

2010 The Life of Christ in the Gospels

John 5:11 He replied, "The man who made me well told me, 'Pick up your bedroll and walk.'"

John 5:12 "Who is this man who told you, 'Pick up your bedroll and walk?'" they asked.

John 5:13 But the man who was cured did not know who it was, because Jesus had slipped away into the crowd that was there.

John 5:14 After this, Jesus found him in the temple complex and said to him, "See, you are well. Do not sin any more, so that something worse doesn't happen to you."

John 5:15 The man went and reported to the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well.

John 5:16 Therefore, the Jews began persecuting Jesus because He was doing these things on the Sabbath.

John 5:17 But Jesus responded to them, "My Father is still working, and I am working also."

Matthew, Mark, Luke and John

Notes from Berachah Church under R. B. Thieme, III, who began this study the second service, November 7, 2010

John the Apostle had a unique position in life. When he wrote the gospel of John, most of the disciples had already died martyrs deaths and the new institution of the church had been born, and the new doctrines of the church had been circulated. It had become clear that believers now lived in a new and different dispensation.

Jerusalem had been destroyed and Israel as an independent nation was no more. The Temple was gone; completely destroyed by the Roman army. The Old Testament institutions of the offering of sacrificial animals at the Temple no longer existed, although some animal sacrifices were being offered up in various and separated areas.

The gospels and the epistles, for the most part, had been circulated among the believers of John's time. Believers from the dispensation of Israel and believers from the dispensation of the Hypostatic Union had been brought into the Church Age, with its new doctrines and the universal nature of the spiritual life.

John witnessed the events of the life of Jesus Christ along with some nearly unique events, including the transfiguration of Jesus Christ before him, James and Peter. So, what could he say? What could he add to all that was already known? John did not write the history of this, as if he had nothing to add to it. It was already well-circulated. There was nothing he could add.

Lesson #0001 Introduction to the Gospels November 7, 2010

Sunday 2

We are going to study 4 books at one time and studying a specific subject, which is the Lord Jesus Christ. We will examine the Author and Finisher of our faith. We will look at His background, life, theology, enemies, His future; all that He was and all that He did in the 1st Advent. If we do not understand the Lord Jesus Christ, then we cannot understand Him now.

Christianity is not a religion, but based upon Jesus Christ. There is this comparison of religions and many come to the conclusion that there are many pathways to God, even though these religions are contradictory. If these things are contradictory. How can God lie about this or that religion? That makes Him a liar.

Another view is, Jesus Christ is a good man. That is an absolute contradiction. Jesus Christ cannot be simply a good man. He claimed to be God. So how can He be a good man? If His claim is true, He is far more than a good man; and if He lied about this, then He is certainly not a good man. Many have died for Jesus Christ. How can you call Him a good man, if that is the case?

There are those who simply call this a myth; but that has nothing to do with scholarship. These 4 gospels are our only source of knowledge about Jesus Christ.

If you mention His name, there will be no middle ground. There will be antagonism or love.

Jesus Christ was a true historic figure. He is just like us in everything. For some of us, that is hard to realize.

One difference: He was born with a sin nature. He experienced everything else that we do; heat, cold, hunger, thirst.

Satan hate His name. That is his doom.

Without knowing these things about Him, we are no better off than those who claim that there are many ways to God.

The Apostles defined for us the unique spiritual life of the Church Age.

The more divine viewpoint we take in, the more we grow and the more we change. The Apostle Paul was great in defining this for us. We cannot live the spiritual life without that Church Age doctrine. The spiritual life was prototyped by the Lord Jesus Christ. He lived the unique spiritual life; this life was our paradigm. The mind of Christ refers, to some extent, mystery doctrine; but His thinking extends beyond all dispensations, and this is His actual thinking.

The more that Bobby gets into this, the more he appreciates the Lord Jesus Christ. It is amazing how we can link His Words to His thinking; and His thinking will translate to our thinking. This study will guide us toward reciprocal love. We cannot help but love Him unless we are not really interested.

The gospels do not reflect all that happened in the life of Jesus Christ. This is sketchy at best. The gospels cover very little. Jesus will spend 12 years in Egypt, and we know nothing about this. We know a small amount about his young life. But most of the gospels are all about 3 years of His life.

We will see Him for Who He is and what He has done. Bobby's objective is an exegetical study of all the incidents of His life; and to look at parallel examples of His life.

Bobby had a lot of choices. He did think about 2Corinthians and some Old Testament books. The story we will study is The Story; beyond the imagination.

Why Are We Studying the Life of Jesus Christ?

1. Christ's coming, His arrival on this earth, the incarnation, that event and His life is the focal point of all human history. This is the salvation event of mankind. There is His birth, His life, His death and resurrection. Human history surrounds it.
2. He is the central fact and figure of human existence. His life is truly the narrative of the ages; there is none more important.
3. This narrative stands foremost over all literature, either religious or secular. On a literary level, pure story telling, nothing approaches the gospels in terms of drama and personalities, intrigue and general appeal. It is all true here; there is nothing supernatural or made up here.

- a. This is a reaffirming study. Satan can never equal the grace of God; he can never equal Jesus Christ, who was born in human form, and inferior to Satan. Satan can ever equal the spiritual life that Jesus Christ provides for us. Many have taken the fruit from Satan and participated in his arrogance.
 - b. We cannot be confused when we understand His Words and His life.
 - c. If we follow the cosmic system, our life is doomed. Anyone who puts their hope in the cosmic system is doomed. Anyone who does not put their faith in all that Jesus has done is confused.
 - d. This study is of the most awesome and celebrated life that there has ever been. We have personal access to His life. His spiritual life on earth is our paradigm, our pattern; and we have His thinking. Understanding His life is to understand our own life in Christ.
4. The Biblical significance of the life of Christ.
 5. Because of the gospels revelation of Christ, these 4 gospels are the center of the Bible.
 6. As the center, they are the bridge between the two testaments. Jesus is the link, while remaining separate from both.
 7. This time is the pivotal time of all the dispensations. Jesus is the victor in the Angelic Conflict; He has defeated Satan. He is God and He is man; and we can go right along with it. Hopefully, we will have the greatest appreciation that we can of Jesus Christ, above and beyond what we already think.

Lesson #0002

The Gospels November 14, 2010

Sunday 1

Communion Sunday:

There is the evil out there which suggests that there is no sin. Many think that the sin they commit is overcome by the good that they do. God must always judge sin and condemn it. There can be no confusion as to God's view of sin. God has recorded the history of man as a sinner. The Bible reveals how God's judgment falls against the human race. Sin and divine judgment go together. It must be this way. In all of this, God forgives sin. If He must judge sin, then how can He forgive sin? Our salvation can never be fully understood unless we understand the basis for divine forgiveness.

We need to understand the source of our sin. Sin did not originate with mankind. The evil in this world did not begin with the fall of Adam. Sin was present before the fall of Adam; we were in the middle of it, as Satan had already fallen. Satan tempted man in order to bring him into his sin. Adam was the source of sin for all mankind. Just as through one man, sin entered into the world, because when Adam sinned, we all sinned. The Scripture says, In Adam, all die. Adam's genetic propensity to sin has been passed down to all mankind, and all men are born in sin. Sin is imputed to Him. We are all spiritually dead at birth. We are born separated from God and hope, despite the fact that we emerge from the womb with physical life.

Some allege that Adam is exposed to sin implicates God in the fall. The very essence of God mitigates against this view. It was Satan and man, by their own independent free will, who chose to sin against God. God has a reason to allow sin and evil to run its course. His purpose is to reveal His unfailing love. His plan is infinitely greater than any opposition that Satan can muster or the mind of man can conceive of. God provides the only hope for man. How blessed is the man to whom God does not impute iniquity. This is one who has come to know the reality of forgiveness.

Galileo was said to have been imprisoned for the Copernican view of the universe; and they were both correct. As punishment, Galileo had to repeat the Scripture of Psalm 32; it reminded him over and over of God's grace and not His judgment. It is most reassuring to know that there is forgiveness from God, even though man may never forgive.

In this case, the punishment is self-discipline and put into the Lake of Fire for all eternity. Even though God's justice condemned us, He placed this upon our substitute. His work destroys the barrier which is between God and us. Redemption is the picture of His divine impersonal love toward us and His amazing grace toward the human race.

Only Jesus Christ could open the gate of the slave market of sin. Man can walk through that door, free from God's condemnation. That is what the cross does.

Expiation and redemption is a part of Christ's work on the cross. When Christ died on the cross, there is no forgiveness in expiation and redemption; only potential. We must respond to what Jesus did for us on the cross. When we were dead in our transgressions and sins, He made us alive, having forgiven us all of our transgressions and sins. As believers, we are not free from the act of sin. So God provided rebound for all post-salvation sins. This prepares us for the remembrance of His work.

Bobby watched his mother pass from life into eternity, as he did with his father. We will all experience this for ourselves. A Wednesday night memorial in lieu of Bible class.

We have just begun a study, of our Lord, the Author and Finisher of our faith. We will learn the grace revealed in His life, every moment of this life dedicated to grace. We will see His thinking and all of his actions, which reflect His thinking; the incredible mind that He had.

It was all divine viewpoint. We have the mind of Christ. We must implant these doctrines into our soul that we can see the human perfection that He was on this earth. This is what He demonstrates, so that we can have no doubt. We will see the depth and the breadth of His mission here on earth, as well as the agony of the cross, and the glory of His triumph. His triumph is our triumph, His eternal life is ours; His royalty becomes ours.

There are some specific facts which make His life important to all of us.

Lesson #0003

The Gospels November 14, 2010

Sunday 2

7 pm start time for Betty Thieme memorial on Wednesday.

We need to put it all together before we actually begin this study.

There are many great stories of romance and heroism; but this is the greatest literature ever written, when it comes to appeal, beauty, intrigue, personalities, etc. It has it all. This study will clear up any misconceptions that we may have about Jesus Christ. We will no longer have to ask ourselves, what would Jesus do? His thoughts, words and actions will be known to us, and we will be able to act accordingly.

Do you think that politicians are distorted in their lies? The father of lies spends much of his time distorting the life of Jesus Christ. These gospels reveal the absolute truth of Jesus Christ. What has He done for us? Satan has tried to duplicate our Lord's existence, His notoriety, and inspired so many new religions, promises of utopia, and so many human systems and philosophies. None can equal the life of Jesus Christ.

The revelation of Christ in the gospels is the very center of the Bible; this is the pivotal event of all human history. God took on humanity in order to be our Savior. He is God and man in One Person forever; which is, in itself, hard to understand.

The history and destiny of all mankind comes together and meets God. Jesus Christ is the fulfillment of all that God has promises to Israel. A Messiah and a Savior. This goes all the way back to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. He is also the bridge between Israel to the church universal. He is the Savior for all mankind, the guarantee of eternity, from Adam to the last person born.

Then there is a personal significance. We as human beings can only know God through knowing His Son. Who is Christ? In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God and the Word was God; and the Word became flesh and lived among us. He has no beginning and He has no end.

God is Spirit, so God is unseen by man. But Jesus Christ, as God, is the visible manifestation of God. He is the only visible Person Who is God. As such, He is the revelation of God to man.

A simple word holds our universe together and a simple word will destroy it. His power holds the universe together; it holds us together.

God the Son glorified for His work. He is seated at the most elevated position of any person ever.

Heb. 1:2–3 God has in these last days spoken to us by the Son, whom He appointed the Heir of all things, and through whom He made the universe. For He is the radiance of the Glory of God and the very expression of his Being, upholding all creation by the power of His word; and, when He had made an expiation for the sins of men, He 'took his seat at the right hand' of God's Majesty on high,

Our spiritual growth is based upon knowledge of Him. Grow in grace and knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ, for, to Him, is the glory. We grow because we think like Him. We renovate our thinking. Word comes from the mind; the things which He did come from His thinking. We have the mind of Christ, and resulting actions right in front of us, the 4 gospels.

There is a great blessing for those who have a special interest in God's Son. Bobby wants us to have a PhD in the Lord Jesus Christ before we are done with this study.

What does God offer us and what does He require of us? These are questions which have troubled man throughout His existence. They have the same answer: the life of Christ.

We know the importance of this series.

What about the source of our knowledge, the 4 gospels?

What Are the Gospels?

1. The gospels are the record of the life of our Lord Jesus Christ. They do not cover all of the events of His life.
2. 3 of the gospels, Matthew, Mark and Luke, are called the Synoptic. These 3 agree in the general order of events. They also agree in content. They are parallel to each other. Many of the same events are covered in all 3 gospels.
3. The 4th gospel highlights the character of Jesus Christ; not so much the events, but more with His Person and character.
4. John's gospel seeks to reveal the divinity of Jesus Christ. This is introduced right from the very beginning. He became flesh and lived among us. And John 20:31 These things have been written that you may believe that Jesus is the Son of God, and that, by believing, we might have faith in our Lord Jesus Christ. Bobby likes to give as much gospel as possible. This is no other name given among men under heaven by which we might be saved. John's gospel is very evangelistic. It is a bold theological statement of Who He is and what He has done.
5. All 4 gospels present His life, works and teaching. Why? To meet the salvation and spiritual needs of mankind. Bobby wonders if these 4 men would realize that these books would meet the salvation interests of all man. "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life; no man comes to the Father but by Me." There are not dozens of pathways to God; it is impossible. They are all antithetical.

6. However, we must understand that each gospel is individual and unique. If that were not true, why not just one gospel? Yet, there are 4 of them.
7. Why? Each gospel was directed toward a different audience.
8. Each gospel appealed to different types of people. It is like being a pastor. Bobby may appeal to certain people and perhaps not to others.
9. Each gospel has different purposes, different highlights, different viewpoints. Without essential discrepancies in any of them. That in itself is amazing. How many 4 books would exactly agree and not contradict one another at one point. Only the guiding hand of God makes this so.
10. One account is one gospel showed the legitimacy and divine hand of all 4 accounts. Vice versa. What does this mean? 4 different authors, different kinds of individuals, during relatively different times, with the same exact message. Bobby says it is unlikely they they looked at each others work.
 - a. Matthew A.D. 50–60 and his was probably the first written. He is a Palestinian Jew. It was probably written in Jerusalem or somewhere in the surrounding area; in the holy land. Matthew would have had contact with many eyewitnesses for his account and many eyewitnesses to the life of Jesus Christ. Matthew could talk to many of these witnesses directly.
 - b. Mark was always Jewish, and a cousin of one of Paul's co-workers, Barnabas, and a close associate of Paul. He had significant contact with the Apostle Peter and the entire Jerusalem church. Peter no doubt had great influence on his writing and perspective. Peter was an eyewitness of everything, just about. Mark wrote his gospel in Rome around 64–65.
 - c. Luke was the only Gentile author in the New Testament and a close associate with Paul. Paul influenced his account, writing around A.D. 60. He probably wrote this in Caesarea. Paul was imprisoned in Caesarea for 2 years, giving Luke time to put this together. Matthew and John were both Apostles; Mark and Luke were co-workers.
 - d. John wrote his gospel after A.D. 70 and probably after that. He wrote the final book around A.D. 90. John probably wrote his gospel in Ephesus since he spent 20 or 25 years in Ephesus ministering.
11. 88 incidents in the synoptic gospels and 71 are found in all 3 and there is no deviation when it comes to the order. There are some diversities, and all are perfectly explainable.

Lesson #0004

The Gospels November 18, 2010

Thursday

Bobby may refer to Christianity as a religion from time to time, and that ought not concern ourselves with that. Christianity is centered on the grace of God. Christianity is the only religion among all the other religions which depends upon the grace of God for salvation. This separates the religions of the world. We cannot really escape this term when describing Christianity in a comparative way. All other religions propose a set of works of accomplishments by which we may gain God's approbation.

No imperfect person can meet the perfect standards of God. One sin separates us from God. It is impossible for man to ever meet God on the basis of merit. Those who think they can earn salvation have no idea Who and What God is. God can have nothing to do with sin. There are many systems of belief and worship. Christianity like all other religions has a belief system and a worship of God. Christianity can fall under that category. Christianity is the true religious system.

Bobby is going to look at the historical aspects of Christianity. Many religions have no historical basis. They are subjective; like most eastern religions. The historical facts are unimportant. The historicity of a founding figure, like Buddha, is immaterial. Christianity is objective in every sense of the word. The life of Jesus Christ was an historical event in every sense of the word. This is the central event of all of history. The reality of all history is tied to His mission on earth. In His own words, the Lord Jesus Christ came to fulfill the historical promises made to Israel and all mankind. Christianity is firmly rooted in history and the destiny of Jesus Christ.

Some comparative religious studies have relegated Jesus to nothing more than a myth, meaning that He is apart from history, which has become more popular of late. They see that it is unimportant for Him to be tied to actual events. They try to say there are just the universal truths.

They see the incarnation as important only as it affect us. They like the harmonious union between God and man and that Jesus Christ is just one of those connections. His life and work are presented as separate from an historical reality. Jesus, to them, has no real existence, and that His story just fulfills some human need.

His work is what is important, but to such thinkers, He is just some religious symbol.

Can we prove that He was a real person in history? There are these gospels, but is there any other reference to Him? There are meager references to Him outside of the gospel. Most scholars today admit that there really was a Man named Jesus Who lived in the time that the gospels say that He lived.

Jewish testimony. Much of this was unfavorable. Many of the religious writers of that day did not look kindly upon Him. But in their hatred of Him, they verified that He was an historical figure. Babylonian Talmud, compiled about A.D. 500. On the eve of Passover, Jesus Christ was hung. He has led Israel astray. Let anyone who can come to His defense, come forward. The Jewish tradition had to mention Him. They could not set it aside.

Josephus was a great Jewish historian around A.D. 70, after the destruction of Jerusalem. He wrote about the Jews to explain them to the Romans. He was a Jew and Jewish sympathizer, but he allied himself with the Romans after they destroyed Jerusalem. Antiquities and there arose about this time Jesus, a wise man, if indeed we should call Him a man, for He was a doer of marvelous deeds; when Pilate condemned Him to the cross, those who loved Him at first did not cease to love Him.

Josephus was no friend of Christianity. Some have claimed that this was inserted by someone else after Josephus, and Bobby tends to agree with this. However, even if some Christian added this later, there was already a reference to Jesus Christ.

Josephus speaks of the martyrdom of James, the brother of Jesus who is called the Christ.

There are Roman testimonies. Pliny the Younger. A.D. 61–112 and he having a lot of trouble and he was seeking guidance in dealing with Christians who got together and sang about Christ as God.

The most famous of all Roman historians, Tacitus. 56–117 wrote a treatise on Nero and about how he set fire to Rome, and then he blamed the Christians. Christos, the founder, had undergone the death penalty under the reign of Tiberius under Pilate and the pernicious superstition was checked for a moment, but it broke out like a disease, in Rome itself. Every cult and religion that was around ended up in Rome. More unbiased proof of Jesus existence.

Swatonius another Roman writer 70 born. Emperor Claudius expelled the Christians because of the tumult they caused in Rome. The Jewish synagogues were having problems with the Christians. Claudius expelled them; and that is how Priscilla and Aquilla ended up in Corinth.

So, even though Jesus had been dead for some 30 years, His followers were still around and this was not dying out.

Another major proof is institutional evidence. It is a logical proof.

Institutional Evidence

1. The New Testament church is a monument to the Lord Jesus Christ and His Life.
2. Without His life being observed by 1000's, His ministry, His miracles, His death and resurrection, the church lacks an adequate cause. If He is not real, there is no reason for the church to exist.
3. Massive persecution has no purpose. Why would hundreds of thousands of people undergo such terrific deaths for a myth.
4. His life and the meaning of His death carried more weight than the persecution and personal death that these men were willing to die for. How many people are willing to die for something they do not really believe in?
5. Closely connected to this logic is the progress of Christianity.

6. Judaism and the Romans had killed the Lord Jesus Christ. They also would have dealt with His followers very severely, and they did. The Jews hated the Christians as much as they hated Jesus. The Romans hated these Christians because of these uproars.
7. If the Jews could have demonstrated in some way that Jesus was a figment or unworthy, then they would have done so. If they could have done it, they would have done it. Christianity progressed and spread. Missionary Christianity spread faster and further when it was persecuted than when it was not.
8. The Jewish persecution and Roman persecution had no effect at all against the testimony of men and women who had seen and believed in Jesus Christ and His resurrection.

Without an historic Christ, the church would have died out years ago. The gospels are a source of truth about Jesus Christ.

Now we are going to compare all of the gospels, so that we understand their purpose, characteristics and similarities. These are the testimonies that we will study all at once. 71 of the 88 incidents in the life of Christ are covered in all the synoptic.

Κατα Ματθιου, which means according to Matthew.

The Authorship of Matthew

1. Matthew was originally named Levi and he was hated because he was a member of the Palestine IRS. He heard the gospel and he responded. He was an Apostle, and we know Apostles wrote the Scripture. However, nowhere in the Bible do you have him specifically named as the author. Paul named himself often; Matthew never did.
2. External proofs. From a very early period in the church, the early church fathers recognized Matthew as the author. These men wrote prolifically. They lived very close to the actual time of the authorship of the gospels. The proof which carries the most weight, the most we can rely on what he or she said.
3. Who did Matthew write to? This gospel was directed to a Jewish audience. Each gospel went to a different audience. This target audience who had not accepted Christ as the Messiah, we can see who they are immediately. He wrote a genealogy. He traces Jesus back to David; the accepted ancestor of the Messiah. Jews knew the one that Jesus would come from.
4. Matthew also emphasizes the fulfillment of Old Testament prophecies. He was writing to those who believe prophecy of the Old Testament and that to them, this was important. Jews cared about the fulfillment of prophecy. He wanted them to know that Jesus was the One they had been looking for, for all of those centuries. He wanted to prove this to these Jewish readers.
5. Matthew used a lot of Jewish terminology. Matt called Him the Son of David, which is a Jewish designation.

6. The purpose of Matthew's gospel was to demonstrate and convince the Jews. The religious types knew these prophecies and Matthew keeps linking these prophecies to Jesus. Jewish religious leaders wrote on a sign, King of the Jews; and they rejected Him.

The time frame of Matthew is the entire life of Jesus. He was born 4 or 5 B.C. and died circa A.D. 30. He covered the resurrection ministry for 40 days until His ascension.

Matthew focuses on His Galilean ministry.

Lesson #0005

The Gospels November 21, 2010

Sunday 1

This is a time when it will be clear that this is a classroom for learning.

It is ironic and interesting that Jesus is not mentioned very often in secular literature. The literature of His Own people has very little about Him. They simply wanted Him to disappear; and His followers as well. They expected once they had gotten rid of Him, that would be the end of it.

A brief reference to Jesus in the Babylonian Talmud and by Josephus. The Messiah, the center of Jewish life, is mentioned only once or twice in the most famous history of the Jews, who wrote only a few years after our Lord's ministry, and his references were not very complimentary. Pliny the Younger and Tacitus and Swatonius all mention Jesus (Roman historians and authors); and they were not favorable to the Jews or to this new religion. The coliseum in Rome is read with the blood of Christians. The Romans always had trouble with the Jews; they were a thorn in the side of the Romans constantly; and they saw this as just a new set of problems which threatened Roman hegemony.

Jesus was a real Person with a real life with a real message, which had an impact upon the entire world, and it spread over the entire world rather rapidly. Most scholars today agree that there was an historical Person named Jesus. His full name is the Lord Jesus Christ.

However, the primary source of His message and His life is found in the gospels. Bobby is going to cover them all at once.

Why 4 Gospels?

1. Each gospel brings a unique perspective to His life. They all examine the same essential events (particularly the synoptic).
2. Each gospel has a central purpose, but with the intent of revealing Who He is.
3. Each gospel addresses a different audience at that time. There is, obviously a universal appeal.
4. Different purpose, different perspective and unique approach of each one.

Matthew was the author of κατα Ματθαιον. Nowhere, is it stated that Matthew is the author, but that has been the tradition. Matthew's audience was the Jews; particularly to those who had not yet accepted Jesus Christ as their Messiah. This is seen right from the beginning. This is simply tracing the family line of Jesus back to King David, as that Old Testament prophecies promised this. Matthew starts out by saying, look, this is His line; this is Who He is genetically.

Then he tried to show that Jesus is the promised Messiah of Old Testament prophecy.

There is an extent of time of Matthew's gospel and his covers the full life of Jesus, from birth of Jesus.

The second gospel is κατα Μαρκον. The author of Mark is anonymous in the pages of the gospels. Mark never states that he is the gospel. However, from a very early period in the church, the author is said to be Mark. Clement and others recognized Mark as the author. Their testimony as to the authorship of these gospels is important. They came in just a few years after the church began.

John Mark is his full name, was the son of Mary in Jerusalem. There is a lot of speculation that Mark actually witnessed some of the events of the gospel. Mark was possibly the disrobed man running around named in his gospel; however, this is conjecture.

Mark's History

Mark was very active in a ministry.

1. Mark traveled with Paul and Barnabas in the late 40's on the first missionary tour.
2. Mark left them because he had a hard time.
3. He later went to Barnabas on another missionary journey.
4. He possibly was in Rome. Mark may have spoke as Peter's interpreter. Peter's Greek in his epistles is not very good. Mark had access to Peter's account of his close, personal relationship with Jesus Christ.
5. Mark was not an Apostle, but a writer of Scripture. He was under the tutelage of one who could give a first-hand account of Jesus' life.
6. Mark was initially a failure in his ministry. Some pastors go to a church and fall flat on their faces the first time through. Many immature believers do not do well in a Christian ministry. Mark becomes one of Paul's great co-workers. The conclusion of Paul's ministry is his beheading. Mark may have been there.
7. Tradition records that mark ministered in Alexandria, Egypt. There is a 9th century tradition that the merchants of Venice stole the body of Mark and enshrined it in Saint Mark's basilica in Venice.

What is the extent of time of Mark's gospel? He begins with our Lord's public ministry, when He is baptized by John. There is no mention of His early years or His birth. Only 3 or 4 years of our Lord are covered.

The target audience of Mark's gospel was the Romans. They were taught that Jesus is God's Servant Who gave His life as the Servant of all mankind. Even the Son of Man came not to be served, but to serve.

The purpose of the gospel of Mark. He recorded a number of miracles. He did not record more miracles than is found elsewhere, but a greater proportion of his book is devoted to them. The Romans would have been impressed with the supernatural aspect of it.

The 3rd gospel is κατά Λουκόν. There is internal and external evidence for this. His name is not mentioned as such in the text??? Early church fathers understood who wrote these gospels.

Who was Luke? He is the only gentile to write in the New Testament. He attached himself to the Apostle Paul. He probably came from Antioch and he joined Paul in Troas Acts 16:10. He went with Paul to Philippi. Then he went with Paul to Jerusalem. He was there for a lot of Paul's ministry. He went with Paul to Rome. He was the last man to leave Paul during Paul's 2nd and final imprisonment. Mark and Timothy were both requested, but Luke was definitely there. A.D. 59–68.

Luke was a physician by profession (Col. 4:14). Luke uses a lot of medical terminology. He may have actually been Paul's traveling physician. Luke was also a missionary in his own right and an able historian. He was also an author. He was somewhat a Renaissance man, but long before the Renaissance.

He was the most literary author of the New Testament. He speaks much in his gospels to individuals. He gave special attention in his gospel to women.

Luke also wrote the book of Acts, which is the history of the early church. Both of these books were addressed and dedicated to Theophilus, who is named in both books, a very prominent Greek. This type of address to just one person for a book is for common for Greek literature, even though the audience would be much wider, for the most part.

Luke was writing to the Greeks. He accompanied Paul so often, and Paul was the Apostle to the Gentiles, like Corinth and Ephesus. There developed a need for a gospel record which would speak to the Greek mind. There are 2 genealogies in the New Testament; one in Matthew and one in Greek. This genealogy traces our Lord all the way back to Adam, the father of the human race. Greeks loved this sort of stuff. They liked the history of man.

Luke avoids Jewish terminology; and Jesus is called a master or a teach but not a rabbi.

There is less emphasis upon the fulfillment of the kingdom. Greek names are used instead of Hebrew names. So there is a distinct Greek character found in his book.

Birth of Christ to His death and resurrection. There was one particular verse where his gospel is revealed: Luke 19:10 The Son of Man has come to seek and save that which was lost.

Lesson #0006

The Gospels November 21, 2010

Sunday 2

Κατα Ιωαννον John is a whole different situation. John covered some of the same events as the synoptics; but this is the greatest source of Christology in the gospels.

There are many things which occurred in the life of our Lord which are not herein recorded. All that is said, all that is needed to grow in grace and knowledge.

Was John the author? Again, this gospel is anonymous in the Scripture itself. There is internal and external evidence which points to John.

Internal evidence: he is clearly a Palestinian Jew. He uses very simple Greek. He quotes literally from the Old Testament and there are more quotes from the Old Testament than any other gospel writer. He is very familiar with Palestine and the areas where our Lord ministered. By his own admission, he is an eyewitness to the events of his gospel. John 21:20–24 and he is the gospel whom Jesus loved, one in the inner circle, along with Peter.

There is also external evidence. Church fathers confirm his author. He is probably the only apostle to die of natural causes, and he lived almost into the beginning of the 2nd century. Ireaneus writes about John's authorship, who was born perhaps 20 or so years after John die. This is in Against Heresies. There is a mention of John residing in Ephesus, which was the center of Christianity in that day. Timothy and Paul taught there; and John lived there, along with others.

A similar statement from someone of Antioch and others.

John lived there until the time of Trajen. A.D. 98–117 is Trajen's rule. Where these apostles are buried is unimportant. They worshipped only One. When we pray to an apostle, we are way out of line.

He is called the son of Zebedee and the brother of James. He is a partner in a business; Peter and Andrew and John are all a part of this business. Salome is his mother and she might be the sister of Mary. John became an early disciple of John the Baptizer. He then followed Jesus after an encounter in Bethany, which is east of the Jordan.

He walked away from his business and became a fisher of men. John and James were called the sons of thunder, an interesting title. Very strong witnesses and very strong adherents to the Lord. Along with Peter, they were probably the closest and most trusted of the Apostles. John and Peter were both there for the transfiguration. The Deity of Jesus Christ was shown forth through His humanity. This knocked them on the ground. There was enough presented to them; the Shekinah glory. He is the 2nd person of the Trinity shown in a glorified state. This was a great honor given these men.

John also occupied a place of privilege at the Last Supper; sitting next to Jesus, laying his head on Christ. John was as the cross and Mary as well, and Jesus told John to take care of Mary.

The gospel of John was directed by Jewish thought; so this is directed toward the Jews. Matthew toward the Jews in Palestine; and John to the Jews outside of the land. John 1:41-11:52. John also takes a universal tone, “God so loved the world, that anyone who believes....” His gospel is not restricted to the gospel of the Jews; and that this would include the entire Christian church; it is a unifying gospel to the entire church.

His emphasis is different. He focuses on another ministry. Jesus began in Galilee and the Samaria and the Judæa and Jerusalem. The focus is on the latter 2. John is not concerned with a full chronology of our Lord’s life. Each event in the synoptics progress; John does not do this. He begins with our Lord’s public ministry beginning. 3 Passovers are named.

There is an apologetic purpose as well. That is a defense of the faith. But these have been written so that you may believe that Jesus is the Son of God and you might, by believing, have eternal life.

His gospel is heavily theological; that is a great focus of his gospel. His gospel is often titled the gospel of belief, which word is used 98 times. This is a tough gospel for the Calvinists. They think that God brings belief to mankind. The emphasis in John is the free will of man to believe.

Jesus Christ arrived at the perfect time. There was a reason Jesus came along in 5 B.C. What was He born into and why was He born then?

The geography of the land. The drama of history is enacted on the stage of geography. What happens in history occurs on a piece of ground. Geography plays a critical part of any battle and it can be the most critical aspect of a battle. Geography is also important in the life of Jesus Christ. Geography often tells its own tale.

Palestine is the geography where Jesus was. He did not travel north of Galilee; he did not go further than south of Jerusalem. All of His ministry was confined. This area is called microscopic in size, however, this is cosmic in import. There is not greater land than this thumbnail of land on the eastern shore of the Mediterranean Sea. This little area is a land bridge between 3 continents. Every army on earth has gone through this area and much trade goes through here. Also significant in its religious impact. Judaism, Christianity and Islam all are born in this tiny area.

This area is about the size of the state of Vermont. Great variety of terrain in this area. Along the Mediterranean sea is a costal plain, much like Houston. Very little elevation. To get away from this costal plain, you travel into the foothills that go into the Hill Country. Beyond the hill country are higher mountains, 2000 to 4000 ft. Mount Tabor is about 2400 ft. hills around Jerusalem are around 2600 ft. Then is one of the strange geological features of the world. From Galilee to the Dead Sea is the deep ditch valley of the Jordan River. It begins near Mount Herman, 9000 ft. Jordan River drops right down to sea level.

It further drops to the Sea of Galilee, which is 700 ft below sea level. Our Lord's entire life took place in this small area. The Sea of Galilee figures heavily in the life of Christ. This is where He began His ministry. Bethlehem is where His parents came to be taxed. Jesus was raised in Galilee. South of there is Samaria, and the Jews hated them. Then we come to Judæa. At the bottom is Idoumia, which is where Herod the Great came from. He had a tremendous impact on this land and shortly after Jesus was born. A king, a messiah was born; and Herod wanted to know about this, and he was going to kill anyone who was a rival.

The maggiai this did come back to him, so Herod went to kill all of the children in a specific age bracket.

The early part of Jesus ministry is around the Sea of Galilee; it is 13 miles long and 8 miles wide, and it is a freshwater lake; and it has sudden and dangerous storms there. These storms on the sea result from different temperature gradients between the sea coast and the mountains beyond. There is a temperature differential and the sea is bounded by hills, where they are up to 2000 ft. high and higher as you go out. Cool dry air out in the heights. In contrast, there is tropical and semi-tropical. However, there is moist warm air near the Mediterranean Sea. Large and quick temperature changes and a variety of pressure changes. When contrasting air masses meet, the result is strong winds, and these winds funnel right onto the center of the sea of Galilee. This wind causes problems on the Sea of Galilee. This is a relatively shallow water. When a wind hits shallow water, it whips up water much more than a deep water. So there are great waves which are whipped up. Lake Erie is very similar to the sea of Galilee, except it is much larger. Shallowest of the Great Lakes. It is known as the storm generator. Quick storms arise. This storm is always dangerous for anyone on the lake.

This explains what happens to our Lord and the disciples. They are sound asleep on the boat and the storm is whipped up. The disciples are cruising around and the waves are washing over the boat. They are in the boat with the God of the Universe. They wake Him up, and He makes everything stop. The lesson is, we do not need to panic; we are in the Lord's hands.

The Dead Sea is quite weird.

Lesson #0007 The Gospels November 28, 2010 Sunday 1

Jesus never left the general area; he remained in a very small piece of land about the size of Vermont. It is amazing that such a small, minute part of the world can have such an impact upon world history. It has a great impact on history than anywhere else in the world.

This relatively small population; this race called the Jews; this race of recalcitrant, faithless people should receive such grace from God. There is a past and a future which is tied up with the Lord Jesus Christ who is a Jew. There is no more important moment in history than this, the crucifixion.

The land in which they lived was the very land promised to Abraham by the very One Who entered into this world in the winter of 5–4 B.C. This is a period of a few months that Bobby is looking at; December of 5 B.C. of Jan of 4 B.C.

Some of us barely know where the city is that we live in. People unfortunately do not know geography or history. You cannot fully understand Jesus Christ unless you understand some history and some geography.

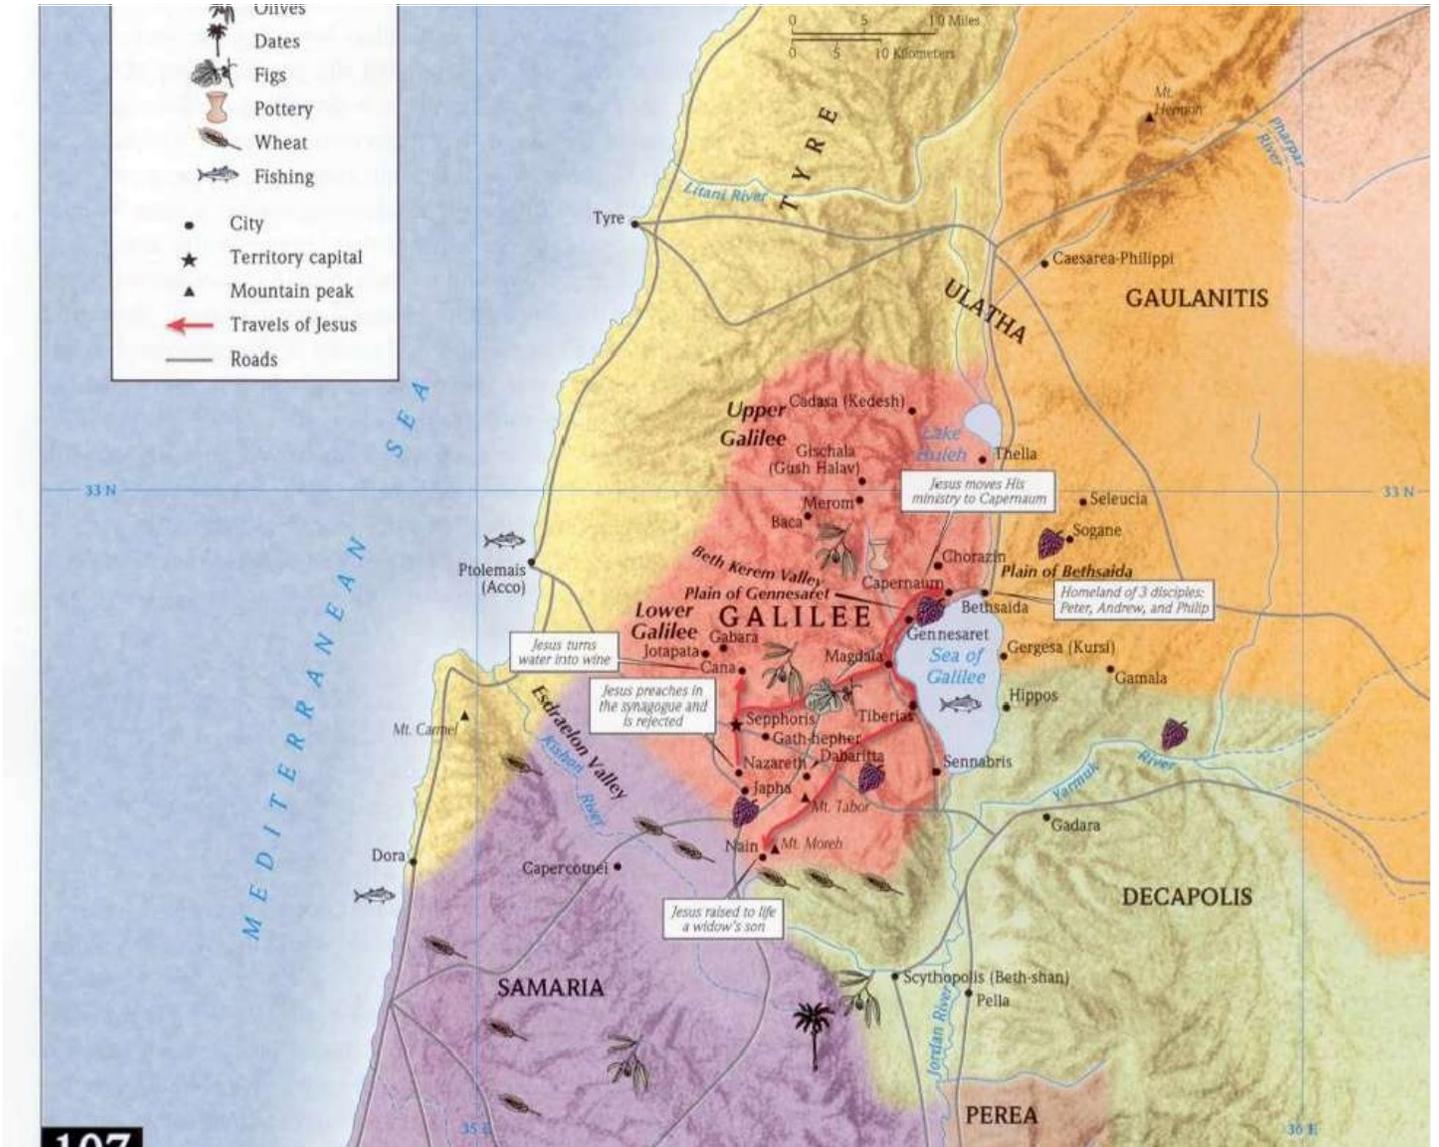

Palestine was the very crossroads of the Middle East. It is between Asia, Europe and Africa. It is the center of the earth, for all intents and purposes. On much of the near east, we find the Semites; on Africa the Hamites; and in Europe, the Japhethites.

Most of that part of the world at that time was controlled by Rome, including Palestine. Many of the Jews of the diaspora were drawn to Palestine. We are in the middle of one of the greatest diasporas of all history.

The topography of the land is fascinating as well. Palestine has almost every type of terrain that you can find in that area. Sea coast, foothills, high mountains, desert, and very unusual landlocked bodies of water.

There are 3 great provinces. In the north, there is Galilee, which is next to the Sea of Galilee. He grew up there, in Nazareth, in the Galilee area. This was an area where the people were only half Jewish. Then below that is Judæa, which is the center of the land of Palestine, and where much of our Lord's ministry would take place.

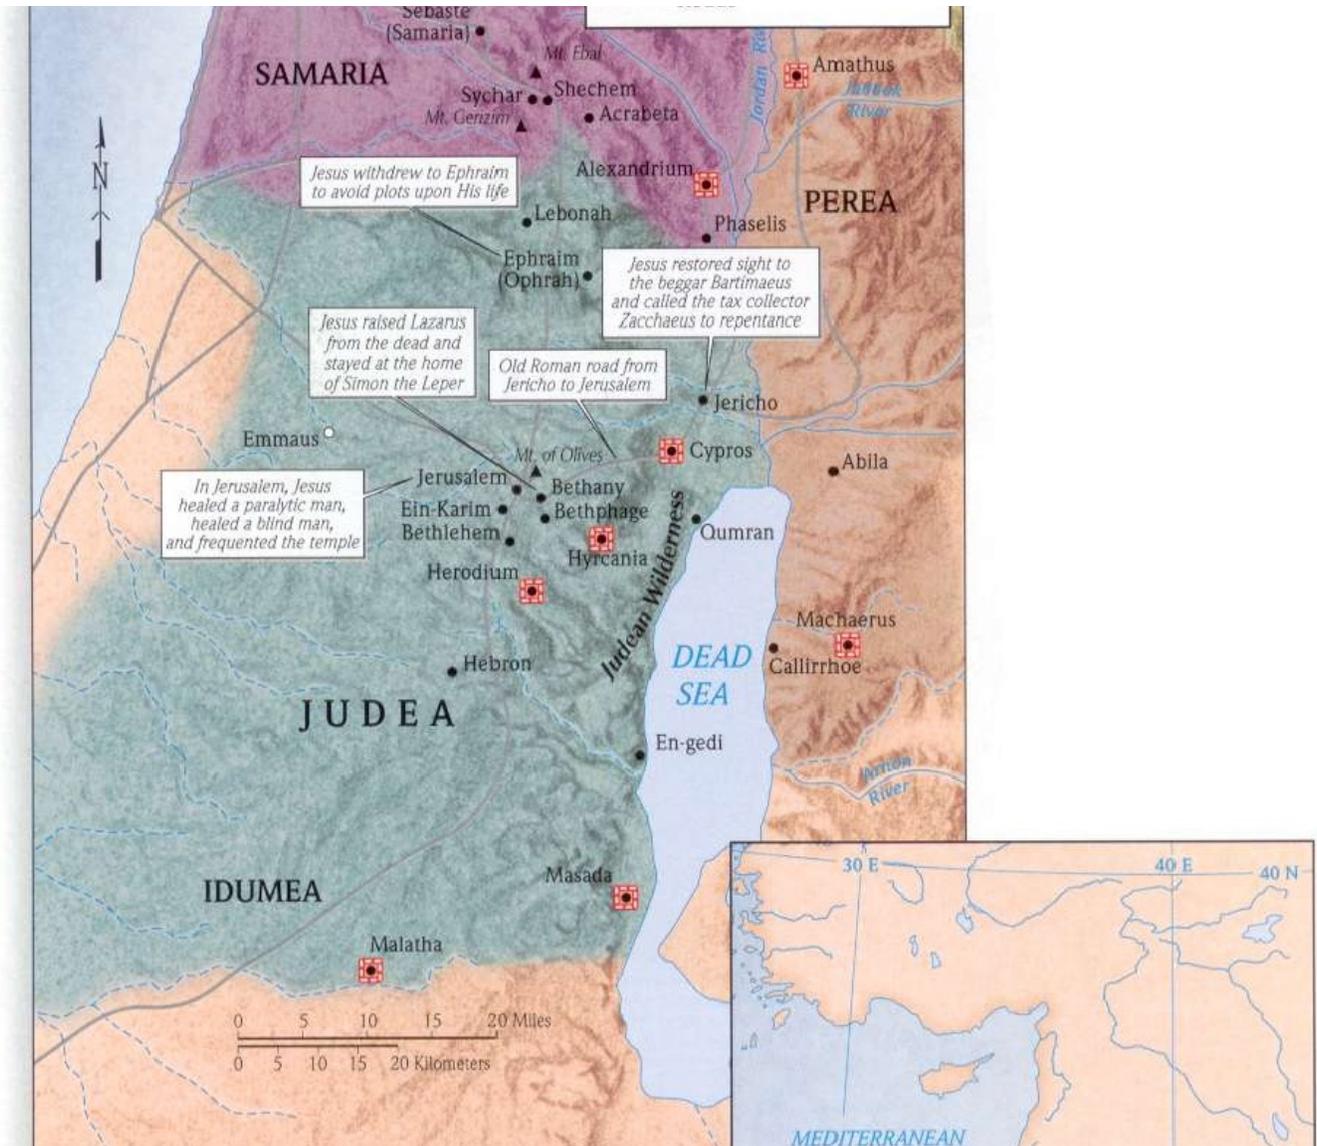

There is this coastal plain all along Palestine, very similar to the topography that we have in the south of Houston. It is flat. Here, we have about 60 miles of this topography. There, it is only a few miles. Our hill country is similar to theirs, but spread out. Further east, there are higher mountains, deep valleys and some desert. This is not unlike west Texas. For us, we have to drive to El Paso to get there, which is half-way to California.

The Jews did not want the Samaritans to worship in the Temple; so the Samaritans worshiped at their own Temple. There was certainly some influence there in the life of Christ.

You go a little further, and you come to the Jordan River. There are high hills and mountains on either side of the Jordan River. It plunges into a deep valley ditch here. 9100 foot mountain, and it drops down into the Sea of Galilee, a freshwater lake, which is below sea level. This is about 8x13 mile lake, very small, and it was subject to dramatic and sudden storms. These storms are brought about by the cool dry air meeting the warm moist air coming up from the ocean. When these meet, there are sudden storms.

Then we move down to the Jordan River, which moves from north to South. There is just 60 miles between the 2 lakes, but it goes on for about 200 miles, so it is a strange, meandering river. After 200 miles of winding, the Jordan River dumps into the Dead Sea, which is very salt water. It is one nasty brew of salt, sulphur and other minerals. It is twice as salty as the Great Salt Lake in Utah. 46 miles x 10 miles. The Dead Sea goes down about 1300 ft below sea level. At its deepest point, it is about 1000 ft deep, so that makes it 2300 ft below sea level at its deepest point.

If a fish swims into this area, it dies immediately. It is not deadly to human beings. Because of the salts, you cannot go underwater.

The Roman seat of government was in Caesarea, built by one of the more interesting men of history. Decapolis means 10 cities. Greek culture affected and de-unified Jewish culture.

The Jews today tend to congregate in their own communities, even today.

There is a great background to know, and when Jesus was born is the perfect time in human history.

Setting the Historical Stage

1. Palestine was under the thumb of Persia. In 586 B.C., Jews were enslaved and under the Chaldean empire, which then went to Persian control.
2. 538 B.C. Zerubbabel given the permission to return to the land. Only 50,000 Jews returned to Palestine, and Zerubbabel led them back and he rebuilt the Temple, which he completed in 516 B.C.
3. Ezra and Nehemiah returned to Judæa. Nehemiah went back in 444 B.C. and they were surrounded by those who hated them and did not want them to return to the land. Edom, Ammon and Moab all wanted to destroy these Jews. Nehemiah got the walls up in a record number of days, and much of this is covered in Freedom through Military Victory.
4. Jerusalem and Judah were back in business, and this was the time of Malachi's prophecies.
5. 332 B.C. was the conquering of that part of the world by Alexander the Great, the great Macedonian. He had a lot to do with the land of Palestine, and a good relationship with the Jews. The Greco-Macedonian Empire. Alexander the Great was on his destiny off to destroy the world. He came to Palestine, and demanded their surrounded. When he came to Jerusalem, some Jewish priests came to meet him and said, "We will capitulate" and Alexander was taken into Temple and he demanded to hear the scrolls of Daniel. He was well-informed. Daniel's prophecy included the great image of Daniel 2; he foretold of the Greco-Macedonian Empire. Alexander liked it, and he said, "This is a good omen. I am going to have a great empire." Alexander gave them excellent terms. He treated the Jews very well, and then he marched off to Egypt and destroyed it.

The Gospels November 28, 2010

Sunday 2

The Chinese version of the Night Before Christmas was put out by mistake in the library.

One of the big issues in the breakup of the British empire was Palestine. The boundaries in the Middle East are artificial boundaries set up, primarily, by the English. And these are people who do not get along.

The notes below are partially from the previous hour and this hour.

5. 332 B.C. was the conquering of that part of the world by Alexander the Great, the great Macedonian. He had a lot to do with the land of Palestine, and a good relationship with the Jews. The Greco-Macedonian Empire. Alexander the Great was on his destiny off to destroy the world. He came to Palestine, and demanded their surrounded. When he came to Jerusalem, some Jewish priests came to meet him and said, "We will capitulate" and Alexander was taken into Temple and he demanded to hear the scrolls of Daniel. He was well-informed. Daniel's prophecy included the great image of Daniel 2; he foretold of the Greco-Macedonian Empire. Alexander liked it, and he said, "This is a good omen. I am going to have a great empire." Alexander gave them excellent terms. He treated the Jews very well, and then he marched off to Egypt and destroyed it. The Greeks brought a common language to Palestine called Koine Greek, which is the language that the New Testament is written in. God brought Alexander the Great there for a reason. The years of Persian influence was over. 323 B.C. is when Alexander died; and then Palestine became a blood-soaked battleground between Egypt and Syria.
6. 301 B.C. Ptolemy secured Egypt and Palestine? Cleopatra was one of the last Ptolemy's. From Alexandria, a great library was founded; a library of Jewish history.
7. In 285 B.C., scholars in Alexandria translated the Old Testament. This had a huge impact and this was because of Alexander the Great.
8. 323–198 B.C. Greek rule.
9. Antiochus took over Palestine, removing the Ptolemy's. This new group is the Selucid's. 198–166 B.C. their rule of the Selucid's and their reign was a nightmare. Judaism was outlawed in Palestine. He walked into the Temple and desecrated it, sacrificing swine in the Temple, so the altar of God ran red with pig's blood. The Jews were beside themselves. On Dec. 25 (Antiochus?) he set up Zeus worship. 198 B.C.?
10. This led to the Maccabean revolution. This was a brutal 2 year war against Antiochus and his house. Judas Maccabeas led the war, and he was just as brutal as the Selucid's and Israel gained independence.
11. Dec. 24th 164 B.C. they rededicated the Temple, and this is Hanukkah. The rule until 63 B.C. The Maccabees were involved in great anarchy, bloodshed.
12. The Hasmonian high priesthood became rulers in Palestine. Caiaphas the High Priest is in this line.
13. 142 B.C. the Hasmonian line made a treaty with Rome.
14. 135 B.C. the Hasmonian line John Hyrcanus became the high priest and ruler. In Palestine, there was no separation between Judaism and . John allied himself with Rome and he was able to extend the Jewish kingdom from the sea to Idumea. All of this was an expansion. He also destroyed the Samaritan Temple on Mount Gerizim, and this caused a further rift between the Jews and the Samaritans. There was great animosity between these people. Samaritans were forced to become Jews. Same thing happened to the Idumeans. In 135 B.C., John Hierchanus became high priest and ruler, and this is where there are 2 sects, the pharisees and the sadducees became strongly divided.

15. By 110 B.C., the pharisees began to oppose the Greek inculturation. This was the conflict which Jesus would face during His ministry.
16. Aristobulus was the son of Hierchanus. He was the high priest for a year and this was one of the worst years and there was rioting during his rule. His brother came to power, Alexander Janus. He married his brother's wife in 103 B.C. This gave him a good political alliance. He enlarged the kingdom to the size of David and Solomon's kingdom. The Jews loved this. There was a problem with him. He was a vile man. His vileness brought outrage from the pharisees. So there was a bloody revolt over the high priesthood. A war over religion.
17. When our Lord arrived, Palestine is a dark and bloody country.
18. 76 B.C. a woman succeeds Janus as ruler. Solemy Alexandra. It was rare for a woman to be in power in this area. She was not a high priest, of course. Secular rule began to split from the priesthood. As ruler of Palestine, she reestablished peaceful relations between the pharisees and the sadducees. They had been fighting for years. Then she made a mistake, appointing her son, Hierchanus II as high priest. She was uniting the priesthood and secular rule again. However, this does not work out.
19. 67 B.C. her sons got into a civil war over the throne in which their mother sat and the high priesthood that Hierchanus II had. So things were in turmoil.
20. Now Rome came into the picture. They could not agree on the high priesthood so they appealed to Rome; specifically to the Roman general Pompey. He was in the neighborhood at that time, which is why they went to him. He was roaming about with nothing to do at this point. So they asked him to settle this for them. He arrives in Jerusalem by invitation. He assigns the high priesthood to Hierchanus. Then this gentile goes into the Holy of Holies, which was blasphemous, and at that moment, he terminated the rule by Jews. Why did they invite in the Romans? From that moment on, the Jews became vassals to the Roman empire.
21. 60 B.C. the first Roman triumvirate was formed (3 rulers splitting the rule). Julius Caesar, Pompey, and Crassus all split up Rome, and they had an unofficial alliance.
22. 48 B.C. Caesar defeats Pompey and controls all Rome. Events began to unfold.
23. An Idumean army officer named Antipater was a man of great wealth and influence and a man of foresight. He saw an advantage to support Julius Caesar. Out of gratitude, Caesar granted him Roman citizen and made him governor of Palestine. Hierchanus was again confirmed as high priest, with 2 governing bodies. This began an uneasy relationship between Roman political rule and the priesthood. The Jews, at the point, began to long for independence. Rome had an iron grip, and if there was a problem, a legion walked in and destroyed the problem.

24. Idumean Antipeter appointed his son, Herod, to rule over Galilee. He will later be called Herod the Great. Antipeter wanted a family member to watch his back.
25. Herod reigned for 37 years and he would become Herod the Great and his family would reign for the rest of the century. This one man would set the stage for the advent of Jesus Christ. Herod only lived one year after Jesus was born, but he still had a great impact.
26. Political events began to unfold rapidly. 44 B.C. Cæsar was assassinated. Another triumphant. Gaius Octavius, Mark Anthony and some other guy in 43 B.C. Then Antipeter was poisoned. Herod was a political animal and he was ruthless. He had an instinct for power and how he could preserve it for himself. There was a lot of blood on his hands.
27. Shortly after our Lord was born, Herod would not allow for any challenge to his power. So he sends Roman soldiers at age 2 and under and had them killed. Herod had everything in this life.

Lesson #0009

The Gospels December 1, 2010

Wednesday

Bobby took us back to the Assyrian, then Chaldean empires. We have studied how Jesus Christ prepared history for His coming.

The Roman empire had the greatest impact upon Palestine during the time of our Lord. There was a great impact in 63 B.C. Pompey, fresh from victory, was invited into Jerusalem by a group of Hasmonians; and they were descended from the Maccabees. This is one of the bloodiest grounds of the world. At the time of Pompey's entrance, a civil war was raging between 2 members of the Hasmonian house; Aristobulus and Hierchonus II. Pompey was called in to settle this dispute. He told Hierchonus, "I like you best, so you are the new high priest." Then Pompey went into the Holy of Holies, an act only to be done once a year by the high priest. This heathen, this Roman did this. The Jews were often stirred up about something; but he goes in there to demonstrate his dominance over the high priest. He appoints the high priest, and then he does what only the high priest could do, going into the Holy of Holies.

From 60 B.C., Rome exerted control over that area. Triumphant. Cæsar Pompey, and Crassas were men who split up the empire 3 ways. Events began to unfold rapidly, which would impact our Lord's coming.

By 48 B.C., Cæsar defeats Pompey and unites the empire for the first time in a century. Idumea is down at the Sinai peninsula. There are some Jews down there, but mostly others (Idumeans). Antipeter was a man of wealth and power in this area; and he supported Cæsar and helped him in his conquest of the others in this triumphant.

The high priest still had an important place in Jewish religion. Antipeter had a son Herod, and he liked members of his family in charge, so he put Herod in charge of Galilee. He would become Herod the Great, and his family would reign in Palestine for the rest of the century. His reign was quite momentous for that period. Herod himself would have direct impact on the very early life of Jesus Christ, even though he died when Jesus was a year old.

It was Herod Antipeter who would face Jesus Christ on the day of his trials and crucifixion. Jesus would call him fox, because he was. This is Herod's son.

Early History

1. Julius Cæsar assassinated on the ides of March in 44 B.C.
2. Then the second triumvirate was born. Gaius Octavius, Mark Anthony and Lepidus formed the 2nd triumvirate.
3. Antipeter, father of Herod, was poisoned. Herod stepped up.
4. This is when Herod began to exert his own authority and to expand his power in this region. He was a ruthless political animal. He had a tremendous instinct for power. He wanted power and was willing to preserve it by any means. There was a lot of blood on his hands.

Herod married well to form a political alliance. It had little to do with love and attraction. Aristocracy married for power, place, politics and influence; this allowed for the consolidation of power. He married Mariamni, who was well-known for her beauty. She was a Hasmonian. Herod therefore had allied himself with the reigning religious family. By 40 B.C., his marital and allied stratagems paid off, so the Roman Senate named him king over Palestine. He set out to control the recalcitrant Jews. He then began to get rid of the Hasmonian heirs. However, this did not endear him to his wife. She did not like seeing her family wiped out.

While these events took place, the Roman world turned over. The 2nd triumvirate was at war with one another. 2 Sept 31 B.C., Gaius Octavia bottled up Mark Antony and Cleopatra off the coast of Greece. He had 90,000 men and about 400 warships. Mark Antony had a similar army and 500 warships. Antony was having problems with logistics; he could not supply his army, and they began to desert. He had to do battle before his situation deteriorated further.

His ships were cumbersome and were no match for Octavian's lighter and more nimble ships. Mark Antony managed to escape back to Egypt, to organize for more war. Octavian was now the undisputed master of the Roman empire. The man with the army held the power. Battle of Actium ended a century of civil war.

His name then became Augustus Cæsar, and called the founder of a new golden age. The cessation of 100 years of great war. The great Pox Romana began. The peace of Rome. This was the right time for the Lord Jesus Christ to come. The first peace in decades of upheaval. There was no longer a focus on the wars and the power brokers, so man could focus on the Messiah.

The Right Time for Jesus Christ to Come into the World

1. Piracy was a huge problem in the Mediterranean. Augustus put an end to this. This helps commerce.
2. Banditry declined on land, so people could travel without fear.
3. Augustus brought a general stability to the frontiers of the empire.
4. The settled conditions allowed commerce to flourish; people became wealthy and business prospered.
5. He built roads all over, which helped the commercial world, which paved the way for Jesus Christ and for Paul later. This allowed for the spread of Christianity in the Christian world.

Herod in 31 B.C. This conflict had an effect upon Herod. He had been a supporter of Mark Antony, and Herod had backed the wrong horse. This put him in a very precarious position. It was hard to explain his choice to the rising star of Rome. However, Herod considered all of the angles. He was slippery and he was savvy. He made a decision which affect his career and Palestine for the next 35 years. He decided to back the winner. He had no real loyalty. He was only interested in those who would advance him. He knew that he needed to charm Octavian. He needed to make an excuse for what he had done. A misstep could have caused him to lose his power and his life.

He decided to tell Octavian the truth. He told him that he had given Antony aide, and his help was extensive with money and troops and support. He then pledged to give Octavian the same sort of strategic support. Let me keep this kingdom, and I will further your cause. This was a good bargaining chp; and Herod had stablized Palestine, which was not an easy thing to do. Octavian then stuck a deal with Herod. This was a smart deal for them to come to an agreement here. Both men were smart here.

So Herod retained his power and he kept it until he died. After the meeting, Herod did exactly what he said he would do. Octavian marched to Egypt and destroyed Mark Antony and Cleopatra.

Octavian went back to Rome to consolidate power in the capitol. Augustus Cæsar was in control of Rome when Jesus was born.

The Environment Created by Octavian (Augustus Cæsar)

1. There was universal peace in the empire, for the most part. Of course, some difficult firestorms here and there.
2. He built road.
3. He circulated a common currency.

Herod was ruthless and brutal, and he earned the title Herod the Great at this time, becoming a great asset to Augustus during this time.

What Herod Did

1. He sent military expeditions east of the Jordan River. He knew what Rome wants; so he sent Roman troops eastward into Arabia. He was a military genius and excellent in war. Putting territory under the Roman Empire was a good thing.
2. He furthered the cultural aims of Rome and Augustus. He stayed loyal to Augustus because Augustus kept him in power. Augustus wanted to develop a uniform Greco-Roman culture throughout his empire, and Herod did everything he could to further this end. He made Palestine Greco-Roman, as far as he could. He supported the cult of the emperor was divine, which was anathema to the Jews. He built temples to Augustus. He rebuilt Samaria, between Galilee and Judæa. They were only half-Jews, and the Jews did not like them for this reason. Sebaste is the Greek word Augustus, and that is the name he gave to Samara. Augustus like being revered as a god. He built more temples in Samaria, a theater; a hippodrome for chariot racing. Jews did not like this. They did not like all of this Roman culture coming into this area.
3. To furnish Augustus domain with a seaport, he built the city of Caesarea for Cæsar. He hauled tremendous blocks of limestone, and this was a great engineering feat for that day. Temple to Cæsar dominated the skyline. In the middle of Palestine is Caesarea, which was the center of Roman power in Palestine, and Herod did this all. This was unique in all of Jewish history. He built an amphitheater in Jerusalem as well.
4. One of his greatest accomplishments, which also ingratiated him to Augustus, he maintained power over Palestine for Rome. Herod's later descendants were unable to do this. He subdued the Jews, the most turbulent of people under Roman control. They would not accept another king, so they were often stirred up. They were strongly isolationist and they wanted to be free. They expected their own king to free them from this Roman oppression. The Jews resented Herod and Rome. This hatred continued to A.D. 70. Herod set up strategic positions where he could march in and put down any rebellion.
5. Herod rebuilt the Temple, and the Jews appreciated this. This was the center of their religious life. Solomon's Temple was destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar. 500 years later, it was Zerubbabel's Temple which Herod refurbished; and Herod spared no expense. He enlarged it and he enriched it. This was the center of Judaism. This exceeded Solomon's Temple in magnificence. This was his crowning achievement. He called it Herod's Temple. For all of its magnificence, it lacked the Ark of the Covenant. Nebuchadnezzar probably took it to Babylon. It was not in Herod's Temple. There was no Presence of Jehovah Elohim. The Shekinah Glory would appear in Herod's Temple in the flesh.

The Gospels December 2, 2010

Thursday

Octavius' word was law. Palestine was under the sandal of the Roman legions, and it was a part of the Roman empire. Octavius had the king of Palestine guarding his interests. These men shaped the province in which Jesus was born. Herod of Caesar's most important asset in that region.

Herod originally backed Mark Antony, but he later went to Octavian and said, "I backed the wrong horse."

Herod extended the empire, and Cæsar really liked this. During his time, he sent military expeditions east of the Jordan and he subdued some of the wild beduin tribes in that area. This allowed for the formation of the Roman province of Asia.

Herod also had a great talent for building, so he had temples dedicated to emperor worship, and he built hippodromes and various coliseums, and he rebuilt Samarai, renaming it Augustus.

He built a sea port where there was no port before, and then built the city of Caesarea from the ground up, and that became the seat of Roman power and government at that time.

All of this currying of favor did not gain him any favor with the Jews. One of Herod's great accomplishments was maintaining control over Palestine for Rome for a long time. The Jews were a very independent lot. The Jews deeply resented subservience to Rome.

The history of Palestine was not an easy one. The Jews were their own worst enemy. They were very likely to stir up at any moment trouble and they were not above stirring up violence in Palestine. Herod crushed any Jewish riot or revolt against Roman rule.

Herod built a line of forts in Palestine where trouble seemed to brew the most. When the Jews started something, soldiers would come out and crush this revolt, killing many.

However, Herod did try to placate the Jews to some degree, the Temple had fallen into great disrepair and it was supposed to be the house of God. So, why not rebuild the Jewish Temple. He began this project 500 years after the previous Temple had been done, in 516 B.C. Solomon's Temple had been destroyed 70 years previous. Herod's Temple was his crowning achievement, so he spared no expense. Herod's Temple even exceeded the magnificence of Solomon's Temple. He designed it and began it around 19 B.C., and it would be 46 years that the Temple would be under construction; and it was actually finished in A.D. 64. 6 years after it was completed, it was leveled, where the only thing left was the Wailing Wall. The legions of Titus destroyed the Temple.

Herod improved economic conditions in Palestine, he built a lot of buildings and was well-known for his architecture genius. He was very highly successful.

His personal life was a disaster. It was a constant thorn in his side, and it had a great affect on his reign and upon events around the time of the birth of Jesus.

His personal life had become very complicated. He returned from this meeting with Octavian, after pledging his loyalty to him; he found the domestic situation that was completely out of control. There was no loyalty at home. Herod married a beautiful woman named Mariamni, from the Hasmonian line, which gave him religious power. She had come to loathe Herod, although he loved her. Herod had a mother-in-law who could not stand him (Alexandra). She actually plotted against him, wanting him dead. This was because Herod was dedicated to destroying the Hasmonian line.

His sister, Salome who did not like Alexandra or Mariamne. So Herod had his hands full with these 3 women under one roof. Salome got Mariamne executed on a trumped up charge of infidelity; then Alexandra was taken care of by convicting her of a real plot.

Herod got a little crazy. Then he made a comeback; but it left a mark on him. His charm was gone. He became very moody and suspicious of everyone, and very conspiracy oriented, seeing enemies everywhere.

They say that Stalin maintained power because everyone was an enemy to him, so he played them against one another. He would send off various men to gulags or they would simply disappear in the night.

A short time of peace when his wife and mother-in-law died. However, family conflict resumed a few years later. Herod had a lot of sons, and 3 of them wanted Herod out of the way so that they could take power. So, Herod executed all 3 of them. It was a very dark decade of Herod's life. He died around 4 or 3 B.C., a year after the birth of Jesus Christ.

The wise men stopped by to see Herod and they said they were going to see the King of the Jews born to them at that time. Herod asked to see Him, but the wise men did not return by way of Herod.

Herod died of intestinal cancer and edema. He tried to kill the Lord Jesus Christ, and he then died painfully.

Archelaus, named the Tetrarch of Samaria, Judaea, Idumea, and somewhere else. These are prime areas, but Herod Antipas named Tetrarch of Galilee and Peria. Also called the fox. He executed John the Baptist.

Philip became tetrarch of somewhere else.

There was a predominant culture; a culture mix of Greek and Roman, called Greco-Roman culture, and he forced this upon the people of Palestine. The Jews resisted this violently. Secular Greek art, literature and art permeated this part of the world.

Epicureans were skeptics and they declared themselves against all religions, putting them at odds with all religions, including with Jews and emperor worship. They believed the world arose by chance; they were the evolutionists of that day. There was no divine providence or divine action in that day. There was no spiritual, there was no life after death. Their philosophy was pleasure, which was hedonism. Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die.

The Aristotilians from Aristotle. They were deists. There were a lot of people in the colonies who were said to be deists. God existed as just a principle to them. God did not interfere with the affairs of man. He left man alone, for the most part. These are the most ironic. Their philosophy was, "God does not interfere" whereas, at this time, God would greatly involve Himself with the affairs of men. How futile these men were.

Then there are the academics. They were agnostics who held that objective truth could not be ascertained or confirmed. There was no objective truth, in their thinking, even though Jesus was the Truth.

The Platonists, from Plato. They limited God's essence. He was not the God of the Bible.

The Stoics; there was a bit of deity in all of us. Human virtue is the chief end of life; being virtuous is the end of life and the aim. This is similar to modern eastern religion. On the ethical side, it had much in common with Christianity, which is virtue first. They got the moral part, but they did not get the theological part.

There is nothing new under the sun in Satan's cosmic system. These same philosophies are found in one form or another even today. They repeat themselves. We need to be able to recognize Satan's deceptions. This is what Jesus faced on the Greco-Roman side.

The most popular of the Greco-Roman culture were the epicureans, and pleasure was their chief pursuit; therefore, immorality was rampant. The Roman empire had about 6 million slaves. More slaves in the city of Rome than there were free men. The middle class began to disappear. There was the wealthy aristocracy and the slaves; and the slaves began to run Rome. The slaves had to be entertained in this time.

Rom. 1:18–32 So, too, there is a revelation from Heaven of the Divine Wrath against every form of ungodliness and wickedness on the part of those men who, by their wicked lives, are stifling the Truth. This is so, because what can be known about God is plain to them; for God himself has made it plain. For ever since the creation of the universe God's invisible attributes-his everlasting power and divinity-are to be seen and studied in his works, so that men have no excuse; Because, although they learned to know God, yet they did not offer him as God either praise or thanksgiving. Their speculations about him proved futile, and their undiscerning minds were darkened. Professing to be wise, they showed themselves fools; And they transformed the Glory of the immortal God into the likeness of mortal man [man became god], and of birds, and beasts, and reptiles [like those who inordinately favor animals today]. Therefore God abandoned them to impurity, letting them follow the cravings of their hearts, till they dishonored their own bodies; For they had substituted a lie for the truth about God, and had revered and worshiped created things more than the Creator, who is to be praised for ever. Amen. That, I say, is why God abandoned them to degrading passions. Even the women among them perverted the natural use of their bodies to the unnatural; While the men, disregarding that for which women were intended by nature, were consumed with passion for one another. Men indulged in vile practices with men, and incurred in their own persons the inevitable penalty for their perverseness. Then, as they would not keep God before their minds, God abandoned them to depraved thoughts, so that they did all kinds of shameful things. They reveled in every form of wickedness, evil, greed, vice. Their lives were full of envy, murder, quarreling, treachery, malice. They became back-biters, slanderers, impious, insolent, boastful. They devised new sins. They disobeyed their parents. They were undiscerning, untrustworthy, without natural affection or pity. Well aware of God's decree, that those who do such things deserve to die, not only are they guilty of them themselves, but they even applaud those who do them.

There is no standard which can keep these people in check. The reversionistic believer becomes just like these people. There was little connection between religion and morality except in Judaism. Judaism was the great antagonist to the Lord Jesus Christ. These religious leaders missed the Messiah right in front of them.

The Gospels December 5, 2010

Sunday 1

There are many wonderful psalms in the Bible, and all of them were, at one time, set to music. The music has been lost.

There were many factors feeding into the winter of 6–5 B.C. and these factors influenced the life and times of our Lord Jesus Christ. We have examined the cultures and the geopolitical circumstances. The climate and topography also played a part in His life.

There is a confluence of events and peoples. The very central event of history took place in this area.

Assyrian empire in 721 B.C. to the Chaldean empire in 586 B.C. began a series of diasporas which continue even until today.

In the 4 centuries, before Jesus, the Greeks, first under Alexander the Great, and then the Egyptians and the Seleucids of Syria all left their mark on the land, and most of it was violence. Then after all of this blood letting, Rome entered into the picture. The victory of Octavian over Mark Antony in Octavia. Octavian and Herod shaped much the world into which our Lord came.

Greco-Roman culture. Heathen temples built by Herod the Great. 5 Greco-Roman quasi-religious groups: the Epicureans (they liked pleasure), the Aristotilians (Deists), the Academians (who are agnostics; science becomes God); the Platonist (with high ideals of God); and the Stoics (virtue was the aim as the absolute virtue; God somehow figured into their thinking). But when the fullness of time came, God sent forth His Son, born of a woman, born under the Law.

The most influential faith of that day was Judaism. So we are going to examine the religious background of the Jews of that day. Religion is the Devil's ace trump. Isn't religion one of the good things in the world? Isn't religion a seeking of God? Religion obscures or repudiates Jesus Christ. Satan, in religion, poses as an angel of light.

Those who are skeptics often say, "I don't like religion;" and Bobby doesn't either. We can never gain the favor of God by our works. Nowhere is the evil of religion more apparent than the time of the incarnation of Jesus Christ. Satan heavily influenced Judaism at that time. Religiosity had blinded the Jews to the grace of God. That is what religion does as a cosmic system tool.

The Jews were law keepers and they condemned those who did not keep the Law. They reject the concept of salvation by grace. They missed the opportunity to know the Messiah they had waited for, for centuries.

They missed the meaning of the cross. They wanted a king; they wanted a crown; not a Servant Who would die. They missed the prophecies of Isa. 53:

Isa. 53:3 He was despised and rejected by men, a man of suffering who knew what sickness was. He was like one people turned away from; He was despised, and we didn't value Him.

Does this sound like a king to you? This was not a part of the wish-list of Judaism.

Isa. 53:4 Yet He Himself bore our sicknesses, and He carried our pains; but we in turn regarded Him stricken, struck down by God, and afflicted.

A majority of the Jews were intensely religious people, even to fanaticism, and they were called Zealots, some of them. There was a good side to Judaism, because some knew enough Bible doctrine to recognize Jesus Christ as their Savior. There were those who did not, however.

Isa. 53:5 But He was pierced because of our transgressions, crushed because of our iniquities; punishment for our peace was on Him, and we are healed by His wounds.

Isa. 53:6 We all went astray like sheep; we all have turned to our own way; and the LORD has punished Him for the iniquity of us all.

Isa. 53:7 He was oppressed and afflicted, yet He did not open His mouth. Like a lamb led to the slaughter and like a sheep silent before her shearers, He did not open His mouth.

Isa. 53:8 He was taken away because of oppression and judgment; and who considered His fate? For He was cut off from the land of the living; He was struck because of My people's rebellion.

Isa. 53:9 They made His grave with the wicked, and with a rich man at His death, although He had done no violence and had not spoken deceitfully.

Isa. 53:10 Yet the LORD was pleased to crush Him, and He made Him sick. When You make Him a restitution offering, He will see His seed, He will prolong His days, and the will of the LORD will succeed by His hand.

Judaism in the Time of Christ

1. During that time, there was less atheism than anywhere else in history.
2. Judaism was a powerful religion; it had the inner strength to stand against incredible foes and persecutions. It is based upon the Old Testament scriptures, even though it is apostate.
3. Many of the Jews during this time period were open to accepting the Messiah when he appeared. They were even seeking Him. And these prophecies had occurred centuries before.
4. This was the bright and the dark side of this time period. Some were closed to Him and some were looking for Him.

The Mosaic Law and the Temple were the centers of the Jews. The Jews saw the Torah as the norm of their life. All Jewish boys were grounded in the teaching of the Pentateuch. They began with the book of Leviticus. It was the parents who were to teach their children the Mosaic Law.

This is why many people in that day recognized Jesus as the fulfillment of many of these festival days.

The synagogues came into existence because of the diaspora; their centers of worship. The synagogue services were not a lot different from ours. Prayers, Scripture reading, a message and a benediction. Any Jewish man was capable of reading the Scriptures; he knew the Law. The choice of the reader might be anyone.

Jesus was a learned man, and he was called upon to read from time to time. He claimed to be the Messiah and He claimed to be God. He said that He was about His Father's business, which including cleansing the Temple. The ruler of the synagogue exerted tremendous influence. These Jewish communities were religious at this time.

However, there was a great problem as well. There was the Mosaic code and the way that they handled it.

The Gospels December 5, 2010

Sunday 2

The big problem for the Jews was the Mosaic Law. They added to it. This is apostasy in religion. Something is added to Scripture, which obscures what is actually there. There was an oral tradition, which was the Rabbinic interpretations and explanations for the Scripture. They did not interpret these with the correct hermeneutic. They forgot about the original intent of the Scripture, and they went way beyond that. They left the literal meaning of the text behind. Their traditions became more important than the Old Testament itself. That was the arrogance of Judaism. In many circles of Judaism, there was just support for this oral tradition. They reinterpreted and they focused in on the King of Kings and they ignored the suffering servant. These traditions were not written down until A.D. 200, the Mishna, which is the second law. Before, what was passed down was simply according to their memories. To say the least, this was inaccurate and departed from the Old Testament. Judaism focuses on the Mishna and the Talmud, and that is why they do not understand the Bible. They depend upon their oral traditions.

The religious leaders of that day, therefore, became the enemies of Jesus Christ. They relied more upon what they thought the prophecies meant. As important as the synagogue was, the Temple was also important to their religious life.

The cloud by day and the pillar by night; and our Lord's residence was localized over the Ark of the Covenant. The Ark was removed by Nebuchadnezzar. The true meaning of the Temple was lost in the shelter, and it became merely a religious symbol; a religious building.

The Jews in the land and of the diaspora all had a tremendous tie to the Temple. Jesus Christ at age 12 first entered the Temple and He spent a lot of time there. Here is the Shekinah glory returning to the Temple, and no one recognized Him.

The great feasts were celebrated at the Temple as well. Passover, Atonement and Pentecost all play an important part of the Lord Jesus Christ. The Temple had great importance for Jesus Christ personally. At age 12, Jesus argued with the Rabbis and He continually refuted their weird traditional positions. He stood in front of those hardened scribes, pharisees and He explained the Scriptures to them.

There is another fact about Judaism. Every year, the Jews of the diaspora converged upon Jerusalem and came to attend the various festivals to attend, Passover and Pentecost. This was a great time of worship and religiosity. All of this was going on 5-4 B.C. The true Passover was about to be sacrificed, and the Jews from all over would be there to observe this. The Temple was the center for the Jews for those from all over the Roman world.

This also had an impact after the cross of Christ. The gift of tongues came upon the disciples at Pentecost.

It is necessary to understand 4 of the major groups to understand the religious atmosphere at the time of His incarnations. The Pharisees, the Sadducees, the Essenes and the Zealots.

The Pharisees were the most important. Their name means set apart. These were all men and they distinguished themselves from all of the other religious groups. They set themselves apart because of their superior holiness. This was self-righteousness and hypocrisy. The ones our Lord called hypocrites.

This sect developed for a good reason. This was to set them apart from the heathen. They go back as far as 586 B.C. They wanted to maintain the Old Testament; they wanted to keep it separate from the heathen influences.

There was the Hellenistic influence (the Greeks). The Pharisees separated from all of that. Hellenism had infiltrated Jewish thinking and philosophy, making them more worldly and secular. This was their mission in Judaism, to keep them pure from other influences. They also withdrew from political leadership. They were not political leaders; they were political leaders. In those times, the religious leadership cozied up to the political leadership.

What Did the Pharisees Believe?

1. They had a very high concept of God.
2. For them, God was very active in human history. Particularly in the history of Israel. They recognized that God was active in Israel's history.
3. There was a problem with this exalted concept of God, that they made Him transcendental and even mystical, so that the reality of Him was not there.
4. God's activities happened through different agents. The Law came to replace God in the thinking of the Pharisees.
5. The Mosaic Law had become the true agency of God in dealing with man. This is why they were so argumentative when it came to the Mosaic Law. The Mosaic Law was God to them.
6. Judaism of the pharisees was centered on God's Law rather than upon the spirit of the Law. If you know anything about the Mosaic Law, then you know that you cannot keep the Law. The pharisees violated the Law all of the time. Jesus pointed out to them that they could not keep the Law. The correct understanding of the Law was that no one could keep the Law in order to gain God's approval. These pharisees were as hard as flint.
7. Beliefs:
 - a. Resurrection and a future state.
 - b. They believed in the supernatural, including angels.
 - c. They believed in God's will that His sovereignty acted side-by-side human free will. From their own free will, they will reject Him.

Josephus compared them to the Stoics of that era. The Stoics were virtuous; sort of like Mormonism. Most Mormons are very upstanding and very conservative. They believe in a Christ, but they do not see Him as the only way of salvation. They are nice people; and you do not want to seem them condemned. There were some good men among these pharisees; Nicodemus was a pharisee. "What must I do to be born again?" He was a pharisee and He got it. Joseph of Aramathea, and he helped Jesus carry the cross to the hill. Paul was a pharisee. These men all understood the Scripture. They were very moral and law-keepers. However, legalism and religiosity are a part of their thinking.

Religion is the devil's ace trump. They rejected Him. They were moral and nice people; some were very self righteous and hypocritical. Jesus showed us the difference between grace and religion. Pharisees are great examples of rejection of the good and part parts of religion. One of the greatest deceptions of mankind is religion.

A large number of them later believed in Jesus Christ and were incorporated into the church. As they began to realize who Jesus Christ is, that they missed Him at first, and they began to pull it all together.

Circumcision had been part of the symbols of salvation, of regeneration.

At the time of Christ, there were about 6000 pharisees, the dominant influence of Judaism at that time. For the most part, the people of Palestine were not secular at all. You cannot separate the Jews from the religion of Judaism. And the pharisees had great influence over the Jews. However, individually, many pharisees believed in Him.

The Gospels December 8, 2010

Wednesday

There are many ways that we can look at opposition to Christianity, e.g., atheism. However, there is agnosticism and humanism (a more current one; man is placed first). One of the things which is most opposed to Biblical Christianity is religion. Religion is one of the most subtle oppositions to Christianity because it is so deceptive. There are many similarities, so we think, maybe we ought to like it. Subtle deception is Satan's forte. The life of Christ is a perfect example. The greatest problem that Jesus Christ had was with the religious leaders of Judaism. He presented His legitimate credentials to the religious crowd, including miracles that only God could perform; and religion rejected Him and they made up His greatest opposition. They were such law keepers that they did not understand grace. They were utter failures and complete hypocrites.

Jesus Christ was telling them things and interpreting the Law, and outdoing them in this way. What He taught had a complete ring of truth and legitimacy to it, and this was irritating to the religious types. They hated Him and wanted Him dead. Religion is the devil's ace trump.

There were pharisees, sadducees, scribes, essences and zealots; and most of Jesus' opposition came from the pharisees. The pharisees always strove to preserve Judaism from foreign influence. They were a very important group in Judaism; they were attempting to preserve their religion. What appeared to be something that was instructive ended up being destructive. They had expanded the parameters of the Law to fit the circumstances. For them, the Law became the center of Judaism. The Law was more important to them than God. They had concluded that God's activity was manifested through the Law. The pharisees were the arbiters of the Law and saw themselves as being closest to the Law. The Law was the criterion for everything that the pharisees thought.

There were about 6000 pharisees during the time of Christ. Religious influence was the most important aspect of life to the Jews. Those in the land and the diaspora were tightly knit by Judaism. The pharisees had a great impact on all Jews. The pharisees were the arbiters of Judaism.

Who Were the Pharisees?

1. The pharisees are the religious party of the common people.
2. They were anti-foreign, very patriotic, even chauvinistic.
3. They shared, along with most Jews, a burning hatred of the Romans.
4. Their doctrines and practices were respected in the communities. Their interpretations of the Law were taken very seriously.
5. As a force for Judaism, they had the majority of power in the Sanhedrin, which was the ruling religious body in Palestine at that time; the religious court. The religious rulers of Palestine.
6. Therefore, the pharisees had plenty of say in the direction of national life. National life and Judaism were closely connected.

They were the group with whom Jesus had the most interaction and the most confrontations.

What Did Pharisees Believe?

1. Mainly their extreme weight and interpretations of the Torah. God had become transcendental and the Law had become God to them. Any violation of the Law was an act against God. Violation of the Law was a serious breach of piety.
2. They interpreted the Law in a certain way by the use of oral traditions. These traditions were superimposed over the actual Biblical code. These are Scriptural interpretations or applications which go beyond the plain meaning of the Old Testament. They began to expand on the meaning and get mystical and expansive. These traditions were passed down orally from generation to generation. As a result, there were many distortions. Around A.D. 200 they wrote this down as the Mishna. Their traditions became as binding as the Law. That which God had given on Mount Sinai was now being added to. What the pharisees did is quite similar to what has been done to the United States of America constitution, and the real points have been changed or obscured. There has been a constant battle over this. E.g., what does it mean to keep and bear arms?
3. The pharisees were ingenious in adapting the Law to fit circumstances.
4. In doing this, they gradually and greatly liberalized and expanded the Law to meet all sorts of new issues. Some think the constitution is no longer valid because it was written 200 years ago.
5. In their view, the Mosaic Law was normative in every situation. They always went to the Law; so their interpretations became normative for every situation.
6. The pharisees were prepared to expand God's Law to fit any circumstance.
7. Sometimes, the Law was expanded so much that the result contracted the Mosaic Law.

Deut. 15:1–2 the law specified that all debts must be settled in the Sabbatical year (every 7th year). This was to display the generosity and grace and the idea was to illustrate that God forgave debt. It was perverted by those who held the debt. In practice, the lenders began to refuse to give loans. Why give loans to people who ride this out to the Sabbatical year? They did not want to forgive this debt. Therefore, the poor could not get a loan anywhere near the 7th year. This was an abuse of the Law by the lenders.

The pharisees found a way around this. The pharisees ignored God's grace for legalism. They developed probul which was artificial and outside of the Law. This was a declaration which was made in court, that the requirements of the Law to forgive all debt was set aside. So loans could be made without reference to the Sabbatical year. The poor could never get that 7th year break and kept going deeper and deeper into debt. The original intent of the Law was nullified. The pharisees, while priding themselves that they had the poor at heart, actually ended up going deeper in debt.

Legalism always opposes the grace of God. For all you economists: it sounds like this debt relief was a redistribution of wealth? This was not giving someone else's money as a bailout for others. This was a liquidation of debts and providing a new start. This was so that people could get out of debt and get a new start. The lender could make it up in the other years. They could claim and expand and borrow again. This is God's Law and God knows how to take care of His people. This one point in the Law represents what Jesus Christ did for us in grace. Economics can represent Jesus Christ incurred the loss and forgave us our debt. This gave mankind a new start. The pharisees destroyed this completely in their legalism.

The Law itself was designed for future economic expansion for the benefit of all. This was a private sector legal cooperation. This was to maintain a middle class unencumbered by overwhelming debt. The Law represents the grace of God.

The pharisee interpretation was interpreted in favor of the money lenders. God's Law is perfect; why mess with it? This was designed to reflect grace and to set up economic recovery. Grace is opposed to legalism at every turn.

The pharisees were into all of these various rituals. They fasted and followed rituals, but they did not understand what they were doing. No one could do anything on the Sabbath. When Jesus healed on the Sabbath, they saw this as a violation of the Law. This is how distorted it all became.

The pharisees believed they could follow the Law; and if they couldn't, they changed the Law so that they could follow it. The pharisees spared nothing in their devotion to the Law and its interpretation. It was adjusted as needed, but only by the pharisees. They wanted the Law to fit their own behavior.

The pharisees did not like challenges to their authority. Even at age 12, the child Jesus was arguing and refuting the pharisee interpretations.

Rom. 10:4 Jesus made the Law obsolete. For those who believe, Jesus justified. We are righteous. He fulfilled the Law. "What do You know, You upstart? We are doctors of the Law." The professors; the experts of the Law. The scribes and pharisees were often mentioned together. Scribes put the Law under a microscope, looking at every letter and every word. Our Lord blasted and castigated the Scribes and the pharisees.

The Gospels December 9, 2010

Thursday

People are surprised to hear that religion is the devil's ace trump. People think of religion as being essentially good. The devil is the great deceiver and religion is deceptive. Satan uses some truth and perpetrates falsehood by doing so. As he uses some truth, it sounds good. Religion has some similarities to Christianity. When the doctrine is misleading, it is evil. The greatest opposition that Jesus faced was Judaism, which is religion. The pharisees are the great confrontational group who opposed our Lord.

Judaism was grounded in the Law and the Prophets, and it was deceptively similar to the message of Jesus Christ. Satan could take the Old Testament and distort it. They left the heart out of the Law. Religion always leaves grace out. Religion is all about law and the legalities of Judaism.

There were a number of reasons for the religious opposition of the pharisees. Jesus claimed to be the Messiah, the Son of David, and He claimed to be the Son of God. He was God and He was a brilliant expounder of the Law. No one could explain the Law as He did. He wrote the code. It was His Law; He wrote it.

There are all kinds of interpretations given to the 2nd Amendment; and the pharisees were quite good at giving all kinds of interpretations to the Law. The constitution of Israel was written by God. No one knew more about how the Law ought to be interpreted than He did.

In refuting the pharisees and their practices, Jesus kept saying, "I am doing the work of My Father" which indicated that the pharisees were doing the work of their father, the devil. Our Lord did not endear Himself to the pharisees, nor did He want to. They expected Him to be in their fold and they expected to get some respect from Him. They were extremely jealous of Him and His notoriety. All He had to do is to begin speaking and He would draw a huge crowd. The pharisees could not do that. Compare this to political figures today. This was overwhelming to these men of the Law.

These were the religious supreme court; and this young man shut them down on every issue, and everyone watched it. As they heard Jesus expound upon the Law, it made them angrier and angrier.

The pharisees were the epitome of apostate Judaism. The Law had replace God. They figured that God no longer worked directly with Israel, as He did previously with Moses and the prophets; but He gave His Law. Therefore, He must work in some other way; therefore, through the Mosaic Law, which they saw as the primary agency of God. This religion of the pharisees was centered on God's Law; and their interpretation of the Law. And they saw God acting through them, as they interpreted the Law. They saw themselves as the arbiters of the Law.

They missed the fact that God was still working with Israel; not through the Law but through the Messiah, the ultimate work of God. This brought down their entire house of cards; their authority was seriously challenged.

The pharisees also gave equal weight to the oral tradition. This was the interpretations and applications of rabbis from generation to generation. They would read the Law, and they would make an interpretation. This interpretation would fit the circumstance rather than God's intent. This occurs in the courts today all of the time; one law is taken in a new way, and then given a whole new application.

These interpretations were not even written down; they were passed down from person to person. Every generation added a new twist, a new application, a new interpretation, for whatever reason that men do these things (popularity, power, giving themselves an out).

Their interpretations became more important than the Law itself. It is like the pope speaking papal bul. The real Law and its divine intent was obscured by the pharisees.

Christ called them hypocrites because they constantly misapplied the Law. The pharisees were very arrogant and very possessive of all matters religious. Think about the Democrat politicians and the money that rich men make. In their eyes, it is their money, and not getting enough taxes means that these rich men are causing the government deficit.

The scribes and the pharisees are often named together. The scribes are the Jewish scholars closely aligned with the pharisees. They were copyists; custodians of the scrolls, and they were interpreters of the Old Testament. These guys were devoted to a minute and scientific study of the Law. That is what they did all day long. They were professional Law interpreters. They were called doctors of jurisprudence. Their interpretations were often expanded and they conflicted with the Old Testament. However, to the pharisees, this was gospel information. They were the great doctors of the Law.

When Jesus came on the scene, He denounced their lying scholarship. Matt. 23 is a scathing attack on the pharisees. Our Lord tore them to pieces. They spent their lives interpreting these scrolls, and this young upstart claimant to Messiah correctly lays out the Law.

Many times, these men wanted to kill Jesus; they even took up stones to stone Him. All of the malicious powers of Palestine could not remove Him from this earth.

There were those looking for a King; they understood the Messiah as King. They had a taste of independence. The Jewish state had not been independent for a very long time. They have been enslaved by Chaldeans and Macedonians. They were an independent people, and they hated those who kept them under control. They were looking for a king to free them from political control. They were not looking for a Savior.

They also reject Jesus because He was beneath them in His station. They rejected Him on bigoted grounds. He came from Galilee. These are red necks in Galilees. He lacked the higher education. He has been educated only at home.

They did not like that He kept company with tax collectors and prostitutes. Pharisees would never spend time with tax collectors; what could be lower than a fellow Jew who collected money on behalf of Rome? So they despised men like Matthew, and hated that Jesus spend time with him.

Another Jewish faction were known as the sadducees. That means the righteous ones. They were among the religious hierarchy of that day, and they were in opposition to the pharisees. There was a stormy and bloody history between these men.

The Sadducees and How They Differed from the Pharisees.

1. The pharisees were the purists; strict Jewish law keepers. The sadducees tended to make concessions to their Roman conquerors. They were compromisers and pragmatists. Today they might be like orthodox versus reform. One very strict and the other much looser.
2. The sadducees were the aristocrats and the pharisees were more common. The sadducees were the land owners.
3. The sadducees were not as disturbed about Roman occupation.
4. Among the sadducees were the families of the governing class of Herod the Great; the Hasmonians. The sadducees were in this ruling class. They were the overt political arm of Judaism. They were a part of Herod's entourage and they drew power from this. They had been like this since the Maccabees and would remain so until A.D. 70.
5. They had a tendency toward materialism. They like money and possessions. The pharisees not so much.
6. The sadducees were responsible for the administration and feasts etc. of the Temple, which was also a source of power. Jesus spent a lot of time in the Temple. This bothered the sadducees, who saw it as their house.
7. Glaring differences in theology, which brought them into glaring conflict:
 - 1) The sadducees adhered only to the Pentateuch.
 - 2) They rejected the pharisees overloading the Law with their oral traditions. They were more pure in this way.
 - 3) The sadducees were closer to a purely Biblical approach. The pharisees did not see themselves as being anti-Biblical.
 - 4) They did agree on the Pentateuch.
 - 5) This is like liberals and conservatives and their approach to the Law.
 - 6) Their disputes dealt with several theological matters.
 - (1) The pharisees accepted the concept of the resurrection; the sadducees rejected it.
 - (2) the sadducees had a lesser concept of God and a greater confidence in man, which made them humanistic.

The essenes were another group. These were not in any major cities; they were northwest of the Dead Sea in Engedi and other isolated places. 4000 essenes at the time of Jesus Christ. There was no private property among the essenes. The Qumran community may have been Essenes. They abstained from marriage and they were strict Sabbath keepers.

The sadducees, the pharisees and the essenes all have their own interpretation of the Bible.

Literature

When Josephus describes the sects of the Jews, he devotes most of his time and attention to the third of these sects, the Essenes. Strangely enough, although there are frequent references in the New Testament to the other two sects, the Sadducees and Pharisees, no reference has been found to the Essenes. Notwithstanding this silence of the Gospels, the prominence of this third sect is undeniable. Even in Egypt they are known. Philo, the Jewish philosopher, gives an account of these Essenes in terms that, while in the main resembling those used in Josephus, yet differ enough to prove him clearly an independent witness. Another contemporary, Pliny the Naturalist, also mentions these Essenes. Approximately a century later we have a long account of the habits and tenets of these sectaries in Hippolytus' Refutation of All Heresies. A century and a half later still Epiphanius describes these under various titles. Despite the fact that no reference to the Essenes can be found in the Gospels or the Acts, at all events under that name, there can be no doubt of their existence. Would one understand the Palestine in which our Lord's ministry was carried on, he must comprehend the place occupied by the Essenes.

I. The Name

This assumes several forms in different authors - indeed sometimes two forms appear in the same author. Josephus uses most frequently the form of the name which stands at the head of this article, but sometimes he speaks of individuals as "Essaeans" (BJ, II, vii, 3; viii, 4). This latter form is that preferred by Philo, a form that is adopted by Hegesippus as quoted by Eusebius, IV, 22. Pliny in his Natural History, v.15 writes "Essaeans." Hippolytus also has "Essenus." Epiphanius has mixed his information so that this sect appears with him under several names as "Ossaei" and "Jessaei."

Forms It Assumes - Etymology, Origin

It is clear that the name is not primarily Greek - it has passed into Greek from another tongue, since none of the forms has any easy derivation in Greek. Notwithstanding, there have been attempts to derive it from some Greek root, but all are preposterous as etymologies. The etymology must be sought either in Hebrew or its cognate, Aramaic. The usage in regard to the translation of proper names is our only guide. Reasoning from the practice as seen in the Greek translation of the Scriptures and in Josephus, we can deduce that the first letter of the original word must have been one of the gutturals עהא. That the second letter was a sibilant is certain, and the last was probably יא, for the final "n" in the common form of the name is due to the desire to render the word suitable for Greek accident. We may say that to us the two most likely derivations are עשיא, 'ašī-yā', "doers" or אשיא, 'ašī-yā', "healers." Our preference is for the latter, as one of the characteristics of the Essenes dwelt upon by Josephus is the fact that they were healers by means of herbs and incantations (BJ, II, viii, 6). This view is held by the great mass of investigators, as Bellerman, Gfrörer, Hamburger, Herzfeld, Dähm, etc. The name "Therapeutae" given by Philo to the kindred sect in Egypt supports this etymology, as it would be in one of its senses a translation of it. Lightfoot's objection that it is improbable that the ordinary name of the sect "should have been derived from a pursuit which was merely secondary and incidental" does not follow analogy. The term "Methodist" was derived from a purely temporary characteristic of the society that gathered round Wesley. The extreme probability, from the fact that the name is not found in the New Testament, is that it was the nature of a nickname, like "Quakers" applied to the Society of Friends. The multitude that followed Our Lord affords evidence of the influence that a reputation for healing gave to one.

II. The Authorities for the Tenets of the Essenes

Philo and Josephus, as contemporaries and Jews, are necessarily our principal sources of information.

Next is Pliny, though a contemporary of the sect, yet as a Roman, of necessity receiving his information secondhand. There is next in point of date Hippolytus in his work Refutation of All Heresies, written more than a century after the fall of the Jewish state and the disappearance of the Essenes. One point in his favor as an authority is his habit of quoting from sources that would be reckoned good even now. He seems to have founded to some extent on Josephus, but he appears to have made use of some other source or sources as well. Slightly later is Porphyry. He avowedly draws all his information from Josephus. The latest of the ancients who may be reckoned as authorities is Epiphanius. Writing in the 4th century, and naturally of a somewhat confused intellect, any statement of his unsupported by other authority is to be received with caution.

1. Philo

In estimating the evidence that Philo gives concerning the Essenes, we must remember that he was living in Alexandria, not shut up in a Ghetto, but mingling to some extent with the scholars and philosophers of that city. The Jewish community there appears to have been more completely Hellenized than any other assemblage of Jews. The object of Philo's numerous works seems to have been the twofold one of commending Jewish religious thought to the Greek philosophic society in which he mingled, and of commending Greek philosophy to his Jewish kinsmen. The geographic distance from Palestine may be to some degree neglected from the frequent communications between it and Egypt. The work in which Philo devotes most attention to the Essenes is his early work, Quod Omnis Probus Liber, "that every good man is free." This treatise is intended for a Gentile audience - the "Lawgiver of the Jews" is introduced casually first, and then more emphatically, till he is named. The Essenes are brought forward as the very flower and perfection of Mosaism.

(1) Description from Quod Omnis Probus Liber

"There is a portion of that people called Essenes - over four thousand in my opinion. They are above all servants (therapeutai) of God. They do not sacrifice animals but study to preserve the sanctity of life. They live in villages, avoiding all cities on account of the lawlessness of those that inhabit them. Some of these men cultivate the soil, others live by peaceful arts and so benefit themselves and all their neighbors. They do not lay up treasures of gold or silver for themselves, judging contentment and frugality the great riches. With them are no makers of arms or of military engines and no one is occupied with anything connected with war. They all avoid commerce and navigation, thinking that these employments make for covetousness. They possess no slaves, holding all men to be free and all are expected to aid one another as real (gnēsíois) brethren. They devote their attention to the moral part of philosophy - to the neglect of logic - using, as instructors, the laws of their country which it would have been impossible for the human mind to devise save by Divine inspiration. They abstain from all work on the seventh day, which they look on as sacred. On it they assemble in sacred buildings which are called synagogues and, seated in order according to age, they hear the Scriptures (tás bíblous) read and expounded. They are thus taught to choose what is right and to avoid what is wrong. They use a threefold criterion - love of God, love of virtue, love of man. They carefully avoid oaths and falsehood - they regard God as the author of all good. They all dwell in companies, so that no one has a dwelling absolutely his own. They have everything in common, their expenses, their garments, their food. When they work for wages they do not retain these for themselves, but bring it into the common stock. The sick are not neglected when they are unable to contribute to the common store. They respect their seniors as if they were their parents. Such men never can be enslaved. As a proof of this none of the many oppressors of their land were able to bring any accusation against the Holy Essenes."

The above is a very much condensed summary of the passage on the Essenes in Philo, QOPL. No one can fail to be struck with the resemblance all this has in the first place to the teaching of the Sermon on the Mount and the practice of the early church. Although celibacy is not mentioned it is implied in the picture here presented of the Essenes.

There is another account in a passage quoted from Philo by Eusebius, Preparatio Evangelica, VIII, 11:

(2) Description from Quotation in Eusebius, Preposition Evang

"Our lawgiver trained (ēleipsen, "anointed") ten thousands of his followers and formed them into a community called Essenes from their holiness. They dwell as numerous communities in many cities and villages of Judea." It will be observed that this contradicts the statement above that there were only 4,000 Essenes and that they avoided cities. "This sect is not hereditary. There are no children nor youths among the Essenes as such persons are unstable. No one among them has property of his own. They regard all possessions as part of a common stock. They all dwell in the same place, forming themselves into clubs and societies. They do everything for the benefit of the whole society, but different members take up different employments, laboring ceaselessly despite cold or heat. Before sunrise they go to their work and do not quit it till sunset. Some are tillers of the soil, some shepherds, some tend bees, some are artisans. These men when they have received their wages give them up to the general manager who purchases what is necessary. Those who live together eat at the same table day after day. Their dress also is common. In winter they have thick cloaks, in summer light mantles. Each takes what he wants. When anyone falls sick he is cured from their common resources. Old men, even if they happen to be childless, are as if they had a numerous offspring of affectionate children. They repudiate marriage because they look on woman as a selfish creature and specially addicted to jealousy and hypocrisy, thus likely to dissolve their brotherhood. A man bound to a woman is hampered by his affection, is no longer a free man but a slave" (compare 1Co_7:1. Paul mentions the same difficulties in regard to wedlock).

(3) Description of Therapeutae from De Vita Contemplativa

In his Treatise De Vita Contemplativa Philo, commencing with a reference to the Essenes, passes on to describe a similar class of coenobites who have their settlements near the Moerotic Lake. These he calls Therapeutae, or in the feminine, Therapeutrides, a title which he interprets as "healers." While there are many points of resemblance, there are also not a few features of difference. We shall give as full an extract as in the previous instances.

It is related that they have separate houses and only come together for worship or for feasts. They have parallel societies for men and for women. As in the case of the Essenes there is a reading of ancient sacred books and an exposition of the passage read. The name Therapeutae, with the explanation of the name given by Philo, affords a link, as said above, with the Essenes, if the etymology of their name which we have seen reason to prefer be the true one. There seems also to be some connection between these Jewish monks and the Christian monks of some three centuries later. It ought to be remarked that many suspicions have been thrown on the authenticity of De Vita Contemplativa. Although critical names of authority may be named on that side, yet it may be doubted whether the reasons are sufficient. Lucius, who is the main opponent, does so mainly to invalidate the existence of the Therapeutae. He thinks De Vita Contemplativa was composed by a Christian to give an antiquity to the Christian monks. To prove a practice to have been Jewish would be far from commending it to Christians. But more, the resemblance to the Christian monks, although close on some points, in others of importance the difference is equally prominent. While the common feast suggests the Agapae of the early church, we must remember that this was not a monastic peculiarity. The fact that a female community existed alongside of the male and joined with them in worship is out of harmony with what we know of early monasticism. The feast of the 50th day has no parallel in Christianity.

2. Josephus

Like Philo, Josephus wrote for a non-Jewish audience. In Rome the philosophic ideas held in the Hellenic world were prevalent, so he, as much as Philo, had a temptation to be silent on any subject which might shock the sensibilities or provoke the ridicule of his masters. In particular, in describing the habits and tenets of the Essenes, for whom he professed so high an admiration, he would need to be specially careful to avoid causes of offense, as in such a case he would be liable to be involved in their condemnation. In dealing with the notices he gives of the Essenes we would consider the descriptions at length first, and then the incidental notices of individual Essenes.

(1) Description from Antiquities of the Jews, XVIII, 1, 5

The description which comes earliest in history - not, however, the earliest written - is in Antiquities of the Jews, XVIII, in connection with the census and survey under Quirinius (Cyrenius) and the resistance to it by Judas of Gamala.

He there (Ant., XVIII, i, 5) begins by referring to their theological position, that they believed in the most absolute preordination. They teach the immortality of souls and a state of rewards and punishments. Although they dedicated gifts to the temple they offered no sacrifices, presumably bloody sacrifices, as they have offerings of their own. A singular statement is made that "they are on this account excluded from the common court" (koinoú temenísmatos). They occupy themselves with husbandry. "They excel in justice all other men." They have all things in common. They neither marry wives nor keep slaves. He says, as does Philo, that they number over four thousand men. They appoint "good men priests who should receive the fruits of their labor for the sake of corn and food."

(2) Description from Wars of the Jews, II, VIII, 2-13

A much fuller account is found in the earlier written treatise on the Wars of the Jews, II, viii, 3. In this work he emphasizes the ascetic side of Essenism.

"The Essenes," he says, "reject pleasures as vice. They despise marriage though they do not absolutely repudiate it, but are suspicious of women. They despise riches and have all things in common. They think oil a defilement. They wear white garments. They elect overseers (epimele-tai) to manage their common affairs, much as the Christian bishops did those of the churches under them. They have no one city but many of them dwell in every city." It may be observed that this statement is a contradiction of Philo's statement and that of Josephus himself above, that they were only 4,000. "When any of them go from one city to another they find the houses of those of their sect open to them as if they were their own." It is probable that as the apostles, when sent out by our Lord to preach, were on entering a city to ask who in it was worthy, the traveling Essenes would inquire who in it were Essenes. Like the apostles they took nothing with them when they traveled save weapons for defense against robbers, just as the apostles had at the time of the Last Supper two swords with which they had likely provided themselves for similar reasons. "They get up before sunrise and offer up prayers which they have received from their ancestors. They are then dismissed to their several employments to the fifth hour, they bathe in cold water, put on white linen garments and enter the refectory as if into a temple. Food is set before each." Much like the Christian grace before meat, a priest offers up prayer. Again, as grace after meat, when the meal is finished the priest again prays. "Both before and after their refectation they sing praise to God. As Christ commanded His disciples and said, 'Swear not at all,' they avoid oaths, indeed esteem them worse than perjury. New members were admitted to the society by baptism, and oaths were laid upon them that they were to be submissive to those in authority in the society. They were to keep the doctrines of the sect secret. They kept the Sabbath with greater strictness than did any other section of the Jews. Heinous sins were punished by expulsion from the order which, as they felt their oaths still binding on them, amounted to death. Judicial sentences are arrived at with the utmost care; decisions are come to by an assembly of not less than a hundred who are chosen to be judges. When once the sentence has been pronounced it stands fixed. They regard the bodies as corruptible but the souls are immortal. They believe in a Paradise resembling the Islands of the Blest." One thing is to be observed: "they are bound by oath to preserve the sacred books of their sect, ta hairéseo-s auton bíblia, and the names of the angels." They utter predictions by means of their sacred books, which predictions are generally fulfilled. There is, however, another sort of Essenes who do not avoid marriage.

The philosopher Porphyry mentions that Josephus had an account of the Essenes in the second book against the Gentiles. If this means Contra Apianem, no such passage is to be found in that work now. It may, however, be some work of Josephus which has not come down to us, which Porphyry has misnamed, though this is unlikely.

(3) Incidental Notices

This is not, however, the whole of the information concerning the Essenes which we can gather from Josephus. The earliest of these incidental notices occurs under the reign of Jonathan (Ant., XIII, v, 9), when the historian mentions the three sects of the Jews, when the only peculiarity he assigns to the Essenes is that they believe that everything happens according to fate. Next, in relating the fate of Antigonus, he tells how Judas, an Essene teaching in the temple, when he saw Antigonus, declared that he was proved a false prophet, as he had foretold that Antigonus was to die that day at Struto's tower (Caesarea), and he was now six hundred furlongs off from there. Here the statement that the Essenes were excluded from the temple seems directly contradicted. In the days of Herod (XV, x, 4, 5) Josephus relates that while Herod demanded oaths of submission from others he excused the Essenes, from the favor he had to them on account of one Menahem, a member of this sect, who foretold his reign. This Essene seems to have been about the court and to have nothing of the coenobitic agriculturist about him. The Essenian fame for prediction and the interpretation of dreams is related in regard to Archelaus, the son of Herod (BJ, II, vii, 3). Archelaus had a dream, and applied to an Essene, Simon or Simeon, who foretold the end of his reign. In singular contrast to what had been said by Philo of the objection the Essenes had in regard to everything connected with war, one of the leading generals of the Jews when they rebelled against the Romans was John the Essene, who was made governor of certain toparchies in the North (BJ, II, xx, 4). He was killed in the battle near Ascalon with which the war began, which ended in the capture of Jerusalem by Titus (BJ, III, ii, 1). There is also mention of a gate of the Essenes in Jerusalem, which seems to imply that a number of them permanently resided there.

3. Pliny

Pliny speaks of the Essenes in his Natural History (v.17) in somewhat rhetorical terms. They dwell on the west side of the Dead Sea - "a wonderful race without women, without money, associates of the palms." They are recruited by those wearied of life, broken in fortunes. "Thus a race is eternal through thousands of ages (seculorum) in which no one is born; so fruitful to them is repentance of life in others." He refers to the fertility of Engedi and adds, "now burned up."

4. Hegesippus

There is an enigmatical passage quoted by Eusebius from Hegesippus in which the Essaeans (Essenes), the Galileans, Hemerobaptists, Masbotheans, Samaritans and Pharisees are declared to hold different opinions about circumcision among the sons of Israel "against the tribe of Judah and of Christ" (kata tē's phulé's Ioudaia kai Christou).

5. Porphyry

Porphyry's note regarding the Essenes is simply taken from Josephus

ISBE on the Essenes

6. Hippolytus: - Uses Josephus, but to Some Extent Independent

In the great work of the mysterious bishop, Hippolytus, discovered some sixty years ago, there is a description of the Essenes. Although the work is a Refutation of All Heresies, implying that the opinions maintained were erroneous and required to be refuted, the author does nothing to exhibit the erroneousness of the Essene tenets or habits. In regard to the Gnostic heresies Hippolytus endeavored to reach original sources; presumably he did so in the present case. Although there is no doubt of his indebtedness to Josephus, yet for the features where he differs from Josephus, or supplements him, we may assume that he has behind his statements some authority which he regarded as valid. In some cases there may be a suspicion that in his eagerness to show that certain heresies were derived from this or that heathen philosophical system he has modified the heresy to suit the derivation he has supposed. This, however, does not apply to the Essenes.

In the ninth book of his Refutation of All Heresies, Hippolytus takes up Jewish sects (haireseis) which, following Josephus, he reckons as three. The first he discusses is the Essenes. They are very devotional and temperate and eschew matrimony. They despise wealth, and from sharing with the destitute they do not turn away (compare Mat_5:42; the verb used is the same). Anyone joining the sect must sell all that he has (compare Mat_19:21; the same words are used in Act_4:32, Act_4:37). Overseers epimele⁻tai are chosen by show of hands χειροτονειν, cheirotonein (Act_14:23). They do not stay in one city but many settle in every city. They dress always in white, but do not own two cloaks or two pairs of shoes, much as our Lord's instructions to His apostles when He sent them out two and two (Mat_10:10). Their daily course of conduct is described very much in the same terms as those used by Josephus Before dawn they begin their day by prayer and singing a hymn. They return from their work before midday, at the fifth hour, and bathe themselves in cold water and clothe themselves in garments of white linen. After that they repair into the common apartment. They seat themselves in silence; the cook places food before each individual. The priest prays and pronounces a blessing on the food. At the end of the meal the priest again prays, and those who have partaken join in singing a hymn of thanksgiving. They lay aside their white linen garments, and resume their ordinary clothing and betake themselves again to their occupations. Supper at sunset is conducted in a similar manner. All obey the president (proesto⁻s) in whatever he enjoins. No one amongst them is in the habit of swearing. They are careful to read the law and the prophets. Other works of faithful men they also study. All that join the sect are put on probation. The entrant receives a white robe and a linen girdle, and is supplied with an axe for the purposes mentioned in Deu_23:13. He has to take solemn oaths to worship God, to be just, not to hate anyone who injures him, but to pray for him (compare Mat_5:44). He promises also to show respect to all in authority, as all authority is from God (1Pe_2:13). He is not to divulge the secret doctrines of the society. There follows a description of the fate of those expelled from the society and the mode of conducting trials, borrowed from Josephus Hippolytus proceeds to give an account of four different subsects of the Essenes, all seeming of more than even the wonted fanaticism of the Essenes. One sect would not use coins because of the image of the Emperor on them, inasmuch as this was of the nature of idolatry. Others were prepared to enforce circumcision at the point of the sword. According to Hippolytus the Zealots were Essenes. Later he mentions the class that were freer and did not abjure marriage. A very marked point of difference between the tenets of the Essenes, as described by Philo and Josephus, and those attributed to them by Hippolytus, is in regard to the doctrine of the resurrection. Hippolytus affirms that they did believe in the resurrection of the body. The others, while not in terms denying that they did believe in it, ignore it in such a way as might lead the reader, as indeed it did Bishop Lightfoot, to think that they denied it altogether. The treatment Paul received at Athens when he preached the resurrection showed how incongruous this doctrine seemed to the Greeks. Philo and Josephus wrote for Greek audiences - for the Romans, so far as culture went, were Greeks - and had to consider their taste. Another point held in abeyance by both those writers was the Messianic hopes that we know from the New Testament were so prevalent. Hippolytus says "all sections look for the Messiah," but held that He was to be merely man born in the ordinary way. The reason of Philo's silence and that of Josephus is easily understood. They had commended the Essenes so highly; if they mentioned that they had treasonable hopes of a Messiah who should rule the world, their own personal loyalty would become doubtful. For our part we should regard all the positive elements in Hippolytus' description as worthy of acceptance.

7. Epiphanius - Confused Account

The last authority to whom we would refer is Epiphanius. In his anxiety to make up the number of heresies, the Essenes figure repeatedly under different names. He declares the Essenes to be a sect of the Samaritans closely associated with the Sebuans and Gortheni. Among the Jews he has three sects whom he calls Hemerobaptistae, Nazaraei and Osseni. Besides he has a sect called Sampseans, evidently also Essenes, which he mixes up with the followers of Elkaisa. He does not seem to have any clear idea about their tenets or habits. The Samaritan sects differ about the three Jewish feasts, but he does not make it clear in what they differ. The Sebuans seem to have reversed the order of the Jewish feasts, but whether the Essenes and Gortheni did so likewise is not clear. That the Essenes whom we are considering were not Samaritans appears to be as certain as anything about this enigmatic sect can be. The obscure sentence quoted by Eusebius from Hegesippus might be interpreted as supporting this statement of Epiphanius, but it is too enigmatic to be pressed. As to the three Jewish sects the first named - Hemerobaptistae - suits the daily washings of the Essenes, but he asserts that they agree with the Sadducees in denying the resurrection. The Nazareans or Nazarenes are not to be confounded with a Christian sect of nearly the same name. They resided in the district East of Jordan. They held with the Jews in all their customs, believing in the patriarchs, but did not receive the Pentateuch, though they acknowledged Moses. The Osseni are the likeliest to the Essenes, as they are said to dwell near the Dead Sea, only it is on the side opposite to Engedi. Epiphanius leaves them to denounce Elxai and his brother Jexais, of which latter nothing further is known.

III. Deductions and Combinations

From the characteristics so many, so confusing, indeed, in some respects so contradictory, it is difficult to get a consistent picture. They are said to be only four thousand, yet they are many ten thousands. They reside in Engedi, a company of coenobites. They dwell in villages and avoid towns, yet they dwell many in every city and in populous communities. They avoid everything connected with war, yet one of their number is one of the trusted generals of the Jews in their rebellion against the Romans. They keep away from the Temple, yet one of them, Judas, is teaching in the Temple when he sees Antigonus, whose death he had foretold. The only way in which any consistency can be brought into these accounts is by taking advantage of what Josephus and Hippolytus say about the subsections into which the Essenes were distinguished.

A parallel the present writer has elsewhere used of the Methodists is illuminative. While the most prominent body of Methodists are Arminians, there are the Calvinistic Methodists. While Wesleyan Methodists do not allow women to preach, the Primitive Methodists do. This is so far confirmed by the fact that while the abjuring of marriage is a marked feature in the representation of Philo, yet the latter says that one class of the Essenes not only do not themselves oppose matrimony but regard those that do oppose it as enemies of the human race. The residents in Engedi formed but a small proportion of the Essenes. It is probable that of them the statement, found alike in Philo and Josephus, that they were 4,000, applies. All the features of the picture of the daily common meals, rising before sunrise, joint devotions, may be true in their fullness only of the community by the Dead Sea. What Philo says (quoted by Eusebius, Preposition Evan., VIII, 11), that among the Essenes "there are no youths or persons just entering on manhood, only men already declining towards old age," would indicate that the settlement at Engedi was an asylum for those who, having borne the burden and heat of the day, now retired to enjoy repose.

1. Government

They had communities apparently all over Palestine, if not also beyond its bounds, over each of which there was a president appointed (Hip., IX, 15). This would mean that in towns of any size they would have a synagogue. They appear to have had houses of call, though it may have been that every member of the Essene community kept open house for all members of their sect who might be traveling. The traveler, when he came to a city, would inquire for any that were Essenes, as the apostles were commanded by their Lord, in similar circumstances, to inquire ("search out") who in a city were "worthy." The common meals might to some extent be observed in these different scattered communities, probably at intervals, not daily as at Engedi. At these the secret sacred books, read and studied with so great regularity at Engedi, would also be read. In this synagogue not only would the canonical books be preserved but also those other books which gave them the names of the angels, as now in the synagogues of Palestine the library preserved in the synagogue may be used by those connected with it throughout the week. The head of the community at Engedi might have some suzerainty over all the different communities, but in regard to this we have no information. One external feature which would at once make the Essenes known to each other was the fact that they always dressed in white linen. They had priests probably in every one of their communities. The Jewish exorcists in Ephesus, in whom Bishop Lightfoot (Col, 93) recognizes Essenes, were the sons of one Sceva, a high priest (archiereús, Act_19:14).

ISBE on the Essenes

The high-priesthood was evidently not connected with the temple at Jerusalem, for no such name appears in the list of high priests. It thus most probably was an Essenian high-priesthood.

2. Doctrines

In regard to their tenets, their belief in the absolute preordination by God of everything appears the feature in the doctrinal position which most appealed to Josephus Hippolytus affirms in terms their belief in the resurrection of the body. This point, as above noted, Philo and Josephus ignore. The passage in Hippolytus is the more striking from the fact that the latter portion so closely resembles the parallel passage in Josephus. Josephus as we have suggested above, avoided crediting the Essenes with belief in resurrection because of the ridicule to which it would expose not only the Essenes, his protégés, but also himself. Hippolytus, writing with information other than what might be got from Josephus or Philo and as, writing for Christian readers, without the fear of ridicule, in regard to the resurrection of the body, boldly and in terms ascribes that doctrine to them. The silence of our two main witnesses as to the Essenes cherishing any Messianic hopes cannot be pressed, as their silence may be explained as above mentioned by fear of the suspicions of Rome in regard to any such hopes. The statement of Hippolytus that all the Jews had these expectations may be said to cover this case. The abjuring of marriage and the shunning of everything connected with war seem to be prominent opinions in some sections of the Essenes, but not held by others.

IV. History and Origin

There is much in Essenism that is difficult to understand. We have seen contradictory features assigned to the Essenes by different authorities; but even in the case of those features concerning which there is least dubiety the new difficulty emerges as to how it appeared as a characteristic of a Jewish sect. This is especially the case in regard to abstinence from marriage. Easterners always have an earnest desire to have sons to keep their memory green, for on a death many of them had and still have ceremonies which only the son of the dead can perform. Yet despite this they avoided marriage. The Jews with their Messianic hopes desired children, as no one knew but that his child might prove the child of promise, the Christ of God.

1. Essenes and Ḥasīdhīm

The earliest note of the existence of the Essenes, as of the Pharisees and Sadducees, is under the pontificate of Jonathan, the successor of Judas Maccabeus (Ant., XIII, v, 9). Josephus says "at this time there were three sects of the Jews," and proceeds to name them. If this, however, were precisely true, it is singular that there is no mention of any of these sects in either of the books of the Maccabees. The only sect named is the Hasideans (ḥāṣīdhīm) who are called (1 Macc 2:42) "mighty men of Israel, every one that offered himself willingly for the law" (the King James Version "voluntarily devoted himself to the law"; Greek hekousiazómenos). These again are not mentioned by Josephus. The meaning of the word is "saints," and in this sense it appears frequently in the Psalms. A parallel in modern history to their warlike activity and their claim to saintliness may be found in the Cameronians of "society folk" in Scotland toward the end of the 17th century. They were Peden's "praying folk," yet they fought and won battles.

ISBE on the Essenes

When William of Orange came they formed the Cameronian regiment which helped to quell the clans and checked their advance after Killiecrankie. Some have identified these Hasideans with the Pharisees (as W. Robertson Smith, article "Assidaeans," Encyclopedia Biblica, and others). Hitzig would regard their successors as the Essenes. The great resemblance there was between the Pharisees and the Essenes renders it not improbable that originally they were really one sect and split off. If Josephus is to be trusted this division must have occurred, if not before the Maccabean struggle, at least early during its continuance. The Sadducean authors of 1 Maccabees may have grouped them together. According to Josephus, John Hyrcanus was a Pharisee, from which it may be presumed that Judas Maccabeus and his brethren belonged to the same sect of the Jews. The Assidaeans deserted Maccabeus, so that it would seem at least possible that by that time the separation had become complete, so that the Hasideans are now to be regarded as Essenes. It would seem as if they deserted the Maccabeans when they - the Maccabeans - made alliances with heathen powers like Rome. Then they objected to the high-priestly family being passed over for the Hasmoneans, hence their foolish surrender to Bacchides because Alcimus (called by Josephus Jacimus = Jehoiakim) was with him, a descendant of the race of the high priests. All this is utterly unlike the quiet contemplative lives of the coenobites in Engedi. It would seem that the thousand who died in the wilderness themselves, their wives, their children and their cattle (1 Macc 1:29-38), were more like the inhabitants of Engedi. Before leaving the Hasideans it must be said that the representation of the connection of the Hasideans with Judas Maccabeus put in the mouth of Alcimus by the writer of 2 Macc 14:6 is not trustworthy. After this desertion of the Maccabeans the more religious of them retired to Engedi, while the rest of the party were scattered over the country in the various cities and villages.

2. Position of Essenes in Josephus

As above mentioned the earliest mention of Essenes is by Josephus (Ant., XIII, v, 9) while Jonathan was high priest. The next is the story of Judas the Essene seated in the Temple surrounded by his scholars "who attended him (parémenon) in order to learn the art of foretelling," thinking that the appearance of Antigonus in the Temple courts proved his prophecy false that he was that day to die in Strato's tower (Caesarea). Judas is evidently a resident in Jerusalem and meets his pupils in the Temple courts. This would imply that he had no horror of the Temple nor was debarred from its courts. He had no repugnance for residence in cities. Menahem, the next figure that presents itself, shows a man who is mingling in court circles. He inflicts on Herod, the son of the favorite counselor of the high priest, a playful domestic chastisement and prophesies his future greatness. Herod, as we are told, always favored the Essenes in consequence. Later Archelaus consults Simon or Simeon, an Essene, as to the interpretation of a dream. He is at all events resident in Jerusalem and known in the court circles. He may have been Simeon of Luk_2:25-35. It must, however, be observed that the name is one of the commonest among the Jews at that time. After this they disappear, unless Hippolytus' identification of the Zealots with a section of the Essenes is admitted. Those in Engedi were aside from the course of the war, though if Pliny's representation is to be taken as accurate the vines and palm trees of Engedi had been burned and the settlement had been rendered desolate. They may have betaken themselves to Pella like the Christians, so as not to be involved in the destruction of the city and the Temple. The communities of the sect in Asia Minor disappear also. To all appearance they are absorbed in the church.

3. Doctrinal Affinities

Owing to the fact that so many of the doctrines and practices attributed to the Essenes have no resemblance to anything else in Judaism the question of origin has a special meaning in regard to them. Although like all Easterners the Jews have a desire for progeny - indeed the man who has no child occupies a secondary place in social esteem - yet the Essenes, or at all events some of them, shunned marriage. Despite the elaborate system of animal sacrifices that claimed to originate with Moses whom they venerated, they abjured bloody sacrifices. Although the seed of Aaron were anointed priests, they set up priests of their own. Their habit of morning and evening prayer, timed by the rising and setting of the sun, suggested sun-worship. The external resemblance of these tenets of the Essenes to those of the Pythagoreans impressed Josephus, and was emphasized by him all the more readily, since thus he brought himself and his nation into line with Greek thought. This suggestion of Josephus has led some, e.g. Zeller, to the deduction that they were Jewish neo-Pythagoreans. The features of resemblance are formidable when drawn out in catalogue. He shows (Philos. der Griechen, I. Theil, II, 239-92) that like the Pythagoreans the Essenes regarded asceticism a means of holiness. Both abstained from animal food and bloody sacrifices, admired celibacy and, dressing in white linen garments, had frequent washings. Both prohibited oaths; both formed a corporate body into which admission was had by act of initiation and after probation. Community of goods was the custom in both. Both believed in transmigration of souls. The value of this formidable list is lessened by the fact that there is something of uncertainty on both sides as to the precise views and customs. Philo and Josephus unquestionably Hellenized the views of the Essenes when they presented them before readers educated in Greek culture; further the views of Pythagoras have come down to us in a confused shape.

4. Essenes and Pythagoras

As to the assertion that the Pythagoreans dressed in white linen, Diogenes Laertius says that linen was not yet invented. Zeller has no sufficient evidence that the Essenes avoided the flesh of animals as food, and Diogenes Laertius expressly says that Pythagoras ate fish, though rarely (VIII, 18). While there seems no doubt as to the Pythagorean belief in the transmigration of souls, it seems certain that this was not a doctrine of the Essenes. Neither Philo nor Josephus attribute this view to them. This is the more striking that, immediately after dealing with the Essenes, Josephus proceeds to take up the doctrines of the Pharisees to whom he does attribute that view. Moreover the distinctive views of the Pythagoreans as to numbers and music have no sign of being held by the Essenes. On the other hand the fact that Pythagoras had a wife seems to throw doubt on their alleged preference for celibacy. Another chronological difficulty has to be met. The Pythagoreans as a society were put down in the 5th century before Christ. They may be regarded as having disappeared, till in the 2nd century ad they reappear as prominent neo-Pythagoreans. It is true that Cicero and Seneca mention

ISBE on the Essenes

Pythagoreans, but only as individuals who would claim to be the followers of Pythagoras, and not as members of a sect: they were without influence even in Italy.

5. Buddhism and Essenism

Chronology is equally against the view favored by Hilgenfeld that the influence of Buddhism may be traced in Essenism. As late as the end of the 2nd century ad, Clement of Alexandria, although acquainted with the name Buddha, is ignorant of his tenets and of divisions of his followers. The Alexandria which Hilgenfeld identified with Alexandria of Egypt, in which there was a Buddhist settlement, was really to be found in Bactria, where a Buddhist settlement was likely.

6. Parseeism and Essenism

There is more to be alleged in favor of Parsee influence being traceable. Neither geography nor chronology protests against this influence. The Jews were for centuries under the domination of the Persians, who were followers of Zoroaster. They seem on the whole to have been favored by the Persian rulers, a state of matters that would make the Jews all the more ready to view with sympathy the opinions and religion of these masters. Moreover the Persian worship had spread away to the west, far beyond Syria. At the same time it is easy to exaggerate the points of resemblance. The dualism alleged to be a leading feature in Essenism is more a matter of deduction than of distinct statement. Indeed the proofs alleged by Zeller are almost ludicrous in their insufficiency, since Philo says that the Essenes shun marriage because women are selfish (philautos), and Josephus, that they do so because women are addicted to excess (aselgeia); that therefore they regard the female generally as under the dominion of the evil principle, the fact being that this is really a part of the Hellenizing which the Essene views underwent at the hands of Philo and Josephus. The alleged sun-worship is scarcely more worthy of credit: it is a deduction not even plausible. When carefully looked at the evidence points the other way. Their first prayer is offered not at sunrise but before it (BJ, II, viii, 5); in other words, they work while it is day. Their evening orisons are offered after the sun has set. At the same time their elaborate angelology seems to be due to the influence of the Zend-Avesta, but in this the Essenes merely shared with the rest of the Jews. We know that the Jews brought the names of the angels with them from Babylon.

7. Essenism Mainly Jewish

The most singular feature in Essenism is really a feature of Judaism emphasized out of proportion. It was unlike the Jews to shun marriage, yet in seasons when special holiness was required intercourse between the sexes was forbidden (Exo_19:15; 1Sa_21:5). The whole act of sexual intercourse was regarded as unclean (Lev_15:16-18). In the Pauline Epistles uncleanness is used as equivalent to fornication (Rom_1:24; Rom_6:19, etc.). So also in 2Pe_2:10. Such a view naturally led to the idea which soon became regnant in Christianity that the state of virginity was one of special sanctity (Rev_14:4). The respect they gave to the unmarried state may be exaggerated. If Philo's representation (quoted in Euseb., Preposition Evan., VIII, 11) be correct, men were not admitted until maturity was attained and passed, when, therefore, such desires had begun to die down. Their avoidance of marriage is a matter of less importance. Their extreme reverence for the Sabbath is of a piece with their celibacy. Their avoidance of the

ISBE on the Essenes

Temple sacrifices, so far as they did so, may well be due to something of more than contempt for the religion of the Sadducean high-priestly party. Moreover the long residence of Israel in Babylon, when the Temple worship had to be in abeyance, and the consequent prevalence of synagogue worship, tended to lessen the importance of the sacrifices of the Temple. Thus it would seem that the Essenes were really a Jewish sect that had retained more of the Zoroastrian elements than had the rest of the Jews.

V. Relation to the Apocalyptic Books

Among the features of Essenism which seem to have impressed Josephus most was the fact that they had sacred books of their sect which they preserved, as also the names of the angels, thus bringing the Essenian special books into connection with angelology. These books their proselytes were bound by oath to preserve (BJ, II, viii, 7). Concerning the kindred sect of the Therapeutae, Philo says, "They have also writings of ancient men" (De Vita Contemp., III). On the other hand we have a mass of writings the same in character, dependent on one another, all apparently proceeding from one school of Jewish thought. Of the three sects of the Jews from which alone they could have proceeded the Sadducees are excluded because, while the apocalyptic books are full of angels, they believe neither in angel nor spirit (Act_23:8). While doctrinally the Pharisees might suit, the fact that practically there is no reference to any of these books in the Talmud, which proceeded from the Pharisaic school, renders them unlikely to have been the authors. The Essenes seem to us to have been the school from which these apocalyptic works proceeded. The sect, at the fall of the Jewish state, disappeared in Christianity, and in the Christian church these books are preserved.

1. Reasons for Holding the Essenes to Be the Writers of the Apocalypses

The section of the Essenes who dwelt as coenobites beside the Dead Sea were in circumstances specially liable to see visions and to have distorted views of morality, so that the composition of pseudonymous writings, literary forgeries, might seem right. As seen in the study of the apocalyptic books there is the undue prominence given to sexual sin - a prominence that seems to be symptomatic of the unhealthy mental state engendered by celibacy. These writings are the product of a school that professed to have secret sacred books. In 2 (4) Esdras 14:45, 46 we have an account of how, while 24 of the sacred books were published to the multitude, 70 were retained for the "worthy," that is, for some inner circle, some brotherhood like the Essenes. In the Assumption of Moses, Joshua is commanded to place the revelations given him "in certain vessels and anoint them with oil of cedar." Such an order would be held as explaining at once the disappearance of the book for the years succeeding Moses and its opportune reappearance. On the one hand we have a sect that professes to have secret sacred books, and on the other we have sacred books that have been composed by a school that must have had many features which we recognize as Essenian. Further, the Essenes disappeared in the Christian church, and in the Christian church and not among the Jews are these books preserved.

2. Objections Answered

The main objection to this ascription is the prominence of the Messianic hope in the apocalyptic books, and the absence of any notice in Josephus and Philo that the

ISBE on the Essenes

Essenes had this hope. But from neither of these writers could be discovered that any of the Jews cherished this hope. Yet from the New Testament we know that this hope was a prominent feature in national aspirations. Philo, associating perpetually with Greeks, would be sensitive to the ridicule to which such views would expose him, and how it would undo much of his laborious efforts to commend Judaism to the Greeks as a higher philosophy. Josephus had not only that motive, but the more serious one of personal safety. To have enlarged on Messianic hopes and declared these hopes to have been cherished by these Essenes whom he had praised so much would be liable to bring him under suspicion of disloyalty to Rome. The silence of these two writers proves nothing because it proves too much; and further we have easy explanation of this silence. The assumption of Dr. Charles that the Essenian ideal was ethical and individualistic is pure assumption. There is another objection that while the doctrine of resurrection is recognized in these books we know nothing of the Essenes holding it. That the Greeks and their scholars in philosophy, the Romans, looked at the idea of resurrection from the dead as a subject for ridicule would be reason sufficient for Philo and Josephus to suppress such a feature in their description of the Essenes. From them it could not be learned that the Pharisees ever had any such belief. It is also objected that while the Essenes held the pre-existence of souls, there is no trace of this belief in the apocalyptic books. Josephus, however, does not really assert that they believed in the prior existence of individual souls, but rather in a soul-stuff from which individual souls were separated. Thus both positively and negatively we think there is a strong case for the Essenes being regarded as the authors of the apocalyptic books. Further objections are brought forward by Dr. Charles as applicable to the Assumption of Moses specially. One is the interest manifested in the Temple by the writer while, so says Dr. Charles, "the Essene was excluded from its courts," and refers to Josephus, Ant, XVIII, i, 5. He must have forgotten, while penning this sentence, Ant, XIII, xi, 2, in which Judas, the Essene, is represented as teaching in the Temple. His objection that Josephus credits the Essenes with a belief in a paradise beyond the ocean like the Greek Islands of the Blest, appears to us to lay too much stress on what is in both cases figurative language. Moreover, in Enoch the description of Paradise (chapters 24 through 26) would almost seem to be the original from which Josephus (BJ, II, viii, 11) drew his picture. He seems to regard our ignorance of how far the Essenes agreed with the rest of their countrymen in considering the enemies of Israel "the wicked," as evidence that they disagreed with them on that point.

VI. The Essenes and Christianity

1. Resemblances Between Essenism and Christianity

That there were many points of resemblance between the Essenes and the church in its earliest form cannot be denied. The Essenes, we are told, maintained a community of goods and required anyone who joined their society to sell all he had and present it to the community (Hippolytus, Adv. Heret., ix; x; Josephus, BJ, II, viii, 3), just as so many of the primitive Christians did in Jerusalem (Act_4:37). Another peculiarity of the Essenes - noted by Josephus (BJ, II, viii, 4) - that they moved about from city to city, and wherever they went found accommodation with members of their order, although perfect strangers, may be compared with our Lord's instructions to His disciples when He sent them forth (Mat_10:11): "Into whatsoever city or village ye shall enter, search out who in it is worthy." When one thinks of who those worthy persons could be, and what was the evidence by which their worthiness was expected to be established, one is almost obliged to suppose that it was some specially easily recognized class that was so designated. If the worthiness in question was the moral quality, there are so many ideas of moral worth that when the apostles inquired, on entering a city, who was worthy, before they could act on the answer they would need to discover what was the criterion of worthiness in the mind of him from whom they had inquired. If, however, this term was the private designation of the members of a sect, one by which they, in speaking of each other, indicated that they were co-members, as the "Quakers" speak of each other as "Friends," the inquiry for those who were worthy would be simple enough. If the Essenes were "the worthy," then identification would be complete, but we cannot assume that. The majority of the points in which the Essenes resembled the primitive Christians are noted above in connection with each feature as it appears in the passage or passages of the authorities that record it, and to these we refer our readers.

2. Points of Difference

At the same time, although there are thus many points of likeness, it is not to be denied that there are also many features in Essenism which are at variance with the practice of the early church and the teaching of our Lord and His apostles. The most prominent of these is the difference of attitude toward marriage and the female sex. Our Lord sanctified marriage by His presence at the marriage at Cana of Galilee, although He himself never married. He used the festivities of marriage again and again as illustrations. He drew women to Him and had none of the contempt of the sex which Josephus and Philo attribute to the Essenes. The apostles assume the marriage relationship as one into which Christians may be expected in due course to enter, and give exhortations suited to husbands and wives (1Pe_3:1-7; Eph_5:22-33; Col_3:18, Col_3:19). The apostle Paul uses the relation of husband and wife as the symbol of the relation of Christ to His church (Eph_5:32). The writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews declares, "Marriage is honorable in all" (Heb_13:4 the King James Version).

Another point in which the Essenes differed from the practice of our Lord and His disciples was the exaggerated reverence the former gave to the Sabbath, not even moving a vessel from one place to another on the seventh day. our Lord's declaration, "The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath" (Mar_2:27), cuts at the feet of that whole attitude. The point of His conflict with the Pharisees was His disregard of the Sabbath as fenced by their traditions. The Essenes shrank from contact with oil, which our Lord certainly did not do. On the contrary He rebuked the Pharisee for his neglect (Luk_7:46). He was twice anointed by women, and in both cases commended the deed. The purely external and material bulked largely in the opinions of the Essenes. our Lord emphasized the internal and spiritual. Many have held and do hold that our Lord was an Essene. If at the beginning of His career He belonged to this sect He must have broken with it long before the end of His ministry.

Why Our Lord Never Meets the Essenes

There are some phenomena which, irrespective of these resemblances and differences, have a bearing on the relation between Essenism and Christianity. The first is the fact that our Lord, who met so many different classes of the inhabitants of Palestine - Pharisees and Sadducees, Zealots and Herodians, publicans, Samaritans, Greeks - never is recorded to have met an Essene. The common answer, which satisfied even Bishop Lightfoot, is that they were so few and lived so retired that it was no marvel that He never encountered any of them. They had little or no effect on the national life. This mistaken answer is due to forgetting that though both Josephus and Philo say the Essenes were 4,000 they also declare that they were "many in every city," that there were "ten thousands of them." our Lord must have met them; but if the name "Essene" was a designation given from without like "Quakers," then they may appear in the Gospels under another name. There is a class of persons three times referred to - those "that waited for the consolation of Israel" (Luk_2:25 the King James Version), "looking for the redemption" (Luk_2:38), "waited for the kingdom of God" (Mar_15:43 the King James Version; Luk_23:51 the King James Version). There are thus Simeon and Anna at the beginning of His earthly life, and Joseph of Arimathea at the end, connected with this sect. If, then, this sect were the Essenes under another name, the difficulty would be removed. If, further, in any sense our Lord belonged, or had belonged, to the Essenes, then as He would be perpetually meeting and associating with them, these meetings would not be chronicled. A man cannot meet himself. If they are the authors of the apocalyptic books, as we contend, then the title "waiters for the kingdom of God" would be most suitable, full as these books are of Messianic hopes. If this opinion is correct our Lord's assumption of the title "Son of Man" is significant, taken in connection with the prominence given to that title in the Enoch books.

ISBE on the Essenes

3. Disappearance of Essenism in Christianity

Another significant phenomenon is the disappearance of Essenism in Christianity. Bishop Lightfoot, in his dissertation on the Colossian Heresy (Comm. on Col, 21-111), proves that it was Essenism. These Essenes must have been baptized into Christ, or they could not have got entry into the Christian communities which had been drawn to Christ from heathenism. But that is not the only heresy that is connected with the Essenes. The Ebionites seem to have been Essenes who had passed over into Christianity. In the Apostolical Constitutions the Ebionites and Essenes are brought into very close connection. Epiphanius, in his confused way, mixes up the various names under which the Essenes appear in his works with a certain Elkaisa, a connection also to be found in Hippolytus, an earlier and better authority. But Elkaisa claimed to be a Christian. His leading follower, Alcibiades, appeared in Rome and was resisted by Hippolytus. The Clementine Homilies, a religious novel of which Peter is the hero, has many Essenian features. It is assumed to be Ebionite, but that only makes the evidence that the Essenes had become Christians all the more convincing. The Ebionites were Christians, if defective in their views, and the presence of Essenian features in a work proceeding from them emphasizes the identity. See EBIONISM.

4. Monachism

There is another phenomenon, more extensive and important than those we have considered above - the presence of Monachism in the church. Notwithstanding that our Lord prayed "not that" the disciples be taken "out of the world," but that they be kept

“from the evil” (Joh_17:15), implying that they were not to retire into solitude, and that the apostle Paul regards it as demonstrating the falsity of our possible interpretation of an exhortation of his that it would imply that the disciples “must needs go out of the world” (1Co_5:10); yet the monks did retire from the world and regarded themselves as all the holier for so doing, and were regarded so by others. The apostle Paul declares the “forbidding to marry” one of “the doctrines of demons,” yet very soon asceticism set in and virginity was regarded as far holier than the married state. Retirement from the world and asceticism were the two cardinal characteristics of Monachism. Despite that these were in antagonism to the teachings of Christ and His apostles, within little more than a century after our Lord's ascension Monachism began to appear, and prevailed more and more and continues to this day. These characteristics, retirement from the world and asceticism, especially forbidding to marry, were marked features of Essenism. The wholesale entrance of the Essene sect into the church would explain this. On the other hand this wholesale passing over into Christianity of so intensely Jewish a sect implies a historic connection or affinity. It is true that the catechetical school of Alexandria praises the contemplative life, so admired by their contemporaries, the neo-Platonists, and that philosophy which had been looked at askance by the church was, so to say, taken under their protection by the Alexandrian school, and the retirement of solitaries into the deserts or the formation of monasteries served to promote this contemplation. This led to all the extravagances of the monks being regarded as heights of philosophy. Such views were a cause, but as certainly were they also effects. The cause of these effects as it seems to us was to some extent the admiration extended by Philo, the Alexandrian, to the Essenes and Therapeutae, and the influence of Philo on his Christian successors in Alexandria.

There are also articles in various Bible and theological dictionaries, as Smith and Wace, Dict. of Eccles Biography; Smith and Fuller, Dict. of the Bible; HDB; Jewish Encyclopedia; RE; Schenkel, Bibel-Lexikon; M'Clintock, Theological Dict.

At the same time, while submitting these as a sample, and only as a sample, of the vast literature of the subject, we agree in the advice given by F. C. Conybeare - in HDB, under the word: "The student may be advised to study for himself the very limited documentary sources relating to the Essenes and then to draw his own conclusions." We feel the importance of this advice all the more that perusal has shown us that most of these secondary writers have considered exclusively the coenobite community at Engedi to the neglect of the wider society. After the student has formed opinions from a careful study of the sources he may benefit by these secondary works.

They did not believe in marriage, so they increased in size by proselytizing.

They did not even go to the Temple. They remained apart from institutional Judaism. This separation may have been some sort of a protest against the religion of the day. They were more of a monastical organization than a religious group.

They were quite clean; they followed cleansing rituals. They gave great reverence to the sun. They probably had a Persian influence.

Beliefs of the Essenes

1. They were deterministic. The will of God determined each person's decision; there was no free will. This is almost Islamic.
2. Immortality consisted of a resurrection of the spirit, but not the body.
3. Redemption was freedom from the body. They believed in dualism.
4. They refused to take oaths and they refused to go to war.

Basically a monastic community. They are never mentioned in the New Testament at all.

They probably never came into contact with Jesus Christ as we know. However, it is important to note this sect, as it represented a real dissatisfaction with Judaism. They had a problem with Judaism. They represented the current problem with religion at this time. This might help to understand why so many people were interested when Jesus Christ castigated the religious types.

This is another reason why this was the fullness of time.

The Gospels December 12, 2010

Sunday 1

Jesus face most of His opposition from the pharisees and from their cohorts, the scribes. The pharisees were the puritans of that day; they tried to maintain purity in Judaism, despite all of the cultural influences. They focused on a very strict adherence to the Mosaic Law. They saw this Law as the only real connection between God and man. Since Malachi, there had been no direct contact between God and man. So, all they had was the Old Testament. So the scribes and the pharisees saw the Law as the real contact between God and His people. Who better than the pharisees to be the primary agents by which God spoke to the people. They were the defacto representatives of God. They saw themselves as the arbiters of the Law and the representatives of God on earth.

The Law was one thing, but the pharisees expanded upon the Law, inserting their own interpretations. They based their interpretations not just upon the Pentateuch, but upon the oral tradition as well. They would study the Mosaic Law and then they would build a case law upon the Mosaic Law. To the pharisees, these interpretations became more important than the Old Testament law itself. When Jesus came upon the scene, he confronted these religious leaders about their interpretations of the Law.

Then there was another great powerful religious group in Palestine called the sadducees. They were an opposition group to the pharisees. They did not want to be associated with all of the Romans and all of the religious. The sadducees were more likely to concede many points. They had a stake in Roman law and culture; they were the aristocrats at this time. They were the families of the governing class. Herod was excellent at ingratiating himself to the Romans, so the sadducees were not too rebellious against Herod. They were a great political group.

The sadducees only held to the Pentateuch and they rejected the oral traditions. They maintained the Mosaic Law without all of the extra-Biblical extras. There were specific differences as well between these 2 groups. The material world was seen as the world. They denied the resurrection. That was beyond the materialistic world. The pharisees accepted the resurrection. The sadducees were more like humanists at that time. They had much more faith in man.

The 3rd major group was the essenes. They were complete separatists. They settled in isolated areas. Their communities allowed them not to associate with others. They lived much like communist monastics. Strict rites of initiation. Initiates were required to surrender all property to this group. They maintained a very tight discipline. They worked in agriculture. They had a very simple lifestyle. They felt that their approach was accurate. Most of them abstained from marriage. They maintained a strict adherence to the Law, and they considered the sadducees and pharisees as corrupt. They had been affected by Persian dualism; they had become syncretic. Redemption was freedom from the corrupted body to an eternal soul existence. Resurrection was not a bodily resurrection but a disembodied soul. Another strange aberration; they gave great reverence to the sun.

The essenes are not mentioned in the New Testament and they may have never come into contact with Jesus? They completely withdrew from that which they saw as corrupt. Much of Judaism agreed with the corruption. They did represent a popular viewpoint of Judaism at the time. They had a drop out lifestyle, which was a hippie-like protest. Many Jews had an attraction to Jesus when He blasted the sadducees, pharisees and the scribes. They listened to Him because of that. So many did recognize Jesus as the Messiah and the replacement for all of these corrupt religious groups.

A fourth faction, the zealots. This was a religious political group. These are the militants; the activists. They had no interest in what these other groups did. They were the party of action. They were seeking to impose Judaism upon all of Palestine; to get rid of the Romans.

ISBE on the Zealots

zel'ut, zel'uts: Simon, one of the apostles, was called "the Zealot" Ζηλωτής, Ze'lo-te's from ζηλόω, ze'lóo "to rival," "emulate," "be jealous," "admire," "desire greatly," Luk_6:15; Act_1:13, the King James Version "Zelotes"). In Mat_10:4 and Mar_3:18 he is called "the Cananean" (so the Revised Version (British and American) correctly; not "the Canaanite," as the King James Version says, following inferior manuscripts), ο' Καναναΐος, ho Kananaíos. From the time of the Maccabees there existed among the Jews a party who professed great zeal for the observance of the "law." According to Josephus (BJ, IV, iii, 9; v, 1; VII, viii, 1) they resorted to violence and assassination in their hatred of the foreigner, being at many points similar to the Chinese Boxers. It is not improbable that the "Assassins" (see ASSASSINS) of Act_21:38 were identical, or at least closely associated, with this body of "Zealots," to which we must conclude that Simon had belonged before he became one of the Twelve.

While Jesus taught Rome was to be paid taxes to, the zealots were concerned about the Romans. The 2nd advent will be Jesus returning as the great conqueror. Jesus did not do anything political; He did not berate Rome. We need some sanity in our own nation, so it is easy to see how people could see that politics was the answer. We have serious spiritual problems in this nation, so that there are those who think that political activism is the way to go. Political problems do not provide true solutions; spiritual growth is what changes a nation and that begins with individuals. Blessing and divine establishment then follows.

Bobby will talk more about the election and how it involves us. But we are not zealots and we are not essenes. Do not think that politics is the solution to American problems. If you got all that you wanted, it would not change the thinking of Americans. It goes right back to essential problems; the sin nature.

So many times, believers say, "There must be more than listening to doctrine." We all have a service for the Lord and an impact in our lives. We pray and witness and we exercise of spiritual life, even if we do not know what our gift is. This is a problem with the essenes, the pharisees and the zealots.

The zealots insisted on rebellion and war with the Romans, which they got from A.D. 66 to A.D. 70, where the hammer of God came down upon the Jews and the 5th cycle of discipline. These are the 4 main religious groups in Palestine at that time. They were all in opposition to the Lord Jesus Christ.

Then there was the Messianic hope in Judaism. What did the people expect? The Old Testament certainly predicted the Messiah. Every book in the Old Testament has something about the coming Messiah, and yet, all of these religious groups did not get it. Where was He? People knew that there were no more prophets, so what happened to God and His Messiah? They all wanted the restoration of an independent state; they wanted God's covenant promises all fulfilled. 300–150 B.C. writings about the Messiah and what they expected. They saw Him as sitting on the throne of an independent Israel.

Even the disciples had this misconception. They had a hard time thinking beyond the kingdom. They were confused when Jesus said He would die and then be resurrected. They expected the Messiah to establish a great nation in Israel taking up a huge chunk of land.

Still, many Jews believed in Jesus Christ. They saw the Law fulfilled in Him; they saw Him do miracles. They heard His words. They recognized that He was the Messiah.

The Gospels December 12, 2010

Sunday 2

This is the last leg of the introduction. The chronology of the life of Jesus Christ. The gospels are not really books of chronology. It is difficult to determine when an event took place at times.

One more little group to cover. The Samaritans, who play a role in the life of Jesus Christ. Back after the death of Solomon, Jeroboam split the kingdom into the northern kingdom of Israel and the southern kingdom of Judæa. 1Kings 12 he introduced calf worship and then along came Jezebel and Ahab and she brought in Baal worship. Israel went entirely apostate at that time, making them ripe for the fifth cycle of discipline. Assyrian came in and conquered the northern kingdom and took many Jews to Assyria and colonists from elsewhere. They brought in a lot of people who were friendly toward the Assyrians.

When the Jews returned under the Babylonian captivity, the Jews of Judæa and Jerusalem. Caesarea. The Jews in Jerusalem refused to allow the Samaritans any access to the Temple. They were an adulterated people insofar as the Jews were concerned. So the Samaritans established their own worship center on Mount Gerezim. They became religious rivals. The thing which galled the Jews was, the Samaritans were partly Jews.

The Samaritans continued with the Sabbath, circumcision, all of the sacred feasts. However, there were differences. The Messiah would convert all the nations, in their view, to Samaritism alone. They accepted the Mosaic Law alone but not the rest of the Old Testament. They saw the worship center in Mount Gerazim as the true localized place of God. Jewish religious leaders looked down upon the Samaritans as apostate and dangerous to Judaism. This was another problem in Palestine in the time of Christ. There is this half Judaism group which was not something that these other groups could approve of.

Jesus was from the Galilee area, and between Him and Jerusalem was Samaria, that He had to criss-cross on many occasions.

What happened from beginning to end of Jesus?

3 Categories of the Chronology of Jesus Christ:

1. His eternal preexistence. From eternity past until the first Christmas.
2. His incarnate life. God and man in One Person for 33 years.
3. After the resurrection, His life as the God-man throughout all eternity. Seated at the right hand of the Father and then over all the world, and then in eternity.

There Are Historical Increments to His Life.

1. His birth and 30 years of preparation for His ministry. The winter of 5–4 B.C. to A.D. 28
 - 1) His first year
 - (1) His birth
 - (2) The shepherd's visit.

 - 2) The next 29 years
 - (1) He was true humanity and He grew up.
 - (2) Luke 2:40–50 His trip to the Temple when He was 12?
 - (3) These are the only things known; all else is speculation. There is a lot of reasonable interest in His life during this time. It is really not important or the Bible would have revealed this to us.
2. The 3 ½ years of His public ministry, which is most of the gospels.
 - 1) The early Judæan ministry, where it began. This was inaugurated in A.D. 27 before Passover.

- (9) His fame was beginning to spread at this point, and He was quite an attraction at this time and He had not run into a lot of opposition.
- 2) The great Galilean ministry, the longest stretch of time, early, middle and late. This is the longest period of His ministry.
 - (1) Early Galilean ministry where He made great claims in His hometown, where Mary and Joseph lived. He introduced Himself here. Luke 3 late A.D. 27 John the Baptizer announced Jesus 6 months to a year previous and he was now in prison.

The Gospels December 15, 2010

Wednesday

We will begin with the preincarnate Christ. His life did not begin as others have, at the moment of birth. This is the beginning of our life, but that is not the case with Jesus Christ. He existed eternally. His life reaches back into eternity past. It is easier to understand the future, as we all have a future; it is more difficult to grasp the idea of an eternal past.

When He was born into this world, it is called a new life. His human life began at conception and at birth; but His eternal life was not created nor was it generated. This is what makes Jesus Christ so amazing. This is the uniqueness of the person of Christ. He is the uniquely born One as well as being the Eternal One. He had to be born without a sin nature and He had to maintain sinlessness. However, this was not because He is God. Jesus is fully human facing every single temptation that we faced. He was able to resist all temptation in His humanity. There is nothing new under the sun when it comes to sin and one's temptation to sin. This is what makes Him unique. He was able not to sin. He is the only man born trichotomus; as Adam is the only man created trichotomos.

John could have said, Jesus Christ was in the beginning; instead, He uses the Word. This carries the idea of a disclosure or a revelation of God. Words are how we communicate. If we want to communicate, then we speak or write. He is a communication; He is a communication of God.

Why John Uses Ho Logos Here

1. As a communication, it is the $\lambda\omicron\gamma\omicron\varsigma$ Who is the communication of the revelation of God to us. He came into the world to be a communication.
2. As God in the flesh, He reveals God to man. John 1:18 Jesus Christ knows God intimately and He has explain Him.
3. When calls Christ $\omicron \lambda\omicron\gamma\omicron\varsigma$, he is defining the eternal relationship between God the Father and God the Son.
4. You must know someone intimately in order to tell anything about them.
5. It also means They are separate Persons. The revelation of God.

Gen. 1:1 is the beginning of creation; not the beginning of God. It is the same way here. God is in the beginning, the uncaused cause. God the Son was in a continuous state of existence before the birth of the humanity of Jesus Christ. As God was infinite and eternal, so Jesus Christ was eternal an infinite before His human birth.

What Does this Mean in the Beginning?

1. This birth
2. This is His eternal existence
3. there was never a time when ho logos was not in existence.
4. He became ho logos at birth in order to reveal God.

Here, we have the Greek preposition προς, which means face to face with. With the accusative case, this means towards, near, face to face with God. This speaks of fellowship and association and exchange between God the Father and God the Son.

This Indicates Something Else:

1. ho logos is a distinctive personality from the Father.
2. If He was with the Father, then He was not the same as the Father, but a distinct Person. He is the 2nd person of the Trinity. 3 persons and one in essence.
3. So this is a Biblical reference to 2 Members of the Trinity in heaven prior to the incarnation.

V. 1 closes with the phrase, The logos was God. Jehovah Witnesses have distorted this phrase to say that Jesus is a god rather than the God. The verb is the imperfect active indicative of εἶμι. ἦν is the actual word found here. This verb cannot be under-emphasized in this phrase.

The Syntax and Grammar

1. The imperfect tense in the Greek is similar to our past tense.
2. The Greek imperfect tense dwells upon the course of an event. It is a process or an ongoing event or occurrence in past time.
3. In John 1:1–2 this is a customary or habitual imperfect.
4. That means the verb can be understood as an habitual or continuous event.
5. But imperfect and habitual together, this describes a continuous past tense, a continuous past action; a continuous action in past time.
6. In the beginning was [continually] the Word.
7. This indicates that there was never a time when ho logos did not exist.
8. The Word was with God; a continuous, ongoing state. A perpetual association without limits. There is no time limit here. Both Persons of the Trinity are always associating.
9. In this verb is the definitivative statement of divinity.

The Emphasis of this Phrase

1. He Who is the Word is God by nature. He has always had this nature. He was eternally and continually God. By this, we know that Jesus Christ preexisted His birth.

2. The imperfect tells us that this status of God was continuous and ongoing in the past.
3. While He was with God, which distinguishes the 2 Persons and defines their association.
4. He also was God. This states unequivocally that He always was Deity.

This begins the mystery of the Universe; how God can become man. How God can be man, which life in a physical world; and a death. His Deity and Humanity are inseparably united.

This is stated in such a way as to avoid any confusion of Person. Separate but in an intimate association.

Paul states the same thing in Col. 2:9 For in Him, all the fullness of Deity dwells in bodily form.

4 Conclusions

1. The verse declares the Oneness of the Word with God. He was God before He was born as true humanity. In that status, He is One with God, in that He is the same essence.
2. This verse declares His distinction from God the Father. If He is with God, then He is distinct from God.
3. It declares His specific place in the Godhead. As λογος, He is the manifestation of God; the communication of God; the communication of God. Heb. 1 tells us He is the revelation of God.
4. As the λογος, He is the exegesis of God. Without the Lord Jesus Christ, we cannot know God, we cannot be face to face with God, we cannot reach God, we cannot get to God, we cannot have fellowship with God.

We ought to know something about the word order here. Word and God are not interchangeable. This means The Word = God. We cannot reverse this. This will take more time to explain this.

John 1:1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

Lesson #0018 John 1:1–3 The Gospels December 16, 2010 Thursday

There was never a time when the Lord Jesus Christ did not exist. His humanity had a generated beginning, called the 1st advent. This is the beginning of the God-man in hypostatic union. The mechanics of the human pregnancy is in the Origin of Human Life. There was nothing mystical of Jesus Christ on this earth; His humanity was just like we are in every respect. He had to be absolute and complete humanity in order to be the mediator between man and God.

The ὁ λογος; and John used this terminology, because this is God's communication to man. This is apart from His substitutionary death.

Why God the Holy Spirit Used Ho Logos in Order to Refer to Jesus Christ

1. Christ is called the Word; this is a title for Him. This refers to communication.
2. As logos, He is the disclosure or the revelation of God Himself.
3. We can only know God through the logos. We can certainly know God through the Scripture. But He was the Living Person Who demonstrated God as a living being.
4. As God in the flesh, the Logos reveals God to man in a form that man can understand. We understand ourselves, and so this allows us to understand God. If the Logos reveals God to man, then we can conclude that they are separate Persons. If we see God through the Logos, then He has to be a distinctive personality; distinct from God the Father. How can one reveal the other if they are not separate and distinct. The Father and the Son are 2 distinct Persons.

For the Logos as God and as the explanation of God, He must have an equality with God in essence (Philip. 2:6, 11).

How Do We Know the Logos Is Equal to God in Essence?

1. No man has seen God at any time. John 1:14? No one has seen any God in His essence, in Spirit. So God is in a form that we cannot see.
2. The eternal Logos takes a different form; He takes upon the form of man while still being the revelation of God as man. As God, He is the revelation of God.
3. Therefore, revealing God as God and as man, the Logos must have an intimate knowledge of God. He must have an intimacy with Him.
4. No one can reveal another without knowing the person. If you do not know a person, you can only reveal a few superficial things.
5. Only God can fully know God. Therefore, the Logos is equal to God, as the revealer of God. He is One in essence with God. The Logos is a separate Person Who reveals God because He knows God.

This is some basic theology without any Biblical truth. All 3 phrases contain the same verb, the imperfect active indicative of εἶμι. This reveals the pre-existence of Jesus. The Greek imperfect dwells on an event; it is a process having gone on in past time. Customary or habitual imperfect. This can be understood as an habitual or a continuous event in past time.

You begin in a point and everything goes back. There never was a time when the logos did not exist. In eternity past, time was irrelevant. One professor told Bobby he did not like eternity past, because there was no time. Time is irrelevant in eternity. There may be a concept of time passing in eternity, but there is no need or reason to measure it. God was never constrained by time in the past.

His past existence became revelation to man only after His birth. So, even though He always was the Logos, He became the revelation of God to man at the incarnation.

As a present, it would mean that the Logos is with God and the Logos is God. The imperfect tense reaches back into eternity past and reveals the Logos as eternal God.

The incarnation is not the only time that He revealed God.

This is a beginning in reference to eternity past. There was a continuous, ongoing state. He has all of the attributes of God and He has always been by essence and by nature God Himself.

What We Learn

1. The Logos is one with God; the same essence.
2. It confirms His distinction as a separate Person of the Godhead, but a Person in association with the Father.
3. This verse confirms the Logos's specific place in the Godhead. He is the expression or manifestation of God. He explains God to mankind.

There is a grammatical construction that we need to look at, the 3rd phrase, the Word was God. Bobby loves grammar. This grammar tells us something about the Lord Jesus Christ which is critical. You cannot communicate without words.

The Grammar of the Word Was God

1. The third phrase is a predicate nominative grammatical construction.
2. Both Word and Logos are both in the nominative case. They are both in the subject case and they are joined by an equative or stative verb.
3. God comes second in the equation, after the linking verb (in the English).
4. And Word comes first. Again, in the English. This is very common syntax.
5. A predicate nominative construction means that the subject and the predicate nominative are one of 2 things. They are exactly equivalent or they are approximately the same.
6. As equatable, the predicate nominative can indicate an exact equation.
7. The predicate nominative can be an approximation, not an exact equal.
8. The predicate nominative does not have to imply complete correspondence with the subject.
9. The predicate nominative construction has to be approximate and not exactly the same. This is a very potent statement. God is not exactly equal to God.
10. So the grammatical equative verb is the equals sign. This does not bear the same force as the equals sign in a math equation.
11. There is not total interchangeability between the subject and predicate nominative. These are approximately equal.

12. The Word does not totally equal God, although there is certainly a close correspondence.

What Does it All Mean?

1. There is a larger category or state to which it (the subject) belongs.
2. The predicate nominative, which is God, describes the category of Persons to which the Logos belongs. The Logos belong to the category God.
3. But He is a different person from the Godhead, although One in essence.
4. So the Logos is the Person of Jesus Christ; and Theos is the overall concept of the Godhead. Theos is the larger category.
5. God is a broader, larger category than the Word.
6. The Logos is in the category of God. But the Logos also falls within a narrower, more limited scope.

What Is the Limited Scope of the Logos

1. The Logos is God, but also, in the more limited sense of being the revealer of God.
2. The Logos is a divine Person Who came into the world to reveal God. Jesus Christ voluntarily gave up the use of His divine attributes. The Kenosis passage is related to this Logos concept.
3. John in the predicate nominative construction puts the emphasis upon the Logos, Who is God. But in a more narrow sense, He is the One Who came to reveal God.
4. Further, the term logos does not focus on the revelation itself; or some impersonal revelation.
5. Jesus Christ is not just an impersonal revelation of God. He is a real Person who is a revelation of God. He is flesh and blood and God. God Who is God and Who is man and Who reveals God.

This verse reveals the complete Deity of Jesus Christ and came to reveal God to man. He is qualified as true humanity to be our Savior.

John 1:1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

John 1:2 He was with God in the beginning.

Every single thing came into being through the created activity of the pre-existent Logos. What else could be more clear about His Being.

Evolution is pantheism. For evolution, god is the rock, small g, small r. Given enough time, it call came together from an inanimate object, all that we see in front of us is created, supposedly from a rock.

From the smallest thing, we see orderliness. And science has never observed chaos assume order. But evolution says that is what happened. The universe and life is so intricate and so orderly, that it had to be designed. Heb. 1:2 Through Whom, He made the world. And by Him, all things were created, both in the heavens and on earth; visible and invisible, whether thrones, rulers or authorities. Jesus Christ has authority and dominion over all of it as Creator. All things were created by Him and for Him.

What was the division of creative work. God the Father is the designer, the architect. The Son is the intermediate agent. He has the plans and He is executing these plans. In creation, the Logos was still revealing God. In the beginning, before there was a beginning, He still reveals God.

Rom. 1:20 for since the creation of the world, His invisible attributes and His eternal power and divine nature have been clearly manifested, being understood by what He has made.

Jesus Christ as Creator-revealer

1. Creation was designed by the Creator to be a revelation of the existence and power of God. Evolution dismisses God as creator. Whatever caused the rock to become alive, is in exact opposition to this. Creation reveals God.
2. The Logos is the revelation of God. He is the agent of creation.
3. So the Logos, as God, reveals God through creation.
4. Along with being the God-man, Who, in the flesh, reveals God to man, the Logos also reveals God as the agent of creation.
5. Who better to be the revealer in the flesh than the One Who reveals Him in creation?
6. Creation is a limited revelation of God to mankind. There are so many things that we cannot understand. But the Logos as humanity is a conclusive word from God about Himself.
7. Therefore, the Word is the revealer both in creation but more definitively in the incarnation.

Every one of His attributes was necessary for creation.

John 1:3 All things were created through Him, and apart from Him not one thing was created that has been created.

Lesson #0019 The Gospels John 1:1–5 December 19, 2010 Sunday 1

There are 4 great Christological chapters in the New Testament. We never stop knowing and we never stop growing in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior. Philip. 2 elaborates on the attitude of humility in the Lord Jesus Christ. He was complete and absolute humility, because He is the God of the Universe and the only perfect man Who has lived. Col. 1 is another great chapter, which is concerned with His status as God and as the Head of the Church and the Reconciler of all mankind. Then there is Heb. 1 which is all about His great majesty. Then John 1, which is our study. This is perhaps the greatest of all passages concerning the Lord Jesus Christ in His Deity. This addresses His preexistence as God and then His appearance on this earth as God in the flesh.

John 1:1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

The beginning refers to the beginning of creation; not His beginning. He refers back to the Word, which is not some abstract concept, but a Person. He is the preexistent One who kept on being God. He is a communication from God Who is God and He reveals God to mankind, as He is true humanity. The Lord Jesus Christ was in a perpetual state of Deity, from eternity past. There is no beginning of God. How anything could always be, and yet that is the case with God.

This also confirms His distinction as a separate Person of the Godhead. He is separate from the Father, and yet He is with God, face to face with God in eternity past. He has a specific place in the Godhead, the expression or the manifestation of God. He explains God in Word and in deed. He explains the plan of God for mankind, for the church, for eternity, and the each individual.

John 1:2 He was with God in the beginning.

John shows the relationship between the eternal Logos and the creation of the universe. The Logos was present at creation. He was present at creation and He is the Creator. All things come into being by Him. This refers to absolute existence. Every single thing, the entire cosmic eternal universe, came into existence by Him. What statement could be more definitive of His Deity. Only God can create the universe. Man can take existing material and create from that.

God breathes into a person as one emerges from the womb, uniting the soul and human body. Only in the Logos is that human life. He imputed our souls to that human body as we emerge from the womb. Only God has this ability. Heb. 1:2 Col. 1:16 also tell us that Jesus Christ is the Creator. God the Father is the absolute designer; Jesus Christ does the work of creation. This is how 2 persons of the Trinity interact. They are One in essence but 2 in person. This also reveals to us their interaction. Separate in interaction; a division of labor, if you will. Only God can create such a universe. Creation would be a revelation of the existence and unlimited power of God. God the Son reveals God the Father through His creation. If God can create us, do we doubt that God has a purpose for us? This is the same person who goes to the cross for us.

For those who look, creation is a revelation of God. People look at the universe and they get different things from it. Some see it as the power of God and others believe it to be evolving.

John 1:3 All things were created through Him, and apart from Him not one thing was created that has been created.

The Logos is the source of life in the material world. Again, an imperfect active indicative. This is not a simple creation of life; but in His Person, He continues to exist as life. He creates this life in mankind. He can do this because His very essence is life. Life must exist and it must exist absolutely and for eternity in Jesus Christ.

Pantheism and evolution contend that the world was created by nature. Inanimate objects somehow became life, through some force undefinable. Nature creates nature. Nature invented nature. Some Christians believe in theistic evolution, which means that God put everything into motion at creation, and then it evolved. Theistic evolution is an attempt to balance the theory of evolution with creation. It is an attempt to incorporate both of these theories and to make the creation of God more palatable to unbelievers.

But, the text of Genesis refers to literal and not figurative days. All existence depends upon His sustaining power. Heb. 1:3 He upholds all things by the Word of His power. The universe continues because God allows it to continue.

If you are a radical environmentalist and you think that man will destroy this earth because there is too much carbon in the air, you are wrong. God sustains this earth with the word of His power.

Jesus, if He is total existence and if He created the universe, then He can be seen as the light of men. He brings light upon a subject.

John 1:4 Life was in Him, and that life was the light of men.

Light in John's gospel is equated with knowledge of God. Jesus is the incarnate source of that knowledge. Darkness is the absence of knowledge and the absence of revelation.

Adam first brought upon this darkness. Adam was created in the light and he had complete fellowship with God and he lived in the light with God. However, now, thanks to Adam, the world is dark. Darkness is in our souls. Satan is the epitome of darkness; he obscures all light. John 9:5 as long as Jesus is in the world, He is the light of the world.

All forms of humanism is darkness, inspired by Satan. Man cannot comprehend God unless the Logos reveal Him.

Jesus Christ, in the manger, or on the cross, or in His resurrection body, He is the Light of the World. Mankind is pleased with himself and he elevates himself in his own eyes. However, with Jesus Christ, we are in darkness.

John 1:5 That light shines in the darkness, yet the darkness did not overcome it.

Lesson #0020 The Gospels John 1:5, 9–14 December 19, 2010 Sunday 2

We are going to John 1:9

In every way, He illuminates us.

John 1:5 That light shines in the darkness, yet the darkness did not overcome [comprehend] it.

The true light came into the world, enlightening every man. People seek truth and they want to find truth. They go to the ends of the earth and they travel all over. However, in most cases, truth is available to all. Absolute truth is contained in the 4 gospels. The truth of the Lord Jesus Christ. The truth of our salvation. The truth which saves us. Men seek truth in everything. But they seek truth in darkness, and they cannot find truth in darkness. Christ came in the flesh so that men might see the revelation of God. Those who were enlightened would come to know God because of the truth light that came into the world. Unfortunately, so many people choose to remain in darkness.

Bobby does not want to put his eternal hope in politics or any hope in what goes on in Washington D.C. The light will dawn as men and women believe in what the Son has revealed. The light of salvation.

John 1:9 The true light, who gives light to everyone, was coming into the world.

John gives an overview of Jesus Christ in John 1:10–12:

the world was made through Him and the world did not recognize Him. The world was blinded by the great deceiver. All of the schemes and all of the philosophies. Satan designs it so that the light cannot penetrate the soul of man.

Pharaoh of the Exodus is an illustration of negative volition. He saw \God's great power and turned away from Him.

John 1:10 He was in the world, and the world was created through Him, yet the world did not recognize Him.

This is why He came in the flesh and what happened. He came to His Own, and His Own people did not receive Him. He created the world and gave life to all mankind; and the very people that He called out and protected and took to their land, those people did not recognize Him. He offers Himself to them as His Messiah, Savior and King; and the light did not penetrate their souls. His Own rejected Him. They would not receive Him. Would you imagine walking into your family, the ones who know you the most, and yet they reject everything about you? They tried to extinguish Him. They ended up crucifying Him; the rjected Him totally. The light can never be extinguished. They could not match His illuminating Person with the light of the Old Testament Scriptures. They saw Him as blasphemous, as an imposter, as worthy of death. And the light, even after the crucifixion, still penetrated their souls. Some times it just takes certain incidents for the light to penetrate.

Most of us can tell how our own souls were illuminated to the Lord Jesus Christ. If you look back on it, there are incidents which bring you to this point.

What about the light of His Word? What about the light of Bible doctrine? What about after salvation? He is that as well. He still illuminates us with His Own mind. That is illumination in this life. Divine viewpoint is the only true illumination in this life.

We all understand what happens when the light goes on. So this analogy to the light is perfect. Personal faith in the Logos. But as many who received Him, He gave them the power to become the sons of God through faith in Him. Each one of these words has great meaning. This is a term used by the Jews. This indicates membership.

John 1:11 He came to His own, and His Own people did not receive Him.

There mere fact of their physical birth; they contended to make them acceptable to God. I am born a son of Abraham, so I am a member of this covenant. This guaranteed an entrance into the Messianic kingdom. God made a covenant with the founder of the Jewish race. They considered themselves to be God's children through natural descent, through physical birth, through the line of Abraham, they were God's children. But John teaches here that, it is Jesus Christ Who gives the right to be children of God.

Jesus Christ chose the phrase born again in order to teach faith in Christ. Children of God; John is the gospel of belief. It is not the belief in being a racial Jew; they were a covenant people if they follow Abraham in faith. Abraham believed and it was imputed to him for righteousness. It is his belief in Jesus Christ that saves him.

John is pointing out the human birth does not guarantee entry into the kingdom of God. The new birth requires what Abraham had done; faith in the Logos, in the Light, in Jesus Christ. There are Christians who believe in a generational covenant people, that children are saved because they are saved, and they take this from the Old Testament, seeing themselves as a covenant people. They do not see Jesus Christ for Who He is.

The Jews misunderstood their covenant promises.

John 1:12 But to all who did receive Him, He gave them the right to be children of God, to those who believe in His name,

It is not the desire to want to have children, to procreate, which saves.

John 1:13 who were born, not of blood, or of the will of the flesh, or of the will of man, but of God.

There is a verb change and a tense change. From the imperfect to the aorist. Became rather than was.

We do not have, In the beginning, the Word became and the Word became with God and the Word became God. That does not work here. But, in v. 14, it works. The change of verb and tense is appropriate.

The aorist indicative of γίνομαι.

Γίνομαι and the Aorist Tense

1. This is actually an ingressive aorist. This means, the action signified by the aorist is contemplated in its beginning.

2. This is a real beginning, with a starting point. This is what all flesh have. Humanity has a starting point in life. His humanity had a starting point.
3. The ingressive is found with verbs of being, like γίνομαι and εἰμι.
4. Ginomai is a linking verb; it defines a state or a condition.
5. The ingressive of this verb denotes entrance into the state of existence.
6. This signifies nothing as to the completion of the action.
7. There is a timeless element in the aorist. It exists without reference to its existence in time. It has a beginning and it is ongoing. It begins at a point in time and continues for an indefinite period of time. No reference to an endpoint. There is not some point at which this is over. He does not disappear; this relationship or existence does not come to an end. He dwells in heaven right now as the God-man.

There is a point in time at which the Logos begins an existence. Christmas is the day that He becomes flesh. This is when the Light came into the world.

There was an addition to the Deity of Jesus Christ. Nothing was subtracted from Him when He entered the world. This is not mere resemblance to a man; Jesus became man in all respects; true and complete humanity without surrendering one ounce of Deity. He emptied Himself of the independent use of His divine attributes.

He is still omniscient; still omnipresent, and yet He is fully man. Nothing was surrendered or given up.

John 1:14 The Word became [in a point of time] flesh and took up residence among us. We observed His glory, the glory as the One and Only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth.

Lesson #0021 John 1:14 Ex. 24:16–17 December 22, 2010 Wednesday

Jeux Noel is a wonderful movie.

Those who were alive at that time walked with Him, talked with Him; for that period that He was on this earth. He was born as any human being was born. He emerged from the womb of His mother and the breath of lives was breathed into Him.

He is the Logos, the revelation of God to man. He became flesh in a point of time; Deity and humanity in One Person. When He was born, there was an addition, not a subtraction. He lost nothing in His deity; but what was added was true humanity; flesh and blood added to undiminished Deity.

Jesus was not just some resemblance of a man, but in fellowship and in relationship, in function, in everything that mankind engages in, facing every temptation that we have undergone, without sin and without making a mistake. He was also complete and absolute grace and truth. Prior to the incarnation; prior to Him becoming flesh, God had revealed the truth to men.

Theophanies are appearances of God in the Old Testament. In those days, men received dreams and visions which are revelations from God. John gave us a vision what will happen in the Church Age up until the eternal state. This was given by way of revelation.

In the appearance of the Logos, revelation is made through a Person, the Unique One, the uniquely-born One. Thousands saw Him in the flesh, and they testified as to Who this Person was.

John is an encapsulated summary of all the Jesus is on this earth. John defines that man as, We beheld His glory, the Glory as the Uniquely-born Son from the Father.

Shekinah glory, which comes from the verb shakan, which means to live among. They saw the glorious presence of God among His creation.

The Shekinah, in the Old Testament, was the visible presence of God. This was not just a metaphor of God's presence. Shekinah is not a Biblical term, although shakan is. It aptly reflects Who Jesus Christ was at the very beginning to this moment and beyond. Shekinah was a literal Theophany to Israel and before Israel.

God is everywhere, but He also localizes Himself to particular areas to manifest His Word to them. A cloud covered His glory for 6 days. When God called to Moses, He is a personal being calling to Moses, a real person.

Ex. 24:16–17 The glory of the LORD dwelt on Mount Sinai, and the cloud covered it six days. And on the seventh day he called to Moses out of the midst of the cloud. Now the appearance of the glory of the LORD was like a devouring fire on the top of the mountain in the sight of the people of Israel. This is the same manifestation as God in the flesh.

1Kings 8:10–11 And when the priests came out of the Holy Place, a cloud filled the house of the LORD, so that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud, for the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD.

There was the cloud by day and the pillar by night. This same Person was revealed as the Lord Jesus Christ. His glory was shown forth at another time. Jesus came in the flesh.

Peter, James and John saw His Shekinah glory in the Person of the Lord Jesus Christ. He is the One to manifest Himself. Peter testifies in 2Peter 1:16 For we did not follow cleverly devised myths when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty.

John said it as well. Manifested in this One Person.

We observed His glory, as the Uniquely-born Son from the Father, full of grace and truth. Throughout Old Testament history, we have the manifestation of God. The same glory that dwelt in the Tabernacle in the cloud is the God, the Revealed Member of the Trinity.

Col. 1:27 Christ in you, the confidence of glory. As believers, we can reflect the glory of God. Jesus Christ pioneered the spiritual life by which we live. This concept got Bobby into the PhD program at Trinity.

The center of it all is Jesus Christ in the flesh, here on earth, for 33 years. Jesus Christ could not be ungracious in any of His thoughts and actions. Grace and veracity are reflected in His every action.

If He was not full of grace and truth, then He could not be God. This knowledge of God means that we can have salvation. If we know Who He is, we can be saved. Salvation resided in Him.

John closes His prologue with the uniqueness of the Son.

John 1:14 The Word became [in a point of time] flesh and took up residence among us. We observed His glory, the glory as the One and Only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth.

We close this out with John 1:18, which is still true today. He has made Him known [to us]. He is able to accomplish His work because of Who He is. Grace and truth, the glory of God, manifested in One Person.

He came to seek and save that which is lost. Man is lost without the revelation of truth. Christ is the truth because He is the revelation of God. Jesus is the eternal son of the eternal God. He is One with the Father and a distinct Person from the Father. He has created all things. Jesus had a family and He has family problems; lots of them. His family reject Who He was. For 30 years, they mocked Him; they did not accept Him as Messiah until after He was raised from the death.

Because of His relationship with the Father, He can reveal God to man, God Who has never been seen by man. Those who trust Him become the children of God.

There Are 8 Ways to Demonstrate His Deity

1. The names attributed to Him. The Eternal Logos, the Son of God, Immanuel [God with us], my Lord and my God, Kurios (applied specifically to Him as Lord over all).
2. What did He say about Himself?
 - a. "Before Abraham was, I am." Ex. 3:14 God spoke from the bush, saying to Moses, "I am Who I am." Many believe that Yaweh came from the repetition of I am. This is His eternal existence. Only the Creator can call Himself I am.
3. He had the power to forgive sins. This opened up the way to salvation. Sin is no longer an issue. He claimed to be the Savior, the Messiah, John 14:6, which caused them to gnash their teeth. The pharisees were better able to get around the Law than our own Congress. Luke 4:12 there is salvation in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven by which we must be saved.

4. His Deity was evidence by His miracles. The centrality of His mission. All things have been created for Him, for His purposes. Luke was a physician, and he could heal various people with various medicines, but Jesus could heal many. He also raised Lazarus from the dead. What more evidence do we need?

John 1:18 No one has ever seen God. The One and Only Son--the One who is at the Father's side--He has revealed Him.

Lesson #22 Proofs of Deity/Hypostatic Union Philip. 2:5–6 12/23/10 Thursday

We have studied one of the great Christological passages in the entire Bible, John 1:1–18.

We have seen the visible manifestation of God as well as the localized version of Him. He has manifested Himself in various theophanies, and these are God the Son Himself.

We are going to look at Philip 2 and Heb. 1 and Col. 1, which are the 3 other great passages of the theology of the Lord Jesus Christ.

There will be pageants all over the world in the next 2 nights. And sometimes, this is an opening by which to present the gospel of Jesus Christ. All of this is somewhat beside the point. We need to understand Who He is, otherwise seeing a baby in a manger is pretty meaningless. That baby in the manger was Eternal God.

All over the world, there are skeptics of the Christ story, and they hear that the Christ child is supposedly God as well, and that is where they are most skeptical. They reject Him as the God-man. It is easy for a skeptic to admit that Jesus was a very good man and a very unique man and someone Who certainly had an impact on this world and on one of the world's greatest religions, but God and man in one Person? No way.

It is true of most cults and every false religion in the world reject Jesus as God. The eastern religions do not teach a personal God; He is just a concept and He just becomes what people want Him to be. Islam sees Him as a prophet and they think to coming of the Holy Spirit is all about the coming of the greater prophet, Mohammed. Cults like Jehovah's Witnesses see Jesus as a facsimile of God, but not the God. What most cults deny is that Jesus is the God of the universe, God Who is omnipresent, and yet localized. A child who must develop into an adult, a child who is helpless, and yet, He is eternal God. There is a good explanation of this in Philip. 2. When His Deity is denied, He is no longer the mediator between God and man. He would have no power to remove the barrier between God and man. He cannot propitiate God concerning man.

There Are Claims and Proofs of Deity

1. The names applied to Jesus:

- a. The Logos, Who was with God and Who was God. JW's torture this verse.
 - b. The Son of God, which denotes His Deity. Skeptics claim that He is only claiming to be a son of God, but not the God. The family illustration is used to explain the difference between God the Father and God the Son.
 - c. Immanuel means God with us.
 - d. Doubting Thomas called him, "My Lord and my God."
 - e. The title Κύριος.
2. Jesus claims to be Deity
 - a. John 8:58 "Before Abraham was, I am." No one has named their child I am. Hayah is I am, in the Hebrew. No beginning and no end; He just is.
 - b. He claimed the power to forgive sins, and only God can do that.
 - c. He claimed power over death.
 - d. He claimed to be the only Savior.
 3. He demonstrated His Deity through His words and services. Certainly the miracles were amazing in themselves. These showed His credentials as the Messiah. There was a reason why He stopped performing miracles to the crowds and only did them before those who believed. He healed the sick and He raised the dead.
 4. Satanic forces recognized Him; they knew Who He was and they recognized His authority over them. He cast out demons and they obeyed him. "Get out" and they did. "I know Who You are; the Holy One of God." Matt. 8:29 "What do we have to do with You, Son of God? Have You come to torment us before our time?" The demons know where they are destined to spend eternity. They understood Matt. 25:41, because they were there for this sentencing.
 5. God Himself gave testimony when Jesus was baptized by John the Baptizer. He also gave this testimony at the Mount of Transfiguration.
 6. He possessed divine righteousness; He never did anything wrong. He revealed His omniscience. In John 8:35, He told the pharisees that the Son remains forever. Matt. 28:18. All authority has been given to Me. "I am the Alpha and the Omega, Who is, Who was and Who is to come." Matt. 18:20 28:20 claiming immutability?
 7. The disciples spent the most time with Jesus. They saw what He did and saw His miracles. Matt. 14:33 those who were in the boat worshiped Him, saying, "You are certainly God's Son." Peter answered him when Jesus asked him Who He was.
 8. The testimony of the inspired writers of Scripture. Paul calls Him the Lord of Glory, which is the Shekinah Glory. 1Tim. 3:16 Great is the mystery of Godliness, He Who is revealed in the flesh, proclaimed among the nations and taken up in glory.
 9. Jesus was without sin; and yet, all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God.

This barely touches the surface of this.

Jesus is also true humanity. A great theological question argued through the centuries. How did His humanity and Deity both exist in One Person, and not attribute override another or bleed into another. How does it all work together? How can both be present. Great is the mystery Christ in the Hypostatic Union.

The Hypostatic Union

1. In the Person of Christ are 2 natures, inseparably united, without mixture or loss of separate identity. They do not lose or transfer the properties of either nature. That union is personal and eternal. This took place at the birth of Jesus Christ. Separate identities, but One Person.
2. The 2 natures of Christ maintain their complete identity.
3. The attributes of His human and divine nature belong to the corresponding nature, though the attributes of both natures belong to the One Person of Jesus Christ. These attributes are self-contained in each nature. There is no mixture of these attributes to form a 3rd substance. It was God-man, together in One entity and yet separate in One Person. The human nature of Jesus always remained His human nature. During the incarnation, the Lord Jesus Christ veiled the preincarnate glory of His Deity. His humanity veiled this; hidden by His human body. The glory of Christ was veiled but never surrendered. God is infinity; and it cannot be transferred into the finite without a destruction of the infinite. The attributes of humanity cannot bleed into Deity or vice versa. This is what happened to the Nephilim in Gen. 6. They were demigods, half-man and half-god. This is the story of Victorious Proclamation. They existed in the early time of man. They corrupted the human race. To rob God of a single attribute of His Deity and to replace it with a human attribute destroys Deity; and vice versa. Neither nature would be complete or real without maintaining all of their separate and complete properties in One Person.
4. Even though His humanity was perfect; the Deity of Jesus Christ was united with humanity. This was God becoming unglorified man. Have you ever been humiliated. He voluntarily took upon the form of the essence of man without abandoning His Deity.

How can God the Son be co-equal and yet subordinate Himself to God? Christ was more than perfect humanity when He arrived on this earth.

Philip. 2:5 Have this mind among yourselves, which is yours in Christ Jesus, Morphe means form, which is God and His essence. Jesus never gave up His Deity in that manger? Where did God go in the manger? Nowhere. He never lost His deity. There was an effect; Jesus was subordinate. By the very fact that He was man, He was subordinate to His mission. The humility is obvious; He is a baby, helpless and dependent.

He had to subordinate Himself to the plan of God. He had to submit to the cross, and taking upon Himself the sins of the world. Also, what happened to the Deity of Christ, when He took upon Himself the sins of the world.

God's plan required Jesus to take upon Himself the form of a slave. This is known as the Doctrine of Kenosis. This was fulfilled on the night He was born.

Jesus did not have to hang onto Deity; He did not grab onto it like a man grabbing for a rope while drowning. He was equal with God, but He came of His Own free will. He took on humanity for us, the greatest of humiliations. He did not grasp His Deity.

Philip. 2:6 who, though he was in the form of God, did not count equality with God a thing to be grasped,

Lesson #0023 Philip. 2:6–11 The Gospels December 26, 2010 Sunday 1

The problem with Christmas is often one of emphasis. It is the One Who came uniquely for our benefit. It is not about trees, lights or even family gettogethers. Its Immanuel, God with us.

All those things which make us a human being is what Jesus is. There cannot be a single bleed over from one attribute into another. There can be no humanity mixed into the Deity or vice versa. Both natures are present and yet distinct in the One Person Jesus Christ. The amazing and unique fact of our Lord Jesus Christ. God Himself took on humanity in order to fulfill God's plan for the human race.

Jesus came to mediate between God and man. He came to redeem fallen man from the slave market of sin. Because of His sinless and impeccable humanity, without sin or a sin nature, He could propitiate the wrath of God that we so richly deserve.

The central event of all history. What did it take for all that to happen? How could the 2nd Person of the Trinity condescend to become a man. What happened to the Deity of Jesus Christ in the incarnation?

Philip. 2 tells us about Jesus Christ, the God-man. Authority and subordination are 2 parts of the relationship between God the Father and God the Son. Jesus humbled Himself; He became a slave, so to speak. He was born a bond-servant for a specific purpose. This is known as the doctrine of Kenosis.

The Greek word $\mu\omicron\rho\phi\eta$, which refers to the whole set of characteristics that makes something into what it is. Jesus Christ preexisted in the form of the complete essence of God.

Jesus did not have to grasp or hold onto His deity; He would not hinder the plan of God for the 1st advent; He was totally committed to God's plan. Jesus did this on our behalf. He condescended for us. That is the most amazing love that can be expressed.

The moment in the manger is the absolute grace of God, and He condescended to be man. Swaddling clothes were death clothes, which is the purpose of His coming.

Philip. 2:6 who, though he was [preexisted] in the form of God, did not count equality with God a thing to be grasped,

Jesus emptied Himself. The verb is kenoô (κενόω) [pronounced kehr-OH-oh], which means, 1) to empty, make empty only. 1a) of Christ, he laid aside equality with or the form of God; 2) to make void; 2a) deprive of force, render vain, useless, of no effect; 3) to make void; 3b) cause a thing to be seen to be empty, hollow, false. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #2758.

He gave up the independent use of the attributes of Deity. That is the humbling of Jesus Christ in His humanity, and He did so of His Own free will. He did this on the basis of love for us.

Likeness is true humanity. He was not simply like man; Jesus is man.

Philip. 2:7 but made himself nothing, taking the form of a servant, being born in the likeness of men.

The humiliation that Jesus faced has much greater than anything that we can imagine; and then it was even greater to the nth degree on the cross. Jesus deserved none of it.

Philip. 2:8 And being found in human form, he humbled himself by becoming obedient to the point of death, even death on a cross.

Jesus provides unlimited atonement; so that we can all be saved.

Philip. 2:9 Therefore God has highly exalted him and bestowed on him the name that is above every name,

Angels will bow to Jesus Christ. Those under the earth will bow as well. In a future time, all creatures will bow in acknowledgment of Who Jesus is.

Philip. 2:10 so that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth,

Every tongue will confess that Jesus is Lord. This is the relationship between eternal God the Father and God the Son. God the Son took on true humanity combined with Deity, inseparably united, but without mixture of the elements of either nature. This is what Christmas is all about, the coming of Jesus Christ, the God-man; and He came destined to die for us. None of us were born with the mission to die. However, that was the mission of Jesus Christ.

Philip. 2:11 and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Lesson #0024 Gen. 3:15 The Gospels December 26, 2010

Sunday 2

Who was this Paul, who wrote these things 30 or so years later? How do we know that the Messiah is all of these things that Paul said? The Old Testament forecasts and tells us everything. It was almost all there, although not in the detail that we find in Paul's writings.

Jesus was well-known in the Old Testament and there is a great continuity between both Old and New Testaments. The central element is Jesus Christ, the Messiah of God.

Χριστός is the title for Jesus Christ, which means Messiah. It means the Anointed One. After His appearance, we used this name. However, from the very beginning, Christianity existed. We knew the Messiah would come, we knew where He would be born, and we knew what He would do. We only needed His name, Jesus.

The atonement, the theology of the cross, that He was a bond-servant was there; the continuity was all there. 700 years before He came, they wrote of Him. There are many groupings of these prophecies of the Savior. Words about Him are throughout the Old Testament. Every book in the Old Testament prophesied Jesus Christ, whether a clear delineation, or by analogy or by type. Everything that would happen to Jesus from birth to death would be found in the New Testament.

The pharisees and the sadducees in the time of Jesus were experts in the Old Testament; so they are without excuse. Everyone could look to the Messiah and believe in Him. They looked forward to Him; and we look back.

God pronounces the curse, a curse on the earth, upon Adam, upon Satan, and upon the woman. Everything and everyone involved in the curse was judged.

Gen. 3:15 [God is speaking to the serpent]: “ I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and her offspring; He shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise His heel.”

One act of disobedience and the man and the woman fell. The man and the woman acquired at the time spiritual death. They acquired a sin nature at that moment; total depravity and incapable of reaching God with any personal merit.

God did not leave Adam and the woman (or us) without a promise. God provided us hope of salvation. This verse is the first announcement and it regains what mankind had lost in the fall. From the very beginning, there was a Savior. Jesus is the Seed of the Woman. There would be enmity between the 2 seeds, between the Seed of the Woman and the seed of Satan. The enmity between these 2 seeds, which means this is the Angelic Conflict. The enmity between God and Satan is extended into the human race and the Angelic Conflict.

Man and the woman recreated the fall of Satan in their fall.

Bobby is currently working on the Angelic Conflict book. This was all a part of the resolution of the Angelic Conflict. Satan made an argument to God, “I know you are a God of justice and love; but how can You place your own creation into a Lake of Fire? How is that love?”

The greatest love of all is the Seed of the Woman. We are the spawn of Adam and the woman who fell; and they made one decision which took us to the fall. Satan develops human good and evil, masquerading as an angel of light.

The antagonism is so deep, that it can only end in eternal judgment. What does all of this mean?

What Is the Seed of the Woman? What Was God Promising?

1. The woman's seed refers to her offspring, her spawn, her lineage; that which issues from her.
2. Her seed is the conception and birth of a child.
3. This is the promise of a human seed that is diametrically and absolutely opposed to Satan's seed.
4. This promise is echoed in Gal. 4:4 but when the fullness of time came when our Lord was born in this world, God sent forth His Son born of a woman.
5. So in Gen. 3:15, the offspring of the woman presents God's gracious plan of salvation centered in a child. Women are not saved through bearing children.
6. The virgin-born One, the uniquely born one, the child of promise is the seed of the woman. This is the Messiah.
7. This promise of a divine Savior as the seed of the woman, who is God and man as we know, is revealed in Isa. 7:14 Therefore the Lord himself will give you a sign. Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. Written 700 years before Messiah came. Immanuel = God with us. He became flesh and lived among us. Isaiah is an elaboration of the Seed of the Woman. Children have not yet developed antagonisms at birth. No one has enmity with a newly-born child. We are all born with enmity between us and God. A little infant is not innocent before God. Jesus Christ was born into the world with enmity between Himself and the seed of Satan. This is a complicated baby. The Seed of the Woman; what happened to the seed of a man? Jesus is born of a virgin, born without sin. 1Cor. 15:22a as in Adam, all die.

