are learning to serve Him with His ways.

Matt. 10:25 It is enough for a disciple to become like his teacher and a slave like his master. If they called the head of the house 'Beelzebul,' how much more the members of his household!

Jesus reminds them of his being accused of casting out demons with the power of Beelzebub. If they call the head of the house Beelzebub, then how much more will they ridicule those of His household. The disciples can expect this and even worse.

What Does this Mean to the Disciples?

1. The same scorn will be heaped upon His servants.
2. If they can malign perfection, how much more will they malign imperfection.
3. All sorts of lies and misrepresentations will be laid upon them. Jesus and His disciples are being accused of exactly what his accusers do. This reminds Bobby of how Washington D.C. does. Whatever these politicians accuse others of, it is exactly what they are doing. Their accusations are often a smokescreen of their own motives and actions. Yet people believe their lies.

We have made deviant behavior normal. Everybody lies. So politicians just do it. That is the power of the cosmic system. When you understand these verses, you will understand why people come after you. They believe what the cosmic system puts out.

Matt. 10:25 It is enough for a disciple to become like his teacher and a slave like his master. If they called the head of the house 'Beelzebul,' how much more the members of his household!

Therefore, Jesus goes to this conclusion.

Matt. 10:26 "Therefore, don't be afraid of them, since there is nothing covered that won't be uncovered, and nothing hidden that won't be made known.

The Comforting Phrase Is, There Is Nothing Concealed That Won't Be Revealed

1. Lies will be revealed. We look at what is going on in our country, and we are worried that these lies will not be revealed. They will not prevail in the end.

2. God's justice cannot be denied and His judgment of lies and persecution.
3. No one on this earth past present and future gets away with lying about the truth. The truth of Christ and the truth of divine viewpoint. Those who persecute Christ will pay the price. It will not be concealed.
4. Their duplicity, dishonesty, etc. will be exposed.
5. In due time, in His time, the Lord will reveal both His and their own true character. Their false teaching and works.

This Is for You Personally

1. You may not get personal vindication in this life so that everyone knows that you are right and truthful.
2. This promise is that God's truth will be vindicated. This is about lies of Christ and His doctrine. We will be persecuted for His truth.
3. It will be vindicated through believers and how they handle the persecution. How the believer handles persecution is vindication of the Word of God. It is not about self-vindication or self-justification.
4. This is so much more important than personal justification about the lies of the opposition about you.

The disciples were not to hold back in any teaching. If you teach Biblical truth and someone else calls that hate speech, then you will be called homophobic. The hate is actually on their side. The accusation which they make is about you. The accusation they make about you is exactly what they are. They cannot stand it and they cannot stand you. It is God's Word which glorifies God through us. They will do everything and anything to stop you. You can see it developing in so many ways in our country; it is a ground swell of opposition.

Matt. 10:26 "Therefore, don't be afraid of them, since there is nothing covered that won't be uncovered, and nothing hidden that won't be made known.

Matt. 10:27 What I tell you in the dark, speak in the light. What you hear in a whisper, proclaim on the housetops.

"Proclaim the truth boldly and do it without reservation." is what our Lord is encouraging them to do. "What you have learned from Me, scream it from the housetops." He is telling them to set aside all personal and security issues. Let the lies fly.

Bobby recently read an article about General Henry Clinton, the British commander during the Revolutionary War. He was blamed for it, even though his authority was undermined by the government at home. He was not given enough resources to win. He spent the rest of his life trying to vindicate himself. He wrote long letters and volumes vindicating himself and he was still blamed and he became very bitter. He was lied about and he could not get over it. It all happened and he kept trying to justify something that could not be justified; they others had already made their minds up.

If you are accused or spoken bad of, just shake it off. You will one day be vindicated by God for all of the lies, the wrongs and all of the falsehoods in eternity.

What a waste of time if you spend your life justifying yourself. Bobby doesn't care if Islam hates him for teaching Bible doctrine; or humanists think that he is teaching hate speech. It does not matter.

Respect for the Lord and His truth should always be greater than fear of the opposition. "Do not fear those who kill the body, but cannot kill the soul."

These lies will all be revealed at the Great White Throne.

Matt. 10:27 What I tell you in the dark, speak in the light. What you hear in a whisper, proclaim on the housetops.

Lesson #0479

Matt. 10:28 Life of Christ

8/4/2013 1Sunday

Andrew Lloyd Webber song sung, but with new lyrics.

Physical death, Bobby is told, is the greatest fear in the life of many people in this world. This is even true among believers in Jesus Christ. Why is death such a specter, even with believers? Some associate death with pain and with violence. Associated with a loss of loved ones. This is also fear of the unknown, which even includes believers who think that they must maintain their salvation. There is no security in that sort of legalism. We have a security like no other security in life. Once we are saved, we cannot lose that salvation. God is immutable and so are His promises. Sometimes, a fear of life motivates a person's life. Fear destroys love and the capacity for love. It includes all of the problems of emotionalism, including nearly every mental attitude sins. Fear often precipitates bad decisions in our life. Making wrong decisions severely narrows our options in life. Good decisions expand our decisions in life. Fear is the #1 cause of bad decisions. Fear of death destroys capacity for life.

Those who obsess over death often do not enjoy life. They concentrate on their last moments of life, and this robs them of the zest for life. Afraid of life makes them cowards in life. The one person who should have courage and enthusiasm in life and capacity for life is the believer who advances to spiritual maturity.

Heb. 2:15 calls fear of death slavery. Believers should be slaves to nothing apart from God's plan and God Himself. Fear is the enemy of the Christian way of life. No one has control over the manner and time of a person's death. Most would like to string out life over an infinite period of time, but that is impossible.

Life is great when you realize that there is nothing to fear in life. Mature believers are not afraid of death.

Such is the message of Jesus to the disciples. The disciples were commissioned with the responsibility of taking the gospel to the lost sheep of Israel. Since the specter of death will dog their lives from that point on, if they do not metabolize this verse, they will be in constant fear. No believer can function effectively when fear grips your soul. Bumper stickers no fear. Psalm 111:10a The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom...

Then Jesus tells His disciples:

Matt. 10:28 Don't fear those who kill the body but are not able to kill the soul; rather, fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

There is no security reside in hell. Here, it is Gehenna.

Do Not Fear Those Who Kill the Body.

1. Jesus is talking about the opposition; those who follow Him. They will be under constant opposition. They would spread the gospel of Jesus Christ to the world. This is the early church. They begin the age of the church. Satan would love to wipe them off the face of the earth.
2. Whoever wants to kill them can destroy the physical body with which they are born. Our body deteriorates. We are born and we are bound to die.
3. Even in physical death.
4. The believer has an eternal destiny; and unbeliever does not have this. Their body can die, but their soul as well.
5. The opposition cannot take our eternal destiny away from us, no matter what they do; that is a sterling motivation for the disciples not to fear the opposition in this mortal life. A comprehensive view of those POW's in the Vietnam War. Those men suffered unbelievably; horrible tortures and deprivation. How do human survive that? You will never read greater profiles in courage than those men. These men lived under the worst conditions that man can suffer and they came through it beautifully many times. Don't fear it. These disciples should fear offending God in this life; not the persecutors.

Justifying self in the face of opposition offends God. When you are ridiculed for being a believer and for living by the principles of Bible doctrine, the opposition, the humanists, the relativists will all ridicule you. They will despise you simple for His name. A natural response to want to vindicate oneself. But Jesus ultimately vindicates us. Unbelievers cannot drive believers off the face of the earth. Islam is a religion dedicated to doing just that.

The fact that you do not retaliate or you do not want to avenge yourself; that in itself is vindication. Because of your attitude, that is your vindication.

Believers and Persecution

1. To be afraid of the opposition, anyone who persecutes you offends God. This offends God because you are not depending upon God in the face of opposition.
2. The only thing to fear is offending God; you do not fear your opposition.
3. Failure to depend upon God is offensive.
4. Leave the persecutors to God. Let Him deal with them. Just continue on with His plan; let God work out the rest.
5. To complete God's plan is the highest goal of any believer, regardless of the opposition; regardless of the hate and the ridicule; regardless of the threats of death. Any Christian traveling in the middle east is under the threat of God.
6. Respect and love for God and our guaranteed eternal future removes the fear that we can
7. This removes the futile desire to justify self in the face of lies and persecution. We often want to present our side of the story and we spend so much time justifying ourselves, particularly to those whom we are close to.
8. This is what our Lord has just given; a faith rest rationale. It gives believers focus on the mission in the face of opposition. Do you focus on yourself or on your fears? Bobby does not know if believing the Bible or teaching it is a crime. Christianity is a threat to the unbeliever. Do you think the unbeliever wants to think about hell; as even a possibility. "Do you mean everyone who doesn't believe in Jesus Christ will go to hell?" They want to hear you say, "Yes;" and that discredits you before them. You will be discredited if they can. You do not have to apologize for the truth.

The opposition can kill the body; they can make martyrs of the disciples, but they cannot kill the soul or our eternal destiny. This is the ultimate security. The body they may kill; God's truth abideth still. Eternity verses a few years. What is a few years on the earth compared to eternity. Our thought process should be focused on eternity; and we can live this life of great use and great importance and impact. The rewards in heaven for eternity are unimaginably wonderful.

Matt. 10:28 Don't fear those who kill the body but are not able to kill the soul; rather, fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

Lesson #0480

Matt. 10:28 Life of Christ

8/4/2013 2Sunday

We will cover the second half of this verse. Bobby noticed some squirming, but not as much as occurs at a memorial service. People must confront their own mortality.

Bobby confronted us with the subject of death in the previous session. Those who are unbelievers should be seriously squirming, because this is grim.

Matt. 10:28 Don't fear those who kill the body but are not able to kill the soul; rather, fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

Fear the one who kills the soul and body in hell. This is in contrast with the first half of the verse. The first half dealt with the body only.

There is no soul-sleep occurring here. This is not soul annihilation. This is a revelation why the unbeliever should be terrified. No doubt the passage means that the unbeliever's body and soul will be destroyed in hell. There is a destruction involved, but not an annihilation of the soul. If the soul does not cease to exist, how does it exist? All souls are eternal. The body can be destroyed. When the soul is breathed into the body, that soul is indestructible, even though soul destruction is spoken of here. What is this destruction?

What Is Soul and Body Destruction?

1. It is not annihilation
2. Physical death is not the end of body and soul existence. Destroy does not refer to termination.
3. Destruction of the soul and the body is eternal residence of the unbeliever in hell.
4. Would that this destruction was annihilation when comparing it with eternity in hell. However, it is not.

There is a comparison here. We compare the death of the body and the residence of the soul in heaven with the destruction of the unbeliever's body and the soul in the Lake of Fire. The unbeliever should be the one to fear death; the disciples should not fear death.

At the 2nd resurrection of all unbelievers. The first resurrection of believers which takes place in several increments, beginning with the rapture of the church. There are Tribulation saints and Old Testament saints. All unbelievers will be resurrected as well. Then something which is most terrible will occur. Every unbeliever will be judged at the Great White Throne judgment. They will be tried and found guilty by Christ. Body and soul will be consigned to Gehenna. Gehenna is the valley of Hinnom, associated with Jews who offered up their children as human sacrifices; the children were burned to death. This was a cultic practice of degenerate and unbelieving Jews. In later times, this was a garbage dump where there was a continual burning of trash. This is a never-ending destruction. Believers will die physically, but that is of little consequence in the light of the eternal future.

There are no bodiless souls; there will be bodies for believers and unbelievers; and after judgment, unbelievers will be tossed into Gehenna.

Feminine_noun :geenna (γέεννα) [pronounced GHEH-ehn-nah], which means, 1) Hell is the place of the future punishment call "Gehenna" or "Gehenna of fire". This was originally the valley of Hinnom, south of Jerusalem, where the filth and dead animals of the city were cast out and burned; a fit symbol of the wicked and their future destruction.. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #1067.

The ticket out is the gospel. Get them saved, so to speak.

We think of unbelievers that we love; if you fail to give them the gospel, they do not disappear forever. They reside in hell forever. We know that they are there or that they will be there. If you do not give them the gospel, that will be on their mind for the rest of your life. This is really as bad as it can possibly get.

This is an eternal destruction; not a destruction where something ceases.

The Contrast

1. First the disciples should fear offending the Lord. They should fear not completing the mission that Jesus Christ has assigned to them in spite of all the opposition. They may not fear that but they had better consider offending the Lord.
2. They should relax in the knowledge that even though the opposition may kill the body, it is the only power that they have. Being killed is nothing; it is inconsequential compared to our mission; and their ultimate, ceaseless destruction.
3. God is infinitely greater than any opposition. The disciples when it is over will reside in heaven for eternity.
4. This verse is a comparison; comparing physical death of believers and their residence in heaven forever; with the unbeliever's death and residence in hell forever. Jesus and believers in Christ cannot be eradicated from this world. This is not just an ideology that rationalism can eventually defeat. There is religion involved in Islam, an enemy that they cannot understand. This is not just one ideology to be defeated by another ideology.

His mission will go on. He will take the church home and then He will destroy the armies which oppose Israel. Nothing can stop this. No religion can stop it. No dictator can stop it. The power of this earth is completely ineffectual. We serve the greatest power of the universe. God is omnipotent.

Matt. 10:28 Don't fear those who kill the body but are not able to kill the soul; rather, fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

This was the eternal security approach by Jesus to cause the disciples to want to complete the mission that He has given them. All of God's protection is extended to all His creation.

The next concept deals with something of almost no value.

Matt. 10:29 "Are not two sparrows sold for a copper coin? And not one of them falls to the ground without your Father.

One of the most populous bird in Houston is the sparrow. They are all over the place. God respects each one of them, despite their insignificance. And yet, not a single sparrow falls to the ground without God knowing. Not even a sparrow dies before its time. Jesus has these sparrows in mind throughout their short little lives.

Freedom Through Military Victory; a Navy corpsman who landed on Iwo Jima; and he heard a sparrow singing in the middle of all that hell; and he looked up at the sparrow and thought about this verse.

Matt. 10:29 "Are not two sparrows sold for a copper coin? And not one of them falls to the ground without your Father.

He is called the Seed of the Woman who was to crush the head of the serpent.

Isa. 7:14 says that a virgin would conceive and have a son. Mary was a virgin before and after conception. It was by the power and the supernatural influence of God the Holy Spirit. Jesus birth was contrary to all that we know about life. No one was ever born as He was, without a human father; parthenogenesis. This is a guarantee of the uniqueness of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Christ was unique inasmuch as He lived a perfect life. Of all the saints, of all the Old Testament prophets and religious leaders, none are without sin. All have sinned and come short of the glory of God.

When confronting the pharisees, Jesus challenged them, "Which one of you convicts Me of sin?" They tried, but they could only bring false charges against Him, at best.

1Peter 1:19 has Jesus as a lamb, spotless. Elsewhere He is holy and undefiled. Hebrews says He is without sin. Psalm 1:1 says that He does not stand in the way of sinners. Pontius Pilate declares Him innocent. Even Judas admits that He betrayed innocent blood.

The pharisees asked an interesting question. They smugly said to Jesus, "Who can forgive sins but God alone?" We can forgive the sins committed against us by others; but we cannot forgive mankind of sin against God.

Luke 5:24 "So that you know that the Son of Man has the authority to forgive sins, I tell you to rise, pick up your stretcher, and go home." He confirmed His claim to deity and Saviorhood.

Luke 7:48–49 told a woman that her sins were forgiven. Only God can forgive sins.

There was a fourth unique aspect. Jesus was born with the purpose of dying. He came into this world under the specter of death; that was His mission and He knew this. None of us can foresee our deaths. We live our lives until the end of our lives.

Jesus came to give His life as a ransom for many. He had an ultimate and unique purpose. God's purpose for Him. He might taste death for all mankind. Everything was directed toward His death.

Fifth uniqueness: the realization that Jesus was the only man to lose His relationship to God, even though He had that relationship throughout His entire life. Regenerate man cannot lose his salvation. We cannot be separated from the love of God. Once that relationship is opened, it is never closed out.

On the cross, there were 3 terrible hours when He was forsaken by God the Father; and the Father disavowed Him and judged Him, pouring our sins upon Him. In that time, Jesus screamed, "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?"

The problem was, God the Father could not have fellowship with sin. He turned His back on His Son. The sins of the entire human race was poured out upon Him. What happened in those moments happened uniquely to Him. Because of this time, we are never forsaken by God, even through eternity.

Heb. 9:26b says that Jesus was manifested to put away sin.

6. Every moment we move in our lives toward death and once we die, we are dead forever. But Jesus said that He would be raised from the dead. "For this reason, I lay down My life that I may take it up again." God the Father had raised Jesus Christ from the dead; the Holy Spirit is also said to have raised Jesus from the dead. All 3 members of the Godhead are said to have raised Him from the dead. All men go from life to death; none go from death to life except for Jesus Christ. In union with Jesus Christ, we share His eternal life that cannot be removed. No other man can be removed.
7. He is the One who can be absent and present at the same time. A paradox to the mind of man. This can be accounted for insofar that He is more than a man. He would soon leave and He would stay with them. Jesus is omnipresent. He lives in us, He lives through us, and He is with God the Father.

We have great proofs of our Lord's uniqueness in human history. Other names are not worthy of mention. There is no one else.

Our Lord is sending out His disciples to the lost sheep of Israel. But they will run into some very serious problems; problems that they are prepared for. There is a fascinating ending to the persecution that Jesus speaks of.

Lesson #0482

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

8/11/2013 2Sunday

Believers have nothing to fear, even if the society turns against them. We are seeing this occur in our own society.

Matt. 10:29–31 "Are not two sparrows sold for a copper coin? And not one of them falls to the ground without your Father. And even the hairs of your head are all numbered. So do not fear, you are worth more than many sparrows.

Almighty God is cognizant of every single sparrow and He protects each sparrow in spite of his insignificance. Not a single sparrow will fall to the ground until it is his time.

God has seen to it that there is food and provision for sparrows, ideally suited for their individual traits.

The disciples are far more significant. How much more significance of the disciples?

Matt. 10:29 “Are not two sparrows sold for a copper coin? And not one of them falls to the ground without your Father.

Hairs individually are of little consequence; but God knows the number of hairs on our head. He knows each one; how many are upon our head at any one time. No one else knows how many hairs on upon your head, except God.

Matt. 10:30 “And even the hairs of your head are all numbered.

If God is able to number all of the hairs on your head, will He not look over you and take care of you?

Even though God takes care of all the individual sparrows, and we are much greater than these individual sparrows; therefore, if He takes care of them, He will take care of us. This includes taking care of us in the context of persecution.

God knows every sparrow that falls out of the sky. He has everything worked out in the divine decrees, so obviously, He has things determined out for us. Jesus knows every step of our lives. Jesus even knows and can delineate all of the decisions that we did not make and where they would have taken us. Jesus can tell us exactly what would happen. He can tell us exactly what changes would have been involved. When it comes to omniscience, God knows it all.

Matt. 10:31 “So do not fear, you are worth more than many sparrows.

When someone is bent on your destruction; on anything in which they oppose you, He knows your every need and He will take care of your every need. When God so designates, we go to heaven. This is the greatest time of all. If you live your life in the light of eternity, all of this is meaningless. Death is a welcome anticipation. Do not fear. What does God then require under these conditions?

Matt. 10:32 “Everyone, therefore, who shall confess Me before men, him I shall also confess before My Father who is in the heavens.

Matt. 10:33 “But whoever shall deny Me before men, him I shall also deny before My Father who is in the heavens.

These two verses have been yanked out of their context. The context is setting up the disciples to go out into the world to present Jesus; and the sort of problems they would face.

Confession is a word we should know. Homologeô. This is the prominent Greek verb found in Rebound and Rebound Revisited. This means to acknowledge. Confessing Jesus before men is naming Jesus before men; they are acknowledging Who He is before men. They are presenting His message to the lost sheep of Israel.

These are the disciples' instruction. They were to be witnesses to Christ. They were identifying themselves with His Person and His work.

Acknowledgment of Jesus Christ

1. These men who are acknowledging Him, will be acknowledged by Him to the Father in heaven. We acknowledge Him; He acknowledges us. This is disciples who are already believers.
2. Jesus will testify to this mission accomplishment. This is even more encouraging.
3. This is not merely Jesus testifying that they are believers. That is not what is going on here. This is testifying that these men have undertaken and accomplished their mission.
4. This will be a faithful well-done for faithful service. They are getting a glimpse of their rewards through persecution. Witnesses to Christ through mankind.
5. This includes rewards in heaven for being a witness. This means in the midst of persecution, you do not back down. With that obligation is that great reward. To whom much is given much is expected.
6. Witnessing for Christ has impact; here on earth and in our eternal future. It will be declared by Christ here and in eternity. We will have rewards and decorations throughout eternity. We will get a "Well done."

Matt. 10:32 "Everyone, therefore, who shall confess Me before men, him I shall also confess before My Father who is in the heavens.

This is the alternative to what has already been stated. Aorist active subjunctive of ἀρνεομαι = to deny. There is a conditional particle. This identifies this as a 3rd class condition, which indicates a more probable future condition. Uncertainty is implied concerning a future time. If this is true, then that is true.

If there is the first denial (maybe it will take place or maybe it won't); then the conclusion is there will be a second denial. This is a denial of acknowledgment.

Denial of Acknowledgment

1. It is a denial of acknowledgment by Christ to the Father concerning whoever.
2. This is any person who rejects the message of the witness of Christ from the disciples. Failing to acknowledge the message of the disciples. They do not acknowledge Jesus Christ after the gospel message.
3. They will be denied by Jesus Christ in the final judgment.
4. This is the case for the pharisees and the other religious types. They failed to acknowledge Jesus Christ as their Savior.
5. They will not be acknowledged by Jesus Christ; they will be judged. The result will be horrendous.
6. This is a denial that no one should have to face.

Matt. 10:33–36 “But whoever shall deny Me before men, him I shall also deny before My Father who is in the heavens. Do not think that I have come to bring peace on earth. I did not come to bring peace but a sword, for I have come to bring division, a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law – and a man’s enemies are those of his own household. 1 Footnote: 1Lk. 12:53, Mic. 7:6.

A sword cuts; a sword divides. The most antagonistic relationship in the universe by far; Satan and God and this will continue to the very end, until Satan is cast into hell along with all unbelievers. Satan’s cosmic system is always divisive and always opposed to God’s plan. The great division of the human race.

Jesus Brings Division to the World.