All mankind has been the seed of Adam. There has never been a person born into the world without a father, except for one. The man passes along the sin nature. Adam cannot be involved in the procreation.

In Adam, All Die

1. In Adam, all die. We are all born with a sin nature, because we all have fathers, and we are born dead.
2. Adam, as the representative head of the human race, the one designated from the very beginning is the one who passed through the sin nature to his offspring.
3. Therefore, every person entering the world by natural generation, man and woman, all possess a sin nature and falls under condemnation because we are all seeds of the man and hee woman.

4. Therefore, the need of a virgin pregnancy; a virgin-born Savior to circumvent the seed of man.
5. Without the virgin pregnancy, the Lord Jesus Christ would have been tainted by the old sin nature.
6. He would not have been sinless or without a sin nature or acceptable to God as our substitute had it not just been the seed of the woman. It was not a sexual insemination but a supernatural one.

Gen. 3:15 [God is speaking to the serpent]: " I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and her offspring; He shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise His heel."

Gen. 3:15 does not simply stop here. This covers the inception of the Messiah and the events surrounding the cross, the first advent. Messiah his here and Satan's doom is sealed.

Lesson #25 Gen. 3:15 Isa. 4:2 Zech. 6:12 The Gospels 12/29/10 Wednesday

Christianity has been used for a short time in human history. However, Christianity did not begin with the birth of Christ. That is where the name came from.

The Old Testament reveals His birth, life, death and resurrection; and His 2nd advent as well. Those who were alive at the time of Christ, should have recognized Him. Our religion did not just start 2000 years ago. He is from the beginning of human history. There is no other God, there is no other Savior.

The Old Testament wastes no time in revealing Jesus Christ. We do not know how long the man and the woman were in the garden before the woman was enticed to take a bite of the fruit. God pronounced a curse on the man and the woman and the serpent; and in v. 15, God declared an eternal hostility between the seed of the serpent and the Seed of the Woman. This is the proto-evangel, the first time Jesus is spoken of. The curses all make sense, and then you come across the Seed of the Woman and the bruising of the heel and the head, and that would seem obscure. God's grace came shining through, even though He had to condemn.

The Seed of the Woman is the hope of mankind. The Seed is the Lord Jesus Christ. The Seed is then referred to as He, and this short verse has the curse of the man and the woman, and on Satan, and then the Savior and the solution, and what would happen. Satan's sin is unbelief and rebellion. His seed is the proliferation of the cosmic system. The lineage is the cosmic system. Satan's seed is absolute antagonism toward the Seed of the Woman. The Seed of the Woman is her lineage, her reproduction. This is an agrarian reference. This is specifically a male offspring, as being diametrically opposed to the seed of the serpent. This Seed is the One born just at the right time in human history. God's plan of salvation which will defeat Satan's seed of sin and death.

This passage does not simply stop here. It continues. The Seed of the Woman would bruise Satan's head (the head of the serpent in this case); and this is the way you deal with a snake. This is the only way you kill a snake. Just as a man might strike a serpent's head, so our Lord will strike the blow that will defeat Satan. Satan understands this.

Where does the crushing of the head begin? At the cross, which is the strategic victory over Satan. Jesus will return at the 2nd Advent and incarcerate Satan. At the end of the Millennium, Jesus will throw Satan into the Lake of Fire. This is a picture of the 1st and 2nd advents. The 1st advent is the biting of the heel.

Normally, the bite of a snake is painful, but not necessarily deadly. That is the picture here. It is a wound to Christ, but not a fatal wound.

What Does it Mean to Bruise Him on the Heel?

1. This represents Christ who is bitten on the heel.
2. The serpent originally struck at God through the man and the woman in the garden. That was the first strike.
3. Now, he strikes again, and this time, at the God-man on the cross.
4. This bruising is the substitutionary death of Jesus Christ. This is not fatal to the plan of God.
5. This bruising is where Christ redeems man from sin and death. He was bruised for our iniquities.
6. This bruising becomes the strategic victory of the Angelic Conflict.
7. The crushing of Satan's head is the total victory of the Angelic Conflict.

This is the opening prophecy at the very beginning of our great great great grandparents.

Gen. 3:15 [God is speaking to the serpent]: " I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and her offspring; He shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise His heel."

A lot of these prophecies are about seeds. The Messiah is the fulfillment of the promise to Abraham (Gen. 12:3). He will be the universal blessing to the nations. Abraham was the beginning of the line of Israel. A point that Christ is the fulfillment of this covenant. This will be fulfilled in His death and resurrection and secondly through His Millennial reign.

The Seed of David

1. The Messiah will establish the throne of the house of David forever. King of Kings and
2. Solomon was in the line of David and in the line of Christ. Wealthy and wise and he becomes a type of the Lord Jesus Christ.
3. The Seed of David is the God-man ruling as the king forever.

These titles indicate such. Deut. 18:15 He would be a prophet like Moses.

Moses as a Type of Christ.

1. Moses was the authority over the generation of Israel and when he spoke, he spoke for God. Moses spoke to the people for God. Messiah would speak with demonstrated authority.
2. As a prophet, Moses was a revealer. This is why John picked up the title, ho logos as the revealer of God.
3. The Messiah was also a priest.

Messiah as a Priest

1. The priests were descended from Aaron and they tended the tabernacle and they taught doctrine. They made intercession for the people. Jesus Christ made intercession for all of us.
2. Jesus was not of Aaronic descent.
3. Jesus was of the priesthood of Melchizedek.
4. His priesthood was unique. Melchizedek. In Gen. 14 Melchizedek
5. He was a priest forever, without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days or end of life, but abides as a priest perpetually. Melchizedek is a manifestation of the Lord Jesus Christ. He was appointed a priest forever in the line of Melchizedek.
6. Jesus is also symbolized by animal types, the first being a lion, as a lion in the tribe of Judah. From this line came the kings. As the Lion-King, He would crush the enemies of Israel.
7. Jesus was also a lamb led to the slaughter. Isa. 53:7 He portrays substitution and sacrifice. There was a herd of lambs kept just to be slaughtered. It is possible that the shepherds who showed up were shepherds over that specific flock. They went to see the True Lamb of God.

Jesus is also called a Branch, because a branch speaks of an offshoot of something. Branch of the Lord in Isa. 4:2. This is the future revelation of the Lord on earth, as the King of Kings. The reign of Christ as King of Creation. Perfect environment as well. All sorts of fruit and food provided without any work. This will be like in the Garden.

Isa 4:2 In that day the branch of the LORD shall be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the land shall be the pride and honor of the survivors of Israel.

He is called the Branch of David in Isa. 11:1. He would be an offshoot of the royal stock of David. He is also called the root of the stock of Jesse. He would reign as king in perfect righteousness forever.

Zech. 3:8 He is a branch and a servant. He is the man whose name is the Branch.
Zech. 6:12

Zec 6:12 And say to him, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts, "Behold, the man whose name is the Branch: for he shall branch out from his place, and he shall build the temple of the LORD.

There were 3 temples, Solomon's, Ezra's and Herod's. A 4th Temple will be built by the Branch. This will be the future Temple of the Messianic worship. This will revive Israel's worship. There was this great spiritual awakening under Ezra.

As the Branch, He will sit and rule as a priest. Zech. 6:13 Heb. 3:1 these are the same two offices attributed the Melchizedek. Melchizedek is a king and priest as well.

Finally there are specific Old Testament predictions of the Messiah. Isa. 7:14 born of a virgin in Bethlehem (Micah 5:2) and Mighty God Himself.

He is empowered by God the Holy Spirit and works miracles in Isa. 11:2. He was cut off and rejected by men. Isa. 53 dan. 9:27 He will come in glory and destroy his enemies. Isa. 4 11 32 63 He will occupy the throne of David forever.

Types of Christ, which illustrate Jesus Christ, and some of the great characters of the Old Testament are completely and totally related to Jesus Christ.

Lesson #0001

Exodus 14 December 31, 2010

Friday

Communion New Year's Eve 2010

Psalm 16:8 I have set the Lord continually before me; for, if He is at my right hand, I will not be shaken. This is quoted in Acts 2. David saw the Messiah in this statement of confidence in one of the darkest hours of his life.

Having the Father in His sight, Jesus was able to face Cavalry.

David is presented in 3 ways in the New Testament. (1) David is related the Messiah, called the Son of David. Rev. 22:16 (2) David is know for the covenant which is quoted in part in the New Testament. (3) David as a prophet, the Scripture must be fulfilled according to the mouth of David. Although living 1000 years before Messiah, David had a clear picture of the Messiah to come.

Often these things came about during David's dark moments. David revealed something about the early life of his Descendant. Psalm 69 revealed the home life of the Lord. We have Jesus as an infant, then as a 12 year old, and then 30 years old waiting to be baptized.

What about those 18 years? What was He like as a boy of 7 or 16 or 18? We are not totally left in the dark. He would be seen as being berated by his younger brothers. What David had to say about his brothers also occurred with Jesus.

Psalm 69:1 To the choirmaster: according to Lilies. Of David. Save me, O God! For the waters have come up to my neck.

Psalm 69:2–4 I sink in deep mire, where there is no foothold; I have come into deep waters, and the flood sweeps over me. I am weary with my crying out; my throat is parched. My eyes grow dim with waiting for my God. More in number than the hairs of my head are those who hate me without cause; mighty are those who would destroy me, those who attack me with lies. What I did not steal must I now restore?

Psalm 69:5–9 O God, you know my folly; the wrongs I have done are not hidden from you. Let not those who hope in you be put to shame through me, O Lord GOD of hosts; let not those who seek you be brought to dishonor through me, O God of Israel. For it is for your sake that I have borne reproach, that dishonor has covered my face. I have become a stranger to my brothers, an alien to my mother's sons. For zeal for your house has consumed me, and the reproaches of those who reproach you have fallen on me.

David was mocked by his brothers and rejected by them; and it was likely the same was true of Jesus Christ. His homelife would have been a lonely one. They ridiculed Him as odd, strange and weird. Those of His Own town responded with indifference.

Psalm 69:10–12 When I wept and humbled my soul with fasting, it became my reproach. When I made sackcloth my clothing, I became a byword to them. I am the talk of those who sit in the gate, and the drunkards make songs about me.

He still lived in unbroken fellowship with the Father.

Psalm 69:13–15 But as for me, my prayer is to you, O LORD. At an acceptable time, O God, in the abundance of your steadfast love answer me in your saving faithfulness. Deliver me from sinking in the mire; let me be delivered from my enemies and from the deep waters. Let not the flood sweep over me, or the deep swallow me up, or the pit close its mouth over me.

Psalm 69:16–20 Answer me, O LORD, for your steadfast love is good; according to your abundant mercy, turn to me. Hide not your face from your servant; for I am in distress; make haste to answer me. Draw near to my soul, redeem me; ransom me because of my enemies! You know my reproach, and my shame and my dishonor; my foes are all known to you. Reproaches have broken my heart, so that I am in despair. I looked for pity, but there was none, and for comforters, but I found none.

This moves to the cross, where the Messiah is given vinegar to drink when on the cross.

Psalm 69:21 They gave me poison for food, and for my thirst they gave me sour wine to drink.

Psalm 69:22–36 Let their own table before them become a snare; and when they are at peace, let it become a trap. Let their eyes be darkened, so that they cannot see, and make their loins tremble continually. Pour out your indignation upon them, and let your burning anger overtake them. May their camp be a desolation; let no one dwell in their tents. For they persecute him whom you have struck down, and they recount the pain of those you have wounded. Add to them punishment upon punishment; may they have no acquittal from you. Let them be blotted out of the book of the living; let them not be enrolled among the righteous. But I am afflicted and in pain; let your salvation, O God, set me on high! I will praise the name of God with a song; I will magnify him with thanksgiving. This will please the LORD more than an ox or a bull with horns and hoofs. When the humble see it they will be glad; you who seek God, let your hearts revive. For the LORD hears the needy and does not despise his own people who are prisoners. Let heaven and earth praise him, the seas and everything that moves in them. For God will save Zion and build up the cities of Judah, and people shall dwell there and possess it; the offspring of his servants shall inherit it, and those who love his name shall dwell in it.

Psalm 27:1–14 Of David. The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The LORD is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? When evildoers assail me to eat up my flesh, my adversaries and foes, it is they who stumble and fall. Though an army encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; though war arise against me, yet I will be confident. One thing have I asked of the LORD, that will I seek after: that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to gaze upon the beauty of the LORD and to inquire in his temple. For he will hide me in his shelter in the day of trouble; he will conceal me under the cover of his tent; he will lift me high upon a rock. And now my head shall be lifted up above my enemies all around me, and I will offer in his tent sacrifices with shouts of joy; I will sing and make melody to the LORD. Hear, O LORD, when I cry aloud; be gracious to me and answer me! You have said, "Seek my face." My heart says to you, "Your face, LORD, do I seek." Hide not your face from me. Turn not your servant away in anger, O you who have been my help. Cast me not off; forsake me not, O God of my salvation! For my father and my mother have forsaken me, but the LORD will take me in. Teach me your way, O LORD, and lead me on a level path because of my enemies. Give me not up to the will of my adversaries; for false witnesses have risen against me, and they breathe out violence. I believe that I shall look upon the goodness of the LORD in the land of the living! Wait for the LORD; be strong, and let your heart take courage; wait for the LORD!

Psalm 22 gives us the most intimate psalm of His death.

Psalm 22:1 To the choirmaster: according to The Doe of the Dawn. A Psalm of David. My God, my God, why have you forsaken me? Why are you so far from saving me, from the words of my groaning?

Psalm 22:20 Deliver my soul from the sword, my precious life from the power of the dog!

Psa 22:14–19 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint; my heart is like wax; it is melted within my breast; my strength is dried up like a potsherd, and my tongue sticks to my jaws; you lay me in the dust of death. For dogs encompass me; a company of evildoers encircles me; they have pierced my hands and feet-- I can count all my bones-

- they stare and gloat over me; they divide my garments among them, and for my clothing they cast lots. But you, O LORD, do not be far off! O you my help, come quickly to my aid!

David spoke of Jesus having his hands and feet pierced, 1000 years in advance. And then, the Jews stoned those they considered criminals. But David did not speak of that.

Resurrection from the grave belongs just as much to the Old Testament as to the New. You will not leave my soul in Sheol.

Psalm 110:1–7 A Psalm of David. The LORD says to my Lord: "Sit at my right hand, until I make your enemies your footstool." The LORD sends forth from Zion your mighty scepter. Rule in the midst of your enemies! Your people will offer themselves freely on the day of your power, in holy garments; from the womb of the morning, the dew of your youth will be yours. The LORD has sworn and will not change his mind, "You are a priest forever after the order of Melchizedek." The Lord is at your right hand; he will shatter kings on the day of his wrath. He will execute judgment among the nations, filling them with corpses; he will shatter chiefs over the wide earth. He will drink from the brook by the way; therefore he will lift up his head.

May God grant that we continue to have a vision of Jesus Christ and not lose sight of that vision over the next year.

Not sure if this is a continuation of Bobby's study....

Ex. 14:13–14 And Moses said to the people, "Fear not, stand firm, and see the salvation of the LORD, which he will work for you today. For the Egyptians whom you see today, you shall never see again. The LORD will fight for you, and you have only to be silent."

The commands in vv. 15–16 seem paradoxical; stand fast, move out. The Egyptians were an instrument of that intention. The first command is for them to stand by; Moses spoke for God, and told them not to do anything. It is a simple command, and it is a very difficult command to obey. People do not tend to want to sit around. They are not used to doing nothing. That goes against our deepest impulses. Against all of their instincts, Moses tells them to stand by in order to watch the deliverance of the Lord. Moses is asking them to stand by and to wonder, what will God do to deliver us? This requires knowledge of doctrine. In effect, Moses is saying to those people, God's promise to Abraham is real, and you as heirs, have the same promises made to you. What God promised to Abraham is God's Word. Does God have a future for these people? Will this nation end in annihilation, which is what Egypt wanted. If that was God's plan, then they should beg for mercy from Egypt and ask for slavery.

Are we making the same sort of deal? Better to depend upon a government than to depend upon God?

Ex. 14:15–16 The LORD said to Moses, "Why do you cry to me? Tell the people of Israel to go forward. Lift up your staff, and stretch out your hand over the sea and divide it, that the people of Israel may go through the sea on dry ground.

These Jews could only see the immediately problem, and most of them would have settled for a vague deliverance, which would have been death for most of them, and great suffering for those who were allowed to live.

We need to wait upon the Lord to deal with our problems and our antagonists.

Several times, these Jews will look back romantically to this life they once lived, as slaves, which they saw as okay.

We get in a jam and we often look for someone to blame. What is worse is, Israel is actually blaming God, for Whom Moses is speaking. There is concern by the Jews, because they do not see God and Moses doing what they expect them to do.

Ex. 14:11 They said to Moses, "Is it because there are no graves in Egypt that you have taken us away to die in the wilderness? What have you done to us in bringing us out of Egypt? Is not this what we said to you in Egypt: 'Leave us alone that we may serve the Egyptians'? For it would have been better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in the wilderness."

Jeremiah "Cursed is the man who trusts in man."

How many times do you need to fail before you realize that you are just banging your head against a wall? Believers are standing by for national rescue from politicians or they are going forward desiring revolution.

Moses tells Israel, stand by, and watch the deliverance of the Lord. We have peace in our souls with Bible doctrine.

We tend to rationalize our own idiocy. "It would have been better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in the desert-wilderness." These Jews fell apart and they came to exactly the wrong conclusions. They had no doctrine. They did not have the wherewithal to make good decisions. They have no faith in the Abrahamic covenant. They want to return to Egypt to the good old days when they were secure and enslaved. They were willing to trade out for a tenuous sort of security in Egypt.

Our country is declining economically, morally, militarily, and our leaders are not like Moses. They have nothing to offer us but human solutions, lies and the misuse of power.

It is tempting to become cynical about our destiny. Chalk it all up to the fifth cycle of discipline. This would be failing to see the rescue of a client nation. This is a test which we need to pass. That is the focus of stand by.

Moses does not share his own woes. He does not complain. There are no human solutions that Moses suggests. God's Word is the only thing which matters. If we are not interested in the Word of God, we will continue to make the same mistakes year after year. You do not change because you do not know the Word of God.

The faith must have a better basis than human imagination. It has to be greater than religious activity.

King Saul, David's predecessor, showed us this weird hope when he called upon the witch of Endor. He should have depended upon the Lord and not go to this necromancer. The seance turned out to be real, and this incident cost Saul his life.

At the crisis of the Red Sea, the Jews did not need to worry about how they would cross over this sea. Faith becomes confidence in the Word of God; not just some nebulous hope that we hang our hats upon.

Heb. 11:29 they did pass through the Red Sea as if passing through dry ground. The Egyptians were drowned.

As a believer, we have a destiny, and we know this through God's Word.

The other command is to advance. They were told to go forward, even though there as nothing indicating what God would do. We walk by faith and not by sight. Heb. 11:1 Faith is the assurance of God's promise.

This was a test of faith and destiny for these people. The problem of too much sea and too many enemies was designed for them to use faith. God commanded this people to do the impossible. Waiting and then acting were bound up in the grace and benevolence of God.

Both of these commands, to stand still and to move forward merge in the life of the believer.

Matt. 19:26 with God, all things are possible. Moses could say to them, "The Egyptians you see today, you will never see again forever." Moses told them to be quiet and to watch what would happen.

In the historical crossing of Israel through the Red Sea, what does it mean for us to go forward and how do we go forward. It is a daily endeavor to continue the momentum. This is all God's doing; not ours. We stand by utilizing the faith rest drill. Israel had a destiny and it still does. It was a client nation dedicated to evangelism and the preservation of God's Word. That was the promise and the commanded of the Abrahamic covenant.

So many Christians lack a personal sense of destiny. They refuse to go forward by being consistent by taking in Bible doctrine and using our spiritual gifts.

These 2 commands meld into one command in the spiritual life.

Heb. 11:33–34 who through faith conquered kingdoms, enforced justice, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, were made strong out of weakness, became mighty in war, put foreign armies to flight.

Bobby's prediction applying this passage to the situation around us. We are replacing self-reliance with reliance upon the government; the American dream is dying. Security has become much more important to people than freedom. Our culture is under attack by multi-culturalism. Many believers are putting their faith in a whole new batch of politicians.

God does work through people, even through politicians. But we do not place our faith in them. Sometimes leadership restores a nation. Reliance on God's Word and faith rest and a personal sense of destiny and executing the spiritual life and serving Him.

We are Israel at the Red Sea. The Egyptians are to our front and our backs are to the Sea. This nation will see better days, but it will require following these 2 commands. God always honors that.

Lesson #0026 Typology The Life of Christ January 2, 2011 Sunday 1

Few people are known prior to their birth; and Jesus was well-known prior to His birth; the Lion of the Tribe of David, the Root of Jesse, the Branch, the Messiah, etc. He was never known by His given name, which is Jesus.

There was the Hebrew name Joshua, which is equivalent to Jesus in the Greek. His Person and His work were revealed in the Old Testament. He is the confidence of our future.

The Old Testament is filled with types of Jesus Christ. This is the science of typology. A type is an Old Testament illustration or an analogy which has a place in Biblical history or also is divinely appointed to foreshadow some New Testament truth about Jesus Christ. A type is an illustration of something in the future.

Melchizedek is a type of Christ. He came out of nowhere, the King of Salem, and he approached Abraham, and Abraham went to his knees in front of Melchizedek. Abraham recognized that he was a type of Christ.

The types in the Old Testament are real historical figures. The Old Testament illustrates that which is found in the New.

We have to be careful not to strain the analogy or to pull a type of Christ out of a hat. This can lead to great distortions. Finding types of Christ under every rock just glorifies human imagination. All sorts of figurative meanings can be suggested from questionable analogies. We need to know what the Word of God means literally, because the Word of God has one literal meaning. A type may only have a few salient points in common with our Lord.

What types are contain in the Old Testament?

Adam is a type of Christ. He is a reall, historical figure, and he foreshadows a New Testament truth about Christ. The New Testament connects Christ with the type. The New Testament connects them, which is necessary. Christ was born.

Adam as a Type of Christ

1. In Adam, all die; in Christ, all will be made alive.
2. Adam and Christ are both heads of a race. They are our common ancestor.
3. Adam brought the fall upon us; and Christ is the head of a new species; a regenerate race.

There is a strong suggestion of a type in Eve's relationship to Adam. Christ is prophesied as the Savior, as the Seed of the Woman. A type of the church can be found in Eve and Adam. Eph. 5:31–32 what Adam lost in the rib was replaced by the woman. Eve was out of Adam, and so the church is out of Christ, as we are members of His body. Even was Adam's bride. God instituted the institution of marriage and therefore, it is a divine institution. So, even before they fell, Adam and the woman are a type.

Gen. 4 Heb. 12:24 Abel was a type of Christ; he was a shepherd. The Good Shepherd laid down His life for His sheep. Abel dying was a foreshadowing of Christ to come. The blood of Abel is named in the New Testament. The area of analogy is the blood offering. His blood cried out for revenge; and the blood of Christ speaks of redemption. Abel, before his death, presented an acceptable offering to God. Gen. 4:4 Heb. 11:4 Christ is an acceptable offering, representing propitiation for us.

The Old Testament believers could understand this stuff; they knew that Jesus was coming to them.

Enoch is another type of Christ. Or, he is being brought up to teach us about us. Enoch and he was not, for God took him. Enoch did not die like other man. We will all taste death, unless the rapture comes. All of us will understand what every other human being has faced. We often fear it. Enoch was taken directly to heaven by God.

We might as well get with the plan of God, because if we do not, God is going to kick our butts until we do. When it is all over, we will reside in heaven. We don't need to know all of this stuff in advance. We just have to enjoy the ride and God will shake these things out for us. That is our future without equivocation.

Abraham is a type of God the Father in offering his son Isaac Gen. 22 Rom. 8:32. God told Abraham to take his son to a place he would be shown, and kill him. He was to be tied to an altar and cut his throat. He was told to sacrifice his son, and he did not complain, he did not refuse. He did not say, "This is the son your promised me." He went ahead and did exactly what God told him to do. It was infinitely worse for God to offer up His Son. This is great love that we cannot comprehend.

Isaac, who is a type of Christ, willingly submitted to this. He was a strong young man and Abraham was a weak older man. Christ similarly submitted to the will of the Father and went to the cross. He carried the cross to be sacrificed upon; and Isaac carried the wood upon which he would be sacrificed. However, God did not let Abraham sacrifice his son. God stops the sacrifice. Then Abraham finds a bride for his son, but as Jesus will be given the church as a bride. The woman was brought and she heard about who he was, and she willingly consented to marry Isaac. After Christ's sacrifice and His resurrection, Abraham's servant was a type of the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit would accompany the church until she arrives at the house of the Father. Jesus Christ would receive His bride at the rapture.

1Cor. 15:45 So also it stands written, the first man, Adam, became a living soul; and the Last Adam became a life-giving spirit.

Lesson #0027 Typology The Life of Christ January 2, 2011 Sunday 2

We began with the first and last Adam. Adam fell and Christ redeemed us from this fall. Then there was Abel who was killed, a blood sacrifice, a blood offering for us. Then there was Enoch who represents all of us, who will be raised up in the last days, particularly those who will be raptured. Abraham is a wonderful type of Christ in several ways. He was to sacrifice his own child. He was stopped by God, but this illustrated what God the Father had to do to sacrifice His Son for us.

Isaac is also a type of Christ, and there are several areas of resemblance, his birth, his offering and his bride.

Remember that Isaac was the subject of repeated promises to Abraham, and at the age of 75 years, God promised Abraham that he would become a father. For the next quarter of a century, this became even a running joke. Then, when Abraham was 99, he sired Isaac, which was miraculous. Isaac was the subject of that promise, as was the Messiah to Israel. Through the centuries, over and over, following all the way through to Malachi, to 400 B.C. Isaac would be the 2nd patriarch, beginning the proliferation of the Jewish race.

Abraham's son through his wife's slave woman would sire a group antagonistic to the Jews. Isaac was miraculous; his birth was miraculous; it should never have happened. Our Lord was born contrary to nature as well, the virgin pregnancy. We can almost conjure a 99 year old fathering a child; but with no father, that is really contrary to nature.

Christ is the uniquely-born Son. If Israel could not get it from their own patriarch, how could they get it?

Joseph was another type of Jesus, who is one of the greatest types of Jesus. He was the most beloved of his father, Jacob, just as God the Son is the most beloved of His Father.

No sins are recorded for Joseph, except for Daniel. Sampson, David, Moses all have sins named. No sins of Joseph are revealed. Joseph suffered greatly during his lifetime, hated by his brothers, John 15:24–26 there was obvious favoritism. Joseph was the youngest and his brothers sold him as a slave. He was rejected of men. Jesus was hated and misunderstood by his own family. Jesus' Own family hated and made fun of Him. Matt. 13:55–56 Luke or John passage? Joseph was sold for 20 pieces of silver. He was taken off to Egypt. Jesus was also taken off to Israel. Jesus was sold by Judas, a disciple, for 30 pieces of silver. Joseph was false accused and unjustly condemned to prison; and Jesus was falsely accused and destined for the cross.

Joseph was put into the hands of Potiphar, and his wife tried to seduce him; he refused, so she got made, screamed rape, and Joseph ended up in jail. Christ was innocent and unjustly condemned (Isaiah and Matthew).

Joseph decided that he had enough of prison, and Joseph told someone to put in a good word for him, and it did not work, and Joseph spent more time in jail. He was let out in God's Own time. All of these are parallels. In the end, Joseph was freed from prison and glorified by God. Eph. 1:21–22 Philip. 2:9

Then we come to Moses, one of the great heroes of the Old Testament. 40 years of dealing with the worst bunch of people that you could imagine.

Moses as a Type of Christ

1. Moses was born of lowly parents during Israel's bondage to Egypt; and he was delivered from danger in a remarkable way in Egypt. Moses was put into a reed basket and put into the river. Ex. 1
2. Jesus Christ was born a carpenter's son, when Israel was under bondage to Rome, and He was delivered from Herod the Great and taken to Egypt. His parents took Him to Egypt.
3. Moses gave up his royal privilege in the court of pharaoh to deliver Israel. Moses chose not to go with pharaoh.
4. Jesus gave up His royal privilege as King of Kings to deliver man from sin. Heb. 11:24–26
5. Moses was rejected by his brothers the Jews, the first time he tried to deliver them. Ex. 2:15 and he ended up in the wilderness for 40 years.
6. Jesus was rejected by Israel in the 1st advent. John 1:10–11
7. Moses took a gentile bride when in the desert. She disappears in the exodus.
8. Christ returns to heaven at the ascension and He takes a bride, the church. The church is made up of gentiles and Jews. This is taking a bride outside of Israel.
9. Moses was welcomed by Israel upon his return to Egypt. Ex. 4:19–21
10. Christ will be welcomed at His return in the 2nd advent.
11. Moses position in Israel will be analogous to Christ. They are both priests and both prophets.

Moses' brother Aaron was also a type. His line was the priestly line, the tribe of Levi. He made sacrifices before God. Num. 15:46–47 he made sacrifice on behalf of Israel. Jesus is our High Priest.

Joshua is also a type of Christ. The Jews had a wonderful look upon the Messiah from very early on. It was all found in the Old Testament. This is their gospel; it is all found in these types.

Joshua's name is Jesus in the Old Testament. He was the successor to Moses and the leader of the Jews. He led the 2nd generation after the first all died out. He conquered the peoples who were in the Land of Promise. He settled the tribes of Israel in their various places. This foreshadows what our Lord will do. Heb. 4:8ff

Maybe someday we will do a study of Joshua.

Matt. 12:42 2Sam. 12;14 Solomon was a type of Christ. He was a man of great wisdom. Christ also presented great wisdom in his ministry. Solomon had great wealth, as did the Lord. Jesus is the heir to all things. Solomon ruled over the greatest piece of land that Israel ever had. Psalm 72. Solomon's reign was peaceful, which is one of the few times. All of the rest of the time, there was war and turmoil going on. David was the warrior king; Solomon was the king of peace. This refers to Jesus and His Millennial kingdom. Solomon's reign was the most glorious of history. Solomon had the money and the ideas of what to do with it. The reign of Jesus Christ will be the greatest reign in history. Jesus will build the Temple in the Millennium.

Solomon is the reign, foreshadowing the greatest King of Israel.

Jonah is another type of Christ. God send Jonah to Nineveh, and Jonah went in the opposite direction. God prepared a great fish to swallow Jonah to keep him underwater for 3 days and 3 nights. There was absolute darkness. Jesus was 3 days and 3 nights in the tomb. Jonah was brought back to the living and then he went to the Gentiles.

The Tabernacle and the Temple, are both types of Christ. All that they could see in these 2, that the only approach to God is via a blood sacrifice. That is what the sacrifices were all about. Levitical offerings ties the sacrifices to Jesus and His sacrifice.

The building itself and its precise construction is all about Jesus, as is the Ark of the Covenant.

Everyone of these Old Testament types were fulfilled in the Lord Jesus Christ. These religious types knew this stuff backwards and forwards, and they rejected Jesus Christ.

Israel as a whole rejected Him. The cross must come before the crown. The very ones who should have recognized Jesus were the ones who crucified Him.

All of the Old Testament points to the center of human history, and to the greatest event of man's history, the 1st advent and the crucifixion. Then the 2nd advent is also found in the Old Testament as well. Armageddon and all of it is found in the Old Testament. How many passages does it take to convince you? There are hundreds and hundreds of Old Testament which say Jesus Christ.

Lesson #28 Matt 1:1 Luke 1:1–4 3 The Life of Christ 1/5/11 Wednesday

Matt. 1 and Luke 3 contain the genealogies of the Lord Jesus Christ. Why would anyone want to trace out a genealogy in the Word of God? The gospel is about a person, and everyone has a genealogy. These genealogies are all about the Lord's roots. Matthew and Luke contain human genealogies to show the human origins and the kingly line of Jesus Christ.

Most churches teach very little about Jesus Christ; it is sketchy. Some miracles perhaps and rarely parables because they are too hard. Some have never heard about the life of Christ in depth.

It is time for us to fill in this gap, including these well-researched genealogies. These genealogies set up these gospels.

Matt. 1:1 begins with a very human lineage.

Luke 1:1–4 Since many took in hand to draw up an account concerning the matters which have been borne out among us, even as those who from the beginning delivered to us, becoming eye-witnesses and ministers of the Word, it seemed good to me also, following all things accurately from the very first, to write to you in order, most excellent Theophilus, so that you might know the certainty of those things in which you have been instructed.

Luke's gospel is a consecutive order gospel, written A.D. 62–69. Matthew and Mark were written before Luke and those gospels had been circulated about. There may have been some teaching which simply went astray, so Luke wrote a more precise history (not Matthew and Mark; but others).

Matt 1:1 The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

We enter the world separated from God. We come out crying and we ought to, being spiritually dead. Jesus is the last Adam.

Matthew's lineage is the Jewish line or Jewish family record.

Matthew begins to establish that Jesus is clearly a Jew, so Matthew presents Jesus as the son of David and the son of Abraham. He teaches the royal Hebrew origins of Jesus Christ, Who is a royal king by birth.

Matt 1:1 The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

The baby Jesus in the manger came into very humble circumstances, but Jesus is Jewish royalty. He is heir to the throne of Israel. The 2 men in his line are David and Abraham. God made eternal, unconditional covenants with Abraham and David.

Covenants with God Made with Abraham and David

1. Suzerain-vassal treaties made between God and Abraham.
2. The covenant determined the course of Israel.
3. God promised Abraham a land that would be possessed by his physical descendants. That is still an irritant in the Middle East today. This is the problem even to this day. This controversy will never be solved. This is a problem of divine proportions.
4. God would send One to bless the nation Israel, which is the promised Messiah. Jesus Christ is the Seed of Abraham. He is the heir to the covenant promises as the descendant promises. Every regenerate Jew is an heir to these promises.
5. 2Sam. 7 is where God gave a covenant to David as well. David's house, kingdom and throne would be established forever. One of David's sons would sit on the throne and rule forever.

Jesus in a long line of descent is heir to the throne of David and a possible candidate for the Eternal King of Israel.

Matthew's Genealogy

1. Jesus arrives on this earth under a covenant, just as all Jews were. So He is a Hebrew.
2. Matthew called attention to the fact the Jesus Christ would fulfill a covenant that God has made with Jesus' forefathers and to bless Israel.
3. Matthew called attention to the fact that Jesus Christ would inherit the throne of David.
4. Matthew traces the genealogy all the way to Joseph, even though he is not the biological father of Jesus.

Why Is this Significant?

1. The carpenter's son was the heir to the throne of Israel. They were certainly not of royal lineage.
2. Jesus was King of the Jews, as they would mockingly place over the cross.
3. From a lowly beginning is born the fulfillment of David's promise.
4. Why a lowly beginning? Jesus is a common man in touch with royalty. A complaint about Prince Charles is, he is just not in touch; he is aloof.
5. Jesus was unique, without a physical human father. Therefore, he is without a sin nature.
6. There is another reason why Joseph is named here. He was Joseph's adopted firstborn. This is quite important in Jewish culture and it made Him the heir in His father's house. Joseph was in the royal line of David. That is why He is in the genealogy.

Matthew traces this genealogy through 3 sets of 14 verses, so he is getting symmetry but not completeness.

Matthew's Genealogy

1. Abraham to David 14 generations noted. Solomon to the Babylonian captivity in 14 generations. From the Babylonian captivity down to Jesus. There are obvious gaps in these genealogies. The 4 descendants and no one was more corrupt than Ahab and Jezebel, who brought in Baal worship. So there are missing descendants of Ahab. These are descendants, and not direct sons in every case. So this is not a full rendering of every person in the line of Jesus Christ. There are enough named here in order to make it clear that Jesus is in the line of Abraham and David. So he is the legal son of Joseph. There is a reason for this.
2. If Joseph is only the legal father, then Jesus is not the physical genetic son of Joseph. That is the point here. The virgin birth was necessary in order to fulfill the prophecies. Matthew knows this and Matthew makes a point.
3. In the eyes of Jewish law, Jesus is the firstborn of his mother and his father by adoption. As the firstborn, Jesus is Joseph's legal heir.
4. The eldest was in the proper line of succession.
5. So Jesus legally, not biologically, was descended from Joseph and in the royal line of succession as the genealogy shows.
6. As the legal son of Joseph only, Jesus is protecting the Isaiah prophecy. He is the adopted firstborn.

Matthew presented Jesus as Israel's Messiah. Luke presents Jesus as the Son of Adam, the Son of Man and later the Son of God.

Mark's gospel is abbreviated, the shortest of the gospels and he skips the entire line. Mark's first verse covers all of it, going right to the divinity of Jesus Christ.

What Does Luke's Genealogy Do?

Some of you actually like history. Some people are encouraging Bobby.

1. Luke traces the same human genealogy as Matthew, but he reverses the order and carries it all the way back to Adam.
2. So Luke's genealogy does not emphasize the Jewish line. It represents Jesus Christ as the Savior of all mankind.
3. Recall, this is in keeping with Luke's audience, who are gentiles. Being descended from Abraham is not as important to gentiles.
4. Luke wants all to understand the Jesus is full humanity.
5. Luke identifies Jesus with the whole of humanity, without regard to race, nationality, gender, social division, going all the way back to Adam.

6. Jesus is not just the Jewish Savior but that of the gentiles as well. "Here is your Savior, the Son of Man."
7. Clearly, Luke is tracing the physical descent of Jesus.
8. This would support the fact that Luke is tracing Mary's genealogy. This is the physical, genetic descent.
9. She is mentioned in Luke's line; not in Matthew's line. Mary is the human mother; she is the mother of His humanity. She is not the mother of God.
10. As a descendant of Mary, Jesus is genetically connected to the royal line, which is a criterion for succession to the throne.
11. Further, the royal line could actually pass from the mother Mary according to Num. 27:8.
12. This is what is fascinating about these genealogies and how they fit together. The royal line of David converges in Jesus Christ.
13. This makes Jesus the unequivocal heir to the throne through both lines.

Jesus is the fulfillment of the royal family covenant promises made to David.

How do we know that Luke and Matthew just didn't make up these records? The Jews kept meticulous records. They were must about this sort of thing. These records were preserved at the Temple until the Temple was destroyed in A.D. 70. All the gospel writers had access to these records before that time. There were also genealogical records kept in the Old Testament as well.

Jesus offered Himself to Israel as the Messiah. His claim to David's throne was never disputed. Undoubtedly, the Jews checked these records. Many claimed this messiahship. Had they found a discrepancy, they would have screamed to high heaven.

The genealogies present certain problems. The unequivocally prove that Jesus is true Humanity and also descended from Abraham and David. Jesus has the right to save mankind.

41 names occur in Matthew. Matthew omits several names in the line. Also, the names of 4 women are given by Matthew and not Luke, which is contrary to Jewish custom.

Why Women?

1. Jesus was identified with the female gender;
2. He is their Savior too. He is the Savior of all.
3. He is identified with sinful humanity.
4. This was also a little dig by Matthew against the low-life religious types.

The genealogies trace our Lord's lineage from Adam, as Jesus is the Seed of the Woman. It traces His lineage through Abraham, showing Jesus to be a Jew, and through David, showing Jesus to be royalty.

The gospel presents another identification. He was announced and the birth of royalty is always announced. Before the child is born, his birth is announced; and after he is born, the child is announced (for royalty).

Announcements

1. Messiah is announced as gracious to mankind.
2. Announcements are about Abraham's covenants. So this is a very Jewish announcement.
3. Announcement of the redemptive mission of the Messiah. He was the Redeemer, the Savior.

Each announcement was miraculous. These were not simply rumors.

An announcement to a priest in the Temple in Jerusalem. This was an announcement of John the Baptizer. Malachi promised that the Messiah would be preceded by a herald. He would introduce Messiah to Israel. John was charged with this. Mal. 4:5–6

The Days of Herod mean this occurs before 6 B.C. when Herod died. Elizabeth means God's oath or covenant. Zacharias means God remembers; so this is all about God remembers His covenant. Zak was a priest and his wife was a descendant of Aaron. She was descended from the line of priests. So both of these people were very aware of the Scripture and the prophecies of the Old Testament and the rituals of the Temple.

Luke 1:5 In the days of Herod, the king of Judea, there was a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abijah. And his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

Religion have obscured the meaning of the Old Testament, and the Jews leaned more toward the oral tradition than they did toward the Scriptures. Yet God retained a remnant of those who held to the Old Testament and they never lost sight of the promises to God to Israel. They were looking for the Messiah, but they did not get caught up in all of the traditions. Today, most think that the Messiah was just a myth or an indication that Israel was blessed.

At this time, there was a remnant. Zak and Liz were among this group who waited for the Messiah, and they were therefore called righteous before the Lord. They were the doctrinal priests as opposed to those who were all tied up in oral tradition.

Luke 1:6 And they were both righteous before God, walking blameless in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord.

Liz was unable to conceive and they were both too old to have a child.

Luke 1:7 And they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren. And both were advanced in their days.

There were 20,000 priests at this time?

Luke 1:8 And it happened in his serving in the order of his course, before God, 50 priests were involved in each worship service and being called upon to burn incense was not given to just anyone. It was awarded by chance.

Luke 1:9 according to the custom of the priests, it was his lot to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

Zak has a golden censor and he walks into the holy place and there is a 7 canded menorah there.

He also see the Table of Showbread, which reminded them that Israel was supported by God in the desert. He is seeing all of this for the first time. He was taking all of this in.

In seeing this Table of Showbread, it is understandable why Jesus called Himself the Bread of Life.

Behind this altar was the high thick curtain separating off the Holy of Holies from the rest. Zak could not go in there.

When the priest goes in with the incense, the people all begin to pray. This is Zak's one big moment when he enters into the Temple and he marvels at the whole thing. He would bow and ...

Luke 1:10 And all the multitude of the people were praying outside at the time of incense.

The Angel of the Lord appears to him.

Luke 1:11 And an angel of the Lord appeared to him as he was standing on the right of the altar of incense.

Zak is troubled when he sees this.

Luke 1:12 And seeing this, Zacharias was troubled, and fear fell on him.

The angel tells Zak that he has been heard and that his wife will bear him a son. This angel would be Gabriel, and he is standing on the right side of the altar. In Jewish tradition, the right side of the altar was reserved for God only. So Zak thinks he is seeing God and that he would die.

The angel reassures Zak. There is this parallel to Abraham and Sarah. They have wanted children for years and now they are too old.

Luke 1:13 But the angel said to him, Do not fear, Zacharias. For your prayer is heard, and your wife Elizabeth shall bear you a son, and you shall call his name John.

John means the Lord is gracious. John would announce the appearance of Messiah. Rejoicing at his birth refers to John.

Luke 1:14 And you shall have joy and gladness, and many shall rejoice at his birth.

There would be great happiness brought to the parents by their son John. There are often great moments with a child and often some terrible ones. But John would do them proud. These are parents of doctrine and this would greatly add to their family life.

This son would have the greatest privilege of any prophet of the past. He would introduce the flesh and blood Messiah to his people. Other prophets told that Jesus was coming, but John would introduce Messiah to Israel.

These parents understood who their son would be. This couple will get the son they desired, and they will know what he will do, but all Israel would be blessed by Messiah, Whom John would announce.

The character of John would be described. He would be a Nazarite. There were only 2 mentioned in the Old Testament: Samuel and Samson. They were set apart for a specific period of time for a special service to the Lord. They were not to drink alcohol. In the ancient world, water was not fit to drink. Water was one of the great killers and this is why the life expectancy was so low. All sorts of bacteria and parasites from water. So everyone drank wine with meals. The Nazarite could not do this.

As a sign of separation, they could not cut their hair. When Samson's hair was cut, he lost his power. The Holy Spirit was his strength.

He would be divinely empowered by God the Holy Spirit filled in his mother's womb, which is a bad translation. The Greek preposition here is εκ, which means out from. This is the ablative case, which denotes separation.

As soon as he receives the breath of God, he is filled with the Holy Spirit. So John was indued with the Holy Spirit. Believers in general did not have the power of the Holy Spirit. This was usually for special people for specific tasks. All of those who heard that he would be filled with the Spirit knew that he had been designated for a very important task.

Luke 1:15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall neither drink wine nor strong drink. And he shall be filled with the Holy Spirit, even out from his mother's womb.

Then his task is given beginning with v. 16. Now, how does John turn back many of the sons of Israel? John's call to Israel was a call to repentance. This was a very integral part to his message. He explained this call to repentance.

Luke 1:16 And he shall turn many of the sons of Israel to the Lord their God.

Matt. 3:1 In those days John the Baptist came preaching in the wilderness of Judea,

Today, most evangelists will teach that this is turning away from your evil ways or that you have to feel something along the lines of bad because of your sins. So many people think that this is seen as the psychological hoop through which they must jump.

If you just really have some emotion welling up when you say you are sorry makes people think that you are more sincere. But God does not forgive us any more or less because of how we feel about our sins. Salvation is a gift of God and there is no outward or confirmed change. Any change that comes in us is growth in the spiritual life. We begin by changing our thinking. People think that salvation is a change in you right then and there and the way that you show this is through feeling sorry for your sins.

Repentance is changing your mind about Jesus Christ. "Change your mind, Israel; Messiah is here; change your mind about Who He is. The Kingdom of Heaven is open to you for faith in Jesus Christ."

Matt. 3:2 and saying, Repent, for the kingdom of Heaven is at hand.

Matt. 3:3 For this is he who was spoken of by the prophet Isaiah, saying, "The voice of one crying in the wilderness: Prepare the way of the Lord, make His paths straight."

Lesson #0030 Luke 1:5– The Life of Christ January 9, 2011 Sunday 1

The first announcement was to the parents of John the Baptizer. The second announcement is to Mary.

The 3rd announcement would be to Joseph, which was to reassure him that Mary was not an adulterous. Joseph needed to be informed that he had a great part to play in the life of the Messiah. The supernatural mode of the announcement itself was an indication the Person of Jesus Christ.

Also, without these announcements, the people involved would have been quite confused.

Luke 1:5 In the days of Herod, the king of Judea, there was a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abijah. And his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

Zacharias and Elizabeth both were students of the Word of God and they understood the theme of the Old Testament. They were both related to the Levitical tribe. They were waiting patiently and waiting in prayer for the advent of the Messiah.

Zacharias means God remembers and Elizabeth means God's oath or covenant. As a couple, God is remembering His oath. This is in their names and in their souls. God remembers His covenant and He remembers His people.

Luke 1:6 And they were both righteous before God, walking blameless in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord.

For many years, these 2 had wanted a son. They prayed and they prayed for the coming of the Messiah. Their names reveal the content of their prayers. And they are about to get an answer to both prayers within a few minutes, together.

They were ready. They were standing by and they were moving forward, spiritually. God always answers. If God does not answer a prayer in the way that we want answered, the answer to these prayers are always to our own best interest.

What kind of prayers do you offer up? Is it all, "God help me" or "Lord, give me this." Many times, we forget that others are in need of prayer.

Luke 1:7 And they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren. And both were advanced in their days.

Zacharias was one of 20,000 other priests and he might have a rare case to have this or that duty. Here, he is going to go into the Temple and light the incense. Of all the priests in all of Israel, on this day, the lot fell on Zacharias. He was an old man and he finally was entering into the holy place to engage in the holiest of duties.

Luke 1:8 And it happened in his serving in the order of his course, before God,

Luke 1:9 according to the custom of the priests, it was his lot to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

These people knew what the burning of the incense meant, and they were outside the Temple all praying. This was the place of God. It was a very reverent and holy place. The first thing that he saw was the 7 branch candlestick. He was aware of all of this furniture, but now he is seeing it with his own eyes.

In his hand was the golden censer, and this was the golden pan in which the incense was carried (or the flame?). Outside is this multitude of people worshiping and he is inside.

Luke 1:10 And all the multitude of the people were praying outside at the time of incense.

Luke 1:11 And an angel of the Lord appeared to him as he was standing on the right of the altar of incense.

Luke 1:12 And seeing this, Zacharias was troubled, and fear fell on him.

Then there was the reality of seeing an angel, and this is Gabriel standing to the right of the altar, which is geneeally reserved for God. Zacharias assumed that he was looking at God. He was still alive after a minute. Zach and Liz had been praying and they had ben unable to have a child.

There is the conception and birth of their son is announced, who will be John, whose name means gracious. Malachi 3:1 4:6

Luke 1:13 But the angel said to him, Do not fear, Zacharias. For your prayer is heard, and your wife Elizabeth shall bear you a son, and you shall call his name John.

Luke 1:14 And you shall have joy and gladness, and many shall rejoice at his birth.

In the overall sense of the word, a child brings great happiness to a family.

This is a parallel to Abraham and Sarah. Zak and Liz are both unable to have children, and yet, they will have a son together.

Many would rejoice at his birth (or the Messiah). All of the prophets of the Old Testament looked forward to the Messiah, but John would have the privilege of introducing his own.

John was a Nazarite, who was set aside for a specific service for the Lord. They were not allowed to drink alcohol. The hair of a Nazarite was not to be cut. Further, John was filled with the Holy Spirit from out of his mother's womb. The phrase refers to separation away from the womb. Now this makes sense; once he is separated from his mother's womb, he is a full-fledged person. Human life begins when the baby takes his own first breath.

John would have a specific purpose, a specific mission. From birth, John was ready to go. He was empowered to deliver a message for a specific purpose, which message is found in vv

Luke 1:15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall neither drink wine nor strong drink. And he shall be filled with the Holy Spirit, even out from his mother's womb.

Lesson #0031 Luke 1:16–21 The Life of Christ January 9, 2011 Sunday 2

Zak and Liz want a son and they want the Messiah to come. The lot falls upon Zak and he lights the incense in the Temple (Herod's Temple).

Luke 1:16 And he shall turn many of the sons of Israel to the Lord their God.

Matt. 3:1–2 will tell us what John's message will be.

The verb is μετανοεω is a thought process, not an emotional guilt purging. We do not need tears of repentance nor do we have to feel guilty about all that we did. We no longer have to be concerned about our sins because they are paid for.

This is a call for a disobedient nation to turn itself around and to change their thinking about the Messiah. Israel needed to realize that the King of Kings had arrived and they must accept Him as the only way to the Kingdom of Heaven. The Kingdom is at hand because the King is here. The Son of Man is here to seek and save that which has been lost.

Matt. 3:1–2 In those days John the Baptist came preaching in the wilderness of Judea, and saying, Change your thinking, for the kingdom of Heaven is at hand [The Kingdom of God is here and available to Israel].

The religious leaders heard this and they did not follow John. The cross had to come before the crown. Even today, many have not changed their minds.

If someone wants to know the gospel, God will get it there. In Iran, it is against the law to speak the name of Christ there; they are under Sharia law. One person from our church was a missionary to Iran until he was thrown out. And there are believers there who teach the gospel of Jesus Christ.

God many promises and the John proclaimed that the kingdom was at hand. Many Jews simply believed that, as Jews, they were under the covenant. It is not our lineage which saves. The covenant people. Who was Abraham? He was a regenerate person. And Abraham believed and it was counted to him as righteousness. Have you changed your mind? Have you believed? That was the stumbling block for these people. They understood the kingdom being at hand, but they did not understand the repentance part of it.

Matt. 3:1–2 In those days John the Baptist came preaching in the wilderness of Judea, and saying, Change your thinking, for the kingdom of Heaven is at hand [The Kingdom of God is here and available to Israel].

Elijah was a prophet during the time of Ahab and Jezebel, the worst people in power in Israel. Jezebel chased him all over the countryside. Elijah ran all over the country trying to hide from her.

Gabriel tells Zak that his son would have a ministry like Elijah's, in his Spirit and power. He would have the same message as Elijah. John the Baptizer would have the same message as Elijah.

Mal 3:1 Behold, I will send My messenger, and He will clear the way before Me. And Jehovah, whom you seek, shall suddenly come to His temple, even the Angel of the Covenant, in whom you delight. Behold, He comes, says Jehovah of Hosts.

Malachi 4:5–6 Behold, I am sending you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of Jehovah. And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the sons, and the heart of the sons to their fathers, that I not come and strike the earth with utter destruction.

John would be making this call for repentance even before Jesus came, heralding His coming. Then the Kingdom of Heaven walked right into the river and John the Baptizer baptized Him.

Elijah called out a remnant from Israel. Elijah prophesies to an apostate nation about repenting; John prophesies to an apostate nation about repentance; and one like Elijah would prophesy to an apostate nation about repentance during the Tribulation.

People were brought into the Kingdom through faith. The religious types thought they were good enough to impress Jesus Christ. These were Jews; they did not need the Messiah, in their own thinking.

If the people accepted John's message, the Kingdom would have come. Matt. 11:14

Israel had received no prophecy at all since Malachi's last prophecy, which is the longest period of time where there was no word from God. The last words they heard from God were:

Malachi 4:5–6 Behold, I am sending you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of Jehovah. And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the sons, and the heart of the sons to their fathers, that I not come and strike the earth with utter destruction.

Now John comes and announces the coming of the King.

Luke 1:17 And he shall go before Him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

Zak asks the angel, how can I know this for certain? He is looking into the face of an angel and he has been praying for a child and for the Messiah, and he asks, "How can I be certain?" This man of the LORD who knew the Word of God at the height of his career, and he busts out the human viewpoint. "Listen, I am old and my wife is advanced in her days as well." That must have been a euphemism.

Abraham and Sarah heard these promises for 25 years and suddenly, God comes and fulfills His promises to them.

No matter how many great negotiators go to the Middle East, there will be no peace between the Arabs and the Jews. The Arabs came from Abram and Keturah.

Right at the point when your faith is at its weakest, your prayers are answered.

Zak is saying, "Well, I don't know about any of this" and this is all related to the coming of the Messiah. He is standing there in the holy place speaking to the angel Gabriel. The tone of what Gabriel says is lost.

Luke 1:18 And Zacharias said to the angel, "By what shall I know this? For I am old, and my wife is advanced in her days."

Gabriel announces who he is. "How dare you doubt me; I am sent directly from God."

Luke 1:19 And answering, the angel said to him, "I am Gabriel, who stands before God. And I am sent to speak to you and to show you these glad tidings."

Zak said a bunch of stupid things, so the angel tells him, "You will be unable to speak. You are uncertain about this? Okay, here is your proof...you will not be able to speak until your child is born." Zak loses his speech over his disbelief. At the moment when faith was needed, Zak failed. He is not unlike many of us. We fail as well, often when we should not.

Here is this guy excited about entering into the Temple; it is his big moment. And he walks out of the Temple and he cannot speak. So he starts making all kinds of hand gestures, trying to explain what happened. This reminded him every day that God's promises always come to fruition.

Luke 1:20 And behold, you shall be silent and not able to speak until the day that these things shall be performed, because you did not believe my words which shall be fulfilled in their time."

The people were waiting out there and wondering what took him so long. They realized that he had seen a vision in the Temple.

Luke 1:21 And the people waited for Zacharias and marveled that he stayed so long in the temple.

Lesson #32 Luke 1:11–24 The Life of Christ January 12, 2011 Wednesday

Email from Rick Hughes. A woman was called upon for a prayer; chaplain told her to remove every reference to Jesus Christ. She writes the chaplain, "It is a sad day when Christians cannot even share their faith with a dying world."

Every part of the Temple and the sacrifices were all related to the salvation of Jesus Christ. This was all done symbolically.

Ex. 30:6–8 And you shall put it before the veil that is by the ark of the testimony, in front of the mercy-seat that is beside the testimony, where I will meet with you. And Aaron shall burn sweet incense on it every morning; when he dresses the lamps he shall burn it. And when Aaron lights the lamps at evening, he shall burn it, a perpetual incense before Jehovah throughout your generations.

The incense would arise at the same time that the sacrificial blood was sprinkled on the altar.

In Luke 1:10, the people are outside.

Luke 1:8 And it happened in his serving in the order of his course, before God,

Luke 1:11 And an angel of the Lord appeared to him as he was standing on the right of the altar of incense.

Luke 1:12 And seeing this, Zacharias was troubled, and fear fell on him.

Zack thought that he was going to die, because he was speaking to God. However, he was not speaking to God, but the angel Gabriel.

Luke 1:13 But the angel said to him, Do not fear, Zacharias. For your prayer is heard, and your wife Elizabeth shall bear you a son, and you shall call his name John.

Luke 1:14 And you shall have joy and gladness, and many shall rejoice at his birth.

Luke 1:15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall neither drink wine nor strong drink. And he shall be filled with the Holy Spirit, even out from his mother's womb.

Luke 1:16 And he shall turn many of the sons of Israel to the Lord their God.

Turning back is the change of mind that Israel will go through. Israel has moved far away from anticipating the Messiah. John was telling them to turn back from the negative volition. Israel was to change its mind about the Messiah.

When you present the gospel, then you desire that those who hear it change their minds. The message is essentially the same.

The kingdom promise to Israel could not be entered in any other way than via repentance; a change of mind. Many of the Jews at the time believed that they were the covenant people simply because of their genes. Salvation is faith alone in Christ alone.

Luke 1:17 And he shall go before Him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

Some apparently had questions about the idea of repentance.

Matt. 3:6 And they were baptized by him in the Jordan, confessing their sins.

Many have taken this to mean that they were confessing their sins as their salvation. These people were believers to begin with and they had already changed their minds. Baptism is a profession of those who believe in Jesus Christ. Baptismal regeneration is a heresy. These people came to be baptized because they followed the message of John the Baptizer.

John lived in the Age of Israel, under the Old Testament. The water represented the kingdom of Israel. They are identified with the kingdom of Israel in this baptism. The king was present and the baptized were being identified with the king.

The second post-salvation experience was the confession of sins, which is rebound. This is not said to be a public confession. This does not gain God's favor when you name all of your sins aloud before everyone else. There is no indication that this is a public confession. This is naming one's sins to God. Perhaps it was naming these sins to John, who stood in taking on the job of a priest.

David was a believer, and this was not a confession of sin to others, but to God. He had to confess murder and rape, to God.

Psalm 32:5 I confessed my sin to You, and my iniquity I have not hidden. I said, I will confess my transgression to Jehovah; and You forgave the iniquity of my sin. Selah.

The story was that this was pharisees and scribes, so they came down to be baptized. But John refused to baptize them, because they were not believers. Since they were not believers, they could not confess their sins. They were legalists and they were trying to please God with all of their religiosity.

He tells them to live the spiritual life utilizing rebound, which they could not do because they were incapable of doing it.

Matt. 3:8 Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance;

Luke 1:17 And he shall go before Him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

Now Zack makes a lunatic statement.

Luke 1:18 And Zacharias said to the angel, "By what shall I know this? For I am old, and my wife is advanced in her days."

Gabriel rebukes Zack for this stupid thing. He fails right at this moment, at a key period of time in his life.

Luke 1:19 And answering, the angel said to him, "I am Gabriel, who stands before God. And I am sent to speak to you and to show you these glad tidings.

God will discipline Zach for his lack of faith, and God is going to keep his mouth shut. The angel Gabriel brought him great news about his son, and he did not believe it.

Luke 1:20 And behold, you shall be silent and not able to speak until the day that these things shall be performed, because you did not believe my words which shall be fulfilled in their time."

the people are outside waiting for Zach, and he took too long and they were wondering what was going on.

Luke 1:21 And the people waited for Zacharias and marveled that he stayed so long in the temple.

Zach had a lot to say but has no ability to say it. He is probably using hand signs, and looks like a nut. Nothing comes out of his mouth. He cannot pray; he cannot speak. He wants to relate this conversation and he wants to talk about this in the worst way. He has this son on the way, the son who would announce the Messiah; and the advent of the Messiah was near, and he could not say a thing.

When Zacharias entered the temple, he was talking like a magpie, and he exited unable to talk. The people figured out that he had a vision. The fact that he was in the Temple and that his change was so dramatic, that they assumed that he saw a vision. He was a mute, unable to speak. Since it happened in the Temple, it must have had something to do with God. Something so spectacular occurred that it could not be ignored. However, they divine discipline not know what it was.

However, Zacharias was not to announce the Messiah, and he might have done that. He might have usurped John's duties in life.

All prophecy of the Messiah must be exactly fulfilled. There cannot be any deviation. Jesus had to fulfill prophecy to the letter.

Zacharias failed here; he made a really bad choice. God still used this for His Own purpose. The sovereignty of God and the free will of man work together, with the end result being exactly what God intended it to be. God can take the decisions of billions of people and God's plan still marches on. We are either in it or not.

Even when believers know better or they have been praying for something for so long, but they cannot act on it. You may get an answer that you do not expect, but it still works out.

If you have been asking for something in prayer for awhile, then expect that God will answer your prayer.

Luke 1:22 And when he came out, he could not speak to them. And they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple. And he was making signs to them, and remained speechless.

When you fail, you get back with Bible doctrine after confessing your sins, and then you then take the next step.

Luke 1:23 And as soon as the days of his service were accomplished, he departed to his own house.

Zacharias is a priest and she is in the line of Aaron, so they know all about these things. They know all about this. They have, in God's Own time, Isaac. The angel tells Zacharias to go work on pregnancy.

Luke 1:24 And after those days his wife Elizabeth conceived and hid herself five months, saying,

Lesson #0033 Luke 1:24– The Life of Christ January 13, 2011 Thursday

No coffee, soft drinks, water, etc. in Berachah Church.

The most important part of our life is in Berachah.

Gabriel made the first announcement of the coming Messiah to Zacharias. His wife becomes pregnant.

Luke 1:24 And after those days his wife Elizabeth conceived and hid herself [she went into seclusion] five months, saying,

She keeps herself in seclusion for 5 months. She recognizes that this is an amazing and miraculous event. They were way out of the parameters of parenting.

Zacharias did not remember that, with God, nothing is impossible. We have dead end situations in our own lives and some go all the way to suicide because they are so despondent. Nothing is impossible, is our last line of defense, in many cases.

Elizabeth makes a statement. "This is what the Lord has done for me." She is saying that this is grace. She did not earn it or deserve it.

Embarrassment is a stigma for some; and there may have been too much going on that she did not want to deal with; so she chooses to go into seclusion.

Luke 1:25 So the Lord has dealt with me in the days in which He looked on me, to take away my reproach among men.

Then there is a second announcement which is made to Mary.

Luke 1:26 And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God into a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, these 2 verses are packed with information and fulfilled prophecy. Gabriel goes straight from God to a woman in Nazareth. This is in the northern part of the land of Israel. The Galileans were entirely inferior people. The Judæans saw the Galileans as backwater people.

The Samaritans were never allowed to worship in the Temple. The Galileans were allowed to, so that makes them a step above.

There was a saying, "Go to Galilee to become rich and Jerusalem to become wise." Galilee was a province that was a breadbasket of Israel and Judæa. Therefore, someone could move to Galilee and make their fortune.

Nazareth was an important city in Galilee. It was known for its immorality and corruption. It was also a military outpost for the Romans. They saw it as a den of vice as well as a place of Roman soldiers.

It was this rotten, corrupt, vice-filled town where Gabriel went to make an announcement about the 2nd advent.

Mary was, at this time, engaged to Joseph. She was an unmarried virgin. Once you were engaged, you were considered married, but you were not cohabiting. They would go to the gate of the city, where the judge was, and sign a contract, and the judge would put a stamp on it. Engagement was a legal contract, which was the same as marriage. This waiting period had to elapse, like a cooling off period. A year perhaps. It was the purity of the woman during that time that was meaningful.

You drew a contract, you waited 12 months, the bride was considered to be pure, and you then consummated the marriage.

Ironic that the pregnancy of an unwed mother would be the greatest prelude to the greatest event of history.

Luke 1:27 to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David. And the virgin's name was Mary.

Under these circumstances, Mary is given a heads up, so that she understands what is going on. This is something that she has never seen before. Angels are creatures of light and perhaps she was somewhat blinded.

Luke 1:28 And the angel came in to her and said, "Hail, one receiving grace, the Lord is with you. Blessed are you among women."

She was greatly troubled about this.

Luke 1:29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and considered what kind of greeting this might be.

Luke 1:30 And the angel said to her, "Do not fear, Mary, for you have found grace with God.

There have been terrible misinterpretations of this verse. Mary has been made a fountain of grace or be dispensed to others around her. A false theology has been build around Mary as a favored one of God. She did not dispense grace; she receives grace. She is permitted to be the mother of the Lord and Savior, and this is a blessing; but it does not call for her to be worshiped.

We can honor Mary for her place in the plan of God, but we do not worship her nor do we pray to her. To Mary is due honor and to the Son, worship.

She is going to be wondering about all of this. However, her questions are much different than those of Zacharias. He disbelieves; and she is asking for some clarification.

She makes an application. She wants to understand what is being said; then she wants to make application. Mary has doctrine in her soul, and she hears what the angel says, and she is able to figure out what is going on. All of this begins to make sense.

You run into a problem that you are facing, and you heard some doctrine the night before and it is exactly what you need. Suddenly, the doctrine makes sense. In fellowship, God the Holy Spirit brings this to your mind, and you pass the test. The Holy Spirit always utilizes the doctrine which is in your soul.

How can you know the plan of God if you do not know anything about it? You simply cannot. This is the state that most believers are in.

She knows about the covenant and about the Messiah to come. So when Gabriel tells her about these things, she knows the Old Testament Scripture that goes with this. "Oh, goodness, I am that virgin."

What Was this All About?

1. She did not earn this honor by her goodness or her deservedness. So many think that she was a great saint o begin with.
2. She was a good and mature believer. Yet others could have been chosen.
3. Not every other woman and her fiancée were descended from David. That was a unique aspect. A ruler on the throne of David means that He has to be descended from David.
4. Gabriel says that this honor was bestowed upon her by God's meri, and not a
5. Mary is not the emphasis here. The emphasis is upon the Christ-child.

6. It is the grace of God which is paramount in this. This is the grace of God all the way.
7. The Lord Jesus Christ is the epitome of the grace of God to mankind. The favor or the grace bestowed upon Mary is to participate in that grace gift. That is the favor.
8. She has God's grace, not personal merit.

Mary was certain with knowledge about the plan of God. She was a mature believer. She undoubtedly had an unswearing faith in the messiah. She also had humility. She did not get all puffed up with pride over this. She did not get fatheaded about this.

Jesus at 12 could answer questions from the pharisees, but they could not answer His questions. She was teachable and positive. Grace oriented is the key here. She clearly had a like mind with doctrine.

All 4 of these people were prepared for what would happen. That is the people around Jesus. The plan unfolds and it is the best life that we can possibly have. It begins with doctrine in the soul. All 4 were ready to carry out the plan of God in the most critical period of history.

V. 31 is the first time Jesus' name is revealed.

God chooses the name. The parents do not make this choice. Everything about this Messiah is about God's grace and our salvation and God's plan.

Luke 1:31 And behold! You shall conceive in your womb and bear a son, and you shall call His name JESUS.

Lesson #0034 Luke 1:28–30 The Life of Christ January 16, 2011

Sunday 1

Communion Sunday:

Jesus was not born with a genetically form sin nature, as we have; apart from that, we are exactly the same. He never committed one act that was not absolute good.

Many could have testified as to His power. "I was blind, but now I see; I was lame and now I can walk."

he was tried 6 times under 2 of the greatest systems of law in human history, and yet was still convicted.

All things work together for good to those who love God. Out of this travesty of justice came our own justification and our good. Every person who accepts Jesus Christ as Savior, at the moment of the new birth, has righteousness imputed to him or her. We receive this +R as our gain.

He was an innocent man. He never sinned and He never made a mistake. Because of Who He claimed to be, He could not simply be just a good man; He said that He could forgive sins; He claimed to be none other than the Son of God. If these are not true, then He is a consummate liar, and, in that situation, He would not have been a good man. A good man would never impersonate and therefore blaspheme the Savior of the world. Millions of people would have been misled if His claims are false. He is the Savior and only God can provide salvation and a way to God the Father. Only God can say, "I and the Father are One." Or, "Before Abraham existed, I existed eternally."

If ever a man deserved to be acquitted, Jesus was the One. Pilate began to grasp the falsity of the trial he presided over. He knew that Jesus was innocent of all charges. He did not act to exonerate our Lord, but he succumbed to the demands of the mob. Only strong conviction and moral courage would have extricated him. He looked the other way; he washed his hands of the Lord—to his own detriment.

During 3 hours, the sins of the world were poured out upon Jesus Christ, and God the Father hid His face from Him. It was not the pain of the brutal conditions of the cross, but the separation from God that Jesus faced. He paid the penalty for every sin. He screamed out, "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?" He was forsaken because God made Him sin, Who knew no sin, on our behalf.

The perfect Father could have nothing to do with sin, while the sins of the world were poured out upon Him and judged. This was the most excruciated pain that could ever be endured. The millions of animal sacrifices represent the horrible death of Jesus on the cross.

This removed the enmity between us and God. Our Lord's salvation was completed once forever; although there are those who continually crucify Him because of their theology.

He called out, "Τετέλεσται," which means, "Finished in the past, with the result that it remains finished forever."

Only a free man can free a slave. The only man to be born free of sin is Jesus Christ. He went to the cross as a free man, and He bore the sins of all mankind because He chose to do so. He paid in full for every sin that we committed.

We are in a new kingdom today, because we are in union with the King of Kings.

Mary was chosen because of who she was. Her genealogy is necessary. She has to be a part of the line of David. Elizabeth was a Levite, so she could not be chosen. Mary was also a virgin; Elizabeth was married, so she was not a virgin.

So the angel appears; someone that Mary has never seen before. He has magnificent radiance and distinctive features. Suddenly, he is there in her living room, bringing an announcement from Jesus Christ.

Luke 1:28 And the angel came in to her and said, "Hail, one receiving grace, the Lord is with you. Blessed are you among women."

Mary was greatly troubled, wondering about what sort of salutation this was. She understood the words, but she was unable to apply these things to her. What did it mean? What was this person and why was he addressing her?

Luke 1:29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and considered what kind of greeting this might be.

Zacharias thought he was too old, and God disciplined him for this. He was now mute. Mary, on the other hand, was not filled with disbelief, but she just needed clarification and some additional explanation. So the angel gives her more information.

"You have discovered grace with God." Mary is the recipient of God's grace. She does not dispense grace; she receives it.

Luke 1:30 And the angel said to her, "Do not fear, Mary, for you have found grace with God."

Lesson #0035 Luke 1:30–35 The Life of Christ January 16, 2011 Sunday 2

Some of us were brought up in churches where Mary was deified, even worshiped.

Mary was good, but she is not the emphasis here. Χαρις is the emphasis in this verse. Mary plays an intimate part in this narrative. We are all recipients of grace, although, quite obviously, we have not all received an announcement like Mary received. However, she receives the same grace that we receive. The Savior that she bore is her Savior as well. She is not the recipient of more grace than anyone else.

Mary should never be deified; she should never be worshiped or prayed to. She is not a dispenser of God's grace. She had some great qualities and she certainly had knowledge of the Word of God and the plan of God. She undoubtedly had an unswerving faith in the Lord. This is part of why God chose her. The great factor here is not Mary's worthiness, but her grace orientation. She understood that this came from God and she is not the center of this event. She participated by God's choice.

Mary quickly makes an application from the grace in her soul. When this was clarified for her, she had studied God's Word.

She is able to relax and able to take this all in. She is able to form a rationale and function in her spiritual life. She was prepared. That is why this went so well.

Luke 1:30 And the angel said to her, "Do not fear, Mary, for you have found grace with God.

The angel give His name for the first time in human history. Gabriel makes this announcement, giving His human name.

Luke 1:31 And behold! You shall conceive in your womb and bear a son, and you shall call His name JESUS.

Mary understood that she would be the mother of the humanity of Jesus Christ. She is not the mother of God. She does not give birth to God. At the moment of birth, God took upon the nature of humanity. Mary did not form God in her womb. That is a heresy. However, this continues to be taught.

Luke 1:32 He shall be great and shall be called the Son of the Highest. And the Lord God shall give Him the throne of His father David.

This child will reign forever over the house of Jacob forever and there will be no end to His kingdom.

So, Gabriel tells this young virgin that she is about to become pregnant. She is told that she will conceive and have a child.

At first blush, it sounds as if there is some sort of fornication involved. The angel says nothing about her getting with Joseph and procreating a child.

As a parent, it is a great privilege to name your child. You name him after someone you admire or after your parents or a previous relative. Mary was unable to do that. God gave Jesus His Name. His Name carries with it great importance.

Bobby's most hated word is to hear the epithet Jesus. When someone says the name of the Lord Jesus Christ as an epithet, used to punctuate their anger, is blasphemy. Never use the name of our Lord to punctuated your stupid mental attitude sins. Vulgarisms are not nearly as bad as that.

Jesus means the Lord saves. Every aspect of this announcement tells us that this is the Messiah. Joshua is the Hebrew equivalent of Jesus. Mary knew this name; she knew Joshua from the Old Testament, who brought the people into the Land of Promise and gave the land to them.

This name was not random. It had immediate meaning, not just to Mary, but the Jews understood as well.

God has the privilege of name His Own Son.

Our Lord's miracles healed people incidentally. His miracles were selective. He did not heal everyone. Each miracle had a special meaning.

What Is Prophesied Here about Jesus:

1. He will be great.
2. Secondly, He is the Son of the Most High. This child has the qualities of his Father. The same attributes; co-equal with the Father.
3. Thirdly, he will be given the throne of His father David. He is here identified as David's Greater Son. This is the One promised through David. As such, He will reign on the throne of Israel.

He was rejected at the first advent as Savior, but He will return.

Luke 1:32 He shall be great and shall be called the Son of the Highest. And the Lord God shall give Him the throne of His father David.

4. He will reign over the house of Jacob forever. He is a Jewish king, to reign forever.
5. His kingdom would have no end.

With Him are all the qualities of the God of Israel. She would be united with the God of Israel.

Luke 1:33 And He shall reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of His kingdom there shall be no end.

Mary responds in quite a standard way. "I am going to get pregnant? I do not have a husband." She says, "I am not clear on this; how can this be if I am a virgin?" Mary realizes that this child would not be a natural consequence of her pending marriage.

This passage does not indicate a perpetual virginity for Mary, another fallacy of a certain denomination. She was not a perpetual virgin. She married and she had other children by Joseph.

Later, some would ask, "Is this not Jesus? Are these not his brothers?"

Gabriel did not shut her mouth as He had done to Zacharias. Mary was limited insofar as what she could announce. Mary did not doubt the announcement of what she heard. Mary was looking for what Luke 2:25 called the consolation of Israel. The Messiah would bring comfort and redemption to Israel. She simply wanted to know just how the whole thing would happen. She was in a society would have frowned on this situation. The Mosaic Law said that an unmarried woman having a child is to be stoned to death.

Luke 1:34 Then Mary said to the angel, How shall this be, since I do not know a man?

Her pregnancy question is then answered in v. 35. The child born to you is the Holy One Who will be called the Son of God.

What in Israel's history was overshadowed? The Shekinah glory. All that was associated with the Temple of God. Everything about this announcement tells us about Who Jesus is. The angel says He would be a holy offspring.

Ἄγιος means one set apart; one that is dedicated for a special mission. Her child would be the Son of the Most High. You will bear the Messiah and He will come dedicated to one thing. When she bears this child, His purpose will become necessary.

He was enshrouded in grave clothes. The cross was a part of his life from His very birth.

There would be a 3rd announcement which will be made to Joseph, to warn him that his fiancée is not an adulteress.

Can you doubt the 2nd advent of Jesus Christ? God fulfilled everything from the Old Testament in Jesus Christ.

Luke 1:35 And the angel answered and said to her, The Holy Spirit shall come on you, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow you. Therefore also that Holy One which will be born of you shall be called Son of God.

Lesson #0036 Luke 1:(31–35), 36–46 The Life of Chris 1/19/11 Wednesday

Luke 1:31 And behold! You shall conceive in your womb and bear a son, and you shall call His name JESUS.

Bobby was asked whether there were named Jesus besides our Lord; it was probably a common name.

This is a Greek name, which establishes the language in which He would operate?

Luke 1:32 He shall be great and shall be called the Son of the Highest. And the Lord God shall give Him the throne of His father David.

Mary learns just who this Son would be.

Luke 1:33 And He shall reign over the house of Jacob forever, and of His kingdom there shall be no end.

Luke 1:34 Then Mary said to the angel, "How shall this be, since I do not know a man?"

Mary was confused here, and it was not that she did not believe; but she had some questions. She knows that a sexual relationship was necessary to have a child. She was in this year waiting period. This angel was not suggesting that she move up the wedding or sleep with Joseph. Neither was a plan for her. Therefore, this is a legitimate question to ask.

There is also the penalty of stoning to death for a women bearing a child out of wedlock.

Luke 1:35 And the angel answered and said to her, "The Holy Spirit shall come on you, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow you. Therefore also that Holy One which will be born of you shall be called Son of God."

This is a clear statement of a supernatural birth. This child would be called the Son of God, which means, He would have every attribute of God. No man would be involved here; it was the Holy Spirit Who would impregnate.

The fact that Jesus is conceived by the Spirit in the womb. There was a genetic uniting of human and divine. The result will be fully human and divine. However, there is no sexual act here. It is an act of God, a supernatural impregnating, but it was not a result of a sexual union.

Why didn't the Messiah simply appear miraculously on earth? He could have appeared as a man and marched toward the cross?

The prophecy of Isa. 7:14 had to be fulfilled to the letter. That prophecy had to be fulfilled; so, a virgin pregnancy. His birth was unequivocal proof that He is true humanity. If Jesus Christ had just appeared, many would have reasonably questioned His true humanity. He had to be human in every sense of the word. He had to experience humanity in every sense of the word, including birth as per the intricate biological beginnings of us all.

The supernatural conception was also necessary because of His being a true unity of man and God. Mary did not produce God; His humanity came from Mary. At the same time, Jesus was undiminished deity.

The true humanity aspect had to come out. He took on the form of God in order to be our Savior. This is the beginning of this union. The biological formation of the humanity of Jesus Christ. So the incarnation was necessary.

Thirdly, the seed of the man had to be left out. The Coniah curse and the natural father transmits the sin nature. We all receive our sin nature from our original parents, from our fathers specifically. Christ would be born as the Seed of the Woman only. This meant, Jesus would have no sin nature.

The virgin birth is critical; there would be no God-man; there would be no incarnation, apart from the virgin birth. Without the seed of the man, the only way He could be born sinless. In Adam, we all die. Being born without a father means no sin nature.

Luke 1:35 And the angel answered and said to her, "The Holy Spirit shall come on you, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow you. Therefore also that Holy One which will be born of you shall be called Son of God."

First image. And the earth was formless and void and the Spirit of God was moving over the surface of the waters. This is a creative image.

Second image. When God was in residence in the Tabernacle, there was the Shekinah Glory. The very presence of God would overshadow her and create the very image of God within her. When the angel tells Mary, she believes it.

The holy Offspring will be called the Son of God.

At this point, we find out that Elizabeth is a relative of Mary's. She who is barren is now in her 6th month, about ready to finish it up. Here are 2 women who will have impossible births. Every day that you face a problem, you understand that nothing is impossible with God. God delivers; stand by and watch Him solve your problems. Neither of them should have children, and God gave them both children. Zacharias and Elizabeth will have children in their old age. And with Mary, this will be without a man that she will bear a child.

Mary understands that her pregnancy will be an absolutely unique conception.

Luke 1:36 And behold, your cousin Elizabeth also conceived a son in her old age. And this is the sixth month with her who was called barren.

Luke 1:37 For with God nothing shall be impossible.

Luke 1:38 And Mary said, Behold the servant of the Lord. Let it be to me according to your word. And the angel departed from her.

This trip the Mary would make would be a 5 day trip. It would be comforting for her to speak to Elizabeth. Mary had no idea how her future husband or how society would treat her.

Pregnant women like to talk to other women about these things. Men are no help in this situation. Here, they had a unique situation. There was a lot to talk about. This was not just a personal thing; this was the fulfillment of the covenant promise which God made to Israel, and God would fulfill God's Word in these women. They certainly talked about their pregnancies and about Bible doctrine as well. They probably studied the Word of God. They knew what the covenant said and that it was about to be fulfilled.

Mary may also have been concerned for Elizabeth; she was an older woman who was pregnant. This also was a place of seclusion for Mary. As an unwed mother, she needs a place.

Luke 1:39 And Mary arose in those days and went into the hill country with haste, to a city of Judah.

Luke 1:40 And she entered into the house of Zacharias and greeted Elizabeth.

When Mary's voice rang out, Elizabeth recognized this voice immediately; and a unique moment followed. Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit for a specific reason; a specific purpose. Not every believer in the Old Testament was given the Holy Spirit.

Luke 1:41 And it happened as Elizabeth heard the greeting of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb. And Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit, Luke 1:42 and cried out with a loud voice and said, Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb.

Elizabeth refers to Mary's child as my Lord. This is another confirmation of Mary as the mother of the Messiah.

Luke 1:43 And from where is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

Luke 1:44 For lo, as the voice of your greeting sounded in my ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.

Luke 1:45 And blessed is she who believes, for there shall be a perfecting of those things which were told her from the Lord.

What follows is sometimes called the magnificent; Mary's praise, to the one she would bear. The hymn does not magnify Mary; it does not glorify her; it glorifies God, Who is the object of this hymn.

Mary had no intention of drawing attention to her. She was glorifying God, Jesus in her womb. Mary is not sinless, she is not a savior; she should not be put upon a pedestal and worshiped. She was related to God just as we are.

Mary was a believer as all Old Testament believers were. She understood the sacrifices in the Temple. She believed in the coming Messiah. She understands that she will be the one to bear the One Who saved her.

Luke 1:46 And Mary said, "My soul magnifies the Lord,

Lesson #0037 Luke 1:46–51 The Life of Christ January 20, 2011 Thursday

Mary has received a visit from Gabriel. She realizes that she is going to conceive a child apart from a man. Having a child is not what she expected in this 12 month purifying period. Unwed pregnancy indicates that she is not ready for marriage, so this poses a problem for her. Therefore, she has a few questions for the angel.

She asks, how can I be pregnant without a man and what will happen to me during the time of this engagement? She would expect her fiancée to divorce her. There is another problem for her—adultery was punishable by stoning to death. So, these are legitimate questions which occur to her. There is no suggestion that there will be any man involved.

Gabriel gives her the answer that she would become pregnant by the Holy Spirit, Who will supernaturally fertilize her egg. The Holy Spirit will use the biological processes of the woman for the Messiah.

Because this is from God, then there will be no reason to be concerned for punishment.

With this explanation, her fears are calmed. Bobby suspects that it happened at that moment (or before). Once it happened, her next move is to pack a bag and go off to a city in Judæa, a 5 day journey from Nazareth. Her cousin was also going to bear a child with a spiritual dimension.

As soon as she walks in the door and says hello to Elizabeth, she is filled with the Holy Spirit. Only a few had this indument of the Holy Spirit.

Mary begins to speak of blessing and this confirms something else. Elizabeth says, “Bless you, the mother of my Savior.” Their son of Zacharias and Elizabeth would be the herald. Joseph has no clue yet. He will get hit between the eyes about the pregnancy.

Mary responds to all of this in a magnificent way. Most are happy when they become pregnant, when they want a child. This is great happiness, and she breaks out. She is happy and she is humbled. This is one of the most beautiful hymns. It is an anthem which glorifies God and God alone. She will be the entry of the Messiah into this world.

Her soul magnifies the Lord.

Luke 1:46 And Mary said, “My soul magnifies the Lord,

Her spirit rejoices in God, her Savior. She recognizes the doctrine involved here. There will be allusions throughout this song to the Old Testament.

Right from the beginning, she says who is to be praised. She understood that what was happening for her and for all Israel. She may not have realized that this happened was for all mankind. She was a remnant of believers in apostate Israel who continued to look for the Messiah of Israel. Elizabeth and Zacharias were all a part of the pivot, all awaiting the Messiah of Israel. It will turn out that Joseph is waiting as well.

She calls Him God my Savior. She has received salvation just like every other person in the human race. She was born of a father and a mother and she has a sin nature. She was born separated from God. She needed redemption; she need propitiation. She knew when the priest laid the hand on the lamb and cut its throat, that her sins were transferred. She understood that. She had trusted that by faith alone in the coming Messiah. They looked ahead to the Messiah and we look back. The object of her faith was the baby growing inside of her. She believed in Jehovah Elohim and suddenly the Messiah is growing within her. She was not an exception to the human race. She had a sin nature and required salvation. There is no one born without a sin nature. The object of her faith was her own son. For her recognition of this, she continues her son of praise.

Luke 1:47 and my spirit has rejoiced in God my Savior.

She refers to herself as a slave woman. All generations will consider her blessed because Jesus is growing inside of her.

Mary and How She Sees Herself

1. She recognizes her unique privilege as the mother of the Messiah.
2. She says that all generations will honor her because of God's grace toward her. No one merits God's grace. She did not have some special endowment of righteousness. There are lots of nice people in this world; but she was still a sinner. She would be honored because of the grace of God that she did not merit in any way. The glory belongs to God; not to marry.
3. She is not blessed because of her own righteousness. She is blessed because of the privilege given to her as a bonds slave. She sees herself as a slave, the lowest of the low in Jewish society. Paul himself calls himself a slave of God. She is being used for a specific task. She knows that she is the bonds slave.
4. The bonds slave is someone unworthy of honor. This is the lowest of the low. There is nothing to recommend him or her. She is to serve the Messiah, as Gabriel instructed her.
5. She is addressing her own unworthiness.
6. This was entirely a work of God. She recognizes that she is only the instrument of God's work and will.

Luke 1:48 For He looked on the humiliation of His slave woman. For, behold, from now on all generations shall count me blessed.

Mary praises His name (and His power and faithfulness to Israel). There is not a hint of self-righteousness or arrogance in her words. How easy it would be to say, God chose me. "I am better than you Elizabeth; because I am having the Savior and you are only having John the Baptizer."

Mary's name is not holy nor should it be declared holy by any church. Only the Lord's name is holy because He is perfect. She is repeating what the Old Testament Jews always did.

Israel is unworthy, but God is fulfilling His promise through Mary. She is unworthy and so is Israel. Mary should never be given some sort of holy title like, "The mother of God." She is the mother of Jesus; she is the mother of His humanity. His biological life was formed in her womb; not God. She is not being elevated to a status beyond a human entity. Some pray to Mary for things like getting them out of purgatory.

Luke 1:49 For the Mighty One has done great things for me; and holy is His name.

She praises God for His promise to the Jews. His mercy is toward those who have respect for Him. Israel does not deserve this grace from God. Israel has continually forsaken God. They wandered in the desert for 40 years because it never got into their heads that God was taking care of them. They saw the greatest miracles for many years, and, when Moses went up on the mountain, they put together a golden calf and worshiped it. They did this generation after generation after generation.

Deut. 28 God warned Israel of the results of their apostasy. They would be subject to gentile dominance. They saw the goy as way beneath them. They realize that they were God's special people, which became a reason for arrogance. They forgot what God had instructed them to do.

They were warned not to take gentile wives, because all of the people around them were heathenistic and involved with idols. God said, "You want to be involved with them? Well, you will be; they will dominate you."

The northern kingdom taken out by Assyria and the southern kingdom by Babylon. Later conquered by Alexander and then by his generals; then Egypt and the Selucids; and then the Romans. How many times had the prophets warned these people? "Turn back to the Lord. Forget about these heathen gods." Hosea 4 is a magnificent tirade by Hosea against Israel. God keeps His promise in cursing. He keeps His promise, and Deut. 30, and if the people turn back to Him, then He would return them to blessing instead of divine blessing and cursing.

Israel deserved nothing and they received everything. There is a lot of blessing and cursing in Israel's history. God made promises to Abraham, and He will fulfill that promise. God's promise, immutable. If God can keep His promise for many generations, can He not keep His promise of eternal life for all who believe in Him?

That people question eternal security, that they can do something so bad to lose what God has given us.

Mary recognized all of this. She recognized all that was happening. She was a woman of God's Word and she knew what Israel was like and the direction they were heading.

She, in this pregnancy, and she recognized what all this was. We can find ourselves in some of the most dramatic historical situations, and many times, we do not even recognize them.

Luke 1:50 And His mercy is on those who fear Him from generation to generation.

She continues her magnificent song about God.

Mary is now dwelling on the work that her Son would do. All of the verbs here are in the past tense. Her Son has not yet been born, and yet she uses the past tense. Her song followed the pattern of the Old Testament prophets. They always used the past tense to describe future events. They were declaring that which they predicted as being already fulfilled. This indicates absolute certainty that God would bring it to pass.

Luke 1:51 He has worked power with His arm, He has scattered the proud in the imagination of their heart.

What Mary Sings about

1. In the future, He would remove all enemies. She is talking about the King of Kings in the kingdom, bringing the Kingdom of Heaven to earth. She was speaking of the 2nd advent of the Messiah.
2. This will be Israel's kingdom after Armageddon. The gentiles dethroned and the Jews exalted.
3. In this new kingdom, the humble would be elevated.
4. In this new kingdom, the hungry will no longer be hungry. No more foodstamps.
5. All physical needs will be met.
6. Poverty will once and for all be eradicated from the earth.
7. Personal wealth will mean nothing for quality of life.
8. In the kingdom, the future kingdom of the Millennium, there will be a perfect environment and in harmony with man. Climate change and conservation will no longer be issues. No endangered species list.

Only God can be egalitarian. Only God can bring equality and freedom. All of the idealistic longings of man will be accomplished by God in the Millennium and not before. Mary looked forward to the day of the Messiah's kingdom.

Luke 1:52 He has put down rulers from their seats and exalted the lowly,

Luke 1:53 He has filled the hungry with good things, and He has sent away the rich empty.

Luke 1:54 He has helped His servant Israel, in remembrance of His mercy,

Luke 1:55 as He spoke to our fathers, to Abraham and to his seed forever.

Lesson #38 Matt. 1:19–21 The Life of Christ January 23, 2011 Sunday 1

There was some obvious disrespect last week during the Communion last week.

The Christian life is the best, most peaceful life that we can enjoy.

Zacharias and Elizabeth have found that they will become parents of a son. Mary will learn that she will have a son as a virgin, who will be the Messiah. Mary understands that Joseph will not be involved in the conception of this child. This will be a fulfillment of Gen. 3:15. God will fertilize her egg in a miraculous way and this will exclude the man. Mary had a sin nature, but she does not pass that sin nature down.

All these 3 have the picture of what is going to occur. All 3 are delighted to be involved in this entire event. So, there are a series of events which unfold from this point on. Mary picks up from Nazareth, already pregnant, and she goes to visit her cousin Elizabeth. Both women are euphoric about this sons. They also realize that their sons are a part of the plan of God. When Mary walks in the door, there is some prophecy which comes from Zacharias and Elizabeth. Mary hears this incredible prophecy and she reciprocates and breaks out with a beautiful and amazing hymn. She sings (we assume). She sings of God, the One Who is faithful in fulfilling the covenant first made to Abraham and later reiterated in a covenant made with David.

Whether Mary knew this or not, her song is about the 2nd advent, but what is coming is the 1st advent. The hungry will no longer be hungry; poverty, for the first time since the garden of Eden, will be eradicated from the earth. Personal wealth will no longer mean anything for quality of life in the Millennium. The environment will be perfect on planet earth.

We can do things to preserve our environment, but we cannot destroy the earth. That is a false contention. Mary praises the fact that she will be the human instrument involved in bringing the Lord into the world. Mary did not form God; she is not the mother of God. Generations would honor her, but this is not to include worship.

She calls herself a bond-slave, unworthy of extensive honor. Mary is not the focus of the gospels. She is not and should not be deified; she should not be pictured as a virgin. She should not be put on a pedestal or on a dashboard.

Elizabeth and Zacharias share her excitement. However, there is one more person in this equation: Joseph, and he has no clue about Mary's circumstance. When he finds out his betrothed, with whom he has had no relations, his world will be turned upside down. His reaction is the last bit of drama before the Lord Jesus Christ is born. Clearly, another announcement needed to be made to Joseph before our Lord comes into the world.

Mary returns and it is clear that she is pregnant; and what is his thought? He is certain that she has been cheating on him. Should he nullify and void the marriage contract? 2 other choices to be made. Should he bring her before the Jewish justice bench to be condemned, which would result in a severe punishment. No doubt, that would be going through Joseph's mind, and his heart is broken, which could bring about a myriad of feelings, including anger and revenge motivation. She could be stoned to death. That is the punishment for adultery. Or, he could take her to the judges and get a quiet divorce.

According to Jewish tradition, Joseph was much older than Mary and very much in love with her. This is not testified to in the Bible. However, this is reasonably borne out by Joseph's actions which would follow.

Joseph has rights, but he choose to protect her. Despite being deeply hurt, Joseph did not want her to be stoned to death. Joseph was not consumed with anger.

One of the hardest things about betrayal is to come to terms with it and then to move on.

Matt. 1:19 But Joseph, her husband to be, being just, and not willing to make her a public example, he purposed to put her away secretly.

God's Word involved Joseph in this entire situation. An angel needed to appear in order to reveal that Mary had not been unfaithful.

After a lot of agonizing about what he ought to do, Joseph falls asleep. Sometimes, people cannot sleep after something like this; particularly when revenge is desired.

People take dreams seriously; and some just think, that's just a dream. They are interpreted in many different ways. However, it is uncertain as to what it really means.

Joseph is no doubt glad that he was going to do the right thing by Mary. He is happy and he is relieved.

The angel addresses him as, Joseph, son of David. This is a meaningful title. Joseph is chosen as the step father because he is in the kingly line of David. Joseph is assured that Mary is pregnant by the Holy Spirit.

Matt. 1:20 And as he thought upon these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying, "Joseph, son of David, do not fear to take to you Mary as your wife. For that in her is fathered of the Holy Spirit.

Jesus means Savior. Both Mary and Joseph are told to name this child Jesus. Even in the midst of an apostate Israel, Joseph and Mary both adhere to the teachings of the Bible. This was a group which stuck with the literal meaning of the Old Testament. They were doctrinal believers who followed the Scriptures.

Joseph's fiancée is carrying the Savior of the world.

Matt. 1:21 And she shall bear a son, and you shall call His name Jesus: for He shall save His people from their sins."

Lesson #39 Luke 1:22– The Life of Christ January 23, 2011 Sunday 2

3 of the 4 already know what is going to occur. Joseph is just now getting the memo. He had the choice to put her away publically, so that she is stoned to death; or he can quietly and legally sever their marriage. He has decided on the latter course of action. However, he receives word in a dream that he need not take either action. The dream will tell him why Mary is pregnant and there is no reason to disgrace her or to feel disgraced.

Matt. 1:22 Now all this happened so that might be fulfilled that which was spoken of the LORD by the prophet, saying,

Now we begin to get the reason for this. The passage is well-known; Isa. 7:14. The meaning becomes clear to Joseph immediately. Joseph becomes an integral part of this. Jesus is not a bastard stepchild of a dubious background. Joseph is needed to raise this child as his own. Legal adoption meant that Jesus would be his own.

Matt. 1:23 "Behold, the virgin shall conceive in her womb, and will bear a son. And they will call His name Emmanuel," which being interpreted is, God with us. (Isa. 7:14)

Joseph wakes up and he does exactly as the angel commands him. He took Mary as his wife.

Matt. 1:24 And Joseph, being roused from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord commanded him and took his wife,

Joseph and Mary did not have a sexual relationship until this child is born. They did not get to choose the name of this child. Joseph did exactly what he was commanded to do. He was commissioned by God to be a father when he was not a father. He followed these instructions to the letter.

Mary was not a perpetual virgin. Jesus had half-brothers and half-sisters.

The faith of Joseph is truly amazing. Joseph has the greatest faith of them all here, because everything in human understanding told him one thing, he went with what God said.

Joseph was how Jesus was legally related to David; Mary was how Jesus was genetically related to David.

It was the words of the Old Testament and the doctrine resident in his soul. When the angel quoted Isa. 7:14, he understood and believed. He applied the doctrine resident in his soul. Bible doctrine prepared Joseph to catch on immediately. With doctrine in the soul, with God's Word implanted in our souls, His direction will come through loud and clear for us.

This is not just a story of Joseph's faith, but it indicates what God's Word imbedded in our souls can do for any one of us.

Matt. 1:25 and did not know her until she bore her son, the First-born. And he called His name JESUS.

The next event would be the birth of John the Baptizer. Mary stays with Elizabeth for 3 months and then comes back home to Joseph, who is ready to accept her as his wife.

Luke 1:56 And Mary stayed with her about three months, and returned to her own house.

Once John the Baptizer was born, the tongue of Zacharias was let loose. He has 6 months of silence and now he could speak.

Luke 1:57 And the time was fulfilled to Elizabeth for her to bear. And she bore a son.

Luke 1:58 And her neighbors and her kinsfolk heard how the Lord had magnified His mercy with her, and they rejoiced with her.

Luke 1:59 And it happened that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child, and were calling it Zacharias, after his father's name.

Luke 1:60 And his mother answered and said, No, but he shall be called John.

Luke 1:61 And they said to her, There is none of your kindred that is called by this name.

Luke 1:62 And they made signs to his father as to how he would have him called.

Luke 1:63 And he asked for a writing tablet and wrote, saying, His name is John. And they all marveled.

Luke 1:64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosened. And he spoke and praised God.

Luke 1:65 And fear came on all who lived all around them. And all these things were talked about throughout all the hill country of Judea.

Luke 1:66 And all those who heard laid them up in their hearts, saying, What kind of child shall this be! And the hand of the Lord was with him.

Luke 1:67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Spirit, and prophesied, saying,

Zacharias speaks about the special child who is born to him. For 30 years, John lived in the hill country of Judæa. So, now it is Zacharias's turn to sing a hymn in Luke 1:68–79

Zacharias has been thinking about this for a long time and he speaks of Who Jesus would be and about the history of the Jews.

Luke 1:68 Blessed is the Lord, the God of Israel, for He has visited and redeemed His people

Luke 1:69 and has raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of His servant David,

Luke 1:70 as He spoke by the mouth of His holy prophets from eternity;

There would be deliverance from all who hated the Jews.

Luke 1:71 that we should be saved from our enemies and from the hand of all who hate us, there would be a blessing to all Israel. The fulfillment of the holy covenant.

Luke 1:72 to perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember His holy covenant,

Luke 1:73 the oath which He swore to our father Abraham,

Luke 1:74 that He would grant to us, that we, being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, might serve Him without fear

Luke 1:75 in holiness and righteousness before Him all the days of our life.

Now he gets to say what his own son would be doing. He will be called a prophet; like those who held some of the greatest offices and were held in the highest esteem. This is a great privilege of this time.

Luke 1:76 And you, child, will be called the prophet of the Highest, for you shall go before the face of the Lord to prepare His ways,

John would not be giving salvation, but the knowledge of salvation. This would come through the purchase of their sins.

Luke 1:77 to give knowledge of salvation to His people by the remission of their sins,

The sunrise is the image of light. Jesus Christ is seen as the light that shines darkness upon the human soul.

Luke 1:78 through the tender mercy of our God; by which the Dayspring from on high has visited us, Light will be given to those who sit in darkness. Salvation metaphors here. Light and dark and contrasted many times in Scripture.

This world is of the devil and we are lost. Our feet are to be guided to peace with God; reconciliation with God. Zacharias gets it. He reflects everything that he knows. He praises God concerning the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ and then for his son. Notice that he puts Jesus Christ first, even though he had just had a son who would be the Lord's herald. We follow the Lord Jesus Christ before we follow our family. This is a priority; it does not mean that you place your family in nowhere land. Zacharias knew that John was the forerunner of the Lord.

Luke 1:79 to give light to those who sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.

We will leave John for awhile to grow up on his own.

Luke 1:80 And the child grew and became strong in spirit and was in the deserts

There are no more events to cover until the greatest event of human history.

Today we will begin the day of Christmas.

John 1:14 And the Word became flesh and lived among us.

How did this happen? How did Jesus become flesh?

Matthew and Luke have this information, but the narratives are brief and concise, with very little detail.

Luke gives the most complete account of the life of Christ and the most complete account of His birth.

We have to be careful about reading in between the lines. We cannot simply come up with stories which we find in our own imaginations. However, there is some clarification that we can get from this. However, we should never subtract from this or change it.

Matthew sought to link the prophecy of Jesus in the Old Testament with these events, so there are some things which he records that no one else does. The visit of the Magia, who are Gentiles who come from a distant land somewhere in the Middle East. He also records the flight of Jesus Christ into Egypt and the return into Nazareth.

Both the accounts in Matthew and Luke are in perfect harmony. There are some apparent discrepancies which can be solved. They agree as to the descent of Jesus Christ; and they both agree as to the Jews and Gentiles to be impacted by the coming Lord.

There are many types of people who come to see our Lord Jesus Christ. This is quite important. These people of all sorts of interested. There was Herod who took some interest in this. He wanted to kill anyone who threatened his reign. The peasants were interested, the unsophisticated shepherds who were Jews are interested. The Magia are interested. This was a day of good tidings and joy and peace on earth to all men. This gives a distinctly global approach to the birth of our Lord.

The mission of the Lord Jesus Christ cannot be understood as being only for the Jews. The scope of his ministry went far beyond Judæa. The homage of the shepherds indicates the receptivity of the common people for the Lord Jesus Christ, which is very characteristic of the entire ministry of the Lord Jesus Christ. Most of His ministry was direct toward the peasant class. There was often friction with the upper classes, who were seen as the enlightened ones; the arrogance self righteous ones. They were impressed with their own wealth and status and fame. This is a lesson for us. This is a problem for those who reject Christianity.

This way, we do not think, “How could God exclude me? Look at who I am? I have accumulated so much wealth. I have been a high governmental official.” Etc. That is who the pharisees and the sadducees were. Where is the human culpability?

The Magi were wealthy men, and learned.

Lesson #0040 Luke 2:1–7 Matt. 2:1 Life of Christ Jan. 26, 2011 Wednesday

Everything that we have covered before has led to this moment, which is the beginning of the actual life of Jesus Christ, which is the birth narrative. Many will read Luke 2 on Christmas, but it is unclear how much people get out of this.

In those days is an interesting phrase, and it is something that we need to determine. A decree means that there is absolutely no discussion about this. This becomes law.

Luke 2:1 And it happened in those days that a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed.

This was the first census taken when Cyrenius was governor. These opening lines are an indication that the hand of God controls history for His Own purposes. He controls His plan for us and all that is around His plan for us.

We have truly free volition, but God still has His plan.

God sets a series of events in order to bring about His plan. All of these events take into account 27 B.C. and A.D. 14 is the time for Cæsar Augustus.

A.D. 14–37 Tiberius.

Herod died in 4 B.C. and Jesus died in the days of Herod.

Matt. 2:1 After Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of King Herod, wise men from the east arrived unexpectedly in Jerusalem,

V. 2 presents a problem with dating. It is a problem passage. It is a problem of reconciling Matt. 2:1 with this. He was governor of Syria in A.D. 6–7.

This gives us a time lag. These passages do not seem to be reconcilable. Herod was long dead at A.D. 6. The dates of these 2 men does not match. Many have contended that this means the Bible cannot be inspired.

The adjective προτη = before (not first). This means this took place before A.D. 6. The problem is, how much before. There is uncertainty about the word before here.

Since Herod died in 4 B.C., Jesus had to die before this time.

A census was taken in the Roman empire in order to tax the people. They were not interested in how many people were in this or that house. This was done for taxation purposes. This prepared a list of taxable persons and taxable property.

The 2nd stage was a determination of the tax. The stage between the enrollment and the tax itself. There might be a long interval in between these time frames. You needed to be registered in the house in which you were born, so you had to return to the city where you were born—maybe your family is from there. So there is a travel time involved here. Cæsar ordered this.

This would likely be the winter of 5–4 B.C. the first known observance of Dec. 25 was maybe as early as the 2nd century A.D. but definitely by the 4th century A.D. Jan. 6 celebrated by the eastern church.

In determining this date. Cyrenius as governor and what does it mean to be governor? He was a well-known person who was governor in A.D. 6–7. Was he a procurator prior to this? That could be what is going on here.

The word governor is the present participle of hegemoiein. This is not a term for a formal governor of a province. This is a man who is in command or control. We get the word hegemony from this word.

Augustus would have trusted him and Cyrenius could have been put in charge of census enrollment before he was governor. This may have been a task which set him up for the concept of a state position.

The Roman empire needed money; it always needed money. The government always needs money and the only way to get it is to tax people. Caesar needed money, and he wanted this done and he wanted it done right. He appoints Cyrenius in order to do this (I believe it is conjecture that Cyrenius was in charge of this project, but not the governor at this time). Cyrenius would have been in this area between 12–2 B.C.

The Time Frame

1. The date of the census is said to be at the time of the Roman enrollment of the empire's population for the purposes of taxation.
2. The best evidence points to the time frame of the registration to be around the winter of 5–4 B.C., which falls within the time frame for these 3 men.
3. This date coincides with all of these passages. Cyrenius would have been curator of Syria, but not the former governor.

4. Therefore, it is safe to say that 5–4 B.C. would have been the date of Joseph and Mary going to Bethlehem because they are both of the house and family of David.

Luke 2:2 (This taxing was first made when [before] Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)

This is a very matter-of-fact narrative. Luke lists a series of the facts without any information about the trip of Mary and Joseph. This was an 80 mile trip with a very pregnant Mary, but they had to comply with the Roman edict.

Furthermore, the child needed to be born in Bethlehem. This was certainly not what Mary and Joseph wanted to do, but Rome determined that they would have to do this.

Luke 2:3 And all went to be registered, each to his own city.

At this time, Mary and Joseph were married. The marriage contract had them being married but they were not living together.

Bethlehem was the early residence of David; Jesse raised David there. David kept the sheep in the fields nearby where the shepherds kept their sheep.

Why did Mary have to go? They had only been married for 6 months. The practical reason was, they were very much in love that Joseph had already protected her and married her. Now, he is commanded by Rome to go to Bethlehem. Nazareth was a tough town; a gentile town; not a friendly place. Joseph was not about to leave his very pregnant wife there.

And, of course, the Bible tells us Jesus must be born there.

How could the Jews miss all of this. The Bible is so accurate.

His origin is from antiquity from eternity.

Micah 5:2 Bethlehem Ephrathah, you are small among the clans of Judah; One will come from you to be ruler over Israel for Me. His origin is from antiquity, from eternity.

This again is God's control of history. This ought to be quite reassuring to us. Just as all the Old Testament prophecies said, He was born in Bethlehem. Who else could have directed all of these circumstances in order to end up with these 2 going to Bethlehem at just the time Mary would give birth.

Luke 2:4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee to be taxed (out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, to the city of David which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and family line of David).

Luke 2:5 And he took Mary his betrothed wife, being with child.

You would think with all of this movement in the trip, Mary would have given birth; but it had to occur in Bethlehem.

Luke 2:6 And while they were there, the days for her deliverance were fulfilled.

Luke again, gives us basic information, that she gives birth to her firstborn. Royalty in another country would have recorded all kinds of a additional information.

When they arrived in Bethlehem, they looked for a place to stay. They had no in to stay in, but her contractions began to come more quickly.

Caravan sarai were the inns all over. Low rooms with no furniture and no privacy, and everyone could see what was going on in the room. Your only luxury would be a rug you might bring yourself.

For Mary and Joseph, they could not even get one of those places. There were a lot of other people registering in Bethlehem. All these little rooms were filled. There was no choice. The baby was not going to wait for them to find another place.

Where did the God of the Universe become flesh and live among us? The only place they could go was the courtyard of this inn, which was a common area. There were many others in the common area, all out in the open. There were horses, mules, camels and a tremendous amount of filth, as one would expect as well. Pariah dogs would have also been there. There was no sterile hospital, no midwives and no privacy. In the middle of all this, Mary delivered the Lord Jesus Christ. The nativity scenes we see in no way describe what we see here. Humbler circumstances of birth could not be imagined.

There were a number of people in the midst of group of people. Tradition has this occurring in a cave, and it is possible that this took place in a cave nearby the inn, which would have provided a little more protection from the elements.

If this is a cave; it is encasing rock in which there is a hollowed out area. This is not unlike a tomb, a symbolic place of death. No happenstance in this. All of this has a meaning.

There were nothing but death cloths available. When Jesus was dead, His body was wrapped in these same cloths. You cannot separate His birth from His death. His purpose in life was dying. Our salvation began here, where He is bon, in the middle of filth with no privacy.

Luke 2:7 And she brought forth her son, the First-born, and wrapped Him, and laid Him in a manger-- because there was no room for them in the inn.

Lesson #0041 Luke 2:7–10 The Life of Christ January 27, 2011 Thursday

Mary has just given birth and she is the one to take care of her son; she is the one to wrap him in clothing.

Despite the fact that He was born in filth; there were no midwives, no privacy, no one to coach Joseph; no gold leaf crib for the child to spend his first life. He is in a trough used to feed animals; filth and squalor was what this was all about.

He was the One for Whom the world had been waiting. He may have been born out in the open in the courtyard and He may have been born in a limestone cave nearby.

There were little cubicles where people stayed, with no privacy and a rug on the dirt only if the renter brought it. But they couldn't even get that.

A cave would have been an encasement of rock. That cave could not hold Him; He would emerge. Mary wrapped Him in cloth. As a newborn in this winter of 5–4 B.C. they covered Him in the simplest of cloth. They took narrow strips of cloth and wrapped Him in this. This was not unusual to straighten out the body. However, this was the same type of cloth used for bodies prepared for burial. The same cloth would be used for our Lord after the cross. This pointed to His death, which is why Jesus came.

He is lying in the feed trough wrapped in death clothes. That would have been an extraordinarily degrading birth for our Savior. However, apropos to explain Him coming into this earth from heaven; from Deity to man. Very apropos.

Luke 2:7 And she brought forth her son, the First-born, and wrapped Him, and laid Him in a manger-- because there was no room for them in the inn.

There was just a normal day which began, even though the Savior had been born. Others were born and others were dying. Not even the Roman emperor, Caesar Augustus could change this. It was his decree which took Mary and Joseph to this inn.

Augustus Cæsar thought himself to be the greatest ruler of that time, and yet, the True Ruler of the World was herein born. This is the center of all human history and something that we ought to be thankful for every single day.

You never know who is being born in your vicinity. Maybe the next president; maybe the next captain of industry or a great pastor.

Bobby recalls first invasion of Afghanistan and a guy Bobby knew, and there he was in charge of the forces in Afghanistan.

On dawn, on the next day, only Mary and Joseph were the only ones there who knew Who this Child was. However, this would not escape the notice of some. So this did not remain a secret for very long.

Another announcement is made. 3 announcements made: to Zacharias, to Mary and then to Joseph. And now, another announcement.

Luke 2:8 And in the same region there were shepherds living in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

Luke 2:9 And lo, the angel of the Lord came on them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them. And they were grievously afraid.

Bobby's mother sole Christmas decoration: "Unto you a Savior, who is Christ the Lord." This next announcement was made to shepherds in a field. Ironically, shepherds to held in very low esteem at that time. They were unable to observe the laws of ceremonial purification. They were constantly unclean because of their profession. There was such legalism in this time period. Ritual had become unreality and it drove Judaism. Many legalisms have found their way into various Christian groups.

All of the outward trappings are nothing; it is what Christ has done in your soul. Bobby heard easy-believism in seminary even.

The shepherds did not fit into a nice slot of legalism. They could not fit into these superficial niceties of religion. They were not even taught legalism and Judaism. However, many of them still knew the Bible and the prophecies. The shepherds simply would not have been very clean people, and yet, the angel chose to make the announcement to these shepherds.

Luke 2:9 And lo, the angel of the Lord came on them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them. And they were grievously afraid.

The Angel of the Lord is often used as a Theophanies. God cannot appear in His true form; we would be struck dead instantly. So God must appear in a form that we can see without being destroyed.

This was a Theophany here. The Theophanies of the Old Testament were Jesus Christ appearing on many occasions. The shepherds are enveloped with the glory of the Lord, which indicates the presence of the Lord.

The same glory that appeared to Abraham in Acts 7:2; the glory in the Tabernacle and later in the Temple; Ezek. 10:4, 18, 19 the loss of the glory.

For 400 years, our Lord did not show Himself in His glory at any time.

The localized manifested presence of God.

How Does Jesus Appear as the Angel of the Lord?

1. His Deity was being manifested to the shepherds even as He lay in hypostatic union in that filthy troth in Bethlehem.
2. This is a perfect picture of the first use of Christ's undiminished Deity in hypostatic union. In this union, in the doctrine of kenosis, He voluntarily emptied Himself of the independent use of His divine attributes. These properties existed together in One Person.

3. Utilizing His Deity to accomplish the will of the Father in this announcement while, at the same time, being united with humanity.
4. What a mystery of God this is. One Person in 2 places at once. This illustrates His divine attribute of omniscience.
5. He did not surrender His Deity. He did not reduce His attributes; they were localized united in the Person. He did not surrender His omnipresence.
6. God was everywhere. Everywhere present and yet localized, first as Jesus Christ and again here as the Angel of God.
7. He is the manifested presence of God to Israel. This helps us to understand Who this child is.

This is the sign that the shepherds saw. Yet, they were aware of it. Not in 400 years had anyone seen the Shekinah glory, the coming in the flesh. The Lord Jesus Christ Himself.

Understandably, facing something like this, we might also become quite frightened. Moses, “No man can see God and live.” This time they are in the very presence of God. Jesus reveals this same Shekinah glory to John and Peter and James. However, they did not die, even though Moses warned us.

Here Jesus was, once again, with His people. Immanuel had come; God with us. The Angel tells them, “Do not be afraid.”

The Announcement to the Shepherds

1. This announcement was not just for the shepherds or even all Israel.
2. He was a universal Savior; He would provide unlimited atonement.
3. All have the opportunity to be saved. He is the propitiation for our sins; and not our sins only, but for those of the entire world.
4. God had said to Abraham in Gen. 12:3 In you, all the family would be blessed. This is why He came.
5. The Lord Jesus Christ would fulfill a part of the Abrahamic covenant.
6. These shepherds are the very first ones to hear these words. The Angel of the Lord is identifying the place of the Savior’s birth. He was in the line of David and would sit on the throne forever and ever.

Luke 2:10 And the angel said to them, Do not fear. For behold, I give to you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

He arrives as a Savior and He arrives as a Sovereign.

The great joy is His appearance.

Luke 2:8 And in the same region there were shepherds living in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

Luke 2:9 And lo, the angel of the Lord came on them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them. And they were grievously afraid.

Luke 2:10 And the angel said to them, Do not fear. For behold, I give to you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

This is something that we probably know; but everything that God has given us is provided for us here. This is the real meaning of Christmas. This is the mission of Jesus Christ, the Savior. Here is His authority, His title, the Lord. This is the Christmas message. This is always appropriate. These words represent more than anything else, the Christmas celebration. Here is the pastoral scene of the shepherds.

There is the omnipresence of the 2nd member of the Trinity. Here is the Angel of the Lord, Who is Jesus Christ; and Jesus Christ is lying simultaneously in the manger. This is the same Shekinah glory which was present with Israel throughout her history. All of the appearances in the Old Testament; one and the same; omnipresent God. Twice localized in these passages.

This is the greatest drama of all, and there are only a few in their seats. And here Bobby is, 2000 years later, in Houston, Texas, spreading the same message.

Now, this ought to strike us as unusual. This Angel does not appear in the middle of Jerusalem, speaking to hundreds or thousands of men at once. He makes this announcement to shepherds—perhaps, 2 or 3; maybe 20 or 30. But this is a small crowd to whom the Lord has appeared.

Universal Savior does not mean that all people will be saved. There is the work of God in Christ on the cross, and, secondly, our acceptance.

Titus 2:11 For the grace of God has appeared. This is the same announcement made in Luke 2:11.

Our Christian life is separate from salvation. One moment of faith alone in Christ alone saves us; after that is our life. Which one of us gains eternal life because of how good we are?

And in you will all the nations of the world be blessed. This is the promise to Abraham. The Messiah of Israel would come. This is the blessing of unlimited atonement.

Why didn't the Angel of the Lord appear in the Temple and tell those in the Temple that Jesus Christ has been born. Why not go to someone on a higher scale than these shepherds. These shepherds were not tainted by apostates Judaism. They were not corrupted with human viewpoint. These were men like David. When the time came, David was pulled out of those fields. He had doctrine in his soul and God pulled him out when the time was right. These shepherds knew that their time had come. They are not just informed here; they are in the middle of it.

The nature and circumstances of the birth of the Messiah. Shepherd would understand this better than anyone else. They had seen hundreds of births. They were breeding sheep to be sacrificed; bred just for that reason. These were the lambs whose shed blood was to be pictured.

When they stood before the priest, the lamb was sacrificed and the lamb took the penalty for their sins. What a picture of what redemption cost. In taking care of these sheep, these shepherds no doubt became somewhat attached to these lambs, and yet, they would be slaughtered for sin.

They knew the ritual sacrifices so well; and here, they would be able to see the Lamb of God, without spot, Who would be sacrificed for their sins.

Now, these men would go out and tell many others.

Luke 2:11 For to you is born today, in the city of David, a Savior, who is Christ the Lord.

Here is the sign. The Old Testament is loaded with signs which would tell about a future event. One of the promises made to Noah; about a rainbow. Bobby lived in Hawaii, and each time we see it, it is a sign that God would not destroy the world with another flood.

The shepherds understood signs; they understood them personally and nationally. The baby wrapped in death clothes lying in a manger would be the sign to these shepherds. No royal cradle, no royal crowns. This baby had the appearance of being prepared for burial.

The lowly shepherds, the dregs of society, knew their need of this redemption. They were not confused about their own unworthiness. There was no legalism here. For the King of Kings, death loomed.

These are the same fields where David had kept his sheep, a millennia ago.

Luke 2:12 And this is a sign to you. You will find the babe wrapped, lying in a manger.

Les #43 Luke 2:13–14 14:26–27 Matt. 10:34–36 Life of Christ 1/30/11 Sun 2

There bursts on the scene, a πλεθος (from which, we get plethora). So, just in case, the importance of this moment is not quite understood, a multitude of angels suddenly appear, praising God. This is a heavenly choir of angels.

Luke 2:13 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying, ειρηνη is one of the most confused words in the Bible. Peace on earth is not world peace. This is not the peace brought by the Lord Jesus Christ. Enmity between men is not brought by our Lord Jesus Christ. This is the peace between God and man. The enmity between God and man is removed; that is the glorious meaning of these angels.

So many times, this is misquoted and misinterpreted by humanists. They do not believe Jesus is the reconciler between God and man; they see Jesus as a symbol of peace between men.

Luke 2:14 Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

On earth, conflict and war will continue, no matter how many bumper stickers and how many signs and symbols for peace that are paraded about. No world peace will occur until the 2nd advent.

During the ministry of Jesus Christ, He addressed this.

Matt. 10:34 Don't assume that I came to bring peace on the earth. I did not come to bring peace, but a sword.

There will be a division between family members, and this is brought about by a sword, which separates; which divides. Whether this is a family member or a close friend, it is like-mindedness which divides. The thought process is different. Those who are not believers, even in families, will develop antagonisms toward those who are in Christ. It never fails, because they do not understand. Sometimes it is because they do not like what they see. They are in constant turmoil. They do not understand.

Some believers in Jesus Christ will even become despised by those who are not. We bend over backwards to give certain religions freedom, but, in many cases, Christianity is stifled. There is no peace on earth between Christians and Muslims. We are in the midst of a religious war. Divisions. People hate Christianity because it is the truth.

Matt. 10:35–36 For I came to turn a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; and a man's enemies will be the members of his household.

Believers living the Christian life have priorities which is even before family. Mothers and fathers make up the primary institution.

Jesus uses hyperbole here, saying that if one does not hate his own father and mother—even his own life, he cannot be Jesus' disciple.

Luke 14:26 "If anyone comes to Me and does not hate his own father and mother, wife and children, brothers and sisters--yes, and even his own life--he cannot be My disciple.

Luke 14:27 Whoever does not bear his own cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple.

If families are divided, then there will be divisions among other categories of humanity.

There are 3 great fears: death, public speaking and then war. This is why so few people willingly go to war. This is for the cause of freedom, and some cannot quite get behind that. Their own life is worth more to them than national freedom.

Even the hint of a war scares people. These things must take place, and that is not yet the end. Wars reflect divisions among families, people and nations.

Mark 13:7 When you hear of wars and rumors of wars, don't be alarmed; these things must take place, but the end is not yet.

There is not greater illustration than World War I, which is an amazing illustration of this. The monarchs of Europe who went to war at this time were family. Before 1914, there were a bunch of monarchs. All of these ruling groups were family, and this was the most horrendous war in human history. The family of those nations went to war. Kaiser Wilhelm and Edward of England (Wm?) were cousins.

We will see the end of wars and rumors of wars until the end of the Tribulation.

We are in a war and there are many others as well. When Bobby edited Freedom through Military Victory, there were 50 wars going on at that time. Today, it is no different.

Only at the end of the Tribulation will world peace become a reality. When the Prince of Peace rules in the line of David. He is the only one capable of doing so. No one else will be able to do this.

Mark 13:8 For nation will rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes in various places, and famines. These are the beginning of birth pains.

We are surrounded by this. Conflict and war. It is unreality to think that there is perfect harmony among human relationships; even between Christians.

Where is the peace? It can only be found in our soul. This is the only place where real peace can exist; never in external circumstances.

Where is the peace? In your own soul. Even if your conflicts are never resolved. We cannot abolish conflicts between nations. Bobby can't tell us that we will evolve into people who do not have conflicts. We cannot evolve out of our sin natures. We will always have this, and from our sin nature comes conflict. The nature of man is not inherently good and we are not outgrowing it.

The fact that we can communicate all over the world by technology does not change human nature.

Lack of preparedness does not abolish war, it abolishes freedom. Disarming; unilateral seeking of peace; getting rid of nuclear weapons as quickly as we can, will not bring us closer to peace. We are getting rid of nuclear weapons right now, and nuclear weapons have kept us out of nuclear war for the past 60 years. This is lunacy. The sin nature of man guarantees conflict between man.

Only God can remove the enmity between God and man through His Son.

Peace on earth to men with whom God is pleased.

What Is the Solution? How Do We Attain Peace on Earth Toward Men?

1. First the believer is reconciled to God through faith alone in Christ alone. That is the appropriation of what Christ did on the cross.
2. Then the believer fills his soul with Bible doctrine. He implants the cross of Christ in his soul.
3. Through that, we gain the only true peace on earth; peace in our soul. The only thing that we have control over is our soul. You may even be a manipulator, but you never have complete control over someone else.
4. We cannot implant peace in the souls of others. That is the best we can do for reconciliation between people.
5. Even with that peace in your soul, you cannot control another person's nature or antagonisms, especially toward us.

Jeremiah describes the lack of peace in man's souls apart from Bible doctrine.

Jer. 6:14 They have treated My people's brokenness superficially, claiming: Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

How many times have we heard, "Just give peace a chance." There wasn't even peace on that campus. Bobby had tears in his eyes from tear canisters thrown into buildings at his college to remove those who had taken over these buildings, with signs saying, "Give peace a chance."

no matter how many times the UN says, "Stop attacking Israel," the wars in to the Middle East will continue. Some modicum of peace will be achieved only when enemy nations realize that war is too costly.

Peace is unavailable to those people who are unreconcilable.

Lesson #0044 Luke 2:14 14:26–27 Life of Christ Feb 6, 2011 Sunday 1

We have misinterpreted this verse to mean that, man, by man's efforts, will usher in world peace. Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men. This is the incorrect way to translate it.

God's actions toward people is limited. This verse does not mean that God looks at those who are trying to bring about peace are those with whom God is well-pleased.

Reconciliation (peace) is between man and God; not between man and man. This is not some humanistic peace, whereby man brings in world peace by his own efforts. Man cannot even bring peace to his own life between himself and others. Do not think that man will abolish personal conflicts somehow. It won't happen. There is no internationalism which will fix things and bring peace. Disarming is a figment of the imagination of humanism. What do you think would happen to certain nations if they disarmed and decided, "Let's be peaceful and get along with everyone."

Egypt today is in complete and total anarchy; there is a power vacuum; and wherever there is the power vacuum, Iraq and Israel are the only stable countries in the Middle East. Egypt could fall and become the Islamic Republic of Egypt tomorrow. Shouldn't Israel disarm and say, "Peace, brother." They would be annihilated. The same is true of South Korea or the United States.

As a client nation, the United States is the greatest perpetrator of peace in this world. There is nothing to be expected by chanting, "Give peace a chance." They think that the essential nature of man is changing; but our sin natures cannot be removed. The possession of a sin nature does not change in man.

Luke 2:14 Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace toward [or, with reference to] men with whom He is will pleased.

Let's talk about peace. Matt. 10:34–36 "Don't assume that I came to bring peace on the earth. I did not come to bring peace, but a sword [which indicates division]. For I came to turn a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; and a man's enemies will be the members of his household." Jesus Christ came to bring division among family members. Isn't the family a divine institution? It is the basic unit which holds society together. As a result of the first advent, those who believe in Christ and continue to grow, they will be separated from some members of their family.

This does not mean that we must run the other direction to avoid your family. This is a spiritual separation; this is about like-mindedness. Those who are not believers in Jesus Christ or reversionists, those, even in families, will develop antagonisms against those in Christ or who are growing spiritually. This is true in every aspect of life. It is true between individuals; it is true in individuals. Antagonisms develop. This is the devil's world and he is opposed to us in every possible way. They will hate us. Some will hate you. Islam does not love you.

Through all of this, the believer's priority is Jesus Christ. This does not mean that we abandon family. It simply means that there is a priority.

In Luke 14:26, our Lord speaks in hyperbole. Some of our family members think that we are weird for going to church, and sometimes, this is the person who loves us more than anyone else on this earth. The key is priority.

Luke 14:26–27 "If anyone comes to Me and does not hate his own father and mother, wife and children, brothers and sisters--yes, and even his own life--he cannot be My disciple. Whoever does not bear his own cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple."

If families can be divided; then so also the family of nations.

We ought to protect Israel, otherwise, we are in for serious discipline.

Mark 13:7–8 "When you hear of wars and rumors of wars, don't be alarmed; these things must take place, but the end is not yet. For nation will rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes in various places, and famines. These are the beginning of birth pains."

Wars reflect divisions among peoples. We can all name a variety of conflicts. There is someone out there with whom we are in conflict with. We usually have all sorts of conflicts going on. It is unreality to expect perfect harmony in any relationship. A relationship with God through Jesus Christ is the only way that we can gain peace in our own souls.

Peace means adversity does not get into our souls, despite the fact that we are mired in conflict. This peace cannot control the other person's nature of antagonism.

There is no peace because these people have rejected the truth. There is no peace in their souls and there is no peace around them. They do not understand why we cannot just get along. They do not understand the fundamental nature of man. The main principle of anthropology is the depravity of man. That is the truth, which is the opposite of what many might believe.

Jer. 8:11 They have treated superficially the brokenness of My dear people, claiming: Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

They went behind their walled cities, and they were still subjected to death and slavery. We have a nature that cannot be changed, but it can be controlled by God the Holy Spirit and by spiritual growth. The results are not perfect, but better than anything else on earth.

There is no utopia on this earth and never will be until the 2nd advent. Only the confidence in the souls of believers. Attempts to get peace are usually destructive acts. Trying to abolish national boundaries brings about more conflicts than it solved. God can solve these problems, but we cannot. The superimposition of human utopian ideas will never fix anything.

Luke 2:14 Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace toward [or, with reference to] men with whom He is will pleased.

Lesson #0045 Luke 2:14 The Life of Christ February 6, 2011 Sunday 2

Bobby wants us to make certain that we understand peace is not be achieved in this world. The superimposition of collectivism is one great way that some believe will give us peace. Collectivism over individualism. This is what Marxism is. This is what the creeping socialism in our own country is. The state is more important than the individual and the idea that the state can solve the problems of mankind. Our government cannot solve our problems. They never could and never will. Soviet Russia was the greatest collectivist attempt in world history. We just need more government and we will all be better off.

People think that the redistribution of wealth is the solution. We are not equal because we have the same amount of money. Someone is going to get wealthy and someone is going to be poor. A welfare program that destroys people rather than helping them out. For whatever reason, being poor will never change.

All we need to do is abolish capitalism and the greed of man will disappear. Capitalism is the one thing which brings prosperity. We have been told over and over again that it is an evil.

All of these things are alleged in order to create a power vacuum. How do you think that collectivism is imposed? How do you think redistribution is imposed. This is done by force and violence.

Man has never had a good nature and never will have a good nature. Revolution does not result in peace. God illustrates how, whenever man declares peace, there is no peace.

If Bobby taught an anthropology course, this is where he would start, with Jer. 17:9.

Jer. 17:9 The heart is more deceitful than anything else and desperately sick--who can understand it?

People are shocked by crime and violence. The heart is desperately wicked. Jeremiah tells us like it is. There will never be permanent peace on earth. This only occurs when the Lord returns.

Bobby lines up the kings of the east, the kings of the south; etc. But who knows? There will be war. That is guaranteed. However, we are not to become disquieted. The valley is Esdraelon and Napoleon once said, "The armies of the world could fight here" and they will. The blood of the enemy will rise as high as the horse's bridle. That will result in peace. However, then there will be a time when man lives without a sin nature. When Jesus Christ rules over the entire earth, and only then will the environment be in harmony with us. In the meantime, Al Gore can scream as much as he wants. Bobby loves animals and he is a hunter from time to time. Hunting is often a process of keeping animals alive. Not over-killing, but conservation killing. The point is, the environment will not be destroyed by man. There will be none of this global warming, ice storms, cancellation of Bible class, etc.

In the meantime, individual peace comes in the souls of believers who are spiritually mature.

The United States has preserved the peace through strength.

Luke 2:14 Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace toward [or, with reference to] men with whom He is will pleased.

The Peace of Luke 2:14

1. Peace with men with whom He is well-pleased is reconciliation between man and God.
2. This is a peace within those who accept the Messiah, the Lord Jesus Christ, as Savior, and then grow to maturity. That is peace in your own heart and peace toward others.
3. Those who grow spiritually. The maximum peace that we can have with others in our periphery is peace in our own souls first. All of the problems in this world, including war, do not frighten us. We have the doctrine to understand all that is going on all around us. We have no illusions about that.
4. This is a living peace, a peace for our life, for those who advance in the spiritual life. Isa. 26:3 You will keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on You [occupied with the Lord], because he trusts in You. There can be no peace of mind without truth and trust. We have faith in His Word and we focus on the mind of Christ. That is divine viewpoint. That is peace in your soul.

This is one reason for our current study, to learn His thinking, as well as His person and history. We can face life with a mental attitude which is unassailable. A relaxed mental attitude. This is your peace which springs from reliance upon God's graceless, matchless provision for us. We show courage and poise and optimism in great difficulties. We are able to relax and we are able to concentrate and we can believe the promises of God's Word. Faith in His Word is the only way to develop a relaxed mental attitude.

Now, for most of us, there is something which gets to us. There is something that we hear and it gets to us. Do we have a relaxed mental attitude through it all? As we grow spiritually and as we plant doctrine in our soul, we grow and deal with adversity. Jesus Christ, on the cross, had a relaxed mental attitude. He was not overjoyed and thrilled; but He had an attitude in adversity, an attitude which understands what is happened, an attitude which allows us to relax. This is not the power of positive thinking. This is not some meditation. This is a constant peace of mind that is developed.

Mental attitude sins, like fear, anger and worry. These are actual sins. Lucid, clear doctrinal application cannot coexist with these mental attitude sins. As you grow, these will become less of an issue for us. When you can apply His Word to the circumstances of life, when it is implanted in your soul, then life will bring nothing to you that you cannot handle. Bobby says that we ought to read about the martyrs of the faith, how some are burned or shot or killed in some horrible way because we believe in Jesus Christ. People died with a smile on their face because they died with faith in Christ. And they knew, in seconds, they would spend eternity with Jesus Christ. That is a relaxed mental attitude. The narratives of some of these martyrs is amazing.

Stephen, the first martyr, was a good first example. The Apostle Paul, then Saul, watched this, and he hated Christians at that time. With a relaxed mental attitude, the believer will not wear his feelings on his sleeve; hypersensitivity, taking offense at every slight, and developed a soul filled with mental attitude sins because of every slight. These result in problems of your own making.

What we ought to do is respond with the doctrine in our soul. Have a peace of mind. Your greatest nemesis, to whom you would normally react, use doctrine, and see how it works. Think of a doctrinal rationale instead of facing it with more mental attitude sins.

The believer with the relaxed mental attitude is the person with whom God is well pleased.

God Is Pleased with Those

1. God is pleased with the believer who have a peace of mind, regardless of what the circumstances are.
2. Those are the ones who put problems in the perspective of the Word of God. This is the perspective of the mind of Christ Himself. What can assail you then?
3. These are the ones who relax in the promises of God. Right there, you know how God delivers you inside great difficulties.
4. These are believers who produce a steady, mature tranquility which is reassuring to himself and to those around him.
5. Those with whom He is well-pleased are those who live in the light of eternity. They are secure in time and in eternity. It is never doubting what our eternal future is.

Death is in the hands of the Lord. It is in his hands. The greatest fear is in the hands of God—death.

6. The adversities of life. Your life does not go without adversity as a believer. Philip. 4:7 the peace of God which surpasses all comprehension and it will guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus.

Lesson #none Luke 2: The Life of Christ February 9, 2011 Wednesday

no class; inclement weather

Lesson #0046 Luke 2:15–19, 52 The Life of Christ Feb. 10, 2011 Thursday

These shepherds knew how close they were to the marvelous events that were unfolding. They decided to go see the God-man, God with us, Immanuel.

Luke 2:15 And it happened as the angels departed from them into Heaven, the shepherds said to one another, Indeed, let us go to Bethlehem and see this thing which has happened, which the Lord made known to us.

The religious leaders knew all about these various things from the Bible, and if there were rumors about a Messiah, they could have gone to Bethlehem to check things out. They did not. Their focus was only upon themselves.

This is what happens to denominations; they do not seek to know the Lord Jesus Christ; they do not seek to know the Word of God. The Roman Catholic church, at one time, was the church, but it morphed into something else because they became more interested in power politics.

Every time a denomination or a Bible church moves away from the Word of God, there is nowhere to go except to focus on themselves.

“The church should be meeting my needs,” was something that Bobby heard in seminary all the time. You do not get to define your own needs and let God fix all of those needs (or your church). It is not the bowling ally that meets your needs. That is not what the church is all about.

Luke 2:16 And hurrying they came and sought out both Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger.

After the shepherds saw the baby, they spread the word of His birth.

They told the things which they understood; they told about what the angels had told them; they were excited. They were totally jazzed about what just happened.

Luke 2:17 And seeing, they publicly told about the word spoken to them concerning this Child.

It sounded like, those who heard, had a big question mark over their heads. They were simply amazed or astonished about what they heard. These guys were confirming that the prophecies that were made that they were now being fulfilled. All that the Old Testament spoke of was being fulfilled. This would amaze any person who knows Scripture.

All of this would be quite amazing. Here is the grace of God in the flesh. They were certainly amazed and astonished. All the sacrifices pointed to this one moment. Thalmazô points to the full scope of Who this baby was. After 2000 years of waiting. 2000 years since the first covenant made with Abraham, and now it had come to pass.

Either these people were overwhelmed with gratitude; they wait and wait, and it finally happens. If you really believed that it would happen, then it should not surprise you that it happens.

Gideon was a great man of the Old Testament, that all know. And Gideon just could not believe it. He got all of these signs to know that God was with him, and he just could not believe it.

Luke 2:18 And all those who heard marveled about the things spoken to them by the shepherds.

Mary did not fully grasp everything. She had promises from the angels; she knew all about Elizabeth; and all of these shepherds are showing up to worship this child, and Mary just thinks about this, and keeps this to herself, thinking about these things.

These things were being confirmed by the shepherds. Suddenly, it began to dawn on Mary about what was going on.

The verb συμβάλλω which is a strange verb. It can mean to ponder, to revolve in one's mind; to think about. Mary was deep in rumination; she was trying to make sense of it all. Mary probably had the 1000 yard stare thinking about it all.

Mary had stuff she knew from the angels; and she knew this child was set apart as the King of Israel. But these shepherds suddenly showing up, that was not something that she expected to happen.

Parents often think about their children and wonder what their children are going to be like. And Mary is thinking about this, as her Son was far more than any child.

Mary was confused, and the later growth of Jesus will confirm that Mary continued to ponder about Who this child is. We find this out when Jesus is 12 and He is in the Temple discussing theology. Mary did not fully realize what Jesus would be doing and Who He was in this regard.

There is His first miracle turning water into wine in Caana and she did not expect this to occur. She was not read in to Who He was. Even here, she did not fully comprehend that Jesus is fully equal to God. So Jesus must tell her that He must be doing His Father's will. However, to her credit, she trusted Him. She would understand as things progressed.

Mary is just like us. She had to learn; she had to put it all together.

Our Lord Jesus Christ's early life; and what about that with His parents? How did He relate to His parents, being Who He was. Deut. 5:16a Honor your father and your mother as the Lord your God has commanded you. This is authority-orientation. This is recognizing who is the authority. Rebelling is not a part of the child's repertoire. Jesus must honor His father and mother in order not to sin. Jesus has to be authority oriented.

How would His parents act, know that He is undiminished Deity. They would have honored Him as God. They were focused on His humanity, even though He is the God of the Universe.

How could these parents demand that their Son honor them? His humanity had to submit to the authority of His parents. Jesus had to fulfill the Law. The Law was designed to guide Israel. The Law also demonstrated to everyone that they could not keep it. This testified to their sinfulness; to their inability to meet its requirements. Jesus Christ knew every part of the Law, and He kept it perfectly.

He had to be fully associated with children; and He was a child, developing like any other child.

Luke 2:19 But Mary kept all these sayings, meditating [ruminating, pondering] in her heart [right lobe].

Jesus grew in spiritual maturity. His humanity was exactly like ours and His humanity had the exact same assets that ours has. Jesus was a model child; people admired Him. He led His life in perfection and humility and authority orientation. He had to have food and water to grow. He did not have unlimited physical strength. He had to limit the independent use of His Deity.

He was strong, because He hurled the money changer tables in John 2. His physic would have had a certain perfection to it. He probably had great health because He did not sin. We can reasonably surmise these things about Jesus in His humanity.

In spite of His lofty personage, He had to be under the authority of Mary and Joseph. He had to fulfill the Law. If the God man submitted to the authority of his parents, what about the children hearing this message?

If you are not authority oriented with your parents, then you will be unable to adapt to anything. Be patient, you will get out from under the thumb of your parents, but, you will find yourself under so many other authorities after that.

Throughout His ministry, there was a vague understanding of Who He was. Had the followers of Jesus been focused on His Deity from the beginning, their relationship with Him would have been vastly different. Jesus focused on His humanity. The human bond which bound the Lord to His disciples would have been dissolved, if their focus was upon His Deity.

We grow in our relationship as we become occupied with Him. We build a relationship with Jesus in a certain way.

Luke 2:52 And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man.

Every event in His life was something that Mary would take note of and she developed a relationship with Jesus Christ as a Person as we do. She did not fully understand it all at the very beginning. It is just as we know some things about Jesus, but we do not know everything about Him. We grow and we learn those things.

It takes time to grow spiritually. That is why we are here.

Luke 2:19 But Mary kept all these sayings, meditating [ruminating, pondering] in her heart [right lobe].

Lesson #0047 Luke 2:20–21 Life of Christ February 13, 2011

Sunday 1

Communion Sunday:

1John 4–8 God is our valentine; God is love.

God made us alive in Christ. Central to our salvation and to our spiritual life is the divine attribute of love.

John 3:16 For God so loved the world that He gave His uniquely-born Son. Rom. 5:12 God demonstrates His love for us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

Nonmeritorious faith; Christ did it all. God is eternal. He has always existed. His love, as an attribute, has always existed. There was never a starting point for God's love. Therefore, love has always existed toward us. His love has never changed toward us. Our love must be generated and developed over time. Human love will not blossom by learning the worst things about a person. All-knowing God, knowing even the worst about us from the very beginning, still loves us.

Adam rebelled and all mankind fell with him. In Adam, all die. 1Cor. 15:22 For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive.

God's love does not increase because of our good deeds or spiritual advance. It is not affected by what we do or what we fail to do. God's love cannot be altered because God cannot alter His essence and still be God. His love can never be complicated by silliness; His love is not hot and cold; it does not have its ups and downs. God does not make exceptions for His favorites. God's love always functions in a rational manner.

Unconditional and unchanging love does not sound very romantic. Human love can also degenerate to anger and hatred. God's love will never do this. There is nothing that we can experience like the love of God. God's love compels Him to take actions so that mankind might have a personal relationship with Him. God could have left us to our fallen condition and to the punishment that we deserve.

However, no matter how much God loves His creatures, He cannot be associated with our sin. Love cannot overlook the sin problem. Sin was not the total answer. God could not simply dismiss or simply absolve man and sin. Love motivated God, but it could not, in itself, overcome the enmity of sin between God and man. God's righteousness and justice do not allow God's love to remove the barrier between man and God.

Our sins are not sins which belong to Jesus. Our sins are as abhorrent to God the Son as they are to God the Father. What kind of love is a love like that, that a perfect God could direct toward sinners who are anathema to Him. It was the most powerful love that ever existed. It was a completely unconditional love. This is a love which focuses on the work of Jesus Christ, but not upon us. God's love does not depend upon our merit. It depends upon His integrity. It depends upon the grace of the subject. We begin life as God's enemy. Rom. 5:10 For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of His Son; much more will we be reconciled to His life. This is the grace of God in action for us. Grace works in coordination with His righteousness and justice. No sin can stand before the righteousness and justice of God. His love and grace provide the reality of the incarnation of Christ. Because Jesus Christ was judged on the cross, all of our sins were forgiven. Christ became sin for us. God does not see our sin; only His perfect righteousness in us. We have the righteousness of God imputed to us and we are therefore righteous in His sight. Because of Jesus Christ, we know that God is our Father; he is our benefactor and He is our friend. We can, at any time, come into His presence in prayer. Without Christ, none of us can say that. God is no longer our enemy. There is no longer this unbridgeable gap between God and us. This is all true because of the love and grace of God which is in the Lord Jesus Christ.

That is worth remembering on Valentine's Day.

Luke 2:8–20 is about the critical role of the shepherds on this first Christmas. The announcement of the angel is in Luke 2:14 Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace with whom men He is well-pleased. This is the most famous of Christmas sayings. The shepherds were overwhelmed but not confused. They departed immediately to Bethlehem to view this great event. Luke 2:17 And when they saw it, they made known the saying that had been told them concerning this child. Then the shepherds returned to the fields. They were not far away. They were in the fields where David was as a shepherd boy.

Luke 2:20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as was spoken to them.

These men became the first witnesses to the Lord Jesus Christ. They testified for the Savior and all that He is and all that He has done. From this point, His life began to unfold to the world.

Then 8 days go by, and the custom was to circumcise the child and to name the child. This was done to every male Jewish child.

Luke 2:21 And when eight days were fulfilled to circumcise the child, His name was called JESUS, the name called by the angel before He was conceived in the womb.

Jesus means salvation. This event had great significance.

Lesson #48 Luke 2:21 Gen. 17:1–17 Life of Christ Feb 13, 2011 Sunday 2

Luke 2:21 And when eight days were fulfilled to circumcise the child, His name was called JESUS, the name called by the angel before He was conceived in the womb.

Jesus was His name, just as the angel told Mary and Joseph. His name means God is salvation.

8 days later, Jesus is presented and named. This was the custom for all Jewish infant males on the 8th day of their life. However, it has great significance.

Circumcision was not exclusive to Israel. Other cultures practiced it. In Israel, it took on a very special, symbolic meaning. It was mandated by God to represent a doctrine that Israel needed to know and needed to remember every day.

Circumcision was connected to the covenant of God to Abraham.

Gen. 17:1 When Abram was ninety-nine years old the LORD appeared to Abram and said to him, "I am God Almighty; walk before me, and be blameless,

God made a promise to Abraham about his descendants, despite the fact that Abram had no children and was too old to father a child. Abram had to realize that this would happen. God would make this happen. This way, Abraham could recount these promises.

Gen. 17:2 that I may make my covenant between me and you, and may multiply you greatly."

Gen. 17:3 Then Abram fell on his face. And God said to him,

Gen. 17:4 "Behold, my covenant is with you, and you shall be the father of a multitude of nations.

Gen. 17:5 No longer shall your name be called Abram, but your name shall be Abraham, for I have made you the father of a multitude of nations.

Gen. 17:6 I will make you exceedingly fruitful, and I will make you into nations, and kings shall come from you.

Gen. 17:7 And I will establish my covenant between me and you and your offspring after you throughout their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be God to you and to your offspring after you.

Gen. 17:8 And I will give to you and to your offspring after you the land of your sojournings, all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession, and I will be their God."

Gen. 17:9 And God said to Abraham, "As for you, you shall keep my covenant, you and your offspring after you throughout their generations.

Gen. 17:10 This is my covenant, which you shall keep, between me and you and your offspring after you: Every male among you shall be circumcised.

So that Abram would remember this, God mandated circumcision.

Gen. 17:11 You shall be circumcised in the flesh of your foreskins, and it shall be a sign of the covenant between me and you.

The time frame is given, which would be observed by our Lord's parents.

Gen. 17:12 He who is eight days old among you shall be circumcised. Every male throughout your generations, whether born in your house or bought with your money from any foreigner who is not of your offspring,

Even Gentiles living with them.

This was related to the virility of Abram, even though he was 99 and long past having children.

Circumcision represents the revival of Abraham's ability to procreate. This is the ritual to commemorate the establishment of the Jewish race. This also established a regenerate race. They were from death, and yet they live. All circumcised Jews can depend upon God for their race and their regeneration. God's symbols are certainly appropos.

Gen. 17:13 both he who is born in your house and he who is bought with your money, shall surely be circumcised. So shall my covenant be in your flesh an everlasting covenant.

Gen. 17:14 Any uncircumcised male who is not circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin shall be cut off from his people; he has broken my covenant."

Gen. 17:15 And God said to Abraham, "As for Sarai your wife, you shall not call her name Sarai, but Sarah shall be her name.

This was accomplished the same time that the promise of Isaac was made, as well as the promises of kings of people would come from Sarah. From Abraham and Sarah would come the kings of Israel. Sarah will be the mother of kings and she is long past the age of child-bearing.

Circumcision

1. Circumcision was continued as a ritual reminder of God's promise for all generations of Jews. All male Jewish boys were circumcised as a ritual reminder to all Jews.
2. God instituted circumcision with Abraham as the sign of His everlasting covenant.
3. It was also a symbol of Abraham's faith in the promise of that covenant. Abraham had to perform this ritual himself. This was a sign of his faith in God's covenant.
4. Abraham was a mature believer when God made the covenant. This is when Abraham became a Jew.
5. When this covenant was made, this spoke of greater blessings conveyed at spiritual maturity. This covenant was made a long time after his salvation. Greater blessings conveyed to a spiritually mature man.
6. The covenant sign of circumcision glorifies God in the fulfillment of the covenant.
7. This is about the coming Messiah as well.

Circumcision is the symbol of the promise and Jesus is the fulfillment of this promise. So every time Abraham or any Jew looked down, it was a reminder of the grace of God and a reminder of the importance of spiritual advance.

Then, after this child is born, God will tell Abraham to take this son out and kill him as a sacrifice. Abraham had the symbol of circumcision with him always, so this reminded him.

Gen. 17:16 I will bless her, and moreover, I will give you a son by her. I will bless her, and she shall become nations; kings of peoples shall come from her."

Why is the 8th day chosen for the circumcision of a male child? Why not do this when the child understands it? Baptism is a recognition of your faith in Christ. Here, we have circumcision mandated when the child is only 8 days old.

This is to remind the parents of God's faithfulness in His promise to Abraham and to all of the Jews. It was not necessary for the child to understand that point.

The parents could later teach this to the child. Through circumcision, the child would recall that he had accepted all the conditions and all of the obligations and privileges of the covenant. This included the obligation to live under and to obey the Mosaic Law. This is what is required of the Jews. That is a part of their conditional covenant; a part of their national law. Moses was given the Law on Sinai, a law to govern their nation, right out of the box. This was a law in which there was no flaw. This was a part of the personal and national existence of Israel. This was a national thing.

The Mosaic Law was scrupulously observed by the Lord Jesus Christ as a child and through to adulthood. He was the only Person who could fulfill the Mosaic Law and the only One Who would. Every other Jew also had an obligation to fulfill the Law. They all had sin natures and they all sinned at various times in their lives. The Law was always violated by everyone one way or another.

The pharisees thought they could keep the Law; or they would pretend that they are able to keep the Law. The Jew had the obligation to keep the Mosaic Law, and so Jesus was the only One Who could do this successfully. The Mosaic Law reminded the Jews that they needed an intervention on their behalf. Only Jesus Christ was an acceptable mediator between God and man.

Circumcision reminds the Jews of their own inability to keep the Law as well as the sacrifice of the Lord Jesus Christ. No Jew would be justified by keeping the Law.

This circumcision of Jesus Christ is no insignificant event. This is the most significant event in His young life. The baby would be too young to remember the pain of the circumcision. So, early in life, on the 8th day, a time designated by God, so that cruelty and any pain is beside the point of circumcision.

Circumcision Today

1. Circumcision in the Church Age does not carry the same ritual meaning that it did in the Age of Israel. Today, some call circumcision to painful and too cruel.
2. It is no longer a symbol because client nation Israel no longer exists in the Church Age. That nation has been set aside. It will be set aside until the Tribulation.
3. It can still be used as a reminder that the covenant is still in effect for Israel.
4. The church is not under the Abrahamic covenant or the Mosaic Law.
5. The ritual of circumcision has no spiritual connotation in this age as it did during the Age of Israel.

Circumcision on Jesus Christ was a recognition of the covenant that God made to Israel and to Abraham. This promise was given to Abraham. The 8 day old child has the symbol of this circumcision.

Gen. 17:17 Then Abraham fell on his face and laughed and said to himself, "Shall a child be born to a man who is a hundred years old? Shall Sarah, who is ninety years old, bear a child?"

All of the rituals of the law pointed to Jesus Christ, His work, His kingship, and to His substitutionary death. Jesus had to keep the Mosaic Law, and that was necessary in order for Him to show that He was sinless. He could not violate one jot or tittle of the Law. The pharisees attempted to keep the Law and none of them were able to. Jesus is the only one qualified to be the Savior. This is His credential of Messiahship.

Jesus, in His birth and conception, fulfilled the Law. There is the place of His birth and the virgin birth and His line, all were things that were fulfilled by Jesus Christ.

Once 8 days came to pass, Jesus was circumcised. We discuss circumcision because this is here. This helps to define Who Jesus is.

Luke 2:21 And when eight days were fulfilled to circumcise the child, His name was called JESUS, the name called by the angel before He was conceived in the womb.

Gen. 12:1–3 there would be a nation, a land, a seed, an inheritance and this would be a covenant between God and Abraham.

Gen. 17:11 You shall be circumcised in the flesh of your foreskins, and it shall be a sign of the covenant between me and you.

This ritual had a symbolic meaning which is centered in reality. Circumcision was mandated as a sign of the covenant promise between God and Abraham.

Circumcision, Regeneration and Abraham

1. This symbolized the revival of Abraham's sexual function. In the covenant, God promised that Abraham would be the father of a great nation, and it got to a point where Abraham was too old. When God made this announcement, circumcision was a sign that guaranteed the promised child.
2. Circumcision was the sign of the new race fathered by Abraham.
3. This began the line of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Abraham believed in God, and that was why he was chosen. He believed the covenant and he believed the One who made the promise. First physically and second spiritually. Abraham was the first Jew and he was also regenerated. Abraham generated the race. Abraham was regenerate. The race was born and the race was to be born again race.
4. Circumcision is a sign of the divinely ordains, Abraham was the father and the forerunner of this race.
5. The Jews were to be a blessing to all of mankind; and their race was based upon regenerate. Furthermore, they would be blessed under the Abrahamic Covenant.
6. Gentiles were circumcised as a symbol of belief. Circumcision represented all of these things to Israel. Therefore, it was necessary that Jesus Christ be circumcised as a Jew.

The reality was regeneration; circumcision is the sign. Gal. 5 is all about the sign of circumcision. This is not mandated for Church Age believers. We are not under the Mosaic Law.

Gen. 17:12 He who is eight days old among you shall be circumcised. Every male throughout your generations, whether born in your house or bought with your money from any foreigner who is not of your offspring,

Gal. 5:2 Look: I, Paul, say to you that if you accept circumcision, Christ will be of no advantage to you.

If you go the legalistic way, then you have no advantage.

Gal. 5:3 I testify again to every man who accepts circumcision that he is obligated to keep the whole law.

If you think you must keep one part of the Law, then you are obligated to keep all of the Law. Paul is logically devastating to these people. What the Church Age believer has is unique way beyond this ritual.

Gal. 5:4 You are severed from Christ, you who would be justified by the law; you have fallen away [drifted off course] from grace.

If you think that circumcision is the answer, you have been severed from Christ. You have fallen from grace. Maybe this is where he has drifted off course from grace?

If they are trying to be saved by the Law, they are in the same boat as unbelievers in the Old Testament. They may, after salvation, decide that the Mosaic Law is the way to go, and that means they have drifted off course.

The Church Age Believer and Circumcision

1. The Church Age believer is not identified by circumcision as a New Covenant people. So circumcision is not a ritual for us which identifies us.
2. Dispensations allow us to differentiate between the times.
3. God has a different plan for the Church Age believer. That mandate is not for this age. We do not live under the Law.
4. Our identification is with Jesus Christ. We are not a racial species but a new spiritual species.

Circumcision is practiced today, by both Jews and Gentiles. However, there is no spiritual connotation associated with it. It is mostly a hygiene thing. Regeneration is by faith in Christ. No Jew under the covenant just by descent from Abraham or by means of the ritual of circumcision is saved. It was all about regeneration. This is true in the Age of Israel and during our time as well.

Why Jesus Was Circumcised.

1. It identified Jesus Christ with Israel and the Jewish race and identified Him to Israel.
2. It was a symbol of His being under the covenant.
3. For Jesus, as the Messiah, He was the fulfillment of that covenant.

Gal. 5:5 For through the Spirit, by faith, we ourselves eagerly wait for the hope of righteousness.

Being cut off from the hope of regeneration if you depended upon the symbol of regeneration. Circumcision was never the means of gaining the promise of Abraham.

The 8 day old child was circumcised as a sign of accepting the covenant. It would be like being baptized at 80 years old.

Circumcision was and is meticulously practiced by the Jews. However, then and now, it was not practiced for the right reasons. It is a ritual only.

There are many Christians who believe in baptismal regeneration. This is heresy. Working your way to salvation via sacraments is also heresy.

Moses wrote in the Law in Deut. 30:6, which is all about the real circumcision: And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your offspring, so that you will love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, that you may live. Outer symbols represented inner realities. It is the circumcision of heart that matters.

Rom. 2:28–29 For no one is a Jew who is merely one outwardly, nor is circumcision outward and physical. But a Jew is one inwardly, and circumcision is a matter of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the letter. His praise is not from man but from God.

Rituals do not save; rituals represent something. What divides the Jew is the reality. Circumcision is a matter of the heart. It is the Holy Spirit Who has the knife and circumcises the heart.

Justification is the reality. The redeemed are circumcised of heart.

Final Points

1. Outward rituals must represent the inward reality; otherwise it is pointless. How many churches go through rituals which are meaningless.
2. Regeneration of heart first. Circumcision of the foreskin represented the circumcision of the heart.
3. Symbolic rituals do not solve the problems of man's sin nature.
4. Only Christ can solve the problem of the separation of man from God.

Fulfilling the ritual of circumcision signifies Mary's and Joseph's faith and signifies that their child was set apart as a child of Abraham, bound to obey the Mosaic Law.

40 days after circumcision, something else comes. Up.

Gal. 5:6 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision counts for anything, but only faith working through love.

Lesson #0050 Luke 2:22–24 The Life of Christ Feb. 17, 2011 Thursday

There are 2 more rituals here in the early life of Jesus which are not as well-known as circumcision.

They named Him Jesus as they were told to do by the angel; and then He was circumcised on the 8th day.

Then, about a month later, there was a legal requirement. 40 days after Jesus was born, they went to Jerusalem. Bobby said they went due north?

Luke 2:22 And when the days of her purification according to the Law of Moses were fulfilled, they brought Him to Jerusalem, to present Him to the Lord

This describes this purification.

Luke 2:23 (as it is written in the Law of the Lord, Every male that opens the womb shall be called holy to the Lord)

There was a sacrifice which had to take place in the Temple.

Luke 2:24 and to offer a sacrifice according to that said in the Law of the Lord, A pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons.

These commands come straight out of the Mosaic Law. This was part of the Law for every child (or, every firstborn child?).

This was a critical event in his life. This may seem routine, but for Jesus, this is a critical moment.

Every Jewish mother went to the Temple after have a child for a purification ceremony. Then there was a redemption ritual which took place. Jesus was the Redeemer of mankind, and notice was posted when these rituals took place. This would be circulated among those who had not yet heard, but a group who is very important. This is the first time that the religious leaders head about our Lord.

Luke 2:23 (as it is written in the Law of the Lord, Every male that opens the womb shall be called holy to the Lord)

This is a restatement of Ex. 13:2; God chose every firstborn male for priestly service.

Ex. 13:2 "Consecrate to me all the firstborn. Whatever is the first to open the womb among the people of Israel, both of man and of beast, is mine."

The spiritual life is a part of everything that we do. Wandering off course from this means that we are not living the Christian life. The Jews were always forgetting what God had done for them. They were always off chasing after false gods.

Similarly, we are not to marry a heathen. They always drag the Christian down. So this ritual reminds Israel that every male child firstborn was to render service to the Lord. This was a sacrifice for a family, and that is why it spoke of the sacrifice of the firstborn of Mary. This passage was prior to the Levitical priesthood. Aaron's family became the line of the priesthood. However, God never abolished this requirement. This mandate remained in place and the firstborn was still dedicated, but they were to support the new Levitical priesthood.

God provided for His priests a means of support. More importantly, this was servanthood of the firstborn. The firstborn is the one with the greater honor. The firstborn, who are the highest, had become servants. The highest is Jesus Christ, and He was a suffering Servant; He came to serve us. This ritual was a picture of Jesus.

Not every firstborn male was turned over to be a servant. However, the family could pay to keep this child from serving. The family had to pay this price, and that would get him out of this service. Serve the priests or pay the redemption price. One of these 2 was required. Jesus Christ was both. He is both the servant and the Redeemer.

The total payment is 5 shekels of silver from Num. . This was a legitimate and legal and this was also expensive. This was a considerable amount for someone to pay. This was not a cheap redemption. This same ritual occurred over and over again in Israel. The synagogue still has this ritual.

Jesus, the Son of Man, needed to be redeemed from Temple service, just as was every other firstborn son. This was Jesus fulfilling all of the rituals and all of the requirements, demonstrating that He was the Messiah. The picture is, Jesus would redeem all mankind.

All of this was a picture of Who He is. 40 days old, and He is pictured as the redeemer of all mankind.

Luke 2:22 And when the days of her purification according to the Law of Moses were fulfilled, they brought Him to Jerusalem, to present Him to the Lord

There is also all of this cleanness and uncleanness. You may wonder, what is the deal with all of this clean and unclean stuff. Being unclean was a circumstance mentioned many times in the Mosaic Law. This represents a very basic doctrine. Uncleanness represents sin.

Now, in the Law, there were clean and unclean animals. Cows and sheep were considered clean. Animals who walked on flat paws were considered unclean, like dogs and cats. Eating of blood was considered unclean, whereas, other societies around the Jews did that.

Even today, Jews do not eat unclean food. They eat kosher food.

The emission of bodily fluids was considered to be unclean; sexual discharge, menstrual discharge; and then the afterbirth was considered unclean.

Every mother was considered unclean. All are unrighteous. Men and women were all considered to be unclean.

Places and locales were considered unclean. Place outside of an encampment was considered to be unclean (because they poop there). At some point in time, everyone violates this and is considered unclean. So then, we have to be made clean. That is what the ritual is all about.

There was certainly a theological lesson to be learned.

Cleansing Rituals and What They Represent

1. The standard of ritual purity, cleanness, is built upon God's perfect righteousness.
2. God is clean in every respect. Jesus Christ was also righteous throughout His entire life.
3. Uncleanness in Israel pictured separation from God. God cannot have contact with unrighteousness.
4. The uncleanness before God, the barrier of unrighteousness, represents spiritual death.
5. So the cleansing ritual was a picture of redemption; a cleansing from all unrighteousness. Mary ritually went from unclean to clean.
6. So the ritual cleansing is the picture of the work of the Savior. It is making man clean and righteous.
7. Also, this is a picture of rebound, after salvation. The cleansing from all unrighteousness.

Mary was defiled, and this was contagious, and it extended to Joseph; so the entire family was contaminated. A picture that Adam contaminated all of us. It is everywhere in the Old Testament.

She would remain ceremonially unclean for 33 more days. She had to be purified from this uncleanness, and her ritual cleansing was a picture of her redemption.

The purification required a sacrifice. The more wealthy is to bring a lamb. Mary was more poor so she brought a pigeon or a dove, indicating that she and Joseph were poor.

How Jesus Was Redeemed

1. The ritual purification is a picture of the cleansing from sin. A sacrifice was required to cleanse mankind. The turtle dove was the sacrifice.
2. The one who would be redeemed from Temple service would be the true Redeemer.
3. The reality of the redemption was demonstrated in this ritual.

This also shows that Mary is not sinless. She is not immaculate. She had to be purified just like everyone else. Everyone needs this purification. She needs redemption just like everyone else.

All of this elaborate ritual centered around the Lord Jesus Christ, because the Mosaic Law had to be strictly adhered to. The Law was given to Moses by the Shekinah Glory. When he came down from the mountain, Moses' face shined as a reflection of the glory of the Lord. This is the Law given by Jesus. He gave the Law and He fulfills the Law perfectly. He was without sin. He was ritually redeemed.

In the Communion Service, Bobby gives us information about Jesus Christ. The Communion speaks of Who Jesus is. From the very beginning, Jesus was the Savior of all mankind. They looked forward to Him and believed; we look backward and believe.

In case no one gets this so far, this will be announced again. The shepherds did it. And next, 2 people will show up, a man and a woman, and they will make the announcement in the Temple, and they will make this announcement to the people who should have known this and understood this. They should have all looked to Jesus and said, "That is the One; the Messiah."

The people are Simeon.

Lesson #0051 Luke 2:22–26 Ex. 13:2 Life of Christ Feb. 20, 2011 Sunday 1

There are 4 rituals which must be fulfilled.

Think of all the laws in Houston; have you ever driven too fast in a 35 mph zone?

Even one misstep for Jesus, and He is no longer qualified to be our Savior. As an infant, Jesus Christ could make no choices; but in these first 40 days, there were customs which had to be followed, and His parents followed these laws.

The first was, Jesus was a physical descendant of Abraham and He lived under the promise of the Mosaic Covenant as a Jew. He also fulfilled the Mosaic Law perfectly. He is the complete fulfillment of the Law of Moses.

2 more meaningful rituals took place in the Temple of Jerusalem. He was redeemed from service in the Temple. Every Jewish firstborn was set apart to God, and if not redeemed, then he was to serve in the Temple.

Luke 2:22–24 And when the days of her purification according to the Law of Moses were fulfilled, they brought Him to Jerusalem, to present Him to the Lord (as it is written in the Law of the Lord, Every male that opens the womb shall be called holy to the Lord) and to offer a sacrifice according to that said in the Law of the Lord, A pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons.

Ex. 13:2 "Consecrate to me all the firstborn. Whatever is the first to open the womb among the people of Israel, both of man and of beast, is mine."

Jesus came to be the Servant of all mankind. The anguish of the soul of the Messiah in Isa. 53, because He bore the sins of the entire world, which is the greatest anguish that could be endured.

God the Father would be satisfied by the work of the Lord Jesus Christ, and His wrath is no longer directed toward us.

The redemption ritual of the Temple would telegraph His redemption for all mankind.

A second ritual was equally important, which was the ritual cleansing of Jesus mother, Mary. This was related to her Son as well. In giving birth, Mary was unclean. This is because she came in contact with the dead tissue of afterbirth, which represents the sin nature.

Uncleanness represents sin in the Old Testament and the spiritual death which is caused by that sin. Men are unclean in the sight of God; we are all unrighteous in His sight; we are born unclean; we are born with sin natures.

Isa. 64:6 For we are all become as one who is unclean, and all our righteousness are as a polluted garment: and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away.

Mary was just one more unclean person, just like all of us. She was not sinless. She is not immaculate and she should not be deified. She was unclean because she gave birth, just like all of us.

Every ritual of the Mosaic Law points toward Jesus Christ and His sacrifice for us. This is a perfect illustration, which they saw day after day in their rituals. Every mother had to go through this purification ritual.

Even though the mother contributed the pure gene structure, the impurity was passed along to through the man.

Mary's Ritual Cleansing

1. She was made unclean.
2. The reality represented by this ritual was the work of the Savior Who purifies her. This ritual represents the work of the Savior in purifying Her. The reality of her uncleanness was right there with her.
3. The purification was making Mary righteous when she was unrighteousness.
4. This is a picture of redemption from sin; and a picture of justification; being made righteous.

We are truly purified by His righteousness in us. That is ritual with reality. We no longer perform that ritual; but we understand it as we study it.

There was a specified ritual which provided for her necessary cleansing. This was a blood sacrifice.

Luke 2:24 and to offer a sacrifice according to that said in the Law of the Lord, A pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons.

The cleansing ritual was a sacrifice; that is how she was purified. It represented another blood, her child, the one who's redemption had been purchased, which was to the purpose of revealing His future substitutionary sacrifice. This is the redemptive solution to sin.

When we believe in Jesus Christ, we are justified; we are made clean. He fulfilled the symbol.

The whole world needed to understand what happened here. 2 witnesses were on the scene, and the fact that they were there is entirely miraculous. This announcement would be made to Jerusalem, to the city, in the heart of Judaism, in the Temple itself, the residence of the Shekinah Glory. This is the amazing revealing of the Lord Jesus Christ. The people rejected this reality.

They would give thanks to God and then they were speak of the Redeemer child.

In a day when legalism ruled and the oral tradition reigned among the religious leaders, there, right in front of them, was the grace of God in Christ. Grace overshadowed all of their legalism.

In the midst of all this legalism, Simeon looked for the purifier, the Redeemer. Simeon was an old man, but he was grace oriented. He was in the heart of legalism. He longed to see the grace of God, which is called the Consolation of Israel.

400 years had passed since God spoke to Israel. But Simeon never stopped believing in the promises of God. He would be like believers today who are convinced of the promises of God. What eschatology is in front of us? We look for that promise, yet we do not know when this will occur.

Throughout his life, Simeon looked forward to the coming of the Messiah of God. The great blessing begins with the Son of Abraham; with the Son of David. It was not just the land and not just the nation, but the salvation which comes through the redemption of mankind.

Maybe we never think about the eschatological future which will happen.

Luke 2:25 And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem whose name was Simeon. And this man was just and devout, waiting for the Consolation of Israel. And the Holy Spirit was on him.

Luke 2:26 And it happened to him, being instructed by the Holy Spirit, he was not to see death before he would see the Christ of the Lord.

Lesson #0052 Luke 2:25–33 Life of Christ February 20, 2011 Sunday 2

Luke 2:25 And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem whose name was Simeon. And this man was just and devout, waiting for the Consolation of Israel. And the Holy Spirit was on him.

There were a number of announcements to indicate that Jesus, the Messiah, was there, among the people.

Simeon understood the redemption and the various Temple sacrifices. He was righteous and he was devout. 40 days into the history of our Lord Jesus Christ, and this man is looking for the Messiah. All that he knew about the Old Testament was unfolding before his eyes. He was waiting for the Consolation of Israel. He had an advantage. It had been revealed to him and he would remain alive until he came face to face with the Messiah of Israel.

Luke 2:25 And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem whose name was Simeon. And this man was just and devout, waiting for the Consolation of Israel. And the Holy Spirit was on him.

Luke 2:26 And it happened to him, being instructed by the Holy Spirit, he was not to see death before he would see the Christ of the Lord.

This man spent his life growing in grace and knowledge and growing in the understanding of the Messiah, looking for the moment that Messiah would appear. The Holy Spirit told him to continue to wait. The next prophetic event of the Bible would be the Messiah, and he, along with many others, anticipated this event. This revelation is His future appearance; and we await His 2nd Advent in much the same way. He looked forward to seeing the face of the Messiah just as we look forward to the coming of Jesus.

Bobby's grandfather was the pastor of a Tucson church for 50 years. He was a dispensationalist and the pastor of Bob during a time. He used to think the rapture would occur in his time, but he admitted that he did not know for certain. He was making a point; his statement revealed his attitude; "Yes, the Lord is coming while I am alive." That is the imminency of the rapture.

We ought to live as if it will happen today or tomorrow; but it may not occur for 1000 years. He lived in such a way knowing that it could happen at any time. He also said, "Don't be so heavenly-minded that you are of no earthly good." Both things are a part of our responsibility.

Some of us waste so much time. What do you do with your spare time? Is it worthless? God does allow us time for recreation. Think about the return of our Lord. Don't sell all of your goods; but this is an invitation to live the spiritual life.

However, unlike the coming rapture, Simeon actually knew that He would see the Lord before his death.

His promises are true and reliable. All of them, including the rapture. Every believer has many promises of God, which include the resurrection. If we every become sad about those we have lost, we will be resurrected and we will see them again.

It is not a blinding flash which makes you suddenly confident. It is a day by day process. You begin to think more and more with divine viewpoint. You learn more and more to live in the light of eternity. We are redeemed in order to serve Jesus Christ.

Receiving the Holy Spirit, and this knowledge, was the Word of God to him. The revelation that we receive is in the Word of God. We do not get extra-revelation. Simeon got it directly; we get it indirectly.

The Holy Spirit told Simeon that he would not see death until he see's the Lord's Christ. We are not told at what time he heard this from the Holy Spirit. Was he told as a young man? Was he told as an older man, close to dying? He wasn't discouraged. He had the promise. He knew it would come true. These are God's Words. They will come to pass.

We have promises; hundreds of them. How long did Simeon carry this promise in his soul? Here, his faith was rewarded. One day, Simeon, an old man, walks into the Temple, and there is Jesus, the object of his faith, the fulfillment of the promise of the Holy Spirit to Simeon. This had to be quite a moment. This was probably the apex of his life.

In essence, we walk into the Temple every day. Jesus is with us and He is in us; and the more doctrine we know, the more we are cognizant of these facts.

Luke 2:26 And it happened to him, being instructed by the Holy Spirit, he was not to see death before he would see the Christ of the Lord.

The next few verses tell us what is next for Simeon.

Luke 2:27 And he came by the Spirit into the temple. And as the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do according to the custom of the Law concerning Him,

Just as Simeon walks into the Temple, so does Mary and Joseph with the baby Jesus. He will be given one more task.

This would take place in the religious center of Israel. These were the scribes who wrote the oral tradition. And here is Simeon, walking into this nest of legalistic vipers of religion, and he walks in.

Luke 2:27 And he came by the Spirit into the temple. And as the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do according to the custom of the Law concerning Him,

Simeon lifts up the baby in his arms.

Luke 2:28 even he received Him in his arms and blessed God, and said,

He sings the Nonk Dimetus, which means “his farewell.” He can now depart in peace. This is a great moment for him and for the world. A great honor to be able to make this announcement to the entire world.

The same One Who gave the Law to Moses, is back in the Temple. He had not been in the Temple since the Chaldeans removed the Ark of God from the Temple.

Luke 2:29 Lord, now You will let Your servant depart in peace, according to Your word.

Vv. 30–31 reveal the context of what Simeon sings. Isa. 32:6

Here are 2 men, who had no contact with one another, and they were giving the same message, the same continuity. This is the agreement which was written over centuries. Is there any greater proof? There are lots of authors and lots of witnesses. It all fits together, perfectly.

4–5 B.C. He is born and in A.D. 33, He dies on the cross. The message is the same, as given to those before His birth and to us today who live after He paid for our sins.

Luke 2:30 For my eyes have seen Your Salvation

Luke 2:31 which You have prepared before the face of all the peoples,

Luke 2:32 a light for revelation to the nations, and the glory of Your people Israel.

Jesus parents were right there and they understood, to some degree, what was going on, and Who Jesus was, but what Simeon is saying here, they find to be stunning. They were unaware of some of the specifics. They did not fully understand everything there is to know about Who He is.

We know, right now, enough to be saved. And he learn daily more and more about Him. It is progressive; we learn, bit by bit. Jesus’ parents learn the same way. They listen to Simeon, and some of these things make sense and they begin to grasp more and more about Jesus. Joseph and Mary did not know everything at His birth.

Simeon serves in his own way. He brought some doctrine to the Temple; he brought some doctrine to Mary and Joseph. They hear Simeon, and they learn more and more.

Luke 2:33 And Joseph and His mother marveled at those things which were spoken by him.

Lesson #0053 Luke 2: The Life of Christ February 23, 2011 Wednesday

A pastor visiting from England.

The coming of the Messiah was announced at every turn. For the birth narrative and beyond, it was announced. He was born in a time when the Roman empire had great control of that region and Palestine was under the control of Herod, who was a monster. He comes into contact with the Lord Jesus Christ at that point.

This was no ordinary child Who is born, in the line of David. His arrival needed to be proclaimed to the Jews and the whole nation of Israel and to the world as well. The Old Testament was full of prophecy concerning the Lord Jesus Christ; it revealed Who He was and how He would be.

The religious leaders could not see Jesus in Isa. 53. When the time came, in the moment of history, when God chose to send His Son into the world, there was a concentration of announcements.

The Announcement of Our Lord Jesus Christ Being Born

1. Mary was told about the child and that she would be the mother and that the seed of the man would not be involved.
2. The actual moment of the birth was announced by the angel of the Lord and then by a whole chorus of angels singing to the shepherds to the field in Bethlehem.
3. 40 days after His birth, there were 2 rituals which took place. The purchase of the firstborn out of service to the Temple. The 2nd was the cleansing of Mary, who was unclean because she gave birth. This is even bearing the Messiah. There was just Mary, Joseph, and a priest at these 2 rituals.
4. God provided the means for a larger audience; 2 special witnesses. The first one was a man called Simeon.

Simeon was a man who lived for the Lord; he glorified the Lord. He was looking and waiting for the Messiah. He knew that he was looking for his Savior.

Luke 2:25 And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem whose name was Simeon. And this man was just and devout, waiting for the Consolation of Israel. And the Holy Spirit was on him.

Simeon was told that he would not see death before he saw the risen Christ. This does not mean that we hear the Holy Spirit speaking to us; but the Holy Spirit gives him direct guidance. This is a special revelation by God.

The religious leaders of Israel were so mired in the legalism of the Law that they were unable to recognize the Lord Jesus Christ. The last prophecy given to Israel was 400 years prior. However, Simeon had no problem believing. After all of this waiting, Simeon was miraculously informed that he would be an integral part of this event.

Luke 2:26 And it happened to him, being instructed by the Holy Spirit, he was not to see death before he would see the Christ of the Lord.

So Mary takes Jesus to the Temple. Simeon is moved in by the Holy Spirit. One day, the Holy Spirit told Simeon, "Get off your butt and get into the Temple." All that he had waited for was in front of him at this time. What would he do?

Mary did not know this guy from Adam's half ox. So, the child is in the Temple and going through the ceremony, and Simeon comes in.

Luke 2:27 And he came by the Spirit into the temple. And as the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do according to the custom of the Law concerning Him,

He picks up the child and blesses God. We have no idea how this came to pass. Did he grab the child? Did he ask Mary.

Luke 2:28 even he received Him in his arms and blessed God, and said,

Simeon was quite moved by the child that was in his arms. He now speaks these words in a much more conspicuous way, from the porch of the Lord's own house. God was home. The Shekinah glory was now resident in the Temple.

Luke 2:29 "Lord, now You will let Your servant depart in peace, according to Your word.

Simeon now sings a hymn of praise.

Luke 2:30 For my eyes have seen Your Salvation

This moment was prepared in the face of all people.

Luke 2:31 which You have prepared before the face of all the peoples,

The presence of God was with Israel; His glory was with the people Israel. This is the wonderful announcement that Israel and the whole world had been waiting for.

Luke 2:32 a light for revelation to the nations, and the glory of Your people Israel.

Joseph and Mary knew that their Son was the Messiah, but they did not fully get it.

Luke 2:33 And Joseph and His mother marveled at those things which were spoken by him.

You either rise with the Savior or fall if you are against Him. “For a sign to be opposed to the end that many hearts might be revealed.”

Luke 2:34 And Simeon blessed them and said to Mary His mother, Behold, this One is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel, and for a sign spoken against

Then this gets dark. There will be great impact of the child upon Israel and upon Mary.

What Is this Negative Stuff?

1. There would be great opposition to the Lord.
2. He would be rejected by His Own people.
3. In this rejection, Jesus was reveal the intents of their hearts, which was negative volition toward God’s plan.
4. This child would reveal the legalism and the lack of grace orientation of Israel and Judaism in general.
5. Men would be compelled to take a stand for or against Christ. This is compelling to say yes or no. There is no ambivalence here.
6. He told Mary that she would suffer greatly in the process. He?
7. A righteous judgment would fall upon those who reject it. Because her child, her son would suffer, she would suffer. All that Jesus faced by way of rejection, Mary, as His mother would feel. A sword would pierce even Mary’s own soul.

Mary would stand at the foot of the cross and watch Him bear the sins of the world. A sword would pierce her heart. She would witness all of it. During the process of her life and she understood the grace of God and the consolation of Israel.

Luke 2:35 (yea, a sword shall pierce through your own soul also), so that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

The second witness is the prophetess Anna. At the very moment this was announced, this whole ritual was occurring, and she begins to speak. Simeon got the word from the Holy Spirit; and she is there, but nothing is said about anything. When she spoke, people listens.

Luke 2:36 And there was a prophetess, Anna, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher. She was advanced in many days, and had lived with a husband seven years from her virginity.

Why Was She Listened To?

1. She was a distinguished woman from the tribe of Asher.
2. She had been a widow for 84 years and a wife for 7; so she was well over 100.

3. Unlike today, age was venerated. This woman was aged and she showed great wisdom in these years. She was a great woman of the Word and of grace. She was not a legalist like the pharisees.
4. In those 84 years she literally lived in the Temple; she was involved in fasting and prayer.
5. So everyone knew of her passion for God and desire to follow His will.

She was the consummate prayer warrior. She had a special place in the plan of God. She would lay her eyes on the Messiah.

This reminds Bobby of May Walker, an elderly widow confined to a wheelchair. Every time the doors to Berachah was opened, she was wheeled integrity Berachah Church. May was always there. She spent more time in prayer than anyone else that Bobby knew of. She also made a great cherry pie. Every church needs an Anna.

Luke 2:37 And she was a widow of eighty-four years, who did not depart from the temple, serving God with fastings and prayers night and day.

Like Simeon, her prayers were answered. 84 years in the Temple and it finally happened. We live in an age of instant gratification. I want what I want when I want it.

She waited 84 years and now she is seeing the Lord. She prayed that long for this one moment. There is always a reason why your prayers are not answered immediately. It may takes days or a year or 20 years.

Bob used to pray when he was driving, but he kept his eyes open. Some work out and some run.

Sometimes His plan involves growing up. Sometimes you have to grow up in order for God to answer your prayer. Every day when you face a test, pass it, using divine viewpoint. But know that prayer is not a problem solving device.

these 2 people had the honor of making this announcement.

There is one more set of witnesses to study; the Magia.

Luke 2:38 And she coming in at that instant gave thanks to the Lord and spoke of Him to all those in Jerusalem eagerly expecting redemption.

Luke 2:39 And when they had finished all things according to the Law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

Luke 2:40 And the Child grew and became strong in spirit, filled with wisdom. And the grace of God was on Him.

Lesson #0054 Luke 2: The Life of Christ February 24, 2011 Thursday

A pastor visiting from England. He'll be speaking after class about the spiritual condition of England.

Magi are only mentioned in Matt. 2. This term was based upon Melech, but it came from Melchior, which is King of Light. This suggests that they are experts in astronomy. Such men look at stars. They had been looking at stars.

There are all kinds of speculative traditions concerning these men. All we can really hang our hat on is the Scriptures. They arrived in Bethlehem sometime after the birth; and certainly not on the night of the birth, even though many Nativity scenes portray it that way.

Why the Magi Did Not Arrive the Night of the Birth of Our Lord

1. Mary and Joseph, when the Magi arrived, are in a house in Bethlehem. Jesus was born in a manger in the courtyard of an inn or in a cave near to the inn. They would have been surrounded by animals and people.
2. Jesus is called a child here and not an infant.
3. There was travel time needed to get to Bethlehem, particularly since they stopped in Jerusalem first.

We have always assumed that there were 3 magi, but that is not in the text. 3 because there are 3 gifts, so the assumption has been 1 gift per person. They are probably Arabians, but their exact identities are not known.

Some traditions say these are representatives of Shem, Ham and Japheth. However, there is no indication of this. It is much more likely that these are gentiles who held high positions in their society. They are probably priest sages.

Matt. 2:1 After Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of King Herod, wise men from the east arrived unexpectedly in Jerusalem,

How did they know about the star? Jerusalem and all of Judah was taken into captivity in 586 B.C. by Nebuchadnezzar of the Chaldeans. The spreading out of the Jews took place over a century and a half. Most of them no longer resided outside of Israel. The Persians then conquered the Chaldeans and they had a lot of contact with the Jews. They learned a lot of information through Daniel, etc. Perhaps, they timed all of this based upon the prophecy of Daniel? However, that is based upon a number of years and days.

They could have gotten this information by ancient prophecies, about the King of Kings. This was the ancient prophecy. They may not have been believers; but it is more reasonable that they are believers. If they were believers, they understood this immediately. These Gentiles represent a wider expectation throughout the world; there were more than just Jews waiting for the Messiah.

What Is Important about the Magi?

1. The visit of the magi is a part of the early revelation of Jesus Christ.
2. The visit of the magi constitutes a strong proof of His universal Messiah-ship and Savior-hood. This indicates a universality of Jesus.
3. These magi came to worship Him, which indicates prior knowledge of Him. They were already believers, if they came to worship him.
4. Jesus Christ is not just a Jewish phenomenon known only to Jews. Jesus was already well-known; universally, before He was born.
5. This also represents the Messiah's universal appeal and His overall work for mankind.

Then there was the star. Who has not gazed at the stars and wondered, what is out there? What is up with all the movement of the universe.

There are all kinds of theories about the phenomenon of the star. Many ideas come from secular hedonism. However, the real explanation is, this is supernatural.

Various Theories

1. This star is linked to astronomical events; an unusual conjunction of stars at this time. People figure this out as a natural phenomenon which is not supernatural, but some alignment or some incredible which caught their attention.
2. Another theory is that this whole star thing includes astrology. The nature of eastern astrology lent itself to this. Some connect this to actual astrological predictions. This is simply a false theory.
 - 1) Astrology is a ploy of Satan and demonism throughout the Bible.
 - 2) Satan would not like to present the Savior, the Messiah and his ultimate conqueror to the world. That would not be his approach to this; he would want to obscure this.
 - 3) Satan would like to obscure the birth of the Messiah.
 - 4) Therefore, this was not astrology that revealed Jesus to the magi. Many dabble in Tarot cards, astrology, and various occult activity.
3. It is anti-God, even if it is accurate from time to time. It is prohibited for us.
 - 1) If a divination is accurate, it could simply be a coincidence. Or it could be a very generalized prediction. Or this can be much more sinister.
 - 2) Various occult mediums have been used throughout history. We are forbidden contact with them. We do not need such exposure.
 - 3) Satan uses divination as a revelation of his plan and his cosmic system.
 - 4) Divination is always opposed to the leading of the Holy Spirit in the life of the believer.

- 5) If divination includes the doctrine of demons, that is never used to commend God's plan to anyone. Not to a believer or an unbeliever.
- 6) Divination is a distraction at best; or demonic influence at worst. We really do not need to know the future to be in God's plan. Everyone wants to know who they will marry, and how much money they will have, etc. God expects us to utilize His Word. Bible doctrine is to reign in our life, not divination. Our lives are not to be based upon the words of the astrologer. As a believer, why would you want to know the future of this life. We are always in God's plan as a believer. We can already know everything necessary for our future. What happens with regards to the details is unimportant. We need to live our lives in the light of eternity. That is the triumph of our lives. We are not rewarded for what happens in the future, and side-stepping it or embracing it. There is no such thing as bad news which can shake the peace that passes all understanding.
- 7) Divination is a diversion to the spiritual life, or an indication of reversionism and demon-influence. This is why God told Israel not to become involved in such practices.

Disregard the predictions or suggestions of those involved in fortune telling or astrology. In this way, we depend upon Him rather than any form of human or animal machinations.

Αστειρ is the Greek word for star. This is not a cluster of stars which come to an unusual arrangement. This was not a natural phenomenon but a supernatural event.

This could be another event which involves the Shekinah glory. The bright light, the presence of God. Just as the Shekinah led the people through the desert, so God guided his people.

This star provides us notice that Messiah is born and His locale is known.

Jesus Christ limits His divinity by choice. He could have been in 2 places at once; in the Messiah and Jesus may have manifested His presence in 2 places at the same time.

The magi represent the gentile world. Here is the glory of God manifested to the Gentiles. He is not just Savior of the Jews, but He is our Savior as well.

What Do We See in the Magi?

1. This shows that he is welcomed by the Gentiles.
2. This foreshadows the incarnation.
3. This portrays the Savior of all mankind.

Matt. 2:2 saying, "Where is He who has been born King of the Jews? For we saw His star in the east and have come to worship Him."

We have these announcements all over; this is the announcement to the Gentiles. The life of Christ will next intersect with Herod I and with the religious leaders for the

So Herod begins to ask the priests around him, Where is this Christ child?

Matt. 2:3 When King Herod heard this, he was deeply disturbed, and all Jerusalem with him.

Matt. 2:4 So he assembled all the chief priests and scribes of the people and asked them where the Messiah would be born.

English pastor to tell a little about his past life and what is going on in England. This has been a significant year for him. His 50th year association with the colonel's ministry. He first came in 1989 and he waited 30 years to first meet the colonel. In England, it is rare to gather even 8 or 10 people. A woman said she learned more in an hour than her entire Christian experience. She brought the colonel's teaching back which introduced this guy to it. When he first heard, he was hooked.

He is fascinated how various people come into contact with the colonel and his message. He had hoped to share this message with the people in England. Bob never advertised his ministry at all. It always became available to those who were positive. He regarded it to be selfish to keep this just to himself. People would listen, give it a hearing, but their interest would wain and they would drift away.

They eventually set up their own local church; but people won't listen to anyone without the proper credentials. They thought about joining a Baptist church and tried to share it, but the interest waned. He finally tried his own pastorate. This was a little village where he tried to make the message known. He strayed there for 22 years. The motto, the Lord would provide. They would gather with the few people who were there. Some would go and a few would show up.

From the first Sunday morning, there were children. So his wife taught them. However, they would grow up and leave. Unable to solidify the people. Much more difficult to be a pastor's wife than the pastor.

He came to the conclusion that there was no reality to what those were being taught. Simeon knew the reality of what he believed; the confident expectation with regards to the birth of the Lord Jesus Christ. Some may give it a hearing, but they are not prepared to stake their lives upon it. If all the people had stayed in his church, he would have had about 250 people and the church would have been packed. But that was not the case. This was a seaside location, and many became positive toward the gospel there.

He knew not to ever take any credit to himself.

There was a woman who distributed tapes and she told him, his ministry was to anglicize the Colonel's ministry. A half a dozen elderly people ended; so he had no alternative but to leave the church. It was his desire to stand in the pulpit and make dogmatic point. God knows best. He knows what the situation is. The truth of doctrine was never diminished. He is very sad and disappointed.

1. Disappointed the loss of glorification of the Lord Jesus Christ. There will be a great amount of glorification in the eternal state.
2. Disappointed that those believers who neglect the doctrine lose their escrow blessings.
3. Loss of pivotal influence within England. It is going downhill, although it is doing better as of late.

He is not surprised in the loss of interest in doctrine. The charismatic churches are flourishing, but they ebb and flow. It is a great distraction from the teaching of the Word of God. There is so little interest in spiritual things. Prosperity leads them away. Finally, Christianity has been bracketed together with all the other religions there. We know there is a difference, but many of the English clergy teach Christianity as simply a religion. They just want people in the seats and the money out of their pockets. Many religions are seeking to dominate England. The Muslim influence is mostly confined to the larger cities; the villages and smaller towns do not see this influence. The Muslims tend to congregate in particular areas. As with all media, much has been expanded beyond all recognition, and it only appears to be worse than it is.

Without a congregation, there can be no teaching. Therefore, he is grateful to all of Berachah.

Lesson #0055 Luke 2: The Life of Christ February 27, 2011 Sunday 1

Up until this point, all of the witnesses have been Jewish. Jesus Christ is the King of the Jews. These were mostly individual witnesses to his conception, birth and uniqueness. When He was born, another group, shepherds, spread this around.

Simeon and Anna both witnessed to Him in the Temple. These are all Jews, but Jesus is not just the Messiah of Israel; He is the Savior of all mankind.

These Gentiles were from outside of the Jewish world, indicate that people knew about Jesus outside of the Jewish world.

By and large, Israel would reject Jesus as their King; but the Gentiles would receive Him. Most of the early churches were founded among the Gentiles.

How did the magi foreshadow the rejection of the Jews of Jesus. These gentiles stop in Jerusalem first, and they knew that Jesus is born. These are gentiles from Persia. Jews had been scattered throughout the world; they went to Chaldea and Persia. Some recalled what God had taught to them. It only make sense that they might stop in Jerusalem, the capitol of the Jewish world, and ask around to find out where Jesus is.

There is an intersection here with Herod first.

Herod hears that there is a king born in his realm, and Herod is troubled, and so is all Jerusalem with him.

The magi came west, but the star did not go before them. This star is not mentioned until it is above the home in Bethlehem. Therefore, the star probably did not lead them. It is reasonable that there was a message connected with the star; they understood that what star represented. So these magi came to Jerusalem to seek the King of the Jews, to pay homage to Him. They only worship God or gods. This king is a man, and they thought, at first, maybe the royal palace would know where the Messiah was.

This was no localized event; this message had been spread about in gentile world. These gentiles did not consider politics, intrigues, family rivalries, etc. They were focused on salvation. It only made sense that people all over would be looking for Messiah.

Herod is the ultimate political animal. Jerusalem was not a very large city, and court rumors spread around rather quickly. The reaction of most of the people of Jerusalem was much different than that of the magi.

Aorist passive indicative of ταραάσω; he was troubled in himself; he was troubled in his own soul. King Herod was paranoid and power-mad. If he would kill members of his own family to preserve his power, do you think he would have any problem with some Jewish baby? He knew that this would stir up some fanatical independence among the Jews. Rome was Herod's patron. Augustus could remove Herod at any moment. He could send a group of soldiers to him at any time and end his rule. Herod was committed to destroying any opposition to himself or to Rome, and he would do this in any way possible. He was thinking, "Who do I have to kill to solve this little problem?" He had not problem to destroy others without conscience. He was a monster.

Cæsar Augustus understood the nature of Herod exactly. "Better to be Herod's hog than Herod's son." The hog had a better chance of living.

The city of Jerusalem were also deeply disturbed. This was their Messiah? Why would they be frightened? Many knew the horror and bloodshed of the Maccabees and the Hasmonians. They knew the beginning of Herod's reign, where he wiped out much of the Sanhedrin. They were afraid of a resurgence of bloodshed.

Verb: tarasso⁻ (ταράσσω) [pronounced], which means, 1) to agitate, trouble (a thing, by the movement of its parts to and fro); 1a) to cause one inward commotion, take away his calmness of mind, disturb his equanimity; 1b) to disquiet, make restless; 1c) to stir up; 1d) to trouble; 1d1) to strike one's spirit with fear and dread; 1e) to render anxious or distressed; 1f) to perplex the mind of one by suggesting scruples or doubts. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #5015.

Matt. 2:3 When King Herod heard this, he was deeply disturbed, and all Jerusalem with him.

Herod gathers all of the religious leaders to his palace. Herod had to know where this Messiah was. The scribes and the chief priests had to be careful here, because Herod might kill them. Everyone was a little tense.

Here, we will get to see the cowardice and pathetic actions and thoughts of the religious leaders. No courage whatsoever.

Matt. 2:4 So he assembled all the chief priests and scribes of the people and asked them where the Messiah [Christ] would be born.

These religious types immediately give up the Messiah's birthplace. They quote the prophet Micah.

Matt. 2:5 "In Bethlehem of Judea," they told him, "because this is what was written by the prophet:

Herod would act immediately on this information. They understood who Herod was and why they were there, and they were afraid for their lives.

Herod knew that he had these men under his thumb. They caved immediately to Herod.

The struggles between the church and the nobility during the Middle Ages. This perfectly illustrates the problem of the church.

The Puritans got their name from the pure Scripture. They settled New England in order to escape persecution. They sought liberty to worship, without manipulation or oppression. There is nothing new under the sun. It has all been done before.

These religious leaders were nothing more than political animals. It would not be healthy for these religious leaders to align themselves with a Jewish king in front of Herod. These religious leaders were content to allow gentiles from the east to check out their prophecy; what numb indifference to ignore the fulfillment of the prophecy of Micah. Israel rejects and the Gentiles seek the Lord.

These Jewish leaders are irrelevant spiritually. They mean nothing in the plan of God. They are, at best, obstacles. Only absolute truth is relevant. History is all about the Lord Jesus Christ; it has nothing to do with the power politics that is going on right now. What we see in this world is the Angelic Conflict.

The ones who should have known Jesus rejected Him and gave Him up. The gentiles from afar seek Him.

Matt. 2:6 And you, Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, are by no means least among the leaders of Judah: because out of you will come a leader who will shepherd My people Israel."

Herod probably told the magi that he would find this information out for them. So, now Herod begins to pick their brains, to determine who might take away his throne.

Matt. 2:7 Then Herod secretly summoned the wise men and asked them the exact time the star appeared.

Lesson #none Church Meeting February 27, 2011 Sunday 2

I did not attend.

Lesson #0056 Luke 2: The Life of Christ March 9, 2011 Wednesday

We are in the last phase of the very early life of Jesus in the gospels. Now, we are dealing with the wise men or the magi; probably from Persia; possibly further east. They saw a star and they understood what had occurred. The Jews of the diaspora were all over, and their evangelization taught many of the coming Messiah.

They first went to Herod, who was the ruler over the Jews; and who would know better who the king was than the present king of the Jews. Then men read his face and understood what he was saying, and understood that this was a bad guy.

Herod knew that the King of the Jews could arouse the people to revolt.

Matt. 2:4–6 So he assembled all the chief priests and scribes of the people and asked them where the Messiah [Christ] would be born. "In Bethlehem of Judea," they told him, "because this is what was written by the prophet: And you, Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, are by no means least among the leaders of Judah: because out of you will come a leader who will shepherd My people Israel."

Herod calls the magi back in and asks them some questions. He needs to know the time frame. He is trying to figure out the approximate age of the child. Herod knew from the wimpy, cowardly religious leaders about where the Messiah was born. He needed to know more about the child's age. While doing this, he had already determined to kill this child. He was ready to ransack all Bethlehem to find and kill this child. He was a lot like Stalin, who killed millions. The closer you got to Stalin, the more danger you were in. Stalin killed many people out of paranoia.

Herod asks about when the star occurred, determining that would be the birthdate of the Messiah. He was looking for one simple answer to one simple question. Herod determined that the child would have been around 2 years old.

Matt. 2:7 Then Herod secretly summoned the wise men and asked them the exact time the star appeared.

Herod sends these magi out to the child. He was attempting to be discrete. He asks to know where the child is, so that he could go and worship this King. This is the King of Kings, worthy of worship by all mankind; and Herod used this subterfuge in order to find out where the Messiah was so that he could go kill them.

All the human power on earth cannot foil the plan of God. No idea where this nation is going; but we know where this administration wants to take us. No matter what happens, God is still in charge. We will retain our client nation status, if that is God's choice. No votes or talk show host which will keep us from the destruction of the fifth cycle of discipline. We ought not to sweat it. Our prayer should always be for our nation and our leaders.

Herod could not do what he wanted to do. He was unable to stand against the plan of God. No one can take us out of this life until it is time for us to go. We are the only ones who can turn our adversity into stress; but this is an option.

Matt. 2:8 He sent them to Bethlehem and said, "Go and search carefully for the child. When you find Him, report back to me so that I too can go and worship Him."

The magi got their instructions, and they followed the star, and they followed it until it stood over the place where the Lord was.

Star light defuses and it does not shine upon any particular place. This star was a supernatural event, and it shined upon the house of the Messiah.

God has a specific purpose for the men in this plan. They were going to reveal the presence of their Savior. They are simply some gentiles from Persian, but they are here fulfilling the plan of God.

We normally do not get a star to guide the way; it is usually His written Word which lights our path and guides us. There must be a way for us to ascertain the will of God. They were led all along the way, but we are led as well. Divine guidance is just as much a part of our lives as it was for these magi.

We do not receive divine guidance through human divination; and they did not receive it the same way either. God forbids that sort of thing.

All sorts of people are into the future and divination.

Divination

1. Divination is a vehicle used by Satan and it is a ploy of demonism.
2. Since this can be a Satan, so, sometimes divination and mediums are accurage. This is coincidence or some much more sinister.

3. Satan has used divination throughout history. However, Saul was about to go to battle and he went to the witch of Endor. God prophesied through this medium. It also scared the witch of Endor.
4. There is nothing spiritual about divination.
5. Divination is always opposed to the leading of God the Holy Spirit in the life of the believer.
6. Satan will never commend God's plan to any believer through divination.
7. Satan is opposed to the Holy Spirit in every way, so divination does not guide the believer in any way.
8. Divination is a distraction at best and demonic influence at worst.
9. God's will is obscured and opposed by the occult; it is not revealed by the occult. The future is in His hands. We do not need to know where everything is all going.

The comfort is, His plan for our lives can be a clear to us as that for the magi. Deferred gratification rather than instant gratification. We do not get a star in the sky to follow; what the stars are up to is not our lead.

Guidance for us is progressive. God makes sense. His Word makes sense. We have to wait, we need to pray for guidance, particularly when coming to a fork in the road; we need to be sensitive to providential circumstances. We need to be able and willing to walk through the open door, and door Go would have.

We do not need to know what will happen 3 years from now. It just will; and we are in the plan of God when we grow to maturity. And if we make a mess, that is something which we have created. Allah is not God.

This guidance was very similar to Old Testament guidance, like the Pillar of fire.

Ex. 13:21–22 The LORD went ahead of them in a pillar of cloud to lead them on their way during the day and in a pillar of fire to give them light at night, so that they could travel day or night. The pillar of cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night never left its place in front of the people.

The Star and the Leading of the Star

1. These pillars reveal the manifested glory of Jesus Christ with the Jews at that time; the manifested Person of the 2nd person of the Trinity.
2. So also the star above the house; this also indicates the Trinity.
3. The star led the magi to the Shekinah glory in the flesh.
4. The star revealed the Shekinah glory to the magi.
5. Just as the pillar of fire led the Exodus generation, so did this sign.

The family was still there in Bethlehem. In Luke's account, after they report.

A contradiction in Luke 2:39 Luke 2:39 When they had completed everything according to the law of the Lord, they returned to Galilee, to their own town of Nazareth.

Luke leaves out the trip to Egypt. Only Jesus in the Temple at age 7 or 8 is the only event in Jesus' life.

For about 2 years, the family stay in Bethlehem; then they go to Egypt.

Birth, 40 days, the rituals; 2 years; there is no going back and forth; back and forth. They stay in Bethlehem for 2 years without going back to Nazareth. The magi had to find Him in Bethlehem.

the prophecy to the Jews and the Gentiles was fulfilled. This is how God's will works. Little incidents; little things that happen. They probably wanted to go to Nazareth, but God had them in Bethlehem.

Matt. 2:9 After hearing the king, they went on their way. And there it was--the star they had seen in the east! It led them until it came and stopped above the place where the child was.

Lesson #0057 Matt. 2:9–11 2Cor. 9:7 Life of Christ Mar 10, 2011 Thursday

Herod asks the magi to tell him where the Christ child was in Bethlehem, so that he can go there and worship Him as well.

The star goes and stops over the place where the child is.

Matt. 2:9 After hearing the king, they went on their way. And there it was--the star they had seen in the east! It led them until it came and stopped above the place where the child was.

There are some chronological problems. There are some dating problems, which we will get into later.

Matt. 2:10 When they saw the star, they were overjoyed beyond measure.

They come in and worship the Christ child on the spot. The one house in all Bethlehem, and it is lit up like a Christmas tree. The magi were let into the room. They enter the room of the child. What happens next is quite significant. They recognize the Christ child and they dropped to the ground, faces on the ground; and they had no problem worshipping this child.

These magi were complete strangers to Mary, and yet, here they are, in her house, worshipping her Son. Doubtless, they explained their journey; the star, how they found her; and their visit to Herod. They probably told her what he said; and she asked, "Herod knew? Hmmm."

These men are even telling Mary things about her Son that she did not know. This event was another clue in the progressive revelation of her child. Mary had no idea men would show up and worship. Jesus came to the gentiles as well. This was more than Mary realized and this was a part of her learning experience.

She was finding out more things about her Son, and really Who He was. She was immersed in all of the motherly things, but there was much more going on. She learned a little theology related to her Son. She would continue this learning process all of her life. She was just like us.

Mary Is Just like us

1. When the magi showed up, it is clear, Mary only had partial knowledge of her Son.
2. Like her, we continue to add and to grow in our partial knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ. This is an ever-expanding growth process. We learn about Him. We expand our knowledge of Him.
3. We will never know all things about Him until we arrive in heaven.
4. As long as we live, we continue to add to our knowledge from God's Word. She learned from the Living Word, from the mouth of her own Son. We progressively grow in grace and knowledge as she does. \
5. In doing this, we begin to progressively understand the spiritual life that Jesus pioneered for us. We are understanding Him and what this means to us.
6. As we begin to understand, we are motivated in life by Him. We gain reciprocal love for Him. We begin to understand what true love is. We gain capacity for love. We begin to express reciprocal love for God. We are simply learning to live the Christian life.

The magi then got up and presented their gifts. They had been carrying these gifts with them for however long. They open up their rucksacks and get out their gifts, but only after they worshiped.

What Do the Magi Teach Us about the Worship of Jesus Christ?

1. These men, these magi, understood worship to be first from their souls. They had been worshiping from their souls for some time now. They had been worshiping him at least through the journey.
2. When they arrived; when they went in the door, they overtly expressed this worship, in front of this child, they fell on their faces. This takes doctrine in the soul. They would not do this unless they know who this child is.
3. They were profoundly moved by being in His presence. This is from the knowledge in their souls. Are we profoundly moved by our understanding of the Lord Jesus Christ from our souls.
4. Only after this worship, after they expressed what was in their souls, then it was appropriate to pass along gifts. That was set aside until after they worshiped Him.
5. What do we learn by this. Internal worship always precedes external worship.

6. The worship of our Lord emanates from the mentality of the soul; it does not come from the emotion or from overt demonstration. It is all about what is in our soul.
7. This is the divine order of worship which gives meaning to the worship. First internal and then an external expression. This is where so many Christians go wrong. Believers want to wave and clap their hands. They want to worship apart from thought. Their minds are blank, but they just get into the feeling. This moving and swaying has nothing to do with Jesus Christ. Such worship is just external. You may feel something if you have something in your soul.

There is the ritualistic worship of high church. Worship which is nothing but ritual. It is an external show with nothing in the soul. It is a meaningless repetition of some rituals; it is rote. People just do it. It is going through the motions.

A pitfall of Christianity is the external signs of worship apart from the inner reality. So many have no interest in learning the mind of Christ. That takes self-discipline and concentration and investment of time. It takes a prepared teacher to teach doctrine; not an uninformed discussion leader, and asks what everyone's opinion is. These are meaningless opinions.

Believers often want instant gratification; they want to feel close to God. We are an instant gratification society. However, that is not the Christian way of life. This is a slow, step-by-step growth. Ex-Berachah people tell Bobby that they learned more at Berachah than anywhere else, and yet they stopped going.

When you get away from it, human viewpoint sweeps into your thinking. If you do not continuously take in doctrine, you will not think with the mind of Christ. You will be inundated with something else. There are churches loaded with people simply keeping up appearances. There is no renovation of thinking for someone who is just keeping up appearances. Rom. 12:2 is all about the renovation of our thinking; that is our first and foremost objective. This is an internal life with external manifestations.

Matt. 2:11 Entering the house, they saw the child with Mary His mother, and falling to their knees, they worshiped Him. Then they opened their treasures and presented Him with gifts: gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

Churches from all over America have techniques for turning you upside down and shaking the money out of your pockets. Giving is for the dissemination of the Word of God. That is what the financial report is all about. Berachah's financials are all about spreading the Word throughout the world. We are to give out of correct motivation. No one can express true worship apart from doctrine in the soul. We cannot and should not be manipulated.

The magi were correctly motivated givers. The ritual of communion is when we can worship from our souls and we think upon what we know about Jesus Christ. What rattles around in your head when you can mediate on the Lord Jesus Christ. It is not sacraments or magnificent buildings or a repetition of certain physical movements.

Bobby went to one of the most magnificent gothic cathedrals in France. There are 2 spires and they are different. All that matters is, what do you think of Christ.

External expressions of worship must always follow the correct motivation of reciprocal love of God. That must emanate from our souls. The reality of internal worship can only occur as person grows in grace and knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Doctrine must be metabolized; it must be a part of our thinking; then it becomes worship. Listening to the raw material is not enough; it must become a part of your thinking.

2Cor 9:7 Each person should do as he has decided in his heart--not out of regret or out of necessity, for God loves a cheerful giver.

The queen of Sheba brought Solomon a bunch of gold. This is the time-honored gift for a king. They knew they were going to see a king before they even left home. He is the King of Kings, Lord of Lords.

This gold undoubtedly sustained this family in the hardship which was to come. They would soon depart on an abrupt passage to Egypt. These men gave valuable assets to this family. This was God providing for His Own Son so that He could survive. This was logistical grace to Jesus Christ.

Frankincense used for healing and as a base for makeup. All 3 gifts are highly valued. There is great symbolism involved here, and all Israel would understand. Both used in the grain offering.

Lesson #0058 Matt. 2:11–14, 16 Lev. 2:1–2 Life of Christ 3/6/11 Sunday 1

A normal star does not shine on one location, but it diffuses and shows over a much larger area.

Matt. 2:11 Entering the house, they saw the child with Mary His mother, and falling to their knees, they worshiped Him. Then they opened their treasures and presented Him with gifts: gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

What happened when these men saw the Christ Child; they knew that this was He. These facts were found only in the Old Testament Scriptures or only by the Jews in the diaspora. These are the Jews who knew the prophecies, and magi from far off places knew these things. Jesus was, of course, the Jewish Messiah, in the line of David. However, these are gentiles from a gentile land and they knew about Jesus Christ and the revelation which had been given to Israel. These were believers. From this incident, we can understand the clear impact that this child would have on the entire world. He was not just the Jewish king, but He was the King of Kings and the Savior of all mankind.

These gentiles fell on their faces first, indicating obeisance, which is given only to a king or to the worship of God Himself. They were to understand from this that they had intimate knowledge of Israel's Savior.

They then stood up and presented 3 gifts: gold, frankincense and myrrh, which are very expensive and valuable spices. These gifts recognize this Person. This is tribute to a king.

The Queen of Sheba came to King Solomon and she brought him 120 talents of gold. She also brought him spices and many precious stones. These gifts she brought to the great king of Israel. The real meaning of the worship of the magi is found in Lev. 2:1.

Lev. 2:1 "When anyone presents a grain offering as a gift to the LORD, his gift must consist of fine flour. He is to pour olive oil on it, put frankincense on it,

The grain offering was the only non-bloody offering given to the Lord. There were many different offerings which symbolized death; but this is the only one which symbolized life. This is serving God's plan and will. That is exactly what Jesus was doing by becoming the God-man.

The King and God Himself are the things involved here. Gold became very important to Mary and Joseph, because they are a poor family. Gold became logistical grace for the family for what they must do for being in the plan and will of God.

Lev. 2:2 and bring it to Aaron's sons the priests. The priest will take a handful of fine flour and oil from it, along with all its frankincense, and will burn this memorial portion of it on the altar, a fire offering of a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

Magi had an important role to play in identifying the child as the God-King.

Jerusalem was not a large city and the meeting of the magi with Herod probably got out and there may have been a crowd which followed this Christ child.

Jerusalem and Bethlehem had now found out Who this Child was.

Matt. 2:11 Entering the house, they saw the child with Mary His mother, and falling to their knees, they worshiped Him. Then they opened their treasures and presented Him with gifts: gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

The Magi were warned not to return to Herod. Herod had asked them to return to him and tell him where this Christ-child was, and he said he wanted to worship the child. The magi experienced this dream and they believed it.

Today, people simply pick and choose what it is that they want to believe. Sometimes, there are things we do not like, and then we reject that. We all fail. We all have sin natures. However, the mandates of the Bible still apply to us.

Christians often question, how can heathen on the other side of the world hear the gospel? Why don't others out there have their own way? There cannot be several religions which contradict one another. That makes little sense. Salvation message is not limited by geography or language. God will see to it that all people who so desire will hear the gospel. No matter where someone is, if they desire to know God, they will receive the gospel. Whoever accepted the gospel there spread it around.

Matt. 2:12 And being warned in a dream not to go back to Herod, they returned to their own country by another route.

We will skip over a few verses.

Matt. 2:16a Then Herod, when he saw that he had been outwitted by the wise men, flew into a rage.

Another angel will come to Joseph in a dream and tell them to escape. Herod was not used to be tricked, and he was paranoid about his kingship. He was dead.

These parents needed to move out quickly. It would have taken Herod very little time to assemble his army. Herod would go out and search for the child.

Matt. 2:13 After they were gone, an angel of the Lord suddenly appeared to Joseph in a dream, saying, "Get up! Take the child and His mother, flee to Egypt, and stay there until I tell you. For Herod is about to search for the child to destroy Him."

The Old Testament, by this time, was available in Greek, and available to all of those in that area.

There is an historical precedent for Jews to go to Egypt.

In Gen. 12:10 Abram went to Egypt to escape famine. Jacob also went there. However, there were those who escaped Nebuchadnezzar during the time of Jeremiah.

Joseph and Mary and the child left for Egypt, about 75 miles away.

Matt. 2:14 So he got up, took the child and His mother during the night, and escaped to Egypt.

Matt. 2:16b He gave orders to massacre all the male children in and around Bethlehem who were two years old and under, in keeping with the time he had learned from the wise men.

Lesson #0059 Matt. 2:16, 15 Life of Christ March 6, 2011 Sunday 2

Herod has decided to kill all children 2 years and younger; and this is going to involve some technicalities.

Herod, in listening to the Magi, determined that the Christ-child was 2 years or younger.

Most of the time, the Bible lines up well with ancient history. However, this is one place where there are some questions. This is the Word of God. This appears to be an error and that calls into question the rest of the Bible's accuracy. Any inaccurate piece of information is problematic. This opens us up to accepting this but not that in the Bible.

What historical facts do we know. Jesus Christ was born in the winter of 5–4 B.C. and Herod died in 4 B.C. So we have a maximum span of a year. So Jesus could not be more than 1 year of age when Herod died. Jesus and the family had to flee Judæa while Herod was still alive, as there would be no reason to leave.

Herod's calculation is 2 years and younger. Herod probably calculated the travel time and their arrival in Jerusalem. He determined how long it took them to get there. This gives him the approximate age of the child. They came from Persia to Jerusalem.

Let's assume that the star appears the night that the Christ-child was born. If the magi arrive 2 years after the birth of Christ, Herod would have been dead.

There were 2 interviews between Herod and the magi and the family of Joseph fled, all of which would have occurred before Herod died.

The magi arrived before Jesus' family left Bethlehem.

The Time Frame of Jesus Birth and Herod's Death

1. The journey from Persia did not take 2 years, but probably a few months. Modern Iran to Jerusalem is the distance being covered.
2. The star appeared to the magi in Persia before Jesus' birth. Not necessarily on the night of His birth. The star would have been a forecast of His birth. Matt. 2:2 gives us no idea as to when this birth occurred. This way, they could have set out before the child was born. This was a supernatural star; it was not a normal star.
3. This 2 year time frame is feasible, but not the time frame of Jesus' age. The magi could have arrived within a month of our Lord's birth.
4. A 3rd possibility that Herod fudged on the 2 year calculation in order to cover all of his bases. He was truly a monster. We think of monsters of this era: Stalin, Hitler and Mao.
5. The calculation that Herod makes could be incorrect.
6. Jesus was less than a year old when the magi arrived when Herod sent out the edict to kill all of the children 2 years and younger.
7. All of this is speculation, but one scenario will be true, as the Bible is infallible.

More on this Time Frame of the Magi

1. The magi left Persia up to 2 years before the birth.
2. The travel time is unimportant in the calculation of the child's age. The magi could have traveled for 2 years, and the child still in His first year.

3. Herod's calculation would have been correct if he figured out the appearance of the star in relation to the birth. This was an unknown.
4. Likely, neither the magi or Herod knew the exact timing.
5. The magi were just looking for the King; they did not care how old He was. His age did not enter into their thinking. Herod only cared because he wanted to kill the Child.
6. So the magi worship this child, regardless of His age. He might have been a few months old and He might have been a year old. His parents are only beginning to learn and understand the impact of their Son as well.
7. The whole time sequence fits the events surrounding the magi. They fit the events concerning Herod's cutthroat orders; and they fit the time of Joseph's return from Egypt.

The Scripture which we study is accurate.

Matt. 2:16 Then Herod, when he saw that he had been outwitted by the wise men, flew into a rage. He gave orders to massacre all the male children in and around Bethlehem who were two years old and under, in keeping with the time he had learned from the wise men.

Back to Herod. What he did to Bethlehem is, he turned it into a Jewish ghetto. Russians were pushing the Germans back to Berlin. The Germans surrounded the Jewish ghetto and they began to systematically exterminate the Jews; and the Jews resisted here, for the first time, and they fought well against the Nazi soldiers. Herod here ordered the systematic killing of all children 2 years and young.

Herod died very soon after this of very painful diseases (2 of them) and members of his court kept him from killing himself. Herod wanted a monument to himself; and he dies this excruciatingly painful death. "I will bless those who bless you and I will curse those who curse you." God uses nations to administer the 5th cycle of discipline from time to time.

The Jews are aware of all this. In WWI, the Jews were thoroughly integrated into German society at this time; and yet, the Germans managed to isolate and destroy them.

Today, of course, there is another group bent on destroying the Jews. Why is it always the Jews? It is the Abrahamic covenant; the Angelic Conflict. If Satan is to avert his eternal condemnation, Satan must show that God is wrong and cannot keep His Word. One way is to show that God cannot keep His covenant.

Another objective was to keep Jesus from growing up.

Among believers, Satan wants to stop evangelization; and to stop spiritual growth. The divine viewpoint of history explains why everything happens in this world, and it is all centered upon God and His plan and all that is related to that.

The Angelic Conflict is being revised to put out.

This history of the Jews ought to be some kind of comfort to us, to indicate that God does control history. If God preserves all of these people over all this time, can God not take care of us? Do we think that our little problems amount to a hill of beans to God? Get some perspective on all of this. God never forsakes us and never deserts us, no matter what the circumstances.

Matt. 2:16 Then Herod, when he saw that he had been outwitted by the wise men, flew into a rage. He gave orders to massacre all the male children in and around Bethlehem who were two years old and under, in keeping with the time he had learned from the wise men.

There is a prophecy here. This is a quotation of one of the prophets of Israel 700 years prior to this. Prophecies are fulfilled again and again and again in God's plan. God does not determine our volition. But His plan marches on. It moves forward in the exact manner in which He has decided.

The fleeing of these people for their lives may seem unreal; but God deals with it. Ask those who have fled out of Germany and uprooting one's entire life. George Mueller is an example of this.

Every day is the day that the Lord has made. We have no excuse to be afraid. No excuse to say, "God has deserted me" or "God doesn't love me." Our circumstances inside the plan of God are just what we want. They will be exactly the best for us. Just one morning recognize this.

Matt. 2:15 He stayed there until Herod's death, so that what was spoken by the Lord through the prophet might be fulfilled: Out of Egypt I called My Son.

Lesson #0060 Matt. 2:15–23 Isa. 11:1 Life of Christ 3/9/11 Wednesday

Herod is chasing down the family of Jesus so they will go to Egypt until Herod is dead. Herod was dying of 2 diseases, and he died in great pain. He killed at least one wife and two sons. He attempted to commit suicide, but was apparently stopped.

There is nothing written about Jesus and His family in Egypt. There is always speculation. There is a necessity for them to leave Judæa and go to Egypt. This is also a fulfillment of prophecy. This was anticipated by an Old Testament prophet.

Matthew often uses an Old Testament quote, and this is divine inspiration in itself. However, what is not always obvious by the context, is still picked up on by a New Testament writer.

Matt. 2:15 He stayed there until Herod's death, so that what was spoken by the Lord through the prophet might be fulfilled: Out of Egypt I called My Son.

When the nation was just formed, God loved Israel; and God called them out of Egypt. Hosea is not thinking about the Messiah when he wrote this.

Why did Matthew understand this prophecy in this way. The answer is in typology. Hosea's statement was topological. In making this statement, Hosea did not necessarily know that this was related to the Messiah. However, God the Holy Spirit meant it in this way. A type is an Old Testament illustration or analogy, which, although it had a place in Biblical history, it is also divinely intended to foreshadow some New Testament truth about the Messiah.

The Typology Found by Matthew

1. Matthew made a topological interpretation from Hosea 11:1
2. Matthew is comparing Israel, whom God delivered from the slavery of Egypt to become a nation, as He promised Abraham; to what God would do for the spiritual deliverance of Israel in returned the exiled Messiah to Israel.
3. In Christ, there is salvation and deliverance for the Jews when He came out of Egypt; just as Israel was delivered under Moses. Out of Egypt comes our Lord, for the purpose of delivering Israel. Israel was delivered out of Egypt as a covenant promise. Jesus is the fulfillment of a covenant promise.
4. The Jews understood the national slavery issue. This was written for Jews.
5. In Matthew's quote, our Lord did not deliver Israel from physical slavery; He would deliver them from the slave market of sin.
6. In Christ was by far the greater fulfillment; the spiritual fulfillment culminating at the cross.
7. Conclusion: in this prophecy, our attention is drawn to the identification of the Savior with the nation He came to save.

Hosea 11:1 When Israel was a child, I loved him, and out of Egypt I called My son.

Matt. 2:15 He stayed there until Herod's death, so that what was spoken by the Lord through the prophet might be fulfilled: Out of Egypt I called My Son.

Then Matthew goes to Jeremiah. Jeremiah prophesied many difficult things for Israel.

Rachel is used metaphorically here, weeping for her children, who is Israel, because they are no more. Judah was destroyed; 586 B.C. In Babylonia there was slavery.

Jer. 31:15 This is what the LORD says: A voice was heard in Ramah, a lament with bitter weeping--Rachel weeping for her children, refusing to be comforted for her children because they are no more.

Matthew interprets this prophecy topologically. Jeremiah did not mean it in this way. Jeremiah understood a single meaning.

Jeremiah, Matthew and Typology

1. Jeremiah's context of Nebuchadnezzar, who devastated Judah and dragged almost all of them into slavery. The place was destroyed, including Solomon's Temple.

2. In this typology, Matthew included what Herod did to Bethlehem, where he ransacked Bethlehem, to find and kill our Lord.
3. Matthew brings in this identification.
4. He notes that there are so many incidents in the life of Israel which foreshadow the Messiah. Matthew is linking this historical event with Jesus Christ.
5. Jesus' life perfectly unfolded in accordance with the plan of God, including all of the typology of Israel's history. The Jews should have recognized this on their own.
6. Matthew again uses a typological approach.

Matt. 2:17 Then what was spoken through Jeremiah the prophet was fulfilled:

Matt. 2:18 A voice was heard in Ramah, weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children; and she refused to be consoled, because they were no more.

Joseph was given the all-clear in a dream from an angel.

Matt. 2:19 After Herod died, an angel of the Lord suddenly appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt,

The angel tells them that it is time to return to Judæa.

Matt. 2:20 saying, "Get up! Take the child and His mother and go to the land of Israel, because those who sought the child's life are dead."

Matt. 2:21 So he got up, took the child and His mother, and entered the land of Israel.

Herod had a son, whose name was Herod Archelaus, a name from history. He was the worst of the worst of Herod's children; and he was the worst one to rule over Israel.

As soon as Herod Archelaus took control, he killed 3000 Jews in the temple while they were worshipping. He would be no more respectful to a king of the Jews any more than his father was.

Herod Archelaus was a survivor, but not a good man. As Joseph begins heading up to Judæa, he is given orders to avoid this area and to go up to Galilee.

Could this be the same route as the children of Israel coming out of Egypt.

This is also logistical grace.

No one can be taken out of this life apart from God's timing.

Matt. 2:22 But when he heard that Archelaus was ruling over Judea in place of his father Herod, he was afraid to go there. And being warned in a dream, he withdrew to the region of Galilee.

Every time they made a move, it was a fulfillment of prophecy.

There is no Old Testament prophecy “He will be called a Nazarene;” so how can there be such a statement?

To answer this, we must go to several Old Testament Scriptures. There are several prophets being referred to.

Matt. 2:23 Then he went and settled in a town called Nazareth to fulfill what was spoken through the prophets, that He will be called a Nazarene.

This is clearly about the Messiah. Branch is the Hebrew word Netser. This is the connection to Nazarene. Hebrew is made up of only consonants. There are no vowels in the written Hebrew.

Where Does Nazarene Come From?

1. Netser without the vowel points is נצר. That means branch. This is the same consonants as Nazarene.
2. Therefore, there is a connection between branch and Nazarene.
3. Branch has the connotation of lowliness and obscurity in the Hebrew.
4. David was a obscure in Jesse’s house. He was the lowly shepherd. Bobby reminisces about Samuel choosing David from among Jesse’s sons.
5. David’s greater Son, Jesus Christ, also had lowly beginnings.
6. The title Nazarene fits this lowly concept. They have a similar meaning. Nazarene means lowly and obscure.
7. Nazareth has quite a raucous reputation. Nazareth was filled with lowly Galileans.
8. Galileans were despised and rejected by the Galileans.
9. The greatest portion of Jesus’ life was spent in Nazareth in the despised city of the despised Galileans.
10. It was the religious leaders of Judæa and Jerusalem.
11. This final quote by Matthew, the toughest to figure out; that is the connection. Lowlenss and reject of Messiah.

Jesus will live most of His life here in the Galilee area.

Isa. 11:1 Then a shoot will grow from the stump of Jesse, and a branch from his roots will bear fruit.

When our Lord presents Himself as the Messiah, He comes out of a town of obscurity. John was known, but Jesus was not. No human credentials and no accomplishments. He presented His spiritual credentials. Those are His credentials.

The religious leaders who knew prophecy should have linked Him to Old Testament prophecy and typology.

Herod the Great is dead. Joseph, Mary and Jesus are in Egypt. They have been instructed to return. They understood that Herod was dead, but his son was still alive, and his son was worse than Herod. He killed 3000 Jews on Passover when he took over.

In all of this, our Lord was fulfilling prophecy in the Old Testament. Jesus Christ is still a year old. He now resides in Nazareth. What about all of these years of His childhood or young adulthood. What did He do for all of these 29 years in Nazareth? What was His day to day life like?

The Scripture is silent about these years; and they would apparently add nothing to our necessary knowledge of Him. It should have been obvious to those who knew Him that He was unique. This impact was only upon those who knew Him.

Even in Nazareth, He lives; and the word does not get around about Him. We are all being prepared in our early life without much knowledge of anything. Our knowledge of divine things must grow. Jesus Christ was no different. His learning had to take place as well. This is the greater part of His life.

There is brief mention of Jesus going to Jerusalem and he was 12 years old. Only Luke records a few general facts about His childhood. From these few we can ideally, this will allow us to know Him a little better.

Luke 2:42 And when He was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem according to the custom of the Feast.

Luke 2:52 And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man.

Jesus developed physically like all children did; and he had brothers and children. He likely gazed about to see the beautiful landscape. This is what kids do.

Jesus developed a very strong body, which explains why He is able to do this or that. He had no sin nature; so his body developed as God designed it to develop. He would have had no diseases.

His strength was not unlimited; there are verses where He stopped and rested?

For 24 hours, Jesus was beat down like no one else, and He lost His footing only in carrying the cross to Golgotha.

There would have been no flaws or defect in His body; since He had no sin nature. No mood swings, no complications. He probably was very handsome with an attractive personality; and a strong delivery of His message.

He increased in His intellect; He had to increase. He had to learn as any child learns. No doubt, He had a mental capacity which is off the charts.

He likely knew Greek and Hebrew and Aramaic. It is possible that He may have known Latin; He would have had plenty of exposure to it.

We do know that He gained in intellectual knowledge in several ways. He probably attended a synagogue school as a child. He could retain things; and He did not cause trouble. The Old Testament was the Jewish textbook; so He learned. He had no formal education, but He could think rings around the pharisees and Jewish theologians.

He gained knowledge from experiencing life. He learned a lot from his brothers and sisters. Without doctrine, we are destined to repeat our mistakes.

Everything that He thought was in terms of divine viewpoint. No contaminating human viewpoint. We are clouded by our own sin nature; and by our human experiences. He had no problem with evolution. He understood that everything came from divine creation. No prejudices to overcome. He had no prejudices to take into account. He was not co-dependent with anyone; He had no bad habits.

We may have wanted to be around Him for a week or so; but we have the mind of Christ.

He also developed morally and spiritually. He had to learn the Old Testament; it was the foundation of His education he read

He no doubt spend hours in prayer and cocentration.

It will be clear that He knows and understands the Old Testament. We can take our cue from the Lord and how He handled Scripture.

God's grace poured through our Lord. He was our prototype at a ver you ag. He lived his life empowered by the spit.

All of these things re issues in our lives; but we have all of the assets that we need to live the same spiritual life that our Lord led.

He developed as the idea His development was without flaw and without a sin nature. He is the only man to grow up and function as the he could be movitvated externally, but He did not have the sin nature. He was completely innocent in thought and act

Luke 2:45 And when they did not find Him, they turned back to Jerusalem, seeking Him.

People were amazed. Genius and mastered the Scriptures; at 12 years. These teachers got there by being the best. Do not ever be intimidated by smart people. They have no real wisdom. These guys developed this possession. Suddenly there is...

There were theological discussions with religious leaders and many recognize His great knowledge.

These talks were to His advantage. He came to know first-hand, the distortions, hypocrisy, an left. He knew them backwards and forwards. He knew their souls. He had them. He listened.

We can hardly wait to pontificate with all of our knowledge. When you straighten some people out, you are arrogant and it does not encourage them.

Jesus knew when to make them mad; He knew when those around Him needed to hear the truth. Many of the teachers were negative to the core. However, there were other people who were interested in the truth.

Jesus goes missing for 3 days. Men and women traveled separately within the caravan. They frantically searched for Him. They miss Him on the caravan for a day; and then search for Him for 2 days.

His parents came into the Temple and saw Him doing something they did not expect to see. Now, it seems like this would be violating parental authority. Is that not a sin?

Luke 2:46 And it happened that after three days they found Him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them and questioning them.

Lesson #0062

Luke 2:40 Life of Christ March 13, 2011

Sunday 1

Communion Sunday:

John 12:41 “These things Isaiah said, “Because he saw His glory and he spoke of Him. The Old Testament is as much a testimony to Jesus Christ as the New, but in a different way. David saw, and Moses, and the prophets. There has never been a time in human history that God has left man with no knowledge of His plan of salvation.

Uzziah was not a bad king, but he died in 740 B.C. Isaiah had a vision of what would come. The importance of this vision is testified to by John. The 2nd Person of the Trinity, Jesus, is revealed, in the Shekinah Glory. And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us.

What did Isaiah and John see in this vision of glory? They saw Almighty God and the power and glory revealed in the omnipotence of Him. For a child will be born to us, a Son will be given to us, and the government will rest upon His shoulders, and His name will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Eternal Father, Prince of Peace. Isaiah understood that the power of God would reside in the Person of Jesus Christ.

Isaiah did not see or speak of a weakling, but He spoke of a King to be called the Mighty God. So that Person could not just be man. He is also the Creator, the God of the Universe. The dominion will be vast, and its prosperity will never end. He will reign on the throne of David and over his kingdom, to establish and sustain it with justice and righteousness from now on and forever. The zeal of the LORD of Hosts will accomplish this.

Until this very day, He has not occupied the throne of David. However, He will someday yield the scepter of power in great glory and all will bow to His will. Matt. 6:10 Your kingdom come, Your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

Behold My Servant, Whom I uphold, My Chosen One in Whom I delight. Mark 10:45 For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for the many.

He is our substitute Servant; in Him is our eternal salvation.

Philip. 2:6–8 Make your own attitude that of Christ Jesus, who, existing in the form of God, did not consider equality with God as something to be used for His own advantage. Instead He emptied Himself by assuming the form of a slave, taking on the likeness of men. And when He had come as a man in His external form, He humbled Himself by becoming obedient to the point of death--even to death on a cross. The most ignominious of all deaths. When man looked upon the dying figure of Jesus Christ on the cross, he saw more than just a man. The world saw omnipotent God; God in the Person of the Lord Jesus Christ, undergoing the humiliation of taking upon Himself our sins. All of this is done for you and me, because God so loved the world.

Why such a paradox of humility and glory? Jesus Christ is the only One Who could satisfy the requirements of God to pay for our sins. He is the only One Who could mediate between man and God. Jesus had all the power of God, and still, He went to the cross for us. This humble Servant would be the mighty conqueror. The cross must precede the crown, and in both, there is glory.

Philip. 2:6–9 For this reason God also highly exalted Him and gave Him the name that is above every name, so that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow--of those who are in heaven and on earth and under the earth-- and every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

Isa. 53:11 As a result of the anguish of His soul, He will see it and be satisfied. By His knowledge, the Righteous One will justify the many, for He will bear their iniquity. To look upon Jesus Christ as anything other than our substitute, is to miss all that He is. He opened the way to our glorious future. We are lost, but He found us in His ignominious death.

We know almost nothing about our Lord's early life, past his first couple years and on up until around age 30.

Luke 2:40 The boy grew up and became strong, filled with wisdom, and God's grace was on Him.

His physical body was perfect and without illness and defect.

He was perfect and He did not rebel, have tantrums, attention deficit, etc. He perfectly honored the authority of His parents, just as the Old Testament mandated.

He had a conscience with perfect standards. He was always without guilt. He certainly had emotions and appreciated all that God created and He wept. But He never expressed emotionalism of any mental attitude sins.

He was certainly and truly tempted.

When did Jesus become conscious of Who He was? He certainly understood this within the first decade of His life.

He also matured intellectually as well.

Lesson #0063 Luke 2:40–49, 52 Life of Christ March 13, 2011 Sunday 2

There are 3 verses which deal with our Lord between age 1 and age 30. One difference is, He would have been different for His parents; an ideal son.

He also grew intellectually, and He had an amazing capacity to learn. His mental acuity is off the charts. He learned by experience and in His parents' home. He also went to synagogue school, as did all children between ages 6 and 10. He had a formal education at least until age 10, and He undoubtedly knew the Old Testament. He could pull passages out of the Old Testament and interpret them very easily.

He metabolized doctrine just as we do. His concentration and mental processes were perfect and He continued to spiritually advance very rapidly. He lived with the same power, the filling of the Holy Spirit, and we have His mind in the Scriptures.

The grace of God was upon Him. Jesus had the favor of God and He deserved it, as He was without sin. We do not deserve God's grace. He grew in grace orientation. How could Jesus be anything less than perfect grace, dying for all of us.

Luke 2:40 The boy grew up and became strong, filled with wisdom, and God's grace was on Him.

Jesus continued to grow in wisdom and stature, and in grace with God and man. No self-righteousness whatsoever in Him. He is the Servant and He acted like it in His life. He had incredible humility. He showed great love and great consideration for those around Him, whether they deserved it or not. He demonstrated perfect virtue love. This is what we take in doctrine to be able to do.

He developed in every way as we do. He lived in the midst of adversity and degeneracy and misery, and yet without sin; without self-righteousness, without arrogance. He was the very perfect man.

Luke 2:52 And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man.

He lived quietly in Nazareth in silence. The silence of the gospels concerning these early years was broken just once in the book of Luke.

His parents go up to Jerusalem for the Festival of the Firstfruits.

Luke 2:41–51 Every year His parents traveled to Jerusalem for the Passover Festival. When He was 12 years old, they went up according to the custom of the festival. After those days were over, as they were returning, the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem, but His parents did not know it. Assuming He was in the traveling party, they went a day's journey. Then they began looking for Him among their relatives and friends. When they did not find Him, they returned to Jerusalem to search for Him. After three days, they found Him in the temple complex sitting among the teachers, listening to them and asking them questions. And all those who heard Him were astounded at His understanding and His answers. When His parents saw Him, they were astonished, and His mother said to Him, "Son, why have You treated us like this? Your father and I have been anxiously searching for You." "Why were you searching for Me?" He asked them. "Didn't you know that I had to be in my Father's house?" But they did not understand what He said to them. Then He went down with them and came to Nazareth and was obedient to them. His mother kept all these things in her heart.

Jesus became absorbed in conversation with the most learned in the Law and the Old Testament, and, during this time, His parents took a caravan out of town. They must have thought that He was somewhere with them in the caravan. Men and women traveled separately in the caravan. One would have assumed that Jesus was not with them. At that time, parents begin to panic, after a full day, without a child.

They searched for several days; 2 or 3 days. If they knew fully Who He was, they might not have worried as much. They got very upset over this.

Luke 2:41 And His parents went to Jerusalem every year at the Feast of the Passover.

Luke 2:42 And when He was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem according to the custom of the Feast.

Luke 2:43 And fulfilling the days, as they returned, the boy Jesus stayed in Jerusalem. And Joseph and His mother did not know.

Luke 2:44 But they, supposing Him to have been in the company, went a day's journey. And they looked for Him among the kinsfolk and acquaintances.

Luke 2:45 And when they did not find Him, they turned back to Jerusalem, seeking Him.

These scholars must have been dazzled by Him, and kept up a conversation with him for 3 days. He had a tremendous capacity and understanding of the Word of God. At this time, He had tremendous skills in the knowledge of the Old Testament.

What would you do if all of your theological questions were being answered and explained by a 12 year old. There was obvious excellent content.

All who heard Him were amazed at His understanding. Imperfect middle indicative of εξιστιμι, which means to drive out, to confuse, to astound. These scholars were utterly astounded within their own minds. His knowledge and speech was complete overload for them. He never stopped.

You know that they must have brought in other experts and other teachers. Because of the holy days, there were probably teachers and experts from other cities. This could have been like a Bible conference going on. Not begun as such, but continued as such.

What do you suppose they were discussing? What kinds of information do you believe passed between them? They probably covered a lot of ground in 3 days. Even if they simply went 3 12 hour days.

The very meaning of existence as related to God; the actual versus the possible; a philosophical discussion with regards to God Himself. There were probably many questions about difficult interpretations of this or that passage. What do you think about it? Jesus could take the context around it and show how this fit into the Mosaic Law.

It is likely that they got into the prophets and into the Messianic prophecies.

He could have said, "I wrote this, so I will let you know what I meant." However, He did not because He voluntarily restricted Himself and He did not use His divine nature unless willed by God the Father.

We cannot say that He knew these things because He was God. It was not just there; He learned it. He could utterly astonish the greatest scholars of His day. They must have asked every question that they always wanted to know.

Abraham was a believer and it was reckoned to him as righteousness. He could not be a part of the kingdom of God without faith in Jehovah Elohim. Probably some were saved in this discussion with Him and there would have been others who resisted Him. Others would have had the seeds planted in them and they would believe at a later time.

You can present the truth, and volition can still reject it. Jesus would have given the best and clearest presentation of the gospel, and it can be rejected. Do not be surprised at giving the greatest presentation of the gospel and have it rejected.

We may reasonably surmise that He knew Who He was. It would be 18 years before He announced Who He was; but He would not have revealed that here, because this was not God's plan for Him to reveal Himself at this time.

Luke 2:47 And all who heard Him were astonished at His understanding and answers.

His mother spoke to Jesus as she would any child. They were desperately concerned for Him. They were overwhelmed. They also had a strong reaction.

They must have had a number of different reactions, e.g., happiness that He is in the Temple holding his own against great scholars. At the same time, they are concerned that He would allow His parents to go through this anguish.

She was giving her son what-for, as a parent would naturally would do. To her, He had not honored the wishes of His parents. Kids grew up much faster at that time. They expected Him to be on this caravan; and yet He was in the Temple. Yet, in this, He had not sinned.

His parents were His authority, and He did this without sinning. There was a higher authority in God, and His parent's wishes were overruled by the will of God. Jesus was there to do the will of God.

Luke 2:48 And seeing Him, they were amazed. And His mother said to Him, "Child, why have you done so to us? Behold, your father and I have looked for you, greatly distressed."

Jesus asks them, "What did you look for Me?" Age 12 would have been a level of growth attained by Jesus Christ, which was accepted. Jesus would have been an adult at this point.

It is possible that Jesus was disappointed with His parents for not quite getting this, not understanding Who he was.

Luke 2:49 And He said to them, "Why did you look for Me? Do you not know that I must be about My Father's business?"

Luke 2:50 And they did not understand the word which He spoke to them.

Jesus did not buck their authority. He went back with them. Jesus was the authority of the universe, and yet, He consented to return to Nazareth with them. He chose to place Himself under their authority.

God the Father's will was for Him to remain in Nazareth with His parents under their authority. This was a learning experience for His parents; and Jesus learned to listen to the legalism and apostasy of the religious leaders of His day. He learned about the opposition and how He could address it.

Luke 2:51 And He went with them and came to Nazareth, and He was subject to them. But His mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

Luke 2:52 And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man.

Lesson #0064 Life of Christ March 20, 2011 Sunday 1

Our Lord Jesus Christ had perfect character as a child and He enjoyed an excellent upbringing. His parents were mature believers. They were great facilitators to His spiritual growth.

Some of you have children and all you want is for them to love you and to be their friend. That is sad. The first thing you need to do is to teach them discipline.

Mary would have been a good mother and she was a student of the Scriptures. When it was explained what would happen to her, she accepted it, understanding, to some degree, who Jesus was. We believe in Christ in the same way, not fully understanding all about His character.

Joseph would have taught his child a craft; a profession. This would have been carpentry, which is what Jesus would have done. Before His public ministry, Jesus worked hard, just as all of us do. He had a vocation. His step-father made certain that He had a vocation.

Apparently Joseph died prior to our Lord's public ministry. He is never mentioned during the public ministry of our Lord Jesus Christ. Joseph was in the line of David; he was the immediate successor. Jesus Christ was the king, and He could not be the king until His father had passed.

In the course of His life, Jesus Christ was sinless; He had no sin nature; because He had not human father. He remained in a state of perfection for all of His life. He could not pay the penalty for our sins without being perfect, the unblemished Lamb of God to take away all the sins of the world.

In the midst of adversity, humor is a bit of a lift; and doubtless, the Lord had a sense of humor. He did not engage in brawls nor was He a bully nor did He pick on his younger siblings. He was head and shoulders above all of His contemporaries.

He did not get any spankings or time-outs for bad behavior (although it is not out of the question that He received some for things that He did not do). He showed respect for those in authority, despite their sinfulness.

Those in authority over us are in authority over us; we do not get to pick and choose the ones that we respect and the ones that we disobey.

We can also surmise that there was no period of rebellion, as many teenagers go through. He was responsive toward the wishes and directives of His parents. He fulfilled the mandates of the Old Testament concerning His parents; Honor your mother and father. Certainly, there were times when He was treated unjustly by His parents; and He was respectfully, nonetheless.

If you are not authority-orientated, then life becomes a constant battle.

In all of these things, Jesus was exactly like us. He had a soul like ours and bodily functions just like ours; and yet, He was unique. He had a gracious personality, because He was the epitome of grace, representing God to man. He lived grace. He demonstrated grace.

Jesus was probably quite puzzling as well. No doubt, His parents often laid in bed with many questions. Jesus had no sin nature, and He would have been quite unusual for that reason.

Nazareth was a Roman army town; and when there are guys in the service, things happen. This was no different in the city of Nazareth. Nazareth was a crossroads town, where people came and went. There were temptations and places where carnal lusts could be satisfied.

Jesus was not a legalist; He was not self righteous. He did not run people down who were sinners. He would later spend time with taxpayers and prostitutes. They were His friends. Pharisees and sadducees were not His friends. Jesus was not self righteous.

Jesus had no utopian illusions about mankind. He knew that mankind was not essentially good. That is a view of certain people today; that utopia is possible. If only the government could be in charge. Rousseau and Voltaire wrote all about this.

Bobby read an article about what would happen if Israel laid down their arms, they would cease to exist as a nation within 2 days.

Jesus could tell that man, with their sin natures, could not please God. All our righteousness are as filthy rags in His sight (Isaiah).

Jesus completely fulfilled the Law without a single mistake. While we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. If there were a single violation of the Mosaic Law, then He could not be our substitute. How could anyone be without sin? If He was not perfect, then we cannot be saved.

The march of His life was specifically for that purpose. As we study His life and ministry, it culminates in His purpose as man and God.

We now leave His 30 years.

The public ministry took place over a very short time. It begins with the designated forerunner, John the Baptizer. From the time that Jesus was 12, he dazzled everyone with His superior knowledge. He was a genius. After this age, the gospels go silent for the next 18 years. We can only speculate about those years.

We know His character from His public ministry. We can only draw a few conclusions from the public ministry; but these are only generalities that we can depend upon.

Some go well beyond this evident. Some have surmised that Jesus was married with children. As the God-man, what sort of children would He produce? Furthermore, this is not His purpose in life.

Many liberties are taken in the theater with His life. No one can know His actual movements or activities or communications in those years. He did not sin; He had family life; He had a vocation; He developed physically, mentally and spiritually. Clearly those silent years prepared Him for the final 3 years of His life.

Bob spoke of the great deal of preparation required for the ministry. B. B. Warfield said 40 years of preparation for 1 year of ministry, that is a good deal.

Lesson #0065 Luke 1:17 3:1–3 Life of Christ March 20, 2011 Sunday 2

The prophecy.

Luke 1:17 And he will go before Him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of fathers to their children, and the disobedient to the understanding of the righteous, to make ready for the Lord a prepared people.

Then John, about 6 months, is the forerunner of Jesus Christ, about 30 years after this prophecy.

All 4 gospels speak of John. Matt. 3:1–12 Mark 1:1–8 Luke 3:1–18 John 1:6–8 3:27–36

Our homework assigned is to read these passages and to see how these gospels compliment one another. We will put these together to get the entire picture. We will see each one has a different perspective, and there are different details revealed in these accounts.

400 years have gone by, and there were no prophecies from the Lord. Many Jews were waiting for a word; they were waiting for some prophet to step forward and say something. When John stepped forward, people came from all over to hear John the Baptizer, a prophet. This man drew a big crowd. This became well known throughout all Israel. He was preaching in the desert-wilderness.

He was very effective; he was gifted in teaching.

John was a link between all that was great in Israel's past. The prophets; those who spoke the Word of God clearly and with authority and without fear. He was also a revealer of the evils of that present generation. That was also indicative of Israel's past. Furthermore, he was fearless. He had no problem condemning anyone who was a part of the evil of his generation. So many who came out to hear him in the wilderness loved his message.

He rebuked the religious leaders, and this resonated with the people. He took on the rulers of Palestine. John was the herald of the One they were waiting for. This began the new era of the future king.

The legalists, pharisees and sadducees were the ones who should have been interested, but they were not.

John the Baptizer was kind of a strange person. He was kind of weird. He was announcing the advent of the King.

You would think that he would make these announcements in the streets of Jerusalem, but he was out by the Jordan River.

John wore a belt and a sack. He ate locusts and wild honey. That is a weird guy.

Matt. 3:4 John himself had a camel-hair garment with a leather belt around his waist, and his food was locusts and wild honey.

He probably looked like quite a wildman, out in the wilderness. He was not exactly what one would expect of an exalted herald calling for people to observe the coming of the King. His humble beginning and attitude spoke of the humility of the One to Come.

He was humble in deeds and in every other way. He was the forerunner of the King of Kings, Who is also very humble.

Mark 1:6 John wore a camel-hair garment with a leather belt around his waist and ate locusts and wild honey.

Nothing is known of John's life prior to this ministry. We have his birth and the predictions of his future ministry, and from there, we go right into his ministry.

John was well aware of the apostasy of the religious leaders. He could tailor his message just for them and the common people. His father was a priest in the Temple and his father loved the Scriptures. His father knew about all that went on in the Temple. His father could have taught him what is right and wrong about the Judaism which existed during their time.

The Temple was a great place to observe apostasy. He made visits to Jerusalem for the festivals and the holy days; and there, he could observe firsthand the evils of the day. The hypocrisy of the religious types of that day.

He saw the tyranny of Roman rule. He saw the restlessness of the people for deliverance and their hunger for truth and for a Deliverer. He understood the impact of his calling. He called for repentance; a change of mind, for his people.

We will go into repentance in the future. John understood the impact of his calling. He had the privilege of presenting what Israel was looking for.

How would they see the future Messiah, as a political liberator or as the liberator from the slave market of sin? Those were the options in the announcement of the King.

John had 30 years to prepare for his short ministry. Luke tries to give the exact date, but there is some dispute about this time period. There are other sources that we can go to.

Luke 3:1 In the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, while Pontius Pilate was governor of Judea, Herod was tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip tetrarch of the region of Iturea and Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene,

There Are 6 Chronological Markers

1. A.D. 26–36 for Pontius Pilate.
2. Herod Anitpas, who was deposed in A.D. 39
3. Philip died in A.D. 34.
4. Lysanias cannot be dated as of right now.
5. Chaiphus was the High Priest until A.D. 37.
6. So we place this between 26 and 34.
7. Tiberius Cæsar's 15th year, but there are 5 ways this is calculated. There is a calendar that needs to be used. We do not know the calendar that Luke uses. What calendar was available; the Julian calendar, revised in 45 B.C. by Julius Caesar.
 - a. The Syrian method for years. 21 Sept 26 to 21Sept 27. Crucifixion would be A.D. 30.
 - b. The Julian calendar, begins Aug and December of 29. Crucifixion placed in A.D. 33.
 - c. Probably 26 or 27 would be the calendar that a Jew would use.

So, let's place his ministry in A.D. 26.

at this time, the Word of God came to John, which is a formula phrase. This is a prophetic message to God to be delivered to Israel. We find this Haggai and Zechariah and Malachi, all 1:1 for each of those books (post-exilic prophets). John would fit into this same mold. 4 to 6 centuries after these great prophets. Many of those who heard John understood this. John is claiming to be an Old Testament prophet.

John's prophecy was quite different; he claims, "The Kingdom has come. It's here. It is not sometime later down the road. It is right now."

Luke 3:2 during the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, God's word came to John the son of Zechariah in the wilderness.

Bobby gives the parallel passages once again. Bobby will take these 3 synoptic passages and combine them into one passage. This will be a synthesis of divinely inspired Scripture.

Luke 3:3 He went into all the vicinity of the Jordan, preaching a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins,

Lesson #0066 John the Baptist Life of Christ March 23, 2011 Wednesday

There had been no prophecy for 400 years, and suddenly, out of nowhere, came Jesus Christ. So many different groups ruled over Israel. The Persians and the Chaldeans and the Assyrians and now the Romans.

Now, a prophet spoke out at the Jordan River, and he kept saying, "The kingdom is at hand." His fame spread like wildfire, and huge crowds came out to hear what this prophet had to say. This is a man who had the Word of the Lord. No prophecy had been heard for centuries.

However, John ben Zacharias was a very strange man. He would be the forerunner for Jesus Christ.

Did we do our homework? Repentance is a word that is very misunderstood.

Luke 3:3 He went into all the vicinity of the Jordan, preaching a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins,

Luke 3:4 as it is written in the book of the words of the prophet Isaiah: A voice of one crying out in the wilderness: "Prepare the way for the Lord; make His paths straight!"

Luke 3:5 Every valley will be filled, and every mountain and hill will be made low; the crooked will become straight, the rough ways smooth,

Luke 3:6 and everyone will see the salvation of God."

The parallel passage in Matt. 3:1:

Matt. 3:1 In those days John the Baptist came, preaching in the Wilderness of Judea

Matt. 3:2 and saying, "Repent, because the kingdom of heaven has come near!"

Matt. 3:3 For he is the one spoken of through the prophet Isaiah, who said: A voice of one crying out in the wilderness: "Prepare the way for the Lord; make His paths straight!"

Matt. 3:4 John himself had a camel-hair garment with a leather belt around his waist, and his food was locusts and wild honey.

Matt. 3:5 Then people from Jerusalem, all Judea, and all the vicinity of the Jordan were flocking to him,

Matt. 3:6 and they were baptized by him in the Jordan River as they confessed their sins.

Mark 1:1 The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

Mark 1:2 As it is written in Isaiah the prophet: Look, I am sending My messenger ahead of You, who will prepare Your way.

Mark 1:3 A voice of one crying out in the wilderness: "Prepare the way for the Lord; make His paths straight!"

Mark 1:4 John came baptizing in the wilderness and preaching a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins.

Mark 1:5 The whole Judean countryside and all the people of Jerusalem were flocking to him, and they were baptized by him in the Jordan River as they confessed their sins.

Synoptic Accounts

1. All these accounts have similarities and differences.
2. Each narrative adds something of John's preaching.
3. That is the beauty of the synoptic gospels. Everything which is written is divinely inspired. There is no contradiction anywhere. There is a uniqueness to each author.
4. Each gospel confirms the other, while adding knowledge from their own perspective. The gospels verify each other simply because they agree. Why does one author add information that another lacked? It reveals their own personal perspective.

Bobby is going to give an interpretive synthesis of all 3 passages, which will include all of the facts.

In those days, John went into the region around the Jordan River in the Judæan desert in fulfillment of what is written in the prophet Isaiah: I sent My messenger before You to prepare a path for You. John preached a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sin. He said, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." This John the Baptist is the one spoken of by the prophet Isaiah. The voice of one calling in the desert, the voice prepares the way for the Lord, make straight paths for Him [open up a way for Him], every valley will be filled up and every mountain and hill will be leveled; crooked paths will be straightened [much of the apostasy in Israel will be revealed]; rough paths will be made smooth; all mankind will see the salvation of God. This is John's complete message to Israel, paralleling Isaiah's message from 8 centuries before. What John was presenting was close at hand; not centuries down the road.

The difference was timing. John is called the baptizer. He was proclaiming a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins. He dunked them under water and pulled them back up. Secondly, a repentance, for the Kingdom of God was at hand.

What Is the Connection?

1. His baptism indicated a repentance on the part of the one who was being baptized. This does not refer to professing one's sins in front of others.
2. It was part of John's ministry to baptize the repenters in the Jordan River.
3. Those being baptized were the ones coming out to him at the Jordan River.
4. These were responding to his call to repent for the forgiveness of sin.

5. The repentants were a group of people who acknowledged and accepted His message.
6. Exactly what this repentance meant, we have studied. It refers to a change of mind. This is important in understanding John's message to Israel. He baptized in a different dispensation. He was still a part of the Age of Israel. This meant that his baptism and message was specifically for Israel. The church was not found in the Old Testament.

John's Baptism of Repentance; What Was It?

1. This was a symbolic baptism. Those being baptized were identified with the future kingdom of God, which was promised to Israel in the Davidic Covenant.
2. What is clear is, these people are not yet in the Kingdom. It had not yet been offered by the King.
3. John's baptism ritually identified the repentant Jews with the future kingdom when it was initiated because of their repentance, their change of mind. It is like our water baptism today, which ritually identifies the believer with the work of Christ. It represents the believer's change of mind concerning the work and Person of Jesus Christ. When that person is baptized, it is a testimony of faith in Christ. Being baptized and dunked without a message means nothing is being represented. This is a ritual identification, so the gospel needs to be given. We do not have to be baptized to be saved.
4. John's baptism was preparatory work for the appearance of the King, Who would be shortly identified by John. The promise of the Kingdom. People change their minds about the fact that the Messiah has come.
5. The people being baptized would be a remnant of Israel. Based upon a change of mind and the future forgiveness of sin. This is also the entrance to the kingdom for the Jews who are promised the kingdom. In the Millennium we will also be...
6. The remnant of Jews refers to the repentant of the Jews; those who will be part of the Kingdom of Heaven and God's Kingdom on Earth, as the fulfillment of the Davidic covenant. The Jews understood this; there is a history and a future to this remnant. There was a remnant of believers during the time of Isaiah. Assyrian attacked the northern kingdom; and Chaldea and Babylonia to the southern kingdom. There was a remnant of believers who returned to the Land of Promise. This is a foreshadowing of a more distant fulfillment.

The Kingdom of God has yet to be instituted. It is still future. The King was rejected; the King was crucified. At this point, John was addressing only the Jews of Israel. He was presenting the Messiah; he was looking forward to the Messiah.

Here is the king who will make a legitimate offer, and He will be rejected. When Messiah is rejected the forgiveness of sin is provided for on the cross. Isa. 53 is all about the suffering Servant, our Lord on the cross.

Acts 13:38 Let it be known to you, brothers, that forgiveness of sin is made to you. The forgiveness of sin is effective for all. Repentance of sin, the Kingdom of Heaven, all pulled together by John's baptism.

How Are These All Related?

1. Only through Jesus Christ could sin be forgiven; and only through Him could be brought the Kingdom of God. A change of mind because Israel had been so apostate over the past 50 or more years. They followed their religious leaders, who were teaching them salvation by keeping the law.
2. Only those who repented, symbolized by the baptism of John, would be the remnant of Israel and enter into the Kingdom. They did not get the kingdom through the baptism but through the change of mind.
3. This baptism was a symbol; a representative of the coming Messiah; they were identified with the Messiah and His future Kingdom.
4. The baptism was a symbolic pledge of those who repented that Messiah would forgive them their sins. It was a pledge; a symbolic pledge. This pledge that they would enter the kingdom because they changed their minds. These people being baptized would not see the Kingdom in their lifetime, but they would become a part of it.
5. The judgment of the Messiah Himself had to precede their forgiveness; He had to die in order for our sins to be forgiven.
6. When John was preaching, his judgment on the cross was yet in the future and his ministry had not yet begun. He was the herald; the forerunner.
7. The crowing of the King could only be done when the judgment was complete. This was a legitimate offer, had Israel accepted Him as their King and Savior. A legitimate offer.
8. Without the cross, no one could enter into the kingdom, because sins would not be forgiven.
9. The entrance into the Kingdom and forgiveness of sin by those being baptized was all in the future. That is why they changed their minds. They looked forward to what would happen.
10. That is why John's baptism was a symbolic or representative thing.

So we will need to take a close look at the background of baptism. It had a meaning. There was a background for this. They already understood what baptism meant. What did John insist on the ritual of baptism? Because they would get it. They were well-versed in baptism already.

Lesson #0067

Luke 2: Life of Christ March 24, 2011

Thursday

We are currently looking at John the son of Zachariah. John prepared for the offer of the Kingdom. They must accept the King John spoke of. This was not a political savior that John announced. He was announcing the Savior, Who would forgive them their sins. He would bring them into the Kingdom as regenerate Jews, as those who believed in Jesus Christ.

Bobby gave us a composite of the 3 John the Baptizer passages:

In those days, John went into the region around the Jordan River in the Judæan desert in fulfillment of what is written in the prophet Isaiah: I sent My messenger before You to prepare a path for You. John preached a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sin. He said, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." This John the Baptist is the one spoken of by the prophet Isaiah. The voice of one calling in the desert, the voice prepares the way for the Lord, make straight paths for Him [open up a way for Him], every valley will be filled up and every mountain and hill will be leveled; crooked paths will be straightened [much of the apostasy in Israel will be revealed]; rough paths will be made smooth; all mankind will see the salvation of God.

This was a very special baptism. There are 7 baptisms in the Bible. The real baptism is an actual baptism; we are identified with the Lord Jesus Christ in the baptism of the Holy Spirit. There are 3 symbolic or ritualistic baptisms. This baptism was the fulfillment of the Davidic Covenant. There would be an identification of the Davidic Covenant, the King and His people. The kingdom of heaven and the King were at hand. They were quite close; the King was over in Nazareth. The King had finally arrived after all of those centuries. All of this time, they expected the King; all of the prophets that spoke of Him; and He is at hand.

What Is the Kingdom of Heaven?

1. This is any type of rulership that God asserts on this earth.
2. John proclaimed the future rule of Jesus Christ, the King Who had not yet been introduced.
3. It was a kingdom instituted by God Himself. The kingdom of heaven would occur at the 2nd advent.
4. This would be the first appearance of the God-man, Jesus Christ.

Unfortunately, Jesus would be rejected. Many accepted Him and believed in Him, but many in the nation rejected Him. They hated Him and they killed Him.

The cross had to come before the crown. How can this be a legitimate offer? If the King has to die. Even if He was accepted by the Jews, Jesus still had to die for the forgiveness of sins. Repentance and baptism which identifies the Jews with this kingdom. The kingdom of heaven is the future kingdom of the Millennium.

His Was a Ritual Baptism, Symbolizing...

1. A change of mind of the Jews and the nation about the Messiah. They had to accept that He is the Messiah.

2. They had to accept a future forgiveness of sins by the Messiah. There was a lot of legalism at this time. Remember the rich young ruler?
3. Entrance into the kingdom was brought in by the King for those who are regenerate.

Why was this water baptism necessary? What was it all about? Israel understood ritual; their religious lives was all wrapped around ritual. This baptism ritual had meaning well beyond John. This was not brand new. The Jews understood what it meant. Baptism was a very common word in the Old Testament.

What Did Baptism Mean in That Culture and Time?

1. Βαπτίζω which means to dip, to dye.
2. Baptizô was a common word in the fuller's trade (one who works with cloth).
3. The fuller received the cloth, which was unprocessed sheep's wool. It had no luster and it needed to be washed. Sheep do not smell very good. This wool needed to be cleaned up before it was used.
4. It was prepared for use by being dipped into bleach and then into dye. This was a very common industry.
5. When the wool emerged from the bleach, it was clean and the smell was gone.
6. When it arose from the dye, it was further altered with a lusted that it did not have before.
- 7.
8. The appearance of the cloth was changed by bleaching it and dyeing it. It was a completely different thing; there was a change in the wool itself.
9. This was the literal concept of the word βαπτίζω.
10. But baptizô did not emphasize the process, but the result of the process.

There was a symbolic meaning of baptizô as well. Iron is a hard substance; and iron can be used metaphorically as well. This could be used to change identify, to change appearance, to change in a relationship. This metaphorical usage could be understood by the Jews.

There Was a Baptism in the Old Testament

1. Water was used extensively in the Old Testament in connection with the ritual of cleansing. Mary washed at the end of the period of time, after giving birth. Water was used extensively in the ritual of cleansing; and consecration and change to a new identify or relationship.
2. Lev. 14:7 refers to the sprinkling of water and a literal cleansing. The Jews were mandated to good hygiene in the Mosaic Law.
3. The unclean person had to wash with water to remove his uncleanness. Lev. 16:4
4. A literal washing could change or cleanse from symbolic uncleanness. When the physical act was done, symbolically this was going from being unclean to clean.

5. The high priest was to carry out rituals on the Day of Atonement. He needed to wash himself with water, which indicated that he was cleansed. This idea is, he was cleansed from sin, symbolically. Only then could he enter into the Holy of Holies for the sacrifices.
6. Literal washing first meant that he was symbolically clean, cleansed from sin.
7. So this literal use of water in the Old Testament signified 2 things: cleansing from sin and devotion and fidelity to God.
8. This is a change of identify from clean to unclean. There is a new relationship.

There is a requirement of Judaism; a new convert to Judaism had to have this.

Old Testament Baptism

1. In baptism, converts were ritually admitted into an identification with the people of Israel and with the promises of God to Israel. This included gentiles. There was a baptism, a circumcision and the animal sacrifices.
2. Baptism symbolized the removal of the defilement of sin. Sin was what blocked a relationship with God. The cleansing of baptism represented a new relationship with God where there was none before.
3. The baptizing of the new convert symbolized a changed relationship with God. Water baptism is a changed relationship, for us, from lost to regenerate.
4. Sin is no longer a barrier to the relationship with God. Baptism was soteriological for the Jews in Israel.
5. In the case of conversion of Gentiles, this signified terminating a relationship with their false gods. And beginning a new relationship with Y^ehowah.
6. Baptism was an identification with the God of Israel where none existed before.
7. This ritual cleansing and identification continued to be practiced by the Jews in the time when John was preaching it.

The Jews already had the concept of baptism; and John tweaked it slightly. He was preaching this to Israel about their current need to change; their current need to repent.

Μετανοεω and it is used as an imperative of entreaty. John entreated his audience to change their minds. Standing up in front of everyone and feeling sorry about your sins is not what John was talking about. John wanted these people to change their minds about something.

Perhaps the idea is, to change their minds about what they expected to find in the Messiah.

He does this with a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins. Here, this is the idea of a symbolic cleansing portrayed in the literal dunking of water.

The Baptism of Repentance of John

1. Something great was going to occur. The Messiah was coming. The people came and said, "I want to be baptized; I can't wait." This was quite exciting for the people; they were stunned and overjoyed; the Messiah would be there. The baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins. They were to change their minds about the Messiah, about His appearance and His work.
2. This signified that they had changed their minds about Christ. We were not clean and now we are clean.
3. John was immersing these people. Sprinkling does not reveal the real meaning for being baptized. The old relationship is gone and the new relationship has begun. John immersed people in the Jordan River. This mode symbolized the forgiveness of sins.
4. John was immersing people in the waters of the Jordan River. The necessity for the Messiah to do it. The Messiah had to change the relationship between these people and God. This was all about the Messiah and His work.
5. They changed their minds about what Christ would accomplish on the cross and the offer of a relationship with God. Who could do that? Only the Messiah on the cross. Here is entrance into the kingdom. There were many people there to be baptized. There were many people who identified with the Messiah and His work and the Kingdom.

The only problem for them was, when would this actually happen? Would he walk into this place and destroy the Romans? Even though the kingdom was not instituted in the 1st advent, this would come in the 2nd advent.

All that was necessary was a change of mind. We accept the Lord Jesus Christ as our Savior. We will return with Him and we will rule with Him. That is our promise.

No ritual sacrifice like baptism could be efficacious for sin; this was a symbolic ritual of baptism. This represented the work of Christ. For many years, there was the concept of baptismal regeneration. That is a heresy and a fallacy. Baptism has nothing to do with your eternal future.

For them, it was the same. It was a symbol of the reign of God in the Millennium. This was John's introduction to the Lord Jesus Christ, preparing our Lord's path. This message would divide the nation. It would separate the saved from the lost.

Final 3 Points

1. The future work of the Messiah must be accepted for what it is and what it does.
2. A change of mind is necessary from the old way of thinking about the ritual sacrifices to the new real sacrifices. The old rituals are obsolete.
3. The baptism was a recognition that the one who was baptized had changed his mind and had repented and was forgiven.

John the Baptizer was the forerunner to Jesus Christ. He was 30 years old in A.D. 26. One of the methods for heralding our Lord was baptism. We was also a prophet on the order of the Old Testament prophets, like Isaiah. Israel had not heard a voice from God through a prophet for 4 centuries. Nothing but dead silence, and they were ready to hear a voice. This is how Israel received divine revelation.

It was a bad time for God's teaching during the time of John the Baptizer. They needed this reassurance. "Has God forgotten us?" they asked themselves. They did not like being subject to Roman occupation.

Israel, at this time, was in a general state of apostasy. The path they should have followed was well-defined for them in a number of places. David spoke to his son Solomon and he was about to hand over the throne for the first time; and his was the first in the Davidic line. That advice is found in 1Kings 2:3-4 And keep the charge of Jehovah your God, to walk in His ways, to keep His statutes, and His commandments, and His judgments, and His testimonies, as it is written in the Law of Moses, so that you may prosper in all that you do and wherever you turn yourself, that Jehovah may continue His Word which He spoke concerning me, saying, If your sons take heed to their way, to walk before Me in truth with all their heart and with all their soul saying, there shall not be a man of yours cut off from the throne of Israel. The first great king of Israel tells Solomon what is mandated for a nation to be great.

In the time of John, the people then were interested in politics, in power; they had become very secular, in the guise of religion. John's message was a message of repentance. The actual preaching of John is found in 3 passages.

A synthesis of these passages: In those days, John went into the region around the Jordan River in the Judæan desert in fulfillment of what is written in the prophet Isaiah: I sent My messenger before You to prepare a path for You. John preached a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sin. He said, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." This John the Baptist is the one spoken of by the prophet Isaiah. The voice of one calling in the desert, the voice prepares the way for the Lord, make straight paths for Him [open up a way for Him], every valley will be filled up and every mountain and hill will be leveled; crooked paths will be straightened [much of the apostasy in Israel will be revealed]; rough paths will be made smooth; all mankind will see the salvation of God.

"Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand" and "a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sin" are 2 very problematic passages.

Baptism is an identification. Today, it is a ritual, symbolic of our union with Jesus Christ. Going under the water is identifying Jesus Christ in His death; and coming back up, we are associated with His resurrection.

There is the false teaching, baptismal regeneration, which is, no baptism means no salvation. Infant baptism is totally apostate and wrong. How does an infant have any idea what is going on? He cannot know Who God is and Who Christ is.

Repentance for the forgiveness of sin. He identified those individuals in Israel who had repented. That is what his preaching message was. What occurs is in the soul; the repentance occurs in the soul. Some people just want to hear it. They just want to hear that it has been done. This was John's call for the people of Israel to repent for the forgiveness of their sins.

Standing up and naming your sins in front of everyone just puts everyone else out of fellowship. Baptism does not bring about the forgiveness of sins; it is symbolic. It is an identification.

Forgiveness of sins can only be accomplished in one way; but the people of Israel had to change their minds about forgiveness of sins. Confession is not a prerequisite for the forgiveness of sin. The Jews must change their minds about the One Who would shortly appear. They must accept the One about to come. Jesus is the Savior of infinitely greater impact; the only One Who can bring forgiveness of sins and he spiritual life to them. They were simply looking forward; we look back. This was a change of mind in the Jews, in Israel, about the Messiah to come. Jesus is their king, and they needed to change their minds about Him. There is the King and the Savior; they should have known both. He truly offered the kingdom. If He had to die, how can He offer the kingdom? If God offers something, then it is true. They had to accept Him in order to be entered into the kingdom.

"Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." This is any sort of rulership that God brings upon the earth. No person can bring a utopia upon this earth. This was that legitimate offer of the kingdom promised the David. John presented the kingdom and the King to Israel. This is what the nation should do at this time.

This is pertinent to the United States of America today. We are not awaiting the kingdom of God and the return of our Lord. Israel was consistently disobeying the Word of God. If they did not change their minds,...

Israel was constantly chasing after other gods. They would marry a foreign woman and convert to her religion. The prophets warned Israel to abandon the gods that they chased. Hosea 4 is a good idea of the prophet's message. The prophets warned of the fifth cycle of discipline where judgement would fall upon Israel.

In the fulness of time, the Messiah would come, to bless this nation with their King. This was the fulfillment message of John's prophecy. The promised kingdom of the covenant was being offered legitimately to them. It was within their sight.

Bobby wants us to imagine the rapture is coming in 6 months.

This is one of those times that dispensational teaching is important. The first great distinction is hermeneutics; which is, how we interpret the Scripture (the ICE method). Eschatology is also a great distinction, which is the study of future things. The final distinction, is the church and Israel. That is a critical distinction of dispensationalism. There are some similarities; but there serious differences.

Covenant theologians transfers Israel's inheritance over to the church. There are many places in the Old Testament, messianic passages which speak of the Messiah as King forever; and all of these are promises which are made to Israel. These are not promises to us. We will rule with the Lord in the Kingdom, with Christ on the throne in the Millennium. That is how we understand what is happening in the Millennium.

John the Baptizer is one of those transitional figures. He knew nothing about the church. He simply new about repentance for the forgiveness of sins; about the baptism of the kingdom. The church was completely unknown to him. He did not know that the Jews would reject their Messiah and would crucify Him. No one enters the Kingdom of God but a regenerate Jew.

Who was promised? Abraham. David. These promises were not made to unregenerate Jews. The baptism of John in the Jordan River was a ceremony that identified the believers there with the coming kingdom, the forgiveness of sins, and the cleansing of the water. The kingdom was at hand, because the King was coming. John was to present the King. He was a strange herald.

Matt. 3:4 John himself had a camel-hair garment with a leather belt around his waist, and his food was locusts and wild honey.

John spoke in words and deeds of the Messiah. The King would be manifested in the Person of Jesus Christ. Out of Galilee and into the desert would walk the Lord Jesus Christ, and John would baptize Him, the final identification of the Messiah.

He is also the prototype of our spiritual life, beyond where we are going today.

John spoke, but the nation would not repent. So judgment had to precede the blessing of the kingdom.

We are in the Church Age today, a different age than the age the John the Baptizer lived in. We have different expectations and different resources than John did. We look forward to the rapture of the church. John looked forward to the Kingdom of God.

Christ returns after the 7 years to establish His kingdom.

John knew nothing about the church. No one knows when Jesus will return.

Israel has a kingdom on earth promised to them by God. The church has a different promise. We are raptured and we are taken into heaven. We receive resurrection bodies. Even if we return to rule with Jesus, the kingdom is for the Jews.

John is at the river baptizing.

What Does it All Mean?

1. Putting the person into the water identified that person by repentance with Messiah and God's Kingdom. They believed in the One Who was coming.
2. In the water, the person was testifying as to his belief that Messiah was the King and that the kingdom had come.
 - a. Could there have been a widespread belief that the coming King was not to be taken literally????
 - b. Church baptism has the element of identification with the Savior in His death. We die with Him and we are raised with Him. We profess this through our identification.
3. The baptized person was saved and identified with the Jewish kingdom forever. Not all Israel is Israel. There are racial Jews and regenerate Jews.
4. The baptism also meant what Isaiah had prophesied. Identification with the Suffering Servant Who would pay the penalty for the forgiveness of sin.

John's baptism was a great encouragement to the people of God. This was a legitimate offer made to Israel. However, the problem is, those in Israel who thought the Messiah was coming as a political deliverer, rejected the true Savior. He was not a political Savior. Infinitely more important than liberation from Rome.

Let's suppose we lose our liberty, by our own government or by an outside power. Jesus Christ did not come to liberate us as a nation; He liberates us individually through the forgiveness of sins.

John's baptism was encouragement to those who did believe, and his offer of the kingdom was a true offering.

In this baptism, there was no salvation or spiritual advance. They were not baptized and became a remnant because they were baptized. It represented their salvation. It was a testimony of their salvation; not the means of their salvation.

Furthermore, only doctrine advances the believer in his life; never rituals. Repent; turn back to the Lord. What happens to Israel when they reject their Lord? God scatters them and they will remain scattered throughout the Church Age. The nation Israel is not the promised kingdom, it is not a remnant of believers, and it is not the fulfillment of the Davidic Covenant or the Abrahamic Covenant. This is the Land of Promise, but this is not the people, because they are not regenerate Israel.

The offer of the kingdom was valid at the time of John, even though the cross has to come before the crown. The crown could have been instituted right then, after the cross, but the Jews rejected Jesus in large numbers.

John would shortly introduce Jesus through His baptism. Israel and the baptism of Christ should identify with the Messiah.

There were those who accepted Jesus as the Savior for the remission of sins, as King of the Jews.

There is Old Testament documentation for the validity of John's ministry.

We do not know if Isaiah understood the far-fulfillment; he probably understood the near fulfillment.

Isa. 40:3 The voice of him who cries in the wilderness, Prepare the way of Jehovah, make straight a highway in the desert for our God.

What v. 4 is, is an environment change; a new environment in the new kingdom. A perfect environment of the kingdom.

Isa 40:4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the crooked places shall be made level, and the rough places smooth;

All flesh will see this together. Isaiah documents this with, for the mouth of Jehovah has spoken this.

Isa 40:5 and the glory of Jehovah shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of Jehovah has spoken.

The writers of the gospels did not collaborate, but the things which they wrote coincided and were parallel. This was a confirmation of what was coming to pass. This was the one prophesied by Isaiah. This introduced the Shekinah Glory of Jesus Christ.

And John said, "This is God in the flesh. His glory would be revealed and all flesh would see it together."

John's ministry was big for Israel.

Matt. 3:4 John himself had a camel-hair garment with a leather belt around his waist, and his food was locusts and wild honey.

John was attracting a huge crowd and caused a big stir.

Matt. 3:5 Then people from Jerusalem, all Judea, and all the vicinity of the Jordan were flocking to him, as they confessed their sins is a tremendously misunderstood phrase. However, confession of sins aloud is not the key to salvation at this time before John the Baptizer. No way does this mean you must confess your sins aloud in order to be saved.

Bobby's going to take this verse apart, so that we get it.

Matt. 3:6 and they were baptized by him in the Jordan River as they confessed their sins.

Lesson #0070 Matt. 3:1–6 Life of Christ March 30, 2011 Wednesday

Matt. 3:1 In those days John the Baptist came, preaching in the Wilderness of Judea

Matt. 3:2 and saying, "Repent, because the kingdom of heaven has come near!"

Matt. 3:3 For he is the one spoken of through the prophet Isaiah, who said: A voice of one crying out in the wilderness: "Prepare the way for the Lord; make His paths straight!"

Matt. 3:4 John himself had a camel-hair garment with a leather belt around his waist, and his food was locusts and wild honey.

Matt. 3:5 Then people from Jerusalem, all Judea, and all the vicinity of the Jordan were flocking to him,

Matt. 3:6 and they were baptized by him in the Jordan River as they confessed their sins.

John was a Nazarene; he did not cut his hair. He was totally dedicated in his life. His message had not been heard for several centuries. This awakened the people in the area. They had never given up, in all that time, faith in the promises of God. Jews today don't even see the messiah as real; and they see the messiah as entire different way than we do.

In John's time, they had a deep and abiding hope. They lived under apostate Judaism, as it is today (but a different flavor).

These Jews eagerly awaited the Messiah and the constellation of Israel. There were some who were turning away from the apostasy of their day. They heard John's message and they responded to it. These people were changing their minds; many of them; and they were being baptized. This was an old fashioned revival. This explains the eager response to John.

The Jews expected a king. The promise given to David told them that they would have a king. So, now they looked, and rightly so, for a literal kingdom here on earth. Then there would be righteousness and peace throughout the world. Also, they wanted the Roman yoke to be thrown off.

They were not necessarily looking for the Savior; the Messiah. They were looking for a physical conqueror. They wanted a political conqueror. They were looking to be liberated in a political sense; or from Rome. The cross has to come before the crown.

John said that the kingdom was at hand; it was near. Others thought, "We are about to enter into the kingdom of the Messiah." John was there to tell them that the king was present. Everyday, large crowds came out to see John.

John was gathering a remnant of people around him; people who would believe that the Messiah was coming and the kingdom was at hand. What they missed was, the cross; the suffering servant. Some put the cart before the horse.

Matt. 3:6 and they were baptized by him in the Jordan River as they confessed their sins.

Someone gets up there and starts telling about sins that he committed, which ticks off other people who did not know about these sins, and they are set off. Now, if you want to apologize for a sin to someone personally, that is fine. However, confession of sin is done privately.

Ὁμολογῶ means to confess, to admit. Remember the context of John's teaching. This is about Israel and a kingdom and the offering of a kingdom. This is a different context than 1John 1:9.

This verse does not mean that, prior to being baptized, these people yelled out a few sins, and after it is all over, they all felt better.

The baptism itself was an admission of guilt.

Confessing the Sins at John's Baptism

1. This is a confession, and admission of their spiritual failures as a nation and as a people. We have gone over these failures. Judaism, the oral tradition, etc.
2. Their failures have been demonstrated throughout Israel's history.
3. These are the failures and sins that the Old Testament prophets spoke of. Elijah preached against Ahab and Jezebel and the Baal cult introduced by Jezebel. This is the same message that John had. Many of us can see what is happening to us for several decades; and it is the same with Israel; and they are even further down this road.
4. These sins were the reason for the fifth cycle of discipline being administered to the nation Israel. Lev. 26 lists the cycles of discipline. Our nation needs to hear this message, because there are voices calling out, crying in the wilderness.
5. They needed to change their minds and return to the Lord. Many were believers. They were baptized.
6. John's baptism recognized that they had failed and recognized that they needed to change their minds. John was teaching the very heart of the Old Testament. This recognized all of that.

7. Confession does not necessarily mean a public confession of personal sins. They were not confessing to others their personal sins.
8. They were identifying with the Messiah and with God's kingdom and with the remnant of believers. They were forming a cadre of believers in Israel. They were ready to be subjects of the Messiah.
9. They had turned back to the Lord and they were making this statement with their baptism.

All of this is confirmed by the verb to confess. The middle voice.

Why We Know this Was Not a Verbal Confession

1. The middle voice emphasizes the subject of the verb, not the object. They were confessing. It emphasizes they, not the one being confessed to.
2. The middle voice indicates that there is no object toward whom they were confessing.
3. Other people were not the target of a vocal confession of sins.
4. Therefore, they did not make verbal confession.
5. They were making a confession of their own repentance; of their own change of mind. They did this by the ritual of baptism.

What Can We Conclude

1. In v. 6b, the ones being baptized are participating in the results of the action of confession.
2. The middle voice relates the action of confession more intimately to the subject.
3. We can understand them as they themselves as participating in the action of confessing. The emphasis is on the subject.
4. They themselves confessed. This is an emphasis upon their own change of mind. This is not an outward confession.
5. Baptism was the external identification of that change of mind; of that inner confession. The middle voice is talking all about they themselves confessing. The reflexive idea of the middle voice is what is being examined here.

This is a direct middle or a redundant middle. This refers to something being done over and over oneself. It acts upon itself. This is an inner confession. The change of mind is...

This redundant middle is rare, but it always contains a reflexive pronoun. This pronoun emphasizes the subject acting upon itself. The confession was for themselves; their inner change of mind.

If we stick around Berachah long enough, we will learn a little grammar. This is greatly misunderstood throughout all Christianity. Bobby gives us enough grammar so that we understand the impact of the translation itself, so that we know what the author is saying.

Confession of Sins Before John

1. This middle action means the impact of confessing was not to others. The impact of confessing was to themselves and for themselves.
2. The middle voice denies that confession requires a public announcement of sin.
3. This was a private confession in the souls of these people. This was demonstrated by a public baptism. The baptism was public, not the confession.
4. This confession is the repentance in their souls.

In the Old Testament, exothomologeô is a recognition of their bloody history. They know about the prophets and what the prophets have said. They were taught these things. These prophets told these kings that they were way off base. The kings thumbed their nose at the prophets; they ignored their voices.

Elijah went to Ahab and told him to wipe out all of the asherim. Ahab said, "No, Jezebel won't let me." Israel continued to reject and reject. Israel was hard-headed; unbelievably hard-headed.

This must have been quite a scene on the Jordan river, where there is no prophecy for hundreds of years, and suddenly, someone returns as a prophet.

John's Baptism

1. The very act of baptism represented their failure as a nation and their spiritual recovery from it.
2. Their confession at baptism was an admission of failure. It was their failure as a nation and as a people of God. This was a confession of failure. There was nothing but apostasy of the religious leaders. This was a public
3. This was a public testimony indicating their acceptance of the king. Only the Savior could forgive sin.
4. John, as a prophet, was once again calling Israel to repentance, like the prophets of old.

The baptism is an indicator that they had been saved. This was a confession that announced that they believed in the Messiah. Religious legalism was the problem in Israel. They were turning to the grace of God in the Person of the Messiah. So John's baptism was a public confession.

There were those who did not like the prophets of old. They wanted to discredit John and his baptism, and they came to the Jordan to discredit John and his baptism.

Lesson #0071 John 1:19–28 Life of Christ March 31, 2011

Thursday

Dan Ingraham passed away.

Blaine. Soldier from Iraq or Afghanistan. Bomb went off behind him. About the 16th or so time that we should have died, but did not. He will give his guardian angel a heart handshake in heaven. Shrapnel went through him without hitting his organs. He cannot explain it in any other way, than God protected him. God controls history.

Like many others in Berachah, there have been so many who have fought on the battlefield and were delivered in many circumstances.

John 1:19 This is John's testimony when the Jews from Jerusalem sent priests and Levites to ask him, "Who are you?"

John 1:20 He did not refuse to answer, but he declared: "I am not the Messiah."

Apostate leaders always try to draw attention to themselves. It is not John's approach. John reveals that he is a witness; a herald of the Messiah. He said, "I am not the Messiah."

Why Does John Say 3 Times, "I Am Not the Messiah"

1. He repeats this 3 times. First to highlight his position. These men had come out to discredit him. They were not interested in what he had to say. They wanted to trip him up.
2. This reveals his subordinate position to Jesus Christ.
3. He did not want to mar his purpose. He stuck to his mission.

Calling him John the desert prophet was not enough. He was asked if he is Elijah, and he denies this. Elijah came into Israel abruptly, as did John. Jezebel and Ahab were 2 of the worst leaders in Israel history. Israel followed them in Baal worship.

Elijah walked into Ahab's court, and he said, "God is displeased with you, and there will not be a drop of rain in Israel until I step back into this court." And he was gone for 3 years. Elijah was not a correct identification for John. He clearly denies this.

Then John is asked if he is the Prophet. He was a prophet along the order of the Old Testament. He was not a prophet who returned nor was he a prophet like Moses.

John 1:21 "What then?" they asked him. "Are you Elijah?" "I am not," he said. "Are you the Prophet?" "No," he answered.

John 1:22 "Who are you, then?" they asked. "We need to give an answer to those who sent us. What can you tell us about yourself?"

Isaiah was one of the greatest prophets in Israel's history. He gave some of the greatest prophecies of the Old Testament.

John stressed his heralding ministry. John is a voice crying out in the wilderness. He was a prototype of the minister of the gospel; he was to focus on his message. John is a great prototype. The message is what is important. It is an occupational hazard, for pastors to try to raise money. We see it all the time on religious channels. They are the opposite of what John was.

God honors those who teach the Word. Bobby was here 7 years as of the 28th. The pastor has no right to get his eyes on people or to focus upon himself. He has no right to make an issue of himself. A pastor has no right to dun people for money because he can.

There was ways that people present the gospel or the little doctrine they know, and it is a 3 ring circus. Sometimes, it is a false gospel; a false message. And the message is evil.

Those who are in opposition are evil. These will be the very ones who oppose John and ask him these pointed, sarcastic questions. The religious types are just getting warmed up with John and they will pour it out on Jesus.

John 1:23 He said, "I am a voice of one crying out in the wilderness: Make straight the way of the Lord--just as Isaiah the prophet said."

Those who came with these questions had been sent by the Pharisees; the great legalists.

John 1:24 Now they had been sent from the Pharisees.

Now they will try to trip him up. What right do you have to baptize if you aren't the Messiah, Elijah or the Prophet.

Could they be thinking that Messiah and the Prophet are different people?

"Who are you to do this? We are the religious leaders here. We are the ones who can perform rituals." They did not like the idea that John was out here, way out in the wilderness, proclaiming the Messiah, repentance and baptizing everyone. They do not like John's message and they are jealous of his ministry.

They want to protect themselves from the message of all time; the message that Israel has been waiting for. They held strictly to the law and to oral traditions.

Legalism hates the grace of God. It cannot stand the grace of God, because legalism needs people to make an issue of themselves and of their works. We are not fit to tie the shoes of the One providing salvation for us.

These messengers from the pharisees did not want to lose their standing.

These legalists did not come to be part of the remnant. They opposed the advent of the Messiah. They would not say this; but they did not believe that Messiah was there. John made such a point of his complete unworthiness, which is the opposite of the pharisees.

He claimed he was not fit to tie or untie the laces of Jesus' sandals. Jesus is therefore greater than any prophet. Every cult presents their leader as the prophet, superceding the Lord Jesus Christ. They present even their own prophets as superceding Jesus Christ, like Mohammed and Joseph Smith. There is no prophet greater than the God-man. John was such a contrast to the legalists who had come to see him.

John 1:25 So they asked him, "Why then do you baptize if you aren't the Messiah, or Elijah, or the Prophet?"

John 1:26 "I baptize with water," John answered them. "Someone stands among you, but you don't know Him.

This is the attitude these legalists should have, and this is the attitude of Jesus Christ. He came with a purpose to seek and save those who were lost. There was humility in all that He did.

From time to time, He got angry; He did not sin, but He had to confront these religious hypocrites and saw how they kept others from the Kingdom of God.

John 1:27 He is the One coming after me, whose sandal strap I'm not worthy to untie."

This is where John was teaching and baptizing.

John 1:28 All this happened in Bethany across the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

John tells them exactly who they are.

John speaking to the religious leaders next.

Luke 3:7 He then said to the crowds who came out to be baptized by him, "Brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath?"

These were so proud to be in the line of Abraham, and this is not enough. "God is able to raise up children from these stones."

Luke 3:8 Therefore produce fruit consistent with repentance. And don't start saying to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father,' for I tell you that God is able to raise up children for Abraham from these stones!

John lays it out, calling them vipers, and tells them that they are about to be chopped down. John is ripping them up one side and down the other.

Luke 3:9 Even now the ax is ready to strike the root of the trees! Therefore every tree that doesn't produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire."

Bobby is not a jokester. He's told a few jokes, but not those he would tell here.

Throughout the week, we are bombarded with human viewpoint. We can spend these few moments each week learning Bible doctrine.

Luke 3:7–9 He then said to the crowds who came out to be baptized by him, "Brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath? Therefore produce fruit consistent with repentance. And don't start saying to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father,' for I tell you that God is able to raise up children for Abraham from these stones! Even now the ax is ready to strike the root of the trees! Therefore every tree that doesn't produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire."

Sit down and think about this passage. What about this brood of vipers? And what does Abram have to do with all of this? And what about the ax and the rocks and the fruits.

Huge crowds were coming out to see John, to hear his message and to be baptized. Among these were pharisees and sadducees and scribes and skeptics. Some were just curious. What is this wild man teaching? Others were self righteous legalists who were threatened by John's message. His is a message of grace. They were angry that John drew such large crowds, and these same people were not coming to the Temple.

These people were changing their minds about the very things that the pharisees were teaching; they were moving away from legalism.

Nothing stirs up opposition to Bible doctrine more than a false religion which is challenged. It is all false except for Bible Christianity. This will explain Christian martyrism throughout the centuries.

All these religious types came out, some out of curiosity and some out of anger toward John and his message. They would not change their minds. These latter ones came to discredit John, to mock him. These silly people who believe that the Bible is divinely inspired; how could they be so ignorant?

The rest of the world sees all of this as drivel. John has a message; he denounces them to their faces. He does not dwell in euphemisms. John reminds Bobby of Bob; he called them as he saw them.

John looked these people in the eyes, who tried to trip him up, who saw themselves as far superior to John, and John called them children of vipers. These vipers would bite anything, and they were unclean. This vocative was to bring home the venom of the religious leaders. They came to expose him, and he exposed them.

There is also the allusion to the snake of all snakes, the serpent of the Garden. These vipers taught lies to their congregation, just as the serpent taught lies to Eve. Those who oppose John were doing Satan's work. Satan's work always fails with regards to man.

This did not cause them to repent. They did not change their minds about their religion.

John prophesies about the terrible judgement to come. "Who is going to warn you about the coming wrath?" The fifth cycle of discipline was coming, and John was warning of that. For those who stayed lost, there was nothing to be done.

The antisemites of the church who called the Jews Christ-killers. Here, the apostate ones are those who rejected Bible truth.

Luke 3:7 He then said to the crowds who came out to be baptized by him, "Brood [children] of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath?"

John is addressing vipers, so there is a lot of sarcasm here. Don't start making excuses for yourself. They cannot claim that they have any privileges simply because they are genetically connected to Abraham. "There is nothing special about you; God can make these stones into children of Abraham.

"Change your mind and grow some fruit." He calls them to abandon their religion and their legalistic self-righteousness.

You are keeping the Law for your salvation. That is incorrect. Keep your eye on the coming Messiah. Depend upon Him; do not depend upon the Law of Moses.

All of these people had come to the Jordan River because they had changed their minds. "If you are regenerate, then start living the life of regeneration. Change your minds about legalism. Get grace oriented, you are on the wrong track." Move from legalism to grace orientation. You can only bear fruit if you are grace oriented.

John hits them right where they live. "Do not say to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our Father.'" Many believed that racial identification was their ticket to the kingdom of heaven. They considered themselves acceptable to God in their self-righteousness.

It was the grace of God in regeneration. It is not race; it is not being born a descendant of Abraham. These religious types needed to demonstrate an act of faith, and be baptized; and then produce fruits of repentance.

Churches today are filled with legalism just like this. Ask your legalistic friends, "How good is good enough? How good do you have to be to gain the favor of God? Or how bad do you have to be to lose the favor of God?" No one can meet the standards of God, no matter how good they think they are.

To the extent that our churches believe that, is indicative of the vipers within.

Then John deflates them by saying, "God could raise up these stones as sons of Abraham." This was a great insult. God could give life to stones and call them children of Abraham. What does that say about them being sons of Abraham. God can make a stone what you are. These common rocks could be made into children of Abraham. No one even thinks about these stones. They are not even noticed. So, what merit is it to be a Jew, if God is able to make children of Abraham out of stones. What is your great distinction here? Only God can make a Jew a part of His kingdom. God is able to regenerate anyone.

Religion is always phony, trying to pretend that which is unrighteous righteous.

Today, there are all sorts of substitutes for salvation, but none of them work.

Luke 3:8 Therefore produce fruit consistent with repentance. And don't start saying to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father,' for I tell you that God is able to raise up children for Abraham from these stones!

Luke 3:9 Even now the ax is ready to strike the root of the trees! Therefore every tree that doesn't produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire."

Lesson #0073

Luke 3:7–9 Life of Christ April 3, 2011

Sunday 2

Look at this passage from the standpoint of legalism.

Bobby dedicates this to his father and his emphasis upon the grace of God. God is grace to us; our spiritual life is lived by grace. The provisions that we have is by grace. By grace, we will spend eternity in heaven. A whole generation of vipers showed up at the Jordan River, intending to discredit him and his message.

So many times, a person is discredited, but his message may still be true. Which among us should cast the first stone? We all fail from time to time. Regardless of what others think of you, there is still the grace of God, despite your many failures.

How can these people do these things and be saved? Simple; it is the grace of God.

Luke 3:7–9 He then said to the crowds who came out to be baptized by him, "Brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath? Therefore produce fruit consistent with repentance. And don't start saying to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father,' for I tell you that God is able to raise up children for Abraham from these stones! Even now the ax is ready to strike the root of the trees! Therefore every tree that doesn't produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire."

These vipers show up at the Jordan River, and John berates them, telling them to bear fruit. These people were unable to produce fruit.

There are so many substitutes for Christianity, but there is nothing new under the sun, when it comes to the rejection of God's grace. It has all happened before.

Some look at all of their success and they say, "How could God overlook me; He has made me so successful." Or those with a difficult life who think that God owes them for their difficulties. Or, those who give money and time; and they say, "Aren't I Christ-like for doing all of these things?"

Or, "I am a Christian by heritage; we have been Christians in our family for so long; and we go to services consistently."

Islam is one of the great legalistic religions in history. You cannot go to paradise unless you keep the 7 pillars; or unless you go through jihad. The Koran is filled with rules which we must do in order to be saved.

The difference between Christianity and every other religion is grace. That is the key; the grace of God versus the works of man. Legalism versus grace orientation. John was facing down the great legalists of his time.

John tells them that God could make Jews out of rocks. He could raise up His Own children from rocks; so the pharisees are not special, simply as being born from Abraham. Status, relation and works mean nothing. You can be the best person in your city and still condemned to hell; and the worst, and still eternally related to God. Christianity is set apart from every humanistic idea in this world.

John gives these pharisees a lesson in the grace of God. It is harder for a legalist to be saved than the reprobate. The reprobate recognizes that he has nothing to offer God; the legalist thinks he has everything to offer to God.

Luke 3:8 Therefore produce fruit consistent with repentance. And don't start saying to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father,' for I tell you that God is able to raise up children for Abraham from these stones!

John warns these legalists that the ax is ready to strike down all of the trees which do not bear good fruit. This is the judgment of the unbelieving Jews. This will include the pharisees, and this judgment will come in A.D. 70; and eternally as well.

The Messiah is ready to chop down some trees. Entrance into the Kingdom of Heaven is accepting the grace of God through the Lord Jesus Christ. John offered them this message. This is the origin of bearing fruit. The person bearing no fruit was not demonstrating the grace of God or regeneration.

If bearing fruit was the means of salvation, then he would have no message at all. These people had not believed, and, therefore, they could not bear fruit. Unbelievers cannot bear fruit. This is why they would get the ax; unbelief. This is manifested by their inability to bear fruit.

If you cannot bear fruit, then the ax will be taken to you. The idea is, a person has planted fruit trees and, they are not bearing any fruit; therefore, that person is going to remove these non-bearing trees.

Repentance which causes regeneration, then grace orientation allows one to bear fruit. Israel was all over the spectrum, but they so often rejected their God; rejected His grace. All they had to do was look back on their history and what God had done for them. So many kings had departed and so many of them had been destroyed.

These pharisees and religious types were unable to look back and to understand their own history. They fell into the pattern of legalism. Salvation is all about the change of mind toward Jesus Christ.

Bobby went to a PhD program in Trinity, associated with very well-known authors. Zane Hodges was teaching in the chapel. Bobby had to defend against 9 other candidates, Bible scholars of the highest order, who confused fruit-bearing with salvation.

There was a near fulfillment in A.D. 70 because they would never change their ways or their evil teaching. The vipers were crushed; this judgment had another reference. There is a reference to the future kingdom.

Luke 3:9 Even now the ax is ready to strike the root of the trees! Therefore every tree that doesn't produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire."

What John Is Telling Them to do

1. The vipers needed to change their minds about the Messiah. Then demonstrate this through baptism.
2. The vipers needed to abandon their legalism and their religious self-righteousness; that is their repentance. That is what they change their minds about.
3. Fruit was the life of the true Jew; the regenerate Jew who changed his mind about Christ. That is the beginning of fruit-bearing. Get with the program; jettison legalism, and that will take care of things. Otherwise, the ax will fall.
4. Fruit-bearing is the believer who has changed his attitude, developing grace and doctrinal orientation. Fruit-bearing has nothing to do with what we do for the Lord. How do we do it? Only through all the provisions which God has provided for us. Many times believers take credit for what they do and present that as proof of their salvation. Bearing fruit is based upon the grace of God. It is a result of the grace of God; not the result of your works.
5. John uses this fruit analogy to show these religious leaders the failure and fiasco of their self-righteousness and legalism. He challenged them to bear fruit. All they could bear is legalism. Their works hid the real evil in their souls.
6. They had rejected the Messiah and His grace. They substituted their own works and law keeping. Where did you face this yourself? Bobby has been to a lot of churches and the legalists are hard to take, because they know how good they are. Whose program is important? Theirs or God's?

7. That was a false fruit that would bring judgment upon them. Legalism always brings about judgment. Legalists are miserable people. No one every meets their standards. They never examine themselves; they merely examine everyone else; fruit inspectors. The pharisees and sadducees knew what was wrong with everyone else except for themselves.
8. If regeneration took place as demonstrated by the fruits of grace orientation, then judgment would be averted. Once you chop down a tree and you want to get rid of it; then you burn it. They would be thrown into the fire. No repentance means ultimate judgment. The judgment of unbelief is certain; and the judgment of the unrepentant nation is certain.

Bearing fruit does not mean the Jew enters into the kingdom by works. It is entered by embracing the King. God could have made a stone into Abraham, just as He could have made these stones into Jews. The Jewish race began with faith in Jehovah Elohim. It was all about regeneration and justification. These religious types believed that they were saved based upon their lineage.

The fruit will then be a result of their conversion and spiritual growth. None of these legalists had access to the Holy Spirit.

Lesson #0074 Luke 3:7–9 Life of Christ April 6, 2011 Wednesday

John had a lot of critics and interruptions and difficult people. John needed to make it clear that these skeptics were utterly wrong.

John has some pretty strong words for these Judiazers; for these legalists. They are incensed; and they do not think that they need some spiritual Savior. They want a political savior so that they can continue their power as an arm of the Jewish government. Religion is often involved in a power grab as related to the government. The Middle Ages are a time when this occurred.

These people want power and they hold the populace by the neck with their religious legalism. They seem themselves as way to righteous to need a savior to free them from the slave market of sin. They believe that their many good deeds will commend them to God. Religion blinds the mind to the truth of the gospel.

Some people get upset when they hear that religion is the devil's ace trump. It is evil. John is fully aware of their thinking and he exposes their legalism to all who are present.

These legalists think that their salvation is based upon their race. As Jews, they are automatically under the covenant; automatically brought under the covenant between God and Abraham. If they do that, then they are favored by God. They demonstrate their worthiness by keeping the Law of God.

Luke 3:7 He then said to the crowds who came out to be baptized by him, "Brood [children] of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath?"

So John says, "Okay, you self righteous vipers, produce fruit that is in keeping with repentance. John knew that they could produce good deeds, but they could not produce worthy fruit without changing their minds about their religion and about Judaism.

These are unbelievers and they are unable to have grace orientation. It is always grace versus legalism. This is one of the great problems that we have in America today; the legalistic approach to God today.

Some people today think that they are Christians, being raised in a Christian home or in a Christian nation. Or they think that they are going to bring in the kingdom. Or some think they can bring on the Millennial kingdom by helping the Jews to get back into the land. Bringing Jews back into the land is not going to bring the rapture about.

God will return when He returns and He gathers regenerate Israel. Legalism misses this mark by a long way. We cannot affect the plan of God by what we do. We execute the plan of God by His grace. We do not change the plan of God; it is already in place.

John says, "What makes you so special? God can raise up children of Abraham out of these rocks."

The true key was that Abraham believed Y^ehowah and it was counted to him for righteousness. The Mosaic Law was a conditional covenant. It also defined their ritual spiritual life. It showed them how far short they fell of being able to please God on their own.

God did not make a covenant with Abraham because of his righteousness. It was because he believed in the future Savior and God imputed righteousness to him. These legalists think that they are saved just because they are Jews. Or, because they are good. Good deeds are not the ticket to heaven. Good deeds must be done within the confines of the way that God has done them. It is all about God's design, and not our design.

Luke 3:8 Therefore produce fruit consistent with repentance. And don't start saying to yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father,' for I tell you that God is able to raise up children for Abraham from these stones!

Right now, the ax is laid at the root of the trees. God was ready to chop down trees; individual or the nation as a whole. Just being a believer does not mean that you will bear fruit. There must be regeneration first.

Are you bearing fruit? One of the misnomers of Christianity Today is, "If you are not bearing fruit, then you are not saved." And this is how people become fruit inspectors.

First you have unbelievers and they cannot bear fruit. There is no fruit there; they are unregenerate; unable to produce fruit. Then there are believers. Believers can potentially bear fruit because they are regenerate. They have access to the spiritual life.

Then there are the advancing believers, who take in doctrine. Just in doing this, they do bear fruit. John used these legalists to illustrate the worthless production of unbelievers and believers out of fellowship.

If there is this fruit tree, but it is not producing good fruit, then it is cut down and tossed into the fire.

Bear fruit, or you will be chopped off at the knees. If you bear fruit, then you must be regenerate and in fellowship. If there is no repentance; there can be no grace orientation; there can be no production; thus comes the ax to take down the tree.

Luke 3:9 Even now the ax is ready to strike the root of the trees! Therefore every tree that doesn't produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire."

Entering into the kingdom of heaven.

Psalm 24:3 Who shall go up into the hill of Jehovah? And who shall rise in His holy place?

Clean hands and a pure heart if God's righteousness.

Legalism is always self-deception. Scripture tells us not to think any higher of ourselves than we ought to. This defines the legalist.

Psalm 24:4 He who has clean hands and a pure heart; who has not lifted up his soul to vanity and has not sworn deceit.

Ezek. describes the judgment brought on by Chaldea. That is the prophecy here. Apostate Israel is violently removed from the land of Israel. 605 B.C. for the deportation and then the final destruction in 597. The ax will fall on the degenerate and the regenerate. Some believers will die. That means, it is God's time to take them. However, God promises Israel that there will be a remnant of believers.

John warned them that the judgment was coming soon, unless they repented.

In the end times, the unregenerate Jews will be wiped out.

John is exhorting these religious leaders to escape the judgment.

Psalm 24:5 He shall lift up the blessing from Jehovah, and righteousness from the God of his salvation.

It is certainly understandable that those who have been baptized by John, those who changed their mind about Jesus Christ, would also like to know what fruit-bearing is all about.

There are those who have a real curiosity ask John.

Luke 3:10 "What then should we do?" the crowds were asking him.

John tells them; to share what they had with those who have nothing. If they lack clothing and food, give to them. This is a foreshadowing of the environment of the kingdom of heaven. In God's kingdom, all are without want. This is the only time that there will be equality of results among the human race. Everyone will have what everyone else has. All are wealthy.

You cannot overcome poverty with a war on poverty. Outside of the reign of Jesus Christ, this sort of equality of results will not exist.

Forced equality is not the way for this to occur. Not to be brought about by taking from A and giving it to B. Those who want a socialistic society must take the society to tyranny. It cannot work without tyranny (it can't work anyway).

Satan himself is a tyrant. The human minions who carry out his ideas will bring in a scheme, but it never works. Wealth is confiscated and given to those with less. Leave the wealthy something and bring others to an equal footing. Taking from the successful and giving to the unsuccessful ruins everyone, including the incentive to produce. One level do not produce and others on another level eventually produces less and less. Trickle down poverty. All become slaves to government. What the government gives, they can also take away; and they do play favorites, in order to stay in power. You give one group enough and they keep you in power.

If we vote for socialism, we deserve what we get. Judgment will come. You can vote and you can run for office and stump for candidates, but that is not the solution.

As the Messiah will help them in the kingdom, so they should help others.

Luke 3:11 He replied to them, "The one who has two shirts must share with someone who has none, and the one who has food must do the same.

Lesson #0075 Luke 3:10–1 Life of Christ April 7, 2011 Thursday

Costa Mesa Bible conference coming up April 27th or so.

John has blasted the religious types in vv. 7–9. Their inability to bear fruit. He rips them for the false doctrine of heredity. Regeneration is necessary for entrance into the kingdom of heaven.

What does it mean for them to change their minds? What is this fruit bearing stuff? They ask, "What is this all about? We have repented. What is this bearing of fruit?" John has been talking about repentance, the kingdom (because the King is here), and what does the King expect of us? They are confused about fruit and the modus operandi of the kingdom itself. They believe that they can produce this fruit, even if the religious leaders are unable to.

Luke 3:10 "What then should we do?" the crowds were asking him.

There is a problem with this passage; it has been used in so many weird ways. John is not referring to the current state of Israel. This is bearing fruit in the kingdom of heaven, which has not yet been instituted. It sounds as if John is commanding a welfare kingdom; a socialist kingdom, and it has been taken this way by liberal theology today.

Some take this as a mandate for the liberal socialist state. Take from the rich and redistribute to the poor; isn't that what John is saying? Yes, it is. So, what is the problem with the liberal interpretation? This is the kingdom of heaven, the rule of Jesus Christ on earth. John has said, "The kingdom of heaven is at hand;" indicating that the King is here.

If this was a prototype socialist state, who would be in charge? The leadership of the Jews. However, John did not tell them to do any of this stuff. The Romans allowed the Jews to handle a lot of this stuff. Isn't John telling them to take from the rich and give to the poor? If that were true, John would be giving an exhortation to some central human authority for the redistribution of goods and the leveling of society. People who believe in socialism believed that it is a good thing; that it is good to level the playing field. If that is what John was saying, then this would be properly delivered to the Jewish authorities, who John just sent packing.

In the Kingdom, there will be the governing authority of Jesus Christ. Jewish power in Judæa was vested in the religious leaders; the pharisees and the sadducees; those who rejected John's message. It is their rejection of Jesus which indicates that the kingdom won't come to pass at this time. If this was the socialism of today, then the political authorities would be doing this. John is commending a private form of charity. These pharisees and sadducees and the very ones which John challenged to produce fruit, when they were unable to do that. John is telling them here to be involved in a private charity. If you are leaning toward a socialist state, this is a personal choice to give to the less fortunate. This is about our own volition. This is indicative of the modus operandi of the kingdom of heaven. This is what individual believers who populate the kingdom will be doing. Perhaps this is for believers during the Tribulation? That precedes the kingdom. The only one who can make this an equality of results, which is what the socialist wants to do, the only person who can do this is the King. This charity which John is commending is under the perfect kingdom rule of the Lord Jesus Christ. This is a picture of grace orientation. Any redistribution of food and clothing would not be fruit-bearing for the religious leaders. This will never be perfectly applied until His rule.

This exhortation is not given to the religious leaders, who would do this by government fiat. That would have been an ancient socialist state. A socialist state always becomes a tyranny. People will not always be charitable, and this can only be enforced by the state. They all degenerate into a despotism. It is an insidious system.

What John defines as fruit-bearing is charity in the kingdom. It is individual charity of the subjects of the King. This is the only time the playing field will be leveled and everyone has everything that they want.

What John does not know or any of the people with him, that the kingdom will be postponed because of the rejection of Israel of their King. There will be a bloodbath by the Lord Jesus Christ where the blood of soldiers rises as high as the horse's bridle. A bit hyperbolic, perhaps. Every experiment in the socialist state is a failure.

This is the way the king would and should operate. The fact that charity will work the way that it is supposed to work does not mean that charity is not a part of a Christian's good deeds.

Charity and Fruit-bearing

1. Charity is mandated to believers in the Church Age as well as to Israel.
2. All fruit bearing, good deeds by a believer, can only be accomplished under the power of God the Holy Spirit. There is plenty of charity done by unbelievers. However, only believers can produce divine good. This is the fruit of the spiritual life. It only occurs through the grace of God.
3. Only then, under these circumstances, is this divine good. Not every believer does this; not every believer produces fruit. Many a Christian is forced into doing things, like human good, that they would not otherwise do. Often mandated by a Christian bully.
4. Production, fruit-bearing is a direct result of grace orientation as the proper motivation for it.
5. All of this is part of the kingdom of heaven, which John is defining. This is our M.O. in the Church Age.

What Is John's Meaning Here?

1. Just as the Messiah would provide for them in the kingdom, and He will, so they must help those who are in need. What He has offered to us, we can offer to others.
2. Just as we are in need of spiritual help, satisfied by the grace of God in Christ, so believers reflect that grace.
3. What Bob has described is the best that man can do in the devil's imperfect world.
4. Notice that this is not an equality of result or charity to the poor. It is individual charity; not government-mandated redistribution. Socialism impels those to give without the proper motivation.
5. Man cannot bring in a utopian kingdom on his own. Charity reflects the grace of God, especially as believers carry it out.
6. It is ultimately the king in the Millennial kingdom who will administer the equality of results that we cannot.

Luke 3:11 He replied to them, "The one who has two shirts must share with someone who has none, and the one who has food must do the same."

Next John addresses some very specific groups. The tax gatherers, who were despised. These are the Jewish IRS. These guys were completely corrupt; utterly corrupt. They ripped off others for their own gain. They would submit tax bills that were inflated so that they could skim some off the top. That is not the environment of the kingdom, nor is it the charity for the poor.

Luke 3:12 Tax collectors also came to be baptized, and they asked him, "Teacher, what should we do?"

There was to be no collection beyond what the state required.

Luke 3:13 He told them, "Don't collect any more than what you have been authorized."

These are police and soldiers. Some police used their authority to shake down others. They were hated for it. The military was feared because no one could stop them. John charges them not to do this.

Do not steal from others; be content with the wages that you are paid. All of this was John's simple explanation of what was right and moral. Bearing the individual fruit of grace orientation. There will be no war in the kingdom.

There are 2 picked to ask questions of John. Tax collectors and soldiers and police. This groups represented an issue to the Jews. These were the IRS and the crooked national police and soldiers. The nation as a whole needed to turn around and to repent and to return to the Lord, bearing fruit. This is what it would be.

John's instructions to them characterized the coming kingdom. Repentance and fruit-bearing meant that these things would be the modus operandi of the kingdom. These were aware of the corruption.

This could have referred to the tough times that were ahead of these people under Roman rule, and how they were to be in that society?

Clearly these people who were being baptized were excited about John's message. They knew John's message was Messianic. Living in this time would have been exciting. They lived under great religious tyranny in a land of corruption.

John preached for 6 months and then the Messiah would come. John was the definitive Old Testament prophet. He knew the Lord's 1st advent was in progress. He spoke a prophecy that was being fulfilled.

"You soldiers, be content with what you have; the kingdom is at hand." All that John has described will occur. This is the Millennium; the 1000 year reign of Christ.

Luke 3:14 Some soldiers also questioned him: "What should we do?" He said to them, "Don't take money from anyone by force or false accusation; be satisfied with your wages."

Communion Sunday April 10, 2011

When Jesus rode into Jerusalem on an ass, the palm branches represented peace. This was to be the greatest week in the history of mankind. It was to be a week of great turmoil. This is the week when our salvation was purchased on the cross. Our Lord's death and resurrection. Because He lived, we live.

There are 3 geographical places connected with our Lord: Gethsemane, and Golgotha. Gethsemane is where the oil was squeezed from olives. The pressure upon Him was enormous. We have no clue as to how terrible it was. He experienced sorrow and anguish as He had never known before. He was thinking and praying concerning His coming separation from God the Father. He took on the sins of the world.

As He was praying the agony was clear, and his sweat was like drops of blood on the ground. Jesus wanted the cup of judgment passed away from Him.

There were 3 rubber stamped trials and a bogus conviction. He was taken to Pontius Pilate and then to Herod and then back to Pilate.

John 19:13 when Pilate heard these words [of condemnation] he took Jesus out to the judgment street, Gabatha, which acted as the tribunal of judgment. He was once again found innocent; and here, He also received the death sentence.

The proceedings were simply outrageous. The knowledge of the trial was kept from His friends and disciples. The judges and prosecutors were totally biased. Perjury was committed by those who were involved, and all realized that it was perjury.

It was revealed at Golgotha (Calvary in the Latin). Mark 15:22 and they brought Him to the place of the skull. This was the place for Roman execution. There were many bleached skulls and the bones of criminals were scattered about. And the Just was here to die for the unjust. For us, Golgotha was a place of prophecy. This death was prearranged and pre-announced. This was foretold in Gen. 3:15. The bruising of the heel is Golgotha. Prophesied in Isa. 53:5 many Old Testament ritual sacrifices; millions of them like an index finger pointing to the true Lamb of God. The sacrifices of Israel pictured God passing over all the previous sins. Golgotha was a place of judgement which was very necessary for us. Jesus is seen as person of great courage Who withstood many persecutions, Who died for His convictions, whether they were true or not. That is all human viewpoint.

He was crucified like a common criminal. On the cross, Christ was receiving a reckoning. God the Father was imputing our sins to His body on the cross. Isa. 53:6 all of us like sheep have gone astray...but the Lord has caused the iniquity of us all to fall upon Him. Christ took upon Himself the sins we have committed. This way, we can be the objects of sanctification. Everything centered on the 6 hours on the cross. This is the direction toward which He moved each day.

While He hung there, unbelievers mocked Him, calling for Him to come down off the cross. He could have destroyed all of His enemies right there, but He did not save Himself. He could not step outside of His Father's will.

These moments seemed like a battlefield. Ironically, this cross is a place of great confidence and redemption. His resurrection is our only hope.

Christ's resurrection is His chief claim to being our Savior, according to Peter in Acts. But He Whom God raised did not undergo decay. Let it be known to you that, through Him, forgiveness of sin is to you. Without the resurrection, you can never be free from sin and death.

Because He lives, our own resurrection is assured. "I am the resurrection and the life; he who believes in Me will live, even though he dies."

Luke 3 is about John the Baptizer's ministry to Israel. He heralded the Person of Jesus Christ. As people came out to him on the Jordan River, where he was baptizing and they were repenting. Within themselves, they confessed their personal and national sins; and they did all of this with the idea that the sinful nation might be forgiven.

The Old Testament prophets warned Israel many times to return to the Lord. At this moment, those who accepted his message were returning to the Lord. Their repentance included an excitement and some anticipation.

John's mission was to prepare Israel for our Lord's appearance. He exposed the legalism and the corruption of the crowds. A contrast between the religious types and the kingdom of heaven which was at hand. John, in part, proclaimed the ethics of the coming kingdom.

Luke 3:15 Now the people were waiting expectantly, and all of them were debating in their minds whether John might be the Messiah.

He was asked what to do, and he answered them in Luke 3:10–14 The tax collectors were ripping people off right and left; soldiers and police were extorting money. These federal groups represented the degeneration of the national life of Israel. There were certainly other examples of corruption; but Luke chose to mention these.

Luke 3:10–14 "What then should we do?" the crowds were asking him. He replied to them, "The one who has two shirts must share with someone who has none, and the one who has food must do the same. Tax collectors also came to be baptized, and they asked him, "Teacher, what should we do?" He told them, "Don't collect any more than what you have been authorized." Some soldiers also questioned him: "What should we do?" He said to them, "Don't take money from anyone by force or false accusation; be satisfied with your wages."

There were moral principles that John was giving them, that would benefit. These were the principles under which the kingdom would operate with the King on the throne. So what John was addressing were the mores under the conditions of the King. John exposed the universal problems of the sin nature of man which had plagued mankind since the very beginning. John was proclaiming the physical modus operandi of the new kingdom. What would they do in an environment that would be completely different. This was a nation and a people in great apostasy. John's message was one of great repentance. Poverty and hunger would disappear because the King would be on His throne.

John did not know that the kingdom would be postponed. The response that John was very meager. It culminated in rejection. The ascension indicated the postponement of the kingdom.

All of this brought that which would be brand new, the Church Age.

Lesson #0077 Luke 3:10–16 John 1:32 Life of Christ 10 April 2011 Sunday 2

These are the mores for the kingdom. We think of this as absolute perfection but there will be problems and sin natures. Their sin natures have to be held in check. These are the ethics and mores of the kingdom. These things are not the way of salvation; they represent ethical actions; they represent laws of divine establishment.

Luke 3:10–14 "What then should we do?" the crowds were asking him. He replied to them, "The one who has two shirts must share with someone who has none, and the one who has food must do the same. Tax collectors also came to be baptized, and they asked him, "Teacher, what should we do?" He told them, "Don't collect any more than what you have been authorized." Some soldiers also questioned him: "What should we do?" He said to them, "Don't take money from anyone by force or false accusation; be satisfied with your wages."

The people that John spoke to were not many in terms of the whole scope of the nation. The same is true of Jesus Christ when He taught. The kingdom had to be postponed. Israel's kingdom being postponed still required a continuation of the history of man. There was a new program instituted, also known as the church. We are all members of the body of Christ. We are regenerate like Israel, but unknown in prophecy with a spiritual life unknown to Israel.

Israel had a whole set of prophecies that they were aware of, and they knew what would happen in the future. They knew all of this. This is not true in the age in which we live. The church was not prophesied and we do not have a set of prophecies for us to glom onto as Church Age believers. What happened at Pentecost was blacked out even from John. There is no prophecy to be fulfilled within the scope of the Church Age. What happened in the Church Age was not taught in the Old Testament as prophetic.

John was there. The kingdom was at hand. For us, there is no prophecy. Our Lord Jesus Christ returns. He returns because the Church Age is inserted. He returns to us without warning, without any heralds.

Jesus comes to resurrect us and to take us into heaven; not to set up His kingdom. That follows afterward. The only prophecy that the New Testament speaks of. John speaks of the kingdom; we do not. When the Lord returns, the Kingdom will be instituted. So many theologians take the rapture of the church to be one and the same thing. They are not dispensationalists. We have a special moment in history. The end of the Church Age and the return of Christ. The coming of the Lord to set up the kingdom.

We will be there in resurrection body. However, that is not our prophecy or destiny as the church.

John was the culmination of a long, long line of Old Testament prophets to Israel. That was the promise to Israel. All of these prophets pointed Israel in the direction of a kingdom where Messiah would reign forever. Since the Messiah was rejected at the 1st advent, the kingdom would be deferred until after the end of the Church Age and the final 7 years of the Age of Israel.

This kingdom is described by prophecies in so many places. Zechariah, Micah, Amos, Isaiah, Daniel, Jeremiah are examples of the future kingdom of Israel. This kingdom is prophesied and postponed. The ethics of the millennial kingdom. Everyone who goes into the Millennium has a sin nature, so laws are necessary, as are personal ethics. There is a kingdom that still has social and economic concerns. People are involved; people with sin natures. Even though the environment is perfect. No more global warming or cooling. The King of Kings will be on the throne. But there will be people with sin natures.

John did not know that he was giving the ethics of the kingdom exactly? The exhortations about charity and tax collectors and soldiers and to police represented ethical policies in the millennial kingdom. We may not have recognized that these things were necessary. There will be discontent under perfect environment.

Perfect environment is not the solution to anything. Perfect environment would not change a single sin nature on earth. Though the remnant of Jews will enter the Millennium with sin natures, there will be those born in the Millennium who will reject the rule of the King; a perfect rule during a perfect kingdom. There will be those who fake obeisance to Him and they will be receptive to Satan at the end of the millennial kingdom.

Jesus is rejected in the 1st advent and He will be rejected by those in the 2nd.

Since the Messiah had arrived, or was ready to. There was another question on the minds of those being baptized.

They wondered, Who is the Messiah? What will He do? When will He appear? We must never stop learning and appreciating Him. This is a continuing process. Bobby teaches this because He is our Savior and this is foundational to our faith. We ought to ask, "Who is He? Who is the Messiah?"

The people were excited; they were living in a great historic moment. They wanted to know if John might be the Messiah. "Are you the man, John? Are you the Messiah?" They were unsure of this. Doubtless, John knew about the Messiah, but he did not know His name.

John had met Jesus. Their mothers were close relatives. Therefore, it is logical that Jesus and John, being cousins, had met. They were relatives. John did not know for certain that Jesus was the Messiah. John did not know this until He came to the Jordan to be baptized.

It is likely that Joseph, Zecharias and the mother were all dead by this time. The cousins were likely separated because of this. Probably only Mary was still alive. John was in the desert wilderness along the Jordan, and Jesus was in Nazareth.

If John knew that this was Jesus, then he would have said. However, John knew the Messiah was at hand, as was the kingdom, but he did not realize that this is Jesus. This is true for all of us; when we become impatient, when we become tired of waiting on God's plan, we have failed to realize His timing is perfect. John waited 30 years to fulfill God's plan for him. How can we advance His plan if we have no doctrine in our souls. God's timing for us is perfect and He knows the exact correct time. We are progressing toward it all the time.

Moses ministry after 40 years lasted another 40 years. He prepared for 40 years and then he had a 40 year ministry with the people of God.

John had a 30 year preparation time; and a short ministry. We have to advance and, at the right moment, of His choosing, all things are fulfilled.

Our mandate is to get ready; to grow in grace and knowledge. That was John's mandate as he moved toward his mission.

Luke 3:15 Now the people were waiting expectantly, and all of them were debating in their minds whether John might be the Messiah.

Luke 3:16 John answered them all, "I baptize you with water, but One is coming who is more powerful than I. I am not worthy to untie the strap of His sandals. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire.

Here is where John realized Who his cousin was.

John 1:32 And John testified, "I watched the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and He rested on Him.

Les. #0078 Luke 3:15–17 Ezek. 36:27 Life of Christ 13April 2011 Wednesday

John had been proclaiming, "Repent, for the Kingdom of God is now at hand."

No one knew, at this time, Who the Messiah was. Who was He? What was his name? Some thought that this may have been John, but John denied that.

Luke 3:16 John answered them all, "I baptize you with water, but One is coming who is more powerful than I. I am not worthy to untie the strap of His sandals. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire.

The Holy Spirit would come upon the Messiah.

John 1:32 And John testified, "I watched the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and He rested on Him.

John 1:33 I didn't know Him, but He who sent me to baptize with water told me, 'The One you see the Spirit descending and resting on--He is the One who baptizes with the Holy Spirit.'

At just the right time, Jesus came and expected to be baptized by John. John was surprised to find out that this Messiah is his relative. His cousin.

What does this mean, the Messiah asking for the same baptism?

John 1:34 I have seen and testified that He is the Son of God!"

Luke 3:15 Now the people were waiting expectantly, and all of them were debating in their minds whether John might be the Messiah.

John answers this prophetically. They asked if John was the Messiah, and he answered them in vv. 16–17.

Luke 3:16 John answered them all, "I baptize you with water, but One is coming who is more powerful than I. I am not worthy to untie the strap of His sandals. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire.

The Messiah would baptize them with the Holy Spirit and with fire. John explains this in the next verse, how Messiah will burn up the chaff with a fire that never goes out.

Luke 3:17 His winnowing shovel is in His hand to clear His threshing floor and gather the wheat into His barn, but the chaff He will burn up with a fire that never goes out."

Matt. 3:11–12 Mark 1:7–8 are the two parallel passages.

Bobby writes an interpretive synthesis for these.

“I baptize you in water to show your repentance. But coming after me is Someone so much greater than I am. Someone Whose sandals I am not worthy to remove.” John is not worthy to touch even His sandals. “He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire.” These are the two new baptisms. Then, what follows, is found in Luke only: “His winnowing shovel is in His hand to clear His threshing floor and gather the wheat into His barn, but the chaff He will burn up with a fire that never goes out.”

The analogy is separating the wheat from the chaff and the chaff is burned. This is not just a separation from God in eternity. People don't like to think this as real fire, but they see this as a separation. People do not like to think of hell as unquenchable fire. It is almost unthinkable. Such horror is almost beyond understanding. That is the price for rejection of Jesus Christ. There is a penalty for rejecting Him. “This is a hellfire and brimstone sermon, by the way.”

The baptism was representative of identifying the victim with their repentance and with the kingdom and the king. However, there are 2 new baptisms, both of which are very real. In defining the Messiah's work, John differentiates between the real baptisms and Messiah's real baptisms.

The baptism of the Holy Spirit upon Jesus after His symbolic baptism with water. This would be His empowerment. This is an identification of Jesus Christ with His power source. Then there is a second baptism; the Holy Spirit baptism by Jesus Christ. There are two parts to this. One to Israel and one which would open the Church Age. The other baptism of fire is judgment which would culminate at the end of the Tribulation by Him.

John never wavered in his loyalty to the King. He never deviated; he never became arrogant. He was chosen for this prophetic mission. This was a singular honor. How easy John could have become arrogant. The more important we think we are, the more we make an issue of ourselves. John is a wonderful example of great humility. He simply gave the message, which focused upon the One he was heralding. Next to Jesus, John places himself lower than any servant. That is great humility.

Εν πνευματι dative singular form expresses the means by which something is accomplished. En can be translated with, by means of. This is a real baptism by the Messiah designed to accomplish something. It is a real baptism. A symbolic baptism represents something. A real baptism is an identification with a real thing or event. In this case, this is the fulfillment by Messiah of a prophecy. It was for the identification of Him for a certain group.

As John is preaching, this is not the beginning of the Church Age. John's message was a prophecy, directed toward Israel. This is not a prophecy of the church. This is not the day of Pentecost and the beginning of the Church Age.

The prophecy is found in Joel 2:28 and Ezek. 36:27 The Ezekiel prophecy is directed toward Israel.

Ezek. 36:27 I will place My Spirit within you and cause you to follow My statutes and carefully observe My ordinances.

Ezek. 36:28 Then you will live in the land that I gave your fathers; you will be My people, and I will be your God.

These are believers who are turned back to God. This was an identification of a regenerate people, Israel, with God; via God the Holy Spirit. He is putting His Spirit within us. This promises to put the Holy Spirit within them.

The Future Jewish Baptism

1. John's reference to baptism by means of the Spirit is for the kingdom of regenerate Jews. This makes perfect sense. John is speaking to those who have repented; they are the remnant to go into the kingdom. This is what will happen. This is the fulfillment of Ezekiel's prophecy.
2. Messiah had come and would fulfill this prophecy to Israel. The Spirit baptism identifying them with Himself and the kingdom and empowering them. David was many times indued with the Holy Spirit. It is never spoken of like this except in Ezekiel and in Joel.
3. Jesus Christ made a legitimate offer of the kingdom in the 1st advent. He would have set up the kingdom and He was rejected.
4. With the rejection of the kingdom in the 1st advent, the fulfillment of this baptism was postponed to a future time.
5. John's prophecy will be fulfilled at the 2nd advent.

Joel 2:28 After this I will pour out My Spirit on all humanity; then your sons and your daughters will prophesy, your old men will have dreams, and your young men will see visions.

His Spirit would be poured out upon all mankind. The rest will be subsumed under Israel.

Peter quotes this directly from Joel.

Acts 2:17 And it will be in the last days, says God, that I will pour out My Spirit on all humanity; then your sons and your daughters will prophesy, your young men will see visions, and your old men will dream dreams.

A Dispensational Interpretation

1. Peter applies this prophecy of Spirit baptism to the day of Pentecost.
2. He was identifying Spirit baptism now as part of God's plan for the church. The church was instituted after the 1st advent and ascension of Jesus Christ. The disciples waited on a new set of people. The church began on this day when the Holy Spirit was poured out.
3. Peter was explaining the phenomenon of tongues. "Don't be weirded out by this."

4. Peter was not replacing the Spirit baptism promised to the Jews by Joel and Ezekiel in the Kingdom (and by John at the Jordan River). This will be fulfilled at the 2nd advent when the kingdom is set up. This is not a transfer of the promises to Israel to the church. God made a specific promise to specific people, and He cannot go back on these promises.
- 5.
6. What was he doing with Joel's prophecy? Why was he quoting this? Peter is documenting what was happening from the word of God from Joel.
7. The baptism of the Spirit became a reality for the church when the Kingdom was not inaugurated at the beginning.

This Spirit baptism would be the true result of repentance and with the acceptance of Jesus Christ as their Savior. Many were excited about this. The Spirit baptism descending upon the Messiah identified Him as the Messiah. Both were empowerments. This was the empowerment for His ministry. The Holy Spirit directed, and empowered and guided the entire ministry of Jesus Christ.

It is an empowerment for Israel and for us as well. His baptism of the Spirit came at the Jordan River. Ours comes at salvation. Spirit baptism is the continuity. The discontinuity; Israel and the church are different.

Lesson #0079

Luke 3:16–17 Life of Christ

Thurs 4/14/2011

John has been asked if he is the Messiah. He answers with this.

Luke 3:16 John answered them all, "I baptize you with water, but One is coming who is more powerful than I. I am not worthy to untie the strap of His sandals. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire.

Luke 3:17 His winnowing shovel is in His hand to clear His threshing floor and gather the wheat into His barn, but the chaff He will burn up with a fire that never goes out."

You've been announcing the Messiah...is it you? Or Who is it?

John's answer is unexpected. What is this about baptizing with the Holy Spirit? They expected Messiah to lead them against Rome and to throw off the shackles of Rome.

Ezekiel and Joel passages examined last night.

Summary

1. This baptism by the Holy Spirit, that is a real baptism. Water baptism is symbolic of something. A real baptism is what it is. It is an actual identification with something that has significance. In this case, it is the baptism of the Holy Spirit.

2. The Holy Spirit baptism of Israel by Christ is an identification of those who belong to Him and are a part of the kingdom.
3. John's prophecy is a promise of what the Messiah would do when initiating the kingdom.
4. This was an empowerment.
5. This would be the true result of their repentance and accepting the Messiah and entering into His kingdom.
6. This baptism of the Holy Spirit by Christ of Israel is for believers only and has not yet been fulfilled. The kingdom has not yet been initiated.
7. There will also be a baptism of fire, which is associated with judgment. This will not be for believers.

A winnowing fork is in His hand. The people of that time would understand this imagery. This is separating one group from another. Threshing separates the useable grain from the husks. They are called chaff. This was done by taking the harvested grain and spreading it out on the threshing floor. This was a hard leveled surface out in the open. They needed to have a little wind. There was a border around the floor so that the grain was kept on the floor. So the grain could then be stored in a barn and used later. The analogy is separating the unbelievers from believers. That which could be used and that which could not. This is believers who enter into the kingdom.

Is hell dead? That is on Time magazine. This is an evangelical pastor of a big church in Michigan. The premise of the book is, there is no hell. There will be a universal salvation. We will all end up in heaven; but just in different places. This ignores what the Bible says about hell and it ignores the justice and righteousness of God. To them, love is greater than righteousness and justice of God. Satan made this same argument in eternity past. Exactly the same argument. This begins the Angelic Conflict.

The Symbolism

1. This is a view of believers entering the kingdom.
2. When the Messiah comes to rule, He will remove the chaff, the unbelievers.
3. He will accept into His kingdom, grain only. He will judge the chaff.
4. The final fulfillment of separating one group from another is yet a future event. The kingdom was not initiated in the 1st advent. The kingdom was not initiated then. All the believers from the Tribulation will be baptized by the Messiah. With the defeat of Satan and his forces. Matt. 25:41 hell was created for the devil and his angels. They are gathered as chaff and put into the unquenchable fire of hell. This is a real identification.

Bobby thinks that this pastor sitting down and contemplating hell, and it was too hard for him to accept. He may have known someone in his family who died as an unbeliever. Theology goes awry when someone wishes things were one way, even though they are not.

Symbolic language does not mean symbolic interpretation. This is a perfect example. The reality is quite harsh. If there was ever a motivation for us to present the gospel, this is it. It does not matter how obnoxious the person is. Eternity in the Lake of Fire is pretty grim.

Never be embarrassed by the world believing that hell does not exist.

5. Only believers will enter into the Millennium. This is a fulfillment of the promise to Abram. The believers who enter into the Millennium have sin natures. We think of the Millennium as absolutely perfect. However, it is the environment which is perfect; it is not about the nature of man. Those in the Millennium will have children and people will reject Jesus Christ. In perfect environment, they will revolt against perfect environment. This is a rejection of the King of Kings in perfect environment. Everyone will have all of the basics of life. Everyone will have food, clothing and shelter. We will rule with Jesus Christ. The kingdom is for believers only, which is the grain.

We come to another baptism, a unique baptism which began His public ministry, which is found 4 times. Matt. 3:13–17 Mark 1:9–11 Luke 3 John 1:29–34

Bobby will give us a composite of the synoptics. When all the people had been baptized, Jesus came from Nazareth to be baptized by John in the Jordan River. John tried to prevent Him, saying, "Why do You come to me? I need to be baptized by You." But, Jesus answered John, "It is important that we accomplish what is righteous." So John agreed and Jesus was baptized in the Jordan River. As Jesus arose from the water and He was praying, He saw the heavens opening and the Holy Spirit descended upon Him in the bodily form of a dove. And coming upon Him (or, residing in Him), and a voice came from heaven, saying, "This is My Beloved Son; in You I am well pleased."

2 real baptisms by the Holy Spirit and the baptism of fire. But this is a symbolic baptism.

18 years had passed. Jesus was in the Temple teaching the teachers. Now He appears once again. It is time. He travels to the Jordan River. His purpose in His Own mind had grown steadily. He grew in stature and wisdom and He grew in desire with the proper motivation. He knew it was the right time. They were meeting again perhaps 30 years later. The Messiah, the King, presents Himself to be introduced to His people. He was ready, at this point, to bring in the kingdom. John had been filled with the Holy Spirit since birth.

Bobby said the Jesus Christ that the dove came upon Him as the Holy Spirit. Bobby thinks probably the Spirit was with Him. This would be how Jesus would operate from then on in. He probably operated like this before. The Holy Spirit was manifested at this point at the Jordan River.

John will filled with the Spirit from the beginning.

Maybe Jesus had the Spirit as David did previously? Then He receives the Spirit as we do when at the Jordan River.

John's baptism was a sign of repentance. John, in fact, suggests that Jesus baptize him.

Διακολουω is the word here. If Jesus was being baptized as John was baptizing others, this would be the wrong message. He did not need to turn away from His sins. He was the Savior John is awaiting.

Baptism of Christ

1. John knew he was unworthy to baptize Jesus.
2. The Lord Jesus Christ was not a sinner; He had no sin nature. He did not need to indicate repentance through baptism.
3. This Jesus the Christ was the means of salvation. John was well aware of that. Jesus made it clear that His baptism by John was totally necessary. The descent of the dove. For John, the baptism was an authority issue, that he had difficulty with. If John was waiting the presence of the Messiah to bring the nation to repentance. John, as part of his heralding, he is required to submit to the Messiah. He was the last great prophet of Israel. He is the King of Kings and our Savior. "Baptize Me, John, because you are submitting to My authority and this will show Who I am." There is only one unique person. Israel could not identify the Messiah apart from this baptism.

Lesson #0080

Luke 2: Life of Christ

1Sunday 4/17/2011

Bobby suspects that Jesus used the Holy Spirit when He was young; but the Scripture does not reveal this. However, He certainly did during His public ministry.

18 years later, our Lord makes a public appearance, since that time in the synagogue. God chooses to begin our Lord's ministry with a baptism by John, His herald. John had been speaking to the Jews to turn back from their sins, from their idolatry, from having their backs to the Lord

This unique baptism begins His public ministry, which is found 4 times. Matt. 3:13–17
Mark 1:9–11 Luke 3 John 1:29–34

Bobby will give us a composite of the synoptics. When all the people had been baptized, Jesus came from Nazareth to be baptized by John in the Jordan River. John tried to prevent Him, saying, "Why do You come to me? I need to be baptized by You." But, Jesus answered John, "It is important that we accomplish what is righteous." So John agreed and Jesus was baptized in the Jordan River. As Jesus arose from the water and He was praying, He saw the heavens opening and the Holy Spirit descended upon Him in the bodily form of a dove. And coming upon Him (or, residing in Him), and a voice came from heaven, saying, "This is My Beloved Son; in You I am well pleased."

Matt. 3:13 Then Jesus came from Galilee to John at the Jordan, to be baptized by him.

John was baffled by this request. It made no sense to him to baptize the Messiah with regards to repentance. Thousands of people understood what John was doing and they had a limited understanding of what was going on.

If Jesus is baptized with the same baptism, then He would be considered a sinner along with the rest of them.

The first thing that John says is, "Here is the Lamb of God, Who takes away the sin of the world."

John 1:29 The next day John saw Jesus coming toward him and said, "Here is the Lamb of God, Who takes away the sin of the world!"

Matt. 3:14 But John tried to stop Him, saying, "I need to be baptized by You, and yet You come to me?"

The baptism which would take place would be an identification baptism; where Jesus is identified as the Savior. John's refusal was the wrong thing to do. There was an authority issue. John was a great prophet at this time. He is possibly the greatest man of his day in the realm of theology. He is the great prophet, the herald of the King; and he must, right here, follow directions. This is an offer that he cannot refuse. He must show complete deference to the King. This was critical in the identification of Jesus.

This baptism must take place so that Jesus can be identified as such. It is important that we accomplish that which is right. John must show submission to the Messiah before all of these people. He was asked if he was the Messiah and he said "No" and now he must demonstrate his authority-orientation.

The baptism here is unique; the only one of its kind. John was the same and the mechanics was the same. What all this represented was different. The significance was far from being identical.

Jesus is in the water where all of the other believers were. He is, in this way, identified with all of them. This was an identification: he was identified as the Messiah. This baptism, at this moment, there is a name given to the Savior.

John 1:29 The next day John saw Jesus coming toward him and said, "Here is the Lamb of God, Who takes away the sin of the world!"

Jesus Christ was baptized to fulfill all righteousness.

People came to John to repent; to confess their need of a Savior; and to give an outward sign of their need for Him.

Jesus would become their substitute. He Who knew no sin would become sin for us as our substitute, so that we might become the righteousness of God. He was qualified to be the Redeemer for our sin. He knew no sin. We all have righteousness imputed to us at the point of faith in Jesus Christ. John the Baptizer wasn't righteous in the sight of God.

There are things done here that would nauseate us. This was horrible to see. A little lamb slaughtered on the altar. The SPCA would be all over us for doing this. The sacrificer would bring the lamb to the altar. The priest would put his hand on the head of the man and kill the sacrifice. Israel saw this over and over for centuries.

John laid his hands on the Lord Jesus Christ so that He might be identified with sinners, the Man Who gave Himself for you and I. Jesus Christ had to die. This baptism was an identification. His accomplishment on the cross to accomplish what is right.

There were other things that happened when He went under this water.

Matt. 3:15 Jesus answered him, "Allow it for now, because this is the way for us to fulfill all righteousness." Then he allowed Him to be baptized.

Lesson #0081 Luke 3:21 Matt. 3:16 Life of Christ 2Sunday 4/17/2011

Bobby was reminded that this is Palm Sunday. Some may have come as strangers to Berachah, expecting a message about palm leaves and triumph. Jesus entered Jerusalem as the capital of the King. By Thursday, He would be crucified with a sarcastic sign over His head.

We are beginning His public ministry here. He is being baptized in the cold waters of the Jordan River. This was a symbolic baptism. He was identified by John as their Messiah. This was so that the people there could identify their Messiah.

Jesus was baptized to fulfill all righteousness. He was baptized to identify Him with His mission here on earth. When He went under the water, He was identified with our sins. Jesus Christ is unique, so that this baptism is unique. He was identified with sinners, those who had been baptized in the same water. That was His mission to die for their sins. He was to identify with those who had repented, who had changed their minds about religion. Jesus was baptized to identify Himself with this remnant of believing Jews in Israel.

Jesus comes to the River Jordan to this wildman in a camel-hair suit, and said, "Baptize Me." He did not go to the religious leaders of Israel; they were aloof from Him. They would have nothing to do with the grace of God. They depended upon Him. Jesus Christ was identified with the righteousness of God. Jesus was identifying with those at the Jordan River and with all Jews who would make up the remnant of Israel. Those who would go into the kingdom. They expected to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven.

The kingdom had come; right at this time.

John's ministry had brought people to repentance. Perhaps repentance from dead works, as per Heb. 6:1.

6 different reasons just given for Jesus telling John to baptize Him.

Our Lord Jesus Christ Submitted to Baptism for 4 Very Important Reasons.

1. He was identified as the Messiah and the redeemer. He was the Messiah; He was the Redeemer.
2. This baptism was an act of obedience as well to God's plan for the incarnation. "I am ready to do what was assigned to Me in eternity past."
3. It was also an act of identification with the nation of Israel. Jesus was a part of the nation of Israel. He was their King, but of the nation.
4. This was also an act of self-dedication. This was the moment of the official acceptance of His mission. He accepted His mission. Jesus only could fulfill this mission.

Matt. 3:16 shows that He was anointed by God the Holy Spirit.

Matt. 3:16 After Jesus was baptized, He went up immediately from the water. The heavens suddenly opened for Him, and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming down on Him.

The Scripture Contains Many Passages on This:

1. Matt. 12:28 If I drive out demons by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God has come to you. Israel ought to be able to identify this. This is proof that the Kingdom of Heaven had come to them. Israel's kingdom was here. Joel 2 and Ezek. passages on this, the Holy Spirit and the Kingdom of Heaven. He was announcing Himself as the Messiah. "I use the power of God the Holy Spirit." Jesus could have named any set of miracles; why this? He shows here that the Holy Spirit is dominant over Satan's minions. This is why there is power in the Holy Spirit over the god of this world. That is what the Angelic Conflict is all about. This is His strategic victory of Jesus in the 1st advent. He showed that He could defeat any and all of the schemes of the god of this world. We can as well, because we have the same thing that He did. He legitimately offered up His kingdom to the Jews. Israel was well aware of the Holy Spirit coming upon others to empower them in Israel's past. The Holy Spirit sustained Jesus all the way to the cross and on the cross. The Holy Spirit deserted Him when God the Father placed our sins upon Him. Both members of the Trinity forsook Him when our sins were poured upon Him.
2. Acts 10:38 God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and with power, and how He went about doing good and curing all who were under the tyranny of the Devil, because God was with Him. Jesus Christ was empowered by God the Holy Spirit. Once again, this is associated with the power of the Holy Spirit with the defeat of the god of this world. God the Holy Spirit empowered our Lord to accomplish all that he accomplished. This is the history of our Lord Jesus Christ. This is the history of the early Christian church, and here, they look back upon Jesus Christ as the prototype for us in the Christian walk. This is the only way that we can live the spiritual life; we utilize the power of the Holy Spirit. Prior to this, only a few in Israel could do this. Understanding that we have the same resources as Jesus Christ ought to inspire us to use the empowerment of Jesus Christ, the Holy Spirit.

3. John 5:30 "I can do nothing on My own. I judge only as I hear, and My judgment is righteous, because I do not seek My own will, but the will of Him who sent Me." Jesus Christ emptied Himself of His Own divine attributes and He depended completely upon God the Holy Spirit. He accomplishes God's will by depending upon God the Holy Spirit. He used the grace resources that God has given us. If the Holy Spirit was good enough to empower the Lord Jesus Christ, He is good enough to empower us.

The life of Jesus Christ was characterized by the power of the Holy Spirit working through Him. He is our prototype of our spiritual life. We have what He had; we have that.

By the water of John's baptism, Jesus revealed that He would fulfill the plan of God for His life. His substitutionary death for all mankind. He gave recognition here that He would be judged for our sins and die after. Our eternal life is dependent upon His resurrection.

We do not need to know what Jesus prayed, but he came up out of the water praying. It is likely that He was praying about what was ahead. Jesus knew what would come would be difficult.

Luke 3:21 When all the people were baptized, Jesus also was baptized. As He was praying, heaven opened,...

Similarly, we pray to be filled with divine viewpoint; that we will not become confused or conflicted by human viewpoint.

A lot of times we do not pray because we do not think it is really going to matter. If God has a plan for our lives, then He is interested in the details of our lives. God answers prayer; and He answers the prayer of the Lord Jesus Christ here as well.

We are told to pray without ceasing. This is consistent.

When Jesus came up out of the water, the heavens opened up. That is an answer to prayer, perhaps. We might be only a millisecond away from our Lord when the heavens open up when we are in prayer.

The heavens opened up. What did this look like? The whole point of human history all that came before and would come after, would take place at that very moment. God the Father recognized this, and this is the first time all 3 members of the Trinity are mentioned together.

Matt. 3:16 After Jesus was baptized, He went up immediately from the water. The heavens suddenly opened for Him, and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming down on Him.

Lesson #0082 Luke 3:21 Matt. 3:16–17 Life of Christ Wed 4/20/2011

Bobby made a composite, which I missed. Jesus was praying when he came up from the baptism. If it was critical for Him, how much more critical it was for us. God always answers; He always does. God always says, yes or no; or He answers this in a different way.

Luke 3:21 When all the people were baptized, Jesus also was baptized. As He was praying, heaven opened,...

The heavens opened up and the Holy Spirit descended upon Him. Then the voice of God.

Matt. 3:16 After Jesus was baptized, He went up immediately from the water. The heavens suddenly opened for Him, and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming down on Him.

Matt. 3:17 And there came a voice from heaven: This is My beloved Son. I take delight in Him!

What Did this All Mean?

1. God was communicating that His plan originated in heaven.
2. The Father was the Planner. He was communicating to man that His Son is the executor of the plan.
3. This means that the baptism that our Lord has undergone along with everything else was totally sanctioned by God. This was all the fulfillment of God's plan.
4. The Lord Jesus Christ was the One to come from heaven for a purpose, Who was conceived in heaven, with the stamp of the Father's approval.

What this opening of heaven looked like, we have no idea. We look into the sky, and it looks pretty open. The dove was symbolic. It represents the coming of the Holy Spirit and the reality of the empowerment of the Holy Spirit for Christ's mission. It is one of the greatest symbols of all time. All of this is an indicator of the empowerment of God's plan. The Holy Spirit does not do things like whisper in our ear or tell us which move to make. The filling of the Holy Spirit is designed to teach us. He is the One Who metabolizes it for us. He brings to mind the doctrine in our souls. He empowers us to live the Christian life. This is a visible and representative sign of empowerment. This was also the foreshadowing of another. We have exactly the same thing that Jesus Christ had. Leading us and empowering us. And Jesus Christ and God the Father also indwell us as well. We have so much and we utilize it so little. The power of the Holy Spirit is ours. However, we see an invisible manifestation and a visible manifestation. The Holy Spirit indwelt Him and empowered Him for the rest of His ministry. Once again, the Holy Spirit is bestowed.

Look at the Pentecost bestowal.

Acts 2:1 When the day of Pentecost had arrived, they were all together in one place.

The invisible manifestation.

Acts 2:2 Suddenly a sound like that of a violent rushing wind came from heaven, and it filled the whole house where they were staying.

This is the visible manifestation. This is just how the dove rested upon Jesus.

Acts 2:3 And tongues, like flames of fire that were divided, appeared to them and rested on each one of them.

Wind and fire both representing the Holy Spirit. It is the same power. There is no difference when it comes to power. The Lord Jesus Christ is the prototype of our empowerment. The divine power for our spiritual life.

The dove descending only upon the Lord Jesus Christ indicates that He is uniquely empowered. The dove represented and represents today, peace. It was true at that time then as well.

The symbol of peace then of the dove represented reconciliation between God and man. This peace would be brought about by the One upon Whom the dove rested. There is also another symbol, and it represents world peace. Jesus Christ in the 2nd advent will bring in the Kingdom, which will be peace on earth. He is the King Who would sit on the throne and peace would reign. This is not a peace brought in by mankind. Now, there will be those who enter into the Millennium with their sin nature. World peace is not something which will occur until the Kingdom of Heaven and rule of Jesus Christ on earth is initiated.

There is the prophecy of the Kingdom of God. Isa. 2:4

Isa, 2:4 He will settle disputes among the nations and provide arbitration for many peoples. They will turn their swords into plows and their spears into pruning knives. Nations will not take up the sword against other nations, and they will never again train for war.

There is no true justice on earth today. There are times when a just verdict is rendered and some get their just deserts, but for the most part, there is little justice in this world. But that will change.

The lion will lie down with the lamb. Perfect environment. No pollution; no global warming. Man will have no reason to complain about injustice; there will be no fear or famine. The environment will be perfect. However, there will still be sin natures, and environment is not the answer. All the unbelievers are removed from the earth. Believers go into the kingdom at that time. That kingdom will be a perfect environment.

Then comes the voice from heaven.

Matt. 3:17 And there came a voice from heaven: This is My beloved Son. I take delight in Him!

This is a very personal message. If someone you have a very personal relationship says, "You are My beloved," that is a very personal statement and relationship.

"In You, I am well-pleased." We get along. It is the best relationship. Jesus is being acknowledged as Israel's Messiah.

What Did the Voice of God the Father Convey?

1. Jesus Christ was recognized as the God-man.
2. God the Father was acknowledging that Jesus is a beloved member of God's family. The family of the Trinity; co-equal and co-eternal.
3. This voice is a separate certification of His divine identity and His Messiahship. The first certification is John the Baptizer.
4. This was a testimony to the personal relationship between God the Father and God the Son.

Bobby had a wonderful relationship with his own father. He was always encouraging and in many ways to indicate that he loved him. These encouraging words are very important. Jesus Christ is going to face 3 years of the most difficult thing that a person could ever face. He was given the empowerment to do this.

This is the first time all 3 members of the Trinity are present and localized in one place. God the Holy Spirit, the 3rd member of the Trinity descending and empowering.

Matt. 3:16 After Jesus was baptized, He went up immediately from the water. The heavens suddenly opened for Him, and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming down on Him.

Matt. 3:17 And there came a voice from heaven: This is My beloved Son. I take delight in Him!

The Meaning of Vv. 16–17

1. This was absolute proof of the Deity of Jesus Christ. Also the fulfillment of the kenosis doctrine. This is emptying.
2. It is clear that Jesus Christ was the Son of God; Deity. It does not mean that He is beneath the Father in authority.
3. He was true humanity while not relinquishing any part of His humanity.
4. He willingly restricted the independent use of His divine attributes in compliance with the Father's plan in the incarnation. He is still fully God and man; He just suspended the use of His Deity.
5. Jesus was subordinate to the Father and to God the Holy Spirit Who empowered Him. This is only in His role as Savior to accomplish His mission while on earth.
6. He was still undiminished Deity. He was about to accomplish the mission for which He had been sent.

Jehovah Witnesses see Jesus was a god. They see Him as a first creation of God the Father; His first direct creation; that makes God the Father older and greater. So Jesus is not equal with God. He is less than the Father. He is a god and not the God.

Then there is the other cult of Mormonism. It is a very deceptive cult. It rejects the doctrine of the Trinity. They have bizarre understanding of God. Joseph Smith is bizarre and the way he lived was bizarre; but it is quite difficult to grasp what they say.

Jesus, in one place, is called a spirit-brother of Satan. Now there is some goofy concept.

We have come to think that Mormons are Christians because they speak the right terminology, but they are not Christ.

Walter Martin, the foremost writer of this, wrote the Kingdom of the Cults. After careful perusing hundreds of volumes on Mormon theology, there was never such misappropriation of terminology and disregard of context and abandonment of logic, to appear orthodox, and yet to undermine true Christian faith. It is the verdict of history and theology that Joseph Smith is a polytheistic nightmare of garbled doctrine draped in a garment of Christian terminology.

They do not believe the same thing that we do. There are some very nice Mormons. They are dedicated and hard-working; and they believe in so many of the things that we believe in.

It further says the Father was well-pleased with the Son; because of what He is, and would do and would provide.

Lesson #0083

Luke 2: Life of Christ

Thurs 4/21/2011

San Jacinto monument where Texas won its independence. Apparently, this is the date of it?

The events surrounding the baptism of the Lord Jesus Christ; the open heavens and what exactly that was. The descending of the dove and the voice of the Father from heaven. Perhaps, all of those are the opening of the heavens.

These things declare that the mission of the Messiah had begun, the greatest 3 years in history; His public ministry. This dove represents the empowerment of the Holy Spirit. There was the declaration by the voice of God of love and approval of God the Father.

Matt. 3:17 And there came a voice from heaven: This is My beloved Son. I take delight in Him!

No one can make such a claim other than Jesus. There was nothing that did not please the Father up to that point. The Lord Jesus Christ grew in stature and wisdom. He became spiritually mature as a man. There was an unswerving loyalty even before His ministry began. Jesus publically dedicated Himself to His Father's will and work. Even at 12 years of age, He was already at work. The learned men of Judaism were learning from a 12-year-old. His Son had handled everything with perfection up until that moment.

The Father looked forward to the continuation of this ministry. Jesus had gone public. Everything before, God the Father was well-pleased; everything after, the same.

The Shekinah glory revealed itself on the Mount of Transfiguration. "This is My Son, in Whom I am well-pleased."

Even in perfection, our Lord was a human. Whether He needed encouragement or not, He received it here.

Who was closely observing all that had just happened? Suddenly, what happened and who saw it? Who observed the baptism of Jesus Christ and the fact that He went public. Who understood what all of this meant? Satan himself was an intent observer of all that happened. This would seal his fate. He was terrorized. He had to do something to stop this march of doom for himself. This was eternal death for him. Satan always has a scheme.

Matt. 4:1 Mark 1:12–14 Luke 4:1–13 are the passages.

Bobby's synthesis: Then Jesus, filled with the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan. Immediately the Holy Spirit led Him into the desert where He was with the wild beasts and He remained for 40 days to be tempted by the devil. He ate nothing for that period. After fasting for 40 days and nights, He was hungry. The tempter said to Him, "Command these stones to become bread." He replied, "It is written, man shall not live by bread alone but by every word from the mouth of God." The devil took him into the holy city and he set Him on top of the Temple, and said, "If You are the Son of God, throw yourself down from here, for it is written, 'He will command His angels to guard You and to carry You in their hands, lest You be injured on a rock.'" Bobby relays and experience with terminal velocity. Satan uses the Old Testament himself. Jesus said, "It is also written, 'You will not tempt the Lord your God.'" He took Jesus on a high mountain and showed Him all the kingdoms of the world, and he said, "I will turn this all over to you, just bow down and worship me, and the world will be Yours." Satan is offering the kingdom to Jesus, and this can be gotten by one moment of worship. "Begone, Satan, worship the Lord only."

These are real temptations. The Deity of Jesus Christ and the humanity worked together because they are in One Person. It will be seen right here.

Satan, having observed all this, has learned counter-attack. This is one of his specialities. As a believer, we ought to be aware of a counter attack. When you receive an answer to prayer, you have gotten a tactical victory; but that is when you are most vulnerable. After an advance; after a victory, there is a loss of high ground at times.

Hill 365 refers to its elevation. The company commander takes the hill. After a successful advance to take the high ground; that company is at its most vulnerable. They are hungry and thirsty and they have no defense at that point. They might be disorganized and low on ammunition. The enemy looks to counter-attack as quickly as possible. Counter-attack is always a good strategy and Satan will counter-attack when we have a tactical victory. It will be a temptation to change course. We must consolidate victory with grace orientation and humility, no matter how successful we seem to be in the Christian life.

We need to continue to think and to apply doctrine. We do not get to take a break from application of doctrine. This will hit us at our very weakest point. It always happens that way. Reversionism takes place, where we retreat in our Christian life.

Obviously, if we never advance, we never have to worry about a counter-attack; we are already our own worst enemy.

As Jesus launched His ministry, the Kingdom of Heaven had arrived, and Satan's earthly kingdom had been invaded.

The Holy Spirit leads Jesus into the desert for the first of 3 mano a mano face offs. This is a central moment in the Angelic Conflict. Here, Jesus will show the victory. This was the biggest stage of the Angelic Conflict. This was the Superbowl. The world series of the Angelic Conflict, and Satan knew it and he pulled out all of the stops. Here, there would be a battle of wills. This was a microcosm of a war that had been waging throughout history. By the very name that Matthew and Luke use for Satan, διαβολος, his personality is revealed. It means false accuser. This is the crux of the Angelic Conflict. This revolves around Satan's first accusation, that God's love was defective. Satan said, "God, Your love is defective."

A revision and a total rewrite of the Angelic Conflict this year. This is such a critical book in theology. It answers the question, why are we here? After a trial in heaven, Satan said, "I will be like the Most High." In that fall was revealed his character. After a trial in heaven, Satan was found guilty in heaven. This is an illustration that Satan was condemned by God.

God created just for him and his angels the Lake of Fire. He is not there right now. He is still roaming around. This means that Satan made an appeal. This sentence was not carried out immediately. Satan made a false accusation, accusing God of being unloving. His appeal was an accusation against God. How can a God of Love assign any of His creatures to the Lake of Fire. How can love be compatible with such horror? How can this be done forever? This is not just a purgatory. This is forever. How is God's love compatible with that? That is the crux of the Angelic Conflict. This will show that God's love is true.

In essence, Satan was trying to expose a flaw in God's character. That is what this accusation is all about. Nickname is διαβολος, which means slanderer, accuser. This would be a moment where Jesus must pass these tests. As the diabolos, Satan also makes accusations against believers. Satan accused Job of a phoney love for God. He loves God only because he is blessed by God. Obviously, you love someone who bestows all that you want upon you. The idea is, Job would reject God if the blessing tap was turned off. If God took everything away for no good reason, then Job would reject God. Job, as a witness for the prosecution, would have failed. We are part of this. Job passed the test and won a tactical victory; and he was a witness against Satan and his false accusations. Satan is the great liar. He had to be gnashing his teeth because of this.

Satan has to bring God down to his level in order for there to be some sort of equality.

Satan's real motive was to cast aspersions upon divine justice. The attempt was to prove that God was no better than the creature which He created, Satan.

The baptism of the Lord Jesus Christ was an indication of His readiness to do the will of the Father in the 1st advent, to bring strategic defeat of Satan in the Angelic Conflict. Satan was looking to confound our Lord at the very beginning.

Satan's Strategy

1. Get Jesus Christ to violate the will of the Father. Just slightly. Have just a hair of independence from God the Father.
2. Get Jesus to sin and to disqualify Himself from the cross.

These 2 strategies are 2 sides of the same coin. This sets the stage for the greatest conflict.

A special on Easter.

Lesson #0001 Luke 23:44–45 John 20:1–7 2011 Easter Message 1 Sun 4/24/2011

No death has occurred before or since our Lord's death. His death was His complete salvation work for us. His work on the cross; His substitutionary spiritual death. It is the means of our redemption from the slave market of sin. In these short hours, Jesus Christ paid the penalty for our sins. The grace of God in Christ provided our salvation where nothing else could.

Luke 23:44–45 documents at least one of the great events which occurred. It was now about noon, and darkness came over the whole land until three, because the sun's light failed. The curtain of the sanctuary was split down the middle.

No person can tear this veil; it was too heavy, too thick.

Only the High Priest could enter into the Holy of Holies once a year and in there, he made a blood sacrifice for the people of Israel, atoning for their sins.

The tearing of this veil indicates access for all mankind into the Holy of Holies, based upon what Jesus did upon the cross.

Matt. 27:51 Suddenly, the curtain of the sanctuary was split in two from top to bottom; the earth quaked and the rocks were split.

These things were all designed to indicate the incredible occurrence of our Lord's death.

Some people claim to be more concerned with the life of Jesus and the great things which He did. They do not want to think about his gory death. They would like to dismiss this. Our life depends upon His death on the cross, not upon His exemplary life. For by His wounds, we are healed.

1Peter 2:24 who "Himself carried up in His body our sins" onto the tree; that dying to sins, we might live to righteousness, of whom "by His wound you were healed."

His righteousness is given to those whose faith alone in Christ alone. None of us meet the standards of God. We all fall short of the standards and the glory of God. We are dead spiritually. We are born that way.

Rom. 5:9 Much more then, being justified now by His blood, we shall be saved from the wrath through Him.

But God has not destined us for wrath

Matt. 27:52 The tombs also were opened and many bodies of the saints who had gone to their rest were raised.

Sleep is a metaphor for death, and those who are death are raised up here. There was no excavation going on here. Tombs were opened and dead bodies emerged as living people; and these are saints; believers in Jesus Christ. People you knew to have died, and you see them raised up.

Christ is called the firstfruits of resurrection. As the firstfruits of resurrection, no resurrection could occur until He had been risen. What happened here?

Resurrection means living with no more death. These believers could not have been resurrection. They subsequently died. They were dead and God made them alive. They were exactly like Lazarus. They later died again. What is the purpose of this? This gives those who observe their rising a picture of victory over sin and over death.

Amazing as these supernatural events were, there were even more astounding events

Mary goes to the tomb and she thought robbers had come to the tomb and had taken the Lord.

John 20:1 On the first day of the week Mary Magdalene came to the tomb early, while it was still dark. She saw that the stone had been removed from the tomb.

She goes to the disciples and tells them.

John 20:2 So she ran to Simon Peter and to the other disciple, the one Jesus loved, and said to them, "They have taken the Lord out of the tomb, and we don't know where they have put Him!"

Peter and John run to the tomb.

John 20:3 At that, Peter and the other disciple went out, heading for the tomb.

The stone had been rolled aside so that the disciples could come in and see.

John 20:4 The two were running together, but the other disciple outran Peter and got to the tomb first.

John was smaller and lighter and got to the tomb first.

John 20:5 Stooping down, he saw the linen cloths lying there, yet he did not go in.

Jesus's body was not taken to a public building to prepare Him. Joseph of Aramathea received the body and he provided the tomb. Nicodemus provides the ointments, myhrr and the aloes.

The body would be encased in these ointments and wrapping. There is a tight wrapping of this body. Only dead people are wrapped. Those who handled His burial would have only wrapped Him if He was clearly dead.

John 20:6 Then, following him, Simon Peter came also. He entered the tomb and saw the linen cloths lying there.

Only the linen cloth remained. These linen cloths proved death; and they also proved His life. They provided confirmation of His real bodily resurrection. His victory over death. Most people see death as the end. This guarantees that there is life after death; that heaven is not an illusion. Without the resurrection, we are without hope. Without the resurrection, there is no confidence. Without the resurrection, we might as well do whatever we want to do. The Christian life makes sense because there is a resurrection. We have the grace of God administered to us.

John 20:7 The wrapping that had been on His head was not lying with the linen cloths but was folded up in a separate place by itself.

The resurrection assures us of our eternal life. The disciples were the most despondent puddles of human beings that they could be. They spent 3 years with the Lord Jesus Christ and did not realize that He would be resurrected. Now, they focused on the empty grave and the grave wrappings. These wrappings were minus a body. They were perfectly preserved. The hardened linen were in the same position. This is the reason that it was hardened. It was still conformed to the shape of our Lord's body, which is now missing.

If the body had been removed and the cloth left behind, the cloth would have been all over the place. Or, if the body had been removed with the grave cloth, then there would be no grave cloth remaining. His physical body was not there. It had passed through the cloth.

The evidence was right there before Peter and John; our Lord was risen from the dead. That is the first moment this was fully understood.

There was something else in that tomb; a simple face cloth. Rolled up, folded, and put to one side. This has even more to do with the resurrection than the full bodied wrapped.

Lesson #0002

John 20:6–7 Life of Christ

2Sunday 4/24/2011

John 20:6 Then, following him, Simon Peter came also. He entered the tomb and saw the linen cloths lying there.

There is a small face cloth which covers the face; it is much smaller. The linen wrappings would seem to be enough proof.

John 20:7 The wrapping that had been on His head was not lying with the linen cloths but was folded up in a separate place by itself.

So, what is the point of this? This seems to be an insignificant detail. The face cloth bears even more testimony that Jesus resurrection was physical and supernatural. Notice the manner and placement of this face cloth. The full-body wrap was undisturbed, but the face cloth was purposely moved away from the full wrap and neatly folded.

Someone in the tomb had to be physically in the tomb was alive, present and able to remove this face cloth and to fold it neatly and set aside. Whose hand could have done this? None other than Jesus Christ. In order for this to occur, the hand of the Living God had to fold the cloth. The question is, the stone had been rolled away before anyone looked into the tomb. So, how do we know that someone else did not enter into the tomb to? No one had entered the tomb before Mary, Peter and John.

Matt. 28:1 After the Sabbath, as the first day of the week was dawning, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary went to view the tomb.

Matt. 28:2 Suddenly there was a violent earthquake, because an angel of the Lord descended from heaven and approached the tomb. He rolled back the stone and was sitting on it.

Matt. 28:3 His appearance was like lightning, and his robe was as white as snow.

The guards were shaken by this.

Matt. 28:4 The guards were so shaken from fear of him that they became like dead men.

The 2 Mary's are the first to look into the tomb.

Matt. 28:5 But the angel told the women, "Don't be afraid, because I know you are looking for Jesus who was crucified.

Matt. 28:6 He is not here! For He has been resurrected, just as He said. Come and see the place where He lay.

Peter is the first person to actually enter into the tomb. The conclusion is, no one else could have rolled and placed that cloth aside apart from the Lord Jesus Christ. After being resurrected, Jesus, with His Own hands, took away the cloth and folded the face cloth. These hands should not have been able to hold anything, much less to hold something neatly. Jesus could have moved through this face cloth, but He did not. Jesus did this so that, Peter and John could see, without touching anything, that the body was no longer there. With the face cloth remaining, it would appear as if Jesus was still there in the wrapping.

Jesus did not just fly away; there was no undue haste to depart from this tomb. Jesus was never in a hurry. All the time in the world belonged to Him. Jesus loved Lazarus, but He allowed him to die. Jesus could have done something for Lazarus to keep him alive, but Jesus allowed him to die. Jesus did not rush over to save him. He took 2 days to get there. He actually said that He was going to Judæa instead. Mary was disconcerted about His delay and she told Him so. Jesus went to the tomb of Lazarus. In His earthly ministry, Jesus was never impetuous or hurried. He was always orderly and thorough. All that He did was for a purpose. All that He did had great purpose.

When Jesus fed 5000 with 5 loaves of bread and 2 fishes. They were not fed as a disorganized mass of people. Jesus directed them to be seated and to take a place where all could observe this miracle. They could see His deliverable purpose. He instructed His disciples in what to do and how to do it. Matt. 14. That was His characteristic mode of conduct. Each incident had a specific intent. This is why He was always calm, collected and thoughtful. He never got excited or crazy or panicky. Even in the hour of His death. All the actions of His life were consistently calculated in a good way.

Peter and John realized that this was very typical of Jesus Christ, of the Person they knew; to fold the cloth and to place it aside. It was not just cast aside onto the ground; this was Jesus speaking to them in this way. This was the deliberate action of our Lord. He left the tomb in a calm, unhurried way, accomplishing that which would add proof that He was truly and bodily resurrected. The character of the Lord Jesus Christ. The characteristically calm and deliberate mode of action. He was again, a living human person with a human body, with everything functioning in a manner consistent with His personality. Even though His body was new and different, His body retained the same features and his mannerisms were retained. Peter and John understood this with this simply face cloth folded neatly and set aside. It was Jesus informing them that He is alive and risen.

Paul described the doctrine of resurrection and 15:44 It was sown a natural body and raised a spiritual body. This is an incorruptible body. This is a body that does not die.

This is both a corporal body and a spiritual body. Every time the body of Jesus is described, this is a guarantee of our own body when resurrected. Easter is about the resurrection of Christ, but this is our confidence that we have what He has.

Jesus Christ clearly taught this before the crucifixion.

John 2:18 So the Jews replied to Him, "What sign of authority will You show us for doing these things?"

Who are You to challenge our authority?

John 2:19 Jesus answered, "Destroy this sanctuary, and I will raise it up in three days."

This confused the Jews.

John 2:20 Therefore the Jews said, "This sanctuary took 46 years to build, and will You raise it up in three days?"

The Jews thought that Jesus was speaking of the Temple, but He was speaking of His body.

John 2:21 But He was speaking about the sanctuary of His body.

His disciples recall what Jesus said. The face cloth in the tomb, and this jars the memory of His disciples. Jesus testified to this before it ever happened.

John 2:22 So when He was raised from the dead, His disciples remembered that He had said this. And they believed the Scripture and the statement Jesus had made.

What event in history is comparable to the event of the bodily resurrection of Jesus Christ? There is no historical event that is more important than the crucifixion of our Lord followed in 3 days by His resurrection. This is the event that is the turning point in all mankind.

Bobby, thinking of the resurrection, asks himself, how can one account be enough to make us certain? How can anyone explain the existence of the church except the resurrection. The disciples were a small band of cowardly men who turned into powerful proponents of the resurrection, because they had seen the resurrection of Jesus Christ with their own eyes. They were able to go to the uttermost parts of the world to spread the gospel, and all of them died a violent death (except John) and none of them feared this, because they knew the resurrected Christ. Their renovated thinking and their transformed lives are

2. Moses was up on Mount Sinai for 40 days to receive the Law of God. This was after the Jews received the 10 miracles which led them to that point. This moved God to judgment.

This fasting was not merely dieting. This was not like Ramadan. This was a true fast; our Lord abstained from all foods. This indicated that there would be constant prayer and contemplation. All that had to be accomplished was being impressed upon our Lord.

Matt. 4:1 Then Jesus was led up by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the Devil.

Matt. 4:2 After He had fasted 40 days and 40 nights, He was hungry.

Our Lord was guided to this place and to this fasting; this was not a matter of our Lord's choice apart from the Holy Spirit. We do not know exactly how the Holy Spirit led Jesus; but this was unique. No doubt, in this 40 day period, there were other tests by Satan. Luke 4:2 Mark 1:19 indicate that there were other tests as well which occurred during this time period.

Even though our Lord was an extremely powerful person, 40 days is a very long time to go without food. Only under such fasting would Jesus be so focused. This is Jesus in one of His most vulnerable moments. This was the door for Satan to attack.

There were army studies done for those in combat; there is a correlation between hunger and the loss of will to resist and fight. Bobby suffered severe hunger, losing 30 lbs. over a period of 8 weeks, which does impair and debilitate. This places us under great stress. So, we could say that, on the whole, hunger could drive men to aberrations that they would not normally do.

After 40 days of this hunger, our Lord's humanity would be at its weakest point. Satan took advantage of this weakness. Bobby questioned, "Why did Jesus put Himself into this position, to be so hungry?" He was led to here, but what is the point? Was this really necessary? Yes, it was. There was a point and purpose to this testing. Jesus Christ needed to have full concentration upon the task at hand.

Bobby would never suggest that we do this. When we have something coming up in our life that we need particular focus upon, then such concentration might be necessary.

This was an important time and Satan stepped in to distract our Lord. Jesus Christ was forcing this issue with Satan. He wanted this confrontation. He lured Satan into these moments. He wanted Satan to test Him early on.

Why Did Jesus Want Satan to Test Him?

1. Right from the beginning, these temptations revealed our Lord's right to the throne of heaven.
2. His sovereignty over the god of this world would be clearly revealed.

3. It showed our Lord's dedication to follow our Father in all things and the guidance of God the Holy Spirit. This was not an easy 40 days. He did it because it was in the plan of God.
4. This demonstrated the power of God the Holy Spirit in His life and for His ministry.
5. He would reveal in these temptations His true character and the spotless perfection of His nature and of His life in this greatest of crucibles. These are the greatest of all temptations for the Lord Jesus Christ.

Jesus presented Himself in great deprivation and Jesus baited Satan to come to tempt him. When Satan confronts God, he is always confounded. He is never in control. Jesus was before Satan in this desert wasteland.

We have the exact same power, if we utilize it. That is the reason for the filling of the Holy Spirit and knowledge of doctrine. The Holy Spirit teaches us the doctrine, brings it into our mind, and He protects us. He is there all the time if we choose to utilize the Spirit's power.

Sometimes we get so wrapped up in our own problems that we cannot see the light of day. Our lives all get that way from time to time. Is there anything that the Holy Spirit cannot handle or accomplish? The Holy Spirit is sufficient for all circumstances.

The Holy Spirit does guide the circumstances of our life. We might wonder how we get into this or that mess, but we have volition as well.

The sustaining ministry of God the Holy Spirit we will also see what the Holy Spirit does for us.

Matt. 4:3 Then the tempter approached Him and said, "If You are the Son of God, tell these stones to become bread."

Lesson #0085

Luke 2: Life of Christ May 3, 2011

2Sunday 5/1/2011

The Sustaining Ministry of God the Holy Spirit

1. Our Lord restricted the independent use of His divine attributes. He used His divine attributes outside of the plan of God. He never used these assets unless this fell within the plan of God. He could have waved His hand and the entire world would have been made well and fed. He did not, because this was not within the plan of God. Jesus depended upon the guidance of God the Holy Spirit
2. Prophesied in Isa. 11 and elsewhere.
3. The Holy Spirit was given without measure.
 - 1) In the Old Testament, the Holy Spirit was given for a limited time and purpose to a limited number of spiritual heroes. King Saul, who lost it; and the artisans who build the Tabernacle; Samson, etc. it was not permanent and very few people had it.

- 2) In John 3:34, Jesus was given the Holy Spirit without limit of time for His entire mission for His entire life.
- 3) This was new in the annals of Holy Spirit endowment. This was a first and our prototype.
- 4) This indicates what future believers would receive and how they would receive it. The Holy Spirit is given to us for our entire lives to empower us for our entire lives. The question is, do we use this power while staying in fellowship?
- 5) As the prototype, this is how we become Christ-like. Being Christ-like is not some overt set of characteristics someone wants to assign to you. The Holy Spirit certainly produced qualities of our Lord. The empowering comes first.
- 6) This empowerment prototype is foreshadowed right here.
4. At the baptism, the Holy Spirit was guaranteed to sustain the humanity of Jesus Christ.
5. The Holy Spirit provided the exclusive divine power by which Jesus Christ functioned during His earthly ministry. The God-man and true humanity combined in one person. The prototype aspect is so that we can see what we have available to us.
6. Guided by the Holy Spirit in His entire ministry.
7. The Holy Spirit was the intermediate agent through Whom Jesus operated. Jesus Christ's teaching was guided by the Holy Spirit. Luke 4:14–15 the time and the place of His miracles were guided as well. Luke 4:18 this was even when our Lord performed a miracle from His Own Deity. We have this same power.
8. The Holy Spirit upheld and empowered Jesus Christ during His trials and crucifixions. The temptations were bad enough, which took place in less than 24 hours; but the bearing of our sins was far greater than we could imagine. Jesus had the Holy Spirit to sustain and guide Him during these most horrendous moments.
9. However, the Holy Spirit's residence and guidance for Jesus was discontinued during that phase when He bore the sins of the world in His Own body. Then the Holy Spirit had to forsake Him as did God the Father. Fellowship was broken Psalm 22:1 Matt. 27:46 neither member of the Trinity could have anything to do with sin. There could be no contact with sin. Our Lord was in the greatest agony of His life.
10. The Holy Spirit did participate in the resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ. 1Peter 3:18

The Holy Spirit was involved in everything that our Lord did and everything that He accomplished in His earthly ministry. Every part of our life should be guided and empowered by God the Holy Spirit. Just use rebound on a continuing basis. We will be guided by every step of the way. We can be assured that this is to our perfect benefit. It is always a part of our spiritual life. You cannot live a spiritual life apart from God the Holy Spirit.

One more thing to address. Was this a real temptation for Jesus Christ? Or is this a mere formality? Could Jesus as God ever actually succumb to Satan's temptation? Could He have sinned? Were these real choices for Him. Were the temptations real? That is a theological conundrum centered in the hypostatic union.

Jesus Christ is undiminished deity and true humanity. How do these two natures work together in One Person together? This goes to the inner workings of God and man in One Person. This is how 2 natures must work together to accomplish God's will.

The debate that goes through the mind of everyone who studies the Lord Jesus Christ. How can the sinless Son of God really be tempted by sin? If God is involved, there is no temptation. What about the human nature of Jesus? These natures do not mix or bleed over from one to the other.

There is one certainty. Our Lord Jesus Christ as true humanity has legitimate desires. His humanity was like us in every way. Heb. 2:15? Satan in the temptation could appeal to the legitimate desires of Jesus Christ. For example, it was a legitimate desire of Jesus Christ to set up the promised kingdom. That is His covenant promise to Abraham. That was His mission. He had a desire to fulfill this mission. The offer to fulfill this desire was a legitimate temptation. "Here is Your kingdom." It was not wrong for Jesus to think over the offering of this kingdom. Jesus consideration of Satan's offer. This would have been a shortcut to His purpose. He would be given all of the kingdoms of the world if He would just bow down and worship Satan. It was a legitimate consideration, even if this was thought about only for a moment. Satan made a legitimate offer, but this was not a legitimate option for our Lord.

Our Lord, right before the cross, would pray for it to be removed from before Him. The worst thing that could happen to Him is that bitter cup.

Obviously Jesus considered the options if He said, "Take this cup from Me." He deliberated on these options.

Satan was the agent of the offer, so Jesus had to consider the source as well. Satan could not be the impetus behind setting up the kingdom of God. At a minimum, Jesus had to go through the though process of determining what are the issues here. Obviously, Satan, as the tempter, would be offering that which is evil.

Each time, Jesus had to think about what Satan said and offer back an answer. What real validity could the temptation be to Jesus. Divinity must say no to sin. Would not the divine supercede? Jesus cannot sin; He is God.

2 Latin phrases. Able not to sin and not able to sin.

The fallacy of religion. A theologian decried the killing of Osama bin Laden. Bobby was thrilled by the operation in the compound. "You can run, but you can't hide." "And if you do run, you will be tired when we kill you."

There is the interaction between the divine and human natures of our Lord Jesus Christ. It is almost beyond belief. We have only a human nature. Jesus Christ was born into this world as One Person, but there was a divine and human nature within Him. These natures remain separate within our Lord. They did not mix. They functioned in one person. How does one nature not supercede the other? The natures must remain separate. Nowhere is this union more evident than in the 3 temptations of Jesus Christ. In this event, both natures must work together in this One Person. So, how does the Hypostatic union work in practice? Could God be tempted by anything? Divinity cannot be tempted to sin. He does not have to say no; that is impossible. God cannot come into contact with sin. Was Jesus really susceptible to some kind of temptation.

Posi non pecari and non posi pecari. This problem has been worked over by a lot more brilliant minds than Bobby's. Non posi pecari = not able to sin. This reflects the divine nature of our Lord Jesus Christ. God is simply unable to sin; He is unmovable in His righteousness.

Posi non pecari, which means able not to sin. This phrase indicates the volition inherent to His human nature. A choice is involved in His being able not to sin; which requires a real choice in His humanity. This is a choice that he must be capable of in His humanity. He is like us in every respect in His humanity. The human volition of Jesus Christ had free and real choice that was not determined as an impossible choice. On the divine side is impeccability. He is not able to sin. He is free from fault and error.

The third issue is peccability. Could Jesus have said yes to Satan; was there even a momentary inclination to sin. The fact is, these 2 approaches are both true in our Lord; this does not answer any question in our mind; it might bring up more questions than when we started.

Our Lord Temptable and Yet Not Able to Sin

1. In His human nature, Jesus was temptable. He was able not to sin. Example—the first Adam was externally tempted in the garden and he had no sin nature. The temptation was external and he succumbed. Jesus was externally tempted by Satan and He also had no sin nature. He did not succumb and He remained without sin.
2. In His divine nature, Jesus was neither temptable or able to sin. Without this doctrine, we would be without hope; we would be without salvation.
 - a. Thus, His whole person was non posi pecari. Not able to sin.
 - b. He was not able to sin as God; and He was God.
 - c. So, His resistance to temptation was a forgone conclusion. He could not sin in the temptation.
 - d. As man, Jesus could entertain the notion, but He was able to say "No."

- e. That would maintain the perfection of His Deity.
3. But, does impeccability, the status of deity, render temptation really impossible for the Person of Christ? Was this just a formality? The temptation is possible, because true human volition is present in the Lord Jesus Christ. The two of them must work in conjunction to keep Him as perfect righteousness.
 4. So the temptation of His humanity was possible and real because, as Heb. 4:15, He was tempted in all things, as we are. He experienced everything that we do. For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but One who has been tested in every way as we are, yet without sin (Heb. 4:15).
 - a. He had to experience our weaknesses without succumbing to sin. That is what this section shows when He is tempted by the greatest deceiver and tempter.
 - b. So the temptation was there; Satan offered the temptation and Jesus experienced the temptation.
 - c. The potential weakness never became an actuality. This is because He chose not to make it so. This coincided with His Deity.
 - d. He made a real choice to abstain from a real external temptation. He was able not to sin because He made a real choice.
 - e. The temptation does not have to become actual to be a real temptation.
 5. His humanity, which is posi non peccar, worked in conjunction for the same ends. In the face of real temptation, both maintain the reality of His human sinlessness. Logically it makes little sense. Deity took off and there was no issue. As Heb. 4:15, He had to experience our weaknesses and temptations just as we do. Jesus had to remain that. This meant a real conscious decision not to sin.
 6. The temptation is proof that He remained spotless by His Own choice, and not just because He was perfect righteousness.
 7. His choice remained real and sinless.

A Different Approach

1. While He legitimately could sin, it was a certainty that He would not sin. There is no free choice in that.
2. There was a genuine struggle and temptation, but the outcome was always certain; that is the reality of the temptation.
3. That seems to lean toward the fact that Deity could not sin.
4. This is parallel to the concept of the coexistence of the free will of man and the sovereignty of God. The doctrine of divine decrees. If God's will is truly sovereign, then man's volition must be pre-determined. Islam justifies everything by saying that this is all God's choice. The concept of the coexistence of the sovereignty of God and the free will of man. Man is free to make real choices that are not predestined. In Christ, there is sovereignty and free will.

Analogy

1. God knows what our decisions will be. He has omniscience. He knows every decision and what would happen whether we made his overall
2. What about our choice? Is it truly free? The sovereignty of God renders our choices certain. God decreed free will in man. He knows what our decisions will be. He locks it in.
3. We make real choices like to believe the decrees make everything certain. If you have no free will, what is the point of this as that or the other. In one line of thinking, there is nothing in life but God
4. He decreed that our decisions would take place and be real and free. Our decisions are free and real, and Jesus knows what the edison if our decisions were not free, then how can we choose to be outside the plan of God. We make a lot of bad decisions. We have a free choice not to sin. We are able not to sin. But we are not impeccable. In His omniscience Jesus knew that would happen.
5. In the end His Word His Wor
- 6.
7. The choices we make were simply foreknown and made certain by God. The choice is not determined by the divine decrees; but

Bobby is just using this as an illustration. His choices were legitimate and real. Therefore, it was certain to take place. Hence not able to sin and able not to sin and both true in the Lord Jesus Christ. His humanity had free will.

Summation

1. He made a real, legitimate choice as real humanity to resist Satan's temptation.
2. Just as the sovereignty of God in the divine decree makes all things certain, without superceding the free will of man.
3. In the same way, this legitimate choice of our Lord's free will to say no to Satan's temptation was a real choice.

The first real temptation took place in the desert. Overall, Satan's temptations were for a very specific purpose. They were not so much to just seduce Jesus to sin. They were to provoke Jesus to use His divine attributes independent of the Father's will and power. He emptied Himself of His independent use of His Deity. Thirdly, if Christ did this, it would mean that His Deity would take precedence over His humanity. This would have required a conscious decision. Satan's first temptation was for Jesus to turn stones into bread; but that was not part of the plan of God. The hypostatic union would be compromised as Deity. This would violate the doctrine of kenosis. This was a serious temptation; this would have run contrary to submitting to the will of the Father. Satan kept trying to get Jesus to go outside of God's plan. Do we choose God's plan or do we choose to go outside of God's plan.

What does the test mean to us, right here and right now? This test has a lot to say about our salvation.

The Person of Christ was covered last night. The temptation that our Lord experienced was real. These were not just gestures, not symbolic and not lessons for us to learn something from.

Jesus did have to deliberate on each of these conditions. It had to be possible for Jesus to fail; possible for Him to make the wrong choice as a human being. His humanity faced a real choice and He had to make the correct choice to maintain His sinlessness. We know that He made a deliberation by His use of Scripture. He deliberated on each answer. He pulled Scripture out of the mentality of His soul and determine how to answer each temptation.

Our Lord's Deity could never depart from perfect righteousness. The legitimate choice to remain sinless perfectly coincided with His Deity.

Jesus had to resist the temptations which Satan placed before Him; He reaffirmed His perfection in His Hypostatic union. Had He not been dedicate to the Father's will, He could have failed in these temptations.

Matt. 4:1–2 Then Jesus was led up by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the Devil. After He had fasted 40 days and 40 nights, He was hungry.

Matt. 4:3 Then the tempter approached Him and said, "If You are the Son of God, tell these stones to become bread."

The two of them are alone out in the desert wilderness.

Matt. 4:4 But He answered, "It is written: Man must not live on bread alone but on every word that comes from the mouth of God."

Satan goes to the weakest point of our Lord's humanity. He had gone without food for 40 days. The idea of food intrudes on your thinking all of the time. Bobby did not think about anything else but food when in Ranger training (apart from the mission at hand).

He was true humanity, so Jesus was hungry. No matter what the circumstances were, you had to focus on the mission. Satan attack Him at His weakest point. He was human and He needed to eat to survive.

When you are starving, food is what you think about. Satan tempts our Lord Jesus Christ to perform a miracle in order to eat. Jesus was entirely capable of doing just that. His Deity could have done this in a blink of an eye. There is a test of priorities. The satisfaction of human needs is totally legitimate. It is totally legitimate to find food and to eat it. Human life cannot survive without eating. Eating is necessary for our Lord's humanity. All that Satan was saying was, "Satisfy your human needs."

Behind this seemingly innocuous suggestion is, “Take care of Yourself first and then go on to Your mission. You’re hungry. Take care of Your needs first.” This is perfectly logical. There is another subtle contention by Satan. To perform a miracle would glorify His Deity. Now is your chance to show off a little bit. However, a miracle here would not glorify God or His Son. Satan cannot be involved in the glorification of Jesus Christ. Satan is suggesting how Jesus can further the plan of God. The principle of the cosmic system is never in the plan of God. Human viewpoint is never a part of the plan of God. We, as believers, must differentiate between human viewpoint and divine viewpoint. If you cannot do that, then we cannot make a good choice. Our Lord understood what was going on here. He was able to say “No.” The plan of God is not human viewpoint. The plan of God is centered in divine viewpoint. Jesus Christ used Scripture in all 3 temptations because the plan of God is all about divine viewpoint.

Satan may not be on our trail; but the doctrine of demons is influential. It is easy to get off on the doctrine of demons. That which is against the plan of God.

We have legitimate needs which must be taken care of. Here, this is the wrong sequence. Our lives have priorities. The priority with us is the plan of God. The plan of God must come first. We are taught very early on as leaders that no commander will eat before his troops. The obligation is always to look out for your troops first; and not for your own needs. Our Lord’s obligation is not to look out for Himself first. Only after fulfilling that priority does the field commander take care of His Own needs. It is just a matter of priorities and the right timing.

God would take care of our Lord’s provisions. God would provide in His plan. Jesus was not to utilize His Own Deity here.

Jesus was not to think about His Own needs first.

Satan’s First Temptation of the Lord

1. Satan’s request for the Lord to turn the stones into bread is a temptation to blatant independence from the power of the Holy Spirit and to move outside of the will of God.
2. Satan wants our Lord to put aside divine providence which takes care of Him. Instead, use Your Deity to take care of Yourself. You decide how to take care of Yourself. Do not depend upon divine providence.
3. Satan tempts Jesus to forget about logistical grace from the Father.
4. He also wants Jesus to forget the divine source of strength and the guidance provided by God, the Holy Spirit. “Use Your Deity even if it is not within the plan of God.”
5. In essence, Satan tempts Jesus Christ to be disloyal to God’s plan. This is a legitimate desire on the part of our Lord.
6. If the Son of God turns stones into bread, He would become autonomous and detached from our Lord’s will.

7. Satan's primary objective is to get Jesus to act independently. Our Lord cannot remove Himself from God's plan even for one moment and remain without sin.
8. It is imperative that Jesus reach the cross as the spotless Lamb of God. Jews have sacrificed spotless animals for centuries.
9. The doctrine of kenosis. When He came to earth, He took on true humanity combined with Deity. Jesus gave up; He emptied Himself of; He functioned only under the plan of God using only the power of the Holy Spirit. He did not empty Himself of Deity, just the independent use of His Deity.
10. Great humiliation to take upon Himself the form of man. Not only would He have wrecked the doctrine of kenosis, but also the God's plan of salvation and invalidated Old Testament prophecy. This would have compromised God's immutability and veracity. Do you see the potential impact? Satan wins his kingdom; he wins the Angelic Conflict and we are lost with no hope of salvation.

Take care of Your hunger; make a few stones into bread.

Satan, in the throne room of God, put his own desires first. This did not elevate Satan. Satan would have God following his direction. If Jesus had accepted Satan's direction, he would have followed Satan's authority. Not only in this temptation, but in all temptations. Satan's initiative would have superceded God's will. It would have been a monumental moment in the history of man; one minor failure would have changed everything.

The Temptation of the Last Adam

1. By this experience, as our sinless High Priest, Jesus as tempted in every way that we are. Heb. 4:15 Jesus must fulfill this verse and yet remain sinless. He cannot experience our sin while He did experience our temptation. He could not provide our salvation at the cross and acquiesce to Satan's temptation.
2. When comparing the first Adam's failure, it was based upon deception. The failure of the first Adam with the success of the Last Adam; Christ came to restore that which was lost at the fall. This is what Adam lost as the federal head of the human race. A renewed relationship with God. Adam lost it and Christ passed the temptation.
3. This is one for us. We can learn from this. We can resist temptation in the same way that He did. The Word of God and the power of the Holy Spirit. It is written is His answer each time. He gave divine viewpoint each time; He applied divine viewpoint each time. This power of the Holy Spirit in us is our unassailable defense. It is our only defense. This was one of the greatest battles of the Angelic Conflict. This is serious hand to hand combat.

Matt. 4:3 Then the tempter approached Him and said, "If You are the Son of God, tell these stones to become bread."

1st class condition; this is what I will agree to; if You are the Son of God. This choice would actually compromise 1st class condition. God performs a miracle; stones are changed into bread. Jesus Christ claims Deity. God the Father verifies this: "This is My Son with Whom I am well pleased."

Jesus cannot lose His composure; He cannot violate one aspect of divine truth. This was a temptation to get our Lord to act independently of the Father.

"Since You are God, You can do whatever You want." Satan wants Jesus to violate the true kenosis principle.