1. Christ came to this earth and He did not bring peace into this world. Men strive for peace and they put bumper stickers on their car, but there is no peace.
2. Jesus did not arrive in the first advent to bring peace. He arrived for war; and to defeat Satan strategically at the cross.
3. The cross would bring reconciliation between God and man; and Jesus would not bring peace even between believers. Sin is no longer an issue. That problem has been laid to rest.
4. Peace in the world would be reserved for the 2nd advent.
- 5.
6. In the meantime, Christ’s message would divide between those who believe and those who reject.
7. As a result of this sword of the Word, divisions and conflicts would occur. He would divide even the close relationships of families. He came to divide them. This is because acknowledgment or rejection.

Final Points on the Cut

1. There can be no compromise between the gospel and those who reject it. A cut is a cut; a division is a division.
2. Not even families will compromise. If you cannot compromise with your own family, who can you compromise with?
3. Your family will hate you as much as anyone outside of your family. The division is in place.
4. There is a great divide even with family.
5. This does not mean that the believer severs this relationship. You present the gospel at any opportunity. You may be rejected. A natural chasm can be created.
6. They do not want to hear the gospel because it condemns them to hell, if they reject Jesus Christ.

Matt. 10:34 “Do not think that I have come to bring peace on earth. I did not come to bring peace but a sword, 1 Footnote: 1In Lk. 12:51 the word “division” is used, while “sword” has the same meaning here.

Matt. 10:35 for I have come to bring division, a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law –

Matt. 10:36 and a man's enemies are those of his own household. 1 Footnote: 1Lk. 12:53, Micah 7:6.

Lesson #0483

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

8/14/2013 Wed

Jesus is speaking to the disciples.

Matt. 10:34 "Do not think that I have come to bring peace on earth. I did not come to bring peace but a sword, 1 Footnote: 1In Lk. 12:51 the word "division" is used, while "sword" has the same meaning here.

Jesus says that He has not come to bring peace on earth, but a sword.

The Sword of Jesus Christ

1. The 1st advent of the Lord Jesus Christ is not peaceful. It is not just about those who surround him; He focuses on something else. He has a sword himself.
2. He brought a sword.
3. The sword is metaphorical, but no less deadly.
4. His sword cuts and divides and severs.
5. It is the gospel of Jesus Christ; this slashes and divides people. That is why He came. To bring this message of salvation and hope. It had been rejected by some and accepted by others. The disciples should understand it. The disciples had seen this amongst their own friends and family.
6. Jesus would separate friends and families.

Matt. 10:34 "Do not think that I have come to bring peace on earth. I did not come to bring peace but a sword, 1 Footnote: 1In Lk. 12:51 the word "division" is used, while "sword" has the same meaning here.

Matt. 10:35 for I have come to bring division, a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law –

Sometimes the enemies would be within a man's household. Unbelieving family members will not only reject the message of Christ but they will reject the messenger as well. Unbelieving family members will become hostile; they will become enemies. They will hate you simply for being a believer.

Politics and ideologies are different. A good political argument; but the division concerning Jesus Christ is much more volatile. This is how we know that Christ's gospel is the truth. Why is that? Unbelievers are threatened by the truth of God's Word. God's Word contradicts what they want to believe about the world. Humanism has all these utopian images. The rest of the time, this world is under the sword.

Bobby listened about what to do about Egypt. All they want is peace. "Cannot they see what the problem is there?" The middle east will never be at peace; they do not get it. Religion will not allow peace. They are threatened by divine viewpoint. Divine viewpoint exacerbates their insecurities and their fears.

The reversionists who go into a false theology and will cut the doctrinal ties that kept the family close. There is a natural chasm between Bible doctrine and those who go for diverse theologies.

Families split up for this or that reason. A pastor who was a part of this church, and he is now a part of the vineyard movement; a serious Pentecostal movement. When one family member tries to convince another and there can be resentment and animosity and even a severance of contact. That should not be our option. We should not do that. We don't cut off these ties simply because we disagree with them.

There have been several separations of many sister churches from Berachah. The gospel must be presented when the opportunity arises. We have no right to animosity against those with whom we disagree. Sometimes those closest to us have the greatest betrayal. Old friends are no longer friends; some do not speak to others for that reason.

Peter, one of his closest disciples denied Jesus at His arrest. And Judas laid his head on the breast of our Lord? Jesus' half-brothers rejected Him at the 1st advent. They came to Him, and Jesus explained family division and true family.

Matt. 10:36 and a man's enemies are those of his own household. 1 Footnote: 1Lk. 12:53, Micah 7:6.

When someone loves a relative more than Jesus, he is not worth of Him.

Shocking Points

1. The greatest human ties are nothing compared to our relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ. Priorities are being taught here.
2. This does not lessen human ties.
3. The relationship with our Lord exponentially elevates the spiritual relationship; not the human relationship. The disciples need to hear what their first priority is.
4. So we see the over-arching principle here of the spiritual life. Relationship with Christ is above all else. This is hard of those of a close family. This does not mean that you give up your family. It is just about priorities.

Jesus speaks of Jewish culture. The virtue of family love is replaced by the priority of love for Christ. There is not a dissolution of relationship here. Now, if the entire family turns toward doctrine, then there is a great increase of family closeness.

We have as the royal family of God a relationship with Him first. This is how we glorify Him.

The developing of impersonal love is the best way to negotiate divisive issues of family members. If there are divisions, it provides peace of mind for believers even in the face of antagonism. There is peace of mind in putting Christ first. Then you understand what is going on in this situation. It gives you a relaxed mental attitude even with the more difficult situations in life.

Priorities in the Plan of God

1. Supreme love and loyalty first and foremost to Jesus Christ.
2. What does this mean? When love of one's household conflicts with the plan of God, then supreme allegiance must be given to Jesus Christ. Emphasis on Bible doctrine and impersonal love. How many people tell you they love you and you find out that they do not have the capacity to love.
3. Christ must come before family in the affections and loyal obedience of the disciples.
4. So the Lord and His plan take priority.
5. When love of the Lord comes first, family relations are enhanced, not denigrated; even if there are divisions. You still maintain a family relationship even in the face of antagonism.
6. The love of the Lord and the priority of His plan indicates spiritual maturity. That maturity must be demonstrated in a divided family. Otherwise, it gets worse. Nothing is worse than a divided family at each other's throats who despise one another.
7. Thus capacity for love toward family members is greater if the Lord is 1st priority; if you have developed reciprocal love and impersonal love. Without impersonal love, a divided family will be more divided.
8. Impersonal love is the environment for the best family relationships. It is so much better when the love for Christ is intact and operating.

Matt. 10:37 “He who loves father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me, and he who loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me.” Footnote: 1 See 19:29, Lk. 14:26.

James, John, Peter and Andrew left the family business of fishing. How do you think that went over with the family? The mission that they would have took priority. Probably their families came along with them after awhile; but this split must have been devastating.

They did not sever these relationships; they just put Jesus first. Nothing is worse in a family relationship than arrogance self-centeredness.

Taking care of wife and children is also a part of a believer's responsibility before God; this is true, even if one is a believer and the other is not.

Peter had a wife and he took care of her, even though his life belonged to the Lord.

Bobby has certain theological differences with people he has known in the past. He has no animosity against them. He believes that they are leading their sheep astray. Bobby's responsibility is Berachah.

Retaliation or feuding is not putting Jesus Christ first.

Impersonal Love and the Division of Family Members

1. There may be a great divide between believing and unbelieving family members. But disowning and feuding is not an option for the growing believer. The one heading in a different direction may have a real problem with you; but you do not have a problem with them.
2. Priority to Christ in the spiritual life includes demonstrating impersonal love toward all, including those who have disowned us.
3. If you can operate under impersonal love, the chances of evangelism or reconciliation are greater. This is also putting Christ first. Always priority to the spiritual life.
4. That principle of evangelism and reconciliation is true, even in betrayal.
 - a. The principle is that graciousness and impersonal love have an impact on others. The great divide between family members for doctrinal reasons; believing versus unbelieving; or political differences; but you must maintain impersonal love.
 - b. Impersonal love is one of the best things for rising above antagonism; for those who would hate us; for those who would run us down. With the problem solving devices, it can be done and with the greatest impact.

Matt. 10:37 "He who loves father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me, and he who loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me." Footnote: 1See 19:29, Lk. 14:26.

Bobby will clear this passage next time around.

Lesson #0483

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

8/15/2013 Thurs

Bobby saw some people tapers from Luxemburg that he knew back in 1977.

Jesus is speaking to His disciples.

Matt. 10:37 "He who loves father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me, and he who loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me." Footnote: 1See 19:29, Lk. 14:26.

Children on one hand and parents on the other. How can Jesus relegate family to anything but top priority. The disciples understood the importance of family. This is a divinely ordained institution. This is the central feature of Jewish life.

Joshua said, "As for me and my family, we will serve the Lord."

Families are fundamental to the organization of all society. Family provides two biblical safeguards for society. A mother and a father are the authorities. Jesus does not speak of a mother and a mother here.

Manners are learned in families; and the parents often allow children to run amuck in restaurants. Kids seem to rule and the parents do whatever the kids tell them to do. However, when the parents guide the children, society is preserved. When this is turned around, then the seeds of anarchy are being sown. As teenagers and young adults, they become insolent, defiant, self-centered when they are not guided properly in life.

All of this lack of authority-orientation ends up with children out of control. The kids of the 60's generation and their kids; and they have become an entitlement generation. It is continuing and it is getting worse. When authority is not honored, the nation suffers from instability and eventually from a loss of liberty. National disintegration begins in the home and in the family.

Family is of the utmost importance, and Jesus places family in 2nd place.

However, Jesus is not denigrating family. Far from it.

Doctrine has a priority fulfills this obligation. This is how parents and children are worthy of Christ.

It Is a Matter of Priorities

1. Jesus Christ is not reducing the importance of family here.
2. What is He doing? He is setting priorities. This is something that we must all do. We cannot do everything at once. So we must have priorities.
3. Family and Christ are not mutually exclusive. Do not go overboard here.
4. The higher priority of Jesus Christ and doctrine are the keys to all other successful and fulfilling relationships in life. That is why priority goes to Christ. With that priority, family works.

To Jews, who place family above everything else, this is a shocking statement to them.

This was a window into the top priority for the rest of their lives. This is what makes them worthy of Christ. There would be tremendous persecution and there would be great persecution even within families.

How can you be worthy of Jesus Christ unless you put Him first? That does not mean walking into a church and getting all emotional. Worship by emotion is not God's plan.

There is so very little divine establishment in our homes today. You put doctrine first and then the family works. Metabolizing Bible doctrine and living the spiritual life strengthens and promotes a secure and stable family. You put the priority on Jesus Christ. Being worthy of Jesus Christ is the principle of putting Him first in your life.

We are first and foremost royal family. We are in union with Jesus Christ. Living the spiritual life and growing in grace and accomplishing the plan for our lives. This is being worthy of our station in life in union with Jesus Christ.

1. Do not neglect, deprives or despise family. When one is a believer and another is not; and you cannot even talk politics or religion. Do not neglect and you do not deprive and you do not despise.
2. You give preeminence of relation to Jesus Christ by metabolizing doctrine and living the Christian way of life.

Matt. 10:37 “He who loves father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me, and he who loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me.”¹ Footnote: ¹See 19:29, Lk. 14:26.

For the 3rd time Jesus speaks of someone not being worthy of Him. This is the first reference to a cross.

Matt. 10:38 “And he who does not take up his stake and follow after Me is not worthy of Me.”

What Is this Reference to a Cross?

1. This is not a reference to the cross of Jesus Christ.
2. This refers generally to the Roman means of capital punishment. Cruel and unusual. It was a horrible way to die.
3. In other words, cross here refers to the overall suffering and dishonor inherent to that form of punishment. This is a reference to someone taking up his own cross and taking it to a place where he would be executed.
4. Taking up one’s own cross is a sign of suffering and disgrace.
5. The disciples must be ready to endure bitter persecution. This persecution will be difficult.
6. They would have to endure disgrace and ridicule and suffering from the opposition. Even from their own family it will happen. This is to be worthy of Christ in every aspect.

This is the sort of thing which happened to Job. Job stuck to his spiritual life even in the midst of the most difficult circumstances of anyone. Job has a huge amount of wealth; and all kinds of employees; and a great family; and in 24 hours, it was all wiped out; everything. This was all about the Angelic Conflict.

Here is Job with nothing; he is grieving. What does Job get and he loses his health and his wife looks at him and says, “Do you still hold fast to your integrity? Curse God and die.” This is true family opposition. In all of this, Job did not sin. He lived upright. He depended upon the Lord. He was worthy. He was worthy to face this trial and tribulation.

These men needed this kind of dedication to move forward. This was the only way that they could accomplish what God had for them.

This can mean a loss of some of the special times of a family life, but it is for a greater purpose. Being worthy of the Lord by putting Him first.

The disciples are like soldiers going overseas and going into combat. It is definitely a sacrifice for those soldiers going to war; but it is for the greater good for the nation. Their family suffers from their absence. Sacrifice is involved for both parties. The life of a soldier is different and difficult.

These disciples will be at the epicenter of the Angelic Conflict. Much of their time will be spent in this combat.

Only in a very few cases does the believer live under the law of the supreme sacrifice. This seems like a great sacrifice, but this is where some believers are.

Matt. 10:38 “And he who does not take up his stake and follow after Me is not worthy of Me.

Paul, the ultimate sacrifice, so that he might win more. 1Cor. 9:19 For being free of all, I enslaved myself to all, that I might gain the more.

Paul never saw any children grow up; he was often in financial difficulty. He was content by the spiritual gift that God had given him. He loved what he did. He was not frustrated at all.

A Dedicated Life

1. Following and serving the Lord first and foremost is the great purpose of the disciples' lives. That is what the Lord is saying. “Do not put anything before the doctrine and before your spiritual gift.”
2. In spite of the deprivation that this kind of life would bring, certain blessings would be forthcoming that they would not otherwise enjoy.
3. “So that I may win more” as Paul wrote.
4. Well-performed service in the name of Jesus Christ, taking up a cross would bring maximum eternal rewards. We will see that in the remainder of Matt. 10.
5. The principle: God's grace always takes up the slack for what a believer in these circumstances misses that other believers experience in their normal lives.
6. Such a person like the disciples does not have a normal life, at least not in the sense of a normal family life. But there are great compensations.

There is an analogy. Jesus had His Own family relationship with God the Father severed, which was the most terrible time for Jesus in His 1st advent. The Father turned His back on His Son—they were willing to set this relationship aside for us and for our salvation.

This was the greatest thing to happen to the human race.

Serving the Lord is sometimes given as an excuse to leave the family. This is not what Jesus is saying here. This is all about priority going to the Lord. Jesus Himself took time for rest and recuperation. Jesus had a great relationship with several women. He enjoyed their company. Service to the Lord does not require us to annul our great relationships.

The point is priorities. Doctrine is our priority. Everything else falls into place. Even if there is a deprivation of family life, it is okay.

Rick Hughes is a perfect example of this, and Bobby will use him and his father as examples. Our relationship in a family and with any person and how it all fits together.

Matt. 10:38 “And he who does not take up his stake and follow after Me is not worthy of Me.

Matt. 10:39 “He who has found his life shall lose it, and he that has lost his life for My sake shall find it.

Lesson #0485

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

8/18/2013 1Sunday

Bobby has been caused to reflect on his past and of the church; and the building was opened late in 1958. Bobby has thought, how many times has a certain thing occurred in this auditorium. One of the things which has occurred every time that the doors opened, is rebound.

Matt. 10:16–31 Jesus takes this time to point out the meaning of persecution in the lives of His disciples. They will be dragged into court by the powers that be and unfairly prosecuted and treated rather badly. They will be lied about; scourged; even tortured. These would be itinerant men who would go from city to city to proclaim the gospel. They would be repeated His doctrine in many ways and in many places.

In spite of all these difficulties, Jesus promises them protection and compensation. God knows every predicament and difficulty that they will face. Jesus knows all of our situations. Nothing can touch any of us unless it is His will. More important than anything that man can do by persecution.

Matt. 10:37 “He who loves father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me, and he who loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me.¹ Footnote: ¹See 19:29, Lk. 14:26.

Jesus teaches priorities. Whoever loves their father or mother more than Jesus is not worthy of Him. Same for sons and daughters.

Children may think, “I don’t like my parents, so I am worthy of Christ.” When you lack authority-orientation, then you will go down and you will be disciplined for that.

What this means is, human family does not take precedent over our relationship with the Lord. We are royal family of God. That is our primary relationship.

You may develop a greater personal love for your family members when you advance spiritually. This also includes impersonal love which allows you to solve problems in all other relationships. The closest relationships bring on the biggest problems. To enhance this, we need impersonal love.

Sharing the happiness of God means contentment in whatever circumstances. Even when you find yourself opposed by family and friends.

Matt. 10:37 “He who loves father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me, and he who loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me.”¹ Footnote: ¹See 19:29, Lk. 14:26.

Matt. 10:38 “And he who does not take up his stake and follow after Me is not worthy of Me.

Then there is a cost; and this is another “not worthy of Me” clause.

There was a crucifixion performed on people by the Romans and it was a slow suffocation. The criminal would drag his own cross to a place of execution. Jesus would have to do this Himself. It was an extreme time of shame for Him.

This demonstrates the overall suffering and the agony inherent to that form of punishment; and this was very prevalent in the Roman empire. The disciples must be ready to endure bitter persecution revealed by the punishment of the cross. This must take place in order to accomplish their mission.

“You must take up your cross and walk in your mission for Me.” The disciples must shoulder their own cross. These punishments took place on the roads in and out of cities; and this was a testimony to criminals and this acted as a deterrent for crime.

This is about priority going to the Lord no matter what. This is a matter of the greatest importance to these disciples. Jesus is not excluding family or friends or other pursuits or hobbies and r&r. Jesus took time for rest and recuperation. But He stuck to His mission. Along the way, He had great relationships as well.

This does not mean to be legalistic in your purpose; nor does this mean to abandon members of your family. People constantly interact with others to carry out their mission. There is recreation.

Bobby is not a creature of solitude. Pastors are not to be kept in their cages and locked up at night.

Part of Bobby’s reflection was about his father and the legalistic opposition which he faced, and this was a serious opposition. Bob did make mistakes and he had feet of clay; but in all of those 53 years, he never lost sight of his priority. Through all of the opposition, God preserved him and his ministry against all comers.

We must press on in life, we advance in the spiritual life, toward the goal, a little blocking, a little running, a little passing; and this is done for the prize of the upward calling of God. This is for a race in this context. Paul is saying that he is fulfilling his mission for the great results for eternity. This is the call that each of us must heed before the Lord. This is what we must do to reach the goal, to accomplish the purpose for which we are here.

These disciples cannot fail. They will have lost sight of the prize. The results would have been horrendous for them and for us. These 12 men still have tremendous impact for us in our lives. John, Peter and James would write Scripture.

We have a leadership position in a family, simply by the way that we think. Unbelieving parents will be influenced by their children. Believing parents must bring up their own children in the Lord. This is directed to all of us. We each have this obligation.

Bob said many time, "A pastor lives an abnormal life" compared to other believers. Many pastors live a life in many ways is abnormal. This does not mean that Bob neglected his family nor did he lack friends. Bobby had a great relationship with his father throughout his life. Bob was Bobby's teacher, guide, friend and disciplinarian.

This relationship was different from most. As Bob's ministry progressed, so was the time with his family more limited. The requirements of his ministry took precedence for reasons that are clearly apparent today. His impact on thousands of believers was his priority. That was his dedication to the service of the Lord.

Bobby can still see Bob pounding on his mechanical typewriter where he typed out over 11,000 hours of teaching. Bobby came to understand and he did not resent this. Bob became Bobby's model. This is an example which stays with him to this very day.

Bobby received many advantages that other children would never enjoy. That was his window to dedication; that is his look to the priority of a relationship to Jesus Christ.

There has been an opportunity for spiritual growth at Berachah Church unlike anywhere else. This is Bob's legacy to the world.

If you are emotional, then you are not dedicated to anything except to your own emotion and how you feel in church and in life. However, we need the priority of your spiritual life.

Pentecostals who have been a part of Berachah Church and they have rejected the importance of Bible doctrine in their lives.

There is a jail ministry; and there are ministries of helps and hospitalities; and Roger Lewis and how he has helped Bobby in all of this time. There are kinds of services for us to do. This includes your outreach to your own family and you operate in environments that no one else does who has your background.

There will be opposition, but nothing like the opposition faced by the disciples. We become worthy of Him by picking up our cross and following Him.

Matt. 10:38 "And he who does not take up his stake and follow after Me is not worthy of Me."

Friday was the 4th anniversary of Bob going home. Bob spoke 9x a week and at one time had 17 conferences. Bobby has no idea how he did that. He used to teach a book of the Bible every time.

Matt. 10:38 “And he who does not take up his stake and follow after Me is not worthy of Me.

Jesus told His disciples that there would be sacrifices and that there would be opposition to them. The disciples needed to fully understand these things.

Jesus is on point and He is saying, “Follow Me.” In the case of an infantry lieutenant, take up your weapon and follow me into combat.

Jesus is saying, “Focus on this; and nothing else should distract you or keep you from this mission. To whom much is given, much is expected.

Rick Hughes understands the dedication in his own life. Rick has spent huge amounts of time on the road, visiting schools and evangelizing kids. He missed many great moments with his wife and 4 kids. He still had a good family and a good family life. As a result, Rick has been entirely effective and he has borne his cross for all of this time.

Max Klein has been all over the far east. He spent a lot of time since seminary, and has spent a lot of time evangelizing and teaching. Recently a new missionary have been taken up and supported. They are in Brazil near Venezuela. They live in a stick house with a very primitive tribe and they are trying to learn the language. Valerie says this biggest problem are the scorpions who climb up the stilts to the house.

These people go through these things out of dedication to the service of the Lord. This is a sacrifice for everyone, but one which all people in the family support. The family is willing to live in those circumstances.

Every person has an appointed service to the Lord, in whatever gift you have, and there will be opposition to that service. When there is an unbeliever in the family and they do not understand putting the Lord first, and their feelings are hurt, then you have antagonism, resentment an problems. In a family of believers, there should be the mutual support of putting the Lord first.

Matt. 10:38 “And he who does not take up his stake and follow after Me is not worthy of Me.

Now some principles based on this:

Matt. 10:39 “He who has found his life shall lose it, and he that has lost his life for My sake shall find it.

The context is the disciples, persecution and true family life.

The Greek verb εὑρισκω. It means to find, to discover.

Families and Priorities

1. In this context, this is the wonderful life inside a family context.
2. This is the discovery of one of the great blessings in life. To have a wonderful family life is a blessing.
3. A family is divinely designed as a relationship of love and association found in very few other places.

Απολυμη means to be deprived of; which refers to being deprived of a certain loss of family life.