The Temptation

1. First, to have Jesus assert His Deity apart from the will of the Father was Satan's objective. The idea is to violate the doctrine of kenosis.
2. To use His Deity for His Own desires when He had voluntarily suspended the independent use of His Deity.
3. Christ would be relying upon His Own omnipotence to relieve His Own hunger. He took on sins which were not antecedently His Own.
4. This becomes a test of the relationship of the Son of God with the empowering Holy Spirit and the will of the Father. How will all of this work? Satan is trying to throw a monkey wrench into the works.
5. Whose initiatives will be followed during the incarnation. The initiative must come from the Father and the Holy Spirit. There cannot be one inch of deviation. Satan would have turned a legitimate need to an illegitimate act.

We cannot turn stones into bread. This sort of temptation is unique; the type of temptation is here. We are constantly tempted to change our priorities. To take legitimate activities in our lives and to neglect God's plan and His doctrine.

You might be told that you need a church with more social life. Is social life wrong? Of course not. You just sit in Berachah and listen to doctrine. That is okay, but you need a little more. That is a temptation to change your priorities. The test is to put your legitimate needs in front of your spiritual life. All of this is totally legitimate. There is nothing wrong with that. We can have both. Just do not wave the priority. You do not get any growth without doctrine. Most churches teach 15 to 20 min. a week; and the rest is games.

Let God handle all of this. We take in the Word and everything else will fall into place. God will take up the slack. That which you think you are missing, God will provide in another time.

If you cannot distinguish human viewpoint from divine viewpoint, even other Christians can lead you down the wrong path. Do not rely upon your own auspices for your needs. Never overlook or distrust God's logistical grace. Do not depend upon your own works over God's plan and love of God. God can fulfill our needs in just the right way at just the right time. To maintain your priorities is the great challenge every day of your life. We are always tempted to follow our plan over the plan of God. We will be tested at our weakness point every time.

Communion Sunday:

Luke 8:45–46 "Who touched Me?" Jesus asked. When they all denied it, Peter said, "Master, the crowds are hemming You in and pressing against You." "Somebody did touch Me," said Jesus. "I know that power has gone out from Me."

There were large groups of people who followed Jesus or were drawn to Him. However, no one escaped His attention; no one was too unimportant.

A woman struck by poverty and illness, and she just reached out to touch his garment. In a moment, Jesus felt the power go out from Him.

There is no irritation expressed here. This woman gives individual testimony to her faith and healing. Even in this crowd, Jesus had the focus on the individual. For Jesus the gatherings were not just a collective group, but a grouping of individual souls.

Luke 8:47 When the woman saw that she was discovered, she came trembling and fell down before Him. In the presence of all the people, she declared the reason she had touched Him and how she was instantly cured.

The size of the crowds are unimportant. Billy Graham attracted large crowds, but if only a few people believed, that in itself was good enough.

Individual volition is always important in a corporate setting. You are not a Christian simply by being in a church.

Bobby came across a great story about a deacon in a Methodist church, and how he spoke, and he really did not want to speak, but he spoke anyway. Most people did not pay much attention to him because he was a poor speaker. However, a man walked into the church to escape the snow and cold. Charles Hadden Spurgeon heard this, and this made the difference.

A Sunday school teacher noticed that one boy was not responding, so she took him aside, and he accepted Jesus. That is Dwight L. Moody. The individual believer is important. God has a plan for us, and this may involve just one person.

Jesus took time aside to speak to one man, Nicodemus, about an individual salvation.

John 3:16 "For God loved the world in this way: He gave His One and Only Son, so that everyone who believes in Him will not perish but have eternal life."

Jesus had a ministry to thousands, but took out time to speak to the Samaritan woman at the well.

That He might taste death for everyone. And, "If I be lifted up..." and He said this with respect to they type of death He would die.

Rom. 5:18 through one transgression, all men are condemned; even so, through one act of righteousness, there is salvation for all men. The imputation of righteousness is available to all men. Every aspect of the work of Christ has a corporate, universal effect. Namely that God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself, not counting their trespasses against them.

Jesus satisfied the just wrath of God by taking upon Himself our sins.

2Peter 3:9 The Lord is not slow about His promises, but He is patient toward us.

The provision for salvation has been made for all at the cross. Christ died for all, but He will not force anyone to accept Him.

Let the one who is thirsty, come.

This man casts out demons only by Beelzebub, the ruler of demons. That expresses corporate rejection of Jesus Christ by the pharisees. They will have to give an individual account for the language or thoughts by which they rejected Jesus Christ.

No one can hide in a crowd. We are responsible for making an individual choice for salvation. 1John 5:12 He who has the Son has life, but he who does not have the Son of God does not have life. An individual choice determines eternity for all. The cross focuses upon the individual, while providing potential salvation for all. We are a corporate entity designed to glorify God.

We are not eternally rewarded because others succeed, or punished because others fail.

For we must all appear before the Judgment Seat of Christ, that each one may be recompensed for his deeds in the body, whether good or bad. Human good is burned; divine good brings eternal reward. The focus is upon the individual in a group setting. The doctrine we hear is for everyone, but the effects are for us individually.

1Peter 4:16 But if anyone suffers as a Christian, he should not be ashamed, but should glorify God with that name.

We will look at the first temptation next service.

Jesus had fasted for 40 days and 40 nights, and Satan attempted to take advantage of this.

Jesus was human; He also needed food. What Satan desires here, is for Jesus to use His Own volition to perform a miracle from His Own omnipotence. If the humanity decides to use His Deity to perform this miracle, He would violate the kenosis principle. He would be using His Deity in order to fulfill His Own human needs. Jesus had voluntarily suspended the use of His divine attributes.

This would compromise the plan of God the Father and His Deity and His humanity. Satan is a genius. He is subtle and extremely deceptive. He wants Jesus to set aside divine providence, the providence which takes care of him, and to use His Deity to provide His Own food. He wants Jesus to set aside His dependence upon God to see to His needs.

The Holy Spirit led Him into the desert just for this purpose. Satan wants Jesus to use His Deity in order to feed Himself. "Forget the plan of God; You are hungry and You have the ability to feed yourself." If Jesus violates the kenosis principle for even one moment, then He is sinning. Jesus Christ must reach the cross as the spotless Lamb of God. The results would be devastating.

This could invalidate all Old Testament prophecies. The potential impact of this one moment. If Jesus takes Satan's request, Satan wins the kingdom, blocking the Kingdom of Heaven from being brought in. We would be lost in spiritual death forever. Satan put his own interest first. He brings the God-man down to his own level.

Satan's original desire is to be like the Most High; and he can never bring himself up to that level, so he will attempt to bring Jesus down to his level. This is the opportunity of his lifetime.

It is Satan's kingdom, and the Lord Jesus Christ would be following the suggestion of Satan.

Matt. 4:3 Then the tempter approached Him and said, "If You are the Son of God, tell these stones to become bread."

Jesus does not say "no" or even "Hell, no." Jesus quotes the Old Testament.

Matt. 4:4 But He answered, "It stands written: Man must not live on bread alone but on every word that comes from the mouth of God."

In God's Word, there are doctrines which cover every circumstance. I need a little philosophy, a little psychology; wrong! It is all in the Bible. The greatest wisdom is available to us, which is the Word of God. Bobby hears, "What about this and what about that?" And if we listen long enough, we will have all of our questions answered.

Jesus has spent years of study for this 3 year ministry. The things that we will face, as believers in Jesus Christ, the time needed is provided. We have a testimony for the Lord Jesus Christ.

Deut. 8:3 “He humbled you by letting you go hungry; then He gave you manna to eat, which you and your fathers had not known, so that you might learn that man does not live on bread alone but on every word that comes from the mouth of the LORD.”

God allowed Israel to go hungry so that the Jews in the desert understood that God fed them spiritually. This is logistical grace for Israel. God provided for Israel when they were hungry. There were not enough lizards and snakes for all 12 tribes to eat. The promise of God guaranteed the food, and that is what was important.

God can supply all of our needs, but we need to listen to Him. This is His immutable Word. It is God’s Word that matters. God the Son knew that God the Father would take care of Him. This is how this passage is understood. God provided manna for Israel in the desert, so food would be provided for Jesus Christ as well.

Nothing else works without it in our spiritually lives. What sustains the believer in this life is Bible doctrine. Jesus Christ demonstrates that in this temptation. Jesus was hungry many times and He could have, at any time, made the most sumptuous meal imaginable. However, this was not in the plan of God. Jesus put the plan of God before all else.

One caveat for those who over-think. This does not mean that, if you are lost in the wilderness, that you just sit down and say, “Give me bread, God.” You do what you can, but you trust in God. Jesus Christ knew that making food was outside of God’s plan. We claim a promise, and we do what we can when facing the problem.

If we need a job, we do not sit on our hands and say, “God, give me a job.” You look for a job.

Jesus believed Deut. 8:3 and understood it. Based upon the doctrine in your soul, you can face whatever tests God put in front of you. We are not just sitting here to get a little academic knowledge. God expects us to apply this information. This is universal, absolute truth. God’s Word first and then you apply it after. Our life is all about the application of Bible doctrine. It is not the circumstances; it is how you deal with Bible doctrine. Tremendous to say the gospel and for someone to respond and then they spend eternity in heaven because of it.

How many of you have never said anything to a beloved member of your family about Jesus Christ? Think about losing them for eternity. Bob pounded Bobby with the gospel around age 4.

The answer to Satan’s first temptation; obedience to the plan of God known via the Word of God.

Psalm 138:2b You have exalted Your name and Your promise above everything else.

ʾim^erâh (אִמְרָה) [pronounced im^e-RAW], which means utterance, speech, word; hymn, sacred poem. Strong's #561ȵ BDB #57.

God has elevated His Word above His Person. This does not mean, God's Word becomes God. We do not make an icon of the Bible. We worship God, Who is revealed in the Bible. The Word of God reveals God. This is how we know Him. We do not worship the Bible, but what it reveals to us about God.

Lesson #0090 Psalm 138:2b Col. 2:16 Matt. 4:4 Life of Christ Wed 5/11/2011

A statement which affects Bobby in an adverse way is, "What would Jesus do?" They might pull something out of context in the gospels and then do what they want to do. Tonight, we will actually find this out.

Our Lord was totally alone, apart from God the Holy Spirit and His empowerment; along with lizards, snakes, wild beasts, and Satan. There was no support system of family and friends. Jesus did not need advice. He knew what to say and to consider.

There are many times when there is nothing that we can do except respond. Jesus always faced things head on. He did not try to relax with breathing techniques. He could not fall back on some self-help book. Jesus did not even pray at this point. However, He certainly prayed earlier while fasting.

Jesus used the most powerful weapon, and it is a weapon which never fails; He used the Word of God, which was the Old Testament, as guided by God the Holy Spirit. What He said was, of course, recorded. Jesus had the Scripture had His fingertips, and He had learned the Scripture. None of these other things did He rely upon. The Lord Jesus Christ did not overlook the greatest weapon in our arsenal, which is the Word of God. He learned this through His childhood and young adulthood. He never said, I am too tired to learn the Word of God. Jesus grew in wisdom, and He knew and understood its power. He used it under all circumstances, first and foremost.

God's Word was always His priority. He used it again and again and was prepared to use His Word. Jesus faced difficult situations in his family life. He was singled out and ridiculed by His brothers and sisters as an odd person and misunderstood from time to time by His parents. There He was, the Messiah, and they thought He was strange. In any case, His parents made certain that He was fully educated in the Word of God. We must be able to pull up the correct Scripture at the right time.

Problem solving devices simply reflect what is in the Bible. They reflect the doctrine within our souls. Most of what was taught are illustrations, which were to teach the doctrines. He used many illustrations and the illustration is of doctrine.

Bobby has been under the authority of some of the most brilliant professors in evangelical churches today, and none of them could equal the teaching illustrations which came from the pulpit of Berachah. This is why we understand Bible doctrine so well. We can use all sorts of ways to bring up the doctrine.

Our Lord was prepared from the doctrine in His soul. They led Him in that regard as a very young man. He was faithful to the Word of God and this was His fallback position in every case.

Deut. 8:3 “He humbled you by letting you go hungry; then He gave you manna to eat, which you and your fathers had not known, so that you might learn that man does not live on bread alone but on every word that comes from the mouth of the LORD.”

Psalms 138:2b You have magnified Your Word above all Your name.

’im^erâh (יְמִרָה) [pronounced im^e-RAW], which means utterance, speech, word; hymn, sacred poem. Strong’s #561ȵ BDB #57.

Above is ‘al, and name refers to the kind of Person God is. His Word is magnified even above His own Person. His Word reveals His person, which allows us to worship Him. Otherwise, we must try to understand Him from human viewpoint. We need the revealed Word of God. God reveals Himself in many ways. All this revelation reveals Him. There is no other way that we can know Him apart from direct contact. We cannot understand apart from His Word. He reveals Himself. Trying to find God through man elevates man above God. The Word of God is the communication of Who God is. He magnifies His Word so that we know Him. The Word reveals His character.

Why Is His Word Magnified above His Person

1. His Word reveals His Person. He elevates it because He wants us to know His Person.
2. His Word is His communication of His Person and His will. We cannot know His will apart from His Word.
3. This is the only way that we can know Him and His will. This is why we are here. We don’t come to Berachah for the great programs here. We come to Berachah because that is what Jesus would do. He is the precedent for our spiritual life; learning the Word of God. To us, His Word comes to us through the revealed Word of God. Today, God has given men the gift of pastor-teacher so that they might study His Word, learn it, and are prepared to do that.

Bobby sits at his desk every day and he wants to do it everyday. He loves it. He looks at a passage and is not quite certain what to do with it. It is a tremendous responsibility to get it right, in what God is trying to tell all of us. We are to listen and to metabolize this doctrine.

Col. 2:16 Who has known the mind of the Lord that he may instruct Him? But, we have the mind of Christ.

Jesus thought from the Scriptures. We have exactly the same word and the same thinking. Nowhere else is there the Word of God. From the exhale of the Holy Spirit through divinely inspired authors of the Bible.

Matt. 4:4 But He answered, "It is written: Man must not live on bread alone but on every word that comes from the mouth of God."

This represents the very thinking of Jesus Christ. This continued for His entire life.

Jesus and the Word of God

1. The Lord Jesus Christ lives and obeys every word communicated from the Word of God.
2. He has followed the Word of God in Psalm 138:2, elevating the Word of God above His Own person.
3. This means, His thinking of doctrine guides His actions. It is doctrine which guides His action. God's Word guides Him in all that He does.
4. He is obedient to the Word of God. He is also obedient to the will of God.
5. He places Himself under the authority of God's Word. However, He does not relinquish His Own Deity. This is the rationale for the doctrine of kenosis.
6. The Word of God is always essential to obedience to God's will. It was essential to Jesus Christ because we cannot be saved if He was not obedient to God's will. He must live as the spotless Lamb of God.
7. This was foremost in His passing of this temptation. He must submit to the Word of God in context; He uses the Word of God to stay in the will of God in this temptation.
8. Jesus was true humanity and, as such, He must obey the will of God. He speaks of Himself, in His humanity, as living based upon every Word from the Mouth of God. He was a part of this revelation. The mouth of God simply refers to the communication of the Word of God.
9. In essence, the Lord Jesus Christ held up the Word of God to Satan. He threw the Word of God into Satan's face.

We take in the doctrine and then go out and use it. We handle the adversity; we deal with life; that is living the spiritual life.

Bobby will continue to teach, because this is what Jesus did. Jesus Christ knew God's Word and He knew that God would supply all of His needs. He did not have to do all of this for Himself. Logistical grace is God prerogative. You must be able to think grace before you can apply it and use it.

Every religion is a works system, apart from Biblical Christianity. Grace is the key difference; God's grace versus man's ability. We cannot think grace apart from studying the Word of God.

We first and foremost rely upon metabolized doctrine from our souls. Divine viewpoint over human viewpoint. We depend upon the renovated thinking from the Word of God. That is grace orientation. There are a lot of ways from human viewpoint and other resources that we can overcome this or that difficulty; but many other times when we are completely stymied.

Christianity is just not another way of getting by; one psychological crutch as versus another. Christianity is always based upon absolute truth and is the only sure means of living our lives. The application is, the human necessities of life.

Lesson #0091

Matt. 4:3 Life of Christ

Thurs 5/12/2011

Our Lord's primary approach was obedience to the will and Word of God. He never departed from the Word of God. Bobby always does the best that he can, but he is not infallible and he is not perfect. He had to remain perfect in order to go to the cross. Had Jesus not passed the test, including these 3 temptations, there would have been no vicarious death. He underwent incredible humiliation; this made Him subservient to the plan of God. He was not any less Deity; He voluntarily gave up the use His divine assets.

Kenosis is the emptying of Himself. God's plan and His will are found in the same place that our Lord found it; in the Bible. All the doctrine that we need. All of this is there in the Bible; but it is useless unless metabolized.

The greatest test in our life is the areas where we are the weakest. Satan is after the really big ones; not us. The outward temptation of the cosmic system where it hits us the worst. It is easy to pass a test where you are not at all inclined. Our Lord found strength in this test.

He was bid to turn stones into bread.

Matt. 4:3 Then the tempter approached Him and said, "If You are the Son of God, tell these stones to become bread."

What Jesus did was magnify God's Word above His Person. He put God's Word ahead of utilizing His Deity.

Many believers to day are impressed with so-called miracles where they want something. That is where they know that God is real. That is a God they can believe in; that is a God they can trust in. Such people do not have the mind of Christ. Christ emphasized God's Word over extra-natural experiences.

We are always in His hands. If we lose are health, there is a reason for it. Martin Mueller is a wonderful example of someone who has turned a health-threatening situation into the opportunity to witness for Jesus Christ. He is doing what Jesus did. We deal with testing by using the Word of God.

The next test. There will be a twist on this test. Our Lord stood upon the very top of the Temple.

Matt. 4:5 Then the Devil took Him to the holy city, had Him stand on the pinnacle of the temple,

Nothing will happen to You; that is God's promise.

Matt. 4:6 and said to Him, "If You are the Son of God, throw Yourself down. For it is written: He will give His angels orders concerning You and, they will support You with their hands so that You will not strike Your foot against a stone."

Jesus throws Scripture right back at God.

Matt. 4:7 Jesus told him, "It is also written: Do not test the Lord your God."

If this is Jesus' defense, why would this not be our defense. If the Word of God was dependable against the greatest temptation of all time; temptations we will never face, then why is it not dependable for us? If our Lord used the Word of God as the answer to these tests, we do we not to the same thing? Jesus inculcated Bible doctrine from His earliest age. He did this in preparation for His ministry.

Satan uses God's Word against Jesus. He shows some real evil genius at this point. Satan tempts Jesus to apply God's Word. Satan is the great manipulator. He is the master genius manipulator.

"You want to cite the Old Testament? Then let me cite it as well." You claimed a logistical grace promise before; let's look at a similar promise concerning You. "Look, there is a bonus for You; if You do what I ask, everyone will see You are obviously the Messiah." The Old Testament citation that Satan takes is manipulated and perverted.

Satan's Second Approach

1. Satan takes our Lord's previous defense, the defense He used to pass the first test, and then he presents a new condition, a new situation, and he cites God's Word as a solution to the situation.
2. This is Satan's making and then he offers up God's Word as a solution.
3. He goads Jesus into trust God's Word by accepting a ridiculous challenge to jump off the Temple pinnacle. "If You really trust God's Word, then jump."
4. This is another action against God's will. There is nothing silly or frivolous about God.

5. Satan is slick and deceptive and brilliant; this would be a departure from the correct application of the Old Testament verse.
6. Satan uses Jesus's words against you all the time. Satan is his own defense lawyer in the appeal stage of the Angelic Conflict.
7. If Jesus falls into the trap of misusing the Scripture, this would be devastating to His Person and His purpose.
8. This would violate the proper use of God's Word. This is the sort of test that we face all of the time. The perversion of Bible doctrine to suit our own purposes.

Proof-texting. Students write papers all the time by misapplying Scripture. Camp on a Scripture and apply it the wrong way. This so often happens with amateur theologians. They do not have the full range of theology. They do not realize that taking Scripture here this way, then it contradicts other doctrines. False doctrine is what you are perpetrating. Bobby worked as a student assistant for one of the Feinberg brothers. It was an incredible education for Bobby to see how they twist the Scriptures and get it wrong.

The perversion of rebound. Using rebound as a justification for indulging weaknesses or sins. Bobby knows the thought. Doing something that we know it outside the plan of God. There is always rebound. This perverts doctrine and misuses a provision of God's grace. That thought process easily becomes a habit; it allows you to do anything when you want to do it. Indulging the sin nature to do what you want to do. It is a perversion of rebound. This is quenching the Holy Spirit on a regular basis. We are all going to sin. But to consciously use rebound is a misuse of the doctrine. Our obedience to God's Word is to grow. When we do get out of line, then we rebound. We don't put the cart before the horse. This does not invalidate the use of rebound.

This is what Satan is doing; a misapplication of Scripture. This is a road to reversionism. This quenches the Holy Spirit and this can keep us out of fellowship a lot.

The corruption of the doctrine of eternal security. The easy believism. The idea that you must show fruit. The true doctrine is, once saved always saved. We pervert it by saying, "I can now do what I want to do and I will end up in heaven." This will saddle us with nothing but discipline. When we finally do get to heaven, there are no rewards; we will be a peon on Dirt Street.

The time in eternity is a very long time compared to our lives here. This is what we get for the trade-off to the perversion of the doctrine of eternal security.

The subtle point, Jesus is asked to jump from the pinnacle of the Temple; if He refuses to jump at the bidding of Satan, then does He really believe the Scripture? That means, "You do not really trust God, do You?" All this stuff about God's logistical grace, this is just a sham, if You cannot jump. Jumping proves that you have placed Yourself into God's hands. If Jesus really trusted in God, He would throw himself from this pinnacle. "You will not even stub your toe; the angels will take care of You."

The idea is, this would also be to the Lord's advantage, since everyone would recognize that He is truly the Son of God.

However, this is an unnecessary thing for Jesus to do. This is like us asking God to provide us with empirical proof of His existence or of His Word. We do not need to test Him to show that He cares for us.

When will God relieve me of this test? Wrong way to think. What can I do to glorify God? That is the proper response.

We must know a little doctrine to determine what is actually outside of His will. If we don't have the doctrine right, how can we apply it? Using Scripture to justify what we want to do is heinous. Jesus cannot make the decision to jump to prove God's care and keeping. God keeps His Word; we know Him and we can trust Him.

Believers constantly take God's Word out of context and misapply it. And this is being out of God's will. We can hear doctrine and misapply it immediately. We hear the doctrine and you think about yourself and your circumstances and you try to put them both together.

The Holy Spirit does not ever sanction the teaching of false doctrine ever. He does not sanction whatever false doctrine we draw from true doctrine. Jesus knew what true and false doctrine was; there was no trust problem. He knew how to correctly apply doctrine.

Lesson #0092

Matt. 4: 4–6 Life of Christ

1Sunday 5/15/2011

There is less doctrine in this study than we found in Corinthians. However, we are looking into the very mind of Christ here. Jesus was also guided by God the Holy Spirit.

Satan wants to use the strength of Jesus against Him. This is used by lots of people in many ways, in the courtroom and the battlefield. The Angelic Conflict is where this is being done.

Διαβολος is the word used here, not Satan. The pinnacle is a high point on the Temple.

Matt. 4:5 Then the Devil took Him to the holy city, he had Him stand on the pinnacle of the temple,

Then Satan gives the temptation. "Launch yourself into space from here, because it stands written, He will give His angels orders concerning You, and they will support you."

Satan knows Scripture and he uses it and throws it back on the Living Word of God.

Matt. 4:6 and said to Him, "If You are the Son of God, throw Yourself down. For it stands written: He will give His angels orders concerning You and, they will support You with their hands so that You will not strike your foot against a stone."

Satan challenges our Lord to stand on a skyscraper and leap. He suggests Scripture. Satan is calling this Scripture into question as well. "Is this really true? Prove it."

What is behind this? Satan would like to get Jesus Christ to depart from the correct application of the verse which he has cited. He wants Jesus to use this verse in the distorted way that he has used it. This is a reversal.

There is a more subtle point here as well. If Jesus jumps, in order to extract from God His promised protection, He is actually putting God to the test. "I am going to jump; protect Me, God." This is an unnecessary proof from God.

"If You don't jump, then you obviously do not trust God or the Scriptures." This is what Satan is implying here. Aren't we supposed to trust God in everything? And this verse clearly indicates that God would watch over Jesus Christ.

Trust problems are endemic to the human race.

"Let's start out Your ministry by showing that You are Who You claim You are."

6 times we have the 2nd person, masculine singular pronoun or suffix. So, Satan is looking to question the Person of Jesus Christ.

Decisions made from Bible doctrine are always good decisions. It is always true that we must trust in God for everything; and such trust is never misplaced. God does not sanction trust in false doctrine or in twisted doctrine.

Matt. 4:7 Jesus told him, "It is also written: Do not test the Lord your God."

Bobby has seen many times people distort the Word of God and then change their lives a little bit to reflect this distortion. With the mind of Christ, you do not hurl yourself off cliffs (which, metaphorically, means that you do not make bad decisions). At some point, you need to stop running headfirst into a wall, over and over again.

The law of volitional responsibility and there is the discipline which will bring us back.

In this second test, Satan tells Jesus to follow his instructions in order to publically prove God's Word.

If you are adept at blaming everyone and everything else, what you really are; what are you learning? Bible doctrine in your soul is designed for you to evaluate yourself. This is designed to guide us. Doctrine must be utilized and correctly applied, and then it works. Everything else that we do when twisted will result in bad decisions and bad repercussions.

Satan wants Jesus to depend upon the very letter of the Law; "Here are the exact words, which are easy to understand. If you jump, God will see to it that You do not even stub your toe."

Before you leap off the pinnacle, make certain that you are not twisting or distorting Bible doctrine. You cannot act independent of God's will and claim Scripture. We are not here to gratify ourselves or to glorify ourselves. That is a misapplication of doctrine. This is why we must be clear and grounded in our doctrine.

This second test begins with a little trip into Jerusalem. We go from the desert into the big city, Jerusalem.

V. 3 tells us that Jesus is being led by the Holy Spirit into the desert.

Satan picks just the right location here. The additional incentive to jump, the priests of the Temple are beginning a new day and there are sacrifices being offered up that very day of the Temple. If Jesus throws Himself off the Temple and the angels catch Him, as the Bible says, what a spectacular way for Jesus to begin His ministry. Would these people not just stop and worship Jesus right on the spot. The Messiah has just flown in; He has just landed. The idea is, this is quite a shortcut. One little jump, a catch by the angels, and Jesus gains great notoriety. Israel would immediately crown Him Messiah.

Even if Jesus jumped, this would not have impressed these men on negative volition. No matter what Jesus did, it was not acceptable to the religious leaders. This miracle would not have made a single new convert.

Matt. 4:5 Then the Devil took Him to the holy city, he had Him stand on the pinnacle of the temple,

Lesson #0093

Matt. 4:5–7 Life of Christ

2Sunday 5/15/2011

450 ft. above the Valley of Kidron. The promise is, "If you jump, the angels will catch You; You will not even stub Your toe. Trust God, because this is His promise. Or, don't jump and doubt God and doubt the Scripture."

Matt. 4:5 Then the Devil took Him to the holy city, had Him stand on the pinnacle of the temple,

Also, the idea is the shortcut recognition by all of the people. Those in the Temple and around the Temple will recognize Who He is.

We begin with a 1st class condition. "If You are the Son of God" and this is from the assumption of reality. Satan knows Who this is, and he attempts to tempt the humanity of Jesus Christ.

Satan tells Jesus to jump into space, and God will take care of Him. A leap of faith. Just jump out there and depend upon the Lord. However, there had better be some doctrinal rationale in this leap of faith.

Several of Bobby's friends came back from Vietnam, and they drove through Las Vegas and they had a pocket full of paychecks, so they decided to try to make some money there and to give some of this money to Berachah. They pulled out the Bible, pointed to a verse, which turned out to be, "You prepare a table before Me."

So, here in Matt. 4, this is using God's Word so that Jesus would depend upon Satan rather than upon God. Or allow Himself to be guided by God rather than Satan.

There is nothing which indicates that Jesus knew when to do this or that next.

Matt. 4:6 and said to Him, "If You are the Son of God, [then] throw Yourself down. For it is written: He will give His angels orders concerning You and, they will support You with their hands so that You will not strike Your foot against a stone." (Psalm 91:11–12)

Psalm 91:11–12 For He will give His angels orders concerning you, to protect you in all your ways. They [God's angels] will support you with their hands so that you will not strike your foot against a stone.

Satan is asking Jesus to put God the Father to the test. "Prove that Your trust in God is warranted, by making a great leap." There is an exaggerated literalism. This goes well beyond the meaning of this passage. This belies common sense and gravity as well. Negative volition and disobedience to His will are things that God does not offer protection for. God allows these volitional choices and He allows the repercussions, and there is the law of volitional responsibility. We live with the repercussions of all of our bad decisions.

However, God takes all of this, in His grace, and works all things together for good. We can be in reversionism and we can exhibit negative volition, but then, after beating our heads against the wall long enough, then God works all things together for good, so that we can grow up.

You might have great highs of happiness, but you will also have great lows as well. However, you ought not to depend upon extraneous circumstances for your happiness. The place where you deviate the most, might be where you gain the most.

When you work out, you work out your weakest areas to make them stronger. You need to be strong across the board. This is what the testing offers us.

Many times, people are in difficult circumstances, and God provides the applicable doctrine. If you are listening; if you are renovating, the solution will be provided. God never leaves any believer without the means to recover. He even allows us to undo stupid decisions. There is no mistake too great, no misapplication which is too bad, that doctrine and God's plan cannot overcome.

God is not obligated to protect us if we throw ourselves out of an airplane at 5000 ft. and say, "Catch me, God." However, at the same time, we can be in harm's way, and God protects us there (like a soldier). As long as we have a purpose, God uses us; and when our time is up, nothing can keep us here. God is going to protect us, but He will not always protect us from our own bad decisions.

When the believer uses his own volition to get away from the plan of God, he removes himself from the will of God, and from God's protection. Example of suicide. There is no excuse for taking matters into your own hands in that regard.

Psalm 91 is not something which we are supposed to test, but doing something which is clearly outside of the plan of God. There is nothing more insidious or brazen than to do something outside of the plan of God, particularly when it comes to testing God.

So, Jesus responds with, "It stands written, Do not test the Lord your God."

Jesus is not taken aback by Satan quoting from the Old Testament. One is an application of doctrine, and the other is a distortion of doctrine.

Matt. 4:7 Jesus told him, "It is also written: Do not test the Lord your God." (Deut 6:16).

The issue here is not to jump in order to prove God's faithfulness, but the issue is testing God. God is to be trusted without a test. When Gideon tested God, God expected more from him.

People in Berachah have complained about the jam they have gotten themselves into, and it was their choice that got them into that jam. The Word of God is always our refuge when applied in the right way.

Psalm 31:3–4 For You are my rock and my fortress; You lead and guide me because of Your name. You will free me from the net that is secretly set for me, for You are my refuge.

Psalm 62:2 He alone is my rock and my salvation, my stronghold; I will never be shaken.

We must apply the proper doctrine in the right circumstances. Do not play fast and loose with the Bible. People read the Bible or study it on their own; misinterpret it or misapply it. The danger is there. Particularly when not listening to a qualified pastor-teacher doing his job. Do not claim a promise which God has not made.

Lesson #0094

5/18/2011 Wed

Jesus put the Word of God before anything that was a physical desire. If you cannot put the Word of God first, then you will ultimately fail every test. You may have a little victory here or there, but you will continually fail tests. It is the only way to ultimately pass tests. You need to have it as your first priority. What is your priority in life? There are lots of things going on in all of your lives. Bobby's priority is to study and teach. We have all sorts of things like family and work problems, and we need to focus on the priority of Bible doctrine. If we are centered upon the Word of God, then everything else becomes balanced. This, of course, does not mean to ignore your family or your job. There are many things that you cannot afford to neglect ever.

There are many excuses for not taking in Bible doctrine. There are many excuses for not being in Berachah. Some are excellent and some are worthless. The reason to be in Berachah is Bible doctrine. You cannot live without doctrine. This is the application for the first temptation.

Then the Word of God was misapplied by Satan, in an attempt to get Jesus to do that. It happens all the time. There is one meaning in every passage of Scripture, which is what the Lord intended, and you cannot twist it to make it stand for what you want it to stay.

Jesus stood strong upon the Word of God that was properly applied and interpreted.

We are at the final and supreme test.

The devil takes Jesus to a high mountain. They view all the kingdoms of the world.

Matt. 4:8 Again, the Devil took Him to a very high mountain and showed Him all the kingdoms of the world and their splendor.

“You bow down to me, and I will give You all of these things.”

Matt. 4:9 And he said to Him, "I will give You all these things if You will fall down and worship me."

Jesus counters with Scripture again.

Matt. 4:10 Then Jesus told him, "Go away, Satan! For it is written: Worship the Lord your God, and serve only Him."

We do not know where this was; needed to be something greater than the mountains of Palestine. Hupsilos means mountains, great heights. Exactly where they were transferred to is entirely unknown and it may not have been on solid ground. This height was attained through an unknown means of transportation. It was a quick conveyance. Luke 4:5 says that this occurred in a moment in time. There must have been a translation to this height in a way that we cannot do. There had to be a magnificent view.

Before the space age, no one could imagine this. This would have been high enough to include all of the kingdoms. They are called kingdoms of the world and their glory. These would be glorious kingdoms of opulence. At the very least, this would have been the Roman empire and Greece and Asia Minor, where there was some very advanced civilizations; Egypt and Arabia. So, there had to be something greater than a mountain in Palestine, which goes up to maybe 9000 ft.

We understand that this world lies in great darkness, in the jurisdiction of Satan, and he can legitimately offer these kingdoms. He could bestow them as they were all under his sway. The laws and governance of the cosmic system. They live under a system which completely opposes the Word of God. Most of the world does not have divine viewpoint.

We often wonder how can people think that, whether in the military, politics, acquaintances, etc. If you think with divine viewpoint, then human viewpoint is completely out-of-synch with your thinking. It will be apparent that you think differently. You do not think the way that the world thinks, which is a good thing.

Satan was exercising his authority over all of his kingdoms. Nothing has changed. The cosmic system rules. Congress is often the midst of the cosmic system along with all governmental systems. It rules except where Bible doctrine rules in the souls of believers. We are not a pipsqueak or a cog; we are a major player. We are the walking opposition to Satan. We are a shining light, a beacon in the kingdom of Satan.

By one little act, Jesus could rule over all things, but He would have aligned Himself with Satan.

What Was the Temptation

1. This was a shortcut to the Kingdom of God. Jesus will bring in the kingdom.
2. This was a way to avoid the cross. Jesus did not want to undergo the cross. This would have avoided the cross. Jesus could have ruled the earth with perfect justice. The Father wanted Jesus to go all the way to the cross. This had to be a great temptation. Jesus would come into contact with every sin of all mankind throughout all time, and He bore all of these sins in His Own body on the cross. He did not want to do that. The cross would be a horrible experience, which was made clear by that one prayer.
3. The implication is, Jesus could have all of the kingdoms without the cross. Just one little act of obeisance.
4. Jesus could stop centuries of warfare between Satan and God. It could all be over; no more Angelic Conflict.
5. Our Lord could now fulfill His title Prince of Peace. This would be peace on earth in one quick moment by bringing in the kingdom. All is quiet.
6. His one decision or one action could now preclude the grueling process in future time.
7. Just one little moment; that would have been all it would take. So many people are tempted today with this or that that will bring in peace, equality and justice for all. Those who claim to bring in justice are the most unjust of all. Our leaders want to redistribute your wealth. They want us to be equal if they are above it. Jesus opted for the plan of God.

As Jesus looked out over these kingdoms, Satan would allow Jesus to take his place as ruler over the world; the only condition is to worship Satan. This was always Satan's objective. He knew perfectly well that Jesus was God and man in One Person and Satan dreaded this moment. This was a strategy and it was defeated as were so many of the strategies before. Satan knew that he could never equal the power of the essence of God and the power of God. He was in the throne room of God. Who could be more aware of God than Satan.

Satan's Ambition Here

1. Satan's original ambition, which precipitated his fall, is covered right here. The God-man is in the most vulnerable of positions. Satan tempts our Lord in that way.
2. Satan wanted to become His equal, if only for that moment, which was his desire.
3. If our Lord worshiped to receive the kingdom, Satan would have usurped God's authority over the kingdom. Satan would have been the king-maker.
4. That has always been Satan's objective since the first moment arrogance was found in him. His arrogance bade him rule on a par with God. When you worship someone, that is obeisance to them.

There was implied in this worship, true autonomy of Christ's rule in the kingdom. He does not have autonomy in his own kingdom. This also implies service to the god of this world. Obedience is implied and service to Satan as well; that is what worship means; obedience and service to the one who is worshiped. Satan would be the power behind the throne because he had been worshiped.

You are worshiping God by obedience to Bible doctrine or you are participating in the cosmic system. You worship him; you serve him. This is done through the spiritual life. The essence of worship is reciprocal love. You are on one side of the fence or the other. Worship demands an obedience. We worship in communion; that is why it is mandated to us. Every time we assemble for communion. In that worship, we are pledging our obedience to God. It does not stop with a genuflect. Satan would have become Jesus's lord.

This would have been done in front of all the angels. That is key to this temptation. The spiritual life is the greatest experience for the believer in Jesus Christ. The supreme authority would remain with Satan. To whom do you pay obeisance every day? When you think with Bible doctrine, you are thinking and living the mandates of our Lord. This is a moment-by-moment worship. In spite of all the pressures that we face, when you think doctrine, it does not get you. You will worship the Lord your God and Him only.

Matt. 4:10 Then Jesus told him, "Go away, Satan! For it is written: Worship the Lord your God, and serve only Him."

What Did this Reply Mean?

1. Satan's offer here was a lie. The autonomy that was offered was a lie. The cosmic system strings us along like a puppet.
2. The kingdom promise would not be the kingdom promised by God to Israel. Messiah would not be king; Satan would be king.
3. When Christ answered this, He precluded a kingdom which would continue to be ruled by Satan. He stopped it.
4. Had Jesus not said, "Begone, Satan." this world would not have been changed.
5. Bottom line is, Satan is a creature of God, created by God, and cannot be worshiped by God without destroying God's sovereignty.

God's plan involves the cross.

What Was God's Plan?

1. The cross must come before the crown.
2. The cross is the basis for the eternal kingdom of regenerate people.
3. Without the cross, there is no relationship with God; none. Our relationship with God is only through the cross. Every religion has a way to relate to God. No other religion, person, philosophy or crackpot, no one who claims that the rapture occurs this weekend; in no other way, except through the cross, can you have a relationship. That is what Satan wanted to stop. No relation with God for us without the cross.
4. The kingdom without a relationship to the king is a sham. Satan offers the kingdom, but there is no real kingdom available. We live in the cosmic system and the whole thing is a lie. We can only distinguish lies from truth is to know truth.
5. Satan's promise is not the promise of God for an eternal kingdom or for eternal life.

There is not validity in the kingdom here offered by Satan. In His answer to Satan, Jesus once again falls back on Scripture. Jesus pulled the right Scripture from what was implanted in His soul.

Deut. 6:13 You will fear only the Lord your God, and...

Deu 6:13 Fear the LORD your God, worship Him, and take your oaths in His name.

Thought we would cover this verse, but it does not appear that we will.

Lesson #0095

John 1:35–41 Life of Christ

5/19/2011 Thurs

Satan does not reside in hell. He wants nothing to do with hell. All that he does is to stay out of that play. He is not omnipresent, but he is ubiquitous. He is there to cause those who are growing to deviate from spiritual growth. He will continually attempt to obscure the facts of the gospel. 2Cor. 4:3–4 he is very successful and effective in doing this. The cosmic system is all around us; it is all around us; this is the modus operandi for unbelievers. There are a few unbelievers who are establishment-oriented. We are the only ones who can live outside of the cosmic system. It is our obligation as a believer in Jesus Christ to live outside of the cosmic system. The cosmic system is very attractive. It is something which lures us so easily. It is exactly what Satan would like to do. One of Satan's great tactics is to try to get us to live in the cosmic system.

Christ in you, the hope of glory. Jesus Christ indwells us. The mind of Christ which we learn is our reflection of Him to the world. Satan attempts to inundate us in the cosmic system. Our victory in the Angelic Conflict in this cosmic world in which we live is always found in God's Word. It is exactly what Jesus did; He uses God's Word.

How Did Jesus Defend Against the Cosmic System

1. Jesus actively pursued God's will. Too often, people try to stuff God's will into our desires.
2. Jesus utilized the guidance and power of God the Holy Spirit. He utilized the Holy Spirit's power.
3. He used God's Word as His defense. God's Word is a weapon. Bible doctrine is our sure defense. He used God's Word.

We have the power of the Holy Spirit just as He did; He is our pattern; He is the pattern for us to pursue as a part of God's plan. People sit in Berachah for years with doctrine taught consistently, and it never seems to penetrate the fog of their thinking. They never are able to think with the mind of Christ. Why are they here? What are they listening to? Bobby wonders, if you aren't getting anything, why come? And if you are here, why not listen? We have all the capability to think with the mind of Christ. Through all of the very difficult moments of testing, He refused to use His divine attributes independently of the will of God. He was God and man, and the first temptation called for Him to use His Deity independently of God's plan.

Jesus was subordinate to the will of God, and the only reason is, so that He might die for us. It is difficult to grasp and to appreciate what He did on our behalf, just getting to the cross. When we begin to appreciate Him, we develop the reciprocal love which allows us to worship Him. So many churches have not a single clue about Who Jesus is. What He did.

After the temptations, the battle lines were drawn. The Lord Jesus Christ from that moment on set His course for His ministry and then the cross. He refused in all temptations to take the short cut offered by Satan. He refused to take the kingdom that He could have had.

There is maybe a parallel between the temptations which He faced and which Adam faced? Perhaps, the realization that life would suck for so many because He does not take over the kingdoms of the world when they were offered.

Satan watched this, and he could do very little but blind the minds of people.

Jesus Christ turns toward the first phrase of His ministry.

Jesus in the first few days, demonstrated His office. There was the mass testimony of John the Baptizer. John 1:19–34.

John, as a prophet, looked forward. Also the repentance and the Soteriological testimony. John presented Who Jesus Christ was, the prophet, the Savior. Besides John and all that he did to introduce Jesus Christ, there were other men early on in Jesus' ministry. Jesus gathers 5 disciples and soon after this, the miracle of Cana. This is one of the most famous. Then He cleansed the Temple for the first time, going to Jerusalem for the Passover. He did not cleanse it very nicely. This Temple no longer spoke of Him.

John had a lot of disciples. He was well-known. Jesus is here and John identified Him with baptism. John needs to let his ministry give way to our Lord's ministry. It was time for him to gather a close coterie of disciples around Jesus. John would decrease as Jesus increased.

There was concentrated teaching for our Lord's disciples. It was time for these disciples to follow Jesus rather than John. They would speak doctrine and teach and write epistles, which make up the doctrine that we learn.

John 1:35 Again the next day, John was standing with two of his disciples.

One is Andrew, and the other is not named, but it is probably John. They are told to leave John the Baptizer and to follow Jesus. "Take off, follow Him. You are done with my ministry." These men began to follow Jesus to trail Him; almost as stalkers. They watched and waited. If this was the One, they wanted to be with Him.

John 1:36 When he saw Jesus passing by, he said, "Look! The Lamb of God!"

John 1:37 The two disciples heard him say this and followed Jesus.

They know Who He is, sort of. They ask where is He staying. They wanted to hang out there with Him.

John 1:38 When Jesus turned and noticed them following Him, He asked them, "What are you looking for?" They said to Him, "Rabbi" (which means "Teacher"), "where are You staying?"

Right from the beginning, they began to follow Him. Rabbi is a term of great respect. A Rabbi interpreted the Law, which they lived by. John deferred to Jesus. They exhibited complete and totally positive volition. How did you respond to the gospel and Bible doctrine the first time that you heard it? Perhaps, you began to think about the grace of God and about the gospel you heard; and, regardless of how you got there, you got there. These disciples were right on it. They wanted to know Him and to get in immediately.

John 1:39 "Come and you'll see," He replied. So they went and saw where He was staying, and they stayed with Him that day. It was about 10 in the morning.

During this time, Andrew was totally convinced that this was the Messiah.

John 1:40 Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, was one of the two who heard John and followed Him.

When Andrew heard, he wanted his brother to hear. His first convert was his brother Simon Peter. Simon means quick to hear. He heard and acted quickly. He acted impetuously. He acted without thinking. Simon Peter always tried to go first, to blurt out the answer, to give his thoughts. Simon, more than anyone, wanted to please the Lord. In those moments, he failed. Right up to the crucifixion, he would fail again and again. However, his impetuous nature would be turned to stability.

John 1:41 He first found his own brother Simon and told him, "We have found the Messiah!" (which means "Anointed One"),

This meeting meeting was described in v. 42:

Cephus is the Aramaic version of Peter. Jesus had never met Peter before. Jesus knew his name and lineage before there was any introduction. He knew his character immediately. Simon was brash; quick to hear; impetuous.

Simon Peter recognized that Jesus was able to know him, which would have been from eternity past, and known in our Lord's Deity.

Simon and Peter are names which clash. He begins by being impetuous. Jesus calls him Cephas, which refers to Peter's stability. That is what Peter would be, even though, at that time, Peter was impetuous. "Stick with Me, and you will be stable, like a rock."

Peter liked all of this and he believed in Jesus. This planted a seed in Peter and he recognized Who Jesus was. When you recognize a leader, a great man, then you do not want to fall short of this leader's expectations for Peter. This is why he took his failures so hard. He failed, and this was very hard on him. That is not stability, but he would grow into a rock. He would become stable; he would become immovable.

Peter

1. Peter became a leader and he was a natural leader and a bulwark of doctrine in the newly formed church after the Day of Pentecost. He heard a lot that did not click with him right away; but it eventually sock with Him.
2. He was also an Apostle, one of the highest authorities in the church. Andrew brought Peter to the Lord.
3. Peter would be a rock who would have a magnificent impact for the Lord. Peter John and Paul were the mainstays that we know about. We don't know about most of their ministries.
4. When your thinking is renovated by doctrine, the quality of stubbornness turns to unswerving dedication. Stubbornness can get you into a lot of trouble. Bible doctrine in your head turn stubbornness to stability.
5. So Peter was a rock with unswerving dedication. It would take time before Peter would reach this point.
6. There has been a terrible misunderstanding about Peter and this name, and how this all got mixed up. "Upon this rock, I will found My assembly." This was taken to refer to a pope and many took on what they believed to be his mantle.

Lesson #0096 John 1:35–42 Matt. 16:18–19 Life of Christ 5/22/2011 1 Sunday

Jesus would train these men with whom He came in contact. The plan of God begins here, in terms of our Lord's public ministry. John the Baptizer appears again in our narrative and he lends a hand in bringing some of these men to Christ.

John has some disciples of his own, and they changed their minds about religion and about the Messiah. There are 2 of them standing next to John. It was time for them to move on, so they could go from his authority.

John 1:35 Again the next day, John was standing with two of his disciples.

John 1:36 When he saw Jesus passing by, he said, "Look! The Lamb of God!"

John points out Jesus. These 2 men decided that, "We need to check these guys out."

John 1:37 The two disciples heard him say this and followed Jesus.

John 1:38 When Jesus turned and noticed them following Him, He asked them, "What are you looking for?" They said to Him, "Rabbi" (which means "Teacher"), "where are You staying?"

These new disciples ask Jesus, "Where are you staying?" Rabbi is a highly respected term in the Jewish culture. This is one prepared to interpret the Mosaic Law.

John 1:39 "Come and you'll see," He replied. So they went and saw where He was staying, and they stayed with Him that day. It was about 10 in the morning.

These are the first two players for this team. They followed Him home and they stayed with him that day. Andrew was totally convinced that this is the Messiah.

John 1:40 Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, was one of the two who heard John and followed Him.

Andrew was excited and he wanted to tell someone about this. He went to look for his brother. When you begin to evangelize, evangelize your family first.

John 1:41 He first found his own brother Simon and told him, "We have found the Messiah!" (which means "Anointed One"),

Andrew finds his brother, and he was quite excited about this.

John 1:42 and he brought Simon to Jesus. When Jesus saw him, He said, "You are Simon, son of John. You will be called Cephas" (which means "Rock").

Jesus told Simon immediately that he would be called Cephas, which means Peter, which means rock. Jesus did not say, "Simon, I am glad to meet you." He used the name Peter, which means rock. Simon would become Peter; he would become a rock; he would become stable. He is in need of training. He was quick to cut off the centurion's ear and quick to deny our Lord 3 times. He would become a leader; a bulwark of Bible doctrine in the newly-formed church.

Peter, in his lifetime, would have an unswerving dedication to Jesus Christ. This would begin from the very first moment they met.

There has been a great misunderstand of Peter's role in the church. He is sometimes known as the cornerstone of the church. One church has taken this to mean that, all of the popes somehow carry the mantle of the Apostle Peter.

Ex cathedra means, the popes speak without error; they are infallible. Their words have been put on a par with the Bible. This is why the Bible was denied to the common people in the Middle Ages. Only the scholars of that age were allowed to see the Bible. Many people were martyred for translating the Bible into common languages of the people.

Because of the departure from Scripture. Many of the bogus works came out of the Catholic Church. This ended with the protestant revolution of the 16th century, sola scripture; which means Scripture alone.

Matt. 16:18 has the misapplication of building the church upon Peter. There was no passing of the church to others. The canon was closed; no more revelation was needed. Every cult is based on follow-on revelation.

We can refute this idea that Peter is the foundation of the church. The proper name for Peter is Πετρος. It means stone and it is a masculine singular noun. The word for rock after is πετρα, meaning that it is in the feminine gender with a slightly different meaning.

Peter the Rock

1. These 2 words are nearly synonymous, but there is an intended contrast. There is a double-entendre here.
2. Πετρος means stone, a fragment of a rock. The whole rock is Jesus.
3. Christ is Πετρα
4. Peter is only a portion; he is just a stone.
5. The church will be build on πετρα. Peter
6. Jesus asks a question of His disciples. "Who do you say that I am?" This question confused all but Peter. There was no doubt in Peter's mind as to Who Jesus is.

Everyone there understood what Jesus meant.

Matt. 16:18 And I also say to you that you are Peter, and on this rock I will build My church, and the forces of Hades will not overpower it.

Matt. 16:19 I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatever you bind on earth is already bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth is already loosed in heaven."

Jesus has 3 disciples right by Him.

Lesson #0097 Matt. 16:18 John 1:43–48 Life of Christ 5/22/2011 2Sunday

For whatever reason, petra, referring to Jesus Christ, is feminine.

Matt. 16:18 And I also say to you that you are Peter [Πετρος], and on this rock [Πετρα] I will build My church, and the forces of Hades will not overpower it.

Jesus gathered a few disciples and decided to leave for Galilee. He went to those who were aware of how He lived and Who he was.

The next day is the 2nd day of His public ministry. On this day, Jesus found Philip and told him, "Follow Me." Jesus will say this to others and they will not so respond (like the rich young ruler). He was willing to follow Jesus from the beginning. Not often do you witness to someone, and they immediately accept Jesus Christ.

John 1:43 The next day He decided to leave for Galilee. Jesus found Philip and told him, "Follow Me!"

It is possible that Philip knew Andrew and Peter, as they were from the same city.

John 1:44 Now Philip was from Bethsaida, the hometown of Andrew and Peter.

John 1:45 Philip found Nathanael and told him, "We have found the One Moses wrote about in the law (and so did the prophets): Jesus the son of Joseph, from Nazareth!"

Philip find Nathanael and Nat asks, "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" Nazareth was not highly regarded among Jews. This was the common opinion of that time. There is an initial negative attitude. This is not an unusual occurrence for those who witness for Jesus Christ. There are prejudices and skepticism. Always remember, that it is not just you. Whenever you present the gospel, God the Holy Spirit is working with you, giving the words of the gospel the power.

John 1:46 "Can anything good come out of Nazareth?" Nathanael asked him. "Come and see," Philip answered.

Philip says, "Don't take my word for it; just come and see."

Most people in the United States have heard the gospel in one way or another; slightly distorted or not. Most have heard Christianity as being a mixture of faith and works and those who have depended upon their own works, are not saved. This is why we must know the gospel well. We need more than a cursory knowledge of the gospel. We ought to be able to address a few issues people have; and we ought to be able to define our terms or explain them in greater detail.

Objections to the Gospel of Jesus Christ

1. Evolution; kids in school run into this objection.
2. Aren't there other ways to God?
3. What about those who have never heard?
4. If there is a God, why is there suffering and evil in this world?
5. What about my own works and good deeds?
6. What does it mean to believe? What is the content of faith?
7. What about Christians who are terrible people?

Most of these reasons are superficial. However, stick to the gospel. In answering any of those questions, always bring it back to the gospel as quickly as you can. The power is in the gospel, not in our ability to convince others.

Answers to Objections

1. Evolution; kids in school run into this objection. The scientific mind. What about this explanation. Pose a provocative question to them. "By what process did evolution begin? What brought an inanimate object to life?" The big bang? "Who set that off?" It happened randomly. "You obviously have faith in something you have never seen, based on a scientist who has no idea, based on nothing which he has never seen, on a theory which may change from day to day. That is faith in something you have not seen." Then explain, "The gospel is true, whether evolution is true or not.
2. Aren't there other ways to God? Differentiate Christianity from all other religions; grace versus works. All other religions are all about works; Christianity is based only upon grace. "I am the way, the truth and the life." Now, He is either a great liar or He is telling the truth.
3. What about those who have never heard? The book of Heithenism.
4. If there is a God, why is there suffering and evil in this world? What about those who are starving; suffering, and have nothing in life? What about all of the evil? People want to camp on suffering, implying that if God is God, there would be no suffering. I can explain evil; can you explain good? Only in the case of believers, does God allow suffering for blessing or for growth. Who is the only Person who has never committed an act of sin or evil? This way, you make an issue of man's volition.
5. What about my own works and good deeds? Bring up grace again. Explain that Jesus has done all of the work. Simplicity and the beauty of grace.
6. What does it mean to believe? What is the content of faith? Define faith. Heb. 11:1-2 compare blind faith in something like evolution.
7. What about Christians who are terrible people?

The objections themselves are rarely the real issue. This is why you go back to the gospel. So, Philip said, "Let's go see Jesus and you decide for yourself." These objections are to something which embarrasses or upsets someone else. Therefore, it is best to witness in private.

Persistence in witnessing pays off, as long as you are not being a pest.

The Holy Spirit brings up the right information for the right person at the right time. You do not know where that seed might come up, and come to fruition, and that person responds. You present the gospel and let God take it from there. Philip knew that if he could get the empirical Nathanael to Jesus, then Nat would believe.

Nat was a student of Scripture and he knew the Old Testament. He had heard John the Baptizer. He wanted to put his trust in the Messiah. He just had to get over the hump as to, "Who is this Jesus?"

John 1:47 Then Jesus saw Nathanael coming toward Him and said about him, "Here is a true Israelite; no deceit is in him."

Jesus knows Nat; He begins the conversation. "You are an Israelite, indeed, in whom is not guile." Nat understood right then and there that Jesus knew him. Jesus was looking into his soul with perfect clarity. The Word of God looks into your soul with perfect clarity. The Word of God is designed to reveal us to us and Christ to us. It convicts us. The solution to our state is revealed. This is what was going on here.

Nat was a genuine seeker of truth. There were no ulterior motives involved here. Pharisees came to discredit our Lord. What our Lord said about him got his attention. The alternative is unthinkable. We are presenting the Lord of Heaven to a dying world. It is a great and wonderful thing to see. We need to speak and to present the gospel. We must not be ashamed of the Lord Jesus Christ.

We are not evangelists, but we can speak the gospel.

John 1:48 "How do you know me?" Nathanael asked. "Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you," Jesus answered.

Lesson #0098 John 1:35–51 Gen. 28\;12–15 Life of Christ 5/25/2011 Wed

Jesus is looking for a few good men. This is the very beginning of His ministries. He will tell His disciples, eventually, to go into all the world, and spread the word.

John 1:35 Again the next day, John was standing with two of his disciples. When he saw Jesus passing by, he said, "Look! The Lamb of God!" The two disciples heard him say this and followed Jesus. When Jesus turned and noticed them following Him, He asked them, "What are you looking for?" They said to Him, "Rabbi" (which means "Teacher"), "where are You staying?" "Come and you'll see," He replied. So they went and saw where He was staying, and they stayed with Him that day. It was about 10 in the morning. Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, was one of the two who heard John and followed Him.

There is first Andrew, then John (probably; he is not named). They were directed by John the Baptizer toward Jesus. They were disciples of John the Baptizer. John 1:36–40

Then Andrew goes looking for his brother Simon Peter, who, like himself, is looking for the truth.

Before Peter can speak, Jesus calls him Peter. We hear about him most after the ascension of Christ. He led the early church until Paul came along.

Peter is convinced of our Lord's Messiahship, and all of this occurred on the 1st day. When Jesus wakes upon on day 2, He has 3 disciples.

Somehow, Philip becomes the 4th disciple and he has someone in mind to speak to; Nathanael.

John 1:41 He first found his own brother Simon and told him, "We have found the Messiah!" (which means "Anointed One"), and he brought Simon to Jesus. When Jesus saw him, He said, "You are Simon, son of John. You will be called Cephas" (which means "Rock"). The next day He decided to leave for Galilee. Jesus found Philip and told him, "Follow Me!" Now Philip was from Bethsaida, the hometown of Andrew and Peter. Philip found Nathanael and told him, "We have found the One Moses wrote about in the law (and so did the prophets): Jesus the son of Joseph, from Nazareth!" "Can anything good come out of Nazareth?" Nathanael asked him. "Come and see," Philip answered.

Nathanael expressed some skepticism, and people hear the gospel and they need to mull it over and to have things occur to them; sometimes they need an apologetic.

Philip knew that the key would be to get Nathanael to Jesus, that would be enough. I will tell you the gospel, but then I will take you to see Him. The power is in the Living Word.

The written Word today contains the same power as the Living Word. No matter how studied you are in theology, the simple presentation of the gospel is the most effective, most of the time. There may be a number of responses. Nobody remains neutral. People do not tend to shrug their shoulders and say, "Who cares?" The gospel gets a response, always. Nathanael follows Jesus.

Jesus says, "Behold, an Israelite, in whom is no guile." Jesus, from His omniscience, knew Peter and Nathanael. Jesus looked into his soul with perfect clarity and revealed his innermost thoughts to him.

The gospel strips us of pretense. All of those wonderful ideas that we have of ourselves.

No guile means, there is nothing false in him. Jesus recognized that Nathanael was a genuine seeker of the truth. His soul is exposed in this way. So many people came to Jesus with ulterior motives; but this was not true of Nat. He had no guile; no ulterior motives. He only wanted the truth. So, here he was, standing in front of the Truth.

John 1:47 Then Jesus saw Nathanael coming toward Him and said about him, "Here is a true Israelite; no deceit is in him."

And Jesus knows where Nat was before. So, Nat was thinking about what he had heard from John the Baptizer and Jesus talking about him being under the fig tree, that was enough for him.

John 1:48 "How do you know me?" Nathanael asked. "Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you," Jesus answered.

There is recognition as to Who Jesus is. Jesus looks into our very souls. Jesus reads the mind and the motivation. It is a good lesson when someone is a seeker of the truth. When a person seeks the truth, God will reveal it to him.

What came to your mind when you heard about Jesus? He recognizes Jesus as the Son of God as the King of Israel.

John 1:49 "Rabbi," Nathanael replied, "You are the Son of God! You are the King of Israel!"

Jesus said, "Here is the reason that you believe;" in so many ways. But Jesus tells him that he will see something much greater than this. "You will see much greater things in the future."

John 1:50 Jesus responded to him, "Do you believe only because I told you I saw you under the fig tree? You will see greater things than this."

Nat was a student of Scripture and he understood this image. This refers back to Jacob. Jesus uses the power of Scripture to convince. This is Jesus giving us a lead in witnessing. Jesus could have done something miraculous here, but He uses Scripture.

John 1:51 Then He said, "I assure you: You will see heaven opened and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of Man."

Witnessing Principles

1. Whenever you are witnessing and you seem to be getting nowhere, use the Bible. The kids are using salvation verses in prep school. Bobby learned that as well as a very young person.
2. The power is in God's Word, as utilized by the Holy Spirit. That is what conviction means. This convicts the unbeliever that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God.

3. Our power in witnessing is not our own eloquence. Some of us are quite good speakers. Others are lousy at public speaking.
4. How effective you are in witnessing depends on how effective you are in using God's Word.
5. In the face of human skepticism, we have the Word of God and it carries with it the power of God. These are more than just words.
6. The message of grace utilized by God the Holy Spirit has a way of cutting through the fog and making the point in spite of objections.

Nathanael recognized the experience of Jacob, Jacob's ladder.

Gen 28:12 And he dreamed, and behold a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven: and behold the angels of God ascending and descending on it.

Jacob sees this ladder with angels going up and down on this ladder. Their lives are tied to the Angelic Conflict.

Gen 28:13 And, behold, the LORD stood above it, and said, I am the LORD God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Isaac: the land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed;

God stood above this ladder. God promises this land to Jacob. This affirms His covenant already given to Abraham. 3 generations of patriarchs, with Israel's future being reiterated to Jacob.

Gen 28:14 And thy seed shall be as the dust of the earth, and thou shalt spread abroad to the west, and to the east, and to the north, and to the south: and in thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed.

God promises that in his family would all the nations of the earth be blessed (by the Messiah).

Gen 28:15 Look, I am with you and will watch over you wherever you go. I will bring you back to this land, for I will not leave you until I have done what I have promised you."

This is not a promise for the church. God's promises to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob are never removed.

Jesus promises that He would fulfill this promise. Nat understands that Jesus is standing before him.

Jesus is Jacob's ladder; he is the one who ascends and descends. The Son of Man.

John 1:51 Then He said, "I assure you: You will see heaven opened and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of Man."

This is their first doctrinal lesson.

Son of Man in the Old Testament

1. From the days of Daniel in the 5th century B.C., Son of Man was known as a Messianic title.
2. Daniel uses this name in a dream. Dan 7:13–14 I continued watching in the night visions, and I saw One like a son of man coming with the clouds of heaven. He approached the Ancient of Days and was escorted before Him. He was given authority to rule, and glory, and a kingdom; so that those of every people, nation, and language should serve Him. His dominion is an everlasting dominion that will not pass away, and His kingdom is one that will not be destroyed. Daniel keeps looking at this vision.
3. The Son of Man from this point forward is a term for a human person.
4. However, He is one like the Son of Man. This refers to more than just man.
5. This term emphasizes His humanity as the incarnate Son of God. Nat understood that Jesus is the Jewish Messiah. This calls attention to Him immediately. Jesus used Scripture.

Lesson #0099 John 1:47–50 Heb. 1:1–2 Life of Christ 5/26/2011 Thurs

Jesus is now public insofar as gathering up disciples. He has Andrew, John, Peter Nathanael, and Philip. Nat was skeptical, so Philip knew to bring him directly to Jesus. He had an empirical streak in him. He wants to see or touch what he believes. He needs some of these things. He wanted more proof than what Philip was giving him.

They all needed to be reminded about Who they were following, the God of the Universe, the Perfect Man, and Hypostatic Union.

What Jesus said was enough to convince Nat.

John 1:47–48 Then Jesus saw Nathanael coming toward Him and said about him, "Here is a true Israelite; no deceit is in him." "How do you know me?" Nathanael asked. "Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you," Jesus answered.

Nat was a genuine seeker of truth. He wanted to know the truth. Jesus recognized the longing in Nat's soul.

Nat called Him Rabbi and recognized that He was the Son of God and the King of Israel. He was the Messiah; He was the King.

John 1:49 "Rabbi," Nathanael replied, "You are the Son of God! You are the King of Israel!"

John 1:50 Jesus responded to him, "Do you believe only because I told you I saw you under the fig tree? You will see greater things than this."

The words of v. 51 registered with them. This was a vision of Israel. This is what Jacob dreamed. The famous dream of Jacob's ladder. The Jews knew all about the Abrahamic Covenant. They understood all of the aspects of this promise. This dream caught their attention.

Jesus Christ used Gen. 28:12 to identify Himself. Here is where He ascended and descended. Jesus claimed to them. The Son of Man is another title that the disciples understood.

The Son of Man

1. From the days of Daniel in the 5th century B.C. came the title Son of Man which was understood to be a title of the Messiah.
2. Daniel initiates this use in a vision. Dan 7:13–14 I continued watching in the night visions, and I saw One like a son of man coming with the clouds of heaven. He approached the Ancient of Days and was escorted before Him. He was given authority to rule, and glory, and a kingdom; so that those of every people, nation, and language should serve Him. His dominion is an everlasting dominion that will not pass away, and His kingdom is one that will not be destroyed. Daniel keeps looking at this vision.
3. The Son of Man from this point forward is a term for a human person.
4. However, He is one like the Son of Man. This refers to more than just a man. Jesus is the perfect representation of man, as Adam was created.
5. This was a Jewish representation for the Messiah. This term emphasizes His humanity as the incarnate Son of God. Nat understood that Jesus is the Jewish Messiah. This calls attention to Him immediately. Jesus used Scripture.
6. Ezek. reference to himself and to the future messiah.
7. Nat understood this immediately that Jesus presented Himself as the Messiah. They would all know that He is the Jewish Messiah. His mission and purpose were spoken of here as well. They understood Jesus as the fulfillment of the Abrahamic covenant.

The Use of Son of Man

1. In the context of the first advent, the Son of Man became a universal title. This recognized His Sonship.
2. The Messiah would rule, not only over Israel, but over all nations. He was the Son of Man.
3. Jesus is the world's Messiah.
4. Christ's mission by His Own admission was universal in character. This meant He was the Savior of all mankind. Unlimited atonement.
5. Luke 19:10 For the Son of Man has come to seek and save that which was lost. We are lost and all mankind is lost as well. No one can approach God. No one can gain God's grace on his own merit. Jesus is the image of Jacob's ladder, and no one can enter heaven without this ladder. Therefore, the cross is the landmark event to open the way to salvation for all mankind. Jesus died for all as the Son of Man.

6. Jesus would never mention such a title for Himself. He would never say this about Himself. This was an amazing claim. He is saying, "I am the God-man; I am the Creator of the Universe." That is all that is involved in such a title. Jesus had to know what He was saying and He was conscious of His mission.
7. At the same time, this title, Son of Man, points to His heavenly status, particularly when connected with Jacob's ladder, ascending and descending. John 3:13 "No one has ascended into heaven except He Who descends from heaven..." Also, "If you should see the Son of Man ascending where He was before." He came in the form of kenosis, emptying Himself of His Deity. This is a reference to His ascension into heaven in the future.
8. This title Son of Man was a forceful rendition of Who Jesus is; it is His title. This allows us to realize that Jesus knew Himself to be.
 - 1) He was a descendant of man.
 - 2) He was the preexisting God.
 - 3) Jesus knew what the throne room looked like; He knew what it was like to be with God the father. He knew He was preeminent among men.
 - 4) All mankind were sons of individual men. He is the child of all humanity.
 - 5) This means, His family was the entire human race. This is His claim.
 - 6) He did not belong to just one nation, Israel, but to all nations. The Abrahamic promise was to make Israel a great people and a great nation. However, there was a universal nature here; He was given to all nations and all peoples.
 - 7) Jesus belongs to all dispensations. He is the center of all the ages. This is why Bob decided that this was a different dispensation; the dispensation of the Hypostatic Union. This was the central age of History. He was the Son of Man in all dispensations.
 - 8) He was the Man of the Ages. He was co-equal with the Ancient of Days. Dan. 7:3 Daniel quoted Him as the Messiah. A reference to 2 of 3 of the trinity.
9. First
 - 1) The Son of Man is the bond between heaven and earth. He is the image of Jacob's ladder. This is the link.
 - 2) He belongs in equal parts to both realms, heaven and earth. This title defines Him.
 - 3) He is the Mediator between God and man, between heaven and earth; He is true humanity and undiminished Deity through Which God reaches man and man is able to reach God.
 - 4) He is the One to unite all mankind.
 - 5) He is the source of eternal life in man for anyone who expresses faith in Christ alone.

This is what Nat understood. Bobby can say with great confidence that, when Nat heard this, he was thunderstruck. This was the Christ, the God-man, standing in front of him. He had already believed in Christ, the God man, so this convinced him to stay with it.

Jesus was awaiting the same response the Nat had already made. They need to see Him as the Messiah, as does all Israel. This is His ministry, to persuade Israel of these facts. He is the Savior come to redeem all mankind.

He had gathered 5 disciples to this point. This was His first call to these men to believe in Him as Savior. John 1:29–51

Called first to believe in Him and then to follow Him. The last call would be His Apostles to represent the risen Christ before all the world.

Now time for our Lord to begin a public presentation of His credentials, so that all Israel might accept Him. He begins with an obvious sign to Israel, the changing of water to wine. This is the opening of His public ministry. This is how He will get Israel to recognize Him.

There are unique aspects to all of His miracles. Jesus created something here. He made the fruit of the vine, which normally comes about as a natural process. Grapes have to be grown, and then the wine must be produced and aged. This natural process was circumvented. He shows His mastery over nature. Jesus is above and over all the laws of nature. Only God could do this. He has dominion over nature. He is sovereign God.

The pantheist says the nature creates itself. It is a creative force through a very long, long natural process. The big bang and things began to form over billions of years. Somehow, all that we see around us was created. No designer or Creator, but by random and natural forces. The creative force was nature herself. God is the rock; God is the force of nature. There is no personal God. This is the fundamental premise of evolution. This is what showed forth His Deity, His sovereignty over all nature.

Heb 1:2 In these last days, He has spoken to us by His Son, whom He has appointed heir of all things and through whom He made the universe.

If He can do something like this, Jesus is obviously the creator. He is the Shekinah Glory.

Heb 1:3 He is the radiance of His glory, the exact expression of His nature, and He sustains all things by His powerful word. After making purification for sins, He sat down at the right hand of the Majesty on high.

Jesus Christ is co-equal to God, and He has all the attributes of God. He holds the universe together with a simple word. The universe is not maintained by itself. The One Who performs miracles defines His role as Creator.

This took place in Cana of Galilee, about 4 miles northeast of his village of Nazareth. There is a story here, full of meaning for us. His Own mother recognizes His authority. So do the others at the wedding.

Lesson #0100

John 2:1–3 Life of Christ

5/29/2011 1Sunday

After gathering 5 disciples, Jesus performs one of the most well-known miracles, His turning water into wine.

A video played at the beginning, to be found at TengoMikeMike

3 days after the 1st day of Jesus' public ministry.

A rich family will hold a wedding for a full week; a poor would have a shorter wedding.

Joseph is not mentioned here, and it is possible that he is with the Lord at this time.

There seems to be an association between Mary and these people; and probably with Jesus as well. This was a celebration of a wedding, but it was not out-of-control.

John 2:1 On the third day a wedding took place in Cana of Galilee. Jesus' mother was there, and Jesus has an invite as well, along with His disciples.

John 2:2 Jesus and His disciples were invited to the wedding as well.

Mike Madero gave permission to play the video in church. He requested the Freedom through Military Victory.

It is unlikely that these disciples were known to those of the wedding party, but they were probably tag-alongs at our Lord's request. This would be a proof to them of Who Jesus is. His disciples were being educated on a daily basis. They followed Him implicitly and explicitly in order to renovate their thinking.

During the feasting, they ran out of the wine. This was a terrible faux faux to run out of wine during a celebration. There was no way to run to the grocery store to pick up more wine.

Mary tells Jesus, "They have no wine." Mary understood that Jesus could solve this problem. She knew this much. She went to Him directly. It was more than embarrassing at this party. Jesus understood the culture of His day. He was not a hermit; He sympathized with the plight of His hosts. The situation was perfect for a miracle and everyone there was aware of the situation. If Mary knows this, then everyone else does as well.

Jesus is not there to throw a wet blanket over the festivities. This would have been a good party and our Lord enjoyed a party. This party would strike a theme for the next 3 years of His ministry. This is a significant departure from John the Baptizer's austere ministry. John lived in the wilderness, and those who heard him had to go out to the desert-wilderness to see him.

Our Lord blended with the customs of His time. He was not somber; He was not perpetually intense. He had a relaxed mental attitude. In our spiritual life, a relaxed mental attitude is a by-product. He was a prototype of the Christian life. He was very approachable. He did not hide from the crowds.

His attitude reflected His message. Jesus would turn condemnation into salvation. He would turn the water of their lives to wine in eternity. This was dripping with symbolism and illustrations of Who He was. This focused on the Person of Christ. The issue is all about Christ, rather than the social crisis at the wedding. Jesus was not a wedding coordinator trying to solve the problems of this wedding. The greatest problem that mankind faces is the need of a Savior, which is what this taught.

John 2:3 When the wine ran out, Jesus' mother told Him, "They don't have any wine."

We ought not to forget what American troops have done in the past. The sacrifice of these soldiers might help us to understand the sacrifice of Jesus Christ for us on the cross.

Lesson #0101 John 2:1–3 intro Life of Christ 5/29/2011 2Sunday

A lot of Christian ministers like to talk about demon rum and there are abuses of liquor which are not good, but John 2 certainly refutes the booze sermon approach.

Bobby has never seen a painting of Jesus Christ smiling; He is always presented as being intense, which is reasonable before the cross.

Here, there is a party; this is a feast. There are probably many times in His life that He smiled and enjoyed Himself; particularly at a party like this. Wine was drunk at any celebration. This was a part of the celebration. This represented the hospitality of the hosts. One of the reasons for wine was bad water in those days.

When wine was made, οἶνος is the word for wine. There is an issue here about the liquid itself. Is the booze sermon legitimate? The wine that our Lord made, some claim, is non-alcoholic. However, the word here can refer to a non-alcoholic beverage. It can and often does refer to an alcoholic beverage.

Bobby's professor in college made a case for this being non-alcoholic. He was a teetotaler. Wine could be made from apples, pears, grapes. This wine was diluted with water; it was a mixed drink. It was often 3 parts water and 1 part wine or 2 parts water and 1 part wine. This definitely lowered the alcohol content.

Luke 1:15 wine is distinguished from strong drink. Σίχαρα where John did not drink anything that was alcoholic. In that passage, it is clear that οἶνος was alcoholic in that passage. There is no question of that. Its alcohol content was always reduced. The alcohol consumed at this wedding.

Bobby is not trying to clear the decks for drunkenness for anyone. Wine is certainly not a sin to drink. Some would claim that Jesus would not create wine that would solicit others to drink too much and sin by that.

There is no conclusive evidence one way or the other as to whether this was alcoholic or not. Jesus is not the cause of drunkenness simply because He produced an alcoholic beverage.

There is nothing wrong with drinking a glass of wine with dinner or a mixed drink before dinner. The problem is over-indulging.

There are some people who, for very good reason, will not drink anything alcoholic.

The miracle was the issue. It never says whether Jesus did drink of this wine or not. But He created wine for that wedding. It was acceptable to Jesus Christ at this wedding. Drinking wine was a celebratory custom.

Bobby has tasted a 1945 and a 1949 Chateau le fet at a party.

With water, a diluted wine would be hard to drink too much. It was very inappropriate in that day to drink too much and to become intoxicated as quickly as possible. This is not a green light for excess and there is no red light against the use of wine. 1Tim. 5:23 Timothy is advised to take a little wine for his stomach. Perhaps he was wound too tightly due to the congregation. Tim has been run out of Corinth. Paul, like Jesus Christ, would not recommend or condone too much wine.

There is certainly something wrong with drinking too much wine, which is a sin and which could be dependency. Some should never drink. Bobby is not soliciting for any of us to drink to excess. Such drinking leads to a great many bad decisions. There can be lifetime consequences to drunkenness.

Alcohol Use

1. If you are underage, you do not drink. Maturity is necessary to avert overindulgence. There are parties where underage drinking occurs and people make all kinds of bad decisions there.
2. A girl on a date with a stranger; do not drink. Especially if you are handed a drink that you did not see poured.
3. Never drink because of peer pressure; because everyone else does it. Develop some moral courage.

4. Do not drink when you are miserable, frustrated, unhappy. It can become a habit and a problem, but not a solution.
5. For the believer, the law of expediency is related to drinking. 1Cor. 9:15–36 this is where the believer represents Jesus Christ in witnessing and before other believers. Even though there is nothing wrong with drinking in moderation, it is sometimes expedient not to drink under certain conditions or in another believer's life. We are not called to cause problems for others.

This was a celebration but not a drunken party. Our Lord could enjoy Himself, even when alcohol was served. Jesus was not a party-pooper, He was not aloof; He was enjoyable to be around. He had that kind of personality.

The alcohol content is not the real issue here.

John 2:1–3 On the third day a wedding took place in Cana of Galilee. Jesus' mother was there, and Jesus and His disciples were invited to the wedding as well. When the wine ran out, Jesus' mother told Him, "They don't have any wine."

Lesson #0102

John 2:1 Life of Christ

6/1/2011 Wed

Berachah Church caters to those who want to know the truth.

John 2:1 On the third day a wedding took place in Cana of Galilee. Jesus' mother was there, and

John 2:2 Jesus and His disciples were invited to the wedding as well.

The words of Mary precipitated the first miracle. For whatever reason, they ran out of wine. Maybe too many showed up; too many drank too much, or whatever. The hospitality of this family was in question. This was one of the greatest celebrations. This is embarrassing. Mary and Jesus both understood this as being a part of their culture. There was a larger issue than just a wedding crisis. To the bride and groom, this must seem to be the great crisis of their lives. But what Jesus would do would make this a greater issue. John the Baptizer proclaimed Jesus as the Messiah; but here, Jesus will show that He is the Messiah. One way to accomplish this is through a great sign or miracle.

People are very confused about miracles. Those who are confused about God ask, "Why didn't Jesus heal and fix everything?" The purpose for miracles. They were not just good deeds. He was not just showing what a nice person He was. These were not gee whiz moments. Miracles are the credentials. He performed them at the most opportune time to present His credentials. So, He healed some people, but not everyone. There were reasons for what He did. It is as if an ambassador shows up in a foreign country and presents His credentials from the outset. The Messiah here does the same thing. "Israel, I am the Messiah; I am your Savior."

Whether the wine contained alcohol is not the issue. Was Jesus condoning the over-use of wine. This is all about His credentials; Who He is. Bobby thinks that this was alcoholic for several reasons. Fermentation is required to change grape juice to an alcoholic beverage. This is a natural process of nature. It takes awhile for the fermentation process to occur. Our Lord did this instantly. There was unfermented wine in the day. The entire fermentation process is a much longer process and a unique miracle.

Jesus and the Creation of Wine.

1. All the miracles Jesus performed had a unique aspect to them. Jesus created something which could not happen naturally. Fermentation was a long process.
2. There was instantaneous wine that would normally be a process of nature.
3. He directly, miraculously accelerated the process.
4. In the blink of an eye, Jesus changed the content of the liquid from water to the chemical properties of fermented wine, which are much more complex than grape juice.
5. Jesus shows His complete mastery of nature. He has dominion over nature. Jesus is sovereign over natural processes.
6. This particular miracle demonstrates that He is the creator of nature. Nature does not hold sway over Him. Jesus is supernatural. He is the creator of the universe. Jesus designed every natural process in the universe. This is an example of His mastery over natural processes.
7. This is what Heb. 7:1–2 tell us. The baby in the manger upheld all things through the power of His Word.
8. Heb. 8:1–3 tells us Who He is. The God-man, the Messiah,
9. His creation ability is revealed by this first miracle. This is a huge revelation which shows His divine nature. What if we were there, and there was no wine; and suddenly, instantly, there was wine. You would recognize that you are in the presence of the God-man; the One Who controls all nature.

The alcohol content is a natural process. There is nothing here to condemn drinking or to condone drunkenness. Creating wine is a vehicle. No wine is a huge personal disaster. This was a perfect situation. Everyone would notice this.

Why did Mary approach her Son at this very moment? Why did she go to Him? There was a hint of a corrective measure in her voice. He shows up with a couple of extra guys, and maybe they enjoyed too much wine. Maybe the impression she is giving here is, Jesus brought 5 extra guests.

John 2:3 When the wine ran out, Jesus' mother told Him, "They don't have any wine."

Jesus gently turns aside her criticism; and He did not decline her request. His reply is very pointed. It was not mean or sarcastic. This was a precursor to the miracle; this is something that Mary needed to understand. This was a statement of independence from His mother.

"You can no longer chastise Me as if I am under your authority." Jesus was a grown man, and it was time for her to stop ordering Him around. He had been subject to the authority of his parents; and this was a separation that He was establishing. Prior to this, He respected His mother always. This denied His mother any further ability to direct or to guide Him. She was ordering Him around, and He gently reminds her, no more. There is an application for mothers with grown children. Time to cut the apron strings and allow them to make their own decisions.

Bobby's mother loved to tell Bobby what to do; and occasionally, he needed to tell her to back off. Jesus was very nice and very clear here.

Family relationships, for Jesus, were now to be subordinate to His ministry.

John 2:4 "What has this concern of yours to do with Me, woman?" Jesus asked. "My hour has not yet come."

It is very telling what Mary then says. She catches on immediately. Her mission as a mother was complete. She has an interesting response.

There is a time. The mother goes even further. She is under His authority at this point. She tells the servants, "Do whatever He tells you to do." She immediately backs off. She is not ordering Him around. She is quick to understand and she is not hypersensitive; she does not make an issue of herself. She understood the greater issue here. Are you so self-centered that everything revolves around you? She is a smart woman. She is a maturing believer.

She remembers; she thinks back and she remembers all the amazing incidents in their lives. She recalls their lives and the unique occurrences. She remembers when He was 12 and when He was in His Father's house. They found Him in the Temple teaching the scribes there. "Do you not know Who I am? What I must be doing." She trusted Him explicitly. She recalls His baptism and what John the Baptizer had to say about Him. All of these indicators are there, before He does a single miracle. Mary herself was looking for the Messiah. Don't ask everyone else's opinion. Respond to divine viewpoint. Where do you go to make a decision? To the Bible; to Bible doctrine. Go to wisdom.

She knew that He would arrive with a sign. The Old Testament prophesied that Messiah would come with signs and wonders. A perfect time for Him to introduce Himself with signs and miracles.

She recognizes that this is a perfect setup to show all those there Who He is.

Do you have children and suddenly have an epiphany which allows you to understand them much more?

John 2:4 "What has this concern of yours to do with Me, woman?" Jesus asked. "My hour has not yet come."

What Does this Mean

1. This was not yet time for the full deal.
2. He was the Messiah Who totally understood what was to come.
3. He has not yet been publically revealed or accepted by Israel.
4. So His full glory as the King could not yet be demonstrated. "This is just the beginning; I cannot show my full glory yet."
5. Jesus must be crowned in order to reveal all of Who he is

His Final Hour

1. The cross must come before the crown.
2. So His hour to come is also a reference to our Lord's salvation reference to His work on the cross.
3. This same phrase is repeated in a number of passages like John 7:30 12:23, 27 16:32 17:1 this phrase is repeated; a reference to His final moments on the cross.

The cross was 3 years away.

John 2:5 "Do whatever He tells you," His mother told the servants.

Now Jesus calls over the waiters and tells them what to do. 120–180 gallons. They are filled up to the brim.

John 2:6 Now six stone water jars had been set there for Jewish purification. Each contained 20 or 30 gallons.

The jars are filled up to the brim. The amount is so huge to preclude the idea that Jesus may have done some trickery of some sort. He did not have this much wine to slip into the mix. This miracle would have been authentic to all that were there.

John 2:7 "Fill the jars with water," Jesus told them. So they filled them to the brim.

Lesson #0103 Jn 2:4–12 Lk 10:15–16 Mt 11:23–24 Life of Christ 6/2/2011 Thurs

Some of these things are contained in the book of John only; and that is where we will stay for awhile. People looked Jesus in the eyes and said, "No."

In v. 4, Jesus is declaring some independence here. This sounds harsh, but it is insistent and dogmatic. He is no longer under her authority. He is asserting His independence. This is cutting the apron strings. Bobby began to assert his independence around age 14 and it got steadily worse after that. He first asserted his independence when the Sound of Music came out, and Bobby refused. Bob insisted and said, "Let's go outside" and Bobby went to the movie.

There is the miracle of turning the water into wine. This was getting His family relationships straightened out; and Joseph is not mentioned here and nowhere else. So he has probably passed from the scene. This was not disrespect nor was He abandoning her. He was no longer under her authority. This becomes an adult relationship, which, at some point, has to be the defining relationship between an adult child and his parents.

Jesus had a mission which He had to fulfill, and He was under God's authority. Therefore, this issue had to be settled. His childhood was over and mom had to accept it. She was now under His authority.

Before, she was in the driver's seat; now she had to take a backseat to Him. To Mary's credit, she understood and immediately acquiesced to His demand for independence. She is going to have to endure her Son's rejections and she will see Him on the cross. This is His destiny as Messiah and Savior.

"My hour has not yet come" refers to the cross.

John 2:4 "What has this concern of yours to do with Me, woman?" Jesus asked. "My hour has not yet come."

Now, Mary becomes a willing participant in our Lord's first miracle. Mary demotes herself right here; and here is where some denominations get it wrong by elevating her. She will not, at any time, elevate herself.

She tells the servants to do whatever Jesus asks.

John 2:5 "Do whatever He tells you," His mother told the servants.

There is a lot of water here.

John 2:6 Now six stone water jars had been set there for Jewish purification. Each contained 20 or 30 gallons.

Jesus has them fill the jars with water.

John 2:7 "Fill the jars with water," Jesus told them. So they filled them to the brim.

This water was in the jugs; all these servants were aware of this. The entire household knew this. Then Jesus tells them to draw out some water and to take it to the man in charge. They obey Him.

These jars were empty when he had them filled with water. It was important that He told them to fill these jars. This is important because these servants will all be witnesses to this miracle. These servants would be able to attest to this miracle.

The head waiter was hired to check the food before it went out and to taste the wine before it went out. This man must have been wringing his hands. He was responsible along with the family. The guests began to rumble and talk about this. It was a social crisis.

John 2:8 Then He said to them, "Now draw some out and take it to the chief servant." And they did.

When the head waiter tasted this, it was great wine. He was shocked and he asked about where it came from.

John 2:9 When the chief servant tasted the water (after it had become wine), he did not know where it came from--though the servants who had drawn the water knew. He called the groom

This confused him. He talks to the groom and said, "Normally, you bring out the good wine first."

John 2:10 and told him, "Everybody sets out the fine wine first, then, after people have drunk freely, the inferior. But you have kept the fine wine until now."

The Sequence of Events

1. The head waiter tasted the wine, which had come from water. He gave it his personal seal of approval. There was no dilution by water.
2. The obvious question he asks is, why was this not brought out before? Where did this wine come from? This was his business. How did he overlook this?
3. The waiters, who are amazed, point to Jesus, the One Who gave them orders.
4. All the other waiters confirmed the point of origine of the wine, and that it began as water. This was the wine of all history. Our Lord made it.
5. The headwaiter calls the bridegroom over and says, "You have wine now. Why did you not serve this wine first? It is the best I have ever tasted. What's wrong with you?"
6. It was customary to serve the best wine first. After they had a really good time; after they were talking and conversing; after they were not thinking about what they were drinking, then the lesser vintage came out. They might be a little drunk; they might have had their palate ruined by that time.
7. The bridegroom had no idea where this came from. "I don't have any of this in my cellar." Everyone involved confirmed this miracle. Simple H₂O had been instantaneously changed to a complex wine. Everyone at the party realized what happened. This was a genuine real miracle. There were enough to attest to this. They would speak of this at the wedding and then the next day and the day after that. They would tell about what happened at this grand wedding. Jesus fame would spread. Even those who did not believe it would still be

John 2:11 Jesus performed this first sign in Cana of Galilee. He displayed His glory, and His disciples believed in Him.

The Results of this Miracle

1. All of those could examine His credentials and trust in Jesus as the Messiah.
2. The miracle manifested His power and glory as the God-man. He was the ruler of nature; the Creator of natural processes. Nothing for Him to change these things. If Jesus can create the universe, He can change water into wine.
3. This confirmed His power to His new disciples. They needed to see this first miracle as well. This was their confirmation.

Everyone in Galilee heard about this in a very short time and they want to hear Him.

Capernaum was called His Own city. This was a tax collector city. Tax collectors went out and collected their loot from the businesses. There was a large synagogue in this city; and it was near here where Jesus called the fishermen and Matthew to follow Him.

John 2:12 After this, He went down to Capernaum, together with His mother, His brothers, and His disciples, and they stayed there only a few days.

Luke 10:15 And you, Capernaum, will you be exalted to heaven? No, you will go down to Hades!

Beautiful environments seem to attract the strangest people. This is no exception. This is our Lord Jesus Christ.

Luke 10:16 Whoever listens to you listens to Me. Whoever rejects you rejects Me. And whoever rejects Me rejects the One who sent Me."

In Matt. 11:23, Jesus compares this city to Tyre and Sidon, and then to Sodom. It was destroyed for rampant immorality, which included homosexuality. Our Lord performed some amazing miracles in this city, and yet He says this. The healing of the centurion's son; the nobleman's son was healed, and He healed Peter's mother-in-law. Finally, He healed the paralytic in Capernaum. And they still rejected Him.

He pronounces judgement against this city and this city no longer exists and we do not even know where it is today.

Matt. 11:23–24 And you, Capernaum, will you be exalted to heaven? You will go down to Hades. For if the miracles that were done in you had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until today. But I tell you, it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom on the day of judgment than for you."

From Capernaum, the next phase of His ministry would be launched. He would celebrate Passover, His first trip to Jerusalem in His public ministry.

John 2:13 The Jewish Passover was near, so Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

This is the Jewish Passover. Jesus was always obedient to the Mosaic Law. Even today, this is the most important of the Jewish holidays. The Passover was all about Jesus.

What happens on the Passover? He begins this holiday by condemning established religion. This is His first act, to condemn the degenerate practices of the Temple, fulfilling Mal. 3:1–3

Jesus picked His spots. The population was 3 or 4x as large in the holy days. He would walk into the sacred Temple in Jerusalem and He would cleanse the Temple. He cleaned house, but not in the way we would expect.

The Temple area around the complex smelled like animals. Like the Houston Livestock and Rodeo. It was time for them to remove the perverse practices. He would clean His Own house. Removing the sheep, cattle, oxen, and moneychangers.

There is a whole set of circumstances here that will be unique.

John 2:14 In the temple complex He found people selling oxen, sheep, and doves, and He also found the money changers sitting there.

Lesson #0104

John 2:14 Life of Christ

6/5/2011 1Sunday

After the first miracle, where He introduced Himself to Galilee as the Messiah, He moved up the road a little to Capernaum.

There were Jews of the dispersion and converts and others who lived in Capernaum, and they were all streaming toward Jerusalem. This was the holiest time of the year where Jesus would observe the Passover, as was to be done each year. This went back to at least the time that he was 12 years old. This was the first of 3 Passovers where Jesus will take part in the Temple celebrations.

The Jews had been sacrificing since they became a nation. They had lived under the 3 codices since the exodus and the giving of the Law. The Messiah Himself was in personal attendance, and He is the One who was represented in all of the sacrifices. Everyone of those sacrifices pointed toward this moment when our Lord appeared. He was in residence in the Temple in the flesh. He is the glory of God resident in the flesh. He is the real sacrificial Lamb Who would atone for their sins.

First He presented His credentials. What he saw was totally appalling.

The population of Jerusalem would kick off at this point and surge to 3x and 4x the size of the normal population. At the very center of Jewish life, when a maximum number of people could watch and see what was about to happen, and Jesus would make a statement which was unique. He was legitimately offering the kingdom to Israel.

The utter corruption of religious life. He begins His great public ministry as a condemner of religious Judaism. Religion is the devil's ace trump. It obscures the grace of God. The only thing which commends us to God is Jesus Christ. Any works after that pleases God if done in the filling of the Spirit.

He performed miracles and showed Himself to be the Messiah. He introduced Himself in Jerusalem and presented His Messianic credentials, and He faces the moneychangers. Money is still a problem today. He would show His absolute Messianic authority where and when it would be most noticed. Where most could observe Him and accept Him for what He was. He will cleanse the Temple at the most public and meaningful time of the year.

This was the first public cleansing which kicked off His ministry. There would be a second cleansing in the final week of His life. Matt. 21:12 Mark 11:15 the first was an introduction and the second was . The first did not end the evil practices of the Temple.

The Temple had become a bank and a place for those to profit by selling animals. If you have been to any stockyard, you know the smells and the sounds. The Temple needed a thorough cleansing. It was a barn. This became a house of commerce and a house of price gouging.

He found in the Temple those who were selling animals. At that time, during the Passover, there were hundreds of sacrifices being made in the Temple. They were all needed for the ritual of the Levitical offerings. These priests had found a gold mine; they found a sales market for sacrificial sacrifices. They had all of these stalls set up and the racket was noisy. There was an overwhelming stench. Literal and figurative stench. At the same time, the buyers and sellers were calling out prices for the animals. Price gouging. This was a money making machine. Best money maker in Jerusalem and the priests were in charge. This was a convenience store. There were all of these converts and they could only sacrifice the approved animals. The priests sold them something to sacrifice; this was a monopoly. They bought and sold the steaks and then they got them back for free. It was a great profit making organization.

They set up an inspection station and they charged for the inspection. Real paragons of religious life in Jerusalem. Tax collectors were there collecting for the privilege of worshiping. They took a half shekel or whatever. There is no picture of grace here, and that is the purpose of animal sacrifices. They had to pay in order to sacrifice. How do you commemorate the grace of God by this payment.

What did these proselytes bring? They brought foreign money and it was declared unclean at the Temple, so it had to be exchanged for Judæan money. This was a racket. The worship tax must be paid in Jerusalem money.

The moneychangers were simply the priests. They sold the animals; they kept track of the Temple tax revenue, they got back the animals as steaks; they charged about 12% for the money changing. The annual revenue was huge. The Romans finally marched in and took this money and they got a bunch of money. The heretical greedy, corrupt priesthood. Just a monstrous money-making operation. It reminds Bobby of some preachers today; those who charge for religious items so that the payee is blessed. People are buying God's blessing, which turns around the concept of grace.

Article from liberal NY paper. Harold Camping is a very rich fraud. He has wealth around $100,000,000. His ravings about the rapture. Camping persuaded enough people to take to the streets to proclaim the great day, which got the attention of the major news media. This man's ministry here is totally fraudulent and divorced from grace.

This is the perversion which our Lord observed; like pastors who are money grubbers today who charge for doctrine. A total perversion of grace. Forced or coerced giving elicits the wrong motivation from the giver. We are not to give grudgingly or of necessity.

John 2:14 In the temple complex He found people selling oxen, sheep, and doves, and He also found the money changers sitting there.

Lesson #0105 Jn 2:15–17 Ps 69:9 Mal. 3:1 Life of Christ 6/5/2011 2Sunday

What is done today is not quite as bloody as it was in the Lord's day, but there is a call for money all over. There is nothing new under the sun. It's all been done before. What happens today happened 2000 years ago.

Jesus walked into a near-eastern market place; moneychangers who were looting the worshipers. They were perverting the very sacrifices that represented Jesus Christ and his Work. They were charged simply to offer up the sacrifices of their worship. The coffers of the Temple were bulging; but the worship of bankrupt.

John 2:14 In the temple complex He found people selling oxen, sheep, and doves, and He also found the money changers sitting there.

What Jesus did is found next. The meek and the mild Jesus did not say, "Please stop." He did not give a moralistic sermon; He did not negotiate with the priests; He did not ask for a consensus with His disciples. Incensed might be too mild to describe this.

He takes immediate, unilateral action; and He was not mild or meek.

Psalm 69:9 ...because zeal for Your house has consumed me, and the insults of those who insult You have fallen on me. This is David writing about his passion for the Lord. David desired to build the Temple, but he was not allowed to do this.

Jesus cleansed the Temple of heresy and commercialism. Jesus turns the reproach right back on the priests with gusto and zeal.

He found some discarded cords and picked up some of them and braided them into a whip. He cracked the whip. It is unlikely that anyone tried to intervene when they saw His face. This brought fear to some of them; some may have been ashamed of what they were doing, knowing their acts to be corrupt. Some may have believed in Him, seeing Mal. 3:1 fulfilled before their eyes.

Mal. 3:1 "See, I am going to send My messenger, and he will clear the way before Me. Then the Lord you seek will suddenly come to His temple, the Messenger of the covenant you desire--see, He is coming," says the LORD of Hosts.

Sometimes it is a shock and you look and see what is lacking in your life. You evaluate what you are doing.

You cannot help but have esteem and love for Jesus as you study His life. It is an amazing thing to study about Him and to know Him.

Here, in the Temple, Jesus was incensed over this evil.

In Bob's youthful days, in high school, he would challenge some guy to a fight; the reason being, he would get him to come to church with him. Bobby met some of his old friends who had this happened to; and some believed in Christ as a result. Bob was very young and just a new believer.

That is zeal for the Lord. There is fire in His eyes. Once the cows got driven out, He put the bullwhip down. The money changes were stunned. There is no discussion here. Jesus does not argue theology with them. He empties their cash boxes and overturns their tables.

This stunned these people. All of this money on a table was not light; He was not the wimpy skinny guy in all of the paintings.

Bible doctrine was His thinking. His power was not just in muscles, but also in His Word. He was expressing Himself in a non-subtle way. This is His Father's house and these religious types were corrupting it.

This made the priests angry and they reacted throughout the rest of His ministry. The worshipers who were getting fleeced must have known they were getting ripped off and Jesus became their instant hero, doing that which they could not do. He was reclaiming the Temple for unadulterated worship.

Jesus is slapping down the most power group in Jerusalem. These guys were not to be crossed. They taxed for worship. They were criminals. They did not tolerate opposition. This got everyone's attention.

John 2:15 After making a whip out of cords, He drove everyone out of the temple complex with their sheep and oxen. He also poured out the money changers' coins and overturned the tables.

What a great introduction, right in the House of His Own Father. The religious leaders saw this and they feared Him, but they were also very angry at His intervention.

Why didn't the religious leaders do anything? Why did they let Him flip over their tables. They immediately hated Him. But they feared the crowd that cheered Him on. These men were cowards. They knew that He was doing what the people approved of. They were afraid of the reaction of the people who were cheering Him on.

The Jews were famous for rioting; and Rome would send in some troops to put it down. So, the priests did not want the Romans to come in and put this down.

The people certainly began to talk about this. "You should have seen this." A ruler looking out for the people. The priests were worried about the Romans coming in and crushing a riot. That could end their religious practices. Arrogant and power grubbers.

We might call Congress the court of the Gentiles. Jesus comes into the Temple and makes Himself known in a spectacular way in the Temple. He was throwing down a gauntlet before Israel. His authority was not in doubt here. One man took this Temple apart in front of these priests, many of whom were religious thugs.

The last thing that Jesus did was go to the doves. He had everyone's attention. He finally speaks when in front of the dove cages. He answers their unspoken questions here: "Get these things out of here! Stop turning My Father's house into a marketplace!"

He begins His great ministry with a demonstration of His authority in the most memorable of ways, defining Himself as the Son of God cleansing His Father's house. The priests understood this. "This man is claiming to be the Son of God." This is a great announcement. It was a simple matter of positive or negative volition. And these people would see Jesus for the next 3 years.

John 2:16 He told those who were selling doves, "Get these things out of here! Stop turning My Father's house into a marketplace!"

The disciples who are with Him know Who He is. And they remembered this psalm.

Psalms 69:9 ...because zeal for Your house has consumed me, and the insults of those who insult You have fallen on me. This is David writing about his passion for the Lord. David desired to build the Temple, but he was not allowed to do this.

John 2:17 And His disciples remembered that it is written: Zeal for Your house will consume Me.

It did not take long before the priests threatened back. We will see their reaction next Sunday.

Lesson #106

John 1: Life of Christ

6/12/2011 1Sunday

Communion Sunday: We often think that, if only we could have lived when Jesus lived; if only we could have our family and friends there to see Him and to hear Him. However, this is not the complete advantage that this appears to be. He was still rejected and He was still despised. Jesus was not universally accepted; not even personal contact with God Himself could change a closed mind. The pharaoh of Egypt observed 10 of the most amazing miracles of all time, and yet, he refused to accede to Moses' demands.

Heb. 11:1 Now faith is the substance of things hoped for and the evidence of things not seen.

Which of us has seen a miracle by the hand of Jesus Christ, yet we have expressed faith in Him.

The raising of Lazarus from the dead reveals the fallacy of miracles being enough to convince. Jesus, the Christ, the Son of God, would raise a dead man to life; this was truly unimaginable.

"Lazarus, come forth." is the victory call, to defeat the enemy, death. Jesus gave Lazarus life and He loosened the bonds of death, giving Lazarus the freedom to enjoy the freedom from death. There were many who believed in Him, but some of them went away to the pharisees and told them what Jesus had done.

John 11:46–48 But some of them went away to the Pharisees and told them what Jesus had done. Then the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered a council and said, What shall we do? For this Man performs many signs. If we let Him alone like this, everyone will believe into Him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and nation.

So they decided that they needed to get rid of Him. Faith in the obvious was not expressed. His works were there and true, and yet ignored. The Sanhedrin found reasons not to believe. The Sanhedrin did not want the followers of Jesus Christ to precipitate a revolution to put Him on the throne. This means, they would have lost their power, and they did not want to lose that. These religious leaders were blinded to the conspicuous.

Ironically, it was their own reject of Jesus Christ that brought about the fall of Jerusalem. The Sanhedrin reveal how men can reject Jesus Christ, despite His great signs. Power lust and the rejection of God's plan for their own plan.

To prevent this political crisis, the Sanhedrin knew that Jesus had to die. Their acts worked to our blessing, even though it was cursing against Jesus Christ. "It is expedient for you that One Man die for the people and that the whole nation not perish." The religious leaders did not understand the spiritual issue of the death of Jesus Christ. They did not understand that One Man would die for all.

This killing of Jesus became a formal objective at this point. Caiaphas proposed the death of Jesus Christ as the solution of his political problems, God chose to do that for all mankind. We would be redeemed from the slave market of sin. Salvation was in Him. His work on the cross included those who even rejected Him or even clamored for His death.

Many people would see our Lord's miracles and not believe in Him. Even though Jesus raised Lazarus from the dead, as the Giver of Life, that was not enough for so many.

What they did was evil and vicious, they were used by God to bring about the greatest event of all mankind, the substitutionary death of Jesus Christ.

Today, Jesus Christ is in heaven and He is no longer visible in the flesh. We can still see Him via the Word of God via the gospels. These testify to all that He did.

This is offered to all who believe in Him.

No lesson.

Lesson #0107

John 2:13–18 Life of Christ

6/12/2011 2Sunday

John 2:13–15 The Jewish Passover was near, so Jesus went up to Jerusalem. In the temple complex He found people selling oxen, sheep, and doves, and He also found the money changers sitting there. After making a whip out of cords, He drove everyone out of the temple complex with their sheep and oxen. He also poured out the money changers' coins and overturned the tables.

This was a Jewish mafia in the Temple, who had financial control in this area and made a lot of money off of the worshipers. In this cleansing of the Temple, our Lord showed His authority over these priests who were distorting the meaning of the Temple. They represented themselves; they did not represent the people and they did not represent Jesus Christ.

Then Jesus speaks.

John 2:16 He told those who were selling doves, "Get these things out of here! Stop turning My Father's house into a marketplace!"

Luke 2:46 is where He spoke of this as His Father's house previously. When Jesus argued with the priests in that day, these might be some of the same priests, older, having heard the truth, and rejecting the truth.

This was a real stunner to the priests when He walked into the Temple and drove the moneychangers out. However, the priests did not give His words any merit; they challenged Him almost immediately.

Nothing is said about v. 17.

John 2:17 And His disciples remembered that it is written: Zeal for Your house will consume Me.

So, almost immediately the religious leaders and the Jews there asked about seeing a sign of His authority. They could not allow this to go unchallenged. They wanted His credentials. How could He do such a thing? They demanded that He document Who He was. People in the Temple are watching this.

John 2:18 So the Jews replied to Him, "What sign of authority will You show us for doing these things?"

Tradition said that only the Sanhedrin could cleanse the Temple. They ran the Temple and they were the ones who were defiling the Temple. They did not want anyone else to do this either.

People from Berachah Church have stolen money and gullible Christians who want to do something nice for them; religion does this. How many denominations are wealthy on the backs of those who pour money out on the coffers. They are pharisees; they are filled with piety. How often do we heard our political leaders say one thing, which is actually a deception. They demand sacrifices of the people to make up for their own extravagant ways. They do not live themselves by their legislation or by their regulations.

The priests there taught the statutes of the Law, but they were in the Temple doing exactly the opposite.

Our politicians are the most extravagant with our money. Two-faced people speaking out of both sides of their mouths. They are covering their own evil deeds with their own words of phoney righteousness. Lying leadership covering their tracks for their own benefit.

They convinced themselves that they are doing the best for everyone, but they are doing so much more for themselves. Lack of scruples; con men in the guise of leaders, in religion and in politics. Watch what our leaders do in relation to what they say and discern the lies and inconsistencies. Struthiest the ostrich buries his head in the sand. "Don't confuse me with the facts and don't bother me with reality."

People in this country are frogs being thrown into a cool pot of water, and the heat is gently raised. Trading freedom for the various isms like socialism. Socialism always makes things worse for everyone. Socialism redistributes wealth, ruining the incentive of all. Those who produce stop producing which means less revenue to distribute and everyone becomes poorer by trickle down poverty. Every time it is tried, it fails. However, it is continually touted because those who adhere to socialism are humanists and they put their faith and trust in mankind. Do you think that those who lead us in government have less of a sin nature than we have? They think they can tell us what to do because we are so much less competent than they. "Put it in our hands and we will give you the security." The lying tongue of leadership spouts foolishness and folly.

Prov. 15:2 The tongue of the wise uses knowledge rightly, but the mouth of fools pours out foolishness.

When there is no doctrine in the minds of our leaders, then all they can do is speak lies. Socialism and they are liars and fools. Just like the fools who challenge the Messiah, the same hypocrisy comes from the mouth of our leaders today.

Prov. 15:14 The heart of him who has understanding seeks knowledge, but the mouth of fools feeds on folly.

Fools metabolize falsehood rather than doctrine. This is a religion; socialism is a religion; it is not a political movement. They feast on multi-culturalism, political correctness, anti-capitalism, and false redistribution programs.

Fools cannot wait to gulp down lies, and the folly of leadership becomes the folly of a compliant nation.

Rom. 1:22 Professing to be wise, they become foolish,

They tell us that they are wise.

Rom. 1:23 and change the glory of the incorruptible God into an image made like corruptible man, and birds and four-footed animals and creeping things.

They place their faith in corruptible man rather than in God. That is the folly of the pharisees and the folly of anyone who places their trust in man.

The cosmic system is opposed to God in every way. Satan is the great deceiver, but he disguises himself as an angel of light. He uses wisdom that is false; it sounds good, but it is false. We need to be able to discern with divine viewpoint. What we think, say and do is foolishness and folly, if we follow Satan. We have exchanged the image of the incorruptible God for the lie.

Rom. 1:24–25 Therefore God also gives them up to uncleanness, in the lusts of their hearts, to dishonor their bodies among themselves, who change the truth of God into the lie, and fear and serve the created things more than the Creator, who is blessed forever. Amen.

Certainly, we must vote for people of integrity in a democracy; but if we lack doctrine, then we will vote for those who distort the truth. We can sort out the truth by implanting truth in our souls; we have a measuring rod against which we can measure. What do evil people do today? They distort. We must be able to apply God's Word in countering the distortions of truth.

We are the purveyors of divine viewpoint. This is why we have a human spirit. This is why we can grow in grace and knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. The more that we put into our souls, the more that we can grow.

If we put politics over truth, then we are not a part of the solution; we are part of the problem. The only solution today is divine wisdom. We must grow to spiritual maturity. We must gain wisdom to be the preservative of this client nation. God always honors the truth in the souls of growing believers.

John 2:18 So the Jews replied to Him, "What sign of authority will You show us for doing these things?"

In utter folly, they ask for proof of His authority. This is like the Democratic attack upon healthcare changes proposed by Paul Ryan. They want to demagog whatever Jesus says.

Our nation is imploding and we have truth in our souls. Our only way out is truth in our souls so that God will vindicate us.

Lesson #0108

John 2:18–25 Life of Christ

6/15/2011 Wed

Jesus is God incarnate; not just a man walking upon this earth.

Religious leaders meet the Lord Jesus Christ and then return to their respective corners. Jesus has just drive out all of the animals and the money changers, and their money has been thrown all over the courtyard. He has completely broken up their monopoly. The priests immediately understood the implications. This Man, Who had walked into the courtyard, had just staked a claim as the Lord of the Temple, with absolute authority. He called God His Father, and made a claim upon this house. So the religious leaders came face to face with God and they hated Him. This begins 3 years of antagonism toward our Lord, which culminated in the cross. They will vehemently oppose the grace plan of salvation in favor of their own works and their own genetic line. They preached salvation by keeping the Law; and would not recognize that they could not keep it. They were sons of Abraham; all of them. What they will show in all of this is the bankruptcy and the hypocrisy of Judaism. Any religion could be substituted here. Their religion was bankrupt. This is man's futile efforts to reach God based upon several things: morality, good works, good intentions; self-righteousness. They think that they can reach out to God based upon being so wonderful. Whatever the religion, it is always that way. If it is without Christ, it is nothing.

Kingdom of the Cults and some people reading this are shocked by the things that these groups believe. They pervert the grace of God. The only means of salvation is the grace of God, and that is what religion perverts. They do this in the grace plan of God.

These religious leaders had a lot of stature in their own eyes. They cannot do this apart from non-meritorious faith. All of these religious leaders epitomized works. They were thieves, profiteers and crooks. They were doing business in the Temple and they feared this Jesus because of what He had just done to them. He caused problems with their business. They were selling the animals which these worshipers needed; and Jesus cleaned out the nest of profiteers and crooks. They did not teach Old Testament doctrines or prophecies or the Law. They lived an extravagant life by stealing from the coffers of the Temple. They hated Him because He nailed them. All of the worshipers were there. They were being defrauded and Jesus showed them for who they were. Their lifestyle and power was threatened by this upstart. And He claimed to be the Son of God. This was blasphemy to them, even though they were the worst blasphemers in all of Israel.

This Jesus carried an authority that evoked jealousy and hostility in their religious souls. So they now had to do something. They were not going to go down without a fight. All of these people on the Temple of Passover day were applauding Jesus.

So the religious types demanded a sign; they wanted Him to prove that He had the authority to do what He did.

John 2:18 So the Jews replied to Him, "What sign of authority will You show us for doing these things?"

They really did not want a sign. They had already rejected Him. They just decided to discredit Him. If they do not discredit Him and the gospel, then they have to believe Him.

John 2:19 Jesus answered, "Destroy this sanctuary, and I will raise it up in three days."

Jesus had now spoke of His death, resurrection, and this was His sign. This would be the greatest of all signs. This was a future sign. They thought that this idea was so weird, that they believed that He discredited Himself.

John 2:20 Therefore the Jews said, "This sanctuary took 46 years to build, and will You raise it up in three days?"

What the disciples saw and what others saw, was quite amazing. Jesus said something that they took as being very enigmatic. They believed that He means that He will destroy the Temple and raise it up in 3 days. Herod's great project here is this Temple, which took 46 years to build. It had been under construction for a long time. Herod died before it was completed. This seemed silly. It was impossible. They believed that He was a crackpot here. This was the ambiguous type of answer that Jesus would give.

These religious types would continue to reject Him over the next few years.

Jesus made these prophecies for those who believed in Him; He knew that these religious types would not be convinced. These signs were for believers and their edification.

John 2:21 But He was speaking about the sanctuary of His body.

John makes an editorial comment here about what Jesus said. John was writing in retrospect. This was written long after our Lord's crucifixion, resurrection and ascension. This had already taken place. John was one of the first witnesses to the resurrection. He and Peter went into the tomb and saw that Jesus had been risen; and John saw our Lord on several occasions after. John knows these things to be true.

The Lazarus incident would reveal that Jesus would conquer death. He would conquer death for all of us.

So He reveals the future and this eludes the religious types. These words would only be understood after the resurrection.

John 2:22 So when He was raised from the dead, His disciples remembered that He had said this. And they believed the Scripture and the statement Jesus had made.

The disciples remembered and understood this. They believed the Scripture and the statement that Jesus made.

The Temple is where man met God. Man approached God through sacrifice, which represents what the Lord Jesus Christ would do.

And He Himself bore our sins in His Own body on the cross, that we might...

John 14:6 I am the way, the truth and the life; no man comes to the Father but by Me. Jesus, over and over, made it clear, that He was the only way. TV commentators say, "You mean to say you can only go to heaven if you believe in Jesus Christ?"

People constantly try to separate God's justice and love and believe that there are other ways to God.

Our Lord announces to the leadership of Israel that the King of Kings has arrived. He revealed this through His authority. This began His public ministry, in the House of God; not in a pious way, but with a condemnation of religion. Religion is the enemy of grace. There is no spiritual life apart from the grace of God. The human spiritual life is bereft of spirituality if there is no Holy Spirit.

The evil of religion and it is all around us. It opposes what our Lord provided for us through His grace. Christianity is not a religion, but a relationship to God through Jesus Christ.

John 2:23 While He was in Jerusalem at the Passover Festival, many trusted in His name when they saw the signs He was doing.

We continue with this Passover week, during the feast, many believe in His name, beholding the signs that He did.

John 2:24 Jesus, however, would not entrust Himself to them, since He knew them all

Jesus knew the evil that was within men.

John 2:25 and because He did not need anyone to testify about man; for He Himself knew what was in man.

There are many miracles which Jesus did that were not recorded. He got the attention of the population by cleansing the Temple. He presented His credentials as Messiah to the people. There must have been a lot that He did. What happened was, His fame spread throughout Jerusalem and elsewhere. Jesus did not perform these miracles to stir up everyone. The key is the significance of the miracles.

Too many got their eyes upon what He did instead of Who He was. These miracles would cause them to ask themselves, "Who is this man? Why is He able to do these signs?"

John 2:22b And they believed the Scripture and the statement Jesus had made.

Many who believed in Him did not follow Him; they did not listen to them. They were impressed by His miracles and signs. They were not growing in grace and knowledge.

So many Christians get enthusiastic at first, but, when the emotions wear off, they fade away. Rick Hughes has led many to Christ and then to doctrine; and only a few stay with the Word of God.

John 2:24 Jesus, however, would not entrust Himself to them, since He knew them all

Jesus Christ knew that they were not positive toward doctrine.

They could not maintain the self-discipline required to grow up. No one grows spiritually overnight. It takes a consistent renovation of one's thinking, so that the mind of Christ becomes our mind.

Where are the Christians who want to grow in grace and knowledge? Not in Berachah.

We can't hide. God knows all that we do. We are always known. Every moment of our life we are known; we are seen. Our soul is bare to Him.

This is typical for there to be believers who were not positive toward doctrine.

John 2:25 and because He did not need anyone to testify about man; for He Himself knew what was in man.

They did not understand the depravity of man. They could not represent grace at this point. Jesus could not entrust His witness to them. They were immature. They would distort His message. Jesus represented Himself beyond what anyone could do. It would take years of training to get his disciples up to snuff. No one grows up overnight.

We do not have to question where God is in all of this. We have no illusions at all about what man is like. People are no damn good; but we can deal with this, having doctrine in our souls. We live in a client nation. We are growing up. That is the greatest thing that could happen to any believer.

Lesson #0109

John 2:24–3:2 Life of Christ

6/16/2011 Thurs

What we have in the gospels are certainly barebones. This is the first week of our Lord's public ministry when there were many things that are not recorded.

When all this was happening, this greatly upset the Sanhedrin. They were talking as were the people talking. They were the power brokers in Judea.

These men had to say something about what Jesus Christ was doing. They had to come up with a conclusion from their learned ranks. Whatever conclusion that they made would be utterly negative. They wanted nothing more than to discredit Him. All of these signs and miracles and the fulfillment of all these prophecies.

John 2:23 While He was in Jerusalem at the Passover Festival, many trusted in His name when they saw the signs He was doing.

Jesus did not entrust Himself to them, because He knew what was in the minds of the unbelieving Sanhedrin as He knew what was in the minds of the disciples and in the minds of others who believed. Jesus knew what was in their minds. The Sanhedrin rejected His cleansing and His signs. Jesus was a threat to them. The Sanhedrin should have been among His greatest allies, but they were the greatest roadblocks to His ministry. The Sanhedrin were still on the spot, and they recognized Him as unique. They had to question Jesus; to test Him. They were looking for every opening that they could.

The Sanhedrin were like the press today. They would look for anything that is wrong and then report that; and ignore the rest.

John 2:24 Jesus, however, would not entrust Himself to them, since He knew them all

John 2:25 and because He did not need anyone to testify about man; for He Himself knew what was in man.

It was under these conditions that a pharisee showed up and talked with Jesus.

John 1 is a great chapter on Christology, and John 3 is all about Soteriology.

Jesus no doubt spend personal time with many individuals and spoke to them about salvation. This is a personal interview, one of many, between Jesus and Nicodemus.

Our Lord will build a convincing case for faith in Him. Jesus will choose an incident that this pharisee would know all about. The venomous snakes would bite the Jews in the desert, and Jesus would use this to explain to Nicodemus salvation. Jesus spoke to large crowds, but He also spoke to individuals. It was not with everyone; but it was with some. Pastors have individual conversations; but he also needs to teach a group.

If you just wait, your questions will be answered. If you just listen, you will get the answer; you will get the explanation. It will normally come through Bobby while he teaches.

Jesus taught both His disciples and also crowds.

Nicodemus was a man who ruled over Jews in religious matters. He was a learned man. He studied and interpreted the Law for Jews. He prayed 7 times a day and went to the Temple 3x a day. He was a paragon of self righteous, hypocritical pharisee. There was an arrogance in Nicodemus which accompanied his works and position. He was very religious and he was unsaved. No matter how many rituals you go through, you are unsaved. He is the perfect example of the deeply religious person who is unsaved.

John 3:1 Now there was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews.

Nicodemus recognized Jesus as a fellow expert in the Law. Maybe he heard Jesus speak when he was 12, and now here is this boy all grown up. He has had 18 years to grow up. Nicodemus would give him a title, but he would not bend to Jesus altogether at first. He was one in a high place not negative to Jesus. He responded to the truth.

Eventually, someone will respond. If they do not respond to you, you have planted the seed that they need to have.

Nicodemus is cautious for many reasons. He knows that, coming into contact with Jesus means that he is sticking his neck out. So, he keeps this on the down-low. He comes to Jesus in the dead of night. He was not sent by the group. These religious types wanted to challenge Jesus if there was a crowd around; but they did not tend to approach Jesus alone. Nicodemus is coming here alone at night. Nicodemus could be removed from his high position, so he shows up in the dead of night. Nicodemus was curious. This is a spark of positive volition. Don't back away from curiosity. Nicodemus wanted to understand Jesus. He definitely noticed what Jesus had done and what He said.

Is it possible that, the signs that Jesus did, were actually just the one sign; but that people spoke of many signs? Because there is a second miracle that Jesus will do in John 4.

Nicodemus shows some actual respect to Jesus at the beginning; however, he approached Jesus with an air of superiority. This was an arrogance in his prominent position. He was not about to surrender his own prestige as a teacher; he was a seeker, but he considered himself superior to Jesus. This is similar to many in academia today; they look down at many of us. How can anyone who is modern, empirical believe in this stuff. So they mock faith and they see Christians as weak. They see Christianity as a psychological crutch for those who are weak. They place their faith in themselves, in humanism, in rationalism, in environmentalism, in empiricism, and in science. The humanist sees progress in this world; or they believe that it is possible. They do not believe in the depravity of man. They think that man can evolve to something near to perfection; and they are close to that themselves.

Intellectuals, Humanism and Reality

1. In spite of the presence of some good humanitarianism in this world, evil still permeates this world. It is all around us. Humanists try to define it away. No matter how they explain it away, it is here.
2. Mankind still wallows in defeat and despair, despite the human achievement which is obvious.
3. In spite of great medical advances, disease and death still overtake everyone. Some who actually believe today that medical science will eventually make us immortal.
4. In spite of comprehensive law and regulations, injustice is still the norm. The rest of the world has very little in the way of courts and law.
5. In spite of democracies, freedom is fragile and tyranny continually reappears. The 20th century is a great example of that. Even our freedom is very fragile.
6. Has radical environmentalism solved the problems of the environment? A volcano in 4 days in Iceland has undone pretty much all that we have done to reduce global warming. Have we changed anything?
7. In spite of man's religions, man continues to be lost. Religion solves no problems.
8. In spite of centuries of great minds offering great philosophical and logical explanations of the human condition, great men of genius; yet it has not changed man's condition. Has rationalism brought reasonableness to people? Is intellect now valued over emotionalism? Has socialism and communism destroyed poverty? Of course not. Have peace organizations stopped war? Have human societies stopped the abuse of animals?
9. In spite of calls for tolerance, enmity still rules the mind of man. Conflict is still a part of our makeup.
10. We saw some of the greatest technological advances in the 20th century. Hurricanes and tornadoes still rage. The primitive condition is just over the horizon at any moment. In spite of all the science.
11. In spite of ever-increasing human entitlements, unemployment and poverty increase.
12. In spite of marital vows, families are more broken than ever.
13. In spite of drugs that heal, drug addiction is rampant and greater than it has ever been.
14. In spite of modern psychology and therapy, people are as confused as ever.

15. In spite of multiculturalism and tolerance, mankind's standards deteriorate at an alarming rate. Relativism says we have progressed; the ACLU has brought us more freedom than ever before.
16. Despite the presence of human messiah's things get worse. There is only one True Messiah.
17. In spite of great social progress, man advances in circles. He always reverts to his base nature.
18. In spite of the best human intentions, there are always unintended consequences that ruin progress that kicks humanity back to square one. Mankind pushes an arm back into the idealistic box and out pops a leg. The soul of man is depraved. Our souls can only be healed by the work of Jesus Christ. It is only by faith alone in Christ alone. The human actions are held in check by God the Holy Spirit.

Bible doctrine is the only source of absolute standards and can be bent. Doctrine is the sure way to renovate the thinking of humanism. Utopia is the failed goal of humanism. The devil's world marches on aided and abetted by man's rejection of Jesus Christ and God.

Nicodemus approaches Jesus Christ in a neutral way. He was neutral and open. He had some arrogance in his soul; but has not moved beyond his own voice. He understood that humanism and religion were both lacking. He understood these things, but he was an unbeliever.

The Sanhedrin argues about what Jesus did; some of them were forced to admit that there was no other explanation. "We know" means that there were some in the Sanhedrin who understood that Jesus was from God. So, Nicodemus came to find out more.

Nicodemus knew that Jesus was associated with God, but he was not yet ready to recognize Jesus as Messiah.

John 3:2 The same came to him by night, and said to Him, "Rabbi, we know that You are a teacher come from God, for no one can do these signs that You do, unless God is with him."

Lesson #0110

John 2:23 3:1– 5 Life of Christ

6/19/2011 1Sunday

Today, we are going to look at the power of Jesus Christ.

The Sanhedrin is made up of some pharisees, sadducees and scribes and they would hound our Lord for the next 3 years.

At this time, our Lord performed many signs and miracles during this week (but what about the second miracle that Jesus does in John 4.

John 2:23 While He was in Jerusalem at the Passover Festival, many trusted in His name when they saw the signs He was doing.

The Sanhedrin plotted to bring Jesus down. A man came to Jesus at night and John 3:1–2 Now there was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews. The same came to him by night, and said to him, "Rabbi, we know that you are a teacher come from God, for no one can do these signs that you do, unless God is with him."

Nicodemus could hold his own in any intellectual discussion. He saw Jesus as another great intellectual and someone worthy of his attention. He knew the Old Testament Scriptures very well. He was a pillar of the community. He was a fine example of self-righteousness. He was a very moral man and a hypocrite as well. He had a haughty, superior attitude, and a well-developed sense of his own importance. He was an arrogant man.

Nicodemus was willing to listen and to hear and to learn. He determined that it would be worthwhile to question Jesus, as He was a very unique man.

He was very religious, but he was not saved. All that he had done in the Temple were clouded by the Judaistic tradition. He did not understand how the Jew in the Old Testament would fade. He was open to some discussion, however.

Nicodemus did not want there to be any knowledge of his speaking to Jesus, so he came to Him at night. He did have a burning curiosity, which he did not know where it would lead him, but he was interested in Jesus.

Jesus announced Himself as the king; and Jesus would teach him. Nicodemus was forced to admit that Jesus had some sort of a claim and that His signs were certainly supernatural. There was no other explanation. As a student of the Old Testament, Nicodemus understood the history of the Jews, and he knew that many times in history, there were prophets from God. There were many prophets that had come to Israel; and Nicodemus wanted to find out Who Jesus was.

John 3:2 The same came to him by night, and said to him, "Rabbi, we know that you are a teacher come from God, for no one can do these signs that you do, unless God is with him."

Our Lord did not immediately draw attention to Himself. His answer went in an entirely different direction. He offered the universal solution to the depravity of man. Nicodemus did not see himself as a fallen man, as depraved.

Jesus gives Nicodemus a point of doctrine. Christianity and born again are synonymous terms. When Nicodemus heard this, it had tremendous shock value. Jesus knew the true motivation of Nicodemus. He knew why Nicodemus came to Him at night. Jesus read him clearly before he even opened his mouth.

Jesus took complete control of the conversation, and he did not want to let this go off to some tangent. No superfluous objections or questions to take Him off down some path.

Jews considered the Kingdom of God and this was the focus of their lives. Jesus said, "I will tell you how to enter into the Kingdom of God." John picked this illustration because Nicodemus as a very religious man.

John 3:3 Jesus answered him, "Most assuredly [point of doctrine], I tell you, unless one is born anew, he can't see the Kingdom of God."

Nicodemus asks how is it possible for a man to be born. He wrongly assumed that Jesus Christ had a physical birth. Nicodemus is focused; he is determined to know what Jesus means here. He will quickly discount a physical rebirth. He will come to understand that this is a spiritual rebirth. Physical birth begins human life; so spiritual birth will begin spiritual life. Birth means a lot to Nicodemus. He is a member of the chosen people, descended from Abraham. Jesus understood exactly what He was doing here, to focus Nicodemus on the comparison of a physical and spiritual birth.

John 3:4 Nicodemus said to him, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be born?"

"One must be born of water and the Spirit in order to enter into the Kingdom of God." Birth to Nicodemus is being born a Jew, and this is where he has placed the emphasis in his life.

Some think that this is water baptism, but there is no context to indicate this. Baptismal regeneration is a heresy, and baptismal sacrament is believed by many to be required for salvation. It is not a part of what Jesus Christ is about to present. Water can be used in a number of different ways.

Uses of Water in the Bible

1. Isa. 55:1 water can be used for salvation. This is not a literal drink of water. Thirsting is not the image of actually drinking water and it less refers to baptism. Rev. 22:17 has a similar passage. The grace of God in Christ.
2. Water is a figure representing the Bible (the Word of God). Ezek. 16:9 Eph. Ex. 15:23–25 it brings rest and refreshment to the believer.
3. Used for the Holy Spirit as well. John 7:38–39 Living Water
4. John 3:5 a figure of speech for physical and spiritual birth.

John 3:5 Jesus answered, "Most assuredly I tell you, unless one is born of water and Spirit, he can't enter into the Kingdom of God!"

Lesson #0111

John 3:5–7 Life of Christ

6/19/2011 2Sunday

Nicodemus is about to get the most important information that anyone could hear; he will learn how to enter into the Kingdom of God. This is applicable to any one of us. The only way for us to enter into heaven is to be born again. It is possible that he was making fun of Jesus here, by asking, "Physical birth again?"

The most important thing that Nicodemus could do would be to take this information and pass it along. To make certain that his wife and family understand what is being taught here. If you have failed to do this, you are a failure as a father. It does not matter how many advantages you have give your children, if you haven't given them the advantage.

Nicodemus is about to hear that he needs to be born again, of water and of the spirit.

Nicodemus is a learned man and he knows that inside the womb, the fetus is enclosed in a membrane in a water based fluid. The amniotic sac ruptures when the water breaks; and a father would know this. This happens in every birth. Water as part of physical birth.

The Human Life and Spiritual Life Analogy

1. A person must be born to receive human life. Human life begins at birth. This is how Jesus begins this analogy.
2. A person must be born again to receive spiritual life. Birth begins human life and birth begins one's spiritual life.
3. Human birth begins human life; and spiritual birth begins a spiritual life.

Nicodemus believes that he is spiritual based upon who he is. He is a leader of the Jews; of course he is spiritual, in his own thinking. This is an entirely different life. The Spirit refers here to the Holy Spirit as connected with the spiritual birth.

The Holy Spirit must take your faith and make it effective for salvation. Without the Holy Spirit, we are not regenerated. One is the response to the gospel and the other is the power of God effective for our salvation.

The Holy Spirit acts as a human spirit to make the gospel understandable to us. The human spirit is a receptor of spiritual information. The unbeliever lacks a human spirit. The information is then transferred to the soul, so that we are able to grasp the gospel.

Regeneration means the gospel is made understandable to the spiritually dead person, and they are positive toward the gospel message. We appropriate through faith the salvation grace of God. The Holy Spirit steps in immediately regenerates the person; this is a birth; it is the creation of something. The Holy Spirit creates a human spirit within us, and that is where our relationship with God is developed. God the Father then imputes eternal life to that human spirit. At physical birth, we do not have a human spirit. Without that, we have no relationship with God. The believer at this point, at the point of regeneration; at the point of new life, he has a new human spirit.

We are born with His love and with a soul. However, we lack the human spirit. We can interact with others via our soul; but we cannot interact with God, as we lack the human spirit. We go from being dichotomus to being trichotomus.

Adam died spiritually when he ate the fruit the woman gave him, and, 900+ years later, he died physically.

39 irrevocable assets + 1 revocable asset are given at the moment of salvation.

Now, Nicodemus becomes interested. This had to be difficult for a religious person to accept. There is no equity with God based upon our own works.

The Holy Spirit justifies us at the point of salvation. We receive the righteousness of God. In the eyes of God, we are lousy sinners, but righteousness is imputed to us.

We are placed into union with Jesus Christ and we share everything that He is and all that He has. In union with Christ, we share His kingship. In reality, Jesus shares everything with us; His priesthood.

1Cor. 2:10–16 Nicodemus can now understand pneumatikos, which is spiritual information. The unbeliever can listen to Bobby teach doctrine and it is only academic knowledge. The believer now needs to start growing spiritually with spiritual food. We have a human spirit and we are able to learn and store doctrinal information. We hear and understand all of this with positive volition.

After being saved, then we are looking to put as much spiritual information into our right lobes as will fit. This will increase our ability to live the Christian life. This is why we are all here. This is provided for us by the grace of God.

The filling of the Holy Spirit is our power to grow. This is why only the believer can have the spiritual life that God intended for man.

The unbeliever looks at the spiritual life as being anti-materialism. Yoga class is simply turning inward and communing with self. They cannot communicate with God. They may or may not believe in Him. This is a complete look at our spiritual lives. Unbelievers can only define spiritually in mystic human terms. When someone talks about that, ask them, "What does that mean, to be a spiritual person?"

John 3:5 Jesus answered, "Most assuredly I tell you, unless one is born of water and Spirit, he can't enter into the Kingdom of God!"

Our Lord continues with Nicodemus. Jesus continues to explain. When something is born, it is flesh coming from flesh. That which is born of Spirit is spirit. Nicodemus is a learned pharisee, and yet, he cannot grasp this entire faith thing. Jesus used γεννω in the perfect passive neuter participle, which means to be born of, to be generated from.

No human spirit. That which is born of flesh is flesh. Nicodemus was depending upon his human birth as his ticket to the Kingdom of God. Abraham's descendants are born of flesh; Nicodemus needed to be born again. Abraham believed and this was imputed to him as righteousness. That which is born of the Holy Spirit is immaterial as well. Being born a physical son of Abraham is not good enough. Nicodemus knows that he does not have this second birth because he does not even know what it is.

Our Lord was denying that Nicodemus's descent from Abraham would save him. This will not gain the favor of God.

Our Lord was born of a virgin, which is all explained in the Integrity of God book, its necessity. Nicodemus is dredging up a lot of knowledge from his academic background.

John 3:6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh. That which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

John 3:7 Don't marvel that I said to you, 'You must be born anew.'

Lesson #0112

John 3:4–9 Life of Christ

6/22/2011 Wed

This clandestine meeting reveals to all of us the mechanics of salvation. This reveals so much about our salvation. Jesus calls it being born again (which is regeneration). Nicodemus has no idea what this means, exactly. He first asks if, there is something physical going on here.

Nicodemus appears to respond sarcastically here. Sarcasm shows contempt and it is one of the worst things a person can do to you. However, it did not bother our Lord at all. He is setting Nicodemus up for enlightenment.

John 3:4 Nicodemus said to him, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be born?"

He nails him right here in v. 5. Being born of water relates to physical birth, the amniotic fluid. The 2nd birth is a spiritual birth. The origin of human life book. Jesus is making an assumption that being born physically. This is the beginning of human life. The second birth is being born of the Holy Spirit. A physical birth followed by a spiritual birth.

John 3:5 Jesus answered, "Most assuredly I tell you, unless one is born of water and Spirit, he can't enter into the Kingdom of God!"

Jesus begins to explain the difference between a physical and a spiritual birth. A husband and wife produce a child. There is the imputation of Adam's original sin and the genetically formed sin nature. Flesh is flesh, and flesh produces flesh. That which is born of the Spirit results in a human spirit. The opening clarification. Regeneration is the generation of the human spirit. Perfect passive neuter participle of γενᾶω.

We are born with a body and we also have a soul. Uniting these two means we have 2 parts. We have a soul; and what is generated by the Holy Spirit is our human spirit. When Adam fell, his human spirit was lost. When faith is exercised in Jesus Christ, one is regenerated.

As Nicodemus approached our Lord, he was trusting in his physical descent from Abraham to take him into the Kingdom of God. This was his great advantage, being a Jew, a child of the covenant. He did not know that Abraham believed God and that was credited to his account for righteousness. Nicodemus thought that, being a Jew, was his ticket to salvation. This is a misinterpretation of the Abrahamic covenant. He believed that his obedience to the Law of Moses was key to his salvation and reward.

Jesus knew how the Jews thought. Jesus denied the possibility that human descent and good works would get anyone into the Kingdom of God.

Parents pass along the nature of flesh to their children; and they transmit the sin nature to each of their children. Jesus presents the fallacy of Nicodemus's thinking. He must have a spiritual rebirth.

Nicodemus was astonished at this. What Jesus said was exactly the opposite of what he had believed all of his life. Being born a Jew was not enough.

John 3:6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh. That which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

For the 3rd time, Jesus speaks of the need for a new birth.

John 3:7 Don't marvel that I said to you, 'You must be born anew.'

Jesus then calls to mind the wind. You can hear the wind, but you do not know where it comes from or where it is going to. So, it is of all born of the spiritual. Both wind and spiritual are the same Greek word. They are both πνευμα. Jesus uses the same word in v. 8, but the context explains that Jesus means wind.

The Analogy of the Wind

1. The wind cannot be seen; only the effects are visible.
2. How do you know that wind blows? You can hear it and you can see its results (leaves rustling, you can feel it on your face). It can lift a building off of its foundation.
3. However, our Lord makes a point. The point He makes is, you cannot determine the starting point or the destination of wind. Yet, the wind is everywhere. Wind can suddenly start up anywhere, and it may last for a minute and disappear.
4. You only know a wind is there by its results.
5. You can know the wind exists by the power and the presence of its impact. Every wave on the beach is wind driven, which may start elsewhere. Bobby was on the north shore of Hawaii for 3 years, and the waves were generated by great storms off the coast of Alaska. Bobby has seen 30 and 50' waves. So it is with God the Holy Spirit.

The Holy Spirit and the 2nd Birth

1. You cannot see the Holy Spirit. One knows the Holy Spirit by what He does. The effects of His presence.
2. The Holy Spirit, like the wind, is ubiquitous. The movement of the wind is all around us and everywhere.
3. What Jesus says is, one of His works, one of the effects of the Holy Spirit, is regeneration.
4. The Holy Spirit provides spiritual birth. He creates a human spirit, which is unseen, but real.
5. Even though the 2nd birth does not have the obvious visibility of the 1st birth, it is just as real.
- 6.
7. The effects of the Holy Spirit are manifest in the life of the believer.
8. The Holy Spirit produces the human spirit, and there is, because of this, the opportunity for spiritual growth. The filling of the Holy Spirit with doctrine allows you to think differently and to operate in such a way as to glorify God. These things occur rather slowly. These differences may not be apparent in a day by day way.
9. That is the tangible product of the regeneration of the Holy Spirit.
10. That is how the invisible Holy Spirit works. It is like the wind. It is all πνευμα, and the wind is a perfect example of the Holy Spirit.
11. The Holy Spirit produces regeneration and spiritual growth. When the individual is positive toward the gospel, regeneration takes place.
12. The Holy Spirit works invisibly, yet with discernable results. This is not speaking in tongues or healing.

Nicodemus understood the analogy, to some degree.

John 3:8 The wind blows where it wants to, and you hear its sound, but don't know where it comes from and where it is going. So is everyone who is born of the Spirit."

Nicodemus has some theological questions. He knew a lot of Jewish theology, but, as an unbeliever, nothing had been metabolized. There was no human spirit where these things could go. The Holy Spirit was working on Nicodemus at this very moment. The Holy Spirit is acting as his human spirit. This helps him to empty his mind of his self righteous background. He had such great pride in his knowledge and works. Knowledge makes one arrogant. This is a great picture of religion.

There are churches which are bound to their heritage, their ceremonies; so many which put a cross over their church; and they have beautiful empty sermons filled with humanism. That is Nicodemus. He was no unlike religious types today, full of wind, but with no substance. Nicodemus was also very political as well. He was a part of the sanhedrin. He was in a rut of Judaistic tradition.

What Nicodemus Was All about

1. Nicodemus had a traditional belief system. He believed

2. Becoming is experience; that which happens. Being is a state. He was becoming something to be. It should be the other way.
3. We enter into a status first (being) and then that changes us (becoming). Nicodemus is becoming holy through works. He is obeying the Law. He wants to generate God's favor, which he gets through becoming good enough for God to shed grace upon him.
4. Nicodemus had to become holy or saved through his own works first in order to gain the favor of God. He was working he was becoming, in order to reach a status.
5. He chose this instead of gaining a status, which can then lead to changes in a person's life. This is what perplexes Nicodemus so much. His entire life has been about becoming a person God can approve of. It is quite difficult for a religious person to understand this; and they hate that all of the good things that you do are worthless. That is tough for a religious person.
6. Religion had it backwards, as religion always does. He was just too good. He was not just a Jew; he was a pharisee. He had done nothing but gain the favor of God through being good. Nicodemus could not be saved by keeping the Law, because he could not keep it perfectly. Yet, he thought that was the way he could enter into the Kingdom of God.

It is this simple; "You must be born again."

John 3:9 Nicodemus answered him, "How can these things be?"

Lesson #0113

John 3:9–10 Life of Christ

6/23/2011 Thurs

Bobby knows that his vocation and gift is teacher; didn't always want to be. Our Lord Jesus Christ is the greatest teacher of all time. What He is doing is exactly that; He is doing some one-on-one teaching. He knew the best way to reach any student. He knew how to clarify concepts. Bobby must gather the information and determine how to present it; then he has to actually present it. Jesus was able to communicate. He knew the way to touch someone the most. He makes it very easy for Bobby, giving him a lesson plan to follow.

A teacher is to take a student from no knowledge to enough knowledge to pass the next test. He was moving perfectly, step by logical step. The test for Nicodemus was death or life, and making a choice between the two. There is always that problem student. Nicodemus was a tough nut and he did not want to learn. He did not think that he was a student. He thought that he knew it all. He was precocious and arrogant, which made him the most difficult person to teach. He knew more than the teacher, in his own way of thinking.

Nicodemus was a pharisee. He was confident that he was the authority as a pharisee, but he did have some questions. He was ignorant of the most basic concepts; how to be saved and how to enter into the Kingdom of God. He was also having great trouble understanding the concept that our Lord was presenting to him. He had to overcome a great deal of self-righteousness; of legalism. He was under the covenant and therefore would receive the promised kingdom. He had to be convinced that his law-keeping and good works were useless. He had to grasp a concept that was way beyond anything that he knew. He did not understand grace. Jesus was walking Nicodemus through this concept, in which he was supposed to be this great teacher.

Our Lord's Methodology in Teaching

1. He announces His subject.
2. He explains the subject. He has decided how He would explain it; the best way to explain it. The concept of two births. Physical and spiritual births.
3. He clarifies regeneration as a work of the Holy Spirit in creating a human spirit. In other words He summarized the most critical aspects of what must be learned.
4. Finally, He illustrates what He is saying. He uses an analogy. Some people need the analogy. They need something more than the facts. The Spirit and the wind.

Even though Nicodemus had heard all of the facts, Nicodemus did not fully grasp what he was being taught.

John 3:9 Nicodemus answered him, "How can these things be?"

He expresses his continuing ignorance and his rejection of the gospel, up to this point. Sadly, Nicodemus represented something that our Lord would face over the next few years. The Jews at this time were very religious. Religious people are so blind. They are caught up in their own goodness. They can be very nice people, but they depend upon their human virtue. "Look how virtuous I am; look at how nice I am." They think that their acts or works make them a good person. They identify themselves through the eyes of others. They conclude that, "If I am acceptable to others, then I am acceptable to God. I attend church and I pray and I say nice things and I use holy language. I even do odd jobs around the church." And the flip side is, "I don't do too many bad things and I don't hurt anybody." They don't count their verbal or mental sins. Also if they don't know it is a sin, they consider that a freebie. No one reaches God or has a relationship with God based upon their acceptability with God.

What God sees is nothing more than spiritual death. God sees sinners who cannot commend themselves to Him. A perfect God cannot accept the righteousness of God. We all fall short of the glory of God. God must initiate.

Jesus is defining the rebirth. No one can do anything for that; it is given to us by the grace of God. Becoming Christian and living the Christian life is a matter of experiential sanctification.

You become a Christian; and then you grow spiritually. Bobby is going to repeat this from the other night.

The Two Verbs

1. To be is a state of being; a status; to exist in a particular status; to occupy a position; this doesn't change; it can't change.
2. To become means to change, to develop into by growth.
3. Religion is becoming in order to be.
4. This means, becoming is living a certain way; it is living in such a way to better oneself according to some set of standards.
5. That is developing oneself in order to gain the state of a relationship with God. Religion is become to be.
6. Religion is doing works for salvation. Developing oneself in order to be saved.
7. Christianity is being in a certain state; in regeneration, in salvation; and from there, we develop, we become, we grow spiritually. We develop into by growth. That is real Christianity.
8. Faith alone brings the state of regeneration; the state of being eternally saved and having a permanent relationship with God. You can go through the 39 absolutes and you see all of the statuses you become; it is what you are; it is what you have.
9. That is the grace of God for salvation. By grace, we are saved through faith, and that salvation is not of ourselves, it is a gift of God, not of works, so that no man can boast. Religion boasts about its works.
10. Then, in Christianity, there is the becoming; the advance to spiritual maturity through metabolizing doctrine. That is growing into a state.
11. The position of sanctification or being holy by faith alone; this moves into experiential sanctification. Then comes serving the Lord; glorifying Him and using the grace assets which He has provided.

The state of regeneration apart from works, which is so hard for Nicodemus and other religious types to understand. Nicodemus has all of this religious claptrap which he has to look beyond or ignore. He has built up equity. He has been paying on all of this so that he can have a relationship with God. Nicodemus is facing the Person Who is God's grace given to us all.

In all of Nicodemus' training and study, he never understood being born again by the power of God the Holy Spirit. He was so not grace orientated. At this point, he is astonished. This young Rabbi understands a theological concept which eludes him.

Perhaps Nicodemus is being sarcastic here. How can grace be? How can grace exist? What a question for a theological mind to ask; not understanding grace. However, this is a common question of religion. It is something which religious types do not get. Everything in the Christian life is all about grace. We must develop this on the road to maturity. There is a lot of legalistic baggage behind this question. These religious types tend to be so arrogant.

So Jesus now takes him down a few notches. "Are you a teacher of Israel, and you do not understand these things? This simple things, and you don't get it?" He is challenging Nicodemus and his knowledge. Nicodemus is being slapped around a bit. Jesus is teaching things that Nicodemus has never heard before. There is a spark of, hmm, maybe I don't know everything. His arrogance has to be overcome. He has just been challenged as a great man of theology. He can react to this challenge or he can listen. To his credit, Nicodemus asks questions and he listens to the answers. This is the one little spark of positive volition that Nicodemus has. In all of this fog and confusion, he seeks to cut through all of this confusion in his legalistic mind. When you hear grace, it can be such a breath of fresh air to one who is steeped in religiosity. Grace covers it all. The religious person is the one most difficult to reach. Nicodemus has this small spark. He wanted to see what the Lord had to offer.

Jesus was not saying that Nicodemus was incapable of understanding. He should have been able to understand all of this.

Why Should Nicodemus Have Been Able to Understand All of this

1. A class on regeneration in the Old Testament; the concept is there. A new birth is not in the Old Testament, but the concept of grace and belief in the Savior was there. This should not be a foreign concept to Nicodemus.
2. The Holy Spirit still worked in the Old Testament to regenerate Old Testament people. This happens in all ages. Faith in Jehovah Elohim.
3. The Jewish race was founded through regeneration. Rom. 9:6–12 the father of the Jewish people had to believe.
4. He expressed faith in Christ and God credited this to him for righteousness. Rom. 4
5. Abraham was the founder of the chosen people.
6. This title belongs to the Jews who believe in Jesus Christ in Old Testament times. All Israel is not Israel. Only those who are regenerate are true Israel.
7. There is no chosen race based upon physical birth. The key is the new birth. Regeneration is spiritual birth.
8. The true Jew is the regenerate Jew.
9. Grace and the meaning of the Old Testament had been distorted by legalistic tradition. Grace is throughout the Old Testament; it is found everywhere.

This should have rung a bell in the mind of Nicodemus.

John could have used a number of examples. He chose this legalistic pharisee to emphasize the grace of God in salvation. There is a contrast between grace and religion. The words which Jesus will speak are the sweetest words spoken. We as believers, have accepted all of this by faith in Christ.

John 3:10 Jesus answered him, "Are you the teacher of Israel, and don't understand these things?"

Prior to v. 11, Jesus has explained the most basic soteriological information to Nicodemus. Jesus explains the spiritual rebirth to Nicodemus. Nicodemus believe this to be a matter of his physical birth and his good behavior (his adhesion to Judaism).

Jesus makes it clear that all of this is the grace of God, and that none of this depends upon what Nicodemus has done, is doing or will do. Nicodemus was steeped in the law and legalism, because he was a pharisee, living in that fog of legalism.

John 3:9 Nicodemus answered him, "How can these things be?"

Nicodemus is amazed and wonders how can this be; how can he have spent all of his life dedicated in this way, and none of it makes any difference. It is not a help to him and his relationship to God. He is filled with all of this legalism.

John 3:10 Jesus answered him, "Are you the teacher of Israel, and don't understand these things?"

"You are a teacher and you do not understand any of this?" He was supposedly a teacher of the Bible to people, and yet he knew none of this.

Question: where in the Old Testament do we have a hint of regeneration? Where is the seed for regeneration? Deut. 10:16 Jer. 4:4 Jer. 31:33 Eze. 11:19 Eze. 36:25 Psalm 51:12.

There are pharisees in every aspect of our lives; and it is pure arrogance. However, he is challenged as to his lack of knowledge. This will never dawn on Nicodemus as to how all of this fits together. Jesus was teaching him things that he, a theological genius, did not know or understand.

Nicodemus can either react to this challenge or he can respond to the gospel of Jesus Christ. He can listen and believe. That is the choice for all people.

Regeneration is a reality, and Jesus is testifying to the truth of this, and telling Nicodemus that he knows nothing about it. Jesus' disciples were there and they could testify to what Jesus was saying. That is the plural occurrences in v. 11.

John 3:11 Most assuredly I tell you, we speak that which we know, and testify of that which we have seen, and you don't receive our witness.

To them, the gospel is nothing but words, but it is so much more than that.

V. 12: "You do not understand earthly things; how can you understand heavenly things and believe them?"

Here, Jesus uses πιστευω, which is the critical verb of this chapter. If you do not understand the simply earthly analogies which I teach, how can you understand the doctrine behind them? So, how can you ever go so far as to understand the cross, the hypostatic union, etc.? “Nicodemus, you need to think outside the box.” Put aside your old presuppositions of legalism. Put aside where you are and who you are.

Jesus is aware that the Holy Spirit is working in Nicodemus. It is acting as the human spirit for Nicodemus. Since he is an unbeliever, he lacks the ability to understand and store spiritual information. So the Holy Spirit has to act as his human spirit, so that he can make a real decision concerning the gospel of Jesus Christ. Nicodemus expresses a little positive volition, and this is transferred to his soul, where he has to make a decision. Jesus knows that God the Holy Spirit has done all of that within Nicodemus. It is a simple matter of hearing and believing.

Nicodemus does not believe in the gospel of grace; he understands nothing of the Holy Spirit. What is he standing upon? His good works. All of this soul clutter needs to be put out of the way, which is the problem for every unbeliever.

The gospel is the power of God unto salvation. The Holy Spirit is behind these words. The Holy Spirit is the One teaching these words and clarifying these things in our mind. Breaking through all of the junk in our souls. The gospel is the good news and the power of God is behind it; the words ought to be the correct words of God. When we do this and we recognize what is happening, then witnessing is even more wonderful. Nicodemus could not understand this in his human thinking.

The Holy Spirit makes this all clear; we are to present this accurately and the Holy Spirit does the rest. The Holy Spirit does all of the work. This is spiritual information; a spiritual message. What remains to Nicodemus is, “Yes or no.” This is the point where he can exercise his volition for or against salvation.

God guarantees that when there is positive volition, that anyone with this positive volition will hear the gospel. There is that decisive moment, and he will decide, at that moment, for or against Jesus Christ.

If Nicodemus chooses not to believe, then he will eventually die and spend eternity in hell. Or, if this person believes later, they can avoid hell. There are true deathbed conversions. The thief on the cross did not have any amount of time to bear fruit. The Holy Spirit will continue to work with this information. It is not a one-time thing and that there is no chance in the future; however, there is no guarantee of a chance in the future.

John 3:12 If I told you earthly things and you don't believe, how will you believe if I tell you heavenly things?

Jesus continues to give more information. “Believe in Jesus Christ and you will be saved” is the bare minimum of information. However, there is nothing wrong with adding more accurate information. The more information that you know, the more you can share, the better off that other person is.

We need to be able to define the grace of God through Jesus Christ. If you are asked, "Jesus was just one man of many who died on a cross;" do you have an answer? You present it and the Holy Spirit will use it.

Lesson #0115 John 3:13–15 Num. 21:5, 8–9 Life of Christ/26/2011 2Sunday

Moving from unbelief to belief and how it is done. The critical nature of the verb πιστευω, which does mean to believe. This word has been butchered in many ways. It has been almost neutered. There is a branch of theology that makes believing a formality; and they teach that it is preordained by God that Christians would believe. All of this is accomplished and it is called common and efficacious grace. The faith is simply given to someone in order to believe, rather than it being an actual decision in the soul of the believer. Volition is supplied; the faith is supplied to those who will believe. They would call us the elect; and that there are those predetermined for salvation and others for condemnation. God knows who will believe and who will not believe. The omniscience of God knew in eternity past who would believe and who would not believe.

God does not interfere in the choice itself. We can observe the power of God in the gospel interacting with the true free will of man. The gospel is the power of God unto salvation, The free will of Nicodemus coexists with the sovereignty of God, which is the grace provided for Nicodemus. Every person is given common grace who hears the gospel. Those who express positive volition at God consciousness hears the gospel; and God provides to gospel to others as well. When we believe, that is efficacious grace, where the Holy Spirit takes that positive volition and He regenerates the believer. Our volition is none the less a real choice that man can make. All mankind must have the option to believe. It is not our volition which saves us, but the Holy Spirit which regenerates us.

The conversion process: understanding salvation by faith alone in Christ alone. The positive or negative point of Nicodemus will be in vv. 15–16.

The only Person Who can ascend into heaven is the Son of Man. Jesus is speaking of Himself, His credentials, if you will. This refers back to the signs and the miracles which He did that past Passover week.

John 3:13 No one has ascended into heaven, but He who descended out of heaven, the Son of Man, who is in heaven.

No one else has been in heaven before to speak based upon his being there other than Jesus Christ. There is only one person who has been in heaven—Jesus. "I have come from heaven and I am the only One with the revelation from heaven." He is able to speak about the Holy Spirit and about the revelation and about the gospel. No man has ascended into heaven to get this information. Only Jesus, the Son of Man. He is God and man, with the emphasis upon His True Humanity. Philip. 2:6–8 ...who, existing in the form of God, didn't consider it robbery to be equal with God, but emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, being made in the likeness of men. And being found in human form, he humbled himself, becoming obedient to death, yes, the death of the cross.

There is none other name under heaven, given among men, by which we must be saved.

Daniel 7:13 the link between heaven and earth; and here is the One. Daniel 7:13 I saw in the night-visions, and, behold, there came with the clouds of the sky one like a son of man, and he came even to the ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. The Holy Spirit clarifies and teaches the revelation to us. In these last days, His Son has spoken to us.

The doctrine here is, Jesus Christ is the 2nd Person of the Trinity, and He had, in His Deity, had total knowledge of the divine decree. Jesus knew Who He was; He understood that he descended out of heaven.

Nicodemus is beginning to understand Who Jesus is. He is God-incarnate. He is speaking the gospel. He is the identification of the Person of Jesus Christ.

This is where so many cults break down; here is where they get it all mixed up. Jesus is not God or He is a god or He is a prophet; but He is not God-incarnate. Obviously, there is no Trinity in these cults. But that is not the gospel. Jesus Christ gives us the gospel, and His Person is a part of the gospel.

Jesus is explaining to Nicodemus Who He is, and telling him, "Have faith in Me; I am the good news of the gospel." He is the living gospel and the object of faith in every dispensation. This is the case for Adam, Israel, the church or to Nicodemus personally. He is always the object of faith. He is the same Person that everyone in human history must believe in.

His miracles made Nicodemus seek out Jesus in the first place. However, miracles do not get the job done. We are no less saved than the people in the time of our Lord. The pharisees prove to us that miracles are not the key. It is the Person and the work of Jesus Christ on the cross which is the key; that is fundamental. Seeing a miracle is not much different than watching a Penn and Teller magic trick.

John 3:13 No one has ascended into heaven, but He who descended out of heaven, the Son of Man, who is in heaven.

Jesus presents an analogy here. The doctrinal parallel will be added into the parallel.

John 3:14 As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up,

Jesus is going to lead to the gospel, but Jesus begins with the illustration from the Old Testament. The Holy Spirit must clarify the gospel.

John 3:15 that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

Regeneration is based upon faith. Πιστεω is used for the 3rd time. Nicodemus realizes that Jesus keeps talking about believing. This will bring Nicodemus to a decision point. Nicodemus sees entering the kingdom as much different that appropriating eternal life via faith alone in Christ alone. This is the absolute truth; the means. This is a comparative incident. Nicodemus will understand based upon this incident.

The Jews continued to whine and complain and they blamed God for every problem that they encountered.

Num 21:5 The people spoke against God, and against Moses, Why have you brought us up out of Egypt to die in the wilderness? for there is no bread, and there is no water; and our soul loathes this light bread.

These people were irrational. They said, there was no food and water and that God brought them out to the desert to die. They say there is no food, but they hated the food that God provided for them. They simply rejected the doctrine that they heard. They went into absolutely maximum reversionism. They are blinded to the truth. The food is right in front of them and they say, "There is no food." That requires a lot of faith. They have no appreciation for the provisions of God. They lack grace orientation and doctrinal orientation. They are like those who say, "How can God let this happen to me?"

Sometimes, these pressures are brought about to accelerate spiritual growth. Moses and Aaron experienced accelerated spiritual growth, as did Aaron's youngest sons.

Num. 21:8 Yahweh said to Moses, Make you a fiery serpent, and set it on a standard: and it shall happen, that everyone who is bitten, when he sees it, shall live.

God sent snakes, probably cobras, and this brought death to many. This little cobras would slither up and bite these people. These people had nothing but venom in their souls against God and Moses. God placed venom into their bodies, to match their poisoned souls. The punishment fit their crime. Justice in action. God's justice and righteousness along with another aspect of His wonderful character. This is a picture of the total depravity of man. The entire Old Testament displays Israel over and over again in total rebellion against God. However, in all of this, in grace, God gives them a way to escape from the horrible death from being snake-bitten.

Even in rejection, God brought His grace to these people. He demonstrated His love. He never left anyone to his own sins; He offered up the way out. Cobras are all over, and God has Moses make a bronze serpent. If they looked at it when bitten, then they lived. If they did not, they died. Look at it, and you live; refuse to look at it, and you die.

This is a perfect picture of nonmeritorious faith. Look at it and live; don't look at it and die. Jesus Christ was also lifted up on a cross, and the sins of the world were poured upon Him. All Israel had to do is look and live; all we have to do is believe and we live.

Nicodemus gets the analogy. None of these Israelites did something meritorious to gain life; it is given to them.

Num. 21:9 Moses made a serpent of brass, and set it on the standard: and it happened, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he looked to the serpent of brass, he lived.

Lesson #0116 Num. 21:8–9 John 3:14–18 Life of Christ 6/29/2011 Wed

Glen someone a pastor of Grace Bible Church in Corpus Christie passed away.

Nicodemus is being schooled by Jesus Christ, going step by step to a decision point. Grace or legalism for salvation. Nicodemus has leaned upon his own works, his law keeping. He is a pharisee and a teacher of Scriptures, but he is beginning to understand his two options. Jesus Christ continues with an illustration. This one is an Old Testament illustration. This is one that Nicodemus will comprehend immediately. He does not understand the true meaning of the Scriptures which he has studied for so long. He approaches Scriptures from the standpoint of his own ideas. Millions of people have approached the Scripture from all sorts of viewpoints. Some superimpose liberation theology over the Bible. It always ends up in apostasy. He is now face to face with his moment of truth. This is the very same moment that every person must face. It is decision time. Positive volition at the point of God consciousness. There is an age of accountability for all of us. There is an age when we are able to understand the gospel and make a legitimate decision. The age of accountability can occur as early as 3 or 4. Bobby believed at age 4, according to Bob. This is why the parent must drill the child in the gospel until they understand perfectly. At some point, they are accountable for that decision.

God consciousness occurs when a person thinks, why am I here or Who is God? Then God is obligated to supply a person with positive volition with gospel information. That allows for the decision point to come to the person.

There are people who might be killed to hear the gospel; but if someone is positive at God consciousness, God will provide them with the gospel. Millions of believers in communist China and in heathen countries all over the world. Nicodemus is past this point. He approached Jesus at night because he wanted to know. We have the opportunity to hear the same gospel. Nicodemus is now face to face with Jesus. Nicodemus is being presented with the gospel and now he is at a decision point. It is a black and white decision; do you believe or do you not believe.

In vv. 14–15, Jesus provides the gospel clearly.

John 3:14 As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up,

John 3:15 that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

The second verse is the mechanics of the gospel. However, Nicodemus's wheels begin to turn in his head.

Moses got 40 years of flack, and the flak of the Jews is like no other people. There was a very venomous cobra in that area which had gone after the Jews. There was no antivenom at that time.

Num. 21:8 Yahweh said to Moses, Make you a fiery serpent, and set it on a standard: and it shall happen, that everyone who is bitten, when he sees it, shall live.

Then there were instructions; a serpent of brass was set on a standard. The Jews had rejected the grace of God. They had ignored the doctrines that Moses was teaching. Those who rejected Moses and the grace of God.

Num. 21:9 Moses made a serpent of brass, and set it on the standard: and it happened, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he looked to the serpent of brass, he lived.

This is the complaint of the Jews, the whiney Jews.

Num 21:5 The people spoke against God, and against Moses, Why have you brought us up out of Egypt to die in the wilderness? for there is no bread, and there is no water; and our soul loathes this light bread.

Manna is what they need and God provides it, and they reject it. The demonstration is in the form of judgment and deliverance. The snakes are all over.

Today, the parallel are all these people who complain about what God has done or not done for them. This generation never reached the land. In grace, God gave these people a way to avoid this agonizing death. Even though God was bringing justice to this recalcitrant people, He also brought them love; there is justice and righteousness and there is love. God is not just a God of justice and punishment. God's grace stands between eternal life and eternal death.

God told Moses to make a bronze serpent and to put it up in the middle of the camp, and all they had to do is, look at the serpent, and they would be delivered from their illness.

The Analogy of the Serpent on the Pole

1. There was no human virtue, none at all, in simply looking at a replica of a metal snake. What human virtue is there in this? None.
2. It was the opposite of human virtue.
3. The snake represents their rejection, their certain death, all of the snakes. The snake represented their negative volition.
4. In the symbol of that death, there was the means of death.
5. Just as the symbol of our Lord's death on the cross, so is the symbol of life. The cross is not life; it is what Jesus accomplished on the cross.

6. Just looking at the serpent represented the way to life. There is no merit here.

How this Is Salvation

1. Moses made the serpent at God's command.
2. Then Moses gave exactly the clear instructions in order to be saved.
3. The Jews were to do nothing; no medical procedures; just look at the image Moses had made.
4. No begging, no pleading, no crying, no agonizing about their sins. They did not look to themselves.
5. Just looking was exclusively to God. They were not doing anything meritorious; they were looking toward God Who was doing for them.
6. This is a magnificent picture of non-meritorious faith in the correct object. Lift up your eyes and live.
7. This was a detestable sight which became the way of salvation. They were not happy about snakes. To see a bronze snake on a pole was not something they would like; it was a detestable sight which became their deliverance. This was all the work being done by someone else. Moses is a type of Christ.

Nicodemus is being informed here that Jesus Christ is salvation. All he has to do is to look to Him for salvation. He only needs to look to our Lord, Who will be lifted up, in order to be born again. Faith in that work must be expressed by every individual for regeneration, according to John 3:15–16. A mother cannot lift up the eyes for a child; everyone had to look in order to live. Nicodemus suddenly God it.

John quotes the Lord Jesus Christ in the next two verses:

John 3:15 that whoever believes in Him should not perish, but have eternal life.

Aorist active indicative of αγαπω, which means to love. This is a gnomic aorist. This means, without time, or time is not an issue.

Gave is the aorist active indicative of διδομαι. This is the word for grace. He just gave it to the whole world. Giving just depends upon something. Μονογενής which means uniquely-born; and Jesus was born o a virgin, which is unique.

John 3:16 For God so loved the world, that He gave His one and only Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish, but have eternal life.

John then does a little editorializing. God did not sent His Son into the world to judge the world, but to let the world be saved through Him.

John 3:17 For God didn't send his Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world should be saved through him.

If one believes, they are saved; if they do not, then they remained under judgment forever.

John 3:18 He who believes in Him is not judged. He who doesn't believe has been judged already, because he has not believed in the name of the only born Son of God.

The Analogy Is Explained Further

1. Believing in this verse is the counterpart to looking in the Numbers passage.
2. These are both nonmeritorious actions.
3. These are simple expressions of faith, as opposed to some meritorious work.
4. Israel simply looked at the lifted-up snake, the snake which Moses provided based upon God's Word.
5. They did nothing to be delivered from the venom which led to death. They could do nothing.
6. They were filled with venom, with injected venom, which is analogous to sin and the sin nature. This is the venom with which we are all born.
7. Even in that condition, they were saved from death by believing in Moses and lifting up their eyes. Bobby can just see this, someone writhing on the ground in pain. And Moses says, "Just life your eyes up and you will be fine."
8. They deserved death, not salvation, because they rebelled against God.
9. All mankind is depraved and dead because of sin and the sin nature. This begins with Adam, and all mankind is dead and under condemnation. No one earns or deserves to have that conviction and death sentence lifted. We do not desert to have life.
10. Just as the snake image was lifted up, so Christ was lifted up on the cross, which took away from us the death sentence. Nothing of merit can be offered up by us.

Lesson #0117

John 3: Life of Christ

6/30/2011 Thurs

The last couple verses we studied are quickly covered. There is an Old Testament analogy that Nicodemus did not understand before, but Jesus presents it in a way that he might get.

John 3:14 As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up,

John 3:15 that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

The Analogy

1. Moses lifted up the snake and Israel looked at the snake, and that was God's grace. Israel did not deserve to be delivered. They complained bitterly about God's grace. They complained that Moses brought them into the desert where there was no water and no food, even though God was providing them water and food. They had God's grace. Deliverance for the Jews is nonmeritorious. This is not a good work, to simply glance to the snake.

2. Likewise, the Son of Man is lifted up, Jesus said in John 3:14, and anyone can believe in Him for salvation.
3. The snake on the pole represents Jesus Christ on the cross. That is the imagery and the analogy, which Nicodemus is clear about now.
4. Looking at the lifted up snake image is analogous to believing in the lifted up Christ for salvation.
5. Just as merely looking up for deliverance from physical death is a nonmeritorious act of faith, so is believing in Jesus Christ for eternal deliverance a nonmeritorious act to gain salvation.
6. Looking or believing are effective for deliverance or salvation, because there is no virtue or works associated with these acts. No greatness can be ascribed to a person for believing or to looking.
7. Both deliverance for Israel and salvation for mankind is all about the grace of God, nothing else. Looking is equivalent to believing in the analogy. This so describes God doing all of the work and man receiving the work of Jesus Christ. God delivers us and saves us by His grace.

Now Jesus lays it out clearly, so that Nicodemus can understand what God is providing. We have the context perfectly. Many only understand the gospel by John 3:16 and now we understand the analogy which builds up to this point.

When God gives, it is a grace gift, which, here, is His uniquely-born Son. He gave us the second Person of the Trinity. The bronze serpent represents not perishing from a snake bite.

The symbology of the serpent is Jesus taking upon Himself the sins of all mankind; He becomes sin for us.

Jesus asks us simply to believe in Him. We are not to work for it, agonize over it, strive for it; simply believe in Him.

John 3:16

1. Whoever means anyone in the human race.
2. Another who responds to the gospel message will not perish.
3. This is the doctrine of unlimited atonement. This means that Jesus died for everyone. Jesus loved the elect and the world, the κοσμος. This is all of us, the world.
4. Everyone must respond for himself. No one is saved by association or because of ancestry. Bobby has a good ancestry, but it did not save him. No family association gets you into heaven.
5. All anyone must do is to look upon the Lord Jesus Christ. The looking analogy is so excellent, because there is nothing that you have done except to move your eyes. The worst of the worst could look. The one who complained the longest and the loudest; he could look and God would heal him.

6. Any man looks upon Christ by believing in Him. Look is equivalent to believing in the analogy.

John 3:16 For God so loved the world, that He gave His one and only Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish, but have eternal life.

Believing in Jesus is the most decisive moment of our lives.

What Does ΠΙΣΤΕΥΩ Mean?

1. To believe is an act of faith and trust.
2. Faith is a nonmeritorious system of knowing. You know something to be true by faith.
3. Faith is a conviction based upon confidence in the authority and the veracity of someone else.
4. Faith is certainty that what is unseen is real.
5. We do not see God, but we have faith and trust that He is the provider of salvation. God loved us so much that He sent His uniquely-born Son.
6. Therefore, we have assurance of our salvation through nonmeritorious faith. We have certainty.
7. Faith must have an object in which to trust. Our faith is not blind. We do not believe in something totally lacking in evidence. We have a tangible, historical object of faith. Ours is not a blind faith, as is found in evolution. Our faith is placed in Jesus Christ, Who lived, Who was observed by many, Who died physically and spiritually as our substitute, all testified to by many eyewitnesses. That is the heart of the gospel. God saves every person in exactly the same way.

How Much Faith in Jesus Does it Take? How Much Faith Are We Required to Have?

1. It takes a little more faith than no faith at all.
2. Jesus compares faith to a mustard seed, which is the smallest of seeds. Matt. 17:20 He said to them, "Because of your unbelief. For most assuredly I tell you, if you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, you will tell this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move; and nothing will be impossible for you. Everyone, at this time, in an agricultural society, knew the size of a mustard seed. With this little bit of faith, you can move a mountain from here to there. Nothing would be impossible to you.
3. The smallest amount of faith is enough to move the mountain.
4. The smallest accomplishes the greatest. That is faith.
5. A grain of faith is enough to accomplish everything.

6. That which is impossible for man to do on his own is always possible for God. We cannot provide our own salvation. That is an immovable mountain. We might as well try to push K2 in the Himalayas.

In this verse, the mountain is our condemnation. It is an immovable object; it cannot be climbed, it cannot be drilled through. We cannot get around it, under it or through it. But a minuscule amount of faith can accomplish the impossible. The Holy Spirit has taught it to us. One tiny mustard seed of faith; regeneration. This mustard seed of faith removes the condemnation. We are condemned; we are perishing.

John 3:16 For God so loved the world, that He gave His one and only Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish, but have eternal life.

Perishing is the culminative aorist of ἀπολυμη.

The Culminative Aorist and Apolumê

1. The aorist views an event in its entirety. We are perishing from birth. We are condemned from birth and therefore perishing.
2. The culminative aorist regards the action of the verb from its existing results. We look at the end result; the culmination of a lack of faith. Perishing is not just an annihilation. The culminative aorist means that this is a living, eternal doom; an unthinkable doom. In the subjunctive mood, which means perishing is not absolute; it is only a potential.
3. There is the negative μη here. Perishing is not even a potential here. The end of the whole thing is pretty bad, but the expression of the smallest amount of faith precludes even the potential of perishing. Therefore, it is not possible to perish. Once saved, always saved; so we perish not.

What stands between eternal life and perishing is one tiny bit of faith, the size of a mustard seed. The grace of God provides us the opportunity to express faith. It is part of the 39 irrevocable absolutes. The believer will have eternal life.

Faith Results in Eternal Life

1. The believer receives, at the moment of expressed faith, regeneration. This is immediate and everlasting; a possession of a new spiritual life.
2. That life is eternal.
3. This is a life that cannot be lost and it is guaranteed by this Word of God.
4. It is an eternal fellowship which, after physical death, means residence in heaven with a new resurrection body forever. One glance, as it were, is the eternal result. A good reason for the sign in the end zone John 3:16.

This is the cause for what God has done for each one of us. Why did He do this. What could cause Him to do such a thing? God so loved the world. This is God's motive. He did not have to do this. He could have left us under condemnation. He could have thrown Satan into the Lake of Fire at the moment that he sinned.

Love is a misunderstood word when it comes to God.

What Is this Incredibly, Powerful Love?

It has been defined all over the map and it is totally misunderstood.

1. Divine love is the absolute virtue and benevolence of God's thinking and actions.
2. Along with perfect righteousness and absolute justice, love is the basis of all God's actions toward mankind. God sent His Son because He loved us; and He does the greater here, in the provision of salvation; so He can certainly do the less for us in our temporal lives.

The motivation here is love, and this is an amazing love from God which is centered in the free gift from His Son. Behind this verse is the cross of Jesus Christ. The terrible price paid by Jesus Christ for our salvation. Then we begin, in only a small way, to grasp what love really means, when it is God's love. This is a love concept that Nicodemus was not used to or cognizant of. This one phrase stunned Nicodemus. This love, revealed by Christ, as in marked contrast to the pharisaical view of God. The pharisees believed that God hated sinners and He hated gentiles and that God delighted in their death and condemnation. God could only love those who were the sons of Abraham and those who kept the Law. So this shocked Nicodemus all the way down to his toes. This was a very revealing day for Nicodemus.

All of this probably occurred in less than an hour. It seems simple to us, but it is clear to Nicodemus. Jesus was expressing God's love to Nicodemus, and how He reveals Himself to man and that He went through all that He went through in His 33 years of His life. The incredible abuse that He took in the final 24 hours of His life. All of this was motivated by His love. No one earns or deserves this kind of benevolence. His justice must condemn man, and yet, John 3:16 tells us that God so loved the world.

Lesson #0118

4th of July Message

7/3/2011 1Sunday

Inalienable rights to all, as in freedom, and to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their said powers from the people. When a government abuses its position, it is the right of the people to remove it. Abraham Lincoln: "We are conceived in liberty."

With dependence upon divine Providence, we mutually pledge our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor. Freedom was more important than their financial security or even than their own lives. It took 5 years of war in order to make this document a reality. Today, this is our heritage. May we guard our liberty with the firm understanding that it can be lost. There are always enemies, foreign and domestic, who would deprive us of our divine endowment of our liberty. History is taught in schools for this reason, so that we understand what has gone before.

The founding fathers knew our history, and they recorded the tyranny of King George. We appeal to the supreme court of heaven, and we solemnly publish that this colonies ought to be free and independent states.

We are allowed the exercise of our own free will, without infringing upon the liberty of others. With freedom, the decisions which people make are truly their own. In order not to abuse this freedom, people must take responsibility for their own actions and their own choices. They must be prepared to take the outcome.

Freedom is to fail or to succeed. Truly free decisions and actions always produce a variety of results. Some will succeed and some will fail. The blessings of freedom guarantee equality of results. Freedom provides equality of opportunity but not equality of results. Without the intrusion of others and excessive government regulations, the rule of law protects individual rights and the equality of opportunity rather than imposing equality of results. Equality of results means that everyone must receive approximately what everyone else has. A safety net, below which no one is allowed to fall; and also a ceiling above which no one can rise. The safety net is welfare and the ceiling is repressive taxation. The success of some must be limited in order to make up for the failures of others to achieve equality of results. The results must be dictated, under a repressive regime. That is the premise of Marxist socialism. This is the ideology that some embrace for this country. The real consequence is slavery. Enslavement to government is the consequence for those who abandon individual freedom for the deceptive equality of results.

Those who have the authority over us, must support the equality of opportunity, for all to flourish or to falter. But not to coerce equality of results.

Social engineering, certain social elites dictate the equality of results by depriving some individuals the full range of their success or failures. Hence, class warfare is inflamed. These arrogant leaders see themselves as more qualified, better informed and with better ideas, to trample individual freedoms in order to gain that level playing field. They are willing to lie to achieve their collective goals. Many people today accept that utopian nonsense, replacing divine promises with human promises; and thereby they forfeit their freedoms. Their desire for security devolves to slavery and dependence. Total dependency upon government is not individual freedom, but it is slavery. They will relieve themselves of their freedom so that government can regulate their lives. Remove the sting of bad choices or difficult circumstances. They feel entitled to equal results in favor of a false security. In accept the lie of socialism, the loss of freedom is inevitable.

To halt this deception and to halt this movement, we must recognize an emerging tyrant by his words and by his actions. He promises to level the economic field for all. He will confiscate the wealth of the successful and redistribute this wealth to the downtrodden, to the oppressed. It sounds just and charitable, but it is anti-freedom. It results in slavery to those who dictate the results. The tyrant will tax and regulate capitalism out of existence, because capitalism produces inequality. He will seek to control the means of economics to achieve equal results. He will endeavor to provide the workers' paradise, removing most personal responsibility, and provides unstable entitlements. These entitlements are not set in stone, and they can be easily lost.

In the past, patriotism, morality and individual sacrifice have characterized the American way of life. Today, such qualities are fading; multitudes of people have no clearly defined objectives in life other than self-gratification and self-aggrandizement. They are relativists who have no standards to be held to.

Spiritual and moral decline, which sow the seeds of slavery and destruction. Hosea 4:1–3 The Lord has a case against the inhabitants of the land: "Indeed there is no truth, Nor goodness, Nor knowledge of God in the land. There is cursing, lying, murder, stealing, and committing adultery; They break boundaries, and bloodshed causes bloodshed. Therefore the land will mourn, And everyone who dwells therein will waste away. All living things in her, Even the animals of the field and the birds of the sky; Yes, the fish of the sea also die.

As believers in Jesus Christ, we have the only true freedom, of which we can never be dispossessed. We will know the truth and the truth will make us free. Inscribed on the tower at UT. The truth here is not secular. This is an eternal endowment of freedom regardless of exterior circumstances. The truth of Bible doctrine is the only true freedom; the only freedom that is permanent. No one can suppress it and no one can remove it. Freedom in a nation can be removed. People can give up the endowment of freedom. Spiritual freedom is needed to execute the spiritual life. We are free to execute the spiritual life no matter where we live, in national freedom or under tyranny. The church has faced all kinds of tyranny. There have been murders and terrorism in various and sundry ways, but they never lost their spiritual freedom. Paul's freedom continued even in jail. Being behind bars is not the loss of freedom if you are a believer in Jesus Christ. There are millions of believers in China who are not free, but they have freedom in their souls. Freedom is endowed by God. Freedom comes from God. Mankind can give freedom and man can take it away, when it comes to temporal freedom. But spiritual freedom is the heritage of the new birth, of regeneration. Anyone who hears the gospel message hears the truth of spiritual freedom. Faith alone in Christ alone is freedom from the worst tyranny of all; the bondage of sin and death; freedom given to us by the filling of the Holy Spirit; freedom of the 39 irrevocable assets. Freedom to make our own decisions before the Lord. Freedom to participate in God's great grace. The benefits guaranteed by the only real utopia. Regeneration is the door to spiritual freedom. It is what we are actually studying in John 3, and related to our celebration of freedom. It is worth is to spend time thanking the Lord for our freedom.

Lesson #0119 John 3:16–18 Gal. 5:13 Life of Christ 7/3/2011 2Sunday

Freedom and national freedom and the blessings of national freedom and the dangers of losing that freedom.

True freedom is through the door of Jesus Christ. Nicodemus came at night and wanted to speak to Jesus about what he had seen and heard. And Jesus tells him, "You must be born again." Then Jesus took him from here to John 3:16.

John makes this an editorial comment after Jesus gives Nicodemus the gospel. God gave a grace gift, His uniquely-born Son. The only One born without a father and without a sin nature. The pay off is, whoever believes in Him will not perish but have eternal life.

John 3:16 For God so loved the world, that He gave His one and only Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish, but have eternal life.

John 3:17 For God didn't send his Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world should be saved through him.

The only reason one will end up in the Lake of Fire is, they chose never to believe in Jesus Christ. God's grace and His justice demands that everyone have the opportunity to believe in Him. Believe or not believe; an individual circumstance or responsibility. The grace of God trumps all. This is the way of spiritual freedom. This is the gift of spiritual freedom for all mankind.

John 3:18 He who believes in Him is not judged. He who doesn't believe has been judged already, because he has not believed in the name of the only born Son of God.

Gal. 5:13 For you, brothers, were called for freedom. Only don't use your freedom for gain to the flesh, but through love be servants to one another.

Believers in that era were persecuted all over the Roman empire. They had believed in the Lord Jesus Christ and they were made free. Only do not turn your freedom into an opportunity to the flesh. Do not turn to the slavery of legalism. You were saved by grace; do not depart from grace. Grace is freedom from the prison of legalism. Through love, serve one another. In freedom, a believer chooses to serve someone else rather than themselves. A special kind of love; the highest form of love. A free choice to sacrifice oneself to serve the Lord rather than to serve one's own desires. God is the author of our freedom.

No one earns or deserves God's grace. We disgust God. We are not born under God's favor. He cannot stand us. His justice can do but one thing: condemn us. We are condemned already. God expresses absolute benevolence. He bestows it upon all mankind through the Person of His Son.

Nicodemus hears this and he is in shock. This is in marked contrast to the pharisees. Their love is much different. God hated sinners, which was true to a point. God delighted in their death, not in their salvation. To the pharisees, God could only love those descended from Abraham. He could only love those who kept the Law. This is not true righteousness, but the approach to righteousness of the pharisees. So Nicodemus was surprised by this disclosure. Nicodemus was not the issue and his works were not the issue; but it was all about God. Nicodemus was proud of himself; he was proud of his heritage and proud of his ability to keep the Law. But this is a complete departure from what Nicodemus understood.

Man, like Nicodemus and the pharisees, humanizes God. Man equates divine love with human love. God's love must be like my love. He assigns to God his own emotional and subjective feelings and values. God's love is incomparable and His love is never man's love. We cannot simply compare Him to ourselves. You cannot find God by finding yourself.

There are parallels to God's love in human life. For instance, the father who provides for his son and for his family day in and day out, regardless of how he feels at that moment.

We need to understand God first, and see ourselves from His view. Sinners, apart from God, are lost. You want to be able to explain evil, to explain what happened to man throughout history. We are not getting better. We are just the same as Adam when he fell; we are unable to create a utopian society. The only utopian society is the one where sin natures are taken care of. The resurrection body in heaven is utopia. There is not utopia on earth, apart from the Millennium. Only God can provide such a thing; rather than man.

You start by understanding God and His grace first. We learn Who God is. His love is unchangeable, it is not sentimental or emotional; it is not impassioned, as our love can be. It is neither up nor down. It does not wain and it does not wax. God does not fall in love like we fall in love. God is love. It is His very essence. It is a part of His character; it is an attribute of God. It is not personal love as we understand love between humans. We understand it to be attraction. We do not love those that we find repulsive, or have done evil against us. God's love is toward those who are obscene to Him; God's love is toward a fallen man, and an essence which offends God's justice. Man, as a sinner, has no worth and no value to God. No love from God emanates to man's sinfulness.

Personal Love

1. Personal love is that which a person feels toward his spouse, family, gf.
2. That love is centered on an object, an object which is attractive to a person.
3. Love grows because one person grows in value to another person. The more you appreciate their character, the more your love grows.
4. So human personal love grows in the sense of increasing knowledge and affection. God's love does not increase and it does not change.
5. Human, personal love is flawed because it can wain, increase or even be lost.
6. Human love can be based upon false assumptions and promises; we can be hoodwinked in love. It is flawed.
7. Love can decrease and can be lost when the value of another person diminishes or disappears. That is human love's weakness. God's love is the opposite.
8. Human love can remain relatively constant in some cases. That is based upon the person who loves; who is more than self-aggrandizement, self-centeredness, and self-gratification. The person must have integrity. However, there are still emotional highs and lows. Things can get a little dicey when emotions run high. That is not God's love.

God's Love

1. God's love does not increase or decrease; it does not have highs and lows. We are loved the same way from beginning to end.
2. This is amazing when we realize that God sees no virtue and no merit in sinful man. We are not attractive to God as a sinner. A baby comes from the womb, and God hates that baby (100 people left the church when Bob taught that). God does not see babies the same way that we do. They are born spiritually dead.
3. His love for man is so overwhelming and ceaseless and changeless, that God willingly sacrificed His most precious relationship for us. That is how we can begin to define God's love. John 3:16 gives us a clue as to what God's love is all the most. Would you sacrifice the one you love the most for the one you hate the most?
4. He loved us so much that He sent His Beloved Son, God Incarnate, to die. We deserve nothing less than total condemnation by God.
5. There is no greater or more powerful love that exists than God's love. It is beyond anything that we can comprehend. In Romans, God demonstrates His love toward us, in that, Christ died for us.
6. What kind of love causes God to do this? Sinful creatures who have no real love.
7. This is called impersonal love. God loves personally those who are believers. However, our subject is impersonal love.
8. It is not personal love that Jesus is speaking of. Nicodemus is not a believer and he is not regenerate. The extension of God's attribute of love and this impersonal love can be easily misunderstood.

Impersonal Love

1. Impersonal love does not mean without reference to a person.
2. God's love is constant, unchanging, ceaseless and applies to all of us. God loves all people, not matter how sinful, as much as anyone else. God sent His Son to die for us.
3. He sent His Son to die for us, who are valueless and worthless to Him. Jesus was sent to all mankind and we are all born in spiritual death. We come to this in spiritual death and we have Adam's fallen nature. Adam's original sin is imputed to every person at the moment of birth, which is a death sentence. In Adam, all die. This maxim applies to all of us. In spite of this, God is able to love all mankind and offer all of us salvation. This is actually the most powerful of all love. Impersonal love defines how God loves sinful man. This is not expressionless; this does not mean that God's love is devoid of compassion or mercy or care. God's love is the very essence of compassion, mercy and care. God's grace stands between us, and hell and heaven. That is the absolute in compassion and care. God loves us and cares for us and shows us the greatest mercy and grace; He died so that we will not perish but have eternal life.

John 3:16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

John 3:16 is an extremely simple verse. However, people strain to be saved and they come up with the most difficult things to be saved. It cannot get any simpler than this, but, for some people, it is too simple; this is easy-believism, as some say. What is behind this verse is complex theology.

Tonight, we will focus on “God so loved the world, that...” which defines God’s very reason for saving us. Love is something that almost everyone has a definition for, and it is one of the most used and abused words in the English language or in any language. This is God’s love, which is even more misunderstood.

That is the main clause; the major idea. It is a very simple main clause. God is the subject; the verb of the main clause is the aorist active indicative of agapaō. It is God Who loves. There is an object, which is Greek word κόσμος. Correctly translated world. The world here is all mankind. This gives us unlimited atonement in this phrase. This is not an easy statement. God loves all mankind. There is something else here that further describes God’s love.

There is a subordinate clause introduced by a coordinating conjunction οστε. This connects the main and subordinate clauses.

The Grammatical Structure

1. For God so loved the world is the main clause; and then comes that followed by the subordinate clause.
2. Because οστε is used, it connects the two clauses; it is grammatically clear that the subordinate clause is a result clause.
3. That additional action, the subordinate action, which follows from the action of the main verb, which is to love; in other words, the subordinate clause is the result of the main verb.
4. Therefore, translating the main clause with the coordinating conjunction; God loved the world, so that He gave [or, with the result that]
5. The result of God’s love is the gift of all kind, His uniquely-born Son.
6. God loved the world so much, with the result that He gave His uniquely-born Son. He loved mankind so much that He gave the most precious and important thing that He could give.
7. Therefore, the gift of the Son is the result of God’s love.
8. In order to have a result, there must be a cause. Cause and result must go together.
9. In v. 16 the result is the grace gift of God to mankind.
10. The cause of that gift is God’s love, the main verb. This is the cause, reason or motive.

11. Love is the cause or reason or motive of God sending His Son.

Bobby is going to build concept upon concept, which will explain where our salvation comes from.

The Motive and the Result

1. God's love expresses the highest form of grace. Grace is the gift of God's Son to man.
2. That connects the motivation with the action.
3. In other words, the motive of God's love results in the grace gift. Love is the motive and grace is the result.
4. The motive behind our salvation is God's love. This is complex theology behind this.
5. This is what is our salvation opportunity; because God loves us.

This is not personal love. Personal love requires merit and value; but we are not meritorious to God. We are born spiritually dead. Mankind can only be condemned by God. John 3:16 tells us that God does love us, despite our condition and our total lack of merit. This is applied to every person who has ever lived. The worst person in the world, this applies to. Jesus died for Mohammed, for Buddha, etc. God's love as given in John 3:16 is directly to the unlovely and the virtue-less. In the eyes of God, we are all the same; we are all in total depravity. If you understand God's holiness, then you know the greatest person in the world is no different before God than the worst person you can think of.

God's Love in its Relationship to us

1. God takes that which is absolutely abhorrent to Him, because we are born with a sin nature and with imputed sin. God expresses an unfailing love toward the disgusting object, which is mankind.
2. This can only happen because God's love depends upon His character. It depends upon the character of the person who does the loving.
3. The focus in impersonal love is on the character of God, not upon the worthiness of the object, sinful man, who is completely unworthy. This is how God is able to love that which is unlovely.
4. God's character cannot be compromised in any way. So how can He love something sinful and not be compromised.
5. In dealing with mankind, God cannot express love without His perfect righteousness and justice playing a part.
6. These attributes guard God's love from compromise with sin. Thereby, they allow the expression of His love without conceding any of his perfection. That is the problem with impersonal love. God is not imperfect.
7. Love can never be separated from God's righteousness or justice. Mankind is never dealt with in love alone. So many people talk about a loving God, but they have no clue as to how this can be done. His love never operates apart from His full essence. People are fouled up about God because they want to focus upon one attribute. You cannot understand God if you focus only upon one attribute. You must always think of it in connection with other attributes. God cannot love mankind apart from His justice and righteousness.

The Unfailing Love of God tells us how this all works.

Impersonal Love

1. God's impersonal love is the very essence of compassion, mercy and care for us.
2. His impersonal love is absolute benevolence when exactly the opposite is justified from God.
3. His justice condemns us; it must; but God is still love. Impersonal love works even as we are condemned. His love is still in operation.
4. Condemnation precedes God's gracious work of salvation.
5. That is how impersonal love operates along side His integrity, righteousness and justice.
6. Impersonal love is total concern for the welfare of and the provision for all of God's human creatures.
7. Impersonal love is God's eternal giving of Himself to fallen mankind. That is what is behind John 3:16
8. That is the essence of grace, the greatest gift of His Son.
9. Impersonal love continuously seeks us in spite of our rejection of the very One Who offers such benevolence. That is the constant expression of love through grace. This always seeks us; it never stops.
10. Impersonal love is as inherent to God as it is alien to the human race. This is unique to God; there is no love like this from no one else.

This needs to be understood in terms of God's plan. Divine impersonal love is not within our capabilities. Some people can understand that which they have some capability of doing. It is impossible for us to identify this matchless love in this life. We should be able to understand How it operates in life.

John 3:16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

1John 4:10 In this is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son as the atoning sacrifice for our sins.

Our love works it up for one another. Someone loves us a little more and we love them back a little more. God cannot love us because we love Him. He loves us so much that He provides us His Son.

God's Impersonal Love

1. God's impersonal love sent His Son, but now we know why He sent His Son. He would receive what we deserve; His wrath.
2. God's integrity demands that sin be punished.
3. His righteousness demands that sin be dealt with in a just way. God's justice is perfect; we cannot wriggle out with a good lawyer.
4. God's impersonal love contemplated man in His misery and need of salvation. God knew we were condemned. We are all under the death penalty. God looked at us in our total misery. His impersonal love caused Him to meet our need.
- 5.
6. In grace, God acted to meet the demands of His Own justice. Only God can meet the demands of His perfect justice. We all fall short. We are imperfect. We cannot meet His demands.
7. God is able to do this because He loved the world so much that He sent His Son. Jesus Christ became our substitute in order to fully fulfill His justice. We are on the docket, deserving of death. My Son is condemned for you; this is what saves us. We miss the blow torch; he gets it.
8. The Lord Jesus Christ became the propitiation for our sins.
9. Propitiation is the work of God through the substitutionary spiritual death of Christ whereby the just wrath of God is satisfied regarding the sins of mankind. This work is caused by His impersonal love. Righteousness, justice and love all working together. All are fully expressed in the crucifixion of God the Son. Where justice meets and imputes the sins of mankind.

Any other kind of love pales by comparison. His impersonal love is the basis and the cause for sending His Son for our salvation.

Rom 5:8 But God commends his own love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

Are you willing to die for someone that you cannot stand. Are you willing to stand in the box of the worst condemned criminal there is? Jesus is willing, even though we are miserable sinners. He made the greatest sacrifice on our behalf.

Because of His righteousness, God cannot love sin, and we are all about sin. We have no way to reconcile the enmity between us and God.

Why God Cannot Personally Love us

1. For God to personally love us in the condition in which we are born is not possible. Such personal love is impossible.
2. If we are the objects of His personal love, then God would also have to love the sin that is in us. We would be the object of some merit, but we have no merit.
3. Personal love would violate His perfect righteousness and justice.

4. God would not be God if He violated His attribute of righteousness. That is what makes personal love toward us sinners impossible.
5. God cannot favor love over justice and righteousness; that would compromise His character.
6. The perfection of His Person would be conceded to love. If God loves us personally, then He must love the sin in us.
7. Personal love of sinners means that absolute righteousness would be compromised.
8. Should God favor love in this way, He would be relative, like us. God can never make right wrong or wrong right. This would mean that His omnipotence would violate His righteousness this is the only motive that He can have for sending His Son.

Lesson #0121

John 3:16 Life of Christ

7/7/2011 Thurs

John 3:16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

The cost we will never fully comprehend of God sending His Son until, perhaps, we are in heaven.

Bobby has been thinking about the Lake of Fire. We have all burned ourselves and seen those with burns all over. It is almost beyond comprehension. No way anyone would want to spend 10 min. there; let alone eternity.

The Lake of Fire was developed for Satan and his angels, all of whom rejected God. Those who reject God will join Satan. What stands between us and the unthinkable is 6 hours on the cross. This is what have of v. 16 says.

Another subordinating clause with a coordinating conjunction. Hote was the first coordinating conjunction. The second coordinating conjunction is hina. This with the participle of πιστευω. The verb εχω in the subjunctive. What follows is a subordinate purpose clause. The function of a purpose clause is to express the goal or intent of the main verb. Hina = in order that, for the purpose that. Whoever believes in Him will not perish. So many believe that there is nothing after death. Perish means the Lake of Fire. God graciously sent His Son, motivated by His impersonal love, motivated for man's salvation through faith alone in Christ alone. Love is God's motive, the cause of all that He does for us. The result of that love is sending His uniquely-born Son of God Jesus Christ. The purpose of God's love is man's eternal life through faith alone in Christ alone. One main clause and 2 subordinate clauses of plan and purpose.

There are several soteriological doctrines which are behind this. The doctrine behind the motive for our salvation. It is the doctrine of God's impersonal love. Divine impersonal love. This is the key to the grace gift of God's Son.

We are hopelessly lost; hopelessly mired in sin. God's perfect righteousness rejects all sin and the sinner. That is spiritual death.

Impersonal Love Summary

1. Impersonal love depends solely on the integrity of the subject, which is, in this case, God. Impersonal love does not depend upon the object.
2. God cannot love sin and He cannot love the sinner personally. The object of that love has some merit. We have no merit to God. We have no personal association with God, as Adam and Even did before the fall. They had a personal relationship with them on a daily basis.
3. Impersonal love cannot depend on the merit of the object; it cannot depend upon the merit of the sinner. In God's eyes, every person is foul and repugnant from the moment that we are born. Such a one violates the integrity of God. God cannot overlook sin; He cannot personally love the sinner.
4. His impersonal love is directed toward His Own merit, which is His perfect righteousness. It is not directed toward relative righteousness.
- 5.
6. Impersonal love motivated God to send His Son. God loves His Son personally because of His personal righteousness. We cannot fully understand that relationship between Father and Son, although there is a dim analogy between a human father and son. The love of God never wavered from His son except for a 6 hour period when He was on the cross. God sent His Son because of the benevolence in His Own character. All of them have the same essence.
7. The sacrifice of God's Son demonstrates His impersonal love. Rom. 5:8 This preserves His personal integrity and solves the problem of sin in mankind.
8. The perfect righteousness and justice of God are satisfied (propitiated) at the cross. The justice and righteousness of God can never be satisfied in direct relationship to us.
9. The impersonal love of God is demonstrated in the salvation offered to mankind through the substitutionary atonement of His Son. The Amazing Grace is all about God the Father and God the Son. It is the grace of God, the epitome of grace.
10. Grace is the expression of the impersonal love of God. It is all based upon God's character. Based upon impersonal love, God provides for an intimate association of Himself and sinful man.
11. Divine impersonal love is the benevolent expression of God's grace in relation to sinful mankind without accepting or overlooking man's sins. God cannot over look these faults, although we do in personal love relationships. It is based upon God's character and His character alone.
12. Impersonal love is governed by the integrity of God. Thus toward man, God's love cannot be dependent upon the object. God's love cannot be object oriented. God's impersonal love cannot be directed toward the... Impersonal love must operate within the confines of the character of God, always. That is how we are saved.

Final Summary of Impersonal Love.

1. God's impersonal love is subject-oriented; not object-oriented. God impersonal love is directed toward us because He carries the merit.
2. God loves His Own perfect righteousness and justice. He does not love man's sinfulness. John 3:16 is directed toward all unbelievers. The subject of impersonal love. There are many professors who do not understand this. If you truly understand this, you know a tremendous amount about God. We are taking groups of basic doctrines and understanding God and His salvation work. This is the heaviest of all subjects.
3. His impersonal love toward man is expressed by the Father sending the Lord Jesus Christ, the One with His very Own perfect righteousness.
4. Jesus Christ came to propitiate our sin. He satisfies the righteousness of God; the righteousness of God has found us lacking; the justice of God has condemned us. This way, the Father's perfect righteousness can be satisfied and not compromise.
5. The Father's impersonal love is also expressed in reconciling through His Son, the extreme hostility between Himself and man. God cannot abide any of it. So He reconciles that hostility by the substitutionary punishment of His Son.
6. His impersonal love caused Him to redeem mankind. God's impersonal love caused Him to redeem man, to pay the price of His Son to remove man from the slave market of sin, from the power of sin and death. There was nothing that we did to deserve it.
7. God's impersonal love was His motive to atone for the sins of all mankind for His Son.
8. God's impersonal love was expressed in the sacrifice of the Lord Jesus Christ. This is also the meaning of John 3:17-18

John 3:16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his one and only Son, [in order] that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

In Adam, all die. The only perfect man; the only one. We genetically acquired the imputed sin from Adam. Adam was not a part of the procreational process of the Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ is the only one to come into the world apart from sin.

John 3:17 For God didn't send his Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world should be saved through him.

We are already judged, but this refers to a later judgment which all unbelievers face after death. The grace and the impersonal love of God which removes that condemnation.

The one born into sin, and remains in rebellion in God, stands judged from birth all the way to eternity.

John 3:18 He who believes in him is not judged. He who doesn't believe has been judged already, because he has not believed in the name of the only born Son of God.

Once a person accepts the free gift; once he accepts the uniquely-born Son of God, then God is free to love him personally. After we accept Jesus's substitutionary death on the cross, we are no longer spiritually dead. One thing makes us the object of God's personal love. There is a shift from impersonal love to personal love. We are justified. God justifies us, one of the 39 absolutes which we receive at salvation.

Justification is an act of God's grace whereby we are made righteous in His sight. His righteousness is given to all those who believe in Him. We have His righteousness. This is a legal or forensic declaration. Christ satisfied the righteousness of God. God removed the barriers.

Closing Points

1. We believe in Christ.
2. We are made righteous in His sight.
3. God recognizes this righteousness in us and declares us justified.
4. This declaration of righteousness is made possible because the Lord Jesus Christ propitiated the righteousness and justice of God on the cross.

Final Points

1. God does not personally love sin anywhere, including in believers.
2. God loves His righteousness anywhere it is found.
- 3.
4. He is not compromised in His personal relationship with believers, even though we still have a sin nature and we sin.
5. He loves us as members of His family. However, that love is based upon His merit imputed to us; not in any merit of our own. Even when we are saved, it is His merit.
6. Since His personal love is directed toward His perfect righteousness in us.
7. Therefore, His personal love has affinity for the object whereas, before, it did not. There is attraction and value in us because we are justified.
8. God's personal love, finding value in His perfect righteousness in us, then initiates a perfect, eternal relationship, which is constant, changeless and without compromise. This is why we will not spend a millisecond in the Lake of Fire. That is our God.

Lesson #0122 Communion John 3:16 Life of Christ 7/10/2011 1Sunday

Communion Sunday:

Just at the right time in history, God humbled Himself, taking on Himself the blood and flesh of a man. In His humanity, He was without spot or blemished, separating Him from the holiest men who have ever lived.

Jesus Christ is distinctive. All that He did was testified to in public by thousands of people. The 1st advent was the greatest event in human history. With His coming, the Messiah of Israel had arrived. The same God Who dwelt with Israel, as a cloud by day and a pillar by night, in the Tabernacle and in the Temple; He now walked among the Jews.

Mark 1 tells us that Jesus began teaching in Galilee and the time was fulfilled, and the Kingdom of God was at hand, and His message was, "Repent and believe in the gospel." Jesus Christ was saying just what John the Baptizer said.

His miracles were signs of His truth and the credentials of His person. They authenticated Him as Messiah and they validated His message and the authority of His message.

Jesus acted and spoke with unquestionable authority, even though many did question it. Yet, Israel rejected Him as their king. The cross had to come before the crown. The rejection by Christ by His Own people was the benefit to all mankind; cursing was turned to blessing. He uttered the true and authoritative Word of God. "Heaven and earth will pass away, but My Words will not pass away." His Words were the very words of God. He was the Living Word, the Man that all men had to come to know. Only God could forgive sins. Mark 2:10–11 But so that you may know that the Son of Man has authority upon earth to forgive sins, He said to the paralytic, "I say to you, Arise, and take up your cot, and go to your house."

The miracles which He performed were fantastic, but nothing in comparison to the healing which He accomplished on the cross. This renders all men savable. The universe as we know it now will be destroyed, but it will be restored as well. Also, through the substitutionary death of Christ, He freed us from the slave market of sin. The results includes deliverance from the obligation and the curse of the Law. The pharisees did not understand this, as they tried to keep the Law in order to be saved. Jesus Christ was both the Messenger and the Message, of hope and confidence; the true prophet, priest and king. He was the salvation for all mankind, and the guarantee of the Kingdom to come.

Christ as priest: the purpose of the Levitical priesthood was to teach Israel about the redemption and propitiation. All of the ritual sacrifices looked forward to the true event to come.

There was the requirement of the shedding of blood; the requirement of the innocent substitutionary sacrifice. All of this symbolized the Lamb of God, Who would someday make the real sacrifice.

Salvation was in the Old Testament, throughout the Old Testament, redemption, substitutionary sacrifices; and the Levitical priesthood could illustrate but not accomplish what Jesus did.

The divine priesthood is realized in the Person of Jesus Christ, Who was a priest after the order of Melchizedek. Jesus is both Priest and King forever and ever.

Our Lord's sacrifice was once for all time for all mankind, and not to be repeated. He took His sins upon Himself in His Own body on the cross. He suffered separation from God, even though He had no sin nature and no sin. He was perfectly righteous and perfectly righteous substitute, standing in for the unrighteous sinner.

In Jesus we have unlimited atonement foreshadowed in the Old Testament. Our Lord is unique and sinless and the only go-between between man and God. Our only Mediator. We have been sacrificed by the body of the offering of Jesus Christ, one time, one offering, for all time, He has perfected those who have been sanctified.

There is no need in our age for a separate priesthood; we are our own priests. There is no comparison and there is no repetition.

There is doctrine behind all that we understand. Propitiation is the critical doctrine behind our Lord's sacrifice for sins.

Perfect righteousness requires that our sins be dealt with in a just way. We all are in a miserable lost condition.

Through Christ, God can forgive sins without compromising His Own integrity. We do not deserve it, but we have it. Our Lord places Himself between God and man; His righteousness stands for us. He took for us our punishment, making the greatest offering that can be made for us. How could we owe anyone any more.

John 3:16 For God so loved the world, that he gave his one and only Son, [in order] that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

The communion information is what is behind this simple statement of John 3:16–18.

Nicodemus was the questioner and Jesus Christ gave Nicodemus a personal invitation to accept this grace gift, to be born again, to be regenerated. There is no other way that anyone else would be able to enter into the Kingdom of God. This invitation to Nicodemus is open to all mankind. These 3 verses speak of a universal overture and gift to the entire world.

We will then pick up with the next increment of our Lord's life.

Lesson #0123

John 3:22–24 Life of Christ

7/10/2011 2Sunday

these verses are being skipped over:

John 3:19 This is the judgment, that the light has come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the light; for their works were evil.

John 3:20 For everyone who does evil hates the light, and doesn't come to the light, lest his works would be exposed.

John 3:21 But he who does the truth comes to the light, that his works may be revealed, that they have been done in God."

Jesus left abruptly and went into a baptismal ministry by the Jordan.

It seems that there was plotting going on with the pharisees by this time, upset over all that Jesus had done during holy week. So Jesus left.

Jesus was a threat to these religious leaders; He terrorized them, in fact. If Jesus actually ascended to the throne, what would happen to the pharisees? To their thinking the wrath of Rome would come down upon them and crush their little world. No matter how many legions it would take, Rome would come in and destroy them. These religious figures did not know He is God Incarnate, so they use human viewpoint. They were only concerned with their own human power and approbation.

Jesus revealed them and their corruption, and He did this right in the Temple, revealing just how greedy they were. He challenged them right in the Temple and their profiteering from the sale of animals.

There is the problem with what the animals were to represent. When animal sacrifices were offered, they were to come from the offerers' own flock; and those who were poor, they had ways to making this work.

Even in religion today is all about religion and power. Religion which must rule the world and those who get in the way must die.

So Jesus left Jerusalem. He was not afraid of them. He left because His time to die had not yet come. It was not yet the right time. He had many things to do and many doctrines to teach before consummating His work on the cross.

His disciples were ignorant men, and they needed to be prepared. The epistles and gospels written by these disciples were the result of the concentrated teaching which they received.

The problem with cults is, they do not teach the Bible, but they teach that which is extra-Biblical. Move away from the Bible means, you move into apostasy every time.

Our Lord had things to do. He had to train His disciples and He had to move away from the fulfillment of the Kingdom, which would not be fulfilled in the 1st advent.

John would write all about the 2nd advent in the book of Revelation. The promise would be fulfilled...even though their King would be disciplined.

Jesus is out in Judæa for about 8 months. He and John had a parallel ministry, both proclaiming the same message. There was the need for repentance. They both called for man to change their minds. People at that time had minds distorted by phariseical religion. They were both baptizing converts. Jesus did not baptize, but His disciples did this (John 4:1).

This is how Jesus taught them. He was explaining the doctrines which He had just proclaimed in Jerusalem. The disciples were confused and uncertain about all that He taught. They were followers of Jesus, and yet they did not understand all that Jesus was teaching them in Jerusalem.

The baptism illustrated things like the washing of regeneration.

We are similarly training for the same thing; our spiritual life. The disciples were being trained for the rest of their lives just as we are being trained for the rest of our lives.

John's ministry had to come to an end. Just as R. B. Thieme, Jr. stepped down from the pulpit in 2003. At some point, Bobby's ministry will be over and someone else will take his place. Jesus Christ provides for that. We will not be left without. That is guaranteed.

John's ministry was winding down, even though there were large crowds following him. Jesus was the real thing and John was the forerunner.

John 3:22 After these things, Jesus came with his disciples into the land of Judea. He stayed there with them, and baptized.

John continued to baptize, and he baptized because there was a lot of water there. He was not sprinkling; he was dunking. John required for his baptism pure running water for the ritual. Stagnate pools of water are not suitable for baptism. He needed clean, running water. The continuous flow of water allowed for this. Obviously, this was for sanitation and also for the correct teaching of us being made clean in our baptism.

John and Jesus were washing as an illustrating and also explaining the reality behind it all. This was also a picture of repentance as well as of cleansing. The pharisees were aware that John needed this water. This was a ritual purification which paralleled the cleansing as a part of Judaism, which had become a legal requirement. It was the Law, so we do it.

John 3:23 John also was baptizing in Enon near Salim, because there was much water there. They came, and were baptized.

John 3:24 For John was not yet thrown into prison.

The pharisees connected the purity illustration that John did to the purification that they were offering. Their thinking did not offer up the true doctrine of purification. John was sticking with Bible doctrine as he understood it.

Legalism always wars against grace. Some ritual. A verbal battle was being waged over John's ritual for reality. In the eyes of the pharisees, there was a competition here for bodies, and, therefore, for money. The Jews considered themselves as the ones in charge, and cleansing rituals was their prerogative. No one out in the desert was going to make the claim of cleansing anyone.

For the pharisees, it is all about their works. They had a power problem. There was not a problem with doctrine, but with power and control. All these people followed after John and Jesus, and this took from their monopoly. They had many meetings determining just how they could put a stop to John's ministry and to Jesus' ministry. The pharisees were like a hornets' nest that someone through a rock at. Jesus poked at this yellow jacket nest and it drove them nuts.

The pharisees send a great debator to have a discussion with John's disciples.

John 3:25 There arose therefore a questioning on the part of John's disciples with some Jews about purification.

Lesson #0124

Titus 3:5 John 3:25 Life of Christ

7/13/2011 Wed

Bobby's old platoon sergeant got in touch with him; Sergeant Stephen Mattoon was the best soldier that Bobby knew and did a great job in training Bobby, and he learned practical leadership from him. Bobby knew book leadership. He was an airborne ranger. He told Bobby to google his name. Involved in special ops and special forces. This is one of the most important arms of our services. They are involved in a lot of the fighting in Afghanistan.

24th of July, he will speak in the second service. We are a nation at war, even though it does not affect us individually very much.

From the very beginning of John the Baptizer's ministry, when he was the herald of the Lord Jesus Christ, the pharisees were there. They went out into the wilderness, heard about him, and they listened to him speak. Anytime there was a speaker like this, the pharisees wanted to monitor what was going on. They were not seeking truth; they did not believe his message; they had not repented about the Messiah. They mostly wanted to keep track of him, and they understood Whom he was announcing.

Also, this was not the first time that there was a claimant to a Messiah-ship. Many Jews today don't believe that there will every be a Messiah. The pharisees were probably of the same ilk.

They understood immediately that Jesus was the man John was announcing. All of this took place outside of Jerusalem, and did not affect them much. However, they were getting whipped and they did not like it. Jesus was in their face, exposing their hypocrisy and their apostasy.

The pharisees were quite upset at this young upstart. They began to actively plot to get rid of Jesus and His followers.

Jesus left Jerusalem, and it was not yet His time to die; and the Holy Spirit led Him. He went out to the wilderness in Judea, and His ministry paralleled that of John the Baptizer's. The messages were the same; the need for repentance; and the offer of the kingdom, which was now present because the King was here. They were preaching the same message.

A herald is an important aspect of Jesus' ministry, because he is an independent witness. A false Messiah would be unlikely to have a herald.

There was a plot among the pharisees to get rid of both of these men.

The pharisees were going to make an issue out of the baptism which was being done. They would use the ritual of purification to discredit the baptisms of John and of Jesus Christ. For them the purification rites were simply legal requirements; the purpose was to make those who were unclean clean. It was accomplished only as a ritual; it was just a religious practice. There was not real meaning beyond the fact that the Law told them to do it. This was law keeping to be righteous. These rites had nothing to do with being related to truth; they had nothing to do with Jesus Christ. This whole pharisaical plot was not about theology, doctrine or purification; it was a ruse so that they could take power back from John and Jesus, both of whom attracted very large crowds.

They had an extravagant lifestyle and they were well-respected; and they did not want to lose this status.

This Jew was very knowledgeable and he was able to get into debates and relished that. He approached the disciples of John and he did so in order to stir up a controversy. They did this sort of thing all the time.

They knew where John was; he was easy to find. He took an indirect approach. He did not walk into the middle of their camp and attack John directly. His purpose in this debate was to drive a wedge between John and the Lord Jesus Christ.

This Jew berated the baptism of Jesus' disciples. The pharisees and John were on the same wavelength, was the impression that they tried to give; but that the disciples of Jesus were going off the reservation. He was playing on the loyalty and zealotry of John's disciples. They were a little jealous already and they did have a problem. Jesus was attracting larger crowds than John, so John's ministry was declining, as well it should

These disciples were dedicated to John, and they wanted to hearken back to the good old days when all the proselytes would come to John. However, both Jesus and John conducted the same ritual with the same reality. This Jew knew that. He was a troubleshooter for the pharisees.

He completely misunderstood the reason for this ritual. There's was a ritual for reality. The pharisees did not teach any doctrine; they simply followed a ritual. For them, it is all about the ritual. Churches today do the same thing.

The plan is to drive a wedge between these two groups and put them off against one another. They hoped that Jesus and John would fall into petty squabbles. Many modern scholars, liberal ones, see this is a break between John and Jesus (although that is false). They thought that there is some kind of a difference between John's message of repentance and Jesus' message of regeneration.

Both Jesus and John spoke of repentance, which refers to a change of mind. Both had messages about repentance. Jesus revealed the result of a change of mind; the result of repentance. When you repent, you are born again. The messages were the same.

The disciples were disseminating doctrine throughout Judæa. The disciples were learning as well when they carried out the baptism. They could learn and regurgitate. They learned bit by bit. You never learn as much as you do when it comes to teaching. Teaching means that you must learn and understand what you are talking about. These disciples were eager; they wanted to teach.

This is where the misunderstanding between the disciples of John and Jesus came in. They were teaching the same thing, but the disciples of John got a different message. Titus 3:5 ...not by works of righteousness which we did, but according to His mercy He saved us, through the washing of regeneration and renewing of the Holy Spirit, We are not saved by the deeds of our own righteousness; we are not saved because we are really nice people who do really nice things. God's grace saves us; not our works. Mercy is a part of God's love. The grace of God comes out of His love. The washing of regeneration. The baptism is a washing. We have been cleansed of all unrighteousness. There is also the renewing of the Holy Spirit, which is being renewed by to the Holy Spirit in the human spirit. That is what the grace of God accomplishes. John's baptism and Jesus' baptism were both designed to teach this. The whole purpose of this period of time, was to teach the doctrine that Jesus had been announcing in Jerusalem, like Nicodemus. This was being announced all over Jerusalem. It was illustrated by ritual purification, which is baptism. This is a picture of grace and the renewing of the human spirit.

When Jesus went into Jerusalem, the word was being spread. The disciples were learning the doctrines as well. Everywhere you find legalism, it is a perversion of the grace of God; it is anti-Biblical. This Jew, this harbinger of legalism, opposed what our Lord was doing, based upon legalism.

Jesus were teaching regeneration and John continued to teach repentance, which doctrine illustrated a change of mind in the baptism. The means was faith and the result was regeneration. If grace is not in your soul, you are vulnerable to legalism.

Some people have left Berachah and people have become the opposite of what Berachah teaches.

In any case, there was no rivalry between John and Jesus. Luke 7 indicates that there was no animosity or pressure or problems between John and Jesus. There was never a doctrinal difference. They taught the same doctrine. Jesus, of course, brought more to the table.

The two of them never got together. Why didn't Jesus just incorporate John into his inner circle of disciples and present a united front? It would seem logical to unite forces. Then they could spread the word together. There were people being converted by both ministries. There was a good reason that Jesus did not incorporate John into His ministry.

John was in the dispensation of Israel and Jesus was in the Age of the Hypostatic Union. John was the last and great prophet of a great line of prophets. He was the last of the great prophets. It was a different age when Jesus began His ministry. His disciples transitioned into the Church Age.

John 3:25 There arose therefore a questioning on the part of John's disciples with some Jews about purification.

Lesson #0125

John 3:25–26 Life of Christ

7/14/2011 Thurs

We are studying the life of Christ so that we can know our Savior. Jesus did bring doctrine and this was a transition doctrine from one age to another. We must understand His life in the light of God's historic perspective. We cannot interpret His life, Person and doctrine, without understanding where Jesus fits into the entire scheme of God's plan. He is the central figure of God's plan, but we need to understand the dispensations from God's perspective.

History comes at us in many forms and in many ways, and all of them being human interpretations. Bobby was a history and classics major in college, and it was fascinating to him. Church history in seminary, which is even more interesting. It is also cool to put church and secular history together and how they work together and blend together.

However, we need to understand the dispensations and the various eras of history. We need to understand the Angelic Conflict throughout the dispensations. Each dispensation is a progressive era. We must understand these dispensations and to know them as related to our Lord.

There are 3 distinctives to dispensationalism. The hermeneutic allows us to correctly interpret Scripture; ecclesiology, which is the doctrine of the church, and it distinguishes us from Israel—we are not spiritual Israel. Then eschatology and the eternal state, and these epochs give us a unique perspective of the end times and how they relate to the rest of aspects of dispensations.

There was a debate that arose, and purification is an important part of the Mosaic Law. This Jew here was a great debater and he is very glib. He can present a false argument and win. He is that good. He is a part of a plot to drive a wedge between John's disciples and Jesus's disciples. This was all about jealousy and power. This is a lot like the Republican party and the TEA party, and the Democrats trying to drive a wedge between them.

John 3:25 There arose therefore a questioning on the part of John's disciples with some Jews about purification.

The religious hierarchy was a mafia like organization. People came to Jesus to repent and to be cleansed via baptism. This is what our Lord was teaching. The pharisees observed this and were concerned that their control over Israel was being taken from them. They were losing their religious power and they wanted it back. These two outsiders were causing them problems. They hoped to foment internal dissension. The Jews here were sent by the pharisees to cause dissension among the brothers. There was a harmony of doctrine.

The ritual purification is in contradiction to Jesus's baptism, and that was the wedge to be used to be driven between the disciples of Jesus and John.

He hit a nerve with John's disciples, who were worried that John's ministry was being eclipsed by Jesus. Some of his disciples were upset about this and they were extremely loyal to John. They had been hoodwinked and they did not realize that they were being manipulated into thinking that there were substantive differences between Jesus and John.

John, Jesus and Dispensations

1. Jesus ministry must continue to increase while John's will decrease.
2. The changes happen because it is a dispensational necessity. This is where dispensations come in.
3. At this time, right at this moment, dramatic changes were occurring in God's plan for Israel.
4. Jesus was at the center of these changes.
5. John the Baptist's time was passing into history. Divine history was moving past John the Baptizer.
6. A new dispensation had begun; a new era in God's plan had begun.
7. This was the second shortest dispensation besides the Tribulation. This dispensation, which was about 33 years, was a cornerstone or a hinge in the divine plan. This is the dispensation of the Hypostatic Union.
8. The era of the Hypostatic Union connects and divides the Church Age and the Age of Israel. There is continuity and discontinuity.

9. Israel and the church are certainly different from one another because of the incarnation; the Hypostatic Union, which belongs to neither dispensation. The Age of Israel knew nothing of the church. When Jesus left, the church was formed.
10. The Hypostatic Union is a separate dispensation because it was a unique time in human history. This was unique in human history and is the central point of human history.
11. Not only is this the dispensation that brings salvation to all mankind, but it plays a major role in defining the other dispensations.
12. John the Baptist, Jesus and the disciples illustrate all of this to us.

Jesus, John and Dispensations

1. John the Baptist marked the conclusion of an era in divine history. This was the conclusion of the era of Israel.
2. John overlapped into the Hypostatic Union. Israel and we have the Hypostatic Union. John was in Israel and yet he overlapped into the age of the Hypostatic Union. Jesus dispensation was represented by the disciples of Jesus and John.
3. John the Baptizer was truly of the Old Testament; the Age of Israel. He was a prophet who prophesied of the Messiah. He is called the greatest of the prophets. All of the prophets in some way announced the Messiah, who made the same announcement, but John had the triumphant and final announcement.
4. John was the final prophet in that long line of prophets.
5. John rightly belonged to the dispensation of Israel as a prophet and as a forerunner.
6. However, John announced the new era, initiated by Jesus.
7. An era, the Age of the Hypostatic Union, which bridged two dispensations, and John was the one to introduce it.
8. Jesus Christ was the One of Whom the prophets spoke; this is what places John into the Age of Israel.
9. But John had to remain apart from the ministry of Jesus. As the prophet and forerunner, John represented the close of the old dispensation.
10. Our Lord incorporated the disciples of John into his inner circle.
11. From the disciples of John to the disciples of our Lord. Israel and John and his disciples; John announced the Hypostatic Union but was not a part of it. He never links up with Jesus. These disciples became a part of our Lord's ministry and discipleship, when John left the scene.
12. Later they represented the transition from the Hypostatic Union to the Church Age. On the day of Pentecost, the new age came, and they became the early church.
13. These disciples became the representatives of the ascended Christ, which is what we are as well. We are ambassadors; we are witnesses for Christ. We represent Him and we glorify Him.

For a short time, there was some jealousy; on the part of John's disciples. This Jew got them all riled up and said Jesus was violating the Mosaic Law. They were confused and they had become confused and driven to jealousy. The Jew was successful in his mission of generating a conflict.

John 3:25 There arose therefore a questioning on the part of John's disciples with a Jew about purification.

In this confusion, the disciples of John and Jesus would come back to the fold, to the religious legalism of the pharisees. Discredit, divide. It started to work, but not ultimately. John the Baptizer would stop this.

John's disciples come to him and ask about Jesus. What about this? He is baptizing now and all are coming to Him. We used to get people to show up and now He is getting all of the crowds. They were jealous and this was a distraction to them.

This sort of problem exists in churches today; the jealousy between pastors. Sometimes is the congregation of one pastor against the congregation of another; or between individual pastors.

Issues like money, attendance, numbers; programs. That is never a good idea. That is an excellent way to incur divine discipline. When one church is growing and another church is not growing. In seminary, there are classes about how to grow a church. You speak the truth, evangelize, and God will bring in the believers.

Some even recruit from other churches; we have better this and better that. This has happened in Berachah for decades. A group here or there; they get disaffected and move, and then come back and try to take people away.

God will provide the hearers. Bobby's purpose is to just teach his congregation and to guide them into growth. There ends up being gossiping and maligning and this is being divisive. A lot of bitterness has grown up between people here and people who leave Berachah. That should not be a cause of bitterness.

There are no programs in Berachah to meet other people or to socialize or for whatever reason, but people come to Berachah to learn doctrine.

Now and again there is a real theological difference and that is a reason to leave one church and go to another. When false doctrine is being taught, then get out. That is what this Jews was doing to John's disciples.

These disciples were very dedicated to John and his ministry, and that is a good thing. They got upset with the rapidly growing ministry of the Lord Jesus Christ. They wanted the good old days when so many followed John. They were of the mind that after Jesus was baptized by John, then the separation was sort of a counter and competitive ministry with John. John intended that his crowds should follow the Messiah. He was there, the fulfillment of John's ministry. However, John did not stop teaching. There was room for both. There is room for several churches in the city of Houston which teach doctrine. There are great pastors in town and there should not be any jealousy or any recruiting.

John's disciples felt that Jesus's disciples were recruiting to build up His ministry. However, John's ministry was coming to an end.

John will interact with kings, just as previous prophets did. The interaction between Jesus and the various kings; was of a different quality.

Bobby was asked to teach while Bob was still teaching, but he did not want to step in and be seen as a younger version of his father.

John 3:26 They came to John, and said to him, "Rabbi, He who was with you beyond the Jordan, to whom you have testified, behold, the Same baptizes, and everyone is coming to Him."

Lesson #0126

John 3:25– Life of Christ

7/17/2011 1Sunday

There was a debate between John's disciples and a Jew, a pharisee, which approached the disciples. He was attempting to drive a wedge between the disciples of John and the disciples of Jesus.

John 3:25 There arose therefore a questioning on the part of John's disciples with a Jew about purification.

This dispute was all about cleansing and purification rites, and the ritual ought to represent such a washing. This Jew compared the Jewish cleansing ritual with the baptism of John.

The disciples were learning from this ritual as it occurred. However, there are rituals going on all over the world where these rituals mean nothing. They have no idea what is behind it. Many think I just need to be here, observe or participate in this ritual, and that is my legal requirement toward God this week.

For the Jews, this is just what was designated for them to do.

John's crowds were decreasing. They were concerned that they were being relegated to this secondary position.

So disciples come to John and ask about Jesus baptizing and more are coming to Him (it is apparently Jesus' disciples who are doing the baptizing).

John 3:26 They came to John, and said to him, "Rabbi, He who was with you beyond the Jordan, to whom you have testified, behold, the Same baptizes, and everyone is coming to Him."

John will give an example of true loyalty here. He had a mega-church in the wilderness, and everyone was coming from everywhere. But there was no jealousy in John. He was a blocker, in a football analogy; a lineman, paving the way for our Lord to make some yardage and run through some holes.

John knew that his ministry was coming to an end; and this is true of all pastor-teachers and evangelists; there will be a time when the ministry is over. No one is indispensable. When one ministry ends, another will come forth (assuming that there are those who want to hear the Word).

Bobby spoke to someone who has been a pastor for 30 years in a relatively small town in Texas. He taught a small congregation for many years, which did grow; and someone else came in to take up the slack where he left off.

John would be arrested by Herod Antipas and then he would be beheaded. The ministry of Jesus Christ would continue, which ministry was far more important. These 3 years is the center of all human history. People have a variety of gifts; pastor-teacher, encouragement, evangelists; some are running backs, some are linemen, etc. Each one of us has a mission.

This men have been dedicated to John, and it is clear that they are concerned that his ministry may come to an end; or it is decreasing in size.

There are those who found tapes of R. B. Thieme, Jr. all over and some pastors would castigate him for destroying their congregations; and others would listen to the tapes and begin teaching this.

Little Rock pastor of one of our presidents. He was the pastor of the largest southern Baptist church in Arkansas. He began using Bob's information and he had tons of material and he began to teach it. He was not jealous. Dr. Someone who apparently taught either Carter or Clinton.

John was not trying to hold on to his corner of ministry; he put the message first, not the man. He was not worried about his bus ministry to camp wilderness or how his congregation began to decrease in size. When a pastor stops teaching doctrine, then he has given up his reason for living. No believer can afford to give up the plan of God, particularly for his own plan. Our best interest resides in God's plan, not in our own plan. Do not get fooled to think that our plan is God's plan. That is a trap of arrogance. If the plans coincide, great; but do not get upset if your plans do not get you where you are expecting to go. Just go with it.

Whenever you develop grace orientation, then you develop some true humility. This includes ambitious pastors who get their eyes on money or buildings or anything else. People come and go. Bobby can practically take role from where he stands. The plan of God marches on, and Bobby has no reason to be worried about numbers or money. Many pastors have labored for years on a shoe string. A pastor is only to reveal incorrect doctrine; but it is not his job to go after other pastors. Bitterness is a cancer which affects everything in life.

John recognizes that his ministry comes from God. John had a prestigious ministry; it was huge, and John considered himself an unworthy servant; he had great humility.

John was content and he understood that he was nothing compared to the Messiah. All that is true of John is true of us. The same humility is required. Be content with it and be happy with it. Bobby will not get more rewards than us, despite his communication gift. He did not gloat over another's failures or but upset when someone else is successful. Humility is different from those attitudes. He can see mental attitude sins creeping into his own disciples.

John 3:27 John answered, "A man can receive nothing, unless it has been given him from heaven.

Lesson #0127

John 3: Life of Christ

7/17/2011 2Sunday

The controversy between the disciples of Jesus and the disciples of John. Actually, the only problem was with the disciples of John because a Jew got them all worked up. He gave them false information about the baptism which was occurring by the disciples of Jesus. The baptisms of John and Jesus had the same meaning. The crowds of Jesus were becoming larger than those of John.

So John's disciples were concerned that they did not have the crowds that they did in the past.

John confirms that he is in a subordinate role. And he tells his disciples that they ought not get upset, because Jesus' ministry is becoming greater. Any pastor's mission is to teach the Word of God. Various pastors are better suited for other people. No pastor ought to be jealous of another pastor. They are all on the same team.

The president of the seminary where Bobby went, who was straight on nearly everything. He was a wonderful teacher and a wonderful man, so Bobby called him, and asked for a recommendation. He reminded Bobby that they are all on the same team. No pastor ought to have a problem with another pastor because they are all on the same team. Without naming names, a pastor ought to correct the doctrine. Bobby has had to do this from time to time. He knew of a pastor teaching something which was incorrect and Bobby taught it to correct the error (without naming the pastor).

John 3:28 You yourselves testify that I said, 'I am not the Christ,' but, 'I have been sent before him.'

John then gives an illustration; and sometimes these illustrations. Bob was a master of illustrations, e.g., the divine dynasphere, which was a complex but accurate illustration.

John 3:29 He who has the bride is the bridegroom; but the friend of the bridegroom, who stands and hears him, rejoices greatly because of the bridegroom's voice. This, my joy, therefore is made full.

John's illustration is, he is a friend of the bridegroom (Jesus) and he is happy to hear Jesus' voice. In the wedding, the bride and the bridegroom are those upon whom is the focus. Unfortunately, this is not the case today. Big weddings can get way out of hand. All of the details which go into these, and they consume the bride and even the groom and mostly the mother of the bride. The dress, the invitations, the parties and the food. A huge mess. Sometimes, in all of these preparations, the real purpose of the unions is lost. They focus on the details rather than upon each other.

Many people have made a mistake in marriage because they have not looked objectively at the person that they are marrying. Bobby has often spoken to those about to get married and tell them, "It's not too late."

In any case, the focus ought to be upon the bride and groom. That is what John is speaking about. Bob always suggested have a $20 wedding and a $20,000 honeymoon. That is focusing on the bride and groom. The ceremony is for everyone else, but that takes you to the place where you begin your lives together.

The best man is the assistant, and he acts on behalf of the groom, and he makes a lot of preliminary arrangements for the bride and groom to insure the smooth function of the proceedings. The groom's helps to maintain the focus by taking care of all of the details, so that the groom can focus on the bride.

John is the voice in the wilderness, proclaiming the coming of the bridegroom. This is what John has done for Jesus Christ. The bride is Israel. The King has come for His bride. John is facilitating this marriage. The friend of the groom is happy and content in his secondary role.

John is teaching doctrine in this reprimand. We are all cogs in the big wheel, and the plan of God is moving forward, and each of us is a little cog in the wheel. Why go round and round with me when the Wheel is here. We are not the center of God's plan.

The clothing and food that John wore simply indicated his humility. John could have gone to the Temple and taught, but he stayed out in the wilderness.

John 3:30 He must increase, but I must decrease."

In the next few verses, John the Baptizer stops speaking and John gives a commentary upon what John the Baptizer has said. The quotation marks ought to end with v. 30.

So what follows is John writing. He repeats the critical aspects of what is there. John the Baptizer is not from the realm of heaven. He is a human being with a sin nature. There was a miraculous birth for him, but he was still sinful. Jesus is the One from heaven. John testifies to this in the first chapter of John. Paul would later reveal this in his doctrine of kenosis.

Jesus was born without a sin nature; he was born sinless and remained sinless. Everything that Jesus said was absolute truth. College professors may think this, but it is actually true in the case of Jesus. No person has spoken the absolute truth with every word. Jesus is the Word; the Word that is God and the Word from God. Jesus was knowledgeable about all doctrine. John did not know all truth, but what was revealed to him by the Holy Spirit. His doctrinal message was limited to what the Holy Spirit revealed to him.

“Do you think that Jesus is allowing His disciples to teach incorrect information in His baptism?”

John 3:31 He who comes from above is above all. He who is from the Earth belongs to the Earth, and speaks of the Earth. He who comes from heaven is above all.

Because He is God, that is reason enough to follow Him. There is none other like Him and there never will be. John is decreasing daily in his own ministry; he is a voice and that is all. A friend of the groom. He worked behind the scenes so that all of the focus could be on the bridegroom.

Jesus was unlimited in the truth that He could teach. There is nothing that He does not know. Why should we listen to humanism when we can hear the Word of God taught from the Bible. What is important about the views of psychologists and philosophers? You become inundated in false teaching.

These disciples of John have been confused by this one pharisee teaching false doctrine. He has distorted their way of thinking. Humanism is from man and it always distorts the truth.

Jesus was the Word; He did not have to receive it as John did. Jesus was with God in the beginning. He is the One from heaven; His Person is directly from heaven. We do not have the Lord Jesus Christ standing in front of us. We hear Him through His Word. We have the mind of Christ. So we have exactly what John the Baptizer exhorted his disciples to hear.

Our Lord is the bridegroom and Israel is the bride; and in the New Testament, the bride is the church.

John 3:32 What He has seen and heard, of that He testifies; and no one receives His witness.

This is the correct response to the witness from heaven. Some would respond by accepting that witness, which is setting the seal. They are confirming unequivocally that the words of Jesus are from God. The gospel that Jesus presented is the power of God unto salvation.

John 3:33 He who has received His witness has set His seal to this, that God is true.

Jesus walked the earth unflawed and never sinned, never falling short of God's will. Only the God-man was able to do this. There is no other person and no other religion; nothing in this world that equals the Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus stands between us and God; he opens the door so that we can walk through it.

Jesus Christ sent His Son for us. None of us deserve this; we all deserve death. In Adam, all die. The perfect man was sent to take upon Himself all of our sins. When He hung between heaven and earth, God the Father poured out all of our sins upon Him.

Jesus possessed the absolute and perfect essence. His character was unmarred. To know Him is to love Him. In Berachah, we come to study our Savior. We study the Scripture so that we might know Him.

The speaker today has spent his life protecting our country, our Lord is infinitely more worthy of our love. We learn about our Lord and grow spiritually and our love increases.

We as people are emotional and we can make bad decisions. But there is no relativity or subjectivity in God Himself. There is nothing in Him that can change or destabilize Him.

Jesus going to the cross is like taking the person you love the most and putting them in front of a firing squad. All members of the Godhead have the same character.

God the Father has perfect love for God the Son. In order for this to be true, there must be perfect righteousness on both sides.

Human self-love. What is it based on? Conceit and self-deception, because that is humanity's self-love. Even the worst criminal has a love for himself. Even the most worthy of us is deficient in the eyes of God. Some humans have humility, but they all have arrogance. Jesus Christ was infinitely worthy of God's love.

Rom. 12:2 man thinks of himself more highly than he ought.

Some people think that they merit God's favor because they are good people or they have done things which others applaud and speak highly of. However, God sees us as unworthy. Some of us think that we are. That is arrogance. There is not one thing that we can do to gain the favor of God. Can you tell yourself, "I have gained God's favor." How many good things do you have to do? You can never be good enough to gain salvation; and you can never be bad enough to escape His love either. We are on this earth for as long as God wants us to be here. This is why we study Him and why we worship Him. This is how we renovate our thinking. As we learn doctrine, we begin to think with the mind of Christ.

This is a pep talk for us today.

Best soldiers that Bobby served with. Mostly involved in special ops. He has trained police SWAT teams and those in many other locations. 3 things changed Bobby's life: salvation, ranger school, and being trained by this guy for 18 months. Master Sergeant retired Steven D. Mattoon.

The platoon in the 25th that they apparently worked on together.

All rangers and soldiers sooner or later get to their personal altar. There are times you review your life, all that you have done, liked, did not like. In times like that, you realize just how little you have accomplished.

He spent over 30 years with the Rangers. About 42 Rangers killed, possibly others since then. Met Bob and Bobby about 25 years ago.

Ranger regiment is the premier force that the army has. Full of the true American warriors. 4 battalions strong. About 4200 Rangers. We need about 7000. Regiment constantly deployed since 2001. It is the longest unit combat deployment in the history of the United States.

In the 2nd battalion, they were glad they were not in the 1st battalion. The 1st was trained in Georgia. There were more Rangers on the Iran rescue mission than there were Delta. They were to support Delta. It ended in disaster when a helicopter crashed. Many of the standard operation procedure today are a result of Desert 1.

Entire Ranger group went to Grenada and later to remove Noriega. First men into desert storm. Missions there in desert storm are still classified. No casualties. Almost every night, Rangers are going out to raid something, which has occurred nearly every night since the start of the Afghanistan war.

On the memorial wall there are almost as many killed in training than are killed in action.

Sniper student deployed for 120 days in Afghanistan and he spent a total of 17 days with his family. It is a lifestyle being in the Rangers.

Someone who fell out of the helicopter, so they went back to him. Due to a lack of communication, there was a firefight which ensued with those rescuing him. So, now 12 Rangers on the mountain. There were somewhere between 2 and 800 Taliban soldiers in the same place. Australians nearby bring in air support. Rescue of Jessica Lynch and the Rangers were going behind Iranian lines to get her. This was the highest altitude that our Ranger had fought in waist deep snow. 2000 feet below them landed another team. 23 Rangers and some others were in an awesome fight.

Being in the Rangers is like professional sports; you sign in and then you end up playing hurt for the rest of your service. It is contact sport.

In Panama, they realized that they had a good thing going, when they took out Noriega.

Restoration of order in the streets in Haiti. Cuban refugee camps, riots broke out; and they quelled that.

Blackhawk Down and a few soldiers took on 1000's in the streets. The movie is probably as factual as any movie made. Several soldiers were technical advisors.

Haditha dam in Iraq. The Iraqis began to put out information that we were going to bomb this dam. Huge lake behind it. Those saying that Americans were going to destroy the dam were actually wiring up explosives to destroy it themselves.

Entire Iraqi army was destroyed in a few days, more quickly than the FBI and the Davidians. No tank battles. In Vietnam, it would take 1-4 tries to take out a bunker; now we can take out Toyota trucks moving at 30 mph. Great technological advancements.

4 days of battle of Haditha dam with constant barrage of mortar and infantry attacks.

Ranger battalion spent the first 2 weeks in RASP with the idea of keeping them all out of the Rangers. Communications is a weak area. One platoon of computer geeks.

We became involved at 9/11. Something like it could happen again. Terrorist threats. Who are we facing. 750 dead in the Russian school siege. Mumbai and there was a 2nd one. 177 people killed. Downtown Moscow, Chechians took over a theater and took hundreds of hostages. Russians did not do their homework and used gas, killing more hostages than the radicals would have.

We are not dealing with a bunch of dumb Arabs. These are well-trained, experienced fighters for the most part.

Our war started long before 9/11, which is when we first realized that we were at war, although we originally in a war for about 25 years prior to that. The Afghans which support us look exactly like the Taliban that we fight against. And they are money-oriented, and will go wherever they are paid the most.

Rangers when they are not fighting, they are training. Training should be as realistic as possible. When part of the city is going to be torn down, they go in there for training. They are very destructive people. Taliban can tell where Rangers have been by the trail of destruction, and they are concerned the direction they will move in next.

A lot of specialities in the military. Rangers eventually have to do almost all of them.

Physical and medical training. Likely, the person who saves you is the person who is next to you.

The army has numerous missions, which includes reassembling the infrastructure and doing the politically correct thing. Rangers have one mission; destroy the enemy.

The terrorists are not going to quit. It could very possibly go on for the rest of our lives.

We have no idea where the next strike will be or what it will be. The Russians and Israelis have great intelligence and they cannot stop it. Suicide bombers will seek out our schools and public buildings. Where are they? We have disrupted them so bad that they cannot do much; or they are putting together an operation greater than 9/11.

Lesson #0129

John 3:35 Life of Christ

7/27/2011 Wed

Tennessee conference.

John 3:35 The Father loves the Son, and has given all things into His hand.

Within the context of this verse, there is a very specific purpose. There was a rift between John's disciples and our Lord's disciples. John told his jealous disciples, "He must increase and I must decrease." John had a great run in his ministry; he had been chosen by God before he was born as a forerunner for Jesus Christ. The Messiah was on the scene. His ministry and his mission on this life; and he knew that our Lord's ministry would eclipse his own. He was aware of Who Jesus was; he was aware the Jesus was God and man in one person, the Creator of the universe. So, he knew there could be no comparison between himself and Jesus. That is the importance of v. 35.

V. 35 stands alone as well, as God's love for Himself. We are to grow in knowledge of our spiritual life. This is what renovates our thinking. The Father loves the Son and has given all things into His hand.

God's Love for Himself

1. It is because the object of divine love is the perfection of God's Own character. God knows Himself to be what He is. Part of His essence is love and He loves Himself. The Lord Jesus Christ has all of these same qualities.
2. God is the perfect personality. God is a person and He is presented as a person in the Bible. God is Spirit, but God is also a person. He is the perfect personality. He is the perfectly righteous one. He has no flaws. Nothing can darken His character or mar His appeal. There is no darkness in God.
3. He is the most perfect object and utterly deserving of love.
4. There is not enough love to love God with. There is with God, however. When we know Him, we love Him.
5. This ultimate object of love to the infinite degree is true of Himself in His Own eyes.
6. God loves Who and What He is. He loves the absolute virtue of His character. When you know someone who is virtuous, there is so much to like about them. You begin to care about them, even as you love them more and more. If you cannot love the virtue in someone, then you cannot love them. If you think you love someone without virtue or character, it will always end up on the rocks.
7. God has an immutable love; it never changes. It is directed toward His perfect essence. The Lord Jesus Christ has all of those qualities.

8. Unlike man, God's character contains no relativity. He is not relative in any way. There is no shadow of turning in God. There is no subjectivity in God. Therefore, His love is never artificial.
9. So His love for Himself is unencumbered with variations of love or emotionalism. God's love does not move up and down; He does not love some more than others; His love is constant, it is stable and it never changes. This is true for His love toward Himself and others of the Trinity.
10. His self-love is devoid of any conceit of deception. As the object of love, He is entirely worthy, from Himself, from the other members of the Trinity and from us. Human love is based upon deceit and self-deception. It is often pretentious and deflated (inflated?). We exaggerate ourselves. People see themselves as more eminent or worthy than they are. This makes self-love and self-esteem in people very subjective. Self-esteem appears to be very important to people today, but it is very subjective. Man must search for reasons to love Himself and it is often based upon His inflated ego. So his self-love is often an expression of arrogance. Arrogance was the sin that caused Satan to fall and Adam and the woman to fall. Man often thinks more highly of himself than he ought to think. That means no humility; humility is the by-product of living the spiritual life. God sees all humanity for exactly what we are; depraved and nonmeritorious. So we are not worthy of His love or of our own self-love.
11. God's love for Himself is nothing like man's love.
12. There is nothing in God that could ever change or destabilize His love for Himself or for God the Son. The actions of God the Father and God the Son is flawless and absolute. The Trinity, of which God the Son and God the Father are 2/3rds. God is 3 in Person; co-equal and co-eternal. 3 Persons, 1 God. They have exactly the same essence, but they are different Persons. God the Father is the Planner, God the Son does the work; God the Holy Spirit provides the power.

God's Love for Members of the Trinity

1. All 3 members of the Trinity, which includes the Incarnate Son of God. Husbands are to love their wives as themselves. This is virtue love.
2. One member of the Trinity loves another as the Father loves the Son. It can be correctly said, so he loves Himself. The love for Himself and the love for all other members of the Trinity is the mirror essence of God. Co-equal, co-eternal Persons.
3. The Father loves the Son just as He loves Himself. This has direct bearing on God's love for us.
4. God loves Himself and the other members of the Trinity with an equal amount of love because their essence is exactly the same.
5. God cannot personally love that which is imperfect. That is the corollary. God cannot love that which is imperfect, which is sinful, unrighteous man. We do not have that essence.
6. God's love for the Son is directed toward the perfect +R that He possesses. That is the direction.

7. God's love cannot be directed toward any person unless perfect righteousness is present. Otherwise, His essence would be compromised.
8. This is a perfectly deserved love.

Man's Self-love and Self-esteem

1. Man's character is flawed. Therefore, his self-love and human self-esteem are both defective and superficial.
2. Humanity is so lacking in stability and the capacity to love that his self-love self-esteem are artificial and weak. Human self-esteem is weak.
3. In human self-esteem, man is depending upon himself. Human self-esteem comes from man depending upon himself and his own self-assessment. It is about how he feels about himself. How do you feel about yourself? Self-hate, self-love? That is what your human self-esteem is based upon.
4. In human doubt and failure, self-love and self-esteem are so easily lost. It can quickly change. It is certainly denigrated.
5. Human self-esteem is subjective and often it mirrors arrogance. It is limited to either the relative strength of a person, or self-deception of the individual. You can see yourself and it is artificial.
6. Once lost, human self-esteem is regained only by successes and encouragement from others. Once it is lost and denigrated, it goes down. You succeed and it goes up; you fail, and it goes down. That makes it very subjective. How many of us are worthy of self esteem?
7. Human self-esteem is fragile because it depends upon a favorable view of a flawed person. This is why human self-esteem is not an adequate answer to human problems. It may help temporarily some human problems. Bible doctrine in the soul is the divine answer to all human problems. The believer must renovate his thinking with the mind of Christ. Rom. 12:2 Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renovation of your thinking. This is what most of our thinking is conformed to. Divine viewpoint is the mind of Christ. It is perfect because He is perfect. Divine viewpoint brings self-esteem that you can have in no other way.

Spiritual Self Esteem

1. Only be renovating your thinking can you develop spiritual self esteem. Rom. 12:2 is connected to true spiritual self esteem. This is self-esteem that no unbeliever can know. It is based upon more than circumstances and your personal strengths. Where does true self-esteem come from in the believer? From a renovated mind.
2. That is where your self worth is inseparably united with the mind of Christ in you. Self worth that comes from your own thinking is very tenuous; self worth from the mind of Christ is true self worth. It is not based upon you; it is based upon Him.
3. With doctrine, you have a self-confidence in your soul. If your confidence is in Him, this is much greater than having confidence in yourself.
4. Without doctrine, you have subjective self-love based upon nothing more than human accomplishment and failure. Everyday does not bring great accomplishment and failure. Every day can bring frustration. Every day can be a time when someone crosses you or treats you badly. It is based upon how they treat you.

5. With spiritual self esteem, you are convinced that you have a place in the plan of God. It is having a place in the plan of God versus having a place in your own plan.
6. In God's plan, neither human failure nor success is the criteria for self-esteem. Human failure and success is the basis for human self-esteem. There is real self-worth; not some phoney contrived self-worth and self-esteem based upon how you perceive yourself moment-by-moment.
7. Spiritual self esteem is your position in Christ. We are a son of God; male and female; this is true of all of us who are believers. We are in the greatest family on earth; the family of God. Should you have self-esteem as a son of God?
8. If God holds us dear, and He does, it is the basis of our spiritual self esteem. Human self-esteem depends, in part, on how others view us. We know how God views us with great personal love. Spiritual self esteem becomes stability in life. Spiritual self esteem opens that door. Grace oriented and doctrinally oriented. If someone does not think well of you, your happiness is gone. There is no comparison. God's love for Himself and for His Son is the same love that He has for us. This is because we are in the Beloved; we are justified; we have His righteousness.

John 3:35 The Father loves the Son, and has given all things into His hand.

Lesson #0130

John 3:35–36 Life of Christ

7/28/2011 Thurs

God is so far above us; His attributes are so far above us. His attributes are beyond what we can imagine. One of the areas of things difficult to understand is God's love. If God loves the other members of the Trinity, then He loves Himself. Even that, in many ways, is hard to understand. It is inscrutable. Our personal experience of self love and self-esteem is so subjective. It is connected to our own relative successes and failures. Sometimes that is self-hate. Sometimes we gain in self-esteem. Our self-love can border on conceit and, at worst, it can be narcissism. Human self-esteem is so far removed from divine self-esteem. It is just enough to understand His plan and know how we fit into it.

God is omnipotent and He has all power and nothing is beyond Him. That in itself is hard to understand. His attitude is always the same; it is always absolute; always perfect. He is perfect righteousness. He has absolute capacity for everything. His Self-love is connected to all of that. It is related to all of His divine attributes. His self-love can never be artificial and contrived. God is not like us; He cannot be conceited or arrogant. His Self-love is not misplaced or deceptive. We sometimes have to deceive ourselves to think of ourselves as other than total scum. Even though we are scum, we are not, because we are in Christ. Your self-esteem is not connected with all of your imperfections but with God the Son. When we discover our place in His plan then we have a destiny, and it is linked with the Lord Jesus Christ.

God's Self-love is a product of His absolute Self-confidence, Self-possession and Self-assurance as to Who He is. We can always get better and our confidence can always be undermined. We may have doubts about ourselves but God has no doubts about Himself. We are not absolute in anything; God is an absolute in everything. The fact that He loves Himself absolutely means that He is completely deserving of all adoration of His creatures.

This is no different from getting to know someone and developing love for them because you are getting to know them. That is why long-distance relationships are difficult. You can know the Lord under all conditions. The more we know Him the more we love Him. He is worthy of our love.

Our love for people that we love the most can be very strained; and those we love the most allows for the most strained relationships. God has given us an analogy to help us understand relationships between the members of the Trinity. There is no analogy that is a 1 to 1 correspondence between man and God. This relationship is critical.

John 3:35 The Father loves the Son, and has given all things into His hand.

God's Love for the Son

1. Missed this.
2. God the Son is equal to God in every way.
3. So the Father loves the absolute Person of His Son just as He loves Himself. The analogy here is father and son.
4. The Son is just as perfect in His righteousness as the Father, even though the Son is fully human. He never made a mistake and never sinned. Had He sinned, he would be lost.
5. His human essence is flawless, possessing the same inherent perfect righteousness in His humanity as His Deity.
6. Therefore, there is no compromise in the essence of God the Father in perfectly loving God the Son. His personal love is always directed toward perfect righteousness. He cannot love anything less than perfect righteousness. His righteousness and justice prevent His love from being unstable. God's love must have a perfect object.
7. Therefore, the Son is absolutely worthy of the love of God the Father. The Father extends this love to an infinite degree. God gave His Son, which showed infinite love, and He judged the Son, Whom He loves.
8. Perfect righteousness, the objective of God's personal love, is also what makes the Son eligible for substitutionary atonement. God accepts that perfection and that perfect righteousness. He has to be that perfect righteousness.
9. God's infinite love toward His Son makes the Son's sacrifice of infinite value. God cannot personally love the human race as He loves His Son. God cannot have personal love for an unworthy object. He does love anything which possesses His perfect righteousness.

10. The same love that God has for the Son is extended toward the believer. We are loved with the same infinite love as He loves the Son.

How Can this Be?

1. At salvation, the believer is justified. That is, he is made righteous. Rom. 4:3–4
2. The believer receives the righteousness of God. This makes him a suitable object for divine personal love.
3. The same personal love that God extends toward Himself, the love we just studied, the same love He has for other members of the Trinity, is also the love He expresses to us. God loves us with the same love that He reveals here in John 3:35.
4. Both the Son and the believer have perfect righteousness. Our righteousness is imputed because of God the Son. It is given to us by the act of faith alone in Christ alone. His love is ours; His personal love is ours. In the context of God loving God and God loving Himself, and God loving perfect righteousness, that is quite amazing.
5. We are in Christ, we share all that He is and all that He has.

This context is, God the Father has given everything into the hand of God the Son. In order for this to occur, there must be absolute trust by God the Father to the Son. Trust is the foundation of love. You cannot trust those without integrity. The Father infinitely trusts the Son. Absolute love requires absolute trust. Without trust, there is no love. Trust is foundational. If we have no integrity, don't think that we will have a great love. Our integrity is the bellwether to our great love. The more virtue you have, the more integrity that you have, the greater that you will be loved.

If you were to turn your bank account over to someone, then they are either trustworthy or not. The relationship between the two, between God the Father and God the Son is one of complete intimacy and complete confidence. That is the absolute integrity.

Jesus Christ and God the Father have exactly the same intentions and exactly the same objectives, therefore, there is complete trust. If you love someone, can you turn everything over to that person? Love and trust are intertwined. Love cannot exist apart from trust.

The Father Places All Things into His Son's Hand

1. This includes the salvation plan for mankind. The Son came to save us.
2. The Son is endowed with all authority to accomplish the Father's plan.
3. This turnover is because the Father has complete trust that His plan will be accomplished.
4. The Father utterly trusts that there will be no failure by His Son to complete this plan.

5. That is what the Father meant at the baptism of God the Son, when He said, "I am well-pleased." Mark 1:11 And there came a voice from Heaven, saying, You are My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. This is the infinite trust of the Father.
6. This infinite love made the Son's mission on earth of dying for sinful mankind infinitely painful for both of them. This is painful because there would be a separation. This is what is difficult between two people who love one another; this is what happened on the cross. Example of a soldier who goes off to war, leaving his family behind. The price God the Son paid was infinitely more painful. Mark 15:34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? (which being translated is, My God, My God, why did You forsake Me?) There was complete abandonment here. The Son He loves, He judged and poured our sins upon. There can be no contact between perfect righteousness and justice. This condemnation took place because He bore our sins. It is the same as us taking the one we love the most, and asking them to die. All of this happened for us, so that we might have salvation. That is how love fits into all of this. The righteousness of God precluded Him from contact.

God's impersonal love in providing our salvation. God's personal love for the Son was set aside in those moments for mankind. Both the Father and the Son made a sacrifice for our salvation. God the Father had to impute all of our sins upon God the Son.

John 3:35 The Father loves the Son, and has given all things into His hand.

The Son's sacrifice made this possible. How would you feel to line up your loved one to be shot in front of a firing squad instead of the one who deserved it.

Sins were paid for, and so they are no longer an issue or a barrier. The only issue is accepting the incredible sacrifice as the means of our salvation.

There is a movement out there that says, faith alone in Christ alone is easy believism is absolutely wrong. It cost our Lord everything.

Easy Believism

1. Our belief is of infinite value in the eyes of God. We lack merit, but this acknowledges the overwhelming sacrifice of His Son.
2. Our belief is nonmeritorious because the sacrifice stands alone apart from human works. How can there be anything more to salvation than the cross?
3. Now that we understand what God the Father and God the Son did, it cannot be added to; only accepted.
4. Only the Son of God is the means of receiving eternal life for any person who express faith alone in Christ alone.

John 3:36 One who believes in the Son has eternal life, but one who disobeys the Son won't see life, but the wrath of God remains on him."

This trust of God the Father to God the Son includes entrusting the plan of salvation with Jesus. The Father completely relies upon His Son to provide the means of salvation for us. "This is My beloved Son, in Whom I am well-pleased."

John 3:35 The Father loves the Son, and has given all things into His hand.

The mission of salvation was infinitely painful for both the Father and the Son. The Son taking upon Himself our sins is anathema to Him. That was His substitutionary death, which death was a complete separation between the Father and the Son. This is beyond our comprehension. Do you think you understand pain and agony? Imagine the child you love being taken from you at a young age. You will see him again in heaven, but imagine that pain that you will endure for years. The penalty for our sins was paid for by the Son. Our condemnation has become salvation during His time on the cross. Our salvation cost God everything and it cost us nothing. All it takes for us to turn condemnation to salvation is faith in Christ. The sacrifice of Jesus Christ provided us this salvation. The moment that we believe is of infinite importance in His eyes, because this acknowledges the sacrifice of His Son on our behalf. Eph. 2:8–9. These words are simple for us, but not for God.

John 3:36 One who believes in the Son has eternal life, but one who disobeys the Son won't see life, but the wrath of God remains on him."

Man has 2 options. This second option is unthinkable. Disbelief in Jesus Christ rejects His sacrifice on the cross. It is utter disregard for the love of God and His grace shed upon us. We instead depend upon our own merits, rather than what our Lord did.

We have the word obey here and it sounds like a word which infers works. Please bear fruit, or you are not truly saved, is the idea that some put to this (incorrectly).

Present tense of apetheo, which means disobedience.

Disobedience

1. This is willful disobedience. To what? Willful disobedience to the first phrase of this verse. In other words, you do not do this.
2. Disobedience is to disbelieve; to not believe; to choose to be an unbeliever. This is not related to fruit-bearing.
3. This is a person who rejects the work of the Son; His substitutionary atonement.
4. The unbeliever cannot receive eternal life because he has reject the grace of God and the sacrifice of His Son.
5. A grammatical point: apetheo is a verb, but it is used here as a participle, which is a verbal noun or an adjective. Here, it is used as an adjective.
6. Adjectives modify something; here, it modifies the pronoun he.

7. He is the person who disobeys the mandate to believe in the Son. The alternative: believe, you receive eternal life; do not believe, and the wrath of God remains upon him.

The present active indicative of μένω, which means to remain. We have all been judged already. In Adam, all die. We are born in Adam. We are in Adam when we breathe our first breath, which means we have all been judged already. For the one choosing not to believe, he remains under judgment. It is a horrible thing to fall under the wrath of the Living God. God's wrath is not merely being separate from Him. When we die separate from God, we face a physical consequence, which is described as a Lake of Fire. "How could anyone be sentenced to an eternal Lake of Fire?" Not even Wes Craven could conjure up such a thing. Eternal judgement is not necessary. No one needs to face this unthinkable end. It only requires on iota of faith alone in Christ alone. The penalty for not believing is eternity in the Lake of Fire. This is an inkling as to the love of God for His Son.

John 3:36 One who believes in the Son has eternal life, but one who disobeys the Son won't see life, but the wrath of God remains on him."

This concludes John 3, which gives us the complete picture of the gospel. If you ever want to witness to anyone, then understand what this chapter says.

Matt. 4:14 Luke 4:14 Mark

John 4:1 Therefore when the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptized more disciples than John

Galilee is a high plateau and the surface was rugged and chopped up by mountainous terrain. On the east, it drops off to the Jordan River, which is one of the lowest places on earth, 500 ft. below sea level.

Galilee was a beautiful and lush area, much lovelier and more fertile than Judæa. Also, there was a huge fishing opportunity there. There were many crossroads that went through Galilee. It was business, trading, and agriculture-friendly area.

Capernaum became His headquarters after leaving Nazareth. So he now returns to the place of His youth. His ministry was not a failure in Judæa because His disciples were baptizing more disciples than John were. Many believed in Him and He had now introduced Himself to Israel.

The pharisees were causing problems and they tried to drive a wedge between John and Christ.

John 4:1 Therefore when the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptized more disciples than John

Jesus was not baptizing, but His disciples were doing all of the baptizing. People had repented and were being baptized. This early ministry was, for all practical purposes, a smashing success. The miracles themselves indicate the triumph of their time.

John 4:2 (though Jesus Himself did not baptize, but His disciples),

The drama was intense. Imagine someone down at the Wortham Center was saying and doing things as no one had done before. Going to hospitals and healing those who were sick and raising those from the dead. The drama was heavy in Jerusalem. This was no one-time little deal; it was amazing.

As soon as Jesus began to do these things, this attracted the curious, the antagonists and the positive people. Some plotted to kill Him, to discredit Him. There were reasons for Him conducting His ministry as He did. Many think that, "If Jesus only healed everyone, then we could believe in the love of God, but He left many in total misery." He never stepped outside of God's plan. God's plan was not for Him to heal every person that He came across. Jesus came for a specific reason. The miracles demonstrated this fact.

John 4:3 He left Judea and went away again into Galilee.

Lesson #0132 Luke 3:19–20 John 4:3 Life of Christ 7/31/2011 2Sunday

Why Did Our Lord Perform Miracles?

1. He performed miracles in order to prove that God the Father has sent Him. This was a reason for people to believe in Him. Who else could do these miracles?
2. The miracles were the sign of the divine nature which was within Him. Only God could perform such miracles. Miracles had been performed before and always by God. This was a reason for people to accept His Person.
3. The Lord Jesus Christ was the great miracle. He was the miracle; so His miracles were manifestations of the big picture of the advent of Jesus Christ and what He would do for all of us.
4. All of His miracles were the stamp of His character and exhibitions of divine power. People were awakened to Who He was.
5. Miracles were symbols to all who observed them, of His supernatural nature and the saving work that He would perform. That is the true miracle. He healed sick people. He raised from the dead, which represented what He would do. The miracles represented His saving work. Resurrecting Lazarus from the dead was a perfect example of what He would do for us on the cross.
6. We see a miraculous act and, of course, we must process it in our mind. What just happened? We would understand that He has triumphed over the miseries of this world; over death, over pain; over our weak natures. We are all in Adam. This again was a picture of what He would do for us.
7. Miracles did show a relief from human desolation and tragedy. In that relief came the picture of Who He was. If He was only looking to remove all human misery, then Jesus would have healed everyone, near and far away (as He did for the centurion's son).

8. This made Him known to the nation. There was no telephone, but people did talk. Once the miracle was performed, the word rapidly spread. This made Him known to the nation.
9. He elicited confidence when He performed miracles. This confidence and trust easily translated to faith in Him and in His miraculous work of salvation. This was an invitation to believe in Him.

All of these miracles in that week were observed in Jerusalem and Judæa. His fame began to spread rapidly and His message began to travel far and wide. If He can perform miracles, then ought we not to listen to Him?

This departure from Judæa was not about failure or what He was doing in Judæa. He was getting all of the crowds that He needed. Many people were believing. He did not run away from this conflict. He would face danger everywhere. There were many important reasons why He departed from Judæa.

Why Jesus Left

1. He understood what the viciously antagonistic pharisees were doing after He left Jerusalem. They were very upset with Him. They decided to do something about Him. They would try to drive a wedge between the disciples of John and the disciples of Jesus. They were contentious and scheming. They would not rest until they brought about serious divisions. The disciples of John did not fully get that Jesus was the Messiah.
2. Jesus knew there would be a prolonged conflict between Himself and His antagonists. They would press their hatred and jealousy to a final confrontation. They would not stop and they would not rest until they got to a place where He was destroyed.
3. Jesus knew there would be a final confrontation, but it was not yet time for that. So He made an exit from Judæa.
4. Jesus wanted no contrived differences between Jesus and John and the doctrines which they taught. This would have been a push of the pharisees to establish such a division.
5. Jesus was known up in Galilee, but He was not yet controversial up there.
6. So He postpones the final confrontation until a later time. He would face all of the Roman and Jewish leaders on another day.
7. There was also the imprisonment of John the Baptizer. John was arrested. His ministry was maybe 3 years. He was out of prison for a year and back in prison for 2 years when he had a very narrow mission. Matt. 4:12 But when Jesus heard that John was thrown into prison, He went back into Galilee. Jesus departed for Judæa when He heard about John. Mark 1:14 And after John was delivered up, Jesus came into Galilee, proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom of God, This kept Jesus from suffering the same fate that John did. They were proclaiming the same message. If they God John, they would certain go after Jesus. Mark adds a little detail. Jesus was proclaiming the gospel of the Kingdom of God. That was a primary part of His teaching. He was preaching about Himself. His Messiahship; His mission. Anyone else just teaching about Himself would be just plain arrogance.

Let's take a look at what got John arrested. If anyone should pray for a miracle, it would be John the Baptizer. He was abused, tortured and mocked.

Luke 3:19 But Herod the tetrarch (being reproved by him on account of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done)

Herodias had a lot to do with this. Herodias was the wife of his brother, and Herod Antipas married her. John said, "This is totally wrong." And Herod said, "Who is this guy telling me that my marriage is wrong?" Why would he even care about this? Why would John be involved here.

Herod divorced his first wife. This new marriage was a political alliance. It kept things peaceful between Galilee and Judæa. Herodias was the wife of his half-brother and the niece of another half-brother. While he was a guest of Herod Philip, he began an affair with Herodias, and she deserted Herod Philip when Herod got rid of his wife.

Herodias thought that Antipas was going places and that Philip was not. She wanted some power and wanted to hook up with a rising star. There was disloyalty, adultery and incest. This was an immoral and criminal marriage, which took place in the highest reaches of government. Scandal in the highest places. So, John proclaimed repentance to everyone, in every place. So he denounced this marriage. He used this nefarious incident to highlight their illegitimacy as rulers and more importantly that they accept the Messiah as their king. These are rulers, but they are illegitimate. Listen, you perverts; step down. They were to know that their high rank did not exclude them from their actions. Everyone knew what Herod's marriage was all about. He was enraged because this was a call for him to step down and accept the authority of the King of Kings. He is a legitimate ruler and Herod was not. No one would stand between Herod and his throne in Judæa. So John's message struck a nerve. It was not their kingdom. These people had to submit to the heavenly authority of the King of Kings.

You must give it up for John who did this, even though he knew this could get him in trouble. He knew that Herod Antipas would react violently to these charges. You do not cross Herod Antipas and you do not tell him to step down from the throne; but John did it anyway.

Objecting to the marriage was a part of the bigger problems with Herod Antipas, who was unfit to rule. Our Lord faced this evil ruler in trial. Herodias was a perfect match for Herod; immoral, power-hungry, and cruel. She was as great an enemy to John the Baptizer as Herod. She issued the order for him to be arrested. So John was hauled off in chains to the horrible dungeon. This same Herodias contrived John's execution.

Luke 3:20 added still this above all, that he even shut John up in prison.

Our time in this world is short. We can be certain of why we are here. That is our whole reason for being alive after salvation. We will be removed from this life when the reason for our time here is over.

Lesson #0134

John 4: Life of Christ

8/8/2011 Thurs

There are things which happen in people's lives. We have a written record of what Jesus Christ has done. As we go through these narratives, we are believers in Jesus Christ with doctrine in our souls, there is a lot of doctrine to be pulled from the narratives that we study.

It was not physically necessary for Jesus to go through Samaria. Most Jew bypassed Samaria for a number of reasons. Jesus would have found it easy to cross the Jordan River and go up along the river to Galilee, but He went through Samaria.

Samaria was a district where no self-respecting Jew would go. They were syncretistic in their religion; they had departed from Judaism, which put them into bad stead with the Judaistic teachers. They had long departed from Old Testament teaching. They had become a cult. The worshipped at Mount Gerizim.

The Samaritans were a mixed race of people. The Jews were very proud of being racially pure and they were looked down for that reason as well.

John the Baptist had been thrown into prison and there was probably a bounty on Jesus' head and Jesus did not want to run afoul of Herod's police. Jesus knew that they would not be in Samaria. It was not time for Jesus to confront the secular authorities. That was 3 years future.

Jesus was also being led in this direction by God the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit does not lead without a reason in our lives. This is part of His mission in life; this is why He had to go. His leading is part of our life. There is a doctrinal principle to put into our book or into our head and not forget. As we will see, we worship Him in Spirit and in truth.

There was positive volition in this area. There were people ready to hear about the Messiah in that area. Anyone with a spark of desire to know God, to understand how to be saved, God will provide.

Missionaries go out to various places, and they go out and present the gospel to those in need. Now, you might be doing all kinds of things for various natives; but teaching the gospel makes you a missionary; they other stuff is just whatever.

The Jews did not understand the great narrative of Jonah, who was called as a missionary, called to go to a hated gentile people, and he did not want to go. He was tossed over in a storm because he admitted that he was going in the wrong direction.

If God could do anything, then is He not able to make a fish to swallow Jonah? Jonah had some time alone to think about God's leading. The Jews should have known this, but they would have nothing to do with the Samaritans. The sign of Jonah, 3 days and 3 nights in the belly of the fish, as Jesus would be in the center of the earth.

The Holy Spirit gets them there, either in a great fish, or however. When you are ready to go, the Holy Spirit leads you, and sometimes when you are not ready.

John 4:4 And it was necessary for Him to go through Samaria,

Jesus comes to Sychar.

John 4:5 Then He came to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph.

This ancient well can still be seen today. He was in Judæa, then he went straight north, and ended up in Sychar, which is the first major village or town that He went into. There was an oasis that everyone knew about, which is Jacob's well, which Jacob gave to Joseph. Our Lord knew this as well.

This well was in the shadow of Mount Gerizim, whereupon was their great heathen temple. There were all of the other temples that the Romans built to worship their polytheistic gods. Jesus stopped there for a break. It was about 20 miles of hard walking. That is a pretty good road march. He would have been tired, hungry and thirsty. Road marches can certainly be tiring. Jesus is fully human and His feet hurt.

The disciples left the Lord all by Himself.

John 4:6 And Jacob's well was there. Jesus, therefore, being wearied with His journey, sat thus upon the well. It was about the sixth hour.

A woman comes from Samaria to draw water, and Jesus says to her, "Give me a drink." It would seem to be a fairly simple thing. However, this was not just some casual remark. This was an amazing 4 words. Jesus will use His need for water in order to open up a dialogue with this woman. This woman was an outcast. She was the lowest of the low.

This was a mile there and a mile back, and most did this with others. This woman came by herself.

We studied Nicodemus in John 3. The subject is exactly the same. Salvation. The approach that Jesus takes is different. There is the whole spectrum of those who need salvation. This Samaritan woman could not be more opposite to Nicodemus. Nicodemus was a pharisee; a highly respected learned man. This woman did not know the Old Testament and the Samaritans have perverted the Old Testament. This woman was despised, even by her own people. She was a libertine of foreign extraction. She is not the self righteous legalist that Nicodemus was.

Nicodemus planned his visit by night, but he was seeking information from our Lord. The meeting that Jesus has more by chance. This woman was only interested in getting some water. She was sarcastic at first, even hostile. Nicodemus was more respectful.

There were huge social barriers at this time. Men and women at this time did not just strike up conversations with one another. A Jewish rabbi would rather die of thirst than talk to a Samaritan woman.

Nicodemus and this woman both need to be born again. They both needed what our Lord had to offer. Jesus could not ignore that need. Salvation was not limited to the Jews. It was offered to all of the various races and nationalities, whether this is a mixed race or not, a different nation or not; and there were no limitations to males only, to upper classes only, to the worst of sinners as well as to the most self righteous people. We are all in need of God's grace.

Some have said, I certainly hope that person or that race or that group are not in heaven. This is not the way a believer ought to think. No one ought to want anyone to spend eternity in the Lake of Fire.

Jesus did not turn His back on anyone; He is a Savior of all men and of all women. There are no other barriers which stand in the way. That is grace. The conversation began by Jesus Christ was virtually an impossibility. By all rights, no rabbi would speak to this Samaritan woman.

Just speaking to her is a breaking down of all normal conditions of the ancient world. All of them. There was something more important than convention, gender or class. Jesus associated with tax collectors, and they were a hated group at that time. He associated with prostitutes and sinners of all sorts. They all responded to His message of grace. Sometimes the worst respond more quickly to grace. We are all in need of God's grace. Jesus never treated anyone as inferiors nor did He shun them. The gospel clearly reveal that some of Jesus closest companions were some of the worst people in society (by society's standards).

The women were the first to come to the tomb of Jesus. They loved Him very much and He loved them. They had great associations. Feminism has no case against Jesus Christ, yet they make one all the time.

How Jesus Dealt with Women

1. He treated women with the utmost respect.
2. He would never think of treating a woman as Islam does today, as inferiors and as slaves, with no rights at all, as property of their husbands.
3. There are specific roles for men and women. When the Angelic Conflict comes out, there will be a good section on women and their relationship to the Angelic Conflict.
4. The Mosaic Law gave women equal status before the Law. Ex. 21:22-25
5. The Mosaic Law showed protection and respect for both genders, slaves and servants. The Old Testament did not comment slavery any more than it did polygamy, but it did regulate the institution of slavery. It is too bad the feminists do not have the guts to speak out against Islam as biased against women. These actions would endanger their lives. Draw a cartoon, and their lives are threatened. It is much safer to attack a group that will not threaten them, than it is to attack Islam.
6. John 4:7 Jesus should never have spoken to her, but He did.
7. First and foremost, regardless of gender, race or religion comes evangelism. That ought to be our thinking as well. Jesus let nothing stop Him; no racial or class barriers; nothing. The greatest favor anyone could do for anyone else is to lead them to Christ. You are presented eternal life to them through Jesus Christ. The concern our Lord had was always priority. So He spoke to this woman, a woman that no self-respecting rabbi would speak to. She was dirt. Racially inferior. She was immoral and belonged to a syncretistic religion.

John 4:7 A woman of Samaria came to draw water. Jesus said to her, Give me to drink.

John 4:8 (For His disciples had gone away into the city to buy food.)

So the woman speaks to Him. She must have been surprised the Jesus spoke to her. She was a gross Samaritan and Jews would not even use the dishes or cups of Samaritans, much less speak to them. But what will Jesus drink from? Her bucket. They were an unclean people to the legalistic Jews.

To eat of their bread would be like eating swine flesh. It is totally unclean for Jews to eat pork.

Mark 12:14 When they came, they said to Him, "Teacher, we know You are truthful and defer to no one, for You don't show partiality but teach truthfully the way of God. Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar or not?"

This was a trap; they buttered Him up and then posed a question they expected to catch Him on.

Mark 12:15 Should we pay, or should we not pay?" But knowing their hypocrisy, He said to them, "Why are you testing Me? Bring Me a denarius to look at."

The pharisees and Herodians expected to catch Jesus here. Jews hated paying taxes to Rome and this was the law of the land. The Romans saw Cæsar as a god; but Jesus did not.

Mark 12:16 So they brought one. "Whose image and inscription is this?" He asked them. "Caesar's," they said.

Bobby has a silver dollar from 1976.

Mark 12:17 Then Jesus told them, "Give back to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's." And they were amazed at Him.

In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth, which included every element as well. So every metal coin represents God, because God created that coin.

To become a coin, there must be a proper mixture of metal, and the coin is made by the country in which it is used. We do not produce or stamp our own coins.

We did not just occur after years of evolution.

There is the image of Dwight Eisenhower, which is an image of man. God gave His Own image to man at creation. Only mankind uniquely reflects God. That image of the soul is defaced. Our souls were created perfect, but it has been marred by sin. Man cannot restore that scored face. Someday, man will stand before the throne of God and be judged unless he finds the Savior.

It is appointed to man to die once and then the judgement.

When this coin is circulated, it becomes the medium of exchange. It can be a blessing and it can be a cursing. Any person can put a shiny coin close to his eye and blind himself. His materialistic lust causes him to search out money over everything else. This coin will not buy the most precious commodity of all. It cannot buy our salvation. Jesus' work alone is the medium of exchange for our eternal future. His substitutionary spiritual death gives us access to God the Father. Only His work has value in the spiritual realm.

The metal in the silver dollar is malleable; it can be shaped and stamped. Believers in Jesus Christ need to be like the silver coin; malleable. Ready and willing to learn. Too many believers are stubborn and brittle. Every believer should be teachable.

“If any man is willing to do God’s will, then he will know of the teaching.”

On the face of the silver coin is a stamped set of representative phrases. Under the Liberty Bell we have the stamp one dollar. It is not hypocritical; it is worth what it says what it is worth. We cannot hide from the lack of value that the Bible stamps on each one of us. The coin reminds us of our less than shining value in the eyes of God. We are unable to have a relationship with Him and we fall short of His perfect righteousness. He can have nothing to do with us as tarnished humanity. Through faith alone in Christ alone, we, the undeserving, are justified. The silver dollar reminds us of our true worth, which is centered in the Word of God.

The United States of America is where the coin was minted. Jesus Christ conferred value upon the individual soul which He created and gave life to each one of us.

Liberty is proclaimed on both sides of the Eisenhower dollar. This is what we Americans truly cherish. This is why our soldiers, then and now, die on the battlefield; Liberty is purchased by blood. We were in bondage to sin and the Lord Jesus Christ paid the penalty by the shedding of His Own blood. If the Son will make you free, then you will be free indeed. As people, we have believed in Christ and have appropriated salvation by His death. We have relative security in our country, and perfect security in Christ.

Out of many one is e pluribus unim. We are many people who are in one body. We all possess the same spiritual life. Jesus Christ is the prototype of all believers.

No message today.

Lesson #0136

John 4:4– Life of Christ

8/14/2011 2Sunday

John 4:4–6 He had to travel through Samaria, so He came to a town of Samaria called Sychar near the property that Jacob had given his son Joseph. Jacob's well was there, and Jesus, worn out from His journey, sat down at the well. It was about six in the evening.

This was a well-known well where people came to all of the time.

John 4:7–8 A woman of Samaria came to draw water. "Give Me a drink," Jesus said to her, for His disciples had gone into town to buy food.

Jesus uses His thirst as an illustration of the gospel. This woman is why Jesus stopped at this well.

John 4:9 "How is it that You, a Jew, ask for a drink from me, a Samaritan woman?" she asked Him. For Jews do not associate with Samaritans.

There was to be no association between Jews and Samaritans. They had a different racial makeup and Jews saw them as being inferior and unsavory. There were also severe religious differences. The Samaritans had been conquered by the Assyrians and they were involved in syncretism. This was reprehensible to the Jews belief in One God. These were an apostate people with no hope of redemption, in the eyes of the Jews.

This woman was speaking to the King of Kings. She was overtly immoral and an outcast, even among the Samaritans themselves. The Lord Jesus Christ did not discriminate among persons. She was a lowlife scum, in the eyes of most; and no Jew would have spoken to her. They might not even remain near the well when she is there. But Jesus spoke to her and opened with an unlikely conversation.

Jesus tells her, "If you knew the gift of God and Who is speaking to you, you would have asked for living water from Him.

The Living Water Illustration

1. This is the equivalent gospel to John 3:16.
2. Born again was the illustration to Nicodemus and here, the illustration is living water
3. This is the perfect analogy for the situation.
4. Jacob's well is a place where the necessity of water is clearly emphasized and understood. Everyone came there for water.
5. Everyone needs water for physical life.
6. That is what makes the living water image so appropriate.
7. Water sustains physical life; and the living water preserves a life that is eternal.

John 4:10 Jesus answered and said to her, If you knew the gift of God, and Who it is that says to you, Give Me to drink, you would have asked of Him, and He would have given you living water.

Jesus begins with the particle εἰ. Then he uses the pluperfect tense of οἶδα; a common word and a very uncommon tense. 1st class condition used here. This woman does not know with Whom she is speaking. She must accept by faith Who Jesus is. This is a gospel presentation. The condition is, you must believe in Him.

The pluperfect of οἶδα. This is very rare in the New Testament. It stands out. This is a doubling of the perfect tense, which makes it a much more intense perfect tense. If she had known the Son of God in the past, then there are intense results. The emphasis is like a neon sign blinking on and off. This is hypercritical knowledge. She is to hear and consider. So many times when witnessing to people, you are enthusiastic and you know how important the gospel is. You are so intense, you want to shove it down their throat and you want them to make a decision right then and there. We have an obligation to witness to everyone, believer or not. But we are not to force it on anyone.

A couple of weeks ago, Bobby's platoon sergeant came and Bobby was not certain if he was a believer in Jesus Christ. You cannot go directly at him. Bobby was not sure what they had talked about 35 years ago, so Bobby wanted to make certain to hear the gospel. There are no coincidences in life. If you are ready, God will send these people to you. This woman did not walk into this oasis where Jesus was by accident. It all comes together for a reason. If you do not think this way, you miss out on these opportunities.

Jesus is not offering her an actual liquid; but just as she desires water from the well, so Jesus was offering her eternal water for her spiritual life. And she looks at him, and he does not have a bucket and a rope.

Jesus Offers Her Water

1. Jesus plays on her need for physical water.
2. She needs spiritual water even more.
3. The pluperfect tense indicates that she must understand Who is offering this water and exactly what this water is.

John 4:10 Jesus answered and said to her, "If you knew the gift of God, and Who it is that says to you, 'Give Me to drink,' you would have asked of Him, and He would have given you living water."

The woman looks at Jesus and He has no bucket. Her thinking is reflected in the next 2 verses; she gets a little arrogant as well.

John 4:11 The woman said to Him, "Sir, you have no vessel, and the well is deep. From where then do you have that living water?"

Sometimes people are sarcastic and they still want answers.

John 4:12 Are you greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank of it himself, and his children and his cattle?"

Are You greater than Jacob, our father? Jacob dug this well. He did it to provide life-giving water in the desert, for his family and livestock. Many centuries later, it still provides water. The woman's question is, "Are You greater than Jacob, who dug this well?"

The unspoken answer in the woman's mind is, "Jacob is much greater." Her mind was on the physical water from the well. There is an analogy here, just like being born again. She is dripping with sarcasm here. "Can You offer me something more than Jacob?"

John 4:13 Jesus answered and said to her, "Whoever drinks of this water shall thirst again,

John 4:14 but whoever drinks of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst, but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.”

She has to come to this well each and every day just to survive. And Jesus speaks about drinking once and never being thirsty again. There is literal water and figurative water; just like the births spoken of in John 3.

The woman suddenly begins to understand what He is saying to her. There is a life-giving quality to the well of Jacob. She is to draw from a well provided by Christ. His water springs up for eternal life. She could provide Him with physical water and He could provide her with eternal water, and one drink and she will never thirst again. Faith alone in Christ alone means one gulp for an eternally secure future.

This is clear to us and she does not quite get it yet.

Lesson #0137

John 4:11–19 Life of Christ

8/17/2011 Wed

The Lord has opened a conversation with a Samaritan woman. There is not just a drink of physical water, but the illustration is about eternal life. Jesus is the truth and the life, and no one comes to the Father but through Him.

This woman would be seen as racially impure and her religion as spiritual impure. The woman is skeptical about this situation.

John 4:11 The woman said to Him, “Sir, you have no vessel, and the well is deep. From where then do you have that living water?”

She is skeptical, if not a little sarcastic.

John 4:12 Are you greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank of it himself, and his children and his cattle?”

She belittles Jesus here. Jacob provided water by digging this well for his family. Are You are great as the one who dug this well.

Sarcasm and mockery is difficult for a lot of people. This is a personal affront. Someone is laughing at you or this reveals their disdain of you. Jesus was not even remotely insulted here. Jesus ignores her sarcasm and focuses in on the true issues.

Jesus will compare the water of Jacob’s well with the water that He is offering. A temporary quenching of thirst versus an eternal quenching of thirst.

John 4:13 Jesus answered and said to her, “Whoever drinks of this water shall thirst again,

Every person who drinks from this water will thirst again. You have to keep drawing water and drink it, over and over again.

John 4:14 but whoever drinks of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst, but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.”

The water that Jesus gives is that which a person will never thirst again. We understand this, and this woman wants this water, but she does not understand exactly what Jesus is saying.

John 4:15 The woman said to Him, “Sir, give me this water, so that I may not thirst nor come here to draw.”

“How are you going to do this? Where is this water? I don’t see anywhere that you can go and get it.” She is now thinking, and she is now attuned to what he is saying.

This is the same gospel as Jesus offered to Nicodemus. However, with a different illustration. Their reactions are exactly the same.

What she understands so far, all she has to do is to drink some sort of water from Him, some man she does not know, and she will never thirst again. “What’s this guy’s angle?” One drink of life-giving water, and she would never thirst again.

It is easy to understand her sarcasm and her disbelief. However the analogy strikes her, and there is the fact that Jesus is speaking the truth to her. The time and the place and the circumstance are all apropos to the analogy that Jesus is saying.

When you witness, you must think about your circumstances. You must think about the person that you are speaking to. What is attention getting. People will ask you questions and reveal where they are in their souls.

This woman lives a subsistence living. Every day she had to draw water. It took time every single day to make this happen. All of their lives were involved with basic needs.

Jesus took advantage of the situation and what was on this woman’s mind. Jesus has used water before. John 3:25? water is used.

At Jacob’s well, the analogy is living water; not water to wash in, but water to drink. They both represent regeneration and eternal life.

When you cannot answer a question that is so profound, then they have to answer the question. Bobby likes memorial services for this reason; people are faced with death and he can give the answer they are looking for; or deal with the issue that they must face.

By drinking this gift of water, this is believing in Christ, all of this woman’s would be satisfied. The water of regeneration springing up in her soul.

This Is Another Way to View this Analogy

1. Drawing well water requires work on the person desiring water. The water is dropped down into the well and the water is brought up. That is legalism.
2. The inner spring of water that Jesus was offering had no work involved.
3. It is accepted by someone else who has already drawn it.
4. Taking a drink of this water is expressing faith in Jesus Christ. That means, no works.
5. This is a perfect picture of grace, which will be presented in several ways. "You don't have to work for this water I will give you."
6. The Holy Spirit brings regeneration, the creation of the human spirit in the one who drinks of the living water. That is the well springing up.
7. After this revelation, the woman makes a reply.

John 4:15 The woman said to Him, "Sir, give me this water, so that I may not thirst nor come here to draw."

She desires this water that Jesus is offering. But she is confused about exactly what Jesus is offering. Jesus approaches her in an oblique way. He knows this woman is baffled and he knows this woman is wary. She is offered this water, even though she does not deserve it. The water, she must understand, is a free gift, drawn for her and for all those who come to drink.

Then Jesus throws her off balance by asking her to go get her husband.

John 4:16 Jesus said to her, Go, call your husband and come here.

This woman had 5 husbands and a current live-in.

John 4:17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said to her, You have well said, I have no husband

Jesus recognizes what she said is accurate.

John 4:18 for you have had five husbands, and he whom you now have is not your husband. In that you spoke truly.

You have had 5 husbands and now you have a live in. This man understood her shame and why she came by herself to this well. He knew that she had daisy chained marriages, and she was quite cynical about marriage. She had tried and failed. She knew that she was undeserving of this water. "Everyone in this town knows that I am a tramp."

She believed that she was not good enough to be saved. That is the step prior to salvation. That is part of the necessary thought process. This is obvious to her; most people do not recognize this.

She believes that Jesus is treating her in a legalistic way. What did Jesus want to do here? He wanted to reveal to her this need, a need other than physical water.

She admits, "I have no husband."

What Jesus Is Leading Her to

1. This is where Jesus wants her; to give up.
2. He wants her to know that there is nothing that she can do.
3. He is bringing her to the point where she recognizes that her need is outside of herself.

John 4:18 for you have had five husbands, and he whom you now have is not your husband. In that you spoke truly.

Now she asks herself, how does He know all of this? This is another example of how to witness to Jesus Christ. All people have to understand that there is no way that they can deserve heaven or buy their way into heaven.

Why doesn't God fix things for me? You need to reach the point where you recognize that you need something outside of yourself. The only way is Bible doctrine. We know what is happening here is the Lord Jesus Christ is showing His omniscience.

John 4:19 The woman said to Him, Sir, I perceive that you are a prophet.

She recognizes that Jesus is a prophet. She knows that Jesus is from God. The one offering her this supernatural water is He Himself supernatural. He had no contact with her before and yet He knows all about her. She realizes that Jesus has a message just for her.

Application More often than not, your witness to an unbeliever is a process. However, it is rare that you tell them, they hear it for the first time, and buy into it. Several people may have already witnessed to him before. People have to come to a point where they understand the gospel and are receptive to it. They may throw the gospel right back in your face, and end up considering it later.

Child evangelism is so important, because they are more accepting of what they hear. We, as witnesses, may be at the beginning, middle or end of this entire process. It does not matter whether you get a notch on your belt or not. Planting the gospel seed is just as important as watching it flower. Whenever you can plant the seed, then take it. When you present the gospel, the Holy Spirit can take it and use it. Some of us sow and some of us reap. Some of us will see the result of the seed and some will not.

We know those who need the gospel and these are people you are usually in contact with. Have a plan; be ready for the opportunity.

The Samaritan woman was confused about this living water, but she did understand Jesus to be a prophet; and whatever it is, she wants it.

She asks for this water from Jesus but it is a misunderstanding by her. She believes that she can drink a clear liquid and never be thirsty again.

John 4:15 The woman said to Him, “Sir, give me this water, so that I may not thirst nor come here to draw.”

Jesus does not correct her thinking here. He knows that she is not quite ready to catch on to what Jesus is saying. She is not yet ready to accept this stranger and what He is offering.

Jesus then changes the direction of the conversation. When you are interested in something, and someone changes the subject, you are still thinking about that thing. Jesus moves on with this conversation.

Jesus will give her an incentive to accept Him as her Savior. His evangelism must extend beyond this woman.

John 4:16 Jesus said to her, “Go, call your husband and come here.”

This brings us to the problem in her own life. She thinks that this man who started this conversation is looking to taunt her.

John 4:17 The woman answered and said, “I have no husband.: Jesus said to her, “You have well said, I have no husband

Jesus is a complete stranger and he knows about her previous husbands and about her current live-in. This stranger sees right through her. This shocks her.

John 4:18 for you have had five husbands, and he whom you now have is not your husband. In that you spoke truly.”

It dawns on her that this is no ordinary man. She recognizes that He is different than what she expected. This is because of our Lord's omniscience.

She calls him a prophet. He tells her stuff that He should not know.

John 4:19 The woman said to Him, Sir, I perceive that you are a prophet.

Her conversation with Jesus will turn theological. She did not want to discuss her marital failures with Jesus, so this changes the subject on Jesus. She is not interested in discussing her private life with Jesus, but this is pertinent to the conversation because Jesus brought it up.

Why Did Jesus Bring up this Subject?

1. Jesus brought this up so that she would face her unworthiness. Jesus wanted to make certain that she understood her unworthiness.
2. Jesus wanted her to recognize the nature of God's grace in the face of her total unworthiness.
3. She must recognize that God's grace will overcome her unworthiness. She is a very immoral woman.

She is branded and Jesus is not going to take her through a 12-step program. Jesus was looking to her to change her thinking; and changing the thinking also changes her evil ways.

V. 20 is her own theological dodge. The Samaritans worship in this mountain and You Jews say that we ought to be worshipping in Jerusalem. These people had been at odds for years over this situation. This goes back to 721 B.C., and many of them intermarried with the Assyrians, so they were told that they could not have a part in building the Temple. So, they decided if they could not have a part there, that they would worship God in their own way, which would include syncretism. This was an unresolved topic that had deeply divided these cousins for centuries. This is actually a very good question, considering.

She reasoned, if this man is from God, then He can answer the question. She thought that her understanding might give her some other status as well in her own city.

She points up to Mount Gerizim, fully visible from the well.

John 4:20 Our fathers worshiped in this mountain, and you say that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship."

Jesus goes off to explain what is going to transpire. The hour is coming, simply refers to a time in the future.

Jesus tells her that there will be a time in the future when they would worship in neither place. Both the Samaritans and the Jews had their own specific place to worship. Jesus said there would be a time where God would not be worshiped in either place.

What Was Jesus Saying?

1. This negated the importance of any one building or place. Jesus went to the Temple and presented Himself as the Messiah, as the Shekinah Glory.
2. God would be worshiped anywhere and everywhere. No matter where a person was, they could worship Him. This was a big change.
3. It is how you worship; not where you worship. That is true today.

4. If God is localized, then he is confined to one place. Jesus met Israel and presided over the Ark of the Covenant. He chose to localize Himself so that Israel could meet Him there. All of the things which occurred were teaching aids. The Temple was very important. It was a localized place where they could go to understand spiritual information.
5. It was only at this place that was acceptable for worship.
6. Now, God is not a physical or localized presence; He is Spirit, as we will see. However, as Spirit, He is no less real.

This Samaritan woman did not realize that she was looking into the face of Jesus, the God-man. She was right where she ought to worship.

John 4:21 Jesus said to her, "Woman, believe Me, the hour is coming when you shall neither worship the Father in this mountain nor yet at Jerusalem.

Jesus continues speaking to her. "You worship that which you do not know and we Jews worship what we do know, because salvation is of the Jews." The Samaritan holy mountain is not the proper place to worship because it was mixed with heathen religion and idolatry.

"There are all of these idols who are there in your place of worship, so that you do not know who you are worshiping." Salvation would not come by means of the Samaritans.

The Answer Is the Jews

1. Israel is the nation that God chose.
2. Israel was the nation which received the Abrahamic covenant.
3. The nation in this covenant was promised blessing through a Savior, which goes back to Gen. 3:15. The Jews looked for the Messiah, throughout that age of Israel.
4. The Messiah was a Jew. He would be a descendant of Abraham and David. He would be David's Greater Son.
5. The Samaritans were not a part of this racial plan of God. The Jews were the centerpiece of God's plan during the Age of Israel. The line of Messiah could not come through the Samaritans.

All Jews were not saved because they are Jews. Salvation comes through the Messiah; through the Savior. Salvation was available through the line of Abraham. Jesus is slowly bring this woman to an understanding of salvation consists of and Who provides it. Jesus will then reveal that, He is the One. This woman has to travel through some theology first, which deals with some of the things which she believes.

It is not the Jews but it is from the Jews. It was Jesus Who stood in front of this woman at that moment. He would offer Himself as Savior to her and to her live-in bf.

Now, that these Jews would make the Samaritans a part of this salvation is amazing. And the lowest of that time period in that city would bring them the news of the Savior.

John 4:22 You worship what you do not know, we know what we worship, for salvation is of the Jews.

Jesus tells her that the hour has come when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and in truth.

John 4:23 But the hour is coming, and now is, when the true worshipers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth, for the Father seeks such to worship Him.

Lesson #0139

John 4:20–24 Life of Christ

8/21/2011 1Sunday

This person is there for water, and the people that we speak to must have a reason to engage with us. Before this woman can drink, she needs to understand certain critical concepts about this living water.

This woman has 5 husbands and a live-in. This is not a judgment of her or her lifestyle. He confronts her with her own inability to gain this living water on her own. She cannot draw this water from just any well. In fact, only the Person standing in front of her can offer this to her.

The concept of grace; God does it for us. There is nothing that we can do to drink from the living water. She cannot forget this illustration. This entire concept is embedded in her mind for her own unworthiness. In this exchange, as she listens, she cringes a bit, because she knows this outcast condition has affected her.

Jesus knows things about her that she has not revealed to others. All of her infidelity and promiscuity and all of the rest. Has her reputation gone beyond Sicar? Not that she knew of. So, Jesus was demonstrating to her His omniscience. There is no way that she could know the things of her life. He is God and man standing right in front of her. Any presentation of the gospel should include who Christ is and a presentation of the gospel.

Jehovah's Witnesses interfaced with Bobby and he spoke to them, knowing exactly what they are going to say. Bobby said, "Then you're not a Christian; you are a cult. You are working to gain heaven. You must do this to be the 144,000." A presentation of the gospel must include Who Jesus is and what He did.

This woman realizes something; this man is certainly from God. He knows things that no one else would know. She does not want to discuss her personal failures with Him. So she changes the conversation. She turns to a theological subject, and she takes the lead in this discussion.

John 4:20 Our fathers worshiped in this mountain, and you say that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship."

This has been a place of contention between Jews and Samaritans over the place of worship. For this woman, this was a red herring; she just asked this question to throw Jesus off from herself. This is one of the few things which this woman was able to discuss.

John 4:21 Jesus said to her, "Woman, believe Me, the hour is coming when you shall neither worship the Father in this mountain nor yet at Jerusalem.

The hour is coming refers to a future time. This is a time to be designated, and worship of God would no longer be limited to a specific geographical area. God will be able to be worshiped in any place. The key will be how one worships and not where. It has always been about how one worships; but now, the place is taken away.

John 4:22 You worship what you do not know, we know what we worship, for salvation is of the Jews.

The key is to worship in Spirit and in truth. There is a time period mentioned, which is after the crucifixion. This was a transition dispensation. When that time comes, when our Lord is crucified, resurrected then the Church Age will begin.

There are Christian sects which believe in a specialized priesthood. But we all represent ourselves before God. There are no holy days or festivals either. None of this is applicable; it will all pass away.

John 4:23 But the hour is coming, and now is, when the true worshipers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth, for the Father seeks such [persons] to worship Him.

What Is the Point Our Lord Is Making?

1. After this time, the new dispensation, believers would acknowledge in worship, in spirit and in truth, what had been portrayed before by the visual Old Testament ritual.
2. A new mode of worship would be initiated. Jesus was the way, the truth and the life; the only avenue to God the Father.
3. Since His work would have been accomplished when the hour had come, when He ascended and would reside in heaven, then there would be this new method of worshipping Him, in Spirit and in truth.
4. However he was present on earth and the visible object of worship, removing Temple worship. All of the sacrifices pointed to Him.
5. The sacrifices and rituals were becoming obsolete.
6. The sacrifices that portrayed Him were no longer necessary for worship or for teaching aids to the atonement and the forgiveness of sins.
7. The atonement was revealed in the Person of the Lord Jesus Christ. It was actualized by Him; no more shadow sacrifices. The reality was happening right before their eyes.
8. His explanation: "God is Spirit, and those who worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth."

Charismatics seriously depart from the mode of worship. In order to worship something, it must be in a certain mode that you understand.

John 4:24 God is a Spirit, and they who worship Him must worship in spirit and in truth."

There is a preface to this verse. This is a statement of God that we cannot overlook. God is spirit defines divine reality. This does not refer to the Holy Spirit only. This refers to all members of the Godhead, including the pre-incarnate Jesus Christ before the crucifixion. As finite beings, we cannot truly understand Him.

Who God is

1. God is Spirit.
2. God is a self-existent being; He does not depend upon anything; we are dependent upon a variety of things.
3. God is a self-conscious Being; He is able to objectify Himself.
4. God is self-determining. He has will.
5. God is the origin of all things. He is the uncaused cause. He transcends all things. Deists: God is over creation, but He is not intimately involved in creation.
6. God possesses life. Ex 3:14 I am.
7. God is presented in the Bible as a person. He has attributes. He has some that we ourselves can understand. This is justice, love and omnipotence.
8. God is not just a big bang; He is not just a spark of life.

God has nothing to do with sorcery, necromancy, etc.

John 4:24 God is a Spirit, and they who worship Him must worship in spirit and in truth."

Lesson #0140

John 4:24 Life of Christ

8/21/2011 2Sunday

John 4:24 God is a Spirit, and they who worship Him must worship in spirit and in truth."

In the world of humanism, man defines himself and then defines God based upon himself. You cannot do this in true theology. God must be defined first.

God is entirely incomprehensible, but He has assented to reveal some things about Himself, things which can be known. Even though God's existence as Spirit is not something that we can fully understand, as we are oriented to a corporal body, yet life without a body seems incomprehensible to us. Yet we can know things about God that He reveals to us.

John here, gives us a great truth about God. God is not a ghost; He is not a spirit.

God as a Spirit

1. God is altogether distinct from the physical world.
2. God is invisible.
3. This means that a spiritual entity cannot be discerned with the 5 senses.
4. This is why no man has or can see God. 1Tim.6:15b–16a He is the blessed and only Sovereign, the King of kings, and the Lord of lords, the only One who has immortality, dwelling in unapproachable light, whom none of mankind has seen or can see, to whom be honor and eternal might. Ex. 33:20 But He answered, "You cannot see My face, for no one can see Me and live."
5. If God made Himself totally visible to us, as described anthropomorphically by the phrase "See My face" His omnipotence, glory would strike us dead. We can understand blinding light.
6. Therefore, if God is to become visible to us, it must be to us in a very limited way. We cannot see the full glory of God. How would He do that?
7. God must enter into our finite sphere of space and time because we cannot enter into His, at least at this point in our lives as finite human beings. God has shown Himself in material forms at various times. He has become a form, a substance, at different times. Jesus is undiminished Deity and true humanity. Jesus Christ reveals God. As man, we are able to understand God, to some degree. This existence is entirely alien to God. God Himself condescended to be in the form of man.

God Reveals Himself.

1. During the incarnation, the Lord Jesus Christ was transfigured; He gave a muted glimpse of His Deity. Matt. 17:2 He was transformed in front of them, and His face shone like the sun. Even His clothes became as white as the light. These disciples could barely grasp what was occurring, and there was only a suppressed demonstration of the glory of God. Any full revelation of Himself would have melted them on the spot. This was stunning.
2. All 3 members of the Trinity were all manifested in some form, with the Holy Spirit descending as a dove.
3. God also revealed Himself in theophanies.
 - 1) Jesus manifested Himself as the Angel of the Lord. Gen. 16:7–ff Num.
 - 2) The burning bush was a theophany. There is light involved; and the burning represents judgment.
 - 3) God passed by Moses when Moses was on the mountain, but Moses could not look. Ex. 33:21–23
 - 4) Moses got several indirect looks. Ex. 34: face to face God descends with a face of light.
 - 5) God revealed Himself in certain forms so that we could understand, to some limited degree, His Person.

There is a divine environment in which God lives, but there are no words to describe this. We can see God through the results of what God has created. This has an infinite scope; an unending space. The incomprehensible is understood in a limited way. Who has not gazed at the stars and wondered about God and His infinity. All of this is related to light. We also see Him when He chooses to present Himself in a tangible form.

In His spiritual existence, God is no less real and no less personal.

God's Form of Existence

1. God as Spirit describes an essential characteristic of His personal existence.
2. God is Spirit; or God = Spirit. The true mode of God, His form is not a form, but Spirit.
3. God is not composed of matter nor does He have a physical nature.
4. God is entirely immaterial with none of the properties belonging to the physical universe. None of our 5 senses are enough to behold God. He is entirely immaterial like our souls. Our souls are totally immaterial.
5. As Spirit, even though God has no recognizable form, He is still a substantial being.
6. God does not have the limitations true of anything composed of material substances. All material substances are limited in size and scope. This is only so much material in the universe.
7. God cannot be confined to a geographical location.
8. As Spirit, God is omnipresent, not subject to the limitations of space. We can look through a telescope. There are no edges to space. We can see things that are in space, but we cannot come to the end of space. Space is an undefinable immense area.
9. There is no concept of location with regards to God. He is beyond space and time. Acts 17:24 The God who made the world and everything in it--He is Lord of heaven and earth and does not live in shrines made by hands. Neither is He served by human hands, as though He needed anything, since He Himself gives everyone life and breath and all things. From one man He has made every nation of men to live all over the earth and has determined their appointed times and the boundaries of where they live, so that they might seek God, and perhaps they might reach out and find Him, though He is not far from each one of us. For in Him we live and move and exist, as even some of your own poets have said, 'For we are also His offspring.' Being God's offspring, then, we shouldn't think that the divine nature is like gold or silver or stone, an image fashioned by human art and imagination. God cannot be confined to any geographical locale. However, at some point, He condescended to reside in specific places. Only once a year, the High Priest could enter into the Holy of Holies as a part of the worship service. The Temple was an illustration. There is nothing that we can build to attract God. We can meet God there because God deemed that to happen. God brought space and time into being; but God is not subject to space or time.

In our thinking, omnipresence means that there is no place where God cannot be found. Wherever man could go, man will be there. Psalm 139:7–12 Where can I go to escape Your Spirit? Where can I flee from Your presence? If I go up to heaven, You are there; if I make my bed in Sheol, You are there. If I live at the eastern horizon or settle at the western limits, even there Your hand will lead me; Your right hand will hold on to me. If I say, "Surely the darkness will hide me, and the light around me will become night"-- even the darkness is not dark to You. The night shines like the day; darkness and light are alike to You.

The Lord Jesus Christ is the visible member of the godhead. He brings understand of invisible God and His plan, especially, His invisible plan of salvation. We worship Him as God, as our soul connection to God, as the One Who explains God.

John 4:24 God is a Spirit, and they who worship Him must worship in spirit and in truth."

Lesson #0141

John 4:24–26 Life of Christ

8/24/2011 Wed

Major Udall passed away. Freedom Through Military Victory has Colonel Udell doing a flyover with 3 other planes for the 4th of July celebrations.

John 4:24 God is a Spirit, and they who worship Him must worship in spirit and in truth."

God needs to be explained to our finite mind. He is intangible; no one has seen Him. He is entirely immaterial. He has none of the qualities belonging to the physical universe. He exists as Spirit and in no other way. God is knowable; He is not completely beyond our reach. He is imminent and transcendent. He does not create the world and mankind and let us run amuck; He is closely involved with creation from the beginning and continually. God does exist and we can know Him through His creation. He can be known in other ways as well. He has appeared in other material forms as well.

Jesus is distinct from other than that which He created. The Pillar of Fire by night and the Cloud by Day are both Theophanies. The greatest manifestation of God is Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ is the One Who most reveals God. He is the revelation of God to us.

The Bible also describes God in human terms. An anthropomorphism (= the body or form of a man) and an anthropopathism (some form that God takes; it can refer to human thoughts or emotions). God is not limited to corrupted mankind. He does not have those attributes.

These reveal and explain God and divine policy to our finite minds. When the Bible ascribes these aspects to God, He does not have emotions or jealousy; but these anthropopathisms describe His policies.

God has love and righteousness and justice. He is omnipotent. We can understand power because He has these attributes.

There are other descriptions of God which are beyond our thinking. God is not limited in certain areas; He is not limited in the way the material things are limited. He cannot be confined to a geographical location. To us in human form, being material is almost impossible to understand.

He is omnipresent; He is not subject to the limitations of space. We look at the universe and we think of it as being unlimited and endless space, and yet God cannot be contained by this. He exists in an infinite area.

It is incorrect to think of God as being in a space at all. Omnipresence infers that He is beyond space and time. As finite human beings, He is totally beyond our experience. He has no recognizable material form. He is a substantial being.

He is alive and yet Spirit, omnipresent and alive. He is not an impersonal force of nature. There are those who do not call Him or see Him as God, but as an impersonal force.

God is mentality, He has will, and we are created in His image. As unbelievers we are born dichotomous. Our immaterial part corresponds to His essence, as we are created in His shadow image. His image is marred by sin.

In all of this complexity. Many smarter people than Bobby have made attempts to understand God. There are great geniuses of world history who have tried to understand or find God without Scripture; and this is futile and amusing.

When John wrote, God is Spirit, this is a concept that must be understood to the best of our ability. Since God is Spirit, He must be worshiped in spirit and in truth. The Spirit connects these two things. This is brand new. He life has always been. Israel worshiped God in a Temple and prior to that in a tabernacle. He appeared in a single place at a single time. Over the Ark of the Covenant, above the cherubim. He was no less Spirit or omnipresent than when He dwelt over the mercy seat. Israel worshiped God in a single place.

John 4:24 God is a Spirit, and they who worship Him must worship in spirit and in truth."

All of these things were designed to teach God. This was a revolutionary statement by the Lord Jesus Christ. This changed the history of Israel and the history of believers. This is an amazing statement. We do not worship in a particular place. We can worship God anywhere at anytime in anyplace. All it takes is thought and concentration. All it takes is doctrine. All it takes is worship in Spirit and in truth.

The Samaritan woman raised the issue of the proper place where God is to be worshiped. This is now our way of worship. It carries over to this moment.

The Meaning of in Spirit and in Truth.

1. In Spirit and in truth εν πνευμα και εν αληθεια and these nouns are in the instrumental case.
2. En + the instrumental case means by means of.
3. We worship Him by means of spirit and by means of truth.
4. Therefore, our means of worship is through spirit and truth.

5. God is incomprehensible to the senses of man, and we have nothing within us to explain Who He is. God has provided the environment for us to worship Him. This is the filling of the Holy Spirit and it creates the means of worship. The Holy Spirit reveals God through objective truth about Him. Anything subjective about God depends upon man's knowledge of God. Only divine truth defines God. Bible doctrine is the content of that objective truth. The Holy Spirit reveals the meaning of that truth to us. He teaches our human spirit.

We believe it and the Holy Spirit transfers that doctrine to the right lobe. That is truth in our soul. The Holy Spirit does all of this. When Bobby gives us some doctrine in the Communion service. He gives us time to rebound, to be filled with God the Holy Spirit. We have the ingredients to worship God. We have what it takes to worship God.

Worship of God as a mental attitude of reverence and the correct mental attitude, using the power of God the Holy Spirit. The only way for us as believers to worship God is by means of Spirit and truth. We are the only ones who can be taught by the Spirit.

John 4:25 The woman said to Him, I know that Messiah is coming, who is called Christ. When He has come, He will tell us all things.

The Messiah would appear God and reveal God to them; the Samaritans expect that. Jesus is answering the question of, how do you worship God. This man just might be the Messiah.

She is essentially asking if He is the Messiah. She did believe in the Messiah and that He would appear. She looks at this man, and she does not know his name. She is no different than we are. She just wants some answers. She wanted all of her readings and problems solved.

Sometimes, we have a question for Bobby; sometimes we will write the question or sometimes we grab him and say, "What about this?" Bobby says, these will be answered. She wants an answer she is asking question.

She is expressing positive volition and she expresses a billinigness our hr soul.

John 4:25 The woman said to Him, I know that Messiah is coming, who is called Christ. When He has come, He will tell us all things.

Then Jesus gives the revelation. I am. This woman is devastated; Y^ehowah means I am. This has incredible impact. Only this man can answer all of her questions. He can provide an eternal relationship with Himself and with God.

Making the declaration that He was the Messiah would stir up the hornet's nest of religious zealots. He kept some of these things veiled. He mostly used another title. This was the right thing to say. This was an honest and clear response to this woman.

Samaritans and the Jews both were waiting for the Messiah.

We have the exact same gospel in the Bible as is found in our Lord's ministry. We have the same answers to all of our questions and problems. Therefore, we are without excuse. Everything that our Lord would tell anyone, all the doctrine necessary, and the Bible holds all of it.

John 4:26 Jesus said to her, I AM, the One speaking to you.

Lesson #0142

John 4:27– Life of Christ

8/25/2011 Thurs

Evolution is a humanist religion based upon blind and stupid faith; it is mostly pantheism. Perry said that he did not necessarily in evolution; and another candidate said that he believed in science.

Bobby likes reading Ann Coulter's columns and he reads one. The definition of hell is being condescended to by idiots. About a third of Godless deals with evolution? Liberals do not like to argue back. An hour interview with Matthews, and not one question about evolution; but a show of hands required to say whether one believed in evolution. This is one of the few questions thrown in with no discussion allowed. Liberals quickly surround and humiliate when anyone who disagrees with them.

Advances in science have completely discredited evolution, this mystery religion from the Victorian Age. Complex cellular structure from the beginning. A cell has all of this great complexity. The more we have learned about molecules, cells and DNA, the more preposterous Darwin's theory has become. DNA is like a computer, but far more complex.

The brighter Darwinians wind up sounding more like scientologists. They are committed to coming up with a theory that excludes God.

Jesus' Evangelistic Message to the Woman

1. Jesus Christ introduced water as a metaphor for eternal life. He came to give life-giving water. This is how He opens the conversation.
2. He reveals to the Samaritan woman her need for a Savior. He brings up her live-in guy friend. She knew that she was a sinner and that she had lived a life in a licentious way. The point Jesus was making is, she needed someone to intercede with God on her behalf. She was incapable of coming to God on her own. She had no way to approach God; she was an imperfect person as we all are. This was a lesson in grace; not a lesson in hamartiology. Revealing her raunchy life simply caused her to understand what she needed.
3. Christ revealed the nature of God the Father. And God the Father could be worshiped in any place.
4. Finally, the Lord revealed Himself as the Messiah, as the Savior; the One even the Samaritans were looking for.

This woman was probably convinced of Whom it was Who was speaking to her. She probably ran and left her water pot behind. The disciples could not believe what had happened; this was scandalous.

John 4:27 And upon this His disciples came and marveled that He talked with the woman. However, no one said, What do You seek, or why do You talk with her?

John 4:28 The woman then left her waterpot and went into the city and said to the men,

John 4:29 Come see a man who told me all things that I ever did. Is this One not the Christ?

John 4:30 And they went out of the city and came to Him.

Jesus surprises them.

John 4:31 In the meantime His disciples were asking Him, saying, Master, eat.

They are surprised that he is not eating, but he talks about the food which He has. But He is not talking about physical food, which they don't quite get.

John 4:32 But He said to them, I have food to eat which you do not know.

What Is Jesus' Lesson?

1. He was beginning to indoctrinate His disciples so that, one day, final verbal instructions that they would understand.
2. What they were about to hear from the Lord Jesus Christ was similar if not exactly the same to the final instructions. These are called the Great Commission.

Matt. 28:19–20 Go, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all things which I commanded you. Behold, I am with you always, even to the end of the age." Amen.

3. The training that they needed had begun. In this case, the nation was Samaria.
4. The application was, spread the gospel to everyone. This was a perfect example. The Samaritans were not very well-liked.
5. She had positive volition.
6. She was not the target audience that the Messiah would address. They would not have spoken to her at all, so they were therefore stunned. They would have never evangelized this woman. Their thinking about the gospel had to be changed. This is a very important aspect of renovated thinking. The person we like the least, and that is the person we ought to give the gospel to.
7. They would remember this incident at hearing the great commission.

8. At Jacob's well, Jesus illustrated what they were to do after He ascended. "Evangelize the world; take no regard of a person's race." We fall under the great commission even in our day and time.

Jesus Christ is the prototype. He is the prototype of those things that we are mandated, as believers in Jesus Christ, to do. The doctrinal lesson began with a question among themselves. Jesus is deep in conversation after this long walk.

John 4:33 Therefore the disciples said to one another, No one brought Him anything to eat?

Jesus explains Himself.

John 4:34 Jesus said to them, My food is to do the will of Him who sent Me and to finish His work.

His body works like ours does. If He did not eat, he got hungry. His mission was infinitely more important. Rangers are trained to exhibit; they are deprived of food and sleep. This is not training a person to be miserable. This is also more than just an exercise in gutting it out. The real purpose is an exercise in mission accomplishment regardless of circumstances. Mission is always first; eat and sleep later. This is inculcated as a principle of leadership in Ranger school. When you concentrate on the mission, then your thinking about the other things fade. You also know that you can do it. Failure is not an option. This is true in the spiritual life as well.

Bobby was watching the movie Luther. "Here I stand; I can do no other." He could not abandon the mission. He had no choice. He understood his mission that doctrinal reform was more important than life itself.

Rangers fail, but it is not an option for them. Luther was indoctrinated, and failure was not an option.

Mission first; failure is not an option. This was demonstrated the most at the cross. This should be our motto as well.

This is the message of Jacob's well.

John 4:35 Do you not say, It is yet four months, and the harvest comes? Behold, I say to you, Lift up your eyes and look on the fields, for they are white to harvest already.

Lesson #0143

John 4:25–35 Life of Christ
The Samaritan Woman

8/28/2011 1Sunday

Jesus is going back to his home. Most of the events of His life take place in Galilee. He made a stop in Samaria at Sicar. His disciples went to look for food in the main city, and Jesus is at Jacob's well and a woman shows up, by herself, to this well. She is an outcast; she shows up with no friends. She sees this lone man and she ignores Him. Then, suddenly, this Jew speaks to her. What more, He asks for water from her. No Jew would ask for anything like this from a Samaritan.

Jesus was conducting parallel missions at Jacob's well, all at once. Obviously, the evangelize this woman, whom He knew would arrive there. A second critical reason for stopping here was for a doctrinal lesson for the disciples, something that they could learn in no other way at Jacob's well. This lesson would be inculcated over and over to the disciples; that they were to go to all the world and to make disciples of all the nations. This command began right here at Jacob's well, with this Samaritan woman.

John 4:25 The woman said to Him, I know that Messiah is coming, who is called Christ. When He has come, He will tell us all things.

Based upon this and what Jesus says here, the woman knows Who Jesus is.

John 4:26 Jesus said to her, I AM, the One speaking to you.

John 4:27 And upon this His disciples came and marveled that He talked with the woman. However, no one said, What do You seek, or why do You talk with her?

The woman left her waterpot behind, and she ran to the city. This indicates that she believes in Him and she is going to tell everyone else about Jesus.

John 4:28 The woman then left her waterpot and went into the city and said to the men,

The disciples returned and they saw Jesus speaking to this woman, and this was scandalous. You did not just speak to women like that, alone; particularly, a great Rabbi as Jesus was; and to a Samaritan woman, it was simply unheard of.

They express great confusion—why do you even talk with her?

John 4:27 And upon this His disciples came and marveled that He talked with the woman. However, no one said, What do You seek, or why do You talk with her?

John 4:29 Come see a man who told me all things that I ever did. Is this One not the Christ?

John 4:30 And they went out of the city and came to Him.

Then the disciples told Jesus that they had food and suggested that they all eat.

John 4:31 In the meantime His disciples were asking Him, saying, Master, eat.

Then Jesus confuses them.

John 4:32 But He said to them, I have food to eat which you do not know.

These disciples were totally baffled by this. They went into town and Jesus someone god His hands on some food.

John 4:33 Therefore the disciples said to one another, No one brought Him anything to eat?

Jesus is going to illustrate spiritual growth using food, having used water to explain salvation. Food represents the spiritual mission. God's will is more important. Physical sustenance was secondary to our Lord's spiritual mission. The reason for His coming from heaven is evangelizing and teaching. Food, water, and personal comfort always took a back seat to His mission. If your men are hungry, you had better be hungry; if they are thirsty, you had better be thirsty first. You see to the comfort of your troops first. This is what a leader does.

His motto: mission first followed by failure is not an option. This is the mentality for success in any realm in life. You know what your mission is if you have Bible doctrine. Failure is not an option.

Bobby liked to take the easy way, and then showed up to Fort Benning for Ranger school, and he learned deprivation there. The mission is accomplished first, no matter how hungry you are. If you don't put the mission first, you wash out.

John 4:34 Jesus said to them, My food is to do the will of Him who sent Me and to finish His work.

The Apostles understood an agrarian society, and you had to get your crop in and harvest it, or, you starved. Jesus tells His disciples to look up and see that it is time to harvest the crops. The growing season of 4 months had passed, and it was time to see this and harvest the crops. When it is time to harvest, then you do not put it off. You have to get right after it. Mission first. This was an illustration of setting priorities to the disciples. The spiritual life always comes first. If your spiritual life comes first, everything else in life falls in place. If the Word of God is not the center of your life, then you are floundering.

The harvest of souls takes these people from the fields to the granaries. This of their spiritual needs first; whatever else there is, is secondary. Have a sense of urgency to harvest those with positive volition. It is easy to totally lackadaisical without any thought to timing. Life leaves you behind if you are willing to put everything off.

Bob used to look at Bobby as a boy with the food on his plate; eat your vegetables first. Get it over with first. Here, this is a lesson, but the disciples are not quite getting it. Their thinking is not being renovated as of yet. However, they will, as Apostles, follow this teaching to the end of their lives, many of them dying for the gospel of Jesus Christ, where they put mission first.

John was the only man among the disciples to live out his normal life. The disciples had their minds set on feeding themselves and feeding the Lord Jesus Christ. Once they returned, Jesus was battling for this woman's soul.

What Jesus Was Teaching

1. The Samaritan woman was ripe for the harvest. People don't often know what they need when it comes to the gospel. Jesus speaking to this woman about eternal water that she will never need to drink again.
2. The disciples needed to see this woman and see what the Lord was doing, to see the priorities in their lives. Mental attitude training was taking place. Skills are secondary; but the key is the mental attitude. It is how you approach the situation.
3. The Samaritan woman is the illustration of the ripe fields that needed to be harvested.
4. Jesus recognized that she had positive volition and was ready to believe in Him. The disciples needed to be able to put the mission first.

We are believers in Jesus Christ and we have a purpose for being here. We need to accomplish the mission. The rewards in heaven are based upon accomplishing this mission. You do not want to be embarrassed for the rest of eternity.

John 4:35 Do you not say, It is yet four months, and the harvest comes? Behold, I say to you, Lift up your eyes and look on the fields, for they are white to harvest already.

Lesson #0144 John 4:28–30, 39–42 Life of Christ 8/28/2011 2Sunday

Our Lord's fervency to evangelize is something the disciples do not grasp. It is like a recruit stepping off the bus; it does not matter if they are hungry or tired, they are going to do what their C.O. tells them to do. They are shocked to find out that they are no longer in control anymore. They come out the other end and their thinking is renovated. You have, after 8 weeks, been inducted into the military, and you begin to think like a soldier, sailor, etc.

The disciples were undergoing basic training in their function. The disciples saw this Samaritan woman, and she was just some heretic wandering about. They understood evangelizing Nicodemus because he was a Jew and he came to Jesus Christ and asked questions. But this woman was resistant and she did not seem to be ready; and besides, she was inferior grain, in their thinking.

Quite often those who are least likely to express positive volition are often the ones who do respond to the gospel. So do not give up on anyone. Harvesting is a process; this is why Jesus Christ used this analogy. It is a perfect analogy to evangelism. Witnessing requires some awareness of the object. You need to know when to pursue, when to back off, and when to go again. Let the gospel and the Holy Spirit ripen the field. Sensitivity in our approach and never give up; but know when to step back. You harvest when the field has ripened. The Holy Spirit leads in the right timing. He Holy Spirit presents the right opportunity and He works on that person, and He brings us to the point of readiness. We are brought into contact with unbelievers by God and for a reason. Do not miss this opportunity.

Here Is What We Need to Get

1. The Lord began His approach to this woman with a common need. This woman needed water to survive.
2. The analogy, like every other human being, this woman needed the gospel of the water for eternal salvation. He showed her a need and provided for that need.
3. By using the universal illustration of a human need for water, Jesus Christ overcame the issue of her low status, her outcast circumstances. She was the lowest of the low of the Samaritans. She probably knew exactly what she was. She had a need and Jesus made her realize where she was. She was another person with a need.
4. All people have the same need, regardless of their acceptability to society. No one is left behind when it comes to a need for salvation.
5. The woman was a part of the human race and has the same opportunity that everyone else does. We all do. Christ died for everyone; unlimited atonement. We have the equal opportunity for salvation.

Our Lord's Approach

1. The woman was unable to reach God on her own; and no one knew this more than she did. She was too low for people in general to speak to her.
2. Jesus Christ used her circumstances of being an outcast, being promiscuous and salacious in order to make His point. He did not do this for personal self-righteousness.
3. Our Lord did not try to get this woman to feel sorry for her sins or to change her evil ways.
4. She had to understand the necessity of God's grace in order to get the water. You must recognize your own lacking and that God is not impressed by you, in order to realize that you have a need.
5. Jesus Christ presented Himself as the grace gift. The One to Whom you speak, I Am. Jesus is the grace gift to her. He is her solution and the only thing that she needed, far more than the water she drew.

A Final Principle

1. Jesus Christ did not let criticism deter Him in His mission.
2. His Own disciples misunderstood His mission. They questioned what He was doing.
3. The woman's own sarcasm did not stop Him. Sarcasm is the last resort, because they have no other way to respond. They cannot formulate a good argument, so they go to sarcasm.
4. You never had to justify your mission to anyone; you just do your job as unto God.
5. The Lord Jesus Christ did one thing; He presented the truth; mission first.

The woman is animated and excited and can hardly wait to go back and speak to anyone she can. She ran back a mile to town and she could not wait to tell of her conversation with the Messiah. She was no longer a cowed creature of low status. She avoided everyone in the past, due to her own past. This is excited and animated about meeting the Messiah. This was her motivation. She had come face to face with Someone Who knew everything about her.

Jesus said what He did so that this woman would recognize Who He was. He was not being self righteous.

Jesus was this way when speaking to Peter and Nathaniel; He told them something about themselves that they did not know. This woman is excited and she could not wait to tell of she experience when she came to Sychar.

This woman runs and tells the men. Men in that era were the leaders; if they were convinced, and everyone else would follow. Also, it is possible that the woman would not have anything to do with her, and the men would. She related to them what Jesus said to her.

John 4:28 The woman then left her waterpot and went into the city and said to the men,

This woman is very smart in how she approaches these men. She has something amazing to tell them. Her approach here is to present the information, and then she asks them to answer this question for themselves. She is just passing along what she knows. She baited them just a little, which many woman are able to do. "I am sure that you paragons of knowledge can explain to me Who I just met."

Then men themselves would have to decide what all of this means. They hear something about this Jesus and they get interested; there may be a spark of positive volition. She presented these men with a choice.

She knew Who Jesus was; and she got the men interested. She did her job.

John 4:29 Come see a man who told me all things that I ever did. Is this One not the Christ?

She got the interest of these men so piqued that they went out to the well to speak to Jesus. He was right in front of their eyes. Sychar is the ripened field. They were positive toward the gospel. All they needed was someone to speak the gospel to them. They were ready to be harvested.

All it took is one woman, one no-account, immoral outcast of a woman to speak to them. Her faith was initiated by giving testimony to Christ. She was at the front end of the harvest.

The woman sowed, the Lord Jesus Christ reaped. From the city, many of the Samaritans believed in Him.

John 4:30 And they went out of the city and came to Him.

The people of Samaria came to speak to Jesus because of this woman. They are indeed with positive volition now.

John 4:39 And many of the Samaritans of that city believed upon Him because of the saying of the woman, who testified, He told me all that I ever did.

They ask for Him to stay with them.

John 4:40 Then as the Samaritans had come to Him, they begged Him that He would stay with them. And He stayed there two days.

John 4:41 And many more believed because of His own word.

These men go out and meet Jesus, and they make a decision to believe on their own. It does not matter, when you have the opportunity, it is mission first. Someone will reap the harvest of positive volition, and you have a part in this, no matter whether there is a response or not.

John 4:42 And they said to the woman, Now we believe, not because of your saying, for we have heard Him ourselves and know that this is truly the Christ, the Savior of the world.

The Sychar woman was the sower, and the Lord Jesus Christ is the Reaper.

Lesson #0145 John 4:36–40, 45,44 Life of Christ 8/31/2011 Wed

The disciples have some things to learn here by simply observing, and this example will stay with them until the end of their days. This is an example that we must also take note of. Jesus reveals to them their mission when they become Apostles; they will be charged with disseminating the gospel and Bible doctrine. They are somewhat of a thickheaded bunch. The more doctrine you hear and the more times you hear it, the better chance you will have of assimilating it and then applying it. This is the same for these disciples. They needed this lesson repeated to them. What is your basic purpose as a believer in Jesus Christ? There is no room for misunderstanding for executing the life and mission which Jesus presents to us as our prototype. Evangelism is the lesson, presenting the gospel to those who are in need. The mission comes first and failure is never an option. That was the beginning of their lesson, and one that they needed to have driven home to them.

He places evangelizing this lone woman above His hunger and thirst. This is His example of mission first. As the disciples look at who it is that Jesus is speaking to, they must recognize that she and all people ought to be able to hear the gospel. The last person they would consider to be eligible for a personal audience with the Lord Jesus Christ is this Samaritan woman. She is certainly a religious heretic. Many people of Sychar believed in Jesus Christ because of this.

John 4:41 And many more believed because of His own word.

Many understood that Jesus was the Savior of the world here; this is unlimited atonement. These are the worst of the worst. Jesus came as the Savior of the world. The disciples understand at this point that they cannot exclude anyone. Jews reject Jesus Christ and they cannot be excluded; these half-Jews are eligible for the gospel.

Jesus would remind them of this critical meeting when Jesus ascended into heaven. We scream for equality; and that is never going to happen. We are people with sin natures, so no matter what laws are passed, there will be rejections and preferences. It is a people thing.

John 4:42 And they said to the woman, Now we believe, not because of your saying, for we have heard Him ourselves and know that this is truly the Christ, the Savior of the world.

Jesus used the analogy of the crops and harvesting the crops when they are ready. We only live so long and we can only fulfill the plan of God for so long, and then we are gone. Therefore, the mission is urgent; it is not a mission that we can put off. When the field is white for harvest, then we harvest. When an unbeliever is ready, we tell them the gospel. Since this is the devil's world, we will get opposition.

Jesus showed them the necessities of evangelism. They were to present a need for the Savior. They needed to have an Intercessor; grace and inability go together. You do not have to defend yourself.

One more doctrinal lesson. Jesus uses the harvest analogy.

John 4:36 And he who reaps receives wages and gathers fruit to life eternal, so that both he who sows and he who reaps may rejoice together.

There are times when one would sow and another would reap. Jesus is teaching evangelism and the process of evangelism.

The woman did not actually present the gospel, but she pointed the townsfolk in the direction of Jesus. The woman began this process and Jesus completed the process. They believed in Him.

In this process of believing, both the sower and the reaper have a part. The sower has the initial contact with the gospel. The reaper receives wages; he has the great and rewarding privilege of presenting Jesus Christ and seeing them believe.

We do not know what the circumstances are, but the unbeliever is prepared and then the reaper comes along, gives the gospel, and they respond. Some sow and some reap.

John 4:37 And in this is the saying true, One sows and another reaps.

The illustration was, the woman sowed the seed and Jesus Christ reaped. Sowers and reapers both participate in this process. There is great joy when others believe in Jesus Christ, and this is analogous to the reaping of the harvest and celebrating this harvest. Those who sow and those who reap all receive their wages at that time.

The original sower can often be discouraged. We might give the gospel and it is outright rejected. Your friendship might even be cut off. But the seed is planted. You have done your job. They have heard the gospel from you. At a later time, they may hear the gospel from someone else. The seed more grow in their souls. The Holy Spirit does this. If they are positive, at some point, there will be a reaper.

Bobby's grandfather was too busy partying to want to know about gospel. Uncle Fritz and Bob talked to him all the time. However, he did not believe until he was on his deathbed. We are all a part of this team. Sowers and reapers, we all get to the harvest.

We may only have the opportunity to sow the seed to one person. That person needed to hear the gospel from you. That is our job. The Holy Spirit cannot work with the gospel unless it is there. The gospel must be there for the Holy Spirit to work with it. There is not harvest without the planting; there is no harvest without the reaping. Whether sowing or reaping, one engages in the same task.

John 4:38 I sent you to reap that on which you bestowed no labor. Other men labored, and you have entered into their labor.

Jews who were well-versed in the Old Testament, did not necessarily get it all until they spoke with Jesus Christ. Jews came to Jesus based upon what they learned from the prophets. The Apostles would be both sowers and reapers.

The best people to witness to are those whom you know.

John 4:39 And many of the Samaritans of that city believed upon Him because of the saying of the woman, who testified, He told me all that I ever did.

Jesus stayed for another 2 days, waiting there to speak to those who needed the gospel.

John 4:40 Then as the Samaritans had come to Him, they begged Him that He would stay with them. And He stayed there two days.

Jesus was a hometown hero at this time. They were happy to see Him. Some were those who believed in Him; others were simply impressed.

Now, there is this thing for oratory. Some would just go to hear wonderful speakers, even if this message did not speak to their souls. There were great orators. The non-regional accents.

Bobby was quite conscious of his accent. Oregonians have non-regional accents. Bobby tried to work on his accent.

Jesus had developed quite a reputation and the Galileans were quite impressed. And they wanted to see more signs; more miracles. The miracle man is in town; let's go see Him.

John 4:45 Then when He had come into Galilee, the Galileans received Him, having seen all the things that He did at Jerusalem at the feast; for they also went to the feast.

However, we have this shadow over His ministry. Galilee would not turn to Jesus as Savior. So, there are 2 different reactions. There is the positive reception, like Nicodemus and like the Samaritan woman, like the people of Sychar. However, v. 44 anticipates that there would be a rejection of Jesus.

John 4:44 For Jesus Himself testified that a prophet has no honor in his own native-place.

Now we come to the second part of His ministry, which is the great Galilean ministry, which goes from the imprisonment of John until the Transfiguration, which is the last week of His life. All the things which we will study, most of which took place in Galile.

John 4:46 Then Jesus came again to Cana of Galilee, where He made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman whose son was sick at Capernaum.

Lesson #0146

John 4:46 Life of Christ Jesus' Ministry Summary

9/1/2011 Thurs

Jesus spend nearly all of His life in Galilee. He and his family fled to Egypt for a year or so and they came back and resided in Nazareth, until he was around 30 years old. He did travel. At age 12, he was in Jerusalem. There were 3 days in the Temple when He stunned the Temple theologians. Then He went to Jerusalem for about a week, then a few months in Judah. Then He will travel through Samaria to go back to Galilee. There will be a little traveling, but His life centered in Galilee. This is the longest period of His ministry.

We think about all of these miracles that He did, but we rarely fit this into any sort of chronology. But Bobby will give us the chronology for all of this.

Great Galilean Ministry

1. Early ministry, He is around 30 years old
 - 1) John the Baptist was arrested and put into prison by Herod Antipas. This was a signal to Jesus to leave Judæa for Galilee. John was no longer on the scene; he was imprisoned.
 - 2) Jesus' ministry kicks into high gear. "I must decrease and He must increase" is why John was removed.
 - 3) His early rejection at Nazareth. Luke 4:16–31 He went into the synagogue, as He often did. He was asked to read and comment on Scripture, and He did that. He was handed the scroll of Isaiah; He opened it to Isa. 61 and the people there got extremely angry. They took Him to the edge of town to throw Him off of a cliff.

- 4) He leaves Nazareth and goes to Capernaum, which will be His headquarters for the rest of His Galilean ministry. There was some negative volition and problems.
 - 5) Matt. 4:18–22 Jesus called 4 disciples.
 - 6) In Capernaum, demons are cast out; Mark 1:21–28
 - 7) Miraculous catch of fish. Luke 5:1–11
 - 8) Leper was healed. Luke 5:12–16
 - 9) Paralytic healed. Mark 2:1–12 most miracles performed between 2nd and 3rd years of His ministry. He presented Himself as the Messiah. There was a unique aspect to these miracles and they showed Him in a different light each time; always as divine, but to allow those around Him to accept or reject Him.
 - 10) A controversy over the Sabbath in Luke 6:1–5 The Jews had so many regulations about the Sabbath; it was like the federal government. Someone was always violating the Sabbath. He healed someone and the pharisees became quite angered.
2. A.D. 28–29 almost 2 years; Middle ministry, which is the longest portion of His ministry
- 1) 12 disciples chosen.
 - 2) He spoke the Sermon on the Mount Matt. 5–7
 - 3) In depth teaching for the disciples.
 - 4) Several miracles took place. Centurion's servant is healed. Matt. 8:5–13
 - 5) The widow's son was raised, show His power over the grave. Luke 7:11–17 each miracle shows a different side of Jesus. It was never about feeling sorry for someone, and so Jesus healed them. This was not altruism.
 - 6) He is rejected
 - (1) His work is attributed to Beazelbub in Matt. 11?
 - (2) Miraculous signs to the hostile nations are now withdrawn. No more miracles for the pharisees.
 - (3) A new relation is emphasized by Christ. Matt. 12:46–50
 - (4) This is introduced by parables.
 - (5) However, He does not stop doing miracles; His disciples are taught by miracles. They are teaching devices.
 - i Pacifying the storm on the Sea of Galilee. Mark 4:35–41
 - ii Healing and casting out of demons.
 - iii He heals a blind man. Matt. 9:27–32
 - iv The invalid was healed on the Sabbath. Mark 6:1–6
 - 7) He returns to Nazareth and is rejected a 2nd time.
 - 8) Disciples are cut loose and they heal on their own. He identifies them who will become Apostles.

- 9) John the Baptist is executed. Matt. 14:1–12
- 10) Crisis at Capernaum. A.D. 29.
 - (1) Jesus feeds the 5000. Luke 9:10–17
 - (2) Jesus refuses kingship in John 6 They do not accept Jesus for Who He is.
 - (3) Jesus walks on the sea Matt. 14:22–33
 - (4) He is refused as the Bread of Life, another rejection. John 6:22–71
- 11) He moves out of Capernaum, at the north end of Galilee.
 - (1) He goes a little further north in Mark 7
 - (2) A brief return to the Sea of Galilee in Mark 8
 - (3) He feeds the 4000 in Decapolis. The Pharisees rebuke Him here and they are really getting upset and they are plotting to kill Him.
 - (4) He briefly returns to Jerusalem, attending 2 feasts there. The Feast of Tabernacles and He gives 3 challenges and a discourse. John 7:2–9:59.
 - (5) Feast of dedication. John 10
3. The final period, from Galilee to Jerusalem.
 - 1) This period begins with a second northern journey.
 - 2) We see Him headed toward Jerusalem. He makes the first announcement of His death. Luke 9:22–
 - 3) Mount of Transfiguration. Shekinah Glory revealed to 3 disciples.
 - 4) He gives instructions for a new dispensation, the church. Matt. 18:11–35 Luke and this ends the Galilean ministry. This was the greatest demonstration of His Messiahship. Galilee had the heaviest population of all Palestine. He did a lot that was not recorded in the gospels. These miracles were the overwhelming signs of confirmation.
 - 5) His fame began to spread, as did His ministry and it continued to build in Galilee.
 - 6)
 - 7) His final trek to Jerusalem.

He leaves Samaria and His first stop is Cana in John 4:46–54

Cana was the home of Nathaniel and this would allow for some lodging for Jesus. This is where His first miracle was done. There were those in Cana who believed in Him and believed that He is the Messiah and He is a celebrity there in Cana. Some knew what He had done in Jerusalem and Judea. They remembered Him vividly.

Many Galileans went to Jerusalem for Passover. They were seen as country hicks and not as holy as the Jews in Jerusalem. They had observed the Lord in Jerusalem. They were proud of Him because he was a Galilean. He had gotten the attention of everyone in Jerusalem. He threw the money changers out of the Temple, and they liked that. They were proud of Him. He had become a celebrity, even among those who did not believe in Him. People like to be around celebrities. There is something about celebrities that people like. Today, people like to read about celebrities, true or not. They are people of interest. People are attracted to celebrities. Ultimately, they find fault with celebrities. This is what most of these celeb magazines are about.

This leads us to iconoclastic arrogance.

Iconoclastic Arrogance

1. People tend to put illustrious public figures on a pedestal.
2. They make that person an icon or a role model. They expect them to do certain things. As a role model, they have certain expectations.
3. When the icon does not live up to their unrealistic standards and expectations, the adoring fans change.
4. That is when the feet of clay pop out, as they always seem to do. People get disappointed.
5. When they get disappointed, it often results in disenchantment, disillusion, anger, bitterness toward their one-time hero.
6. They proceed to tear down their icon; they knock them off the pedestal. They verbally assassinate them. They engage in pure arrogance. They love to see the famous fall.
7. It makes them feel good to bring someone famous down to their own level. They get a little power and celebrityship to themselves.
8. Someone else's misery becomes their entertainment and amusement. This is the example of human pettiness and obsession.

If anyone could live up to expectations, it would be the Lord Jesus Christ. Everything that He said was true. He was a celebrity and an icon. Some people still were disappointed, even though he did not reveal any sin. They still wanted to tear Him down. He introduced Himself as the Messiah, the celebrity of celebrities; the celebrity of all human history. And what did they see? A carpenter's son of humble beginnings. When they observe, the Lord Jesus Christ exhibited authority, just in His Person. He had perfect righteousness, which some resented. Many became disdainful and reactionary toward Him. They reject His authority, His miracles, His perfection, and His Messiahship. They did everything to tear down His Person and image. The pharisees were the worst offenders. This same would happen in Galilee, but not yet. He was a celebrity; He was on His way up. It was showtime when Jesus came to town.

He comes to town and commences to preach and teach. He meets a royal official. His child was seriously ill. This man is not identified and we do not know His official position here. He was probably in the court of Herod Antipas. With a dying son, He would grasp at any straw. He went to see the Lord Jesus Christ. He was getting desperate because his boy was getting worse.

John the Baptizer had been arrested and Herod may have talked about arresting Jesus as well; but this man is intrigued and goes to Jesus for a miracle. This will be a time when the man focuses on miracles when he ought to focus on Jesus Christ.

This is apropos today, because there are so many who have their eyes on miracles and healings and tongues. Do believers grow up looking at miracles? They do not. Jesus will reveal the importance of Himself over any miracles.

John 4:46 Then Jesus came again to Cana of Galilee, where He made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman whose son was sick at Capernaum.

Lesson #0147

John 4:46–49 Life of Christ

9/4/2011 1Sunday

Jesus has left Samaria and has returned again the Cana of Galilee, where He began His ministry. He went to Jerusalem for a week, then spent several months in Judæa, and then He went through Samaria. Now He will begin His great Galilee ministry, and this is where Jesus was brought up. He spent almost all of his life in this area. This is where He grew up. He will spend several years in this location. So, even though we picture Jesus in Jerusalem and Judæa, He actually had most of His public ministry in Galilee.

John 4:46 Then Jesus came again to Cana of Galilee, where He made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman whose son was sick at Capernaum.

There will be a second miracle in Cana. He performed a lot of miracles previously. Here, He will present Himself at Galilee as the Messiah. This second miracle in Galilee was the opening sign of the validity of His claim to be the Messiah.

Jesus has made a name for Himself in Jerusalem and Judæa. These were spectacular events and word got around about Him. Now, some followed him around simply to be entertained. What miracle would He do next?

His fame had preceded Him; and He was treated as a hero in Galilee. Galilee was looked down upon, but He was the hometown boy. However, they will turn against Him. However, in Cana, there will still be the admiration for Him.

There is a royal official who comes to Jesus. His son is sick at Capernaum. This is a man of authority and of great fame and his son was gravely and desperately ill.

John 4:46 Then Jesus came again to Cana of Galilee, where He made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman whose son was sick at Capernaum.

He heard that Jesus was come into Galilee. This royal official uses the verb ερωτω, which means he asked, he requested. There is a polite request; and, as an official, he could have demanded Jesus come. However, he shows some humility. This means that he is teachable. This is about a 2 or 3 day trip to get to Capernaum. This is a full-scale undertaking and a huge interruption to the teaching ministry of Jesus. Jesus had a mission and He always fulfilled that mission. He never stopped anywhere without a reason.

Jesus was constantly hounded by all sorts of people desiring more signs and more miracles. They wanted to see Him perform. There were others who believed that they needed a miracle like this official. Some had a need and wanted Him to fulfill it.

Jesus was probably tired of being solicited for more signs and miracles. It was always mission first.

John 4:47 When He heard that Jesus had come out of Judea into Galilee, he went to Him and begged Him that He would come down and heal his son, for he was at the point of death.

Jesus said that He would not go, and He tests this nobleman. He could see that this was an opportunity for evangelism. This had to be done the right way. He could not just perform a miracle and say, "Go your way."

Miracles were often requested but the result would not be belief. His son was almost dead, and he decided, why not ask Jesus? This man was used to getting his way. People did not usually say no to him.

John 4:48 Then Jesus said to him, "Unless you see signs and wonders you will not believe."

Compassion is seen as a great trait; but compassion in government makes people dependent and complacent. There are other things which are more important than compassion.

The compassionate thing would be to say, "Your son is healed; you can go home." Jesus would be criticized here for being callous.

Jesus had the true compassion of healing from spiritual death. He desired to provide eternal life. Healing was not the Lord's main purpose. He picked His spots when it came to healing.

There are those who are skeptical about Jesus. Almost every scholar believes that He lived and many say, "He is a good man. But He was not God and He did not heal anyone." But, skeptics have a tendency to believe that this is just a story. Jesus did these things in front of thousands of people. The gospels are records of what thousands saw.

Noble prize winners, the one who discovered DNA, and he suggests that aliens came to earth and deposited an amoeba.

For Jesus, it is always mission first. Faith in Jesus; not faith in a miracle.

If Jesus was a good man and had the power to heal, He only healed a few people, and this was a means to an end.

3 Reasons Why He Healed

1. To emphasize Who He was. This emphasized His Person and message.
2. In the case of this official, the purpose was the eternal destiny of this man and his family. What is most important? A temporal physical healing or where one spends eternity.
3. The healing, when it came, served the purpose of bringing this man and his family to salvation. This was a miracle with eternal repercussions.

Jesus had a reputation as a miracle-worker; and this nobleman has never seen a miracle performed and he did not know Jesus before. Yet, he had to ask. This is a spark of positive volition. He doesn't know exactly how, but he is looking. He is thinking about more than just himself. He expresses an interest in what Jesus could do, and his interest was centered in the wrong thing. He has not yet reached the point of faith in the Person of Jesus. He had to be led from dependence upon a miracle to faith alone in Christ alone. Led from wishing for a supernatural event to faith in the One who could perform this event.

This official must become aware that the miracle that Jesus can do is not as important as the Person of Jesus.

There is a desire today for people to have their problems taken care of; it is always about them; it is never about someone else. It is all about "Take care about me, me, me."

John 4:49 The nobleman said to Him, "Sir, come down before my child dies."

Lesson #0148

John 4:46–49 Life of Christ

9/4/2011 2Sunday

A royal official asks Jesus to travel with him to Capernaum, which is about 25 miles away. This man has some limited faith in what Jesus could do. His faith is in the wrong thing. His faith is in a miracle. The focus is all wrong; the emphasis is on the miracle. God can perform a miracle; so, He is certainly do this in any situation because it is His universe that He created. However, God does not bend to our will. God has a plan for us and He hears our prayers. He answers this prayer in many ways; yes or no. it is not in our best interest. God does not bend to anyone's will. The focus is always upon God and not upon us.

God's plan always has our best interests at heart; and sometimes, we need some suffering, some trouble and a little heartache—often to facilitate our spiritual growth. So, do not ever second guess God. Simply trust that He always has out best interest at heart. His plan for us marches on; let our desires and fears step aside.

Our spiritual life and eternal future is more important than everything else. If our focus is right, then everything else falls into place. We depend upon His plan and the light of eternity. We do not come by this thinking simply by believing in Jesus Christ. After that, we begin to renovate our thinking. God may allow pain and suffering in the lift of some people. There is always a greater purpose than the pain and suffering on its own.

A little pain is nothing compared to eternal life and eternal reward. Sometimes, these things provide us with the proper focus in life. If a believer is suffering or terminal, it may bring someone else to the Lord, simply by observing their attitude in facing death.

Grieving is normal under suffering, of yourself and of others close to you; but anger is not to be a part of this. God removes us at just the right time at just the right way. God's timing is perfect. Do not demand your timetable from God. Do not blame God in your grief. God could have done a miracle, and this angers you. In every circumstance, God is doing the best for all involved, including discipline.

It is always a matter of priorities and the focus of faith. The most important decision is believing on the Lord Jesus Christ. There is not other issue that is more important. It is not who you will marry or where you will live. There is only one over-arching decision, faith in Christ.

Jesus: "I could save your son, but there is something more important." There is nothing more important than glorifying God.

John 4:46–47 Then Jesus came again to Cana of Galilee, where He made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman whose son was sick at Capernaum. When He heard that Jesus had come out of Judea into Galilee, he went to Him and begged Him that He would come down and heal his son, for he was at the point of death.

There were several purposes in the loss of Bobby's parents, and these purposes involved Bobby. Never lose sight that God has a reason for these things. This is why we do not grieve as those who have no hope. In the pain of loss comes clarity, as long as we are making application of the plan of God to our circumstances. Grief is normal; and to wallow in emotionalism overshadows our temporal relationship with God.

We should be asking, "What is in this for us, God; and what is Your plan and where do I go from here?"

in war and in combat, you lose people. They are wounded and they die. When you are in an infantry unit, you are never closer than those that you fight with side-by-side. But you have to focus on the mission. You do not get to stop and spend days grieving. Whether we understand it or not, we simply have to trust that He has our best interests at heart.

Many of us have seen how God works in the most difficult moments of life. We recognize God's hand in certain circumstances. It brings a great peace in the plan of God. This indicates that our focus is right and that we are all in the Lord's hands. This never changes. God works His purposes through life's circumstances. The situation that He allows is always to everyone's best interests. This is the power of renovated thinking.

If you are in a constant state of agitation, that is not the way that God wants us to live. We are not called to live a lifestyle of fear or grief. We are to have a lifestyle of sound mind with renovated thinking. All of the conditions of life can be placed in their proper perspective.

There are those who seek out good times to outweigh all of the bad times. Either drinking or drugs. They have to capacity for life. So many people who place their hopes in miraculous events. People exhibit the same problems who put their faith in that sort of thing. Even if today's faith healing was legitimate—which it is not—people's faith is in the healer and in the miracle. Their focus is not upon Jesus Christ, their Savior. There a millions of people out there who place their faith in a temporary solution. Jesus Christ is the miracle worker; the object of faith is never the miracle. There is no lasting hope in a miracle.

Eternal salvation and spiritual growth are infinitely greater than some miracle. No matter what relief from pain or death or miserable circumstances, it is just nowhere near the importance of salvation and spiritual growth.

Can I handle it or not? What then is Christ emphasizing? What is His purpose in refusing to immediately heal this little boy? He is going to emphasize His Word. Our power is in faith. Miracles do not lead people to Jesus. Faith is the conviction of things not seen.

What is seen here is not the issue; the healing of the little boy. What the issue is, is Jesus Christ. The nobleman was to consider the Person of Jesus Christ; He wanted this man to believe the message, and not the miracle. The key is not the miracle; the key is the Living Word of God.

All that happens from this point on is to clarify the gospel message. Jesus will give the same message as He gave to Nicodemus and to the Samaritan woman. He tailored His message to His audience.

John 4:48 Then Jesus said to him, Unless you see signs and wonders you will not believe.

This nobleman begs Jesus; come down, before my child dies. This is begging. He is turned down and the man perseveres and he pleads for Jesus to come to Capernaum. Jesus Christ knew what He was doing in refusing to go to Capernaum. He knew that there would be an everlasting effect upon this man and many others. Jesus has to see this from the eternal perspective.

John 4:49 The nobleman said to Him, "Sir, come down before my child dies."

John 4:51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him and told him, saying, Your son lives.

John 4:52 Then he asked of them the hour when he began to get better. And they said to him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.

John 4:53 So the father knew that it was at the same hour in which Jesus said to him, Your son lives. And he himself believed, and his whole house.

John 4:54 This is the second miracle Jesus did, when He had come out of Judea into Galilee.

Lesson #0153

Luke 4:17–20 Isa. 61:1–2 Life of Christ 9/18/2011 1Sunday

A great dramatic moment in our Lord's life is His return to Nazareth, his home. He had traveled about Judæa and Cana, and returning to Galilee, He was seen as a sort of a local hero. He was, and many recognized this, the fulfillment of Gen. 3.

He has a pressing desire to reintroduce Himself to friends from the past; those who have known Him or those who had a passing acquaintance with Him. He would return in an entirely different light. He was no longer the boy, the teen or the young adult, but He was truly the Unique Person of the Universe. He wanted to make an announcement of His Messiahship. He went to the local synagogue, and this was His synagogue, where He had worshipped and where He had heard the reading and the expounding of the Law. Even at age 12, we saw that He was perfectly capable of holding His Own in speaking to any Biblical scholar.

He enters into the Synagogue on the Sabbath, and as He enters, He is invited by the Rabbi there to read and expound on one of the prophets. He was not asked to read from the Law but from the Prophets.

Luke 4:17 The scroll of the prophet Isaiah was given to Him, and unrolling the scroll, He found the place where it was written:

Luke 4:18 The Spirit of the Lord is on Me, because He has anointed Me to preach good news to the poor. He has sent Me to proclaim freedom to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to set free the oppressed,

Luke 4:19 to proclaim the year of the Lord's grace.

This is Isaiah 61:1–2

The Nazarene sitting in this synagogue did not understand what Jesus was speaking about. This was a prophecy that would be fulfilled in the Person of the Lord Jesus Christ. He was the reality of the good news of the release of the captives. The gospel is good news. What Isaiah announced to Israel is what Jesus Christ is announcing about Himself at this time. This was prophesied 7 centuries previously to Jesus entering into this synagogue. He is reading a prophecy of Himself, reading a passage written about Him; and He is their native Son, the Man of Promise. Would they accept that He is the Messiah? They had heard of His preaching throughout Jerusalem and Judæa. They had heard of Cana, not too far away. They were fascinated and very expectant of what He would say. They knew He would have great insight into this passage.

These people were not ignorant. They had heard this passage before. They knew something about this passage. They could not wait to hear this passage expounded upon by Jesus.

Luke 4:20 He then rolled up the scroll, gave it back to the attendant, and sat down. And the eyes of everyone in the synagogue were fixed on Him.

The attendant takes care of the Biblical scrolls. The eyes of everyone were fixed upon Him. Bobby can tell when he has our attention or not. Those in the synagogue were not scratching themselves, or looking around to see who is there, or thinking about what they would do later in the day.

Why Did Jesus Pick this Passage?

1. Isaiah in this passage was a type of Christ. Isaiah was a symbol of the Messiah and His work.
2. A type is an illustration of something in the future. In the Bible, this is an Old Testament illustration which represents something in the New Testament.
3. Isaiah as a type in Isa. 61 foreshadowed an event in Israel's future. In Isaiah's time, there was a fulfillment in that time frame and a far fulfillment off in the future. In this case, the fulfillment is the Lord Jesus Christ. What Isaiah said in his day had an immediate fulfillment. So, most prophecies have a double fulfillment.
4. Isaiah in his person and mission back in his day foreshadowed the coming and the Person and the work of the Messiah. He was a type of the Messiah. And so, our Lord chooses this passage because He could strikingly identify Himself as the reality or the fulfillment of the type that Isaiah wrote about.

Our Lord begins His identification with the Holy Spirit leading Him. The Spirit is upon Isaiah and upon Jesus. Isaiah was indued with the Holy Spirit. Jesus Christ spoke these same words in v. 18a. "The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me." This is divine leading and empowerment, which was given to the Old Testament prophets, and only a few people from the Old Testament possessed. At the Jordan River, the Holy Spirit was bestowed upon Jesus Christ and God the Father said, "This is My Son, in Whom I am well-pleased."

Many Jews were indentured servants, so they understood liberation to be from this slavery; others their subjugation to Rome. However, Jesus was speaking about spiritual liberation. This was Isaiah's approach as well. Jesus was proclaiming the Kingdom of Heaven to those in the synagogue. That is the salvation of Israel and the salvation of the entire world, as we are all captives.

Isa. 61:1 The Spirit of the Lord GOD is on Me, because the LORD has anointed Me to bring good news to the poor. He has sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and freedom to the prisoners;

Isaiah's prophecy referred to a particular Old Testament event in the life of Israel. This is the year of jubilee; the Jews knew of it, even though they did not adhere to it. Every 50th year, those who had been compelled by poverty to sell themselves into slavery were freed and their lands were returned to them. They were no longer in debt; they were free. That was the message of Isaiah. Just as the indentured slaves would be released, so the captives would be released by the Lord Jesus Christ. The slaves are released. Jesus Christ proclaimed the same thing.

Isaiah prophesied the same thing in Isa. 53:11 He will see it out of His anguish, and He will be satisfied with His knowledge. My righteous servant will justify many, and He will bear their iniquities. Jesus propitiated the Father by His knowledge and by taking upon Himself our sins. This is a famous prophecy. Put this together and you have the mission of the Lord Jesus Christ. He is the One Who will bear the iniquities of the world.

The prophet presents Jesus Christ as the far-fulfillment He is the servant Who will release the captives by His death. We have a sin nature. We cannot reach God in any possible way. Yet, the favorable year of the Lord is proclaimed by our Lord.

This was the amazing announcement that they heard. The blind would recover their sight; they would see the Messiah in the flesh. Their eyes are opened. They would accept Him as the Messiah.

Isa 53:12 Therefore I will give Him the many as a portion, and He will receive the mighty as spoil, because He submitted Himself to death, and was counted among the rebels; yet He bore the sin of many and interceded for the rebels.

Those people who are riveting on Jesus Christ and they got an earful. They had not heard this interpretation before. "You are looking at the Messiah; you are looking at the One Who will fulfill the promises of God."

Luke 4:19 to proclaim the year of the Lord's grace.

Isa. 61:2 to proclaim the year of the LORD's favor, and the day of our God's vengeance; to comfort all who mourn,

Luke 4:20 He then rolled up the scroll, gave it back to the attendant, and sat down. And the eyes of everyone in the synagogue were fixed on Him.

Lesson #0154

Luke 4:21 Life of Christ

9/18/2011 2Sunday

Theology tries to link the Old and New Testaments in a number of ways. Judaism morphs into Christianity but there are disconnects between the two.

The Old Testament looks forward to the New; the New fulfills the Old Testament. There are some brand new aspects to the spiritual life for believers. The church is a different entity from Israel.

Now Jesus tells them that Isa. 61:1–2 has been fulfilled in their hearing. All of the Messianic prophecies are fulfilled in Jesus. If He fulfills this promise, then He fulfills them all.

Luke 4:21 He began by saying to them, "Today as you listen, this Scripture has been fulfilled."

Israel will reject Jesus Christ; and in Nazareth, it is a microcosm of what the rest of Israel thinks, and they will reject Him (although many will believe on Him as well). "I am the Suffering Servant" from isa. 53. How could they miss the fact that He is their Savior, the Messiah.

We are not spiritual Israel today; we are a separate entity, part of the progressive plan of God for man's history. Israel is not forgotten.

Here in Nazareth, we begin to see the rejection of our Lord.

What Was Jesus Saying?

1. Christ meant that the year of Jubilee had come. The point was, Jesus was here so Jubilee was here.
2. He is the reality of the picture portrayed by the Year of Jubilee. He fulfilled all of the sacrifices, all of the holy days, etc. The Law was not a means to fulfill God's standards, but something which showed them how far they were from keeping God's Law. The Law tells us that keeping the Law is not possible. However, every aspect of the Law pointed toward the Man Who would fulfill the Law. Christ fulfilled the Law, and so He is qualified; we are not. Jesus is the picture of one aspect of the Law, here in this quotation.
3. He is the Redeemer, the One to release the captives.

4. He came as the Redeemer to free the captives. This is not for the indentured servants, but He paid the debt for all of us, as sinners.
5. The favorable year of the Lord was all about grace to all people through the advent of the Messiah. Luke 4:19 to proclaim the year of the Lord's grace.
6. Jesus Christ pointed to Isaiah's prophecy as being all about Him. It did not take long for others to hear this. This was spread throughout Nazareth.

These people had seen Jesus grow up among them, so this sermon was quite difficult for them to hear. Bobby says that there was a long dissertation here by Jesus, where He explained it, taking it apart, showing how this is He. The subject that He covered was fundamental to Who He is. Jesus took the time to explain this Messianic passage. He took it apart phrase by phrase, saying, "This is Me." This was a monumental claim.

Luke 4:21 He began by saying to them, "Today as you listen, this Scripture has been fulfilled."

It sounds like, in v. 22, that everything is hunky dory.

Luke 4:22 They were all speaking well of Him and were amazed by the gracious words that came from His mouth, yet they said, "Isn't this Joseph's son?"

This verse is not all hosanna's; this is not all praise. The Jews did not immediately get it. They were moved by His words and they understood redemption to some degree and the Year of Jubilee, and today is the fulfillment of promises. Then, it hits them that Jesus is speaking of Himself. They had heard this passage before, and what Jesus said moved them, and they loved the graciousness of this passage.

Then there is the 3 letter conjunction και. This represents a break from the wonder and amazement to a question. A little light came on. The emotional excitement wore off and there is a new reaction. They go from compliment and wonder and excitement to a sudden point of questioning. They began to question what Jesus just said.

"Do you remember Who this Kid is? He grew up here." Their mood changed from wonder and amazement to doubt and hostility. This indicates the beginning of the rejections of the people of Nazareth. This represents a transition in their thinking. "How can He be the royal heir to the throne of Israel." These people should have known Him best; they had observed Him for 30 years, and they should have recalled that He was unique. They should have put 2 and 2 together when they heard His message. It should have all made sense to them. Now it is all clear.

It is hard for people to see a young person grow up, and to imagine them outside of their youth. They still see him as a young pup. It was very difficult to think of Him as an adult Who now elevates Himself over all.

Bobby knows one or two who will never accept his authority in the pulpit. "Son of Joseph? He couldn't be the Messiah." He is in total authority over them. Even some of His Own family rejected Him and denied His claims.

Jesus realized when He looked into their eyes that there was disbelief. He knew, as in John 4:48 that they needed more signs and miracles before they would believe.

Luke 4:22 They were all speaking well of Him and were amazed by the gracious words that came from His mouth, yet [however] they said, "Isn't this Joseph's son?"

There is a proverb of rejection that Jesus refers to, to reveal their thinking.

Luke 4:23 Then He said to them, "No doubt you will quote this proverb to Me: 'Doctor, heal yourself.' 'All we've heard that took place in Capernaum, do here in Your hometown also.'"

What Does this Mean?

1. They had heard about the healings and the miraculous things that Jesus had done.
2. They had specifically heard about Cana and the healing of the royal official. They thought he was mental and suggested that He heal Himself.
3. If He performed these miracles for the people in the synagogue, then they might accept His interpretation here. However, Jesus knew that miracles were not the key to positive volition.
4. This was just another situation as He spoke of in John 4:48
5. They would only express faith if they could be convinced by the sight of something miraculous. Same situation right here. He obliged with royal official, but not these people.

They did not like what Jesus was saying. He calls Himself a prophet, and so often, in the past, that the prophets of Israel were given no respect. Israel said, "No" too often and got involved in Baal worship. Jesus uses the prophets as an example. They are rejected; and I am rejected.

Luke 4:24 He also said, "I assure you: No prophet is accepted in his hometown.

"How many times have the prophets been read to you?" They knew their history and they were just like these people. Plenty of Jews had accept Messiah in the past. Right here in Nazareth, Jesus was foreshadowing His final rejection on the cross. His Own friends and His Own family were saying no to Him. They wanted to throw Him off of a cliff. Jesus uses 2 examples here; Elijah and Elisha.

Luke 4:25 But I say to you, there were certainly many widows in Israel in Elijah's days, when the sky was shut up for three years and six months while a great famine came over all the land.

Lesson #0155 John 4:21–26 1Kings 17:9–16 Life of Christ 9/21/2011 Wed

There was a buzz going on when Jesus was speaking the Word of God. Then it dawned upon them what Jesus was saying about Himself.

Now, they had observed that Jesus, from His youth, was without flaw. But He had been born in a stable and His father was a carpenter in town. He was not of any sort of exalted family. So how could He claim to be the ruler of Israel in the line of David.

These were some petty, small-minded people. Adults with authority over children as the children grow up; and they are not at all inclined to submit, as adults, to the authority of the children. That requires some humility. They resented that Jesus would call Himself the Messiah and have authority over them. Many of them had authority over Him.

This occurs in the military. One officer may have authority over another; but then the lower officer gets an early promotion. General officers have been promoted over a lot of others because they are sharp. It happens in business when one gets a promotion over someone else. They do not like being under the authority of someone else.

These Jews had no humility and they were not about to submit to our Lord.

Jesus could see their awe turn into skepticism. He knew where this authority problem would lead them. So He makes a statement. “No doubt, you will quote this proverb to Me, ‘Physician, heal Thyself.’ ” this is what they were thinking. Jesus knows what they are thinking. “All we’ve heard took place in Capernaum, do that here.” They want Jesus to perform these miracles for them. They do not want to accept Him, but they do want to be entertained. Jesus decides not to oblige them with a miracle. Jesus did not just randomly do miracles. He could have performed a miracle right then and there, but He chose not to. Many have seen miracles and were not convinced. He did not waste His time with a miracle.

He quotes another proverb: “No prophet is accepted in his hometown.” Jesus had no honor there; He understood their thinking. He knew that these people had rejected Him.

Jesus previously identified Himself as the Messiah; now He says He is a prophet. Prophets laid it on the line and often told the Jews how apostate they were. Jesus is facing a great deal of negative volition. In bringing the Word of God to Israel, prophets not only spoke, but they performed miracles of authentication.

The ancient Jews viewed the prophets and, despite what they said and did, refused to hear and to consider what they had to say. Jesus is telling them that He is a prophet and that they are responding just like the ancient Jews did. Why perform a miracle if it would not be believed. Apostate Israel, in their unbelief, had often rejected the prophets that came to them.

Luke 4:21–24 He began by saying to them, “Today as you listen, this Scripture has been fulfilled.” They were all speaking well of Him and were amazed by the gracious words that came from His mouth, yet [however] they said, “Isn't this Joseph's son?” Then He said to them, “No doubt you will quote this proverb to Me: ‘Doctor, heal yourself.’ ‘All we've heard that took place in Capernaum, do here in Your hometown also.’” He also said, “I assure you: No prophet is accepted in his hometown.”

Jesus speaks about Elijah. 3 years and 6 months of no rain. Israel looked terrible and the result was a great famine.

Luke 4:25 But I say to you, there were certainly many widows in Israel in Elijah's days, when the sky was shut up for three years and six months while a great famine came over all the land.

But Elijah was sent to none of them in the famine. Israel was in a mess. This was the time of Ahab and Jezebel, who had introduced Baal worship. They would not listen. They mocked Him; they laughed at Him.

There are great illustrations of this today. Many people mock Bible-believing Christians. Debates and newscasts will mock what they believe. "Do you disbelieve evolution?" What they are saying is, "You are so stupid to believe this."

Mathematician claims that all of the aspects of evolution could be fit into the narrative of the Bible. He recognizes the fallacy of scientists who, without any real proof, still contend that evolution is a fact, when it is not.

People are mocked because they believe the Bible. "Can you be a Christian and represent a multi-cultural country?" Christianity is attacked and false religion is given a pass, even in a time of a religious war.

Elijah performed a miracle under divine approval; He turned off the rain spigot for 3.5 years. As a result, crops and livestock died, and people starved.

Israel mocked the God Who gave them their land. They mocked the covenant God. Their whole history pointed to Y^ehowah, the God of Israel. Our country was founded on Christianity; most of the men who wrote our constitution were Bible-believing Christians.

God took care of Elijah, using a gentile woman; even though he is in the midst of this famine as well. This woman would be the only one to receive relief from the suffering that everyone was undergoing.

Luke 4:26 Yet Elijah was not sent to any of them--but to a widow at Zarephath in Sidon.

Where Elijah was sent was to the heart of Gentile country; to the heart of Baal worship. The Jews should have believed Elijah; and yet, here he is in the middle of a gentile nation. In the midst of incredible apostasy. Blessing to those who continue to grow to spiritual maturity. In the midst of terrible circumstances, God cannot desert us.

So, we often get upset with what happens in our country today and how Christianity is mocked; and yet, in the midst of apostasy, Jesus is there.

Widows are usually very poor. They have to eek out a living in any way that they can and a widow would run out of food first. This would require Elijah to have a lot of faith in God and in what God told him to do. Go to a widow, in the middle of a famine, to a gentile woman, in the middle of a Baal-worshiping land.

1Kings 17:9 `Rise, go to Zarephath, that is to Zidon, and thou hast dwelt there; lo, I have commanded there a widow woman to sustain thee.'

So Elijah gets up and goes to Zarephath. So she is outside the city gates gathering sticks. So Elijah says, "Give me a little water in a jar." The Lord provided a widow right at the front gate, and he tests her. Just like what the Lord did with the Samaritan woman.

1Kings 17:10 And he riseth, and goeth to Zarephath, and cometh in unto the opening of the city, and lo there, a widow woman gathering sticks, and he calleth unto her, and saith, `Bring, I pray thee, to me, a little water in a vessel, and I drink.'

Oh, could you also make me a sandwich?

1Kings 17:11 And she goeth to bring it , and he calleth unto her and saith, `Bring, I pray thee, to me a morsel of bread in thy hand.'

She knows Jehovah Elohim. "As Jehovah your God live..." so she knows that Elijah is a Jew. She appeals to Elijah's God. Elijah recognized that this is the woman.

This is what Jesus is referencing, and these people understand what is going on. They know this history, and how God sent Elijah to the gentiles. She would receive blessing from God and the Jews would get famine.

The Jews, Jesus and Elijah

1. Elijah was a type of Christ. He illustrates Jesus in the Old Testament of Who Jesus is.
2. The event that Elijah was a type of was occurring at that very moment in the synagogue. This is being fulfilled right in front of you. You are the apostates who have rejected Elijah.
3. They rejected Jesus as Messiah, just as the Jews rejected Elijah and his message. This did not sit well with the Jews.

Jesus is telling those in the synagogue that they are apostate. The rabbis; they are apostate. There would be terrible repercussions for this rejection of Jesus Christ. This illustration is not over.

1Kings 17:12 And she saith, `Jehovah thy God liveth, I have not a cake, but the fulness of the hand of meal in a pitcher, and a little oil in a dish; and lo, I am gathering two sticks, and have gone in and prepared it for myself, and for my son, and we have eaten it--and died.'

This woman expected to put one more meal on the table for her and her son, and then they would die together. But Elijah speaks to her. "Feed me first and then go feed your son."

She is willing to depend upon the logistical grace of God. She is in a hopeless situation; but Elijah calms her down. She actually responds to him.

1Kings 17:13 And Elijah saith unto her, `Fear not, go, do according to thy word, only make for me thence a little cake, in the first place, and thou hast brought out to me; and for thee and for thy son make--last;

Elijah makes her a promise. The bowl of flour will not be exhausted or the oil be empty. So she believes and does what he tells her.

1Kings 17:14 for thus said Jehovah, God of Israel, The pitcher of meal is not consumed, and the dish of oil is not lacking, till the day of Jehovah's giving a shower on the face of the ground.'

She is blessed; she survives. At the same time, Israel starved. Jesus is reminding these people of His hometown about Elijah. The gentile woman is blessed and they would stand judged.

What Jesus Was Explaining to Them

1. From their own history, Jesus showed them what they were doing in rejecting Him. This is who you are and these are the consequences.
2. They had a famine in their souls. Their souls had been baked, a desert, a wasteland.
3. Their reaction to Jesus Christ would result in horrendous judgment.

1Kings 17:15 And she goeth, and doth according to the word of Elijah, and she eateth, she and he, and her household--days;

1Kings 17:16 the pitcher of meal was not consumed, and the dish of oil did not lack, according to the word of Jehovah that He spake by the hand of Elijah.

Lesson #0156

Matt. 4: Life of Christ

9/22/2011 Thurs

God could speak for several hours and keep the attention of those who were there. When Jesus taught, we only have portions of what He taught. What is recorded is all that we need to know. It is enough for us. He spoke words that are lost, but the doctrine which He taught is not lost.

Jesus looked around and realized that His message was being rejected. He knew His old friends, He neighbors and some members of His own family do not accept Him as Messiah. Many did not see Him as King of the Jews.

Then there were the arrogant types who could never accept His authority over them. They had authority over Him at one time, and now accepting His authority was impossible for them.

However, the actual reason for rejecting Him is, Jesus was speaking the truth and some people reject the truth. He continued His ministry; He allowed nothing to stop Him. He sees mounting hostility in the faces of these people. As long as people are alive, He gives them a chance; He doesn't always do this in a nice way. He does it this way with a little history lesson. The Jews on that day hated history because it was true and they knew it.

Two of the most famous prophets of Israel had their message rejected by idolatrous Jews of their day. The Jews then were steeped in the worst idolatry; Baal worship. There was even child sacrifice taking place. In spite of the message of 2 of the greatest prophets of Israel, they refused to leave Baal worship. This is the Person they reject then and now. An amazing irony.

Jesus identifies them as Baal worshipers, which is a great insult. The prophets sometimes left the Jews and went to the Gentiles. This did not sit well with the Jews and this was a huge insult to the Jews.

Jesus tells these Jews that He is the fulfillment of this passage of Isaiah. And their rejection of Him is like the rejection of the Baal worshipers. Jesus does not perform miracles at the beck and call of these people.

Jesus had performed many miracles up to this point and some believed and some did not. Jesus knew that miracles would not change the minds of any of these people. If they did not believe the prophecy of Isaiah, they were not about to believe anything else. But Jesus gives them another chance, going to Elijah.

The illustration of negative volition in Israel will be two incidents from 2 rejected prophets. Luke 4:25–26 and the passage in 1Kings. These people are not believers, so they are not people of the covenant. The preservation went to a Gentile woman.

“You are like the Jews in the day of Elijah. You have not changed your minds about Me.”

Now Jesus gives a second illustration. Jesus summarizes 19 verses from 2Kings 5. That is the basis for one verse, and these people know their history. Elisha also dealt with Baal worship. He was another man of faith. Jezebel faced off with Elijah, and Jez decided she was going to kill him, so he took off. However, Elisha did not. Elijah wiped out 400 prophets of Baal. The altar and the prophets all burned together.

In the ancient world, when someone got leprosy, there was nothing that could be done about it. Bobby went to Molechi in Hawaii and there were 12 or 13 lepers left. No more today. There is a drug that will arrest leprosy today, but not cure it. Those lepers were left to rot and there was an epidemic of leprosy. Elisha does not heal a single leper because they are all under judgment. Come back to the Lord; change your mind about Baal. Elisha's ministry was redirected to Syria, a Gentile nation. He healed a gentile leper.

This is a second example of Jesus using the illustration of a prophet who went to the gentiles because of being rejected by Jews.

Luke 4:27 And in the prophet Elisha's time, there were many in Israel who had serious skin diseases, yet not one of them was healed--only Naaman the Syrian."

These people in the synagogue were enraged. They were extremely upset. Jesus says He is the Messiah and Jesus compares them twice to the apostate Jews during the times of Elijah and Elisha. Jesus is saying He can find greater faith among the gentiles. This made the people quite upset. They are unbelieving Jews just like those during the times of these prophets.

They were filled with religious apostasy, and they believed that being Jews was the key to their being accepted by God.

Jews and Regeneration

1. Abraham was regenerate when He received the covenant. Gen. 17:1
2. God made a covenant with a believer and a believer became the father of the Jewish race.
3. Therefore, the regenerate Jews was the receiver of the covenant. That is what the Jews had forgotten. That is what they overlooked.
4. The kingdom was being proclaimed to those who would believe in Him.
5. These Jews in the synagogue, like so many Jews before them, and like so many today, would not believe the promise of God fulfilled in Jesus the Messiah.
6. What was their thinking? This could not be the Messiah who would deny a basic tenet of Judaism; the basic superiority of the Jew. They reacted in total rage.

Those in the synagogue developed into a mob scene; a mob activity. Once a mob gets started, they have no individual thought. They think like a herd; they are influenced by what the crowd is doing. The mob mentality; and this leads toward violence and property destruction and looting and beatings. They were more enraged at that one claiming to be the Messiah than at any time in history. In their view, Jesus was not the Messiah they expected. The point is, God often in the history of Israel had rejected their prophets. At times like this, God blessed the gentiles.

They were more interested in what they thought and felt than what the Scriptures said; even though they understood this was their history. Jesus' ministry was filled with people like this. Yet, keep witnessing.

Luke 4:28 When they heard this, everyone in the synagogue was enraged.

They were through talking and working each other up. They shoved Jesus around and pushed Him outside of the city and took Him to a cliff. They desired to throw Jesus down the cliff. This was a lynch mob. They were not going to get a rope; they would throw Him over a cliff. Hearing a great sermon by the Messiah and wanting to kill Him for it? Persecution happens.

History is filled with situations like this where people desire to kill believers. There are signs all around us. The only security that we have in this life is Jesus Christ. The security of the United States is no security. Place your trust in anything but Him is a house of cards. The other things which you trust in will take you down.

Luke 4:29 They got up, drove Him out of town, and brought Him to the edge of the hill their town was built on, intending to hurl Him over the cliff.

Lesson #0157

Luke 4:28–30 Life of Christ

9/25/2011 1Sunday

Luke 4:28 When they heard this, everyone in the synagogue was enraged.

Everyone in the congregation was filled with rage. They are enraged because they did not like the sermon that they just heard. They were out of control rage. Martin Luther gave some dissenting sermons, and the Catholic hierarchy came down on him.

This is the same time that Palestinians were throwing shoes at Netanyahu image of him speaking in the UN.

Some who have been angry with R. B. Thieme, Jr. turned out to be in love with doctrine. His approach often weeded out those who were not interested. The truth of God's Word has incredible power. Those words of doctrine can edify the souls of believers, upon which to build their Christian lives; or they may reject it from their souls. Often the pastor-teacher becomes the central figure in their reaction to the Word, and he is attacked, when it is the truth of the Word which has gotten them all upset.

The sermon which caused this great rage was from the Messiah. He simply introduced Himself as the Messiah. In their blind arrogance, they totally reject Him. They could not believe that this Son of a lowly carpenter could be the King of the Jews.

You can reject someone out of hand and not be angry; but they were angry. Jesus includes some illustrations from the book of Kings, about Elijah and Elisha. They spoke to Israel in no uncertain terms. The people of Israel had turned to Baal worship, and they even offered up their children. This was imported as the state religion of Jezebel, the wife of Ahab.

The result was the 4th cycle of discipline that came upon Israel. After our Lord completed this sermon, Jesus looked at these people right in the eyes, and they glared right back at Him. They knew these stories about idolatrous Israel; they did not like being compared to ancient apostate Israel.

Jesus had jump-started their self-righteousness. They were being called evil right to their face and they did not care for this approach. So they formed a mob. Mobs form for a lot of reasons. A riot in England when a man was shot during a robbery. A group of people gather and they begin to talk and then shout and then things begin to happen. The dynamics of a mob. They decide, almost to a person, to avenge a supposed wrong. A mindless mob becomes an engine of destruction.

This is the Sabbath and these Jews are self righteous legalistic law-keepers; and they perform the work of throwing Him out. Their objective was to heave Him over a cliff, on a Sabbath, to kill Him for what He said.

It is amazing; these are his old friends and neighbors. They all knew Him and they had seen Him grow up. They had just been given an invitation to salvation and they wanted to kill Him anyway. This is a microcosm of what would happen in Jerusalem in the near future. There is no new thing under the sun.

Some Jews led their fellow Jews into the gas chambers. They just wanted to survive, and did not care how they managed to do it. They were used by the Germans until it was time for them to go.

Satan is unable to rule over his cosmic system. No matter what he does, it gets messed up. He constantly tries to set up a utopia apart from God. These never worked.. In the cosmic system, evil always exists. They simply excuse or rationalize evil by relative thinking.

that everything is relative is the basis for so much evil in this world. 3 or 4 generations ago, we would not recognize the same standards; we have greatly degenerated and the standards of good and evil have changed dramatically. It means there are no true standards of evil. What is evil today will be accepted tomorrow as good because of relative thinking. We all have sin natures, so we justify the things that we do as okay. We as believers know what absolute evil is.

There is no human organization which can bring about the Millennium in the future. Satan wants to disrupt the plan of God. He believes that he can change what immutable God has willed. This is part of his strategy in the Angelic Conflict. Satan's doom was utterly sealed by the cross. Christ had to fulfill all of the Old Testament prophecies and fulfill the plan of salvation. He was the propitiation for our sins.

Luke 4:29 They got up, drove Him out of town, and brought Him to the edge of the hill their town was built on, intending to hurl Him over the cliff.

Jesus had refused to show these Jews a sign or a miracle; but he did reveal here His power. Perhaps some of them realized, "Who is this Man?"

δια διερχομαι = to go through something. Jesus had been pushed and shoved and forced out of town; and suddenly, He walks right through the midst of this crowd, and they did not realize how He did this.

2 schools of thought: He walked through and they could not put their hands on Him. The second is, He turned around and looked at that mob and He stared at them, and they fell back away from Him; and they walked away from Him.

Luke 4:30 But He passed right through the crowd and went on His way.

This foreshadows the rejection that Jesus would endure as Messiah. They all listened to His Words; and so many of them reacted in anger; they rejected Him as the God-man, as the Messiah, as the Suffering Servant.

Lesson #0158 Mt.4:13 Lk.4:30 Is.9:1–2, 6–7 Life of Christ 9/25/2011 2Sunday

Kendall Weeks from Berachah became a pastor in the Portland area. He's had a stroke and is in the hospital.

The previous verses contain a lot of attitude of people; those who accept the Word of God or those who utterly reject it, and go down the path of utter destruction. Sad to see how they reacted to the Savior.

The mob pushed Jesus to the edge of a cliff. He informed them that He was the Messiah and he stated this unequivocally. The little Jesus Who had grown up with them is the Messiah for Whom they had all been waiting.

Somehow, he went right through them. They were unable to kill Him in Nazareth.

Luke 4:30 But He passed right through the crowd and went on His way.

He was bruised for our iniquities; chastised for our sins. At a time of God's Own choosing, He would fulfill this prophecy. Jesus still had a few years to go.

He would train those who would work with Him and then later represent Him. They got it every day, hour after hour; they never left Bible class. They became some of the greatest believers of all time. They proclaimed the Scripture and they took the Word of God to every corner of this earth, which they did.

Only after our Lord had prepared these men would come the most critical part of His ministry, the cross and resurrection. Without the resurrection, He would be no different than any other religious figure.

Because of this rejection, which must have broken His heart as these were friends and loved one, he then goes to Galilee.

Matt. 4:14– Mark 1:14–20 Luke 4:31a

His exact steps are critical. Capernaum was a beautiful place on the north shore of the Sea of Galilee. People are weird but the place is beautiful.

Why Capernaum?

1. Capernaum was a central location and a thriving place.

2. It was the most important city in that area; it was prosperous and busy.
3. There was a large population of many nationalities This was a crossroads city; all kinds of businessmen and traders.
4. It had an international highway, connecting Damascus to Jerusalem and Egypt.
5. Capernaum was a center of trade and commerce. A great hub of activity.
6. This was a perfect place for Jesus to spread His message from that part of the world. If He stood and taught, His message would be carried all over from there.
7. Several of His disciples were from this area, so there were contacts.
8. His residence there fulfilled another great Messianic prophecy of Isaiah. Everything that He did had some purpose like this.

Isa. 9:1 Yet there will be no gloom for her who was in anguish, as in the former time. He degraded the land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali, so afterwards He will glorify the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

Isaiah and this Prophecy's Location

1. Isaiah is making a promise to these areas; and this is a dramatic change for them.
2. This would be a great change for these areas.
3. These are 2 great ancient tribes of Israel; and the allotment for Zebulun and Naphtali were included in the districts of Galilee.

This new HQ is the fulfillment of Isaiah's prophecy. Just as Isaiah made this announcement, so Matthew quotes this passage as the far-fulfillment of our Lord.

Prophecy: there was a lot of prophecy in the Old Testament; and their prophecies often had a near-fulfillment and a far-fulfillment. There would be something that would happen in the not-to-distant future. Yet Matthew quotes this same prophecy, which has a different but related meaning. This is connected and yet different. This takes place in the time of Jesus just as it took place soon after the time of Isaiah.

Jesus Christ is the completely fulfillment of all Old Testament Messianic prophecies.

This is the northern kingdom of Israel, and the tribes received the brunt of 3 campaigns by the King of Assyria, Tiglath Pileser. This would be the fifth cycle of discipline for Israel.

Tiglath Pileser treated this land with contempt. There was a route that they used and the northern kingdom ceased to exist as an independent state, putting the northern kingdom under gentile domination.

Isa. 9:1 Yet there will be no gloom for her who was in anguish, as in the former time. He degraded [treated with contempt] the land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali, so afterwards He will glorify the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

The people walked in darkness, which indicates that they were under divine discipline. Isaiah also encouraged the people with this prophecy. "But later on, He will make it glorious." There is this guarantee of a deliverance from an Assyrian oppression.

There was a future time when the gloom of the northern kingdom would be past; it would come to an end. The Assyrians would leave; they would be out from under this great oppression; out into the light.

God does not allow His people to wander too far without a severe wake-up call. God will not allow us to wander too far either. There will be a wake-up call if we move toward reversionism. We wonder why we keep running into brick walls in every way that we turn. Examine whether or not the plan of God is really a part of your life. Why are you here? What's the point?

Why are you under the Assyrian yoke? You have walked in darkness, so the Lord placed you under darkness. The change is described as a great light for a dark land.

The United States of America is becoming a dark land and the great light is the truth of the Lord Jesus Christ. There is no other light. Politics is not a light; politics is corrupt and dirty. If you put your hope in the candidate of your choice, you will be disappointed. Do not put your hope in the election coming up. The election will reflect the light that is in our soul. You are the light. The Lord honors that. With the light in our souls, maybe we will get a good leader. But the key is the light in our souls; that comes first.

Isa. 9:2 The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; they who dwell in the land of the shadow of death, on them the light has shined.

This promise is also fulfilled in the time of Jesus; the Promised One of Israel will stroll into these same lands as the Great Light. His light will shine on them.

Isa. 9:6 For to us a Child is born, to us a Son is given; and the government shall be on His shoulder; and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.

Isa. 9:7 There is no end of the increase of His government and peace on the throne of David, and on His kingdom, to order it and to establish it with judgment and with justice from now on, even forever. The zeal of Jehovah of Hosts will do this.

Jesus is the Light Who will bring peace to the land of Israel. When has there been peace in the land of Israel? All of the speeches in the UN was about war and animosity.

There will be no more war; no more carnivorous animals. The kids can play with the lion instead of the cat. There is nothing that threatens in the environment. There will be no more insane environmentalists. Perfect justice will be dispensed.

There would be a second advent; but there would also be the cross.

Matt. 4:13 And leaving Nazareth, He came and lived in Capernaum, which is on the seacoast, in the borders of Zebulun and Naphtali,

Lesson #0159

Isa. 9:1–2 Matt. 4:14 Life of Christ

9/28/2011 Wed

There is the near fulfillment and the far fulfillment. There are these tribal lands of Zebulun and Naphtali, which was in the northern kingdom, also called Israel. The Northern Kingdom was the first to be conquered. Tiglath Pileser in 3 campaigns defeated Israel and it became a part of the Assyrian empire.

He cut through Israel like a knife through butter. He had a brutal army that gave no quarter and God allowed for this king to take out this people. He administered the fifth cycle of discipline. The Jews refused to return to the Lord. They were involved in Baal worship. They came under gentile domination. It is called Galilee of the Gentiles below.

This prophecy is also related to the Messiah, which is obvious by vv. 6–7. Isaiah indicates that there will be change for Zebulun and Naphtali.

Isa. 9:1 Yet there will be no gloom for her who was in anguish, as in the former time. He degraded [treated with contempt] the land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali, so afterwards He will glorify the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

These territories were in darkness and they would see a great light. This prophesies the Messiah as King. On them, the light would shine. The promised king would be a new kingdom no longer dominated by the Gentiles. This prophesied to deliverance from oppression.

Isa. 9:2 The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; they who dwell in the land of the shadow of death, on them the light has shined.

Matt. 4:14 picks up this prophecy and says that Jesus fulfills this. Jesus is the great light of salvation.

Matthew makes an editorial comment.

Matt. 4:14 so that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

He quotes from Isa. 9:1. There will be a Deliverer in Zebulun and Naphtali.

Matt. 4:15 "The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, by way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the nations!"

The people sitting in darkness are the people of Zebulun and Naphtali. The light of the Savior came to them.

Matthew and the Isaiah Passage

1. Matthew clearly identifies that this is a fulfillment of Isaiah's prophecy.
2. Matthew indicates that prophecy is being fulfilled in the current time of Jesus' first advent.
3. Then, after Matthew identifies the time of the prophecy's fulfillment, he quotes Isa. 9:1-2
4. Zebulun and Naphtali are ancient Jewish tribal lands, and this was the area around Galilee, where Jesus would be teaching.
5. Instead of by way of the sea, indicating the invasion route of the Assyrians, which is a highway coming down the Sea of Galilee; now for Matthew, this indicates the way of deliverance that comes from the Messiah. This is the crux of the far-fulfillment.
6. Jesus Christ has come to deliver the Jews from oppression. That is what Isaiah says.
7. So, just as the Assyrians initiated oppression, and Isaiah prophesied deliverance; in the end, Jesus Christ is the deliverance which Isaiah promise.

What kind of deliverance did He bring? In Isaiah's day, the Jews lived under maximum discipline for their apostasy; and the Jews in Jesus' day were still oppressed by the Gentiles. The Romans had their boot on their neck. They saw Roman soldiers every day, to remind them who was in charge. They looked to the Messiah to deliver them from oppression; from the yoke of Rome. Christ to them was a political savior; they expected Him to wipe out the Romans.

Many rejected Jesus because He did not throw off the Roman rulers. They did not recognize that they were not delivered until they were regenerated. Abraham was the father of the Jewish race, but the kingdom was offered to the regenerate Jewish race. The key was the salvation of the soul.

Gentiles in Galilee

1. This reference of Isa. 9 does refer to liberation.
2. However, that liberation is not what the Jews expected. Jesus came to redeem them from the slave market of sin. He did not come to redeem them from enslavement to Rome. The cross had to come before the crown. They should have gotten this, but they did not.
3. That is the far-fulfillment of this prophecy of Isaiah. It is not political; it is spiritual. The spiritual is far more important than a political deliverance. The Chaldeans took out the southern kingdom in 586 B.C.
4. Matthew's usage:
 - 1) Galilee contained many gentiles. There was a lot of immigration into their country. If they got there, they were there.
 - 2) That demographic began with the migration of Assyrian settlers.
 - 3) A substantial gentile presence in Zebulun and Naphtali had been true every since the Assyrian occupation of Isaiah's day.

- 4) The fifth cycle of discipline means military conquest and widespread immigration.
- 5) Matthew is referring to the demographics of Galilee during that time.
- 6) There were still many gentile foreigners in this land. There was nothing that was changed. The parallels are complete.

The Palestinians aren't dumb; their ancestors lived in this land for many centuries. They see the Jews returning in numbers only in the 20th century. They had not yet migrated back (this is a matter of numbers. How will this be resolved? Two people believe their have the rights to the same plot of ground. God has said that the claim of the Jews is correct. The Palestinians do not take this into account.

Gen 12:1-3 And Jehovah said to Abram, Go out of your country, and from your kindred, and from your father's house into a land that I will show you. And I will make you a great nation. And I will bless you and make your name great. And you shall be a blessing. And I will bless those that bless you and curse the one who curses you. And in you shall all families of the earth be blessed. God separated Abram from his family. Abram was a believer; and his family was filled with idolaters.

The story of Joseph in Egypt. And how Israel got there to Egypt. At first they were welcome and then they became slaves. Moses was tapped by God to deliver his people. Moses took his people out of Israel as a nation, and marched them to the land God had given them. The first generation saw great miracles; and they never got it. So God did not allow them to go into the land.

Joshua and Caleb went into the land; the only two from Gen X.

In our times, it is not just about the land; it is about the Jewish race. The Palestinians do not just want the land. They do not want to co-exist with Israel; they want to wipe Israel off the map. They are as anti-Semitic as Germany; possibly even worse.

As soon as we choose to go against the Jews, we will fall.

Fulfillment of Isa. 9

1. In His first advent, Jesus Christ liberated the souls of mankind from the slave market of sin. That is true liberation. Liberation Theology looks for a physical deliverer, thinking that we need to be delivered from some political yoke, real or imagined.
2. The land and the kingdom promised is still an issue. When Solomon died, the nation split into two.
3. In His 2nd advent, which has not yet occurred. Death is something to be anticipated. No more suffering; all things are new. We get to leave this hellhole and go into heaven. Jesus Christ will restore the land to its rightful Jewish owners and He initiates the kingdom for the restored nation of Israel. Only Jesus can bring this to pass. There will never be a resolution to the Middle East conflict until the Millennium.

4. This is the 3rd fulfillment of His light coming to a dark land.

3rd Far Fulfillment.

1. At that time, Jesus will rescue Jewish believers. That is the regathered nation. These will be regenerate Jews. Some Jews will side with the anti-Christ.
2. Christ will destroy the enemies of Israel at the battle of Armageddon.
3. Then we will have the kingdom of peace.
4. The Light of His perfect rule will continue for 1000 years.

Jesus is in Capernaum because He was chased out of town.

The people sitting in darkness includes gentiles. They are also under the shadow of death. Plenty of gentiles live along side the Jews and none had seen the light in a dark land.

So salvation will be to the gentiles as well.

Matt. 4:16 The people who sat in darkness saw a great Light; and Light has sprung up to those who sat in the region and shadow of death."

Lesson #0160 Matt. 4:14–22 Isa. 53:3–12 Life of Christ 9/29/2011 Thurs

Many passages in Isaiah speak about the Messiah; and Matthew knows these passages and he picks up on this one prophecy and interprets it for us. He brings it into the time in which he lives. Sometime the New Testament writer may have a different slant. There is great continuity between the Old and New Testaments.

Isaiah prophesied the Messiah and Matthew knew that this is Jesus (probably writing years after the resurrection).

The Lord had to leave Nazareth and the people there wanted to kill Him. So He left and came to Capernaum, which was a vigorous town with a lot of commerce; and there was a mixture of Jews and gentiles here.

Matt. 4:14 so that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

The land that these 2 tribes lived on was this land which was around the Sea of Galilee. Matthew is linking these 2 geographical areas with Jesus teaching in these areas.