The Sacrifice

1. In this case, απολυμη indicates a sacrifice of some part or all of a family relationship. For most of us, it will be a part of a family relationship. For Paul, this was all of his life. He never saw children grow up. He never had the blessing of a family.
2. This sacrifice losing or deprived of this life is still directed toward the special mission of the disciples. Pastors, evangelists, missionaries.
3. The mission was described in v. 38, what they will be deprived of. “And he who does not take up his stake and follow after Me is not worthy of Me.
4. This does not mean that no family life is experienced. Even our Lord had a family life and Jesus charged John with taking care of his mother. The Christian life is not a green light to ignore family life; nor does it mean that you forego relaxation and recreation.

What Does it Mean to Lose Your Life for Christ?

1. This is the believer who lives a certain abnormal life. He has lost a portion of his family life.
2. This is a certain loss for the sake of serving the Lord Jesus Christ.
3. This loss is in varying degrees. A complete loss of family relationship is possible in Matt. 10:21.
4. By putting the Lord first, a believer can be ostracized by his family or his friends or persecuted or hated or lied about. Bob's father ridiculed him for becoming a pastor. So what, when the priority is Jesus Christ?

Sometimes there is a perceived loss of attention by a family member. They can become bitter. Bob saw both sides of the fence and he never allowed this to happen.

This was even true of Jesus' Own half brothers. Even they did not believe Who He was and what He did. His entire time on earth, His relationship was shattered with members of his family. Judas was a very close associate of Christ and he betrayed Him.

In the last phrase of v. 39, we have the 4th principle. “He who has found his life shall lose it, and he that has lost his life for My sake shall find it.

Putting Jesus First Even over Family

1. Finding his life is putting Jesus Christ first. That is putting Him first. Occupation with Christ. Some believing friends will pull away from you. Berachah is a church filled with kooks because you go to church so often.
2. The advancing believer finds a greater relationship with the Lord. That is greater than any relationship that we will have in life. Whatever the relationship is, this relationship is greater and more important.
3. The person who finds it, finds a life that takes up and finds what is lacking in all other relationships. A life of reciprocal love. This becomes greater and more intimate than even family life. Contentment even during the family brawls.
4. Whether relationships among family members are good or bad, you must remain occupied with Christ. If you do not understand this, your life as a believer is lacking.
5. Fellowship with Christ outshines everything else. The first blush of romance. We have an ongoing romance with the Lord Jesus Christ. This gives us perspective for all other relationships.
6. This is the life discovered by the believer when all human ties have become secondary to the Person of the Lord Jesus Christ. This does not mean complete neglect; nor is this the life of a hermit. This enhances all other human relationships.

The Priority Life

1. This priority life will be the defining feature of the lives of the disciples. They will be the most important people of that age.
2. With this doctrine, they will keep their priorities straight; they will never lose sight of their mission. They will not be deterred by persecution. They will drive on right through it.
3. Their focus becomes accomplishing the critical mission of evangelism and teaching doctrine and planting the early church; and writing the New Testament.
4. This does not mean that there would be no down time, no family time, etc. It is all a matter of priorities in the lives of these men. The eternal rewards are great.

Matt. 10:39 “He who has found his life shall lose it, and he that has lost his life for My sake shall find it.

Then Jesus speaks of the rewards, which will be Wednesday.

Lesson #0487

Matt. 10: Life of Christ

8/21/2013 Wed

This will begin some concentrated instructions that Jesus will give to the disciples. Very practical advice.

The disciples will face simple opposition to their teaching. They will face much difficulty throughout their spiritual lives. Jesus will encourage them in this regard. There are rewards involved as well.

Matt. 10:40 “He who receives you receives Me, and he who receives Me receives Him who sent Me.

Δεκομαι means to receive, to welcome; to receive kindly, to receive with hospitality; to take someone up in one's arms. This is a fond embrace or a gracious acceptance. A kindly or an understanding attitude between believers and between family members.

Here there is δεκομαι among family members. This is opposed to animosity and persecution. To receive with open arms. This is the opposite of the persecution which they will face.

Receiving the Disciples with Graciousness

1. The one who receives a disciple with open arms is concerned over his welfare. \
2. This person recognizes the mission. It takes maturity to recognize that a ministry is indispensable.
3. This person wants to provide rest, recovery, friendship, and a haven from opposition. That is what this is all about.
4. To participate in this way, to participate with hospitality; and to participate in this way is participating in the mission of the disciples.
5. Δεκομαι receiving or welcoming with open arms; this is their means to accomplish their objective in life. This is big.
6. The believer demonstrating δεκομαι is properly motivated to see the plan of God come to fruition. This occurs by the dissemination of the Word of God.
7. Such a person is occupation with Christ and not with himself. Real hospitality is extending a great welcome to those who are teachers. Those who are inhospitable are occupied with themselves.
8. This concern and hospitality is motivated by a desire to help the disciples execute their mission.
9. This hospitality reveals the priority of the plan of God in the thinking of this kind benefactor.

This can be about extending hospitality to any set of believers. There is a greater picture here. This is wonderful when it comes to the communication of the Word of God. Any way that this ministry can be furthered, it is a help. That is the importance of this hospitality. That is part of being worthy of Christ, for some believers. This is taking up one's cross.

It sounds that taking up one's cross is misery and suffering; but this can be using your spiritual gifts. Such gracious thinking should be a part of the modus operandi of all believers.

This is in marked contrast to the arrogant self attitude, “You must treat me in the way that I want to be treated.” One is welcoming with open arms; gracious hospitality.

There is a much better response when you approach this, “I will treat you as I would like to be treated.”

A Δεκομαι Mental Attitude

1. Δεκομαι is receiving the disciples and furthering their mission through refreshment and support.
2. Receiving is an action; an action of a family or of other believers who embrace the disciples for their benefit. They make it about the one they are hospitable to.
3. They understand the priority of Christ first.
4. They accept them in the scope of God's plan. That is grace orientation. They ask for nothing in return. Some are hospitable hoping for something in return.
5. Such hospitable believers are cognizant of the importance of the disciples and their focus on the Lord. This single-minded purpose; and those with hospitality are often the only ones who can give them a break.

The wrong motivation is to invite a guest or to be hospitable in order to be the center of attention or to be recognized. That is arrogant and self-centered. There is a way to be a good host and a way not to. It is about them. There will be those who will receive you and treat you.

Hospitality must be done within a certain framework. Hospitality is not hospitality under those conditions. Hospitality is supposed to be selfless. It is the same environment for a family environment.

By application, this same attitude extends to the family environment; extends to an evangelist. There is a communication spiritual gift. There must be an understanding of the importance of their mission.

The wife should not be jealous of the time constraints upon a pastor-husband. When Bob was in his study, working on his studies, Bobby knew not to go in there for any reason. This is how a family understands the mission which needs to be done. There must be humility.

Bobby leaving his father alone was aiding him in his ministry. The family had to be cognizant of the mission and putting that mission first.

There is a delicate balance for a pastor-father-husband. A good pastor is a juggler.

What Is the Motivation?

1. Jesus says the acceptance of the disciples is the same as receiving Him. If they receive the disciples, they are receiving Him.
2. Receiving them is the same as acknowledging and accepting Christ Himself.
3. This δεκομαι is recognizing and accepting giving priority to the service of the Lord Jesus Christ.
4. To embrace the disciples is to embrace Jesus Christ. This means to embrace His Word; Bible doctrine.
5. That is the highest motivation.

6. So it is as if Christ Himself is receiving their hospitality. Hospitality to a missionary or to a evangelist, is the same as hospitality to Jesus Christ.
7. To embrace the disciples, hence to embrace Jesus Christ, is also to embrace the One Who sent Him; God the Father.
8. There is this chain of grace to the disciples and from them to Christ and on to the Father.
9. Each time the disciples are received with hospitality, it is tantamount to embracing Christ and the Father.
10. This hospitable treatment of the disciples is a significant demonstration of occupation with Christ and deference to the Father.
11. There is great blessing and reward for the attitude and the action of hospitality.
12. All believers are in line for this reward when they fulfill the directive of v. 40, receiving the disciples or others.

This is all about the communication of the Word of God. Later, as apostles, they will provide mystery doctrine to believers of the new Church Age.

Matt. 10:40 “He who receives you receives Me, and he who receives Me receives Him who sent Me.

Next, Jesus documents the rewards.

Matt. 10:41 “He who receives a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet’s reward. And he who receives a righteous one in the name of a righteous one shall receive a righteous one’s reward.

Hospitality extended toward the disciples, to those communicating God’s Word, or to righteous men, that means a share in the rewards that these men will enjoy. The disciples will receive great rewards; and there will be similar rewards to us.

When you give the disciples rest and food and relaxation; and they will receive commensurate rewards. This applies to us as well.

Receiving the Communicators of God’s Word

1. A prophet as stated in v. 41 represents someone who speaks the truth of the Word of God.
2. They would be received by other believers just because they were prophets, communicators of the Word of God. This goes to motivation for δεκομαι.
3. Those believers who embrace and offer fellowship, kindness and understanding to the disciples are doing so just because they are disciples. This is only because they are dedicated to communicating the Word of God.

They Will Receive the Prophet’s Reward

1. They are a part of the prophet's ministry.
2. They will themselves receive reward in the coming age of the kingdom, just like the prophets; just like the disciples.
3. There is a one-to-one correspondence. Equal rewards for all for an equal participation in the ministry.

Modern-day communicators today of Bible doctrine are analogous to the prophets of old. They are speaking the Word of God from the Word of God.

There is no new revelation being given today. The communicator from God's Word is a prophet in the best sense; but the book of Mormon is fallacious.

Practicing Hospitality

1. There is a gratefulness among other believers for receiving God's Word.
2. The reciprocate with hospitality because they are receiving doctrine from that communicator. They are, in essence, receiving these men. Gratitude for this; this is communication of doctrine and the spiritual life.
3. This is the one, this pastor, this communicator, is the one from whom they receive doctrinal knowledge and spiritual growth.
4. In appreciation, which is a pure grace motive, they express hospitality with graciousness.

This may include lodging and seeing to their needs. This illustrates grace. Rom. 12:13 describes such hospitality (imparting to the needs of the saints, pursuing hospitality). Women often provided such hospitality to the Lord during His earthly ministry.

There is reward which comes with this hospitality toward communicators of the Word of God.

Matt. 10:41 "He who receives a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward. And he who receives a righteous one in the name of a righteous one shall receive a righteous one's reward."

Lesson #0488

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

8/22/2013 Thurs

These are the instructions for the disciples on their mission; and they are not yet departed. These are the last few instructions.

Matt. 10:41 "He who receives a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward. And he who receives a righteous one in the name of a righteous one shall receive a righteous one's reward."

Δεκομαι = to receive someone fondly, to welcome warmly, a metaphorical embrace; a gracious benefactor who shows concern for the needs of the disciples. These are people the disciples who have not met before, but will receive them and provide them with logistical grace during their mission.

Pure motive has everything to do with living the spiritual life. When your motives are self-centered, you know you are spiritually out of kilter; but when they are pure, you know you are fellowship and acting as you should.

Logistics, rest, recreation, help, nourishment, hospitality. Those who extend such hospitality recognize the importance of the disciples mission.

Whoever extends the δεκομαι, these people are doing this as to Christ; it is as if they are receiving him. Each time the disciples are received with hospitality from pure motivation, this is embracing God's plan.

The disciples and God the Father and Jesus are all embraced. This is the chain of command for provision for believers. The Word of God, the mind of Christ, and the disciples, who are learning the Word of God.

The Shared Reward

1. Receiving a prophet with hospitality is participating in their ministry.
2. The result is receiving reward in the coming age of the kingdom.
3. There is a one-to-one correspondence of reward.
4. Commensurate reward for those who share participation. This person or persons who receive a prophet receive a reward along with the prophet. The disciples are prophets here. Prophets throughout the Old Testament prophesied of things to come as well as doctrine. The disciples acted as prophets, but not necessarily foretelling the future. A prophet to day communicates doctrine.

There are those who claim to bring new revelation are false prophets today; Mohammed and Joseph Smith.

The stunning result; a commensurate reward along with the communicator.

If there was ever a clearer delineation of full-time Christian service; and the extent to which we share in this ministry is the extent to which we share in the rewards. Rewards in the Christian life for all service. This is it. When hospitality is extended, that believer shares in the ministry and in the rewards.

Some believe that the communicator of doctrine will receive greater rewards; but this tells us that is not true.

This is true equality of opportunity and equality of results, in the spiritual life.

Bobby thinks of his father and all of the hospitality and support that he received for all of the time that he pastored. He traveled and held many conferences. He was received in a kindly and an hospitable way. Bobby has experienced the same sort of hospitality. Great refreshment. According to these verses, that is participating in this ministry.

In the secular world, it is always the top dog who gets the bigger reward by far; but not in the Christian life. Bobby studied this and thought of Roger Lewis and his 60 years of service; and he is entirely behind the scenes. He is decidedly participating in this ministry by his actions and he will receive a commensurate reward. Regina Taylor took care of R. B. Thieme, Jr. during his final years.

Matt. 10:41 “He who receives a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet’s reward. And he who receives a righteous one in the name of a righteous one shall receive a righteous one’s reward.”

Matt. 10:42 “And whoever gives one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a taught one, truly, I say to you, he shall by no means lose his reward.”

Protizô. This is graciousness; even on a small scale. This is still about equal opportunity. Grace is grace in whatever small way that it might be expressed. This is only a small representation of grace; giving a cup of cold water to someone who needs it. Reward is always connected to operating under grace. If you don’t have that much to give, then you operate under grace orientation. You must understand grace. The more you understand about the grace of God, the more you can reciprocate it.

We will run into people who will give us great grace.

Who are these little ones? You need to know who they are so that you can do it. Those in the Bible who are great, are often called the small. The disciples will be great as communicators. But they will also operate under humility and grace orientation. They must never get fat-headed about the spiritual gift or how much authority they have.

These disciples have been given Messianic powers. It would be easy to get arrogant; so the disciples here are called little ones, which is the grace of God which makes these men great. As Paul means little.

Giving the Little Ones a Cup of Cold Water

1. Little ones refers to the disciples. They are, in fact, insignificant. The Lord is just putting is all into perspective for them.
2. Anyone who provides for them by way of help or hospitality, no matter how small that help happens to be, even a cup of cold water. That person will not be forgotten by God. God does not miss anything. He notices everything and does not forget anything.
3. Whatever the hearers of the 12 gave to them in Christ’s name would be the basis for their reward. Equal opportunity for all believers to receive eternal reward.
4. The rewards would go to all who receive the disciples’ ministry great or small. And consequently receive the disciples with hospitality. Giving is receiving. Those who receive with hospitality are commensurate with those who give. The same reward the disciples will receive.

Matt. 10:42 “And whoever gives one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a taught one, truly, I say to you, he shall by no means lose his reward.”

With these instructions, the disciples are now sent on their way to proclaim the gospel of the Kingdom of Heaven to the lost sheep of Israel. They are briefed and they are on their way.

Mark and Luke give a brief summary of what happened.

Luke 9:6 And going out, they passed through the villages, having announced the gospel, and healing everywhere.

Mark 6:12 And going out, they proclaimed that men should repent.

Mark 6:13 And they cast out many demons, and anointed with oil and healed many sick ones.

The disciples responded to the instructions that Jesus gave them. They did what Jesus told them to do. No doubt they received opposition and they moved right through it. They had been inspired, warned and encouraged.

What did Jesus do during this time? He resumed His Own ministry.

Mat 11:1 And it happened when Jesus finished commanding His twelve disciples, He left there to teach and to proclaim in their cities.

It is unclear if Jesus went before them, or after them.

Then they all met up in Capernaum.

Lesson #0489

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

8/25/2013 1Sunday

This is the first time that the disciples will be going out on their own with the message of Jesus Christ. Jesus gave them the power and the authority to heal and to cast out demons. If they decided to do it, they did it. This provided them with credentials. They represented Israel's king or Israel's Messiah, Who is one and the same.

It is the offer of the kingdom which they proclaimed to Israel. This was a mission that would continue for the rest of their lives. This was the opening gambit in their life mission.

Jesus made it clear to them that they would receive a great deal of opposition from religious types, secular magistrates and from citizens; and even from their own families. However, they are not to lose heart over all of this persecution. Even though some would reject them, there would be those who would accept them.

There would be rewards for those who offered them hospitality; and these rewards would be equivalent to the rewards received by the disciples. This is a great encouragement and it encourages us as well.

Mark 6:12–13 Luke

Luke 9:6 And going out, they passed through the villages, having announced the gospel, and healing everywhere.

Mark 6:12 And going out, they proclaimed that men should repent.

Mark 6:13 And they cast out many demons, and anointed with oil and healed many sick ones.

They were able to perform miracles to validate their teaching.

What was Jesus doing at this time? Matt. 11:1

Mat 11:1 And it happened when Jesus finished commanding His twelve disciples, He left there to teach and to proclaim [the gospel and the kingdom] in their cities.

The Bible does not tell us exactly where Jesus went. He followed behind the disciples, very likely. In this way, the disciples were being advance men. They said Messiah is here; and Messiah would come into their village.

The fame of Jesus began to spread all over Galilee as never before because of the disciples. The king of that part of the Jewish world, Herod Antipas, also heard about Jesus and had some curiosity about Him; fearful as well. It was this Herod who held John prisoner. So there would be jealousy and fear involved here. He learned his politics from the knee of Herod the Great. Like his father, he became very ambitious and he was quite immoral. Nothing stood between him and his ambition.

His personal life was rather confusing; married to the daughter of Aritas; a powerful man and this was a good family marriage to hold power. He went with his wife to Rome where he visited his half-brother Herod-Philip; and he became enamored by his brother's wife, Herodius and they carried on an affair. He decided to marry her. Even in pagan Rome, this was a criminal and incestuous union. This proved to be the beginning of the fall of Herod Antipas. These two greatly affected the life of Jesus Christ and His disciples. The story of Herod and Herodius is the background for John the Baptizer being beheaded. Jesus was on His preaching tour of Galilee around March A.D. 31. John the Baptizer and Christ and the disciples are intimately linked.

The beheading Matt. 14:3 and Mark 6:19

This will be a transition in the ministry of Jesus Christ.

Mat. 14:1 At that time Herod the tetrarch heard the fame of Jesus.

Matt. 14:2 And he said to his servants, This is John the Baptist. He has risen from the dead, and because of this, powerful works are working in him.

Matt. 14:3 For seizing John, Herod bound him and put him into prison, because of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip.

Matt. 14:4 For John said to him, It is not lawful for you to have her.

Mark 6:14 And Herod the king heard, for His name became publicly known. And he said, John the Baptist has been raised from the dead, and because of this the works of power operate in Him.

Mark 6:20 For Herod feared John, knowing him to be a holy and just man, and kept him safe. And hearing him, he did many things, and gladly heard from him.

Mark 6:21 And a suitable day having come, when Herod made a dinner for his great ones on his birthday, also the chiliarchs, and the first ones of Galilee.

Matt. 14:5 And desiring to kill him, he feared the multitude, because they held him as a prophet.

Matt. 14:6 But a birthday feast for Herod being held, the daughter of Herodias danced in the midst and pleased Herod.

Possibly Herod was both drunk and somewhat seduced. He was pleased with this.

Matt. 14:7 So then he promised with an oath to give her whatever she should ask.

He was so pleased, he promised her with an oath whatever she asked.

Matt. 14:8 But she being urged on by her mother, she says, Give me here on a platter the head of John the Baptist.

She had been prompted by her mother.

Matt. 14:9 And the king was grieved, but because of the oaths, and those who reclined with him, he ordered it to be given.

Herod did not hate John the Baptizer; but he commanded for John to be beheaded because he made an oath as a king. You do not go back on an oath as a king. Doing so would have undermined his authority.

So he had John beheaded.

Matt. 14:10 And sending, he beheaded John in the prison.

He gave the head to the girl and she took it to her mother.

Matt. 14:11 And his head was brought on a platter and was given to the girl, and she brought it to her mother.

The disciples buried John's body. Then they reported this to Jesus.

Matt. 14:12 And having come, his disciples took the body and buried it; and coming, they reported to Jesus.

While this is going on, Herod hears about what is going on with Jesus. He thinks that this is John returned from the dead. This causes him to be quite fearful. This shook him up.

Matt. 14:13 And having heard, Jesus withdrew privately from there in a boat, into a deserted place. And hearing, the crowds followed Him on foot out of the cities.

Herod was perplexed about this.

Matt. 14:1 At that time Herod the tetrarch heard the fame of Jesus.

It is possible that those around Herod are stoking some fears here.

Matt. 14:2 And he said to his servants, This is John the Baptist. He has risen from the dead, and because of this, powerful works are working in him.

Mark 6:15 Others said, He is Elijah; and others said, He is a prophet or as one of the prophets.

Mark 6:16 But hearing, Herod said, This one is John whom I beheaded. He has risen from the dead.

Mark 6:17 For having sent, Herod himself had seized John and bound him in the prison, because of Herodias the wife of his brother Philip, because he had married her.

Mark 6:18 For John had said to Herod, It is not lawful for you to have the wife of your brother.

Mark 6:19 And Herodias held it against him, and desired to kill him, but was not able.

Luke 9:9 And Herod said, I beheaded John, but who is this about whom I hear such things? And he sought to see Him.

Herod Antipas would like to kill Jesus. Uneasy is the head of the king.

Herod and Herodius were very ambitious. Herodius got Herod to go back to Rome to be called king of Rome. He wanted all of this surrounding area to be given to him; and some was ruled by Herodius' brother.

Herod Agrippa won out. He faced Christ at His crucifixion.

In doing all of this Herod was banished to Gaul, which is the edge of Spain. They died in obscurity and dishonor. Legend says that he died horribly of a vicious disease. God will avenge His servants.

Nero after killing Paul did not last very long.

Mark 6:22 And the daughter of Herodias herself entering, and having danced, she also pleased Herod and those reclining with him. The king said to the girl, Ask me whatever you wish, and I will give it to you.

Mark 6:23 And he swore to her, Whatever you ask me, I will give to you, up to half of my kingdom.

Mark 6:24 And going out, she said to her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist.

Mark 6:25 And immediately going in with haste to the king, she asked, saying, I desire that at once you give to me the head of John the Baptist on a platter.

Mark 6:26 And having become deeply grieved, but because of the oaths and those reclining together, the king did not wish to reject her.

Mark 6:27 And the king sending a guardsman at once, he ordered his head to be brought. And going, he beheaded him in the prison,

Mark 6:28 and brought his head on a platter and gave it to the girl. And the girl gave it to her mother.

Mark 6:29 And having heard, his disciples went and took his corpse and placed it in a tomb.