Matt. 4:15 "The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, by way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the nations!

The people in this area sat in darkness; which meant, they lived in unbelief and/or they knew no doctrine. They saw a great light, and that was Jesus Christ. Upon them the light dawned, which would be the light of salvation.

Closing Points

1. Matthew indicates that they in Galilee have seen a bright light.
2. Matthew means that Jesus Christ is the very One Who came to His people as the Bright Light. Jesus is described many times as a light.
3. The prophecy of Isaiah for the deliverance of Zebulun and Naphtali was the light that had come to them. They had the Messiah in their midst.
4. As Matthew 4:16b, a light has dawned. The Light of the World is upon them.
5. Matthew's placing of the light of the world in Galilee indicates that the prophecy of Isaiah had been fulfilled.
6. It is clear that the bright light seen in this time in Galilee, spoken of by Isaiah, was this same Jesus Christ, the Savior and deliverer.
7. Through the prophecy of Isa. 9, Matthew is doing something very important. He is identifying Jesus Christ as the bright light, as the Messiah now present in Capernaum.
8. Jesus Christ is the One Who will wipe away the gloom and the darkness. This is no longer about Assyria or Rome. It is all about sin and death. We are all in the predicament.
9. Jesus Christ was the Light to His people Israel, as the Messiah.
10. He was also in His Own time a light to the Gentiles; He brought salvation to both groups; He was the Light of the World; not just the Light of Israel. Matthew is not identifying Jesus Christ as a mere deliverer; a political leader. There are only 2 races in the Bible. Jews and everybody else. This represents God's elect as opposed to everyone else.
11. The King of Kings is also the Suffering Servant. He is the Mighty God, the Prince of Peace.

It is always hard to see how the Jews could not see it.

Matt. 4:16 The people who sat in darkness saw a great Light; and Light has sprung up to those who sat in the region and shadow of death."

Let's look at Isa. 53. The cross had to come before the crown. There is the kingdom promise; the kingdom was promised to Abram in Gen. 12:1-2; the great nation and a land and so forth. What was the criterion? Regeneration. Abram believed and it was counted to him for righteousness.

Our Lord promises the kingdom, but it has not yet happened. The Jews were slaves for 400 years in Egypt; they came to the Land of Promise, and they were a great nation; but the Messiah was not reigning over them. The King of Kings needed to reign over them. You cannot enter into the kingdom without the King of Kings. This was a legitimate offer for the future; "Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven is near."

the Jews should have understood the 1st advent.

Isa. 53:3 He is despised and rejected of men; a Man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief; and as it were a hiding of faces from Him, He being despised, and we esteemed Him not.

It is all right here. Israel did not see Him for what He was.

Isa. 53:4 Surely He has borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows; yet we esteemed Him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

Every Jew should have thought of this verse when Jesus was on the cross. 700 years before it happened.

Isa. 53:5 But He was wounded for our transgressions; He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was on Him; and with His stripes we ourselves are healed.

Our spiritual death; but our iniquity fell upon Him.

Isa. 53:6 All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned, each one to his own way; and Jehovah has laid on Him the iniquity of us all.

Isa. 53:7 He was oppressed, and He was afflicted; yet He opened not His mouth. He is brought as a lamb to the slaughter; and as a sheep before its shearers is dumb, so He opened not His mouth.

Isa. 53:8 He was taken from prison and from judgment; and who shall declare His generation? For He was cut off out of the land of the living; for the transgression of My people He was stricken.

Isa. 53:9 And He put His grave with the wicked, and with a rich one in His death; although He had done no violence, nor was any deceit in His mouth.

Isa. 53:10 Yet it pleased Jehovah to crush Him; to grieve Him; that He should put forth His soul as a guilt-offering. He shall see His seed, He shall prolong His days, and the will of Jehovah shall prosper in His hand.

Jesus was separated from God the Father. God the Father was to see His atonement and He would be fully satisfied. Jesus Christ was a Suffering Servant and this had nothing to do with His people or with His rejection. The Righteous Servant would justify the many.

Jesus is the Life-giving Light in the 1st advent; but the Jews expected the political King. They wanted the kingdom without the cross. They wanted Rome overthrown; and they thought that they could enter into the kingdom because they were Jews.

Isa. 53:11 He shall see the fruit of the travail of His soul. He shall be fully satisfied. By His knowledge shall My righteous Servant justify for many; and He shall bear their iniquities.

Isa. 53:12 Therefore I will divide to Him with the great, and He shall divide the spoil with the strong; because He has poured out His soul to death; and He was counted among the transgressors; and He bore the sin of many, and made intercession for transgressors.

“I am the Light of the World; whoever follows Me will not walk in darkness.” The Light was in Capernaum.

Both Jews and gentiles would be included in this kingdom, and the Jews did not get this.

Jesus Goes to the Jews and Gentiles

1. Because of this location, Jesus would have a very active ministry to Jews and gentiles.
2. Matthew confirms that after the rejection in Nazareth, a microcosm of what would happen. His hometown tried to kill Him; but Matthew confirms that Jesus would extend His light to the gentiles.
3. Jesus Christ still had a mission to the Jews. He never gave this up. So Jesus still has a mission to the Jews.
4. Salvation was now open. To this point, you would become part of Israel. Salvation was the same; but the gentiles would be incorporated into this. Jews and gentiles were all equal as believers.
5. Unlimited atonement was offered by Jesus to all mankind.
6. Thus, Jesus would carry on an extensive ministry to everyone throughout Galilee.

This is what Matthew is telling us in these opening lines. He continues to link Jesus Christ with the Kingdom of God.

Matt. 4:17 From that time Jesus began to preach and to say, “Repent! For the kingdom of Heaven is at hand.”

We know what this message means, and John the Baptizer spoke this message; and so did Jesus Christ early on. Change your mind about Jesus Christ; about the Messiah; about the Savior. He is the Great Light of Salvation.

Jesus would now go and preach to the gentiles that the Kingdom of Heaven is now at hand.

Jesus began to make Himself known in this area as the Messiah. However, there was another bit of unfinished business, which He needed to attend to. He needed to call disciples to Himself. He already had some disciples; but this is a second call to the men who were with Him in Judæa.

Mark 1:16–20 covers the same ground.

Jesus is walking by the sea; and yet, they were back here fishing once again. So this is their second call.

Matt. 4:18 And walking by the Sea of Galilee, Jesus saw two brothers, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea. For they were fishermen.

Matt. 4:19 And He said to them, Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men.

They immediately left their nets and followed Him.

Matt. 4:20 And they immediately left their nets and followed Him.

Jesus called James and John a second time.

Matt. 4:21 And going on from there, he saw another two brothers, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets. And He called them;

There were 6 disciples with him all the way to Samaria. These men had already believed in Jesus Christ. They were believers and they had followed Him before. They had already been called once and they responded. They accepted this call before, and were with Him for about 6 months in Judæa. But they were not with Him when rejected in Nazareth. When they got near to Galilee, they took a leave of absence and they went back to work. They were commercial fishermen with a booming family business. They did not go with Jesus to Nazareth. They did not know what to do next. This is the question that every believer must ask himself; after salvation, what?

2 simple words: "Follow Me." They needed to grow up and mature spiritually. Their thinking needed to be renovated. They had scattered after returning to Galilee. Jesus knew where they were and He knew where they would be fishing.

Their first call was in John 1; and that was simple faith in Christ. This is their second call, while they are by the sea. They are called to become His permanent and constant companions; to be His dedicated disciples. They were being recalled for intensive training in doctrine.

These men would leave behind heir profession and their relatives. What is extraneous, they leave behind. There is an old way of life that must be left behind. They are embarking upon the spiritual life. They will follow the Lord in the prototype spiritual life.

The spreading of the Word of God and evangelizing would be their mission; and we have the same call; there is no difference. We will now follow the Lord; our operational mission; whatever our spiritual gift is. It is the same call.

Matt. 4:22 and they immediately left the boat and their father and followed Him.

V. 23 appears to be sort of a catch-all verse.

Matt. 4:23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all kinds of sickness and all kinds of disease among the people.

Lesson #0161

Matt. 4:18–23 Life of Christ

10/2/2011 1Sunday

Shortly after the fiasco in the synagogue, our Lord moves to a beautiful area, the Galilee area. He chooses to take a stroll along the Sea of Galilee. Our Lord invented the day of rest, so it is not out of line to think that He enjoyed some downtime.

Bobby does not do PowerPoint; he wants to know that everyone is with him. He is probably non-technical, to some degree.

Jesus has met all of these disciples before and He has called them before and they went with Him to Jerusalem. They were with Him in Judæa. We might become puzzled at this, but they peeled off and returned to their trade when they got back.

The question in their minds is, they have let their business lay fallow for about 6 months, and it is time to get back to work.

Matt. 4:18 And walking by the Sea of Galilee, Jesus saw two brothers, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea. For they were fishermen.

Matt. 4:21 And going on from there, he saw another two brothers, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets. And He called them;

In both cases, with both sets of men, Jesus said the same thing.

Matt. 4:19 And He said to them, Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men.

Matt. 4:20 And they immediately left their nets and followed Him.

Matt. 4:22 and they immediately left the boat and their father and followed Him.

Bobby spent 10 years in the service and he spent about 5 years at Fort Benning in Georgia. Anyone who has been in the infantry has, at one time or another, passed through Fort Benning. The army infantry school is here. The infantry is the queen of battle. They are there first and always wherever there is combat.

Infantry training is there for all 2nd lieutenants and also for captains who will lead companies as well. There is basic training for infantrymen. Bobby commanded a company at Fort Benning. This was central to his army experience. Anyone who has been to Fort Benning has seen a statue, which always comes to mind, when Bobby sees the words, "Follow Me." This is a statue of an infantry lieutenant holding a rifle in one hand with a fixed bayonet, and the other hand is up and waving forward, and the statue is named, Follow Me. Similar to the Marines planting the flag at Iwo Jima. This is what the infantry leader must do; lead his men in combat. There are people behind him, bullets are flying and artillery is going off; and it is an unnatural act to follow anyone into war like this. This is exactly what Jesus Christ meant when He said, “Follow Me.”

We are being led into a conflict which raged on even before man was created. Satan convinced a third of the angels to rebel against God. This was when the trial of Satan and his angels began. The conflict has been resolved by the creation of mankind, and everything that happens from that moment on, until the last person in history is born. The 1st advent was the greatest battle of this war; it is the Gettysburg of the Angelic Conflict. They would undergo intensive training with practical field problems, guided and instructed by Jesus Christ. There would finally be a graduation to their operational mission. They became the teachers and the evangelists and the writers of the canon of Scripture. They would win tactical victory after tactical victory in the Angelic Conflict.

These disciples did not fully understand what was expected, but they were willing to follow Him and they wanted to learn. They were positive toward doctrine. They wanted to be up front in combat. They were trainees without knowledge at this point. As we grow and we continue to have our training, for the combat that we are in, so that we can think like a soldier. The school of the combat soldier is where we learn the spiritual life.

These 4 disciples from this point on would help the Lord build His ministry. They are the ones who followed Him. They continued the fight when He ascended into heaven.

Whenever Jesus Christ speaks to people, He knew exactly what to say. Being born again was His approach with Nicodemus. The Samaritan woman was spoken to about living water, which resulted in her conversion and the conversion of the entire town. Similarly, Jesus approaches His disciples with the words, “Follow Me, and I will make you all fishers of men.” They got on board to a new boat and Jesus Christ proceeds with a new mission.

Matt. 4:19 And He said to them, Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men.

Matt. 4:20 And they immediately left their nets and followed Him.

Matt. 4:22 and they immediately left the boat and their father and followed Him.

V. 23 tells us what came next. He continues His ministry in the Galilee area. This was typical of His ministry. He was on tour; He went to cities, to the countryside, etc. When He did a miracle, and He would use it to illustrate. He did not do healing services for the reason of impressing or grabbing the attention of others.

In Nazareth, they would not believe. The official's response was great faith. When he showed some positive volition toward our Lord's message, then Jesus healed his son.

The gospel message that Jesus proclaimed had many names and many approaches; but it is always about the good news of salvation. There is always the same emphasis. It is always about the works of Jesus Christ; His death on the cross. Each description represents just a piece of the good news. We must understand the content of His message.

The Gospel of Jesus Christ

1. The gospel is the power of God toward salvation. Rom. 1:16 For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first and also to the Greek. There are a lot of people who are just that; ashamed of the gospel. The focuses upon the effectiveness of the gospel. It never comes back without doing the work that it was sent out to do. The gospel of Jesus Christ comes with the power of God. The Holy Spirit is convincing; He is convicting. Everyone faces the Holy Spirit in this presentation of the gospel. To those who believe, the Holy Spirit makes this faith effective for salvation. In this case, there is the gospel presented and there must be some positive volition, or it all stops. There Holy Spirit makes the gospel real; the Holy Spirit acts as the human spirit. Everyone who hears the gospel gets the ministry of the Holy Spirit to convince them. If they believe, then there is the transfer. It does not matter who the person is; race and gender and economic status have nothing to do with it.
2. 2Cor. 4:3–5 our gospel also describe this. But also if our gospel is hidden, it is hidden to those being lost, in whom the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelieving ones, so that the light of the glorious gospel of Christ (who is the image of God) should not dawn on them. For we do not preach ourselves, but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake. You have to be saved in order to call it, our gospel. It is not veiled to us, because we have believed in Jesus Christ.

Matt. 4:23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all kinds of sickness and all kinds of disease among the people.

Lesson #0162

Matt. 4:23 Life of Christ
Different Names for the Gospel

10/2/2011 2Sunday

Each emphasis on the gospel might have been different, but each time, it was a call for people to have faith alone in Christ alone.

First 2 points are repeated.

The Gospel of Jesus Christ

1. The gospel is the power of God toward salvation. Rom. 1:16 For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone who believes, to the Jew first and also to the Greek. The Holy Spirit is definitely there; he acts as the human spirit, which is common grace. It includes the circumstances to bring a person around to positive volition. There is no left or right lobe here. This is where it is considered by the unbeliever. When faith is expressed, then the Holy Spirit makes this faith effective for salvation. It is not our faith that saves us; it is the trigger mechanism which allows the Holy Spirit to regenerate us.

2. 2Cor. 4:3–5 our gospel also describe this. But also if our gospel is hidden, it is hidden to those being lost, in whom the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelieving ones, so that the light of the glorious gospel of Christ (who is the image of God) should not dawn on them. For we do not preach ourselves, but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake. You have to be saved in order to call it, our gospel. It is not veiled to us, because we have believed in Jesus Christ. What is veiled is the mind of the unbeliever to the gospel. It never gets past a certain point without God the Holy Spirit making it real to the unbeliever. Satan has blinded the minds of the unbelieving. The gospel reflects the light of the glory of Christ. Satan, the god of this world, veils the mind of the unbeliever. Once this person expresses negative volition, this person can harden and harden further against the gospel. They are not blinded by the light; they are blinded by negative volition. Once a believer is negative toward doctrine, he forms scar tissue on his soul. That is a disaster. No doctrine means that you cannot live the spiritual life. What happens is secular humanism rushes in to replace the gospel, which is rejected. This is tantamount to hardening the heart and this is the atheist who actively opposes the gospel and calls these people primitives. They are arrogant and their minds have been blinded by the god of this world. This is very similar to the pharaoh of Egypt, who saw 10 miracles; and every time he saw a miracle, he cranked up his negative volition. That is hardness of heart; he hardened his own heart; and then God hardened his heart. He was blinded; because the power of God was right in front of him. You can see this same sort of hardness today in secular humanism. Not everyone will respond to the gospel of salvation, even if it is the glory of Christ. It is very difficult if this is someone whom you are close to and you want to see in heaven.
3. Eph. 6:15 the gospel of peace. Therefore stand, having your loins girded about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness and your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace (Eph. 6:14–15). The gospel plays a part in combating the devil. Peace is reconciliation. Eph 2:14 For He is our peace, He making us both one, and He has broken down the middle wall of partition between us. Jesus Christ is our peace. There is no longer a dividing wall between us and God. Unlimited atonement; God provides all of this to the world. The Holy Spirit baptizes us into the body of Christ. Here is where the 39 irrevocable assets come into play. We are all one in Christ through this baptism. The Christian soldier is ready to go out and present reconciliation to the whole world. That is a job that Satan dearly hates to see the believer accomplishing.
4. The eternal gospel, in Rev. 14:6 And I saw another angel flying in mid-heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach to those dwelling on the earth, even to every nation and kindred and tongue and people,... This is John having a dream, but not one detached from reality. The emphasis is upon the gospel being preached to all of the nations. This mirrors the great commission give by our Lord Jesus Christ when He told the disciples to take the gospel to the uttermost parts of the earth. Even in judgement, God continues to offer eternal life everywhere to mankind. The gospel continues to be at work until the end of time. It is effective until the day that any unbeliever dies. It has a saving effect for believers forever. The results are forever.

5. Matt. 4:23 the gospel of the kingdom. And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all kinds of sickness and all kinds of disease among the people. Christ was their king Who offered the kingdom to regenerate Jews; the gospel of the kingdom. It is the good news about Christ. This is about the kingdom and the entrance into the kingdom. That is the prerequisite to enter into the kingdom. Many Jews wanted the kingdom without the cross. When the King comes, we are a part of the kingdom. The fulfillment of the unconditional covenant to unregenerate Israel begins with the gospel of Jesus Christ.

These are the various ways that Jesus presented the gospel. To punctuate this gospel of the kingdom, Jesus goes on and does some other things. He heals every type of sickness and disease.

A little grammar. With this adjective πας, when it modifies a noun in the singular, it refers to the individual members of a class denoted by the noun. Here, the noun is νοσος, which means disease, sickness. The grammar here indicates that Jesus did not heal every single disease and sickness; He healed individuals of various types of diseases. That means, he healed categories of diseases, but not all the occurrences of each disease. Jesus did not heal every instance of disease of every person that He came across.

Now, why did He not heal everyone? Jesus did not heal for healings sake. Healing revealed His power over all things damaging to man. He healed where there would be impact and where there was positive volition. He revealed His power over all human maladies. This revealed the power of the message of the gospel. If Jesus could heal physically, then he would be able to heal spiritual maladies. Mastery over physical diseases means that He has mastery over sin and death. Only He, as God, could initiate the Kingdom of Heaven by healing those who are dead in sin. As Savior, He would usher in the kingdom for those who faced sin and death.

Matt. 4:23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all kinds of sickness and all kinds of disease among the people.

Lesson #0163

Matt. 4:23 Life of Christ

10/5/2011 Wed

Matt. 4:23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all kinds of sickness and all kinds of disease among the people.

Jesus arrived at these various synagogues and was often first recognized as a brilliant rabbi. Jesus did not heal every single person that He came across. This was not the focus of His ministry. It was not about miracles; it was about the best effect from those miracles. Jesus never did a miracles for purely humanitarian reasons. Most Christians today do not believe that the miracles actually occurred. There are many cults today who do not believe that Jesus is God. If Jesus was truly a good man, would He have not healed everyone? He was not a good man in that sense. What He did by way of miracles was done to further His mission and message to present Himself as the Messiah, and to let those around Him let them know that He was the Messiah.

Jesus and Healing

1. Miracles showed that Jesus had power over all of these diseases. There were physicians in those days, but they could not heal all the diseases in that day. Jesus could.
2. Jesus' miracles were qualitative and not quantitative. It was not about how many miracles that Jesus performed; but it was their purpose in the plan of God.
3. Healing physical maladies illustrated the power of our Lord's message. This power of this message was amazing.
4. If Jesus had mastery over all types of physical disease, then He had mastery over the greatest human disease; the malady of sin and death. Jesus could cure that malady; the separation between God and man.
5. Only He could provide the healing to take man into the Kingdom of Heaven. The racial Jew would not go into heaven; the believing Jew would inherit the kingdom.
6. Healing represented Jesus' purpose for the hypostatic union and the salvation that He brought.

Such healings drew large crowds. Charlatans today get crowds and money and it is a lucrative business. To those crowds, the positive among them responded; they responded to His gospel message; they did not respond simply to the miracles.

While all of this was going on, His disciples were also listening and watching and wondering. He told His disciples to follow Him, and so they did. This was time for them to get a big dose of doctrine.

This is continued to Luke 5. Everywhere Jesus went, there were those who wanted to hear the gospel; they surrounded Him. They followed Him everywhere and the crowds were enormous.

The crowd moved in on Him, and all that He was able to do was into the lake of Gennesaret. These people were positive toward His message.

Luke 5:1 And it happened that the crowd pressed on Him to hear the Word of God, He stood by the lake of Gennesaret.

Jesus saw two boats and the fishermen were washing the net.

Luke 5:2 And He saw two boats standing by the lake. But the fishermen had left them and were washing their nets.

Jesus is a few yards off shore, sitting in a fishing boat, and He begins to teach this huge crowd. He had Peter hold the boat in position. Jesus Christ did 2 things during this time. He was slightly offshore. He taught the Word of God to the positive, where He could be heard, without standing in the lake. Sound carries better over water. He could not be heard past a few rows if he just stood there; however, his voice was projected across the water. He wanted to teach the positive the Word of God. Secondly, He also wanted to teach His disciples an important lesson about following Him. The disciples did not grasp fully what it meant to follow Him.

Some were saved and some grew spiritually.

Luke 5:3 And He entered into one of the boats, which was Simon's, He asked him to thrust out a little from the land. And He sat down and taught the people out of the boat.

After this teaching had been completed, Jesus was going to teach the disciples. So He tells Peter to go out further into the lake in order to do a little fishing.

Luke 5:4 And as He stopped speaking, He said to Simon, Launch out into the deep and let your nets down for a haul.

Simon indicated that they had little luck before with fishing.

Luke 5:5 And answering, Simon said to Him, Master, we have toiled all the night and have taken nothing. Yet at Your word I will let down the net.

They got quite a number of fish so that their nets were being torn.

Luke 5:6 And doing this, they enclosed a great multitude of fish. And their net was being torn.

They had so many fish, the another boat had to come to help them; and they had so much fish that both boats began to sink somewhat.

They need to be taught to completely trust the Lord for all materials sustenance. They needed to stop worrying about everything in life. They needed to stop worrying about all of the basics in life.

When we wandered into church, we had something that we worried about; we thought about it all the way here. These disciples were the same way and they were concerned about their living; so they went back to their business. They needed to concentrate on Jesus Christ and learn how to follow Him.

They need to be first concerned about their spiritual lives and everything else would fall into place. What about next week; what is going to happen? Etc. This is the lesson of our lives. The main priority is Bible doctrine.

We are believers in Jesus Christ. We have the same obligation as Jesus' disciples. Following Jesus is what we are doing right now in Bible class. It is not just the learning, but it is the dependency upon Him. When doctrine is applied in our lives, everything else falls into place.

Bobby is not telling us that every problem will disappear. We are prepared spiritually to deal with these problems and they will not run our lives; and we will have a new renovated way of thinking. We develop a sound mind via Bible doctrine. We develop renovated thinking via Bible doctrine. This is our life. As soon as we get that; that this is not just knowledge about Jesus. This is His thinking and it ought to be our thinking. This is the most wonderful of lives.

Jesus Teaching Logistical Grace to the Disciples

1. Jesus taught Peter that He is totally capable of providing for every need. We want to solve our own problems. We are working it out. There are some problems which are unsolvable. There are some which can be solved, but there are unintended consequences. If you cannot depend upon the Lord to solve your problems, logistic-wise or in any other way.
2. Jesus Christ accentuated this doctrine by miraculously providing food. He wanted Peter and the rest of the disciples to get the message of logistical grace. This is all about logistical grace. All things are in the hands of the Lord. Fish here is not recreation; this is food.
3. When they understood this, the disciples would be ready to follow Jesus with no reservations.

The two boats were empty and the fishermen had been out all night. Most of the time Bobby fishes with Rick, they go out at night. These were experienced fishermen and the fish came close to the surface to feed at night. When the sun came up, the fish went deeper. Logically, there is a right time to fish. At dawn, they all came ashore. The previous night, fishing was terrible. They had been fishing all night. However, that day, they would capture more fish than at any other time.

Nets must be maintained in order to fish the next night. Peter climbed back into his boat and they went out a little ways at Jesus' direction. Then Jesus took the time to teach this lesson to Peter. Peter is an experienced fisherman, and Jesus tells him to go out in the morning. Peter was tired of fishing by this time. Peter still followed the Lord's direction. It might not make sense, but we are to do it anyway. It was a mandate from God. Bible doctrine is absolute truth.

Peter had no expectation that fish would be caught. He followed the command anyway. He was a good soldier. This is one reason Jesus chose him. Peter was up for a little authority orientation.

There are a bunch of people at Wall Street without a clue about authority-orientation. Peter, at the Garden of Gethsemane did not grasp what was going on. 1 and 2 Peter are 2 great books of doctrine.

He follows the command of Jesus and every indicator was, he would get no fish. However, there were so many fish that Peter had to call people in from the shore to help him with all of these fish. They had never experienced anything like this.

Luke 5:7 And they signaled the partners, those in the other boat, to come and help them. And they came and filled both the boats, so that they were sinking.

Then Peter responded in a very unusual way. He recognized all that Jesus was with power over nature; He was the Creator. This much power over nature itself. This is a lesson we must learn and apply.

Lesson #0164

Matt. 4: Life of Christ

10/6/2011 Thurs

The fishermen knew the way to catch fish; and they did not know fish would ever behave in that particular way that time of day; and yet, there they were, that time of day, in numbers beyond imagination. We might want to attribute this to luck or coincidence; but this catch was so many that the nets began to separate and the boats were sinking under the weight of all these fish. There was no question in the mind of these disciples that Jesus was responsible; He commanded that they fish at this odd time. Peter was skeptical since they had been fishing all night. They could only attribute the action of the fish to the ability of Jesus Christ to perform a miracle. They were too experienced on that lake and what Jesus did was not just a lucky break.

Luke 5:8 And seeing, Simon Peter fell at the knees of Jesus, saying, "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, Lord."

The disciples and their fellow workers were astonished.

Luke 5:9 For he and all who were with him were astonished at the haul of fish which they had taken,

James and John were partners with Peter in this fishing business, and they were quite amazed that Jesus had such great power over nature. They had never seen anything like this.

Peter recognized that Jesus was God. He voiced his reaction. Peter always had something to say. Peter recognizes the divine authority of Jesus. Peter was expressing awe and reverence that he was in the presence of God. He knows Jesus as the Messiah and he suddenly realizes that he is sitting next to the Creator of the Universe.

Bobby wonders if we will feel that same embarrassment because we have not lived the complete spiritual life that God designed for us.

Peter realized that he was completely unworthy to be in the presence of God. We have no idea what kind of a man Peter had been prior to salvation. Whatever it was, his areas of weakness are a non-issue. He is speaking for the entire human race. Anyone of us would have said the same thing. We are all sinful and we are all unworthy.

Luke 5:8 And seeing, Simon Peter fell at the knees of Jesus, saying, "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, Lord."

Jesus tells Simon, do not fear; now you will be taking men alive. There was a farming analogy before; and now, here we have a fishing analogy. Peter would be fishing for men. Jesus relieved Peter's embarrassment. There was no need for Peter to fear. His faith qualified him to be there with Jesus. He had gained a relationship with God; a familial relationship with God. He was family. He was a royal priest. He expressed faith alone in Christ alone and He had been justified. He possessed the imputed righteousness of God.

Every one of us get the same assets as Peter got and the same access to Jesus Christ.

Luke 5:10 and so also were James and John, the sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. And Jesus said to Simon, Do not fear, from now on you will be taking men alive.

The boat did not sink. The disciples all followed Jesus, forsaking all things. When they got to shore. They knew Jesus would provide for them.

Peter and Logistical Grace

1. The authority of Christ and His Word took precedence over sustenance. They were under the logistical grace of the God of the universe; and so are we. We did not sit on the Sea of Galilee and see it first hand, but we still have it.
2. Their following Jesus indicates their complete faith in Him to provide. They are in the right place at the right time and they decided to follow Him. Application: how often do we strive to take care of yourself and you forget God's logistical grace. How often are you in a panic. You've just been fired. You don't know if you can make your payment for this or that; and you worry. But we are under God's logistical grace. If the problems that we face are unsolvable, then we look to God. In God's plan, God has a purpose. God guides and cares for us every step of the way. Casting your cares upon Him for He cares for you. Peter wrote that. That is a simple promise of God. And we know exactly what to do. We can use logistical grace rationale. This is what the Lord showed to these men on the Sea of Galilee.
3. Just as the disciples had this enormous success in fishing, which is a provision from God, they understood something: that provision did not come because of their skill and ability. There was nothing about them which allowed them to catch all of these fish.

4. The catching of the fish came through faith, knowledge and obedience.
5. Just like Peter under those conditions, success in our spiritual life come through faith, knowledge and obedience to the Word of God.

Application of this

1. Application: don't go halfway; don't go with one foot in and one foot out. I'll take care of it and if the Lord intervenes, then great.
2. Obedience is an attitude. The attitude comes first.
3. The promises of God's Word and the mental attitude of faith rest precedes the actions of obedience. To follow Jesus Christ, there is a mental attitude involved. These men had a mental attitude to follow Him. Obedience does not work if you have a lousy mental attitude. You can only go so far, and then you burn out.
4. Be obedient to doctrine with a mental attitude that is without doubt. When you do not doubt God's provisions, the mental attitude is there. Depend upon them.
5. Do not be obedient for the wrong reasons. Self serving; self aggrandizing motivations. "I'm going to make the coins drop loudly in the plate so everyone hears."

We may think that the disciples had it made; they got to live with Jesus. They got to hear His words. They believed His Word, which was verified countless times. They understood that He was unique; that He was the Messiah. However, in all of this knowledge, there was a very personal aspect. They did not respond to an idea or to a philosophy or to an amazing man who did miraculous things. They did not respond to a teacher like a rabbi in the classroom. This was not a personality cult. These men were believers who responded to a personal relationship. This was a Man Who graciously invited these men to join Him. He calmed their fears and comforted them. He exhibited humility and love. He paid attention to them personally. Jesus was a far cry from the arrogant religious leaders of that day. They were self righteous and they were arrogant. Jesus had no self-righteousness. He was a person they could love and respect. They were responding just as Abram responded; he left and followed the call of the Lord. Gen. 12:1. These disciples did exactly the same thing for Him. You cannot discount the personal relationship between them all. He had great compassion, humility and care. That is what logistical grace is all about. This is quite amazing when God cares enough to give us such a great provision. We, as believers, enter a very personal relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ. We are His family. We are sons of God, everyone who believes. We are royal family.

We do not have to be face to face with Him in order to have a personal relationship with Him. We come to love and honor and to respect and to esteem Him. We have that in our own relationship. Our relationship is through Bible doctrine. It is not just about learning. Those disciples had a personal knowledge of the Lord; we also have a personal knowledge of the Lord. Through God's Word, we see Him just as they did. We come to personally love Him and to reciprocate His love.

Love motivates us in so many ways. This motivates us in this personal relationship. We do things for those that we love that we do not do for anyone else. This motivates us to follow Him. Even though we don't see Him, we love Him. The truth of Bible doctrine is a reflection of His thinking and His grace and His attitude in every respect. This is the transforming and impelling power. Metabolized doctrine is a personal relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ. He becomes the overwhelming influence for us. He becomes the center for our lives. When the disciples walk away from their boats. They had that personal relationship, which consists of knowing and conforming to His thinking. So don't ever say, "If only I had lived in the time of Jesus Christ." We have all of His messages in person; we are looking at them. This is exactly the information that we need. This is so that we know Him just as the disciples know Him. Don't ever think that it is just knowledge. Knowledge allows us to apply doctrine; that is following Him in a personal association.

Knowing Jesus Christ Through Bible Doctrine.

1. Bible doctrine can not ever be removed from the Person of Jesus Christ.
2. Doctrine is not abstract. It is not just an idea. It is not just a philosophy of life; it must not be γνώσις. It is not knowledge for knowledge's sake. It is not abstract; it is personal. When you think of doctrine and you hear Bible doctrine, it is not just some abstract idea; it represents the mind of Christ. If you have a loved one overseas in combat. Even if they are not around, you still have a personal relationship with them. You know them that well. Your love does not abate because they are not there.
3. ἐπίγνωσις doctrine is the means, the impetus, the motivation for a personal relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ. The more you know, the closer the relationship.
4. That relationship, based upon Bible doctrine, is the transforming influence of our lives. Personal relationships can do that.
5. Understand that what we are doing right now is not doctrine simply for doctrine's sake. This is not just a classroom for knowledge.
6. The doctrine that we take in here is for the purpose of following Jesus Christ in a personal relationship. We are learning to know Him and to think like Him and to live the spiritual life. The Lord Jesus Christ was to glorify God.
7. We are hear and we listen to doctrine to think as He thinks. That is what doctrine is. We are motivated to function within the confines of our spiritual gift.
8. We learn doctrine to apply His thinking to our lives.

So we have that personal relationship just as the disciples did. Jesus Christ implanted His mind; His thinking and His mission in them. Jesus personally transformed us from immature to mature believers. That is how we are a follower of Jesus Christ. We are transformed by the power of the Holy Spirit and the mind of Christ in us. He lives in us as well. The Shekinah glory indwells us as well.

Luke 5:11 And bringing their boats onto land, forsaking all things, they followed Him.

Communion Sunday:

The most important mention of shed blood is in connection with Christ's atonement. Forgiveness is the result of His shed blood on the cross. Otherwise, He would have needed to suffer often, since the foundation of the world. Once a year, the high priest would enter into the Holy of Holies and he would sprinkle the blood of the lamb on the mercy seat. And inasmuch that it is appointed for man to die once, and after that, the judgment. We emerge from the womb, separated from God. We will all die once physically. Christ also, having been offered once for the sins of the many shall appear a second time without reference to sin to those who eagerly await Him. This is the meaning of His blood, as pictured by the shed blood of the animals. Sin is no longer an issue. The believer is no longer condemned, but will find residence in heaven for all eternity.

Jesus is the real substitute for us. Yet, today, His shed blood is a very unpopular concept. In the minds of liberal theologians and some pastors, if it were not this doctrine of the shed blood, Christianity might become more acceptable to the wide world. That is what Christianity is to some people is a wonderful set of morals and rules. But there is nothing more offensive than those who do not know or understand the blood of Christ.

If sin is of no consequence, then blood and the payment for sins is unimportant.

The preaching of the cross is, to them who perish, foolishness; but to us, it is the power of God unto salvation. Lev. 17:11 For the life of the flesh is in the blood; for it is the blood that makes atonement; a death for a life. In the Old Testament, God ordained specific blood sacrifices. The animal blood represented the future shedding of the blood of Christ; His blood; His substitutionary death.

How does the shed blood of Christ make atonement for us? A blood sacrifice is necessary to propitiate the righteousness of God. The violence and the gore involved in the Levitical offering was designed to recognize God's unyielding righteousness.

So how can God be pleased with His sinless Son dying? He will see it and be satisfied, and My Righteous One, My Servant, will justify the many. How was the world propitiated by this horrible sacrifice? All of the sins of the world, past, present and future, were poured out upon Him and He carried out sin in His Own body on the cross.

Besides propitiation, the blood of Christ provides forgiveness. And when He had taken a cup, and given thanks, He gave it to them and said, "Drink you, all of it" for this is my blood offered for the forgiveness of sin. Divine forgiveness is not forgetting. The key is found in the substitutionary death for our sins. This runs from Gen. 3:21 until the very end. And the Lord God made garments of skin for Adam and his wife. This required the death of an animal. It was the covering of Adam and the woman's bodies which made these two acceptable to be forgiven. In the Old Testament, sin was covered over, which was based upon the shed blood of animals. The bloodless fig leaves were unsatisfactory to God. The bloodless work of man could not cover over man's sins. The blood will be assigned to you in the houses where you live. It was the shed blood of an innocent lamb sprinkled on their door posts which saved the people. When I see the blood, I will pass over you. Knowing that you were not redeemed with perishable things like the gold and silver from your empty manner of life, but by the precious blood of the Lord Jesus Christ.

The disciples had now learned a basic and valuable lesson. It came from a miracle which occurred on the Sea of Galilee called the miracle of the catch of fish. In this miracle, Jesus Christ used an easily comprehensible circumstance for these disciples in order to get His point across. This got his target audience. These disciples had spent their entire lives providing for themselves by fishing. This miracle teaches that God provides; God's grace in our everyday life, where these men had to work for their sustenance. God could provide all that was necessary for their material needs. This lesson was, He was totally capable of providing for all of their needs.

Logistical grace is a lesson which we must all learn. This stands out as a part of our grace orientation. Logistical grace is what our Lord taught these men on the Sea of Galilee. Jesus provided fish so that Peter and the rest of the fishermen would catch on, and they would, from that moment on, follow Him without reservation.

Matt. 4:23 introduces the many miracles Jesus cured. And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all kinds of sickness and all kinds of disease among the people.

Luke 4 and Mark

Lesson #0166

Miracles Luke 5: Life of Christ

10/9/2011 2Sunday

Miracles are one of the most misunderstood subjects in Christianity; others are skeptical about them. Particularly in the gospel; they did not see the miracles so they question whether they did occur.

An extraordinary cure from illness; or events occur which are inexplicable, except by the hand of God. The inexplicable could have other explanations other than a divine miracle. God can have a hand in changing things; but this is not necessarily the case. Finding miracles under every hospital bed is overstepping the bounds. It is often guesswork whether a miracle has occurred. It is very rare; and rarely can we conclusively call them a miracle. But there are no healers. Those people are phonies; they are charlatans.

The Word of God is our miracle; and if the Word of God is not good enough, little else will convince you. More miracles were performed by our Lord than at any other time in history. What is important here is, to know that God is certainly capable of performing miracles; and they certainly do happen. But it all depends upon His plan. It is always God's prerogative. It is all about God; we cannot coerce this from Him.

What about prayer? Shouldn't I pray for those in need? Sometimes prayers for miracles are requested from one believer to another. A prayer from one person to another seems like a legitimate prayer. Why not ask God for something that He can do and if you love someone in a bad place, it seems like an appropriate prayer.

None of us can determine the cause or the reason for any illness or for any other disaster which overtakes us. Some people can be ill by divine discipline or because they have suffering for blessing going on, to cause a person to utilize the doctrine that they have. These reasons ought to always be considered when a person is sick. If one of those 3 reasons are in effect, then prayer for their healing may not be what God wants; it may contradict God's plan. Remember, "If it is Your will Father, relieve their pain and suffering." Or "Give this person the strength and the wisdom to deal with his or her suffering." That might be the best prayer of all.

Martin Mueller works in this church; and he has never complained, and he has dealt with cancer for years; and he has faced this with a great attitude. He prayed that his illness might be used by God and that it might bring others to Jesus Christ. Bobby has been encouraged by him.

People are embarrassed by or downright disbelieving of the gospel records of miracles. They will welcome the teaching of Jesus Christ, but not too enthusiastic about the miracles. They like the good man, the historical man Jesus; but the supernatural? They don't care for that.

Secular humanism, the most dangerous religion in America, which was written back in 1979 by Homer Duncan. Delegates to the National Council of Churches were polled at a convention. "Do you believe in miracles?" 62% said no. 36% did not believe in the deity of Jesus Christ. 77% do not believe Satan exists and 31% or so do not even believe in God. Those are not Christians. You cannot deny the existence of God and be a Christian; you cannot doubt the Deity of Jesus Christ. It is a pretty good bet that many of them never believed in Jesus Christ. But they do not know any doctrine. And they certainly don't live the Christian life. Such churches are houses of humanism and social justice. They worship at the altar of rationalism and science. They might say, "We are enlightened; we can explain everything by science. There is no need for the intervention of a Supreme Being today." Some Christians and many non-Christians buy into this logic.

Skeptics try to account for miracles by saying first century Christians were primitives; they were superstitious. They accepted supernatural explanations, where such things could be easily explained today naturally. Science becomes the new natural miracle and it takes on the trappings of religion. Supernatural narratives are nothing but myths to be dismissed. Liberation Theology has used this approach since the last century, which supports and atheistic world view. The social gospel is preached and injustices are righted.

Without Christ as God, there is no Christianity. If Christ is God, then the supernatural is real. So in excluding miracles in the first advent, these sorts of churches refute the power of God to overrule the natural world. They reject Jesus as God and as Creator. In their view, the natural world controls the natural world, without any interference from God. It is called pantheism. The world is the cause of itself; nature causes itself. There is a force of nature; but there is no personal God.

Jesus when He performed a miracle taught something related to that miracle. Miracles verified Him and verified Who He was. But did this change any minds? No.

He also chose the best time to present Himself. When the religious types tried to John 3:2 “We know that you have come from God as a teacher, because no one could do these things unless God was with him.” Some desire the miracles because they might alleviate for a very short time pain and suffering, one’s own or one which another suffers.

The spiritual life is a moment-by-moment walk with the Lord, with the ability to suffer any adversity in your life. Miracles are never our first line of defense. They reveal the mastery that Jesus Christ has over the natural world. Miracles will be a large part of our study of the life of Christ.

Lesson #0167

Life of Christ Doctrine of Miracles

10/12/2011 Wed

Jesus Christ has performed many miracles, many of which we have already studied. Healing of royal official’s son. The catch of fishes with Peter, James and John. Many times when Jesus healed the sick, the lame and the blind. He even cleared demons out of others who were demon-possessed.

There is a purpose and a reason why Jesus did this or that.

A General Doctrine of Miracles

These are extracted from the 1st advent.

1. A miracle is an event in the physical world, but it surpasses all natural human power and goes outside of the realm of science; it is beyond the natural world.
2. A miracle is performed only by the power of God, Who has total ascendancy over the natural world. God has power over the world that He created. No human being, including the human nature of Jesus Christ, never caused a miracle. The humanity of Jesus Christ operated under the guidance of God the Holy Spirit. Also, miracles were performed by other human beings, but always performed under divine authority and utilizing divine power. We have no control over nature and over the natural world. Miracles were not that common after Jesus departed. Some like Peter and Paul performed miracles; but they were performed less and less as time went on. Only through the sovereignty of God are miracles possible. Satan is always attempting to counterfeit what God does, including miracles. Miracles are always sanctioned by God.
3. Divine miracles are always compatible with the will and plan of God. Miracles throughout history, including those performed in the Old Testament, by Christ and by the Apostles were never performed arbitrarily or for the sake of altruism alone.

Satan prompted Jesus 3x to perform a miracles; and the pharisees asked for signs, and Jesus did not in any case just perform miracles.

4. Miracles are a supernatural phenomenon. They are a sign and testimony to divine power and for God's communication to man. Always within the plan of God; never performed outside of the plan of God. God must sanction and allow miracles.
5. Divine miracles are not to be confused with extra-natural phenomena; things like the occult and the paranormal, which are probably related to demonic activity. Mostly these people are charlatans; but there can be demonic activity involved. You do not want to come into contact with that. We do not need to know what the future is. When we leaven this world, we will be with the Lord; there is our future. Do not worry about crystal balls, who you will marry or where you live or how much you will make. What matters is your spiritual life; the rest takes care of itself. When you are in the plan of God, you will do exactly what God has for you.
6. 3 classifications of miracles of Christ:
 - 1) Those with reference to nature. Like the catch of fish, the calming of the seas, turning water to wine.
 - 2) Those with reference to man. Healing from disease or raising from the dead. Actually, resuscitate from the dead.
 - 3) Those in the supernatural world; like expelling demons from demon-possessed people. There was a lot of demon activity during the time of our Lord and Bobby will explain why later.
7. Another way to classify miracles.
 - 1) Creation-related miracles. Supernatural events performed by the Divinity of Jesus Christ, the Creator of all things. He also holds the universe together. These are certainly supernatural events. These miracles are based upon the fact that Jesus Christ sustains and holds all creation together and to maintain the natural world. This is why we often question the environmentalists (which is different from those who was to have clean water and air). These are those who think that the world created itself; that is pantheism; and some ven believe that animals are equivalent to people, because it is just on the other side of evolution. The world will be destroyed, but not until Jesus Christ wills it to happen. Since Jesus performed these functins, we can classify these as perpetual miracles.
 - 2) Messiah-related miracles performed by Jesus as the Messiah. These miracles give accreditation to His Messiahship. It allows for faith or belief.
 - 3) Agent-related miracles. All miracles were under the direction and agency of God the Holy Spirit in the hypostatic union. God the Holy Spirit was Luke 4:14–18 the one who determined these miracles would occur or give the power to do them? Jesus could perform miracles and did, but never outside of the plan of God. There was always a purpose and reason for Jesus doing this or that miracle. This is how He stayed inside the plan of God.
8. Characteristics of miracles.

- 1) Miracles are historical; they really happened during the period of the 1st advent. These are not some myths or conjured up; they were real true occurrences.
- 2) They were eschatological. They were involved with the study of future things. They were a view/snapshot into the future. The Kingdom of God was at hand; His miracles were a part of the coming of the Kingdom of God. This was not instituted in the 1st advent, but would be instituted in the 2nd. The miracles pointed to that event.
- 3) Our Lord's miracles are reasonable. They cannot be explained through human reason; but they are inherently possible; they are not inherently improbable. They are not beyond the realm of imagination. They can be recognized and understood. Nothing is impossible for God; and He is not capricious or inconsistent in His miracles.
- 4) Jesus' miracles are beneficial. They are designed to meet human needs. This is the attraction of a miracle to mankind. This fixes something that no one else can fix. However, this is not the primary consideration for the doing of a miracle. Healing illnesses or satisfying hunger or relieving other human conditions. Yet the miracles were refused when they were extraneous. That is like when someone demanded a sign. Why didn't Jesus heal everyone? That is because their illness had another purpose.
- 5) Miracles were performed in several different areas. Authority over water to wine, deliverance from sickness, disease and death; rescue from demon-possession; Jesus operated in all of these areas. Had He only operated in one sphere, He could have been seen as limited. However, He was undiminished Deity. He had complete control over the natural world. He had total control over all things, including man and his health. Therefore, no one could assume there was any sort of limitation on Jesus Christ.
- 6) Miracles were not performed behind closed doors, like our legislation in Congress. Jesus Christ performed miracles openly before people, before crowds. Jesus did miracles without props and accomplices. Healers today have assistants; and this is how they function as charlatans. Even Jesus' opposition were forced grudgingly to admit the reality of the deeds that He did. At best, they gave lame excuses for these miracles; He functioned under the power of Beelzebub. His miracles did not take time. He did not have to go through a process in order to perform a miracle. People who are really sick do not get better instantaneously; it is a process. This is true with any physical ailment; a cold, cancer or broken arm. Jesus never performed a miracle for his own comfort.
- 7) Miracles were graciously bestowed. No fee was ever charged. Jesus was not a doctor nor did he collect money for the cause. In His actions, He always reflected the character of His mission. Grace was demonstrated in miracles as in everything else that He did. If Jesus could heal physical illness, then we can conclude that He could heal spiritual illness. The greatest miracle of all is Christ on the cross, healing us from our sins.

Miracles reflect the character of Jesus. No one earned or deserved a miracle; it was all about grace.

- 8) Jesus Christ never performed a miracle to retaliate or to punish those who opposed Him. He may have been tempted to.
- 9) Miracles were never performed on demand or to satisfy curiosity. They were not a magic show. Pharisees came to Jesus on several occasions and demanded a sign from Him. But they were unbelievers; they did not believe in Him. All they wanted to do is see a miracle and then refute it. Jesus was detracting from the plan of God if He just performed a miracle for show. His sign of Jonah was the miracle for the pharisees. Our Lord would arise victor over death; man's greatest enemy. In unbelief, the religious leaders were crucify Jesus Christ. Jesus was the Messiah and the Savior and He would live to provide us our salvation. When they saw this, they would accept Him as Savior, risen from the dead. Recall that Jonah was in the fish because he did not want to go to the Ninevites. He jumped on a ship and a fish swallowed him. This was discipline. Amazingly enough, the people believed and God did not destroy them. He wanted there to be judgment brought to Nineveh. Jerusalem was destroyed in A.D. 70, but Nineveh was not.

Lesson #0168 The Doctrine of Miracles Life of Christ 10/13/2011 Thurs

Review of the points above.

9. Purpose of His miracles. Miracles did not have the same purpose in each and every case.
 - 1) To gain a hearing. It would not be true to say that generally Jesus performed miracles to gain a hearing. John the Baptizer never performed a miracle. His message attracted the people. Many heard the sermon on the mount because they brought sick to be healed and they heard a message. But, at other times, Jesus did not perform a miracle, even though this would have attracted a crowd. However, He would give the gospel but He would not perform a miracle where there was negative volition.
 - 2) Miracles were intended to introduce the person and the work of the Messiah. Luke 4:16–21 John 7:31 they looked for the Messiah to perform miracles. However, miracles were just a part of His message; they were an introduction to Who He was. A person must ultimately respond to His message rather than to His miracles. When Jesus relieved people of demon-possession, this was a message of deliverance; this would be the deliverance of Israel because He is the Messiah. It shows His mastery over the forces of Satan which enslaved the world. It revealed Jesus' mastery over that world. However, Jesus did not perform a miracle to begin each sermon. Miracles were more incidental rather than central to His ministry. There is a limited value to signs and miracles, which is revealed by the history of Israel. What the Exodus generation saw should have turned them straight, but it did not. They were so negative that they were not allowed to enter into the land.

- 3) Miracles showed the compassion of the Lord Jesus Christ. He had great compassion for those in misery, those with great maladies, or those who were hungry, but this compassion revealed His Person. Jesus saved His greatest compassion for sinful and fallen mankind. Jesus performed miracles upon the undeserving. Jesus brought them miracles of healing to also teach that He could heal mankind in all ways. This was even more the point with Lazarus. This attitude of compassion represented by miracles was part of His message. This presented His attitude toward mankind. Jesus had compassion on us.
- 4) Miracles were a display of the infinite power of the Messiah as God. They verified His divinity by showing His complete mastery over things over which no one else has control. Whatever it is you cannot control, Jesus has complete mastery of these things.
- 5) His purpose was to display grace. No one earned or deserved what he got from the Lord. Every time someone was healed, it was a picture of God's grace.
- 6) Continuing miracles were reassuring; they were a source of encouragement to His followers. There must have been days when they really got down; when they got very despondent.
- 7) Miracles were performed by God during the pre-canon period of the Church Age by men with the spiritual gift of Apostleship. This allowed them to validate their authority. It was not the Apostle by himself; nor did he perform miracles on his own initiative. By the time these men established their authority, the miracles faded away. Miracles today in churches are phoney.

10. Conclusions:

- 1) Miracles were not to simply solve problems; they did not permanently solve any of life's problems. Such miracles would be a full-time job. It would have been a constant stream of miracles to all those He came into contact with. That would have made miracles a problem solving device but miracles are not a problem solving device. It was not in God's plan for Jesus to heal every single person that He came into contact with.
- 2) What did Jesus use instead? He used the problem solving devices. He used the spiritual power assets.
- 3) There were constant antagonists. He utilized the spiritual life as provided by God the Holy Spirit. No human performs miracles only God. This is our resource as well. Miracles are not in our spiritual life; it is not a part of our spiritual assets. People often desire a miracle to solve this or that problem. Miracles are not designed to be problem solvers. At best, a miracle would be a temporary solution. It would take dozens of miracles to get you through one day. This is not the way that God works. The spiritual life is designed to be a moment-by-moment problem solver in life. That is our resource. Miracles do not produce spiritual growth. This did not when Jesus performed them and they still do not. If God provides a miracle for you, are you glorifying Him? No, He is glorifying Himself. God has us here to glorify Him. Hoping for a miracle every time you are in trouble can be very frustrating. People can be soured by God because He is not a genie at their beck and call. People take an interest in God when they need help of some sort. God does not do anything for those who are negative.

There is no solution for the believer apart from the 10 problem solving devices. A caution. Bobby uses a number of illustrations to teach the Christian way of life. Problem solving devices are illustrations of the result of renovated thinking. This is merely the result of spiritual growth. Faith rest is a way of thinking; spiritual self esteem is a way of thinking; personal love and impersonal love are ways of thinking. Problem solving devices are attitudes gained from knowledge of Bible doctrine applied to life. They are utilized because you have grown up spiritually. Your thinking becomes these devices. You do not have to name them to have them.

Divine dynasphere is what we receive when we grow up. This is the result of renovated thinking. Problem solving devices just kick in as we grow up spiritually. We will have spiritual self esteem because we recognize this plan; we are relaxed and content for all circumstances in life. It is an attitude which comes from the Christian way of life. This represents what we are like.

Why pray for a miracle when you have such an amazing day to day spiritual resource. It is available to us on a constant basis. True miracles are not. Miracles are a maybe, a hope so, a possibility. They are not confidence in God. However, the spiritual life is a reality for all believers.

Paul prays 3 times for a miracle. 3x Jesus said no. Paul would demonstrate and live and write the spiritual life; that was his purpose; not receiving a miracle.

Lesson #0169

Philip. 4:11–13 Life of Christ Renovated Thinking and Miracles

10/16/2011 1Sunday

When Christians are in trouble and adversity strikes or illness overcomes a believer. The first thing people do is, turn to God. That is certainly what ought to be done. The question is, how do they look to God? What do they expect from God? What will God do and how will He do it? Most people think first and foremost of a miracle. They want to be relieved of the burdens and the pain. The miraculous does happen; there is no question about that. Whether this happens to us is exclusively in the hands of God. God will continually direct us into His plan and do what is best for us and His plan. A miracle is not God's first line of defense. What should be our expectations of God? Who better than the Apostle Paul to give us guidance on this. In 2Cor. the thorn in Paul was a constant reminder to him and he had to deal with the great exigencies of life through Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ gave us the example in the Christian life. We have the resources to live the spiritual life. The spiritual life is so much greater than any miracle that we can experience. Paul got the message; he understood that miracles were not the solution. Some of you have cried out, “Oh, God, help; get me out of this right now.” Paul prayed that too; but we need to understand what Paul taught with regards to that.

Healers often say we are not healed because we lack faith; but Paul had great faith and he struggled with this thorn in his flesh for all of his life.

Can you depend on a miracle, day after day after day? Of course not. God is capable of doing all things at all times. God does not relieve us of problems. God does not perform a miracle for just anyone; but He can choose to. It would come from His sovereignty, omniscience and omnipotence, and it is strictly for His purposes. And this does not come through some healer, someone who speaks in tongues, etc. Do not look to someone who claims to be a messenger from God, like healer/charlatans. God can heal on His Own good time. It is certainly not going to happen very often.

Do not hope for miracles; desire, rather, the function of the spiritual life. We have doctrine and the filling of the Holy Spirit. We should understand a miracle; it is part of God’s plan, from time to time; and miracles are temporary. Whatever circumstances in which we live, we are (or should be) living the spiritual life. When God determines that we ought to suffer painful circumstances, then it is His plan.

Jesus Christ did not perform miracles non-stop and they were not done in order to relieve the pain of those He healed. We solve problems day after day. We do not have to worry about politics today or where this country will be a year, two years or ten years from now. However, we do love our country and the freedoms we are given. It is not some public official or some ideology; it is Bible doctrine in the soul; it is the spiritual life. Nothing else is like it.

As we live the spiritual life under difficult circumstances, the reason we are not given a miracle, it is because living the spiritual life under difficult circumstances are designed to affect other people. It is for other people to see the spiritual life in action. We are under adversity and the spiritual life that God gives us glorifies Him and has an effect upon others as well. This is not just centered around us. Of course, it could be discipline. Why are we here? So we can hide in some room? We may not know what the effect of the spiritual life is; or what the effect is on the soul of someone else. We do not know that.

We pray for a miracle; we desire a miracle; but there is a point at which it is pointless. If God is going to perform a miracle, then He will; if not, we just move on with the spiritual life. The solutions to life are never through miracles.

Miracles are an outside source. Miracles do not advance you one inch. Spiritual maturity comes from the inside, and not from external miracles. The spiritual life comes from renovated thinking; not from a miracle dropped from the sky. A miracle is just a temporary reprieve from difficult circumstances and it does not necessarily provide renovated thinking.

Paul experienced a number of miracles, like being thrown over the side of a ship; like the earthquake which occurred when he was in jail.

There is a perfect time for us to come home, and God chooses that time; and this will happen to all of us. It could be a terminal disease. We are praying for something which is outside of the plan of God, if we pray for this disease to be taken away. We can make promises to God; but if it is God's will for us to die from that disease, then we need to enjoy our own passing.

Philip. 4:11–13 Not that I speak according to need [There are times when Paul could enjoy relief based upon a miracle; but that is not what Paul was expecting here.], for I have learned to be content in whatever state I am. I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound. In everything and in all things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need. I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me.

The problem solving devices are illustrations of renovated thinking. They happen as we grow spiritually. You do not suddenly say, "I'm there." They happen incrementally. They are not just mechanics; they are attitudes based upon knowledge of doctrine. These are attitudes which we acquire as we grow up. Then we can solve problems. That is what Paul is talking about.

God is not a genie. We do not rub the lamp and out pops God to solve this or that problem. The secret of the Christian way of life is Bible doctrine in the soul and the filling of the Holy Spirit. Without these things, every little problem in life baffles us. When we depend upon Bible doctrine, then we can be content in whatever we have.

Philip. 4:11b–13 ...for I have learned [spiritual growth is a progression] to be content in whatever state I am. I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound. In everything and in all things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need. I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me.

Learning is a progression; it is an advancement in problem solving. The spiritual life is moment by moment. Contentment is not something which comes and goes. None of us are perfect. As we progress in the spiritual life, we are more able to use the spiritual life. Somewhere down the line, we learn to share the happiness of God. All it takes is to grow up. The spiritual life is right there for us, moment by moment.

Philip. 4:12–13 I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound. In everything and in all things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need. I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me.

Paul has learned how to be full and to be hungry; to have many things and to suffer need. We have all been in these different circumstances. We have been in good and in lousy situations; and some of these on the same day.

Philip. 4:13 I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me.

It is the power of Bible doctrine in our souls and when we execute the spiritual life, God gives us resolve, comfort, encouragement and strength. It makes circumstances irrelevant.

God keeps pouring the power into us to live the spiritual life.

1Peter 5:10 But the God of all grace, He calling us to His eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after you have suffered a little, He will perfect, confirm, strengthen, and establish you.

This lists all of the processes and the results of metabolizing Bible doctrine. Now we are in business; now we have something going for us. That truly glorifies God.

Lesson #0170

Mark 1:21– Life of Christ

10/16/2011 2Sunday

We are going to move on to the first miracle that we will study, Mark 1:21–28 and Luke 4:31–38

Mark 1:21 And they went into Capernaum. And immediately on the sabbath day He entered into the synagogue and taught.

Whenever, Jesus spoke, people gathered to Him in large groups. It appeared that He would be a rabbi settling into Capernaum. They are amazed at His teaching, and he teaches differently than the scribes; he teaches with great authority.

Jesus walked right through the angry crowd, and it was possible that He walked through this crowd with great power and authority. He taught dogmatic truth from the Old Testament in no uncertain terms.

He clearly identified Himself as the Messiah in Nazareth. He was teaching and preaching with great power, expounding on the Scriptures, but He was also performing miracles. Particularly, one particular miracle.

His teaching was in great contrast to the scribes, who were the learned men of Judaism. They were the great expounders of Scripture, and they preached Jewish traditions, according to the Talmud and the Mishna, quoting important rabbis of the past.

They would then go into humanism of various shades, and this is what we have today in many churches. Pastors teach all kinds of subjects and they leave out the gospel. They are careful to choose texts so that they do not offend anyone. There is very little about what the Bible does to each one of us. Some of these pastors present nothing more than an opinion. “What do you think of this passage? What comes to your mind?” He is speaking to people who have no clue and are unprepared to teach the Word of God. These people will expound with great authority on things that they know nothing about.

Even worse, today, is the teaching of secular humanism and religious liberalism, which is everywhere. Most of these pastors believe in God and they will talk about God, but this god has come out of their own imagination. They deify man and they remove God. When you remove the God of the Bible, you accomplish Satan’s objective. You deify man. Many of these even deny the miraculous character of Scripture and the substitutionary death of Jesus Christ.

Christianity becomes nothing to these people but a social consciousness. Instead of teaching the Bible, they teach apostasy, liberal theology, the social gospel, which is works, good deeds and altruism. Grace is ignored; being nice people doing good things; that is what is emphasized.

Remove God and you are left with humanism; and you become introspective. It is a vicious circle. The person without any doctrine. They cannot go anywhere else, because they are simply thinking their own mind. The believer, the more doctrine you learn, the more that you grow. This is freedom without responsibility; it is the protesters that are running around the country right now.

Many churches are teaching that homosexuality is just a lifestyle. They are afraid to go against humanistic norms and standards. Some of the teaching of these liberal theologians is just internationalism and multi-culturalism. Other religions are presented as just another pathway to God. Somehow, contradictory pathways take each person to God. That makes God a contradiction in terms. There is no national sovereignty; it is all about a world government. Positive thinking; group psychological thinking. Sometimes emotional stimulation apart from Bible doctrine. These are ways to identify apostasy. If the gospel is not being taught, then it is not Christianity.

All humanism and all of this apostate religion is all relativism. If you lack absolute standards, then you are unable to defend yourself from secular thinking.

In Europe, there is a great infiltration of Islam; and they are demanding respect on the street; and they will beat up those who do not give them obeisance. The Dutch will do nothing; they have no way to combat it. They have no absolute standards by which they can oppose Islam. The only defense against Islam and other evils is the Word of God. There are no absolute standards in western Europe; and they will fall to Islam for that reason. That is why they do not have Bible doctrine.

Why are we a client nation? Why are we able to hold the line against such evils as Islam. This is because there are norms and standards in Bible doctrine which are against Islam. It requires for there to be believers who are able to hold the line against such degeneracy.

The people on the street have no coherent message; they do not know where they are going. These are kids having a good time. These are secular humanists. They just don't know it. You can go to Bible doctrine and true Christianity or to secular humanism and the evils of secular religion. When it comes down to it, when your life is threatened, you will fold. You will fold unless you have the standards of Bible doctrine. Christianity in this world is furthered by those who are willing to stand against the greatest evils in this world.

It's grim; but liberal pastors and theologians are falling right into that category. Some simply deny the supernatural. Modern people will not believe the supernatural stories in the Bible. They will get sarcastic about Old Testament miracles.

People belittle the Bible because it disagrees with their humanistic theories like evolution, homosexuality and lesbianism. Christians cave here all of the time. Opponents will use sarcasm and they will call you an idiot because you believe the Bible. In this way, some conservative commentators are right there with liberal theology.

Mark 1:22 And they were astonished at His doctrine. For He taught them as one who had authority, and not like the scribes.

Suddenly, in the middle of all this, there is a piercing cry right in the middle of the sermon. This will show the power and the authority of Jesus Christ, exactly when it is needed. This will validate the teaching of the Word of God.

This man is demon-possessed, and because of this, he cried out loudly in the sermon. This subject will be denied by liberal theology. This would be laughed at by many people today. They see demon-possession as good movie material, but nothing beyond that.

The demon seized this man; he grabbed him by the throat. This demon-possession was very common in that era. This is the time when Satan had to make his greatest attack. He had to stop the gospel; he had to stop Jesus from teaching; he had to stop Jesus from going to the cross. The prevalence of demon-possession at that time. Satan used every scheme that he had. Satan concentrated his forces right here in this part of the world. This is why we find Jesus constantly casting out demons.

What is demon-possession? We saw demon-possession in The Exorcist. This is a fallen angel living in the body of an unbeliever. Possession by a demon is related to man's free will. Human consent is involved. Demons do not just appear and select people at random. They cannot just take any person that they want; the will of the person has to be involved. There must be some sort of a tacit or unconscious assent to demon-possession. Who would this be? Someone immersed in Satan's cosmic system. There are a number of avenues. They must be opened to it.

Example. Someone like Adolf Hitler was demon-possession. It is not just because of what he did; he leaned on the occult and believed in mythological gods; and desired to destroy the Jews. If the Jews are wiped out, there are no descendants to whom God can keep His Word. Satan uses every opportunity to accomplish the goal of genocide. He uses Islam today; he used Hitler 60 years ago. Hitler was a perfect target for possession. He was the perfect person who could be possessed. There are those in the Middle East who are possibly possessed. Some of them are in positions of power. Those who had this stated objective. Demon-possession today for the purpose of carrying out Satan's plan today.

The demon controls the thinking, speaking, feeling and actions of the individual. The mind and will of the demon (or Satan); and that person may show great genius in his plans. Hitler had a very cunning insight in war, even though he was just a corporal in WWI. His teaching and speaking was hypnotic. His thinking was to carry out the will of Satan. He was devoid of conscience. Satan, in part, tries to get his will in this world by this means.

Because of this positive volition, Jesus was going to give them a miracle.

Possessed is the very common Greek work εχω.

Demon-possession

1. This means that a demon (a fallen angel) has taken residence within the physical body of an unbeliever.
2. The demon does this for a purpose.
3. The demon controls the thinking and the actions of a person.
4. The mind and the will of the demon would be manifested through the possessed person. It is possible that even the voice of the demon changes.
5. Then the person might show great genius; or a heightened aptitude in carrying out his diabolical mission. Demons do not just show up and select someone at random. They do not say, "I think I'll go over there and inhabit Charlie Brown." Possession by a demon is always related to the free will of a person. Women can also be possessed. Mary Magdalene was possessed by a demon, according to tradition. Human consent is always a part of demon-possession. This is even if this is an unconscious assent. The unbeliever must be amendable and acquiescent. Such a person must be immersed in Satan's cosmic system. He could be an atheist or a human secularist or is opposed to Christianity; or involved in cults and false religions or Islam; or they may be involved in the occult. Those under these conditions would be open to demon activity and possession.
6. Many examples from Scripture.
7. Some likely examples from the past 100 years.
 - a. Adolf Hitler is a likely person. He showed qualities of and the disposition necessary for possession. He had an hypnotic power of speech. Just by his body language and expression, it is clear that he has this power. He hypnotized all Germany. He had a great understanding of war far greater than a corporal would have known. The blitzkrieg and lightning war were genius. He could get abject obedience despite his rantings and ravings. His underlings executed his every wish including murder. He believed in mythological Nordic gods. He was devoid of conscience; had no thought about the massive murder he ordered. His killing of millions of Jews was systematic. He had no problem with that, calling it the final solution. Why would Satan want to wipe out the Jews? God made a promise to Abraham and to his descendants. If God cannot fulfill His promise, then He is not immutable. As a demon-possessed man, Hitler had the means to carry out his demonic-inspired plan. Germany was one of the great powers of the earth. Hitler, when he took over Germany, brought them back from the brink of economic disaster; from a nation which had been defeated to a nation which conquered. Hitler had been a failed artist. Germany was one of the most concentrated areas of Jews. The diaspora was, in part, in Germany. Hitler was amenable to this objective.

- b. Mao Tse Tung and Stalin. There are certain Islamic leaders in the Mideast who would wipe Israel off the map, if they could. They would annihilate the Jews if they could.

2Cor. 4:4 in whom the god of this age has blinded the thoughts of the unbelieving, so that the brightness of the gospel of the glory of Christ who is the image of God, should not dawn on them.

Satan uses every opportunity and every chance to function as the evil entity that he is.

We have no idea why Satan chose to possess this man in Israel. Satan threw every scheme and all of his demons into thwarting the mission of the Lord Jesus Christ. He had to stop the cross at all costs. This is why we find so many instances of Jesus casting out demons. Every time that He did this, Jesus showed his great power over the god of this world. Satan would never return. Whenever there is a critical period of history, in the angelic conflict and a pivotal circumstance that Satan could turn to his favor, Satan would do this. Satan has assigned many of his demons to the middle east and to the United States. We are a nation that supports Israel and sends out missionaries.

Mark 1:23 Life of Christ

Mark 1:23 And in their synagogue was a man with an unclean spirit. And he cried out,

Means of Demon-possession

1. Idolatry. Lev. 17:7 Deut. 32:17 Psalm 106 worship of false gods can lead to demon-possession. Particularly true of the priests who administer these various religions and cults. Baal worship. It is an Old Testament view into culti worship.
2. Examples today: eastern mysticism, Jewish kabala, mysticism promises a deeper, more meaningful spiritually. There is the introspection which is subjective completely apart from objective truth. People search for a greater purpose, a higher meaning, something beyond themselves; they try to have a personal, mystical experience. Meditation, sitting in various positions and meditating; thinking about themselves and various words. How can you know anything if you do not know anything outside of yourself. They try to have a personal spiritual experience. Some claim that God speaks to them, directly to them. Mormonism is a cult. It began is a mystical vision. It is cult because the book of Mormon supercedes the Old and New Testaments. The Mormons do have a vocabulary which is very similar to us. They are very establishment oriented. However, they are not Christian in doctrine and many are not believers in Jesus Christ. In hearing the voice of God, the mystic hears the voice of demons or he has an auditory hallucination. God speaks to us through His Word. We study it; we learn it; it is the only absolute truth in this world. If you do not know anything about the Scripture, then you have no idea how to live the Christian life. You must know God and Jesus Christ before you can love them or know the Christian way of life. No mystical experience can supplant objective truth. Mysticism can mask demonism and it is not the means to a higher spirituality. The worship of false gods in idolatry means the person rejects the Lord Jesus Christ. This goes with Satan blinding the mind. Demon-possession is commonly found in idolatry.

3. Jim Jones in Guyana was probably a matter of demon involvement.
4. Drug use and addiction. Gal. 5:20. This numbs the mind and causes physical and psychological dependency. Some can find religious meaning in drugs. The Mexican Indians who chew peyote to achieve a hallucinogenic effect. LSD had the same effect to many in the 60's. It promotes humanistic ideas in their thinking apart from God. Our nation is still affected deeply by drug use and this is one way that Satan attacks a client nation to God. Bobby would not be surprised if there are demon-possessed cartel leaders. Casual drug users. Legalization will just add to the problem. Bringing in more drugs will not solve any problem.
5. Cultic religious activity is a means to demon-possession. Also immersion in the occult. Consulting mediums, the function of necromancy, seeking advice and looking into the future. Often this is just pure fakery. However, there can be great accuracy in some predictions, which is demon influence. It brings dependence on another person for guidance and some will not make a move in life without consulting a medium. That is dependence and influence and a blinding of the mind. This also counterfeits the power of God. Demon-possession does that.
6. Blinding the mind of the unbeliever in the phallic cult in Isa. 2:6 Mark 16:9 this was obeisance to a fertility god in a polytheistic pantheon of gods. Various ceremonies were used to appease these gods. Those ceremonies included all manner of fornication, prostitution and child sacrifice. This permeated ancient religions and cultures; particularly in the near east. This was entrenched in Canaan when Israel came back into the Land of Promise. The Israelites were almost ensnared by the cult of Baal. This preserved God's people. They almost lost it because they did not follow God's instructions. This was an ingenious Satanic attempt to replace Israel's worship with the phallic cults. Heathen deities, sexual lust, and false doctrines were mixed. Male and female temple prostitutes and the orgies that took place. This was rampant. The Greeks and Their Gods describe this activity. They sometimes tore their human sacrificial offerings apart with their bare hands. Paul reminds the Israelites of their historic disobedience and failure with respect to Baal worship. And do not be idolaters as some of them were; the people sat down to eat and drink and stood up to play. Nor let us act immorally as some of them did, and 23,000 fell in one day. The fifth cycle of discipline comes from this kind of activity. This was not limited to ancient Israel. Is this still occurring today? Many children were drawn into unfettered promiscuity and ruined them for entering into marriage or family life with any sort of honor. Charles Manson had followers which he held by sex. A guy in Oregon who had many women who followed him, and sexual encounters with the leader was the guy.
7. It is easy to find a demon under every rug. Unbelievers can be capable of doing a whole lot of things. Some Christians blame demonism for everything that goes wrong in their life and in the world. Blaming demons for so much tends to exclude human volition and culpability for personal decisions, individual and collective. We do not strap on the armor of God and go demon hunting. We withstand the fiery darts of the demon, which is the Christian life. The doctrine of demons is the cosmic system, which is not demon-possession, but the thinking of Satan. It is the thinking apart from Scripture. It is human viewpoint. Demon-possession is alive and well.

Demon-possession Summary

1. Demon-possession often occurs in key people who are amenable to it.
2. They are people who have influence over others; great or small. Hitler had great influence over the world in the time that he lived.
3. Many can be affected by one demon-possessed person. That is the one demons look for. They are not going to demon possess one person just to affect that one person. The idea is to affect others.
4. The influential who are acquiescent are special targets for demons. Particularly those who are in positions of power in various nations. Those in cultic religions or in the occult or the heads of nations can all be targets.

We cannot be possessed. It happens to many today, but not to believers. We can be influenced by demonic thinking, but not more.

Mark 1:24 saying, What is to us and to You, Jesus of Nazareth? Have You come to destroy us? I know You, who You are, the Holy One of God.

Lesson #0173

Mark 1:21–25 Life of Christ

10/26/2011 Wed

Mark 1:21 And they went into Capernaum. And immediately on the sabbath day Jesus entered into the synagogue and began to teach.

This was His habit and it was accepted because He was a great teacher.

Mark 1:22 And they were astonished [amazed, stunned] at His doctrine. For He taught them as one who had authority, and not like the scribes.

The scribes were all over the place. They gave the opinions of old rabbis in the past. Not just their interpretation but their philosophies as well. They rarely spoke with authority. Jesus spoke with authority when He taught the Old Testament.

People tended to listen, riveted; now they may or may not agree; but they are astonished at His certainty and authority. In this case, there was no desire to kill Him, as there was in Nazareth.

They did need a sign, and Jesus did this because there was positive volition in this crowd.

Mark 1:23 And in their synagogue was a man with an unclean spirit. And he screamed,

And just then, while Jesus was teaching, and he screamed. Bobby was in class when someone in white robes came in, claiming that he was Isaiah. He was tackled by one of the police in Berachah.

This was the center of evangelism and also a center for demon activity. Satan and his demons were sentenced forever to the Lake of Fire. However, they were allowed an appeal, which was, "How can a loving God send His creatures to the Lake of Fire."

Satan had to muster his forces here; and he is looking to prove God wrong.

This is an example of the concentrated effort of Satan. Here, there is a blood-curdling scream, which would distract as much as possible from the message. This caused confusion to those who listened to this message. There is a direct confrontation.

This demon plays right into the hands of Jesus Christ. These people needed a sign and Jesus would give them a sign of His power over the dark forces. This verse becomes an example for all of us to note. Every dispensation has this same Satanic objective, to blind the minds of the unbelieving. This demon-possessed man was a blinder to the gospel. This was an attempt to blind the people to the very Jesus standing before them.

Demon-possession is alive and well today. This occurs in key people today. The many can be affected by one demon-possessed person. Adolph Hitler was a man obviously demon-possessed. He was amendable to it; and accepting of it. He had a great influence over an entire nation and continent.

The demon-possessed does not have to be rich and powerful. This man in the synagogue was not rich and not powerful, but he had influence in that synagogue at that moment, at a time when people needed to have their eyes blinded, in the thinking of Satan.

When people are amendable to it, they don't say, "Come on, demons; I want you." It is being inundated in the cosmic system and amendable. Involvement in idolatry. This includes all of the idolatrous, religious cults in the era of Israel; the phallic cult of Baal was in particular a difficult one for the Jews. Some of the things which occurred in the heathen temples was pleasure presenting itself at spiritually. Orgies, prostitutes, child sacrifices all were a part of this. Some tore their victims apart with their bare hands. This same type of religion is around today; free love and unfettered promiscuity, which opens you up to anything. Promiscuity is a concentrated, self-centered experience. Anything that is accepted for physical pleasure.

There is the danger of mysticism; the eastern religions. They meditate all of the time. They focus entirely on self and the religious aspect of yoga. They become so introspective, examining themselves, seeking a spiritual experience from within, trying to find themselves. Many a yogi has been demon-possessed. Satan will use those who are amenable to religion, in order to blind the minds of others.

Another avenue of possession is drug and alcohol use; and especially addiction. Gal. 5:20–21. It is an entirely self-centered activity. It renders unbelievers open to demon activity. When an unbeliever gets caught up in self, they leave themselves open to demonism and to demon attacks. This is particularly true for religious experimentations with drugs. We have had rampant drug use in our country for the past 30 or 40 years. It would not be a surprise if members of the drug cartels are demon-possessed. The use all goes to a self-centered experience which is amendable to demon-possession.

The third avenue is through the occult; consulting mediums, seeking personal or spiritual advice, looking into the future. Bobby sees 3 or 4 spiritual advisors on the way to the church. These mediums can be occupied and influenced by demons. Their predictions can come true. The occult is someone seeking to know the future and guiding one's life as per the predictions that they hear. The entirely blinds the mind of the unbeliever to the gospel.

As Believers in Jesus Christ, We Cannot Be Demon-possessed

1. No believer can be possessed since the demon must control a person by residing in the person. That is the definition of demon-possession. They reside in the person.
2. The believer possesses the indwelling Holy Spirit. This happens the moment that we are saved.
3. What is the reason for the indwelling of the Spirit? He makes a Temple out of the body of the believer.
4. A demon cannot dwell in the temple with the Holy Spirit; much less operate from it.
5. No demon can co-reside with the Holy Spirit with the believer. There is no demon on one side and the Holy Spirit on the other.
6. Thus, we are immune to possession. We can be influenced. 1Tim. 4:1 But the Spirit expressly says that in latter times some will depart [fall away] from the faith, cleaving [paying attention] to deceiving spirits and teachings of demons. This means the believer is influenced by the doctrine of demons. Reversionism is influenced by the cosmic system. It is living in the cosmic system. It is applying the cosmic system to everything in our life. He who does not advance retreats.

When was the last time you thought human viewpoint rather than divine viewpoint. There you are.

Mark 1:24 saying, What is to us and to You, Jesus of Nazareth? Have You come to destroy us? I know You, who You are, the Holy One of God.

The people in the congregation could not see the demons but they could hear what they said. This demon was afraid that the jaws of hell would be opened. "Have you come to destroy us?" Satan and his demons, at this time, did not know when their sentence would be carried out. No prophecies in the New Testament were not in existence. God did not tell the demons what His timetable was. The demons and Satan only knew God's promise to Abraham of a kingdom for the Jews.

Satan and his demons were well aware that the King was here on earth. They knew what He was doing; He was offering the kingdom to Israel. It looked like the end to them. Is this the end? Will the sentence be carried out.

Luke 4:34 "Leave us alone! What do You have to do with us, Jesus--Nazarene? Have You come to destroy us? I know who You are--the Holy One of God!"

Matt 25:41 Then He will also say to those on His left, Go away from Me, cursed ones, into the everlasting fire having been prepared for the Devil and his angels.

Jesus would not accept testimony of demons; He would not be announced by His enemies. The demon is in a panic at this point. Pure evil is being squashed. At the 2nd advent of Jesus Christ, Satan will be squashed.

This helps to explain why the 1st and 2nd advents were not differentiated between in the Old Testament. Jesus kept the 1st advent a secret from demons.

Mark 1:25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Be quiet, and come out of him.

Jesus Christ has authority over the most powerful creatures in the universe. The demon is craven when he hears the Lord's command.

There are no mumbo-jumbo words; there is no ceremony; there is no formulaic things which are said. Jesus just told the demon to leave.

Lesson #0174 Mark 1:23– Luke 4:34– Life of Christ 10/27/2011 Thurs

Mark 1:23 and Luke 4:34 And just then, in their synagogue, there was a man with an unclean spirit. And he screamed,

All demons are in opposition to the teaching ministry of Jesus Christ and the teaching of any doctrine. "Have you come to destroy us?" is what the demon asked on behalf of all demons. The demon know Who Jesus is.

Mark 1:24 saying, What is to us and to You, Jesus of Nazareth? Have You come to destroy us? I know You, who You are, the Holy One of God.

Luke 4:34 "Leave us alone! What do You have to do with us, Jesus--Nazarene? Have You come to destroy us? I know who You are--the Holy One of God!"

Jesus silences the demon; and they heard what the demon said and the people in the congregation heard both the scream and what the demon said. So, Jesus will need to clarify this for everyone.

Mark 1:25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Be quiet, and come out of him.

Jesus would present Himself as the Holy One of God wherever He went. He was God present in human form. Yet, in the demon's loud voice, he identified the Holy One of God. That was unacceptable to Jesus. He would not and could not accept testimony from His implacable enemy. Everything that Satan and his demons did was a scheme to discredit the Lord Jesus Christ. The demons words were direct toward the opposition that Satan always had toward the Lord Jesus Christ.

Jesus came to fulfill the plan of God. He came to be the Savior. It was necessary for Jesus to stay in the plan of God with no deviations. Our Lord would identify Himself with His Own words, as guided by God the Holy Spirit. He did not need the word of demons to present Him. No demon was a herald or an escort.

Also, this must have been frightening. Jesus would not want the people to be frightened by the demon announcing Him. Also, this would appear as if Jesus was collaborating with the enemy, and there can be no such compromise. This compromise would be exactly what Satan hoped to accomplish in the 3 temptations of Christ. Satan is an amazing schemer. He could not trip up the Lord Jesus Christ with temptation; so he attempts, personally or with demons, to coopt the Lord.

Jesus cannot go to the cross with any blemish in His record. He has to go to the cross as per our Lord's plan.

Why this Demon Could Not Be Allowed to Announce Him

1. Jesus Christ understood the scheme and He crushed it immediately. The introduction is seemingly harmless, but it is meaningful.
2. Jesus put this demon down in this congregation. The people knew this demon-possessed man; they knew he had a demon.
3. Demons were the supernatural opposition to God's plan during the 1st advent.
4. In no way could any demon be a part of Jesus' mission.
5. Jesus had to make it clear that He was not in league with the demons.
6. Jesus would identify Himself at the proper time.
7. Our Lord wanted there to be no deposition by any of these people present in this synagogue. He wanted no witnesses that He had approved of the demon in any way.

There were no incantations. There was not an exorcism as we think of today. The Greek verb is εἰσορκίζω which verb never occurs in the New Testament. This verb is never a part of the removal of demons in the New Testament. Christ was God and could order these demons at will.

Exorcism

1. εἰσορκίζω To charge under oath, to beg, to implore is what the word means.
2. It is used by religious practitioners to expel demons. Acts 19:13
3. This is a pagan ritual to throw out demons.

4. Christ did not beg or implore. He commanded that the demon come and out he did.

The verb used is εξερχομαι, which means “Come out, get out” in the imperative mood. There was no waiting which took place. There was no ceremony or ritual attached.

Mark 1:25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Be quiet, and come out of him.

This is supposed to be 4 points on each side.

Exorcism versus Casting out Demons
Exorcism	Our Lord
Pagan practice and performed by believers and unbelievers (who could be demon-possessed).	The gift was delegated by God only during the time of our Lord’s 1 st advent and by the disciples early on.
It is always non-Biblical
It is a ritual or a process.	This was sudden. The demon came out upon command.
	εξερχομαι

This chart is in Satan and Demonism.

Luke 4:35 But Jesus rebuked him and said, "Be quiet and come out of him!" And throwing him down before them, the demon came out of him without hurting him at all.

He screamed again, he knocked the body to the floor. He was being removed. He is showing some bravado before the Lord Jesus Christ. He sent this man to the floor in serious convulsions. He wanted everyone who witnessed this to see that he was in control of this body, at least temporarily.

This revealed the power of our Lord. They could not see the demon, but they could hear him and they could see what the demon could do, which was causing the man to convulse. He was quite different when he got up off the floor.

The point was, all these people could see who had the power. Perhaps he could not stand before the Lord Jesus Christ? The demon faced the One Who created him as an angel.

Mark 1:26 And the unclean spirit, convulsing him, and crying with a loud voice, he came out of him.

The demon comes out and those there debate over it. They are awestruck, but what they saw was quite remarkable. They had never seen a demon cast out. They had seen demon-possessed people before. They had never seen one thrown out.

What is the new teaching? What does it mean? What does it tell us?

Many understood from this that this is the Messiah. Jesus was testified to all over. They wanted to promote Him. Unlike Nazareth, they were witnesses for the Messiah.

Mark 1:27 They all were amazed, so as to question among themselves, saying, What is this? What new doctrine is this? For He even commands the unclean spirits with authority, and they obey Him.

Luke 4:36 They were all struck with amazement and kept saying to one another, "What is this message? For He commands the unclean spirits with authority and power, and they come out!"

His fame was spread abroad because of this situation.

Mark 1:28 And immediately His fame went out into all the Galilean neighborhood.

Next section: Matt. 8:14–17 Mark 1:29– Luke 4:36

This miracle will be directed toward His disciples to confirm doctrine to them.

Jesus stood up and left the synagogue. And He went with James and John to the home of Andrew. Peter's mother-in-law was sick with a high fever and she was bedridden.

Luke might describe a little more here as a physician would.

And so they pleaded that He do something for her. Peter knew that the Lord could do this; He has observed many miracles.

Matt. 8:15 And He touched her hand, and her fever left her. And she rose up and served them.

Mark 1:

Luke 4:39 So He stood over her and rebuked the fever, and it left her. She got up immediately and began to serve them.

The result is then described. The first verb is, to get up with the adverb παρακρημα which means immediately. She is completely cured of her illness. She is no longer in the dying phrase of her life. Then εγειρω which means to wake up, as if she were sleeping and comatose. She is an invalid, bed-ridden, possibly comatose.

Jesus' Cure of Peter's Mother-in-law

1. This touch of the hand is not some medical therapy over a period of time. It is immediate.
2. This is an immediate cure and she comes out of this coma and stands up.

3. She is brought to consciousness; she is no longer dying and no longer bedridden; she is a completely healthy mother in law.

She walks off and waits on Him. She probably whipped up a meal for all of them. People who come out of comas do not come out and stand. It takes them time to gain strength. Every man's miracle; out of a coma and into the kitchen.

This was way out of the realm of medical science. They all knew of this woman's condition. He had probably cried and asked for prayers; and her condition was well-known to them all.

There were several lessons that Jesus taught that they needed to learn and retain. She went from comatose to being vibrantly alive.

Lesson #0175 Lk 4:38–39 Mk 1:29–39 Mt 8:15 Life of Christ 10/30/11 1Sun

We study examples of miracles, and they are designed to reveal something about the character or mission of the Lord Jesus Christ. We have seen water turned to wine. We have seen a little child healed from a great distance. We have seen a demon-possessed man have a demon cast out. It was not exorcism; it was an immediate removal of a demon. Each of these miracles reveals something specific. All of these miracles were done in front of a crowd; and where there was some positive volition toward Christ. The sign would verify that this is the Messiah they were seeking. If no one was interested, then no miracle would be performed.

These miracles also showed our Lord's power over demonic forces. These miracles were for the general purpose of presenting Jesus to Israel as their king. The Kingdom of Heaven was at hand. This was begun with John the Baptizer and continued with Jesus.

Now, we will examine a miracle done in private, before only His disciples. This miracle was designed for a small and specific group of people. There were only 4 disciples with Jesus at this point. These men had already identified Jesus as the Messiah; they dropped their nets and followed Him to become fishers of men. Why would they need a private miracle?

This miracle occurs immediately after casting out the demon in Capernaum. Many believed on Him when they observed this. Demonic power was particularly conspicuous at this time. Demon possession was rather common in Israel. Most people had observed this firsthand.

Matt. 8:14–17 Mark 1:29 Luke 4:38–41

Luke 4:38 After He left the synagogue, He [went with James and John and] entered Simon's house. Simon's mother-in-law was suffering [sick in bed] from a high fever, and they asked Him about her.

Mark tells us who Jesus went with.

Mark 1:29 And at once going out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

Mark 1:30 And the mother-in-law of Simon was laid out, stricken by fever. And at once they spoke to Him about her.

Jesus looked the woman over. In Matt., He touches her hand.

Matt. 8:15 And He touched her hand, and her fever left her. And she rose up and served them.

There are no medical procedures described here. This is an immediate and complete cure. She comes out of a coma and stands up. She does not require any rehabilitation. There is no doubt in anyone's mind that this was a miraculous cure.

Luke 4:39 So He stood over her and rebuked the fever, and it left her. She got up immediately and began to serve them.

What is the purpose? What is this done in private? So, what is the purpose here? Why did Jesus do this? This is a picture of immediate regeneration at the moment of faith alone in Christ alone. From spiritual death to life, in an instant. We are made alive with an eternal future in heaven. We go from spiritual death to spiritual life in an instant.

There was an audience there of learners. The doctrine of regeneration is taught, the very beginning of the Christian life; and there was another very critical doctrine being taught, based upon the circumstances. This doctrine is well beyond regeneration. The doctrine of grace as related to these followers and their homes. It takes place in Peter's family, in his home; after this was requested. Blessing by association. Rather than revealing this to a number of people, this is a message to believers, of God's unfailing grace. This was a lesson in the grace of God. A critical doctrine that they all needed to understand. They will be our Lord's Apostles, so they must be the most grace oriented men on earth. They needed to understand that the grace of God begins in the home. Grace orientation begins in the home. The home is one of the most difficult places to practice grace orientation. The veneer between people is gone. You know all of their faults and shortcomings; and this can breed contempt and antagonism. Grace orientation begins in the home. If it is not happening there in the home, then the life of the believer is very suspect. The virtue of humility and there is no humility where there is conflict. Conflict is a product of self-centeredness.

Grace oriented is the most important problem solving device in the home. It must be demonstrated within a Christian home. The husband and the wife stand in solidarity to the world as a testimony to doctrine. They must be growing in grace together. There will be very little conflict resolution in the home, even as believers.

We all need this message of grace. Bobby is certain that Jesus explained this miracle to His disciples. "But this miracle is just for you, because you are my close associates and disciples. I want you to recognize that, this is grace within your own home. This is what I want you to learn and practice.”

Next miracles is in Matt. 8:16–17 Mark 1:32 Luke 4:40

Bobby is presenting all of this in a timeline. This will give us all of the events in the life of Christ in order.

And when evening had come, after the sun had set, they [small groups of townspeople] began bringing to Him all who were ill and those who were demon-possessed. Peter had a flood of people at his front door, all seeking healing for themselves or for friends and relatives.

They did not know about the private miracle that just took place. They had spent their day rounding up all the sick and demon-possessed. They had heard about the cure of the demon-possessed man, and, in short order, the house of Peter was surrounded by a good part of the city, and they did not care what time it was.

Jesus will walk out of the privacy of Peter’s home into this crowd. Jesus was a real living person, and the testimony is in writing.

Lesson #0176 Mt 8:16–17 Lk 4:41 Is 53:4 Life of Christ 11/30/11 2Sunday

Jesus performed this miracle in the home with believers only present; and a small number of witnesses.

To resolve conflict in home, grace orientation is needed. If you must always be right; if you must always come out on top; if you, by necessity, your self-esteem is crushed if you lose, then you lack humility and conflict will not be resolved. Grace was the message. These men will have to go out and teach grace to all those that they run into.

Jesus had private moments with His intimates, and He taught them doctrine during those times.

Next miracles is in Matt. 8:16–17 Mark 1:32 Luke 4:40

Synthesis And when evening had come, after the sun had set, they [small groups of townspeople] began bringing to Him all who were ill and those who were demon-possessed.

It seemed as if the entire city was gathering at the door.

The sick ones; the problem ones, heard of Jesus’ fame; and He was in one place, and they surrounded Him asking for help. Much different from the crowds in Nazareth.

Jesus steps outside and casts out the demons with a word; and He healed those who were ill. Jesus wants those in His adopted home to accept Him as Savior; and everyone needed to know He was their Healer.

Matt. 8:16 And evening having come on, they brought to Him many having been possessed by demons. And He cast out the spirits by a word, and He healed [aorist active indicative] all those having illness,

This revealed the doctrine of unlimited atonement. He is the only One Who could heal them; unlimited atonement. When Christ died on the cross, mankind was potentially healed; as if He touched every human being.

With a single word, He cast out of the demons. The demons were thrown out, and they went kicking and screaming and objecting to this. The demon-possessed man in the synagogue was screaming as well.

Jesus does the same thing again; He does not allow them to testify of Him. They call out His name, identifying Who He was. Jesus tells them to be quiet. Jesus would not allow Himself to be announced by His enemies. He would not allow demons to help with His mission. He cast out demons and He was His Own announcer of His Own office and Person. If Jesus allowed these demons to help Him bring in the Kingdom of God, He would be collaborating with the demons. He would not collaborate with His enemies.

Luke 4:41 Also, demons were coming out of many, shouting and saying, "You are the Son of God!" But He rebuked them and would not allow them to speak, because they knew He was the Messiah.

Matthew references a particular verse in Isaiah.

Matt. 8:17 so that it might be fulfilled that spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying, "He took upon Himself our weaknesses, and bore our sicknesses." Isa. 53:4

This is the Suffering Servant passage. This is the passage which describes best what would happen to Jesus on the cross. Jesus would take sins upon Himself and He would removed them as a barrier. Jesus carried away these illnesses and He would carry away our sins. Matthew makes it clear that this is what is being fulfilled in the Old Testament. This represents Jesus Christ taking away our sins.

What we should not carry Matthew's use too far. This can happen with analogies; and people want to interpret this down to the nth degree. The purpose here is to show that Jesus was solve the sin problem; and this does not mean that God would heal all of our illnesses forevermore. Matthew does not mean for us to go that far. This is analogous. Jesus really healed illnesses, but this is not a guarantee that He will forevermore cure illnesses that believers have.

Jesus did not carry diseases in His body on the cross. People take it that far. The pharisees will lay this charge on Him later, claiming that Jesus would perform miracles in the power of Beelzebub.

This healing was designed to cure human suffering, but this was not the only purpose. This set of miracles revealed that Jesus had power over Satan and over all illnesses. He has authority over the most powerful beings on this earth. These demons were unseen and the removal of these demons was not seen, per se. They knew that this really occurred, but they did not see the demons.

People have incorrectly interpreted that we do not have to suffer any sort of diseases because Jesus cured them. But this is an analogy. The diseases are removed immediately, based upon the power of Jesus; just as sin is removed immediately when we express faith in Him. This is an overwhelming evidence of the power of God. All sorts of people were healed.

The demons were trumped in revealing Jesus as the Son of God.

Isa 53:4 Surely He has borne our sicknesses, and He carried our pain; yet we esteemed Him plagued, smitten by God, and afflicted.

The evangelism of Capernaum had been taken care of. So it is time for Jesus to enter into a new phase of His ministry.

Review of What Has Happened

1. Jesus left Samaria and began to preach in Cana. The woman at the well.
2. He announced Himself by healing the nobleman's son in another city. This verified that the official's faith was well-placed.
3. He went into Nazareth, His hometown. The people decisively rejected Him and tried to kill Him.
4. So He sets up headquarters in Capernaum, specifically after healing the royal official's son, who lived there. He settled there for a longer period of time.
5. He calls for His disciples to leave their occupations and to follow Him
6. His early preaching in the Capernaum synagogue and His miracles become the talk of the town. These miracles had never been experienced before.

Jesus is ready to begin the next phrase of His ministry.

Lesson #0177 Mark 1:35– Luke 4:42–43 Life of Christ 11/2/2011 Wed

After Nazareth, Jesus moved to Capernaum. He recalled 4 disciples from a lucrative fishing business to become fishers of men. He had performed many miracles in these first few days. He healed Peter's mother-in-law in a private healing; and a large crowd gathered around the house and He went out among them and healed them, including throwing out the demons.

Jesus is going to move outside of this general area. He needs a little quiet time.

Mark 1:35 Luke 4:42

Jesus gets up early the next morning and He goes to a private place and He prays there. This is the Lord Jesus Christ and He is God; and He is praying to God. The plan of God was already set for Him and He was already guided by God the Holy Spirit; so why would He spend some exclusive time by Himself.

Jesus was constantly surrounded by people and He took a little time by Himself and time to spend in prayer. Jesus was a man and He was like us in all that He did. He never acted on His Own initiative. He emptied Himself of the use of His divine attributes. Prayer was a part of His daily activity. This included long private prayers. He made requests and He made intercessory prayers. He certainly prayed for His disciples and for His opposition. He was often exhausted from His schedule. He was in complete demand by crowds that overwhelmed Him. He faced great adversity. Right before He is arrested, He spend a very long time in the Garden of Gethsemene, and He asked for the cup to be removed from Him. This was tremendous agony for Him that He faced. Jesus knew what His mission was. What He faced was so horrible that He asked God to remove it from Him. He requested consideration by God in prayer. We make our own requests known unto God. This is a tremendous weapon. We are missing out on a tremendous moment by moment weapon and fellowship both. In prayer, we enter into the prayer room of God. Unbelievers pray; when they get into a jam, a foxhole or whatever, they pray, but they have no access to God. God will not talk back to us. But He does answer prayer; He always answers prayer. We have the great opportunity to ask and to receive.

Philip. 4:6 tells us Be anxious for nothing, but in everything, by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be known to God. That is our obligation; that is our privilege. How can you be anxious if you have God? You may have a great difficulty. If you are anxious, then your prayers are going nowhere. And when you pray, then you put it in God's hands, so there is no reason to be anxious about it. You may not even realize that your prayer is being answered, but He does.

Bobby's prayer life is improving and He has prayed many prayers; and he says 80% he's seen clear answers to. You watch what God does and How He does answer our requests. That is prayer. Prayer is not just talking to make yourself feel better. It is speaking directly to God. Jesus prayed as a means to intercede for others, something which we should do; even for your opposition. Thirdly, He prayed to make requests for Himself, in true humanity in subordination to the Father.

His attitude must be our attitude. We begin to fulfill the mandate, pray without ceasing, which means to pray consistently. During this private time of prayer, He spend private time with God the Father. Therefore, prayer ought to be an integral part of our lives.

Mark 1:35 Very early in the morning, while it was still dark, He got up, went out, and made His way to a deserted place. And He was praying there.

Luke 4:42 When it was day, He went out and made His way to a deserted place. But the crowds were searching for Him. They came to Him and tried to keep Him from leaving them.

Because Jesus was gone, Simon and the rest went looking for Him.

Mark 1:36 Simon and his companions went searching for Him.

They had a difficult time without Him there. So they found Him and said, "Everyone is looking for You."

Mark 1:37 They found Him and said, "Everyone's looking for You!"

Capernaum was a very friendly area and they could stay there and be very well received. But Jesus had to travel to bring His message of the kingdom firsthand. He did not want any one to miss the message. He went everywhere speaking to everyone. The gospel was for everyone. He had to bring His message to everyone.

It is reasonable to suppose that God was guiding Him to these other villages and that was conveyed to Him in His prayer.

He tells His disciples that other towns needed His attention. Our Lord's ministry was very short. 3 years or so. He needed to make the most of it.

Many in Capernaum liked that Jesus was there; and they could go to Him with any physical malady. They never wanted Jesus to leave. He had a tremendous amount of work to do right there and they desired exclusive rights to Him right there.

We are often like the people in Capernaum. "God, I have a plan for you." Or, this is how we think. We want what we want when we want it. Jesus does not ignore everyone else to follow our desires and mandates. We may not take others into consideration, but He does.

Jesus works all of these pieces to our benefit, as He does for everyone else. Since this is true, we have nothing to worry about. Whatever unfairness that we have a problem with, God has dealt with it in eternity past. The more that Satan can distract us through others through unfairness. If we expect fairness from others, we are in the wrong world. Life is unfair. There is only One just Person, God. He is fair all the time; so we put our trust in Him. God's plan is our plan; so we are to wait on it; to trust it.

It was never our Lord's intention to fulfill the unfair desires of this or that city. He was not looking to become the center figure of a particular population. It is tough to leave being a beloved celebrity. They believed in Him and they listened to Him. Some might have some narrow-minded expectations as well.

We are not to be self-centered or narrow-minded as believers. There is no greater moment in life than to go through some lousy circumstances and come out the other end smelling like a rose because you did it God's way. When you learn God's plan, our life becomes much more enjoyable and we become much more relaxed. We learned to glorify Him and to serve Him.

Mark 1:38 And He said to them, "Let's go on to the neighboring villages so that I may preach there too. This is why I have come."

The crowds wanted Him to remain. That is their plan, not His. This is a huge crowd; and they had Him surrounded. The opposite of Nazareth.

Luke 4:42 When it was day, He went out and made His way to a deserted place. But the crowds were searching for Him. They came to Him and tried to keep Him from leaving them.

He is the God-man, so He must be about His Father's business. He cannot be monopolized by one group or one city.

What Jesus must do is preach. He came to preach and then He came to die. We have the guarantee that we will live forever with Him.

Luke 4:43 But He said to them, "I must proclaim the good news about the kingdom of God to the other towns also, because I was sent for this purpose."

Lesson #0178 Luke 4:42–43 Mark 1:36–38 Life of Christ 11/3/2011 Thurs

Bobby pictured Capernaum to be like his great aunt's house on the ocean?

Many responded to Jesus Christ and believed in Him. Even those who did not believe liked having Him around; some liked to see spectacular events.

Jesus disappeared after awhile to pray. The disciples and the rest of the city began to search for Him.

Mark 1:36 Simon and his companions went searching for Him.

Mark 1:37 They found Him and said, "Everyone's looking for You!"

Even though Capernaum was a very pleasant place to live, His time was very short. It was His objective to meet the most amount of people in the shortest amount of time. There was no substitute for face to face teaching. When they saw Him and heard Him speak, that was the clincher.

Mark 1:38 And He said to them, "Let's go on to the neighboring villages so that I may preach there too. This is why I have come."

The people at Capernaum tried to keep Him from leaving.

Luke 4:42 When it was day, He went out and made His way to a deserted place. But the crowds were searching for Him. They came to Him and tried to keep Him from leaving them.

His mission was beyond Capernaum. He had to preach and no amount of persuasion could detain Him from the plan of God. This was a lesson that everyone must learn and understand. The message always comes first. It is always the priority. As a platoon leader, Bobby learned that the mission came before the men. That is an axiom of the military. Our Lord's mission had to come first. The Word of Truth makes all the difference in the world. We have a responsibility to all believers in the Lord Jesus Christ.

There is a single-mindedness, which Bobby saw firsthand in his father. The life of a pastor-teacher is not the normal 9 to 5 job. It is an unusual vocation. It is one of the least normal. The pastor's gift drives him to communicate. Jesus Himself is driven to communicate.

Many other pastors have no understanding of this focus and sometimes the family members do not understand it. Bobby's mother understood it. Every pastor-teacher should know that is what is expected by him of God.

A pastor is here to teach the Word. Bobby has a wonderful life with great blessings and there is alone time but there are associated blessings with it.

Aorist active infinitive of εὐαγγελίζω and another infinitive δεῖ

Explanation of the Greek

1. Δει is a word denoting compulsion.
2. This is a compulsion of duty in order to attain certain results.
3. The Lord is saying, "I have no choice; preach." This is the will of God.
4. Along with εὐαγγελίζω and δεῖ there is a personal pronoun.
5. It means me.
6. A literal translation is It is necessary for me to preach. It must be disseminated.
7. Jesus recognized and communicated the plan of the Father as a necessity.
8. His mission, which He had to accept, was to proclaim the Kingdom of God. Without this, we would be without salvation.
9. This assignment by God to preach conveys authority. The plan of God for the humanity of Christ demanded amazing command and control. Authority is designated in the gift. Jesus had the authority simply to accomplish His mission. It was a necessity for Him to do this. His authority was not unlimited. He always bowed to the plan of God the Father. The plans of the people of Capernaum are not that important; God's plan is what must be followed.

Proclaiming the Kingdom of God is the overarching principle. Jesus was compelled to hit the road. This was not about Jesus Christ; it was all about us. This is critical for us. He had to go and preach.

Luke 4:43 But He said to them, "I must proclaim the good news about the kingdom of God to the other towns also, because I was sent for this purpose."

Other villages and outlying areas were beckoning our Lord. Have you ever prayed for someone to witness to? You need to be able to recognize this and you need to have the courage to tell them. Every pastor should have that prayer with regards to teaching. Clarity and a clear mind and the ability to preach doctrine in a way that will get through to your souls.

So Jesus and the disciples pack up and go. There would be 3 of these trips. Every time, Jesus went straight to the synagogue. The same pattern as He had done in Nazareth and in Capernaum.

Jesus was doing what He said He must do. Preaching and casting out demons. The place where they would understand his doctrine the best would be in the synagogue. Jesus again presents His credentials; He would cast out demons. An opposing demon would possess someone and Jesus would throw these demons out.

Why does Mark tell us about this?

What Cast out Demons in the Synagogue?

1. This showed His authority over Satan as the ruler of this world.
2. This authenticated our Lord's teaching, which was different from the rabbis and the pharisees, who taught opinions and theory and tradition. Jesus had authority over the cosmic system.
3. Casting out demons was a foreshadowing of the coming of God's kingdom. The Lord was there; He was the Kingdom at hand. So, casting out demons showed what it would be like when God's kingdom came in.
4. Satan and his forces, when the kingdom is brought in, would be utterly defeated. They will be cast out on a massive scale. They will be utterly defeated at Armageddon.
5. Satan and his demons would then be incarcerated for 1000 literal years.
6. Then comes the perfect rule of Christ over the earth. This is perfect because Satan is no longer present on this earth.
7. At the end of this time period, Satan and his angels would be thrown into the Lake of Fire.
8. Why would any believer fear the demonic? Jesus has complete control over them.

Mark 1:39 So He went into all of Galilee, preaching in their synagogues and driving out demons.

The 4 disciples would now travel everywhere with Jesus. As thick as they were, they slowly learned the lessons of doctrine. We hear a message over and over, and suddenly, the light just dawns.

This great journey begins with prayer. He is accompanied with 4 fishermen. He would go to the synagogue.

Bobby makes the assumption that Jesus preached in the synagogue and in other places as well; particularly when He would be rejected in the synagogue. His message always centered around the Kingdom of God.

Gentiles listened and realized that they were included and could participate in that message. They would see Jesus when He was not in the synagogue.

Demons were very active wherever Jesus went and He had control over them. One little word shall fell them.

Mark 1:40 Then a man with a serious skin disease came to Him and, on his knees, begged Him: "If You are willing, You can make me clean."

Bobby wants to look at one specific healing incident. It has great significance.

Bobby has a picture of someone suffering from leprosy. Jesus cured such a person immediately. This has great significance.

Mark 1:41 Moved with compassion, Jesus reached out His hand and touched him. "I am willing," He told him. "Be made clean."

Lesson #0179 Luke 4:42b–43 Mark 1:38–39 Life of Christ 11/6/11 1Sun Leprosy

Jesus is in a city which really like Him. He is the talk of the town. He has done many miracles in just the first few weeks. He has announced that the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand and that He would rule. Many who heard Him and saw the things which He did believed in Him. They therefore followed Him. As they followed Him and began to grow, they did not want Jesus out of their sight. They wanted to know where He was at all times. The people were like paparazzi. It is at this point that Jesus was ready to move along to other towns.

There were those who were not believers, but they found Jesus to be interesting or novel. They liked the miracles. No one in the town wanted Jesus to leave. Even with His burgeoning ministry and His growing popularity, He decided that He must leave Capernaum, even for just awhile.

Luke 4:42b They came to Him and tried to keep Him from leaving them.

Jesus would continue to teach them, but he was going to take a break from them.

Luke 4:43 But He said to them, "I must proclaim the good news about the kingdom of God to the other towns also, because I was sent for this purpose."

Jesus had to go everywhere, in all of Palestine.

Mark 1:38 And He said to them, "Let's go on to the neighboring villages so that I may preach there too. This is why I have come."

This is our Lord's mission; He had to go throughout this area. He went to every town and preached in every synagogue and cast out demons as well.

Mark 1:39 So He went into all of Galilee, preaching in their synagogues and driving out demons.

Matt. 8:2–4 Mark 1:40–45 Luke 5:12–16 are the parallel passages on this curing of a leper. It was incurable, it was slowly fatal, and it was horrible to see as it progressed. There is massive damage to the skin. It is communicable as well. So lepers were separated from the rest of society.

Leprosy is a bacteria which spreads rapidly over the whole surface of the body. This is still in existence today and it occurs even in the United States. It is not as visible as before; it is contained by drugs, but not cured. One of the carriers of leprosy is armadillos. It eventually causes nerve damage in all of the appendages. There is a sensory loss in the skin and a muscle loss and a deterioration throughout. The person loses their sense of touch; they do not feel whatever it is that they touch. There is no reaction to heat, cold, fire, frostbite. So they can suffer additional skin tissue damage by such exposure. They can lose great amount of skin and tissue and even appendages.

There is a leper colony on an island near Hawaii. It is surrounded by high cliffs and ocean and lepers would fend for themselves in this colony. A Catholic priest cared for them and he worked with them until he caught leprosy and then died. He is well-known in Hawaii. There are lepers who are infected and they are a living walking demonstration of what leprosy is like. Fingers and noses gone.

Bobby is glad to have seen it because he understands all the more of what it was like to be a leper in the ancient world. When untreated, it leads to death. In this colony, they had drugs and were no longer carriers. Among the Jews in the time of our Lord, the cause of such a terrible disease was not isolated to bacteria. That was not the real cause of leprosy insofar as the Jews were concerned. They understood this to be judgment from God; judgment for sin. It was not so much a type of sin or the most heinous of sins. It was instead a judgment for sin itself. It was a judgment for uncleanness. It was what the sin produced that was judged. The legal code of defilements in the Old Testament, leprosy was the worst of uncleanness. This became a religious problem for the Jews because it represented the separation that sin brings.

There was a ritual for leprosy which involved complex washings and cleansings; this did not cure leprosy, but it represented cleansing.

If a person had leprosy then simply touching him could make another leprosy. The spiritual condition as the rabbis interpreted it. Leprosy was a dire disease and a perceived apostasy from God; both of which required separation from them. They took their isolation of lepers to extremes. Simply touching a leper defiled a person and made them unclean. The very presence of a leper could make one unclean; simply being in the presence of a leper.

Lev. 13–14 represents cleansing from leprosy. We are being set up for one of our Lord's greatest lessons, to be learned from this one simple healing.

Summary on Lev. 13–14

1. When a person had the symptoms of leprosy, then a priest would inspect them and identify the disease.
2. In order to make a diagnosis, Lev. 13 describes a detailed description of the symptoms.
3. Then the details for patient isolation are given. The whole set of instructions are given:
 - 1) They are to wear torn clothes and disheveled hair.
 - 2) These are symbols of mourning and defilement.
 - 3) The infected person had to dwell outside the camp or the city.
 - 4) He had to cry anytime he came into contact with anyone that he happened to meet, "Unclean, unclean." This was done as a matter of disease control.
4. The separation and purification ritual was done as a picture of the uncleanness of sin and the solution to sin. They were not curing those with leprosy, but they did go through a ritual of cleansing one from leprosy.
5. What was the picture?
 - 1) To see the price of purification from sin and judgment.
 - 2) Ritual purification represented the cleansing from the disease, but it did not cleanse one from the disease.
 - 3) This was a very expensive ritual. There were many animals that had to be brought for this ritual.
 - 4) On the 8th day, the priest anointed the leper on his feet, hands and foot.
 - 5) If a person had leprosy, his house was to be burned.
6. God's people and sanctuary were not to be sullied by sin.
7. This all represents a future cleansing from that sin. There is a great cost involved here; and the idea is so that we can see the great cost of sin. Every time a leper was diagnosed, this entire ritual kicked in. This point was made very graphically and it represented making sin as a part of one's life. There is a great price of purification and forgiveness.

Lesson #0180

Mark 1:40–42 Luke 4: Life of Christ 11/6/2011 2Sunday

Passages on this section: Matt. 8:2–4 Mark 1:40–45 Luke 5:12–16

The religious leaders were terrible legalists and they added to and subtracted from the leprosy. They treated the lepers cruelly. Lev. 13–14 was grace to the sinner. They threw rocks at the lepers; they drove them out of town. Even being downwind of a leper was considered to be defilement. They would not eat on a street where a leper had once been.

These lepers were not even allowed to participate in the rituals designed for them in the Bible.

Just as the cleansing rituals did not cleanse a person from sin, neither did the cleansing techniques for the lepers cleanse them.

The leper had no hope in Judaism. They were condemned and that was it. There was no ritual purification; there was no chance. They were completely ostracized. The spiritual aspect should not be kept separate. They were all symbolically lepers. If there was no purification, then Israel never got to see the ritual cleansing done to a person in a hopeless situation. That is not grace; that is pure hypocrisy. The priests were the most leprous of people in their souls.

Jesus, in these healings, gave great hope to those who are lepers. This is cleansing from the most heinous of sins. The forgiveness of sin.

A composite of the 3 passages:

And it came about while Jesus was in one of the cities, there was a man in the city who was full of leprosy [this was not pretty; he had a full-blown case of leprosy]. When he saw Jesus, he fell down on his face before His feet [indicating that he worshiped the Lord Jesus Christ]. "Lord, if You are willing, You can make me clean." To this point, no one had heard of Jesus curing a leper. This was very visible; it was obvious. This leper knew the Lord and worshiped Him for Who He was. He knew that Jesus could make him clean, not just from leprosy, but from his sin. This man was demonstrating positive volition and he was demonstrating faith in Christ. This is one of the purposes for a miracle to attract those who are positive toward the Person of Jesus Christ. This person had already expressed faith in Christ; this miracle would be important to others; this man would be a testimony to others.

His clothes are disheveled and he calls out, "Unclean, unclean." When he falls on his face, there is only the leper and the Lord Jesus Christ. Legalism flees from sin. Jesus stays in close proximity of the sinner, representing his sin with this terrible disease of leprosy.

Mark 1:40 Then a man with a serious skin disease came to Him and, on his knees, begged Him: "If You are willing, You can make me clean."

Mark 1:41 Moved with compassion, Jesus reached out His hand and touched him. "I am willing," He told him. "Be made clean."

How does legalism treat lepers? With shunning; Jesus treats him with compassion.

Jesus reaches out and touches this leper; this was a life-threatening touch. This is a picture of a life that would be given for us. His life was under the threat of death, so what is the touch of a leper? It is symbolic, representing the entire life of the Lord Jesus Christ. This one touch represents that shadow. Jesus came in contact with leprosy, meaning He came into contact with sin. Quite a contrast to the legalism of the pharisees and priests.

What Jesus had just done was a terrible violation of the Law. You just do not touch lepers in Jewish society; you do not show compassion to them.

Luke 5:13 And stretching out the hand, He touched him, saying, "I will! Be clean!" And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

Jesus touches him and he could be considered unclean and ostracized at that point. Jesus would be considered to be under the defilement of sin because of touching this leper. He touched a sinner and He was tainted by contact. This is the understanding of the pharisees and how things were to be seen. Jesus took the sin of this leper. He Who knew no sin was made sin for us.

Then we are told what happened. The disease left this leper. All of the symbolism of this passage. All of the sacrifices and all that leprosy meant, it was all found here. An outcast, destroyed by sin, and the leprosy left him and he was cleansed. This had never happened before. A priest had to examine him and pronounce him clean. There would be washings and examinations. The priests could not cleanse a leper. They cured nothing. But Jesus cures this disease, that no one else could. There is no ritual purification here; it is an actual cleansing.

Mark 1:42 Immediately the disease left him, and he was healed.

This man happened to walk up to Jesus, but everyone scattered. There were no witnesses. In the Old Testament, there were many healers in the Old Testament; but none healed from leprosy, with 2 exceptions: Moses healing Miriam; Elisha who healed his servant Uziah. These were healings that represented Jesus Christ. Elisha and Moses represented the Person and work of Jesus Christ. Only the Messiah could perform a work like this, and Moses and Elisha were both types of Christ at this time.

Here, the reality does exactly the same thing. This time, it was by the One Moses and Elisha represented as types. Jesus performs here a true and real cleansing. The leper was doomed; he could be nothing other than doomed. And yet, Jesus heals him. The leper could say, "This disease, this sin, will cause my death." We are all born spiritually death. There is only one way to be cured; Jesus Christ on the cross.

The touch did not defile our Lord; Jesus was the One healing from the defilement of sin. He was the Healer. He freed man from the malady of sin. His contact with sin was real, yet symbolic. We are cleansed from it just as the leper was cleansed from it.

That was the identification that should have been made. The leper knew the sin of his disease would not hurt Jesus.

Jesus and Leprosy

1. The Lord Jesus Christ had superceded the law of cleanliness; He fulfilled this law. He superceded the law of nature herself.
2. This miracle could only be a verification of His Person with power over the most dreaded disease in the ancient world.
3. More importantly, the very person to cleanse from all uncleanness is the Lord Jesus Christ.
4. He was the Messiah with power over sin and death. That is what this all represents.

This wasn't some fluke; this was not a man who looked to have leprosy but did not really have it. He had a full-blown case.

He would be very emotional. He would be crying out, "I am well; I am overjoyed." He was extremely emotional. Jesus commands him to go to the priests of Jerusalem.

Luke 5:14 And He commanded him, Tell no one, but go and show yourself to the priest and offer for your cleansing, as Moses commanded, for a testimony to them.

Pick yourself up, dust yourself off; do not tell anyone anything. Go directly to the priest. There was an important reason why Jesus told this man to go and tell no one except the priest. This reveals everything about this incident. This will explain why this man was an utter failure from the very beginning. He is immediately disobedient.

He was given instructions, and he disobeys. He had his own agenda.

Lesson #0181 Matt. 8:4 Mark 1:43–45 Luke 5:14 Life of Christ 11/9/11 Wed

There is much more behind this miracle that first seems to be the case. We can arrest leprosy today with drugs, but we cannot cure it.

Lepers became outcasts; they are the worst of the unclean. The Jews interpreted the disease as a special punishment from God. The leper in the eyes of the legalists was doomed to a life a physical deterioration, which was often seen as a judgment from God and they would have a very lonely existence. They lived a hopeless and lost existence.

It was the total despair which accompanied this disease, which is why this miracle was so profound. Leprosy was the perfect picture of the human condition.

Why Leprosy Best Illustrates our Hopeless Condition

1. The physical ravages of this disease represented the scourge of sin on the human race. Our total depravity and deterioration.
2. The separation from others that the leper had to endure represented the total separation that sin brings between God and man.
3. The hopelessness of leprosy represents the inability of man to heal himself from the affliction of sin and to fellowship with God. No one can overcome their separation from God. It is a hopeless condition.
4. Leprosy was a hopeless picture of sin and death endemic to all mankind. The One Who could heal from leprosy could also cure man from sin and death. It should be crystal clear that He is the Messiah and the Savior.

What occurred after the healing of a leper Matt. 8:4 Mark 1:43–44 Luke 5:14

Only Jesus Christ could cure leprosy. When they discovered that they could cure this man, they would discover that Jesus is the Messiah; if He can cure leprosy, then He could also forgive sin.

Then Jesus sternly warned the man, “Say nothing.” No one was there because, when they saw a leper approach, they all ran. Even a touch could convey leprosy from one man to another. A leper would be stoned to death for just showing up in public. When Jesus performed this miracle, it was not witnessed by anyone.

How did the leper hear about Jesus Christ?

“Do not publicize that I have cured you. Say nothing to anyone what happened. Instead, show yourself to the priest. Then make the offering that Moses commanded.” Jesus wants the priests to recognize that this leper has been cured. When Bobby first saw this, you would think that Jesus would want this man to show himself all over the town as a public testimony of Jesus Christ. This was an unheard of, spectacular miracle. He warned the leper, “Say nothing; go straight to the priests and show them.” No one else. Why would Jesus want him to do this? The reason is very important.

Why Jesus Sent this Leper to the Priests

1. The priests were critical in confirming this miracle. They are the only ones who could confirm a miracle.
2. It was their job to diagnose leprosy and then to make a ritual purification for the leper. Then they could declare him clean, although this is ritually speaking.
3. The priest had to make this announcement; no one else could declare him clean.
4. According to the Law, the priests were to pronounce this man healed. Jesus fulfilled the law, He never violated it.
5. In their view, the priests would see Jesus as an interloper, taking on their duties.
6. Had this leper walked about this . This would have caused an uproar.

7. Jesus would have been branded a revolutionary. Forget the miracle; keep the letter of the Law.
8. Jesus did not need this man to be a public witness
9. He did not need this man as a local witness in that general area. He would provide a very important witness to the priests.
10. He would verify the present

Miracles are always performed for a reason. Jesus ordered this man to do exactly what the Law demanded. This would have been a heinous crime to overlook the Law.

This man could not be accepted in society unless this elaborate mission had been done. The priests had to sanction this cure. This was a ritual. However, they will be faced with a morality. Priests had gone through this ritual for centuries. Suddenly, they have a cure. The man would still be considered unclean. His claim of healing would be considered suspect if he was not sanctioned by the priests. Without this, his miracle would be for naught. They did not know that he was cured from leprosy.

The most important reason for him going to the priest was, he would be a testimony to the priests. This would alert them to the fact that Messiah has come. This would serve to show that Messiah had come.

How Would He Be a Testimony?

This would be one of the most important missions for a man in the plan of God during Jesus' ministry.

1. He goes to the priests and makes this claim.
2. The priests are bound by the law to investigate this situation.
3. The priest had to determine what he was before and what he is now.
4. They would question those who knew him back when.
5. The priest would also make inquiries as to the means by which the man had been healed. He was a leper; how did this happen?
6. The priests would understand that this indicates that Messiah is here. Thus, in their investigation, this would be done.
7. If the man had leprosy and was now clean; and if the cleansing was done, the religious leaders were His greatest opponents.
8. This would be a testimony to Jesus Christ.
9. After making this investigation, they will. The religious supreme court would rule, with all of the facts before them.
10. The entire
11. This would be evidence of Jesus' Messiah

This one many would have a great witness that none of the other apostles so Jesus guides this former leper to the priests and to no one else.

Matt. 8:4 Then Jesus told him, "See that you don't tell anyone; but go, show yourself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses prescribed, as a testimony to them."

Mark 1:43 Then He sternly warned him and sent him away at once,

Mark 1:44 telling him, "See that you say nothing to anyone; but go and show yourself to the priest, and offer what Moses prescribed for your cleansing, as a testimony to them."

Luke 5:14 And He commanded him, Tell no one, but go and show yourself to the priest and offer for your cleansing, as Moses commanded, for a testimony to them.

What his guy did was just the opposite. This healed man did what he wanted to do and ignored the instructions of Jesus Christ.

This is as if you have the greatest disease known to man, and he did not follow the instructions of Christ; he ran out getting a. How often does emotion without thought this man went his own way, despite of a direct order from Jesus.

Many people become Christians and completely ignore Bible doctrine, going their own way, doing whatever they think is Christianity. These never learned what was spiritual. They only knew what they wanted to know based upon

"What would Jesus do?" They have no clue; they are like the leper. They do exactly they want to do." This man got direct instructions; and disobeyed them. He failed to contact the priest. Jesus could not even enter to thow

Mark 1:45 Yet he went out and began to proclaim it widely and to spread the news, with the result that Jesus could no longer enter a town openly. But He was out in deserted places, and they would come to Him from everywhere.

Lesson #0182

Mark 2:1– Luke 5:17 Life of Christ

11/10/11 Thurs

About 2000 years ago, the Lord Jesus Christ healed a leper in an unknown town in Galilee. There were many miracles done by our Lord that were not recorded. Jesus told the leper, tell no one and go to the priests. When Jesus suggests something like that, it has great meaning. He needed to go to the priests to verify his status as clean. The necessary rituals needed to be performed as mandated by the Law. Also, the Lord wanted the priests to investigate this further, which would point to the Lord Jesus Christ. The former leper did exactly the opposite. He told everyone that he ran into and he failed to go to the priests. What happened was, he missed the plan of God for his life. Today, this is to ignore Bible doctrine. If you take in Bible doctrine, the plan of God will unfold for your life. People want to strain about knowing God's will. Most do not know what rebound is. It is doctrine that renovates the thinking and the more your mind is renovated the more you find yourself in the plan of God. You are given more to do as you become capable of doing it. The more you are mature, the longer you stay in fellowship and the more responsibility you are given.

If you are not capable of doing anything, then God is not going to entrust you with great assignments.

This man missed the plan of God for his life. No one got where they needed to go. No priest investigated the situation. Jesus could not easily go into a city because He would be mobbed. If He could cure a leper, what could He not cure? He was inundated with those who wanted to be cured; they mobbed Him for the wrong reasons.

Jesus needed to move away from the countryside of Galilee and back to Capernaum.

Matt. 9:1– Mark 2:1–12 Luke 5:17–26

Jesus did not do miracles for miracles' sake; this either involved positive volition or compassion or a purpose in the plan of God (all of them would have had a purpose in the plan of God).

His Own city is Capernaum.

Matt. 9:1 He entered into a boat, and crossed over, and came into His Own city.

Crowds gathered right out in front of His Own house. The Old Testament was the Bible; He would take the Bible and He would teach, just like in the old synagogue.

Mark 2:1 When he entered again into Capernaum after some days, it was heard that He was in the house.

They filled up the front of His house. This was a spontaneous gathering of people who wanted to hear Him. Now He spoke to the crowds in the town. They surrounded Him even before He could get out of His house. The Jews would have been in the synagogue, but there are gentiles there as well. Those who were positive came to hear Him.

Mark 2:2 Immediately many were gathered together, so that there was no more room, not even around the door; and he spoke the word to them.

As Jesus taught, there were healing incidents occurring. However, all of this occurred in the plan of God. Everything that He did was a part of the plan of God. If He was out of the plan of God, that would be sin; and Jesus did not sin.

Luke 5:17 And it happened on one of the days, even He was teaching. And Pharisees and teachers of the Law were sitting by, who had come out of every village of Galilee and Judea and Jerusalem. And the power of the Lord was there, for the curing of them.

There is always a reason why the Holy Spirit guided the Lord to heal. The reason for the leper was quite simple; a mission to the priests. Now Jesus is teaching and healing at His Own home.

However, there is also some organized opposition which has developed. The religious leaders had appeared from many different areas and they had great influence over the people who had gathered. What they taught was antithetical to the teachings of Jesus; they were still respected for their positions and their power.

Jesus had to clearly differentiate Himself from the false teaching of His organized opponents. Jesus would perform an amazing miracle under very weird circumstances, which would be a definitive statement to His opposition. It was also a public rebuttal against the opposition for the consumption of the crowd. They needed to see the difference between the truth and the lies.

Luke 5:17 And it happened on one of the days, even He was teaching. And Pharisees and teachers of the Law were sitting by, who had come out of every village of Galilee and Judea and Jerusalem. And the power of the Lord was there, for the curing of them.

There just happened to be a few pharisees and teachers of the Law, and they had come from every village of Galilee and Judæa and Jerusalem.

What's Happening Here?

1. This is the very first account in the gospels of a coordinated resistance to Jesus Christ and His ministry. These were the occupy Capernaum crowd.
2. This was a planned gathering of the adversaries that Jesus would face for the rest of His life. This is an organized resistance.
3. This group was made up of pharisees and the doctors of the Law and scribes from Jerusalem. The scribes searched the Scriptures; and this included their legalisms and Jewish traditions and the teachings of the rabbis.
4. They took note of what was going on in Galilee. Word had come to them of a messiah's presence (in their viewpoint). There has been many fakirs during the course of Israel's history claiming to be the Messiah. The duties of these teachers were to expose these messiahs as false. They could not ignore what was happening in Galilee.
5. They formed an investigative committee to probe this healer and messianic claimant.
6. These men of the committee were prepared to refute the one they already viewed as an imposter. They came to refute; not to hear.
7. These doctors of the Law, the PhD's of Judaism, represented the cream of Judaistic hierarchy. They emphasized Jewish traditions over pure Scripture. Jesus did not conform to their standards.
8. They were prejudiced toward Him from the very beginning. They simply rejected the Lord, although there were a handful who believed.
9. These scribes and pharisees were the policemen of the religion in Palestine and they were very jealous of their position and power.

10. They would not tolerate challenges to their high status. Anyone claiming to be the messiah was a challenger to their authority. They are self-centered, arrogant religious zealots.
11. They approached the Lord Jesus Christ with a skeptical attitude; they viewed Him as just another heretic that needed to be squashed; and His followers needed to be turned away from His teaching.
12. They assembled to see about this miracle worker and to refute His claims about being the Messiah.

Jesus would use the paralytic to illustrate truth to His religious inquisitors and to the crowd that He is the Messiah. Those who came to squash Him would be squashed.

There was a huge crowd around the house and no one could get to the door. 4 men were bringing this paralytic man on a cot. There was no way that they could get close. They were resourceful and persistent.

Luke 5:18 And behold, men carrying, on a cot, a man who was paralyzed. And they sought to bring him in and to lay him before Him.

These men represented faith and acting upon this faith. All of this was present in these 5 men. So they got an idea. They were not to be denied.

Luke 5:19 And not finding a way by which they might bring him in through the crowd, going up on the housetop, they let him down through the tiles with his cot into the midst, before Jesus.

The removed portions of the roof where Jesus was. They dropped down on a litter a man. Houses in that area were usually constructed of limestone with a limestone stucco on the outside. There were tiles for the roof which were easy to remove without destroying the tiles themselves. Now, there are 4 men doing this, so they had to move quite a few tiles.

Jesus possibly stopped and watched this operation; and much of the crowd was watching this, wondering what was going on.

When there was a hole big enough to let the paralytic through, they let Jesus down through this roof. A bed held by ropes being lowered down. This pallette would be lowered fairly rapidly. He was staring up at the stars and now staring up at the Lord. When the pallette comes to rest, it is clear that this man is very weak and very ill. He cannot even utter a word; he is that weak. Being there means that he had faith in Jesus Christ. He was certain that Jesus was the One He was seeking. He was seeking a new life and he wanted to be bodily renovated. No one had ever heard of a paralytic being healed. And here he was in front of Jesus expecting to be healed.

All 5 of these men were convinced that this is the Messiah; which is in direct opposition to the gathering of pharisees and scribes.

Mark 2:4 When they could not come near to Him for the crowd, they removed the roof where He was. When they had broken it up, they let down the mat that the paralytic was lying on.

Lesson #0183

Luke 5:17 Life of Christ

11/13/2011 1Sunday

Phone problems; a communion Sunday.

The religious leaders became angry and jealous that Jesus was drawing crowds away from His teaching. This first occurred after He took His first journey through the towns of Galilee. He began to teach and He was mobbed at His front porch. So He would preach right from there.

Jesus could hardly walk around town without people mobbing Him and wanting to see miracles.

This is the first account of a coordinated resistance against our Lord's ministry. Pharisees were there and scribes (PhD's in Judaistic theology) and they were from all over Palestine, and they were prepared for Him. They had come up with a strategy and they had come up with an assault. They were the cream of the Jewish religious hierarchy. They sent in the best team and they sent in a prepared and organized group. They would watch and wait for a misstep by this Miracle Worker. They expected to catch Him in a misstatement and they would then pounce upon Him and discredit Him before all those who were listening to Him.

They viewed Him as a complete charlatan who needed to be repressed. They could not stand grace. But He kept on performing these pesky miracles of healing. This made it an inopportune time to oppose Him. They realized that He was most popular when He performed a healing or a miracle. They did not want to discredit themselves; they wanted to discredit Jesus. They followed Him everywhere, and they were waiting to pounce.

Luke 5:17 And it happened on one of the days, even He was teaching. And Pharisees and teachers of the Law were sitting by, who had come out of every village of Galilee and Judea and Jerusalem. And the power of the Lord was there, for the curing of them.

Lesson #0184

Lk 5:17, 19 Mk 2:4 Mt 9:2 Life of Christ 11/13/11 2Sunday

Bobby prefers narrative over story; The Greatest Story Ever Told. We are in the midst of one more. Each miracle has a specific meaning.

Now we have another set of unique circumstances around a miracle. Now, there will be an opposition power for this next miracle. After Jesus first great journey through Galilee, there is an organized resistance against Him.

There were pharisees and doctors of the Law. These are men who know their theology well. They decided that they needed to put a stop to this once and for all. They figured that they would discredit Him.

Bob spoke from the pulpit and all kinds of books came out and all sorts of people didn't like him and wrote all kinds of books. He was discredited in many quarters by what he said; yet his ministry went on for 53 years. Jesus faces such attacks and discrediting for all of his ministry, and it was mostly coordinated from this point on.

They waited until He would say something they did not like and then they would pounce on Him. They are sitting around, nearby, listening to Him, waiting for the right time to attack Him. He would be healing people and they did not want to cause a problem then.

They were waiting for Jesus to be discredited. Nothing around Him was usual and predictable. He was dynamic and convincing when He spoke. He was so different from the legalism of Judaism. How could they resist His teaching? But they did. What He was teaching was impossible to deny. These pharisees were so blind so that they had to distort it in order to refute it.

This happens today. People don't hear what is really said. Nobody listens to anyone else; they just want to discredit the opposition. In that audience were those who hated Him and they were simply waiting.

In the middle of His sermon, He was interrupted, which is not tolerated at Berachah. The teaching of the Word of God is the most important thing that can be taught is the Bible.

Luke 5:17 And it happened on one of the days, even He was teaching. And Pharisees and teachers of the Law were sitting by, who had come out of every village of Galilee and Judea and Jerusalem. And the power of the Lord was there, for the curing of them.

While this is going on, there are 4 men who are carrying a man on some sort of bed and they want to bring it up front because he is a paralytic. The crowds were already formed around our Lord by this time.

Luke 5:19 And not finding a way by which they might bring him in through the crowd, going up on the housetop, they let him down through the tiles with his cot into the midst, before Jesus.

This crowd kept them from getting close, so they managed to get onto the roof and they cut across a hole in the roof, and down they bring this man on ropes on this litter. This was necessary for what would happen next.

Now this man is staring right into the eyes of our Lord. Now everyone is staring at this man on the pallette and he wants to be healed. Even the pharisees can observe this. This man wanted a new life; a new body. He wanted to be renovated.

Modern medical science might have some therapy available today to help regenerate some nerves of this man. He was in a hopeless situation. He could not move. He was just lying there. Only his eyes moved. There was no cure in that time and place. They expected to be healed simultaneously. They expected to be renewed and regenerated bodily.

These friends of his are very persistent in getting him to a place where he could be healed. He knew exactly Who was in that house and speaking to this crowd. These 4 had already believed in Christ, as did their friend. All 5 were entirely convinced of our Lord's messiahship.

Mark 2:4 When they could not come near to Him for the crowd, they removed the roof where He was. When they had broken it up, they let down the mat that the paralytic was lying on.

Jesus, observing the faith of these men—all 5 of them. He tells the man, "Take courage, my son, your sins are forgiven." The doctors of the Law saw this statement as being heresy. Jesus just confirmed the heresy of their faith. The Lord gave affirmation of spiritual healing to this man. He did not immediately heal the crippled body. He could have said, "Get up and walk." But Jesus knew that these doctors of the Law were sitting right there. Therefore, Jesus tells the man, "Your sins are forgiven."

There was a gasp and a smile from the front row, from these teachers of the Law.

Jesus calls this man "My son" and tells him to cheer up because his sins are forgiven.

This man was not physically healed except that Jesus wanted to teach something to the crowd and the Judaizers. Only God had the ability to forgive sins. So these rabbis figured that they had Jesus. This was a mistake, in their thinking.

Rabbinical theology taught that, if a person had a physical disability, that God was punishing that person for sins that he had committed. Only God could forgive this set of sins. They determined that the paralytic was just being punished by God. When Jesus said, "Your sins are forgiven" that was something only God could do. This was a clear message of his claim of deity. There is a man standing in this room; and it is clear that Jesus is flesh and blood; and yet, He has just claimed, by forgiving these sins, that He is God. He did it right in the face of this crowd, which included the men who had come to discredit Him. When they heard these words, they gasped. They knew that anyone who usurped the prerogatives of deity should be stoned to death. Right in front of all these doctors of the Law, He just claimed to be God.

Matt. 9:2 Behold, they brought to him a man who was paralyzed, lying on a bed. Jesus, seeing their faith, said to the paralytic, "Son, cheer up! Your sins are forgiven you."

Jesus was claiming to be the God of the Old Testament; right there. They wanted to discredit Him in the worst way. They hated Him.

They would not believe anything about the Messiah. But now, they would get absolute proof from the very man that Jesus had forgiven sins. They would have to believe their eyes and their ears. Would they do this or fall back on their prejudices.

They are sitting there; a pallette is in front of them; and Jesus says, "Your sins are forgiven" to this man. This gets the attention of these law-keepers. Not even visual evidence will change their minds. When you witness for Jesus Christ, if someone will not believe, then, they will not believe.

If you are an expert in apologetics, it does not matter. A brilliant argument in favor of Jesus Christ is not the deciding factor. What is, is the positive and negative volition of the hearer. These doctors of theology are about to get empirical proof that Jesus is the Messiah. We don't see things occur right in front of our faces; but they get to hear it. They hear Him speak; they see what He does. But their volition is locked in negative.

People are as hard as flint when it comes to the gospel. Negative volition is vicious. This is one of the great demonstrations of all time. Jesus will heal this man, and they will remain negative.

People say, "Don't confuse me with the facts." These men were not to be convinced even by that which they see in their own faces. They are very similar to the Exodus generation. They saw the greatest miracles which delivered them from the bondage of Egypt, but they just rejected God, time after time, and they complained. All of these miracles they saw over and over again, and they did nothing but complain and reject God.

In the next few verses, Matt. 9:3 The Scribes began to reason among themselves. "This fellow blasphemes; who can forgive sins but God alone?" Jesus said this to get just exactly this reaction. They are indicating that they understand the issue. These are the doctors of the Law. "Heretic, liar." They are setting themselves up for the fall. Jesus is setting them up exactly for the fall. Jesus, aware of their reasonings, asked, "Why do you think evil in your hearts?" Jesus said this for the crowd. They knew that there were teachers of the Law right there.

Lesson #0185 Mk 2:9, 13 Lk 5:17–26 Mt 9:2, 4 Life of Christ 11/16/11 Wed

Luke 5:17 And it happened on one of the days, even He was teaching. And Pharisees and teachers of the Law were sitting by, who had come out of every village of Galilee and Judea and Jerusalem. And the power of the Lord was there, for the curing of them.

This is that organized group of religious types, waiting to catch Jesus saying something which is problematic. Jesus is also surrounded by a mob as well. They had developed or were developing a strategy to take Jesus down. They had to defame Jesus in some way or expose Him as a charlatan; and there had been plenty of charlatan messiahs in the past. There were many who had claimed, in Israel, to be the Messiah; and the pharisees looked to straighten everyone else out.

They wanted to turn the people from grace back to Judaistic legalism. This is the first appearance of a coordinated attack. They had opposed Him in the past and had become angry with Him from time to time, but this time, they came from all over and they were organized. Opposition had formed and the word had gotten out.

The confrontation ended up being much different than what they expected to occur. There was a paralytic man.

Luke 5:18 And behold, men carrying, on a cot, a man who was paralyzed. And they sought to bring him in and to lay him before Him.

How was it that they managed to get on this roof? How large was this place? These 5 men had faith because they were persistent in their actions. They understood Who was speaking and they functioned corporately in response to their faith.

Luke 5:19 And not finding a way by which they might bring him in through the crowd, going up on the housetop, they let him down through the tiles with his cot into the midst, before Jesus.

Then Jesus tells them something that they did not expect. Jesus, in front of a very large crowd, "Be happy, your sins are forgiven you." Jesus, speaking as God, told this man that his sins were forgiven. The pharisees understood that this was a problem, obviously not believing in Jesus.

Matt. 9:2 Behold, they brought to him a man who was paralyzed, lying on a bed. Jesus, seeing their faith, said to the paralytic, "Son, cheer up! Your sins are forgiven you."

They understood that Jesus was claiming to do something only God could do. But Jesus knew exactly what they were thinking. He could read their faces as a man and He could read their thoughts as God.

Luke 5:21 And the scribes and Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this who speaks blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, except God alone?

Matt. 9:4 Mark 9:4 Luke 5:22

Jesus speaks to them immediately. He knew their thoughts.

Luke 5:22 But knowing their thoughts, answering, Jesus said to them, Why do you reason in your hearts?

The pharisees are somewhat surprised that Jesus figured out what they were thinking. The crowd is perked, wondering what is going on. They saw all of these pharisees. They are surprised what Jesus is saying. But the crowd likes this because the pharisees are bullies.

Matt. 9:4 Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said, "Why do you think evil in your hearts?"

These great doctors of the Law, Jesus asks them a question. Jesus is doing this for the benefit of the crowd.

They pharisees understand that anyone can see the words, “Your sins are forgiven.” This is a phoney messiah, in their eyes; so he is just telling these people what they want to hear. Merely speaking these words is a meaningless act. However, if Jesus told this man to stand up and grab his bed and walk, this would be quite dramatic. This would indicate that He had divine power.

Jesus is using fortiori logic; if I can do that which is difficult; then it should be obvious that I can do that which is easier. If Jesus could heal the man, the easier is to forgive sins. This would show unequivocally that these are works of deity.

They could understand this logic.

The Logic of Jesus

1. If Jesus healed the paralytic, which would appear to be the more difficult thing to do, then He could do the easier thing.
2. Logically, He could do the easier, which is to say, “Your sins are forgiven you.”
3. If this is all true, then there is a case to be made that Jesus could really forgive sins.
4. Our Lord was setting them up for the empiracal evidence of His Deity.
5. He is paving the way for saying and doing that which is irrefutable.
6. When Jesus heals the man, they would have to admit that He is God. It is logical and they see it happen.
7. If they were logical; if they used reason, and if they believed their own eyes, rationalism and empiricism, then they could draw no other conclusion. This is Messiah and God; the God-man.

Jesus stands before these doctors of the Law and offers proof that He is the God of all mankind. This is a singular moment. What He is saying is, the entre cass that he just prove, if the paralytic stands up and walks.

Andi If the Paralytic Is Cured

1. If the paralytic is healed, then, logically he was spiritually healed as well through the forgiveness of sins.
2. If he walks away, Jesus is Who He claims to be.
3. If the paralytic did not walk away, Jesus would have been an imposter.

Mark 2:9 Which is easier, to tell the paralytic, 'Your sins are forgiven;' or to say, 'Arise, and take up your bed, and walk?'

The crowd is caught up in this. Who are the real charlatans?

If Jesus could do the hard, create the entire universe; then He can do the easier, which is to heal this man. Jesus gives this man the power to pick up his bed and walk home. He had been a paralytic for years.

Luke 5:24 But so that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins, He said to the paralytic, I say to you, Arise, and take up your cot and go to your house.

The paralytic man gets up and walks, and he glorifies Jesus Christ, Who is God. These pharisees acquiesced to the logic of our Lord, and now they had to admit, logically, that Jesus was God. Jesus had turned the table on them, and they had nothing to say.

What Is Going on with These Pharisees?

1. The blindness of these pharisees is exposed; the religion of the Jews is exposed as being bankrupt. Jesus represents grace.
2. At the same time, Jesus Christ is revealed as the One True God and Savior.
3. In one miracle, Jesus completely refuted His opposition and proved the infinite breadth of His person.
4. It did not change one thing in the souls of the negative doctors of the Law the evidence of their own eyes was not enough. They would simply try harder. That is the blindness of negative volition.

Luke 5:25 And immediately he rose up before them and took up that on which he lay. And he departed to his own house, glorifying God.

All who saw what happened were amazed and fill with awe, and they glorified God, saying, "We've never seen anything like this. Composite verse. There was positive volition in this crowd, except for the religious leaders in the crowd.

Satan knew the glory of God and he still rebelled. So why not this religious group.

Luke 5:26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God and were filled with fear, saying, We saw wonderful things today.

These pharisees have determined that they are going to defeat our Lord. Negative volition is so prevalent in religion. Men will sell out for a little money, a little recognition; something which catches their eyes.

How these pharisees think is exactly how God thinks. These men are in the process of rejecting Jesus Christ. They came there rejecting Him and they will leave rejecting Him.

After this incident, Jesus just went on teaching.

Mark 2:13 And he went out again beside the sea, and all the crowd was coming to him, and he began to teach them.

We go to a new incident now. Jesus will call another disciple, and his name is Matthew, but Jesus will call him Levi, the priestly tribe. They were charged with going into the Temple and doing all of the sacrifices; the pharisees were the follow-on to the pharisees; they took over their duties of the Levites. Matthew was a hated person a member of a hated class. No one likes a tax collector. The Levites collected a tax and that is what Matthew did for a living.

Lesson #0186 Luke 5:27 Matthew is called Life of Christ 11/17/11 Thurs

Maybe a day later, Jesus faces another attack. Jesus calls Levi. Matt. 9:9–13 Mark 2 Luke 5:27–32

Luke 5:27 And after these things He went out and saw a tax-collector named Levi, sitting at the tax-office. And He said to him, Follow Me.

Matthew is a τελωνης. He is a tax collector. He is not a welcome addition and he might have shocked the other disciples.

Tax Collectors in Palestine

1. Such men were hired by foreign officials.
2. They were contracted out to do a job; more or less independent contractors.
3. They were a collection agency.
4. The Romans hired the tax collectors who were Jews.
5. This system of tax collecting, hiring men to collect taxes, was a very corrupt system.
6. The tax collector had great opportunity to exercise greed and injustice. They took the opportunity to cheat.
7. They made exorbitant amounts of money at the expense of other Jews. They were licensed robbers. Not unlike the IRS.
8. They were the most hated class of Jews in Palestine. Especially by the religious hierarchy. They were in constant contact with gentiles. They were entirely unfit to associate with Jewish society. They were viewed as traitorous scum by the pharisees because of their relationship to Rome. They fell into the same categories with prostitutes, gamblers, thieves, and they were seen as leeches on society. They often skimmed money from the top of the taxes and the Romans expected them to do this. They used the system to great advantage. This was a reminder to them of the subjugation of the Jewish people to Rome.

Rome was almost like Egypt to them, as the Jews thought of it. They were under the thumb of Rome and they were reminded of this when they paid taxes. As tax collectors go, he was the worst type of tax collector. He was standing in the tax office; he was over other tax collectors. The tax office was the Roman custom house, and it was located along the highway along the sea of Galilee. It was right in the middle of all commercial traffic. Sitting in this office meant that Matthew assigned a tax to all exports and imports. He took a toll or a tax on things as they went by. He could skim a great deal of money. This was a particularly lucrative station; and he took bribes as well. He was involved in all of it.

Matthew became very wealthy. When a tax collector became wealthy, everyone knew exactly how it happened. Therefore, he was double hated. Matthew had no friends in Jewish life. He was segregated from Jewish life. There was no hope for such a man; the lost of the lost, shunned by all decent people in Palestine.

Certainly, he could have no association with God. In the religious self-righteousness of the pharisees, they determined that Matthew was far outside of Judaism, unable to forge a relationship with Matthew.

Jesus walks into the office and tells Matthew, "Follow Me." Jesus called this detested man into service. He is a man that the religious types assumed could not have a relationship with God, and yet, Jesus calls him.

There is a great deal of irony in this calling. What a picture of the grace of God. Jesus offering this man a relationship; fellowship. Calling a tax collector was a great strike against Jesus and it caused Him to be hated all the more by the religious types. They could not see the Messiah associating with a tax collector. They expect the Messiah to be thrown off the shackles of Rome, and Jesus is here associating with a tax collector.

Our Lord's gracious attitude became very apparent, particularly when contrasted to the attitude of the pharisees. "I came to seek and save those who are lost." Matthew fits this bill.

What would the pharisees do, if they saw the office of Matthew. They would make a wide berth around the office of Matthew. This would have been consorting with the enemy. There was not an ounce of grace in the pharisees.

Graciousness is the difference between Christianity and every other religion on this earth. Religion expects man to work for his salvation. Jesus Christ is the epitome of grace. Grace is magnetic to those who have no delusions about their grandeur or their worthiness.

We are worthy of the favor of God, but it is based upon what Jesus has done on our behalf.

The pharisees were very class conscious. They saw themselves as above the rest of society. Jesus did not come to foment class warfare. The pharisees came to push class warfare all of the time, against the Romans and against the great unwashed.

The pharisees and Jesus confronted one another on another time on tax matters. Pharisees hated that they had to pay taxes to Rome, so they asked Jesus about paying taxes to an oppressive government. They got irate when Jesus would not talk down tax collectors.

Render unto Cæsar the Things That Are Caesar's

1. Jesus made it clear that there was nothing wrong with paying money to the Roman government. The Jews hated this idea.
2. Jesus made it clear that the Romans had the authority in the land and that they maintained order.

3. The Romans kept the peace and administered the various functions.
4. Rome represented divine establishment. Jesus is simply giving them divine establishment viewpoint.

The pharisees tried to discredit Jesus whenever they could. Picking up a tax collector as a disciple is a good reason to take Jesus down. This gave them another grievance against Jesus, and that would be their goal to eliminate Jesus and remove Him from this earth.

Opposition to Jesus Christ always turns to blessing. We are a client nation and we are under attack. The opposition to this nation is overwhelming. We have never had a greater era of communication to tell us how much others want to destroy us.

Jesus understands His mission and understands the rejection. Jesus does not care who thinks what about Him. He has a plan for us and we continue to grow if we stay in this plan. The greatest thing that we can do for humanity is to stand for Christ.

Luke 5:27 And after these things He went out and saw a tax-collector named Levi, sitting at the tax-office. And He said to him, Follow Me.

This offer of salvation is available to anyone, include the total reprobate, Jesus Christ is the only hope for mankind. Religious leaders hold no hope for anyone.

7 centuries after Jesus came Mohammed, and he was the epitome of religion the oppression. Jesus did a lot of things that were not politically correct. This is still the devil's world. Religion is one of Satan's greatest concepts.

Lesson #0187 Lk 5:27–27 Mt 9:9 Mk 2:14 Life of Christ 11/20/11 1Sunday

Jesus Christ made it clear why He took upon Himself humanity. "I have come to seek and save those who are lost." We are all the lost. There is not one human being who is not lost. We are dead in our trespasses and sins. Adam's sin is imputed to us and we inherit his sin nature, which makes us dead. There is an insurmountable barrier between us and God. We are without hope and unable to escape God's righteous wrath against us. We cannot hope to meet His perfect standards of righteousness. None of us are better or worse in God's sight. We are all simply lost, which covers a wide range of behaviors, thinking and attitudes. It covers all mankind; and we are unable to scale the barrier which is between us and God. There is no way that we can impress God with our righteousness and goodness.

Jesus came to this earth to deliver us from our sins. He is the only One Who can remove the enmity between us and God. He knocks down the barrier. He is our substitute; He is the substitute for all mankind. He was judged by God for our sins. By this work, Jesus rendered all men savable, which is unlimited atonement. So all men can be saved by faith alone in Christ alone. Our dismal lost condition has now been solved. Not all people express faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. Many do reject Him as Savior. However, Jesus seeks us as long as we live. We are lost but we can be found. Our Lord finds many that He seeks. He finds those who recognize their need of Him. Those who appropriate the grace of God through faith. Those are the ones that He finds. Those who realize, like Isa. 64:6, that all of our righteousness deeds are like a monstrous rag in His sight. Eph. 2:8–9 Our salvation is a gift from God and not of works, lest any should boast.

The paralytic episode is an example of those who have faith in the Savior. The pharisees stand out the legalism, on their law-keeping, on their self-righteousness. They just knew that they gained the favor of God every single day with their wonderful lives of righteousness. They are poster children for Isa. 64:6.

We come to another important incident, where Matthew is called; a hated, heinous tax collector.

The healing of the paralytic shut down the attacks of the pharisees, as well as His questioning of them.

Jesus walked out to the Sea of Galilee, which was just outside of town. Jesus said to Matthew in the tax office and said two words, "Follow me."

Telonyas is a word that would gain a scowl from any Jew. They were hated in all of Palestine. These men got very wealthy off of tax collecting, because they skimmed the top of the monies that they took from their fellow Jews. They were in constant contact with gentiles and they were seen as traitorous scum and despised by everyone. They could not even involve themselves in religious Judaism.

Luke 5:27 And after these things He went out and saw a tax-collector named Levi, sitting at the tax-office. And He said to him, Follow Me.

Mark 2:14 And as he was passing by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the tax booth, and he said to him, "Follow me!" And he stood up and followed him.

Matt. 9:9 As Jesus passed by from there, he saw a man called Matthew sitting at the tax collection office. He said to him, "Follow me." He got up and followed him.

Masculine_noun: (τελώνης) [pronounced tehl-OH-nace], which means, 1) a renter or farmer of taxes; 1a) among the Romans, usually a man of equestrian rank; 2) a tax gatherer, collector of taxes or tolls, one employed by a publican or farmer general in the collection of taxes. The tax collectors were as a class, detested not only by the Jews, but by other nations also, both on account of their employment and of the harshness, greed, and deception, with which they did their job.. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #5057.

Matthew became, immediately a disciple, along with Peter, James and John. He was in total association with God in Christ. The legalistic pharisees would never allow something like this. Matthew recognized his own personal defects. He understood the gospel message of Jesus Christ. This response indicated that he had already heard the message of Jesus Christ. He knew something about who Jesus is. Matthew acknowledged that Jesus is the Messiah, and, knowing himself to be unworthy, he followed Him. This is the picture of grace and the seeker who knows that he is lost.

Matthew does not ask, "How long will we be gone? Where are we going? When can I get back?" Matthew was ready; he was ready to follow our Lord.

This caused the pharisees to become more and more enraged. They see the most hated people in all of society following our Lord. Their antagonism knows no bounds.

If this Jesus Christ is Who He claimed to be, they pharisees believed that He would have nothing to do with such filth as Matthew. The pharisees could not believe that the Messiah would associate with such men.

The pharisees wanted the Messiah to come to them and say, "You guys are swell; you are among the chosen. You have earned heaven." But Jesus was not going to say that. No one gains the favor of God through their own righteousness. This is a rejection of grace.

When you consider the grace of God, then what else is there. If there is a God, what else is there? What else makes sense? The pharisees rejects the grace of God. There is no change of mind for the pharisees. They are not willing to repent. They were not willing to change their mind about the Messiah.

Here may be the key to repent and the Messiah; they all expected the Messiah to be the Conquering Hero; and Jesus is the Suffering Servant instead. That is how they are to change their mind.

Matthew and his friends had found the answer in God's grace. They were convinced of Jesus' Person and they are right. It was not the tax collectors who are cut off from God; it is the religious leaders who are cursed by God because this is what they chose for themselves. In their self-righteousness, these pharisees were depending upon their own righteousness.

Luke 5:28 And leaving all, he rose up and followed Him.

Lesson #0188

Luke 5: Life of Christ

11/20/2011 2Sunday

There are self righteous believers all over the place in churches right now, who think that they are just great people and that God has saved them because of their good behavior and charity, etc. The grace of God is the only thing; it is the only thing that saves us. It is what the spiritual life is all about. Grace apparatus for perception is what we need to grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior.

Grace orientation is one of those things which is very rare. When we see it, it stands out. Humility is lacking. People are too often impressed with themselves.

When we look at Matthew as over against the pharisees, that you have religious leaders who are self righteous and see tax collectors as being traitors. They are slave to a gentile nation and gentile rulers; and the Jews hate this.

These pharisees are the most self righteous of the most religious people.

The Mosaic Law is the best law to appear on this earth, but for the individual, what is it? Is it the Ten Commandments? More importantly, the Law, the more that you see it, the more you realize that you cannot keep the Law in its entirety. You cannot keep all of the statutes of the United States. There are so many codes in our legal system that no one knows all that is there.

Everyone seems to dislike lawyers like tax collectors, until you need one; and then they are your best friend.

The religion of the pharisees, the self-righteousness, their desire to find favor with God, is pointless. Matthew is fully aware that he is saved by grace. Regardless of where we came from or what kind of person we are, Matthew is now identified with Christ, with the Messiah. He is no longer the hated tax collector but he is a part of God's family. He knows that he is the worst of the worst. He knows that he is not a very good guy; but he is now a member of the family of God. This evil man, this traitorous scum, now possesses the righteousness of God.

Water baptism was an acknowledge of repentance before the entire world. It represents your position in Christ. It is a witness to the change of mind in your life. There is no record of baptism for Matthew; none. The only gospel record of Matthew is, he is called to follow Jesus and he followed Him. Baptism is not a part of Matthew's conversion, nor is baptism used as a testimony to his change of mind.

Here is what Matthew did; he threw a party, a reception, a great feast, and this confirmed to all that he had believed in Jesus Christ.

Matthew, the outcast, the hated, the scum, throws a party to show his association with Jesus Christ. Rabbis did not usually associate with these people, and Jesus was known as a Rabbi, and He was presented as a close, personal friend of Matthew. This party was in the face of the self righteous pharisees.

Matthew did not throw this party because he was vindictive. He was not trying to upend the pharisees, to show them up. Matthew gave this banquet in order to show his joy in being saved by Jesus Christ. This banquet is a joyful occasion. It was the way that Matthew chose to reveal his new relationship with Jesus Christ.

Matthew that he did not earn or deserve anything. He knew this. The pharisees would agree with that much.

This meal is similar to communion. It is at the banquet of the Last Supper where Jesus introduces the Communion service. This is mandated for believers in the Church Age. Not even baptism is mandated. So, this communion has the same meaning then as now.

Matthew celebrates the Person and work of Jesus Christ. This is a very effective way of identifying with the Lord Jesus Christ. What do you think worship is? We worship in Spirit and truth. We also worship because we also appreciate what He has done. Giving is an expression of faith and because we love the Lord Jesus Christ. If you do not have that motivation, then keep your money in your pocket.

Bobby often thinks of his father. He is one of the biggest tippers. Bobby would gasp when he would see how much he tipped. People would line up to carry his bags. Waiters in restaurants would fight to have his table. There was a reason for this beyond personal generosity. He did this because he wanted to express God's grace toward others. This point was made with Bobby. He never talked about this much. Bob was gracious and never braggadocios.

Matthew, in his reception, invited many of his friends, tax collectors and prostitutes. This is a very expensive feast, one worthy of his financial condition. Bob did not have great amount of money. He used money to express grace. He looked upon what he received as a salary as a matter of grace.

No sum of money was too much for Matthew to express his appreciation for being made free in Jesus. As Matthew grew, he become more and more grace oriented. He was a very wealthy, wealthy man. He had just received from Jesus Christ the greatest thing that had ever been given to him. He wanted to celebrate that which was given to him.

Luke 5:29 And Levi made a great feast in his own house for Him. And there was a great company of tax-collectors and of others who were reclining with them.

The worst of the worst came to eat here. There were many and they were following Him. Matthew is showing his appreciation. There is a room filled with tax gatherers and prostitutes and other reprobates with Jesus, appreciating His grace.

You can get way off track the more quickly that you stray from Bible doctrine.

By attending this feast in honor of the Lord Jesus Christ, He made Himself anathema to the religious leaders. Everything that He did put Him in violation of their self righteous attitudes. Their anger and jealousy knew no bounds. Jesus came to seek and save those who are lost. They all heard the same message and they had the ability to accept or reject that message. That pharisees and the Scribes did not see it this way. They were above all of this.

Matt. 9:10 It happened as he sat in the house, behold, many tax collectors and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples.

Luke 5:27 And after these things He went out and saw a tax-collector named Levi, sitting at the tax-office. And He said to him, Follow Me.

Luke 5:28 And leaving all, he rose up and followed Him.

Many people give no thought to what their future will be; they just enjoy themselves and what they have. However, Matthew did have thoughts about the future, and He believed in the promise of God and in the Lord Jesus Christ as the Messiah.

The religious leaders renounced these sinners and tax collectors and did not see them as being a part of the eternal kingdom of God.

Matthew, once he dropped everything and followed Jesus, he wants to honor the King of Kings and he wants to celebrate his salvation. This would have been a huge spread; a huge Thanksgiving dinner. Matthew identified with Christ; not by being baptized. A party was how Matthew wanted to thank Jesus. He identified with Jesus through this party.

The meaning of this meal was not lost on the pharisees. They knew exactly what was going on. Matthew, the hated outcast, was socializing with Jesus Christ, as if he was one of our Lord's closest associates.

Luke 5:29 And Levi made a great feast in his own house for Him. And there was a great company of tax-collectors and of others who were reclining with them.

Mark 2:15 And it happened as Jesus reclined in his house, many tax-collectors and sinners also reclined with Jesus and His disciples. For there were many, and they followed Him.

The scribes and pharisees began grumbling against the disciples, and asked about them having this great banquet with tax collectors and sinners. The scribes and pharisees were excluded from this great party, and only the worst in town were there. Jesus did not accept the religious types, but He accepts the sinners.

Their character was completely exposed here. They showed up anyway; they crashed the party. They were there observing. They did not sit down to eat with them, but they watched over what was going on. Now, these religious types were never consider sitting down with the rejects and sinners and traitors.

Their hypocrisy and legalism was exposed for all to see. All that Jesus did was directed toward grace orientation.

If the pharisees had been true to their religious creed, they would not even go into this banquet; that would have defiled them. But they had to see what was going on with their own eyes.

There are hypocrites everywhere. Certain politicians would gladly pursue positions which are against the constitution for their own agenda; in their "I know what's best for you" approach. Big brother doesn't know what any of us need. They would stifle freedom of speech in order to further their agenda. They would pass legislation to stifle the teaching that homosexuality is a sin. If they can't get around it, then they will make laws to keep us from talking about it in that way. They would remove Christianity from the forum in order to institute their humanistic agenda.

A legalist will bring a lawsuit against someone in order to avenge a comment that they do not like.

The pharisees are the bullies of the Law, the doctors of the Law and the interpreters of the Law. So here they are, lining the walls of this dinner party. They go to a dinner party where they are not wanted.

The outcasts of society are now with Jesus Christ; and the self righteous of society are in opposition to Jesus Christ. They believe themselves to be deserving. They observe the proceedings.

Note, these pharisees do not go directly to the Lord; they do not oppose Him openly. So they attack Him through His disciples. We have our own self-image, and we sometimes get angry when someone goes against our image. When people see you in a certain way, you are that way in their eyes, and you ought to take stock of that. Your inflexibility may indicate that you are self righteous. The pharisees tried to control everyone so that they would not have to hear what they disagree with. Control freaks keep the heat off of themselves. Humility is willing to face the reality of who you are.

Luke 5:30 But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against His disciples, saying, Why do you eat and drink with tax-collectors and sinners?

Mark 2:16 And the scribes of the Pharisees, when they saw that He was eating with sinners and tax collectors, began to say to His disciples, "Why does He eat with tax collectors and sinners?"

Matt. 9:11 When the Pharisees saw it, they said to His disciples, "Why does your Teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?"

Lesson #0190 Pr 11:2 Nm 12:3 Lk 5:30 Life of Christ 11/27/11 2Sun

Here, these people are identified with Jesus Christ through this party. When we compare our lives to Him, it is all grace. There is a great picture of this at this banquet; and those who thought they are the best, grumbled; and they grumbled to the disciples. These pharisees were just like all those with inflated ego. There is not one ounce of humility in the souls of any of these pharisees. These are the experts in Old Testament Law. These men are the experts in this Law.

Luke 5:30 But their scribes and Pharisees grumbled against His disciples, saying, Why do you eat and drink with tax-collectors and sinners?

Num 12:3 (Now the man Moses was very meek, more than all the men on the face of the earth.)

Greatness does not engender arrogance in the soul of the believer. Moses was chosen by God to lead Israel out of bondage; and he showed for 40 years the grace of God to a people who could not stop grumbling. Moses put up with them for 40 years and represented the Lord to these people. Moses was a giant. It is his graciousness that made him great. When your ego gets the best of you, remember Moses. God promoted Moses when He was ready. Moses had it all going for him because he grew up in the court of the pharaoh. However, at some point, he became grace oriented.

The pharisees are a long ways away from Moses, the man they admired, who wrote the Mosaic Law that they tried to adhere to. The Law was a spiritual code. The Law preserved the people of Israel. Also, it was clear that no one could perfectly keep the Law. The Law reveals the standards of God and we cannot live up to those standards. No one could keep the law; not even the best. Man was unable to gain God's righteousness. The pharisees distorted the Law; they were law-keepers. Their egos were boosted because they kept the Law so perfectly. They interpreted the Law in ways that made them look righteous.

We can twist God's Word in many ways so that we look good in the distortions that we set up. The one who matures in Christ is the one who knows that the Word has nailed him to the wall.

The pharisees always took the wrong message from the Law and they used it for their own maniacal purposes. We see this in Congressmen today who try to make the Constitution fit the culture of the times.

The pharisees should have applied Prov. 11:2

Prov 11:2 When pride comes, then dishonor comes; but with the humble is wisdom.

When you have Bible doctrine in your soul, then your thinking has been renovated. That is our life; that is honor and true wisdom. Divine viewpoint is true wisdom. You cannot have wisdom if you cannot step outside of yourself. You must be objective. If your ego trumps everything, then you are blinded to wisdom and to the application of Bible doctrine to your life. You are unable to exercise common sense under all conditions; you are unable to control yourself. You react to personal attacks and you react to what might be understood as constructive criticism.

Jesus came to fulfill the Law and He did so perfectly; these pharisees are unable to keep the Law, and so they despise our Lord. This is arrogance along with a cluster of mental attitude sins.

Present active indicative of gogudzô; they grumbled, they complained; and they were seething with anger and self-righteousness.

Verb: gogguzô (γογγύζω) [pronounced going-GUD-zoh], which means, 1) to murmur, mutter, grumble, say anything against in a low tone; 1a) of the cooing of doves; 1b) of those who confer secretly together; 1c) of those who discontentedly complain. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #1111.

Luke 5:30 But their scribes and Pharisees grumbled against His disciples, saying, Why do you eat and drink with tax-collectors and sinners?

They pull the disciples aside and asks them, "How can you associate with these tax-collectors and sinners?"

these pharisees were out there finding fault while breaking the law themselves These pharisees simply do not approve of what the disciples are doing. They are grudgingly admitting that Jesus was an important figure, so what He does need to be looked at carefully. Like a Republican candidate who reaches the top of the pack.

There was tyranny stamped all over religion during the Middles Ages.

These pharisees ignored their own bad decisions and their own self-righteousness and their own failures. When you depart from Bible doctrine, everything that is false comes into view. The pharisees were the greatest liars in Palestine, because they distorted the Law to make themselves look good.

Is there any sin in eating with outcasts? Of course not. There is no such prohibition.

What did their legalism have to do with Jesus Christ, Who came to seek and save those who were lost? Their past sins were no an issue. They are new creatures in Christ. These people had responded to the grace of God. They had been justified. They had been given the righteousness of God at the moment of regeneration. It had nothing to do with their deeds. They received righteousness by imputation.

Self-righteousness never equals true righteousness in the sight of God. It is all about God.

The pharisees hated grace; they despised grace and they despised righteousness apart from keeping the Law. Self-righteousness was their salvation. They depended upon themselves for salvation. Faith in Jesus Christ for salvation? That was way too easy. Plus, this negated all of their works. And they suddenly understand that this means nothing?

All of the righteous deeds amounted to nothing. They fell short of the grace of God; they always do. They preferred their own good works; they preferred what they could do. Our system of works is not good enough for God. And those who are rewarded in heaven will stand on the Judgment Seat of Christ; they will stand upon divine good works. Those who stand on their own works will be indicted by them.

Lesson #0191 Mt9:11–13 Mk2:16 Lk5:30–32 Hos6:6 Life of Christ 11/30/11 Wed

Matthew was hated by the pharisees and the Jews; and the pharisees were observing at this point and always in the background. The pharisees hung around and they were in Matthew's banquet hall for this very large party. There were many who came to this party; Matthew was happy and excited to reveal the guest of honor, Jesus Christ.

The pharisees would never lower themselves to join in this feast. They were not invited; they were party crashers; but they were not interested in following the Lord. Only sinners and other tax collectors were invited. This just galled the pharisees, and they always saw themselves as being on the A list; and they did not like being excluded from such a party.

They were very good at being self righteous and they decided to make a scene at this party and they injected themselves into the part.

The pharisees were grumbling, and they asked our Lord's disciplines, "Why does your teacher eat and drink with sinners and tax collectors?" We have 3 similar questions asked, and either, the pharisees gathered as a group and posed these questions; or they spoke individually or in small groups, asking these questions individually.

Mark 2:16 And the scribes of the Pharisees, when they saw that He was eating with sinners and tax collectors, began to say to His disciples, "Why does He eat with tax collectors and sinners?"

Matt. 9:11 When the Pharisees saw it, they said to his disciples, "Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?"

Luke 5:30 But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against His disciples, saying, Why do you eat and drink with tax-collectors and sinners?

Jesus steps in and deals with this question; and He does it in front of the entire assembly at this feast. They needed to see the difference between the grace of God and the pharisee's legalism. This would be obvious to all to see. These are new followers of Christ, and they were to learn grace orientation from what Jesus said.

Luke 5:31 And Jesus answered and said to them, Those who are sound do not need a physician, but those who are sick.

The Analogy of the Physician

1. In this analogy, the ones who are sick are the sinners and the tax collectors.
2. Those who are well were the ones who were already righteous; the pharisees, to whom Jesus was speaking.
3. The pharisees did not see themselves as sick.
4. Jesus played to this notion of themselves and their notion of righteousness. He called the pharisees the well ones; although they were sinners.
5. If they are well, they do not need a physician.

6. This analogy that Jesus uses fits exactly what the self righteous bigots thought of themselves. They thought far more highly of themselves than they should have. What they saw as a problem was the tax gatherers and sinners that they observed at a party with Jesus.
7. Why would they, the pharisees, need anyone to bring salvation to them?
8. All men are sinners, including these pharisees.
9. Our Lord in playing on the self-righteousness of the pharisees, and in this, He was trapping them in their own high opinion of themselves. They just glowed when Jesus recognized them as healthy. They believed that they were the healthiest of the healthy. The pharisees believed that they were the best of the best and that their keeping of the law made them righteous and acceptable to God. That is why this analogy was so good.
10. In calling the pharisees healthy, Jesus was bring ironic. They were as sick as anyone at this banquet hall. To the pharisees, all of these sinners and tax collectors were horrendously sinful.
11. Since they thought of themselves as healthy, they did not need a physician. Healthy people do not need a physician.
12. They were not seeking the Physician; they had rejected Him. That is what Jesus was playing on. Jesus was the spiritual Physician. He can cure those who are sick; but not those who are healthy. The pharisees don't believe themselves to be ill. Those who came to Him knew that they were lost and in need of grace.
13. The tax collectors and sinners had accepted Jesus as their Physician. They knew that they were sick and that they needed His grace and they received it from Him.
14. Eating with this people is a wonderful picture of fellowship; Jesus had a relationship with them; He had no relationship with the pharisees.

Luke 5:32 I did not come to call the righteous to repentance, but sinners.

Matt. 9:12 When Jesus heard it, he said to them, "Those who are healthy have no need for a physician, but those who are sick do.

Luke 19:10 "The Son of Man has come to seek and save those who are lost."

Son of Man has come to seek and save those who are lost

1. Positive volition means that someone is seeking. He recognizes that he is in need of something beyond himself. He knows that he is lost and only God's grace can save him.
2. These are the one's that Jesus seeks and finds.
3. A perfect example of Luke 19:10 are these people in Matthew's dining room. They have appropriated the grace of God. They had no way to fellowship with God.

Jesus now states is straight out, so that the pharisees and, more importantly, those eating with Him, know what Jesus is saying. Jesus gives the pharisees homework. "You need to learn what this means: I desire mercy and not sacrifice; for I have come not to call the righteous, but sinners to a change of mind.” Jesus is making a point here and the pharisees should understand what He is saying. They need to go out and learn something. Part of their arrogance was, they thought that they understood everything about theology. They were PhD’s of Theology. They did not like Jesus telling them that they were ignorant. The pharisees were the arrogant ones of that day.

The Arrogance of the Pharisees

1. The arrogant person is hypersensitive about their arrogant view of themselves. If you cross the arrogance of someone with such an elevated view of themselves, they are hypersensitive, combative and defensive and miserable to be around.
2. They are insecure when challenged when they are shown up. A professional athlete has all kinds of trouble when they are shown up. They are insecure. How can you be insecure when you know who you are in God’s plan. You are secure in the spiritual life.
3. The arrogant person becomes inordinately competitive and obnoxious. They are always trying to outdo you.
4. The arrogant person blames others for their own shortcomings; but they do not see their own. They do not see themselves as being wrong. They cannot relate to that. They become insecure; they blame others; they are obnoxious.
5. Jesus is simply telling them where to go in the Old Testament to confirm what He is teaching. He is quoting Scripture to them.

Matt. 9:13 But you go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy, and not sacrifice,' for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."

Hosea 6:6 For I [this is the Lord Jesus Christ] desired grace [unfailing love], and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

The pharisees thought that they knew what this verse meant; but Jesus is going to explain it to them. What Jesus desires is directed toward them. Jesus uses our Lord’s message direct toward them. He takes this meaning and applies it directly to the pharisees.

What is his compassion that God desires? Sacrifices directed by the Mosaic Law is legalism and these sacrifices have no meaning for the pharisees. This is a ritual without reality for them.

The Meaning of Hosea 6:6

1. The word here is chesed, which means grace, unfailing love.
2. This is not God’s unfailing love for us.
3. The context here is man and his attitude toward God and toward other men.
4. The context of this passage is, the Jews had failed in the application of the Law; they failed to love God totally; they were just legalists going through a ritual. An unfailing love toward Him. The Law went one step further. It included loving their fellow man with an unfailing, impersonal love.

Joshua 22:5 “Only, be very much on guard to do the commands and the Law which Moses the servant of Jehovah commanded you, to love Jehovah your God, and to walk in all His ways, and to keep His commandments, and to cleave to Him, and to serve Him with all your heart and with all your soul.” Be careful to observe this Law. Do the commands of the Law. This is the loyalty that we find. This is the first aspect of unending love of man toward God. This is what this means. Their love was to be unending toward God in just the way that God described. These pharisees were staring into the face of the God-man. They believed that they were following the Mosaic Law to the letter. They thought that they were never out of line when it came to the Law. But what they wanted to do was to kill Him. Their salvation was right in front of them. Self-righteousness is the worst of the worst evil. Our Lord had already shown them that He was God; He healed the paralytic and then forgave his sins. This should have been enough for anyone to believe.

Mark 12:31 And the second is like this, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." There is not another commandment greater than these.

These 2 commands sum up the concept of chesed. That is exactly what is being required. The pharisees were incapable of either one of these. The message is clear; time after time.

Lesson #0192

Lk 5: Life of Christ

12/1/2011 Thurs

Jesus is in a face off with the pharisees. We do not have knowledge of how many times Jesus had such face off's. Matthew was called as a disciple and he holds a great celebration. This party is centered around Jesus but the pharisees are amazed that Jesus is willing to eat with these people. Jesus and His disciples had some sort of status, and the pharisees did not like that they were eating with sinners and tax collectors.

Luke 5:30 But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against His disciples, saying, Why do you [and your Teacher] eat and drink with tax-collectors and sinners?

A good Jew would never eat with such people. These Jews had changed their minds about Jesus Christ as the Messiah and Savior. They had recognized Who He was and they had appropriated the grace of God. They were able to do this without feeling sorry for even a moment for their past deeds. They had a relationship with the Messiah. They were in the same room with the God-man. They were associates with Him, and they were celebrating this. Eating with them indicates fellowship.

With His new followers, Jesus had that type of relationship with them. In the pharisee view, these should never have been at table with them.

Here are these pharisees asking Jesus, “Why are you eating with these lowlives?” And Jesus told them, “Those who are well do not need a physician, but those who are sick [need a physician].” Those people who were there had been healed and forgiven for their sins. They were the ones who were sick. The pharisees did not see themselves as being sick, so Jesus treated them as being well. They did not realize that they needed a Savior.

These pharisees compared themselves favorably to sinners who believed that they needed a Savior. These pharisees rejected Jesus and saw themselves as not being in need. They had no relationship and no fellowship.

Luke 5:31 And Jesus answered and said to them, Those who are well do not need a physician, but those who are sick.

Luke 5:32 I did not come to call the righteous to repentance, but sinners.

Jesus now comes straight at them. He gives them a homework assignment. Figure out what this means. Jesus came to call sinners to a change of mind. These pharisees had no reason to change their minds, in their own thinking. They saw no need to depend upon God's grace.

Matt. 9:13 But you go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy, and not sacrifice,' for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."

Jesus quotes the first half of Hosea 6:6. The pharisees knew this passage and Hosea was telling Israel that they had gone completely off the rails. The pharisees needed to hear this as well. Now the Lord would direct this Old Testament passage at them. They were about to have the Messiah apply Hosea 6:6 to them.

This is not about God's unfailing love but the attitude of His people. This is all about man and the attitude that they ought to have. Who claimed to keep the Law completely. Who claimed that their righteousness is based upon how well that they keep the Law? That would be the pharisees.

Hosea 6:6 For I [this is the Lord Jesus Christ] desired grace [compassion, unfailing love], and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

Mark 12:30 and you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul" and with all your mind, "and with all your strength." This is the first commandment. Deut. 6:4-5

How do you have personal love for God? It comes by growing in grace and knowledge. Unfailing love is not something that you decide to have and then you have it. There is no love at first sight. There is attraction at first sight.

Love and people is a very bumpy road. "There's the bump" something that you don't like very much. But with God, there are no bumps in the road. Everything about God is worthy of love. What love means is personal love towards God and you develop love by knowing Him.

The second commandment is loving your neighbor as yourself. This is everyone in your periphery.

Mark 12:31 And the second is like this, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." There is not another commandment greater than these. Lev. 19:18

The Pharisees and Their Lack of Compassion

1. The pharisees failed on two counts. They did not love God and they did not love their neighbor.
2. What the pharisees loved were the rituals of the Law, here called sacrifices. Our Lord desired compassion.
3. The pharisees loved their own righteousness. They did not care for their neighbors. The people at the party were their neighbors and they did not like them very much. They were law-keepers; they were depending upon the Law for their righteousness. It takes gall to not be able to see how pathetic you are when Jesus Himself points it out.
4. Legalists are incapable of such love. That was the whole point that our Lord was making.
5. The law keeping and self righteous pharisees failed on the two most important mandates of the Law. Total failures.

Hosea 6:6 For I [this is the Lord Jesus Christ] desired grace [compassion, unfailing love], and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

Hosea is being specific here. Obligatory burnt offerings required by the Law meant nothing apart from the ritual.

What Is the Reality Behind the Burnt Offerings

1. The burnt offering is a worship offering.
2. It pictures the atonement made for the person making the offering.
3. The one making the atonement is Jesus Christ represented by the offering. Every time a burn offering was brought, it represented what Jesus would do on the cross.
4. The offering also signified dedication of one's life to God. Matthew had just dedicated himself to God.
5. The burnt offering recognizes the grace of God and all that He provides.

This is how the burnt offerings fit perfectly into the context of sacrifices.

How Do They Fit?

1. The pharisees are not interested in the atonement that Jesus offered them.
2. Nor are they dedicated to God in the sacrifices. When they offered the burnt offering, it had no meaning.
3. The meaning of the atonement is lost in their rituals.

4. They are dedicated to themselves and to their own self-righteousness. The ritual has no meaning. They just do it because of their office.

Spiritual growth leads to the unflinching love required by the Law. Should the pharisees not understand it. They pharisees did these offerings constantly; daily. They knew what they were thinking and it had nothing to do with the sacrifices themselves. They only thought of their own self-importance.

The blood sacrifices the burnt offerings; these all picture the Lord Jesus Christ. They are unbelievers who have not accepted the reality of the atonement of their sins. They are unable to grow spiritually because their knowledge is centered in a ritual. The contrast is striking.

The tax collectors and sinners understand the atonement. They understand that they are saved in Jesus. Jesus is the meaning of these sacrifices and burnt offerings.

“No, I like my works; I like feeling good about myself. I like these offerings expressing my own righteousness.” This was the thinking of the pharisees. These people are a picture into the world of legalism.

Here Is the Problem with the Pharisees and the Law.

1. This reveals the entire problem with the pharisees and their modus operandi.
2. Legalism, keeping the law, versus grace. Jesus just pointed out that these pharisees have not kept the two greatest laws. All of the sinners in this banquet hall had more righteousness than the self-righteous pharisees.
3. Jesus shoves before their eyes the marked difference between the tax collectors, whom they hate, and themselves.
4. The pharisees see themselves as above everyone. In reality, they are beneath everyone. Especially the tax collectors in this case.
5. Because of this, in hating the sinners, they are violating the Law, upon which they depend for their own salvation.
6. Jesus Christ reveals who He prefers dinner with the tax collectors. It is only through accepting God's grace through Christ.

The entire ritual system of Israel was to point toward the grace of God. All that was written in the spiritual code pointed to the grace of God. Grace was found in the tax collectors and sinners; and not found in the pharisees. They simply tried to adhere to the law for empty ritual.

Our Lord is pointing out, what is more important than ritual or the reality behind the ritual. That is so much of what Christianity is about today, or what passes for Christianity. Atonement but without Christ.

They don't know what these rituals mean, especially when the rituals are held in Latin. But it reads, "I am pleased with knowledge of God rather than ritual without reality."

God desires compassion; unending love.

Lesson #0193 Lk 5:30–31 Mt 9:13 Hos6:6 Life of Christ 12/4/2011 1Sun

Angels; Christmas song, I think with glory repeated many times. Missing from our songbooks.

The choice between our Lord Jesus Christ and the pharisees could not be more stark. These contrasts are often played out before an audience, either large or small, so that those in observance could understand grace versus legalism. They could see clearly the grace of God versus the empty ritual of the pharisees. Jesus never backed down; He never disengaged. He took every moment that He could to give them every chance to see the fallacy of their religiosity. Continually, He presented Himself as the Messiah. This was a very gracious action in the face of unmitigated hostility. God's grace is most apparent in the face of hostility. At the times that we need it most, it will be the most apparent. The grace of God is available to us in the most difficult periods of our lives.

After Matthew dropped everything to follow Jesus, he held a party for Jesus. The pharisees were condescending to everyone.

The pharisees murmured and then asked the disciples about the company that they and Jesus were keeping.

Luke 5:30 But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against His disciples, saying, Why do you eat and drink with tax-collectors and sinners?

Jesus responds with an analogy. Obviously, a physician is required for people who are sick; but you don't go to a physician when you are well.

In this analogy, the tax gatherers and the sinners needed the physician; and they found One, the Lord Jesus Christ. Those who were ill and sinners were now well because of the Physician they were with. Christ, the spiritual Physician, could cure the spiritual needs of these people. They recognized that they needed a physician. They expressed faith alone in Christ alone for salvation. That was their only way of getting well.

Their status as outcasts did not commend them to God at all. That salvation is a gift of God. The tax gatherers understood this very well. Those who were well, in the analogy, were the pharisees. They did not see themselves as sick. They did not see themselves as needing a physician. They saw no reason to seek a spiritual Physician. Their wellness was based upon self-righteousness. The pharisees saw themselves as righteous. They sought no physician. This was tantamount to rejecting the Lord Jesus Christ. They were depending upon their own religious works for access to God.

The tax gatherers and sinners were now in union with Christ. Jesus would show the pharisees that they were just as much in need as the sinners at the banquet.

Luke 5:31 And Jesus answered and said to them, Those who are sound do not need a physician, but those who are sick.

Jesus applied this quote to Himself. He looks at the pharisees and says, "I desire compassion and not sacrifice." Slightly different meanings; one is applied to Israel and one to the pharisees. The pharisees have nothing to recommend themselves to God; not their works and not their self-righteousness.

Matt. 9:13 But you go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy [or, compassion], and not sacrifice,' for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."

For what Jesus delights in is chesed. This is grace, compassion, unfailing love. This is connected to two mandates of the Law.

The pharisees repeatedly violated two commands of the law, related to unfailing love. They did not love the Lord their God with all their mind and all their strength; nor did they love their neighbor as they loved themselves. The pharisees were not even close to fulfilling the Law in these two areas. The pharisees hated those people in that banquet hall; they looked down on them; they were offended by them. There was no grace in their thinking; there was no unfailing love.

Neuter_noun: eleos (ἐλεος) [pronounced], which means, 1) mercy: kindness or good will towards the miserable and the afflicted, joined with a desire to help them; 1a) of men towards men: to exercise the virtue of mercy, show one's self merciful; 1b) of God towards men: in general providence; the mercy and clemency of God in providing and offering to men salvation by Christ; 1c) the mercy of Christ, whereby at his return to judgment he will bless true Christians with eternal life. Thayer Definition only. Strong's #1656.

Legalists have such a difficult time with everything; all of the good things that they have done is worthless. Self righteous people are never gracious; they show no graciousness toward others. Self righteous people are the center of their own universe; it is always about them. Everything comes back to them and their feelings and what they think.

Graciousness and humility always go together. The pharisees are self-centered; they are without graciousness. This indicts the entire Jewish religion. It is a phoney false evil religion. It is false and empty. These religious Jews had no thought to the outcasts, the needy, etc. A lot of charity is all about elevating oneself. People love to make others know that they are charitable. Their attitude has no resemblance to the compassion and unfailing love that is found in a maturing believer. On the outside, there may seem to be a lot of charity and compassion; but inside, there is no real compassion.

Compassion for the needy is a correct thing; but today, it is such subterfuge. It is used for the self-righteousness of others. It is demonstrated in the best way of big government giving people something for nothing. That is the Marxist, socialist line. In the past 50 years, in the United States, where that misguided compassion has occurred, we can see where that leads. Generations of dependency on government. You give them or allow them to come out of it themselves. To make generations dependent upon government, it has destroyed their souls. Freedom and opportunity is what this country offers; and it offers it in great abundance than for any other country in human history. There are plenty of people in need; but it never gets any better than it is in this country. Freedom and self-reliance, not the welfare state. However, many would have you believe that the dream of this country is equal resources distributed to all.

If you are given something that you did not earn, it does not build your own self-esteem; it destroys it. The government welfare system is an endless trap that produces a endless cycle of helplessness and dependence and destroys the economy. Witness our current economic situation. We have more poor and more dependents than ever before. We have more redistribution of wealth than ever before. There is no human solution.

This does not mean that a Christian turns a blind eye to the needy and the poverty stricken. We need to retain graciousness and unfailing love; this is a mandate of the Christian life. That is a personal charity based upon grace orientation.

A welfare state administering the government dole is rife with corruption; and this keeps the people under the thumb of government; that is slavery; both to those being given things and those who have their wealth taken from them. Keep them dependent and keep them voting for those who make them dependent.

Hosea 6:6 For I [this is the Lord Jesus Christ] desired grace [compassion, unfailing love], and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

Lesson #0194 Lk 5Mt 9:13 Mk 8:36–37 Life of Christ 12/4/2011 2Sunday

We are to recognize divine establishment principles for humanity, which is a part of our unfailing love for all mankind. The poor, you will have with you always. Divine establishment and individual freedom provides the greatest chance for the greatest number to escape poverty. Our Lord Jesus Christ gave us the truth. The system that we live under that adheres to divine establishment provides the greatest chance for most people to get out of poverty. It also allows the greatest chance for the teaching of the Word of God and gospel. Poverty comes from the cosmic system and the bad choices of individuals. As long as they have the opportunity to come out of it, they have the greatest opportunity in this country to do this. However, it is the gospel which allows us to escape the tyranny of the sin nature, which is the greatest tyranny of all.

The pharisees have the whole system of welfare, but they completely lacked compassion and grace orientation, and this is obvious when they dealt with those they looked down upon; the tax collectors and sinners. Those outside of their self righteous circle. People in high places think in this way. They love the power and it is all about them being in the place of power. They don't want people breaking out of poverty; they don't want the end of racism. They need these people to keep them in power.

No one could meet the legalistic standards of the pharisees except themselves. This breeds arrogance; so they had no grace. They had no chesed; they had no eleos. Arrogance is people seeing themselves as being superior to others.

The pharisees were in power; they ran Palestine. Within the Jewish society, they ran the show. Think of them as those on the board of the neighborhood association. Where arrogance is, there is no compassion; there is no unfailing love. They are very arrogant about their viewpoints. They love the welfare system who keeps the downtrodden. It enslaves them to the government.

The pharisees wanted control. People in government want control and power. The pharisees kept the Law and, in doing so, excluded anyone from hope who did not keep their self righteous standards. The pharisees were striving to reach God. They controlled those who desired to reach God. The pharisees would never admit that they lacked righteousness. All of our righteousnesses are like a filthy garment. Those who are not self righteous all of us wither like a leaf. There was no grace at all in the souls of the pharisees. The tail wagged the dog. Their religion was centered in empty ceremonies which missed the grace of God. The sacrifices were shadows that pointed to Christ and to grace; but to the pharisees, it was the sacrifices were rituals that they went through. Many know of these rituals and they have no meaning apart from the fact that you are sitting their watching it. These rituals had no meaning in their souls; there was no connection between the sacrifice and what God thought.

People even depend upon the rituals that they do as the confirmation, evidence or sufficiency of their salvation. What is important, what are you sitting here? This is so that your mind is renovated. How do attitudes change when you watch a meaningless event.

The churches today often leave their people in a poverty of soul. They do not know what is right or what is wrong. They are disillusioned. But this is so far from being all that there is.

In contradiction to the pharisees distortion, the Lord explains the truth.

Matt. 9:13 But you go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy [or, compassion], and not sacrifice,' for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.'

What Jesus looks for is grace or compassion in the souls of those He has called. Self-righteousness never makes it. These righteous men do not want to change their mind about anything. They like what they are. They like their affluence and influence. They did not want to change their minds about anything; they did not need to repent. Especially about their own self-righteousness. They had the superiority of their station and of their own righteousness. They are earning the favor of God by means of what they do. And they see themselves as leading their people down the path of righteousness. They don't have their eyes on the light of eternity; their religious power on this earth trumps everything.

They are like so many people who opt for the material things of life rather than the spiritual things. They are dazzled by the things of this world. They see nothing beyond what they accomplish. How successful they are, how much approbation they can get. Some live for pleasure. That is the emptiness of the cosmic system. That is all it can offer. An empty manner of life. The reality is what our Lord said in Mark 8:36–37

Mark 8:36–37 For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

Live your life in the light of eternity. You live 100 years at the most; and then there is eternity. What things did you get which are worth the value of your soul? We live in this world and face the circumstances of this world. We are given the chance to glorify God and to serve Him.

You do not confess your sins in order to sin some more. This allows you to have the filling of the Spirit and to live the spiritual life. That is the most wonderful life.

Matt. 9:13 But you go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy [or, compassion], and not sacrifice,' for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."

Jesus is not seeking these people. They don't think they need grace. They see themselves as righteous. They see themselves as the center of the universe. The self righteous reject the gospel because they don't think that they need the grace of God. Jesus has come to those who think they have no standing with God.

What saves you from infinity in the Lake of Fire is faith in Jesus Christ. Those in the banquet hall have recognized Him for Who He is and they have believed in Him. The pharisees are there and Jesus is there. And those there can judge between them. The pharisees believe that they are well and the best; and they are sickly and the worst. The believers there understood that they were sick and needed a physician.

Some of the worst attacks that we will ever face are from legalistic believers. The cosmic system and the believers who reside in the cosmic system.

John the Baptizer's disciples now get in on the act. They were steeped in ritual, which they now misunderstood, and it moved into another area; fasting. They are at a feast in honor of Jesus, and they are fasting. They are more interested in fasting than in feasting; and more interested in fasting than in what Jesus is teaching.

This feast is going on at a time when all of the ritual guys, the disciples of John the Baptizer, and they are fasting. They do not know what they are doing. They do not have a clue about grace. This will be a lesson about those who are grace oriented and those who are legalists.

Next section is Mark 2:18–22

Lesson #0195 Luke 5:33–34 Mark 2:18–19 Life of Christ 12/7/2011 Wed
Fasting; Wedding Feast Analogy

Tim Tebow has been in the news as of late and he was drafted as a quarterback for the Denver Broncos. The sports world is just abuzz about this guy; and normally a rookie quarterback does not get much ink. The press gives him so much attention and they dislike him so much. The sports press hates to hear the name of Jesus Christ. Many are atheists or do not like Christianity. Tebow takes every opportunity to mention the name of Jesus Christ at each opportunity. Christ comes first in my life, then my family and then my teammates. It is no accident that he is getting so much attention. Sometimes, it only takes one person to set a standard. People recognize him and they recognize the flak that he gets. So Bobby is following him.

Matthew the tax collector has thrown a meal and the disciples are there; and they are all put on the spot. And they are unable to answer why they are eating with all of these sinners and tax collectors.

The next problem came from John's disciples, who were also present. There were a great many lessons taught there. The followers of John the Baptizer remained followers of him and they were totally confused about a ritualistic issue. They had failed to heed John's announcement, that the Kingdom of God had come and he announced that the Messiah was here.

Some of the disciples had not gotten the message. Mark 2:18–22 Matt. 9:14–17 Luke 5

Fasting was a very common practices and it was ripe for distortion. John's disciples are muddled about some doctrines; although they are believers. They are self righteous believers here; self righteous about fasting.

John's disciples were questioning the activity of the disciples and of Jesus Himself. So, they revealed some legalism. John did not teach them this. John was good on grace, but these guys had gotten confused. They were mixed up with the pharisees. They were now confused about other rituals as well.

John's disciples approach Jesus and ask why they are fasting; but Jesus' disciples do not? The feast of Matthew was probably held on a day designated for fasting. The pharisees were upset about the guests; and they were upset about the day on which it was held. It was a perfect time for a lesson. God's timing is always perfect. This question about fasting is a window to that timing.

People get antsy about the circumstances and want to get out of the plane and push it to get an extra mph out of it. We go through all sorts of nut rolls? God's timing is perfect and solutions occur at the right time.

Fasting was a solemn ritual for the pharisees. They never missed a fasting day. There was no deviation in their fasting and they imposed their standards on others. It was first eating with sinners and tax collectors and then feasting when others are fasting. There is nothing for fasting as long as it involves the true Biblical perspective. The pharisees and John's disciples had no clue about this.

The idea was, the pharisees were attempting to impress God with their abstaining from these things. They were suffering for God. What is suffering for? What is the correct view?

Fasting

1. Fasting was never designed to persuade God of a person's piety and devotion. It came to be that.
2. That is man's viewpoint. That coincides with empty ritual.
3. Fasting focuses on time and priorities.
4. Eating represents using time for a legitimate function in life; nourishing oneself.
5. Fasting puts aside this legitimate function in order to make time for concentration and meditation on the Word of God and prayer. Jesus before the temptation prayed and fasted for 40 days.
6. Fasting is setting time aside for the most important function in life. It is more important than eating...which is necessary for our survival.
7. This is a function over and above necessities of life.
8. True fasting focused on the priorities of life and to focus instead on the real priorities of life. It is not about missing a meal or impressing God. The only priority was to elevate themselves.

This can be a good activity; so, what then is the problem? This challenged Jesus Christ about the legitimacy of an activity while He was participating in that activity. How could anyone think to do that? John's disciples were confused and on very shaky ground. We question why there are certain things in Scripture and why we should be doing them. What is the basis for their agitation? It is about their background.