John's death was the beginning of Jesus' ministry to outlying areas of Galilee. The next increment is the period of crisis; a period of change; a turning point in the life and ministry.

From this point on, Jesus will no longer pursue a public ministry of Israel. From this point on, He will mostly teach the 12 and there will be crowds, but that will not be His primary focus. They would have to continue His ministry after He departed. His first step was to withdraw from Herod Antipas's domain.

Jesus will go to a mountain retreat. He will escape the heat to go to the mountains.

Mark 6:31 And He said to them, You yourselves come apart into a deserted place, and rest a little. For those coming and those going were many, and they did not even have opportunity to eat.

Lesson #0490

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

8/25/2013 2Sunday

Mark 6:31 And He said to them, You yourselves come apart into a deserted place, and rest a little. For those coming and those going were many, and they did not even have opportunity to eat.

Intrigue, murder, bad guys, historical evil, utterly stupid guys, and the greatest Hero of all time. It is a great novel; and absolutely true as well.

There were tremendous lessons to be learned from His miracles, like the walking on water.

Herod Antipas is quite upset that Jesus is so popular and he wants to put a stop to that. John the Baptizer had been beheaded. The first step was to withdraw from Herod Antipas's domain. There were several good reasons why Jesus needed to withdraw.

Jesus told His disciples when the people reject them, then to move on. There was open hostility on many fronts. Jesus also wanted some rest and tranquility. His disciples were tired and they needed some relief.

The disciples could relax in the mountains and they could have uninterrupted time with the Lord. This withdrawing was a time for special instructions by the Lord Jesus Christ. He also withdrew to escape His popularity by fanatics who would make Him a political figure. There was jealousy and persecution by Herod Antipas, and Jesus vacates Capernaum and does it by boat. Wherever He went, there was always the problem. The crowds were always there.

Mark 6:32 And they departed by boat into a deserted place apart.

There were several people in the crowd near the boats, and they heard Him saying let's leave; and they saw Him leave the shore. They looked at the direction of the boat and they anticipated His destination. The Sea of Galilee was only 12 miles across and it could be circumnavigated. So they went around to meet Jesus on the other side. They were waiting for Him.

Jesus did not escape. The fact that the crowd was there impacted what happened next. After the death of John the Baptizer, we have some of the most famous events of His ministry. The feeding of the 5000 (John 6:1–14); He walks on the Sea of Galilee (John 6:16–21). Knowing what Jesus has done is not a bad thing to prepare us for teaching to come. Then a 3rd event, Jesus presented Himself as the Bread of Life and He was refused. John 6. Eating with unwashed hands. This made you ceremonially unclean. Matt. 15:1–20 Mark

We have passed the long day; but now we have a very busy weekend. All of these incidents all occur over the same weekend during the Passover season. Normally, Jesus would go to Jerusalem. So many Jews and religious leaders go to Jerusalem and Jesus did not. They hated Him even worse in Judæa. The religious leaders had rejected Jesus completely. This feast had nothing to do with God; it was just religious ritual now. It had become pure legalism. Therefore, it was not for Jesus to go to this invalid feast.

Now Jesus and His disciples are on their retreat in the mountains. Luke 9:10–12 John

This would normally be a quiet spot; but the crowd began to surround Him once again. No rest. They were anxious to see miracles performed on the sick. They had hustled around the lake.

Matt. 15:29 And moving from there, Jesus came beside the Sea of Galilee. And going up into the mountain, He sat there.

Matt. 15:30 And great crowds came to Him, having with them lame ones, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others. And they flung them down at the feet of Jesus. And He healed them;

Matt. 15:31 so that the crowds marveled, seeing dumb ones speaking, maimed ones sound, lame ones walking, and blind ones seeing. And they glorified the God of Israel.

Luke 9:11 But knowing this, the crowds followed Him. And having received them, He spoke to them about the kingdom of God. And He cured those having need of healing.

Luke 9:12 But the day began to decline. And coming up, the Twelve said to Him, Let the crowd go that going to the surrounding villages and farms they may lodge and find food supplies, because here we are in a deserted place.

Their real need was spiritual teaching; they did not need food stamps or welfare; they needed spiritual food. He began to teach them on the Kingdom of God.

Mark 6:33 And the crowds saw them going, and many recognized Him. And they ran together on foot there, from all the cities, and came before them, and came together to Him.

Jesus spoke to them of many things; and He wanted to fulfill their spiritual needs. They were eager for the wrong reasons. He spoke the truth to them, even though not all of them were positive. He spoke and He continued to heal.

He performed miracles to validate His Messianic message. The disciples had not got it yet. They do not fully understand all that there is to know about Him.

Mark 6:34 And going out, Jesus saw a large crowd, and had pity on them, because "they were as sheep having no shepherd." And He began to teach them many things. Num. 27:17
Ezek. 34:5

Spiritual maturity is constantly a progression in one's life. Take heart; we are still a project under construction.

The great message of the Kingdom of God. He continued that message and He continued to heal as well. This was to be a concentrated time for these disciples. There was a dual purpose here in speaking and teaching. Jesus would use this crowd and their physical hunger in order to illustrate a point. Jesus will use this to demonstrate spiritual hunger. This would be the job of the disciples.

Mark 6:35 And now a late hour occurring, drawing near to Him, the disciples said, The place is deserted, and it is now a late hour.

Jesus did perform one miracle that would meet their temporal material needs; and He would meet the needs of His disciples for spiritual instruction as well.

The disciples listened as Jesus spoke to this crowd of 5000. They watched Him perform miracles for most of the day.

Bobby can tell when our minds are drifting. They lost concentration; and they lost focus on the message; so Jesus would perform one spectacular miracle that day. This miracle was performed to take care of the crowd's needs; but to teach the disciples about the priority of the spiritual needs of the people. They would be feeding them in the future.

The disciples did not even have the basics down at this point. They did not know what they needed to know. Their attention was drifting off somewhere. There was a lot to learn in the upcoming miracle.

We all have physical needs and God's logistical grace meets these physical needs. We must have our priorities centered in this physical needs. Our Lord would supply some physical needs here. The disciples must observe the miracle they are about to see; they would be supplying the spiritual needs.

Pentecostals would have loved this service; miracles, healings; but no bopping on the head.

As they listened, they began to get hungry.

The disciples wanted to allow the people to find a place to eat and sleep. They knew that the crowd needed to forage for food in a desolate place. They put their hunger first.

Luke 9:12 But the day began to decline. And coming up, the Twelve said to Him, Let the crowd go that going to the surrounding villages and farms they may lodge and find food supplies, because here we are in a deserted place.

Jesus tells the disciples to feed them. There are priorities in life.

Luke 9:13 But He said to them, You give them to eat. But they said, There are not to us more than five loaves and two fish, unless going we buy food for all this people.

They are hungry, so you feed them.

Matt. 14:16 But Jesus said to them, They have no need to go away. You give them food to eat.

They do not say, "You can feed them; we cannot."

Mark 6:37 And answering, He said to them, You give them food to eat. And they said to Him, Going, should we buy two hundred denarii of bread and give them to eat?

They have the solution right in front of them. There are no supermarkets; no fast food; no restaurants. Can they buy this much food? From where? This was impossible for them to do this. How can they be such idiots. They have seen Jesus perform miracle after miracle after miracle.

Jesus had been teaching and healing; and the disciples did not get it. They had watched this all day long. They still had human viewpoint only.

This was for His purposes; and He asks another question.

Mark 6:38 And He said to them, How many loaves do you have? Go and see. And knowing, they said, Five, and two fish.

Jesus is checking out what they know. This is a test. Do they have any faith rest at all? They will fail this test miserably.

John 6:8 One of His disciples said to Him, Andrew the brother of Simon Peter,

This is why they need instruction; this is their answer.

John 6:9 A little boy is here who has five barley loaves and two fish; but what are these for so many?

It never occurs to them that Jesus can perform any miracle that He chose to. They would think that He could perform such a miracle to feed these. They should not worry about food, and their eyes are on circumstances, but they are not thinking doctrine; they are not thinking about Who Jesus is. This enthusiastic crowd; and they were getting the Bread of Life. But the disciples have their eyes on circumstances.

What crisis are you in where you are confused? We all have a solution.

Lesson #0491

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

8/28/2013 Wed

Herod Antipas beheaded John the Baptizer. The daughter of the seductive dance was Salame. It was her mother who put her up to this.

Jesus heard this from the disciples who buried the body of John the Baptizer. They also told Him and they left the district of Capernaum.

There were many people around Him, but they simply wanted to be healed; many were not interested in what He was teaching or Who He was.

Capernaum is in the northwest corner and Bethsaida is on the northeast corner of the Sea of Galilee. People figured out where He was going, so they went around the lake and they were there waiting for Him.

As soon as He got out of the boat, he faced a gathering crowd.

Luke 9:11 But knowing this, the crowds followed Him. And having received them, He spoke to them about the kingdom of God. And He cured those having need of healing.

Jesus continued with them, watching them for the day; and the disciples had seen these many miracles. People in all kinds of sickness, and Jesus cures all who come to Him.

They heard Jesus preach, which they had heard many times before; and they had already gone out and proclaimed the kingdom as well.

The people and the disciples were all becoming hungry. The disciples said to send this crowd away; but there was no place for them to eat. The disciples were really concerned for themselves. They put physical nourishment ahead of the spiritual nourishment.

What is a little hunger when listening to the Lord Jesus Christ teach. You can be hungry for a long time; but hunger is not so bad, particularly when you are hearing the teaching of Jesus.

The disciples were not willing for Jesus to make this time decision. They were tired of people by this time. They think that they are helping with their suggestions. They really have their eyes upon circumstances. They are thinking about their own needs.

For all intents and purposes, they were negating the Person of Jesus.

Mat 14:16 But Jesus said to them, They have no need to go away. You give them food to eat.

Mar 6:35–37 And now a late hour occurring, drawing near to Him, the disciples said, The place is deserted, and it is now a late hour. Send them away, that going away to the surrounding fields and villages they may buy bread for themselves. For they do not have what they may eat. And answering, He said to them, You give them food to eat. And they said to Him, Going, should we buy two hundred denarii of bread and give them to eat?

Luke 9:12 But the day began to decline. And coming up, the Twelve said to Him, Let the crowd go that going to the surrounding villages and farms they may lodge and find food supplies, because here we are in a deserted place.

Luke 9:13 But He said to them, You give them to eat. But they said, There are not to us more than five loaves and two fish, unless going we buy food for all this people.

We don't have this money? We cannot go out and buy them all food. These disciples needed a little faith and a little divine viewpoint. You would think that after all of this time that they would have one ounce of divine viewpoint. They do not have divine viewpoint. Jesus has been performing miracles all day long. Jesus is able to feed everyone.

Their eyes are off divine solutions and they are thinking about impossible human solutions. Impossibly human solutions. They are ignoring the power of Jesus Christ. They have been watching Him and they cannot put it all together.

By the Lord's impossible demand that they feed the 5000, Jesus is setting them up for a lesson.

The Disciples Learn a Lesson

1. They needed to learn a lesson.
2. The Lord knew that they needed to learn and to build confidence in the Lord that would go beyond all human resources.
3. They were about to get a startling lesson on the unending logistical grace of God. With God, nothing is impossible.

Mark 6:38 And He said to them, How many loaves do you have? Go and see. And knowing, they said, Five, and two fish.

John 6:7–9 Philip answered Him, Loaves for two hundred denarii are not enough for them, that each of them may receive a little. One of His disciples said to Him, Andrew the brother of Simon Peter, A little boy is here who has five barley loaves and two fish; but what are these for so many?

The disciples are skeptical. There is almost nothing; but in the hands of Jesus Christ, this small amount of food would become enough for all. It is linked to divine power and logistical grace. Jesus begins to take care of the situation.

The focus shifts away from the disciples and their human viewpoint and toward the Lord and what He is able to do.

John 6:10 And Jesus said, Make the men to recline. And much grass was in the place. Then the men reclined, the number was about five thousand.

Matt. 14:19 And commanding the crowds to recline on the grass, and taking the five loaves and two fish, looking up to Heaven, He blessed. And breaking, He gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples gave to the crowds.

Sit these people down to eat in groups of 50.

Luke 9:14 For they were about five thousand men. But He said to His disciples, Make them recline in groups, by fifties.

This was a grassy area, and this gave the disciples something to do.

Luke 9:15 And they did so, and made all recline.

They got their eyes on the Lord and began to follow His instructions. Jesus said to do it, and so they do. The disciples did what they were told. They were organized; they got these people organized into groups.

After a year of lessons, they get another lesson. Focus on Christ and not on what is going on around you. They are to focus on what they know that Jesus wants.

There is the beautiful grassy slope overlooking the Sea of Galilee. These people are no longer a mob, but they are organized into groups. There is the sun setting in the west. In this setting Jesus performs one of His most incredible miracles.

As was His custom, Jesus would break up the loaves.

Luke 9:16 And taking the five loaves and the two fish, looking up to Heaven, He blessed them, and broke, and gave to the disciples to set before the crowd.

Jesus was able to take the little that was there and kept breaking up these loaves and passing them out and the fish.

John 6:11 And Jesus took the loaves, and giving thanks distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to those reclining. And in the same way the fish, as much as they desired.

Jesus kept giving until they were all satisfied.

Luke 9:17 And they ate and were all filled. And twelve hand-baskets of fragments of that left over to them were taken up.

Grace is the principle of multiplication; it keeps coming until you are satisfied. When spiritual food, the Word of God, is presented, it multiplies as spiritual growth.

The Spiritual Food of the Word of God.

1. The Word of God is grace of us; it is spiritual food.
2. When you cut yourself off from spiritual food, then you will not grow. A church that does not teach the Word of God, then there is no growth which occurs.
3. Throughout our lives, the spiritual food continues to multiply as we eat. Metabolized doctrine is eating; it is a process of taking food, eating it and swallowing it. This is operation Z. The spiritual food become spiritual energy.

John 6:12–13 And when they were filled, He said to His disciples, Gather up the fragments left over, that not anything be lost. Then they gathered and filled twelve hand-baskets with fragments of the five barley loaves which were left over to those who had eaten.

Jesus, after everyone has eaten, tells the disciples to go out and gather up the extra uneaten food. 12 baskets of bread was not eaten. They exceeded far what they began with. Grace multiplies. It is a beautiful example. There is always a greater abundance than what you begin with.

Each of the 12 disciples had his own basket of leftover bread. They distributed the food and they picked up the leftovers; and this food returned to them in great abundance. They each had an object lesson; they could see it. It would be their mission in the future to do exactly what Jesus was doing.

The preaching of God's Word never returned void. When God's Word is taught, people grow. The one who teaches the Word receives a full basket of blessing. Teaching is a full basket of blessing for Bobby. This is the greatest life that a person can have, teaching the Word of God.

This all returns back to them exponentially compared to what they started with. It does not matter that Jesus is standing in front of them holding these loaves.

This miracle brings the focus of the disciples back to the Lord. This also affected the crowd and there is a wrong focus from the crowd.

John 6:14 Then seeing what miraculous sign Jesus did, the men said, This is truly the Prophet, the One coming into the world. This was a recognition that the One in front of them was truly a great man.

What's All this About? What Is Their Thinking?

1. Deut. 18:15 is exactly where they got all of this. Deut. 18:15–16 Jehovah your God shall raise up to you a prophet from among you, of your brothers, one like me; you shall listen to him, according to all that you desired of Jehovah your God in Horeb in the day of the assembly, saying, Let me not hear again the voice of Jehovah my God, nor let me see this great fire any more, lest I die.

2. They understood Jesus to be the prophet prophesied by Moses.
3. They made a connection between the prophecy of Moses and the miracle that they had just witnessed.
4. What was the comparison? They compared the miracle of the loaves and fishes to the miracle of manna in the desert. Jesus provided all of the food for them as Moses provided all of the food in the desert for the Jews.
5. Similarity of miracles. He is doing the same sort of miracle.
6. This was an accurate identification, but a misinterpretation.
7. But they failed to recognize Him as their Messiah. "It's the Prophet that Moses spoke of;" but they did not realize that He is more than just that.

Jesus will present the difference.

Lesson #0492

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

8/29/2013 Thurs

Some groups put service before everything else. The Christian way of life becomes something that they do, rather than something that they learn and then do.

The people saw the sign of the feeding of the 5000, and they called Jesus the Prophet who is to come into the world.

John 6:14 Then seeing what miraculous sign Jesus did, the men said, This is truly the Prophet, the One coming into the world.

The context is the beheading of John the Baptizer which occurs and then they go to Bethsaida. This was to be a time of teaching of the disciples. But as they went to the northern end, there was already a crowd there waiting for them. They walked around the lake.

There were a lot of people there waiting for them there of about 5000 people who wanted to see the Lord. They were in a desolate area, so they did not come from that area but from elsewhere. They assemble in this place and in spite of our Lord's weariness, He felt compassion for the people and He began to speak.

He also healed a number of people as well. Many followed him to be healed as well. However, after this went on for several hours, people got hungry.

The disciples said, "Send the crowd out to get something to eat so that we can eat."

The spiritual aspects should come first, and Jesus was teaching these men about teaching crowds like this.

It was time for the Lord to give His disciples a critical lesson of keeping their eyes on Him. He would teach them the multiplication of logistical grace.

Luke 9:16 And taking the five loaves and the two fish, looking up to Heaven, He blessed them, and broke, and gave to the disciples to set before the crowd.

John 6:11 And Jesus took the loaves, and giving thanks distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to those reclining. And in the same way the fish, as much as they desired.

Luke 9:17 And they ate and were all filled. And twelve hand-baskets of fragments of that left over to them were taken up.

John 6:14 Then seeing what miraculous sign Jesus did, the men said, This is truly the Prophet, the One coming into the world.

Their identification came from Deut. 18:15 Jehovah your God shall raise up to you a prophet from among you, of your brothers, one like me; you shall listen to him,...

This was not the first time that Israel was fed miraculously. They associated the manna in the desert with Jesus feeding them. The miracles were similar. Based upon the comparison of miracles, many concluded that this was the Prophet that Moses foretold. But this was the wrong conclusion.

The Dissimilarities

1. There was the obvious physical nourishment connection.
2. There was a marked difference between Jesus and Moses, which these people did not recognize.
3. This made all of the difference in determining if Jesus was a prophet or something greater.
4. A correct comparison between the feeding of the 5000 should have brought about the identification of Jesus as the Messiah. They did not recognize Him as the Messiah.

Ex. 16:6–8

Jesus never promised the miracle of feeding.

Differences

1. Moses told the people that God would supply manna.
2. The source of the manna in the desert was clearly God and not Moses.

3. The manna never came from the hand of Moses. He was only a communicator; that's all. The disciples organized the Jews into groups of 50 and 100.
4. When Jesus fed the 5000, the bread and fishes came directly from His hand. He was the one breaking them, and the loaves and fishes kept multiplying. In the manna incident, there was always enough every day.
5. The real source of the food to the 5000 was the same source as the manna in the desert. God supplies the manna and food to the 5000.
6. Jesus Christ did not just announce supplying food. He did not say, "God will now supply you food;" He did it Himself.
7. Properly interpreted, this miracle further demonstrated Jesus true Messianic claim and His deity. That is the correct identification. They were looking at God.
8. The connection should have been obvious; He was more than a prophet. He was the same God Who provided manna in the desert. Ex. 16:10 this was the glory of God providing manna; the Shekinah glory. He was the manifested visible presence as the incarnate Christ. This Jesus Christ was God supplying food to the 5000; He is the same God supplying manna to Israel.
9. The desert was a desolate place. This place near Bethsaida was also a desolate place. No food there. How can they miss the parallel?
- 10.
11. Likewise, just as in the desert, Jesus supplied food to the 5000. That was the true connection between the miracles.
12. The conclusion they should have reached: Jesus Christ is the Messiah, the Shekinah Glory. It is simply to put together, but they could not take it that far.

Every day, that manna was a provision that there was one more day of provision and God was still with them.

Here Is How the Link Goes

1. Jesus was providing food for them in the desert.
2. So our Lord provided the logistical grace of food, multiplication of bread and fish. It was a great parallel.
3. Jesus did this just as God through Moses had supplied manna in the desert.
4. Miraculous, mystery bread was produced by God the Father and God the Son. In both cases. Jesus showed that He was far more than just a prophet. He was the source of life. He had been preaching; He had been preaching spiritual food to survive. He was the source of life. He was also the source of his spiritual sustenance. Jesus was call Himself the Bread of Life.

However, they rejected Him; they made a wrong identification; or not a complete identification.

Now a very telling event takes place. The people were impressed and they were going to take Him by force and make Him king .

John 6:15 Then knowing that they were about to come and seize Him, that they might make Him king, Jesus withdrew again to the mountain alone by Himself.

Moses also liberated Israel from the oppression of Egypt. That is what is coming into their minds. Joshua conquered the land. The prophet would do the same thing for the Jews in a future time.

The Abrahamic covenant promises a king. Now s the time for the King.

The Misinterpretation

1. The crowd interpreted Jesus as Moses' prophet who had come.
2. He would be the man to lead them out from the slavery of Rome. This was their land, in their minds. They were thinking in material terms.
3. Jesus as there to conquer the land, as did Joshua (they have the same name).
4. The crown would forcefully crown Him king. All for the wrong reasons. They had not accepted Him for Who He was to them.

They wanted to be delivered from bondage. They saw Him as a political savior and as a conqueror. They saw Him only in geopolitical terms. They missed His significance.

Was he not offering the kingdom? Was He not the king? Jesus was not going to be king to fulfill their political or geopolitical aims. They had a narrative and they would make the facts fit the narrative. It happens in every generation.

They just missed Him; they just missed the Messiah. He did want to be King, but not on their terms. Jesus would be a king to provide them with land and blessing. But only on God's terms. God made a covenant with Abraham and hence with Israel. The terms were God's terms and not theirs.

They needed to accept Jesus as God and Messiah. This is a perfect example of what was missing in the thinking of the Jews.

The 5000 represented Israel in general, who wanted only a material king, someone like David to deliver them and to defeat their enemies.

Jesus will be accepted at the 2nd advent.

This was a crucial turnin point. This was such an obvious missing of the mark. The leaders had reject Him and now the common people had rejected Him as well. This was a feta complete.

In listening to His teaching, they got carried away in their emotions, based upon their gut feeling about Him, based on their material needs and desires.

How many times do Christians get emotional and miss the proper application. They cannot use doctrine because they are emotionally worked up . The Christians today are out there wanting to take back the country. But our country may be gone already, except for Jesus Christ. We are right in the center of this.

Emotionalism is characteristic of humanism; humanism comes out of emotionalism. Humanism reacts to the gospel and to Bible doctrine; humanism is exactly the opposite of Bible doctrine.

These people have come enemies of the cross. Philip. 3:18–19

Philip 3:18–19 For many walk as hostile to the cross of Christ, of whom I often told you, and now even weeping I say it, whose end is destruction, whose god is the belly, and who glory in their shame, the ones thinking earthly things.

Those who live by emotion; their God is their emotion. And whose glory is in their shame; who set their minds on earthly things. Their minds were on food and liberation by a king who was their Messiah.

A reversionist acts just like an unbeliever. This is where the believer goes without doctrine. They think of God primarily in emotional terms. This goes on in churches all over. They worship God from their emotions and not from their mentality.

If we worship God by emotion, we only worship Him a little. We worship God moment by moment; there is never a time when we don't worship Him. We worship Him by the doctrine in our souls.

Emotionally means the worship is based on highs and lows. These kinds of people become enemies of God. They are in an emotional state.

These people did not consider His spiritual aspect; they only understood the geopolitical prospects and they were excited and emotional, but they were not doctrinal.

John 6:15 Then knowing that they were about to come and seize Him, that they might make Him king, Jesus withdrew again to the mountain alone by Himself.

Lesson #0493

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

9/1/2013 1Sunday

We are endowed with the same empowerment that Jesus had. We have the filling of the Holy Spirit, which is the empowerment of the Christian life.

Near the town of Bethsaida, the Sea of Galilee, Jesus just fed 5000 people with 5 loaves and 2 fishes. The people began to talk about what they had just seen and experience and what the meaning of this. They compared this miracle to the provision of manna for the sons of Israel in the desert. This was a good comparison; and they understood that this was a miracle. However, they did not carry this out to the right conclusion. They did not correctly recognize Jesus. They understood Him to be the great Prophet promised from Moses. Moses did not produce the manna, God did. The food produced from these 5 loaves and 2 fishes came right from the hand of Jesus Christ. So there should have been a conclusion, that Jesus is God.

Ex. 16:10 describes the glory of God in the production of manna. This production indicated that God's Presence was with Israel; and these people should have known that God was with them right there. They should have known that this is the incarnate Shekinah Glory. Today, we have the indwelling of the Shekinah Glory, Christ in us, the indwelling Presence.

They saw Jesus as a great man and as a great prophet, but no more than that. They saw the material things which Jesus provided. Jesus could provide bread for all the people; no more poverty. He could save them from the oppression of Rome.

They decided to make Him king; but His purpose was not to become a political, material king; He was first and foremost their Spiritual King, the Savior of their souls. The Messiah would sit on the throne of David, as their Savior.

Jesus knows their thoughts. They were going to seize Him and make Him king, without any choice. Here they wanted Him as their material king.

Jesus left and went up to the mountain to pray. He prayed many times. There was a great deal for Him to pray about. He prayed for His disciples; for the Jews, for nation Israel.

The common people had rejected Him. Israel had rejected Him. They had received signs that the Messianic Age was there; this was the announcement of Jesus and of John the Baptizer.

They got all excited, but for all the wrong reasons. So many Jews did not completely get Him. This is how people in this country can have such negative volition; the people of that time, seeing the Lord, have negative volition toward God. They were face to face with God Himself and they said, "No."

John 6:15 Then knowing that they were about to come and seize Him, that they might make Him king, Jesus withdrew again to the mountain alone by Himself.

A new phrase in His ministry occurred at this moment. It was time to leave Israel behind and teach His disciples in earnest. He sends the crowds and the disciples away as well.

John 6:16–17 And when it became evening, His disciples went down on the sea. And entering into the boat, they were going across the sea to Capernaum. And darkness had already occurred, and Jesus had not come to them.

They were going to cross; Jesus had told them to go, and they went, as commanded. 4 great events in a crisis weekend. This is probably the most famous of all miracles. This is found in all 3 gospels. Matt. 14 Mark 6 John 6:16–21 this miracle has become a metaphor today for a person who is above it all.

John 6:18 And the sea was aroused by a great wind blowing.

A storm whips up on the Sea of Galilee. This was not the first storm that they faced. They lived on this water and they had faced a great storm. Great waves are caused by winds, which push waves about. In Hawaii, a strong wind might push 40 or 50 ft. waves.

This wind was no accident. This would be a training aid for the disciples. They could only learn through experience. It is easier to metabolize doctrine and get the point and then utilize it. But, most of us need to take a few lumps. Our lives do not work without the doctrine without our ability to use the doctrine in our souls.

Jesus would use adversity to teach another great lesson; and He teaches His authority over the disciples and over all nature. He uses the Sea of Galilee as his classroom demonstration.

God uses all circumstances to enhance the progress of all believers. Some people cannot learn under prosperity. There are some things which we must learn through adversity. All circumstances are for our benefit, when we learn Bible doctrine from it.

It is for our benefit when we learn to use God's Word from our soul to get through it. Adversity is for our benefit. Otherwise, what happens to the disciples on the Sea of Galilee will happen to us.

The disciples sent away from His sight; Jesus needed to pray for them.

Matt. 14:23 And having dismissed the crowds, He went up into the mountain alone to pray. And evening coming on, He was there alone.

We should be able to handle whatever comes along without being propped up by other people. Otherwise, we will suffer from separation anxiety if we depend upon someone else.

In the previous miracle, they had their focus on their own hunger, but they regained the correct focus with the miracle. Can they hold this focus, keeping their eyes on Jesus, even though He is not present. They must see Him through the doctrine in their souls. They will fail the test this time around. But they will learn another lesson. We all fail tests. We all spend time wallowing in our misery and in our adversity. We focus on our problems. We lose focus on the solution because we are focused on the problem. If we focus on the problem, then we are like the disciples here. If we focus on the Lord, we are advancing spiritually. Is there anyone who does not have adversity in their lives. There are always storms. Every day there are some little problem. What do you focus on?

The disciples are no different than us in the Church Age. Jesus is not visually present with us. We can see Him in the way that the disciples should have seen Him. Each disciple has a full basket of bread, to concentrate on. A little adversity hits them and all they have to do is look at their own basket of bread.

We have another asset, which is what we have. We have prayer. We think of prayer as a powerful weapon to use. Part of our spiritual life is time spent in prayer, just as our Lord is doing. What a picture of our Lord's future intercession for us. Jesus is our great High Priest making intercession for us at the right hand of the Father. Jesus is not with the disciples but He is praying for them.

This was a gale force wind that came off the mountains, that comes up quickly, and was a dangerous wind, raising up great waves. They were being battered by the waves.

Matt. 14:24 But the boat was now in the middle of the sea, tossed by the waves, for the wind was contrary.

Mark 6:48 And He saw them being distressed in the rowing, for the wind was contrary to them. And it was about the fourth watch of the night when He came toward them, walking on the sea. And He willed to go by them.

Jesus walked toward them; He stepped out and walked. The wind began to blow. The storm was raging by the time they dipped the first oar in the water.

They had only gone 3 or 4 miles; slow going, when Jesus saw them.

Jesus came to them 3am to 6am. At that time, there was at best some ambient light. They had been rowing for 8 to 9 hours. It is only 8 or 9 miles to get across the lake and they were only halfway at this time. They were exhausted and they were not thinking clearly.

Matt. 14:25 But in the fourth watch of the night, Jesus went out to them, walking on the sea.

Lesson #0494

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

9/1/2013 2Sunday

Bobby was told about this series, the person suggested that he not teach just a lot of stories about Jesus. The narratives are just as filled with doctrine as what Paul wrote. Our Lord's life is packed with doctrine. Experiential. They are in a monster storm. You might put yourself in the position of the disciples. The solution is always the Lord Jesus Christ. In this way, you get to see or experience. Some can learn and others need to see it with their own eyes.

These stories are wonderful; and they are all true.

The disciples have been rowing for 8 or 9 hours and they are only about halfway across the Sea of Galilee. They are in a place of complete collapse. What is really happening is they disciples are getting panicky and emotional and fearful. Because of this, they would mistake what they were about to see.

They look out and believe that they see a phantom/ghost/spirit and they cry out in fear. When they are at their worst possible state, Jesus comes to rescue them in the storm. This is a prophetic picture of the 2nd advent, and Jesus coming to the Jews when there is great Tribulation. The worst period of Jewish history; Jesus would come in this storm and deliver them. This might seem obvious to us, but it was not in the minds of the disciples. They were in the middle of a storm and they were worn out. They could not recognize Jesus walking toward them.

phantasma (φάντασμα) [pronounced FAN-tas-mah], which means, 1) an appearance; 2) an apparition, spectre. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #5326.

Many times we forget Jesus Christ and we emote, we go to pieces, we try all kinds of ridiculous things. Jesus Christ is always with us. He is with us and in us; His help and His rescue is as close as the application of Bible doctrine during faith rest. This is a perfect experiential picture of faith rest in the souls of believers. He is always moving toward us in the storms of adversity. We push Him away by our own attitudes.

Matt. 14:26 And seeing Him walking on the sea, the disciples were troubled, saying, It is a phantom! And they cried out from the fear.

The disciples must stop emoting and begin to think Bible doctrine. No better way to do it than standing in a boat going down, afraid and discouraged, and now they see a ghost.

Jesus has to get through to them.

Jesus says, "It is I." His mere Presence on the water is a faith rest rationale to them. Knowing that it is Jesus, they are refocused. They know that Jesus can deliver them. They recognize that salvation is right there with them.

John 6:20 But He said to them, I AM! Do not fear.

This is the moment where they turn back toward them. There is a prophetic aspect to this and all Church Age believers will be delivered by Him.

Matt. 14:27 But immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying, Be comforted! I AM! Do not fear.

Peter hears His voice, and he responds to the Lord's voice. Peter is not completely certain that this is Jesus.

Matt. 14:28 And answering Him, Peter said, "Lord, if it is You, command me to come to You on the waters."

Peter needs a bit of encouragement and he recognizes the voice. But he wants a sign; he wants to have deliverance on his own terms. "This is what I want." That is his demand. We sometimes demand God to deliver us in the way that we think is best; but God knows the best way for us to be delivered. Peter wants a verification of Who this is.

Matt. 14:29 And He said, "Come!" And going down from the boat, Peter walked on the waters to go to Jesus.

Why can't we relax and trust in God, if Peter is able to do this? Peter saw the Lord and he is not yet completely convinced, and he does the one thing that we need to do. He has stopped being afraid of the storm. He was no longer concentrating on His circumstances. Peter begins to make some application of doctrine. There is progress and there is a process involved. There is some sort of trigger mechanism which turns us from our circumstances to toward the Lord. Some promise that we know. Now we progress in the faith rest drill.

Peter gets to the point where he is not longer afraid; then he looks for the solution; and the faith rest drill begins to kick in.

Peter uses a vocative: κυρία, which is Lord. The One Who is in charge of all nature. Fear is gone; so now, how do you take that step out into faith rest? Peter knows that he can do this if it is God's will. Jesus has the power to do this; so now, is this what Jesus wants or will allow? Peter could have stepped out at any time; God would take care of that. However, Peter wants some assurance. He is trusting in God and his focus has been turned around. He is proactive. He wants to step out in faith.

Peter was the spiritual leader. He could tell them what they were going to do, and people would follow him. Peter is a spiritual leader. Peter has performed many miracles throughout Galilee as many of the others had. He sees the Lord walk on the water and Peter wants to do that. He wants to do with the Lord is doing. He has a great desire to do what our Lord has accomplished. This is what the Lord had required; follow His lead.

Aorist active imperative of ἐρχομαι. Jesus accommodated Peter's request. In fact, Jesus commands him to walk out. So Peter knows that this is God's will. Whatever God mandates to us, He has given us the ability for us to accomplish that.

Peter steps out in faith rest. He did not sink. He got out of the boat and he was riding the waves. Peter even without a surf board is walking along the waves of this storm and he even walked toward Jesus.

No idea how far Peter walked. He became cognizant of what he was doing; he realized what he was doing was impossible, by human viewpoint. This happens to an air borne soldier on his first jump. Then when facing a long jump, it suddenly seems incredibly unnatural. Many washed out.

Peter took his eyes off the Lord and refocused on the circumstances. He lost his focus and he lost his faith rest attitude. Even though he had been walking on the water, he backed off. We are cruising along and everything is fine, and then we hit that one big problem and we fall apart, with our eyes on the problem.

These believers have had prayed for answers and they received answers to their prayers. They have some doctrine in their souls. However, an overwhelming circumstance comes along and puts them over the top. This puts them out of fellowship; they turn their eyes away from the Lord and they focus on the problem. The believer then is no longer walking toward the Lord. We walk by faith, not by sight.

If Jesus can take care of the small stuff, the adversity, etc., then He can take care of the big stuff. If He can do this for us, then it works for everything. There is someone or some thing that just gets to us. It does not have to. If it works one time, it will work every time.

Matt. 14:30 But seeing the strong wind, he was afraid, and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, Lord, save me!

Lesson #0495

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

9/4/2013 Wed

We have studied a number of miracles, the one we are currently studying is the most universally known miracle performed by Jesus. This is known by those of other religions.

It is known by some as a metaphor by anyone who is above it all or particularly good at a job or a task; and used for someone who is arrogant.

Agnostics and atheists will use this miracle to “prove” that Jesus is a legend.

Jesus’ disciples are caught in an horrendous storm and these men are veteran fishermen and they have seen a lot of storms before, but they are scared witless in this storm. They had moved only a few miles after rowing for 8 or 9 hours. They are caught in the middle of the Sea of Tiberius (the Sea of Galilee).

Matt. 14:26 And seeing Him walking on the sea, the disciples were troubled, saying, It is a phantom! And they cried out from the fear.

The disciples did not correctly identify Jesus and called Him a phantom. What they saw on the water was a phantom coming toward them from the world of the dead. This is what it appeared to be to them.

These men had spent over a year with Jesus and they had forgotten Who it was that they were dealing with.

These men are deep into human viewpoint. They were only a few hours from focusing on the 5000. These men should have focused on the plan of God, but they did not. Fear has overcome any divine viewpoint that they had learned.

Even after the miracle of feeding the 5000, they were under pressure and they lost their faith in Jesus. The food for 5000 was encouraging, but this was gone to them. These men were now under severe pressure and they were operating under human viewpoint.

They needed to be stable under pressure. They needed to be thinking divine viewpoint under a number of conditions.

Jesus is very direct in getting them oriented to life.

John 6:20 But He said to them, I AM! Do not fear.

Impulsive Peter provides another lesson.

Roman and Greek gods liked to play with people. What we are studying is the Word of God. These men knew one another, but they wrote their biographies independently. The Holy Spirit was involved, which is why everything meshes.

These men wrote with perfectly clarity. Different styles. This has never occurred anywhere else over the world. The Bible was written over a period of 5000 years by 40 diverse authors without contradiction.

Matt. 14:27 But immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying, Be comforted! I AM! Do not fear.

Matt. 14:28 And answering Him, Peter said, "Lord, if it is You, command me to come to You on the waters."

Peter asks to be commanded to walk on the water, and he looked toward the Lord, and he was able to walk on the water. He was not staring at the threatening sea.

Peter wants some proof; he is testing the Lord, just as Gideon had.

There was a little doubt in Peter's mind, and faith rest cannot be sustained under those conditions.

When emotion takes control, then we begin to make some bad decisions.

We get sidetracked and we focus on the problem and not upon the solution. When you know the problem and you don't know how to handle it. When you can't handle it, you let the Lord handle it. This is why we have all this doctrine in our souls.

Matt. 14:29 And He said, "Come!" And going down from the boat, Peter walked on the waters to go to Jesus.

The storm had not abated. Peter saw the wind and he stumbles. He turns his eyes from Jesus, and he looks on the strong wind, and suddenly he is afraid, "Lord, save me."

And when Peter asked for help from the Lord, he got it, immediately. This was a hopeless situation. Peter needed to understand that he could share in Christ's life and in his victory.

Peter needed to understand that he could share in the victorious life with Jesus. This was a great moment of growth for him.

Burn a bridge when you learn a doctrine; and know the doctrine and apply it; or you will have to learn it again.

Our Lord's objective was for Peter to advance from this failure. The other disciples watched.

Problems never disappear, but solutions are available. When adversity hits, it is not a setback; it is an advance.

We are not face to face with Christ, but when we ask, He will deliver us; He will deal with the problem. He may not pull us out of the circumstance instantly, and He may want for us to stay within the mire of these circumstances for a bit.

His solutions may not be exactly what you expect. Do not superimpose your solutions upon Him. It never works. His health will always be to our benefit. The real issue is, what doctrine do we learn and apply in adversity.

We have a lot of discipline coming our ways; a lot of adversity coming our way. Jesus Christ controls history. He honors those who honor His Word. Nothing can assail us in His plan unless He allows it.

We learn spiritual self esteem when we develop confidence in Jesus Christ. Too many think today that, if we develop self-esteem, then that is all that we need to move ahead in life.

Spiritual Self Esteem

1. The believer has his encouragement from divine viewpoint. What we think about Christ is where our spiritual self esteem comes from.
2. Spiritual self esteem is the ability to apply doctrine in all circumstances. We do not revert to emotionalism.
3. A believer who is spiritual self esteem can think, decide, make decisions and apply for himself without speaking advice or for approval from others. Often when we are in trouble, we go to someone else and ask their advice.
4. The believer with spiritual self esteem can keep his eyes on the Lord and not fall apart under adversity.
5. His help comes from the strength of doctrine; and not from the weakness of humanism. That is what the faith rest drill is all about.

Who cares for me more than anyone? Jesus Christ. And we can learn to think with His mind. We can learn to

Matt. 14:30 But seeing the strong wind, he was afraid, and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, Lord, save me!

Jesus did not allow Peter to sink beneath the waves. By reaching out to Peter, Jesus is giving him confidence. Jesus is always there. It is a matter of rebound and applying doctrine.

Jesus explains the reason why Peter is sinking. “You of a little faith; why do you doubt?”

Jesus was not playing a trick on Peter, to lead him out there and let him drop into the water. Jesus was teaching Peter a lesson. Peter should have had the confidence. People forget who is the commander. They leave doctrine, which has been their strength, and they think they are going to solve their own problems. Peter could not think outside the box of human viewpoint.

In the boat, the planks of wood kept Peter afloat as long as they floated. There is more confidence to be placed in Jesus than the boat. When the believer trusts in the objects in which men trust, then the spiritual life is difficult and only consulted under difficult circumstances.

God gets our attention in a myriad of ways. Peter began to walk by faith rather than by sight. He begins to sink. He emotes. He panics. He screams for help, when faith rest would have sufficed. The all-sufficiency of faith rest is at our fingertips.

Matt. 14:31 And immediately stretching out the hand, Jesus took hold of him, and said to him, Little-faith, why did you doubt?

Lesson #0496

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

9/5/2013 Thurs

Bobby was asked why did he repeat those 3 verses every night. It gets us in the mood. It also helps Bobby warm up his voice.

These lessons learned are quite critical to the disciples. There are tremendous application to us, although possibly for different reasons.

In hindsight, the disciples could see the deity of Jesus Christ shining through. This would be a confidence builder to have God physically present among them.

Jesus called, and the disciples walked toward Him.

3 Lessons

1. The disciples learned that they must remain focused on the Lord and not on the storm. We studied another storm when the disciples were on the sea and Jesus was asleep in the boat. He immediately stopped the storm. It was obvious that He had control over the water and the wind. The men were astonished by this.

2. The divine viewpoint of the mind of Christ must always take precedence over circumstances.
3. Eyes on the Lord through faith rest overcomes fear of circumstances. When you fear circumstances, the result is emotionalism.

Peter got out of the boat and walked on the water just as the Lord was walking on the water, strolling along in the middle of the storm. Then he took his eyes off the Lord. Emotionalism and fear ruined his moment. It did not take him long to concentrate on the storm.

Peter could not actually see the wind, but he could see the effects of the wind.

Matt. 14:30 But seeing the strong wind, he was afraid, and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, Lord, save me!

Jesus walked over and picked Peter up and got his eyes back on Him. We should look at this metaphorically; when we sink into the mire of adversity, then we take Jesus' hand.

Matt. 14:31 And immediately stretching out the hand, Jesus took hold of him, and said to him, Little-faith, why did you doubt?

Peter is doing the unimaginable, walking on water. Peter had this opportunity and he was doing it, but then he got his eyes off the Lord. This is a picture of our spiritual life in and out of fellowship. When we are filled with the Holy Spirit and when we metabolize doctrine and apply it, we are then walking in the manner that the Lord has commanded us to walk. Walking is a standard metaphor for living the spiritual life. For a few moments, Peter is in perfect harmony living the life God designed for him; but he slipped out. This was a picture of a spiritual life that was working. For Peter, as for us, doubt reared its ugly head. Doubt is always a problem. As soon as Peter questioned what he was doing, and looked at that problem, the spiritual walk ceased and the failing began.

Peter was walking with the Lord until he looked down, and his faith was suddenly set aside. You have to give him some credit because he got out of the boat and walked toward the Lord. Looking at the water was human viewpoint; looking at the Lord was divine viewpoint.

Peter began his walk with faith rest; with divine viewpoint. This is a picture of us going through life, where there are storms around us, an unsteady ground, but we look to Jesus and are guided through it all.

Peter's mind went straight to human viewpoint.

When Jesus got into the boat, the wind just stopped. The all-sufficiency of faith rest is confirmed. Had they applied the faith rest technique, they saw what would happen; the storm would go away.

It all stopped; dead calm; the storm subsided. The storm in our soul will cease, and that is the point. The adversity ceased immediately when Jesus stepped on board, but they should have been calm in their souls. We do not use faith rest to stop adversity; we use faith rest to stop the storm in our soul.

Matt. 14:32 And coming into the boat, the wind ceased.

They have a chance here to think objectively about what it was that they just saw. Why did they need to fear when the Lord was right there. They had to think about what it was that they just saw. He is with them; He is omnipotent.

There are tremendous benefits to faith rest. It is also a time of evaluation and learning. Questions like, how do I learn under pressure. How effective was this faith rest drill in all of this? Can I depend upon it? Did fear and worry fix the situation?

What doctrine did I used to handle the circumstance? And what doctrine could I have used under these circumstances. When things get calm, you can become objective. The object is to be objective.

The After-Action Report

What happened and what should I see and what corrections should I make?

1. There is growth in evaluation and recall, especially when doctrine and adversity are linked. After it is over, evaluate yourself and there is growth in this.
2. It is a very productive exercise to review how doctrine works under pressure. You may not have used it, but you should think about what you didn't do and what you should have or could have done.
3. This exercise of evaluation of your use of the faith rest technique is critical. You must consider the doctrine that you use and other doctrines which might apply to future circumstances. You are thinking about what just happened; and that same circumstance can occur again.
4. There is a personal after-action report to yourself, by which you can assess your spiritual life and your spiritual advance. These doctrines will be needed in the future again and again. This is a time of refreshment and preparation. They must learn from this and what they have by way of resources and come up with a rationale. Their life will be stormy.