John the Baptizer got to connect baptism with regeneration. Fasting with prayer; it was a time to concentrate on spiritual priorities. John did a lot of fasting and prayer in the wilderness. John's disciples knew about this. They had been baptized and they had seen him fast and pray, so they did the same things. However, they did not quite get the meaning, so they fell right into line with legalism.

This fasting connected John's disciples with the pharisees. And they wanted to know why Jesus' disciples were not fasting like they were. They were probably questioned by the pharisees in this, so they took the question to the disciples. They fell into this pharisee trap. They were caught up in religious legalism and they are believers.

Notice, there is the problem with association; they are associating with religious types; the pharisees, who were manipulating them.

Jesus understood the Old Testament rituals. They all pointed to God's grace and to the Lord Jesus Christ. They were all asking Him why He wasn't fulfilling a ritual. They were criticizing this celebration. They should have known that Jesus is the Messiah. Why fast when the Messiah is right there in front of them?

Fasting also indicates an understanding that, that which is spiritual is important; more so than physical needs or desires.

Had the disciples of John asked for just a minute, they would have recalled that John himself calling the pharisees a nest of vipers. They should have never followed the pharisee line of legalism. They should have already been following the Lord Jesus Christ.

Mark 2:18 And John's disciples and the Pharisees were fasting, and they came and said to him, "Why do the disciples of John and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but Your disciples do not fast?"

The Bridegroom is Jesus Christ. The friends of the bridegroom are the disciples.

The Wedding Feast Analogy

1. Jesus calls to their mind an imaginary wedding feast and in any wedding feast, a celebration is appropriate. What do you do at a wedding feast? You have a good time; you celebrate.
2. If this is analogous to a wedding feast; how can this be matched up with fasting?
3. How could their be solemnity? This is a celebration of the wedding.

There are some weddings where there ought to be mourning. But that is not the right attitude for the guests. It is not a time for mourning, nor is it a time for second thoughts. Courtship takes time, and you need about 2 years to get to know a person. You have to get to understand their character. Pure emotion is the guarantee of a bad decision.

A Quick Application

1. The Lord Jesus Christ was right there with them at a wedding type feast. He is the Bridegroom; He is there.
2. How could you expect a fast at a reception like this?
3. The Bridegroom is present in all of His glory.
4. The attendances are with Him and celebrating with Him.
5. The analogy means that the disciples should not be fasting but feasting.

Fasting is for concentration on the Lord Jesus Christ when He is not there. Why would you fast when He is right there?

Mark 2:19 And Jesus said to them, "The bridegroom's attendants are not able to fast while the bridegroom is with them, are they? As long a time as they have the bridegroom with them, they are not able to fast.

Luke 5:33 And they said to Him, Why do John's disciples fast often and make prayers, and also the disciples of the Pharisees, but yours eat and drink?

Luke 5:34 But He said to them, Can you make the sons of the bride-chamber [room where the wedding is held; or the room of the wedding bed] fast while the bridegroom is with them?

Lesson #0196 Lk5:33–35 Mt9:14 Mk2:19 Life of Christ 12/11/11 1Sunday

One hymn that comes to Bobby's mind is 'Tis the Season to be Jolly. For most people, this is a season for enjoyment, for partying, for whatever. It is appropriate that we think about this. Yet, our Lord is opposed by those who do not want to be jolly. Our context is fasting versus feasting.

Matt. 9:14 Mark 2:18 Luke 5:33:34

The disciples of John and the pharisees are all fasting because this is a day of fast as defined by their religion. Jesus answers this with an analogy.

Matt. 9:14 Then the disciples of John approached him, saying, "Why do we and the Pharisees fast often, but your disciples do not fast?"

Mark 2:18 And John's disciples and the Pharisees were fasting, and they came and said to him, "Why do the disciples of John and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but your disciples do not fast?"

Luke 5:33 And they said to Him, Why do John's disciples fast often and make prayers, and also the disciples of the Pharisees, but yours eat and drink?

Luke 5:34 But He said to them, Can you make the sons of the bride-chamber [room where the wedding is held; or the room of the wedding bed] fast while the bridegroom is with them?

David answers with an analogy. Imagine attendants celebrating with the bridegroom. The bridegroom was present on this earth with them. So it would be improper to fast during a time of celebration when the Messiah is there with them.

Luke 5:35 But the days will come when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then they shall fast in those days.

The correct response is to eat and drink; and this takes precedence over the mournful fasting of the pharisees. Why perform a fasting that has no meaning other than self-promotion when the Bridegroom was there among them? Jesus said, "There will be an appropriate time for fasting."

Not only was this ritual without meaning, but it was a perversion of Bible doctrine. They simply sought to gain the favor of God. This happens all over the world. Churches with a lot of ritual; and people who show up to church and think that impresses God. However, there was a hypocritical pretense of piety. They were not righteous but they certainly wanted to appear righteous to those around them.

They believed that they were approximating the suffering of Christ on the cross, as if that would gain the favor of God? A painful experience is not something which makes a person closer to God nor does it impress God. Only Jesus Christ could die for our sins. They could save a lot of pain if they simply accepted God's grace. That is the joyful side of it.

These people questioning the disciples wanted to be unhappy in order to make a point.

What is the point of being upset? We should be happy, relaxed and content. They should have rejoiced for grace rather than beaten themselves to a bloody mess. They should have rejoiced in salvation. They chose a brutal ritual with exactly the wrong meaning. An extreme attempt at piety, which the pharisees were famous for.

Hypocritical pharisees with John's disciples just falling along after them. There is nothing spiritually redeeming in what these groups are doing. They did not understand that the true spiritual life is not one of mourning and unhappiness. It is a life of growth in relationship to Christ. Spirituality is the status of the filling of the Holy Spirit. It is metabolized doctrine. No one is living the Christian way of life in anguish and guilt. Examine yourselves.

Bobby figures that there are some in the congregation who wander in who are miserable. Christmas gifts are a picture of grace. But some people can only think about themselves.

Jesus Christ is the Pioneer of the joyful, spiritual life. There was never a time when He was not content and relaxed. No one would face what Jesus faced. No constant pressure from Satan; not one person facing the roadblocks; experiencing things which are unimaginable.

Col. 1:27b ...Christ in you, the confidence of glory,...

We never lose His presence; He is every bit as present with us as He was in the 1st Advent. We realize Christ in us when we think with His mind. When we think with His mind, then we are, for all intents and purposes, with Him. Constant peace, comfort and relaxation regardless of the circumstances. Christ in us is the promise of the eternal relationship with Jesus Christ. We live on this miserable planet for 60 or 70 years and then spend eternity with Jesus Christ. What is there to be upset about?

Jesus legitimately offered the Millennial Kingdom as had been promised by the prophets. When He spoke to nation Israel, He was calling upon them to celebrate because their Lord was there. Matthew threw this party and there are the pharisees fasting; legalism fasts. Everything that Jesus has done is to be celebrated.

That is what Christmas is about; the feast of the Presence of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Luke 5:35 But the days will come when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then they shall fast in those days.

We will study about fasting and when it is done right.

Lesson #0197 Lk 5:35 Jn 14:2–4 Life of Christ 12/11/2011 2Sunday

We are in the midst of a great party. Matthew had believed in Jesus Christ. So, despite his checkered past, he was made righteous. Our Lord's righteousness is imputed to us. Therefore, the disciples were feasting and partying because Jesus Christ was present. This was a Christmas party, for all intents and purposes. And yet, at every party, there is someone who is unhappy. You can work the room and you will eventually come across someone who is unhappy. The pharisees were never happy around Jesus Christ because He was a threat to their power and influence.

The pharisees were involved in a ritual which had no spiritual meaning whatsoever. Fasting would be set aside the normal functions of life in order to enjoy spiritual pleasures. It was a good thing when done for the right reasons. The irony was unmistakable. You fast to concentrate on the Lord Jesus Christ. It was not time to fast because He was there, in their presence. There would be a time when fasting would be entirely appropriate.

Luke 5:35 But the days will come when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then they shall fast in those days.

What Jesus Said in Luke 3:35

1. This is the first time that Jesus spoke of going away.
2. These words were an analogy to the Lord Jesus Christ no longer being bodily present on this earth.
3. This was something very new that had never been mentioned before. The coming kingdom was not realized, is the implication of what Jesus said.
4. These words indicate His death, burial and resurrection. This is the first hint; and his disciples never got this until his crucifixion and, for some, not until he was resurrected.
5. He would depart and be at the right hand of the Father.
6. The analogy: at the end of the celebration, the bridegroom departs. There is a big party, and, at some point, the bridegroom is gone.
7. The bridegroom enters into a new phase of life with the bride. The bride is later identified as the Church.
8. At the return of Christ to heaven, that new phase begins; the church. That is when the royal family is formed for a later time. The disciples would still be on earth at that time, so they disciples would fast when He is gone. The fasting would be, as it should be, a time to focus on Him and what His departure meant. What is the plan? Concentrate on the Lord after His ascension. There would be 10 days for the disciples to think about and to contemplate what they had learned.

Col. 1:27 they had the indwelling of Jesus Christ and the indwelling and filling of the Holy Spirit, just as we have. We have so much more today than the disciples had at this feast. While fasting, they were to recognize what was coming. It was time for them to think about it. There was a time for fasting at His departure. After His Own life was over, then they would die and be in His Presence forever.

This is what they are to think about while fasting and waiting:

John 14:2–4 “In my Father’s house there are many dwelling places; but if it were not so, I would have told you, because I am going away to prepare a place for you. And if [1st class condition] I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you to Myself, so that where I am, you may be also. And you know the way where I am going.”

Jesus spoke that to the disciples but He also spoke this to us as well. These are His words of departure into the heavens. It was His promise of a future return.

In the meantime, the disciples had a mission that they would complete and they would be waiting Him.

At the 2nd advent, Jesus lands His feet on the ground; however, in the rapture, we meet the Lord in the air. Jesus has not yet revealed the rapture of the church because He has not yet revealed the church.

When He departed, they would need to focus on that upcoming mission. Fasting is setting aside the legitimate function of eating in order to complete certain spiritual functions.

Fasting is entirely misunderstood, especially today. This is not penitence and deprivation. The church has misinterpreted fasting. Fasting was never intended as a means of spirituality by works. It is not to demonstrate one’s submissiveness to God. “Look God, I am doing great things. I am hungry for You.” If showing worthiness to God is your motivation for fasting, then that is self-promotion and that is always wrong. There are times when we promote ourselves in order to do that things in this life that is necessary. Self-promotion through some religious ritual is simply wrong. You can fast, kneel, or do whatever there is to indicate that you are suffering, and this means nothing as a means of self-promotion.

The fasting of the pharisees and John the Baptizer’s disciples was wrong. There is fasting in the book of Acts in the early church. Why does this ritual have validity then or validity then?

The easiest way to explain fasting is based upon your own eating habits. Most of us eat 3 meals a day. Sometimes we miss a meal. We do not like missing any of these meals, even if we don't need the food. When you are younger and you have to eat this or that, you may not like it. But, for the most part, eating is pleasurable. So, let's say that eating takes 3 hours a day. This is normal, necessary, and even enjoyable for most. What does it mean? Some diet. Some cut back on food and they call it fasting. They kill 2 birds with one stone. They diet and think that there is some spiritual value as well. There are programs today where dieting is presented as a spiritual activity and the physical and the metaphysical are mixed together. Some make it a spiritual aspect. Some think that eating certain things are even immoral, like red meat or sugar. Bobby ate some chocolate but did not confess it. And any animal that is edible. If you don't want to eat something, that is just fine; but it has nothing to do with the spiritual life. You do not have to feel guilty for eating some meat. You don't have to feel guilty or abstain from it. Dieting may actually show some self-control. It is never a spiritual endeavor.

Believers into doctrine have contended that being overweight is not a good testimony; and that is a mixture of the physical and the spiritual. Some justify this with the Jews eating manna in the desert and only supposed to gather enough for one day's meal. Dieting is unrelated to gathering manna for just one day. That was a matter of faith-rest; not of dieting. That means that they exercised faith that God would provide more food the next day and the day after that. Every day, God's logistical grace was operating. Dieting may be good for you if done correctly; but dieting does not impress God nor does this indicate a flourishing spiritual life. We impress God only by utilizing His resources: Bible doctrine and the filling of the Holy Spirit. God is impressed when our thinking is renovated; He is impressed with divine good; He is impressed with doctrine in our souls. Being slimmer and trimmer does not glorify God.

3 hours a day spend on eating. It is normal and right and necessary. If you abstain for a period of time; that has no value for the spiritual life. Nor is it sinful and nor is it wrong. However, if you fast, you have more time that can be utilized for studying the Word of God. That is redeeming the time. He replace a meal with prayer and a time to meditate on doctrine. That can be very worthwhile. There are dozens of legitimate things that you enjoy doing, and you may forgo them in order to prioritize spiritual matters.

For the pharisees and John's disciples, there was nothing about fasting that was spiritual. It was a legalistic ritual that they believed to advance themselves.

The Messiah was standing in front of them; in their midst. They did not have to fast in order to concentrate on Him. All they had to do was listen and hear Him. That is the best focus of all.

There was a real irony here. Shortly before Jesus was crucified, He introduces a meal, the Last Supper, as a memory of Him. This would be a ritual of concentration upon Jesus Christ. It is ironically the same purpose as a fast. We take a meal in order to concentrate on God the same way that someone would fast in order to concentrate on the Lord.

Fasting in the future would be to think and concentrate on Him. The Lord's Supper was to look back on His Person and work.

Our Lord used every opportunity to teach. In between legs of lamb and what not, He taught. The pharisees first were grumbling about Jesus eating with tax collectors and sinners. First the analogy, those who are ill go to a physician. The pharisees did not see themselves as being ill. These were His people, so He ate with them rather than with the self righteous pharisees.

However, there were the disciples of John the Baptizer; and they are fasting along with the pharisees, and they believe that this ritual has so much meaning to God (in their own minds). Jesus' response was as follows:

Mark 2:19 And Jesus said to them, "The bridegroom's attendants are not able to fast while the bridegroom is with them, are they? As long a time as they have the bridegroom with them, they are not able to fast.

Jesus is the Bridegroom, and He is at this party with His attendants. Therefore, how could they fast. They celebrate when the Bridegroom is with them. It is a time for feasting with the Messiah.

There would be a time for fasting, when the Bridegroom is taken away.

Mark 2:20 But days will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them, and then they will fast in that day.

Jesus at this time would ascend to the Father and sit at the right hand of the Father.

This is the first mention of a departure. But, at this point, our Lord picks up on two parables concerning what He just taught.

This is the first parable that Jesus teaches. Therefore, we need to understand what a parable is; when need to understand the genre of parables. Bobby is going to give us the full doctrine of parables in many parts.

Parables are found in all sorts of literature, including the Bible. The Bible is different, in that it is the narrative of God; it is His plan and the outcome of that plan. We only know Him via the Word of God.

Many think that the Bible is just great literature; but the Bible is different than any other literary work. People just throw out, people wrote the Bible; just like anything that someone has written. The Bible is unique. It is divinely inspired and no other book can be said to be divinely inspired.

Divine Inspiration is the Holy Spirit supernaturally directed human writers of the Scriptures, so that, without waving their human intelligence, their literary style, their individuality, their personality, their personal frame of reference, their personal feelings or any other human factor, the authors recorded God's complete and coherent message with perfect accuracy in the original languages of the Bible, the words of the Bible bearing the authority of divine authorship. Men wrote the Bible, but it is God's book and it carries the authority of God. Supernaturally directed is a loaded term. In some cases, it was dictated. However, in most cases, it was recorded as explained here.

The Bible and Inspiration

1. The Bible is God's truth communicated to man.
2. As such, it has an absolute meaning and an absolute interpretation, which is not true of secular literature. This is because it comes from the mind of God. Secular literature comes from the mind of man. There is automatically error and flaws in man's writing when not inspired by God. The Bible is unique because it communicates God's truth.
3. It is like other literature, in that the Bible uses many genres of literature to present the truth.
4. Examples of genres: proverbs, poetry, historical narrative, various types of speech and metaphor. Every type is in the Bible.
5. The parable is one of those categories, which is and uses various figures of speech. The parable is a metaphor which uses metaphorical language.

Parables

1. Every parable is a story that illustrates a point of doctrine.
2. The parable may be a true story or based upon a true story or a story which possesses all the components of truth. The prodigal son parable could be a true incident; or it may have represented similar incidents which have occurred many times in history. Bobby had a roommate in college who came and partied all of the time. He had a great time when he was there, that first year. In the Bible, this generally true story is recited as a parable. The story represents a true principle. The doctrine of the prodigal son represents the eternal security of a believer. His father accepts him back, even after blowing all of his money. Eternal security.
3. A parable can also be a story of a familiar event in everyday life, like the one we will study concerning cloth and sewing.
4. A parable can also be a fictitious story; something that the speaker or writer just made up on the spot. Great story tellers are like this.
5. Whether fictitious or factual, a parable in the Bible always illustrates a truth; a specific doctrinal principle.
6. Parables are present in both the Old and New Testaments. The Hebrew word is mashal (משל). In the New Testament, the Greek word is παραβολη. Parable is simply a transliteration from the Greek word. It means to place something along side something else. There is the parable and there is a truth you are trying to teach, and this places the parable down next to the truth. It is a set of circumstances compared to another. Out of this comparison is gleaned truth.

7. The comparison is a likeness, not an exact representation. The father of the prodigal son is analogous to God the Father. The prodigal son is accepted back into the house, regardless of his sins. The son represents you and I in our flawed nature. God never leaves us, he never forsakes us. The prodigal son does it all, and yet is accepted by the father.
8. A lion is used as a likeness of Christ. This is because of the strength and prowess of the lion; and this is a truth about Christ. Lion is compared to Satan as well. Jesus is compared to a thief in the night, because the thief is unexpected.
9. These are all figures of speech. One represents another. The simile, the metonymy, the metaphor, the parable are all very similar.
10. There are many figures of speech that provide the basis for the parables. Proverbs, allegories, types, fables. There is Bullinger's Figures of Speech.
11. Whatever figure of speech is used, the parable always points to a specific meaning. That points to a deep, divine truth.

How Do We Deal with These Figures of Speech?

What does Bobby do when he runs into a parable? How does he interpret it?

1. Biblical figures of speech are not interpreted as they are in secular literature. There is a wide variance of interpretation in human viewpoint literature. Figurative language means that there will be a figurative interpretation. Secular literature is open to many different interpretations; a Bible is interpreted as truth. They are both symbolic, but the Bible is a literal interpretation.
2. Metaphors found in the Bible, one thing standing for another, like a parable, never authorizes metaphorical or figurative interpretation.
3. The appearance of a parable in the Bible does not give license to the reader to assign metaphorical or figurative meanings. We do not have the choice of interpreting this in the way that it strikes us.
4. Figurative language given a figurative meaning is what occurs in literature or art, but not the Bible. Bobby has no liberty or license to run amuck with his interpretation of Scripture. Bobby has to find God's intended meaning. We cannot assign whatever meaning appeals to us. Poetry is jammed with metaphorical language. One of the more difficult things to do is to take the metaphorical examples and explain what it actually makes sense. Look at some Jackson Pollock paintings, and he painted to represent his own misery. That meant something to him; but you may see it and interpret it in another way. It is like an ink blot test. The Bible means that you find what God the Holy Spirit intended. For a painting, you can just interpret it in anyone that you want. Bobby likes the Dutch masters, and those paintings would reveal what was going on in the 16th century. Impressionism is not quite as easy to figure out. Therefore, you can both have completely different interpretations. The same is true of an author who is writing something containing figures of speech. The Bible contains the same kinds of figures of speech. But the Bible has an one intended meaning. Bobby must be entirely subjective to give divine truth.
 - a. Now, the writer may be conveying one thing, but God the Holy Spirit is conveying another truth altogether.

5. One mistake today is explaining figures of speech in the Bible to get one's own desired interpretation, which is what is done in liberal theology.

Luke 5:36 And He also spoke a parable to them: No one puts a piece of a new garment on an old garment. Otherwise, both the new will tear, and the old does not match the piece from the new.

So, why were there no parables up until this time?

Lesson #0199 Parables Rev. 20:4–6 Life of Christ 12/15/2011 Thurs

We are in the midst of describing and studying the concepts of parables; and how they ought to be interpreted. Also, the problems of interpretation as well. They have been greatly misunderstood.

A parable is a short, metaphorical story. It is a figure of speech. Bullinger's monumental work Figures of Speech Used in the Bible. A figure is simply a word or a sentence thrown into a peculiar form; different from its simplest meaning or use. These are used by every speaker and writer. It is impossible to write even a few sentences without it. We may say, "The ground needs rain" but, if we say "The ground is thirsty" then we are using a figure of speech. There are oriental figures (the near east) which have no counterpart in English, which is an interpretation problem. It may be asked how do we know when words are to be taken literally and when are they to be taken in some other form. Whenever and wherever it is possible, the words of Scripture are to be understood literally, we do so. When there is some variance with the context or Scripture, then we may assume that some figure of speech has been employed. So we are at once bound to determine the literal intent of the figurative language.

Bible doctrine is God's truth communicated to man. It is communicated in many forms and in many genres. But doctrine is God's knowledge revealed to us for our salvation and for a new, renovated way of thinking. That is why we are here. That doctrine is for living the spiritual life that God has designed for us.

The prodigal son parable is a metaphorical story. The father represents God the Father and we are prodigal sons (or daughters). The story of the prodigal son is one of acceptance, regardless of failures. From this is illustrated the doctrine of eternal security. It is a literal meaning that is important for our spiritual growth. God the Father continues to have a relationship with believers regardless of how many post-salvation sins we commit. It is taught in a way that we can remember. There were problems with interpreting metaphorical parables. Figurative language must not be interpreted figuratively. There is no room for gathering God's truth without understand the literal interpretation. There is only one literal meaning that God intends for us to learn. The corresponding doctrinal principle. A great mistake of Biblical interpretation is explaining a figure of speech by using a figurative explanation.

We have all interpreted metaphors metaphorically. Moby Dick, the great American novel; and you were probably required to determine what the imagery of this book meant. There will be as many meanings as there are people in that class. We may not have any idea of what Herman Melville was thinking. We interpret these things in any way that we want to. That is not why people read literature. Many do not care what the author intended; they enjoy being subjective and make their own identification and apply it to themselves. That is figurative interpretation. That is the same idea as going to a Bible study and each person gives their feeling about what a passage means. Someone's musings about a passage of Scripture does not reveal the doctrine. If they do, it is the blind squirrel that finds the acorn.

What is important is, what does God mean for a passage to communicate? Anything else is meaningless. This is why certain men are given the gift of pastor-teacher. A man who digs out the one-intended meaning for believers to grow.

Skeptics of the Bible: can anyone make mistakes? Of course. No one is infallible. The Scripture is infallible. The man with the gift of pastor-teacher with the guidance of God the Holy Spirit and utilizing the correct Biblical hermeneutics, allows the pastor-teacher to be very accurate in interpreting the Scripture. Unfortunately, there are pastors who do not do this. There are pastors who find metaphorical or figurative language who interpret these things figuratively. A high degree of accuracy can be attained.

A great example of the dangers of figurative interpretations is found in Biblical prophecy. The Old Testament is filled with it. References to the Messiah are prophetic. There is also prophecy in the New Testament. The last book, Revelation, is filled with figurative language; bulls, trumpets and horns and all sorts of things. The metaphorical language does not allow a person to interpret prophecy allegorically or as some vague concept.

The Apostle John speaks of a vision, as in Rev. 20:4–6.

Nebuchadnezzar had a dream of a great statue. That statue is a metaphor; it stands for something else. Nebuchadnezzar did not understand the dream and he called in his advisors; and they came up with all sorts of off-the-wall things. Daniel interprets the statue metaphor with a definitive literal meaning. The future empire is the revived Roman Empire.

We awake from a dream; and those which are disturbing, and this sticks with us. There are always a number of options or ways to interpret it. You might even tell the dream to a friend; but the interpretations all come from your imagination. These are just notions.

Daniel and the Apostle John's dreams are divinely inspired. Daniel's interpretation was literal and divinely inspired. Nebuchadnezzar represents something else. Part of John's vision reveals the 1000 years. How do we interpret these 1000 years? That is a burning question. Some want to interpret this as a metaphor, representing eternity. However, this number does not give license to interpret metaphorically.

Rev 20:4 And I saw thrones, and they sat down on them, and authority to judge was granted to them. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded because of the testimony about Jesus and because of the word of God, and who had not worshiped the beast or his image, and did not receive the mark on their forehead and on their hand, and they came to life and reigned with Christ for a thousand years.

V. 5 tells us of a future event. Is the 1000 years metaphorical? Then there would be an extensive, but very vague principle of time. Always interpret something literally when that does not do damage to the context or to Bible doctrine that we already know.

For those who interpret the 1000 years metaphorically, then this is simply Christ's eternal rule. That would be a false interpretation. The literal meaning would thereby be distorted.

Amillennialism is one metaphorical interpretation; which indicates that there will be no 1000 year reign of Christ on earth. This throws everything out of whack. There is the church; in this amillennial view, the next event is the 2nd advent; the return of Christ. The great white throne judgment; and beyond that is the eternal state. Such people buy into all of these other things literally, but not the 1000 years. This distorts the eschatology. One is a literal understanding and the other is not. The dream represents the truth of dispensational doctrine.

We adhere to premillennialism.

Pre-millennialism
1.	The literal interpretation of 1000 years means a literal reign of Christ for that period of time on earth.
2.	Christ will return personally and bodily to initiate the millennium. It is clearly a 1000 year rule.
3.	This return occurs prior to the millennium, hence pre-Amillennialism.
4.	The millennium is instituted by the 2 nd advent.
5.	The Millennium is still future.
6.	Christ rules on the earth for a literal 1000 years.

Another false interpretation is, we evangelize enough, and the millennium comes in.

Rev 20:5 (The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were completed.) This is the first resurrection.

Rev 20:6 Blessed and holy is the one who has a part in the first resurrection. Over this person the second death has no authority, but they will be priests of God and of Christ, and they will reign with him for the thousand years.

Parables

1. In a parable, the one truth that God wants us to understand is comprehensible and it is not symbolic.
2. Therefore, we do not have the license to be subjective, to make up our own interpretation or to spiritualize the meaning. Living the spiritual life is spirituality; people today, when they say spiritual, they understand it to mean anything that is not physical. Like calling someone a spiritual person.
3. If the meaning is taken figuratively or symbolically, it always gives rise to false doctrine.
4. Therefore, the literal meaning must be extracted from the parable through careful study and exegesis.
5. The principle of literal interpretation of figurative language must always be paramount in interpretation. That is the only way to interpret the Bible.
6. When the literal interpretation is paramount; then the doctrinal truths of the parable can then be understood. That is what we want to do. When Jesus gives the parable of the patch, God wants us to know something specific.
7. There is no latitude for interpreting the Bible.
8. The Bible is objective divine truth; it is not subjective opinion.
9. The Biblical parable should not be entrusted to personal opinion or to emotional implications or to mythical interpretations or to amateur sleuths who come up with off-the-wall interpretations.

Why are parables used in the Bible at all, if it is confusing. Why can't Jesus say what He means.

Lesson #0200 Parables Lk 5:36 Life of Christ 12/18/2011 1Sunday

Missing "Angels on High" or "Angels draw neigh" or something like that. "We three kings of orient..." also missing.

A parable is a story, but it is a story that stands for something else. The parable is never about the story; it stands for something else. We must first understand the metaphor in its context. We must understand what doctrine the parable is teaching. We must interpret each parable literally; with a literal consistent doctrine. The interpreter does find a literal meaning rather than his own meaning. If he is subjective, he finds a meaning that he wants to find. It is a meaning that he is looking for. The Bible is objective, divine truth. The divine truth in a parable should not be entrusted to optional applications or to a mythical analysis. It is not for the amateur private investigator who says, "What does it mean to me?" approach. God has one intended meaning which can be extracted from the pages of Scripture. God's truth may be couched in metaphor or figurative language, but it has a literal meaning. God's truth is precise, and absolute and all interpretations must fall within these parameters.

Poetry lends itself to figurative interpretation. The Bible must never be treated in that way. It is God's meaning that we may gather and glean. The Bible becomes nothing more than an exercise in personal application and then, has no objective application.

The parable of the prodigal son is not a morality play but it emphasizes eternal security by the relationship between the father and his sons. We are not allowed a personal interpretation; only an objective interpretation. We do not have license to make up our own interpretation. We do not get to deprive a parable of God's intended meaning. A literal meaning must be extracted from the parable. We need the dispensational and doctrinal background in order to make the interpretation accurately. Then we can apply it back to ourselves and to others. This also is spoken to people from 2000 years ago, so they must understand what is being said as well.

If it is difficult to understand the parable, why does Jesus speak in parables? If this muddies the water, then why use this approach?

1. Parables attract attention and interest; they are stories. When they are fully understood, then they stick in our memories. They aid in remembering a principle of doctrine. No matter what we do, or how far out of line we get, we are acceptable to Him, now and forever. The prodigal son parable helps us to recall this. It is easier to remember a general doctrine if it is presented in a parable.

Why isn't every doctrine couched in a parable? Parables describe a doctrine in general; a category of doctrine. Here also need Knowing specifics of categories of doctrine is critical; getting down into the nuts and bolts of a doctrine. So there is a place for both.

2. Parables stimulate thinking. Anytime you read a story and appreciate the story, it stimulates your thinking. You may identify with the characters or the circumstances; it stimulates your thinking.
3. Jesus was having an increased amount of opposition; so, when He taught by a parable, the meaning would not be immediately be understood by the pharisees. They did not want to understand Jesus in the first place. Jesus used the parable to teach principles of doctrine to those who were positive. The negative ones just blew these stories off.
4. The parable is in keeping with the Old Testament, where Jesus Christ is presented in a parable form, or in a type form.

Parable of the patch: Luke 5:36 Mark 2:21 Matt.

Luke 5:36 And He also spoke a parable to them: No one puts a piece of a new garment on an old garment. Otherwise, both the new will tear, and the old does not match the piece from the new.

Mark 2:21 No one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment. Otherwise, the patch pulls away from it—the new from the old—and the tear becomes worse.

In the analogy, there is a ripped garment. There was always something like this happening. But if you sewed a new patch of cloth onto it, the new patch shrinks and the old does not. So, now, what does this mean? How are we to understand this and how are we to apply it? What does this mean to the fasting versus feasting concept?

Lesson #0201 Mt.9:1:6 Mk.2:21 Lk.5:36 Life of Christ 12/18/2011 2Sun

Matt. 9:16 Mark 2:21 Luke 5:36

Luke 5:36 And He also spoke a parable to them: No one puts a piece of a new garment on an old garment. Otherwise, both the new will tear, and the old does not match the piece from the new.

Mark 2:21 No one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment. Otherwise, the patch pulls away from it—the new from the old—and the tear becomes worse.

Matt. 9:16 No one patches an old garment with unshrunk cloth, because the patch pulls away from the garment and makes the tear worse.

Jesus has a confrontation with John's disciples; and they are asking Him, "Why aren't Your disciples fasting?"

Explanation of the Parable of the Old Garment with the New Patch

1. The old garment is the legalistic religion of the pharisees, which is being followed, to some degree, by the disciples of John.
2. The unshrunk patch is Christianity; and, more precisely, the principle of grace. Old cloth, legalism; new cloth, grace.
3. Christ is the new patch in distinction from the old Judaism of the pharisees.
4. You cannot repair the old garment of Judaism by patching over it with the grace of Christianity. It will not work. Legalism cannot be patched up with grace.
5. Legalism and grace will pull away because they are mutually exclusive. One cannot be mixed with the other.
6. Putting the old garment and the new garment together is syncretism. An attempt to synthesize the two opposing theologies. Grace and legalism are mutually opposed to one another; they are polar opposites.
7. Legalism perverts the new garment, which is grace. We see that old garment in many churches today. It is in the form of tabooism; sins that legalists disapprove of, that they castigate in the church. Biblically, these are not legitimate taboos. The legalist might prevent everyone from drinking any alcohol at any time. The idea that you cannot be a good Christian unless you never touch alcohol. We studied something similar to this called doubtful things in Corinth. Smoking, clothing and alcohol can all be objects of legalism. This destroys grace orientation. Churches today are filled with tyrants who want to watch your life and to make certain that you do not sin. They want to make sure that you do nothing that violates their sensibilities. This is legalistic. That is exactly what is happening with the disciples of John in connection with the pharisees. The doctrines which John the Baptizer taught have been perverted by the empty rituals of the pharisees. The old system cannot be patchwork reformed. It must be tossed out; separated from; begun anew. A new cloth must begin; grace and legalism cannot be intermingled.

Jesus did not come to reform a corrupt religion. He did not come to fix the religion of the pharisees. He was in no way ecumenical. Jesus Christ did not ever promote such subjective ideas as that. He did not give the religious pharisees any leeway at all. He did not give in an inch to them. This is one more proof that there is only one way, and that is the grace way. Jesus is the new patch. What Jesus offered could not be superimposed on legalism and made acceptable. The disciples of John were trying to sew a new patch (the teaching of John the Baptizer) over an old garment, the legalism of the pharisees. They were trying to mix the doctrines of grace with legalism.

Bobby has heard many times, "I really like Bible doctrine, but then, I really like all the ritual and the ornamentation of this or that church." In association, there is confusion. It is the same cross but it has a different meaning. Grace versus an empty ritual. Stop clinging to the old ways. The true meaning of fasting was lost on them.

Theirs was an empty fasting versus the truth of God from the mouth of Jesus Christ. Judaism was the rotten cloth that needed to be thrown away. Jesus was there to replace the legalism that the Old Testament had become. You cannot patch up a religion of any kind by mixing it with Christianity. Christianity is polluted by that kind of syncretism. The foundation of Christianity is grace. Today, we are surrounded by religion.

What is in the news all the time? Terrorism; Islamic radicalism. Islam is the epitome of religious legalism. Sharia law is as oppressive and as legalism as the teaching of the pharisees of so long ago. Every other religion is based upon some form of human works or some form of human merit, so that you are good enough to be accepted by Him. In Islam, there are 7 pillars that you must rest upon. Visit Mecca is one of those pillars; how many have done that? Even murder and terror can be justified in the name of pleasing God. Can you superimpose Christianity upon that?

The inquisition of the Middle Ages was just as horrible, where even torture was used to convert the unbeliever. How do you superimpose the grace of God upon that? The only way to be converted is to repent; to change your mind about the old cloth (the old religion); you discard it in favor of the new cloth.

By grace you are saved, not of works, lest anyone boast. You cannot superimpose this grace on some other legalistic religion.

So Jesus is telling these disciples to get away from all of that legalism.

Summary Points of the New Patch Metaphor

1. Jesus is not a reformer of religion; He is a separator from religion. Jesus is the epitome of grace; He is the new patch, not the old cloth.

2. Religion and its attendant legalism cannot be reformed; only abandoned. Martin Luther, as a reformer, had problems because he remained within the established church.
3. Trying to mix legalism with grace always corrupts the Christian life.
4. Legalism must be completely discarded.
5. This can only be done through spiritual growth.

Extend your time of concentration. If the change in your life is based only upon human resolve, then nothing has really changed. It is that attitude of the soul wrought by Bible doctrine. Otherwise, you will eventually return to your old legalism. Doctrine must replace your thinking. The mind of Christ must become your mind. If it is not in your soul, then it will not come to the forefront of your soul when you need it. So you had better go with the new patch and not the old garment. Bible doctrine promotes grace and clarity and it reveals the contradictions in other systems of legalism.

We fear that the world will come to an end by global warming; so how does Bible doctrine deal with that? That is the old cloth. We have a new way of thinking. When you grow, you wonder, how can people even think in that way?

Lesson #0202 Lk 5: 36–39 Mk 2:21 Mt 9:16 Life of Christ 12/21/2011 Wed

Westheimer was a 2 lane road and Berachah was the only building in the area, just about.

There was a huge banquet at Matthew's house; and this was quite the event. The pharisees were the greatest hypocrites of human history. There was all sorts of things going on and backstabbing. Foremost to our Lord Jesus Christ is the teaching.

Our Lord gives 2 parables at this feast; and each one is designed to teach a very confused group of believers. They asked a question of Jesus. "Why aren't you fasting like we and the pharisees?" When you are ready to comprehend a doctrine, then you will be given it; and when you have a question, at the right time, it will be answered.

These men are in the middle of a great fast sitting in the middle of a great feast. They were asking the Messiah Himself if they ought to be feasting or fasting. Jesus told them that this was inappropriate at this time, as He was among them.

So Jesus used a common, well-understood illustration from everyday life. No one takes an old garment and tries to patch it with new material. The new cloth will shrink and pull out the thread.

Luke 5:36 And He also spoke a parable to them: No one puts a piece of a new garment on an old garment. Otherwise, both the new will tear, and the old does not match the piece from the new.

Mark 2:21 No one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment. Otherwise, the patch pulls away from it—the new from the old—and the tear becomes worse.

Matt. 9:16 No one patches an old garment with unshrunk cloth, because the patch pulls away from the garment and makes the tear worse.

So these disciples of John and the pharisees are wondering what this means.

The Meaning of the New Patch over Old Cloth

1. The old garment is the religion of the pharisees; and the fasting was a part of the pharisees fast.
2. Jesus is the new patch of grace, as distinguished from the legalistic Judaism. When we get into the Sabbath-keeping, it will be almost beyond belief.
3. Trying to repair the old garment by patching it over with grace, it will not work. They will not hold.
4. We know this is an accurate understanding, because the disciples of John are following the pharisees.
5. This is truth versus falsehood. Christianity gives lip service to grace and often goes along with legalism.
6. Take off John the Baptizer's disciples; take off the old garment and put on a new garment of grace. Don't try to patch up the old one.
7. You cannot reform legalism; you can only separate from it. The disciples of Jesus are feasting and celebrating His being there with them.

The Application.

1. An old garment represents fasting, a false application of religion.
2. Combining the grace of Jesus with the old legalism, the grace is ripped apart.
3. The Christian life is a way of life provided by there grace of God completely False doctrine wants to work in all kinds of legalism into Christianity.
4. Fasting represents living the Christian life by means of works. Trying to gain God's favor using human merit rather than relying upon God's grace.
5. Utilizing His sytsem of grace is the only way to do divine good works. These are the works which count with God. You do them as unto the Lord; you do not do them to glorify yourself. You must be grace oriented from the doctrine in your soul. There is an eternal aspect to it. Works are good, but they had better be the right kind.
- 6.
7. Spiritually by grace is the only acceptable means for living the Christian life. The pharisees have their noses in the air; we're all about good works.
8. What Christ was introducing had to be entirely separate from the old religious garment.

Our Lord had the rapt attention of everyone in that room. With this attention, Jesus decided to teach a second parable; He would teach about wine. This will be the wineskin.

Matt. 9:17 Mark.

Matt. 9:17 And no one puts new wine into old wineskins. Otherwise, the skins burst, the wine spills out, and the skins are ruined. But they put new wine into fresh wineskins, and both are preserved."

Luke 5:37 And no one puts new wine into old wineskins. Else the new wine will burst the wineskins and be spilled, and the wineskin will perish.

Luke 5:38 But new wine must be put into new wineskins, and both are preserved together.

Luke 5:39 Also no one having drunk old wine immediately desires new, for he says, The old is better.

The rough side of the goat hide was on the inside and the smooth side was on the outside. New vintage wine was poured into it. The bottles don't age but the goatskins did. The old wine would be drunk; but if new wine was poured in, the leather would burst the old wineskin. The wine is on the ground and the goatskin is in pieces.

What Does this Mean?

1. The old wineskin is the old habits of legalism, which the pharisees touted as spiritual.
2. The new wine is the Christian way of life, which is what Jesus was presenting.
3. You cannot put the Christian way of life into legalism. It will not hold.
4. The new wine of the Christian way of life cannot be contained in the old skin of legalism.

Luke 5:38 But new wine must be put into new wineskins, and both are preserved together.

The New Goat Skin

1. The new goatskin is provided at regeneration. That is being born again.
2. The new goatskin represents a new operating procedure; a new modus operandi. This parable is parallel to the previous one.
3. The new container is the spiritual life that was being pioneered at that very moment by the Lord Jesus Christ.
4. The new wine that fills the new skin is the filling of the Holy Spirit. It is the new doctrine of the Church Age. It is grace apparatus for perception.
5. None of that grace is contained in the old pharisaical ritual. You cannot fill the old skins of legalism with the new way of life.
6. The old pharisaical system would explode under the system of God's grace.
7. Grace is the framework for the new life in Christ.

Luke 5:39 Also no one having drunk old wine immediately desires new, for he says, The old is better.

The pharisees like the old wine. The old wine fitted their taste. It was their legalism. The grace that was offered in Christ was the old wine of their religion. Keep on drinking in all of that legalism and that bitter old wine. The disciples of John were there to stop drinking that old wine. They must not go back to it.

So it is with the believer who has found grace and has left legalism behind. How many times has legalism turned people off to Christianity and grace changed a person.

We here complete the first year and move to the 2nd.

First the Sequence:

1. Baptized and spent some time in Jerusalem.
2. Spent some time at the Jordan River.
3. Spent some time with John the Baptizer. Then spent some time away from him. .
4. He went to Galilee through Samaria.
5. When returning, He went back to his home town and they tried to kill Him.
6. From there, He went to Capernaum, where He made His headquarters and He chose most of His followers.
7. He also traveled to the outlying areas in His first year.

Mattew was hard to figure out. He was a tax collector. The Jews did not like Him.

John tells us the most about our Lord's first year. The other disciples did not tell us as much about it. Most of the disciples were not with Him and they lacked the doctrinal background.

While all of this was going on, our Lord's fame had grown, in Galilee and all over Palestine. These crowds would follow Him all over. They would grow quickly. He was the Word; He was the revelation of God. In the 2nd year, there are these growing crowds, a year of popular acclaim. The pharisees were mad and waiting. They were waiting for any misstep.

The enemies were thinking even in terms of killing Him; but no one could do that. His life could not be taken until He decided to give up His life.

Jesus and the pharisees were butting heads; this time, it was over keeping the Sabbath. This was important to the life of the pharisees and the Jews in general. The great Sabbath controversy and there are 3 incidents.

Matt. 12:12–21 Mark 3:1–6 John 5:1–47

we need some background on the Sabbath before we get started on this. This was the most important controversy. This was huge. His second year of ministry put Him right in the middle of this. The Jews observed the Sabbaths scrupulously.

The Sabbath Background

1. The Sabbath was a divinely ordained part of the Mosaic Law. Ex. 20:8
2. The Sabbath was instituted by God for a rest on every 7th day of the week. It began in the garden. God worked for 6 days and then He rested.
3. The Sabbath was to be kept holy, meaning that it was set aside for worship and exclusive service to God. This was His day. This was a distinctive mark of his people.
4. There was a practical purpose for the Sabbath: to protect the oppressed in the nation. In other words, this protected slaves and the indentured servants.
5. The grace of God was behind the Sabbath and His provision. There is grace inherent to the Sabbath and it was revealed my times. The provision of manna in the desert related to the Sabbath. On that day, they got a... They gathered enough food each day; any for mre means on the 7th day, they could rest; they could take it easy. It was a day to rest and a commemoration of the grace of God.

The Jews were knocked out of the Sabbath, which is what got them the fifth cycle of discipline. This probably accounts for their fanatical keeping of the Sabbath.

Those who keep the Sabbath today are legalistic.

We are not Israel today. We do not live under the Mosaic Law. There should be a day when you take some time off to rest. It isn't good to work 24 hours a day. Take some time off and remember the priority.

The pharisees added all kinds of restrictions to make it almost unbelievable.

Lesson #0203 Lk 5:1–2 Ex.20:8–11 Life of Christ 12/22/2011 Thurs

We have gotten to the 2nd year of our Lord's ministry. The incidents that we studied happened many times.

Our Lord was facing a string of controversies and the pharisees were mostly concerned about Him acting on the Sabbath. This was one of the most important days to Jews. It began on sunset on Friday and ended with sunset on Saturday.

Why don't we continue to hold our services on Saturday as the early church did? We do not know why the early church changed. It is likely that they changed very early on because our Lord was raised on a Sunday and the Holy Spirit was given on a Sunday; and they recognized the difference between the church and Israel's Judaism.

Observing the Sabbath was an Old Testament mandate. It was considered one of the most important days to be carefully observed. Everyone was to observe the Sabbath, including slaves and foreigners. We are not ritual Sabbath keepers; nor do we keep Sundays in this way.

Ex. 20:8 Remember to dedicate the Sabbath day:

Ex. 20:9 You are to labor six days and do all your work,

Ex. 20:10 but the seventh day is a Sabbath to the LORD your God. You must not do any work-- you, your son or daughter, your male or female slave, your livestock, or the foreigner who is within your gates.

Ex. 20:11 For the LORD made the heavens and the earth, the sea, and everything in them in six days; then He rested on the seventh day. Therefore the LORD blessed the Sabbath day and declared it holy.

The sabbath became a conglomeration of laws, regulations and traditions. There were so many regulations added in order to keep it holy. To keep it holy, you simply had to follow the mandates of the Word of God. Keeping the Sabbath holy had turned into a monstrous form of legalism.

The true concept of the Sabbath was a celebration of the grace of God. Manna was gathered only on 6 days; and they gathered a double portion on that 6th day, so none was gathered on the 7th.

The all-important message of grace had been lost behind all of the regulation placed upon the sabbath. Jesus Christ replaced the Law and fulfilled the Law. The pharisees had their own vision of the Law and the pharisees did not fit it.

What did the religious leaders mandate? It was amazing what the pharisees had added to the concept of the sabbath. The very second that it started, there were 3 trumpet blasts from the Temple, or, further away, from the nearest synagogue. At that point, all of these regulations kicked in.

Before the Sabbath, there were preparations which had to be done. There was no cooking on the Sabbath, which was mirrored by the manna principle. Everything had to be clean, all the tools were laid aside, and the lights were already lit. the people were prepared on that day except to contemplate Jesus Christ and His grace toward Israel. However, grace was complicated by man-made regulations. Their legalism was more apparent in the observation of the sabbath than any other law.

The Sabbath Day in the Pharisee Era

1. The sabbath day was a 24 hour prison sentence.
2. This was a total departure from the true sabbath.

3. The ridiculous legalism of the pharisees went well beyond the restrictions and regulations of the Mosaic Law. The pharisees made the law completely different.
4. Now, it made sense to set the plow aside; but the pharisees added, "No digging." You could not carry a burden on the sabbath; to that was added, no wearing of false teeth. No reaping (sowing) was added the plucking of one head of wheat; nor could you pull a gray hair out of your head. There were enough legal regulatory statutes to appear like federal regulations. The pharisees had several centuries to work on this. Most of these limitations were in the Mishna and the Talmud.
 - 1) You could not carry food from one house to another. So you could not provide for a family in need. Legalism trumped grace.
 - 2) Animal regulations: donkeys could not be led out to the road unless he was already saddled and already loaded the day before. So beasts of burden suffered an extra day.
 - 3) No knot tying or untying during the Sabbath.
 - 4) It was unlawful to move furniture. You could move furniture to use as a ladder; but only 4 steps.
 - 5) No lighting lamps or putting out a lamp. If the fire went out, you let it.
 - 6) Unlawful to wear any jewelry. These things all had to come off. The pharisees were so absurd about the sabbath, that they took hours arguing about it being legal to tie their sandals on the sabbath.
 - 7) You could not fix a leaky barrel of water on the Sabbath.
 - 8) No sifting flour; no kneading, no baking.
 - 9) No weaving of wool; no sewing. The minutia of correct sabbath-keeping.
 - 10) No salting game or other food. A radish could be dipped in salt, but not for too long, because it might begin to pickle.
 - 11) If you were sprinkled by mud, you could wait until it dried; then you could squeeze it one time.

Any of these things disobeyed could result in the stoning of a person. The pharisees should have been first in line for stoning. But they were the enforcers, so their violations were covered up. They had their own rules. There were 1000's of regulations and a person could be stoned to death for not keeping these laws.

One of the problems of all these regulations was, they would spend all of their time studying the Sabbath regulations; and that meant less time studying the Word of God.

There was no way anyone could keep all of these rules. Pharisees came up with ingenious ways to evade the laws legally. Much like our Congress, where laws do not apply to them. Pharisaical exemption: length of travel was exempted on the sabbath. However, if you deposited a food supply at the limit of the distance where you could travel, wherever that food was placed, that would be considered their dwelling place. They were ingenious. In these tricky maneuvers, which violated the clear, obvious meaning of the Law of Moses. Their intent was to keep the Law; and the intent was what was considered. There are plenty of people who live this way.

They violated the letter of the law. These trumped up interpretations actually involved keeping all of these statutes that they instituted. These statutes did not apply to those who made the statutes. It was incredible hypocrisy. It was empty and meaningless regulation.

What Did They Do?

1. They reduced the Sabbath to the absurd.
2. This gives us an idea as to the arrogant attitude of the religious leaders. Unbelievable arrogance.
3. They completely perverted the Mosaic Law. They used it for their own benefit. They were a priesthood that was utterly corrupt. Jesus cleansed the Temple of these types.
4. Yet these hypocrites, these corrupt people, had the greatest facade of self-righteousness.
5. There was the unintended consequence. They used the regs to make the people keep the sabbath. However, this brought indifference to the true Law of Moses.
6. They saw God as unreasonable.
7. These regulations were just a way for religious leaders to maintain a hold on power. To maintain this hold, you make a law. If you pay any attention to Congress, all of this was about politics and power.

In all of this hypocrisy, you can see how the pharisees became so critical. Jesus was one of the worst violators of the sabbath, to the pharisees. This was the background.

John 5:1–47 is the first controversy that we will examine related to the sabbath. We will only cover 3 of these pharisaical violations.

The feast here was associated with crops being brought in? There was no work. This was to illustrate Israel's history and God's provision.

John 5:1 After this, a Jewish festival took place, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

This was known as a pilgrim festival. This was all about grace; God graced out the Jews of the exodus generation. Every day, the grace of God was apparent. Manna, for one thing.

Jesus goes to Jerusalem during this festival; and this is the 2nd recorded visit during His public ministry. He had been there as a youth. He would identify Himself as the Messiah, and He would do this through signs, miracles and wonders.

You put the Man of Grace opposed to regulations, the pharisees will choose the regulations rather than God's grace. They were blind to the reality of Jesus Christ. They could only see themselves and their own power and their regulations which maintained their power. Jesus Christ did things on the sabbath that only God could do.

Jesus never violated the true Mosaic Law because He was the Lord of the Sabbath; He created the Sabbath; but now, He was present; and He would not be slowed by some silly regulations developed by men.

John 5:2 By the Sheep Gate in Jerusalem there is a pool, called Bethesda in Hebrew, which has five colonnades.

Lesson #0204 Mt1:21 Is64:6 Mk1:1 Gn3:15 Xmas Message 12/25/2011 1Sun

Bobby was not taught about Santa Claus; but he still got presents. Bob's father and mother always put the emphasis upon the real miracle of Christmas, not the mythical one. The real meaning of Christmas is a gift; not under a tree, but under the shadow of a tree. The real miracle man is not Santa Claus but Jesus Christ. The real miracle is His entry into this world.

Jesus lay in a manger, which is a feeding trough.

The solution to sin; the Lord Jesus Christ. Though many will never admit it, sin is the great malady of the human race. We often regard it flippantly; its evil permeates every cell of the human body. It is deadly and uncureable. Some think that we can deal with this nature on our own or that we can defeat this corruption.

Matt. 1:21 She will give birth to a son, and you are to name Him Jesus, because He will save His people from their sins."

For thousands of years, man has strived to build utopias, build international peace, and formulate governments that lead to peace and prosperity. All with the idea that man will defeat his nature.

It takes much more than human laws or idealistic dreams to deal with man's nature. We deal with death using a band-aid approach. If we feel good about ourselves, then we think that God feels good about us. However, we are not able to cover over our sins.

Isa 64:6 All of us have become like something unclean, and all our righteous acts are like a polluted garment; all of us wither like a leaf, and our iniquities carry us away like the wind.

God declares us degraded and debased, no matter how we want to hide it. Sin is so serious that only God can deal with sin effectively.

Jesus Christ is the true miracle man. His origins are supernatural and everything about Him was transcendent. It is by His birth that His people, Israel, would know Him. The Messiah was to be identified by a virgin pregnancy. His credentials were His miracles, which defined Him. These miracles were many sided. Some touched nature and biology; some were directed to the human body. Some even entered into the unknown boundaries of death. He raised Lazarus from the dead, foreshadowing His Own resurrection; which foretells the raising of our bodies from the dirt.

Is victory over death a part of normal human experience? How could anyone who looks honestly on his or her own existence not see the possibility of defeating death. Jesus did. We cannot defeat death on our own.

We have been studying miracles and the various meanings and impact of them. The most important discovery is the miracle of His Person. His humble beginnings that were not a beginning. He is called the spotless Lamb of God. Jesus was in place for the greatest triumph of human history. He would triumph over sin, which has kept man in bondage forever.

Besides being a miracle worker, Jesus Christ Himself was a miracle. Everything in the Bible testifies to this. The gospel of Mark declares this from the beginning.

Mark 1:1 The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

He was born to save man from his sins.

If you reject miracles, then you logically must reject the miracle of God; and then, you must also rule out Jesus Christ. They must persecute those who believe. From the moment of His birth, there is no accounting for Jesus Christ apart from the miraculous. To take a rationalistic point of view and try to make Him into any man, it is absurd. If we try to make a simple creature out of Him rather than the Creator, then He becomes no different than any other religious figure in history; which is, a liar.

Gen 3:15 I will put hostility between you and the woman, and between your seed and her seed. He will strike your head, and you will strike his heel. This is the proto evangel.

The Savior here is called the seed of the woman.

1Cor. 15:22 For just as in Adam all die, so also in Christ all will be made alive.

Jesus is specifically spoken of as the Seed of the Woman. This is a reference as to how Jesus would be born into this world.

Isa. 7:14 Therefore, the Lord Himself will give you a sign: The virgin will conceive, have a son, and name him Immanuel.

Only the woman's seed is involved in the birth. All children procreated through the seed of Adam are born spiritually dead. There is no enmity between those who are born spiritually dead. Only the one born from a virgin receives the ire of Satan. There is the center of all opposition. If Adam's seed was involved, then his offspring could not be the God-man. God cannot be united with sinful man. Jesus Christ is in hypostatic union. The seed of man is out; the virgin mother is the key. The two great prophets, Isaiah and Moses, set the scene for the day of days.

There is nothing for us in Christmas without this virgin birth. The stage is set.

Skeptics still celebrate Christmas; they put up a tree; but they lose the key. Christmas to them is another day off from work; although a special day of family. But it is without the seed of the woman; and without the supernatural birth of the Lord Jesus Christ. There is no salvation; there is not eternal hope. How can Bobby not speak dogmatically about it? The Word of God emphasizes the birth of the Lord Jesus Christ. The skeptics memorialize this great day when they turn on their Christmas lights; and the gifts which are given represent the greatest gift given by God to man.

They are unwrapping Him for Christmas and throwing away the wrapping paper.

Matt. 1:18 The birth of Jesus Christ came about this way: After His mother Mary had been engaged to Joseph, it was discovered before they came together that she was pregnant by the Holy Spirit.

Right here in this first chapter of Matthew is either the truth or it is a lie. That is a very unique approach to a human line of descent. Only men are listed; but only here to you have Mary being made pregnant by the Holy Spirit.

John 3:16 "For God loved the world in this way: He gave His One and Only [uniquely born] Son, so that everyone who believes in Him will not perish but have eternal life.

None of the other assertions of this verse are meaningful unless Jesus is uniquely-born without a sin nature.

Luke 1:35 The angel replied to her: The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. Therefore the holy One to be born will be called the Son of God.

God would use the reproductive system of Mary; the seed of the woman would then be born as a Holy Offspring. This is either a lie or the truth. We have so many witnesses to this virgin birth, going to back Genesis, then Isaiah, and then all of the gospels, followed by the testimony of the epistles and Revelation.

Most people don't think about this too much. There is no sex here with the Holy Spirit. Pregnancy was miraculous, apart from any human procreation. God would miraculously fertilize Mary's fertile egg. A miracle child.

The same mission going back to Gen. 3:15, which is the mission of salvation. Redemption solution to man's sinful nature. As we contemplate this birth, we are confronted with this miracle of miracles. This baby is man and God. This is not a half-man/half-God, but fully man and fully God; unpolluted by the sinful nature of mankind. That is the child in the feeding trough. The human seed of the woman was the means. It was all present in that child on that night. This was not just a nativity scene or a cute baby. This is God and man in one Person. There is no accounting for this wondrous Christ and wondrous birth and Person. This child was the center of the plan of God for mankind.

In that stable on the first Christmas morning was the seed of Satan's demise, which would deliver us from the sting of sin and death. God provided a number of other miracle moments. Miracles were everywhere that evening.

There is the incident of the Angel of the Lord visiting the shepherds.

Luke 2:13–14 Suddenly there was a multitude of the heavenly host with the angel, praising God and saying: Glory to God in the highest heaven, and peace on earth to people He favors!

The shepherds were in awe. This was supernatural. Angels appeared. Easy not to believe. Again, this story is true or not. These angels reflect the triumph of His birth. These angels have waited centuries; millennia, for His birth.

This was not the only miraculous event. There were also the wise men, the magi; who were guided by the star. These men were not just trappings in a nativity scene.

The wise men went to Herod, thinking that he would know where the Child-King was.

Matt. 2:9 After hearing the king, they went on their way. And there it was--the star they had seen in the east! It led them until it came and stopped above the place where the child was.

Somehow, the star's light shown upon Jesus. It stopped right above the place where Jesus is. Again, another miracle. This is not a natural light. It is impossible for starlight to illuminate and to illuminate such a small area as that of one house. It focused on one place and it disclosed to them where the baby was. This was after the birth. These men came to pay homage to the King.

There is a collection of miracles associated with the birth of our Lord. None of this can be said about any other human being who has lived.

2Cor. 5:21 For Him who knew no sin He made to be sin on our behalf; so that in Him we might become the righteousness of God.

We do not deserve anything; we are made righteous by Him on the cross.

You know that He appeared in order to take away sins, and in Him, there is no sin. This is the purpose of the miraculous virgin pregnancy. This qualified Him. In no other way could He be the Savior. In His spotless life was the condition to take on the sins of all mankind. Only that He is born of a virgin, living a sinless life. His unique birth is the credential for His unique death. Only then can He redeem us from the slave market of sin. Because He was born to do so. He was born in the most unique way. With His birth and His life, so was His death a miracle. No man ever died as Jesus died. Many were crucified as He died. But the circumstances were different. He was the master of His Own life. The merciless hand of death could not touch Him. He was not subject to accidental death or murder. Even His Own hometown folks tried to push Him off a cliff. No one could kill Him. Not even Pontius Pilate or Herod the Great. They thought that they had the power of judgment and death; but only God the Father could bring judgment and death on Jesus Christ. Only Jesus Christ could take upon Himself the judgment of God.

“For this reason, the Father loves Me; I have the authority to lay down My life and I have the authority to take it up again.”

And He bowed His head and He gave up His spirit. Jesus had full control of Himself when on the cross. His work was done. It was time for him to let go. Clearly, this was His Own will and His Own actions.

When He paid for our sins, thick darkness was over the land. The huge veil of the Temple was ripped in half. The purpose for which He was born was accomplished. The fulfillment of Gen. 3:15 and the promises of Isaiah were fulfilled. The miracle of a new life was given to man. Just as He was made alive after His death, so we are made alive in Him.

John 3:7 “Do not marvel that I said to you, ‘You must be born again.’

this is why we celebrate He renewed life. His perfect life and His perfect death. We have the Present we always wanted and always needed.

Lesson #0206

Luke 5: Life of Christ

12/28/2011 Wed

This is the 2nd trip of Jesus to Jerusalem. He was not well-known on the first trip. By the end of the week, He was accepted by some and hated by others. He was well-known to the religious leaders. They were laying for Him; but that was always a part of God’s plan. There was much to learn from the opposition. God’s plan is not always smooth sailing for everyone; God’s plan includes difficult times. This is part of showing what Bible doctrine can do to those around us. We must always depend upon the Lord under all circumstances. Paul wrote, when we are weak, God is strong within us. We apply Bible doctrine during times of human weakness.

The things which occurred was the calling of Matthew and the grand party of Matthew. There is a grand feast in Jerusalem, and Jesus goes to it. It was mandatory for Jewish males to attend this feast. This is probably the feast of the Tabernacles.

All of these feasts were designed to reveal Jesus Christ. Therefore, when He shows up at a feast, He can reveal Himself.

Jesus allowed the city to become reacquainted with Him via signs and wonders. In this activity, Jesus ran afoul of the pharisees. He stepped on their legalism, which He did every time that He could. He performed miracles on the Sabbath. This was considered by the pharisees as a terrible violation; and this was a work, so they believed it could not be done.

So, they never really argued that the miracle was false or a trick; they simply complained that He performed miracles on the wrong day. This is so ridiculous.

By and large, the animosity of the pharisees was muted in the Galilee area because Jesus was popular. The pharisees did not want to go too far with their opposition. So they were watching and waiting for the right time. They were spineless. If you have faith, then why would you not live it? These pharisees were more concerned about the politics of their position. When they heard that Jesus was in town, they were on high alert. Here, their antagonism broke wide open. The problem they were be concerned with is performing a miracle on the Sabbath.

It is possible that they drug out all of their regulations to deal with the Sabbath; and they wanted to find one dealing with healing on the Sabbath. Nothing to be found there. So they simply decided, it is a work, it's wrong, and we will oppose it.

The very work that they detested pointed to their Messiah, their Savior. It was grace all the way and they were completely blind and opposed to grace.

John 5:1 After this, a Jewish festival took place, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

The confrontation took place at this pool. There is a hospital in Maryland called Bethesda, which is apropos. It means pool of grace. There was shade and shelter around this pool.

John 5:2 By the Sheep Gate in Jerusalem there is a pool, called Bethesda in Hebrew, which has five colonnades.

All of these sick and ill people were gathered around this pool. There was some kind of stirring of the water.

John 5:3 Within these lay a multitude of the sick--blind, lame, and paralyzed [--waiting for the moving of the water, this is because an angel would jump into the pool and he stirred up the water. So, someone would hop into the water and get cured from this stirred up water and they were healed. Like the movie Caccoon.

Aliens have become the new gods; the supernatural. This was really not a miraculous event. This was a local traditioin and a superstition. This was not a real miracle, but a superstition of that era.

These verses 3–4 are not to be found in the oldest manuscripts. That is why there are brackets on these verses. No manuscript before A.D. 400 contain these verses. This is why there are brackets here.

Think about these verses from the standpoint of the Bible. Such a circumstance would be cruel and unfair. Dragging themselves into the pool. If that was the means of a miracle, it would be a self-effort. People would have to make a huge effort to get there. That is not a work of grace. This is not all grace; there is 25% grace here. A miracle is something that God does. This does not reflect the grace of God; therefore, it is not real.

John 5:4 because an angel would go down into the pool from time to time and stir up the water. Then the first one who got in after the water was stirred up recovered from whatever ailment he had].

This is a continuation of v. 3. There are a lot of sick people by this pool, and that is what drew our Lord's attention. This was a gathering point. It was a place where people had various maladies. It was very likely that this sick and blind were hoping that there was some truth to the stories that they may have heard about this pool.

For some, this pool would be the only place where they had hope, in their own thinking.

There are people who search all over looking for a miracle. There are those who have raucous services and these men are charlatans and fakers. So people go hoping that maybe it is true. Miracles are performed by God. That is not a myth. But there is no human mediator today who performs miracles. Jesus Christ could heal this people. Jesus never healed unless there was a reason for it. Jesus always did whatever He did for a reason. Jesus goes on a day of His choosing; so He chose the Sabbath. He wanted to present Himself in a very memorable way. He is the Lord of the Sabbath. The miracles that He performed also pointed to Him.

John 5:5 One man was there who had been sick for 38 years.

Jesus knew this man had been sick for a very long time. This man does not know Who Jesus is. The question may seem dumb; but the answer is going to be revealing. The man will explain his problem and everyone will know; and this is for our benefit as well.

John 5:6 When Jesus saw him lying there and knew he had already been there a long time, He said to him, "Do you want to get well?"

He is concerned because he cannot get to the pool, even when the water is stirred up. He needs someone to help him. He needs the graciousness of someone at this point. This man believed the myth of healing. But he also realized that he can't get to the water. It never happened. This man was hopeless in body and soul. He was defeated. He was lost; he had an attitude that he had resigned himself to.

He placed blame on others, whom he said would not help him. No one was taking care of him. He was all by himself. He has 38 years of hopeless bitterness. He was a pain for everyone there. This is probably to least-deserving man of the group; and the one most hopeless.

This healing would bring the wrath of the pharisees down on Him. Jesus enjoyed revealing the grace of God and documenting His Messiahship.

Everyone knew this man's problem. But he has said it aloud again.

John 5:7 "Sir," the sick man answered, "I don't have a man to put me into the pool when the water is stirred up, but while I'm coming, someone goes down ahead of me."

Jesus tells him to get up.

John 5:8 "Get up," Jesus told him, "pick up your bedroll and walk!"

This miracle happens immediately. There are no mumbo-jumbo words; there are no ceremonies; there is nothing that has to occur. Whatever, he was instantly cured; and he was able to walk. 38 years and he was able to walk. These people looked at this man and looked up at Jesus and they could not believe it. They knew that this man was hopeless and the least deserving of anyone there.

Now, we find out that this is the Sabbath. And Jesus told him to pick up his bedroll.

John 5:9 Instantly the man got well, picked up his bedroll, and started to walk. Now that day was the Sabbath,

Only one man was healed at this pool. The myth was, when the waters got stirred, only one man got healed. But it is clear that Jesus did the healing. Jesus could have healed any person or all of them. Jesus ignored the rest and He healed this one man. This tells us that healing was not the focus of His ministry.

What these people needed was salvation; that is much more important than a physical healing. They needed to pay attention to what Jesus is doing with this one man. They need to focus on this one man; not the pool and not the miracle.

This healing demonstrates to all that a greater healing would take place in their souls if they believed in Him. It is not about healing; it is about what it means. Jesus likely gave a great message, a clear presentation of the gospel at this point; or so Bobby assumes.

Jesus wanted this man to walk around.

Closing Points

1. To all present, this was a witness of the credentials of Jesus Christ.
2. This was a refutation of the myth of the pool; God healed; not the pool.
3. Jesus knew that this man with the pallette on his back would end up being a violation of the pharisees traditions.
4. Jesus Christ wanted everyone, including the pharisees, to observe what had just happened.

5. He wanted to emphasize the day that this miracle took place. Not hide it, but emphasize it.
6. Jesus was going to make a point about the Sabbath in particular.
7. In so doing, Jesus would expose the hypocrisy of the pharisees.
8. Jesus regarded the burdensome regulations of the Sabbath as obscuring the underlying truth of the Sabbath. It was a burden on everyone.
9. Jesus is the Lord of the Sabbath; and the Sabbath legalism obscured Who He was. He wanted the people to see the silliness of the legalism of the pharisees. The Messiah is here and He showed it right here.

John 5:10 so the Jews said to the man who had been healed, "This is the Sabbath! It's illegal for you to pick up your bedroll."

Lesson #0001 Prov. 17:4 Lev. 19:17–18 New Year's Series 12/31/2011 Sat
Lying Leaders

Military communion.

How do you make communion significant in your soul. We must think with the mind of Christ. This do in remembrance of me. You must recall and appreciate who Christ is. We can discover this perspective by means of the 7 looks of Jesus Christ; His 7 ways of viewing the world.

He came into this world as a servant. As a result of the anguish of His soul, He will see it and be satisfied. By His knowledge, the Righteous One, My Servant, will justify the many. This included the very look in His eyes and His eyes revealed much and they often spoke louder than words. Bobby's mother often spoke to Bobby with her eyes. Lovers know the language of the eyes. They look longingly into the eyes of one another. Likewise, every glance of the Lord had meaning to all those who looked. Through the pages of Mark's gospel, Jesus looks at us to communicate His mind and thinking.

Jesus and the man with the withered hand; and Jesus had a look of disdain for those who had entrenched negative volition. We think of Jesus in terms of a look of compassion; and He certainly expressed that in Mark 3:5, as that would be how He looked at this man with the withered hand. The anger was reserved for the others, the pharisees, who watched His every move. They knew He would heal on the Sabbath and they were waiting to trap Him. Did the pharisees have compassion on this man? Not at all. The pharisees were concerned with their traditions, that included Sabbath observance; they were less concerned with this man. So Jesus had a look of anger toward these men, who had no understanding of God's grace. They did not understand the Servants Who came to save them from their sins.

This is why Jesus saw them in the way that He did. This is a foreshadowing for all those who reject the Savior. Jesus waits to heal mankind; when anyone fails to believe, the wrath of God abides on him. If the motivation for us, to bring to gospel to those in need, even to those that we do not like.

The look revealed, For those whom the Lord loves, He scourges with a whip all He receives.

Jesus said to him, one thing you lack; sell all that you own and come and follow Me. The Lord quizzed this man, to make a contrast between grace and legalism. This man revealed his own failure with his monetary god. He would not depend upon Christ alone for salvation. How could Jesus look upon this man with love. This is the same way that He looks at all mankind; from the viewpoint of impersonal love. Jesus would die for this man, who rejected Him. No greater love has a man than one who would lay down his life for them.

A 3rd look, a softer look; a look or relationship. And looking about those who were sitting about Him, "Behold, my mother and my brothers." Then He asked, "Who are my mother and brothers? He who does My will." So Jesus set aside family tied for a new family relationship. Every believer is a member of the family of God. The eyes of the Lord have a warm glow reserved for those of His family; and believers are born as a part of an intimate relationship. Our relationship with God is secured by the blood of Christ.

4th look one of delight in His eyes. Mark 5:32 He looked around to see the woman who had done this. She had for years hemorrhaged; and her problem continued to grow worse. She reached out and touched His garment. In this act, she expressed faith in Jesus Christ; in His power to heal her. Nothing pleases the Lord more than one who appropriates His grace and is willing to place their faith in Him under all circumstances.

No doubt that this year will bring some horrible circumstances.

The 5th look toward His family members as the one Bobby's mom used on him. And turning around, He rebuked Peter, saying, get behind Me, Satan. Peter understood Who Jesus was. But when Jesus spoke of the cross, Peter rebuked Him. Peter could not comprehend the importance of what Jesus would do.

Now, if after being a disciple for 3 years, Peter did not understand the point of Jesus going to the cross, does that mean that he was not saved? It suggests that most people in the Old Testament had no clue about what Jesus would do when it came to dying for our sins. We know this in retrospect; they usually did not. They simply believed in Him.

The doctrine is here, right in front of us, but we fail to consistently metabolize it. Our lives must be dedicated to utilizing our greatest resource; Bible doctrine. There is nowhere else to look.

The 6th look Mark 10:23 “How hard it would be for those who are wealthy to enter into the Kingdom of God.” How easy it is to get our eyes on pleasures, banks accounts and on material things. Money is not a problem; it is the love of money that is the problem. We need to heed the look of warning.

the 7th look; the look of judgment. Mark 11:11 Jesus saw materialism and commerce in the temple taking the place of spiritual teaching in the Temple. The fire of judgment flashed from His eyes.

Jerusalem would be surrounded by invading armies; and Jesus would return to save them. Then He will set up His kingdom; He will look upon His people with complete delight. When the eyes of our faith meet the eyes of His love, the contract is made that will suffice for all eternity.

2012 is a year for concern. Worry never solved anything. There is concern in the sense of taking a keen interest in certain events that will occur this year. This is a pivotal year in the life of the United States. It is a year of a profusion of politicians and an onslaught of promises. It is important for us to be able to choose leaders. The Bible is our guide and it has a lot to say about leadership. It is instructive when it comes to the destruction of our nation.

Proverbs has wisdom for every area of life. It is truly a wonderful book. The theme is found in Prov. 1:7 The fear of Yahweh is the beginning of knowledge; But the foolish despise wisdom and instruction. The flip side of respect is despising wisdom and instruction. There are two basic choices: we respect wisdom and instruction or we despise wisdom. Anyone filled with arrogance is a fool. His ego is bloated; he is narcissistic. Unbounded arrogance is present in high places in this country. The one who is arrogant is a fool with no wisdom.

The politician listens to no one but himself. He has no wise counselors. He says whatever is necessary to further his own ambitions. He sees others as generally beneath him. Rules of integrity do not apply to him. Corruption is rampant at all levels. This is made manifest by his speaking lies. We will study the big lie; we will see an example of the destructiveness of lying leadership. Lack of wisdom and a crooked tongue is found in high places. The freedom of a nation is thereby threatened.

Lying leadership is not the only problem. Arrogant fools believe the lie and they follow them blindly. This is why wisdom is important. Prov. 17 the evil-doer pays attention to wickedness. A liar is obedient to a destructive lie. Such people are the speakers of lies and the ones who believe the lies. Such people delight in evil and they are destructive. Both are evil. Those who believe the evil of liars are often liars themselves. He is susceptible to lies that reinforce his own human viewpoint. Lying leaders attract evil lying followers. They pay attention to and are obedient to lying lips. Our government is filled with people who are liars and evil-doers and we have people who follow them. Do the people believe them or not? Are the people of our country evil or not?

It is only truth in the soul, divine establishment truth, and Bible doctrine, that reveals lies and counters them.

Satan is the greatest liar of all time. One of the great lies that he perpetrates is related to lying leadership. One of these lies is, there is no absolute evil; that comes from lying lips. Everything is relative. Satan himself is absolute evil; that is the big lie. When Satan confuses relativism with the big lie, that makes evil only in the eye of the beholder. Standards can be adjusted with shifting circumstances. This is how evil morphs into relative good. What is evil shifts into evil. Things our forefathers saw as evil before are not seen as evil anymore. The hippies of the 1960's are our leaders today. This relativism pervades everything.

Lies are simply bent and made to fit the shifting circumstances of today. Laws that are made up simply for the circumstances of our day. Nothing less than our national life is at stake.

Leadership in the United States

1. Liars on a national scale believe their lies reflect that which is best for those that they govern. That is arrogance.
2. They see their lies as justified to further their own policies and ideas.
3. Those policies advanced by lies are lies. Nothing but evil for all concerned. Lies breed lies and lies breed lying policy.
4. No leader or his policies are correct when he is double dealing.
5. If a policy is advocated based upon lies, it is evil. If a policy is advocated that is based upon lies, it is an evil policy.
6. In that case, leadership and government is self-serving. The greatest human being Who lived was the Lord Jesus Christ, and he came as a servant. Here, government is self-serving.
7. Leaders today only are interested in their own self-promotion and power.
8. The nation is headed to disaster from lying, brazen power-mad leaders.

This would be ineffective if the people did not believe these lies. Lying leaders are convincing because those who hear their lies have no standards other than furthering themselves. Just like the leaders, the people are liars who listen to them and they believe them. If another citizens are arrogant, complacent and obedient, then the population deserves exactly what they get. They contribute to their own demise. They contribute to their own freedom being destroyed. Even out and out blatant lies are overlooked because of those who accept the lies. These lies fit their own self-serving arrogance.

What policies do they accept? Redistribution of wealth. They contend that capitalism and wealth are the ultimate in evil; that capitalism favors a few and means poverty for everyone else. Occupy Wall Street. This plays well for the envious and the greedy.

The lying leader refuses that capitalism allows a person to succeed based upon hard work and risk. Tax the rich and feed the less fortunate. The result from these lying lips is destructive and their gain is taken and redistributed. Why should they work? Why should they work hard? Taxes go up and businesses go bankrupt and productivity goes down. People are out of work and the state steps in to take control. And this lie works because people don't get it. In the end, everyone loses. It is trickle down poverty; misery is equally distributed; not wealth. The lie is evil and the liar is evil. Those who believe the lie are fools. Lies in leaders must be detected to deter the evil. No matter how evil and outrageous the lie, it is countered in the soul of the believer with Bible doctrine. The one with truth shows wise judgement. The believer with doctrine in his soul must act. He must speak out against the lie. He must tell about the doctrine that is in your soul and to vote for those who best express honesty and integrity. Big government is just lying leaders taking more and more power.

Proverbs 17:4 An evil-doer heeds wicked lips. A liar gives ear to a mischievous tongue.

Lev 19:17–18 ["You shall not hate your brother \[your fellow citizen\] in your heart. You shall surely rebuke your neighbor, and not bear sin because of him. You shall not take vengeance, nor bear any grudge against the children of your people; but you shall love your neighbor as yourself. I am Yahweh.](#)

Every day, this is a battle; every day it is hard to keep to this. But virtue love can overtake that. Hate permeates our nation at this time. Even believers focus on political solutions. Believers who should know better are disregarding spiritual solutions. As goes the believers, so goes the nation. If you hate the liars and you fail to advance spiritually, then you are a part of the problem.

Lesson #0002

Prov. 17:4, 7 Lying Leaders

1/1/2012 1Sunday

Proverbs 17:4 [An evil-doer heeds wicked lips. A liar gives ear \[pays attention to, is obedient to\] to a mischievous tongue.](#)

If you buy into the lies, you think like the liar and you are a liar. This describes the liars of our government and the liars who believe them. The liars are destructive and their policies are destructive.

As we see the problems in our own nation, we want to do something. You cannot be a patriot without having a desire to stem the tide of destruction. You want to speak against the lies; some of you will vote against liars and their evil practices. There is nothing wrong with being politically active or with voting.

We do not have the right to hate the opposition; we must exercise virtue love.

There is another pitfall; there is a great tendency in this time of national crisis to focus exclusively on politics rather than on the mandates of spiritual advance and this can morph into Christian activism. This is a pitfall and this is for fools and these believers will manufacture evil in opposing evil.

What we are prohibited from becoming. Believers using illegitimate methods to oppose evil. Mass demonstrations; group protests; civil disobedience; property destruction or any illegal activity for the purpose of imposing Christian ideals and behavior on those with humanistic ideals. There are Christians who will act illegally in order to oppose evil. Christian activism is not a way to be an ambassador for Jesus Christ. Activism in the believer combines self righteous arrogance with a zealot, crusader mentality. What is produced is a Christian fool perpetuating a lie.

Human viewpoint says, I will change the world for Christ. They engage in political activity and maneuvers in order to bring this to pass. The crusader believer attempts to force God's will on others and on the nation as a whole. He will use the same tactics as the humanist opposition. There are activists that we can see that are so obvious, like those who interrupt a solemn military funeral to scream out that God hates this country. What they oppose, homosexuality, is right, because that is degeneracy; but there is no call for them to do what they do. There is nothing which allows us to hate other people in our nation.

The Christian activist fails to realize that his tactics will not remove the lies, the strong delusions of those who receive the lies, and they will not remove the depravity of the culture at large. They become a part of this evil. God does not honor the believer who resorts to humanistic methods to further his cause. The Christian crusader believes that any means are legitimate in allowing him to achieve his righteous objectives. He is the fool described in Prov. 17. They believe that the cultural problems of this nation can be solved by political activism and legislation which meets their standards. They become so self righteous, they will commit acts which are completely out of synch with God's Word. All of these things, like attacks on abortion clinics, and this is out of line.

The Christian activist is often correct in the way that they see the nation and they understand some of the problems and they may even correctly recognize that our problems are spiritual and that our leaders lie and that there is great degeneracy in our nation. They can see the downward spiral and false teaching of humanism, radical environmentalism, etc.; but in crusader arrogance, they draw false conclusions as to what to do about it. They develop an in-your-face activism, and such people discredit the name of the Lord. The activist obsesses over the arrogance of humanism; and he is right about humanism being wrong, but his obsession is wrong. He counters it with his own human activism.

“Woe to you scribes and pharisees, for you are like tombs that have been whitewashed, but inside are dead man's bones and decay.” He departs from the truth of Bible doctrine and substitutes human viewpoint and human activism. The greatest thing that we can do for our country is to continue to grow spiritually. That is what this new year should bring; continued spiritual growth. That is what saves this nation.

God always honors those who follow His mandates; not those who follow humanistic stratagems. Christian activism is eyes on political solutions. Bobby gets angry to hear lies in high places; lies that perpetrate evil policy. We must keep our focus and that must be on the Word of God. We depend upon the Lord to do it. We can vote and we can be involved in a political work, like the TEA party. Do not forget the source of blessing; it is God vindicating Bible doctrine within our souls.

Any time actions are based on lies, it is a sign of corruption of those involved. Activism may have good intentions but it gets bad results. Anything done in a wrong way is wrong. The more we are involved in human viewpoint and human tactics, the more we go out of bounds.

Where has Christian activism changed the course of this nation? We are continuing a downward trend; it has not worked and it won't work. God always honors those who honor Him.

Fools are incapable of a speech that is fitting for them. Excellent speech of wisdom should characterize a leader. Excellent speech is not about beautiful rhetoric; it is not about the presentation or the enunciation; it is all about content.

The fool fills his speech with double-talk, with inconsistencies; his speech lacks substance and depth. It is meaningless and it is garbled. No matter how attractive his exterior or how good he sounds. Have you listened to a fool speak, and realize just how little come out of his mouth. His words twist the truth to distort the truth and to sell his own false views.

The first word is Strong's #3499; יתר; yether, which means remainder, excess, rest, remnant, excellence; remainder, remnant; remainder, rest, other part; excess; abundantly (adverb); abundance, affluence; superiority, excellency

It is apparent that there is a mismatch of speech. A fool does not speak brilliance and excellence; and the prince does not speak with lying lips.

Rank imposes obligation; truthful leadership is an obligation to the ruler. Where leaders are liars, honor and virtue are lacking. Only senseless policies are to be expected. Political correctness becomes a substitute for truth. Some of those who speak the truth are condemned as liars. Lying leadership cannot produce the excellent speech of wisdom. Our government is based upon a document called the constitution, which is filled with wisdom; and written by men who were well-versed in the Bible. It is not perfect but it does reflect the truth of its writers in their souls. When it is altered or distorted or interpreted based upon current culture. Then lying leadership prevails. As truth, the constitution is not a fluid document, and it should not be interpreted as to go along with a changing society. Truth is absolute; it does not change with the times.

The fool only takes the bits and pieces of truth that are relevant to their cause; and the rest is whatever serves his lies.

Lying leaders gain power and ascendancy over a nation by believing their wisdom to supercede the wisdom of all others. Nothing is produced from such leaders which is good or lines up with divine establishment. Turn on television at any moment and you will hear lies. What they say is directed to their audience and they will say one thing one day and something else the next. To stop the trend, citizens must be able to distinguish between lies and the truth.

Divine establishment. Internationalism replaces nationalism; and Bible doctrine is rejected by believers, who prefer programs, human viewpoint and emotion instead. There is no truth in the souls of such believers. Believers become activists and leaders become activists.

Lying leadership is the beginning of the end. Today we are becoming a nation of lying leaders and fools who believe the lies; lies that are indistinguishable from the truth. Some believers are more attuned to lies.

Proverbs 17:7 Arrogant [excellent; lofty speech punctuated with wisdom] speech isn't fitting for a fool, Much less do lying lips fit a prince [the ruler; leadership in a nation].

Lesson #0003

Prov. 17:12 Lying leaders

1/1/2012 2Sunday

An arrogant leader who lies to further his own political career is a detriment to a nation. We need a prince who honor; a prince who would speak honestly. It is not that our problems that would be solved with a good leader. We have had the most ridiculous legislation over the past 40 or 50 years. The making of the preservation of our country affect the people.

The programs and legislation are said to be beneficial to people; their politics. We are a nation of fools because we too easily believe the lie.

This Is How They Are Identified

1. A leader who is a fool is convinced that his own lies are true. He laps up his lies like a dog returning to his vomit.
2. He spouts his opinions and decisions without reflection, often contradicting himself in the process, depending upon whom he is speaking to.
3. He is hypersensitive and quarrelsome.
4. The lying leader knows no restraint in his governance.
5. He has no sense of proportion; no sense of the heinous nature in what he is doing.
6. His self-importance is entrenched in his own mind.
7. He gets caught up in his own lies and convinces himself that they are truth and wisdom. They believe their own lies. It is an end justifies the means circumstance.
8. He gives himself away as a fool every time he opens his mouth and spouts distortion.
9. He has no reverence for truth. He prefers the illusion and pretense of humanism and multi-culturalism. Not all cultures are the same; not all of them are based on the truth of Christianity. Do you want to live under an Islamic culture? They are equal in multi-culturalism.
10. The lying leader cannot imagine himself mistaken or wrong.

11. He is impatient with advice, particularly with real wisdom that contradicts his own folly.
12. He is impudent with those he perceives as inferior, which is nearly everyone.
13. He is quick in his criticisms and in his own defense, he is very thin-skinned. You will get a reaction from a lying leader under any circumstance when he is criticized. \
14. He does not recognize his own folly; he increases it.
15. He does not have any true allegiance to the divine institutions or to God;
16. Do not listen to what he says; watch what he does.
17. Compare what he says to what he does. He is so inundated in evil that he compromises with the cosmic system continually. The lying leader is evil.

Let's look at us at a personal level. The fool and the liar are menaces that we ought not to have a personal relationship. You will not find a word of sense in him. Leave the presence of a fool or you will not discern words of knowledge. Bad company and bad thinking. His foolishness will become your foolish thinking. Prov. 13:20 he who walks with wise men will be wise and the companion of fools will suffer harm. We cannot help but suffer some fools because they are everywhere. If he has a foolish idea in his head, nothing will stop him from passing such legislation. He will let others figure out what it means. He will stop at nothing to enforce his folly upon his people.

We are surrounded by a plethora of evil policies couched in the language of entitlements and benefits. We are entitled to live in freedom and to retain the results of about 75% of your labor. You are not entitled to someone else's labor. Whatever the government gives you, that came out of someone else's pocket. Those who take become dependent upon it and they lose freedom. They think they are getting something for nothing but they become complicit in evil.

There is nothing angrier than a grizzly bear who loses her cub and the bear develops a serious amount of consternation over the whole thing. There is something twice as dangerous as meeting a bear and being between her and her cubs. It is worse to be in close association with fools in their folly.

This is even worse when you have fools for leaders. Since they are our leaders, we are associated with them. They put us in harm's way. We will go down to destruction with them.

A fool in his folly operations without wisdom, with divine establishment.

Proverbs 17:12 Let a bear robbed of her cubs meet a man, Rather than a fool in his folly.

Who Are These Fools?

1. In the Christian world, they live under legalism.
2. In the world of the individual person, they live in self-righteousness and in self-centeredness. They are closed to divine wisdom.

3. In the world of leadership and government, they believe the lie, the perpetrate the lie and they make the lie policy, which is evil.
4. In the world of the believer in Jesus Christ, folly is living without the filling of the Holy Spirit, constantly controlled by the sin nature. Folly is living without doctrine. It is without grace orientation, without the problem solving devices. It is without wisdom. If you learn nothing, learn that a believer without doctrine is a fool in his folly. Worst of all, a believer without doctrine; destruction of truth in your soul and destruction of all wisdom.
5. Folly is having an intimate relationship with believers who have rejected Bible doctrine. You might as well have a relationship with momma bear.

Would that our government leadership recognize that they are beyond this man holding a baby bear cub. We are becoming a nation dependent upon government and dependent upon big government. This is one step away from slavery. Only the wisdom of Bible doctrine in the souls of believers can remedy the folly of fools. This is personal, spiritual growth.

Proverbs 17:12 Let a bear robbed of her cubs meet a man, Rather than a fool in his folly.

The epitome of a lie is calling good evil and evil good. All actions must be based upon truth.

Lying leadership is human good; it is abominable evil. They justify the lie by calling it truth. It is exactly what they are. They project themselves and their motives upon others. It is their life and their lifestyle. They condemn all those who speak the truth. The truth exposes their lies and their policies.

Being an abomination to the Lord is hostility toward God. “You do not obey Me; you act with hostility against Me.” The liars of lying government are always hostile to the truth of God’s Word. If you have God’s truth, you understand those who are hostile to it. You have truth in your soul, so you know when you hear that which contradicts the truth. You must live by God’s Word. You must think with the mind of Christ. You can discern nothing apart from renovated thinking. Without that, you will fall prey to every lie that comes along. And there are accomplished liars in high places. You have better have something in your soul to counter it and to defend the lie.

The lying leadership of a client nation foreshadows severe national judgment. That is the grim part of our study. Those who perpetrate and believe the lies will fall under judgment for their lies. God will not allow their lies to stand. Economic hardship, instability, loss of robust national character, a dependency for security on a lying and undependable government are all signs of God’s judgment. These leaders hate and speak against their own nation. They turn a blind eye to their evil handiwork because it helps them; it promotes them. They justify it by saying, it will end up to the good of everyone. They keep saying, “It’s going to get better” and it never does. The result of a nation of liars and fools in their folly.

Proverbs 17:15 He who justifies the wicked, and he who condemns the righteous, Both of them alike are an abomination to Yahweh.

A crooked tongue is the man we are speaking about. They are headed for no good. Leadership is heading toward calamity, misery, and evil. Their future is dim and they see it as bright. They will lead the people in the same direction. Do not react with bitterness, with hatred with those things that are destructive to you. Do not perpetrate more lies. The crooked mind finds no good. They will fall into the condition of evil. No one who opposes God's truth, mocks His righteousness and His justice can come out the winner. They never can and they never will. Man's justice is failing in our country. God's justice never fails. No one escapes the justice of God and his judgments; no one.

For us, it should be easy to spot lies and ascertain evil in leadership and government. Doctrine in the soul is the hope of this nation. God honors those who execute His plan. You think, "What can I do?" For many, they think it is activism; and to speak out. But taking in Bible doctrine is the correct solution. That should always be your focus.

Proverbs 17:20 One who has a perverse heart doesn't find prosperity, And one who has a deceitful tongue falls into trouble [evil, calamity, misery].

Prov. 3:13; how blessed is the man who finds wisdom and the man who gains understanding. And the nation is blessed by association with such a one.

What Do We Do?

1. Be discerning and counter with the truth in your soul.
2. Don't listen to lying leaders. \
3. Don't become a fool in his folly. Stay away from bear cubs.
- 4.
5. Do not harbor hate for the fool and the liar. You harm only yourself.
6. Speak with excellent speech that comes from the Bible doctrine in your soul.

Bobby knows that there will be many lies forthcoming in this election. This nation will be preserved, regardless of the outcome of the nation. Our client nation status is not yet over. God has a purpose for this nation. Bobby looks at us and sees how government is growing beyond its limit. But we, as believers have nothing to fear than our own folly. Do not lose focus this year.

The watchword in 2012, no fear; no fear in your souls. No matter what. You life and the life of our nation is in the hands of the Lord. Do not blow your brains out on the 2nd Tuesday in November. Even if there are a bunch of lying leaders elected to power. Your world is Bible doctrine.

We take it for granted that Jesus is exactly Who He claims to be. Jesus cannot be a good man. If He claimed to be the only pathway to God, then He is one of the greatest liars in history. He is Who He says He is, or He is the world's greatest liar.

We are beginning the 2nd year of our Lord's ministry. He treked from Galilee to Jerusalem, about 50 miles or so. He went for a mandatory feast. He was a very well-known man in Jerusalem and very popular, but not popular with the religious leaders. The religious leaders looked for any opportunity to oppose Jesus or to even do away with Jesus.

If you name Jesus, this always gets a reaction, like no one else. A positive or a negative reaction. Jesus knew that He was walking right into the domain of the religious crowds. He did not shy away from confrontation; and it was often a great teaching vehicle. This was all part of God's plan for the life and ministry of Jesus Christ. This is what He came to do and this is how He showed Who He was. Even the worst things in life have a purpose. We struggle and fight and we try to deal with all of our problems in life; however, we can relax in the plan of God. Jesus takes care of us no matter what. The God of the universe cares for us individually. He came for each one of us and He die for each one of us. All these confrontations with the pharisees and the results were prophesied many times in the Old Testament. Isaiah 53 was a prophesy of these things and of the cross as well. 700 years before it all happened.

John 5:1 After this, a Jewish festival took place, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

John 5:2 By the Sheep Gate in Jerusalem there is a pool, called Bethesda in Hebrew, which has five colonnades.

John 5:3 Within these lay a multitude of the sick--blind, lame, and paralyzed [--waiting for the moving of the water,

This is one of the variants. It was added 350 years after this was originally written; about A.D. 400. This miracle that this man was waiting for was a myth. It had never taken place and it appears to be mythology because it contradicts all of the other miracles of the New Testament. All of the other miracles in the New Testament are based upon God's grace.

These sick and lame did believe wholeheartedly in this miracle. This was their hope of being cured from the incurable.

John 5:4 because an angel would go down into the pool from time to time and stir up the water. Then the first one who got in after the water was stirred up recovered from whatever ailment he had].

The longest occupant of this pool had been there for 38 years. He was very conspicuous at this pool. They all knew him.

John 5:5 One man was there who had been sick for 38 years.

Jesus knew that this man had been in this condition for a long time and Jesus asks him, "Do you want to get well?"

John 5:6 When Jesus saw him lying there and knew he had already been there a long time, He said to him, "Do you want to get well?"

Jesus wanted this man to reveal his lost soul; his sense of hopelessness. Jesus was probing his thinking and his spiritual condition. This would reveal the healing and this would reveal the spiritual healing and salvation that Jesus would bring to this man. This miracle would demonstrate so unequivocally. Our Lord shows that He is the Master of nature.

Either this is a lie here or it is true. Either Jesus is a lie or He is true. We can accept or reject salvation. We don't have to work for our salvation. It is all about Christ and not about us.

This man believed that all he had to do was get to that pool first. However, this man stubbornly held to the hope of this pool. He had not real hope. He expected that he could crawl into this pool at just the right time, and he would be healed.

John 5:7 "Sir," the sick man answered, "I don't have a man to put me into the pool when the water is stirred up, but while I'm coming [i.e., crawling toward the pool], someone goes down ahead of me."

Jesus tells him to stand up and grab his bedroll and walk.

John 5:8 "Get up," Jesus told him, "pick up your bedroll and walk!"

Those around must have thought, this is interesting.

John 5:9 Instantly the man got well, picked up his bedroll, and started to walk. Now that day was the Sabbath,

Now, this was what drove the religious types nuts. This lame man picked up his bedroll on the Sabbath. Only God could do something like this. Jesus healed the worst of the worst. Jesus used this miracle myth to point to the reality. The pool was not capable of healing anyone. This was a clear picture of the grace of God in salvation. This man did not earn what Jesus did for him. His healing was clearly by means of the Lord Jesus Christ. This was a perfect picture of what Jesus would do for us on the cross. Which one of us can earn the approbation of God? God must do something for us. This man deserved nothing. Jesus healed him.

When he stood up and picked up his bedroll, that violated one of the pharisee regulation. The pharisees had a huge code of regulations they expected everyone to follow. They want to enforce a sabbath filled with restrictions.

What was the Sabbath? Before the pharisees, it had become a legalistic holiday. They had just added on all of these regulations. It meant nothing but legalism. Jesus was going to show that they missed the point of God's power, of this miracle and of keeping the Sabbath. God instituted the Sabbath as a day of rest. It was all about God's grace. God had completed everything.

Jesus was the Lord of the Sabbath and all of these regulations obscured His work. A miracle was an unmistakable work of God; this showed Who Jesus was.

John 5:10 so the Jews said to the man who had been healed, "This is the Sabbath! It's illegal for you to pick up your bedroll."

The man was clueless; he did not understand what had happened. He did not know even that Jesus performed this miracle.

At this point, the man did not recognize Who Jesus was. People regarded a bodily infirmity that this was a heinous sin or group of sins that caused this. The man himself believed this as well. He was paralyzed because he was a bad person.

Now, he was healed through no self-effort. He believed that his discipline from God had been lifted. He did not know why he deserved such great fortune and he did not recognize who had healed him.

John 5:14 After this, Jesus found him in the temple complex and said to him, "See, you are well. Do not sin any more, so that something worse doesn't happen to you."

He spent 38 years waiting for a miracle, and Jesus came there and performed the miracle. This guy did not thank Jesus nor did he seem to give Him any consideration. The obvious question is, "Who are you? How did this happen?"

This guy was extremely excited about what happened.

John 5:10 so the Jews said to the man who had been healed, "This is the Sabbath! It's illegal for you to pick up your bedroll."

This man is clearly healed and the pharisees did what ever it was to get the name of the one telling him to pick up his bedroll.

The pharisees call him in and they question him, and they cannot find out much from him.

John 5:11 He replied, "The man who made me well told me, 'Pick up your bedroll and walk.'"

John 5:12 "Who is this man who told you, 'Pick up your bedroll and walk?'" they asked.

John 5:13 But the man who was cured did not know who it was, because Jesus had slipped away into the crowd that was there.

John 5:14 After this, Jesus found him in the temple complex and said to him, "See, you are well. Do not sin any more, so that something worse doesn't happen to you."

Since this man believed his paralysis to be sin-induced, the whole impact was brought home to this man right here. "If I start sinning again, then I could end up lame again." Lead the cause of your paralysis behind as you have left your paralysis behind.

Jesus used this man's viewpoint that he caused his own painfulness. Jesus is telling him not to sin because the result could be even worse than the 38 years of paralysis. An unregenerated soul would be even worse that all this paralysis that he faced.

Why would the Lord tell this man not to sin anymore when that is not possible? As we grow spiritually, we sin less and less; and the Lord knows this. This man would not stop sinning. Jesus was referring to the one sin that would condemn this man for all eternity. Don't go back to the paralysis; believe in Jesus Christ.

Jesus and the Paralytic

1. "I have healed you from your paralysis which you understand to be caused by sin."
2. "If I can healed you from this paralysis, could I not heal you from the sin that you think was causing this paralysis.
3. Logically, if Jesus could heal this man of his sickness, then he could heal this man from his sins. He needs to be saved from his sins. Jesus dies as our substitute; He took our place.
4. God justice and righteousness are absolutes.
5. Far worse is to ignore the One Who saves from sin; the Savior. Why didn't Jesus heal everyone? Jesus was emphasizing the spiritual healing. This is what He revealed through this one man.

John 5:15 The man went and reported to the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well.

Lesson #0208

Jn 5: Life of Christ

1/5/2012 Thurs

Jesus went to a feast in Jerusalem and He went to a pool and there were sick and withered people there, and He chose one and healed him. Jesus chose this man for 2 reasons: to reintroduce Himself to Jerusalem as the Messiah and the Savior. He did so by an action that only God could accomplish. He picked a particular day on which to perform this miracle and He did this in order to stir up some controversy. This would reveal their hypocrisy. Jesus used all sorts of methods and means to communicate. He used these approaches to show and to teach; and some of the pharisees were convinced. But our Lord used these controversies so that He could teach. The first objective was aided by the man He had healed. Jesus told him to get up and walk; and this man was instantly and completely healed. His legs with withered, never exercised; and suddenly, he could get up and walk. Did muscles materialize? He picked up his bed; so this indicates that he was restored to a healthy man with all the capabilities of someone who is not a paralytic. This could be done by no one but God. This man was an aide to that. Everyone who knew this man knew that his curing was a miracle. There was nothing like this. It was extraordinary that a 38-year paralytic to be able to stand and to lift up his pallet.

This myth of some angel stirring up the poor was blown out of the water. Jesus gained a hearing as a divine miracle worker.

But the problem was, this man that He healed did not realize Who healed him. He did not ask any questions and he did not even thank him. He got up, walked around; and when he was surrounded, he was unable to identify the person who healed him. Jesus Christ wanted everyone to know. That was part of the point. Jesus had to seek out and identify Himself to this man and He found this man in the Temple.

Jesus found him in the Temple; "See, you are well; now do not sin any more so that nothing worse may befall you." Now, it is impossible for anyone to live the rest of their lives without sin. What could this mean?

Everyone there thought that this man was paralyzed because he sinned or had committed a group of sins. "You've been healed; don't sin anymore." In other words, do not go back to your old ways. This guy had been healed physically, but his sins had been forgiven, which was even greater than being healed from paralysis.

Only the Messiah could do what Jesus has done. He wanted this man to tell the pharisees what had happened. They might have had him in there to complain that he lifted up his bedroll. He did that under the command of Jesus Christ.

The pharisees decided that this was the wrong day for a miracle and the wrong day for Jesus to heal this man.

John 5:14 After this, Jesus found him in the temple complex and said to him, "See, you are well. Do not sin any more, so that something worse doesn't happen to you."

Apparently, meeting Jesus revealed Who He was to this man.

John 5:15 The man went and reported to the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well.

We will go back a few verses; and these pharisees caught this man in a Sabbath violation. That was their duty before God to catch this man carrying a pallet

John 5:10 so the Jews said to the man who had been healed, "This is the Sabbath! It's illegal for you to pick up your bedroll."

This man told on Jesus. It wasn't me. The One Who healed me told me to pick up my bedroll and walk. He is trying to get out of this. Bobby's advice, own up to what you did wrong when you are stopped by a cop.

John 5:11 He replied, "The man who made me well told me, 'Pick up your bedroll and walk.'"

Who was this guy?

John 5:12 "Who is this man who told you, 'Pick up your bedroll and walk?'" they asked.

They guy was excited to walk; and in the crowd, Jesus then disappeared into the crowd.

John 5:13 But the man who was cured did not know who it was, because Jesus had slipped away into the crowd that was there.

The pharisees made a god out of the Sabbath. The pharisees may have had a huddle beofre the beginning of the day and each would take a few regs and go out and see if anyone was violating those regs.

This man was in public violation. The pharisees were very jealous of their traditions they were out scouting for violations. They were big religious government. They were the government. The Romans were over everything, but the religious leaders had a great deal of power over the Jews. They were allowed to enforce the Mosaic Law. The Romans didn't care much about what the Jews did with regards to keeping the law, that was fine with them. They did not want the Jews to riot.

It was their sacred duty before God was to find those violating their regulations.

Jesus, the Paralytic and the Sabbath

1. This was an undeniable miracle. He was paralyzed for 38 years, so most knew him.
2. The only thing that these religious zealots could think about was a ridiculous violation of the Sabbath. They worried about a violation of the Sabbath.
3. That is religion. It is ridiculous and legalistic. This is locked-in negative volition. Over and over again, we see all kinds of people who see miracles and they still say no. That is the power of negative volition. You may ask, how can people in government think the things that they think and do that things that they do.
4. Jesus meant to do this on the Sabbath. He is the Lord of the Sabbath.

Once this guy knew what was up, Who Jesus was, he went back tot the Temple and told them. Maybe his not sinning is what caused him to do this.

If the pharisees had been attuned to this miracle and Who performed it, it was proof that Jesus is the Messiah. However, they can only think of Sabbath violations.

People who consider themselves a good person because of works; and that would be a religious person. The pharisees cannot see or know God. They know themselves best.

The Jews were persecuting Jesus because He was healing on the Sabbath. This was a violation, in their opinion, of the Sabbath. The people of Judæa looked at these Jews and their silly law-keeping, and many rejected them for that reason. If you view Christianity as a set of rules by which you impress God, then you might reject it outright as well. Particularly the ridiculously legalistic rules that the religious Jews were presenting.

John 5:16 Therefore, the Jews began persecuting Jesus because He was doing [imperfect active indicative] these things on the Sabbath.

Jesus was apparently a serial violator of the Sabbath; but the pharisees were afraid of Him because He was too popular with the people. He was doing more than just this one miracle.

Jesus kept on doing this Sabbath thing. This verb is coupled with the accusative neuter plural of οὗτος.

Then Jesus blew their minds by calling God His Father.

Jesus' Response

His answer to the pharisees is this: But Jesus responded to them, "My Father is still working, and I am working also."

1. Jesus revealed exactly Who He was in this answer.
2. Jesus had not violated the Sabbath, as they contended; He violated their religious regulations.
3. He claimed God as His Father. That was blasphemy.
4. He says He is working just as God the Father is working. What the Father does, Jesus is doing. He does the identical work.
5. Jesus is saying, God the Son was following God the Father's lead.
6. If the Father works on the Sabbath, then why shouldn't He?

Jesus' Response II

1. Jesus was doing this for the betterment of man.
2. Jesus was doing this for the people. The Jews knew this. Jesus gave them everything.
3. This is what the Father had been doing from the beginning from the institution of the Sabbath. That was the point.
4. This reveals God's grace.
5. Shouldn't the manifestation of God's grace continue to perform gracious acts on the Sabbath.
6. This is why Jesus came to earth for. The greatest act of grace and Jesus was showing them right to their faces .

the pharisees were now in a quandry. God's grace occurs all of the time. God's grace never ceases. So how can they deny that God is working. So why shouldn't Jesus Christ follow the same pattern? He had already proven Who he was by this healing. If He is God, then He should continue to work. To show the same grace as His Father, then He had to do what His Father did. And the pharisees logically concluded that He was making Himself equal to God.

If Jesus is God, so what if He performed a miracle on the Sabbath. He was Lord of the Sabbath. The miracle was done through the omnipotence of God. God's grace is shown each and every day; and if Jesus is the Son of God, then He ought to be working as well. What can they say to this? How can they answer this?

They simply deny that He is God. They understood that He was making this claim and they knew that He healed, something no one else could do. The pharisees challenge His claim. The pharisees did not believe.

What better day to see the works of God manifested before them?

John 5:17 But Jesus responded to them, "My Father is still working, and I am working also."

Lesson #0209

John 5:10–19 Life of Christ

1/8/2012 1Sunday

The miracle that we have been studying is the first of the Sabbath miracles. Such miracles were designed to bring a confrontation with the pharisees. Every sabbath was to be obeyed to the greatest legalistic letter. The pharisees tolerated nothing when it came to Sabbath violation.

In this legalism, the pharisees veiled the meaning of the Law and the feasts and ceremonies. They focused on the activity of the Sabbath day as opposed to its meaning. They were very jealous about their power and position in Palestine. They policed the Sabbath with great vigor.

By performing miracles on the Sabbath, Jesus Christ challenged that power and they revealed that power.

All sorts of lame and withered gathered at this pool, based upon a miracle tradition; and Jesus arrived at this pool and He cured a man; and they had not seen this before. This man had been a paralytic for 38 years. Jesus told him, "Get up; pick up your bed and walk." This miracle set off a chain of events. Any carrying of a burden, like his pallet, was a huge violation of the Sabbath. The miracle represented the presence and power of God in their midst; and they were concerned only about this violation of a Sabbath-day regulation.

John 5:10 so the Jews said to the man who had been healed, "This is the Sabbath! It's illegal for you to pick up your bedroll."

Despite the great healing that took place, what interested the Pharisees was the Sabbath day violation.

John 5:11 He replied, "The man who made me well told me, 'Pick up your bedroll and walk.'"

He attempts to deflect blame.

John 5:12 "Who is this man who told you, 'Pick up your bedroll and walk?'" they asked.

However, this man did not know Who Jesus was. He did not even noticed Who Jesus is.

John 5:13 But the man who was cured did not know who it was, because Jesus had slipped away into the crowd that was there.

After this interview, Jesus spoke to the man.

John 5:14 After this, Jesus found him in the temple complex and said to him, "See, you are well. Do not sin any more, so that something worse doesn't happen to you."

So to take the heat off himself, this man goes back to the pharisees. The Jews know Who Jesus is.

John 5:15 The man went and reported to the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well.

The Jews don't think about the miracle. They decide to attack out Lord directly.

John 5:16 Therefore, the Jews began persecuting Jesus because He was doing these things on the Sabbath.

They send someone out to grab Jesus and they interrogate Him. They are very zealous prosecutors. Jesus was not hiding. He stood in front of these pharisees as a man. He will reply to their questions. They interview Him and He answers them.

Ion one sentence, Jesus reveals Who He is and why He heals on the Sabbath. He makes the unequivocal claim to deity. "You will come in here and tell us to our faces that You are God?"

God the Father was working, on that day and on every other. The pharisees had to agree with that. Jesus was involved in upholding every grace at that time. God invented the Sabbath; could He not work on His Own day?

Jesus and the Sabbath

1. If He was the Son of God, should He not also be working like God the Father was working?
2. What the Father does, the Son does.
3. The Son was just following the Son's lead.
- 4.
5. "If My Father is working, why shouldn't I work?"

6. How can this be a violation of the Sabbath since I am God.
7. This is how Jesus showed He is God the Son.
8. Jesus reveals that He is the demonstration of God's grace by His working of a miracle on a sabbath.
9. This work demonstrated why Jesus came to work in the form of a man.

Jesus makes the claim and His miracle shows that it is true; and yet, this empirical evidence was not enough to believe. People constantly reject the Lord Jesus Christ. People continue to claim that they reject Jesus Christ because there is no empirical proof.

There were lots of witnesses. This is clear empirical evidence. The evidence was right in front of their eyes and they heard it. The pharisees placed themselves above the grace of God. They superimposed their phony religious concepts of religion over these events.

Religion constantly foresees.

John 5:17 But Jesus responded to them, "My Father is still working, and I am working also."

And editorial comment by the pharisees.

He violates the Sabbath and now He claims to be God. This was 1000x worse in their eyes. It could not get any worse to them.

John 5:18 This is why the Jews began trying all the more to kill Him: not only was He breaking the Sabbath, but He was even calling God His own Father, making Himself equal with God.

They could carry Him on their shoulders or they could reject Him.

The penalty for His sabbath-breaking was the cross. They wanted Him to feel great pain. This is the blind arrogance of religion.

John 5:19 Then Jesus replied, "I assure you: The Son is not able to do anything on His own, but only what He sees the Father doing. For whatever the Father does, the Son also does these things in the same way."

Humanism is just as antagonistic toward the Lord Jesus Christ. It is just as much a view of Satan. Humanism is right there with religion as one of Satan's greatest weapons. The God of this world opposes Jesus Christ with hatred and venom. He is always trying to deflect man from doctrine.

Our job is to glorify Jesus Christ. We are not to just follow some ritual. That is not Christianity. Humanism simply denies the existence of God. Humanism always attacks our Savior.

This man is healed, and he does not know Who healed him. He finds out later, and the pharisees call in Jesus.

These words of Jesus is the worst thing that they have ever heard.

John 5:18 This is why the Jews began trying all the more to kill Him: not only was He breaking the Sabbath, but He was even calling God His own Father, making Himself equal with God.

Humanism is no different from religion; they simply leave out God. They systematically attack Christianity, and yet they give evil religious groups a pass. That is secularism and evil religion working together.

Bobby is going to be watching Tim Tebow today. He is not afraid to speak out about Jesus Christ. He is a very vocal person of Jesus Christ and his love of Jesus Christ. He uses interesting illustrations. If you love your wife, you tell her; so he thinks to do this with his Lord. He is scorned and ridiculed. The opposition just wants him to keep his mouth shut. "Just don't say it on the air." They write articles about him; and they talk about him. They do not want a witness for Jesus Christ broadcasting over their airwaves. They are thrilled that he has lost a few games.

These same media outlets will go out of their way to downplay true evil religion. They ignored or sweep under the rug what has been done. Satan fears when the Lord Jesus Christ is testified to, particularly on a national scale. Religion is the devil's ace trump and they oppose Jesus Christ in any way that He is presented. They are all opposed to Christ. If you do not have the mind of Christ, then you oppose Him.

So what we read in v. 18 continues even to today. They do seek to kill His influence and His doctrine and those who would learn or perpetrate His Word. Christians are dying all over the world simply because they are believers. It could even have here; particularly if certain secular and religious groups come to power. This persecution is a part of the devil's world.

Jesus now proclaims truth to the pharisees and to all those who are around and are listening. Jesus will give 7 points to indicate that He is equal to God.

He answers their objections and their unbelief.

Truly, truly indicates that Jesus is going to make a point of doctrine. He might as well be saying, "Get out your pencils; a 7-point doctrine."

There is an equality in works; and there is also a subordination in the humanity of the Son for the work of the 1st advent. The Deity of Jesus Christ is equal to God; and His humanity is inferior to God. Jesus Christ can do in like manner what the Father does. Whatever Jesus does, by way of works, is directed and guided by God the Father. Everything that Jesus did was within God's will.

Jesus Does What the Father Has Him do

1. He makes the statement, "I have acted just as the Father would act."
2. This means that Jesus followed the will of the Father while performing works that only God the Father could do.
3. The Father has delegated an authority to the Son to utilize His Deity. Kenosis, which means to empty [oneself of the independent use of His Deity].
4. This same sort of authority that was delegated to Jesus in creation. Heb. 1:1–3 In many ways and in various ways of old, God spoke to the fathers in the prophets; in these last days He spoke to us in the Son, whom He appointed heir of all; through whom He indeed made the ages; who being the shining splendor of His glory, and the express image of His essence, and upholding all things by the Word of His power, having made purification of our sins through Himself, He sat down on the right of the Majesty on high, Psa. 110:1 Jesus Christ created the world; He was the agent of creation. The Father was the planner of creation. Jesus Christ executed the Father's plan; just as Jesus Christ executes the plan of salvation here on earth.
5. The Son does the same thing as the Father; equal power and equal omniscience.

God allows all men to have their free will. He does not control what we do, but He influences and uses circumstances and all history eventually adheres to the plan of God. We make all of the decisions that we make, and these decisions eventually come out in such a way as to bring about the objective of the plan of God.

John 5:19 Then Jesus replied, "I assure you: The Son is not able to do anything on His own, but only what He sees the Father doing. For whatever the Father does, the Son also does these things in the same way.

Now we move on to another equality. God the Father shows His Son all that He is doing.

John 5:20 For the Father loves the Son and shows Him everything He is doing, and He will show Him greater works than these so that you will be amazed.

Just as the Father can raise the dead and give them life, so Jesus can give life to anyone that He wishes to. There is an intimacy in which everything the Father does is revealed to the Son. All knowledge. They are on an equal footing concerning knowledge. Jesus shows God in all things. Jesus knows all that the Father knows; He is omniscient as God is. God the Son will be able to do every greater works, that they can all observe.

Part of the work of creation was to breathe life into Adam and the woman. He created human life, which includes soul life. He breathes in soul-life, which includes a spirit for spiritual life and fellowship with God. Our spirit is our ability to have capacity for fellowship with God. Jesus Christ did this as the Creator of life. Logically, can He not give life to others? Is Jesus limited to giving life to just these 2? So Jesus claims that He can give life to anyone. So, again, He is claiming to be equal to the Father. This is the 2nd equality. Then he speaks of resurrection. God the Son has the power over life; and Jesus says this looking at these pharisees. This is spiritual life as well as physical life. Adam, when he fell, lost fellowship with God. Jesus Christ can restore this as well.

The resurrection is to eternal life. Jesus shows this in His resuscitation of Lazarus. There will be His resurrection from the dead as well for eternal residence of God the Father. Without the resurrection, there is no life. No resurrection means that we have a dead god on our hands and no hope and no life. The grace of God is being manifested; and this is a greater miracle than any miracle. God will resurrect believers to eternal life to reside forever in heaven. Jesus will also return at the rapture to raise Church Age believers from the dead; and then He will return at the 2nd advent to raise up Old Testament saints. At the end of the Millennium, Jesus will raise up unbelievers for eternal judgment.

Jesus can give eternal life; so, therefore, He is eternal. This is a claim of divinity.

John 5:21 And just as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so the Son also gives life to anyone He wants to.

So far, Jesus has given 3 proofs of His divinity.

John 5:22 The Father, in fact, judges no one but has given all judgment to the Son,

Lesson #0211

John 5: 18–29 Life of Christ

1/11/2012 Wed

Article from Houston Chronicle from a pastor who tries to reach out to everyone to come to his church, so he opened up a tattoo parlor in his church building. Michigan. Serenity Tattoo. Bentley. He considers tattooing or morally neutral and he likens it to getting one's ears pierced. We are about being relevant. When Bible doctrine is not taught, churches are irrelevant. Coffee shops, bowling alleys, tattoo parlors may draw people into a church, but it is meaningless without doctrine.

Everything that Jesus did was for a purpose. All that He did had a purpose. He did nothing randomly or mindlessly. We may go through life without a thought or with far too many thoughts; this was true of His preaching, His travels, His confrontations, etc. These all served to identify Jesus Christ to all those around Him. Everything Jesus did was for the purpose of coming to this earth. He always gave those around Him the opportunity to accept Him as Savior. He also taught the Word of God; He taught doctrine.

A perfect example of this is the miracle that Jesus performed in John 5. He chose to heal on the Sabbath and He did this because it would bring immediate attention from the religious leaders. This would violate their hundreds of regulations. Actually, it did not, but it seemed as if it should. This fell right into His plan. This was a setup; they fell right into His plan. When they confronted Him about Sabbath-breaking, Jesus introduced them to a doctrine of the hypostatic union and His equality with God. These are fundamental to the gospel and the Christology. It is fundamental to Who He is. He claimed to be equal to God and they understood what he was saying. Equality with God was to be God. He was saying, "I am God." To the pharisees, this was a heinous blasphemy. This was the worst blasphemy that these pharisees had ever heard. Although, if this is true, then it cannot be blasphemous.

7 points which prove that He is God.

John 5:18 This is why the Jews began trying all the more to kill Him: not only was He breaking the Sabbath, but He was even calling God His own Father, making Himself equal with God.

Truly, truly means, this is absolute truth. Jesus cannot do anything on His Own. What God the Father does, so the Son does in like manner.

The First Point Jesus Makes

1. Jesus identifies Himself with the Father in His works.
2. The Son can do in like manner what the Father does.
3. The Son is equal to God in the work that He accomplishes.
4. Jesus claims to be equally omnipotent as God the Father.

John 5:19 Then Jesus replied, "I assure you: The Son is not able to do anything on His Own, but only what He sees the Father doing. For whatever the Father does, the Son also does these things in the same way.

The second point is in v. 20.

The Second Point That Jesus Makes

1. The claim is, here, that Jesus has equal knowledge with the Father.
2. The Father shows Him all things, is what the verse says.
3. Nothing is hidden from the Son.
4. Jesus knows everything that the Father knows.

John 5:20 For the Father loves the Son and shows Him everything He is doing, and He will show Him greater works than these so that you will be amazed.

The third point. God the Father raises from the dead and gives them life; the Son can do this as well. Jesus can give life to whom He wishes.

The Third Point

1. Here, Jesus claims the power over life and the power to bestow life. Physical, spiritual and eternal life. All of them. He claims that power.
2. This is the power of resurrection from the dead. What is death. When you die, you are an inanimate object. You are just a lump of flesh. Your soul is still living. God has the ability to raise a lifeless body from death. God has power over death and Jesus will die so that we can be regenerated.

3. Only God can do this. A spiritually dead person cannot have any affect here.
4. Jesus has delegated power over all life; even eternal life with all in the resurrection.
5. He must exist as eternal, which is another attribute of God.

John 5:21 And just as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so the Son also gives life to anyone He wants to.

The 4th equality is in v. 22 and 27?

The Fourth Equality

1. Jesus is the judge with the full power of absolute judgement.
2. This is an authority equal to that of God the Father. Jesus Christ confirms here. This is what a judge has. A human judge has authority in limited areas. Jesus has absolute authority over everything.
3. Jesus has the power of judgment over the entire human race.
4. This is fitting, as Jesus is the Savior of the human race.
5. He will undertake at various times and in different dispensations the action of judging all mankind. That authority was delegated to Him. Believers and unbelievers both.
6. This authority prove the equality of the Father and Son. Absolute justice of God.

John 5:22 The Father, in fact, judges no one but has given all judgment to the Son,

The fifth is related to honor. If you do not honor the Son, then you do not honor the Father. V. 23 is connected to the previous verse with a purpose clause. This is the beginning of how we recognize a purpose clause. In order that or for the purpose of. Aorist active subjunctive. To hold in highest respect. V. 23 begins with a purpose clause tying these two verses together.

How Does the Power of Judgment Bring Honor?

1. One who judges holds the future of a person in his hand. If you face a judge, that judge holds the future in your hand.
2. Because of that, when one faces a judge, it is in humility. This is in facing one who has authority over a person. Humility is the order of the day. Without humility in front of that authority, then you are a fool.
3. Jesus Christ Who has the power of judgement given by God is vested with absolute authority for judgement.
4. Jesus holds the life of every person in His hand. He is gracious and loving and He is also justice and righteousness.
5. Therefore, as the judge, He is worthy of absolute honor and must be approached with humility. He is the ultimate judge. Our eternal future is in His hands.

6. He is therefore due all honor and worship. The pharisees would never do this.
7. The pharisees believe that they honor God the Father but they would never honor God the Son.

Jesus negated all that they did, because these pharisees were not honoring God. They prided themselves in their great honor of God, but they did not really honor Him. Worship is a mental attitude, first and foremost.

Jesus was equal to God in perfect justice. He is the judge and He must therefore have perfect justice. Jesus looked these pharisees in the eye and told them, "If you do not honor Me, then you do not honor God the Father." This was judgment on them.

The fifth equality is God the Son should be accorded the same honor as the Father.

John 5:23 so that all people will honor the Son just as they honor the Father. Anyone who does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent Him.

Vv. 24–25 are the 6th equality.

John 5:24 "I assure you: Anyone who hears My word and believes Him who sent Me has eternal life and will not come under judgment but has passed from death to life.

Jesus continues; those who hear will live. Spiritual life and eternal life. Jesus is looking at the pharisees and telling them, "I have the power to give that life." To hear the words of Jesus Christ is to hear the gospel of life. The person who believes that God has sent His Son, then he has life bestowed. God promised as early as Gen. 3:15, which promise is fulfilled in Jesus Christ. The only approach to a life of relationship with the Father is through the Son. The Son is given the prerogative of judgment.

The believer does not come into judgement, but has passed out of judgment into eternal life, from death to life.

Jesus tells them that He will judge at a future time. The dead will hear the voice of the Son of God and those Who hear will live. This is divine life in a resurrection body. The very life that Jesus possesses; the first fruits of resurrection. This judgment will be how we are rewarded. His position as judge also extends to the dead who have not accepted Christ.

The pharisees who stand before Him are dead. They have not heard His voice in this life, but they will hear His voice after death. They will rise from their tomb, but it will be a judgment of death. They will undergo the most terrible judgment of all; the great white throne judgment; the last judgment.

John 5:25 "I assure you: An hour is coming, and is now here, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live.

John 5:26 For just as the Father has life in Himself, so also He has granted to the Son to have life in Himself.

The Son of Man can pass judgment.

John 5:27 And He has granted Him the right to pass judgment, because He is the Son of Man.

Jesus possesses transcendent life-giving power. There is a time when all who are in the graves will hear His voice.

John 5:28 Do not be amazed at this, because a time is coming when all who are in the graves will hear His voice

Those who have done good, to the resurrection of life; and those who have done evil, to the resurrection of judgment. Now, if we interpret this to mean that lots of good deeds means we will be saved; and bad deeds means that we will not. However, that cannot be the interpretation, as it goes against the rest of the Bible.

The Deeds of Believers and Unbelievers

1. Only the believer can perform divine good. This indicates a separation of believers and unbelievers from the perspective of deeds; not for salvation but for separation. It is a separation.
2. Human good is called dead works in the Bible.
3. Human good is sponsored by the sin nature. Even good deeds are dead deeds. They are done from the platform of the sin nature.
4. The unbeliever can only operate from the sin nature.
5. Human good is unacceptable to God. Only divine good is acceptable to God.
6. Therefore, all deeds of human good are just as evil as evil deeds in the sight of God. Human good is the same to God as evil deeds. We make a distinction. God does not make such a distinction.
7. Human good cannot be the means of salvation. Titus 3:5
8. Even the believer's human good is condemned at the Bama seat of Christ. They will be burned. The believer is not condemned for human good but unbelievers will be condemned for their human good. All that is acceptable to Jesus Christ is His righteousness in us. Without that, we fall short. That is why human good deeds are tantamount to evil deeds.

Why?

1. The unbeliever depends on these deeds for eternal life.
2. He has not believed in Jesus Christ and he does not possess eternal life.
3. He cannot possess eternal life in relation to God. He has no spiritual life.
4. Even his good deeds are evil because they attempt to replace the work that Jesus accomplished on the cross. They are resurrected to death.

5. The unbeliever is resurrected to eternal damnation.

John 5:29 and come out--those who have done good things, to the resurrection of life, but those who have done wicked things, to the resurrection of judgment.

The equality of eternal life with God is what Jesus possesses. Jesus can bestow eternal life as well, just as God could. 6 equalities, and this does not make the pharisees very happy. They will become very angry at #7

Lesson #0212

John 5: Life of Christ

1/12/2012 Thurs

The pharisees always prided themselves in their theological prowess; but no match for Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ presents Himself as God, clearly; and it drives the pharisees out of their minds.

Jesus cannot break the Sabbath; it is dedicated to Him. The pharisees are looking at the Lord of the Sabbath and claiming that He is breaking the Sabbath. The irony of the pharisees claiming that Jesus was violating the Sabbath. It is Christ's opportunity to present Himself to the pharisees a 7 point doctrine why he can make His claims to deity.

Jesus was not prevented from giving the truth, even if it made some want to murder Him. The end result was, this indicted the pharisees; they intended to indict our Lord but they themselves were indicted. The pharisees were total arrogance. Arrogance is just an inflated ego and the source of an inflated ego. Whenever ego is inflated, ego will be deflated. Arrogance feeds and lives on lies. People live on lies and they do not believe that they can be found to be wrong. When they come down, they come down hard. Athletes who are arrogant are not athletes for most of their lives. If all they have is their egotism and their athleticism, they have nothing else. That is how ego is. The attitude of the arrogant is ultimately their downfall. Humility is always the attitude of success. Humility is not, roll over and play dead; but we ought not to think more highly of ourselves than we ought to think.

Knowledge of our Lord and Savior is the key. It is difficult to grasp that a real person, just like us, is God. Even though our Lord took on humanity, He never gave up any of His Deity. He did humble Himself. You can say something today that is politically incorrect today, and it is called disrespect, and people go nuts over it. God and man in One Person got a lot of disrespect. Disrespect ought not to phase us who are secure in Bible doctrine. Your life should not hinge upon what other people think of you.

A lot of hits on John 3:16 after one Tebow game.

6 Points on the Quality of God the Son with God the Father

1. Equal in works. These are things which Jesus has in equal measure with God the Father. He is omnipotent. John 5:19

2. Equal knowledge in v. 20 with the Father. Jesus knows everything that the Father knows. The Father has informed Him. This is the claim of omniscience.
3. He claims to have power over life and the power to bestow life. V. 21 This life or power of life is truly one of the most amazing concepts of theology. This is the power of resurrection from the dead. Only God can do this.
4. Claiming the power to judge; the full power of judgment over the human race. Vv. 22 and 27. A judge has authority. A judge has authority over those who are in his court. He has the power of life and death, in some cases. Our Lord is the absolute judge and He has absolute authority with the Father. He will judge with all of that authority in the future. Jesus came in the 1st advent, not as a judge, but as our Savior. However, here, He claims to be judge, which is His function in the 2nd advent.
5. Equal honor with God the Father. The One who wields perfect judgement is worth of honor and worship. The pharisees to whom He is speaking want to kill Him.
6. Life-giving power, which includes spiritual life and eternal life. Jesus has life-giving power.
7. The final equality is the claim of eternal, self-existence.

John 5:26 For just as the Father has life in Himself, so also He has granted to the Son to have life in Himself.

What Does V. 26 Mean?

1. Just as the Father has life in Himself, so the Son has life in Himself. This is perhaps the most stunning of all the equalities that our Lord spoke of.
2. The Father and the Son both possess inherent life.
3. The Father has given life to His Son.
4. This is, in the sense that, in Himself, Jesus Christ has life as an eternal gift of the Father.
5. This refers to His humanity as generated by God the Holy Spirit. This does not mean that the Son's Deity is derived from the Father. His Deity is eternal.
6. However, the Father is the origin of all life because life is inherent to Him.
- 7.
8. The equal deity of Christ, which our Lord has clearly claimed, must also have life as an inherent quality. Just like the Father, He is the origin of life. Heb. 1:2
9. The conclusion; the divine existence of the Father and the Son is exactly the same. The Father exists in heaven; eternally existed, life in Himself; and Jesus tells them, "This same Deity is what you are looking at, pharisees."

The quality of asaity which is the self-existence of God.

The Asaity of Jesus Christ

1. God is alive. God is a living being; He is a Living God. Jesus Christ reveals God, and God is a Living Being.

2. Deity exists and is characterized by life. The assertion of His Name, "I am," as God introduced Himself to Moses. He is a personal, living being. He has a personal existence. That is in distinction from the inanimate objects of metal deities or those conjured up by our own minds. Man has all sorts of ways of thinking about Who God is; man may think of God is simply a life-force. Many people think about God as existing in this way.
3. God is truly alive; He is not just a force. In Him is life. This is where evolution would disagree; that is not the case. The source of life is in the universe itself, as evolution would claim.
4. God is understood as creating and controlling all other life and nature. This is why Jesus can say, He has the power of resurrection. He can create life where there is no life. This is true in regeneration as well.
5. All creatures have their life in God and in no other way. Our life is a reflection of the life that is in God. We are alive and personal beings and God defines Himself in exactly the same way in Scripture.
6. His life is distinctly different from all other living beings. There is a similarity, but it is distinctly different as well.
7. All other creatures have a beginning. We need to have our lives sustained. We need food, warmth. There are many things that can take our lives from us. Matt. 6:23– the birds and flowers depend upon God's provision.
8. God has no such need to sustain His Own life. He does not need food, clothing or protection of any sort. Acts 17:24–25 The God who made the world and all things in it, since He is Lord of Heaven and earth, does not dwell in temples made with hands, nor is served with men's hands, as though He needed anything, since He gives life and breath and all things to all. God needs nothing for life.
9. Life is contained only in Him and there is not other outside source for life. This is what Jesus is saying to these guys. He is life. He can bestow life. Only God can do this. He is life. He is what He claims to be. He is not dependent upon man for anything.

God's life may be described as self-existence.

What Does Asaity Really Means?

1. The source of life is wholly within God Himself.
2. God does not derive His life from any external source; God was never generated in some way from some other source.
3. God's life is not dependent upon anything outside of Himself.
4. The continuation of God's existence does not comp
5. Since life is inherent to Him, there is never a time when God did not exist as a living being. How can a finite man perceive eternity? God is self-existent.
6. God was never brought into being because life characterizes God. There was never a time when He was not alive.

7. Before anything came to be, God was already in existence. Gen. 1:1 God was there in a beginning which was not a beginning.
8. Eternal existence can be applied only to God.

We will share the eternal life of Jesus Christ. Our life will be everlasting; the life of God; pitiful us will possess this life for Jesus will arise in this universe and we will gain the life of God after our resurrection.

Elections and all of our little problems pale in significance to our everlasting life.

And there are these pharisees, angry at our Lord, desiring to kill Him. Jesus Christ reveals that.

Jesus claims this same life as God in v. 26:

John 5:26 For just as the Father has life in Himself, so also He has granted to the Son to have life in Himself.

Jesus is in the beginning and life is contained in Him.

John 1:1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

John 1:2 He was in the beginning with God.

John 1:3 All things came into being through Him, and without Him not even one thing came into being that has come into being.

John 1:4 In Him was life, and the life was the light of men.

And Jesus also presents His humanity which includes His subordination to the father.

John 5:30 "I can do nothing on My own. I judge only as I hear, and My judgment is righteous, because I do not seek My own will, but the will of Him who sent Me.

Lesson #0213

John 5: Life of Christ

1/15/2012 1Sunday

Communion Sunday:

We must remember Who Christ is and what He has done for us. "The Son of Man has come to seek and save that which was lost."

Daniel uses this title Behold, the Son of Man is coming, and He came up to the Ancient of Days and was presented before Him. In the context of the 1st advent, the Son of Man became a universal name for the Messiah. The cross was the landmark event that opened the way for the salvation of all mankind. This title focuses on the humanity of Jesus Christ.

He was fully aware that He is God incarnate. He understands the hypostatic union, even if we do not. He accomplished our salvation in following the plan of God.

This title indicates that Jesus knew Himself; what His place was. All are the sons of individual men. He was the Man of the Ages, co-equal with the Ancient of Days. Jesus, therefore, makes a distinction between himself and all other men. He is the Mediator, through Whom God reaches man, and man reaches God. He is the source of eternal life in man to anyone who expresses faith alone in Christ alone. This is His purpose.

Paul spoke further of this in 1Cor. 15:4 The first Adam became a living soul and the second Adam became a life-giving spirit. The first Adam failed to become what God had him to be. The human race is lost because we are in Adam and we are in need of Adam.

There is a lost purpose, a lost life; but the worst loss is the loss of one's soul; loss to oneself and a loss to our everlasting welfare. Adrift, bewildered, abandoned, defeated. Lost is all the man is. We are born lost.

"I'm not lost, because I lead a good life; I am a credit to my neighborhood and my society." But we are lost at the moment of our first breath. The scripture tells us that when a man does not trust in the finished work of Jesus Christ, he is lost for all eternity, separated from God forever.

Our spiritually dead position in Adam blinds us to the mission of Jesus Christ. We are blinded by our own self-righteousness. The god of this world also blinds us. We need light to be oriented and to be found. "I am the Light of the world." Jesus Christ has exposed sin to all mankind. We are dead in our souls and we need a life-giving spirit.

"The Son of Man has come to seek and save those who are lost." He turned His back to His glory and came a little lower than the angels. Self-denial and self-sacrifice. As a life giving spirit. "He who hears My Word and believes He Who sent Me, has eternal life."

Jesus knows that man cannot find or even relate to Him on their own. A personal association is the key. It is God Who had to seek out the fallen Adam. He and his woman hid themselves from God. Christ has redeemed the lost by doing something. We can do nothing. What He did is the grace of God.

He bore in His Own body every sin that we have committed and all that we will commit. Our sins were charged to Christ, not to us. But we must accept His sacrifice. When we receive Christ as Savior, His righteousness is credited to our account and the gulf is bridged; we are no longer lost; we are found. He has found us and He has saved us.

Jesus Christ has proclaimed 7 ways that He is equal with God the Father. These show how Jesus Christ perfectly corresponds with God the Father. He is equal in works; He is equal in knowledge. God has delegated to Him authority and power. If His claims are true, that he is equal with God in these areas, then we can draw no other conclusion than He is God. In this chapter, Jesus Christ proclaims His Deity to these doubters and haters and affirms His right to heal on the sabbath. Such a thing violated their legalistic sensibilities, even though there were no laws, regulations or traditions dealing with the Sabbath.

Jesus' reasoning is, how can He be a Sabbath-breaker? How could He not be equal with God? In the very opening lines of John's gospel, this is what Jesus is making clear to these pharisees.

To be with God in a beginning is a statement of equality; and the Word was God; again, equality between Jesus and God the Father.

John 1:1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

John 1:2 He was in the beginning with God.

The assertion that Jesus created the universe. He also has the authority to bestow life upon all He chooses. Life is inherent to God and He bestows life to all of His creatures.

John 1:3 All things came into being through Him, and without Him not even one thing came into being that has come into being.

Jesus is inherently life and His life is the light of men.

John 1:4 In Him was life, and the life was the light of men.

There was another relationship in this verse. Jesus says that He can do nothing on His Own initiative after just affirming that He is God. So this indicates that there is a subordination relationship. In His humanity, He is subordinate to the Father.

Jesus would prove over and over again that He executes the will of the Father. It took great submission for Jesus to go to the cross.

Jesus will be present to usher in the judgement at the right time.

John 5:30 "I can do nothing on My own. I judge only as I hear, and My judgment is righteous, because I do not seek My own will, but the will of Him who sent Me.

How could Jesus make such fantastic statements without proof? So He had to offer up proof that is undeniable.

Lesson #0214 John 5:31– Deut. 17:6 Life of Christ 1/15/2012 2Sunday

Jesus has made some amazing statements to the pharisees, that He is equal to God but subordinate the will of the Father as well. Jesus is obviously a man; but He is God as well. However, such statements ought to be accompanied with proof. That is what we will see in the remainder of John 5. If His claims are true, then He has every right to do whatever He chooses to do. As God and as subordinate to God the Father, what He chooses to do is automatically legitimate.

John 5:31 "If I testify about Myself, My testimony is not valid.

Jesus goes to Biblical precedent. He challenges them. Produce someone who can refute what I have said and done; and I will produce My Own witnesses.

Deut. 17:6 On the evidence of two witnesses or of three witnesses the one who is to die shall be put to death; a person shall not be put to death on the evidence of one witness.

Jesus' testimony is verified with additional witnesses; His truth is vindicated by additional witnesses. The Sanhedrin would love to put Him to death for blasphemy, but they needed 2 or 3 witnesses to establish guilt. These witnesses had to be independent and they had to agree.

Jesus calls His first witness, which is John the Baptizer. John testified at the baptism of Jesus Christ as to Who Jesus Christ is. Thousands of people went to hear John. He prophesied about the kingdom. The problem for Jesus is to call John as a witness, because John is in prison. He could not be there physically testify. However, his witness was still valid, even though he is in prison.

John 5:32 There is another who testifies about Me, and I know that the testimony he gives about Me is valid.

The pharisees went to observe John. They sent delegations to John possibly in prison as well. So, they already know about John's witness. They took a deposition; they took his testimony, which made John an official witness. They had to acknowledge this. They knew exactly what John said; and he said it under the shadow of death. Yet John still did not recant his testimony.

People often say what is true before they die to get it off of their chests. But John did not recant his statements. He taught about the Messiah and the coming kingdom. All of these were members of the jury who believed what John said. There could be thousands of witnesses brought forth who saw John and heard his witness.

John 5:33 You have sent messengers to John, and he has testified to the truth.

But Jesus chooses to not even to depend upon John's testimony. Jesus is there to seek and save those who are lost. "I don't need a witness from man; I came here that you might be saved." This suggests that there are pharisees and other religious types there on positive volition toward Jesus.

God the Father has testified to Jesus and that His purpose was to save mankind. John gave credence to Jesus; but God had already confirmed Jesus' person. The voice from heaven. God the Father gave direct witness to the Person of Jesus Christ. What other proof is necessary?

John 5:34 I don't receive man's testimony, but I say these things so that you may be saved.

The nation, for a short time, were quite excited about John's message. They thought that the Kingdom of the messiah was about to descend upon them. This is what they had waited so long to hear.

They even recognized John as a burning and shining lamp. John pointed them to the Light of the World. John revealed reflected light. Many had accepted as truthful and accurate, what John said.

These same things that John said before, they still stand. It can be introduced as evidence. Many of the people there had heard John speak. This was consistent with Jesus' message. The One John spoke of was right in front of them. John was a valid witness who fulfilled Old Testament prophecies; and many people in Palestine had believed John's message.

For the pharisees, they chose to reject John's message. They did not need to change their minds about anything. This rabbi would receive only their scorn and not their obeisance. Jesus was not the leader they expected. They expected a political king to deliver them from the Romans. These Jewish religious leaders are blind. They simply chose not to believe.

Empiricism will never replace faith. If you do not want to believe the evidence of your senses, then you will not have faith. It requires faith to believe in Jesus Christ. The message is clear; believe or do not believe.

You may witness to some people over and over again, and they continue to say no.

John 5:35 John was a burning and shining lamp, and for a time you were willing to enjoy his light.

Jesus offers up a great witness than John. So he is not discounting John's witness and He is adding another. "My works bear witness that My Father has sent Me." This is a witness that the pharisees again had seen. John's witness pales by comparison.

The paralytic was healed; the man who was lowered before Jesus was healed; and these things were observed by pharisees. They could not deny any of this. The basis for their indictment of Jesus was the healing of the paralytic. They take that as a fact and attack Jesus for this healing and for Him telling this man to take up his bed. A paralytic cannot do such a thing, on the Sabbath or on any other day.

Then there is the witness of Isaiah the prophet. Jesus is giving them 3 witnesses: of John, of God the Father who allowed for the healings to take place, and Isaiah. All of it should have stopped right here and the pharisees should have believed. However, these

1. Communication from God is not just God the Father, but it also comes through the Word. Every word that comes from His mouth. God the Father may have spoken a few words with His voice, but Jesus was teaching a great deal. And all that He said was the Word of God.
2. If God the Son's words were rejected, then that is tantamount to rejecting the words of God the Father. Not believing what God the Son said means they would not accept the words of God the Father.
3. These words were the same as God the Father. Jesus Christ as God was speaking the Word of God the Father. He spoke the same words; He communicated the same information.

John 5:38 You don't have His word living in you, because you don't believe the One He sent.

What Jesus Is Saying in V. 38

1. The Son did not edit the Father's words; He divine institution did not paraphrase the Father's words; they were His Father's words.
2. The pharisees did not believe their own Scripture about God the Father.
3. They were unable to store divine information in their souls.
4. They were completely negative toward the words of God. They had searched the Scriptures, but they did not believe.
5. They did not believe that Jesus Christ fulfilled the prophecies of the Old Testament. Hence, they would not change their minds about Jesus Christ.
6. They rejected the words of God the Father spoken from heaven.
7. They did not have God's Word in them. The unbeliever cannot be said to have His Word in them. It does not live or abide in them. They cannot metabolize it; they do not believe it; they cannot apply it. These were pharisees; they knew the Old Testament; the scribes studied and studied the Old Testament and still did not get it.
8. How could they believe the Word that God sent if they do not believe their own Scripture or the words of God the Father at Jesus' baptism. Even if they hear God's Word taught, it is no good until it resides in their soul. As you believe in God's Word, then you can add to this and learn more and more. They dismissed the Scriptures; God's Word is not in them. They can understand divine establishment and even obey that; but they cannot understand that which is spiritual from the Word of God.

Truth does not abide in their soul. How can the Father's voice carry any weight with those who reject His Son? It cannot. They reject the gospel so they reject the voice of God the Father. Conversely, if they have rejected the words of God the Father, then they will reject the words of His Son. As potent as this divine witness was, it did not phase the pharisees who did not have or believe God's Word.

Unbelievers do not get God's Word; they can't. It must be metabolized and it must abide in the soul. So they cannot live spiritually and they must find substitutes for the spiritual life. Emotion; tongues, church programs, tabooism, positive thinking.

John 5:38 You don't have His word living in you, because you don't believe the One He sent.

The 4th witness is simply the Old Testament. It is the Scriptures which bear witness of Jesus. They had all of the scrolls available. The common people were not given access to the scrolls of God. For centuries, the common people did not have access to the Bible in their language. This is why it was the Dark Ages. They had no access to the Scriptures. The religious leaders were the scholars and the interpreters of the Word of God.

They were unable to understand what was in the Bible; and they filled this void with the Mishna and the Talmud, which obscured the meaning of the Word of God. They could not see or accept that the Old Testament continuously pointed to the Lord Jesus Christ.

Even though all of the words of God were in front of them, they could not make the connection between all the words of the Old Testament and Jesus Christ, their Messiah, Who fulfilled all the types of the Bible.

The Bible is a critical witness. John the Baptizer is long gone from our day; and Jesus Christ in the flesh is no longer wandering through the world. We do not hear God the Father's voice. But we all have the Bible.

The grass withers and the flowers fall off, but the Word of God abides forever. The power comes from the Word. You can speak all the words you want, but unbelievers will respond to the Word of God.

Unbelievers today attack the Bible.

John 5:39 You pore over the Scriptures because you think you have eternal life in them, yet they testify about Me.

A Simple Explanation as to Why the Bible Is God's Absolute Truth

1. The Bible is not just one single book.
2. The Bible is a collection of 66 books.
3. These 66 books contain a variety of literary genres. Wisdom literature, prophecy, historical narrative, quoted words of God.
4. These books were written by 40 different authors.
5. These authors came from a variety of backgrounds: kings, prophets, fishermen, shepherds.
6. Most of these authors did not know one another personally.
7. These 66 books were written over a period of 1500 years. So clearly these authors could not have collaborated with one another.
8. The 66 books were written in 3 languages: Hebrew, Greek and Aramaic.

9. These languages were a reflection of the cultural and historical background during the time in which each book was written.
10. These were written on 3 continents: Africa, Asian and Europe.
11. 66 books, 40 different authors, 1500 years written on 3 continents.
12. They all carry the same storyline: the creation, the fall, the redemption of man; and they all hold that faith in Jesus is the key to salvation. How do you maintain the same storyline over that period of time with that many different authors?
13. There are no historical errors or contradictions. There are approximately 5000 variants and none of them affect the meaning of the Bible.
14. The doctrine found within them is never contradictory but intimately connected.
15. Go to any library in the world and pick out specifically 66 books written over this period of time by 40 different authors, and do they share the same story liine and doctrine?
16. There is no combination of 66 books like these. There has never been at any time anywhere else. These Scriptures are therefore hated in the devil's world. The pharisees reject it. It is obvious and clear. It ought to be at the very worst, quite encouraging. It is God's Word and it is rejected all over this world; and the Living Word, Jesus Christ, has also been rejected all over this world.

Lesson #0216

John 5:40–45 14:6 Life of Christ

1/22/2012 1Sunday

A bagpiper was asked to play for a service of a pauper. Flat tire to the service and he was late and missed the service. He saw men digging, and he assumed that was the place, and he played Amazing Grace on the bagpipes. They were all moved, but had never had such a performance for digging a septic tank before.

During the 4 years of His wonderful ministry, Jesus offered proof of His deity and here, 4 pieces of irrefutable evidence. John the Baptist. Vv. 32–33. The second proof in John 5:36 were the miracles the Jesus performed. The pharisees did not doubt the miracles; they just attributed the miracles to Satan (Beelzebub). The 3rd proof is God the Father Who directly identified Jesus in v. 37. He announced that this is His Son. A voice from heaven. Then Jesus quoted the Old Testament Scriptures, which pointed to Him as the Messiah. V. 39. At least one of these proofs should have convinced the pharisees; but these pharisees would not change their minds about Christ. They are hardened against that message.

The problem is stated in John 5:40. For the pharisees, it was all about their power. They were concerned about keeping the Law, which was a distortion of the Old Testament. Wherever religion exists, there is no seeking God for eternal life, they will not change their minds about Jesus Christ; they proffer their own works instead. The religious pharisees are more than willing to accept a Messiah, but only one that they approve of, and they expected to be recognized for their own works.

John 5:40 And you are not willing to come to Me that you may have life.

Jesus knows what they are thinking. He does not need to be glorified by unregenerate men. The glory here is the Shekinah glory of the Old Testament, leading Israel.

John 5:41 "I do not accept glory from men,

Jesus goes after the pharisees. These men lacked virtue love. They rejected Jesus Christ. They were incapable of virtue love. They oppress the people with their over-regulation of the Sabbath.

How could they reject the healing of a man kept down with paralysis for 38 years. All they had was self-centered and self-promotional secularists. That is the epitome of all religion. There are thousands of false religions in the world today. Only Biblical Christianity is true; the pharisees represent all of these false, legalistic religious traditions.

These men have no love in their souls; they don't care about this man who has been healed.

John 5:42 but I know you--that you have no love for God within you.

These religious types would accept others but they would not accept Jesus in the flesh.

John 14:6 Jesus said to him, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me.

This is the claim; this is what the 1st advent is all about. Religion rejects Christ and therefore rejects all truth. Many believe in God in churches all over. They cannot understand God if they reject His Son as the Word of God. It does not matter how much someone claims to believe in God or claims to seek Him. All religion is anti-God. Jesus Christ is the Savior; he is the representation of God in the flesh. Jesus is our objective window to see God and to see His character, grace and love. He is the revelation of God to us.

Religion has no basis for truth apart from the revelation of God in the flesh. If they do not accept Him, they have no truth.

Humanism places man in front of God. Man is seen as preeminent. Or, subjectivity, where God is given human emotions and thought. They try to find God through their own thinking and feeling and without going to His Word. Subjective knowledge of self replaces objective knowledge of God; and this is happening all over the world all of the time. This is where eastern religions go so far afield. Some even make themselves into a god. Here is the choice: put your choice in man or put your choice in Jesus Christ.

Many churches do not teach the Bible; and they emphasize what we do as key. True charity is a result of the soul and not the means of spirituality. The mandate is Grow in grace and knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

We cannot build some sort of utopia. Man's efforts in this area are completely futile. So much of this world hangs their hat on man's creation of a utopia.

John 5:43 I have come in My Father's name, yet you don't accept Me. If someone else comes in his own name, you will accept him.

People take know facts which they call science and move into speculation and call it science, e.g., evolution.

John 5:44 How can you believe? While accepting glory from one another, you don't seek the glory that comes from the only God.

The pharisees love Moses. Moses wrote the Law. Moses testifies against these pharisees; he indicts them. Moses was a great man of God's Word; one of the greatest men of Scripture; one of the most humble. And He wrote most of the 5 books of the Pentateuch. However, Moses does not support these pharisees; he indicts them.

Moses himself had great humility. He never emphasizes himself. The pharisees basked in their own glory; in their own law-keeping. Moses knew that man could not meet the standard of the Law.

Moses fell short of keeping the Law; he knew himself to be nothing. Moses indicts them. He never places the Law over God. It was God's Law for Moses and not rabbinic law.

John 5:45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father. Your accuser is Moses, on whom you have set your hope.

Lesson #0217 John 5:45–47 Deut. 23:25 Life of Christ 1/22/2012 2Sunday

This began with Jesus healing a paralytic and the pharisees confronted our Lord over healing on the Sabbath. So Jesus gives 7 proofs of His Deity and He gives 4 witnesses.

Jesus is perhaps a little tongue-in-cheek here, saying, "I don't have to accuse you to the Father; Moses will do that." Moses was the one in whom they placed their hope. Moses showed them the way, they thought. However, they were going in the wrong direction.

John 5:45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father. Your accuser is Moses, on whom you have set your hope.

"If you really understood and believed Moses, then you would believe Me because he wrote about Me." The Law was about Jesus Christ.

John 5:46 For if you believed Moses, you would believe Me, because he wrote about Me.

“If you don’t believe Moses’ writings, then how can you believe My words?” Jesus will judge the entire world, which will begin at Armageddon, where He wipes out every unbeliever.

These pharisees placed their salvation hope in their good deeds; they believed that Moses told them how to behave in order to gain God’s approbation. These men are incredible lawyers. They knew all of the loopholes, and wrote loopholes into the Law. This is what they placed their hope in.

Jesus has just proved His Deity to these men; and the things which Moses wrote about in the Old Testament, are all about Jesus Christ. Gen. 3:15 Deut. 18:15 all divinely inspired, all written about Jesus Christ.

Summation

1. If the pharisees refused Moses’ written testimony as to whom Jesus Christ was, how could they believe the words of the One Moses wrote about?
2. The irony is, they claim to believe in Moses.
3. They had rejected Christ, witnessed by the fact of what Moses wrote about.

John 5:47 But if you don't believe his writings, how will you believe My words?"

This is the first of the Sabbath controversies. The next one is found in a rather strange place. It was in a grain field and not in Jerusalem. Jesus makes a defense for Himself and His disciples, who are accused of breaking the Sabbath. There are 3 passages that deal with this second dispute.

Matt. 12:1–8 Mark 2:23 Luke 2:23

Bobby is going to compile these gospels into one text. They left Jerusalem and the pharisees observe them preparing to eat on the Sabbath.

Matt. 12:1 At that time Jesus went through the grainfields on the Sabbath. His disciples were hungry, and they began to pluck heads of grain and to eat.

Everywhere that Jesus went, these pharisees looked to discredit Him, looking for any means by which to do this, just like the press looking to take down presidential candidates; and some of these attacks are really sleazy. The pharisees were like NBC, CBS, and ABC; all of the networks were following Jesus.

Wouldn’t it be nice to see the press put down and squashed every time they went after a candidate unfairly? This is what Jesus did to the pharisees. They tried to discredit Him in anyway, to show that He was not the Messiah, to show that He violated the Law of Moses. They wanted a Messiah of their own making, just like humanists desire today. They want a puppet that they can manipulate today.

There is nothing new under the sun. This is human history. What better way than to follow the Lord Jesus Christ wherever He went to discredit Him. To pose leading questions; to get Him to slip up; to use His words against Him.

The questions in these so-called debates are designed to discredit and to trap, not to elicit information. They want to compromise the candidates just like the pharisees wanted to discredit the Lord Jesus Christ.

In religion, this is the case. Inspired by Satan. The pharisees did not have to wait very long to catch Jesus. They decided that Jesus was vulnerable when it comes to the Sabbath. Jesus knew what He could do on the Sabbath; it was His day. He still kept the Mosaic Law completely. The pharisees claimed the Law; yet Jesus kept the Law and they did not. Jesus Christ gave this Law to Moses.

The pharisees go after Jesus and His disciples for breaking the Sabbath. In this field, there was a little bit of grain set aside, which was customary for the Jews, to leave a few stalks here and there unharvested, so that the poor of the land had something to eat. So, Jesus and His disciples saw a few stalks standing and they were hungry, so they ate the dry grain right then and there. This was not a violation of the Law. This fell within the parameters of the Law. One who traveled could stop and pick up grain or grapes and satisfy their own hunger.

Deu 23:25 If you go into your neighbor's standing grain, you may pluck the ears with your hand, but you shall not put a sickle to your neighbor's standing grain.

So, they could take a little to eat. That was the law. They could not harvest what remained, but they could certainly pick a few ears to eat.

Pharisaical Legalism Versus the Law

1. Even though it was legal for those traveling to get a little food to eat, the pharisees made an issue out of the day that they took this grain.
2. Somehow, this violated the pharisaical anti-work mandates for the Sabbath.
3. The pharisees now enforced their legalistic viewpoints of the sabbath, even in the face of lawful action under the Mosaic Law. The pharisees would charge them with Sabbath-breaking.
4. In other words, the pharisees ignored Biblical law, that made what the disciples did legal. There was no restriction here on the day this is done.
5. They superimposed rabbinic law to make a legal action illegal. They applied legalism.
6. So their law and their traditions superceded God's Law. Religion can often degenerate to humanism and secularism. Religion is humanism.
7. If the Biblical law allowed for the plucking and eating of grain on any day, then it was not breaking the Sabbath to do so. Legalism superimposes their laws over the Law of God.

Legalism will not allow believers to apply doctrine to their own lives. The disciples are following the Law, and the pharisees use this against them. Churches which do this do not teach doctrine. They teach their own laws and taboos. The end result is a self righteous church.

Matt. 12:1 At that time Jesus went through the grainfields on the Sabbath. His disciples were hungry, and they began to pluck heads of grain and to eat.

Then the pharisees jump on Jesus over the disciples. They wanted to catch the Lord Jesus Christ in a problem. Here, the disciples are reaping and rubbing things together? That is threshing. That is their interpretation of these simple actions.

The Mishna is a compilation of these pharisee writings. The person who reaps corn even one ear is reaping. The Law was designed to keep you from going out and harvesting a field. The Law said nothing about you going out and eating an ear of corn.

If a woman rolls wheat to remove the husks, this is considered sifting (which is from the Talmud). This is how they interpreted it. If she throws it up in the air, that is winnowing. All of this activity is normally done in a much larger scale. What the disciples were doing was not harvesting a whole crop.

These are ridiculously extreme. This was very typical. They were going after the disciples and the Lord Jesus Christ on this issue.

These are great illustrations. A Jewish sailor on the Mediterranean Sea is not allowed to touch the ___ to save himself and his ship. These are rabbinic purists wandering around watching Jesus.

Because Jesus did not correct His disciples, He is responsible; he is an accessory to the crime. The pharisees would overlook nothing to get to Jesus.

These disciples were fishermen; they did not know about any of this stuff. The pharisees knew this stuff, but others did not. The disciples had no answer to the pharisees. However, Jesus did.

Matt. 12:2 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said to him, "Look, your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath."

Jesus took on the defense of His disciples. He knew the Law perfectly. The pharisees fell back on rabbinic law.

The Sabbath was a legitimate regulation from God; a legitimate one. It was designed to represent the principle of grace. Jesus would then defend His disciples.

Bobby's going to a conference in Kansas City, Missouri.

A central point of dispute between the religious apostate pharisees and our Lord was what one does on the Sabbath. What could you do and not do on the Sabbath? Jesus never ceased things on the Sabbath; and the pharisees made it a life or death situation; and the pharisees saw themselves as the Sabbath keeping police. To them, there was no minor regulation insofar as the Sabbath was concerned. They would not ignore the issue of the sabbath. Because of all these regulations, they could not let Jesus get away with violating their regulations. Their regs were not divinely inspired; they were just traditions that had been written down by the rabbis from the past.

If they let Jesus break their sabbath regs, then they would lose all of their power. People might follow Jesus' example. So, it was their sworn duty to challenge Jesus at every point. They attempted to trap and discredit our Lord. The legal means at their disposal were their rabbinic regulations. They were always looking for ways to confront the Lord Jesus Christ. The gospels record only 3 of these confrontations, but these are representative of many more times that these disagreements occurred.

It never seemed to matter to the pharisees how many times that Jesus proved His point from the Old Testament. They knew the Old Testament and they heard what He said about the Old Testament Scriptures; and they could not see their way clear to give Jesus any slack. They were in constant confrontations with Jesus, the Savior of man. Their system of religion was their way of life; their power base. This is why they were so intent on winning this sabbath-keeping war. It was life or death for them.

John 5 was the first of the 3 confrontations; it took place in Jerusalem. Jesus healed a paralytic man on the sabbath. He demonstrated the grace of God in healing a man who had been suffering for 38 years. This revealed His divine power.

The sabbath was His day, as God. This was the very highest demonstration of the grace of God, but they could only see it as sabbath breaking. This should have convinced the pharisees, but it was not.

So, round 2 takes place in a grain field. The pharisees followed Jesus and His disciples wherever they went. They could not afford to let Jesus be alone among the people. He was stirring up too much dissension among the people.

Matt. 12:1 Mark 2:23 Luke 6:1

Matt. 12:1 At that time Jesus went through the grainfields on the Sabbath. His disciples were hungry, and they began to pluck heads of grain and to eat.

This was a fairly innocuous thing to do; to glean a little of this grain to satisfy their hunger; but the pharisees saw this as a great violation. Deuteronomy allowed them to eat from a field in this way; without any specification of a day.

All of the Scripture is God's Word; we do not get the chance to ignore this or that passage because we do not like it. If it is not politically correct, then it is ignored or explained away; Rom. 1:26 and following is a perfect example of this. It condemns the act of homosexuality as being wrong. Bobby has heard tortured exegesis on this passage to try to make it say the opposite of what it says. We have to take all of Scripture, whether we like it or not. This is how religion supercedes Christianity. If it is not Biblical, then it is not Christianity. A substitute for the Bible is a man-made, man-inspired religion.

The pharisees superimposed their own regulations over Jesus and His disciples. "Look, Your disciples are violating the Sabbath."

Matt. 12:2 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said to him, "Look, your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath."

Jesus will give them the example of David. Jesus is comparing David and his men to Jesus and his men. Jesus was brilliant when it came to the Bible. It was His Word. So when the Lord spoke to them, they tended to get nervous, because He always brought out some part of Scripture that they were not expecting. He never fell into their trap.

Matt. 12:3 He said to them, "Have you not read what David did when he was hungry, and those who were with him:

ἀναγινώσκω means to consider, to think about, to discern, to exegete. He was asking them if they understood what this Scripture meant. They are scholars of the Old Testament, and yet, they were not thinking about this passage when it came to Jesus.

The pharisees should have gone through the process of thinking about this passage in 1Samuel. This is a parallel, and the pharisees needed to understand what David did.

This upsets the pharisees. And Jesus refers back to the greatest king of Israel; and Jesus compares Himself to this great king. "You think My disciples have violated the Sabbath; don't you scholars know anything about your great King David?"

Jesus used sarcasm a lot when dealing with the pharisees. They needed to face some of this. They were ignorant of this historical Scripture. They had not drawn any conclusion from David. They should have thought of this immediately, but they did not.

Did David do this on the Sabbath? I don't think so. Also, David is out of fellowship here, and what he does ends up getting these priests killed.

The Christian church went apostate in the Middle ages; additions to the Scripture; the papal bul. You can follow the heresies of the church and see how it all came about. They completely departed from Biblical Christianity. The history is filled with problems. All of these things from this era had nothing to do with Christianity. It was not Biblical Christianity. It was a departure from Biblical Christianity. Judaism had nothing to do with Old Testament Scriptures. Jesus never debated them with rabbinic laws. Start with the grace of God. It is never wrong to start with the Bible and Biblical principles.

Jesus starts where He wants to start; He does not examine their regulations; He does not argue from that point; He begins with Biblical texts.

David goes into the tabernacle and he takes bread from the sacred House of God, and he demanded food from the priests. We're on the same side, so give us some food. Every day, the priests baked 12 loaves of the bread and they place these loaves on a golden table, the table of Showbread. This is a symbol presented as a pledge of the covenant between God and the 12 tribes of Israel. This bread was a constant reminder that Israel depended upon God for their sustenance.

This bread was consecrated to God; this was doctrine for Israel. This was a symbol of doctrine and of God's provision. The priest said, "We've just got this Showbread." So that is what David took. Should he had really received this bread? The Holy of Holies was only a curtain away from this Table of Showbread.

What Was the Issue?

1. The symbolic issue of the showbread took second place. It was not David's primary consideration.
2. David took this bread and he and his companions ate it on the spot.
3. They were badly in need of nourishment. They had to survive to fulfill God's plan for Israel. He had to eat that bread. They were starving.
4. The showbread provided the necessary sustenance for David and his men.
5. This bread was no longer a symbol of logistical grace. It was no longer a symbol; it became logistical grace for David and his men. It went from being a symbol to an actual thing; it became a reality. This was what we might call the principle of necessity.
6. The showbread was certainly set apart and it had a meaning and a function; that did not stop David. There is this ritual versus reality. Preserving his life and the life of his men was more important than observing a ritual. The bread could be reproduced; David's men could not. So David set aside the function of the ritual bread to be actual bread.
7. David was considered guiltless by God. This was much more important than ritual and religious precision.

The disciples could have claimed the necessity of the corn.

Now How this Was Applied

1. There is a higher law that supercedes the sabbath regulations. God's laws; always.
2. Danger to life supercedes sabbath hair-splitting.
3. The logistical grace of God was more important than pharisaical regulations.

Matt. 12:4 how he entered the house of God and ate the bread of the Presence, which it was not lawful for him to eat nor for those who were with him, but only for the priests?

Now, Jesus will give them another example, and this is about the Levitical priesthood, that they are a part of.

Matt. 12:5 Or have you not read in the Law how on the Sabbath the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath and are guiltless?

The priests in the temple break the Sabbath and they are guiltless. Well, these pharisees followed this. What they did was wrong and what David did was right.

Lesson #0219 Matt. 12:1–6 Luke 6:5 Life of Christ 1/26/2012 Thurs

We should have the chronology of the life of Christ.

This dispute takes place in a grain field, which is an interesting contrast. The first Sabbath controversy was in Jerusalem where the pharisees live and work; and they found problems with Jesus healing a paralytic on the sabbath. However, the second one is off in this field somewhere, and it is over eating grain.

What is going on in this passage is standard for this economy; the farmers would all leave a little grain for the travelers. The pharisees were following Jesus wherever He went, and they observe this and talk to Jesus about it. Their eating of the grain was lawful. Jesus heard this accusation, but He knew what was coming, what was on their mind. He makes fools out of these pharisees. He does not try to address their rabbinic laws.

Matt. 12:1 At that time Jesus went through the grainfields on the Sabbath. His disciples were hungry, and they began to pluck heads of grain and to eat.

Matt. 12:2 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said to him, "Look, your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath."

Jesus goes right to the Old Testament. Instead of ever conceding the point, the pharisees refused. They could not concede any point; they got more angry and meaner. They always did this concerning their own regulations.

This history of David is something that they ought to know. 1Sam. 21:1–6 is where this comes from. The loaves of bread were a very important symbol which represented a very important doctrine, and David ate it. There was a lot of doctrine that came from the Tabernacle. All that was in the Tabernacle was a doctrinal lesson.

Matt. 12:3 He said to them, "Have you not read what David did when he was hungry, and those who were with him:

David goes into the tabernacle and David speaks to Abiathar? It is actually Ahimelech.

What Does this All Mean?

1. This example of David's need perfectly fits the situation of the disciples eating a bit of grain on the sabbath. David ate the holy bread; the disciples ate some grain.
2. The showbread represented the provision of God for Israel, and His presence and covenant with Israel. It taught the doctrine of logistical grace.
3. David eating of the showbread was a real provision of the logistical grace of God. He has nothing to eat and the rest of his men lacked food.
4. David and his men were justified in eating the Showbread; rather than giving first priority to the ritual. They did not leave these loaves on the table but gave them on over to David.
5. The disciples eating the grain was demonstrating exactly what David had done. Real provision from the logistical grace of God on the very day that is symbolic of God's grace. What was more important? The real logistical grace or a representation of it? Like David, the disciples' logistical necessity was given priority over the logistical symbolism of that day. Logistical grace is what the Sabbath was all about. What happened in the grain field was the reality.
6. Christ was commending eating that grain as the reality of logistical grace over the ritual reality of the sabbath. Reality over ritual.
- 7.
8. Jesus Christ approved the provision of logistical grace over the representation of logistical grace. The provision over the representation. When you see God's logistical grace, that is what takes care of you.
9. So, there was a higher law of necessity; a danger to life supercede Sabbath-day hair splitting. It was certainly more important than the regulations.

The Lord used these as teaching opportunities for His disciples.

Matt. 12:4 how he entered the house of God and ate the bread of the Presence, which it was not lawful for him to eat nor for those who were with him, but only for the priests?

Then David moves them into the Law; and they become more interested, because this is their area of expertise. The priests work in the Temple on the Sabbath and anyone else would be doing wrong at this point; but this was their service to God.

Why Was it Justified?

1. The purpose of the sabbath was rest. But it was also a day of worship and commemorating the grace of God. The priests were all part of commemorating this worship.
2. No laborious work was done. But the priests must work. They must serve in the accomplishment of worship, sacrifice, etc.
3. That was their duty before God and it was sanctioned by God in the Mosaic Law. They had to perform these services and works.
4. The worship service took precedence over the sabbath rest for the priests.

5. The work of the priests was defensible before God because it was work in the service of worship in the Temple.

The priests would be nodding their heads up and down. "Well, of course, the Law gives us some latitude." They justified their own actions; but they generally took the Mosaic Law further than was warranted. They saw themselves as justified as working above the rabbinic traditions. The things that the common people adhered to, they could ignore. They excluded themselves from their own sabbath-keeping regulations. They spent their sabbath days looking for people who were breaking the sabbath. They would not allow anyone else to break the sabbath.

What Is the Issue Here?

1. The pharisees were in the presence of the Lord of the Sabbath. They exempted themselves and they could not be condemned for this sort of law-breaking.
2. Jesus teaching His disciples was more important than anything else.
3. The disciples did not need any rabbinic law in order to worship. They fell under the Mosaic Law.
4. They were in the presence of the fulfillment of the law in every respect. Jesus was the fulfillment of the law.
5. Jesus Christ directed the disciples to eat, which was a part of His Law. Rabbinic law was unimportant here. Most people thought of the pharisees as theologically correct and here is the Lord refuting the pharisees at every point. The disciples will be the writers of Scripture and they needed to know exactly what Jesus was teaching.

Matt. 12:5 Or have you not read [exegeted, discerned] in the Law how on the Sabbath the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath and are guiltless?

Jesus' Defense

1. What the disciples were doing was okay because they were with the Lord of the Sabbath.
2. Eating this grain violated nothing as it conformed to Deut. 23:25.
3. What the disciples did for the Lord of the Sabbath was just as much a part of service as worship in the Temple. Even more so.

Jesus will make another claim, and the pharisees would not like this. The Temple was the most important building in Judah. The most important building in the United States might be Berachah Church. In Israel, every Jew knew the most important building was the Temple, where Y^ehowah was worshiped.

Jesus knew how to get under their skin. He was claiming superiority to the Temple and to their worship activity in the Temple. He took precedence over sabbath-keeping.

What this All Means

1. If he was the God-man, then all Temple worship was to be directed toward Him.
2. The sabbath was instituted to honor and Jesus is greater than the Sabbath. He is their true object of worship. He will tell them that He will raise up His body in 3 days. He is referring to Himself.
3. The grace of God was centered in the Person of the Lord Jesus Christ.
4. So why would the disciples complain about these disciples serving someone greater than the Temple.
5. No building was more important than the I this is the unequivocal greatness of Jesus Christ. Beyond anything that we can imagine. These priests are supposed to be serving Jesus Christ. They are concerned about the rabbinic regulations.

Some Additional Points

1. Jesus Christ was greater than the Temple in which Sabbath work was acceptable and justified.
2. This justifies His disciples doing work on the Sabbath in His service. The simple act of picking grain in order to eat. Is there any reason why Jesus cannot
3. The disciples service was greater than Temple service. The pharisees were involved in the latter; the disciples in the former. These pharisees are great hypocrites. They tried to discredit Jesus and to keep others from following Him.

Matt. 12:6 I tell you, something greater than the temple is here.

Luke 6:5 And he said to them, "The Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath."

Jesus is saying, "What do you think they are doing? They are serving the Lord of the Sabbath." He is the originator of the sabbath the ruler over the sabbath. Jesus was the reality and the sabbath was the ritual and the pharisees had it all backward.

People often confuse the ritual and the reality. In any high church were traditions and rituals; but what these represent must be known.

Jesus had the authority to revoke any of these rituals or regulations.

Jesus gave the Law. We can bask in God's truth. This is all revealed in this passage.

Lesson #0220 Matt. 12:1–7 Luke 6:5 Life of Christ 1/29/2012 1Sunday

Jesus has about 3 more years of a public ministry.

For the pharisees, all of these conflicts are meaningful; they are fighting for their existence and their authority. They are angry that Jesus can do whatever He wants to do on the Sabbath, and this causes them great distress. They see Jesus as the foremost Sabbath-breaker and He is the greatest threat that they have ever face.

And this got worst. Jesus claimed to be God Himself. The rituals and traditions of the pharisees were devoid of meaning; they had no idea that He was the One. He exposed their hypocrisy over and over again.

They sought to discredit Him and set many traps to try to take Him down. The Sabbath day was their best day to ambush Him.

There is this great contrast between Jesus and the pharisees; grace versus legalism. They first had a problem with Jesus healing on the Sabbath; and now they have problems with the disciples taking some grain from the field.

Matt. 12:2 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said to him, "Look, your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath."

Jesus was in charge, so the pharisees go to Him about His disciples.

Matt. 12:3 He said to them, "Have you not read what David did when he was hungry, and those who were with him:

So Jesus gives them the example of David eating the loaves from the table of showbread, which fulfills his physical needs and that of his soldiers. Don't you know this about your own history?

Matt. 12:4 how he entered the house of God and ate the bread of the Presence, which it was not lawful for him to eat nor for those who were with him, but only for the priests?

Jesus then goes to a second line of defense. Don't you know this from the very law of God? The priests had to work on the Sabbath just as Bobby does on Sunday. That was their duty; but they were not thought to be Sabbath breakers. Num. 28:9–10 says this is their duty.

So, how does this compare? The priests understood the importance of their job in the Temple; but the disciples are just wandering about in a field getting a bite to eat.

Matt. 12:5 Or have you not read [exegeted, discerned] in the Law how on the Sabbath the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath and are guiltless?

Jesus explains why it is okay for the disciples to eat. Jesus is greater than the Temple. They understood what Jesus was saying; that He was greater than the Temple. He shows that He is superior to the Sabbath day.

Matt. 12:6 I tell you, something greater than the temple is here.

Now Jesus gives them a dramatic statement. He is the 2nd Person of the Trinity; He created the Sabbath. Jesus Christ was the Creator and He rested after the 6th day. This makes Him the Lord of the Sabbath. Even slaves got this day off.

This second point is irrefutable. The disciples were justified to work in the service of the Lord of the Sabbath on the Sabbath. This is their duty, as His disciples; just as the priests are to work on the Sabbath. If the disciples ate grain on the sabbath, there was no violation of the Law. Jesus was saying, "Leave My disciples alone; they are serving One greater than the Temple." Jesus never hesitated to defend His disciples and this was always done based upon doctrinal principles. He did this in a way that was unforgettable.

The anger of the pharisees did not throw Jesus off His game ever. These were the most powerful men in Palestine, apart from the Romans and their minions. Their power was possibly even greater over fellow Jews. This was like the government coming down and telling us what we can and cannot do.

Luke 6:5 And he said to them, "The Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath."

Jesus will give a third defense, which will continue instructing the disciples.

Then Jesus hits them in another area where these pharisees are blanking on. Jesus gives a prophecy from Hosea 6:6. This is supposed to be their area of expertise and David is all over them when it comes to the Law of God. "Do you not know your own prophet Hosea?" If they understood any of these things, these pharisees would not have condemned Jesus or His disciples.

Nothing has changed. There is the same objective from before; they wanted to rebuke the pharisees. Jesus was reminding them, taking them back to one of their earlier charges that there was something wrong with Him feasting with the tax collectors and sinners.

These pharisees have condemned the tax collectors and sinners; they have now condemned His disciples; and this, essentially condemned Jesus. So Jesus quotes Hosea, a prophet that these pharisees ought to know.

The true principle of the Sabbath was always about grace. Everything connected to the Sabbath must be related to grace. The pharisees connected it to legalism. Jesus was making the issue one of grace.

There are ritual based churches, and all of their emphasis is upon the ritual. Every ritual in the church is connected to Jesus Christ. It is to bring our thinking around to Him. We must have something in our souls in order to grasp the significance of the ritual. For many churches, their rituals are meaningless. The parishioners do not need to know anything. They just go ahead and do what they are told to do. They genuflect and they repeat phrases that they do not understand.

The pharisees could not argue the texts which Jesus quoted to them; so they went back with the writings of long-dead rabbis which spouted their traditions and regulations.

Matt. 12:7 And if you had known what this means, 'I desire mercy [grace orientation], and not sacrifice,' you would not have condemned the guiltless.

Lesson #0221 Mark 2:27 Matt. 12:9–10 Life of Christ 1/29/2012 2Sunday

What about your prophet Hosea? His name is very similar to Jesus' name. They always seem to find the exact portion of the Law to distort. The disciples were doing nothing wrong and the pharisees accused them of doing wrong when they were not. The disciples were learning and they were serving the Lord.

Jesus had them on 3 points; and now He will make a 4th point. He argued like a lawyer. Luckily, we are defended by Jesus Christ our High Attorney. He never lets up in His defense of us. Here, He is defending the disciples. This is a picture of Satan and his angels accusing us; and Jesus is there defending us before God the Father.

Now we will go to pure theological logic.

Mark 2:27 And he said to them, "The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath.

What Does it Mean That the Sabbath Was Made for Man?

1. Man was not created on account of the sabbath or for any other ritual. The pharisees put ritual and regulation before everything else.
2. God did not create man to fulfill ritual. We were created by God to glorify Him. That is our purpose; everything else is incidental.
3. God initiated the sabbath as a teaching tool. Grace orientation.
4. The Sabbath was secondary to the necessity for which God created man. To the pharisees, it was primary. They had the cart before the horse.
5. The pharisees treated the sabbath as if man was created for Sabbath-keeping. This was more important than grace orientation. That is where Jesus was going with this logic. Their legalism had distorted the very Scriptures why which God could be understood and what their purpose was. Jesus is telling them that they have placed their rituals before God. God has provided Israel with a day of rest to commemorate grace and to worship Him. The pharisees took this as a day of legalism where they elevated the regulations of this day far above the Word of God and above God. They set themselves as the arbiters of all these religious rituals. They put all their own power, which they got from enforcing the sabbath, over the grace of God. This is exactly what Jesus said was wrong. This is the tail wagging the dog. The Sabbath became greater than the reality of Jesus Christ.

There is certainly a practical application to today. The government was designed to serve man and not the state; however, we are being taught today that man is designed to serve the state. When we serve the state, we are under tyranny; and when the state serves us, that is freedom. The founding fathers probably understood what was being taught here. Socialism today enslaves the state. It may seem that government is helping man by putting a chicken in every pot; but the citizens are becoming dependent upon the government for their sustenance. The state gives and the state takes it away. The state interferes when it regulates everything. The pharisees were regulating the very lives of all the people. They were the religious state of Palestine and here they interfered in the life of Jesus Christ, trying to impose their regulations on the Prince of Glory. You may want to remember this passage when going to vote. The principle here is, the sabbath is only a ritual that represents the grace of God. "You guys live to regulate everyone's lives with your laws; and this is just a ritual which regulates grace." These rabbis placed the sabbath above the grace of God. The sabbath should serve as a reminder to God's grace. They rest of labor and they should be learning the Word of God. The sabbath was designed to commemorate God's grace. They should have gone to the synagogue to get some doctrine; not to learn more regulations. The sabbath should not be a day of painful regulations and fear that you might be caught violating the sabbath by violating a rule that you may or may not know.

This was a religious state and the Romans had no interest in these religious regulations. This was like our various regulatory boards which regulate all of these various things that we do and our businesses do.

The pharisees were at war with Jesus Christ and they would battle Him up to the moment of the cross. They are in hell today because of this failure to believe in Him. This is about salvation. This is much more important than our own survival as a nation. This is true freedom. No matter what happens in the November election and no matter the direction of our country, the disciples were freed of tyrannical religion. The Holy Spirit teaches us through His Word. Jesus is giving His disciples great teaching about grace versus legalism. Every word that comes from His mouth applies to them and to us. Every narrative that we hear and study and understand is our growth in our spiritual lives.

No matter what difficulties that we face in life, this is our purpose and our food; this is what is meaningful. The Scripture is our power and our freedom.

The disciples stood vindicated by Scripture; and by the theological logic that Jesus presented. He was the greatest theologian and the greatest lawyer. However, Jesus did not abrogate the Law. He established the Law in its proper context and its meaning. He did not champion Sabbath-breaking. He always stayed within the Law. He never violated the Law. He only stood against rabbinical tyranny. He freed the disciples for greater worship and greater service.

"Serve Me, not the regulations of the legalistic pharisees," is what Jesus is teaching. We do not have to worry about anything, no matter who is in charge no matter which direction our country goes in. We are allotted a certain number of days in this life to serve Jesus Christ. We don't blow off our other responsibilities; but we should never forget Who it is that we serve.

We now come to the 3rd and final sabbath controversy. The Jerusalem incident, the grain field.

Matt. 12:9–14 Mark 3:1–6 Luke 6:6–7

Matt. 12:9 He went on from there and entered their synagogue.

Jesus goes back into the synagogue to teach; into the lion's den. The pharisees will probably set this whole thing up. They will bring in the man with the withered hand. Then they will ask Jesus if this is legitimate.

Matt. 12:10 And a man was there with a withered hand. And they asked him, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?"--so that they might accuse him.

Quite obviously, there is no questioning of whether or not Jesus can heal this man; but whether or not it is okay to heal him on the Sabbath.

Lesson #0220

Matt. 12: Life of Christ

2/1/2012 Wed

Matt. 12:9–14 Mark 3:1–6 Luke 6:6–7

The pharisees would never quit. They were first upset that Jesus healed the paralytic on the Sabbath. Jesus refuted the charges by stating His Deity. It may seem odd that they would return to the same ground to re-argue it. These pharisees were hardheaded. They had locked-in negative volition. They were completely locked in to opposing the Lord Jesus Christ.

They figured that they had a foolproof scheme that would trap our Lord in their religious zealotry. You can always see where Satan is concentrating his attacks by the degree of hatred expressed toward Christ. The pharisees focused their attention on the Lord Jesus Christ and they were the minions of Satan and the cosmic system for this reason. However, Jesus was always one step ahead of them in their evil thinking. It was a perfect teaching moment of Jesus Christ whenever He had these moments and was in conflict with the opposition.

The new controversy would be in the synagogue. Jesus was still allowed to come into the synagogue and teach; and after a year, He still went into synagogues in order to teach. The true purpose of the Sabbath was time to teach the Word of God.

There was something else in mind for the pharisees this time. They were glad that He had come in at this time, and they decided to discredit Him where rabbinical law was enforced where the rabbis held court.

Matt. 12:9 He went on from there and entered their synagogue.

Luke notices the physical maladies as a physician. He notices that the right hand is the withered hand.

Why isn't there just one gospel? We see from the viewpoint of 4 different people, from 4 different perspectives, so the we might see from these other perspectives. A person may relate more closely to these different authors as well.

The religious types watched Jesus constantly. It is possible that this day was a complete setup.

They want some pious observers here to see how Jesus disregarded rabbinical regulations. This had become very personal to these guys. It had gotten so personal. They wanted to get Him. Religion always takes offense at grace and it was all personal now. They wanted to exert their authority over Him, where their authority was unquestioned. They wanted to show that they ought to be followed and not Him. They plan to accuse Jesus on the Sabbath. Internal medicine was allowed on the Sabbath but not external medicine.

They knew that Jesus could heal and they would use His Deity against them. The pharisees only expounded on the law to their own advantage. They got very practical, but had to violate the Law to do so. They were manipulative and legalistic in their dealings with the Law.

They had hoped to exploit this situation. They ask Him, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?" and they saw this as being a very crafty question. Omniscience was not needed in order for Jesus to determine where this was heading. They were not interested in just asking some fellow rabbi what he thought about the sabbath and healing; this was a deadly game to take His life, at least eventually.

Matt. 12:10 And a man was there with a withered hand. And they asked him, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?"--so that they might accuse him.

So Jesus calls this man forward.

Mark 3:3 And he said to the man with the withered hand, "Come here."

then Jesus says, "Now, I'll ask you all a question..." This is not the direction that the pharisees wanted this to go.

Our Lord's Counter-questions

1. They were clear that He was trapping them in their own rabbinic regulations. They set a trap and he set a trap.
2. This was chess.
3. It must have been fun to watch Him. He won every argument. His question trapped them.

4. The pharisees knew that it was legitimate to save a life on the sabbath and that it was lawful to do good on the Sabbath.
5. They cannot say it is lawful to do harm or to take a life, and that is evil for the Sabbath. They were meaning to do Jesus harm and they were willing to Kill Him on the Sabbath.
6. So they had to admit to this. They were in front of the synagogue.
7. In front of the synagogue, they could not deny what He said; others heard as well.

These pharisees knew what they were doing and Jesus called them on it. He got them dead to rights. This is a good deed for the sabbath.

The Pharisees Hoping to Catch Jesus Breaking the Sabbath

1. If they said that Jesus was being unlawful to do good, that was problematic.
2. However, they had Him in one of their laws.
3. They would have to admit that doing good and saving a life was not acceptable on the Sabbath. They could not refute His question.
4. If that was their charge, that Jesus was being unlawful, then they would be exposed as sabbath-breakers themselves, as they would wrongly charge Him.
5. So what did they do? They kept silent. They did not know how to respond. They were only ready for one approach, and did not expect Jesus to question them.
6. They would be the ones breaking the sabbath.

Mark 3:4 And he said to them, "Is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do harm, to save life or to kill?" But they were silent.

This was a moment of teaching; to communicate doctrine. This was a comparison for the congregation to soak up. This was all about graciousness.

There are no questions about the man and whether or not he should be healed. The congregation certainly knew this man. This was analogous to saving this man's life. So, "Is it lawful to save a life?"

These men were debaters of the law; this was their area of expertise and they were unable to answer Jesus. They knew that Jesus had them. This was checkmate. There was no light in the souls of these men. The revelation of God's grace did not penetrate their souls.

Jesus continued to drive the point home. You can never stop driving doctrine home. Jesus would force the issue. There were a lot of shepherders in that congregation. He asks another question. He is asking these lawyers to consider another case.

Something That Was Ruled on by the Pharisees and Scribes

1. If a lamb falls into a pit on the sabbath and the owner could lose this lamb. They had to determine if the lamb is injured and determining how the lamb is will require effort.
2. If the lamb is not hurt, they could feed it and get it out when the sabbath is over.
3. However, if the lamb is seriously injured, pull it out of the pit and kill it.

What Their Problems Were; Pharisaical Casuistry

1. Here is what they actually did. They used casuistry. They had nullified the necessity of killing the animal over the years.
2. The application of general principles of ethics to specific problems of right and wrong to clarify the wrongs to to they were experts at casuistry.
3. Casuistry took the form of saving the lamb and yet still holding to their regulations.
4. Their ruling sidestepped and violated their own regulations.

The owner might take the sheep out of the pit, with the intent of killing it, but he does not. In that way, he kept the intent of the law yet kept the sheep alive. They were very practical when their own property was at risk.

Jesus is showing them for the hypocrites that they are. Now He will make an application to Himself.

Matt. 12:11 He said to them, "Which one of you who has a sheep, if it falls into a pit on the Sabbath, will not take hold of it and lift it out?"

Lesson #0221

Luke 6:9 Matt. 12:11– Life of Christ

2/2/2012 Thurs

This whole pharisee plot was based upon Jesus Christ healing this man with the withered hand. Their negative volition is truly amazing. The plot would unfold, when Jesus is teaching, a question was asked, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath." Jesus knew what they were thinking. Jesus understood where this question was taking Him; He knew their intentions. They wanted to hear the answer, "Yes," so that they could accused Him of working on the Sabbath.

Jesus calls this man to come forward, with the withered hand; and the pharisees were certain that Jesus would heal him. And they told this man to just go with it. He had been set up as a pawn by the pharisees. This man just stood there while Jesus explain a few things. Jesus answers a question with a question.

Luke 6:9 And Jesus said to them, "I ask you, is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do harm, to save life or to destroy it?"

The ultimate goal of these pharisees is to rid themselves of Jesus. However, they could not kill anyone on the Sabbath. So Jesus puts them on the spot, "Is it lawful to do good or to do harmful, to save life or to destroy it?" They were the ones who wanted to do evil; they wanted to destroy Jesus' life on the Sabbath.

Also, the pharisees are trapped with, if it is lawful to do good, then it is lawful to heal this man's hand. To answer the question would be to mess up their own plans. So they cannot say a thing.

Jesus continues teaching, in order to present grace over legalism. His grace and their legalism. So He cites a legal case of rabbinic law, a precedent-setting case. The pharisees loved to debate the law and they spent hours debating the Law; and they would read the Talmud and then discuss that and interpreted that.

"Okay, you have a sheep, he falls into a pit; and which one of you will not lift this sheep out of the pit. Casuistry was used over the years. They imposed false ethics on the question in front of them. They used this to bypass the regulation to their own advantage.

They could pull the sheep out with the intent to kill the sheep; that was okay, even if they did not kill the sheep.

In typical hypocrisy, the pharisees had manipulated the law to their own advantage. They ignored the legal precedence of lifting their sheep out, because this protected their property. Livestock was money to Philistines; so that took precedence. The modus operandi of religion; begging for money. What the Scripture actually says is bypassed. How could Jesus healing be construed as being harmful or a violation.

Matt. 12:11 He said to them, "Which one of you who has a sheep, if it falls into a pit on the Sabbath, will not take hold of it and lift it out?"

Jesus answers His Own question. It is lawful to do good on the Sabbath. He has already shown that healing is a good thing. A man is of a much greater value than a sheep. The pharisees placed a very high value on a sheep falling in a pit; and a man is even greater than they.

Matt. 12:12 Of how much more value is a man than a sheep! So it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath."

"You are willing to save your sheep; which is good; so why should I not heal this man, who is much greater than your sheep?" Psalm 8:4–8 Gen. 1:28 a man is much greater than a sheep. Rule and subdue; have dominion; control and manage. If man has authority over animals, then man his a higher creation than animals. Adam naming the animals represents his dominion over them. Their lives are subordinate to ours. Animals are put on this earth for our benefit; and it is okay to eat beef or pork or whatever.

In their sacrifices, animals were killed to picture the death of Jesus Christ. That was its representation and animals were slaughtered so that Jesus Christ could be represented.

Summary

1. If the pharisees took the life of a sheep so seriously, to go through a legal connivance to save it, then...
2. How much more is saving the life of a man; can't even he has
3. If a sheep's life could be saved on the Sabbath, then why not the healing of a man? Man is more important than all of the animal kingdom because he is made in the image of God. Man was created with a body, soul and spirit. Animals were not created with a soul.
4. If the sheep could be saved from the pit, based upon their interpretation of the rabbis in a legal case—which they knew about—then an individual is of greater worth
5. Any healing of a human being on the sabbath is legitimate and is classified as doing good; that is what makes it legal. The pharisees want to do harm on the Sabbath.
6. The logical conclusion is, healing a man on the Sabbath, like saving the sheep, is a good thing, and therefore, lawful.

if healing this man was unacceptable, then the pharisees could not allow good to be done on the Sabbath. This left the pharisees silent. They had no answer. He answers His questions, which they would not; then answered theirs and then healed the man with the bad hand.

Some of the people liked this; the pharisees were busy-bodies and pains-in-the-butt; so the people liked this sort of thing.

Mark 3:4 And he said to them, "Is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good or to do harm, to save life or to kill?" But they were silent. They pharisees could not make a comment.

Then Jesus healed this man. The pharisees were unable to speak here. They did not know what they could say or do. He is grieved at their hardness of heart.

Jesus just taught doctrine to the people who are there and to His disciples; and it is reasonable to assume that they remembered this for the rest of their lives.

Mark 3:5 And he looked around at them with anger, grieved at their hardness of heart, and said to the man, "Stretch out your hand." He stretched it out, and his hand was restored.

How did this hand change? We have no idea. He went from a useless hand to a perfectly operating hand, informed by one word from the Lord. He was angry at their hard-headedness.

The anger here would not be a mental attitude sin. Here, the context, the Greek noun is οργη. It means anger, wrath, indignation. When Jesus is angry, He has a specific attitude toward these guys.

Actual anger can be motivational toward other sins; but anger does not have to be sinful at all.

Eph. 4:26 Be angry and do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger,

We can have this attitude toward things occurring in our own country. Are we indignant at the lies we hear? Are we concerned over these lies? What is our reaction? To the act or to the person? Do we want to refute the lie or do we want to kick the other guy's ass.

Matt. 12:13 Then he said to the man, "Stretch out your hand." And the man stretched it out, and it was restored, healthy like the other.

Lesson #0222 Mk3:5 Pr29:22 15:1 Eph4:26 Life of Christ 2/5/2012 1Sun

We are capable of many mental attitude sins; and anger is one of the most destructive. Often, we go to verbal sins and occasionally to acts of anger. We have all done this because we all have a sin nature. People handle their anger differently; some let it simmer; and some explode. It is still a lurking bit of emotion in one's soul. It is a reaction to exasperating circumstances. This is not something that we can easily control. Sometimes we become chaotic or psychotic or irrational. This irrational aspect breeds a number of sins, including hatred and others. The angry person often becomes unfair and every cruel. What makes anger so destructive is, it was never an isolated sin.

Bob spoke of angry people; "Anger turns anyone into a jackass." In order to deal with a problem, you must keep your wits about you. Lose your temper and you lose the upper hand. This is why so many hurtful things are said during a bout with anger and so many bad decisions are made. Even when we feel justified in acting in anger, it solves nothing. Simmering or explosive anger just makes things worse.

Proverbs 29:22 A man of wrath stirs up strife, and one given to anger [hot-tempered man] causes much transgression.

A gentle answer is a rational response. You do not get crazy. A harsh word stirs up anger; so when you react in anger, you escalate the situation. If you are combative by nature, this is very difficult to deal with.

This is general wisdom, but it does not always achieve an absolute result. It is destructive for us to get angry, no matter what. It is much easier if you do not react in anger. There are certainly reasons to get angry. This leaves wreckage in your soul and in the souls of those around you. There is no more miserable people than those who are angry.

Proverbs 15:1 A soft answer turns away wrath, but a harsh word stirs up anger.

Anger is devastating to the spiritual life.

Eph 4:30 And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed for the day of redemption.

Eph 4:31 Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander be put away from you, along with all malice.

Your spiritual life cannot operate in this environment. When you grieve the Holy Spirit, you cannot apply doctrine and you cannot advance in the spiritual life. Anger rules with no abatement and no chance to advance in the spiritual life. It absolutely hinders effective prayer.

Eph 4:32 Be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you.

Transgressions of the nation. Edom pursued his brother with the sword out of anger. God laid His judgment on Edom.

Amos 1:11 Thus says the LORD: "For three transgressions of Edom, and for four, I will not revoke the punishment, because he pursued his brother with the sword and cast off all pity, and his anger tore perpetually, and he kept his wrath forever.

We are a very angry nation. We will find it in the political season in which we find ourselves.

There is a legitimate response to injustice or to a wrong suffered. The trick is to respond and not to react.

You may respond to a wrong suffered; to corruption; to degeneration with righteous indignation. Righteous indignation. Most of the time someone speaks of this, it is self-righteousness. It is often distorted. This is disapproval of a wrong action or a wrong circumstance. This indignation focuses on the wrongful action and condemns it. It does not focus on the individual. Condemnation of terrorism is righteous indignation. This is a principle of integrity. When confronted with injustice, wrongdoing, etc., the normal response is righteous indignation; and this precludes an irrational angry response.

The sin of anger is fomented in the person who focuses on himself and his own personal injury; and he reacts to it. When you focus on yourself or battle for your own cause is where you likely step over the line from righteous indignation to sinful anger. Self-centered arrogance is involved in anger expressed toward people or circumstances. It is your hurt that you focus on rather than the principle of injustice. Righteous indignation is not self-righteousness.

Eph 4:26 Be angry and do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger,

How do you keep this anger in check? By a renovated soul. You resist anger in the power of God the Holy Spirit just like any other sin. The more spiritually advanced you are, the easier it is to respond correctly to this circumstance. This is something that you develop; it is habit and spiritual growth. There is no substitute for continual spiritual growth. This is a problem that we all face. Some of us may get apoplectic by November this year.

After a long battle in the synagogue, the Lord looks at these pharisees with anger and He is grieved at their hardness of heart. He had just experienced the anger and hatred of the pharisees. They want to set Him up to heal this man's hand on the Sabbath so that they can attack Him.

Mar 3:5 And he looked around at them with anger [οργη], grieved at their hardness of heart, and said to the man, "Stretch out your hand." He stretched it out, and his hand was restored.

They simply wanted to catch our Lord. He has dealt with these pharisees on this topic twice before and laid it out clearly what His relationship to the Sabbath was. His response to their anger and hypocrisy is to tell them to change their minds and put their trust in Him. They hated Him all the more, even in the face of unimpeachable evidence.

Our Lord's anger was a justified response. These pharisees were faced with conclusive proof, both what they saw and based upon the Word of God that they knew. Jesus recognized their corruption; His judgment was not about anger; but it is about them falling short of the righteousness of God and their rejection of Him as Savior. They not only refused to believe but they hoped to dissuade others and take them into hell with them.

Lesson #0223 Mark 3:5–6 Luke 6:11 Life of Christ 2/5/2012 2Sunday

The Word of God is designed for instruction in righteousness. There is an acceptable and an unacceptable anger. Righteous indignation means that you disapprove of the degeneration and the corruption. The personal affronts are not the reason; but the sins themselves.

Mar 3:5 And he looked around at them with anger [οργη], grieved at their hardness of heart, and said to the man, "Stretch out your hand." He stretched it out, and his hand was restored.