The disciples needed to do some soul-searching at this point. When you are looking at yourself and circumstances from divine viewpoint, that is good soul-searching. Amazingly, the disciples did not understand the lessons of his previous teachings.

Mark 6:51 And He went up to them into the boat, and the wind was cut off. And they were amazed, exceedingly beyond measure within themselves, and marveled.

They did not properly evaluate what they had learned; and they got no insight. They learn nothing. We need to be able to give the gospel, and this is a basic service for the Lord. We all have this mandate. We are all commanded to spread the gospel. We need to apply what we know. We need to evaluate circumstances and people. How many times did we have the perfect opportunity to witness about the Lord? We need to evaluate these circumstances.

Mark 6:52 For they did not understand about the miracle of the loaves, for their hearts were hardened.

They could not wrap their minds about what happened. They had to learn. They could not put 2 and 2 together in the storm crisis. They missed the obvious signs of His true identify; so they could have applied this later, and known that Jesus would preserve them.

His disciples did not recognize that Jesus did not send them out merely to die. So they had to go through this again. How much doctrine did they need to hear in order to use it? We must hear doctrine constantly and consistently. We can never say, "I now have enough doctrine."

We need to be reminded to consistently keep our heads in the Word. We learn what we have and who we are.

The faith rest drill works every time that it is used. It is the application of doctrine.

How many times have you said something to a person, and then you think of something to say, but 5 min. later. Put that in the doctrinal context, you can see how this has spiritual application.

Using faith rest does not necessarily remove the adversity. That is not the point of the faith rest drill. It is not applied to end adversity. Handle it.

If our mental attitude is equal to the adversity, then we are miserable. Adversity will be there; how do you think about it? What is your attitude? That is what the disciples needed to know.

They should have looked at the waves and said, "Wonder where the Lord is and what will He do about this?"

Mark 3:5 And having looked around on them with anger, being greatly grieved over the hardness of their heart, He said to the man, Stretch out your hand! And he stretched out, and his hand was restored sound as the other.

Jesus was dismayed at the negative volition. He was grieved at the scar tissue of their hearts. Jesus will make the same observation of His disciples.

Mark 6:52 For they did not understand about the miracle of the loaves, for their hearts were hardened.

They had not learned faith at the feeding of the 5000.

Adversity is good; not bad. At times, there is no other way for us to learn and grow. The storms in life become a blessing if the lesson is learned and confidence and faith is advanced. The disciples finally advanced a little.

They heard, they metabolized, applied, evaluated.

Lesson #0497

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

9/8/2013 1Sunday

Communion Sunday

The Holy Spirit, when we believe, places us into Christ.

All of these benefits which we receive are possible because of our Lord's work on the cross. God's grace provides for everyone perfect righteousness.

We have a life of total purpose and definition. We have an absolute certainty of our destiny in Jesus Christ. What God has promised cannot be lost and it cannot be changed. Yet Christians and theologians have disputed the doctrine of eternal security throughout history. Their argument was, if eternal life is given and cannot be removed, that Christians would seize this eternal life and live a life of wanton disregard. They believe that people would believe and then go their own way. They see eternal life that cannot be removed is a hazard.

Arminian theology assumes that a person who is a Christian who does not live like a Christian believes that he could lose his salvation. Reform theology believes that such a person probably was not saved in the first place. Immorality to them is a sure size of heathenism. The Christian life is so much more than morality and so much more secure than their understanding of it.

This means, however, that we can also fail. But the grace of God never fails; we may fail Him but He never fails us.

No works are necessary for salvation. There is only salvation by grace through faith and this promise cannot be abrogated. No one can add to the finished work of Jesus Christ and no one can take away from it. Eternal security is a vital inseparable part of the salvation package.

We are permanent sons of God. Once we are born into a family, there is no way that we can be removed from that family. It is an accomplished, unchangeable fact. No believer can be removed from the family of God. We are in a permanent union with Jesus Christ. We cannot remove ourselves by our own actions or words. Titus 3:5 He saved up not on the basis of the deeds of righteousness which we have done, but by... Are we so arrogant to think that we can overrule the actions of our God? God loves all of us, whether we succeed or fail.

No one who believes will be lost. Also an iron-clad guarantee for resurrection into the next life. Every person who is a son of God possesses an eternal family inheritance which cannot be lost. To obtain an inheritance which is imperishable and protected by the power of God through faith by a salvation ready to be revealed at the last time.

Our inheritance is first and foremost eternal life. We have an inheritance based upon our relationship with Jesus Christ. This includes a promise of eternal life after our physical death. We have a share in His suffering. It sounds ominous, but this is an enhancement to our spiritual growth. Regardless whether we advance or not, we will one day share the glory of Christ forever.

What God gives, He cannot take back. What He gives us is because of Christ. The fact that we are secure in Christ does not imply that we will succeed in time. Whether we become invisible heroes or losers in the Christian life, all depends upon the application of doctrine to our lives. Our future is secure. Our security is a fact of God's absolute faithfulness.

Lam. 3:22–23 Because of the LORD's faithful love we do not perish, for His mercies [His gracious provisions will] never end. They are renewed every morning; great is Your faithfulness!

Eternal security is not a liability nor is it a license to sin; and sin is not a sign of unbelief. Whom the Lord loves, He disciplines. Even as prodigal sons, we are still sons of God. We may fail miserably in the Christian life, we will still stand before His glory.

The disciples fail, but they are still His. They listened to Jesus teaching for approximately a year and they saw many miracles, including the feeding of the 5000 only recently. They needed to focus on Him and upon His Word. The disciples, like many believers today, they failed. They did not lack doctrine. It was not a lack of doctrine, but the disciples had another problem. They could not reach a doctrinal conclusion under pressure. They had it; they had heard it and they could not seem to make an application. Fear took hold of their souls as it does us during adversity. Fear is always on the perimeter of our lives.

Matt. 14:23–26 After sending the people away, he went up a mountain to pray by himself. When evening came, he was there alone. The boat, now hundreds of yards from shore, was being thrown around by the waves because it was going against the wind. Between three and six o'clock in the morning, he came to them. He was walking on the sea. When the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were terrified. They said, "It's a ghost!" and began to scream because they were afraid. (God's Word™)

Their response was fear. They needed to rely on the faith rest drill. They needed to claim a promise; use a doctrinal rationale.

Matt. 14:27–31 Immediately, Jesus said, "Calm down! It's me. Don't be afraid!" Peter answered, "Lord, if it is you, order me to come to you on the water." Jesus said, "Come!" So Peter got out of the boat and walked on the water toward Jesus. But when he noticed how strong the wind was, he became afraid and started to sink. He shouted, "Lord, save me!" Immediately, Jesus reached out, caught hold of him, and said, "You have so little faith! Why did you doubt?" (God's Word™)

Psalm 56:3–4a Even when I am afraid, I still trust you. I praise the word of God. I trust God. I am not afraid.

Isa. 41:10 Don't be afraid, because I am with you. Don't be intimidated; I am your God. I will strengthen you. I will help you. I will support you with my victorious right hand.

Lesson #0498

Matt. 13: Life of Christ

9/8/2013 2Sunday

We saw a promise that Isaiah spoke of, concerning fear:

Isa. 41:10 Don't be afraid, because I am with you. Don't be intimidated; I am your God. I will strengthen you. I will help you. I will support you with my victorious right hand.

This promise was given when the southern kingdom was being assaulted and going to be taken out. "Do not look anxiously about you."

They were rowing for hours and going nowhere.

Peter responded to Jesus as he should; but then he began to get his eyes off Jesus and he considered his circumstances and the storm. He began to sink into the water. Jesus reached out to him.

Isa. 41:10 fear not, for I am with you; be not dismayed, for I am your God; I will strengthen you, I will help you, I will uphold you with my righteous right hand.

This is what needed to be applied. Jesus was there; and faith rest was ready to flee Peter's thinking almost immediately.

Faith Rest in the Crisis

1. When you apply faith rest, it does not change the circumstances of adversity. That is not what it is for.
2. Faith rest does allow the believer to face the adversity with a relaxed mental attitude. It is not about the external circumstance. It is about your thinking; whether you are afraid or not.
3. Faith rest is the attitude of an operative, spiritual life.
4. Adversity + faith rest = spiritual growth
5. Turmoil in the soul with faith rest is quieted; faith rest quiets turmoil in the soul, even if the adversity is still churning.
6. Ultimately the adversity ceases or it becomes inconsequential in your life. Life is much better if you do not focus on adversity.

They should have immediately recognized that Jesus is God; He is walking on the water. He has the power and essence to walk on this water. He therefore has complete authority over nature. This include authority over the waves splashing over the bow of the boat. The metabolized doctrine calms their fears.

Had Peter held onto the vision of Jesus Christ, Jesus would not have to pull him up. He had doubts. He lost his faith rest in these moments.

Jesus then applied another rationale.

The faith rest drill of for the storm; not for when times are easy.

Matt. 14:29 He said, "Come." So Peter got out of the boat and walked on the water and came to Jesus.

Matt. 14:30 But when he saw the wind, he was afraid, and beginning to sink he cried out, "Lord, save me."

Matt. 14:31 Jesus immediately reached out his hand and took hold of him, saying to him, "O you of little faith, why did you doubt?"

Adversity is not bad; it is good. Sometimes, there is no other way for us to learn or to grow. The storms of life become a blessing. If you see the hand of the Lord in the storm, then you have grown spiritually.

Sometimes, that is all it takes is a little adversity to refocus us. This is a blinding flash of the obvious. Then you move on. That is spiritual growth.

Matt. 14:32 And when they got into the boat, the wind ceased.

Now the disciples get it. They understand Who Jesus is.

Matt. 14:33 And those in the boat worshiped him, saying, "Truly you are the Son of God."

They finally understood it. A salient point: how did they understand that this is God?

What the Disciples Learned

Matt. 14:33 And those in the boat worshiped him, saying, "Truly you are the Son of God."

1. They worshiped the Lord because of what they had just learned about Him. This was burned into their minds. They metabolized that Jesus is the Son of God. They understood the doctrine of the Deity of Jesus Christ. They will proclaim it and write it for the rest of their lives. They learned this right here. Who else could walk on water, still the storm, and allow Peter to walk on water. Notice that they do not worship Peter. This was the second storm that Jesus had calmed. Now they get it. Now they understand His power and they ponder what it all means. Evaluate where you have been; consider what just happened.

2. They finally caught on in their thinking that Jesus is, without a doubt, the Son of God. They will never forget this fact. This is in their souls.
3. They understand that God is among them. What kind of a revelation is that?
4. They knew that they could unequivocally depend upon Him for the rest of their lives.
5. They gain a mental attitude of awe and reverence. That is worship. We contemplate the Lord Jesus Christ; that is worship. They contemplate and they appreciate His Person in their souls. That is worship. Their worship reflected their thinking. That concentration is communion. This is based upon what we know about Him.

A believer can worship God on a moment by moment basis; not just when we feel like it. People want to feel the love; but we only need to respond to the doctrine in our souls.

Worship is not what you do; worship is what you think. True worship occurs in the soul; it is a mental attitude. It does not require an overt expression nor are emotions needed. You cannot maintain a high state of emotion for every long. It is difficult to hold onto emotion for any amount of time. Worship is moment by moment. Some people only feel worship when they are forced to when they have some emotion in church; or they sing or they lift up their hands or do some other thing that they call worship. Do you only love someone at those times when you express emotion towards them? If that is the case, then you have no capacity for love. Love is a mental attitude that is lasting. It goes moment by moment toward the object of your love. It does not fade in conflict or in adversity. The more mature that you are, the more capacity that you have for love. Love grows; love grows in relationships. You become occupied with that person in love. When love for God is part of your thinking, then it cannot be altered by circumstances. Without knowledge of doctrine, worship is just going through emotions and feelings. There are literally millions of Christians going through some ceremony today which they call worship. But the disciples worship Jesus because they understand the deity of Jesus Christ. Their thinking is, there is no one else like Him. They think of this and they are in awe and reverence. This did not occur in a boat. They were not on their knees. They were sitting in a wet boat.

Jesus tries to make sure that they get the message, and they land on the opposite shore from Bethsaida.

Matt. 14:34 And when they had crossed over, they came to land at Gennesaret.

This is an easy geographical place to understand. It is a little south of Capernaum. They land at this little village.

Matt. 14:35 And when the men of that place recognized Him, they sent around to all that region and brought to Him all who were sick.

Everyone knew who Jesus was. So they sent word to everyone that Jesus was in their area and everyone from around there brought them their sick. They did not come to worship but to bring their sick ones in front of the miracle worker.

Bethsaida to get some rest, but there was a crowd waiting for Him. It began small but swelled to be 5000. Jesus was tired and He welcomed them anyway.

Jesus knew that His disciples needed another lesson about the miracle and what it meant and what it taught them. There was a giant storm and the disciples were on the boat and Jesus walked to them on the water. And Peter wanted to walk with Him; he was focused on the Lord. He began to walk and then he realized where he was. He took his eyes off the Lord.

The miracle finally sunk in.

Matt. 14:32 And when they got into the boat, the wind ceased.

Matt. 14:33 And those in the boat worshiped him, saying, "Truly you are the Son of God."

John 6:24 So when the crowd saw that Jesus was not there, nor His disciples, they themselves got into the boats and went to Capernaum, seeking Jesus.

These others did not go out on the storm; they went out after the storm.

John 6:25 When they found him on the other side of the sea, they said to Him, "Rabbi, when did You come here?"

They wondered how Jesus could get there first through the storm. They let Jesus know that they are frantically searching for Him and they had a little resentment towards Him.

"When did You get here?" They wanted what Jesus could provide for them. They wanted it immediately as soon as He had arrived. "How dare You make Yourself unavailable to us!"

The crowd had learned nothing. Why are there no more healings? Where is the bread?

Matt. 14:34 And when they had crossed over, they came to land at Gennesaret.

They knew where Jesus was, so they brought their sick to Him, to get healed.

Matt. 14:35 And when the men of that place recognized him, they sent around to all that region and brought to him all who were sick

These people only wanted more miracles.

These people wanted material blessing, but they did not want a Savior. They only wanted the material things that they could get from Him. Many go to church for material advantages. Some will show up for church like this.

Matt. 14:36 and implored him that they might only touch the fringe of his garment. And as many as touched it were made well.

Some people simply go to church so that their ship will come in. Jesus was passing out the food stamps of that day. They envisioned a permanent gravy train. Sustenance without labor. They were on the dole; "Keep feeding us for nothing."

They wanted free healthcare and free food. What they wanted was a political, physical king. A government which would provide for them. This sounds like us; we want good medical care, food stamps and a good politician to follow around.

In spite of their wrong reasons and their wrong motivation, Jesus gave them something that they did not expect. He gave them a great spiritual discourse.

The Bread of Life discourse; and this will launch the 3rd great event of that week. Jesus unequivocally presented Himself as the Savior, as the Messiah.

Israel, at this time, is on the brink; they are focused on materialism; on their own needs; and they have no room for a spiritual life. When the search for a spiritual life ceases, God gets our attention.

John 6:26 Jesus answered them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, you are seeking Me, not because you saw signs, but because you ate your fill of the loaves.

They reject the spiritual meaning of the miracles that they witnessed. It did not occur to them that Jesus is the bread of life, went genuine humility

Bobby is not a teacher of the health and wealth blessings which go with the spiritual life. We will have exactly what we need. How does a little food and feeling better compare with eternity in heaven?

John 6:27 Do not labor for the food that perishes, but for the food that endures to eternal life, which the Son of Man will give to you. For on him God the Father has set his seal."

Jesus is the Messiah. God has sealed Him in the office of Messiah. He has the stamp of God upon Him. There is an obvious comparison. The physical food of manna compared to the Lord Jesus Christ. He is the true Savior of man. What He gives is eternal; not temporal.

Spiritual food is unearned and it brings eternal satisfaction; you are eternally satisfied. The ultimate end in life must be grace; i.e., the bread of life, not legalism. Not the physical bread with no eternal value.

The crowd responds with legalism.

John 6:28 Then they said to him, "What must we do, to be doing the works of God?"

They ask, "What can we do, to work the works of God?" A religion of ritual and works. Keeping the law and all kinds of purification and animal sacrifices. Whatever you can do by way of good works is what God wants in order to accept us. Recently, the pope said that people did not even have to believe in Jesus for salvation; they only needed to do good works. They had to put together some acceptable righteousness; that is what they believed in. This is one of the most difficult things for a person to accept.

Lesson #0500

John 6:26–37 Life of Christ

9/15/2013 2Sunday

We understood the difference between grace and works a long time ago. But that makes us unique. However, grace is one of the least understood concepts in the world.

A young woman was not reacting not well to what Bobby was teaching in the previous session. This woman was so angry, and she did not think that her works would exclude her from God's approbation. She stormed out in the last 2 minutes. She represented those Jews who were asking what kinds of works they needed to accomplish. There is nothing that we can do to make God smile upon us. If we do not understand grace, that upsets us. It is quite sad. A rejection of God's grace.

John 6:28 Then they said to him, "What must we do, to be doing the works of God?"

Jesus has presented Himself as the Bread of Life. And these Jews ask Him, "What can we do, to work the works of God?"

Jesus gives them the grace answer. Jesus defines for them what the work of God is. It is not their works which impresses God.

John 6:29 Jesus answered them, "This is the work of God, that you believe in Him Whom He has sent."

There are no works involved in coming to God. Our works are the grace of God. All of this comes through God's grace. But our salvation comes first. Without this understanding, we have no understanding of the life that we have.

John 6:30 So they said to Him, "Then what sign do You do, that we may see and believe You? What work do You perform?"

They are asking for another miracle, a work to prove His claim. It is as if they had never seen any miracle. They were not convinced by what Jesus has done before. The gospel is right in front of them, and they refuse to believe; they refuse to accept Jesus. Such will fill up the Lake of Fire.

Legalism Versus Grace

1. Legalism, I will do works of righteousness to be accepted by God. My good deeds will make me acceptable to God. The idea is, God needs my help and my works; God will save me.
2. Grace says that God sent His Son to do the acceptable works to God.

3. We are born unacceptable and our works do not change this.

4. Not by works of righteousness that we have done...

That woman has probably never heard Bible doctrine before. The crowd continues in that works mode.

John 6:31 Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness; as it is written, 'He gave them bread from heaven to eat.'"

So they give Jesus an example. They equate physical bread with what is provided for them out of heaven. They go back to the Old Testament. Moses did not create the bread. He announced the bread. So they are asking, could Jesus do what Moses did? "Can You produce that kind of bread for us?"

Moses took them out of the land; He freed them from slavery; He spoke to a rock and water came out. "Can You do that?"

John 6:32 Jesus then said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, it was not Moses who gave you the bread from heaven, but My Father gives you the true bread from heaven.

Jesus replies to them. Jesus gives them absolute truth. It was not Moses who gave your fathers bread, but My Father Who gave you the bread from heaven.

John 6:33 For the bread of God is He Who comes down from heaven and gives life to the world."

What Is He Talking About?

1. Jesus had to remind them that it was not Moses who gave manna; it was God.
2. In their minds, they were comparing Christ to Moses, a purely physical comparison. They were not thinking of eternity or of spiritual things.
3. Jesus points out the error of their thinking. He was not unequal to God; He I Go. Jesus came down; He is God.

The Bread of Heaven Contrasted with Manna

1. Jesus compares the physical bread with the Bread of Heaven.
2. Manna was from heaven, but it only sustained physical life. They ate it and it was good for their physical life. It provided proof that God was with Israel in the desert. He provided for them
3. This physical manna did not impart eternal life. No matter how much God gave them, it was temporary sustenance.
4. Jesus is the True bread from heaven.
5. His presence was proof that God was among them. He was the bread of heaven. Not manna. He would provide spiritual sustenance.

John 6:34 They said to him, "Sir, give us this bread always."

They call Him Lord, but in terms of a man. "Keep on giving us this bread."

John 6:35 Jesus said to them, "I am the Bread of Life; whoever comes to Me shall not hunger, and whoever believes in Me shall never thirst."

Jesus took the Old Testament and turned it around. Manna is not permanent; the physical water is not permanent. It was not the bread that Jesus provided for the 5000 that would permanently save them. God provided water in the desert, but this would not quench their thirst forever.

Jesus Is the Bread of Heaven and the Living Water

1. Just as God sent manna in the Old Testament to physically feed the people and water,...
2. Now God was sending the true manna; and the true water. Everything that happened to Israel speaks of the grace of God. And here are the Jews 14 centuries later and they do not get the message or the grace.
3. Jesus Christ was the nourishment that gave eternal life to the world. For God so loved the world that He gave His uniquely-born Son, that whoever should believe in Him should have eternal life.

John 6:36 But I said to you that you have seen Me and yet do not believe.

"You have seen everything you need to see, and you want more signs?" They still do not believe. He has told them and has shown them. Only God could provide the food which Jesus provided for them.

These Jews are so hard-headed. They cannot believe their own eyes. They have not correctly identified themselves with Him as Messiah. These Jews wanted a breadwinner. They rejected Him as the One Who could save them. They wanted the physical bread, but they would not eat of the eternal bread.

Jesus is gracious to these people, regardless of their negative volition.

John 6:37 All that the Father gives me will come to Me, and whoever comes to Me I will never cast out.

There is encouragement to the crowd; but this is specifically spoken to the disciples. They know that Jesus is the Messiah. The disciples need a lesson in eternal security. They are seeing Jesus rejected, so they need to understand that they will be eternally saved.

A point which is often lost. Those the Father sends Him will come to Him and not be cast out. So then we have Calvinism versus Arminianism.

John 6:22–71 is the Bread of Life discourse. Eating of Christ is salvation. There is one area which requires us to stop and look at this carefully. Many of the Jews have rejected Christ. There was quite a crowd, and clearly they did not believe in Jesus Christ; and He was blasting them for this unbelief, despite all that they have seen.

These people wanted a political king and free food and a gravy train of healing. They were off base. They would not eat of the eternal Bread; they only wanted the physical bread. They have not correctly identified themselves with Jesus Christ as their Messiah.

The disciples are overwhelmed with what they have seen. The disciples recognize that this is God and man in One Person; and they are watching all of these people on negative volition, who have rejected Jesus as God. The disciples therefore, needed to be encouraged.

John 6:37 All that the Father gives me will come to Me, and whoever comes to Me I will never cast out.

This sounds pretty deterministic. People appear to be saved on God's will alone. The paradox is this, there is the element of free will; of free choice. The element of free will is present; not believing is a legitimate choice, and this is not predetermined.

Has God predetermined who would be in heaven and who would be in hell? How do we reconcile God's irresistible will with man's free will. Do we have free will; can we really believe?

The short answer is, the sovereignty of God and the free will of man coexist as they meet at the cross. This doctrine has been a conundrum in the Christian world for centuries, and many good believers have come to different conclusions.

Divine Decrees and the Sovereignty of God

1. Definition of the problem: the sovereign will of God is laid out in something called the divine decrees in eternity past. This is not an on-going progressive thing. It was laid down and finished.
2. A decree is God's eternal, holy, wise and sovereign purpose; it is His will. God comprehends all things at once; it is all in His mind at one time. They conditions, heir causes, their conditions and their relations to others; and He knows their certain futuration.
3. The source of the divine decree is the omniscience of God; God knows all; He has always known everything.
4. The Father knows everything and He comprehends all events before they happen; before He created the world. These things are all in His mind in eternity past.

5. Knowing these things, His omniscience foreseeing it all, He decreed that it would happen. He knew it so He decreed it. Because He knew everything that would happen, then He decreed that it would happen.
6. The decrees are a direct result of His knowledge. The decree determines what will happen at a given place and time based upon God's omniscience.
7. Since He knew what events would occur, because He is omniscient, He then decreed, or He guaranteed that they would happen. The decree is a guarantee. What He says happens; what He decrees happens.
8. The decree is His eternal and His immutable will that stands behind all events of history.
9. What is decreed is guaranteed to happen, in just the way that God wants it to happen; no room for mistakes or happenstance.
10. This is the foundation for so much of theology; this is theology proper. The fact that God guarantees that all of these things would happen, God makes certain that all events in the history of mankind occurs. He did this before He created mankind. This took place before angels and before the heavens and the earth. It always was.
11. So the decree is the will of God so that it renders certain all events of history. God foreknew all of these things.
12. Thus it can be said, that He decreed or guaranteed all things that would actually happen to every individual.

Is it God's knowledge and decree that makes us saved? After all, God has decreed everything, hasn't He? The answer is, no.

Free Will and the Sovereignty of God

1. The decree makes certain, given truly free will, a person who believes is guaranteed the efficacy of faith in Christ. He is guaranteed salvation.
2. This is the difference between a limited and an unlimited atonement by Christ.
3. Limited atonement, a false doctrine:
 - 1) For whom did Christ die? Who was it for? All of us or just we who believed? God decreed who would be saved and who would not be saved in limited atonement. The free will of man is not truly free.
 - 2) What was the extent of Christ's atonement. Christ died only for the elect. In limited atonement, God died only for those who are chosen by God. God selected those who would believe.
 - 3) In limited atonement, Christ died only for the elect; only for those God decreed would be saved. God decreed it and therefore, they were saved. Those are only the election.
 - 4) So in this view, believing is not a true free will decision.
 - 5) It is merely the pre-determined act, faith, an act of acknowledging one's election and acknowledging that God has chosen you.
 - 6) So election and salvation or condemnation was decreed by God in eternity past for every person.

- 7) That means that only those God chose by decree are saved.
 - 8) Hence, Christ dies only for those who are chosen.
 - 9) Limited atonement by Christ based upon election and the decree. This is often called Calvinism. This is a false doctrine.
4. Unlimited atonement, the true doctrine.
- 1) Anyone in this world, regardless of gender, race, IQ, etc., can believe in Jesus. Whoever ex 1Tim. 2:6 1John 2:2 believes is saved.
 - 2) The atonement of Christ has benefit for all mankind; not just for the elect; all can be saved. They will reject or believe by their own choice.
 - 3) Reconciliation, propitiation and redemption are all 3 aspects of what Christ did for us on the cross. We are reconciled to God; God is propitiated, and Christ redeemed us. Unlimited atonement gives all men the clear option of faith in Him. This is not because God decreed one or the other actions in eternity past.
 - 4) None of the decisions for or against Christ was predetermined by the plan of God.
5. Even though God is sovereign, the decrees the free will of man. God's decree as we know in eternity past determined all future events. One of those events is us believing in Jesus Christ. If He decreed it, it is inevitable. There is the concept of faith all throughout the Bible.
- 1) Man still has free will, even those God has determined who would be saved. It is our free will to decide, but knowing how we would choose is God's sovereign will.
 - 2) The decree does not determine who will be saved; it guarantees the efficacy of those who would believe.
 - 3) The decree does not determine anyone's decision.
 - 4) The decree reflects any person's decision and it guarantees the efficacy of their free will decision.
 - 5) So salvation is not conditioned upon election; or upon the decree, but upon faith in Christ. Our faith is truly from our free will. Our faith would mean nothing if God had not decreed the cross of Jesus Christ. They both operation in tandem.
 - 6) God's omniscience foresaw that some would believe in Christ. He decreed the certainty of that free will choice.
 - 7) Those who make the choice for Christ are the elect. They are elected to privilege. The elect are elected to privilege as believers in Eph. 2.
 - 8) God simply knew that ahead of time certain ones would believe. There was a certainty to a time and place.
 - 9) The decree fixes with certainty what will happen, but it does not cause it. God's sovereignty and man's free will work hand in hand.

Those who have believed in Jesus Christ will always remain saved; they will never be cast out. Nothing that we can do can relieve us of this salvation.

God guarantees that our decision to believe in Jesus Christ will be effective for salvation. So believers will continue to have eternal life and they will never be cast out.

John 6:38 For I have come down from heaven, not to do My Own will but the will of Him Who sent Me.

Now we are back to the will of God in v. 39. In eternity past, God the Father determined that Jesus Christ would come to this earth as the Son of God.

John 6:39 And this is the will of Him Who sent me, that I should lose nothing of all that He has given Me, but raise it up on the last day.

Jesus will never lose us and, at the last day, we will be resurrected.

The will of the Father is the divine decrees again. Everyone who looks upon the Son and believes in Him; the decrees meet the free will of man at the cross. It is guaranteed that he will have eternal life, and Jesus will raise him up on the last day.

John 6:40 For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on the Son and believes in Him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day."

Not even God can cast you out. People say, "I don't want to be a Christian." And God cannot cast them out.

We just got the whole scope of the Christian life; and how it is all set up. We are in the mind of God, always. That gives us some perspective on God, in our finite way.

Probably only 3 churches in American have gotten to doctrine of divine decrees that quickly.

Lesson #0502

John 6:40–47 Life of Christ

9/19/2013 Thurs

The Jews have seen some fantastic signs and miracles and have heard great teaching; but now they are grumbling about what Jesus has said. Imperfect active indicative of gogudzō. It sounds like it means.

Verb: gogudzō (γογγύζω) [pronounced gong-GOOD-zoh], which means, 1) to murmur, mutter, grumble, say anything against in a low tone; 1a) of the cooing of doves; 1b) of those who confer secretly together; 1c) of those who discontentedly complain. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #1111.

The Grumblers and Their Negative Volition

1. This outer expression indicates a rejection of Jesus Christ.
2. This reveals their preference for self-righteousness and human works. These were very self righteous people. Jesus was presenting His Deity clearly, and they rejected that.

3. The Jews would not identify Jesus as the Messiah and the Savior. They refused Him as the Bread of Life to be eaten for eternal life.
4. In their legalism, faith alone was not enough; they wanted to contribute their works.
5. The Bread of Life which provided eternal life was not enough for them. That is not what they wanted. They wanted a political king; a geo-political king. They wanted free bread and some entertainment.

We cannot make ourselves acceptable to God by what we do. It has nothing to do with being good and moral.

John 6:41 So the Jews grumbled about him, because He said, "I am the bread that came down from heaven."

Jesus is from this general area and His lineage is well-known. This has been discussed. If He has been born of Joseph and Mary, then how could He come down from heaven? They believed Jesus to be beneath them. They do not believe that someone from heaven needed to come down and provide them with salvation. They could do this themselves; they were working themselves through heaven.

The Jews had rejected Jesus as the Bread of Life.

Jesus is the Perfect Teacher, and He was not always nice about it. Jesus tells them for the second time that He has come down from heaven.

John 6:42 They said, "Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How does he now say, 'I have come down from heaven'?"

So the question is, did Jesus come from heaven or from Joseph and Mary? They assume that He is the genetic Son of Joseph. They reason that He could not come down from heaven, so they see Him as a liar.

They saw Jesus as having been born through human creation. They would not believe that He is God; they rejected the doctrine of the Hypostatic Union.

Satan will attack every truth and every major doctrine of Christianity. Jesus had a claim to Deity and he proclaimed this to them all. And the people here rejected this claim.

Jesus has to be seen as more than just a man. Jesus put Himself on a par with God the Father. These Jews were griping about this claim.

Jesus then says emphatically. "Stop your grumbling." Christ knows how ignorant these people are.

John 6:43 Jesus answered them, "Do not grumble among yourselves."

The grumbling is negative volition. They did not believe and they had not been drawn to Christ by the Father.

Not even their Old Testament Scriptures were enough to draw them to Christ. They would not believe.

John 6:36 But I said to you that you also have seen Me and did not believe.

Jesus revealed the Father because He is God.

This Is the Proof That Jesus Came down from Heaven

1. No one can reveal God but God.
2. When man tries to define God, apart from Scripture, it is merely speculation.
3. You cannot ever find God through the thoughts of man; not through philosophy or through theology. It must be Biblically based.
4. You look and find God through His Own revelation about Himself. He provides His Word for us. It takes a long time to fully understand God.
5. That revelation of God is from the divinely inspired Scripture and from the Living Word Who is Jesus Christ.
6. Without that revelation from God, God cannot be known. This is why God has given us His Son and His Word. This reveals Who God is.

John 6:44 No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him. And I will raise him up on the last day.

Jesus has seen God and Jesus has revealed God.

John 6:46 not that anyone has seen the Father except He who is from God; He has seen the Father.

John 1:18 No one has seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, that One declares Him.

Only the Son has declared Him. He has explained Him.

Jesus Reveals God

1. God is Spirit, so no one can see Him.
2. He is invisible to the eye and unfathomable to the finite mind of man.
3. God is unknown to us unless He chooses to reveal Himself. Unless He does that, humans cannot know or see Him.
4. Christ here claims to have seen God and to explain God to man, the only One Who can. Bobby can explain based upon only what is revealed.

If all this is true, then how can Jesus, as a mere man, see and know and reveal God. Jesus is making a claim that He is more than a man. He is claiming to have a close, personal relationship with God the Father.

John 6:45 It is written in the Prophets, 'And they will all be taught by God.' Everyone who has heard and learned from the Father comes to Me--

Who better to explain the Father than the Son?

Only God Can Reveal God

1. Only the One Who has come from the Father can reveal the Father.
2. No living human being can be face to face with God come from heaven and explain God unless He is God.
3. Both Father and Son are the same in essence. One can explain the Other because they are the same. They are different members of the Trinity.
4. The claim in Christ here is that He explains Him, this means that Jesus is God incarnate.
5. It is through seeing Him and His explanation of God that anyone can see and understand God.

John 6:46 not that anyone has seen the Father except he who is from God; he has seen the Father.

Heb 1:2–3 ...in these last days He spoke to us in the Son, whom He appointed heir of all; through whom He indeed made the ages; who being the shining splendor of His glory, and the express image of His essence, and upholding all things by the Word of His power, having made purification of our sins through Himself, He sat down on the right of the Majesty on high, Psa. 110:1

The Age of Israel is coming to an end; the last days.

God Has Spoken to Us Through His Son

1. "Spoken to us" is a revelation from God the Son.
2. God has given us the Son through Whom He has revealed Himself.
3. The world sees and hears the words of Jesus Christ. We will not fully understand God until we see Him in heaven. All we need to know is revealed by Jesus Christ.
4. We can understand His absolute love; His grace, which is incomprehensible. We can understand His perfect righteousness and justice. Only revealed in His Word. All that finite man can understand about God.
5. The world sees God through Jesus Christ. Through what He has said and done. He is God and true humanity in One Person.

One God and 3 Persons is only found in Scripture. Christ is equal to God in essence. What does He inherit. Jesus inherits all things. This is a picture of the sovereignty of Jesus Christ; His absolute sovereignty.

It is through God the Son that God the Father made the worlds. Jesus Christ executed the creation of the universe. This reveals the omnipotence of Jesus Christ.

Jesus has shown His power over nature in a multiplicity of ways. He stopped a huge storm; He walked upon water. He is the Creator and the Master of all things nature.

Heb 1:2–3 ...in these last days He spoke to us in the Son, whom He appointed heir of all; through whom He indeed made the ages; who being the shining splendor of His glory, and the express image of His essence, and upholding all things by the Word of His power, having made purification of our sins through Himself, He sat down on the right of the Majesty on high, Psa. 110:1

Jesus Is the Direct Glory of God

1. This is not a reflected brightness like the moon reflects the sun.
2. Christ has the inherent brightness like the direct rays of the sun.
3. Jesus' glory comes from Him being divine.
4. Jesus is the very source of glory, just like God the Father. He is the expressed image; He is the exact representation; the exact essence of God.
5. His glory is the same as God the Father's glory.
6. Therefore, God the Son is the exact representation of God the Father because He is divine.

Today, we cannot see Jesus Christ because He is sitting at the right hand of the Father. However, we know Him through His written Word.

No one has revealed God the Father except Him Who has come down from heaven. Therefore, Jesus can reveal God in all His radiant glory. We are incapable of such a view.

Some people in the Old Testament saw the Angel of the Lord, Who was Jesus Christ. He appeared to them. This is a theophany; an appearance of God. No one has seen the fully unmasked glory of God; no one can see this with our human eyes no more than can we look directly at the sun. It would be like standing next to the sun and looking at it for an instant before being incinerated. We cannot look at the sun anymore than we can look at God.

There is no other search; there is no other Person to find to speak to. He is the final authority on God and man's spiritual destiny. He maintains all life.

John 6:47 Truly, truly, I say to you, whoever believes has eternal life.

Muslims say that Jesus never claimed to be God. They could not be more wrong.

Lesson #0503

John 1:18 6:38, 46–53 Life of Christ 9/22/2013 1Sunday

Bobby is saddened by those who think that love is forthcoming simply because you feel good. We worship God in Berachah in Spirit and in truth.

Jesus makes it clear that He is the source of eternal life and that salvation comes through faith in Him. If Jesus came directly from heaven, then He is more than a man. This place of origin is unequalled.

John 6:38 For I have come down from heaven, not to do My Own will but the will of Him Who sent Me.

John 6:46 not that anyone has seen the Father except he who is from God; he has seen the Father.

God can only explain God. There is no view of God from man apart from a Divine Witness. This is another claim of Deity.

John 1:18 No one has seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, that One declares [explains] Him.

The only one Who can declare God is His Son. The exception clause is the uniquely-born Son. Jesus has a face to face intimate personal relationship with God the Father. That is what it means by being in the bosom of the Father.

Theophanies or appearances from God, the Angel of God. Yet no one else has seen God in all of His radiant glory. No man on earth can look directly on God in all of His glory and live. Ex. 33:20 "No man can look upon God and live." This would be like looking at the sun from 100 miles away; you would be incinerated. And Jesus claims to have seen God on a face to face basis.

No living human being could be face to face with God unless He is also God; and that is Who Jesus is claiming to be. Therefore, they are of the same essence. Jesus can speak of God in intimate and accurate terms.

Christ dwelled with God the Father and then He came in the 1st advent to reveal God to us.

John 6:47 Truly, truly [= most assuredly], I say to you, whoever believes has eternal life.

Only God is inherently eternal. As such, only He can impart eternal life. This is how God gives us everlasting life. But only God can do this.

There are many people who believe if they are not baptized or they sin too much, they can lose salvation. Where does God draw that line? That is the contention of those who do not believe in eternal security. There is no salvation or eternal life in anyone else but Jesus.

John's gospel presents the strongest case for the Deity of Jesus Christ; and it is because of His Own words.

One of the great criticisms of Christianity by Islam is that Jesus never claimed to be God. These passages make it pretty obvious that Jesus understood Himself to be God and He said so, in no uncertain terms. He is not the son of Joseph, but He came down from heaven. He has a unique origin.

Undiminished Deity and complete humanity in One Person forever. These Jews hearing Him understand that salvation is only through faith in Him.

Eating the bread here is not literal; it is metaphorical. He eat bread; anyone can do that; and we choose to believe in Jesus Christ.

John 6:48 I am the bread of life.

The fathers of these Jews ate the manna in the desert-wilderness, yet they are all dead.

John 6:49 Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died.

There is a bread from heaven which can be eaten and they would never die. If anyone eats of this bread, that one will never die.

John 6:50 This is the bread that comes down from heaven, so that one may eat of it and not die.

And the Jews asked, "Where is this bread?"

Then Jesus tells them, "That bread is My flesh. I will give it for the life of the world."

John 6:51 I am the living bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. And the bread that I will give for the life of the world is My flesh."

1Peter 2:24 He Himself bore our sins in His body on the tree, so that, having died to sins, we might live for righteousness; by His wounding you have been healed.

Jesus as the Bread of Heaven

1. Manna had to be repeatedly eaten to sustain physical life.
2. Manna could not prevent spiritual death. It could stave off physical death for awhile. Jesus' point is, "Your fathers are dead."
3. Jesus is a bread of a different kind. There is bread aka manna; and there is the bread of Jesus Christ.
4. If anyone ate this bread, they would never die, spiritually. No eternal death.
5. Jesus Christ as the bread, Who could be eaten, was the source of eternal life. This required them to believe in Him. This is simple for us to understand; but it was difficult for those listening to Him to understand. The Person and Work of Jesus Christ in this One-bread analogy.

Then arguments broke out. How can this man give us His flesh?

John 6:51 I am the living bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. And the bread that I will give for the life of the world is My flesh."

Jesus Christ knew ahead of time what His purpose was; He knew about the cross. This was not a surprise to Him when it happened. He knew that he was giving up His life for the life of the world. He knew that He must be given to be offered as a substitute for the sins of mankind. By His death, life came to the world. It is the only way life can come to this world.

They were thinking of bread as literal; and they could not understand eating his flesh for eternal life. They were repulsed. "We're not cannibals." That is taking a metaphorical statement literally.

John 6:52 The Jews then disputed among themselves, saying, "How can this man give us His flesh to eat?"

How is it possible for this man to give us His flesh to eat? This is a simple metaphor and this metaphor escaped them. There are all sorts of metaphors in the Old Testament; there are many metaphors in the Old Testament dealing with the eating of God's Word. In churches all over Houston, the United States and in the world, they do not get it.

John 6:53 So Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you.

Lesson #0504

John 6:52– Life of Christ

9/22/2013 2Sunday

A guy at Berachah was asked to conduct a revival. He will use the Bread of Life discourse at the Huntsville Prison. We know the gospel and we almost tune it out. This is so unforgettable. We can always remember it. It has a great impact on those who hear it.

Still, there are those who reject the gospel of Jesus Christ, for the most ridiculous reasons. Some actually think that Jesus is speaking literally of His Own body, and they are repulsed by this.

John 6:52 The Jews then disputed among themselves, saying, "How can this man give us His flesh to eat?"

What is this zombie-stuff? This quarreling is a violent argument which broke out among these Jews. These are heated arguments. Some probably understood it; and others were arguing that it was a messtup discourse. They are negative toward the gospel, so they rejected all that He said. "Why would He offer His flesh to be consumed? What does that have to do with eternal life?” This was repulsive to the Jews. The idea of consuming Christ’s literal flesh is alive and well today in the Catholic Eucharist. The disciples understood this as being metaphorical; they had already believed in Jesus. How could the Jews understand this literally? It is crazy. Jesus was present with them, alive and well. Was He offering himself up as a meal? Metaphorically but not literally.

Some theologies today which take this concept literally. Bobby mentions this not to go on a tirade against another religion, but this illustrates the thinking of these Jews. We understand perfectly what this means. Faith alone in Christ alone for everlasting life. There is a doctrine alive and well today known as transubstantiation. This literal doctrine was accepted first by the Roman church in A.D. 1215. It was later spelled out in doctrinal form between A.D. 1545–1563; and it became a doctrine after the Reformation. In this doctrine, the Roman Church took the statements of John 5:50–51 took this to refer to the Communion Supper.

At this Last Supper, Jesus was sitting with His disciples at the table, and they understood that Jesus was not speaking of them to ingest Him literally. The Roman Church took this to be literal as their dogma and made it into their sacrament of Communion. Even Martin Luther had consubstantiation.

When the priest says the appropriate liturgical words in the mass, the bread is transformed to the literal flesh and the wine is transformed into His literal blood, even though there is no perceptible chemical change. Real flesh and real blood is their dogma. Christ is in fact physically present in the bread and the wine. When ingested, this is uniting with Christ in his sacrifice.

Every time a partaker eats and drinks the bread and the wine, this becomes another sacrificial event post-cross. The priest is offering up the literal blood and flesh of Christ as a renewed sin offering. This makes their communion and on-going sacrifice. This is a denial of His finished word on the cross. But Jesus said, “It is finished.” It was once for all; and no atonement for sin need ever be made again.

The sacrifices were a picture of the sacrifice of Jesus Christ. But, when Jesus did it, it was once for all. Christ died for us, body, blood; and there should be no more recurring sacrifices. They looked forward to what Jesus would do. These are illustrations of what Jesus would do. His sacrifice is all that is needed for our salvation. The great fallacy of transubstantiation is, this is in direct contradiction to the actual salvation event. The event recurs over and over again, offering Jesus up over and over again in the communion ritual. This is why their sacrament is necessary for salvation. You are not ingesting the body and blood of Christ, making Him sacrificed over and over again. Salvation is not a one-time event, but it is a ongoing repetitive ritual which continues to give them eternal life.

This explains why these Jews could look upon this as being literal.

Communion is a memorial; it looks back and commemorates what Jesus did. The grape juice and the bread is not His literal flesh and blood; it is metaphorical, illustrating what Jesus did on our behalf. We do this in remembrance of Him.

Ingesting Christ literally signifies a sacrament that is directed toward men. But Christ's sacrifice was a sacrifice to God for men. He was our substitute. He is the Mediator between God and man.

Our salvation is taken care of if we believe in Him even for a second in this life. That is the power of the sacrifice of Jesus Christ. Faith alone in Christ alone based upon the finished work of our Lord.

John 6:52 The Jews then disputed among themselves, saying, "How can this man give us His flesh to eat?"

These people reject the gospel because they tripped over the literal flesh and blood of Jesus. People today in the Catholic religion trip over this exact same thing.