Jesus was angry with the hardness of heart. Their πλεροσις, which is obstinacy; they were continuously obstinate in their area of weakness. They were callous in their own souls; callous to the solution. They did not embrace the solution; they rejected His message. They rejected the proofs of His Deity; of His Messiahship. He showed them again and again that He is their Messiah. They had scar tissue all over their souls. Their antagonism toward Him was relentless.

They were obstinate toward the Logos; the Living Word of God. His indignation was tempered with being grieved at His heart over their hardness of heart. Present active participle of συλλεπεω. He was continually grieved to those who were opposed to Him. He was momentarily grieved. There is indignation and the grief, which tempered the indignation. Jesus felt these things, and yet, He was without sin. He had fulfilled Prov. 15:1. He gave them the gentle word. He gave them the truth. He did not retaliate in anger; He simple showed them the truth by showing them what they were. They opposed Him, they were angry with Him; and even the healing had no effect upon them.

The pharisees saw the God-man perform this miracle; and they could not respond with anything other than grace. He could have railed against these pharisees, but He came back at them with grace. He had just performed a miracle that the pharisees hoped would condemn Him for breaking the Sabbath, in their thinking. He utterly defeated them in their evil schemes, yet He did not sin. He showed nothing but grace.

The pharisees did not respond in grace. They had no grace in their souls. They did not say, "You've got us; we are humbled before You. We must relearn it all."

Luke 6:11 But they were filled with fury and discussed with one another what they might do to Jesus.

Mark 3:6 The Pharisees went out and immediately held counsel with the Herodians against him, how to destroy him.

These pharisees are furious here. They could not believe that Jesus would heal this man's withered hand on the Sabbath. Jesus crushed them with His arguments. He has shown them just how ridiculous their rabbinic laws were.

It was way out of character for the pharisees to be silent. If they could not defeat the Lord verbally, they would have. However, they were silent. So they began to overtly plot to kill Him. The immediately went to speak with the Herodians; so they plotted His death on the Sabbath. Jesus wanted to save a life and to save their lives; and they plotted to kill Him.

They went to the Herodias and made an alliance with them. These are men of great influence, and they supported Herod Antipas at that time. They were the Herod party; the secular upper class Jews of that time. They were interested in court politics and the pursuit of pleasure; just like Washington today. They would be considered natural enemies to the pharisees and they generally could care less about Jesus or any other religious leader or religious dispute. The Herodias wanted to maintain their power which was under Herod backed by Rome and the pharisees sought to have independence from Rome.

The Herodians had heard of Jesus but they probably had little or no interest in this Messiah. They paid little attention to Jesus or any related controversy. Their attitude was "so what; who cares?" However, when this controversy seems to possibly fuel an uprising, this would concern them. This would be something that the pharisees might tell them, even though it is not really true in the sense that they all took it.

If the King of the Jews came to foment revolution; then Rome would become concerned and they would crush any sort of rebellion. The last thing that any of them wanted was a Roman legion to march into Jerusalem and put down any sort of rebellion.

Rome wanted taxes to be paid, bribes to be paid, and the people to be kept in order. If that was the case, Rome was happy with Jerusalem. However, their political power could come to an end if any of this changed.

Jesus got their full attention. Threaten their power and you can see these kinds of results. History is filled with examples of such things. It goes on today; the church had power in the Middle Ages and they vied with the secular kings with power.

The Jews wanted the Messiah as a political leader; they wanted a rebellion against Rome; and Jesus did not want to do this. He was not going to elevate the pharisees to rulership with Him.

These same two groups were enemies, and yet they joined to one another with a common cause. To the pharisees, even to speak to the Herodians indicates great desperation. They wanted to liquidate the God-man, the Son of God, Jesus Christ. No power on earth could have destroyed.

Jesus said, "No man can take My life unless I give it."

The pharisees were the most appalling of all. They were to preserve the Scriptures; and they awaited the Messiah. The Herodians didn't care; but these pharisees should have known.

Jesus exposed the pharisees for who they were; that they were wrong about everything. We would love to expose those who are corrupt around us. The end result is, it would get worse. Hardness of heart. You cannot change someone else; you can only change yourself. If you are upset over exterior circumstances, then you are the one who is miserable. People love that they can make you miserable. Jesus had the opposition of the state and of religion. The most powerful people of Palestine were against Jesus and wanted to kill Him. Jesus came to save their recalcitrants. He would die for them.

Lesson #0124

Luke 5: Life of Christ

2/8/2012 Wed

The pharisees have given it their best shot. They have made 3 attempts to show Jesus as being a Sabbath-breaker. They have failed miserably at this. And Jesus showed them up in the area where they were most self righteous. Nothing worse than a great athlete to be shown up in their area of specialty. So Jesus did this to Jewish theologians. And they could not handle this, because they lacked any spiritual dynamics.

These are the bullies of Palestine. They were not the final word on anything. Jesus is the final word on theology. He exposed their use of loopholes, which justified their own glaring deficiencies. Our Lord exposed the pharisees in their own selective enforcement. They were tough on others and pretty easy on themselves. They could skirt these regulations.

These men were the real Sabbath violators. He was able to take these religious types apart with very little effort.

These verses tell us how they felt and what they wanted to do. It was their stated goal, after leaving this synagogue in a rage, to destroy Jesus. They had been humiliated. Nothing short of death would be required. They had to eliminate Him as a threat to their power.

Luke 6:11 But they were filled with fury and discussed with one another what they might do to Jesus.

Mark 3:6 The Pharisees went out and immediately held counsel with the Herodians against him, how to destroy him.

Matt. 12:14 But the Pharisees went out and conspired against him, how to destroy him.

They met with the Herodians and the pharisees and the Herodians did not like one another. The herodians were of the upper classes and had great political influence, and they were Jewish supporters of the Herod dynasty, which made them supporters of the Roman dynasty. They were totally secular, and they gave no credence to those who were religious. This was a great affront to the pharisees. Legalists are always sensitive. Hypersensitive. The Herodians were also interested in the pursuit of pleasure. They had heard of Jesus and John the Baptizer; but they did not care much about this, except that they were upset over John and they arrested him.

Jesus was a common man in their view and He largely appealed to the common people. Jesus was a problem to the religious leaders. However, when His claim to be Messiah seemed to take on political overtones, then the large crowds following Him began to make Him a threat to the Herodians. They realized that if He led a revolution, if He stirred up the Jews, the Roman leaders would send in armies and put them down and depose Herod. Herod was to keep the peace. The Jews were problems for Rome; and Herod the Great and Herod Antipas kept them in line. The Jews would revolt in the future; and Rome would administer the final diaspora.

There are all kinds of regulations being written today to regulate every aspect of life, and many of these distort and contradict the Constitution. In the same way, all of these laws and regulations written by the Rabbis distorted and contradicted the Mosaic Law.

John the Baptizer proclaimed, "Repent." Or "Change your minds." But the pharisees and religious types would not change their minds about Jesus the Messiah. They rejected Jesus. This had to be heartbreaking to the Lord.

What we know to be truth is a lie to those who reject Jesus. All that our life is based upon is a lie to those who reject Christ. They are threatened by such things. They do not like to evaluate their lives in terms of eternity.

These pharisees would feel better if they never heard the name of Jesus Christ ever again. Why do you think there would be so much anger and vituperation against someone like Tim Tebow, who is a left-handed quarterback who needs a lot of work. But what upsets so many sports writers is, he is a believer.

This scene here is religion and secularism. It is like the alliance between Muslims and the Occupy movements.

Secularism and Religion

1. Secularism denies the existence of God, the divinity of Jesus Christ; His Messiahship.
2. Religion opposes God's grace in Christ. One denies and the other opposes grace.
3. They both represent cosmic opposition to Christ.
4. They are both Satan's means to counter the gospel of Jesus Christ.
5. Religion and secularism both throughout history will kill in their opposition to Christ. Nazis in WWII killed plenty of Christians; the Soviet regime killed millions of Christians; the Christians in China must have their faith.
6. They may have different approaches, but secularism and religion end up in the same place; opposition to the Lord Jesus Christ and the doctrine of the Word of God.

So these mortal enemies become strange bedfellows in desiring the death of Jesus Christ. They fell right into the support of God's plan. Jesus came to die and they are plotting exactly that which they want to prevent. God's plan always succeeds, no matter what the opposition is. It does not even matter if we are playing our part in this plan. Nothing can overcome the final fruition of God's plan. When you consider this, it reveals the sovereignty, power and omniscience of God. There has been so much of this over the past 2000 years and God's plan still comes out exactly the way that He planned it. God uses the evil designs of mankind to further His plan. Nothing is more evil than this alliance of the pharisees and the Herodians right here.

Opposition never is a problem for God; it may disturb us, but it does not disturb God.

Many of us are concerned about our nation and its direction; and we wonder what is happening and where is God? Our obligation is to remain in that plan. We are to remain in that plan by rebounding and taking in doctrine. God takes care of the rest.

As believers, we have a life of meaning and purpose. So few people have a real purpose in life. So many people have the purpose of making money. And this gives them no satisfaction.

The deeper you get in spiritual advance, the more you become satisfied with God's plan.

People make the mistake of equating their own plan for themselves with God's plan for them. When God does not come through for us in the way that we want Him to, that is the epitome of immaturity in the Christian life. Evaluate yourself in this area.

James 1:19–20 Know this, my beloved brothers: let every person be quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger; for the anger of man does not produce the righteousness of God.

What Does this Mean to Us?

1. If the believer gets angry in difficult circumstances, the plan of God is put on hold.
2. The righteousness of God is not being manifested in the believer's life through the believer's free will.
3. His righteousness is manifested when we live accord to His will.
4. We do not even know that we are in God's plan sometimes. Sometimes we are confused. If we continue to advance, it is going to work out as God has designed it.
5. Living the spiritual life brings us into line with His plan. This is when God's plan succeeds for us personally.
6. If we are believers, then we are on the ultimate winning side, through the death of Christ and we are victors in Him in the Angelic Conflict. We can succeed or fail as warriors in that plan. Christ defeats the powers and principalities in this world by His sacrificial death and resurrection.

All the evil schemes of man and Satan cannot defeat the plan of God; they could not stop the plan of God for Jesus Christ in the 1st advent. Their opposition cannot change one thing. Jesus dies of His Own free will. He gave up His life. "No one takes My life from Me; I give it."

The best laid plans of the opposition are futile before God's grace. Do not be desirous of what they have. God's plan is functioning and we are on the winning side. We must learn to stay in God's plan. However, even if our life is a disaster, we are still winners in this life; we are still witnesses for the prosecution.

What will be the results of this alliance? He walked away.

Mat 12:15 Jesus, aware of this, withdrew from there. And many followed him, and he healed them all.

Lesson #0125 Matt. 12:15 Mark 3:7– Life of Christ 2/9/2012 Thurs

We have religion and secularism both combined with the intent of killing Jesus. The Herodians cared about politics and wealth.

Jesus was aware of this alliance. He knew what was going on. He withdrew from there. The pharisees were far more interested in rabbinic law than they were in the Old Testament.

Mat 12:15 Jesus, aware of this, withdrew from there. And many followed him, and he healed them all.

These crowds followed Him about. They came from all over.

Mark 3:7 Jesus withdrew with his disciples to the sea, and a great crowd followed, from Galilee and Judea

Many people heard of what Jesus was doing, and people came from surrounding areas, outside the Israel area.

There is nothing written in the Bible which is nonessential. When Bobby approaches Scripture, he wants to skip over it. But he cannot do that. Every word of the Scripture has something to teach us.

Jesus was winning the pharisees were losing. His fame was spreading everywhere. Not only where Jesus went; not to just Jews, but to the city states around. Even people who had just heard of Jesus. Jesus was attracting huge crowds from all over, including lots of gentiles. Idumea, Tyre and Sidon are gentile occupied areas. The message of Jesus was being spread all over, even as the opposition became deadly.

Jesus Is Presenting the Truth of Himself, We Have Some Wanting to Kill Him

1. When Christians are persecuted, the results are the opposite of what the persecutors expect. They expect to crush and destroy Christianity. Islam believes that they will destroy every Christianity from this earth.
2. Christianity spreads more quickly when they are being persecuted.
3. Although persecution can be horrific and you can study the history of the church and some of the great people of doctrine were killed and many became martyrs; yet the Word was spread even faster. People wonder why do the powers that be want to destroy those teaching the Bible. This makes people curious. What is it that the government wants to quash or over regulate? We would prefer not to face persecution. However, it could happen. If you are persecuted, Christianity spreads. This is a part of our ministry. China under communism faced having all kinds of Christians and they tried to wipe them out. When people hear the truth, they latch onto it. They recognize the difference between the persecutors and the persecuted.
4. Persecution fulfills a great purpose in spreading the gospel.

Mark 3:8 and Jerusalem and Idumea and from beyond the Jordan and from around Tyre and Sidon. When the great crowd heard all that he was doing, they came to him.

These crowds are getting so large that Jesus has to gather His disciples and Jesus needed His disciples to get a boat.

The pushing and the shoving of the crowd had happened before. This would provide an escape if the crowd gets out of hand. Crowds have minds of their own and they can go out of control. Crowds are anonymous.

No ministry can exist apart from logistical support; even our Lord's. These huge crowds were there.

Mark 3:9 And he told his disciples to have a boat ready for him because of the crowd, lest they crush him,

Most of them came simply to be healed. Or to see His miracles. In the process of all this, they would hear His message. They were pushing and shoving to move close to Him to touch Him.

Επιπιπτω is the verb. It means to fall upon; to throw themselves upon Him. All of these people in pain and suffering, coming to be healed. This guy can fix it. He is the Great Physician. With such a crowd, they could be dangerous.

Mark 3:10 for he had healed many, so that all who had [tormenting] diseases pressed around him to touch him.

Matt 12:15 Jesus, aware of this, withdrew from there. And many followed him, and he healed them all.

Then He warns them not to make Him known.

Matt. 12:16 and ordered them not to make Him known.

There were the unclean spirits. People who were demon-possessed were unclean spirit. The demons recognized Jesus as God Himself. The One Who condemned them and they were going to be thrown into the Lake of Fire. Jesus was their absolute enemy; their judge; the One Who would throw them

Mark 3:11 And whenever the unclean spirits saw him, they fell down before him and cried out, "You are the Son of God."

Why Jesus Did Not Allow the Unclean Spirits to Testify of Him

1. Jesus did not want a proof from demons.
2. Jesus could not have demons testify of Him; that was an unacceptable identification.
3. Their testimony was not a part of God's plan.
4. In no way did Jesus want demons announcing Him, as if there was some sort of association between Himself and demons. He could not have them appear to be associated with Him.

Mark 3:12 And he strictly ordered them not to make him known.

Matt. 12:16 and ordered them not to make him known.

These phrases were applied to Jesus Christ by Isaiah centuries before He walked on this earth.

We will go through this prophecy step by step.

Jesus the Servant of God.

1. The emphasis of the book was upon Jesus the Servant. They wanted a warrior; a leader
2. Isa. 53 is the most famous chapter about Jesus the servant. He would come and he would suffer.
3. God the Father chose God the Son for this mission of servanthood. He did it in eternity past
4. Mankind's salvation would be secured by the Servant Whom God had chosen.
5. The Father chose His beloved Son as a sacrifice.
6. In doing so, the Son would show the overwhelming love and grace of God toward all mankind.
7. There was more to this. Who was Jesus telling to be quiet? The demons. Jesus sealed the doom of the fallen angels and Satan knew this.
8. Jesus disallowed the argument that God was unfair and unloving by condemning the
9. Jesus is the demonstration as to why Satan's appeal was groundless. The demons were scared out of their minds. They faced Him. They would fall down before Him and proclaim His royal title.

Matt. 12:17 This was to fulfill what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah:

These demons could only prostrate themselves before Him. Even though they hated him. Jesus wanted no homage from this group at all. He would destroy them. He is fulfilling Isaiah's prophecy.

Mark 3:13 And he went up on the mountain and called to him those whom he desired, and they came to him.

These same words were spoken at the Jordan River when God the Father identified Jesus. For all of this crowd that heard the demons scream; and their hearts Jesus called in him

Matt. 12:18 "Behold, my servant whom I have chosen, my beloved with whom my soul is well pleased. I will put my Spirit upon him, and he will proclaim justice to the Gentiles.

Matthew continues quoting this prophecy. And the remainder is critical.

Matt. 12:19 He will not quarrel or cry aloud, nor will anyone hear his voice in the streets;

Communion Sunday: Jesus Christ is the Light of the World

There is no arrogance in truth. Jesus is the truth and the life. He boldly declares Himself to be the Light of the World. For the first time, we can see beyond the shadow of our cell.

Isa 42:6–7 "I am the LORD; I have called you in righteousness; I will take you by the hand and keep you; I will give you as a covenant for the people, a light for the nations, to open the eyes that are blind, to bring out the prisoners from the dungeon, from the prison those who sit in darkness."

Adam, in his disobedience, was thrown out of the garden. He lost his relationship with God. The gloom that descended upon him descends upon us. We are all born into death.

Luke 1:79 to give light to those who sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace."

Psalms 107:10 Some sat in darkness and in the shadow of death, prisoners in affliction and in irons,

John 3:19–20 And this is the judgment: the light has come into the world, and people loved the darkness rather than the light because their works were evil. For everyone who does wicked things hates the light and does not come to the light, lest his works should be exposed.

Some people think that they are able to think through this life themselves; that they can look within themselves; others refuse to admit to any sin or problems.

The light shines in the darkness and the darkness did not comprehend it.

mankind cannot see in the dark; the unbeliever is in a cave, groping through life, groping through life.

Eph. 4:18 They are darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, due to their hardness of heart.

If our sun was deadened, our world would nearly instantly turn to absolute zero, and all life would end.

We cannot see light, but we can see the effects of light.

John 1:18 No one has ever seen God; the only God, who is at the Father's side, he has made him known.

2Tim. 1:10 and which now has been manifested through the appearing of our Savior Christ Jesus, who abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel,

After the cross, our salvation was an accomplished fact in time. Yet, man still stumbled through this world of darkness.

John 11:10 But if anyone walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him."

Eph. 2:12 remember that you were at that time separated from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel and strangers to the covenants of promise, having no hope and without God in the world.

John 12:46 I have come into the world as light, so that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness.

Eternal life is dependent upon the light of the world.

1Peter 2:9 But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for his own possession, that you may proclaim the excellencies of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light.

There must be light in order to for there to be life. Photosynthesis turns light into biological life. The energy source is sunlight and it is turned into that which the living can feast upon.

All spiritual life depends upon the light of the Word of God. The believer can only grow in the spiritual life by being illuminated by the life of Christ.

Jesus has just finished breaking the Sabbath-breakers, the terrible hypocrites. They responded with rage. The religious pharisees, in their rage, formed an alliance with the secular Herodians, Jews who supported the dynasty of Herod. The latter had no interest in Judaism or in Jesus Christ, except in how they might impact Herod's reign.

Matt 12:15 Jesus, aware of this, withdrew from there. And many followed him, and he healed them all.

Matt. 12:16 and ordered them not to make Him known.

Mark 3:11 And whenever the unclean spirits saw him, they fell down before him and cried out, "You are the Son of God."

Mark 3:12 And he strictly ordered them not to make him known.

Jesus did not want or need the testimony of the fallen angels; demonic testimony was not a part of God's plan for Jesus Christ. It was completely unacceptable in any circumstance; and particularly, not in front of this crowd. He forcefully stopped them from speaking of Him.

This demonic demonstration was important in order to fulfill another messianic prophecy.

Matt. 12:17 This was to fulfill what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah:

Jesus did not want the testimony of the demons; He wants for them to accept the testimony of Isaiah.

In Isa. 53, Jesus is identified as the Suffering Servant. These words were spoken in heaven. "Depart from Me, accursed ones...for the Lake of Fire prepared for the devil and his angels." Jesus would not even allow these demons to speak of His title, Son of God. They were not entitled to speak these words in any way.

This phrase was heard at the baptism of Jesus Christ at the Jordan River. The voice of God the Father would announce His Chosen One while He was being baptized.

Matt. 12:18 "Behold, My servant whom I have chosen, My beloved with Whom My soul is well pleased. I will put My Spirit upon him, and He will proclaim justice to the Gentiles.

Matt. 12:19 He will not quarrel or cry aloud, nor will anyone hear his voice in the streets;

Lesson #0227

Luke 5: Life of Christ

2/12/2012 2Sunday

Jesus is dealing with some demons who have decided to announce Him. He has left the synagogue where He defeated the pharisees, who tried to trap Him. He trapped them instead.

He is now at the sea of Galilee, and there is a great crowd there, many people who want to be healed. Demons fell on their faces, recognizing the Authority of the Universe before them, and they screamed out His title, Son of God. They said it loud and clear so that all could hear. Jesus tells them, "Do not make Me known!" This was one more aspect of Satan and his demons trying to deter Him from God's plan. If He allowed the demons to announce Him, there would be fulfilling the plan of God. Demons cannot play an active part of the plan of God.

Jesus is fulfilling a prophecy from Isaiah, which is an identification of His Person. He shut them up so that the prophecy could be fulfilled by Him. No demons could announce God the Son.

Matt. 12:17 This was to fulfill what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah:

The prophecy continues. God would put His Spirit upon God the Son; this is how Jesus was empowered. He was empowered by God the Holy Spirit when He was 40 days in the desert. This is another statement of the blessing and approval of God the Father of God the Son.

The Holy Spirit descending upon Him like a dove was a visible recognition of Him being empowered by God the Holy Spirit. God has empowered us to live the Christian life.

This is an amazing statement of the Trinity in the Old Testament. The Trinity was blasphemy to them; it was polytheism to them. They did not believe that God could be one in essence, but 3 in person.

Isaiah's prophecy included gentiles in the prophecy. In this crowd who surrounded Jesus, there were gentiles present, and they had come from all of the surrounding city-states. They had heard of Him. Many who were ill heard that He could heal. His miracles were the forerunner of His message. Christ fulfilled this prophecy that He is their Savior.

The Jews gnashed their teeth when Jesus spoke of the Gentiles.

Matt. 12:18 "Behold, My Servant whom I have chosen, My beloved with Whom My soul is well pleased. I will put My Spirit upon Him, and He will proclaim justice to the Gentiles. Isa. 42:1

Matt. 12:19 He will not quarrel or cry aloud, nor will anyone hear his voice in the streets;

Jesus came to save, and He would not break in fulfilling this mission. He would not go out. No one could take the life of Christ. "No one takes My life; I give it." Here were the demons listening to this, and they knew and they trembled.

There are large groups of people who would never like to hear the name of Jesus Christ. There are so many who would like to remove Him from every aspect of our national life.

Matt. 12:20 a bruised reed he will not break, and a smoldering wick he will not quench, until he brings justice to victory;

God's justice will triumph through the advent of the Messiah, and gentiles would benefit as well.

Religion is violent; history has shown us that religion is very violent. But Jesus is a kindness beyond our imagination. Giving someone the gospel is the greatest favor that you can give to someone. His ministry was one of compassion, love, empathy and of salvation. In contrast to the legalistic pharisees, who would believe in Christ. He is our Savior too, say the Gentiles. Jews disliked passaged like this.

Matt. 12:21 and in his name the Gentiles will hope."

We have studied the 3 Sabbath controversies. Those who were open recognized that Messiah was in their midst. Some rejected it, just as the pharisees did.

2 responses: faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, from both Jews and Gentiles alike. This was the first time it was clear that the Messiah would save both groups. But there was also rejection of the pharisees, who chose to hook up with the Herodians, to plot the death of Jesus.

Jesus knew what they were doing, so He responded by leaving. They got organized and he got organized. Then Jesus selected 12 disciples for intensive training. Why had Jesus waited for an entire year and without pulling in His disciples. Many disciples followed Him; and John, James, Peter and Andrew were merely the first.

However, He will be making a major announcement.

Jesus Waited One Year Before Organizing His Disciples

1. Jesus waited to select these 12 until after He is formally rejected by the nation. His kingdom rejected Him; His nation rejected Him. This was represented by both the religious and political wings of the nation Israel.
2. He now needed a tighter knit group to resist the shock of the antagonism toward Him. Jesus waited and then made His announcement. His disciples were getting discouraged, and we lose sight of our confidence. We forget who is in charge of our lives. The disciples were with Him every day, and they were getting discouraged. In fact, they had already left him and Jesus had to call them again.
3. Until they matured, they needed some group solidarity. They are discouraged, they are having problems, what do they need? Time alone with Him. That is physical face to face time. That is Bible doctrine. Do you think the Lord has forgotten you when you are going through a rough patch? People will desert us and we will desert ourselves, but Jesus Christ will never leave us. When we are weak, then we are strong. We will then have doctrine to call upon.
4. Jesus selected His disciples because there was a tremendous workload for Him alone. There were huge crowds. He was being mobbed everywhere that He went. He needed some help. He needed organizers. We are His devoted organization. We were selected the moment we believed in Jesus Christ. We can still move out in the organization. If we have wandered off, then we need to get back into His plan for our life.
5. Jesus needed concentrated time with this group. He needed this time to teach and to delegate this mounting labor. These disciples were gifted for that. We are gifted as a part of this organization.
6. The Lord needed to thoroughly train those who would represent Him. We need to be thoroughly trained to represent Him. When we are new believers we cannot wait to go out and talk about Him; but the more that we grow, the better we are as His ambassadors. This are the men who would spread the Great Commission. You do not do this simply from the seat of your pants. We all need training. All of this was training. What we are doing right now in Berachah is training. The more that we advance, the better prepared that we are for the war going on around us. It is the most important aspect of our life. Whatever we consider to be important pales by comparison to our life in Christ. Our armed forces are either in training or they are at war. We are in the world in the middle of the war.

These disciples would be students of Jesus's doctrines and teaching. There is only one way to learn the Lord Jesus Christ; only one way to observe Him—via the Word of God. The only book that reveals Jesus Christ, the Word of God. Commissioned officers is the need at this time, and Jesus is going to train these men to be leaders in His absence. They would be learning what their lives would be and what they would do, as witnesses and ambassadors throughout the world.

So many churches today want to send their members out into the street to be trained.

Notice the time frame. About 3 years of intense training; and these disciples will turn the world upside down.

We have no right to be discouraged in this life. There is only one way to have the proper mental attitude. We need to have His mind; to think like He does. We train and we train until it is rote. Everything that we face, we have doctrine in our soul to apply. Now we are ready to serve Him. Our assignments will become bigger and more important.

Lesson #0228

Mark 3:13–14 Luke 5: Life of Christ

2/15/2012 Wed

We have all been in a selection process. There has always been some sort of selection; some sort of competitive choice. There is all sorts of criteria for this selection. The obvious one is, getting a job. Getting a job requires that you stand out over others; that you have a good resume or that you stand out. Perhaps there is some pertinent experience. Or you have the skill and motivation that others lack. Or looking to be selected by a college. For Bobby, the selection process in the military. You may have a selection process for a bf or gf. The whole point of this is, Jesus Christ has to fill 12 slots and He knows that He needs 12 and there are many disciples who follow Him. He had lots of disciples and He had many candidates. They needed strong positive volition. They needed to be able to give Him undivided attention and constant companionship. There were other administrative skills needed for our Lord's ministry. One day, these who are selected will become Apostles, the leaders of the early church.

People did not get into this position as a matter of natural attrition. There will be a formal attrition process. He had already made an informal selection process. Peter, James, John, Philip and Matthew. Even those men may have not fit the bill entirely. Why did He wait so long to make this selection?

Like many selection processes, Jesus needed time to make this choice. He observed these men. But, at the same time, recall that He just selected these others without much fanfare. After a year, His workload increased as well. Also, there was an increase in the opposition to His ministry. He needed to pull together a tight knit group that He could encourage and work with. These men He selected would be listening, watching and learning and determining what would be required of them for the rest of their lives.

No one does well in a job apart from training. You have to learn; you have to become better. There is ongoing training for the believer in the Christian life. It is necessary for our advance. As believers, we have on-the-job training. Spiritual training never stops. Sometimes, there are people at Berea who believe that they have learned enough. If you do not keep learning, you will stagnate and even go backwards. The renovation of our thinking is our job. Every day that Bobby sits at His desk, he learns something more. Every day, he advances a little more. It never stops. In the Christian life, we are secure in our position in Christ. However, we are still a full-time worker for Jesus Christ.

The disciples who are selected will be the best and the most thoroughly prepared. These disciples never got a break. They never had a break in their ministry either. They did not stop; they did not let up; they did not want to. The better you get, the more enjoyable it is. We get to serve the Lord and our production is rewardable in life.

Mark 3:13-15 Luke 6:

Jesus is about to make a difficult choice, so he prays all night about this selection.

Mark 3:13 And he went up on the mountain and called to him those whom he desired, and they came to him.

Mark 3:14 And he appointed twelve (whom he also named apostles) so that they might be with him and he might send them out to preach

Bobby watched the Westminster Dog Show. That was a selection process. Jesus wanted these men to know that they would be the ones that He was selecting. He was not going to simply let nature take its course. These men realized from this formal selection what was ahead of them. He now trusts in God to answer His prayer according to God's will. We do not pray just to get our own way. God's direction may not be our own direction.

We are to make our decisions known to Him and we trust Him to make good and correct decisions. God uses the doctrine in our souls and He works circumstances and we have to be open to what He is telling us. The circumstances which come up are amazing. Sometimes, some things become so clear, and He answers. We are to make our decisions based on doctrine and knowledge of God's plan. With all of these things going for us, we can make decisions for our own lives. We can make our requests known, we can make decisions, and we can relax. God can guide us when we have doctrine in our souls; it is the good training and preparation that we need. The doctrine in our souls is what the Holy Spirit uses to guide and direct you. It is not mystical; it is not being moved around like a chess piece.

To call is προσκαλεω; the middle voice means that He summoned them to Himself. Jesus is choosing these men for His Own interest; these will be His closest associates. This is a complete honor. He knew exactly what He was doing. He had watched them and He had evaluated them and He prayed about this. Jesus evaluated the qualities of many of the people around him. He saw their motivation, their enthusiasm; He noticed how well they paid attention and what caught their attention.

The Holy Spirit would bestow the gift of Apostleship on these men on the day of Pentecost after the resurrection and ascension. They just got into school for the selection.

Jesus knew these men would meet the prerequisites as Apostles, and they would leave their former life behind to be with Him. They had a concentrated education from the Lord Jesus Christ. Some of these men would become the nucleus for Church Age doctrine in their training. They were not simply chosen at random.

They were given orders and they were even told that they had the authority to cast out demons. This is leadership training. We need the training so that we do not flop. We must be trained to function in His plan.

Lesson #0229

Luke 5: Life of Christ

2/16/2012 Thurs

Jesus prayed all night prior to choosing His disciples. Certainly, He was praying for wisdom in the decisions that He had to make the next morning. Prayer can, has and does turn the world upside down. We have a direct line to God. God answers our prayers, but not audibly.

He went up on a mountain top in order to pray. He asked for guidance and then descended that mountain. No idea how many disciples were waiting for Him.

He was about to make an appointment of 12 men who would carry on after His death.

Obviously, there would be more disciples there; and he named these men Apostles.

Luke 6:13 And when day came, He called his disciples and chose from them twelve, whom He named apostles:

Mark 3:13 And He went up on the mountain and called to Him those whom He desired, and they came to Him.

These men would preach to the larger crowds that Jesus was attracting.

Mark 3:14 And He appointed twelve (whom he also named apostles) so that they might be with Him and He might send them out to preach

There was an additional authority to cast out demons. They also performed miracles; but this casting out demons was an obvious power or credential. It was a sign of their authority or of their credentials. They are Apostles, the 12 chosen ones.

Mark 3:15 and have authority to cast out demons.

They would be commissioned when the Holy Spirit fell upon them, and they would be gifted as Church Age Apostles. They would teach the world what they had learned from Jesus Christ. They would evangelize throughout that part of the world. They would guide the early church.

They would also write the New Testament, which was critical. They had to know the doctrine and then write it under the power of the Spirit.

A peripheral question that occurs to Bobby; this is about the 12. Why are their 12 Apostles? Why not 13? Why not 200? It is clear that 12 was the number. Nowhere is it disclosed why 12. There must be some symbolic reason for this.

It is possible that the number 12 represents the 12 tribes of Israel. Jesus spoke to the Jews first; and Jesus appointed these 12 as Israel began to reject Him. These were Galileans, except for Judas, who was Judæan.

There is a lot of symbolism from the Old Testament. This is how Israel learned their doctrine. They learned from these rituals and the reality of these rituals. So it is reasonable to think this is commensurate with the symbolism of the 12 tribes.

Perhaps this indicates a continuity with the Old Testament. The 12 tribes of the Age of Israel; and in the Hypostatic Union Dispensation; and the 12 Apostles in the Hypostatic Union Dispensation and the Church Age.

There are 4 passages where these men are found; the disciples are mostly in the same order; and Peter is at the top. The most well-known are at the top; the least-known at the bottom. We know only some of them by name, in these lists alone, but we know nothing else about them.

The gift of Apostleship is only given to these men. The Bible does not tell us of them and their ministry.

Judas Iscariot is the least important. These men did not all sit down and make this list together, but 4 different times they are named. The first 7 are better known; the latter 5 are not at all. The problem with extra-Biblical books and traditions is, we do not know how reliable they are. Some were written in the 1st century, which suggests that they are more accurate.

Luke 6:14 Simon, whom he named Peter, and Andrew his brother, and James and John, and Philip, and Bartholomew,

We know of the 7 better known, 6 of them were selected earlier in our Lord's ministry. Matthew was called 6 months after that.

Some, we know about; but others, we will see here and know nothing more about them. Their personalities and positive volition was a factor in choosing them.

Luke 6:15 and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon who was called the Zealot, Judas Iscariot would be covered at another time.

Luke 6:16 and Judas the son [this is a genitive; so he may be a son or a brother] of James, and Judas Iscariot, who became a traitor.

By the time of the Acts, Judas had killed himself and Paul was chosen as his replacement.

3 groups of 4.

Matthias possibly had a ministry, but God the Holy Spirit had no reason to convey this to us.

Bartholomew is in the 2nd group; 7th in acts; 6th everywhere else. Bartholomew is not a proper name; it means a son of Polmi; his real name is Nathaniel in John 1:45ff. This is gotten by the process of elimination, comparing this with the list in John. Thaddeaus is the same person as Judas of James. Matthew and Mark calls him by one name, Luke and John call him by another.

Then there is Simon the Zealot, which can have several meanings. Its meaning is not completely clear. This was a 3rd religious faction. They are fiercely Judaistic more than the pharisees? They were even a more conservative group. What set them apart was, they actively resisted the Romans. They were Jewish revolutionaries; and they were very politically oriented. Simon may have come from this party.

This can also indicate someone who is unusually devoted to a person or to a cause. He is never actually linked to a revolutionary group at any time. The precise form that his zealotness took is open to speculation.

Judas Iscariot, and that name is obscure and he is, in many ways, the most mysterious. Several proposals as to the meaning of Iscariot. That is a title name; it is like Judas of Iscariot. Some thought of him as a town of Carioth. He was the only Judæan of the group. Another point of view is, this name means liar, man of the lie, which comes from an Aramaic word with a similar sound the Iscariot. 3rd choice is, Judas was a dyer of cloth. 4th possibility, he is a dagger bearer from a Semitic word sicarius. This is in the sense of being an assassin, and there were many of these who carried daggers under their cloaks, so that if they saw a Roman in a dark alley or a collaborator with the Romans, they could kill them.

Some of the others had similar temperaments of zealots. Peter carried a sword; he was armed. When the Roman soldiers came to arrest him, he cut off a soldier's ear. John and James were excitable and wanted to wipe out a whole village who rejected Jesus, so they are called sons of thunder.

What do we know about the character and the personalities of these men?

Bobby will go through each of these 12.

The first is the Apostle Peter. He is #1 on all of the lists. His original name was Simon bar Jonah, Simon the son of Jonas. He was sometimes called Cephus, which is the Aramaic name for _____. Peter means rock, and Jesus called him Peter. Gal. 2:9 tells us that he was a pillar of the early church, along with James and John.

John was the 2nd most prolific writer of the gospels.

Peter was brave and impetuous and he was assertive. He was also intense and forceful. He was a natural leader and he had the qualities of a leader; and he was certainly a natural leader among these. He also had shortcomings; he was impetuous, and he would jump to conclusions and he would overreact. He would also react and always question. He was not always discerning before he spoke. Peter was ready to fight at the drop of a hat; thin-skinned.

Peter was also very quick to recognize his own error. He had some humility. That made him very trainable. People who are humble are able to be taught. In many classrooms, there are those who cannot wait to talk. They want to get their 2 cents in and be recognized. But Peter also listened and he understood, and this was a necessary quality for a leader. He has to be able to listen and learn as well. A leader cannot put his own ego first; he also must learn to look before he leaps.

Subordinates to a leader will mistrust that leader if he makes bad decisions or decisions that he quickly retracts, or reacts weirdly to different circumstances.

His name means rock and we need to talk about why Jesus named him so. The interpretation is, from the Catholic church, that he is the rock upon which the Catholic church was founded as the first pope; and that the church continues to be built upon pope after pope, the vicar of Christ, assuming the mantle of apostleship. This is how the Catholic church has become so apostate over the centuries. Popes in the previous centuries made doctrinal pronouncements which were not accurate, and they attempted to make the Scripture irrelevant.

Peter is the cornerstone of the church. He is the one designated as being the foundation upon which the Catholic church exists, allowing all of the follow-on Peter's to make apostolic announcements. They become apostles who take upon themselves Peter's authority. So they represent Christ on earth.

Matt. 16:18 And I tell you, you are Peter [Πετρος], and on this rock [πετρα] I will build My church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

There is a subtle distinction here; it is a play on words.

Peter's Name and What Jesus Meant

1. The Apostle Peter is Πετρος, a stone, a fragment of a rock.
2. Christ is Πετρα, the entire rock.
3. Upon πετρα I will build My church refers to Christ.
4. Peter was a prominent Apostle, but he was not the Rock.
5. Peter is only a portion of this rock; a chip of the old rock.
6. The church will be built upon Πετρα, of which Peter is a chip.

The context nails it down.

Lesson #0230

Luke 6:13–16 Life of Christ

2/19/2012 1Sunday

The Apostles are listed the ones we know the most about first and the others later. Thaddeus occurs in this list, but nowhere else in other lists.

Luke 6:13–16 And when day came, he called his disciples and chose from them twelve, whom he named apostles: Simon, whom he named Peter, and Andrew his brother, and James and John, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon who was called the Zealot, and Judas the son of James, and Judas Iscariot, who became a traitor.

These men are the link between the Old Testament, the Hypostatic Union and the Church and even to the prophecies of the end times. They are the center of history. None of them could eclipse the Lord Jesus Christ.

What do we know them about the character and personalities of these men and the Bible? What does traditional and extra-Biblical sources tell us about them?

These are flawed men and God can use anyone; He can use all sorts of personalities and gifts and abilities. He chose them for this incredible mission. We may see ourselves as failures or without ability or talent; yet God, can use us.

Peter is at the top of all the lists. He was impetuous, intense, forceful, one who acted. Yet he had a humility about him and it takes humility in order to be teachable. He was a natural leader; a great leader; but he had to learn how to lead. He had to watch Jesus Christ and learn how Jesus operated.

Jesus gave Peter his name. His name was Simon, but Jesus replaced his name with Peter, which indicates that he was a pillar of strength. His name became an issue in the later church.

Matt. 16:18 And I tell you, you are Peter [Πετρος], and on this rock [πετρα] I will build My church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

Some have understood these verses to mean that Peter is the foundation upon which the church was built; that Jesus handed over His authority to Peter at this time. The Catholic church built up its system of popes by means of this verse.

Peter's name is Πέτρος; and Jesus says "Upon this πέτρα, I will build My church." Πέτρα is the greater of the two, forming a foundation suitable for a house. Πέτρος refers to a stone; a piece of rock. Who is the Cornerstone of the church? Jesus refers to Himself. Jesus is the foundation of the church; He is the foundation rock and the church will be built upon Him. Peter is the most prominent Apostle until Paul; but he was not the rock upon which the church would be built. He is not the complete foundation. Peter is, as it were, a chip off the old block, but he is not the Rock upon which the church is built.

The popes who assume apostolic authority are wrong; and the same is true of even Peter.

Matt. 16:14–16 And they said, "Some say John the Baptist, others say Elijah, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets." He said to them, "But who do you say that I am?" Simon Peter replied, "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God."

Peter's acknowledgment that Jesus is the Son of God was commended, and that is the context of this passage. The church would be built upon this truth. Peter and others wrote the foundational documents for the church; but the foundation is not Peter.

We must focus on the Scripture for our foundation in life. No one can replace the Lord Jesus Christ. That is the emphasis of Matt. 16:18.

However, Peter does figure very heavily into the spreading of the church. That is the doctrine which induced spiritual growth in believers and defined and guided believers. In that, Peter certainly assumed authority.

Church tradition says that Peter served for 40 years as an Apostle, which is more time than Paul and less time than John. He died as a martyr and tradition says that he is crucified upside down; and he desired this so he would not be crucified as our Lord. It could have happened this way and it could have been embellished later. Whatever the truth is, Peter is certainly a great choice; he is a wonderful choice.

Then we have Andrew. He is always up front in the lists; but we know little about him. He is the first one to be called informally as an Apostle. He brought Simon Peter into the fold. Andrew was evangelistic from the very beginning. John 12:20–36 Andrew brought a group of Greeks to Jesus. He had a decisive character. He could make quick and decisive decisions. All of the disciples became leaders.

Feeding of the 5000. Andrew found the boy with the loaves and fishes so that Jesus could perform this miracle. He anticipated what Jesus was all about. He saw what was happening and he logistically supported Jesus with what was necessary. Andrew is capable in this area.

The deacons in this church are logistical support. Every ministry needs this. Andrew was not one of the greatest Apostles, but he had sound common sense and he was used for the spread of the gospel.

Tradition says he was a missionary who traveled throughout the middle east and beyond. He was a traveling man and he spread the gospel. Tradition has him being crucified in Achaea.

James (Jacob) the son of Zebedee; and he is the brother of John. A fisherman in the business with Peter and John. They were willing to give this up. Many a missionary has gone to the mission field and has left a lot behind. They go to countries which are considerably less than ours.

The Browns working in a very remote area of Brazil. They live in a stick hut on stilts because the bugs are so bad. They still crawl through there. It is dirty. They give up their comforts and they are bringing the gospel and the Bible to this language. That is the kind of person we are dealing with. James was one of these kinds of people.

According to Scripture, he was one of the inner circle; informally called in Galilee. He is very common in the gospel accounts. He was there for the agony of Gethseme.

He and his brother were called sons of thunder, Mark 3:17; due to their impetuosity and . They were willing to call destruction on a Samaritan village for rejecting Jesus Christ. He was blunt and he spoke his mind. Herod beheaded him in Acts 12:2.

His brother, John, the disciple who absorbed the most doctrine from the teaching of Jesus. He was very theologically oriented. He understood the Person and the mission of Jesus Christ and he formed theological ideas which he would later write about. He was very zealous and impetuous with his brother. He was caring and sensitive. No one had more to say about love than John. He also spoke about truth. His gospel is called the gospel of belief.

He was also a very practical man, even though his theology was profound. He talked about living the Christian life in love and we have studied about virtue love in his teaching.

He was one of the most prolific writers of the New Testament; he lived the longest of all the Apostles and his ministry lasted about 60 years, in Asia Minor and in Ephesus. He is the only Apostle to die of natural causes.

Philip is in the second tier. He is conspicuous only in the book of John. John 1:43 called by Jesus. Appears to be practical, frugal and inquisitive. He was slow to make a decision. A slow, even-handed person. Very rational. He had a very business-like mind; but not a man of great theological understanding.

Philip is someone we can understand; he is a little dull, a little slow on the theological uptake.

Not as much is known about Andrew. One of his first acts, after believing in Jesus Christ, was to grab up Peter and haul him before Jesus Christ. He had an evangelistic and missionary desire from the very beginning. This is further demonstrated at the Feast of the Passover, where he introduces a group of Greek gentiles to Jesus Christ. He knew how to deal with people who need salvation; he took them to Jesus Christ. Andrew made decisions; he was not wishy washy. He could size up a situation and determine what to do. Involved in the feeding of the 5000. He immediately supported Jesus logistically. He found the boy with the loaves and fishes.

In travels, the disciples found food and shelter, and Andrew may have been involved there. He seemed to have common sense, which is certainly desirable.

James, the son of Zebedee. James was a part of the inner circle, along with Peter and John. He was present for most of the events of Christ's life. He spent so much time in these events. He was called a son of thunder; he was dedicated, blunt, a go-getter. He wasted little time. He could be very single-minded in his approach to things. He became one of the first martyrs. All of the Apostles, save John, were martyrs.

John, the brother of James. One of the most important Apostles and Biblically documented. He was called the disciple that Jesus loved. He was probably the one closest to our Lord. He was the most theologically minded of all the Apostles. He came to understand the Person and mission of the Lord Jesus Christ like no one else. He could delve deeply into the teaching of our Lord.

He was also called a son of thunder by Jesus. He was zealous and impetuous and a go-getter. He was friendly and amenable and he enjoyed the company of others. Sometimes, we call John's gospel the gospel of belief. We know the way of salvation better from John more than from any other book. There are many passages in his book that ought to be known by us in order to witness.

John was very practical and his theology was practical. He was one of the most prolific writers of the gospel. He was a deep thinker, second only to the Apostle Paul; a very educated man, although he was a fisherman. He may have been self taught to some degree. All Jewish males were required to attend a synagogue school. His ministry spanned 60 years. He spent a lot of time in Asia Minor. He died a natural death on the Isle of Patmos.

Philip is the next of the 3rd group of 4, and listed first in this group. He is called in John 1:43, and he is only discernable in the gospel of John. He is thought to be practical, frugal and tentative. He was not a go-getter. He stood back and watched things happen. Once you have the facts, then you must make the decision. Those who can't lose battles.

We get this information from the gospels and from later. As these men grew, their weaknesses became less and less of a problem. As they were commissioned, their flaws became less and less of a problem. This is characteristic of any believer.

Many of us have made good decisions from a position of strength or bad ones from a position of weakness.

John 12:20–22 Now among those who went up to worship at the feast were some Greeks. So these came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, and asked him, "Sir, we wish to see Jesus." Philip went and told Andrew; Andrew and Philip went and told Jesus.

Philip was a bit unsure of what to do, so we talked to Andrew; then Andrew and Philip then went to Jesus to talk about this. So he was somewhat tentative; he was less impetuous. He understood something should be done, but he knew that these were not Jews.

He showed a real dullness at the Last Supper; and he did not grasp it.

John 14:8–11 Philip said to him, "Lord, show us the Father, and it is enough for us." Jesus said to him, "Have I been with you so long, and you still do not know me, Philip? Whoever has seen me has seen the Father. How can you say, 'Show us the Father'? Do you not believe that I am in the Father and the Father is in me? The words that I say to you I do not speak on my own authority, but the Father who dwells in me does his works. Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father is in me, or else believe on account of the works themselves.

Jesus is revealing God the Father and Philip did not get this, even by the time of the Last Supper. How can you spend all of this time with the Lord and not get it. Who was Jesus Christ and what did He come to do? He sat in Bible class for 3 or 4 years and he still did not quite get it. So, Philip seems to disappear from the gospel stories. This does not mean that he lacked a ministry. He no doubt grew spiritually after this during the book of Acts.

Tradition had Philip traveling through Lydia and Asia Minor and that he settled in Heropolis, which is northwestern Turkey. He is an Apostle, listening to Jesus Christ for 3 or 4 years, and did not get it.

He was a martyr and hung against a pillar in Heropolis.

Lesson #0232

Matt. 12: Life of Christ

2/26/2012 2Sunday

There is hope for all of us, because out of these 11, they carried the Word of God abroad and evangelized the world. These men were given the gift of Apostleship. This was a temporary gift; a training gift of Apostleship. They were permanently commissioned when the Holy Spirit came upon them. In the meantime, this was a growing up period. This was a time for them to hear the Word of God. It was a time to study and concentrate. These men were developing their thinking and because of them, we have the doctrine that they taught available to us.

Now we get to the Apostles who are not as well-known. Much of this will come from church tradition and other sources.

Bartholomew means the Son of Tomai; and his actual name was Nathaniel. Philip brought him to Christ. He was from Cana of Galilee. He was a natural skeptic and a very judgmental person; he certainly looked down his own nose at Galileans, even though he was one. “Could anything good come from Galilee?” is attributable to him.

He did meet Jesus and acknowledged Him as the Son of God, the King of Israel. When confronted with the truth, he did respond. People are stuck in various places, like in evolution; they cannot grasp that science and God can coexist. Skeptics can believe in Christ, but they may respond to the truth.

Jesus recognized that he was a man without guile (John 1:47). He is only found in the first and last chapters of John. John 21:1–14

Tradition has him going to India and meeting his end there being skinned alive.

Thomas figures very prominently in the gospel of John, particularly in the final phases of the life of Jesus. Many of us may find ourselves at identifying with Thomas. He was brave and he showed heroism. Jesus said He was going back to Jerusalem, where the Jews had tried to stone Him to death, and Thomas told the other Apostles that they would go with Him. He showed leadership under pressure. “Let’s go, and, if needs be, we die with Him.”

Thomas was a pessimist. The problem for Thomas was, he lacked a deeper understanding of His Person and His mission.

John 14:2–3 In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also. We should be comforted here, because this is like going home. Jesus affirms that this is true.

John 14:4 And where I go you know, and the way you know.

John 14:5 Thomas says unto him, Lord, we know not where You go; and how can we know the way?

Thomas has been with Jesus for awhile and he does not know how to follow Jesus to this place. He did not know a thing, even though he had been Jesus all of this time. Jesus was encouraging the disciples. He was teaching them.

John 14:6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

Not many reliable traditions about Thomas; they are written centuries after his death. The most plausible tradition is, he traveled to Parthia, India, and he was martyred by being run through by a sword or something. He overcame his pessimist and got with it.

Matthew is one of the next group. His name is Levi and he is the tax collector, and he was converted when Jesus called him out of his tax office. He threw a big party for Jesus and had tax collectors and other disreputable people. However, we know little about him. He is probably the writer of the gospel of Matthew.

As a collector, he was collecting taxes for the Roman empire, and hated by fellow Jews. This required a set of abilities, the tax man is methodical, detail oriented, business like; and he may have started out on the crooked side as did other tax collectors, taking out his own cut from the taxes he collected. He did have a nice house.

He had to be educated, as he was an excellent writer; and this is one of the best written of the gospels. He had to be educate in order to fulfill his duties as a tax collector.

When Jesus witnessed to Matthew, this indicated that all social classes and barriers were unimportant when it comes to the gospel. He is chosen as an Apostle and he was called early in Christ's ministry, about 6 months into it. Jesus was no respecter of persons; He called those of upper and lower class.

Said that he was martyred by the sword in Ethiopia.

James of Altheas and Thaddeus. He is called James the Lesser by some. He is always identified by his father and his mother. He may have been the cousin of Jesus, and that involves some very tentative linking of relationships. Nothing is said about James in the gospel.

Thaddeus of Altheas (in the genitive). Or Judas of James. We do not know if he is the brother or the son here. We know very little about him. There is unlikely that there is a father and son Apostle; Judas would have been quite young, but that does not disqualify him. We have no idea here. The words son or brother are not there.

John 14:22–25 Judas saith unto him, not Iscariot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world? Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him. He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me. These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.

Judas saw Jesus as more of a political messiah, which was common at that time. Jesus was here to liberate man from spiritual death, and not from Rome. He wanted to put the 1st and 2nd advents together.

Tradition has him preaching in Iduemia, Mesopotamia, Lebanon, and several other places.

Simon the Zealot, and only his name has come down to us. He had a strong personality and he was a very loyal kind of a kind. Loyal to Jesus. We surmise his personality from his name.. He joined Judas in Persia, Armeanea or Lebanon, where he was martyred (from extra-Biblical sources, of course).

Judas Iscariot was enigmatic character. He had a great capacity for finance and handling money. He was a financial manager. He was the treasurer. He handled all of the money, and that is important. This included all of the money necessary for Jesus to function. They had to pay for food and shelter, etc. This was also his area of weakness. He was greedy. He turns out to be a thief; he pilfered from the coffers of this money. He was skimming money from off the top. He had an innate deceitfulness and this would continue to play out during the life of Jesus Christ. He sells Jesus for 30 pieces of silver. Money was his god. He was jealous and ambitious.

At the last supper, before he betrayed the Lord Jesus Christ. He demanded to sit next to Jesus and Jesus allowed for this. Being seated in that position was a sign of honor and favor. This is arrogance and self-centeredness.

Could this be a picture of Jesus and Satan?

Was he a believer or an unbeliever? There are good arguments on both sides. Judas has some tremendous lessons for each one of us. He is an abject failure. Yet, he was one of the intimate 12. If he is a believer, then he is a prototype reversionist.

Lesson #0233

Matt. 12: Life of Christ

2/29/2012 Wed

Judas Iscariot is one of the great enigmas of the Bible. We know very little about those Apostles in the final two tiers, Philip, Simon the Zealot, Thaddeus. We know more about Peter, James and John.

The failure, the traitor the betrayer, we have lots of information about him. The others we have some information about; but we know about Judas. He betrayed the Son of God. This is betrayal.

Jesus did have to go to the cross and Judas was an integral part of this plan. Why did Jesus choose a traitor among His closest associates? He gave them the singular honor of apostleship. The Apostle Paul and an apostle to the gentiles in the Church Age; but these other 12 had a ministry specifically to Israel.

Jesus was at His peak of popularity in Galilee.

But what a strange choice of Judas. He had capabilities and he was good with finances. Every organization and every ministry needs someone with finances. Somebody has got to be there to watch the purse strings to make certain that the organization does not get into financial trouble. This requires honesty and integrity. The administrator must have this kind of personal integrity when handling money. How many organizations have been ripped off by their financial officers. There have been huge rip offs in Houston; one right across the street, across Westheimer.

Judas was given the trust position of treasurer. The Lord knew about this going into it. Jesus would appoint a crook as the treasurer of His organization. Judas was greedy; he had monetary lust.

We had all of those demonstrators who were all upset about Wall Street types; but they were greedy as well. Having money or not having it does not distinguish you from being greedy or not. Judas placed his desire for money ahead of his position as treasurer of Jesus Christ. He put his own desire in front of his official duty; that is greed.

Is money more important than your spiritual life? You can make money and want money; but it is a matter of priorities. What is put ahead and what is put behind your working for money and your desire for money?

Judas was a thief; he skimmed from the top of the treasury. People gave money to Jesus and this is a universal means of exchange for means and services. It is okay to have money. The Lord Jesus Christ need money. He had to have support. He had to eat. He had to have food and clothing.

The disciples had to grab some grain from a grain field. Money was a part of their ministry and Judas was stealing.

Judas Was Selected

1. Not only Judas was selected as one of the apostles, but he was in charge of the money; the treasurer and logistition.
2. So Judas Iscariot was not peripheral to the life of Jesus Christ and the other disciples. We think of him as being peripheral, but that is not the case.
3. As the treasurer, he worked very closely with Jesus and the rest of them.
4. Judas' acceptance and treatment by Jesus Christ marked him as a friend and an intimate. This makes this even more baffling.

The actual reason that Judas was selected is unknown, but it is obscure as to why he was chosen. Jesus knew the flaw in Judas' character. John 6:64–70 Jesus knew who Judas was.

Was it a criteria to be a believer in Jesus Christ in order to be selected. It should be obvious that those selected would be believers. They were next to Him; they saw it, all of the miracles. Judas would be a believer, logically, or would he be selected?

Was Judas selected as an unbeliever to betray Him? The omniscience of Jesus knew Judas from the beginning. Judas was given every opportunity.

John 13:26 Jesus answered, "It is he to whom I will give this morsel of bread when I have dipped it." So when He had dipped the morsel, He gave it to Judas, the son of Simon Iscariot.

Jesus would dip the bread into gravy and then He gave it to Judas; and this was a great honor. Judas here has a chance to change his mind before he walks out to do the deed. If he was a believer, he could have rebounded and not betray the Lord Jesus Christ.

No definitive answer as to whether Judas was an unbeliever. I would assume this because Satan indwelt him. He had eternal security if he was a believer.

What's the answer there? This is an important question; not just one of simple curiosity. How much faith is necessary? If he can believe in Christ, then who could not? If he has eternal security, then this shows the great faithfulness of God.

In any case, we see the magnificent grace of God. He was a picture of the grace of God. If he was an unbeliever, Christ gave him every chance to believe. Jesus knew who he was and what he would do. Jesus offered salvation to this worst and most heinous of men. If a believer, then he spent his life in carnality. He could have rebounded and changed his thinking. He was given this opportunity.

There are many important issues with regards to Judas' eternal status. He was selected by Jesus as one of the 12. His betrayal of Jesus was not preordained of God.

Judas and Free Will and the Sovereignty of God.

1. The sovereignty of God and the free will of man coexist. This is true of God's plan and God's relationship with Judas Iscariot.
2. In His omniscience, God knew what Judas would ultimately do. This was God's foreknowledge; He knows everything past, present or future. God knows everything about the direction of our lives. Our volition is still free.
3. Judas had the real free will to betray the Lord.
4. Judas was responsible for his own failure and for this betrayal. If God foreordained this, then God is responsible.
5. God does not foreordain people to fail or to sin.
6. This is a choice to sin or not sin, to fail or not fail, is the choice of the person.

His betrayal was not a preconceived, foreordained circumstance. Judas could have chosen not to betray Jesus. God knew that he would. This fell into the plan of God because God knew what Judas would do.

Which is the way Judas was?

There Is a Lot of Evidence for Judas to Be an Unbeliever

1. Much of what Jesus said to the scribes and pharisees would have also been directed to Judas.
2. John 13:27 Then after he had taken the morsel, Satan entered into him. Jesus said to him, "What you are going to do, do quickly." This suggests that Satan possessed him. If Judas was possess by Satan, could he be a believer? No.

3. John 6:70 Jesus answered them, "Did I not choose you, the Twelve? And yet one of you is a devil." Jesus knew who Judas was and called him a devil.

Let's look on the other side.

There Is a Good Case to Be Made That Judas Was a Believer

1. The first point is, Jesus did select him as one of the twelve. It seems inconceivable that he could be selected and be an unbeliever.
 - a. Prior to being an Apostle, he was a disciple; a learner.
 - b. That means that, as a disciple, he was a student of Jesus Christ.
 - c. Judas has been a student for some time. Jesus made up His mind to take Judas.
 - d. Judas did not select the twelve until He had ministered for a year.
 - e. Judas had heard and he had listened and he undoubtedly understood the message of Jesus Christ. He must have understood salvation.
 - f. No doubt, Judas was a follower of Christ throughout. This we have no doubt. Jesus said "Follow Me" and Judas did.
 - g. Being a follower of Jesus could have been a factor in his selection. This is a possibility.
2. It is hard to fathom that Jesus would have selected an unbeliever to the most important and prestigious position in history. He was selected to the most prestigious office in history.
3. We cannot forget that Judas was given the most trusted of positions among the twelve. He was trusted by the Lord even though he was not trustworthy.
4. This could have simply been a test of his volition, having nothing to do with the ministry of Christ.
 - a. This selection was a clear opportunity for Jesus to make a choice for or against Christ. The greatest of opportunities to be with Jesus and to hear Him.
 - b. An important position can bring out the best or the worst.
 - c. But whether best or worst, the best would show the grace of God in offering Judas every opportunity to believe or to rebound and grow spiritually.
 - d. We can say that for certain because the grace of God and the volition of man are both involved. Jesus knew his mind and the ultimate outcome, He still allowed Judas to make the legitimate choice. Judas may have decided to believe in Jesus and then to betray Him.
 - e. Judas could have refused to betray Jesus and Christ still would have gone to the cross. This was necessary to the plan of God.
 - f. Jesus's mission would have been accomplished with or without Judas' betrayal.
 - g. Here is the example that is applied to us from Judas. We are all responsible for our own decisions, even though God knows what they will be. He does not predetermine our decisions. We have the legitimate choices to believe and to grow. That is the crux of Judas' decisions. Accept Christ or betray Christ. If we refuse to grow, that is a betrayal of our Lord.

5. All 12 of those who were chosen as temporary Apostles had the power and the authority to cast out demons, to heal the sick and to perform miracles. Matt. 10:1 they all had this power delegated to them though our Lord. Miracles were performed through the power of Christ. His power is delegated to His disciples. Judas was dead by the... The 12 were to proclaim the Kingdom of God. Judas did not make the cut of apostleship, because he was dead by them.

Being possessed by Satan and being called a devil are hard to get around.

Lesson #0234

Matt. 12: Life of Christ

3/1/2012 Thurs

Still on Judas and whether he is a believer or an unbeliever. This is a question that not many ask. Most have assumed that he is an unbeliever because of the sin that he committed. There is plenty of good evidence that he was an unbeliever.

Argument That Judas Is an Unbeliever

1. He was a thief and a very greedy man; this does not make him an unbeliever. He skimmed from the treasure of the Lord Jesus Christ. This would indicate that he had no regard for the Lord Jesus Christ or for His ministry. A contempt or a reduced regard.
2. John 13:27 Then after he had taken the morsel, Satan entered into him. Jesus said to him, "What you are going to do, do quickly." Can a believer be Satan-indwelt? He cannot. We are immune to this problem. The believer who is indued with the Holy Spirit is also disqualified from being demon-possessed. Bobby can find no case of demon-possession in the Old Testament. If Judas was an unbeliever, then demon-possession is entirely possible. All of the demon-possessed people that our Lord has encountered; these people that he encountered were his enemies. They were directed by demons. They overtly opposed Him. These demon-possessed people wanted nothing to do with Christ.
3. John 6:70 Jesus answered them, "Did I not choose you, the Twelve? And yet one of you is a devil." To be called a devil by the Lord Jesus Christ does not commend Judas. It sounds quite ominous for the final disposition of Judas.

What is the other case? And why does this matter? We will see the grace of God, whether Judas is a believer and an unbeliever. We will better understand what reversionism. A reversionist acts just like an unbeliever. Bobby has seen very positive people in the congregation who would today denounce Jesus Christ and God; or they are in religious reversionism; and it is not a pretty sight.

The Case for Judas Being a Believer

1. The very fact that Judas was selected by Christ to be an Apostle to Israel. The church was not in existence at this point, but there was the offer to Israel for the kingdom. The apostleship would be later transferred to the church, at least for the other apostles. Unquestionably, Judas was there early on. He would have had some relationship with Jesus during the first year. He would have been a disciple. He would have been exposed over and over again to the gospel. He would have heard our Lord's teaching and the casting out of demons and the many miracles that Jesus did. All it would have taken is a moment of faith and he would have been saved. In such a case, he would have continued with deep flaws and would never have grown.

2. It is difficult to imagine that Jesus would have selected an unbeliever as an Apostle if he was an unbeliever. That would have set up a close relationship with an unbeliever.
3. Not only did Jesus select him, but He made Judas treasurer, which was a high and trusted position; and Judas was greedy and a thief. Judas had a relationship with Christ. No question that Judas had a relationship of some sort with Jesus Christ.
4. Now we come to some definitive points: all 12 of those chosen as Apostles were given power and authority to cast out demons, to heal the sick and to perform miracles. Matt. 10:1 Mark 3:13–14 If Jesus delegated authority, then all of these miracles would have been done in the power of God. Judas would have had the same delegated power. That is a good argument for Judas being a believer. No unbeliever can operate with the power of God the Holy Spirit. No one in the Old Testament who was endued with God the Holy Spirit could be anything but a believer. Even Saul was endued with the Holy Spirit.
5. The power of miracles and casting out demons was given for a specific reason so that these apostles would have the credentials to show that they represented Christ. They were not given these powers to go out and wow others with their magic tricks. These were proofs that they were from God. An unbeliever can never represent Jesus Christ in this way. If Judas was a part of the 12, then he was seen as a representative of Jesus. Even with this insatiable lust for money, he still had this authority as an ambassador for Jesus Christ.
6. So Bobby is concluding that Judas was a believer at the moment he was named by Jesus as an apostle.

There is a great fight between the indwelling of the Holy Spirit and satan.

Mat 10:20 For it is not you who speak, but the Spirit of your Father speaking through you.

What Does Matt. 10:20 Mean?

1. This statement was made right after the disciples had been set up to go out and witness. He makes this statement right after they were selected.
2. The disciples were commissioned to preach to the house of Israel. They can only proclaim the message in the power of the Spirit.

3. In this verse, the supernatural power is revealed by which this preaching would be carried out. This was the endowment of the Holy Spirit. You 12 are given this power; the kingdom is at hand.
4. Only believers could receive the empowerment of the Holy Spirit in the Old or New Testaments. They had the indument
5. If this commission was real for Judas, then the statement issued by Jesus would apply to Judas as well. Judas had that power from the Holy Spirit that only the believer could possess.

We still have that demon-possession problem looming out there.

7. Judas was treated by the Lord with friendship, honor and intimacy.
 - a. This friendship was shown at the last supper. Judas sat at the place of honor during the last supper. This indicates that there was some kind of relationship between these two.
 - b. All believers have a relationship with Jesus Christ at the moment of salvation. Judas was obviously undeserving of such a relationship at salvation; but then, so are we. Jesus Christ showed it.
 - c. Luke 6:16b Judas became a traitor. This is a betrayer of someone.
 - d. Judas in his betrayal deserted one camp for another camp. He jumped from one side to the other.
 - e. He was a traitor to the Lord with Whom he had a friendship; or a relationship. You cannot betray someone unless you have a relationship with them. That is what makes this betrayal so heinous. He was an intimate associate with Jesus who changed sides. He had a relationship and sold Jesus out.
 - f. Judas betrayed a friend with Whom he had an intimate relationship.
 - g. Is that not what the believer does in reversionism?
 - h. Such a close relationship indicates an earlier trust by Judas in Christ. That is what a reversionist has.
 - i. This was a relationship that was betrayed.
 - j. Having a relationship and then being unfaithful, a betrayal, a believer becoming an enemy of God, a betrayer. James 4:4 You adulterous people! Do you not know that friendship with the world is enmity with God? An adulteress is someone who is unfaithful, who betrays a marital partner with whom they have a relationship. This is exactly what Judas was. Friendship with the world is hostility to God. Judas demonstrates his friendship with the world by betraying his relationship with Jesus Christ. He was an intimate of Christ and he betrayed Jesus Christ. Just as a person would betray a spouse in marriage. Adultery does not dissolve the marriage. This is a picture of someone who no longer has fellowship with the spouse. Adultery severs fellowship. Therefore whoever wishes to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. Becoming a Judas is a terrible thing. Fellowship may be broken; but the status of marriage is not. A relationship remains even in name only. Likewise the believer remains in a relationship with Christ as an adulteress in a relationship with Christ, although estranged from him. He became a friend of the world, but still related to Christ through an eternal relationship.

8. Let's have a look at the most damaging piece of evidence against Judas being a believer. Luke 22:3 Then Satan entered into Judas called Iscariot, who was of the number of the twelve. John 13:27

So let's examine the problem of demon-possession. Εισερχομαι is the word used here.

The disciples argued about some silly things; so Judas may have hung out and felt superior to them.

Lesson #0235 James 4:4 1Tim. 4:1 Life of Christ 3/4/2012 1Sunday

We are going to see the difference between believers and unbelievers. A life that is potentially filled with peace and contentment in adversity or in blessing. We have eternal rewards in heaven. These are things which the believer has and the unbeliever does not.

What about the believer who fails to utilize the grace assets provided by God. The one who fails to live the spiritual life in any credible way; who never makes use of his grace assets? Certainly, once saved, always saved. They can renounce their Christianity; they can believe, and 2 seconds later, never look back. Salvation cannot be forfeited. It is guaranteed by the immutability of God.

So what about the temporal existence of such a believer? We have called such believers reversionism in Berachah. In a nutshell, the believer who falls back into his old life is a reversionist. We all fail and sin, but the reversionism does not get back into fellowship. This is the believer without doctrine. The only left for such a person is the cosmic system.

No one can think divine viewpoint without doctrine in the soul. The reversionist does not have doctrine in the soul, so he cannot use or apply it. He can produce, at the best, human good. He does not glorify God; he does not serve God in this life. He is capable of just as much evil as the unbeliever.

In this regard, we are examining Judas Iscariot. He is the world-renown traitor. When speaking of a traitor, his name is prominent. He betrayed the God-man to death on the cross. He betrayed his and the world's Savior. As an Apostle chosen by Christ, he also had a facade of self-righteousness. Evil covered by a facade of self-righteousness.

So was Judas an unbeliever or not? We have been determining that over the past few nights. At first blush, we would assume that Judas is an unbeliever. He was a thief (although plenty of Christians are thieves). Beware of Christian friends who promise to get you a 10% return when no one else can do that. Judas skimmed from the very coffers of Jesus Christ and His ministry. This would indicate that Jesus had no real regard for our Lord's ministry.

Jesus called Judas a devil in John 6:70. And the 3rd case is, John 13:27 where Judas appears to be indwelt by Satan himself.

There are factors that suggest that Judas was a believer. He was chosen as an Apostle as one of the 12. He was given the responsibility of being a treasurer. Also, Judas would have had a close relationship with Christ simply because he was an Apostle and the treasurer. He was treated as an intimate friend and with honor. Judas requested to be sat at the place of honor, and Jesus allowed for this. That is, at the very least, a picture of having a relationship.

Jas 4:4 Adulterers and adulteresses! Do you not know that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? Therefore whoever desires to be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.

Believers are called here adulterers and adulteresses. It is a metaphor. Addressed to a believer who is unfaithful. Friendship with the world is hostility toward God. Adultery, in and of itself, does not dissolve a marriage. This is a warning to the believer not to violate our relationship with the Lord. Who are you friends with? Who are you an enemy with? Believers are married to Christ; unbelievers are not.

4. All 12 Apostles could cast out demons and heal the sick. Unbelievers cannot accomplish such things. But we have never seen Judas cast out any demons. These points look good, but none of these are conclusive.
5. Matt. 10:20 For it is not you who speak, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you. The indouement of the Holy Spirit was given to the great heroes of the Old Testament and to believers in the gospels. Only believers could receive the Holy Spirit.
6. But we are left with the big problem; Judas is indwelt by Satan. An unbeliever can sink to the bottom of the ocean; the same is true of the unbeliever. Would this rule out being a believer? The Greek word is εἰσερχομαι, which definitely has the meaning of Satan entering into or going into a person. It can have a figurative meaning. It can refer to a desire that comes upon a person.

If a desire comes over you, you are open to this temptation and you are willing to succumb to it. This is what happened to Judas. The desire came upon him and he acquiesced to Satan. This sounds like a process of reversionism. This could simply be the culmination of Satan control of an unbeliever.

Greek words, like English words, do not have the same meaning in every context.

All of this evidence put together points to Judas as a believer; and εἰσερχομαι can simply mean being under the full influence of someone else. Satan controlled the thinking of the mind. Bobby is hairsplitting here. But now we are looking at a man who is ostensibly a believer who also is so influenced by Satan that he no longer

1Tim. 4:1–3 But the Spirit expressly says that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and teachings [doctrines] of demons, speaking lies in hypocrisy, being seared in their own conscience, forbidding to marry, saying to abstain from foods which God has created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth.

Judas, betraying Jesus, was likely a process of thinking. A process of reversionism with that final heinous result.

Judas as a Believer

1. This indicates that Satan was completely influential in Judas' thinking. 1Tim. 4:1 when Judas was first appointed to the 12, Satan was not involved.
2. Judas made the decision.
3. He was not forced to do this by a Satantic possession as if he had no will of his own, which is characteristic of demon-possession.
4. This mitigates against Satan's possession.
5. Betrayal was the progress of satanic influence. Culminating in the act that Judas did.
6. Satan was involved in the process, as he would have been in any downward spiral of of some reversionist. Satan can influence us to betray our faith. Acts 5:3–5 But Peter said, Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart for you to lie to the Holy Spirit, and to keep back part of the price of the land? While it remained, was it not your own? And after it was sold, was it not in your own authority? Why have you conceived this thing in your heart? You have not lied to men, but to God. And hearing these words, Ananias fell down and expired. And great fear came on all those who heard these things. Satan filled his thinking, his heart, which indicates monetary lust. Ananias was not indwelt by Satan. He was utterly influenced by such thinking; but there was no bodily possession.
7. Satan influence is what happended to Judas.

Lesson #0236

John 4: Life of Christ

3/4/2012 2Sunday

Bobby can tell that we are not totally convinced yet. Bobby has already decided himself.

John 13:47 And after the morsel, then Satan entered into him. Then Jesus said to him, What you do, do quickly.

Εισερχομαι

1. This εισερχομαι motioning toward Judas by Satan leading him into deep reversionism. This does happened to believers.
2. Judas was overwhelmingly moved to betray Jesus.
3. This desire to betray was activated by Satanic influence. There was plenty of time for Judas, as a believer, to sink into the depths.
4. All of this is commensurate with what happens in the thinking of the reversionist. The same process.

5. Satan has tempted the volition and the mentality of Judas's soul; and his conscience as well. Satan is very good at this. Judas gave full assent to the influence. Eve is an example of giving into Satan's deception.
6. In this way, Satan took full advantage of these circumstances by manipulating a complete reversionist. A complete influence; the thinking of Satan himself. Believers can think utter human viewpoint.
7. This was easy for Satan, as Judas was thinking with total arrogance in complete carnality, allowing his lust pattern to run amuck.
8. Satan's name is arrogance. This is Satan's original sin. That is arrogance. He transfers this to anyone who accepts this, to anyone who thinks this way. For Satan, this is the big one. This is every bit as big as Adam and the woman. What better way than to cozy up to someone with an intimate relationship with Jesus Christ.
9. Judas had a desire to betray Jesus awhile before. Luke 22:4–5 And going, he talked with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray Him to them. And they were glad and they agreed to give him silver. Satan put into Judas's heart this betrayal for money. There is the contract to betray and the actual betrayal. Judas had volition and he accepted it, but Satan had influence over him. Some people have almost complete influence. Satan does not have bodily possession of him. Judas can be a believer and still under complete mental influence by Satan. He was addicted to the money. He could not resist.

So, what difference does this all make? It makes no difference to the narrative of the gospels. Judas betrayed Jesus; believer or unbeliever. We as believers in Jesus Christ can appreciate the depth that we are able to fall as believers. Believers can think and act just like any unbeliever. We can behave like the worst of unbelievers. If Judas is a believer, how much more does this mean that we can fall. This is a perfect example of how far our lusts can take us. All of these things that Judas did could reveal the depraved soul of a believer.

The volition of the unbeliever or the believer is the issue here. Judas had every opportunity as a believer to grow or as an unbeliever to grow spiritually. The disciples did grow spiritually. Judas' thinking originated from his volition and they resulted in his actions. Judas began with monetary lust and he ended up in the depths of degradation.

Judas' thinking was not renovated and his sin nature was unchecked. No rebound; no spiritual growth so what was sucked into his soul were the doctrines of demons. He who does not advance, retreats; such a person has no spiritual life. In the selection and treatment of Judas is, God's love toward us does not change. Jesus Christ died for His betrayer. He said, "Forgive them, for they know not what they do."

One moment of faith, on the cross, "Today you will be with Me in paradise." The extent of God's grace is unlimited. No matter what we have done, we can be saved. The grace of God is sufficient for every sin, every failure. Think of it, Judas Iscariot a failure; and yet, he is in heaven, if he was a believer.

What took Judas to this point of betrayal. Judas, like many of the disciples, believed that Jesus as Messiah would ultimately lead an insurrection against Rome. That was the political understanding of Jesus. However, about a year into it, it became clear that is not what Jesus would do. Perhaps Judas was disillusioned and maybe feeling a bit betrayed. He was ready for the revolution. He was impatient and ambitious, and if a believer, this would be the start down the road of reversionism.

He may have rationalized this to himself. "If Jesus is the Lord, there is nothing that they can do against Him."

Some final thoughts: we should not doubt the integrity of Jesus' choice of Judas. He never made a mistake; He never sinned. This was a perfect decision. Did he have to be a believer? Was he a believer? Bobby thinks so. Jesus makes repeated appeals to Judas throughout their association. Jesus probably gave special time to Judas. Bobby has had a number of people in his life that he was uncertain whether or not they were believers, including one person who was in the pulpit recently. Judas' betrayal of the Lord does not mean that God foreordained this betrayal. The determination of God versus the free will of man. Do we have volition or not? We are responsible for our own decisions. We are not Islamic. They kill someone and they say, "That is God's will." They take no responsibility for it. Judas had real free will and he made real decisions which led him in this direction.

God's omniscience knows everything. He already knows what will happen. That does not mean that He predetermines what will happen. This was the case with Judas. The omniscience of God and the free will of man.

Lesson #0237

Luke 5: Life of Christ

3/7/2012 Wed

Final Thoughts on Judas Iscariot

1. We should never doubt the integrity of our Lord's integrity in selecting Judas to be an Apostleship; he was not taken in name only. Judas was one of the twelve. He had to view Judas as a disciple with potential; he had potential just as the others did; and he could choose for or against Christ. Our Lord makes repeated appeals to Judas throughout their association in many different ways. He did this even though He knew that Judas would be the betrayer. If the grace of God can be extended to Judas, then certain to us.
2. The foreknowledge of God of Judas's betrayal does not mean that God foreordained His betrayal. He knew what Judas would do. There was a legitimate choice. Bobby likened Judas to a drug addict. He took drugs recreationally; but as he takes more and more, he is pulled into it more and more. Parallel to Judas and his monetary lust. He got to the point where he was nearly controlled by Satan.
3. Judas was never a true follower of Christ in the sense of true spiritual advance. He never advanced spiritually, even though he had a genuine relationship to Christ as a disciple; and this relationship cannot be overlooked.

4. There is no doubt that Judas dealt with Jesus in a close personal way; he was one of the disciples and he handled the treasury. This means interaction with our Lord.
5. It is impossible to say with exact certainty what Judas spiritual status was. It is certain that over a period of time, resentment for not seeing the kingdom come in, and he wanted to see the Lord begin the revolution; and it was fanned by jealousy and greed and by Satan's influence. He appeared on the stage of Biblical history to show the rejection of Jesus Christ as Savior and that is rejection which helps us to understand negative volition. There is the other side of it; the dangers of reversionism.

Bobby is convinced that Judas is a believer, but a reversionistic believer.

4 Reasons by Judas Was a Believer

1. He was chosen by Christ as a disciple.
2. He had the power to cast out demons and to perform miracles. They all had this power.
3. Clearly, the 12 were indued by the Holy Spirit to preach the gospel to the house of Israel; to preach the kingdom.
4. Although Judas was deeply under the influence of Satan, he was not bodily controlled by Satan.

How can be apply this? Do not be surprised as to what believers in reversionism can do. Do not be surprised as to the depths that they can fall to. Judas has a relationship, but he betrayed a friend. Jesus treated him as a friend. He was even given the sea of honor at the last supper. Do not conclude that such a person could not have been saved in the first place. He would be a poster child for that understanding. Judas is a monument to the degradation of reversionism.

Next increment will be the sermon on the mount. Matt. 5–7, which is about as much space as is given to any sermon. Sermon on the plain, in Luke 6.

Jesus believed in repetition; so He believed in saying a sermon more than once.

Bobby knows how much Bob's ministry meant to them and many never sat in the church. Many have grown up by means of Bob's ministry. Electronic means may be the primary way that we can learn doctrine in the future if our nation moves more and more toward the persecution of Christianity. Already some portions of Scripture are being called hate speech and hate speech is against the law.

This is the devil's world; the truth will be assaulted. We have been very blessed by this nation because we are on the cusp of seeing that no longer. Some day, Bobby many not be able to preach certain portions of the Bible. Bobby is bound to teach the Scripture.

We should think about where we stand with regards to Bible doctrine and things are happening and religious liberty is being challenged slowly but surely.

The subject of the sermon on the mount is five-fold. It is called this because He first preached it on a mountain. There are 5 subjects that would be covered.

The 5 Subjects

1. The character of God's kingdom promised by God to Abraham and offered by Jesus Christ at the 1st advent. Only the Olivet discourse is entirely recorded in Scripture. This is the longest sermon that Jesus spoke. Clearly, this sermon is about God's kingdom. This is a legitimate offer. This is the context of Matthew.
 - a. Matt. 1:1–17 the genealogy of the King descended from Abraham and David.
 - b. Matt. 1:18ff birth of the King
 - c. Preservation of the King. Matt. 2
 - d. Matt. 3:1–5 the herald to the king, eating honey with a camel haired coat.
 - e. Matt. 3:6–17
 - f. The temptation of the King. Matt. 4:1–11
 - g. The ministry of the King to Israel. Matt. 4:12ff
 - h. Matt. 5–7 is the sermon by the King about the Kingdom.
2. The characteristics of righteousness.
3. It clarifies Christ's relation to the Mosaic Law and a true interpretation of the Law.
4. It delineates Christ's rejection of the doctrines, the practices and the whole way of life for the pharisees.
5. Jesus instructs those who desire to enter the kingdom; the characteristics.

Who was the audience for this sermon. There are the newly commissioned 12 disciples, just made Apostles. Also, in the sermon on the plain. First spoken to those considering the Kingdom of God and Christ's relationship to it. They needed to know the relationship of Jesus Christ to it. He was king. It was also given to an audience as an exposition to the righteousness of God, as connected to those who would enter the kingdom.

This is one of the most misunderstood passages in the Word of God. It has been butchered. Many have thought that this sermon proposes a way of salvation. It includes attitudes and functions of those with a relationship to the kingdom. This was never meant as a sermon leading to salvation. If that were the intent, then salvation would be based upon good works and character. But the violates Scripture.

There are many who see this as the Bible. It is all they know. The famous beatitudes, as an example. This is the way of life in the promised kingdom, but not the way to salvation. People take being a peacemaker as the way of salvation. That is not the point. These things will not be accomplished until the kingdom, which is the second advent.

In reality, this is a practical address to the Jewish people in this time. We must keep this dispensational point in mind. This sermon is directed to a specific dispensation, in the dispensation of the Hypostatic union, but not given to the church. It was given to Israel but it does have application for us today.

The Kingdom and the Sermon on the Mount

1. In speaking this sermon, Jesus is looking forward to His kingdom.
2. The attitudes in His kingdom.
3. This was given to Israel in the time of the 1st advent.
4. This defines what the kingdom would be like even though the kingdom would be rejected. You wonder, "Why wouldn't they want this?"
5. The kingdom described in this sermon would not come to fruition until the return of the King of Kings. That is the dispensation of the Millennium which is the fulfillment of the sermon on the mount.

Israel, Hypostatic Union, the Church, the Millennium. The King arrives and makes a legitimate offer.

Here Is What Is Being Offered

1. The main purpose for which the sermon was given was to define the kingdom that He was offering. This is given one year of His ministry. "Here is what I am offering."
2. The sermon has application to the future millennial kingdom. What we are hearing and studying will be fulfilled at the 2nd advent.
3. This is not primarily about the Millennium. This is in preparation for the Millennium.
4. This sermon was given so that those who would enter the kingdom would understand how life would be conducted once the kingdom was instituted. This is for those entering the kingdom. It was being offered during the age of the Hypostatic Union.
5. This sermon describes life in relationship to God in the kingdom.
6. You cannot separate this sermon from its fulfillment in the Millennium. This was a legitimate offer. It was a dispensational presentation to Israel.

Lesson #0238

John 4: Life of Christ

3/8/2012 Thurs

Bobby believes that he confused us last night. Dispensation of Israel; the Dispensation of the Hypostatic Union; and the Church Age.

Bobby has a diagram and there is a timeline where the Sermon on the Mount is found. Abrahamic covenant is in 3 parts. There is the royal line, which begins with David. David is God's choice. The royal line was started with David. He was the fulfillment of that royal line. 40 days after our Lord is ascended, we have the day of Pentecost. The sermon is not for the church; the sermon is for Israel. It is spoken to Israel; the context is Israel. There is application which can be made for believers in the Church Age.

The regathering of Israel in the land and they are surrounded by 4 great armies. They will look to wipe out Israel so that there would be no kingdom. This is what Satan would like to do...to destroy the Jews.

Putting a Time Frame to the Sermon on the Mount

1. The sermon is a dispensational presentation to Israel.
2. This sermon has nothing to do with the dispensation of the church as such.
3. The sermon is a part of the legitimate offer of the kingdom during the age of the Hypostatic Union. This is a legitimate offer. Jesus would have fulfilled His covenant promise, but it was rejected.
4. The sermon contains certain things. Most the criteria for living in the kingdom when it is instituted.
5. The Jews in our Lord's day could not look back on Church Age doctrine.
6. The Christian way of life has parallels to the characteristics found in the Sermon on the Mount. The Jews could compare their lives to what Jesus described. There is a parallel there. In doing this, we understand the grace of God.

The fact that this offer was rejected does not make these characteristics any less real or the offer any less real. This sermon is not about the Millennium even though it is fulfilled in the Millennium. It is found in the context of the gospel. We must consider the Scripture in terms of when it is written.

The Sermon on the Mount Is about Jesus Offering the Kingdom Then

1. Matt. 6:10 Your kingdom come, Your will be done... The King had arrived. He was there. Jesus was speaking of the time during which He lived. He was there in the Hypostatic Union. That was His offer to the Jews. God's will would be done, but not in the 1st advent because the Jews rejected our Lord. God's will should have been done at this time, but Jesus was rejected. The King had arrived, so this statement looks forward to the kingdom that Jesus offered right then at that moment. Jesus was not looking toward the Millennium, but this was a legitimate offer to the Jews of His day.
2. If the sermon was all about the Millennium, then Jesus would have not covered persecution for righteousness sake. That will not be a part of the Millennial kingdom.
3. The sermon was not solely about the Millennium. If it were, then instructions on divorce would not be necessary. There were instructions on divorce. Jesus focused on the time in which He lived.
4. False prophets, fear or need would not have mentioned if Jesus was speaking of the Millennium.

Points on the Sermon on the Mount

1. These things have application to the time of Jesus.
2. This sermon is not about the future millennial kingdom.
3. The sermon is not directed as the way of life in the Church Age.
4. The sermon has application to us, but it is directed toward Israel.
5. The Sermon on the Mount was directed primarily to those who heard it in the age of the Hypostatic Union.

6. Since the kingdom was not initiated at that time, the sermon as application to the future Millennium when the particulars of the sermon come to fruition.

There were at least 2 sermons that were very similar, but given at two different times in two different locations; and they were given to several different audiences. They were given in many locations around Galilee. The first Sermon on the Mount was directed toward those who would help Him deliver this message to the Jews.

There was a crowd wherever Jesus went, and it is no different here. He climbed the mountain and then He sat down and His disciples came to Him. Only the 12 came to him at this time.

Matt. 5:1 Seeing the multitudes, He went up onto the mountain. When He had sat down, His disciples came to Him.

This sermon was deliver primarily to His inner circle of disciples. There may have been some others with Him. When He climbs this mountain, Jesus has something in mind. He separates Himself from this huge crowd.

We have no idea what mountain this was. This was probably near Capernaum near Galilee, but we have no idea beyond that.

Matt. 5:2 He opened His mouth and taught them, saying,

Why Were His Disciples the First to Hear

1. This was a crash course to indoctrinate His disciples into the kingdom; here is what the Kingdom of God is all about.
2. Jesus teaches this sermon to train his staff to deal with those who would show up. He must train them all. He is teaching a staff to preach.
3. It will be these disciples who will aid Him to give this message to the house of Israel. They've got the power and the content and the direction.
4. This is the message that they were called upon to preach.

"I am offering a kingdom" and this is all about what that kingdom is. This is so the disciples will know what is being presented.

Information for Disciples on the Kingdom

1. There must be a reality of this promise.
2. The sermon was a concrete set of standards by which life will flourish in the kingdom.
3. It was also a set of standards for those who enter into the promised kingdom in relation to the King of Kings.

4. This sermon was a description of living in the kingdom. Jesus was telling them what it would be like. This is almost what our eternal future is going to be, given to us in 3 chapters.
5. This sermon must be taken in complete seriousness. In that moment in which they lived, Messiah was present. If the King was there, then only He could describe the Kingdom. This was the absolute truth.

Other Things to Remember

1. Once the King is rejected, the church was instituted as the new institution. The plan of God rolls on after our Lord's crucifixion. The nation will not be seen again until the end times. This sermon is not about us; this is a new dispensation.
2. We do not live under the auspices of the Sermon on the Mount. This sermon is proclaimed from hundreds of pulpits without any clue as to what this is. The kingdom will be populated by resurrected believers and non-resurrected believers.
3. There is application from this sermon for our lives today.
4. Some of the attitudes in the beatitudes presented here are the attitudes of the believer advancing to spiritual maturity. This can be developed through out spiritual life.
5. This sermon is a yard stick as to our attitudes in relation to our spiritual life and to others.
6. There are instructions here for us to hear and to metabolize. That will be our application. It is doctrine at the same time.

This sermon was no short sermon. Maybe He took a break. It took awhile because the disciples were supposed to assimilate this. They would hear this several times.

Luke 6:17 He came down with them, and stood on a level place, with a crowd of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judea and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear him and to be healed of their diseases;

There were a huge number of believers and this was a mixed group of disciples. Those who believed in Jesus Christ at this time became Israel and they would have been a part of the kingdom. The message went to the gentiles are the Jews rejected it.

Luke 6:18 as well as those who were troubled by unclean spirits, and they were being healed.

When Jesus is in a crowd like this, He is surrounded; the people want to be healed.

Luke 6:19 All the multitude sought to touch him, for power came out from him and healed them all.

And now He gives this sermon to a whole new group. This is a mob scene.

Luke 6:20 He lifted up his eyes to his disciples, and said, "Blessed are you who are poor, For yours is the Kingdom of God.

it was tough to teach the Word of God because these people would move closer to Him to touch Him. People have been sick for years and all they had to do is touch Him in order to be cured.

Lesson #0239 Matt. 5:1–2 Luke 6:17–20 Life of Christ 3/11/2012 1Sunday

Communion Sunday. The Passover of the Jews, the Passover supper of the Lord when God passed over the houses where He saw the blood. There was the judgment against those who did not paint the blood on their doors.

On every subsequent Passover, the blood of the slaughtered animal represented the substitutionary sacrifice.

1Peter 1:19 John 1:21 Jesus is called the Lamb of God. The literal blood of the sacrificial lamb was sprinkled on the Mercy Seat once a year by the High Priest. By painting this blood on their doorposts, they were expressing their faith in God.

The Passover also represents freedom, the emergence from Egyptian slavery. This is a graphic picture of God freeing his people. The Passover recognizes redemption.

God's provision for freedom from spiritual death, we stand behind Christ, as represented by the blood on the doorposts. Christ, our Passover, has been sacrificed.

The Jews did not have permanent doors for the 40 years that they were in the desert. Drinking from the cup and eating the bread were symbols for them, as they did not have doorposts for those 40 years.

Wine was used throughout the Old Testament for the joyful experience of residing in the kingdom. So, at the Last Supper that the disciples shared with the Lord that He used the bread and the cup to commemorate this night.

Jesus gave a new significance to the bread and the wine. He converted the Passover ceremony to the Eucharist. The absence of the leaven is the virgin birth and this is the sign of the Messiah. The leaven is the sin nature, passed along through the male. It is through this virgin birth that the God-man is brought into this world, identified as "God with us."

Jesus is said to be the Creator and Sustainer of the Universe. He has all of the characteristics of God. There are names given to Him which identify Him as God. His name in the Greek is a name for God.

Miracles were performed by Him as a sign of His Deity.

He was clearly human; a human personality; mentality and will and emotion and He suffered from human limitations; He was hungry, thirsty and He faced temptation. He died and was buried.

Jesus Christ was called the Bread of Life, which emphasizes the impeccability of the Person of Christ. And having taken the bread, He broke it and gave it to them. "This is My body which is broken for you. Take it."

The Eucharist is our way of remembering and giving thanks for what Jesus has done. "This keeps on being My body." Jesus had to become true humanity. The disciples were to be reminded of His human body. In the Old Testament when the Jews ate the Passover Lamb, this was their faith in the coming Messiah. For us, eating the bread is a picture of the same faith that we exercise in Jesus Christ.

Jesus will keep on having a body forever. He required a body to go to the cross. In His resurrection body, He will continue to be the God-man forever as the celebrity of the universe.

The blood of Christ has tremendous application. Luke 22:20 in the same way, He took the cup after they had eaten, saying, "This cup, which is poured out for you, is the New Covenant of my blood." Jer. 31:31–34 where God promised the forgiveness of sins where the shedding of blood was promised for the forgiveness of sin.

The animal sacrifices were set aside, along with the images of such thing, like the lamb's blood on the sides of doors, and these were replaced by the cup.

Jesus provided that on the cross; like the spotless lamb who represented this for 2000 years, our Lord died physically on the day of the Passover. He revealed that He was the only Savior, the Passover Lamb of Israel; this symbol was now reality.

What we do in the eating and the drinking are nonmeritorious functions of life. Any normal person can do these functions. The means of appropriated the work of Jesus Christ does not depend upon the merit of the one who believes. Anyone can eat and drink; and anyone can believe in Christ. These things are a perfect picture of the grace of God and the non-meritorious quality of our faith in Him.

The Passover Lamb was a meal which represented fellowship with our Lord. When we take the bread and the cup, we have communion with Him.

The disciples would preach that the kingdom was here. He was the king; He was the Messiah. They would say that the King and the kingdom had arrive on this earth. This was the legitimate offer of a kingdom to Israel.

They were given God the Holy Spirit in order to proclaim this kingdom. You must have a content to present. The disciples had no such content. They needed some intensive training to present their message.

Matt. 5:1 Seeing the multitudes, He went up onto the mountain. When He had sat down, His disciples came to Him.

Matt. 5:2 He opened His mouth and taught them, saying,

Jesus later came down and gave the same sermon to those who were down below.

Luke 6:17 He came down with them, and stood on a level place, with a crowd of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judea and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear him and to be healed of their diseases;

There were unbelievers there to hear Him as well. The people were looking to be healed. This mob was being primed for the greatest sermon ever given. Those who were healed and those who saw them healed questioned Who this was.

Luke 6:18 as well as those who were troubled by unclean spirits, and they were being healed.

Luke 6:19 All the multitude sought to touch him, for power came out from him and healed them all.

He gives this same sermon, but addressed to a larger group of disciples and to a huge crowd of others.

Luke 6:20 He lifted up his eyes to his disciples, and said, "Blessed are you who are poor, For yours is the Kingdom of God.

The place in Biblical history is the Dispensation of the Hypostatic Union. Christ came to Israel and He offered this kingdom to them; it was a legitimate offer and they rejected it, so the offer was postponed.

The Church Age began 40 days after our Lord ascended into heaven. He commissioned the 12 as Apostles to the church.

This sermon is not to Church Age believers, but specifically to Israel, with application to believers in many dispensations.

When the Church Age ends at the exit-resurrection of the church, all believers are gone and only unbelievers remain. Then there is the greatest time of trouble that has ever existed.

There is a buzz from the crowd. Who is this Guy? What does He have to say? This will be the greatest offer in all of history, the offer of the Kingdom of God. The people wanted some facts; they wanted to know.

Matt. 5:2 He opened His mouth and taught them, saying,

Jesus would give them the platform of the coming kingdom; and these are principles, more than an ethical code. This was far beyond an ethical code. This sermon is often taught as more than an ethical code. Certainly moral standards were contained in this sermon, but there was far more than that.

Humanity on its own is incapable of bringing in such a utopia. What Jesus was offering to this crowd were many of the principles which have stood for all time. This is the Abrahamic Covenant. And many would reject this kingdom and the King Himself.

The Lord begins what is essentially two sermons; a sermon on the mount followed by the sermon on the plain. These men would aid Jesus in the proclaiming of the kingdom.

The pharisees who were there did not challenge the righteousness of this kingdom. They believed that only the righteous would be accepted and that they would be first; as they kept the Law. They were righteous in their own eyes. The Sadducees practiced the ceremonies and they believe that was their righteousness. Jesus was going to destroy the phoney righteousness of these phoney leaders. This was not pharisaical righteousness that qualified the Jews to live in this kingdom. So, what kind of righteousness was necessary? That is what the Sermon on the Mount would present. Most of the people there had heard nothing but the legalism of the pharisees.

The people now had two different concepts of righteousness. Works righteousness and the other was what Jesus proclaimed to them; faith alone in Christ alone. Repentance. Changing their minds about Christ. Who was He? What did He present?

Jesus gave a positional righteousness. This is called justification. Righteousness was imputed to Abraham when he believed in Jehovah Elohim. That positional righteousness given by God is the righteousness necessary in order to enter into the kingdom. But to the pharisees, it was all about legalism.

Christ offered Himself as the only basis for righteousness; it was His righteousness and His alone; not the works demanded by the religious leaders. Having the righteousness of God despite having a sin nature. We are not righteous in His sight; we are given His righteousness from a moment of faith in Christ. Jesus is the Messiah and He is our righteousness. No one gets into the kingdom except through Him.

There is an experiential righteousness in the kingdom. The offer here is legitimate to Israel in the 1st advent. The Jews did not know that this would be postponed. Christ repudiated the pharisaical interpretation of the Law as a means of salvation.

Jesus would correctly interpret the Law to show what God demanded, which was different than the pharisees demanded.

There are pharisees watching Him and listening, at least in the 2nd sermon, and they should know enough of the Law in order to re-calibrate their thinking.

Our Lord was offering a revolutionary idea for a kingdom that was brand new.

This sermon is not about the way of salvation. It is about a way of life in the kingdom. There is no salvation offered in this sermon. It has been misinterpreted as the means of salvation, and that is incorrect.

Conclusions

1. The Sermon on the Mount was an exposition of the integrity of God. God was revealed along with His expectations. These sermons taught God's integrity.
2. It reveals what a righteous God demanded for entrance and living in the kingdom. It begins with faith alone in Christ alone.
3. This was justification from the grace of God.
4. This sermon is how life would be lived in relationship with God in the perfect Kingdom of God. It was all about a relationship with God.
5. That is what we can call experiential righteousness. This is the believer's spiritual life. These characteristics and attitudes that we will study is the perfection of what will happen in God's kingdom. And it should be obvious that we cannot live up to these descriptions. As we continue to grow, these attitudes and behavior will be developed, albeit not perfectly.
6. Christ's ideal of righteousness is set forth in this sermon. The righteousness of the kingdom and the guidelines for living in the kingdom of heaven.
7. Clearly, upon hearing this sermon, it was clear that man could not, on his own, to generate the righteousness of life herein required. That is all about the grace of God. The kingdom was not about works righteousness. The kingdom was entered by faith alone. We live in the kingdom by the assets that He has provided. The kingdom screams grace of God.

At this point, since Israel, in the 1st advent, rejected the offer that Christ made, we can think of this as the millennial rule of Christ under perfect environment.

An Outline of the Sermon

1. The king describes the true subjects of the kingdom. Matt. 5:1–16 their character is made known, and these are called the beatitudes, meaning beautiful attitudes. And the influence that they have; salt and light.
2. The King's relation to the Law is described. Matt. 5:17–19 He expanded and fulfilled the Law.
3. The King clarifies the Law. Matt. 5:20–48 the insufficiency of ritual righteousness. He clarifies the law regarding life, speech, love in this portion.

Luke 6:24–26 "But woe to you who are rich! For you have received your consolation. Woe to you, you who are full now! For you will be hungry. Woe to you who laugh now! For you will mourn and weep. Woe, when men speak well of you! For their fathers did the same thing to the false prophets.

Bobby reads the next 10 or so verses with a small amount of commentary.

In our country, we have been blessed with great freedom. However, there has been persecution in many other countries.

The ancestors from Moses on when the nation was formed. The prophets were the purveyors of doctrine. The writers of the Old Testament. The Jews in their day persecuted them and spoke evil against them.

The beatitudes begin with the Greek word μαχαριος. The pharisees in the day of our Lord understood this to be wealth and riches and position. However, this really should be understood to mean happy, fortunate. These are beautiful attitudes. This is all about an attitude that is resident in the believer who has an intimate relationship with God. It is from the inside out and not from the outside in.

The blessings or happiness of the beatitudes exists as the mental attitude of sharing the happiness of God. It was passed along to us by His grace. It is the attitude of sharing the happiness of God. They also reflect the standards of God's righteousness for His kingdom. These qualities are not qualities that would meet pharisaical standards. When the pharisees heard this sermon, it did not turn them on. They could not equate being poor or weak with contentment and happiness and righteousness. They were wealthy and they were arrogant. Poverty did not illustrate well-being to them; that was punishment in their thinking. The poor were not being materially blessed; they were not being blessed and they were not being made happy. This sermon is an indictment on the thinking of the pharisees. They are the law-keepers, the extremely self righteous. Jesus compared those qualities with the true internal attitude of righteousness. The internal qualities of integrity and spiritual maturity.

To the pharisees, the kingdom means more wealth and independence from Rome. Jesus, instead talks about attitudes and talks about a way of thinking.

The beatitudes are for believers; no one enters the kingdom as an unbeliever. Nor do attitudes of secular humanism get you into the Kingdom of God. These attitudes define the characteristics of believers in the Kingdom of God. This is not impossible.

People strive in their humanism for utopia. This can only be brought about through tyranny. These attitudes will exist in the kingdom in perfection; and they can exist in spiritual growth. In listing the beatitudes, it will be clear. They will never exist to perfect in this life because we have a sin nature. We are not capable of fulfilling these totally. We are totally depraved.

We are righteous, no matter what a lousy person we are. That is salvation righteousness. Then there is the kind that is developed as we grow spiritually. As we execute the Christian life and grow, we spend more and more time in fellowship and in growing; but this is never perfect. We cannot fulfill these attitudes to perfection.

Developing Christian character is the process which we develop under spiritual growth.

When the Lord returns, the Tribulation martyrs will be raised apart from the sin natures. There will be all of the Jews from the Old Testament who are raised up. Then all of the believers will be raised who died during the Tribulation. Then we will see a Kingdom of God on earth taken to the fullest extent.

This sermon is an indictment of the pharisees. As we go through these beatitudes, remember this:

Summary So Far

1. The sermon has application to believers in every dispensation.
2. These attitudes should be applied as character traits to which we aspire, albeit imperfectly. We do not develop these characteristics one at a time, a day at a time. We just grow up spiritually and these characteristics become a part of our growth.
3. As we grow, all of the attitudes develop. The means of gaining those aspirational attitudes is spiritual advance to build experiential righteousness. We are saved and we have God's righteousness. In this life, we are mandated to grow and develop this experiential righteousness.
4. This is living in fellowship with God by consistently applying the rebound technique.
5. Consistent spiritual growth to spiritual maturity. This way you live the spiritual life to the maximum.
6. The Christian way of life is the manifestation of experiential righteousness.
7. Experiential righteousness includes serving the Lord and glorifying God in our temporal lives. Our attitude in life glorifies Him. How can I be poor and glorify God? Do I need to give everything away and follow Him?
8. Experiential righteousness is the basis for divine blessing and happiness for the advancing believer.
9. This is about a certain attitude that occurs in spiritual growth. This is thinking.
10. This will be ultimately realized in the resurrection body.
11. The attitudes revealed in these verses can be attained at least in part by believers advancing in the spiritual life.

Lesson #0242

Matt. 5:3 Luke 6:20–21 Life of Christ

3/22/2012 Thurs

Jesus says, right at the start, the Kingdom of Heaven. Luke says something different, "Blessed are the poor, for theirs is the Kingdom of God."

πτοχος this is one who depends upon others for support. They must beg for food or money just to survive. These men are now very poor; they left their businesses behind them. Matthew had a lucrative tax business with a large mansion; and James, John and Peter had a great fishing business.

So, what is Jesus saying? Why are the poor so much better off? It is not because the poor are inherently virtuous. That is a Marxist idea. The wealthy capitalists monopolize all of the wealth; they have raped all of these countries and the virtuous working man is enslaved and in poverty. The proletariat will one day rise up and take over the world in great virtue.

No matter what our economic class, we have a sin nature. The poor can be as greedy as the rich. Greed is an attitude. It is not how much you have or how little you have. Are the Occupy Wall Street people inherently virtuous? Crime is rampant and they make a mess of every place that they reside. Virtue does not reside with the poor exclusively.

Matt. 5:3 "Blessed are the poor in spirit, For theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Why Are the Poor Fortunate?

1. They are followers in Jesus Christ. They have a place in the Kingdom of God forever. Jesus speaks exclusively to the 12 on the mountain. They have given up what they had before.
2. Being poor in this life is much better than being rich on earth and having no part in the wealth of the kingdom. This sermon is not in any way about the means of salvation. This is an offer of the kingdom. It is the way that those in the kingdom think.
3. Material things are secondary to entry into the Kingdom of God. They are a long ways behind. Being a follower of Christ, even in poverty, was inherently good. This was a group of who supported and Judas was the treasurer who was inherently greedy.
4. This was encouragement of the disciples who followed Jesus Christ in poverty. They have more wealth coming to them. The poor are fortunate because of the wealth that they will inherit in the Kingdom of God. To some, that may not seem satisfactory. When you compare a few years of poverty, there is no comparison. If you are mired in poverty and you don't see a way out, the eternal kingdom may seem a long ways off. The disciples are in the same situation. There is an attitude, living your life in the light of eternity. Jesus is telling his disciples and that they are poor, all of us are that way. In Christ, we have gained everything, regardless of our financial status. No one can buy their way into heaven. No matter how much you gain or give. We are in no better shape in reference to salvation or the spiritual life. The wealthy are not blessed because they are wealthy. For the believer, we should remember, to live is Christ and to die is profit. This is what Jesus was teaching them. They would inherit the Kingdom of God. The poor are blessed because they inherit the kingdom.

Matthew takes this one step further. Jesus says, "The poor in spirit."

What Does Jesus Mean Here?

1. Poor in spirit does not refer to a lack of monetary resources or a lack of material support for those in poverty.
2. This is an attitude; an attitude of dependence. You depend upon someone else for dependence.
3. This word means dependence upon others for support.
4. Add to this, the dative singular of πνευμα.
5. Spirit can mean a lot of different things. This can refer to the human spirit, which is wherein we place all of the doctrine. With hagios, it is the Holy Spirit.
6. It can also refer to the immaterial part of man. It is dependent in the soul of man. We depend upon doctrine. We have no doctrine in our souls inherently.
7. A man has an attitude of dependence upon someone else.
8. This is an advantage of attitude; an advantage of spirit-attitude.
9. Poor in spirit is a virtue; it is the greatest virtue and advantage. This is the attitude of virtue for the kingdom. This is an attitude of dependence of those who inherit the kingdom. This is completely different from those who depend upon others for their daily sustenance. They depend upon someone greater than themselves in their souls. They depend upon someone else for their spiritual life. Jesus is the One greater than they.

Matt. 5:3 "Blessed are the poor in spirit, For theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.

So, Why Is Poor in Spirit and Advantage?

1. In spirit, in this context, is a state of mind, an attitude; not a material state of poverty.
2. This is an attitude of complete dependence.
3. A man is fortunate by being dependent upon someone else.
4. The blessing is dependence upon God. It is not dependence upon one's self or upon other people or upon government. This is not talking about entitlements of the government giving you whatever you need.
5. In v. 3, the poor in spirit is a state of mind of those who are consciously depending upon God for support.

This does not say that the poor are vitueous or that they have no vices or that they ought to be lauded in their state of poverty. We are all in the same boat.

Matt. 5:3 "Blessed are the poor in spirit, For theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Closing Points on V. 3

1. Do not mistake a lack of material things for virtue.

2. The advantage of poor in spirit is dependency upon the grace of God. Those 12 were staring into the eyes of Jesus.
3. Poor in spirit or dependence in one's spirit is the attitude of grace orientation. Dependence upon God in a believer's inner being.
4. Fortunate or happy are the poor in spirit; those who depend upon God for support. They do not depend upon their own resources at all.
5. The grace oriented believer recognizes that he is utterly dependent upon God. We do everything that we can do and God takes care of the rest. As we grow spiritually, God's plan becomes manifest to us.

The pharisees had no grace orientation. They never believed in Jesus Christ. So the kingdom was not theirs. The pre-requisite was having our Lord's righteousness. You must be righteous in order to enter into God's kingdom. And there is nothing that we can do to be that righteous. This is being poor and depending upon another's righteousness in order to be saved. The poor in spirit depend upon the grace of God.

There is another beatitude found in Luke 6:21:

Luke 6:21 Blessed are you who hunger now, For you will be filled. Blessed are you who weep now, For you will laugh.

This is a contrast between life on earth and that in the kingdom. Being hungry is similar to being poor. All of our needs will be taken care of in the Kingdom of God. Hungry now but we will not be hungry in eternity. Sorrow and poverty in this life, which is always with us, but it will be left behind in the Kingdom of God.

Those listening to Jesus understood the concept of poverty and hunger. Even with this gnawing hunger, it is better to be hungry now and enjoy eternity with God as opposed to never being hungry and missing the Kingdom of God in the future. What is a little hunger now compared to eternity?

We may be in a serious set of circumstances. As believers, God blesses us in all situations and in all states. Our blessings are never about material things, although material things may be a part of God's plan. However, we are not to get our eyes on material things. If we get our eyes on material things, it distorts our thinking and our grace orientation.

Comfort and satisfying needs are important to us. However, in this land, such things are not difficult to have. Whether adversity or prosperity, God has a purpose and that purpose is working through whatever our circumstances are. Do not get discouraged about poverty or arrogant about wealth.

The Lord is my shepherd; I will not want. David did lack in material things from time to time. This is grace orientation and this is the doctrinal viewpoint. This is being dependent in our souls upon the grace of God. It is okay to receive help when in difficult circumstances. Other believers have spiritual gifts which can be exercised on our behalf. This may be a part of God's logistical grace. There is no shame in accepting charity from those who can help you back on your feet. Charity is a part of Christian service, with the right motivation. Some people are so proud they will accept nothing from anyone else.

We should never feel shame or guilt when we are dependent upon someone else or if the Lord works through someone else. However, don't take advantage of them; don't be a user; don't milk them for all that you can get.

If anyone denies those of his own household, they are worse than an infidel. Wrong motivation. This is a clear indication of how you allocate your own personal funds.

You cannot help everyone. Charity is not something to be forced. When the government is involved in charity, that is forced. Some of us depend upon the grace of God for our basics and some of us can help others.

Everything in our life is to our advantage. Everything related to the spiritual life is to our benefit.

Lesson #0243 Matt. 5:3 Luke 6:20–21 Life of Christ 3/25/2012 1Sunday

Charity is a personal act. Motivation is critical in all that we do in the Christian life. Showing charity is no different than any other act in life. It is motivated by virtue love and by grace orientation. Virtue love is the essence of the Christian life and Christian motivation. This is a background for any charitable thing that we might do. Charity should never be done grudgingly or of necessity. God loves the cheerful or well-motivated believer. The occupational hazard of charity is people giving and making everyone know what they have done. They want others to know just how charitable they are. That glorifies them and it elevates them.

Bobby went to a funeral of a man and Jesus Christ was never mentioned; however, the money that this man gave to the church was made an issue of.

Aid to the poor from the government; the New Deal, the Great Society. This "charity" has simply taken the form of a radical redistribution of wealth, also known as socialism. And we are told that this is compassionate, but it is anything but compassionate. Charity is perverted. At best, it is a humanistic idea by misguided people trying to create something that they cannot really create. Where everyone has the same things and everyone is happy with it. The motivation for this is power. The more a politician gives to the masses, the more that the masses vote for that person. That is the real motivation for government charity. It does not take long for government to amass more powerful. Socialism will not fix a world of sin natures. The receivers are greedy and do not want to do anything for what they are given; and the givers just want power.

The true concept of charity is private. Certainly, believers can be sinful in giving.

Redistribution brings a nation to a lower standard of life and it is packaged as compassion. People become listless, sluggish and with no initiative and with no hope of advancement. Socialism has never worked anywhere it has been tried in the history of mankind, because it is a flawed economic system administered by flawed people.

People here think that we can make this system work, but we are fundamentally flawed. Capitalism gives more wealth to more people than any other system, because this system allows for the full function of the free will of man.

The alternative to capitalism is for arrogant socialists for them to think that they can do a better job with the wealth.

Charity ought to be a temporary situation to get people back on their feet; not to make the recipient dependent.

Charity in the believer is grace in action. It reflects God's grace towards us. That is the real compassion. It is the most compassionate thing.

Insofar as the poor are concerned, Jesus Christ had a lot to say. He said that we will have the poor with us always. This does not mean that we allow poverty to run rampant. Our Lord in the Sermon on the Mount gives an entirely different perspective of poverty. In offering the Kingdom of God to Israel, which is the context of the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus is describing who the disciple in the kingdom really is.

The beatitudes are not things that we ought to do in order to be qualified for the Kingdom of Heaven.

Poor here is dependent upon others for support; dependence upon the kindness of others. This is a condition of poverty. The question is, how can a person be blessed to be in this situation. Most would see this as a loss of freedom; why are we fortunate under these conditions?

These men had given up a lot of material wealth, and Jesus said to them, "Happinesses to the poor." Poverty on this earth is much better than missing the wealth of the Kingdom of God. These disciples may be looking toward Him, wondering where their next meal is coming from, and Jesus tells them that they are blessed.

The pharisees believed that external wealth was the key to blessing; if you had external wealth, then God was blessing you. Believers lacking wealth now are not poor, but they will inherit the Kingdom of Heaven.

Luke 6:20 He lifted up his eyes to his disciples, and said, "Blessed are you who are poor, For yours is the Kingdom of God.

The parallel verse in Matthew adds the words "in spirit." Πνευμα can be used for many things; the inner part of man; also for the human spirit and for the Holy Spirit. This is in the dative case, the dative of advantage. This is an advantageous attitude in one's soul. Poor is being dependent upon someone else. This is a radical concept. How can an attitude of dependence be advantageous? The dependence is upon the grace of God. In human terms, that is terrible; in doctrinal terms, that is the best. The righteous in the Kingdom of God will be the epitome of the grace of God. It is what was promised to Abraham. One of the characteristics of it is the dependency upon God. Such a believer relies exclusively on the grace of God. Whether the circumstances are difficult or prosperous, we still rely on the grace of God. Never forget the grace of God. Once you begin thinking that you earned or deserved what you have, you have departed from the grace of God. Therefore, the Kingdom of God will be characterized by grace orientation.

Matt. 5:3 "Blessed are the poor in spirit, For theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.

The second beatitude: satisfied or filled will be in the future. Some may have been melancholy. His disciples might be hungry at this moment; and this is a real form of poverty. This is very specific. Along with poverty goes hunger. How much better is it to go hungry now; how much better? It is better now to suffer various forms of privation, because in the Kingdom of God there will be no privation. Even though your life is not what you want it to be, you are the most blessed in the world, as you will inherit eternal wealth, eternal happiness, and total satisfaction in eternity.

There are very few descriptions of heaven in the Bible. We have no idea what the environment will be. Here, we get a little inkling. Circumstances right now, as difficult as they may be, are your problems so great that they take over your life? Those circumstances are not remotely comparable to the satisfaction that we will inherit.

Today, everyone wants to fix the environment or fix the circumstances or get someone to take care of them or to get someone to pay their bills; for the believer, their perspective is quite a bit different. We look at things from the perspective of eternity. The closer we get to eternity, the more we realize that.

There is nothing that you can give in exchange for your own soul. You do not take your wealth or your poverty with you. This is what our Lord tells us: I know what you have given up; I know who you are. Our blessings are not about material things; they are not about the happy circumstances of our life. But do not get your eyes on those material things and lose sight of eternity. You lose sight of dependence upon God's grace.

Luke 6:21 Blessed are you who hunger now, For you will be filled. Blessed are you who weep now, For you will laugh.

Lesson #0244

Luke 5: Life of Christ

3/25/2012 2Sunday

These things in your life are not curses; they represent blessing. If you are hungry if you are sad, this is blessing. All such people are blessed because of Who Jesus Christ is and what He offers to us. Many of the disciples went through difficult circumstances and they held to these words. They were persecuted and they suffered want; they went through difficult times and difficult circumstances. Blessed are those who are dependent upon the grace of God. Such people would be fortunate and happy and very blessed in the Kingdom of Heaven. The same is true for every one of us, for all those who carry out the plan of God. If you are down and out and hungry; you know the difficulty of the pangs of hunger; poverty sucks. It is not one of the great things in life. It is in the principle of your soul to handle every circumstance in life. No matter what, it is temporary, even if it lasts a lifetime, it is temporary. You cannot take wealth or poverty with you. Eternity lasts for a very long time and our wealth then will be eternal. We will go through some hard times. Some will persecute us and others will accept our message.

As a maturing believer, which is what we all ought to be, we can look forward to the time when there is no more hunger, no more sorrow, no more pain, no more tears and no more death.

These verses do not mean that you must experience poverty in order to be a great Christian. That is a misnomer which has been preached by many. Poverty was great stuff; we are closer to God, some would proclaim. But what makes a believer great is a beatitude of dependence upon the grace of God. God does not promise us either poverty or wealth. He does promise us logistical grace, to carry out our duties here on earth. God promises that there is absolute wealth and absolute joy in heaven. We will laugh and enjoy life in heaven; there is great laughter and happiness in heaven. There will be no sadness and no grief.

We will be rewarded or blessed based upon what God has given us and how much we depended upon Him for our spiritual life. The production of human good will be burned and the production of divine good will be key and it will be rewarded. That is full dependence upon the grace of God.

People strive for happinesses and friends and money; and good circumstances in life. That is what their goal is. That is not the spiritual life and that is not what God offers. Grace orientation means that we are content no matter what the circumstances. When I am weak, then I am strong. Jesus is talking all about attitude; stack up all of the circumstances in our life, whatever they are; and what does it all mean? Nothing, apart from the production of divine good. We are dust and to dust we will return. There is no comparison. That is what living our life in the light of eternity means. That is blessing.

We'll skip vv.22–23 and go to the woes of Luke 6:

grace is not us being good, and then God gives us things. Does God give us wealth so that we can do whatever we want, and God says, "See you later." What God gives are blessings, and these might be material things and they might be lack. The pharisees, as so many do today, focus on the outward expression of blessing and we should be focused upon the inward expression of doctrine in the soul. We have more wealth than any rich person in this country. The pharisees who thought that wealth was blessing have spiritual poverty in their souls. God's grace is the greatest blessing that we can receive; material wealth does not bring anyone into the kingdom. You cannot give enough money in order to gain entrance into heaven. There are churches which do that. Doctrine is not taught and people are led astray. Material wealth can bring comfort and luxury in this life, and that is fine, but this is not the Christian life.

This sermon is not about gaining entry into the Kingdom of God. Those who enter into the Kingdom of God will be those who have believed in Jesus Christ. Some would not follow Jesus because they chose temporal wealth over eternal wealth. Grace is ignored by many in this world today. It is ignored even by many Christians; many don't know a thing about it.

Scripture does tell us that it is harder for a rich man to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven. The pharisees taught that works-righteousness is what gets us into the kingdom.

Matt. 19:23 Jesus said to his disciples, "Most assuredly I say to you, a rich man will enter into the Kingdom of Heaven with difficulty.

The rich man has a more difficult time seeing his own need; having little means it is easier to recognize your own need.

Matt. 19:24 Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the Kingdom of God."

let's go to...

Luke 6:25 Woe to you, you who are full now! For you will be hungry. Woe to you who laugh now! For you will mourn and weep.

Notice that it is all reversed. This is a contrast between the here and now and what is to come in the Kingdom of God. Affluence in this life versus want in eternity; there is no comparison. What is the good of having everything today in life, but lacking everything in heaven or going to hell? What good is it to have all of the pleasures of life if this means great suffering for all eternity. All that we have now, we will not have in the Kingdom of God. The pharisees are not hearing this. The disciples must realize by now that, what the pharisees teach is the opposite of the truth.

Mark 8:36 what does it profit a man, to gain the whole world, and forfeit his life?

Luke 6:24 "But woe to you who are rich! For you have received your consolation.

now, back to Matt. 5:

Mourning is grieving; and many of us will continue to grieve. This may mean a demonstration of grief. It is not that we live in grief and hopelessness. We have hope and confidence in the Lord Jesus Christ. Grief is fine for those that we have lost. We just do not let it drive our lives. It does not have to be an emotional lamentation. It does not have to be weeping and moaning and lamentation.

Sometimes people wallow in grief; they cannot seem to get over it. Here, this grief leads to an action. Emotion and tears are not necessary for this. Those who mourn or grieve earnestly recognize their need beyond themselves.

Why are the grieving blessed? They are grieving in the sense that they recognize the need for God's grace. The grieve over the sufferings of sin and separation from God, which they have experienced.

There is nothing more terrible than being separated from God for all eternity. What kind of grief would that be? This makes it incumbent upon us to make certain that they have every opportunity to believe in Jesus Christ.

What is wealth and what is poverty?

They grieve over the lack of righteousness; over their ability to meet God's standards. If they grieve over this inability, they recognize that there is nothing that they can do.

they sorrow over their inability to reach God. They know that there is no way to have a relationship with God. Fifth, there is grief over spiritual death; grief over their own loss. That is a blessing because you recognize it. This is what causes us to pray for what we lack in Jesus Christ. Sixth, mourning or grief indicates a sorrow over falling short of the character that will be displayed in God's kingdom. That lament will lead to an action, an action that requires the grace of God for resolution. No one can enter into the kingdom on their own merit. There is grief at that futility.

There is not blessing apart from the grace of God. The attitudes that we have in life that are blessed come directly from the grace of God. If we are not grace oriented, then we will be poor in spirit; we will not have the attitude of relaxation and we will depend upon ourselves rather than upon God. The Kingdom of God is the grace of God. We will begin to see more thoroughly what the attitude of the believer of the Kingdom of God is. And we will develop these attitudes as well, albeit not perfectly.

Lesson #0249

Luke 5: Life of Christ

4/4/2012 Wed

Review on where we have been.

“Poor in spirit” means dependence upon someone else. In this case, depending upon God for support. The attitude of such a believer is grace orientation. That is the divine mental attitude that we are to hold to. This is a unique way of thinking in the human race. This is unique. This attitude develops with your spiritual advance. He is utterly dependent upon God in everything. That is the essence of a beatitude. Obviously, foundational to all that we will study in the beatitudes.

Matt. 5:3 "Blessed are the poor in spirit, For theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Grieving is what is part of our lives in this fallen world; but one day, all of this grief will be forever past. Rev. 21:4 no more sorrow, no more tears and no more death. This is the believer who has lived his life in the light of eternity.

The believer recognizes that life is short. That is not the attitude that the believer has. The circumstances of adversity or prosperity; compared to the eternity when there is no adversity.

Some who hate going to work because they have to be under someone else's authority. Grace orientated types understand authority-orientation without resentment; even if those over you are unfair, unjust or they dislike you.

Objective reality; there is no self-deception in objective reality. People deceive themselves in a myriad of ways; they think of themselves in a way that they really aren't. There is certainly no arrogance of self-absorption. When you are obsessed with yourself. You can recognize such a person who is self-absorbed in a moment. They have no capacity for a relationship of any type. They are unable to relate to others because they always put themselves first. That is not humility. The absence of arrogance is the blessing. Arrogance is the basic sin from which so many other sins are generated. Satan's fundamental sin was arrogance, and everything else stemmed from that.

Matt. 5:4 Blessed are those who mourn, For they shall be comforted.

Humility is commensurate with the growing believer.

Matt. 5:5 Blessed are the gentle, For they shall inherit the earth.

Hunger and thirst is a metaphor. This is a metaphor for a need that must be fulfilled; a need in the soul of believers. Their desire is for righteousness. The believer who strives to metabolize and to apply Bible doctrine. If you are metabolizing Bible doctrine, you cannot help but apply it. When you metabolize it, the corollary is application.

It is a desire for God's Word. You hunger for it; you thirst for it. Your soul is being filled up and you are satiated by applying doctrine. You get the doctrine into your soul and then you apply it to experience.

Bob said you learn and live or you live and learn. The latter is the hard way. This is how we are with Bible doctrine. It must be in our soul first. We hunger and thirst for righteousness.

Matt. 5:6 Blessed Are Those Who Hunger and Thirst after Righteousness, for They Shall Be Filled.

Compassion and the Sermon on the Mount

1. The Sermon on the Mount characterizes these righteous maturing believers with an attitude of being merciful.
2. Those who show the characteristics of righteousness, the maturing believer will manifest the quality of compassion. The far left of our country think that they are being compassionate by mandating more entitlements. The more entitlements there are, the more people become dependent on them. Slavery in the soul is the result. When you become dependent, you have lost freedom; and you are not given compassion.
3. Compassion is expressed from the believer's thinking, in his motivation of grace orientation.
4. Compassion is the believer who operates with grace toward others; sometimes called grace in action. We receive grace and we reflect grace.
5. The believer is the compassionate one who expresses care for others in need.
6. When a believer operates with the attitude of mercy, he shows the virtue of impersonal love toward all mankind. We developed impersonal love in 1Corinthians.
7. Thus the believer understands that compassion must be directed toward those who are undeserving. The attitude of compassion is closely related to grace. That is what makes the attitude so great. Impersonal love is directed toward those that you do not like.

8. True compassion cannot be self-serving.
9. Self-serving compassion degenerates into approbation lust. This happens in churches and in organizations and in every walk in life. People expect a return on their investment.
10. True compassion is a desire to help with no expectation of a return advantage.

Compassion begets compassion; this does not mean compassion from others. Do not ever expect that. Mercy begets mercy. That is the grace of God in action. The mercy is in the form of grace manifestation. These are rewards in the kingdom. Compassion motivated by the filling of the Holy Spirit and by spiritual growth and from divine good. Bible doctrine in the soul working out is rewardable in heaven. The believer in heaven can show mercy and receive mercy. This is divine good production that is rewarded.

There is a great contrast and the great nemesis to them all were there religious leaders. The pharisees saw themselves as having no need to show mercy toward the poor, the widows, etc. They saw these circumstances as being signs of divine disfavor. They felt no obligation to those undergoing divine punishment. The pharisees used this philosophy to never have to exhibit mercy or compassion to those in need. The pharisees were merciless. Without mercy is characteristic of legalism. Legalists are merciless. They may have a great facade, but they have no true compassion. Legalism is self-centered, self righteous; and he thinks of the legalities of his religion. The pharisees would not reside in the Kingdom of God. Their self-righteousness would preclude them from enjoying the grace of God.

The grace of God shines through all of these attitudes. They could not have the righteousness of God. The kingdom is not being taken away from them because they were merciless; but because they did not repent; they did not believe in Jesus Christ. They had no imputed righteousness. This is how the kingdom was designed to operate. They had no spiritual life. Christ's rule in the kingdom means that He will rule with perfect mercy.

The characteristics of being merciful in the believer; mercy is the attitude of the mature believer. To the Jews who heard this sermon, they now understood; they were getting a lesson in the different between the kingdom that Jesus was offering. The mercy of God versus the cruelty of legalism. Their concept of the kingdom was not at all the same as the kingdom that Jesus Christ presented. This is what the disciples understood perfectly. They were to take this message to the Jews; but they would be rejected. The religious leaders rejected this message. When they became apostles they would continue with this message.

Matt. 5:7 Blessed are the merciful, For they shall obtain mercy.

The Kingdom of God will be measured by absolute standards. Absolute righteousness of God. Those who enter the kingdom, must have a righteousness that conforms to God's righteousness. This is what is required that they be pure in heart. These are the ones who will be in heaven and see God.

You are pure of heart. The believer has been justified. That is what it means, imputed righteousness. The believer is set apart for righteousness. He is set apart as royalty for the kingdom. The Kingdom of God is for Israel but we also have a future as royal family, set apart, consecrated, fit for the perfect righteousness of the King.

Καθαρός = a cleansing of the soul; ethically clean or pure; pure of error; free from sin; ceremonially pure. The Jews had been steeped in ceremony; a picture of the purification. That was their picture. Ceremonially purified. Complete restoration from sin. This computes with the disciples; they are Jews. They have sacrificed. They understand the cleansing that this all represents. The burnt offering, the meal offerings; the removal of the barrier of sin, which is cleansing.

Animal blood represented redemption from the slave market of sin.

The sin and trespass offerings represented the ceremonial confession of sin; this is a rebound picture. The offerings of the ritual purification represent a purification which is required to live with a pure heart. This is imputed righteousness. The other side of that is, what we do in life. There is plenty of sin. The disciples understood this. If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

The heart in operation Z; the way that we metabolize doctrine. Καρδιά is that right lobe. This happens for the believer in rebound. This is the continued.

Matt. 5:8 Blessed are the pure in heart, For they shall see God.

The purity of imputed righteousness. That is justification. The believer is made the righteousness of God. This same believer may sin in this life. Secondly, sin in the life; cleansing or purifying via rebound in time. Imputed righteousness; experiential righteousness.

This verse closes with They shall see God. They will live with the King on earth. They will be cleansed from all unrighteousness. For the believer today, it is being in fellowship. That meets God's righteous standards in our lives. We are positionally righteous. When filled with the Spirit, we are experientially righteous. We can see God through Bible doctrine; this is experiential righteousness on this earth. The believer sees God when he metabolizes doctrine.

Lesson #0250

Luke 5: Life of Christ

4/5/2012 Thurs

Blessed are the peacemakers has been taken way out of context and is completely misunderstood. Bobby grew up in Berachah Church and was sheltered from so-called theology from outside Berachah. When he finished his Freshman year in college and he went on a tour of Europe, and he visited museums and churches. It was a Mormon tour company run by Catholic priests and nuns. The theology of the Catholic church was preeminent. In Holland around the 4th of July and they were required to attend a mass; and all on the tour were Americans. It was a modern mass. There was a tune that was sung, and there were the beatitudes. The homily was all about peacemakers; and the Vietnam war was going on. Bobby was also called up to speak, being a protestant.

Bobby gave the Gettysburg address; and spoke of the battlefield. And he spoke of Arnon in Holland. Freedom and war and intimately connected and they always have been and always will be.

World peace has nothing to do with blessed are the peacemakers. These are not people sitting down at a peace conference. This is not a negotiator with mankind; nor is this someone breaking up a fight; or a counselor trying to calm down two spouses.

Matt. 5:9 Blessed are the peacemakers, For they shall be called children of God.

Eirenwpoios; this refers to a believer, not to an unbeliever. Jesus is speaking to His disciples; not to a group of unbelievers.

The Doctrine of the Peacemaker

1. This is the person who is first and foremost at peace with God.
2. Peace with others ;
3. The believer is at peace because of the propitiation of God and the reconciliation to God because of the cross. Jesus provided reconciliation and propitiation. Through Christ, we are reconciled to God; but not to man.
4. Peace, reconciliation with God, is the only true peace in this world. That is our peace. The attempts by man to reconcile with other men are, at best, fleeting. A peace treaty lasts for only so long. Men cry, "Peace, peace" when there is not peace. War is inevitable and will be with us forever. Sin natures do not remain at peace with other sin natures. What government can guarantee peace with another government, when both are run by men with old sin natures. Peace with God is far greater than any world peace.
5. Once the believer is at peace with God, then he becomes the peacemaker. First you have to be at peace; and then you become a peacemaker.
6. The believer brings peace to the world because he communicates reconciliation with God to the world.
7. The believer is a witness to the only real peace that there is in this world; reconciliation with God through Christ.
8. The work of God through the death of Christ. A relationship of spiritual harmony with God. Hostility and enmity with God are changed to peace and friendship. You cannot be a friend of God and not be at peace with Him. You can be at peace in the midst of a war. Every believer is a peacemaker.
9. The peacemaker is the believer who disseminates the gospel of peace. Eph. 6:15 and having shod your feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace. This is putting on your boots and marching to war with the message of peace. That is the image which is given here. They are marching with the gospel of peace as their weapon. The believer is the object of the Angelic Conflict. The believer is at the center of that warfare. Every believer is in full-time Christian service. We are here to serve and glorify God. You may think you have another set of purposes, to make money, to gain fame, or whatever. God provides of a spiritual gift so that we can function in the body of Christ. We are a part of the combat team. We are the merchants of the gospel of peace. What you can give someone here is greater than any other gift that you can give them. It is imperative that we all get booted up and ready for action at all time. Always being ready to make a defense to everyone who asks you.

10. Those who are reconciled to God become witnesses to the world of that peace. This is the message that Jesus proclaimed. Reconciliation is a critical part of the gospel. Being at peace with the King. In the Millennial kingdom, there will be peace at last. Peace between people. There will be war, but we can be at peace.

When the believers proclaim the message of reconciliation, they are children of God. They are sons of God. Even those who believe in their name. Positional truth. God's perfect righteousness is imputed. This is how we are at peace with God. This is peace provided by God, not by man.

Positional truth is the conception of the believer who will live forever in perfect righteousness. It is a position in Christ. He is the one who has this position in Christ.

The peacemaker is at peace with God and he witnesses the gospel of peace.

The pharisees taught exactly the opposite. One was a son of God by virtue of birth as a Jew. It was a racial matter; it was a matter of being a descendant of Abraham. Being a believer does not mean that you cannot be in the military.

There are these sects that believe that you must be a pacifist as a believer. As believers in Jesus Christ, we are defenders of freedom.

Matt. 5:9 Blessed are the peacemakers, For they shall be called children of God.

Is there a difference between the Kingdom of God and the Kingdom of Heaven? In essence, there is no real difference. Different authors used different terms. Matthew, Mark, Luke used the Kingdom of God. John almost never.

A Few Points on V. 10

1. The advancing believer is willing to take persecution and suffering while standing firm someone willing to stand fast in the face of persecution.
2. This believer is not deterred in his spiritual life by adversity in the form of harassment or oppression.

3. This is the role as a peacemaker; presenting the gospel of peace and Bible doctrine in the face of antagonism. This presentation of the gospel of peace will get you a reaction faster than anything else.
4. Such a person can and will be persecuted.

This verse is quite filled with info and is straightforward.

Matt. 5:10 Blessed are those who have been persecuted for righteousness' sake, For theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Max Klein in Korea and Thailand and the Philippines and now is back in Thailand.

Bobby, as a pastor, studies from the original languages and teaches. The missionary has to understand his limitations and to avoid politics. Klein has to stay out of other nation politics. There is a tendency to want to straighten everyone out. He is a preacher and a writer. He conducts seminars. He goes to India and to the Philippines. You cannot teach 3 or 4 hours every day. It is not easy to come up with 4 new lessons every week.

Seminars themselves can be a problem. You have to get qualified pastors. You also have to focus on the next generation. Getting late high school students and college students exposed to the Word of God. They need to know English. If any of them have the gift of pastor-teacher, they have time to prepare. Most of the pastors there have no understanding of Greek or Hebrew and few understand the spiritual life. Most have not advanced spiritually. If we have a seminar for pastors, we are best to bury them and raise up some new ones. Finding people with some qualifications.

In India, they must know English well. They start with the basic theology; and the spiritual dynamics series and then go with whomever.

A doctor in a village is someone who knows a few home remedies; but you know nothing about pharmaceutical drugs or surgery. Why would we conduct a seminar for such a person? You should not be a doctor in the first place. Most of the pastors should get out.

Tim McLaughlin is assisting him there. Klein taught in two seminaries and the president there likes reading the colonel's books.

How did Max get to Thailand in the first place? He knew a lady in Korea and another in Thailand, and they set up some seminars for him to teach. Not a lot of positive volition in Thailand. There are all of the sites that pop up where the colonel's book was being translated and used. 300 sites.

Some of the pastors Klein has seen 3x in a row, but ministers are a difficult bunch to teach because they are set in their ways. They are nearly impossible. Some do turn and that becomes the impact.

The Philippines is a different kind of ministry. Someone who was from Berachah there; and he went to see the Lord in 2004. Klein went there and stayed for over a year. There were two sons and one had a church and he was teaching, studying and teaching. Robert is the other. The Greek and Hebrew class started but they died out. The other classes were well-received. He enjoyed that and he started a DVD class. Dr. Nelson is the Berachah person there first? These are his two sons who survive him.

They began to listen to Bob. A DVD class is not the pastor in a foreign country. You cannot just have a DVD class and they ask where is he, "He's in heaven." Filipino pastors must teach other Filipinos. There were a number of good pastors. But most were not really prepared to teach 6 or 7 hours a week. The DVD's could complement that pastor. Impossible to tear it apart verse-by-verse without going back to the original languages.

The strong positive volition is in Mindinao. That is also where all of the Muslims are as well. So you have to be careful there. DVD class in Bochol. Another in Negros Oriental.

How does God lead you? Apartment in northern Thailand. The water pump went bad. The hydrant went bad. So he went to Hydrobad, in India. He's kidding. A lot of it is common sense, divine viewpoint and opening doors. Difficult to get into China.

Many of the emails just want money; so he eliminates those; and others want a job. It was the 4th guy who had read some of Bob's booklets. The missionary is not different from us.

One city in India; no one smiled in this city. "If you lived here, you wouldn't smile either." Open top to his bathroom. He had to first check for mosquitos, which are huge and carry yellow fever and have to be killed. Vipers and you get 15 min. and your'e gone.

Lesson #0251

Easter Message Matt. 28:2-6

4/8/2012 1Sunday

Easter Communion: Jesus was forced to stagger to the place of His crucifixion carrying the means of His pain. It was not the extreme physical abuse that was excruciating, but the real torment was the 3 hours of darkness when He was judged in His Own body for the sins of the world. 12-3 pm

Christ substituted Himself, so that we, depraved mankind, could be saved. We did not earn or deserve what He did for us. This was amazing grace. The cross was the center point of history. Jesus Christ was born into this world to die on the cross. He was the only man qualified to make such a sacrifice, because He was without sin. He lived a perfect, sinless life, coming to the cross as the spotless Lamb of God. He Who knew no sin became sin on our behalf. The Scripture tells us that, we believe in Jesus Christ and we are saved. This is why Scripture can claim, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and you will be saved.

At the end of dying for our sins, He breathed out His last, because it was finished. The greatest victory for Him and subsequently for us. Physical death could not hold Him; it could not defeat Him. His humanity was resurrected by the power of God. What more can the forces of evil do, if the man they have killed defies death? We share in His glorification because we are in union with Christ forever.

The resurrection is the central theme of the New Testament. The promise of eternal life are based upon his resurrection from the dead. Without this message of eternal victory, our faith must be just another deflated hope. If Christ had not been resurrected, then eternal life would not be ours. If the dead are not raised, let us eat and drink, for tomorrow, we die. If this is true, then we might as well turn to hedonism; to enjoy the moment. Live life. Life will soon pass with nothing to follow.

Without the resurrection, our preaching is vain; and our faith is vain. If the dead are not raised, then Christ is not raised and your faith is worthless, and you are still in your sins.

But He Whom God raised did not undergo decay...let it be known to you that forgiveness of sins is proclaimed. Peter in Acts. Without the resurrection, we place our faith in a God Who is dead.

We will follow His precedent. We do not desire you to be ignorant, brothers, about those who are asleep; that you may not grieve like the rest who have no hope...Jesus Christ died and rose again... We who are alive will not precede those who are dead? We will be caught up with Him in the clouds and so shall we ever be with the Lord. This provides us with the greatest confidence in life. Resurrection is an integral part of the magnificent saving work of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Communion is about our concentration and our understanding of doctrine.

The Sermon on the Stone was spoken by an Angel; and there was little humor involved.

Matt. 28:2

Matt. 28:2 Suddenly there was a violent earthquake, because an angel of the Lord descended from heaven and approached the tomb. He rolled back the stone and was sitting on it.

This was the very first Easter sermon. It was not long and flowery with lofty prose; there was no great congregation in an exquisite cathedral. There were only two listeners. The message was delivered from a round stone, behind which was an empty tomb.

The sermon was short but profound. The earthquake preceded it. This was the ultimate sunrise service. What was important is the revolutionary truth. This was resurrection day. The Sabbath had just ended and it began to dawn on the first day of the week.

Mary Magdalene and the other Mary came to see the tomb and they were ardent followers and Jesus' closest disciples. They were of the few disciples who saw His crucifixion. They were in shock, gloom and depressed to some degree. They were just going to stand by the grave of Jesus Christ.

These women loved Jesus Christ, deeply and sincerely. His words had brought them so much comfort. Jesus had announced the coming kingdom that they now waited for, but He was now gone and dead. With these thoughts and terrible grief, they approached His tomb at the break of dawn. What they saw was shocking.

Matt. 28:3 His appearance was like lightning, and his robe was as white as snow.

Matt. 28:4 The guards were so shaken from fear of him that they became like dead men.

First they saw a huge stone, tossed aside; and sitting upon it was an apparition as they had never seen before. Then this creature spoke; and they must have been mesmerized and fearful.

The angel warns them, "Do not be afraid." This angel knew exactly what was on the minds of these women; he knew why they had come. They just wanted to be near the tomb of their Lord.

Matt. 28:5 But the angel told the women, "Don't be afraid, because I know you are looking for Jesus who was crucified.

The angel let them take a good long look into the tomb, and the angel told them, "He is not here; for He has been resurrected."

The rock had been moved so that the people could go in and see that Jesus had risen from the dead. The angel invited them into His tomb. His resurrection had great impact for them and for us. There are great applications to be made for them and us.

Matt. 28:6 He is not here! For He has been resurrected, just as He said. Come and see the place where He lay.

Lesson #0252

Matt. 28:5–7 Easter Message

4/8/2012 2Sunday

The sermon on the stone.

What did the resurrection mean as described by this angel? Christ had destroyed death; He had defeated death. The message of eternal life is secure, because it rests upon the reality of our Lord's victory over death. We, as believers, will be victorious over death because He was victorious.

Matt. 28:5–6 But the angel told the women, "Don't be afraid, because I know you are looking for Jesus who was crucified. He is not here! For He has been resurrected, just as He said. Come and see the place where He lay.

5 Points on the Resurrection

1. The resurrection is the ultimate moment of comfort from grief. The two women who heard this sermon; they had fixed their hope and faith on Jesus Christ, the God-man, and then they saw Him die horribly. They saw all of His suffering, except when it was dark. All of their hopes had been crushed at that moment. What would happen to them and to all of the followers of Christ? They could recall what Jesus had said on the Sermon on the Mount. They had an overwhelming grief coupled with fear of the future. No judgement for the believer. Jesus took that on Himself. Now there was the comfort of Christ Who had been judged. The whole gospel centers around the gospel of Jesus Christ. Eternal life is now the heritage of every believer. We have eternal life based upon faith alone in Christ alone. One of the great monuments that exemplifies the cross and the resurrection is the arc triumph on the center of France; one of the great victory arches. Commissioned by Napoleon in 1806 and completed after his death when Texas became a state. It is an imposing structure. From there emanates some of the most beautiful avenues in the world; and all of the life of that city seems to flow to that arch and out from it. The arch cannot be an arch without the two pillars. All life flows out from the salve of our Lord Jesus Christ. Our eternal life flows out from the resurrection. So the angel's announcement removed the grief and fear from the souls of these two women. Therefore, we should never fear death; our comfort should be in the two pillars of the gospel. The risen Christ has removed all of its terrors.
2. The revelation of completion. "He is not here for He has risen. Just as He has said." They did not even recall the many prophecies that He had mentioned; the sign of Jonah Matt. 12:40 just as Jonah was 3 days and 3 nights in the belly of the sea monster, so the Son of Man will be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights. If we have ever seen the sun come up over the desert, you remember how sudden it is. It does not occur over time; one moment, it is dark and the next, it is blinding sunlight. That is how amazing this revelation is. Before the dawn of that first Easter, the world was in darkness and death. In a flash, the bonds of that tomb were broken. They arrived in the darkness and into the dawn of resurrection day. The sun of eternal life rose. 3 days prior, Jesus said, "It is finished." The work of atonement had been accomplished. Now comes a parallel statement from the angel. He has risen. All that is left is faith alone in Christ alone. In this statement, we have the completed statement, the two pillars of salvation.
3. The application of security. What great value people place on security in life. We have many schemes to acquire security in life; for retirement. So many people work all of their lives and never enjoy the years that they have. A nice pension; a 401K; and others who depend upon government for retirement and healthcare. None of these things provide iron-clad assurance of security in life. Jesus Christ provides perfect security in life and in death. The angel invited the women to come and look where Jesus had lain. "Don't just take my word for it; see it for yourselves." These women needed to see that death had been routed; that the fires of hell had been turned away. It was important to see our comfort in Christ. The security that people desire must be tangible. People need to hold their gold or see their bank accounts. Some need to see the legislation to think that government will provide for them from the cradle to the grave. There was no theft of the body; there was no slight of hand. This is because of what the women saw. His grave cloth was still there, but His body was not in these clothes. If the body had been snatched, the wrappings would have to be removed or the body and the wrappings would have to be taken with the body. Jesus is called the firstfruits of resurrection. This is a sample of what every believer will enjoy. This is what they saw in these empty grave cloths. This is the pledge that we will live forever in heaven. That is an application that is a guarantee that never waivers and never quits. What a failure Christianity would be if it could not carry our failures and hopes beyond the grave. No more beautiful emblem for Christianity can be found than these empty grave cloths in an empty tomb. The greatest symbol of Christianity. This guarantees that every grave will be empty. An hour is coming during which all who are in the tomb will be raised. We will hear the shout; so we must be alive to hear it. Believers and unbelievers will all be resurrected. Believers to eternal life and unbelievers to eternal condemnation. Some will be elated and others will be doomed. Security for the believer in life and in death and in fear and in doubt for the unbeliever. If you have no hope for tomorrow, then eat and drink, for tomorrow we die.

4. The announcement; instructions are given to these women. "Then go quickly and tell His disciples, 'He has been raised from the dead. In fact, He is going ahead of you to Galilee; you will see Him there.' Listen, I have told you." The resurrection is a part of the gospel. God so loved the world that He gave His Only begotten Son so that whoever believes in Him shall not see death but have eternal life. What a message these women had to pass on. Their grief is suddenly turned to joy; and they could not wait to pass along this information to everyone what they saw. After all, they are women. They would begin to tell the good news to every one they could. They would say, "He is risen in triumph, never to die again." From that point on, they were never silent. Even to the end of their days, they continued to speak of the Lord Jesus Christ. Preaching the cross and resurrection to anyone who would listen. This truth of resurrection affected all of the disciples. How else can it be explained that this little band of fearful, nervous, and shy disciples who revealed nothing but cowardice into to powerful group of men who turned the world upside down. James was a skeptic and he became the acknowledged head of the Jerusalem church. What caused Stephen to be the first martyr; what caused Paul to proclaim Jesus? The resurrection had a distinct claim on all those who are believers. We are believers today because of the resurrection. We can live the most incredible life today using the same power; we have an eternal future that is unimaginable. There is no power like resurrection power. It is the power of God; the security and guarantee of our life and of our eternal life. It is our use of this power that claims us. All of the early disciples knew this and lived it. Such a claim energized these disciples.

5. Companionship. Everyone loves companionship. No man is an island. Marriage is about companionship. This is the greatest companionship. “Behold, He is going before you into Galilee and there you will see Him. Behold, I have told you.” Jesus would appear to His disciples in many places, a body they would recognize, but a body with properties that they could not imagine. He would confirm that it is Him. Once they caught sight of the risen Christ, they never looked back. He would assure the disciples that He would be with them until the end of time. This is our encouragement. None of us know where life will take us or when life will be over. There is lots of adversity and even a little prosperity. Heb. 13:5 be content with such things as you have, for He said, “I will not leave you and I will not forsake you.”

Matt. 28:7 Then go quickly and tell His disciples, 'He has been raised from the dead. In fact, He is going ahead of you to Galilee; you will see Him there.' Listen, I have told you."

Lesson #0253

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

4/11/2012 Wed

v. 10 speaks of experiential righteousness. They are advancing spiritually and are experientially growing; and they are being persecuted. We think little about persecution because that has not been a part of the American experience in this country; but it is going on everywhere else in this world. Try to be a Christian in a Muslim country; there is a tremendous persecution in Ghana and China and Nigeria. There is a thriving church in China, but mostly it is underground. Where there is persecution of believers, there has always been an expansion of Christianity. This occurred in Rome. Every communist regime has persecuted Christians.

Perfect passive participle of $\delta\iota\omega\kappa\omega$, which has several meanings, but here, being persecuted is the reasonable translation. The perfect tense is something which has been completed in the past, but there are present results. The past action is the process leading to persecution is not what is being emphasized here. It is not what has happened in the past, but it focuses on the results of being persecuted.

The subject, the righteous believer, receives the action of the verb. It means that someone is perpetrating persecution against a believer. The believer receives the finished result of the state of being persecuted.

Persecution

1. The idea of $\delta\iota\omega\kappa\hat{o}$ is a premeditation to persecute or to expel; that is because of the perfect tense.
2. This persecution implies guilt on the part of the persecutors. They are guilty of perpetrating a monstrous crime.
3. It implies innocence on the part of the believer. There might be a trumped up crime, but the believer is simply being righteous.

Many believers have been expelled from their homes and from their nation simply because of their beliefs. The English protestants, called the Puritans. They were involved in the separation controversy. They did not want to compromise their doctrine and they would not compromise with the church of England. They would not water down their own theology. They left England, and eventually went to Holland. They stayed there for about a decade. There were some Spanish Catholics and there were still a lot of problems. 1600's. They arranged with English investors to establish colonies in America. This is how the Puritans got to our shores by small groups. They left Holland and traveled by ship to America. Ended up in Massachusetts. Their expulsion from England, which was persecution, became blessing for them and blessing for the North American continent for centuries to come.

There were the Huguenots in France. They were French Protestants. Guesses as to the origin of their name. Their leader was a reformer and opposed the Catholic church. He was eventually killed by that church. They were very strong believers. This loss had a devastating effect on France. They lost their most industrious class of people and deprived them of blessing by association. They immigrated from France to England, Wales, Switzerland, Holland, Prussia and to America. These Protestant reformers were a blessing to these areas.

Does there have to be a client nation in the world at all times? Bobby doesn't think that a client nation must exist; but there will be someone who represents Jesus Christ in the world who has their theology straight.

They spread the gospel and Bible doctrine to all of those places named above. They were missionaries and evangelists because they had been expelled from their communities. They loved and taught the Bible. They had a strong moral consciousness and great spiritual lives. They had a high sense of their vocation which is sometimes called the Protestant ethic. They became the basis for forming other client nations.

The believer who is experientially righteous, he is executing the spiritual life. He is innocent of wrongdoing and ought not to be persecuted.

The believer continues his spiritual advance, and regardless of what happens, is unchecked in this spiritual advance, and he keeps his eyes on the Lord through his intake of doctrine. Such a believer is motivated by the example of Jesus Christ; motivated by the mind of Christ in him.

Heb. 12:2 Keeping our eyes on Jesus [this is occupation with Christ], the source and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that lay before Him endured a cross and despised the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of God's throne.

We are able to fix our eyes on Jesus because of doctrine in our souls. He has given us promises that we can use to apply faith rest. We overcome fear with doctrine. The One Who utilized faith rest in His Own life provides this for us as well.

The joy set before our Lord Jesus Christ was the cross. That was the ultimate in persecution. This is what the sadducees and pharisees put upon the Lord Jesus Christ. This is the attitude of the believer. Our Lord's attention was not on the crucifixion, but on the objective of providing salvation. He kept His eyes on the crowd. What are a few years of difficulty, suppression, compared to eternity in heaven with Jesus Christ. This means, we live our life in the light of eternity. No matter what happens in this world.

We all came into this world with a problem; we came in to adversity; we are blessed in life since we are looking up rather than looking down at our difficulties. We do not allow fear to choke us. We keep our eyes fixed on the Lord for righteousness sake.

There are many ways that a believer can be persecuted. There are ways that we may have already faced. So, what is this things called persecution? How can we identify it?

How Can We Be Persecuted?

1. There is an attitude of derision and sarcasm of the believer living by the absolute standards of the Bible. They go out of their way to mock believers for thinking the way that we think. Bill Maher is an example; supercilious and haughty and he spews forth sarcasm at all things that are Christian absolute.
2. Ideological persecution. This is a persecution that may be more difficult to understand, but it is going on all around us. It is more subtle but more deadly. There are human philosophies that demand obeisance to their beliefs and they oppose Christianity. The philosophy of pluralism; more than one kind of reality exists at the same time. There is more than one kind of reality that exists at the same time. An example, the German philosopher Frederick Nietzsche. He is a complete relativist and he absolutely opposes Christianity in every way. "You have your way; I have my way; and for the right way, the correct way and the only way, it does not exist." Christianity stands for only one objective reality. The only reality is Jesus Christ and the Bible doctrine of the Word of God. That is our reality. It is an absolute reality. Relativists have no fixed reality; it is always in flux. These ethics slide up and down. They pretend to tolerate all religions and all philosophies; their absolute is, there are no absolutes; no singular reality. Our reality is based upon Bible doctrine and they must and do oppose it. You are a threat to their world-view. The believer becomes anathema to his thinking. They demand political correctness from everyone. Anything else is seen as offensive to society and laws may even be passed to stop the spread of crimes like the message of the gospel. The gospel is not politically correct. Humanists are evangelistic; atheists in a tiny minority have affected a number of laws in this country. Christianity is a dangerous heresy; it must be refuted, rejected and even persecuted. Christianity is weakness and relativity is strength. Power is the key. "Is man merely a mistake of God? Or God merely a mistake of man?" That is the epitome of relative humanism. He viewed followers of Christ as the very dregs of society. He saw Christianity as nausea and disgust with life. It is all weakness.
3. What futility or lostness is ideology like this. This is the opposite of what we believe. We do have eternal life; we do have God; what we have is by no means weakness.

Hopeless futility is what they have; they defines the world of Satan and its philosophy.

Matt. 5:10 Blessed are those who have been persecuted for righteousness' sake, For theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Lesson #0254

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

4/12/2012 Thurs

Various atheist groups are looking to sue Camp Pendleton north of San Diego. We gave a job to do here as a client nation, no matter what is going on in our country. Satan and his minions must always oppose Jesus Christ and His royal family. We are the greatest threat to Satan; and these groups fear it, or they would not be so vociferous in their opposition.

Matt. 5:10 Blessed are those who have been persecuted for righteousness' sake, For theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Persecution is blessing for those who are maturing spiritually. We must always remember this. We must keep our eyes on the Lord. Heb. 12:2 keeping our eyes on Jesus, the source and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that lay before Him endured a cross and despised the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of God's throne. The greatest persecution is our Lord's death on the cross. Even though our Lord's agony was indescribable, He kept His eyes on victory over death, over persecution, and over those who had persecuted Him. He is our model in persecution.

In understanding persecution as a blessing, we need to understand how believers are persecuted. It comes in all manner and in all forms. There are ways that we can recognize it. We face already 2 of the categories of persecution.

Christian Persecution

1. Sarcasm and derision directed toward the believer living according to the absolute standards of the Bible. They have no tolerance for the absolutes of the Bible. They feel the divine inspiration of the Bible is kooky. They do not want to hear the gospel; they want to throw roadblocks. Those who are opposed to it belittle divine establishment, and they reject all of the basic principles of divine establishment, and all of the divine institutions are under attacked. These are divine absolutes for the believer as well as the unbeliever. Divine establishment is man's most valuable the only thing the unbeliever has to restrain his sin nature are the absolutes of divine establishment. These are the highest expression of individual freedom and responsibility, and yet, they are seen as antiquated. Where the laws are ignored, there are persecution of believers by relativists who believe in humanism. Humanism always rejects the absolute standards of divine establishment. We stand for the absolutes, whether they be establishment. We think in absolutes. The more doctrine you have, the more that you think in absolutes. The more you are spiritually mature, the more you see that. You find it even in sports; filled with relativism and humanism. It is the basis for people persecuting Christianity. It begins with verbal abuse. Those believers who are well-known cannot be left alone. They are in direct opposition to the god of this world.

2. Ideological persecution; the underpinnings of most... Bobby cited Nietzsche and he said, "You have your way and I have my way, and, as for the correct way, it does not exist." He tries to teach that there are no divine standards. Situational ethics with no fixed reality. Their philosophy of humanism is always in opposition to Christianity. Nietzsche "The thought of suicide...it helps get many through a very dark night." There is no hope; there is no confidence. There are so many ideologies in this world and so many religions which oppose doctrine. Marxism is absolutely opposed to absolute truth.
3. When opposition gets strong and bold enough in a nation entity, it takes a new form. Imprisonment, violence and death to those who believe in Jesus Christ or to Jews. Adolf Hitler was heavily influenced by Nietzsche. Those who resist and those who oppose Jesus Christ are the disciples of Satan and Satan is the great persecutor of Christians. How can people be so brutal and so vicious? They are influenced by Satan; he is tyranny. Jesus was threatened by the pharisees over and over again with death. Persecution is actually a blessing. The secular Romans would be no different. Those who accepted these persecutions in the name of Jesus Christ would be identified with Jesus Christ in His persecution and they would be recognized in the kingdom as eternal heroes of the faith.

Applications

1. Those who are believers in Jesus Christ can be certain of opposition from the cosmic system. It will happen without doubt. Satan must oppose believers just as he must oppose God.
2. Jesus promised blessing to those who were willing to suffer for His Name's sake. Philippians.
3. Those who identify with Christ who are persecuted. Religious wars are also nasty.
4. The Kingdom of Heaven is initiated by Christ, not by humanism; it is not a human utopia. That is what Satan wants to create in his kingdom. Bobby saw a movie called the "Kingdom of Heaven" which was a very good movie, a bit bloody; and it expressed the futility of a Kingdom of Heaven on earth. Knights went over to Jerusalem and it was supposed to be the Kingdom of Heaven. No matter how hard man wishes and man tries, he can never institute the Kingdom of Heaven on his own. He never stops trying. The problem is, the sin nature always gets in the way. They think that they can change human nature. They always degenerate into corruption and self-interest. Whether it is called, utopia will never be reached by man's efforts, neither through humanism or through false gods. Satan works for it; he wants it. Futility: humanism always strives for that utopian kingdom; they believe that man can do it. Humanism, the cosmic system, they cannot accomplish what God can. There is opposition to God's kingdom on earth.

What

1. Religion injects man as the focal point. There are those who believe that the kingdom will be brought in by believers who continue to gain in righteousness.
2. Humanism elevates man above God. Atheism and agnosticism often comes out of this.
3. Man's ideas are limited to the abilities of man. Utopias are relative and limited to the abilities of man.
4. Humanistic, utopian concepts; no truth; no reality. They are figments of man's imagination. No more and no less.
5. Secular humanism must deny the existence of divine absolutes. Humanism cannot exist unless they deny divine absolutes.
6. Their motto; the motto of humanism; my truth is just as good as your truth.
7. Nonconformity to any authority is elevated to the greatest good. The result of my truth is just as good as your truth; nonconformity. His truth is elevated as the greatest good; as strength. The humanist says he is tolerant of every belief system; that is their reality as opposed to another's reality. This thinking is actually unreality; yet everyone must be tolerant of all other views. We are taught that we must tolerate every view. Islam and Hinduism do not offer up any ideas equal to Christianity; they utterly and totally oppose Christianity and Bible doctrine. Those who believe in utopia believe that this will bring harmony to the human race. They do not mind if this is imposed by superior minds. "We have a better idea than you antiquated Christians. We will tolerate everyone, as long as they fall into line with our thinking. There is no reason for any person to be concerned with any other truth. In our lifestyles, in our moral standards, in our multi-culturalism. "My Christianity is private" means "leave me alone and I will leave you alone." It is a denial of absolute truth. We have a duty to spread that truth. Those who are persecuted for righteousness sake. It never works. Individual truth never works out in practice. Truths oppose each other because they are not truths. Humanists must oppose the absolute claims of God's Word. This is because it endangers their relativism; it threatens their world view. So God must be reduced to an object of ridicule or denied altogether. That is their only defense against Christianity and God. Their only final defense is persecution. They see Jesus as some desperate holy man and that the things He said were just to gain attention to Himself. They see Him as just another religious figure to lampoon. It is always Christianity that they lampoon. People, in the humanist view, must be awakened from their religious stupor. They say they put tolerance over all; and they are tolerant toward anyone but Biblical Christianity. Our society is permeated with humanism. There are those in high places who want to re-interpret the constitution of the United States. It is a document of absolutes. When you begin to tinker with it, when absolutes become relative truth, it ends up at anarchy. We will no longer be a nation of laws. We make the laws fit the society rather than the society fitting the laws. These humanists have no tolerance for anyone who is a Christian; never listen to what they say but to what they do. Our laws will slowly change under guise of, let's keep church and state separate.

This is all about power. It is all about utopian ideals. There is this huge problem for the relativist.

The Utopian Approach

1. Emulating the attitudes which are acceptable in the Kingdom of Heaven; emulating the utopian kingdom of heaven is preposterous to the humanist. They disregard the depravity of mankind. They ignore the Biblical doctrines of hamartiology. We all have sin natures; that is an absolute. But they think that man is evolving. We will all live side-by-side. Antithetical groups cannot compromise.
2. How is a human utopian kingdom instituted? Only when truth is suppressed. They can only do it with tyranny. The absolute standards of Bible doctrine is the resistance factor.
3. Any utopian approach requires authority and a government and standards by which such a group can be governed. How do you govern the kingdom of utopia by those standards.
4. There can be no utopia as long as there is adversity and resistance.
5. The utopian kingdom of the humanist must have a system of standards imposed. That is where tyranny beings.

Matt. 5:10 Blessed are those who have been persecuted for righteousness' sake, For theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.

Lesson #0255

Matt. 5: Life of Christ

4/15/2012 1Sunday

There is a lot in the news today about bullying; and there is bullying wherever there are sin natures. If that behavior is not stopped, it will continue. The bully becomes an oppressor and he grows up in total arrogance in his teen years. He scorns those that he sees to be beneath him. He will often form a group and they will take on his arrogance. They are pawns in his power game. He has now formed a pattern in his life.

This person graduates and gets a job. He is pushy, scheming, disrespectful and impudent toward those in authority over him. Some of these types become tyrannical bosses; bosses which we have had in the past. The arrogant bully then gets married and he wants to control every moment to fit his desires; he is domineering and sometimes even brutal towards his wife; and sometimes toward his children.

Some of these people go into government. They are not servants of the people but they are taskmasters, imposing their arrogant ideals on the nation as a whole, through legislating and by other means. They change things to fit their own concepts. Such people can make your life miserable with their arrogance.

Jesus Christ has addressed this situation in Matt. 5:10:

Matt. 5:10 Blessed are those who have been persecuted for righteousness' sake, For theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven.

This is a verse about persecution. The words persecution, righteous, heaven all stand out. The believer, who is experientially righteous, who is growing spiritually, he can and will be persecuted for living the Christian life and serving the Lord. That is a certainty. What are a few years of persecution, in the light of eternity? We will spend eternity in heaven; and this is a rationale for the faith rest drill. As a believer, we are persecuted for righteousness sake. We simply utilize the faith-rest technique knowing that all of this is temporary.

Types of Bullying

1. The bullying attitude of derision and sarcasm, directed toward the believer who lives by the absolute standards of God's Word. The relative, secular humanist despises the values of the mature believer. We face these types today, in this country, in our government today. We think, in many ways, in terms of absolutes; we are saved by faith in Christ through grace.
 - a. The humanist puts man higher than God, if he believes in Him. The only absolute to him is, "There are no absolutes." So all absolute standards must be opposed, even if persecution is involved. Humanism elevates man over God and over all absolute standards. Non-conformity to authority is seen as a good. A believer who conforms to Bible doctrine must be persecuted. He is a threat to the relativist; to the humanist. We are wearing a target on our backs.
 - b. The relativist: you have your way, I have mine; and they are equally valid. He also opposes absolute standards.
 - c. Secular is the person who is completely removed from Christianity.
2. The humanistic relativist tries to initiate and govern with an eye toward a utopian vision. This is a society of perfection where there is perfect environment where people have very similar salaries. They claim to be tolerant of all belief systems; and all belief systems of equivalent. Whatever a person decides for himself is true; let's just leave each other alone. Thus all will be embraced in utopia. It never works out in practice. Nice ideas but it is all unreal. We stand in the way. People with absolutes stand in the way of utopian types. The believer adheres to absolute standards; there is only one Savior and He is our only way to God. Utopians requires standards and norms and laws and standards must be issued by the human government, in order to bring it all to pass. Diversity cannot work in an utopian society. Sharia law cannot coexist with a utopian vision, even though it is tolerated now. The relativist wants to include everyone; but they can only govern by force; by tyranny. The tyrant, the one to build this utopia, is driven by his own boundless conceit and delusions. Satan wants to put together a utopia; a substitute for God's kingdom. No humanist can produce this utopia. This person identifies with a noble calling; his utopian vision, and he sees himself alone as being capable of bringing these utopian vision to pass. He sees himself as the only one capable of bringing this utopia to pass. There is no basis for cohesion of a society into a utopia with so many cultures and religions in existence. No such bond can hold together such divergent views. These various approaches cannot be reconciled; and we cannot compromise with evil. How do you compromise with evil? How do you get compromise out of that? That is caving into to evil. Humanist ideology must replace doctrinal certainty. That is reversionism and you have demonstrated cowardice in the face of the enemy. This is why the humanist hates Biblical Christianity. You stand for Bible doctrine; or you give in to anything. We must cling to the absolute truth found in Bible doctrine. That is the one thing that the humanist, relativist, and secularist cannot tolerate. This is the underlying reason for Christian persecution. They marginalize and make fun of believers. But these believers must be eliminated. This has been done throughout history. There is no peace in their souls; there is hatred of believers and Bible doctrine. For these 3, Christian and Christian influence must be eliminated; put down, derided, stifled, jailed, martyred. We have certainly gone through a few of these in the United States. Elements of Bible doctrine today are being labeled as intolerant and as hate speech. Therefore, Bible doctrine can be opposed. Recently, a woman's right to contraceptives is an attack against religion. Religious liberty is subservient to a woman's right to contraception. Where does that stop? This may be the doctrine of an apostate church, but it is the first step. It is a matter of gaining power in order to impose their ideals, to impose a humanist utopia where absolutes are absent. The idea is, man's government apart from God.

3. Never got to this point?

Are Muslims and Christians in this utopian going to lie down together. The Muslim solution to Christianity is to kill the infidel. It is happening all over the world today. Bring on the jihad. Blow up men women and children in the name of converting the masses. If the Koran is followed literally, the Muslim is directed toward jihad. It is as absolute to them just as believe in the Lord Jesus Christ is to us. The secularist and the humanist does not adhere to any of that. However, they are afraid; they do not know how to deal with it, so they depend upon tyranny. Or they try appeasement to solve the problem. Religion has persecuted Biblical Christianity just as much as the secular humanist has. There has never been a coalition of religion, humanism and Christianity. They will oppose Christ to the point of death.

This is the crux of the Angelic Conflict; there is no live and let live in the devil's world. These are causes of war and turmoil even more than economic reasons. The humanists think that it is all economic.

Lesson #0256 Matt. 5:11 Luke 6:22 Life of Christ 4/15/2012 2Sunday

When these disciples were sitting on this mountain, hearing these words, including Matt. 5:10, this hit home with the disciples. They had already received some persecution. Our Lord Jesus Christ was already under persecution, and it would get much worse. They identified with this beatitude; their ears picked up; they heard this. They learned this more and more, as persecution got worse and worse. They saw Jesus Christ as crucified as the greatest persecution of all.

The relativist, humanist, secularist person, completely opposed to the absolutes of Bible doctrine. The relativist sees all ways as being okay; no truth is absolute; and "Let's leave each other alone" even though they won't do that.

The humanist is, "Man is the greatest and God is subsumed under man." If they believe in God, it is from a deist point of view.

The secularist opposes everything that we believe in. One of the ideological reasons. Particularly Marxism, which believes that the world turns on economics. If there is no equality, then that should be pursued, and that will bring in utopia. They want to bring in a better way from their ideology. If we can just level the playing field is their approach. The rich are evil and the poor are virtuous; and wealth must be redistributed in order to equal out the results. Socialist societies are always a dictatorship. Every Marxist-socialist society must be a dictatorship. Chavez, Mao, Stalin, etc. All dictators; and it has never brought in a utopia and it never will.

The world really turns on, what do you think of Christ? That is the central question of all history and of all human life. There is no compromise between Jesus Christ, His Word, and the cosmic system. We must take a stand on this point. There is no compromise on that point. We are a minority in the devil's world. Those who hold devil's utopia will attempt to replace truth with their utopia. These secular relativists cannot bring in the Millennium. But believers with doctrine will be persecuted.

The relativists, the humanists, and the secularists who populate this world are at war with believers with Bible doctrine. This is one manifestation of the Angelic Conflict. Those who hold the absolute doctrine of Bible truth will be opposed. Philosophies and religions will always be at odds with Jesus Christ.

Humanists say, "We're tolerant" as they impost humanism. Biblical Christians do not impose their vision on the world; they will evangelize, but they will not dictate faith in Christ where it is not accepted. Religion will do that. Religions have tyrannized in history. Biblical Christianity recognizes volition in this world. How can you impose Christ on anyone? People converted all the time by torture in the middle ages; but this was not real. People must be able to choose for or against Jesus Christ. Accepting the Lord Jesus Christ by faith alone in Christ alone. This opens the door to His utopian kingdom.

The kingdom spoken of in the Sermon on the Mount is a kingdom brought into reality by Jesus Christ. The lion will lie down with the lamb. All those things promised in the Old Testament will be delivered as promised. They will not come to pass because of humanist ideology.

These characteristics certainly do not exist in great number in today's world. However, these attitudes can be formed in the soul of individual believers as they advance to spiritual maturity.

Persecution is a difficult thing to face. We can develop through spiritual maturity an attitude, an attitude which can handle these situations. Persecution is one of the most difficult things to face.

So we inherit the Kingdom of Heaven; not through the legalism of religion and the self righteous adherents, but through the mind of Christ, as we continue to grow and ultimately reside in the perfection of heaven and His earthly kingdom in the millennial times.

We will face persecution, of some sort.

Then the sermon in the world, if someone hates you, then you hate them back. If they throw insults at you, you insult them back. If they do evil against you, you file a lawsuit. That is not the viewpoint of this sermon. This is the viewpoint of the world. In the world, you stand up for your rights and you fight back.

When you are slandered, then you file a lawsuit. That is how the cosmic system responds to slander. We may have to face any one of these problems in our lifetime. Will you perceive blessing because it is for the Son of Man? You must recognize why you are doing this; why you are not retaliating.

All of the Apostles, apart from John, experienced a martyr's death. What about you? If you are vocal about your faith, you will receive some persecution in some way. There is plenty of opposition and slander and even worse, even to the point of threats. Even from the state itself. In the union of church and state, things are happening which have nothing to do with the union of church and state. Do we have to fear this? Do we need to wake up every morning in consideration of this? Do we need to be upset? No. We endure and we are fortunate to be able to face these things and to endure them.

The Apostle Paul watched the stoning of Stephen; and Paul wrote the fundamental epistles of Christianity. Chinese Christians have been persecuted for years, and their church has grown exponentially.

Where there is persecution, there is expansion; that is blessing and that is our mandate. When we grow spiritually, we are able to handle persecution. It is a benefit and a blessing to stand for the truth in the devil's world. That glorifies God in this world and blessing in time for us. These were the men who would take the gospel to the uttermost parts of the earth and turn the world upside down. Acts 1:8 17:6

What are a few moments of persecution as opposed to being a hero in the faith for all eternity. Such a believer will be decorated for standing firm in the faith. We will not be tested above what we are able to handle. Our strength is Bible doctrine. We progress in the Christian life; and we begin to utilize Bible doctrine. There is nothing in life that can assail us. Hardship endures. This is the hallmark for those who enter the Kingdom of God.

When you are persecuted, your thinking ought to be, "I'm fortunate." Step out in courage and let the Lord handle the rest. Fear may grip you when you contemplate harassment for your faith; but you do know, if you are vocal and visible in your Christianity, people will confront and contest you. A stand for Christ gets one of two things; a response or a witness, or reaction and opposition. Hide and avoid opposition? Or stand and do what you are mandated to do. Present the gospel to the ones who need it. Count on opposition and count on opportunity in your life. The opposition might be slight; how many have you been embarrassed for speaking the name of Jesus Christ? You go along to get along. You want to preclude the gossip and the antagonism. You will not be afraid if doctrine is the bedrock of your life. We are not called to a lifestyle of fear; we are not called to be a mouse in the corner hiding. Making sure that no one dislikes us or points their finger at us and saying, there is a Jesus freak there. God is giving us an opportunity, whether we are persecuted or not.

Matt. 5:11 "Blessed [fortunate] are you when people reproach you, persecute you, and say all kinds of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

Luke 6:22 Blessed are you when people hate you, when they exclude you, insult you, and slander your name as evil, because of the Son of Man.

Lesson #0257 Matt. 5:11 Luke 6:22 Life of Christ 4/18/2012 Wed

Matt. 5:11 "Blessed [fortunate] are you when people reproach you, persecute you, and say all kinds of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

Luke 6:22 Blessed are you when people hate you, when they exclude you, insult you, and slander your name as evil, because of the Son of Man.

These verses are badges of honor. Persecution, slander, insult are very difficult for anyone to handle. They are often like a knife that goes straight to the heart. Slanders and insults a very personal. The more sensitive we are, the worse the slander and insult becomes. Slander and insult hurts, particularly when it is tough.

No one took more slander and insults than Bob did during his 53 years of ministry; particularly during the last 30 years. He was attacked over and over, sometimes quite viciously. Some former so-called friends perpetrated a certain amount of evil upon them. Some would leave, however, and badmouth him to everyone and anyone who would listen. Many formed their opinions of him based upon that type of slander. Bobby ran into a lot of this in seminary. All kinds of people have opinions about him; including mostly people who had never heard him and never knew anything about him.

Bobby knows that some of this slander was difficult for him, particularly when this was from old friends. He handled this with applied doctrine as he did throughout most of his life; and he did it, with regards to the persecution, slander and insults as covered in these verses. Any persecution is allotted to the fortunate believer. That is not a normal way of thinking. This is true not because of the pain itself, like the insult is somehow beneficial in some way, but doctrine is applied in the midst of this, which is suffering for integrity. Suffering for blessing is covered by one of Bob's books. It becomes an opportunity in persecution and slander. You can accelerate your spiritual growth; you can apply Bible doctrine; this is also an opportunity to serve the Lord. This is to be a testimony for Him and to glorify Him as in no other way. 1Peter 2:9 But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for His possession, so that you may proclaim the praises of the One who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light. These things are stated in the terms that Israel would understand; they knew what these terms meant. Peter is speaking to every Church Age believer. Every believer who is a part of the royal family of God represents Jesus Christ in their lives. We are all priests and we represent ourselves before the Lord and Him before the world. We represent Him and proclaim Him by speaking the gospel to others; but it is also how we live our lives, reflecting the mind of Christ as a witness for Him. We live the spiritual life that He has for us. That manifests itself for us in many ways. We are light in a world of darkness. We are called out of darkness and into His marvelous light to proclaim His excellency. 1Peter 2:12 Conduct yourselves honorably among the Gentiles, so that in a case where they speak against you as those who do evil, they may, by observing your good works, glorify God in a day of visitation. We are to show virtue to unbelievers, even under the conditions of slander, insult and persecution. Slanderers are evildoers. We must maintain a testimony among unbelievers in the face of persecution; in the face of slander. We glorify God as a mature believer and we demonstrate our royalty to the world, even under the most difficult conditions. We demonstrate the virtues of the spiritual life to the world; we demonstrate virtue love; and we need virtue love for these situations.

Here is how Peter handles persecution. 1Peter 3:9 not paying back evil for evil or insult for insult but, on the contrary, giving a blessing, since you were called for this, so that you can inherit a blessing. He became one of the strongest of all men when it came to handling persecution. We do not return evil or evil or insult for insult. We are not authorized to retaliate. We will have people who lie about us; and we want to give it right back to them. This can be quite difficult between the husband and wife in the home. And there is no peace or contentment in the home. That does not demonstrate the good works that Peter commends to us. Virtue love requires us to hold our tongues from time to time; we want to react when we are insulted; we want to give it back to them. We need to calm down and utilize a little divine viewpoint. We need to hold back our egocentric emotions that slander can engender.

There is no satisfaction; there is only conflict. When you get slapped, you want to slap back. Sissy boy slap party. There is no peace or contentment in this. We do not get to character assassinate the character assassin. We give a blessing instead.

How Do You Bless Them?

1. You need to develop grace orientation. The more you know about God and Christ, the more your thinking is oriented to grace. When you become grace oriented, you treat others in the way that you want to be treated. Impersonal love is the only way to deal with people you cannot stand.
2. The believer is relaxed in life; you have no axes to grind; you have peace and stability in your soul.
3. If you have that, you are not threatened by being berated by someone.

4. In impersonal love, based upon our own integrity, you never reciprocate in kind. No insult for insult. You do not reciprocate. Virtue love begins with reciprocal love toward God, and that is what you reflect. You reflect His love when you become grace oriented.
5. You keep in mind the love that God showed you, as an unbeliever (impersonal love) and then as a believer who is justified and given a whole portfolio of assets.
6. Matt. 5:44 show virtue love and pray for them. Simply walk away and pray for them. Pray that you can handle it without coming back on them and praying for their understanding. 1Cor. 4:12 when slandered, we bless and we endure. Persecution takes some endurance. We can only endure by what is in our soul. There is no humanism that teaches that.
7. Give a blessing instead of returning evil for. We were called of the very purpose that we might inherit a blessing. When you do not retaliate, then you are different from the others. When you do not retaliate, you have just presented your spiritual life. If you can endure insults and antagonism with kindness, patience and compassion through the application of doctrine. We receive blessings from God under these circumstances. Bob understood this, and he took a lot of guff from others. The more he grew, the easier he could deal with it. He handled it with kindness and aplomb and as a by-product of the spiritual life. He did not present himself in the way that they presented themselves. The rest of the world cannot do this. They must repay insult for insult.

How do you deal with other people? How do you deal with the circumstances of your life? With your friends and your enemies? There is always conflict. This glorifies God, which is your purpose in life. There is no greater opportunity for you.

Bobby's practical question, "Can you withstand a relatively light attack of office gossip?" Bible-thumper; a Jesus freak. When you have the opportunity, you speak. Some are insulted just to hear the name of Jesus in their hearing. All of these are attempts to intimidate us. They are the light attacks of the cosmic system. The powderpuff attacks; the mosquitoes buzzing around our ears. Can you stand for Jesus Christ if you are slightly mocked or really challenged or wants to argue with you. We are placed in this particular locale for just this reason; for just our testimony. We are a visible hero when we stand for the truth in any opposition. We are not called to a lifestyle of fear or timidity. We apply it; and we speak it and we live it; and it is noticeable.

Philip. 1:14 Most of the brothers in the Lord have gained confidence from my imprisonment and dare even more to speak the message fearlessly. I am in jail and they trust in the Lord because of the persecution. This gave him the power to speak the Word without fear. We must have the courage to speak. Courage is required. This is very similar to troops in combat; with a good leader, they have confidence in him.

So that we may boldly say, the Lord is my helper and I will not fear what man can do to me. We do not fear mocking, persecution, slander and insults. We stand for something which is much greater. Our purpose in life is not to trade insults. We are not called to spend our lives thinking of how we can get back at someone else for what they have done to us. This is our spiritual life and our faith rest rationale.

Blessing is yours for speaking and standing for Jesus Christ without hesitation, whether we are insulted or persecuted. It is the heart of our spiritual life. Most people will insult when they have been insulted; when you don't, it is noticeable.

Matt. 5:12 Rejoice, and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven. For that is how they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

Luke 6:23 "Rejoice in that day and leap for joy! Take note--your reward is great in heaven, because this is the way their ancestors used to treat the prophets.

Persecution is the same in every generation. It is no different today than it has ever been in the past.

Concluding Points

1. Those believers who persevere under that adversity will be reward in heaven. We have no idea the depth of the persecution that we will face. As believers, it will happen, to one degree or another. We use these times of calm to prepare for it; and this is a badge of honor in heaven. That is a rationale for persecution. Do you think that the Apostle Paul spend the 2 years as a prisoner whining and crying. He was able to face this with a faith rest rationale.
2. For them, it will be a long, glad day in heavn when they receive their rewards in heaven, compared to short, grievous days on earth.
3. The result of enduring opposition in this life and carrying on with our spiritual life will be eternal joy instead of temporal sorrow. No comparison. Persecution; be glad. No one can receive an insult and not get out of fellowship without a maturing spiritual life. There is no other way. Jesus Christ makes it clear that those who possess the qualities of the beatitudes stand out. They are completely worth of reward. We are rewarded for divine good. Doing this under persecution is divine good. If it does not come from the spiritual life, it is not real and it cannot be maintained. That is our purpose and the application of our spiritual life.

Lesson #0258 Mt 5:12 Lk 6:23 Pr 25:21–22 Life of Christ 4/19/2012 Thurs

Bobby gets letters from time to time. From someone in a Florida prison; and this gave him time for intensive gap; and he was given several hours a day; so he reached the prison dorm prepared. He is the modern poster child for self-induced misery and sheer unadulterated stupidity. He had failed the prosperity test and this was a divine intervention was probably long overdue. Detailed doctrine of a crappy situation. She reminds him that even in this situation, God is still on His throne and His assets are still available. He experienced periods of extreme joy and tranquility in jail; he never worried about the danger. Perfect crucible for learning and applying doctrine and impersonal love. There is a lot of religion in prison. It was almost a tangible joy to see God's grace in action. The same grace that sustained Paul has been available to him. He learned a few lessons. While God is a gracious God, He is also a jealous God. Sin disgusts Him and disloyalty is a problem. Neglect of the Word, though subtle, is just as destructive as antagonism toward the Word. Bible doctrine must be the believer's lifeblood. He was surrounded by very difficult circumstances. The believer is never beyond the reach of God's grace.

Persecution is no picnic. What we have been studying, persecution and unfair treatment and various things like this. When we are slandered, it goes right to our gut and sensitivity. So often it evokes a reaction; one often of anger and indignation. Often a desire to retaliate. That retaliation can come in the form of an immediately flash of anger and retaliation; or it simmers and is dispensed at a later time. In the second case, that often means a build-up of mental attitude sins. The maturing believer must not try to punish the slanderer. Do not return evil for evil or slander for slander.

Proverbs 25:21–22 If your enemy is hungry, give him food to eat, and if he is thirsty, give him water to drink; for you will heap coals on his head, and the LORD will reward you.

Return good for evil, not evil for evil. That is the way the rest of the world does it. Retaliation receives continued retaliation; it is a vicious escalating cycle. It occurs throughout the middle east. It is evil for evil, that continues on. This is how true enemies are made in life and how vendettas are made in life. It is constantly evil for evil.

Proverbs 25:21 is to encourage us to kindness rather than vengeance. When you give your enemy food to eat and water to drink, you will heap coals upon his head. This describes the result of our act of kindness in the face of slander and insult. The remorse is more readily affected by an act of kindness rather than an act of retaliation. Your graciousness in the face of insult elicits a response of regret. It may not be an overt response. Some egos would not allow for some of this. In their minds, they know; and this eats at them, unless they are completely degenerate. Our graciousness can elicit a response of regret. Meet good with good, so that good can be maintained; meet with evil with good, so that good may be created.

Rom. 12:19–20 Friends, do not avenge yourselves; instead, leave room for His wrath. For it is written: Vengeance belongs to Me; I will repay, says the Lord. But If your enemy is hungry, feed him. If he is thirsty, give him something to drink. For in so doing you will be heaping fiery coals on his head.

The conscience of the perpetrator may or may not be struck; but God will still reward us. This phrase has a direct connection with Matt. 5:12.

Spiritual growth is the solution to the terrible solution of being put into prison. This is exactly what the spiritual life does for anyone.

Matt. 5:12 Rejoice, and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven. For that is how they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

Luke 6:23 "Rejoice in that day and leap for joy! Take note--your reward is great in heaven, because this is the way their ancestors used to treat the prophets.

You get joy and you often get the attention of the persecutor. The persecutor does not expect you to enjoy their persecution. This often catches them off-guard. Believers who handle such adversity will be rewarded in heaven for producing divine good. When you return good for evil, when you do not return slander for slander; do you think that is easy to do? Who cares if you get insulted a little in this life or a lot; Bob was slandered so often that it was ridiculous. Bobby never heard Bob slander anyone in return. The Lord will handle it. The result of enduring opposition in this life and carrying on the spiritual life in the face of adversity will always be temporal and eternal joy instead of sorrow and persecution. Persecution does not matter. Even returning good for evil, as we are mandated to do, may not have any affect on the secular world who have rejected Christ. There are some real hard cases who do not feel bad about anything. There would never be a coal of fire on their head. You might further exacerbate the hatred and persecution. These beatitudes are not virtues to the secular world; they do not think in this way. They may give these beatitudes a passing nod; some cannot deny them. But if these attitudes conflict with their own attitudes and ego, then they will go to insults and anger. There is no room in their minds for absolute standards; their souls are based upon relative standards. Grace orientation is the attitude that we are mandated to develop; this is an attitude that completely baffles them and sometimes threatens them. Self-absorption is exactly the opposite of grace orientation. They resent those who have a experiential righteousness. It is like athletics, it shows them up; it shows up their weaknesses. This is what grace orientation does to self-absorption. Their relative characteristics of self-righteousness etc., and the more that they slander, the more joy for the grace oriented person; and it makes them want to persecute all the more.

Whatever the humanist, relativist does, is acceptable, without remorse and without guilt. The believer demonstrating experiential righteousness causes an unwanted comparison instead of coals of fire on his head. A person with humility will recognize that he is wrong; the relative humanist will not have a clue. Deep down, the humanist knows that he lacks something important.

They do not want to face reality, and they deny it; and they have to stop the comparison in their own minds. The ultimate result is an anarchy of soul; a confusion of soul; a terrible misery of soul. There are no standards, no laws, no brakes for them or for the society that they create. It reveals the total depravity of man; which they explain away as being an environment or of poverty. They cannot blame the sin nature. They have nothing to counter the spiritual life with. They have hedonism; socialism, which stands for nothing but themselves. Justifying these isms as an acceptable lifestyle demands that they persecute those with absolute standards. They make their standards up as they go along and they change their standards when the circumstance calls for it. They have no real standards. They persecute Christians because they cannot stand absolute standards; they cannot stand what is in your soul. They must cling to their own relativism; it is all that they have. They would have to admit that they are lacking in redeemable qualities. They refuse to acknowledge this. Humility admits the need of something outside of self. Otherwise their entire world view is threatened. Their spiritual life shows through; their lack; their humanism. It drives them crazy. This is why mankind needs God's grace in Christ. No matter what the relativist thinks, sin is not relative. It is an absolute violation of God's will. The humanist rejects and stands up against God's absolute standards. We are being told lies and things about yourself that are not true; all over this country. And that is the slander. It is a difficult thing to withstand because we see our nation going to pieces because relative humanists are in charge.

Summary

1. Those without Christ despise those who live with the absolute mind of Christ.
2. They hate the certainty and security in life. We are secure in who we are.
3. There is no security in relativism or in humanism. There is no security in the sin nature and there is no security in humanity.
4. The slightest glitch can remove the peace of mind of any unbeliever.
5. The believer's security is not fleeting because it does not depend upon circumstances. It depends upon what is in our soul.
6. Security depends upon the absolutes of Bible doctrine in the soul.
7. The relativist, the humanist despises the precisely correct procedures of the Bible. They have no procedures at all; they just make it up as they go along.
8. Relative humanism cannot abide the standards of divine viewpoint. Why persecution of the believer takes place.
9. The relative humanist rejects all security and peace of soul. He cannot have any of it; he sees it in the believer and he cannot stand it.
10. The beatitudes developed by the growing believer terrifies the humanist. They are superior to the humanist and they know it.
11. When the relativist sees a believer with such qualities, they must face their own inadequacies. When they see these attitudes in a believer, they are inadequate.
12. They recognize that their manner of life is empty and meaningless apart from self-indulgence. In the end, it is emptiness. They have rejected Christ and the absolutes of the Christian life.
13. So the humanist must persecute that which endangers their fragile self-esteem. It is a self-protection. This is what we are facing.
14. The absolutes of Bible doctrine are a menace to those who have convinced themselves that there is no God; that there are no set standards and that life is nothing more than self-centered relativism. And persecution of the believer is the result, for which we can leap for joy. That is the attitude.

Lesson #0265

Matt. 5:12 Luke 6:23 Life of Christ 4/22/2012 1Sunday

Matt. 5:12 Rejoice, and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven. For that is how they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

Luke 6:23 "Rejoice in that day and leap for joy! Take note--your reward is great in heaven, because this is the way their ancestors used to treat the prophets.

This sermon continues. This sermon opened with the beatitudes of the believing Jews to enter into the Kingdom of God. He is offering them the kingdom as the King. The pharisees and their opposition and persecution, which extended to Jesus and to all of His followers.

These beatitudes would not be fully realized until the 2nd advent. A facsimile of these beatitudes can be developed in our own lives; but we are not perfect and we cannot develop these same attitudes. As we grow, these attitudes would be increased in our lives. God's truth is absolute; there are no gray areas.

There is absolute truth with God and there is relative truth with man. It is called truth as it is built in the mind of the humanist, but it is a set of adjustable norms to changing circumstances.

Nietzsche: "You have your way, I have my way, as for the correct way, the right way, does not exist." Divine viewpoint is found only in the Bible, which is the Word of God. In the world of humanism, tolerance of all is their supposed attitude. The multi-cultural attitude. That ideology has become politically correct, which is the epitome of human truth. It is completely opposed to the absolutes of Bible doctrine. But they are intolerant toward the growing believer in Jesus Christ. That leads to the persecution, which our Lord spoke of as being blessing to the believer.

Our country is permeated with humanistic relativism and political correctness. Franklin Graham article about the circumstances of political correctness. In the Linkletter written for this month. "Political Correctness Gone Amuck." One of the most sinister and menacing threats lurks under the initials PC. They say they tolerate everything; and it has infected our government, schools and the marketplace, leaving no room for the authority of Scriptures. Alaska airlines use to put psalms, promises, cards. They discontinued this practice. General Boykin withdrew from an address to West Point. He is an American hero. Some discovered that he was speaking, and there was a media campaign to stop him because of his criticism of radical Islam. One commentator called this "political correctness gone amuck." Graham was dis-invited to speak and this is because of what he had said about radical Islam. Inclusiveness now means excluding anyone who speaks out for truth. Wishing to offend no one, our nation's politicians and leaders now stand for absolutely nothing. The gospel is a stone of stumbling and a rock of offense; pc people hate the name of Jesus Christ; they despise the gospel. Paul said, "We have boldly proclaimed the things of Jesus Christ." It is my goal to speak of Jesus Christ and the gospel, even if only briefly in every interview, even though many media will sometimes edit that out. "I am not politically correct" and Paul, who spent more time in prison than most, said, "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Jesus Christ."

Christianity stands for one objective reality; that of Jesus Christ and the doctrines of the Bible, the Word of God. The human mind takes in some truth and ethics, but it is based on a sliding scale, and they will change. Even the humanist pretends to tolerate all religions and philosophies, that too is a lie. They do not. They have rejected the absolute source, which is Jesus Christ.

Where do these attitudes come from? From the sliding scale of human ethics and the sliding scale of relative morality? Only from the uncompromising Word of God.

They must persecute Christianity; they must treat it with sarcasm.

Such persecution is the source of blessing for the believer. And we have seen why, which has been the focus of our study. The attitudes of the believer are fortunate, blessed, regardless of opposition, persecution, hatred and even death. The inheritance of an eternal future and great rewards in heaven. What are a few days of suffering in this life compared to eternity? We face bliss and rewards that are indescribable.

Do you think God's plan is discontinued while we are in suffering? Do you think we have done something so terrible that God has brought all forces against us to hurt us?

The pharisees were the contrast to the beatitudes presented by Jesus Christ. They were the self-righteous legalists of their time. They were the terrible persecutors who would kill the Lord Jesus Christ. In their persecution comes the greatest blessing for all man, our salvation. Persecution cannot stop God's plan. In fact, it is fully a part of God's plan.

The pharisees did not want to give up their own righteous standards for the Lord Jesus Christ. There is a contrast which was then; and which we see everyday today. We can even recognize it and counter it with the doctrine in our own souls.

The Human Relativist View Versus the Message of Jesus Christ

1. The pharisees were humanists described as religious figures. They were without the absolute standards of grace and doctrine. The pharisees made it up as they went along; they had law after law after law. Yet they were called the great paragons of religion.
2. Christ demanded that people recognize their own personal inadequacies. The beatitudes reveal just how inadequate we are. The beatitudes were foreign to the pharisees.
3. The pharisees were self-sufficient and changed their meaning when needed. Materialism is empty. There is not enough wealth to get the materialist the happiness of the poorest believer.
4. Jesus demanded a change of mind. That is repentance; faith alone in Christ alone. It does not mean you will change your evil ways; it is believing in the Lord Jesus Christ. You then have His spiritual life. That is the greatest life there ever is. Bible doctrine renovates your thinking regarding the greatest life that this world has ever seen.
- 5.
6. Christ required submission to His authority. He is the living Word of God. Submission to Him is in order. We do it by taking in Bible doctrine daily.
7. The pharisees bowed only to their own authority. Congress and the Executive branch and the Judicial branch bow to no one; if they do not like the constitution, then they bend it to whatever their norms are. The laws for Congress are different from the ones that we live under. There are enough relative humanists in Congress who bow to no one, just like the pharisees.

8. Jesus Christ demanded compassion for believers, which is impersonal love.
9. The pharisees withheld mercy from all those who truly needed it. If you are poverty stricken, ill, then it is probably God punishing you. That allowed them to stay out of the charity business. What's mine is mine and you don't get any, unless the government redistributes it.
10. Christ demanded a perfect righteousness to meet the standards of God. Experiential righteousness developed through the spiritual life. We have been given God's righteousness. At the moment of salvation, our salvation was reckoned to us as righteousness. How many of you think you can list all of the nice things that you have done to Him; do our sins meet His standards? Only His righteousness meets His standards. Humanists see themselves as righteous. How can they be when their standards slide up and down?
11. The pharisees were only interested in the externals of religion.
12. Christ wanted peacemakers. This refers to those who disseminate the gospel of reconciliation to man. Jesus Christ took down the barrier which stands between us and God.
13. The pharisees stirred up strife and antagonism. They did nothing but cause problems. Their interpretations of the law pitted them against nearly every other Jew.
14. Christ called for believers to endure persecution for His sake.
15. The pharisees provided the persecution.
16. The pharisees represented the unbelieving world. They were religious unbelievers. They represented the unbelieving world, of a righteousness that was not acceptable to God. Bobby hates religion because it is anti-grace, anti-God and it leads people away from the truth and from salvation. The pharisees represent all religion. This religion doesn't work.