Bobby has a hard time believing that they took His words in this literal way. They had no excuse to misinterpret this. This same metaphor was in the Old Testament; it was used for taking in something spiritual. Jer. 15:16 Your words were found, and I ate them. Your words became a delight to me and the joy of my heart, for I am called by Your name, LORD God of Hosts. This is obviously metaphorical, and no one misunderstood this meaning. This refers to the assimilation to Bible doctrine into the soul. I found your words and I ate them. We are eating the very words of God; we are metabolizing them.

These Jews rejected Jesus as the Messiah, and they reject the gospel and they rejected it all. So this is their negative volition. It was blind and boundless. A person with negative volition to the gospel who rejects the gospel frequently offers up rejections and humanistic proof for their rejection. Today, people twist the words of the gospel in order to reject it. They reject the Bible as the Word of God and therefore, they can reject the gospel. They call Christianity a psychological crutch, like the power of positive thinking.

They will even question, today, whether believing in Jesus is too simple. They want to do something for salvation.

Or, people observe Christians doing bad, being hypocritical; and they say, "I don't want any part of it." Or they will cite evolution as their objection. They will throw objection after objection into the face of truth.

There are logical ways to deal with their objections, which involve logic; but often arguing with people face to face gets you nowhere, most of the time. Whatever their objections are, they are refusing to acknowledge Jesus Christ as the source of eternal life. No matter what the objection is, they are ultimately rejecting Jesus. If they ever believe in Him, it is because God brings circumstances into their lives to turn their head around.

Even Christ's Own brothers believed in Him when they saw Him resurrected.

Sometimes, the only way to get through to them is the simple gospel—that Jesus died for their sins. Most people just toss tracts away. There are ways to present the gospel that are much more effective than handing out tracts.

Often, when you have a personal relationship with someone, a tract might be read that you hand to them.

Bobby someone in Tyler, TX put these tracts into Barnes and Noble books; and Barnes and Noble called them up and threatened to sue. Jesus presented the gospel in a wonderful metaphor, as the bread of life; and some rejected it because they did not want to listen to the idea that they must eat the physical body of Jesus or drink His literal blood.

John 6:53 So Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you.

Lesson #0505

John 6: Life of Christ

9/25/2013 Wed

John 6:53–54 So Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you have no life in you. Whoever feeds on My flesh and drinks My blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day.

Jesus repeats in detail of eating His flesh and drinking His blood. This will be another lesson in salvation through Christ alone. This is an incredible illustration of how the gospel works in our lives. Repetition is always a good teaching device for implanting Bible doctrine. This was for those who believe in Him.

Jesus takes the metaphor of the consumption of His flesh and drink His blood; and the Jews who hear this, find it revolting, as they do not understand it. It is savage and heathen to them. However, this could have simply been an excuse not to believe in Him.

They quarreled amongst each other, saying, "How does this Man give us His flesh to eat?' To them, they seem to think that He wants them to fill up a cup with His blood and drink it up. Did they really think this?

There are many times in Scripture when there is a metaphor or a figure of speech. Many times a metaphor can refer a spiritual truth. Metaphors in the Bible always have a literal interpretation; they do not stand for another metaphor for something else. This metaphor stands for a piece of soteriological doctrine.

The Jews many time in the Scripture there were metaphors with a literal interpretation. This was true throughout the Old Testament.

Jer. 15:16 Your words were found, and I ate them. Your words became a delight to me and the joy of my heart, for I am called by Your name, LORD God of Hosts.

Jeremiah received these words and He ate them. They became a joy and a delight of his heart. Jeremiah is not speaking of tearing out a piece of a scroll and eating it. But the Jews, who know this Scripture, try to take what Jesus says literally.

This eating means to hear, to understand, to believe, and thereby to digest the food (the words of doctrine). This is metabolizing doctrine. However, we are not nourished with God's Word on a one time basis. This has to be done repeatedly.

In this instance with Jesus, this is a one-time eating of His flesh and blood, which is believing in Him.

John 6:53 So Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you have no life in you.

John 6:54 Whoever feeds on My flesh and drinks My blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day.

Jesus now explains the metaphor. These people have not appropriated once and for all His atoning sacrifice. The entire benefit of salvation, which meant a guarantee of resurrection in the end time. Jesus promises to raise such a one up on the last day.

This is a metaphor for the saving work of our Lord on the cross. Drinking His blood is faith in the finished work of Christ. This is why transubstantiation is wrong. That is a continuing drinking the blood; but that blood is shed only one time for all men.

John 6:55 For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink.

This drinking of the blood and eating of the flesh results in a person abiding in Him and Jesus in him.

When you take in food, it becomes a part of your body. It is metabolized and it becomes a part of you. You chew it, it is mixed with saliva, and this is the process of metabolizing. You decide to chew, but the metabolization occurs naturally. God has provided the physical mechanism. Once this food is in the stomach, then we have something which will sustain our life. The food is turned into complex sugars and it is absorbed into the blood stream and sent throughout the body. Once the food is chewed and swallowed, the rest of the process is complete involuntary. Even if you are bulimic, some of this process will take place. This is God's gracious process for sustaining life. It occurs without our effort to make it work. The food strengthens the body; it becomes the power.

The Assimilation of Food by the Body

1. Food assimilates into the body through the metabolism process and it nourishes and sustains the body.
2. That food that is metabolized becomes the very substance and the life of the body. It is all as a result of the metabolizing process.

3. You have to eat the food before it converts to energy to feed the body. When anyone believes in Jesus Christ, this is taking in the gospel, and God's grace takes over in the spiritual metabolism process.

The mechanics for eating and metabolizing doctrine. Operation Z. Bobby has a new diagram. This is what happens when you eat of the bread of life and drink the blood of Christ. You hear the gospel. The food on the table. That is the gospel. The positive volition is chewing and swallowing the gospel. Then you decide that you are going to swallow it. All we have to do is to express positive volition. At this point, the Holy Spirit metabolizes the gospel and it is metabolized and processed. It becomes effective for our salvation.

This is a wonderful metaphor . There are two types of metabolism: food and doctrine. These things become inherent to your life when you believe.

The top circle and the bottom circle.

The word abide is one of the most important words in the gospel of John; this is the gospel of belief. We have metaphors for believing in Christ. Now we are talking about abiding in Christ. Μενω, which means to abide, to remain, to continue; but in the figurative sense, as it is found here, it refers to a believers who partakes in salvation through faith in Christ. The person remains or abides as being in union with Christ. We share everything that He has and everything that He is. There is a mutually abiding relationship. This can be described as the closest of relationships in life. This is the bottom line of the bread of life discourse. All you have to do is eat of the gospel of Jesus Christ, and you come out on the other end as a believer, and you are set up to grow in grace and knowledge.

John 6:56 Whoever feeds on My flesh and drinks My blood abides in Me, and I in him.

Lesson #0506

John 6: Life of Christ

9/26/2013 Thurs

We are in the Bread of Life discourse, and when He gets into a discourse, the doctrine really flows.

Summary verse:

John 6:54 Whoever feeds on My flesh and drinks My blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day.

Points on this Summary Verse

1. Only an eternal Person can give eternal life.
2. The flesh and blood of Christ are metaphors. The means of salvation and eternal life. Jesus must be a man; and His blood must be given for us.
3. His flesh and blood represent the atonement. This is all wrapped up in the substitutionary death for us.

4. Eating the flesh and drinking the blood of Christ represents a person who expresses faith alone in Christ alone.
5. The flesh of Christ represents the body of His humanity, which was given for us. He bore our sins in His body on the cross, so that we might die to sin and live to righteousness. We can live the spiritual life based upon what Jesus has given us.
6. The blood of Christ is figurative language.
7. Drinking His blood is once again an expression of faith in the finished work of Christ. "It is finished."
8. That means assimilating the benefits of His substitutionary spiritual death on the cross. This physical metabolism is a metaphor for spiritual metabolism.

Jesus is speaking of a spiritual metabolism and not a physical one.

What Is the Metaphor?

1. The involuntary actions in the body illustrate God's grace in saving us. Jesus uses this analogy for our salvation.
2. The believer eats of the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ which is represented by His flesh and blood; the gospel is eating. We eat and drink the gospel. That is the analogy.
3. Once we eat and drink the grace process begins that makes faith in Christ effective for salvation. Bobby trusts that everyone in Berachah has chewed at eaten the gospel.

We begin our metabolism by seeing food on the table. We must decide whether or not to eat it. At that moment, we have a choice, to eat that food, something else, or to not at all. When we accept the food and put it into our mouths, the metabolism process begins. Once it is swallowed, it goes past the epiglottis and down the esophagus tube, and there it is processed for life-giving nourishment. This is something that we all have; we all have this involuntary process available to us.

Bobby has a slide which he shows at this time. The gospel is the food here. This gospel is on the table. All that has to happen is to hear the gospel. That is how this whole process begins. There is the choice to believe in Jesus Christ or whether to reject Him.

The Holy Spirit acts as a human spirit. The Holy Spirit makes it palatable to a person. They understand the basic issues, and so they begin the process. Once faith is expressed and the gospel is swallowed, the Holy Spirit takes that faith and it is automatically moved down the esophagus to make it valid for regeneration. He makes our faith effective for salvation. He regenerates us. He creates a human spirit in us.

The Holy Spirit also baptizes the believer and places him in Christ. The information is metabolized and we are then given eternal life and put into Christ.

Then the believer abides in Christ.

John 6:56 Whoever feeds on My flesh and drinks My blood abides in Me, and I in him.

Abide is μενω, and in this, we share everything that Christ is and all that He has. People want to do all kinds of works, but it is simple; we just believe in Him. That is a grace procedure. Just like eating. It is all involuntary after we masticate our food.

But Jesus is also in us. This is a mutual abiding relationship based upon metabolizing the gospel. This is the closest relationship we will every have. No relationship on earth will be this close.

Bobby Is Going to Give an Example of this Closeness

1. Menô is sometimes used for the relationship of the 3 Members of the Trinity.
2. John 14:10b "The father abides in the Son."
3. The Father and the Son are inseparably united. They are separate persons, but have identical essence.
4. So they are inseparable in essence, purpose and thinking. All 3 members of the Trinity are on board for the plan of God.
5. Their communion in the Trinity, which is stated by Jesus Christ in John 17:21 they are so close that One might be said to indwell the Other. Same attributes; no difference. That is close.
6. The essential being of the Father is mirrored in the Son, so that the Son is the perfect image and counterpart of the Father. Heb. 1:2–3
7. John 1:32b The Holy Spirit remained upon Jesus.

John 17:22–23 I have given them the glory You have given Me. May they be one as We are one. I am in them and You are in Me. May they be made completely one, so the world may know You have sent Me and have loved them as You have loved Me. We become one with Christ, just as the Father and Son are one.

So We Know What Our Relationship Is and What it Is like

1. Every believer is assimilated into Christ through the metabolism process. We are united with Him because of faith alone in Christ alone and because of the grace of God and nothing else. We cannot earn this relationship.
2. The believer who metabolizes the gospel is baptized into Christ by the Holy Spirit. We share all that He is. We share His Sonship, His Kingship. Christ indwells us forever.
3. Because of the eating of His metaphorical flesh and drinking His metaphorical blood, there is the closeness of interpersonal connectedness. No one indwells us but God.
4. Having metabolized Christ through the eating of the gospel, there is complete assimilation into Him.
5. A bond an unbreakable bond an eternal relationship is formed with God. Not just in this life but for eternity. Can there be anything closer?

In the existence and working of this relationship, our relationship grows. This is what virtue love and reciprocal love are all about. That is all a part of this abiding that doctrine brings. The doctrine forms an intimacy of thought because it is the mind of Christ in you. There is also an eternal security remaining or abiding in Christ forever.

We do not take communion and redo the entire cross. This is not the same as eating the Word of God. This is spiritual growth. One must repeatedly eat doctrine. Just as we must repeatedly eat nourishment. This must occur on a repeated basis.

We will eat food down to the end of our lives. Doctrine is the same way. You do not reach a point when you no longer need to take in doctrine. When a believer ceases to metabolize, then he stops moving forward in the spiritual life. If you stop eating physical food, you will eventually die. If you stop taking in doctrine, you will not just stagnate, you will fall backwards.

This is a repeat of the metabolism analogy that R. B. Thieme, Jr. taught. When teaching the bread of life, Bobby rediscovered this. From beginning to the end, it is all about metabolism.

Summary

1. The metabolizing of food into the body is involuntary. Once you swallow, everything else happens. Your free will is no longer involved.
2. It is the same way spiritually. Metabolizing the gospel and doctrine into the soul. These are entirely grace procedures. This is the grace of the Holy Spirit, and not the merit of the eater. Once we swallow the gospel, we have no control over what happens to it.
3. In both cases, the process begins with positive volition. Physically, we swallow. Spiritually, it is faith alone in Christ alone. Then positive volition toward doctrine. Then it all continues involuntarily. Such a picture of God's grace. We hear it and accept it and the rest of it is done. The process is all about what the Holy Spirit does. We have positive volition or negative volition. We hear or don't hear; we accept or not.
4. Physical metabolizing of food is an automatic process of the body. Spiritual metabolism of the doctrine nourishes the spiritual life.

Lesson #0507

John 6:57 Life of Christ

9/29/2013 1Sunday

Jesus is speaking to a crowd of Jews in the synagogue, some of whom have believed in Him and some who have not. He has presented the metaphor of eating Jesus' flesh and blood.

John 6:57 As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so whoever feeds on me, he also will live because of me.

John 6:58 This is the bread that came down from heaven, not like the bread the fathers ate and died. Whoever feeds on this bread will live forever."

This will end the bread of life discourse, one of the 3 great discourses in the gospels. God the Father is eternal life. This is an attribute of God.

God the Father is the Living Father and He sent the true humanity of Jesus to the world, God the Father sent down the Bread of Life, just as He provided the manna in the wilderness. The Bread out of heaven opens the door to eternal life through His work on the cross. Therefore, anyone who eats of the bread will have the same life as the Father and the Son.

John 6:59 Jesus said these things in the synagogue, as he taught at Capernaum.

This makes it clear that Jesus is speaking to Jews. These same Jews have listened to Him for about a year or more. He uses an analogy that they understand exactly; the provision of manna in the wilderness. Manna did not provide everlasting life to those who ate of it. It extended their temporal life and it had to be eaten daily. The bread of life, when He is eaten, that is eternal life for the eater.

This is the final analogy that Jesus would make to these people.

The Jews believed that by keeping the traditions of the rabbis that this was their way to God; and Jesus is telling them, "No, that is not the way."

God has given the genuine life-bread from heaven; He is standing right there before them. Jesus Christ describes the life that He has come to give. Eternal life belongs to God alone and He is giving that. Human life is imputed to us at birth. Human life will be terminated at some point.

Physical death means nothing to us; it is a passageway from life to eternal life. It is nothing. We have eaten the flesh and drunk the blood of Christ, so that we are eternally saved.

These Jews in the synagogue; and these words were impossible for them to accept.

However, there were some disciples who had followed Jesus for perhaps a year, and they have decided that this is just too much. They cannot buy into this. They want Jesus as their political savior, but it is apparent that He is not going to do this. Jesus is not going to provide for their physical welfare. He will not be their geopolitical savior; so they began to reject Him.

Jesus was unique; He was a supernatural healer; the consummate teacher. He spoke and people listened to Him. But His words were difficult for some of them. They refused to metabolize His words.

The mechanics of salvation is hearing the gospel and understanding and believing it. Once you accept the gospel as truth, the Holy Spirit takes over from there; just as if you swallowed food. Your body takes that food and metabolizes it; and the Holy Spirit takes our faith and metabolizes that in our human spirit. With the gospel, the gospel believed is made efficacious for salvation.

John 6:60 When many of his disciples heard it, they said, "This is a hard saying; who can listen to it?"

Adjective: sklêros (σκληρός) [pronounced sklay-ROSS], which means, 1) hard, harsh, rough, stiff; 1a) of men: metaphorically harsh, stern, hard; 1b) of things: violent, rough, offensive, intolerable. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #4642.

John 6:61 But Jesus, knowing in himself that his disciples were grumbling about this, said to them, "Do you take offense at this?"

Verb: gogguzô (γογγύζω) [pronounced gong-GOOD-zoh], which means, 1) to murmur, mutter, grumble, say anything against in a low tone; 1a) of the cooing of doves; 1b) of those who confer secretly together; 1c) of those who discontentedly complain. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #1111.

Jesus is posing a scenario for their consideration.

John 6:62 Then what if you were to see the Son of Man ascending to where He was before?

So Jesus asks them, "What if you see the Son of Man ascending into heaven?" Jesus would return to heaven; and many would see Him. If you saw this, what would you think? Jesus is certainly referring to His resurrection and ascension.

So, now they have to consider this possibility, and they are confused and scratching their heads. They are being given every opportunity to understand what He is telling them, that He is the Son of God.

Lesson #0508

John 6:63 Life of Christ

9/29/2013 2Sunday

Jesus is the bread from heaven which is the eternal life bread. We need eat from him only once. He was in the beginning, which was not a beginning.

Jesus will return and sit on the throne of David, for 1000 years. Then we will move into the eternal state.

Jesus return would prove Who He is. God incarnate and true humanity. His offer of Himself as the bread from heaven, the eating of which is eternal life, is completely valid and should be metabolized. The gospel of Jesus Christ should be eaten and accepted. Faith alone in Christ alone. Probably a number of these people in the synagogue had believed this and some would believe in the future when presented with this truth in the future.

John 6:63 It is the Spirit who gives life; the flesh is no help at all. The words that I have spoken to you are spirit and life.

It is only the Spirit which gives life. The flesh of man is of no help. Therefore, there is no being saved by works of the flesh. What Jesus has said to these people are spirit and life.

Pneuma is repeated in this verse. It is the Holy Spirit which gives life to those who believe.

John 6:64 But there are some of you who do not believe." (For Jesus knew from the beginning who those were who did not believe, and who it was who would betray him.)

Millions of people do not know what we know. We are grace oriented. We know what God has done for us, which is eternal life. We experience physical death once. We know where it comes from. Jesus Himself said, "The Father sent Me." The Holy Spirit puts all this together for our regeneration.

Many of the Jews did not believe it because they could not work for it. The words of Jesus Christ are to be eaten; accepted by faith; positive volition.

These words are spirit. These words have much more than simple human discourse. And the people are thinking, "How can this be?" And Jesus tells them, "These words are spiritual; they are the words of eternal life." This leaves no room for a works salvation. There are those in the world who believe that nothing happens until you get baptized, but here Jesus makes it clear that there is no required baptism for salvation; or any ritual. This wipes all of these out. It is His Words which are spirit and life. Salvation is solely a work of God and the work of Christ and the work of the Holy Spirit.

If we want to be grace oriented, it begins right here. This discourse is simple yet profound. All of His words are profound. As wonderful as grace is, so many people try to come to God through their own efforts. Man's efforts to reach God cannot equal God's plan for Him to reach us.

"I think I need to do a few things; I need to tweak this a little bit; I need to add just a little something to make it all work." That is for salvation. What happens after salvation is a whole different deal.

Jesus has difficult words and they are stumbling over these words in v. 61.

John 6:64 But there are some of you who do not believe." (For Jesus knew from the beginning who those were who did not believe, and who it was who would betray him.)

Jesus knew who did not believe; He knew who would betray Him. He knew who would walk away and who would desert Him. Betrayal refers to Judas Iscariot, who is one of the twelve in that crowd.

How could Judas, one of the twelve chosen directly by Jesus, not believe in Him? Judas was an integral part of the twelve. He was thoroughly involved in this ministry for His public ministry. Judas saw and spoke with Jesus regularly and he was the treasurer. He handled the money and the budget.

Some of us are evil and deceitful; but we may have believed in Jesus Christ; and that means that we are saved. Our failures do not disqualify us as believers.

Jesus knew in eternity past that Judas would betray Him. This was not a surprise.

John 6:65 And he said, "This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless it is granted him by the Father."

The reason here is that Jesus knows that some have not believed. God the Father decreed in eternity past that Jesus would be our Savior. God guaranteed that this would happen. He guaranteed that this would happen; man can accept or reject the provision of salvation. The ones who accept Him are the ones to whom God the Father grants salvation. All 3 members are involved in salvation.

End of the Bread of Life discourse. And because of this, many of His disciples rejected Him. They walked away from it.

John 6:66 After this many of his disciples turned back and no longer walked with him.

Lesson #0509

John 6:66 Life of Christ

10/2/2013 Wed

Numerologists take all kinds of weird meanings of Scripture based upon some weird things; but we need to look for the meaning that God means for us to get from it.

Two more weeks then no Bible class. Last conference of the year.

We are about to see the result of this incredible sermon which began with the feeding of the 5000 followed by the walking on water.

John 6:66 After this many of his disciples turned back and no longer walked with him.

Right now, Jesus is in the synagogue in Capernaum. Some of the disciples did not like what they had just heard, which was eating His flesh or drinking His blood. This was too much for these people. They ran into a doctrine that they disagreed with. They could not swallow this doctrine. They just could not agree with what He had just said. Many of them had a good dose of legalism in their souls.

For some believers and unbelievers, there is such a thing as too much grace. They just cannot believe it. However, the twelve continued to walk with Jesus.

They could see all of His miracles and heard all of His words; and He fulfilled the prophecies of the Old Testament. So how could they resist Him? First off, they were legalists who could not let go of the works righteousness. Their lives were all about keeping the laws and all of those regulations which they gathered. The Sabbath regs alone were quite mind-swirling. Jesus offered them grace and they had to do nothing for it.

Jesus refused in no uncertain terms of becoming a political king. They were looking for someone to lead them to take back the land, and Jesus was not going to do this. They expected the consummate politician and reformer. They were looking for a human savior. But He refused this; and the zealots were upset. They were disappointed by Him saying no to them. They no longer saw the solution to Roman tyranny in the Person of Jesus Christ. They simply rejected Him.

We can all see coming disasters in our government; and we can see an approaching tyranny. If the disasters are not coming, then some of them are already here. So some people have taken on the mantle of action; and they have made politics the criterion of their life. They are going to take back the country. In some cases, this can go as far as revolution. Many have rejected the spiritual solution and have taken up instead a political solution. However, a change in politician will not solve the problems of this country.

Any plot to overthrow the government will simply bring on more tyranny. When a people revolt against their government, a worse government will take its place. This is an interior revolution. Same for the French, the Russians, The Chinese.

What we did was not destroy the government which was over us in 1776 was not a true revolution. The people mirror the corrupt government. Political activism is a pipe dream. When the people and the government reach a point, there is no nirvana.

What we need is a relaxed mental attitude in this life. That is the personal and national solution. You may wonder how can sitting in Bible class change the nation? What will that do for the nation? That is nothing. What do I have to do in solving these problems.
